Weapons control meetings resume

HELSINKI (UPI)—American and Soviet disarmament negotiators began crucial negotiations today on a hoped-for agreement this year to limit antimissile systems and curb offensive rockets.

U.S. delegation chief Gerard C. Smith and Russian's Vladimir S. Semenov were meeting at the Soviet embassy for the fifth round of the 18-month-old Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT).

Both diplomats announced on their arrival in the Finnish capital that they have come with instructions from their governments to work constructively for "concrete results."

The two chief negotiators held an informal meeting Wednesday in the headquarters of the U.S. delegation to discuss procedural matters, a U.S. spokesman said.

Diplomatic sources termed the forthcoming SALT round the most crucial since the talks started here in November, 1969

They will be guided by the summit directives, agreed on by President Nixon and the Kremlin leaders May 20, to "concentrate this year on working out an agreement for the limitation of the deployment of Antiballistic Missile systems (ABMs)."

The directives at the same time call for Russo-American agreement "on certain measures with respect to the limitation of offensive strategic weapons."

Hijacker to face charges

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—The Argentine government has decided to prosecute Robert Lee Jackson and his Guatemalan girlfriend for the air piracy last weekend of a Braniff International Airlines Boeing 707 jetliner.

There had been some question which of the five nations involved in the 44-hour, 7,500-mile hijack—longest in history—would assume jurisdiction of Jackson, 36, of Alcoa, Tenn., and Miss Ligia Lucrecia Sanchez Archilla.

Wood River, Pocatello mental clinics merge

HAILEY—Idaho's smallest mental health center, the Wood River Clinic, will merge with Gateway Mental Health Center in Pocatello in an arrangement unique in Idaho history.

The Wood River Clinic, which had relied on traveling psychological experts from Salt Lake City, would have been virtually crippled by a state prohibition of "outside" help according to the Idaho Department of Health.

Vickie S. Higgins, a spokesman for the department of health in Boise, said the state will not allow the department to purchase the services of Utah experts to serve Idaho clinics due to a severe cutback in state appropriations.

June to further her education, and the state prohibition on hiring Utah experts had left the clinic in a nearly useless condition.

The Wood River Clinic has been the only mental health facility in all eight Magic Valley counties. Plans are under way for a regional mental health facility in the Twin Falls area, under the guidance of a planning committee. Until the new facility is in full operation, however, the Halley clinic must carry the full load.

The clinic, which opened its doors in February, 1968, has seen a steadily increasing patient load, from 45 the first year, and a total case load, including telephone interviews, of 107, to the 1970 load of 85 patients and more than 350 interviews. Patients are referred to physicians, the clergy and courts for follow-up when needed.

The advisory board of the Wood River Clinic has agreed to transfer administrative duties to the Gateway Clinic in Pocatello. In return, a "nying team" of psychiatrists and psychologists will visit Halley periodically, and Gateway Director Elwyn Wegner will travel to Halley at least once a week to handle administrative work.

Mrs. Rita Hogg, chairman of the advisory board, said that the agreement with the Pocatello facility "will allow us a wide variety of professional consultation to which we would not otherwise have access."

Further strengthening of the Halley clinic may be provided if Wegner is successful in his efforts to obtain a full-time psychiatric social worker who would reside in Halley.

The new program will cost about $33,000 a year, according to the department of health. The budget allotted the Wood River Clinic by the health department's division of mental health is $20,000, plus $2,000 from Lincoln County and $3,000 from Blaine County. The division will pay the Gateway Center, $6,000 per year for their services to Halley, and about $2,000 is anticipated from fees to patients.

Yellow peril?

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Consumer advocate Ralph Nader charged today that some toothpastes stain teeth rather than clean them. He urged the government to warn the public.

In a letter to Chairman Miles W. Kirkpatrick of the Federal Trade Commission, Nader said toothpaste "containing stannous fluoride has been shown to cause extrinsic staining of the teeth."

Nader said "Crest with fluoristan" is the most widely sold toothpaste with stannous fluoride.

"Several other stannous fluoride toothpastes on the market include Stripe, Peppermint, and Peoples," he added.

Nader said staining due to stannous fluoride dentifrices was documented in studies conducted in England and published in the British Dental Journal. He also cited a study published in the United States in the Journal of Public Health Dentistry.

PARIS (UPI)—The United States offered today to hold private talks on the new Vietnamese Communist peace proposals but the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong refused.

David K.E. Bruce, the chief American negotiator, emerged from a 3 1/2-hour weekly session of the Paris peace talks and told newsmen, "I got a decided no."

He had suggested making a fresh start in the talks by holding a restricted meeting next week so the two sides could work out an agreement outside the "glare of publicity."

But though the Communists had indicated in press interviews earlier this week that they would be willing to meet the Americans in private, they turned Bruce down.

Bruce had said the United States needed a lot more clarification of the seven-point Communist peace plan proposed by the Viet Cong last week.

The plan includes an offer to release all American war prisoners—Hanoi's figure is 320 but the United States says there are at least 433—providing all U.S. troops are withdrawn from Vietnam this year.

The Communists have always been ready to open fully secret talks. But up to now in the Paris negotiations, now 2 1/2 years old, they have rejected all U.S. suggestions for official but "restricted" meetings.

Bruce told newsmen outside the conference hall, on sun-drenched Avenue d'Alsace near the Arch of Triumph, "We think they want to continue to use these meetings as a forum for propaganda."

Bruce had gone into the 120th session of the Vietnam peace conference and urged prompt private talks to explore the July 1 Communist peace package and allied peace proposals as well.

Madame Nguyen Thi Binh, foreign minister of the provisional government of the South Vietnam National Liberation Front, and Xuan Thuy, official head of the North Vietnamese delegation, told newsmen after the session that Bruce seemingly wanted to sidestep a clearcut answer to their latest peace package.

Madame Binh said after the meeting the United States "is seeking to change the form of the conference to elude the imperative demands of the people of Vietnam, the United States and the world."

Thuy said, "We have asked the American delegate to reflect in a more mature fashion" on the Communist plan. He said the Communists hope to get a more favorable response next week.

At today's session, Bruce said the United States welcomed the Communist plan if it meant Hanoi and the Viet Cong "wish at last to enter into serious negotiations."

GI pullback

S. Viets assume control of final DMZ firebase

SAIGON (UPI)—The United States today turned over to South Vietnam the last American base along the Demilitarized Zone. North Vietnamese rockets began hitting the outpost within hours after the American pullout.

Alpha four, a hilltop fortress on the site of one of the most intense artillery campaigns of the Vietnam war, was handed over to the South Vietnamese in a brief ceremony followed by departure of a U.S. tank and armored personnel column and arrival of ARVN forces.

Less than five hours later, the first of four 122mm rockets began crashing into the base, located less than a mile from the DMZ and 12 miles from the South China Sea. There was no immediate word as to casualties or damage.

Military sources said 175 Americans would remain at the base for the time being as advisers and to man radar and eight-inch guns.

The rocket attack along with two clashes in other areas ended a 48-hour lull in fighting involving GIs and with it speculation the lack of action might have been connected with the Viet Cong's latest peace proposal in Paris.

The U.S. Command reported meanwhile that American B52 bombers pounded Communist troop concentrations along the DMZ today following a one-day respite due to Typhoon Harriet.

Military spokesmen also reported two clashes involving American troops in fighting that broke a 48-hour lull as far as the GIs were concerned.

U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division troops killed seven Viet Cong without any casualties to themselves in fighting 65 miles east of Saigon.

U.S. Americal Division troops killed two guerrillas but lost one man killed and three wounded in a clash 20 miles southwest of Da Nang.

The U.S. Command also said today that the war cost 21 GIs killed "last" week and 182 wounded.

Holdover funds vanish

BOISE (UPI)—Idaho ended the 1969-70 biennium June 30 with $2.1 million on-hand and $2.5 million in encumbrances, but state spokesmen insisted today the state will carry savings and over into the current fiscal year.

But the year-end figures did indicate the $3.5 million hoped for carryover into the current fiscal year—calculated as part of the year's revenue for the $125 million general fund budget—will not be realized.

There were indications from several sources in the Statehouse today action may be taken to either declare some of the encumbrances unpayable or to cut all encumbrances by a certain percentage to meet not only cash in hand but future revenue needs.

Acting Budget Director D.E. "Skip" Crimberg said today the encumbrances have "nothing to do with cash balance." He said of the $2.5 million in encumbrances only partly represents actual required payments.

Chilberg said the $3.5 million carryover—which he confirmed as late as last week—was reached by picking up $2.5 million by cutting approved spending levels for state agencies, estimating revenue to the general fund and assuming agencies would have at least one per cent of their biennial appropriation left unspent as of June 30—the last day of the biennium.

Shock cadres assault enemy

SAIGON (UPI)—Elite Black Panther shock troops of the South Vietnamese army followed up a massive U.S. aerial bombardment today with a lightning raid on a big Communist supply dump near the Laotian border.

About 200 Black Panthers rode a fleet of 30 U.S. 101st Airborne Division helicopters into a square-mile truck pool and storage area close to the Laotian border and 24 miles south of the Demilitarized Zone.

They found the bodies of 38 North Vietnamese soldiers killed by B52 and fighter-bomber strikes, and killed an additional nine Communists as they combed through the dump area.

To cover the Panther's advance, American A1H Cobra gunships fired rockets and machineguns into triple-canopy jungle that made the supply dump almost invisible from the air.

The Panthers reported finding 12 tons of anti-aircraft shells, 10 tons of rice in 220-pound bags, three new Soviet-made 2 1/2-ton trucks, 18 44-gallon drums of gasoline, six anti-aircraft machineguns and other supplies. Maj. Vo Van Tri, spokesman for the South Vietnamese 1st Infantry Division, told newsmen.

All the supplies were blown up before the Panthers were flown out at nightfall.

Solon requests economy talks

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said Wednesday it is time just once to put politics aside and summon a bipartisan meeting of Capitol Hill and Nixon administration leaders to find a way out of the nation's economic morass.

Speaking as "an economist, just a common guy who has his worries," Mansfield said he fears the nation has run out of luck on the economic front just as it did in Vietnam.

In both the war and the economy, he said, the country has experienced a "frustration fed by promises and followed only by a plague of failures and fatigue."

Testifying before the House-Senate Economic Committee's midyear review of the economy, Mansfield renewed his call already rejected by the White House—for a temporary six-month freeze on wages, prices and profits to restore equilibrium to an economy plagued by rampant inflation and unemployment.

Mansfield insisted that both parties share blame for the nation's economic malaise and both should work together to find a solution. "I would hope that just once we get together and forget the politics of it and try to do something for the common good," he said, conceding he could offer no new ideas of his own.

He proposed that the Democratic chairman and ranking Republican members of Congressional committees concerned with economic matters meet with their counterparts in the administration in the search for new ideas.

Key banks hike rates

NEW YORK (UPI)—Many of the nation's largest banks Wednesday raised the interest rate on prime business loans from 8 1/2 to 9 per cent.

Bank of America of San Francisco, the nation's largest bank, also raised its interest rate on passbook savings accounts from 4 to 4 1/4 per cent effective Aug. 1, and the rate it charges on new mortgages from 7 1/4 to 7 3/4 per cent effective immediately.

Other banks to raise the prime business rate included Continental Illinois of Chicago, Mellon National of Pittsburgh and Chase Manhattan, First National City, Chemical Bank and Irving Trust, all of New York.

23 more GIs killed

SAIGON (UPI)—The U.S. said today 23 Americans were killed in the Vietnam war last week, up two from the previous week. Another 182 GIs were wounded.

Besides the battle fatalities, 22 others died from accidents and illness.

It brought to 48,344 the number of Americans who have died in Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961.

Master list completed

TWIN FALLS — The master jury list for Twin Falls County, containing more than 16,000 names, has been completed and will go into the master jury wheel within the next few days for selection of jurors, County Clerk Harold Lancaster said today.

He said selection of the 19,000 or more names began in May and under terms of the new jury selection law, they are from five separate sources. This necessitated checking the lists five times for duplication. Names began with the county's voter registration books. These were checked against customer lists of the telephone company (using the telephone directory), the gas company and power company. The fifth list was from the drivers' licensing bureau where names of the 21-year olds and new drivers or newly licensed drivers of the county were obtained.

Despite the checking of names five separate times, Lancaster said, there will be some "duplications" because persons, especially married women, may use their own first names on some lists and their husband's name on another.

Obtaining the lists as required by the new law gives a wider choice of jurors than the previous law in which voter registration books only were used and juries were selected by county commissioners from their respective districts.

Many more persons will now be eligible for jury duty, Lancaster said. When duplications appear, an effort will be made to give the individual only one jury duty per year.

With the master list now selected, 1,000 plus one per cent of the total or 1,180, will be used to divide into the total names to give the county a starting basis for the key number. The key number will be established as a selection guide. If the number is seven, each seventh name will be selected to go into the jury wheel from which the juries will be drawn. For the jury selection the county has acquired one large and one small wheel for containing the master list and the jury list.

As the names of the jurors are selected from the "jury wheel," each will receive a questionnaire to be filled out and returned to the county showing name, age, telephone number, address and distance the individual resides from Twin Falls.

Lancaster said he has also had 10,000 small card forms made up to be used by the drivers licensing bureau. Each person applying for a license will fill out one of the cards to be checked against the master list. All new names appearing will be added.

Lancaster said many of the names from the utility lists, such as the power company, may be those of temporary residents who may already have left the community by the time they are on the master list.

First jurors selected under the new system will serve in the current term of court. No jury trials have been scheduled until August, he said. The Idaho Supreme Court justices granted counties a grace period in which to complete the new process of selecting jurors and Lancaster said it could be as late as November when new juries would be required.

In Twin Falls County, he said, it was necessary to take a microfilm camera to the offices of Idaho Power Co. and photograph the customer list and then run the film on a microfilm reader in the clerk's office to obtain the names. He said the power company's only customer records could not leave their office because they are constantly used.

Concert tonight

TWIN FALLS — A concert by the Twin Falls Municipal band will begin at 8:15 p.m. today at the band shell in City Park.

The program will include "Thanks be to Thee," George Frederick Handel; "The Green Cathedral," Carl Hahn; "Summer Holiday," Frank Erickson; "English March for an American Trumpet," John Klein, with Richard Youree, soloist, and "Under Paris Skies," Hubert Giraud.

Following a short intermission selections will be "March of the Leathernecks," Morton Gould; "Blue Tango," Leroy Anderson; "Highlights from Kiss Me, Kate," Cole Porter; "Love Theme from Romeo and Juliet," Nono Rota, and "The Klaxon March," Henry Fillmore.

Del Slaughter is band director.

None hurt as 2nd PC train derails

NEW YORK (UPI) — A Penn-Central train derailed in Grand Central terminal today alongside a track where one person was killed and 18 injured in a similar accident Wednesday.

No one was injured in today's mishap which involved the first car of a four-car train, the 6:35 a.m. EDT from Croton-on-Hudson, N.Y., due in the terminal at 7:23 a.m.

The forward wheels on the first car left the tracks just as the train was pulling into the platform, a Penn-Central spokesman said.

"There was no panic, all passengers got out and no one was hurt," the spokesman said. "Damage was minor."

Cause of the derailment was not immediately known. It forced cancellation of three outbound commuter trains to Westchester County, north of the city, and two trains inbound from there.

Derailment of the Penn-Central train on Wednesday was blamed on a broken switch.

The accident happened Wednesday morning on a train entering the station about five miles an hour from Westchester County. At least 18 persons were injured, including one man whose right leg was severed below the knee.

A statement issued by the railroad said the switch apparently broke causing the front wheels of the second car to derail. That car and another one swerved across an adjacent track and hit a support column. The impact with the heavy concrete pillar peeled back the side of the second car and crushed the forward compartment. The victim, Clinton Q. Richmond, 38, of Chappaqua, N.Y., was sitting in that section.

There were about 600 persons aboard the train and 70 commuters in the second car alone. Many of the injuries were minor.

Jerome closes first lessons

JEROME — Nearly 100 Jerome children participated in the first series of swimming lessons that ended last week of the Jerome City swimming pool, according to Jeanne Burkhalter, head swimming instructor and lifeguard.

Miss Burkhalter said that classes for the second series of lessons are already full and that instruction has started.

She said parents may sign up at the pool for the third session which begins July 20. It is anticipated if fourth class will be held in August.

Miss Burkhalter said instructors are trying to hold classes to 10 children.

"We have more requests for instruction than we can possibly fill, but we are doing our best to give the training to as many youngsters as we can," Miss Burkhalter said. Other instructors include Betty Clubb, who taught in the last series two classes of beginners and a class of advanced beginners.

Danny Carroll, instructor, gave lessons to advanced beginners and a swimmers class as well as a Boy-Scout life saving course.

Miss Burkhalter taught both beginners and a class of intermediates.

Theatre planning benefit

TWIN FALLS — The first Magic Valley performance of this year's Antique Festival Theatre will be "Where is My Teddy?"

It will be presented at Frontier Field on Thursday, July 15, with proceeds going to the Mental Health Association, according to Ray Lincoln, ticket chairman for the show.

"We hope many of our theater-lovers will make up parties to attend the performance, and are making a special offer on tickets to encourage this," Lincoln said. Tickets purchased in quantities of three will receive a discount. They may be purchased from Helen's Record store in downtown, or Sallie's in the Lynwood, or at the gate. Mental Health Association members also are selling tickets.

"For an evening of summer fun, get your gang together, whether neighborhood, family, or club, and attend in a group," Lincoln suggested. Time for the outdoor, casual-wear entertainment will be 8:30 p.m. at Frontier Field.

Reds gain edge

NEW YORK (UPI) — The world strategic arms balance recently passed parity and tipped in favor of the Soviet Union, the U.S. Strategic Air Commander said today.

"And their momentum is very worrisome," he added.

In an interview that coincided with the opening of the fifth round of Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT) in Helsinki, Gen. Bruce K. Holloway, commander in chief of the Strategic Air Command, termed the talks "the most important thing for the future of mankind I know."

As for the strategic arms balance, Holloway said: "In my opinion we've passed parity in their favor just recently. They have more than we do."

Holloway said he was evaluating numbers of delivery vehicles, numbers of warheads, and megatonnage.

"When you crank 'em all in, I can't come to any conclusion except that they're ahead. I've seen nothing that the Russians intend to do but build up — get a Teddy Rooseveltian big stick with which to negotiate."

Everything the Russians have done indicates this is their main objective. They want a relative advantage from which to negotiate. This is a matter of absolute national concern to us. Why would they be building up if they didn't want to use the strength to take over the world?

"We've got to hang in there, be patient, be suspicious of everything. They're not going to do anything that would not give them an advantage."

"What's out-of-joint is that the American people think what we are trying to do is a massive attack by the Russians. What we are trying to do is the loss of our way of life."

"The reason they haven't hit us is that we have a massive force structure."

"The Communists are dedicated to providing Communism for the whole world. This is the reason we must maintain our forces strong. We've got to have a position of strength from which to negotiate."

If denigration of the military continues, the general said, "It's going to be a great disservice to this country."

The Soviet strategic momentum has been building, he said, "for about eight years, and they're bound to get further ahead of us for the next two or three years by virtue of it."

Cancer aid bill by House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Wednesday passed 79 to 1 and sent to the House a bill providing $332.2 million for the start of a research program backers said could lead to a "final breakthrough" against cancer.

The legislation would create a semi-autonomous agency within the National Institutes of Health (NIH) which would search for causes and cures of cancer.

At San Clemente, Calif., President Nixon called on the House to quickly approve the bill "so that we can swiftly lengthen our strides against the dreaded ravages of cancer, bringing new hope to all Americans — and indeed bringing new hope to the world."

While supporters predicted the new program would bring about a breakthrough, they warned reaching the goal will take some time.

The bill would make the Cancer Conquest Agency independent within NIH. Its director would report directly to the President, and the agency would seek its funds separately from other health units.

"They have more ..."

COMMANDER of the Strategic Air Command, Gen. Bruce K. Holloway, said in interview in New York the fifth round of SALT talks in Helsinki is "the most important thing for the future of mankind I know."

Holloway said, "In my opinion we've passed parity in their favor just recently ... they have more than we do." Fifth round of arms talks opened today. (UPI)

Idaho into red?

BOISE (UPI) — The state of Idaho will and the 1969-1971 fiscal biennium $405,000 in the hole if all encumbrances are paid.

But State Auditor Joe R. Williams said Wednesday it would be possible to stop payment before the state went into the red, or to trim a percentage of each encumbrance payment in order to break even.

The Idaho Code does not provide that the state can operate with an unbalanced budget.

Earlier in the week, budget director D.E. Chilberg, had predicted some $3.5 million would be carried over from the biennium, which ended June 30, to the current fiscal year 1972.

Chilberg was out of town Wednesday and unavailable for comment.

The $3.5 million was estimated as part of the state's revenue for 1972, and the legislature appropriated the money on that basis.

Williams said the problem of a potential $405,000 deficit was simply a matter that the legislature appropriated approximately half a million dollars more than came in.

Jeffries to council

BOISE (UPI) — Allan P. Jeffries, director of statistical services, Idaho department of education, has been appointed to a three-year term on the planning committee of the council of chief state school officers.

Jeffries returned to Boise this week from a national meeting of the group in New Orleans, La. He said as a member of the nine-man committee he will act as western regional representative on the council's educational data systems planning.

Thousands pay last respects

NEW YORK (UPI) — The body of Louis Armstrong lies in state today at a large Manhattan armory chosen because of the number of persons expected to pay their respects to the jazz trumpeter.

Private funeral services were scheduled for 1 p.m. Friday at the Corona Congregational Church in Queens.

The Seventh Regiment Armory on Park Avenue was to be open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. today for the public to view the body.

Armstrong, who carried jazz throughout the world for five decades, died at his Queens home of a heart attack Tuesday. He had celebrated his 71st birthday Sunday, the Fourth of July.

Armstrong had been hospitalized earlier this year with heart and kidney trouble but had been judged well enough to return home.

A spokesman for the family said "When the Saints Go Marchin' In" and "Just a Closer Walk With Thee" will be sung by an unannounced male singer at the funeral. Peggy Lee has been selected to sing "The Lord's Prayer" at the service.

Andrus grants court freedom

BOISE (UPI) — Based on an attorney general's opinion, Gov. Cecil D. Andrus announced Wednesday the Idaho Supreme Court would be allowed to take care of its own budgetary and building maintenance matters.

In a letter to Chief Justice Henry McQuade, Andrus said he had advised the director of administration and acting director of the department of administrative services to take the "necessary steps" to implement the decision, including transfer of salaries and wages which have been budgeted for janitorial services.

The governor also said he would instruct the division of building services to transfer to the jurisdiction of the court those persons now engaged in providing janitorial services if the court desires.

The opinion was written by Attorney General W. Anthony Park after Andrus requested it.

In his opinion, Park noted the conflict between the separation of powers of the three branches of government and Idaho code provisions for management of the state capital mall — of which the supreme court building is a part.

The opinion said because of the basic concept of separation of powers "we feel it is not only permissible but desirable for the judicial system to have... the facilities, resources and other wherewithal to perform its function autonomously."

Park said because of a constitutional grant given to the judicial system, it appeared the supreme court could exercise supervision over judicial employees "in regard to their compensation, authority over maintenance of the supreme court building, and control of the budget for the judicial branch of government including disposition of legislatively appropriated funds."

Poet hits Russ clamps on life

MOSCOW (UPI) — Poet Yevgeny Yevtushenko spoke out against censorship, Stalinism and the generation gap in a new public speech that returns him to form as a critic of Soviet society.

The poet, now 38 and a comfortable member of the literary establishment, called for a new free-flowing of Soviet letters in a speech last week to the Writers' Union congress. It circulated to the public today in the current issue of the Literary Gazette.

Comparing Soviet writers to teachers, Yevtushenko told the congress:

"A good teacher does not forbid any questions, because if he did the children would stop asking and nothing is more dangerous than forcibly suppressed questions."

"Similarly, in literature there might be forbidden approaches but there should be no forbidden themes."

"To ignore facts about certain sections of our history is fraught with serious consequences."

The union expelled Nobel-prize-winning novelist Alexander Solzhenitsyn last year for his attacks on censorship and for the foreign publication of his novels Cancer Ward and The First Circle. Yevtushenko presumably had Solzhenitsyn in mind when he told the union "there should be no forbidden themes."

Critical

Yevtushenko rose to prominence in the late 1950s and early 1960s with poems that included attacks upon the brutality of the Stalin era and other excesses of Soviet Society.

Court backs rule

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Supreme Court Wednesday affirmed a first district court ruling that convicted a Bonner County man in a 1967 automobile accident death.

The high court upheld the district verdict of guilty without gross negligence in the case of Charles Cutler. He had appealed his conviction to the state supreme court disputing the results of an alcoholic blood test and claiming he had received adverse newspaper publicity.

Cutler was involved in an automobile accident on March 26, 1967 which claimed the life of Billy Gibson near Clark Fork, Idaho.

In his first trial, Cutler was found guilty of manslaughter. But a second trial resulted in a verdict of guilty without gross negligence.

Teamsters like 'Fitz'

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Fresh from a $25,000 pay boost that brought his annual salary to $125,000, Frank E. Fitzsimons today headed for almost certain election to a full five year term as president of the nation's largest union.

The only opponent to "Fitz," as he is known to his colleagues in the 3.1 million member Teamsters union, was Theodore G. Daley, secretary-treasurer of Local 445 in Yonkers, N.Y.

But Daley's lack of support among the 2,600 delegates to the convention became obvious Wednesday when he was shouted down and soundly defeated in efforts to oppose or change amendments proposed by the convention's constitution committee.

Head Start charges planned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Head Start program for needy preschool children will start charging middle-income parents Sept. 1 whose children have been enrolled for "socio-economic diversity," it was learned Wednesday.

At Congress' direction, guidelines setting fees for families according to income have been drafted. And contrary to a quiet, abortive move by Senate liberals to open the popular program to greater participation by the "nonpoor," the government is maintaining its 90-10 per cent ratio of poor to middle-income families.

While Head Start policy has always been to admit 10 per cent from nonpoor families to provide a social "mix," no family has ever been charged for the social, medical and educational services that are intended primarily to help bridge the cultural gap for needy children before they enter the first grade.

In late 1965, Congress decreed that nonpoor families enrolling children in Head Start "shall be required to make payment."

Consequently, starting Sept. 1, any family of four with an income of more than $3,800 will pay a graduated fee, no matter how many of its children are enrolled.

For example, a family receiving $6,500 to $7,000 a year could be charged up to $480. The fee for a family in the $10,000-$10,500 bracket could pay up to $1,360. The charges could be lower, however, depending on the average local cost of caring for each Head Start enrollee, which varies from city to city.

The estimated 47,000 nonpoor children already enrolled in Head Start would not be affected.

A source close to the Senate labor subcommittee on Employment, Manpower and Poverty said the intent of the original, liberal-supported amendment to the Economic Opportunity Act in 1969 was to eliminate the government's 10 per cent limit on nonpoor participation.

"The idea was to increase the socio-economic diversity of Head Start children," he said. "This program started with tremendous middle-class support, and it is now being seen in many communities as just another welfare program. But the liberal proposal died in a House-Senate conference committee, the source reported, when some unidentified black congressman complained that opening Head Start to additional nonpoor children "was a sellout to the middle class."

National debt up to peak

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The national debt scored its biggest annual increase in 26 years during the fiscal year that ended June 30 and the small budget surplus President Nixon predicted turned into a considerable deficit, it was reported Tuesday.

The Treasury said the national debt increased by $28 billion to a new total of $399,474,599,545. This increase was almost $10 billion more than the gain recorded during the previous fiscal year.

The last time the debt increased more than it did during the 1971 fiscal year was in the year that ended June 30, 1945—a World War II period—when it increased by $60.6 billion.

The joint House-Senate committee on reduction of federal expenditures, meanwhile, reported that when the final figures are in the fiscal 1971 budget deficit will exceed $27.3 billion, contrary to Nixon's forecast of a slight surplus that he made 18 months ago.

If the committee's figures turn out to be accurate, the two-year total deficit of $44 billion will be the largest since World War II.

New job categories covered by Gem law

TWIN FALLS — The Idaho Employment Security Law enacted by the 41st Idaho Legislature will extend unemployment insurance coverage to several new job categories, according to H. Fred Garrett, Boise, executive director of the Idaho Department of Employment.

John Leinen, Twin Falls, manager of the local Department of Employment office, reporting on Garrett's statement, said that the Idaho Legislature amended the state law to conform to federal requirements.

"Though many provisions will not take effect until Jan. 1, 1972, employers are being notified now to prepare for a number of changes in reporting of wages and other details," Leinen said.

"The taxable wage base will be increased in January to $4,200 from the present $3,500, and covered wages will be extended to salary of minor brothers and sisters, or to parents employed by sons or daughters.

Idaho employers will also be required to report employees who are U. S. citizens assigned work in foreign countries for unemployment insurance purposes, Leinen said.

An Idaho employer who has one worker in each of 20 different calendar weeks, irrespective of the amount paid or whether it is the same person employed, will be required to participate in the unemployment insurance program as a covered employer under the revised law, according to Garrett.

Occupations previously exempt that will be insured include agent-driver and commission driver engaged in distribution of meat products, vegetable products, bakery goods, beverages, laundry or dry-cleaning services; and full-time traveling or city salesmen engaged in solicitation of orders from wholesalers, retailers, contractors or operators of hotels, motels, restaurants or similar establishments for merchandise for resale or use in business operations.

Facilities and administrative employees of institutions of higher education will also be covered by the Employment Security amendments, except for religious training.

Employees of nonprofit organizations constitute another major group of workers to be covered for unemployment insurance, beginning next January, Garrett said. The coverage will be extended to employees of major hospitals in Idaho which are operated or sponsored by religious and charitable organizations.

An alternate plan for financing benefit costs for nonprofit organizations "has been developed, involving a cost-reimbursement feature whereby qualifying organizations may elect to repay the cost of benefit payments on a dollar-for-dollar basis.

Employees of agriculturally related firms which are involved in grading, packing, storing and delivering agricultural products, will also be covered beginning Jan. 1, 1972. The only exception to the coverage is if the packing and operator was the actual grower of more than 50 per cent of the crop on which the services are being performed.

Flier's plunge fatal

ROSE HILL, Kan. (UPI) — Harold "Hal" Krier, 49, national aerobatic champion from 1965 through 1967 and a former member of the U.S. aerobatic team, was killed Tuesday when he bailed out of an experimental airplane at what apparently was too low an altitude for his parachute to open.

Krier, of Wichita, Kan., was flying a plane for a Rose Hill engineering firm. He had taken off from the Rose Hill Airport on a test flight of a Spinks model 10 built in Oak Grove, Tex.

Initial investigation indicated the plane went into a flat spin and when Krier was unable to bring it out he bailed out. The plane crashed about a mile from where his body was found, southeast of Rose Hill.

Krier starred for more than a dozen years in national air shows and competed as a member of the U.S. aerobatic team in Spain in 1964 and in Russia in 1966.

Teen vote expected

CHUBBUCK (UPI) — A municipal sanitary sewer and water system improvement bond issue will be at stake Tuesday in what is apparently the first election in the state to allow participation of 18-year-olds.

John Cotani, Jr., Chubbuck mayor, said the city's bonding agency, Idaho First National Bank, informed the city 18-year-olds may vote in the election and that the 18-year-old vote will be the first in the state.

Mrs. Vera Armstrong, Chubbuck city clerk, said the printers are unable to get a new registration form out in time for the election, but said it will be legal to use the old forms.

Area newlyweds honored at open house

SPRINGDALE — Newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Coles, were honored at an open house at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Mathew after their July marriage in Rio Grande, Brazil.

Attending the ceremony from Heyburn were Mr. and Mrs. Ross Corless.

The bride wore a gown of Italian white satin, which was especially tailored for her and designed by her in medieval fashion. The rounded neckline fell into a fitted bodice enhanced with covered buttons and long sleeves. Her headpiece of tiny white and pale blue roses held her cathedral veil and train of bridal illusion.

She carried a bouquet of white cushion chrysanthemums accented with baby blue ribbon. At the open house, the three-tiered wedding cake was baked and decorated by Betty Walker, Declo. It was decorated with white roses and lattice work and enhanced with three pedestals between each tier. It was topped with three bells backed with Lilloes of the Valley.

Refreshments were served at quartet tables on the patio. The tables were covered with white dotted swiss and centered with brandy sniffers containing double syringa.

Carolyn Maxwell, Pocatello, and Susan Hill, Houston, Tex., sisters of the bride, poured punch, assisted by Elizabeth Zollinger and Ramona Weed.

On return trip from Brazil, the newlyweds honeymooned at Lima, Peru, Mexico City, Acapulco and Disneyland. They will reside at 728 S. 600 W., Apartment No. 65, Provo. The bridegroom will finish his education at Brigham Young University.

Church camp Magic Valley Favorites

FILER—Nazarene Summer Camp at McCall began this week with the first camp scheduled for girls of 9 to 12 years according to Rev. Gerrie W. Iversen, pastor of the Filer Nazarene Church.

Junior high camp for seventh, eighth and ninth grade students is set for July 12-17, and senior high camp is scheduled for July 18-24. The girls camp for those 9 to 12 years will follow on July 26-31.

Bus transportation has been arranged for all camps from Magic Valley and the bus will leave the Twin Falls First Nazarene Church every Monday at 8 a.m. There will be a transportation fee.

WATERMELON CAKE — Prepare angel food cake mix according to package directions. Tint one-third of the mix green. Tint the remainder of the mix pink. Line the inside of a round mixing bowl, preferably stainless steel, or heat proof mixing bowl with the green mix. (This will be your watermelon rind.) Next, add pink cake mix with chocolate chips scattered as seeds between the layers of mix.

VERNA WILSON — 301 Texas St., Gooding

Bake in a 375-degree oven until cake is done, about 30 minutes. Do not over bake. Invert cake. Allow to cool for one and one-half hours. Loosen sides of cake from pan and remove cake. Frost with green-tinted frosting.

Barbara Baxter, Holloway Unisex— exchange nuptial promise even in glasses

RUPERT — Barbara Baxter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Baxter, Rupert, became the bride of Dean Holloway, Heyburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holloway, Boise, in rites June 28 at St. Nicholas Catholic Church.

Arrangements of white gladioli, apricot-colored chrysanthemums and mint carnations provided the background decorations for the ceremony performed by Rev. Kenneth Arzen.

The bride wore a floor-length lace gown, fashioned in princess styling with a high illusion neckline and short sleeves. A cathedral-length veil, trimmed with lace, was held by a Juliet crown. She carried a bouquet of apricot-colored roses and stephanotis.

Betsy Baxter was maid of honor for her sister, with Kathleen Lincke and Denece Young, cousins of the bride, and Mary Ebersole as bridesmaids. Flower girls were Lorraine Baxter, sister of the bride, with Debra Kechter as ringbearer.

Dennis Kenny served as best man, with Larry Smith and Tom Thompson as ushers.

Sally Fife was soloist with Betty Rausch as organist.

Laura Parker attended the guest book during the reception held in the Parish Hall with Judy Kechter and Susan Hacking in charge of the gifts. Mrs. Harold Young, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Harry Massler out-and-served the wedding cake. Others assisting were Pat Burnes, Vicki Henderson, Toni Wright and Beth Kosen.

Special out-of-town guests included Philip Knoble, an uncle from Lamesa, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. George Lincke and family, Maria Lincke and Trudi Lincke, all Philadelphia, and friends from Salt Lake City, Boise and Twin Falls.

The couple took a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe. Holloway is employed as an Idaho State Patrolman.

NEW YORK (UPI) — How do you tell a girl's sunglasses from a boy's?

In this era of unisex, you don't, reports a maker of sun specs.

"On the display rack, Foster Grants aren't marked 'his' and 'hers,'" says the firm's new guide to sunglasses.

"It's whatever turns the customer on — a psychic encounter at the sunglasses counter. Unisex is a growing part of our life both on the social scene and the fashion scene."

Surprisingly, even that once strictly male sunglasses shape, the World War II aviator specs, is "proper" this season for females, too. The newest ones have four sets of lenses in as many colors — dark brown, demi-amber, gray and blue.

Sunglasses also come in sizes this season. They're labeled by a major manufacturer from extra large to small. It all depends on how large or how small your eyes are.

Inspired by auto racers are the chromatics, as they're called. These have thin chrome, metallic styling. The stems on these sun specs are wide and have several portholes cut in them.

The pattern of the stems is taken from the pattern of the spokes on the racing car's steering wheel — strips with holes cut in them.

Big round specs are still in. The same for the granule. Geometric shapes, mostly squares, continue. Hexagonal shapes abound. But no triangles yet.

Store insecticides with their labels intact in a place where children and pets cannot reach them. Those in pressurized cans should not be stored near any source of heat.

CATHRYN WYLLIE

Miss Wyllie, Lee plan July rites

TWIN FALLS — Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Wyllie announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Cathryn Pearl, to Gary A. Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arliss Lee, Murtaugh.

Miss Wyllie was graduated from Twin Falls High School in 1966. She has attended Idaho State University for three years and is currently majoring in special education. She is affiliated with Gamma Phi Beta. Lee was graduated from Murtaugh High School in 1966. He attended California Polytechnic School, Pomona, Calif., for three years, and is a business engineer major at ISU. He is employed this summer in Pocatello.

A July 24 wedding is planned at the United First Methodist Church, Twin Falls.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: Why do people give money to reciprocate a kindness? It spoils everything.

Yesterday a friend gave me a check for $10 for a small kindness I showed her. (I picked up her mail and brought it to her at the hospital for three weeks.) Abby, I was terribly hurt and didn't want to accept money for something which I did out of the kindness of my heart, so I tore up the check in front of her.

She looked as tho I had struck her and tears came to her eyes. I wanted to die. Was I wrong?

DEAR HURTING: Yes. To destroy something publicly shows contempt for it. You should have either returned the check or destroyed it privately. People give money to reciprocate a kindness because either they are unable to shop for a gift or they don't know what to buy.

Your friend wanted to reward you for your kindness. You wanted no reward. Unfortunately, you misunderstood each other.

DEAR ABBY: I need help. My husband is 91, and for the last two years Arnold has had no desire for sex, and I am only 73 and I still need a man.

Arnold is a jealous man and he follows me everywhere so there is no chance of even meeting anyone else. Is there something the doctor can give him to pep him up a little? If that is hopeless, maybe the doctor can give me something to quiet me down. It is no good this way.

DEAR YOUNG: It might be easier to quiet your desire than to rekindle Arnold's. Ask your doctor.

DEAR ABBY: Please spell out the responsibilities of a daughter in law when she comes to visit with her two children who are both under 3 years old. The children are not accustomed to being in a playpen in their own home, but I have one here for them because I don't want them roaming thru the house. Young mothers have been fed the idea that a playpen thwarts a child's ego and learning experiences. The youngsters are left to roam, tear magazines apart, climb on the tables, drag out the flatiron and topple the telephone.

Please tell us grandmothers how to avoid antagonizing the young mothers and yet preserve a semblance of order in our own homes.

DEAR GRANDMOTHER: Since your daughter in law is anti-playpen, make it plain that she will have to keep her eye on the children while she visits you. And if she doesn't do it, it's into the playpen for the roamers. Like it or not!

DEAR ABBY: When a guy is asked to be best man at a wedding and it is decided that all the men in the wedding party should wear identical rented dinner jackets, who pays for the rental on the jackets?

DEAR WONDERING: The men who wear them.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Macrame demonstration set for Christian Women's Club

TWIN FALLS — Macrame, a decorative knotting technique, will be demonstrated by Mrs. Leslie Davee for the Magic Valley Christian Women's Club at a salad bar luncheon meeting at 1 p.m. July 13 at Turf Club. Special music will be furnished by the Sunshine Quartet, with Val Chase, Boise, a former model, as featured speaker. Reservations can be obtained by calling 733-9017 or 734-2106. Twin Falls; 326-5180, Eller; 543-4062, Buhl, or 324-5855, Jerome. There is no babysitting during the summer months.

Hints

Sauna or steam baths may endanger some sick or elderly users, the Federal Trade Commission cautions. The caution was directed to "oldsters" with heart disease, high blood pressure or diabetes.

Clean appliances thoroughly before leaving for vacation.

Otherwise you may risk returning to find that bugs have decided to vacation in your home — drawn by crumbs and spills.

Neat go-togethers of pants, shirt, jacket and tie will see a young man through a job interview confidently.

Store insecticides with their labels intact in a place where children and pets cannot reach them. Those in pressurized cans should not be stored near any source of heat.

Do not store an insecticide near food, under the sink, or in a medicine cabinet. If a container has lost its label, do not guess at its contents. Get rid of it.

Natural bridge City of Rocks fest features area history

BURLEY — Tours of the various rock formations in the City of Rocks will get under way at 10 a.m. Saturday as part of the "Saga of the Silent City of Rocks" all day event, near Almo.

Members of the Cassia County Historical Society will be stationed at the various rock formations to give the visitors a brief history of the rock and surrounding area.

I. Gov. Jack Murphy will be the featured speaker at noon, with Senator Robert Saxvig, D-Burley, serving as Murphy's personal guide for the day.

Following the Lieutenant Governor's address will be the OK Corral Shoot-out staged by the Idaho Rangers (quick draw group) at 12:30 p.m. will be the Covered Wagon Massacre, followed by the Stage Coach Robbery at 1 p.m. The stage coach is being brought to the area from Ketchum. The Idaho

Hangers will be the Ponderosa and the Oakley Vigilantes will be the posse.

The Sweet Adelines will sing at 1:30 p.m. featuring old time tunes. The Ponderosa Little Theatre Group will present its play "The Chips are Down," set in the early 1800's.

The program of re-enacting early day history will be repeated beginning at 3 p.m. with the OK Corral Shoot-out.

The Singing K's will present several numbers at 4:30 p.m. and Bill Yarger, Salt Lake City, Utah, will serve as the master of ceremonies for the day. Narrators for the special events will be Dean Bott and Jake Hodge.

Also scheduled to perform during the day will be the Idaho Old Time Fiddlers and some square dancers from Magic Valley.

Persons dressed as prospectors and trappers will also be in the area.

Various clubs and organizations in the county will have food booths and refreshment stands operating.

The Oakley Vigilantes will be parking cars and serving as security police in the parking areas. A registered nurse will also be at the site to care for any emergency.

The day-long event is being sponsored by the Cassia County Historical Society, with Leo Henscheid serving as program chairman.

The American Red Cross was founded May 21, 1881 by Clara Barton.

Mini-Cassia Weed agent put on staff

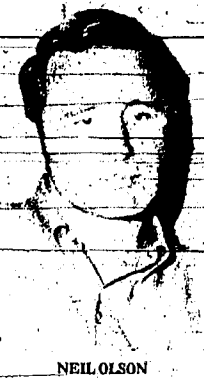

RUPERT — A new county agent in charge of weed control has been added to the staff of Minidoka County's Extension Service. He is Neil Olson.

Olson, 38, a native of Klamath Falls, Ore., holds a bachelor of science degree in agriculture, with a major in animal husbandry from California State Polytechnic College, San Luis Obispo, Calif.

Following his graduation from Cal Tech, Olson went to work for Armour and Company in Dixon, Calif. He worked there for five years as yard supervisor and livestock buyer.

and was accepted for this post. He began work in his new post June 10. "My reception to date has been good. I feel I'm easily adaptable to any community and see no problem of fitting in here," he said.

La Mont Smith, county agent in charge of the Minidoka County office, said, "I'm glad he's here. Now maybe we'll be able to start meeting the needs of the residents of this county."

Mind Your Money

By PETER WEAVER
Q — I am enclosing an advertisement on high-waisted belts. Do these devices really work? — Mrs. J. R. K., Pleasant Garden, N. Y.

A — Spot reducing devices are sold in all sorts of forms — rubber belts, inflatable girdles and thigh pads. Advertisers claim they can do such things as help "reduce waist" or "lose 10 pounds in 10 days."
While some devices you're supposed to follow a special plan which involves dieting and simple exercise. One "simple" exercise plan (not revealed in the ad) requires 50 "squat to heel" exercises, 25 knee-raise movements with back straight plus 50 side leg raises and 200 toe touches. This takes around 20 minutes and must be done every day.

According to an American Medical Association review of spot-reducing advertising claims: "Globules of fat are inside the cells... the idea that mechanical pressure could cause them to wander or move to other places in the body is ridiculous... Equally ridiculous is the idea that sweating (the production of a watery secretion by the sweat glands) can get rid of fat (which is chemically and physically different from water)."

It's true that proper diet and exercise will tone your body, possibly improve your posture and otherwise make you look and feel better. Reporting in the Annals of Internal Medicine, three California doctors say that, while exercise does reduce the total quantity of fat in the body, least evidence disputes the concept of spot-weight reduction.

The doctors concluded their report by quoting Shakespeare's Hamlet: "There is a divinity that shapes our ends."

Q — We are moving to Reno and I wonder if you have any information on how we should handle the packing and moving of some valuable antiques — Mrs. A. W. D., Milford, Del.

A — Get in touch with the director of the nearest art museum or gallery. Ask what moving company they use when they have exhibits which are not handled by the museum or art gallery itself.

For example, the Phillips Art Gallery, Washington, D. C., says 80 Cezanne paintings were recently shipped for exhibition around the United States and Latin America.

A New York moving company delivered the paintings to each city with nary a scratch or bruise. Naturally, you pay extra for this kind of special packing and handling.
Q — When you leave a box of soap powder open, does it lose its strength? — Mrs. J. D. F., Avondale, Pa.

A — Soap powder does not lose its cleaning power when it's left open. Soap is "hygroscopic," which means it will pick up water from the air. This may cake it but won't affect its power to clean your wash.

Q — I am an old-time movie buff but must confess that I find fewer and fewer movies I care to see. Some statisticians recently said there were an million million people retired women in the country. Many would like to see a movie and perhaps have dinner downtown.

But the language, nudity, sex and violence in many movies these days turn us off. Must we just give up? — Mrs. M. H., Camden, N. J.

A — Don't give up. The American Film Institute (Washington, D. C.) suggests you might find enough kindred souls to form a movie club.

Heater hearing called

POCATELLO — The Idaho Public Utilities Commission has scheduled a hearing in Pocatello on July 21 to investigate a complaint about the practice by Intermountain Gas of leasing water heaters at a flat rate per month which includes installation and maintenance, according to Wes Coryell, Twin Falls, "division marketing manager for Idaho Power."

"We don't think we're in trouble," Coryell said of the electrical utility. The complaint was made against Intermountain Gas, but "they called all utilities in to be fair and give all a chance to be heard," he said. Idaho Power and Light Co. has also been named in the action.

Idaho Power does not lease water heaters, but in some cases finances purchase of electric water heaters from retail outlets. The power customer would pay the utility for the purchase with his power bill, and the power company then pays the dealer, Coryell said.

The PUC hearing will begin at 9 a.m. July 21 in the Hancock Motor Inn, Pocatello.

News Of Servicemen

TWIN FALLS — ROTC Cadet Christopher L. Barth, 23, son of Kenneth D. Barth and Mrs. Geraldine Barth, Twin Falls, is receiving six weeks practical work in military leadership at Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps advanced summer camp, Ft. Lewis, Washington, June 11-July 22. Barth attends Idaho State University at Pocatello. He is one of more than 13,000 students attending ROTC summer training at six installations in the United States. Barth's wife, Debra, lives in Pocatello.

The Idaho State Police says you have to know what is happening ahead when you are driving if you want to be prepared for unusual situations. Being prepared for the unexpected may save your life.

Ira overlooked his partner's queen of diamonds and the king and decided there was just one chance to beat the contract. He shifted to his queen of hearts. Stone won with his king and saw that Ira was surely planning to get in with the ace of spades and put his partner on lead with a diamond.

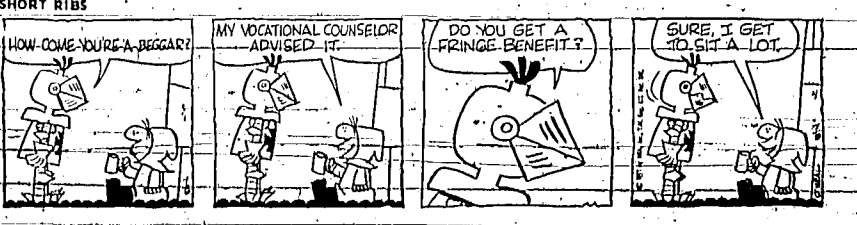

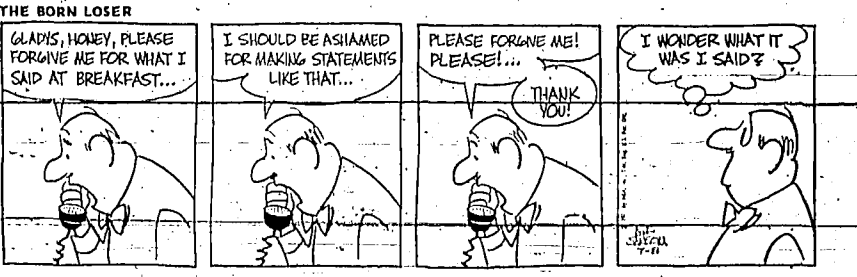

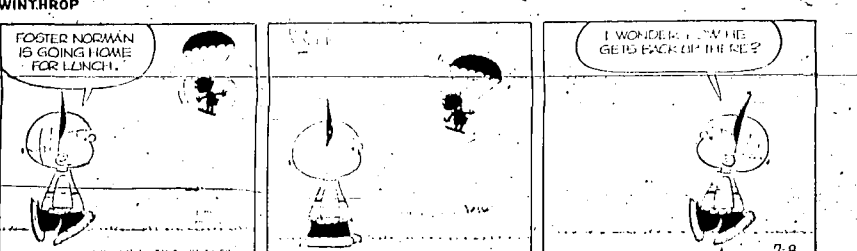

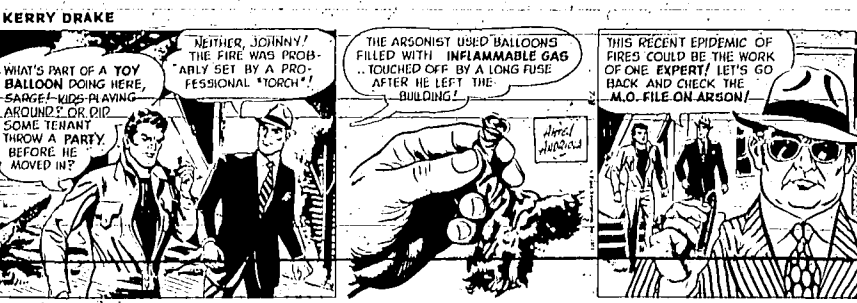

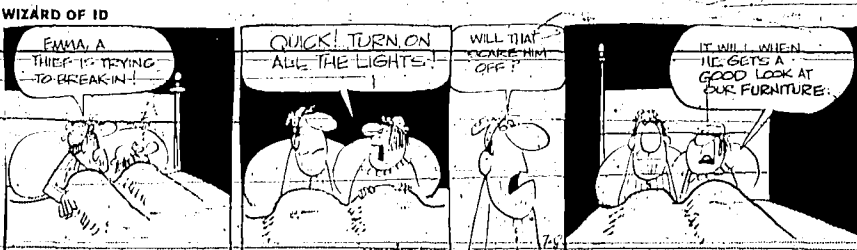

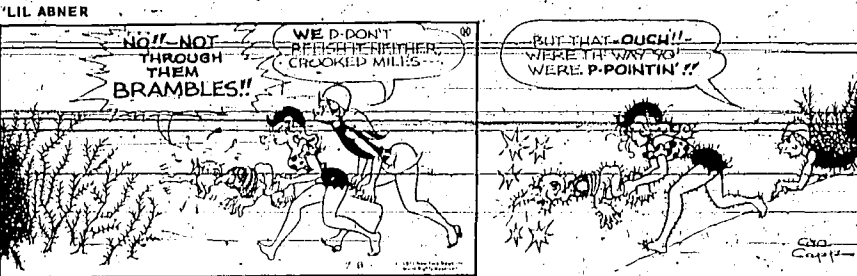

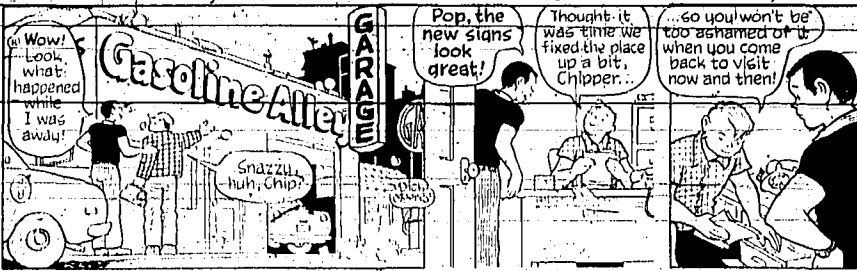

It would have worked, since West held the diamond 10, but Stoney spotted Ira's lead. He led his queen of clubs, continued with a club to dummy's ace and another high club. Ira ruffed, but Stoney was ready with the ace of spades. He checked his remaining diamond—Ira second-trick and got his ace of trumps later, but he never got to ruff a heart as he had hoped.

PASS IT ON
by L.M. Boyd

OUR LOVE AND WAR MAN is repeatedly asked by engaged couples to figure the odds on whether their marriage will last. All right, if both the bride and groom are under 20, chances are only 46 out of 100 they'll stay together. If the groom is over 20, but the bride is not, chances run 64 out of 200 they'll stay together. And if both the bride and groom are over 20, chances run 82 out of 200 they'll stay together. Or so the statistics indicate.

THE BANKERS, those optimists, say we're going to write twice as many checks every month 10 years from now as we write today. IT'S STILL A FACT that women buy nine out of 10 men's handkerchiefs while men buy no more than one out of every 24 women's handkerchiefs. Is this equitable? ALL FILIPINO COOKS, I'm told, like to put sugar on things everybody else puts salt on and vice versa.

NO, I SURE don't dislike dogs. On the contrary. But what's hard to figure out is why the citizenry insists on keeping them locked up where rabbits never run and few birds sing. In Tokyo, for instance, with its 280,000 dogs. In Los Angeles, with 300,000. In New York City, with 500,000. In London, with 700,000. In Mexico City, with 1,000,000. Something's wrong with a brace of Afghans in an elevator, a hot coffee leashed to a parking meter, a big black Lab in a midtown liquor store. But I don't know what.

CUSTOMER SERVICE: Q "What's your stand on the common use these days of four-letter words in mixed conversation?" A Am opposed. However, such syllables that bother me are not so numerous as those that shake up the ladyfriend. Including four-letter words like wash, iron, bake, cook and dust. Q "What would a ton of pennies be worth?" A. About $2,750, research reveals.

IN THE VERNACULAR of the salesman, a mooch is somebody who's easy to sell. And a sales expert of lengthy experience contends the one other thing almost all mooches have in common is ticklishness. How he found this out is a mystery. "But check it out," he says, "ticklish people will buy anything."

LIONS MULTIPLY a lot faster in captivity than in the bush. So what's happening is the African wildland is running out of lions while the zoos of the United States are getting, as it were, over-lionized. A movement's afoot to ship lions back. Did I mention this? The American youngsters far outnumber the African youngsters who have actually seen lions.

RAPID REPLY: No, madam, am still unable to verify that claim by several baby doctors that infants would rather be held by their fathers than by their mothers. It's widely believed, however.

Your questions and comments are welcomed and will be used in PASS IT ON whenever possible. Please address your letters to L.M. Boyd, P.O. Box 17076, Fort Worth, Texas 76102.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Every once in awhile, the afternoon bridge game at New York's Cavendish Club looks like the final round of a national championship. The players today include Ira Rubin sitting East and Tom Stone in the South seat.

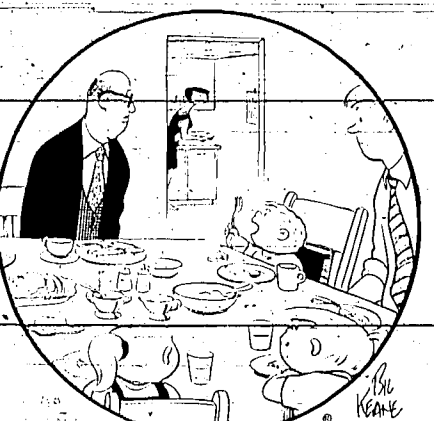

Rubin's two-diamond overcall was sound indeed, but he believed in sound overcalls. Stone's jump to four spades was one of those multipurpose bids. He did not know which side could make what but he wanted to put pressure on his opponents. Of course, Stone was willing to have his partner bid a slam if his partner had a rockersifer.

North had no problem and Ira decided to try to beat four spades, rather than sacrifice at five diamonds.

Medina, counsel in Vietnam

LONG BINH, Vietnam (UPI) — Army Capt. Ernest Medina, charged with the murder of 102 Vietnamese civilians at My Lai in 1968, returned to Vietnam against his will Wednesday on orders of a military court.

Capt. Mark V. Kadish, one of Medina's military attorneys, said the accused captain had opposed returning to Vietnam and was forced to go by prosecution demands that depositions be taken from two local witnesses to the killings.

Kadish said the two witnesses to be questioned were Vietnamese sergeants named Phu and Minh, but he refused to identify them further. He said Medina and his military counsels are required to be present at the questioning, which legally is part of the trial.

Medina arrived at Bien Hoa Air Base, 15 miles northeast of Saigon, aboard a chartered military jet with defense and prosecution attorneys. He refused comment to newsmen. He rode with the attorneys in a jeep to Long Binh Army Base, three miles southeast of Bien Hoa, where he planned to stay during the visit.

"We'll be here as short a time as possible," Kadish said.

"We hope to be out of here by Saturday at the latest," Kadish said. The two witnesses had been brought to Long Binh for the depositions.

Medina and his civilian attorney, F. Leo Bailey, had tought the prosecution move to interview the two sergeants. But Army judges at a pre-trial hearing at Ft. McPherson, Ga., ruled in favor of the prosecution.

Proposal meets demand

By WILBUR G. LANDREY, UPI Foreign Editor

The North Vietnamese proposal to bring American troops and prisoners home by the end of the year goes a long way towards meeting one of President Nixon's two basic conditions for getting out of Vietnam.

more deeply than any issue since the Civil War.

In the rush of events since World War II, Indochina has played a part far beyond its size in changing the national destinies of both France and the United States.

The publication of the Pentagon papers recalls it all again. For France, her defeat in 1954 and departure from Indochina was the shocking failure of a "civilizing" mission which lasted more than 100 years.

It also puts the United States on the spot to decide whether to leave the present South Vietnamese government to face an uncertain future alone.

At least it appears to get negotiations off dead center. President Nixon's two stated conditions for getting out of the war were the last American soldier would not leave until after the last prisoner was released and until the South Vietnamese had at least a reasonable chance to defend themselves.

These were not the United States peace conditions but rather the conditions for U.S. withdrawal to let the South Vietnamese government carry on the fighting alone.

Whether the South Vietnamese army could defend itself by the end of the year without American air support must be at least doubtful.

The North Vietnamese proposals at the Paris talks were obviously designed to exploit the swelling American demand to get out of a war that has lasted longer than any foreign conflict in the history of the United States and has divided it

Returns to Idaho

POCATELLO (UPI) — Idaho's former Second District congressman, George Hansen, confirmed over the weekend he is moving his family back to Pocatello from Washington, D. C.

Hansen, now deputy director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, said he plans to commute between Pocatello and Washington, D.C.

When asked if the move was planned to establish residency in Idaho, Hansen said he already had an Idaho residency. He said he did not plan to make an announcement at present on his political future.

He said, however, before he could accept a GOP nomination for office he would have to be asked.

Hansen declined to seek reelection to his congressional seat in 1968 and ran for the Senate, against Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, but was defeated. Since then he has been with the ASCS.
