House shuns war schedule

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Peace forces in the House of Representatives made their strongest showing on the Vietnam War issue, but heavy Republican support Thursday gave President Nixon yet another vote of confidence on Indochina.

The House defeated 254 to 158 a proposal to endorse a total U.S. withdrawal from the war by Dec. 31, and beat 238 to 146 a second measure calling for withdrawal by June 30, 1972, conditioned on release of all U.S. war prisoners.

Wednesday the Senate also refused to impose a peace deadline on the Nixon administration. The Senate today went back to debate on the draft extension bill, with just 13 days left before the draft law expires. Sen. Mike Gravel, D-Alaska, called up his proposal to bar the use of draftees except during a war declared by Congress. Two dozen more amendments were stacked behind it waiting for action as the Senate entered its sixth week of debate on the draft extension.

Gravel and Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., urged fellow doves to join them in filibustering the measure to cut off manpower for the Vietnam War. But Senate leaders said they would file a cloture petition Monday in an effort to shut off the draft debate.

The Dec. 31 pullout date turned down by the House would have been largely a symbolic gesture.

Red arms located at Saigon

SAIGON (UPI)—South Vietnamese police said today they had seized two Viet Cong arms caches in what the government said was a Communist plot to infiltrate Saigon Saturday to disrupt a massive Armed Forces Day parade.

Communiques from Phnom Penh said Communist forces bombarded Cambodian army posts on both sides of the capital early today. A Cambodian officer said U.S. jets had been called in to help in the battle against North Vietnamese in the marshlands east of the city.

Military spokesmen in Saigon said thousands of military and civilian police were searching the South Vietnamese capital for possible Communist arms hiding places. American servicemen were ordered off the streets except on official business.

Police seized a 60mm mortar and two rocket-propelled grenade launchers across the Saigon River from the downtown section a few hours earlier.

City officials said the communists have planned to infiltrate four bomb squad battalions into Saigon to disrupt the parade.

Drug aide

DR. JEROME H. Jaffe, head of Illinois drug abuse program, has been appointed to serve as special consultant on narcotics and dangerous drugs by President Nixon. He is expected to serve until new agency to fight drug abuse is set up and he becomes its head. (UPI)

Jobs bill OK seen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In a change of heart, the Nixon administration has abandoned its decision to veto a bill which could put as many as 200,000 unemployed people on municipal payrolls, Senate sources said Thursday.

But, the sources say, the administration wants the legislation modified so that nearly all the jobs will go to jobless veterans of the Vietnam War.

Word of the administration's new position was relayed Thursday to a conference of House and Senate members who were trying to reconcile differences between versions of the legislation.

MIT aide provided document

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Anti-war congressman Paul McCloskey says he was given documents dealing with a top secret Vietnam War study by the man who has been described as the source of the information. The New York Times received on the subject.

McCloskey, a California Republican who has threatened to challenge President Nixon for the GOP nomination next year over the war issue, said Thursday he received the documents more than a month ago from Daniel Ellsberg, 40, a former adviser at both the State and Defense Departments.

Ellsberg, holder of a doctor's degree from Harvard University, now is a senior research associate at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

He last was reported seen Wednesday after eating lunch at the MIT Faculty Club.

Andrus cites fund 'trade'

By JERRY HERRMANN
Times-News Writer

BURLEY — Gov. Cecil Andrus told city officials today at the Association of Idaho Cities convention that they have only created a state problem by finding a city solution.

He said the cities had had a good year but the money for street funding that was taken from the state highway department funds has really created a problem that will come home to roost in the next year.

He said the solution has provided for black top and pavement in the cities instead of out on the highway system in the state. He said "next year we will have to put as much muscle behind the effort to find this much more revenue for the state highway department as was lost this year."

"We can't afford to lose highway funds," he said, "and you can count on it that I will be around to solicit the help of the cities next year in getting additional funds for the highway department."

He said some of the solutions still needed are on the sewage treatment facilities in the state. "There are many municipalities still sending raw sewage into our free-flowing streams."

"Simply because cities have difficulty in getting sewage treatment plant bonds passed, this is no reason to throw up our hands," he said.

"This simply cannot continue. The cities and state will have to try harder to solve this as it is something that shouldn't and can't be allowed." He pointed out that if the cities and state won't solve this problem, the Environmental Protection Agency will step in and do it.

He said the state provided matching funds and as long as these funds exist the federal government will pay 50 per cent of the cost of these projects with the state and cities each picking up 25 per cent.

However, he said, the state now has a problem that is out of matching funds. Idaho Falls in one project wiped out its fund, he noted.

He said the state is going to have to come up with more funds and this will be one of the big battles in the next legislative session. He said if the cities didn't help get this money, they could figure on a 70-30 matching, 70 per cent cities cost and 30 per cent federal matching funds.

"This is a very serious problem and we have to solve it," he said.

He then said the federal funds available to Idaho this year weren't picked up so they reverted back to the federal government's general fund.

However, he said, next year the federal government has told the state of Idaho it will double the amount of funds for sewage treatment plants that were available to the state this year.

He said one of the big reasons so much emphasis has been placed on this problem in Idaho is that it is an upriver state and whatever is done in Idaho has an impact all the way to the Pacific Ocean.

US funds housing project

TWIN FALLS — A $97,740 contract has been approved for the Twin Falls Housing Authority by the Department of Housing and Urban Development, according to Rep. Orval Hansen.

The contract is for Phase II of the public housing modernization project and will finance physical improvements, including measures to promote economic and social growth of the residents at Pioneer Square and Washington Courts.

Larry Harper, executive director of Twin Falls Housing Authority said the first Phase of the modernization project was recently completed and the additional funds will see the project completed.

Hansen said the amount obligated today brings to $434,740 the total HUD funds committed to the project.

The project involves 28 units at Pioneer Square and housing project for the senior citizens and 56 units at Washington Courts, a family housing unit. Playground equipment including swings and a softball backstop are included in the project.

PARANOID PLANTS

A polygraph expert has discovered that laboratory plants have displayed a surprising variety of reactions to different types of stimulation that he has subjected them to. Some reactions were agitation, perspiring, fear.

CSI seeks education TV channel

By LEE TREMAINE
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — Dr. James L. Taylor, president of the College of Southern Idaho, said today that the college has filed a petition with the Federal Communications Commission for assignment of a construction permit for a projected educational television station.

The permit is presently owned by Boise Valley Broadcasters, Inc., operators of Boise TV station KBOI. Boise Valley Broadcasters also owns the right to use Channel 13, presently unused, for television broadcasting, with the assigned call letters of KBYN.

The firm has agreed to sell Channel 13 to CSI for $2,500, Dr. Taylor said today. Payment of the $2,500 is contingent on approval from the FCC of the construction permit petition.

CSI would utilize Channel 13 for non-commercial broadcasts originating in a studio located "probably in the Vocational School on Kimberly Road," according to CSI President Dr. James L. Taylor. Boise Valley Broadcasters now has the construction permit. FCC approval would shift the permit to CSI and allow work to begin on the facilities.

Valley with no tie-in to the state network, Dr. Taylor said.

Westernman Whillock, Boise, president of KBOI, agreed to sell CSI the right to operate on Channel 13 to fill the gap and provide a needed service for the Magic Valley.

The cost will be met by donation of $100,000 in equipment by Twin Falls station KMVT and Boise's KBOI. Financial help will be provided by a federal grant providing $150,000 in funds for construction of the station.

The federal grant will be made on a matching three-to-one basis, with the federal government tripling local contributions, which can be "in-kind" donations such as the equipment. Thus, the $100,000 donation of equipment will help to meet federal standards, Dr. Taylor said.

The federal grant has not been formally approved, but is also "in the works," the CSI President added.

The CSI transmitter will be located on Jerome Butte, about five miles east of Jerome, to provide maximum coverage of the Magic Valley. Programs broadcast by CSI will be available on any TV set, adding a new dimension in education for the entire valley.

The station will broadcast locally originated programs, as well as relaying educational programs from elsewhere, with no advertising or commercial messages, Dr. Taylor explained. The 21 high-school districts in the Magic Valley will be provided with vocationally-oriented programs developed specifically to meet their needs.

REP. BOB ECKHARDT, D-Texas, tells news conference in Washington, D.C., that he and 20 House Democrats will seek to take part in Justice Department injunction suit against New York Times in effort to establish right to obtain information about Vietnam war. He said group planned to appear in New York Federal District Court today. (UPI)

Times denies U.S. charges

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Times today denied government charges that articles it published based on a "top secret" Pentagon report on Vietnam prejudiced the defense interests of the United States.

In a brief filed in federal court the Times said the government had not made the slightest effort to prove that the defense efforts of the nation would be harmed by publication of the series.

The newspaper accused the government of seeking to enjoin The Times from performing its function as a newspaper.

"It seeks to do so with respect to news articles dealing with single, most controversial war in American history which is today the single most controversial issue in American life."

The Times brief claimed the information revealed in the three articles published so far in no way endangered or injured the American armed forces or that there was any prospect of future articles having this effect.

Federal Judge Murray I. Gurfein last Tuesday granted a government request for a temporary restraining order to prevent the Times from publishing the final two parts of the five-part series which disclosed decision-making at the White House level.

Deputy U.S. marshals barred the courtroom to most reporters for today's hearing on the government's request for permanent injunction against further publication. Protests by the newsmen that the issue of freedom of the press was on trial and that the press was being barred from covering it were ignored.

In its brief presented to the court today and made available to newsmen, the Times said that in effect all it was guilty of was publishing "part of an historical record and, we submit, in doing so have served the nation as the first amendment intended it to."

Loan foe

LEONARD WOODCOCK, president of United Automobile Workers, opposed $250 million government loan guarantee to Lockheed Aircraft Corp. in testimony before Senate Banking Committee Thursday. He said there is great risk Lockheed will fail even with loan, leaving taxpayers holding bag. (UPI)

Dedicated today

DEDICATION ceremonies were held this afternoon for the new Gooding County courthouse. Architects for the structure, the first courthouse building the county has ever had, were Watson and Leatham, Boise. Contractors were L. J. Ellsworth Construction Co., Blackfoot. Cost of the building was $553,372, part of which was federally funded.

Viet aid plan told

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Eisenhower administration tried to delay 1955 elections in Vietnam for fear Ho Chi Minh would win, and was actively considering limited military intervention before the 1954 Geneva Convention, according to a secret Pentagon document published today by the Washington Post.

... sending 200 military mechanics and aircraft to aid the French. The Post said the documents "reflect this consideration (military intervention) at many points," but it cited only the discussions raised in the January, 1954 meeting of the committee on Indochina.

There was no direct indication the report was the same one used as the basis of a New York Times series on the Vietnam War. The Times was placed early this week under a temporary federal court injunction not to print the final parts of its series.

should be only held as long after cease-fire agreement as possible and in conditions free from intimidation to give democratic elements best chance.

The report said President Eisenhower's special committee on Indochina met six months before the convention to discuss

The Post also said the papers "do not include any Eisenhower decision not to intervene at any of the several points during 1954 when that was under consideration."

The Post said Eisenhower, under the prodding of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, made his attempt to delay the elections during 1954 Geneva convention.

The U.S. effort to head off the elections failed at the convention, which was called after the French were defeated at Dien Bien Phu May 8, 1954.

Education panel invites Idahoans

BOISE — Sen. John M. Barker, Buhl, and Mrs. Hope Kading, Boise, have been invited to take part in panel discussions during the meeting of the Education Commission of the United States in Boston later this year.

health related programs, employment as an educational goal, financing of education, assessment programs, expanded school years, conflicting goals in planning for higher education and innovations in performance contracts and vouchers.

This week, Gov. Cecil D. Andrus told the Idaho Unit of the commission to establish a "sense of priorities" before the Boston meeting so members could attend different workshops.

She said she hoped the Idaho unit could take advantage of work done in other states in education related fields and said the Denver office of the commission could provide any materials needed.

VALLEY OBITUARIES

E. Robins

TWIN FALLS — Mrs. Ella Robins, 87, died late Thursday at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital following a long illness.

Mrs. Robins was born in Marion, Iowa on Feb. 19, 1884. She attended Coe College in Cedar Rapids, Iowa and was married to George W. Robins, Dec. 31, 1902, at Robins. They moved to Ronan, Mont., in 1908 where Mr. Robins was employed by the Indian Affairs Department of the U.S. Government as a teacher. In 1912 they moved to Fort Hall and lived in that area until Mr. Robins' death in October 1929. Mrs. Robins taught in the Idaho Falls area until her retirement in 1947 at which time she moved to Twin Falls.

Mrs. Robins was a member of the First United Methodist Church, WSCS, and the Senior Social Group of the church. She also was a member of the Idaho and National Education Association.

Surviving are a son, R. B. Robins, Redwood City, Calif.; a daughter, Mrs. Lloyd (Retura) Kimpton, Twin Falls; two brothers, George Reynolds, Salt Lake City, and Everett E. Reynolds, Cedar Rapids, Iowa; two sisters, Mrs. Frank Hough and Mrs. Walter Schultz, both of Cedar Rapids; eight grandchildren, seven great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild. In addition to her husband Mrs. Robins was preceded in death by a son.

Funeral services for Mrs. Robins will be conducted at 10:30 a.m. Monday in the Twin Falls Mortuary Chapel with the Rev. Herbert E. Morris officiating. Graveside services will be conducted by Rev. Morris, in the Sterling, Idaho, Cemetery at 3:30 p.m.

O. Brown

BELLEVUE — Mrs. Ollie May Brown, 74, Bellevue, died Thursday afternoon in the Sun Valley Hospital of a long illness.

She was born May 1, 1897 at Park City, Utah, and came to Idaho in 1902 with her parents in a covered wagon. They lived in Boise for a time, later moving to Donavan. They then moved to Bellevue where she had lived since.

She worked at the Bellevue Post Office and as a telephone operator in the old Bellevue telephone office.

She was married to John Brown Dec. 17, 1917 in Bellevue.

She is survived by one son, John L. Brown and one daughter, Betty Brown, both Bellevue; one sister, Mrs. Marguerite Tidball, Ely, Nev., and three grandsons. She was preceded in death by her husband, one sister and one brother.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Monday in the Bellevue Community Church with Rev. Don Kunkel officiating. Final rites will be in the Bellevue Cemetery under the direction of Bird Funeral Home.

M. Slater

TWIN FALLS — Mrs. Margaret Mary Slater, 48, died of a short illness Wednesday night at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital.

She was born Feb. 18, 1923, at Saskatchewan, Canada, and was married to Leland Slater in 1953 at Phoenix, Ariz. She came to Idaho when she was five years old and had formerly lived at Rupert. She was a member of the Methodist Church.

Surviving, besides her husband are a son, Marvin Studder, Pendleton, Ore.; two step-sons, Raymond Slater, Boise, and LeRoy Slater, Rupert; a brother, Marvin Studder, Rupert, and four step-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 10 a.m. Saturday at White Mortuary Chapel by Rev. Herbert Morris. Final rites will be at Twin Falls Cemetery. Friends may call at the mortuary Friday and until 9-15 a.m. Saturday.

Impact menaces economy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Appropriations Committee said today environmental protection — if carried too far — can wreck the economy, jeopardize food supplies and shorten human life.

It warned that Americans will not willingly provide the "hundreds of billions of dollars" needed to restore and safeguard natural resources unless prosperity, good food, and good health also continue assured.

The committee issued its warning in a report on a newly packaged $12 billion money bill providing just about what President Nixon requested for agriculture and for environmental and consumer protection.

The committee in no way minimized environmental threats posed by air, water and other pollution, and in fact increased Nixon's budget request for various protective functions by $209 million — to a total of $3.1 billion for the business year starting July 1. But it also put up $200,000 for use by the Agriculture Department in assessing the impact on food production of any anti-pollution action pending before the Environmental Protection Agency.

And it made available $6.3 million to finance studies on possible adverse effects of pending environmental cleanups on employment and the economy.

Campgrounds, roads in use

TWIN FALLS — Sawtooth National Forest officials said today all campgrounds and main roads in the Hailey area are open, with side trails wet and muddy and streams high.

Anderson Reservoir is near capacity, the South Fork of the Boise River is high and fishing in the area is poor.

In the Ketchum area, all campgrounds are open and six new units will open at the Wood River campground Friday.

All campgrounds in the South Hills are open and in good condition. The Oakley-Rogerson road is closed from Porcupine Springs to Oakley. Third Fork Trail is open and spring maintenance is in process.

Main roads are in good condition, but travel on side and back roads is discouraged. Dollar Hide is closed due to snowslides and Trail Creek Summit is passable, but narrow and hazardous.

In the Burley area, the Bennett Springs and Hollow Canyon campgrounds are open and equipped with water and sanitary facilities. In the Bostetter area the Father and Son camp is open but wet.

All campgrounds except Point and part of Mt. Heyburn are open in the Sawtooth Valley-Redfish area.

The Clear Creek, Sublett and Lake Fork campground in the Malta area are open. Roads are extremely rutted, but trails and fishing in the area are good.

Smokey Bear campgrounds and North Shore are open at Alturas Lake. Inlet campgrounds are closed due to high water.

The City of Rocks is the south route by way of Almo. Trails are snow covered and streams high.

Lower trails are wet and trails at higher elevations are still snowed in. Most of the lakes in the area are still frozen and snow covered with the exception of Champion Lakes, which are thawing, and the Bench Lakes.

Before entering the hospital, Friml said he felt fine and had never been sick.

MEN'S STORES OF TODAY

Meet opens

DELEGATES TO THE 33rd annual Idaho DAV Convention listen to a speaker during the first day's session Thursday in the Twin Falls DAV Hall. Nearly 100 DAV members from throughout Idaho have registered for the three-day confab, which ends Saturday evening with installation of officers.

DAV anniversary plan outlined at Gem meet

TWIN FALLS — Activities of the Veterans Administration and plans for the Disabled American Veterans organization's 50th anniversary were outlined today to delegates to the Idaho DAV Convention in Twin Falls.

Nearly 100 members from throughout the state are attending the three-day confab at the Twin Falls DAV Hall. Saturday, the convention will close after new officers are elected and installed.

Today, Larry Laughridge, Boise, executive secretary of the VA, and former Twin Falls resident, explained the VA activities and services offered to DAV.

Thomas Dehne, Cincinnati, Ohio, National DAV controller, told of the 50th anniversary of the DAV and that this year's national convention will be held in August in Detroit, site of the first DAV national convention 50 years ago.

He also reviewed DAV plans for the coming year.

150 due regional session

TWIN FALLS — About 150 Toastmistress members are expected to attend the Snake River Regional Conference opening at the Holiday Inn here today.

The event will continue through Sunday. Serving as hosts for the conference will be members of Council Seven which includes Twin Falls, Minidoka, and Cassia counties.

Special guests in the conference will be Mrs. H.A. McClelland, of Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada, vice president of Toastmistress Northern Regions, and Mrs. Jean Weber, Idaho Falls, president-elect of International Toastmistress Clubs.

Mrs. LeRoy Arrington, regional supervisor, Twin Falls, will conduct business sessions scheduled during the conference. In addition, a series of workshops is planned Saturday.

Past commanders were honored at the annual Past Commanders Luncheon in the Turf Club. Tonight the delegates will go to Jackpot for dinner and entertainment, Arthur Patterson, Twin Falls, Stradley Chapter commander and convention chairman, said.

Thursday, Loran Kopan, Boise, VA hospital official, told of the expansion planned for the hospital in Boise. He said the $4 million project will include ambulance service, surgical units, new 40-bed surgical ward

Mock legislative session conducted

BOISE (UPI) — More than 200 delegates attending Sylvania Girls State spent today in a mock legislative session in the Idaho statehouse.

Oaths of office were to be administered to the youthful legislators by Supreme Court Chief Justice Henry McQuade. Speakers included a representative of the office of Gov. Cecil D. Andrus and 1971 Girls State Gov. Anne Hagerman, Wendell, who delivered her "State of the State" message to a joint session.

Some of the bills to be considered, chosen by the delegates themselves, includes ones to require annual road tests for persons over 65, evidence of liability insurance before a motor vehicle could be registered, and certification of physical fitness before persons over 60 would be allowed to drive.

Another measure would limit income tax exemptions to no more than two children, while another bill would give an individual the same status as the head of a household for state income tax purposes.

Thursday Miss Louise Shaddock, administrative assistant to Rep. Orval Hansen, R-Idaho, told the delegates their first responsibility should be to individual effort.

Saying the No. 1 sin in life is giving up, Miss Shaddock told the high school girls there are no shortcuts and no easy ways to good citizenship.

A thought for today: Aesop said, "Self conceit may lead to self destruction."

Credit seminars slated in state

BOISE (UPI) — Acting Commissioner of Finance Tom McEldowney said Thursday his department is holding seminars throughout the state to explain the new uniform consumer credit code which goes into effect July 1.

McEldowney said seminars already have been held in Boise, Twin Falls, Pocatello, Idaho Falls, Lewiston and Coeur d'Alene and have been attended by bank, savings and loan and small loan company officials.

The "biggest problem" in administering the code, he said, "is going to be getting the smaller merchants throughout the state to realize they are going to be under this law and have to be licensed." He said the licensing requirements included merchants who extend credit or sell items on an installment basis even if the installment loan is sold to someone else. He said an exception would be a merchant who uses bank credit card service for installment loans.

Noting with the new laws there were no precedents to follow in legal disputes, McEldowney said "anything we can't resolve will have to go to court for litigation."

Sections of the new code set bank credit card rates at 15 per cent.

Father-son golf event set Sunday

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls Men's Golf Association's third annual Father-Son Tournament will be played Sunday at the Twin Falls Municipal Golf Course.

Ray Wight, president, said it will be a two-man best ball, full handicap event and fathers and sons of any age may play. However, if teams not father and son, then the youngest of the two must be 18 years of age.

All entry fees will go toward prizes and tee-off time is optional. Call in to reserve time, Wight said.

Cooling project finished

TWIN FALLS — The quarter-million-dollar air conditioning and remodeling project at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital has been completed, except for minor details, according to Mrs. Irene Oliver, hospital administrator.

The general contract with Home-Plumbing and Heating of Twin Falls, signed last October, was for $204,000, with an additional $5,000 required after work started because of unforeseen problems in the construction of the hospital which required additional labor.

An additional $16,320 was required in engineering and architectural fees, Mrs. Oliver said.

Air conditioning was installed in patients' rooms, classrooms and corridors; a new laundry chute was constructed to meet state building codes for hospitals, and an outside incinerator was built to replace an interior facility as a safety factor.

The remodeling project reduced the hospital's bed capacity by 10 to 14 beds during construction, Mrs. Oliver said, but "it wasn't as much of a problem as we anticipated."

TV smokes

TWIN FALLS — Two trucks from the Twin Falls City Fire Department were dispatched at 6:10 p.m. Thursday on a smoke investigation call at 245 Monroe St.

Firemen said a television set at the residence of Mrs. Damon Rutherford was smoking, but there was no other damage. Both trucks were back in quarters at 6:30 p.m.

Teeth In Renegotiation

WASHINGTON — Unnoticed amid the continuing complaints about weapons costs and price overruns, another two-year extension of the renegotiation act is quietly sliding toward final congressional approval.

$35 million in profits which are determined to be excessive over the two-year extension period. And that isn't all. On notice by the board's criteria, some contractors voluntarily return profits or reduce prices which would clearly be deemed excessive.

Incredible

When Senator Edward Kennedy accused President Nixon of playing politics with the Vietnam War and using American war prisoners as pawns in his "master political plan," he drew prompt and proper disagreement from Senator Hubert Humphrey as titular head of the Democratic party.

to prolong the war one hour or one minute or at the cost of one American boy's life.

We agree completely with Senator Humphrey that "I believe President Nixon wants peace as badly as any senator or anybody else," and "I don't believe the President is playing politics with Vietnam."

It is to Senator Kennedy's discredit that he allowed partisanship to cloud his judgment and to stoop to unbelievable charges. Kennedy said in a speech before the National Convocation of Lawyers to End the War:

Senator Kennedy's remarks bear a singular resemblance to statements made by North Vietnamese negotiators in Paris last October when they dismissed President Nixon's comprehensive plan for peace, including an immediate ceasefire, as a political ploy aimed at garnering votes in the elections last November.

"The only possible excuse for continuing the discredited policy of Vietnamizing the war seems to be the President's intention to play his last great card for peace at a time closer to November 1972 when the chances will be greater that the action will benefit the coming presidential election campaign.

From a communist, such rhetoric was to be expected. It becomes a United States Senator. As for the President's policy being discredited, the record shows the opposite. It has been successful in steady and continuing reduction of American forces in Vietnam.

"How many more American soldiers must die, how many innocent Vietnamese civilians must be killed, so that the final end to the war may be announced in 1972 instead of 1971?"

Blame for continuing the war rests on Hanoi, not the White House.

That is political hogwash and demagoguery, Senator Kennedy. We believe President Nixon would rather give up his high office than Every American yearns for peace, lasting peace, and that is the goal of President Nixon.

The Error

Everyone in a sense is an economic forecaster. The consumers who decide now is the time to buy work against those who are saving for the future.

Reserve Bank of Philadelphia made a study of the successes and failures of a number of forecasts available since 1958. His conclusion is they ought to be viewed with a good bit of caution.

How well do the forecasters do? Not so well, apparently. An economist with the Federal

Of 13 forecasters whose methods were comparable, the economist found an average margin of error of 2.2 percent. That may not sound like much, but it was enough to make the difference between a "good" and "bad" year for each year of the 1960s.

Old Oregon Trail

What urge had these intrepid souls, To endure hardships along the savage trail? Hundreds died and never reached their goals.

Many a pioneer was left to rest in peace. For trials and hardship were too much to bear, And friends and homes were left behind back East.

Scouts told tall tales of gold on top of ground, Where one needed neither shovel, pick or hoe. Where everything man needed did abound

A great majestic land unspoiled, wide and vast, Where the Indians lived and loved and died, Before the White Man's shadow cast

And Oregon with grassy hills and forests green, Where a mighty Gorge linked ocean with the plain. And salmon leaped the falls in icy mountain stream.

And so progress marched on year after year Along the old and beaten trail, till now. Only faint traces, unused, rutted, now appear

So thousands came and settled on the land, While others felled the trees or dug for gold.

So ends the tale of the Oregon Trail. The trail that led to the promised land, Where many a pioneer went through travail

And some fought back the Red Man's band, And won the land for all to hold.

That traveled West with the courageous band. Robert Lafayette Gillett have solved many of his most serious problems in one fell swoop.

ART BUCHWALD

Tying Up NYC

WASHINGTON — New York had one of its worst traffic jams in history.

The reason for the complete breakdown was that Mayor John Lindsay and Police Commissioner Patrick Murphy did not follow the advice of President Nixon and Atty. Gen. John Mitchell in dealing with traffic tieups in major cities.

First, the traffic jams would have been broken up in a few minutes, and those not arrested would have been able to get to work. Second, those arrested and incarcerated would have to put up a $25 bond. If they didn't appear for trial, the bond would have been forfeited.

The first thing Mayor Lindsay and Commissioner Murphy should have done was to go on television and warn the people that anyone stalled in his car on a turnpike or road leading into Manhattan would be arrested.

Adding up the bonds of all the people who were stalled that day, the city would have been enriched to the tune of over $250 million, all of it money that Gov. Rockefeller couldn't touch.

The mayor would not only have kept his traffic moving but would have solved his financial problems at the same time.

Anyone in a car in an area where there was a traffic jam would be subject to arrest, on the assumption that he was either participating in the traffic tieup or was a spectator.

ANDREW TULLY

Oh, Bully

Those people stalled on the Long Island Expressway coming toward the Triborough Bridge would be taken off to Shea Stadium and incarcerated there. Those who couldn't move coming down from Westchester and the Bronx would be thrown into Yankee Stadium. People stuck waiting to go through the Lincoln Tunnel or over the George Washington Bridge would be held in the Hudson tubes outside of Jersey City.

Now, neither Kennedy nor Johnson was able to concoct this piece of villainy on his own. They had to be, and were, aided and abetted by a succession of Democratic Congresses. The Democrats ran (and still run) the armed services, foreign affairs and appropriations committees of the Congress which approved the Kennedy-Johnson policies and provided the money with which to implement them.

To break up the traffic jams so that the police buses and trucks could get through, recalcitrant drivers would be tear-gassed.

Today, when even some generals want to get out of Indochina, Democratic peace mongers so far have been unable to persuade their Democratic colleagues to cut off the dough for the fighting.

While civil libertarians might squawk about the methods used by the police, Mayor Lindsay and Commissioner Murphy could defend their tactics on the grounds that the traffic tieups constituted a threat to the health and welfare of New York City.

Although it is now called "Nixon's War," the still-Democratic Congress has refused to use its control over the purse strings to disavow it. Some peace mongering.

The mayor could say, "It was vital that the government of New York City continue functioning, and I authorized Commissioner Murphy to use all legal methods including mass arrests to insure that the highways, bridges and roads to city hall were kept open."

This leads us to an examination of the howls emitted by Democratic polls over American dope addiction in Vietnam. The fact they so blithely ignore is that the U. S. has had a drug problem here at home since, roughly, 1960, well before the buildup in Vietnam. If kids could go junkie on campus and street, where it was officially considered naughty and even, sometimes, criminal, it follows they would have no trouble enjoying their addiction in Indochina, where taking dope for centuries has been a part of the life style.

Diabetes

Dear Dr. Thosteson: About two years ago it was found that I had "adult type" diabetes. I am now 54.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: A year and a half ago I had a nodule the size of a walnut removed from the left side of the thyroid gland.

I was put on a diet and brought my weight down 25 pounds. Since then blood tests have been good and I never show any sugar in my daily urine test.

The doctor removed half the gland, but said the nodule was benign. Since then I have gained 17 pounds and my appetite is constantly out of control — before the operation I could always control my appetite. Do you think it possible that I need thyroid medication? After the operation the doctor said he thought the other half of the thyroid would take care of everything. — Mrs. N. B.

Although I gave up sugar in beverages and on cereals, I never completely gave up candy, pie, desserts, etc. Is it safe to continue eating them as long as no sugar shows in my urine test? — A. B.

Well, congratulations on doing a good job of dieting, getting rid of 25 pounds. But I still have to say no on the cake, pies, and other sweets. Mild diabetes can usually be controlled by diet and weight loss, with blood and urine tests showing normal.

However, the diabetes trait is still there, and the sweets you eat can eventually bring it out actively again.

Estimating at the time of the operation is one thing, knowing for sure is another. It is possible, from your account, that half your thyroid is NOT producing enough thyroid hormone.

Even though the urine tests are negative, have you ever had a blood test immediately after eating some of those sweets? You might be surprised, because the blood levels and urine levels do not always correspond.

So instead of relying too much on that estimate months ago, I suggest that you go back to the doctor for suitable tests to determine how well your thyroid is functioning. You may, of course, simply have skidded into a habit of eating more than you need, but if the tests show low thyroid function, a little medication may help a lot.

Use of land choice key

BOISE (UPI)—A special legislative committee named to oversee selection of some 40,000 acres of land due to Idaho by the federal government said today the "highest and best use" of the land would be the primary criteria for selection.

U. S. Gov. Jack Murphy, named by the legislature to head the group, said the committee will make its recommendations to the State Land Board. Lands obtained will be part of the state's endowment properties, with income to be used for support of public schools.

That, Murphy said, "kind of puts us in a position...of acting

Basque visit planned

BOISE (UPI) — In July, Secretary of State Pete Cennarus will make what he emphasized Thursday is a private trip to Spain and France to visit Basque relatives.

But Cennarus visited in Washington, D.C. Monday with a State Department official on European affairs who briefed Cennarus on the American attitude toward last year's trials in Burgos, Spain, of six Basques accused of murder in connection with the death of a Spanish police chief.

Cennarus, who said he will speak to several Basque groups on his three to four week trip, said the Basques were "confused" over the United States' involvement with Franco Spain and with the attitude of the United States during the trial. However, he said, "The State Department suggested it's not a good thing to get involved in another country's business when you are over there."

Cennarus said the State Department spokesman, whose name Cennarus could not recall, told him the U.S. government felt it had diplomatically done what it could in connection with the trials.

Cennarus said Basques were concerned that at the time of the trials only two countries did not make protests — the United States and Cuba.

But, Cennarus said, the State Department's role was to relay messages from three U.S. governors "as to their concern over the conduct of the Burgos trials and the manner in which these Basques were being treated."

The governors, Cennarus said, were Don Samuelson of Idaho, Paul Laxalt of Nevada and Tom McCall of Oregon.

in a quasi-trustee responsibility."

Murphy said the "dollar value (of the lands) will be a very significant part of any formula."

Rep. Vernon Ravenscroft, D-Tuttle, said a statehood Idaho was given two sections of every township, but said the forest reserves to establish the national forest system took some of the sections.

Sen. James Ellsworth, R-Leadore, said the land has been waiting for selections since the early 1900s and said since then the situation has been "in limbo with practically nothing done about these particular areas."

Murphy said there were some "legal clouds" over the actual selection, but said the choice must be made from the unappropriated domain.

In addition, he said, the committee will be "looking into the area" of mineral and phosphate rights reserved by the federal government in some lands given to the state. He said there was a legal question whether the federal government had the right to reserve the mineral rights and whether Idaho had the authority to accept the reservation.

Ravenscroft said in eastern Idaho some companies were paying the state for surface rights to state lands but paying mineral royalties to the federal government.

Murphy said he estimated some $4 million had been paid to the federal government from the mineral rights.

Further, Ravenscroft said, there are some areas in the state where the state owns timber and range lands. He said the committee may want to select adjacent acres—even though the dollar value is not as great—to block out manageable areas which he said in turn would raise the value of the entire area.

I-80N traffic onto eastbound lanes

SHOSHONE — H. F. Johnson, Idaho Department of Highways district engineer announced today that traffic will be routed over the eastbound lane of Interstate 80-N between Wendell and Jerome.

Crews are currently hauling and placing base material on four miles of the westbound lane, installing illumination in the interchange area and placing asphalt-treated base material on the eastbound lane and interchange ramps. Traffic has been routed over approximately four miles of the eastbound lane at the end of the project west of Jerome. A detour at the junction of Idaho Highway 25 and Highway 46 remains in effect.

Also on Interstate 80, the construction of underpasses between Wendell and Jerome are approximately 75 per cent complete, Johnson said. Work includes constructing concrete slope pavement on the abutment fills at all of the structure locations, forming for concrete deck placement for a grade separation and constructing concrete box girders on the interchange south of Wendell. Periodic traffic delays can be expected, he said.

It is expected that the contractor will begin hauling base material to Highway 80 west of Filer this week. Roadway subgrading, installing pipe and placing granular borrow is nearly complete. Traffic delays can be expected through one-half mile of the construction zone near Filer, he said.

Drilling for core samples on the Perrine Bridge is now approximately 50 per cent complete. The pedestrian restriction on the bridge will remain in effect until the project is complete and one lane traffic on U. S. 93 in the project area can be expected periodically, Johnson said.

Work is expected to begin on the Timmerman rest area this week. Crews are hauling and placing borrow and installing pipe on State Highway 68 at Picabo. On U. S. 26 west of Shoshone, drilling in the rock excavation areas within the new roadway portions of the project in preparation for blasting has begun.

The steel and concrete bridge at the Murtaugh Loop is now complete with exception of minor work on the handrail and expansion joints. A seal will be applied this week to 11 miles of Highway 25 east of the Eden Corner.

LOU PROHUT FAMILY

LOU PROHUT started a career in show business with his first music lesson at age five. Since then his entire life has been devoted to the musical presentation of the act which you see today. Private tutoring by the leading teachers of the day helped to produce the "Prohut technique" on his instrument which is recognized by leading teachers and professional musicians all over the world. During his time Lou practiced four as a feature performer of the WCS National Barn Dance show. Two years later he got his first job in radio at WYAK, Yankton, So. Dakota, where Lawrence Welk's career began. During this time Lou practiced and arranged the flashy solo work which led to his discovery by HORACE HEIDT and his network, Youth Opportunity Show. After winning ten successive shows LOU enlisted in the U.S. Marine Corps where after boot camp and several months on Marine Corps radio and T.V. shows, was chosen to go on a world-wide tour as a representative of the Marine Corps.

Upon completion of his Marine Corps duties, LOU arrived in Chicago as a featured performer on Radio Station WLS during which time Lou turned his career in arranging. Then, on to television where for five years Lou became writer, arranger, and performer for the ABC-TV network "POLKA GO ROUND SHOW." This led to eight record albums for ABC Paramount Records.

LOU's association with ABC led to his first appearance on the famous DON McNEIL'S BREAKFAST CLUB show which Lou appeared for nine years as a regular guest until the termination of the show which ran for 26 years. During his tenure with the Breakfast Club, Lou was able to do many personal appearances with such notables as VICTOR BORGE, LAWRENCE WELK, ARLENE DAHL, PATTI PAGE, and others too numerous to mention.

Then, in the spring of 1967, an event happened which was to change Lou's great act. ENTER — LOU PROHUT FAMILY!!!!!!

During the winter of '67 the PROHUT KIDS, all six, decided to work up a little dance routine under the direction of the oldest daughter, MARY BEAH, and do an appearance with DAD in South Dakota near the home of LOU's lovely wife, LOU ELLA. This was the beginning of one of the most unique acts to come out of the Midwest — LOU PROHUT and the PROHUT FAMILY — spinning Lou's accordion, utilizing with the most amazing talents of his singing and dancing children.

After only two years LOU and his six children have appeared with such names as WAYNE NEWTON, VICTOR BORGE, DENNIS DAVY as well as many other notables. The children demonstrate a very professional ability for stage presence and a true sense of enjoyment in performing their specialized dances. Their variety of dancing ranges from folk dancing, which includes the polka, waltz, schottische, and the Russian type kotzacky to the modern rock and roll of today. Special material vocal-dance medleys are added to round out an exciting program. The combination of colorful costumes, importing from Europe adds visual sparkle to their performance.

At 7 p.m. on channel 11 and at 8 on 3 — Movie: "The Wrong Box." An outlandish Victorian farce with an all-star British cast. The plot, concerned with a murderous battle over a family legacy, takes a back seat to a stylish blend of Mack Sennett slapstick and black comedy. The dark humor comes from a runaway funeral cortege, muddled murder attempts and missing corpses.

Viet vote said 'fair'

SAIGON (UPI)—Elections for a president of South Vietnam next October will be at least as fair as the United States presidential poll in 1972, according to a top American election authority.

That is not to say either election will be a model for high school text books, but the "real political worlds" of both countries are not all that different, said Samuel J. Archibald in an interview.

Archibald, executive director of the U.S. Fair Campaign Practices Committee, has just spent a week talking to politicians and studying political processes here. He came as a consultant with a U.S. peace group called the National Committee for Political Settlement in Vietnam.

Archibald will report to the committee on how he sees the campaigning and balloting likely to occur for election Oct. 3 of a chief executive to occupy Saigon's Presidential Palace for four years.

Archibald made it clear in the interview he is not judging the 15-year-old Vietnamese democratic process with America's 195-year-old independence and institutions partly inherited from older systems.

"Nobody can completely understand the vagaries, the ins and outs, the nuances of Vietnamese politics," he said. "Least of all, nobody can do it coming over here for a week.

"For one thing, there's a war going on. And another is that you just can't apply the morality of the American political system to Vietnamese politics."

But the Vietnamese system measures up as "not nearly so badly off as the do-gooders at home think," he said.

"The main difference is that political payoffs here for services rendered, for votes or support or anything like that, are much, much more direct," Archibald said.

Referring to a new election law requiring 40 National Assemblymen or 100 province or village chiefs to sign the nomination for a candidate for the presidency, he said:

"You buy a senator with a certain number of dollars to sign your nomination petition. You buy other senators or deputies not to sign the other guy's."

Painting located

NEW YORK (UPI)—A painting by El Greco, conservatively valued at $1 million, has been recovered by the FBI nearly 35 years after it was stolen from a Madrid home during the Spanish Civil War.

The FBI office in New York announced Wednesday the painting, "Assumption of the Virgin," had been the object of a three-year FBI search at the request of Spanish police who reported the masterpiece had been smuggled into the United States.

The FBI said an investigation was in progress to identify the individuals connected with the theft. But it declined to trace the route of the painting from Spain or pinpoint where it had been found.

Dr. Everett Fahy, curator of European paintings at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, authenticated the painting.

Shot rate declines

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The American Medical Association said today the rate of immunization against polio, measles and diphtheria is declining in the United States.

The diseases have been considered under control for years, but the AMA indicated that fewer immunizations might lead to a rash of breakouts in the future.

Sets conference speech

TWIN FALLS — Mrs. Jean L. Weber, Idaho Falls, president elect of International Toastmistress Clubs, will attend the Snake-River Regional Conference today through Sunday at Holiday Inn, Twin Falls.

Mrs. Weber will be installed as the International president in July during the annual international convention at Phoenix, Ariz.

At the Snake River Regional Conference she will be giving an educational workshop and serve as installing officer. The region includes northern Utah, eastern Oregon and Washington, and all of Idaho.

Mrs. Weber, a newcomer to Idaho, is a design draftsman at the nuclear test site for Argonne National Laboratories.

She urges all women to take advantage of the many facets of training Toastmistress Clubs have to offer. Communication and leadership courses provide an avenue for self improvement, which can be of benefit on the job, in community service and in the home, she said.

Project books distributed

TWIN FALLS — Record and project books were distributed when members of the Happy Shamrocks 4-H Club-2T 28 met this week at the home of their leader, Mrs. Donald Zuck.

Dianne Zuck was acting president. Refreshments were served by Carla Grabert. The next meeting is set for June 23 at the Zuck home.

Basic first aid procedures given

LOS ANGELES, Calif. — Now that children are out of school for summer vacation it is vitally important for Mom to brush up on basic first aid procedures, according to Dr. Albert H. Domm, medical director for the Prudential Insurance Company's Western Home Office.

"Having a first aid guide readily available in the home and car is essential, but this is not enough," Dr. Domm said. "Often, the time taken to find and read the guide makes the difference between restored health and permanent crippling, disfiguring and even death," he warned.

Dr. Domm urged parents to learn the following first aid remedies:

No. 1. Burns and scalds — Remove clothing from the burned area and bandage loosely. Keep the child lying down. Avoid antiseptics. Call the pediatrician or family doctor immediately.

No. 2. Poisoning — Call the doctor at once. Dilute the poison by giving the child five glasses of milk or a solution of baking soda or salt in water. Insert finger into throat to cause vomiting.

No. 3. Electrical shock — Shut off current. Use stick or gloves to remove wire from victim.

No. 4. Gas poisoning — Open doors and windows. Shut off gas. Remove victim to open air.

No. 5. Wounds — Cleanse small wounds with soap and water and dress with sterile gauze. For wounds with severe bleeding, apply firm pressure on wound with gauze pack to control bleeding and call physician promptly or transport to hospital.

No. 6. Fractures — Keep child lying flat and comfortably warm. Do not move the injured child unnecessarily. Call doctor immediately.

No. 7. Unconsciousness — Open airway by tilting head back. Clear mouth of any debris. Call the doctor at once.

No. 8. Not breathing — Give mouth-to-mouth or mouth-to-nose resuscitation at 12 inhalations per minute. Continue until natural breathing returns. Get child to hospital as soon as possible.

Dr. Domm cautioned parents to remember that first aid is not a substitute for professional medical treatment, but should be used until the doctor arrives.

Ceremony performed at Oakley

OAKLEY — Peggy Ellison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Ellison, and Larry McMurry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Winston McMurry, Merced, Calif., were united in marriage June 4 at the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Trafford Woodhouse, Oakley.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Bishop R. Hilton Critchfield before a setting of bouquets of red and white chrysanthemums and gladiolus.

The bride wore a white lace and crepe dress and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

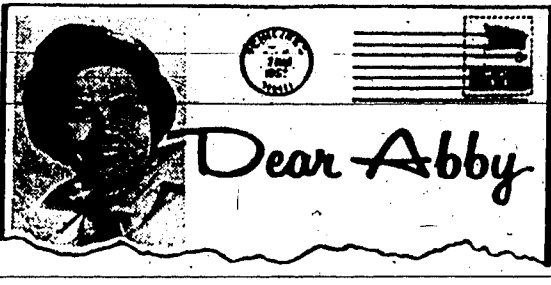

A buffet luncheon was served to members of the family following the ceremony.

The bride was graduated from Oakley High School and from BYU this spring with a B.S. degree and has completed student teaching at Tooele, Utah. The bridegroom is manager of a grocery store in Lake Tahoe, Nev., where the couple will live following a trip to northern and southern California.

Out-of-town guests attending the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Ellison, Orem, Utah; Donna Tremayne and Marsha and Kendall Christenson, Pocatello; Mrs. Dale Jolly and children, Shelley; Mrs. Dorothy Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Gooch and Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Haight, all Burley, and Allen Gooch, Alameda, Calif.

Valley Living

DEAR ABBY: My pet gripe is Newspaper Hogs! I buy a newspaper on my way to work every morning and the minute I clock-in, someone yells, "Give me the sports section," or "Can I see Dear Abby?"

We have half an hour for lunch, and it's the same at lunch. I have to ask for things I'd like to read in my own newspaper. No one else goes to the trouble or expense to buy one, but they all want to read mine. One party even had the nerve to ask me if she could take my paper home with her.

How can I handle this without making enemies?

BURNED UP

DEAR BURNED UP: No way. If you don't share your newspaper, you'll be the "hog." You can read only one part of it at a time, so you'd be ahead to grin and share it.

DEAR ABBY: I lost my husband in the war three years ago and I have a son whose father never saw him. I met a man I'll call Nick whose wife died recently and left him with two children under five years old. We fell in love and were seeing a lot of each other. We even spoke of marriage. Then I suddenly realized I had some serious competition.

Nick's sister in law, Amy (his wife's younger sister), filed for divorce and is trying to get Nick away from me. Her whole family is helping out by constantly inviting him to family parties and throwing Nick and Amy together. They would like to keep Nick in the family, as he is a very good provider. [Amy's husband is a no good bum.]

Now Nick is seeing more of Amy than me. I have turned down other dates so I can be available in case Nick calls. Should I just give up and let her have him? Or should I keep hoping? I can't run after a man the way she does.

CAN'T COMPETE

DEAR CAN'T: Your competition is holding all the aces. Old family ties, plus a small army of rooters working in her behalf. Accept other dates and don't pass up any dates to be available when Nick calls. Amy's aces can be trumped as long as there are "hearts" in the game.

DEAR ABBY: A man wrote, saying he wanted to marry a wonderful, vivacious Italian, but he couldn't bring himself to give her a compliment or show his affection, altho he "loved" her very much. The girl was always after him to be more demonstrative, but he said he just wasn't the lovey-dovey type, and he refused to be phony.

You advised him to try to be more affectionate and demonstrative or to forget the girl who craved affection, because as things stood they were a poor match.

I hope he takes your advice. I was just like that Italian girl 34 years ago—only dumber. I married a man who said he "loved" me, but he never gave me a compliment or demonstrated his love and affection. I kept telling myself that as long as I knew he loved me, it didn't matter. I was wrong. There was more to it than that. He couldn't express other emotions such as anger, joy and sorrow. It wasn't his fault, but he refused to admit he needed professional help, so he never got over it.

If that Italian girl marries that emotional cripple anyway, I hope she has a lover on the side. She'll need one.

It's too late for me because after living with this undemonstrative man for 33 years, I, too, have become...

UNDEMONSTRATIVE

DEAR UN: Perhaps your costly experience will help another. Thanks for writing.

DEAR ABBY: Your advice to unwed mothers ["let a fellow get to know you better before pouring out the story of your life, but tell him the truth as soon as it becomes apparent that he is seriously interested in you."] was right BEEN THERE

By Mary Sue Miller

Does shopping for bathing suits set you to dreaming of a model figure? If so you need not despair. The chances are that new, separately-sized swimwear will improve your image.

Two-piece suits can now be bought in your own size—bra and bottom. The advantage is obvious. With a good fit upstairs and down, you can join the swimbodies for sure.

Three-bra styles—soft shell, soft cup and push up—have self-fabric, convertible straps for that perfect tan. Any wiring is flat and flexible, providing comfort with support. Bottoms range through hip-hugger to bikini to brief.

If you were to think "fit and function" you'd be right. But there's more, and it's Fashion with a capital F. Sea swirl and reptile patterns in both hot and cool colors are printed on lustrous nylon that dries in a wink.

Add after-swim coverups and you're set as can be. Slinky ribbed-knit cotton coats are great for the purpose. Ankle length, of course. Long wrapped and slit cotton skirts with matching shawls go from a swim to cubana gatherings.

For the no-nonsense swimmer, terry robes still hold sway. But there's a deal more fun in terry robes than once was. They now come wildly colored, amusingly printed, draped and hooded right out of the Casbah.

Don't forget your sun specs and sunbrella. Do go near the water!

LEGLINE TRIMMERS

If your individual problem is heavy legs, send for my new Lecline TRIMMERS, which contains spot reducing exercises that will meet your individual needs, whether for thighs, knees, calves or ankles, or for contouring your entire legline. Idaho city clerks OK resolutions at Burley

By JERRY HERRMANN
Times-News Writer

BURLEY — The City Clerks and Fiscal Officers Association passed two resolutions Thursday for consideration at the Association of Idaho Cities at its general meeting Saturday.

The resolutions were approved by the clerks and fiscal officers following their business meeting Thursday afternoon, the first day of the three day AIC state convention being held here.

The first resolution called for deletion of a section of the Idaho Code which provides that "no annexation shall be finally effected within 91 days prior to any general city election at which candidates for elective city offices are to be voted upon.

They also asked the AIC to ask the Idaho Legislature to amend section 50-1751 of the Idaho Code to provide that sales of property referred to in that statute shall be exempted from the procedure set forth in Chapter 14, Title 50 of the Idaho Code.

It was stated they wanted this amended to remove an ambiguity from the laws of conveyancing.

Also during the clerks meeting Thursday afternoon Herald J. Cox, Meridian, was elected president for the forthcoming year.

Other officers elected were: Chuck Shaddock, Burley, first vice president; John D. Evans, Idaho Falls, second vice president, and Mary M. Staples, Fruitland, secretary-treasurer.

During the morning session the clerks were brought up to date on the status of the uniform accounting and reporting system. The AIC is having a public accountant firm set it up for the cities in Idaho. Curtis Ravsten, Ernst and Ernst, told the clerks that the state needed to have uniform information coming in from all the cities. "This will be possible once the uniform accounting and reporting system we are working on is implemented by the cities," he said.

"We are trying to work up a system that will work in practice and not in theory only," he said.

Ravsten said they hoped to have this system out to the cities by September so that they had three to four months to have it implemented before Jan. 1, 1972.

William Tonkin, Ernst and Ernst, said there are three objectives that will be met. They are:

— To provide accountability and budgetary control in accordance with Idaho statutes, local ordinances and sound accounting principles.

— Provide management information to the city council, city officials, and city employees responsible for designated functions or activities.

— Provide the public with factual and understandable information as to the stewardship and management of public monies and other property in providing public services.

He also said, "The uniformity will have to be at a level that enables the smallest city in Idaho to fit into the system. The larger cities will be able to go further but under a uniform procedure."

Both men also pointed out that this system will only be 100 per cent effective if all of the cities cooperate and implement it as soon as it comes to them.

The clerks will learn more about this system at their fall workshop on September 23 and 24 in McCall.

They also heard about the magistrate court system from William Lee, Boise, administrator of the courts.

He told them that the clerks may soon find themselves as deputy magistrate court clerks. As the courts grow there will be more need for this position in the outlying areas the person most likely to do this work is the city clerk, he said.

One of the biggest problems that this court system has had to live with has been the Magistrate Court Judge Selection Committee, he said. "What is needed is for one person to be responsible in each district for the appointment of this judge," he said.

Also, the salaries and work loads of the magistrates around the state aren't equal, he said.

He said one advantage of the magistrate court is that it is an independent arm of the law. "It's no longer controlled by the city council or county commissioners or police department," he said.

During the question and answer period the clerks informed him they weren't getting dispositions of the court's actions on citations issued by city police.

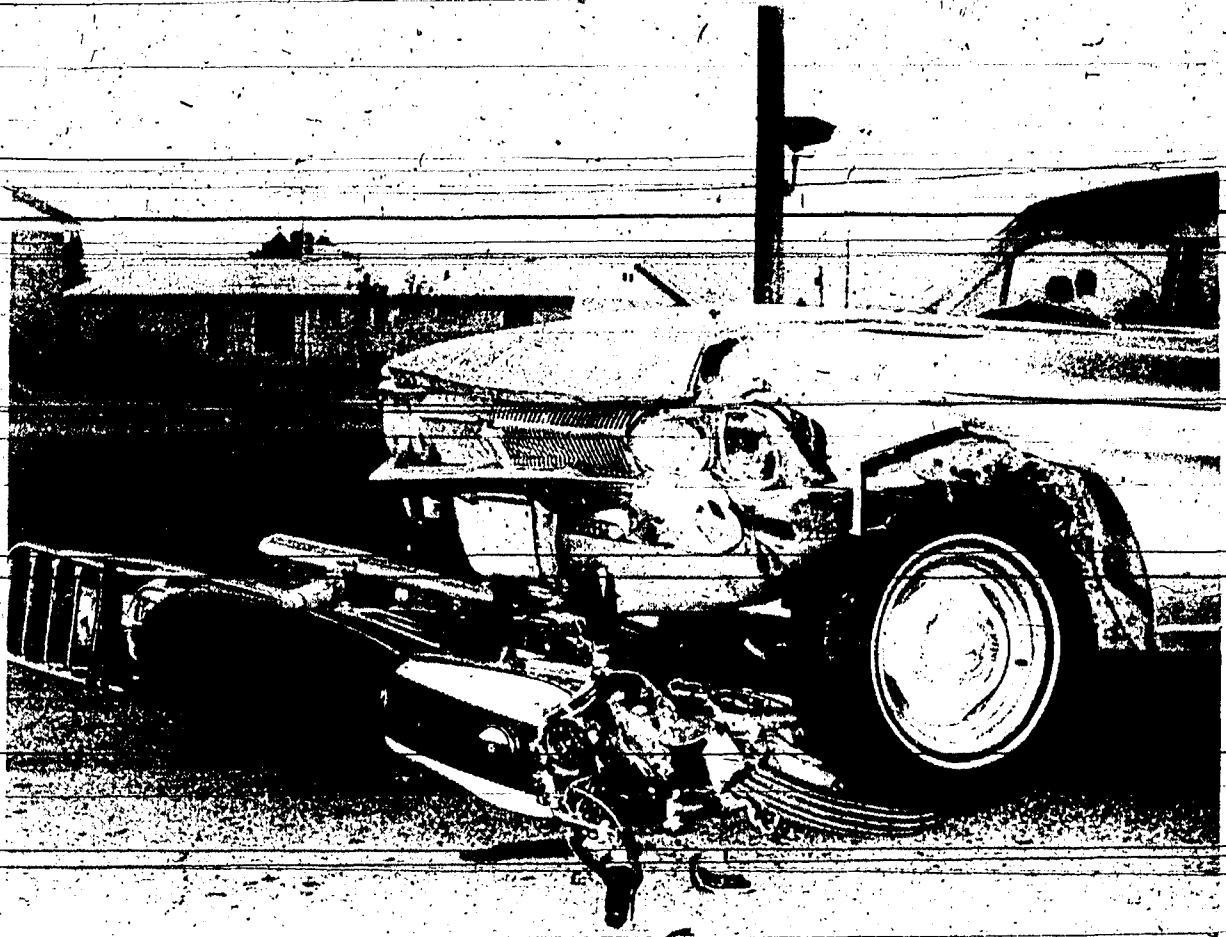

Lee said that he would have a rule drafted to see that the city clerks get a monthly report with all the information they need to know on disposition and that they are getting the right amount of fines fees back.

During the afternoon John Dieffenbach, Nampa city clerk, brought the clerks up to date on the election procedure changes.

Fred Kennedy, Boise, from the attorney general's office brought the Idaho police chiefs up to date on the rules for narcotic agents used as undercover agents in Idaho.

He also asked for their cooperation over the next seven months to enable the attorney general's office to see what loopholes or areas of weakness are in the new drug enforcement act.

John Reed, FBI agent in charge of the Butte, Mont., office, which serves Idaho and Montana asked the police chiefs for their cooperation in fighting crime and brought them up to date on the aides available to the police departments at no cost from the FBI.

DRIVER OF THIS motorcycle, Janice N. Rickett, 16, Burley, was thrown into a parked car Thursday night after her motorcycle collided with a car at the intersection of 16th Street and Hilland Avenue, Burley. She was listed in good condition today at Cassia Memorial Hospital. Burley police officers said Mrs. Thelma Goodwin, 60, Burley, was making a left turn onto Hilland when the vehicles collided.

3-Island Park fest underway

GLENN'S FERRY — An antique auction Friday afternoon started the activities in connection with the Three Island State Park dedication celebration.

Kent Giles, general chairman, said two rodeos are scheduled, one today at 8 p.m. and the other at 8 p.m. Saturday. Highlighting the Saturday activities will be the free barbecue, sponsored by the Glenn's Ferry Lions Club.

Chef for the barbecue will be Alice Craig and serving time is 5 p.m.

Giles said Wilhelm Beckert, state director of parks, and Jerry Hoyer, park manager, will be among those attending while K. Clark has been chairman of arrangements and Eldon Thompson is parade editor. The parade is set for 11 a.m. Saturday.

Cliff Hansen and Roy Dewey are wagon masters and O. A. (Gus) Kelker, Times-News editor, will narrate an historical pageant set from noon to 3 p.m. Saturday. Music will be played by the Idaho Old Time Fiddlers.

Kelker also will emcee the dedicatory program which starts at 3 p.m. and will feature an address by Gov. Cecil Andrus.

Giles said several thousand are expected to attend with special buses scheduled from Twin Falls and Boise for the Saturday festivities.

Students vie at HS rodeo

BURLEY — One hundred and fourteen high school students are in Burley today for the Idaho High School Rodeo at the Cassia County Fairgrounds. The three-day state rodeo is under the sponsorship of the Burley Kiwanis Club.

The rodeo opened Thursday night with today's rodeo beginning at 8 p.m. and the final rodeo at 8 p.m. Saturday. Saturday night the Idaho High School Rodeo Queen will be named as well as the all-around cowboy and cowgirl.

The top three winners of each event, to be announced Saturday night after the final rodeo, will then be going to the National High School Rodeo set for Aug. 3-8 at Filer.

It was announced Thursday night the saddle for the all-around cowgirl will be donated by Wayne May, Valley Livestock Commission Co., Rupert, and Henry Jones Feedlots, Eden. The saddle for the all-around cowboy has been donated by the Burley Livestock Commission Co.

The runner-up all-around cowboy and cowgirl will receive spurs donated by Ropers and Spray-Rite, Oakley. A hat, donated by Vickers Saddlery, Twin Falls, will be awarded to the boy or girl having the best sportsmanship.

The cutaway event, for both boys and girls, will be held Saturday at 1 p.m. The cattle will be furnished by Wendell Fender, Kimberly, 20.3 and Linda Laudert, Wendell, 20.4.

Rupert. Steers for the team roping events by the Big D Roping Club, Declo.

At 8:30 a.m. Saturday, the queens breakfast is scheduled and the queens horsemanship event begins at 6:30 p.m. Hostess for the queen candidates is Mrs. George Forchler, Burley.

The leaders of the various events, after Thursday night's rodeo are:

Bareback riding — Brent Giesler, Fairfield, 61 points; Mike Morrison, Buhl, 38 points; and David Rogers, Rupert, 29 points.

Calf roping — Dee Pickett, Nampa, 15 seconds; Joe Sagers, Gooding, 15.1, and Blake Jones, Idaho Falls, 15.0.

Supplies short of Gem need

PRIEST LAKE (UPI) — An Idaho Water Resource Board staff member said today results of water studies authorized by Congress indicate there is "simply not enough water to provide for all of the projected needs for all water use functions."

Wayne Haas, assistant director for planning, told the Idaho Water Resource Board Idaho had participated in the Great Basin framework study and the Columbia-North Pacific framework study, two of the 22 studies sought by Congress.

The studies, he said, demonstrate the conflicts that occur when trying to meet all of the projected needs for all of the water use functions.

To help decide Idaho's needs, Haas suggested a "public involvement program", cooperation among state, federal and local water planning agencies, and formation of an interim state water plan to be presented at public hearings around the state.

Haas said the interim plan would identify areas of future development as well as areas where "preservation would be favored." Results, he said, if approved by the Water Resource Board, would be submitted to the 1972 Idaho Legislature for consideration.

Box Canyon permit hit

By MYRTLE SCHRENK
Times-News Writer

GOODING — Gooding County Planning Commission members are protesting the issuance of new water permits in Box Canyon by the Idaho Department of Water Administration.

At a special meeting Thursday night, members decided to write Keith Higginson, head of the water agency, protesting the issuing of permits to Earl Hardy, Boise, and Art Kaster, Buhl, who plan a fish hatchery in the Box Canyon which is part of the Thousand Springs area.

Commission members claim the action is in violation of House Bill 69, which specifies that all unappropriated water from Thousand Springs be saved for future recreational use. The legislation was sponsored by State Rep. Vernon Ravenscroft, D., Tuttle, and Rep. Earl Greenawald, R., Jerome.

Members instructed Bob Bolte, Gooding, chairman of the planning group, to request the Boise office of the Soil Conservation Service, to conduct an environmental impact study of the Thousand Springs area because data of wise land use and water quality are not available.

Members also decided to recommend to the state BLM office that a survey of property lines be made in Box Canyon because of conflicts.

Gooding County commissioners attending the meeting approved the actions of the planning group, Bolte said.

Hammett range fire controlled

HAMMETT, Idaho (UPI) — The Bureau of Land Management reported Thursday night a fire which destroyed 250 acre east of Mountain Home is under control.

The BLM said the fire was man-caused and occurred three miles west of Hammett. It took 30 men three hours to bring the blaze under control and the circumstances of the fire are being investigated.

Air pollution index 121

The pollution reading was taken by the staff of the South Central Health District at the Twin Falls City Hall. The reading is expressed as the number of micrograms of particulate material per cubic meter of air for the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. today.

Federal pollution regulations say pollution levels should be kept below 75 micrograms over any 24-hour period, and should not be permitted to rise above 250 micrograms for even a short period of time.

This forecast provided by the Idaho Department of Health indicates the ability of the atmosphere to disperse pollution. Burning as permitted by law should be curtailed when the air is poorly able to disperse air pollutants.

'70 closing in effect

OGDEN — U.S. Forest Service officials remind persons traveling to the White Cloud Peaks area that the closure placed on the area July 1970 is still in effect.

Supervisors emphasized that this closure restricts the use of crawler tractors and other mechanized earth-moving equipment on national forest lands in the White Cloud Peaks area, except on certain designated roads.

The White Cloud Peaks area on the Challis and Sawtooth National Forests contains a wide variety of important resources and beautiful scenery. Forest service studies are in progress to identify management alternatives and provide specific recommendations for future land management decisions for the area.

Gem auto dealers to hear Andrus

SUN VALLEY — Gov. Cecil Andrus will address the Idaho Automobile Dealers Association here Saturday morning. The convention opened today, with election of officers scheduled for this afternoon.

This morning delegates heard a resume of the association's achievements during the past year by Norman Lodge, Caldwell, president. He said the group's membership is the second highest, percentage-wise, in the nation.

Jack Purcell, Detroit, General Motors Corp., was to speak on auto shop service. A golf tournament and dinner dance also were slated for today.

Directors will hold a breakfast meeting Saturday morning, followed by talks by two officials from Quaker State Refining Co., Oil City, Pa. L. R. Freeman, vice president of marketing and R. J. Cifek, head of the technical service laboratory.

A panel discussion is planned for Saturday afternoon. The conclave ends Sunday.

Injured Tomato debut

TWIN FALLS — Lewis Reinke, 52, Twin Falls, was reported in good condition today at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital where he was taken Thursday following an accident at his home.

Personnel at Magic Valley Ambulance Service said Reinke was injured when he fell from a ladder at his home northwest of Twin Falls.

OTTAWA (UPI) — A new pink cherry tomato, called the "mini-rose," has been developed by the Agriculture Department research station here.

L.H. Lyall, a scientist who developed the new strain, said it has "a good flavor and is excellent for use as whole fruit in salads and that it is suitable for growing in eastern Canada and British Columbia."

TF firm gets drilling pact

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Congressman Orval Hansen announced this morning that the Bureau of Reclamation has awarded a $22,300 contract to Elsing Well Drilling in Twin Falls for work in connection with the Upper Snake River Project.

Hansen said the contract is for drilling exploratory wells in Cassia County.

Queen candidates guests of chamber

By GEORGIA LAYTON
Times-News Writer
RUPERT — The July 4th Celebration queen candidates were guests at the Thursday noon Chamber of Commerce luncheon at Rupert Elks Lodge.

Pete Ford, chamber vice president, announced the rodeo committee will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday at chamber office.

Fireworks posters are at chamber office to be picked up and displayed in the merchants' windows.

Ed Hartman reported that work is being done each night on the chamber float at the Willford Mill and volunteer help is needed to complete the float.

John Trevino, general chairman of the celebration, reported that all committees are progressing and volunteer help will be needed during the celebration and persons may ask Trevino for assignments.

Rex Rasmussen, queen

chairman, announced there are four candidates this year. Practices have been held regularly at the rodeo grounds and Wednesday night the girls were judged on poise and modeling during a meeting at Elks lodge.

The queen candidates will be judged on their riding skills at 2 p.m. June 27 at the rodeo grounds and the public is invited to the free program.

Competing for the queen title are Gwen Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Evans, Heyburn; Debbie Gittins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Gittins, Rupert; Carlynn Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Cole, Paul, and Kathy Crawford, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Howard Crawford, Rupert.

Each of the contestants spoke briefly. Tina Delas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Costa Delas, Rupert, reigning queen, introduced the queen candidates.

It was announced that during each night of the rodeo the queen contestants will be riding in the barrel event which is timed.

The queen candidates will ride in the parade and the queen will be announced July 4, the final night of the rodeo.

A trophy will be presented to Miss Congeniality and belt buckles will be awarded to the two attendants.

Chamber members were reminded that the annual Cluck Wagon Jamboree will begin at 6 p.m. Saturday, June 26, at Rupert Civic Auditorium. Holly Houfburg will be the master of ceremonies. Dance music will be furnished by Kenneth Johnson and his group, Twin Falls.

Each admission ticket will be counted as one vote for one's favorite rodeo queen contestant.

Come and get it.
DON CLARK and his son, Jeff Clark, Burley, cut and serve meat during a barbecue Thursday evening at the park near the Burley golf course. The event was held for delegates to the Association of Idaho Cities state convention being held in Burley.

Barbecue held for delegates

BURLEY — A barbecue for delegates to the Association of Idaho Cities convention was held Thursday evening at the park near the Burley Golf Course and boat docks, with 365 persons served.

The event was under the chairmanship of Harold Wilson, mayor of Paul, and J. A. Russell, mayor of Jerome.

Councilmen and city employees of Paul, Jerome and Burley assisted with the serving of the barbecue.

Chief chef was John Clark, Oakley, chairman of the Cassia County Commission. Assisting were his son, Don Clark, Burley, and grandsons, Harlow Clark and Jeff Clark, both Burley. The beef was cooked in deep pits at Paul.

Musical entertainment was furnished through the evening by the Royal Blazers, Bel Canto choir and other local groups.

Too much grass

Wet spring creating jungles in vacant lots

By JERRY HERRMANN
Times-News Writer
RUPERT — Due to the rainy weather this spring, vacant lots in Rupert are becoming grass jungles.

Ron Klebe, Rupert public works department supervisor, said the excessive amount of moisture received this spring has produced excessive growth in grass and shrubs in the city.

THE CITY OF Rupert has condemned this apartment house near the intersection of Third and C streets, and the owner told to clean up the area, but to date has not done so. Bill Whitton, Rupert City councilman, points out how tall the grass is around the building. This is one of several potential fire hazards in the city because of excessive moisture this spring.

As a safety precaution, Klebe asks all citizens to help keep the property they own cleaned up.

"If the grass is not cut when it dries we will have several potential fire hazards," he said. All residents having shrubs planted near intersections or near where driveways enter the street are asked to keep them trimmed so drivers can see over them.

"If these bushes aren't kept trimmed, they create a traffic safety hazard for both the motorists backing out of the driveway and other traffic using the street," Klebe said.

Many of the branches on trees along the street right of way have covered stop signs also. This hazard will be corrected as quickly as it is brought to the city's attention, he said.

Others assisting with the installation were Tamara Thornburg, mistress of ceremonies; Nancy Ketterling,

Plans for Pioneer day told

OAKLEY — Plans for the July 24th celebration were discussed at the Daughters of The Utah Pioneers business meeting held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. LaRene Smith.

The group appointed Mrs. Aletha Stringham and Mrs. LaRue Burch to make necessary arrangements to open the museum as soon as possible.

A float for the celebration will be made and a queen will be chosen to reign over the celebration as their representative. Mrs. Rada Black was selected as chairman of the float committee.

Mrs. Mildred Gorringer, captain, reported that $125 was received from last year's celebration cooked food sale. The group voted to have the food stand again this year and to build a stand in the same location as last year. Pastries, popcorn balls, hot dogs and homebread will again be served.

The DUP tabernacle marker is in need of paint repairs and retouching and Mrs. Rowena Warr was appointed as chairman of this project.

The group voted to ask the village board for help on a sign which would designate the museum, and also voted that a rummage sale will be held later in the fall.

The invocation was offered by Mrs. Theria Adams and Mrs. Black served refreshments.

Discuss plans
MATT WARR, Burley, left, representative for the Annapolis Naval Academy, and Larry Wolf, son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Wolf, Burley, discuss the youth's appointment to the academy.

Burley youth gets Navy appointment

BURLEY — Larry Wolf, son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Wolf, has received an appointment to attend the Annapolis Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md. He will report for duty on June 30.

He recently graduated from the Naval Academy Preparatory School where he received a one-year appointment after graduating from Burley High School in 1970. Mr. and Mrs. Wolf attended their son's graduation at Bainbridge, Md.

Graduating from Burley High School in the upper 10 per cent of his class, he was active in sports at high school and played with the Idaho Old Time Fiddlers Association since he was 10 years old.

Wolf reports he enjoys his school work and life in Maryland, but doesn't like living in the large cities.

Harris leads U.S. open with first-round 67

ARDMORE, Pa. (UPI) — Labron Harris Jr. scrambled on the final hole to salvage a three-under-par 67 Thursday and then watched it hold up for a one-stroke first round lead in the U.S. Open golf championship as most of his competitors met disaster on the finishing holes.

Bob Goalby, the last man with a chance to catch Harris, blew his opportunity on the 17th hole, a 224-yard, par-3, when he took a double-bogey, driving into the rough on the right side of the green and then chipping back over the green into the left rough.

Goalby finished with a 68, two-under-par, tying U.S. Amateur champion Lanny Wadkins and colorful veteran pro Doug Sanders for second place.

Favorite Jack Nicklaus and young pro Jim Colbert were at course at Merion Golf Club. The later starters, including Nicklaus, encountered severe problems with their putting.

Merion's three final holes prove too tough for field

ARDMORE, Pa. (UPI)—The three finishing holes at Merion Golf Club's famed East Course have proved to be the killers everyone said they were—and more.

They ruined Arnold Palmer. And Tony Jacklin, Bob Goalby, Larry Hinson, Mason Rudolph, Billy Casper and Dale Douglass Thursday in the first round of the U.S. Open. Even Jack Nicklaus was damaged.

Douglass was headed for a 68 until he took a five at 17. Hinson went four-over-par on the final three holes. So did Blancas. Casper bogeyed all three. Jacklin bogeyed all three. Palmer bogeyed the final two. Rudolph, with a good shot at a sub-par score, finished double-bogey, bogey, bogey, for 72.

Kansas City shuts out California 5-0

KANSAS CITY (UPI)—Alex Johnson turned Amos Otis' deep fly into a run-scoring double Thursday night, pacing the Kansas City Royals to a three-run first-inning and a 5-0 victory over the California Angels.

Tigers 4, Indians 3 CLEVELAND (UPI) — Les Cain, who had to leave the sixth inning because of a sore pitching shoulder, hunted home the first Detroit run in the fifth and picked up his fifth victory of the season Thursday night as the Tigers defeated the Cleveland Indians, 4-3.

The three holes, spanning an abandoned old quarry where small, wild bushes abound, are among the toughest finishing holes in the country.

In a field of 150 of the world's finest golfers, only 30—exactly one-fifth—were able to play the final three holes in par or better.

Guys like Art Wall Jr., and Dave Stockton took triple bogeys, the kind usually reserved for weekend hackers. Among those making double bogeys on the finishing holes were Orville Moody, Charlie Sifford, Bert Yancey, Mason Rudolph, J. C. Snead, Homero Blancas, Douglass, Goalby, Hinson, Bruce Crampton and others.

Right-hander Dick Drago pitched a six-hitter, recording his seventh victory against two losses.

Cain, who threw only 10 pitches in his last start before developing soreness in his shoulder, scattered six hits, walked three and struck out four before giving way to Tom Timmerman after Chris Chambliss opened the Cleveland sixth with a single.

Alley and Coors stay unbeaten

The Alley arose out of the "B" league to nip Turf Club 7-6 while Coors-First Federal dropped Royal Lounge 10-5 to gain the semi-finals of the city slowpitch tournament Thursday night.

Rojas scored on Chuck Harrison's ground out and Lou Piniella drove in Otis with a single before May escaped the inning.

Wadkins, who substituted guile for the caution most of the pros were using over the short but narrow Merion course, said he was not surprised that he was playing so well.

In loser bracket play, Depot Grill ousted Lucky Lager 25-7; Varsity Barbershop eliminated Seller's Electric 15-1; Oly-Ford, getting a homer from Silvers, defeated Master Sheet Metal 20-8 and Blitz, with Mill Horton homering, defeated Lynwood Standard 16-8 although Jim Gannaway and Jenkins homered for the losers.

Friday night, Oly-Ford meets Keebler Cookies and Depot Grill plays Culligan at 6:45 p.m.; Blitz meets Depot Grill and Varsity Barbershop plays the winner of the Oly-Ford-Keebler Cookie game at 8 p.m., and the championship semi-finals between the Alley and Coors will be played at 9:15 p.m.

Twins 7, Sox 6 today's FUNNY BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (UPI) — George Mitterwald's two-out run-scoring single capped a four-run rally in the 11th inning Thursday night that carried the Minnesota Twins to a 7-6 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

Friday night, Oly-Ford meets Keebler Cookies and Depot Grill plays Culligan at 6:45 p.m.; Blitz meets Depot Grill and Varsity Barbershop plays the winner of the Oly-Ford-Keebler Cookie game at 8 p.m., and the championship semi-finals between the Alley and Coors will be played at 9:15 p.m.

Hendricks clubbed his fourth homer of the year when Frank Robinson aboard off loser Mel Stottlemyre. Dobson struck out five and walked none in registering his fourth victory.

Hendricks doubled in the fourth inning and scored on Dave Johnson's sacrifice fly.

AAU calls new USTFF charges irresponsible

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — An official of the Amateur Athletic Union said Thursday the United States Track and Field Federation's "declaration of war" on the AAU was "ridiculous, irresponsible and in poor taste."

championships at Wichita, Kan., last week. Cooley listed three specific grievances: 1. Threatening athletes who competed in the USTFF championships. 2. Refusing to submit the world record 13.2 seconds set by Tom Hill of Arkansas State in the 120-yard high hurdles June 13, 1970, to the world sanctioning body, the International Amateur Athletic Federation.

USC wins second NCAA title

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI)—The Southern California Trojans won their second consecutive College World Series baseball championships and their third in the last four years by defeating the Southern Illinois Salukis, 7-2, Thursday night.

Wright referred to the so-called Kheel Agreement of the arbitration board. "The Kheel Agreement defined 'open' competitions as those involving non-student competitors," Wright said. "Quite clearly several competitors who are not designated as students participated in the meet."

CALIFORNIA BOUND, Bill Miller of Twin Falls, who owns all the state pole vault records and has the best height among preppers in the nation this spring, and his father, Fred Miller, secure a vaulting pole to the side of the family car before leaving Thursday for his Saturday night competition in the Golden West track meet.

Miller ready for Golden West meet

Billy Miller, the best pole vaulter in the history of Idaho track and field, will run into a hand picked field of five other senior vaulters from throughout the nation Saturday night in Sacramento's annual Golden West track meet.

Miller said he didn't plan to start vaulting until 15 feet in Saturday's competition. However, the bar probably will be set at 14-0 or 14-6 for openers.

Miller, who pushed the Idaho state mark to 15 feet and holds the all-time competitive best of 15-7 for this state, will have more than victory on his mind.

After that, Miller competes in all the meets he is invited to in the next four years.

three diamonds. How about a 4-2 or 5-1 break?

He can't do anything about that unless the ace is held by the short hand. In that case he will make three diamond tricks if he can keep the ace from capturing one of his honors.

Dummy has two diamond honors so he plans to lead twice toward dummy.

He wins the opening lead in his own hand. He starts right away by leading a low diamond. Dummy's jack holds the trick. He returns to his hand with the king of clubs and leads his other low diamond. This time West has to play the ace. All it captures are a couple of spot cards and South has his three diamond tricks and his contract.

♥ CARD SENSE ♠

The bidding has been:

West North East South
1♥ Dbie Redble
Pass 1NT

You, South, hold:
♠ K 7 3 2 ♥ A 2 ♦ K 9 3 ♣ Q J 6 2

What do you do now?
A—Double. You can slaughter one no-trump. Maybe East has no place to go.

TODAY'S QUESTION

West bids two clubs. North and East pass. What do you do now?

Answer Tomorrow

By Oswald & James Jacoby

We have often heard that two heads are better than one, but we doubt if this has ever been proven. We do know that two chances are better than one.

South can count eight sure winners. He can look for the ninth in either spades or diamonds. He abandons the idea of setting up the fourth spade because before he can do that the defense will be able to get in two spades, two hearts and their ace of diamonds.

That leaves dummy's fourth diamond as his only hope. He sees that it will surely score for him if East and West each hold exactly

Insurance plan mullied

BOISE (UPI) — With the hope of reducing automobile insurance costs to individual citizens, the legislative council committee on automobile liability insurance Thursday moved to consider no-fault insurance along with five other areas for their next meeting.

During the afternoon session, Jerry Wilson of San Francisco, a representative of the American Insurance Association, addressed the committee and guests about no-fault insurance, which has been adopted in a modified form in the state of Massachusetts.

Some 28 states are looking into the no-fault insurance, whereby insurance companies pay for damages and injuries incurred no matter who is to blame for an automobile accident.

Wilson said in California, insurance firms are trying to cover as many individuals as the lowest possible cost. He suggested to the committee that the best place to cut insurance costs is in administrative functions, so more money can get back to the insured.

Committee Chairman Sen. Wayne Kidwell, R-Boise, asked Wilson if the no-fault system could be employed but still retain the pain and suffering compensation. Wilson said that was the basis of the modified system.

Gene Thomas, president-elect of the Idaho State Bar Association, a guest of the committee, said the group of attorneys stood ready to review laws ultimately to the insurance field. He added the Bar would conduct a meeting next week to discuss liability insurance.

While it seemed most committee members were seeing the more advantageous sides of the no-fault insurance, Rep. Clyde Keithly, R-Nampa, said, "I question whether Idaho is big enough to need it."

Wilson said in California, insurance firms are trying to cover as many individuals as the lowest possible cost. He suggested to the committee that the best place to cut insurance costs is in administrative functions, so more money can get back to the insured.

Wyoming charges lack hit

By United Press International
Wyoming ecologist John Turner of Jackson said Thursday the Interior Department's decision not to file charges in the killing of eagles in Wyoming was "incredible."

And Dr. Oliver Scott of Casper, a member of that city's Murie - Audubon Society, said he was not surprised the interior department was not taking action.

Turner, a Republican state representative and trained wildlife ecologist, said it would be "appalling to me if the federal government... puts itself on the back for doing a good job when they have done nothing at all to help prevent these tragedies from occurring again."

A total of 50 golden and bald eagles have been found dead in Wyoming since May 1, with the majority killed by thallium-sulfate poisoning.

"I thought establishing intent would be difficult but I can't see why they can't establish intent on shooting," Turner said. "It would disappoint me greatly if they don't pursue that."

Mack signs truck pact

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (UPI)—Zenon C. R. Hansen, president of Mack Trucks, announced Thursday that his firm has made a $700 million deal with the Soviet Union to supply machinery and technology for a gigantic truck factory in the Tartar Republic.

Describing the transaction as the biggest truck deal in history, Hansen said Russia had also purchased $25 million of off-highway Mack Trucks for use in mining. U.S. trade with Russia has been averaging only $118 million annually.

Hansen signed a letter of intent with V. N. Sushkov, head of a special commission of the Soviet Foreign Trade Ministry, here recently. The transaction must still be approved by the Department of Commerce.

The World's finest Bourbon since 1795

JIM BEAM

Generation gap? We never heard of it.

Orson Welles and his daughter, Rebecca.

Orson Welles, acclaimed actor. Rebecca Welles Moede, aspiring actress. Different generations. But very much alike when it comes to their craft. They live for it. And work for it. And love it.

The Beams, too, have a craft—the distilling of Bourbon. And for six generations now, son has followed father at that craft. Living for it. Working for it. Loving it.

It's a proud record. It's a proud Bourbon—smooth and light and mellow. With a rich aroma full of promise. Jim Beam. For six generations; one family, one formula, one purpose. The world's finest Bourbon.

Small boy still lives in Sydney

SYDNEY (UPI) — The eighth of nine children born Sunday to an Australian housewife died today, leaving only a six-inch-long, 23-ounce boy still alive. Doctors said his chances were very slim.

A bulletin from the Sydney Royal Women's hospital said the boy's sister, who weighed one pound, died at 2:40 a.m. of lung complications. It said the boy's condition "continues to remain critical."

Since his birth, medical experts had considered the boy the least likely of the nine to live and mature. They said they were amazed by his endurance.

Fund bill change studied

BOISE (UPI) — A legislative council committee named to study possible changes in the formula for distribution of public school funds heard testimony Thursday about possible changes in a controversial bill to implement the changes.

The measure, largely drawn up by some House members during the 1971 legislative session, was approved by the House but held by the Senate pending results of the interim study.

Those at the meeting included representatives of the State Department of Education, the Superintendents Association, the Idaho Education Association, the League of Women Voters and the state tax commission. Harold Johnson, a member of the state tax commission, told the committee county auditors had already been asked for certain information necessary before the tax commission can fully outline the impact of the proposal.

As originally written, the bill would have placed into a state controlled educational "pot" the state appropriation, endowment funds, education's portion of the inventory phase out replacement monies, a four mill state levy on all property on an adjusted basis and a 12 mill county levy. Totaled, all the funds would be the state's contribution. Presently, there is no such state-wide levy for education.

Space course hit

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—Astronaut Walter Cunningham criticizing Congress for allowing America to fall behind Russia in space exploration, resigned Thursday to take an executive's job with a real estate firm.

"The space program is receiving smaller and smaller support—with appropriations from Congress," the 39-year-old civilian said. "I think that's a terrible mistake."

"I think we find ourselves in the space program in the position of having built the dam, and it's filling up behind it, and there's precious little interest in putting the turbines in at the bottom to take out the energy, take out the resources we've built up."

"I can only hope that in the next year to 18 months we can see an upturn to it because we're going into area of earth orbital operations that's going to be a payoff for everyone in the country."

Orson Welles and his daughter, Rebecca.

Orson Welles, acclaimed actor. Rebecca Welles Moede, aspiring actress. Different generations. But very much alike when it comes to their craft. They live for it. And work for it. And love it.

The Beams, too, have a craft—the distilling of Bourbon. And for six generations now, son has followed father at that craft. Living for it. Working for it. Loving it.

It's a proud record. It's a proud Bourbon—smooth and light and mellow. With a rich aroma full of promise. Jim Beam. For six generations; one family, one formula, one purpose. The world's finest Bourbon.
