Demos press profits

SAN JUAN, P.R. (UPI)—Democratic governors sought Republican support today for a resolution urging basic changes in President Nixon's new economic policy, including a provision that any restraints on personal income after the 90-day freeze be accompanied by a similar profit hold down.

The resolution was drafted Monday at a session of Democratic governors, who announced it would be submitted to the National Governors Conference today for a vote at Wednesday's final business meeting.

Republicans were not consulted during the drafting of the document and the resolution was expected to draw little if any GOP votes. It appeared the resolution will need at least 10 Republican votes for approval by the full conference.

U.S. exempts Latins from aid cut orders

PANAMA CITY (UPI)—President Nixon has exempted Latin America from the 10 per cent reduction in foreign aid which is part of his new economic policy, an administration spokesman announced here Monday.

Nathaniel Samuels, under secretary for economic affairs, made the announcement at the opening session of the annual meeting of the Inter-American Economic and Social Commission (CIES) at which Latin American speakers joined together to denounce the new U.S. policy.

Departing from his prepared text, Samuels told the delegates from the 23 member nations of the Organization of American States (OAS):

"I am authorized to say here today that President Nixon has decided that the reduction in foreign aid should not be applied to programs in Latin America."

United States direct aid to Latin America in 1970 was about $196 million.

The announcement came after Samuels had listened impassively to delegates criticizing the U.S. program, which also calls for a 10 per cent surcharge on most exports.

Samuels said the surcharge was "not directed against any country and certainly not the Latin American countries." He said that Nixon hoped to remove it as soon as possible.

"The United States commitment to expanding trade opportunities for Latin America is as firm as it was before," he said.

Explaining that the United States was facing its first trade deficit since 1893, he added:

"The surcharge is a tourniquet applied to a balance of payments hemorrhage, a tourniquet which is intended to slow down the bleeding without cutting off the blood flow."

Earlier Carlos Sanz de Santamaria, president of the Inter-American Committee on the Alliance for Progress, attacked the surcharge and the 10 per cent cut in foreign aid as a violation of the U.S. commitments to the rest of the Western Hemisphere.

Dollar stand pressed TF schoolmen voice qualms on starting kindergartens

BRUSSELS (UPI)—The six European Common Market nations will urge the United States Wednesday to devalue the dollar, abolish its 10 per cent surcharge on imports, and join other countries in restoring world monetary order.

"We are really going to sock it to them," one Common Market official said today.

The Common Market's tough stand emerged from a seven-hour meeting Monday of the finance and economics ministers of West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, Luxembourg and The Netherlands.

The ministers met to draw up a common position on reform of the international monetary system, thrown into confusion by President Nixon's new economic policies.

The Common Market's demands will be presented to a meeting of the "group of 10" world's richest non-Communist nations in London Wednesday.

The crisis was triggered by Nixon's Aug. 15 decision to free the dollar from its fixed exchange value and allow it to "float" and find its own level with other currencies. The President also imposed a 10 per cent surcharge on all imports.

The two-and-a-half page text of Common Market demands included:

- Abolition of the 10 per cent surcharge.
- A return to fixed exchange rates.
- Gradual replacement of the dollar as the international monetary standard by special drawing rights—the "paper gold" issued to nations by the International Monetary Fund (IMF) in proportion to the strength of their economies.
- "Realignment of currencies of all industrial nations, including the dollar."

TWIN FALLS—A decision on whether the Twin Falls School District will set up a kindergarten program was postponed for at least two weeks pending receipt of further information from state education officials.

But the trustees made no secret of their qualms about an offer of the state to pay the salaries of six kindergarten teachers if the local district would assume other costs.

Superintendent George Staudaer said a compilation of costs to be paid by the district, including provision for the classrooms, instructional materials and other expenses could put the total cost as high as $10,000 or more for one school year.

A major problem, Staudaer said, would be selection of the youngsters allowed to participate in the program, which, under current planning, could accommodate only about 40 per cent of the estimated 550 5-year-olds in the district.

Another unsatisfactory aspect is the state provision that the school district cannot hire its kindergarten teachers directly. Guidelines issued by D.F. Engelking, state superintendent of public instruction, order school districts to cooperate with the Idaho Department of Employment in handling applications.

Engelking said the department of employment will ask superintendents regarding their plans, then will accept applications from prospective teachers.

Meanwhile, the teachers must also apply with the school district, using standard school district applications. The employment agency will screen the applications, determining whether the would-be teachers are "underemployed" or "unemployed" according to state standards. The school district must confer with the state people on the professional qualifications of each applicant, Staudaer said.

"This puts the state department of employment in the business of hiring our teachers, instead of the board of trustees," the superintendent said.

The federal program, as envisioned by President Nixon, aims to increase employment possibilities throughout the nation in areas deemed critical. Gov. Cecil Andrus applied for the kindergarten allocation for Idaho, indicating there was a critical need for the educational facilities throughout the state. (Continued on p. 3)

TF medic charged on taxes

TWIN FALLS — Dr. Willard H. Clark, Twin Falls physician, has pleaded nolo contendere and is awaiting sentence before U.S. District Judge Fred M. Taylor, Boise, on charges he failed to file an income tax return for 1967.

Dr. Clark was released on his own recognizance pending the pre-sentence investigation.

Information filed by the U.S. attorney in bringing charges against the physician, charged he had a gross income of $32,365 during 1967.

He appeared Monday before Judge Taylor. At that time a request was filed by the U.S. attorney for dismissal of a similar charge covering Dr. Clark's 1968 income.

John Anduiza, public information officer for the Internal Revenue Service, Boise, said Dr. Clark's income for 1968 was $32,674.09 and the second charge was dropped because only one charge was required for the court action.

He said the investigation of Dr. Clark's income was made by a special agent of the intelligence division of the Internal Revenue Service.

40 dead in prison shootout

ATTICA, N.Y. (UPI)—Guards found the bodies of two more prisoners today to boost to 40 the death toll in the Attica state prison revolt, the nation's bloodiest prison rebellion in modern times. The toll is expected to rise higher.

Prison officials said six missing convicts may be dead in the maze of tunnels beneath the 54 acre facility. Some 100 prisoners were wounded, many seriously, when state troopers, National Guardsmen and sheriffs' deputies stormed the prison Monday.

President Nixon told Republican congressional leaders in Washington today the loss of life would have been even greater if New York officials had not moved Monday to end the five-day uprising.

Senate GOP Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania said the President initiated the discussion of Attica at a two-hour conference at the White House.

Three black House members said in Washington the revolt stemmed from dehumanizing conditions which they said existed in prisons throughout the country.

Reps. Shirley Chisholm and Charles B. Rangel, both New York Democrats, and Ronald V. Dellums, D-Calif., said in a joint statement that the need for prison reform "has been dramatically brought to our attention."

The FBI apparently has sent warnings to a number of prisons and law enforcement agencies around the country to be on the lookout for prison riots.

145 donate blood at TF drawing

TWIN FALLS — One hundred forty-five pints of blood were drawn by the Red Cross Bloodmobile during a visit here Monday, but the total was short of the quota of 150 pints.

Chapter officials said eight prospective donors were rejected.

Members of the First United Methodist Church gave the largest amount of blood with 13 members donating. Harry Gibson donated a pint of blood which brought his total donation to 11 gallons. Jack Waegelin's donation raised his total to seven gallons.

Minico principal deposed No charge for fest promoter

By DAVE ESPO
Times-News Writer

RUPERT — The Minidoka County School District trustees voted Monday night to deny Howard Peck's request to remain as principal of the Pioneer School.

The decision came following an emotional confrontation before the trustees at its regular Monday night session, prompting a midnight executive session.

The trustees said they could not allow Peck to remain in his job since he has not yet completed his requirements for a master's degree. Under a three-year program established in 1968 by agreement between Peck and the trustees, the teacher was to have finished his requirements by the opening of school this fall.

School superintendent Dr. Darrell J. Hatfield said today the county would offer Peck a contract as teacher, head teacher and bus driver at the school with a salary nearly equal to what he would have received as principal. Peck gave no indication Monday night, Hatfield said, concerning whether he would accept the offer.

Peck was unavailable for comment today. He indicated at Monday night's meeting, however, that he intended to resign at the end of the current school year if he were allowed to remain in his job.

Technically, to grant the continuation of Peck's contract, the trustees would have had to declare an emergency situation in existence in the district and then petition the state board of education that the principal be allowed to remain in his position although he hadn't fulfilled the necessary requirements.

Peck said that he had received assurance from state board officials that such a request would be approved.

HAILEY — Blaine County Commissioners have decided not to prosecute Jack Teatr, promoter of the Wood River Rock Festival, and Larry Boyd, owner of the site where the festival was held over the Labor Day Weekend.

Stephen Boller, prosecuting attorney, told commissioners during a meeting Monday there were three provisions under which he could have taken legal action on the event.

The county could have issued an injunction to keep the promoter from holding the event, if the assembly was deemed a public nuisance it could be abated or a misdemeanor charge could be brought if the promoter violated any conditions of the license.

But, Boller said, District Judge Theron Ward struck down the first two provisions and the third condition presupposes a license was granted. Boller said no application had been made for a license.

Eavesdropper tunes in on huge heist

LONDON (UPI) — Robert Rowlands turned on his short-wave radio hoping to pick up someone in Australia. Instead he tuned in on a gang of thieves tunneling into a central London bank vault only half a mile away.

Police said the haul in the robbery could be as high as $2.4 million. It also touched off a massive investigation as to why police failed to act on Rowlands' tip and, when they did, how they managed to visit the bank being robbed without noticing anything was going on.

Rowlands, 32, listened to the thieves for a while and then called police. He said he was all but ignored and it was more than 13 hours later than radio detection trucks were brought to the area—just as transmissions stopped.

It was not until Monday morning—34 hours after Rowlands first tuned into the bank robbers—that the crime was discovered. A Scotland Yard spokesman said an urgent investigation into police handling of the case had been ordered.

The Lloyd's Bank branch involved was at 185 Baker Street, one block from Sherlock Holmes' fictional 221B Baker Street residence and not far from Madame Tussaud's wax museum and the Marylebone Police Station.

Alerted by bank manager Guy Darke Monday morning, police found a 40-foot tunnel had been cut from a leather goods store two doors down. The store had been closed for two weeks. An 18-inch hole had been cut into the vault floor. Battered safe deposit boxes lay around the room.

Rowlands tuned into the thieves' walkie-talkie exchange from his Wimpole Street home. "I tuned in hoping I'd get someone in Australia," he said Monday night. "It was a sheer fluke. I told police that they were half a mile from where I was, on a main road and a waiter had been seen outside the building. I think the police didn't quite understand the problem."

Rowlands' tape included one thief saying: "I suggest we carry on tonight, mate, and get the job done with." Another radioed to a lookout on a nearby rooftop: "How's everything?" The reply: "No intruders whatsoever."

Not until Rowlands' second call did detectives come to his house and take notes on what they heard. Then the gang said they were knocking off until morning, the radio buff said. So he went to sleep too.

When he awoke, the thieves were at it again and this time Rowlands telephoned Scotland Yard directly. Two more policemen came to take notes. At mid-day the Post Office radio detection team was alerted. It arrived an hour later.

Within another hour, a senior detective moved in and ordered an immediate check of all banks within a 10-mile area, with special attention to banks within half a mile. The Lloyd's branch at 185 Baker Street was visited at 3:30 p.m.

"The strongroom door was secure," one detective said. A Lloyd's spokesman later said all of the time-locked vault was wired to an alarm—except the thick concrete floor. "We thought it foolproof," he said.

Board members willing to examine land sale

BOISE (UPI) — Two members of the State Land Board said Monday they would be willing to reconsider their decision to sell 620 acres of land near Sun Valley for a minimum of $356,000 if new information is available.

Secretary of State Pete T. Cenarrusa Friday called for reconsideration of the decision the Land Board made last Wednesday, saying he had new information on the subject.

He wrote to Gov. Cecil D. Andrus, as president of the Land Board, asking that another meeting be called.

Copies of Cenarrusa's request were received by other Land Board members Monday and two of them said he may have a point.

"Speaking for myself, I would have no objections to a new meeting to consider information the secretary of state has that other members do not have," said Attorney General W. Anthony Park.

D.F. Engelking, superintendent of public instruction, said he, too, would like to see the sale reconsidered.

"I thought at the last meeting we had had appraisals of the property by the Land Department but apparently we have not had them," Engelking said. "For this part of the program I think reconsideration is due."

Cenarrusa told a reporter Friday he felt the minimum price put on the land, supposedly based on a department appraisal, was too low at $575 per acre. He said comparable land near Sun Valley was selling for several times that amount.

He also suggested it might be wise to make an ecological study of the land in the context of the area where it is situated so that it can be put to its highest and best use.

Park noted that Cenarrusa, a Republican, voted with the four Democrats on the board in favor of putting the land up for sale at a public auction.

"The basic point seems to be that the land is worth more than $356,000," Park said. "If that is the case all the Land Board has done so far is place a minimum value on the property."

"If the land is worth more than that then under our statutes at public auction the land will sell for more than that."

After a study is made of the land, Cenarrusa said, perhaps restrictive covenants should be written into the deeds to make certain the environment is not despoiled by subsequent development.

"I would certainly have no objections to that — to guarantee the land is utilized in the most compatible way with land in the surrounding area," Park said.

"However, I'm not sure subdivision as suggested by the secretary of state is the most compatible with the ecology. It just puts more houses and more people in the area."

Trustees delay class decision

The trustees, though expressing themselves in favor of kindergartens, said more guidelines are needed on the proposed program before the board could commit the district. Trustee Dr. H. W. Ronk pointed out that the costs of any kindergarten program are high. He said Idaho legislators estimated in last spring's session that full state support for a comprehensive kindergarten program could run as high as $16 million per year. Trustees tabled the program until more information could be obtained on the intricacies of the project. In discussing the complexities of the federal wage-price freeze, Staudaher said he has no choice but to comply with Engelking's ruling that only teachers and other district employes actually working under a contract with a higher pay scale before Aug. 14 could receive higher wages. Other teachers and employes would have to wait until the freeze is lifted to receive higher pay. When a trustee asked if formal board action was necessary to place teachers on the 1970-71 salary scale, another trustee commented that "President Nixon has already taken the 'board action,' complete with second and unanimous approval to reduce the wages."

Trustees approve pupils' sting aid

TWIN FALLS — The complexities of a bee sting brought deep concern to members of the board of trustees of Twin Falls School District No. 411 Monday night. Supt. George Staudaher told trustees parents of two elementary-age school children now living in the district must live with the fear that a bee or wasp sting could bring death to either youngster in three to five minutes, due to a rare sensitivity possessed by both. The only solution, according to the parents, Staudaher said, is for the bitten youngster to receive an injection of an antivenom compound within the three-to-five-minute period. The parents asked the school district, through the superintendent, to allow faculty members at the youngsters' school to give the injection if needed. Staudaher said the school district's legal counsel advised him the parents could legally absolve the district and its trustees of liability in the event of the death of either youngster, either through a bee sting or through a faulty injection. However, Staudaher said he was told that "the youngsters cannot sign away their liability. Their liability cannot be waived in any way." In other words, if a faulty injection resulted in injury to the youngster through introduction of infection, a broken needle or other cause, the district could still be liable. After considerable discussion, in which trustee John Wolfe brought out forcefully that "You just can't refuse to allow the injection and watch the youngster die," the trustees authorized Staudaher to draw up the documents needed to allow the parents to agree to waive their liability. All faculty members at the elementary school attended by the children will be taught how to give the injections by the youngsters' physician, so that at least one will be available at all times in the event of an emergency.

The board approved the resignation of a new teacher, a Mr. Wharton, due to family illness; endorsed a request for a leave of absence for Mrs. C. D. Von Gortler, and approved contracts with several new teachers, including Mrs. Joyce Merchaca at Robert Stuart Junior High School, Mrs. Sandra Haines, to teach fifth grade at Harrison School; James Bianchi, Twin Falls High School, and Mrs. Mary Lou Charlton, senior high counselor. Special contracts were approved for Mrs. Betty Ann Morris and Mrs. Delores Tjarks, who will train under the federal Educational Professional Development Act (EPDA) program. Trustees authorized Staudaher to consult several architects on design of new school buildings. The superintendent suggested that either one 24-classroom school or two 16-classroom buildings will be needed, depending on total cost and placement of the new school or schools. No estimate of the cost could be reached until the design is developed, Staudaher said.

Student's parents sue school aides

TWIN FALLS — A $101,400 suit has been filed against Twin Falls School District, No. 411, naming Superintendent George Staudaher, the board of trustees and industrial arts teacher Charles Farmer as defendants. Staudaher told trustees at Monday night's board meeting. The suit, filed by the parents of a student allegedly injured in a power saw accident last May 9, asks damages of $100,000, plus repayment of attorneys' fees and medical costs amounting to about $1,400, Staudaher said. The suit has been turned over to the district's insurance carrier at the time of the accident, Continental Life and Accident Co. of Boise.

Jet flights due when work done

TWIN FALLS — Air West jet service to the Twin Falls City-County Airport will resume as soon as the work on the new main runway is complete, it was announced today by Paul Shoaff, station manager for the regional airline. Shoaff said he has been informed by Airport Manager Harry Merrick that completion of the runway work is expected by Sept. 30. At first, the station manager said, the airline will have four flights into and out of Twin Falls. One flight will leave here at 10:55 a.m. for Salt Lake City and Los Angeles, one will leave at 2 p.m. for Boise, Portland and Seattle, another at 8:50 p.m. for Boise and Seattle and the final at 9:15 p.m. for Salt Lake City and Los Angeles. Effective Oct. 31 the new prewinter schedule will go into effect, Shoaff said. ## Course Change

Jackson, capitol of Mississippi and scene of racial violence at the outset of school desegregation, is changing its course after 8 years of tension and litigation.

At long last, Jackson has inaugurated voluntarily a new integration plan, which has the support of civil rights leaders, who have promised to give the new approach at least 3 years to prove that it works. Racial tensions have relaxed and generally there is agreement that the community needs a period of quiet and understanding.

The goal is a good public school system for all, regardless of color. Each school will have from 30 to 60 percent black. Old "colored" schools have been closed as unsuitable for good integrated education. More will be closed next year as new buildings become available.

Two new "educational parks" have been created in "neutral territory" for all fifth and sixth graders, a concept that has gained community-wide acceptance.

Jackson businessmen, recognizing the necessity for good public schools if the city is to prosper economically, set up a bi-racial task force to foster the new course of constructive action. Community leaders agreed the first thing to do was to "get out of the courts" and give integration a chance.

Mississippi has problems enough with the lowest per capita income of the 50 states and 45 percent of its people rated as "poor." The ratio of poor rises to 73 percent in its rural population, which is 59 percent of the total.

Jackson's education is moving ahead and this year marks a milestone in the process. The new attitude could serve as an example to such northern cities as Pontiac, where tension over busing has brought crimes of violence.

The Constitution doesn't require that every school be racially balanced. The Supreme Court does not require it. But racial ratios have tended to become a goal rather than the true goal of equal educational opportunities for all regardless of race or color.

There is no feasible way to have exact proportions of various ethnic or racial groups among pupils and teachers. This approach is divisive, runs counter to the needs and wishes of some on both sides, and loses sight of the great truth that we are all Americans, whether black, white, brown, yellow, or red and entitled to the best education it is possible to provide.

The Trouble With Thieu

SAIGON — At the peak of the present political crisis, President Nguyen Van Thieu quietly fired his national police chief — thereby deepening the new pessimism among those who know Vietnam best.

Americans and Vietnamese in high positions are convinced the sudden shift in a post vital to South Vietnam's struggle against Communism is wholly a matter of politics. And that, they feel, is the trouble with Thieu. His cautious and suspicious brand of politics, particularly evident in recent weeks, raises doubts whether he can cope with the terrible tests that will rise here in the 1970s.

There is little doubt that Thieu will survive his unopposed reelection Oct. 3 with neither military coup nor serious street demonstrations. The problem is what lies beyond: a new phase of the 30-year Vietnam war, with Americans disappearing and Communists launching a new military offensive next spring. Is Thieu the leader to handle this?

His sacking of the police chief, Maj. Gen. Tran Thanh Phong, is not reassuring. Phong had been displaying great energy and making some progress in the shamefully neglected task of rooting out the Vietcong underground. Yet, without warning, one recent Saturday morning, Phong was fired (and, in peculiarly Vietnamese fashion, promoted to lieutenant-general with a desk in the ministry of defense).

The private explanation was inefficiency and corruption by Phong, but old hands here don't take that too seriously. In truth, Phong was too close to politicians outside the Thieu circle, especially Prime Minister Tran Thien Kheim.

Nguyen Cao Ky and indecisive Gen. Duong Van Minh.

But against this is Thieu's suspiciousness and caution which resulted in forcing Ky off the ballot and the fiasco of Minh's withdrawal. Although U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker repeatedly warned Thieu that a winning 45 per cent of the vote would be better far than 100 per cent, Thieu wanted a sure thing.

Similarly, Thieu's politics repeatedly intrude on the war. An officer connected in any way with Vice President Ky is in trouble. An arm-in-arm photograph of Ky and a highly respected colonel, slated for promotion to brigadier-general, was published in a newspaper this year. The colonel was immediately assigned trivial duties in an obscure provincial town with orders not to leave there, his promotion cancelled.

Then there is Maj. Gen. Ngoc Tien, commander of the 22nd Division, who can be most charitably described as worthless. After a disgraceful performance against North Vietnamese troops in the central highlands last spring, Tien's superiors pleaded that he be transferred to a Saigon desk job. But Thieu has refused. Why? The answer is embedded in the Byzantine politics of South Vietnam.

A basic test of how much politics influences Thieu is coming.

TV Talk Shows

TV talk shows necessarily overlap in their selections of guests and subjects. Backstage, however, that sameness is offset by some fascinating dissimilarities.

To the limits of my limited resources I have been helping the Alexander-Smith Academy expand nationwide.

The need is urgent for rescuing school-age dropouts and for encouraging excellence, and with regular classrooms overcrowded private tutoring by the hour is the best way I know. So:

more than most in the judgment seat, properly wields his velvet gavel.

David Frost, fugitive from an earlier failure, this time means to outrun that possibility, inevitably sacrifices quality for quantity.

Mike Douglas is the least caustic, least smug, most back-fence-friendly of the Big Four.

Except for a sometimes tendency to reminisce "show business", Douglas is most likely to gently unwrap the personal biographies of his guests; learn what they are instead of just what they say they think.

So one comes away from the circuit with sympathy for Carson, respect for Cavett, admiration for Frost, affection for Douglas.

And a prayer that each will somehow sidestep making empiricism a national religion.

The Fatheads

WASHINGTON — Since it would be both illegal and outrageous to arrest Pollster George Gallup for peddling flummery, I am constrained to embrace the awful possibility that there are enough vacuous fatheads in this country to elect John Lindsay President.

This dreadful suggestion is contained in Gallup's latest poll, which reveals that New York City's monumentally incompetent mayo. trails President Nixon by only 30 to 45 per cent of those interviewed.

I hear someone saying, "The theater," per se, never did care a great deal about tidiness behind the flats. The stage, like most who populate it, tends to hide whatever it really is behind elegant curtains, blinding lights and a veneer of troweled-on cosmetics.

Comparing four extremely personable pros, everything is relative but let's try.

Perhaps because he had a head start, Johnny Carson appears to be aging fastest.

The charming lad from Nebraska seems to be suffering from the "Dave Garraway syndrome": ennui, disillusion, self-pity.

His contract allows for frequent absences from the nightly chore. Instead of using these for vegetating or recreating he's more likely to do shows in Las Vegas to increase his divorce-depleted earnings.

Dick Cavett, unless he stumbles, should shortly have the top ratings—all to himself. Eager and erudite, self-sufficient and businesslike, Cavett does his own homework.

The responsibility for keeping a guest's utterances in proper focus should neither be neglected nor abused. Cavett, chances will be aided by the internecine blood-letting among the almost countless competitors for the Democratic nomination.

All of which supports the conclusion that this is a funny, not ha-ha, country. Any time 30 per cent of any voter sample shows a preference for a politician whose only attempt to play chief executive has been a spectacular and even perilous failure, one is forced to consider enactment of legislation requiring that voters pass a psychiatric test before admission to the polling booths.

It is no good blaming poor television. Even the female who is thrown into romantic convulsions by the Lindsay charm should be expected to burden herself with a few hard facts about the man's public record before deciding he belongs in the White House by divine — or cosmetic — right.

The record would cause John Lindsay to be drummed out of any sane community and sentenced to 10 years as a used car salesman. As Sen. Jim Buckley, the Conservative-Republican from New York, has said, Lindsay during his six years as mayor has made the city a "veritable wasteland." In the process, indeed, he has accomplished the miracle of making Tammany Hall look good, and caused honest burghers to yearn for the wholesome days of Boss Tweed.

Forget for the moment that Lindsay doesn't even know how to get trash collected. During the first six months of 1971, the city had 652 murders, 18,196 aggravated assaults and 1,136 rapes. The British are up in arms because in the same period a measly 54 people were killed in London, which is England's New York.

No Problem

In the crazy shopping days preceding the Christmas holidays, stores and banks frequently encounter a shortage of small change such as nickels, dimes and quarters. In some years this has been a real headache.

Well, if there is a shortage of "change" this year, the banks will be unable to say they cannot get coins. The government has 300 million half dollars waiting to be distributed. All banks need do, so says the director of the Mint, is ask for them.

And that isn't all. Cupronickel silver dollars are pouring out of the machines at the Denver Mint and will be put into distribution for general circulation in October in sufficient quantity to meet all possible demand.

And thus another potential Christmas shopping problem is nipped in the bud.

It's Patriotism?

This picture was snapped the other day during a visit here by the Marine Corps band and Corps officials. Gov. Andrus and other officials were also here.

FLIGHT

Had a note from the office oracle. He pointed out people can now fly like the birdies inasmuch as higher education is offering a "flight course." Now we can, the oracle says, "fly like the birdies." But we must point out the announcement in the paper of the course being offered at CSI is somewhat misleading. It is a GROUND school course, not a FLIGHT school course.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Cataracts

Dear Dr. Thosteson: After my regular eye examination, the specialist told me I had the very beginning of cataracts in my eyes.

When I mentioned 'drops to slow the growth, he said they did no good. My mother, under the care of another specialist for the same trouble, has been using drops for about eight years. She is 91, I am 66. Her sight is diminishing.

My question is this: which specialist is right? If drops do the slightest bit of good, naturally I would want to start using them. If the drops have no effect whatever, it would be foolish. — E. L.

Both specialists are right — and here is the explanation.

Cataracts ordinarily grow very slowly. Drops will not slow down the growth (the cataract being a milkiness or opacity of the lens of the eye.)

However, drops can be used to widen the pupil of the eye, and thus permit the eye to admit more light. This is particularly useful if the cataract is densest in the center of the lens — in that case, widening the pupil allows more use of the peripheral part of the lens. The early changes in your eye lens, although they can be seen by the specialist, may not as yet be enough to affect your vision.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is a fistula? What kind of treatment does it require to be corrected? The dictionary describes it as a deep, pipe-like ulcer. Is that what it always is? — E. M. G.

The "deep" and "pipe-like" are a pretty good description, but a fistula is not always an ulcer. It is, however, an abnormal opening, and usually deep (or long.)

It is most commonly in the region of the anus or rectum, a relatively long opening that doesn't belong there and is quite likely to be infected.

If that is the case, you'll find information on fistulas included in my booklet on hemorrhoids. (Send 25 cents and a long self-addressed, stamped envelope for a copy.) The proper and effective treatment is by surgery. Since the affected tissues have to heal over the entire length, the patient should not be either surprised or upset if the healing takes quite a time.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband had a small knot on his side and the doctor said it was a fatty tumor and nothing to worry about.

Since then it has more than doubled in size and is under his belt. I'm wanting him to have it checked again, but he keeps putting it off. Am I silly for worrying about it or is he silly for putting off going to a doctor again? — Mrs. F. J. S.

Fatty tumors are usually benign, but in the nature of tumors they tend to grow gradually larger. Some people never have them; quite a few other folks will have one or sometimes several of these fatty lumps.

They can be removed readily enough if they are unsightly or a nuisance because of size or location, so I suppose your husband will probably talk to the doctor if the lump really annoys him. There's no great urgency about it, but I hope your husband isn't postponing a visit to the doctor because of being scared. He shouldn't be. However, any lump that has increased in size should be checked.

Dr. Thosteson is interested in all his readers' questions, and whenever possible uses them in his column, but because of the great number received daily, he regrets that he cannot answer individual letters.

Valley couple marries

RUPERT — Marlene Humphrey, Rupert, and Dale Wood, Burley, were united in marriage during an evening ceremony Aug. 31 at the First Baptist Church in Rupert.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Humphrey, Rupert, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Wood, Burley.

The church was decorated with arched candelabra holding white tapers flanked by beauty baskets of white gladiolus and blue chrysanthemums. Rev. Richard Balsiger officiated at the wedding ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, repeated vows wearing a floor-length gown of mauve de sole, fashioned with a fitted bodice of lace, a full skirt surrounding a straight front panel and an overskirt of lace, a jewel neckline and fitted long lily point lace sleeves. The chapel train was fastened below the shoulder with a bow of mauve de sole. The gown was designed and made by the bride's mother.

Her elbow-length veil of illusion was held by an organza petal headpiece accented with iridescent jewels outlining the petals.

She carried a cascading arrangement of white chrysanthemums, white rosebuds and white carnations accented with white streamers. Debbie McCann was maid of honor.

Harlan Wood, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Phil Thompson, cousin of the bride, and Mike Moser were ushers. Ethel Nutting played the traditional organ wedding music. Claude Bowman was soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Richard Blasiger.

MR. AND MRS. DALE WOOD

A reception was held in the church fellowship hall after the ceremony. Carol Hammond registered the guests.

Gifts were displayed by Cindy Jonas, Marcella Bossert and Barbara Humphrey. The bride's table was covered with white lace over blue and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake decorated with white swans and blue flowers. It was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom under an arch. Silver candlesticks holding blue tapers flanked the cake and a silver coffee service and crystal punch bowl completed the table appointments. The wedding cake was cut and served by Lillian Thompson, aunt of the bride, and Nilla Gordon. Punch was served by Eula Brady and coffee was served by Kate Patterson, aunt of the bride. Others assisting with serving were Vlosta Zimmerman, Earlene Ricondo and Donna Gale.

Special guests were Mrs. R. D. Thompson, Kennewick, Wash., grandmother of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. James Humphrey and family, Pasco, Wash., brother.

After a wedding trip to Yellowstone National Park, the couple reside at 601 Malta Ave., Burley. The bridegroom is presently employed at the Bruneau Sheep Co.

Reading portrays Anne Boleyn

TWIN FALLS — Alpha Delta Kappa, National Honorary Society for Teachers, met Saturday at the Rogerson Hotel. Marsha Lickley, Jerome, gave a reading portraying Anne Boleyn.

Miss Lickley is a graduate of the Jerome High School where she was active in drama. She is a versatile character actress having received excellent and superior ratings at the Declamation Festival.

At present, she is a student at CSI, where she is pursuing her interest in drama. She has participated in Reader's Theater and "As You Like It." She was a contestant in the Miss Twin Falls Pageant.

President Ruth Gates presided at the business meeting. Full garden flowers and humorous place cards depicting the teacher decorated the tables. Hostesses were Lucy Dunn, Karleen Dellinger, Edna Wilkening and Gem Howard.

DEAR ABBY: We are in our sixties and have been married only three months. [This is my second marriage, and his, too.] We have a lovely apartment, however, mirrors and pictures are still on the floor, resting against the walls because my husband refuses to have them hung. He is afraid if the large mirror is hung on the wall it will come down on his head. He refuses to let me put up the usual decorative things around, removing them to a corner of the dining room on the floor! I have made several attempts to put these things out, only to find that he has removed them, so I have just given up. A beautiful rubber plant was thrown out because it was an "eyesore."

What sort of problem do you think I have on my hands, Abby? And how would you cope with it? He wants me to invite people over, but I am reluctant because the place looks as tho we moved in only last week.

DESPERATELY UNHAPPY

DEAR UNHAPPY: If your husband is hung up on hanging things for fear they will come down on his head, assure him that there are professionals who can hang them safely.

If he still refuses, add this to his refusal to keep decorative objects in sight where they belong, and consider the possibility that his mind isn't functioning properly. All big problems were once small. Get your husband to his doctor for a checkup.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter was recently married at a beautiful church wedding, and this is what happened:

We planned on 210 guests for a sit-down wedding dinner. We engaged a fine catering service and had placecards for everyone. Well, 44 extra guests showed up!

Thirty had received invitations but failed to reply to our R. S. V. P. to let us know they were coming. And we had 14 children who were not invited but were brought by their parents.

Of course there were no places for 44 extra, but some stayed anyway and ate in the kitchen, and some got mad and left in a huff.

Abby, when an invitation is addressed to Mr. and Mrs., don't they know their children are not included? And shouldn't people know enough to respond to an R. S. V. P. invitation? Please print this. A lot of folks need educating.

LOVELY WEDDING—DISASTROUS DINNER

DEAR LOVELY: R. S. V. P. invitations are ignored out of laziness—not ignorance. And those who take their uninvited children along are beyond educating.

DEAR ABBY: "UNDER 25" in Loma Linda stated in his letter that he could not have gotten his master of science degree without free clinics, government loans and food stamps.

Since I am a part of the government body which helps subsidize these various handouts, may I point out that many of us who are over 25 did not expect the taxpayers to be so full of "brotherly love" to keep us publicly endowed with food, medical care or schooling. Many of us worked very hard to get an education and a business.

"Under 25" also suggests that some of us are not very tolerant of their sloopy attire, long hair and love beads. We who wear "beads" of perspiration from working for a living, care not that others choose to dress differently.

If "Under 25" wished to place a rabbit in his navel and disguise himself as a cookie, we couldn't care less. However, we DO object to having to pay for the raisins. Sign me "OVER 25" in OREGON CITY, OREGON.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "SUCCESSFUL BUT UNEDUCATED IN WALLA WALLA." Experience is the training which enables some people to become successful without education. [And there are plenty of experienced people around who are not successful.]

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 6760, Los Angeles, Cal. 90060. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Local Junior Miss pageant scheduled

TWIN FALLS — The 1972 Twin Falls Jaycee Junior Miss Pageant will be held at the College of Southern Idaho Fine Arts Center Nov. 27, according to Tom Hewlett, Jaycee chairman.

Twin Falls Jay-C-ettes will be contacting all schools in Twin Falls County to speak to high school senior girls who are interested in competing in this year's pageant.

The Junior Miss Pageant is held annually by the Twin Falls Jaycees and is designed to select the outstanding senior girl in the county. The girls are judged on scholastic ability, talent, poise and personality. The pageant has been very successful in the seven years it has been held in Idaho. In that period, two Twin Falls girls have won the Idaho Junior Miss title. Last year, Twin Falls won the award for the most improved pageant in the state.

Tied for top honors in a weight loss contest over a period of six weeks are Janel Wight and Mary Jo Cooper, each with an 11-pound loss.

The club meets each Thursday evening at the REA conference room in Malta. All interested persons invited to join.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Reporting to the Senate that "the talk in Europe is of peace and so is the action," Sen. Mike Mansfield today called for U.S. support of a nonaggression pact between Europe's Communist and non-Communist nations.

Need GI's, aides say

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Pentagon officials Monday challenged suggestions that the three-month lapse in the draft proved the nation could get along without conscription.

"We've got to have the draft now or we'll have an Army of sergeants," said one colonel. "We need some privates." The privates he was talking about were the 20,000 or so men who would have been drafted in July, August and September if a dispute in Congress over an antiwar rider had not allowed the President's authority to induct men expire on July 30.

Idaho tax take rises

BOISE (UPI)—State tax commission figures, released Monday, showed a more than 19 per cent increase during the first two months of the current fiscal year in tax collection returns to the general fund.

Acting Budget Director D.E. "Skip" Chilberg said it was too early to draw any conclusions from comparison of the first two months of fiscal year 1971 to the first two months of the previous fiscal year.

He said he was "most encouraged" by a more than 12 per cent increase in sales tax collections and added that was "more than anticipated."

He said there were "too many contingent factors to make any year-long projections yet" and added he would know more after the end of the wage-price freeze and the federal government decided what the next step would be.

The state's $125 million general fund budget for fiscal year 1972 included an estimated $116 million in income from tax collections.

The tax commission's figures showed that in July and August of this year the tax returns to the general fund totaled $18,519,895 out of a total of $30,264,779 collected in both months.

That compared with a total of $25,225,693 collected in the first two months of the last fiscal year, with $15,529,695 of that going into the general fund.

There was also a $3,896,558 increase in collections of withholding taxes, but Chilberg warned approximately $2.5 million of the increase could be attributed to the monthly instead of quarterly payments authorized by the last legislature.

While there was a 6.2 per cent increase in the collections of the motor fuels tax — seven cents per gallon of gasoline — the distribution to the state's highway fund showed a decrease of $418,427.

Chilberg said the decrease might be because the 1971 legislature gave one of the seven pennies from the highway fund and gave it to the cities. The cities return was $705,381 in the first two months of the year.

Radioman relates seeing Viet dead

FT. MEADE, Md. (UPI)—Col. Oran K. Henderson's personal radio operator during the My Lai sweep testified Monday that he saw 12 to 15 bodies along an L-shaped irrigation ditch from Henderson's command helicopter.

Michael C. Adcock, 25, now an insurance agent in Roanoke, Ala., told the jury of two generals and five colonels the bodies were "mixed" as to age and sex. He added that he saw no American troops in the immediate area.

Adcock also said that a ground communicator told him following the operation on March 16, 1968, that 160 bodies of South Vietnamese had been found.

Henderson is on trial on charges he failed to follow up on reports of atrocities by ground troops at My Lai; failed to report to superiors on the operation, and lied to a special inquiry into the incident.

Adcock, one of four prosecution witnesses called Monday, was allowed over defense objections to refresh his memory of what happened in Vietnam.

Adcock also said that a ground communicator told him following the operation on March 16, 1968, that 160 bodies of South Vietnamese had been found.

NEW YORK (UPI)—A slow, early morning stock market decline speeded up as trading rounded mid-session Tuesday.

The Dow Jones Industrial average, down about 2 points most of the day, was off 5.21 at 906.18. Standard & Poor's 500-stock index showed a loss of 0.36 at 99.71, while declines topped advances, 773 to 445, among the 1,569 issues crossing the tape.

Turnover at 1 p.m. amounted to 6,540,000 shares, up from 5,820,000 shares traded at a comparal period Monday.

In addition to profit taking, which has been weighing on the list since late last week after a month-long advance, analysts said some hesitation on the part of investors reflects uncertainty as to what measures President Nixon will impose after the wage-price freeze expires on Nov. 13.

Nixon huddled last week with labor leaders and with representatives of big business Monday to discuss post freeze action. He is now scheduled to meet with leaders of farm organizations and with Congressional leaders to work out the details of step two in his program to bolster the economy and combat inflation. The President, however, was not expected to disclose his plans for another month or so.

Among the stocks on the most active list Tuesday were Burlington Northern up 1/8 on 160,100 shares, Texaco unchanged on 68,300 shares, Texas Gas Transmission off 1/4 on 65,900 shares, Insilco Corp. off 1/4 on 62,900 shares, Standard Oil of California 3/8 higher on 61,000 shares, and American Telephone down 1/4 on 60,300 shares.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q — Several years ago we purchased 50 shares of Occidental Petroleum at $49. It is now around $17. Should we hold or take our loss? If we sell what should we buy? — N. S.

A — Whether or not Occidental will be hurt seriously remains to be seen—but, in any case this uncertainty hangs heavily over the stock. Negotiations with OPEC nations are not encouraging; thus those oil firms—including Occidental—most closely involved should be avoided by investors.

As a replacement, Greenman Brothers (ASE) appears to have strong potential for continued growth. Company is a wholesaler of toys, hobby equipment and sporting goods, and operates 28 toy departments in Eastern discount stores.

Both sales and earnings have risen annually since 1963. In the six months through July, sales jumped 24 per cent to $12 million. Full fiscal year earnings could reach $1.25 a share, up from $1.02 in the previous 12 months. Renewed confidence in Occidental—a most closely involved—should be avoided by investors.

Wall Street Chatter

The Spall Market Letter says Wall Street was willing to accept wage-price freezes for more than the 90 days President Nixon contemplates: "In sum, there was a feeling" prior to the reopening of Congress which Nixon addressed last week "that the President, having delivered inflation a single stunning blow, has backed into a neutral corner before putting it down for the count," the firm says.

"Tangible evidence of this concern was the Dow Jones Industrial Average's 5.04-point decline on Thursday following the President's address," the firm says. "Rightly or wrongly, investors are fearful that the freeze will be followed by some sort of toothless review board that in respect to wages and prices would recommend, admonish and guide; but not dictate, punish and curb."

The Diets Letter looks for an important top in the stock market rise by October, possibly in the 875 range on the DJIA. It says it is dubious the average will reach the 1,000 mark on this particular upswing.

Jerome approves levy bid

JEROME — A request for an emergency fund levy was approved Monday night by Jerome school trustees.

Supt. John B. Campbell took the board that with increased enrollment, the district must apply to three counties for emergency funds to help pay the cost of teachers' salaries, books and classroom facilities.

He said the average increase is 91 students, the average having been computed by comparing the first nine days attendance of the year with the same period last year. A total of $40,365.84 will be levied. Of this $37,875 will be levied in Jerome County, $988 in Gooding, and $1,501 in Lincoln County.

Campbell said that the county emergency fund will not be enough and that he will apply to the Idaho Department of Education at the end of the month for state emergency funds.

The three-mill emergency levy at the local level has to be initiated before the state will issue any emergency money it was noted.

In other action, the board approved hiring John Andrew, an Idaho State University graduate to teach social studies at the junior high school. He will also be an assistant coach. He replaces Jim McIntyre who resigned.

McIntyre's resignation was accepted by the school board without prejudice. He had been with the district only a few days.

Gooding trustees seeking more data

By PEGGY CHU
Times-News Writer

GOODING — Gooding school trustees decided Monday night to take no action on initiating a kindergarten in the public schools until more information is received from the Idaho Department of Education.

Supt. James Muscat said there is not room this semester to hold kindergarten classes but after students are moved into the new high school now nearing completion, there will be classroom space.

Completion date for the new high school is set April 13, but it is hoped the new facility can be in use by Christmas time, Muscat said.

Junior high students will occupy the old high school building and this will create available space in the elementary school.

The kindergarten sessions will be financed with federal funding, administered through the state department of education, with local districts to provide space and supplies. Muscat said it would cost the district about $500 per session for supplies.

There were 89 first graders this year and he expects close to that number eligible for kindergarten. This would require four nine-week sessions, he said.

Gilbert McNeil, who asked approval of trustees to have his son, who will be 6 years old Oct. 16, start first grade, was told he could enroll the child if he would pay the $340 cost for the year's average daily attendance. The school could not qualify for this state aid since state law requires first graders to be 6 by midnight Oct. 15.

McNeil said he was unable to pay the amount, so he will not press the matter.

Supt. Muscat reported a 6.7 increase in enrollment and said he will apply for additional ADA funds.

Ruins razed

REMAINS OF THE Backgrowth Commission Co. in Twin Falls were burned to the ground Monday in a controlled fire supervised by members of the Twin Falls Fire Department. The company was struck by fire on Aug. 17 and nearly all but a portion of the main building was lost in that blaze. Firemen said a demolition permit was obtained by the owner, and firemen stood by Monday to prevent the blaze from spreading.

Cassia studies busing problem

BURLEY — Busing problems occupied the Cassia County School Board most of its meeting Monday night.

After hearing of problems in the Malta-Heglar areas where Kirby Wilson, school bus superintendent, has to drive one bus 20 miles to pick up two students, trustees instructed Supt. Harold Blauer and Wilson to make any changes feasible to shorten the distance the buses have to be driven.

At Naf, Wilson said, a Plymouth station wagon is being used to bring four students from the outlying ranches to the bus pickup point.

Trustees approved a charge of 30 cents per mile plus $2 an hour for the bus driver when students are taken on out-of-town activities.

Blauer told trustees plans and specifications on the shop addition to the Burley High School are awaiting approval by the Idaho Board of Education in Boise. Trustees instructed Blauer to call for bids as soon as the plans are returned.

Trustees approved putting an oil mat around the playground at the Oakley Elementary School. Blauer was instructed to check with the Holmes Construction Co. which is now repairing the highway between Oakley and Burley, and hire them for this project.

Teachers hired include Marvin Hall, fifth grade teacher at Springdale; Naomi Musser, second grade at Dworshak; Muriel Simmons and Elaine Mitchell, Oakley; Vida Lind, Sue Higgins and Helen Hess, all Springdale; Louise Ellison, Malta; Irene Taylor, Cheri Harris, Head Start and kindergarten at Burley.

Blauer said the district has received a $48,000 grant to continue operation of the Head Start and kindergarten program. The county-wide district operation includes 24 pupils at Declo, 36 at Springdale, 22 at Oakley, and 24 at Malta.

There are 60 students in the Head Start program at Burley and 88 in the kindergarten.

Too hot

Accused files plea

SHOSHONE — William A. Turaka, a Shoshone Naturopath, entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of battery when he appeared for arraignment in the magistrate court of C. M. Wilson of Shoshone Monday evening.

Trial was set for 10 a.m. Sept. 28. $250 bond on the charge was posted; however, Turaka was not released.

Bill Anderson, deputy sheriff of Lincoln County, said Turaka had not posted a $2,000 bond on a charge he is facing for "illegal possession of a controlled substance." Turaka was arrested Friday evening on a battery charge stemming from the alleged beating of his wife Thursday.

After the arrest, Sheriff Thomas W. Conner said he and an agent of the State Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs searched the Turaka residence 16 miles north of Shoshone.

The sheriff said a quantity of drugs was found but declined to reveal the type. Turaka and his wife had been operating the Ice Caves Service Station on U. S. Highway 93.

Minidoka school pay still frozen

By DAVID ESPO
Times-News Writer

RUPERT — Minidoka County school teachers are not entitled to their scheduled pay hikes under President Nixon's 90-day wage and price freeze, according to information received last week by county school superintendent Darrell J. Hatfield. Dr. Hatfield made the announcement at a regularly scheduled meeting of the school district board of trustees.

According to a letter he received from an Idaho Department of Education official in Boise, Dr. Hatfield said, only those teachers or administrators who were at work before the effective date of the wage and price controls, are eligible to receive their scheduled raises in pay. Only five employees in the county would qualify Dr. Hatfield said. They are Dr. Hatfield, assistant superintendent Doyle Lowder and the county's three secondary school principals.

Hatfield said the latest information from the department of education made special allowances for "promotions" resulting from a teacher being awarded an advanced degree. In any such cases the superintendent said an increase in compensation would be proper although at a rate equal to the one in effect before Aug. 15.

In other action, the trustees: — Approved a three-mill emergency tax levied on county property to help cover increased school costs of over $75,000.

— Declined a teachers' association request that the association be recognized as a bargaining agent for all county teachers.

— Approved the hiring of five new full-time teachers as well as one half-time instructor.

— Agreed by a roll call vote of three to two to purchase a new dual purpose bus at a cost of nearly $1,500 to the school district.

— Named Eugene Snapp permanent director of the summer migrant education program.

— Agreed to investigate the computerized bookkeeping system to provide greater and more efficient information retrieval than is now possible.

The emergency levy which can be imposed at the discretion of the trustees under the Idaho state code is needed to cover the cost of increased enrollment in the district. The increased cost to the county this year taken as the average daily classroom attendance increase multiplied by the average cost per student is $75,808.49.

In addition, Hatfield said, the district will qualify for state concurrent funding because the enrollment figures thus far for this year show a five per cent increase over last year.

In responding to a request from the Minidoka County Teachers Association the board re-affirmed their earlier position to recognize the association as bargaining agents for its members only. The board said that it had no evidence that the association had been empowered by non-member teachers to negotiate.

Approved for full-time teacher positions were: Diane Somsen, sixth grade, Washington School; Sharea B. Jensen, second grade, Paul School; Margith Maughan, English-Spanish, East Minico Jr. High School; Ruth Ann Pack, fifth grade, Heyburn School, and Larry Norby, physical education instructor and football and basketball coach, East Minico Jr. High. Ruth Link was hired as a part-time English teacher at Minico High School.

The trustees also voted to accept the low bid of $14,670 for a new school bus from the Cameron Sales Inc. of Rupert. The cost to the district would amount to only 10 per cent of the total purchase price with the payments coming over a five-year period. State funds will bear the rest of the costs. The bus is to be used for daily student runs as well as for extra curricular trips. It is large enough to transport the entire 60-man football squad and all the teams equipment. Previously, two buses had to be assigned to accommodate the team.

In recommending the permanent appointment of Snapp as director of the summer migrant education program Hatfield called for "continuity" in the program. He also praised Snapp's previous work.

Previously, the directorship had been awarded on a revolving basis with three men having served.

Also at Hatfield's recommendation the entire board will travel to Boise State College to inspect a new computerized bookkeeping system already installed in a number of school districts across the state.

The board also approved in principle early graduation from high school for special students as well as teacher initiated alternatives to teachers' institute.

'Bad man' wins

"DIRTY DUTCH Wilkinson" won another "shootout" in Bellevue Sunday during that town's belated Labor Day celebration, disposing of two sheepmen who challenged him. But the "bad man" met his match in a mock gunfight with a "Sheriff Starr." The shootouts were staged by the Halley Hellers as part of the celebration, which included a barbecue and contests.

Shoshone board scans program

SHOSHONE — The program of motor and perceptual growth being held for first graders at Lincoln School was explained to school board members Monday night.

Mrs. Wilson Churchman, accompanied by Principal Jack Bowlin, said the program provides physical activities to develop coordination, sight and other physical growth.

High school principal Carl Kinney told the board that increased enrollment at the high school building could be handled by employing Mrs. Barbara Closson as a full-time teacher.

She has been working as a part-time teacher. The board approved this decision and will offer Mrs. Closson a full-time contract.

Approval was given to build a second shower room in the dressing room area of the high school gymnasium and the board voted to purchase a new 16 mm projector for the high school. The school district will pay one half the cost of $550 and federal assistance matching funds will come from Title 3 National Defense Education Act.

Superintendent Kenneth Crothers reported the District Foundation Program Calculation income will be $139,000 for this year, $3,000 less than the budgeted amount.

This money is given to the school districts calculated on average daily attendance and transportation of the previous year. Crothers said this $3,000 cut, however, will not mean an elimination of any school operation this year in as much as there is enough "cushion" to make up the difference.

The school board approved transportation and tuition for at least two boys and one girl from the high school to attend vocational courses at the College of Southern Idaho this year.

In other business the board discussed boiler insurance, took no action.

The Teacher's Convention for Oct. 7th and 8th, with the district to pay the teachers' registration fees and 2 cents a mile to the convention site.

District receives church

RUPERT — The Minidoka School District, which once refused to buy the Union Church at Acequia, for $1,000 today is the new owner of the property.

The building and site, with deed, was presented to the district's board of trustees Monday night by church officials. The keys to the front door were given to school officials Oct. 1.

"We tried to sell it," explained church trustee Effie Auten, "but nobody would buy it, so we decided to give it away." The school board was the recipient, Mrs. Auten said, because the church adjoins the Acequia Elementary School "and the kids play there all the time anyway."

Air pollution index 95

The pollution reading was taken by the staff of the South Central Health District at the Twin Falls City Hall. The reading is expressed as the number of micrograms of particulate material per cubic meter of air for the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. today. Federal pollution regulators say pollution levels should be kept below 75 micrograms over any 24-hour period, and should not be permitted to rise above 260 micrograms for even a short period of time.

Plans told by Ore-Ida

By DAVE ESPO
Times-News Writer
BURLEY — Ore-Ida Potato Processing Co. is trying to clean up the air and water near its plant, a company executive told the Burley Chamber of Commerce Monday, although the efforts aren't scheduled to begin for another few days.

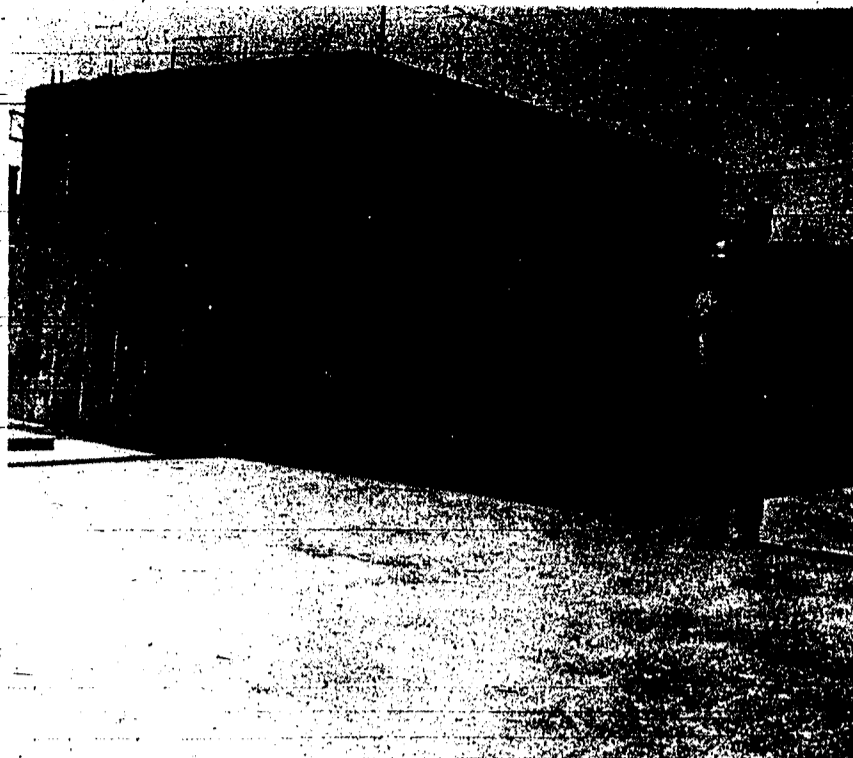

Dee Nelson, plant manager of the Burley Ore-Ida operations, described the company's efforts to eradicate pollution in the area surrounding the plant. Nine 75 horsepower aerators have been installed, to pump fresh oxygen into the water basins the company draws on. The oxygen stimulates the growth of organisms which naturally inhabit the water. The equipment is scheduled to begin operations late this week.

In addition, the company has purchased, with the assistance of another local firm, a $35,000 incinerator to help keep the air clean. The incinerator is ready to begin functioning, Nelson told the chamber, "But we haven't had a chance to start the furnace yet." Nelson also announced a company effort to reduce the turnover rate among hourly paid employees. A program designed by the American Management Association will be conducted for about 80 full-time supervisors and foremen in an attempt to cut into the twice a year turnover rates which exist in other jobs in the factory. The program will be supervised by a full-time training supervisor at the plant.

Nelson also said a new packaging and advertising technique is now in use by the company, following a professionally conducted study by a prominent West Coast consulting firm. The manager also mentioned several new consumer items now available from Ore-Ida.

The company currently pumps nearly $4 million into the local economy, Nelson said, with a $3½ million annual payroll and about $300,000 in purchases from local merchants.

Bank structure climbs at Burley

BURLEY — The walls are going up on the new $200,000 First Security Bank at the corner of East Main Street and Albion Avenue, Burley.

The building is being built by L. J. Ellsworth Construction Co., Inc., Blackfoot. The architect is Sundberg and Associates of Idaho Falls.

The 6,000-square-foot building will be of complete masonry and concrete structure with a steel roof frame system.

The first floor area will feature five teller stations and a private conference room. The lobby, along with all other public areas, will be carpeted and provided with vinyl wall coverings.

A partial basement area will house the heating, air conditioning and all mechanical systems, plus storage area for filing.

An auto banking window, a remote auto banking window, and the night depository service also will be included.

The masonry walls of the exterior will be a blend of brick ranging in color from light tan to deep brown.

The south and east entrance will be dark bronze with solar bronze plate glass window units.

Ample parking will be provided west of the new facility and will be screened from the alley by continuous planting strips.

The First Security Bank now is located at 1202 Overland Ave., Burley, and has operated in Burley since November, 1965.

Leaders meet with planners

By GEORGIA LAYTON
Times-News Writer

BURLEY — Cyrus R. Nims, planning consultant for Cornell, Howland, Hayes and Merryfield, Portland, Ore., engineering firm, is expected to submit the preliminary report of his study to the Burley planning commission within the next six weeks.

Nims was in the Burley area over the weekend and met with the local planning commission in a special meeting at the Ponderosa Inn, according to Lex Kunau, commission chairman.

A preliminary survey and study of the Burley area is being conducted by Nims for the commission. The survey has been initially underwritten by the city.

Attending the special meeting were Kunau, Mayor Garis Robertson, Gary Post, Earl McCaslin, Charles Skaggs, Lloyd Hess, Norval Wildman, Grant Fillmore, Pat Holsinger, secretary for the group; Jim Henderson, William MacKnight, Jim Roper, Ed Elliott, Harold Blauer and Truman Bradley.

Nims said specific problems such as parking, traffic routing and store fronts would not solve the ills of a core area. These solutions evolve around schools, heavy traffic lanes, sewage highways and industrial installations.

Erosion of a core area was the main concern expressed, Kunau said. How to cope with the influx of new commercial shopping complexes was questioned. According to Nims, one handicap in revitalizing a downtown area is the diversity of property ownership and opinion. Often owners of retail property are content to retain the status quo, he said, and the status quo in many instances can often times be the death knell.

These projects usually fall in three phases, the consultant said. When the last phase of a project is reached, then the planners come to grips with the problem of widening streets, tearing down obsolete buildings, expanding and rerouting traffic, and zoning. Nims praised the physical situation in Burley where clustered public buildings, (courthouse, city hall and post office) are an advantage. Land for available expansion is helpful.

A wide range of federal and state funds is available, Nims said, but a community must first show its attitude by engaging in planning.

Mayor Robertson said downtown and urban planning should not be borne in cost by the entire city but by the areas generally benefiting the most. Ed Elliott emphasized the need of the area to be served by a conveniently located regional airport, and a need for a third highway bridge across Snake River to handle truck traffic to and from industrial plants.

The group heard a report that 100 students in Cassia County have been lost and Minidoka School District has gained about 100 students, from Blauer, county superintendent of schools. This indicates preference by many residents and taxpayers for living across the river in Minidoka County, according to Blauer.

Nims said location of new schools for 1,000 to 1,500 students enrollment was not too significant. Residential areas generally follow school structures for central use.

The need for coordinated communication between schools, county and city government and federal agencies was stressed by Nims.

At the conclusion of the meeting it was the consensus of opinion that Burley is interested in further detailed planning, Roper said.

Paul-trained dogs winners

PAUL — Several dogs trained by Len Garner's Kennel, Paul, took honors in the Boise Valley Pointing Field Club competition over the weekend in Boise, Garner said Monday.

A dog owned by Rulon Everton, Twin Falls, called Alkali Jones, won first in the open shooting dog stake and in the amateur shooting dog state. Rubabes Tug, owned by Ed Purves, Twin Falls, was second in the open derby.

Third place in the open shooting dog stake went to Arnold Carter, Burley, with a dog named Dixie. He also won first in the shooting dog derby with a dog named Susie. Dixie and Susie were second and third in the amateur shooting dog stake.

A dog named Chancey, owned by Larry Hisle, Heyburn, was second in the shooting dog derby.

Burley Elks will hold benefit auction soon

BURLEY — The Burley Elks Lodge will sponsor an auction sale at 1 p.m. Sept. 25 at the Elks Club parking lot. Proceeds will be used to build a picnic shelter at the Riverfront Park, near the Burley Golf Course.

The shelter will be located between the two large fireplaces in an area adjacent to the golf course. It will add to the park area in convenience for picnics and in looks.

The project of building the shelter was undertaken by the Elks Lodge early this spring and a circus was scheduled to appear in Burley during June, but the circus firm canceled out before the appearance date.

Then the Elks started looking for another project to raise the needed funds to construct the shelter, and decided to sponsor a public auction.

Articles of all kinds will be sold, according to Charles (Chuck) Shadduck, exalted enough. North had limited his hand when he jumped to three spades and unless North held perfect cards for him, South wasn't going to be able to bring home a slam contract.

North was kind enough to show up with perfect cards. The ace and king of hearts were necessary as was the king of spades. The two jacks were extras.

South ruffed the second club; drew trumps and went after diamonds.

Even with perfect cards the slam depended on good breaks. South had to find both trumps and diamonds divided 3-2. Otherwise the hand would collapse on the rocks of distribution.

The first rule for proper use of Blackwood is that you don't bid Blackwood unless you know what to do when your partner responds.

This first rule expands to the following: Only use Blackwood when you intend to bid six if your partner's response shows that your side holds three aces.

Further expansion points out the inadvisability of using Blackwood when you have a worthless doubleton in an unbid suit.

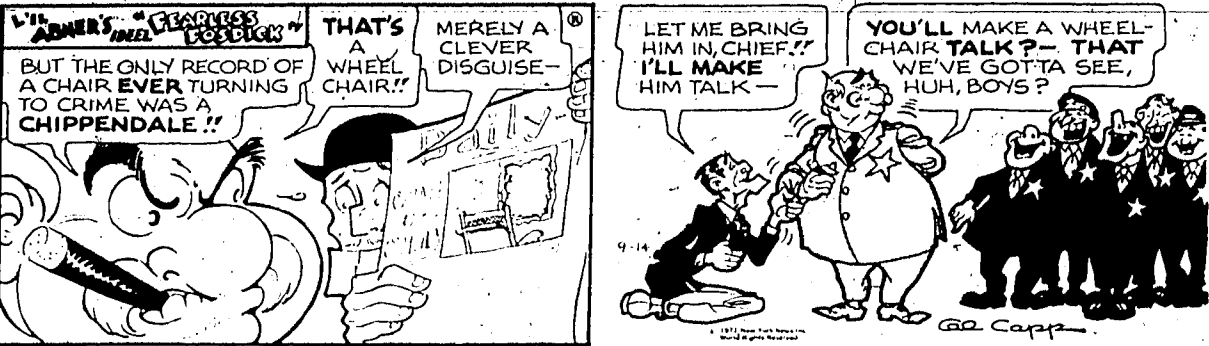

Another good Blackwood rule is not to use it too often. South's four no-trump call is an example of this. He did have the right type of hand to try Blackwood except that it wasn't quite strong

WHAT'S the gender of your home town? Henry Van Dyke wrote, "London is a men's town... There's power in the air... And Paris is a women's town... With flowers in her hair." In this country, I'd guess, the male cities include Chicago, Fort Worth, Pittsburgh, St. Louis. The female cities, maybe San Francisco, Atlanta, Honolulu, New Orleans. Miami is peculiar.

Must be some. However, despite the fact a lot of Chinese are heavy drinkers, very heavy drinkers, it's the oriental custom to mix drink with food. That helps. Also, it's claimed, a Chinese never drinks alone.

LOOKING BACKWARD A lot of the men who grew up around Puget Sound when I was a boy carry scars on their ankles. The tails of violent dogfish, slashing round in the bottoms of rowboats, cut them up.

Wasn't a farmer's wife thereabouts who hadn't at least once boiled bear meat. All day long it smelled to tears. She threw it out. The dogs moaned and skulked off.

The old men in the hot hayfields never went shirtless. They buttoned their collars tight and the sleeves at their wrists. Some even wore heavy underwear. They cooled themselves in a camp aroma, like sour buttermilk.

Always, the elderly boss-man got up first. At about 4 o'clock. He banged buckets, rattled stove lids, stomped around. Everybody rolled out. Had to. He stopped the hogs, then went back to bed.

Over the seasons, most of the hired hands were stove up. One listed to the left. A bull once pinned him to a rail fence. A second couldn't open his fingers. No farther than it took to wrap his hands around a peevy handle. A third never spoke. His throat was marked with old scars surmised to be the furious wounds of pitchfork tines.

That's all I remember right now

$1,000 CASH A MONTH

TAX-FREE

each and every month
as long as you live

...WHEN YOU GO TO A HOSPITAL
EVERY TIME YOU'RE SICK OR HURT

■ No matter what other kind of insurance you carry, group, personal, or Medicare and no matter what company you carry it with — this Mass Enrollment Plan will give you $1,000 extra cash a month protection in addition to all other insurance benefits!...

YOU GET EXTRA CASH DIRECT TO YOU

Everyone is worried about the way living costs are constantly going up. Even if you think you have enough hospitalization, couldn't you use an extra $1,000 cash a month, paid direct to you to spend any way you want? There is no red tape, no medical examination. 24 hours a day world-wide coverage.

YOU'RE PAID FOR EACH AND EVERY MONTH EVEN FOR LIFE!

There's no "stop" to the cash payments you get when you're sick or hurt—for as long as you're hospitalized. For here, at last, is an entirely new, remarkably low cost plan that pays you at the rate of $1,000 cash a month—even after some of your other plans may have run out of benefits. You are paid from the very first day of hospitalization for accidents, and after just seven days of sickness. And you continue to get $33.33 for each and every day—$1,000 cash a month—as long as you're hospitalized (other than a sanitarium, rest home, or Federal hospital). Without any time limit—even for the rest of your life. And there's no limit on the total amount of cash you can receive.

AND WHAT'S MORE —

- 1. You're Covered for Both Sickness and Accidents—Imagine a plan that doesn't have all kinds of exclusions or that's not limited to particular kinds of sickness and accidents. Imagine a plan that excludes ONLY acts of declared or undeclared war, suicide or attempted suicide, alcoholism, drug addiction, mental or nervous disorders and pregnancy. And you are covered even for sickness you now have when your policy has been in force two years.
- 2. Pays you on top of other benefits—You are paid the full amount in addition to any other benefits you may receive from Workman's Compensation, Medicare, Group Insurance or any other insurance you may have. And the cash is paid directly to you. And you can spend it any way you please.
- 3. Tax-Free Cash—Now you can get tax-free cash paid directly to you no matter how many times you go to a hospital. When you are sick or hurt.

Use Your Policy as Often as You Want

... Your benefits can never be reduced as you grow older. Your low premium cannot be individually increased no matter how many claims you make or how many times you go to a hospital. You, of course, always have the privilege to cancel, but you can never be singled out for cancellation. In fact, we would have to cancel the protection or increase the rate by class on everyone in your entire state with this policy before we could ever cancel or raise the rate on your policy.

How Do You "Cash" In?

No problem. You get a supply of claim cards along with your policy. What do you do? Just fill out a card and send it in whenever you go to the hospital. It cuts through all red tape. Your claim is handled speedily, efficiently—and paid at the rate of $1,000 cash a month. Tax-Free.

You Get a Full Month's Coverage For Only $1.00

... Take advantage of this low introductory cost. Send No Money. When you receive your policy, read it carefully. Only after you agree it does everything we claim, send in your dollar. There's no obligation. You pay nothing until after you receive your policy and decide you want to keep it.

NO TIME LIMIT! NO MONEY LIMIT! Compare This With Others

We welcome comparison. There are important differences. We pay you $1000.00 every month for life. Most others have a time limit—We have no limit to the length of time you can receive your benefits. Most others cut you off after you collect a "maximum" amount of dollars—On our plan there is no maximum or limit to the total amount of dollars you can get.

After the first month, the very low monthly cost is:

Ages 1-44.....	$ 5.00
Ages 45-59.....	7.75
Ages 60-69.....	10.50
Ages 70-79.....	17.00

Once you enroll at the rate for your age, your cost does not increase as you grow older.
