Prison flare-up

PLAINCLOTHES police with riot guns stand outside Orleans Parish Prison at New Orleans, while a fire department crane shoots a jet of water into a cell where black militant prisoners set fire to mattresses. The incident was typical of a number of minor breakouts following the Attica, N. Y. prison riot. (UPI)

U.S. warplanes strike N. Viet

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. Air Force fighter-bombers carried out more than 200 strikes against North Vietnam today, hitting military targets as far as 35 miles above the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) in one of the heaviest air raids since the bombing halt of Nov. 1, 1968. The U.S. command said the strikes were carried out because recent North Vietnamese attacks on unarmed reconnaissance planes and U.S. aircraft bombing the Ho Chi Minh trail in neighboring Laos had posed "a threat to the safety of U.S. forces" in the war zone. The announcement said the planes encountered light to moderate anti-aircraft fire but that none of the American planes was hit. The command said the North Vietnamese did not fire any Surface-to-Air (SAM) missiles during the raid. The attacks began at dawn and lasted until early afternoon. They were the 60th against North Vietnam this year. Spokesmen would not report on how many Air Force jets participated in the attacks but said only more than 200 sorties were flown. (A sortie is one strike by one plane). It did not pinpoint targets but the port of Dong Hoi, which has a major military airfield, is within the 35 mile raid limit. Today's raids were the heaviest "protective reaction" strikes over the north since last March 20-21 when about 250 fighter-bombers and escorts hit targets across the border. Those raids brought charges by Hanoi that the Americans had bombed civilian targets. The raids were announced in a special communique. "In response to recently increased evidence of North Vietnamese anti-aircraft and missile activity against our unarmed reconnaissance aircraft flying over North Vietnamese territory and U.S. attack aircraft flying in Laos near North Vietnamese territory, U.S. Air Force tactical aircraft today conducted protective reaction strikes against military targets in North Vietnam constituting a threat to the safety of U.S. forces," the command said. The North Vietnamese responded with "light to moderate" anti-aircraft fire but hit no American planes, the spokesmen said. Spokesmen said the missions were confined to an area within 35 miles of the DMZ which divides North and South Vietnam. The command declined to say how exactly many American planes took part or give the precise target areas. The command said no Surface-to-Air (SAM) missiles were fired at the U.S. warplanes.

Senate OKs draft bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate, after a seven month struggle, passed and sent to President Nixon today a draft extension bill that abolishes deferments for college students and gives the military a record high pay raise. Passage of the measure—which will restore draft calls that have been suspended since June 30—followed a close 61 to 30 vote which barred a threatened filibuster. The bill is expected to be signed by Nixon soon. Inductions probably will be resumed immediately afterwards. The bill carries the strongest statement yet written by Congress on the Vietnam War—urging the President to withdraw all U.S. troops from Indochina as soon as possible. But, to the disappointment of war critics, the measure sets no deadline for an end to U.S. involvement. Since the existing draft authority expired, a series of controversies had held up a final Senate vote on the new legislation to extend the Selective Service system until June 30, 1973. Supporters of the extension succeeded in convincing two-thirds of their colleagues that a continuation of no inductions was a hazard to national security. In addition to a two year extension of the draft, the legislation includes a $2.4 billion military pay raise and a compromise version of an end-the-war amendment. The Senate originally passed an end-the-war amendment calling for the withdrawal of all U.S. troops from Indochina in nine months. The language was weakened and the specific withdrawal timetable deleted in a Senate-House conference.

Valley tax bills may rise slightly

Magic Valley taxpayers will probably find their tax loads on real property higher than last year's level—but not as great an increase as many might have expected. First reports from counties that certified their levies to the state on Monday suggests that most residents will find their tax bills only a few per cent higher than last years—in most cases far below inflationary levels. The tax levies reflect the income needed to support the budgets approved by most taxing units earlier in the year. Unless the State Tax Commission disapproves the county-approved levies, Monday's figures should show the final bill to the taxpayer.

In Lincoln County, a variation in several assessments has resulted in virtually no change in the total assessment, according to preliminary figures from the county recorder's office. The assessment ratio is up slightly this year, to 17.33 per cent from 17 per cent even last year. The total assessment in Shoshone, including the county levy of 2.7937 mills, state building and pollution levies totaling .0192 mills, the Shoshone school district levy of 3.44 mills, the city levy of 3.88 mills plus assorted levies, is 11.79 mills, bringing the total assessment for a $10,000 dwelling to $203.45, only 23 cents higher than the $203.22 assessment in 1970.

In Camas County, a 2.3-per cent increase will be recorded, with the total mill levy in Fairfield of 8.42 mills, applied to a 20-per cent assessment ratio, realizing a tax of $168.40 on a $10,000 home, compared to $164.60 last year. In Blaine County, the assessment ratio this year is up slightly, to 17.75 per cent, from last year's ratio of 17.50 per cent. However, a markedly higher mill levy, up to 11.26 mills in Halley from last year's 9.16 mills, will bring a 9.92-per cent increase in taxes.

The average $10,000 dwelling in Blaine County will bring $199.86 in taxes this year, compared to $181.82 last year, according to figures from the Blaine County recorder's office. In Jerome County, taxes will be up slightly, about 2.94 per cent in the city of Jerome, with 12.05 mills to be assessed at 15.8 per cent of true value. A $10,000 home will bring $190.39 in taxes, compared to $184.96 last year. In Twin Falls County, taxes will increase about 2.55 per cent, as the mill levy, including the city of Twin Falls, is expected to rise about 13.33 mills compared to 12.58 mills last year, and the assessment ratio will rise to 15.75 per cent of true value, compared to 15.50 per cent last year. Thus, a $10,000 dwelling in Twin Falls will realize about $209.95 in taxes this year, compared to $204.73 in 1970. Throughout the Magic Valley, preliminary figures show a continuing rise in assessed valuation as market value of buildings increase, coupled with the fluctuating assessment ratio. In Jerome County, total assessed valuation of the county is set at $20.5 million for 1971, compared to $19.8 million in 1970. Blaine County's valuation is up to $17.7 million this year, against $15.5 million last year. In Twin Falls County, total assessed valuation this year is about $58.8 million, compared to $56.75 million in 1970. Some levies are higher this year in many counties, while others have dropped slightly. In Twin Falls County, the College of Southern Idaho levy will be down to 7.765 mills this year, from the 1970 levy of 8.297 mills, and the Twin Falls Highway District levy dropped from 8.7 mills to 6.7 this year. An additional bridge levy of 1.1 mills will still leave the total, 7.8 mills, below the 1970 level. Twin Falls County Auditor Harold Lancaster said most cities and school districts increased their levies, including a half-mill levy this year for Fairgrounds improvement and maintenance, and new state-ordered solid-waste laws which require 1.27 mills for implementation. At the same time, Lancaster said, the county has held the line on current expenses, as well as in the hospital, poor fund and weed bureau budgets, hoping to assist these departments with sales-tax refunds. Each mill levied in Twin Falls County will return $58,766.11 tax revenue, Lancaster said. School districts have voted emergency levies in some cases, including the Twin Falls School District, where a three-mill emergency levy was enacted to support a sizeable increase in enrollment brought about largely by the closure of St. Edward's Catholic School last spring. In addition, most elementary schools have reported increased enrollment due to a variety of factors, including growing population in Twin Falls.

Some of the major levies this year and last year include, Twin Falls city, $4.75 and $4.51; Buhl, $5.18 and $4.71; Filer, $3.98 and $3.39; Kimberly, $2.12, and $2.19; Hansen, $3.00 and $2.70; Hollister, $1.43 and $1.96; Murtaugh, $2.50 and $2.71 and Cattleford, $3.00 and $2.80. Only Murtaugh and Kimberly reduced their levies this year. School district show this year and last year levies, Twin Falls, $3.52 and $4.03; Buhl, $4.17 and $3.81; Filer, $4.02 and $3.96; Kimberly, $4.08 and $3.88; Hansen, $3.64 and $3.78; Cattleford, $3.39 and $3.41; Murtaugh, $4.39, and $4.21. Highway district levies this year and last year include Twin Falls, 79 cents and 87 cents; Buhl, 97 cents and 98 cents; Filer, 98 cents and 99 cents; and Murtaugh, $1 and 92 cents.

5-year-old TF boy rescues sister, 2

TWIN FALLS — Little Jeffrey Lee Claiborne, 5, is a hero to his little sister, Pam. Monday afternoon, he and Pam, 2, were playing near a forbidden irrigation ditch and Pam toppled into the two-foot-deep water in front of a 12-foot culvert. Five-year-old Jeffrey went into the water and caught his sister pulling her to the bank just before she was carried into the culvert. Mrs. Lee Claiborne, mother of the children, said both she and her husband were in their home and just across the street from the ditch but neither could have made it to the ditch in time to catch the little girl who was floating toward the culvert. Mrs. Claiborne said the child would probably have drowned had the little boy not rescued her. The incident occurred about 4:30 p.m. near the family home, 533 Ridgeway Drive. Mrs. Claiborne said they are in the process of moving into the home and while the children had been warned to stay away from the ditch they had not yet become fully aware of the danger.

Dollar falls in Euro-mart

LONDON (UPI)—The U.S. dollar plunged to new lows against the West German mark, the Belgian franc and the Dutch guilder today in a new wave of speculation against the dollar on European money markets. The West German Bundesbank (Central Bank) stepped in for the first time in a month to shore up the dollar after it slipped to another 22-year low in early trading. Banking sources said the bank bought $5 billion and this had a strong psychological effect on the market. The dramatic drop in the dollar Monday and today followed reports from Washington that a delegation of German parliamentarians found U.S. economic officials adamant on insisting the mark be revalued upward by 15 per cent.

In opening trading at Frankfurt the dollar hit a new low of 3.3290 marks, lower even than Monday's closing price of 3.3360 and a devaluation of the dollar of 9.04 per cent. Later the price was set at 3.3597 marks, a devaluation of 8.2 per cent. In Tokyo, the dollar gained fractionally and the yen was quoted at 337.37 to the dollar as compared with Monday's 336.95. This is a devaluation of the dollar of 6.23 per cent over the old rate of 360 to 1.

In Brussels the dollar dropped to 5 per cent under its previous official value for the first time on the Brussels free market, being traded at 47.50 francs. Monday's closing rate was 47.65 francs and 4.70 per cent under parity. On the Brussels official market the rate was set at 47.48625 francs, a 5.03 per cent drop in value, against 47.765 francs and 4.47 per cent Monday.

5th body recovered at Oakley

OAKLEY — Two bodies, one found Sunday and the other Monday at Lower Goose Creek Reservoir at the Oakley Dam, have been identified as two men who died June 20 in a boating accident. The body found Sunday is that of Harold Dibble, 55, and the body found yesterday is that of Charles Qualls, 46. Cassia County Sheriff Ray Mitchell said Dibble was identified from scars from wounds received in World War II and from dental records. Qualls was identified by tattoos, the sheriff said.

Qualls' body was found about 7 p.m. yesterday about half a mile southwest of where Dibble's body was sited Sunday. Doyle Hatch, Oakley, who was patrolling the reservoir, spotted the body drifting in the wind-chopped water. The body was recovered about 8 p.m. Finding of Quall's body brings the total of bodies recovered to five. Still missing are James Shepard, 44, Raymond Moore, 60, and Robert Goodine, 5. Bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Goodine and their daughter, Tammy, 8, have been recovered. Mrs. Goodine's body and her daughter's body were recovered the night of the accident. Goodine's body was recovered last week. Mrs. Goodine and Qualls were brother and sister.

High US stake in UN session

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—The United States put its prestige on the line at the opening today of the 26th annual General Assembly of the United Nations. The World organization faced some of the most important decisions in its history, including the questions of whether to admit Communist China. The United States advocates admission for China while at the same time insisting on the right of Nationalist China to remain at the United Nations. The session, which has a 109-item agenda to consider, will have to decide which China—or whether both—will be represented. The United States was publishing today two resolutions with the support of barely a dozen small member-nations. One resolution would send Communist China and give it China's Security Council seat along with its veto power. The other would require a two-thirds majority for expulsion of the Chinese Nationalists. Albania and 17 other pro-Peking nations have demanded the Nationalists be ousted and Peking admitted. Australia was the only large nation which has signed as a co-sponsor to the two resolutions by the United States. Preliminary debate was expected when the steering committee meets Wednesday but the final decision on the issue of the two Chinas will not come before mid-October.

Ketchum building boom rate doubles

By TERRY CAMPBELL, Times-News Writer. KETCHUM — The City of Ketchum has issued $4.97 million worth of building permits to date in 1971. Ketchum City Council president Ben Jewell reported the sum at a council meeting Monday night. The rate is almost double last year's. Jewell said the figure includes only the first nine months of 1971. Approved by the council Monday night were September building permits totalling $195,000. The $4.97 figure compares with a January through September figure of $2.53 million in 1970, according to the Ketchum City Clerk's office, which also reported a total 1971 building permit figure of $2.75 million. Most of this year's permits, the clerk's office reports, are for condominiums and apartments.

In other action, the Council voted to postpone action on the Wood River Cable Vision filing for an equalization of rates. Lee Schlender, representing the cable company, said original customers in the 1950s paid $150 hook-up fee which was necessary to bring cable vision into the area. The original customers have been paying monthly charges of $4, but newer customers paid a $25 hook-up fee and monthly charges of $5. (Continued on p. 9)

Council approves funds transfer

TWIN FALLS — City Council members Monday night approved transfer of $87,293 from the general fund to the Airport Improvement Fund to meet current construction bills pending receipt of federal and county money.

City Manager Jean Milar explained the funds will be returned to the city's general Fund when other money is received, but said several such transfers may be necessary before the project is completed.

Councilman John Christofersen conducted the Monday night meeting in the absence of Mayor Frank Feldtman. Approval was also voted on a contract for receiving federal funds toward development and purchase of land in the vicinity of Dierke's Lake under the open spaces act.

Council members voted to accept two of the three bids obtained Friday afternoon. Stuart Brothers was awarded contract for painting the Harrison Street Reservoir roof for $9,150; Arrowhead Machine Co., Boise, a contract for furnishing a sweeper for the airport in the amount of $2,948, and the bid of $6,994 for the land fill building was rejected as being too high and because of new developments involving land fill operations.

Appointment of Jack Newell to replace Larry Hovey on the city's recreation commission was also approved.

The council adjourned until 3:45 p.m. Wednesday when a vote will be taken on a request for air space rights above the property on which the old Workman Ford Co. was located in Block 87 of the Twin Falls townsite.

Boaters get out of canyon

TWIN FALLS — Two men who spent Sunday night in the chilly Snake River Canyon climbed out of the canyon about 11 a.m. Monday just above the Hansen Bridge.

Sheriff Paul Corder said the men, Elmo Ernix, 25, and Steve Thompson, 23, beached their rubber raft on the bank of the river and expect to return for the craft after they are rested.

The men were spotted about 9:30 a.m. Monday from a plane piloted by Bill Powel of Twin Falls.

Sheriff Corder said families of the men kept watch at bridges along their proposed route from Murtaugh to the Twin Falls all night Sunday and county patrolmen also were on the lookout for the boaters.

The men, the sheriff said, were wearing tee shirts, cut-off trousers and life jackets and had no provisions with them. He said except for being cold and hungry, the men were in good condition.

Recruiter hurt in crash

BURLEY — Sgt. Herbert Wayne Fisher, 30, Eden, U. S. Marine Corps recruiter in Twin Falls, is listed in satisfactory condition in Cassia Memorial Hospital today where he is under treatment for injuries suffered in an accident early Saturday.

State Police said the two vehicle accident occurred 59 miles east of Burley on I-80 at 1:50 a.m. Saturday. Sgt. Fisher, who was cited by State Patrolman O. J. Brannan for inattentive driving suffered burns from the hips down after the radiator on the van he was driving ruptured and sent scalding water into the cab of the van. He is also being treated for a leg injury and head and face lacerations. He was alone in the vehicle.

Officers said both vehicles were traveling north and Sgt. Fisher apparently dozed at the wheel, waking up seconds before crashing into the rear of the large truck-trailer driven by Charles McCubbin, of Iowa. The truck driver said he felt the bump and stopped to see what had hit the truck and saw the Marine Corps vehicle overturned on its side.

The driver remained in the van until it came to a rest and then crawled out through the broken windshield. The vehicle Fisher was driving was demolished and the truck damage was estimated at $200.

Injured

BURLEY — Patrick Daniel Leshar, 18, Reading, Pa., is listed in serious condition and still unconscious today as a result of a one vehicle accident Friday morning 28 miles southeast of Burley on Interstate 80.

He is being treated at Cassia Memorial Hospital where he was brought by Western Ambulance Service. The accident is still under investigation, officers said. Officers said Leshar was traveling north in a small foreign vehicle when it went out of control and overturned.

His parents, who arrived Sunday from Pennsylvania, told officers the youth was enroute to Oregon to enroll in college. O. J. Brennan, state police officer, is investigating.

CSI trustees okay levy cut

By LEE TREMAINE
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — The College of Southern Idaho board of trustees approved a reduction of 0.712 mill in the 1971 Jerome and Twin Falls County tax levies during Monday night's board meeting.

The total mill levy, which has been certified to the assessors of both counties, will be 7.765 in each county, compared to 8.477 mills in 1970. The total monetary return for 1971 will be $594,461, compared to $648,960 in 1970.

The total 1970 assessed valuation, on which the 1971 mill levy will be applied, includes $19,789 million in Jerome County and $56,660 million in Twin Falls County, for a total assessed valuation of $76,550 million.

The breakdown for 1971, compared with the 1970 figures, includes:

- Maintenance and operation: Twin Falls County, $282,150 this year, $325,084 last year; 4.964 mills this year, 5.727 mills last; Jerome County, $97,850 and $108,538; 4.964 and 5.484 mills.
- Bond redemption and interest: Twin Falls County, $159,237 and $159,654; 2.801 mills and 2.812 mills; Jerome County, $55,224 and $55,684; 2.801 mills and 2.813 mills.

— Total levy: Twin Falls County, $441,387 and $484,738; 7.765 mills and 8.539 mills; Jerome County, $153,074 and $184,222; 7.765 mills and 8.297 mills.

CSI President James L. Taylor said increased enrollment, bringing additional income through increased tuition, coupled with higher state aid and economies in operation have allowed the reduction in the mill levy.

In other business during a brief board meeting, the trustees accepted bids from Ace Hansen Chevrolet for two 1972 Chevrolet sports vans, 12-passenger capacity, at $4,253.94, each and John Chris Motors for one 1972 Catalina four-door sedan at $3,818.17. The vehicles are to be air-conditioned according to specifications of the bid call, the trustees specified.

The 12-passenger vans will be used by the college for student field trips and in the athletic program as needed. The sedan will replace the older-model car Dr. Taylor is driving.

Other bidders included John Chris Motors, asking $4,321.10 each for the vans, and Bill Workman Ford, whose bid for the vans was reported "not up to specifications," by CSI Business Manager H. W. Van Slyke. For the sedan, Workman asked $4,038 while Ace Hansen Chevrolet, who also bid, failed to meet specifications in that Hansen offered a price for the company's lowest-price sedan while the other bidders quoted prices on higher-quality vehicles, Van Slyke said. Thus, the bids could not be truly competitive.

Trustees also authorized awarding of $200 scholarships to Robert Leazer and Harvey Plummer; and approved a lengthy list of applicants for short-term loans set up under a $5,000 trust fund provided by an anonymous donor with the specification that interest cannot exceed three per cent with the college to determine the recipients. The loans approved totaled about $3,900. Van Slyke said.

In his President's Report, Dr. Taylor told the trustees that the new vocational-technical building is about 55 per cent complete in only 40 per cent of the contract time, which allows 400 working days to complete the work.

Though prices were quoted for the vans without air conditioning, the trustees followed Dr. Taylor's advice that air conditioning is essential for a vehicle holding 12 passengers and the driver which may well be used all summer as well as in the winter.

Bookworms get League confers awards in TF with Staudaher

TWIN FALLS — Latest count is in on the "Mission Possible" program which held forth throughout the summer in the children's department of the Twin Falls Public Library and five young book worms have received awards.

Little Shawn McNeil, 7, was the most avid reader, completing 120 books during the prescribed summer reading period. Second most books read were 55 by Kerry Treadwell. First to finish the minimum number of books was Kathy Brangham while Leann Underwood was second. Keefny Miller 8, read the most books of any boy in the contest with 40.

The contest was divided into categories including super sluths who read 53 books from the children's room and four from the bookmobile; secret agents, 46 from the children's room and 5 from the mobile unit; detectives, 62 and 6, and private eyes, 109 and 12, from the children's room and bookmobile respectively. There were 298 books from the children's library and 30 from the bookmobile. Each of the winners received a gift of a book from assistant librarian, Alden Call. Winning in the bookmobile division were Mitchell Darrah, Debby Ivie and Susan Stuart.

TWIN FALLS — George Staudaher, Twin Falls superintendent of schools, conferred Monday with representatives of the League of Women Voters on the controversial kindergarten issue.

Staudaher and the League have been at odds over Staudaher's decision that the district will not participate in the state-sponsored federally funded kindergarten program scheduled to start the first week of October. The League issued a statement in Sunday's Times-News endorsing the kindergartens and voicing "disappointment" in Staudaher's decision.

No details of the meeting were released by the superintendent's office this morning.

Staudaher had asked for a clarification of a news story appearing in Friday's Times-News. He was quoted as saying he believed the federal guidelines "required" employment of military veterans where possible, but said later that he understood the guidelines only "suggested" the employment of veterans.

Also in Friday's Times-News, John Leinen, manager of the Twin Falls office of the state Department of Employment, was quoted as questioning Staudaher's opinions on the employment of veterans.

Proposed spa draws protest

TWIN FALLS — Plans for locating a health spa on Fairway Drive came to an abrupt end Monday night when property owners in the residential area protested a requested zone change which would have been required to establish the business.

Milton Rubert, who requested a change from residential to professional residential on property on Lincoln and Fairway Drive to allow construction of the health facility, said he would withdraw his request rather than locate in an area where neighbors were opposed to this type of business.

He said he had planned offices, sauna baths, steam rooms and exercise areas and the business would be a quiet operation.

Residents objected to the zone change on a basis of increased traffic in the residential area served by a narrow street.

Council members voted in view of the withdrawal to rule against the zone change to make the action official. Planning and Zoning members had previously recommended the request be denied following a hearing held by their commission last week.

Bill Evans, accountant, Riddle, Roth, Evans and Evans accounting firm in Twin Falls, met with the council to present the audit and his firm was awarded the contract for the 1971 audit. He said the 1970 audit, completed Sept. 15, found city books in good order and well maintained. He said he had no major recommendations for change, explaining all departments operated well within budgeted amounts.

In other business, the council approved a resolution confirming the assessment roll for Local Improvement District 86, for curb and gutter improvement on Falls Avenue East and several small adjoining streets.

City Manager Jean Milar explained a proposal from the Department of Highways for removal of the traffic light on Second Avenue South and Second Street South. At the suggestion of Councilman Winston Jones, Milar was asked to seek relocation of the light at another intersection where traffic control is needed. City funds are required to meet half of the cost of new light installations and purchases and the light in question is already paid for and could be installed at a lower cost, Jones said.

About Pappas' Pervasive Power

The Right Way

Inasmuch as the decision has been reached to bring the wine issue and the regional airport issue to a vote on the same day it is only right that the Twin Falls County Commissioners and the county clerk plan for a joint election.

Having separate elections would cost the taxpayers of the county an estimated $20,000 while combining the two issues will result in a saving of some $10,000. The Twin Falls County Attorney ruled this was proper.

An assistant attorney general for Idaho, however, believes it is wrong and suggests that two separate elections be held.

The county commissioners and the county clerk have decided to go along with the original thinking and combine the two elections.

Although the two issues would come at the same time they would, of course, be on different ballots set up in the county's voting machines. The vote will be a simple "yes-or-no" type in each case.

Yet the state's assistant attorney general says this could be confusing to the voters — voting for two different issues on the same day.

With the possibility of being criticized by some, we would suggest that anyone who couldn't figure that one out shouldn't vote at all. It certainly isn't worth $10,000 to eliminate possible confusion among a possible few.

Jobs For Vets

This nation is doing a lot for its Vietnam and other veterans, but the most important thing it could do for the returning young men is to make sure that each of them has an opportunity to work.

This is a special concern of President Nixon, who has stressed the need to find the jobs for them as a first priority in the efforts to cut the persistently high rate of unemployment.

Unfortunately, military training does not prepare many young men for an adequate roll in civilian life. Most private employers are eager to hire veterans whenever possible but often the lack of skills, education and training handicap them.

Senator Strom Thurmond, Republican-South Carolina, has called for urgent action to help the 223,000 Vietnam veterans between the ages of 20 and 24, who are without jobs, or 13.4 per cent compared with 9 per cent of non-veterans in the same age bracket who aren't working.

Each returning Vietnam veteran who is able to work should be guaranteed a job, subsidized by the government, if need be, while he is being trained on the job.

The government is spending $11 billion dollars a year to help veterans and some 28 million, from past wars, are still living, with more being added every month.

Many are in hospitals and nursing homes, receiving disability compensation, or educational financing.

In the current crop of veterans are many who are under-educated, under-skilled and under-privileged. They need special attention they are not getting, despite the nation's massive expenditures.

MR. SPECTATOR

Friend Or Enemy?

One way to gain friends is to say something nice about them. One way to make an enemy is to say something not so nice about someone.

Right now we have visions of losing the two or three friends we have over at the postoffice — but at the same time keeping the like number we have down at the telephone company offices.

Like Mr. Spectator says, you just can't win them all — so with this in mind — and our tongue in cheek — here we go.

The following "facts" appeared on our desk. Like the arrow shot into the air, we know not from where. The communication is titled "A Tale Of Two Systems."

The postal service and the telephone system are two of the most widely used means of communication today. The cost of communicating between two cities such as Chicago and Los Angeles by first class mail has risen 400 per cent since 1943. Telephone costs, in contrast, have dropped dramatically over the same period, and today the cost of a three-minute daytime call between these cities is about one-fourth the cost in 1932.

The postal service was one of the first and most important functions of the federal government when the republic was founded. Telephone service, on the other hand, has been left in the hands of private enterprise. One can only wonder what would have happened if our founding fathers had telephones and had decided that only the government could make them work.

So — like Mr. Spectator said — that's what came up on our desk and we pass it on — all the time knowing that we will get it in the neck!

There might be another "slogan" which would fit this situation — if you can't stand the heat then stay out of the kitchen.

Which reminds us that we are all primed from a visitation from a committee of "friends" from the postal service.

WASHINGTON — A confidential memorandum now under avid scrutiny by a House Foreign Affairs subcommittee is certain to lead to a formal summons for testimony by Thomas A. Pappas, the mysterious, rich Greek-American who operates a multi-million-dollar industrial empire in Athens and has intimate ties to both the Greek military dictatorship and the Nixon administration.

Democratic Rep. Benjamin S. Rosenthal of New York, chairman of the Foreign Affairs subcommittee on Europe, specifically solicited the memorandum during his hearings on military aid to Greece in July. It raises grave questions about Pappas' role as confidant of President Nixon himself and as defender of the dictatorship. It is causing extreme nervousness in the Nixon White House.

Holding both U.S. and Greek citizenship, Republican Pappas and his more obscure brother John, a Boston Mass., Democrat, are charged in the memorandum as follows: "They used their considerable political and economic clout in the U.S. to promote, simultaneously, their own financial interests as well as the interests of a ruthless military dictatorship — and all this at the expense of long-range U.S. interests in that crucial part of the world."

Author of the memorandum is Elias Demetracopoulos, a Greek exile leader of the anti-junta Greek resistance movement. His central thesis is that Thomas Pappas used his "strong connections" with both Republican and Democratic party officials here to obtain rich economic concessions from various Greek govern-

As partner, in a highly unusual relationship, of Standard Oil of New Jersey, Pappas consistently exploited his political connections in Washington to undermine the pre-junta Center Union parliamentary government of George Papandreu and gain more profitable economic arrangements, Demetracopoulos memorandum states. Then, when parliamentary government was obliterated in the April 1967 coup d'etat by the Greek Colonels, Pappas became its prime champion in Washington.

"It appears that on the basis of the public record alone," Demetracopoulos said, "Thomas Pappas and his brother became 'public relations men' for the junta at the highest levels of the Johnson and later the Nixon administration, as well as in Congress."

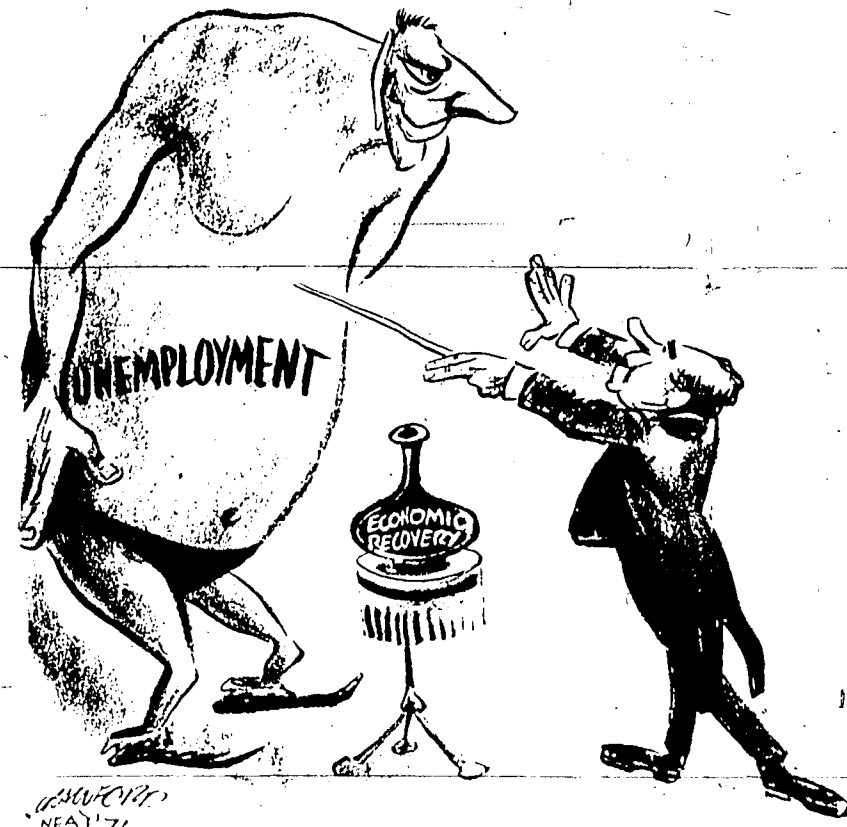

Ex newspaperman Demetracopoulos quotes from an interview he taped with former Democratic Speaker of the House John W. McCormack on Aug. 9, 1966 (and arranged by McCormack's aide, Dr. Martin Swelg, a Pappas intimate now in jail for perjury): "The contribution made by the Esso-Pappas complex under the leadership of my very dear friend Tom Pappas," McCormack said, "I know is of inestimable value to not only the people of Greece, not only today, but in the years that lie ahead."

But Pappas' power to sway leading Democrats is a mere shadow of his pervasive influence on the Nixon administration. As an executive vice chairman of the Republican Finance Committee and a large contributor to Mr. Nixon's 1968 campaign, says Demetracopoulos, Pappas "frequent, well-photographed warm public embraces" with Prime Minister George Papadopoulos and Vice President Syllianos Patakos convey only one message — that the dictatorship has the Nixon administration's secret blessing.

Far more significant, Pappas was the unofficial host of Mr. Nixon's brother, F. Donald Nixon, when he went to Athens in 1970 to arrange motel and restaurant concessions for the Marriott Corp. Pappas gave a dinner for Nixon attended by Patakos at precisely the time the U.S. government was withholding U.S. military aid with the stated aim of forcing the dictatorship to lift martial law, release political prisoners and hold elections.

Rock Is Right

WASHINGTON — Rockefeller was right. In the end, at least, the awful atmosphere leading up to the massacre at New York's Attica prison was political.

The prisoners' leadership was not rebelling against prison conditions, but against the United States. Are you finding it a touch difficult to compose your florid speeches on man's inhumanity to man? Do you still have credit with the black friends of those prisoners who were killed?

Perhaps Governor Rockefeller was wrong in not acceding to requests that he go to Attica to negotiate personally with the prisoners. He is an earthy man who can be very persuasive, and perhaps he is guilty of leaving one stone unturned. Yet, a governor has the right — even the duty — to do what he thinks is right. If his decision was wrong, he had the honesty and courage to make it.

Although the book says there should be no negotiations with prisoners, realistically some effort has to be made to mediate when hostages are involved.

How do you sleep these nights, Kunster and Seale? Are you comfortable with the knowledge that your demagoguery helped guide the Attica prisoners down that dead-end street that ended with 37 immediate and violent deaths? Are you finding it a touch difficult to compose your florid speeches on man's inhumanity to man? Do you still have credit with the black friends of those prisoners who were killed? Perhaps Governor

BRUCE BLOSSAT

In Or Out

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Nobody in or out of the American government is showing much patience with South Vietnamese President Thieu. Justifying the one-man charade that will pass for a presidential election in his country on Oct. 3 is a next-to-impossible task.

On his return from a trip with other senators to Southeast Asia, able Illinois Sen. Adlai Stevenson III said he was tired of hearing that the South Vietnamese were not ready for democracy. He said he found the people in large numbers eager to take part in the elective political process.

This judgment may very well be valid, as far as it goes. It can hardly be the whole story of politics in South Vietnam. A very crucial question is: How do the players, the politicians themselves, view politics?

It is not an alibi for Thieu or anybody else to state, as a matter of fact, that there is no kind of democratic political tradition in Vietnam. Indeed, democracy requires a degree of competition which, for many centuries, the holders of power there have seen as gravely threatening.

Author Douglas Pike, a Vietnamese specialist, wrote upon concluding eight years in Vietnam: "Opposition still is regarded as revolutionary, since in the past usually it was, this being the only route to power."

The problem, he adds in his book, "War, Peace and the Viet is 'how to offer political opposition without being considered rebellious or unpatriotic.'

Because no Vietnamese emperor or other leader ever shared power willingly, opposition had to be secret. Thus a highly significant tradition of clandestine politics arose there and still exists. One of its effects, says Pike, has been to "generate distrust of all political activity as well as a tendency to see politics chiefly as a system of organized betrayal." Of this ingrained clandestine politics, he writes further:

"It rests on the Vietnamese assumption that society consists of a host of dangerous and conflicting social forces with which only the enigmatic organization and a secret 'in-ness' can cope."

Tugged hard by Vietnamese tradition, Thieu must always have seen his potential presidential competitors, Gen. "Big" Minh and Marshal Ky, as illegitimate threats to his legitimate authority.

It is fairly easy for Thieu to paint them darkly. Ky is no model democrat. "Big" Minh was a key factor in the 1963 overthrow of the "legitimate" government of the late President Diem.

Common sense might long since have told Thieu that, with a critical world watching, he needed to gloss over these aspects and conduct an election which could win broad approval.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

On Allergy

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What would you say to a young woman who said, "My allergies have gone away and I bet it's because I'm on a farm and have to get used to it?"

I don't know what her condition was, but I don't think she ever had any allergy tests. If she did have allergies, I think I have read that they can come and go at any time of life. But surely they can't be wished away, can they?

Actually, I think she was insinuating that my asthma is all in my head and would go away if I really wanted it to.

I am 36 and had skin tests allergic to all kinds of plants, weeds, trees, grasses, dust, animal dander, etc.

I had the whole bit with shots, and in general have managed very well except for minor attacks only when around the culprits. But for the last several years I have suffered from deep bronchial asthmatic attacks with dry coughing.

I don't believe it's all in my head, but have noticed that when I'm angry or terribly upset or yell and laugh a lot it will bring on an attack. I have had too much ridicule from my family about my 'so-called condition.' — M. E. M.

You obviously have a very sound idea of what allergy is all about — and, yes, emotional upsets can trigger attacks, but they are a contributing factor — not the basic cause.

Allergies can start at any time in life. Protected for long periods from overexposure to some things, people can find that allergies may moderate, and the offending item may change.

But it's not "all in your head." It's a very real (but complicated physical condition. You can't wish it away. And people who either ridicule you or insist that you can get over allergy by sheer will power are, in fact, making your problem harder because of the emotional tension they cause.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have a problem that no one has ever heard of. I love sweets, but if I don't have something sweet in the morning or, paradoxically, if I eat syrup on pancakes, in about an hour or two I start "kettling shaky, hot flashes, sweat, and I can feel my eyes dilating and sometimes I almost black out. But if I eat something sweet then, it stops. Is this a form of diabetes? I am 24 and have had this for about 10 years. — Mrs. G.D. H.

You think no one "has ever heard of" this problem? Far from it. You have the classic symptoms of experiencing episodes of hypoglycemia (low blood sugar and I'd recommend having a six-hour sugar-tolerance test to determine whether that's it.

If so, you'll doubtless have to change your eating habits, to substitute foods that release sugar into your system slowly instead of rapidly. If this sounds confusing to you, I suggest that you send 25 cents and a long self-addressed, stamped envelope for my booklet, "Help for Hypoglycemia (Low Blood Sugar)."

This sometimes — but definitely not always — can be a forerunner of diabetes.

Never take a chance on diabetes! For better understanding of this disease, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of this newspaper for a copy of the booklet, "Diabetes — The Sneaky Disease." Please enclose a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Because of the tremendous volume of mail received daily, Dr. Thosteson regrets that he cannot answer individual letters, but whenever possible he uses readers' questions in his column.

Valley comment

TWIN FALLS—Should Idaho school districts participate in the controversial state-sponsored, federally funded kindergarten program?

A survey of Twin Falls citizens — and one couple from out of state — brought a variety of responses, with more than a few refusing to be quoted in print. One woman said her husband works for a federal agency and she feared the federal Hatch Act, which forbids political campaigning by federal employees. Others declined to be quoted for a variety of reasons.

Of those answering the majority favored kindergartens for the 5-year-old but with some hesitation as to the fairness of a program that offers the pre-school training to only about half the youngsters in the Twin Falls school district.

MRS. KATHY JOHNSON: Twin Falls: "Yes, I'm definitely in favor of kindergartens for the five-year-old. My youngster is four years old, and I feel he would benefit from a school - district - operated kindergarten."

LORRAINE SMALL, Twin Falls: "I haven't studied the matter too much, but I believe I agree with Mr. Staudaer — that if we are going to have kindergartens we should have them for all the five-year-olds and not for just a few. We had school-operated kindergartens where I came from and they gave the youngsters a real chance in the first grade. But we should have them for every eligible child, not just for a few."

ROGER MARSH, Twin Falls: "I feel, too, that they should be operated by the school system if we are going to have them at all. Why limit the number of children going to kindergartens, though? It would be the same as if you limited the number allowed to enter the first grade — put all the names in a hat and drew out a few and told them they could go and the others couldn't. We should have them for all the children."

MRS. BERNICE CRIPPEN, Twin Falls: "Well, I don't have any young children, but I do believe kindergartens are very valuable. My friends have children they have sent to private kindergartens, but they do cost quite a bit and some of them haven't been too satisfactory. Yes, I believe the districts should participate in the state program if at all possible."

FRED MacKENZIE, Twin Falls: "Yes, the school district should participate in the state kindergarten program. I have grandchildren and I know they would benefit a great deal from school district-operated kindergartens."

MRS. PATRICIA TOOMBS, Ontario, Ore.: "We don't have kindergartens right in Ontario, but I'm certainly a believer in their value. Children will get a great many benefits from pre-school training they couldn't get elsewhere — they can learn to get along with their older brothers and sisters, they can learn when to sit down and keep quiet and they can learn something about what school is all about. I certainly do think the schools should operate the kindergartens."

Andrus willing to hear new data on land sale

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho's chief executive said Monday he was willing to hear new information the secretary of state might have before going ahead with a proposed auction of state land near Sun Valley.

Gov. Cecil D. Andrus said he had planned a special land board meeting next Monday to hear another pending matter and that the Sun Valley proposal could be considered at the same time.

The governor indicated he was reluctant to break up the 620 acres of land into smaller tracts than those proposed for fear bidders might "cream off" the best land — leaving the state with blocks of unsaleable acreage.

Two applications have been made for the land — each asking for sale chunks of just more than 300 acres — by the president of Sun Valley Co., Inc., Harry Holmes, and Gayle Holmes.

Secretary of State Pete Cenarrusa asked Andrus to reconsider the decision to sell the land for a minimum appraised price of $356,000.

Cenarrusa said he believed the appraisal was too low for the area and added he felt the state could make more money for the endowment fund if the property was broken into smaller tracts for sale.

The acreage in question is two miles east of Ketchum near a 1,900-acre tract Sun Valley plans to develop into a "sister village" to Sun Valley. It would be a joint venture with Johns-Manville-Idaho.

Attorney General W. Anthony

Park said he understood the developers wanted the 620 acres to use in part for an 18-hole golf course planned for the sister village to be called Elkhorn Valley.

On other matters, the governor said:

— Budget requests from Idaho's general fund agencies for the next fiscal year were only $6 million higher than for this year, indicating his administration was successful "in holding down inflation at the state level."

— If the 10 per cent surcharge on foreign imports was continued at the end of President Nixon's wage-price freeze,

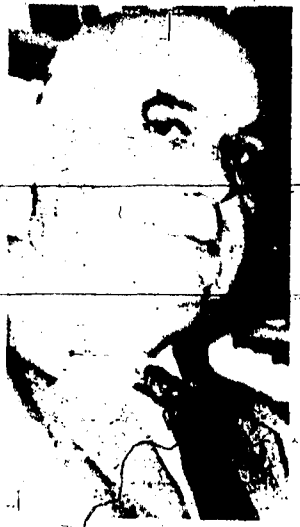

Youth held for bombing

NEW YORK (UPI) — A pipe bomb exploded outside the offices of the Congolese Mission to the United Nations in midtown Manhattan Monday injuring two young children and their mother.

A short time later the police bomb squad removed an unexploded device from the Malawi Mission to the U.N. several blocks away.

Police later arrested an 18-year-old high school student, Larry Pearson of New York, and charged him with bombing, arson and illegal possession of a pistol. Police said the young Harlem resident was picked up by a taxicab driver at his home and taken to a police station by the cabbie who thought Pearson "looked suspicious."

The explosion outside the permanent Mission of the Democratic Republic of the (Kinshasa) showered glass in the area. Mrs. Della Femina, the wife of an advertising executive and author, and her two children, Michael, 9, and Jody, 4, were hit by flying glass as they were passing the building. Jody reportedly suffered eye lacerations. All three were taken to New York Hospital.

Dies

GEORGE SAFERIS, 71-year-old Greek Nobel literature laureate, shown in 1963 photo, died of double pneumonia and coronary thrombosis in Athens Monday. Beyond his literary career, Saferis had served as a career diplomat, including a term as ambassador to London. He was an opponent of the current Greek military government. (UPI)

Bomb debris analyzed

BOISE (UPI) — It may be Wednesday before results are known on the analysis of a bomb used Friday night on the entrance of the U.S. armed forces examining and entrance station in Boise.

Federal investigator Raymond Beeman, with the Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division, said he was informed Monday that a package had not yet reached laboratories in Washington, D.C.

The package was sent for neutron activation analysis and contained bits of glass, the container which held the bomb and possibly part of the fuse, Beeman said.

Access given to papers

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The federal government, in a series of legal maneuvers with an assist from the FBI, was given access Monday to personal possessions of Daniel Ellsberg which he has in storage.

Ellsberg, under indictment in the Pentagon papers controversy, failed in an attempt to quash a government search subpoena involving his belongings held by Bekins Moving & Storage Company.

U.S. District Court Judge William M. Byrne Jr. made a conditional ruling Monday morning prohibiting the government from examining the belongings.

Byrne gave the government until noon to file notice of an appeal on his ruling. In the meantime, FBI agents served a warrant on operators of Bekins Warehouse in Beverly Hills where Ellsberg's goods are stored.

Today is Tuesday, Sept. 21, the 264th day of 1971 with 101 to follow.
The moon is in its new phase and first quarter.
The morning stars are Mercury and Saturn.
The evening stars are Venus, Mars and Jupiter.
In 1792 France came a republic.
In 1893 the first successful American-made gasoline-operated motor car appeared on the streets of Springfield, Mass. It was designed and built by Charles and Frank Dury.

Project set
BOISE (UPI) — The State of Idaho and the federal government plan to initiate an Alcohol Safety Action Proposal (ASAP) to combat the problem of the drunken driver on the highways.
The federal and state governments plan to spend more than $3 million during the next three years for this preventive therapy program. The treatment prescribed is exposure — first of the driver and second of his reasons for driving while under the influence of alcohol.
The Idaho Traffic Commission developed the ASAP plan.

Smallpox shots not suggested
BOISE (UPI) — Small pox vaccinations no longer are recommended for the majority of the population of the United States, Dr. John Mather, state director of preventive medicine, said today.
Dr. Mather said the decision has come after long, world-wide study of the dangers of vaccination compared with the possibility of actually coming in contact with the disease itself.
Vaccination now is recommended only for hospital personnel who might come into contact with the disease before it is diagnosed and persons who will be traveling in Ethiopia, India, Indonesia, Nepal, West Pakistan and The Sudan.
While smallpox vaccinations no longer are recommended for most persons immunizations for diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough, polio, measles and rubella still are highly recommended, Dr. Mather said.

Three deaf boys attending CSI
GOODING — Three deaf boys from the Idaho State School for the Deaf and the Blind, Gooding, are attending the College of Southern Idaho vocational classes, according to Ron Jones, vocational rehabilitation specialist.
They are enrolled in full eleven month programs and are the first State School students to attend CSI as part of a new trial program to better educate deaf students in vocational training.
Keith Drown, Twin Falls, is studying mechanics, David Saxton, Downey, is enrolled in the welding program and Steve McCalley, Boise, is enrolled in drafting. The boys are totally deaf, with the exception of David Saxton.
Jones says they are doing quite well but are badly in need of an interpreter to help with the theory portion of the courses. He said they are not having any problem with the practical application portion.

Stewart TV series rates

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The one thing NBC-TV is sure it has in the new Jimmy Stewart series, which arrived Sunday night, is a ratings success, and so every care was taken not to do anything unusual that might upset his institutional appeal.
It was, in short, a highly standard, purposely cautious half-hour debut that seemed to say that the mere presence of Mr. Stewart, a loveable and respected performer, will satisfy audiences—and that nothing else should get much in his way in the show. The ratings will tell us just how correct this appraisal was.
In the series, Stewart plays a somewhat absent-minded professor of anthropology who has a family. In fact, by the end of the show, the size of the family that lived with him grew considerably since he inadvertently burned down his older son's house by dozing off while smoking a cigar. The son, along with his own family, then moved back into Stewart's home while getting reorganized. The thing that has always made Stewart great in movies is that he unfailingly seems to stand for something—a cause, a principle, an attitude—and then wins the audience over to his side by his enormously sympathetic presence and his skill and passion in defining his position.
The debut of his series, however, appeared to indicate that this approach will not be a definitive part of his character on the show. From the impression given, we will be asked to tune in Mr. Stewart simply because he is there and because we like him. That technique has worked for other video personalities, and only time will tell here.
Fred MacMurray, for instance, has gone on for years in a series, "My Three Sons," that never makes waves. On the other hand, another old favorite, Henry Fonda, has a relatively new hit series, "The Smith Family," in which he plays a policeman involved in many problems: It is a vastly oversimplified series, but it does have an attitude.
There was no laugh track in the Stewart show, and that was good. However, it strained credulity to the limit to accept the fact that Julie Adams, who plays his wife, has been married to him for 30 years. According to my reference books, Miss Adams is 42, and she doesn't look a day older. Stewart, of course, looks as ageless as ever.

State Soroptimists meet in T.F.

PREPARING for the Ladies of Elks Kountry Kitchen are, from left, Jeannie Miller, Irene Kelley and LaVerne McKinster, co-chairmen of the annual event. It is set from 6 to 9 p.m. Saturday in the basement of the Elks building.

Fund raising project

TWIN FALLS — The State Soroptimist meeting was held Saturday and Sunday at Idaho Power Auditorium, Twin Falls, with Mrs. John (Edythe) Koontz, Twin Falls, Rocky Mountain Regional governor, conducting the business session.

The session was hosted by the Twin Falls Soroptimist Club under the direction of Mrs. Ray Bush, president.

Members of Soroptimist Clubs attended the two-day sessions from Boise, Burley, Caldwell, Idaho Falls, Pocatello and Twin Falls.

A workshop was held Saturday evening and ideas of the clubs were exchanged.

Sunday morning, Mrs. Bush introduced officials including Mrs. Koontz, governor; Mrs. James Penny, Caldwell, regional member at large; Lucy Higgins, Boise, parliamentarian and Mrs. Fern Smuin, Pocatello, a past regional governor.

It was reported the Caldwell and Twin Falls Soroptimist Clubs both reached the goal to qualify as "Jubilee Clubs." Other clubs in Rocky Mountain Region who are Jubilee Clubs are Aurora, Denver, Greeley and Loveland, Colo.; and Ogden, Utah.

Theme for the 1971-72 year is "Lead the Action," and clubs were urged to work toward becoming a "Lead the Action Club."

Gov. Koontz reported on the board of directors meeting. Items in the report included additional pages for classification book; endowment fund; youth citizenship award, and winning float in the Rose Bowl Parade.

A film, "Jubilee," was viewed which gave the brief history of the Soroptimist Club from organization to present day standing. The film will be available for local showing after Oct. 23 when all the state meetings have been held in the Rocky Mountain Region. Next year's state meeting will be held at St. Anthony in September.

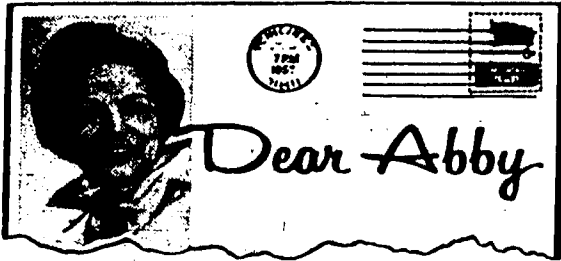

A luncheon was held in the Rogerson Roundup Room. Mrs. Bush led the pledge to the flag and the Soroptimist pledge. The collect was given by Mrs. Glenn Bailey, president of the Burley Soroptimist Club.

Special entertainment included solo selections by Mrs. Marty Mead, accompanied by Mrs. Doris Youtz, Twin Falls.

Two-day session . . .

Kountry Kitchen planned

TWIN FALLS — Women of the Elks in Twin Falls will hold a Kountry Kitchen dinner, cooked food sale and garden produce sale from 6 to 9 p.m. Saturday.

The event will be held in the cafeteria of the Elks building with the public invited to attend. Dinner will be served during the three-hour period and guests may browse through the Kountry Store to select items for purchase.

Co-chairmen of the annual event are Jeannie Miller, Irene Kelley and LaVerne McKinster.

The event is the only major fund raising project of the group and funds are used to provide one special project such as equipment for the rehabilitation center or to assist handicapped children needing medical care.

Catholic Women have workshop

SHOSHONE — The South Central Deanery of Idaho Council of Catholic Women met at the First Baptist Church hall here this past week. Mrs. Louis Logosz, president, was in charge of arrangements.

Conducting morning workshops were commission chairmen, Mrs. Aldo Zunino, Rupert, organization service; Mrs. Robert Harney, Twin Falls, family affairs; Mrs. Don Martin, Hailey, church communities; Mrs. Harold Traxler, Buhl, international affairs, and Mrs. Kenneth Walker, Twin Falls, community affairs.

Luncheon speaker was Rev. Father Joseph Gibbardt, Hailey, who spoke on the theme, "The Spirit Breathes Where He Will."

Speakers at the afternoon business meeting were Mrs. Louis Wimer, Cottonwood, the Idaho Council of Catholic Women president, and Mrs. Logosz, who reported on the National Council meeting she attended in Portland this fall.

Blue pencil awarded

TWIN FALLS — A speech, "Crossed Arrows," brought the blue pencil to Mrs. Paul S. Fairchild at the morning meeting this past week of the Twin Falls Toastmistress Club in the Colonial House.

Theme of the meeting was "Wagon Train" and Mrs. William Jamison presided at the meeting, with Mrs. John Pastoor giving the welcome and Mrs. Jamison, the invocation.

Mrs. Werner Kramer was in charge of table topics and Mrs. Ben Eldredge was awarded the red pencil. Mrs. Ron Helsley presented the education lesson and Mrs. George Hartley served as toastmistress for the day. Speeches were by Mrs. Fairchild, Mrs. Eldredge and Mrs. John Burkhardt. Mrs. Hartley received the traveling trophy.

Lodge observes birthdays

TWIN FALLS — The Royal Neighbor Lodge honored members having birthday anniversaries in July, August and September during a special birthday dinner and party this past week at the IOOF Hall.

The table was centered with a cake decorated with pink candles and a floral arrangement of sweetpeas, roses and gold candles.

Honored were Dorothy Treadwell, Julia Samples, Elva Olson, Lena Kunkle, Evelyn Atwood and Sue Pratt.

Lillian Arnga conducted the brief business session, when it was announced the local camp is invited to attend the Burley Camp meeting Friday at the IOOF Hall and also to the Hansen Camp Halloween party Oct. 26 at the Woodman-Royal Neighbor Hall.

A report on the third place artistic premium winner at the flower booth at Twin Falls County fair was made by Dorothy Treadwell and Julia Samples.

It was reported Lora Doss is a patient at the hospital. Arrangements for the dinner were made by Mrs. Arnga.

Attends workshop

JEROME — Jerome County Home extension economist, Sharon LaFray, will attend an environmental workshop today through Thursday at the area 4-H camp north of Ketchum.

Miss LaFray said agents and aides from three of Idaho's four extension districts will take part in the program to obtain training in environmental education aimed at 4-H camp work in forests, wildlife, water and soils.

DEAR ABBY: I am 39 and have three preschool children. I am married to an absolute nut who has made a fortune in business.

He devotes 100 per cent of his time to his business—or to other people.

He tells me what to do and when to do it. I feel like a robot who is wound up every morning and programmed to do whatever he wants me to do.

If I open my mouth, I get a lecture or a black eye. Sometimes both.

I told him I was leaving him and he said I needed to see a psychiatrist. So I saw one, and the psychiatrist told me to send in my husband. My husband said, "I'm not going. All those head doctors are nuts themselves."

So that's where it stands. Abby, I want out of this jail I'm living in. If it weren't for the kids I'd have left him long ago. How important is it for children to have a father?

GOING-NUTS

DEAR GOING: You can't be staying in that jail because you don't want to deprive your children of a father. From what you say, he's not much of a father anyway. Children need at least one sane parent, so stay with the psychiatrist and let him unbraids your brains.

DEAR ABBY: We have some neighbors who borrow eggs, half a dozen at a time, and bread by the loaves. We never get anything back. Last week we got an invitation to an outdoor party given by these neighbors. We accepted and had a very good time. They had good eats and plenty of drinks.

Here's the clincher: Yesterday we got a bill in the mail for $8.60 with a note, "This is for your share of the food and drinks."

Do you think we should pay this bill? If so, should we mail it? Or should we deliver it in person with a few choice words? When we were invited they didn't say anything about paying.

SHOCKED IN ALBUQUERQUE

DEAR SHOCKED: I would ignore the bill. And the neighbors.

DEAR ABBY: In answer to "On the Road in Indiana," Needless to say, my husband and I own a dog and it is necessary on occasion to take Misty on a trip with us. It would be a boon for people who have to travel with pets to have a special area for dogs. I have seen a few of these places in Massachusetts.

We have never had the experience of encountering souvenirs left by dogs, but we have seen half-eaten sandwiches on the ground, beer cans, paper bags, all sorts of garbage left by these immaculate people who can't stand the sight of a dog mess. If adults would carry a litter bag or use the trash cans provided, it would also do much to keep our country beautiful. It always amuses me nonpet owners fail to see the litter they leave behind.

I have also seen children left in locked, hot cars and dragged on a tour of historic sites. Our first consideration is to educate some of these delinquent parents in the name of sanitation, consideration and civilization, then we start educating the dog owners.

Large farm owners organize at Burley

By DAVID ESPO
Times-News Writer

BURLEY — A dozen Idaho ranchers and farmers, who said they represented over 50 state-wide growers producing 80 per cent of the state's gross product, met in Burley Monday night to organize a group to represent the interests of owners of large farms in state-wide agriculture issues.

The meeting was called by Vernon B. Clinton, Rupert, to discuss farm labor conditions in 1971 and especially the shortage of sprinkler pipe movers. The formation of the 20-80 Growers Association Incorporated was announced after the meeting. Clinton, appointed group spokesman, said the new organization was not anti-union but didn't believe that farm union organizations were inevitable.

"We don't intend to hand our farm workers over to a union," he said. "We'll never sign a contract with a union-giving them control over our business."

At the same time, Clinton noted, his group is prepared to raise $100,000, "for use in the political arena," in 1972 to aid candidates who, "understand the farm problem."

"There is still time," Clinton declared, "for reason and fact to prevail. Idaho need not go the way of some states who have seen the farmer and farm worker set against one another by outsiders who do not work at farming and who have no investment in farming."

Clinton also called for an end to migrant labor camps saying, "the housing for farm workers, like housing for others, is a community responsibility and it is beyond the ability of the farmer to provide housing on his own."

that other industries had given up trying to provide housing for workers, "decades ago," and that the time had come for the farmer to recognize his inability to cope with the problem alone.

The group will meet again at the end of the potato harvest in November to meet with state department of employment officials to discuss the labor situation.

THIS BLEAK scene shows a burned over area to be reseeded under a Bureau of Land Management program designed to repair areas devastated by range fires this year.

Planting set

Re seeding under way

WENDELL — Dean Durfee, area manager of Bennett Hills Resource Area, said today that the Bureau of Land Management District is striving to reseed about 60,000 acres in the district burned during the past summer.

He said about 157,000 acres were burned in his district which covers about three million acres. Some of the fires were caused by lightning, a few from weed burning, but the major portion in the Twin Falls-Shoshone-Gooding area were man caused.

In the Bliss areas many of the fires were along the railroad right-of-way.

Durfee said bids will be let this fall to get contracts which can involve from 40-50 rangeland drills to direct seed areas with crested and intermediate crested wheat grass for wildlife vegetation and to prevent soil erosion.

The BLM is particularly concerned about the invasion of Russian thistle in burned out areas.

He said the thistle is an alternate host of the Beet-leaf hopper which during the summer time infests beans and beets on area farming land.

Direct drilling of crested wheat grass can prevent tumble weeds from blowing and cut down on the dust problem in many of the bare areas.

In some areas, he said, alfalfa and wheat grass as well as brome plants will be drilled for sage grouse, pheasants and antelope.

The most vital areas in the reseeded areas are east of Shoshone, south of Gooding and Shoshone.

Hailey man held for drugs

HAILEY — Police searched a Hailey residence Sunday night and confiscated a quantity of marijuana and marijuana plants, according to Hailey Police Chief Roy Evans.

Evans, aided by two Blaine County sheriff's deputies, searched the house at 1417 4th Ave. So. at 8 p.m. Sunday.

Douglas Brock, 25, a resident of the house, was arrested at 10:40 p.m. when he returned home.

Brock was charged with possession and manufacture of a controlled substance, a felony charge.

Bond was set at $1,000. Arraignment is scheduled for 10:30 a.m., Sept. 24.

Evans said the seizure and arrest followed a one-day investigation. The search warrant was issued at 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

Brock was charged with possession and manufacture of a controlled substance, a felony charge.

Bond was set at $1,000. Arraignment is scheduled for 10:30 a.m., Sept. 24.

Chamber supports airline

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls City Chamber of Commerce has expressed its support to the Civil Aeronautics Board of the Hughes Air West Application for authority to provide service from the San Francisco Bay Area to Twin Falls, according to Bob Harvey, president.

He said the service proposed by Hughes Air West will encourage visitors to Idaho and skiers to the Sun Valley area.

The Twin Falls Chambers support comes after an objection to the application by the Boise Chamber of Commerce.

They stated that United Airlines had been promoting Boise as the air gateway to the Sun Valley area.

Harvey said that Sun Valley is just a 90 minute drive from the Twin Falls Airport as compared to at least a three and one half hour drive from Boise. He said, "on this basis, Twin Falls is truly the gate-way to Sun Valley."

Survey shows conflict

MOSCOW, Idaho (UPI) — "Conflict with self" in terms of goals, feelings, interests and personal confusion was the reason given by the majority of women who withdrew from the University of Idaho last year, according to a report from the university's Office of Student Advisory Services and the Student Counseling Center.

The report showed that 55 per cent of the approximately 75 women who withdrew from the university ranked a conflict with self as the primary reason for their dropping out of college.

Other reasons for withdrawal which were often ranked as important factors included lack of academic skill and financial difficulties.

The report was compiled from responses to a questionnaire and letters which were sent to each woman who withdrew from the university during the 1970-71 academic year.

The purpose of the report was to evaluate the reasons for women students withdrawing so that advisory services office and the counseling center can develop more effective means of working with students while they are still on campus.

The report indicated that 80 per cent of the withdrawing women felt that their high school courses had adequately prepared them to function in the academic atmosphere of the university, although withdrawing women had slightly lower ability levels and considerably lower academic performance records than the average university student.

However, only 53 per cent of the women who left felt that the vocational and educational advice they had received from their high school counselors was adequate.

Similarly, those who left indicated that more student faculty contact in the form of academic advice, or just more individual attention, would have facilitated their stay at the university.

Burley plans Halloween

BURLEY — The Burley City Council huddled Monday night with Kenneth Barry, chief of police, to discuss plans to prevent an occurrence of last year's Halloween night trouble.

Last year the downtown commercial district had been threatened by groups of youngsters who had taken to the streets in their celebration of the holiday.

Barry said he didn't anticipate a repeat of last year's situation but he said he would hold meetings with several community groups, possibly including students, in an effort to make the holiday trouble-free.

In other action, the council continued its discussions on the proposed expansion of the municipal golf course from its present nine holes to a regulation 18.

Approved the nomination of Gary Post, an employee of the United States Soil Conservation Service, to fulfill a vacancy on the City Planning Commission.

Drew up a list of names to create a five-man appeal board to hear cases resulting from decisions of the building inspector's office.

Appointed a three-man committee to study city license practices.

Hired on a full-time basis three employees for the sanitation department and added an extra member to the city street crew.

In its discussions of the proposed golf course expansion, the Council heard from Edward Trout, Boise architect, who had applied for a contract to do the work on the course and make a planning study necessary prior to construction work.

The Council discussed the possibility of obtaining the assistance of the National Guard to assist with the construction.

Action slated on air space

TWIN FALLS — Action on a request for the right to occupy air space above the parking lot at the corner of Second Street East and Second Avenue East is expected to be taken in an adjourned meeting of the Twin Falls City Council at 3:45 p.m. Wednesday.

Action was deferred Monday night during the regular city council meeting pending more detailed information on the proposal of William H. Munger. Munger has asked for the right to use the space above the parking lot on the old Workman Ford Agency site, for an expansion of the Rogerson Hotel facility. His plans, he said, include a second story parking area for hotel guests.

From the city, Munger requested the right to locate concrete footings on the ground-level parking area and an access to the second story facility. City officials said it was not clear if the city would receive exchange space for parking spaces lost to such structures on the second story lot.

Munger said plans for the facility are not clear at this time but depending on financing and other matters both the hotel expansion and parking facility would be undertaken in the near future.

Rain in Spain

BARCELONA (UPI) — Army units today joined firebrigades and rescue teams trying to rescue villagers marooned on roof tops and high land in northeastern Spain's worst floods in 10 years.

Police reported at least 10 persons died and hundreds were driven from their homes when up to 7.2 inches of rain fell on Barcelona and Gerona provinces during a series of violent rainstorms Monday.

The floods were the worst in the region since 1961 when more than 100 persons died. Police said damage to buildings, crops, communications and road and rail connections was "extensive."

Museum to close for winter

TWIN FALLS — Mrs. Harold Waggoner, director of the Twin Falls County Historical Society museum at Curry, has announced the museum will close Oct. 1 for the winter months and will reopen April 1.

She said it will be open by special appointment to school groups during the winter months. Because of the small number of persons who visit the museum during the winter and the cost of heating the old building and keeping an attendant on hand, the society had voted to close it this year.

Mavity stressed in his remarks before the businessmen that the suit didn't question the use of the land approved by the land commissioners but their failure to receive what he called, "adequate compensation."

In one case, he said, 400 acres of school land leased to the Boise airport authority for 25 years at $13 a year. When the first lease expired in 1967, he said, it was extended until 1992 at the same rent.

Gooding seeks airport funds

GOODING — City officials will meet with the director of the Idaho Department of Aeronautics Wednesday to ask for funds to improve the Gooding airport.

Major Harley Crippen, Councilman Valdo Gray, and Jim Wilkins, airport manager will meet with Darrell Manning, Jack Varin, son Mr. and Mrs. John Varin, Gooding was appointed assistant city attorney Monday night. He recently finished law school at the University of Idaho.

City Clerk George Silva gave notice of election of the city councilmen.

Valdo Gray and Gene Kelly will be running for re-election. City Council approved the judges and clerks for the voting procedures.

Ward number one will vote at the Baptist Church, and clerks are Naomi Floyd, Alberta Butler, Mary Estep and Bonnie Holloway. Constable will be Floyd Pierce.

Ward number two will vote at City Hall. Clerks are Margaret Carter, Mary Norfleet, Doris Vaughn, Caroline Robertson and the Constable will be Eric Hubert.

The mayor announced that presently 700 children throughout Gooding county participated in the City of Gooding summer program. There were about 14,000 people used the city pool last summer. 10 children from Shoshone, 16 from Bliss, 47 from Fairfield and 36 from Hagerman in addition to 296 from Gooding took swimming lessons at the Gooding pool bringing in a total of $1,367.

Irrigation water will be turned off October 3.

2 Gooding women hurt in accident

GOODING — Two Gooding women were injured in a two-car collision Monday three and a half miles north of the Westpoint Store near Gooding.

Officers said Vernal Peterson, 61, Buhl, was traveling north on a gravel road when a vehicle driven by Mrs. Orville Holland, 24, rounded a curve and the vehicles collided head-on.

Officers said Peterson's vehicle was in the southbound lane.

Mrs. Holland and a passenger in her vehicle, Mrs. John Holland, were taken to Gooding County Hospital. Mrs. Orville Holland was released from the hospital Tuesday and Mrs. John Holland is listed in good condition.

Peterson was not injured in the 9 a.m. accident.

Schlender said the newer customers have actually paid more than the original customers. He said the company wants to raise the monthly charges for its about 80 original subscribers. Schlender said the move would be an "equalization, not an increase." And, he said, "for equal service the company should charge equal costs."

City councilmen Vern McClellan said the rates should remain the same because "the original customers got cable-vision started."

The council also discussed the Ketchum Planning and Zoning Commission's request that the 1970 edition of the Uniform Building Code and all further editions be adopted as well as the building code fee schedule.

Stephen W. Boller, city attorney, said the new fee schedule would constitute a 100 per cent increase in building permit rates.

The council delayed action on the request until the code could be studied to see whether it could be made applicable to Ketchum.

Lincoln reports mishaps

SHOSHONE — Three small accidents were reported to Lincoln County Sheriff's officers Sunday.

At 8:30 p.m. seven miles east of Shoshone on State Highway 26 a car driven by Curtis A. Graham, 24, Twin Falls, struck a cow owned by Walter Ritter. The cow was killed and the 1962 model car demolished in the accident.

Graham and his three passengers, Raymond Graham, 59; Morrison Graham, 48, and Michael Graham, 15, all Twin Falls, received minor injuries.

Fred M. Varney, 87, Carey, was involved in an accident at 3:50 p.m. Sunday when his vehicle and a truck driven by Gary Sorenson, Shoshone, and owned by George Dewep, Shoshone, collided two miles east of Shoshone on State Highway 26. Officers estimated damage at $100 to the truck and $200 to the 1961 car driven by Varney.

E. Burgess, Castleford, received slight injuries in an early Sunday morning accident when his vehicle left the road six miles east of Richfield and hit a rock pile. Burgess told officers he went to sleep.

Burley PTA backs land suit

Teachers names Governor Cecil B. Andrus, the State Legislature and the State Board of Land Commissioners among other defendants in charging violations of provisions of the Idaho Admissions Act of 1891 of the state constitution.

Under the terms of the law the court complaint says 3.6 million acres of land were set aside in the 19th century to be used by state institutions of which 2.9 million acres were exclusively reserved for schools.

Mavity told his audience the State Board of Land Commissioners is responsible for maintaining the land with authority to rent or lease portions of it and set aside the proceeds for the department of education.

The suit charges that the land commissioners have been guilty of selling by leasing five to six thousand acres at prices below the estimated appraised valuation of the property. The suit further alleges the cost of the lost land to be worth $20 million with back rents amounting to as much as $12 million.

As a result, said Mavity, the tax payers of the state and the school children have been hurt both financially and educationally. "The children are hurt because they have to go to schools which are substandard and set through curricula taught by teachers who are below average, both in ability compensation," the speaker said.

Idaho ranks 46th in the country he said in per capita expenditures in the public school system. The results, he continued, is a generally poor performance on nationally administered tests such as the national Merit Scholarship

Tests given to high school juniors.

Mavity stressed in his remarks before the businessmen that the suit didn't question the use of the land approved by the land commissioners but their failure to receive what he called, "adequate compensation."

In one case, he said, 400 acres of school land leased to the Boise airport authority for 25 years at $13 a year. When the first lease expired in 1967, he said, it was extended until 1992 at the same rent.

Couple observes 50th anniversary

TWIN FALLS—Mr. and Mrs. Percy Bates were honored on their 50th Wedding Anniversary this past week by their family and neighbors.

A buffet dinner was served from a table centered with a gold arrangement of gladioli and chrysanthemums and a small arrangement of red roses and sweetpeas.

The gold decorated anniversary cake was cut and served by Mrs. Bates.

Mrs. George Masse, San Diego, Calif., Mrs. Bates' 88-year-old mother, was also a guest of honor.

The couple's two daughters, and a son and their families were present, Mr. and Mrs. (Dorothy) Zdanis, San Leandro, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Jim (Janice) Dotson and children, Richfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Bates and son, Phillip, Nampa.

Their daughter, Mrs. Donald

(Mary) Van Doran, Marysville, Calif., was here earlier this month and a son, Paul Bates, Sacramento, was unable to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Bates were married Sept. 3, 1921, in Sterling, Colo. They moved to Nampa in 1934 and to Twin Falls in 1944. Bates was a brick layer and worked for many construction companies throughout the valley.

Brownies organized

JEROME—Two new Brownie troops have been organized in Jerome under the leadership of Mrs. Buck Thompson and Mrs. Kenneth Hodges, it was announced at an organizational meeting of the Jerome Girl Scouts and leaders.

Mrs. Bill Cannedy will serve as leader for one troop in Jerome and the senior troop will now be in Troop 149, with Mrs. Clay Hartz, Twin Falls, as leader. Junior leaders will be Mrs. Phil Thoman, Mrs. Dale Hammond, and Mrs. Kenneth Woodrow.

Leader training for new leaders in Neighbor No. 18 was conducted Monday at the Baptist Church with training for all leaders being conducted Tuesday.

A salad lunch and neighbor meeting was held at noon.

Trainers included Kathleen Pearson, Mrs. Carol Johnson and Mrs. Marietta Womack, all Pocatello.

Writers report publications

TWIN FALLS—The Twin Falls Writers' League met at the Idaho Power Auditorium, with Mrs. Pearl Campbell, Mrs. Jeanette LeMoyné and Mrs. Suddie Hager reporting having material recently published in magazines.

Mrs. LeMoyné also reported a prize received in the New York Poetry Forum contest of 4,000 entries, and Mrs. May Burkhart reported first prize in the Idaho Federation of Women's Clubs' annual poetry contest. A poem of Mrs. Hager's, "Maternal Song," is included in "A Bouquet of Poetry," a hard-back book published by Ideals magazine.

The roll call topic was "Peace Is." Members made plans to attend State League's Writers' conference to be held in Pocatello Oct. 1 and 2. A card was signed to be sent to Mrs. Esther Diesner, who has been ill.

A lesson on the writing of the "short-short story" form of fiction was given by Mrs. LeMoyné. One approach is to start by imagining two people who might clash, and to let their conflict become the basis of a story. Mrs. LeMoyné described the tight structure demanded by this length of narrative, and read aloud "One Never Knows," by H. C. Schoenfeldt as an example of the form.

Mrs. Olive Kelley read manuscripts for criticism and Mrs. Burkhart read a satirical article.

Mrs. Minnie James, Riverside, Calif., was a guest.

The next meeting is Oct. 16 at the Idaho Power building.

KING HILL—Post No. 57, American Legion and Auxiliary, will hold a potluck dinner at the Veterans Memorial Hall at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday. Boy and Girl State Citizens will give their reports of the sessions held in June. Parents of the delegates are invited. Meat and rolls will be furnished.

A Lovelier You

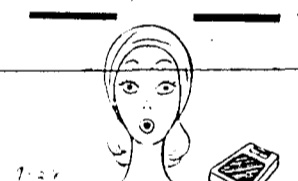

AVOID REDUCING FACE

By Mary Sue Miller

"Don't make that face! It will grow that way," as mothers used to say to little girls. Well, a woman's face may easily grow into a grimace. It often happens if she neglects her skin while she loses weight—a large amount of weight. Then the facial muscles become slack; sag and lines follow.

The wise move is to take steps that help prevent such problems during and after the reducing period. The routine below, works to keep the musculature tight while the flesh that once propped it up drains away.

1. Open mouth wide and hold, keeping jaw tense. Next slowly purse lips into a small circle. Relax and repeat 3 times.
2. Hold face in hands, palms under chin and fingers along sides of cheeks. Now chow—hard and deliberately—while you press up with palms and down with lower jaw. Continue for 1 minute.
3. Purse lips, open eyes wide and lift eyebrows upward as far as possible. Hold for 5 counts and repeat 10 times. When feasible, massage a bit of moisturizing cream into the face before exercising. Afterward pat on a mild astringent. Whatever you do, don't let it "grow that way."

AMERICAN MOTORS INTRODUCES THE GUARANTEED CAR.

If anything goes wrong with one of our '72's and it's our fault, we'll fix it free. Anything.

AMERICAN MOTORS 1972 BUYER PROTECTION PLAN.

For years, car buyers in this country have been saying that instead of shiny new chrome every year, what they really want is a good car they can count on.

That's why American Motors and its dealers put together their 1972 Buyer Protection Plan. Here's how it works:

A STRONG GUARANTEE IN PLAIN ENGLISH.

When you buy a new 1972 car from an American Motors dealer, American Motors Corporation guarantees to you that, except for tires, it will pay for the repair or replacement of any part it supplies that is defective in material or workmanship.

This guarantee is good for 12 months from the date the car is first used or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first. All we require is that the car be properly maintained and cared for under normal use and service in the fifty United States or Canada and that guaranteed repairs or replacements be made by an American Motors dealer.

This guarantee gives you 12-month or 12,000-mile coverage on a lot of things most car warranties don't. It covers air conditioning, battery, radio, wiper blades, front end alignment, light bulbs—literally everything we put on the car except tires.

In other words, if something we did goes wrong with one of our '72's, you won't have to pay for the parts or the labor. We will.

A MORE THOROUGHLY-CHECKED CAR. FROM THE FACTORY AND THE DEALER.

Naturally, we wouldn't be backing our cars like this if we weren't more sure of them than we've ever been before. For 1972, we've put in more quality control steps, more tests and more people to see that every car leaving our factory is as perfect as man and machine can make it.

At the dealer's, it's checked over again.

Every car (not one of 50, one of 5, every one) is road-tested for starting, handling, braking and overall performance. When the serviceman completes the test, he signs his report and slides it over the sun visor, where you can see it.

And, when a man signs his name to something, you can be sure he's done his job. And done it right.

A LOANER CAR WHEN YOU NEED IT. FREE.

Not only do we offer you a strong guarantee, we've set up a system to back it up without inconveniencing you.

If you have to leave your '72 overnight for guarantee repairs, over 2,000 dealers will loan you one of their cars. A nice, clean, well-equipped car in good condition. Free.

A DIRECT LINE TO DETROIT. TOLL-FREE.

We're making some big promises, and we fully intend to keep them. But, just in case you have a problem, we have a way of handling it. When you buy a '72, you get the name and toll-free number of a person in Detroit.

If you call, we promise you you'll get results. And fast.

These aren't just fancy words. We mean it.

Nobody in the business does as much for you after you buy a car, and it takes a lot of time, men and money to do all these things.

But we think it's worth it. Since we're giving American car-buyers exactly what they say they want, we should sell more cars than we've ever sold before.

Vikings overcome early mistakes to collect 16-13 win over Detroit

DETROIT (UPI)—Fred Cox's third field goal of the night, a nine-yarder with 5:18 to play, enabled the mighty Minnesota Vikings to overcome a rare mistake Monday and gave them a 16-13 National Football Conference win over the Detroit Lions.

A 33-yard field goal try by Detroit's Errol Mann was wide to the right with only seven seconds to play as the Lions failed for the seventh straight time to beat or tie the Vikings.

Solons' future to be settled today

BOSTON (UPI)—The future of the Washington Senators was expected to be settled today when American League club owners meet with Baseball

Commissioner Bowie Kuhn and one or two prospective purchasers.

The special session called by League President Joe Cronin was believed facing two major decisions, whether to keep the financially-ailing Senators in Washington and how to make up an estimated $3.5 million difference between the supply and the demand.

1,743 see Senators gain split

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Denny McLain lost his 21st game, 3-1, to Cleveland before the smallest American League crowd of the season Monday night after beating the Indians, 8-6, for the Washington Senators in completing a 20-inning suspended game.

Commissioner Bowie Kuhn and one or two prospective purchasers. The president said he didn't have anything against Texas but cited Washington baseball tradition adding, "I do think Washington is a good sports town" and voicing the hope that if the Senators are shifted, the Baltimore Orioles would play some games in the District of Columbia.

Robert Short, owner of the Washington franchise, was reportedly seeking $12 million for the team. But even the best reported offer for the club, currently mired in fifth place in the East Division, was reported to be below $9 million and came from the Texas area that has been seeking a major league franchise for several years.

Only 1,743 fans were in the stands to watch the Indians jump on McLain for two runs in the third inning on Ed Leon's single, Ted Uhlaender's RBI double, a wild pitch and an error.

Fred Stanley's second home run, the 31st off McLain this season, to lead off the eighth inning accounted for the Indians' third run.

Barney fumbled the kickoff following Cox' 42-yard field goal which tied the game 13-13 with 9:40 to play in the game and Karl Kasulke recovered on the Detroit 20. Cox then kicked the game-winner from nine yards out.

Fred Stanley's second home run, the 31st off McLain this season, to lead off the eighth inning accounted for the Indians' third run.

ISU boosters meet tonight

Idaho State football Coach Ed Cavanaugh, Athletic Director Dubby Holt and basketball Coach Jim Killingsworth will meet with area Bengal Boosters at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Holiday Inn.

Films of ISU's win over North Dakota will be shown and narrated by Cavanaugh while Killingsworth will give an outline of this year's cage squad. All interested persons are invited.

Brewers shut out Twins 3-0

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (UPI)—Skip Lockwood, backed by some excellent fielding, pitched a four-hitter and drove in a run with a swinging bunt Monday to hand the Milwaukee Brewers a 3-0 victory over the Minnesota Twins.

In the fifth inning, Brewer centerfielder Dave May fell down while rushing on Jim Nettles' fly ball. May kept his eye on the ball and lunged to make the catch while on the ground.

The Lions scored the first time they touched the football in their battle against their bitter NFC Central Division rivals when Mann kicked his 20-yard field goal.

Rookie Jeff Wright of Minnesota fumbled the ensuing kickoff without the benefit of enemy aid and Craig Cotton recovered on the Vikings' 21.

Boxers set but not promoters

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—World middleweight champion Carlos Monzon is ready and challenger Emile Griffith has reached his peak — but the promoters of next Saturday's 15-round title bout here are still uncoordinated about press coverage.

With just five days to go, both fighters eased up Monday on heavy workouts, turning to reflex sharpening and light sparring sessions for the Sept. 25 fight in the downtown Luna Park closed stadium.

Both also worked out on the bags late Monday afternoon, the Argentine first and Griffith later, but they still have not met since Griffith's arrival last week.

Meanwhile, Luna Park officials did an effective job of barring the press from the afternoon workouts, allegedly "open" to the public. In spite of a telephone call to the office of matchmaker Juan Carlos Lectoure for permission to watch the workouts, newsmen were shooed out by ushers.

Moore named back of week

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Flashy tailback Bobby Moore of Oregon has been honored by the Pacific-8 Conference for setting two school records in the Ducks' 36-29 win over Utah.

The 6-2, 212-pound senior from Tacoma, Wash., was selected conference back of the week. Safety Ron Carver of UCLA, who made 10 tackles and intercepted three passes in his team's 28-10 loss to Texas, was named the week's top defensive player in the conference.

Despite lopsided scores, UPI voters keep Nebraska on top of weekly poll

NEW YORK (UPI)—In a week that saw nearly every team in the top 20 win by a rout, even a 43-point victory wasn't enough to topple Nebraska from the top spot in the United Press International ratings.

That's what happened to Notre Dame as the Fighting Irish drubbed Northwestern 50-7, but the Cornhuskers held on to their No. 1 ranking with a lesser rout of Minnesota, 35-7.

With 33 of the 35 coaches in UPI's ratings board participating, Nebraska got 25 first-place votes and a total of 307 points, while Notre Dame received the remaining eight first-place votes and a total of 292.

Texas, with 226 points, held onto the No. 3 spot, but Michigan, which clobbered Virginia 56-0, sneaked past idle Ohio State for fourth place.

Following the Buckeyes was Alabama, No. 6 for the second straight week.

Auburn, which opened its season with a 60-7 rout of Chattanooga, leaped from No. 10 into seventh place while Tennessee slipped back a notch into eighth despite trouncing the U. of California at Santa Barbara, 48-6. Arkansas and Colorado, which both won big over the weekend finished out the top 10 in ninth and tenth place respectively.

Oklahoma, 12th last week, moved up one spot to No. 11 after opening its season with a 30-0 whitewashing of Southern Methodist while Stanford, last week's No. 11 switched places with the Sooners, dropping to 12th.

A three-way tie between Penn State, Washington and Georgia settled No. 13. The Nittany Lions opened their season crushing Navy, 56-3, while Georgia and Washington won their second games of the season.

Arizona State, Southern California and Louisiana State finished 18th, 17th and 18th, but the final top 20 berth resulted in a tie between North Carolina, a newcomer to the football ratings, and Georgia Tech.

Nebraska coach Murray Warmath, a member of UPI's ratings board, summed up Nebraska's strength after Saturday's game. When asked what the turning point was, Warmath replied, "when they blew the opening whistle to start the game."

But Northwestern coach Alex Agase, also a member of the ratings board, was equally impressed with Notre Dame after his Northwestern team suffered its worst defeat of his tenure there.

Said Agase: "Now I know how David would've felt if he'd missed Goliath with that rock."

Nebraska next plays Texas A&M and will be a solid favorite, but the Fighting Irish go up against old rival Purdue, which is coming off a

Orioles roll past Yanks 8-4

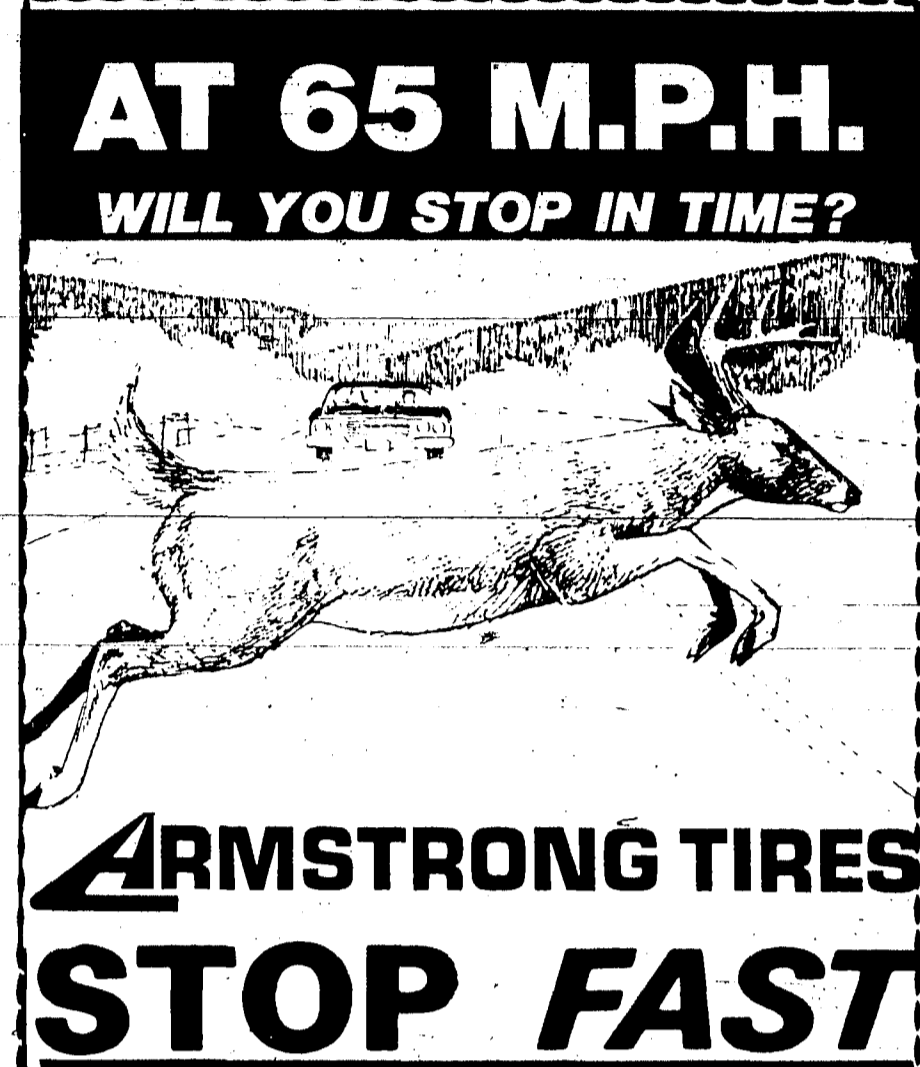

NEW YORK (UPI)—Batting around against three ineffective relief pitchers in the ninth inning the Baltimore Orioles beat the New York Yankees, 8-4, Monday night and cut the magic number for a third straight American League Eastern Division title to five.

Boog Powell started the Orioles' big inning with a double off Jack Aker, who relieved Mike Kekich.

will really jam you by jumping to the stratosphere. In that case you may not be able to show two or more aces but you can still do something to help your partner decide on the final contract. You simply double to suggest penalizing your opponents. You pass to suggest a further bid by your partner.

North decides that his spade void may make it possible for South to score a grand slam so he passes the six spade interference. South concludes that North holds just about what he does and takes the plunge. East and West can save at seven spades but they pass in the hope that their opponents have gone one trick too high.

JACOBY MODERN uses DOPI to show aces against Blackwood interference. If you can't remember: Double with zero, pass with one and bid with two or more. Just bear in mind that you double to say, "I don't think we have slam." You pass to say, "I think we may have slam" and your bid to say, "I'm sure we have slam."

When you want to use DOPE, which is "Double odd—pass even," DIPO, which is "Double one—pass zero," or DEPO, which is "Double even—pass odd," you will be in some expert company but we strongly favor the very simple and effective JACOBY MODERN DOPI.

IT WAS Capt Ewart Kempson who insisted a woman plays cards much better when she's in a fierce frame of mind. If your wife is about to be your bridge partner, sir, this expert suggests you do what you can immediately to irritate her. How to accomplish this is an individual matter, I suppose. Might remark: "Best bridge partner I ever had was a pretty little blonde sophomore in Pittsburgh." That should do it. If not, try: "Are you all right, honey? You look worn out."

WHEN you catch cold, eat some tangerines. The medical boys now say there's something called synthrine in them that clears up your head. More so than oranges, lemons, grapefruit. They say further tangerines tend to untrouble the stuffy passages of heavy drinkers. MEN WHO SPORT whiskers are not aggressive. They spend too much time thinking about women. Such was the claim of Peter the Great of Russia. When he was boss, men with beards had to pay a special tax. Possibly he had a piece of the razor trade, don't know.

CUSTOMER SERVICE: Q "Do you think marijuana ought to be legalized?" A Think one or two swift states ought to be permitted to legalize it. To give it a long-term test. Your state, not mine. Q "All right, old boy, how can I make $1 million?" A Nothing to it—Market a two-dollar shirt—Excuse it, but here comes another one of those headaches, I think.

Good hops

ANYONE WHO enjoys a cold beer while watching a football game on TV has cause for celebration. In southern Idaho, hop growers are harvesting a bumper crop this year. Below, hop vines are unloaded from a truck at a threshing plant at Nampa. Top, after being stripped from the vines, the hops dried in this chamber before being shipped. Idaho is one of the four major hop producing states in the nation. (UPI)

Farm

Jerome crop yields good

JEROME — Jerome county farmers may have another exceptional year in row crop fields. County Agent W. G. Priest said today. In his report on fall activities, Priest said about 40 per cent of the beans in the county have been harvested and indications are that the yields will be above the average. "Harvesting of grain is about 90 per cent complete with very good yields," he said. The third crop of hay is now being cut and baled. Overall hay yields during the year were down a little. Priest said that potatoes and sugar beets are growing well. The county agent explained that the three weeks prior to sugar-beet-and-potato-harvest are crucial because it is during this period that tonnage and quality is added. A freeze will hamper spud and beet development but cool weather will enhance growth, Priest said. "1971 could be the second year in a row that the county will experience exceptionally good yields," Priest noted. "The situation looks good right now and weather holds the key to whether or not our present estimates are accurate," Priest pointed out. Gross farm income during 1970, topped 1969 figures by $5.4 million for the biggest annual increase in county history. The jump was attributed to high yields and quality.

Report given on tri-county herds

JEROME — Herds totaling 2,473 cows averaged more than 1.25 pounds of butterfat per cow per day during August, according to the Gooding-Lincoln-Jerome Dairy Herd Improvement Association. A total of 22 herds were tested, ranging in daily average of butterfat from 1.84 to 1.25 pounds per day, and from 53.6 to 38.7 pounds of milk per cow per day. — TRITICALE —

THE NEW WONDER GRAIN OF THE CENTURY CROSS OF WHEAT & RYE

This grain has now produced outstanding yields in Idaho for the past 2 years.

Pasture in the fall, pasture in the spring—then take Green Chop or Harvest Grain in fall.

Triticale is a dual purpose cereal grain, which produces green foliage and is high in protein going 19 to 21%.

Outstanding yields have been produced on the better farms with excess of 100 bu. per acre in Idaho.

Plant 30 lbs. on dryland or 60 lbs. on irrigated land—Use ordinary grain-drill.

These varieties of Triticale, we have for sale, can either be planted in fall or spring. Most other varieties are for spring planting, only.

Ask your dealer about Graze Grain 70 or CL-71.
