Laws near

BOISE (UPI)—Some 215 bills enacted by the first regular session of the 41st Legislature become effective many of them — including appropriations—with a built-in waiting period.

The 85 appropriations measures were among those to take effect on the 61st day following legislative adjournment, but actual funding within the measures is planned for fiscal year 1972, which begins July 1.

The uniform probate code will also take effect Thursday, but it, too, has a "waiting period" of over a year designed to give all affected parties time to study the new provisions for handling estates.

The new minimum wage law is effective Thursday, but it calls for hiking minimum salaries to $1.40 per hour starting July 1, 1971, and to $1.60 per hour starting July 1, 1972.

Environmental laws to take effect include those allowing the attorney general to seek injunctions to enforce water pollution control regulations, requiring a permit for construction or modification of waste disposal and injection wells, and authorizing the Department of Public Lands to seek injunctions against operating a dredge or placer mine without a permit.

Gordon Trombley, public land commissioner, said his injunctive authority was sought after a dredge mining incident on the Upper St. Joe River when it was discovered his department had no authority to require such an operating permit.

The Department of Water Administration will have jurisdiction over the measure requiring a permit for construction or modification of waste disposal and injection wells and has already begun inspection of many wells to see if they meet standards.

Another law to become effective, one requiring an application for a permit before water is appropriated for use, will allow the Department of Water Administration to maintain a record of water use rights.

Also in effect Thursday will be bills hiking fees for water appropriation applications, providing for a $10 fee for appropriation of water by the U.S. Bureau of Land Management, and requiring that a fee shall accompany notice of a claim to appropriate public waters.

Reds, South Viets battle in Valley

SAIGON (UPI)—Thousands of South Vietnamese troops driving into the A Shau Valley fought a six-hour battle today with large Communist forces entrenched there, UPI front dispatches reported. It was the first major battle of the three-week campaign.

UPI correspondent Stewart Kellerman, reporting from one of the allied fire bases surrounding the 35-mile-long valley in the northern part of South Vietnam, said no details of casualties on either side were given in initial reports received at the fire base.

Kellerman said elements of five Communist regiments were involved in the battle, but exact

Aged report money need

TWIN FALLS — Senior citizens attending a seminar on aging here Tuesday told visiting politicians that increases in Social Security and Medicare benefits have not kept pace with rising cost of living and medical care.

Villagers flee lava

CATANIA, Sicily, (UPI) — Villagers on the slopes of erupting Mount Etna carried their household belongings to lower ground today, away from the rivers of lava inching toward their homes.

Dozens of families in Sant'Alfio and Fornazzo, two of five villages threatened by fiery streams of lava from 46 days of constant eruption, left the towns to stay with relatives on safer ground until the danger passes.

Idaho Republicans, conducted a two-hour seminar at the College of Southern Idaho as one of four such sessions around the state. The two said by meeting with the senior citizens they can obtain a better idea of what the needs and problems are in each area, and what can be done legislatively.

Many people attending complained that increased payments from Social Security are automatically deducted from veterans benefit checks or welfare checks. As a result, they said many who need aid most realize no benefit from the Social Security increases.

Sen. Jordan reviewed legislative progress in the 91st Congress and pending legislation before the 92nd session which will ease the living problems for aging citizens. He said a 100 per cent minimum benefit and a $2,400 annual earning limit are among proposals.

He said improvements in the Medicare program including a "health care maintenance" plan and chiropractic care are among proposals.

SS hits elderly 'morals'

TWIN FALLS — The regulations governing Social Security payments to the elderly unwittingly may be contributing to "immoral conduct" among some elderly persons.

At least that was the possibility raised by one delegate to the conference on aging held here Tuesday.

The woman, who did not give her name, said present regulation cause a widow who remarries to lose a large portion of her own Social Security benefits.

As a result, she said, many older couples who seek companionship, pool financial resources and help one another do so without being legally married.

She said the price of the marriage is loss of a substantial part of the two people's combined income.

Turks try leftists in crisis

ISTANBUL (UPI) — Turkish security police raced the clock today to save the life of kidnapped Israeli Consul Ephraim Elrom. At the same time, they acted under martial law to begin putting on trial some of the 348 persons arrested as "known leftwingers" for suspected anti-government activities.

The police said they arrested Tuesday one of the five persons suspected of having carried out the actual abduction. They identified him as Ayhan Yalin, a member of the so-called "Turkish People's Liberation Army."

Police said Yalin and four others burst into the diplomat's home Monday night with a gun concealed in a bouquet of flowers.

Trains roll

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Freight and passenger trains rumbled down the tracks across the nation today as union signalmen complied with a Congressional order to end a two-day strike that shut down the rail system from coast to coast.

Congress passed emergency legislation Tuesday night ordering the 13,000-member Brotherhood of Railroad Signalmen back to work at least until Oct. 1, and giving them an interim 13.5 per cent pay increase.

President Nixon signed it into law at 10:40 p.m. EDT.

Within hours, trains began rolling out of yards around the country to deliver a two-day backlog of freight halted by the strike, which forced shutdown of some mines and factories, and caused slowdowns in a number of industries.

Passenger service was reported near normal this morning on most of the country's railroads, including the busy commuter runs into New York, Chicago and some other major cities, where thousands of workers were inconvenienced by the strike.

The new Amtrak national passenger system announced that all but four of 184 intercity trains it operates were being restored today, with all service operating Thursday.

Signalmen President C. J. Chamberlain immediately ordered union members to return to the job-but warned there would be another strike if the rail carriers failed to negotiate a settlement — a goal that has eluded the union and the carriers in 21 months of contract talks.

"This is another case where the railroad industry was rescued by Congress from their obligation to settle labor disputes through the collective bargaining process," Chamberlain said. "If the rail industry does not fulfill its responsibility during the extended period, it is possible that there will be another rail crisis on Oct. 1 of this year."

The walkout shut down virtually all rail service in the country because most of the nation's other 600,000 rail workers observed picket lines. The strike crippled commuter traffic in major cities and brought on economic squeeze by stopping shipment of vital goods. Thousands of auto workers were laid off or put on half days Tuesday.

Labor Secretary James Hodgson said he expected partial train service to be restored this morning and full service later in the day.

Commuter railroads in the New York metropolitan area said they expected full service for this morning's rush hour. Commuter lines in other urban areas promised at least partial service.

Nixon said he signed the congressional resolution "in order to end the current national railroad strike which has resulted in severe hardship to millions of Americans and would, if it continued, sharply curtail the current upturn in the nation's economy."

The signalmen, who operate the railroads' complex switches and communications equipment, have claimed they are grossly underpaid for their skilled work at a present average of $3.78 an hour.

Senate kills pullout plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate rejected today legislation to force withdrawal of 150,000 American troops from Europe over the next three years.

The vote came after Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield agreed to accept the compromise proposed by Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., over his own move to require the cut — halving the U.S. garrison in Europe — by the end of this year.

The vote all but spelled an end to Mansfield's effort to require the Nixon administration to cut the 309,000-man U.S. force.

Administration supporters, who made a massive lobbying campaign against the Mansfield amendment said passage even of the Nelson compromise would be a "disastrous mistake" because the Soviets would have no incentive to negotiate a mutual troop withdrawal.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., said the amendment "would remove any incentive for the U.S.S.R. to reduce their forces."

Strike gives 'out'

TWIN FALLS — One ironic side effect of the short-lived nationwide railroad strike is that it may have been of some help to a few Idaho potato farmers.

Potato producers who had contracted to deliver potatoes following the close of the Idaho potato futures market had found themselves unable to deliver their crop — which can mean heavy financial penalty to the defaulting producer.

But with the strike interfering with ordinary delivery procedures, the president of the Chicago Mercantile Exchange, Everett Harris, announced that persons unable to deliver their produce would be able to settle their contracts at the final price registered at the close of the exchange on May 10 — $5.82 per hundredweight.

One relieved "short" Twin Falls farmer reportedly delivered a 100-pound sack of potatoes to a neighbor who is one of the signalmen who had unwittingly "delivered" the farmer's potatoes while halting the railroads.

Business college to close

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls Business College, which has taught business subjects to hundreds of women and more than a few men in its 20 years of operation, is closing its doors for good.

Students have been told that the college will not operate next year, but Karl Black, a partner in the school, refused comment on the reason.

"We just aren't ready for a formal announcement yet," Black told the Times-News. He admitted costs have been increasing sharply, and that student enrollment is down to "about 40."

Local milk price rises

By LEE TREMAINE
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — Milk prices in the Twin Falls area have taken a marked jump ranging from seven to 11.5 per cent, but the reasons given for the increases vary widely.

Twin Falls dairies blame the price rise on the "authorized federal price" allowed by the federal government. A dairy operator said the U.S. Department of Agriculture "sets the price each April 1," and that the increase of 27 cents per hundredweight amounted to "about eight cents per gallon" at the wholesale level.

"We're just passing along the increases," he said. "We're not increasing our profit," the dairy operator insisted.

A different picture is presented at the retail level, where the eight-cent-per-gallon has become a 12-cent-per-gallon jump handed to the consumers.

Profit is the motive, a grocer admitted. "We were not even making a profit before, so we increased the price a bit higher," he said. "We can't go on selling the milk for nothing."

The price at one retail outlet has jumped from $1.04 for a gallon of low-fat milk to $1.16 — a 12-cent jump. The wholesale price for the same milk has gone up eight cents, so in effect the grocer is socking it to the consumer at the rate of 50 per cent above the wholesale increase.

The reason for the wholesale price increase, according to a Twin Falls grocer, is that "the government has taken off all the subsidies paid to the producers so they have to increase their prices."

On the other hand, a dairy operator in Twin Falls says the government pays a subsidy to producers, keeping the price high.

Dairies supplying the milk at wholesale insist that the increase is "only about seven per cent" — eight cents per gallon — while the retail increase amounts to 11.5 per cent.

In contrast, dairies have not increased the price of their "half-and-half" coffee cream, and are holding the fort on yogurt and whipping cream, largely because of the growing competition presented by the artificial non-dairy "creamers" which require no refrigeration.

SST defeat nears

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate moved toward burial once again of the SST program today amid arguments it would be foolish to stop it and irresponsible to continue it.

The Senate was expected to vote, and kill — late in the day, possibly at a night meeting, a House-approved move to revive the supersonic transport program by converting an $85.3 million appropriation intended for terminating the program into a fund for continuing it.

In the test, each hydrant is flushed and the flow tested to make certain there is no blockage and the hydrant is in working order. Chief Bopp said any necessary repairs found to be needed through the testing will be made.

Spray deodorants called dangerous

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Repeated use of some commercial underarm aerosol deodorants can lead to clinical lung disease in certain persons, an Army doctor warned Monday in a report to a medical conference. Lt. Col. George W. Ward Jr. of the Fitzsimons Army Hospital in Denver, told the American Thoracic Society that two brands of deodorant figured in the cases of five men and two women whose lungs were affected. He refused to name them because of the preliminary nature of his investigation and the uncertainty of the chemicals involved. Ward told the society, which is meeting here as a division of the National Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association Conference, that the seven persons were affected by sarcoidosis—formation of fibrous tissue in the lungs. He said he treated two women roommates for the disease and found no physical explanation for their illness. "On close questioning, the only common factor was the daily use for more than two years of the same brand of underarm aerosol deodorant," Ward's report said.

Alaska cyclist's goal

TWIN FALLS — A Brigham Young University graduate student working on a doctorate in physical education is taking a "physical vacation" — riding a bicycle from Phoenix, Ariz., to Fairbanks, Alaska.

Marc Sorenson, 27, said the trip has "probably never been done before." He stopped in Twin Falls long enough Tuesday to visit with the Times-News.

He is riding a French-made bicycle equipped with a series of sprockets and a gearshift giving him a 15-speed "transmission." "I can almost climb straight up a tree with the lowest gear," he said.

Merchants rap intersection

TWIN FALLS — Views of downtown merchants, in some cases taking on customer comment aspects, show a general approval of the Urban Renewal and Downtown Improvement projects but strong disapproval of the traffic situation at the Shoshone Street - Main Avenue Intersection.

Promoted

DON HUGHES, a member of the Twin Falls Police force since September, 1968, has been promoted to sergeant, Chief Frank Barnett said today. He is one of four uniformed sergeants with the department, and was chosen after a written examination and review by superior officers.

Figures reported today by Twin Falls Jaycees were compiled from questionnaires sent out early this spring to all downtown shops and stores.

A total of 80.8 per cent said they do not approve of the main intersection traffic pattern in which Shoshone is a through street with no traffic light and with stop signs regulating Main Avenue traffic.

On the same question, 13.5 per cent said they approve of the intersection and 5.8 per cent made other comments.

They camp out overnight in their tent, Sorenson said. They can usually find a campground, but in Arizona they had to camp right beside the road one night.

The recent Magic Valley windstorm forced them to stop at Nat-Soo-Pah Monday night, Sorenson said.

"We have lost two full days because of the weather so far," he explained.

They started from Mesa, where he was given his bicycle by a friendly Mesa bicycle dealer, Wayne Sherwood, on May 5, and hope to make it to Fairbanks before the end of June. He averages 100 to 110 miles a day when the weather is not too bad, he said.

"I figure I eat as much every day as a family of three or four people. I must average around 9,000 to 10,000 calories a day," he said.

Even though Sorenson is a muscular person with a liking for what he terms the "physical life," he found the first two days of his bicycle journey difficult. "They were miserable," he said. "But I toughened in and now ride as much as 12 hours a day. I love every minute of it."

Parking area wins approval

TWIN FALLS — City council members decided to be "affirmative" Monday night regarding construction of a parking area at Harry Barry Park.

A motion to continue construction of the parking area between Wiseman and Borah Avenues passed unanimously, council members agreed. It will benefit the area.

Church, Andrus stand assailed

By O. A. (GUS) KELKER
Times-News Editor

TWIN FALLS — Sen. Frank Church and Gov. Cecil Andrus were accused today of doing a "diservice" to the taxpayers of Idaho by not supporting the revenue sharing plan advocated by President Nixon.

The accusation was made Tuesday evening by Doug Kramer, chairman of the Republican Central Committee of Twin Falls County, during a reception honoring Sen. Len Jordan and Cong. Orval Hansen. Sponsored by the Republican Women's Organization, the reception was held at the CSI student union building.

"I call upon them to lay politics aside for the good of the people of this state. To do otherwise appears to me to be nothing more than ignoring the needs of Idaho in the interest of discrediting a Nixon administration policy which would aid us tremendously."

Kramer made his remarks during a discussion with the press at that meeting. The Republican official said that "it is obvious that the people of Idaho cannot pay any more taxes and under Nixon's plan a good portion of the federal taxes now paid would be returned to the state."

The reception for Sen. Jordan and Cong. Hansen attracted more than 100. Both officials conferred with the visitors individually and in small groups rather than making any formal statements.

Kramer said revenue sharing would provide the state with the money needed for "such necessary things" as help to education, the kindergarten program and public health.

Sen. Jordan returned to Boise Tuesday night and flew to Washington D. C. this morning to take part in the contemplated SST vote this afternoon. Cong. Hansen left for Idaho Falls. Tonight he will address members of the graduating class at St. Anthony High School, substituting for the Senator who had to cancel because of the Washington vote.

Cancer Fight

There is precedence for the hope that if we spend enough money and scientific energy, we can find a cure for cancer.

There have been other notable successes in the age-old battle against disease. But, as progress has been made in eliminating some diseases as killers, others, such as heart disease and cancer, have increased their toll.

The massive World War II drive to develop the atomic bomb, the man-made killer of appalling violence, may also have given us indirectly an important weapon against cancer, the radio-active isotope.

It would be easy to squander money on research for a cancer cure by appropriating excessive sums for quick spending with the resultant duplication of effort and an army of bureaucrats to handle the paperwork.

We hope that Congress will accept President Nixon's proposal for an additional $100 million dollar appropriation to start the national attack on cancer, which could claim the lives of as many as one quarter of all living Americans, if not checked.

The President said he considered his recommendation adequate for openers and that more money would be forthcoming if and when it is needed.

This seems to us a far more sensible approach than Senator Ted Kennedy's proposal to spend four times as much and to set up still another new and separate agency to spend the money.

On Sudan

At a time when America is struggling to extricate itself from Vietnam, Russia appears to be getting involved in a "Vietnam" of its own — the war in Sudan which has been going on for the past nine years.

Russia-watchers in Washington have evidence that in the past six months 100 to 200 Soviet military advisers have been directly planning and participating in the counter-guerrilla operations of the Arab-led Sudan army against the Africans of southern Sudan.

A larger group of 300 or more Russians pilot and service Soviet-built helicopters and bombers supporting combat operations in the south. Up to 1,000 Soviet personnel in all are estimated to be supporting the Arabs as advisers, pilots, ground crews and missile technicians.

Soviet bombings in southern Sudan since October, according to U.S. intelligence information, have been carried out by five Antonov-24 aircraft armed with air-to-ground rockets and some of the 12 TU-16 medium bombers based in Sudan.

The Soviets are the principal backers of the army regime of Gen. Gaafar L. Muneiri, which seized power in May, 1969, with the stated purpose of bringing "Arab socialism" to all of Sudan.

power in May, 1969, with the stated purpose of bringing "Arab socialism" to all of Sudan.

Oposing them in the south are the Anyanya guerrillas, the military wing of the African movement. The six million southerners (population of Sudan is 15 million) have demanded full regional autonomy, including control of the army, police, civil service, schools and economy in the south, as well as the freedom to practice Christianity and speak English, as opposed to the north's Islamic religion and insistence on the use of Arabic throughout Sudan.

The southern guerrillas' principal support has come from Israeli airdrops of light weaponry and ammunition in the past year.

The Sudan war is thus increasingly viewed as an extension of the Middle East conflict. Soviet arms are believed to be both to establish a strong base from which Soviet naval power can be projected into the Red Sea and the Persian Gulf and to bottle up the Israelis on their Red Sea flank.

It is also seen as part of a longer-range Soviet strategy to influence Africa, continue to dominate the Arab world and to leapfrog beyond the Mediterranean and the West European NATO defense system.

Paging Change

Despite much trepidation, shaking of heads and silent misgivings, the Senate appears on the threshold of inviting girls into the ranks of its pages. Having won approval of the Rules Committee, the issue now awaits floor action.

One condition is that individual senators who appoint girl pages would have to be responsible for their safety. Sen. Hugh Scott sees no problem there. All the boy pages, he said, have volunteered their services as escorts.

MR. SPECTATOR

The Man And Plan

Mr. Spectator received a little note from one Joe Sheppard, who lives out on Route One.

Mr. Sheppard is disturbed — but he has a plan. What is it? Here it is: "I have a plan. If adopted, this plan is an almost foolproof solution for problems that confront our government. It concerns the minority and silent majority, a minority that can be jailed for trying to expose a majority. The silent majority rules!"

"Since the minority is fighting the Vietnam War it seems appropriate that the majority should relieve the minority. Then Capitol Hill wouldn't have to clean up all the garbage (medals) the Vietnam veterans are tossing in that direction.

soldiers escorted by a platoon of rubber-toothed bull dogs. Send them to Vietnam and the war would end tomorrow.

"Anyone who thinks this plan would work — why not write President Nixon? Be patriotic. Be the first to donate a rubber toothed bull dog. You'll probably get results."

WASHINGTON Political embarrassments keep plaguing John W. Gardner as he discretely disclaims presidential ambitions and proudly professes the non-partisan status of his new Common Cause organization. Now it develops that Common Cause has had to apologize for an aide who posed as a White House functionary in soliciting information for Gardner's "people's lobby." It is a bit of underhanded amateurism which will not help the Cause or its noble image.

Moreover — alas and alack —

It is Colorado's Republican national committee-woman who blew the whistle on Common Cause's "White House" aide. Mrs. Jo Anne Gray of Denver says she has had a written apology for the incident.

Last month Mrs. Gray received a telephone call from a Charles Cobb who said he was calling from the White House to determine the status of the 18-year-old vote in the Colorado Legislature. She gave the caller her best off hand reading of the situation.

The following day Mrs. Gray made a detailed check and then

By way of reply, Mrs. Gray says she received an apologetic phone call and then a letter from Ian MacGowan, head of the 18-year-old vote project for Common Cause, who advised that Cobb is no longer with that organization. She says she was told that Cobb had made similar "White House" calls in other states.

Mrs. Gray tells us that the non-partisan nature of the Cause was already suspect in Colorado, since the state chairman, Craig Barnes, ran unsuccessfully for Congress as a Democrat. In her letter to Cobb she complained that Common Cause habitually supports what she calls "the Democratic party's left wing philosophy."

"Non-partisan?" asked GOP Committeewoman Gray, "When are you going to start calling a spade a spade? I'd suggest you begin by properly identifying yourself and by telling the truth about yourself and your group."

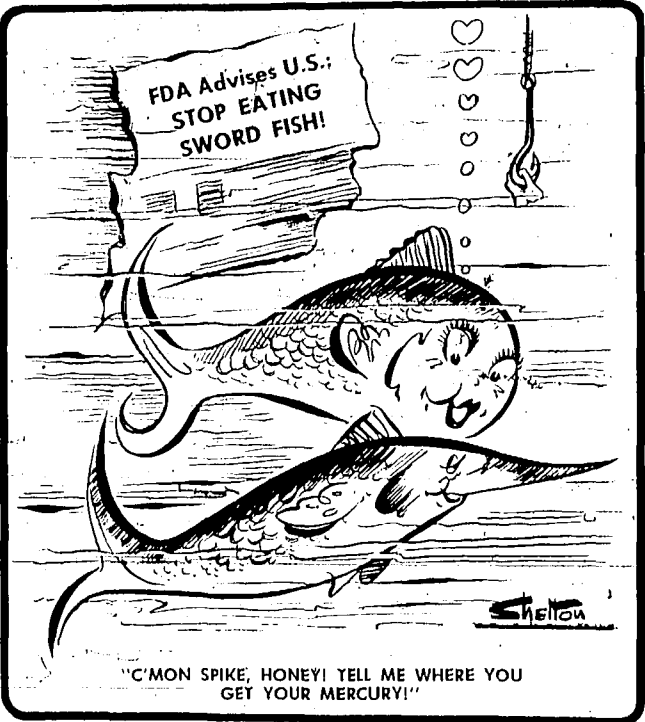

Even in its shedding of the White House mantle, Common Cause has annoyed Colorado Republicans. At one point in the controversy Rep. Mike McKeivitt, R-Colo., was advised that Mrs. Gray's gentleman caller had come to Common Cause as a former employee of the Republican National Committee.

The GOP national committee has checked its records here and has advised that Cobb was never employed. It found that Cobb occasionally did volunteer work for the District of Columbia GOP committee but that he was never employed by the D. C. Republicans either.

In her letter, Mrs. Gray also recalled Gardner's last political flap by asserting that Common Cause "even allowed the Democratic National Committee to use part of your membership list to raise funds."

The Republican national chairman, Sen. Bob Dole, R-Kans., had questioned the use by the Democrats of the Common Cause membership lists for partisan fund-raising. Gardner told Dole that a partial list was supplied the Democrats on an exchange basis, in return for an equal number of names.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Rhinitis

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is vasomotor rhinitis and can it be cured? — M. U.

It's an ailment that primarily bothers folks with a predisposition to allergies. It somewhat resembles hay fever — a boggy swelling of the membranes of the nose and a watery discharge.

But while hay fever is due to various pollens, and therefore occurs at certain seasons, vasomotor rhinitis drags on and on.

Since it is a matter of something irritating the membranes, it often takes considerable detective work to discover what household dust is a common offender. Pets can be responsible. Some others are cosmetics (powders and perfumes) or industrial or household chemicals.

Foods are not a common offender in this type of allergy, but there are cases of it. But because there are so many possibilities, the quickest way to find out is to take the long way around — go to an allergist and let him run series of tests, to rule out innocent materials and — we hope rapidly — find out what is offending.

A little suspected cause — little suspected by patients but very much suspected by physicians — is the persistent use of nose drops or inhalants. These materials shrink the nasal membranes, temporarily, and the patient, noting this relief, keeps on using them.

The trouble is that there is a "rebound" effect. After the nose drops have worn off, the membranes become more watery than ever, so the patient is trapped in an endless circle. It is often difficult to persuade a patient to stop using the nose drops, yet giving them up sometimes can show improvement in as little as a week. Obviously it's well worth a try.

Until the materials that cause the irritation are identified, the congestion and drippiness can be reduced by the use of antihistamine preparations taken by mouth.

Keep in mind that the dosage should be regulated carefully, because antihistamines can cause drowsiness, and that can interfere with your driving, perhaps with your work.

Alcohol can intensify the drowsiness — another point worth bearing in mind.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: You said a vasotomy operation is regarded as permanent. Would it be possible for this tube or duct to grow back again in a few years? In other words, would it be possible to have this operation, then 10 years later father a child? — R. L.

There is such a thing as "recanalization," meaning that nature recreates a passageway, so what you suggest is possible. As the operation is done these days, a sufficient gap is made, and the ends of the duct are tied off, so the prospects of recanalization are mighty slim indeed, however.

When I wrote that the operation should be "regarded as permanent," I meant that people shouldn't have this surgery with the expectation that they can have it undone later. At times this can be done, but since in so many instances the duct cannot be reconstructed, nobody should have the surgery unless he is thoroughly willing to accept it as permanent.

"You Can Stop Sinus Trouble!" is the title of my newly revised booklet explaining what sinus trouble really is and encouraging sinus sufferers to do something about it. For a copy write to Dr. Thosteson in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Times-News Public Forum

So Why Worry?

Editor, Times-News:

To the several persons who have expressed distaste for the fountain on Main Avenue, I suggest that the most sensible solution to their problem is to avoid the area of the fountain. I saw the fountain once soon after it was installed but have not been near it since.

On that occasion I drove for the first time down the renewed Main Avenue, noting with some alarm the lack of traffic lights to regulate the movement of vehicles and pedestrians and also noting with some alarm the mid-block crosswalks, their beginnings obscured by angle-parked cars and unregulated by signals. My alarm was not unwarranted for a young girl on one of those crosswalks ran out from behind the parked cars directly in front of my moving car.

I got stopped in time but it was close and it scared me. It scared the girl, too, for my car was hardly a foot from her when it stopped.

My observation even while driving had warned me that the new design of Main Avenue was dangerous and this near tragedy coming so quickly to confirm the warning convinced me that nothing on Main Avenue could possibly be worth the risk and I have never driven on it since.

I do not want to kill a little girl on the street. I do not want to kill anyone on the street. Neither do I want to spend the few remaining years of my old age in the penitentiary for homicide with an automobile. For these reasons I wish to make an observation that has no ill will toward the business houses concerned.

A few blocks of Main Avenue near its intersection with Shoshone Street was the original business district when Twin Falls was a village catering to customers using horse drawn vehicles. As such, it has been obsolete for 50 years, along with the horse-drawn wagon and the steam locomotive. The area concerned is scarcely five acres while the present city of Twin Falls covers several square miles. I drove a wagon on Twin Falls' Main Avenue when it was a dirt road. I have driven automobiles on it from time to time since then. But I have driven on it for the last time.

Therefore the fountain will not offend my esthetic sensibilities for I shall never be anywhere near it. H. L. Craig Twin Falls

Editor, Times-News: I want to express my appreciation for the stand the Times-News is taking on advertising X-rated movies.

Since our family consists of several teen-age children who avidly enjoy reading the newspaper, I am glad you have removed these advertisements which were a source of revulsion. Perhaps this is one small step in helping to rid our country of moral pollution.

Mrs. Charles Miller Kimberly

Pleased

Editor, Times-News: I want to express my gratitude and support for the Times-News' in their recent decision to refuse to advertise X-rated movies.

Many people have commented to me how happy and pleased they are with this decision. These are people from all walks of life. These are people who are concerned with the future of this great land.

We are living in perilous times because of the evil practice of men. Because of this the blessings from God which are needed for preservation of happiness and life are now being denied in proportion to men's righteousness.

We appreciate your stand and are proud to have the Times-News in our home. Bob Crowley Twin Falls

The Mis-Quoters

Editor, Times-News:

I think I will think out loud for a minute or two about what I shall term Bible-Quoters, those fair-haired few who take a sentence, very often an incomplete thought submerged in a completed paragraph, from the Bible, then use it like a bludgeon to strike down evildoers of the quoter's own imagination.

Fragmentized in this manner, a book full of beautiful thoughts and wonderful writing gains the appearance of a glossary of harsh one-liners promising a warm ending for whoever commits whatever the quoters freely interpret as a sin. You see, they never quote the beautiful passages. So why should today's teenager searching for good reading pick up a book quoted by such as this: "Throw the good-for-nothing servant into the darkness outside; there man will wall and gnash their teeth!" Standing by itself, that's strong talk.

I didn't realize myself the good writing of the Bible; how could I? All I'd ever heard were the righteous sanctimonious lamenting the ill of wickedness, licentiousness, lustfulness, etc. Words were used which by size would be worth a dollar, but by repetition were reduced to a penny. Then one day in search of good writing to read I happened to see mentioned that the Biblical Story of Joseph and The Many-Colored Robe was perhaps the finest short story ever written. So I started thumbing through the Bible and fell upon the Song of Solomon; I got no further. Bible quotation: "We have a young sister, and she has no breasts yet; but what shall we do with our sister, when her woovers come? If she holds out like a wall, we will adorn her with silver for dowry; if she gives way to lovers like a door, then we will plank her up. Now I was a wall, with breasts like towers; when my darling looked at me, I won his heart."

I'd give all my marbles and hotlips to be able to write like that. If one reads the Bible to find the Essence of our Christian society, he will find it. If one reads the Bible to find critical statements with which to lambast his fellow man, he'll find that too. But he'll lose the essence. Or if one simply wants to read good writing the Bible's a sure thing. Noel T. Kraft Twin Falls

Officers ask parent, school aid in party drinking control

TWIN FALLS — Sheriff's officers in Twin Falls County have asked for cooperation of parents and school officials in helping to control drinking and driving by teen-agers during the many parties students will be holding within the next two weeks.

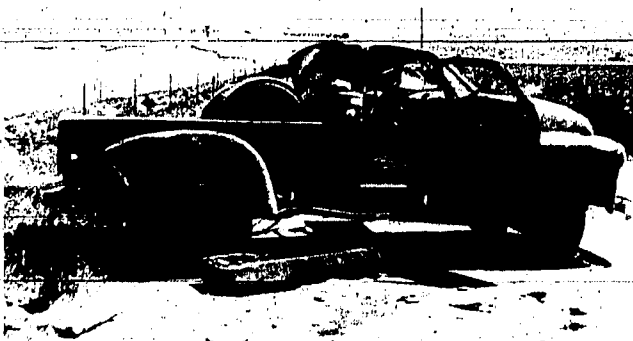

Deputy Sheriff Harold Jensen said a typical example occurred Saturday near Nat-soo-pah when five young Kimberly students escaped serious injury when a pickup truck in which they were riding went out of control on a curve and rolled over. He said several of the youths narrowly escaped death, including one who was riding in the open bed of the truck. All were thrown out, he said.

State Patrolman Chet Hillman cited the 15-year-old driver for driving while intoxicated.

Officers said the five Kimberly students had been on a swimming party and had apparently been drinking before starting home. He asked that parents attempt closer supervision over children, noting each spring at graduation time several serious accidents occur.

Kimberly School Supt. Clinton Bugg said Kimberly has had a drinking problem and efforts have been made to control it by prohibiting youngsters involved from further participation in school activities. He said one cheerleader in the high school was dropped from that position and a junior high school boy and senior high school boy were banned from school events.

He said the school has received good support from law enforcement officers in the matter but in some cases the parents protested the action. Supt. Bugg said this year plans for an all-school party at the close of the spring term were canceled because of the problem.

Wreck result

SCHOOL END PARTY by five Kimberly students ended when this pickup truck went out of control and rolled over near Nat-soo-pah. Officers say the five occupants escaped serious injury but the combination of drinking and driving often results in trouble. The 15-year old driver was charged with driving while intoxicated.

Gem colleges cut back

BOISE (UPI)—Both state universities and Boise State College are cutting planned spending for buildings and equipment for 1971-72 in order to stay within budgeted funds.

In distributing money appropriated by the legislature, the State Board of Education cut budget proposals of all three institutions. It did not cut the request of Lewis-Clark State College.

The board cut Boise State's request by $255,181 although the board did give it a 21.76 per cent increase from the present spending level.

It gave the University of Idaho $380,094 less than requested but this still was a 9.64 per cent increase from this year.

And it gave Idaho State University $165,402 less than requested but, again, that was a 9.9 per cent increase from this year's budget.

Dr. John Barnes, president of Boise State, said he plans to reduce capital outlay expenditures, planned faculty travel to conventions, workshops, and conferences both in and out of state.

"We had planned to hire 18 additional people for maintenance and property control since we have a four-story library addition, a new dormitory, a pool and physical education building and a bigger Student Union building," he said.

"But we have now reduced the number to five."

Destruction charged

TWIN FALLS — A Twin Falls teen-ager who was captured inside a rural residence early Tuesday morning has been charged with destruction of private property, according to Paul Corder, Twin Falls County Sheriff.

The sheriff said the 16-year-old girl allegedly broke a window at the home of Mrs. Peggy Laley east of Twin Falls and entered the residence about 5:20 a.m. Tuesday. Mrs. Laley held the girl until officers arrived.

The girl was released to her mother pending further action.

To: Savers of the Idaho Savings & Loan Association

Dear Saver:

In connection with the sale of the remaining assets of the Idaho Savings & Loan Association, several things have occurred which should be brought to your attention. Primarily, there is $600,000.00 additional cash available representing 17.39% greater return to the Savers because of the following:

1. The decision of the Ada County District Court allowing Continental-Western to meet the bid of Com-Tech International, Inc. was appealed by certain of the depositors to the Supreme Court of the State of Idaho. This appeal was based in part upon the fact that the Court had previously tentatively awarded the sale to Com-Tech International, Inc., and in part on the claimed inequity resulting from allowing one of the bidders to increase its bid.
2. While the matter has been pending before the Idaho Supreme Court, Com-Tech International, Inc. offered to the Conservator and to the Commissioner of Finance increased sale offers, the last being $600,000.00 greater which increased their original bid of $3,450,000.00 to $4,050,000.00. This bid represents a 17.39% greater cash return to the Saver over the Continental-Western bid approved by the Ada County District Court. The Commissioner and Conservator so far have rejected the offers of Com-Tech.
3. Legal counsel has advised that Com-Tech's new bid could be accepted even though an appeal is pending from the District Court's decision. If the higher bid were accepted by the Commissioner and Conservator, distribution of the funds to depositors could be effected in the immediate future.
4. The management, officers and directors of Com-Tech International, Inc. consists of W.W. Romney, President (Director of Continental Bank & Trust, Salt Lake City, Utah); D.L. Brussard, Secretary (Vice President of Utah Power & Light, Salt Lake City, Utah); George W. Armstrong, Vice President (California rancher); Fred J. Bacon, Jr., Business Manager (President, Bonneville-Sylvan Life Insurance Company, Salt Lake City, Utah). No shares of Com-Tech or any contractual arrangement exists with any previous employees, officers, directors, or anyone else associated with the former Idaho Savings & Loan Association.

It is our belief that if the Savers of Idaho Savings & Loan Association make known their desires as to the offer they wish accepted it should speed distribution to you.

In view of the above facts, and that 17.39% more money is available to the Savers, I urge you to make your wishes known by returning the enclosed card and also phoning and writing to the Governor, the Commissioner of Finance, and the Conservator.

Very truly yours,

Flower arrangements displayed

TWIN FALLS — Members of the Countryside Flower Club answered roll call by displaying spring arrangements at the home of Mrs. Pete Thornton Monday afternoon.

Mrs. John Pastoor gave the program on "Garden Gimmicks," saying that Americans have a way of solving problems, given a few items to make into a gimmick to make garden work easier. She showed a number of items which she personally uses in her gardening, saying that almost any item in the house could be adapted for use.

Reading from the book, "101 of the Best Gimmicks," she gave many useful pointers for garden usage, including among other things, the wearing of a gun belt with holster, in which to carry sharp knives or shears. She urged members to paint the handles of tools in bright colors, so that they could be easily found and used.

Eat without fear

NEW YORK (UPI)—A physician with 35 years' experience in toxicology and occupational diseases says Americans can eat fish without fear of mercury poisoning.

In an interview here, Dr. Leonard J. Goldwater, Chapel Hill, N.C., criticized what he called "instant experts" and "press-inspired hysteria" in the controversy over mercury in food fish.

Published reports during recent months said the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) had found excess levels of mercury in some canned tuna and in swordfish.

Both Dr. Goldwater and a Michigan physician who has made a study relating to the problem said the mercury levels reported were not dangerously high. Dr. Goldwater added that mercury not only occurs naturally in all food, but that it has been used in medicine for centuries.

"Mercurial diuretics for kidney-disease patients are given in amounts many thousands of times greater than have been found in fish or other foods—often with life-saving results," he said.

Dr. Goldwater is professor of community health sciences at Duke University, visiting professor of environmental sciences at the University of North Carolina, professor emeritus of occupation medicine at Columbia University and consultant to such varied groups as the World Health Organization, the Environmental Protection Agency, the fishing, canning and paint industries and mercury producers.

Trumpeter Al Hirt has been added as co-star to the NBC summer replacement series, "Make Your Own Kind of Music," joining the Carpenters, the Doodletown Pipers and Mark Lindsay. A new premiere date for the 8-9 p.m. Tuesday show is July 20.

A Lovelier You

FOUND: A SOURCE OF BEAUTY

By Mary Sue Miller

Since bulrush days women have found solace in bathing. Today of course the bath is found to be a beauty spa, as more and more cosmetics appear for pampering the head-to-toe complexion.

Sometimes the loveliers are presented in a collection for the purpose of providing complete body care. And that seems a large plus in this era of increased body awareness.

While each has a different use, such items as these are designed to work together — synergistically — to enhance results: three sea blue coolers for morning baths and four golden rich potions for evening cure. Seven sources of beauty — count 'em!

Maybe you think that's a big much. Well, how would you like to find yourself on a scorching hot morning in a wake-up sea of softening bath crystals? Could you stand a splash of icy body pick-up and moisture veil thereafter? Why you'd be air-conditioned for the day and look it.

Your evening ablutions might foam with cleansing gel or, if your skin is dry from weathering, with ultra smoothing oil. As a super finish, you could massage with a body "preserver," releasing special lipids and emollients. Regular use is said to act as a torso and thigh, bust and body firming.

Seems if we girls want to get in the swim, the jumping-off place is the bath.

NEW BEAUTY FOR DRY SKIN — For ways to keep past-30 skin smooth and dewy, order my leaflet, NEW BEAUTY FOR DRY SKIN. It tells in personalized steps how to cleanse, correct, protect and make up for dryness. To obtain your copy, write to Mary Sue Miller in care of this newspaper, enclosing self-addressed, stamped envelope and 15 cents in coin.

Newsman named to Gem post

BOISE (UPI)—Barrett Rainey, presently the congressional correspondent for a Washington, D.C., television and radio station, has been appointed administrator of the Idaho Division of Communications.

Rainey replaces Delbert E. Colwell, and will receive $14,472 per year in the post, according to acting Director of Administrative Services, Robert Lenzghen.

In announcing the appointment Monday, Lengshen said Gov. Cecil D. Andrus approved the choice.

Rainey was director of closed-circuit television for the Strategic Air Command for three years while serving in the Air Force. He has 12 years experience in commercial broadcasting in Omaha, Idaho Falls, Pocatello and Boise.

Rainey served as Andrus' press secretary when the chief executive made his first bid for governor.

Al Balzer, currently acting administrator of communications, will become assistant administrator and will be responsible primarily for construction and repair work in the communications division.

Evacuated

IDAHO FALLS (UPI) — The engineering testing reactor building at the National Reactor Testing Station was evacuated early today after increased radiation levels set off the building's safety alarm system.

There was no release of radioactive gases or particulate material.

Deteriorating

SUFFERING from negligence save for the attentions of vandals, the Union Pacific depot and company house which has served Wendell since 1908 is still standing but is in deteriorating conditions. The large white frame building is too large to be easily moved from its site at the south end of Wendell, where it stands along the branch line serving Northside communities. However, many residents of Wendell believed that the structure should be preserved for its historical value.

Parents urged to have bicyclists learn rules

BOISE — Suggesting parents take advantage of the bicycle safety programs planned by Idaho Jaycees, the Department of Law Enforcement asks them:

"Before permitting your child to ride a bicycle on a street or highway, are you sure he has a basic understanding of how to handle traffic situations and regulated?"

The Jaycees this year approved sponsoring of bicycle safety clinics as one of its statewide programs and presently are making plans to offer instructions in areas where there are clubs.

Various civic organizations, clubs and schools have cooperated in the past with state and local law enforcement agencies to provide this bicycle safety knowledge.

Law Enforcement Commissioner John Bender, Boise, told the Jaycees at the state convention, "It is my hope you will be able to reach all of the more than 100,000 bike riders in the state this year."

Gov. Cecil D. Andrus has given his support to the program and issued a proclamation noting the beginning of bicycle safety clinics in Idaho with a goal of making Idaho the safest state for bike riders.

Said the commissioner, "In the thunder of more than 300 motor vehicle traffic fatalities last year in Idaho, the highway deaths of two bicyclists might almost go unnoticed — except to parents, relatives, friends and the motorists directly involved — were it not for aspects which made these deaths particularly pitiful."

A 10-year-old lost his life when he rode from a side road into the side of a car and a 13-year-old was killed when he rode out of a driveway into the path of a vehicle.

Additionally last year, 139 bike riders, all of a tender age, suffered various injuries as the result of bicycle-vehicle accidents.

"It is important," Commissioner Bender said, "that bike riders know how to ride safely and know the rules of the road, and this they can acquire at bike safety clinics."

Many of the bike riders involved in accidents last year were victims of their own mistakes, records show, with cyclists committing contributing driver infractions.

Failure to stop for stop signs or when entering the highway from driveways or side roads were among the most common mistakes, followed by riding against traffic instead of with it, improper turn or lane changes and riding in darkness without proper lighting equipment.

"Bicycle safety programs," Bender said, "are designed to help youngsters not make these errors and to instruct riders how to keep their vehicles in safe riding condition.

He pointed out learning to ride a bicycle often consists only of achieving balance and control without benefit of any systematic training in the understanding of traffic patterns and risks.

"Youth, inexperience and flexible cycle operation all can contribute to unsafe riding," Bender said, "and can prove dangerous in combination with other circumstances — like rush traffic, vision obstructions or a bike that's too big for its rider."

Bicycle manufacturers and the Bicycle Institute of America suggests the top crossbar of a bike should be no higher than the top of the rider's hip and he should be able to reach the ground comfortably with the ball of his foot when seated on the bicycle.

Said one safety expert, "A bicycle a child must grow into is a real safety hazard, with the risks far outweighing the dollars saved by buying for the future."

Commissioner Bender said, "Bicycle safety programs are not meant to supplant parental influence."

"Adult guidance is essential at the earliest stages of riding to help the child understand and respond to the full implication of traffic rules, environmental deficiencies and personal responsibilities," he said.

Funds asked for dam

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Inland Empire Waterways Assn. today asked congress for an additional $81.5 million in funding with the bulk of it going to continue construction of the Lower Granite Dam and to modify three existing dams on the Snake River to stop increased fish kills.

The federal budget for fiscal year 1972 shows a total of $472, 119,000 for projects of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, the Bureau of Reclamation and Bonneville Power Administration in the Pacific Northwest, for construction, maintenance and operation.

The largest single increase being sought is $15 million to supplement the budget provision of $55 million for continued construction of Lower Granite Dam on the Lower Snake River.

Funds for the project were exhausted March 15, 1971 and contractors are carrying on the work under their own financing, according to the IEWA.

The IEWA also seeks an additional $13.2 million for installation of multi-purpose bulkheads at Ice Harbor, Lower Monumental and Little Goose Dams on the Lower Snake in an effort to halt the nitrogen supersaturation problem, which is killing migrating anadromous fish.

The nitrogen entrapment occurs when water, in excess of that passed through generators, plunges over spillways.

Each dam has three generators in place, with provision made in construction for an eventual three more. The bulkheads will be installed in the unused bays to allow more passage of water through, rather than over the dam.

An additional $3.5 million is also sought at the Dworshak Dam Project on the Clearwater River for increasing the efficiency of fish-rearing facilities. At Libby, Dam, Montana, the IEWA seeks $8.8 million — $5 million to remove an extensive rock slide that occurred Jan. 1, 1971 and $1.1 million for advance work on modifying Bonneville Dam for peaking power purposes.

The IEWA asked for $3.6 million for completion of the 40-foot channel on the Lower Columbia River and Willamette River to facilitate navigation to the Inland area.

An additional $2.1 million is requested for carrying forward work on the Columbia Basin Irrigation Project in central Washington.

An additional $2.3 million was requested to advance work on the Tualatin Project in Oregon for which the budget provides $1.5 million.

The IEWA also asked for $2.9 million for recreational facilities needed at completed projects, pointing out it had found 17 projects "badly behind schedule" with total requirements.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Prices were slightly higher in relatively light trading on the New York Stock Exchange Wednesday.

A three-hour turnover of around 7,500,000 shares was almost five million shares below Tuesday's at a comparable period.

Part of the market's rise was attributed to bargain hunting after the sharp setback earlier in the week, and part to the Congressional back-to-work order ending the two-day rail strike.

Near 1:15 p.m., the Dow Jones industrial average showed a gain of 1.27 at 919.83. Advances declined, 736 to 500, among the 1,573 issues crossing the tape. Standard & Poor's 500 stock index was up 0.30 at 101.13.

Among the day's most active issues were Weyerhaeuser off 1/4 on 222,500 shares, Consolidated Foods unchanged on 133,300 shares, First National City up 1/4 on 126,400 shares, Public Service Electric & Gas down 1/4 on 102,000 shares, Commercial Solvents up 1/4 on 91,200 shares, and Telex Corp. up 1/4 on 72,700 shares.

Less active Motorola was ahead 3/4, Superior Oil 2. Up a point or so were Du Pont (general dividend), Natomas, General Electric, Fairchild Camera, Federal National Mortgage and Bausch & Lomb.

AMP Inc., however, was off 3/4.

Camas students complete tractor safety course

FAIRFIELD — A group of Camas County 14-16 year old students have completed a course of 25 hours of instruction in safe tractor operation. Thirteen boys and girls participated.

The course was conducted by Vo-Ag Instructor Olani Beal and Camas County Agent William Hazen. Safe operation of farm equipment was the theme throughout the course.

Importance of safety shields, fenders, brakes, lights, properly adjusted brakes was stressed. Machine maintenance for safety was discussed and the way to maintain a machine was demonstrated.

Practical experience was gained through the operation of a tractor and a two-wheeled manure spreader. The participants had to drive forward and back through a type of obstacle course in a given length of time.

Children under the age of 16 must have special instruction in order to work. After they have passed a training course and are certified for work, the employer must have a copy of the certificate and keep it on file. Failure to comply to this law can mean a fine of $1,000 and a year in jail for the employer, Hazen said.

This new law was the reason for the course being taught to the Camas County youth. All the participants are hoping that they can find work this summer in the farm industry. They also have some appreciation for the safe operation of farm machinery, he said.

Irrigation plan gathers support

COEUR D'ALENE (UPI) — Efforts to get the East Greenacres unit of the Rathdrum Prairie Project off the ground are beginning to get some key support.

Rep. James McClure, R-Idaho, sponsor of the project, said Monday he had received a letter from commissioner of the Bureau of Reclamation Ellis L. Armstrong indicating the "bureau would have the capability to start construction on the project in fiscal 1972 if $400,000 was appropriated for this purpose.

The project is a plan to irrigate 5,200 acres of the East Greenacres and Rathdrum Prairie areas north and west of here.

McClure said Armstrong wrote him the $400,000 would permit "the accumulation of field data, the drilling of four test wells, preparation of designs and specifications, and the initiation of the contract for the drilling of the main supply wells."

The project was approved last year by Congress. However, the federal officials failed to appropriate any funds for implementation of the project.

Wednesday, the public works subcommittee of the House Committee on Appropriations turns its attention to McClure's request for funding for the $5.2 million project.

Crops make rapid gains last week

BOISE (UPI) — A government report indicates farm crops made rapid growth in Idaho last week as warm weather prevailed throughout the state.

The U.S. Department of Commerce and the U.S. Department of Agriculture said light rains in the north and east helped spur crop development.

Potato planting was about 85 per cent complete in the southwest. In the southcentral and eastern portions of the state over 50 per cent of the potatoes were in the ground.

Spring grain seeding was nearly complete except for localized areas in eastern Idaho. Emergence of spring grains was complete in the southwest and southcentral portions of the state, about 75 per cent complete in the north, and nearly 30 per cent complete in the south.

Rupert man sent to prison

RIVERTON, Wyo. (UPI) — A 33-year-old Rupert, Idaho man once charged in connection with the beating death of an 80-year-old Wyoming man has been sentenced to 4-8 years in state prison for robbing the victim.

Leo Walking Bull pleaded guilty to the robbery charge after other charges involving the November, 1970, death of Orrin Stevens of Hudson, Wyo., were dropped. Stevens was severely beaten in October, 1970. After treatment at a hospital he returned home, but lapsed into a coma and died.

Walking Bull was returned to Wyoming from Idaho where he was arrested.

Program keeps kids off street

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (UPI) — Schools have closed for the day here. On a rundown section of Newark Avenue a policeman walks his late afternoon beat, passing a row of boarded-up stores.

At the end of the block stand the Hudson Garden apartments — one of eight World War II projects housing 15,500 "low-income" persons.

Children gather in a basement room of one of the equal, four-story buildings. They sip milk out of cartons, create crayon drawings and sometimes turn to homework studies in an atmosphere warmed by the sound of happy chatter.

They and up to 3,000 other schoolchildren in similar rooms throughout the city are participants in a unique federal program aimed at keeping them properly fed and off congested streets between the time school lets out and dinner is served at home.

The program, funded by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Food and Nutrition Service, is simple, and is implemented through the energetic involvement of a corps of volunteers and manager of the city's Housing Authority.

The federal government's only role, in fact, is to provide 10 cents a day per child along with a supply of surplus basic foodstuffs. Ten cents doesn't stretch far in an average American family's budget, and food supplies frequently seem to be mainly peanut butter and jelly. But there are always flour and butter.

'Mafia' leaders deported

ISLE OF LINGOSA, Sicily (UPI) — Sixteen reputed Mafia chiefs were deported Tuesday to this tiny speck in the Mediterranean, where police hoped to keep them in isolation until gangland violence on Sicily ends.

Several of the men, police said, have close ties with organized crime in the United States.

The men were rounded up Sunday and Monday in a secret operation and shipped aboard a passenger boat to Lingosa, a horseshoe shaped isle between Malta and Tunisia. It has only one car — a police jeep — and a population of 387.

All 18 men were rounded up in Sicilian and mainland towns under a Fascist era law used by dictator Benito Mussolini to crush opponents.

Among the 16, police said, were 10 men reputed to control the Mafia in Palermo. Other men, they said, led gangs in Agrigento, Trapani and Caltanissetta.

Public support said cleanup key

BOISE (UPI) — The director of Idaho's Air Pollution Control Commission said Tuesday such problems would be solved only when there is a "serious commitment from our society."

Al Elguren told an Idaho Press Club luncheon his regulatory agency has been limited to the "bandaid approach — just patch up the problems."

He said the commission has had to control industrial pollution, which he indicated was "very obvious" and therefore not difficult to tackle and urban air pollution, which he said was more elusive and harder to control.

Eventually, he indicated, many problems would be policed by local officials, leaving the commission itself to control the larger problems, set standards and render technical assistance.

But, Elguren said, education of the public is "the single most important task in environmental control."

"The public concern has been our most effective enforcement tool," he said. "A sort of ride over the heads of polluters and they know everybody is watching them."

He said industry was unwilling to "absolutely shatter" public image by ignoring pollution control standards, but said in some instances in other states industry had balked at extensive regulations.

Elguren said the first regulations, the "minimal ones," were drawn in Idaho in 1969 and said for the next year the commission worked with major industry to set standards.

The next project, he said, will be to draw up comprehensive plans by February to reach national air quality standards which must be achieved by 1975 under the Environmental Pollution Agency directive.

Elguren named Kellogg, Lewiston, Boise and Pocatello as the four problem areas in the state, but said each had a "somewhat unique problem."

Pakistani aid ripped

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, criticized use of American-supplied weapons in the Pakistan Civil War Tuesday and urged an end to military ties with Pakistan.

Church, supporting a resolution which urges a stop to U.S. military support in Pakistan, said "for its savage crackdown on Bengalis, the Pakistan Army used imported guns, automatic weapons, mortars, artillery, armored personnel carriers, tanks, airplanes and ammunition."

"The officers in charge were men trained in the U. S. or Great Britain," Church said.

Church said the U. S. government had circumvented its own 1967 arms embargo on "lethal end items" by transacting "sales to Pakistan that were averaging $10 million per year and that amount $2.5 million went for ammunition."

Church said he would offer legislation later in the year to drastically alter the export of American arms in the future "in the hope that the United States will end its addiction to arming diplomacy, and stop pressing armaments on other nations."

Pact given

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U. S. Geological Survey is awarding a contract to Helicopters Inc., Boise, Rep. James McClure, R-Idaho, said Tuesday.

McClure said the $136,000 contract will be used to facilitate field surveying operations in Arizona, California, Nevada, Oregon and Utah.

Controls expensive

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department says it spent $1.2 million during antiwar demonstrations in Washington the first week of May.

The figure does not include the cost of wages and food for the 10,000 GIs and Marines who were positioned around the city, since the Pentagon would have been spending for those items anyway. Only about 6,000 troops were ever committed to city streets.

The district government is to reimburse the Pentagon for the expenditures, which included blankets and c-rations handed out to the thousands of imprisoned protesters.

Advance in Laos

WORSENING military situation in Laos brought evacuation of wives and children of American government personnel from Lakse (1) in vicinity of new North Vietnamese offensive. Black death rate off

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Negro death rate in Vietnam, once a subject of major controversy, fell in 1970 to almost half what it was four years earlier.

A few years ago there were complaints blacks were being sent to Vietnam in unrepresentative numbers and shunted into combat to die.

Pentagon figures show that from 1962 to the end of 1966, 16 per cent of all combat dead were blacks, although they comprise only 11 per cent of the U. S. population.

This led to charges from some black militants that the Pentagon was all but practicing genocide.

But as the war has progressed the proportion of blacks among the dead has fallen dramatically. Statistics just released show the Negro death rate fell by almost half in 1970 to 8.8 per cent.

As of Dec. 31, 1970, Negroes formed 9.8 per cent of all the men in uniform and 11 per cent of the troops in Southeast Asia.

Thus in 1970 for the first time the percentage of black dead was lower than the percentage of Negroes in the services.

The Pentagon did not announce the decline in the Negro death rate — apparently because it did not know about it.

Parasite outbreak reported

MOUNTAIN HOME, Idaho (UPI) — Mountain Home Air Force Base personnel have been warned that the Sand Dunes State Park swimming area is infested with microscopic-size parasite worms.

But Ned Millard, planning supervisor for the state parks department, said Tuesday the swimming area would be treated with copper sulphate and copper carbonate to get rid of the parasite.

A weekly newspaper published at the base, the Phantom Photogram, said Dr. Mark E. Kuechenmeister, chief of military public health, had cautioned airmen to swim only in municipal pools or waters certified by health authorities.

"The parasites cause severe itching in all infected areas," the newspaper quoted the officer. "The areas develop into lesions or open sores that take about four weeks to heal."

Dr. Lee Stokes, chief of the water pollution control section for the state health department, said the sand dunes had a history of "swimmers itch."

CAP plans exercise

TWIN FALLS — The Idaho wing of the Civil Air Patrol will be mobilized Saturday for a practice search and rescue exercise to be evaluated by the U. S. Air Force for efficiency and capability.

Col. George Falkner, Idaho wing commander, will oversee the entire operation from wing headquarters in Twin Falls.

The evaluating teams will place targets to simulate two downed aircraft in separate locations. Clues will be given to the search and rescue teams.

Radiol communications satellite stations for the exercise will be at Nyssa, Ore., Boise, Pocatello and Burley.

Pakistan issued warning

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Prime Minister Indira Gandhi warned Pakistan Tuesday that India, whose eastern frontier regions have been inundated with 2.8 million refugees from the civil war in East Pakistan, "is fully prepared to fight if the situation is forced on us."

"It was Mrs. Gandhi's strongest warning yet to the Pakistan federal government to stop its eight-week offensive against Bengali secessionists in East Pakistan."

She issued the warning during a speech at the Himalayan hill station of Ranikhet in Uttar Pradesh state.

Simultaneously, it was reported in New Delhi today, that Indian ambassadors were said to have alerted Great Britain and France that India may be forced to act in its national interest in the face of the "unending exodus of refugees from East Bengal."

India already has appealed for international help in handling the Bengali refugees. A United Nations panel that toured the refugee camps reported Monday that India has a "monumental" problem that may last for another three to six months.

Ending doubt goal

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Edward Heath today set Europe's post-war history and himself the task of breaking down lingering French doubts and getting Britain into the European Common Market.

British officials said it will be tough going.

Heath flies to Paris today for two days of face-to-face summit confrontation with President Georges Pompidou. British officials described it as perhaps the most crucial mission undertaken by a British leader in recent times. It could lead, they said, to a watershed in School aide loses

RUPERT — Mindoka school patrons Tuesday returned four incumbents to office, but defeated the board chairman in a school trustee election which drew a large turnout with 1,223 votes cast.

Mrs. Fern Hunter, business manager for the Mindoka County News, defeated David Spreier, who has been chairman of the board, by a vote of 184 to 138, for the post in Zone 3.

In Zone 1, Leo Moore, unopposed incumbent, polled 104 votes, while Russell Pincock, a write-in, received 32.

In Zone 2 incumbent Leonard Martin was returned to office by a vote of 131, compared to 112 for his opponent, George Watson.

Nilo Maricle, incumbent in Zone 4, received 103 votes, compared to 103 for Thad Orchard.

The incumbent in Zone 5, Sherrill Stallings, got 160 votes to defeat challenger Phil Schaefer Jr., who polled 96.

Doyle Lowder, assistant superintendent, said a higher percentage of voters turned out than is usual and the only reason he could give is that "people are more interested in their school."

Flipped

THIS 1962 SEDAN was demolished after a collision with a vehicle driven by Mrs. Jaralyn O'Toole, 34, Jerome, at the intersection of South Adams and East Avenue F in Jerome Tuesday afternoon. The driver, Larry Evans, Kimberly, is reported in fairly good condition at St. Benedict's Hospital. The car flipped onto its top and slid about 30 feet.

New laws on books Thursday

On Thursday the law limiting local units of government to a four per cent property tax increase each year will be repealed. Under the old law, local units of government which felt they could not exist on the revenue limitation applied to the State Tax Commission for relief from its provisions.

Youths, too, will have several bills take effect Thursday. One provides for delegates from higher education institutions to attend political party state assemblies. Another lowers from 21 to 18 the age at which a person can serve as precinct committee member. Another bill permits professional musicians 18 to 21 to remain in nightclubs where liquor is served during the course of their employment.

Also effective May 20 is a bill authorizing of liquor-by-the-drink on Sundays to conventions, banquets or receptions as long as the liquor is consumed on the premises and the serving is done in a restaurant or other facilities.

Other bills to take effect the same day include those to:

- Establish a mental health program and facility at the Idaho State Penitentiary.
- Permit advertising of contraceptive devices in nationally circulated periodicals.

Authorize the director of corrections to grant home furloughs to penitentiary inmates.

- Remove the kingfisher, pelican and cormorant from the unprotected bird list.
- Provide that damages in automobile accidents will be in proportion to the amount of negligence attributable to each party.

- Raising compensation for members of the State Board of Education and highway board members to $25 per day.

- Add "irreconcilable differences" as grounds for divorce and provide a procedure for a 90-day reconciliation period in divorce actions.
- Increase from 50 to 80 per cent the counties' share of the snowmobile registration fee.

- Making it a misdemeanor to damage any coin-operated device, including parking meters.
- Making prisoners sentenced for violent crimes ineligible for parole until they have served five years or one-third of their sentence.

Rites set

GOODING — Funeral services for Clinton C. Albers will be conducted at 2 p.m. Thursday in the Bergin Funeral Chapel, Shoshone, by Rev. Edmond Stanton, Gooding. Final rites will be held in Kansas. Friends may call at the chapel Thursday until time of services.

Taylor heads Vo-ed group

TWIN FALLS — Dr. James L. Taylor, president of the College of Southern Idaho, was named state chairman of the Idaho State Advisory Council on Vocational and Technical Education during a council meeting Tuesday at CSI.

Paul Vernon, a Boise management consultant, was named vice chairman in a reorganizational session.

Council members met in the CSI Multi-Purpose Building to consider state vocational education plans and test a proposed "evaluation instrument" to be used to evaluate vocational schools.

The council toured the CSI Vocational-Technical School on Kimberly Road this morning, carefully evaluating all phases of the school's operation on a complex 18-page evaluation form. Dr. Taylor told the council the survey of the CSI-affiliated facility would serve to test the new evaluation procedure as well as providing a current evaluation of the vocational school.

In Tuesday's meeting, Roy Irons, state director of vocational education, and Kenneth Hansen, a staff member in the state office, reviewed recent changes in the comprehensive Idaho State Plan for the Administration of Vocational Education.

The changes were minor, principally covering updated statistics on the numbers of students taking vocational education classes in Idaho.

Members discussed at length a question as to what constitutes "enrollment in vocational education." The statistics were compiled in line with federal standards, Irons said. The federal standards state that any secondary-level student in an Idaho high school or junior high school who is enrolled in one or more specified "vocational courses," including home economics, must be counted as a "vocational student."

Several members questioned the logic of artificially increasing the apparent percentage of "vocational" students by including students taking only one course such as home economics or shop in high school. These students are taking academic courses and have included the vocational classes merely as electives, it was pointed out.

Pat Harwood, public relations director for the J.R. Simplot Co., Caldwell, a council member, said that under the federal standards Idaho lists 38 per cent of all secondary students in "vocational" courses. This figure is faulty, Harwood said.

The state vocational education plan is developed within the provisions of Public Law 90-576, the "Vocational Education Amendments" of 1968, and the regulations for implementing the act, according to the preface to the Idaho document.

Jerome youth injured

JEROME — Seventeen-year-old Larry Evans, Kimberly, is listed in "fairly good condition" at St. Benedict's Hospital, Jerome, following a two-car accident Tuesday afternoon at the intersection of South Adams and East Avenue F in the 100 block.

Victor Scott, 16, and Terry Walton, 17, both Twin Falls, were riding in the Evans car when the accident occurred. Neither was injured.

According to Jerome Police the accident occurred about 3:20 p.m. Evans was driving a 1962 sedan which was going south on South Adams. As his vehicle approached the intersection, Evans told officers he did not see a 1963 sedan operated by Mrs. Jaralyn O'Toole, 34, Jerome. Evans told officers he saw Mrs. O'Toole's car after he entered the intersection and he then accelerated his car to try to avoid a collision. Evans' car sideswiped the front end of the O'Toole car. He then lost control and flipped onto its top, sliding about 30 feet.

Passengers in the O'Toole car were Kathy O'Toole, 7, and Susan Sauer, 4, and Shelly Sauer, 7. None of the occupants of the O'Toole vehicle was injured.

The Evans car was demolished. Damage to the O'Toole vehicle is estimated at about $300.

Jerome Police said investigation into the accident is continuing.

Jerome council hears proposal

By CHARLOTTE BELL
Times-News Writer

JEROME — Andy Anderson, Boise, division manager for the American Pacific Corp., presented plans for the proposed Carey Subdivision to the Jerome City Council Tuesday night.

Anderson told the council and mayor that he has an option on land located between Davis Street and Cleveland Street, south of East Avenue I. The property would have to be annexed into the city if the council approves of the subdivision. The project would contain 45 lots.

Anderson requested the city to extend city sewer lines to the property. The city has plans to extend sewer lines to East Avenue I this year. Anderson said he is aware of the city's low budget fund for sewer line construction and said his company would buy needed materials if the city would install the line.

Anderson also requested that the subdivision be hooked to city water lines.

Average cost of the homes on the subdivision would be from $17,000 to $18,000 and would be FHA approved, Anderson said. He said his firm would build one or two model homes and the rest would be constructed as they are sold.

The council took the matter under advisement and told Anderson he would be notified this week of a decision. Anderson has a short-term option on the land.

Anderson earlier this month proposed the same type of subdivision to the Gooding City Council, which refused to give his firm permission to build the subdivision after a large delegation of citizens protested the development.

In other action before the council:

— Council members heard a report from Marshall Everheart about the four-county rural planning and development committee. He said for the organization to be eligible for a federal grant it must have a treasury of $1,000 under the federal revenue sharing plan.

He said the counties involved will be assessed on population rather than the set $250 which was recommended at an earlier meeting of the planning committee. He recommended the city council become a part of the planning organization, because any project which will come under the federal revenue sharing act will have to go through the group.

Mayor Jack Russell said until the county puts up the money the city can do nothing about joining the organization.

— Approved $350 to the baseball commission for the Little League team to pay the light bill on the baseball diamond for the year.

— Walt Bentzinger, councilman, said Chief C. H. Puntney is now in Boise attending a narcotics school from May 17 to 28. He said he hopes the further education of the police department will assist in controlling the drug problem in the city.

— Approved sending $25 to the Burley City Clerk to help in the Association of Idaho Cities convention. The council also will attempt to find a door prize to represent Jerome.

— Heard a report from Elwin Tinker about problems in the Irrigation department. He said people are taking water on days when they are not authorized to have it. He asks that Jerome residents check with the city clerk or the water department to check the schedule if they are not sure of what time or day they are authorized to use the water.

Murphy to lead session

SUN VALLEY — The National Lieutenant Governors' Conference will be held July 14-17 at Sun Valley, Idaho's Lt. Gov. Jack Murphy, conference host, announced today.

Murphy said registration will start at 9 a.m. July 14 in the Sage Room of the Challenger Inn. The executive committee will meet that afternoon and that evening a get acquainted session is planned for conference members.

On July 15 the general business sessions will begin. Speaking to the conference members will be Gov. Warren Hearnes, Missouri, chairman of the National Governors' Conference.

A golf tournament for the lieutenant governors is planned for the afternoon of July 15. That evening a hay ride up Trail Creek is planned as is a western barbecue.

Sewer costs equalized

By JERRY HERRMANN
Times-News Writer

RUPERT — An ordinance to equalize sewer costs so that apartment and mobile home residents will pay their full share was adopted under suspension of the rules Tuesday night by Rupert City councilmen.

The main change in the ordinance, according to William Goodman, city attorney, is that the base of charge in the new law will be on kitchen units in the residential area instead of swimming units. This way apartments and trailer parks will be charged for each kitchen unit and small commercial unit found in residential areas will be charged sewer rates for commercial use.

Mayor Wendell Johnson said previously residential and industrial users were paying their fair share, but the new ordinance, which will go into effect June 1, will equalize costs for persons living in the apartment and mobile home units.

An amendment in the ordinance provides that $34,000 be kept in the special sewer fund to pay off the sewer bond and help finance new construction. The rest of the money received from sewer fees will go into the general fund.

Councilmen took under advisement requests by Ray Cummins Sr. regarding paving 18th Street past his property and whether or not he had to install curbing and gutters on his new subdivision. He said if he had to do this it would price him out of selling the lots.

Gooding advised Cummins the city was not obligated to put in the curbs or gutters and recommended Cummins state this in a memo to potential buyers.

Cummins also asked if he has to pay for irrigation water and councilmen took this under advisement.

Buy plates

TWIN FALLS — Owners of trailer houses, motorcycles, boats and utility trailers who will need to license the vehicles for Memorial Day weekend use were reminded today by Twin Falls County Assessor Clifford Thompson purchases should be made immediately.

He said it will probably be necessary to stand in line during the final few days of the month.

Passenger car owners who have purchased their vehicle licenses on the staggered system can now renew stickers for license plates ending in numbers 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 and 0. Those with numbers ending in 5 expire on the last day of May.

Hear problems

MAKING NOTES on local problems of Magic Valley senior citizens during a seminar in Twin Falls are U. S. Sen. Les B. Jordan, seated, and U. S. Rep. Orval Hansen. The two conducted four seminars in Idaho this week to gather local views on problems of the aging.

Court date set Monday

RUPERT — The Rupert City Council was reminded by City Atty. William Goodman Tuesday night that it has a date in court May 24.

The request of the Trevino Equipment Co. for a temporary injunction against the city on Trevino's property will be considered at that time. In other business, councilmen:

- Authorized the city clerk to take payroll deductions from employes wishing to deposit money in the Minico Credit Union, after a request was made by Wayne Ranston.
- Authorized Mayor Wendell Johnson to sign a lease with the American Legion Post for use of the Legion hall for the senior citizens.

- Also authorized the mayor to establish a fund for the senior citizen program.
- Agreed to ask the Big-O Tire Co. to dump its old tires in the county dump instead of the city dump because they create a fire hazard.

— Were told by the mayor no more letters to persons or businesses not meeting city code requirements would be sent unless specified by the council.

— Decided to reconsider the rental charged for the use of the old library room above the Rupert City offices after Mrs. Carol Mosley, dance teacher, said the proposed $2 per hour rental fee would force her to quit using the room.

Mrs. Mosley is now paying $2.50 per day for use of the room. The room also is used for group meetings, but she is the only commercial operation using it. Councilmen Terry Duffin, parks and recreation director, said there should be different fees for different uses.

Takes helm

DR. JAMES L. TAYLOR, standing, newly elected chairman of the Idaho State Advisory Council for Vocational and Technical Education, confers with Marceline Kevie, Werley, Ida., a council member who represents the Coeur d'Alene Indian tribe. She is a full-blooded Indian in her own right, she told the Times-News.

Church assails loan

Fund probe asked

BOISE (UPI)—Idaho's Board of Examiners asked the attorney general Tuesday whether a state institution can obtain an entire appropriation by warrant and put it in a private bank account and collect interest.

Board members raised the question after receiving a letter from Legislative Auditor James A. Defenbach advising them Idaho State University and Boise State College had done just that.

Defenbach said each had received a 1969 legislative appropriation of $113,000 for educational television and had put the entire amount into bank accounts in Pocatello and Boise.

Since then, Idaho State has spent the entire appropriation — presumably for the purpose the legislature intended. Boise State has most of its $113,000 intact and President John B. Barnes told the Board of Examiners the school has earned some $4,600 interest on it.

Gov. Cecil D. Andrus said it seemed to him the question is whether the interest accruing to an unspent appropriation should accrue to the state's general fund or to the institution or agency for whom the money was appropriated.

Deputy Budget Director D.E. (Skip) Chitberg told the board he felt the action taken on the educational television appropriations — if allowed to stand — was establishing a "dangerous precedent."

He said the executive and legislative branches of government, through such a procedure, would lose control over the appropriations.

Dr. Donald Kline, executive director of higher education, said there still were controls on the money — through the State Board of Education and through federal auditors who check periodically to be certain matching monies are properly spent.

In fact, Kline said, the money was withdrawn from the state treasury and put into private institutional bank accounts to centralize funds and thereby assist federal auditors. He said federal regulations require centralizing such records for that purpose.

Defenbach said he also questioned whether transferring funds by warrant — the withdrawing of an entire appropriation from the treasury on a routine DA8 expense voucher was legal.

"This would set a precedent whereby any agency could submit a DA8 and collect its appropriation," Defenbach said.

Secretary of State Pete T. Cenarrusa asked Auditor Joe R. Williams if any other agency has withdrawn its entire appropriation for one purpose or another simply by submitting a DA8. Williams said he could not recall this being done.

Dr. Barnes expressed concern about what might happen to the remaining funds if they are unspent by the end of this fiscal biennium, June 30. State law requires reversion of unexpended general fund monies to the general fund at the end of the biennium unless those funds are encumbered.

Since the auditor now carries a zero balance in the Boise State account for educational television there is a question of whether — officially — the funds are spent.

Chitberg said it would be a simple matter to put the money back into the treasury and encumber it if there is any serious question that Boise State would lose these matching monies.

Meantime, the board met briefly with attorney William C. Roden, Boise, to discuss claims of some former-state employees for accrued leave. These were the former director of administrative services, Edward W. Sawyer, and employees of former Gov. Don W. Samuelson.

Roden asked the board to rescind its denial of the claims so that matter could again be before it properly and he could meet with Attorney General W. Anthony Park to discuss legal reasons why the claims should be paid.

New librarian to join CSI staff next fall

TWIN FALLS — A librarian with three degrees, including a master's degree from the University of California at Berkeley, will join the library staff at the College of Southern Idaho this fall.

Robert McGuire, currently teaching at Chico State College, Chico, Calif., was hired by the CSI board of trustees at Monday night's board meeting. He will succeed Mr. Doris Manker, who will move to Boise to be with her husband.

CSI President Dr. James L. Taylor said McGuire has "two other degrees" in addition to his master's degree in library science.

Other appointments approved by the trustees, on recommendation of Dr. Taylor, included Frances Golding, as a part-time laboratory assistant in biology; Ray Lewen as a mathematics instructor, succeeding William Scruggs; Ben Johnson for the summer, to work in the outdoor program, and Ann McCullough, also for the summer session, as an instructor in accounting.

Driver enters plea of guilty

TWIN FALLS — Mrs. Marjorie D. Grievé, 43, Twin Falls, driver of a car which struck a Twin Falls teen-ager at an intersection May 6, pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated Tuesday when she appeared in Magistrate Court in Twin Falls.

Mrs. Grievé, who entered a plea of innocent when she was arraigned May 10 shortly after her arrest, appeared before Judge Reed P. Maughan Tuesday for a change of plea.

She was fined $150 and assessed $7.50 court costs and given a 10 day jail sentence, which was suspended. Her driver's license also was revoked for 90 days.

Banned U.S. goods marketed overseas

LONDON—That can of California peaches which the Munich housewife is slipping into her shopping basket probably carries a label "Product of the U.S.A."

In Italy a worried father with a sick child hurries home from the local pharmacy with a box of pills marked, "Made in the U.S.A."

Both really should carry labels which read: "Banned in the United States."

On the shelves of supermarkets and grocery stores all over the world there are rows of attractively packaged canned foodstuffs which are outlawed in the United States.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, today blasted the proposed government loan guarantee for troubled Lockheed Aircraft Corp. as "outright welfare" for big business that could lead to destruction of the free enterprise system.

Church said, in a brief Senate speech, that the Nixon administration's proposal to guarantee $250 million in loans for financially strapped Lockheed has the sole "immediate purpose" of bailing out a commercial venture—Lockheed's L-1011 Tristar airbus—and should be rejected.

Such a proposal, Church added, reflects an attitude of "socialism for the rich and free enterprise for the poor" by rushing to the aid of giant corporations while as many as 10,000 smaller businesses fold each year.

"This is the first instance of outright welfare for an indigent business firm," Church said, "and once we start down that road it could lead to destruction of the free enterprise system."

Lockheed, the nation's largest defense contractor, had been plagued with heavy losses stemming from huge cost overruns on military contracts such as the C-5A transport. Its position was further jeopardized when Britain's Rolls Royce Corp., makers of the Tristar engines, recently went bankrupt.

Church conceded the government has bailed out sinking industries before—but only when defense contracts were involved or when the firms were faced with bankruptcy, as in the case of the Penn Central Railroad.

He said Lockheed, the nation's biggest defense contractor, could not qualify under either condition since its immediate problem is the Tristar commercial, 245-seat jetliner—and the company has not gone into bankruptcy.

"Why should not Lockheed be induced to go into bankruptcy as did the Penn Central?" Church asked. "But no, there is no such thought—the same Lockheed management that gave us the C-5A debacle would remain in control."

Unless similar government aid were forthcoming to help small business as well as big, Church said, the Lockheed proposal must be viewed only as "federally subsidized health insurance for one sick corporation."

The Japanese Emperor's duties are strictly ceremonial.

Cutback called error

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, R-Ariz., said today that the proposed halving of the U.S. military garrison in Europe "would place this nation on a disaster course for World War III."

But another Republican, Sen. George D. Alken of Vermont, said it was high time that Congress went on record favoring a reduction in forces assigned to NATO.

The Goldwater-Alken exchange came on the Senate floor as a bipartisan group sought to head off a showdown vote late Wednesday on Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield's proposal to reduce by half the 300,000-man U.S. force in Europe.

Goldwater said that if by some "disastrous mistake" the Senate went along with Mansfield, "we would move closer to a nuclear confrontation with the Soviet Union than ever before."

"It stands to reason," he said, "that if we cut our conventional forces to the bone our only protection against a possible first strike would have to be nuclear."

"This would place the nation on a disaster course for World War III," Goldwater said. Alken, senior Republican on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee argued: "More than enough American troops are in Europe to serve our objectives, unless of course, our allies wish to pay for their continued presence."

Noting that the United States now has more troops in Europe than it does in Vietnam, Alken said, "a cynic might ask whether Western Europe is in more danger of a Communist takeover than South Vietnam."

14 denied licenses

BOISE — In April, reports the Driver Services Section of the Department of Law Enforcement, 14 applicants seeking Idaho driver licenses for the first time were denied issuance because they were under suspension or had licenses revoked in other states.

New applications last month totaled 239. Since the first of the year, 47 of 700 first-time applications have been denied.

The section makes daily checks with the National Drivers Register, Washington, D.C., to determine eligibility of first-time applicants.

certain we will receive full accreditation again."

Summer enrollment "looks good," with early indications pointing to a total of more than 700 enrolling in academic and vocational classes, Dr. Taylor said.

FOR GRADUATION and SUMMER COMFORT AT ROPER'S

Since the time is short to get the catalogs printed, trustees authorized Van Slyke to approve the lowest bid and order the catalogs printed.

Dr. Taylor told the trustees that the Northwest Accreditation committee visited the campus last week to determine if the college meets standards for accreditation. Their report will be sent to the college and a copy will be considered by the accreditation association at their June conference, with a formal decision rendered at that time.

Dr. Taylor reassured the trustees, however, that "I feel

Utah drops Colonels to cinch ABA championship

THE TIMES-NEWS

SPORTS

Brell okays Buck contract

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—Center Zelmo Beaty tossed in 36 points Tuesday night to lead the Utah Stars to a 131-121 victory over the Kentucky Colonels and the American Basketball Association title.

Utah got balanced scoring from Beaty, Willie Wise, Glen Combs and Merv Jackson to balance the 41-point performance of Kentucky's rookie center Dan Issel and 31 by Darel Carrier.

After a slow first period in which Kentucky led 32-28, the Stars—picked up steam and raced to a 61-54 halftime advantage. Utah, taking advantage of the home floor, gradually upped its lead in the second half.

Utah led 93-81 with 1:56 remaining in the third period before Carrier hit a trio of three-point goals in less than a minute to cut the Utah lead to 96-90 at the start of the fourth period.

The Stars outscored the Colonels 33-31 in the final period to maintain a season-long hex over the Colonels at the Salt Palace. Kentucky was never able to win a game in Salt Lake City during the past season.

Beaty hit 18 points in each half. Wise contributed 22. Combs and Merv Jackson 19 despite a knee.

Utah threatened to make the final game a runaway by moving to a quick 10-1 lead at the start. But Cincy Powell, who finished with 19, and Issel banded to find the range. An Issel basket tied the score 18-18 with six minutes to go in the opening period and the Colonels outscored the Stars 14-10 in those six minutes.

Wise sank a jump shot to tie the game 36-36 8:17 into the second period. Then Wise added a free throw and Combs followed with a three-point goal to get the Stars off and running.

Then Utah sank 6 of 7 from the free throw line just before intermission to take a seven-point lead into the dressing room.

Minico, Twin Falls will vie in state baseball tournament

The Minico Spartans, by virtue of winning the fourth district title, and the Twin Falls Bruins, by invitation, will participate in the first annual Idaho high school A-1 invitational baseball tournament Friday and Saturday.

Minico will raise the curtain by playing Idaho Falls at 5:30 p.m. Friday at the Borah High School field in game one while Twin Falls will take on Capital in game three at 6:30 p.m. at Caldwell's Simplot Stadium.

Other first round action will see Borah going against Pocatello and Boise against Lewiston.

Minico earned a berth by nipping Twin Falls 1-0 in eight innings in the district finals after the teams had split their first two meetings. But Twin Falls, which had an 18-5 record, got the berth set aside by the tournament committee to be filled by invitation.

The tournament is similar to the girls track and field championships held in Twin Falls last week. It is not sponsored by the Idaho Interscholastic Activities Association like state basketball, wrestling, golf and track, but Borah was given permission to hold it. Borah hopes it will work into an annual, officially sanctioned event.

Minico will go against either Borah or Pocatello Saturday, if the Spartans win, they will play at 10 a.m. Saturday at Borah's field, and if they lose will play at 10 a.m. Saturday at Caldwell. A Twin Falls win would move the Bruins to a 1 p.m. Saturday game at Borah while a loss would leave them in Caldwell and playing at 1 p.m.

The 1-p.m. winners, regardless of bracket, will play Saturday night. The consolation finals begin at 6:30 p.m. Saturday at Borah and the championship is set for 8:30 p.m.

Giants end Cubs' win streak at six games on 7-2 victory

CHICAGO (UPI)—Bobby Bonds drove in three runs with a homer and a sacrifice fly Tuesday to help outpunch Ron Bryant pick up his fourth victory of the year as the San Francisco Giants whipped Chicago, 7-2, ending a six game Cubs' winning streak.

The triumph was the sixth in the last seven games for the Giants who have defeated the Chicagoans in all five games played this season.

The Giants put the game on ice in the sixth inning by scoring five runs, two coming in on Ken Henderson's bases-loaded single, one on Hal Lanier's single, a bases-loaded walk to Willie McCovey and Bonds' sacrifice fly.

Reds 4, Phils 3

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Lee May drove in three runs with a homer and a single Tuesday night to lead the Cincinnati Reds to a 4-3 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

veteran lefty Joe Gibbon, the last of three Red pitchers, blanked the Phillies the final 2-1 innings to gain his third save and preserve Don Gullett's fourth victory in six decisions.

Solo homers by Pete Rose and May in the first and second innings matched a pair of second-inning runs scored by the Phillies when they bunched four hits, one a double by Joe L.J. off Gullett.

Astros 3, Padres 2

HOUSTON (UPI)—Denis Menke lined a run-scoring single with none out in the ninth inning to score Cesar Cedeno and give the Houston Astros a 3-2 victory over the San Diego Padres Tuesday night.

ATLANTA (UPI)—Hank Aaron, Ralph Garr and Cleo Boyer unleashed an early home run barrage Tuesday night and the Atlanta Braves held on for an 8-6 victory over the New York Mets.

Aaron's homer, his 13th of the season, came an out after Pate Miller led off the first inning with a single and the other two home runs came during a four-run Brave uprising in the third inning.

Garr, the National League's leading hitter with a .400 average, hit a solo homer, his fifth of the season and fourth in four games, with two out and Boyer followed with a three-run blast, his fourth of the year, after Aaron singled and Orlando Cepeda walked.

Three double winners participated. Buhl frosh Brent Watson won the shotput and discus while Filer's Hansing took the half-mile and pole vault. Floyd of Gooding won the two short sprints.

Wells OK despite stabbing

BEAUMONT, Tex. (UPI)—Police said Tuesday Oakland Raiders wide receiver Warren Wells, stabbed near the heart in a nightclub fracas, has refused to press charges against the woman who attacked him.

Wells, 28, who has been in trouble with the law himself in the past was reported in "Good Condition" at Baptist hospital.

Police identified the assailant as Geannett Landry, about 25, of Beaumont.

Detectives said Wells and his brother Russell, were attending a football banquet at the club Tahiti Sunday night when the woman approached Russell Wells and asked him: "What would you do to me if I cut somebody?"

Russell Wells, 26, started he did not reply, said the woman suddenly pulled a dagger and stabbed his brother.

Idaho driver improvement, counseling program set up

BOISE — Many motorists who would have lost their driving privileges may be able to keep on driving under a statewide driver improvement-counseling program for which rules of participation have been approved.

Law Enforcement Commissioner John Bender, Boise, who was authorized by the last legislature to institute such a program, said he hoped to have it in operation in the near future.

Under the program, drivers may become eligible for participation when licenses are subject to either a permissive or a mandatory suspension or revocation upon a recommendation of a district court judge or magistrate or a state hearing officer or counselor, except for certain mandatory suspensions or revocations as provided for in the Idaho Code.

Operators facing loss of licenses will be notified of the proposed suspension or revocation and will be allowed 30 days to submit a written request to participate in the program, and a driver counselor assigned.

The counselor, after an interview, will determine the applicant's eligibility.

Drivers who do not choose to participate at the time of receiving their proposed notice of suspension may be admitted upon approval of a hearing officer or counselor at a later date. In such cases a stay order will be issued and the applicant will be given the same consideration as any other.

Counselors may authorize course participation only to drivers when facts indicate they are in need of remedial help in driving habits, attitudes, skills or who may require physical, medical or other remedies.

Participants will be enrolled in the program no longer than one year and will be required to pay a $25 fee. If the applicant, as part of his rehabilitation, is required to take the program offered by the Department of Education he will be assessed an additional $5 fee. Other fees, such as physical examinations or visual tests, will be the responsibility of the driver.

Commissioner Bender said, "Drivers whom counselors determine to be a menace on the highways and whose errors cannot be remedied by means available to counselors of the Department of Law Enforcement shall not be placed in the program.

"We hope through the program to reduce the number of suspensions and revocations and make the highways safer for all through proper training."

Drivers dissatisfied with a counselor's decision may appeal by filing a request in writing within 15 days after refusal with a state hearing officer.

Drivers accepted into the program will be advised of terms and conditions to be followed and will be issued a rehabilitation driving permit in exchange for regular operators' licenses.

Violations of terms and conditions of the program will be investigated by the assigned counselor, who, dependent on circumstances, may allow the driver to continue in the course or recommend he be dropped.

If the commissioner agrees with the counselor's recommendation for dropping the driver from the course a new notice of proposed suspension or revocation will be issued and the driver shall have 30 days in which to notify the department he desires a hearing.

The program will be limited to residents of Idaho, except that out-of-state drivers who lose driving privileges in Idaho may be accepted into the program by special approval of the commissioner of law enforcement.

Drivers whose suspension or revocation calls for furnishing of proof of financial responsibility will be required to supply this proof to the counselor assigned to his case.

Counselors will consult with committing courts before interviewing participants to enable them to prescribe types of program believed needed for rehabilitation and improvement.

Upon satisfactory completion of the program, the license of the driver, if current, will be returned.

The program as designed calls for a counselor in each of the seven judicial districts. Commissioner Bender said, "Judging from the success through counseling of drivers suspended under the point system, we feel this program will put safer drivers on our highways."

Recalled

CLEVELAND (UPI) — The General Electric Co. has recalled all its outdoor floodlight and holder kits sold since August because of a possible wiring defect that could cause severe shock.

The GE lamp division here announced Monday an investigation showed only about 40 of the units already sold may be affected, but the recall was made as a precautionary measure.

Owners of such units purchased during or after August were asked to return them to GE offices here. The company also requested dealer and distributor stocks to be returned for inspection.

Shooting charges dismissed

Twin Falls — An order of dismissal has been signed in the case of a Twin Falls man charged last February with assault with a deadly weapon after an early morning shooting at a Twin Falls apartment house.

That charge and two misdemeanor charges, malicious destruction of private property and disorderly conduct, have been dropped on motion of Robert Galley, city prosecutor. Charged was Wayne Jolley, 22, who has been freed from further action in the case provided he joins the armed forces.

Jolley had been charged in connection with the shooting Feb. 25 of Nicholas Stephens, 22, Hoyburn. Jolley allegedly shot Stephens, who has recovered, in the abdomen with a pistol. The incident occurred at the Twin Falls apartment of Jolley's estranged wife, Geraldine Jolley.

The order of dismissal was signed by Judge Daniel Meehl of Twin Falls Magistrate Court.

Murtaugh girl hurt

TWIN FALLS — A Murtaugh teen-ager received minor injuries Tuesday morning when her vehicle went off of U. S. Highway 30, rolled over and slammed into a power pole.

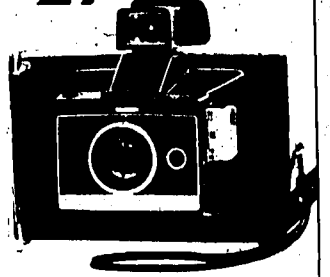

Twin Falls County sheriff's officers said Patricia Ann Hulse, 18, who received scalp injuries, was alone in her vehicle when the accident occurred about 2:30 a.m. three-fourths of a mile east of Hansen.

Mind Your Money

By PETER WEAVER

Q — A number of customers of local stores have contacted the owners for the purpose of revoking purchases on lay away and requesting refunds citing your recent article (about Truth In Lending protection in lay-away plans).

Your article implies that all lay-away plans have a term implicit in them requiring a refund for the amount paid. I believe failure to make a refund is not an infraction of the Truth In Lending Law. — C.M.C., Jr., attorney, Macon, Ga.

A — You're wrong. But it's little wonder. This interpretation of Truth In Lending regulations has proved difficult to understand. I asked a Federal Reserve Board attorney, who worked on the law, for a clarification of what rights consumers and merchants have in the matter of lay-away deposits. His reply:

Any money put down on a lay-away plan falls within the jurisdiction of Truth In Lending, if an extension of credit or financing is part of the deal.

A merchant violates this particular Federal Reserve interpretation of Truth In Lending if: 1) Complete credit terms are not disclosed, including the fact that all or part of the deposit may not be recovered, and 2) the deposit is not returned when the customer cancels an order. This holds true for all other kinds of deposits, even on cars and homes where credit or financing is involved.

In some cases, merchants may not say they're extending credit but, in effect, they really are. If there are more than four installments involved, the Federal Reserve says, the transaction automatically involves extension of credit and, therefore, falls under Truth In Lending.

Violations of Truth In Lending can be attacked in class action suits where, if successful, the consumer can recoup his deposit and all legal fees.

Q — I read that certain additives are used in beer that comes in twist-off cap bottles to make beer foam when the cap is not sealed tightly. Are any of these additives harmful? — G.B., Miami, Fla.

A — Additives are used in almost all beer to make it foam. The Internal Revenue Service (which regulates the production and sale of alcohol) says no special additive is used in twist-top bottled beer.

There are some 11 or 12 chemicals used (not all at once) to make beer foam. The Food and Drug Administration says it has tested and approved all of these chemicals and claims none of them will harm you.

Q — What amount of power does a large, window air-conditioning unit require? Is it dangerous to use the wrong sized fuses? — C. C., Worcester, Mass.

A — Whenever you buy a large, window air conditioner you have to know what amount of voltage it uses and whether your home has the correct wiring. If you live in an apartment, you might have the problem of your building being wired for 208-volts for heavy appliances while the unit for sale is set for 230-volts.

Running a 230-volt air conditioner on a 208-volt apartment line can burn out the condenser. For a house or an apartment, it's best to have an electrician check your wiring and tell you what type of voltage requirements the air conditioner should have. Faulty wiring or incorrect fuses are dangerous and your electrician can tell you what's required.

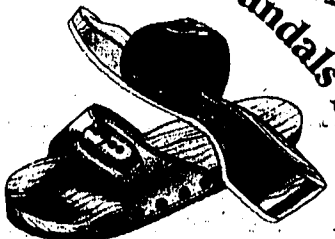

Q — I have a Honeywell electronic air filter and it seems efficient. I wonder if the additional cell, which can be purchased as an accessory, is worthwhile? — W. H. P., Alexandria, Va.

A — The extra cell might be a good buy in two circumstances: 1) If you have an exceptionally large home (more than 10 rooms); 2) if anyone in the family has a serious respiratory problem.
