Fern soaks Texas

GALVESTON, Tex. (UPI)—Hurricane Fern, after chasing thousands of residents from Galveston, slammed ashore at the fishing village of Matagorda early today, 80 miles southwest of the forecast landfall at this island resort.

Winds gusting to 72 miles an hour whipped Matagorda, a community of 1,000 on the middle Texas coast.

"This is it," said meteorologist Allen Jacoby of the National Weather Service's Galveston bureau. He said the eye of the hurricane actually began moving ashore at 5:30 a.m. EDT.

Despite the lack of warning, no damage or injuries were reported during the first stages of the hurricane's move inland.

Bay City authorities went from house to house on the Matagorda peninsula waking up families and helping them get out of the area. Seventy-five families were safely evacuated from their houses.

Elsewhere along the coast, 5,000 persons huddled in 55 Red Cross shelters as the errant hurricane prowled a wide stretch of the Texas coastline.

Forecasters Thursday predicted Fern would strike at Galveston, and thousands of citizens boarded up their homes and fled inland from the resort haven where 6,000-8,000 persons died in a hurricane and tidal wave Sept. 8, 1900—America's worst natural disaster.

But the storm disorganized into a vast series of gusty rainstorms late Thursday and reorganized early today before moving inland.

The Galveston weather station said Fern was packing winds estimated at 75 miles an hour at sea, but weakened as she hit the beach.

The storm spawned a tornado near Galveston at Texas City, which skipped through town ripping limbs off trees and raking shingles off some homes. No one was hurt.

Pocatello man dies of hurts

HAILEY—A Pocatello man who was injured Wednesday in a truck accident in Blaine County died Thursday afternoon at the LDS Hospital in Salt Lake City.

Mike Duda, 20, was flown to Salt Lake City from Sun Valley Hospital Wednesday afternoon. He was injured when the truck he was driving went off U.S. Highway 93 about 7:30 a.m. Wednesday. The vehicle struck a concrete bridge about four and a half miles north of Hailey. Duda was reportedly thrown from the truck.

Officers said the victim apparently fell asleep before the truck struck the bridge just south of the East Fork junction.

Duda played high post position for the Highland High School basketball team two years ago and was a key member of the Pocatello squad which captured the 1968-69 Southern Idaho Conference championship.

SWISS THRIFT

When a teenager in Switzerland deposits money in a savings account, the bank pays him 5 per cent interest. For adult savers the rate is less. The Swiss believe in encouraging thrift at an early age.

Yard burns

FLAMES WHICH DESTROYED the one-year-old Anderson Lumber Co. at Ketchum early today silhouetted spectators during the blaze. Cause of the fire was not immediately determined. It was reported about 4 a.m. and firemen were at the scene for about five hours. (Times-News Photo by Terry Campbell.)

Lumber company burns

By TERRY CAMPBELL

KETCHUM—An early morning fire today leveled the office, retail store and a storage room of the Anderson Lumber Co., on North Main Street. The one-year-old building was valued at $75,000 according to store owner, Joe Poitevin, Ketchum.

Fire officials today are still investigating the cause of the blaze.

A north wind prevented the fire from spreading to adjacent lumber sheds and a storage bin for wood moulding and trim at the east end of the building.

The Cliff Noxon family, who live across the street from the store, were awakened about 4 a.m. by their dog barking. They saw the fire and reported it to the Ketchum Fire Department.

The fire department responded with three trucks. A fire truck from Sun Valley arrived about 4:30 a.m.

Ketchum Fire Chief Charles Atterbury said when he arrived the building was "completely engulfed."

The fire spread to a power pole in front of the building. Lines were shorted out and electricity was off in the immediate area.

Small explosions were set off as the fire burned aerosol paint cans and containers of cleaning fluid. Poitevin said no large quantities of paint thinner were stored on the site because of the possible fire hazard.

Three-inch-long sparks from the burning building showered the area. A home-owner across the street hosed down his house to douse the sparks.

The Anderson Lumber Co. is one of a chain of 16 lumber stores based in Utah and Idaho. Poitevin said the building was fully insured and that the company headquarters in Ogden keeps a duplicate set of all records.

Space support sought

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Echoing President Nixon's call for use of space technology to solve earthly problems, Apollo 15's astronauts have urged Congress to continue support for America's space exploration and manned flight programs.

In a nationally televised address on the economy to a joint session of Congress Thursday, the President praised the skill and courage of the astronauts and cited "what American technology can achieve."

Nixon added: "Let us find the means to ensure that in this decade of challenge, the remarkable technology that took these Americans to the moon can also be applied to reaching our goals here on earth."

The astronauts addressed Congress after Nixon left the House chamber and their message was summed up by Lt. Col. James B. Irwin, pilot of the lunar landing craft.

Some teachers due pay hikes

TWIN FALLS—Some Twin Falls School District teachers will be granted pay raises under a clarification of the confused federal interpretations of the wage freeze, according to Supt. George Staudaher.

Staudaher said today Alan Smith, executive secretary of the Idaho School Trustees Association, received a telegram from Harold V. Webb, executive director of the National School Boards Association, Evanston, Ill., saying that "wage freeze will now hit most teachers which is contrary to what you have heard from press reports and teachers organizations. On Sept. 3, Arnold Weber, executive director of the Cost of Living Council, said 'The eligibility of teachers for pay increases is determined by the date when the teacher became eligible to accrue wages at a higher rate. If this date was earlier than Aug. 15, the increased rate of pay stays in effect through the freeze.'"

Webb's telegram quoting Weber, added that "Teachers will be treated same as other American wage earners and will receive no special treatment."

Staudaher said this is the first concrete interpretation of the wage situation he has received since he was sent a letter from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare a week ago apparently authorizing higher wages for all teachers.

"We will follow this interpretation unless we hear otherwise," Staudaher said today. "This means that some of our teachers will receive raises and others will not."

The school district must issue checks for August salaries on Sept. 25, but must start computing salaries, taxes and other data by Sept. 20 in order to complete the bookkeeping on time, Staudaher said. About 30 teachers will qualify for raises under a separate ruling allowing increased pay for those who have completed college work or earned collegiate degrees during the summer.

Freed

BRITISH AMBASSADOR Geoffrey Jackson, held by Tupamaro guerrillas for eight months, was released in front of a Catholic church in Montevideo, Uruguay, Thursday night, Jackson, 56, was reported in "excellent" condition. The guerrillas said they had achieved their goals despite government's refusal to negotiate with them. (UPI)

Nixon, labor discuss thaw

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon sat down today with George Meany and other labor leaders who have condemned his new economic program and listened to their views of what should follow the 90-day wage-price freeze.

Afterward, Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, told reporters, "What was Nixon's attitude?" "He listened."

The session lasted about two hours. It was the first face-to-face meeting between labor leaders and the President since he imposed the wage-price freeze Aug. 15—to the ire of Meany, Auto Workers President Leonard Woodcock and others.

Nixon said he planned to consult with business, farm, congressional and other leaders prior to announcing the economic program that will follow the freeze. He told Congress the freeze would not be continued in its present form beyond its expiration Nov. 13. But he said some kind of controls would be necessary to prevent a burst of inflation.

US-Japan policies reviewed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon scheduled a private meeting today with Foreign Minister Takeo Fukuda of Japan, leader of a Japanese delegation concerned with shifts in American economic policy and the U.S. gesture toward Communist China.

The two nations opened two days of cabinet-level talks Thursday with an exchange of senior state department officials described as "full, frank, free and spirited." The terminology indicated clearly agreements both sides hoped for were not reached.

The blunt face-to-face meeting saw Secretary of State William P. Rogers ask Fukuda for a reevaluation of the yen and for elimination of import restrictions against U.S. products.

Fukuda countered by urging the United States to quickly cancel President Nixon's new 10 per cent import surcharge. He said it would create "economic trading blocks such as existed in pre-war days" and jeopardize the free trade system.

Rogers told the meeting the United States "will have to achieve a major turn-around in its balance of payments." He said this could not be done as long as the United States maintains a trade deficit with Japan.

The U.S. surcharge and de facto devaluation of the dollar have greatly concerned Japanese officials.

Japan has cheaper labor and more modern equipment and can sell more goods in the United States than the United States can export to Japan, thus causing a trade deficit.

Woodcock and some of the five other union representatives also were seated on the same side of the table, while across from them—and Nixon—were half a dozen Presidential advisers led by Treasury Secretary John B. Connally plus Federal Reserve Chairman Arthur F. Burns.

Nixon appeared a bit uncomfortable during a photographing session but was smiling. The 76-year-old Meany, dapper in a green shirt with bright tie, occasionally scribbled a few notes on a pad in front of him.

One of the seven labor leaders originally invited to attend did not show up. He is Floyd E. Smith, president of the Machinists Union. Aides said they understood he was on vacation. The secretary-treasurer of the AFL-CIO took his place.

Meany said in the pre-meeting interview that it was obvious some kind of economic restraints would be needed at the end of the freeze—which Nixon told Congress Thursday would not be extended in present form.

But Meany indicated that labor would not seek a correction of inequities as a part of Phase 2.

Jackson ends Viet alliance

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., in a sharp break with administration policies in Vietnam, today accused U.S. officials of permitting South Vietnam's president to sabotage the October election, turning it into a pointless one-man race.

Jackson, until now a supporter of President Nixon's actions in Southeast Asia, threatened to withdraw his endorsement for continued U.S. assistance to South Vietnam unless the election is postponed and a meaningful contest arranged.

The administration "has not only allowed the election to deteriorate, it has contributed to the deterioration," Jackson said. He contended that, instead of using its influence to assure a fair election, the administration

"maintained the facade of a hands-off policy, which could only be construed initially as an endorsement of President Thieu, and more recently his methods... the administration allowed our embassy to convey the impression that Thieu was really our man."

"I consider the failure to have a competitive presidential election in Vietnam a serious and fundamental matter," Jackson said. "Should such an election fail to take place, I must reserve my position regarding future U.S. military and economic aid to the South Vietnamese government."

Jackson has been a firm and consistent supporter of U.S. military action in Vietnam, including Nixon's Vietnamization program.

Placid gyrene

CORPORAL CLARENCE, the Marine Corps mascot, draws attention from two young admirers during a Marine band concert Thursday noon in the downtown business district. Cpl. Clarence is "just about to make sergeant," according to his friend and handler, Sgt. Maj. A. D. Clark, Salt Lake City, Utah. Sgt. Clark and Cpl. Clarence attended the dedication of the Marine Corps recruiter's offices in Twin Falls on Thursday. (Story, page 3)

Yank jets strike Reds

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. Air Force jets bombed North Vietnamese antiaircraft positions just above the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) today when they opened up on an unarmed American reconnaissance plane, the U.S. command announced.

U.S. B52 bombers have been carrying out heavy raids in the lower half of the DMZ for days and extended them today almost to the border of Laos in support of a South Vietnamese task force sweeping westward just below the DMZ.

The North Vietnamese gun fire today was directed against an RF4 photo reconnaissance jet and its two F4 Phantom escorts but neither was hit. The Phantoms then bombed the Communist gunners "with unknown results," the command announced.

It was the 58th "protective reaction" strike of the year over the north and the third this week. The command said the incident took place in late morning one-to two miles north of the DMZ and 39 miles southeast of the port of Dong Hoi, southernmost major city in North Vietnam.

American spokesmen also acknowledged that as many as 2,000 GIs are supporting the Saigon government campaign.

The U.S. command said five overnight B52 missions in Quang Tri province included one raid within one mile of Laos and 20 miles southeast of the former U.S. Marine base at Khe Sanh.

the fifth day of a major campaign below the DMZ still had made no major contact with the Communists. But exploding mines killed one soldier and wounded nine others, file reports said.

The U.S. command acknowledged for the first time that 1,500-2,000 American troops were in "direct support" for the South Vietnamese operation, the largest such drive since last winter's drive into Laos.

"About half that support is artillery and that should remain stable throughout the operation," a U.S. spokesman said. "The air situation could fluctuate from day to day depending on requests from the South Vietnamese."

UPI correspondent Stewart Kellerman reported that South Vietnamese artillery fired phosphorous shells at suspected North Vietnamese positions near Khe Sanh all day today. Khe Sanh is 13 miles east of Laos.

The phosphorous shells set off numerous brass fires but there was no indication of the presence of any Communist troops in the region, Kellerman said.

Six South Vietnamese troops were wounded today when their armored personnel carrier hit a mine just off Highway 9 in the area. One government ranger was killed and three wounded when a patrol tripped a mine nearby.

Mamie receives standing ovation

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower was given a poignant standing ovation Thursday night as she appeared as the guest of honor at the opening of a concert hall dedicated to her late husband in the new John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts. Mrs. Eisenhower, who accompanied President Nixon to the opening, stood smiling and waving to the audience, which had risen and turned to applaud her entry. Also in the party were the Nixon's daughter and son-in-law, newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Edward Finch Cox. Mrs. Eisenhower wore an off-the-shoulder red gown, and Mrs. Nixon a yellow lace Countess Alexander floor-length gown. The program included a concert with Antal Dorati conducting the National Sym-

Class to focus on artifacts

SUN VALLEY — Idaho's prehistory will be the focus of study this fall in a three-hour course entitled "Introduction to Archaeology," being offered for one semester. Isaac Stern was featured violinist. The evening performance was the fourth event this week in connection with the opening of the immense $70-million building on the banks of the Potomac near the Lincoln Memorial and State Department.

On Wednesday the center was officially opened with Mrs. Rose Kennedy, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and other family members and former New Frontier officials taking center-stage. Nixon, who said he did not want to divert attention from the purpose of that occasion, turned the presidential box in the center's theater over to the Kennedy family and arranged to make her first visit Thursday. In contrast to the gaiety and glitter of Wednesday evening's predominantly Democratic crowd, Thursday's opening was subdued. Among the guests was Treasury Secretary John B. Connally, who was riding with President Kennedy when he was assassinated. Connally pronounced the center "great...marvelous" and when asked if the moment held special meaning for him, said: "I'm

Heyerdahl claims oceans are polluted

NEW YORK (UPI)—Explorer-scientist Thor Heyerdahl, who found the Atlantic Ocean streaked with oil from Morocco to the Caribbean during his epic voyage in a papyrus reed boat, believes "man is winning his fight against nature—and it's a catastrophe." In an interview Thursday with UPI's editorial board, Heyerdahl described the scope of pollution he has seen in the Mediterranean and the Atlantic, and added sadly: "I'm still studying human pre-history... all the time faced with the future of mankind."

Death due to drugs

TWIN FALLS — Death of Sherman L. Bellwood, 25, Twin Falls, son of Fifth District Judge and Mrs. Sherman J. Bellwood, Rupert, was caused by an overdose of drugs, Cloyce Edwards, county coroner said today. Information was received here Thursday from a Denver, Colo., laboratory where specimens were sent for testing. Edwards said the death certificate for the young man will read possible suicide. The young man was found dead in his apartment here Aug. 9 by a neighbor. He had been confined to a wheel chair since 1965 when he suffered injuries in an automobile accident. Bellwood was employed by the Vocational Rehabilitation Agency in Twin Falls. Edwards said the exact substance involved in the Bellwood death was not identified but it was not "hard" narcotics and probably a prescription drug.

Witness testifies in court martial

FT. MEADE, Md. (UPI)—A reluctant witness testified Thursday at Col. Oran K. Henderson's court martial that he saw him talking just after the My Lai operation with a helicopter pilot who complained about how Americans treated South Vietnamese civilians there. The witness, Col. Robert B. Luper, also testified he overheard Capt. Ernest Medina, now on trial for murdering civilians at My Lai, tell Henderson that he shot a woman during the 1968 operation at the hamlet. Medina disclosed the killing himself before he went on trial, explaining he shot her because he thought she was armed. Henderson was commander of the 11th Infantry Brigade and was airborne in a helicopter over My Lai at the time the civilians were killed. The prosecution in his court martial is trying to prove that he was aware of the massacre, but failed to investigate it. Luper then testified that Medina explained there had been reports of armed civilians in the area and that seeing a motion he whirled and fired, hitting the woman.

Students need jobs

TWIN FALLS — John Heckert, distributive education instructor at Twin Falls High School, said Tuesday he is seeking work openings for his 40 senior-class DE students in Twin Falls. The DE program was initiated in the second semester of the 1970-71 school year with a class of juniors who studied a variety of office and business skills. Of the 50 students in last spring's DE class, 40 have continued in their senior year to the actual on-the-job training, Heckert said. "A number of Twin Falls businesses have pledged to accept the students, but others are needed, Heckert said. The students would work part-time during the school day, continuing their classwork during the remainder of the day at the high school.

Arabs urged against US

By United Press International An influential Cairo editor urged the Arab world today to bring pressure against the United States to cut its military and financial aid to Israel. In Stockholm, an Israeli cabinet minister said Israel needed more U.S. aid to avert another war in the Middle East. Mohammed Hassanein Heikal, editor of the Cairo Daily Al-Ahram and a confidant of Egyptian President Anwar Sadat, said in his weekly column the Arab pressure could range from "quiet pressure to violence and from persuasion to coercion. He said this could be done with the cooperation of the Soviet Union. Israeli deputy Premier Higel Alon, speaking at a Stockholm news conference, criticized U.S. reluctance to provide more of the F4 Phantom jet fighters—bombers it has requested—and said: "I think Israel deserves to get some more airplanes. If a war took place today, we would win it. But we don't want a war and we ask for arms to avoid it." Alon, a confidant of Premier Golda Meir, said he still considered a limited Mideast agreement to reopen the Suez Canal a possibility. "In spite of the recent Soviet-Egyptian pact we are ready to accept a limited agreement with Egypt on sound grounds," he said. He said Israel had made a great concession in expressing willingness to withdraw from the canal since that is an effective defense position. Alon denied speculation he would establish contacts with Soviet officials during his weeklong visit to Sweden in his capacity as minister of education. He said it was high time relations were restored but that this was up to the Russians who broke them during the 1967 War.

Wine taxes large

BOISE (UPI)—The excise taxes on wine in July — the first month retail sales of wine were permitted in Idaho — were "in the neighborhood" of $96,000. But Paul Stoot, chief of commodity taxes, Idaho Tax Commission, said the figure could not be used as an indication of future returns since the initial figure included the first stocking of warehouse, wholesalers and retailers. He said it would be a "month or two" before there could be an accurate estimate on the return from the wine sales. The 45 cents per gallon excise tax is paid when the wine is "imported" or brought into the state, and is paid even for wines which have not been sold but are still waiting in warehouses. "It will be possibly a couple of months before it will level off and we will know what the average tax will be," Stoot said, "but until it does level off we can't say it will be about $100,000 per month because it certainly will not."

Andrus opens service office

TWIN FALLS — Consolidation of military recruiting services into a single suite of offices in Twin Falls is part of a nationwide effort striving for an all-volunteer army, Idaho Gov. Cecil D. Andrus told a small crowd in Twin Falls on Thursday.

Gov. Andrus formally opened the newly expanded joint offices of the four military recruiters at 132 2nd St. E., cutting dual ribbons in front of the Air Force-Navy and Army-Marine sections of the building. The Marine Corps band from Twenty-nine Palms, Calif., which played at the Twin Falls County Fair Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, highlighted the ceremonies with a brief concert at Main and Shoshone Streets Thursday noon.

Following the playing of the National Anthem, the 24-member band marched east amid heavy noontime traffic on Main to the Second Street intersection, then to the recruiters offices. Gov. Andrus told the recruiters and a delegation of Marines from Salt Lake City that he was honored to participate in the dedication ceremonies on behalf of the state of Idaho.

Honored guests during the band concert and the ceremonies included "Corporal Clarence," of Salt Lake City, mascot of the Marines. Cpl. Clarence, a 3 1/2-year-old pugnacious bulldog, wears his chevrons marking his rank on a miniature "uniform" across his back.

The mascot not only carries an official Marine Corps rank, but won his "jump wings" recently at Missoula, Mont., with a parachute jump, according to Sgt. Maj. D.A. Clark, Salt Lake City, the corporal's friend and handler.

"He didn't yell 'Geronimo' when he jumped," Clark said. "He just said 'Woof!'"

Airline operator changes

TWIN FALLS — Management and operation of Trans Magic Airlines has been taken over by the Greater Idaho Corporation, the Times-News learned today.

The change in operators is the initial step toward a planned reorganization of the line, a third-level carrier operating from the Twin Falls City-County Airport with principal flights going to Salt Lake City, Boise and Sun Valley.

A spokesman for the Idaho corporation said "negotiations are being made for continued operation of the airline."

Twin-engine planes are operated by Trans-Magic and since the main runway has been closed for replacement at the field, prohibiting Air West jets from landing, it is the only line able to operate from the field. Company officials report passenger business at the present time is best in history.

TF jobless up in July

TWIN FALLS — Unemployment in the Twin Falls area reached six per cent in July as employment levels slackened slightly, according to the regional office of the Idaho Department of Employment.

The high level of six per cent unemployment, however, was anticipated, as July is typically the peak month in terms of unemployment. It is directly related to the seasonal layoffs of potato processors who shut down each July, contributing to a sizable employment decline and a substantial unemployment increase.

Major factors affecting employment in the June-July period included the seasonal processing reductions, the mid-season lull in agricultural activities, education employment cutbacks during the summer vacation and a healthy increase in non-durable labor manufacturing other than food. Labor disputes involved communication and transportation firms, but were of short duration and presented few local shortages or inconveniences.

processing changes altered employment data somewhat, the situation this summer as compared to last summer showed an increase of 270 workers more this year. Unemployment remained the same this year as last, when fewer employed workers produced an unemployment level of 6.1 per cent.

In July, the department of employment placement activity tapered off in the face of diminished orders for workers from employers, with total placements listed at 433, down from June, 1971, and from July, 1970, when placement totals were 596 and 545, respectively. The July data included filling of 284 non-agricultural job orders and 149 agricultural positions filled.

In other economic statistics, the city of Twin Falls reported issuance of 39 building permits for a total construction volume of $200,004. Although many projects were in progress, new starts for the month showed a sizable dip from one year ago, when 50 projects valued at $426,669 were tallied.

Property dividing explained

JEROME — Real estate subdividing of property was explained to members of the North Side Board of Realtors at their first fall meeting, Wednesday night at Wood Cafe, Jerome. J. E. Burcham, Wendell, a new surveyor in the area, was the speaker.

During the business meeting directed by Ray Assendrup, Jerome, president, plans were made to invite Jack Osgood, executive secretary of the Idaho Real Estate Commission, to attend the Oct. 13 meeting. The meeting will be at the Manhattan Cafe, Shoshone, with Harrell Thorne host.

An appraisal school, to be held over a 10-week period will begin Sept. 16 at the Burley High School. The school will be for two hours each session, from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Rodney Pauls was host of the meeting.

Hunters in America number at least 17 million, says the National Shooting Sports Foundation.

Buttrey's entered, probe on

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls Police are investigating a break-in which occurred Thursday night at Osco-Buttrey's in the Blue Lakes Shopping Center.

Officers said a large rock was thrown through a glass door on the west side of the building. The break in was discovered by a janitor.

Officers said it has not yet been determined what was taken but that employees in the stores are taking inventory to establish a list of missing items.

Loggerheads

The farmer and the rancher no longer battle it out in the West. Today, the big controversy over land use is between the conservationist and the logger. And Idaho is involved.

Preservationists are urging President Nixon to issue an executive order which would designate somewhere between six million and 40 million acres of commercial timberlands in the national forests as "wilderness areas," opposing the protectionists is the National Forest Products Association, representing 21 companies nationwide.

"The lands in question," argues association executive vice president James R. Turnbull, "are already under study by various agencies of the government in compliance with the Wilderness Act of 1964. If they are suitable for classification as wilderness, these agencies will so recommend. If they aren't, they continue to be a working part of the national forest resource base."

Even the proposal to withdraw six million acres would reduce the annual harvest by 6 1/2 per cent, he says, meaning price rises to home builders and home buyers.

Those who ardently advocate keeping more and more of our timberlands in a "forever wild" state don't realize how much grief they are piling up for those who will inherit the results, says Fred C. Simmons, a forester for 30 years with the U.S. Forest Service and now executive secretary of the Northeastern Loggers' Association.

Our descendants will not only find the "preserved" stands inferior, economically and esthetically, he says, but also pretty much biological deserts — unless we are willing to permit the vast wildfires by which Mother Nature harvested and improved the forest before the coming of the white man.

Turnbull's and Simmons' opinions may possibly be dismissed as biased. Not so that of conservationist William Houseman, editor of The Environmental Monthly.

Houseman is distressed that major corporations should despoil the environment and then lie about it for money-grubbing reasons.

But he is equally concerned about the "eco-freaks" who distort the truth to promote their selfish, often sanctimonious interests.

On a recent trip to the Northwest with other journalists, Houseman saw magnificent forests, some private, some public, some open to commercial logging, some wild forever, some that had been abused by man and some by nature.

He saw virgin forests full of snags and devoid of wildlife, and 80-year-old new-growth forests that looked more virgin than virgin forests.

If what he saw proves anything at all, says Houseman, it is that unless conservationists are unwilling to concede that any tree might be harvested, they should eschew the environmental grandstand play.

The Equalizer?

The author of a letter to the Wall Street Journal has a suggestion for AFL-CIO President George Meany, consumer advocate Ralph Nader and others who are complaining that the wage-price freeze is unfair to labor and favors business because there is no lid on profits.

Let's tie wages to profits, says William R. Bates of Elmhurst, Ill. If profits go up, wages go up. And if profits go down...

The embarrassing fact is that wages have increased by some 35 per cent from 1965 to 1970. Prices, of course, are also up. But corporation profits, as a percentage of sales and after-tax income, are little changed overall, and many large employers are losing ground under inflationary conditions.

You needn't stand out of the way. There'll be no rush of union leaders to rally around the proposal.

MR. SPECTATOR

The Ocean Rocks

The response was flattering. We have mailed ocean rocks to the 104 people who requested them. These were rocks picked up on Agate-Crescent beach on the Strait of San Juan de Fuca in the state of Washington. After tumbling them to a fine polish, Mr. Spectator offered them for free to those who would write in.

These are "tranquil" rocks and through "magic" will slow you down when you get all geared up. Just carry one with you and when you get up a head of steam, just rub the rock between your fingers. Nothing more to do!

We still have a few left so we will accept more requests for a free rock if you are in the mood. Just write Mr. Spectator at the Times-News and ask for one. Pick your size ranging from big as a dime, big as a five-cent piece or big as a quarter. It's up to you.

And in the 104 letters to date, many people wrote nice "thank you" notes for which we are grateful. Also, a couple wrote poems and one ninth-grader had a plea for help.

Just to let you share these nice things with us, we'll print them:

From Dorothy Peck:
From one rock collector
To a genuine Rock Hound.
Any rock that matches, qualifications of the sketch. Perhaps an artistic one less than a pound, For me, from the seaside, Hope you did fetch! Many thanks for the anticipated rock — It will be a showpiece for friends in our block.

From Catherine Martin, Buhl: I would like an ocean rock All polished shiny clean, An egg sized rock I'd like to have Duck, robin or in between. I doubt the rocks are magic, But our Lord God made them, thus He will bless your friendly gesture As you share his rocks with us.

From Diana Berkley: I would like to have one of your polished agate rocks. I want a larger one because I am in the ninth grade and need all the help I can get so please send me a "rubbing" rock.

And just to top it off, Mrs. William Whitten addressed her note to "that sweet, ole, thoughtful Mr. Spectator."

Which makes Mr. Spectator wonder if Mrs. Whitten really knows who she is talking about. Really?

Will Football Control Politics

WASHINGTON — Since everything else has happened to this poor country, the suggestion that the 1972 Presidential election might be significantly affected by a policy decision of a New York professional football team should not be dismissed out of hand.

From Staten Island to Plattsburgh, sports fans in New York State have reacted with ferocious howls to the New York Giants' announcement that they will move to New Jersey in 1975. The blame is placed on the shoulders of New York City's Mayor John Lindsay, who needed another political cold sore like he needed a second head. Lindsay already had made his mark as the city's loudest mayor, but what kind of a guy would let a football team move out of his state?

On the national scene, Lindsay's latest setback is bad news to his ambitions to secure the Democratic Presidential nomination. His chief asset has been his status as the state's No. 1 Democratic office holder, with a lock on the state's huge electoral vote. But if the party's kingmakers decide the mayor couldn't carry his own neighborhood, his slender chances to win at Miami Beach next July will be reduced to a fat zero.

My admiration for John Lindsay, even on a nice day, is at best limited. But his critics convict him on a bum rap in this instance. They have failed to digest the fact that professional sports has grown into a virtually unregulated monster of Big Business whose dealings with public office holders are limited to demands for financial handouts.

The football Giants will move to New Jersey because the taxpayers there are providing facilities at a nominal rental which will enable the club to make much more money. They thus follow the pattern of other football, baseball and basketball enterprises which over the past decade have transferred to greener pastures in search of the fast buck.

In doing so, the club owners have demolished the myth of the great American sports fan as a "little guy" who needs their product as he needs his daily bread. Today's fan has got to be rich, an embezzler or a guy who knows something naughty about his friendly neighborhood loan shark.

It is virtually impossible to lay your hands on a single-season ticket to a professional football game. All but a few thousand of these ducats are sold by the season, assuring sellouts for every game month and even years before the first kickoff. In Kansas City, for example, where the taxpayers have stood still for a $53-million sports complex, the football Chiefs already have sold 70,000 season tickets to the 77,472-seat stadium for 1972. That's next year, Mac.

Since the teams in the two baseball leagues each play 81 home games a year, the devotee of bat and ball has it a little better — except, of course, at World Series time when attendance is limited to the rich, famous and beautiful. In Washington, incidentally, Owner Bob Short of the baseball Senators even refused to pay last year's paltry rent for use of a publicly-financed stadium.

Meanwhile, professional football, baseball, basketball and hockey use the public's air waves as their own property. Games are televised for the poor slob who otherwise would never see his heroes in action, but the home team's area is blacked out to protect the gate receipts — even when a contest has been a sellout for months.

As a result, most pro sports teams are being enriched beyond the avaricious dreams of a Mafia chieftain. The take from television is in the hundreds of millions, with the networks, of course, getting another fat multi-million-dollar piece of the action. Naturally, organized crime also has a stake in this gargantuan enterprise, to the tune of billions bet sub rosa every year.

Given a situation in which even the Federal Communications Commission dares not intervene, it is clear that even if New York possessed a mayor of considerable ability he could not have prevented the Giants from defecting. There is, quite simply, too much big money involved. John Lindsay may be guilty of making a mess of a once-great city, but he already had one foot in his own end zone when he took the field against the Sports Establishment.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Episiotomy

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What determines whether you will have stitches during childbirth? I am expecting my fifth child, and had stitches with the first four.

Does the mother's size or baby's size have any bearing? Mine all weighed between seven and eight pounds. I would like if possible to avoid stitches.

I am usually very constipated following the birth, and am afraid to strain for fear of disturbing the stitches. This only makes matters worse. — Mrs. L.C.

The procedure requiring stitches is called an episiotomy, and is done for the mutual protection of mother and baby.

A large baby, or even just a medium baby, can cause tearing of the external tissues of the mother. (The inner tissues are designed by nature to stretch, but they are a different kind of tissue.)

By making a clean cut, instead of permitting the tearing of skin and muscle tissues, it is possible to make healing more rapid and complete, and with less scarring, too.

It is better for the mother, and so far as the baby is concerned, there is less risk of head injury.

Both the mother's size and the baby's determine the need for episiotomy. (An eight-pound infant is a lot of baby, but episiotomy is very commonly desirable with babies considerably smaller.)

The use of mineral oil or a stool softener for a number of days after delivery should ease the bowel problem until the stitches are removed. Chances are, however, that while you may feel the stitches when you strain, there isn't too much danger of disturbing them.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What type of tests are given to determine if a person has venereal disease? Is it a blood test? Will it show up in a Pap smear? If the patient has V.D., are treatments very expensive? — Mrs. T.G.F.

Evidently you didn't read the series of articles I wrote some weeks ago on V.D.

So, again, a blood test will detect syphilis. A culture (but not a simple smear test) will diagnose gonorrhea. (There is no blood test for gonorrhea.) A pap test will NOT detect V.D.

No, treatment is not expensive for V.D. And those who can't afford even moderate expense can go to city or county clinics.

Since you didn't see my series on V.D., I suggest you send for my booklet on venereal disease, which includes what was in the series plus a good deal more. For a copy, send 35 cents in coin and a long self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper. We won't conquer V.D. until people get the facts about it.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My wife drinks about six bottles of beer a day. She looks and feels great. She is putting on weight. Does this harm her kidneys or liver? Could she become an alcoholic with just this amount? — S.P.

She could become an alcoholic, which isn't saying whether she will. There could be a threat to her liver. Most imminent problem is that she is drinking over 600 calories a day, so no wonder she is taking on weight. It could be hard to control later.

BRUCE BLOSSAT

Mills' Line

WASHINGTON (NEA) — House Ways and Means Chairman Wilbur Mills is resisting pressures to put off a bigger Social Security tax bite to allow consumers to pour more money into the thinned-out economic stream.

Under present law, the Social Security tax rate applied to workers and employers as a payroll deduction would stay at 5.2 per cent. But the worker's annual income base from which this tax would be taken would rise on Jan. 1, 1972, to $9,000 from the present $7,800.

The Joint Congressional Economic Committee has suggested that not even this boost should be permitted to take effect. Federal authorities estimate that some $3.3 billion would be left in workers' and employers' hands next year if the base were held at $7,800 and the rate left unchanged.

Even without Mills' resistance, however, the prospect of canceling the scheduled 1972 increase is seen as exceedingly dim.

The council said it is not convinced that tax rate increases are necessary to support the anticipated steady rise in the scale of cash benefits. In fact, it contended that "should be possible to postpone any increases in the contribution rates . . . well into the next century."

Social Security Administration officials scrupulously avoid making recommendations of their own. But it was significant that Commissioner Robert M. Ball, against the backdrop of clamor to get more spending money into consumer hands, recently called attention to the council's firm stand against rate boosts in the decade just ahead.

Mills evidently remains unimpressed by all this. Existing law provides for a schedule of rate increases to begin taking effect in calendar 1973. The new House-passed Social Security bill would institute a stiffer schedule of rate hikes starting next January, and would also put the 1972 tax base at $10,200 instead of the scheduled $9,000. These tough provisions are Mills' handiwork.

That measure, part of the omnibus H. R. 1 which also includes major Medicare changes and sweeping welfare reforms, awaits Senate action, but could reach passage by November or early December.

If H.R. 1's Social Security features were to take effect on Jan. 1, U.S. workers would find the government slicing 5.4 per cent out of pay checks instead of the present 5.2 per cent. Any worker, earning the tax base limit of $10,200 would yield $550.80 for 1972 instead of the $468 to be taken out under present law.

RAY CROMLEY

The Impact

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Like no other recent predecessor, President Nixon has developed the art of unpredictability as a deliberate strategy of government.

Insiders say he believes this keeps opponents off balance, and convinces friends and enemies alike that he means business.

This unpredictability was utilized most recently and spectacularly in the economic measures which seemed to go against almost everything the President had been preaching for years.

— It was a major objective in his dramatic military attack on North Vietnam's Cambodian bases.

And in the Nixon-sponsored South Vietnamese drive against the North Vietnamese supply lines in Laos.

The aim: to warn Ho Chi Minh's successors in Hanoi not to misread the Vietnam withdrawal as a meek retreat. And it also let Brezhnev and company in the Kremlin know that neither were they dealing with a housebroken pussycat in the Middle East.

Unpredictability again was at work in Kissinger's secret trip mainland China for talks with Chou En-lai. The aim: to convince the Communist world (and others as well) that Nixon could skin cats in a variety of ways despite declining U.S. military prestige, the domestic isolationist movement and his own reputation as a hard liner toward communism. The slowdown in Vietnam had not destroyed American initiative.

But above all, the approach to mainland China was intended to convince the world that no longer would — U.S. world strategy be based on the theory of a monolithic Communist world.

— And finally, unpredictability was the message Nixon wanted to signal in his rough economic proposals.

What he wanted the world to know (an Americans, too) was that Nixon would be tough, and that this was likely only the beginning.

When it comes to inflation, the adverse balance of payments and obstacles to American exports, the President is not going to be inhibited. He isn't going to be bound by standard operating procedures or his own long-held theories on economics or shy away from New Deal style measures. If these initial moves do not work, more surprises will be in order. The message to 50 states and 100 nations was clear: Cooperate now or even stronger medicine will be coming.

It just might work.

People's Voice

Editor, Times-News:

I'm sitting on the stage of the Wood River Rock Festival right now, and good sounds and good feelings are filling the air. In front and below me are approximately 2,000 people from all over the United States — travelers, farmers, town-people, festival followers, hippies, bikers and children.

I have to ask myself why, or better yet, what, could bring 2,000 people together to sit through all the discomforts of a poorly organized festival — poor sound system, intense temperature extremes and limited facilities?

I have been asked to be the spokesman of the people, by the people. But more important still, and the reason I find this story easy to write, is because I am one of the people.

At this point the press has been unfair to all the people involved in the festival. I'm not saying they've been unfair to the organizers of this festival, because blame should fall where blame belongs.

What must be clearly exposed is not the superficial problems involved in the mechanical operations of the festival, but rather the badly needed expression of the people themselves.

They're all standing now, the people that is, all joined, clapping hands in a kind of harmony I don't think an outside reporter could relate to.

Perhaps we've been lucky. There have been no injuries, no fights, in fact there has been nothing, nothing except a kind of unspoken understanding by all the people.

It is this very feeling, this rhythmic undercurrent, that is the essence, the very life blood of what keeps 2,000 people together under such difficult conditions.

As far as the press coverage is concerned, it hurt us — the organizers, the backers and the people. But we are only a microorganism, a tiny gathering of people.

But what we can't afford to let go untreated is the damage done to the reason we were gathered here.

The people and their feelings and their beliefs here at the Wood River Rock Festival are only a symbol of the real story. Festivals are here to stay, and for this I give thanks, for it is one of the only ways in which people can still get together, in mass, and promote the most valuable commodity left to us as human beings — peace and happiness.

Senate okays upping war on poverty

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate has endorsed an escalation of the war on poverty, approving $5.9 billion legislation that would continue and expand programs to aid the nation's 47.5 million poor and near-poor.

Sent to the House Thursday on a 49 to 12 roll call vote was a massive measure to extend existing programs of the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) for two more years and to add some new ones—including comprehensive care centers for all the nation's children through the age of 14, rich and poor alike.

It would also divorce the controversial legal services for the poor program from OEO and set it up as an independently run nonprofit corporation free of political pressures and forbidden political participation.

The measure would further attempt to attack unemployment among the young by pouring an additional $500 million into the Neighborhood Youth Corps to provide up to 100,000 job-training slots, particularly for high school dropouts. To accomplish its goal of curbing the nation's poverty rate—which increased last year by 5 per cent after dropping yearly for a decade—the measure would authorize spending $2.95 billion on various programs both in this fiscal year and next.

Government statisticians estimate there are now 25.7 million Americans living below the poverty line and another 22 million "near poor" hovering just above it—together, about one-quarter of the population.

Though the administration basically supported the OEO extension and the proposed new programs, Republican forces struggled in vain to tailor the bill more to White House liking on the Senate floor. On roll call after roll call, administration-backed amendments seeking to change details were dumped.

On the closest vote, majority Democrats—aided by five GOP senators whose votes made the difference—beat back an attempt to delete language barring the transfer of OEO programs to other agencies. The language, kept in on a 31 to 26 roll call, was designed to halt the gradual dismantling of OEO undertaken by the administration.

The proposed National Legal Services Corp. would continue to furnish legal aid to those who can't afford it—except in criminal cases—now provided through OEO, but it would be run by an independent board and its lawyers—who have become embroiled in political controversy in many cities—would be barred from all political activities, including lobbying.

The accident rate is lower among cars driven with lights on in the daytime, says the Highway Research Board. A one-year test found 200 lights on cars had an accident rate 18 per cent below that of 400 cars operated under the same conditions but without lights.

Visits U.S.

TOKYO (UPI)—Emperor Hirohito's youngest son, Prince Hitachi, will leave Friday for a nine-day visit to the United States, the Imperial household agency announced Thursday. ## Army rests case against Medina

FT. McPHERSON, Ga. (UPI) — The Army rested its case against Capt. Ernest L. Medina Thursday after calling a lie detector expert who testified that Medina told him he had lost control of his troops at My Lai.

Conclusion of the government's case came at 3:55 p.m. EDT shortly after Robert A. Brisentine, an Army CID agent who administered the lie detector test, stepped down.

F. Lee Bailey, Medina's civilian attorney, is expected to move for a dismissal of the case Friday on grounds that the Army had failed to prove its charges that the 34-year-old Medina had killed, or permitted his men to kill 102 civilians at My Lai on March 16, 1968.

Court was recessed for the day after the prosecution rested, and the jurors were advised their presence in court would not be needed Friday, since the day is expected to be taken up by a number of technical motions—including the one to dismiss.

Assuming the judge, Col. Kenneth A. Howard, orders the trial to continue, the first witness for the defense Monday is expected to be Lt. William L. Calley Jr., one of Medina's platoon leaders at My Lai. Calley stands convicted of 22 murders in the Vietnamese Village, but has the conviction under appeal.

POCATELLO (UPI) — Pocatello Police have arrested Kermit Nielson, 24, Pocatello on charges of first degree murder in the stabbing death of a 26-year-old Idaho State University coed.

Nielson was to be arraigned Friday on the charges. Police said he is believed to be a former boy friend of the victim.

Irene Benson Wagstaff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Redford Benson, Malad, was slashed on her throat and stabbed in the abdomen with a knife more than 15 times, police reported.

No motive has yet been disclosed for the killing.

$250 million loan okayed for firm

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration approved a $250 million guarantee Thursday for Lockheed Aircraft Corp., clearing the way for the financially troubled firm to finish work on its TriStar jumbo jet.

The action was taken in a unanimous vote by the Emergency Loan Guarantee Board, a special three-man group set up to study Lockheed's need for assistance to avoid bankruptcy.

The emergency board, composed of Treasury Secretary John B. Connally, Federal Reserve Board Chairman Arthur Burns and William J. Casey, chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission, was given authority by Congress to guarantee $250 million worth of loans to financially destitute companies where the national interest was involved.

Virtually the entire authorization would be used for the Lockheed loan.

Samuel R. Pierce, general counsel of the Treasury and executive director of the emergency board, said a contract would be closed in New York Tuesday between a consortium of 24 banks who will put up the money, Lockheed and the government.

Several airlines who have orders for the TriStar will sign contracts with Lockheed at the same time.

The British government, which is underwriting the Rolls-Royce RB 211 jet engine that will power the 256-passenger TriStar, insisted on U.S. government-guaranteed loan as a price for approving the contract.

Rolls-Royce, which ran into a number of technological problems in developing the engine, suffered another setback when the Treasury Department ruled that the 10 per cent import surcharge in President Nixon's new economic program would be levied against the British engines.

Job Corps center converted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The disposition of the Mountain Home Job Corps Civilian Conservation Center has been completed by officials of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Rep. James A. Mc Clure announced Thursday.

Edgemoade, a center for emotionally disturbed children, will get most of the facility, while the water and sewage system will be awarded to the city of Mountain Home.

Dr. S. William Dinwiddie, who heads Edgemoade, will operate a residential psychiatric treatment center offering a two-year, 24-hour program for approximately 150 children including nursing care, weekly individual and group therapy, elementary and secondary educational programs, vocational training and recreational facilities.

Six held for bus bombing

DETROIT (UPI) — Six men, including two key figures in the Michigan Ku Klux Klan, have been arrested on conspiracy charges in the bombing of 10 empty school buses in Pontiac Aug. 30, a week before a court-ordered desegregation program began.

The arrests, made by FBI agents Thursday, came hours after school buses in the nearby industrial city moved out of their depot on schedule and without incident for the first time since schools opened for Pontiac's 24,000 school children, 9,000 of whom are affected by the busing program. Scattered violence was reported after schools closed for the day.

The six were charged with conspiracy to violate federal bomb laws, conspiracy to obstruct federal court orders and conspiracy to violate the 1968 Civil Rights Act.

Among those arrested was Robert Miles, 46, of Howell, who resigned last spring as Grand Dragon of the Michigan KKK, but probably "still runs the show," according to Ralph B. Guy, Jr., U.S. Attorney for the Eastern District of Michigan.

Factory bombed

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — Four gunmen wearing masks invaded a Belfast match factory today, tied up two night watchmen, and planted four bombs that later ripped the structure apart, an army spokesman said.

The watchmen were freed by the gunmen before the bombs exploded, setting off a fire and collapsing the building's roof and walls. No injuries were reported.

The 3 a.m. attack on the McGuire and Patterson match factory in Belfast's Roman Catholic Falls Road area came after other blasts Thursday night and today damaged at least six other structures in the province, including a government stationery office in the capital.

Mellow Old Crow Bourbon begins with men who love to work with their hands

Kentucky craftsmen made Old Crow famous. Back in 1835, our people figured out the formula that made Bourbon taste mellow, bottle after bottle, and later they handmade the first sour mash Bourbon. We still use our hands in making Old Crow Bourbon.

Old Crow. The Bourbon made by good Kentucky hands.

Money decisions pend

By PHIL NEWSOM
 UPI Foreign News Analyst
 When President Nixon let the dollar float free and in effect devalued it, there followed for him and his advisers some days of breath-holding while they waited to see what the rest of the world might do in retaliation.
 By imposing a 10 per cent surcharge on imports and freeing the dollar the President had lowered the cost of U.S. goods on the world market, thereby giving them a competitive advantage both at home and abroad.
 As two of the nations most effected by the President's defensive moves, Japan and Canada could be expected to be among those most tempted to retaliate against U.S. goods, thus touching off a trade war which others quickly would join.
 Neither has, and, in fact, neither officially even has criticized publicly the U.S. move.
 In Washington, a cabinet level meeting between U.S. and Japanese officials has been described as the most important in the 10 years since the meetings began.

 While firm decisions were not expected to emerge from the Washington sessions, they did give both sides a chance to establish positions which would be debated later in September at a conference of the free world's 10 richest nations.
 The United States wanted Japan to reevaluate the yen upward by as much as 10 to 15 per cent, to relax import restrictions on such items as U.S. computers, meats and fruits.
 But the Japanese, recovering from their earlier fright, were not going to be stampeded.
 They expected to reevaluate the yen but perhaps by only half as much as the U.S. wanted. They might also agree to a cutback in export of Japanese textiles to the United States.
 In return for any concessions, they wanted withdrawal of the 10 per cent U.S. surcharge.
 It was obvious that agreement on a new exchange rate between the yen and the dollar would have to await decisions reached at the London conference.
 For Japan the U.S. action meant an anticipated slow-down in its economic growth rate from seven or eight per cent to around six per cent, healthy by most standards.

Youths' remarks on dope notable

By RICK DU BROW
 HOLLYWOOD (UPI) - "If You Turn On," a one-hour experience in which youngsters personally knowledgeable about the taking of narcotics spoke their minds, was presented on CBS-TV Wednesday night.
 There were also statistics and survey results and medical experts and performers—Carol Burnett, Arte Johnson and Greg Morris—offering information about the use of narcotics. But it was the directness of the youngsters—their honesty, concern and heart-rending remarks in trying to come to terms with themselves and the world around them—that gave the hour more than ordinary impact.
 In these remarks, a combination of confessions, pleas and no-nonsense talk, there was a genuine attempt to bridge the gap of understanding that, at times, one was so moved that tears were not far away.
 "If You Turn On" was produced originally by, and presented on, the CBS-owned television station in Los Angeles, KNXT, and received many awards, including an Emmy.
 The broadcast delved into the truth and myths about such narcotics as marijuana, heroin, pep pills, barbiturates and hallucinogenic drugs. In the remarks by the youngsters was the repeated plea that if you really want help, if you really want to quit, there are many places that offer assistance.
 Some remarks by the youngsters were especially notable. In a discussion about the interrelationship of today's society and narcotics takers, one young man observed succinctly that you can't change anything when loaded.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: My daughter recently became engaged. She told me that she and her fiancé have decided to have one of those "natural" weddings—the outdoor type where everything is informal.

She and her fiancé are making up their own wedding service. I've never heard of this before. What's the matter with the traditional marriage ceremony? She said they're using parts of the Old Testament, quotes from Shakespeare, and the lines of some popular songs in their service! They are being married by a minister, thank God.

I think they are getting too far out, Abby. Will this type of service be considered legal? Should I interfere, or should I let them [as they say] "do their thing?"

OLD-FASHIONED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Let them do their thing. Their minister will guide them to be sure it's "legal."

DEAR ABBY: Your advice to the mother who was disappointed at finding birth control pills in the purses of her daughters, ages 19 and 21, was the worst I've read yet.

You are doing these girls a terrible injustice by assuming that because they take birth control pills they have already made their decision to engage in premarital sex.

Birth control pills are prescribed for many reasons: to relieve cramps, regulate the menstrual cycle and to clear up acne. Ask any doctor!

DISAPPOINTED IN YOU

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: I am aware of the many uses for birth control pills, but it is highly unlikely that these sisters, living at home, would have "medical problems" of which their mother was not aware. It's possible, of course, but not probable.

DEAR ABBY: You devoted a whole column to vasectomies, but there wasn't one mention of the fact that this operation CAN be reversed. It is not always possible, but according to my doctor, 80 per cent success has been reported.

Six years ago, after the birth of our second child, I had a vasectomy because my wife and I felt that two children were all we could afford to raise properly. Our younger child died in infancy and we wanted another so my doctor performed a "reverse" operation on me and now we are looking forward to becoming parents again.

Please print this for those who think if a man once has a vasectomy he can never again father a child.

BEEN THRU IT

DEAR BEEN: Thanks for writing. Many others have written to say they have been thru it, too.

DEAR ABBY: When "ON THE ROAD IN INDIANA" is investigating roadside picnic areas for pet "souvenirs," I hope she has a sack big enough to pick up the "souvenirs" left by the two-legged dogs who have no regard for public property, i. e., beverage cans, cigaret butts, garbage, paper, etc.

We travel with two Kerry Blue terriers and a Gibbon ape, and wherever we go we are surrounded by smiling people who enjoy seeing our menagerie. And we always clean up after both kinds of dogs. Sign me... "On the road in behalf of..." "MICKEY, KIM AND HONEY"

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 63700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Map of achievements

TWENTIETH CENTURY Club president, Mrs. Roy Painter, right, explains the club's "history" map of achievements to Mrs. Marjorie Vogel, president of the Idaho Federated Women's Clubs, during the club's Silver Tea and meeting this week at the Turf Club. Colored pins on the map depicted the various presidents' community projects.

Achievement map presented

TWIN FALLS — A "history" map of the achievements of the Twentieth Century Club was presented by Mrs. Roy Painter, club president, to the club when members met this week at the Turf Club for their annual Silver Tea.

Colored pins on the map depicted the various presidents' projects in the area for community improvement and enjoyment.

Corsages were presented to the past presidents and tribute given them by Mrs. Wanda Reed. Mrs. Painter presided during the business session.

Speaker of the day, Mrs. Marjorie Vogel, president of the Idaho Federated Women's Clubs, talked on "Federation."

According to Mrs. Vogel, the Federation started in 1888 with twelve women. Twenty-one years later the General Federation of Women's Clubs was organized. It is now the largest organization in the world, with a membership of over 10,000 women. As federated members, women are a bridge to world standards and purposes. "Federated women are better wives and citizens," she said. "Only in a free nation such as ours can we have and enjoy these federated clubs."

Guests from the federated clubs and Twin Falls Junior Club were honored. Mrs. William M. Reese, Junior Club president, spoke on the club's aims and purposes as a civic organization. Sheryl Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cook, Twentieth Century Club's Girls' State delegate, gave a report on her trip to Girls' State.

Mrs. Carl Gibbs, Kimberly, presented "Canzonetta" from Violin Concert by Tchaikovsky, with Mrs. Robert Denton, Kimberly, as pianist.

Tea was poured by Mrs. E. E. Jellison and Mrs. R. T. Campbell.

Wilda Metts, Marion wed

TWIN FALLS — The Carillon was the setting for the Aug. 21 wedding uniting in marriage Wilda Metts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arvin Metts, Hazelton, and Rick Marion, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theford Marion, Burley.

Rev. C. W. Hood performed the double ring ceremony before a white velvet flocked background accented with purple bells and satin streamers. Candelabra trimmed in purple satin and cathedral baskets of white gladioli and purple chrysanthemums enhanced the setting.

Topiary trees of purple roses joined with satin-ribbon led to the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Rocky Metts, wore an A-line silhouette gown of alencon lace featuring a victorian neckline, lily point sleeves and long three-tiered cathedral train.

Her bouffant veil of bridal illusion fell from a cluster of orange blossoms.

DiAnne Shrum, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor, with Kathy Bailey, cousin of the bride, and Joyce Marion, sister of the bridegroom, as bridesmaids.

Cloyde Marion, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man, with Mike Metts, brother of the bride, and Dan Marion, brother of the bridegroom, as ushers and candlelighters.

Nancy-Rehwalt registered guests at a round table skirted with lace and accented with an arrangement of flowers and a purple plum pin.

Leslie Dirickson and Pauline Parsons displayed gifts on the balcony.

Organist was Debbie Thomsen, cousin of the bride.

The bride's table highlighted the decor, covered with lace over white satin and accented with purple satin bows and streamers. A three-tiered square wedding cake, decorated with purple lilies and topped with satin bells, centered the table. Crystal candelabra adorned with purple and white chrysanthemums flanked the cake.

Ann Marion, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, cut and served the cake. Barbara Ellis and Janice Bradley, sister of the bridegroom, served coffee and punch.

After a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe, the couple will reside in Burley.

Chapter has first meet of season

SHOSHONE — A potluck dinner was held prior to the first fall meeting of Lincoln Chapter No. 42, Order of Eastern Star, this week at the Masonic Temple.

At the chapter meeting, conducted by worthy matron, Mrs. George Kenaston, and worthy patron, George Kenaston, the altar was draped in memory of Laura Gough, past grand matron, and the charter was draped in memory of Mrs. Carolyn Walker and Irl Sonner.

Guests attended from Richfield and Halley. Members contributing to the ESTAR fund were Mrs. Arthur Martin, Mrs. Gladys Shaw, Mrs. Frank Finlayson, Mrs. Carl Schuppenies, Mrs. Frank Shaffer, Mrs. Kenneth Crothers, Mrs. Edith Coles and Charles Pendleton.

Invitations were received from Miriam Chapter No. 16 at Mountain Home for Friendship Tuesday; to Bethany Lodge Chapter No. 23 at Halley for official visit of the worthy grand matron, Laura Callender, Cascade, Saturday.

Rebekah delegate elected

TWIN FALLS — Vanessa Johnson was elected representative No. 1 to attend the October Rebekah Assembly in Nampa when members of Primrose Rebekah Lodge met this week at the Odd Fellows Hall.

Mrs. Johnson was also recommended for lodge deputy for next year. Mae Chatterton was elected representative No. 2.

A potluck dinner with the Odd Fellows preceded the meeting. The charter was draped in memory of Mrs. Nora McLey. An invitation was read from the Gooding unit to attend a reception in honor of Brig. Gen. Robert P. Bryon, department commander, Patriarchs Militant of Idaho, from 2 to 5 p.m. Oct. 10 at the IOOF Hall.

Mrs. Dale Bowman gave the thought for the Evening. Hostess Committee members were Laura Kevan and Ruby Bandy. The next meeting is Sept. 21 and will feature presentation of veteran jewels.

Shrine meet set Monday

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls Shrine Club members will meet for the first time this fall Monday to plan for upcoming events sponsored by the club.

The meeting will be held at the Alley Restaurant, beginning with a 6:30 p.m. social hour followed by a 7:30 p.m. dinner.

According to club secretary, Floyd E. White, Twin Falls, the members will discuss the Shriner's sponsorship of the Oct. 1 football game between the Pocatello High School and the Twin Falls Bruins.

In addition, members will plan for the Oct. 29 annual food caravan to the Shrine Crippled Children's Hospital at Salt Lake City. White said members should check their membership cards to determine whether or not they are expired. All Shriners are welcome at the meeting, he said.

Bridge winners

BURLEY — The Burley Duplicate Bridge Club met Tuesday with eight tables in play at the Burley Elks Lodge Hall.

North-south winners were Mr. and Mrs. Gail Wolf, first; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Warnke, second; Mrs. Sylvia Beck and Mrs. Margaret Hogg, third, and Mrs. Mae Solomon and Mrs. Esther Norby, fourth.

East-west winners included Mrs. Lucille Haight and Mrs. Darlene Baines, first; Mrs. Virginia Martin and Mrs. Ruth Walton, second, and Dan Hunter and Art Norby and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Sanders all tied for third.

A special newcomers party is being planned for Sept. 21 at the Elks Lodge for bridge players. It was announced that unit American Contract Bridge League will play Sunday at the Rogerson Hotel, Twin Falls.

Two religious groups differ over Mid-East

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Two of America's most distinguished religious organizations are feuding publicly over U.S. policy in the Middle East.

Involved are the American Friends Service Committee (AFSC), a Quaker organization long noted for its objective view toward current political problems and the American Jewish Committee, equally distinguished and considered one of the most eloquent spokesmen for the organized Jewish community in the United States.

Richmond, Ind., seemed to be acutely aware of the emotional quicksand involved in any attempt to assess the Middle East situation.

It added that this argument was a false "propaganda claim" and in accepting that version of the origin of Israel, "the Quaker report furthers the Arab line."

Lutherans slate special events

GOODING — Recognition for the annual Lutheran Women's Missionary League will be held the first Sunday in October.

Equine census under estimate

MOSCOW (UPI)—The University of Idaho announced today there are 51,399 horses, donkeys, ponies and mules in the state according to a census taken by the Cooperative Extension Service.

The census was taken in order to find out how much vaccine would be needed if a disease such as sleeping sickness hit Idaho. The reported animals would get first choice of vaccine in any statewide effort at controlling a disease, university officials said, and quantity of vaccine based on this census would probably be inadequate.

No change

BOISE (UPI)—A spokesman for the Idaho Food Dealers Association says food prices will continue to fluctuate but will remain below the ceilings ordered in the president's price freeze. Executive Director J. Tim Brennan, Boise, said he received a number of telephone calls from supermarket companies and that the "overwhelming majority" expressed unqualified cooperation with the spirit as well as the letter of the new policies.

Feed price stays same

BOISE (UPI) — Prices paid by Idaho farmers for a selected group of livestock feeds in mid-August were generally steady with the previous month, according to the Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.
Bran, laying feed and chick starter increased in price, while dairy feed went down.
Middlings, cottonseed meal and soybean meal remained the same.

Court OK's conviction

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UPI) — The Nevada Supreme Court Wednesday upheld the cattle rustling conviction of John Jay Casey Jr., in Nye County.
The court, in an unanimous opinion written by Justice Elmer Gunderson, rejected the contention that Casey's constitutional right to privacy was violated when state agents secretly watched and searched the area where the cattle were slaughtered.
Gunderson cited a U.S. Supreme Court decision which said an "individual ordinarily has no constitutionally protected right to expect privacy in an open field."
In 1970, 10 million trans-oceanic telephone calls were made via satellites.

'Bread day' set Oct. 5

BOISE — The third annual U.S. observance of the International Day of Bread will be Oct. 5, Harold West, Boise, regional chairman for the event, said today.

A holiday celebrated for many years in Europe and South America, the Day of Bread was originated to honor bread as the symbol of all food. The 1971 theme is "Hunger Fighter for 6,000 Years."

Washington, D. C., and throughout the nation on Oct. 5. "Wheat is the world's most widely cultivated food plant," West said. "It is eaten in a variety of forms, mostly as bread, by more than a billion human beings."

Stamp change ban set

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department, bowing to congressional pressure, proposed Wednesday to ban giving food stamp recipients up to 49 cents in cash change, a move approved only eight months ago to speed supermarket checkouts.
Following the directive of a House-Senate Conference Committee written into the Agriculture Department's appropriations bill, which cited potential abuses, Assistant Agriculture Secretary Richard E. Lyng said retail stores could give change only in 50-cent food stamps, credit slips or tokens.

The legislators had warned that under the old Dec. 29 rule, needy persons could make repeated small food stamp purchases and use the cash change to buy ineligible items such as beer, soap and paper products. Lyng said only "minor" violations of the change rule had been found.

Lyng also proposed reversing a companion rule permitting use of food stamps to pay deposits on returnable bottles. Needy buyers will now have to pay deposits in cash. A final ruling on both new policies will be issued in 30 days.

"Archeological findings date the cultivation of wheat as far back as 6700 B.C. Scientists say that civilization may have begun with the domestication of wheat, marking man's transition from nomad to farmer." West, who is administrator of the Idaho Wheat Commission, said the Day of Bread will be sponsored in this state by the Idaho Bakers Assn. and the Idaho State Wheat Growers Assn.
Special observances are being planned in several cities throughout the state.

Harvesting pace slows

BOISE (UPI) — The U. S. Department of Agriculture reported Wednesday that the abrupt change in the weather has halted harvesting in many areas of Idaho.
The report said in northern Idaho many Austrian winter peas remain unharvested. In the southern portion of the state, potatoes, beans, onions, alfalfa seed, corn and fruit are the main crops still unharvested.
The percentage of crops harvested to date according to the report area: onions, 10 per cent; peaches, 30 per cent; pears, 80 per cent; plums 60 per cent, hops 40 per cent; beans 40 per cent and potatoes 10 per cent in 10 southwest Idaho counties.

Slaughter for July up little

BOISE (UPI) — Commercial slaughter plants in Idaho produced 22.4 million pounds of meat during July, compared with 21.1 million pounds in 1970 and 22.3 million two years ago, according to the Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.
The report said there were three per cent more cattle slaughtered than a year ago which, coupled with an increase of 30 pounds in average weight per head, pushed the total live weight pounds six per cent higher.
There were 1,500 more hogs killed during July than the year before, but the average liveweight per head was lighter.
Sheep slaughter was the same.

Would you believe ... a high-speed plowdown that can't segregate?

ORTHO

It is difficult to believe, isn't it? "High-speed plowdown" would definitely indicate a dry, broadcast fertilizer. And everybody knows that dry fertilizer ingredients have different shapes and densities and that they tend to segregate during handling and application. The result: uneven, unreliable plant feeding, at best; reduced yields and profits, at worst.

Well, would you believe ... UNIPELS?

UNIPELS have all three primary nutrients — nitrogen, phosphorus, and potash — chemically combined in precise ratio in each pellet! You couldn't segregate the nutrients if you tried.

What's more, every pellet has the same shape and density for the most uniform distribution possible when applied from a broadcast-type spreader. And, no more trouble regulating spreader flow.

The result: a balanced, controlled diet for every plant in the field.

Come see us and learn more about the speed, ease, and effectiveness of UNIPELS. It'll make a believer out of you!

TF day tops 1970 fair record

By MARJORIE LIERMAN
Times-News Writer

FILER — Thursday's East End Day at the Twin Falls County Fair saw 15,100 people enter the gates, topping last year's second day attendance by over 600. Today, West End Day, is expected to see another record breaking attendance, as some years the third day is the largest of the four-day fair.

"This is the best over-all fair we have ever had," Harold Hove, fair board president, said today. The board has received compliments this year on the fair than he can ever remember in previous years. Hove praised the outstanding exhibits in the agricultural building where the granges have produced many fine displays of fruits, vegetables and flowers, using the theme "Calvacade of Queens."

A Hereford steer owned by Dianna Scott, Hazelton, was named grand champion at the pre-rodeo events Thursday and was led into the ring by Debbie Howard, Miss Hereford Idaho. The Harper Brothers of the Fishhook Ranch, Malts, received the reserve champion steer award.

A parade of Herefords displayed the best of the animals from Thursday's Register of Merit show and the best 10 head award was presented by Tony Parks, attorney general, to the Adams Brothers of Kilgore, Neb. Parks was appearing on behalf of Gov. Cecil Andrus who could not be present. Judge Odell Glevens made the selection before the rodeo crowd.

Other Hereford champions included grand champion bull, Stone Hereford Ranch, Hermiton, Ore.; reserve champion bull, Wyoming Hereford Ranch, Cheyenne, Wyo.; champion female, the OXO Ranch, Ridgeway, Colo.; reserve champion female, Selkirk Ranch, Sandpoint; and get-of-sire, Adams Brothers, Kilgore, Neb.

The "Calvacade of Queens" Thursday evening featured all queen winners of Idaho through the past years who were brought into the arena in special cars and presented to rodeo spectators by Bill Moore, fair board member. The women were escorted to their seats in the grandstand by W. L. Chancey, Twin Falls County commissioner.

Thursday night rodeo results include:

Bareback riding — Jim Dix, Iona, 79; Jack Dawson, Boulder, Mont. 71; and a tie for third among Royce Smith, Challis, and Jim Ivory, Thermopolis, Wyo.; both 68.

Steer wrestling — Frank Shepperson, Midwest, Wyo., 4.7; Eddie Bolen, Burley, 6.0 and Ronnie Norris, Toole, Utah, 8.8.

Kiwanis conclave opening

BURLEY — About 500 Kiwanis Club members from Utah and Idaho began gathering in Burley today for the 52nd annual district convention which continues through Sunday.

Planned Saturday is a barbecue at the Burley Golf Course at 6:30 p.m. In case of bad weather the event will be held in the Ponderosa Inn, convention headquarters.

Special entertainment at the barbecue will be roving troubador Mel Anderson, Idaho Falls, and Ralph Walquist, who does Indian Hoop dances and a snake dance.

The group will have a breakfast at 7:30 a.m. Sunday followed by a worship and memorial service. Rev. Earl D. Hunter, of the Church of the Nazarene, Burley, will speak.

Music will be provided by "The Singing K's" of Burley. Bob Jackson, a member of the Key Club, Burley High School, will sing "The Lord's Prayer." The memorial service will be directed by Howard E. Watts, Ogden, district secretary.

A luncheon will conclude the general session Sunday and the 1970-71 and 1971-72 district boards will be presented. Featured speaker will be Dr. John A. Dixon, Salt Lake City. Special entertainment will be the Kiwanis Boys Choir, Boise, directed by Bruce Walker.

The retiring board members and the new board members will meet at 2:30 p.m. in the conference room.

Special activities are planned for the women during the three-day session. Besides the golf tournament there will be a fashion show, breakfast at 8:30 a.m. Saturday with a presentation by Fred Ochi, an artist from Idaho Falls; bridge and pinocle games, a tour of homes in the Mini-Cassia area, plus free time for shopping or sight-seeing.

without any thought of politics," Hough said.

He said the error first was called to the governor's attention by a newspaper reader who wrote into an action column.

Andrus instructed him to check it out, Hough said, and he was informed by acting Parks Director Phil Peterson that Allison was a Republican. Further checking, he said, has disclosed this was incorrect and that Allison actually is a Democrat.

Douglas Kramer, Twin Falls County GOP chairman, earlier complained that Andrus had too many Democrats on the board and that Allison's appointment was improper.

Then, Hough said, Wednesday morning Beth Durham, a board member from Lewiston told the governor she wanted to resign for "personal reasons." Hough said Andrus will name a Republican to succeed Mrs. Durham, a Democrat, and thereby restore the proper political balance to the board.

A thought for today: American writer Max Eastman said, "I don't know why it is we are in such a hurry to get up when we fall down. You might think we would lie there and rest a while."

Andrus to set 'error' right

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus "made a mistake" by appointing a Democrat to succeed a Republican on the State Parks Board but the error will be corrected, an aide said Thursday.

Press Secretary John Hough said Andrus, by law, should have named a Republican to succeed Harold Brown, Filer, when Brown's term expired June 30. State law requires bipartisan membership on the board and the appointment of Merle Allison, Filer, over-weighed the board with four Democrats to two Republicans.

Parents notified

WENDELL — Arlin Dennis, principal of the Wendell Elementary School, said his office is making an effort to notify parents of children in the district who will be 5 years old on or before Oct. 15 to prepare for kindergarten session to start tentatively Oct. 1.

Dennis asks that all parents of qualified children who have not received a letter from his office by the end of next week to either call or visit his office.

Riot could have been avoided, panel states

BOISE (UPI) — A special investigating committee told Gov. Cecil D. Andrus in a narrative report Thursday the Aug. 10 prison riot was a predictable event which "could have been avoided."

In a seven and one-half page narrative report, the committee included its previously announced riot causes and recommendations for changes at the penitentiary.

Additionally, the committee included a narrative "epilog" which said that Raymond May, director of corrections and warden, "has been spread too thin."

The accident at the Idaho State Penitentiary on the night of Aug. 10 probably could have been avoided," the report said. "In fact...May said he was driving too fast..."

"It's the committee's feeling that the director of corrections has been spread too thin. It's difficult at best to supervise the day-to-day operations of a prison and, at the same time, supervise construction of a new, $10 million facility."

Most witnesses, the report said, had high praise for May and what he has tried to do in helping to adopt a rehabilitative instead of a punitive attitude toward corrections.

Committee members also concluded the riot may have been planned by a small group of inmates but they said it was doubtful if it was planned for any specific time or as an operation involving all convicts. Poor communications between administration and operating staff, the committee noted, apparently led to a misunderstanding of what was to be accomplished.

By its very existence, the committee said, the committee may have helped alleviate part of this problem.

However, the committee also suggested the prison administration "establish procedures for handling news personnel and other outsiders during future disturbances."

"All news personnel should be handled on an equal basis and every attempt should be made to provide reporters accurate information on what is happening as soon as possible," the report said.

Rupert man heads plans

BURLEY — A Rupert man was elected Thursday night to head a group to locate and finance a child development center in the Mini-Cassia area by December of this year.

Dr. John H. Head, an optometrist and a member of the advisory board to the South Central Idaho Child Development Center in Twin Falls, was elected at a meeting of about 80 people at the West Minico Junior High School.

The proposed center would serve as a "satellite" of the center in Twin Falls, where diagnostic and other tests are made and therapy administered. The primary need for Cassia and Minidoka counties, according to Grant Richins, chairman of the meeting and adviser to the Twin Falls center, is for training for pre-school age children with learning difficulties and for those over 16 years of age.

There currently are 205 reported cases of children with learning difficulties in the two counties, Richins said, although government surveys estimate as many as 1,400 more unreported cases. At present those handicapped must go to Twin Falls for testing and therapy.

Among the speakers Thursday night were Richins, Glen Hill, treasurer of the Davis County, Utah, center; Paul Burnett, director of the Twin Falls center, and Mrs. Rulon Ramsey, member of the center's advisory board.

The speakers concentrated on the need for a center in the Mini-Cassia area and on experiences in establishing centers in surrounding communities. The purpose of the meeting, Richins said, is "to show that we can expand our services to these two counties by hiring three employees and placing them here."

The two counties already have received government funds totalling nearly $30,000 to hire a social worker, a psychologist and a therapy technician. But, about $20,000 is needed to go with available state and federal funds for a proper location for the center.

Air pollution index 83

The pollution reading was taken by the staff of the South Central Health District at the Twin Falls City Hall. The reading is expressed as the number of micrograms of particulate material per cubic meter of air for the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. today. Federal pollution regulations say pollution levels should be kept below 75 micrograms over any 24-hour period, and should not be permitted to rise above 260 micrograms for even a short period of time.

Forecast

Today: Excellent
Tonight: Good
Tomorrow: Excellent

This forecast provided by the Idaho Department of Health indicates the ability of the atmosphere to disperse pollution. Burning as permitted by law should be curtailed when the air is poorly able to disperse air pollutants.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Prices on the New York Stock Exchange were lower in quiet trading through the halfway mark Friday.

The Dow Jones industrial average was off about 6 points at 909.68, while declines topped advances by more than a two-to-one margin. Turnover at 1 p.m. amounted to 7,000,000 shares, compared with 10,390,000 for the comparable period Thursday.

While there is a general air of optimism filtering through the investment community, analysts observed, profit taking is interrupting things a bit. But most believed it will do little damage to the market's trend which has been higher since President Nixon's mid-August announcement that he was charting a new plan for economic recovery.

Among the day's most active stocks on the NYSE were White Motor up 1/4 on 116,200 shares, UAL Inc. down a point on 105,900 shares, American Telephone down 1/4 on 84,500 shares, and American Airlines off 1/4 on 82,000 shares.

Less active, but among the softest spots were IBM down 2 1/4, Westinghouse 1 1/4, Burroughs 2 1/4, Loews Corp. 1, Digital Equipment 1 1/4, and Superior Oil 3/4.

Ford Motor, the weakest in its group, dropped 1 1/4. General Motors and Chrysler surrendered fractions.

Steels also backed off slightly.

Q—The easing of restrictions on trade with Communist nations, especially Red China, has obviously opened large, new markets for American companies. Which firms do you see as most able to benefit?—R.T.

A—Although the easing of trade barriers has opened the door, I would not look for any large-scale commerce to develop, particularly with mainland China, for several years. For example, U.S. trade with Eastern Communist nations in 1970 reached only $500 million out of a total East-West trade estimated at the $15 billion level.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Newsbreaks designed to dampen public ardor may be forthcoming in the next few months which would prevent the stock market from peaking too soon before the November, 1972, presidential election, according to Harris, Upham & Co. Such actions would try to keep the advance orderly and sustainable, the firm says.

While remaining bullish on the market, the firm believes it will take some time for the Dow Jones industrial average to mount an assault on the 950-1000 resistance level. It believes interest rates are headed lower and the implications "for the bond market would be favorable and would likely carry over into the stock market."

Enough of President Nixon's new economic program should survive Congress and help power a healthy pickup in business activity and corporate profits over the next year, according to the Argus Weekly Staff Report.

The firm believes a constructive posture toward common stocks is still indicated because of this.

A recovery is underway on the stock market and will become increasingly evident in the months ahead, according to Value Line Selection and Opinion.

Grambling will meet Morgan State on TV to open collegiate year

By United Press International
You'll get a good chance Saturday to take a close look at Grambling and Morgan State, two of the black colleges noted for producing pro football players.

Three WAC squads kickoff 1971 year

United Press International
Three teams, with plenty to prove, kickoff the 1971 Western Athletic Conference football season this weekend, while the WAC's five other squads wait an extra week before entering competition.

Angels nip Brewers in 12th inning

ANAHEIM (UPI)—Rookie second baseman Billy Parker smashed a two-out home run in the bottom of the 12th inning for his first major league hit and it gave the California Angels a 3-2 win over the Milwaukee Brewers Thursday night.

N.Y. nips Mets in exhibition

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ron Hansen's single in the ninth with two out drove in Danny Cater from second base as the New York Yankees rallied to beat the New York Mets 2-1 Thursday night in the Mayor's Trophy game played before 48,872 fans at Shea Stadium.

The Mets scored their only run in the first inning on a single by Ted Martinez, a stolen base and Wayne Garrett's single.

The schools will clash at Yankee Stadium in the first annual Whitney Young Memorial game and the contest will be televised nationally, as the kickoff of ABC's weekly college football series.

The game will have the unusual starting time of 6:30 p.m. EDT because if it was a night game, it would collide in the ratings with the Miss America contest.

Both schools are hoping that a good rating will lead to more appearances for them and other black schools in the future on the college TV series.

Although the pro scouts always follow them closely (Grambling sends more players to the pros than any school except Notre Dame), the two rarely get national recognition and this will be the first time they've appeared as part of the college TV series.

But when the pro fans watch such former Grambling standouts as Buck Buchanan, Clifton McNeil and Willie Brown and such Morgan State stars as Leroy Kelly and Willie Lanier, they get a good idea of the caliber of ball the teams play.

While Grambling and Morgan State are in the TV spotlight, many of the nation's leading schools will be opening their season—including Orange Bowl champion Nebraska—even though it's only Sept. 11.

Nebraska, which wound up with an unbeaten record but was tied once last season by Southern California, will host Oregon.

Tailback Bobby Moore and quarterback Dan Fouts will be shooting for an Oregon upset against Nebraska but the Cornhuskers are a solid-two touchdown favorite with the home field advantage.

USC, which had a disappointing season last year even though it was the only club to tie Nebraska and beat Notre Dame, is also a two-TD favorite over Alabama for their game tonight. This is the second game of a home-and-home series which the two schools established after the 11th game was legalized last year.

Alabama built up a solid reputation in the mid 60's when it was playing mainly Southern schools but the Crimson Tide were ambushed by USC 42-21 last year even though they had the home edge. This time the game is being played in the Los Angeles Coliseum and while Alabama has more experience this year, the Crimson Tide will have difficulty containing the tough Trojans.

The Rose Bowl is still almost four months off but the Michigan-Northwestern clash might ultimately decide who gets the roses in the Big Ten this season. Michigan is the favorite but Northwestern has its best team in recent years and could surprise. Michigan has a question mark at quarterback where sophomore Kevin Casey is the starter.

Three other Big Ten games will be played in the conference's earliest opening in history as Iowa is at Ohio State, Indiana is at Minnesota and Illinois at Michigan State.

In other key matchups around the nation, California meets Arkansas at Little Rock, LSU entertains Colorado, Pitt is at UCLA, Georgia Tech plays South Carolina, Stanford (without Jim Plunkett) goes to Missouri.

Record field set in seniors
GOODING — An anticipated record field of about 100 is expected Saturday for the annual Gooding senior golf tournament, announces tournament chairman Bob Lyon.

Lyon said 90 had entered the two-day tournament by Wednesday night and it would appear the 100 mark would be reached. He noted all the division defending champions are back and entries have been received from throughout Idaho, plus Arizona and Washington. It is open to men 50 and over and to women 45 and older.

The field will be divided into morning and afternoon squads for tee-off purposes. They will start at 8:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. both Saturday and Sunday.

The defending champions are Bill Malmstrom, Boled in gross and Virgil Cross, Kimberly in net for men and Opal Clark, Mountain Home, gross and Fay Wallace, McCall, net for women.

45-foot eagle putt carries Miller into South open lead

COLUMBUS, Ga. (UPI)—John Miller and Jerry Heard were two of the brightest young pros entered in the $100,000 Southern Open golf tournament.

However, they also had a fishing trip scheduled in Montana. Heard went fishing, but Miller, who has shown a distinct preference for Georgia golf courses, decided to play in the Southern.

The 143 other pros in the Southern Open probably wished he had decided to go fishing.

Miller, a member of golf's mod squad who has been playing the game virtually all his life, shot a five-under-par 65 over the Green Island course Thursday and took a two-stroke lead after the first round of the second annual Southern Open.

"I'm glad tournament officials started me into coming down here," Miller said. "I'm having a great time in Columbus. I can always go fishing next week."

Two of Miller's highest finishes on the tour this year came when he tied Jack Nicklaus for second place in the Masters and then finished fifth in the Atlanta classic. He has won more than $65,000 already this year.

Miller might feel he has something extra going for him in the Southern Open. Mason Rudolph won last year's inaugural tournament—then the $60,000 Green Island Open—on his wedding anniversary. Miller and wife Linda will have been married two years on Sept. 17—only five days after the tournament ends.

Miller's best shot Thursday came on No. 18 when he rolled in a 45-foot putt for an eagle. He had three birdies on the front nine, sinking a 40-foot putt on No. 3.

"When I made that 40-footer at No. 5, it was the longest putt I'd had in five or six weeks," Miller revealed. "But then I made the real big one on 18."

Most of the players were talking about the grainy greens after Thursday's opening round. However, Miller said he preferred playing on Bermuda grass.

"I never played those kind of greens before I turned pro," he said, "but I really like them. I probably putt better than most of the guys on rolling, breaking greens."

Two strokes off Miller's pace after the first round are 29-year-old Mike Reasor, who said the greens were the toughest he'd ever played on in his pro career; Homero Blancas and Cesar Sanudo.

Seven players were deadlocked at 68, including Frank Beard and Gay Brewer.

Dan Sikes finished with a 69 Thursday. George Archer, winner of the Greater Hartford Open in a sudden-death playoff last Monday, also was at 69.

Rudolph, the defending champion, came in with an even-par 70 and pointed out that it was five strokes better than he did on the first day last year.

Most of the golfers were predicting that it will take anywhere from 10 to 12 under par to win the tournament, which winds up Sunday. The winner gets $20,000.

John Tremblay of the U.S. third. Gary Hall won the 200 meter individual medley in 2:09.8 over teammate Rick Colella, with Mikhail Sukharev third.

Charles Campbell won the 200 meter backstroke in 2:07.8 over Leonid Dobroskokin, who nonetheless set a Soviet record in 2:11.7, and Mel Nash of the U.S.

America's Jenny Bartz won the women's 400 meter medley in 5:09.7. Susie Attwood finished second and Sheila Ratcliff of Britain was third.

Miss Attwood took first in the women's 200 meter backstroke in 2:24.0. Karen Moe of the U.S. finished second and Irina Golovanova third.

Linda Johnson was the only double winner of the day, taking the women's 100 meter freestyle in 59.6 in addition to her leg of the record-breaking relay. Kim Peyton finished second and Nadezhda Matyukhina third.

The Soviet scoring system awards seven points for first place, five for second, four for third, three for fourth, two for fifth and one point for sixth place.

Twenty-nine races are scheduled for the three day meet: Mark Spitz won the 200 meter butterfly in 2:04.1, leading Ross Walles of the U.S. and Viktor Sharygin of Russia.

The American men won the 400 meter freestyle relay in 3:31.9.

Kick return helps Rams edge 49ers

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Gene Howard ran a fourth-quarter kickoff 103 yards to a touchdown Thursday night to help the Los Angeles Rams out-battle the San Francisco Forty Niners 23-20 in a National Football League exhibition before 55,607 fans.

Howard, a 6-foot, 190-pounder from Langston College, took the kickoff three yards behind the Ram goal line and zigged and zagged his way downfield without a single Forty Niner getting a hand on him.

Sam Scarber made a key block on the Forty Niners' Preston Riley on the San Francisco 12-yard line.

Substitute quarterback Jerry Rhome ignited a Rams second half rally. The score was tied 3-3 at the half.

His passes set up the first ram touchdown. Larry Smith did the honors on a one-yard smash over center at 12:16 in third quarter and the Rams went ahead 7-3.

Willie Ellison lengthened the lead when he rounded left end and cut back to go 20 yards for a score at 15:00 in the third quarter. Then it was 16-3 after David Ray's conversion.

After Bruce Gossett kicked his second field goal for the Forty Niners—a 31-yarder—at 1:58 in the last period, Howard returned the ensuing kickoff and Ray booted the extra point at 2:19 in the fourth period, increasing the Rams' margin to 23-6.

John Brodie hit Gene Washington for two touchdown passes of 11 and 4 yards, to narrow the gap to three points.

San Francisco third baseman Joe Torre Thursday was named National League Player of the Month by a panel of writers and broadcasters in the league's monthly poll.

San Francisco third baseman Alan Gallagher was runnerup. Torre, who has led the league in hitting most of the season, batted .388 in August, hit five home runs and drove in 26 runs. Gallagher hit .427 in 24 games in August with two homers and 18 RBI.

U.S. wins 9 or 10 swimming races

MOSCOW (UPI)—U.S. swimmers won nine of 10 events in Thursday's opening round of the USA-USSR-Britain meet, paced by a world record effort in the women's 400 meter freestyle relay.

That gave the Americans a lead of 119 points to 73 for the Russians and 48 for the British, according to official Soviet scoring released by the Tass news agency.

The three-day international meet is being held in a 50-meter pool at the Aquatic Sports Palace in Minsk, Byelorussia, and is billed by the Soviets as "the first ever" triangular meet between the three nations.

The U.S. swimmers, many of them tuning up for the 1972 Olympics, dominated every event with ease, finishing no lower than third place in any event and grabbing second and third in the women's 100 meter breast-stroke race won by Russia's Galina Stepanova.

But the Americans' finest hour came in the final event of the day. Deena Dearduff, Kim Peyton, Linda Johnson and Shirley Babashoff put together four 100-meter freestyle legs in 4:00.7. Tass said that clipped one tenth of a second off the old world record, held by an East German quartet.

In other events, Jerry Heidenreich won the men's 100 meter freestyle over Russia's Igor Grivennikov in 52.8, with

Boise State and Idaho poised for first football meeting in history

BOISE — Sept. 11, 1971 is bound to be a day that will be remembered in the history of Idaho collegiate football. It will be the first meeting ever on the gridiron between Boise State and the University of Idaho and a Bronco Stadium record crowd of 16,000 is expected to be seated for the 8 p.m. kickoff.

The Boise State Broncos tied the Vandals from Idaho for third place last year in the Big Sky Conference. Both teams had a 2-2 loop mark in 1970.

Boise State defeated Montana State and Idaho State while losing to Weber and to Long Beach State which counted as a Big Sky encounter.

The Vandals defeated Weber State and Montana State while dropping their league games to Idaho State and the University of Montana. This year the Broncos play a full slate of six conference games while Idaho plays five of the teams in the league. The Vandals will not face Northern Arizona in the upcoming campaign.

A comparison between the two teams is hard since they have not played against one another and this is the first game of the year for both teams.

Vandal head coach Don Robbins has announced that former red-shirt Bruce Cole from Moscow will be the starting quarterback for Idaho and there is little doubt that Bronco head coach Tony Knap will be calling on veteran Eric Guthrie at the quarterback spot for the Broncos.

Commenting on the preparations for the Idaho game, coach Knap said "I think we'll be as ready as we can be. I believe we have touched all the bases."

"We can't expect our performance to be as polished as it would be by mid-season. The fact that we are playing Idaho has pushed our development considerably."

"There isn't a man on our club who doesn't respect the Vandals. We know that they play football of a first class calibre and at the same time we all feel that we can stay with them."

The Bronco head man said that he has been pleased with the development of the Bronco defensive unit this past week. "This could be the big surprise of the season," he said.

"Everyone has picked our defensive unit to be an 'Achilles Heel', but they just may be developing a steel boot," Knap said.

On the offense, coach Knap said that the team continues to build a very diversified attack with a balance between the running and passing games.

T.F. gridders, Mike Newell, to start for Idaho Saturday

MOSCOW — Mike Newell, junior defensive tackle from Twin Falls, has developed into one of the quick explosive types of defensive linemen that Coach Don Robbins needs in anchoring the Idaho Vandals' defensive unit.

Newell, who played his high school football for Norm Thomas at Twin Falls, is a talented athlete who was a basketball and football starter while in high school. As a freshman he had a good year going both ways as an offensive and defensive tackle and last year he came into his own and earned a starting berth on the varsity halfway through the season.

"Mike is probably the sharpest lineman we have. He rarely makes a mistake in execution and has a football sense that gives him an advantage over most linemen. He is a fine student, both on the field and in the classroom. He has learned to use his height (6'5") and weight (225 pounds) to great advantage in our explosive type defense which we like our tackles to use," said Gary Withrow, defensive coach. "Newell has all the talent and the great attitude to be one of Idaho's finest defensive tackles and with two good years, he could be an outstanding pro prospect."

Withrow added. Mike's dad, Jack Newell, is an agent with the FBI and manages to take in most of the Idaho games.

Newell is slated for a starting berth at defensive tackle along with Bill Cady of St. Maries, and Steve Barker of Spokane, Wash., at nose guard in the interior defensive line. Rick Simmons of Spokane at right defensive end and either Alan Vance of Boise, or Oscar Nelson of Wenatchee, at the other end. Ron Linehan, Idaho's great linebacker and co-captain, will join his running mate, Rand Marquess of Wenatchee in leading the "Wild Bunch" defensive unit.

"The Vandals look to be more mature, with plenty of game experience, with a fine team spirit and ready for the opening game with Boise on Saturday evening in Boise," Coach Don Robbins, head man of the Vandals said. The Vandals flew to Boise Friday and will be quartered at the Rodeway Inn. There is a big Idaho Alumni-Booster party set up for the Rodeway Inn on Friday evening and one of the largest turnouts of boosters and Alumni is expected to be on hand for the game, according to Henry Woodhall of Twin Falls, state Vandal Booster president.

Rost and Adams score as Wendell shuts out Filer

WENDELL — Wendell pieced together two sustained drives in the closing half Thursday night and the defense turned in a shutout as the Trojans stopped the Filer Wildcats 12-0.

Russ Rost and big Rod Adams got the touchdowns for Coach Yogi Behrens as Wendell posted its first victory of the season after dropping their first two outings. The result left Filer 0-2 and still looking for its first points.

Although the first half was marred by innumerable penalties — Filer having trouble getting out of the huddle on time five times — the defenses of both teams was by far the best. Filer had Wendell in a hole — thanks to two early 15-yard penalties — most of the first half but was never able to capitalize on the field possession. The second quarter was a punting match.

Wendell went 78 grudging yards, taking up most of the third period. A pass play took the Trojans off a long-yardage hook and to the Filer 22-yard line. Rost burst off tackle and got outside for 17 yards immediately after and came back on the same play for the touchdown.

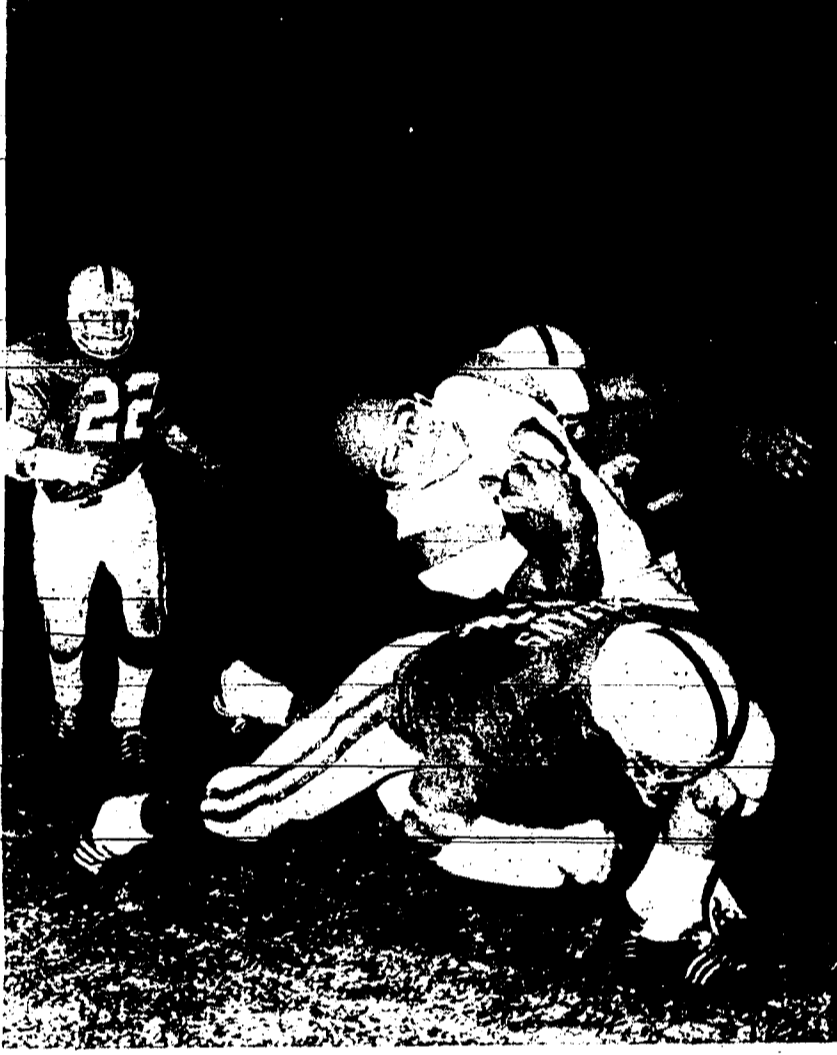

Filer punted shortly after the ensuing kickoff and Wendell again went marching. The two biggest gains in the 61-yard drive came on the final two plays. Quarterback Kirk Webb picked up 11 yards on a completely busted play, Webb improvising through the line when suddenly there was no back to give the ball to. On the next play Adams, who was pretty well contained by Filer most of the night, bulldozed past two tacklers and bell into the end zone to cap a 10-yard effort.

Filer's best chance to score came late in the game when Randy Williamson covered a fumble on the Wendell 37 yard line but two plays later Wendell's Kip Dennis ended it by intercepting a bomb on the nine.

Sideline cruncher

FILER HALFBACK Ron Griff was pretzelled at the end of a sweep against Wendell Thursday night by two unidentified Trojans. Wendell scored twice in the last half for a 12-0 victory.

Irish don't fret Ryder cup team

ST. LOUIS, MO. (UPI)—Eleven members of the British Ryder Cup team arrived here Thursday afternoon and had some hot words for local Irish groups which have announced plans to disrupt the 19th biennial matches Sept. 16-18.

Brian Barnes, 26, a member of the 1969 team which battled the United States team to a 16-16 draw, said, "Let them try it. It might be fun—might add spice, you know. We have some big boys on the team."

Then he asked, "You have a good police force don't you?" Jack Keane, a former Missouri state representative, said Thursday that three Irish-American organizations planned to disrupt the matches next week in protest of the British government's policy which has put hundreds of Irish Patriots behind bars in the fighting in Northern Ireland.

Keane said, "We know they have at least 700 jailed and they won't even post a list of who they have. We want to delay, disrupt and possibly bring about the cancellation of the matches."

He said he spoke for the Ancient Order of Hibernians, the Irish-American club and the Young Ireland Club.

Eric Brown, non-playing captain of the British team, said the three groups "must be wrong in their minds. We've got one (Irishman Christy O'Connor) on our team you know."

"I can't see why they're against us. We have Roman Catholics, Protestants and Jews on the team and we'd have a Moslem or a Hindu if he were good enough," Brown added.

O'Connor said he would play with the team as scheduled. "That's what I'm here for," he said. "I've come over here to follow the game. Golf is a game; it has nothing to do with politics."

Buhl TD in final 49 seconds nets 19-14 win over Vallivue

CALDWELL — Halfback Kim Dunlap bulldozed into the end zone on fourth and a foot with 49 seconds remaining Thursday night to give the Buhl Indians a 19-14 decision over the Vallivue Falcons.

Dunlap's touchdown got the victory which the Indians, particularly the defense, had earned a couple of times but fallen behind on a long run and fumble that set up a score.

Buhl drew first blood, putting together a drive on the running of Steve Dennis and Rick Long to gain the Falcon 27-yard line. From there Mark Machacek threw for the touchdown to Joel Watson. The point-after kick was blocked on a play that loomed larger as the game progressed.

Buhl's success lasted only long enough for Vallivue's Jeff Spencer to take the kickoff on his own 20-yard line and ramble 80 yards to tie it. The point-after kick was wide.

But the Indians rebounded before halftime. Buhl took possession on its own 40-yard line and ran several plays that gained 25 yards. Machacek then threw a first down at the Vallivue six and three plays later Joel Watson went in from the two. Pat Charlton converted.

Vallivue got the break to go ahead in the third period when it recovered a fumble at the Buhl 21. Aided by a major penalty, the Falcons drove to the two and scored on a third-down play. Steve Pickett threw to Asquimedes for the two-point conversion and a 14-13 Vallivue lead.

After that the teams exchanged four punts with Buhl going for the decisive points on the last one. Dennis and Dennis Barnes did the bulk of the gaining to attain a first down at the six. Then on fourth and a foot, the Indians decided against a field goal and Dunlap made the decision look good.

Buhl's defensive unit, which caused eight fumbles with hard hitting during the night, then tackled Pickett trying to pass on three consecutive plays and Watson nailed down the decision when he intercepted Vallivue's last pass.

L.A. downs Padres to tighten race

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—The Los Angeles Dodgers, with Al Downing pitching his 18th win and Richie Allen, Wes Parker and Steve Garvey driving in the scores during a three-run rally in the sixth inning, Thursday night edged the San Diego Padres 3-2 to move within four and one-half games of first place in the National League West.

Downing needed help from 48-year-old Hoyt Wilhelm in the eighth inning when the Padres put two runners aboard with one out. The knuckle-balling right hander retired the side without any damage.

It was the fourth win in a row for the Dodgers and their ninth in their last 11 games as they chase the San Francisco Giants, who were idle Thursday. Los Angeles has 18 games remaining while the Giants have 19 left including a pair with the Dodgers next week.

The win was Downing's third of the year over the Padres and the seventh straight without a loss for Los Angeles in San Diego Stadium this season.

The Dodger left hander now has put together a four-game win string, dating to Aug. 24. He has been defeated eight times, Wilhelm was credited with a save, his first of the season.

Southpaw Freddie Norman was the loser, bowing out for a pinch-hitter in the bottom of the sixth as he dropped his fourth decision in a row to put his season mark at 2-12.

Norman's wildness led to the Dodger tallies in the sixth as he walked Maury Wills and Bobby Valentine to open the inning. Willie Davis popped out to bring up Allen.

The Dodger first baseman who had doubled in the fourth inning lined another two-bagger along the left field line to drive in Wills and tie the score 1-1. San Diego had scored in the fifth on successive singles by Nate Colbert, Ollie Brown and Ivan Murrell.

Manny Mota was walked intentionally to load the bases and Parker followed with a sacrifice fly to right, scoring Valentine and the Dodgers led, 2-1.

Garvey made it 3-1 with a double into the Padre bullpen in left to score Allen. Tom Haller received an intentional pass to load the bases again before Downing flew deep to Brown to end the inning.

Conigliaro eye check confirmed

ANAHEIM (UPI)—An eye specialist here has confirmed a diagnosis that the vision in the left eye of outfielder Tony Conigliaro has deteriorated because of injury suffered when he was hit by a pitched ball in 1967.

Conigliaro was with Boston at the time but was traded to the California Angels this spring. He quit the team after a 20-inning game at Oakland July 9. He announced his retirement at a 5 a.m. news conference but later filed a grievance with the Baseball Players Association, claiming full salary for the season—about $75,000.

Howe joins Wing's high echelon

DETROIT (UPI)—A "nervous as hell" Gordie Howe, a telegram from President Richard M. Nixon among his tributes of the day, officially ended 25 years as a National Hockey League player Thursday and accepted a post as vice president of the Detroit Red Wings.

Howe, head typically bowed while others inundated him with praise, but held high while he was speaking, said his new position will "touch every base" of the Red Wings' operation.

"I could play one more year and play very badly," Howe said, "but what good would that do when it could undo 25 years of work."

"The hand is better," hockey's all-time scoring legend said. "The doctor has given me normal use of my hand."

"But I'm not a one-handed hockey player," Howe said. The operation to correct the arthritic condition of his left wrist did not give the fabled right wing enough use of his left arm for hockey, however.

"He has probably been the greatest single influence in converting this (game of hockey) into a North American game," said NHL President Clarence Campbell.

Opening lead—♦4

With 15 high-card points South feels justified in trying three no-trump. He knows that no guarantee goes with that contract but if you wait for guarantees you won't do well in bridge. South wins the diamond lead in his own hand and has no trouble collecting nine tricks. In fact he will probably come up with 10. If North and South are using forcing raises, North has no way to respond to the club opening. Two clubs is an underbid—a forcing three clubs an overbid. If he takes the high road and does bid three clubs he gets to the right spot. If he just bids two clubs a game has been thrown out the window.

(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

CARD Sense

The bidding has been:
West North East South
1♠ 1♥ 1♣ 1♦
Pass 3♣ Pass 3♥
Pass 3♥ Pass 4♠
Pass 4NT Pass 5♠
Pass 5♠ Pass ?

You, South, hold:
♠ AK87 ♥ KQ94 ♦ 6 ♣ KQ75

What do you do now?
A—Pass. Your partner has taken control and signed off.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding five spades he has bid five no-trump to ask for kings. What do you do now?

Answer Tomorrow

By Oswald & James Jacoby

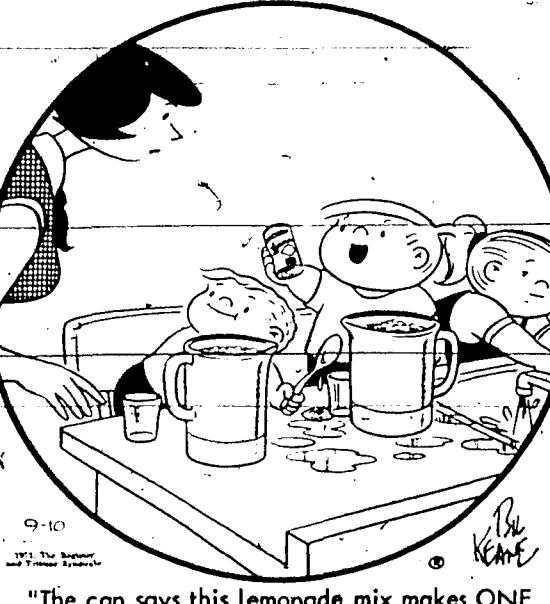

One of the insoluble problems for those who use forcing single jump raises is how to handle the jump from one to three in a minor suit. If the user is a writer he says the raise is forcing but is careful to avoid giving any example or specifying whether the bid is a one-round force or a game force. It is so much easier to use the single jump as a strong invitation and let the opener decide whether to go on.

South opens one club in line with the recognized principle that with 4-3-3-3 distribution you should open one club rather than one spade. North gives a limit jump raise to three clubs.

Vacation pay frozen too, council declares

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Cost of Living Council has ruled that paid vacations may not be increased during the wage-price-rent freeze because vacations are considered longevity benefits and, like other such benefits, are frozen.

Other rulings, in question and answer form:

General
Q: What constitutes a "new product" or "new service" and how is its ceiling price determined?

A: A product or service is new if it is substantially different from other products or services in purpose, function, or technology, or if its use results in a substantially different outcome.

A product or service that differs slightly from other products and services in appearance, arrangement, or combination is not considered to be "new." Changes that are solely a matter of fashion, style, form, or packaging, do not qualify a product as "new." A slight functional modification to an existing product or service does not make it "new." What is normally referred to as a "new model" is not necessarily a "new product."

The ceiling price of a new product or service is determined by the seller applying the percentage mark-up he received during the base period on the most nearly similar product or service to the direct unit or net invoice cost of the new product or service.

The ceiling price of a product or service that is new to the seller, but not to the market, is the price realized on the same or comparable product or service by the most nearly comparable competitor during the base period.

Q: The Economic Stabilization Act of 1970 states that "The President is authorized to issue such orders and regulations as he may deem appropriate to stabilize prices, rents, wages and salaries at levels not less than those prevailing on May 25, 1970." How is the prevailing level of prices, rents, wages and salaries on May 25, 1970, determined?

A: The level of prices, rents, wages and salaries prevailing on May 25, 1970, is determined as follows: (A) The average (mean) price at which transactions were made on that day (as borne out by appropriate records); (B) if no actual transactions took place on that day, then the average (mean) price at which transactions took place on the nearest day prior to May 25, 1970, may be taken as the "prevailing" level for May 25, 1970; and (C) ceiling prices for products, services and jobs not in existence on May 25, 1970, can only be calculated using the base period prescribed by Executive Order 11815 and subsequent guidelines issued by the Cost of Living Council.

Prices
Q: Specialized items produced to buyers' specifications are manufactured on an annual contract determined by competitive bids. The invitation nor bids calls for shipments over a period of three months, with only the first month falling in the freeze period. Is the price frozen at the base period level?

A: Yes.
Q: A trade association is planning to broaden its services to its membership. To do this, it must obtain additional funds through a dues increase. Is the association allowed to increase its dues to cover the increased services?

A: No.
Q: In applying the substantial transactions test to determine the ceiling price that a businessman can charge his customers in the United States, may he include prices on goods he export during the base period?

A: No.
Q: Are advance ticket sales for sporting events occurring during the freeze covered by the freeze?

A: Yes.
Q: A manufacturer of holiday specialty items received and accepted firm orders during the base period. May items shipped during the freeze period be based on the price at which he accepted orders during the base period?

A: No. By definition, a transaction occurs when goods are shipped.

Wages
Q: A labor contract contains a semiannual cost-of-living increase which was due prior to the freeze. However, the increase was delayed until the consumer price index was published. Can this increase go into effect during the freeze?

A: Yes. The increase was due and payable prior to the freeze and retroactive to that date. The employees were working at the increased rate prior to the freeze.

Every year about $30 million is apportioned to the states for use in wildlife restoration.

Signs of the times

Maintaining a high level of physical readiness for sports, regardless of season, can pay refinement of skills when off in more injury-free time for competitive practice begins.

Energy nation's survival key

NEW YORK (UPI)—A nation needs energy to survive and prosper in today's world. Even then it may not survive unless world pollution is brought under control.

Why, then, ask many scientists and energy experts, is the United States allowing Russia to get such a big lead in an energy producing technique that gives "more bang for the buck" and is pollution free?

They refer to magnetohydrodynamics (MHD), the art of generating electricity by direct heat conversion. Russia, which doesn't lose money around lightly, already has three such plants in commercial operation.

The Soviets are said to be from three to ten years ahead of the United States even though the U.S. and West Germany agreed recently to cooperate on MHD plants. Their feasibility has been studied for years by General Electric, Avco, Westinghouse, General Dynamics, Martin and the American Electric Power Service Corp.

On March 25, 1971, the Russian government announced it had achieved a "break-through" with a thermionic converter system. Like MHD, it is capable of converting nuclear energy directly into electricity rather than through heating steam to drive a turbine generator. And like MHD, it depends largely on cesium, the most easily ionized of all metals and one that burns instantly and explosively on contact with oxygen.

Direct heat conversion in the MHD process involves seeding a helium plasma with cesium. The ionized gas then circulates under great heat between electromagnets. As the ionized atoms pass between the magnets, the electrons circulate in one direction and the nuclei in the other. Such separation of negative and positive electric charges produces voltage. Chemalloy Minerals Ltd. of Toronto, Canada, is the company most likely to profit by any MHD boom. Its mine at Bernic Lake, Manitoba, has the largest cesium deposits in the world and the only substantive one in the Western Hemisphere. Two smaller deposits, totalling about half the Bernic field, are being worked in Africa.
