Congress moves to curb strike

Potatoes menaced

TWIN FALLS — The nationwide railroad strike is threatening to cause extensive losses to Idaho potato growers, but the extent of the effects is still indefinite.

Immediate restoration of rail service to save a possible daily loss of $500,000 to growers has been asked by the Idaho Potato Commission in a message to President Nixon. Current volume of 150 to 200 carloads daily represents a $500,000 investment which could be hurt by a long strike.

Brokers said the effect of the strike on the potato futures market is not certain, since the deadline for completion of contracts is the end of the month. One broker said activity in eastern markets indicates a belief the strike will be short.

All Idaho railroad operations have been halted by the strike, which started Monday.

Opposes strike

APPEARING as witness before Senate Labor Committee Monday during hearing on emergency strike legislation was C.J. Chamberlain, president, Brotherhood of Railroad Signalmen. His union struck Monday, tying up nation's rail service. President Nixon asked for legislation to end strike. (UPI)

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress reluctantly gave priority today to legislating an end to the second national rail strike in six months. The Nixon administration warned of drastic economic consequences if quick action was not taken.

Committees of both the House and the Senate considered President Nixon's request for legislation to order striking signalmen back to work until at least July 1. The Senate Labor Committee was reported leaning toward an Oct. 1 date.

With the strike of the 13,000-member Brotherhood of Railway Signalmen in its second day, the major economic impact appeared to be on the auto industry.

American Motors said all operations would be shut down after today... If the strike continued, General Motors, Ford and Chrysler cut back operations and said they could not last out the week without rail transportation.

Labor Secretary James D. Hodgson said in testimony this morning before the House Commerce Committee that if the strike was not halted, it would continue to exert a "drastic impact on our economy and citizens."

The signalmen, who were able to paralyze the nation's railroad system in spite of their small numbers by picketing which some 600,000 other rail workers observed, argued before the House committee that they were justified in halting the nation's rail traffic because its members were grossly underpaid for the work they do.

The signalmen, who install and maintain the complicated signal systems used on railroads, are paid an average of $3.78 an hour now. Their last raise was a 3 per cent hike July 1, 1969.

Also at issue is the question of out-of-town accommodations. The signalmen in many cases now must sleep in camp cars along the railroad tracks. The union stressed today it wanted expenses paid for both accommodations and meals when they are out of town.

The signalmen are asking for a wage increase amounting to 68 per cent over 36 months when compounded, compared with 42 per cent over 42 months, which has become the standard for other rail unions.

Although Nixon asked for action immediately when he submitted his anti-strike proposal Monday, Chairman Harley O. Staggers, D-W.Va., of the House Commerce Committee did not call a hearing until this morning. Congressmen traditionally have been reluctant to impose settlements on unions.

CSI hikes spending, cuts taxes

By LEE TREMAINE
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — The College of Southern Idaho trustees approved a budget about 25 per cent larger than last year's, but hope to be able to cut local property taxes by up to one mill.

The board's action taken Monday night was possible because of a large increase of state funds to make up the gap between increased spending and lowered taxes.

The $2.21 million budget is $42,176 or about 25 per cent higher than the 1970-71 budget of $1.77 million, but the maintenance and operation portion is substantially lower — $280,000 for the new budget as against $436,600 for the previous budget.

CSI President Dr. James L. Taylor said the reduced tax load is brought about by an increase in state funding, both for the academic and vocational divisions of the CSI operation. Academic state funds are up to $498,300 from the previous $360,000 and vocational allocations are also higher, estimated at about $435,000, showing a sizable increase from the previous figure of $332,000.

In addition, the assessed valuation of the CSI junior-college district is continuing to rise; estimated currently at about $75 million. When the college was first proposed, the valuation stood at $58 million, Dr. Taylor said.

The actual levy will be computed by the county assessor's office, but preliminary estimates indicate that a full mill may be trimmed from the current 5.5-mill levy.

Ketchum eyes new complex

By WARREN GOSSETT
Times-News Writer

KETCHUM — The Ketchum City Council heard a surprise request Monday night from a San Francisco firm that hopes to build a 72-unit apartment complex in the city.

The developers would not disclose the estimated cost of the development, but said that the complex would include six central units which would each house 12 apartments. The apartments, both studio and one-bedroom models, would be rented for about $145 a month.

Arnold Kom, representing Kom Development Co., San Francisco, told councilmen that the complex would utilize a cul-de-sac present now in the subdivision as part of the driveway area for the apartments. Ketchum Mayor Kenneth Ritchie said "This raises a legal question, since the cul-de-sac is used by most residents in the area and would make the street a dead end."

Ritchie advised Kom to consult an attorney to determine what must be done to vacate the area in question, and to check with residents of the area.

The mayor said the next step would be for Kom to present his plans to the Ketchum Planning and Zoning Commission before the council could act.

Upon request of Cliff Noxon, the council will inspect an area owned by Noxon near Cottonwood Street, in which the branch street is plotted on city maps. Noxon is asking that the street by located in a different area so he could receive more beneficial use of his land.

Councilmen will tour the area Wednesday morning.

Hepworth named to CSI board

TWIN FALLS — Buhl attorney John Hepworth, a member of the committee which first explored the concept of founding a junior college in the Magic Valley, was appointed to the board of trustees Monday night to fill out the unexpired term of James Shields.

Mr. Shields, also of Buhl, who had served on the board of trustees since its inception, died April 27 while on a trip to Ireland. He was named to the first CSI board in 1964 by Idaho Gov. Robert E. Smylie.

Hepworth will serve until the next trustee election in December, 1972, representing the Buhl area, when he must run for re-election to hold his seat.

CSI trustees made the appointment during their monthly meeting Monday night, on advice of attorney Robert O. Staggers, D-W.Va., of the House Commerce Committee did not call a hearing until this morning. Congressmen traditionally have been reluctant to impose settlements on unions.

Hepworth said today he was "completely surprised" but greatly pleased at the appointment. He had not sought the post, first hearing of the appointment when Rev. John N. Garrabrandt, chairman of the board of trustees, called him late Monday night to ask if he would accept.

"I was very pleased and flattered at the appointment," Hepworth said today. "Mr. Shields was a close friend, and I hope I can carry on in the tradition of service he established."

Ritchie advised Kom to consult an attorney to determine what must be done to vacate the area in question, and to check with residents of the area.

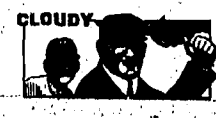

Upon request of Cliff Noxon, the council will inspect an area owned by Noxon near Cottonwood Street, in which the branch street is plotted on city maps. Noxon is asking that the street by located in a different area so he could receive more beneficial use of his land.

Side job probe due

TWIN FALLS — How Twin Falls city employees spend off-duty hours has generally been considered of no concern to city administrators, but Monday night the council agreed to look into business operations of firemen.

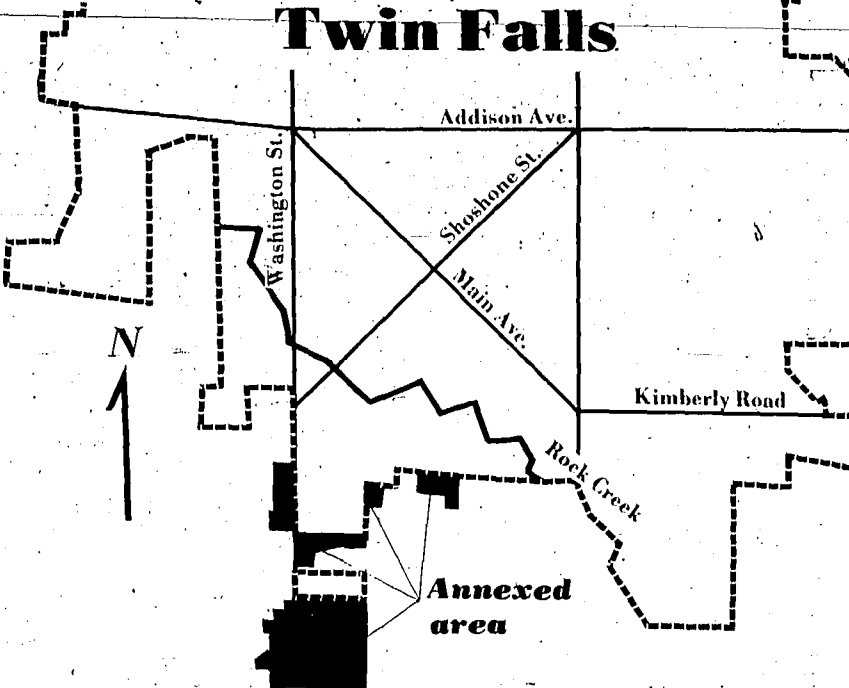

A local resident voiced objection to a new business which he said a group of city firemen have formed and are operating in their spare time in direct competition to his own business. The firemen, he said, operate a sheet-rock business and because they have other jobs and salaries, are able to undercut him.

The protesting resident said he helped pay their city salaries and had to compete with them in business, which he felt was not a fair situation.

City expands

ABOUT 200 new residents joined Twin Falls city through annexation of lands south of the city Monday night. The area, shown above, carries a general assessed valuation of $124,000.

S. Viets activate 'pincer'

SAIGON (UPI) — South Vietnamese troops along the summit of mile-high peaks at both ends of the A Shau Valley started moving down into the valley today in a pincer movement against Communist forces on the valley floor.

As they started down in multi-battalion force they encountered only sporadic contact with the Communists, military sources said.

But heavy fighting was expected in the five-week-old Operation Lam Son 720, which is aimed at breaking Communist control of the 35-mile long valley 370 miles north of Saigon.

U.S. forces six miles east of the valley's northern end, supported by B52 bombardments, began blowing up a vast six-mile square Communist base area so well built it even has running water, field spokesmen said.

U.S. helicopter pilots told UPI correspondent Stewart Kellerman they heard Communist artillery, small arms and mortar fire near the northeast end of the valley late today.

So far in the A Shau campaign, the Army of the Republic of (South) Vietnam (ARVN) has claimed killing nearly 400 Communists at a loss of about 75 dead of its own. But ARVN Brig. Gen. Vau Van Gial, commander of the operation, has predicted that heavy fighting lies ahead.

U.S. B52 Stratoforcesses dropped 90 tons of bombs early today on the Communist bunker complex.

FRANCIS (BUD) HOREJS

Assistant fire chief appointed

TWIN FALLS — Appointment of Francis (Bud) Horejs, shift captain at the Twin Falls Fire Department since 1951 as assistant fire chief was approved Monday night by the Twin Falls City Council.

Fire Chief Bobby Bopp announced the appointment of Horejs effective immediately. Bopp was elevated from assistant chief to fire chief May 1, succeeding L.Z. Bartlett who has retired.

Bopp said another captain will be appointed in the near future. Horejs has been with the department 24 years and was in line for the appointment by reason of seniority and work record, Bopp said.

As assistant chief he will be in charge of the department's training program which is a continuous activity for firemen.

TF annexes south area

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES
Times-News Writer
TWIN FALLS — Ordinances annexing and zoning a new area south of Twin Falls passed with almost no discussion Monday night during the regular city council meeting and with only one dissenting vote on the annexation ordinance.

Councilman John Christoffersen voted against the annexation with the vote unanimous on the zoning ordinance. The area extends along Washington Street, State Highway 74, taking in property on both sides of the highway including the Clinton Earl subdivision parts of the Farmstead subdivision and other unplatted areas.

Estimated population of the annexed area is 200 persons. Annexation proceedings began about the first of the year and residents have protested the city's proposed move on grounds of higher taxes and no genuine need for city services. Several properties on the west side of the highway said they would not be able to connect with the city sewer system because of the high elevation of land on the west side.

Action on the annexation had been postponed pending a review of annexation of the Kellwood property which lies adjacent to some of the new area. City Attorney Bill Langley had informed the city council during the past week all qualifications for annexation had been met by the Kellwood property.

New city boundaries now move generally south to Orchard Drive along both sides of Washington Street South. Zoning adopted for the area follows current general use of the lands as closely as possible. Zones range from commercial to residential low density.

Turks seek envoy

ISTANBUL (UPI) — The Turkish government arrested scores of dissidents, professors and politicians today in a race to find kidnapped Israeli Consul Ephraim Elrom — before his abductors can execute him as threatened.

The leftist extremists who kidnapped Elrom, 59, from his home Monday said they would kill him in two days if the government did not release "all revolutionary guerrillas" now in jail. Instead there were mass arrests.

Army units and security police halted traffic at roadblocks throughout Turkey in a search for what government sources said were more than 300 known leftwings, student extremists, intellectuals, unionists, professors and politicians thought to be connected in some way with the organization that seized Elrom.

Elrom, who helped send Nazi mass murderer Adolf Eichmann to the gallows a decade ago, was captured by men calling themselves the Turkish Liberation Army.

Youth tops Gem teens

TWIN FALLS — John Paul Blaye, a senior at Twin Falls High School will be honored as Idaho's Outstanding Teen-ager today.

Gov. Cecil D. Andrus was to present Blaye with a trophy symbolic of the honor in a ceremony at the governor's office in Boise.

Blaye's selection was announced by Michael Alexander, Chicago, Ill., director of the Outstanding Teen-ager of America program.

Blaye, son of Frances K. Blaye of Twin Falls, was nominated for the honor by John A. Lawrence, principal of Twin Falls High School.

Blaye served as president of the student body at his school. As a member of Teen-Age Republicans, Blaye was a guest of Congressman Orval Hansen at a fund-raising banquet attended by the secretary of the Interior.

Blaye served as congressman at the Magic Valley YMCA Youth Legislature and as reporter at the state youth legislature.

He also has participated in numerous charitable organizations, including the Cancer Society, Red Cross and Easter Seals. For two weeks a year, he has attended Camp

Easter Seal at Lake Coeur d'Alene, where he has helped care for retarded children. He was fund drive chairman for the Cancer Society and was winner of the Red Cross Volunteer Service Award.

Blaye is one of 51 outstanding teen-agers from each state and the District of Columbia selected for national competition. Two national winners will each receive a $1,000 scholarship to the college of their choice.

In announcing Blaye's selection, Alexander said the goal of the Outstanding Teen-agers of America awards program is "to recognize and encourage the ability and achievements of today's young people. They are America's leaders of tomorrow."

HANSEN — Graduating seniors of the Hansen High School were honored Sunday morning with a senior breakfast held in the school lunchroom under direction of the Hansen Home Improvement Club.

Twenty-three of the class of 25 graduates attended the special breakfast. Invocation was given by Carl Crockett and the welcoming address was presented by Mrs. Robert Perkins, president of the Home Improvement Club. Response was by Daniel Vawser, class president.

Richard Youree, school music director, played a trumpet solo accompanied by Holly Johnson, pianist. Breakfast was concluded with remarks from Supt. William C. Barnard.

Decorations included spider chrysanthemums and babies breath in the school colors of blue and silver. Scrolls were placed at each setting.

June 18 set for runway bid opening

TWIN FALLS—Bids for reconstruction of the old runway portions of the Twin Falls City-Country Airport will be opened June 18, Twin Falls City Council members agreed Monday night.

The work will include the complete reconstruction of the runway rather than a center strip as previously planned. City Manager Jean Miller told the council there is adequate federal, state and local money for the project if the taxi ways and parking aprons are extended to the 1972 program.

He said June 18 is the earliest date bids can be opened with sufficient advertising as required by law and the latest at which the bids can be awarded, and work begun if the project is to be completed during the current paving season. He said specifications would take into consideration the minimum closure of the airport for jet service.

Council members also discussed a three-point proposal from the Idaho Department of Highways including speed limits on Blue Lakes Boulevard North and on the one-way Second Avenues East and North; a traffic light at Filer and Blue Lakes; and the suggestion of parking meters in the 400 blocks of Main Avenue South and East.

Parking meter installation was approved and the matter of the new traffic light tabled for further discussion with the state.

Miller was asked to again write the state department of highways urging the city's proposed lower speed limits be retained.

The state has suggested increasing the limits to 35 on the Avenues. On Blue Lakes North, local residents are asking for extension of the 35 mile limit further north while the state maintains a 50 mile speed is more in line with driving practices in the area between Falls Avenue and the Pole Line Road.

In other business the city approved a new dog regulation ordinance after the third reading; heard the second reading of an ordinance prohibiting dumping septic tank wastes in the city sewer system, and adopted a new ordinance on trash collections. Under the new regulation tree branches and brush clippings must be in bundles of not more than three feet in length.

Bids for a water booster pump station to serve a new mobile home court and subdivision south of the city were authorized for opening June 18 and the city approved an outdoor recreational vehicle show June 3, 4 and 5 in the three block main downtown mall area.

Caldwell plant crew walks out

CALDWELL (UPI)—Some 25 employees of the Caldwell J.R. Simplot Company walked off their jobs Sunday in what "constitutes a wildcat strike," according to one official.

Assistant to the Vice President of Operations, Butch Otter, said the workers chose to leave the plant when they were given the option to stay.

The men were believed to be members of Local 291 of the American Federation of Grain Millers. The union and Simplot are negotiating a new contract under a one-month extension which leaves the present contract in effect until June 1.

Johnson said the union was still negotiating with Simplot for the new contract.

Question...

My sister was killed in a tragic automobile accident as the result of the negligence of an uninsured driver. Are we responsible for her funeral bills?

Answer...

Your sister's estate and those in your family who were financially responsible for her care must pay these costs. Your family attorney should be consulted concerning the possibility of recovering these expenditures.

If your sister was either fully or currently insured under Social Security a funeral benefit approximating to $253 may be payable.

Under certain circumstances you may also be entitled to a reimbursement from either or both of two types of insurance coverage that may be owned either by your sister or her family. These are, "Medical Payments Coverage" or "Uninsured Automobile Coverage."

Ragland service cited at appreciation fete

TWIN FALLS—Thousands of young people who grew up and attended school in Twin Falls are better off today because of the efforts of Dr. Ernest Ragland, Paul Ostyn, city councilman and assistant high school principal said Monday night during an appreciation dinner for the retiring school superintendent.

Ostyn, principal speaker following a dinner attended by about 275 teachers, administrators and employees of the Twin Falls School District, said Dr. Ragland has done much for teachers, district employees and residents of the community, but especially for the children of the schools during the 20 years he has headed the district. He paid tribute to the retiring official for his courage and leadership, noting he had not been afraid to take a stand and let his position be known.

"And probably the best thing to be said for Dr. Ragland is that he is a friend," Ostyn said.

Elmer Sommer, chairman of the school board, paid tribute to the retiring superintendent and Mrs. Ragland for their long service to the community and to education in general. Others participating in the program were Norman Wiseman, Vera C. O'Leary Junior High School assistant principal, and Charles Ratcliffe, who served as master of ceremonies. Dr. Ragland expressed appreciation to the many teachers, the dedicated assistance of the board of trustees and other members of the educational profession. He said George Sludaker, who becomes superintendent, deserves the same consideration, friendship and cooperation. Dr. Ragland also paid tribute to others of the system who will be retiring this year.

He was presented a gift of luggage by the Twin Falls school board, and as a highlight of the evening, Wiseman unveiled "the new image of Dr. Ragland." This was a mannequin dressed in fishing attire from waders to hat, complete with a full supply of fishing equipment, including rod, reel and hand tied flies. Dr. Ragland's retirement becomes effective June 30 and marks the end of a 20 year term as head of District 411. Dr. Ragland came to Idaho in 1950 as principal and teacher at the Deep Creek School near Buhl. He later moved to Maroa, north of Filer.

During World War II he served in the U. S. Navy for several months, returning in 1946 as superintendent of schools at Murtaugh.

In 1951 he became superintendent of schools in Twin Falls. Mrs. (Dorothy) Ragland taught in the Twin Falls school system for 10 years as an elementary instructor at Washington School. She retired from the system in 1968.

They plan to continue making their home in Twin Falls, Dr. Ragland said.

Letters pour in

HILL AFB (UPI) — A letter writing campaign sponsored by the Utah Air Force Association has collected nearly 27,000 letters urging better treatment of POW's held captive in North Vietnam.

The letters will be turned over to the American Red Cross and sent to North Vietnam through Red Cross channels.

An Air Force spokesman said the campaign began about two months ago with people at Hill Air Force Base, and then spread to surrounding communities principally through the efforts of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Salt Lake City and Ogden and the Utah fish and Game which collected 5,000 letters from JFK Junior High School in Granger alone.

A suggested letter form circulated by the Air Force Association calls for humane treatment of POW's, a list of all POW's, inspection of camps, information of those known dead, release of the sick and wounded, and free flow of mail.

A group spokesman said the campaign cut egg date is May 31 and letters should be addressed to the American Red Cross.

Payment made

BOISE (UPI) — State Treasurer Joe R. Williams sent to the U.S. Treasurer Monday a $5,506,466 payment representing the first quarter Social Security contributions.

Williams said it was the largest payment he had made representing the state of Idaho, and all of its political subdivision employer and employee contributions.

In the first quarter of 1970, Williams said, the state paid $4,642,844, and in the whole of 1970 paid $17,584,769.

Air hunting fine OK'd

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House has passed and sent to the Senate legislation that would provide a $5,000 fine, a year in prison, or both, for anyone caught hunting from an airplane.

Persons licensed by state or federal governments to protect livestock or crops from predators by hunting from the air would be exempt. The government also would be given authority to revoke or suspend the license of any pilot convicted of airborne hunting.

Gem pair slated for competition

TWIN FALLS — Two apprentice members of the International Union of Pipefitters and Plumbers will go to Purdue University at Lafayette, Ind., in August to compete in a union sponsored national contest.

The two won top honors in Twin Falls this past weekend in a 17 hour special test for apprentice plumbers and pipefitters from southern Idaho.

Winners listed today by Ray Sabala, College of Southern Idaho welding instructor, were David Brunabend, Boise, top fifth year plumber apprentice and member of Local 296, and Douglas Hook, Pocatello, Local 648, top pipefitter apprentice.

The contest, sponsored by the union in cooperation with CSI, included a six hour written test for each of the six contestants in each division, and 11 hours of practical application in which each was required to complete a special exercise in either plumbing work or pipe fitting.

Sabala said purpose of the event is three-fold, with the annual contest encouraging motivation for apprentice tradesmen in their work goals, and encouraging improved quality of craftsmanship. The third function is to select Idaho delegates to the national contest with the two winners receiving expense paid trips to compete on the national level.

Finished work

WINNER IN PLUMBERS and fitters annual two day contest at CSI for the fifth year plumbers apprentice division, is David Brunabend, Boise, Union 296. He will enter national competition.

Russia

While Soviet Russia avows its peaceful intentions at every opportunity, it nevertheless proves by its actions that it seeks nothing less than supremacy in the arms race.

Defense Secretary Laird states that recent intelligence confirms that the Soviet Union is engaged in a new and apparently extensive intercontinental ballistic missile program...

These programs have been going forward for months, during a period when Congress has been reluctant to vote funds for the ABM defense system or expansion of space or military strength.

Secretary Laird expressed hopes for progress in efforts to slow the arms race. However, he told the American Newspaper Publishers meeting in New York, Russia's push might force the U.S. to take "offsetting actions."

Laird added that the U.S. has an advantage in submarine-based missiles but that "the U.S.S.R. is rapidly closing the gap with an energetic construction program that continues."

In space, the Soviet Union is driving ahead with three cosmonauts in orbit, apparently with the intention of rendezvousing with an unmanned satellite, launched April 19.

The potential threat of world domination by Russia cannot be ignored. Unthinking opposition of anti-war and anti-military forces in the U.S. to adequate defense measures jeopardize the security of the U.S. and the free world.

We think Secretary Laird should continue to damn the torpedoes of criticism and aim full speed ahead to maintain our strength relative to Russia.

Only then, we believe, will there be any real hope for strategic arms limitations with adequate insurance that Russia will observe the limitations when and if they are agreed upon.

Who's Talking

Hanoi and Viet Cong spokesmen continue to insist upon a firm date for withdrawal of all American forces from Indochina and, to praise anti-war demonstrators in America.

A deadline for a complete withdrawal is the top political objective of the North Vietnamese Communists and it is the top political objective of a group of Americans, such as Senator McGovern, and other Senate doves.

We think there is substantial reason to doubt the wisdom of any course of action so insistently demanded by a shooting enemy, no matter how piously or stridently some Americans present the same demand.

President Nixon has kept his promises. The American involvement in Vietnam is being decreased at a rate ahead of the promised schedule. Strength of the South Vietnamese forces is growing and we believe the President's plan gives the best assurance of withdrawal with honor and the hope of a durable peace.

The Communist have never made a serious effort in Paris to negotiate an end to the war. They have made no promises regarding the release of American prisoners of war or even of their treatment in accord with the Geneva convention.

Every American wants the war to end and every American prisoner returned alive and well.

Hanoi really wants peace, let Hanoi pledge the prisoners' release as soon as a firm date for American withdrawal is announced. There would then be time to see if the North Vietnamese kept their promise before the deadline.

The release of the American POW's is a top priority for President Nixon, who deserves the support of every American, not criticism which follows the Communist line and wins praise from the enemy.

Those Dirty Words

Even in today's permissive society, college students still have difficulty looking others in the eye when they say dirty words.

At least they do at the University of Akron, Ohio. Or at least they did when senior Ted Speroff tested them.

The psychology major picked 10 male undergraduates at random on the campus and led them one at a time into a small room which minimized distractions.

To put them at ease he asked each student to recite the alphabet and answer several other emotionally neutral questions. A hidden stopwatch marked off the number of seconds that the subject maintained eye contact with the interviewer and a tape recorder kept track of the amount of time they took to answer each question.

Then he asked them to recite five dirty words—any five. Maybe it is an indication that the grade schools are doing a good job in basic education, but it took the students far longer to come up with the dirty words than to recite the alphabet. "Their first reaction was to look away when I asked them to give me the five dirty words," Speroff said. "They became nervous and ill at ease and several stuttered."

Well, it's only been a few years since we became "liberated" or "honest" enough to use dirty words in print or in speech in place of good writing or rational argument. We aren't yet all that comfortable with obscenity.

We just need a little more practice.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A Vietnamese friend, once a guerrilla, has been visiting Washington and has some interesting observations on our own guerrillas, the way-out activists.

Much has been written of the Mayday Tribe's failure in Washington. They did not shut down the city or the government. They did not trigger police extremism. They did create distrust in some quarters which had been favorable.

But in building an underground movement, failure of an operation often actually works to advantage. Young people who have gone through the fire together find new strength and greater commitment to the cause. It is a deliberate recruitment technique with the Viet Cong to assign youths initially to minor illegal actions, giving them the sense of being outside the law, inviting and even arranging police harassment. The result is an emotionally committed recruit.

Around 11,000 people were jailed for one reason or another in the May Day affair in Washington. Some were committed to the cause beforehand. But many weren't. The real question is, how many of those among the 11,000 who were uncommitted before May Day week, have now switched. The switching there certainly has been a major objective of the demonstration leaders. (All this is not to criticize the Washington police force on a job that had to be done.)

From a guerrilla standpoint it was a terrifying tactic. The fact that it failed this time gives little comfort to anyone who knows anything about underground operations. It would, in fact, be quite practical for a few well-trained operators managing a few hundred disciplined guerrillas to tie up traffic that Washington or any other major city would find it most difficult to operate.

This would be a much more effective tactic than bombings by small groups in the night.

Also two prominent radical leaders presumably will be brought to trial as a result of the operation. We must expect that trial will be used (according to standard underground operating procedure) as a dramatic showpiece for propaganda and designed (by the defense) to get the maximum amount of publicity.

The Vietnamese visitor is convinced the main objective is to create a backlash and such a strong demand for law and order that some major cities will take on the semblance of "police states," which would then breed new opposition to the establishment.

In arguing to the contrary, the evidence thus far seems to be that in most major cities and most of the time the police have reacted with flexibility, if not at the beginning, then as time has passed and the police gained experience in mass confrontation.

My friend thinks I am wrong. He, too, is not criticizing the police. But he does think the confrontations will snowball and that public opinion and the legitimate requirements of law and order (the necessity of keeping government, business and schools operating) will gradually force stronger methods of control, which, inevitably, he believes, will result in even greater confrontations as more youngsters are radicalized.

The Vietnamese may be wrong. But he is no fool. He has watched an underground develop almost from its beginnings in his own country and was for a time part of that underground in the war against the French. So his thoughts must be accorded some respect.

Mayday Tribes

WASHINGTON — It is simply no contest in the battle between Atty. Gen. John Mitchell and the Dauphin of the Kennedy royal family over the job done by Washington police in keeping Hell City open and operating during the Mayday tribes' attempt to sack this curious capital.

Mitchell has the facts and figures: People DID get to work despite the howling mobs, and although 12,000 freaks were arrested, not a shot was fired by police or troops. Teddy Kennedy can only offer the questionable moral opinion that the cops should have waited until the brats occupied the White House before doing their law enforcement duty.

"Most of the arrested demonstrators were your children, your nieces and nephews of your friends' children and nieces and nephews," Kennedy told an Iowa College audience. Well, that is roughly true, but surely this is the first time a politician of any standing has taken the position that lawbreaking is okay so long as it is practiced by brats with presumably respectable mothers, fathers, aunts and uncles. These days, the practice is more honored in the breach, but a few parents still cling to the belief that naughty boys and girls should be punished.

Kennedy also noted that "we on Capitol Hill knew" about the situation because the children's parents kept calling members of Congress to find out "where and how" the kids were. He did not suggest that it was a little late in the day for parents to wonder such "where and hows." They let them come to Washington, didn't they? Could they possibly have believed their offspring had been invited to a tea dance?

Kennedy, of course, is running for President as a non-candidate. That is to say, he is keeping himself available in case somebody wants to draft him at the eleventh-hour. So he is merely following the hoary tradition of taking positions, however preposterous, that manufacture headlines. Likewise, Mitchell is constrained to defend his administration's handling of the disorders. But his job is a lot easier because in fact the tactics employed by Washington police were the only tactics possible under conditions created by the mobs' avowed purpose to bring the government to an untidy halt. Had the cops stopped to listen to the long-winded explanation of every young hoodlum that he was merely taking his daily constitutional, we'd still be trying to untangle the mess.

Mitchell also has a point in comparing the Mayday tribesmen to Germany's Brown Shirts of the 1920s and early '30s. Whether on campus or in the streets, today's American leftists follow faithfully in the footsteps of Hitler's rightist-bully boys in shouting down those who disagree with them and denying to others the civil rights they pretend to revere. Like today's tribesmen, the Brown Shirts attempted to seize power by preventing the government from functioning, and in their case succeeded.

As for Teddy Kennedy, it is hard to believe that voters will accept him as an authority on law and order after the filibustering and manipulations with which he met his own crisis at Chappaquiddick. Indeed, some of the kids who got in trouble during the demonstrations may have been so impressed with Teddy's handling of his case that they decided a body-could-get-away with anything.

ROWLAND EVANS

In Politics

WASHINGTON — The fact that Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, after six months of playing political country boy from Down East, is finally getting into big-time politics was underlined by the recent unpublicized visit to California of his chief missionary: John P. (Jack) English.

English, the skilled Democratic national committee man from New York who had signed on fulltime for Muskie, brought home no Western scraps. Indeed, his experience there reiterated how treacherous it is for an outsider to deal with the factional vendettas of California's madcap Democratic party. But English's mission did measurably improve Muskie's position with politicians, very low until then, in the nation's most important primary election state.

That was another measure of the incalculable change Jack English has made since coming on board April 13. Until then, the Muskie-campaign seemed more interested in Vietnam and the environment than wooing key party leaders. Muskie is no party politician and neither are his chief aides. The cool New England shoulder given state party leaders was hurting Muskie badly.

Remarkably enough, Muskie's high rating in the polls weathered those six months of non-stop blundering. Now, with English providing professional guidance, Muskie may be on the upswing.

Muskie's changed operation in California was directed toward 34-year-old Assembly Speaker Bob Moretti. Fiercely ambitious and the coming force in California Democratic politics, his endorsement will be most valuable in the 1972 primary. Until recently, he has been cool toward Muskie, partly because he felt Muskie's California campaign had been preempted by Congressman Thomas Rees and National Committeeman Stephen Reinhardt (a Yale Law School classmate of Berl Bernhard, Muskie's campaign chief-of-staff).

Moretti brought this out when English came to California two weeks ago. The Speaker made clear he would take absolutely no part in a Muskie campaign if either Tom Rees or Steve Reinhardt were in charge. English replied just as clearly that if Bob Moretti endorsed Muskie, Bob Moretti would run the California campaign. That brought no instant endorsement but did produce a warmer climate.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Firecracker

Dear Dr. Thosteson: A few months ago on the bus someone threw a firecracker that exploded near my ear. Since then there has been a continual humming in my ear, and when someone speaks, the words seem to echo back.

Whenever I take a deep breath or swallow, the ear pops, and in cold weather I had a continual earache. There is also some loss of hearing.

Will time take care of this, or is it possible that the ear has been damaged? I am 48, had no ear trouble before. — E.J.

Unfortunately, this is the sort of problem that I cannot try to answer. Such a loud, close noise can damage the mechanism of the ear. This may be temporary, but it can also be permanent.

The only thing I can suggest is that you have an ear specialist evaluate your condition. If you haven't done that already, do so at once. You must not postpone treatment — if that is necessary — too long, and "a few months" has been a long time already.

A respectable newspaper like this one is no place for me to use the kind of language that is suitable for idiots who explode firecrackers on a bus. It's no laughing matter to the victims of such a stupid prank.

Dear Sir: I am 84 and have had a hiatal hernia for quite some time. Is there any support for the abdominal region that would help a hernia of this type? I have heard of abdominal binders, etc. — R.G.B.

A hiatal hernia is quite different from the hernias in the groin or abdominal wall. It is at the top of the stomach, and is internal, so a binder or support of that type would not help. If you are fat, weight reduction is very important. To understand what a hiatal hernia is and where take the time to read my booklet, "Hiatal Hernia and Eight Ways to Combat It." Send 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. You'll find it enlightening and also helpful in preventing discomfort.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: For 40 years or more an old violet-ray, high-frequency generator has been lying around the house and very seldom used.

Now I have a very severe skin rash on both hands, and would like to know whether it is a safe machine to use on the body. Do high-frequency violet rays affect the body in any way? — R.L.R.

I certainly would not trust or use a 40-year-old gadget of that type.

First of all, the rash on your hands may well be a contact dermatitis, resulting from contact with oils, soaps, detergent, metals, or quite a variety of things, and the proper treatment in such a case would be to avoid contact with the offending material.

It would be the sheerest guesswork whether ultra-violet would benefit your hands in any way.

Leave the machine alone, and go to your doctor or to a dermatologist for a diagnosis of your trouble.

Ultra-violet, improperly used, can cause burns.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I saw a letter from Mrs. M.J. whose mother had a stroke and cannot speak. For Christmas I received a small pocket edition that will prove of great help to her. It is "Out of Silence," by Mary Sorrell. The publisher is Hodder and Stoughton. — Mrs. E.H.

I hadn't heard of it. Thank you.

Diverticulosis is a bulge in the digestive tract. To become more familiar with the subject, write for Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Don't Let Diverticulosis Throw You," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Yo-yos earned Duncan fortune

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—As small boys, millions of Americans were happy to save their nickels and dimes for a Yo-Yo. As adults, they weren't so happy about feeding them to parking meters.

But the flow of money from both — the river of small change, casually spent, that built so many 20th century fortunes — made a multimillionaire of Donald Duncan Sr.

Duncan, the man who saw a fascinating toy in an obscure Asian jungle-fighting weapon, and a fortune in the car by the curbside, will be buried Tuesday in Palm Springs, Calif. He died Saturday at UCLA Medical Center of a stroke at 71. He had been in a coma for two and one-half weeks.

Duncan never claimed to have invented either the Yo-Yo or the parking meter, but he grew rich marketing them, and coined the name "Yo-Yo" for the toy.

Duncan first saw a Yo-Yo "in 1927 or '28," according to his son, Jack, of Newport Beach, Calif. —

"He was in San Francisco or someplace like that and he saw a Filipino playing with a toy, which was the Yo-Yo. He liked it so well that he bought it from the Filipino and commercialized it."

As far back as the 16th century, Filipino jungle fighters used 4-pound Yo-Yos on 20-foot cords, said the younger Duncan, and his father had heard that drawings in ancient Egyptian temples pictured objects that looked suspiciously like primitive Yo-Yos.

Duncan, who never finished the eighth grade and began work at 13 — but had a sharp mind for a commercial venture — recruited Filipinos, trained them to do tricks with the Yo-Yos, and dispatched them across the United States, holding demonstrations and refereeing contests.

Benefit increase approved

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House Ways and Means Committee voted today to raise Social Security benefits by 5 per cent next year.

The tax writing committee, reversing a stand taken last week, included the $2.1 billion in increased benefits as it approved a complete revision of the nation's welfare program.

On a 13-12 vote, the committee approved the across-the-board, 5 per cent increase in benefits for retirees, disabled and widows effective June 1, 1972. If Congress approves the boost, beneficiaries will start receiving higher checks in July, 1972.

It would mean that for every $100 in monthly benefits a recipient now receives, he would receive an additional $5.

The Ways and Means Committee approved basic provisions of the Social Security welfare bill last Wednesday but refused, on a 13-12 vote, to include the 5 per cent increase in Social Security benefits.

Rep. Joe Waggoner, D-La., who voted against the increase last week switched today.

The overall welfare bill, calling for complete revision of the nation's welfare system, was approved on a 22-3 vote. It is expected to go to the House floor in a few weeks.

TV self coverage lacking

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Any one who writes about television knows that the viewing audience is a lot more sophisticated about show business than it used to be.

One of the reasons for this increasing knowledge of viewers is television itself—as a result, for example, of the intimate, behind-the-scenes chatter of talk shows. Surely no one takes seriously anymore the wide-eyed gee-whiz reporting about celebrities.

It is a considerable irony, therefore, that with television casually causing more viewer knowledge of show business, it nevertheless does a less than impressive job of covering one huge and fascinating part of that business—Itself.

And when one also considers that television is an enormously influential medium of communications—as it never fails to tell us with predictable regularity—this lack of all-out detail about itself, and how it affects the public, must be counted as a failure of reporting.

For example, it strikes me that a major prime time special about the government cutback of network shows—why it happened, how it has affected Hollywood and the rest of the industry, and different opinions about the decision—would certainly be in order.

And why was there no prime time, major special — surely an hour could have been spared—about the elimination of cigarette commercials this past Jan. 2 as a result of another government decision? Since both television and cigarettes are intensely personal matters to so many persons, this seems a likely topic of not only news but human interest as well.

Mexican ties growing

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

For many years a source of pride for the United States in its hemispheric relations has been its unmarked, trouble-free 3,000-mile border with Canada.

Less noted but equally important is the steady growth of similarly equal and friendly ties along the 2,000-mile U.S.-Mexican border to the south.

Lending added importance is the increasingly influential role being played by Mexico in both hemispheric and world affairs.

The picture of a Mexico dozing in the sun with its sombrero pulled down over its eyes no longer is valid nor has

It been for the better part of 3 1/2 decades.

A large part of Mexico's success may be traced to the fact that of all Latin American nations, Mexico has been the most politically stable, beginning with the Lazaro Cardenas regime in the mid-1930s.

Rounding out the formula for success is Mexico's steady 6 per cent annual rate of economic growth and a great ability to mind its own business.

In international affairs Mexico's most prominent role has been in the field of disarmament.

It was a letter from Mexico's then President Adolfo Lopez Mateo to the presidents of Bolivia, Brazil, Chile and Ecuador that led to the pact establishing Latin America as a nuclear-free weapons zone.

The pact, the treaty of Tlatelolco, has been signed by 22 countries and ratified by 17.

A protocol expressing agreement with the pact has been signed by the United States and last month was ratified.

At the 25-nation Disarmament Conference in Geneva, it was Mexico that took the lead in demanding that other nations ignore stands taken by the United States and the Soviet Union and work out their own proposals for a total ban on nuclear testing and a ban on chemical and germ warfare.

Pollution driven deeper by winds

NEW YORK (UPI)—Water turbulence caused by wind in the ocean may drive surface pollution as deep as 900 feet and at a much more rapid rate than previously thought, according to two Columbia University scientists.

Dr. Arnold L. Gordon and Robert Gerard of Columbia's Lamont-Doherty Geological observatory announced their findings Monday of studies near Bermuda. The studies showed convoluting cells of water as large as 900 feet deep which drive pollution downward.

The phenomenon, known as Langmuir cells, previously was thought to extend no deeper than 20 feet.

According to the scientists, water is started circulating by winds of six to 12 miles an hour. The cells line up parallel with the direction of the wind, and come in pairs circulating in opposite directions.

Pollution is collected where the circulating cells converge and driven downward at a rate up to 10 times faster than previously thought. Such lines of pollution are observable from the air in the form of strings of seaweed, and fishermen long have found the best fishing along such lines, apparently because food is most plentiful along the lines or slicks.

The lines of convergence are known as slicks because surface water generally is calm where the rotating cells come together.

Tokyo gets smog alert

TOKYO (UPI)—The 11.6 million residents of the world's biggest city were urged to stay indoors and to abandon their cars Monday when the municipal government issued its first smog warning of the year.

AN ENGINEERING FEAT was accomplished last week when the large structure in the background, one of a "fleet" of five huge constructions, was moved across the bridge across the Big Wood River near Ketchum. When assembled, the structures will become a new restaurant.

'Engineering miracle' moves large building

KETCHUM — A "minor engineering miracle," according to witnesses, was accomplished recently with the transfer of a large building across a narrow, 10-foot-wide bridge to a new location south of Ketchum.

The bridge spanning the Big Wood River is barely wide enough for two cars at best, but moving a structure twice the width of the bridge took some planning, according to Clyde Hawk of Ketchum. Railings on each side of the bridge also had to be literally surmounted.

Hawk cut the building into five sections, then put each section on top of a truck in such a way that it barely cleared the railings on the bridge, but covered the entire bridge and a good way on both sides—above the railings.

The move was accomplished successfully, and the building, which used to house a casino behind the Four Seasons Condominium in the Warm Springs area, will be renovated into a family-style restaurant, bar, ice-cream parlor and multi-purpose business firm. He also plans to operate a delicatessen, gourmet shop and party supply center. A new first floor will be constructed, with the older building comprising the second floor.

More than 5,000 square feet of store space will be available for rental when the project is completed, Hawk said.

The new business, to be known as Hawk's Barn, will maintain a western mining-town atmosphere with boardwalks, gas lights, spittoons, hitching rails, costumed employees, a reconditioned player piano and other antiques.

Hawk plans a grand opening late this fall, hopefully in October or November.

principal, presented Johnson with his diploma at the hospital.

Prison term levied on 3 charges

About three months ago Johnson was involved in a motor cycle accident and suffered a crushed leg. The leg was amputated at the knee.

Johnson's first day back at school was Friday when he practiced graduation ceremonies with his classmates. He has been studying his school work at his grandparents' home the past several weeks.

TWIN FALLS — Douglas Richard Hoops, 20, was in custody Monday in Twin Falls, awaiting transportation to Boise to begin a 10-year sentence in the state penitentiary on three separate charges.

Hoops was sentenced to consecutive terms totaling 10 years by District Judge Theron W. Ward on two counts of arson and one of illegal possession of marijuana. Judge Ward said Hoops has also been charged with six misdemeanors.

The judge granted a 120-day delay in execution of the sentence to allow for psychiatric evaluation of Hoops.

On Saturday, Johnson fell in the bathroom of his grandparents' home — his parents have moved to Meridian — and broke the same leg above the knee.

Permanent residents slowly returning to London's inner city

LONDON—Life—in the form of permanent residents—slowly is returning to the city of London, the world financial center which teems with workers by day but virtually is deserted outside office hours.

Into the square mile of "the city" (as distinct from the vast sprawl of Greater London) almost 400,000 people crowd each morning. They complete their day's work and leave in the evening.

Only 5,000 people actually live in the city. This long has been a matter of concern, for two reasons.

One is that the city is architecturally based on a system of small, winding streets that compensate for being a hazard to traffic by being—ideal, in size and proportion, for a constant flow of people.

The city is built to a human scale, so it needs the presence of humans.

The second reason for wanting the city repopulated concerns more practical economies and not so much the cost, time and trouble that is met by the commuters. Any city needs a certain proportion of people who are close to hand and able to do that kind of work which really is essential to the day-to-day flow of affairs, the cleaning, the supplying of food and drink and services that people who need to travel a distance will not or cannot supply.

The city of London now has set in motion a plan to restore the area to one where people can walk in peace, without competing with cars.

The plan is to link part of the city with an endless pattern of walkways. The city authorities are expected to insist that developers provide support for a pedestrian walkway—above or below or on a level with the ground—and to give a public right of way. In return for this they allow the developers to build over that part of the ground that normally would be a pavement.

Then, to encourage the return of people to use the city out of office hours, the Corporation of London built, in 1962, a housing estate in the city, for 1,400 people of the lower middle income groups.

But the biggest development is the Barbican which, at an overall cost of over $120 million is meant eventually to provide accommodation for 6,500 people. It also will house a big arts center, which itself will cost $40 million, and the usual shops and services. Two-thirds of the area is open space, with eight acres of landscaped gardens and three acres of lake. The flats in the Barbican are being leased at economic prices, which means they are too expensive for the lower income groups.

The city is proud of the scheme, which covers a closely

Drug use ends middies' terms

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (UPI)—Eight midshipmen have been expelled from the Naval Academy for drug use to climax a 10-day crackdown by naval authorities who removed some dormitory components in their search for narcotics.

Three middies were expelled Sunday, bringing to eight the number who have unceremoniously been drummed out of the academy for using marijuana, LSD and various types of amphetamines.

LI. Com. James B. Finklestein, academy information officer, said searchers had removed a false ceiling and a window ledge in some rooms in Bancroft Hall, the main midshipmen's residence.

But he denied reports that investigators had ripped out walls and ceilings in Bancroft

Hall in a search for drugs. He termed the reports "absurd."

The drug investigation began May 6 after two midshipmen had been caught smoking marijuana in the basement of Bancroft Hall, Finklestein said.

The academy announced Friday that five midshipmen had been expelled with the other three being expelled Sunday.

Finklestein said a substance believed to be LSD, some amphetamines and marijuana had been uncovered during the search. He said one midshipman had confessed to taking LSD and another said he had used amphetamines. Others admitted smoking marijuana, he said.

Of the eight midshipmen expelled three were first classmen, who would have graduated June 9, two were second classmen and three were third classmen.

The academy would not release the names of the midshipmen who were expelled. A spokesman also said the eight would not be turned over to civilian authorities for prosecution.

Five of the eight midshipmen expelled have already left the academy and the other three were being processed, Finklestein said.

The academy announced it has recommended those upperclassmen expelled not be taken into the military enlisted ranks. Normally, an upperclassman dismissed from the academy is immediately subject to the draft.

Create policy, land board told

BOISE (UPI) — Secretary of State Pete T. Cenarrusa told fellow members of the State Land Board Monday they should stick to policy making and stop trying to administer and manage Idaho's public lands.

Cenarrusa said "historically" the State Land Board had become involved in the management of the lands rather than in setting broad policy for its employees to use in doing so.

"Let the professionals handle this," Cenarrusa said, adding the strictly political nature of the Land Department in past years was changed with its reorganization in 1967.

He also spoke out against legislative attempts to make the board appointive instead of elective and added if the board sticks to policy and appeals an appointive board of experts is unnecessary.

It was an appeal from an administrative decision that prompted the special board meeting Monday. Both Gov. Cecil D. Andrus and Public Instruction Superintendent D. F. Engelking were absent and Cenarrusa sat in as chairman in Andrus' place.

After reviewing the case of the appellant, Phillip G. Criswell, the board decided to conduct a hearing on his case when he returns to Boise next week.

Criswell, an employee of the public accounts division of the legislative auditor's office, outbid two other persons at a public auction to buy some 21 acres of state land just west of the Mayfield interchange along Interstate 80N between Boise and Mountain Home.

However, his access is closed off on one side by the closed freeway and on the other side by land owned by the original applicant and unsuccessful bidder.

for the tract, Dan W. McComb, Ogden, Utah.

When it was brought out that McComb had the land state clerk make this situation known to bidders prior to start of the auction board members said they felt that Criswell is stuck with the land and no access. They indicated they did not believe the state should buy access for him.

To be fair they agreed to give him a hearing but Auditor Joe R. Williams he felt Criswell "has bought himself some land."

Meanwhile, the board directed Land Commissioner Gordon C. Trombley to do the best he can in trying to enforce the new Surface Mining Act until the legislature provides funds for this.

Trombley said that while the law takes effect May 31 the legislature did not set aside any money for its administration. He said he will try to work with engineers and other professional personnel in other agencies to develop guidelines for dealing with state and local agencies and with private individuals under the act.

Board members told him to use his discretion and said they will tell the legislature about the problem and ask for financial help to resolve it.

Trombley triggered Cenarrusa's discussion of the board's proper role in Land Department policy and administration by asking the board to define Land Department lines of authority under the law.

While he did not say so in so many words, Trombley indicated that board members were going directly to his subordinates in the department and telling them what to do. He asked if the board wanted him to delegate full authority to his two principal assistants to run the department and act primarily as board secretary himself.

Attorney General W. Anthony Park moved that Trombley be directed to write a memorandum to the board outlining his problem in detail and present it at the next full board meeting.

In recommending the board make policy and let the professionals carry it out Cenarrusa noted that since the department was reorganized it has acquired a staff which includes 55 persons with college degrees ranging from bachelor to doctorate degrees.

Aged Asian dies at 154

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet news agency Tass said, Shirlin Gasanov, described as "one of the oldest men on earth," died Monday at his home in the Soviet central Asian village of Chereken. He was 154 years old, Tass said.

Gem solons given bids to meeting

BOISE (UPI) — Three of Idaho's legislative leaders have been invited to the White House on May 18 to confer with President Nixon and members of his cabinet.

The Idahoans, along with other state key legislators, will discuss Nixon administration programs that have a direct impact upon the states.

Those attending from Idaho include Sen. Wayne Kidwell, R-Boise, Senate majority leader; Sen. James Ellsworth, R-Lea-der, president pro tem; and Rep. William Murphy, D-Walla-see, House minority leader.

Kidwell said state legislators seldom had the opportunity to meet directly with the President and his cabinet on matters affecting the states. He said by his action President Nixon was reaffirming the role of the states in coping with America's domestic problems.

The White House meeting is being arranged in conjunction with President Nixon.

Deduction plan splits field

NEW YORK (UPI)—Should life insurance and mutual fund plans be sold to the "little fellow" on a payroll deduction plan?

The insurance industry seems to be divided on the question. One advocate of selling through payroll deductions is John W. Berglas of Planned Equity Corp., Los Angeles. Planned Equity has sold its combination life insurance and mutual fund payroll deduction plan to some 5,000 corporations in a number of states. Policies are issued by seven different insurance companies.

An individual Planned Equity investment plan is portable or convertible if the worker changes jobs. Typically it will include a life policy on both husband and wife, a small burial policy on each child, supplemental income protection in disabilities lasting more than six months, a retirement annuity option and a regular investment in mutual fund shares all paid for by a weekly payroll deduction.

Berglas has contended in speeches before various insurance trade associations that the industry no longer can afford to sell the small income family adequate protection on an individual basis.

He says the agent who goes around ringing doorbells or calling on the phone to sell policies to small income families simply can't make a living at it anymore.

So, Berglas argues, the insurance industry and mutual fund business must continue to develop a mass marketing technique based on payroll deduction selling.

The counter argument of many insurance brokers is expressed by Arthur Milton, a New York broker.

Market Review

Idaho Valley Weather Report

National Temperatures

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market, after extending Monday's sharp setback into the first two hours of trading Tuesday, turned higher near 1:15 p.m.

A Senate committee approved legislation to halt the nationwide rail strike and order striking signalmen back to work until at least Oct. 1. The full Senate plans to consider the strike-ending resolution later in the afternoon.

Labor Secretary James D. Hodgson said if the strike continued it would exert a growing "drastic impact on our economy and citizens."

The Dow Jones Industrial average, down more than 7 points at 11 a.m., was ahead 0.71 at 922.01, as trading rounded the halfway point.

Advances outnumbered declines, 634 to 616, although the margin had been more than 2-to-1 in favor of declines early in the session. Standard & Poor's 500-stock index was up 0.35 at 101.04.

Among the day's most active issues were Telecorp, up 1/4 on 198,100 shares, Ling-Temco 1 1/4 on 193,200 shares, Shell Oil down 1/4 on 141,000 shares, Braniff Airways up 1/4 on 184,400 shares, and Dentsply International 3/4 higher on 124,400 shares.

Less active IBM was ahead 4, Bausch & Lomb 4 1/2, Schlumberger 2 1/4, Walt Disney 3/4, Control Data 2 1/4 and Memorex 1/2.

Up a point or so were Phillips Petroleum, Louisville & Nashville Railroad, KLM Royal Dutch Airlines, General Electric and Polaroid.

Coming Glass and United Aircraft were down about a point each.

RAIN is forecast for the upper Mississippi Valley and the western Great Lakes area. Showers will extend from the Rockies through the central plains into the mid-Mississippi Valley. A few showers will occur along the northwest Pacific Coast. It will be cooler in much of the country. (UPI)

Spring showers... Twin Falls, Northside, Burley-Rupert area; Increasing cloudiness and warmer tonight through Wednesday. Highs Wednesday 60 to 65. Overnight lows in low 30s.

Probability of measurable precipitation, 10 per cent tonight and 20 per cent Wednesday. Camas Prairie, Halley and lower Wood River Valley; Increasing cloudiness and warmer tonight through Wednesday. Highs Wednesday upper 50s. Overnight lows upper 20s. Synopsis: A northerly flow of air is bringing some cloudiness and shower activity to mountains of eastern Idaho this morning while the remainder of the state and eastern fringe of Oregon was under clear skies and light winds.

However, the clear skies allowed this morning temperatures to dip to near and below the freezing mark in most of the Treasure Valley. Today's skies remained fair in much of southern Idaho although partly cloudy skies and showers in the mountains still prevailed in the eastern portion of Idaho. Afternoon temperatures showed some warming today with highs in the 40s in higher elevations to the upper 60s in the eastern fringe of Oregon.

On Wednesday cloudiness will increase but temperature will again be slightly warmer with most readings in the 50s and 60s and even near 70 in the western portions of the Treasure Valley.

Overnight low temperatures will also show some warming in critical growing areas with temperatures generally above the freezing mark. Eastern Idaho will drop to 25 to 35 degrees.

The outlook for Thursday is for partly cloudy skies and light change in temperature.

NEW YORK (UPI)—If investment problems knock stock prices downward "investors may be offered an unusually attractive buying opportunity," Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis believes. The company says domestic economic developments are "constructive" and adds the only unknown is the "rate" of economic recovery.

"Therefore, any significant decline in equity prices... should provide a buying opportunity for investors—or a selective basis," the firm observes.

"The most dangerous course for investors at this point in the market cycle is not to own stocks and to be waiting for a significant dip before making purchases," according to Eastman Dillon, Union Securities & Co. The company believes the 1000 level on the Dow Jones Industrial average "will be penetrated over the next few months."

I.Q. of 145 and Can't Read Fast? A noted publisher in Chicago reports there is a simple technique of rapid reading which should enable you to increase your reading speed and yet retain much more. Most people do not realize how much they could increase their pleasure, success, and income by reading faster and more accurately.

According to this publisher, many people, regardless of their present reading skill, can use this simple technique to improve their reading ability to a remarkable degree. Whether reading stories, books, technical matter, it becomes possible to read sentences at a glance and entire pages in seconds with this method.

To acquaint the readers of this newspaper with the easy-to-follow rules for developing rapid reading skill, the company has printed full details of its interesting self-training method in a new booklet, "How to Read Faster and Retain More," mailed free to anyone who requests it. Quotations from Louis N. Ritten Co., Twin Falls

Advertisement for Reliance Credit Corporation. Text: 'Hovering over the brink of affluent poverty? We've got a "great escape" plan for you. What happens when you're caught between your life style and the "middle-income squeeze"... you become credit rich and cash poor. That's affluent poverty. Financial elbow room is needed and that's right up our alley. We call it Financial Planning Service, and you know, it works because each plan is specially mapped for the individual. The cost? For the planning... nothing! For its implementation? Probably less than you think. One telephone call to us and your "great escape" begins.'

High court upholds hit-run laws, refuses to hear Hoffa appeal

WASHINGTON (UPI)—By a narrow, 5-4 vote, the Supreme Court refused Monday to strike down "state hit-and-run laws" that require a driver in an accident to stop and give his name and address.

The vote overturned a California Supreme Court ruling against a state law that is typical of those across the country. The state court held that the requirement violated the constitutional safeguard against self-incrimination if the information was used for criminal prosecution. In other actions, the court refused again to hear an appeal by imprisoned Teamster boss James R. Hoffa who is seeking release from federal prison at Lewisburg, Pa. The action rebuffed his claim that federal wiretapping activity involving two Las Vegas gambling casinos and special FM frequencies in Detroit obtained the government's conviction of him on jury tampering charges.

In a 5-4 turnabout, refused to rule on a Charleston W. Va., case in which residents of a ghetto area claimed construction of a federal highway was illegally displacing them from their homes.

Let stand a lower court ruling from Chicago that upheld the right of newspapers to refuse advertisements they deem unacceptable. Agreed to decide next term whether a law forbidding imports of obscene materials may be applied if the material is solely for private use. The California law which was challenged in today's case is in force in all 50 states. The judgment stemmed from charges against Jonathan Todd Byers in Mendocino County, Calif., on Aug. 23, 1968. Because of his failure to pass properly, he was charged with unsafe driving and failure to stop at the scene of an accident. Four members of the court—

Justices Hugo L. Black, William O. Douglas, William J. Brennan Jr. and Thurgood Marshall—held that Byers properly raised the constitutional claim of self-incrimination. Chief Justice Warren E. Burger, joined by three colleagues, countered that "there is no constitutional right to refuse to file an income tax or to flee the scene of an accident in order to avoid the possibility of legal involvement." Justice John M. Harlan then cast the decisive vote against Byers for different reasons than those in the Burger opinion. The California Supreme Court had held that the hit-and-run law, which requires a driver to

Doom looms for SST in fresh vote

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The once-dead Supersonic Transport (SST), revived in the House last week, seems doomed to sink a third time at the hands of a still-hostile U.S. Senate.

A UPI check Monday showed SST foes in the Senate should have an eight or nine-vote margin when the vote comes late Wednesday on whether to join the House in rescuing the controversial project.

The Senate rejected the SST by 11 votes in December; but was forced to give in to the House and approve continued development of the jetline until spring. In March, however, the House narrowly approved scrapping the project, and the Senate concurred, 51-46.

But the House reversed itself again last week, covering a $85.3 million item in a supplemental appropriations bill for SST contract termination costs into an appropriation to continue the program. The Senate Appropriations Committee quickly concurred.

Sometime Wednesday night, Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., leader of the anti-SST forces, will move to strip the money from the bill. Barring last-minute switches or heavy absenteeism, the tally should be 54 to 45 in his favor.

"I don't see how Proxmire can lose," said a Senate leader who is an SST backer. "It will have to be fought over again in (a House-Senate) conference like it was in December."

A University of California scientist said Monday exhaust gas from fleets of SSTs could break up the ozone shield surrounding the earth and let in "blinding and even lethal" ultraviolet rays from the sun.

Dr. Harold S. Johnston said gas released by exhausts of the high-flying jets would speed reactions that destroy the ozone molecules. The result would be the opening of a "window" through the ozone in the stratosphere which would allow "harmful" radiation to reach the earth's surface.

Trudeau, Kosygin confer

MOSCOW (UPI)—Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau of Canada and Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin opened their talks today on international and economic issues of mutual interest to the two Arctic powers.

Trudeau arrived from Ottawa Monday with his wife, Margaret, and members of his government. He officially began his State visit today by laying a wreath at the tomb of the Kremlin Wall.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said Kosygin was accompanied by Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, Foreign Trade Minister Nikolai Patolichev and several other ministers and deputies.

Trudeau's visit was seen by observers here as especially significant to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO), the Western defense alliance, of which Canada is a member.

Phoenix, Ariz. (UPI)—Arizona became the 30th state to ratify the constitutional amendment lowering the voting age to 18 Monday.

A resolution passed by the state legislature ratifying the proposed amendment was signed by Gov. Jack Williams. Thirty-seven state legislators must vote for the proposal to make it the 26th amendment to the Constitution.

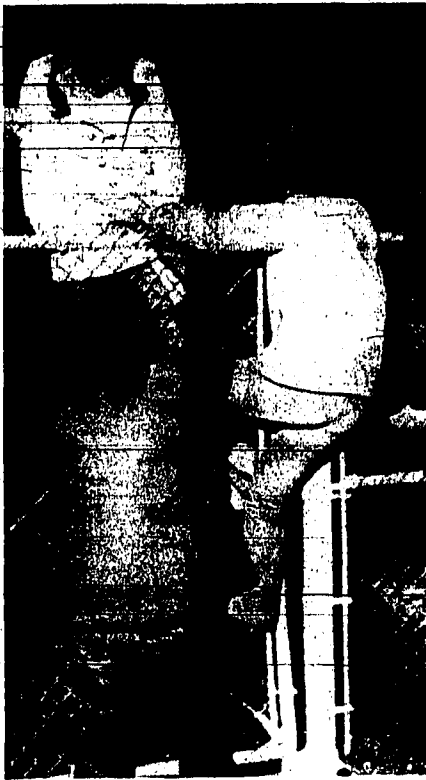

Rep. Frank Kelly, R-Phoenix, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, watched as the legislature would also lower to 18 the age of full legal responsibility.

Dam site viewed

REXBURG (UPI)—Gov. Cecil D. Andrus and 100 persons toured the proposed Teton Dam site Monday after attending a luncheon where they heard the pros and cons of the project.

The Fremont-Madison Irrigation District sponsored the luncheon.

The dam project will cost more than $10 million to start, and it has been opposed by public and private environmental groups which contend plans will damage the area's ecology.

Outlining objections were Harold Nelson, regional director of the Bureau of Reclamation, and Hurlan Ray, water pollution control engineer from the Portland office of the Federal Environmental Agency.

Ray said, however, he believed the problems could be solved, particularly those concerning land fill for the dam and potential damages to a winter area for deer.

With Andrus were Dr. Robert Lee, director of the Idaho Water Resource Board, R. Keith Higginson, director of the department of water administration, and Bob Salter of the Idaho Fish and Game Department.

Dope smuggling jumps

WASHINGTON (UPI)—U.S. Customs Commissioner Myles J. Ambrose said today marijuana and hashish continue to be smuggled into the United States at an unprecedented rate, despite intensified surveillance.

Customs agents are employing dogs, composite profiles of potential smugglers and the latest electronic devices, Ambrose told the National Commission on Marijuana and Drug Abuse, but "we realize... there is no simple solution to the complex problem of marijuana and hashish abuse."

persons is a potential smuggler. And smugglers employ the latest technology available, including "trash smashers" meant for compacting garbage which smugglers are using to compress marijuana and hashish into 25 and 30 pound blocks. He also said hashish, a potent form of marijuana, has been found pressed and baked and shipped commercially as dishes.

"Our seizure statistics for the past several years indicate that marijuana and hashish smuggling is continuing at an unprecedented rate despite all efforts to stop this illicit trade," Ambrose said in a statement prepared for the commission, created by Congress last year to study the pot problem.

Marijuana seizures during fiscal 1970 totaled a then-record 104-303 pounds, but in the first nine months of this fiscal year seizures have hit 128,965 pounds. In fiscal 1965, he said, only 11,000 pounds was taken.

Mariner Mars trip delayed

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The space agency Monday delayed the flight of the second Mariner spacecraft toward Mars until Sunday at the earliest because of extra steps taken to avoid a repeat of the first launch failure.

The second shot originally was set for Tuesday, but a delay of at least two days was called last week while the investigation continued into the May 8 failure of the Mariner 8 launch.

Flight preparations were held up late last week to await the arrival of a new autopilot control unit for the second stage of the new Mariner's Atlas-Centaur rocket. The replacement autopilot was installed Sunday after undergoing unusually tough testing at the General Dynamics Corp., plant at San Diego, Calif.

Engineers said the earliest possible launch date now is May 23. A firm flight date, however, will not be set until later this week after top space agency officials review the situation with project engineers. The launch deadline is June 16.

The investigation has traced the cause of the failure to an electronic component in the centaur autopilot. It failed five minutes after launch and sent the rocket tumbling out of control.

Order modified at carcass plant

TWIN FALLS — Judge James M. Cunningham Monday withdrew special enforcement stipulations from a court order issued two weeks ago regarding closure of the Cascade Commodities Corp. plant in Buhl, but said the order to keep the plant closed still stands.

The action followed a show-cause hearing before Judge Cunningham Monday in which the defendants, Cascade Commodities Corp., presented two witnesses and the plaintiffs, Russell Lyons, et al, did not enter any evidence.

Gordon Carter testified no rendering has been done at the plant since the April 22 order to stop operations, but some clean up work has been underway and steam has been rising from the plant because of the water heating operation.

A hauler for the firm, James Head, said he has hauled no dead animals to the plant since the April 22 order was issued.

Residents of Buhl have filed court action to bring an end to the odors from the plant operation of collecting and rendering dead animals. Judge

Cunningham ordered the plant to stop all operations in an order issued April 22. Shortly after that residents complained the odor was continuing and the judge ordered the plant closed and gave the sheriff the responsibility of closing it down by "whatever force is deemed necessary."

Affidavits filed prior to the latest court order included one from a school bus driver who stated children on the school bus became physically ill from the fumes of the plant when the bus traveled and made stops in the area.

Burley parking needs reviewed by council

BURLEY — Two representatives of the Burley Downtown Merchants Committee met Monday night with the Burley City Council to discuss the need for more off-street parking in the downtown area.

The men, Jim Henderson of the Dad and Lad Store, and Grant Fillmore of Thrift-Way Drug Store, said there are several vacant buildings in the downtown area which could be removed to make way for parking. The representatives said they would favor a Local Improvement District being formed to provide for more parking.

Mayor Garis Robertson suggested the State Planning Commission be contacted about the possibility of assisting with engineering and that there might be federal money available to help finance a parking project.

Jack Keen, director of the city's recreation and parks department, reported water in the Snake River is extremely high and at the golf course boating docks water is over the retaining wall — as much as 14 inches in some places. He said the situation will have to be watched because there is a possibility the retaining wall may be in danger as water subsides.

He also reported that weeds at the airport are causing a problem. The council approved spraying or mowing of the weeds.

An application to transfer a taxi license from Don Nielson to Zoe Osterhout was denied by the council. Osterhout owns a bar and restaurant in Burley and planned to operate the taxi service from that business.

The council agreed to provide the first 30,000 gallons of water per month to residents of Burley's Green Acres subdivision at a reduced rate during the summer. Residents of the area have complained to the council because highways and streets in the area make it impossible to receive their allocated shares of ditch water. Residents pay $13 per lot for the water which they are unable to use. The amount of reduction was not stated.

In other business the council granted a permit for the Carlos Motel to move a house on its property one block west to a vacant lot.

Approved the transfer of several city employees to different jobs. Brought up the matter of citizens riding with on-duty police officers. Councilmen passed a resolution that anyone riding with a police officer must sign an affidavit releasing the city from any and all liability on any matter which might come up while riding with an officer.

Approved monthly bills as funds available. Keen also explained plans for the city's summer recreation program. He said the municipal swimming pool at Salmon Park will be open from 1 to 5 p.m. and 8 to 8 p.m. daily. General admission and season rate schedules also were given: children 13 years old and under, 25 cents per day; 14 to 16 years of age, 35 cents per day; adults, 50 cents per day. Red Cross swimming lessons will be from June 14 to June 25 for the first session. The second session will be July 19 to July 30. Private party rentals of the pool are available after 8 p.m. The charge will be $20 an hour for 35 people; 35 to 75 people, $37.50 per hour; 75 or more people, $45 per hour with a one hour minimum.

Several divisions for the summer baseball program were announced: rookies, 6 to 9 years old; minors, 10 to 12 years old; and majors, 13 to 16 years old.

There will be a youth instruction clinic at the municipal golf course. There also will be an adult beginner clinic and public golfing. Weekdays residents can shoot nine holes for $1.25; 18 holes, $1.75; non-residents, $1.50 for nine holes, or $2 for 18 holes. Rates for students can be obtained by inquiring at the clubhouse. For patio picnic parties reservations must be made at the city service center.

There will be tennis at the municipal course at Salmon Park.

Ketchum complex asked

Jack Wilderman requested the city to trade lots with him. The move would open Leadville Avenue to traffic. Wilderman owns a lot situated directly across the avenue at Seventh Street, he said. He has several buildings located on the land. The request was given tentative approval pending an investigation of land title records by city attorney Stephen Boller.

A representative of the Farmers Home Administration, Elwood Theouson, Boise, told the council that the FHA has funds available for financing a proposed water-system bond issue. Theouson said there are four weeks remaining in the current fiscal year in which the city could apply for funds. He suggested that the city take action to earmark funds for the project.

By a unanimous vote, the council agreed to apply for the $2 million bond issue for the water system.

The city attorney also was instructed to study city ordinances in line with a request for construction of a gas-wash and self-service gas station on Warm Springs Road.

Senior citizen day set

BUHL — Sixth annual Senior Citizens Day dinner will be May 22 in the Buhl Elementary School auditorium, according to Vern Craner, general chairman.

Plans call for a free dinner served at noon for citizens in the Buhl area who are 65 years or older.

A program is planned for the afternoon. Invitations are being sent to those who attended the Senior Citizens Day events in past years, Craner said.

But individuals who are eligible and do not receive an invitation should notify the city hall, he said.

Transportation will be furnished if persons desiring rides will call the city hall.

The event is sponsored by the city of Buhl, Dr. Myron Thompson, mayor, will serve as official host.

Gooding Council eyes West End annexation

GOODING — Gooding Mayor Harley Grippen asked the city council Monday to extend the city limits to include the site of the new high school and adjacent "development" areas.

The council took no action on the request.

Grippen said that annexation of the school's site west of the city is necessary before its completion in December.

He said the additional annexations would both provide for future development and "straighten" the city's boundaries.

The councilmen also took under advisement a proposal that a dog-leash law be placed on the ballot this fall. Gooding has no such law now, but the councilmen reported receiving complaints about dogs running loose.

Police Chief Lyle Clifford was asked to invite Wendell police to a future council meeting to explain how that city's leash law has worked.

Volunteer fireman George Anderson reported on a meeting held earlier this month with state fire underwriter Carl Goehles.

He said the city has a fire rating better than most cities of its size. He said the rating could be improved by installation of a city-wide fire call box system and upgrading fireman training and recruitment programs.

He said addition of a new city well would improve the rating.

The councilmen agreed to open bids for a storage tank and pipe on Monday at 2 p.m. The material will be used for the new well located on the south side of the Little Wood River on Nevada Street.

Clerk George Silva said the city code provides that trailer courts pay a $25 yearly fee, but that the city had not been mailing such billings.

District expanded

TWIN FALLS — Boundaries of the Twin Falls Urban Renewal Project were extended Monday night by city council members to include four half-blocks of the main downtown mall area.

The action followed a hearing at which no public comments were offered.

The improvements have already been made in the area but by extending the boundaries to include work completed the city will be eligible for matching federal funds to benefit additional areas, it was explained. Some building standards required in Urban Renewal will have to be met on a speeded up basis, it was explained but no additional street improvements will be needed as this work has been accomplished.

Property owners in the Green Acres Subdivision were advised the city cannot block off the end of Green Acres Drive to reduce traffic in their residential area anymore than they could deny other property access to a public street.

They were advised to work with the College of Southern Idaho, owners of the property at the end of the street, to block the entrance to Frontier Field and other college-owned property, or to take legal steps to have a small part of the end of the street vacated as public right of way.

Mayor Frank Feldtman said the city cannot close off public access, but the property owner, CSI, could easily agree to close off its own property and college officials have indicated a willingness to cooperate.

Property owners say traffic from Frontier Field, the National Guard Army and CSI causes excessive noise, dust and other problems.

City officials approved terminating a lease of long standing at Dierke's Lake in which Robert Reese, Voy Hudson, Jack Lavander and Gordon Egger hold exclusive duck hunting rights. Instead the city gave the four a lease on another section of property along Snake River recently acquired by the city and known as the Britt property.

Jerome reviews policies

JEROME — Jerome school trustees and administrators met with a delegation of teachers Monday night to consider proposed changes in school administrative policies affecting teacher-administrator relations.

The board decided to review the entire policy book and to incorporate changes at the next regular meeting in June.

Trustee Gordon Hollifield said that in going over the policy book, it was noted that some of the old policies had not been brought up to date, and some revised two or three times. The aim of the board, he said, is to take all of the policies and make them uniform throughout the district.

Hollifield said he has been talking about the policy problem ever since going on the board three years ago. He said he has tried to go by the policy as best he could, only to find that he would make a statement according to present policy and find out from other board members that it had been changed at a previous meeting.

Air pollution index 119

The pollution reading was taken by the staff of the South Central Health District at the Twin Falls City Hall. The reading is expressed as the number of micrograms of particulate material per cubic meter of air for the 24-hour period ending 9 a.m. today.

Federal pollution regulators say pollution levels should be kept below 75 micrograms per any 24-hour period, and should not be permitted to rise above 200 micrograms for even a short period of time.

This forecast provided by the Idaho Department of Health indicates the ability of the atmosphere to disperse pollution.

Buhl man wins chess tourney

By PAULINE DAY Times-News Writer

BUHL — A Buhl farmer is Idaho's new open chess champion. Winning chess tourneys is nothing new for Glen Buckendorf Jr., who won the 24th annual tournament at Boise over the weekend.

He has been playing chess since 1945 when he was a sophomore in high school. He credits the late Melvin Schubert, Twin Falls, with getting him started in participating in chess tournaments.

The first chess tournament Buckendorf entered was in 1947 in Twin Falls, and in 1950 he won the national junior correspondence championship.

The next year he won the Magic Valley championship and the first official state tournament. Buckendorf says chess tournaments are "now about where golf tournaments were about 20 years ago. They are the coming thing and there is money to be won."

Buckendorf operates a 160-acre stock farm and also works part-time with his father, Glen Buckendorf, Sr., in the Buckendorf Tire Service in Buhl.

The chess player has been Idaho state winner eight times, and twice has won the Idaho open title and also won the Utah open title. In 1967 he tied for the class A division in the national open at Las Vegas.

Budget cut at Shoshone

By MELBA THORNE Times-News Writer

SHOSHONE — Shoshone School Trustees Monday night approved a budget of $336,344.50 after reducing the general fund by $3,900.

Mrs. Claude Chess, school board clerk, said the reduction will mean no change in faculty or curriculum because $5,400 has been diverted from the $25,000 surplus the district has into the general fund to serve in areas where needed.

Of the total budget, $301,262 is for general fund expenditures with $20,920 for plant facilities and $14,162.50 for bond interest and redemption.

The general fund expenditures to be obtained from local taxes; were reduced from $129,900 to $126,000 after protests were heard in an earlier hearing. At that time, the board was urged not to carry such a large amount as surplus.

Mrs. Chess said of the amount of money received from local tax sources, $126,000 will go for general fund, $17,320 for plant facilities and $4,000 for bond indebtedness.

The rest of the budget comes from state funds, she said. Breakdown of the total budget shows $11,850 allocated for administrative salaries; $6,680, administrative; $189,313, instructional salaries; $18,400, other-instructional; $24,055, pupil transportation; $7,740, custodians; $11,400, other plant expenses, $2,000, maintenance of plant, and $7,958, other maintenance; $6,324, fixed charged; $2,690, capital expenditures and $13,300 for debt service and tuition.

In other business, trustees hired two new teachers who will complete the faculty. John Gilbert, Lewiston, recent graduate of University of Idaho, will teach Spanish and English and Mrs. J. R. Churchman, Shoshone, who has taught at Bickel school in Twin Falls, will teach first grade, replacing Mrs. M. E. McKendrick, who is retiring.

The board will study a request by Mrs. Ruth Struchen for housing of a kindergarten class next year at Lincoln school. She is a former first grade teacher.

Trustees also approved a two-week summer basketball clinic for boys from fifth through eighth grade.

At that time, the board was urged not to carry such a large amount as surplus.

Mrs. Chess said of the amount of money received from local tax sources, $126,000 will go for general fund, $17,320 for plant facilities and $4,000 for bond indebtedness.

Camas seniors advance

FAIRFIELD — State Rep. Vernon Ravenscroft, D-Tuttle, spoke of many challenges and opportunities still to be accomplished in science and environmental problems during commencement ceremonies Monday evening at Camas County High School.

He told the 15 graduates to "dig deep in life and leave no room for gloom or doom."

Christie Gleaser is salutatorian and Lucinda Osborne is valedictorian of the graduating class. Scholarships were presented by Supt. Harold Stroud to Richard H. Baucher, $800 College of Idaho scholarship; Lucinda Osborne, $250 county honor scholarship and $50 chamber of commerce scholarship; Marilyn Cox, $200 ISU scholarship; Marilyn Cox, $200 Lady Catherine Beauty College, Boise, scholarship, and Steven Shippy, $50 IOOF scholarship.

The grade school students will have their commencement at 8 p.m. Thursday. Today the students are participating in a civic cleanup project and on Thursday they will take part in Camas Day with a picnic and athletic contests.

The hot lunch program ends Wednesday in the grade school and school will be out Friday.

Shoshone H.S. rite conducted

SHOSHONE — Students of the Shoshone High School graduating class were called upon to develop mental and moral dignity when Rev. Kevin McArdle, of St. Peter's Catholic Church spoke at the baccalaureate services Sunday night. He outlined some of the steps necessary for this development.

Father Mike Fitzgibbons, Episcopal Church, gave the invocation and benediction, while Rev. Hardy Thompson gave the scriptures.

A piano solo was played by Keith Mabbutt and John Urridge, Rick Healey, Debbie Onelida and Jim Pagnaga sang. Mrs. Leo Serfian played the processionals and recessional. Commencement exercises will be held Wednesday evening at the high school building. Lt. Gov. Jack M. Murphy will speak.

District chief

B-Teens install aides, fete seniors at event

BURLEY — New officers of the B-Teens were installed at the annual banquet at Price's Cafe which honored graduating seniors.

Karla Stoker was named B-Teen of the Year and received a bouquet of red roses from Mrs. Marvin Badger, adviser. Miss Stoker has served as president of the group this past year.

Scholarships of $100 each were presented to Carolyn Mitchell and Brenda Wrigley. Officers installed were Gwen Bowen, president; Donna Beek, first vice president; Dorothy Fowler, second vice president; Diane Stoker, secretary; and Jeanne Gruwel, historian.

Wendy Fernandez, exchange student from Argentina told of the change for her in moving from a large city to Burley.

"I like a small town and school for I know all the students at school and I understand America better," she said.

Mrs. Hermon King, Miss Fernandez's American mother, told of the things both families are learning about one another's countries. Language has been a problem, with misunderstandings cropping up even though "we are both speaking the same English language," said Mrs. King. Food differences must be met in cooking for the family which includes an exchange student, added Mrs. King.

Ed Lou King described having an exchange student for a sister, and of the interest in American fashions which Miss Fernandez has.

The B-Teens, and the American Association of University Women are the sponsors of an exchange student to attend Burley High School.

Debbie Taylor received special recognition for three years as a council member. Others who received council awards were Diane Stoker, Melanie Walker; Patricia Jolley, Peggy Wood, Connie Smith, Sheryl Clayton and Kayla Anderson.

Girls of the Month awards were presented to Sherry Wood, Karla Stoker, Michelle Peterson, Peggy Searle, Kathleen Coltrin, Carolyn Mitchell, Marilyn Mitchell, Anne Clark, and Miriam Carey.

Tom Gruwel, high school principal was awarded "Mr. B-Teen Badge" and Joe Crane, student body president, was selected as "Mr. B-Teen Junior."

Miss Stoker presented Mrs. Badger with an orchid corsage and a trophy.

Robbery cleared

BOISE (UPI) — Two men arrested in Kemmerer, Wyo., on Utah murder charges have admitted robbing a Boise market last Wednesday night, according to Boise police.

Officers said the suspects are Daniel Raye Weddle, 27, Alacadero, Calif., and Ronald A. May, 21, Marysville, Calif.

They are accused of killing Donald P. Jensen, 42, a Davis County deputy sheriff, when he tried to stop them for questioning in connection with the attempted robbery of a service station.

The officer's body was found near a car the suspects supposedly were driving. His patrol car was stolen and later found near Bountiful, where a pickup camper was reported stolen.

City detectives at Boise said the Ada County prosecutor's office will issue "hold" warrants for the two men in connection with the $40 holdup of a Circle K store on Overland Road.

Employee honored

GARIS ROBERTSON, Burley mayor, left, presents engraved plaque to Martin Fewkes in recognition of his service to the city while Mrs. Fewkes looks on. Chamber members and others have raised money for Mr. and Mrs. Fewkes to have a vacation trip to California.

Mini-Cassia

Burley man given trip

BURLEY — Marvin Fewkes and his family will leave Monday for a vacation in southern California as guests of the Burley Chamber of Commerce, which led a drive to raise funds to finance the vacation.

Fewkes works as street cleaner for the city of Burley, starting work at daybreak or before each day.

Despite a lifelong spastic condition, Fewkes is the breadwinner for his family — his wife, Norma, whom he married in 1960, and their children, Krata Jean and Randy.

Mr. and Mrs. Fewkes and their children will leave for southern California from the Twin Falls City-County Airport at 7 a.m. May 24. They will return May 28, after visiting such attractions as Disneyland and Knott's Berry Farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Fewkes were guests at the Monday luncheon meeting of the Burley Chamber of Commerce, where they were presented with funds for their trip and he received a plaque recognizing his years of service to the Burley city government.

Mayor Garis Robertson made the presentation on behalf of the downtown merchants and the city.

Fewkes is self educated. He taught himself to read and he has overcome difficulty in talking. He said love for his family and love for his church are the two important factors in his life. He gives his wife full credit for helping him.

Directing the fund drive were Jim Henderson, Jake Hodge, Lloyd Blackmer and William MacKnight. Contributions were received from Burley residents and from other Idaho communities.

Fewkes started working with the city in 1946 on the street department crew. After more than 10 years, he became a custodian with the school district for 12 years.

Three charter members feted

BURLEY — Three charter members were honored and officers installed by the Burley branch of the American Association of University Women at a breakfast meeting at Price's Cafe.

Honored were Mrs. Margaret Weisel, Irene Buckley and Mrs. Mary Zolmetz. Each was presented a corsage.

New officers installed were Mrs. Max Bruce, president; Mrs. Larry Brash, vice president; Mrs. Seth Corless, second vice president; Mrs. Robert Barton, secretary, and Mrs. James Mendenhall, treasurer.

Clinic speakers listed

BURLEY — Plans were announced Monday by the Burley-Rupert Board of Realtors for the Spring Realtors Clinic May 25 at the Ponderosa Inn.

Realtors who are members of the Twin Falls, Buhl, Northside and Sawtooth Boards of Realtors will attend the clinic. Speakers will be Homer S. Satterfield, vice president of Idaho Association of Realtors; Dr. Royal L. Garff, Salt Lake City; Roger H. Allen, Boise; Tom M. Wilson, Boise, and Harry F. LeMoyno, Twin Falls.

Topics speakers will discuss include the art of selling, developing and marketing of Mobile home sites, manufactured housing and apartment units and farm sales and listing.

The subjects for the clinic were selected by a state-wide poll of what realtors felt they needed the most, said L.B. Jardine, president of the Burley-Rupert Board of Realtors.

Sandra Scheer, Hinton wed in Jerome Catholic ceremony

JEROME — Sandra Ann Scheer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Scheer, Jerome, became the bride of Clifton Wayne Hinton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Hinton, Jerome, in a ceremony April 30 at the St. Jerome's Catholic Church.

Rev. Father Patrick Meagher performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with arrangements of pink gladioli and lavender chrysanthemums. Pink hydrangeas and arrangements of pink carnations were placed on the altars. The pews were marked with pink bows and white bells.

Cheryl Fraso played the traditional wedding marches. Gene Kuhler was soloist and then accompanied Mrs. Donald Nutsch in a duet.

The bride wore a white lace and satin wedding gown, fashioned with a mandarin neckline, a lace bodice with full lace panels down the front of the gown studded with sequin flowers and gathered chiffon sleeves with lace.

Her cathedral veil of bridal illusion was edged with lace matching the gown and held by a white lace bow.

She carried a cascading bouquet of pink roses and lavender chrysanthemums with pink ribbon showers.

She wore an heirloom watch that belonged to her great-grandmother.

Maid of honor was Susan Jackey, with Deanne Uicketts, Jenny Putman, Debbie Bragg, and Debbie Scheer, cousin of the bride, as bridesmaids.

Altar boys, Patrick Scheer, brother of the bride, and Bobby Nutsch, were servers of the Mass.

Flower girls were Lisa Scheer, sister of the bride, and Lavetta Hinton, sister of the bridegroom.

Patrick Hinton, brother of the bridegroom, was ringbearer. Melvin Moeller stood as best man. Ushers were Renn Thompson, Terry Newland, Mike McIntyre and Mike Scheer, brother of the bride.

A reception was held at the Parish Hall, with Mrs. Olga Newland, sister of the bridegroom, registering guests.

Miss Abundis, Huntsman name date

TWIN FALLS — Mr. and Mrs. Raymond I. Abundis Sr., Twin Falls, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Angela, to Max David Huntsman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max O. Huntsman, Idaho Falls.

Miss Abundis was graduated from Twin Falls High School in 1968 and received her A.A. degree from the College of Southern Idaho. She was named Miss Wool at CSI in 1968 and presently enrolled at Idaho State University, majoring in speech pathology. She is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority.

Huntsman was graduated from Idaho Falls High School in 1966 and will be graduated from Idaho State University in December with a liberal arts degree in speech. He is a member of Delta Chi Fraternity.

An Aug. 7 wedding is planned at St. Edward's Catholic Church.

Susan Abercrombie was in charge of the gift table and Lucy and Lark Hinton, sister of the bridegroom, were gift carriers.

The bride's table was covered with lace over pink with a white chiffon skirt. Lavender tapers in silver candelabra decorated with pink carnations flanked the three-tiered wedding cake.

White pillars divided the layers of the cake and a miniature bride and bridegroom, doves, wedding bells and angels in white, pink and green accents completed the decorations.

Cutting and serving the cake was Mrs. Fred Hainline, Bliss, aunt of the bride. Pouring were Mrs. Leonard Scheer and Mrs. Ben-Kober, Wendell, aunts of the bride.

After a honeymoon trip to Sun Valley, the couple reside in Jerome.

The bride is a telephone operator for Mountain Bell Telephone Co. in Twin Falls and Hinton is employed by C and F Farms.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Finis Berto, grandparents of the bride, Mrs. Ella Jasper and Mrs. Willis Hinton, grandmothers of the bridegroom.

A Lovelier You

VITAMIN C, A BEAUTY-MAKER

By Mary Sue Miller

Purely from the feminine point of view, vitamin C is paramount among beauty-makers. It helps keep your body graceful and your flesh taut, because it "nourishes" your muscles. Surely no would-be Loveli could do without her daily ration.

But studies show that, among a large percentage of our population, there is a vitamin C deficiency. Particularly among teens and reducers! That this should be true is not easy to fathom. Teen health programs stress a high intake, as do all approved reducing regimens.

How much vitamin C do you actually require? Medically speaking, it is counted in milligrams. For a Lovely's purposes, it is more readily computed in food units. Have a piece of citrus fruit, a leafy vegetable and a tomato every single day — and you've got your share.

Unlike many nutrients, vitamin C is not stored up in the body. Therefore, it must be replaced on a daily basis. Foods containing the vitamin are neither expensive nor exotic. And they are low-low calorie. For instance, green peppers, berries, grapefruit and spinach.

If you are so full-blown beautiful that you are not interested in your muscle tone, why then should you fuss about vitamin C? Well, it acts as a shield against colds. Oh, you say, you don't need one in summer. Ever hear of a summer cold? Ugh! Then there's the little matter of prevention of spider veins and infirm gums. Come on, out up.

POCKET CALORIE COUNTER

Do you really know the calorie counts of the foods you eat? Our leaflet, POCKET CALORIE COUNTER, tells the score at a glance. It also gives a diet plan—a way to eat and slim. For your copy, write to Mary Sue Miller, care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 15 cents in coin.

ALBION — New members were inducted and degrees were presented during a meeting in honor of Exemplar Day by members of Xi Omega Chapter Beta Sigma Phi at home of Mrs. O'Deen Redman, Albion, Saturday.

Xi Omega is an Exemplar chapter and may 15 each year is set aside as Exemplar Day. Qualified members to receive the Exemplar degree must have completed four years of membership as ritual of jewels and must be a member of an Exemplar Chapter to receive the Exemplar Degree.

Revolving the Exemplar Degree were Mrs. Rex Weech, Burley, and Mrs. Dean Perry, Albion. Mrs. Merrill Atkinson, retiring chapter president, presided at the candlelight ritual, assisted by Mrs. S.L. Walker at the ritual table. Mrs. Weech and Mrs. Perry each received the special Exemplar booklet, certificate, Exemplar badge and guard and a long-stemmed yellow rose.

New members inducted during the Pledge Ritual were Mrs. John Amen, Mrs. Ruben Braun, Mrs. Robert S. Larsen, Mrs. LaWayne Mann and Mrs. Vernon Rehn. Presiding at the ritual table were Mrs. Clarence Bishop, new president, assisted by Mrs. Rodney Murphy, Mrs. Atkinson and Mrs. Eddie Karlson. Each was presented her pledge pin and a long-stemmed yellow rose.

The new members drew names for secret sisters, which will be revealed at Christmas time. A short business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Atkinson. It was announced the covered dish luncheon will be May 27 at home of Mrs. Arle Harris, chapter honorary member. A token gift will be given to each member's secret sister. The birthday dinner and social will be under the direction of Mrs.

and Mrs. Shelby, fourth, and Mr. and Mrs. Hogg, fifth. Mr. and Mrs. Cook were awarded trophies. Players participated from Buhl, Burley, Jerome, Hazelton and Twin Falls. The next unit play is June 20 at Burley.

Walker, social chairman, assisted by Mrs. Joe Adams, Mrs. Lloyd Ramsey and Mrs. Glenn Bailey.

A report on the State Beta Sigma Phi convention June 11 through 13 at Ponderosa Inn was given by Mrs. Bailey. The convention is being hosted by Burley-Rupert Beta Sigma Phi City Council.

The white elephant was awarded to Mrs. Karlson. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Redman and Mrs. Perry, co-hostesses.

SHOSHONE — Donald L. Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Price, Shoshone, is one of 13 recipients of scholarships awarded by Grange Insurance Association of Seattle.

Price, who will soon be graduated from high school, will use his scholarship at the Idaho State University where he plans to major in science and minor in business administration.

He is a four-year honor roll student, class officer and member of the high school band. He also is active in various grange, church and community activities.

The Price family recently moved to Shoshone from Dietrich.

The scholarship is not less than $400.

Miss Vincent plans senior recital

FILER — JoAnn Vincent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Vincent, Filer, will present her senior recital at 8 p.m. May 20 at the CSI Fine Arts Auditorium.

Miss Vincent is a senior at Filer High School, serving as a varsity cheerleader, a member of the Honor Society and was chosen "Girl of the Year" by the student body.

She has studied piano for four years with her mother and six years with Mrs. Teala Bellini, Twin Falls. She has won numerous awards in high school district and regional festival on piano; won scholarships for three years to Sun Valley Music

Camp, and last year, was voted "Most Outstanding Musician" at the University Summer Music Camp.

She recently won the Idaho Federated Music Clubs "School of Your Choice" scholarship award for $300 to attend college.

Last week, JoAnn was soloist with the Idaho State Civic Symphony on their annual Youth Concert.

She will present a varied program from Bach to Prokofiev, closing the program with "Beethoven Concerto Op. 15," with Mrs. Bellini at the second piano. JoAnn plans to major in music in both piano and flute.

Subsidized family planning

NEW YORK — Only one in 50 of Idaho's poor women estimated to need subsidized family planning services — 314 of 15,892 — were reported as receiving them from all the state's organized programs at the end of 1969, an improvement of only one percentage point over the previous 18-month period.

For the U.S. as a whole in 1969 one in five poor women were receiving services. These are some of the findings of a nationwide survey of all 3,072 U.S. counties made by Planned Parenthood-World Population's

Center for Family Planning Program Development.

The survey is described in an article, "Eighteen Months Later: Family Planning Services in the United States, 1969," published in the April issue of the Center's quarterly magazine, "Family Planning Perspectives." It is the second such study made by the Center for the Office of Economic Opportunity. The first reported service levels for the 1968 fiscal year.

All of Idaho's family planning services were provided by four of the state's 24 health departments which reported personal health services. Of the 43 nonprofit hospitals reporting births, not one reported a family planning program.

Idaho is one of 14 states with 90 per cent or more of the family planning need remaining unmet in 1969.

The Center for Family Planning Program Development assists in the formation of public policies which facilitate the rapid expansion of family planning services, and helps public and private community agencies develop and fund programs to provide low-income people with these services.

Co-authors of the article were Joy G. Dryfoos, Frederick S. Jaffe, Daniel R. Weintraub, Jean P. Cobb and Carita Jo Bernsohn, all of the center.

Gold and silver star mothers feted

TWIN FALLS — The local chapter of American War Mothers honored their Gold Star and Silver Star Mothers at a tea served after the regular May meeting at the American Legion Hall.

The tea table was centered with a gold and silver arrangement of spring flowers and chrysanthemums, flanked by gold candles. Decorated gold and silver cakes were featured. A gold table and a silver table were featured.

Seated at the gold table were Martina Romans, Clara Shultz, Faye Jensen, Ida McBride and Jessie Sutphin. At the silver table were Lorá Doss, Emma Stone, Nellie Horejs, Sue Pratt, Pearl Rathbun and Ellen Hampton.

Lillian Arnga poured coffee and Lula Shumway served punch. Beulah Bartlett cut and served the cake. Willie Pariah was general chairman in charge of all arrangements, assisted by Mrs. Bartlett and Mary Taylor. Lillian Rosa was a committee member but unable to be present.

Lora Doss presided at the business meeting during which several members who had been ill or unable to attend were greeted. Dena Walker, a former member, was re-instated.

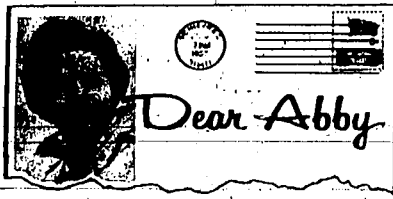

The charter was draped for the late Mrs. Emma Balsch, a life member of the organization. Mrs. Stone placed the drape and gave the prayer. Mrs. Horejs read a poem.

A report was given on the proceeds from the annual carnation sale by Mrs. Shumway, ways and means chairman, and Lola Vice, carnation chairman.

Mrs. Arnga reported on the trip to the Boise Veterans Hospital and Boise Veterans Home. A report on local hospital work done by Lora Doss and Ruth Linderman was made.

Josephine Wurst was elected to be installed as conductress for the United Patriotic Women's Organization for 1971. A Flag Day Tea will be held June 14 at the DAV Hall to honor the flag of our country. Mrs. Arnga is serving as secretary-treasurer for this year.

The mystery gift was received by Blanche Gordon.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: Have you ever heard of a divorce party? Albert (my "ex") and his new wife are giving it to celebrate the anniversary of his wife's divorce. Albert says he has never been happier in his life. I am about to marry a terrific guy and I've never been happier. Albert says they aren't inviting anyone who hasn't been divorced. ("No sense wasting good liquor on people who can't appreciate the happiness a divorce brings," he says.)

My fiance says he'll go if I want to, but it sounds kooky to him. What do you think? DIVORCED AND HAPPY

DEAR DIVORCED: It sounds kooky to me, too. But then I've never been divorced.

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend will soon receive his Ph.D. When he gets it should I start introducing him as "Doctor?" I don't want to ask him because I don't want him to think I am ignorant. NOT SURE

DEAR NOT: Not every Ph. D. wants to be addressed as "Doctor." Ask your boy friend how he feels about it. It's not a matter of ignorance. It's a matter of preference.

DEAR ABBY: I am 18 years old and have been married for three months. My problem is that both my husband and I overslept one morning and we were late to work, so now my mother in law calls us every morning to be sure we are up. I have asked her not to, but she calls anyway. She blames me because my husband overslept. Abby, it happened only once, and that was because we forgot to set the alarm. She says it's a wife's duty to get her husband up in the morning.

How can I get her to quit calling us? I am pregnant and don't feel so hot anyway. And my husband is about to tear his hair out. YOUNG WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Your mother in law is correct. It is a wife's duty to get her husband up—not his mother's. She may mean well, but she should respect your wishes when you ask her not to call. If you want to put an end to it, when the phone rings—don't answer it.

DEAR ABBY: I have a 15-year-old son who is in the 10th grade. A few years ago when he made his confirmation he received a diamond ring with five diamond chips in it. It's worth about $100.

Well, my son gave that ring to a girl he went with for only two weeks. I told him that ring was a gift and he had no right to give it away. He got very angry at me and said he would get it back but he would never wear it again. He says the ring belongs to him and he should be able to do anything he wants with it. Who is right? HIS MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: He's.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69704, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Pahsimeroi steelhead run expected to reach successful 720 total

ELLIS — A final total of about 720 steelhead is expected for the 1971 Pahsimeroi run is anticipated by the Idaho Fish and Game Department and a stamp of success has been placed on the year. Some 709 have been caught through Monday.

C.R. "Bob" Quidor, superintendent of the Niagara Springs steelhead hatchery, said the department now has 1,176,000 eggs from the returns of smolts placed in the Pahsimeroi two years ago. Another 156 females are being held in pens until they ripen and they should boost the total to two million.

"This is really a surprisingly successful year," Quidor said. "We weren't expecting much at all because our surveys indicated only about 30 per cent over left the Pahsimeroi and the nitrogen supersaturation in the lower Columbia was supposed to have wiped out just about everything else."

In addition to the 720 fish caught in the weir — the record is 783 — sport fishermen took an estimated five to six hundred of the 1969 crop, based on the department's census of 2064 being caught in the Salmon River and creel inspection indicating at least 25 per cent was made up of hatchery fish. Still puzzling, however, is the big return of the marked fish. Only three per cent of the total crop was marked but more than 50 females have been spawned so far. The law of percentages and mathematics indicate the total run should have been about 5,000.

The hatchery also has received 800,000 eggs from the weir below Hells Canyon dam. These are eggs from females caught last fall and held over the winter as high water has prevented trapping on all but one day this spring. On that day five females were taken. The department believes there is a good concentration of adult fish which will go unclaimed due to the high water.

Quidor said recent developments by the Army Corps of Engineers in reducing nitrogen saturation in the lower Columbia have made him more optimistic than he has been in some time. "They have reduced the problem to a liveable percentage on the lower Columbia and the hatcheries in that area are getting excellent escapement into the ocean. If we can get past the next three years or until they can put the modifications in on the upper Columbia and lower Snake River dams, I think we will have a good program going for a long time," he said.

Revson gains pole position for Indy

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Peter Revson may hail from New York high society, but it's as a race driver that he wants to make his mark, both at home and abroad.

He reached one impressive milestone last weekend, upsetting the speculators in winning the coveted pole position for the Indianapolis "500." His next target, obviously, is to capture the million dollar race May 23.

"There's no question I come from a wealthy family," he said as he relaxed in sports clothes in the Speedway's garage area following his record-breaking run Saturday. "But I resent any inference that I'm independently wealthy."

"Maybe I was born with a silver spoon in my mouth, but they extracted it a long time ago," he grinned.

Revson, 32 and a bachelor, was educated in Hawaii and at Cornell. He comes from a large family that controls a large cosmetics concern (Revlon), but he said he is an heir "at arm's length only."

"My uncle is the boss in the business," he said, "and my father has his own business."

But Revson had no inclination, as a youngster, to join the family enterprise. He got the racing bug in Hawaii, as a member of a sports car club.

He gained valuable experience competing in the Trans-Am and Can-Am series and took his first shot at the "500" two years ago.

"I was the slowest qualifier and started last," he recalled. "I was driving a Topco-Brabham entered by Jack Brabham. It was a good car but lacked power."

Still, Revson placed fifth, being flagged after 197 laps. His was the best finish among the five rookies in the field but "rookie of the year" honors went to Mark Donohue, who was a long-time rival, who was

Liquori plans to meet Ryun again

NEW YORK (UPI) — All roads pointed west Monday for the expected rematch between super milers Marty Liquori and Jim Ryun.

Liquori, who defeated Ryun in the first Dream Mile Sunday in Philadelphia, said the next race between the two could possibly come in Ryun's adopted home track at Eugene, Ore. in the National AAU championships June 25-28.

But Liquori added, "I guess there'll be a lot of people that will want us to race out there."

Meanwhile Fred Dwyer, who coached Liquori at Essex Catholic, N.J. High School and is now head track mentor at Manhattan, praised his former pupil for running the perfect race.

"It went just as I had expected it would," Dwyer told a group of track and field writers and coaches here Monday.

"Marty did what he had to do — take the lead with 500 or 600 yards left and then let Ryun try to pass him down the stretch. He paced himself well and was ready, mentally. That was apparent down the stretch."

Liquori admitted the race went exactly as planned. "I wanted both of us to be dead tired," he said. "I wanted us to not be looking like runners but like boxers — almost like running on sand, so it would be tough."

"I was very happy to be in front down the stretch," Liquori continued. "I was just waiting for him to make his move. When I noticed a slight hesitation on his part, it gave me hope."

Search for Indy racers at halt

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — The search for speed by cars still hoping to qualify for the 500-mile auto race may have to wait until later this week.

Temperatures soared into the 80s Monday for the second day in a row, holding practice runs to a minimum. Only three cars made successful qualification attempts Sunday before a windstorm closed down the 2.1-mile oval.

Weather forecasts indicated two more days in the 80s before a gradual cool-off that will permit high-speed preparations for next weekend's final trials.

Twenty six cars were qualified last weekend, leaving only seven positions open in the starting field. Once 33 cars are qualified, the slowest machines are ousted through the traditional "bumping" process.

There were still many good cars and almost an equal number of experienced drivers hoping to get into the race.

Canonero awaiting shipment

NEW YORK (UPI) — Canonero II, the Kentucky Derby and Preakness champion, will be shipped to Belmont Park on Thursday to get ready for his bid for the turf's Triple Crown in the Belmont Stakes on June 5, it was announced Monday.

The Kentucky-bred invader from Venezuela, who has captured the imagination of the public as few other horses have done in the last decade, will make the trip here from the Pimlico track in Baltimore, Md., site of last Saturday's Preakness, by van, as usual.

The word was that Canonero had come out of the Preakness in good physical shape for his attack on the Belmont, which turfmen call the "test of champions" because, at a mile-and-a-half, it is the longest of the Triple Crown races — a quarter-mile longer than the Derby and five-sixteenths longer than the Preakness.

Deckard surprised about performance

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Willie Deckard says he was surprised when they announced his times in the UCLA meet. After a week to digest his sparkling performances that sank the Bruins, the little University of Southern California sprinter is still surprised.

And a little more confident. "Yes, it did a great deal for my confidence," said Deckard. "I know I'm leading the world and might win the NCAA. All I have to do is stay healthy."

A 6-foot-11, 143-pound whipper, the Trojan junior ran a 9.2 100 and a 20.2 220 against the Bruins May 8. They are the best sprint times in the world this year and allowed Southern Cal to supplant UCLA as the best college dual meet team in America.

Deckard, 20, will lead USC's attempt to dethrone the Bruins as Pacific-8 champions at Seattle Friday and Saturday. The NCAA meet is at Seattle next month.

"Our only problem, and it's a happy one," coach Sid Gillman said, "is whether to play him outside as a receiver or inside as a runner. We'll try him inside first."

At Kansas State last year, Montgomery rushed for 511 yards and caught 51 passes for 386 yards. He played in the North-South and Hula Bowl games.

Hawks, Canadiens battle for Stanley Cup honors tonight

CHICAGO (UPI) — The winner of the Stanley Cup, hockey's most valued prize, will be decided finally Tuesday night at the end of the longest season over.

The Chicago Black Hawks and Montreal Canadiens will play a seventh game of their playoff series, a finish expected by almost everyone on both teams. Both coaches, Al MacNell of the Canadiens and Billy Reay of the Hawks, foresaw the probability of the seven-game series before they got under way, and both were concerned now whether their squads were worn out. "We'll see if anybody has anything left," Reay said.

Neither team has showed signs of exhaustion in the evenly matched series so far, but it will be the second seven-game series in three Stanley Cup rounds for each team. Montreal has played 19 cup games, and Chicago 17, but four of the Chicago contests went overtime.

The home ice was expected to give Chicago the edge in the final game, since the Hawks have lost only once in nine home playoff contests this year, and made up for that defeat by beating New York on the Ranger Ice.

The home game edge has held up in every game of the current series, with Montreal winning all three of its home games while Chicago did the same.

This too was somewhat expected as Black Hawk Bobby Hull said "We've got to do the best we can on the road and win all of them at home. Luckily, we've got the four at home."

Even MacNell recognized the home ice edge and said "We've got to play our best to win here." During the regular season, in six contests each team won three games against the other, exactly the same as their present standing after six playoff games, but during the regular NHL season each team won once on the road.

Utah, Kentucky end season tonight

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — A long American Basketball Association season that began in October comes to an end Tuesday night in the Salt Palace.

It also marks the final time this season that rival coaches Bill Sharman of the Utah Stars and Frank Ramsey of the Kentucky Colonels will have to match wits.

Both were teammates during the glory years of the Boston Celtics, and many times in the current playoffs they rolled on moves developed during their playing days under Red Auerbach.

"But the real key, as far as the Colonels are concerned, is whether they can break a season-long pattern. Kentucky has never beaten Utah in the Salt Palace.

"We'll win out there ... take my word for it," said Walt Simon of the Colonels. "We've got the best shooters on our team and we're due to break our jinx out there."

Powell was decked by a punch thrown by Ron Boone in the Stars last game at Salt Lake City. He vowed vengeance and got it, but not with his fists. Powell scored 31 points and picked up the scoring slack Saturday after Issel was whistled for five fouls.

Smoldering personal feuds still exist between players on both squads as a result of the rugged six games they have played with each other in the final ABA playoff. But Sharman is confident rivalries will submerge in the seventh and deciding game.

"There's just too much at stake for any players to try to hurt someone or start a fight," he said.

Kentucky's star rookie Dan Issel and veteran forward Cincy Powell were a little less optimistic.

Issel said he wished the Colonels had the home-court advantage for the final game, adding "It's meant everything during the playoffs."

"One thing about this series is that Utah has had an easier time beating us out there than we've had beating them in Louisville," said Issel.

Powell said Saturday's 105-102 victory in Louisville "was a great win with all the pressure on us. But I look for a real tough one out there."

Cavaliers contract Ridgle

CLEVELAND (UPI) — The Cleveland Cavaliers announced today that they had signed choice Jackie Ridgle of the University of California.

Ridgle, one of two third round picks by the Cavaliers of the National Basketball Association, was a second team Pacific 8 forward in all three of his collegiate seasons. On his year's All-Star team he was picked behind only Sidney Wicks and Curtis Rowe of UCLA.

During the past season Ridgle was the only player in the conference to finish in the top ten in scoring, rebounding, field goal percentage and free throw percentage. He ended his career as the No. 3 scorer in California's all time scoring list with 1,344 points.

76ers sign his team into the NABA tournament.

Augusta forward PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Philadelphia 76ers announced Monday the signing of Ervin "Chip" Johnson, their fourth draft choice, to a one-year contract.

The 6-foot-8 Johnson was a star forward at Augusta (Ga.) College where he averaged 25 points a game last year and led

It picked up 13 IMPs for them in the 1970 finals when the North American pair failed to get to a slam with the North-South cards.

The bidding in the box is Hsiao and Lin. The club opening guaranteed at least 16 high-card points and one no-trump response showed from 8-10 points. The two-club call was Stayman and the two-diamond rebid by North denied a four-card major.

South's two-heart bid guaranteed at least a five-card suit and North's raise showed three hearts and fixed hearts as trump. Thus, it was impossible for them to get into diamonds.

The heart slam made easily although hearts broke 4-1 and Hsiao had to take the diamond finesse. Diamonds would have been a sure contract.

The Precision Club as used by the Chinese team in the 1969 and 1970 World Championships is an American invention. At least C. C. Wei of New York, who devised it, is a fine American of Chinese extraction.

Several American experts have adopted it. One team won the 1970 Spingold playing it although they were defeated in the 1971 Vanderbilt. The system has considerable merit for expert partnerships. Like all club systems it is more difficult than such standard American systems as JACOBY MODERN.

NEWSPAPER (ENTRANCE ASSN.)

CARD Sense

The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1♣	Pass	1♥
Pass	2♦	Pass	2♥
Pass	3♥	Pass	3♠
Pass	4♥	Pass	5♠
Pass	6♥	Pass	Pass

You, South, hold:

♠ 4 4 2 ♥ K J 8 7 ♦ Q 5 4 2 ♣ 7 4

What do you do now?

A—Pass. This is not the time to give a preference since you aren't happy about anything.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You do pass. West bids three diamonds. North and East pass. What do you do now?

ANIMAL WORLD: EVERY beast that hunts by night is color blind... A NEWBORN GIRAFFE oftentimes is just about as tall and heavy as, say, Dennis Weaver... THE BLUE WALLE's tongue can weigh as much as a pregnant elephant... AVERAGE LAYING HEN these days only produces eggs for 11 months of her automatic life... AND REMEMBER, the plural of cow is kine, yes it is.

ENGINEERS, please note. Do you take in $26,675 a year? Nevermind, it's none of my business. But that's what an engineer with the Federal government now makes when he gets near the top of the stack. His counterpart in private industry earns $25,593. Time when the Federal government paid less than private industry is past, that's clear.

THAT SOME expectant mothers crave odd edibles is not extraordinary. What's extraordinary, I think, is some expectant mothers eat coal. By the handful. Why? ... IT WAS NONE other than old Ed Durling who claimed a truly attractive lady could be described with just four words: S-e-r-i-o-u-s-l-y. STATISTICALLY, if a man is to kill his wife, he's most apt to do so in the bedroom. But if a woman is to kill her husband, she is most apt to do so in the kitchen.

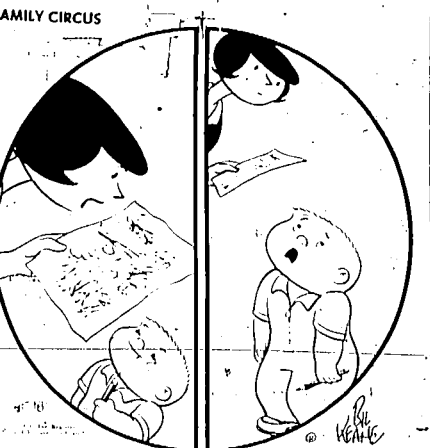

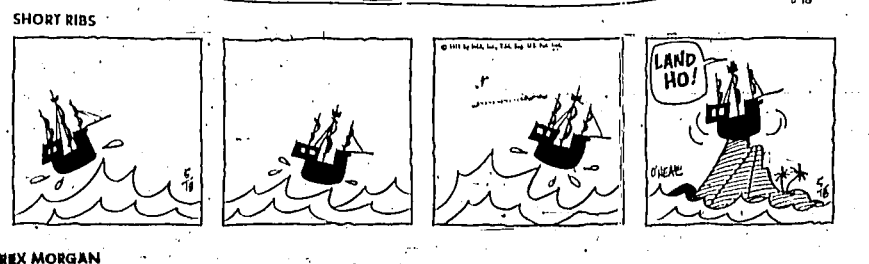

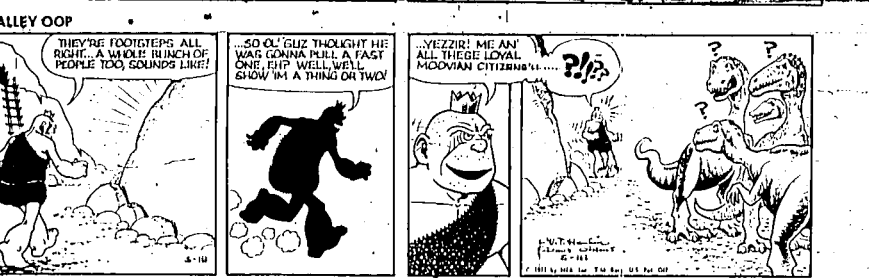

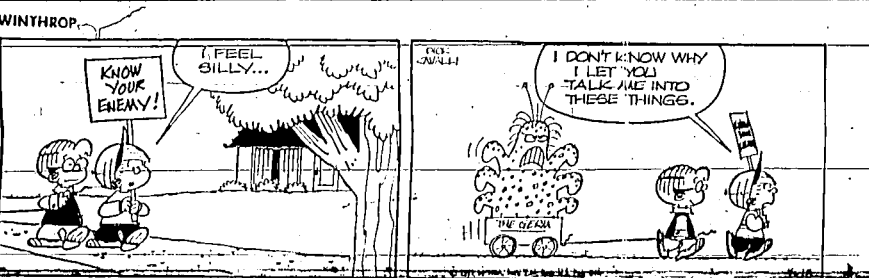

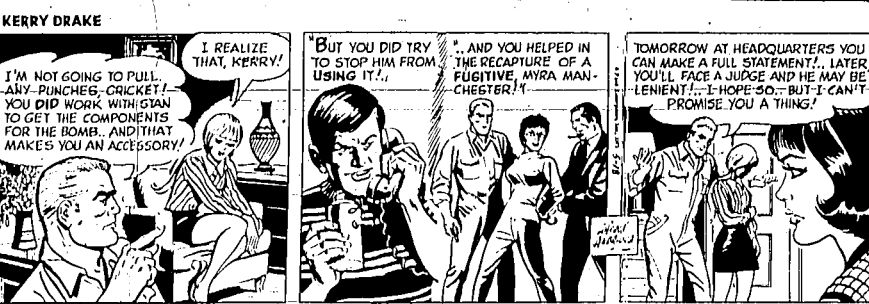

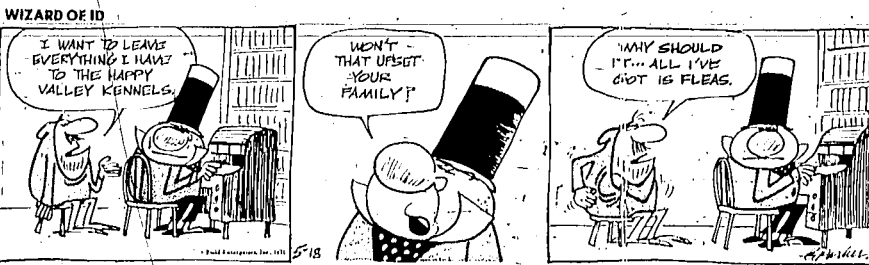

ALSO, MUST ADD these nothings to that list of candidates for membership in the Proper Job Club: Of Fort Hood, Texas, SP4 Beagle, attendant in the veterinary clinic. Of Palm Springs, Calif., Miss Hanger, a hospital dietitian. Of Austin, Texas, Dr. Miter, a dentist. Of Newman, Calif., Mrs. Bird, owner of an egg ranch.

CUSTOMER SERVICE: Q. "How long does a peach tree live?" A. Only about eight years, average. Incidentally, when one of those peach trees gets sick, it runs a temperature. Sometimes up to 20 degrees F. over normal. Don't know how the tree surgeons treat that. Doubtlessly not with aspirin. In fact, I don't even know where they stick the thermometer. Will check further and report.

A GOOD DRIVER stays at least four chimpanzees behind the car in front. He watches that car's rear bumper. When it passes a telephone pole, light post or road sign, he starts to count: one chimpanzee, two chimpanzees, three chimpanzees, four chimpanzees. His own rear bumper should pass the marker right after the fourth chimpanzee. Remember that, young fellow, next time you're tailgated, lean out the window and holler at the old boy. Tell him he's a chimpanzee or two too close.

ONCE REPORTED all $1 bills carry the date 1776. "Horse feathers!" writes an irate client. Right. Still, all $1 bills carry the date 1776, however... EIGHT YEARS AGO, one out of every 18 income tax returns was audited. Last year, one out of 44 was audited. What with the new computers and all, you know.

Your questions and comments are welcomed and will be used in PASS IT ON wherever possible. Please address your letters to L.M. Boyd, P.O. Box 17076, Fort Worth, Texas 76102.

"Very good, P.J. It says: "Oh, brudder! I wanted 'Dear Grandma, How are you?," I am fine..." it to say "Dear Unca Bob!"
