Judge clears way for rock gathering

HAILEY — The road to Slaughterhouse Gulch lay open today following a court ruling exempting backers of the Wood River Rock Festival from compliance with several provisions of the Blaine County ordinance placing restrictions on gatherings of more than 300 people.

Fifth District Judge Theron Ward ruled late Wednesday that festival backers Jack Teater and Lawrence Boyd need not have applied for a license 30 days or more before the opening of the scheduled rockfest. The event is scheduled to begin Friday afternoon, continuing until Sunday evening just outside the Bellevue city limits. Teater said following the hearing that he was going ahead with the planned event, and would seek to comply with those provisions of the ordinance still in effect after the ruling. Failure to do so could bring fines up to $299 or six months in jail for each day of violation, according to the county ordinance.

Judge Ward's decision came after a five-hour courtroom hearing before a capacity crowd of onlookers at the Blaine County courthouse. The ruling upheld the basic constitutionality of Blaine County Ordinance 71-7, but at the same time reversed a number of its provisions for being "arbitrary and unreasonable."

The basic legal question, the judge said, involved the constitutionally guaranteed right to assembly versus the right of local governments to maintain the welfare of their constituencies.

Among the ordinance provisions voided by Judge Ward were those dealing with fencing requirements, the number of physicians and nurses in attendance, lighting, the availability of telephone lines at the festival site, security arrangements, and a clause providing that the county commissioners must be given 20 days of the 30-day advance period to consider the request for a license.

In his ruling, however, Judge Ward noted specifically that his objection was based on the arbitrariness of the provisions, and not on their nature. In several instances, he declared, compliance was "physically impossible."

The ruling upheld provisions of the ordinance dealing with the posting of an indemnity bond by backers of the gathering, as well as clauses dealing with the requirements for a license fee, water supply, sanitary facilities, parking area, camping space, fire prevention and garbage disposal.

The judge also ruled that the requirements for a 30-day advance application with the commission was constitutional in every case except for the Wood River Rock Festival.

He said the ordinance had been passed too late for compliance by Teater and Boyd, and that sufficient money and planning had gone into the festival so that serious inequities could result. The ordinance was passed on Aug. 9, and became effective on Aug. 12.

Teater testified under oath that he had spent about $11,000 prior to Aug. 12, when the ordinance became effective.

The court ruling technically came on two individual motions, one by the county for a permanent injunction against the festival and the other by Teater and Boyd for a writ of prohibition restraining the county from enforcing the ordinance banning the festival.

The court heard testimony from eight witnesses, including John C. Fox, chairman of the Blaine County commission; Bellevue Mayor Claude Ballard; Boyd; Teater, and Bruce Robinson, who described himself as a veteran of "a number of rock music festivals."

Most of the lengthy testimony dealt with the potential problems of the city and county with the influx of young people, and with the conditions of the festival site. Robinson, however, who listed his address as Ketchum, testified over objections from defense attorneys about sanitation facilities and drug usage at the festival he has attended.

Boyd's testimony on the stand was marred by several sharp exchanges with Stephen W. Oller, assistant Blaine County prosecuting attorney. At one point, the judge admonished the pair to cease interrupting one another.

Teater, the main promoter of the festival, also testified that he had advance ticket sales of "less than 200 tickets" at $15 apiece. He had claimed earlier in news releases that he had sold "around 1,000" tickets to date. He also testified that his family had been threatened as a result of his role in planning the rockfest, and that he has had to remove them to an undisclosed location.

Gov. Cecil Andrus said Wednesday night that the state has been "requested" to provide law-enforcement "support" at the Wood River Rock Festival at Bellevue.

Andrus said in an interview with the Times-News that "We have to get busy... and decide just what kind of support is needed, keeping in mind that the judicial branch has now said it (the rockfest) is legal. We are looking forward to enforcing law and order and traffic control and this type of thing and I guess we will just stand by."

John Hough, executive assistant for Andrus, said today that the governor had "nothing to add" to Wednesday's statement.

Wording snags Berlin treaty

BERLIN (UPI) — A dispute over the German text of the Big Four agreement on Berlin today forced postponement of the signing of the accord by the ambassadors in West Berlin.

The ambassadors did not appear for the 11 p.m. (8 a.m. EDT) ceremony at the former Allied-Control Authority Building in the American sector because last minute meetings of four power working parties still had not agreed on the German text of the accord.

Western Allied diplomatic sources said there was no thought that the East-West dispute would torpedo the first agreement on Berlin since the one ending the 1948-1949 Berlin blockade. They said they were confident differences over the text to be submitted to the East and West Germans for implementation could not block eventual signing.

Alec de Gosson, the French spokesman who acted as four-power spokesman today, told newsmen the ceremony would not take place.

He gave no time or date for another meeting.

Some sources thought it might be held tonight or Friday.

West Berlin Mayor Klaus Schuetz said failure to agree on a German text caused the postponement.

The postponement cast a shadow over the agreement.

a sign of more complications to come.

Big Four working groups met until 3 a.m. today, haggling over the meaning of German words in the 33 pages of documents. They resumed their meetings after a short break for sleep and consultation at 10 a.m.

Newsmen and photographers were invited to the conference room in the former Control Authority Building in Kleist Park but the Western Allied ambassadors to West Germany and the Soviet ambassador to East Germany did not appear.

3 Arab nations federate

By United Press International
Egypt, Syria and Libya loosely united as the Federation of Arab Republics today with the announcement over Arab radios that voters in those nations overwhelmingly approved the union in referendum balloting.

Described by the three nation's leaders as a bulwark against Israel, the union was the first in the Arab world since the three-year federation of Egypt and Syria — the United Arab Republic — collapsed in 1961.

Egyptian Interior Minister Marmouh-Salem said 99.9 per cent of the 7.7 million ballots cast in the referendum voting in Egypt Wednesday favored the loosely structured political, military and economic union of nearly half the 100 million persons in the Arab sphere.

"The people have said 'yes' to the decisive battle (with Israel). They have said 'yes' to the acceptance of great responsibilities. They have said 'yes' to overall Arab unity. They have said 'yes' to a state built on faith and science," he said over Cairo radio, proclaiming the creation of "the Egyptian Arab Republic."

Syrian Interior Minister Ali Zasa said over Damascus radio that 96.4 per cent of the 1.8 million Syrians who cast ballots favored federation and 3.5 per cent disapproved. The remainder were spoiled ballots, he said.

Libya did not announce the ballot total immediately, but political sources said the percentage figure for approval was certain to be in the high nineties.

Gem court strikes church bus funds

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho's Supreme Court Wednesday declared unconstitutional a 1970 law which would allow state funds to be spent for busing children to and from parochial schools.

Justice Joseph J. McFadden wrote the majority opinion. Justices Allan G. Shepard and Clay V. Spear concurred. Chief Justice Henry McQuade, with Justice Charles R. Donaldson concurring, dissented.

Parents of children attending parochial schools in Idaho brought the litigation against the state superintendent of public instruction, the State Board of Education, the executive director of higher education, and the State Board of Education and the State Board of Regents.

Prior to bringing the suit the plaintiffs were informed by the board that it would not reimburse local school districts for costs incurred in busing of parochial school children. The board said it considered such expenditures to be prohibited by the State Constitution.

Then the plaintiffs instituted a class action seeking a declaratory judgment upholding the constitutionality of such a busing program.

Fourth District Judge Marjorie J. Callister held the statute to be valid and the board appealed. The high court, in a 3-2 decision Wednesday, reversed that finding.

In his majority opinion, Justice McFadden said that by encouraging attendance at parochial schools, the busing of parochial school children necessarily was public aid to such schools.

His opinion recognized the legislative purpose of providing safe transportation for all school children. But he then discussed a constitutional provision prohibiting any aid to schools controlled by religious or sectarian organizations.

He concluded that the Idaho Constitution was quite specific in its prohibition that despite legislative concern for the safety of children, the law must fall and the judgment of the District Court must be reversed.

In the majority opinion, Justice McFadden noted that in an earlier decision the U.S. Supreme Court held busing of parochial school children was not prohibited by the first amendment — to the U.S. Constitution.

44 jobless at Rupert factory

By GEORGIA LAYTON
Times-News Writer

RUPERT — Stockholders of the Big O Corporation met today to plan rebuilding and relocating their headquarters and warehouse, which was destroyed in a fire Monday night that caused more than $1 million in damages.

Six of the 50 employees at the Rupert plant have been transferred to Salt Lake City in the interim to continue their employment, but the remainder are presently unemployed.

Although the firm's personnel records were destroyed in the fire, officials said a duplicate set of records is on file in Twin Falls, thanks to their computerized bookkeeping system.

The Big O Corporation has set up temporary offices at the former Eastern Packing Co. offices in Heyburn, company officials said today.

Magic Valley Foods, who also lost a warehouse to Monday's fire, has not made a decision to rebuild, according to Roger Jones, plant manager. He estimated his company's loss at about $400,000. Equipment has arrived to clean up the debris of rubble and scorched potato flakes, stored in the structure.

Ironically, Jones said, a sudden rainstorm during Monday's fire failed to quench the flames but hampered employees trying to remove the stored product.

Viet vote said test of support

SAIGON (UPI) — President Nguyen Van Thieu said tonight he would consider his one-man presidential election as a vote of confidence and that if he has lost the people's confidence he will resign and never run again.

He said he would run alone in the election because he must comply with the constitution, because of his patriotism and his opposition to Communism. He said once peace has been restored to Vietnam he will resign the job which he said he does not covet.

"If the electoral results clearly show to me you no longer have any confidence in me I will withdraw of my own free will and will not accept the four-year term," Thieu said in a nationwide television speech. "In that case, I will never run again, ever."

"I will use all of my power to bring about peace," Thieu said. "When peace is restored, if you the people give me permission, I will resign." Thieu has long advocated a military solution to end the war rather than political negotiations.

Thieu, wearing a dark suit and tie, never smiled during the 27-minute broadcast.

Mental health director resigns

BOISE (UPI)—Dr. Myrick W. Pullen Jr. resigned as state mental health director Wednesday to join the staff of the Eastern Idaho Mental Health Center in Idaho Falls at a "substantial" increase in pay. Dr. Pullen told a news conference his decision to quit the post he has held since 1967 resulted primarily from a desire to return to clinical psychiatry. He indicated a distaste for desk work in a state office building. At Idaho Falls, he will be director of inpatient service and medical director for the alcoholic. Resignation of the Johns Hopkins graduate ends 15 years of service with the Health Department. He was superintendent of State Hospital North at Orofino from 1956 until, with admitted reluctance, he became mental health director and moved to Boise in 1967. Dr. Pullen asked that his resignation become effective Oct. 1. He told newsmen he will assume his new duties in Idaho Falls on that date. "This decision is not one which was made hastily nor did any single event precipitate it," Dr. Pullen said in his letter of resignation to Dr. Terrell O. Carver, state Health administrator.

Elderly widow makes mysterious flights

AMSTERDAM (UPI)—A 74-year-old widow from Cleveland who flew across the Atlantic with her 14-year-old grandson as many as 160 times during the past four months died Wednesday without saying why she had done it. The boy, Mitchell Howard Gelfand, and his father, Leonard Gelfand, 44, also of Cleveland, refused to say anything about the long, costly and puzzling transatlantic trips taken by the boy and Mrs. Sarah Krasnoff. "It's none of your business," Mitchell said the reporters. Officials of the Royal Dutch Airlines (KLM) said Mrs. Krasnoff and the boy had made crossings that cost $160,000. They always traveled first class and Mitchell became so well-known to KLM crews that he was often allowed in the cockpit, officials said. Leonard Gelfand, who flew to Amsterdam Wednesday, said Mrs. Krasnoff died in her sleep in a hotel room where she had been confined since Sunday, suffering from complete exhaustion. Newspapers in Cleveland, where the family lived, quoted George Sadd, assistant county prosecutor, as saying child stealing charges would have been brought against Mrs. Krasnoff if she had returned to Cleveland. Schiphol Airport officials said it was difficult to determine exactly how many crossings the boy and his grandmother had made as they normally stayed in the transit lounge until the next flight back to New York. Stamps in their passports showed they had left the airport lounge only 16 times. Passports are not stamped if travelers remain in the lounge. Airport officials said they became suspicious early in August of the pair's mysterious comings and goings and began shadowing them. They once were searched for contraband. Officials said Mrs. Krasnoff and her grandson always politely brushed-off queries about their travels. "The boy's mad about flying," Mrs. Krasnoff once told questioners. "We forgot to turn off the tap in the flat. Nobody can get it but us. So we must go back and turn it off to avoid flooding the building," the youngster once told a KLM official. Gelfand said Wednesday his son had lived with his grandmother at her Cleveland University Heights suburban home since the boy's mother died several years ago. The father has since remarried, Gelfand said. Gelfand said he last saw his son on July 4.

Dollar trading mixed

By United Press International
The U.S. dollar made a mixed showing on world money markets today. It held steady in West Germany and Hong Kong but fell slightly in Switzerland, Britain, France and Japan where a governmental agency blamed U.S. economic policies for halting Japan's recovery from a mild recession. While traders appeared to be adopting a wait-and-see policy following outcome of several world economic meetings this month, Britain cut its bank rate (the controlling interest rate) by 1 per cent to 5 per cent to discourage currency speculation.

In Tokyo, where the yen has risen 5.97 per cent in relation to the dollar, Japan's economic planning agency said the Japanese economy showed signs last month of reviving from a slight recession but President Nixon's new economic policies had wiped out whatever gains were made. "As far as the indicators were concerned, the Japanese economy was on the brink of taking an upward turn when President Nixon announced his dollar-saving policy," the agency said. The yen closed at 338.50 to the dollar, up slightly from Wednesday's closing price of 338.60, the fourth consecutive day of upward revaluation. This reflected a 5.97 per cent devaluation of the dollar from the old rate of 360 to 1. Britain further reinforced its defenses against speculative money flows by cutting the bank rate to 5 per cent, the first time it has been at such a low level for more than seven years.

JEROME — Mrs. Joyce Ann Foust, 27, Jerome, is listed in fair condition at St. Benedict's Hospital this morning following a car truck accident Wednesday evening. Mrs. Foust was headed east on Highway 25 when she entered the construction area of Interstate 80 between Jerome and Wendell. According to Deputy Sheriff Jim Burke, Mrs. Foust apparently did not see the line of halted cars that were stopped for the construction work and drove under a truck and trailer belonging to Consolidated Freightways and driven by Orville Close, Salt Lake City, Utah. Gooding County Sheriff's officers are continuing the investigation.

Teachers attack wage-price freeze

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's largest teachers organization has attacked as a "great disservice" a Treasury Department undersecretary's assertion that the wage-price freeze will bar pay increases for most teachers this fall. Undersecretary Charles E. Walker Wednesday branded as "not correct" press interpretations that perhaps 80 per cent of the nation's 2.1 million public school teachers would qualify for raises despite the freeze ordered by President Nixon. "I believe when all the facts are in, most teacher pay increases will not be permitted," Walker told a briefing for Congressmen and their employees. But Donald E. Morrison, president of the 1.1 million member National Education Association (NEA), said his organization continued to assert that most teachers probably would qualify under government guidelines. "We worked very hard with the Cost of Living Council to correct the confusion regarding teacher pay status, and when politicians start espousing their individual views on what rulings mean—which contract what the official governing body says—it certainly doesn't help," Morrison said. As confusion developed over how the freeze would be applied to new teacher contracts, President Nixon postponed for six months a $1.3 billion pay raise for servicemen and other federal employees that had been scheduled to take effect Jan. 1. Nixon hinted he might also delay another raise scheduled for the following October. The action will affect virtually all 4,850,000 federal government employees.

Delegate chosen

COEUR D'ALENE (UPI) — Robert Thomas, Coeur d'Alene, president of the Idaho Wildlife Federation, has been selected as a delegate to the Conference on Energy and the Environment at Denver, Colo., Sept. 27-28. The conference is co-sponsored by the National Wildlife Federation and the Electric Power Council on the Environment. Purpose of the conference will be to initiate dialogue among responsible professionals and leaders of the environmental community and representatives of the electric utility industry with the hope that their mutual concern for energy requirement and environmental quality will lead to solutions of land use and other environmental problems, officials said. They said while the conference will be national in scope, emphasis will be on regional discussions.

Aid listed

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union today listed the aid it has given North Vietnam and called it "one of the most important factors ... in forcing the United States to stop the war." Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, took the unusual step of listing the categories of Soviet war aid and numbers of personnel involved in an article saluting the 26th anniversary of North Vietnam's independence. Customarily, Soviet dispatches concerning military aid to any country avoid any detail at all on the materiel involved. "During the war years, the Soviet Union was sending to the Democratic Republic of (North) Vietnam the arms, ammunition and other military equipment that became the foundation of the republic's anti-aircraft defense," Pravda said.

Phantom jets to Germany

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird, citing a hope that the United States can be out of conflict within 18 months, has announced the sale of 175 Phantom jets to West Germany for increased security. Laird said at a news conference Wednesday that the sale of the fighter-bombers to the Bonn government would "add quite significantly" to West Germany's ability to defend itself. The estimated $750 million sale was believed to be one of the biggest foreign orders for Phantoms ever placed and was made possible, without doubt, by President Nixon's devaluation of the dollar by letting it float. Laird said the devalued dollar would encourage sales of Phantoms and other weapons to many countries, but would still boost U.S. defense outlays in Japan and the NATO countries by about $200 million over the next 10 months. He declined to answer questions about the sale of Phantoms to Israel. Laird said his goal when he leaves office is, "We will be at peace and no American is being shot at; any place in the world, or shooting, any place in the world ... the secretary of defense should be judged on that."

Busing parochial pupils ruled unconstitutional

But the majority concluded that the Idaho constitutional policy still was controlling.

In their dissent, justices McQuade and Donaldson said the statute was applicable to all school children, both sectarian and non-sectarian. They said the statute was not intended as direct aid to any school, but rather for the benefit of children. Justice McQuade pointed out that the majority opinion completely ignored the unequivocal declaration of purpose by the legislature that the law was a declaration of public policy for safety, protection and health of all school children.

His dissent further reserved for the legislature.

Justice McQuade said the majority opinion violates the equal protection clause of the 14th amendment as well as the free exercise clause of the first amendment to the federal Constitution.

To deny parochial school children the benefit of transportation because they choose to attend a parochial school denies all non-public school children equal protection of the laws, Justice McQuade said.

The dissent said there is nothing ideological, sectarian or religious about a bus.

Transportation should be provided to the student not because he attends a certain school, but because he is a child within a certain classification property created by the legislature, the dissent said.

New distribution facilities slated

Beverage firm to build new facilities in area

TWIN FALLS — Western Beverage Corp. will build branch distribution facilities at Halley and Rupert and plans an addition to its existing plant in Twin Falls, Tommy Walker, vice president of the firm, said today.

At Halley, a public roadside park and rest area will be built adjoining the branch serving the Wood River Valley, Walker said.

Also announced was appointment of the branch managers. Robert L. Wiesen will manage the Halley outlet and Harold D. Mink will manage the Mini-Cassia branch.

Construction of the warehouse and office facility at Halley is to be completed by Jan. 1, 1972. The addition of 3,000 square feet to the Twin Falls plant is to be completed by February, 1972. The Rupert facility is to be finished during the spring of 1972.

Walker said completion of the plants will increase total plant space to over 26,000 square feet.

Location of the two branches will enable the firm to reduce trucking costs and to provide better service to retail customers, Walker said.

The contract for the three projects has been awarded to Briggs-Bonnett Builders, Twin Falls. All three structures will be constructed of steel, utilizing sculptured siding.

Boise firm buys title business

TWIN FALLS — The Title Insurance Co. of Boise has acquired the title insurance business of the Twin Falls Title and Trust, completing a two-stage shift of the Twin Falls business to new owners, according to Michael P. Gray, president of Title and Trust.

George V. Russell, president of The Title Insurance Co., said that "Twin Falls has an excellent reputation for its property values and growth. It is surely one of the bright spots in the nation, as well as in the state of Idaho. We are delighted to become a factor in the future of Twin Falls."

Gray said Wednesday that the new corporation will be known as Twin Falls Title, and will be managed by Ralph L. Smith, a Twin Falls native who has been affiliated with Twin Falls Title and Trust for 18 years.

Twin Falls Title will operate at the same location, 219 Shoshone St. N., with the same secretarial staff, according to Smith. The title insurance transfer completes the transactions which included acquisition of the trust assets of Twin Falls Title and Trust by Twin Falls Bank and Trust last week. Gray has been named vice president of the Bank and Trust in charge of trust development.

Doctor joins TF practice

TWIN FALLS — Dr. Wendell Petty has joined Dr. Morton Cutler and Dr. Francis H. Fox in practice of ophthalmic surgery in Twin Falls.

The newcomer eye specialist is a native of Salina, Utah, and was graduated from the University of Utah medical school. He practiced for 15 years in Shelley. He completed an ophthalmology course at Stanford University and just completed training at Highland General Hospital, Oakland.

Dr. Petty and his wife, Margaret, have four children. One son is a senior at the University of Oregon medical school and one is in post graduate work at Brigham Young University. One daughter is a junior at BYU and the other a sophomore at Twin Falls High School.

Transfer of case studied

DRIGGS, Idaho (UPI) — Any decision on the transfer of an Idaho triple murder suspect to California to help in the search for a fourth possible victim will come from the Los Angeles County Sheriff's office, a Los Angeles detective said Wednesday.

Sgt. Harold Meyers of the Los Angeles County Sheriff's homicide division said he was "not able to say at this time" whether Joyce Diane Turner, 22, charged with first degree murder here, will be flown to Los Angeles to assist in the search for Joseph William Warmuth, 19, Sylmar, Calif.

Miss Turner, also known as Joyce Diane Frye, and Michael Wren Rennpage, 28, Sacramento, Calif., are charged in Saturday's triple slayings of three Mexican-American farmworkers brothers.

Explosions rock downtown Belfast

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — A series of explosions rocked downtown Belfast today as office workers went to lunch. The streets filled with screaming women and racing ambulances and fire engines. Police said preliminary reports indicated at least 27 persons, some of them children, were injured — six of them seriously.

Premier Brian Faulkner's ruling Unionist party.

Five minutes later, two simultaneous blasts ripped an underground car park in Franklin Street, causing a fire, and another car park in Adelaide Street behind Bedford House, home of the Northern Ireland Arts Council Gallery and the Communist Relations Commission.

Restrictions Must Be Retained

WASHINGTON — President Nixon has duly noted the anguish howls over his 90-day freeze of prices and wages — notably those issuing from Big Labor's executive suite — and is pushing ahead to extend controls into the indefinite future.

Some administration people close to the situation estimate that by Nov. 12 the present 300-man staff of the Office of Emergency Preparedness will have been increased to 3,500 bodies. Meanwhile, Big Business apparently is due for a jolt.

This will come in an investigation aimed at cracking down on the prime cause of inflation during the 60s — the power of huge corporations and big labor unions to get wages and prices by collusion.

On a recent NBC show, Connolly admitted, "Yes, I think as some point in the not too distant future we're going to have to take a look at the capacity of Big Business and Big Labor to abuse power in this country." Connolly could have said that look already was being taken, as a result of the administration's belated acknowledgment that collusion has virtually destroyed what the President calls the "competitive spirit."

For example, a suit by four Catholic University law professors charging that Congress unconstitutionally abdicated its legislative function in authorizing the freeze smacks of wishful thinking. It would, in effect, thwart a President's attempt to do the will of Congress.

Rescue Sub

The crisis at Lockheed which necessitated a government guarantee of $250 million in loans to avert bankruptcy is not over because the entire aerospace industry is in a bind that is not likely to end soon.

However, Lockheed's expertise includes naval ship and submarine capability, vital to the nation's defense, and this could prove to be the key to a comeback.

Lockheed recently delivered its first DSRV, deep submergence rescue vehicle, and had it officially accepted by the Navy. The 50-foot long submarine, shaped like a torpedo, is the core of a rescue system designed to save lives of crewmen stranded aboard disabled submarines on the ocean floor, a system sought for more than 40 years.

The DSRV-1, launched last January, has proved its ability to speed swiftly to a stricken vessel, precisely maneuver to seal itself quickly to the escape hatch and remove as many as 24 men at one time.

A second rescue sub, the DSRV-2, currently is undergoing sea trials off San Diego.

The Navy plans to perform simulated rescue missions at various depths with the nuclear submarine, Hawkbill, this fall.

Since 26 men died aboard the disabled submarine Squalus off Portsmouth in 1939, and the loss of 129 lives aboard the U.S. Navy atomic submarine Thrasher in the North Atlantic in 1963, the Navy has been seeking better methods of rescuing submariners at greater depths. The DSRV appears to be the best means yet devised.

The emphasis upon submarines both by us and by the Russians, adding about one a month to its large fleet, indicates the importance of the undersea craft and the rescue vessel.

It is worth noting that its purpose is to save lives, not to destroy them, and it may find peacetime uses in the continuing exploration of the seabeds.

Meantime, it is heartening to have President Nixon's assurance that he will not permit austere budgets to cripple our defenses. In the words of the late L. Mendel Rivers, who served as chairman of the House Armed Services Committee: "We must meet the needs or let the Soviets take over the seas."

Lockheed will help America to meet the needs.

The Heat's On!

The present inflation is mostly a unique thing, planned and put into execution by the business-labor combine. It has not been caused by a lack of goods and services — the supply of everything is more than adequate; business is up to here in automobiles and television sets, and there is more food available than people can afford to buy.

Monopoly in both business and labor grew almost unchecked during the 60s. Mergers by corporate giants have come on in a flood; a handful of the nation's 200 largest companies acquired 74 firms with assets of at least $10-million in the past decade. This has enabled business and labor to reach agreement on prices, with labor getting its reward in shopping wage increases.

To break this monopoly, the Nixon administration plans the imposition of selective controls over the long haul. That is to say, restrictions will be slapped on corporations and labor unions whose practices are considered a danger to the economy. The idea is first to control and then to break up the business-labor monopoly.

The Economic Stabilization Act under which Nixon acted was passed not once, but twice — over the President's strenuous objections. It became part of the law of the land in August 1970, and was extended last May.

There is nothing new in such legislation. Article 1 of the Constitution reserves all legislative powers to Congress, but Congress almost daily delegates powers to the President. Indeed, the Gulf of Tonkin resolution, which President Johnson used as a basis for escalating the Vietnam War, was such a delegation of power.

The professors claim the Economic Stabilization Act is unique because of the "amount of power" it transferred to the President. Go 'way back and sit down, Fellows. You argue that Congress may delegate power to the Chief Executive only with the understanding that power is insignificant, while overlooking the authority of Congress to rescind its action an hour later.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Young Battle

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What course of action can a mother take for a 2-year-old who won't eat properly?

The only things my son will eat are bacon, oatmeal, mashed potatoes, and toast. (He also likes baked or boiled potato.) He won't eat eggs, vegetables, other cereals, or any other kind of meat.

Oh, he also likes things that normal children like: candy, potato chips, French fries, ice cream, cake and cookies.

The thing that gets me is that I can't even get him to taste food he isn't used to eating. Should I put him back on baby food again? How long will it be before he eats properly? (He gets vitamins.)

Don't take any vigorous "course of action." Be subtle.

The warfare between mothers and offspring about eating is endless — and as you've found out, when it gets down to cases, the youngster has the upper hand!

So don't force things. Don't make an issue of it. He may rebel even more. You'll do better by outsmarting him.

First of all, remember that childish appetites vary a lot. When a youngster is in a growing spurt, he'll eat. When he's not, there's not much way you can tempt his appetite.

Your son is getting protein in the bacon, oatmeal and ice cream. You didn't mention milk, but I presume that he drinks it. Most kids like it. You can bolster the protein content by making an eggnog or adding powdered dry milk. Flavors may strike his fancy — vanilla, chocolate, etc.

His nutritional state can be pretty well gauged by his height, weight and activity. I'm glad you give him vitamins. That's important in a case like this — until he gets to eating his vegetables and generally rounding out his diet.

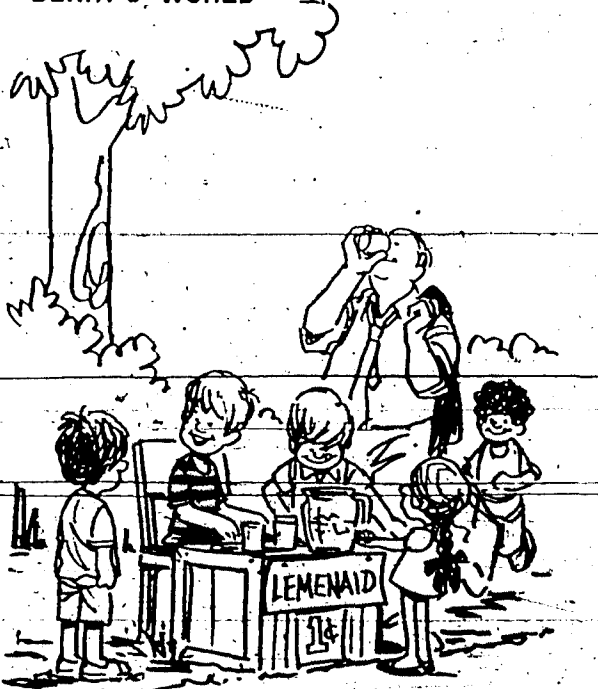

Keep the goodies out of sight — the candy, chips, cake and cookies. If he manages to fill up on too much of that, you can't expect his appetite to lead him into trying other foods.

Make a fuss — occasionally — over some food or other, and ask him if he wants a taste. Don't overdo it or he'll see through your strategy. Don't reward him for being a "good boy" if he eats.

A trick that often works (although I do not guarantee it) is to offer a chop or chicken bone with a little meat on it. It's something to hold in his hands — and he may discover a taste modern technology in its industrial plants.

Today, the tables are turned. Thanks to American technical aid, heavy industrial investment and updated European research methods are moving ahead in applied technology at a rate faster than is the United States.

BERRY'S WORLD

"I don't know if it's the hot weather or the President's new economic policy, but business HAS picked up!"

Grade Brakes

Some educators propose dropping the grade method of promoting a child from one level of schooling to another. Gear a student's progress to his individual ability, say these educators, and he will perform better, be more certain of graduating from high school and be better educated when he does.

In general, the plan would leave to the child's own ability whether he would graduate in the traditional 12 years, in 10 or in 14.

Further, by introducing each new education challenge when the pupil was ready for it, the youngster who was superior in mathematics might complete in one year what takes other three, but have to spend two years on first grade spelling.

In effect, the program prescribed by these advocates is much like that used by the teacher of the one-room school house in an earlier day. With all age groups represented in the confines of four walls, the tendency was to permit each child to blaze his own academic trail at the speed his maturity, intelligence and initiative dictated.

What makes the idea seem so radical in today's school system is not the academic considerations, but the social implications. Can one imagine the problems created by mingling children of ages several years apart in the same classroom? The adolescent age in highly populated schools is problem enough when confined to groups of similar ages, but the experiment of mixing mature and immature at random is enough to scare both parents and teachers.

Or is maturity measured, not by birthdays, but by intellectual achievement? Would the removal of the present lock-step in graded education entice more young people into an excellence they cannot now achieve? If the answers to these questions are yes, is it the present universal system which is the horrible example, instead of the proposed one?

MR. SPECTATOR

An Ill Wind?

The old saying went something like this: "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good."

And how true it is... You all know, of course, that the longshoremen are on strike and the ship traffic off the west coast has dropped to zero.

But the woes of the shippers, the ship owners and the like are music to the ears of the airlines which fly the Pacific. For instance, we just received a news release from Japan Air Lines and it is interesting to say the least.

Many American and Japanese companies have "taken to the air" as a result of the ships at anchor. Latest complete information from Japan Air Lines reveals the previous westbound cargo record for one month was surpassed by more than a million pounds in July. In July, the line carried 2,784,621 pounds of freight from the United States to Japan. Eastbound the line carried about four million pounds of freight, up 34 per cent over July, 1970.

Prior to the strike, airline officials said air cargo traffic had been lagging. Now, with the strike on, the airlines have never had it so good. The cargo? Well, for instance, fresh fruit shipments from California to Japan (including grapefruit, lemons and avocados) totaled more than one million pounds in July.

Like we said — it's an ill-wind!

We understand Mrs. Hinton over at Hazelton is just a little disturbed — and well she should be. Her grandchild, Tracy Read, about 5, received a new pair of cowboy boots for his birthday. The other day he was with members of the family swimming at Dierke's Lake. He forgot the boots while getting into the car. An hour later when he returned they were gone. It would be nice if whoever "found" them would return them!

Now that school has started again — notice how quiet it is around the neighborhood if you happen to be home daytimes?

RAY CROMLEY

Industry's Loss

WASHINGTON (NEA) — President Nixon's economic plan as now outlined won't cure this country's principal and chronic economic weakness.

The new economic program is a stopgap because inflation and unemployment are results, not the causes of our difficulties.

The basic problem is not that the dollar is priced too high. (Which it is.)

Or that foreign countries discriminate against our trade. (Which they do.)

Or that our allies have not borne their share of the aid load. (Which they have not.)

The real problem is: American industry has been modernizing too slowly; well behind the rate in Japan, West Germany and much of Western Europe.

Take these figures on investment in new industrial plant and equipment:

In the United States, the 1969 figure was 10.7 per cent of Gross National Product.

In West Germany it was 19.1 per cent of GNP. In Japan, 29.6 per cent.

This has been the pattern for years.

And take civilian research and development, leaving out military and space but including purchases of foreign technology, translated into equivalent domestic research costs.

In the United States in 1968 this added up to 1.6 per cent of the GNP. In West Germany, 3.6 per cent. In Japan, 3 per cent.

Is there any question why the dollar is in trouble? Or why inflation has grown rapidly?

The favorable balance of trade in the past three decades has depended on American production being far more efficient than competing industry in foreign lands.

This efficiency more than made up for higher labor costs. Now, U. S. industry is losing this competitive advantage.

There has been much talk Russia will outstrip the United States. But this is not the problem. In the industrial application of those new developments which count (computers, petrochemicals and the like) the Russians are lagging increasingly further behind, despite loaded gross output figures and some brilliant military and space applications.

The problem is rather with our friends and allies.

At one time, Western Europe, though well ahead of this country in wide areas of basic research, was far behind in the application of that research to he likes. And don't be too impatient. This rebellious phase of not trying new foods may last several months until he enters a new growth spurt — and you start wondering if you can ever get him filled up!

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Does venereal disease always make a woman sterile? Does it require a long test to find out if she is? — Mrs. J. L. H.

No, not always — but it's always a possibility unless the disease is promptly and effectively treated. It may or may not be a rapid procedure to tell whether sterility has occurred — several tests may be required.

ART BUCHWALD

Explanation

WASHINGTON — Here are some questions which you have probably been asking concerning the Nixon Administration's wage-price freeze:

Q — Why is there a wage-price freeze in the United States?

A — Because President Nixon's economic game plan didn't work.

Q — What was his economic game plan?

A — To lick inflation by having a reasonable amount of unemployment.

Q — What happened?

A — He was only successful in 50 per cent of his goals. He didn't lick inflation, but he did manage to have a lot of unemployment.

Q — Who is affected by this wage-and-price freeze?

A — Everyone but banks and insurance companies.

Q — Why are they not affected?

A — Because they are hard-ship cases.

Q — What about schoolteachers, policemen, firemen and government employees?

A — They are not exempted because they can weather a wage-price freeze much easier than banks and insurance companies.

Q — Did President Nixon devalue the dollar?

A — Absolutely not. He asked Germany, France and Japan to devalue it for him. The dollar is floating.

Q — Where is it floating?

A — Probably at sea. Two things can happen now. The dollar can be rescued or it can sink.

Q — Who will decide what happens to the dollar?

A — The gnomes in Switzerland.

Q — Who are the gnomes in Switzerland?

A — They're tiny little men, three feet tall, who buy and sell dollars all over the world.

A — Can President Nixon do anything about the gnomes in Switzerland?

A — He can. Just before the elections, he will announce that if he is re-elected he will go to Zurich.

Q — Could President Nixon have done anything to avoid a wage-price freeze?

A — Yes. He could have sold Alaska. As a matter of fact there is a rumor he might still do it. That's why he asked Emperor Hirohito to meet him there, so Japan could make him an offer.

Q — How will the wage-price freeze affect poor people?

A — They have nothing to fear from it. It's been set up in such a way that their poverty will be protected.

Q — Why did the stock market go up so high when the President clamped the freeze on?

A — Many top-flight Wall Street investors and brokers were called back from their vacations. They figured as long as they were there and didn't have to go home to dinner, they might as well buy stocks. As soon as their wives come home they'll probably sell.

Q — If my boss promised me a raise and he can't give it to me because of the wage freeze, what does that make him?

A — The happiest man in the world.

Q — How could this have happened to the dollar when it says right on it "In God We Trust"?

A — God didn't do this to us. It was the Germans, the French and the Japanese.

Q — But why should God allow this to happen if he knows we put all our trust in him?

A — The President has asked Billy Graham to head up a blue-ribbon panel to find an answer to this question.

Q — When will we know?

A — Next Sunday.

Wine election planned in Twin Falls, Gooding

TWIN FALLS — Voters of Twin Falls and Gooding counties will be balloting on the question of the sale of table wines in grocery stores Oct. 26. Commissioners of both counties have adopted resolutions placing the question on the ballot in conjunction with the regional airport authority election set in the eight Magic Valley counties by Director of Aeronautics, Darrell Manning. In Twin Falls County, voting machines will be programmed for the two questions. In Gooding County, voter will receive separate ballots on the two issues as they go to the polls, County Clerk Vivian Burden said. She said no petitions for the election have been filed in her county but a delegation from grocery stores and wine distributing firms met with the commissioners and requested the sale of wine be authorized for stores in the county. Commissioners of both counties have named their county clerks as election officers on the two matters. Gooding County Commissioners agreed to place the question before the voters at the earliest opportunity, she said. By holding the two elections at one time, the counties will cut election costs, and let voters decide the wine issue. A new Idaho law gives county commissioners authority to adopt a resolution permitting wine sales in grocery stores and gives the public an opportunity to petition for an election on the question to attempt either to bring about wine sales or to reverse the action of the commissioners. Other counties in the area, with the exception of Blaine, report little or no interest has been shown in the wine question and they plan no action unless petitioned by the residents. Chairman John Van Orman, Jerome County Commission, said his board has not received petitions and as yet no grocery store requests have been received for authorizing wine sales. As a result, he said, the commissioners will wait until some indication is given by the public. He said if the issue passes in adjoining counties of Gooding and Twin Falls, store owners in Jerome would probably want similar authority. In that case commissioners will exercise their authority to adopt a resolution allowing wine sales, he said. Blaine County is already offering wine for sale in grocery stores, with commissioners there having voted to authorize sales at the time the new law became effective. Camas, Cassia and Minidoka counties are all holding to a "wait and see" policy. All report no interest shown as yet by residents of their counties. Until some indication is given, the three boards of county commissioners have indicated they plan no action. In the wine and airport elections, 18, 19 and 20 year old voters will have their first opportunity to go to the polls and special steps are being taken to register some of the new voters prior to registration deadline. The young voters will be able to help decide on wine sales even though they are too young to purchase it under Idaho law. In Twin Falls County, special deputy clerks will be calling on students at the College of Southern Idaho and in county high schools to give them an opportunity to register. Gooding County's clerk said she would be sending deputies to Hagerman and Wendell this week to give new voters an opportunity to register and to help avoid a rush in the clerk's office at deadline time.

All snow gone in mountains

STANLEY — Unusually heavy snows which have clogged trails and camping spots in the Sawtooth Primitive Area have finally melted, Challis National Forest officials said today. Bill James, recreation technician on the Stanley ranger district, said high mountain lakes and alpine scenery are now open to hikers. He said wild flowers are growing in meadows and fishing is fair to good in lakes.

Catholic school again resounds to activity

TWIN FALLS — St. Edward's Catholic School, which closed for good last spring when the teaching sisters were pulled out by the Order of the Immaculate Heart of Mary is again a busy place, resounding to the shouts of children and the ringing of telephones. The South-Central Community Action Agency has consolidated its many far-flung activities into the school in an agreement with the Boise Diocese in which the school building will be donated to the CAA, with the agency to pay only for the utilities. Dennis Pratt, executive director of the CAA, said the move will be completed this week. All CAA activities with the exception of the emergency foods program will move to the school. The food program will remain at the old hospital building on Addison Avenue West, Pratt said. Activities of the CAA now located in St. Edward's include the administrative staff, the Senior Citizens Agency, the Neighborhood Center and the full-day Head Start day-care program. The half-day Head Start program formerly located in the Presbyterian Church will resume in October at the former Catholic School, Pratt said. The CAA consolidation will shift activities from three churches in Twin Falls to the new location. The half-day Head Start program will move from the Presbyterian Church, the day-care center will leave the First Baptist Church and the Senior Citizens Agency and Neighborhood Center have moved out of the Episcopal Church. Ray Pruett, director of the Senior Citizens Agency, expressed his gratitude today to the church officials for their cooperation in allowing use of the building. Pruett said his agency plans to implement a hot-meals program for the elderly, using the kitchen facilities of the former school. He invited all senior citizens in Twin Falls to make full use of the new location. St. Edward's parish will use a portion of the building for religious education classes on Wednesdays, but otherwise the two-story building has been turned over to the CAA for its exclusive use, Pratt said today.

Filer has higher pupil load

FILER — Enrollment in the Filer School District is higher this year in every school except Hollister, according to Supt. Tom Turner. The total enrollment in the district's three schools, including Filer High School, Filer elementary school and Hollister elementary school, is 889, compared to 873 last year, Turner said. This marks the first time enrollment has increased in three years. Elementary registration totals 513 to date, compared to 461 last year, according to principal Bill Heaps. Each grade reported an increase in enrollment. The Hollister school reported a decrease of seven students, enrolling 78 this year and 85 last school year. Clover Lutheran parochial school west of Filer reported an increase of five, with 52 this year and 47 last year, according to William Rupprecht, school principal. The school has eight grades with three teachers, and will begin kindergarten classes in October.

Student load up at Carey

CAREY — School enrollment at Carey is up by 15 students, with most of the increase in the high school, according to school officials. The elementary school listed 93 students, the junior high school 39 and the high school 74.

FHA aide appointed

BOISE (UPI) — Appointment of William M. Agee to the State Advisory Committee of the Farmers Home Administration was announced today by Donald L. Winder, state FHA director. Winder said Agee, senior vice president of Boise Cascade Corporation, will serve in the post until June 30, 1974. A graduate of Boise Junior College and the University of Idaho, Agee has a masters in business administration from Harvard Business School. Agee is a trustee of Boise School District and of Reed College, Portland, Ore. He also is vice president and director of Boise State College Foundation, Inc., and serves on various advisory committees for the University of Idaho.

News Of Servicemen

Two Magic Valley men have participated in the first night operation which simultaneously employed dual methods to refuel and resupply an aircraft carrier in progress.

Navy Petty Officer Third Class Marion D. Jerke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Jerke Sr., Wendell, and Navy Petty Officer Second Class Gerald W. Lively, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell H. Lively, Buhl, are stationed aboard the nuclear powered attack aircraft carrier USS Enterprise.

With the hazards of two ships steaming together at close refueling quarters the Enterprise took fuel from the combat stores ship USS Sacramento by the "highline" method.

At the same time, the Enterprise received vital supplies by helicopter transfer from the Sacramento.

Jerke attended the College of Southern Idaho and Lively attended the University of Idaho.

TWIN FALLS — Airman Donald D. Friel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Friel, Twin Falls, has graduated at Shepard AFB, Tex., from the training course for U. S. Air Force aircraft mechanics.

Airman Friel, who learned to maintain and service turbo-prop aircraft, is being assigned to Ching Chuan Kang AB, Taiwan. His unit is part of the Pacific Air Forces, headquarters for air operations in Southeast Asia, the Far East and Pacific area.

The airman graduated in 1969 from Hansen High School.

BURLEY — Airman James L. Sinclair, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sinclair, Burley, has graduated at Keesler AFB, Miss., from the training course for U.S. Air Force personnel specialists.

Airman Sinclair, who was trained in the preparation of personnel records and reports, is being assigned to Mountain Home AFB, Idaho. His new unit is part of the Tactical AF Command which provides combat units for air support of U.S. ground forces.

The airman graduated in 1969 from Rancho High School, Las Vegas, Nev.

Moratorium asked

BOISE (UPI)—Rep. James A. McClure said Tuesday he intends to introduce legislation calling for a seven-year moratorium not only on dam building but on recreation management of the middle Snake River.

McClure said a moratorium bill by his three congressional colleagues from Idaho to stop building of additional hydro-electric dams on the middle Snake is "fine, as far as it goes."

"However, in my opinion, it deals only with half of the problem," said the Idaho Republican.

"As I have repeatedly said before, I am afraid that many people view the moratorium, which only directs itself to the licensing of hydro-dams, as a permanent decision towards the dedication of the river to a single purpose recreational use."

"If the moratorium bill were passed and became law, it would not prohibit the passage of legislation, such as the Packwood bill, that would set the river aside for recreation use only," he added.

"To correct this problem, I intend, on my return to Washington, to introduce legislation that would not only prohibit the licensing of hydro-dams on the middle Snake River for the next seven years, but would also prohibit, for the same period of time, a management plan from being passed that would set the middle Snake River aside for single purpose recreation use."

Garbage glass

NEW YORK (UPI)—The nation's first "total" waste recovery plant will soon be extracting crushed bottle glass from this city's refuse for recycling.

A glass recovery subsystem, developed by the Glass Container Manufacturers Institute, is being added to the Franklin, Ohio plant, which is already retrieving paper pulp and ferrous metals from Franklin's daily garbage accumulation and selling these materials to industry.

It is expected that the recovered glass will be used in manufacture of new jars and bottles and also for housing and roadpaving.

No brewery

SALEM, Ore. (UPI)—Among surplus state property advertised recently by the State of Oregon was "brewer equipment, including crocks and beer kegs."

An official hastened to explain that the equipment was seized by the Oregon Liquor Control Commission in a raid on an illegal operation.

Mind Your Money

By PETER WEAVER
Q — I purchased a 1965 car from a dealer about a month ago. I paid more than that year and model should have been worth because of its low mileage.

A friend told me that a blue line appears across the odometer (speedometer) if the mileage has been changed back to a lower figure. I checked my car and sure enough there was a small blue line on the odometer.

Isn't there some sort of law prohibiting used car dealers to employ such trickery? — A.K.S., Stoneham, Mass.

A There are laws prohibiting tampering with speedometers in most states. Some are strict and well-enforced, other are lax. Some states permit dealers to turn back speedometers if they give a warranty and inform the purchaser of the mileage change back to zero.

As for the little blue line on your speedometer, it could be the sign the thing has been tampered with. All Chrysler cars, including Dodge and Plymouth, have this telltale-tamper device on their speedometers.

If someone turns back a speedometer on these cars, a blue line shows on the two numerals to the left (thousands mark). If you have another blue line, you'd better check to see if that mark isn't a line of dirt.

In buying a used car, it's very important where you buy. The way that usually, but not always, it's better to buy from a new car dealer who sells customers' trade-ins as used cars.

Speedometers are notoriously unreliable as indicators of a car's mileage. Look at the brake pedals (remove the new rubber covering) to see if the metal is worn on one side. If the steering wheel color is faded — it's an oldie. Don't buy a used car with snow tires. The tire noise can cover transmission trouble.

Two-to three-year-old cars are usually the best buys. Q — I just paid $251 to Internal Revenue Service for a mistake H & R Block made on my income tax file. What about their guarantee? I understand they are responsible for any mistakes. — A.A.C., Chadron, Neb.

The Block guarantee reads in part: "If we make any errors that cost you any penalty or interest, we will pay that penalty or interest."

Check your IRS bill. The portion of the $251 charge that is either penalty for the error or interest on the unpaid tax will be paid by Block. They do not have to pay the actual amount of tax you owe. If you were not charged a penalty or interest, Block owes you nothing.

If you have any questions about the charge, send a copy of your tax form plus a copy of the IRS notification to the company's main office: H & R Block, 4416 Main St., Kansas City, Mo. 64111.

Q — I bought a gold ring (no stone) for my daughter and the saleslady said it was 14 carats. My daughter noticed that the ring was stamped 10 K (carats). I returned the ring and the store said it was a "clerk's error" and offered to refund my money. I want to know whether I was cheated.

Is there some place where gold value can be assayed? How do they determine the carats in gold? — Mrs. J. P., Miami, Fla.

A — If they gave you money back, it must have been a slip-up. In the future, a reliable goldsmith can tell you how many carats there are in anything made of gold. According to the American Gold Assn., goldsmiths use the "touchstone" system to determine gold carats and the related value.

The goldsmith has 24 "needles" made of 23 parts silver to one part gold on up to pure gold. The rating is from one to 24 carats. The goldsmith rubs the gold piece in question with the touchstone and then rubs various needles to see which "rubbed" needle compares the closest in color. A piece that compares with needle no. 14 (14 parts gold to 10 parts silver) has 14 carats.

No trail blazer, Franciosa scores long list of firsts

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Tony Franciosa has racked up an impressive number of firsts in television for a converted movie star who really hasn't made an effort to be a trailblazer.

For example, Tony played the first astronaut on a television show more than a decade ago in a live production for "Playhouse 90." In those days anything involving spacemen was considered science fiction. To Franciosa it was just another acting job.

Not long thereafter he played the title role in "Valentine's Day," an action adventure drama which broke the interracial equality barrier by allowing Oriental actor Jack Soo to trade verbal jabs with him.

The series was a pleasant and economically rewarding exercise for Franciosa, but no big thing.

He was the star of the first two-hour motion picture made specifically for television that later spun off into a series. The title was "Fame is the Name of the Game" circa 1966. Franciosa was unaware that this was anything special.

Not only was the show made into a series, but it was the first to become an "umbrella" series involving three different stars with their own producers, directors and companies making eight segments each per season.

"The Name of the Game" co-starred Gene Barry and Robert Slack. Franciosa, who started it all, was the first to leave. Now he's completed another television movie, "The Deadly Hunt," for CBS which may become a series.

"Every movie made for television is a pilot show for a series unless the cast is wiped out at the end of the movie," Franciosa said, grinning. "So when you appear in one of these films you're never sure."

Would Tony go ahead with another series?

"I'd do another 'Valentine's Day,'" he said. "But I'm not sure I would accept another sort of show without thinking it over carefully."

"Anyhow, these television movies are active now. For the time being that is where the trend seems to be going. They shoot a maximum of four weeks as compared to the 6-8 week average for feature films."

"I'm happy to play good roles when they come along — whether it's for television or theaters isn't really all that important."

Bum-steer

CHICAGO (UPI) — It was apparently a bum steer that led some Chicago historians to blame Mrs. O'Leary's cow for the blaze that consumed the city in 1871.

"Chicago: City of Fire," a new account of the blaze prepared by the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry, reports that the cow was framed.

Expansion plans told

COEUR D'ALENE (UPI) — announced by the board of trustees. Plans for construction of a 37-bed addition to Kootenai Memorial Hospital here have been of the board said Tuesday plans call for construction sometime in 1972. The 37-bed addition will bring the total capacity of the hospital to 155 beds.

BLM-pays

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Bureau of Land Management has returned $100,803 to Idaho as payment for managing federal lands within the state during fiscal year 1971.

Rep. James McClure, R-Idaho, said Tuesday the payment represents the state's share in federal revenue from mineral leasing during the six-month period ending June 30 — as well as fiscal 1971 collections from the sale of public land materials and grazing fees.

U.S. judge refuses to revise order

By United Press International
A federal judge, contending busing is "as American as apple pie," has refused to revise the North's first massive school desegregation order.
And Judge Damon J. Keith warned vandals at Pontiac, Mich., where 10 buses were destroyed by explosives Monday night, that "this case will not be settled in the streets."
"If necessary, we will put marshals (on the buses), we'll bring out the FBI or use whatever remedy necessary so that it's carried out," Keith said Wednesday in Detroit.

Keith dismissed a suit filed by the National Action Group to halt his order to desegregate Pontiac's 24,000-student school system particularly blocking the busing of 8,700 children. School opens Tuesday.
In Georgia, Federal Judge Alexander A. Lawrence directed two Rhode Island educators credited with drawing up the controversial Charlotte-Mecklenburg, N.C., school plan to devise a desegregation program for Richmond (Augusta) County, Ga.
Lawrence gave Myrtle Herman and Dr. Howard Munzer until Sept. 21 to present a suitable plan that requires extensive busing.

Georgia Assistant School Superintendent, Dr. Joseph N. Edwards, said, meanwhile, he foresees no new desegregation problems.

"I definitely think they are over," said Edwards. "Invariably, the patrons who call me are not concerned with the color of teachers anymore, they just want a qualified teacher."

At Austin, Tex., high school football coach, James W. Tolbert Jr., said Wednesday he was attacked by about 30 black youths at a newly-integrated school.

And in Boise, the Idaho Supreme Court declared unconstitutional a 1970 state law allowing the use of state funds for the busing of parochial school students.

Teamwork lack, poor facilities listed as prison riot causes

BOISE (UPI) — A special committee named inadequate facilities, a changing prison population, and a lack of cooperation and teamwork among staff members at the Idaho State Penitentiary Wednesday as long-range causes of the Aug. 10 disturbance.

Edward V. Williams, chairman of the committee named by Gov. Cecil D. Andrus to investigate conditions at the century-old penitentiary said the "immediate trigger" for the outbreak when buildings were burned and two convicts stabbed will be outlined later, possibly by the end of the Thursday session.

At the same time, he said, committee members will try to decide what recommendations to make to the governor and the prison, "hopefully so this type of thing won't happen again."

Part of the "predisposing" cause, Williams said, was the lack of teamwork and cooperation understanding and communication between the prison administration's correctional officials and security personnel.

Williams said testimony taken over a three-week period indicated decisions made by security personnel were overruled and associate superintendents waived rules.

Further, he said, there was a "complete lack of adequate training of security personnel."

He said committee members found the training officer position was vacant at the time of the disturbance. He further said there was an "overall inadequate training" for correctional officers, for counselors and for management planners.

Another cause, Williams said, was a shortage of personnel and a high personnel turnover due to low salaries and the recurring problem of understanding and communication between the administration and correction personnel.

He said there was "insufficient personnel to permit rotating of assignment of shifts," and the "spreading of available personnel too thin at several prison sites."

Williams said the century-old prison was inadequate for the type of rehabilitative programs being implemented there.

Idaho, he said, was one of only two states still using territorial facilities.

The desire to transfer to the new multi-million dollar prison under construction outside of Boise was another long-range problem, Williams said.

population that was retained at the old site, and a "fragmenting of administration and security duties between the old and the new sites."

The committee also discovered a "conflict between custodial and rehabilitative philosophies accentuated by too-rapid implementation of new programs," he said.

An example of that Williams said, was the project to turn cell house five into living areas for long-term prisoners. A tunnel discovered under the house was closed by prison officials shortly before the riot.

The cell house five project, according to Williams, was "too hastily implemented and was not understood by all personnel."

Williams said testimony also indicated there is a change in the prison population, an "influx of assaultive, aggressive, anti-authority drug-oriented young inmates."

Federal worker wage hike lost

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI)—President Nixon is hoping the "fiscal restraint" he exercised in the six-month postponement of government pay raises will set an example for "responsible industrial and labor leadership."

Nixon, in a message to Congress Wednesday, put off wage increases for virtually all 4,850,000 government workers and members of the military from Jan. 1 to July 1. He also hinted that another raise set for October, 1972, may be delayed.

Postponement of the hikes, which would have run about 6 per cent, or $1.3 billion over a six-month period, also was aimed at easing the strain on the federal budget. Unless vetoed by Congress in 30 days, the plan will go into effect.

The freezing of the federal payroll is part of Nixon's new economic policy. There were indications the White House was hoping private employers would take heed, and perhaps follow suit.

"Since continuing emphasis will be placed on the exercise of responsible industrial and labor leadership throughout the nation in the months to come," Nixon said, "I must apply such fiscal restraints as will clearly signify the good faith of the federal government as a major employer, and to continue to set an example for the American people in our striving to achieve prosperity in peacetime."

"I place full reliance on the willingness of federal employees along with their fellow Americans," he said, "to make whatever temporary sacrifices in personal gain may be needed to attain the greater good for the country as a whole."

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler, responding to questions, said Nixon's statement does not mean to imply that the President wants or expects similar wage restraint in private industry, as part of stage two of his economic policy.

4 persons charged by Greek regime

ATHENS (UPI)—The Greek military regime has seized four persons, including the widow of the discoverer of penicillin, and charged them with trying to free the man charged with trying to assassinate Premier George Papadopoulos in 1968.

Bryon Stamatopoulos, a government press spokesman, said the group trying to free Alexandros Panghoulis was an international ring centered in Britain and Italy. He identified those accused as Lady Amalia Fleming, 55, of Athens, widow of the discoverer of penicillin; American student John Skelton, 28, and two Greeks, Constantine Androuso-poulos and Athena Psigouras.

Stamatopoulos said the four were caught while trying to break Panghoulis from Goudi Prison outside Athens before dawn Tuesday.

Disabled Texan offers air fare

DALLAS (UPI) — Robert W. Dunn, a disabled World War II veteran living on $800 a month, today offered to pay the air fare home of one Texas student stranded in Europe by useless round-trip air tickets bought in New York.

Dunn, who receives $800 a month from the U.S. Army for a nervous condition as a result of combat, said he called the London offices of Pan American Airlines and made the offer to fly a stranded student home. In London, Pan Am officials said Dunn would personally vouch for any Texas student stranded in London and asked they be allowed to get a ticket on credit.

Dunn, 44, said he heard about the bogus tickets purchased by the students two weeks ago and thought it was a "bad deal."

"I heard on a newscast they were stranded and Pan Am was going to try to get them home."

Swiss plan Hanoi envoy

BERN, Switzerland (UPI) — The Swiss government announced today it will grant diplomatic recognition to North Vietnam, but left the level of relations open to negotiate with Hanoi.

In an official communique following the regular meeting of the seven-man Swiss cabinet this morning, the government said it had decided to recognize Hanoi "because of international developments ... and to give existing relations an official character."

Draft inequities removed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Little noticed during the first Congress over antiwar and military pay raise amendments to the stalled Selective Service bill were provisions intended to eliminate from the draft two of the most frequently complained of inequities.

When Congress breaks its vacation and revives the currently suspended draft, no new student deferments will be granted. Also, youths will be called up from a national pool rather than through state and local quotas. That means a young man's outlook for being drafted will not be affected by which local board he registers with.

The draft law that expired June 30 required that deferments be granted to any registrant satisfactorily pursuing a fulltime course of instruction at an institution of higher learning. The deferment was good until the student reached 24 or received his bachelor's degree, whichever occurred first.

At President Nixon's request, both the House and Senate voted to repeal the mandatory feature. The President had already said he would rule out new student deferments, if the requirement was lifted.

The compromise that House-Senate conferees negotiated includes repeal of the automatic deferment. But the conferees decided any student who was eligible for deferment during the 1970-71 academic year could keep his deferment until he graduated—as under the old law.

Under the revised law—if it is passed—youths entering college will not enjoy that privilege. But that isn't to say they are prime candidates for the draft.

To begin with, a freshman usually is 17 or 18 years old and the Selective Service System does not take a boy until he is 19.

Additionally, the new law will protect a student from a sudden disruption of his studies if he has a low lottery number and it comes up. The law specifies a student may have his induction postponed to the end of the semester—or if he is a senior, until the end of the academic year.

Thus most of the "unprotected" students entering college this fall probably will not face the prospect of the draft until 1973. And the end of June that year will mark the expiration of the new draft law and will be the date by which the administration hopes to switch to an all-volunteer army.

The net result: Notwithstanding the official elimination of student deferments few students likely will be inducted while the draft continues.

The first federal court for Indian Territory was established at Muskogee, Okla., March 1, 1889.

Nixon, Hirohito to meet for hour

TOKYO (UPI) — President Nixon and Emperor Hirohito will meet for 50 minutes Sept. 25 in Alaska. Japanese officials said Wednesday.

The meeting, to take place at Elmendorf Air Force Base near Anchorage late in the evening, previously was announced by the White House but it was not known how long it would last.

The stop in Anchorage by the emperor and Empress Nagako will come at the beginning of a state visit by the couple to the United States, including stops in New York, Washington and Miami. He is fourth in line for the Japanese throne. The prince will be accompanied by his wife.

Anniversary open house set Sunday

CAREY — The children of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Justesen, Salt Lake City, former Carey residents, are honoring their parents on their 50th Wedding Anniversary with an open house.

The event is set from 2 to 5 p.m. Sept. 11 at the home of their son, Keith Justesen, Carey.

Mr. and Mrs. Justesen were married Sept. 22, 1921, at Hailey. They lived in Carey until 17 years ago when they moved to Salt Lake City, where they are employed by Covey Investment Co.

Their children include Ray L. Justesen, Moses Lake, Wash.; Wilma Ross, Provo, Utah and Keith O. Justesen, Joyce Arrien and Dallas E. Justesen, all Carey.

The couple requests no gifts.

55th wedding anniversary observed

TWIN FALLS — Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dossat celebrated their 55th Wedding Anniversary at a surprise reception this week given by Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Dossat at the Knull Community Hall.

A revised edition of a poem written five years ago by their grandchildren was read. Elmer Annis wrote a poem to honor the couple Karen, Julie and Becky Fouts sang, accompanied on the piano by their sister, Diane. An anniversary poem was recited by Elma Fouts.

A person standing seven feet above sea level can see about three and a half miles.

Miss Miller, Walker wed in local rites

TWIN FALLS — The First Presbyterian Church was the setting for the Aug. 27 wedding of Linda Miller, daughter of Mrs. Frank E. DeLuca, Twin Falls, and Harold Miller Jr., Hansen, and Larry C. Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne S. Walker, Twin Falls.

Rev. Robert Van Nest performed the double ring ceremony in the chapel before the altar centered with a floral arrangement of lavender gladioli, pink carnation and white daisies, flanked by tall white tapers. Similar baskets of floral arrangements were placed on each side of the prayer bench.

The candles were lighted by Mike Miller, brother of the bride, and Kelly Walker, brother of the bridegroom, who also served as groomsmen and ushers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a pale pink crepe gown with a lavender velvet bow accenting the empire waistline. Her veil of pink illusion net, made by Mrs. Robert Miller, aunt of the bride, was held by a matching lavender velvet bow. She carried a nosegay bouquet of white daisies, pink Sweetheart rosebuds and baby's breath accented with lavender satin streamers.

The bride's gown, as well as those of her attendants, were made by Mrs. Beth Miller, step-mother of the bride.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Cindi Gunter, with Brenda Miller, sister of the bride, as flower girl.

Linden Gunter, Hansen, served as best man.

Pianist was Jeanne Berry, Twin Falls, who played background music preceding the ceremony and the traditional wedding music.

Honored guests were the maternal and paternal grandparents and the great-grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Mattie Turner.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's mother. The reception table was covered with a white linen cloth draped with lavender illusion net tied with pink satin bows at each corner. The table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake decorated with lavender and pink and white sugar bells and cherubs and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. The cake was flanked by tall pink tapers in a silver candelabra. After the bride and bridegroom cut the cake in traditional fashion, they were served champagne punch in crystal long-stemmed glasses which were tied with lavender and pink bows.

Mrs. Bud Standlee served the wedding cake and Mrs. Robert Miller served the champagne punch. Both are aunts of the bride. Mrs. Bill Walker, Hansen, aunt of the bridegroom, served coffee and Mrs. Douglas Tremaine, cousin of the bride, attended the guest book. Mrs. Dorothy Ihler was in charge of the gifts.

A miscellaneous shower honoring the bride was given by Mrs. Willard Ihler, aunt of the bride.

The bride is a graduate of Hanger High School. The bridegroom, a graduate of Twin Falls High School, attended the College of Southern Idaho before entering the U. S. Army in the engineer battalion for two years, serving one year in Vietnam. He is employed by the Rock Creek Construction Co., and after a short honeymoon in Boise, the couple will reside in Montpelier.

Melva Evans, Mills name October date

FILER — Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Evans announce the engagement of their daughter, Melva Louise, Auburn, Wash., to Patrick Michael Mills, Milton, Wash., son of Mr. Howard Mills, Seattle, Wash.

Miss Evans attended Filer schools and was graduated from the Auburn High School in 1969. She is attending Mr. Lee's Beauty School in Auburn and will be graduated in September.

Mills is a 1966 graduate of Glacier High School, Seattle and is employed at the Riverton, Quarry, Tukwila, Wash. An Oct. 15 wedding in the Auburn Church of God is planned.

Unwanted articles cause havoc

CHICAGO (UPI) — If hairpins and buttons clog your household drain, think what havoc a baby carriage or typewriter could play with a city's sewer system.

The two items along with an artificial leg, false teeth, a set of brass knuckles, an egg beater and an ice man's scale are just a few of the many obstructions which have been flushed out of sewers here.

They are now hanging on a peg board in the West Side office of the National Rodding Corp., a tank and pipe cleaning enterprise, as rusty examples of how not to dispose of unwanted articles.

Coins dating back to 1875, an empty hand grenade and a glass eye are some of the more unusual items collected during the past 20 years. Then there are knives and guns galore.

Vice President Julius Hemmelstein says very few of them could have been flushed down a toilet or poured into the kitchen sink.

The collection, he explains, is more than a hobby. It dramatizes the irresponsibility that leads to expensive sewer blockages and adds to the rising operating costs for sewer districts and local governments.

Hemmelstein says when people "drop things into a sewer that don't belong there, they are literally throwing the taxpayers' money down the drain."

news about the people you know Valley Living

DEAR ABBY: Our middle son, Russell (made-up name) is our problem. He is a very intelligent boy of 19 who went to college for one year just to please us, then he quit. "Why waste your money and my time?" he asked.

His grades were above average and he could have continued. His reason for quitting? He likes to work with his hands. He is now going to a trade school and we are so disappointed in him. Now, I'm not putting down people who work with their hands, but it seems to me a man who works with his hands does so only because he isn't smart enough to work with his mind. Russell's father and grandfather are professional men, and both Russell's brothers plan to enter a profession.

Can you put something in your column stating a college degree is absolutely necessary these days, Abby? After Russell graduates from college he can do anything he chooses, but we want him to finish college first. Thank you. RUSSELL'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Sorry, but I don't agree with you. College is not for everybody. If Russell likes to work with his hands, that's what he should do. It's not true those who work with their hands aren't smart enough to work with their minds. Some handwork requires as much skill, talent and brains as many professions. Let Russell do his own thing. Happiness is working at that which gives one pleasure.

DEAR ABBY: Do all husbands pick and nag at their wives over every imperfection?

My husband nagged me until I lost 20 pounds. Now he complains because my bust went down 2 inches.

That wouldn't be so bad, but his timing is rotten. He picks our most intimate moments, when he should be telling me something he likes about me, to bring up his complaints. Doesn't a man know that this turns a woman off?

TURNED OFF

DEAR TURNED: If he doesn't, he should. And if he knows, and does it anyway, he should be turned down.

DEAR ABBY: After reading the letter from "WORKING GRANDMOTHER" who wants to keep her grandchildren (both under three years old) in a playpen at her house, I was reminded of my problem, which is exactly the opposite:

My children's grandmother cannot understand why I won't leave my children at her house. My toddlers would be safer playing alone in an abandoned mine field. There are bleaches and other harsh chemicals on the laundry room floor, drain cleaner and aspirin on a low shelf in her bathroom, extension cords plugged into the wall socket, only lying on the floor, and attractive matches and lighters within easy reach.

Outside they have cactus and oleander landscaping and a shallow fish pond. And if a child should happen to stick his hand thru their chain fence, a dog who bites is waiting on the other side.

There are also 20 dozen valuable fragile knickknacks all over the place, which if damaged or broken would give granny cardiac arrest.

So perhaps if she and other grandmothers read this they will realize why their daughters (and daughters in law) don't send the kiddies to Grandma's.

CAREFUL IN CALIFORNIA

DEAR CAREFUL: Perhaps. But wouldn't it be a lot easier to just level with her?

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Janis Jewell, Sidwell say vows

JEROME — Janis K. Jewell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Jewell, exchanged marriage vows with Thomas Marshall Sidwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Sidwell, all Jerome, Aug. 14, at the First Christian Church in Jerome.

Rev. Dean Hill performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with beauty baskets of white and purple gladioli and candelabra with white tapers and bows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace over satin, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, scalloped bell sleeves and chapel train that fell from the shoulders. The buttons accented the waistline in back. Her veil of English silk illusion was caught to a pearl crown. She carried a white orchid placed on a white Bible with satin ribbon showers.

Mrs. Douglas Houston, Grand Fork, N. D., sister of the bride, was matron of honor.

TOPS club meet held

HANSEN — "He who loses money, loses much; he who loses a friend, loses more; but he who loses courage loses all," was the opening thought brought to the Slim and Frim TOPS Club meeting by the leader, Mrs. George R. Golay, this week at the home of Mrs. Thomas Steelsmith.

Mrs. Ralph Harris was named the best loser for the evening.

A suggestion was made the local club again challenge the Measure Ups, Twin Falls, to a weight-losing contest, starting sometime this fall.

The leader suggested the article, "Beware Those Reducing Gadgets," in the latest Readers Digest, be read in full by club members.

Club meets

RICHFIELD — Mrs. Claude McKlasick was hostess this week to the Burnah Club at the Shoshone City Park.

Mrs. Elizabeth Thorne, Shoshone, was a club guest. Mrs. Hazel Powell conducted quiz games.

The Sept. 9 meeting is at the Richfield Methodist Recreation Rooms, with Mrs. R. O. Bell as hostess.

Bridesmaids were Sally Soli, Reno, Nev.; Sandy Stricker, Boise; and Karen Jewell, sisters of the bride.

Glen Sidwell, Twin Falls, served as best man for his brother. Ushers were Marvin Pierce, Mike Heitzman, David Burgess and Greg Jewell, brother of the bride.

Cheryl Frese was organist and Keith Johansen was soloist.

A reception was held for the couple in the church basement, with Glenda Gassert in charge of the guest book. An arrangement of white and purple gladioli enhanced the guest book table.

The bride's table was covered with lace and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. Dave Kennison, aunt of the bride. A miniature bride and bridegroom was nestled between the first and second tier and it was topped with an arrangement of white wedding bells and lilies of the Valley backed with tulle. It was highlighted with purple hearts and delicate filigree touched with purple. Ivy, studded with white gladioli blossoms, surrounded the cake.

Flanking the cake were white tapers accented with white bells tipped with lavender and purple ribbons.

Mrs. McMillan, aunt of the bride, made the white and purple mints and also cut and served the cake. Pouring were Camille Carpenter and Annette Dryden.

Guests were served at quartet tables covered with white and centered with brandy snifters holding white gladioli.

Mrs. Vernile Byington, Gannett, aunt of the bride, was in charge of the gift table, assisted by Cheryl Byington, Gannett, cousin of the bride; Terry Davis, Mrs. Dave Kennison, Richfield, and Mrs. Howard McMillan, both aunts of the bride.

The couple took a wedding trip to Burley. The couple will reside in Twin Falls.

Couple recites VOWS

TWIN FALLS — Margaret Seaquist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Seaquist, Rupert, became the bride of Richard F. Henning, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Henning, all Twin Falls, in rites Aug. 14 at the Rupert St. Nicholas Catholic Church.

Father Simeon Van DeVoord performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a princess-styled floor-length-waist fitting gown of satin crepe. The gown was fashioned with a rounded scooped neckline and long fitted lace sleeves. The lower edge of the skirt, with a floral applique front, was trimmed with a Venise banding of lace roses. Her jewelry was a string of pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white daisy pompons and yellow Sweetheart roses accented with baby's breath.

Barbara Henning, sister of the bridegroom and college roommate of the bride, served as honor attendant, with Mary Seaquist, Rupert, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid.

Gary Henning served as best man for his brother, with Phil Joslin, Dennis Kirsch, cousin of the bridegroom, and Bob Schwertfeger, all Twin Falls, as ushers.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the Parish Hall with shades of orange, giving accents to the quartet tables centered with daisies and candles. The bride's table was centered with a five-tiered square wedding cake enhanced with apricot-colored rosebuds and white and yellow daisies cascading down the sides. It was topped with a Christ symbol and doves.

Reception assistants included Mrs. Wayne Bun, Mrs. Roger Seaquist, Mrs. Andy Hopkins, Mrs. Bill Seaquist and Mrs. Darrell Brock, aunts of the bride, serving. Marilyn Henning registered the guests and Carol Wewers, Jacque Larsen and Kathy McGinnis presiding at the gift table.

The bride is employed as a registered nurse at the Twin Falls Clinic Hospital and the bridegroom at Magic Valley International.

The couple took a trip to the west coast and will reside at 1144 Blue Lakas Circle, Twin Falls.

The hornbeam tree is often mistaken for a maple.

Valley Briefs Supper club has luau

RICHFIELD — Mrs. Ralph Riley, Sr., entertained this week with a family party honoring her grandson, Spec 4 Rodney Riley. He will report Sept. 13 at the Fort Dougway, Utah, Army Hospital for continued treatment of a broken knee-cap, and for possible reassignment. He had been scheduled for duty in Korea before the arena accident which injured his leg.

FILER — An Hawaiian luau this past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kalbfleisch featured decorations, napkins and place mats, and prizes all brought from the islands when the couple were there last summer.

The Supper Club met for its monthly meeting, with Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Maxson and Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Lierman as guests. The outdoor meal was served on the patio and was highlighted by background Hawaiian music piped outdoors.

Pineapples and papayas were shipped from the islands especially for the occasion and each guest was presented a lei by the hostess upon arrival.

Pinochle was played after the dinner, with Rudolf Martens and Mrs. Lierman receiving high score prizes and Mrs. Henry Sievers and Mr. Lierman, low Mrs. Maxson received the traveling prize.

A Lovelier You ACCESSORIES ON VIEW

Designed with fashion's feeling for the classic, accessories by day make an exciting impression. It gets a heady start and travels non-stop to the feet.

At the top, the hat is a small turban or toque in lush velvets and brocades — this for your best dress. For your tweedy blazer suit, the cloche with a face veil spells hat.

Bows of all sizes fill the necklines of jackets and coats. Scarves come long and narrow, the better to tie in a bow. Small enough to scatter in threes or huge to splash solo, pins and brooches reflect both classic and mod designing. You can pin three diamante flowerettes to that black dress, a huge none-such apple on that blazer.

Depending on the turnout, sporty pigskin and soft suedes are favored. In your hands or over your shoulder, buttery leather "mail pouches" deliver the message. Suede comes to hand in purse sizes.

Stockings and pantyhose tend to textures—geometrics, ribs, argyles in rich dark, brilliant brights and two-tones. Nude sheers enter the picture, especially when worn under knesies (over knee leggings) with Hotsuits. Body parts, waist-to-foot and waist-to-neckline coordinates, dovetail with separate schemes.

Shoes? Ghillies, oxfords, ankle boots, knee boots, wedgies, and ankle-strap pumps of leather and suede in shades to match or blend with stockings.

Meanwhile, back at the top—wigs, wigs, wigs.

KELLOGG (UPI) — Cities in the Coeur d'Alene Mining District, faced with the possibility the Idaho Water Company may seek rate increases similar to those sought in Coeur d'Alene, are looking into the possibility of buying out the company's assets.

Demise, collapse probed

SANTA ISABEL, Equatorial Guinea (UPI) — U.S. diplomats today began an investigation of the death of an American foreign-service officer and the apparent mental collapse of another in this steaming island capital off the coast of West Africa.
 The diplomats said the body of Donald J. Leahy, 47, was found when they arrived to investigate what the State Department called confusing reports from the scene.
 They also found another American official, Alfred J. Erdos, 46, and said he was "incapacitated and apparently suffering from a mental breakdown." He too was in the Chancery, a villa situated in lush tropical gardens.
 Lennart G. Shurtleff, who came here from Douala, The Cameroons, where he was principal officer, was carrying out the investigation with Walker Lannon, the charge d'affaires at Yaounde, The Cameroons.
 Reports from Madrid said Lewis Hoffacker, U.S. ambassador to The Cameroons and Equatorial Guinea, was cutting short a home leave and flying back to Africa.

School aid hike looms

BOISE (UPI) — A school superintendent told the State Board of Education today it will take at least a $10 million increase in state aid to maintain the status quo in public school operations next year.
 They also found another American official, Alfred J. Erdos, 46, and said he was "incapacitated and apparently suffering from a mental breakdown." He too was in the Chancery, a villa situated in lush tropical gardens.
 Lennart G. Shurtleff, who came here from Douala, The Cameroons, where he was principal officer, was carrying out the investigation with Walker Lannon, the charge d'affaires at Yaounde, The Cameroons.
 Reports from Madrid said Lewis Hoffacker, U.S. ambassador to The Cameroons and Equatorial Guinea, was cutting short a home leave and flying back to Africa.
 Youngerman said an honest and realistic report on the cost estimates to operate the schools for 1972-73 shows a $10 million increase is needed.
 He said if the state wants an adequate educational program that state aid should be hiked by $15 million to $18 million.
 Wayne York, executive secretary of the Idaho Education Association, said the IEA is asking for a $10 million increase. That, he said, is just to maintain the current programs.
 He said any other funding of new programs or program enrichment calls for additional appropriations above that figure.
 York added that his association endorses and will support increased state taxes to meet the necessary public school appropriations.
 He also said the teachers need a wage-price freeze "like they need a hole in the head" and said it will cause a great number of inequities. He urged the board to support the IEA in its effort to unfreeze raises.
 Barrett Rainey, state administrator of communications, told the board a temporary budget request of $511,540 for operating expenses only has been worked out for the three educational television stations for 1972-73.
 Ellis told the board that higher education seems to have an advantage over the public schools in going to the legislature with a single package worked out under a formula. He said higher education also benefits from the lobbying activities of its executive director, Dr. Donald F. Kline.
Gears gone
 TWIN FALLS — Theft of a power steering gearbox from a 1972 model Chevrolet pickup truck at the fenced lot of the Ace Hansen Chevrolet Garage was reported to Twin Falls City police Tuesday.
 Officers said apparently someone climbed the fence and crawled under the vehicle to remove the part. Loss was estimated at $180.

Calm prevails at meet on festival

BY TERRY CAMPBELL
Times-News Writer
BELLEVUE — Calm discussion prevailed Wednesday evening as three festival-goers and about 40 Blaine County residents talked over their common concerns about the Wood River Rock Festival.

At the end of the discussion, one of the festival-goers, Dennis Brown, Idaho Falls, said "If it keeps going this way, everything will be mellow." And an area couple invited the three over to their house for coffee.

The conference took place during the scheduled meeting of Citizens for a Better Blaine County. The CBBC, according to Chairman Mark Browning, is concerned about "rising rate of crime, including narcotics and drug use, and the related deterioration of our environment."

Browning said the meeting "cleared up a lot of questions and created a better atmosphere." He added, "There was exaggeration on both sides."

Peter Cooper, Los Angeles, who arrived Monday for the festival, told the group "We will try to keep this thing organized and under control." Cooper also said that is the general feeling among the 50 young people now camped in Slaughterhouse Gulch.

Residents asked Cooper if the festival-goers would be contained on the site. Cooper said efforts would be made to control people from leaving the gulch. He said if additional food is needed, "six, not 600" young people would be allowed "outside" the fence to purchase it.

Cooper said the fence was strong, containing seven strands of barbed wire and that it was built up the sides of the ridge. "You would have to be a mountain goat to get out."

Residents were also concerned about drug abuse during the festival. Cooper said "Purshers will not be welcome."

Both sides said they wanted to keep the assembly non-violent. Dennis Brown said "I am going to do everything to help pull it off well."

Prosecutor in TF reviews ordinance

BY BONNIE JONES
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — Prosecuting Attorney Leon Smith, Thursday began a review of Twin Falls County Ordinance 18, governing large public assemblies, in view of a ruling by Fifth District Judge Theron W. Ward Wednesday afternoon in Hailey indicating parts of the ordinance are "unrealistic."

County Commissioner Merl E. Leonard, Twin Falls, said the Twin Falls county ordinance from which the Blaine County ordinance was copied, was drafted and adopted June 28, 1971, for the general purpose of providing public safety and protection during large gatherings such as rock festivals.

Judge Ward Wednesday ruled the Wood River Rock Festival planned for this weekend near Bellevue would be exempt to certain provisions of the ordinance but must comply with others.

Leonard said it will be up to the county attorney to decide if Twin Falls County should amend the ordinance in view of the court ruling or retain the provisions until further court tests may be made.

The Twin Falls County ordinance requires a fence completely enclosing the proposed location and states it be of sufficient height and strength to prevent people in excess of the maximum permissible number from gaining access. At least four gates are required on all four sides.

Another point Judge Ward felt was arbitrary is that requiring physicians and nurses. The Twin Falls ordinance requires at least one nurse for every 500 persons and one physician for each 500 people, and one emergency ambulance.

Lighting and telephone services required under the Twin Falls regulations were among factors the judge found unreasonable.

Commissioner Leonard said in drafting the county ordinance here, the commissioners felt in the event of any emergency or injury a telephone might be a life saving factor. Lighting would also provide protection against injury or other accident, he said.

The Twin Falls ordinance requires telephones connected to outside lines sufficient to provide service for a maximum number of people or at a rate of one separate line and receiver for each 500 persons.

Lighting requirements of the ordinance call for illumination sufficient to light the entire area of the assembly at a rate of at least five-foot candles but not to shine unreasonably beyond the boundaries of the enclosed location of the assembly.

Security guards are required by the Twin Falls County ordinance either regularly employed, duly sworn off-duty peace officers of the state of Idaho or private guards licensed in the county, sufficient to provide adequate security for the maximum number of persons to be assembled at the rate of one security guard for each 250 persons.

Leonard said if necessary the county will revise the ordinance to be more "realistic" but no action will be taken until an opinion is received from the county attorney.

In using the Twin Falls County ordinance as a model,

Blaine County officials with about one tenth the population, cut down the numbers of persons in various requirements.

In Blaine County one telephone is required for each 300 rather than 500 persons; a security guard is needed for each 150 rather than 250 persons while one nurse and one doctor is required for each 300 persons instead of 500.

During the court hearing in Blaine County Wednesday, it was brought out state officers cannot work on off duty time as security guards and the use of security guards or deputized officers on private property such as Slaughterhouse Gulch would not be permissible.

Air pollution index 129

The pollution reading was taken by the staff of the South Central Health District at the Twin Falls City Hall. The reading is expressed as the number of micrograms of particulate material per cubic meter of air for the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. today.

Federal pollution regulations say pollution levels should be kept below 75 micrograms over any 24 hour period, and should not be permitted to rise above 260 micrograms for even a short period of time.

Forecast

Today: Excellent
Tonight: Good
Tomorrow: Excellent

This forecast provided by the Idaho Department of Health indicates the ability of the atmosphere to disperse pollution. Burning as permitted by law should be curtailed when the air is poorly able to disperse air pollutants.

Mood at festival site said relaxed optimism

BELLEVUE — The mood at Slaughterhouse Gulch this morning was described as "relaxed optimism."

About 30 to 40 young people have arrived and are helping to build facilities for the Wood River Rock Festival. Much of the optimism was generated by the meeting Wednesday night between Blaine County residents and people planning to attend the rockfest.

Valerie Anderst, Idaho Falls, said "I don't know if they had ever seen anything like us before." Valeria has long hair and was wearing jeans, but appeared moderate in her demeanor and dress.

"Breaking the barriers to talk to them was really something," she added.

All of the festival-goers reported that they had no trouble with the people of the area. Dean Neville, Ogden, said "All of the townspeople we saw waved at us and seemed decent."

Man cited Switch

TWIN FALLS — Robert Klum, Twin Falls, was cited for leaving the scene of an accident late Wednesday by Twin Falls City police in connection with an accident on Falls Avenue near the city fire department sub station.

Officers said David LeRoy Porter told officers his car was hit by another at 11:03 p.m. on Falls Avenue, and the vehicle did not remain at the scene. A vehicle with a damaged left front fender was found at the home of Klum, 1209 Evergreen Drive and officers reported the owner said he would make out an accident report Thursday.

A festival guard, Gary Herrick, Twin Falls, commented that "All was quiet" the past two nights at the site. He added "I think the whole thing will go off without any trouble."

BELLEVUE — The photos of Debbie Barney and Sandra Reimers, both of Hailey, were inadvertently switched in Wednesday's Times-News "Comment" feature.

The respondents differed in their opinions on the Wood River Rock Festival. Their names and quotations were accurately reported, but the pictures were switched. The Times-News regrets the error.

A thought for today: American author William Saroyan said, "If you give to a thief he cannot steal from you, and he is then no longer a thief."

Firearms illegal in parks

TWIN FALLS — It is now unlawful for persons to take loaded firearms into parks and recreation areas of Twin Falls County.

Commissioner Merl Leonard said today the board of county commissioners voted Wednesday afternoon to adopt an ordinance prohibiting firearms in park areas in the hope of curbing vandalism in many county parks.

In particular, he said, the new Balanced Rock Park in the west end of the county has involved a great deal of work by such volunteer groups as the Castleford Men's Club and the county parks commission.

In recent months vandals have used high powered rifles, Leonard said, to cut down a number of small trees planted in the park area. They also fired guns into the toilets built in the park and damaged garbage cans and other facilities.

Leonard said the new ordinance, County Ordinance 19, gives law enforcement officers authority to arrest persons taking loaded fire arms into parks in their vehicles or on their person. Violation of the ordinance constitutes a misdemeanor and is punishable by a maximum fine of $300 or 30 days in the county jail or both.

Less surgery

NEW YORK (UPI) — Hysterectomies are the most frequently performed unnecessary surgery, probably followed closely by tonsillectomies, according to one surgeon in an article in New Woman magazine. "We seem to have a tendency to pick on women and kids," the surgeon states in the article which examines a trend toward unnecessary operations.

No Blaine class Friday

HAILEY — Blaine County School District No. 61 board of trustees, meeting in executive session Wednesday night, voted unanimously to suspend county schools on Friday.

The decision came following a 90-minute meeting which was called following the decision of Fifth District Judge Theron Ward to allow the Wood River Rock Festival.

The five-man board of trustees took action, termed "an emergency closing of schools" as a result of "Judge Ward's ruling allowing the holding of a rock festival in our area," according to School Superintendent Charles L. Clark.

The decision to close the county's five schools will involve 1,400 students and 80 teachers, Clark said. The schools will reopen next Tuesday, following the Labor Day holiday on Monday.

Clark said today that the trustees considered a number of alternatives to closing for a full day, but had no trouble reaching the unanimous decision.

"This is one time I'd rather make a decision that might be wrong rather than not make one I should have made," Clark said.

The decision was required, Clark said, because of "so many unknowns" as a result of the court ruling that the festival could continue as scheduled this weekend.

Clark elaborated, saying "The trustees were concerned about the possibility that school buses transporting children might become involved in traffic tieups with festival fans."

Several thousand festival fans are expected to begin thronging into the area on Friday before the 2 p.m. scheduled starting time of the rockfest. Classes at Bellevue elementary school, situated only a few blocks from the festival site, end at 3 p.m.

Bellevue Mayor and school principal Clause Ballard were unavailable this morning for comment.

Prices creep up little in August

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Wholesale prices rose 0.3 per cent in August, the government reported today. It said the latest statistics were based on surveys made prior to the start Aug. 16 of the wage-price freeze.

The August increase, without adjustment for seasonal factors, was the same as the rise in July. When adjusted, the August increase was much greater—0.7 per cent compared to an adjusted increase of 0.2 per cent in July.

The August increase was led by a 0.5 per cent upswing in a broad range of industrial commodities. This was partially offset by a 0.3 per cent decrease in the price of farm products and processed foods and feeds. There was also a 0.3 per cent decline for farm products the previous month.

But the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said farm prices did not decline as much as usual in August, and therefore after seasonal adjustment the index for farm products and processed foods and feeds rose 1.4 per cent, compared to an adjusted 1.8 per cent decline in July.

The BLS said the wholesale price index in August was 114.9, meaning that goods which cost $10 wholesale in 1967 cost $11.49 in August. That was 4 per cent above the August, 1970.

Unadjusted wholesale prices on consumer-finished goods went up by 0.3 per cent in August following a 0.1 per cent decline in July, the bureau said. Consumer foods alone increased 0.4 per cent.

Aide says no plans on guard

BY LEE TREMAINE
Times-News Writer

BOISE — Maj. Gen. George Bennett, Idaho adjutant general, told the Times-News Wednesday there are "absolutely no plans" at present to call up the National Guard to prevent possible trouble at the Wood River Rock Festival at Bellevue.

Bennett said he has not been contacted by Gov. Cecil Andrus concerning possible reaction to any potential violence. Andrus has said he will not intervene in the rockfest unless serious trouble should develop in the three-day event.

In explanation, John Hight, assistant to Andrus, said the governor can take no action unless requested by local authorities, including county or city law-enforcement agencies, and no help has been asked for to date.

Bennett said the guard "has a basic plan of action" in the event of civil disturbance anywhere in the state, including a system of placing men on alert in the event of rumored trouble. Local authorities, such as sheriff's departments or city police, must request state help to initiate the procedures which could lead to activation of a guard "task force," Bennett said.

Reaction time of the guard would depend on the "lead time" in each case, Bennett explained. "If we are told that trouble may be developing in a particular area, we can put some of our men on an alert status and they can react much faster than if they were not alerted."

However, with the long Labor Day weekend complicating the situation, "many of our men would probably be off fishing and we'd have trouble getting them together," Gen. Bennett added. In this case, "reacting" to the trouble call could take as long as 12 hours to gather the task force and get to the scene.

"In fact, I'd say just command that 12 hours would be our minimum unless we were alerted ahead of time," the general said.

"We do not anticipate trouble at this time," he emphasized.

The guard task force would be formed of available men closest to the scene of trouble. If trouble should develop at Bellevue, for instance, he said, men could be called to duty from units in Hailey, Gooding, Jerome and Twin Falls. No particular guard unit is likely to be called, he said.

Gen. Bennett hesitated to say if the guardmen would carry ammunition in the event of any specific trouble call.

"It depends entirely on what the trouble is," he said. "Usually, I would say that in any conceivable case of trouble we would carry very little ammunition. We would have what we need to get the job done and get out of there as fast as we can."

State aide slates big tax savings

BOISE (UPI)—Idaho's acting director on administrative services pulled the plug on the statehouse "copy cats" Wednesday, promising to save an estimated $22,272 in tax money a year.

Implementing a July 22 executive order by Gov. Cecil D. Andrus, Robert Lenaghan began reshuffling photo-copy machines held by many individual departments—telling them to use one centralized machine. Then, with an eye toward more pinching of the taxpayers' pennies, he directed removal of a sophisticated photo-copy machine in the centralized paper-copying area on the second floor.

In its place, he installed a smaller machine which does not have such features as page-size reduction in copies, collation of copies and other extra features.

"Yeah, we're cutting down, he said, when asked about the changes. "We're saving a minimum of $260 a month (by changing to the smaller central copy machine)."

He said he took the action as the result of a management analysis made by personnel in his department of copy machines used by the executive branch.

With the exception of one machine in the personnel office in the basement, he said, he has ordered all individual agency copying machines outside or elective offices in the main Capitol declared surplus. Copying machines will be located in some other state buildings, but even that number will be cut down, Lenaghan said.

Lenaghan indicated removal of the page size reduction feature of the central copying machine alone will save an estimated $150 a month. When some agencies feel they really need this type of equipment to do their work he said, "They can just find some place else that's got one."

"This machine in a day was only running at one-sixth of its potential," Lenaghan said.

Some agencies objected strenuously to Lenaghan's move by pleading with him to change his mind. He refused to budge from his position even when some agencies said it will cost them more money to use the centralized machine.

"If we can get proper participation and all of the work done on the is machine," he said, "we can get work done cheaper than they can do it themselves."

Lenaghan again disagreed, saying he had provided for a twice a day pickup and delivery service of copy work to be provided in the Capitol.

Hemingway said to have suffered psychic conflict

STANFORD (UPI)—Author Ernest Hemingway suffered from "severe psychic conflicts" as a result of his image of himself — which was "so extreme that superhuman forces would have been required to satisfy it" — according to a new study reported today.

Dr. Irvin D. Yalom, a Stanford psychiatrist, and his wife, Dr. Marilyn Yalom, a professor of literature at Hayward State College, teamed up in a lengthy analysis of what led to Hemingway's suicide 10 years ago.

Because the noted author had serious personal psychiatric problems, Yalom says, "It appears to us that Hemingway's legacy is one more of form than of substance, that he will be remembered as a stylistic genius, but as a very narrow guide to life."

Yalom said Hemingway always played the role of "the soldier searching out the eye of the battle storm." He questions whether "a man firmly convinced of his identity would channel such a considerable proportion of his life energy into a search for masculine fulfillment."

The psychiatrist and his wife published their study of Hemingway in the archives of general psychiatry.

They conclude that Hemingway fell very short of his idealized goals. His failure to do so took its toll. He was plagued by recurrent periods of self-hatred, which culminated in his suicide. It was the act that no Hemingway hero had ever done.

Beef projects judged today at Rupert fair

RUPERT—Judging of FFA and 4-H beef projects today highlighted the first day of the Minidoka County Fair, as exhibits in the home economics building were opened to the public for the first time.

The exhibits will be open today through Saturday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. The exhibits were judged for merit on Wednesday in the traditional pre-opening activities.

Open-class community produce will also be judged today as fairtime activities get into full swing. A pig scramble is scheduled at 8:30 p.m. today in the rodeo arena to give the "pigpokes" a chance to display their talents.

On Friday, livestock, including horses, swine and sheep will be judged, as well as open-class dairy entries and other exhibits. The judging will begin at 9 a.m. Friday.

A miniature rodeo is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. Friday in the arena, produced by Vern Oyler and sons of Garland, Utah. Youngsters 8 through 14 years of age may enter if they have a signed liability release from their parents.

On Saturday, the 4-H and FFA fat-stock sale will begin at 9:30 a.m. at the Minidoka County Fairgrounds, in the little arena, directed by the Valley Livestock Commission Co. of Rupert, with Wayne May, owner in charge. George Haynes, chairman of the sale, will assist.

Fair events will wind up on Saturday with the opening of the three-day pari-mutuel horse-racing schedule. Races are scheduled from 2 to 6 p.m. Saturday through Monday.

West assumes early lead in U.S. amateur tourney

WILMINGTON, Del. (UPI)—Young Marty West of Washington, D.C., struggled out-of-bed before dawn and then surprised himself by shooting a four-under-par 67 for a two-stroke lead over school teacher George Haines Wednesday in the first round of the U.S. Amateur Golf Championship.

West's early morning sub-par round of one bogey and five birdies held up all day as the majority of the field of 150 had trouble breaking par on the Wilmington Country Club's 6,872-yard course.

Haines, 28, from Far Hills, N.J., who teaches in nearby Westtown, Pa., had an admittedly erratic round in which he missed more fairways than he hit but had only two bogeys and four birdies, putting him one stroke ahead of five bunched at 70.

Behind Haines were 1966 champion Gary Coan of Canada, veteran amateur Bill Hyndman III, 55, of Huntington Valley, Pa., Bob Boyle, 20, of Summerville, S.C., Eddie Pearce, 19, of Tampa, Fla., and veteran Canadian Amateur Nick Westlock.

Tom Tike, Jr., 21, last year's runner-up to now Pro Lanny Wadkins, was at even par 71 while fellow Texan Ben Crenshaw, the 19-year-old NCAA champion, had a two-over-par 73. Jim Simons, of Butler, Pa., finished in fifth place at last June's U.S. Open, was also at 73.

Bill Campbell, 1964 champion from Huntington, W. Va., finished at 74 as did Winnie Giles, of Richmond, Va., a three-time runner-up in the tournament.

West, 23, was "really surprised, very happy and very thankful for many things that went my way."

"I hadn't expected to play quite as well as I did," he said. "I thought I could play well, but I didn't think I could play as well as I did and be in the position I'm in."

The recent graduate of the University of North Carolina who is awaiting a draft call-up, said it was "hard to get up at 5:30 a.m. when it's dark."

He showed the effects of his early rise after teeing off at 7:38 a.m., bogeying the first hole by three-putting from the fringe and missing a six-foot putt for a par.

West, a second-team collegiate golfer All-America, said he has a tendency to "fool around in practice rounds" but "that three-putt when it counts tended to make me serious."

The soft spoken West came awake on the second hole, a four-par, when he dropped in a 20-footer for a birdie and got another with a six-footer on the par-four sixth.

He shaved off another stroke by curling one in from the fringe, 20 feet away, on the 10th; got on in two on the par-five 14th hole and two-putted from 50 feet for another birdie; then dropped in another six-footer on the 16th to pick up another stroke.

Haines had birdies on the third where he dropped in a two footer, and the seventh, when he made one from seven

Chicago nips Twins 2-0 in 11 innings

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (UPI)—A bases-loaded bloop single by Carlos May in the 11th inning broke a scoreless tie and gave the Chicago White Sox a 2-0 victory Wednesday night over the Minnesota Twins.

After Chicago's Wilbur Wood and Minnesota's Bert Blyleven went through nine scoreless innings, Wood was replaced in the 10th and Blyleven in the 11th.

Pat Kelly and Jay Johnstone started the Chicago rally off reliever Bob Gebhard with singles and Rich McKinney sacrificed the runners along. After Bill Melton was intentionally passed, May hit his bloop single to short center to score the game's first run. Walt Williams followed—with his sacrifice fly to score Johnstone from third.

Speedy Crown has trot win

DU QUOIN, Ill. (UPI)—Speedy Crown outclassed his daddy Wednesday, winning the fourth richest Hambletonian ever for 3-year-old trotters in straight heats.

He was clocked in 1:57 2/5 and 1:58 1/5 in outclassing a field of nine.

Speedy Crown's sire, Speedy Scot, won the 1963 Hambletonian; but Speedy Scot finished second in the first heat and had to come back to win two straight for his victory.

Speedy Crown, carrying driver Howard Beissinger to his second Hambletonian triumph in three years, never was far out of either heat.

In the first, he took charge for the final half mile and let the rest of the field chase him home, while in the second he started on the rail, yielded briefly to Hoot Speed and Arthur, and each time surged back to triumph.

His margin of victory in the first race, in which he missed the world record by less than a second and in which he trotted the second fastest Hambletonian ever—bettered only by 1:56 4/5 by 1964 winner Ayres—was three lengths and he took the second heat by one and one half lengths.

Great Falls rallies in ninth to nip Billings and take league crown

BILLINGS (UPI)—The Great Falls Giants came from behind to score three times in the ninth inning to defeat the Billings Mustangs 4-3 Wednesday night and win the Pioneer League crown.

Leading the attack for both teams were their top clutch performers.

Third baseman Bill Adkison delivered a two-run homer in the ninth to tie the game. Successive doubles by pinch-hitters Pedro Cintron and Harold Ingle produced the winning run.

Rams peddle 2 players

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Los Angeles Rams acquired offensive tackle Joe Carollo from the Philadelphia Eagles Wednesday and sent defensive tackle Dick Evey to the Detroit Lions.

Both trades were in exchange for future draft choices.

Carollo, 31, is a 10 year veteran of the National Football League who began his career with the Rams after graduating from Notre Dame. He played in the Pro Bowl after the 1968 season, his last year with the Rams before he was traded to the Eagles. He stands 6'2" and weighs 265 pounds.

"Carollo has been a fine offensive lineman in this league and we're happy to have him," said Los Angeles coach Tommy Prothro. "We needed another good man up front."

Carollo, who retained his home in Seal Beach, Calif., and lived there in the off season, was reported happy to be returning to Southern California.

The second of three Giant pitchers, John Parslow, picked up the win.

Burley-Buhl, Jerome-Wendell games feature weekend slate

Burley takes on Buhl and Wendell goes after Jerome in two top gridiron features as Magic Valley high school football teams battle through an 11-game schedule this weekend.

Only Twin Falls leaves the area, the Bruins going to Las Vegas for a return match with Rancho High School. Coach

Norm Thomas and his charges left Thursday morning and will play Friday night. The world of Las Vegas, the heat and the usual speed of Rancho should give the Bruins a real baptism of fire. "We don't have any serious injuries. In fact, we're getting better," said Coach Thomas Wednesday.

He anticipates a considerably better showing than his troops made in a full dress scrimmage Saturday. "That was pretty bad but the boys looked fairly sharp this week. We're starting to get back some strength. Those two-day workouts sap a team in a hurry."

The Magic Valley amateur, traditional season closer for area golfers, will begin Saturday morning at the Twin Falls municipal course.

A new champion will be crowned as Jeff Thomsen will leave Sunday for college—taking with him brother Curt Thomsen and ex-teammate Jim Blandford. But several other champions of this year will be on hand. Host professional Clyde Thomsen said 175 amateurs has asked for tee-off times, indicating the tournament will reach its 200 limitation. Last year 254 participated and it put too much stress on the waning daylight hours.

The champions of three area tournaments will participate. Phil McRoberts won the Buhl title, Norm Schaefer the Rupert crown and Jim Packard took his second straight at Gooding. Curt Thomsen won the Burley affair but will not participate.

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Dave Roberts pitched a five-hitter to lower his earned run average to 1.99 Thursday night and give the San Diego Padres a 3-1 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

NBA lists 'hardship' eligibles

NEW YORK (UPI)—The National Basketball Association Wednesday released a list of six players who would be eligible for the league's supplementary college draft of "hardship cases."

MURTAUGH, with its win over arch rival Valley in hand, hopes to make it two in a row in the "hate" department when it hosts Kimberly Friday night.

Kimberly tied with Oakley last week after a bizarre penalty nullified the extra point with two minutes left. Castleford looks for a further testing of a team that didn't look that bad in whipping Rimrock last week. Rockland moves into the Wolf field and the Bulldogs took a lacing at the hands of Raft River last week. The test might be still in the future. Hansen goes under the lights for the first time in history, entertaining the Hagerman Pirates in a Magic Valley Conference game—Hansen's sophomore-loaded team bowed to Mackay last week. Hagerman is making its first appearance. Filer also gets into the season at home, hosting Marsh Valley. New Coach Ray Berryhill believes his team can be representative although it is a little thin with a 27-man turnout. But last Filer manpower slide to under 20 at one point. Nebraska overwhelming pick in pre-season UPI grid poll

NEW YORK (UPI)—In the first pre-season college football ratings ever conducted by the United Press International, Nebraska was made an overwhelming choice by the UPI's 33-member Board of Coaches for the No. 1 team in the country for 1971.

The Cornhuskers, the defending Big Eight Champions who were ranked behind Texas and Ohio State in UPI's final ratings last year, drew 25 first-place ballots and a total of 299 points as all but three coaches on the national ratings board participated in the voting.

Nebraska finished the 1970 season with a 10-0-1 record and a victory over Louisiana State in the Orange Bowl. With 10 of the 11 starters returning on offense and another seven letterman on defense the Cornhuskers may do even better this year.

Three of their top performers should be quarterbacks Jerry Tagge and Van Brownson and scabbard Johnny Rodgers. Larry Jacobson, Joe Blahak and Bill Kosch are the defensive stars.

Notre Dame, which must find a replacement for quarterback Joe Thielmann, received five first place votes and wound up with 254 points to finish second in the balloting. The Fighting Irish beat out defending national champion Texas, which dropped to the No. 3 spot and did not receive a single first place vote.

Other teams receiving votes were Oregon State, Texas Tech, Georgia and Florida.

Beef cattle unit has two leaders

FILER — The large beef cattle department of the Twin Falls County Fair, Sept. 8-11, has two superintendents, F.V. Morrison, Murtaugh, and John Nelson, Kimberly, with Odell (U.S. in Fairland, Okla.) to serve as judge.

TAKING TOP HONORS in the Round Robin and hog division at the Jerome County fair was Larry Sellers, 15, Hazelton. The round robin marked completion of competition in the 4-H livestock judging events.

The American International Charolais Association will supplement the Good Herdman awards for caretakers of Charolais cattle with cash premiums in three places. The association also will present four trophies to the winners of grand champion and reserve champion bull, and grand champion and reserve champion female.

Dr. Harlan Ritchie, Michigan State University, is judge for the Twin Falls Bank and Trust Co. "Open to the World" Fat Steer Show, which takes place Sept. 11, closing day of the fair.

The Idaho Angus Association will present a special award of a belt buckle to the highest placing Angus shown by a junior exhibitor from Twin Falls County, and the Idaho Angus Auxiliary will present a trophy to the outstanding junior exhibitor of an Angus project.

Premiums will be paid in six classes with grand champion and reserve champion to receive rosettes and purple ribbons. The grand champion also will receive a silver award from United Oil of Idaho, Inc., Twin Falls, and the reserve grand champion will be given a silver award from Rocky Mountain Harvestore, Twin Falls.

Earlier, Andrus told the exchange he was concerned that the Idaho future contract needed to be changed to eliminate the possibility of a few large traders causing market fluctuations which did not reflect true supply and demand.

Shorthorns have 16 divisions for premiums in three places with champions and reserve champions to receive rosettes and purple ribbons. The Shorthorn show is Sept. 8, opening day of the fair.

The delivery period also has been extended in order to give the grower hedger more time to complete delivery, Andrus said.

The American International Charolais Association will pay 25 per cent of the premiums in the Carolais class. All animals must be purebred and registered with the AICA. The Charolais Show will be held Sept. 10.

The Charolais class has a total of 36 divisions. These pay premiums in four places with all grand champions to receive purple ribbons.

Owners of the grand champion carcass will receive $150 from the Producers Livestock Marketing Association, Jerome and Salt Lake City, and the owners of the reserve grand champion carcass, $100 from the same association.

million birds, 1 per cent above 1970, according to the Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

More turkeys are expected in all except the East North Central region. The combined Minnesota-Wisconsin crop is expected to be 1 per cent below last year but Iowa expects to raise 3 per cent more turkeys in 1971.

In the South Central region, Arkansas expects a crop 6 per cent and Oklahoma 5 per cent more than last year while Texas expects no change from 1970.

California in the Western Region will raise a 7 per cent larger crop than in 1970 while

1971 turkey crop little above '70

BOISE — Turkeys raised in 1971 are expected to total 117.8 million birds, 1 per cent above 1970, according to the Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

Oregon shows a sharp decline in numbers raised.

Heavy breed turkeys raised in 1971 are expected to total 105.5 million compared with 103.5 million last year, an increase of 2 per cent. Light breed turkeys raised during 1971 are estimated at 12.2 million birds, 2 per cent below the 12.5 million raised in 1970.

Turkey poults hatched during the period September, 1970, through July, 1971, was 2 per cent above the corresponding period a year earlier. Compared with a year ago increases occurred in all months except March, April and May. Turkey eggs in incubators on Aug. 1, 1971 were up 8 per cent from a year earlier.

Exchange agrees to hedging

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus announced Tuesday that the Chicago mercantile exchange has agreed to impose a hedge limitation on Idaho potato futures.

Andrus said Exchange President Everett Harris notified the State Department of Agriculture that hedging applications would not be approved in excess of 200 cars.

Earlier, Andrus told the exchange he was concerned that the Idaho future contract needed to be changed to eliminate the possibility of a few large traders causing market fluctuations which did not reflect true supply and demand.

He said the exchange also has changed the delivery point to Idaho from Chicago — a change intended to prevent overloading of any terminal markets with unsold potatoes.

The delivery period also has been extended in order to give the grower hedger more time to complete delivery, Andrus said.

"The Chicago Mercantile Exchange has been most cooperative with this office and the Idaho potato futures contract has definitely been improved," Andrus said.

"We will watch with interest this year to see how the contract performs."

Farm

Labor guideline listed by bureau

POCATELLO — The Idaho Farm Bureau Federation has issued a list of guidelines for Farm Bureau members and other interested persons regarding the Farm Labor Law of 1971, passed by the Idaho Legislature.

Eight main points have been outlined by the Farm Bureau: In Idaho an employee cannot picket a farm, during the harvesting or growing of perishable agricultural crops, unless he has been an employee of that farm for at least six calendar days immediately prior to the commencement of the picketing.

In order to receive the protection of this statute, the farmer must display in a conspicuous manner notices, written in English and Spanish, to reasonably inform the employees of this law.

Signs should be posted in the field where crop is being harvested where every employe can see it.

Farmers should have a picture of his signs in his field in case he must go to court for an injunction to stop illegal picketing. If signs are torn down they should be replaced.

Photos of pickets should be obtained to prove in court what picket signs say.

Employers payroll records should establish first date employe worked and how long he worked. Witnesses are important in order to overcome any false testimony. A farmer should write down events as they happen so his memory will be correct. Take particular note of violence, obscene language or threats.

One of the most important things a farmer can do is select his attorney now so the attorney can familiarize himself with the law and farm setup. Once the pickets appear time is important if the law is to be of value to the farmer.

The lawyer will prepare a suit for injunction against picketing and apply for a restraining order. The restraining order will ban picketing until the court may hear the farmer's application for a preliminary injunction.

lead a third spade and West would ruff for the fourth defensive-trick.

Better declarers would analyze the lead as the top of a doubleton. They would note that potential fourth loser and look to see if they could do anything about it.

After a little thought they would see the possibilities of the diamonds. After winning the first trick in dummy, the king of diamonds would be led. Should East duck they would find a way to avoid the loss of a diamond trick. Should East win and lead back a spade, South would win in his hand and discard dummy's fast two spades on the queen and jack of diamonds. Then he would ruff his last spade and then play trumps.

WIZARD OF ID

The bidding has been:

Pass	1 ♠	Pass	1 ♠
Pass	2 ♠	Pass	?

You, South, hold:

♠ A K 8 7 ♥ K Q 4 ♦ 6 ♣ K Q 7 5

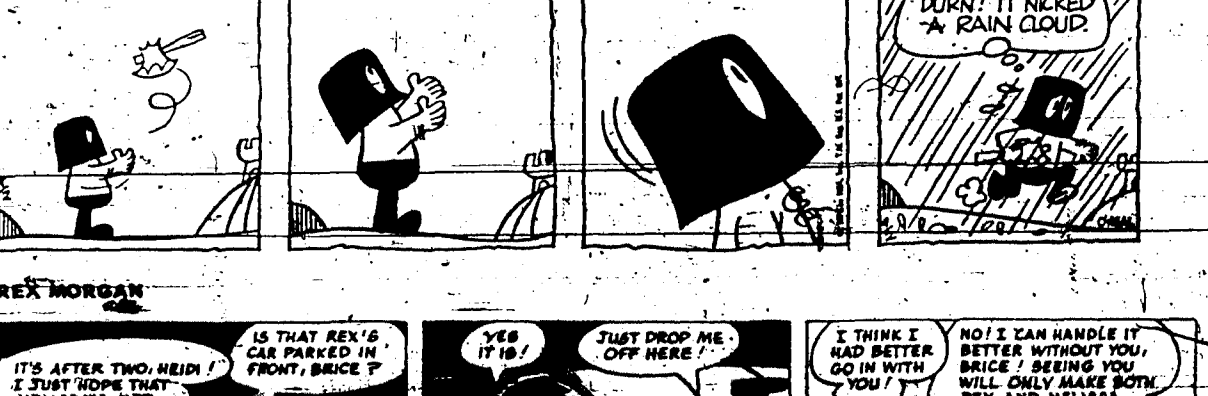

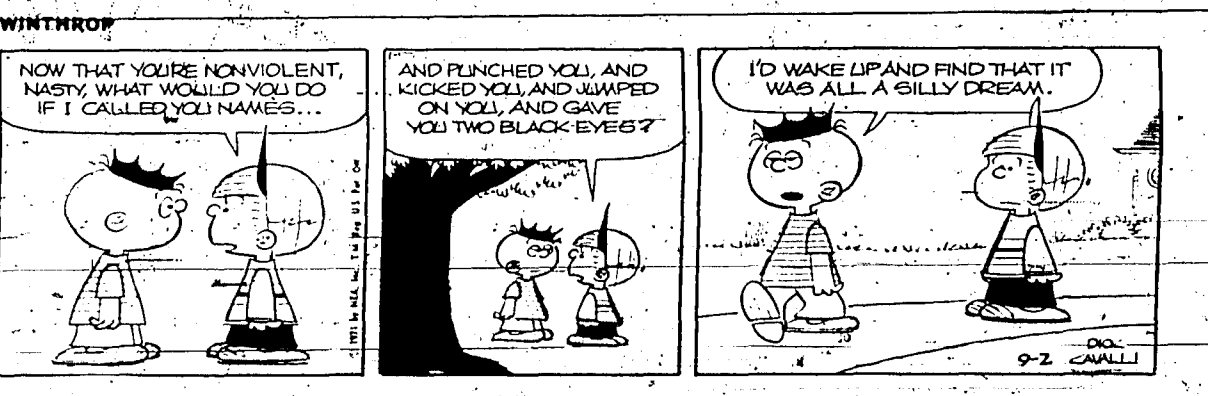

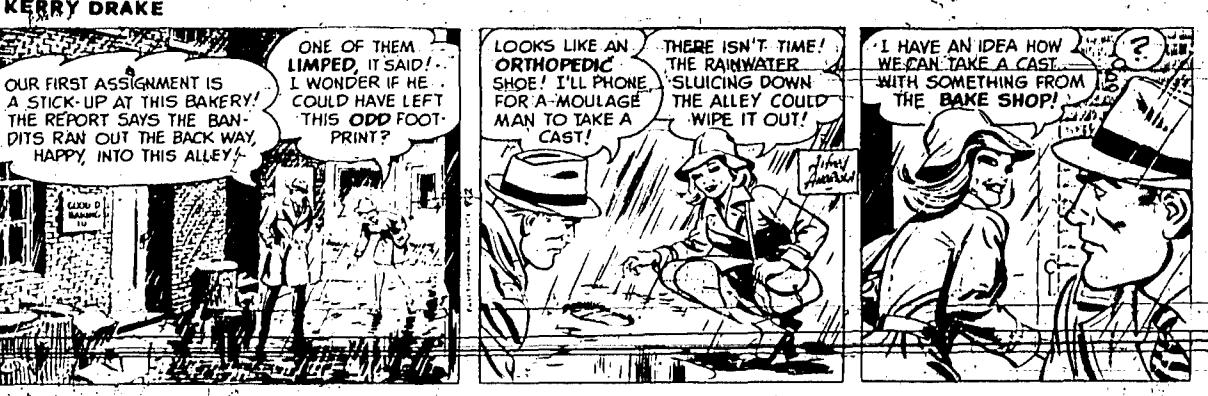

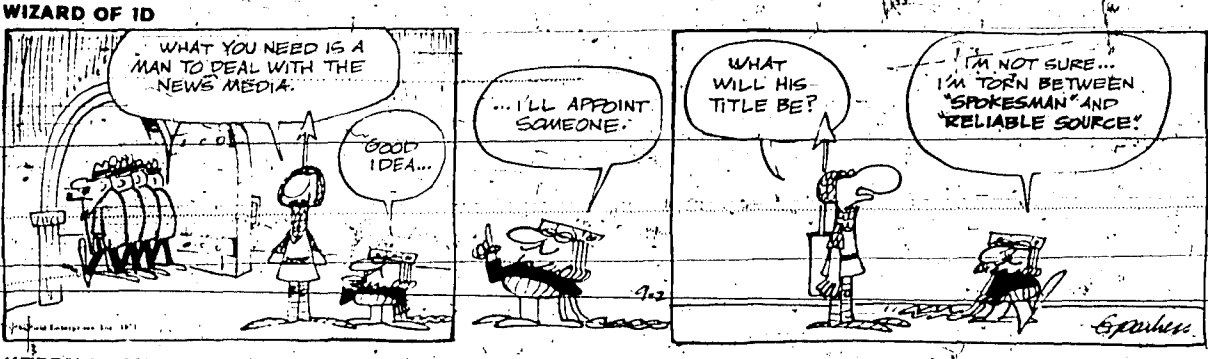

What do you do now?

A—Bid four spades. This is a slight overbid but three spades would be more of an underbid.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding two spades your partner has jumped to three spades. What do you do now?

CUSTOMER SERVICE Q: "Who said, 'The first Rotarian was the first man to call John the Baptist Jack?'"
A: That was H.L. Mencken. He also said: "When women kiss, it always reminds me of prizefighters shaking hands." And: "Christian endeavor is notoriously hard on female pulchritude."

"AMONG COLLEGE professors, you'll find the conservatives in engineering, business administration, physical education and agriculture. The liberals are more apt to teach sociology, anthropology and philosophy. Or such were the findings in a recent survey among 60,000 university faculty members. The Carnegie Commission on Higher Education reported that."

AN IRATE SUBSCRIBER in Pennsylvania says he has found the best use for this column daily is to line his garbage can with it. That's wrong. Best use for this column is to crumple it up and put it in a well-washed but still odoriferous plastic container. The sort you freeze chopped onions in. Leave it overnight. Printers' ink absorbs such odors. Thereafter said container will smell dandy.

RECENT DISPATCHES from the computer boys reveal: It now costs approximately $26,000 to raise one child to the age of 18. Just about 1 percent of the medical doctors in this country are not in the practice of their profession. Absenteeism among admitted alcoholics averages 22 days a year.

AGAIN AM ASKED how to make sourdough. That's pretty easy. You put a cup of milk in a glass jar. Let it stand at room temperature for 24 hours. Then stir in a cup of flour. Leave the mix uncovered in a warm spot for two to five days. When it smells sour and looks bubbly, it's ready.

OPEN QUESTION In the last three decades, the life expectancy of women has jumped by 12 1/2 years, of men by only 8 years. How do you account for that?

ON MARRIAGE LICENSE applications, both men and women are most apt to lie not about age, but about height. It's a fact the average woman is 5-feet-4-inches tall. Medical records show that. But researchers who took their statistics from marriage license applications of women over 21 years old came up with an average height of 5-feet-2-inches. It's also a fact the average man is 5-feet-8-inches. But the applications showed him rather to be 5-feet-10-inches.

NOR CAN YOU call yourself a seasoned citizen, if you can't hum the tune to "Yes, We Have No Bananas." That classic came out 48 years ago. Still, it's said, one out of every three people nationwide remember the melody. IF THE UPCOMING audio-visual telephones whereby business executives will confer long distance face to face doesn't break the airline industry, nothing will. So predicts our Chief Prognosticator, glumly.

Your questions and comments are welcomed and will be used in PASS IT ON wherever possible. Please address your letters to L.M. Boyd, P.O. Box 17076, Fort Worth, Texas 76102.

Doctors attack deficient diet

VIENNA (UPI) — High-resure advertising has led American children to unbalanced diets, with too much milk, juice and fruit and too little meat and vegetables, two U.S. doctors said today.

This imbalance—which they called "socio-cultural malnutrition"—causes infections, apathy, poor appetite and failure to gain weight, the doctors told the International Congress of Pediatrics.

Drs. Karakat Gokulanathan and K. P. Verghese, both from Howard University in Washington, D.C., said they studied 240 children, aged 1 to 6, in affluent families in a suburban industrial town in Maryland. All the families, they said, showed "negativism toward older concepts of child care and modernism in material possessions."

The doctors said too many parents were not providing enough meat and vegetables—but were giving their children up to 30 ounces of fruit juice per day, many times the normal adult intake.

The two pediatricians said parents often told them, "doctor, my child is skinny, he does not eat well, but he loves milk, juices and candies."

Camera views crater

Man held for firearms violation

BOISE (UPI) — A Howe, Idaho, man arrested in a federal grand jury indictment goes to court again today on a charge of violation of the National Firearms Act.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation announced the arrest of Robert Cumbee on a 1969 charge of cashing five expense checks belonging to his employer. He was charged in July, 1969, by a federal grand jury in Billings, Mont.

Cumbee appeared before Magistrate Edward Johnson Tuesday and is being held in Ada County Jail in lieu of $5,000 bond.

The firearms act charge stems from the fact that Cumbee, a convicted felon, had a .38 caliber revolver at the time of his arrest, according to John Reed, special agent in charge of the Idaho-Montana division of the FBI.

Image change due

COEUR D'ALENE (UPI) — Mrs. Floyd Kisling, Dietrich, president of the Idaho Congress of Parents and Teachers, told a district one meeting here earlier this week, "It's time to change the image of the PTA in Idaho."

Mrs. Kisling told the meeting, "There's more to the PTA than sponsoring carnivals and deciding whether to serve punch or coffee at the meetings."

She said too often she heard that the PTA meetings are a drag and said there is no excuse for this.

"After all," she said, "A-child spends more of his waking hours in school than he does at home. We must be involved in activities that benefit the child and the school and forget the trivial things."

The president said, "To improve our PTA image we must fight public apathy and make meetings more interesting and worthwhile so members feel they are accomplishing something."

She said she felt men were important in the PTA because they represent every facet of the economy and she said the PTA needed male opinions.
