TEN CENTS

Warning given on trade war

LONDON (UPI) — Britain, France and West Germany warned the United States today that an international trade war could develop if President Nixon's 10 per cent surcharge on imports is maintained for long. The three nations, the United States' principal allies in Europe, asked that the surcharge be rescinded and that the United States join them in action to revalue world currencies without delay. The demands came at a meeting of finance ministers and central bankers of the Group of Ten, the non-Communist world's richest countries. Members of the group are Belgium, Canada, France, West Germany, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, Netherlands, Sweden and the United States. Switzerland attended as an observer. As the group conferred for the second day on the month-old money crisis, the dollar staged a slight recovery in Europe after coming under heavy pressure for two days in European markets. In Tokyo the dollar was down 6.33 per cent, a new low. Britain's Chancellor of the Exchequer Anthony Barber told the conference the present situation is "potentially dangerous" and could lead to building up trade barriers which it would be hard to dismantle. West German Finance Minister Karl Schiller told the meeting West Germany believed the U.S. surcharge on imports will contribute only little to easing the U.S. balance of payments problems and that "we need a kind of burden sharing." U.S. officials said the United States will enforce Nixon's measures to rescue the dollar until it has balanced its payments with the rest of the world and won a certain safety margin. They said this cannot be achieved this year when the deficit is expected to run from $9 to $12 billion.

Mishap kills man at plant

TWIN FALLS — A young Twin Falls man died instantly late Wednesday when the fork lift he was operating at a Twin Falls factory tipped over, pinning him beneath the machine. Twin Falls Police identified the victim as Randall Eller, 19, an employe at Longview Fibre Co. on South Park Avenue. They said Eller was operating the machine at the south side of the building when the equipment tipped over about 10 p.m. No one at the plant saw the mishap occur, but employes did hear the accident happen and notified police and the ambulance service. When officers arrived the victim was pinned beneath the machine about 30 feet away from the plant. Another fork lift was used to lift the machine from Eller's body. Eller was taken by ambulance to Magic Valley Memorial Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival. Cloyce Edwards, Twin Falls county coroner, said Eller died instantly of internal wounds. He said no autopsy is planned. The body is at Twin Falls Mortuary where services are pending.

Third reservoir victim named

OAKLEY — The third body recovered from Goose Creek Reservoir south of here has been identified as that of Andrew Goodine, 42, Oakley. He was one of eight people believed drowned in the reservoir on June 20, when a boat disappeared. Under orders of deputy sheriff Glenn Loveland, the body was shipped to California for burial, eliminating the possibility of an autopsy to determine the cause of death. Loveland was acting as coroner in the absence of both the county coroner and sheriff. The victim's body was located near the reservoir dam, about three miles away from where two other victims had been recovered shortly after the mishap. The other bodies recovered were those of Goodine's wife, Anita, 42, and their daughter, Tammy, 8. Cassia County Sheriff Ray G. Mitchell returned to search the reservoir late Wednesday and today. Goodine's body had been brought to Payne Mortuary in Burley, where relatives from California had identified him from tattoos. Goodine's body was shipped to Exeter, Calif., for burial. The five persons still missing and presumed drowned in the mishap are Goodine's son, Robert, 5; Harold Dibble, 55; Charles Qualls, 40; James Shepard, 44, and Raymond Moore, 60, all of Oakley.

Hearings tonight on code

TWIN FALLS — First of four hearings before the Twin Falls Board of Appeals of the Dangerous Building Code is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in the City Hall tonight. The four hearings are on appeals from owners of four buildings covered in the first phase of the Urban Renewal program for the city, Reed Coulam, building inspector, said. Four each of the buildings, an order has been issued for certain changes or remodeling to bring the buildings up to a safer standard in case of earthquake, fire or panic. Tonight's hearing covers the Burkholder building, owned by Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Wadsworth and located at the corner of Shoshone Street and Second Avenue East. Other hearings will be Sept. 23, Oct. 7 and Oct. 14. Buildings involved in orders to be covered by subsequent hearings include the Herriot building, the M. H. King Building and Cain's warehouse across from the police station on Second Avenue North.

Hostage deaths questioned

ATTICA, N.Y. (UPI) — One of the first questions state investigators will have to answer about the five days of rioting at the Attica State Correctional Facility is how did the nine hostages die. They were killed by inmates Monday when 1,700 state police, National Guardsmen and sheriff's deputies stormed the 1,200 convicts who had held the prison for five days? Or were they shot by the men who tried to save them because the convicts dressed their hostages in prison denims and hid behind them as the assault force hit the prison with rifles, shotguns and tear gas? Another nagging question is whether the slaughter could have been prevented if negotiations had gone a little longer or Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller had appeared personally at the prison? Rockefeller met with aides and correction officials today in Albany to plan the investigation into the Attica prison takeover and its recapturing.

Ten prison employes and 32 convicts died during the rioting. At one of today's meetings, Rockefeller will talk with Rep. Claude Pepper, D-Fla., one of the four members of the House Select Committee on Crime who have come to New York for their own investigation. Rockefeller also plans discussions with legislative leaders. The governor named state investigator Robert E. Fischer, nicknamed the state's "Super-cop," to head his probe. Wednesday the burial of guard Richard Lewis, 49, of Batavia, was postponed for autopsy after a funeral home, H.E. Turner & Co., said there were no gunshot wounds on the body. Guard William Quinn, 28, who was beaten the first day of the riot and died two days later of head injuries, was buried Wednesday after a requiem mass in a church a few doors away from his home in Attica. About 400 uniformed corrections officers from throughout the state formed an honor guard.

Plumbers strike plants in valley

BURLEY — Members of the Plumbers and Pipe Fitters Union went on strike this morning against Intermountain Gas Co., with pickets appearing in front of company offices and plants in Magic Valley and other parts of the state. Five pickets from Locals 296 and 648, Plumbers and Pipefitters Union, manned picket lines outside of the Burley office while three pickets, all members of Local 648 were on duty in Twin Falls. Members said they were participating in a statewide strike over the terms offered in a proposed contract. R. Dean Grimm, Boise, president of Intermountain Gas Co., said the strike involves about 100 union members employed throughout the state. He said no interruption in service is anticipated as supervisory personnel with the company, most of whom have worked up from the ranks and have experience in installation, will continue to provide repair and maintenance service. New installations, he said would be made as necessary with outside contractors who do most of the new installation work for the company under normal times. Grimm said a meeting will be held this afternoon with the union representatives and he expects at that time to learn the present specific issues the unions are seeking in the new contract. Negotiations, he said, have been in progress for some time and the issues are many and widely varied. Throughout the wage freeze, he said, the union and company have continued negotiations keeping in mind there may be some continuing regulations imposed following the freeze. One of the strikers, Kyle McBride, Heyburn, said the union's one-year old contract expired Wednesday. He declined to name the main issues blocking ratification of a new contract. "It's a whole package," he said. There were no incidents reported this morning at Intermountain Gas Co. offices located in Burley, and none in Twin Falls. William H. Wetzstein, district supervisor, Burley, was out of the office and unavailable for comment, office personnel said. The company secretary, who declined to give her name said she had no comment on whether or not she had been stopped when reporting for work this morning. The five workers arrived at the company offices at 8 a.m., the time for their regular work shift and began carrying picket signs. They said they would remain until 5 p.m., normal off-duty time. One of the men, Robert Jones, Rupert, said he expected the picketing to go on for the length of current contract negotiations reportedly in progress in Boise. "I hope it's not too long," he said. The three picketing members of Local 648 who were on duty in Twin Falls declined to give their names. Robert Peterson, Intermountain Gas Co. division manager in Twin Falls, said his company learned of the strike late Wednesday but he said he has not been advised of the issues at stake. Strikers arrived about 8:15 a.m. at the local plant, he said. There were 14 employes at work in the Twin Falls office this morning, none of them pipe fitters, he said.

Senate facing revolt on draft

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Administration officials faced another Senate revolt today in their effort to gain resumption of the military draft, suspended since June 30. The Senate scheduled an afternoon vote on a motion by Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., to table the bill which would extend conscription for two years. Backers of the bill warned the step could delay the draft's revival for weeks and perhaps kill the bill altogether. A White House official demonstrated President Nixon's concern by saying the President is convinced failure to extend the draft would critically weaken the American bargaining position in arms negotiations with the Soviet Union. A Pentagon spokesman said earlier the Army will be "an Army of sergeants" unless Congress acts soon. The White House official, who asked not to be identified, said he believed the vote was too close to call. He predicted passage of the motion to table would make it impossible to revive the draft before Dec. 1.

Gas prices jump in Twin Falls as 'invisible' war comes to end

BY LEE TREMAINE
Times-News Writer
TWIN FALLS — Gasoline prices jumped as much as five cents per gallon today in Twin Falls as an "invisible" price war between a number of independents came to an abrupt end. Though gas prices, which had slumped several cents per gallon over the past week, were clearly advertised, major oil dealers said today they were unaware of the pricing feud and did not lower their retail prices. The price war apparently involved only several "jump-and-pump" self-service outlets, where the price of "regular" gas had dropped to 25.9 cents per gallon at one station on Addison Avenue East, then rose to 29.9 cents today. High-test gas, which had held at 27.9 cents for a week, was selling at 31.9 cents per gallon this morning. A sharper price increase was recorded at two Stoker's Dairy outlets, where the lower-priced gas rose from 26.9 to 31.9 cents, and ethyl gas went up from 28.9 to 33.8 cents. Bud Pearce, manager of the Fearless Farris station which supplies the Stoker Dairy outlets, said the price feud apparently involved only the local independents. His prices are determined by the home offices of the chain in Boise, Pearce said.

His Fearless Farris station was selling regular gas at 32.9 cents, also a five-cent boost over the former price, with high-test going up from 29.9 to 34.9. Joe Clements, an independent distributor who operates two "Joe's Gas" stations, said his price went up two cents, from 29.9 to 31.9 for regular gas. None of the distributors could pinpoint the source of the gas war, which broke out a week ago among the independents. Pearce blamed the periodic fluctuations in prices on "one station or another which drops its price, then we all have to go along." The major distributors, however, were unaware of the conflict among the independents. Ben Ward, the American Oil Co. distributor, said he was quite interested in the reported price war, but knew nothing of it. Ward said his prices are determined by the Salt Lake City regional office of American Oil. Ralph Smith of Continental Oil Co. was equally mystified. He said his retail prices are set through his office by regional officials in Billings, Mont. Conoco prices have not fluctuated, and will not rise since the retail pricing schedule was at its peak when the federal pricing controls went into effect in August, Smith said.

Begin picketing

STRIKING WORKERS of the Plumbers and Pipe Fitters Union, Local 648, picketed in front of the Intermountain Gas Co. offices in Twin Falls. The three union members identified. Picketing began at a plant-wide meeting between the union and company officials.

Voter data cards due in mail around Oct. 1

TWIN FALLS — About Oct. 1, 25,000 registration cards will go into the mail to Twin Falls County voters to obtain up-to-date uniform registration information under new election laws in Idaho.

County Clerk Harold Lancaster said the cards must be filled out and returned to his office or the voter will be dropped from the registration books. New laws require a uniform registration of all voters, Lancaster said, and all counties in the state will be sending out cards to collect registration information.

Persons who are eligible for registration but do not receive cards must register in the conventional manner by calling at their clerk's office, Lancaster said. New voters of ages 18, 19, 20 and 21, and those who have not been registered in the county for previous elections will not receive cards and should take the responsibility of making certain they are registered, he said.

About 600 registrations were obtained by the League of Women Voters working at the county fair and most were of new residents rather than the young voter group eligible for the first time this year.

Lancaster said registration books will be taken to the high schools in the county and another registration session will be held at the College of Southern Idaho. He said persons who are qualified to vote should assume the responsibility of making certain they are registered either by filling out and returning the registration card when they receive it or if they do not receive a card, by calling at the county clerk's office.

Rite set

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus will be the featured speaker next Wednesday at dedication ceremonies marking the first permanent occupation of facilities at the new state prison site.

Two tours of the site, located five miles south of Gowen Field on Pleasant Valley Road, are planned before and after the luncheon at which the occupation will be dedicated.

Cards will be sent to persons who have been registered over the past eight years, Lancaster said, and as a result many will not be returned because the voter will have moved or have died since registering several years ago.

Look magazine victim of cost

NEW YORK (UPI) — Look Magazine will cease publication with its Oct. 19 issue, Cowles Communications Inc. announced today.

The company cited mounting operating losses due to declining revenue and rising production costs for the decision to cease publication.

Look first appeared on the stands in January 1937, selling at 10 cents an issue. The first issue sold more than 700,000 copies and by 10 months the circulation had grown to 1.7 million.

Probe ends

CASCADE (UPI) — A professional practices commission has completed without disclosing its findings a two-day closed hearing on charges against a school superintendent.

Commission members will report directly to the state board of education on their findings in the case against John Riddlemose, superintendent of McCall-Donnelly School District.

Riddlemose is accused of eight violations of Idaho education regulations.

Circulation in the first six months of 1971 averaged 6.6 million an issue. Industry sources said rising production costs had eaten up the magazine's revenue.

Look is the latest in a series of major magazines that have ceased publication. The most recent was The Saturday Evening Post, which ceased publication in February 1969, after 148 years. However, Beurt Servais, the president of Curtis Publishing Co., put the Saturday Evening Post back on the stands as a quarterly publication, with the first issue appearing in June 1971.

Woodsy hoots way into pollute war

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Woodsy Owl, a portly character costumed in brown leaves, green pants and sporting big yellow claws, made his debut Wednesday as the Agriculture Department's antipollution symbol.

"Give a hoot. Don't pollute," is Woodsy's slogan. However, the man-dressed-like-an-owl did not hoot during a news conference.

Secretary Clifford M. Hardin presented the "bird" to newsmen. Officials refused to divulge the identity of the man who plays Woodsy.

Woodsy joins Smokey the Bear, the Forestry Service's anti-forest fire symbol, and Johnny Horizon, the Interior Department's antipollution symbol.

Hardin said it was expected that the two antipollution symbols — Woodsy and Johnny Horizon — would establish an amicable relationship.

"We hope there will be no bureaucratic in-fighting," Hardin said.

Held after threat

BOISE (UPI) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation arrested a California man Wednesday on a charge of unlawfully giving false information in connection with a threat made on a Hughes Air West flight.

John M. Reed, special agent of the FBI's Idaho-Montana division, identified the man as Orval J. Gordon, 39, Wilmington, Calif., and said he was being held in Ada County Jail in lieu of $100,000 bond.

Reed's announcement said the information was that Gordon "had a pistol and was going to shoot the plane full of holes and that he had a pistol in his coat located in an overhead rack above his seat."

Reed said it was a violation of federal law to knowingly convey false information or carry a weapon aboard an air carrier. The incident occurred on a flight from Los Angeles to Pasco, Wash.

Elk season opens

BOISE (UPI) — Back country primitive areas some 100 air miles north of Boise will receive close scrutiny of elk hunters Saturday, according to the Idaho Fish and Game Department.

All or parts of 14 game management units open to both deer and elk hunting out of the 90 designated units in the state. Units include the Red Ives part of Unit 7; Little North Fork of the Clearwater, Unit 9; the upper part of the Lochsa River, Unit 12; Meadow Creek, Unit 16-a; Upper Selway River, Unit 17; Wind River, Unit 19; Secesh River, Unit 19-a; Bargamin Creek, Unit 20; Chamberlain, Unit 20-a; South Fork of the Salmon River, Unit 25; Big Creek, Unit 26; Middle Fork of the Salmon, Unit 27; Sleeping Deer, Unit 27-a, and Bear Valley, Unit 34.

2 TF men fined

TWIN FALLS — Two Twin Falls men each have been fined $25 and costs in Twin Falls Magistrate Court on charges of interfering with an officer.

Charles William Peterson, 19, and his brother, Willard Eugene Peterson, 21, were found guilty by the court following a day-long trial. They were sentenced by Judge Daniel Meehl. Their father, Dr. Willard M. Peterson, was fined $25 and costs on July 19 after pleading guilty to the same charge.

Dr. Peterson and his two sons were arrested July 8, following a disturbance at the Me-N-Ed's Pizza Parlor, 785 Blue Lakes Blvd., N., involving Dr. Peterson's ordering a beer for his 19-year-old son. Dr. Peterson said he felt if the 19-year-old was old enough to vote and serve in the military, he was old enough to drink beer. The bartender refused the sale and officers were called.

Testimony during the trial indicated officers asked the trio to leave quietly and when they refused placed Dr. Peterson under arrest and a disturbance followed in which the two young men attempted to prevent the officers from making the arrest.

Officer cited

HONORARY membership in the Twin Falls Jaycees has been conferred on Officer Jim Mildon of the Twin Falls Police Department, here holding his certificate, awarded by chapter officials. Chapter President Bud Phillips said Mildon was cited for meritorious service to Twin Falls and for saving the life of a child at Harmon Park. Mildon's award is the second honorary membership awarded by the chapter.

Sale squabble shows fund need, aide says

BOISE (UPI) — Controversy over proposed sale of state land near Sun Valley emphasizes once again the need for better funding of the Land Department, Secretary of State Pete T. Cenarrusa said Wednesday.

Cenarrusa said he will ask the board between now and the next session of the legislature in January to request increased funding to improve the department's ability to manage such lands.

He said the Land Board, through its department, should look into all potential resort-type developments on state land and then systematically plan for such development so as not to upset the ecological balance.

"I think the Land Board should look in this direction and ask the legislature for funding to do this," Cenarrusa said.

"The Land Department and the Land Board cannot function at an optimum level without adequate funding.

"But it would be money wisely spent because the return would be much greater (to the school endowment funds).

"Many of the problems of the Land Department and the Land Board do stem from underfunding to properly do the work," Cenarrusa said.

Cenarrusa said he believes the board has made considerable improvement in the management of state lands during the past few years — especially the board-initiated inventory of the state's holdings.

But he said even this inventory could move "much faster" if funding were increased.

"There are over two and one-half million acres of state lands — some of which have been inventoried," he said. "But it is difficult for five or six men to do this entire job."

A week ago the board unanimously voted to put up for sale at public auction approximately 620 acres of state land two miles east of Ketchum and adjacent to the Sun Valley resort. The applicants for the land were Harry Holmes, president of the Sun Valley Company, Inc., and Gayle Holmes.

Since then, Cenarrusa has had second thoughts about the proposed sale and has asked Gov. Cecil D. Andrus, as president of the Land Board, for a meeting to reconsider the action.

He said he has information now that the $575 minimum, appraised value put on the land is way below what comparable land in the area is selling.

Additionally, he said he feels perhaps the acreage should be broken into smaller segments for sale — thereby increasing revenue from the sales. In authorizing the sale the board agreed to put it up in two segments of more than 300 acres each for a total minimum price of $356,000.

Cenarrusa said perhaps the state even should look into the eventual possibility of subdividing the land itself for development if studies show that to be desirable. But he said the board first should make an ecological study of the land and the surrounding area to determine its highest and best use consistent with the environment and then perhaps write restric-

ORIGINAL PIZZA

NEW YORK (UPI)—The origin of pizza really is Italian in Rome, in the days before the thermometer, a thin layer of bread was placed in the baking ovens to determine the correct heat. When these were cooked, they were removed and given to the poor people who then added tomato sauce and cheese for flavor.

Pizza was brought to this country by U.S. servicemen returning from World War II, and has steadily increased in popularity. Shakey's, Inc., pizza parlor chain, alone reports selling more than 21 million pizzas in 1970.

Board planning Big Wood tour

KETCHUM — The Idaho Water Resources Board will tour the Big Wood River Valley to inspect the Federal Housing Administration-backed county water and sewer program, and to confer with the Idaho Legislative Interim Committee during a two-day visit Sept. 24-25.

Water board members will also confer with the Wood River Resource Area Association on flood-plain problem areas, recreational sites, development projects and stream alterations during a tour on Sept. 24.

On Sept. 25, legislators and committee members will hear from Dr. Robert R. Lee, water board director, on a review of studies; Phil Peterson, the board's legal counsel, on negotiations, and Robert Hogg, vice president for contracts and rate, Idaho Power Co., who will present a utility statement.

Other items on the board's agenda include discussion of applications for water resources project loans, consideration of the Tamarack unit of the council project, outlining a research proposal to develop a groundwater model of the Snake River Fan in the Swan Falls-Helise area, hearing a status report on the Snake Plain pilot recharge project, and discussion of a report on the state Interim Water Plan.

Headquarters for the meeting will be the Christiania Motor Lodge in Ketchum.

Nader fears consumer bill being stripped

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Ralph Nader and other consumer advocates Wednesday expressed fears that congressmen were secretly emasculating a consumer protection bill which a subcommittee discussed for two days this week in closed session.

Although the subcommittee chairman, Rep. Chet Holifield, D-Calif., warned members to keep their proceedings secret, information has been leaking out—some of it causing concern among consumer advocates.

The bill would establish an independent Consumer Protection Agency to take over the duties of various agencies now dealing with consumer problems, but Holifield has agreed in principle to limiting when and where the CPA could intervene in federal hearings and investigations.

Nader said he found this language restrictive, "totally unacceptable," and made the bill worse than no bill at all.

Other consumer advocates also criticized it, but asked to remain anonymous for fear of antagonizing subcommittee members who are expected to approve some version of the bill Thursday.

As reports circulated about what was going on in closed subcommittee sessions Monday and Tuesday, a Holifield aide accused Common Cause, the citizens' lobby, of spreading misinformation about the bill.

The administration opposes erration of an independent

Ullman for Snake ban

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., said today he has asked a House committee to take favorable action on a bill to impose a seven-year moratorium on dam construction on the Snake River in Hells Canyon.

Ullman made the request to Rep. Harley Staggers, D-W. Va., chairman of the House Commerce Committee, concerning a bill co-sponsored by Rep. Orval Hansen, R-Idaho, and Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho.

"I think the moratorium will provide a 'hands off' period so that we can take a comprehensive look at the middle Snake," Ullman said.

Ullman reiterated that the eventual decision on alternative uses for the river should be made by the Interior Committee, "but postponing the dam issue will allow the committee to look at current proposals dealing with the Hells Canyon area apart from the dam issue at the present time."

The efforts of major power companies to construct nuclear plants in eastern Oregon area major factor, Ullman said, since they will meet local power needs as they grow during the coming years.

PUC clears bond issue

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Public Utilities Commission announced today approval of Pacific Power and Light Company's petition for the issuance and sale of $35 million in principal amount of its first mortgage bonds.

The PUC said it following public invitation for bids at least two independent proposals for the purchase or underwriting of the new bonds are received and one proposal is accepted the utility may, without further order or filing with the commission, issue and sell the new bonds.

No notes needed

BOISE (UPI) — State Treasurer Marjorie Ruth Moon said Wednesday a transfer from the sales tax fund meant the state did not have to issue tax anticipation notes as expected.

Miss Moon said she expected to issue the notes because the state had been in the red for 30 days.

But, she said, when the 30-day period ended Wednesday Wednesday she checked the sales tax fund and discovered over $8 million there.

Miss Moon said the sales tax fund is transferred at the end of the month, but said $3.5 million was transferred Wednesday to meet the state's needs.

She said another transfer from the sales tax fund will be made against the end of the month.

Tax anticipation notes are issued to raise needed money on the basis of anticipated income from tax returns. The state is prohibited by law from running in the red for more than 30 days in its general fund.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks were lower in light trading at the half-way mark Thursday. The Dow Jones industrial average was down about 2 points at 902.53, while declines topped advances by 100 issues.

Other leading market indicators also pointed slightly lower. Turnover at 1 p.m. amounted to 6,610,000 shares, down from 6,620,000 shares traded at a comparable period Wednesday.

Electronics, among the day's weakest spots, ranged to about 3 points lower. Motors and steels were narrowly mixed, while point-sized movers in the oils were in retreat.

Analysts attributed the setback to uncertainty over what steps President Nixon will impose after the expiration of the wage-price freeze on Nov. 13.

Among the day's most active stocks were American Telephone shares, down 1/4 on 116,800 shares. St. Regis Paper up 1/4 on 97,000 shares, Telex Corp. up 1/4 on 71,000 shares, and Pan American World Airways 1/4 lower on 69,100 shares.

Less active IBM was off 3, while Control Data and Polaroid lost more than a point each.

Bausch & Lomb fell 1/4, and Superior Oil lost 3/4.

Ford and Chrysler surrendered fractions, as did U.S. Steel. Bethlehem Steel, however, edged higher, along with General Motors.

Death probe order given

FT. MEADE, Md. (UPI)—An Army aviation officer testified Wednesday he heard a superior officer order Col. Oran K. Henderson to investigate reports that civilians were killed at May Lai.

Lt. Col. Frederic Watke said the order to Henderson, being court martialed on charges he covered up the My Lai massacre, was issued by Brig. Gen. George Young Jr., deputy commander of the American Division in which Henderson served as commander of the 11th Infantry Brigade.

Watke testified that Young told Henderson to conduct an investigation during a meeting in a command trailer after receiving reports from helicopter pilots about atrocities being committed in the hamlet during a sweep March 16, 1968.

"Young instructed Henderson to conduct an investigation," Watke testified. "... I understood Gen. Young to say, addressing himself to Col. Henderson, he would conduct an investigation and render a report."

Earlier, Watke testified that the commander of the task force that swept through My Lai ordered a ceasefire after being told that unarmed civilians were being killed.

Watke, who commanded one of the two helicopter units used in the operation, said the ceasefire order was given by the late Col. Frank Barker, commander of "Task Force Barker," which was part of Henderson's brigade.

The prosecution is trying to prove that Henderson, who was in a helicopter over My Lai at the time, knew from personal reports and from listening to radio transmissions that something unusual was happening at the village, but failed to investigate.

Council endorses closing

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Mental Health Advisory Council voted Wednesday to close one or both of the state's mental institutions as soon as alternate facilities are available.

The recommendation will be made to the State Board of Health when it meets in Boise Sept. 29.

The alternative facilities would be regional mental health centers, and the council unanimously passed a motion advising the Board of Health to accelerate development of the community health centers through "fair and equitable" funding of the seven health regions of the state.

Members indicated closure of either the State Hospital North at Orofino or State Hospital South at Blackfoot would be premature at this time.

But they also indicated emphasis must be placed on development of community programs if Idaho is ever to reach a point where institutionalization is no longer needed for the mentally ill.

Several members suggested a time-table be established by which the Division of Mental Health could work toward closure of the hospitals.

Gail Getz, Boise, added, "we have come a long way in mental health when we can seriously consider closing one of our institutions."

New hours in effect at library

TWIN FALLS — New hours for fall and winter months are now in effect at the Twin Falls Public Library. Robert Bruce, librarian, announced today.

He said the library is open from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Friday and Saturday.

The children's room is now open Monday through Thursday from noon to 9 p.m. and on Friday and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. During summer months the children's library has been open mornings, closing at 6 p.m.

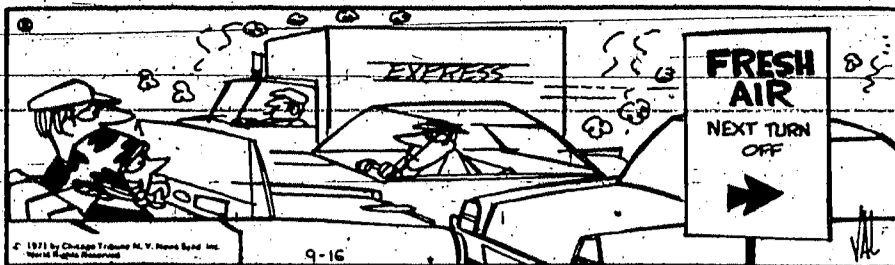

For adults, the new schedule allows an additional two hours in the evenings since summer closing was at 7 p.m. on weekdays, Bruce said.

TWIN FALLS — M-Sgt. William B. Horn recently returned from Ban Me Thuot, Vietnam, where he served with the Air Force this past year.

Signs of the times

Kunstler raps riot report

NEW YORK (UPI)—Attorney William M. Kunstler, who acted as attorney for the Attica prison rioters, charged Wednesday that the official version of the uprising was "all an untruth" and called for massive public demonstrations at the nation's prisons Oct. 2.

Thirty-two inmates and 10 prison employees died in the uprising, all but one of them—a prison guard—during a police and National Guard attack on the prison Monday morning. The death of the 32nd inmate occurred Wednesday and Kunstler was unaware of the latest death toll at the time he spoke.

agreed to drop one of two demands rejected by prison authorities—removal of the warden. Another demand—amnesty for acts committed during the uprising—"was negotiable," he said.

Russell G. Oswald, state commissioner of correctional facilities, earlier had said that 28 other prisoner demands dealt with conditions which needed correction.

Kunstler also said "I saw nothing of the sort" when asked if prisoners had been assigned to execute hostages in the event of an attack. Prison officials and several of the surviving hostages have said a prisoner was assigned to execute each of them.

Prison officials at first said several hostages who died during the uprising had their throats slit by prisoners.

Phosphates said least of 3 evils

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The government said Wednesday that phosphates are "the least of three evils" among laundry detergents and urged reconsideration of state and local laws banning or restricting them.

"My advice to the housewife at this time is to use a phosphate detergent," U.S. Surgeon General Jesse L. Steinfeld told a news conference. "The safest thing in terms of human health is to use phosphates."

Phosphates are still considered a leading cause of lake deterioration, Steinfeld said. But he said many phosphate substitutes now marketed are caustic and pose "unacceptable health risks," particularly for children who might eat them.

Phosphate substitutes are chemical formulas that are generally kept secret by the detergent companies that developed them.

Phosphates, naturally occurring substances necessary for life, came into use for laundry purposes with the advent of the automatic washing machine and are used in more than 90 per cent of today's detergents.

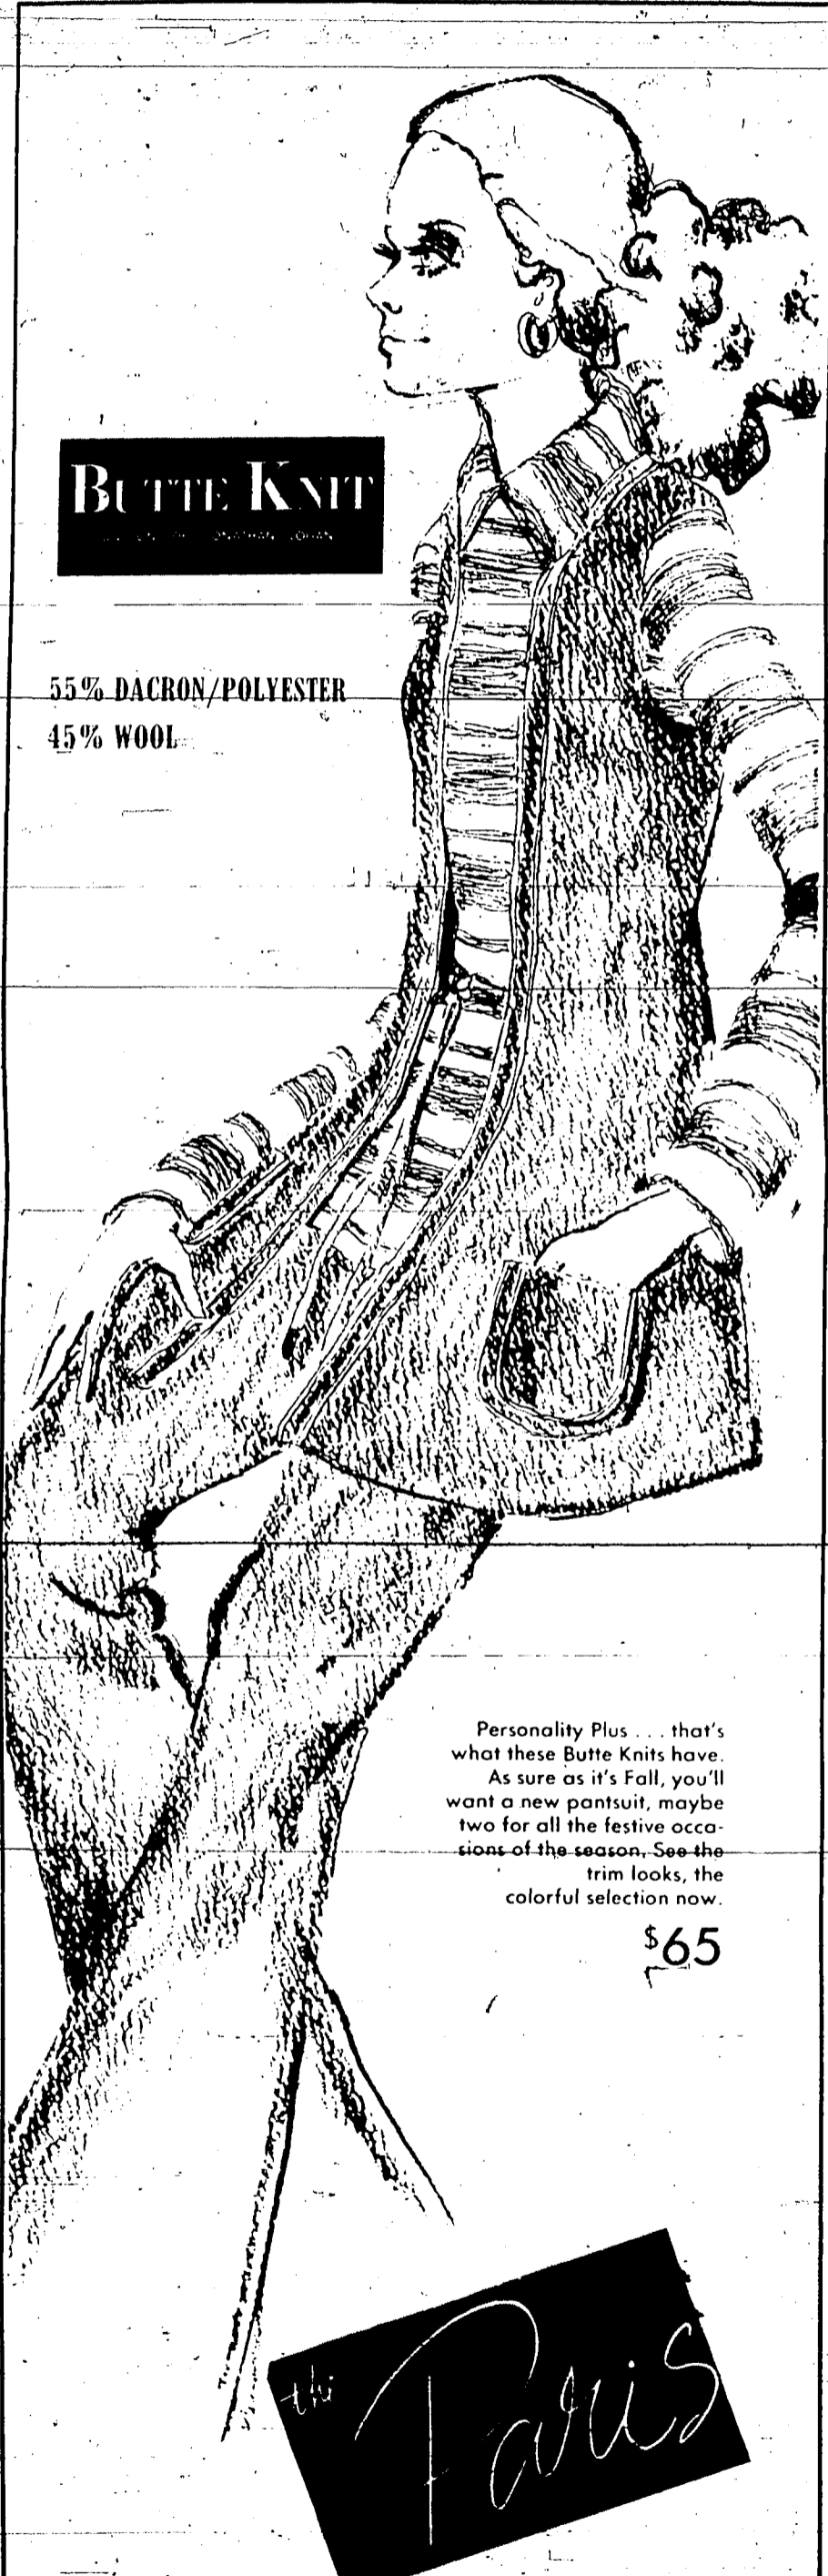

Detergent manufacturers found that plain soap would not clean as well in automatic washing machines as detergents containing phosphates, which serve primarily as a water softener.

Asked whether the government considered phosphates "the least of three evils," Charles C. Edwards, commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration, replied: "That certainly is our position, yes."

Lincoln official denies bulk sale

SHOSHONE — Lincoln County Weed Control Supervisor Byron Hall said today his office has not sold herbicides in unmarked containers.

"I do not sell herbicides in unmarked containers, and I never have," he said.

Earlier, Lincoln County had been identified as one of three in Magic Valley that occasionally "bulked out" herbicides — a practice in which poisons are sold in odd-size containers, often without proper labeling.

Hall said the Times-News had been "pretty sneaky" when a reporter called, asking for a small amount of a herbicide in a small container to be brought in by the reporter.

Hall said he was working on his day off. "I was working on some machinery and in order to get back to my work, I said yes, she could get the amount she wanted," he said.

"I intended to explain to her the regulations when she came in for the chemical and she would not have received it in an unmarked container," he said.

Gooding and Blaine counties were identified in similar illegal "bulking" procedures.

Idaho officials have said they will charge the Gooding weed operation for its bulking operations. No legal action against Lincoln County has been announced.

Hall said he is willing to sell small amounts of herbicides in larger properly labeled containers, permitting the purchaser to return the unused quantity for a refund.

He did not say what guarantee he had of the quality of the returned portion, nor whether it would be resold. Such a returned portion could not be resold under current federal and state law, because purity could not be guaranteed.

"I don't mind a check on my operations," Hall said. "In fact I would welcome more checks, to make certain I am doing the job right. But I do not like this playing around on the telephone."

School men split on kindergartens

BY LEE TREMAINE
Times-News Writer

School district superintendents around the Magic Valley differ sharply in their evaluation of the new state-sponsored, federally-funded kindergarten program, with Twin Falls, Jerome and Hazelton declining the offer while other districts are making plans for the classes.

Twin Falls Supt. George Staudaer said Wednesday the district will not accept the state offer of three "alots" for kindergarten teachers. He cited an unanticipated cost to the district, unfairness to the many children not allowed to participate due to the limited nature of the program, and difficulties of administration.

Hazelton Superintendent Dr. Tom Utterback said he was offered one teacher, but after discussion with his board of trustees he decided not to participate. Utterback said his widespread district presents transportation problems for 5-year-olds who would have to travel to Hazelton for the half-day classes.

"We have found when you ask parents to bring in their children or pick them up at noon that only about a third will participate. This is too few to run the program properly," he said.

Dr. Utterback echoed the sentiments of most educators when he said he believed the state should fund a full-scale kindergarten program instead of a part-time affair. "You should either have full participation by the state and school districts or none at all," several have said.

In Burley, however, the Cassia County School District will accept the two teachers offered and plans to add a third kindergarten class, through utilization of the federal "Title One" funds which have sponsored a six-week summer program for pre-schoolers.

Cassia Supt. Harold Blauer said the Title One funds will be used to pay the salary of a third kindergarten teacher during the school year instead of during the summer, at least for as long as then new state program continues.

Estimates of the cost of the kindergarten program vary widely between districts. In Twin Falls, Staudaer said the three classrooms offered his district could cost upwards of $9,000 for the school year, including rental of classroom space.

In Burley, Blauer said he estimated out-of-pocket costs at $400 to $500 per classroom, but this would not include acquisition of additional space. Available rooms in district schools will be used at no extra cost, Blauer said.

Federal guidelines for the program specify federal funds cannot be used for anything except payment of salaries for the teachers, stipulating that all additional expenses, such as instructional supplies in the case of the kindergartens, must be paid by the "governmental unit" participating in the program.

These district expenses must total at least 12 per cent of the total federal contribution, according to the lengthy series of federal regulations sent to all participating districts this week.

In Rupert, Dr. Darrell Hatfield, superintendent of School District 331, said he and his trustees are still undecided about participation in the program. His district, already $200,000 in the red, could face serious money problems if the kindergartens are implemented, Hatfield said.

The superintendent said he might "juggle the Title One funds" if possible to help repay some of the out-of-pocket expenses, but he is unsure of the procedure involved.

His district, with the two kindergarten teachers allocated, could enroll only about a third of the estimated 360 5-year-olds in the district. This presents a serious problem of selection, Hatfield said, echoing the sentiments of other valley superintendents.

"We're just not ready to say yet," Hatfield said in conclusion.

In Boise, Dr. Roy Truby, spokesman for the Idaho Department of Education on the kindergarten issue, told the Times-News today that the specific employment requirements, including a specification that one-third of the those employed should be war veterans, "do not apply to school districts."

The federal program envisioned "enhancement" of employment opportunities for the "underemployed" or the jobless, through public works and other projects. As written, the federal guidelines are not designed for school districts, Dr. Truby said. The federal information was distributed to the school districts primarily for information on the reports required.

"We certainly couldn't require that Vietnam War veterans be located to teach kindergartens. There just aren't any veterans qualified to teach at that level," Truby said.

Of the 115 school districts allocated kindergarten "alots" under the federally supported program, "80 to 85" have indicated that they will participate, while only three districts have contacted the state department of education to refuse, Dr. Truby said.

The Twin Falls district, which will not participate, according to Staudaer, has not notified the state of refusal, Dr. Truby said today.

Federal funds scheduled to go to districts which decline the offer may be re-allocated to districts requesting more kindergarten teachers, Dr. Truby said. In Burley, Hatfield said he may request funds for one or more additional teachers if the financial problems can be solved, in order to give more students the opportunity for the pre-school training.

Hatfield said he had also asked the state if his district could wait until next spring, scheduling a full-time program which could enroll twice as many youngsters, rather than starting this fall.

"We have not received an answer to our queries yet, so we don't know," Hatfield said.

Meanwhile, the time draws short. The kindergarten program is scheduled to start the first of October, in order to give the youngsters a full semester of training.

Box canyon meet called

GOODING — A public meeting called to discuss applications to utilize water flowing across land managed by the federal Bureau of Land Management in the Box Canyon area in Gooding County is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Sept. 27 at the Gooding County Courthouse.

Creek dumps a million gallons of pure water every three minutes into the polluted Snake.

Box Canyon Springs have been rated as the eleventh largest fresh-water springs in the world, the BLM said, and the plentiful water has attracted wide interest in its utilization.

The Idaho Parks Department has submitted an application to purchase 211 acres of federal land in Gooding and Twin Falls counties for a state park, including part of Box Canyon.

The state plan calls for construction of a campground and boat-launching facilities on the south side of the Snake River near Box Canyon, with foot trails leading up the slopes of the canyon.

Many people have objected to both plans, asking that the beauty of the canyon be kept untouched by either state or private developers. The Idaho Environmental Council, the Greater Sawtooth Preservation Council and the Idaho Wildlife Federation have urged that Box Canyon be protected.

Comments on the issues will be received by the BLM office in Shoshone before the hearing. Writers should address the Bureau of Land Management, District Manager, P. O. Box 2-B, Shoshone, 83352.

Sewers readied

HEAVY EQUIPMENT begins work on Shoshone's first municipal sewer system. City voters approved a $580,000 bond issue a year ago to pay for installation of the sewer. Crews from Hartwell Excavating Co., Idaho Falls, are at work on two blocks in the northwest section of the city.

BLM officials will explain their role in the controversial situation in which plans of several groups to use the flow of 850 cubic feet per second in Box Canyon are being strongly opposed by conservationists and the Idaho Department of Parks.

Currently, the BLM said, two right-of-way applications and a state parks department petition have been filed on Box Canyon, located on the Snake River in southwest Gooding County.

Both right-of-way applications propose to divert most of the crystal-clear water arising from springs in the canyon for use in fish hatcheries. One application envisions construction of two fish-propagation complexes, one on the same side of the river and one across the river on private land in Twin Falls County.

Shaped like a large "U" lying in the desert, the canyon runs about a mile and a quarter from its steep-walled head to the Snake River. There Box Canyon

School gets extra funds in Blaine

HAILEY — Blaine County Schools will receive additional revenue this year under the 1971 tax levy set by the county commissioners, it was announced today.

School district maintenance and operations levies were raised about two mills. Two new categories — plant facility and emergency — with a total of 12.6 mills were added to the levy schedule. And the general school levy, set by the state, was increased by almost one mill.

Three new county programs — ambulance, appraisal and solid waste disposal — will receive tax revenue totaling about 1.5 mills.

In other action, the county commissioners approved matching funds of $35,700 for the construction of the new Bullion Street Bridge west of Halley. A representative from the Riverdale Co. of Ogden presented his plans for the Olympic Village Mobile Home Park, to be located off U.S. Highway 93 just south of the Red Top Motel.

His request for a change of zoning from R-2 to C-1 had been turned down by the county planning commission. The proposed Olympic Village would include a sales area, park and rental program for mobile homes.

Gooding donors shy

GOODING — The Gooding Bloodmobile did not reach its goal of 100 pints according to Mrs. M. V. Klingler, chairman for the drive.

Seventy-one pints were donated Wednesday and most of these came from their regular donors. There were not many new donors according to Mrs. Klingler, and 13 gallon donor pins were given.

Trucking chief speaks

BURLEY — C. James McCormick, chairman of the board of the American Trucking Association, addressed a luncheon session of the 37th annual meeting of the Idaho Motor Transport Association at the Ponderosa Inn today.

Action delayed at Filer

FILER — Any action on kindergarten was tabled until further information is available from the state, according to Tom Turner, superintendent of school district 413 following Tuesday evening's trustee meeting.

Mrs. Helen Cannon, district auditor, will meet with the trustees at 9 p.m. Sept. 21 to cover reports. The annual potluck dinner for trustees and teachers in the Filer Elementary School is set for Nov. 6.

Gordon Larson, athletic director, discussed with trustees the constant use of the gymnasium by the students and the trustees passed a resolution that only organizations and groups of adults who received prior permission from the trustees or superintendent would be allowed to use the gym.

Russell Terrell, music director, was given permission for the school band to participate in the Boise Fairyland Parade this winter.

Shotwell Electric, Twin Falls, was authorized to do some electrical work at the school and the low bid of $21.50 per ton for coal for the Hollister School was accepted from Idaho Bean Company.

Ted Schlermeier discussed changes in the district Blue Cross policy. LeRoy Fleenor discussed changes in the bus insurance which he carries. Bill Heaps, principal of the Filer Elementary School, and Ed Marshall, high school principal, discussed athletic events with the trustees.

Richfield sets vote

RICHFIELD — A vote on a $151,000 bond issue to finance construction of a sanitary sewer system has been set for Nov. 2 by the Richfield City Council.

The necessary ordinance, calling for the election and establishment of the system, was adopted by the council this week.

The election will be conducted in connection with balloting for city council members, Mayor C. W. Ward said.

Estimated cost of the project is $248,000 with $151,000 being provided by revenue bonds if they are approved, and the remaining $97,000 coming from federal and state grants, he said.

Terms of three council members, Mayor Ward, Howard DeWitt and John Lemmon, expire this year. Ward has announced plans to run for re-election.

In other business, the council approved beer and liquor licenses for the Pheasant Club and beer sales permits for stores. A culvert for South Main Street in the Underwood area was also approved.

RICHFIELD — A vote on a $151,000 bond issue to finance construction of a sanitary sewer system has been set for Nov. 2 by the Richfield City Council.

Filer accepting home applicants

FILER — Applications are now being taken for Filer's housing program, according to Rev. Roy Watson, chairman of the Filer Housing Committee. Application blanks may be obtained at the Filer City Office.

To qualify, to rent the units a single person cannot have assets of over $10,000 and an income of more than $3,700 per year. Married couples cannot have an income of more than $4,100 per year.

Plans are to build approximately 20 units for senior citizens and 10 for low-price occupants of any age. A representative from HUD department, Portland, Ore., will be in Filer in the near future and will meet with the committee to discuss land and other details.

Filing out an application does not commit an individual in any way, added the Rev. Watson.

GRAND COULEE, Wash. (UPI) — A wildcat strike by ironworkers that has idled 925 workers at the third powerhouse at Grand Coulee dam was in its seventh day today.

The strike began last Friday when 45 ironworkers walked off their jobs in a jurisdictional dispute.

Union representatives, who have urged the ironworkers to return to their jobs, have been ignored.

Bicyclist uninjured

TWIN FALLS — A young bicyclist escaped injury Wednesday when his bicycle and a car collided at Falls Avenue and Rosemont Drive.

Twin Falls Police said the accident occurred about 4 p.m. when Brent Whitehead, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Whitehead, Twin Falls, apparently drove his bike into the path of a car driven by William Dennis Dove, 15, Twin Falls. Dove was traveling south on Rosemont and the child apparently turned off of Falls Avenue going south on Rosemont.

Blaine region chilled

ICICLES adorn a Bellevue back yard clothesline and fence as temperatures progressively dip lower each night to well below freezing. Fairfield reported a 23 degree reading, the lowest of the season, and a hint of chills to come. Twin Falls recorded a low of 34 early today, and other points in the area have also dipped well into the 30 degree range. No killing frost has been reported so far, although tender vegetation has been nipped.

Air pollution index 163

The pollution reading was taken by the staff of the South Central Health District at the Twin Falls City Hall. The reading is expressed as the number of micrograms of particulate material per cubic meter of air for the 24-hour period.

Federal pollution regulations say pollution levels should be kept below 75 micrograms over any 24-hour period, and should not be permitted to rise above 260 micrograms for even a short period of time.

Forecast

Today:	Good
Tonight:	Poor
Tomorrow:	Good

This forecast provided by the Idaho Department of Health indicates the ability of the atmosphere to disperse pollution. Burning oil, prohibited by law should be prevented when the air is poorly able to disperse air pollutants.

Child center studied

By DAVID ESPO Times-News Writer
RUPERT — Leaders of an effort to locate and finance a "satellite" Child Development Center for the Mini-Cassia area will meet Wednesday with hopes of finding a proper location in a few weeks.

Dr. John Head, Rupert, who was elected president of the group at a public meeting last week, said Wednesday he knows of at least three offers of facilities in the Burley-Rupert area, but could not comment on the adequacy of any of them.

Members of the finance and building committee will meet with Dr. Head next week when "it will be up to the committees to decide what to do," the president said. He indicated some form of area survey would be conducted to gauge present possibilities for locating the center.

Dr. Head met Monday night at a planning session with Grant Richins and Mrs. Rulon Ramsey, advisers to the South Central Idaho Child Development Center in Twin Falls.

The two counties already have received $30,000 in government funds to staff the proposed facility.

This is enough to hire a social worker, a psychiatrist and a therapy technician. Funds must still be raised, however. Dr. Head said, to pay renovation rental and utility costs on the location.

The proposed local center would be affiliated with the one in Twin Falls.

Presently there are 205 reported cases of children with learning difficulties in the Mini-Cassia area, Richins said last week. Government surveys indicate as many as 1,400 more unreported cases.

Gus Gerleman and William Strasser, both Rupert, are chairman of the finance and building committee respectively.

Cassia residents study possible geo-thermal electrical generation

By GEORGIA LAYTON Times-News Writer
MALTA — Representatives of the Snake River Power Association held a closed meeting Tuesday evening at Raft River Rural Electric Conference room and heard a report on the proposed development of a volcanic steam driven electric plant near Bridge, Idaho. The association includes cooperatives and city-owned power companies from Afton, Wyo., to Burley.

The meeting was seeking sponsorship of the development by the association, according to Edwin Schlender, manager of Raft River Rural Electric whose firm has filed for 50 second feet of water for geothermal uses in the Bridge community. The application has been filed with the Idaho Water Administration Department, Boise.

The association members asked for more reports on the proposed project, including geologists' reports and legal standings. The proposed project is being studied by the association.

Geologists have been in the area for several months and a consultant reported his findings during the meeting.

The proposed project would produce an estimated 250 megawatts from the plant, making it the third largest plant in Idaho and the second geothermal plant in the United States.

One of the problems facing the development of the proposed steam power plant is that part of the hot water needed is underground and drilling has been prohibited in the area. This area was termed a critical water area in 1963 by the state.

The proposed site for the plant is on two sections of land about two miles west of Bridge, near the Raft River Narrows. Plans call for drilling as many as 32 wells to tap the underground hot water source.

There are already hot water wells in the area on ranches that are now used for irrigation. Also there is a hot spring which flows, and old timers in the area say the pool where the spring flows was used for scalding hogs.

Mrs. H. P. Crank also has a hot water well which she uses to heat a greenhouse in the area that is located on 10 acres.

According to Schlender, geothermal plants produce electric power without much pollution or environmental impact.

Hospital cottages 'needed'

NAMPA (UPI) — The administrative director for the Idaho State School and Hospital said Wednesday as many as 40 more cottages are needed to replace old ward buildings at the institution.

John Christensen told the Mental Retardation and Child Development Advisory Council it is hoped in the next 5 to 10 years the school will be used only for short-term acute medical problems and for the few permanent residents who cannot adjust to community living.

The council is holding a two-day meeting to discuss staffing and facility needs at the state school and at the six child development centers located throughout the state.

Christensen said, however, the current population of 600 at the hospital had not dropped appreciably since the child development centers were founded.

He said the centers had been expected to relieve some of the demands on the state school, but said the area facilities are "finding new problems."

Christensen said as many as 40 more "family living" cottages are needed at the state hospital to replace old ward buildings and provide a home-like atmosphere for the patients.

Man dies in wreck

CASCADE, Idaho (UPI) — ack Charles Villines, 30, Boise, has been found dead in the wreckage of his car — apparently the victim of a traffic accident.

Sheriff Merton Logue said Villines apparently died sometime Sunday or Monday, but that his vehicle was hidden from the bridge near where it left Highway 55 and was not discovered until Wednesday afternoon.

Mini-Cassia Society meets in new building

BURLEY — Cassia County Historical Society held a meeting Tuesday evening at their newly acquired building at Main Street and Hilland Avenue.

It was reported that the directors had met periodically during the summer months.

The society, not yet one year old, had acquired the building formally used as a canning kitchen, with sufficient ground for landscaping and parking area. This property had been given by Cassia County to the society for a museum.

Plans were discussed for remodeling the building and improving the grounds. Grant Fillmore, chairman of the museum committee, showed some drawings of suggested improvement of building and grounds.

Suggestions were the building, which is cement block constructed, be covered with saved timber both inside and outside, a covered porch around the 40 by 90 foot building, making an early western saloon or trading post effect.

Fillmore was advised to consult an architect on the matter for drawing and blue prints of the proposed project.

"If we get started and can show that the society is going ahead and have something both scenic and useful to the community, donations in money and materials and labor plus other items will come," said Fillmore, "and will help in making the project possible."

The building itself should hold number one priority at this time and the improvements on grounds be taken care of as money and time are available, said Fillmore.

It was announced that the building and lumber at the old ice skating rink in North Burley have been given to the society at no cost, but must be removed in a few weeks. This material could be well used in remodeling at the museum site.

Al Dawson, president of the society, conducted the meeting. He commented that the local society has come a long way in a short time and in a few years could make the museum site a show place of southern Idaho and a place to preserve the memories of the historical past of the Snake River area.

Camas-Carey, WR-Jerome games feature weekend

Key battles in the eight-man Snake River Conference and the South Central Idaho Conference take the spotlight for Friday high school football action in Magic Valley. The two biggest teams, Twin Falls and Minico, sit this one out. The Camas County Musers, who have opened two lopsided victories, will travel to Carey which has yet to be scored on. The result of that one should go quite a way in establishing the eight-man representative to go against the Long Pin champions in November. However, they have a return match on tap, too. Jerome hosts Wood River in what should be a defensive duel. Jerome is 2-0 and Wood River is 0-2 but don't let that fool you. Last year Jerome went to the air to give Wood River's four-four defense the worst time it's had in years. Wood River hasn't been able to get it going offensively, scoring only two touchdowns in two outings and losing by a total of seven points.

BALTIMORE (UPI) — When the Baltimore Colts open their season Sunday against the New York Jets, don't be surprised if you see the familiar number 19 on the jersey of the quarterback.

safety Jerry Logan will be activated this week and will start Sunday's game. He suffered a broken hand early in the exhibition season. Second year defensive lineman Billy Newsome, who had a good preseason, will start in place of injured defensive tackle Jim Bailey. Bailey's loss was a double blow to the Colts because they thought he was on the verge of stardom.

A's sweep pair to clinch west title

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Oakland Athletics clinched the American League's Western Division championship Wednesday night when they split a double-header with the Chicago White Sox, winning the first game, 3-2, and dropping the second game, 7-3.

Boston Red Sox a 6-5 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

The Colts said Wednesday they are about ready to activate Johnny Unitas, who at 38 has made a near miraculous recovery from a ruptured achilles tendon. "It's in our plans to activate Unitas this week," said coach Don McCafferty, "but no announcement will be made until we do it."

Oakland captured the opener on Sal Bando's two-run homer in the eighth. That blow clinched a tie for the Western title, and the race was officially over at Sox park at 9:54 p.m. That was the time Kansas City was mathematically eliminated by California, 6-2.

Palmer, Dickinson lead U.S. against British in Ryder Cup opening round

ST LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — Arnold Palmer, already the winningest golfer ever in Ryder Cup competition, got the chance to rack up another victory today. He was paired with Gardner Dickinson, unbeaten in Ryder Cup play, in the opening of the 19th International matches between the United States and Great Britain.

THE TIMES-NEWS

Palmer and Dickinson, who has a 5-0 Ryder Cup record, were matched against Peter Townsend and Peter Oosterhuis of Great Britain in one of the four two-ball alternate-shot foursomes which open the biennial championship.

Casper ranks second to Palmer in most Ryder Cup wins with 14, against four losses and six halves, while Barber has 1-1-2 in the meet. Coles has won 10, lost 13 and halved 4, and O'Connor has 9 wins, 16 losses and 2 halves.

Both declared they might change their lineups for the Thursday afternoon round of four more alternate-shot foursomes, and it was likely that Casper would be left off the U.S. team. He has been hampered by an injured toe and playing only 18 holes a day, Hebert said.

The match will end Saturday when there will be 16 singles matches, eight in the morning and eight in the afternoon. The U.S. has won 14 and Great Britain 3 of the previous matches with one tie.

Palmer has won 16 of 20 Ryder Cup matches while Townsend, on the British Walker Cup team in 1966, has won three of five and Oosterhuis is making his first Ryder Cup appearance.

Both non-playing captains, Eric Brown of Britain and Jay Hebert of the United States, said they were pleased with the way the pairings worked out. Each had to name his teams in order, and the luck of the draw decided whom they would play.

Herbert left National Open champion Lee Trevino, not back at full strength after an appendectomy, Mason Rudolph, J.C. Snead and Gene Littler out of the pairings for the morning round, while Brown omitted Brian Barnes, Barnard Gallacher, Harry Bannerman and John Garner.

Today's two rounds will carry eight of the 32 points at stake in the three day competition with eight more up for grabs Friday when there will be four four-ball foursomes in the

Costly fires
EAST LANSING; Mich. (UPI)—More than 88,000 fires cost Michigan 260 lives and $114.6 million in property damage during 1970, reports the Michigan State Police.

The number one cause of fires was carelessness, the Fire Marshal Division said. Improper rubbish burning started 9,703 fires and another 6,038 were caused by negligent smoking and careless use of matches.

Governors reject bus measures

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (UPI)—The nation's governors rejected two resolutions Wednesday to halt massive busing of children to achieve racial balance in American schools.

The 50 chief of state executives, meeting in the final business session of the 63rd National Governors Conference, also turned down a Democratic resolution calling for basic changes in President Nixon's new economic policy.

The three resolutions represented the two major controversies at the conference that had threatened to erupt at the final session of the meeting.

As proposals from the floor, each of the resolutions required a three-fourths majority vote to be brought before the conference. With virtually no debate permitted, the governors easily denied the resolutions the necessary votes.

A major political battle over Nixon's economic program never materialized, although Republican governors feared it to the extent that they remained close to the conference floor to make sure the Democratic majority would not get the necessary votes.

The Democratic resolution on economics was offered by Gov. Marvin Mandel of Maryland. The two resolutions to end busing as a means of achieving racial balance in schools were offered by Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama and by Democrat Gov. Jimmy Carter of Georgia, who teamed with Republican Gov. Winfield Dunn of Tennessee.

At the conclusion of the session, the governors unanimously elected Republican Gov. Arch Moore of West Virginia chairman of the National Governors' Conference. He succeeds Democrat Gov. Warren E. Hearnes of Missouri.

Control accord gained

CASPER, Wyo. (UPI)—Representatives of conservation organizations and sheep and cattle raisers—who have been at odds in recent months—reached agreement Wednesday on the desirability of specific, selective methods of predator control.

Bruce Ward, president of the Wyoming Outdoor Coordinating Council, said he believed all of the sides "now understand what common grounds we do have."

Ward arranged for the meeting. "There is a good deal of common ground we do have on the subject of predators," said Ward. "I think we understand each other's side more clearly now."

He said despite obvious differences, the 13 men agreed to meet again in November, although no specific date was set.

In a prepared statement on the areas of agreement read by Ward, the group said it believed "some form of protection for predator caused losses is necessary and fair for sheep raisers."

"We favor the use of nonlethal methods of protection rather than methods presently employed, but recognize no effective nonlethal methods exist at this time," the statement said. "Therefore, until acceptable nonlethal alternatives are developed we are not opposed to all lethal methods of predator control."

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Nixon administration entered the West Coast dock strike Wednesday, sending the top federal mediator from Washington to try to unsnarl the tieup which has caused a cargo jam threatening the President's economic program.

The tieup of all U.S. Pacific Coast ports is now 77 days old, with 150 ships anchored in harbor and 15,000 longshoremen idle. It has closed some factories, clogged transportation pipelines and is strangling Hawaii and Far East commerce.

J. Curtis Counts, chief of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, was ordered by President Nixon Wednesday to take a personal hand in negotiations between the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union and the Pacific Maritime Association.

Labor Secretary James D.

Hodgson said the administration had no plans to invoke the Taft-Hartley Act by ordering the dockworkers back to their jobs for an 80-day cooling off period.

"We are trying to let collective bargaining work," Hodgson told newsmen in Washington.

The government was dealing cautiously with the walkout.

Stowaway seized

GARFUNKEL, tiger-striped gray cat which spent a month aboard a Boeing 747 while it flew more than 100,000 miles, was captured early Wednesday by W. S. (Blacky) Lloyd, employe of the Boeing Co. plant at Everett, Wash. The cat escaped from a cage Aug. 19 on a flight to Anchorage, Alaska, to join his owner, Steve Smirnoff. He was lured from hiding in the plane with cat food. It was not known if the cat had eaten during his 25 days as a stowaway. (UPI)

Bailey victor in legal clash

FT. MCPHERSON, Ga. (UPI)—Defense attorney F. Lee Bailey won a vital courtroom skirmish Wednesday and was permitted to call to the stand a witness who testified Capt. Ernest L. Medina knew nothing of the slaughter at My Lai while it was occurring.

Earlier in the day Bailey put on the stand a lie detector expert who said the government's star witness had admitted to him that he suffered from "delusions."

The witness whose testimony triggered the dispute between Bailey and the court was Capt. Robert L. Hicks.

Hicks appeared before the court Tuesday and, with the jury out of the room, told of a conversation he'd had with Lt. William L. Calley Jr., following My Lai, where Medina is accused of killing 102 civilians.

The military judge, Col. Kenneth A. Howard, initially ruled Hicks' testimony hearsay, but later reversed the ruling and permitted Hicks to testify before the jury Wednesday afternoon.

Hicks said that in July of 1968—four months after the massacre—he had talked with Calley, who stands convicted of 22 murders at My Lai, and that the young lieutenant was recalling to him incidents that happened during the operation—telling "war stories."

Calley, Hicks said, told him that when American troops entered My Lai on their search and destroy mission, the villagers "came out and started to cheer."

"They sure shut up though when the point man shot a water buffalo—then we all opened up," Hicks quoted Calley as saying.

2 'brothers' ask trial date delay

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The two surviving "Soledad Brothers" Wednesday asked the California Supreme Court to delay their trial, scheduled to begin Monday, on charges of killing a Soledad State Prison guard.

Attorneys for Fleeta Drumgo, 26, and John Clutchette, 28, filed a writ of habeas corpus and asked for an early hearing.

Late Tuesday they had filed with the State District Court of Appeal for another writ that would stop the trial.

Wednesday's action said Drumgo and Clutchette had been denied their right to legal access to the courts and to effective communication with their counsel by action of San Quentin authorities. They also claimed to have been subjected to excessive cruel and unusual punishment.

The two are to go on trial in San Francisco Superior Court for the killing of guard John V. Mills, Jan. 16, 1970, at Soledad Prison.

UPI ordered out

SANTIAGO (UPI)—President Salvador Allende said Wednesday he will close United Press International in Chile.

The Marxist president, in a speech to the National Labor Union, said the news agency was being closed because it had carried stories as printed in other Latin American newspapers that were false.

The specific story involved was a dispatch in UPI's Spanish-language service quoting the newspaper El Tiempo of Bogota, Colombia.

The El Tiempo story said a Chilean airplane carrying some of Allende's guard who had accompanied him on a visit to Colombia last month actually had arrived in Santiago although it was reported lost over the jungle.

The newspaper claimed the Colombian secret service was investigating the possibility the plane had landed in a part of Colombia where subversive elements were operating.

The UPI dispatch quoted the newspaper directly and on Wednesday UPI also carried a denial of the story by Chilean Interior Minister Jose Toha.

NEW YORK (UPI)—American Telephone and Telegraph Co. (AT&T) announced Wednesday Communist China has agreed to restore direct telephone service between Communist China and the United States.

"We agree to your request of restoring the Shanghai-Oakland radio telephone circuit," said a cable from China to the AT&T long lines division.

The direct circuit was broken off without explanation by the Chinese in November 1968.

Cave tour set Sept. 26

TWIN FALLS — The concluding field trip this season for the Twin Falls County Historical Society will be a bus tour to the Crystal Ice Caves. The bus will leave Robert Stuart Junior High School at 10 a.m. on Sunday, Sept. 26.

The ice caves are located between American Falls and Aberdeen and are filled with centuries-old ice formations. This is the only rift cave in the world open to the public. The caves were discovered by two explorers in 1956. In 1963 the work of drilling and blasting began on a 1,200 foot tunnel beside the great rift. It was finished in 1965 and opened to the public. Visitors travel 150 feet underground into what once was a seething volcano. Now it is covered with delicate ice crystals so fragile they break at the slightest touch and towering crystal clear ice pillars so solid they have stood for centuries.

On the surface the rift appears as a crack in the earth's crust. However, it is made of numerous fissures running together and is over 40 miles in length.

Historical society members and guests who plan to take this trip are asked to call 733-0341 for reservations and information. Members of the tour will need to take a sack lunch.

ADVANCED certificate was presented Tuesday night to Chief Frank Barnett, right, by Paul Ostyn, police commissioner for the city of Twin Falls. Four other members of the department have earned advanced ratings and 15 have earned basic ratings under the Idaho Law Enforcement Planning Commission's Peace Officer Standards and Training Advisory Council program.

Removing trees nets $75 fine

TWIN FALLS — James Middleton, Twin Falls, was fined $75 and given a 60-day jail sentence which was later suspended, when he appeared before Federal Magistrate Harry Turner and entered a plea of guilty to removing trees from the Sawtooth National Forest.

Middleton was charged in a complaint signed Aug. 30 by Arch F. Lundy, assistant to the district ranger, with removing trees from a plantation near the Third Fork of Rock Creek on the Twin Falls ranger district. Forest officials said the man removed two trees which had been planted by Camp Fire girls a number of years ago as a forest rehabilitation project near Third Fork.

Ranger Lewis Munson said many such projects are undertaken by Camp Fire Girls and Boy Scouts to assist where trees have either died or been harvested.

Magistrate Turner said the official complaint charged Middleton with removal of a forestry product from a national forest without authorization or regulation from the secretary of agriculture.

Turner said the fine was paid and Middleton was released from the jail sentence providing no further such actions are committed.

Forest Ranger Munson said it is illegal to remove any plant or tree from the forest service lands without a permit and noted the trees could have been purchased at a nursery for far less than the $75 it cost the defendant.

Officers advance

20 TF police receive certification ratings

TWIN FALLS — Certifications from the Idaho State Peace Officers Standards and Training Council were presented Tuesday night to members of the Twin Falls Police Department at the regular monthly department meeting.

Paul Ostyn, member of the Twin Falls City Council and police commissioner for the city of Twin Falls, gave the awards to more than 20 members of the department.

Among the certificates were five advanced ratings presented to Chief Frank Barnett, Capt. Kenneth Johnston, Capt. Roy Lindell, Sgt. Cliff Sharp and one for Capt. Tim Qualls who is presently in Washington, D. C., attending the FBI Academy.

Chief Barnett said he believes the Twin Falls Police force may be the only department in the state, with the possible exception of the Idaho State Police, to have five men with the high ranking.

Fifteen other members of the force have received basic certificates and three others who no longer are with the department earned certification while on the Twin Falls force.

The 15 are Ron Garey, Jim Kistler, Jim Howells, Jerry Cargill, Garry Corder, Willie Davis, Dan Lammers, Jim Mildon, Stan Moore, Gene Ritchie, Ron Strolberg, Donald Taylor, John Wellard, Bill Reid and Nancy Trueblood.

The certification, part of new law enforcement standards set up in Idaho, started in January, 1970. Anyone employed by agencies after July 1, 1970, must be certified within one year after the date of employment. This excludes desk man and parking meter attendants, Chief Barnett said.

Many of those certified on the Twin Falls Force were not required to be certified, the chief said. He said several other officers have just become eligible for certification. About 70 per cent of the force, excluding deskmen and meter men are now certified, Chief Barnett said, and one officer, Don Hamann, is now attending the Idaho State Peace Officers Standards and Training Council academy at Idaho State University, to qualify for certification.

Advanced certificates can now be earned by having 20 years of service and 300 hours of approved training or by having 15 years of service and 600 hours of approved training. Applicants also must pass a rigid test and be recommended for certification by supervisory personnel.

Chief Barnett said after Dec. 31, 1971, requirements for advanced certificates will include one year of college.

Basic certificates are gained by attending the ISU academy and having one year of service and passing the test or by having three years of service and passing the test. Basic certificate holders must be recommended for certification by supervisory officers.

Chief Barnett said he feels the certification program is something that has been long needed in Idaho law enforcement. "We look at law enforcement as a profession, but how can you have a profession if you have no standards?" he said. He feels the certification will generally upgrade law enforcement in Idaho by drawing higher caliber and more highly trained individuals.

The first regular election in Oklahoma territory was held Nov. 4, 1890.

Cong. Hansen supports Security act repeal

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Cong. Orval Hansen, R-Idaho, voiced strong support for legislation passed by the House repealing Title II of the Internal Security Act of 1950 and prohibiting the establishment of emergency detention camps in this country.

Hansen, a co-sponsor of the bill, said in debate on the House floor that the Emergency Detention Act "violates basic constitutional principles and American judicial traditions." He said the law authorizes the President to detain and imprison a person, not on the basis of an overt act committed in violation of law, but on the basis of mere suspicion that he may commit a crime.

"Thus, the elementary safeguards guaranteed to our most hardened criminals and the most dangerous of traitors are denied to the most innocent of our suspected citizens under the Emergency Detention Act," he said.

Hansen said the bill approved this week also prohibits the wholesale detention of a group of persons arbitrarily determined to be a danger to the United States. "The unfortunate experience of the Japanese-Americans in the 1940's provides dramatic and sobering evidence of what can happen in this country when power is misplaced."

"The evacuation and incarceration of some 110,000 of Japanese ancestry in 1942 is one of the saddest chapters in the history of our republic. We must make certain that this tragic mistake is not repeated," Hansen said.

Census Bureau finds, revives Lost River

WASHINGTON — Lost River has been found... even though it must remain "lost."

The U.S. Census Bureau has found Lost River, Idaho, in its files, and restocked it with 40 real-live people.

Census people had reported Lost River lost all its people during the 60s, coming up with nobody's home when the people with the pencil and paper came around last year.

Lost River's population was officially zero, said the Census Bureau.

But Lost River people, all 40 of 'em, complained. The Census people checked their computers, kicked a couple of memory banks and lo'n behold, Lost River suddenly enjoyed a population explosion.

Now, Lost River has an official population of 40. At last, Lakeside, Colo., was also resurrected by the census people, which boosted its population from zero to 17 when the 17 yelled loud enough to be heard back in Washington.

TF woman released in crash

TWIN FALLS — A Twin Falls woman was treated and released from Magic Valley Memorial Hospital early Wednesday after she was involved in an automobile accident south of Twin Falls.

Twin Falls County sheriff's officers said Judith Ann Wilson, 21, was driver of a car which went out of control on Eastland Drive South. The eastbound vehicle crossed into the oncoming lane of traffic, went across a borrow pit and into a field.

The driver was issued a citation for inattentive driving.

Hansen lists fire number

HANSEN — Allen Bourn, mayor of Hansen, reports there has been a change in telephone numbers to be called in case of fire.

His home number, 423-5452, may be reached during evening or non-working hours, and he may be reached at the Hansen Cafe number during working hours, 423-9974. Delbert Mothershead, marshal, may be reached at 423-5802.

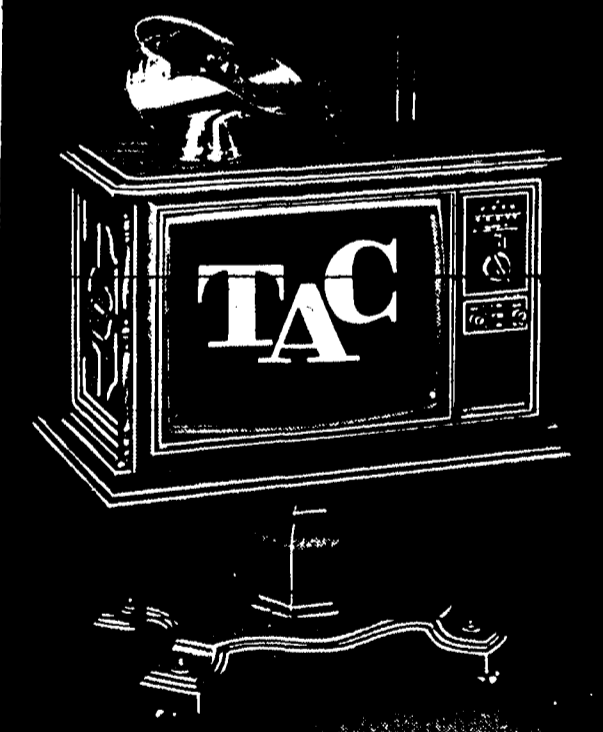

Robert Perkins, who has changed his residence in Hansen, has a new number, which is listed with his mother, Mrs. Catherine Perkins, 423-5152. Perkins is the Volunteer Fireman Chief.

Grangers resolutions urged

KING HILL. — At the meeting of the King Hill Grange Tuesday evening a letter was read from Dap Robinson, state grangemaster, urging subordinate granges to send resolutions to the state secretary, Mrs. Hazel Hedges, Meridian.

There was also a letter from John Scott, the national master, urging all grangers to write their congressmen relative to the house bill 191 allowing voluntary prayers and Bible readings in public schools. This bill was introduced by Chalmers P. Wiley, Ohio.

Frank Jones reported there is a new law that all farmers must keep records of all activities and injury to workers, and all injuries must be reported.

The State Grange will be held in Burley Oct. 26 through the 29th.

Carl Anderson, Elmore County Pomona master, announced the Mountain Home Mariposa Grange invited King Hill grangers to attend a joint installation of officers on Oct. 18 in their hall. The fall meeting of Pomona Grange will be at King Hill at 8 p.m. Oct. 12. Officers will be elected at the Sept 28 meeting.

Mrs. Horace Lipe, women's activity chairman, thanked all members who helped for the fair dinner booth. Mrs. Joel Young and Mrs. Jones reported on the grange exhibit booth.

A thank-you was read from Debbie Cox, a fair queen attendant sponsored by the King Hill Grange.

Members decided to send a note of thanks to the state highway district for the state's new approach to the divided highway east of King Hill.

During the lecturer's hour, Mr. and Mrs. Lipe and Karl Anderson gave readings. Mrs. Jones read from the National Grange paper of a woman, 91 years old, who was presented a more than 100-year history of 75-year grange membership the grange that a 75-year pin has been awarded.

Area woman writes story for Christian magazine

KING HILL — A two-page story written by Eileen Timbers Hitesman, Hammett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Timbers, King Hill, appears this month in "Home Life" magazine, a Christian family magazine published in Nashville, Tenn.

Mrs. Hitesman, a housewife and writer who has published other articles, wrote "Cold Cuts Of Philosophy." The story, humorously written, concerns quips and quotes printed in crayon on the family refrigerator over a period of years by members of the family both as memos and as inspiration.

"Perhaps few housewives pursue daily activities as varied as those of Eileen Hitesman," the biography relates. "At last count she was caring for 18 orphan lambs while tending 1,500 dozen greenhouse seedling plants, floating around on cloud nine taking the census." She is also on call as a substitute public school teacher.

Mrs. Hitesman also waits the sugar beet season each year to operate the scales at a beet dump.

In the midst of these diversions, she finds a few hours to write down thoughts (profound), ideas (shattering) and recollections (humorous). For several years she ran a private kindergarten in Mountain Home. She and her husband have four adopted children, the oldest of whom was graduated from the Glenns Ferry High School in 1971.

Many men obsessed with hair—or lack of it—

NEW YORK, N.Y. — "Without doubt, it is hair—or lack of it—that causes men the most anxiety," journalist Paul O'Reilly writes in an exclusive Pageant Magazine article in the current issue entitled "The Beauty Secrets of Famous Men."

"Sideburns, mustaches and beards are currently being worn not only because they are fashionable," O'Reilly says in the magazine, "but because they hide a multitude of sins." Beards, he points out, solve many problems of facial structure—especially a weak chin.

And then there are the hair salons. Vidal Sassoon, who recently opened male branches of his hair salon in New York and Beverly Hills, includes such notables as Hugh Downs, Jack Cassidy, Joel Grey, Barry Gray, Hugh O'Brian, Jim Nabors, George Hamilton, Ryan O'Neal and David Steinberg in his regular clientele.

Dick Cavett, Sassoon's salon director Robert Edele confides in the magazine, is getting very sparse in front. "We cut his hair in such a way that it falls forward," he tells Pageant. "His hair has a tendency to curl as well, so we cut the front very, very short where it's wispy, and that makes it look thicker and longer. Then it's combed with a hand dryer and brushed. He does it very well himself."

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for putting that letter in your column saying doctors can treat kids for V. D. without telling the kids' parents. I never knew that. I am a 16-year-old boy who has been worried about having V. D. for the past 4 months but I was afraid to do anything about it.

After I read your article in the paper I called our family doctor and asked him if he would see me without telling my folks. He said to come right away and it would be confidential. I went, I did have V. D. and that wonderful doctor treated me for it. He didn't charge me anything, but I am saving my money and he is going to get a very fine present from me. Thank you, too, Abby.

NOT WORRIED ANYMORE

DEAR NOT: And if there are other young readers out there who are reluctant to see a doctor about the possibility of V. D., telephone your public health department (the number is in your telephone directory), level with them and they will help you.

DEAR ABBY: I am a minor and I have been treated for V. D. (two types). I learned about the seriousness of V. D. while being treated for it.

Sex sure messed me up and now I know I will never go in for it again outside of marriage. The girls who appear least likely to infect you are just the ones who can.

When you realize one in five teen-agers will have V. D. before they graduate from high school, it is scary. V. D. is curable, so as a service to your readers could you please print the symptoms so kids can catch it before it has a chance to go to work on them? God bless you.

SEVENTEEN

DEAR ABBY: Three cheers for your answer to "PARENTS OF A MINOR" who were angry with the doctor who had treated their 15-year-old son for V. D. without telling them. I agree, they ought to kiss that doctor—not reproach him.

I am not a bad girl, I'm just human, and last summer I thought I was infected with V. D. Believe me, it was hard enough to confess my fears to a doctor, and had it been necessary to tell my parents I wouldn't have gone to a doctor at all. It would have killed them, and I wouldn't want to hurt my parents as I'm sure many kids would hate to do.

I thank God every day for having found I was clean, and I add a special thanks to my doctor.

ANOTHER MINOR

DEAR ABBY: I was pleased to see that letter in your column concerning minors and V. D. because I work in a clinic where V. D. is treated and I know how serious the problem has become.

It takes a lot of guts for a kid to come in for treatment. If minors were told their parents would be notified, at least 9 of 10 kids would walk out untreated. Suffer what? Unchecked, they might end up sterile, suffer blindness, a crippling disease or a serious nervous disorder.

And what about the number of people they might infect? Many girls never even know they have it until they are hospitalized with a serious pelvic infection.

Those parents ought to thank their lucky stars they raised a kid who had enough courage and a sense of responsibility for his or her actions to seek treatment, and a doctor who, backed by the law, was able to treat him or her.

AN R. N.

DEAR R. N.: Many would agree with you. But read what another "R. N." has to say on the subject:

DEAR ABBY: I almost always go along with your thinking, but about that 15-year-old boy who had V. D.—nope, I'm sorry. I think the doctor should not keep this information from the parents.

We parents want to know what is going on with our kids. Otherwise, how can we help them? Very few of us would hold it against the children.

Those laws permitting doctors to treat children without their parents' knowledge or consent are for the birds.

The couple was married in rites at the Salt Lake City LDS Temple, with President Leslie Stone performing the ceremony. A wedding breakfast was held at the Chuck-A-Rama and an open house at the Ben Lomond South Stake City, Ogden.

Krista Morgan, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, with Eileen Morgan, Zora Morgan, Mrs. Frank Durham and Mrs. Ted Crandall, all sisters of the bride; Blanche Belliston and Elizabeth Belliston, sisters of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Jared Slade, friend of the bride, as bridesmaids.

Knitwear

In knitwear there's plenty of proof that the one-look, dictating fashion establishment is dead. Knitted outfits for fall and winter include blouses with caplet sleeves and bloomer girl pants, hot-pant length. It's one of many fun looks.

Barbara Bailey, Cullings exchange nuptial promise

BUHL — Barbara Jo Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Bailey, became the bride of Charles Wesley Cullings, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Cullings, all Buhl, in a candlelight ceremony Aug. 28 at the Buhl United Methodist Church.

Rev. Glenn Waltman officiated at the double ring ceremony in the presence of the immediate families and friends. The bride chose varying shades of pink as her colors, with pink chrysanthemums accenting the white candelabra which held pink tapers. A floral arrangement of pink chrysanthemums enhanced the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a Bridal Original gown of crepe with Venice lace outlining the velvet bolero effect on the fitted bodice with a mandarin neckline. Highlighting the gown were long bishop sleeves accented with inserts of velvet panels trimmed in lace on either side. The wateau chapel train was side buttoned and featured lace medallion appliques. A Venice lace, pearl-trimmed pillbox caplet held her waist-length veil of English nylon illusion.

The bride carried an all white colonial bouquet of frenched carnations and chrysanthemums with baby's breath and stephanotis, accented with cascading shower ribbons tied in love knots.

She wore a diamond and pearl pendant, a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Robert M. Bailey, sister-in-law of the bride, served as matron of honor. Debbie Cullings, sister of the bridegroom, lighted the tapers preceding the ceremony.

Jim Hughes, Buhl, was best man and Robert M. Bailey,

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES W. CULLINGS JR.

brother of the bride, served as usher.

Special guests at the wedding were Mrs. R. M. McIntire, grandmother of the bride, and Stephanie Bailey, niece of the bride. They were escorted together to their seats by Robert M. Bailey.

A reception honoring the newlyweds was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents.

The round bride's table was covered with a white floor-length flounce over hot pink, caught at the edges with light and dark pink satin bows.

The white wedding cake was decorated with varying shades of pink featuring small pink and silver bells on one tier and pale pink and hot pink hearts on the other. The cake was topped with cupids outlined in white net. The cake, encircled with fresh pink carnations, was baked and decorated by Mrs. Leonard Walcott, Buhl.

The bridal couple cut the traditional first piece of cake, using the pink and white china and silver knife and server belonging to the bride's grandmother, Mrs. McIntire. A champagne toast was exchanged by the newlyweds, using glasses tied with pink and white ribbons. Mrs. James W. Hart served the wedding cake.

The buffet table was covered with an ecru lace cloth over pink, accented with silver candelabra holding pink tapers and a floral arrangement of pink chrysanthemums. The bride chose to use the silver and crystal punch-bowl belonging to the bridegroom's mother.

Punch and coffee were served by Mrs. William T. Atkins. Guests were given rice in pink net packets tied with pink satin ribbons.

The newlyweds are residing in Pocatello, where both are attending Idaho State University.

The bride was honored at a kitchen shower by Karen Atkins.

The bridegroom's parents were hosts at a rehearsal dinner for the bridal party.

A Lovelier You

YOUR COLOR BUY-LINE

By Mary Sue Miller

(Fourth in a series of five special columns: "Beauty Boutique: Shop Here.")

In all fashion few aspects can create as much loveliness for you as color. A flattering choice is based on an art principle: complimentary shades bear the same undertones. Thus colors that enhance your skin bear a trace of its coloring. The possible exception is jet black, not considered a color. In terms of fall fashion shades, a few examples: Blond Skin (fair, blue veining) — Deep purple, blue plum, magenta, amethyst, royal and cadet blue, blackened brown, spruce green, dark gray, green (greeny beige), reds with blue cast, oyster white, matte black.

Brunet Skin (ochre tones, light to dark) — Earth colors, russet, rust, sienna, copper, curry, amber, red purple, and plum, Spanish red, teal, electric blue, silver-gray and mid-gray, nude and camel, creamy white, black with color touches.

Titian Skin (pink to ruddy) — a contradiction, needs playing down — Navy and denim blue, winter pastel blues and greens, dark green, Oxford gray, green and taupe, blue plum, darkest brown, gardenia white, dense black.

Beauty Tip: The same color theory applies to your makeup. Be guided by it. That way you do your own best thing. There's no percentage in wearing a fashion shade that makes you look like a spook. In every season a plethora of colors are individually flattering.

Tomorrow: The Art of Shopping.

Every convenience

A LARGE oval swimming pool, complete with bath-houses and foliage, accents the home of Mr. and Mrs. Doug Borlase, 338 Locust St. N. The Borlase home is one of five homes slated for the Junior Club's Tour of Homes set from 1 to 5 p.m. Sept. 19.

Attitude good toward education

BOISE — With the exception of Minidoka County, all special school levy elections in Idaho have passed by sizable majorities which Idaho Education Association members say speaks well for the public attitude toward education in this state.

Wayne York, IEA executive secretary, urged Idaho legislators to analyze the tax election results from around the state.

"Legislators may be surprised," he said, "to discover people want to adequately finance their schools."

In Minidoka County, patrons of the school district voted down a levy for general fund purposes, he said, but in another 30 districts of the state, similar elections passed, many with an 80 to 90 per cent majority.

Other statistics reported by the IEA following an extensive survey show $8.5 million in school construction bonds approved during the same year while only $3 million was represented in elections which failed. As for plant facility elections, $500,000 was authorized and $150,000 defeated by election.

York said the IEA is urging the legislature to appropriate more money for education at the state level to keep pace with the voluntary taxing action of the property owners at the local level.

"Every public or private poll in the past ten years has given public school problems top priority and the people substantially approved the sales tax in 1966 on a basis of increased funds for education," York said.

Other Magic Valley school district elections involving school levies show Blaine County, $170,000 approved by a 75 per cent majority; Camas County, $18,500 passed by 80 per cent; Cassia County migrant program, $124,000, approved by 82 per cent; Glenns Ferry, plant facilities, $7,000 approved by 74 per cent; Mountain Home, plant facilities $62,700, 74 per cent; Wendell, $23,360, 65 per cent; Bliss, $19,375, 70 per cent; and Minidoka, $105,000, defeated by 38.8 per cent.

Losers tie for first

HANSEN — Mrs. Percy Christiansen and Mrs. George Rex Golay tied for best loser of the week at the Slim and Trim TOPS Club meeting at the home of Mrs. Thomas Steelsmith.

Each received gifts. Mrs. Bryson Vinyard was queen for the month of August and received gifts. Mrs. Reed Lyons was second.

Mrs. V. L. Wilson is ill it was reported and a card will be sent to her.

For penalties, the gainers must count all the calories for the coming week and bring the totals to club next week, or fines will be levied.

TOPS Clubs are asking each club to sponsor a bowling team. Those interested are asked to attend an initial meeting Oct. 4. The first game will be held Oct. 11. Free bowling lessons will be given.

Mrs. George Urie was program chairman and hostess, but she was given a surprise pink and blue shower by members instead. She opened and displayed her gifts.

Orient influence featured in home

TWIN FALLS — The tranquil influence of the Orient is subtly expressed in Mr. and Mrs. Doug Borlase's home at 338 Locust St. N., one of the five homes scheduled for the Junior Club's Tour of Homes Sept. 19 from 1 to 5 p.m.

A Japanese garden attracts the visitor as he approaches the front door, and the Oriental flavor is carried throughout the house in wallcoverings such as grass-cloth from Korea, and various accent pieces.

The architecture of the Borlase home was considered ahead of its time when the house was built 19 years ago, and this is certainly believable as its style is as contemporary as any new home today. A wall of windows in the sunken living room looks out on a large oval swimming pool complete with bathhouses and foliage fit for a greenhouse.

Mrs. Borlase has a distinct talent for antiquing woods as evidenced in the burnished gold effect on the doors of a linen closet and the pewter finish on a bathroom vanity. A dining room set is especially eye-catching with its finish of antique blue, and the hooked chair cushions in lime green and turquoise which Mrs. Borlase made.

A final luxurious touch is the bath area, decorated with olive green flocked wallcovering, a lush shag carpet and accented by purple accessories. Stairs lead up to a sunken Jacuzzi tub equipped with swan faucets and a hanging crystal chandelier in one corner completes the atmosphere of luxury. The bathroom accessories were coordinated for the Borlases by the Golden Dolphin Shop.

Tickets may be obtained from any Junior Club member, at Sallie's Gift and Books and the Rogerson Coffee Shop, or by calling Mrs. Robert Donnelly, 733-9139, or Mrs. Michael Glenn, 733-0639.
