FILER — The National High School Rodeo opened here Tuesday beneath bright skies and a grandstand half full of enthusiastic rodeo fans.

Many of the estimated 2,000 persons attending the opening performance Tuesday were parents, other relatives and friends of the 451 contestants. Tuesday night cooler weather brought a near-capacity crowd to the 4,000-seat grandstands to greet the second performance. During Tuesday afternoon's show the sponsoring Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce committee presented long-time

National High School Rodeo executive board member Gabby Hayes of South Dakota an Idaho trophy. Hayes is now secretary of the National High School Rodeo Foundation. Bruce Alexander, Sulphur, La., long-time high school rodeo star, also was given a trophy during pre-rodeo ceremonies. Tuesday afternoon was Twin Falls day at the rodeo and Mayor Frank Feldman, Twin Falls County Commissioner Bill Chancey, Heber Loughmiller and Merl E. Leonard, and Harold O. Hove, chairman of the Twin Falls County Fair board, were introduced. Filer, blight was observed during the evening performance, with dignitaries from the National High School Rodeo's host city, including Mayor Dan Kauffman, being introduced. The rodeo continues through Sunday with performances at 2 and 8 p.m. through Saturday and the championship finals set for 2 p.m. Sunday. Three injuries, two in the saddle bronc riding and one in bull dogging, marred the Tuesday afternoon performance. None of the three, Brad Mattox, Wichita, Kan.; Jack Gray, Brighton, Colo., and Mike Vogt, McPherson, Kan., was hospitalized. Gray received a broken bone in his foot. Two of the injured cowboys have received doctors permits to continue competition. Two Idaho girls placed in cow cutting Tuesday. Jane Maggard, Caldwell, was leading the event with 144 points until Tuesday night when Helen Purke, Malta, edged her by a point and a half and Kathy Schurger, Rapid City, S. D., moved in on the Idahoans with 146 points. Diane Fender, Kimberly, who was leading the pole bending after Tuesday afternoon's show, dropped out of the top three after competition Tuesday night. They were the only Idahoans in contention Tuesday.

Jerome official charged

By CHARLOTTE BELL Times-News Writer
JEROME — Mel Morris, Jerome city works director, appeared today before Magistrate Russell Shaud and pleaded innocent to a charge of embezzling 23 gallons of city gas.

The charges were filed by Police Chief C. H. Puntney after Morris was arrested at 1 p.m. Friday at the city barn where he was allegedly taking the gas. Morris has been released on his own recognizance and a trial date has not yet been set. The police chief said city police cars had quit using premium gas but he noticed several weeks ago this gas was disappearing and could not be accounted for on the books. So the department placed a "stakeout" at the city barns. Morris is still on his job, according to Puntney.

Mayor Jack Russell verified that the suspect was still on the job, but declined further comment. The suspect could not be located for comment. Morris, as director of public works, is the second-ranking administrator in the city, reporting directly to the mayor. He oversees the widespread operations of city streets, water, sewer and parks and road departments. In the words of one city employee, "He's in charge of practically everything in the city." The incident is the first of its kind reported in the city in recent years. The mayor reportedly was meeting with the city councilmen discussing the matter this morning. No action reportedly had been taken by press time.

Aging secrets

SECRET DOCUMENTS from World War II, now more than 25 years old, will be declassified if Congress approves request by President Nixon. Program would cost $5 million and take six years. David Rodgers, of National Archives, examined some of 160 million pages of documents covered by the request. (UPI)

Appeal seeks Texas busing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon has coupled his strongest statement yet against busing school children for racial integration with a request that Congress not allow use of proposed federal funds for that purpose. At the same time the administration announced it was appealing a benchmark court ruling against massive busing in the public schools of Austin, Tex. However, it indicated it was appealing the case not to promote racial busing but to comply with recent Supreme Court decisions.

Individual school districts to hold busing to the minimum required by law. Then he said Congress was being asked to amend legislation still under consideration so that none of a proposed $1.5 billion in desegregation aid funds could be used for busing. The legislation, being considered by the House Education and Labor Committee, would provide money for such things as teacher counseling, dropout prevention, ethnic studies and other programs designed to help school districts that are undergoing rapid desegregation.

Nixon's statement Tuesday said: "I am against busing as that term is commonly used in school desegregation cases. I have consistently opposed the busing of our nation's school children to achieve a racial balance, and I am opposed to the busing of children simply for the sake of busing. Further, while the executive branch will continue to enforce the orders of the court, including court-ordered busing, I have instructed the attorney general and the secretary of health, education and welfare that they are to work with

China tour
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon said today a date for his visit to Peking would be worked out within the next two or three months. He said both he and Chinese leaders would be prepared to discuss all topics of mutual interest. But during a 45-minute impromptu news conference in his oval office, the President declined to speculate on what effect his trip might have on ending the war in Vietnam.

Declassify documents, Nixon asks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon proposed Tuesday that 160 million pages of secret World War II documents be declassified. He announced the "massive declassification" plan in asking Congress to appropriate $500,000 to initiate the project, which would cost $6 million over a five-year period. "These documents are more than 25 years old," Nixon said in a letter, "and after careful consideration, I believe that we must undertake a massive declassification if the United States is to retain its traditional leadership in providing accessibility to historical papers, and if we are to preserve respect for these sensitive materials which should properly remain classified."

"In this age of uncertainty, it is clear that our security depends as much upon public trust and understanding as upon the protection of legitimate state secrets," he added. The matter of declassifying government secrets was emphasized earlier this summer when The New York Times and other newspapers published portions of a secret Pentagon study on U.S. involvement in Vietnam.

Vote cuts off Greek handout

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House voted Tuesday to cut off all foreign aid to Greece and Pakistan until the two military regimes initiate internal reforms. The action came as the House approved a two-year foreign aid bill on a 200 to 192 roll call vote. The measure, which now goes to the Senate, would authorize spending of up to $3.4 billion in overseas assistance for each of the next two fiscal years, ending June 30, 1973.

For the fiscal year that began July 1, the administration had recommended $118 million in military aid to Greece and $225 million in military, economic and surplus food aid to Pakistan. But the House upheld prohibitions against both items that were written into the bill by the House Foreign Affairs Committee. The bill would bar aid to Greece until the ruling military junta permits restoration of parliamentary democracy, and to Pakistan until the government in Karachi halts its crackdown on the Bengali separatist movement in East Pakistan. Pakistan also would have to let East Pakistani refugees return to their homes. An amendment to restore aid to Greece was defeated 122 to 57. No move was made to change the ban on aid to Pakistan. Although it was the first such House action in recent memory, both prohibitions provided President Nixon and the two countries with opportunities to retrieve a good portion of the aid. The Greek amendment states that the President may waive the restriction if he finds that "overriding requirements of the national security of the United States" necessitate aid to Greece. Of the $225 million in aid to Pakistan, about $102 million would be in surplus food sales. These would not be affected by the ban if they could be used in an international relief operation.

Apollo sets return trip

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI) — As Apollo 15 circled the moon for the sixth and last day, David R. Scott said today he would like to stay there for weeks gazing at the "mind-boggling" lunar labyrinth far below. "I just wish we had more time because, believe me, there's an awful lot to be seen and done up here," Scott said he and his colleagues were awakened to the tune of the opening theme from the movie "2001: A Space Odyssey." Before firing themselves out of lunar orbit late today, Scott, Alfred M. Worden and James B. Irwin were leaving behind an 80-pound satellite that will circle the moon for a year, monitoring radiation and magnetic forces. But today marked the end of manned lunar exploration until Apollo 16 sets out March 17 on a mission as ambitious as Apollo 15. Scott told ground control at Houston: "As we go around in lunar orbit here I can look down and I can just spend weeks and weeks looking and I can pick out any number of superb sites down there which would take you several weeks to analyze on the surface."

"There's just so much here, to coin a phrase, it's 'mind-boggling.'" This was a low-key joke, since "mind-boggling" was the term Scott used to describe his impression of the moon on Apollo 15's arrival there last Thursday. Dr. Leon T. Silver, a geologist from California Institute of Technology, took the microphone on mission control and told Scott and his colleagues they had done "a lovely job."

"You just don't know how we're jumping up and down here," Silver said. "I hope some day we can get you all up here too," Scott replied. "I think we really need to have some good professional geologists up there." "You all would just really have a field day. There's just so much to be gained here."

Before the lunar breakaway for splashdown late Saturday 328 miles north of Hawaii, the astronauts conducted as much scientific investigation as they could cram into their final orbits. Ky, at a news conference at a presidential guesthouse two hours after he filed, accused Thieu of intimidating his potential supporters of running a fraudulent election and of harming the country. "A change of leadership is essential," Ky said. "Mr. Thieu dare not accept a fair election and has used rigged means at the very beginning of the elections."

Viet hopeful Ky files election petition

SAIGON (UPI) — Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky today filed his petitions to qualify in the Oct. 3 presidential election and left it up to his nation's supreme court to determine if the signatures were valid. The vice president, who has spent the past several weeks trying to muster support to oppose President Nguyen Van Thieu, said he had filed 102 signatures, two more than required by law.

He conceded that only 81 of the signatures had been by Thieu-appointed province chiefs. The rest of the signatures were obtained from councilors who switched their allegiance from Thieu to Ky. There is a legal question whether they can make the switch under the election law, but Ky said he would leave it up to the court to decide.

Fish, game chief picked for state

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Fish and Game Commission unanimously chose Joseph C. Greenley, 48, chief of the Nevada Fish and Game Department's game division, as Idaho's new Fish and Game Department director today. The four members of the Idaho commission meeting in Boise and fifth member Jack Heningway, Ketchum, who voted by telephone from London, England, picked Greenley from six finalists who were chosen after a special committee screened applicants for the job.

Greenley will begin his duties in Idaho Sept. 1. He replaces John H. Woodworth, who resigned in May to become environmental specialist for the regional staff of the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation in Boise. John Eaton, Cascoade, commission chairman, said Greenley "most nearly satisfied the requirements of the position." "We are looking forward to working with Mr. Greenley and know that he will continue the sound management plans of the department." (Related story p. 2)

Rodeo team on way

FILER — Registration at the National High School Rodeo remained at 451 Tuesday, but Oklahoma students may yet arrive despite apparent failure of a plan to acquire a military airplane to airlift horses to Idaho.

Arnold Marker, secretary-treasurer of the National High School Rodeo, said the Oklahoma students, unable to leave the state with their horses until midnight Tuesday because of quarantines on the state, will be allowed to register late if they do arrive. He said the Oklahoma delegation apparently has not been able to acquire a plane, but some do plan to haul their horses to Idaho for the championship rodeo. Oklahoma, like several states in the nation was placed in quarantine after an outbreak of Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis in Texas. Many of the students have come to Filer minus their horses and are using mounts which Idaho residents have loaned to them.

Tiny capsules await lottery

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In a locked and guarded room a block from the White House there are two bulky objects wrapped in brown paper. The contents of those two packages could change the lives of about 2 million young American men born in 1952. The wrapped objects are clear plastic drums, each with 366 capsules inside. In the yellow capsules are numbers from 1 to 366. In the brown capsules are dates from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31. They are the makings for the third annual Selective Service System draft lottery to be held Thursday at 10 a.m. EDT.

Even though the law that has authorized the government to conscript young men into the armed forces expired June 30, the Selective Service is going ahead with the draft lottery for 1972 induction priorities on the assumption that Congress eventually will extend the law. Both the Senate and House have voted to do so, but are at loggerheads over a Vietnam withdrawal rider added by the Senate. Until that matter is worked out, the government can't draft another person in 1971, let alone 1972. But Selective Service officials believe youths who turned 19 this year and are draft eligible in 1972 deserve as much advance notice as possible about their status. That is what will be determined by the drawing in the Department of Commerce auditorium Thursday. Using a scientifically certified system of scrambling the capsules three ways, draft officials spent Tuesday preparing the lottery. They selected at random two of 80 lists of dates and numbers prepared by U.S. Bureau of Standards computer to determine the order of stuffing the capsules and then chose two more lists of scrambled numbers to determine the order of loading the drums. Finally, they gave the drums a couple of whirls, wrapped them in brown paper, sealed them with gold stickers, locked them up and posted a guard. On lottery day, the drums will be rotated for 30 minutes. Six young members of the Selective Service Youth Advisory Committee will extract capsules in pairs—first a date and then a number. The number chosen will determine the draft status of all young men born on the matching date. That process will continue until all 366 days of 1952, a leap year, have been matched with numbers.

KISSABLE SERVICE

Anyone who buys $3.33 worth of gasoline at a service station in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, gets a kiss from a mini-skirted girl. If sales increase the owner said two girls will be hired to kiss the customers. You may not get kissed, but you'll find you'll get good service and good value at the places advertised in the Times-News Classified Ads.

Ky said he would run on the slogan "mother of Vietnam." He said he would not have the traditional alternate vice presidential candidate, but would run only with his friend, wealthy printer Truong Vinh Chao.

Mansfield claims disaster ahead

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said today "there will be hell to pay" unless President Nixon takes steps to solve the nation's economic problems.

"I think economically we're facing a disastrous situation in this country," Mansfield told reporters. "All the economic indicators are bad. Without action, we will bog down the road to inflation."

His counterpart, Republican Leader Hugh Scott, acknowledged that the administration is confronted with serious economic problems but placed the blame on policies of the Johnson administration.

"The attempt to extricate the U.S. economy from the happy-go-lucky policies of the sixties is not paying for war will not be easy," Scott commented.

Scott endorsed criticism of the Democratic controlled Congress by two top White House aides—Clark MacGregor and John D. Ehrlichman—who chided the legislators for not acting on major Nixon proposals.

"The Democrats in control are showing a desire to reap political benefits in 1972 rather than reform in 1971," Scott said.

But in a Senate speech Mansfield said: "I am not at all impressed with the White House statements. I resent it when it is stated we are loafing on the job... we have no apologies to make to anyone."

The Montana Democrat also commended 14 Republican senators who proposed legislation to combat rising inflation and boost the economy.

Idaho court affirms decision

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho's Supreme Court affirmed unanimously Tuesday the first-degree burglary conviction of a man accused of breaking into the Highway store at Aberdeen.

Terry Ranstrum appealed his conviction on grounds he was not advised properly of certain rights. But the high court, in an opinion written by Justice Clay V. Spear, held Ranstrum knowingly and understandingly waived those rights.

In a unanimous opinion written by Justice Joseph J. McFadden, the Supreme Court affirmed the conviction of Lewis Calvin Brown, Mountain Home, of a charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

Brown, convicted of assault as the result of a July 4, 1968, barroom fight in Mountain Home, claimed the trial judge did not properly instruct the jury about certain testimony. The high court disagreed.

It also alleged that actions of the prosecution prevented him from locating a witness to the fight. But the Supreme Court held the record did not support this contention.

House to vote on draft bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House leaders called up for certain passage today a bill to revise the military draft, which expired July 1.

But Senate sources said there was only a very slim chance the measure could be acted upon in the Senate before Congress starts a month-long recess Friday.

Failure by the Senate to act probably would delay the resumption of inductions until October.

The bill, shaped in a House-Senate conference committee, would extend the draft for two years and raise military pay allowances by $2.4 billion a year.

Its sponsors said the pay boost was the most practical approach to an end of the draft by 1973, which is the administration's announced goal.

The House had planned to vote Tuesday but was unable to do so when a technical error was found in a Rules Committee report accompanying the bill. The Rules Committee fixed the mistake in time for the vote today.

The delay all but eliminated any chance to get the bill passed before the Congressional recess.

A filibuster by one or more senators is expected when the bill reaches the Senate floor.

Game commission ponders finalists

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Fish and Game Commission further considered six finalists of applicants for the position of director of the Idaho Fish and Game department Tuesday, but decided to hold off on a decision until the end of the week.

Officials said the current availability of the finalists is being checked, and a decision was said to be made later in the week.

In other business during a commission meeting in Boise Tuesday, a request was rejected from a troop of Green Berets making a tour of the Lewis-Clark Trail through Idaho for complimentary fishing licenses.

Commission members said they must refuse the request for Idaho law specifically prohibits complimentary licenses, and makes it a misdemeanor for any state official to grant one.

The commission also passed a regulation for changing the fish regulation on the Snake River below American Falls reservoir. Officials said there was a drift of kokanee fish, the landlocked salmon variety from the reservoir, into the river below it.

The fish reportedly would not be available to fishermen through ordinary methods, and spawning waters are not available to the fish.

The commission ruled the fish may be taken with 16-inch dip nets from Aug. 1-22, with no bag or possession limits.

Newton jury deliberates

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — A jury began deciding Tuesday whether Frank Panther founder Huey P. Newton shot and killed an Oakland policeman.

The jury was the second to consider the manslaughter charges against Newton. In 1968 Newton was convicted, but the state Supreme Court later freed him on grounds that the judge neglected to instruct the jury that Newton could not be found guilty if he were unconscious at the time of the shooting.

In his instructions to the jury Tuesday, Superior Court Judge Harold B. Hove carefully instructed the jurors that Newton is innocent if they find he was unconscious when officer John Frey was slain. Newton has contended he blacked out before the fatal shot was fired.

The jury of 10 women and two men received the case after a four-week trial that lacked the "Free Huey" uproar heard during the first trial.

Newton, 29, was convicted of voluntary manslaughter for the fatal shooting of the officer who stopped him for a traffic violation. Frey's partner was wounded, and Newton was shot in the stomach.

The Panther leader spent almost two years of his 2-1/2-year sentence in prison before the court ordered him freed.

Following Newton's release, an ideological split developed in the militant black organization, with Newton and fugitive

Eldridge Cleaver leading opposing factions.

Defense attorney Charles Garry said in his closing arguments Monday that Frey was a "racist" policeman who referred to Negroes as "niggers" and "black bastards."

"I don't know who killed officer Frey," but it was not Huey Newton," he said.

Prosecutor Donald Whyte described Newton as "a rat backed into a corner" and said he committed "deliberate, cold-blooded murder."

A nurse testified that Newton burst into the emergency room and demanded to be treated, cutting her a "white slice" which would "let me die."

UPI raises news rates

NEW YORK (UPI) — United Press International has advised its subscribers that rates for UPI news and newspaper services will be increased by 10 per cent effective Sept. 8 to meet a world-wide increase in costs of operation.

In a letter to subscribing newspapers and broadcasters, UPI Vice President Frank Tremaine said UPI was meeting much of the higher costs with improved technological facilities but that a general rate increase was unavoidable to maintain the high standards of service.

"Payroll costs represent the largest single item in our expense structure," Tremaine's letter said.

He pointed out in this area UPI has had to absorb this year sharp increases in wages provided by union contracts, increased payroll fringe costs for health insurance and pensions, and higher Social Security taxes. He said that UPI's payroll costs overseas also are up to a similar extent.

Tremaine said that UPI had avoided a dramatic increase in the cost of its leased Teletype lines by foregoing the adverse result of the press rates case and going to a new system. However, the press rates decision will increase the cost of some of UPI's circuits, particularly those in the newspapers system, he added.

PAVING REPAIRS at the intersection of Shoshone Street and Main Avenue Tuesday caused traffic on Shoshone to be diverted into the lanes normally used by northbound vehicles, using one lane in each direction. The result was this long string of autos and trucks headed north, extending from Second Avenue North through the intersection of Main and Shoshone. This view was photographed about 4:15 p.m. Tuesday. The paving repairs were continuing today in the mall on Main Avenue.

Lancaster hits citizen apathy

TWIN FALLS — The public has a part to play in jury selection under the new Idaho law, County Clerk Harold Lancaster said today.

Lancaster said while his staff has done its part in converting to the new system of drawing the names of prospective jurors, many citizens have failed to respond and meet their legally imposed responsibilities.

He said many persons whose names were selected in the initial 310-person jury master list through the first drawing had failed to complete questionnaires and return them. Law requires the questionnaires be returned immediately, he cautioned.

Of 310 sent out, about 90 required second notices and on Monday, employees of the clerk's office telephoned about 25 prospective jurors to ask their compliance with the law. Lancaster said many feel they "aren't interested" and if they do not respond will be eliminated from jury duty.

This is not the case, he said. The new law is specific in attempting to give more persons an opportunity to serve as jurors. Those who are handicapped or otherwise unable to serve are excused if the questionnaire returned to the clerk's office indicates this, he said.

In some instances, notices have been sent to Twin Falls County men and their wives have signed the information sheets and returned them. These cannot be accepted, Lancaster said. The person receiving the jury notice must fill in the questionnaire and return it, he said.

Trombone trio due to play

TWIN FALLS — A trombone trio will be featured during Thursday's summer park concert by the Twin Falls Municipal Band.

Del Slaughter, director, said Shawn Gould, Dan Adomson and Dwight Tucker will present "Holiday for Trombones" by David-Rosa during the performance at 8:15 p.m. in Twin Falls City Park.

Other numbers on the program are "Einziges (Entrance) March," by Strauss; "Janus Overture," Johnson; "All Through the Night," arranged by Nestler; "A Hymn Festival," Adas; "Profiles in Courage" theme, Riddle; "Santa Fe Trail," Whitney; selections from "Sound of Music," Rodgers and "On the Mall," Goldman.

"The Star Spangled Banner" will conclude the concert.

Rider hurt

TWIN FALLS — Rory Master, 8, El-Kim Motel, suffered minor injuries when he rode his bicycle into the path of a vehicle on Eighth Street East at 7:10 p.m. Tuesday, city police reported.

The automobile was driven by Richard Allan Sievers, Route 1, 15, who was traveling east on Eighth Street when the bicycle rider crossed the street in mid-block, riding into the path of the automobile, officers said.

Gerrish dons skis

TWIN FALLS — While Magic Valley residents are sweltering in temperatures of the high 90's Howard Gerrish is enjoying mid-winter skiing in Australia.

Gerrish, former sporting goods store owner in Twin Falls, reports plenty of snow and good skiing at Thredbo and Perisher Valley in Australia where he and Mrs. Gerrish are visiting their daughter and family.

Mishaps kill 2 Gem men

By United Press International

The deaths of two Idaho men in separate one-car rollovers Monday near Cascade and Winchester, Idaho, boosted the Idaho traffic fatality toll Tuesday to 161.

The victims were identified as William Dräger, 29, Boise, and Norman B. Rogers, 69, Winchester.

Valley County Sheriff Merton Logue, Cascade, said Tuesday Dräger was the driver of a car which crossed S.H. 55 six miles north of Cascade about 11 p.m. Monday night and rolled twice.

Dräger and a passenger, Paul McFadden, 24, Boise, were taken to a hospital in Cascade and then transferred to the Boise Veterans Hospital. Dräger died Tuesday of injuries sustained in the accident and McFadden was treated and released.

The Lewis County Sheriff's Office said Tuesday Rogers was traveling alone on the U.S. 95 Alternate about one mile north of Winchester at 3:27 p.m. when he apparently lost control of the vehicle and it rolled over.

Crews control 2 blazes

TWIN FALLS — Three lightning caused fires were brought under control by U. S. Forest Service Crews and planes Tuesday afternoon.

Dee Hansen of the fire control office, reported two of the fires were on the Burley Ranger District and one on the Twin Falls Ranger District. Two other reports were received but no fires materialized.

A fire broke out Tuesday afternoon near Williams Reservoir on the Twin Falls District and was brought under control after covering from one to one and one-half acres.

Another covered about 100 acres on Mt. Harrison in the Burley District. Only 10 acres of this was U. S. Forest Service land and the remainder private grazing land. Fire retardant was dropped on the blaze with two loads from a B-25 out of Twin Falls and one from a B-17 from Boise.

The third fire was reported in the Flat Creek area of the Burley District and covered only a small area before it was controlled.

Hansen said the burning index is now very high with heavy vegetation drying out. Lightning storms of the past several days have caused concern by fire crews, he said. Persons using the forest recreation areas are urged to keep the fire hazard in mind when on public lands.

Poverty Point, a 2,600-year-old Indian city near Epps, La., is the oldest known habitat of man in the Lower Mississippi Valley.

Depositors rush bank

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Chicago banker told Senate investigators Tuesday his bank, relying on the word of a favored customer, was lured into granting $300,000 in loans secured by collateral that turned out to be forged.

He also said that because of "unfavorable publicity" generated by public disclosure of the transaction last week, depositors have rushed to withdraw about $1 million from his neighborhood bank on Chicago's Northwest Side.

The witness, Richard Lounfy, is executive vice president of Chicago's Devon Bank. He testified under oath before the Senate investigators subcommittee, which is looking into organized crime involvement in the financial community.

He asked to appear after two witnesses, both convicted felons, named the Devon Bank as one of those used to provide huge loans on stolen or counterfeit collateral with the help of Dr. Sidney L. DeLoave, head of the Cook County (Chicago) Federal Savings and Loan Association that hold Devon's mortgage.

Lounfy dismissed these allegations as "misleading and false," although he confirmed DeLoave was a favored customer and had indeed arranged one complex set of transactions involving $5.25 million in counterfeit bonds of Washington County, Tenn., in 1969.

But he denied the sworn testimony of DeLoave Monday that the Devon Bank accepted the bogus bonds with full knowledge that DeLoave was not the real owner.

"We believed we were dealing with Dr. DeLoave and that the securities were his," Lounfy said. "As far as the Devon Bank was concerned, we did not know Dr. DeLoave was acting as agent for other owners."

DeLoave, also under oath, testified that he placed the bonds in a safe-keeping account at Devon on behalf of Indiana businessman Thomas H. Redmond, telling Devon officials that Redmond was the true owner.

He also testified that he did not know the bonds were counterfeit until after the Devon Bank and the Amalgamated Trust and Savings Bank in Chicago had loaned Redmond $600,000 on one of the bogus certificates.

Lounfy confirmed that DeLoave, after the bonds were discovered to be forgeries, replaced them with collateral "known to be good" on Redmond's behalf. He said a good share of the money has already been repaid and that the bank expects the balance to be reduced to $170,000 by later this week.

County receives anti-wine memos

TWIN FALLS — County commissioners in Twin Falls say they are continuing to receive petitions, mostly from churches of church organizations, opposing wine sales in grocery stores in the county.

W.L. (Bill) Chaucey, commission chairman, said the question has already been answered and while petitions of this type have no effect, they will be kept on record. County officials said earlier they plan no action regarding legalizing wine sales in stores until a vote of the people has been held on the question.

Under a new law, the commissioners could act to authorize such sales or put the question to a public vote. The commissioners had announced they will plan this latter course of action although they have not been requested by petition to call such an election.

The timing involved in tearing up a portion of downtown Main Street to replace a section of paving was unfortunate — but more than that it points out an apparent lack of communication between the city officials, the officials of the Chamber of Commerce and the merchants in general.

Cash On The Line

Consumer credit got off to a slow start when it was first pushed in the United States less than a half century ago. But over the years it has grown to become a powerful influence in commerce.

A few retailers are experimenting with offering discounts for cash. Whatever the reason — faster cash turnover, lowered bookkeeping costs, or simply the novelty of it — the idea is not likely to make a large dent in consumer credit.

As never before, Americans are turned off by military uniforms. Our most indefensible, unworthy, unpopular war has tended to disparage all things military, including the ROTC.

Point will turn out 750; OCS will provide 2,600 new officers; ROTC will provide 13,000. Paradoxically, most campus critics of ROTC say they want to end the draft, an all-volunteer Army, when ROTC is a right-now available short-cut toward that objective.

U.S. move stirs little surprise

By United Press International
The U.S. decision to back a United Nations seat for Communist China caused little surprise in world capitals today. Some Communist nations reacted with suspicion and western Europe generally approved.

Approval came from such nations as France and Sweden, which have diplomatic relations with mainland China, the Philippines, which has been moving in that direction, and Australia. Josef Tekoah, the Israeli ambassador to Washington, said he would recommend U.N. membership. Turkey, which plans to establish diplomatic relations with Peking shortly, also approved the move. Portugal received the news with stony silence and a foreign ministry spokesman said, "It will be time enough to comment when the matter comes up for voting."

Asian reaction was mixed. Thai Prime Minister Thanom Kittakachorn said Thailand has not yet decided whether to join Washington in supporting Peking's entry. South Korea said only it was not surprised at the U.S. decision but that it felt Nationalist China must retain a U.N. seat. Officials have described such activities in Africa as "dange-

Squeeze on NATO

DIPLOMATIC sources indicated Tuesday that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is under pressure on its northern and southern flanks. Iceland, which has a new left wing coalition government, told United States it wants American forces stationed there pulled out in four years. In south, Malta, whose ports are used by NATO ships, has told NATO to stay out, and may close British bases there. Unrest on Cyprus makes its role in western defense uncertain. (UPI)

LONDON (UPI) — Communist diplomatic sources said Tuesday the Soviet Union called the current Crimea summit meeting of its closest allies in East Europe and Asia to realign bloc policy on Europe and the Middle East and adopt a joint posture on President Nixon's new China strategy.

Soviet leaders were increasingly perturbed by recent developments, two of which — the Middle East and the Sino-American relationship — have "gone wrong" from Moscow's viewpoint, the diplomats indicated.

Extension studied

GOODING — Gooding councilmen are studying a request to extend two streets. Mrs. Richard Stapp told councilmen Monday night she would give the city right of way to extend 13th Avenue West and also the land to extend Utah Street if the city will agree to open it.

City councilmen turned down a request by Fred Walton to put three mobile homes on property he plans to purchase. Building Inspector Glen Scanlon had recommended that Walton's request be rejected because of insufficient footage.

Building permits were granted to Rockford Becker, 329 Montana, addition $2,000; M. L. James, 420 14th Ave. West, remodeling, $2,000; Harold Wartluft, 562 Illinois, new dwelling, $12,000; John Hoover, 726 California, garage, $1,750; C. A. Riter, 218 Orchard, garage, $700; Mike Red, 201 Arizona, remodeling, $1,000; Mary Brown, 233 Nevada, mobile home, $7,200; Regal Manufacturing Co., Rice Subdivision, new home, $14,000; Mary Murray, 327 Orchard, mobile home, $5,000; Gene Graves, 529 Nebraska, patio, $400; Phillip Thomas, new home, $10,000 and Chas Winnett, 816 Montana, addition, $3,500.

The absence of Romania's Independent President Nicolae Ceausescu suggested the Kremlin's desire to keep decisions among the "reliable" Warsaw bloc nations — and avert any Romanian attempts to push a pro-Peking line, they said.

The summit reportedly was planned shortly after Nixon's announcement last month of his forthcoming visit to Peking. One plan was for it to coincide with the meeting of Comecon, the Communist bloc's economic agreement, but this was put off because the Romanian capital of Bucharest had been chosen previously as the site of that conference.

The presence of Mongolian added weight to far eastern policy and defense considerations.

Camera to view eclipse

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI) — The Earth-controlled color television camera that beamed spectacular pictures back from the moon during the Apollo 15 landing will be used to give the world a view Friday from the lunar surface of a solar eclipse.

Since there is no atmosphere on the moon to distort light rays, scientists plan to use the $150,000 camera to try to get a clear view of the eclipse and to look at the Milky Way, Saturn and Mercury as the moon moves through the Earth's shadow.

The eclipse, as seen from the moon, will be from 3:45 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. EDT Friday. The Apollo 15 astronauts will be able to see the eclipse as they speed toward Earth but it will not be visible from earth itself.

Race costs stay high

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The cost of running for high public office has been somewhat of a national disgrace, helping to keep political power in the hands of the rich and privileged.

Despite attempts to require all candidates for federal office to disclose their campaign spending, there is no accurate way of determining how much money is spent on behalf of a political candidate or where it comes from.

Prompted probably by the financial straits they find themselves in, the Democrats have taken the lead in pushing for legislation to correct this situation. They charged that Republican fat cats were not interested in reform and made some political hay last year when President Nixon vetoed a bill to limit campaign spending for radio and television time.

The President said the measure would have discriminated against the broadcast media. Now Nixon has come out in favor of a plan that would limit spending for the 1972 campaign to about $14 million per party.

According to White House officials, the President is supporting a measure that would limit campaign spending to 10 cents for each potential voter. A potential voter is considered to be anybody over age 18, registered or not.

The plan also would prohibit extension of unsecured credit to any political candidate by such corporations as airlines, telephone companies and printers, which have yet to collect several million dollars they extended on credit for services in previous campaigns.

In Nixon's view, administration officials said, this amounts to thinly disguised illegal contributions.

There still would be gaping holes in the procedure which doubtless would be exploited by both sides in next year's campaigns.

The limitation would be specifically for spending on radio, television, newspaper, magazine and billboard advertising. It would not, for instance, cover such things as direct telephone and mail solicitations, nor would it include the cost of primary campaigns.

The evening stars are Mercury and Jupiter. Those born on this day are under the sign of Leo.

Scottish comedian Sir Harry Lauder was born Aug. 4, 1870. On this day in history: In 1735 freedom of the press was established when John Zenger, publisher of a New York City newspaper, was acquitted on libel charges.

In 1914 the United States issued a proclamation of neutrality in World War I. In 1949 more than 6,000 persons were killed when an earthquake leveled 50 towns in Ecuador.

In 1967 America ended its military airlift to the strife-torn Congo. A thought for today: Scottish comedian Sir Harry Lauder said, "Oh, it's nice to get up in the morning, but it's nicer to stay in bed."

Agents discover mass eagle grave

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (UPI) — Federal agents investigating the slaughter of golden and bald eagles — the nation's symbol — Tuesday discovered a mass grave containing dead eagles believed shot from the skies for sport.

U.S. Attorney Richard Thomas said the birds were found with other dead animals buried on federal grazing land 14 miles west of Saratoga, Wyo. Thomas said agents found the mass grave while delivering a search warrant against rancher

Herman Werner, the employer of a helicopter pilot who told a Senate subcommittee in Washington that he flew missions during which more than 500 eagles were shot down over Wyoming and Colorado.

Interior Secretary Rogers C.B. Morton has asked the Justice Department to prosecute persons responsible for the reported slayings from helicopters of the eagles, fast becoming rare.

The helicopter pilot, James D. Vogan, 43, told the Senate

Environmental Appropriations Subcommittee Monday he piloted more than 20 hunters on flights over 13 ranches in the two states. Vogan said Doyle Vaughn, the manager of the firm that owned the helicopter, told the shooters he had a permit to kill the eagles under the federal predator control program.

Vogan later quit working for Vaughn and was employed by Werner. The pilot said the hunters he flew shot the eagles for sport.

TWO ISRAELI newspapers reported Tuesday U.S. Assistant Secretary of State Joseph Sisco asked Israel to withdraw 30 miles from Suez Canal and permit Egyptian troops to cross the waterway in exchange for two or three year extension of cease fire. One publication hinted reference was made to pulling back to Mitla Pass, site of massive destruction of Egyptian armor by Israeli warplanes in 1967. It is 30 miles from canal in Sinai peninsula. ## Cambodian Reds build cohesive opposition PHNOM PENH (UPI) — Despite 16 months of effort, Cambodia's native Communists have been largely unsuccessful in building a cohesive force to oppose the Phnom Penh government.

On the plus side, they have set up working governments in Communist controlled areas of Cambodia, and sprung some of the war's bloodiest ambushes on soldiers of the Phnom Penh administration.

On the minus side, the Communists are fragmented groups with little communication between different headquarters, split by dissension among themselves and with

North Vietnamese and Viet Cong "advisers."

Although commonly referred to as Khmer Rouge (literally Red Cambodians), the Communists fight under a variety of banners.

At the core is the original Khmer Rouge organization, which fought unsuccessfully for years against the "fascist" rule of deposed chief of state Prince Norodom Sihanouk.

Sihanouk loyalists have formed their own army and allied themselves with the Khmer Rouge, the so-called Khmer-Rumdos (Liberation Army) and a series of bandit and snaking gangs that opposes any government in power.

The Phnom Penh high command officially acknowledges that 10,000 armed Cambodians face the government forces, although officers are vague as to why that particular number is picked. All are lumped under the title of Khmer Rouge by the high command.

Unknown thousands of other Cambodians support one or more of the various programs of the Communist forces, in most cases because they live in areas controlled by the Communists.

According to intelligence reports and interviews with refugees, North Vietnamese and Viet Cong supply the necessary force to maintain the native Communists in power, and are believed to administer most areas by proxy.

"Theoretically, Sihanouk is in charge of the dissident groups, but in reality charge is actually taken by someone in this country," a military source said in Phnom Penh.

"They have no centralization like, ay, the Pathet Lao in Laos. But they might have centralization tomorrow."

Prevention topic at rights meeting

SUN VALLEY — "We're simply discussing preventative medicine," Gerald Reed, Boise State College official, said during a civil rights institute for educators throughout four western states which concluded Tuesday.

About 80 persons, including 30 school administrators and 50 representatives from Indian tribes, Chicano and Negro groups from Region 10 of the U.S. Office of Education, attended the two-day meet, jointly sponsored by Boise State College and Region 10. The region includes Alaska, Washington, Oregon and Idaho. Idaho does not have an ethnic problem, Reed said during the institute. Problems relative to minority groups within the region's schools were discussed and attempts made to find solutions.

There was some concern, Reed said, that just by the nature of its name, the civil rights institute would draw a number of protestors.

"We have whites, blacks, Chicanos and Indians here and we're simply discussing preventative medicine," Reed said.

Civil rights institutes have been held previously throughout the nation, except for Idaho.

4-H sheep awards set in Lincoln

SHOSHONE — D. Sidney Smith will again make awards to two top 4-H Club sheep projects at the Lincoln County Fair Friday and Saturday, Ivan Hopkins, county extension agent, said today.

The prizes will be $50 savings bond for first place and $25 savings bond for second place.

Smith, a prominent sheep man in this area, has given prizes for the fair in sheep projects for a number of years.

"In doing this, Smith is creating more interest among the county young people in sheep projects," Hopkins said.

Salt is chemically known as sodium chloride.

Helmets said unsafe

BOISE — Safety helmets designed and sold for sports car enthusiasts and motorcycle riders, are in some cases so fragile they shatter on impact and provide little protection, the Idaho Traffic Safety Commission reported today.

A commission spokesman said the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration is identifying the unsafe makes and federal standards will soon cover all protective headgear. The spokesman said purchasers of helmets should be certain of the material from which the helmet is made, and that polycarbonate helmets are not painted or decorated with any paint not certified compatible with the helmet. Only certified solvents and cleaning materials should be used.

Helmet labels should certify that the helmet meets the 200.1-1968 standard, imposed by the American National Standards Institute.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks were slightly higher as trading rounded mid-session Wednesday.

The Dow Jones Industrial average was ahead .088 at 850.91 after suffering its second biggest setback of the year Tuesday (14.89 points) and adding to it during the first hour of trading Wednesday.

Advances topped declines by about 100 issues, while a three-hour turnover of 9,640,000 shares was a little more than a million shares ahead of the previous session's pace.

Analysts said the market was buoyed by a statement by Treasury Secretary John B. Connally that the Administration would welcome "full-fledged debate" on a plan of some Senators to introduce legislation for some form of wage-price control review board.

Later, at an impromptu news conference, President Nixon said he would consider creating a wage-price board if he felt it could be effective—pending top-level consideration of the matter—and if it would not put the economy "in a straitjacket."

The President added, however, that he was sticking by his prediction at the first of the year that 1971 would be a "good" year for the economy and 1972 a "very good" year.

Analysts noted that the stock market hardly turned buoyant with the stocks.

"People are dubious about the extent of recovery in the economy," one analyst remarked. He observed that much of the news is of a negative nature, including pressure on the dollar in European money markets, inflationary labor settlements, and high interest rates.

East comes wet, humid

DURING tonight, showers and thunderstorms will occur from eastern Texas, northeastward through portions of the Ohio-Tennessee valleys and into most of the northeast area. Clear and pleasant to partly cloudy skies elsewhere. (UPI)

Cooling trend has been delayed

Twin Falls, Northside, Burley-Rupert area: Generally fair through Thursday but with chance isolated thundershowers mainly afternoons and evenings. Highs 92 to 98 days. Lows tonight upper 50s to mid 60s. Winds variable 5 to 15 miles per hour. Outlook for Friday, little change.

Probability of measurable precipitation, 10 per cent tonight and Thursday.

Camas Prairie, Halley and lower Wood River Valley: Generally fair through Thursday but with chance isolated thundershowers mainly afternoons and evenings. Highs upper 80s to mid 90s days. Lows tonight near 60. Winds mostly light. Outlook for Friday, little change.

Synopsis: Deepening of a cold low pressure area off the northwest coast and the resulting eastward movement of the warm upper high pressure area over the western states has slowed considerably. This will result in less cooling than previously expected and delay even this slight cooling until late in the week.

Much of the moisture that produced widely scattered shower and thundershower activity in this area yesterday has moved eastward. There is however, enough moisture remaining at higher levels to produce a few isolated thundershowers — mainly during the afternoon and evening hours. Temperatures should change little through Thursday.

The extended outlook Friday through Sunday calls for fair to partly cloudy skies and a chance of some scattered showers or thundershowers Friday and Saturday then fair and slightly cooler Sunday.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q — We are in our early sixties and have $7,000 to invest in some income stocks for retirement. Could you suggest something for us? — V. W.

A — A portfolio of three consumer issues offering a combination of income and growth would be more advantageous at this juncture. Perhaps after retirement some adjustments in your portfolio may be in order to meet increased income requirements. Equal dollar amounts invested in American Brands, Safeway Stores and Squibb Corp. should provide an excellent cushion toward retirement four years hence.

American Brands has reduced its dependence on tobacco so that this product is now believed to account for only 60 per cent of sales. Lower tobacco advertising expenses as well as a broader product base were reflected in strong first quarter results. Sales, earnings and dividends have increased annually since 1963. Shares, now selling at a reasonable 0.5x estimated 1971 results, yield a generous 4.8 per cent.

Safeway Stores, the country's second largest retail food chain, reported record-breaking operating results for the 22 weeks ended June 10, 1971. Sales jumped 13.5 per cent and earnings gained 11.3 per cent year-to-year. Net was equal to $1.28 per share, up from $1.15 in the comparable 1970 period. An improved profit margin, a more aggressive merchandising program and growing emphasis on discount operations could push earnings to $3 a share this year. At only 12x projected 1971 net, shares are a reasonable purchase for gradual growth.

The Squibb Corp. corporate title covers a broad and growing range of products. Food products, baby foods, quality drugs — both ethical and proprietary — have been joined recently — via mergers — by Lanvin-Charles and the Ritz cosmetics and perfumes, and Edward Weck's surgical and diagnostic instruments. A 12 per cent gain in earnings is projected for the first half of the current year. While Squibb is trading at a high, 28x multiple of expected

The Snake River Area Council, which serves Magic Valley, has 98 Scout troops. Glead reported the council also expects to organize about 12 new troops in the next three months during the annual fall roundup, a three-month membership campaign.

The Boy Scouts of America is in partnership with over 75 local schools, religious institutions, service clubs, PTA's, civic organizations, and other community groups that are chartered to use the Scout Program.

THE I.D. STORE

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: We have a 17-year-old daughter who prefers to date older men. Last year it was a 21-year-old, and when we found out how old he was we put a stop to it immediately.

Last month we learned that she was seeing a 24-year-old man behind our backs. When we confronted her with it she said if we tried to stop her from dating him she would run away.

Abby, she tells us now that if we don't allow her to openly date whomever she wants, and if we don't make him welcome in our home, she will leave. She is our only daughter and we don't want her hurt, but I guess we just don't know how to handle her. Can you give us an outside opinion? Please hurry your answer.

CONCERNED PARENTS

DEAR PARENTS: Don't automatically turn thumbs down on older fellows. Some are more responsible than the younger ones. The important factor here is the degree of maturity your daughter has achieved at 17. Threatening to "run away" unless she has her own way strikes me as being immature. But insisting that she be able to bring her dates home for you to meet sounds quite mature. Let her bring her dates home, then meet them, and judge them on their personalities—not their ages.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a son who writes to his mother and tells her how long she can stay when she visits him?

In the four years my son has been married I have visited him only once, and that was at Christmas two years ago. I stayed for eight days.

I plan to visit again in September, and the following is a quote from a letter I received from my son yesterday: "We hope you will come to visit us, but Mom, please don't plan on staying any longer than five days as that is our time limit for guests."

Abby, since when is a mother a guest? I never get in their way and I thought we got along fine. They have a spare bedroom and I never made any extra work for anybody.

I felt so badly when I got this letter I considered not going at all, but I get so homesick for my son as he is my only child and I am a widow.

It's not an easy trip as I have a lame back and it's 10 hours on a bus. Please tell me what to do. HURT IN OHIO

DEAR HURT: If you were to deny yourself the trip you would punish yourself more than your son. Make the trip. Mother, and stay five days.

DEAR ABBY: This is in regard to "Cap't Forget in Minnesota." He married an unwed mother who told him who the baby's father was and all the sordid details of her mistake. Then he said he had wished a thousand times that she had never told him. Well, I will lay you odds that she has wished 2,000 times that she had never told him.

The letter didn't say how long they've been married, but if he still makes her pay daily for her mistake by letting her know that he can't forget, I sincerely hope she looks herself in the mirror soon and says, "I have had enough. He will never change." And then leaves him. It will not be the end of the world. Sign me. BEEN THERE

CONFIDENTIAL TO "OLD MAID IN ORLANDO": If you label yourself "Old Maid" everyone else will. A very wise Frenchman once said, "No woman under 40 can possibly have acquired the experience, wisdom and emotional maturity to be interesting to a mature man."

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Guaranteed 17 per cent savings

Caroline Barron wins scholarship

NEW YORK (UPI)—Want to save nine to 17 per cent next time you do the week's shopping at a supermarket?

"Eat a good big meal before heading for the store," says J. Helling, an authority on dollar-stretching. "A study shows that when you are satiated your bill is from nine to 19 per cent less than it would be if you shopped on an empty stomach."

The National Industrial Conference Board made the study. Mrs. Helling said it also showed that 11 per cent of the food dollar goes for sweets.

Mrs. Helling, a home economist specializing in money management, is from Denver, Colo., where for 19 years her consumer advice was aired over her radio and television programs. She also wrote "Along the Buy Ways" for the Denver Post.

She was in New York in connection with a nationwide tour on behalf of an international charge service operated by more than 5,000 banks (Master Charge).

The former Mrs. Colorado (1962) and mother of two (son, 20; daughter, 12) is a graduate of Montclair, N.J., State Teachers College, where she majored in home economics.

"Invariably," she said, "when I'm on a radio or television show where listeners are invited to call in, I get two comments in almost every city. 'The first is that by talking how to manage money and handle credit purchases I'm trying to turn people into either change-holes or credit-holes.'"

"And the other remark, usually from the sound of the voice, made by a male advanced in years is this: 'Ma'am, my advice to everyone interested in money management is this: Never give your wife a credit card.'"

Mrs. Helling said by preaching the wise use of credit she isn't advising overspending. "Undisciplined spenders overspend whether they pay cash or use credit," she said.

Mrs. Helling also believes in allowances for children and regular savings fattened by money earned at odd jobs.

"By saving," she said, "they can learn the habit of deferring gratification for a particular need until they can afford it."

CASTLEFORD — Caroline Barron, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Barron, Castleford, has been named Idaho's winner of the Danforth Scholarship for the American Youth Foundation Leadership Training Camp at Stony Lake, Mich., Aug. 2 through 14.

This scholarship, sponsored by the Ralston Purina Co., is given annually to one 4-H girl and one 4-H boy from each state.

The camp includes two weeks of leadership training led by nationally known specialists in youth training.

Miss Barron, who was selected from applicants from throughout Idaho, is a senior at Castleford High School. She has been in 4-H club work for six years and is currently carrying projects in photography, money management, clothing and teen leadership.

Her school activities include drill team, pep club, track, C Club and chorus.

Miss Barron is a member of the Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, Buhl, and has been a camp counselor at the church's summer camp.

She has done volunteer work for the Castleford kindergartens, Easter Seal Center and has coached girls softball.

Loser named Valley Briefs

HANSEN — Mrs. Lewis Morris was the best loser at the Slim and Trim TOPS Club meeting Monday night at the home of Mrs. Thomas Steelmith. Mrs. Frank Admlre was absent but was named as the July queen, with Mrs. Reed Lyons as runner-up.

Mrs. Lyons was then named queen, and also opened her gift for four consecutive weekly losses. Mrs. Admlre will also receive a 10-pound loss gift.

Mrs. Roy Dopson will be honored at a TOPS graduation Aug. 16.

Mrs. Morris was program chairman and hostess. She showed needlepoint picture reproductions of drawings made by her grandchildren.

Let metal cake pans cool before plunging them into hot suds. This way prevents warping.

TWIN FALLS — Claudia Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth James, Twin Falls has accepted an internship teaching assignment to Union Ridge School, Harwood Heights, Ill. She is a junior at Concordia Teachers College, River Forest, Ill.

FILER — Mrs. Emil Bernard held a practice hour for some of her music students at her home. Those taking part included Leeta Smith, Michele Romans, Teresa Andrews, Tawn Blades, Roy Molsee, Larry Kauffman and Bryan Whatley.

TWIN FALLS — Magic Valley Iris Society will hold its annual potluck picnic at 12:30 p.m. Saturday at the Twin Falls City Park. Iris won during the iris show should be brought to this gathering. An iris sale will be featured.

A Lovelier You

FOOTPRINTS ON THE SANDS

By Mary Sue Miller

When next you go to a pool or beach, observe the barefoot girls as they pass by. You will be astonished by the number of beach belles who walk with an awkward, plodding gait. Like mermaids out of water!

Merely to call the performance awkward is to be kind, for it throws the figure out of line. Even pretty legs appear coltish.

When a lovely goes barefoot she should float along seemingly without effort, surely without jiggles, in the manner of a South Sea Island beauty. How these girls do skim the ground. If you'd like to learn their secret, try this action:

1. As you step out, swing leg from hip joint, heel ankle and extend foot well forward. Those movements place foot in a position from which toes and heel can be lowered almost simultaneously, coming to the ground with the lightest touch.

2. The moment foot is grounded, begin to roll your weight from toes to heel. Procedure is the reverse of usual one, but natural and graceful for a barefoot.

3. Work for an even transfer of weight with each step and for a rhythmic pace. Move on two imaginary parallel lines, about two inches apart.

4. After 20 steps or so, about face and examine your footprints. You're on the right track if the prints are well-formed, firm and evenly spaced.

After practicing, your stride becomes a glide. And that's a plus whatever you wear, like hot pants; whatever the season, like next fall.

LEGLINE TRIMMERS — If your individual problem is heavy legs, send for my new leaflet, LEGLINE TRIMMERS, which contains spot reducing exercises that will meet your individual needs, whether for thighs, knees, calves or ankles, or for contouring your entire legline. Write Mary Sue Miller in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and ten cents in coin.

Air pollution 161 index

The pollution reading was taken by the staff of the South Central Health District at the Twin Falls City Hall. The reading is expressed in the number of micrograms of particulate material per cubic meter of air for the 24-hour period.

Forecast
 Today: Good
 Tonight: Poor
 Tomorrow: Good

This forecast provided by the Idaho Department of Health indicates the ability of the atmosphere to disperse pollution. Burning as permitted by law should be curtailed when the air is poorly able to disperse air pollutants.

Ketchum vacates alleys

KETCHUM — Two alleys near North Hill north of Ketchum will be vacated, the Ketchum City Council decided Monday night. The property will then revert back to property owners.

The action was taken on request of Lee Rahr, one of the property owners in the area.

The council approved a request by Joe Laragan for a dust coating on Second Street. Laragan said the street carries a considerable amount of traffic and dust proves an annoyance to residents in the area.

Building permits totaling $250,000 were approved by the council after presentation by building inspector L.B. McCoy.

Church asks aid in fight

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Idaho Sen. Frank Church urged Secretary of Agriculture Clifford Hardin to reverse an earlier decision and designate five Idaho counties disaster areas because of grasshopper infestation.

In a letter to Hardin, Church urged him to approve a request from Gov. Cecil D. Andrus that Ada, Boise, Gem, Payette and Washington counties be declared disaster areas and thus be eligible for special federal assistance — a request Hardin turned down.

"It appears that the situation is worsening and that severe economic hardship will result to the general economy of my state unless the additional monies and manpower which could be committed to this battle through designation of these counties as disaster areas is not forthcoming," Church told Hardin.

Church asked the secretary to give every consideration to acting favorably upon the Idaho governor's request. He asked that the Department of Agriculture do all in its power to prepare a comprehensive plan in cooperation with individuals and governmental units affected to forestall the possibility of another infestation this year.

Rupert hikes rate

RUPERT — Proposed rate increases for water, sewage and garbage disposal in Rupert and complaints on excessive current charges which may be in error occupied the Rupert City Council Tuesday night.

The rate increases, in which the minimum rate for sewage disposal will be increased two and one-half times, from $1 to $2.50, will go into effect in September. Councilmen discussed provisions of the ordinance authorizing the rate increases Tuesday night.

Among those complaining about current costs for utility services was Doyle Lowder, assistant superintendent of Minidoka County schools. He said the school district's bill was $51 higher this year than for the same period last year, even though the schools were not in use.

Larry Boyd, owner of coin-operated laundries in Rupert, also asked the council to check on water bills. He said the bills have been somewhat higher than usual.

In discussing the proposed rate increases, councilmen said the sewage rate will be based on water meter readings. Under this system, the rate for water use becomes cheaper after the minimum amount has been used, while the sewage fee becomes higher when more water is used.

The minimum water rate will be raised from $2 to $3 and the minimum quantity will be lowered from 4,000 to 3,000 gallons. Garbage rates will be raised from $1.50 to $2.25 for one-family residences.

An increase is planned for use of the city sanitary landfill, with the cost per truck load to be raised from $5 to $8. A slight decrease in the city electric rates will reduce the minimum fee from $1 to 82 cents.

Hearing set on rezoning

JEROME — A public hearing on the rezoning and annexation of property owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Heltzman into the city of Jerome will be held at 7 p.m. Aug. 17 at City Hall.

Tuesday night the Jerome zoning and planning committee approved the rezoning of the Heltzman property from agricultural to residential. The Heltzman's plan to build a mobile home park.

The mobile home park will be located on the south edge of Jerome west of Highway 70 and north of the LDS farm. The site will involve about 8.7 acres, a net figure excluding roads and right of ways.

The preliminary plan involved 50 units but when the final plan is finished it is expected there will be 61 or 62 spaces.

The park features a special concept of no lot lines and owners will be renting space, not lots.

Plans were drawn on the basis of one mobile home for 6,200 square feet. Utilities will be placed underground and each unit will have two off-street parking places.

The park will be completely landscaped and screened and will have a swimming pool.

Rodeo Home park line blaze rates studied

FILER — The second performance of the National High School Rodeo went out in a blaze not of glory, but of fire caused by a small fire at one of the food stands at the Twin Falls County Fairgrounds here.

The fire started from an apparent loose connection in a butane hookup at the VFW food stand just as the last barrel racer had completed her pattern during the final event of the night.

The small fire flared up and burned for only a short time until men from the Twin Falls County sheriff's department arrived with fire extinguishers. The Filer City Fire Department also arrived and no damage, except to the butane equipment was reported. The stand was back in business minutes after the fire.

JEROME — The Jerome City Council has taken under advisement a request to not put a meter on the water line for a proposed trailer park planned by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Heltzman.

Tom Schafer, of Newton and Schafer Engineers, Twin Falls, architect for the Heltzmans, asked councilman Tuesday night to put the mobile home park on a fixed rate instead of installing a meter.

Thomas P. Mahan, CPA, presented the auditor's report to the city council, noting that in most areas the city spent less than it had budgeted in 1970 and the surplus money would be carried over to the 1971 budget.

The council approved a new contract for Mahan as city auditor which included a $100 increase, the first increase Mahan has had in four years.

In other matters the council heard a complaint from Ed Scholes, Jerome. He asked the council for more stringent controls on the dog leash law. Scholes said that while he had been, and still is, opposed to the dog leash law, he is adhering to it with his own dog while other people on his street are not. He felt the police are not patrolling the dead-end streets.

First reading was given an ordinance that will annex several county roads into the city.

Shoshone lines set

SHOSHONE — The Hartwell Excavating Co., Idaho Falls, was awarded the contract for construction of a sewer system in Shoshone by the city council Tuesday.

The award was based on the engineer's estimate for construction costs of $653,000. Other firms entering bids were Gale Construction Co., Boise, and Tony Russel Construction Co., Halley.

In other business, the council passed an ordinance for rules, regulations and rates for the sewer system and another ordinance to provide for sale of sewer revenue bonds in the amount of $580,000.

The minimum rate for a household will be $8 per month. Those using more of the service, especially more than 4,000 gallons, will be charged a higher rate. The minimum business rate was also set at $8 a month, with the rate for those on meters determined by the amount of water used.

The council recessed until 7 p.m. tonight, when other business will be handled.

Airport runway project starts

TWIN FALLS — Earth moving equipment from the Bannock Paving Co., Pocatello, general contractors for reconstruction of the main runway at the Twin Falls County-City Airport, began work this week on the west end of the project.

The work involves resurfacing of 5,900 feet of runway with crews and heavy equipment now working to raise the grade at the west end of the runway and to create a more abrupt drop-off from the west end of the runway.

By Thursday, the contractor expects to begin removal of the asphalt cover of the runway proper in preparation for a complete new surface.

Harry Merrick, airport manager, said an 80-foot wide center cut will be made in the runway. Gravel base under this section will be compacted and a three-inch asphalt mat laid. Another two-inch asphalt covering will then be installed over the entire 150 foot width of the 5,900 foot runway segment.

The airport has been closed to jet passenger service for the duration of the construction. Merrick said the project is expected to be finished by mid-October and the resurfacing should allow full schedule air service to resume by mid-September.

Merrick said there is still full air service out of the field despite closure to the large jet aircraft of Hughes Air West. He said five departures each day are being made by Trans Magic Airlines, connecting both Boise and Salt Lake City with all major schedules.

More flights will be made available by Trans Magic Airlines if needed, he said. The line is flying nine-passenger Piper Navajo planes which can use the shorter runway, which is being kept open throughout the construction program.

Range burns

SHOSHONE — Two acres of rangeland burned east of Highway 93 at the Jerome-Lincoln County line at 5 a.m. today, Carl Kinney, fire aide for the Bureau of Land Management, said one tanker and seven men were dispatched to the fire and had extinguished the blaze by 6:30 a.m.

Big planes stand by

TWIN FALLS — Four large aircraft stood by at the Twin Falls City County Airport today to assist in fighting a 77,000 acre range fire burning out of control near Idaho Falls, forest service officials reported.

Because of tanker loading problems in Pocatello, the B-17, C-119 and two B-26's landed at the Twin Falls field for landing if needed to fight the blaze on fireout of Land Management land.

Officials here said only one B-26 and crew from Twin Falls would be used with the other craft out of Boise and Pocatello.

Two tanker crews and an eight-man team from the Shoshone BLM District are also fighting the fire.

FRANKFORT, Ky. (UPI) — Kentucky is noted for the fine quality of its bourbon. But only 27 of the state's 120 counties legally permits the sale of alcoholic beverages.

Filer high sets early enrollment

FILER — Early registration for Filer High School students will be conducted Aug. 12-13, Principal Edwin Marshall said Tuesday.

Juniors and seniors will register on Thursday, Aug. 12, from 9 a.m. until noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. Freshmen and sophomores will register on Friday, Aug. 13, on the same time schedule.

Marshall said new courses to be offered this year are art, sociology and economics, mechanical drawing, wood shop and drama. Optional fees will be for the annual, $7; activity ticket, $6, and insurance, from $2 to $18.

Marshall said the 1971-72 term will begin on Aug. 23.

Runway project

LARGE SCRAPER, foreground, and other equipment from the Bannock Paving Co., Pocatello, are at work on the west end of the Twin Falls City-County Airport to raise the grade as the initial step of a $550,000 runway resurfacing project. Work is scheduled for completion in October. James Hart, Pocatello, checks new grade marking stakes.

LDS president's wife, 69, dies

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Jessie Evans Smith, third wife of Mormon Church President Joseph Fielding Smith, died quietly of a heart ailment at her home Tuesday night. She was 69.

President Smith was with her to the end and doctors said he was tired but in good health.

Mrs. Smith, who married the 98-year-old church leader in 1938, performed with the Mormon Tabernacle Choir for 50 years and often sang duets with her husband, author of the lyrics of her favorite hymn, "We are Watchmen on the Towers of Zion."

Her singing was in demand at church functions and one record, "He that Hath Clean Hands and a Pure Heart," was a best-seller. She once sang at 28 funerals in one month.

Services were held today in the Salt Lake Mormon Tabernacle.

In the early stages of her musical career the young contralto tried out for the Metropolitan Opera of New York but declined a subsequent contract offer.

"I had a feeling that I could sing opera roles successfully and after a few tours with performing companies, I felt that I could have a future in this field," she said. "But then I decided to forget about opera and come home."

"I felt strongly that the Lord wanted me to serve in the church at home in my beloved Utah."

Mrs. Smith traveled with her husband across the world, covering 17,000 miles in South and Central America in 1960 and 20,000 miles on a trip to Australia in 1963. She often sang hymns in the native languages of foreign countries.

Born Jessie Ella Evans in Salt Lake City Dec. 29, 1902, she was six years old when she sang her first public solo: "I Think When I Read That Sweet Story of Old."

After going through Salt Lake City public schools Mrs. Smith, trained as a secretary, worked for local business firms was active in the Democratic Party and served as Salt Lake County recorder. She married Smith, then Church Historian and a member of the Council of the Twelve after the death of Ethel Reynolds, his second spouse.

Among her awards were the Young Women's Mutual Improvement Association Honorary Golden Gleaner Award in 1954, the David O. McKay Humanities Award from Brigham Young University in 1966, the Distinguished Achievement Award from Ricks College Women Students in 1967, the Eternal Quest of Womanhood Award from Latter-day Saints women students at Utah State University in 1968 and the MIA Combined Arts Plaque in 1970.

At a recent Brigham Young University appearance she joined President Smith in serenading 14,000 students with "If I Knew You."

She leaves her husband; brothers Walter J. Evans of Salt Lake City and Robert Evans of Grand Junction, Colo.; and stepchildren Mrs. Josephine S. Rheinhardt, Woods Cross, Utah; Mrs. Eldon (Julia) Hart, Rexburg, Idaho; Mrs. L. Garrett (Emily) Myers, Salt Lake City; Mrs. William (Lola) Fife, Sacramento, Calif.; Mrs. Bruce R. (Annie) McConkie, Mrs. Hoyt (Naomi) Brewster, Joseph Fielding Jr., George R. and Douglas A. of Salt Lake City and Milton E. of Provo. Lewis W. Smith died in World War II.

Joseph Fielding Smith has 140 grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Equipment helps boys

Visual training plan slated at Youth Ranch

RUPERT — A visual learning and perceptual training program is being set up at the Idaho Youth Ranch for the boys needing it.

Mrs. Mildred Lincoln, formerly of Kalamazoo, Mich., and a student at Kalamazoo College, will be in charge of this program when it starts this fall. She was majoring in sociology at K.C. where students in this program spend one quarter at the youth ranch for practical experience and then return to college for the rest of their training.

However, in Mrs. Lincoln's case there is a switch in plans as she does not plan to go back to college.

She has been working full time at the youth ranch since June 14 as a teacher's aide. Mrs. Lincoln describes her role more as that of a technician.

"This may be because she used to work as an accredited record technician before going to college. She said she made the change because she wanted to work with people and not just records."

She now is working under Dr. John H. Head, optometrist; Rupert, to learn exactly what the program is and what her role in the program should be. Bill Potter, head teacher at the youth ranch, said that through this program the boys learn balance by learning to use their eyes. "They must use their eyes efficiently if they are going to be able to do their school work and other work correctly," he said.

Through a federally funded program the youth ranch is utilizing a computer out of Buffalo, N.Y. to help in this and other programs. The computer, after digesting the information about each boy in the program, sends back a list of activities to allow them to increase eye efficiency, where to get materials needed and ways to test to see if any gains were made in the teaching, he said.

Potter recently used this computer to help him prepare for a drug course he taught the boys.

On this program the computer gave a brief outlined definition on the drugs, where to get materials to teach the course, and measuring devices.

The remarkable thing about the computer is that it gears the course to any age level requested, Potter said.

Mrs. Lincoln said Potter has ordered an electro therapist machine on trial basis to see if it will help the boys with their visual and perceptual problems.

It will also be used for other training if it proves satisfactory, she said.

Fishing good on Main street

HALLEY, Idaho (UPI) — Downtown anglers wasted no time Tuesday when a tank truck driver slammed on his brakes to avoid a collision and consequently spilled fish onto the road.

U.S. 94 in Halley's main business area. Bob Atlap said he was en route from the Hay Spur fish hatchery with 4,200 rainbow trout to be planted in Warm Springs Creek when a car pulled in front of him at the intersection of Main and Crox. Atlap said he slammed on his brakes and the weight of the fish, some 14,000 pounds, plus 1,000 gallons of water warped the top front door of the tank and threw water and fish onto the road.

He said he drove around the block and returned immediately to pick up the fish. But bystanders had grabbed them all by the time he had returned.

Price bill proposed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Expressing deep concern over the administration's handling of the economy, a group of 14 Republican Senators today proposed legislation to combat rising inflation and sagging productivity.

Twelve of the GOP senators said they would introduce legislation to establish a federal wage-price board, even though administration economists have said government-imposed wage-price guidelines are not needed at the present time.

An aide to Sen. Edward Brooke, R-Mass., one of the measure's key sponsors, said the proposal falls "one step short of imposing wage-price controls."

The GOP group also said it would jointly co-sponsor a bill "to put some teeth" into the White House Council on Productivity, set up by President Nixon to promote increased productivity in the economy.

The council, which has two professional staffers and few specific duties, would be enlarged and given statutory status by Congress under the proposal.

The 12 senators co-sponsoring both bills are Sens. J. Caleb Boggs, Del.; Brooke; Clifford P. Case, N.J.; John Sherman Cooper, Ky.; Murk O. Hatfield, Ore.; Jacob K. Javits, N.Y.,

Charles McMathias, Jr., Md.; William Saxbe, Ohio; Richard S. Schweiker, Pa.; Ted Stevens, Alaska; Robert Taft Jr., Ohio; and Lowell P. Weicker Jr., Conn.

Sens. J. Glenn Beall Jr., Md., and Charles H. Percy, Ill., co-sponsored only the productivity council measure.

Protection asked

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A bipartisan group of western congressmen Tuesday proposed legislation that would protect natural gas consumers by insuring their benefits from the merger between El Paso Natural Gas Co. and Pacific Northwest Pipeline Corp., which is under way.

The bill, which was introduced in both the House and the Senate Tuesday, preserves the merger. It has the support of the governors of each state affected as well as virtually all of the congressional delegations in the region.

In a speech on the House floor during introduction of the measure, Rep. James A. McClure, R-Idaho, pointed out the Justice Department brought antitrust proceedings against the merger in 1957. Since that time the court has juggled three different arrangements to break up the system despite approval of the merger by the Federal Power Commission.

"Throughout this time the Federal Power Commission has upheld the merger as being in the public interest," McClure said, "while the Justice Department and the Supreme Court have dealt with the question of whether it lessens competition in California."

He concluded, "The fact that the merger has meant lower prices, better service and more economical use of our gas resources in the Northwest is apparently an inconsequential question to them."

Canon birch trees also are known as "ladies of the woods."

Como ill

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Singer Perry Como was reported in satisfactory condition at Sunrise Hospital Tuesday, suffering from an apparent case of kidney stones.

The crooner was stricken shortly before his scheduled dinner show performance at the Las Vegas Hilton International Hotel Monday night.

Entertainers Joey Bishop, Sonny King and Wayne Newton filled in for Como at the dinner show and his second show was cancelled. Bill Cosby will fill in for Como until he is able to resume his engagement.

Steel party last

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — United Steelworkers Union (USW) officials held a lavish party to celebrate their new three-year wage contract with the steel industry Sunday, and smaller parties were held by USW locals across the nation.

They may be the last celebrations in the industry for some time.

The following morning U.S. Steel, the nation's leading producer, served notice the party was over. The company raised prices 8 per cent, claiming the increase was necessary to prevent "further erosion of earning power."

Most of the rest of the major companies quickly fell in line. The increase, in the form of costlier autos, and appliances, will be felt by all consumers.

President Nixon made clear his annoyance.

A displeased White House is only one of many lesser evils the industry evidently preferred to a costly, fruitless and unpopular strike.

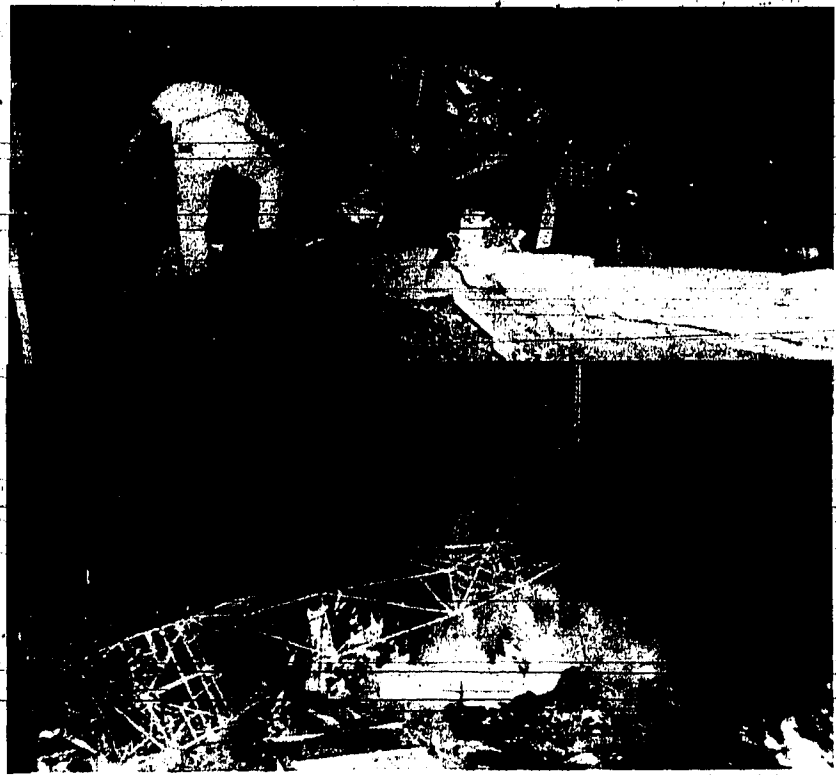

Other problems affecting both the steelworkers and the steelmakers include falling demand, tumbling profits, widespread layoffs, plant closings, strengthened competition from Japan and the export of some jobs abroad.

In anticipation of the strike avoided last Sunday, major steel users stockpiled enough for several months. The strike threat gone, mill officials predicted shipments in August will be 4.5 million tons, lowest monthly total since July, 1962. Thousands of steelworkers will wait weeks or even months for their first pay checks at the new contract rates.

The price increase upset the government and it's probably not going to do much to restrict imports," said Dr. Reuben E. Slesinger, a professor of economics at the University of Pittsburgh.

The price increase fit into the plans of steel exporters in Japan, now the second largest steel producer in the world, according to Jack A. Werter, a steel salesman for Japanese firms in northern Ohio.

A more ominous threat to the American economy is the possibility, reported under active consideration by at least one firm, that United States producers may build steel mills abroad, to produce semi-finished steel and ship it to the United States for finishing.

Federal Aviation Administration officials have ordered autopsies on the bodies of the pilots. Investigation of the crash is continuing. (UPI)

Bus costs to schools

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Local governments and school districts will be expected to pay the lion's share of the cost of busing pupils next fall in districts ordered desegregated by the federal government, it was learned Tuesday.

The warning came in a three-page "policy" letter mailed July 30 to governors and school superintendents by Herman R. Goldberg, associate commissioner in the U.S. Office of Education. A copy of the letter was obtained by UPI.

The administration has asked Congress to approve a two-year $1.5 billion emergency school assistance program to help ease the financial burden of desegregating school districts. About $75 million will be available this fall.

But Goldberg's letter warned school officials to emphasize actual classroom needs in their requests for money because "transportation costs will be given very low funding priority

"Local education agencies are expected to fund their transportation needs through state and local resources," Goldberg said.

Goldberg could not be reached for comment but an aide said the policy was simply an administrative reaction to the desegregation order handed down April 20 by the Supreme Court.

In that decision, the court ruled unanimously that large-scale busing programs were not only constitutional but sometimes an indispensable means of resolving school attendance zones in line with federal desegregation standards.

In considering the administration's emergency aid package, House Democrats Roman C. Pucinski, Illinois, and Edith Green, Oregon, have charged that most of the $1.5 billion would be used to buy buses and hire drivers.

Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Elliot L. Richardson denied this, saying only $2 million of the $1.5 billion in emergency desegregation school aid spent last year was used for transportation.

Minorities said absent from jury

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (UPI) — No special efforts were made to get poor persons, the young or minority races on the grand jury that indicted Angela Davis, a judge testified Tuesday.

Presiding Marin County Superior Court Judge Joseph G. Wilson, 53, was called to the witness stand for the second day by defense attorneys for Miss Davis, a black militant scholar accused of murder, kidnapping and conspiracy.

Wilson answered "no" when defense attorney Margaret Burnham asked if he sought out people other than Democrats and Republicans to serve on the grand jury panel.

Wilson also said that no positive steps were taken to get the poor, young or minority group members on the panel.

He said he and the other judges who nominated the 30 jury panelists "didn't exclude specific groups for specific reasons."

Neither, he said, did they

"identify groups" and try to get them on the grand jury.

The questioning came in pre-trial proceedings for Miss Davis, charged in connection with the abortive Marin County Civic Center escape attempt that took the lives of four persons, including a judge and two San Quentin convicts.

Judge Richard Aronson ruled last week that Miss Davis could not act as her own co-counsel but she left the questioning of judges to Miss Burnham and her chief defense attorney, Howard Moore Jr.

The defense has challenged the grand jury selection system on grounds it excludes blacks, the young, and the poor.

Three Superior Court judges were questioned Monday on their attitudes toward racism and hippies.

At that time, Wilson said the criteria for selection of jurors was "willingness, availability and background."

Japan hit

SAPPORO, Japan (UPI) — A weak earthquake shook southern and eastern parts of the northern island of Hokkaido today.

There were no reports of damage and injuries, police said.

The Sapporo Regional Observatory said the epicenter of the quake was located off the city of Urakawa in southern Hokkaido.

Weathermen said the quake recorded a force of three on the Japanese scale which registered seven in Urakawa, two in Hiro and one in Obihiro and Hakodate in southern and eastern parts of the northern island.

Fire rages over lava, brush land

IDAHO FALLS (UPI) — A fire of at least 70,000 acres burned out of control Tuesday in desert land between the Big Southern Butte and Springfield.

Crews under the supervision of the Bureau of Land Management's Idaho Falls office fought the blaze, helped by three cutpillars, two patrols and some aircraft.

Dave Lodzinski, BLM resource management division chief, said crews were "scattered pretty thin" on the fire which had a large perimeter with many smaller blazes burning inside.

He said thus far there was no damage to crops or property, but added some range facilities such as fences and corrals and wildlife forage and habitat had been destroyed.

Lawyer leads vote

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — Mississippians voted in record numbers Tuesday in a Democratic primary aimed at selecting a white opponent for black leader Charles Evers in a November showdown for governor.

U.S. Gov. Charles I. Sullivan, a 46-year-old delta lawyer who waged a campaign void of racism, was regarded as the man most likely to lead the field of seven white candidates. But it was likely that no one would get a majority and an Aug. 24 runoff would be required to determine the nominee.

Long voting lines, swollen by teenagers balloting for the first time, were reported across the state. "Indications" were "that more than 750,000 were voting, easily a record. Polls operated from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m."

Sullivan's strongest opponent appeared to be Bill Waller, a 44-year-old Jackson lawyer who made national headlines in 1964 by unsuccessfully prosecuting a white man for the murder of Evers' brother, Medgar, then the state field secretary of the NAACP.

Gas arrives

JOHNSTON ISLAND (UPI) — The first of five shipments of nerve and mustard gas arrived Tuesday on this tiny Pacific atoll for storage.

The 5,300 tons of poison gas was carried from Okinawa by Navy transport ship. The other four nerve and mustard gas shipments will be made during the next 55 days.

The gas shipments are the second stage of "Operation Red Hat," the removal of nearly 18,000 tons of gas and other chemical and biological weapons from Okinawa. The first shipment of 150 tons of chemical munitions were moved in January.

Johnston Island is 700 miles southwest of Hawaii.

Agnew trip questioned

(EDITOR'S NOTE: UPI Sen. chief Steve Gerstel accompanied Vice President Spiro T. Agnew on his just completed 32-day diplomatic journey around the world. Gerstel reviews the trip and the reasons for it in the following commentary.)

By STEVE GERSTEL
WASHINGTON (UPI)—With icy aloofness but perfect protocol, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew circled the globe on an intriguing diplomatic mission that created more questions than answers.

Why did President Nixon send him? How were the nations he visited chosen? What were his objectives? What did he achieve?

In relative importance, how did Agnew's journey compare with Dr. Henry A. Kissinger's secret mission to Peking, Secretary of State William P. Rogers' negotiations in the Middle East or Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird's trip to Japan and Korea.

At 32 days, the journey was the longest taken by a vice president since Richard M. Nixon 18 years ago, before the advent of the jet age, made a 73-day tour of the Far East.

The State Department said it cannot estimate the cost of the trip. But his entourage ranged from 57 to more than 100, depending on the country, and included State Department aides, staff members, Secret Service agents, advance men, secretaries and a personal photographer.

Purpose Of Mission
He visited Korea, Singapore, Laos, Kuwait, Cambodia, Ethiopia, Kenya, the Democratic Republic of the Congo, Spain, Morocco and Portugal.

"It is a diplomatic mission without specified problem areas at its center," Agnew said.

Rate hiked
DETROIT (UPI)—Michigan Bank, the fifth largest in Detroit, has raised its prime interest rate to 6 1/2 per cent, a half per cent above the prevailing rate in Detroit and the nation.

Not citizens
PAGO-PAGO—American Samoa (UPI)—The 28,000 residents of American Samoa are U.S. nationals, but they are not citizens, do not have the right to vote in national elections and are not subject to draft laws.

How, however, they pay federal income taxes because their representatives in the territorial legislature voted that American Samoans should adhere to the Internal Revenue Code, with some modifications.

Nixon spending reaches peak

By MICHAEL L. POSNER
WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon has become in 2 1/2 years—the biggest spending president in history, and is well down the road running up more government debt than any other administration except during World War II.

Since moving to the White House in 1969, Nixon has spent a record $50 billion, although technically $184 billion is a hangover from President Johnson's last days.

In the two fiscal years of budget mauling, though, Nixon has run up actual deficits that add to government debt of $43 billion.

On paper Nixon is able to paint the picture as little brighter. He uses a budget system that counts borrowed money from Social Security trust funds as revenue—instead of the borrowed money it is. Under Nixon's way of figuring, his 1970 deficit was $2.8 billion and the fiscal 1971 deficit for the year that ended July 1 was $25.8 billion. The real deficits, counting the debt to be $12.3 billion—adding Nixon's government will have to pay back to Social Security—amount to $13.1 billion and $30 billion.

The $30 billion deficit for 1972 is higher than any since World War II. Only during those war years did debt run higher. Even so, FDI only spent $30 billion in four years to finance government budgets.

Buddhists go inside system

SAIGON (UPI)—Militant Buddhist leaders have decided to work within the system rather than to back it for the time being in an attempt to gain political power in South Vietnam.

The militant monks have told their followers to lay off innovations and mass demonstrations and use their energies at more conventional forms of politicking.

The militants have endorsed a slate of candidates in the August assembly election, and are considering backing retired Gen. Duong Van "Big" Minh in the Oct. 3 presidential balloting.

They've set up political rallies, made speeches and collected money to back their candidates for 152 available assembly seats.

The An Quang militants (the majority group of Buddhist leaders) have been hesitant so far to come out in favor of a presidential candidate. Buddhist sources say the only man they could back to Minh, but they still haven't made up their minds whether to endorse anyone.

Some militants complain that Minh, a Buddhist, was given a chance to lead the country in 1963 and didn't impress them with the job he did.

Most diplomatic observers consider President Nguyen Van Thieu a Roman Catholic, the odds-on favorite to win. Minh is given an outside chance. Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky, also a Buddhist, has had trouble rounding up enough support to qualify as a candidate, and is considered the least likely to win.

U.S. officials believe the An Quang militants eventually will back Minh, despite their reservations, as long as the retired general stays in the race.

Helped People Refuse Buddhist demonstrations helped topple the regime of the late President Ngo Dinh Diem in 1963 and speeded up the adoption of a new constitution.

The An Quang Buddhists officially boycotted the last presidential election in 1969, and the next year, an An Quang leader tested their strength at the polls in the 1970 senate race and—to the surprise of many U.S. officials—another Buddhist newsmen—led the balloting. The Quoc Tu moderates were last among 16 voters.

The great majority of South Vietnam's 17.5 million people are Buddhists, giving the An Quang leaders considerable influence on voting. Hamlet, village and province chiefs, however, are equally, if not more, powerful.

Vietnamese peasants usually go to their local civilian chiefs, rather than religious leaders, to ask advice on voting. The chiefs are appointed by the Thieu administration.

Off-again, on-again Thomas gone again, Patriots find

AMHERST, Mass.—(UPI)—New England Patriots officials shook their heads and wondered what was next Tuesday after controversial running back Duane Thomas bolted the team just 24 hours after arriving in camp.

A's rally in ninth to defeat Royals

KANSAS CITY (UPI)—Rick Monday drove in four runs, the last two on a tie-breaking two-run double in the ninth Tuesday night, to give the Oakland Athletics a 7-5 victory over the Kansas City Royals and take Vida Blue off the hook.

A record crowd of 35,623, saw the A's score three runs in the ninth and prevent Blue from suffering his fifth loss against 19 wins.

Tommy Davis and Dick Green led off the ninth with singles. With one out, Bert Campaneris singled home the tying run and went to second on the throw.

Monday greeted reliever Bill Butler with a double off the center field wall, scoring Green and Campaneris with the winning runs.

DETROIT (UPI)—Tom McCraw crossed the plate with the winning run when Aurelio Rodriguez failed to hold Jeff Burroughs' sharp grounder to third Tuesday night as the Washington Senators rallied for three runs in the ninth inning to defeat the Detroit Tigers, 4-2.

Denny McLain trailed 2-1 entering the ninth but instead of his 18th defeat he was credited with his sixth victory in his first start since coming off the disabled list.

Twins 4, Sox 3

CHICAGO (UPI)—Tony Oliva doubled with two out in the 10th inning Tuesday night to score Rod Carew from first base and give the Minnesota Twins a 4-3 decision over the Chicago White Sox, their seventh extra-inning win against two defeats this season.

Oliva, who had three hits in five times at bat, also doubled in the eighth inning to drive in two runs and give the Twins a 3-3 tie.

The victory went to Stan Williams who worked the last three innings in relief of Jim Kaat. Williams allowed three hits, walked one and struck out three.

"B" American Legion tournament opens Thursday night at the Eden baseball field. Twin Falls, coached by Roger Spriggs, will be meeting a toughie in Lewiston which has a 19-1 record in the opener at 5 p.m. and Valley, coached by Floyd Bowlin and owning a 14-7, will meet the Boise Gems in the nightcap slated to start at 8 p.m. Thursday.

The tournament, which is double elimination, will continue with two games on Friday and Saturday evenings with the same starting times. Bowlin has selected Kim Gergen to start for the home team against the Gems. The Boise team earned the right to play in the state meet by defeating Shoshone 5-3 and 4-3 Sunday after Shoshone had won an earlier meeting in the best of three series.

Twin Falls won its berth in the tournament—the first time for a Twin Falls "B" team—by nipping Pocatello 4-3 in extra innings in a one-game playoff Monday night.

Jerome won this event a year ago but is not participating this season. Jerome ended a two-year reign by defeating Lewiston in the finals.

Umpires for the tournament will be Robert "Red" Halverson of Rupert and Leo Hite of Eden. Bowlin added the Lutheran and Catholic church women's group and the women's auxiliary will provide supper for all teams each night of the event at the Eden cafeteria.

Hearing on Wells set for Friday

OAKLAND (UPI)—Oakland Raiders wide receiver Warren Wells Tuesday lost his plea for disqualification of the judge scheduled to consider revocation of Wells' probation.

Superior Judge Leonard Dieden will hear arguments Friday on whether Wells should be sent back to jail. The hearing is three days before the opening of the Raiders season.

Wells' attorney, Stanley Golde, sought to disqualify Dieden because of an alleged out-of-court statement last June that he would have no alternative but to jail the athlete. But in an affidavit Dieden denied making the statement. Denials also were filed by two alleged witnesses to the remark, Dr. Kenneth Small, Raiders' physician, and Wayne Valley, a Raiders trainer.

The disqualification motion was rejected by Robert D. Carter, a visiting superior judge from Modesto. Golde said he would complain to the California Judicial Council that he was refused an opportunity to put witnesses on the stand.

Luzins has best time for 800

OSLO (UPI)—AAU champion Juris Luzins burst away from the pack on the last 200 meters to earn the best American time at 800 meters running this season, 1:45.2, during the International Track and field competition Tuesday night.

Luzins, third man in the pack after the first 400-meter lap in 52.0 seconds, came from behind to edge his fellow countrymen Mark Winzenried and Tom Van Ruden on the last curve. Winzenried was timed 1:46.6 while Van Ruden, usually a hard-beaten home stretch runner, was third in 1:46.8.

Lance Bubb, fought off a late challenge by Norwegian Ragnar Molning to win the 110 meters hurdles in 14.0 seconds. Moland and third place Bob Steele both finished 14.1.

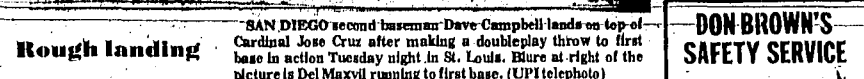

Fred Debernard was outstanding in the discus and shot put events. He won the discus at 104 feet 9 inches and went on to triumph in the shot put with a 63-foot-4-inch effort.

Hawk wins money in first try

AKRON, Ohio (UPI)—Ken "Hawk" Harrelson assured himself of his first paycheck as a professional golfer Tuesday, then predicted he would win a major tournament within a year and a half.

"I'm not saying I'll come out here and beat all these guys all the time," Harrelson said, "but I think I can get enough experience to win a major tournament within a year or year and a half."

Harrelson, who quit the Cleveland Indians in June when he had a .199 batting average, shot one-over-par 78 in the second round.

Trevino feted by El Paso neighbors

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI)—Mexican border. The heart of the celebration was a parade which wound through town and dipped across the International Bridge into El Paso's sister city, Ciudad Juarez, Mexico.

An exhibition golf match followed, and a dinner in Trevino's honor was planned for the evening.

Trevino, clad in golfer's attire of blue slacks and a blue, long-sleeved knit shirt, sat on the top of a convertible's back seat with his wife Claudia and sonked it all in.

"Hi," Trevino yelled out at the crowd which lined El Paso's main street. "Thanks for coming, whoopee, did you in this city hard by the ever see so many people?"

king of diamonds before touching trumps to locate the ace and West had played it. West was also marked with the ace and king of spades. He could not hold another king, since he had dealt and passed. Therefore, South knew where the king of trumps was. He did not know that it would drop but he did know that a finesse would be a hopeless play.

What do you do now?
A—Bid six diamonds. Your partner should have a long diamond suit to the ace and a little something on the side. Your king-queen of diamonds justifies this slight overbid.
TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of bidding three diamonds, your partner has jumped to two no-trump over your two spades. What do you do now?

When you know from your count one opponent holds all the missing cards in a suit, you also know he holds any honors that are held against you. This is known as a complete count. When you know he holds more cards in the suit than his partner, you know he is more likely to hold any missing honors. This is known as a partial count. A partial count is a good guide but it is not a sure thing.

There is a second form of counting to help you locate missing high cards. Count your opponents' points and see what this count will tell you.
We aren't sure that we like South's four-heart bid but he did make it. West opened the king of spades and continued with the queen. East led the four of clubs back. South won the trick with the ace and proceeded to lead his king of diamonds. West won with the ace and returned a club. Now South led his queen of trumps, went BLONDES can get away with more ardent displays of passion than brunettes. In the movies, I mean. They can hold the kiss longer, reveal more bare body, display a greater undulation, why, I don't know. But Alfred Hitchcock contends it's a fact. He says his love scenes might not pass the censor if his heroines were brunettes.

AN OIL MAN, recently returned from Iran, informs me it's bad manners there to comment on the color of an infant's eyes. Superstition. Has to do with the infamous 'Evil Eye.' ... EVER MET a humorless man who worked in a place of business with sawdust on the floor? Neither have I. Butchers, bartenders, fishmongers, sawyers, they tend to be funny characters. ... IF YOU WANT to impress a salesman, tell him he would have made a superb trial lawyer. That is said to be what all great salesmen wish they were.

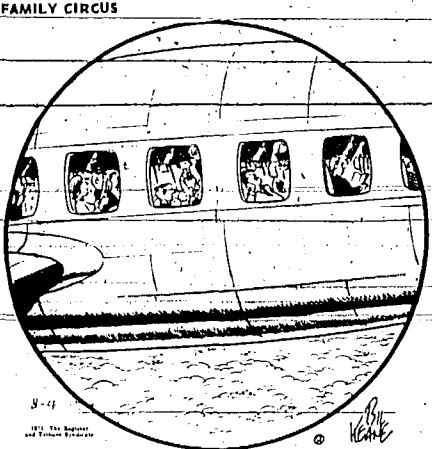

HOW DO I KNOW football is more lethal than rodeo riding? Simple statistics. They show about 15 boys a year are fatally injured in football, maybe one a year in the rodeo ring. Boxing is killing fewer lately, but the overall average at last report ran about seven deaths a year. Deadlier sport of all, certainly, is mountaineering.

CUSTOMER SERVICE: Q. "Who said, 'An Englishman thinks seated; a Frenchman, standing; an American, pacing; an Irishman, afterwards?'" A. That was Austin O'Malley. He also said: 1. "Exclusiveness is a characteristic of recent riches, high society and the skunk." 2. Why is the word 'tongue' feminine in Greek, Latin, Italian, Spanish, French and German? 3. "The worst misfortune that can happen to an ordinary man is to have an extraordinary father."

CLIENT WANTS to know if wild game expert Don Hunt was serious when he claimed the best way to catch a cheetah was to grab it by the tail and throw it into an open box. He was. ... WORLD'S BIGGEST NAIL is the boat spike which weighs about two pounds. When I reported that, a customer asked, "What's the smallest?" The needle nail. Takes about 95,000 to weigh one pound.

THERE'S a man the odd-quirk experts call "a compulsive swindler." What the addict gets from dope and the alcoholic gets from liquor, this fellow gets from cheating, they contend. No, he's not necessarily a felon running the Pigeon Drop on some suburban Dagwood. He frequently operates in a business that would be legitimate were it not for his uncontrollable urge. A clerk who intermittently can't resist the impulse to fast-count the short change in an otherwise decent purchase. The salesman who even after the close of an honest deal suddenly talks a phony pitch. A business executive who wrenches the nails out of an honorable contract with a last-minute sneaky wrinkle in the fine print. It's not the personal profit these convulsed souls seek, I'm told. It's the sadistic orgasmic exhilaration they get in the bloodless beating of compatriots. They're incurable, that's known. The next scissorbill who knocks on your door with a briefcase in his hand may be one such. Beware, young fellow.

Your questions and comments are welcomed and will be used in PASS IT ON wherever possible. Please address your letters to L.M. Boyd, P.O. Box 17076, Fort Worth, Texas 76102.

Census set for horses

MOSCOW — An emergency horse census has been called in Idaho due to sleeping sickness. If you own a horse, pony, mule, or donkey in the state of Idaho, the Extension Service wants to know about it.

Due to the outbreak of sleeping sickness (Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis) in horses in Texas and the possible need for vaccination in states besides those states bordering Texas and Mexico, the Extension Service has been asked to make immediate count of all horses, mules, ponies and donkeys, says James L. Graves, associate director of the University of Idaho Cooperative Extension Service.

"The purpose of the equine head count is a precautionary measure so that enough vaccine will be available if proposed control measures are taken and the areas of concentration of horses will be known," Graves said. The Extension Service is sending a questionnaire to all rural route and star route box holders. "It is vital that all horse owners in the state return the questionnaire if they receive one," said D. Richard F. Hall, U. of I. Extension veterinarian. "If you have horses and do not receive a questionnaire, you should call the county extension office and leave your name, address and number of horses," says Hall.

He said that if you have relatives or friends who own horses and are on vacation that you call the county extension office and report them. Since this is an emergency, the census is to be completed immediately.

Dr. A. P. Schneider, state federal veterinarian of Idaho, reports that horses in Idaho and those entering the state are presently under strict surveillance by veterinarians.

Marketing agreement complete

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department and the newly organized National Wheat Institute signed an agreement under which the institute will operate a $2 million program to promote new markets and uses for wheat.

The project was authorized by a law passed last fall. The funds come from a pool of "export certificate" funds earmarked for payment to farmers several years ago.

Under the 1970 law, the Agriculture Department offered farmers a chance to claim the funds and then reserved the $2 million in unclaimed proceeds for the promotion program.

The institute includes representatives of the National Grange, National Farmers Union, National Farmers Organization, Midcontinent Farmers Association, National Association of Wheat
