TWIN FALLS, IDAHO, FRIDAY, MAY 21, 1971

TEN CENTS

Boughed down

WEIGHT of heavy, wet snow which fell on Twin Falls and the Magic Valley area early today put a sharp bend in the branches of these lilac bushes. Tree limbs were snapped by the unseasonable snow in Twin Falls, and reports from the Castleford area indicated damage resulted to bushes and small trees there.

Allies request pullout Census shows region shifts

LONDON (UPI) — Western powers have formulated a four-point plan for a balanced East-West troop withdrawal from NATO and Warsaw Pact nations in Central Europe, diplomatic sources said today. The plan could form the basis for exploratory talks with the Soviet Union if the Kremlin is serious in its pronouncements about reducing its forces in Europe, they said. Both Soviet Communist Party Chief Leonid I. Brezhnev and Premier Alex N. Kosygin have called for troop withdrawals, but have not outlined specific ideas.

The final report by the U.S. Department of Commerce for the 1970 census, announced today, showed those results for the area. Blaine County's population increased 1,151 or 25 per cent from 4,598 in 1960 to 5,749 in 1970, according to the report. That was the biggest increase for the Magic Valley and for the entire state save for Madison County. Madison County recorded a growth of 42.8 per cent or 4,035 persons during the 1960's, to 13,452.

Minidoka, with its population increasing 1,377 from 14,394 in 1960 to 15,771 in 1970, showed an increase of 9.5 per cent. Cassia showed an increase of 5.0 per cent, adding 896 persons, from 18,121 in 1960 to 17,017 in 1970. The figures for other counties included:

Carnas, down 20.8 per cent, losing 189 persons, from 917 in 1960 to 728 in 1970.
Gooding, down 8.4 per cent, losing 559, from 9,544 in 1960 to 8,845 in 1970.
Jerome, down 12.5 per cent, losing 1,459 from 11,712 in 1960 to 10,253 in 1970.
Lincoln, down 17.1 per cent, losing 829, from 3,886 in 1960 to 3,057 in 1970.

Real family income falls during 1970

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Census Bureau says American families earned a record median income of $9,870 last year, but in actual buying power the dollar lost ground for the first time in nine years. The bureau reported Thursday that a survey of 50,000 families indicated median income increased $440 from 1969. But because of inflation, the bureau said, the purchasing power of $9,870 was only $9,887 in "constant dollars"—dollars that have been adjusted for cost of living changes.

In another report Thursday, the Commerce Department said Americans, their government and their businesses were in debt by a record of $1.84 trillion by the end of 1970.

The business debt accounted for $655 billion, or 52 per cent. Government debt was $483 billion, or 26 per cent. Private debts by individuals amounted to $402 billion, of which $127 billion was in home mortgages.

House kills SST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House, which only last week tried to revive the American effort to build a faster-than-sound airliner, has voted to go along with the Senate in killing the project once again. But in action Thursday night, the House refused to accept the Senate plan to reimburse the nation's airlines $58 million for what they have sunk into the project.

taxpayers already have invested nearly $1 billion, will not be laid to rest for now, however, until the Senate takes action on the House vote. The Senate could accept the House action, or the matter could wind up again in a compromise meeting. In any event, the government's role in development of the 1,800-mile per hour jetcraft formally would be ended. The measure passed by the House would provide $85.3 million for Boeing Aircraft Co. and General Electric Co., prime contractors on the two SST prototypes which the Senate wanted to authorize for the nation's airlines to pay for the "earnest money" they had advanced to Boeing to bring the project along.

But the House deleted $88 million which the Senate wanted to authorize for the nation's airlines to pay for the "earnest money" they had advanced to Boeing to bring the project along.

Potato delivery delayed

BOISE (UPI) — The office of Gov. Cecil D. Andrus was notified today the Chicago Mercantile Exchange has accepted his order extending until 11 a.m. May 24 the deadline for delivery of potatoes to Chicago. The three-day extension for delivery of the Idaho russet Burbank potatoes was directed by Andrus because of time lost to Idaho growers and shippers through the railroad strike.

Edward V. Williams, administrative assistant to Andrus, said he received confirmation of the order from Everett Harris, president of the Chicago Mercantile Exchange. Williams said Harris also invited the governor to visit the exchange. The governor's action was a test of his authority to issue such an order. Williams said there were conflicting legal opinions as to whether the governor's authority extended to deadlines for deliveries or was limited to such things as inspection of the potatoes.

Army's secretary resigns position

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Pentagon today announced the resignation of Army Secretary Stanley R. Resor, who has served in the post for almost six years under the Johnson and Nixon administrations. Resor's resignation had been anticipated for some time. Pentagon officials said his term of office stretched over "an unusually large period of time." The Army secretary submitted his letter of resignation Thursday, the day after he announced the decision to demote one general and reprimand another on charges of covering up the My Lai massacre.

Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird replied today with a letter accepting the resignation "with unlimited admiration and appreciation for your selfless contributions to the department and to the nation." Chief Pentagon spokesman Daniel Z. Henkin said no successor has been selected.

Living cost up sharply

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The cost of living to Americans rose 0.3 per cent in April, equaling the sharpest one-month advance this year, the Labor Department reported today. Higher prices for food and clothing were largely blamed. While the rise in the consumer price index was the biggest since a similar increase in January, it was well below the pace of 1970 when the nation was in the grips of the worst inflation since the Korean War.

Food prices increased by 0.9 per cent last month. If the advance continued at that rate for a full year, the annual food increase would be almost 12 per cent, meaning that a typical food item costing $1 last month would cost $1.12 by next spring. The cost of clothing increased 0.4 per cent last month, led by a jump of 0.8 per cent in men's and boys' apparel. Women's and girls' clothing increased 0.3 per cent. The government's gauge of consumer prices stood in April at 120.2 per cent of the 1967 average, up from 119.8 per cent in March.

X films won't do

JEROME — The "Gay Liberation Movement" has not yet reached Jerome and Jerome's adult community is still inclined to view motion pictures of nude women "making love" in a different light than "The Wizard of Oz" when considering suitable entertainment for their children, Fifth District Judge James M. Cunningham said Thursday.

Foust gully in a memorandum opinion Thursday and set May 25 at 10 a.m. in the Jerome Courthouse as the time and place for sentencing. Foust was charged with permitting two 15-year-old girl employees of his theater to view private films of coming X-rated movies. The two girls testified they witnessed the films in the presence of Foust in June, 1970, in the Frontier Theater which he employed there and with permission of the owner. The prosecuting attorney and defense attorney stipulated the case be decided by the court without trial, but on the basis of the transcript of the preliminary hearing in Jerome County Magistrate Court. On review of the transcript,

Judge Cunningham said, "I am simply unable to perceive the Federal Constitution being stretched to the point of guaranteeing 15-year-old girls the right to watch pictures of naked women cavorting on a moving picture screen in Jerome. I am convinced beyond any reasonable doubt that motion pictures of nude women 'sexually inclined with each other' and 'making love' is offensive to Jerome's adult community with respect to what is suitable material for minors."

Judge Cunningham noted the prevailing adult standards of Jerome differ from those of "intellectually emancipated metropolitan areas of our country."

Graduation set for T.F. seniors

TWIN FALLS — Sen. Frank Church will speak to the 438 members of the Twin Falls High School class of 1971 Monday during commencement exercises at the high school. Baccalaureate will begin at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the high school gymnasium and commencement will begin at 8 p.m. Monday at Bruin Stadium. If weather is bad Monday night, graduation will be moved into the gymnasium. Valedictorians of the class of 1971 are Douglas Frank Carr and Karen Sue Schow. Melanle Ruth Barth, Janice Louise Cook and Suzanne Hedrick are salutatorians.

Douglas Bland, student body vice president, will introduce Sen. Church Monday night. Dr. Ernest Ragland, superintendent, will present awards to graduates and Dr. Howard W. Honk, Edward R. Smith and Elmer J. Sommer, members of the board of trustees, will present diplomas assisted by Paul Ostyn, vice principal, and Richard A. Haun, dean of students. John A. Lawrence, principal, will present the class and David Sass, senior class president, will give the pledge of allegiance. Father Bill Wassmuth, director, Diocese of Boise, vocation program, Boise, will speak at baccalaureate. Patricia Ullman, senior class secretary, will give the invocation and John Blaye will give the benediction. Richard Arrington, class vice president, will present the scripture reading. The Twin Falls High School Symphony Band will play both Sunday and Monday. Officers of the class of 1971 are David Sass, president; Richard Arrington, vice president; Patricia Ullman, secretary, and Patricia Smedley, treasurer. (Continued on p. 13)

Valley battles continue

SAIGON (UPI) — South Vietnamese infantrymen supported by U.S. helicopter gunships battled their way through a series of bunkers today to the top of a ridge line at the northeastern end of the A Shau Valley. They killed 45 Communist troops in their advance up the three-mile-long ridge, military sources told UPI correspondent Stewart Kellerman. The sources said 83 Communists had been killed in the battle for the ridge — line since it began Wednesday night. The Army of the Republic of (South) Vietnam (ARVN) infantrymen captured 96 bunkers and reported only "light" casualties.

Egypt cuts visit

By United Press International The Middle East situation tightened up again today, and authoritative diplomatic sources in Cairo said Egypt has shelved, at least temporarily, a plan to send a high ranking envoy to Washington for talks on the prospects of an agreement with Israel on reopening the Suez Canal. The trip was to have been a sequel to the recent Middle East tour of Secretary of State William P. Rogers and the visit to Cairo by his assistant, Joseph J. Sisco, following Rogers' talks with Israeli leaders, the sources said.

Both sides appeared to be stiffening their positions, and Israel Deputy Yigal Allon said Thursday night Egypt might have done so because of "overoptimism in Washington," an apparent reference to the optimistic statements Rogers made on his return. Sisco returned to Cairo with Israel's canal proposals and had five hours of talks with President Anwar Sadat and Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad. It was agreed then that Egypt would send a high-ranking diplomat, either Riad or Premier Mahmoud Fawzi, to Washington with Egypt's reply.

Instead, the Egyptian reply was handed over to Donald Bergus, chief of the American diplomatic mission in Cairo, less than an hour after Sadat told the national assembly

School aide to resign

HANSEN — William Barnard, superintendent of the Hansen school, has resigned his position to accept the post of assistant superintendent in the Nampa school system. His new post will begin Aug. 1. Barnard, who came to Hansen from Rockland, still had a year left in his contract. It was not known what arrangements have been made with trustees over breaking of the contract. Barnard replaced Bernard Hopwood in the Hansen post. Mrs. Barnard has served as drill team advisory track instructor and directed the Head Start program here as well as being a substitute teacher. The youngest of three children, the couple has three children, the youngest of whom was graduated from high school here this week.

Dollar slips again

BONN (UPI) — The U.S. dollar plunged to a new low on the West German money market today. Brokers on the Frankfurt exchange fixed the dollar at 3.5030 marks. This was the dollar's lowest rate since the West German government floated the mark May 10 and the lowest rate against marks since September, 1949. The previous lowest dollar median rate of the current crisis was 3.5250 on May 10, the day money markets re-opened after the West German Bundesbank (Central Bank) stopped supporting the dollar. The official rate before MAY 24, 3.56 marks. A market spokesman said the new low rate emerged despite the fact the Bundesbank still has made no move to start selling its board of unwanted dollars at a guideline rate. West German Economics and Finance Minister Karl Schiller hopes to get the dollar down to a level at which speculators and business firms who poured billions of dollars into Germany in the weeks preceding the crisis will start withdrawing their dollars again. Banking sources said Schiller sought to have the Bundesbank intervene in the market to lower the rate when he conferred with the bank's central council Tuesday. The sources said it appeared the marking down of the dollar today reflected dealers' expectations of Bundesbank intervention shortly.

Miss Indian America titlist condemns pageant, attitudes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The winner of the Miss Indian America title condemned the pageant Wednesday and accused the Wyoming town where the contest was staged of exploiting Indians for financial gain.

"They don't want an outspoken, educated Indian girl with goals as Miss Indian America," Miss Virginia Stroud said. "They want me to play the stereotype Indian."

Miss Stroud, a Cherokee named to the Miss Indian America title at Sheridan, Wyo., late last summer, said she had done little traveling since winning the award. She said her mail also had been sent and that she was prevented from going to certain shows.

The 20-year-old Indian from Bacone, Okla., made the accusations to Lawrence Walsh, Washington correspondent for The Rocky Mountain News. The Denver newspaper printed the young woman's charges Thursday.

over New Year's," she said.

"It became, in effect, Sheridan's Miss Indian America and that certainly isn't the way to represent the country's 600,000 Indians.

"Nobody seemed to care that I wasn't doing anything, so I decided to use some reverse psychology on them by first taking a job in a pizza parlor and then gift-wrapping Christmas packages in a Sheridan store," Miss Stroud said.

"It didn't work. They were glad to see me keeping busy."

Miss Stroud, in Washington to make an appearance in connection with her title, said some of the people in Sheridan were "uptight. I have more education than some of them do, and I've been surprised to see how many of their youth have no goals.

"It's been 10 years since they took down the store signs that read 'No Dogs or Indians Allowed,' but the atmosphere is still there."

Miss Stroud said she believed she and others selected for the Miss Indian America title "have been used over the years to help Sheridan women acquire some culture by accompanying us on our travels."

She said her mail also had been censored "to make sure the mail is clean and healthy before I read it," and that she was not allowed to go to the rock musical "Hair" because it was "too risqué for Miss Indian America."

Indians may refuse to participate in future Indian Day activities in Sheridan, Miss Stroud said, because "more and more they realize they are being used by the townspeople to bring in the tourists and their money."

To future Miss Indian America prospects, she advises they "think twice about it."

"If they are the Shirley Temple types, then this is the job for them."

Funds given

CSI memorial honors late Luther Thompson

TWIN FALLS — The Luther Thompson Memorial Fund for nursing students has been established with an initial donation of $780 from Twin Falls physicians at the College of Southern Idaho.

Mrs. Judith Roberts, director of the new academic nursing program at CSI, accepted a check for the $780 from Mrs. Luther Thompson, widow of the late director of the South-Central District Health Department, who died a year ago.

The fund has been established in memory of Dr. Thompson to provide a continuing loan source for students sincerely interested in learning the art and science of nursing, in order to serve their fellow man in the spirit emulated by Dr. Thompson, Mrs. Roberts said.

The ceremony was opened with a biographical sketch of Dr. Thompson delivered by Twin Falls physician Dr. Ben Katz. Dr. Katz commended Dr. Thompson for his community interest and devotion to furthering the health of Magic Valley.

Dr. E. M. Wright, a partner with Dr. Katz, presented the check to Mrs. Thompson, who in turn gave it to Mrs. Roberts. The $780 represented donations from all Twin Falls physicians, with the hopes, Dr. Wright said, that more funds can be donated in the future to build up an adequate loan fund.

The fund will allow loans of up to $200 to students needing tuition assistance who have been accepted in the CSI program leading to a registered nurse certificate. The loans will be repayable at an interest rate of one per cent if repaid within one year and five per cent if a longer repayment time is required.

Miss Stroud said she gave up a college scholarship and the presidency of her class at Bacone Junior College in Oklahoma to accept the title, which she won last August.

"It just wasn't worth it," she said. "I feel exploited. The pageant is a disorganized non-profit organization that has so little money I can't go anywhere unless my expenses are paid by those who invite me."

After winning the title, Miss Stroud said she made a trip to Ft. Benning, Ga., for a television talk show. She then returned to Sheridan to live, as is required by pageant rules.

"I didn't know it then, but my traveling was over until February, unless you count the three days I went home to Oklahoma

Climb ends

KATMANDU, Nepal (UPI)—Death, illness, treacherous weather and discord brought to an end today an international expedition's attempt to climb Mount Everest, the world's tallest mountain.

The climbers, who dwindled from 32 to only two at the end, abandoned their quest 2,000 feet short of the 29,028-foot summit.

In a terse communique, the Nepalese foreign ministry said only that the two Britons had "stopped climbing."

It was the first attempt to scale the Himalayan peak by the southwestern face of the mountain, an almost vertical route.

Probe asked

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The FBI is being asked to investigate Ralph Nader's new charges that employees of the Senate and General Motors altered transcripts of auto safety hearings in 1966 to protect top GM officials.

Nader alleged in a letter to Sen. Abraham D. Ribicoff, D-Conn., that changes were made in the testimony of GM Chairman James M. Roche and Louis G. Bridesdine, then an assistant general counsel for GM.

Historic desk used

BOISE (UPI) — A historic desk once used by Idaho Gov. Frank Steunenberg has been loaned to the office of Gov. Cecil D. Andrus by the Idaho Supreme Court.

Andrus' secretary-receptionist Mrs. Jean Taylor said Thursday the prison industries had refinished the desk's wood, but had left the leather top intact. The desk was used by Steunenberg when he was governor from 1897 to 1901. After he left office Steunenberg was assassinated when dynamite was attached to the gate of his Caldwell home.

Dog law studied

TWIN FALLS — Revisions in the Twin Falls dog control ordinance, adopted two weeks ago by the city council, were reviewed Thursday by the humane officer, pound master and police chief.

Authority of the police department and that of the pound master in enforcing the new ordinance was outlined by City Manager Jean Millar.

One new policy calls for posting of copies of each citation issued for impounding dogs. These will be posted on a covered bulletin board outside the entrance to the pound at 506 Addison Ave. W., describing the dog and listing the time and location of apprehension.

This will give owners of missing dogs an opportunity to check the pound day or night to determine if their dog has been impounded, Millar said.

New dog licensing fees are in effect as a result of the ordinance revision. Costs have increased from $4 to $8 on female dogs if licensed in May, June or July, and from $4 to $8 on females and from $2 to $4 on males.

Millar said in the event of a dog with license, the dog catcher will notify the owner. On those without license, the citation tickets will be posted and the dog can be reclaimed with payment of fees against it.

The ordinance requires dogs be kept at the pound for 72 hours unless, in the opinion of the pound master, they are ill with a contagious disease or are injured and not likely to recover. In these cases, they may be destroyed immediately. Millar said many stray dogs picked up are in poor condition and ill or injured.

Under the new ordinance, dogs may be sold by the pound master but revenue will go to the city clerk's office. If an individual determines his dog is impounded, he must go to city hall and pay the clerk's office pound fees before returning to the pound to redeem his pet.

In the event of persons buying dogs from the pound, any female dog must be spayed before leaving the pound.

Millar said the former ordinance dated back to the time when the city operated the pound. It is now under contract to Dr. C. I. Manners. One of the provisions of the contract calls for providing "ample" space for impounded dogs. Millar said Dr. Manners will provide more space this year because of the increase in dog impoundments. There are 10 cages at the pound at this time and Humane Officer Keith Seville says in summer months three to four dogs per day are picked up. With each being held three days, the pound is overcrowded.

Millar said it is unlawful for the pound master to destroy the dog before the 72 hour period unless it is ill or injured.

Persons taking animals to the pound for destruction must pay a $1.50 fee. In the case of redeeming a pet there is a $5 impoundment charge and a $1 per day boarding fee plus the $2 notification fee.

Seville said the number of stray dogs and dog complaints increases constantly with 241 animals impounded in June of last year and an average of 150 per month during the remainder of the year. He said owners who are concerned about their dogs should make certain the dogs are wearing a current license at all times.

T.F. High honors conferred

TWIN FALLS — Honors were conferred on students at Twin Falls High School during the annual awards assembly this week.

Stephen Thompson, exchange student from Australia, received a class ring from Dave Saas, member of the graduating class.

The play awards were presented to Mark Golay, best actor; Vicki Holloway, best actress; Richard Arrington, best supporting actor; Linda Lincoln, best supporting actress; Suzanne Hedrick, bronze ham, and Patty Hall, best thespian.

The Hank Powers Award for the outstanding athlete went to Bill Miller and Richard Borah. Stephen Thompson also received the French Club award.

Debate awards were presented to Stephen Thompson, first; Don Ward, second, and Alan Olmstead, third.

Connie Tucker received the future teacher's scholarship. Sue Johnson received the Girl's League award and safety gymnastics awards were awarded to Barry Crockett, over-all winner; Beverly Jensen, second, and Kathy Egbert, third.

Vicki Koopnick was awarded the "Miss Spirit" award by the Pop Club.

John Blay, master of ceremonies, received the Outstanding Teen-ager of Idaho award from John Lawrence, principal.

New student body officers included Larry Anderson, president; Brian Katz, vice president; Vicki Koopnick, treasurer; Jackie Hovey, secretary; Marieta Bastian, Girl's League, and Colleen Ross, Pop Club.

The new cheerleaders were introduced. They are Mary Olmstead, Ann Pratt, Betsy Summerfield, Dea Bartlett and Jan Bartlett.

John Blay, master of ceremonies, received the Outstanding Teen-ager of Idaho award from John Lawrence, principal.

New student body officers included Larry Anderson, president; Brian Katz, vice president; Vicki Koopnick, treasurer; Jackie Hovey, secretary; Marieta Bastian, Girl's League, and Colleen Ross, Pop Club.

Replant to start June 1

TWIN FALLS — Three contracts for replanting of trees in the Sawtooth National Forest have been awarded, with planting scheduled to begin around June 1.

Forest officials said the three contracts awarded include one on the Ketchum Ranger District covering 123 acres and awarded to Wesley L. Hildley, Eugene, Ore., at $25.90 per acre. Others are to A and K Foresters, Boise, for 197 acres on the Malta Ranger District at $42.90 per acre and to World-Wide Foresters, Tacoma, Wash., for 295 acres on the Fairfield Ranger District at $34.90 per acre and 474 acres on the Shake Creek District, $36.45 per acre.

In all cases Douglas fir will be used to replant areas where timber has been harvested or fires have occurred.

Thirteen firms submitted bids and those selected were low for the specific areas. Mechanical planting equipment will be used and work in each area is expected to take about three weeks, officials said.

Conviction upheld

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Supreme Court upheld Thursday a Fifth District Court decision denying a new trial and upholding a judgement of conviction for the sale of drugs against Ronald J. Laws, Twin Falls.

Laws, convicted and sentenced to a term not to exceed five years in the penitentiary, appealed to the high court contending the trial judge erred in not granting a continuance of the trial and in not allowing a new trial.

Laws said he had been denied the effective aid of counsel because his trial counsel had not been given adequate time to prepare for trial, his counsel could not locate and interview prospective witnesses, and his counsel was unable to interview his client the evening prior to the trial.

Dirty Business

No one can blame Mrs. Ronald Reagan for saying politics is a "dirty" business...

of some twisted logic which seems to say that a person, just because he is wealthy, ought to pay taxes...

No allegations have been made that Reagan did anything improper. That is what makes all the talk...

The reason he paid no state income taxes; his office said, was because of "business reverses."

Senseless Waste

Some of the more dismal news to come out of the current struggle in Southeast Asia in recent weeks concerns a relic of a former time.

Angkor, ancient capital of the great Khmer empire, predecessor of contemporary Cambodia, is reported to have come under fire and been damaged.

and major sufferer of the Communists' Tet offensive of 1968.

World War II may have set some sort of a record. There was, for example, Monte Cassino, the 1,000-year-old abbey atop a strategic peak in central Italy...

The Germans left their own ruinous mark over much of Europe. In Poland, with incidental assistance from Soviet artillery, they destroyed the Medieval heart of Warsaw...

The area was occupied by Communist forces early in the Cambodian fighting and the Phnom Penh government, for fear of damage, declared it off limits to its own troops.

All too unfortunately, Angkor is far from the first such historic and artistic monument lost to the accidents and expediences of warfare.

Angkor has its predecessor in the current Indochinese conflict in Hue, former imperial capital of Vietnam which was the chief target

MR. SPECTATOR

12-Month Schools

The talk is starting again. Mr. Spectator has even heard it in Twin Falls and other areas of Magic Valley.

The reason that it is getting serious is simple — economics. School budgets over the nation (government statistics show) remain one of the fastest growing areas of public expenditure.

Taxpayers are questioning on a broader front, as they said, whether their funds are being used efficiently. As public school expenditures continue to rise, pressure for economic reform is bound to increase.

Unfortunately several widespread myths about a 12-month school system have been erected which could cloud the issue. Many teachers are antagonistic to the idea because they fear it would mean longer hours at the same pay...

together or for a number of other reasons.

None of these are necessary consequences. The basic premise behind the idea is to find a way of more efficiently utilizing a major capital investment. No industry or commercial enterprise could operate for long if it used its capital facilities for only a few hours a day, 4 weeks or less out of the year.

Most estimates project at least a 25 percent increase in the number of pupils who could be taught in a school building employed on a year-around basis.

Under a four-quarter system, one-fourth of the pupils would be on vacation at any given time, with vacations staggered over the year.

Teachers similarly could be scheduled on a staggered basis. Nor is the four-quarter concept the only one available.

With major districts now seriously considering the 12-month concept, the idea is moving from conjecture to practical application.

It is an idea whose time for some school districts may be rapidly approaching. Some of these might just be in Idaho.

WASHINGTON — The media are saying nothing about it, but Washington and Havana are currently the scenes of dramatic and profoundly significant contrasts on the draft issue.

In Washington, still in the process of recovering from extensive battering and slogging of the communist instigated and directed "anti-war" disturbances and disorders, a bitter fight is being waged in the Senate against continuance of the draft. An assortment of anti-Vietnam doves, pacifists, ultra-liberals and other militants are furiously filibustering to defeat the House-passed bill extending the draft two more years. Outcome is uncertain. The existing Selective Service Act expires June 30.

Meanwhile in Cuba where, as in all Iron Curtain countries, universal military training is permanent and mandatory, dictator Fidel Castro, the idol of radical U.S. youth, has put into effect still another draft law.

Under this new "law", violators are punished by being drafted for forced labor for periods of from six months to two years.

During this time they will be required to "do productive work" — as decided by the communist state. Currently, that means being sent into the sugar fields to cut cane.

Right now, that is admittedly particularly urgent because the sugar crop is running seriously behind schedule. In a May Day speech, Castro conceded this year's crop is likely to be 800,000 tons less than his loudly fan-fared goal of 7.5 million tons.

That goal in itself was an acknowledgment of a major setback. Last year the bombastic Cuban dictator vaingloriously announced a 10 million ton record. Somewhere between 6 and 7 million tons was finally squeezed out.

Sugar experts say Castro will be lucky to wind up with that much this year. Unlucky heavy rains and mounting labor and mechanical difficulties are severely curtailing production.

Apparently there are a lot of "social criminals" who have run afoul of Castro's new draft. In a May Day speech, Labor Minister Jorge Gilaquet declared that in the short time the draft has been in effect, more than 100,000 Cuban workers have been arrested and sentenced under it to "rehabilitation centers."

Risquet made another equally revealing disclosure — that these culprits "represent only about one-third of suspected violators."

The Castro henchman warned that no mercy will be shown those deemed guilty. Menacingly, Risquet declared the government intends to rigidly enforce the new draft regardless of how many are jailed and sent to labor camps.

Representative Richard Ichord, D-Mo., chairman of the Internal Security Committee, commenting on this matter, noted that recently several large groups of radical U.S. youths went to Cuba to cut cane. He cited these so-called "Venceremos Brigades" as graphic examples of "mindless absurdity."

While these American youths are voluntarily going to a communist police state, said Ichord, "the terrorist rulers of that state have prescribed a new law that says in effect their workers have no rights, not even the right to decline to toil for little pay and comforts."

ART BUCHWALD

Trusting Us

WASHINGTON — My colleague Russell Baker of the New York Times a couple of weeks ago wrote that the reason the Soviets were digging large new holes around Moscow is because they believed that American potholes were really dug for our new missile sites.

For the first time since I've known him, Baker was wrong. It isn't our potholes that the Russians are worried about, it's our subways.

I discovered this the other day sitting on a park bench across from the White House with a soviet spy named Nicolai. He told me the reason the Soviets were digging their large holes is because we were doing the same thing in Washington.

"Nicolai, how can you sit there and say that we are installing missiles in the Washington area?"

"Ha," said Nicolai. "Why are there large holes all over Washington?"

I started to laugh. "Nicolai, you Communist fool. Those holes are being dug for our new subway."

"Lies, all lies," Nicolai said angrily. "You are not building a subway — in Washington. Everyone knows that." "Of course we are. The plans have appeared in all the newspapers."

"Then what is this?" Nicolai demanded, taking a newspaper clipping out of his tobacco pouch. He read, "The House today defeated a bill to release funds of $34.2 million for the District of Columbia subway construction project now going on in Washington. Without these funds metro officials said they would not be able to continue the work."

"Nicolai, you naive Red idiot," I laughed. "The reason the House won't fund the subway is because the District of Columbia refuses to proceed with a highway program at the same time. You see, there is this guy Natcher from Kentucky, and he's mad because he wants Washington to have more highways, and he says if the District won't build them he won't release the money for the subway."

"Who is this Natcher?"

"He is a congressman from Kentucky."

"Why would a congressman from Kentucky have anything to say about a subway for Washington?"

"Because," I said. "In Washington everybody from every place in the country has something to say about Washington except the people who live here. Would you believe we have a congressman who lives in South Carolina who has more power than the mayor?"

"You are a capitalist liar," Nicolai said. "No one in the Kremlin would believe that story. Your Defense people are very clever. First they have announced they are going to build a subway. Then you get your holes dug just the right size for your missiles, Congress announces it will not give any money to complete the subway."

"Nicolai," I said nervously, "I know it doesn't make sense for Congress to let people start building a subway and then refuse to give the money to complete it. But that's the way it is done in the District of Columbia, and you have to believe me."

"My report to the Kremlin still stands," Nicolai said. "If you can prove to me that Washington will have a subway in the next 10 years, I will be happy to change my intelligence."

"I can't prove it, Nicolai," I said, perspiring. "We may or may not have a subway, depending on what happens in the Senate on the subway appropriations bill."

Nicolai declared, "We will continue digging holes in Moscow until you people stop digging holes in Washington. Your subway story was a good try, but it never fooled us. We were onto it from the beginning."

"I left Nicolai and ran to the nearest phone and called Congressman Natcher's office. "For God's sake," I pleaded, "release the subway funds before the Russians install a whole new generation of intercontinental nuclear missiles."

"Russian missiles?" The person on the other end of the phone said. "We're sorry. That's not our committee."

BRUCE BLOSSAT

Confidence

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Preparing for one of his quite infrequent televised news conferences is a real agony for President Richard Nixon. The ordeal, and it is that, lasts at least a whole day.

He is not unique among presidents in taking time to prepare, to anticipate the questions he may get. But, more than others before him, he seems to feel the exquisite uncertainty of the conference drumfire.

He suffers some of this same discomfort as he makes ready for his visitors, even when their time with him is to be brief. He has no natural fund of small talk.

Earlier this year, he told aide H.R. (Bob) Haldeman one morning that he didn't want to see one group of men listed on his schedule. They were public officials with a national-minority background. Nixon had not had time to pack his social first-aid kit with appropriate trivial talk. (The visit was called off, only to be reinstated at the last minute and go surprisingly well.)

Things like this are not at all new to Nixon-watchers. He is an egg-walker, treading delicately upon the thin shells. He tries to make it look like a confident plunge, but most of the time it is seen for what it is.

He is intent on taking great care with the words he utters, yet too often what he says sounds careless. His quest for the right phrase may lead him into entangling thickets. Some of his intrusive comments about the controversial Calley case fit this pattern.

It is always said that "no one really knows Richard Nixon." Some men, though, know him well enough to grasp that he is not a broadly confident man and probably never will be.

The great pain of his life is that he chose fields of endeavor — politics and high public office — where displays of confidence are supposed to be worn like a uniform.

So, in the words of one man who views him sympathetically, "Nixon is always trying to project an image different from what he really is." And, sadly, in television's glare he is observed as he tries shakily to suggest confidence.

Against today's vivid backdrop of distrust for men in high places, Richard Nixon's inborn insecurity could prove critical to his prospects for reelection in 1972.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Senior Citizen

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What's a poor Senior Citizen to do? Some doctors tell us we need daily portions of egg, milk, etc., and others tell us we should avoid such foods because they produce cholesterol. Whom shall we believe? — B.D.J.

I'm well aware of this conflict of advice, and it is my belief that worry over cholesterol has been carried to unrealistic extremes. For one thing, it is impossible to avoid cholesterol entirely, because the body will manufacture cholesterol from whatever we eat — whether it contains cholesterol to start with or not. Some cholesterol is a necessity.

For another, cholesterol alone certainly is not entirely responsible for hardening of the arteries. Other factors are involved, so why fix all the attention on that and ignore the others?

I agree that a moderate amount of care in choice of our foods is reasonable — but it is also beyond argument that eggs, milk, and other foods contain other nutrients which are most beneficial.

My solution to the matter is to exercise reasonable care but not to distort the diet into rigid patterns. If you want my attitude outlined in detail, I refer you to my booklet, "Control Cholesterol Sensibly." If you want a copy, send 25 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Thosteson, care of The Times-News.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My daughter uses an electric heater in the bathroom when she bathes the children. There is no exhaust fan and it gets very hot in there. Could this heat harm her or the children? — Mrs. B.R.K.

I doubt if there is anything harmful in the heat itself, and there are no fumes from an electric heater, so there's no risk on that score.

However, I see no point in making the room warmer than comfort demands. Some heaters of this type are equipped with thermostats — or the heater can be turned off after the room is warm enough.

The principle danger is that electrical contrivances of any sort are a potential danger in the bathroom if insulation breaks down and one comes in contact with the power wires.

The danger is magnified in the bathroom because wet skin conducts more electricity than dry. Besides that, the water pipes and connected fixtures provide a perfect ground, so that if one comes in contact with a live wire, the whole force of the electric current can be shunted directly through the body.

Be careful of electric devices in any bathroom!

Dear Dr. Thosteson: An eye specialist tells me I have a pterygium on my eye. He said it is tissue of some kind and it grows and I should have it removed. Do you know anything about these things and is it a serious operation? — Mrs. N.K.

A pterygium is a fold in the outer layer of the conjunctiva (the tissue which covers the eyeball). It is triangular in shape, usually originating at the inner edge of the eye.

The point of the triangle grows very slowly but it may in time grow over the corner of the eye, thus interfering with vision.

If such encroachment on the center part of the eye seems likely, then the pterygium can be removed — and should be removed before it reaches the stage of obstructing vision.

When you ask whether it is a "serious operation," that depends on what you mean by "serious." It is, obviously, a delicate procedure, and should be done by an eye specialist, but it is essential to have it done if it is threatening your eyesight.

Posse slates

contest

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls County Sheriff's Posse is seeking contestants for the posse's queen contest.

Blair Osterhout, contest chairman said the contest is open to any girl 18 years of age or older and is single. The winner will be eligible for the state posse meet and the Miss Rodeo Idaho contest.

The girl named queen will receive a saddle that was donated by Bainter Furniture and Calton Saddlery.

A dinner for posse members and queen contestants is set for 8 p.m. May 28 in the Holiday Inn. Then on May 30 at 2:30 p.m. at the fairgrounds in Filer, the girls will compete in horsemanship.

The saddle is on display at Calton Saddlery and Tack Shop, 760 Main Ave. N. until Wednesday, then it will be at the Holiday Inn.

Stripe switch

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—California is switching from white to yellow stripes, from the State Division of Highways has decided to repaint the stripes down the middle of all two-lane highways.

The traditional white stripes will be repainted yellow for greater visibility, a highway spokesman said. The yellowing will cost about $245,000.

Steel eyes pay boost

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The 13.5-per-cent wage increase Congress voted this week for railroad signalmen as part of legislation ending the two-day nationwide rail strike may become a target for steelworkers in their contract talks with the steel industry.

Top negotiators for both sides

In the steel talks conceded that the rail pay settlement signed into law by President Nixon would have an effect on their negotiations, which appear headed for an August walkout by 450,000 steel workers.

Union President T. W. Abel indicated he would be glad to settle for an annual pay raise that high for his members, but chief industry negotiator T. Heath Larry said the 13.5 per cent pay raise for one year was "not a very happy outlook."

Abel and Larry led some 600

negotiators for the union and nine large steel companies as contract talks opened Wednesday for two days of preliminary presentations and skirmishing. Most of this large number of officials will be involved in local and company-wide negotiations rather than in national bargaining.

After today's meeting at the Shoreham Hotel, the negotiators will retire to their home locations for individual company and plant bargaining on local issues through the end of June before returning here in July for national bargaining. Contracts expire July 31.

The steelworkers got pay raises averaging only 6 per cent a year in their 1968 contracts, so they understandably look with relief on a 13.5 per cent wage boost. Abel said his members have been hit hard by inflation since 1968, and he demands that the steel companies come through with a "substantial" wage increase in the new contracts, including a cost of living clause.

Idaho CAP wing plans trial search Saturday

TWIN FALLS — The Idaho Wing of the Civil Air Patrol will mobilize Saturday for a practice search and rescue exercise which will be evaluated for efficiency and capability by the United States Air Force.

L. Ray T. Crandall, director of information for the Idaho Wing, said targets simulating two downed aircraft will be placed by the evaluating team. Realistic clues will be given to the rescue operations team and instructions will be passed from them to search personnel.

L. Col. Hans Forschler, "Burley" will head up the operations, assisted by Capt. C. A. Parrott.

Four satellite stations will be manned by aircraft, ground rescue units and radio communications. The stations will be at Nyssa, Ore., Boise, Pocatello and headquarters at the Twin Falls City-County Airport.

An emergency radio beacon will be utilized at one of the simulated crash sites, Crandall said.

Col. George Fulkner, Idaho Wing commander, will oversee operations from Wing headquarters at Twin Falls. All public officials are invited to attend and observe the exercise, Crandall said.

Ground job for Lovell

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—Capt. James A. Lovell Jr., who has spent more time in space than any other man, today was named deputy director of the science and applications directorate at the Manned Spacecraft Center (MSC).

Lovell has flown Gemini and Apollo missions and commanded the Apollo 13 flight which aborted when an oxygen tank exploded on the way to the moon.

Anthony J. Callo, head of the directorate, announced the appointment which means Lovell will leave the astronaut corps after almost nine years.

Lovell, 45, has spent more time in space on Gemini and Apollo missions than any other astronaut or cosmonaut—29 days, 19 hours, four minutes and 54 seconds.

He holds the record with Frank Borman for the longest single American space flight of 330 hours, 35 minutes and one second on the flight of Gemini 7.

Lovell also commanded Gemini 12, was aboard the first Apollo mission to orbit the moon and commanded Apollo 13.

He will continue to hold his Navy commission while assigned to the MSC directorate which has the responsibility for developing scientific experiments for the remaining three Apollo missions and the Skylab space station program scheduled to begin in 1973. The directorate also handles moon samples and earth resources experiments.

The new position will not mean a raise in pay, however, a space center spokesman said.

River flow data sent on TV net

BOISE (UPI)—Boaters in the Lewiston-Clarkston area now are getting "instant" Snake River flow information via television as a public service of American Cablevision and Idaho Power Company.

Lester Garlinghouse, Idaho Power operating superintendent, said beaming of the advisory information began Wednesday on cable channel U, Lewiston, and will be continued indefinitely.

"These important reports for boaters and marina operators in the vicinity of Lewiston and Clarkston are available on the channel approximately every minute and 20 seconds," he said.

The reports show the Snake's flow in cubic feet per second for current period in the stretch of river downstream from Hells Canyon dam to the mouth of the Salmon River.

They give both the maximum and minimum flows for periods as well as the Salmon River flow and the anadrome gage reading at 8 a.m. the first day of each period.

Garlinghouse said any emergency causing abrupt changes in the Snake's regulation at Hells Canyon dam in cooperation with the U. S. Army Engineers will be reported in all media in the Lewiston-Clarkston area.

Crime up

THE HAGUE (UPI)—The crime rate in Holland rose 11 per cent in 1970, reports the Central Statistics Agency. Dutch police solved 41 per cent of the 287,000 reported crimes in 1970, compared with 44 per cent in 1969.

Workmen grab plant Tiny Natasha keeps Natalie off screen

LA PAZ, Bolivia (UPI) — Plant workers of the small tabloid daily El Comercio in the Bolivian industrial capital of Santa Cruz Thursday seized the building and its equipment with the apparent aim of making it a cooperative.

El Comercio, an eight-page limited circulation daily, has been undergoing economic problems, reports said. The newspaper and photographers who look over the newspaper apparently sought to emulate the activists.

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — If you've seen, heard or read little about Natalie Wood in the past year, the scarcity of public activity may be placed on a scheming female.

This particular female is six months old. Her name is Natasha, and she is Natalie's daughter.

At one time Natalie was the favorite target for Hollywood's gossip. Each time she appeared at a discotheque, chic restaurant or party on the arm of an escort, speculation soared about the intensity of her romance.

Two years ago Natalie married English producer Richard Gregson and put an end to the rumors.

But tiny Natasha has temporarily put an end to Natalie's career.

"Since Natasha was born I have absolutely no desire to work," the diminutive (5-foot, 2-inch) actress said. "All of my values seem to have changed.

"Motherhood, for me at least, is the greatest thing that's ever happened. I'm content to spend most of my time at home with Richard and Natasha."

For an actress who began her film career at age 4, and with more than 35 movies to her credit, Natalie's indifference to work is a bit unsettling. At her age—32—most movie stars are deeply immersed in their careers.

"I don't even read the scripts that are sent me," she said. "I return them unread."

Her last movie was "Bob and Carol and Ted and Alice" in 1969.

Reminded that Hollywood has a short memory, and that fan clubs are somewhat less long-lived than say, Cuban dissidents, Natalie shrugged.

"Maybe by the end of the year I'll feel like working again," she said. "My interests just don't include acting at the moment. Fortunately Richard and I are financially able to do as we please. And he is busy on several projects, including one, for me."

Will little Natasha become a child star as did her mother?

'Mimeo TV' predicted

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Videorecord World is a provocative, informative, new publication that bills itself as "The Magazine of the Videocassette, Videodisc, Videocartidge Industry." This means, of course, that it is on a very good thing.

And in its current number, it offers a fascinating interview with a highly outspoken teacher, John Culkin, who is a former Catholic priest and now is president and director of a nonprofit organization in New York called the Center for Understanding Media. Following are excerpts from that interview, reprinted with permission of Videorecord World:

Question: "How do you see video or film makers fitting into the cable TV picture?"

Answer: "I think cable-by-definition is community television and I think that we haven't had community television except on massive city basis. And there are many communities inside that one community of Los Angeles or New York. So what cable can do is to pick up smaller communities, whether they're ethnic communities, economic communities or communities of age groups like young people or parents or something like that. So I think it's this kind of rifle shot approach which will make cable responsive to local needs.

"But at the same time, the more local it is, the less money you're gonna have to put into production. So I think almost by definition you're into mimo-ograph machine television."

Q: "What kind of programs then do you foresee?"

A: "Inexpensively produced stuff, simple discussion format, simple documentary, out-in-the-neighborhood kind of format. There's not a big enough audience to support much more than that. You know we'll produce things, but within that context. The David Frost show doesn't cost 20 cents to produce, and there's nothing on the David Frost show except a fancy name. That costs money. So you can have a local David Frost show or talk show where the reason the people hang in there and listen isn't because the guests are that sexy, but because the guests have got something to do with their life in a very close way.

"That simple kind of television. A project that we did in Newburgh (N.Y.) proves that you can get a lot of fairly well produced material, documentaries. You know—take the porta-pack out on the streets and look at things in the neighborhood. So that's all possible."

Computer helps financial hunt

NEW YORK (UPI)—Many students in the process of graduating from high school and their families are scrounging around today for money to pay college expenses looming ahead.

For some June graduates the computer may have an answer, or partial answer, to that financial problem.

Have you lived on an Indian reservation for at least six weeks? Or, is your last name Murphy, Anderson or Leavenworth?

If so you may be eligible for part or full financial aid, details of which can be found in the computer data bank maintained by Scholarship Search, a New York company. Banks around the country are signing up with this company as a public service gesture and also to ease the pressure for low interest college loans in a time of tight money.

Millions of dollars in scholarships, grants and loans are available each year through various private and government organizations. Yet many scholarships go unused because students and their counselors do not know they exist since some are awarded on the basis of where you live, ethnic origins, vocational preferences, social or religious affiliations and the like.

Two years ago three young New York men—Steve Schlesinger, Leonard Sauson and Charles Benghan—decided to program a computer to ferret out scholarship information. Six months ago they went to David North & Associates, Inc., a management consultant firm in New York, to see how to set a broad base for the operation.

David North suggested banks. Since May 1, 35 banks with more than 600 branches around the country have signed up with the service. Seventy other applications are pending and 400 are expected to be in the scholarship research business by mid-summer. American Fletcher National Bank of Indianapolis had 2,000 applications in the first 10 days, according to North. The Western Pennsylvania National Bank of Pittsburgh ran out of application forms just handling its own employees.

The applicant goes to a bank with such a service and fills out a five page questionnaire. He gets back a computerized printout suggesting scholarship or other college financial aid for which he may be eligible and details on how, when and where to apply for it. For a fee of $20 each applicant receives a minimum of 10 "leads" to financial aid. No charge is made if the computer fails to provide at least 10 scholarship or grant items.

Grants ranging from $100 to full tuition, board and room are in this data bank. Donors include unions, fraternal organizations, foundations, local, state and federal agencies, military auxiliary organizations, industrial groups, corporations and educational institutions.

Financial need is not a deterrent in qualifying.

For example, an American Indian living in New York state and desiring a career in agriculture can apply to Cornell University for a tuition grant. Any student with the surname "Leavenworth" can apply to Yale for a $900 annual tuition grant thanks to a fund established by a Yale graduate interested in perpetuating his family name.

Nixon plan may fail

By LOUIS CASSELS
UPI Senior Editor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — America's cities and states are in a financial bind and desperately need some kind of help from their rich Uncle Sam. Nearly everyone in Washington seems to agree on that.

But there are sharp differences on how the federal government should come to the aid of states and cities.

President Nixon wants to distribute $5 billion in federal money among the 50 states, with no strings attached beyond a requirement that part of it be passed along to local governments. He calls this program "general revenue sharing."

Nixon's program has very little chance of getting through Congress.

The legislation would have to originate in the House Ways and Means Committee. And both the committee chairman, Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., and its ranking Republican, Rep. John W. Byrne, Wis., have come out against the Nixon proposal. They say it's a bad idea because:

1. It would increase the already heavy reliance of states and cities on federal support, and thereby destroy the autonomy which the framers of the Constitution intended them to have; and

2. It would relieve state and city politicians of the burden of deciding whether a proposed benefit would be worth the additional taxes required to finance it. That could lead to fiscal irresponsibility.

Seeking a substitute for the Nixon proposal, lawmakers have recently displayed a growing interest in the possibility of using tax credits as a device for giving states and cities a larger share of the total revenue extracted from the public.

The tax credit plan takes account of the fact that all levels of government are squeezing blood from the same turnip — the much-belabored taxpayer. Upwards of 25 per cent of his income already is being taken by government; and he is getting more than a mile rebellious.

Red units hold edge on Allies

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

When Leonid I. Brezhnev, Soviet Communist party leader, renewed in a speech at Tiflis, Soviet Georgia, his proposal for negotiations on reduction of armed forces in Central Europe he accompanied it with an allusion familiar to his wine-drinking Georgian audience.

He compared those who asked questions about the exact nature of the Soviet proposal to a person that tries to judge the flavor of a wine by its appearance without tasting it.

The trouble up to now is that the Russian bottle is so dark it's impossible even to tell the color of the contents.

Here are some of the quantitative and qualitative considerations that would enter any discussion of a reduction of forces:

In West Germany and Denmark, considered the "front line" of any confrontation between NATO and Warsaw Pact nations, the West maintains just under 26 divisions totalling 703,000 men supported by 6,000 tanks.

Arrayed against these allied divisions in Communist East Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia are 28 Soviet and 29 non-Soviet divisions totalling 855,000 men supported by 13,650 tanks.

Available altogether to Warsaw pact forces in central and northern Europe are 60 additional Soviet divisions inside their own borders, plus 13 Polish divisions, 13 Czech, six east German and six Hungarian divisions.

Soviet forces have one tank for every seven and a half men as opposed to one tank for every 11 and a half allied soldiers.

Warsaw pact forces have 4,480 fighter-bombers and 3,400 fighter planes.

NATO forces have 2,800 bombers and 610 fighters.

In other fields, the Soviets are said to have 350 submarines against about 200 for Britain, France and the United States.

OES unit honors chapter secretary

SHOSHONE — Mrs. Charles Pendleton was honored at the Lincoln Chapter No. 42, Order of Eastern Stars, meeting this week in recognition of beginning her 18th year as secretary of the chapter.

Mrs. Pendleton is also grand representative of the grand jurisdiction of North Carolina in Idaho.

Mrs. George Kenaston, worthy matron, presented an addenda in Mrs. Pendleton's honor, a corsage and gift. Irene Fox, organist of Magic Chapter No. 82, Twin Falls, played a musical number for Mrs. Pendleton.

The cake, served at tables decorated in spring flowers after the chapter meeting, had Mrs. Pendleton's name and years of service on the top icing.

A gift was also presented Marian Langdon, Magic Chapter, Twin Falls, for being the first visitor of the new year at Lincoln Chapter.

Other visitors included Mrs. A.G. Blawell, worthy matron of Richfield Chapter; Irvin Davis, worthy patron of Bethany Chapter No. 22, Halley, and Ione McQuin, grand representative of the grand jurisdiction of Connecticut in Idaho, as well as other members from Twin Falls, Halley and Richfield chapters.

Mrs. Mary Kay Bennett

contributed to the birthday fund.

Mrs. and Mrs. Kenaston, Mrs. Snow Coffin and Mrs. Arthur Martin reported visiting Magic Chapter in Twin Falls Monday evening.

Members of the refreshment committee included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shaffer and Mrs. Carolyn Walker. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Terry and Mrs. Arthur Martin are members of the June committee.

Committees announced

RICHFIELD — Parent-teacher unit committees for the coming school year are announced by Mrs. S.C. Peterson, president.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ross are membership chairman; Mrs. Frances Frieled and Mrs. Max Behr, program; Mrs. Jay Ward, hospitality; Mrs. Dale Whitesell, room mothers; Mrs. Rupert Goicochea, magazine; Mrs. David Whitesell, procedure book; Supt. Neil of the grand jurisdiction of Andreason, legislative measures, and Mrs. Carl Paulson, publicity.

Plans are underway for entering a float in the June 12 Outlaw Day Parade.

Check presented

Fall semester schedule set

MOSCOW — Although fall semester at the University of Idaho will begin early this year under a new schedule recently approved by the regents, students can register up to three weeks late, according to the registrar's office.

Registration days are scheduled for Aug. 31 and Sept. 1. The last day to add courses or change course sections is Sept. 23. Freshman pre-registration

Blazer jackets take lead

NEW YORK (UPI)—Figure faults that can't be deleted or exercised away, for lack of will power or what, will be masked by blazer jackets—fashionable around the clock for fall and winter.

Marie McCarthy, in her collection for Larry Aldrich shown Wednesday in New York, firmed up the trend to the blazer. Hers were in red velvet, stain, paved with sequins, made of goldkissed brocade. Most were knuckle-length—providing maxi cover.

The Aldrich collection, traditionally the one to point the straightest line to new trends, showed blazer suits, blazer costumes and even a black sequin hot pants outfit with halter top and blazer.

In an earlier collection, the Malcolm Charles one by Morton Myles, the reason for blazer-mania was given.

Jay-C-Ettes elect

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls Jay-C-Ettes honored their mothers and elected new officers during their May meeting at the American Legion Hall, it was announced Thursday.

Officers include Sandy Becker, president; Bertha Buchanan, vice president; Karen Howlett, secretary; Janice Phillips, treasurer; Carol Norton, internal director, and Valerie Wojcik, external director. A joint installation and awards banquet is planned with the Jaycees.

Members furnished a salad bar buffet and campaign election posters and favors set the mood for the evening. Robin Sweet,

A Lovelier You

WANTED: LISSOME LEGLINES

By Mary Sue Miller

When the girls pass by, listen and you shall hear thuds, clops, plops and shuffles. Look and what you see will almost surely be as unappealing as what you hear.

A plopping walk causes the prettiest leg to appear stocky. Imagine how it affects a really heavy leg. When shuffled about, skinny legs seem positively gaudy.

Better listen and look, particularly if you fancy bikinis and short-shorts in your summer wardrobe. But, although neither item is on your list, you'd be wise to check. A soundless glide and the leg that takes it are much admired feminine assets.

Any lack shows a need for tuning up your muscles and limbering your joints. Once you have done both jobs, your legs take on a willfulness of both movement and contour. Worth doing, eh? Here's the routine for it:

- (a) Stand with feet together, fold arms on chest, and place fingertips on shoulders.
- (b) Rise on tiptoes, bend knees until hips touch heels and then fling arms out to sides at shoulder level.
- (c) Slide right foot out to far right; hold for 3 counts and return heel to hip position. Slide left foot to left, hold and return.
- (d) Fold arms on chest and rise to erect position.
- (e) Relax and repeat entire performance 10 times, always working for a smoother and faster performance.

Girl Scout camp schedule outlined

JEROME — Girl Scouts of Neighborhood No. 18 will hold their day camp this year from June 14 through 18 at the Jerome County Fairgrounds, according to Mrs. Mark Dyer, one of the directors of the annual event.

Mrs. Dyer said the day camp will be held from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. and on June 18, 3 to 9 p.m. Overnight for Brownie Fly-ups and older will also be June 18.

Theme for this year's day camp is "Eco-Action." Other directors include Mrs. Truman Arbaugh and Mrs. Dale Hammond, both Jerome and Mrs. Gayle Bennett, Twin Falls.

Mrs. Dyer noted there will be no transportation provided and parents will have to bring their girls and pick them up as well.

There will be trained volunteers and a firstaider in the camp at all times, Mrs. Dyer said.

This year, the girls will not have to bring food and other items from home, this will all be taken care of in the camp registration fee. The girls are to bring only dunking bags, with eating equipment. Any changes will be on the leader's daily plan.

Appropriate camp clothing should include shorts, jeans, cotton shirts, or official Girl Scout uniforms, sturdy shoes, socks, sweaters or jackets.

Bottle brush

A bottle brush is a handy tool in cleaning wrought-iron furniture. Wrap a dusting cloth around the brush and slide through hard-to-reach or decorative areas where dust and grime collect—chair and table legs, sconces, magazine racks. For a more thorough cleaning periodically wring a cloth of soap or detergent suds and use it in place of the dusting cloth. Then wash the brush thoroughly.

On April 15 it became illegal in the United States to manufacture carpets larger than 24 square feet—or hall and stair carpets longer than six feet—that are not flame resistant.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: Concerning women who display hairy legs and underarms, you asked for volunteers from Italy, so here is one:

I am a male American medical student at the University of Rome. When I first arrived here, I was amazed to see hairy legs and bushy underarms on Italian women of all ages. According to an Italian bachelor friend of mine, Italian men don't mind the hair at all. He said that a "defuzzed" woman would have the same effect on him as a woman without eyebrows would have on me!

In a country where people are so preoccupied with romance, it is hard to resign oneself to the daily confrontation with "B. O." on the bus. How an Italian can be romantically interested in a woman who has a jungle of hair under her arms, and no deodorant, is a mystery to me.

My one consolation is that I will one day return to the States where the women and Mr. Gillette have had a tremendous rapport for decades. In the meantime, I'll confine my female companionship to Americans or other foreigners.

FRED IN ROME

DEAR FRED: You have been conditioned by your American background. Would you believe that some European women are turned on by men who smell of PERSPIRATION! And some men prefer their women the same way. I'll bet there is more perfume sold in Europe than SOAP!

DEAR ABBY: I am a young girl but old enough to have a boy friend. I live in Arkansas and my boy friend lives in Glendale, Cal. [He used to live in Arkansas.] Well, every summer my boy friend comes to Arkansas to visit his grandmother. Last summer he came here and his grandmother made him cut his hair, so he wrote and told me he wasn't coming this summer because his grandmother told him unless he planned on getting his hair cut first, not to come.

Abby, I begged him to come anyway. Last I heard he wasn't coming. He says he loves me but it looks like he loves his hair more. He wears it down to his shoulders.

How can I get him to come to Arkansas even if he has to get a haircut?

ARKANSAS GIRL

DEAR GIRL: The fight for long hair is one that nearly every long-haired male needs desperately to win. It's not the hair he wants to preserve, it's his RIGHT to wear his hair the way he wants to. I'm afraid you're fighting a losing battle.

DEAR ABBY: I am writing about "J," the divorcee in Lincoln Park, N. J., who complained because the men there took her to dinner, a movie, and then expected sex.

You said, "Try the men in southern New Jersey. They are much more civilized and domesticated, I'm told."

Would you believe they are worse? I am also divorced and have gone out with men in their late thirties and early forties. The men in South Jersey take you to dinner, skip the movies and expect sex. This goes for men in Pennsylvania, also, as I border Philadelphia. In fact, this is also true of men in Bucks County and Montgomery County, Pa.

I'd say stick with the North Jersey men. At least you get to see a movie a few times a year. All decent men are married, and only half the married men are decent.

"J" FROM CINNAMINSON, N. J.

DEAR ABBY: Why are people worried about out-of-wedlock babies not having a name? They DO have one.

For centuries, theologians have said that when a girl is "profligate," her baby is the responsibility of her parents, and shall bear the parents' surname. As it were, it accrues to its maternal grandparents in the analogy of a calf belonging to the owner of the cow.

FATHER NEDERBACH, RITTMAN, OHIO

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Fly-Up ceremonies set May 25

JEROME — Jerome Brownie Troop 561 will hold its Brownie Fly-up ceremonies at 4 p.m. May 25 at the Presbyterian Church, according to Mrs. Dale Hammond, troop leader.

Mrs. Hammond said mothers are invited to attend as well as any friends of relatives.

Girls who will be flying up are Cindy Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Adams; Linda Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Bell; Julie Craig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Craig; Patti Fredericksen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Fredericksen; Shery Hammond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hammond; Christina Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Harris; Vicky Meyers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Myers; Marcia Patheal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Patheal; Karen Riddle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Riddle; Jeffery and Terrie Rawlings, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Rawlings; Bobbi Thomson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Thomson; Shonna Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Walker and Shelly Phelan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Phelan. Miss Phelan is from Troop 238.

The Brownie troop last week spent an afternoon cleaning out the flower beds at St. Benedict's Hospital in Jerome, Mrs. Hammond said.

A field trip is planned for the last day of school to Larry Patheal's farm to see the ponies and other farm animals.

Program slated

Donaldson to attend school

JEROME — Michael Donaldson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Donaldson, Jerome, will attend the Jets Computer Programming Summer School June 7 through 18 at the University of Idaho.

Donaldson, a junior at Jerome High School, was awarded a scholarship to attend the session. He is one of 40 outstanding math students selected from a large group of applicants, who will receive this advanced training.

The program is designed not only to teach the basic language of the programming of a computer, but also the functional use of the computer.

The full scholarship will be provided by TIT Rayonier, Inc., Tualatin, Wash.

Program on Laos given

TWIN FALLS — Mrs. John Wells presented a program on Laos when members of the Country Woman's Club met Wednesday at the Rogerson Hotel Colonial Room for a luncheon.

She told of the customs of the Laos people and displayed many items of their dress and cooking utensils. Mrs. Wells and her husband spent two and one-half years in Laos as members of the International Voluntary Service.

Mrs. Dorothy Bryce played a number of her accordion.

The next meeting is June 16 with Mrs. Rose Allen. Officers will be installed.

Scribbler Club meets

TWIN FALLS — Various aspects of bridges, from the construction to the philosophical, highlighted the Scribbler Club meeting at the home of Mrs. Olive Kelly, it was announced today.

The program was given by Mrs. Earl Walker on education for children. She used quotations from kindergarten children she teaches to develop ideas on philosophy of teaching this age group.

Mrs. P. B. Johnston reported a publication. The June meeting will be at Mrs. Johnston's home with Mrs. James Vandenberg giving the program on "Our Heritage."

Shoot results

HANSEN — The Modern Woodmen of America Rifle, shoot held this week at the Woodman Hall resulted in the Green Team, with a score of 203 points, winning over the Red with 189 points.

In individual tallies, Jack Nuckols was high man with 59 points. He shot two perfect score cards and one nearly perfect, missing by one point. Joe Hill was second, with 51, and Jim Bennet, third, 44.

Mrs. Minerva Smith was high scorer for women with 54 points. She shot an unusual score of three cards with 18 points each from a possible 20 perfect score. Lydia Mae Pyron was second with 53, and Mrs. Ruth Hill, third, 48.

Hints - Trees still available

When you give medicine or any treatment to a sick child, briefly explain what you are going to do so he will be prepared and may even be more cooperative. Never leave any medication at a bedside table; bring it into the room only when you are going to administer it.

Chintz — 70s version — is a polyester and cotton blend, splashed with color and treated to a resin finish made to withstand repeated launderings.

Gemstones are those materials possessing beauty, rarity and durability that are used for personal adornment. Approximately 2,000 of these have been identified. Of these, perhaps 200 are important and today's fashion is concerned with just 20 — the diamond, and 19 colored stones.

RICHFIELD — Richfield Lions Club announces that Mountain Ash and Evergreen trees are still available to the public to plant for beautification of Richfield. Twelve trees were planted in the town park and at residences last week. Lions helping with the project were Lyle Piper and Norman Albrethsen.

Piper drove a pickup for right of way clean-up by Scout groups. Boys working were Stanley Paulson, Michael and Ken Piper, Craig and Rex King and Douglas Kennison. Treats were furnished at the park by the Lions Club.

Richfield Lions have plans for selling seven dozen light bulbs in the community as a Sight for the Blind project.

BOISE (UPI) — The Permanent Building Fund Council authorized installation today of an experimental infrared detection system at the new penitentiary side outside of Boise. Raymond May, director of corrections, said for approximately $29,000 the system will be placed around the farm dormitory at the new site, which will house some 80 inmates by July 1. At the same time, the council asked Public Assistance Commissioner Bill Child to see whether he could obtain an extension of his lease at the Arts and Commerce Building in Boise, which is scheduled to terminate June 30. Child said he had been ordered by acting Director of Administrative Services Robert Tanswhen not to rent office space. But, Child said, the only state location available — the now-vacant National Guard Armory on Reserve Street — would require extensive remodeling to be suitable. He said Ada County needed the Arts and Commerce Building for additional courtroom space and said he expected the county would be "unwilling" to extend his lease. Originally, he said, he planned to move the Department of Public Assistance to the new Morrison - Knudsen building, where he could rent space for $66,000 per year. At present, he is paying approximately $2,000 per month at the Arts and Commerce Building. But, he said, M-K's unwilling-ness to rent for a long period of time coupled with Leannan's order that he not longer rent space meant he had to look elsewhere. Child said he was uncertain what it would cost to remodel the National Guard Armory, although he said the federal government would participate up to $12,000 for the one year. Jim Shearer, architect for the Department of Public Works, said he thought it would cost $30,000 to bring the area up to "liveable space" but would cost between $50,000 and $100,000 to make permanent changes. Sen. Warren Brown, R-McCall, asked Child to try to get a one-year extension on his lease. He said since the Department of Administrative Services had ordered Child not to rent the "monkey is on their back" to find new space. May told the council the original plan at the new penitentiary site had been to put nine towers around the perimeter. Then, he said, another plan was drawn up for three towers and a vibration sensing system buried underground. If the proposed infrared system proved itself, he said, only one tower would be needed. The infrared system for the entire site would cost $75,000 compared with $150,000 for the buried sensing system. Towers, may said, were a "monument to the past." He said the present plan is to vacate the current penitentiary facilities by Jan. 1, 1973, although he said it might take through that fiscal year to complete the transfer.

Key solon still wants pullback

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Leader Mike Mansfield, beaten decisively in his bid to cut the U.S. military contingent in Europe by 50 per cent, has pledged to continue his fight to stop the drain of American resources in maintaining the 300,000-man force. After a long day of debate, the Senate Wednesday night defeated the Mansfield proposal 81-38. It was a victory for President Nixon, who received the support of former Democratic Presidents, Lyndon B. Johnson and Harry S. Truman, in opposing the move. Mansfield said after the vote he had "no regrets, no apologies, no alibis." He said he felt he had achieved a victory by bringing the issue to the Senate floor and that he would raise the matter again once the impact of the debate sinks in. "The vote doesn't represent the concern and uneasiness of a sizeable majority of the Senate," the Montana Democrat said. Speaking to packed galleries, Mansfield said the issue of keeping a large American force in Europe a quarter century after the end of World War II "will not be hidden under a bushel, not from this week on. Mansfield argued the United States faces "not only the possibility of an indeterminate stay... but maybe a permanent stay" in Europe. He said the Nixon Administration had given "not one hint of understanding" of the problem. Opponents of attempts to reduce the troop level argued setting a timetable would remove any Communist incentive to negotiate. Sens. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., and Robert Griffin, R-Mich., said the Warsaw Pact nations merely would wait it out and watch NATO forces gradually dwindle without having to offer any concessions. Mansfield contended troop reductions were necessary to ease the international financial crisis over the dollar. He said Western European nations were not doing their share in defense of Europe.

License policies cleared

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Fish and Game Commission confirmed its policy for distribution and sale of non-resident big game licenses Thursday following a report on sales from the department's license section. Earlier the commission had estimated a sale quota of 9,552 non-resident big game licenses issued primarily for non-resident elk hunters. Of the quota, 6,303 had been issued to license vendors around the state and sales reported from the vendors totaled 2,966. The commission reaffirmed its policy of calling for the return to headquarters of the licenses by May 31. Beginning June 1, the license will be sold on a first-come, first-served basis from the fish and game office. Non-resident deer license sales had a quota of 3,821, of which 1,489 were issued to vendors with reported sales of 358. The commission will leave the deer licenses on open sale with license vendors until further notice.

Big batch of ticks reported

SPOKANE (UPI) — Dr. E. O. Ploeger, Spokane County district health officer, warned Tuesday that a "bumper crop" of ticks have come out in the Inland Empire this spring. Ploeger said the ticks have caused two cases of Rocky Mountain spotted fever here this year. Ploeger said the ticks are most plentiful in the areas north and east of here and that persons should be careful because Rocky Mountain spotted fever "is 85 - 90 per cent fatal" if untreated. However, he said if treated in time, the disease is beatable. Ploeger said the two victims this year are children who are currently in serious condition at local hospitals.

Elk herd thinning planned

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (UPI) — The Department of the Interior and Gov. Stanley Hathaway Wednesday announced the annual thinning - out of elk in Grand Teton National Park will begin Oct. 23. The killing of the elk is part of a plan to restore historical migration and distribution so they can be better controlled by hunting on lands outside Grand Teton or Yellowstone National Parks. The controlled hunting in the park has been in effect for 18 of the last 20 years. The joint recommendations this year provide for the issuance of 2,500 special permits. Last year, 828 elk were killed under the program over a 37-day period. George Kaminski of the Wyoming Game and Fish Commission Wednesday said the elk were being killed in order to protect the herds in the park from starving. He said if the elk were not thinned out, many would die off in the winter months. "The historical migration patterns took the elk out of the mountains into the valley and desert country south of Pinedale," Kaminski said. "But ranches were built in the lowlands in the winter range of the animals, so in order to establish some control of the numbers of these animals a special season was set up." He also said the hunting in the park forces a number of the elk to migrate to the east into counties where they can be hunted during the regular season.

Forgotten pork ired

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bea Myerson, Miss America of 1945, is a beautiful woman who rarely loses her cool—but one thing really upsets her. That occurs when manufacturers of pork and beans somehow forget to get pork into the cans. Miss Myerson, who is the city consumers affairs commissioner, asked the U.S. Agricultural Department Wednesday to "plug the legal loophole which allows food processors to put the words 'pork and beans' on the label while only putting sauce and beans in the can."

Conference set

CHEYENNE (UPI) — Wyoming Gov. Stanley K. Hathaway, chairman of the 1971 Western Governors' Conference, said the annual meeting would be held July 11-15 at the Jackson Lake Lodge in Jackson Hole, Wyo. Gov. John A. Love of Colorado and Gov. Daniel J. Evans of Washington will lead the opening discussion with comments on "Decision-Making by the Governor." Montana Gov. Forrest H. Anderson will speak on "State Penal and Correction Institutions," while Utah Gov. Calvin Rampton is slated to speak on "Coordination of Manpower Training Programs." The governors of Idaho and New Mexico also are slated to address the conference in later discussions.

Magic Grange gets members

SHOSHONE — Four new members of Magic Grange, received at the May meeting, are announced by Mrs. Paul Bancroft, secretary. They are Mrs. Jeanne Anest; Daniel Faught and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Farnworth. The building committee reported at the last meeting for the roof of the new grange hall has been bought and will be put on in a few days. Mrs. George Horn and Mrs. William Kerner are on a committee to advise contractors on details of the grange kitchen. Gooding grange has given the Magic Grange $100 toward the building project, while Fargo Grange at Wilder sent $10 and Richfield Grange has offered help with work on the hall. The Gooding grange also painted and restored some benches for use in the new hall. Mrs. Paul Bancroft reported on membership. Ivan Hopkins showed films of Lincoln county fifth grades on a conservation study tour and Mrs. Couch read two religious poems. The next meeting will be June 18, either at the new grange hall or at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bancroft. Members will be notified of the exact location.

Grainmen set meet for June

SPOKANE (UPI) — The Pacific Northwest Grain Dealers Association announced today it will hold its 50th annual convention here June 9-11. Henry Johnson, convention chairman, said he expects over 600 delegates and their wives from eastern Washington, Oregon, Idaho, and Western Montana to attend. Johnson said the two main topics for discussion are expected to be air quality control and recent changes in transportation rates. LBJ's library rite Saturday

AUSTIN (UPI)—Lyndon B. Johnson's presidential library—Texas sized like the man—will be dedicated Saturday in a ceremony. President Nixon will formally accept the LBJ Library on behalf of the federal government at 12:30 p.m. EDT Saturday in nationally televised ceremonies.

More than 3,000 guests—including Vice President Spiro Agnew top congressional leaders and Johnson City neighbors of the former chief executive—will witness the dedication of the monument to the nation's 36th president.

Johnson's memorial is bigger, holds more, requires a larger staff, cost more to build and will cost more to maintain than the nation's five other presidential libraries. The budget for staff and library operations alone totals $540,000 for 1971.

That figure compares with anticipated budgets of $218,000 for Herbert Hoover's Library; $261,000 for Franklin D. Roosevelt's; $295,000 for Harry S. Truman's; $313,000 for Dwight D. Eisenhower's; and $330,000 for John F. Kennedy's.

A staff of 33—more than any of the other libraries employ—has been at work on the voluminous Johnson papers for some time.

representatives to take over control of the mine—Saturday, Cantuarias said the move was made because "irregularities" in four of the mine's eight converter ovens had cut production, and because of a $5.5 million deficit.

Kennecott owns 49 per cent of El Teniente, situated in Rancagua, about 65 miles south of Santiago, and operates the mine under the Braden Corp., a wholly owned subsidiary. State-owned Chilean companies own the controlling 51 per cent.

Allende became the Western World's first freely elected Marxist president in November. He had promised in his campaign to nationalize foreign interests in Chile and has been pushing his program since then.

The Chilean Senate liberalized and sent to the Chamber of Deputies May 12 Allende's proposed constitutional amendment that would permit him to nationalize the holdings of the three U.S. copper companies in Chile — Kennecott, Anaconda and Cerro.

The two houses of congress are expected to meet within the next two months for a final vote on the amendment. Meanwhile, the government has been negotiating with the U.S. firms on indemnity.

The outcome of the bargaining could influence relations between Washington and Santiago, which have been cool but correct since Allende's election.

The three U.S. companies have estimated their original investments in the Chilean operations at an aggregate of $600 million. The indemnity will be based on their prime investments, less depreciation and amortization.

The amendment stipulates payment to the U.S. firms over a period of not more than 30 years, at not less than 3 per cent.

Holiday tagged

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus has proclaimed Sunday, May 30, as Memorial Day in Idaho and Monday, May 31, a legal holiday in the state.

The governor asked that on Memorial Day all Idahoans participate in observations honoring men and women killed during armed conflicts, and also requested that during the holiday weekend Idahoans drive with their lights on low beam during daylight hours as a reminder for traffic safety.

License return ordered

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Fish and Game Commission Thursday reaffirmed its policy of calling for the return to headquarters of non-resident big game hunting licenses by May 31.

Beginning June 1, the licenses will be sold by the fish and game office on a first-come, first-served basis.

The commission will meet Friday to set dates for the hunting season. It considered, but took no action, on a proposal to eliminate bear hunting with dogs in certain southwestern Idaho areas.

The commission decided to leave the deer licenses on open sale with license vendors until further notice.

The commission also asked the department of fish and game to prepare legislation for submission to the next session of the legislature to establish a bear tag similar to ones used in management of other big game species.

Aid asked

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. James McClure, R-Idaho, and members of the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs introduced legislation Thursday to promote economic stability in the lead and zinc industries.

McClure said the bill protects the industry against a flood of imports, but puts no quantitative limitation on them.

Kent, Ohio (UPI)—Police arrested at least 45 persons early today as they swept a large crowd of youths from the downtown area back to the Kent State University campus for the third straight night.

One student was seriously hurt when a motorcycle swerved at high speed into the demonstrators.

At least 25 persons were taken into custody as the police began their move at Water and Main Streets after reading the riot act.

Twenty others were arrested on the University Commons, including Kent State Student President Craig Morgan.

Other scattered arrests may raise the total to near 70 in custody, police said.

Students said there have been several similar demonstrations in the 13 months since four Kent students were slain on campus by National Guardsmen, but these were the first mass arrests.

The crowds gathered as they had since Tuesday night to protest city ordinances against hitchhiking and carrying open containers of alcoholic beverages.

The latest gathering followed an attempt around noon Thursday to break up the Kent State ROTC Review. Police arrested one person at the ceremony after 50 ran onto the field where the cadets were in formation.

The charges against the persons arrested today ranged from disorderly conduct and unlawful assembly to trespassing. Some persons arrested were not students, police said.

Rocket repairs slow Mars shot

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — Engineers worked on solving a new rocket problem today that will delay the second and last U.S. attempt to send a Mariner television satellite toward Mars until late next week at the earliest.

The trouble that caused the loss of the first Mariner shortly after launch May 8 has been traced to an electrical circuit the size of a pinhead in the autopilot steering control unit of the Atlas-Centaur rocket.

While project officials were resolving that problem, a short circuit was detected in a fuel gauging system in the hydrogen propellant tank in the Centaur upper stage of the rocket being prepared for the second Mariner launch.

The 2,200-pound spacecraft was removed, the rocket opened and an engineer was lowered into the tank to locate the short and fix it. The Centaur is expected to be put back together and the Mariner replaced this weekend.

The Centaur autopilot identical to the one that failed May 8 is due back today or Saturday after being put through a series of unusual tests at the General Dynamics Corp. plant at San Diego, Calif.

Although the failure was traced to a specific autopilot circuit, project officials are not certain what led to the failure. Deputy Space Agency administrator George M. Low said Thursday the assumption is that a diode that was to protect the circuit from electrical overloads did not work.

New tests were devised to check the diodes in the new autopilot to make certain the second rocket would not meet the same fate.

Vincent L. Johnson, Deputy Associate Space Agency Administrator, said at a news conference in Washington the shot is expected to be rescheduled for no earlier than next Friday, or a few days later.

The agency hopes to launch the Mariner by June 6, but the shot could be attempted as late as June 16 if necessary. A flight later than June 6, however, would require more spacecraft fuel for course corrections and less would be available for orbital maneuvers around Mars.

UNITED STATES, Russian strength in land and submarine launched strategic nuclear weapons is compared in this chart. White House said Thursday breakthrough in negotiations to end race may bring partial limits on offensive, defensive weapons later this year. (UPI)

Better weapons said accord key

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Pentagon believes recent improvements in U.S. nuclear weapons helped bring about the Soviet-American agreement to move towards some kind of arms limitation.

On March 31 and on April 26 the first two U.S. submarines were fitted with Poseidon missiles—a new generation of weapon capable of hurling up to 10 nuclear warheads at separate targets from beneath the ocean surface.

Defense Department officials also feel the introduction of the Minuteman III—which carries a triple nuclear warhead and is based on land—also played a role in the breakthrough.

Another factor, they feel, is the recent successful test of the safeguard Antibalistic Missile System.

On Capitol Hill the arms development drew praise. House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan called it "one of the most significant breakthroughs for peace in the history of the modern world."

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., said he was "encouraged" by the development since it seems to indicate both the U.S. and Soviet governments have made concessions and the prospects for agreement are improved.

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, called the news "a good first step" and said he hoped both nations would show mutual restraint in developing and deploying nuclear weapons while the negotiations continue.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said the next step should be an understanding, right now, that no more offensive or defensive weapons will be developed.

"I thank the President of the United States for his message ... and encourage him to proceed with even a more determined effort," Humphrey said. "He'll have my help and support."

'Eagle' endorsed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, urged the Senate Interior Committee Thursday to reject proposals of the Nixon Administration to charge annual individual fees for use of federal recreational facilities on public lands.

Church also urged the committee to end the practice of charging special-use fees for such services as water, restroom facilities, and picnic tables.

Quebec, capital of the Canadian province of Quebec, is the only walled city in North America.

Church said the administration wanted to replace the golden eagle passport which may be voluntarily purchased for $10 to give a year's access to national parks and national recreation areas with a $4 annual individual permit.

Blind effort slowed

MOSCOW, Idaho (UPI) — Space and equipment problems are hamstringing the Idaho Commission for the Blind Program, legislative auditors told the budget and fiscal committee today.

In a 28-page audit report, Legislative Auditor James A. Debenbach and his staff gave high praise to the work of Blind Commissioner Director Kenneth A. Hopkins and his program to rehabilitate the sightless.

But they said they discovered "nearly all of the working areas of the commission are severely crowded."

"In addition to this crowded condition, the equipment used by the commission, in our opinion, is of very poor quality," the auditors reported.

"During our review, we found that there are some instructional programs offered by the commission which are taught in the homes of the employees due to a lack of adequate space at the commission."

They said Hopkins told them that the training program for the blind is to be effective living quarters are needed so that control over the trainees can be maintained.

They said he has proposed buying Marlon Hall at St. Alphonsus Hospital in Boise to solve the space problems.

While the auditors generally found the program well directed they made a number of recommendations about more orderly administrative procedures.

They also noted the commission carries no liability insurance and recommended the commission secure legal advice on the need for it.

In reporting on a performance audit of the Idaho School for the Deaf and Blind at Gooding, the auditors said they felt the goals and objectives of the school "are being achieved in a satisfactory manner."

They said Superintendent Edward W. Reay should be commended "for the high level of operational efficiency and accomplishment in the school administration."

"The business office of the institution," they added, "could be used as an example for other state agencies to follow."

Saying they found the business office management "functioning at a level of competence above that normally found in other state agencies," they did recommend the state board of education consider hiring an assistant for the business office.

They said this would enable the bursar to develop his plans for a more efficient operation.

They also cited a lack of internal control over the student activities account and recommended changes to correct this.

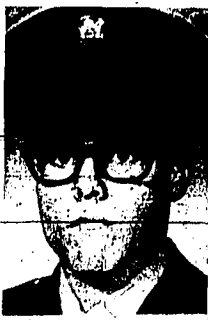

Ex-Burley flier dies

BURLEY — Bruce Bauer, former Burley resident and commercial pilot, was killed Thursday in a plane crash near Mapleton, Iowa.

He was the son of Joe Bauer, Paul, and had lived in this area until recent years. He was employed for a crop dusting service here at one time and had piloted charter flights.

At the time of his death he was employed by a flight service at Casper, Wyo., and was on a flight for that firm at the time of the crash.

Funeral services are pending at Payne Mortuary, which was notified by a mortuary at Mapleton.

Former Paul man dies in Combat

PAUL — David Winkle, 20, former Paul resident, was killed in action Sunday in Vietnam when the area he was in came under attack by a hostile force.

He was a member of the Air Mobil Group Pathfinder and was in a combat operation at an aircraft landing zone in South Vietnam when the area was attacked by a hostile force.

Winkle, a PFC in the Army, was born on June 12, 1950, at Weiser. He lived in Paul until 1966. He joined the Army on Jan. 3, 1970, and went to Vietnam in October.

Services will be held at St. Onif's Parish at Bountiful, Utah, with full military honors.

Pocatello armory bid said lowest

By JERRY HERRMANN
Times-News Writer

BURLEY — The Mitchell Construction Co. of Pocatello entered the low bid for the new National Guard Armory to be built east of the Burley airport.

The bids were opened Thursday afternoon in the Burley Armory.

The firm entered a base bid of $186,500 for the building and heating system. Total bids after all other options are added, amounts to $218,323.50.

This was one of 10 bids entered by construction companies in Idaho for the new armory. Base bids ranged from the low of $186,500 to high of $235,000. Total bids ranged from low $218,323.50 to a high of $267,490.

The architect's estimate for the complete project was $238,720.60. So the low bid opened Thursday was about $20,000 less than the architect's estimate.

Maj. William J. Orton, engineering officer for Idaho, Military Department, opened the bids and said he was happy to see all the firms bidding on the project.

After the bid opening, Maj. Orton said the bids will be analyzed by the public works department, adjutant general's office and the Idaho National Guard headquarters.

"We hope to accept all items listed in the bid. However, the funding will determine how many we can take," he said.

Maj. Orton also said they hope to let the contract in two weeks.

If the money allocated, Maj. Orton said, by the state and federal government, is forthcoming, then all the items in the bid should be accepted.

From what Maj. Orton said, there should be $240,000 available from the government.

The bid was broken down as follows:

- Armory building, $180,900;
- flush corners, less, $1,500;
- electric heating system, less $2,900; for total base bid of $186,500.
- Other items added are: Site preparation, $2,940; grading and seeding, $3,000; paving and security fencing — (A) military vehicle stabilized, $2,875; (B) fencing, $1,470, an (C) off street parking-paved, $3,900; extension of utilities — (A) water $485; (B) septic system and draining field, $23,950; access-road, $825; sidewalks $675; shelving and kitchen base cabinets, $1,826.50; intrusion detection system, $2,228; wire mesh partitions, $2,000; wainscoting, $1,360; coat rack, $55; tack board, $100; shelving; storage cabinets and counter, $5,334.
- The total of all added items is $31,823.50, for total bid of $218,323.50, submitted by Mitchell Construction Co.

Review plans

COL. F. R. GOLDSBERRY, Air Force Rocky Mountain Region liaison officer, and Maj. Seniors day set at Buhl

BUHL — Buhl's senior citizens will be guests of honor Saturday at the sixth annual Senior Citizens dinner and program at the Buhl Elementary school.

The annual event is sponsored by the city of Buhl and Dr. Myron Thompson, Buhl, mayor, will be official host. State Sen. John Barker and State Rep. Bill Roberts, both Buhl, and Joe Fehrenbacher, councilman, and Ed Hejtmank will greet guests at the door.

Vern Craner is general chairman of the event.

CAP slates operation

TWIN FALLS — A comprehensive all-day search-and-rescue exercise utilizing the mockups of "disasters" will test the skills of Idaho Wing, Civil Air Patrol, on Saturday.

Two simulated problems will be set up by CAP advisers, including a plane crash in an isolated area — CAP cadets manning the flightline at Twin Falls City-County Municipal Airport, operating radios and keeping track on charts will work throughout the day to find the lost plane and effect a rescue.

Air Force personnel serving as liaison with the CAP will work with the cadets in the CAP headquarters at the airport, according to Cadet Staff Sgt. Dennis Thaeat, squadron information officer.

The cadets will receive reports simulating tips from witnesses on the location of downed planes and must plot the developing search pattern as they would during an actual search plane.

In addition, cadets may be given some "air time" in a search plane, weather permitting, giving them experience as aerial spotters. Cadets seeking flight instruction may be allowed to test the plane's controls during the flight.

The exercise will continue until the lost plane or planes are found. A "debriefing" by Air Force officers following the evaluation of the cadets' work.

Bid set on new siphon

By FLORENCE GREER
Times-News Writer

KING HILL — Opening of bids for installation of about 750 feet of steel and concrete pipe for a siphon has been set for 2 p.m. June 4 by the King Hill Irrigation District.

The new siphon will cross the Snake River over a bridge east of Glens Ferry. It will complete a reconstruction project started in the fall of 1964.

James Russell, chairman of the board for the district, said about 35 miles of irrigation pipe will have been replaced by the time the work is finished. The siphons replaced were built of wooden staves with bands.

The bids to be opened June 4 are for installation of 165 feet of 48 inch concrete pipe and 570 feet of 48 inch steel pipe, plus other necessary equipment.

Russell said specifications for the work may be obtained at the Irrigation District office at King Hill between 1 and 5 p.m. weekdays.

The new pipe will replace a worn out siphon across the river. When installed it will finish the project of replacing pipe serving the district, except for laterals in the King Hill area. Those will be replaced district crews this fall, Russell said.

The chairman said reconstruction of Snake River Siphon No. 1, located where the Malad River enters the "Snake," has been finished.

Rupert signup slated

RUPERT — Registration for boys' baseball, girls' softball, and all swimming lessons will be held Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the city recreation office, according to Terry Duffin, parks and recreation director.

Duffin said that baseball and softball applications will be accepted until the first week in June. The program is for boys and girls ages 6 through 16 and will begin the second week in June.

Gooding housing project revived

By PEGGY CHU
Times-News Writer

GOODING — A public hearing has been called for 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Gooding Grade School auditorium to renew discussion of the possibility of a new housing development here.

Mayor Harley Crippen said since the council's decision two weeks ago to not accept the plan for the planned development by the American Pacific Corp., he has received many complaints.

Opposition was expressed at a public hearing held the afternoon of May 3 about the proposed plan of building 42 homes which could be financed through the FHA low income housing program. Lowering of property values and influx of "undesirables" were given as the main reasons for the opposition.

The original plan was for the firm to build the housing project on land east of Gooding, adjacent to the Pink addition, which is considered the best residential part of town. Two of the four city councilmen live in the addition.

Andy Anderson, Boise, division manager of the firm, earlier had told city officials his firm would provide the lift station and install curbing and paving.

After the opposition expressed at the hearing the firm withdrew its plan.

Air pollution index 49

The pollution reading was taken by the staff of the South Central Health District at the Twin Falls City Hall. The reading is expressed as the number of micrograms of particulate material per cubic meter of air for the 24-hour period and is below 75 micrograms over any 24-hour period, and should not be permitted to rise above 250 micrograms for even a short period of time.

Forecast

Today:	Excellent
Tonight:	Good
Tomorrow:	Excellent

This forecast provided by the Idaho Department of Health indicates the ability of the atmosphere to disperse pollution. Burning as permitted by law should be curtailed when the air is poorly able to disperse air pollutants.

Burley students given awards at special fete

BURLEY — Burley High School students were honored at awards night at which time scholarships and achievement awards were presented.

Judy Hinz received an award for being chosen Idaho State Teen Chairman for the March of Dimes. Cory Kidd, a junior received an All-American Award in behalf of the Scouting Systems of America.

Seniors hiring endorsed

BOISE (UPI) — H. Fred Garrett, executive director of the Idaho Department of Employment, urged employers Thursday to include senior citizens on an equal basis with younger workers in hiring practices.

Garrett said Gov. Cecil D. Andrus had designed May as senior citizens month in Idaho, but added, "their problems exist 12 months a year."

Garrett said often senior citizens find it difficult to locate new jobs when displaced by technological change or reductions in force.

He said many senior citizens are still healthy and vigorous and offer employers a lifetime of experience, maturity, judgment, ability and skills "that are the most valuable assets any employe can give to a job."

Wine sales approved

SANDPOINT (UPI) — The Bonner County commissioners have approved an ordinance allowing the sale of table wines in grocery stores.

The commission earlier this week joined a growing list of Idaho cities and counties approving the sale of liquor other than beer in grocery stores. The new ordinance becomes effective July 1.

Talks backed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Len Jordan, R-Idaho, urged negotiations Thursday between NATO and the Warsaw Pact countries on mutual troop reduction in Europe.

Jordan, who Wednesday voted against the Mansfield amendment to cut troop levels by the end of the year, said if negotiations are not forthcoming or do not prove productive it may be necessary to Congress to reconsider the Mansfield proposal.

Phantom rings on governor's phone

BOISE (UPI)—A phantom caller struck the governor's office for more than an hour Thursday.

Because an extra telephone line was needed, a new telephone system was installed in the governor's office on Wednesday.

Then, about 9 a. m. Thursday a phantom line began to ring. Receptionist - secretary Jean Taylor tried to find the ringing line but to no avail.

No matter which button she pushed the phone kept ringing. After about a half hour of this Mrs. Taylor's nerves began to get a bit on edge. So did those of other members of the governor's staff.

At one point, Mrs. Taylor backed away from her desk peering through her fingers at her phone.

"That poor little ring doesn't have anywhere to go," she said. "It just keeps ringing."

Finally, a telephone repairman arrived, went into a back office and adjusted wires and the ringing stopped. Mrs. Taylor still kept a wary eye on the telephone, however, shuddering slightly each time it rang with a bona fide call.

Line loses

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — First quarter losses for the ailing Penn Central Railroad have been put at $2.5 million, roughly comparable to the same period of 1970.

Trustees of the railroad, which is in reorganization under the bankruptcy act, also told U.S. district court here Thursday that the giant carrier lost $15.1 million in the month of April.

The four trustees told the court that Penn Central lost $28 million more in the first quarter of 1971 than for the same period a year ago.

RESOLUTION

Y. F. Highway District Effective May 7, 1971

A Resolution by the Board of Commissioners of the Twin Falls Highway District, Twin Falls, Idaho, to establish a policy for subdivision roads and streets. Section 1: RIGHT OF WAY. A. Minimum Right of Way Widths. Type of Road Minimum Width of Street. Major Collector Road 100' Minor Collector Road 80' Residential Street 50' Collector Street 50' Collector Turn-around 50' radius. Section 2: GEOMETRIC DESIGN. A. Drainage. 1. The maximum gradient shall not exceed 7 per cent. 2. The minimum gradient where curb and gutter is used shall be 0.5 per cent and a minimum gradient of 0.3 per cent shall be used with a ditch section. 3. Pavement cross slope shall be 1/4" to 1/2" per foot. 4. Culverts crossing the roadway shall be corrugated metal pipe with a minimum diameter of 12" and a minimum length of 30 feet. Culverts at intersections shall be increased in length to meet local conditions. 5. Driveways or approaches shall have either a pipe culvert or a depressed section at the roadway ditch line to permit the free flow of roadway drainage through the approaches. Approaches to pipe culverts shall have a minimum length of 20 feet and a maximum length of 30 feet. B. Roadway Cross Section. 1. Curb and gutter section shall have a width of not less than 34 feet face of curb with full width surfacing. 2. Ditch section shall have a finished width of not less than 30 feet. 3. The roadway ditch shall start at the 13 foot shoulder line and slope back to a minimum acceptable depth of 3 feet to provide a 1 foot deep ditch 30 feet from center line. 4. A minimum diameter of 12" pipe of rock shall be placed to a compacted depth of 4 inches for a minimum width of 30 feet in the ditch section and a minimum width of 34 feet in curb and gutter sections. 5. Bituminous surfacing shall be provided with a minimum compacted depth of not less than 2 inches at a minimum width of 30 feet in ditch sections and a minimum width of 34 feet in curb and gutter sections. 6. All construction items shall conform to current Idaho State Highway Department Specifications for Road and Bridge Construction. The intention of this policy is to establish minimum acceptable conditions for subdivision development; however, if strict application of these standards should create an unusually severe hardship, the Board of Commissioners may consider variations and exceptions based on individual merit.

Burley Music Club installs new officers at May luncheon

BURLEY — Officers of the Burley Music Club, who were installed at the May luncheon at the Ponderosa Inn, are announced.

Mrs. J. W. Young, was re-elected as president, also re-elected were Mrs. Elden Wood, second vice president, and Mrs. Calvin Johnson, treasurer. New officers include Mrs. Pat Stevenson, first vice president and membership chairman; Mrs. Gerald Marchant, secretary; Mrs. Gary Lee, historian, and Mrs. Lurie McCullison, music week chairman.

Mrs. Young stressed the responsibility of the local club, which is an affiliate with the state and National Federation of Music clubs, to adults in the community and to encourage talented young musicians to enter musical career and help them develop an appreciation and enjoyment of good music.

Members of the board were introduced including Mrs. Calvin Crane, Mrs. Charles Pough, Mrs. Clifford Mullikin, Mrs. Frank Bauman and Mrs. Calvin Heiner. A tribute was paid to Mrs. Nova Slobert, chairman of music in hospitals, who has arranged musical programs for extended care patients in the hospitals for the last Sunday of each month during the year.

A report was given on the recent State Music Club convention held at Pocatello where Mrs. Mullikin was elected as state president.

Mrs. Mullikin announced her goals are to increase understanding and communication among the local, district, state and national groups. It is hoped that clubs can be organized in the northern part of the state. Presently there are 10 clubs in the state but all are located in southern half. It was noted that Idaho ranks fifth in the nation for junior club activities last year and $13,000 was given in the state last year in music scholarships.

Mrs. Don Norton, hymnologist introduced the hymn of the Month, "O God Our Help in Ages Past" which was sung by Mrs. Hans Forscher accompanied by Mrs. Beth Harper. Author of the hymn was Isaac Watts and by universal consent the hymn is considered one of the grandest in the whole realm of English hymnody, and is found in practically every hymnal. Mrs. Norton said.

Special guests attending the luncheon were past presidents, including Mrs. Robert Carrier, Mrs. Bruce Ellenberger, Mrs. Trafford Dray, and Mrs. Calvin Young said.

Other guests were Mrs. Kit Carson, Mrs. Sue Hamblen, Mrs. Olive Boren, Mrs. Viola Bloch, Mrs. Claire Mathers, Mrs. Christine Chesley, Mrs. Mildred Wolf, Mrs. Donna Kunau, Mrs. Lawrence Mellor, Mrs. Steve Bates, Mrs. Alma Clark, Mrs. Leona Finch and Mrs. Lucille Fowler.

Past presidents assembly of the Burley Music Club were in charge of the luncheon with Mrs. Carrier serving as chairman; Mrs. Ellenberger in charge of decorations and Mrs. Bray arranging the programs. Members of the two Miniopeas presented were Mrs. Afton Seamos and children, Barbara, Ken, and Karen; Tom Clark, Marilyn Brady, Kim Critchfield, and Leo Dayley. Mrs. Wood was director and accompanist. It was announced that the Burley Civic Club and the Fifth District will host the 1973 State Hymnal. Mrs. Norton said.

Toastmistress meet set Saturday

BURLEY — The Toastmistress Council No. 7 business meeting and luncheon will be held Saturday at Bryan's Cafe, Burley, with the Burley Toastmistress Club members as hosts.

Registration will begin at 11:30 a. m., lunch will be served at noon, to be followed by the business meeting and installation of new council officers.

Council officers who were elected last month will be installed, including Mrs. Ellis Fuller, Twin Falls, council chairman; Mrs. Olin Baker, Burley vice chairman; Mrs. Harold Holton, Minico, secretary, and Mrs. LaVerne Strong, Magic Club, treasurer.

The business meeting will be conducted by Mrs. Bon Eldredge, council chairman. Reports will be given by each of the committeemen working on the Snake River Regional Conference which will be held June 18-20 at Holiday Inn, Twin Falls.

Council No. 7 members will be hosts for the conference.

Mrs. Lofly Arrington, Twin Falls, is presently serving as the Snake River Regional Supervisor, and she will install the new council officers Saturday afternoon.

Toastmistress members are expected to attend the luncheon meeting from Twin Falls, Magic, Minico and Burley Clubs.

Literary group elects

BURLEY — Mrs. Nan Shults has been elected president of the Cameo Literary Club for the following year.

Other new officers are Mrs. Kathryn Wall, vice president; Mrs. Laura Nielson, secretary; and Mrs. Reva Mitchell, treasurer.

Mrs. Glen Holyoak, a guest of the club at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Rachel Nelson, reviewed the book, "Six Decades Back," by Charles Walgamott.

Mrs. Holyoak said the book tells the history of Southern Idaho and adjoining areas from 1860 through 1937. She said it relates tales of the emigrants following the Oregon and California trails, of sheepmen, cattlemen, gold miners, trappers and others who came into the area before it was settled, and also tells of the development of the region as farming took hold and towns were established.

Mrs. Jeanne Nielsen, retiring president, conducted a short business meeting at which plans for a spring luncheon were discussed.

Mrs. B. Parkinson was a guest at the meeting. Mrs. Nelson served refreshments.

Don't answer yet. The car in the picture is a Volkswagen. And, as you can see, it has four doors. It's our new 411 4-Door sedan.

Like most 4-door sedans, our 411 gives the people in the back almost as much room as the people in the front.

Unlike most 4-door sedans, though, there's also room for luggage in the front as well as in back.

Like most 4-door sedans, our 411 has an engine. Unlike most 4-door sedans, our engine gets about twenty-two miles to the gallon.

Like most 4-door sedans, our 411 offers a lot of options. Automatic transmission, radial tires, rear-window defogger, to name a few.

Unlike most 4-door sedans, those options are included in the price of the car. Now you can answer if you like:

Blancas and Knudson fire three-under par 67s for Colonial lead

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — Defending champion Homero Blancas and Canadian George Knudson, deftly dropping the short ones and ranning home killer recovery putts, grabbed colonial National Invitation first round lead Thursday with matching three-under-par 67s.

Both the chunky Blancas and the slender Knudson stayed out of trouble most of their sub-par rounds of the 7,142-yard, par 35-35-70 Colonial Country Club layout.

The 33-year-old Blancas fashioned a 34-33 and Knudson a 33-34 to "squeeze home one shot ahead of three of the lesser lights of the tour—Bert Green, Fred Martl and Jack Montgomery—and two ahead of former champion Dave Stockton, Jerry Hard, Bert Yancey, Chuck Courtney and the lone amateur in the field, University of Texas teenager Ben Crenshaw.

Phillies use solo homer to nip Mets

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Deron Johnson led off the second inning with his second home run of the season Thursday night and Rick Wise pitched a six-hit shutout as the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the New York Mets, 1-0.

The loss was the fifth straight for the slumping Mets, their longest tailspin since last July.

Wise struck out six and walked only one while picking up his third victory in five decisions. Gary Genery, who hurled the first seven innings, was the tough-luck loser.

Reds 5, Pirates 4

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Tommy Helms' double climaxed a three run seventh inning as the Cincinnati Reds rallied to squeeze out a 5-4 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Thursday afternoon.

The Reds trailed 3-2 when Ty Cline singled off loser Steve Blass to touch off the Reds seventh inning rally. Two outs later, Tony Perez singled home Cline with the first run of the inning to tie the score at 3-all.

The Reds added another run when Lee May and Bernie Carbo followed with singles. Helms' double scored May with the final run of the inning.

Giants 8, Cubs 7

CHICAGO (UPI) — Willie McCovey's eighth homer of the season—a three-run blast off Earl Stephenson with none out in the ninth inning—gave the San Francisco Giants an 8-7 victory Thursday over the Chicago Cubs.

Sun Valley miss named to ski team

DENVER (UPI) — Willy Schaeffler, U. S. Alpine program director, Wednesday named nine men and seven women to America's Alpine Ski teams for the 1971-72 season.

Tyler Palmer of Kearsarge, N. H., who finished third in World Cup point standings in the alman this past season, topped the men's past season.

Heading the women's team were Barbara and Marilyn Cochran, sisters from Richmond, Vt. Their 21-year-old Brother, Bob, was named a member of the U.S. men's team.

Others named to the men's squad were Rick Chaffee, 26, Rutland, Vt.; Hank Kaahwa, 21, Old Forge, N. Y.; Mike Lafferty, 22, Eugene, Ore.; Rogers Little, 23, Helena, Mont.; Eric Poulson, 20, Olympic Valley, Calif.; Rudy Pyles, 22, Frisco, Colo., and Craig Gannholzer, 19, Jackson, Wyo.

Women team members, in addition to the Cochran sisters, are Patty Boydston, 19, McCall, Idaho; Karen Budge, 21, Jackson, Wyo.; Susan Corrock, 19, Ketchum, Idaho; Roale Fortna, 24, Sugarbush, Vt., and Sandra Poulsen, 18, Olympic Valley, Calif.

Bucks deny plan to transfer NBA franchise into St. Paul

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Officers of the National Basketball Association champion Milwaukee Bucks denied Thursday night a published report that they were interested in moving to St. Paul, Minn.

The report quoted the head of a sports complex under construction in St. Paul as saying the Bucks were "very interested" in the possibility of moving to St. Paul.

"There's absolutely no foundation to it, whatsoever," said Mitchell Fromstein, member of the Bucks board of directors.

Ducks, UCLA, USC rate Pac-8 nods

SEATTLE (UPI) — The University of Oregon, UCLA and Southern Cal are the teams to beat for the team title in the 12th annual Pacific-8 Conference track and field championships starting Friday at the University of Washington.

Three defending champions are included in the opening day action in the two-day meet.

Johnson's best effort in the steeplechase this year is 8:48.8, more than a full second off his 1970 mark of 8:47.8 but his title is threatened by Oregon's Todd Lathers who has an 8:47.4 clocking in 1971.

Jerome, Filer chances increase for state title

Jerome and Filer have enhanced their chances to win the state A-2 title track and field championship on word that Marsh Valley has lost a key performer to injuries and Twin Falls regained the favorite in the A-1 division on the eve of the state meet opening tonight in the Boise State College stadium. In the A-1 division, it still appears a matter of Wendell trying to catch up with the Homedale Trojans.

The A-2 field finals will be held at 7 p.m. today along with the running preliminaries for the A-1 and A-2 classes. The first running finals will be the two-mile events for each class beginning at 11 a.m. Saturday.

The remainder will go in the usual order starting at 1 p.m. Marsh Valley's strength in the middle and longer distances has failed to prove out in state comparisons, leaving Jerome and Filer as two key teams to watch. A darkhorse could be Potlatch but its strength will be in depth more than first and second places. The Loggers will bring the largest contingent into the A-2 division, having scored 94 points in their district. But comparison of times indicates the Loggers will be major contenders only in the 880-yard relay — where they butt heads with Jerome.

Marsh Valley can crimp Filer's title hopes as Evan Smith, their premier sprinter, has posted slightly better times in the 100 and 220-yard dashes than Wildcat Brent Lierman. Filer needs the bonus points for first place.

Jerome still has a question mark in senior Jim Meeks who collapsed due to a low sugar content last week in district. The Tigers plan to use the 6-3 senior in relay but he has had a couple of shaky moments during practice this week.

Similarly, Twin Falls had a start when the nation's top pole vaulter, Billy Miller, had a couple of dizzy spells at school Thursday morning but was vaulting well in the afternoon and said he felt okay.

The fourth district is trying to duplicate its effort of last year when it took all three titles, Twin Falls in A-1, Wood River in A-2 and Wendell in A-3. Wood River will take a good contingent to state Saturday.

Missouri grid star arrested

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI)—Johnny Rodgers, star running back for the Nebraska Cornhusker football team, pleaded guilty Thursday to a charge of "larceny from a person" in connection with an armed robbery of a service station one year ago.

Sentencing was deferred pending investigation of probation authorities. Rodgers was freed after posting bond of $2,000.

Authorities said the holdup occurred one year ago Thursday, but that information concerning it was made available by an unidentified informer only Wednesday.

Rodgers and a fellow student, Randy McCall, Ord, Neb., were arrested Wednesday night. A third student, James F. Glass, who listed addresses both in Omaha and Minneapolis, Minn., was named on a third warrant and was wanted by police.

Rodgers, touted by Cornhusker backers as a probably all-American in his upcoming junior year as a flanker and running back, was arraigned earlier Thursday and waived preliminary hearing.

McCall requested a preliminary hearing, which was scheduled for June 2.

Douglas said the station attendant was robbed of $91.50 by three men, one of whom was armed with a pistol. Police Inspector Robert Sawdon said the robbery occurred on the night of a rock and bottle-throwing incident in the Malone area just east of the University of Nebraska campus.

Pistons ink coach, now seek Rowe

DETROIT (UPI)—Ed Coll plans to concentrate on signing his No. 1 draft pick, Curtis Rowe of UCLA, now that the Pistons' general manager has Bill Van Breda Kolff's name on a contract which calls for him to coach Detroit for another two seasons.

VBK signed his contract with the National Basketball Association team Thursday for an estimated $40,000 annually. He coached Detroit to its best record in history, 45-37, this past season.

"The main thing is, I just want to get in the playoffs," the 49-year-old Van Breda Kolff said. "The Montreal Canadiens are an example that anything can happen once you get in the playoffs. They finished third in their league and still won."

"We hope to have something on Rowe next week," Coll said at his coach's signing. "I talked to him last Tuesday. We've agreed on money and the length of the contract, there's just a few things to work out."

Fish-game unit will set dates

BOISE (UPI)—The Idaho Fish and Game Commission Thursday reaffirmed its policy of calling for the return to headquarters of non-resident big game hunting licenses by May 31. Beginning June 1, the licenses will be sold by the Fish and Game office on a first-come, first-served basis.

The commission will meet Friday to set dates for the hunting season. It considered, but took no action, on a proposal to eliminate bear hunting with dogs in certain southwestern Idaho areas.

Motocross races to begin Saturday

Something new, billed as the world's richest motorcycle competition, debuts in Magic Valley Saturday and Sunday as amateurs and professionals from all parts of the country and the world compete in motocross races.

The event, brought here by world-renowned motorcycle dynamo Evel Knievel, begins at 1 p.m. Saturday on a specially devised course east of Twin Falls on Falls Avenue. Amateurs will run in the first day's competition with the pros taking over at 1 p.m. Sunday. That second day's program will be highlighted by a motorcycle jump by Knievel over 13 automobiles. Later this year, Knievel plans to "jump" Snake River canyon.

Motocross is a sport that started in Japan and basically consists of an obstacle course. There will be jumps, ditches, humps and bumps to present challenges to the drivers. Motocross has become feasible only in the past 20 or so years with the advent of the new, smaller motorcycles. Previously, the huge machines that were being used were too large for anything but flat course competition.

Knievel has announced an expected entry of 1,000 cyclists and 10,000 spectators. Some European and American riders were reported to have arrived in Twin Falls by Thursday night with California reportedly having the largest out-of-state entry so far. The influx of competitors is expected to rise sharply Friday and Saturday.

Angels nip Twins in tight 1-0 win

ANAHEIM (UPI)—Catcher John Stephenson singled home Sandy Alomar from second base in the eighth inning Thursday night to break a scoreless tie and bring the California Angels a 1-0 victory over the Minnesota Twins.

Stephenson's single extended his hitting streak to 12 games and gave Clyde Wright a five-hit shut-out victory, his fourth win against three losses.

The defeat went to reliever Ray Corbin, who had taken over for rookie starter Pete Hamm in the eighth. Hamm was lifted for a pinch hitter, although he allowed only two hits in the seven innings he worked but walked four men.

A's 7, Brewers 3

OAKLAND (UPI)—Homers by Dave Duncan and Mike Epstein featured a 13-hit attack and Chuck Dobson won his third game since coming off the disabled list Thursday night as the Oakland A's defeated the Milwaukee Brewers 7-3 and stretched their lead in the American League West to 6 1/2 games.

Dobson, who went on the shelf at the start of the season because of a sore pitching elbow, had Milwaukee shutout until the eighth when Johnny Briggs lined a homer. Back to back doubles by Mike Hogan and Dave May and a walk to Andy Kosco finished him in the ninth. Ron Klimkowski came on to finish up and gained credit for his first save.

MESA, Ariz. — Clayton "Fuzz" Guntor, College of Southern Idaho freshman from Hansen, qualified for the finals in the high jump and the national junior college track and field championships Thursday night.

Guntor and six other men from throughout the country were the only ones to clear six feet, six inches. The finals will begin at 7 p.m. Friday.

Canonero priced out of reason

MIAMI (UPI)—Negotiator Bud Lappan met Thursday with Pedro Baptista, owner of Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner Canonero II, but said little progress was made toward sale of the horse.

"I'm going back to my people to tell them what they want for the horse, but I don't believe it will make a difference," Lappan said. "It's just too big a price—it's way out of line."

Lappan said he made an offer of $1.5 million a few days ago, but wouldn't say how much higher he went Thursday for the Venezuelan-based thoroughbred.

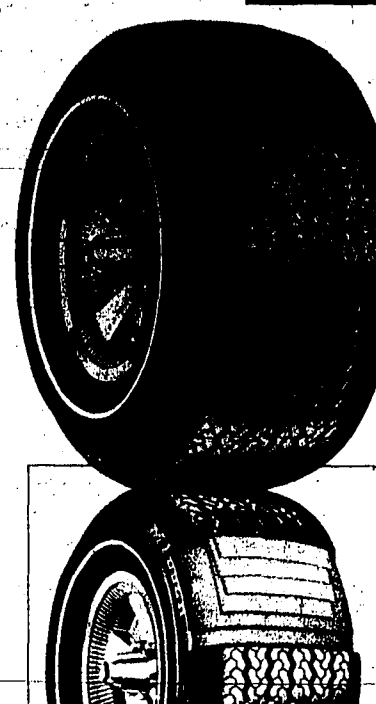

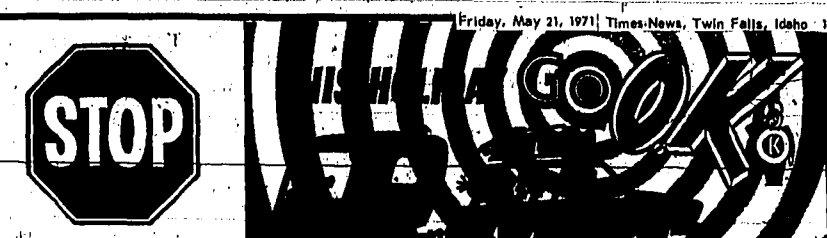

He declined to say who he was representing. Lappan is a trainer for Miami race track owner Steve Calder, Arnold Hanger, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Cohen and A.F. Tronetta.

Big 10 loop chief dies

CHICAGO (UPI)—Bill Reed, commissioner of the Big Ten since 1961, died Thursday at the age of 85, after a long struggle against rheumatoid arthritis.

The cause of death was listed as hepatitis, which began to affect Reed in the last two weeks. He went into a coma early this week. Reed entered the hospital for treatment in January.

Funeral services were scheduled for 2 p.m. (CST) Saturday from the Donnellan funeral home, 10045 Skokie Blvd., Skokie, Ill. with interment at Memorial Park cemetery at 9000 Gross Point Road, Skokie. The family requested in lieu of flowers contributions could be made to the building fund of Skokie Valley hospital.

Blackwood brothers to sing May 26 in college auditorium

TWIN FALLS — The Blackwood Brothers, best known group in gospel music in the world, will appear in Twin Falls May 26 at 8 p.m. in the College of Southern Idaho Auditorium. The group will be sponsored by the First Nazarene Church, Twin Falls, and their performance is open to the public. Tickets are now available at

Magic Valley Christian Supply, Helen's Record Shop and the Matador Barber Salon or at the door Wednesday night. The Blackwood Brothers organized in 1934 and have sold more gospel music records and traveled more miles than any other gospel singing group. More than three million albums have been sold by the male singing group in the past 20 years. James Blackwood has traveled 3.5 million miles and sung in 9,000 concerts during his 36 years in gospel music. He has been awarded the "Dove" award of the Gospel Music Association as the best male gospel singer the past two consecutive years. Other members of the group have also won awards as outstanding individual performers including the accompanying piano, drums and guitar players. Billy Blackwood, drummer is known as "Mr. Gospel Drums" and a favorite among young music fans.

Banquet held at Richfield

RICHFIELD — Richfield LDS Ward Church was in charge of the annual Atonic priesthood banquet for MIA youth and their parents at the cultural hall. Mrs. Sterling King was dinner chairman assisted by Mrs. Edward Appell, Mrs. Jay Ward, and Ann King, with 140 dinner guests from Shoshone, Dietrich, and Richfield. Vern Nelson, former Richfield church bishop, now of Gooding, spoke on the benefits of living one's religion and being a good citizen. Frank Garrett, Shoshone, was master of ceremonies. Musical numbers were vocal sextettes by the Dietrich and Shoshone MIA groups. Mrs. Merthon Dille, Shoshone, and Leah Anderson, Dietrich, were piano accompanists. Craig Sorenson was a youth speaker with the restoration of the Priesthood as his subject. Prayers were given by Brent Flavel, Richfield, and Kelvin Rand, Shoshone.

Seminary holds fete

HAGERMAN — Mervin Gifford was the guest speaker at the Seminary breakfast this week according to Mrs. Ed Larson, seminar teacher. The breakfast was held in the cultural hall of the Hagerman LDS Church and is an annual event honoring the graduating students and prospective new students. Other guests included parents of the graduating students, and members of the bishopric and their wives. The welcome was given by Doug Butler, class president, who introduced his class officers and the guest speaker. Invocation was given by Matt Dalton. The scripture was given by Katie Choules and the spiritual thought by Roberta Dalton. Music was under the direction of Miss Choules and Marla Waite. The bulletin board award presented by Mrs. Larson to the student having the most attractive and thought-provoking bulletin board went to Annette Lloyd. The special self-initiated project award went to Debbi Larson. The breakfast was under the direction of Miss Choules and Miss Dalton and their mothers, Mrs. C.W. Choules and Mrs. Richard Dalton. They were assisted in the preparation of the meal by Mrs. Jack Martin and Mrs. Cleave Lloyd.

Sunday school clinic held

BURLEY — A Sunday school clinic was held at the Burley Church of the Nazarene this week for the Idaho-Oregon district. Dr. Kenneth Rice, Kansas City, Mo., executive secretary of the general church Sunday School, served as clinic counselor. Rev. Bob Miller, district church school coordinator assisted with the program. Rev. Earl Hunter, local pastor, was host for the clinic which was a training course for Sunday school superintendents and Sunday officials. Topics discussed were materials which are available, buildings, programs to fit local needs and lesson book. This is the first time such a clinic has been held in this area. Rev. Miller said. He noted the church officials were in the area for the annual conference and assembly which is concluding today in Twin Falls, and it was felt a clinic for church school officials would be beneficial while the leaders were available.

Addresses athletes
BILL GLASS, former Cleveland Browns defensive lineman, now an evangelist, was the featured speaker at the kick-off luncheon of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. Glass, who makes his home in Waco, Tex., spends much of the year in city-wide crusades in many sections of the country. (UPI)

Vacation church school set June 8

TWIN FALLS — "Created by God" will be the theme for Vacation Church school at the Twin Falls First Baptist Church, 910 Shoshone St., E., June 8-17. Mrs. William Rosenbaum, co-chairman, said the program will consider God as creator through study and crafts, with recreation and fellowship to enrich the experience. Mrs. Keith Fullmer is co-chairman. The eight-day school will conclude with a family sharing session at 7:30 p.m. June 17. Lead teachers for the course will include Jeris Stonemets, nursery; Mrs. Merl Eden, 3 and 4 year olds; Mr. James B. Hughes, 5-year-olds; Mrs. Carl Snow, children who have completed first and second grades; Rev. Hughes, third and fourth, and Mrs. Ross Prather, fifth and sixth grades. Mrs. Walter Reppeto is chairman of refreshments. Registration may be done by calling 733-2936, or by coming to the church. The fee will be 50 cents per child or $1.50 per family. Transportation can be provided.

Churches

Weekday sessions ended

RICHFIELD — Wednesday sessions of the Community Methodist Church ended this week for the vacation season. A special party for Mothers was given by the children and teachers. Mrs. Carol Peterson and Mrs. Mary Benn. Program numbers included a skit, song, and recitations. Mrs. C. M. Fridmore, a special guest, was presented a gift of appreciation for the many years in charge of the Wednesday sessions. Pansy plants were given the mothers. Vacation Bible school will start at the Methodist recreation rooms June 7 and conclude June 18.

Baptists at Filer hear talk

FILER — Edwin Marshall was guest speaker at the Filer American Baptist Society meeting in the memorial fellowship hall. Mrs. Keith Peterson was in charge of the devotional service. Members were asked to bring cancelled postage stamps to the next meeting to be sent to Germany. Mrs. Everett Andrews, Mrs. William Urle and Mrs. Roy Wright were in charge of arrangements for the salad luncheon which preceded the business meeting.

Miracles lesson topic

BURLEY — Mrs. Russell Shockey and Mrs. Neva Dalton hosted the Naomi Circle of the United Presbyterian Women during an afternoon meeting at the Shockey home. The lesson entitled "I Believe in Miracles," written by Kathryn Kuhlman, was presented by Mrs. J. B. Goetsche. Each member answered roll call with a Bible verse or poem. "A Tribute to Mothers" was read by Mrs. Cliff Sutton. Rev. David Buzza gave the opening prayer and the group repeated "The Lord's Prayer" in unison. A short business session was conducted by Mrs. Sutton. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Shockey and Mrs. Dalton.

Special meet set

TWIN FALLS — Faith Assembly of God, 178 Filer Ave. W., will conduct a series of special meetings starting at 8 p.m. Sunday. Rev. and Mrs. Frank McAdams, Waxahachie, Tex., evangelists, will conduct the services. All interested persons will be welcome to attend, a church spokesman said.

Pastor talks

FILER — Rev. Elam Anderson, pastor of the United Methodist Church, presented the devotional service to the Women's Society of Christian Service in the Recesor Room of the church. He read a number of poems from the collection of the late Mrs. Winnifred LaHue. Mrs. Lena Reichert and Mrs. Edward Brown served refreshments.

Education for young scored

By LOUIS CASSELS
UPI Religion Writer
Formal religious education of children before the age of adolescence is worse than useless. It may do permanent harm to their spiritual development. That startling assertion is made by two Catholic educators, Dr. Robert O'Neill and Fr. Michael Donovan. O'Neill is assistant professor of psychology at the University of Detroit. Donovan is chaplain to Catholic students at the University of Michigan. They are authors of a small paperback book which ought to be read and pondered by parents and pastors of all denominations. The title is "Children, Church & God." It can be ordered from the Corpus Books division of World Publishing Co., 2251 West 10th St., Cleveland, Ohio. What O'Neill and Donovan are saying, in dead earnest, is that virtually every church in America is going about religious education in the wrong way. With few exceptions, Catholic and Protestant churches concentrate most of their religious education effort on young children between the ages of 5 and 13. Relatively few resources are invested in educational programs for high school and college students, and still less is done about adult education. This means, say O'Neill and Donovan, that "a disproportionate amount of religious education is aimed at those who can least benefit from it." They can learn the right words and definitions, and parrot them back to their pleased teachers and parents. But the only way they can cope with the ideas behind the words is to reduce them to concrete, oversimplified terms. And this often leads to bizarre concepts of God which are "worse than no understanding at all" because they become road-blocks to mature religious thought at an appropriate age. O'Neill and Donovan contend this is the real reason why so many young people abandon religion entirely soon after they reach adolescence. Their growing minds recognize the superficiality of the religious education concepts of God, and they have been encouraged to regard those concepts as the teaching of the church. So "they reject a Christianity which they never learned to know at all." O'Neill and Donovan are not suggesting children should be kept away from church until they're 15. They are speaking solely of formal religious education—the kind that attempts to impart conceptual knowledge. This, they say, should begin only at adolescence.

pears to be the better way to try for 12 tricks. If you have looked at the East-West cards you will see that the finesse is wrong and spades don't break. However, South justified his partner's confidence by making the hand anyway. He refused the finesse because there was an extra chance if he did. That chance was to find the king of hearts and the long spades in the same hand. After taking the ace of hearts, he simply cashed all the clubs and diamonds making sure to win the last trick in his hand. Everyone was down to four cards. North held four spades; South three spades and the queen of hearts and poor West has had to throw away the king of hearts or a spade.

Yanks' ouster target

By PHIL NEWSOM
 UPI Foreign News Analyst
 Since the end of World War II, a primary objective of the Soviet Union has been to get United States forces out of Europe.
 Leonid I. Brezhnev, the Kremlin's No. 1 man, referred to it specifically four years ago in a speech at Karlovy Vary, Czechoslovakia. It has been inherent in the various Soviet proposals for a European security conference and other suggestions for a reduction of forces in Europe.

But here is a legitimate question as to why Brezhnev and later, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, chose this particular time to renew a proposal that the two sides explore possibilities of a reduction of forces and armaments in Central Europe.
 By doing so they passed up what propaganda value the Soviets might have drawn from Sen. Mike Mansfield's drive for a unilateral cut by half in the United States' troop strength of 300,000 in Europe and what value they might have gained from the unacceptable upward leap in the U.S. balance of payments deficit.

It seems, therefore, the Russians might have had something else in mind.
 This could be the increasing likelihood of British membership in the European Common Market and the creation of a new bloc of 300 million persons linked not only economically but probably defensively as well.
 If this is the case, then other Soviet moves may well be in the offing also, including a new approach to the problem of a divided Berlin and encouragement of some sort for West German Chancellor Willy Brandt's program of "Ostpolitik."

It gains urgency because of the "summit" meeting of British Prime Minister Edward Heath and French President Georges Pompidou and the possibility Heath may enlarge an idea already hinted by Geoffrey Rippon, Britain's chief Common Market negotiator.
 This was a proposal that after British entry into the Common market a natural next step would be establishment of a defense community of which an important element would be British-French nuclear cooperation, the whole to be within the framework of NATO.

The idea is neither impossible nor impractical and is such as to cause the Soviets greater concern than the presence of American troops since it would create a new and far more powerful nuclear force in Europe than either Britain or France could maintain alone.

It is therefore distinctly to the Soviet advantage to stifle the idea as quickly as possible even though it could mean important Soviet concessions elsewhere, notably in the direction of Berlin. It also could goad the Russians into greater efforts to wear the Germans from both NATO and the Common Market.

So far as the United States is concerned and regardless of President Nixon's opposition to a reduction of U.S. NATO forces now, it long has been recognized that eventually a reduction will occur.

A Europe at least partially independent of the U.S. nuclear umbrella might be one way to do it.

TWIN FALLS — Response to cards mailed by the city engineering department to nearly 4,000 city residents shows about half of those received indicate property owners plan to join the proposed Twin Falls Irrigation system, Jerry Morse, engineering department, said today.

Cards were mailed about a week ago to persons in the city who now use ditch water for their lawns, gardens or small acreages, asking them to return the card indicating whether or not they wish to join the irrigation system. The system is to be in effect by next summer.

Morse said there are nearly 4,000 properties in the city now

Data due

BOISE — The Veterans Administration is requesting racial and ethnic data on application forms used in its GI home loan guaranty program for veterans, Loryn E. Kopan, director of the Boise VA Center, said today.

He said the action will enable the agency to insure that its housing program is serving all Americans without discrimination. Classifications include black, Spanish American, American Indian, Oriental, and other.

using ditch water, adjacent to ditches or otherwise qualified to become part of the system. He said persons receiving the cards are asked to return them as soon as possible although there is no deadline at this time.
 Based on the response of water users, he said, the boundaries of the system will be established and ditch locations established. Fees for maintenance of the ditches will also be set at that time, Morse said. Estimates now indicate maintenance fees will run about $24 per year per acre share, Morse said. Persons with a city lot would pay a portion of that depending on the actual acreage involved in their property. A city lot of about a quarter acre size, he said, would pay $8 per year. Payments would be due in one lump sum once a year.

Morse said the fees will be reasonable for lot owners, but costly for persons with several acres. Such persons would be wise to "maintain their own ditches as most are doing at the present time, he said.

Morse emphasized there is no charge for the water by the Twin Falls City system, only for maintenance costs with the city assuming full responsibility for maintenance for those properties joining the system.

With creation of the irrigation system, a department of irrigation will be established as part of the city administration. Fees will be charged as of 1972 and city maintenance and operation of the system will take place as of the irrigation season next year. No change is planned this summer.

 Morse said persons need not join the city system if they wish to maintain their own ditches or if they do not wish to use ditch water through the city system. They should mark the cards mailed them accordingly and return them as soon as possible.
 Creation of the system has been under study the past year with the delivery of irrigation water through ditches constituting a problem for city crews with no direct remuneration for the service, Morse said.

Morse explained the proposed irrigation system is designed to provide a more equitable means of paying maintenance costs and ditch rider expenses in the city. Under the present operation, the property owner using ditch water is getting a "free ride" at the expense of his neighbor who irrigates exclusively by lawn sprinkler. Costs of ditch maintenance have been charged to the water department.

Morse said the property owner who uses ditch water pays nothing for maintenance and because of it is able to reduce his monthly water bill, while the man using hose irrigation is paying more during irrigation season.

To remove this inequity, the city council authorized the city manager and attorney to prepare necessary steps for an irrigation system which will take over maintenance and regulation of the ditch water and establish equitable fees.

In many cases, Morse said, the water user will be receiving better service through the new system and assurance of ditch water.
 He said a majority of users on any one ditch must sign up to join the system if the ditch is to be maintained. If only one or two out of half a dozen users wish to join the system the entire ditch will have to be eliminated and the users assume their own maintenance work.
