Blacks' backlash feared

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, who chaired a presidential commission on the prevention of violence in America, says the civil rights movement has spawned its own backlash that could be called "black racism."

Eisenhower also said the failure of the Nixon administration to respond to the recommendations of the commission is contributing to a "very explosive situation."

"There are arsenals being built by both the extreme right and the extreme left and if we saw trouble break out in this country it could be devastating," he said Wednesday at a Senate subcommittee hearing.

The president of Johns Hopkins University said positive gains by the civil rights movement in the 1960s had the side effect of raising the expectations of minority groups to heights that society could not fulfill.

The result was a "backlash that can truly be described as black racism," he said.

Soviets sentence 4 Jews

MOSCOW (UPI)—A Riga court today sentenced four Jews to prison terms ranging from one to four years for spreading anti-Soviet propaganda, unofficial sources said.

They said the three-member court sentenced Arkady Shpilberg, 32, to four years; Mikhail Shepelovich, 27, to two years; Boris Maftser, 24, to one year and Ruth Alexandrovich, 24, to one year.

The sentences were exactly as requested by the prosecution.

The convictions brought to 25 the number of persons tried and sentenced in connection with a plot to hijack a Soviet plane as a means of fleeing to Israel. Still one more trial has been planned in Khabarov, Moldavia, for others arrested after the plot was discovered in 1970.

TWIN FALLS—More than 40 years of parochial-school classes in Twin Falls come to an end today as St. Edward's Catholic School closes its doors for the last time.

Eighth-grade students will receive their diplomas in the school's final commencement exercises today at 7 p.m. in St.

Edward's Church. Magr. Edmund Cody will speak briefly to the graduates, then will present their diplomas. A reception for parents and friends will follow the graduation exercises in the parish hall.

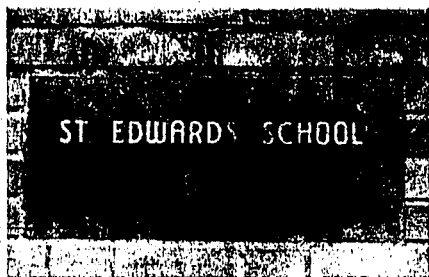

The six teaching Sisters of the Order of the Immaculate Heart of Mary have been reassigned to other posts in eastern states. Sister Mary Zita, principal of St. Edward's, said today. She will teach seventh and eighth grade language arts in a Pittsburgh, Pa., parochial school beginning this fall.

Sister Kathleen, superior of the convent and a teacher at St. Edward's, will move to Washington, D. C., to become Superior of the Little Flower Convent in the nation's capital. She will also teach fourth grade.

Sister Miles will teach social studies at Forest Hills, N. Y.; Sister Maria Goretti has been ordered to Baltimore, Md., to teach science; Sister Monique will teach first grade in Scranton, Pa., and Sister Lorraine will move to Williamsport, Pa., to teach mathematics.

The Sisters will drive east, leaving early on the morning of June 11. An unidentified benefactor has donated a station wagon for their use, telling Magr. Cody that the Sisters should "drive back East" in the car.

38 more dead in Asia war

SAIGON (UPI)—Communist troops last week killed 38 American servicemen and wounded 92 others, the lowest casualty toll suffered by U.S. forces since the second week of the year, military spokesmen said today.

Officers said, however, that not all the names of 39 Americans killed and 60 wounded in a pair of Communist rocket attacks last Friday were included in the weekly casualty report issued by the U.S. command today.

Servicemen are not listed until their families have been notified, spokesmen said, and names of many of the 80 casualties suffered last Friday will be held until next week's report.

Spokesmen said the 130 casualties reported last week were the lowest since the week ending Jan. 9, when 27 Americans were killed and 83 wounded.

Last week's death toll, the highest in three weeks, boosted the number of Americans killed in action in the Vietnam war to 45,185, spokesmen said. Another 299,434 U.S. troops had been wounded in action between Jan. 1, 1961, and last Saturday, the spokesmen said.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported that casualties suffered by government troops rose sharply last week, with 476 men killed and 1,015 wounded in battlefield action.

Heavy fighting centers on town

SAIGON (UPI)—Communist troops occupied part of the Cambodian town of Snoul early today but South Vietnamese forces backed up by U.S. planes and artillery reconquered most of the town in the heaviest fighting since the allied strike into Cambodia 13 months ago.

"The fighting is now over," a spokesman for the Army of the Republic of (South) Vietnam

(ARVN) said in Saigon, "but there may be some small Communist groups still inside the town."

The spokesman said at least 80 Communists had been killed in the fighting, which began before dawn Wednesday and continued into today.

He reported three ARVN dead and 13 wounded. But military sources said ARVN casualties were at least 12 dead and 61 wounded.

Air strikes were called in on the town marketplace after a force of about 1,000 Communists drove ARVN infantrymen out of that section of town.

In the fighting around Snoul Wednesday and today, ARVN soldiers first fell back and warned civilians to evacuate the town so air and artillery strikes could be called in to bombard the Communist positions.

ARVN infantry and armored cavalry reinforcements were being rushed to Snoul.

Plane reported down

FILER—Sheriff Paul Oorder and several other county officers were investigating a report of a downed aircraft at 11 a.m. today.

Officers said they were unable to locate the craft at the reported location, southeast of Filer. They believed it may have been a low flying plane, possibly a crop duster, which appeared to have crashed.

A group of boys reported seeing the plane go down and said it did not come back into view.

It was reported to have gone down on the Phillip Cryder farm, two miles south and three-quarters of a mile east of Filer.

'Substitute dollars' asked for exchange

MUNICH (UPI)—West Germany proposed today the creation of "substitute dollars" in the form of credits that would relieve the United States of its uncomfortable role as the world's banker.

The suggestion was put forth by Wilhelm Hankel, director of the money and credit division in Karl Schiller's ministry of economics, to a gathering of 200 delegates from 20 nations attending an international banking conference here.

Hankel said he was picking up an idea suggested in February by President Nixon who proposed an increase in special drawing rights with the International Monetary Fund (IMF).

"If it were agreed that all of the dollars held in Central Bank reserves today could be converted into credits with the International Monetary Fund, then all reasonable grounds for the central banks to continue to intervene (to support the dollar at its fixed rate) would be eliminated," Hankel said.

"When viewed in a clear light, these special drawing rights are not additional to but are a substitute for reserve dollars," Hankel said.

"If we adopted such a special drawing rights standard, the United States would be relieved of the burden of being the world's banker. Just as any other country, it then could pursue a monetary policy solely motivated by domestic economic considerations."

On the Frankfurt money market the dollar dipped slightly today. Dealers fixed the day's official rate at 3.5410 marks, compared with 3.5490 on Wednesday. A Chase Manhattan Bank official described trading as active although the unofficial trading price hovered around the 3.53 point in morning trading hours.

Former West German Finance Minister Franz Josef Strauss predicted pressure on the dollar would be relieved in another way, by a revaluation of the mark by five to six per cent.

"The impression is that the government will reach a point at which the floating mark will settle between 5 and 6 per cent below the former rate," Strauss said in an interview with the newspaper Economic Weekly.

A 6 per cent revaluation would peg the mark's rate of exchange at approximately 3.45 to the dollar, compared with a parity of 3.66 in effect until the West German government set the mark free May 10 to find its own level on the money market.

By doing so, Finance and Economics Minister Karl Schiller hoped to stop the flow of billions of U.S. dollars which entered the country early this month in anticipation of such a revaluation.

But Schiller and other West German government officials have taken the opposite line from Strauss, who served as economics spokesman for the opposition Christian Democratic Union-Christian Social Union.

Rumors circulated Wednesday that the West German Central Bank shortly would restore the mark to its old rate. The result was a scramble by speculators to buy dollars at the present cheap rate in order to sell them again at a profit when the central bank resumed the old parity.

Live bomb found

GELIGNITE BOMB was found in Sydney, Australia airport locker Wednesday after airline was warned similar device was placed aboard plane bound for Hong Kong. Line paid $500,000 demanded. No bomb was found on plane. (UPI)

Doomsday bomb plot nets cash

SYDNEY (UPI)—Last Saturday television viewers in Sydney saw a 1968 Van Johnson thriller called "The Doomsday Flight." It was about a scheme to make money through an airliner bomb hoax.

Today police throughout the world were hunting for someone that tried the "doomsday" plot Wednesday on Qantas, the Australian international airline, and got away with $50,000.

National and state police posted guards at all exits from Australia and alerted Interpol, the international police force. They issued a description and a composite sketch of a young Australian believed to be the money courier between the mastermind and Qantas. Authorities offered $50,000 in rewards for information.

The messenger was described as an English man of about 25 years, of medium build, with long brown hair, glasses, an aquiline nose and perhaps wearing a false beard.

Capt. Robert J. Ritchie, general manager of Qantas, turned over the $50,000 to the courier after he received telephoned threats from a "Mr. Brown" that a Hong Kong-bound Boeing 707 would be blown out of the sky if Qantas did not pay.

The caller said the bomb would be triggered by an altimeter when the plane descended to a certain level, and the 707 stayed aloft for seven hours to keep the device from going off and to allow the crew to make a search. The plane was permitted to land after "Mr. Brown" got his money and admitted there was no explosive aboard.

Economic recovery predicted

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Nixon Administration says evidence is increasing that the nation is pulling out of last year's recession. Some government economists admit privately to nagging fears that unemployment will remain high.

The Commerce Department reported Wednesday that its composite index of "leading" business indicators, statistics which usually point the way to future movements in the overall economy, rose 1.4 per cent in April, the sixth straight monthly advance.

"The well-established uptrend in the index since October adds further weight to the conclusion that a solid and sustainable economic expansion is under way," said Harold C. Passer, assistant commerce secretary for economic affairs.

The jobless rate, probably the most politically sensitive of all economic figures, has been in the 6 per cent range since December, indicating the nation is experiencing its worst unemployment since 1961.

With interest rates apparently rising again after declining sharply early this year, there is concern that business will curtail planned expansion which could have produced additional jobs.

Another dark spot in the job picture centers around the steel labor negotiations which got under way last week. If the steelworkers union strikes when its contract expires this summer, there probably will be layoffs in the industries which supply raw materials, fuel and other goods to the steel mills.

Despite uncertainties on unemployment, other segments of the economy are showing definite improvement.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A two-man congressional study mission contended today up to 15 per cent of the GIs in Vietnam are heroin addicts and said all U.S. troops should be withdrawn from South Vietnam if the flow of illegal drugs into that nation cannot be stopped.

Reps. Robert Steele, R-Conn., and Morgan Murphy, D-Ill., said in a report that they were told during their 21-day tour of eight nations that high government officials in South Vietnam and Laos are involved in heroin smuggling.

The two called a news conference to formally release their report on "The World Heroin Problem" along with 19 recommendations.

The report said "the best estimates available are that 10 to 15 per cent of all U.S. troops in South Vietnam are addicted to heroin in one form or another. It is estimated that in some units heroin addiction might be as high as 25 per cent."

"The bleak prognosis is that thousands upon thousands of junkie johnnies will come marching home hooked on heroin," Steele said in advance of the news conference.

One recommendation by the pair was "that the military institute 'an extensive program of urinalysis" to uncover addicts and provide a program of treatment. If a cure is not effected, they said, then commanding officers should be required "to civilly commit the addict to the administrator of the veterans administration for a period of three years for treatment and rehabilitation."

The pair said heroin is easily obtained on the streets of Saigon at a price much below that paid by addicts in the United States and they said the drug is smuggled into the country aboard South Vietnamese and Laotian military planes.

"It is assumed by the U.S. military that this activity reaches high levels of command to include the politicians both in Laos and in South Vietnam. We were told that there is information available that high-ranking Vietnamese officials, including military, are mixed up in drug operations," the report said.

The congressmen suggested a series of steps in cooperation with other countries and the United Nations to stop the flow of heroin into South Vietnam. They said "if these efforts fail, the only solution is to withdraw American servicemen from Southeast Asia."

Airport petition deadline June 15

By JERRY HERRMANN
Times-News Writer
TWIN FALLS—The deadline for petitions seeking to have regional airport authority established has been set for June 15.

By this date, the petitions are to be sent to Clayton Stewart, president of the South Idaho Chamber of Commerce, at Box 44, Sun Valley.

This decision was reached at the joint meeting of the executive boards of the South Idaho Chamber and the Interim Regional Airport Board Wednesday afternoon.

At the meeting it was stated that only people in Twin Falls County trying to get petitions signed were running into any opposition.

It was pointed out by one person from Twin Falls County that the main objection raised was, "Are we going to have to support two airports?" This question received several answers but all were along the line of George P. A. Forschler's statement, "The future of Twin Falls' airport is up to the people and the county commissioners of Twin Falls County." Forschler is the new president of the board.

He also pointed out that there is a need for the airport's existence until the regional airport is built and then to serve as a backup airport for the regional airport.

In a trip to Washington, Forschler said, he was told that there is $400 million available for this type of project across the nation.

"The past board's president has stated that there might be a chance of having the federal government pay for 80 per cent of the project and the region pay the other 20 per cent.

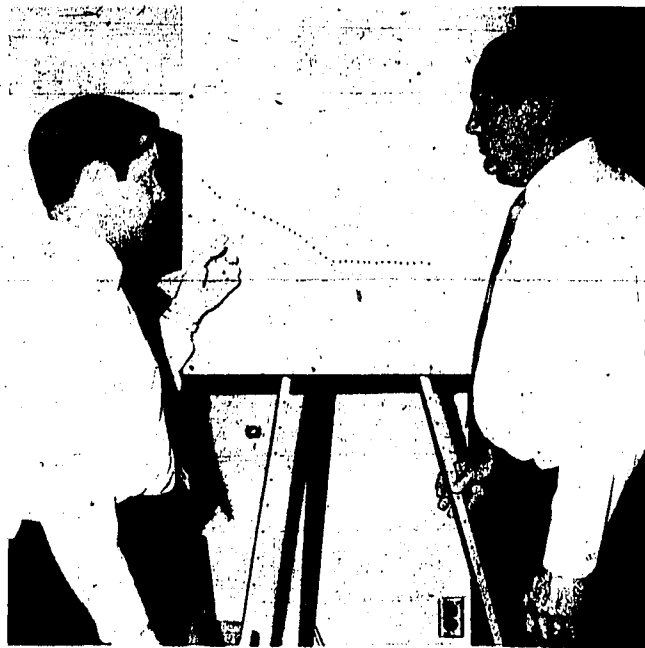

"If this is true I don't feel that it would take long for this airport to be self supporting," he said.

Harry Merrick, Twin Falls airport manager, said at a meeting he attended last fall the spokesmen for the FAA and CAB predict that in the distant future the financing will be 90-10 ratio with the federal government picking up the larger share.

Ed Elliott, Burley business man, asked if it didn't have to be an area or regional airport to get federal funds. This is so, Forschler said.

He said, "The worst thing that could happen would be not to get the true story out to the public." This can be done through brochures, fliers or a pamphlet, he said.

John Christoffersen, Twin Falls City Council member, said, "The regional airport will be busier through the use by residents of all parts of the region. Also, more airlines will use it. By being busier it should be able to pay off the debt and be self supporting after a few years of operation."

Swedes set Cong funds

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Foreign Minister Torsten Nilsson announced today that Sweden will give $500,000 in aid to the Viet Cong.

He also told parliament that Sweden will help guerrilla organizations in Laos and Cambodia—the Pathet Lao and the Cambodian Popular Liberation Front.

Nilsson, responding to a question from Mrs. Birgitta Dahl, a Social Democratic member and chairman of the Swedish Vietnam Committee, said the aid to the National Liberation Front (NLF), the political arm of the Viet Cong, would include medicine and medical equipment.

Sweden earlier pledged $45 million of aid to North Vietnam over a three-year period. About one third of the money has already gone to Hanoi as humanitarian aid, Swedish officials said.

Premier Olof Palme's Social Democratic government, which has criticized U.S. policy in Indochina, is the only western nation maintaining full diplomatic relations with Hanoi.

Shriners convene

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — A four-day gathering of western Shriners from eight states and Mexico City officially begins today with registration at the Masonic Temple.

James J. Cunningham, Los Angeles, is to be installed as Western Shrine Association president at the President's Ball Saturday evening at the Salt Palace Assembly Hall.

The convention registration was preceded by an Oriental Jamboree which began Wednesday.

The activities, which bring from 8,000 to 10,000 Shriners here, include a Shriners' parade Saturday morning and the annual Shrine Circus Friday and Saturday in the Salt Palace Arena.

Clerk assails salary slash

BOISE (UPI) — A new salary policy approved by Ada County commissioners will reduce one elected official by $2,000 per year, but commissioners say it is merely an effort to equalize salaries of four county officers.

But Clarence Planting, Ada County clerk and recorder, said there was a "personal" element in the change which will drop his salary.

The policy, according to Commission Chairman Jack Barney, will be that salaries of elected officials will be $500 less than those received by county commissioners.

Currently commissioners are receiving $11,000 each year. Planting is receiving $12,500 his year, and if the commissioners' salaries are not raised in the next legislative session Planting's income would drop to $10,500 in 1972.

The other officers covered in the salary policy, the county assessor, treasurer and sheriff, will not be directly affected since all three earn $10,500 per year.

Planting said his personal problems with the commission related to two matters — his position against the controversial purchase of a building and his cooperation in giving information to Taxpayer's Voice, Inc.

Planting said he did not feel it proper to reduce a salary during an incumbent's term of office.

Housing funds lack attacked

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — A senior vice president of Boise Cascade Corp. accused the federal government of playing economic gamesmanship with the housing industry Wednesday.

William M. Agee said the government is exuberant in its support for housing projects, but when it comes to financing, "housing is the first to go."

At a luncheon meeting of the Utah Savings and Loans League at Hotel Utah, he urged savings and loans executives and home builders to push housing into the top group of national priorities.

"High priorities are often overshadowed by less important more controversial issues," he said. "We need to move housing into top priority group status."

Agee said a large part of the responsibility for future housing rests with home builders and financial institutions which provide the financing for home buyers.

"Together, the housing industry and lending institutions are particularly well equipped to solve the nation's housing problems," he said. He called for housing innovations and urged the savings and loans executives to recognize new life styles and provide more latitude for home financing.

"We can't just build a large tract of homes any more," he said. "We must study the needs of the buyer and meet the true needs of the community."

Joint project

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Joint planning between public and Catholic school systems to improve educational quality and achieve operational efficiency has been launched in three cities, the National Catholic Educational Association reports.

The Ford Foundation-sponsored project is under way in Philadelphia, New Orleans and San Francisco. Public and Catholic school officials in the three cities will form joint planning councils "to explore methods of cooperation which will best serve to solve local problems and improve local educational programs.

Snake dam bar passage seen

BOISE (UPI) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, told a news conference Wednesday that his moratorium legislation on further dam building on the Middle Fork of the Snake River "still has the best chance of passing Congress."

Church said he agreed with Sen. Robert Packwood, R-Ore., that the river should be preserved in its "free-flowing state." Packwood has called for a park concept to protect the river from construction.

Church said if his legislation, co-sponsored by Idaho Sen. Len Jordan, does not win approval, he would then look for an alternative measure to support.

But Church reiterated his support of the Teton Dam although he said criticisms of the project "might have merit" and should be thoroughly investigated.

Church predicted the Congress would pass the draft law extension bill but said, "I am inclined to think it will be the last extension. America is going to return to the volunteer army concept. It is just a matter of time."

Church said he saw little hope that the National Rail Passenger Service, Amtrak, would be expanded in Idaho in the near future.

He said two bills he has introduced into the Senate would correct the situation whereby six states, including Idaho, have been left without significant rail passenger service.

One would require rail service in at least one major population center of each of the 48 contiguous states. The other bill would require the U. S. postal service to use the railroad to deliver mail when practical.

Church dismissed talk that he has begun to seek the Democratic vice-presidential nomination for 1972. Church said he "has no craving to be vice-president," and added that one couldn't very well "run" for the vice-presidency. "You have to be asked," he said.

Realtors role explained

BURLEY — The realtor's role in the development and selling of mobile home sites was explained at the Realtors 1971 Spring Clinic session held here Tuesday by Roger H. Allen, president of the Boise Valley Mobile Home Park Association and assistant professor of finance at Boise State College.

President Nixon, in 1968, was the first U. S. President to include mobile homes in his U. S. housing goal address, he said.

In 1969, 48 per cent of the total single dwelling units bought were mobile homes. This dropped to 46 per cent in 1970, he said. But for the first part of 1971, 44 per cent of single dwellings have been mobile homes.

Allen then gave the realtors some brief definitions. They are:

- Travel trailers are under eight feet wide and 32 feet long.
- Mobile homes are 10 feet wide or wider and over 32 feet long.
- Double wide are two mobile homes. They can be up to 28 feet wide and 74 feet long.
- Mobile modular homes are homes built in a factory and then transported to the site and put on a solid foundation.
- Sectional homes are like modular homes.
- Pod housing is a home built in pods or by rooms.
- A pod house lets a family add on as the family grows by just buying another pod (a second or third bedroom). Then as the family grows up pods can be taken off. This way the house always meets the needs of the family," he said.
- The five major segments of the industry, he said, are: manufacturing, suppliers, transporters, dealers, and parks and subdivisions.

Allen said that the parks and subdivisions part is where the realtors could get involved.

"Of all the mobile homes sold about 50 per cent are in individual lots. Most of these are in small cities or in the rural area," he said.

Many cities have limits on the placement of a mobile home on an individual lot, Allen said.

"Our association doesn't recommend that mobile homes be allowed to be placed on individual lots except in rural areas."

There are also mobile home subdivision areas being set up. Here, he said, mobile home owners can purchase a lot — usually 60' x 100' for from $3,000 to $8,000. These subdivisions are fully developed and all the utilities are in underground.

Some condominium lots are also being offered now, he said. Here the mobile home owner owns the land and the rest is owned and kept up by the group running it.

For the rest of the mobile home owners there are the rental parks. Average rent for space in Boise, he said, is $30-$50 a month.

So many of the older parks are now obsolete due to the changes in the mobile home industry itself, he said. "The new sizes don't fit in the older parks and the electrical needs usually don't meet today's needs," Allen said.

Most of the parks found today in Idaho are in the utility or convenience parks class, he said.

Another class of rental parks is the luxury or prestige park. "I don't think there are any of this category in Idaho, he said.

There are also "restricted parks." These parks can restrict tenants to only those with a certain brand of trailer or by the age of trailer or by saying adults only, he said.

Allen said the realtors could participate in the growing mobile home industry by getting involved in the resale of trade-ins. "The trend now is not to move them when sold but to leave it as part of lot," he said.

Also, he said the majority of mobile home owners are between the age of 45-60. However, the demand for them by young marrieds is increasing.

The average price for a new 12' by 60' mobile home is now $8,600 he said. With a long mortgage this makes it ideal for the young.

Also, the people who have raised a family like what the mobile home has to offer. At the same time the family with young kids is looking for a home. This offers the perfect chance for an exchange.

"There is even a possibility for realtors to specialize in this area," he said.

Other areas a realtor can get involved in are the subdividing and sale of lots. Recreation lots are in demand by people who want to buy one and place a mobile home on it, he said.

He then asked if there wasn't something that could be done about the appearance of the exteriors of the mobile homes to make them blend in better and have a more pleasing look.

"The industry is reluctant to get away from the aluminum siding, because it is nearly maintenance free. This is the big selling point," he said.

He also stated that realtors are the only ones qualified to handle the sale of existing rental parks.

Some of the appeals a rental park has to an investor, he said are:

- The value is close to the land. Parks take up a large amount of land. The location determines value of land.
- "Minimum management responsibilities. About the only duties are to rent spaces and handle border disputes."
- "Diversification of risks. The park doesn't collapse when a tenant moves out."
- "Provides an excellent tax shelter. Parks can be depreciated over 20 years period."
- "Growing industry. More mobile homes being bought each year."

Some of the problems to look for in a rental park are: If it has sound sewage disposal system, adequate fresh water supply, the quality of underground materials, capacity of electrical system, real estate taxes, obsolescence, zoning — good and bad.

Realtors advised confidence needed

BURLEY — A real estate salesman won't get a prospective buyer to purchase anything from him if he doesn't show confidence in what he is doing.

This was one of many points Dr. Royal Garff, professor of speech and salesmanship at the University of Utah, made in his talk to the realtors Tuesday at the Ponderosa Inn.

About 100 agents and real estate salesmen from Magic Valley attended the 1971 Spring Clinic. This clinic is sponsored by the Idaho Association of Realtors and the Idaho Real Estate Commission.

Dr. Garff said, "Ninety-nine per cent of the real estate salesmen don't know the facts about what they're selling."

"What are we doing to build up people's confidence in us," he asked. "Do we show people how to save money?"

He reminded the realtors that there are people everywhere who want to know how to make money. A good realtor, he said, can show a prospective buyer how to save money by buying one of his listings.

"Too many people in this profession are just hanging on. We've got to have more professionals who people can believe in," he said.

Dr. Garff also said, "People buy because they want new experiences. Imagination on the part of the salesman sells the product."

The realtors were also reminded that they must keep their minds alert and keep up on the latest developments in their field.

Hospital give away proposed

BOISE (UPI) — State Auditor Joe K. Williams suggested Tuesday the state give away a half-million dollar investment at Gooding to a business that would employ at least 100 persons.

Williams referred to the vacant State Tuberculosis and Chest Disease Hospital which, he said, will cost the state $40,000 a year to maintain until it can be sold or given away.

"It has $50,000 worth of X-ray equipment in there," he said, adding it also contains some fine, stainless steel facilities.

Since the facility was closed as a hospital the state has been confronted with continuing maintenance costs to prevent the building's deterioration.

Recently the State Land Board voted to transfer some $9,000 in maintenance funds no longer needed for the former Southern Idaho College of Education campus to the Gooding facility. But Williams said those funds will not be enough.

"We're doing everything we can to sell it," Williams said.

"I think the state of Idaho would be better off to make that as a grant to some business who would employ 100 people," he said. "That would increase the economy of the area and put the property back on the tax rolls."

Mind Your Money

By PETER WEAVER

Q—I have a problem with unwanted hair. A number of devices and treatments are advertised in magazines, all claiming to remove hair permanently. One device, Perma-Tweez, is advertised to remove hair permanently by electrolysis. It's relatively inexpensive ($14) but will it work? — Mrs. T.E.F., Fombell, Pa.

A—Electrolysis involves injecting the hair follicle with a fine needle, shooting an electric current into the follicle and then tweezing out the loosened hair. This relatively painless but time-consuming process must be done hair by hair.

Before investing in any hair-removal device or hair-removal service, it would be a good idea to consult a dermatologist or send in for an excellent booklet, "Excess Hair and Its Removal," put out by the American Medical Assn.

You can get a copy by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to: The Committee on Cutaneous Health and Cosmetics, AMA, 535 N. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill. 60610.

Q—Are there any patent medicine preparations on the market to be used as skin peeling agents for taking away acne scars? — C.S., Sunderland, Pa.

A—Resorcinol, a peeling agent, is used in patent medicine formulas for treating acne, but in a low concentration. Overuse of a peeling agent can cause scarring, staining and hyperpigmentation of the skin. Talk with your doctor before trying this approach.

Q—I subscribed to an endowment insurance plan at $50 a month. I paid a total of $1,500. When I cashed in my policy, I only received $1,185—a loss of $315. Is this a common practice for this type of insurance? — A.E.R., Suncook, N.H.

A—You cashed in your policy soon after it was paid up. It usually takes several years before you can even expect to break even on an endowment policy. If you were thinking of this kind of insurance policy as a quick form of savings, you made a mistake. The agent usually gets the first year's premiums as his commission, so it takes awhile for the cash value to build up.

Q—We want to remodel our house and we're worried about using safe paints and sealers. I understand babies have died from eating paints and adults have gotten an allergy similar to bronchitis. Please advise us. — Mrs. J.W.A., Westfield, Mass.

A—The only paint or sealer which could cause a severe illness in a healthy person would have a lead base. Except for a few outdoor paints and primers, these have generally been removed from the market. If a paint contains lead, it must be so stated on the can.

If someone in your family has an allergy or a respiratory problem, it could become aggravated by paint fumes. If you have any doubts, check with your doctor.

Q—An advertisement claims that dropping pellets into spark plus openings and pouring a liquid into the oil will give your engine a complete overhaul. For $4.85 is this too good to be true? — M.C., Omaha, Neb.

A—It certainly won't give you a "complete overhaul" in the ordinary sense of the words. It will, as the aspirin ads say, "give temporary relief." The materials offered in the ad probably build up gums and resins to help seal the slack around old piston rings to cut down on oil combustion.

A Lovelier You

THE WEIGHT ON YOUR FEET

By Mary Sue Miller

Giddy footwear is not always the reason for aching feet. Some feet are overly tender, owing to a weakness. Too, some women carry more weight than even strong feet can support with comfort.

Serious obesity is capable of crippling results, wherein a person can hardly navigate. So getting excess weight off your feet is just one more reason for weight control. And here, as we all know, control comes from sensible eating habits.

But, given passable weight and well-fitted shoes, easily fatigued feet reflect weaknesses and need bolstering. Basic remedies aim to firm up foot muscles via exercises such as these:

1. Barefoot, sit with knees crossed. "Count" with toes of elevated foot — point each downward in turn. (At first, some may not budge, but practice bestows limberness.) Now stretch elevated foot downward, clench all toes and hold. Then stretch foot upward, clench and hold. Work for two minutes. Recross legs and continue.
2. Slide to edge of seat, extend legs and rest soles of feet on floor. Arch right foot, and slowly draw it back until only tip of big toe touches floor; by reversing action, return to starting position. Repeat with left foot. Alternating, perform 20 times.

As temporary relief measures, give tired feet epsom baths, massage with chilled rubbing alcohol or foot lotions and sprinkle foot powder under stockings and in shoes. What's more, your next step could well be to a podiatrist.

LEGLINE TRIMMERS

If your individual problem is heavy legs, send for my new leaflet, LEGLINE TRIMMERS, which contains spot reducing exercises that will meet your individual needs, whether for thighs, knees, calves or ankles, or for contouring your entire legline. Write Mary Sue Miller in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and ten cents in coin.

SHOSHONE — Poppy Sale Day was observed here under direction of the American Legion Auxiliary. It was announced today.

Mrs. Harry Stoner, Mrs. Doyal Bennett and Mrs. Mary Custer were members of the committee in charge, with several high school girls assisting with door-to-door sales.

Proceeds, of over $100, are divided with a per cent of the amount going back to the veterans in Boise who made the poppies, some to child welfare and some to nurses scholarship.

Mrs. Elmer Terry, secretary-treasurer of the auxiliary, said five wreaths have been made for veterans families for Memorial Day and the auxiliary will also make a wreath to place on the grave of the "unknown soldier" at the Shoshone Cemetery during the 11 a.m. Memorial Day services at the cemetery.

All veterans are invited to participate in the service and the public is invited to the cemetery.

Mrs. Raymond Freeman is the auxiliary president this year.

June 5 Scout show set

KING HILL — The Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Cub Scouts in the Elwyhee District will present a scout show June 5 at the Carl Miller Park in Mountain Home.

Scout officials said that anyone in the area wishing to donate articles should contact A. L. Mierhoff, Glenns Ferry, or Tony Betencourt, Mountain Home.

This is the first year that Scouts in the Elwyhee District, which includes Elmore and Owyhee counties, Grandview, Duck Reservation in Nevada, Mountain Home, Glenns Ferry and King Hill, have tried a Scout Show.

Area hospital auxiliary votes clinic support

SUN VALLEY — Members of the Sun Valley Hospital Auxiliary have voted support for the Wood River Mental Health Clinic at Halley and will work to secure private donations if shortage of state money threatens the closure of the clinic.

Mrs. Joseph Deming, candy stripper program; Mrs. Stanton Atkinson and Mrs. George Loomis, bloodmobile; Mrs. Winton Gray and Mrs. Ted Stoll, membership; Mrs. Richard Snyder, art display; Mrs. Edward Dumke, tray favors, and Mrs. James Hogg and Mrs. J. C. Osborne, publicity.

Mrs. Dibble reported on the past year's activities. Miss Stronk and Mrs. John Moritz reported the information desk has operated with 25 women putting in 60 to 70 hours a month. Mrs. George Kneeland, in charge of the emergency room, said her staff of six women had fully manned the emergency room during the winter.

The sale of small decorated Christmas trees donated by the Leadville gallery and decorated by Mrs. Don Atkinson's art students was one of the auxiliary's most successful ventures, according to Mrs. Jack Gray who reported for the ways and means committee headed by Mrs. Shreve Archer.

Other successful fund raising events included the annual Valentine ball, sale of calendars and note paper, the Antique Theatre production, food concession at the horse show and the refreshment cart on the golf course.

Purchases for the hospital, according to Mrs. Glenn Cooper, treasurer, include 16 television sets, a heart pump and Stryker frame, totaling about $3,000. Sponsorship of Blaine County bloodmobile cost $42, she said.

Members decided to support the candy strippers program and appreciation was expressed to six high school girls who assisted during the winter.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I am a 34-year-old divorcee with four teen-aged boys to support. It's four years since I've been divorced, and my ex-husband owes me $6,000 in back support. Because of this, I am deeply in debt, could soon lose my home and have my wages garnished. If this keeps up I will be forced to file bankruptcy.

My "ex" has remarried and has a wife plus two children to support. He has no interest in our four children, and the only time he visits them is when one of the boys calls him and begs him to come.

The girls at work say I must still love him or I'd have put him in jail long ago. My family says I am crazy. What is your advice?
PERPLEXED

DEAR PERPLEXED: See a lawyer. And if you don't take this advice, see a doctor. [Psychiatrist type.]

DEAR ABBY: What is the proper thing to say to a guy in the following situation?

You are out on a date, and he is nice, but you wouldn't want to go out with him again. When you say good night, he asks you for next weekend. I'm afraid if I say I have other plans, he will ask me for the next free weekend.

I don't want to hurt his feelings, but I don't want to go out with him again because he likes me in a way that I don't like him.

Please tell me what to say, Abby. I am sure other girls have this problem. I hope it's something I can say easily because I have... NO GUTS

DEAR NO GUTS: All you need is gumption enough to say, "I am complimented that you want to take me out again, but please ask another girl — someone who could like you in more than a sisterly way. I think you're nice, but it's like a brother-sister deal. Okay?" [P.S. And if he says he doesn't mind having you for a "sister," tell him you don't want him for a "brother."]

DEAR ABBY: I can really sympathize with any woman who is married to a man who snores but insists he doesn't. [For some strange reason, snorers are usually married to non-snorers, and therefore don't realize how annoying it can be.]

My husband's snoring sounded like a chicken bone in a garbage disposal, and he swore he didn't make a sound. I rented a tape recorder and set it up under the bed while he was gone. That night when he really got turned up I held the microphone right under his nose and got about 10 beautiful minutes of snoring. Then I reversed the tape, turned up the volume and nearly blasted him out of bed. He took it good naturedly, but with a stubborn husband you can always threaten to give him a nightly concert until he agrees to do something like see a doctor.

By the way, this works beautifully with children who are whiners and fussers. I made my little boy sit down and listen to 30 minutes of his own fussing and it really helped him to stop it. We don't realize how we sound to other people until it's played back to us. This is also a help for nagging wives and screaming mothers.
Sylvia

5 4-H club boys selected for workshop

TWIN FALLS — Five young 4-H club boys from Twin Falls County have been selected to attend the University of Idaho Environmental Workshop June 7 through 12 at Camp Alpine near the Idaho Wyoming border, Richard Fuehrer, extension agriculture agent, announced today.

The youths are attending on scholarships sponsored by the county's soil conservation districts.

The Twin Falls Soil Conservation District will sponsor Michael Humpries and Tod Benoit, both Twin Falls. Snake River Soil Conservation District is providing scholarships for Mike Dodge and Rick Reinstein, Kimberly, and Stanley Clark, Twin Falls.

The workshop is conducted by the University of Idaho to develop appreciation for human and natural resources and to encourage wise use of soil, water, forests and wildlife. It also serves as an opportunity for the young men to explore careers in resource management, Fuehrer said. Enrollment is limited to 100 boys of high school age, the agent said.

Illness noted

KING HILL — Mr. and Mrs. Leo Trail were called to Spokane, Wash., by the illness of Mrs. Walter Trail, Moscow, now under treatment in a Spokane hospital suffering from pneumonia.

Grange members vote

KING HILL — Members of the King Hill Grange met Tuesday night and voted to allow use of their hall for the Elmore County Hospital bond election June 1.

A letter of thanks was received for sponsoring a girl as a fair queen candidate. The letter was from home extension agent Marilyn Jordan.

The fair queen pageant will be held in the Service Club at the Mountain Home Air Base June 2 at 7 p.m. All grangers were urged to attend.

Master Frank Jones reminded members to be thinking of the Elmore County Fair when produce and workers will be needed. He reported on progress of plans for the Three Island Park Dedication. The dedication will be held June 18 and 19.

Letters from the National Grange Master, John Scott, were read by Mrs. Denver Allred, secretary. Relative to Grange Ecology Week June 6 through June 12, grangers were urged to clean up the environment, beautify the community and attend church June 6.

King Hill Grange members met again June 9 for a memorial service with women of the Grange in charge of the meeting in honor of father's day.

HotPants

A new pattern is for any one of three of the most wanted versions of hot pants. The three-in-one pattern is priced at 85 cents and is easy to sew but, says the manufacturer, home seamstresses will be kept busy deciding what fabrics to choose. The styles include one with fly-front, mock cuffs and a belt loop waistband; a sleek no-waistband style with a fly front; and a cuffed leg version with elasticized waistband.

Recital presented in Burley

BURLEY — A vocal recital was presented by students of Mrs. Bille Lou Forschler at the Burley Presbyterian Church. Each student presented a Broadway musical and sang four selections.

Parents and friends attended the evening of music. Students included Gara Barlow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Barlow; Ann Kelly, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L.M. Kelly; Diane Fillmore, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Leslie Fillmore; Robin Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Reed; Michelle Matthews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Matthews, and Roxanne Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lee.

Mrs. Beth Harper was the accompanist. During intermission, the guests were entertained by students from Delores Couch's School of Dance.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Prices were slightly lower on Wall Street as trading turned the halfway mark Thursday.

Analysts said the market felt the twin pressures of consolidation and concern about rising interest rates.

Near 1:15 p.m., the Dow Jones industrial average of 30 selected blue-chips was off 0.28 at 906.13.

Declines led advances, 573 to 554, among the 1,522 issues crossing the tape.

A three-hour turnover of 7,550,000 shares compared with 8,570,000 shares traded at a comparable period the previous session.

Motor, steel and chemicals took on an irregular look. IBM led 2% in the electronics, while Sperry Rand lost 1/4 after raising its quarterly dividend to 15 cents from 12 1/2 cents.

Corning Glass was off 2 1/2, and heavily traded Ling-Temco showed a loss of 1/4.

Texel Corp., the day's most active stock, was off a point on 196,000 shares, including a block of 100,000 shares at 17 1/2 down 1/4.

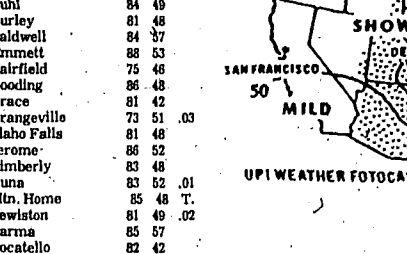

Also among the most active stocks were McGraw-Hill unchanged on 167,000 shares, Peoples Gas down 1/4 on 148,700 shares, and Engelhard Minerals & Chemicals off 1/4 on 134,500 shares.

Seale case called typical United Press International American jurists disagreed today over the effects on the judicial system of the dismissal of charges against Bobby Seale. But almost all said the controversial case points out the problems facing the courts.

The case against Seale and Mrs. Ericka Huggins, two Black Panthers charged with murder conspiracy, was declared a mistrial Monday when the jury could not reach a decision after six days of deliberation.

Judge Harold M. Mulvey dismissed the case against the two Tuesday on the grounds he thought in a second trial it would be "impossible to believe that an unbiased jury could be selected."

Judges, lawyers and legal scholars throughout the country were asked their opinions on the New Haven, Conn., court decision and what effects it might have on a judicial system currently being challenged from all sides.

"The ruling is a confession of failure on the part of our judicial system," said James C. Kirby, Dean of Law at Ohio State University. "Here is a person who may be guilty but will not be punished because we cannot impanel a fair-minded jury."

"The answer is in educating potential jurors to the necessity for openmindedness and putting aside prior information ... Judge Mulvey was on the scene and is a better judge of the effects of publicity on the Connecticut public than I am. I would quarrel with his decision, but I wouldn't endorse it either."

Attorneys defending other controversial figures generally agreed with Mulvey's decision. "With the bitterness of the jury in deliberations, there was no way (a court) could pick a nonpartisan jury (for the second trial)," said Fred Cohen, an attorney with a firm which recently successfully defended 13 Black Panthers in New York.

Howard Moore, chief attorney for black militant Angela Davis, said the problem of finding an impartial jury "was pre-existing. It didn't come up today. It must have been apparent during the 4 1/2 months they were trying to get a jury."

Grant Cooper, who defended Sirhan B. Sirhan, said the move was not unprecedented and he thought the main factor in Mulvey's decision "was that the court simply felt the state did not have a case sufficient to convict."

Air check change proposed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Orval Hansen, R-Idaho, announced Wednesday he had proposed easing of a financial burden on owners and operators of private aircraft traveling across the United States-Canadian border.

Legislation was introduced by Hansen to amend the Airport and Airway Development Act of 1970, to exempt private aircraft from payment of customs inspection charges at border airports under extended conditions.

Hansen said the legislation provides that no payment would be required for inspection of a private aircraft at an airport located near any border automotive customs or immigration service, if the services are performed by an officer of employe at the time he is available during his regular tour of duty.

The present law provides no-cost inspections only if an officer is available during normal work-day work hours.

BOISE (UPI)—By executive order, Gov. Cecil D. Andrus expanded the function of the State Planning and Community Affairs Agency to include review and clearing of all programs involving federal funds.

The expansion will include a review by the coordinator of federal programs in the office of the governor, Roy Haney, of all state plans and applications for federal financial assistance. Haney said under an existing circular certain applications for federal grants are required to be cleared through the state "clearinghouse," the State Planning and Community Affairs Agency.

But, Haney said, the agency now examines only 20 to 25 per cent of the federal fund applications and said the governor's order would mean inclusion of all grants.

Other states have similar programs, he said, some by statute, but added he was "hoping for cooperation" from state agencies without recourse to statute.

Haney said there were well over 1,000 categorical federal grants available to the state. Among other aspects of the expansion, he said, will be to "find out which ones we may take advantage of that we are not using now."

Haney said some grants are set up on a changing participation basis, which means during the first year. For example, the federal share will be 100 per cent, but will drop to 75 per cent, then 50 per cent, then 25 per cent during successive years.

"If we don't have this information, the legislature, or the governor, may not know the future commitment the state is actually making and they should be appraised of this," he said.

Haney said the review would also "try to find gaps in services and duplication in services" under federal fund projects.

The governor's executive order gave the State Planning and Community Affairs Agency 21 days in which to review the programs. State agencies must submit to the coordinator of federal programs a complete copy of the state plan or grand application.

The description of the grant application must include:
 —Significant changes or differences, if any, between the proposed plan and existing state plans and programs with the same functional area.
 —The manner in which the plan is to be implemented.
 —The number of state employees under the grant and the number of new employees requested.
 —And the amount of any future commitment of state funds.

The order is effective June 7, and Andrus set a deadline of June 28 for submission of the grants and summary reports.

Road toll set at 550

CHICAGO (UPI)—The National Safety Council estimated today some 470 to 550 persons may be killed in traffic accidents during the three-day Memorial Day weekend.

The council also said 22,000 to 26,000 persons may be injured.

"We deeply regret that over this upcoming holiday weekend, the council again offers the bad news that a great number of persons may be killed and injured in traffic mishaps," said John D. Lawlor, NSC executive vice president.

He said the traffic death estimate is a grim reminder that we are not doing enough in traffic safety.

Lawlor recommended all motorists use both lap belts and shoulder harnesses, allow plenty of time to get to and from their holiday destination and if drinking, wait at least one hour per drink before getting behind the wheel.

Plant condemned

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Power plant pollution hearings started Wednesday morning with a sophisticated defense from a power company executive and ended late in the afternoon with an ad lib condemnation from a Shoshone Indian chief.

From the time M. C. Titus, vice president of the Arizona Public Service Co., took the stand shortly after 10 a.m. until Chief Rolling Thunder of the Nevada Shoshones stepped off at 5:30 p.m., about 40 people — pro and con — presented arguments before Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah.

Moss hosted the hearings, the third in a series of five being held by the Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Committee to examine environmental effects of a chain of existing and proposed power plants in the Four Corners of Utah, New Mexico, Arizona and Colorado, and southern Nevada.

Construction of the Kaiparowits plant, largest coal-fueled generator in the world, was defended by Titus on the grounds of increasing power demands and economic necessity for the region.

He also noted the advantage of having vast coal reserves close at hand, which could be mined by tunnel and shaft methods, as opposed to strip mining.

Chief witness on the opposing side was Jack McLellan, conservation chairman of the Uinta chapter of the Sierra Club, who marshaled a battery of experts and concerned citizens to back up his condemnation of the plants and his demand for a moratorium on further construction.

A series of expert witnesses described in detail the operation and pollution controls planned. Equipment is being studied for removal of the chief pollutants of coal-burning — fly ash, sulfur oxides and nitrogen oxides — in order to meet governmental air quality standards.

A group of equally expert witnesses followed in the afternoon and argued that whatever was done at Kaiparowits alone, the combined effects of six plants in the Southwest would be disastrous for the many national parks and scenic and recreation areas found there.

McLellan and other witnesses challenged the power company claims as to the amount of new power resources actually needed.

"A moratorium on building of power plants and associated projects in the Southwest must be declared until the true need for power can be established," McLellan said.

He also added, "A national energy policy must be developed. Continued doubling of our energy needs every 10 years cannot continue in a closed system with finite and non-renewable energy resources."

Aside from the teams of witnesses held by the power company and environmentalist organizations, a number of people appeared to state their feelings.

Commissioners from Kane, San Juan and Washington Counties, the southern border counties of Utah, showed up to ask that the project go ahead. They pointed to the low incomes and high unemployment in the area as reasons for building.

A spokesman for Alvin M. Josephy Jr., vice president of the American Heritage Publishing Co., read a statement condemning the project as "another unsavory scandal in federal-Indian relations."

The question of destruction of ancestral lands of the Navajo and Hopi tribes has also been brought in by opponents.

Fourth in the series of hearings is being held today in Durango, Colo.

Appointment attacked

WASHINGTON (UPI) — About a dozen liberal senators are applying pressure on President Nixon to abandon any idea of naming Albert W. Watson, a prominent South Carolina Republican, to a seat on the nation's highest military court.

Their effort may have succeeded. The White House

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (UPI) — Authorities said Wednesday five more eagles have been discovered dead in Wyoming, three of them the victims of hunters who defied federal law in bringing down the protected birds.

Jim Grandpre of Cheyenne and Dave Foley of Carpenter, two teen-aged falconers, found the carcasses of three golden eagles near Carpenter and turned them over to officials.

"Two of them were evidently shot, and one was shot with a shotgun," said Randy Shaw of the Wyoming zoological society. "Two of them were stripped of limbs and feathers and the other had shotgun pellets in the skull."

Two other eagles found elsewhere in the state will be sent to federal laboratories in Maryland to determine if they fell victim to the poison Thallium, which has been blamed for the deaths of many of the 48 eagles discovered since May 1.

Bill Hopworth, head of the Wyoming game and fish laboratories, said tests on the remains of two eagles found in the Rock Springs area last week revealed the presence of Thallium.

Federal and state authorities now are investigating to learn where the Thallium came from.

Grandpre indicated that even more eagles may have been gunned to death, but said the other carcasses had disappeared.

"Foley goes out practically every day looking for hawk nests and observes eagles nests," Grandpre said.

Blacks demand prosecution

DREW, Miss. (UPI) — Black leaders called today for "vigorous prosecution" of three white men charged with the apparent random slaying of a young Negro girl who had just graduated with honors from an integrated high school.

The killing of Jo Etha Collier, 18, in front of a small grocery Tuesday night set off black demonstrations that brought state troopers into the town of 2,600 on the Mississippi Delta.

Officers at nearby Cleveland apprehended three suspects early Wednesday morning and murder charges were filed against Wayne Parks, 23, of Drew; his brother, Wesley Parks, 26, of Memphis, Tenn.; and their nephew, Allen Wilkenson, 19, of Memphis.

The swift police work brought apparent praise from black attorney Cleve McDowell but he said there now must be "vigorous prosecution." A sheriff's deputy said no reason had been established for the killing that set off vandalism and protest marches in Drew and nearby Huleville, the "hometown of the girl. Mayor W. O. Williford of Drew imposed an 8 p.m. until daylight curfew and called in highway patrolmen to help enforce it.

Miss Collier, one of eight children of Mrs. Gussie Mae Love, attended integrated Drew High School where she was "well-liked" by fellow students. Last week she received an award for "school spirit and attitude" at an awards day program.

The shooting occurred Tuesday night following graduation ceremonies.

SWENSEN'S MAGIC MARKETS LOVE RECIDIVISTS

Recidivists are people who just keep going back to the same old thing time after, time after, time. The person who stopped smoking 5 times last year and started up again; 5 times is a true recidivist. So also is the ardent young fellow who continually goes out with the same girl (very common type recidivist). There are all kinds of recidivists, but undoubtedly the BEST, MOST HAPPY RECIDIVIST IN THE WORLD IS THE PERSON WHO KEEPS COMING BACK TO SWENSEN'S MAGIC MARKETS TIME AFTER TIME. It makes Swensen's Magic Markets happy and Swensens know it makes them happy too. Probably one of the most unpleasant aspects of recidivism is that other grocery stores have recidivists too... people that never give Swensen's Magic Markets a try. CBS head called

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional investigators, in a new attack on a television documentary critical of military public relations policies, have ordered CBS President Frank Stanton to make a personal appearance at a house subcommittee hearing.

The special commerce subcommittee voted Wednesday to issue a subpoena instructing Stanton to appear June 9 and demanding CBS submit unused film related to its documentary, "The Selling of the Pentagon."

Critics, who included Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, have accused CBS of using deceptive editing practices in making the documentary.

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. Harley O. Staggers, D-W.Va., earlier issued a subpoena demanding CBS make available materials used in the documentary. The network furnished the subcommittee with a film copy of the documentary but refused to make available "outtakes," film taken for the production but not actually televised. CBS argued the outtakes were the equivalent of a reporter's notes.

Stanton said Wednesday CBS would continue to refuse to furnish the outtakes.

Guidelines asked

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said today he plans legislation to require the President to set yearly wage and price guidelines since, "if Congress does not move in on the problem, no one will."

Proxmire, long an advocate of such guidelines for labor and industry as an inflation-fighting tool, said he would introduce the legislation whether the Senate returns from its Memorial Day recess Tuesday.

He said the bill would also require the president to make an in-depth study of the economy and possible long-term measures to steady it and to report his findings to Congress no later than Jun. 20.

Employees ready meet

TWIN FALLS — The Idaho State Employees Association will hold its state convention June 3-5 at the Holiday Inn here, according to Ivan Mink, Jerome, president of the Magic Valley chapter whose members will act as hosts.

Decisions also are expected on additional insurance benefits, travel expense and retirement benefits for all state employees.

Valley readies summer session

EDEN — The Valley School District summer program will begin at 9 a.m. Monday at the Eden Elementary School, Dr. Tom Utterback, superintendent, said today.

The program will run until July 9 and will include a kindergarten and remedial work in the intermediate grades, Dr. Utterback said.

Air pollution index 119

The pollution reading was taken by the staff of the South Central Health District at the Twin Falls City Hall. The reading is expressed as the number of micrograms of particulate material per cubic meter of air for the 24-hour period ending at 9 a.m. today.

Federal pollution regulations say pollution levels should be kept below 75 micrograms over any 24-hour period, and should not be permitted to rise above 1260 micrograms for even a short period of time.

Today:	Excellent
Tonight:	Good
Tomorrow:	Excellent

This forecast provided by the Idaho Department of Health indicates the ability of the atmosphere to disperse pollution. Burning as permitted by law should be curtailed when the air is poorly able to disperse air pollutants.

Mental meets slated

SHOSHONE — Mental health needs of Magic Valley will be decided by citizens of each of the eight area counties at a series of community meetings to be held before June 22 by members of the Regional Mental Health Executive Committee.

The regional group decided at a meeting in Shoshone Tuesday night that more information about existing needs and priorities for mental health services in the valley is necessary before they can write a grant to secure federal funding for the proposed regional mental health center.

Rev. Michael Fitzgibbons, Shoshone chairman of the regional group, said a broad base representation of local citizens will be asked to attend the community meetings. Doctors, lawyers, judges, teachers, counselors, welfare workers, minority groups, public health nurses, hospital administrators, housewives, youths and low income persons will be among those invited.

After the meetings are held in the individual communities throughout the valley, the executive board will compile the information of needs in each area and present the report at a meeting in Shoshone set for June 22.

Rev. Fitzgibbons said information is being obtained from the Census Bureau on population characteristics in Magic Valley.

Barn burns at Jerome

JEROME — A barn at the Dee Thompson farm five miles north and two and one-fourth miles west of Jerome was destroyed by fire Wednesday night.

Charles Hosman, assistant fire chief for the Jerome Rural Fire Department, which was called by a neighbor about 8 p.m., said faulty electrical wiring was believed to be the cause of the blaze.

The Thompsons were not home at the time. The fire was out of control when firemen arrived, Hosman said, and no other buildings were in danger.

'Critical'

TWIN FALLS — Clarence E. Dressler, 37, Salmon, remained in critical condition today at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital where he is being treated for multiple head and body injuries.

Officers said the man was found lying in an alley in the 100 block of Main Avenue North Tuesday night. He had been residing in a rooming house nearby. Investigation is continuing, Twin Falls Police said.

Buhl firm bids lowest

BOISE — Winn and Co., Buhl, was the apparent low bidder for seal coating 45 miles of highway in Custer and Lemhi counties, the Idaho Highway Department said today.

The firm's bid of $86,231.80 won the job of placing a new sealcoat on 42.8 miles of U. S. Highway 93 between East Fork and Red Cliff and on 3.8 miles of State Highway 21 near Stanley.

Meeting change blamed

BOISE (UPI) — A Greater Boise Chamber of Commerce official has blamed Ada County Commissioners for the loss of the 1971 Western Regional Annual Convention of the National Association of Counties.

Roger B. McGinnis, executive vice president of the chamber, received notification of the organization's executive committee at a special meeting decided to move the convention from Boise to Sacramento, Calif.

McGinnis said the change stemmed from the refusal of Ada County commissioners to join the Idaho Association of Commissioners and Clerks, which would have automatically meant membership in the national organizations.

Realtors protest VA direct loans

BURLEY — A letter of protest will be sent to the Veterans Administration's office in Washington, D. C. by the Idaho Association of Realtors after its round of spring clinics is finished.

Truman Bradley, Twin Falls, a member of the Idaho Real Estate Commission, said that this letter of protest was written to see if the VA will discontinue its policy of processing direct loans.

The letter, which is being signed by the realtors attending the IAR's spring clinics, states: "The undersigned real estate salesman or brokers in the state of Idaho, do hereby respectfully request the Veterans Administration to discontinue its present policy on processing of direct loans and instead return to the previous administrative policy on the processing of direct loans.

"The requests are made for a number of reasons:

"A. Those applications pending at the time of the administrative change are being unreasonably withheld and are as such obstructing the normal loan closing on transactions in process at the time of administrative policy change.

"B. That the present policy unduly delays the processing of loans.

"C. That the circulation of the applicants docket to financial institutions interferes with the applicants contractual privity with the VA.

"D. That the policy places an undue hardship on qualified veterans.

"E. That the undue delay caused by the administrative change in the orderly processing of loans jeopardizes veterans in obtaining loans at the current market rate due to the delay. The costs of the loan may change.

"We respectfully request a return to the previous direct loan procedure and that such administrative orders as are necessary to implement the previous procedure be immediately promulgated."

This letter will also be sent to members of Idaho's delegation to Congress to make them aware of the situation, he said, and to see if they can help correct the situation.

The class sang "We've Only Just Begun" led by Wood. A clarinet quartet composed of Julie Dammarell, Denise Olsen, Becky Johnson, and Nan Dalton, played "Autumn Skies."

Bryan gave an original poem entitled "Junior High Year."

Student speakers were Poly Cargill, Kent Holsinger, Jim Halght, Nan Dalton, John Ham, Paul Jackson, and Chris Gabottas.

Prayers were given by Jan Gruwell and Kim Davis. Mrs. Clea Holyoak is the class adviser.

Committee members for the event were Gary Barlow, Shirlene Beck, Darlene Egan, Vicki Kerbs, Dianna Pike, and Becky Rucker, invitations; Craig Aclis, Barry Burbank, Dwight Davis, Jay Giorfield, Fred Gorringer and Guy Redder, ushers; David Anderson, Paul Brown, Thelma Edgar, Brenda Searle, Kathy Green, Betsy Moorman, Sherrie McBride and Deleene Waddoups, prelude music.

tricks in, but Z was now ready to operate on them. He ruffed a diamond with the five of trumps, led the jack and let it ride after East ducked. Dummy's 10 of trumps held the next trick but Z got to his hand by ruffing a heart, cashed ace and king of trumps to pull East's last tooth.

"After that it was a simple matter to finesse against West's queen of clubs for the last two tricks.

"Wonderful," remarked A, "who had been watching. You wouldn't have made it against me."

"No," replied Z. "You would have led a second club early in the play. I could take the finesse but would be unable to cash the ace of clubs without East ruffing and spilling my diamond discard."

You bid two spades. West and North pass. East bids three hearts. What do you do now?

By Oswald & James Jacoby

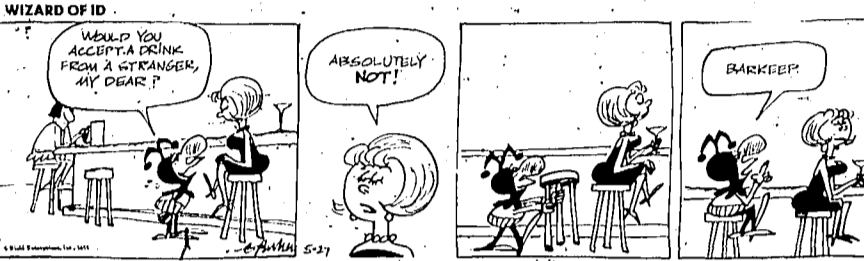

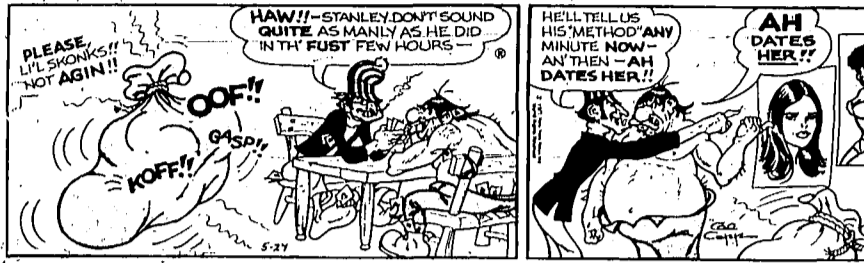

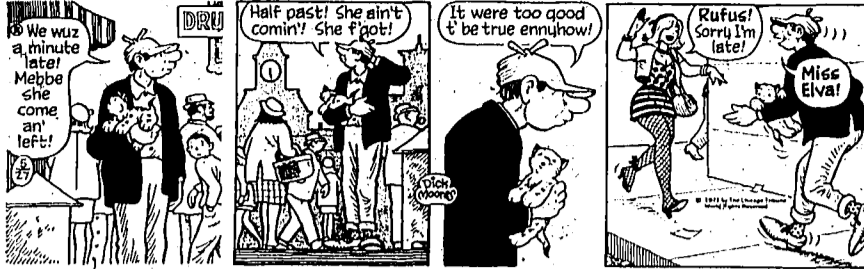

Our old friend Z played in the continent-wide charity game. He didn't do too well and blames the result on the computer, but he did confound the panel with today's hand. They analyzed that most South players would find in a spade partial and make two or three.

Z went to four spades after his old partner Y raised him to two and proceeded to make his contract.

East won the first trick with the king of clubs and shifted to the five of diamonds. Z played low and West was in with the nine. He returned the deuce. Z won with the ace and played his king of hearts. East took that and led the suit back.

LOOKING FOR a particularly bright physician? If so, pick a lady doctor. The medical schools frown on female students, so only admit most exceptional girls. Even among medics, you find a dumb man now and then. But never do you find a dumb woman. Such is the contention of a retired doctor who says he doesn't much care anymore what the American Medical Association thinks of his heretic observations.

OPEN QUESTION: Whatever happened to Adolf Hitler's sister Paula?

COUPLE of years ago the surveytakers asked a sizable sampling of citizens for opinion on the courts. Answers revealed more people would rather get a decision by a flip of a coin than by officers in a military court martial.... EARLIER THE AGE at which a schoolboy learns to play the trombone, the more apt he is to stick to the higher and nearer notes formed by the lip. No mystery why. If little, a boy's arm is too short to extend the slide far. He can't horse around much with the lower tones, therefore. The great Jack Teagarden, now gone seven years, explained this. He was known for his lip work. Which is not to say he never bent his elbow, certainly not.

Does the light make the heat or the heat make the light?" A. Heat comes first. It makes the light.

Fishing season opens Saturday

Saturday morning Idaho's general fishing season opens and thousands will be heading for their favorite "fishing spots."

Some fishermen will be disappointed because of inaccessible roads and high water. However, in most areas of Magic Valley fishing is expected to be good.

Robert Ball, Jerome, Idaho Fish and Game Department official, said several streams and reservoirs have been stocked or will be by Saturday morning.

The current status of the various streams and reservoirs in Magic Valley are:

- Rock Creek—Should be good if cool weather continues; will be stocked.
- Salmon Falls Creek Reservoir—Good angling at present time; open year round to angling.
- Roseworth Reservoir—Fairly clear, but high; boat ramps under water; fishing should be good, but access is tough.

Sublett Reservoir—Water high but clear; limited parking and boat access; brown trout fingerlings stocked this spring for first time.

Box Canyon—Large spring, clear water; fishing should be good; problem will be access; best access is by boat by Snake River.

Riley Creek—Good angling; five trout limit; special hours of 7 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Oster lakes—Good fishing. Billingsley Creek—Should be good fishing.

Malad River—May be high. Thorn Creek Reservoir—Open year round; very good angling at present time; road graded but rough; pickups recommended. Green wooley worms highly effective.

Mormon Reservoir—Open year round; angling only fair. Magic Reservoir—Should be good on opening day. May be somewhat murky, but has been clearing the past few days.

Silver Creek—Fly fishing only. Sullivan Lake is now included in the fly fishing only area.

Loving Creek, Stocker Creek and Gove Creek—All tributaries of Silver Creek, should be good.

Flah Creek Reservoir—Should be good on opening day.

Little Wood Reservoir—Should be good if not too murky.

Big Lost River—Will be stocked and should be good.

Mackay Reservoir—Clearing up and should be good.

Big Wood River—May be high and boiling. This will depend on weather in next two days.

Richfield Canal—Canal has been stocked; should be good angling.

Stanley Lake—Road open; stocked.

Pefitt Lake—Road open; stocked.

Sawtooth mountain lakes—Little access before July and August. Too early to reach any now as most of them are still frozen over.

Redfish Lake—Stocked.

Valley Creek—High but clear; lower end has been stocked.

Alturas Lake—Inaccessible.

Trail Creek—Summit still closed.

Dog Creek Reservoir—Clear; should be good.

Shoshone Creek—Flooding condition.

Burley area—Poor access into higher elevations.

Bostetter—No access; if stays dry will be okay for pickups.

Jarbridge River—High and murky.

Camas Creek—High and murky.

Soldier Creek—High and murky.

Willow Creek—Good and clear; road good into creek.

Peatherville dredge ponds—Stocks.

Stanley Basin area—Stream fairly high but many are clear.

Yankee Fork—Will be stocked.

Copper Basin area—Streams high but clear; fishing should be good. Access only as far as Copper Basin guard station.

Two rules changed by NFL

NEW YORK (UPI)—The National Football League instituted two playing rules changes Wednesday designed to provide more scoring punch and cut down the penalty yardage of the offensive team.

On missed field goal attempts, the defensive team now can run the ball out of the end zone for as much yardage as it can get on the play, instead of playing being an automatic touchback which would put the ball in play on the 20-yard-line.

However, if the defending team fumbles the field goal attempt behind the goal line and the ball is recovered by the other team, it would be ruled a touchdown.

The ball would be dead on a missed goal attempt that touches the goal post in any way.

The second rule change cuts down the penalty yardage for an offensive team found guilty of committing a foul behind the line of scrimmage. These penalties include holding, illegal use of hands, and clipping. The

Hill pays fine to defend golf title

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Respectable Dave Hill paid a $500 fine under protest to the Professional Golfers' Association (PGA) Wednesday so that he might defend his title in the 14th annual Danny Thomas Memphis Classic golf tournament.

The PGA imposed the fine for "conduct unbecoming a professional golfer" in connection with the actions which led to Hill's disqualification after the second round of the Colonial Invitational at Fort Worth, Tex., last week.

He and his attorneys met throughout the morning with Gordon Glenz of the PGA, and broke up the session just before noon without telling Glenz his intentions. However, he told newsmen that he would pay in order to play.

He approached the tee for the pro-am, then strode across the grass to a PGA officials' booth set up nearby and handed a white envelope to Glenz without comment.

"In the envelope was Hill's personal check for $500 and a letter protesting the action and outlining his intentions to appeal."

"I play golf as a profession and do not believe that I have been in any violation of the rules of golf which would justify any action other than disqualification from the tournament at Fort Worth," Hill wrote.

Hill, tight-lipped, Hill turned, pocketed a batch of wooden tees and sent the ball screaming along the No. 1 fairway at Colonial Country Club.

Later his agents, attorney John P. Colton Jr. and Ed Varner joined Ron Coffman of the PGA for a conference before newsmen.

Hill's representatives said the golfer was protesting primarily the fact that he had not been adequately informed of the reasons for the fine and the amount of the fine.

Coffman explained that the $500 was imposed because Hill "is not a first offender."

Talking with newsmen before he teed off, Hill said, "They fined me verbally, but I have to answer them in writing for an appeal. How do you like them apples?"

Hill, who has won three of the

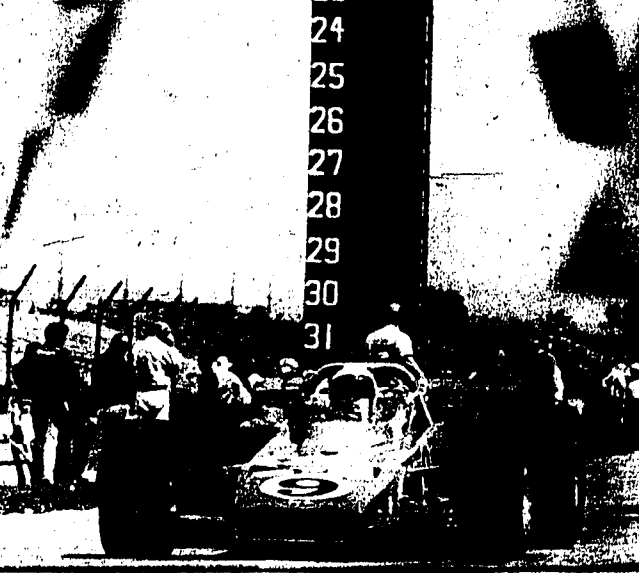

Ashe has win over Russians

PARIS (UPI)—Arthur Ashe survived a shaky start against an unknown Russian on a quiet day of few surprises among the men's top seeds in the French Open tennis championships Wednesday.

The second seeded American from Gum Spring, Va., found himself one set and two games down to the Soviet Union's sixth seed Vyacheslav Egorov before recovering to win 3-6, 6-4, 6-0, 7-5 in a second round singles match.

Seventh-seeded Marty Riesen, Evanston, Ill., began even more disastrously before rebounding to beat 19-year-old Australian pro John Alexander 6-5, 6-4, 5-7, 6-4, 6-3.

The top seeds had little trouble securing their third round berths with No. One Jan Kodes of Czechoslovakia easily defeating Poland's Wieslaw Gastorek 6-1, 6-1, 6-3 in a rain-interrupted match, and Stan Smith, Pasadena, Calif., rated sixth here, beating Jose Guerrerro of Spain 6-4 6-1 6-1.

THREE TIME '500' winner A.J. Foyt, Houston, is framed by checkered flags as he pulls out of the pits for the final round of practice Wednesday for the 1971 500-mile race. Foyt is seeking an unprecedented fourth win in a Coyote racer of his own design, powered by a turbo-charged Ford engine. (UPI)

Indy 500 cars take final tests; track then closed

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—Most of the 33 cars scheduled to roar away Saturday in the million-dollar Indy 500-mile race were given their final track tests Wednesday in sunny but windy and unseasonably cool weather.

Seven starters elected not to take the qualified autos onto the track for carburetion tests. But the other 26 kept the traffic heavy during a three-hour period set aside for practice.

Then the track was closed for further activity until Speedway owner Tony Hulman says "Gentlemen, start your engines," at 11 a.m. EST Saturday, a moment before the field gets away for the long trip.

Among starters who stayed off the track were Roger McCluskey of Tucson, Ariz., George Snider of Bakersfield, Calif., and Bob Harkey of Indianapolis.

Chevy has pole at Charlotte

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (UPI)—Charlie Glotzbach captured the pole position Wednesday for Sunday's World 600 stock car race in a Chevrolet—the most impressive showing by a Chevy in eight years.

Glotzbach was clocked at 157.788 miles per hour in qualifying for the No. 1 starting position in the $200,000 race. His Chevy Monte Carlo was prepared by Junior Johnson, the former driving ace who gave Chevrolet its last big stock car win back in 1963.

With General Motors out of racing ever since then, Chevrolets rarely appeared on major tracks. This year only Plymouth is providing factory support, and that on a limited basis.

USC No. 1 in college baseball

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI)—Southern California, Pacific 8 champion, is No. 1 in the college baseball ratings released Wednesday by the Collegiate Baseball newspaper but three other teams are close behind.

The Trojans are only one point ahead of Pan American of Texas, three ahead of third-place Michigan State and eight in front of fourth-ranked Arizona State.

Roundup on the top 10 were Santa Clara, Ohio University, Southern Illinois, Mississippi State, Miami of Florida and Iowa State.

In the second 10 were Georgia Tech, Tulsa, Penn State, Massachusetts, Harvard, Florida State, Texas, Maryland, Brigham Young and Miami of Ohio.

The college division was topped by Central Michigan with Florida Southern, second and Springfield, Mass., third. Next in order were Southern University, Valley State, Grand Canyon College, New Haven, Upsilon, Southern Illinois-Edwardsville and St. Leo.

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Tom Lee, a 6-foot, 8-inch forward who averaged 13.7 points per game for Arizona University last season, signed Wednesday with the Philadelphia 76ers of the National Basketball Association.

The 76ers also announced the signing of Marlon Salmieri of Baptist College in Charleston, S.C., who was a free agent.

Indiana favored to win Big 10 track, field event

IOWA CITY, Iowa (UPI)—Indiana, with depth in the sprint events, will be the favorite as the 71st Big Ten outdoor track and field championships begins here Friday.

The Hoosiers, who won last year's outdoor meet by a 25-point margin over Wisconsin, finished a disappointing third in this year's indoor meet. But Indiana's performances this spring have been the best among conference schools.

The Hoosiers will rely on their trio of sprintmen during the two-day meet. Mike Miller, Larry Highbaugh and Mike Goodrich all have times of under 9.4 in the 100-yard dash and under 21.0 in the 220-yard dash this season. In addition, they are the nucleus of Indiana's outstanding 440-yard relay team.

Three other teams, Illinois, Michigan State and Wisconsin, have a chance to upend the Hoosiers who are making a bid for their sixth outdoor title.

Lee Labadie, an Illinois miler, ran a 3:58.8 at the Kansas relays and will be favored along with teammate Rick Gross in the one-mile run. Gross is also a strong contender in the three-mile event, but Minnesota's Garry Bjorklund will be on hand to defend his title. Labadie is also expected to challenge Wisconsin's Mark Wizenred in the 880-yard dash.

Costello, Bucks sign 3-year pact

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—The Milwaukee Bucks Wednesday signed Larry Costello to a new three-year contract to coach the National Basketball Association champions at a salary that makes him "one of the highest paid coaches in basketball."

The signing was announced at a multi-faceted news conference which also saw the Bucks lose their only assistant coach, increase ticket prices for next year, say that some games against ABA teams were planned for the next exhibition season and sound a warning that the club could move if better facilities were not available in two to three years.

Costello, who will be 40 in July, was in the final year of a contract he signed three years ago when the Bucks were established as an expansion franchise.

His first team finished at 27-55 and, with Lew Alcindor added in the second year, the Bucks posted a 56-26 record. The past season, with Oscar Robertson joining Alcindor, the team finished 66-16 and won the NBA title.

"He signed at one of the highest salaries in the league," Club President Ray Patterson said. "That's how much we think of him. He's well organized, dedicated and he's very important to the success of this team."

Patterson said the club did not intend to replace assistant coach Tom Nissalke, who was named Wednesday as head coach of the Texas Chaparrals of the ABA.

The Sun Devils landed five of the ten berths on the team, led by unanimous selections Roger Schmuchel at first base and Alan Bannister at shortstop.

Other Arizona State players selected were pitcher Craig Swan, second baseman Ken Reed and outfielder Gary Atwell.

The Sun Devils won the Southern Division with a 15-3 record.

Patron certificates for rodeo now on sale

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls Jaycees, as representatives of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, are selling patron certificates for the National High School Rodeo souvenir program.

The Jaycees hope to raise $15,000 for the national high school rodeo, scheduled August 3-4 at Filer, by sale of gold, silver and bronze certificates.

The rodeo board has chosen the patron plans of advertisement sales, rather than display advertisements in the program. They believe that not having large ads will enhance the value of the publication as a souvenir item. Those who purchase the $15, $50 and $75 certificates will have only their name printed in the program.

The Jaycees are now selling certificates to business and professional people and also are soliciting patron memberships from private individuals who wish to financially support the National High School Rodeo.

Several Jaycees, including Bud Phillips, president, and Pat Florence and Dr. Dale Miles, co-chairman of the patron sales committee, attended a meeting held in honor of the Jaycees Tuesday.

Members of the rodeo committee commended the outstanding effort of the Jaycees to assist Idaho's National High School Rodeo effort and it was reported that Dave Campbell, National High School Rodeo president, New Meadows, said the boost from the Jaycees was "typical" of their response for shows throughout the nation.

Dr. Miles and Jaycee chapters in Magic Valley also will assist in the advertising sales effort and will be selling certificates in their own areas.

Anyone who has not been contacted by a Jaycee who wishes to purchase a patron certificate can call Bud Phillips at 733-0831 during the day, or at 734-3168 at night.

The $15,000 which the Jaycees hope to raise will be a major part of the financing of the $80,000 show. Advertising, ticket sales, stall rentals and concessions will finance the 11-performance rodeo.

Director decision pending

TWIN FALLS — A decision is pending on who will be the new tri-county Head Start director.

The director will succeed Mrs. Ann Kaster who has been the tri-county Head Start director for the past two years.

Dennis Pratt, executive director, South Central Community Action Agency, said today. Mrs. Kaster had resigned effective May 14, but is assisting in the program until a successor is named.

He said that the CAA and the Tri-County Parents Council — Cassia, Jerome and Twin Falls counties — are now reviewing applications of the applicants who survived the first screening.

"I hope a decision on a successor to Mrs. Kaster can be made shortly," he said.

"We regretted losing Ann. But, her wishes to return to being a housewife must be honored," Pratt said.

He also stated that once a new Head Start director has been appointed applications for an educational coordinator will be accepted.

5 workmen given Gem state award

CHALLIS — Five employees of the American Smelting and Refining Co., who discovered and put out a forest fire in the White Cloud Mountain area last summer while on a helicopter mineral exploration flight, have been presented the Governor's Keep Idaho Green award.

The five are Johnny Smith, Challis; William Salsbury, and Greg Prescott, both Spokane, Wash.; Bill Reek, Salmon, and Dan Danielson, Ketchum.

In the citation, the men were commended for controlling a man-caused fire last Aug. 8. The award list stated the five discovered the fire apparently started by campers near the lower end of Nasty Lake in the White Cloud Mountains. The fire had apparently smoldered for some days in an area not visible to look-out stations.

Payment due

MINNEAPOLIS — The board of directors of Green Giant Co. has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 24 cents per share on the company's common stock, payable June 15 to shareholders of record June 1. There are 2,921,006 shares of common stock outstanding.

Directors also declared the regular quarterly dividend of $1.25 per share on the company's preferred stock, payable June 15 to shareholders of record June 1. There are 24,299 shares of preferred stock outstanding.

Pay hike plan scored

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Nixon administration contended today that a Democratic-sponsored plan to raise the minimum wage to $2 per hour this year would risk higher unemployment and continued inflation.

Labor Secretary James D. Hodgson urged a Senate Labor subcommittee to approve the administration's alternative, a boost to $1.80 this year and $2 in 1974.

"If we increase the statutory minimum wage too rapidly or extend coverage too broadly, we can create unemployment among ... low wage earners, thereby defeating our objective," Hodgson said.

"Raising the minimum wage by 40 cents an hour, from $1.60 to $2 (at once) and by an additional 25 cents an hour, to $2.25 a year later would add inflationary pressures just at the time significant headway is being made on the price front," he said.

"I believe the economy should be given at least two years to adjust to and absorb the increase in the minimum wage, from $1.60 to $1.80 an hour, before it is raised to $2 an hour as we have proposed," Hodgson said.

The Democratic alternative was introduced by Sen. Harrison A. Williams, D-N.J., chairman of the full Senate Labor Committee, who said at the opening of the subcommittee hearings that the proposal was "both economically sound and a necessary stimulus to our still sluggish economy."

"The current minimum wage of $1.60 per hour yields to a full-time working family head approximately $3,200 per year," Williams said, "almost $800 below the poverty level. In many instances, the family head would do better financially by leaving work and joining the welfare rolls."

In pushing for their plan, Democrats have cited a 25 percent increase in the cost of living during the five years the minimum wage has been at the $1.60 level.

She's still citizen

TWIN FALLS — Mrs. Ruth B. Day of Twin Falls is still a private citizen in the eyes of the school board, even though she was elected to a three-year term in the April trustee election.

Mrs. Day attended a special meeting of the Twin Falls School District board of trustees Tuesday night in the school administration offices.

When the board went into executive session — the trustees' euphemism for a secret hearing — to discuss personnel matters, Mrs. Day was asked to leave along with newsmen. Her term of office, it was pointed out, does not start until the June board meeting, when she will take the oath of office.

Replanting contract awarded

CHALLIS — Reforestation of the Little West Fork area of Morgan Creek in the Challis National Forest is in progress under a contract awarded to Worldwide Reforesters, Tacoma, Wash.

Forest officials said the timber was sold in 1968 to the Central Idaho Lumber Co., Clayton, and cutting was completed last year.

The 158 acre will be replanted during the next two years, with 44,000 trees to be planted this year on about half of the sale area.

Licenses to expire

TWIN FALLS — Jack Farley, director of the Motor Vehicle Division of the Idaho Department of Law Enforcement, has asked Twin Falls law enforcement officers to encourage area residents to purchase new license plate stickers this week for plates ending in five.

The plates expire May 31, but assessors' offices throughout the state will be closed on that day because it has been declared a state holiday by Gov. Cecil D. Andrus.
