TEN CENTS

Unemployment rate up to 6.1% level

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Unemployment rose in April to 6.1 per cent of the work force and the jobless rate for Negro workers reached the highest point in more than seven years, the government said today.

The April increase from the 6.0 per cent rate in March put national joblessness just under a nine-year high of 6.2 per cent reached last December.

After holding steady at 9.4 per cent since December, joblessness for Negro workers rose to 10 per cent during April. This was the highest since month to just under 4.7 million, which was about average for April.

The number of workers with jobs went up by 700,000, slightly more than average, to reach 78.2 million, primarily because of increased agricultural employment.

The BLS said jobless rates for most major groups in the labor force showed little or no change in April.

Over the month, employment gains in state and local government, contract construction and finance, insurance and real estate were largely offset by declines in manufacturing, air transportation and public utilities," the BLS said.

Average hourly earnings of rank and file workers went up two cents in March to $3.39 and average weekly earnings increased 73 cents to $124.75. The work week increased by one tenth of an hour to 37.1 hours but factory overtime was unchanged at 2.8 hours.

Rogers tours defenses

TEL AVIV (UPI) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers took an aerial tour of Israel's defense lines today before getting down to specifics on the diplomatic dispute between the United States and Israel.

Rogers was accompanied by Israeli Chief of Staff Lt. Gen. Haim Bar-Lev and Military Intelligence Chief Maj. Gen. Aharon Yariv on the flight aboard Air Force Two, the Boeing 707 that has carried him on his tour of Europe and the Middle East.

Man hurt in elevator

TWIN FALLS — Bill McDermund, 40, Twin Falls, was taken by ambulance to the Twin Falls Clinic Hospital Friday morning after he was injured in an elevator shaft accident at Swift and Co., 284 Fourth Ave. S.

Twin Falls Police said the floor of the elevator in which McDermund was moving a load of cheese apparently fell out and he and the cheese dropped about two floors.

Magie Valley Ambulance personnel who transported McDermund to the clinic, said his condition was not believed to be serious.

Dollar fate studied late

BONN (UPI) — West German Chancellor Willy Brandt and his key advisers met into the early hours of today in an effort to formulate proposals on how to deal with the crisis over the American dollar.

The proposals were being submitted at a cabinet meeting today, with all indications the decision will be to allow the West German mark to float free of its fixed parity price against the dollar and find its own level on a supply and demand basis.

State Secretary Conrad Ahlers, Brandt's spokesman, said the government was not going to revalue the mark upward "because no one would revalue with us." However, he said "this does not necessarily exclude the possibility of floating the mark free of a fixed parity."

Victim lifted

INJURED Jennifer Renee Carroll, 14, Twin Falls, is lifted to a stretcher after being hit by a car and carried for more than a block along the downtown mall Thursday afternoon. She was pitched to the pavement from the hood of the auto.

New renewal area studied

TWIN FALLS — Council members meeting in special session Thursday set May 17 at 8 p.m. in the city hall for a public hearing on expanding the boundaries of the Twin Falls Urban Renewal Agency to include areas already partially upgraded by a local improvement district.

City Manager Jean Millar told council members plans have been revised to include the half-block areas fronting on Main Avenue originally deleted from the project. This would mean the improvement extends through the full six blocks, three blocks in either side of Main Avenue between Second Street North and West and Third Street East and South. Half-blocks are those in the 100 blocks of Main Avenue east, north, south and west.

Councilman Paul Oatyn questioned the reason for the expansion and was told by Mayor Frank Feldman the high cost of property on Main Avenue and limited funds at the start of the program led the city and Urban Renewal Agency to drop two half-block areas until they could see how the remainder of the program would go and give time for a full inventory of properties in those areas.

He said it now appears many of the properties have been brought up to standards through improvements of the property owners and will no longer be rated as sub-standard. Some changes have also been made in the Housing and Urban Development funding program to increase money available for the local project.

Property owners and other interested persons are urged to attend the hearing and to discuss details of the proposal.

TF wreck injures teen-ager

TWIN FALLS — A spectacular accident Thursday afternoon seriously injured a Twin Falls teen-ager when she was struck by a car at a city intersection, carried more than a block on the hood of the car and pitched to the pavement.

Injured and in serious condition at Magie Valley Memorial Hospital is Jennifer Renee Carroll, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronan Tipton.

Driver of the car which witnesses told police went through a red light at Second Avenue North and Shoshone Street North was Marjorie D. Grieve, 43, Twin Falls.

Mrs. Grieve's vehicle struck the girl who was in the crosswalk at the intersection and then continued south down Shoshone Street through an island planter, across Twin Falls' main intersection, and into another planter between the Bank of Idaho and the Twin Falls Bank and Trust Co.

Police said the vehicle came to a sudden stop in the second planter and tossed the girl off the hood of the car for about 40 feet.

Police said workers on the second floor of the Bank of Idaho saw Miss Carroll flying through the air.

The girl's mother told officers her daughter came home from school and got her black poodle, "Sassy," to take him for a walk. Witnesses said the girl was carrying the dog when she was struck, but the dog disappeared from the scene.

Mrs. Grieve's car badly damaged the two planters in the mall when it plowed through them.

Jean Millar, Twin Falls City manager, gave a "rough estimate" of damages Friday morning at between $1,000 and $1,200. He said crews had just this week finished planting the two islands.

Hailey marshal resigns

HAILEY — Hailey City Marshal William Reid has announced his resignation, effective May 31.

Reid, sole law enforcement officer for the city of Hailey for the past year, cites a better opportunity with the Twin Falls City Police Department as his reason for resigning. Reid said he enjoyed living in Hailey and working with the people, but the burden of the 24-hour-a-day job was too much.

The officer had to be on call around the clock. He will join the Twin Falls Police Force June 1. He had been with the Twin Falls Department prior to accepting the Hailey position.

TV child star dies at Oakley

OAKLEY — A 2-year-old Oakley boy who played one of Fred MacMurray's grandchildren on "My Three Sons" television show last fall drowned in a creek at his farm home here Thursday.

Family members said Brent Dedke Peterson, the victim, and his twin brother, Kent, were one set of twins used along with another set of twins to play triplets on the television program.

The child apparently fell into Birch Creek while his mother, Mrs. Muriel Peterson, and an older brother, Barry Peterson, were unloading feed for pigs they raise on the farm. A sister, Verne, 5, had already got out of

TF wreck injures teen-ager

The pickup truck and Brent was playing in the area, when Barry saw the child's coat in the creek, which is running high. As he reached over to retrieve the coat, he found the boy underneath. The day before the child had thrown his shoes into the stream, family members said.

The mother applied artificial respiration while Barry ran to the house to call his uncle, Ray C. Dedke.

The family met the ambulance at the Idaho Power Co. sub-station seven miles north of Oakley and the child was taken to Cassia Memorial Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

East End News stops press

East End News Final Issue

The News has served this area since 1917 when it was founded by the late Elmer E. Pyne. This was the first newspaper in Jerome County. The paper was a tabloid size. In 1918 or 1919 when Jerome County was formed the paper became the standard of the new county and the name was no longer appropriate. A contest was held and the winning name submitted was "First Segregation News."

In 1922 the Abbots wanted a variation, so they changed the name to "The News." In 1925 Wm. A. Pyne purchased the paper and operated it until his death, leaving it to his son, "Pete" Pyne.

During these years the News was housed in a frame building acquired by Hazelton State Bank in 1928. The building was burned in the same year the paper was started. The building was moved to the site where the News is now located. The frame building was built in 1928.

In December, 1948 Elmer E. Pyne, present publisher, came from Springfield, Oregon, to operate the paper for the late Wm. A. Pyne. In July 1949 he and Mrs. Pyne bought the News from the late Wm. A. Pyne. In 1951 the present residence of Elmer E. Pyne was on a short variation trip an annual trip to the West Coast. All was dropped until the walls of the building, and a small job was done. The building was repaired and the present and other necessary equipment installed. While this was going on the News was printed in Jerome and Kimberly. The established plant was in operation by June 1, 1958.

The paper name was changed to East End News "temporary" in 1960.

The News did quite well and received adequate patronage until about three years ago. It is no longer profitable to publish it. Therefor with this issue (PUBLICATION of the News is BEING TERMINATED). The plant will remain open as a commercial printing establishment by "Pete" Pyne.

Final '30' for East End News

Cleanup day Saturday

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls County's second annual Johnny Horizon Cleanup day begins at 8:30 a.m. Saturday at selected points around the county.

Organizers of the ecological effort said about 500 citizens turned out to pick up trash last year along the county's highways and roads and they are hoping for 10 times as many workers this year.

W. L. (Bill) Chancey, county commission chairman, and Bob Brock of the Bureau of Land Management, are chairmen of the cleanup effort.

All crews are to meet at 8:30 a.m. Places to meet are: Twin Falls area, at old hospital; Fairgrounds; Murtaugh area, at LDS Church; Kimberly-Hansen area, at Kimberly Advertiser; Buh; area, at city park; Castleford area, at high school; and Hollister area, at Hollister.

Following the morning-long effort, workers will eat picnic lunches. The Murtaugh area workers will have a picnic at the LDS Church and all other areas will eat at the county fairgrounds at Filer.

State, county and city police will be on duty to assist in traffic control in the cleanup areas.

Workers participating are asked to wear protective clothing and to bring pickup trucks, if possible, and burlap sacks or garbage bags.

"That only applies to people who pay taxes, of course."

Panel discusses speed limit cut

TWIN FALLS — Reduced speed limits on Blue Lakes Boulevard North and on Second Avenue East and North came under discussion again in Twin Falls during a meeting Thursday afternoon of the Twin Falls City Highway and Traffic Safety Committee.

The group also discussed the Idaho Department of Highways proposal for revision of a traffic light at Blue Lakes Boulevard and Filer Avenue and suggested the possibility of extending parking meter operations into the 400 block of Main Avenue East and South.

City council members have declined to approve a traffic light design suggested by the department of highways for Blue Lakes Boulevard and Filer Avenue. Safety committee members voted to support the council in this stand.

Timber blazes nearing control

RESERVE, N. M. (UPI) — Weary firefighters near control of national forest fires in New Mexico and Arizona today, but the fire have already destroyed more than 27,000 acres of lush timber.

"The winds are down and there's a good chance of rain," said Joseph Otero, superintendent of the Mesquero Indian Reservation where more than 22,000 acres of ponderosa pine have burned.

No closing

BOISE (UPI) — Harold Brown, chairman of State Parks Board, said Thursday no parks will be closed this summer in Idaho in spite of financial difficulties that may require a reduction in maintenance.

Otero said more than 1,000 firefighters from New Mexico, Idaho, California and Oregon were holding a fireline around the blaze and mopping up remaining hot spots.

Drug arrest made

TWIN FALLS — A 23-year-old Twin Falls man was arrested Thursday evening by Twin Falls Police and charged with illegal possession of marijuana.

The drug arrest was the first by police here since May 1 when the charge of drug possession was reduced to a misdemeanor in compliance with the new Idaho uniform drug control bill passed by the Idaho legislature.

Leslie declines to give replies

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) — Antiwar activist Leslie Bacon, contending she had been "kidnaped" by the government and saying "I've had enough," refused Thursday to answer grand jury questions on radical activities.

her right to take the Fifth Amendment. "At this point, I've had enough," she said a short time later. "Not knowing how far they will go to implicate me—to force me at least to face a charge and perhaps a trial even though 'never' a conviction."

Defiant

WITH FIST raised, antiwar activist Leslie Bacon leaves Seattle Federal Courthouse Thursday after announcing in press statement she has "had enough" and will answer only grand jury questions she is ordered to answer by U. S. District Judge George H. Boldt. (UPI)

To close

BOISE (UPI) — Union Pacific Railroad has asked the Public Utilities Commission to discontinue its agency at Firth, contending the revenue it generates does not justify its operation.

The judge also ruled that Miss Bacon must answer questions concerning the thwarted bomb plot against First National Bank of New York because she previously had admitted participation in the early stages of planning. Boldt said she thus had negated its modified procedure and allowed 20 days for filing of written protests.

Carlsen heads power company

BOISE (UPI) — Albert Carlsen, president of Idaho Power Company since early 1967, was elected board chairman and president of the utility Thursday.

Carlsen replaces T.E. Roach, who retired as board chairman Wednesday. Roach was the prime mover behind Idaho Power's huge Hells Canyon hydro development and led the utility during its greatest growth.

Carlsen, a native of St. Paul, Minn., began working for Idaho Power in 1928 as a laborer with one of the firm's mobile crews. He was elected to his new position Thursday during a special meeting of the board, four of whose members were newly elected by shareholders the previous day.

New directors are Eugene Anderson, Boise; George L. Coiner, Hansen; Harold E. Johnson, New York City, and Phil Soule, Welsler. Ten other directors were re-elected.

Chosen as assistant treasurer at the meeting was S.W. Coy, formerly in-charge accountant, treasury, and a veteran of more than 34 years with the utility.

Officers re-elected included R.J. O'Connor, vice president and assistant to Carlsen; D.S. Bailey, vice-president for division operations and marketing; J.E. Bruce, vice-president and secretary; G.J. Hall, vice-president for power operations and engineering; R.A. Hogg, vice-president for contracts, and wages; M.M. Ilch, vice president for finance; H.P. Snyder, treasurer; and R.E. Alworth, assistant-treasurer.

After starting with the mobile crews, Carlsen spent about a year as an oiler at the Swan Falls generating plant, then moved to Pocatello to work first as a serviceman and then as a commercial-industrial marketing representative.

In 1942, Carlsen left Idaho Power to work at a potato processing firm begun by the utility. He joined Idaho Potato Starch Company as general manager, and subsequently became the firm's president and principal owner.

By the time he held his interest to a Reynolds Industries subsidiary, the firm was among the state's most successful industrial enterprises, with plants in Aberdeen, Blackfoot and Idaho Falls as well as in Colorado. Carlsen succeeded Roach as president of the power company early in 1967 when the directors enlarged the top management by putting Roach in as board chairman and chief executive officer and Carlsen in as president and chief operating officer.

Arts fair winners listed

TWIN FALLS — Winners from Twin Falls High School in the Idaho Industrial Arts Fair in Nampa were announced today by Bill Jacobsen, metals instructor at the local school.

He said the projects and programs of students from throughout the state were entered in the event at Karcher Mall and Twin Falls students earned a number of the top awards in the two divisions.

Winners in the mechanical and architectural drawing division included Randy Mason, Tom Pulmer, Scott Dybe, Kerry Kirchenwitz, Doug Sackett, Al Conners, Steve Parr and Linda Eagles.

In the industrial metals division, winners were Glen Mort, Brick Glasinger, Steve Mullin, Tim Olmstead.

Jacobsen said next year the state event will be held in Twin Falls the first week in May. Work is already in progress to prepare for the show.

Mall trees relocated as road aid

TWIN FALLS — Relocation of some of the taller trees in the downtown mall is being done to avoid conflict with highway markers, City Manager Jean Millar said today.

He said city officials have inspected the downtown area with the advent of spring and leaves on some of the deciduous trees and decided some near the intersection of Shoshone Street and Main Avenue should be relocated and replaced with lower plantings.

Four signs are involved, the city manager said, two "no left turn" signs and two highway directional signs, the city manager said.

Musicians perform

TWIN FALLS — Two entertainment groups — the Rubalyats from Twin Falls and the famed Ink Spots, now appearing at Cactus Pete's in Jackpot, Nev., were featured Thursday as members of the Kiwanis Club observed Music Week during regular meeting at the Turf Club.

The Rubalyats, featuring nine local musicians, played several numbers and two encores. Members are Scott Jensen, Mel Morrison, Elwood Cheney, Rick Adams, Mona Morrison, Dwight Tucker, Ralph Pond, Rick Vander Does and John Morris. The Ink Spots, with a pianist, a drummer, and three vocalists were held over for more than half a dozen encores following presentation of their regular program.

Program chairman for Kiwanis was Jack Muldoon. He announced that Evel Knievel will be speaker and show a film at the Kiwanis session Thursday, May 13.

Driver aid slated

BOISE (UPI) — Law Enforcement Commissioner John Bender discussed a statewide rehabilitation program for drivers with a newly appointed advisory board Thursday.

Sen. John Mix, D-Moscow, chairman, said final plans for the program will be decided at its next meeting May 13.

Under the proposed system, drivers facing loss of their licenses may retain them if approved by a judge, magistrate, driver improvement counselor or a department hearing officer.

But drivers who have committed a vehicle felony or are convicted of more serious driving violations, such as manslaughter or negligible homicide, will not be eligible for the program.

TWIN FALLS — Officers of the Magic Valley Trall Machine Association were installed Wednesday night during a meeting at the Idaho Power Co. auditorium.

They are Victor Deahl, president; Steve Miller, vice president; Dick Boyd, secretary; Robert Baker, treasurer; Jack Spencer, Jerry Clark and Keith Owens, all directors, and Larry Drexler, state director.

Mel Quale is retiring president.

WHAT IS A WAREHOUSE MARKET??

It is a warehouse type building on an inexpensive location, wherein you can purchase the same groceries you buy at a supermarket. You will find that your purchases for the first week in a Warehouse Market will reflect a truly remarkable savings. The larger the family, the more the savings. In addition to these Savings, you will be assured of purchasing your items at the lowest everyday price in the area. What is the difference between a Supermarket and a Warehouse Market? It is very simple — WE JUST PLAIN SELL FOR LESS MONEY! And here is how we can do it. We have eliminated the following expensive features from our cost of doing business:

1. No fancy buildings.
2. No expensive fixtures and equipment, (ours costs only 1/2 as much as a typical supermarket).
3. No expensive land, (we are usually off of the main road, or we try to get an existing building, if the rent is right).
4. No box boys
5. No expensive labor costs involving the marking of prices on each individual item.
6. No removing of merchandise from every case. (It's all in the case the way we buy it, but you can buy one can, a case or a car load.)
7. Practically no expensive weekly newspaper advertising.
8. No stamps - No games - No gimmicks.
9. No limits.
10. No weekend "bait" type advertising to lure you to the store. (We have the same prices Monday thru Saturday.)
11. No extended store hours.
12. No background music.
13. Another way we save you money is to use all available empty boxes for your purchases. Even those returned to us by you the customer. In fact the boxes we give to you, we will purchase back for 3¢ each.

ALL WE HAVE TO OFFER IS QUALITY MERCHANDISE AT THE LOWEST POSSIBLE COST... NOW THAT YOU FINALLY HAVE A CHOICE... WHY NOT COME IN AND TRY WAREHOUSE MARKET. WE'LL BE GLAD TO SEE YOU AND YOU'LL BE GLAD TO COME...

Those Thorns

The Red Chinese are not all of a sudden good guys simply because they behaved civilly to a visiting American table tennis team...

Neither are the Nationalist Chinese on Taiwan now the bad guys — though don't be surprised if the current wave of good will from Peking sweeps a lot of people as far as that conclusion.

Already a group calling itself Citizens to Change U.S. China Policy has denounced U.S. opposition to giving the Peking regime China's seat in the United Nations as "immoral, illegal and impolitic."

Even before the unexpected parting of the Bamboo Curtain, Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., had introduced a resolution in the Senate calling for recognition of Communist China...

A similar resolution has been introduced by Sen. Mike Gravel, D-Alaska. However, another one, by Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., aims at a "Two-China" policy...

Almost forgotten in the discussion is a third party, the native Taiwanese, who comprise 85 per cent of the islands 14 million population...

It is easy to say that 750 million mainland Chinese, and the government that for good or ill represents them, can no longer be ignored (as if we ever really ignored them). But it is not all that simple.

The recognition of Red China would of necessity require the "unrecognition" of Nationalist China, for the Reds will not be recognized any other way.

It would mean, if not U.S. support for the end of U.S. opposition to Red Chinese membership in the United Nations and the consequent ouster of Nationalist China from its Security Council seat...

It would abrogate, or certainly call into question, American treaty commitments to Nationalist China. A two-China policy won't work because neither Peking nor Taipei will buy that, nor will either permit an independent Taiwan governed by Taiwanese.

Recognition of Red China could open the door to numerous good things, including trade, travel and, most important of all, a lessening of tensions that could explode into war.

But welcoming another Communist nation with veto power into the U.N. and virtually abandoning an old, if somewhat useless ally, may be a high price to pay for a little good will that could be turned off as abruptly as it has been turned on.

The Red Chinese are not all of a sudden acting like good guys because at heart they have always been good guys. After 22 solid years as the No. 1 enemy of the world in Peking's eyes, a little Oriental patience on our part and a wait-and-see attitude may be our best policy.

Defectors

This is a first: An East German watchdog recently "defected" across the border to West Germany, where he was granted asylum.

Police say the shepherd dog apparently broke out of a pen and crossed the mined and guarded "death strip" between the two Germanys and was found by a West German border patrol. East German authorities turned down an offer for the return of the dog and he was taken to an animal shelter.

After all, if a dog is no longer politically reliable, what good is he?

MR. SPECTATOR

Relatives Coming?

Expecting relatives this summer? Well, the teepees are up and ready. At least it looks that way in this picture which could be a group of Bannack lodges — or whatever they called them in the old days, all ready for a busy summer.

Lo, the poor Indian! He must be stretched out inside because he is not in evidence outside. Perhaps he is dreaming of the happy hunting ground where all good Indians go. Perhaps he is just resting up for the relative influx that comes every summer — Indian summer, that is. Then perhaps it is only something it really isn't.

It could be "paper caps" for tomato plants in the garden of Clark Kleinkopf, who lives at 1211 Tenth Avenue East.

In fact, Mr. Spectator is sure that is what you are really looking at. He should know because he had to get down to ground level, and on his stomach, to take this picture and he had plenty of time for a close inspection.

There were no Indians!

WASHINGTON (NEA) — In his present difficulties, Big Ed Muskie may be haunted by the trials of Republican George Romney in 1967. But Muskie is not courting the kind of disaster, which engulfed Romney even before the presidential year opened.

Romney was tagged as a relatively ignorant on the most vital issue of the day — Vietnam. His "brainwash" statement seemed a confirmation. And he had a powerful adversary in Richard Nixon, skillful, resourceful, superbly assisted, building strength quickly in many areas.

Muskie's situation today is hardly comparable. He has a big organization which is not organized. He appears to neglect some political people, thereby bruising egos.

Muskie's managers candidly admit their failures. They have not been putting it together in a way that will please the urgent caller from Wyoming or Missouri or Massachusetts. And the front-runner for the Democratic nomination is expected to do better than that.

As a matter of fact, the 1968 Democratic vice-presidential nominee has some other problems that don't get mentioned as much as this business of bad contact with the politicians.

One veteran Democratic leader thinks Muskie people have looked foolish in their bustling search for leftish liberals to lend visible support. At best it would be transparent window-dressing for a candidate whose real pull is in the broad center.

Some party men believe, too, that Muskie is buying future trouble in going for a cluster of regional political operators instead of a single wagon boss who knows the whole territory. These regional types are not all chosen yet, but few politicians feel the setup will work. It was a compromise decided upon when Muskie could not get the manager he wanted.

To outsiders, this organizational stuff is inside baseball — but it is important. The net effect of a regional political setup could be to throw a bigger load on the pressed general manager, the talented Bert Bernhard.

The lack of the sure touch in the early months of 1971 — certainly has cost Big Ed whatever chance he may have had to lock up some delegates quickly.

This prospect seemed particularly bright in South and border states which were leaning his way. Now some of the same southern leaders who were saying "Muskie is No. 1" are dancing around others like Sen. Henry Jackson of Washington, Sen. Hubert Humphrey and Rep. Wilbur Mills of Arkansas, the big man from Ways and Means.

It doesn't do Muskie any good, either, that money is so hard to come by. Keeping the salaries paid for his big staff in the political House on L Street in Washington is a hard chore. Humphrey is not helping by telling some of the biggies to keep their money folded.

With all this, however, Muskie remains a candidate of major promise. He is not likely to get caught in a "brainwash" caper. No rival of Nixon's skill and resource threatens him — and that includes Humphrey. The only follow with that kind of stuff is Ted Kennedy who keeps getting mentioned even though he insists he's out of it.

Probably, too, Muskie's organizational problems will ease. New York's Jack English, national committeeman, has come aboard. If he works the telephone hard, as he is expected to do, some of the grumbling may diminish. That doesn't mean Big Ed will ever see flowers or jolly it up with the boys like Teddy can do.

Soviet Research

WASHINGTON — The Pentagon's research chief is telling Congress that it will take several years to find out what new weapons Russia is developing "under the roof."

That is the phrase used by Dr. John S. Foster Jr. to stress that such developmental programs get no publicity in a closed society. He notes, however, that the Kremlin is spending more and more on research and development.

In 1965, according to Foster's closed-door testimony, the United States was spending about three times the Russian outlay for military research and development. However, Russia has been increasing its expenditures by about 10 per cent a year.

Now, Foster says, the Soviet Union's expenditures for military research and development, figured in terms of 1968 dollars, is about $3 billion larger than the U. S. outlay.

In 1968, according to Foster, Pentagon experts think they were about three years ahead of Russian technology with respect to strategic offense. For strategic defense the margin was one or two years and in the tactical area the technology was about even, according to Foster.

What has happened in the years since 1968? That, says Foster, is what is "under the roof" and won't be known until the fruits of Russia's research programs become apparent several years hence.

Like the recent disclosure of new Russian weapon deployment by Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird, Foster's comments are designed to highlight Russia's military gains — an annual occurrence at budget time. Foster contends, however, that the nearly $3 billion he is requesting for research and development cannot stop the erosion in the U. S. technological lead.

We are advised that one of Foster's recent budget presentations provoked some sharply critical congressional response. Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., a former Air Force secretary, led the critical parade.

Symington began by stating that the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, had given senators what Symington described as the most depressing defense briefing he had ever heard — bar none — in all his years in government. That senator complained that vast sums spent on research and development don't seem to culminate in enough real production. He mentioned, specifically, delays in developing a new air force fighter plane and in resolving conflicting requirements for speed and silence in the design of new submarines.

Foster agreed that the current intelligence picture is very depressing. He said, however, that the production of weapons isn't his job as director of defense research and engineering.

Symington also suggested that preoccupation with Vietnam has favored military development programs here which are oriented to wars of Vietnam sort, while Russia has been free to key its programs to the possibility of a war against its potential enemies, the United States and China.

Foster has told congressional committees that the new Russian ICBM-illos, recently discussed by Secretary Laird, are apparently designed for a new missile and not just an upgraded version of the giant SS-9 intercontinental missile.

He estimates that research and development outlays on such a new ICBM system would only account for a fraction of the $3 billion differential between U. S. and Russian research outlays — perhaps one eighth to one fifth of the difference.

Foster is telling Congress he thinks the U. S. still has a technological lead in offensive missilery, with the Minuteman III and the submarine-fired Poseidon missile. He adds, however, that Russia has a lead in missile payloads.

For a more detailed appraisal of U. S. vs U.S.S.R. Foster's answer is the same, we will have to wait for a couple of years and see.

RAY CROMLEY

Minority

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Notes mailed this reporter from contacts in Hong Kong and other listening posts along the borders of East Asia suggest Moscow has stepped up its efforts to win over mainland China's minorities.

(These could be China's Achilles' heel. Though it is difficult for this reporter to see how the Soviet Union could win a guerrilla war against Peking even with its admittedly massive and well-equipped conventional troops, Russia, if it could successfully organize strong undergrounds among China's tens of millions of minority peoples, would be in a position to exert exceedingly heavy pressure on Peking.)

Heaviest Soviet pressure to date is directed at those racially non-Chinese national groups — the Kazakhs and Uighurs of Sinkiang — linguistically, culturally and ethnically related to the natives of Russia's eastern provinces.

Moscow has established a small but vigorous anti-Peking underground in Sinkiang. Its nucleus is known to have been prepared in the late 1950s and early 1960s when Soviet troops occupied important centers in that province. Under Soviet pressure, General Shen-Shi-Tsai joined the Russian Communist party and made Sinkiang into a Soviet-type state. The Russians were given major concessions in tungsten, oil and tin.

Today, Soviet broadcasts directed at the Chinese Inner Mongolian Autonomous Region instruct the Mongolian native peoples in detailed methods of underground armed struggle and economic sabotage. The Russians say the techniques they describe are those being used by Tibetans to resist "Chinese attempts at domination."

The Soviet Union in February began attacking Peking's "reform" of minority languages in mainland China as "another step" toward the required use of the Chinese language and toward "forcible extermination" of the national minorities. (The Russians say strong objection to this assimilation-through-language move had been building up for some time among some minority groups.)

That is, the Soviet Union has taken on the role of "defender" of the rights of Communist China's minority nationalities.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Athlete's Foot

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I've never seen anything on athlete's foot. Is there a preventive or cure or a germicide to spray in your home to keep the germ down? My doctor says everybody has it. Is this true? — Mrs. L.

Sorry, but I've written about it before, and nothing new has come along to change things. Athlete's foot is an infection involving any of several common types of fungus and, for most people, the ordinary drug store remedies, used according to directions, work very well.

These remedies, of which there are several, are fungicides, to apply to the skin of the feet. The thing to remember is that these fungi are pretty stubborn. The fungicides kill off some of the fungus, the athlete's foot seems to be cured — so you stop using the fungicide.

That's the error. A little of the fungus still remains, and it grows, and presently you have the same trouble over again. The trick is to keep using the fungicide for some time after the trouble seems to have stopped, to get rid of the lingering bits of it.

Dusting the inside of your shoes regularly with medicated foot powders, also available at the drug store, is helpful.

In stubborn and severe cases of athlete's foot, better go to a podiatrist, your doctor, or a skin specialist.

I wouldn't say that "everybody" has athlete's foot but the fungi are so common that most people doubtless are exposed to it at one time or another. Some skins seem to resist it, others don't.

But I don't think trying to spray anything around the house would be of any appreciable help to you.

Clean and iron your hose. Use clean hose daily and do not go barefoot around the house. Be especially careful to dry between the toes after a bath.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Although I am in my late 20s, I have had a constipation problem all my life. It has progressed so that now laxatives have almost no effect. Any suggestions on this common ailment? — C. G.

Yes — enough suggestions so that they finally were enough to make into a booklet, called "The Way to Stop Constipation." Actually there isn't any one way to do it; there are several.

Most people, I found, had a pretty vague idea of just what causes constipation. Likewise many of them, having been brought up from childhood with the idea of using laxatives, got into the "laxative habit" without realizing that they were, in the long run, prolonging the trouble instead of making it better. Not that laxatives, properly used, don't have their value.

So first learn what constipation is really all about; then make use of whatever methods best suit you. I suggest that you send for my booklet — send 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Thosteson, care of Times-News.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I've had a rectal itch for several months. It seems this appears before and after a night's sleep. Can you explain? — M. N.

Possibly faulty hygiene. You might try using a moist tissue or one of the medicated pads (Tucks, Aleva, and there may be others) after going to the bathroom. Again, it could possibly be pinworms.

BERRY'S WORLD

"O.K. That's enough on the international scene, Henry. Now, what's the latest on the SWINGING scene?"

Health slash likely

LEWISTON (UPI)—The State Board of Health was told Thursday the Health Department may have to cut 115 employees from its payroll and barely maintain other programs under its appropriation for fiscal year 1972.

"Maintenance of effort only" areas outlined to the board included air and water pollution programs, solid waste management and youth rehabilitation. Major programs with anticipated reductions in services include mental retardation, mental health, crippled children and nursing home inspection programs.

The board decided to hold a special session in Boise June 18 to discuss the possibility of closing state hospital north at Orofino. At that time, the board will set a lump sum budget for the mental health division.

Sen. Mike Mitchell, D-Lewiston, representing Gov. Cecil D. Andrus, told the board the department should make personnel cuts, renegotiate and consolidate programs, then executive salary increases to certain lower paid personnel first.

The salary increases and employee cuts are outlined in an executive order issued by Andrus.

The board asked its administrator, Dr. Terrell O. Carver, to investigate the possibility of dropping the comprehensive health planning agency activities and to determine as a result if the department would lose its $500,000 federal block grant.

Dr. Myrick Pullen, state mental health director, cited "financial crisis" under his proposed budget of 5.4 million.

If he is to work in that area, he said, the division would have to cut services in mental health centers causing admissions at the state hospitals to soar, cut out patient medications outside hospitals, and stop placement of patients in boarding and nursing homes.

Earlier in the day, Dr. John Marks, director of child development and mental retardation, told the board he will have to eliminate or cut back a number of programs because his proposed budget allocation of $2.9 million is $100,500 below the present maintenance level.

Tattered dollar bill emblem of latest monetary crisis

LONDON (UPI) — In the foreign exchange deniers' room of Barclays Bank, one of the nation's largest, a tattered American dollar bill hangs forlornly from a big blackboard showing the latest ups and downs of the Western World's currency market.

Pinned there by some way, the note reflects the present state of the once mighty dollar on the London foreign exchange market.

"I hate to say it but it's a crisis of confidence in the dollar," Frank A. Russell, the bank's chief dealer, said Thursday as he sat behind a row of telephones and flashing lights. "People have lost faith in the dollar."

Since the crisis erupted Wednesday, Russell and his staff have been all but swamped with telephone calls from New York and other banks wanting to rid themselves of surplus dollars in exchange for the much-prized West German mark.

GM declares it can't meet exhaust standard

WASHINGTON, (UPI)—General Motors joined Ford today in claiming it has found no way to meet exhaust cleanup standards. It also disclosed antipollution research expenditures that are well below its outlays for advertising.

In prepared testimony, GM President Edward N. Cole said his firm was "hopeful" it could meet the required 90 per cent reduction in hydrocarbon and carbon monoxide emissions for 1975 models, compared with 1970 models. But he added: "At this point in time we have no way of controlling oxides of nitrogen to the extremely low levels which could be required by the clean air amendments of 1970 for 1976 models."

The law requires a 90 per cent nitrogen oxides reduction for 1976 cars. Ford testified similarly Thursday. American Motors and Volkswagen expressed even more pessimism. The hearings before the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) are to determine how the industry is doing and whether it is making a "good faith" effort to meet the standards.

EPA Administrator William D. Ruckelshaus can grant a one-year postponement of the standards in the event of a "good faith" effort that fails. He announced Thursday he would evaluate efforts partly by comparing anti-pollution research spending with sales, profits and advertising outlays.

Drought aid acts assailed

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI)—Gov. Preston Smith, calling President Nixon "a totally political animal," Thursday accused the administration of "playing political football" with the question of money for drought-plagued Texas farmers and ranchers.

"Apparently the President wants the Republicans to get credit for whatever drought aid Texas gets," Smith said. "Frankly, I don't care who gets the credit."

"The points is, the longer the Republican administration delays providing full disaster assistance, the drier Texas gets and the more our agricultural industry suffers. And all the while more Texans are being hurt by the administration's inaction."

"We have occasion to witness the actions of a man who appears to make every decision on the basis of its effect on his personal political ambitions," said the governor, a Democrat. "Although Nixon and his friends are playing political football with the drought, the people of Texas will not be fooled."

Anti-draft filibuster considered

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Mike Gravel, D-Alaska, said today he has a good chance to filibuster the draft to death.

"If I can get 34 senators to hang tough until June 30, we will have no more draft," Gravel said in an interview. "If we succeed, it will be the first victory for peace this country has had."

The draft is due to expire June 30 and Gravel intends to launch a talkathon to keep Congress from renewing it. To do that he will need help from at least 34 other Senate members to avert cloture—a vote that would end his filibuster.

Debate on a two-year extension of the draft opened in the Senate Thursday. Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., the bill's manager, said it would be "calamitous" if Gravel makes good on his threat.

Gravel, 41, who was trained as a combat infantryman during the Korean War, made it clear he will not try to tie up the Senate or prevent it from conducting other business.

"I hope there is all kinds of business," he said. "The longer we stay off the draft bill, the better our chances are to kill it."

Aquifer recharge probe proposed

IDAHO FALLS (UPI)—The Plain Aquifer Conference proposed Thursday information of a local citizens committee authorized to investigate recharge proposals for the aquifer.

The committee, outlined during the meeting, would also have power to promote any feasible project before affected agencies and state and federal lawmakers.

Perry Swisher, Pocatello, said it was important to obtain support for a recharge project from the general public.

He said the idea called for "new thinking and a positive approach to the great value of the aquifer."

Earlier in the day, a spokesman for the U.S. Geological Survey said tests by his agency to date have failed to show any harm to the Snake Plain Aquifer by activities of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Jack Barraclough of Boise, reported on a 20-year study on the effects on the aquifer of use by the national reactor testing station, especially the influence of its disposal practices.

To date, Barraclough said, studies indicate any possible effects still are confined within an area less than five miles across the station site.

He said the U.S.G.S. soon plans to drill a series of deep wells by the solid waste burial grounds to test for any possible effects of those on the aquifer.

Muskie slates arms hearings

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Edmund S. Muskie is planning a lengthy series of hearings that could lay the foundation for a 1972 presidential campaign fought out on critical national security issues.

Muskie announced Thursday that his Senate Arms Control subcommittee would begin hearings soon on the nation's strategic policies and their relationship to the world nuclear arms race. Declaring that the Soviet-American arms talks were at a standstill, Muskie said arms control must begin at home if not at the bargaining table.

Muskie, a leading contender for the 1972 Democratic nomination, took over the chairmanship of the disarmament panel this year from defeated Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn. There had been speculation the Maine lawmaker would use the post to challenge President Nixon's strategic policies and to lead the Senate's continuing battle to stop the growth of the defense budget.

Muskie said he wanted to bring an "arms control perspective" to that debate. He said the Soviet Union and the United States already had "adversely affected the prospect for an agreement" at the bargaining table in Vienna by deploying new weapons to gain negotiating advantage.

"If we deploy new weapons knowing full well that Soviet deployment of similar weapons will follow, will the result be more or less security for our nation?" he asked.

Muskie's speech followed a general pattern of despair by Democratic doves in recent days that the Vienna talks were deadlocked and headed nowhere. Several administration critics have urged acceptance of a Soviet proposal to begin with an agreement confined to defensive antimissile systems, such as America's Safeguard.

In Dallas, however, another potential presidential contender, Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., warned those who seek to cut defense spending that "you are unwittingly proposing policies that would heighten the risk of confrontation or war. You are risking loss of security or freedom for Americans and our friends throughout the world."

DEAR ABBY: I once read in your column where a man had been injured in the war and became sterile, and he asked you to find him a woman with a ready-made family. I have the same request. I want a man with a family. I am not sterile. My problem is my looks. I am extremely fat. I am 18 years old and weigh about 250 pounds. Don't tell me to see a doctor and lose weight. I've been all thru that without success.

I have never been kissed on a date, so don't get the idea that I am a pregnant girl looking for some guy to marry her.

I love children and need some to give my love to. I can cook and sew and keep house better than any woman I know. I've lived on farms and in the city, so it doesn't matter where I live. I don't care if the man wants love or not. If he doesn't, I won't bother him. If he does, I have plenty to give him.

I insist on marriage and will promise to love and cherish his children as if they were my own. I prefer an older man, but it really doesn't matter. Sign me,

READY, WILLING AND NEEDEY

DEAR READY: You obviously have very little self-esteem—because you are fat. You are willing to marry any man who needs a cook, housekeeper and substitute mother, but is no prize himself, because you don't consider yourself a prize either. You could be wrong. Fat girls who have less to offer than you are getting married every day to men who really love them.

Before agreeing, at age 18, to spend the rest of your life with just any man in return for your services, get some counseling from your local mental health clinic. You will thank me for sending you there.

DEAR ABBY: After 36 years, Grandpa has jumped the fence. When I found out about it and told him I knew, he went to pieces. He has been bending over backwards to make it up to me ever since. I have lost all respect for him and will never be able to trust him again.

I don't want a divorce, but it makes me sick to look at him, never mind sleeping with him! Can you give me a word of encouragement to help me go on? I am broken-hearted.

GRANDMA

DEAR GRANDMA: Time heals all wounds. [And sometimes wounds all heels.] This is not the end of the world. Have you never done a deed which you later regretted? Have you never needed to be forgiven? Answer these questions honestly, then concentrate on some of the good things Grandpa has done throughout the years.

DEAR ABBY: I read about Alice who rode to school every morning between two guys. She wanted to know what to do about one guy who tried to "feel her up" under her sweater. You told her to knock him on the noggin with her loaded lunch bucket.

I'm reminded of a true story: In 1915, two brothers lived on a farm in Oregon. Their parents secured the services of a plump, fun-loving new hired girl. The boys would take her sleigh riding in their dad's new cutter. "Susie" [I'll call her] always sat in the middle and seemed to enjoy the ride.

There was always a certain amount of horsplay, and on this one occasion one brother approached Susie from one direction, and at exactly the same moment, the other brother approached her from the other side. Much to their surprise, their hands met! There was a dead silence. Then the brothers shook hands, and all three of them nearly died laughing.

Money voted for research debate of Egypt's hawks, doves

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House Appropriations Committee today approved a $6.9 billion money bill, including $100 million for new cancer research and $35.7 million more than President Nixon asked for summer jobs for youths.

The bill now goes to the House floor. The extra money for cancer research was in addition to regular appropriations of $232 million for operation of the National Cancer Institute.

In a report to the House, the committee said recent findings support President Nixon's expressed wish for a large scale attack on cause and cure of the disease that is expected to kill 335,000 persons this year.

The catchall bill, providing supplemental financing for dozens of government functions for the rest of this fiscal year, included $87.2 million for summer jobs under the neighborhood youths corps program.

The committee said that with funds already on hand a total of $253 million would be available for summer jobs for youths. It said this would support 501,400 jobs.

The total summer job fund exceeds last summer's level by $70.3 million and will provide 87,200 more jobs, the committee said in a report to the House.

Biggest item in the money bill was $4.1 billion to finance pay raises recently granted government workers and servicemen.

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Secretary of State William P. Rogers' Mideast visit brought to a head a policy debate between Egypt's hawks and doves, with the doves, for the moment at least, seemingly in the ascendency.

Although an over-simplification, it is one interpretation which may be drawn from Cairo's cryptic announcement of the dismissal of Vice President Ali Sabry, longtime friend of the Soviet Union; bitter critic of the United States and opponent of a compromise peace settlement in the Middle East.

It further suggests the importance attached to the Rogers visit by the government of Egyptian President Anwar Al-Sadat and the praise or blame which will be heaped on the American secretary if his mission succeeds or fails.

It is Rogers' misfortune that besides the delicacy of his mission, he also is the prisoner of circumstances beyond his control, involving as they do a power struggle between Sadat and his closest rival, Sabry, and, in Israel, a government whose ability to compromise is limited by a defiant public opinion opposed to any Israeli withdrawal from occupied Arab territory.

That this public opinion is in part the result of the government's own manipulation is beside the point in this discussion.

Although not among the early leaders, Sabry is one of the last of the originals in the coup that overthrew King Farouk in July, 1952.

Time asked for answer to Nixon

NEW YORK (UPI)—ABC, CBS and NBC have been asked by the American Civil Liberties Union to provide time for immediate response to televised presidential speeches by persons who hold opposing views.

The best way of achieving wide debate, said the ACLU in a letter to the network presidents, is to obtain texts of presidential speeches before broadcast and make them available for persons with contrary views. Responses could be prepared by those disagreeing with the President's positions, and network commentators could provide the public with such diverse views.

However, the ACLU said, diversity would be best served by giving air time to advocates of other positions.

The ACLU said its policy should apply to television and radio stations as well as networks.

Unwanted trash removed

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls sheriff's officers report a large pile of trash which was dumped on property owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ira Pitts has been cleaned up.

They said the trash was discarded at the property southeast of Twin Falls Monday night.

The Pitts complained to the sheriff's department which called a man whose name appeared on a utility bill which was among the trash.

The Twin Falls resident said he had sent his son to the dump with the garbage and officers said the man was "quite upset" when he learned the trash had not made it to the dump grounds. He told officers the trash "would be cleaned up" and when officers checked the area Wednesday, they found not a speck of trash. "They even raked the borrow pit," Deputy Jim Munn said.

Most signs within United Nations headquarters are both in English and French.

State Supreme Court affirms lower court judgement to insurance firm

BOISE (UPI)—The State Supreme Court Thursday affirmed a Fifth Judicial District summary judgement to Allstate Insurance Company in an action brought by Richard and Hope Openshaw, Murray, Utah, and others.

The Openshaws and Judy Wilson and Howard Ward were hurt in a car accident and brought the action against Allstate, insurer of Gordon Adams who allegedly caused the accident, for Allstate's failure to settle the claims against Adams and thus avoiding a jury verdict in excess of the insurance coverage.

The accident occurred near Wendell April 1, 1965. Subsequently the Openshaws and the others brought suit against Mr. and Mrs. Adams on grounds they negligently caused the accident.

There were three vehicles involved in the wreck. The plaintiffs contended Mrs. Adams was following her husband and had honked her horn and distracted him just before the accident.

Allstate had issued a $20,000 Adams and a $40,000 policy on the vehicle driven by the vehicle driven by his wife.

28 units added

NEW MOTEL FACILITIES in Twin Falls now under construction include 28 units being added at Weston's Fairways Motel on U.S. 93 at Falls Avenue. The addition is on land just north of the present building and will carry out the same landscaping and modern decor which makes the Fairways motel distinctive.

Balconies included

ADDED LUXURY will be featured in the 52 units now being built at the Holiday Inn. Located just south of the present complex, the new units will feature indoor corridors, balconies and larger units with plush furnishings and carpet. In the background are existing units which will connect with the new two story wing.

Two motels increasing their accommodations

TWIN FALLS—Construction now under way will increase motel accommodations in two business establishments on U.S. Highway 93 in Twin Falls by some 80 units, owners of the Holiday Inn and Weston's Fairways Motel announced.

At the Holiday Inn, Charles Sieber, manager, said 52 new units of a more luxurious design than those in the remaining facility, will be open to the public between June 1 and June 15.

He said the two story brick addition will feature inside corridors with glass sliding doors and balconies for each upstairs room. Half will face the Holiday Inn golf course and half the highway. Each room will be larger than existing units and will feature wall murals, king size beds and other special plush items. Demand for this type of unit, he said, has been increasing and the present

Holiday Inn facilities have been filling to capacity for several months. Sieber said the expansion represents an investment of nearly a half million dollars.

The new units will be self-sustaining but accessible to the dining room, bar, pool and other features of the center.

Weston's Fairways Motel is adding 28 new units, also in a two story wing being constructed to the existing units with a courtyard and large parking area. Landscaping and both interior and outdoor decor of the existing facility will be carried into the new units, owners said. Each will feature color television, large windows and modern furnishings.

With special events planned in Twin Falls this year including the High School Rodeo and the regular summer tourist season, owners say they are looking forward to another major season. The addition is scheduled to be ready for public use during the first week in June.

Tremors

NAPLES, Italy (UPI)—Earth tremors stretching from coast to coast in southern Italy shook parts of Naples and other cities and villages Thursday, sending hundreds of persons fleeing from their homes in nightgowns and pajamas.

The tremors were felt from Naples, on the Tyrrhenian Sea, to the spur of the Italian boot 100 miles away on the Adriatic Sea.

Officials said some buildings were damaged, but reported no injuries.

Special grandmother named at area tea

GOODING— Mrs. Mae Copey was named Gooding County's "Grandmother of the Year" at the Civic Club's annual Grandmothers Tea held this past week at the Lincoln Inn.

Mrs. Copey, representing the Rebekah Lodge of Gooding, was crowned by last year's winner, Mrs. Mary Loewen. She was selected on the basis of her letter, "What It Means To Be a Grandmother."

MRS. MAE COPSEY

The Camp Five Girls, under the direction of Mary Schuldt, presented a skit, "This is Your Life," honoring the winning grandmother. Erma Jones, newly elected Civic Club president, read Mrs. Copey's letter and presented her with one dozen red roses, an engraved plaque, a dinner for two at the Lincoln Inn and a hair style from Carlson's Cut and Curl. Runner-up to Mrs. Copey was Hazel Lemke, representing the East End 4-H Cattle Club.

Each grandmother wore a name tag in the shape of a flat iron made by the Camp Five Girls and a corsage donated by local florists.

"Tribute to a Mother" was read by Mrs. K. T. Butler. Musical numbers were provided by Tracy Barton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Barton, who accompanied herself on the guitar, and by a barbershop quartet consisting of Dan Jones, Mark Chelline, Larry Floyd and Bill Willard. Mrs. Robert Slagel sang "Mother" and accompanied herself on the piano.

Also included in the program was a style show narrated by Pat Vicora. Modeling clothes from local stores were Willie Koby, Karen Arkosh, Andrea Arkosh, Lois Highbarger, Patty Bruin, and Lou and Steve Highbarger.

Refreshments were served at the close of the Grandmothers Tea by Karen Arkosh, Arlene Pollen and Lois Highbarger.

STRAWBERRY JAM (refrigerator-freezer style)
2 cups crushed ripe strawberries, about 2 pints
4 cups sugar
4 cup water
1 box powdered pectin
Add sugar to crushed strawberries in a large bowl. Mix well and set aside.
Combine the water and fruit pectin in a small pan. Blend well. Bring to boil and boil about one minute, stirring constantly. Stir into the sweetened strawberries. Continue stirring for about three minutes.
Quickly ladle jam into jars. Cover at once with tight-fitting lids. Let stand at room temperature until set. Store in freezer. If jam is to be used within two or three weeks, it can be stored in the refrigerator.

Makes about five eight-ounce jars of jam.
The Times-News will pay $5 each week for Magic Valley Favorites. If you have a favorite recipe, just mail it to the Recipe Department, Women's Page Editor. The recipe becomes the property of the Times-News and cannot be returned.

A Lovelier You
KEEPSAKES OF A WEDDING
By Mary Sue Miller

A lovely bride-to-be asks: Will you please suggest appropriate gifts for my bridesmaids and my groom. I cannot make up my mind. I want gifts that will truly serve as keepsakes.

The Answer: All by themselves bridesmaids amass a treasure of fond memories. It of course comes to mind when your bridal gift to them expresses your appreciation and affection.

Without question your jeweler stands ready with a lasting memento. Do be sure to choose the same gift for the bridesmaids. The maid of honor, in recognition of her special place, receives a special gift. On whatever you select there should be a space at the front or back to engrave the wedding date.

As mere suggestions for the maid of honor: a kurat gold circlet pin, gold-filled cufflinks, a boudoir clock and, if she is married, something for her home such as demitasse spoons or hors d'oeuvre forks.

For the maids, consider tiny purse-size sterling silver pens, silver or gold disc earrings, a wedding bell charm on a fine chain.

As no one could know the bridegroom's taste as well as the bride, gift suggestions from an outsider must be considered purely as suggestions. A watch, in these days of watch wardrobes, is a timely idea. His birthstone set in gold cufflinks has great sentiment. Your photograph, your formal bridal portrait perhaps, in a sterling silver frame embraces a gift to cherish forever.

WINNING MANNERS

Gooding student wins scholarship

GOODING—A Gooding High School student, Wesley E. Stanton, has won a four-year scholarship to the University of Puget Sound, Tacoma, Wash., as a finalist in the National Merit Scholarship competition.

Stanton's college major is undecided at present, according to information provided by the National Merit Scholarship Program. He has been active in the National Honor Society, the French Club, the Ski Club, the Drama Club and in mathematics competition in Gooding High School, and in his church choir.

The University of Puget Sound lists 2,600 full-time students from 46 states and 24 foreign countries in its student body. Bachelor's degrees are offered in liberal arts, sciences, business, education, music, occupational therapy and other professional fields.

Only two other Idaho students, Linda K. Schamber, Boise, and Norman D. Mecham, Fish Haven, achieved four-year scholarships in the finals of the national merit scholarship competition. Miss Schamber will major in biophysics at Utah

State University, Logan, Utah, and Mecham plans to major in engineering at Utah State.

The successful finalists have survived several levels of competition which began in February, 1970, when 710,000 students in 17,000 high schools throughout the nation took the qualifying exam—a two-hour 10-minute ordeal testing all phases of the students' knowledge in four areas, including English usage, mathematics usage, social studies and word usage.

Area music departments present spring concert

HAGERMAN—The music department of Hagerman School presented its annual spring concert this week at the Prince Memorial Gymnasium, under the direction of Mrs. Joyce Snapp, director.

Vocal solos were presented by Becky Tupper and Adele Artburn, accompanied by Shari Koopmen, and Jeri Omohundro, accompanied by Lois Adams. Shari Koopman played a piano solo, and Sergio Prado played several selections on the Spanish guitar.

Flutophone selections were played by the Fourth grade class and the third grade class sang.

The fifth and sixth grade chorus sang three selections.

Other vocal selections were presented by the junior high school mixed chorus, the high school girls' chorus and a girls trio composed of Lora Sandy, Regina Moreland and Robert Britton.

The beginning band and the sixth and seventh grade band were presented and the closing selections were played by the high school band.

Decorations were prepared by the junior high school girls, high school music aides and third grade class members. Programs were prepared by Gloria Campos and Lorna Butters. In charge of tickets sales were Brenda Clark and Sandra Gosst.

Activities

TWIN FALLS—May activities for the Blue Lakes Country Club include a new members party Saturday.

A Mother's Day dinner is set from 1 to 6 p.m., May 9; invitation stag night, May 20, and invitational tournaments, May 21 and 22.

Seniors honored

RICHFIELD—Richfield High School's 13 senior class members were feted at the annual Junior-Senior banquet at Wood's Cafe, Jerome, it was announced today. Supt. Neil Anderson was master of ceremonies.

Scott Ward, junior class president, read the prophecy, and Mark Dixon, senior class president, read the class will.

TWIN FALLS — A Highliners' Gymkhana will be held at 1 p.m. May 16 at Frontier Field. It was decided at the Highliners 4-H Club meeting held at the home of Chris Florence, Filer, it was announced today.

There will be 100 events, with entry fee, soft drinks and candy will be sold that day.

Advertising signs made by the members were displayed and final plans for the Gymkhana made.

Tom Turner, president, was in charge of the business meeting, with Nancy Brooks giving the treasurer's report.

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls Shrine Club will meet Monday at the Alley Inc. The social hour is set for 8:30 p.m., with dinner at 7:30 p.m. Final plans will be discussed for the Antique Show to be held May 14, 15 and 16 at the National Guard Armory. All Shriners are urged to attend.

TWIN FALLS — A special meeting of the Magic Valley Hairdressers Association is set for 7:30 p.m. Monday at Mr. Juan's Beauty College. Mosell Nora, president, said representatives of the Formody Co. will show cold wave, hair straightening, corrective treatment and other helpful techniques.

Valley Briefs

TWIN FALLS — The Magic Valley Military Wives will have a potluck picnic with the children at Silgar's Resort Saturday beginning in mid-afternoon. All military dependents are urged to contact the chairman of commerce for further information concerning the group.

TWIN FALLS — The Loyal Order of Moose will have a breakfast Sunday beginning at 8:30 a.m. for the Women of the Moose and their mothers.

JEROME — The Buttons and Bows Square Dance Club, Jerome, will dance Saturday night at 8:30 p.m. at the American Legion Hall.

Gooding miss crowned queen

POCATELLO. (ISU) — Rebecca Lynn Jones, 20-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wren Jones, Gooding, was crowned 1971 May Queen of Idaho State University during Parents' Weekend activities.

Miss Jones, a senior elementary education major, was chosen by vote of all ISU coeds. The five finalists were chosen from all senior women with grade point averages of 3.0 or higher.

Associated Women Students sponsor the annual Parents' Weekend.

Other finalists were Carey Petersen, Provo, Utah; Celia Vauk, Nampa; Jen Otte, Glasgow, Mont.; and Cheryl Jontra, Emmett.

Miss Jones is a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority. She was decorations chairman for TWIRP Week, an AWS activity, 1969 and 1970. She was assistant for 1970 Easter Seal for Parents' Weekend in both years.

Soloists

Kathy Dudley, left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dudley, and Kathleen Coleman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Coleman, both Twin Falls, will be soloists with the Idaho State Symphony Youth Concert at 8 p.m. Sunday at Goransen Hall, Pocatello. Miss Dudley, a high school junior, will play Handshkin's "Viola Concerto" and Miss Coleman, an eighth grader, will play the third movement of "Concerto in A Minor" by Vivaldi.

Clean-up participants

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls Garden Club will participate in the Johnny Horizon clean-up campaign Saturday.

The new officers for the coming year were elected at a meeting. They are president, Mrs. Gabriel Nuttle; vice president, Mrs. S. W. Smith; secretary, Mrs. Al House and treasurer, Mrs. Kenneth Hodder.

Mrs. I. G. Prescott reported on flowering ground covers. She said ground cover plants provide a variety of color and textures for unsightly and dead spots in the yard or garden.

Plants should be selected for hardiness and durability, according to sunlight and watering conditions, she said.

Mrs. Sam Porter gave a report on the African violet show in San Francisco. Many arrangements of spring flowers were on display. There also was a horticulture sale.

Mint official guest at Burley meet

BURLEY — The Cassia County Historical Society held its meeting Tuesday at Masonic Temple in Burley, with Art Ollta, official of the Franklin Mint, as special guest.

Al Dawson, society president, reminded members of the dedication of the Three Island Park near Glenns Ferry on June 18-19. Gov. Cecil Andrus is scheduled as the featured speaker for the dedication.

The early day crossing of the Snake River at this point was part of the old Oregon Trail, Dawson said. Persons interested in attending may contact Dawson for further details.

Ollta, official of the Franklin Mint, located at Franklin Center, Pa., told the group "The Franklin Mint is the largest private mint in the world, is an independent owned corporation and is not affiliated with any U.S. Mint or government agency."

"The mint produces currency for several foreign countries," he added.

"The mint's main concern is making the commemorative medals or coins for the 50 states. Each state to have some past historic event engraved on the coin representing that state. Some 9,000 sets of the 50 coins were sold by Nov. 15, 1970," Ollta said.

"Mailed in alphabetic order, two coins each month will begin this month," he said. "These letters will be postmarked by the post office nearest the site of the historical site on the coin."

"Idaho's site is a scene in the City of Rocks, 50 miles south of Burley, near Almo. The Almo Post-Office has post marked 10,000 envelopes in the last week," reported Ollta.

Cassia hospital bids high

BURLEY — When bids were opened for the Cassia Memorial Hospital remodeling and expansion project by Cassia County commissioners Thursday afternoon, they were found to be 20 per cent over the anticipated figure.

Eight bids were received for the remodeling and expansion project. The base bids ranged from $769,000 by Mitchell Construction Co., Pocatello; to a high of $874,400 by Arrington Construction Co., Idaho Falls.

One bid, from the Richard Watts construction Co., Logan, Utah, was declared void after a legal opinion was received from Gordon Nielson, Cassia County prosecutor.

Nielson said that according to state statutes any firm submitting bids on a city, county or school job in Idaho must name his mechanical and electrical subcontractors or the bid is void because of not meeting all requirements in the bid as set down by state law.

If commissioners had accepted all the alternates as listed in the bid, the Watts bid would have been low.

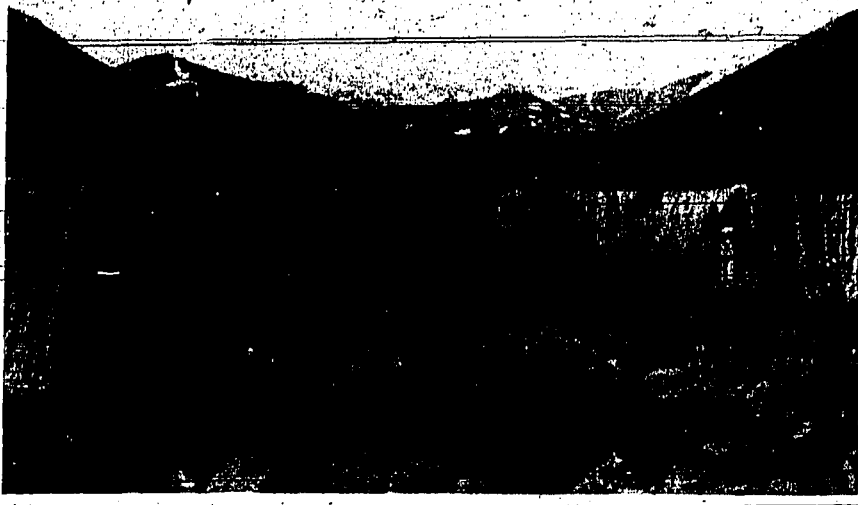

Robert Barton, hospital administrator, said the bidding had been good and tight. The bids now are being reviewed by Hill-Burton. If they approved of the one submitted by the Mitchell Construction Co., that will be the one the county will work with to see what part of the bid it will have done.

Barton said the requirement that the present hospital had to be brought up to federal standards has brought the price on the bids above what had been expected.

"We hope to be able to get additional local and Hill Burton financing to be able to do the entire project at this time," he said.

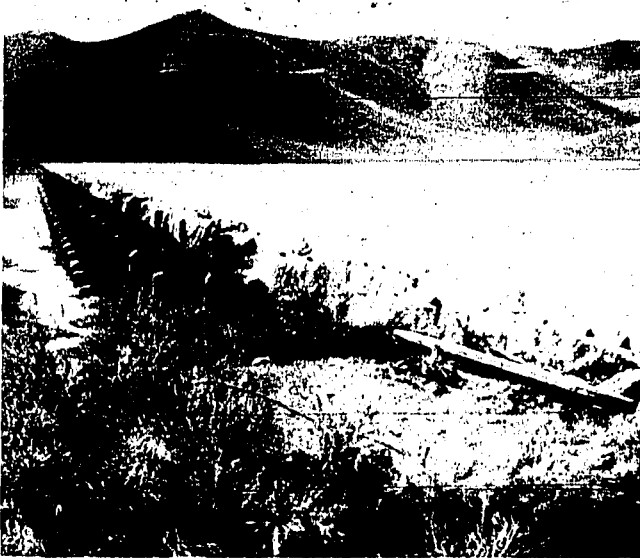

"If we can't, then the commissioners will have to decide what parts of the bid will be cut."

The commissioners and the hospital administrator will study the situation further while waiting for word from Hill-Burton.

Buhl, residents okay sewer pact

By PAULINE DAY Times-News Writer

BUHL — Residents of 10 homes on East Main and Juniper streets have entered into an agreement with the city of Buhl for construction of a sewer line to serve the area in which they live, according to Buhl city clerk Bernard Starr.

Residents entering into the agreement will construct the line for cash payment instead of forming a local improvement district. Each one of the original participants in the line construction will pay approximately $800 for each property connected to the original system.

The agreement calls for the purchase and installation of a sewer line and pump station to serve the area with the sewage to be pumped into the city's trunk line system. The location of the pump station will be on Main Street near the present natural gas regulator. Each of the original signers of the agreement must post a deposit of $500 before construction can start.

City employees will be used on a force account basis as their time permits with construction tentatively scheduled to begin in early fall. The city is not bound to a timetable of construction but city engineering specifications for construction must be met.

When the project is complete, each participant in the project will be required to pay a prorated amount to cover the complete cost of installation, Starr said. The project does not include individual property lines to the main system so each property owner will be responsible for the installation of connector lines.

After the completion of the project, the system will be owned by the city and future connections will be regulated by the city. All future hookup fees will be greater than the amounts paid by the originators of the system.

City officials said the existing city sewer trunk lines could handle the increased load from the area without any problems.

Buhl tags recreation director

BUHL — Bill Ingram has been named city recreation director by the Buhl City Council. It was announced today, Ingram, head basketball coach for Buhl high school, served in the same capacity last summer.

Councilmen said at Tuesday night's meeting several applications for the position of lifeguards at the city pool had been received but that no decision had been reached at this time.

In other business the council: — Approved the leasing of 355 shares of Twin Falls Canal Co. water to E. H. Christofferson for the 1971 season with the city receiving $10.25 per share.

— Donated $25 to the barbecue fund for the Association of Idaho Cities Convention to be held June 17-19 at Burley.

— Approved a request from Mountain Bell to install and maintain telephone cables in three locations within the city limits, with the stipulation that the telephone company restore city property to its original condition.

— Passed an ordinance dealing with persons cited for improper parking violations with the exception of parking meter violations. Persons receiving such citations are to post a $2 bond with the city treasurer within a 24 hour period or on the next business day the city clerk's office is open. If the defendant wishes to plead not guilty, the bond and citation will be sent by the treasurer to the magistrate court. Anyone failing to post the bond may be prosecuted on a separate offense.

— Issued safe and sane fireworks permits to M. H. King Co. and the LDS Church for sale of fireworks between June 15 and July 5.

— Approved $200 for the annual fireworks display sponsored by the city and the Buhl Chamber of Commerce on July 4.

Meet set

RUPERT — There will be a general meeting for all people over 55 in the Rupert area Tuesday, at 2 p.m., concerning the upcoming senior citizens program and senior center.

The program and what has been accomplished as far as federal funding for the center will be discussed.

Paris visitor fears peace talks failing

By JERRY HERRMANN Times-News Writer

BURLEY — There is little hope of any settlement to the Vietnam War being reached at the Paris Peace Talks, according to a Portland minister who visited Paris two months ago.

Rev. Raymond E. Balcomb, senior minister at the First United Methodist Church in Portland spoke seven times in Burley Thursday.

He was one of 171 citizens from 40 states in the U. S. who met in Paris for the Citizen's Conference on Ending the War in Indochina. The conference was March 3-10.

This group, Rev. Balcomb said, consisted of "long hairs" and short hairs, men and women, people of various religions, people from all walks of life and the very conservative to ultra-liberal factions."

While in Paris the group met with all four delegations to the Paris Peace Talks. On the first day they heard the view of the democratic Republic of Vietnam. The second day they heard about the same tune from the Provincial Revolutionary Government's Delegation.

He said the second day showed him how to recognize a propaganda speech when he heard it.

The group also heard the Saigon Regime's side and visited with the U. S. delegation.

Other groups like the Buddhists, Cambodians, war correspondents and Laotian students in Paris also were heard from.

"We were the first group to meet with all four delegations to the peace talks," Rev. Balcomb said.

He said he wasn't happy with the position the U. S. has taken in the talks.

"The people of Indochina don't welcome our interference," he said.

According to Rev. Balcomb, neither side at the peace talks is really negotiating. The one good use the talks have is that they provide a direct means of communications if the government wants to use them, he said.

"Both sides would have to be under pressure if the talks were to be fruitful," he said.

"However, I believe the North Vietnamese believe they have withstood our military pressure and now see no reason to negotiate."

Shoshone watering rule set

SHOSHONE — Rules for irrigation within the city limits of Shoshone, by sprinkler from the city wells, are announced by Mrs. Claude Chess, city clerk.

The hours will be from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m. again this year with houses that face north and west to irrigate only on odd days of the month while those that face south and east shall irrigate only on even days of the month.

Only public lawns are to be irrigated on the 31st of the month. Openings in sprinklers must not be over one-fourth inch in diameter, water from open hose is not permitted and disregard of these rules will result in a fine of $2 and discontinuance of water service until the fine is paid.

Signups scheduled

RUPERT — Registration for the boys' baseball and girls' softball program, ages 6 to 16, will be held Saturday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the recreation office in the Rupert Civic building according to Terry W. Duffin, director of parks and recreation.

League play for the various age groups will start the first part of June, Duffin said. Any boy or girl who does not already have registration forms can fill them out at the recreation office Saturday.

Top seniors at T.F. High chosen

TWIN FALLS — Selection of valedictorians and salutatorians of the Twin Falls High School graduating class of 1971 were announced today by Principal John Lawrence.

Two top students have been named to share valedictorian honors and three to serve as salutatorians for commencement exercises May 24 at 8 p.m. in the high school stadium, weather permitting.

Lawrence said Karen Schow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Schow and Doug Carr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Byrle H. Carr, will serve as valedictorians.

Salutatorians are Melanie Ruth Barth, daughter of Mrs. Ruth Pace, Twin Falls, and Wilbur Barth, California; Janice Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey M. Cook, and Suzanne Hedrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hedrick.

They were selected on a basis of scholastic standing and contribution to school programs from the 442 seniors who are graduating from the Twin Falls High School this year.

Miss Schow has served as treasurer of the Associated Student Body and a member of the Student Council. She is a member of the National Honor Society, member of Girls League and was president of the junior unit of Girls League. She was secretary-treasurer of the Girls Drill Team and a three year letterman in track. She is also a member of the orchestra and played with the Magic Valley Symphony and the Symphonette. She plans to attend Brigham Young University this fall, majoring in biological sciences.

Carr is a member of the Student Council and National Honor Society. He has been active in choir, serving as section leader this year. He served in the Idaho Youth Legislature was chairman of the Students for Andrus in the local high school, and active in other youth political programs; has been a member of the German Club, Mu Alpha Theta and Sigma Hi-Y, chess team and was the all school chess champion as a senior. He received the National Science Foundation Summer scholarship last summer and the National Merit Test letter of commendation.

Carr has been accepted with honors at Whitman College and accepted at the University of Washington and Drew University.

Miss Cook was a finalist in the Idaho Junior Miss Pageant and represented Idaho in the national Make It Yourself Wool contest. She also received nomination for the outstanding Teen-ager of America Award and represented Twin Falls in the Governor's Conference on Youth. She was a delegate to Girls' State and the Eighth Intermountain Junior Science and Humanities Symposium. She has been active in student council, drill team, Theatrics, National Honor Society, Pep Club, French Club, Job's Daughters and 4-H work, serving four years as a junior leader. She will attend Utah State University next fall.

Miss Barth has been most active in music receiving superior ratings at the National Federation of Music Clubs festivals on several occasions. She has studied piano 14 years and is teaching piano. She also won first place in state competition in the Idaho Accordion Festival, second place in the National Federation of Women's Club art show and first place in district art competition and is now showing in state competition. She won the outstanding French student award in 1970 and plans to attend Idaho State University in the fall.

Musical numbers are planned and a guest speaker will speak briefly.

Officers of the lodge will conduct the "Mother's Day Ritual." Each mother will be presented a flower from the lodge.

Dinner will be served immediately following the program.

Bridge winners listed

BURLEY — The Mitchell Movement was used by the Burley Duplicate Bridge players with seven tables in play, at Burley Elks hall.

North-south winners were Mrs. May Solomon and Mrs. Ruth Walton, first; Mr. and Mrs. Gail Wolf, second; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Warnke and Mrs. Barbara Belliston and Mrs. Nanette Woodland tied for third.

East-west winners included Mrs. M. Hogg and Dan Johnson, Boise, first; Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hunter, second, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Holmes, third.

It was announced that special event teams of four are being planned for sessions in June. Trophies will be awarded for first place winners.

Canton names 2 officers

BURLEY — Rupert Canton No. 19 and ladies auxiliary installed two new officers, it was announced today.

Mrs. Lucille Anderson was installed as treasurer and hospital matron and Mrs. Elvera Glorfield was installed as left aide to Mrs. Agnes Satchwell, vice president.

Mrs. Hazel Schwaegler was installing officer assisted by Mrs. Nancy Johnson as aide and Mrs. Edith Clevenger as chaplain.

Mrs. Anderson has been in California and Mrs. Glorfield has been in Arizona and were out of town during regular installation.

Mrs. Jessie Fenstermaker gave the opening and closing thoughts.

Mrs. Clevenger read an article honoring the 152nd anniversary of Odd Fellowship.

LeRoy Fenton thanked the canton and auxiliary for flowers and cards he received while a patient in Minidoka Memorial Hospital.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Esther Arbogast and Mrs. Johnson.

Refusal may net lawsuit

BOISE (UPI) — An Idaho deputy attorney general has notified the Univac division of the Sperry Rand Corp. that its refusal to honor the state's decision to cancel a computer order may be grounds for damages.

Warren Felton informed R. Stanzler of the Univac Division, Chicago, that the state is within its right to cancel the order because no legislative appropriation was made for the three Univac 494's.

Earlier, Sperry Rand had said the contract was valid because a legislative appropriation was made for the purchase.

But Felton said no appropriation was made by the 1971 Idaho Legislature to the management services division.

Felton asked Sperry Rand to reply within 15 days or it will be assumed the company agrees to the cancellation.

The state had previously decided to substitute two IBM computers for the Univacs.

Luncheon cites lamb industry

RUPERT — Rupert Chamber of Commerce members recognized the lamb and wool industry Thursday with a lamb luncheon and a talk by Mrs. Larry Gerro, president of the Idaho Wool Growers Auxiliary.

Mrs. Garro gave the history of sheep from the ancient world when sheep were used for food and the pelts were used for clothing, to the modern day.

Sheep were one of the first animals domesticated by man as shown by pictures scratched into the walls of caves.

Columbus on his second trip to the new world brought sheep with him to Cuba. Later some form of spinning was discovered and cloth was made from the wool itself, she said.

The wool and sheep industry ranks sixth in Idaho in farm products.

In January, 1971, a U.S. postage stamp was issued in honor of the "America's wool industry." The wool industry in the only industry to be issued a commemorative stamp in the past two years, Mrs. Garro reported.

According to local statistics Minidoka County had in 1970 some 126 sheep growers and feeders with an excess of 52,000 sheep and lambs wintered in the county. In 1910, Idaho had more than 2.5 million sheep and in 1970 there were 632,000 head. To offset some of the costs the industry has forged ahead in the quality and quantity of their product.

Last year wool sold for 37 cents per pound, lambs averaged around $25 per head at shipping points. Foreign imports of both wool and meat affect the price considerably in Idaho and the nation.

Mrs. Garro told of her experiences over the past four years as director of Make It Yourself with Wool contest which is sponsored by the Woolgrowers Auxiliary. Also she displayed pictures of the girls modeling the outfits they had made from wool cloth.

The auxiliary also promotes use of lamb cuts in the state, a project which has just been completed, and some $500 lamb cuts have been donated to schools for home economic classes.

Another project of the auxiliary is the three scholarships awarded each year.

Jay McBride, chairman of the industry week, introduced Mrs. Garro.

A golden fleece pelt was presented to Mrs. LaVonne Colbert, secretary of the chamber, by Mrs. Garro in appreciation of the work she has done for the Lamb and Wool Industry.

It was announced that a tea is being planned from 2 to 5 p.m. Monday by Pink Ladies of Minidoka Memorial Hospital in honor of National Hospital Week. The public is invited to the tea and four of the hospital will be available.

A report was given on the recent South Idaho Chamber of Commerce held in Twin Falls. Petitions are now out seeking signatures of five per cent of the registered voters to place the Regional Airport proposal on the ballot for vote.

Child to leave hospital

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — A 7-year-old Idaho child shot by a hunter last Nov. 6 expects to leave her isolation quarters at Shriners Hospital here in the next couple of weeks.

Karen Prestwich, 7, North Fork, shot as she waited for a school bus, has almost recovered from an infection which has been present in her shattered right hip since the mishap.

Minidoka hospital guild plans tea

RUPERT — Pink Ladies of Minidoka Memorial Hospital today announced plans for a tea from 2 to 5 p.m. Monday at the hospital in honor of National Hospital Week.

The tea is open to the public and tours of the hospital will be available.

Karen Amend, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Amend, Hazelton, has been awarded a nurse's scholarship. Miss Amend received the scholarship from Minidoka Memorial Hospital Guild, and it will be used to continue her education in the nursing field. She plans to attend Boise State College.

Miss Amend works three days a week at the hospital as a candy stripper. A senior at Minico High School she is completing four years as a member of the Future Homemakers of America and has served as president and vice-president of the organization.

A report was given on the hydraulic chair lifts which have been installed for use by geriatrics ward. The Pink

Ladies are paying the expenses on one of the hydraulic chairs and the hospital purchased the other chair.

It was reported at the last meeting that Juanita Klingler, Virginia Larimer, Alice Craven, Mary Lou Truxal, Joann Thompson, Theresa Henschelid and Mildred Markland, all attended the recent South Eastern Area Idaho Hospital Auxiliary Association workshop at Pocatello.

Recently a group of Pink Ladies visited the Geriatrics Ward at St. Benedict's Hospital, Jerome, to gain ideas and suggestions on projects. Making the visit to Jerome were Mrs. Larimer, Mrs. Henschelid, Mrs. Wilma Workman, Mrs. Velva Miller, Mrs. Margaret Smith, Mrs. Klingler, Mrs. Markland, Mrs. Donna Hodge, all pink ladies. Also making the trip was Bobbie Babcock, head nurse at the Minidoka Memorial Hospital. New members inducted were Mrs. Aldo Zunino and Mrs. Clarence Thompson.

Rupert panel formed

RUPERT — A Customer Relations Committee has been set up by the Rupert Chamber of Commerce to serve as liaison between merchants and customers.

Members of the committee are Dwinell Allred, Jim Foster, Bill Virtue and William Strasser.

"Sometimes, unknown to management, customers feel they have not been treated properly, but are loath to complain to the manager," Strasser, the chamber president, said. "The incidents generally are trivial, but they help to destroy good relations between merchandisers and consumers," Strasser added.

Complaints may be made to any member of the committee and the customer will remain anonymous, then the committee member will then advise the manager so the problem can be corrected.

"Since Rupert does not have a Better Business Bureau, the committee will also act in this capacity," Strasser said.

"This is another attempt on the part of the chamber of commerce to create an even better relationship between merchandisers and consumers," Strasser said.

Adelines install leaders

BURLEY — Officers of the Sweet Adelines have been installed, Mrs. Afton Brown, president, said today.

Mrs. Bea Smith, past president, conducted the candlelight ceremony in the conference room of the Idaho Bank and Trust Co.

In addition to Mrs. Brown other officers are Mrs. Sheree Jensen, vice president; Mrs. Virginia Watterson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Loanda Manning, recording secretary; Mrs. Nelda Matthews, treasurer; Mrs. Rae Cranney, junior counsel, and Mrs. Wynona Kruse, senior counsel.

The code of ethics was read by Mrs. Virginia Curr. Mrs. Lillie Ramsey, retiring president; Mrs. Betty Nelson, Mrs. Delores Green and Mrs. Mabel Judd, other retiring officers, assisted in the ceremony.

Clifford Mullikin, chorus director, led the group in singing. Mrs. Ramsey was presented a gift.

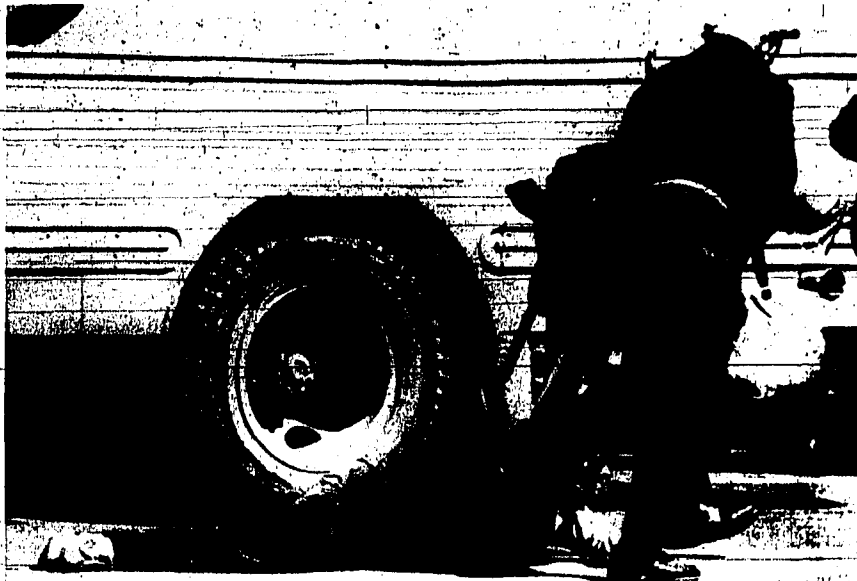

Rupert Elks set service

RUPERT — The annual Mother's Day services sponsored by Rupert Elks Lodge will begin at 1 p.m. Sunday at the lodge hall, according to Dick Groesbeck, exalted ruler.

Rev. Ted Meter of the Paul Congregational Church will be the speaker. Claud H. Bowman will sing several selections.

New camping limits looming

YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK, Wyo. (UPI) — Spokesmen for Yellowstone National Park warned Thursday they may have to clamp new restrictions on campers to keep the park's bears and humans from tangling.

Vernon Hennesay, assistant Park superintendent, said the huge grizzlies wandering the nation's oldest national park were blamed for three injuries last year. The smaller black bear was linked to 20 to 35 injuries.

The park has about 250 grizzlies and 400 to 450 black bears roaming its vast boundaries in Northwest Wyoming.

Jack K. Anderson, park superintendent, said some campgrounds at Yellowstone may be restricted to sturdy metal trailers and recreation vehicles.

"The vulnerability of those sleeping in the open or in tents is a matter of record," he said.

Anderson said the restriction might be imposed if the bears "begin infiltrating certain areas more than usual."

Hennesay said some of the campgrounds—Canyon, Fishing Bridge, Pelican Creek, Grant Village and Bridgo Bay— were "located in the natural migration route of the grizzly bear" and said this could "cause problems in the spring and fall unless campers keep their areas clean."

The park service already is in the process of closing open pit garbage dumps at the camp sites and is replacing them with fenced, bear-proof sanitary land fills.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Prices on the New York Stock Exchange remained lower as trading passed the halfway mark Friday. Turnover was active.

Analysts said the lower prices reflected an uneasiness over international monetary problems, intensified somewhat by recent poor economic figures.

The Dow Jones industrial average of 30 selected blue chips lost 4.14 to 933.25, while declines outraced advances, 901 to 297, among the 1,565 issues traded.

The three-hour volume was 9,800,000 against 11,530,000 one day earlier.

Thus analyst noticed precautionary selling by investors who had decided to await weekend developments in the monetary crisis. He also said the report of a rise in April unemployment by the Labor Department "had not helped the market."

McGee shoots 66 to lead Byron Nelson golf meet

DALLAS (UPI)—Lightweight Jerry McGee capitalized on the weather and an almost flawless game Thursday for an early four-under-par 33-33-66 that withstood the challenge of a crack field in the opening round of the $125,000 Byron Nelson Golf Classic.

The 27-year-old slightly built Ohioan playing out of Lake Worth, Fla., conquered the tortuous 7,931-yard, par 35-35-70 Preston Trail Golf Club layout in the relative calm of a steamy morning before thunderstorms in the area kicked the winds above 30 miles per hour for the late starters.

Only one man made a serious run at his superb opening score—former Ohio State teammate Ed Sneed of Columbus, Ohio. But the stout winds had their effect on him, too, and he slid back into a crowd of two-under-par 68 shooters.

Bracketed with Sneed at that point were Lee Trevino, John Schlee, Bob Storie, Ted Hayes and Gay Brewer. All but Brewer played in the morning's eight-mile breezes.

Regional girls meet set here

For the first time, the third district is expected to give the fourth district considerable competition in the annual girls regional track meet Saturday.

Minico has first win over Bruins

RUPERT — Rick Runyan's triple chased home Duane Mayer with the deciding run in the bottom of the sixth inning Thursday when the Minico Spartans won their first baseball decision in history from the Twin Falls Bruins.

McGee started on the 10th hole and got an early boost to his mental game when a 30-foot birdie putt dropped on the 12th green. His short iron game left him only four and five-foot putts for birdies at the 17th and second holes, but he had to drop one from 10-foot at the sixth.

Angotti, Hawks top Canadiens

CHICAGO (UPI)—Lou Angotti, usually the utility man for the Chicago Black Hawks, got more ice time than usual Thursday night and scored two unassisted goals in the final 13 minutes to lead the Chicago Black Hawks to a 5-3 victory over the Montreal Canadiens in their Stanley Cup playoff series.

Donohue sets 1-lap Indy mark

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—Patent Mark Donohue of Media, Pa., waltzed five hours for Chief Steward Harlan Flegler to open the Indianapolis Speedway for 500-mile race practice after a morning rain Thursday, then turned in the fastest lap ever at the track—nearly 178 miles per hour.

Baltimore cops pair from Cal

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Dave McNally's four-hitter and Pat Dobson's nine-hitter gave the Baltimore Orioles a doubleheader sweep Thursday night over the California Angels by identical 3-1 scores.

Team bowling meet will end Sunday

Teams from Utah, Nevada and throughout Southern Idaho will have one last chance to jump into a share of something over $6,000 in prize money this weekend when the curtain rings down on the Magic-Jackpot bowling tournament.

SPORTS

Defensive 'wild bunch' will highlight Idaho spring game

MOSCOW — The famous Idaho "Wild Bunch," the defensive unit of the Vandals football team which gave the Idaho team a big lift in winning four out of their final five games, is in action again and the fans attending the annual spring game in Clarkston will see them in action again.

The place will be the Adams Field gridiron, at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, and the proceeds will benefit the Lewis-Clark Valley Boys Club and the Vandal Boosters.

Twins rally to defeat Yanks 5-4

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (UPI) — Steve Braun singled just past second base in the eighth Thursday night to drive in two runs and give the Minnesota Twins a come-from-behind 5-3 victory over the New York Yankees.

Twins rally to defeat Yanks 5-4

With the bases loaded, Braun hit a hard grounder to shortstop Gene Michael, who couldn't handle the ball, and Cesar Tovar and Tony Oliva scored to cap a three-run rally.

Team bowling meet will end Sunday

More than 160 teams will have participated in the event, sponsored jointly by several Jackpot, Nev., motels and the host Magic Bowl, by Sunday evening. So far 127 teams have bowled, giving the tournament a guaranteed prize list of $5,440.

Cal coach to guide U.S. team

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI)—California track coach Dave Maggard was selected Thursday to coach the U.S. men's team in the Russian-American World All-Stars triangular meet July 23.

The 34-year-old graduate engineer left shortly thereafter to practice for the Lime Rock, Conn., Trans-AM event this weekend.

Snead's frustrating 34 years of chasing open title may be over

By MILTON RICHMAN UPI Sports Writer NEW YORK (UPI)—Sam Snead didn't come right out and say so but the implication was plain enough.

He may be all through. Not only as far as playing in the U.S. Open is concerned but as far as playing regularly on the golf tour as well.

Snead pulled a rock by forgetting to send in his entry to the USGA so he could play in the U.S. Open at Merion, Pa., next month. The deadline was Wednesday night and, since Snead neglected to file, he won't be able to play.

Snead has won 84 recognized PGA tournaments, more than Ben Hogan or any other player in golf history, but he never won the U.S. Open. Religiously since 1937 he has tried, but even though he was "champ" for an hour-and-a-half once and subsequently finished second four times he never was able to win golf's premier prize.

When I reached Snead at his home in Hot Springs, Va., to talk with him the telephone conversation went like this: "How come you're not playing in the Open?"

"Whadd'ya mean?" "The USGA says I never received your entry and that the deadline has passed."

"They never sent me a slip. I didn't know when you were supposed to file."

"Had you intended to play?" "Well, I was gonna try. I've been in every one since 1937 but they've always sent me a form. I thought I had plenty of time."

"What are you gonna do now?" "I think I'll call the USGA and ask 'em if it isn't too late. Do you have their phone number?"

"I've got their number. I'll give it to you, but what if they say you're too late. Will you bother trying again next year?"

"Well, I dunno. I was gonna give it another try this time but next year... I dunno."

I gave Snead the USGA's number, he told me he thought they'd be closed already and he was correct. He knows the USGA is like the umpire behind home plate. It doesn't generally change its mind.

who'll be 59 in three more weeks, confided to his nephew, J.C. Snead, also a touring pro, that he would quit tournament golf if he didn't start putting better. When I mentioned that to Snead he didn't deny saying it.

"Veh," he said wearily, more weary it seemed than I had ever heard him before. "I was thinking about it and maybe I will, but I did want to play in this Open."

Snead frequently has been called "the best player NEVER to win the Open."

In his first one at Oakland Hills, Mich., in 1937, he looked like a sure winner and waited under a tree for an hour-and-a-half to find out whether the only player on the course with a chance to beat him, Ralph Guldahl, could.

Guldahl did by two strokes. Two years later at Philadelphia Snead, the kid from the hills with the beautiful swing, needed only a par 5 on the final hole to win... and took an unbelievable 8.

Snead's best chance perhaps was in 1947 when he and Lew Worsham went up tied for the lead after 72 holes. Snead then lost the playoff when he blew a 30-inch putt on the final hole.

Assault of 1,800 athletes looms in West Coast relays

FRESNO, Calif. (UPI)—The record book for the 4th annual West Coast Relays may have to be rewritten this weekend.

Relays director Cornelius "Dutch" Warmerdam says many meet records from the elementary school through the college and open division will be under attack from the more than 1,800 athletes drawn from throughout the United States.

The world record-of-over-18 feet for the pole vault is definitely threatened with former world record holder Bob Seagren leading several 17-foot-plus vaulters. Starting height is set for 16 feet.

Olympians Jay Sylvester, with a 224.5 world best in the discus, and sprinter Lee Evans, with a 43.8 world record in the 400 meters, should be easy winners.

Both Houston track coach John Morris and Villanova member Jumbo Elliot say their squads will crack the world standard of 9:33 for the distance medley. Houston has already run a 9:37.8 this season.

University of Texas distance man Kerry Pearce, with an indoor best of 8:20.5, will be shooting for the world outdoor two-mile mark of 8:19.8. He will face American record holder George Young, 8:22.0, and Frank Shorter of the Florida Track Club.

Half a dozen sub-four-minute milers will compete in the open invitational mile run and several 9.3 sprinters are entered in the 100-yard dash.

Two Fresno high schoolers are expected to provide the most excitement in the prep ranks with a concerted effort on the national prep triple jump record.

David Tucker of San Joaquin Memorial High School, the current national record holder, at a phenomenal 52 6 1-4, will be pressured by crosstown rival Randy Williams of Edison High who formerly held the U.S. record with a best of 50 11 3-4.

The elementary and high school competition got underway this afternoon with the college and open division continuing through Saturday evening.

The relays, which have never been rained out, were canceled last year for the first time in history.

Monthly award won by Stargell

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Pittsburgh's Willie Stargell, who set a major league record by slugging 11 home runs in April, Thursday was named National League player of the month.

He polled 58 of the 60 votes cast by a panel of baseball writers and broadcasters who participate in the monthly poll conducted by N.L. President Charles Feeney.

Atlanta's Ralph Garr and pitcher Tom Seaver of the New York Mets received the other two votes. Garr hit 411 in April while Seaver won four games without a loss and posted a 1.38 earned-run average during the first month of the season.

In addition to his home-run heroics, Stargell batted .347 and drove in 27 runs in 20 games. Last season he batted a puny .093 during April.

Cable TV will air 3 fights

For the first time in Cable Television history, three fights will appear on Magic Valley Cable Vision on the same night, Monday, May 10 from three different arenas.

With the fall sentence looking Muhammad Ali in the face and strong rumors of retirement from champion Joe Frazier's camp, the heavyweight picture is very much up in the air. Four of the top ten contenders will meet on the May 10 card in what could develop into a round-robin elimination for the vacated championship of the world.

Number one contender, George Foreman, undefeated in twenty-seven fights (24 KO's) faces the number eight rated Gregorio Peralta, the South American champion in a fifteen round heavyweight championship of the Americas.

Peralta's record stands at 74-6-5. In the co-feature ten rounder, WBA's number two contender, Jimmy Ellis, the former world champion takes on a Canadian champion, George Chuvvalo in the number seven contender.

The third bout features another number one world champion, Ernie Terrell. Fresh off two victories on a come-back campaign, Terrell will fight hard punching Brazilian champion Luis Pires in a scheduled ten rounder. Records: Terrell—40-7, Pires—25-0-1.

Buhl girls win match

GOODING — Led by Deb Cullings and Shelly VanOstrum, the Buhl girls defeated three other teams in a high school golf match Thursday.

The co-medallists had 53 in the nine-hole test as Buhl scored 275. Glens Ferry was second at 278 while Filer had 282 and Kimberly 283.

T.F. tops Minico in dual meet

The Twin Falls Bruins won all four relays Wednesday and used the points to defeat the Minico Spartans 80-57 in the annual non-qualifies dual between the schools.

The meet brings together members of the two teams that failed to qualify for the finals in the Southern Idaho Conference. The SIC finals will be held in Twin Falls Bruins Stadium at 8:30 p.m. Friday.

Twin Falls built up a big edge in the track events but Minico came back strong in the weights, taking all six places in the shot and discus.

Teams scoring — Twin Falls 80, Minico 57. High hurdles — Jones, M. Van Noy, T.F. 17:2. 80-yard relay — Twin Falls (Long, Hammond, Sturgill, Warner), 1:43. 100 yard dash — Olmstead, T.F. Miller, Y.F. Villet, M. 10:4.

Phipps working hard to be No. 1 Brown

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Mike Phipps, who is looking for a chance to succeed Bill Nelsen as the Browns' No. 1 quarterback, says the "job has to be earned" and that is why he's beginning to gear himself mentally and physically for the coming summer training.

"This exhibition season may be as important to me as any I'll ever have," said Phipps. "It means a great deal to me to get this opportunity," he added. "But even though the coaches have told me, it's obvious and very clear the job has to be earned."

Phipps, who said he began lifting weights in February and throwing outdoors about four times a week for the last month, says the competition for the No. 1 spot will be tough.

"Bill's injuries have improved in the off-season and I know he will come out to camp with the attitude he's still the No. 1 quarterback," said Phipps. "I hope he comes back with all his old strength."

"That would be good for the Browns and help me too," he added. "When I started at Purdue there were seven quarterbacks who wanted to be No. 1 and I won out. The competition made me work all the harder."

Phipps, 23, who was drafted by the Browns last year, spent much of his first pro year sitting on the bench.

"I learned a lot watching and I got in a lot of practice time," he said. "Playing time in a game is where you build confidence, though. When you get in a game you have to prove yourself."

He said he has a lot of work cut out for himself before he turns up at summer camp July 11 in Iliam.

Jesus said suffering can become blessing

By LOUIS CASSELS
UPI Religion Writer

The most shocking thing Jesus ever said—from the viewpoint of conventional wisdom—is that it's a blessing to suffer.

Many thoughtful men, from the time of the Greek Stoics until now, have looked upon pain and bereavement as inevitable aspects of human existence to be borne with patience and courage.

But Jesus went much farther than that. He did not teach mere resignation to life's hurts. He said: "Happy are those who mourn ... how blessed are the sorrowful."

Jesus was not a masochist who took pleasure in pain. It is clear from the gospels that he avoided hardship whenever he could do so without shirking his duty or compromising his principles. He also tried whenever possible to ameliorate the suffering of others.

So, when he said it is blessed to suffer, he did not mean that we should go out of our way to incur miseries. He was simply saying that when trouble comes upon us anyway, despite all our efforts to avoid it, we may find in it a hidden benediction.

The late Dr. Albert Schweitzer, one of the greatest Christians of this or any other century, reminds us that the gospel offers no encouragement to the popular belief that a person can purchase divine protection against suffering by being "good." Quite the contrary. "The Savior suffered more than anyone" and if we truly follow His way, He will "draw us with Him into his suffering."

Misfortune is "part of what it means to be a Christian."

Why?

"Because suffering is exaltation. Just as Jesus was exalted on the cross, so we too must suffer in order to be exalted above the world."

Jesus was not speaking only of "pie in the sky" when He said that those who suffer will be comforted. The blessing to be found in pain is a right-here, right-now blessing, which takes place in the very midst of suffering.

Schweitzer concludes with this advice:

"Don't vex your mind by trying to explain the suffering you have to endure in this life. Don't think that God is punishing you or disciplining you or that He has rejected you. Even in the midst of your suffering you are in His kingdom. You are always His child, and he has His protecting arm around you ...

"Does a child understand everything his father does? No—but he can confidently nestle in his father's arms and feel perfect happiness, even while tears glisten in his eyes, because he is his father's child."

Camp Perkins plans told

FILER — Camp Perkins, Lutheran Church camp in the Sawtooth Mountains, will be open again this summer for a variety of camps and retreats which will include open camping and family type camps.

A work camp is planned for the opening week of June 14-17, according to Hugo Meyer, Filer. It will be followed June 17-20 by a singles, single parent and family camp for those 35 years and older. This is a new concept for Camp Perkins and the first for Lutheran camps.

Rev. Frank Solberg, Nampa, will be camp dean, and Rev. R. Baldwin, Mountain Home, will serve as Bible study leader.

June 20-24 is set aside for open camping, and will be followed by the second singles, single parent and family camp, June 24-27 for those 35 years and younger. Leaders will be Gene Bettermann, director of special education in public schools, and F.D. Wenger, director of Gateway Mental Health Center, both Pocatello.

A sportsman and backpackers camp will begin July 23 and end July 26. It will include basic fishing, boating and backpacking instructions, movies and equipment demonstrations and Forest Service tours. There will be planned backpacks for beginning families, intermediate and experienced groups. Dick Thiel will be camp dean.

The Lutheran Women's Missionary League retreat is set for July 26-29 under the direction of Mildred Zaffit, Murray, Utah. July 29-30 is another open camping period. The music and Sunday School teachers camp will begin July 31 and continue for a week. Led by deans, Rev. C. Nitz, and Rev. D. Becker, Burley, it will include special instruction and discussion on the history and heritage of Lutheran music and the role of music in the parish worship. Sunday School teachers and superintendents will concentrate on new developments in the field of Sunday School education.

Blaine stake seminary has graduation event

RICHFIELD — Blaine Stake Seminary graduation for 15 students was highlighted by a speech by the guest speaker, Lt. Steven Thurber, Boise State College.

"Stand Firm" was the commencement theme. Student speakers were Rhonda Swainston, Richfield, and Frank Garrett, Shoshone. The event was held at the Richfield Stakehouse.

Mervin L. Gifford, Central Idaho Seminary district coordinator, presented special awards. Mark Dixon, Richfield, received a certificate for outstanding achievement in leadership. Rick's College scholarships were presented to Peggy Lynn Ralls, Richfield, Kay Charles Sorenson, Dietrich, and Frank LaVon Garrett, Shoshone.

Leadership and special achievement awards went to Shauna Jean Bingham, Barton Ray Murdock, Gary M. Parke, Owen Jeffery Toone, Carey, Brian Kent Stimpson, Frank Garrett, Shoshone; Miss Sorenson, Dietrich; Dale A. Crowther, Chris King, Joyce Ward, Miss Ralls, and Dixon, Richfield; Tony Hall, Carolyn Bradshaw, Debra Craig, Patricia Ellsworth, Deborah Neymann, Emily Packer, and James Petterson, Halley.

Emily Packer played prelude music and was accompanied for songs with Vera Garrett as chorister, Shoshone. Teela Southwick, and Shiela Sorenson, sang a duet with Lou Anderson as accompanist, all of Dietrich. Miss Neymann, Halley, played a piano solo, and Richfield graduates sang the "Seminary Prayer" with Miss Ralls as organist, and Miss Ward as chorister.

Tony Hall welcomed the audience from the six Ward in the stake. Gary Parke gave the invocation, and Miss Sorenson, the benediction.

Diplomas were presented by Blaine Stake president Oral Stewart, Carey. Graduates are Kim-Hawa, Norma Ralls, Rhonda Swainston, Richfield; Richard Simpson, Shawa Thatcher, Carey; Art Anderson, Leon F. Sorenson, Jewel Cooper, Shiela Sorenson, Teela Southwick, Dietrich; Mike Rainey, Steve Rainey, Halley; Shari Blackburn, Vera Garrett, and Cynthia Stimpson, Shoshone.

The ninth grade confirmation camp will begin June 27 and continue through July 3, and will feature fun and fellowship, cabin talks, Bible study, song fests and devotions around the campfire. Lee Huebner and Jerry Helms, both Twin Falls, will be deans.

The Lutheran Layman's League retreat will be held from July 2-5, and Walter Kaster, Buhl, will serve as dean. The eighth grade camp will follow on July 4-10 with Vernon Vaholtz, camp dean, and Rev. Harry Spaupe, Ontario, as pastoral advisor.

July 10-11 will again see family camping and will be followed by the seventh grade camp led by David and Doris Baird, Boise. Another family camping time will be held July 17-18, to be followed by fifth and sixth grade camp July 18-23 with Rev. David Atrops, Eden, camp dean.

A special education camp for young people enrolled in special education classes is scheduled for Aug. 8-12, in charge of Garth Baker, Rupert. The AAL Camp will be Aug. 12-15, and the Walther League camp will follow on Aug. 15-22.

A Bible science camp will begin Aug. 23 and end Aug. 28 with Dr. John Klotz, chief lecturer, and Rev. Walter Lang, Caldwell, camp dean. The young married with preschoolers and young children, plus the grandparent camp is set for Aug. 28 to Sept. 3, with Milford Schmeckpeper, Buhl, as camp dean.

Open camping and family style camp will conclude the camping period which will end Oct. 10. The weekend will include the I.E.A. Teacher's Conference with Rev. Rollin Schaleger, dean.

Jerome ward names bishop

JEROME — Dr. Robert E. Williams was sustained as bishop of the Jerome LDS second ward, it was announced Thursday by Stake President Richard N. Everson.

He replaces Bishop Ferguson-Camp. He will be assisted by Russell Woolley, first counselor, who replaces Keith Thompson and Dallas Ward, named second counselor, replacing Vern Clarkson.

Dr. Williams, a Jerome dentist, belongs to the Jerome Chamber of Commerce, Jerome Rotary Club and the Idaho State Dental Association. He has served the past four years as stake Sunday school superintendent and was a member of the Jerome School board. He also has served on the board of trustees of the state dental association.

Japanese Supper featured

Woolley farms east of Jerome belongs to the North Side Canal Co. and the North Side Pumping Co. board of directors. He is a director of the American Falls Reservoir district. He has been president of the Elders Quorum.

PAUL — The Mia Mads and Laurels of the Paul Second Ward LDS Church hosted a Sukiyaki supper with the Explorers and Venturers.

Japanese decorations were used, including Japanese lanterns and writings. A Japanese lamp in a floral setting centered the cultural hall.

The 50 youths participating used chopsticks to eat their food. Games were played after dinner.

Preparing the food were Mrs. Blaine Nielsen, assisted by Mrs. Christine Stapleman and Mrs. Evelyn Jones, both class leaders.

Nominated

Area Baptists meet at Filer

FILER — The Central Idaho Baptist Association meeting was held in the First Baptist Church here.

Mrs. Ruth Anderson and Elma Miller from the First Baptist Church, Boise, spoke on missionary work in Haiti. The two women have just returned from a six-month voluntary missionary tour in that country.

Business sessions with elections and other business were included in the afternoon meetings which ended with a salad supper. Larry Kistler, Boise, was guest speaker for the evening service.

Walther League elects

FILER — Randy Lammers is the new president of the Peace Lutheran Walther League, it was announced Thursday.

Nick Partin was elected vice president; Pam Kalbfleisch, secretary-treasurer; Linda Thaele, Christian growth chairman, and Keith Westendorf, athletic chairman. Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Lierman are counselors.

Brent Lierman was appointed chairman of the softball committee, to be in charge of organizing a team and making arrangements for games.

The group discussed talent numbers for the May 18 talent show of the Lutheran Layman's League at the church. Plans were made for the league to meet twice a month with a business meeting and devotions to be included in one meeting and the other meeting to be devoted to ballgames and sports.

Family home plan theme

DECLO — "Family Home Evening for Everyone" was the theme of the Cassia East LDS Stake quarterly conference at the Declo stake house.

Joseph A. Gillott, stake president, discussed dedication to the gospel. "Seek ye first the kingdom of God," he said. "You can gain a testimony for yourself for it is an individual matter."

Jay Nielson of the stake presidency, discussed happiness, and explained how this quality is acquired. He said it could be lost through gossip, dishonesty, seeking for pleasure, selfishness, and harboring hate and envy.

Horace Coltrin explained the importance of the family and how its solidarity could be achieved through the family home evening.

Other speakers were Orville Sears, Kent Robinson, Mrs. Clarence Barrett, Joseph Preston and Ephraim S. Miller. Special music was presented by the Stake Singing Mothers with Mrs. Gene Baxter directing and Mrs. Curtis Durfee as accompanist.

Prayers were given by Gene Baxter and Jack Hill.

Speaker listed for Oakley meet

OAKLEY — Elder Bernard P. Brockbank, assistant to the Council of 12 of the LDS Church, will be the speaker at the Oakley LDS stake quarterly conference to be held at the Oakley Stake House Saturday and Sunday.

Sessions are slated for 7:30 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. Sunday.

Elder Brockbank has served as president of three missions of the church in the British Isles. He is a prominent Utah building contractor and realtor and a former school board president, according to Stake President Wade Baker, Burley.

He was managing director of the Mormon pavilion of the New York World's Fair and HemisFair in 1968 in San Antonio.

District confab set here

TWIN FALLS — Delegates from 50 Nazarene churches in Oregon and Idaho will gather in Twin Falls May 20 and 21 for the annual district assembly to be held in the First Church of the Nazarene.

Annual reports will be given by pastors of the 50 churches in the district. Featured speaker will be Dr. Eugene Stowe, Kansas City, Mo., elected in 1968 to the high office of president of the Nazarene Theological Seminary, Kansas City.

Rev. Grady W. Cantrell, Nampa, district superintendent, will present his annual message. District officers will be elected and the members attending will select delegates to represent the district in the 18th quadrennial General Assembly of the Nazarene Churches to be held in Miami Beach, Fla. in 1972.

All local members are invited to participate in the district assembly.

Special communion observed

FILER — The Filer First Baptist Church observed a very special communion celebration during Sunday's morning service.

The "Let Us Break Bread Together" communion featured wheat specially grown for the service by Ed Andrews and made into bread by Mrs. Andrews. Johnnie Kuest of the Maple Mill, Inc. ground the wheat into flour.

Mrs. Paul Patterson grew the grapes for the communion cup and Mrs. Stanley Molton prepared them into juice.

Families sat together to break bread for the communion service over which Rev. Roy Watson, pastor, presided.

Bible lectures begin at Filer

FILER — "Tomorrow, God's Tomorrow" is the theme of 21 lectures on Bible prophecies which will be presented in the Filer American Legion Hall, with the first lecture set for 8 p.m. Saturday.

Two pastors, K.S. Brown and S.O. Francisco, will give the nightly lectures on such subjects as "Communism's Doom," "Armageddon War," "How Near is the End," and "The Mark of the Beast."

The two pastors are graduates of Andrews Theological Seminary and Graduate School, Andrews University, Berlen Springs, Mich. Each evening they will show pictures of the different parts of the world where they have toured.

Revival series slated

TWIN FALLS — Scheduled to lead a series of revivals at the Eastside Southern Baptist church, Twin Falls, is Rev. Ira Curtis Griffin, Jackson, Miss., according to Rev. R. C. Schrockenberg, pastor.

The revival will begin Sunday and continue nightly, with services to begin at 7:30 p.m. The services will end May 18.

Rev. Griffin is pastor of the New Haven Baptist Church in Terry, Miss., and is a graduate of Clarke Memorial College, Newton, Miss., and attended Mississippi College in Clinton, Miss.

Revival set

TWIN FALLS — Victory Missionary Baptist Church, located at Second Avenue East and Locust Street will hold a revival at the church May 9 to 16.

Services will be held at 7:30 p.m. nightly. Kenneth Davis, pastor, will be the evangelist and Dan Sutterfield will direct music.

better, but four hearts is reasonable. It isn't hard for East to see that the lead was a singleton. It is even easier for East to see that if his partner and "lead" a spade that the four-heart contract will collapse. If South does hold two spades, all he has to do is to play his jack of clubs and if West can't read that as a suit preference request for a spade lead, it is just too bad.

There isn't anything South can do about the situation. He will probably play ace and another heart in the hope that West doesn't hold three hearts, but West does hold three hearts. He will take his king, lead a spade and the defense will wind up with two spades, the king of trumps and a club ruff.

(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

By Oswald & James Jacoby

The suit-preference signal is one of the best conventions in defensive play when used properly. It becomes one of the worst when abused.

Basically it consists of playing a high card to ask partner to lead a high-ranking suit or a low card to ask partner to lead a low-ranking suit. It should only be used when it is evident that the play of the high or the low card will not have some normal meaning.

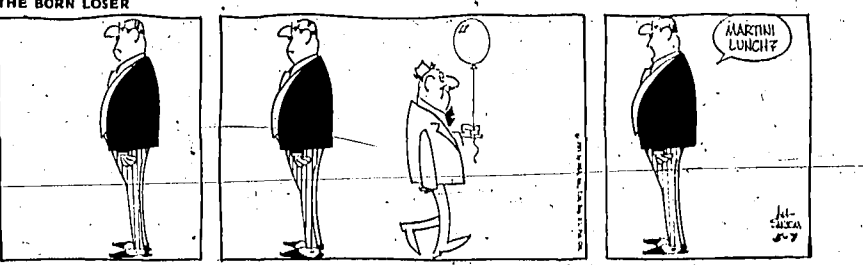

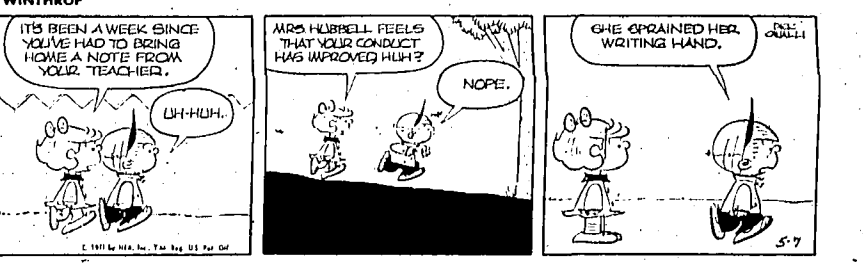

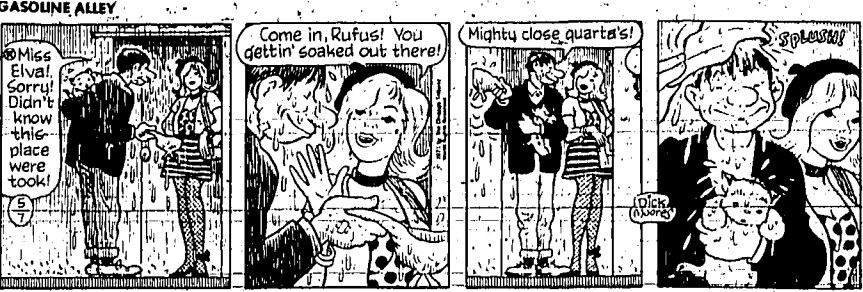

Today's hand shows a suit preference signal that should be unmistakable. West opens his singleton club against South's reasonable four-heart contract. Of course, a three-no-trump contract by North would be

FLAMING SKELETON of a warehouse at Sound Ltd. on Blue Lake Boulevard North was all that was left Friday night when this photograph was taken. Firemen are directing water onto a portion of the building. Loss from the fire is estimated at $80,000, only partially covered by insurance. (Photo by Bonnie Baird Jones)

This is a total sales of our fire sale goods. Including new merchandise, water damaged goods, smoke damaged goods. We now have no place to store goods that were in transit. We've got to move it... FAST.

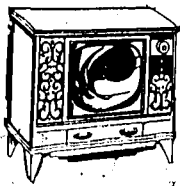

SOUTHERN IDAHO RESIDENTS: Due to the fire at our warehouse April 16, 1971 we suffered heavy losses and all our warehouse space. Since we are a volume dealer and have 5 truckloads of merchandise previously ordered that must be liquidated. Our insurance will cover most of our loss, however we must move all our fire damaged merchandise on hand and five truck loads that normally would be in our warehouse. Our Loss - Your Gain!! - No Reasonable Offer Refused. s/s Ron Victor - Owner
