Nixon backs Salmon plan

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Nixon Administration Tuesday backed construction of a $51.7 million irrigation project in Idaho, with $34.2 million of the cost to come from power revenues of federal dams on the Columbia River.

Administration support was expressed by Reclamation Commissioner Ellis Armstrong, who said the proposed project near Twin Falls, Idaho, had been cleared by White House budget officials.

Armstrong testified before the Senate water and power resources subcommittee in support of a bill to authorize the Salmon Falls division of the Upper Snake River Project to provide water for irrigation of about 64,000 acres of land.

About 49,000 acres of the land already is irrigated, but Armstrong said this was from "an uncertain and dwindling" water supply that would be bolstered by diversion of 181,600 acre-feet of water from the Snake River.

In addition, Armstrong said, the project contemplates tapping underground water in the Snake River plain to meet shortages in dry years.

Dr. Robert R. Lee, director of the Idaho Water Resources Board, told the committee the Snake River plain is underlain by "one of the largest sources of underground water in the western United States."

Nearly 20 Idaho witnesses appeared in support of the project, which Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said offered "the only hope of developing a full water supply" in the area. Church and Sen. Len B. Jordan, R-Idaho, have joined in sponsoring the legislation.

Other Idaho witnesses included State Rep. William Lanting, a farmer and speaker of the Idaho House of Representatives, who also read a supporting statement by Idaho Gov. Cecil D. Andrus.

Supporters also included R.J. O'Connor, vice president of the Idaho Power Company, who said he believed the coast of the project could be reduced below the Bureau of Reclamation's estimates by more efficient use of irrigation water.

The project involves construction of a pumping plant above the existing Milner dam on the Snake River to lift water into a 47-mile-long canal serving two irrigation units on the south side of the river.

851 seek jobs at Tupperware

JEROME — Nearly two persons have applied for each job at the Jerome Tupperware plant, according to Idaho Employment Department officials.

There were 851 persons applying for jobs that will be available next year when the plastic factory begins production with about 450 employees.

The figures were released Wednesday by employment department statistician Larry Drexler.

Drexler said there were enough job applicants — along with others sure to come in as the plant nears production — to provide the worker needs of the Jerome operation.

The response to advertisements soliciting applications for employment was smaller than had been anticipated — far below the more than 5,000 responses made in the Kellwood Company's labor survey prior to building its Twin Falls hosiery plant.

Drexler said the number of respondents for Tupperware may have been lower because the responses were applications for employment rather than statements of interest by prospective employees.

Drexler said the number of applications was probably reduced because the survey was held during a springtime peak in employment.

"People are not as interested in finding work when people have work," Drexler said.

"I doubt this will discourage Tupperware," he said.

About half (436) of the applicants were from Jerome County. Another 270 were from Twin Falls County; 55 from Lincoln; 40 from Lincoln, Camas and Blaine counties; 19 from Cassia and Minidoka counties; 16 from elsewhere in the state and the remainder from out-of-state areas.

Blaine loan OK'd

KETCHUM — Consolidation of two privately owned water systems to a single Ketchum municipality system became possible Wednesday with the announcement of a $2.25 million loan. The loan has been approved by the Farmers Home Administration. The city made application for these funds several weeks ago upon the recommendation of Ellwood Theusen, Idaho office of FHA. The city has sought to purchase the Ketchum Spring water systems and the Big Wood Water Co. and the funds will now make this possible along with providing additional funds for expansion and other expenses incurred in the purchase.

The loan, jointly announced by Sen. Len B. Jordan and Rep. Orval Hansen, is the largest ever made in Idaho under the rural water facilities program.

The 20-year loan will require passage of a bond revenue issue with both water systems

Fighter antics preceded crash

DUARTE, Calif. (UPI)—One minute before a Marine jet fighter and a commercial airliner collided in flight killing 50 persons near here, the military craft executed a 360-degree roll, the sole survivor of the collision told investigators Wednesday.

Brad Dunbar, spokesman for the National Transportation Safety Board team investigating Sunday's collision, reported that Marine Lt. Christopher Schless, 24, radar officer of the craft who parachuted to safety, said the roll was performed at about 15,500 feet.

Dunbar said Schless' full statement would not be released. No other details were disclosed.

The collision occurred at about 12,000 feet in a much-traveled air corridor used by commercial flights out of Los Angeles International Airport. The Air West DC9 was being controlled by radar while the Phantom F4 fighter bomber was on a "see and be seen" or visual flight operation.

Maj. Michael Fibisch, public affairs officer at El Toro Marine Air Station where the crashed fighter was based, declined to remark on Schless' statement.

However, he did say that aerial acrobatics, such as a 360-degree roll, in commercial air corridors are "definitely not" permissible.

Boise news station KTVB said that Mountain Home officials would not comment on the jet stopover but a reliable source said the plane landed "to correct a malfunction in the plane's hydraulic system."

The jet, enroute from McChord AFB, Washington D.C., to El Toro AFB in California, stopped at Mountain Home about five hours before it collided with the commercial aircraft over Orange County, which resulted in 50 deaths.

War death rate down

SAIGON (UPI)—The U.S. command said today 19 Americans were killed in action in the Indochina War last week, the lowest battlefield toll in almost six years.

The combat deaths were equalled by the number of GIs who died from nonhostile causes, spokesmen said.

The 19 uniformed Americans killed in fighting last week was the smallest number since Oct. 23, 1969, when 14 U.S. soldiers died in action, spokesmen said.

Senate votes draftee limit

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate voted Wednesday to slash draft calls to less than half the number taken during the peak years of the Vietnam War.

By a lopsided 78-4 margin, members imposed a ceiling on new conscripts of 130,000 for the 12 months beginning July 1, and 140,000 the following year. The ceiling can be exceeded only by an act of Congress.

Between 1966 and 1968, draft calls were running between 300,000 to 340,000 a year. But they have been steadily falling off and, in the current fiscal year, are dwindling to under 172,000.

The limitation came on an amendment by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., to pending legislation that would extend the draft for two more years.

In one of the major surprises of the current session, Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., of the Armed Services Committee agreed not only to accept a no-loophole ceiling but rewrote Kennedy's amendment to make it stiffer than it originally was.

Kennedy said his amendment "virtually ties the hands of the President to escalate the war in Southeast Asia."

The House version of the bill contains no limitation and the issue will have to be resolved when delegates from the two chambers meet in conference to write the final draft bill.

The ceiling was far higher than draft opponents wanted. Another amendment by Sen. Robert Taft, R-Ohio, to reduce it to 160,000 draftees in the next two years was defeated 54 to 25.

Reds balk on POW promise

PARIS (UPI)—The Communist delegations to the Paris peace talks clung today to their promise only to "discuss" the release of U.S. prisoners if President Nixon sets an early deadline for U.S. troop withdrawal. In doing so they ignored widespread reports they were ready to be more flexible on the issue.

They also ignored a request by U.S. Ambassador David K. E. Bruce that they clarify "here today" recent hints they may be willing to compromise over some war and peace issues including that of war prisoners.

Some of the rumors were that the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong might release the POWs within 30 days after a troop withdrawal date was set. Both Hanoi negotiator Xuan Thuy and Viet Cong negotiator Mme. Nguyen Thi Binh ignored these reports and repeated previous statements.

Despite the earlier reported remarks of the Hanoi officials today's statements by the Communist negotiators showed no official sign of new flexibility in their long-standing demands in the deadlocked talks.

Cubans seize 2 U.S. vessels

MIAMI (UPI)—Havana radio reported today the Cuban government has seized two U.S. vessels and turned their five American crewmen over to the revolutionary tribunal for trial on charges of illegal entry into Cuba.

The radio report, monitored in Miami, added that a third U.S. vessel, a tugboat pulling a barge which put into Oriente Province two days ago with eight U.S. crewmen aboard, "was being investigated as 'very suspicious.'"

The broadcast directly linked the boat seizures with the case of four Cuban fishing boat skippers who were found guilty in federal court at Key West Wednesday for fishing illegally in U.S. territorial waters. The four were sentenced to pay fines of $10,000 each and serve six months in jail.

One of the Americans ordered held for trial is Fritz Sprandel, who set out from Key West in a canoe last month to paddle to Mexico. The Cuban broadcast said he landed at Cayo Megano, in the northern part of Las Villas Province, on May 22. It said his vessel was "well equipped with cameras and he claimed to be a sportman."

Wheat can go to Red China

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon, in an effort to rebuild contacts with China that were ruptured more than 20 years ago, today authorized U.S. businessmen to export to the Chinese mainland a long list of goods ranging from wheat to roadbuilding equipment.

The action ends a virtual embargo on trade with China, imposed shortly after the Communists took over the mainland in 1949.

Items that may be sold freely to China without specific approval include most farm, fish and forestry products; rubber and textiles; some metals; agricultural, industrial and office equipment; household appliances; some electrical appliances; automobiles; consumer goods; roadbuilding equipment; and some relatively unsophisticated computers.

In addition, the President said, items not on the freely exportable list may be shipped provided they are approved by the Commerce Department on a case-by-case basis.

The President, in putting wheat, flour, and other grains on the unrestricted list, also lifted controls on the exports of those products to the Soviet Union and eastern Europe.

AF 'restores' site

OAKLEY — Heavy equipment was being moved into the Oakley area today by the Air Force, enroute to the site of the jet crash on Middle Mountain which killed two airmen last November about nine miles south of Oakley.

The plane had been undiscovered until an area rancher, Ron Parish, found the wreckage while checking a fence line on Monday.

The equipment, including a large Caterpillar tractor, is to be used to "restore the area for the owner," according to an Air Force public information officer, First Lt. Bill Poythres, at the Mountain Home Air Force Base.

Poythres, however, declined to reveal further details of the planned operations at the crash site.

Many reports were received of a reported plane crash last November at the time of the Oakley crash, Poythres said. However, whether or not there was an eyewitness to the crash could not be confirmed.

Several Oakley area people had reported they heard a plane go over the area during a snowstorm on Nov. 12, the day of the crash. Ed Lee, a retired mechanic told the Times-News today he saw a military jet fly over his house at a low altitude.

"I didn't think it was going to make the hill," he said. But Lee didn't see or hear the crash, and did not report the sighting to any authorities. The plane could have been "in trouble," Lee said, but he couldn't be certain.

Mrs. James Burch of Oakley recalled after hearing of the crash that she heard a plane go over, apparently at a low altitude, but she didn't see it. She contacted the FAA office in Burley when citizens were asked if they had heard the jet in the vicinity.

Lt. Poythres said "we received numerous reports" of an apparent plane crash, but could not confirm if any were authentic. "Some reports came from as far away as Nevada," he added.

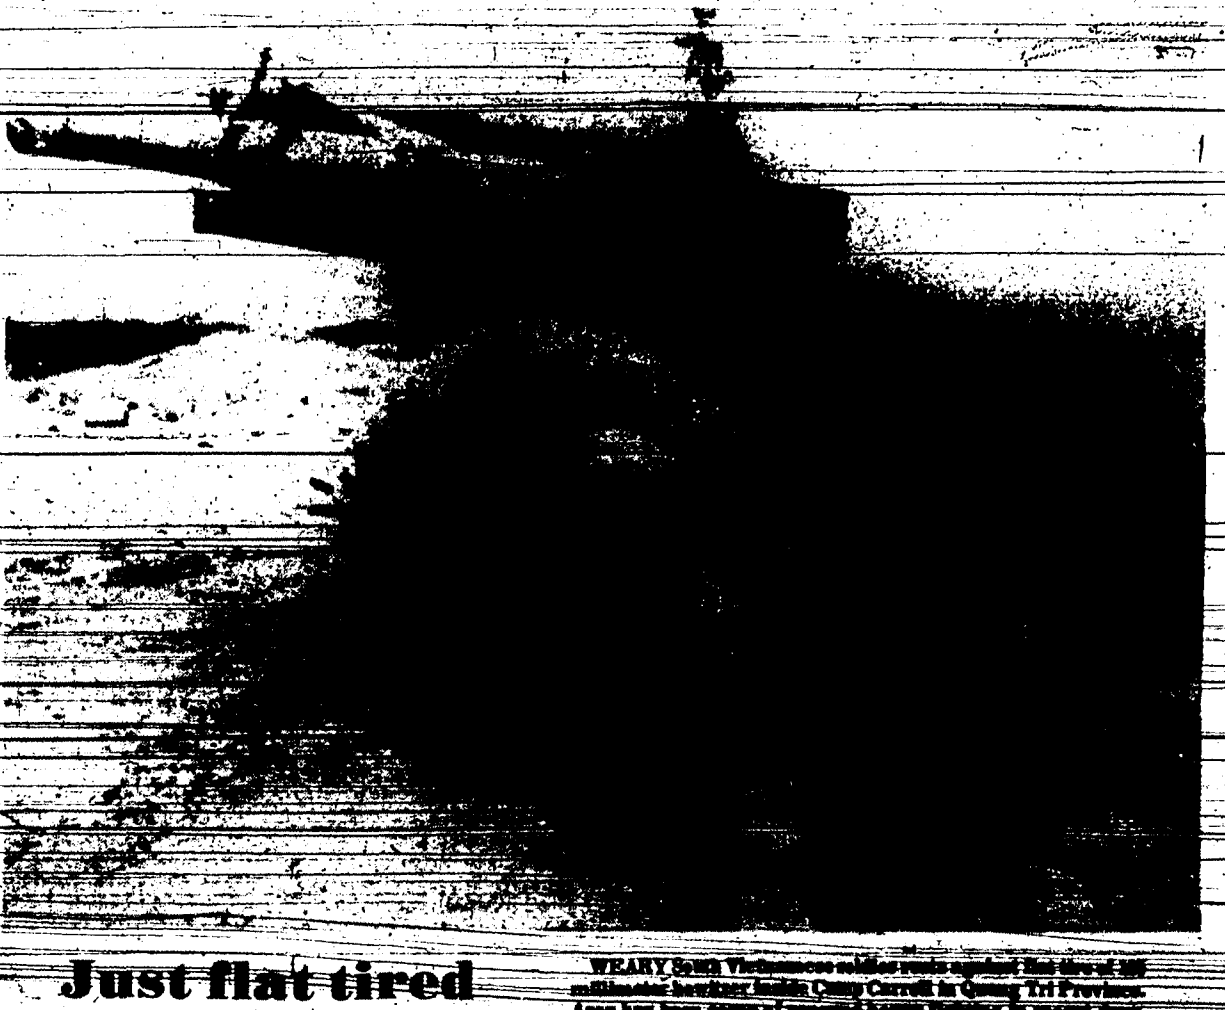

A search-and-rescue crew was sent out from Hamilton Air Force Base in California as soon as the "jet-in-trouble" reports were received. Every report was meticulously checked out and the area was searched, but no clue to the downed jet was recovered.

An alleged witness to the crash remained unidentified.

Col. George Faulkner, Rupert, commander of the Idaho Wing, Civil Air Patrol, said a "senior member" of the CAP — an adult instructor — received a report of the crash from a person he refused to identify. He also declined to name the CAP instructor in question.

"We are under the authority of the Air Force when we are on any official search-and-rescue mission, and any information would have to come from the air base," Faulkner said today. He said he himself had called Air Force personnel to inform them of the sightings, but declined to release further information.

Lt. Poythres said confirmation of details of any sightings would have to come from search-and-rescue officials at the California air base.

Inmate denied bail

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — After 14 years on death row, Edgar H. Smith Jr. was on the verge of packing his bags to leave prison on bond.

Smith, 37, was in a New York detention house at midday when he received word of the court ruling by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Philadelphia.

Smith was expected to be returned today to a Trenton, N.J., prison where he has spent most of his adult life on death row.

During that period, he educated himself and wrote the best-seller, "In Arguing Against Smith's Release on Bail, New Jersey State Attorney Edward N. Fitzpatrick said the prisoner's friendship with 'influential people' should have no bearing on the case.

Education environment meet goal

TWIN FALLS — An educational program will be presented by a confederation of Idaho environmental organizations in Twin Falls June 15.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the Holiday Inn. It is open to all interested persons.

Vernon Clinton, Twin Falls, is chairman of the confederation, known as GEL or Gem Environmental Liaison. He said the program is aimed at showing the need for well organized citizen activity on environmental matters at the local and state levels.

Representatives of the organization will explain the latest amendments to the Federal Clean Air Act and how they relate to Idaho.

Clinton said GEL has compiled a legislative voting profile on environmental legislation acted on during the last session of the Idaho Legislature. The voting record will be shown at the meeting.

Clinton invited civic leaders, members of environmental groups and the public to attend.

"I am sure those who attend recognize the need for organization and close coordination between environmental groups," he said. "We hope to be able to reinforce that recognition and to present our educational material in a manner that will move these individuals to take additional effective action for the sake of the environment."

Clinton said GEL was formed last year "when we recognized the need for groups in Idaho to speak with one voice on matters of concern to all such organizations."

Members of GEL include the Idaho Wildlife Federation, Idaho Environmental Council, Citizens Environmental Council of Pocatello, the Environmental Pollution Committee of the Idaho TB Association, the Beleaguered Earth Group of the American Association of University Woman, Sierra Club, Hells Canyon Preservation Council, Greater Sawtooth Preservation Council and the League of Women Voters.

Clinton said GEL had backed extensive amendments to the state's air pollution law, which were passed during the last session of the legislature, and establishment of a separate department of state government to regulate and enforce environmental matters. An interim committee of legislators is studying the latter proposal.

Deadline near on 1970 taxes

TWIN FALLS — With 11 days remaining until the deadline for making second half payments of 1970 taxes, about 27 per cent of the total tax bill for Twin Falls County is still unpaid.

County Treasurer Ruth K. Jones said second half payments will be accepted either at the treasurer's office in the courthouse or by mail through June 21.

She said the deadline is normally June 20, but since that day falls on Sunday this year, payments will be accepted through Monday, June 21.

As of Wednesday, the treasurer said, $1,461,878.14 in 1970 taxes was still unpaid. The total property tax bill for 1970 for Twin Falls County was $5,387,997.22.

Of the unpaid amount, utilities will be paying about $500,000, the treasurer said.

Records in the treasurer's office show that about $25,000 in taxes remain unpaid for 1969 and about $12,000 is still owed on 1968 taxes.

Downtown plans near

TWIN FALLS — Plans for the next stage in the downtown redevelopment project should be completed within days, allowing bids to be called for mid-July, City Manager Jean Milar said today.

He said the $500,000 project is one of the most complicated attempted by the city because it involves seven agencies and the burying of utility lines in alleys. He said some of the alleys in the project are narrow and already carry utility lines.

Besides burying all utility lines in the six block area, the project will include complete reconstruction of off street parking, paving alleys, and improving Second Avenues, North and South, and side streets leading to them.

Milar said if bids are received in mid-July, construction should start by Aug. 1 and be completed in October.

Participating in the project are the Off-Street Parking Corp., the Local Improvement District, Idaho Power Co., Mountain Bell, Cable Vision, Urban Renewal and the city of Twin Falls.

Revenues said on schedule

BOISE (UPI) — Acting State Budget Director D. E. (Skip) Chilberg says tax revenues are right on schedule and should produce the anticipated $3.5 million general fund surplus by June 30.

Total gross collections through the month of May, Chilberg said, were $138,758,516 or an increase of some $18,842,032 from the same point a year earlier.

Chilberg said the state budget office is holding to its original estimate of a $3.5 million surplus for this biennium.

But while the revenues are coming in right on schedule Chilberg said that "our June 30 balance is still dependent on the collections during the month of June."

"There also could be a large fluctuation in agency spending," Chilberg added.

More data asked

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, said the Senate Commerce Committee is to consider a bill in executive session today which will provide the consumer with more information under warranties.

Moss, the chairman of the Senate subcommittee for consumers, said the measure, The Consumer Product Warranties and Federal Trade Commission Improvements, Act, was approved without objection Wednesday.

He said, "This bill will provide the consumer with critical information concerning his rights under warranties and will stimulate improved quality control for warranted products."

"Additionally, the Federal Trade Commission is provided with the tools in needs to adequately police the marketplace and protect consumers from deception and fraud."

BOISE (UPI) — Bankruptcy referee Merlin S. Young has signed an order allowing Calico Enterprises, Inc., Sun Valley, to continue operating without threat of legal action while paying off obligations.

Young said the firm's petition was made under a special provision of the Federal Bankruptcy Act but is not a bankruptcy action as such. He said he will conduct a hearing in Boise Friday to decide if Calico should put up a bond protecting creditors.

Federal Judge Ray McNichols has signed an order halting any further action in six civil suits against Calico until further direction by the court.

Calico, agent for a 60-condominium unit development in the resort area, had assets of $2,564,515 and liabilities of $2,501,299, according to most recent financial figures.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Deputy Defense Secretary David Packard came to Capitol Hill to endorse the Nixon administration's save-LOCKHEED legislation but wound up giving testimony damaging to that cause. He gave the Senate Banking Committee Wednesday the clear impression that Lockheed is headed for bankruptcy even if the White House rescue operation is enacted into law. Packard, a former defense contractor himself, was critical of Lockheed's management and warned that approval of the administration's proposed $250 million loan guarantee could be a "dangerous" precedent. In fact, he said, if he were a senator he would vote against it if Congress, the White House or the defense industry took its approval to mean that big government contractors could look to Washington for help whenever they run into financial troubles. Packard's testimony brought a big grin to Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., the proposal's leading opponent. Proxmire said the testimony would be "most useful" in his forthcoming fight to kill the administration plan, which he considers an "unwise use of taxpayers' money to save a private corporation from the consequences of their mistaken judgment." To be sure, Packard said, Lockheed's collapse could increase unemployment in the aerospace industry, which is already suffering. Moreover, he said, it would create some "short-term" problems for the Pentagon. But the long-term problems, he said, would not be insoluble and Lockheed's collapse, with court-appointed trustees taking over management of the firm, would not jeopardize its major defense contracts. To help Lockheed out of its troubles, President Nixon has proposed a bill guaranteeing that the government would repay $250 million worth of bank loans. Lockheed wants should the firm go broke and default on them.

Marshal on watch on Red freighter

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A U.S. Marshal stood watch aboard a Russian freighter today to keep it in San Francisco Bay until a judge acts on a Massachusetts lobsterman's $377,055 lawsuit against the Soviet government. A writ of the attachment, issued Wednesday by the U.S. District Court clerk, was taped to the helmsman's wheel on the bridge of the 552-foot Suleyman Stalaskiye.

was the first Russian vessel we could find." The suit asked $177,055 in actual damages and $200,000 in punitive damages from the USSR for incidents off the New England coast during the past two and a half months.

Slows crops

BOISE (UPI) — Farm crops in Idaho are growing slower than normal because of continued cool and wet weather, a federal crop report said Tuesday.

Range grasses are receiving maximum benefit from current weather conditions, however, and are providing abundant forage, the report said. Planting of late season crops has been slowed because of rains. Hay harvest activities have been hampered by the weather.

Parts of the island of Hawaii resemble the Old West, with cattle, ranches and cowboys.

PC tells loss tale in court

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The bankrupt Penn Central railroad goes to federal court today to bare what may be embarrassing details of how 277 freight boxcars disappeared from its tracks.

The railroad's attorneys were scheduled to appear in U.S. District Court at 10 a.m. to argue in support of a Penn Central petition seeking return of 97 of the boxcars.

FBI agents have already recovered 180 of the cars which mysteriously disappeared over a year's time from Penn Central tracks. The cars were located, freshly painted and with serial numbers changed, on the tracks of the 15-mile long La Salle and Bureau County railroad in Illinois.

The Penn Central claimed in a petition filed April 8, that the remaining boxcars also are in possession of La Salle, two other Illinois firms and two officials of the firms.

A spokesman for the Penn Central said the attorneys today would trace the history of the boxcars acquisition and present evidence uncovered by the railroad in its investigation of the disappearance.

The two firms named in the petition are Diversified Properties Inc. and Magna Earth Enterprise Inc. Both lease property along La Salle railroad tracks.

Red Chinese eye Concorde

PARIS (UPI) — The backbone of Communist China's current civilian air fleet is 200 vintage British and Russian propeller-driven aircraft. But Peking is considering a great leap forward into the supersonic age.

Henri Ziegler, president of France's Aerospatiale Company, Wednesday confirmed the Chinese were interested in buying the Anglo-French Concorde, an airliner designed to fly 120 passengers at twice the speed of sound and to halve existing air travel times.

"They (the Chinese) spent three solid hours asking technical questions about Concorde at the Paris air show last week," Ziegler said. "We had the impression the Chinese for reasons of their own might well order some Concorde when the plane's specifications are known."

Peking's interest in Concorde, a machine which aviation experts expect to cost $20 million each, was the most ambitious part of a worldwide drive to modernize and expand China's aging civilian air service.

China must buy commercial jets abroad. Its domestic industry is geared to produce only a small number of helicopters and single-engine, 10-passenger biplanes and a few seaplanes, according to the experts.

New York police face strike fines

NEW YORK (UPI) — City officials, who just weathered a two-day strike by municipal employees, announced Wednesday 21,000 policemen would be fined for their six-day walkout in January.

In addition, the 8,000 city workers who struck Monday and Tuesday will receive notices in their pay Friday that they might be penalized for violating the Taylor Law, the state law prohibiting strikes by public employees.

But New York's public labor problems apparently were not over.

The state's Civil Service Employees Association announced Wednesday 150,000 of its members ranging from hospital employees to racing commission personnel would walk off their jobs next week unless 8,250 persons fired for budgetary reasons were reinstated.

The 21,000 city patrolmen began their six-day walkout Jan. 14 to protest the city's refusal to pay parity backpay — a pay raise they claimed they were owed to keep patrolmen in line with increases given to officers.

The Patrolmen's Benevolent Association has since won a court decision in its favor on the parity issue. Patrolmen will get the first installment of their back pay July 1.

City Personnel Director Harry I. Bronstein said the patrolmen would be fined two days pay for each day of work missed. In addition, they will be put on a year's probation with a loss of tenure during that period.

Suspect's mental condition studied

YUBA CITY, Calif. (UPI) — Defense attorney Roy Van Den Heuvel said Wednesday he was considering asking a mental competency hearing for Juan Corona, suspect in the Yuba City mass murders.

It was the first time the defense had raised the issue of Corona's mental state since the 37-year-old farm labor contractor was arrested and charged with killing 10 of the 25 transient farm workers whose bodies have been unearthed along the Feather River.

Van Den Heuvel, who had a psychiatrist examine Corona in his jail cell last week, said he also may ask for continuance of a scheduled June 16 preliminary hearing. He said he might need more time to go over all the prosecution evidence, turned over to him by court order.

The psychiatrist, Walter Bromberg of Sacramento, Calif., was a defense witness in the 1964 trial of Jack Ruby for killing Lee Harvey Oswald, assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

Bromberg Wednesday viewed the hacked and stabbed bodies of the 26 victims at the Sacramento County Morgue in Sacramento, where they were transferred last week.

Stations blasted

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — Bombs damaged two police stations in Northern Ireland and a power station in the neighboring Republic of Ireland overnight. No injuries were reported.

The bombings which authorities blamed on extremists involved in the struggle between Roman Catholics and Protestants came despite heavy security measures ordered after a British paratrooper was killed in Belfast recently.

Bombs went off beneath two cars at a police post outside the gates of the prison in Armagh, Northern Ireland, about two British soldiers off their feet. Another explosive charge blew a hole in a wall of Hastings Street police station in Belfast early today.

Costs up swiftly in clubs

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Rising business costs have put the lights out in many major supper clubs around the country in the last 10 years. Salaries for top performers have skyrocketed. So have other operational costs.

San Francisco, which had three "name" clubs a few years ago, now has only one. Baltimore has none. Cleveland, which had three, now has only a large cocktail lounge. Chicago, a swinging town when the Loop was active, now has only a few major supper clubs.

Even New York has fallen on hard times when it comes to attracting top names at its clubs. They appear at the Waldorf's Empire Room, the Plaza's Persian Room, the Americana's Royal Box and the Copa.

One club—the Holiday House in Monroeville, 12 miles from downtown Pittsburgh—has managed to survive through the flexible management of John Bertera.

Bertera says his formula for coping with rising costs is simple. Recognize them and plan accordingly.

"First, give the customer value," he said, "and then negotiate with the acts. Figure on your budget how many people will go through your doors."

"If I gross $70,000 then my net profit is $6,000. If the gross runs to $80,000, the last $10,000 is virtually clear profit."

Bertera also shifted gears in the type of clientele. He now seeks family business with a Sunday show with dinner at 6 p.m. and entertainment at 7 p.m.

"In 1959 we learned something when we booked the Three Stooges for two afternoon shows and an early evening show for the kids. They loved it. We featured hamburgers and cokes at $1 and the house was jammed."

Indian princes gain in markets

NEW DELHI—India's 287 hereditary princes, faced with Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's resolution to abolish their privileges and privy purses, are turning themselves into merchant princes.

The princes have virtually abandoned any hope of dissuading Mrs. Gandhi from pursuing her declared intention of de-recognition them. The maharaja of Dhrangadhra, who presides over a grouping of Indian princes, commenting on the situation, said:

"We are prepared to cooperate with Mrs. Gandhi, if she will cooperate with us. All we ask is to be treated with honor, and respect. We would much rather go through with this or a basis of mutual understanding and free and willing consent. The rulers shall never be found wanting or backward in rendering whatever humble service they can to the state and the people of India."

The intangibles of public respect and their traditional standing as Indian rulers are probably far more important to the maharajas than the tangible privy purses. Local people, particularly in rural areas which constitute the greater part of princely India, still look to their rulers for employment and social leadership.

Most of the princes have no other source of income than their privy purses. Most of the purses are small but several are worth more than $135,000 a year.

The total amount disbursed is $6 million a year, a sum which the rulers tend to dismiss as insignificant in terms of the whole Indian economy.

The amount disbursed is reduced each time a new ruler succeeds to his title, and there has never been any adjustment of the purses to offset depreciation in the value of the rupee. This year could be the last in which any purses are paid at all.

One would have thought the princes would have made greater efforts to arrange alternative sources of income, since most depend on them for their livelihood. The maharaja of Dhrangadhra says he may go back to research in social anthropology at Poona University. Others have posts in public services. The maharaja of Alirajpur, for example, is India's ambassador to the Congo. The maharaja of Jaipur, who succeeded his father last year, is colonel of an Indian paratroop regiment. For those wholly dependent on state purses the transition to earned income has begun. But as the maharaja of Mewar says, "It takes time to learn to earn. We have been more used to giving than to getting."

Health ranks vacant

NEW YORK (UPI) —More than 4.4 million Americans are unemployed today while the health care industry is crying for 150,000 workers.

"Yes, but they are menial, low paying jobs," is the immediate rejoinder. Not true, says Hollis S. Ingraham, M.D., health commissioner for the State of New York. In urging young people to consider health care careers, Ingraham says jobs in that market are as well or better paid than those in other fields with less growth potential.

Statistics seem to bear out his contention. The health care industry, third largest employer in the nation, currently employs 500,000 persons and is expected to become the largest employer by 1975.

The industry last year spent more than $67 billion (B), an increase of 12 per cent over 1969. The Department of Health, Education and Welfare estimates that another $20 billion in invested capital will have to be found over the next three to five years.

So much for the growth possibility. How about the jobs and their salaries. Dr. Ingraham cited specifics in a recent report. In many instances, of course, jobs in the nation's 7,000 hospitals and related areas or the offices of the 330,000 doctors require collegiate or technical training.

Salaries range from $6,000 for a beginning medical assistant to as high as $25,000 for a hospital administrator.

An X-ray technicians can start at from $130 to $160 a week, and instructors earn about $12,000 per year. Some technicians with administrative responsibilities go up to $18,000.

Nurses are always in demand, and they don't necessarily have to wind up in hospitals. They are needed by public health agencies, schools, clinics, industry, schools of nursing, in research and in doctors' offices.

Road finish set in '76

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho's Department of Highways said today it expects the entire Interstate 15 stretch to be completed to four lanes of divided highway linking Montana and Utah through Idaho by 1975 or 1976.

In a progress report on this road and Interstate 15W, the department said approximately 40 miles or two-thirds of the 63-mile Interstate 15W between Rupert and Pocatello is finished. The department expects to finish the entire portion of Interstate 15W and open it to traffic between 1976 and 1978 the report said.

Tribe funds OK'd

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The Senate today passed legislation sponsored by Sen. Frank Church and Sen. Len B. Jordan to distribute $500,000 to the Shoshone-Bannock Indian tribes at Ft. Hall, in partial settlement of a judgment granted by the Indian Claims Commission. The legislation passed by unanimous agreement and now goes to the House of Representatives for further action.

The two Senators explained that in 1968, the commission granted a judgment of $15.7 million as compensation for land taken from the Shoshone tribe in 1888 and 1869 in Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado and Nevada. Of the total judgment, $500,000 was specifically set aside for reservation claims of the Shoshone-Bannock tribe at Ft. Hall.

Congressional appropriation of the full judgment has been delayed pending agreement of the tribes in the five states on distribution of the funds.

However, because $500,000 of the total judgment was earmarked for Ft. Hall, Church and Jordan produced legislation to provide for immediate payment.

Mayor re-elected

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) — Charles Stenvig said today, "God was in my corner once again," in his landslide reelection as mayor of Minneapolis.

Stenvig, 43, a former police detective, defeated Harry Davis, the first black man seriously considered as a mayoral candidate here, by a total of 81,280 votes to 31,146.

The victory gives Stenvig a second two-year term. Stenvig won election by a wide margin two years ago over a Republican who was city council president. He pegged his campaign then on "strong, fair, impartial law enforcement for everyone" and an effort to hold the line on taxes.

Fund gains

A CHECK FOR $913.55 was presented Wednesday to Harold O. Hove, left, Twin Falls County March of Dimes treasurer, by Edd Bossard, past district governor of the Lions Club. The check represented proceeds from the roadblock the Lions held in Twin Falls. Hove said total receipts for the 1971 campaign were $3,850.26. The Mothers March contributed $385.20 and the March of Dimes mailers brought in $1,880.85. The county's collection was less than last year, Hove said.

Clifford rapped for false hopes on POWs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House accused former Defense Secretary Clark M. Clifford and others today of raising false hopes about release of American prisoners of war and exploiting their plight for domestic political reasons.

President Nixon's press secretary, Ronald L. Ziegler, told newsmen that the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong had given no official sign of a change in their position that they would be willing to discuss the POW issue only if the United States agreed to withdraw all its troops.

Clifford, the Pentagon chief during the latter part of the Johnson administration, said Tuesday night he had "reason to believe" that a prompt agreement could be reached for a Vietnam settlement—including release of American POWs.

Demos back

measure

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Key Senate Democrats, faced with a proposal that would allow President Nixon to spend more on television electioneering in 1972 than in 1968, have agreed to back a bill cutting the amount in half.

At a meeting Tuesday the Senate Democratic Policy Committee voted as a body to back legislation that would place tight curbs on the amount a presidential candidate may spend for television.

The decision paved the way for another confrontation between the White House and Congressional Democrats on the issue of campaign spending.

The underlying reason is that the Republicans have the money to spend and the Democrats do not.

The dispute is between a bill written by the Senate Commerce Committee, backed by the Democrats, and the version rewritten by the Senate Rules Committee, very much in the form sought by the Republican administration.

Rocky gets okay for probe

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was given the authority Tuesday to establish a commission to investigate the administration of New York City Mayor John V. Lindsay. Lindsay announced a commission to investigate Rockefeller's state administration.

The Republican-controlled state legislature passed a bill in the closing hours of its 1971 session Tuesday authorizing the state commission.

A Lindsay spokesman in New York said the mayor later this week would appoint "a city commission on the state government to inquire into the effectiveness and efficiency of the state with particular reference to mass transit, welfare, courts and narcotics."

Gough chosen by FHA

BOISE (UPI) — State Director Donald L. Winder today announced appointment of C.E. Gough, Nampa, to the post of administrative officer in the state office of Farmers Home Administration.

A native Idahoan, Gough was graduated from Parma High School and attended the former southern branch of the University of Idaho at Pocatello. During World War II he served in the U.S. Air Corps.

Gough returned to Idaho after the war and entered the newspaper business in Parma with his brother, Theron M. Gough, and his mother. In subsequent years, he was associated with newspapers in Home-ate, Aberdeen, Emmett and in Enterprise, Ore.

He was city editor of the Idaho Free Press in Nampa when he joined the staff of former Gov. Don Samuelson as press secretary in September, 1969.

After the change of state administration, Gough served as public information officer for the State House of Representatives during the first regular and first special session of the 41st legislature.

In his new job, his duties will pertain primarily to responsibilities of personnel, facilities and equipment.

Gough is scheduled to undergo a two-week training program conducted by the U.S. Agriculture Department in Washington, D.C., and will leave for the nation's capital this weekend.

Cutoff sought

IDAHO SEN. Frank Church, left, and Sen. William B. Saxton, Ohio, right, announce their plan to introduce amendment to foreign aid bill ending military and economic aid to Pakistan unless that nation allows international relief agencies to feed thousands of starving persons in East Pakistan and repatriate majority of refugees in India. (UPI)

Shoshone district gets aid

SHOSHONE — Rep. Orval Hansen announced today that Shoshone Joint School District will receive immediate payment of $1,439 in impact aid funds from the Department of Health Education and Welfare. Hansen said the funds are partial payment of federal aid in the current fiscal year under the Impact Aid Program which provides assistance to schools attended by children of federal employes. The amount awarded today is earmarked for salaries.

Ranch link

THE USE of a mobile telephone system has been donated to the Idaho Youth Ranch by Tel-Car of Twin Falls. Shown in Tel-Car's new office in Twin Falls are Lee Childs, director of the youth ranch, and Tamara Bybee, operator. The system, installed in Childs' car, allows him to conduct business while on the road. It also provides callers with an operator to take messages if Childs is not available and is an ideal emergency communications system at the ranch.

Decision on dams Friday

SPOKANE, Wash. (UPI) — A decision is scheduled in Federal District Court Friday on a motion by the government to dismiss a suit seeking to block further dam construction on the lower Snake River in eastern Washington.

The suit was filed by the Northwest Steelheaders Council of Trout Unlimited and other conservationist groups against the Army Corps of Engineers and seeks to stop construction of Lower Granite dam, which is about 20 per cent completed on the Snake River about 20 miles south of Pullman, Wash. The suit also seeks to block construction of proposed Asotin dam upstream from the Lewiston-Clarkston area on the Idaho-Washington border.

Deviation said acceptable

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — The Office of Attorney Vernon Romney indicated Tuesday that a population deviation as high as 15 per cent would be acceptable in reapportionment of the legislature.

In an opinion prepared by H. Wright Volker, assistant attorney general, the Utah Legislative Council was advised, however, that the state's chief law officer could fix no exact guidelines in bringing the state into conformity with the "one-man, one-vote rule."

The 15 per cent figure was qualified with stipulations that it be made in good faith and could "be justified as a practicable plan designed to meet the basic standard of population among districts and yet preserve the integrity of political subdivisions."

Israel has new experience—peace

Work progresses on White Bird

TEL AVIV (UPI) — On the fourth anniversary of its spectacular victory in the 1967 Middle East War, Israel is grappling with a strange new experience—the rumbling problems that peace may bring.

This spring has been the most peaceful Israel has known on the battlefronts since it routed the Arab armies in six blazing days June 5-11, four years ago. The guns on the main front with Egypt along the Suez Canal have been silent for 10 months now. Guerrilla activity along the Jordanian, Lebanese and Syrian cease-fire lines has dwindled to the occasional piprnick attack.

The occupied Arab territories, with the notable exception of the refugee-jammed Gaza Strip, are quiet and subdued. Guerrilla activity inside Israel is virtually nonexistent.

This fourth anniversary of one of the swiftest and most awesome victories in military history should be a time of national rejoicing. It isn't.

Dissent is Heard

Like the tip of an iceberg that could be a navigational hazard for the Jewish state in the years to come, the voice of dissent is being heard more and more in the "Promised Land."

Jerusalem's "Black Panthers"—the sons of poor Jewish immigrants from Arab lands—are making the most noise. But if this temporary truce becomes the real peace Israel seeks there are more militant dissidents who have remained submerged for more than 20 years because of the need to fight for survival just waiting to come bubbling to the surface.

In 1948 Israel had a population of 879,000. At the beginning of this year it passed 3 million. Two and one-half million are Jews.

The temporary truce—or "phony peace" as some Israelis call it—has given its voice.

"Black Panthers" did add blue and white, the national colors, to their title after some government ministers accused them of being unpatriotic. But they threatened to continue demonstrations like the one in Jerusalem in mid-May which blossomed into a riot with 10-policemen injured and more than 100 demonstrators were arrested.

Industrial Disputes Spawned

The "phony peace" also has spawned a rash of industrial disputes and strikes among workers who pay the heaviest taxes in the world to support a massive defense budget.

This year alone there have been more than a score of industrial disputes, strikes and slowdowns in the post office.

A recent National Insurance Institute survey showed one in five urban-Israeli families lived near the poverty line. In parliament recently opposition member Menahem Yedid said 63,000 families lived in substandard housing.

In reply Housing Minister Zeev Sharef said in the government's list of priorities defense and security and immigration take precedence.

If peace comes permanently the priority may have to be changed quickly or Israel may face the same youthful dissent currently rocking many other countries.

LEWISTON, Idaho (UPI) — Morrison-Knudsen Co., Boise, now has 46 men working two nine-hour shifts daily, five days a week on the White Bird Creek-North project, the Highway Department said today.

This $2,218,818 project will be another link in the state's long-planned renovation of the White Bird Hill route.

Pioneer roads have been cut to within several hundred feet of the south end of the project directly above the town of White Bird.

A protective rock fence has been constructed along the pioneer roads to prevent rocks from rolling off the right of way onto private property below the construction activities.

The town of White Bird is approximately 600 yards straight down the mountain below the work areas.

Fifteen thousand pounds of nitrate were used to blast one rock cut approximately one mile north of White Bird. To date, about 1,250,000 cubic yards of rock have been excavated.

Yemen regime downfall sought

Kidnaped man freed

KSL gets award

BEIRUT (UPI)—A cashed-in Arab ex-soldier leading a band of tough fighters has launched a military campaign to bring down the Marxist regime of South Yemen whose troops he once commanded.

Operating in small mobile bands in the arid western sector of this desert state, Col. Hussein Osman Ashaal's forces are bringing chaos to rural areas.

Travelers reaching Beirut said a 100-mile long highway connecting the former capitals of Fadhl, Yaffair, Audhall and Dathina was mined so persistently the road was finally closed to commercial traffic.

Flights of civilian aircraft over the western territory have been suspended for months. A trip that formerly took 55 minutes from Aden to Belhan now takes 90 minutes to avoid the artillery of Ashaal's gunners concealed in the western mountains.

To the north, one of Ashaal's lieutenants, Maj. Ahmed Saleh Ben Lahmar, British-trained like his commander, has claimed control over the Alkaur Mountain chain overlooking the provincial towns of Ataq, Saeed and Shibam.

The sharif (ruler) of Belhan is amassing troops which, according to officials in Aden, he plans to use against the government.

Reports tell daily of land-mine explosions taking an increasing toll of government forces and civilians.

Ashaal's 600 men are almost all ex-soldiers of the South Yemeni forces, sacked like himself in a massive purge that decimated the army and security forces after the National Liberation Front came to power at independence in November 1968.

The objective of the guerrillas is to provoke the South Yemeni army to move against the NLF rulers. They hope this will be followed by a coalition of the many factions which at present fragment the country. Ashaal, 48, received his education and military training in Jordan and Britain. Religious and soft-spoken, the colonel recently told a newsman who met him in Sanaa, North Yemen: "The regime in Aden is unabashedly Marxist and is exercising coercion to stifle legitimate political opposition. It must therefore be resisted by force."

North Yemen, though sympathetic, has not so far taken sides with the Saudi-backed rebels. But "political sources said if Yemen's strongman, Gen. Hassan al Amri, is persuaded to do so, its active help could tip the scales in favor of the rebellion. It could open its frontiers to receive Saudi supplies and grant sanctuary to the rebels.

Female cougars usually have two to three kittens in a litter.

BERN, Switzerland (UPI)—Alfred Kuser, the 62-year-old Swiss businessman kidnaped in La Paz, Bolivia, Monday night, was freed about 24 hours later after his company paid an undisclosed ransom, the Swiss foreign ministry said today.

The ministry said Kuser was in good health except for the effects of a blow on the head and several bruises.

Neither the sum paid for Kuser's release nor the group to which it was paid is known at present, the ministry said.

The ransom was paid by the Volcan steel mill, of which Kuser is technical director, the ministry said.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Salt Lake City radio station KSL was presented the Alfred P. Sloan Award for Distinguished Public Service Promoting Highway Safety Tuesday for its "saturation use of spot announcements on holiday weekends, traffic situation reports and special programs on highway safety."

Howard Pyle, chairman of the awards jury and president of the National Safety Council, gave the award to 16 other news-gathering organizations and KSL, vice president and general manager Joseph Kjar. "These efforts were reinforced throughout the year with more than 25 editorials on such subjects as the drinking driver, traffic scofflaws and snow tires," Pyle said.

He said the programs played a major role in providing listeners with a better understanding of the traffic accident problem.

The Sloan Awards have been given since 1948 as part of a program run by the Highway Users Federation for Safety and Mobility, through fund grants from the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation and the Automotive Safety Foundation.

Japan gets Okinawa control

PARIS (UPI)—The United States and Japan approved a treaty Wednesday under which Japan will resume control over Okinawa, an island which U.S. troops seized in bloody fighting in 1945 and turned into America's largest nuclear base in the Pacific.

Rogers and Japanese Foreign Minister Kiichi Aichi told newsmen after a three-hour meeting they have completed the final draft of the pact and will sign it simultaneously on June 17 in Washington and Tokyo.

Secretary of State William P.

Meet slated

BOISE (UPI)—Idaho and Wyoming will be hosts for the 19th annual conference of the National Association of State Veterans homes at Jackson Hole, Wyo., July 25-27, it was announced Wednesday.

Commandment Larry Laughridge of the Idaho Veterans Home said speakers will include Leslie M. Fry,

Under the eight-point treaty, the United States will pull out its nuclear arsenal and most military hardware from the 30 bases it has built on the island by the time Japan takes over again. Under a basic accord reached by President Nixon and Japanese Prime Minister Eisaku Sato in June, 1969, Japanese sovereignty over Okinawa and the rest of the Ryukyu archipelago will be reestablished in 1972.

Diplomatic sources said the that the United States already was building a new nuclear base on its Marshall Islands in the heart of the Pacific.

The pact calls for the payment of substantial compensation by Japan for the transfer of U.S. military equipment from Okinawa. Sources said the bill will probably amount to $280 million.

Approval of the text of the treaty topped 18 months of bargaining over each clause. Diplomatic officials said the treaty is likely to be criticized in both Washington and Tokyo, but that ratification was a foregone conclusion.

Not all the bases will be handed over to the Japanese when the final date for the take-over is set. Some U.S. bases will remain on the island, but there will no longer be nuclear warheads stockpiled there.

The treaty also allows the U.S. government to operate its Voice of America broadcasts from Okinawa for five years before a new arrangement is negotiated on VOA newscasts. Rogers flew home shortly after his meeting with Aichi.

U.S. urged to clarify position

By United Press International

Both Egypt and Israel urged the United States Wednesday to state clearly its position on the Middle East, each of them stressing that America holds the key to peace in the area.

Prime Minister Golda Meir told the Israeli Knesset (Parliament) in Jerusalem the United States must fulfill Israel's latest arms requests or risk a "great danger to peace."

President Anwar Sadat of Egypt told his troops on the west bank of the Suez Canal that he is awaiting a statement of intent from Washington on U.S. plans in the Middle East.

"I don't care about Israel; what I care about is America's stance," Sadat said in his visit to the Suez front. His remarks there were published Wednesday in Cairo.

"If the United States supports Israel's occupation of our land," Sadat said, "I will deal with it as a partner of Israel."

But if it has other views, let it state them.

"America has not made a final definition of its position and asked for a chance to reply to us," Sadat said. "If the chance does not come, we shall go to war. The battle must be settled, by the will of God, in 1971."

Mrs. Meir said in a foreign policy speech the United States has not fully realized the meaning of the 15-year friendship treaty between the Soviet Union and Egypt.

"The Egyptian rulers, actively helped by the Soviet Union, are continually striving to undermine the arms balance in order that Israel may be exposed to military threats and political blackmail," she said.

"Israel looks forward to continued understanding of her vital claims to arms supplies from the United States government required for her defense."

particularly in the air, and hopes that her requests will be met without delay.

Suspect rushed to hospital

DANBURY, Conn. (UPI)—The Rev. Daniel Berrigan, named a co-conspirator in the alleged plot to kidnap president's adviser Henry Kissinger, was rushed to a hospital Wednesday when he experienced difficulty in breathing, and a rapid heart rate.

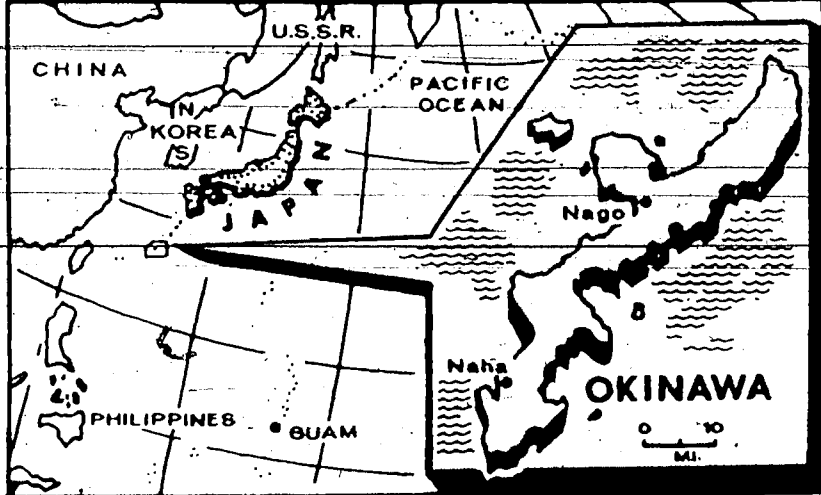

Berrigan, 50, was first given emergency treatment at the Federal Correction Institution here where he is serving time for destroying Selective Service records at Catonsville, Md.

Hospital for closer observation.

The hospital said the poet-priest had been admitted but declined to reveal the initial diagnosis. Berrigan was conscious when he was transferred from the federal prison to the hospital.

Daniel Berrigan and his brother, Philip, 47, also a priest, are both serving time in Danbury.

T.V. project successful

AMARILLO, Tex. (UPI)—A unique television project to give a start in English to Spanish-speaking pre-school children has caught on around the country after being launched with success here. The program seeks to teach 100 to 150 English words to youngsters in homes where they've heard nothing but Spanish up to the time they're ready to enter the public school system.

"Bilingual teachers are virtually nonexistent and therefore the teachers are seldom prepared to meet the need when they are faced with a student who cannot speak any English," said John S. Tyler, managing owner of KVII-TV in Amarillo where the program was put together.

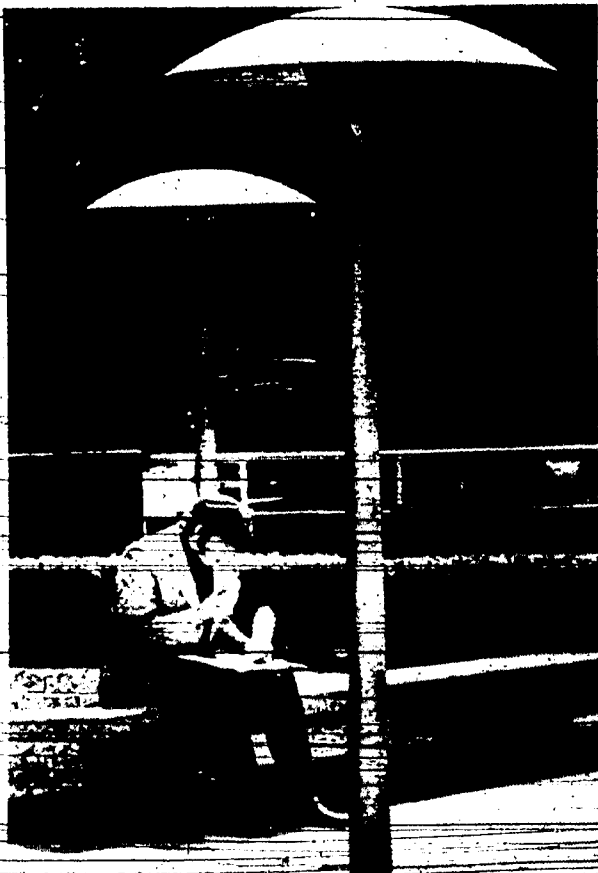

Spanish-Americans, some six million strong, make up the nation's second largest ethnic group. Authorities say they average only eight years of schooling, and rank low on the economic scale. "A high percentage are classified as functional illiterates," Tyler said. "In a state such as Texas, where the ratio of Spanish-Americans is uncommonly high, illiteracy runs to as much as 40 per cent."

A big backer of the program is John B. Bunker, the president of a Colorado Springs, Colo., sugar company with a plant in the Texas Panhandle near Amarillo. His plant employs a large number of the ethnic group, and he is concerned for any programs to help educate the Spanish-Americans.

Tyler said the program "is designed primarily for three to six year olds, to help them learn enough English to be able to communicate when they reach public school. As we go into the program we learned that, although it was a major problem, no one had attempted to communicate to the youngsters in their own language and train them toward English." The program is called "Kinder en Ingles," explained by Tyler as an attempt to relate the words "kindergarten" and "English." It includes 20 lessons, each 15 minute long. The series is presented five days a week for four weeks.

Grand opening under way for new Bernina Carole-Noel Sewing Center

By PHYLLIS K. COLONNA
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — A touch of French High Fashion, with all the advantages of Japanese home industry. That is the contribution of one of Magic Valley's newest and most innovative businesses, the Bernina Carole-Noel Sewing Center.

Located at 157 Main Ave. W., across from the Orpheum Theater, it will be holding its official grand opening all this week.

The head and heart — respectively — of this new enterprise are Dale and Carole-Noel Hemphill. The Hemphills moved to Twin Falls last January from Burley, where they had spent two successful years at the Fabric Center Bernina Sewing Center. In fact, it was at the Fabric Center that they perfected their program of locally recruited seamstresses, gradually expanding into this area. (Instrumental in their choice of Twin Falls as a location, by the way, was the new downtown shopping mall.)

All in all, Dale has had more than 14 years experience in the sewing machine line. Although raised in Jerome and Pocatello, his field took him as far away as Edmonton, Alberta, Canada before he returned to settle in Magic Valley as owner-manager of his own business.

Not that he regrets his travel time. It was in Canada he met his wife and business partner, Carole-Noel, French Canadian, her name comes by virtue of being born on Christmas Day.

Carole-Noel began her training in sewing as a very young girl in a convent school in Canada. There she learned the mastery of detail and perfectionistic approach that is a hallmark of her clothing line. Later she completed her schooling in Portland, Oregon, in classes given through Vogue and Kandel Knits.

After marriage it was only natural the two should combine their talents and experience, coming up with the Carole-Noel school of dressmaking and women's quality ready-to-wear clothing.

Dale says he took the idea from Japanese home industry, searching for a means whereby women can earn a living without leaving the home.

Apprentice seamstresses are recruited in the area, and begin their training with Carole-Noel. A definite plus for the program is the fact that they begin earning money immediately, from the beginning of their training period. Garments sewn in the home are graded — and seamstresses paid — according to the complexity of sewing technique required, and by the proficiency displayed by the seamstress sewing them.

Carole-Noel says 90 per cent of all work turned in is graded Double A, or highest possible. So far the Hemphills have 32 seamstresses in the Magic Valley area — ranging in age from 19 through late 60's — some just beginning their training, some nearing two years of experience with the organization.

In addition to marketing the Carole-Noel line of dresses in their Twin Falls store, the Hemphills sell to such outlets as ZCMI in Salt Lake City and Mademoiselle in Ogden, Utah. They say that although they have had calls for their dresses from other large department stores, thus far they do not have the seamstresses to meet the demand.

Especially in view of the fact that their immediate plans call for the opening of yet another Carole-Noel store, this time in Ogden, Utah. Negotiations for space are now underway, and they say they hope to be installed within 30 to 60 days.

TWIN FALLS — Izzeta McCoy was honored at a kitchen shower Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. H.L. Wurst hosted by the American Legion Auxiliary and her friends.

Mrs. McCoy has recently moved back to Twin Falls after residing in Richland, Wash., for two years.

Shrubbery discussed

SOUTH CAROLINA — If many spring gardening chores prevented you from putting in needed shrubs, you can still do it and achieve excellent results if you use potted plants," informs the George W. Park Seed Co., S.C.

Some local nurseries may still have the plants, popular ornamentals and also rare or exotic kinds.

Potted shrubs are safer to plant than bare root stock and of course, are far less expensive than balled and burlapped specimens. They may be planted in their permanent location, or many gardeners set them in a separate nursery bed where they can get special care until transplanted when a little older. Potted shrubs grow rapidly and most varieties are fully mature four or five years after planting.

Foundation plantings are colorful and attractive if they contain a number of dwarf ornamentals. Hedges and shrub borders with a variance in foliage colors and season of bloom go a long way in beautifying home grounds, to say nothing of improving property values.

Among the potted shrubs offered in the catalog are azalea hybrids, hollies, crape myrtles, junipers, hibiscus, Japanese maples and rhododendrons.

TWIN FALLS — Bertha Pitts, 80, Pryor, Okla., the mother of L.W. Pitts, Twin Falls, suffered a heart attack on Tuesday and was listed in critical condition at a Pryor hospital, Pitts said.

HAGERMAN — Weather permitting, the Golden Age Club, Hagerman, will hold a picnic at 5 p.m. Monday at the City Park. If the weather is bad, members will meet at the IOOF Lodge Hall.

TWIN FALLS — The "I Do" (ESP) Research Center, 519 Main Ave. W., meeting is open to the public from 7 to 8 p.m. Thursday.

SHOSHONE — Magic Grange Home Economics Club will meet at 2 p.m. June 18 at home of Mrs. William Tews. Members will discuss work of painting and furnishing new kitchen in the newly constructed grange hall.

TWIN FALLS — Bachelor of Arts degrees were received this month by Miriam Elizabeth Conover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Conover, Buhl, and Diane Jane Warner, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George W. War-junipers, hibiscus, Japanese maples and rhododendrons.

DEAR ABBY: I am so hurt I could die. My husband hasn't bothered with me for the last six months. I haven't begged him about it. I thought that he was just tired out or not feeling well and he'd gradually resume our old relationship which has always been quite satisfactory.

The other night I asked him if there was something wrong and he just blurted out that he thought my body was "repulsive."

Abby, I am only 33, but I've had five children and my stomach is covered with stretch marks and I know my bust sags and my body isn't as pretty as it used to be, but I got into this shape from having his children, so what am I to do? I'm so confused. I still don't know what to think about what he said. Can stretch marks be removed? And would it pay to have surgery to lift my bustline? I know it's expensive but I would make a lot of sacrifices to get my husband back.

DEAR HURT: If you honestly feel that a lift here and a tuck there is all you need to get your husband back, talk to a competent plastic surgeon. But what about your husband's cruelty? Perhaps he needs a doctor who uses words to reduce the meanness in him. His defects are far uglier than yours.

DEAR ABBY: I am an Italian who reads your articles in the Rome Daily American. I am very much interested in meeting the Memphis, Tenn. lady who is looking for a husband.

I am 32 years old and am 5 feet 11. I am very well built and have olive skin and green eyes and plenty of black hair. I speak five languages and come from Italian nobility on my mother's side, I play the mandolin very well and sing romantic songs.

The Memphis lady says she is self supporting, is in good health and she owns a late model American-made automobile. If she would like to correspond with me, please ask her to send me a recent photograph of the automobile.

VITO IN NAPOLI

DEAR ABBY: I am a Christian and I also play the clarinet. A year ago I promised the Lord that I would use my talent for Him by playing only hymns in churches. My problem is that I am only 13 and it is difficult to get into churches to play. Have you any suggestions?

UNADVISED IN ALABAMA

DEAR UNADVISED: I'm sure God would understand if you first developed your talents by playing whatever your teacher recommended, and not restrict your playing to hymns in churches. After you have become an accomplished clarinetist you'll be able to play wherever and whatever you wish.

CONFIDENTIAL TO T. H. L.: Yes, I would say that experience is the best teacher. And considering how much it costs, it ought to be.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

A Lovelier You

BREAKFAST FOR A PRINCESS

By Mary Sue Miller

A mother writes: My daughter, aged seventeen, has her first job this summer. She has to leave the house before 8 a.m. She's a slug-a-bed and dressing dawdler, she'll never make it and eat breakfast. Besides she despises breakfast foods. Well, I insist on breakfast. During the school year I usually win, but school's around the corner — less rush. Suggestions, please!

The answer: By the time a girl is seventeen, she must know that breakfast revs health, a trim figure and an effective morning's work. Surely there is no dearth of information on the subject. Most girls prepare their own breakfasts, good ones.

If a teen is so lucky to be treated like a princess with her morning repast served to her, silver-spoon fashion, her response to the attention has to be graceful. Noblesse oblige, you know, even though she's about to become an independently wealthy wage-earner.

So saying, a word to the worried chef on overcoming the food phobias of a royal princess: Just add a touch of Fantasia. For instance, add a splash of soda water to orange juice and pour over cracked ice. Bake those mundane eggs in ramequin a la Francais. Plain whole wheat toast is gourmet when threaded with western dessert honey. Or what about mushroom and bacon bits tossed onto hulled broiches?

Don't shrug — it's all prepared in seconds, and solves mother-daughter hangups.

MODEL TIPS FOR TEENS

Fifty ways to ideal skin and natural makeup for young adults — ages 13 to 19 — are detailed in my booklet, MODEL TIPS FOR TEENS. Advice covers corrective skin care; how to use makeup to accent good points and play down problems; fashion model makeup tricks. ## Coloratura soprano will appear at arts seminar

SUN VALLEY — Mrs. Milton Eberhard, Blackfoot, coloratura soprano who toured several European countries earlier this year with the University of Idaho Vandaleers, will appear at the Congressional Arts Seminar and Festival Friday at Sun Valley.

The announcement was made today by Idaho Sen. Len B. Jordan and Representative Orval Hansen, co-sponsors of the day-long event.

Mrs. Eberhard represented the University of Idaho Alumni Association in making the 1970 European Concert Tour with the student singing group in England, Holland, Luxembourg, East and West Germany and France — the first such European tour by the Vandaleers.

Keynoting the Sun Valley seminar at 10 a.m. Friday, June 11, will be Nancy Hanks, chairman of the National Endowment for the Arts. Miss Hanks arrived in Idaho Wednesday with Sen. Jordan and Rep. Hansen for a press conference at the Boise Art Gallery and to meet members of the Boise Art Association and the Idaho Arts Commission.

Jordan and Hansen have announced several other additions to the arts program. Mrs. Glenn Cooper, Sun Valley, will speak on "The Total Being and the Arts." Mrs. Cooper has been working with Sun Valley owner William Janss to form the Sun Valley Creative Arts Center, Inc., a non-profit corporation to further art and culture in Idaho with participants from all parts of the United States.

Mrs. Cooper moved to Idaho three years ago from Los Angeles, where she was associated with the education department of the Los Angeles County Museum of Art. The Los Angeles Times gave her its "Woman of the Year" award in art education for her efforts in organizing and training 200 volunteer guides for the art museum.

Also on the program will be Henry T. Hopkins, director of the Fort Worth Art Center Museum, Fort Worth, Tex. Hopkins, formerly of Idaho Falls, also teaches art history at Texas Christian University and the Northwood Institute in Texas. He is former director of the Los Angeles Art Gallery, and was director of the United States exhibit at the 35th Venice Biennale in Venice, Italy, last year. Hopkins is on the board of the Sun Valley Art Association.

A panel on the environment and the arts, moderated by Charles Clark, superintendent of schools in Halley, is also on the seminar agenda.

A noon luncheon is scheduled with a discussion of the role of the federal government and legislation pertaining to the arts and humanities.

Recreation area won't end plans for park

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. James A. McClure, R-Idaho, said Tuesday establishment of a Sawtooth National Recreation area would not mean an end to plans for a national park in Idaho's scenic mountain country.

McClure joined Rep. Roy A. Taylor, D-N.C., chairman of the House National Parks and Recreation Subcommittee, in warning conservationists against insistence on immediate creation of a national park.

McClure said there had been "misunderstanding" of the Idaho congressional delegation's unanimous backing of a bill to establish a 752,000-acre recreation area and to require a study of a future national park.

"I can well understand your consternation if you view it as a step backward," McClure told a conservationist spokesman in reaffirming his support of a national park. The bill, he said, would be a "directive" to the National Park Service to make the study with the view of establishing such a park.

"It's not the end of the road for a park, but the beginning," McClure's remarks were made during testimony by George Alderson, a spokesman for Friends of the Earth, who urged the committee to reject the bill to establish the recreation area.

"The bill must be viewed as a retreat from the Idaho delegation's earlier national park bill, and as a concession to both the U. S. Forest Service and the mining interests the forest service so ably represents," Alderson declared.

Taylor tried unsuccessfully to convince Alderson it was "politically unrealistic" to try to push through a national park bill over the opposition of the Interior department, which has requested more study time.

"In addition to that, if the department is opposing it the president is apt to veto it," Alderson contended the department's study "could be speeded and completed by the end of the year, thus paving the way for immediate national park creation."

This view was not shared by all conservationist organizations. Some joined the state's congressional delegation to urge passage of the recreation bill, which they said would provide immediate protection to the scenic area.

Spencer M. Smith Jr., secretary of the citizens committee on National Resources, claimed to be a "political realist" and said chances for passage of the recreation bill were good. He rejected the view no bill should be passed if it did not provide for an immediate national park.

Smith said conservationist organizations were not a "monolithic group" and differed on many issues.

"But I think we are all agreed that the Sawtooth area needs some protection."

Russian writer barred

MOSCOW (UPI)—Writer Andrei D. Sinyavsky, who was released from prison this week, will be barred from residing in Moscow, literary sources said Wednesday.

Sinyavsky is temporarily living in a Moscow suburb now but he soon will be required to move to another city, the sources said.

Sinyavsky and Yuli Daniel were sentenced to prison camp in 1966 for writings that authorities judged to be "anti-Soviet slanders." Daniel was freed in September, 1970, and lives in the town of Kaluga, 120 miles south of Moscow. He also was banned from living in Moscow.

Banishment from Moscow is a usual punishment for persons sentenced for political offenses. The banishment usually lasts for two years or more.

Cubans net fish sentence

KEY WEST, Fla. (UPI)—A federal court jury convicted four Cubans Wednesday of fishing illegally in U.S. waters and the judge immediately sentenced each to a $10,000 fine and six months in jail.

Judge William O. Mehrtens left the way open for a possible modification of the sentence, saying that within the next 120 days he would entertain a motion to amend his judgment and that if the Cuban government paid the fines, "that is a matter I would take into consideration."

The jury of six men and six women deliberated about 40 minutes following the two and one-half-day trial and returned guilty verdicts for each of the young fishermen.

The prosecution spent two days presenting its case and the defense, headed by New York attorney Michael Standard, began its presentation Wednesday morning.

Addicts 'appall' lawmaker

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Seymour Halpern, R-N.Y., testified today that drug addiction was a greater hazard for a serviceman in Vietnam than being shot.

Halpern, who was photographed recently buying heroin on a street in Saigon, told a Senate subcommittee of the visit to Vietnam.

"I was appalled by the epidemic proportions of drug addiction among GI's there."

"Presently I would say there are upwards of 60,000 GI's in Vietnam who are using hard drugs, particularly heroin. This is no exaggeration."

Halpern appeared before the Senate subcommittee on Alcoholism and Drug Abuse headed by Sen. Harold E. Hughes, D-Iowa. In an opening statement, Hughes said he wanted to know how many military drug addicts there were and what the Defense Department was doing to cope with the problem.

Ohio can produce enough salt to supply the United States for the next 150,000 years.

Gem land board acquires land

BOISE (UPI)—At the request of Gov. Cecil D. Andrus, the State Land Board moved Tuesday to acquire 3,000 acres of land in the White Clouds as a means of cracking down on potential mining pollution.

Andrus recommended the state acquire the acreage from the Bureau of Land Management to serve as a "buffer" against possible mining pollution. The state will seek the acreage as part of its "in lieu" selection of federal lands.

This land is located five miles downstream on Little Boulder Creek from the molybdenum claims of American Smelting & Refining Co. (ASARCO).

"This gives us a gate across the mouth of Little Boulder so we can control what happens upstream from the present ASARCO claims," Andrus told fellow board members.

He said the state now has one section of land in the area and he wants to see it acquire the rest to give it access to control of the drainage, water quality and to have as an administrative unit and thus have more say about what might happen upstream.

"I want to keep the water clean," Andrus said.

Just outside the forest boundary the acreage has quite a few trees although primarily it is range land, according to Land Commissioner Gordon C. Trombley. Its highest and best use could be recreation land, Trombley said.

Secretary of State Pete T. Cenarrusa said he felt the Land Department should look into acquisition of the land.

"It's worth consideration that these lands be included in state ownership," he said.

Fights for custody

OLGA SCARPETTA, the natural mother of "Baby Lenore," a 1-year-old child adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas DeMartino formerly of New York, now living in Miami, Fla., is shown with attorney Stanley Rosenblatt whom she had retained to fight her legal battles in Florida to regain custody of her child. (UPI)

Soil dwellers yield clean air

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Spare a kind thought for those soil-dwelling organisms that are too tiny to see except with a microscope.

They may be one reason we are not gassing ourselves to premature death the world around with all that carbon monoxide our autos and industries pour into the atmosphere. According to scientists, enough carbon monoxide is pumped into the air to double the worldwide concentration of the poisonous gas in four or five years.

But for some reason the amount of carbon monoxide in the global atmosphere has not changed appreciably in the past 10 years.

Something, as a recent issue of chemical and engineering news points out, must be removing it from the air about as fast as it is released by man and natural agents.

This "something", according to Dr. Robert E. Inman of the Stanford Research Institute, probably is commonplace soil microorganisms. Inman has reported that about six pounds of potting soil eliminated carbon monoxide from laboratory atmospheres containing 120 parts per million (ppm) of the gas within three hours. Sod showed a similar ability.

Of some 200 different organisms in soils, 16 were identified as carbon monoxide consumers. All were fungi, but some bacteria also may help to remove the gas.

According to a loose estimate, the U.S. soil alone could remove 500 million tons of carbon monoxide per year from the atmosphere. This is more than twice the global yearly man-produced total of 200 million tons.

Motorists enthusiastic over traffic speedup

BOISE (UPI)—Motorists are responding with enthusiasm to a pilot project to speed up traffic between Boise and McCall on State Highway 55, Gov. Cecil D. Andrus' office said Wednesday.

Press Secretary John Hough said Law Enforcement Commissioner John Bender has received a number of letters and postcards from residents of Boise and McCall praising the program. One motorist was so enthusiastic he wrote Bender that the official should be named "Commissioner of the Year" for his efforts to improve the traffic and safety patterns on the road.

Shortly before Memorial Day Bender hired three off-duty Boise City patrolmen to ride motorcycles between Boise and Round Valley to pull the slower, traffic-snarling motorists over to the side of the road and allow the faster traffic to move ahead.

Under a law enacted by the 40th legislature, a motorist is supposed to pull off the road and allow faster traffic to pass him if he is holding up three or more vehicles.

Performance slated

JOHN TREVINO, general chairman, of the Rupert July 4 celebration visits with Chris Doherty, 16, Boise, queen of the Eh-Capa Riders who will participate in the celebration. Miss Doherty was in Rupert making final arrangements for the group of some 40 youths who will perform their riding skills.

Bareback riders set Rupert event

RUPERT—The specialty act this year during the Rupert July 4th celebration will be the Eh-Capa bareback riders (Apache spelled backwards), according to John Trevino, general chairman of the celebration.

Chris Doherty, 16, Boise, the Eh-Capa Queen, was in Rupert Wednesday making final arrangements for the group of riders.

They will perform during the rodeo nightly July 24 and will ride in the July 5 parade.

Both boys and girls ride in the group and range from age 7 through 17 years. Everyone rides bareback and no bridles are used on the horses. Special drills are performed and pole jumping is a highlight, Trevino said. The youths wear Indian costumes complete with black braids and Indian headbands.

The queen is permitted to use a blanket on her horse because of her white Indian dress. The queen is selected on a competition basis.

The Eh-Capa riders have their headquarters in Boise and were organized in 1956 and have been active since that time. They practice three evenings a week. The youths train and own their own horses.

Wayne Stear, Boise, is their supervisor.

In 1966 the Eh-Capa riders rode at the Cheyenne, Wyo., rodeo. They also have appeared at the Mt. Vernon, Wash., rodeo, plus various performances in Idaho. Invitations have been received from as far away as Texas.

This year they will appear at the Snake River Stampede, Nampa, and at the Caribou County Fair and Rodeo, Grace, and at Rupert.

They are working on plans to perform at the Pacific International Livestock Exhibition, Portland.

Elk studied at Dworshak dam

BOISE (UPI)—Elk are being live-trapped and marked for future identification again this spring in a continuing study which began in 1963 to determine their movements in relation to the Dworshak impoundment, the Idaho Fish and Game Department reports.

Trapping is done in May and June when the animals are available and as early as workers can get into the area.

Information on elk migrations, movements and dispersal on summer and winter concentration sites is being gathered in a program financed by the U.S. Corps of Engineers.

According to Wes Shaw, Boise, game biologist, the trapping site is Smith Ridge on the north fork of the Clearwater River in the upper reaches of Dworshak Dam Reservoir.

Ten radio transmitters are scheduled for securing on elk during the trapping season this spring, so the elk can be tracked periodically by tuning in on an electronic beam to follow their movements.

From April to June, 1970, a total of 86 elk were trapped,

Grassman of Year

TELLING ABOUT his diversified operation near Bliss is Doran Butler, the 1971 Gooding County Grassman of the Year. He was named after his ranch was toured by several interested persons Tuesday afternoon.

Rancher-dairyman wins Gooding grassman event

WENDELL — Doran Butler, Bliss rancher and dairyman, is this year's Gooding County Grassman of the Year.

He was named after the grassman committee, headed by Ed Koester, Gooding County agent, and several businessmen, farmers and other federal personnel, toured his ranch and other candidates' farms Tuesday afternoon.

Butler was named by a panel of three judges — Ivan Hopkins, Shoshone, Lincoln County agent; Dean Durfee, Shoshone, BLM area manager, and Dave Mitchell, Jerome, SCS, for his diversified operation on 1,000 acres in the Bliss area.

Butler has dryland crested wheatgrass pastures, irrigated pastures, orchard grass haystands, both grain and silage corn, wheat, oats, dairy operation, purebred Angus and range cattle, on both private and leased BLM land.

Another reason he won the contest on the county level was due to his "weed control." Butler said in past years he has spent from $300 to $350 for controlling weeds. This past year "I spent about $50," using a hand sprayer. He said he carried a hand sprayer in his pickup at all times and whenever he saw noxious weeds, he sprayed them.

"The best time to kill a weed is when you find it," Butler said.

The group also toured Bill Campbell's Desert View Ranch at Wendell, and the Two Plus Ranch, with Ray Moss, manager, southeast of Wendell.

Closed to traffic

Lindsay made an aerial survey of the traffic situation Wednesday and declared the "conditions are not too bad." (UPI)

Telephone strike likely

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The president of the Communications Workers of America says a nationwide telephone strike is likely.

CWA President Joseph A. Beirne said the union had rejected the Bell Telephone Co. offer of a three-year contract with an 11 per cent pay increase the first year and 3 per cent in the next two years.

Contracts with the Bell System companies began expiring April 30, but no strike date has been set. A strike vote of CWA members now is being conducted while negotiations continue.

"It looks bleak," Beirne said. "It looks like there will be a strike."

Beirne was interviewed on the Mutual radio network Tuesday.

Beirne conceded the telephone system was largely automated and able to continue most operations with supervisory personnel. But he said service would break down in many areas during a strike because "the equipment is in pretty bad shape. There is a lot of patchwork that won't stand up."

Angels rally in ninth to cop 4-3 decision over Yankees

ANAHEIM (UPI)—A two-out single in the bottom of the ninth by Tony Gonsales scored Ken Berry with the tie-breaking run Wednesday night that gave the California Angels a 4-3 win over the New York Yankees.

The Yankees had tied it up in the top of the ninth at 3-3 with four singles good for two runs. Berry led off the ninth with a single to left off Jim Hardin, the sacrificed Yankee pitcher. He was sacrificed to second and after Ken McMullen was given an intentional walk, the runners advanced on Tony Conigliaro's deep fly to center.

Gonzales then got his game-winning hit. He came into the game in the eighth inning in a defensive measure, subbing in left field for Billy Cowan who had hit a three-run homer in the seventh off Yankee starter Fritz Peterson.

Jim Fregosi and Conigliaro scored ahead of Cowan whose homer was his first of the season.

DETROIT (UPI)—Norm Cash hit his 12th home run with two on in the first and Les Cain pitched a four-hitter for his first complete game of the season Wednesday night to give the Detroit Tigers a 3-0 triumph over the Milwaukee Brewers.

Cash tied Tony Oliva of Minnesota for the league lead in home runs with a blast deep into the upper deck in right which gave Lew Krausse his eighth defeat in 10 decisions. Al Kaline beat out an infield hit with one out and Willie Horton was hit by a pitch with two out prior to the home run.

Brewers would take Alex Johnson—if they get someone to keep him happy

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Milwaukee Brewers were discussing Alex Johnson and whether or not to make any kind of bid for him. Dave Bristol felt he could be a plus signing Johnson gave him little or no trouble when he played for him with Cincinnati.

"Guys like Rose and Helms knew exactly how to keep him happy and they always got him to put out," Bristol said. "Fine," shot back Frank Lane, Milwaukee's baseball boss, "now tell me how I go about getting Rose and Helms from the Reds."

Nobody can run down old man George Halas around Gale Sayers. "I know a lot of people say he's a cheapskate," Sayers says about the Chicago Bears' guiding genius, "but I consider him one of the finest individuals I've ever met in my life."

George never made a big thing about it or told anyone but he paid all the hospital bills and funeral expenses. "Dave Hill is a fine golfer and one of the most refreshing personalities on the tour but his $1-million suit against the PGA for harassing him from making a living has me a bit puzzled. Before instituting suit, Hill told the PGA's Tournament Players Division he wished to appeal his latest fine. A meeting was set up and Hill was invited to give his side. He never showed up. I'm no lawyer but I've got a pretty good idea of what Dave Hill is going to get out of filing that suit. Practice...

KANSAS CITY (UPI)—Chuck Harrison, making his first start since being recalled from Omaha, crashed a base-loaded, two-out single in the ninth inning Wednesday night to give the Kansas City Royals a 5-4 victory over the Washington Senators.

Box score for Royals vs Senators. Royals: 5 runs, 8 hits, 0 errors. Senators: 4 runs, 7 hits, 1 error.

Jones out in first 60 miles

ENSENADA, Mexico (UPI)—Parnell Jones, winner of last year's Baja 500 off-road vehicle race and highly-favored to repeat this year, was eliminated Wednesday, just 60 miles from the starting point.

Jones, 38, driving a specially-built Ford Bronco, fell victim to a broken valve. Last year he engineered a similar vehicle along the rugged course in 11 hours and 55 minutes to shave three hours off the previous record.

The early lead in the tortuous 557-mile contest around the Baja, California peninsula was held by Fritz Kroyer, 28, Santa Susana, Calif., winner of the Mint 400 Desert Rally held in Las Vegas last March. Kroyer and co-driver Rick James, 27, Reseda, Calif., passed through checkpoint two 162 miles south of here in 2 hours and 9 minutes, eight minutes ahead of the nearest competition. They were driving a Volkswagen-powered dune buggy.

Beliveau quits, takes front office job with Canadiens

MONTREAL (UPI)—Montreal Canadiens team captain Jean Beliveau announced Wednesday he was retiring from active hockey to take up a management position with the club.

Beliveau said he had accepted the position of vice president in charge of public relations for the Canadiens.

Beliveau, who played 18 years with the Canadiens and served 10 years as the team captain, scored 507 goals during his National Hockey League career. In the season just finished, he picked up 76 points with 25 goals and 51 assists.

Matt Snell, the New York Jets' running back, likes George Sauer, Jr., as a player and a person and hopes the Jets' wide receiver changes his mind about quitting. Sauer claims football has become a cold business he doesn't enjoy anymore, but Snell makes good sense when he says: "Sure it's a business. We're in business to make money but the game also provides entertainment for millions and I think George may be losing sight of that fact. As far as football building character is concerned, he may be looking for meanings and purposes which simply aren't there."

Frazier and mayor can't get together

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—World heavyweight boxing champion Joe Frazier, touring with his rock group "The Knockouts," certainly did not make a hit with the Lord Mayor of Belfast Wednesday.

When Frazier finally arrived two hours late for a civic reception in his honor at city hall, the Lord Mayor had gone. "I am a very busy man and there is a limit to how long I can hang around," said Alderman Joseph Cairns as he hurried away.

There was no one to greet the champion officially when he'd return apologetically for "a catalogue of mishaps" that caused the delay.

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Temple University said Wednesday that the National Collegiate Athletic Association had granted its request to change its football classification from the college division to the university division.

The approval, the school said, put Temple in the university division in all sports.

Hooton ready for pro ball

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—Burt Hooton, a knuckle curve specialist with a three-season .117 earned run average and a 35-3 won-loss record at the University of Texas, said Wednesday he wouldn't waste any time launching his pro baseball career.

The 21-year-old Texan, whose family now lives here, was picked No. 2 earlier in the day in the major leagues' secondary draft by the Chicago Cubs. The secondary draft was for players who had been drafted earlier but never signed.

Wanted to sign a pro contract when he was picked by the New York Mets fresh out of a Corpus Christi, Tex., high school, but parental persuasion for a college education won out. He has another year of eligibility at Texas, but since he has now turned 21 he plans to act on his own.

"I am real happy to be picked by the Cubs," especially as high as I was," Hooton said. "I didn't have any raters on which team selected me."

Horse illness threat causes withdrawal

NEW YORK (UPI)—The United States Olympic Committee Wednesday withdrew its entries in the equestrian sports at the sixth Pan-American games in Cali, Colombia, this summer because of a virus highly fatal to horses.

The decision was made after a report by a veterinarian who met with officials in Washington on Tuesday. He pointed out that it was not possible to vaccinate the horses in the United States against the disease, Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis.

The Olympic trials to select a representative in the dressage event scheduled for Cleveland this weekend has been canceled.

campus will be shortened to 23 days the next season. Daily expense money, once the season has started, has been raised to $16 for the individual players while they are on the road.

More money for preseason activities and a shorter training period were the main points. It was also agreed that no player who is on the protected list or who has played 50 games the previous season will be allowed to attend the training camps without signing his contract.

In addition, the meal expense money will be $12 daily for all players who attend the training camps, generally held in September and early October before the start of the regular NHL campaign.

Players included three who are now deceased. Terry Sawchuck who had an outstanding goaltending career with Detroit, Boston, Toronto, New York and Los Angeles was the only netminder included.

American newsmen excluded

TOKYO (UPI)—When Assistant U.S. Secretary of State Philip Trezise sat down with the press in Tokyo last month, not a single American correspondent was in the room. The Americans were not invited.

Two days later, Prime Minister Eisaku Sato called in newsmen for one of his rare press conferences. But only Japanese reporters attended. Chief Cabinet Secretary Shigeru Hori, senior spokesman for Japan's conservative government, meets Japanese newsmen almost daily to answer questions in the name of the prime minister.

But in his 16 months in office, Hori never has called in the 300 American, European and Asian-Pacific newsmen stationed in Tokyo. Japan abolished censorship in 1945 after it lost World War II. The Japanese press today is one of the freest and most vigorous in the world.

Nils-Göran Nyqvist (Japan Newspaper Publishers and Editors Association) says newspaper circulation in Japan totals 51.4 million copies daily in a nation of 103 million people, one of the world's highest newspaper saturation rates.

Japanese newspapers and magazines can recommend abolition of the emperor, removal of the prime minister or establishment of a Communist regime without a single protest from police or government agents.

But a silent curtain denies foreign newsmen regular and direct access to the most important people in government.

Newsman assigned to cover government offices in Japan are organized into reporters' clubs. If you want to ask the prime minister questions, you must join the Kantei (Official Residence) Club. If you want to attend daily press briefings at the Foreign Ministry, you must hold a membership card from the Kasum (Rog Gable) Club.

What's the catch? Only Japanese newsmen can join the reporters' clubs. To combat reporters' clubs, foreign newsmen organized their own club and named it Foreign Press in Japan (FPJ), but results have been microscopic.

Foreign newsmen now can attend the infrequent on-the-record press conferences given by the prime minister and foreign minister. But foreign reporters are expected not to ask questions, and any briefings held by these ministries are off limits to foreigners.

HARLIE HANKE

Elmore boy goes to Europe

GLENN'S FERRY — Harlie Hanke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hanke, Glenn's Ferry will leave for Europe Sunday under the Citizen Ambassador Program as Elmore County's representative.

The group will consist of 50 boys and girls between the ages of 17 and 22 from all over the United States. They will tour 12 countries, including Russia, in 41 days.

Those from the Western and Midwest states will meet in Chicago and travel on to Washington, D.C. where they will be joined by those from the Eastern and Southern states.

After spending three days in Washington, D.C., they will fly directly to London. The Citizen Ambassador Program is a division of People to People which encourages travel activity between countries to enable people of different nationalities to better understand each other.

The youth on the tour will be living much as the ordinary person in each country would live and should come home with an extensive knowledge of the ways of life led in the countries.

Hanke is a graduate of Glenn's Ferry High School and was chosen Mr. EBIA of Idaho for this year.

Camera shop to remodel

TWIN FALLS — Though one business was discontinued as a result of the early morning fire that started in the TV room of the Camera Center Hotel on April 21, the Camera Center itself was only closed two days.

Owner of the building, Walter Blaylock, said today that the two days closure was necessary to extinguish the fire in the two stories of hotel rooms directly over the Camera Center shop.

However, they have carried on business as usual, with the same service offered there as before the fire, with regular store hours, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tuesdays through Saturdays and open until 9 p.m. on Mondays.

Blaylock, who has occupied the business spot for the past 14 years, having leased it for three years, then purchased it 11 years ago, said he has plans to go along with the Twin Falls city downtown improvement project. He said a portion of the building will be torn out, according to his tentative plans at this time, where customer parking space can then be provided, then go ahead with some remodeling of the remaining section.
