Minh quits race

SAIGON (UPI)—Gen. Duong Van "Big" Minh, charging the Oct. 3 South Vietnamese presidential campaign was rigged, withdrew from the race today and set the stage for increased unrest in a nation which has tried to operate as a democracy since 1967.

Minh's decision was expected. It left President Nguyen Van Thieu as the sole candidate and upset the U.S. embassy's hopes for a free and fair election to express the will of the country's 17.5 million people.

The supreme court, serving as referee, was expected to act on Minh's formal request to withdraw from the election and several other candidate complaints. The court also may consider whether to reverse an earlier decision which barred Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky from the ballot because he lacked sufficient support.

Thieu and Ky had no immediate comment on Minh's pullout.

The withdrawal of Minh, 55-year-old leader of the 1963 coup which overthrew the regime of the late President Ngo Dinh Diem, increased the possibility of demonstrations and other incidents across the country.

The retired general, a prominent Buddhist, chose Buddhist Martyr's Day to make his announcement. It also was the day of the funeral of a disabled veteran who set himself afire earlier in the week to protest the Thieu regime.

The U.S. embassy in Saigon issued a statement saying: "We regret that Gen. Minh has withdrawn as a candidate for the presidency of the Republic of Vietnam. Beyond that, we have no further comment."

U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, returning from 10 days of consultations in Washington, met separately Thursday night with Thieu and Minh. He reportedly was aware of Minh's intentions, but did not hear officially until this morning when his aides announced the move at a news conference.

Spain trip report due
BOISE (UPI)—Secretary of State Pete T. Censerusa told newsmen Friday he intends to meet with State Department officials while on an Eastern trip soon to report on his recent trip to Spain.

Censerusa said he will leave for Saratoga Springs, N.Y., to attend the National Association of Secretaries of State Aug. 28, on his way back to Idaho, he said, he will stop in Washington, D.C., to meet with the State Department and possibly others in the Nixon administration.

Galley life term cut

FT. McPHERSON, Ga. (UPI)—Lt. William L. Calley's life sentence for the murder of 22 Vietnamese civilians at My Lai was reduced to 20 years confinement today by Lt. Gen. Albert O. Connor, Third Army commander.

The record of the trial now will be forwarded to the U.S. Army Court of Military Review in Washington, which could reduce the sentence further or reverse Calley's conviction. Neither Lt. nor President Nixon can increase the 20-year sentence.

An army spokesman read Connor's announcement at the Third Army Public Information Office at Ft. McPherson. "It said Connor 'has approved the findings of guilty and only so much of the sentence as provides for dismissal, forfeiture of all pay and allowances, and confinement for 20 years.'"

"Based upon the testimony and evidence presented at the trial it was determined that the conviction was correct in law and fact and that the reduced sentence was appropriate for the offenses for which he was convicted."

"Gen. Connor took this action after consideration of all the evidence in the record of the trial, after considering the advice and recommendations of his legal staff, and after considering matters in rebuttal by the defense."

Calley was convicted last March 29 of crimes at My Lai following the longest court martial in U.S. history. He was confined to the post stocks following his conviction and remained there until his sentencing two days later. On April 2, President Nixon intervened in the case and placed the short, stocky officer under house arrest in his bachelor apartment at Ft. Benning, Ga., where he stood trial.

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—The three astronauts who will make the last scheduled U.S. manned trip to the moon said Thursday their mission will be the end of a beginning.

Eugene A. Cernan, Ronald E. Evans and Harrison H. "Jack" Schmitt fly Apollo 17 to an undetermined site in December 1972, to conclude the $2.5-billion Apollo series. It will be the sixth manned landing on the moon.

"A lot of people have billed Apollo 17 as the end, as the last flight," Mission Commander Cernan said. "It is the last flight of the program, but Ron and Jack and myself, added to a lot of other people at Apollo 17, look at it as the end of a beginning."

He compared the mission to the last canoe on the expedition Meriwether Lewis and William Clark made into the Louisiana Territory in 1804-05.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Organized labor and consumer advocate Ralph Nader today stepped up his bitter opposition to President Nixon's economic policies, calling them "elitist" and "a tax windfall for big business."

The Bureau of Labor Statistics, meanwhile, announced that the cost of living rose a moderate 0.2 per cent in July—the last full month before Nixon's imposition of the wage-price freeze last Sunday. Nixon's new policies are designed to stop a rapid increase in the cost of living, which rose 0.6 per cent in June and 0.5 per cent in May.

Living cost up in July

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The cost of living rose only 0.2 per cent in July, the last full month before President Nixon clamped a wage and price freeze on the economy, the government said today.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said the July increase—down sharply from the 0.6 per cent jump in prices in June and a 0.8-per-cent advance in May—was due primarily to higher prices for food, tobacco products and household and medical care services.

These increases were offset by lower prices for clothing and some other non-food commodities.

The higher cost of living last month placed the consumer price index at 121.8. In other words, it cost $12.18 to buy the same goods and services that cost $10.00 in 1967.

The index rose at a seasonal adjusted annual rate of 4.4 per cent above a year earlier, but at an annual rate of only 3.9 per cent above six months ago.

The July price report did not reflect President Nixon's wage price freeze, which became effective last Sunday. The BLS said that the August CPI report would not reflect the full impact of the freeze because some of the price data for August was gathered before the freeze became effective.

The BLS said food prices in stores increased 0.6 per cent last month, slightly more than is usual for July. Price hikes for pork, beef, fruits and vegetables were smaller than normal, but prices for eggs, bakery products and some dairy products rose sharply. Restaurant meals showed a 0.5 per cent price hike.

The bureau said that about 80 per cent of the 0.5 per cent increase in the cost of services was due to higher rates for household and medical care services.

Mortgage interest rates went up slightly, and property insurance rates, home repairs and property taxes were higher. Telephone rates also went up, particularly in New York.

Charges for automobile repairs went up, but the BLS said local transit fares were unchanged.

Labor, Nader hike freeze opposition

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Organized labor and consumer advocate Ralph Nader today stepped up his bitter opposition to President Nixon's economic policies, calling them "elitist" and "a tax windfall for big business."

The Bureau of Labor Statistics, meanwhile, announced that the cost of living rose a moderate 0.2 per cent in July—the last full month before Nixon's imposition of the wage-price freeze last Sunday. Nixon's new policies are designed to stop a rapid increase in the cost of living, which rose 0.6 per cent in June and 0.5 per cent in May.

Nixon said Thursday when he arrived at the Western White House after a five-state swing that he expected the opposition of "special interest groups." But, he said: "The overwhelming majority favor what we are doing."

The AFL-CIO and the administration had an angry confrontation Thursday. Today, the AFL-CIO's chief congressional lobbyist, former Rep. Andrew J. Blemler, P-

Wis., said on nationwide television that Nixon's policies were "nothing but a giveaway, a tax windfall for big business."

Blemler said that corporate profits and high interest rates, not workers' wage demands, were the principal cause of inflation.

The American Federation of Teachers representing 250,000 educators, adopted a resolution at its annual convention that the wage-price freeze is "a devastating blow against education, teachers and workers."

Nader said the economic policy was "elitist." He said the freeze did not apply to interest rates and corporate profits and the program would provide billions of dollars for big business. He said the wage freeze forced the working man to shoulder the burden of the new plan.

AFL-CIO President George Meany and his Executive Board denounced the 90-day freeze as "inequitable, unjust, unfair and unworkable." They announced the 13.6 million-member federation would refuse to cooperate. Meany said unions would feel free to strike if the freeze denies them pay increases that have been negotiated.

Texas Gov. Preston Smith announced he would disobey the presidential order and award pay increases this fall to more than 100,000 teachers and state employees. He said the raises were authorized by the Texas legislature several months ago and that the freeze was a "flagrant violation of Texas law and the Constitution."

Louisiana School Superintendent William J. Dodd said he would give the state's 38,000 public school teachers a pay raise anyway, because he would "not let our underpaid teachers...be starved." The National Education Association, the teachers' organization, said it had asked its state affiliates to take "legal action at all levels when it becomes appropriate" and apply "political pressures within each state."

Administration officials announced Wednesday the freeze applied to state and local employees, including teachers, and Thursday said the freeze would be applied to military personnel.

Smith made his announcement Thursday as President Nixon flew to Dallas to speak at a Veterans of Foreign Wars meeting. Ronald L. Ziegler, the White House press secretary, said in Dallas when asked of Smith's move that the law provided a $5,000 fine for violations.

"And I think that all parties can be enjoined," Ziegler added. He said it would be administration policy to "apply the law even-handedly through all parts of the country."

The administration continued to organize machinery for enforcement of the program. The Internal Revenue Service prepared to open offices in 203 cities to investigate complaints of freeze violations.

Treasury Secretary John B. Connally, the administration's chief economic spokesman, announced the freeze would apply to military pay increases, overruling an earlier position taken by the Pentagon.

Mart schedules Monday opening

By United Press International The European Common Market decided today to reopen its foreign exchanges Monday but without joint measures to control the floating of the American dollar.

Common Market finance ministers failed to reach agreement on a unified monetary policy.

All European exchange markets have been closed all week. The Tokyo Stock Exchange showed signs of rebounding today from four days of severe losses. The crash to sell dollars also eased as some foreign exchange banks began buying dollars once again.

The dollar rallied in Tokyo to 366.65 yen, up 1.48 yen over Thursday's close.

The United States has asked Japan to revalue the yen upward in the belief its artificial valuation of 360 yen to the dollar helps Japanese trade and hurts American trade.

Common Market finance ministers in a communique at the end of their meeting said "the suspension of the convertibility of the dollar and the introduction of the 10 per cent surcharge on imports will profoundly affect monetary order and international commerce."

It said "these measures show clearly that it is necessary to assure the freedom of commerce and international payments to move towards a reform of the international monetary system including parity changes that appear necessary."

Mario Ferrari Aggradi, Italian finance minister and president of the council, said after the meeting "we think the 10 per cent surcharge must be abolished as soon as possible."

Aggradi was referring to President Nixon's call for a 10 per cent surcharge on certain imports to the United States in a move to protect American-made goods.

The conference failed to set an objective of working out a common monetary policy. The ministers instead agreed that each member would pursue the policy it considered necessary.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Offices will be opened in 203 cities to receive, analyze and investigate complaints of violations of the wage-price freeze according to Treasury Secretary John B. Connally Jr.

He said Thursday the existing Internal Revenue Service's taxpayer assistance offices in 55 cities would be given the job at once and an additional 145 offices would be opened Monday to handle complaints and answer questions.

LaCrosse said at one time during the March 16, 1968 operation he did feel that perhaps too many civilians were being killed, but at about the same time the order came through to stop burning hootches and a ceasefire was imposed.

LaCrosse said he saw Medina two or three times the day of the My Lai massacre but, like the 15 witnesses who preceded him, he could not place Medina in the village at the time the killing was going on, nor establish that Medina knew it was occurring.

Bailey called Dr. Lemoyne Snyder and six other polygraph experts Thursday to testify that a lie detector test is accurate and reliable enough to be introduced into evidence.

Jerome plant bids received

ORLANDO, Fla. — Planned construction of a multimillion-dollar Tupperware International manufacturing facility south of Jerome brought a flood of bids to Tupperware's engineering firm, Zorba Voegler Engineering and Construction Co., New York City, according to Tupperware President John Anley.

Bids from 10 contractors were opened Thursday in New York City, but no details will be released until the bid opening is held Thursday, Anley said.

The original engineering estimate was approximately "wrong on the low side," Anley said; all the bids apparently topped the firm's estimates substantially. He declined further details on the bidding.

Many other prospective bidders sought to enter cost estimates but were turned down. "We must have turned down another 20 or 30 bidders," Anley said.

The plant, which will manufacture plastic containers, is being built on a 100-acre site in Jerome, N.Y., about 100 miles from the company's headquarters in New York City.

Texan governor challenges Nixon

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—The governor of Texas has challenged the President of the United States and has ordered the state to defy President Nixon's freeze on wages.

"This flagrant violation of Texas law and the Constitution must be challenged and that is exactly what I'm doing," Gov. Preston Smith said.

Smith ordered the state to pay more than 100,000 teachers and state employees pay raises passed by the Texas legislature earlier this year but that were not supposed to go into effect until the Texas fiscal year started Sept. 1.

"It appears the governor of Texas, for a motivation of which only he is aware, is seeking to single out a group of Texans for preferential treatment," a White House statement said.

President Nixon, upon arriving at the Western White House in San Clemente, Calif., was asked about Smith's action.

"I think Gov. Connally can handle it," Nixon said, breaking into a wide grin.

Nixon referred to Treasury Secretary John B. Connally who was Smith's predecessor as governor of Texas. Both Smith and Connally are Democrats.

Smith said he was ordering all state agencies to obey the laws of the Texas Legislature and defy the policies of the President.

"I am refusing to obey the President's order to scrap our appropriations bill, which was signed into law months ago," Smith said.

Smith said he was ordering all state agencies to obey the laws of the Texas Legislature and defy the policies of the President.

School districts asked to save money for raise

BOISE (UPI)— Those attending a leadership conference of the Idaho Education Association have asked school districts to save money intended for teacher salary raises until it can be spent for that purpose.

Ron Flinn, IEA president for 1971-72, said that was one of four recommendations made by the IEA leaders at a meeting Thursday.

He said those attending the session reacted from "anger" to "frustration" to being included in the President's wage and price freeze.

Flinn said they feel the profession should take strong exception to being classified as "seasonal employees" because they are paid on year-round contracts. If they are seasonal employees, he said, "all of us should apply for unemployment checks next June."

He noted that school budgets had been set for several months and that tax levies will be spread within the next few days. He said it is too late to reduce levies and noted that reductions are not required under the guidelines of the freeze.

In addition to asking that money earmarked for salary hikes be saved for that purpose and not be spent on something else and that teachers protest seasonal classification, Flinn said the some 100 local IEA presidents and vice president also recommended:

— The exact moment an opportunity arises to plug the increases promised into teacher salaries, the schedules be changed to include all anticipated raises.

— The National Education Association on behalf of teachers nationwide bring suit in court regarding the validity and sanctity of contract.

Inmates moved to new site

BOISE (UPI)— Seven inmates from the Idaho State Prison started to settle into new cell quarters today after they were moved from the old prison to the new site south of Gowen Field.

Director of corrections at the prison Raymond May said the inmates were moved because "their presence kept things a little uneasy at the penitentiary."

May said officials were trying "to get the institution back to normal as soon as possible. There is a nucleus that does influence and keep the situation in a state of tension."

The move at 12:30 a.m. Thursday morning came after a riot, a murder and other unrest during the past several days at the penitentiary.

Five of the men were from the maximum security where 18 convicts were held after the murder of inmate William H. Butler, 28, Bayonne, N.J., last Saturday. The other two were from the general prison population. At the new prison site the seven were locked up in the maximum security custody unit within one completed portion of the four-section prison complex, slated for final completion in 1973.

CAP honors noncom

TWIN FALLS — Sgt. Gilbert T. Jarrett, Air Force-Civil Air Patrol liaison non-commissioned officer in Twin Falls for the past four years, was commended and awarded several decorations by Air Force and CAP personnel during a testimonial dinner Wednesday in the Rogerson Hotel Roundup Room.

Sgt. Jarrett has been reassigned to duty in Vietnam with the Air Force at an unspecified post. He will be succeeded by Sgt. John Nelson in the liaison post. He and Maj. J.L. Conder, the liaison officer in charge, maintain communications between the Air Force and its civilian auxiliary, the Civil Air Patrol.

Sgt. Jarrett said he will be stationed in the Saigon area in South Vietnam, probably in an administrative capacity, since his career field is in office management. He has been told he will be in the Asian country for a year.

Special guests at the dinner included Col. F.R. Goldsberry and Col. Ed Rossar, both CAP liaison personnel and Air Force career officers, stationed in the regional office at Lowry Air Force Base, Denver, Colo. They commended Sgt. Jarrett and his work with CAP cadets over his four-year term in Twin Falls.

Other awards were presented by Maj. Conder, who read a citation of merit while Col. Goldsberry presented a medal to the sergeant.

CAP Cadets Mary Tjurka and Danny Thornton, also complimented Sgt. Jarrett, presenting a gift of a desk pen set to the surprised airman.

In a surprise ceremony, Sgt. Nelson, the incoming liaison aide, was also commended with presentation of the Air Force Commendation Medal for his work at his previous post in the Midwest.

Clerk hurt in mishap

TWIN FALLS — County Clerk Harold A. Lancaster, 1963 Elizabeth Blvd., suffered minor injuries as did another driver, Jerry Watts, 23, 220 Jackson St., when their vehicles collided on Blue Lakes Boulevard North at about 9:45 p.m. Thursday.

City police reported Watts, who was cited for violation of the basic rule, was hurrying to get through the yellow light at the intersection of Falls Avenue and Blue Lakes Blvd. He was traveling north and as he caught up with other northbound traffic moving at a slower pace, he swerved to avoid striking these cars and collided with the southbound 1971 station wagon driven by the county clerk.

With Lancaster was Wayman Kimball, courthouse custodian. He was not injured. Damage was estimated at $700 to Lancaster's vehicle and total to the 1955 sedan driven by Watts. Both drivers were treated for minor injuries but not hospitalized.

No tests but texts

TWIN FALLS — A typographical error in the report of the unique Basque studies scheduled for this fall at the College of Southern Idaho indicated that "textbooks" would be available from the college.

The word should have been "textbooks." The course does not include formal tests or class meetings, according to Dr. Bruce Harrison, director of the CSI Learning Materials Resource Center.

The texts will be available from the CSI bookstore. Dr. Harrison explained. Details on the class may be obtained by calling the college library at 733-9554, extension 266.

Each year the United States gives away several billion dollars worth of foreign aid. Some of it is in the form of outright grants, some in the form of loans to be repaid at a distant future date.

of the world combined, and the foreign aid bill represents about one-third of the national debt. Further, there are now so many dollars floating around Europe — due in part to the assistance programs — that countries such as France, Italy, West Germany and Switzerland are taking counter-measures to prevent their own currencies from becoming over-inflated.

There are summer soldiers and sunshine patriots in the war against pollution, too. They are very enthusiastic for a time, but when it comes down to the nitty-gritty of hard work needed to clean up the environment, they are nowhere to be found.

A diplomatic passport seemingly qualified him for immunity, but an inspector noticed that the proper stamp was missing. A Customs officer was summoned. He opened the five bags. ROWLAND EVANS & ROBERT NOVAK Second Front

TEL AVIV — With Prime Minister Golda Meir's government preoccupied with the grave war-or-peace issue, a second front, in some ways more insidious, has been opened by militant, first-generation Israeli youth frustrated by high taxes, lack of housing and job-training, and angry over lucrative economic concessions designed to attract new immigrants.

More recently, however, Mrs. Meir named a high-level commission to deal with Panther grievances — mainly lack of job-training programs, lack of jobs, poverty and slum living conditions.

Note From The Governor

BRUCE BLOSSAT The Greedy

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A very considerable number of Americans are remarkably adept at hiding from themselves. To be blunt about it, they are highly self-centered and downright greedy.

are trying to steal their way into a very nice standard of living. The incredible double plague of shoplifting and thefts by employees has the same root cause. The governing motive seems to be: "I am entitled to live as well as the next fellow."

Well, blood, besides containing hemoglobin, antibodies, platelets, and a lot of other useful things, also contains a variety of fatty materials, or "lipids." Best known of these, for whatever reason, is cholesterol, and a good many people are intent on keeping their cholesterol levels down to a proper level.

BERRY'S WORLD

"I'm a sucker for nostalgia"

NEW YORK (UPI)—Middle-aged women in town for a three-day self-improvement course sit in small chairs in the Candy Jones Studio in mid-Manhattan and repeat after Miss Jones:

"Your best beautician may be your family physician."

Miss Jones, the nation's top cover girl in the early 40s, still looks very much the part—except as she leads this class of women, middle-aged like herself, she's talking with a pencil held horizontally between her teeth. The woman also has a pencil between her teeth.

"The pencil," Miss Jones said in an interview about middle-aged women who have let their appearance go, "is to help perfect diction—very important in giving a beautiful impression of oneself."

"There is, meaning, too, in the phrase about physicians possibly being beauticians. Often, middle-aged women may have a complexion problem that only a doctor can help. Or, they may need iron shots or some other attention for a middle-aged malady to help put the spring back in their walk."

what's happening to yourself, Miss Jones recommends giving yourself a day off—and doing everything backwards that day.

"If you get up early every day, sleep late that day," she said. "Have your dinner at breakfast time and just try to do everything out of rhythm with your usual routine."

The odd day breaks the monotony many times and "can work wonders," according to the beauty expert.

TWIN FALLS — The next meeting of the Country Cousins 4-H Club will be Tuesday at the John Burkhardt home. At the last meeting Rhetta Massey gave demonstrations on how to garnish and how to make different hand sewing stitches.

TWIN FALLS — Mr. and Mrs. Roland D. Moore announce the engagement of their daughter, Roxanne, to Jim R. Taylor, son of Dr. and Mrs. James L. Taylor, all Twin Falls.

A Sept. 15 wedding is planned. Miss Moore was graduated from Twin Falls High School in 1971. Taylor was graduated from Twin Falls High School in 1970. Both plan to attend the College of Southern Idaho. They are employed at the Holiday Inn.

ROXANNE MOORE

DEAR ABBY: I recently turned 18, so last night when I was out with my boy friend and another couple, I mentioned that I was going to register so I could vote.

The other couple (both of them are old enough to vote) said they had no intentions of registering because politics are so rotten these days there is no point in voting. And my boy friend agreed with them!

I just bit my tongue and said nothing because I was outnumbered. I read your column every day, Abby, and I've never run into a problem like this.

Maybe if you say something it will change the minds of people like my friends?

CONCERNED AT 18

DEAR CONCERNED: No one said it more brilliantly than Edmund Burke: "The only thing necessary for the triumph of evil is for good men to do nothing."

In a democracy, the place to improve the quality of leadership is in the voting booth. You should have spoken up.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has recently started a catering business and we have a question we would like to have you answer. When we serve weddings, the orchestra expects to be fed just like the guests. We think they are paid to come and do their job, not to eat. Right?

NO NAME, PLEASE

DEAR NO-NAME: The caterer takes his orders about whom to feed from the person who foots the bill. But it seems only fair to feed musicians who work over a period of time which includes a meal. (Or would you have them bring hot dogs in their clarinet cases?)

DEAR ABBY: Two months ago I quit a job I really liked and took another one which paid twice as much money. Outcome: I hated my work and by the time you get this I will have quit.

My problem is that I am 21 years old and will be getting married in two weeks, and everyone including my fiancée will be disappointed in me for not keeping the job that paid so well.

Abby, how can I explain to people that the only true luxury in life is peace of mind, and without it, all the extras which can be purchased with money are useless?

I know we would be much better off financially if I stayed with my old job, but if I have to practically beat myself with a whip to go to work, I don't think I could be much of a husband.

Is it too much to ask that other people understand why I am changing jobs to make less money and be happier?

SAN ANTONIO 'ED

DEAR ED: I understand and respect your values, but then I am not your wife. Your problem is worrying too much about what "other people" will think.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 6700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90029. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

A TEEN'S BEAUTY PROBLEMS

By Mary Sue Miller

Many teen beauty problems—from a split nail to hair with split ends—are really very small. But, added up, how they do whittle away self-confidence. Let's have a look at the most common ones and see what we can do about them.

1. Dull, Stringy Hair. The symptoms indicate excessive oil on the scalp, which overrunning probably hasn't helped. One good remedy—lemon—goes back to nature. Mothers once poured lemon juice over little girls' heads to cut oil and brighten locks. To simplify the process a love of a new shampoo formula contains the juice of one whole lemon.
2. Chronic Shiny Nose. Apply an under make-up oil block before putting on foundation. Deters oil from coming through.
3. Sudden Blemish. Keep a "disaster" cream or stick on tap. Applications both treat and cover an occasional pimple. (Widespread blemishes and excessive oil require long-term corrective treatments.)
4. Weak Nails. Brush on a colorless natural-protein nail conditioner several times weekly. If you use nail enamel, choose one with strengthening ingredients.
5. Deodorant Failure. What's wanted is an anti-perspirant formulated for super-effective control of wetness and odor. For applications to X-out hydration, accompanying instructions must be carefully followed.
6. The Fragrance Gap. That's somewhere between tiny tot and femme fatale. Bluejean girls prefer a cool, fresh scent with ecological overtones. Just one, wondrous whiff.

NBC anchor man cherishes 'reporter' title

NEW YORK (UPI) — John Chancellor is the new anchor of the "NBC Nightly News" but anyone who knows him is aware that even above that prestigious title he cherishes the description of reporter.

America is lucky in its top network commentators. In Europe they call them "news readers" and mostly pick them because they look the part. But any of the NBC, CBS, ABC newsmen could drop the microphone and rush out to cover anything from a barn burning to a major conference such as the Vietnam talks in Paris (where, as it happens, I last saw Chancellor before this interview).

Seated in his shirt sleeves in a small office in the RCA Building he was tearing off strips of UPI teletypewriter copy and asking shrewd questions about some of the foreign correspondents who contribute to it. The man is a solid professional and NBC is counting on this quality coming through the screen—as indeed it does.

Chancellor said he was pleased with the reaction to the first week of the new format of the news program. After the Chet Huntley-David Brinkley partnership broke up NBC went in last year for what Chancellor called "the trials"—various combinations of Brinkley, Chancellor and Frank McGee that many viewers obviously found confusing.

"Then there was another dumb way of doing it—someone in Washington and me in New York which involved us in production details of great complexity," he said. "Now I think we've got it right—the

Bill burial asked

By FRANK ELEAZER WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., has asked for comment on his bill HR 10119, relating to retirement of members of Congress, and for other purposes. He is some.

The bill ought to be buried. Udall is one of the brightest, most likeable men in the House. He has been a member for 10 years, is 49, and about all that can be said for his new pension bill is that there is nothing in it for him.

But for some others it could mean lifetime pensions up to $40,000 or maybe even $48,000 a year, whereas the best other congressmen now could expect after devoting their best years to the job would be $34,000.

Udall's state object is to get rid of some of the old men who are commonly supposed to be the ruin of Congress. Other provisions of his bill would be expected to encourage retirement also, at not later than age 70, of federal judges.

Udall also helped devise a scheme for Congress to get its own pay raised every four years without subjecting members to the embarrassment of having to vote on the question.

GM issues suspected truck call

DETROIT (UPI) — General Motors Corp. is asking the owners of 200,000 Chevrolet and GMC light duty trucks to return them to dealers so front spring assemblies and power brakes can be inspected.

The front spring assemblies on 124,000 four wheel-drive trucks produced during the 1969, 1970 and 1971 model years may contain possible defects.

BUD BREWER WARREN FARREN

"When you're out of Bud Brewer you're out of country music." This phrase is winning many believers these days and the list grows after every personal appearance by "Bud" Brewer and his band the Brewmasters.

Reinforcing the above fact is the response being garnered by Bud's first and current RCA release, "Tell Me Not To," which immediately upon release was chosen as the pick hit at nearly 40 country music stations across the country. The song was written by Merle Kilgore whose songs include the near classic Johnny Cash hit, "Ring of Fire." It is also the first copyright in Kilgore's own Red Coach Publishing Company to be recorded. Merle told Bud that he was unaware that the song had been recorded until he heard Bud's record on the radio while returning from an engagement in Las Vegas. It was, Merle said, one of the biggest and most pleasant surprises of his life.

Warren Farren, like the 'All American Boy' in the song from a few years ago, layed down his guitar for one of Uncle Sam's rifles. But, the minute Warren gave Sam back the uniform and rifle, he was back with his guitar and off to make a mark for himself in the field of music...country music, specifically, and just plain 'what-people-want-to-hear' music in general.

The kind of songs Warren Farren has written and sung have always been the kind that folks want to hear. He has even been instrumental in bridging the gaps between country, pop and rock—often recording a song from one field in the manner of another field. As many clubowners have noted 'Warren is versatile enough to be billed just as 'Warren Farren' because he can do just about any song and please any audience.'

This weekend one of the Art Mart's Paintings which are now on display in the Horse Shu Club will be given away.

Month's outlook

Wheat purchase plan approved

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. James McClure, R-Idaho, said Wednesday the Department of Agriculture notified him of a decision to purchase wheat, donated to foreign countries, under public law 480, from the market rather than from commodity credit corporation stocks.

McClure said purchases will be made as required through the Kansas City ASCS Commodity Office and at branch offices in Portland, Ore.; Evanston, Ill.; and Minneapolis, Minn. The first invitation for offers will be issued this week by the Kansas City office.

McClure said that the wheat purchased under this program will be used to relieve hunger and malnutrition in countries where a shortage of food exists and whose governments request this assistance.

He said, "These purchases also will remove this wheat from free stocks during harvest, providing additional market stability for producers at a time when supplies are largest."

Wheat under this program is donated through U.S. voluntary

Cows, corncobs topics for Iowa farmer Garst

COON RAPIDS, Iowa (UPI)—These days Roswell Garst talks as plainly and spiritedly about the virtues of corn cobs and brood cows as he did when he argued with Nikita Khrushchev about hybrid seed corn 12 years ago.

"When you were a kid you used to use corn cobs for two purposes, starting a fire and then adding," Garst finished the sentence and then added:

"A ton of cobs is a lot more economical but properly supplemented is better cattle feed than the best ton of alfalfa or clover."

Bob Garst is 73 now, but he still bounds here and there, spreading ideas that always have been years ahead of his time. This particular day, as usual, he had on a well-worn pair of pants and suspenders and well-scuffed black shoes.

It was good corn weather, hot and sticky, and the sun burned deeper into Garst's tanned, freckled forehead. "He never wears a hat."

He looked very much the part of an Iowa farmer, which he is. He sounded very much like an agricultural revolutionary, which he also is.

Garst has been attracting attention for a long time before Khrushchev showed up at his place in 1959. Hundreds of thousands of farmers from Eastern Europe, South America, Australia, New Zealand and Iowa itself had been to Carroll County to see the big spread. Garst himself had been to Russia in 1955.

So he took Khrushchev's visit in stride. But everybody else was so excited about it that police and Garst's hired hands had to throw up a protective barricade.

Garst's brother, Jonathan, said later, "Everybody learned what kind of a sandwich Khrushchev ate for lunch (chicken) and about the right-voiced anger of Roswell Garst, the farmer, who could not move because of the crowds."

"Everybody was there, but nobody took any note of how to grow lots and lots of food."

Garst has had almost no contact with Khrushchev since he was deposed as Soviet Premier in 1964. Last year when Khrushchev was hospitalized, Garst sent him a telegram. Mrs. Khrushchev responded with a thank you note.

Some conservative Iowans think that since Khrushchev is agencies, international organizations and on occasion, directly to foreign governments. In addition to this program, wheat is drawn from free stocks and exported under the foreign currency, barter, or long-term credit provisions of public law 480.

Horse count continuing, agent says

TWIN FALLS—The horse count is still going on. If your horses, mules and donkeys are not on the list, there is time to report the number, County Agent Donald F. Youtz, said today.

Questionnaires have been mailed to all people on rural routes. They are to be returned as soon as possible. If you live in town and did not receive a questionnaire, you can phone the county agent at 734-3300, extension 46, or put your name, address and the number of horses on a post card and mail to 634 Addison Ave., W., or to the county agent, courthouse, in other Magic Valley counties.

Idaho is joining all other states in a horse census as a precaution against spread of Venezuelan sleeping sickness that broke out in Texas. Veterinarians said an accurate count is needed in case vaccination is required. Supplies will be determined by the number of horses.

Horses were dropped from the agricultural census many years ago. Since then, numbers have greatly increased because riding horses are popular.

Honored Idaho bull recognized

OUTSTANDING PRODUCER, Mon Reposa Big John, bred and raised by Mon Reposa Ranch, Jerome, has received the coveted Golden Certified Meat Sire Award for a score of 100 per cent on a stringent carcass test in which experts scored ten steer carcasses from beef animals sired by the Jerome bull.

JEROME — A. F. (Bud) Patterson, Jerome, has received word from the Performance Registry International, Joplin, Mo., of an outstanding accomplishment of a bull bred and reared on his Mon Reposa Ranch, Route 2. The registry has selected Mon Reposa Big John for the coveted Golden Certified Meat Sire

Award. His record of production of outstanding beef animals revealed the unusual score of 100 per cent. Ten carcasses of steers sired by the large Angus bull each exceeded all of the PRI requirements for the award, the first such honor given an Idaho breeder. In a letter to Patterson, Glenn

Butts, executive secretary, PRI, said, "Your bull is the first of any breed in the state of Idaho to earn the CMS award. An animal that rates 100 per cent on this most critical test is worthy of industry wide recognition. The award is also highly significant in that Big John's sons were out of Angus cows, removing any suggestion of an assist from heterosis through cross breeding or the assistance of migration of inheritance deficit in the sire line."

and the first from the state to sell for $14,200.

On Aug. 1, a field day was held in Oregon by Angus breeders of the Baker area honoring Big John. More than 400 breeders attended, Patterson said. Patterson has sold the award winning sire to Bob Beck and Bob Thomas of Baker and in his own purebred breeding program in Jerome uses several Angus herd sires including two of Big John's offspring. Big John, now 4 years of age, is the youngest bull in the western United States to receive the honor.

Foresters weigh giant potted fir

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI)—University of Washington foresters have embarked on an experiment that might have made even Paul Bunyan blink. The foresters have "potted" a 92-foot Douglas fir in a "giant tin can" and then set it down on sensitive scales to weigh the tree continuously for a few years. Dr. Leo J. Fritschen, associate professor of forest resources and head of the project, said the tree, can and surrounding soil weighed 83,638 pounds in initial readings. The main goal of the experiment is to find out how much water trees use and whether they gain and lose weight during the day, as humans do.

top of the "tin can" and the tree and all were Jacked about three feet off the ground. Fritschen said "spaghetti-like tubing" was coiled up under the tree. The tubing will be part of a hydraulic balance used to weigh the tree. Then the 33-year-old fir tree and paraphernalia were dropped back into the ground and the trench was backfilled. Several months from now the foresters hope to deck the fir like a Christmas tree with devices hanging from limbs to measure the amount of carbon dioxide the tree uses. The actual tree and roots weigh only about a ton, Fritschen said, with the soil and water accounting for the other 80,000 pounds atop the scales. He said initial data indicated the tree drank about 40 gallons of water a day. If this holds true over long periods of growth, he said, it would mean an average acre of forest land, the trees, each day are using 2,400 gallons of water.

Union accepts Simplot offer

HEYBURN — Members of the American Federation of Grain Millers, Local 296, reportedly agreed to an offer encompassing wages and working conditions from the J.R. Simplot Co. during a closed meeting Thursday afternoon, ending a strike that broke out last Sunday evening.

Militant union officials barred newsmen from the meeting in the Ponderosa Inn Thursday afternoon, then ordered a Times-News reporter to leave the building when it was found that a loudspeaker-amplified voice could be heard outside the meeting room.

The wage offer includes a 25-cent-an-hour increase in each of the next three years for a total raise of 75 cents per hour per employee. Union members have asked that the raise be made retroactive to last May 1, when their contract expired.

The retroactive clause was demanded also to allow payment of the increased wages immediately despite the federal clampdown on salaries, according to a portion of the discussion overheard by a reporter.

P.K. Harwood, Caldwell, director of public affairs for Simplot, said today the offer will be studied carefully in light of the federal controls. He admitted that the firm could be put in a bind if required to pay the increased wages immediately, since it cannot boost retail prices before Nov. 12, under the federal order.

No decision had been made by noon today about payment of the increased wages, Harwood said.

Negotiations to settle the strike were ordered by the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, which has been asked by President Nixon to end strikes which have been plaguing the nation in recent months.

The Simplot firm has begun operations at the Caldwell plant for the 1971-72 season without difficulty, Harwood said.

In Heyburn, John McBride, personnel director for Simplot's Heyburn plant, said today that the plant is currently shut down for the routine seasonal closure. Supervisory personnel had been doing maintenance and repair work during the strike. Union members are now being called back to work as they are needed today, McBride said.

Larry Jackson, Omaha, Neb., international vice president of the union, met with the members in Heyburn on Thursday. He refused to discuss the offer with newsmen.

Today, however, Jackson admitted that the terms of the Simplot offer included a three-week paid vacation after 12 years of employment, expanded life insurance and payment for unworked holidays.

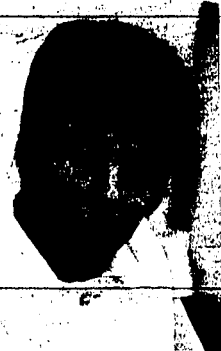

Valley comment

RUPERT — How will President Nixon's wage-price-rent freeze affect Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizen? What are the economic aspects of this major move designed to combat inflation? Most people approve, according to these interviews, taken in the Rupert area by Times-News Writer Lee Tremaine.

NILE F. MARICLE, Rupert bank executive: "Personally, I feel it is a good move. All our raises in salary have been eaten up by inflation over the past few years as President Nixon said. It should have been done some time ago before inflation got out of hand. Our customers generally seem to approve, also. One laborer said as I did that the move should have been taken years ago."

VERA RICHIN, bank clerk: "It should have been done a year sooner. It's a very unpopular move politically but it was certainly necessary. My husband and I both feel that inflation has been spiraling too fast to keep up. Personally, we feel that the 90-day freeze may not be long enough; President Nixon may have to continue it. Prices may escalate too much if he takes the lid off after the freeze without any controls."

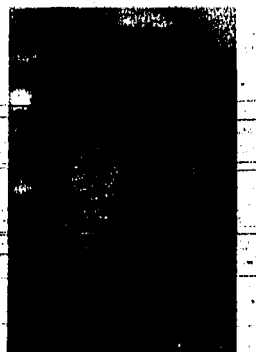

DR. DARRELL J. HATFIELD, Minico school superintendent: "Personally, I too, feel the move is a good idea, though it may not be too popular in many places. If it will help control inflation, it's an especially good move. We'll all be better off for the next three months, but the President may have to extend the freeze."

MAVIN J. PITMAN, Rupert bank executive: "I'm in favor of the move. Our customers haven't said too much yet, but they seem to approve. I'm not sure of the effects of the move; some things need clarifying. I don't know if he'll have to extend it beyond the 90 days; he'll probably have to ease it off gradually."

VERA SIGMON, Rupert loan office clerk: "I doubt if the wage freeze will do it (control inflation as desired). I also wonder if the 12 per cent tax on imports won't make Japan look more toward Russia to buy her exports, since we (the United States) buy 60 per cent of all Japanese exports. If the wage-price freeze was going to do anything it probably should have been done at the first of the year."

GEORGE BODENSTEINER, Rupert, field representative for a loan office: "It's probably a good move (the wage-price freeze), but I doubt if 90 days will do the job. He'll probably have to extend it beyond the 90-day period. We do need something to control inflation."

BHS float tops Cassia parade

By GEORGIA LAYTON
Times-News Writer

BURLEY — A float depicting the VIPont Silver Mine, entered by Burley High School, was chosen sweepstakes winner in the Cassia County Fair Parade Thursday.

The float depicted the VIPont Silver Mine which operated from 1918 to 1921 in southern part of Cassia County. Two miners, an ore cart loaded with silver, and the front of the mine tunnel were displayed by the youth on their entry. According to reports when the mine was in operation some $5 million was taken out of the mine in silver.

The VIPont float also placed first in the organizations division with the Burley Elks placing second, and Burley Lions placing third.

Business division winners were Idaho Bank and Trust Co., first; First Federal Savings and Loan, second; and Overland Shopping Center, third.

Church division winners were the M-men and Cleaners, first; and Pella, second.

Winners in the bands were Shriners Oriental Band, first; Burley Junior High School, second and Burley Senior High, third.

Animal drawn winners were the Idaho Rangers and their black hares, first; KOA

Kampground, oxen pulling covered wagon, second.

The Minico Micadettes took first place in the steppercettes division, Burley Junior High Bobadettes, second; Oakley Hi-Lites, third and Burley High School Steppercettes, fourth.

The 1910 Marlon car with brass headlight and brass trim was first place winner in old cars division. Other winners were a 1928 Dodge, second; a 1931 Pontiac, third; and a 1930 Model A Ford was fourth.

Judges for the parade were Mrs. Garis Robertson, Mrs. Robert Savvik, Mrs. Al Dawson and Mrs. Keith Stoddard.

Prior to the parade starting the Idaho Rangers, playing the part of the Henry Plummer outlaw gang, coldblooded killers and robbers in the early day in Montana and northern Idaho, re-enacted a robbery of the Wells Fargo Stage Office in downtown Burley.

Henry Plummer and his gang held up the stage office (set up in the old Western Union office at the National Hotel), and after the shooting stopped they came down the street with the strong box filled with gold. Any one who got in their way was shot on the spot.

The window decorations put up by merchants were judged Thursday afternoon. Hudson's Shoes received first place with a corn lister, horse collar, and bellows. Other winners were City Finance, second place and Jolley's Gifts, third. Judges for the window display were Terry Hales and Joe Bott.

Don Whittle served as chairman of the displays in the business's windows.

2,500 rodeo fans out first night

BURLEY — Nearly 2,500 area residents attended the first night of the Cassia Fair rodeo, produced by Dol Haslam, Thursday evening at the Cassia County Fairgrounds.

Featured performers were the El-Capa bareback riders from Boise. The group of boys and girls from 7 to 17 years old performs an amazing variety of intricate maneuvers on horseback entirely without bridles or saddles.

Tonight is "kids' night" at the rodeo, which will conclude Saturday evening with the crowning of the new queen.

Other highlights of the fair include livestock demonstration by 4-H and FFA members today, and the fat-stock sale at 9:30 a.m. Saturday. Awards will be presented by the South-Central Idaho Charolais Breeders Association, which will give a $100 award to the breeder of a prize Charolais, and the Idaho Cattleman's Association and Idaho Angus Breeders, who will present belt buckles to 4-H or FFA members for prize animals.

From the degree of damage, Bopp said it is apparent the fire began in the pens at the rear of the main building then spread rapidly through the old wooden structure. He said it could have smoldered in the vicinity of the pens for a time before bursting into flames.

Bopp said by the time the fire department received the alarm and arrived at the scene, fire had spread into the main building. All of the office area including company records, were saved, however.

Employees of the firm said the pens at the rear of the sales building were washed out after each sale and there would not have been straw bedding in the area although some hay may have been there as feed. Eleven beef animals, two hogs and two sheep were killed in the fire and all were in the sheds or pens directly behind the building.

Fire chars 6,500 acres

SHOSHONE — A range fire Thursday afternoon burned another 5,000 acres of federal range land in the east-end-of-Lincoln County as well as 1,500 acres of privately-owned range land in that area.

Pete Arrossa, assistant fire control officer, Bureau of Land Management, said the cause of the fire is unknown, but is assumed to be man-caused.

He said a number of area farmers turned out to help BLM crews fight the blaze. The fire threatened some grain fields for a period of time, but was kept under control. If the wind had shifted or increased, damage could have been extensive to farm crops, he said.

The fire was eight miles east of the big fire in that area last week when more than 50,000 acres of range-land burned. Don Runberg, of the Shoshone BLM office, said "there is getting to be a pretty big black spot out there."

Fighting the fire were 33 men, five tankers, two tractors, a spotter aircraft and aerial retardant drops were used.

The fire was considered contained at 8:30 p.m. and crews were taken off at midnight.

Another 85 acres of range land burned between 5:30 p.m. and 9 p.m. Thursday, starting along the railroad tracks west of Bliss, Arrossa said.

Cause of fire not determined

TWIN FALLS — Damage in sheds at the rear of the Stockgrowers Commission Co., where the Wednesday evening fire which destroyed the livestock auction business on Maxwell Avenue apparently began is so extensive firemen have not been able to determine the cause.

This was reported today by Twin Falls Fire Chief Bobby K. Bopp after he and other department officials completed an extensive examination of the remains of the building and corals.

From the degree of damage, Bopp said it is apparent the fire began in the pens at the rear of the main building then spread rapidly through the old wooden structure. He said it could have smoldered in the vicinity of the pens for a time before bursting into flames.

Daily tickets will be 35 cents and 40 cents at the elementary schools and high school respectively. Extra milk will be four cents daily at all schools, 80 cents monthly and $7.00 for the 180 day school year.

Dr. Utterback said that forms for free or reduced price lunches will be sent home with all students and will be offered to all eligible students.

He said applications will be considered by school authorities and students accepted in the program will be notified. Applications may be denied. All information may be obtained at the district superintendent's office.

Air pollution index 100

The pollution reading was taken by the staff of the South Central Health District at the Twin Falls City Hall. The reading is expressed as the number of micrograms of particulate material per cubic meter of air for the 24-hour period.

ending at 8 a.m. today. Federal pollution regulations say pollution levels should be kept below 75 micrograms over any 24-hour period, and should not be permitted to rise above 260 micrograms for even a short period of time.

Forecast

Today: Excellent

Tonight: Good

Tomorrow: Excellent

This forecast provided by the Idaho Department of Health indicates the ability of the atmosphere to disperse pollution, burning as permitted by law should be curtailed when the air is poorly able to disperse air pollutants.

Potato meet set in '72

TWIN FALLS — The Potato Association of America will meet at Twin Falls, July 25 to 28, 1972, the host committee announced today. About 400 men and women are expected.

Robert Mercer, Shelley program chairman, said representatives of government, research and commercial industry will report on developments in production and marketing. Policies affecting the potato business throughout the world will be discussed.

R.E. Ohms, Twin Falls, University of Idaho extension potato specialist, and Hugh Farmer, Aberdeen, are chairmen of local arrangements.

Gem solon pay issue raised anew

COEUR D'ALENE (UPI) — The legislative pay issue has been raised again.

Two legislators seeking the recall of the Kootenai County legislators were filed Thursday with County Clerk Harold T. Peterson. The petitions ask for an election to recall two democratic state legislators — Rep. Robert Haakenson, Coeur d'Alene, and Rep. Larry Looney, Post Falls.

Submitting the petitions to Peterson's office was Elizabeth J. Mathes, Coeur d'Alene, an unsuccessful candidate in the 1970 election for state representation on the American Party ticket.

The petitions submitted Thursday request a recall, claiming the two legislators "by voting to override the legislative pay initiative, overwholly passed by the people in the last election, have challenged the sovereignty of the people.

"The voters of legislative district two, therefore, have no further confidence in the ability of the legislators and ask for a special election, the petitions said.

The petitions each contained 20 identical signatures, included among those signing the petitions was Eva V. Burnham, of Hayden Lake, who ran unopposed in 1970 for District Two American Party legislative district chairman.

Fifteen of the signatures on the petitions came from Hayden Lake, four were from Coeur d'Alene and one from Rathdrum.

Peterson said he is awaiting legal advice before doing anything with the petitions.

He said there appears to be confusion in the law on the matter plus differences of opinion on the law, so he wants firm legal advice before proceeding further.

Preliminary petitions, once certified, pave the way for the circulation of actual recall petitions.

Looney was unavailable for comment but Haakenson said, "This is a heck of a thing to have happen to me on my 10th anniversary."

Earlier this month two Republican legislators from the Idaho Falls area — Sen. W. Fisher Ellsworth and State Rep. Aden Hyde — were voted out of office over the legislative pay issue.

Also, the initiating petitions for the recall of Crapo were filed by another citizens group in District 29 on the same issue.

GOP leaders get pep talk

IDAHO (UPI) — President Nixon's "pep talk" called for a national million man march to Washington, D.C., on Sept. 11, 1971, is being transferred from the "Spirit of '76" to a new stop and go, Twin Falls, Idaho, and Pallas, Texas.

McClure said his economic program.

McClure said Nixon briefly discussed problems of rural America when he was introduced to Idaho House Speaker William J. Landrum, R-Hollister, and Senate President Pro Tem James Ellsworth, R-Lemore, both of whom are ranchers.

Afterward McClure said the meeting went pretty much as he anticipated. He said in advance he felt the President, who contends his two week Western tour is non-political, wanted to "look at the general political climate."

McClure said he had hoped the Idaho Republicans could make clear to the administration some of the problems of rural America so they "would not get lost in the shuffle."

He was unable to find transportation to get him to Idaho Falls Wednesday for Nixon's initial visit which attracted a crowd of some 10,000 people.

Little said there was "a lot of enthusiasm on the part of the Idaho leaders over the visit."

The only one DOVER, Del. (UPI)— Delaware Gov. Russell W. Peterson is currently the only governor in the United States who holds a doctoral degree. He obtained his Ph.D. in chemistry from the University of Wisconsin.

Hyde and Ellsworth joined 73 other legislators in voting for the increase following a 1970 initiative measure. Idaho voters voted for the important part of his economic program.

McClure said Nixon briefly discussed problems of rural America when he was introduced to Idaho House Speaker William J. Landrum, R-Hollister, and Senate President Pro Tem James Ellsworth, R-Lemore, both of whom are ranchers.

Nixon stopped off a helicopter that brought him in from an overnight visit to Grand Teton National Park at 12:10 p.m. and went immediately to the indoor briefing. While he was talking with the state Republican leaders, his daughter, Julie Eisenhower, went along and speaking to some of the 750 persons estimated by Deputy Sheriff A. C. Fowler to be in the shirt-sleeve crowd.

McClure said he had hoped the Idaho Republicans could make clear to the administration some of the problems of rural America so they "would not get lost in the shuffle."

After the meeting Nixon started to walk back to his helicopter when he saw a white placard with large, red block letters stating "Mr. President, please shake my little hand — Mike, Janie and Dave."

It was held by an unidentified woman in a red dress whose three children stood at her side. Breaking into a broad smile, Nixon, surrounded by Secret Service agents and accompanied by Jordan, Hansen, McClure and I. Gov. Jack Murphy, went over to the fence and shook the hands of a couple of dozen children reaching out to him.

McClure came in by plane for the conference Thursday morning from McCall where he has been vacationing with his family during the congressional recess.

Signup set at seminary

TWIN FALLS — Registration is now in progress for religious education courses at the LDS Institute of Religion at 528 Falls Avenue, according to Gary Beckstead, director.

Students may register through Aug. 27 and also may register at the first class session when the courses begin Aug. 30. Classes to be offered this year include Book of Mormon, Teachings of the Living Prophets and Current Religious Questions. A seminar on missionary preparation is also planned and students interested in music may register for the institute choir directed by Marjorie Beckstead.

The weekly forum which Beckstead said has been successful in past years will be each Friday noon. An evening class also is planned at 7 p.m. each Tuesday.

The Twin Falls Institute is part of a church program involving more than 200 college and university locations in 24 states and Canada, Beckstead said.

"I wonder if that freeze applies to the wages of sin?"

Omega group launched

JEROME — Sunday has been declared "Omega Day" at the First Baptist Church in Jerome, according to Rev. Robert C. Cooper.

The new Omega youth group will meet here for the first time Sunday. The Omega program, first tested several years ago in a California church and later refined by a staff of Christian educators and writers, is a program designed to help modern teens apply the teachings of the New Testament to modern problems. The new group will be directed by J. B. and Nancy Thomason.

"It's a teen society of clean fun, hard work, exciting discovery and ardent growth," Rev. Cooper said. The new program includes picnics, parties, debates, discussions, bull sessions, songfests, dinners, hikes, quiet times and several service projects.

FATHER HARRY SCHLITT, an ordained Catholic priest vacationing from Springfield, Mo., offered western viewers from 8 to 10 a.m. on K-RAM, the modern country music station in Las Vegas. The singing group, which includes a former Twin Falls resident, Wayne Duncan, will also appear at the 9:45 a.m. Sunday school service. Duncan sang with the King's Harvesters while in Twin Falls.

Pastor of the church, the Rev. Joe Chastain, invites the public to attend any of these services. He said the Rev. Rayburn is a former Twin Falls resident, the son of Mrs. Henry Rayburn, Twin Falls. He is now serving a church in Oregon.

JEROME — The youth group of the Church of God will stage a carwash all day Saturday at the Pele's American Service, 301 W. Main in Jerome.

Purpose of project is to raise funds for renovation of the house next to the Church of God. According to Cheryl Viegluth, secretary of the youth organization, Bible studies are held at the house Wednesday evenings at 8 p.m.

The remodeling will make the facility more comfortable. Miss Viegluth said that although the program is for young people, adults are always welcome.

Gary Gregg and Ted Fields are conducting the Bible study program with the assistance of Cheryl Viegluth. Other officers in the youth group include Dale La Seer, president, and Vicci Turner, vice president.

Rupert youths earn honors

RUPERT — Four youths from the Rupert First Pentecostal Church are eligible to participate in national competition at Houston, Tex., according to Rev. Norman Dillon, pastor.

He said the team took state honors in a Bible quiz contest to win the right for national competition. They also won the regional title.

Members include Carmen Kelley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Kelley, Albion; George Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Waller Thompson, Hoyburn; Debbie MacKenzie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith MacKenzie, Rupert; and Mike Tuttle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Tuttle, Tuttle.

The Tuttle youth accumulated 465 points, the highest of any participant in the regional contest, according to Rev. Dillon. This qualifies him for a $150 scholarship. If he is high point winner in the national meet he will receive a $500 scholarship.

Rev. and Mrs. Dillon accompanied the team to the state meet at McCall and the regional competition at Portland where they competed with youths from Washington, Oregon and California.

Celibacy cause of priest exodus

A noted Roman Catholic sociologist and theologian has just released the findings of a two-year study of why priests are leaving the ministry. According to Msgr. Emilio Colagiovanni, more than 20,000 will leave in the next five years. The celibacy requirement is the major objection of most of those leaving, although a significant group, who have already resigned, pointed to their unhappiness over church discipline as well as their lack of faith.

Msgr. Colagiovanni's 300-page report will be presented to the World Synod of Roman Catholic Bishops which meets at the end of September in Rome. In 1969, the Sacred Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith (a Vatican court) commissioned the survey which has charted the sharp rise of clergy leaving the ministry.

Historians note that the avalanche of change within the Roman Church came almost immediately after Vatican II by the end of 1964 and the conclusion of the most dramatic debates in Rome—the authority and discipline of the hierarchy had been weakened by a new force—the Holy Bible. Scripture was given first priority and, with it, the right of personal interpretation and study. Past on the heels of this came the new accepted translations, the ecumenical explosion and a new era of fellowship among all Christians.

The hierarchy lost and good Pope John XXIII prevailed beyond the hopes of the most optimistic reformer.

Should we be surprised that the new priests and the contemporary nuns would not abide by the rickety rules of 80-year-old secluded bishops? Pope John knew this and "opened wide the windows of the church." The idealistic drive and spiritual yearning of these young and not-so-young priests will not be put down. Many will stay within the institutional framework, to give it direction and pace in a terribly soul-hungry world.

Idaho upland bird and waterfowl seasons set

BOISE (UPI) — The closing dates and bag limits for upland game bird and waterfowl hunting seasons were established Thursday by the Idaho Fish and Game Commission with very few changes from last year.

Commission chairman John Eaton, Cascade, said the pheasant season in the northern portion of the state was set at Oct. 9 - Nov. 14; southwest and south-central Idaho dates are Oct. 23 - Dec. 5.

Eastern Idaho seasons are Oct. 23 - Nov. 28, except for Bonneville, Butte, Clark, Custer, Fremont, Jefferson, Lemhi, and Madison counties in which the season ends Nov. 21.

Bag limits change slightly in some areas, but for the most part are the same as last year. Partridge and quail seasons correspond very closely with last year and bag limits are the same. Forest grouse season will be the same statewide - Sept. 18 - Nov. 28.

Washington makes concessions in effort to keep Senators

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Operators of Robert F. Kennedy Stadium announced Thursday several lease concessions to Bob Short, owner of the problem-burdened Washington Senators, in an attempt to keep the American League baseball franchise in the Nation's Capital.

A.J. "Dutch" Bergman, chairman of the District of Columbia Armory Board which controls the stadium, said he offered a set of proposals to Short including use of the stadium rent-free for the first one million customers.

Short, who bought the team in 1968 for $9.4 million, claims losses of $3 million. He indicated a desire to either sell the team or move to another city. Dallas, Toronto and New Orleans have been mentioned as possibilities.

Hill birdies way into classic lead

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Mike Hill stole the limelight from his more colorful brother Thursday by catching fire with six birdies on the back nine for a seven-under-par 65 and a one-stroke lead in the first round of the $150,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic.

Hill, whose only tournament victory in three years as a pro was the 1970 Doral Open, said he has been playing better lately because a recent eliminated some "negative thinking" and now "the ball is going into the cup."

The 31-year-old Hill said he "doesn't attempt" to be as outspoken as Dave, who won this tournament in 1969, and whose various comments and actions over the years have aroused the ire of golfing officials.

Like Hill, Nicklaus also angled the par 5 fifth hole and had six birdies but suffered bogies on the first and the 18th holes.

Two strokes behind the leader at 67 were Bob Murphy, Tom Weiskopf and Bob Fosberg, who had felt dizzy earlier in the day and was doubtful for a time about whether he would play.

At 68 were Mike Hill's brother, Dave, Phil Rodgers, Steve Opperman, Gardner Dickenson, struggling young pro John Wall and Homero Blancas had 69, while those at 70 include Bob and Jack Lewis, and Greer Jones.

Wichita gridders remembers crash

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI) — Bob Renner saw four of his closest friends burn to death Oct. 2. Thursday he returned to the football field as Wichita State began fall practice.

Renner was one of the lucky nine who escaped last fall's air tragedy in the mountains near Silver Plume, Colo. Fourteen of his teammates died. So did 17 others, including Head Coach Ben Wilson and Athletic Director Bert Katzenmeyer.

"I've asked myself 100,000 times why I lived," Renner said. "I don't have the answer. But they died in a way like they knew it was their time. It was like God was smiling down on men and saying, 'No, you don't get to go this time. But the others, they're all in a state where they can go.'"

Renner was the sole survivor who escaped from the front section of the Golden Eagle charter that was en route to Logan, Utah, and a game with Utah State University.

He was thrown from his seat in the 10th or 12th row to just behind the cockpit, where he was pinned by the top portion of the plane.

"When we left Denver," he said, "we all noticed that the mountains were above us. It was really beautiful. You had to look up to see them. I asked Coach Wilson if that was normal and he said, 'It's just routine.'"

Pirates overpower Reds 5-1

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Home runs by Dave Oliver and Richie Hebner, the latter's coming with two aboard in the ninth inning, carried the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 5-1 victory over the Cincinnati Reds Thursday night behind the nine-hit pitching of Bob Johnson.

Oliver's homer, his seventh of the season, accounted for the only run off loser Jim McGlothlin, who was lifted for a pinch hitter after eight innings.

Vic Davalillo's single, a walk to Oliver and a single by Willie Stargell, gave the Pirates a second run in the ninth and preceded Hebner's three-run blast off Red Relief pitcher Wayne Granger.

Orr named best in Canada

TORONTO (UPI) — Bobby Orr, 34-year old superstar defenseman with the Boston Bruins, Thursday received the Lou Marsh Trophy as Canada's outstanding athlete of 1970.

"I am proud to be a Canadian and proud to win this award because there are many fine athletes in this country," Orr told the nearly 400 persons who crowded into the Canadian national exhibition's Queen Elizabeth building for the presentation ceremony.

During the 1969-70 National Hockey League season, Orr became the first defenseman in NHL history to win the scoring race.

Besides the Art Ross Award as the league's top scorer, Orr also captured the Hart Trophy for Most Valuable Player, the Norris Trophy for best defenseman and the Conn Smythe Trophy, awarded to the top performer in the play-offs.

Following the presentation, Orr revealed to newsmen that this season he was seeking a long-term contract with the Boston Bruins.

"I'm looking for a three or five year contract," Orr said. "I'm not going to try to break anybody's back and I'm sure it won't have to go to arbitration for settlement."

"I'm not signed. I will still go to training camp but I won't go on the ice," he added.

The Magic Valley Cowboys, fresh from a split with league-leading Great Falls, return to Jaycee Park Friday night to begin a three-game stand with the runner-up Billings Mustangs.

The Cowboys came up with three runs in the top of the ninth inning Thursday night to nip Great Falls 7-5. It gave the Cowboys a split after winning the opener and dropping a doubleheader Wednesday night.

Great Falls built up a 3-0 lead in the first three innings, two of them on a two-run homer by Tony Pepper.

McNease files suit over Idaho oyster

BOISE (UPI) — A former University of Idaho football coach has filed a suit in U.S. District Court seeking $250,000 damages claiming he was fired in bad faith.

Former Vandal Coach Y.C. McNease, who now lives in El Paso, Tex., was coach at the University of Idaho during 1968-1970 and had a record of seven wins and 13 losses.

He named University President Ernest Hartung, the school's board of regents, Athletic Director Ed Knecht and Roland O. Byers, chairman of the university's athletic board of control, in the suit.

He said he had a four-year contract which paid $16,000 a year with a raise to $17,000 stipulated for 1970.

Browns give Phipps acid test tonight

DALLAS (UPI) — Milo Phipps, the Cleveland Browns' sophisticated quarterback, gets an acid test tonight against a Dallas Cowboys secondary that has pulled off eight stolen passes in two games.

Morton, who is trying to save his starting job from the stiff challenge of former Navy Helmsman Trophy winner Roger Staubach, may go all the way in this game unless Staubach's sore ribs have healed.

The 6-foot-3, 207-pound Purdue graduate already has had a bitter taste of pass pilfering while the Browns were dropping 38-24 and 17-5 preseason games to San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Phipps, who has gone all the way except for three plays in the Browns' two losses, has been promised veteran Bill Nelsen will come in to relieve him for one quarter this time.

He suffered six interceptions in those two games while completing 27 of 61 attempts for 339 yards and a pair of touchdowns. Two of those steals resulted in San Francisco touchdowns to help leave Phipps with a quick 21-0 first quarter deficit.

"I consider myself to be very fortunate to have had the means to support myself and my family after my accident," Campanella told newsmen gathered for the campaign's official kickoff Thursday. "But many other ex-athletes will be as fortunate."

Mills rides seven straight winners to open Burley meet

BURLEY — Jockey Gordon Mills might have set some kind of all-time record Thursday in the opening of Burley's pari-mutuel horse racing when he rode seven straight winners and placed in the money in eight races.

Mills, doubling with owner R.C. Hillman four times, won the first seven events and then placed third in the six-furlong finale. His feat sent racing buffs scurrying to record books to no avail — officials then announced they would consult with national racing headquarters to see if it were a record.

A rather small crowd of 700 braved the heat to see the program but they were vigorous at the windows, wagering a total of $6,608. The session continued with eight races Friday afternoon and will conclude with an 11-event program Saturday. Post time is 1 p.m.

2 soldiers, youth hurt

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—Two masked gunmen invaded a Roman Catholic home today and wounded two off-duty British troopers and a 17-year-old youth, police said.

The soldiers, on leave from West Germany and not part of security forces assigned to the province, were taken with the youth to Royal Victoria Hospital. A spokesman said two of the victims were "comfortable" and doctors were attempting to save the life of the third.

In Londonderry, the death toll since imposition of curfew without trial Aug. 9 rose to 29 Thursday night with the death of a 16-year-old youth from gunshot wounds. Police said he was found fatally wounded in a house.

He was identified as James C. O'Hagan. Police said a search of the area turned up a .38-caliber revolver, a spent cartridge case, some gelignite, a length of fuse wire and some revolver ammunition. A spokesman said circumstances of the shooting were not known.

On the political scene, Prime Minister Edward Heath of Britain Thursday night rebuked Premier Jack Lynch of the Irish Republic for his condemnation of what Lynch said were British attempts to find military solutions to Northern Ireland's problems.

"Your telegram today is unjustified in its content, unacceptable in its attempt to interfere in the affairs of the United Kingdom and can in no way contribute to the solution of the problems in Northern Ireland," Heath wired Lynch.

The shooting of the two British soldiers occurred shortly after midnight in the Westrock area of the Catholic Ballymurphy section, the police spokesman said. He said one of the soldiers was engaged to a girl living there. The teen-ager was her brother.

The men burst into the room, said the girl: "So you've got some British soldiers here," and began shooting, the spokesman said. The girl was not hurt.

The shooting came hours after masked gunmen raided the headquarters of the government's Unionist Party.

Editor urges action

By United Press International
The influential editor of Cairo's semi-official newspaper Al-Ahram today urged the Arab nations to end the Middle East cease-fire with a "calculated explosion."

Mohammed Hassanein Helkal, in his weekly column in Al-Ahram, said the Middle East situation is in a stage of "controlled tension." He said "this is a situation which should not last and we should not allow it to last."

Helkal said "breaking this controlled tension which is freezing the crisis should not be done by a despairing explosion. A calculated explosion should take the place of the controlled tension."

He did not specify, other than to say "we should set a definite objective for our battle which is commensurate with the potential we have. What we can do at present is to inflict on the enemy (Israel) the largest possible amount of losses, exhaust him as much as possible, and force him to realize that no matter what he does, he cannot impose this conditions on us and on the world community."

Helkal's remarks were part of a series of statements by top Arab officials, including Egyptian President Anwar Sadat, that the situation in the Middle East can not continue as it has.

Drive to oust Nixon starts

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The American Federation of Teachers, responding to President Nixon's wage-price freeze, began a drive today to raise a $1 million "political war chest" to oust Nixon in the 1972 elections.

"It will be used to back whatever national candidate, or team of candidates, promises to be the most favorable to education," AFT President David Selden said.

The AFL-CIO affiliate, which represents 250,000 of the country's teachers, approved the fund-raising effort Thursday at its 55th annual convention as a part of a resolution condemning Nixon's new economic plan.

The resolution called the wage-price controls a "devastating blow against education, teachers and workers throughout the country."

Selden said the war chest money would be raised through voluntary contributions. The convention's 1,200 delegates were asked to make the first contributions today at the final session of the five-day meeting.

Labeling the wage-price freeze both an "unconscionable" and "discriminatory" act by the President, the union reaffirmed in its resolution its traditional policy of urging locals to follow a policy of no contract-no work.

Session planned on strike

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Longshoremen's union leaders gathered today for a strategy session which could bring the start of negotiations next week in the 31-day-old West Coast dock strike.

Waterfront sources said the weekend meeting by representatives from 24 strike ports might result in talks aimed at bringing a quick end to the walkout which has filled 150 ships and 15,000 dockworkers.

The strategy meeting here will be the first by the coastwide strike committee of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union (ILWU) since the walkout began July 1.

Sources on the waterfront said the session can be expected to result in "movement" despite ILWU President Harry Bridges' statement Wednesday that President Nixon's wage-price freeze was likely to prolong the strike rather than shorten it.

Americans spot red supply buildup

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—American reconnaissance flights have spotted a major buildup of Communist supplies at the entrances of Ho Chi Minh trail in North Vietnam, Western diplomatic sources said today.

It is believed the Communists have already begun amassing war goods for movement down the supply trail when the monsoon ends in southern Laos in mid-October, the sources said.

"Communist plans for offensives next year may depend on the success they have in moving these supplies and men through southern Laos," a Western diplomat said. "Some may go to South Vietnam, some may go to Cambodia. Based on past experience, we assume they will be targeted on South Vietnam, but this is a supposition."

Other disclosures by Western diplomatic sources included: —The Americans have supplied some napalm to Cambodia to be dropped from F-4B fighter-bombers. It was not known whether the Cambodian pilots have used any of it yet.

—There may be changes in the next two months in U.S. military aid to Cambodia in an effort to make it more effective.

—No Communist supply shortages have been noted in Cambodia as a result of the South Vietnamese expedition into Laos last winter.

—Preparations by the Communists for mass movement of war goods through Laos last fall brought marathon bombing of the Ho Chi Minh trail beginning in early October.

—During the final three months of 1970 and first month of 1971, U.S. B-52 bombers dropped the

Emergency declared in Bolivia

LA PAZ (UPI)—Rightwing rebels who seized the city of Santa Cruz Thursday night said today they also were in control of three Bolivian states. The nation's military regime declared a countryside state of emergency.

The rebel radio 'Grigola' in Santa Cruz said the city was totally under the control of the Falangist revolutionaries today and that they also controlled the states of Beni, Pando and Tarja. Beni and Pando are in the agricultural flatlands in the northwestern part of the South American nation and Tarja is in the mountainous south central sector. The city of Santa Cruz is in Santa Cruz State.

Explosions of unknown origin were heard in the capital of La Paz Thursday night. It was unknown what the military regime intended to do about the uprising.

Falangist revolutionaries seized the city in the hilly jungle and agricultural region 330 miles southeast of La Paz Thursday night and claimed in a radio broadcast that two army divisions, a district naval command and an Air Force unit had joined the rebellion. Army Chief Gen. Luisque Teran said a civilian was killed and a non-commissioned officer was wounded seriously in the Santa Cruz fighting. Unofficial sources said two persons had been killed and two others wounded.

Official government sources said the city had fallen. Initial reports said the revolt stemmed from an attempt to free 30 persons arrested Thursday on charges of conspiracy against the government.

Caution urged in Balkans

LONDON (UPI)—East European diplomats said today the Soviet Union is making it clear to Romania and Yugoslavia not to overdo their drive for independent political action.

Moscow apparently suspects that they may be trying to gang up with pro-Chinese Albania and is alarmed some developments may have anti-Soviet overtones, they said.

Romania received its warning to take it easy when Soviet Ambassador N. Drozdovko met with Romanian President Nicolai Ceausescu in Bucharest this week.

Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito will receive a warning personally from Soviet Party Chief Leonid Brezhnev when they meet in Yugoslavia next month, the sources said.

The sources added that the Soviet Union probably would tell Tito not to push for a Balkan alignment with Romania and Albania or other nations in the area.

The Communist diplomats indicated the Kremlin is increasingly irked by Romania's latest gestures of determination to play an independent and even active role in international politics.
