Belt tightening: local tax trend

As more Magic Valley counties report their tax levies for 1971 several trends have become apparent.

Tax payments will go up again this year in six of eight counties, reflecting higher costs of operation of government. But in most cases, the increases are lower than inflationary levels — indicating either greater efficiency in government or minor cutbacks in services.

Figures compiled by the Times-News from levies certified this week in Twin Falls, Minidoka, Lincoln, Jerome, Gooding, Cassia, Camas and Blaine counties indicate the city resident of Twin Falls pays the largest tax bill but the Halley city resident has the fastest climbing tax rate with marked increases this year representing 24.62 per cent more in dollars and cents in the total assessment.

Completed figures do not apply to persons owning property in rural locations where no city taxes or paid or to those living in communities other than the county seats.

In the city of Twin Falls, a taxpayer who owns a $10,000 home would pay $206.66 in taxes this year compared to $191.87 last year or an increase of 7.7 per cent. Of this, he would be paying $62.47 for schools, an increase of 16.05 per cent over last year; $73.71 for city taxes, up 7.12 per cent over 1970, and $33.34 for county taxes of 9.02 per cent more than last year.

In Halley, on a home with a cash value of $10,000 the owner would pay $199.85 total taxes compared to $160.38 last year or an increase of 24.61 per cent, the largest increase in Magic Valley. Of this, $3.90 would be for school taxes, a 33.8 per cent increase, and $70.48 would be for city taxes, a 26 per cent increase and $41.57 for county, up 16.6 per cent over last year.

Cassia County is holding the tax level and has shown a slight reduction in the total tax bill for a Burley City resident. The $10,000 home in Burley would carry a tax bill this year of $147.43 compared to $150.08 last year or a reduction of 1.8 per cent. Of the total amount, $59.60 would be for schools, a big reduction of 14 per cent; $55.30 would be for city operations, 17.9 per cent increase over last year and $20.65 would be for county operation a decrease of 3.3 per cent this year.

A special school levy in Cassia county was dropped this year to bring about a major decrease in the school district levy.

Cassia county also has the lowest tax ratio in the area, assessing at only 14.7 per cent of cash value compared to Lincoln County with 17.33 per cent and Camas County already at the 20 per cent toward which all counties are moving.

The resident of the city of Jerome will pay $190.39 this year for his $10,000 home compared to $184.96 last year or an increase of 2.9 per cent. Of this, $61.78 will go to the school district, 11.4 per cent more than last year and $70.10 will go to the city, a decrease of 2.8 per cent over last year. Another $30.66 will be earmarked for county government compared to $28.67 last year or an increase of 6.9 per cent. Jerome county's assessment ratio is at 15.8 per cent of cash value.

Rupert's home owner, on a $10,000 house, would pay $187.92 this year, an increase of 3.7 per cent over the $181.17 tax bill for last year. Of this the Rupert taxpayer would be contributing $72.15 to schools, compared to $71.65 last year of a .69 per cent increase and his city taxes would be $37.20 or 3 per cent above the $36 paid a year ago. County taxes would be up 12.56 per cent for a total of $59.82 this year compared to $45.15.

Gooding County levies have not been received but are slightly higher in nearly all categories than last year.

In Lincoln County, school levies are down this year, largely possible because of the increased valuation of property through revaluation and no additional demand for revenue from the school districts.

The Shoshone home owner will pay $196 this year, compared to $203 last year, or a decrease of about 3 per cent. Some special problems arise in the Lincoln County tax computing because parts of Lincoln County's School District extend into Gooding and Jerome counties.

In the city of Fairfield a $10,000 home would mean a total tax bill of $168.40 this year compared to $164.60 last year or 2.3 per cent more. Of the total payment, $68 would go to schools, 2.1 per cent more than last year and $50 for city taxes, the same as last year while county tax payments will be $48, or 1.27 per cent more than last year.

Raids bring red walkout

PARIS (UPI)—The North Vietnamese and Viet Cong delegations said Wednesday they will boycott Thursday's peace negotiating session to protest the recent massive U.S. air raids on North Vietnam. Hanoi delegation spokesman Nguyen Thanh Le told a news conference "as a gesture of energetic protest" his delegation decided not to attend the 130th meeting but would attend next week.

The Viet Cong delegation, in a simultaneous statement, also denounced the U.S. air raids and said it will boycott Thursday's session as well.

Hints: Mao may be dead

HONG KONG (UPI)—Diplomatic sources with contacts in Peking said today there appeared to be some type of crisis in Communist China.

They said there was no indication exactly what was wrong, but speculated the most likely explanation was the illness or even death of Mao Tse-tung, the 77-year-old Communist party leader who for decades has ruled the nation with an iron hand.

Hong Kong is a British crown colony on the Chinese mainland and is the major listening post for Sinologists seeking information on what goes on in China.

Although they described some of the evidence as "circumstantial," the sources said, "there are, nevertheless, some definite signs of a crisis-type situation there."

They said the possible emergency was indicated by a series of "unusual" events in Peking in recent days.

The decision by Chinese authorities to call off the mass rally and parade traditionally held to celebrate Oct. 1, the national day, News dispatches from Peking first reported the cancellation and the sources

Red guns prompted attacks

SAIGON (UPI)—The U.S. command said today American planes carried out the heaviest raids in six months north of the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) partly because North Vietnam had increased its anti-aircraft guns by 40 per cent in less than two months.

A U.S. command spokesman said the damage had not been assessed from Tuesday's raids against missile sites, supply areas and gun positions.

"The number of anti-aircraft guns within 35 miles of the Demilitarized Zone had increased almost 40 per cent since Aug. 1, 1971," the spokesman said.

The command reported a "growing frequency of hostile action against our aircraft" in the North Vietnamese panhandle. Most of the planes referred to are unarmed U.S. photo reconnaissance jets which have been making spy flights over North Vietnam since the Nov. 1, 1968 bombing halt over the North.

Hanoi Radio in a broadcast monitored in Saigon said North Vietnamese anti-aircraft guns shot down two of the American fighter-bombers Tuesday and also damaged "many more" U.S. aircraft. The U.S. command said it knew of no planes lost in the air strikes.

Japan supports Formosa

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—Japan's decision to cosponsor the United States' two-China policy appeared today to be a major windfall to Washington's struggle to keep Nationalist China in the United Nations while admitting the Peking regime.

The first test of the U.S. policy in the United Nations was expected on a move to merge opposing agenda items favoring the Communist and Nationalist Chinese for a single debate in the 26th General Assembly sometime next month.

The 130-nation General Assembly, which opened Tuesday, convened today at 10:30 a.m. EDT.

A challenge to Nationalist China's right to sit in the United Nations was possible today but most diplomats agreed that such a procedural move would be a parliamentary gimmick of doubtful value and almost certain of defeat.

The China issue appeared on the Assembly's agenda as two separate items. One resolution sponsored by Albania and 19 other pro-Peking members bore the title "Restoration of the lawful rights of the People's Republic of China in the United Nations."

The other, by the United States, was listed as "the representation of China in the United Nations."

The U.S. delegation wants the two resolutions combined in a single item.

Panel eyes liberal writeoff

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House Ways and Means Committee, moving with rare speed on a major tax proposal, was expected today to trim business tax reductions ordered into effect this year without Congressional approval.

The committee, which voted a seven per cent investment tax credit Tuesday, was to take up the accelerated depreciation rates President Nixon put into effect earlier under executive order.

Committee Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., has made it known that he wants the depreciation rules restricted because of the investment tax credit, which serves as a tax reduction for industry purchases of equipment.

Mills wants to transfer money from more restricted business depreciation rules to tax cuts for low income individuals.

S. Viet Senate urges new vote

SAIGON (UPI)—The South Vietnamese Senate today urged President Nguyen Van Thieu to call off the Oct. 3 presidential election and let the speaker of the senate "reorganize" the voting.

The senate, in a special session, passed a resolution making the request. It appeared unlikely that Thieu, the only candidate left on the election after Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky and Gen. Duong Van "Big" Minh dropped out, would heed the plea.

Thieu has said he would resign from office if he did not receive at least 50 per cent of the vote from the estimated seven million eligible voters, but similar requests by Ky for a postponement and reorganization of the election were turned down.

The declaration was read to the senate by speaker Nguyen Van Huyen, a political ally of Thieu after three hours of debate.

It said the senate was calling on Thieu and his vice presidential running mate, former Prime Minister Tran Van Huong, "to respond to the right demands of the Vietnamese people and to respect the law of the nation."

A number of the senators who voted for the declaration are considered pro-Thieu.

To reorganize the election, Thieu would have to resign and turn over the reins of government to the senate speaker, who would set a date for a new campaign.

"With a war to be resolved, it is necessary to consolidate the legal basis and the support of the population for the government," the senate resolution said.

"... We call on the population to make all efforts within the framework of the law to save the country in these critical hours."

Sen. Vu Van Mau, leader of the senate's opposition bloc, said, "No one should compete with himself. It's like competing with ones shadow. This election is a farce and a waste of money."

Prices up

August price index rises despite inflation freeze

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The cost of living rose three-tenths of one percent in August, a higher increase than in July, the government reported today, but statisticians said the figures did not accurately test the impact of the wage-price freeze President Nixon imposed at mid-month.

The Labor Department said the price advance which was about the average rate for the year was led by a sharp 3.7 per cent increase in the price of gasoline.

Wages also increased in August, the department said with average gross weekly earnings of rank and file workers advancing $1.43 from July to an average of $129.

The department said the cost of living survey, conducted in 56 cities, reflected price information collected both before and after the President imposed the freeze on Aug. 15.

The department cautioned that even prices sampled after the freeze could have reflected price boosts in the first two weeks of the month.

The first cost-of-living report since Nixon took his drastic economic action came as the House Ways and Means Committee moved to trim business tax reductions he ordered into effect earlier this year without requiring congressional consent.

The consumer price index rose in August to 122.3 per cent of the 1967 average. That meant it cost $12.22 last month to buy the same goods and services that could have been obtained for $12.18 in July; $11.69 a year ago, and $10 about four years ago.

The department said the prices of gasoline, mortgage interest rates, property taxes, home repairs, gas, electricity, telephone and most kinds of medical care increased more in August than in July.

The gasoline increase was the sharpest in more than a year. Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., has charged that gasoline companies were indirectly tipped off by administration officials to boost their prices before the freeze. The White House denied the accusation.

Dollar gyrates

LONDON (UPI)—The U.S. dollar bounced around erratically in active early trading in European centers today and the West German Central Bank stepped in for the second consecutive day to stabilize it when it dropped to a new low.

The United States seeks about a 15 per cent upward revaluation of the mark in relation to the dollar to help the American trade by lowering U.S. prices abroad and by raising the prices of imports. So far the dollar has hovered around an 8 per cent devaluation in West Germany.

The heaviest pressure on the dollar continued in West Germany, where trading tumbled it to another 22-year low—this time at 3.3290 marks—for the fourth time in six trading days.

The West German Central Bank bought dollars from other German banks on a forward basis—that is, for delivery at an agreed quotation from one to three months from now.

It bought $150 million today and another $5 million Tuesday, a bank spokesman said.

The move stabilized the dollar at a relatively healthy 3.3515 marks in early trading today, equivalent to an 8.4 per cent devaluation against the official rate of 3.66 marks before the Bonn government freed the mark to "float" on May 10.

Jackson killed by back shot

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (UPI)—A final autopsy report shows that George Jackson was shot in the back during the Aug. 21 outbreak in San Quentin Prison, but the warden maintains the black revolutionary was felled by guards shooting from a 20-foot high gun railing.

The report, released by the Marin County Coroner's office Tuesday, refuted a preliminary statement that said Jackson was struck in the head as he sprinted for a prison wall during an escape attempt in which three guards and two inmate-tenderers died.

"Ballistics" consultation confirms that the entry wound was made in the middle back and the exit at the top of the skull," the final report said. The Aug. 23 report had described the bullet as entering the head and emerging from the back.

Warden Louis Nelson, however, said the official reconstruction of the incident was not contrary to the autopsy report. He said Jackson was first hit in the foot and knocked down, then fatally shot as he began running in a crouched position.

War threat to West

By United Press International
An Egyptian diplomat said today all western interests in the Middle East will be threatened if war breaks out again between the Arabs and Israel.

An Israeli newspaper said the United States had offered Israel a "large number" of warplanes in exchange for an early partial peace settlement with Egypt.

The reports followed the return to New York of Swedish Ambassador Dr. Gunnar V. Jarring, special U. N. Middle East peace mediator, who suspended his mission some months ago. A spokesman said Jarring would resume contacts with foreign ministers and other diplomats attending the U.N. General Assembly, which opened Tuesday.

Egyptian Ambassador to Britain Kamaledin Rifaat, in an interview with the semi-official Middle East News Agency, MENA, said the Middle East crisis is now an international problem and deterioration of the situation could affect the interests of western countries there.

"Britain is now realizing the Middle East problem is no more an Arab-Israeli conflict but an international problem and any deterioration in the situation may tend to affect the interests of several world countries," Rifaat said in commenting on the recent visit to Cairo by British Foreign Secretary Sir Alex Douglas-Home.

Rifaat said Britain sought a peaceful settlement "because renewal of fighting will expose to danger all foreign western interests in the area, including the British."

The Israeli newspaper Ma'ariv said the offer of additional warplanes was made by a "senior American official...at a recent meeting with a senior Israeli official."

Newsmen Seen... tour Attica

ATTICA, N.Y. (UPI) — A strong residue of tear gas, bullet holes in windows and a crudely lettered slogan "Power to the People" were still visible at the Attica state correctional facility Tuesday when newsmen toured the prison.

It was the first time reporters were permitted inside since an initial tour eight days ago, just hours after the rebellion was put down. Forty lives, including those of 10 hostages, were claimed in the insurrection.

Earlier in the day, one of the convict leaders of the Attica insurrection issued a "proclamation-in-memoriam" commemorating "our slaughtered brothers in Attica concentration camp." The letter was signed by 33 inmates.

Walter Dunbar, deputy state correctional services commissioner, told newsmen a nine-man medical team, most of them black and Puerto Rican, had made "brief medical examinations" of all inmates earlier in the day.

"The medical group reported that in their professional opinion, the medical care of the inmates was good," Dr. James Bradley, director of medical services for the department, said. He said the team, mostly doctors from the Buffalo area, reported that none of the injuries were recent, but occurred when the prison was stormed.

5 area youths semifinalists

TWIN FALLS — Julie A. Morris, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John L. Morris of Twin Falls, is a busy, involved senior at Twin Falls High School who may soon be even more involved with college preparations.

Julie is the only National Merit Scholarship Examination competitor at Twin Falls High School to achieve semifinalist status. As a semifinalist, she will move on to the finals next spring, involving taking a final comprehensive examination, receiving the endorsement of her teachers and school officials and reviewing her aims and ambitions for her life.

A second Twin Falls High student last spring, Janet T. Cannon, was also named a semifinalist, but she has since moved to California.

Three other Magic Valley semifinalists were named today by the National Merit Scholarship sponsors, including Paul K. Warr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Farnum Warr, Murtaugh, attending Burley High School; Barbara L. Schaefer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Schaefer, Filer, and Thomas C. Neiwrth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Neiwrth, Kimberly.

In Elmore County, three Mountain Home High School seniors were named, including John P. Legerski, Fred Y. H. Lui and James L. Nettles, all of Mountain Home.

These semifinalists were the highest scorers in Idaho on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test given last February to more than 655,000 students throughout the nation in 16,600 schools. The semifinalists constitute less than one per cent of the graduating secondary-school seniors in the United States.

About 96 per cent of the semifinalists are expected to become finalists, and each will be considered for one of the 1,000 National Merit scholarships of $1,000 each, allocated by state. In addition, many others will be eligible for renewable four-year merit scholarships awarded by 500 corporations, foundations, unions, professional associations and others.

The four-year scholarship winners may receive up to $1,500 per year for four college years, depending on individual needs. Winners of the $1,000 National Merit scholarships may use their nonrenewable awards upon enrollment as a full-time student in accredited U.S. colleges or universities.

Hefty job

IT TAKES MUSCLE, human and mechanical, to break up thick slabs of concrete and paving in the alleys of the Twin Falls business district. Workmen have begun the next phase in the total revitalization of the business core, with tearing up of pavement so power and telephone lines can be buried. After the poles are down and the lines are out of the way next spring, downtown parking lots and alleys will be rebuilt and modernized in the final step of the lengthy process.

Second phase of TF renewal proceeding

TWIN FALLS — The dust is rising again and the machinery is growling as the second phase of the downtown revitalization, burial of utility lines and construction of storm sewers, proceeds at a rapid pace.

Workmen of Neilson and Co., prime contractors on the project, have torn up the pavement in the three blocks on the west side of Main Street, and trenching is under way, preparing for the storm drains and burial of utility lines, according to Evan Robertson, director of the Urban Renewal Agency.

Power and telephone lines will be buried under the alleys in a system in which an entirely new network of lines will be installed and hooked up to each firm. The present network of overhead lines, including the CableVision network, will continue to provide service until all six blocks, on both sides of Main are complete.

When all connections have been made, Robertson said, the utilities can throw a few switches and transfer to the new system without an extensive interruption of service. The overhead lines and poles will then be removed.

Next spring, the downtown parking lots and alleys will be torn up, rebuilt and repaved in the final phase of the lengthy downtown reconstruction project. During this phase, merchants may have to arrange for delivery of their goods through front doors, and some interference with traffic may result.

Pedestrians and shoppers should avoid walking through the alleys while machinery is working, to avoid accidents, Robertson said.

Soon disappear

THESE CLUSTERS of overhead utility lines for power and telephone service through the downtown district will soon disappear from sight, as the second phase of the downtown revitalization gets underway. Crews of Neilson and Co. are working in the alley behind the 100 block of Main Avenue West, tearing up pavement and cement to allow burial of the lines.

County officials set state confab

TWIN FALLS — Public lands management and revenue sharing are expected to be among leading subjects discussed during the annual convention of the Association of County Officials in St. Maries next week, Twin Falls County Commissioners said today.

All three Twin Falls county commissioners will be attending the three day Idaho convention beginning Tuesday in St. Maries. Commissioner Heber Loughmiller, member of the committee on public lands, said the association is already on record in favor of a moratorium on all public land legislation until a master public lands plan covering all federal land management can be completed.

Loughmiller said Idaho county officials are especially concerned with such land management since two thirds of Idaho is public-owned land. Some alternative revenue producing measure to assist such states in lieu of property taxes lost through the vast public ownerships is being sought by the association. The bill sponsored by U. S. Senator Jackson of Washington, and now before the Senate is expected to be discussed, Loughmiller said.

W. L. Bill Chancey, commission chairman, is a member of the highway and airport committee, and Commissioner Merl E. Leonard serves on the state association finance committee.

Resignation asked after Denmark voting

COPENHAGEN (UPI) — Prime Minister Hilmar Baunsgaard's center-right coalition was defeated Tuesday in Denmark's parliamentary elections and Socialist leader Jens Otto Krag called on the four-year-old government to resign.

"There is no doubt in my mind that Prime Minister Baunsgaard must hand in his resignation to the king tomorrow (Wednesday)," Krag said on television as the preliminary final results were announced.

Baunsgaard, who will see King Frederik at the royal palace on Wednesday, avoided the challenge and said both he and Krag "would have to think the situation over" before taking any decisions.

With preliminary results in from all over the country early

Wednesday, the three coalition parties—the Social Liberals, the Liberals and the Conservatives—had lost 10 of its 98 seats in the parliament.

Social Democratic opposition leader Jens Otto Krag won eight new seats for a total of 70 while the left-wing Peoples Socialists gained six for a total of 17 seats.

The coalition still retained a razor thin 88-87 majority. But four more members are to be elected from the Faeroe Islands and Greenland Oct. 5 to fill all the 179 seats and political observers said the Social Democrats may get two of them. The remaining two are expected to remain neutral in the struggle for power. This would give a socialist majority in the parliament.

The situation could be further complicated if the newly formed Christian party gets into the parliament. The party polled close to the two per cent of the total vote required to win seats and a recount may give the party four seats—three of them coming from the government and one from the Social Democrats.

Dream fulfilled

LEWISTON, Idaho (UPI) — Dreams of a modern, improved U.S. 95 from Boise north gradually are being fulfilled despite rising construction costs and a shortage of highway funds. That was the report Tuesday from the State Highway Department.

Antipoverty program eyed

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The House today considered a two-year extension of the government's controversial antipoverty programs in an atmosphere of bipartisan agreement that broke sharply with earlier sessions when Congress nearly scrapped the Office of Economic Opportunity.

The OEO renewal bill came to the floor from the House Education and Labor Committee with the endorsement of the bulk of Republicans, as well as Democrats, on the panel. In four earlier sessions—1965, 1966, 1967 and 1969—the legislation met strong opposition in committee.

A chief factor in the apparent unanimity was the administration's hands-off policy, neither favoring nor opposing the measure. President Nixon asked for continuation of OEO without change in its programs until his big government reorganization proposal, which Congress has been reluctant to consider, is enacted. The Nixon plan would reduce OEO to a small research agency.

Both the House and Senate bills would transfer the controversial free legal services for the poor program into a private corporation with strict bans on participation in politics or criminal cases by the service's lawyers.

Youth killed

SODA SPRINGS, Idaho (UPI) — A teen-age boy was killed when a tractor overturned on him on a logging road 20 miles from here, Sheriff Ralph Marriott of Caribou County reported today.

The victim was identified as Kenneth C. Tilley, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. D.T. Tilley of Pocatello.

Marriott said the boy was killed Monday in Maybey Canyon near the Allen Dry Valley Ranch. Paul Allen, owner of the ranch, went to look for the youth Monday night when he didn't return from a trip into the canyon to cut poles. Allen found him pinned beneath the tractor.

The small-wheeled vehicle tipped backwards on a steep incline, the sheriff said.

No Issue

Two of the announced candidates in the coming city election have indicated they are against Twin Falls' city manager form of government. On this we must differ with their thinking.

Twin Falls has operated under the city manager setup since voters approved it in October, 1949. At that election there were 1,494 people who voted and of this number 1,248 were for the proposal and only 246 against it.

We believe that the city manager form has worked well for Twin Falls down through the years. We can remember when the mayor-council type government was in effect so a comparison of the two types is possible.

Twin Falls was a small community in 1949. Now we are much closer to being grown up. If the mayor-council type of government was again adopted it would simply mean a change in name because city business is now so great that a full-time mayor would be necessary. No businessman could do the job as a part time effort. Any qualified individual taking over the job would have to devote full time to it and would have to be compensated accordingly.

In Twin Falls we are fortunate in being able to keep an individual like the present city manager in our community. Not only is he a professional civil engineer but he is also knowledgeable in several other fields. He is an extremely hard worker and gives much more than is expected of him.

Under the circumstances, with a qualified man in the position and with the city manager form of government working to advantage of the taxpayers, we see no reason for a change.

In fact, we see no reason to even make it an issue.

Ecological Tears

Protection of the environment has reached the plateau of public veneration long associated with home, mother and volunteer firemen, but the evangelistic zeal of some of the ecology buffs does rate a few polluted opinions.

There is a rising tide of public opinion in favor of preservation of the whale and the seal. It's quite possible that there's reason in it. If so, the scientist could provide the world with some facts.

But that's not the way it is with hearings in Washington by the House subcommittee on fisheries and wildlife. There have been enough tears shed there to ease a national drought.

One witness, described as a scientist from New Hampshire, choked up. He asked to be excused for crying while telling of his work with sea cows in Florida. "I love them," he said. "Whatever happened to the dispassionate scientist just looking for the facts?"

A 16-year-old girl talked of her horror at the sight of the slaying of baby harp seal in Canada. The subcommittee was apparently never told what a nice girl like her was doing in a place like that.

The ultimate step may have been taken by Sen. Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma, co-sponsor of a bill which would prohibit the killing of mammals in U.S. waters. Sen. Harris produced his 10-year-old daughter, who told the subcommittee, "A lot of my friends and I worried that when we grow up and have children of our own there won't be any sea animals for them to see."

Sen. Harris is entitled to his motive. He undoubtedly knows that old vaudevillians pulled their child into the act at the toddling stage because a child was even better than the flag in preventing a discontented audience from throwing groceries at the performers.

The subcommittee is getting a ton or two of testimony on the need for the legislation. It had better be an improvement on some of the contents of the transcript so far.

Decibels

Appealing to the ego may be the way to bring about greater cooperation in the attack on noise pollution, a Chicago congressman has decided. To test the theory he has recalled the words of the German philosopher Arthur Schopenhauer on the subject.

"The amount of noise which anyone can bear undisturbed is in inverse proportion to his mental capability," Schopenhauer wrote. "Noise is a torture to an intellectual people."

That may do nothing to close the generation gap, particularly where rock music is concerned. But it might be satisfying to the ego to go around saying, "hello, stupid" to people who are making too much noise to hear.

MR. SPECTATOR

A Memorial Scholarship

With the death of Mrs. Earl (Ione) Neilsen last July, the Twin Falls Federated Music Club lost one of its most loyal and dedicated members. Ione was greatly loved and quietly and modestly contributed to promoting projects of the Federation.

For many years she was a member of the board. One of the highlights of the Federation year is the Scholarship Ball and Ione had a real and honest purpose in assuming the duties as chairman of this ball for several years. As a result, and as much as anything else through her efforts, it is successful.

Mr. Spectator has been informed that the members of the Twin Falls Music Club have now established the "Ione Neilsen Memorial."

Contributions to this fund will be used in music scholarships. Mr. Spectator would suggest your participation. Contributions may be sent to Mrs. Robert Wilson, Route One, Twin Falls, the club treasurer, or to Mrs. Donald Youtz, 795 Walnut St., Twin Falls, scholarship chairman.

RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Some economists believe that the United States stayed solvent for many years — despite billions spent for military and economic aid — because Americans historically have been intensely and consistently creative. But these same economists suggest we now may be losing that characteristic.

The resultant economic slackening could drive us from one dollar crisis to another. E. Paul Torrance, in a research study done for the American Educational Research Association, takes on the creativity problem. Here are a few of his points:

First, there's courage. Research here is discouraging. Torrance says "teachers and parents in the United States do not give a place of great importance to either independence or courage" in what they consider an ideal pupil. Torrance developed a 62-point checklist of important pupil characteristics which he submitted to more than 1,000 teachers in different parts of the nation. These teachers were asked to rank each of the 62 characteristics in importance. Courage ranked 30th. "From the results," says Torrance, "it would appear that it is more important to teachers in the United States that their pupils be courteous, do their work on time, be energetic and visibly industrious, be popular and well-liked by their peers, be receptive to the ideas of others, be well-rounded, and be willing to accept the judgments of authorities than to be courageous. Obviously, such a pattern of values is more likely to produce a people ready for brainwashing than one able to resist it and think creatively."

The truly creative person, says Torrance, "the kind of person that we need so urgently, must be able to make judgments independently and stick to them, even though most others disagree. It must be remembered that every new idea in the beginning always makes its originator a minority of one. It is well-known from research that being a minority of one is tremendously uncomfortable and more than most people can tolerate. Thus, creativity takes great courage."

In this regard, Torrance found that "an extremely peer-oriented culture which emphasizes conformity to peer-group norms in behavior" was one frequently found a major block to creative development. In fact, Torrance advises teachers above the third grade to "avoid the use of critical peer evaluation" during those teaching sessions in which students are urged to give out freely with their own ideas.

The Torrance list of creativity blocks is encyclopedic. A considerable number of the problems he outlines have already been mentioned repeatedly by those who tell us what is being done to our children. But Torrance adds a number of unusually provocative thoughts.

He says that we frequently hold children back — that in our schools we prevent them from learning more than we think they are ready to learn. Torrance doesn't mention it, but the Russians, for example, have experimented with teaching algebra in the second grade.

The people Torrance has talked to believe creativity has been stifled in part because of the widespread conviction that education should be made as easy as possible.

But what we must do most of all, it would seem, is be respectful of the unusual questions children ask and show respect for their unusual ideas — by listening, by considering, by testing and using these ideas when they prove of value — and then by giving them the credit they are due.

THE JUGGLER

ART BUCHWALD

The Soft Sell

WASHINGTON — One of the problems with today's economy is that it's very hard to find young people who are good salesmen. Many students coming out of college are more interested in a customer's motivation than they are in closing a sale. They also have a tendency to be too honest, which can play havoc in the retail business.

A friend of mine has a dress shop here in Georgetown and she told me of the problems she had with a young lady, a psychology major, whom she hired as a salesgirl.

This, in essence, is what happened:

The first day a lady came in the store, and the salesgirl (let us call her Miss Brampton) asked if she could be of help.

"I'd like a suit for the fall," the lady said.

"What price range?" Miss Brampton asked.

"It doesn't make any difference," the lady replied.

"Well, let me ask you this question: Do you want the suit because you need it? Or have you just had a fight with your husband and are trying to get even by making a very expensive purchase?"

"I beg your pardon?" the lady said.

"Perhaps you suspect him of some infidelity, and you think this is the only way you can get back at him."

"I have no idea what you're talking about," the customer said.

"Spending money in anger is a very expensive form of hostility. My advice to you is to think it over for a few days. Try to patch up your differences. Buying a new suit won't save your marriage."

"Thank you very much," the customer said frostily and left the store.

"She's angry with me now," Miss Brampton told the dress shop owner, "but in a week she'll be grateful I talked her out of it."

My friend the shop proprietor decided to let the incident pass, but that afternoon another customer came in and Miss Brampton asked if she could be of help.

The lady said, "I need something really exciting. I'm going to the Kennedy Center and I want a dress that will knock everyone dead."

Miss Brampton said, "We have some lovely evening dresses over here for insecure people."

"Insecure people?"

"Oh, yes. Didn't you know that clothes are one of the main ways women compensate for insecurity?"

"I'm not insecure," the lady said angrily.

"Then why do you want to knock them dead at the Kennedy Center? Why can't you be accepted for yourself instead of what you wear? You are a very attractive person and you have an inner beauty you try to disguise. I can sell you a new dress that will attract attention, but then you would never know if it were you or the dress that made people stop and stare."

By this time the dress shop owner decided to step in.

"Miss Brampton, if the lady wants an evening dress, let her see our evening dresses."

"No," said the customer. "Your girl is right. Why spend $500 to get a few compliments from people who really don't care what I wear? Thank you for helping me, young lady. It's true I've been insecure all these years and didn't even know it."

The customer walked out of the store.

The final straw for the dress store owner took place an hour later when a coed came in to buy a hotpants outfit, and Miss Brampton gave her 30 minutes on Women's Lib and then said, "All you do when you buy hotpants is become a sex object."

That night the dress shop owner put a sign in the window "Help Wanted — No Psychology Majors Need Apply."

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Breech Birth

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is a breech pregnancy? How does it occur and what is done for a child born that way? Does this affect the baby in any way after birth? Could both the baby and mother die? Could a breech pregnancy be avoided, and if so how? — P. T.

Don't call it a "breech pregnancy." Rather, call it a breech presentation or breech delivery or breech birth.

The fetus, or forming baby, can do a good deal of squirming in the months before birth. Can? Pretty generally does!

But as the time of birth approaches, the baby usually comes to in a head-downward position, so the head emerges first, and the rest of the body follows easily — and lengthwise. This is the situation about 97 per cent of the time.

However, if the baby is not head downward, but the buttocks or a foot come first, that is a breech presentation. (It is also possible, occasionally, for an arm to come first, and that involves complications, too.)

In modern circumstances, it is unlikely that mother and baby would die, because there are plenty of ways of meeting the emergency. However, it is necessary to take proper measures, because a breech presentation means a prolonged labor, which is hard on the mother but is distinctly serious for the baby. Risk to the mother is not great, though.

The major danger to the baby is that blood supply through the placenta and cord can be easily interrupted, and there can be brain damage as well as other injuries to the baby.

Such things as a fibroid tumor of the uterus, or some unusual condition relating to the mother or the baby, can lead to a breech delivery, and there isn't, to the best of my knowledge, very much that can be done to prevent this from developing at times.

In some instances, attempts can be made to change the baby's position before birth. (This manipulation is called external version.) This is not always possible; opinion is divided as to how much effort in this direction should be attempted. Certainly it is not always successful.

In a goodly number of cases, a breech delivery is completed normally, but when it cannot be or there is some indication that the birth must not be further postponed, a C-section, or Caesarean section, is employed, and the baby is brought into the world via an abdominal incision.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is there any operation possible for a cystocele? I have had this condition for several years. At first my doctor fitted me with a pessary, but this helped only temporarily. My doctor has not suggested surgery and I wondered if this was because it can't be done. — Mrs. C. L. N.

Yes, a cystocele (sagging and bulging of the urinary bladder) can be repaired by surgery, and this is done quite often. I'm in no position to judge why your doctor did not suggest surgery, since there may be other circumstances quite beyond my knowledge.

Except in unusual conditions, a cystocele should be repaired not only for the sake of comfort but because this situation is a factor in chronic urinary tract infection.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am in the ninth grade and have a big problem. I am 5 feet 6 and weigh 146, and have done more exercises than I care to mention and haven't lost one pound.

Please suggest exercises that will get me down to a trimmer figure. — S.C.

Why not keep on exercising, but also cut down on sweet stuff, and fats — including gravies, pastries, fried food of all kinds? Food restriction must accompany exercise to reduce weight.

Premieres rated 'blah'

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — What is there to say about the new television season that just finished its premiere week? Well, the first fact is that, despite the added presence of such stars as Shirley MaClaine, Anthony Quinn, Jimmy Stewart and Glenn Ford, it has failed to produce a new series that will generate excited morning-after talk.

It is safe to say that not one of the Freshman series will have any significant, or even slightly notable, effect on the future of television.

If one wanted to be unkind, he could say that there is a sort of brilliance to the overall, middle-of-the-road mediocrity of the new series, because only diligence could keep out everything risky. But that is not entirely fair because the same networks giving us this season's shows have delivered some outstanding series in the past.

So there has to be a reason for the new shows, a reason beyond the well known insulation of the same old entrenched program sources who comprise the Hollywood-New York axis.

The reason, it seems clear, is corporate caution — extreme caution. With network prime time reduced, cigarette ads gone and the economy tight, the big broadcasting organizations are holding the line, and risking nothing.

Outside of prime time, the networks have made some efforts to upgrade children's programming as a result of outside pressure. In addition, there has been well-publicized pressure from government figures. Rarely in its two decades has television been subject to so many pressures from so many sources. In the end, the networks are simply in a holding operation at present, and the all-out emphasis on broad-and-butter programming is one face of this.

It is sometimes forgotten by innocent viewers, deluged as they are with glamorous publicity, that the major networks are big business corporations above all, with the chief corporate purpose of their entertainment being to sell the advertised products and to increase the number of viewers so that rates for ads can be jacked up.

So they are corporations first, and act essentially with the same motives and procedures as most other huge corporations. The difference, however, is that while these various other big businesses have, in general, the same motives and procedures, they can be carried out in relative privacy, even secrecy.

Not so with television networks. They are stuck with the glamor that has attached to them, and that they have naturally encouraged. They operate in glass houses, and, in addition to their own inevitable faults, they are handy scapegoats for headline seekers and for people looking to fix blame for almost anything.

Edward R. Murrow once suggested that the combination of advertising, show business and news within a broadcasting organization was hardly likely to produce the most ideal results. There was little doubt which of these elements would gain corporate dominance. The overall tone and content of this fall's new television series are most likely the result of corporate attitudes rather than a more-than-usual creative lapse on the part of the program suppliers.

Shirley MaClaine, Glenn Ford and Jimmy Stewart interest the networks primarily according to how they affect the stock market.

NOT A LOCH NESS monster, but a giant five-ton bulldozer that pranksters ran into the swimming pool at the Old Farm Estates subdivision in suburban Chesterfield, Mo., this past week. A diver, Lloyd Murphy, entered the pool to look for a possible victim as the pool was being drained by the fire department. The bulldozer belonged to the J. S. # Guerillas' name still causes Greek tremors

By PHIL NEWSOM

UPI Foreign News Analyst
 Even though Gen. George Grivas is 73 years old, the mention of his name still can cause tremors on the island of Cyprus and bring a frown to the forehead of Greek Premier George Papadopoulos.

Ever since the mid-1950's when he led Cypriot guerrillas in a fight for independence from Britain, Grivas' name has been associated with violence and intrigue worthy of a paperback spy thriller.

After a period of obscurity, his name again surfaced in recent days when he disappeared from Greek government surveillance in Athens and, amid rumors, re-appeared on Cyprus. Even though Grivas himself maintained silence, his presence was enough to cause the island to brace for renewed trouble.

The issue between Greeks seeking Enosis and Turks favoring partition is responsible for much of the violence on the island going back years. More than a hundred assassination attempts have occurred since Cyprus became independent in 1960, several of them against President Archbishop Makarios.

A 1968 attempt against Greek Premier Papadopoulos was said to have Cyprus links.

Forces opposed to both Papadopoulos and Makarios are suspected of having a hand in Grivas' escape from his closely guarded Athens home.

Grivas' surprise return to Cyprus climaxes a summer of increasing tensions between the island's 600,000 Greeks and approximately 100,000 Turks. It was Grivas who as commander of the Cypriot National Guard in 1967 ordered an attack on two Turkish villages that nearly led to war between Greece and Turkey.

As result of that incident Grivas was ordered into unwilling retirement and placed under guard.

A United Nations peacekeeping force has been on the island since the spring of 1964 under terms renegotiated every six months by U.N. Secretary Gen. Thant. Makarios has dispatched his foreign minister to New York where the U.N. General Assembly is to convene Sept. 21.

Moose leads chase

MONTPELIER, Vt. (UPI) — A young, inquisitive 800-pound moose with a taste for city life led police and state Fish and Game wardens on a merry chase in the Vermont capital Monday after appearing near the downtown shopping district.

Police said the moose first showed up in a residential section before trotting downtown to a parking lot behind police headquarters.

Wary police officers contained him there for a while, but when game wardens arrived, it was apparently too much for the moose, who promptly took-off again.

During the course of his jaunt, the moose frightened a group of children when he gambled through their schoolyard and sent a number of amazed housewives scurrying for their phones.

Wardens herded the beast into a wooded area where they hoped he would stay.

One police spokesman said afterward, "He really wasn't hurting anyone, but he had such very big horns. And sharp ones."

Andrus stresses good health care

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus told a governor's conference in San Juan Puerto Rico.

"However, I am personally disappointed that of all those who spoke out about health care, the emphasis was placed on the small percentage of Americans who abuse the program."

"No mention was made for the need to evaluate what we offer the poor to see how those services could be improved."

He said that unless "that attitude of negative fighting ceases, it will be a long time before a constructive, evenly distributed health care system is implemented."

Sabarbaro said both patients and physicians lose when bitter feelings set in. But he said some changes are occurring because doctors in private practice are becoming more socially aware.

He said in Denver there are 125 full time doctors now working for the public system and that the average waiting time in the main patient clinic has been reduced to 10 minutes.

Dan Huff, Boise, said a recent 18-month study made at Boise State College revealed that blacks and migrants felt discriminated against in the public health care system.

He said the study revealed that some Idaho hospitals will not admit a patient unless a poor area like, he said, "It is a portrait of America that have hidden away for too long." He noted that health care was a major discussion topic at the

Two killed in sniping

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—Sniping and bombing attacks Tuesday night and today wounded two British soldiers and two policemen and damaged several buildings, including the U.S. Consulate, an army spokesman said.

The Northern Ireland government Tuesday night issued a statement reaffirming its policy of "containment of terror" in the province. It came on the eve of a two-day emergency debate on Northern Ireland in the British Parliament.

Today's recall of parliament in London was the first since the June, 1968, Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia. It was requested by the opposition Labor Party.

Neither the Labor Party or ruling conservative party said a vote was planned at the end of the debate, but two Roman Catholic representatives from Northern Ireland, Bernadette Devlin and Gerald Fitt, said they would force a ballot. Parliament recessed Aug. 5 and is scheduled to resume Oct. 18.

An explosion Tuesday night outside Belfast's Queen Street police barracks shattered windows in the U. S. Consulate across the street and in other buildings hundreds of yards away, the army spokesman said.

The only casualty was a policeman on duty in a sand-bagged sentry post at the entrance. He was treated for shock. The spokesman said the bomb was thrown by four men in a car.

Earlier in the evening in Belfast, snipers wounded two Scots guards in the legs in the Roman Catholic Falls Road area and gunmen opened fire on a police car in the Markets area, wounding a policeman. None of the wounds was serious, the spokesman said.

Induction set for October

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Pentagon officials said today they expected to resume induction of draftees in October but said they anticipated conscription calls the remainder of 1971 would be low.

The bill extending the military draft until June 30, 1973, and authorizing a $2.4 billion-a-year pay increase for servicemen — the largest in history — awaited President Nixon's signature.

A seven-month struggle over renewal of the law ended Tuesday when the Senate defeated a filibuster attempt and then passed the bill 55 to 30. The old law expired June 30, and no one has been drafted in July, August and September.

Pentagon sources said they expected to have a figure for an October draft call in about one week. They said it was anticipated some draftees would be inducted next month. Selective Service officials said they would be able to supply the first draftees within two weeks after Nixon signs the bill.

The law requires that draftees be given at least 10 days notice before being inducted. In the past, draft boards commonly have given 30 days notice, but this might be shaved back to 10 days for some men to get the draft moving again.

Officials said men holding 1971 draft lottery numbers higher than 140 can consider themselves safe from the draft this year. Draft boards reached number 125 in June before the old law expired.

Army sources said there would be no dramatic rise in draft calls for the remainder of the year. They said the manpower losses due to suspension of the draft could not be made up.

Denver aide raps criticism

BOISE, Idaho (UPI) — Dr. John Sabarbaro, director of Denver's Comprehensive Public Health and Preventive Medicine Program, said Tuesday attacks on physicians and hospitals will not bring about needed change in the nation's health care delivery system.

Dr. Sabarbaro told delegates to the Governor's Conference on Health Needs of Low Income People that both patients and providers get hurt when acrimony sets in.

He said the system is changing because doctors in private practice have become more socially conscious and realize there is a need for changes in the health delivery system.

He said that in Denver 125 full time salaried doctors now work for the public system and the average waiting time for the patient in the main clinic is 10 minutes.

Earlier, Governor Cecil D. Andrus had told delegates he was disappointed that discussion at the National Governors' Conference in Puerto Rico last week dealt with abusers of the public system rather than how to improve it.

Andrus said an evenly distributed program would not be accomplished until the infighting over the program is stopped.

Andrus said "no mention was made for the need to evaluate what we offer the poor to see how those services could be improved."

Another speaker at the morning session said that blacks and migrants feel especially discriminated against in hospitals and doctors' offices.

Dan Huff of Boise said an 18-month survey revealed that some Idaho hospitals will not admit patients who cannot make a down payment, or will refuse to release a patient until at least partial payment of the bill is received.

Huff said the study detailed the difficulties low income people in Idaho have in attempting to get adequate medical care.

Operation makes deadly snakes harmless pets

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Three researchers have developed an operation that transforms deadly snakes such as the king cobra and diamondback rattler into harmless reptiles, it was announced today.

The new technique has worked on 150 snakes and means zookeepers can handle poisonous reptiles without fear of a fatal bite, said James L. Glenn, a serpentologist for the local Hogle Zoo.

"We can convert a reptile into a venomoid — a venomous snake that is no longer capable of injecting venom into its victim," Glenn said.

Glenn, Dr. Richard C. Straight, a researcher in venoms at the Salt Lake Veterans' Administration Hospital, and Dr. Clifford Snyder of the University of Utah College of Medicine, reported the new operation in a paper presented to the annual Conference of the American Association of Zoological Parks and Aquariums.

Glenn said the paper was presented in memory of Gerald deBary, former Hogle Zoo director, who died after being bitten by an African puff adder in 1964.

"Had Mr. deBary been bitten by the puff adder in Hogle Zoo today all he would have received is a couple of puncture wounds that could have been treated by an ordinary first aid kit," Glenn said.

Glenn said he recently was bitten by an Indian cobra and a Hogle Zoo worker was bitten by an African puff adder, but neither man suffered more than painful fang wounds because the snakes were venomoids.

The operation starts by putting the snake to sleep for up to a week, Glenn said.

A small incision is made in the reptile's jaw to expose a duct leading from the main venom gland to the fangs.

Brezhnev arrives in Yugoslavia

BELGRADE (UPI)—Leonid I. Brezhnev launched the Kremlin leadership on three months of diplomatic travels today by arriving in tense and defiant Yugoslavia for talks about China and the Balkans.

Soviet and Yugoslav flags flew at Belgrade Airport and a banner proclaimed, "Welcome to Comrade Brezhnev," as President Tito greeted the general secretary of the Soviet Communist Party. But Yugoslav newspapers reminded the Russians that a 1955 agreement between the two nations gave Yugoslavia the right to "Equality and the right to one's own road to socialism."

Another speaker at the morning session said that blacks and migrants feel especially discriminated against in hospitals and doctors' offices.

Dan Huff of Boise said an 18-month survey revealed that some Idaho hospitals will not admit patients who cannot make a

1970 potato crop achieves new high

BOISE — Processing statistics tallying the 1970 Idaho potato crop indicate a new record of 44.4 million hundredweight has been reached, according to the Idaho crop and Livestock Reporting Service, Boise.

The processors in Idaho and Malheur County, Ore., listed the current processing totals of 44.4 million hundredweight, an amount eight per cent above the previous record set last year and 27 per cent more than the 1968 totals.

The portion of the 1970 crop utilized by processors, 59 per cent, was up slightly compared with the level of the previous two years. Table stock usage, totaling 15.6 million hundredweight, rose 21 per cent from the 1969 level and was the highest in the past three years, accounting for 21 per cent of the 1970 crop compared with 18 per cent in 1969.

All sales from the 1970 crop amounted to 65.5 million hundredweight, accounting for 88 per cent of total production, compared with 60.9 million hundredweight sold, or 87 per cent of the 1969 crop.

In addition to Idaho-grown potatoes, processors utilized 2.3

million hundredweight of out-of-state potatoes, 31 per cent fewer than the previous year.

Processing in Idaho, plus Idaho potatoes processed in Oregon, utilized a total of 46.7 million hundredweight of the potatoes, five per cent more than the amount processed from the 1969 crop and 25 per cent above the 1968 level.

A summary of statistics for the 1961 and 1970 crop years indicated the growth, according to the reporting service:

Many Idaho children in 4-H clubs

MOSCOW — A record number of Idaho youngsters, including many from urban areas, participated in the 4-H program this summer, according to Maurice Johnson, state 4-H leader at the University of Idaho.

More girls than boys took part in the program, Johnson said. The total 1970-71 school-year enrollment was 21,706, with 14,525 girls and 7,181 boys, and with more than half — 58 per cent — living elsewhere than on farms.

With the large number of girls participating, home economics was logically the most popular activity — 8,405 4-H youngsters enrolled in clothing projects, 6,704 in foods and nutrition projects, and 4,421 in health work. Livestock projects were engaged in by 2,939 in horsemanship, 1,733 in beef projects and 1,499 worked with sheep.

Bingham County listed the most 4-H members with 2,048, marking the first time an Idaho county enrolled more than 2,000 youngsters, Johnson said. During the year the state listed a total of 1,173 organized 4-H clubs guided by 3,561 volunteer leaders working on 36,477 projects.

Water supply

MAGIC RESERVOIR serves two purposes — one for the sportsmen who line its banks much of the year and another for the farmer who irrigates his crops with the water from the reservoir.

Reservoir serves double purpose

SHOSHONE — Though the irrigation season is nearing an end for 1971, Magic Reservoir, a source of water for many valley farms, is still serving its dual purpose as a "recreation site".

Fishing is as much fun now as it was on the opening day of fishing season last spring, as is indicated by the number of people who frequent the reservoir the entire week.

Weekends find more people at the reservoir now, probably because of the school routine, but many people are still found camping, at their cabin sites or fishing from the banks, piers or boat edge even during week days.

With good weather fishing could continue as late as the latter part of November this year, Mrs. Lee LePelley, who, with her husband operates the west side resort cafe and store, said today. This is because water is a little lower now and fishing tends to be better than when it is high.

Capacity of the reservoir is 191,500 acre feet and it is around 130,000 acre feet now.

These fall days find the water looking clear blue and is inviting on calm days to the many boaters who visit there to either fish awhile or go for a boat ride. One man from Jerome said he had been fishing Magic for 40 years and could just about time the distance to go around the lake, turn around and get back to his camper by dinner time.

A couple from California this week said they had been in the habit of going to Yellowstone Park each summer, but became a bit discouraged with the crowds and the cold weather when they heard about Magic Reservoir as a fun spot. They made one trip to Magic and have returned each season since. They said "we intend to keep coming, too."

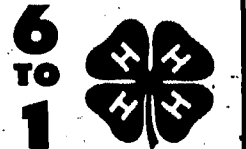

"Peaceful" is the way some people describe their feeling about the Magic Reservoir atmosphere. The sky does seem higher, the air fresher and the contentment with which a neighboring farmer's cows graze along the island of the reservoir, would tend to verify that "peaceful" statement.

There are lots of people who own small homes or cabins at the reservoir, both on the east and west sides, with more land development in the offing, LePelley said.

He and his wife, the former Ellene Brush, Richfield, took over operations of the west side resort last spring and with extra time and effort have seen to some face-lifting by bright colored paint and encouragement to young people to visit. Kittens and animals they have attract the little folks while the food and relaxation seem to bring the older folks back frequently.

Of all the nation's natural resources, timber is the only one that is renewable.

Improved enforcing expected

TWIN FALLS — Improved enforcement of potato industry tax and inspection regulations can be expected as a result of recent meetings with law enforcement personnel, according to Jack Allred, Murtaugh, and Jim Henry, Kimberly, members of the Idaho Potato Commission.

Allred and Henry reported specifically on a meeting between Department of Law Enforcement representatives and the Commission's Bulk Committee.

Law enforcement officers now have a better understanding of commission problems, as a result of the meeting, he said.

The commission has voted to hold its next monthly meeting Oct. 27, in Twin Falls, to coincide with an October 26, demonstration of an electrostatic potato stamping process at the Bob Weaver Produce Co. in Buhl.

Employment services explained for Civic Club

SHOSHONE — Types of services provided through the State of Idaho Department of Employment were explained to members of the Civic Club at the first fall meeting.

Speakers were Connie Pratt and Brian Clark from the Twin Falls office. She explained the work incentive program whereby women on welfare are given assistance in getting back into the working field, either by training or with emotional stabilization.

Clark spoke on his work, particularly in manpower development training. He said money is available to the men while they receive training and said "Idaho doesn't have a serious unemployment program, but the problem is getting people to take the work available." During the business meeting, Mrs. Howard Hill, president, introduced Mrs. Ivan Hopkins, first vice president of the Fourth District Idaho Federated Women's Clubs, who spoke on work of the federation. Mrs. R. G. Neher called members' attention to the hearings on the Box Canyon issue and asked them to make their desires of water use there known to the Bureau of Land Management.

To promote ecology, the members decided to keep a box container at the hall and encourage members to take empty beer cans each meeting to eventually be turned over for re-cycling.

Since the Shoshone Chamber of Commerce did not take a share of profit from the Antique Festival Theater last summer, co-sponsored by the club and chamber, members voted to assist the chamber by landscaping the park area to be added on the west end of the city park when the fill is completed.

MR. AND MRS. MICHAEL H. KIMMICK

Miss Woolridge, Kimmick say vows

TWIN FALLS — Marsha Rae Woolridge, daughter of Lt Col. and Mrs. Ray E. Woolridge, San Bernardino, Calif., became the bride of Michael Harold Kimmick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell E. Kimmick, Lompoc, Calif., in a double ring ceremony Sept. 11 at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., with Rev. The bride, escorted by her father, wore a white gown of peau de soie, featuring a high neckline with long puffed sleeves with cut lace work on chiffon. A pearl and lace headpiece held her long veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, blue baby's breath with white leaves and stephanotis centered with a corsage of white rosebuds.

Mrs. Ray A. Andrews, Newhall, Calif., sister of the bride, served as matron of honor.

Flower girl, was Melanie Vulgamore, niece of the bridegroom, and ringbearer was Bobbie Vulgamore, nephew of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Karl Corser, Vandenberg AFB, was organist.

A reception was held at the Officers' Club, with the bride's parents serving as hosts. Soft music was provided by the combo of Lee Irvine.

The food table was centered with blue and white chrysanthemums with silver candleabra and appointed with a sterling silver service. A six-tiered cake was flanked by huge baskets of flowers.

The bride attended schools in Madrid, Spain, for three years; in Lompoc Cabrillo schools for six years, and was selected Prom Queen by members of the 1970 graduating class. She completed her first year at Cal State, San Bernardino, Calif., and is presently enrolled at Allan Hancock College, Santa Maria, Calif.

A Lovelier You

SUIT YOURSELF AGAIN

By Mary Sue Miller

Real suits rejoin that fashion scene. This is a pleasure, especially if you enjoy the latitude suits offer in the way of accessory changes. What's more, suit silhouettes in themselves have variety as bracing as autumn air.

You may have a long double-breasted and belted jacket over a slim ripple of pleats or gores. Jackets can have a high little collar or wide lapels, housing a bow-tied scarf; a conventional set-in sleeve or a shoulder line extended by pads, by puffs. The look is sporty in plaid tweed, urbane in handsome monotone wools. This type of suit would have your name on it, when you are tall and limber as a buggy whip.

At the opposite pole, there's the blazer with easy skirts and the braided Chanel-y suit. Blazers, slightly shaped, never strict, appear in a choice of fabrics from gray flannel to red velvet. If Chanel-minded, make yours black with a white satin blouse and lots of jewelry.

Between and between are four-piece cardigan suits with a free-fall of jacket, a trim skirt, a vest and shirt. Argyle and flame stitch knits win favor in these, along with solid wools.

Details naturally influence becomingness. Cinchy belts, bulky fabrics, loud plaids—watch it, your heavy spots could be showing. Don't let it happen. The good thing about new suits is that you can suit yourself.

Smallpox immunization said "thing of the past"

By MARY GOE
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — A major milestone in the conquest of one of the most devastating epidemic diseases of human history was contained in a matter of fact announcement received yesterday by all physicians and district health departments throughout Idaho from the State Department of Public Health recommending that routine smallpox immunization be discontinued.

Only travelers to continents where smallpox has not been eradicated, presently Asia and Africa, and workers in health services are still to be vaccinated, according to the new recommendations. These persons may still receive inoculations from the health department.

Routine immunization of children and of travelers to other parts of the world is no longer recommended.

Based on information concurred in by the U.S. Public Health Service, the Association of State and Territorial Health Officers, the American Medical Association and the American Academy of Pediatrics, the new recommendations are effective immediately.

Private physicians wishing to continue smallpox vaccination of patients must purchase their own vaccine as it will not be available to them from the health department as in the past, the communication stated.

As a pestilence that once destroyed whole populations, smallpox is not only one of the oldest of mankind's afflictions but also one of the earliest for which scientific methods of prevention were applied. Findings indicate that centuries before the birth of Christ the Chinese had used powdered smallpox scabs as snuff to prevent infection, while ancient healers of India discovered that small amounts of smallpox matter injected into healthy persons often produced a mild form of the disease and then immunity.

From that time until this, only the medical sophistication of product and procedure has changed. The basic method remains the same: the inoculation of healthy persons with a laboratory produced vaccinia virus, first cousin to the smallpox virus, to stimulate a very mild disease or "reaction" during which the person's body produces an antibody response, or immunity.

Smallpox, in addition to ravaging Asian and European countries for centuries, is estimated to have killed upwards of six million North America Indians, about half the total population, following its introduction by the Spaniards in the seventeenth century.

Slow, painstaking worldwide efforts for control have gradually eliminated the disease from one country after another. The last outbreak in the United States occurred in the Rio Grande Valley in 1949.

Switzerland miss visits in valley

FAIRFIELD — Lisejette Schwallier, Werb, Switzerland, has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bauscher and family. The Swiss miss is traveling in the United States on a one-year visitors visa.

She has already toured most of the United States. She spent about six months in the eastern states. She attended the Romance Language Institute at Durango, Mexico for six weeks summer school studying Spanish.

She travels by bus and has a pass on Greyhound. She stops at YWCA Facilities in the larger cities. Her parents traveled in the United States four years ago and spent a week with the Bauscher family. Miss Schwallier will return to Switzerland Oct. 15.

She gained a very favorable impression of the United States and visits people and finds the youth here more concerned with sports and driving cars than in Switzerland. The Bauschers took her to the Soldier Mountain Ski area and her only regret was that there wasn't any snow as she is an avid skier.

She visited the Camas County

High School and spoke to the American history class on Switzerland and its government. She also visited the grade school, where Mrs. Bauscher is a teacher. Miss Schwallier has completed her schooling and plans to work as a secretary when she returns to her native land. Her parents have a furniture factory in Switzerland.

Her next stop will be in Salt Lake City.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: Can you help me! I cry easily, and once I get going, I can't control myself. My son is getting married soon and I don't want to start crying.

Sermons in church make me cry. By mistake I went to a graduation mass and didn't know anybody graduating, but I cried just as if one of my kids was graduating.

And when I go to a wedding, the minute I step inside the church I start to cry, and I cry all the way through the reception. At funerals and wakes nobody cries but me. A couple of times I went to funerals with my friends and I hardly knew the deceased, but I cried so hard everyone thought I was a relative.

In school here a parent-teacher conference is necessary even if your child has no problem, so while the teacher was telling me good things about my child I started crying. Now they don't even ask me to come to school for conferences.

I went to a doctor six years ago about this, and after listening to me for half an hour he said, "So everyone knows you're a crier. Just don't let it bother you. Think this way, you will never have an ulcer or a nervous breakdown because you express your emotions."

Can you give me any advice, Abby! CRIES A LOT

DEAR CRIES: I can't give you any better advice than the doctor gave you. Take it.

DEAR ABBY: Ellen, my 8-year-old daughter, was recently released from the hospital and confined to her bed, so I asked my regular sitter to come over while I did some shopping and errands.

When the sitter arrived, I noticed she had her needlepoint with her. Before I left, I instructed the sitter to read to Ellen and then play some quiet games with her.

When I returned home, the sitter was working on her needlepoint and Ellen was practically in tears, watching television.

After the sitter left, Ellen told me the sitter didn't read to her at all—she had played only one game with her, and then told her to watch television because she wanted to work on her needlepoint.

This really burned me. Abby, exactly what is a sitter supposed to do? ELLEN'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: She's supposed to sit—unless she's asked to do something more and has agreed to do it.

DEAR ABBY: My mother, my married sister and my best friend who is married all tell me no matter how well a woman treats a man, or how good the man is, he will be unfaithful to his wife or girl friend sooner or later.

They say it is something every woman must accept, and know how to deal with. Is this true, Abby?

Maybe I'm too idealistic, but it is hard for me to believe all men are too shallow to carry on a pure relationship with only one woman. I am engaged to be married soon, and absolute faithfulness means a great deal to me. So, if what they say is true, how should it be dealt with? HAS FAITH

DEAR HAS: They are wrong. And don't worry about how to deal with a problem until it's a reality.

DEAR ABBY: If a person eating at a restaurant slips an ashtray with the name of the restaurant into his pocket as a souvenir, is it considered stealing?

I have heard some restaurant owners consider it a compliment, and it's a good way of advertising. Is this true? DIXFIELD, ME.

DEAR DIXFIELD: When one takes something that belongs to someone else it is stealing. The kind of compliments and advertising you suggest costs restaurants millions of dollars every year. If you want a souvenir, offer to buy it. They'll probably give it to you.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

The complete set of Garden Club Cookbooks now are available and the 1972 Garden Club Calendar Books were offered for sale at the close of the meeting.

The Idaho State Federation of Garden Clubs will hold a board meeting and workshop, Oct. 29 and 30 at the Rodeway Inn, Boise.

Couple recites

VOWS

KING HILL — Golda McNeely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McNeely, Glens Ferry, became the bride of Gary L. Jacaway, son of Mrs. Vivian Affleck, Ely, Nev., in rites Sept. 4 at the Glens Ferry Grace Episcopal Church, with Father Rolf Leed, Mountain Home, performing the ceremony.

The single ring rites were exchanged in front of candelabra and tall altar vases of carnations and gladioli.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace, fashioned with a fitted bodice decorated with sequins and tiny seed pearls at the neckline, and long pointed sleeves. Her fingertip veil was held by a crown with seed pearls. She carried a white lace-covered Bible on which were white carnations and baby pink rosebuds with white satin streamers.

Mrs. Wayne (Boetic) Stewart, Ely, was matron of honor.

Wayne Stewart was best man and Robert and Steven Stewart were ushers.

Mrs. Paul Shrum, Glens Ferry, was organist.

The bride's table at the reception was covered with an ivory lace cloth and centered with a four-tiered cake decorated with pink roses and green leaves. A miniature bride and bridegroom under an archway decorated the top of the cake. The cake was baked and decorated by Mrs. W. D. Robertson, King Hill, grandmother of the bride. Pink candles flanked the cake.

Mrs. Robert Irving, King Hill, aunt of the bride, served the cake. Mrs. George Eichholtz, Glens Ferry, great aunt of the bride, presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. Margaret Ellis, Salem, Ore., great-aunt of the bride, poured coffee.

Shawn McNeely, sister of the bride, was in charge of the gift table. Candice McNeely, sister of the bride, registered the guests.

About 50 people attended the reception held in St. Frances Hall, with out-of-town guests attending from Mountain Home, King Hill and Nevada.

The young couple will reside in Ely where the bridegroom is employed and the bride will complete her senior year at Ely High School.

Four boys enroll in cooking class

WENDELL — Dorothy Bernit, Home Economics instructor, reports she has four boys enrolled in intermediate cooking class.

She said this is a new experience for her and is the first time for years that any boy has taken home economics in the Wendell school. The enrollment of the boys in the class hasn't made a lot of difference she says. So far the greatest difference she can see is the fact the boys are inexperienced with the kitchen equipment.

Up-to-date, the boys cooking projects are on the same par with the girls in the class. She said it will be interesting to see if their projects continue at the same level or if interest will lag later in the year.

Some things you have to take as they come.

Price isn't one of them.

Many otherwise good businessmen will shrug off an unfavorable price as if it were just bad luck.

It isn't. It's bad business.

Paying too much or selling for too little can usually be avoided through commodity futures hedging, a centuries-old business practice which is being applied with great success to a number of new commodities.

On the Chicago Mercantile Exchange, you can now hedge Idaho potatoes, as well as cattle, hogs, pork bellies, boneless beef, eggs, lumber and milo.

If you're in the potato or food processing industry, and if you're not sure what hedging is, how it works, how little it costs or how it can help your business to prosper—it's time to find out.

Ask the commodity man at your broker's to explain hedging to you. Or write to us for more information.

JEROME — Mrs. Jason L. Hurd, Jerome, has launched a special project in Jerome to aid youngsters at a South Vietnam orphanage in Saigon.

Mrs. Hurd received a letter from her husband, a chief warrant officer in the U. S. Army who has been placed in charge of the orphanage, asking her to seek help from his home town in providing some of the many things that are needed for the children.

Mrs. Hurd said she has already sent four large boxes of donated clothing and noted that the price of the postage was much higher than she had thought and that while she has received some money from different businessmen in town, more money for postage is still needed.

"There are between 35 - 50 children ranging in ages from 1 to 16 at the orphanage and many things are needed," Mrs. Hurd said.

"Some of the items needed include toothbrushes, soap, combs, brushes, food, clothing and toys," Mrs. Hurd said.

Anyone wanting to donate may leave articles marked "Orphanage" at the HOPE Center, Jerome. Mrs. Hurd noted that the HOPE organization has been very helpful in getting the project started and is helping to keep it going.

You'll like the changes you see in the showroom. The ones you feel on the open road. And one you may discover in your local supermarket parking lot.

DELTA 88 ROYALE There's more built-in toughness. A new front bumper absorbs minor parking lot impacts: it flexes, gives a little—then returns to position. On the road, its "G-Ride" System helps deliver exceptional ride and handling, with Supershocks, computer-matched springs, and other interrelated components. And Delta 88 now includes more standard equipment: power steering, power front disc brakes, power ventilation, automatic transmission—and a long list of GM safety features. Delta 88: Strong. Tough. Smooth. Not just another pretty car.

CUTLASS SUPREME You want real luxury, comfort and room—but not a big car. You want handling and maneuverability, but not a compact. Cutlass Supreme gives you what you want on a 112-inch wheelbase. Formal roofline. Room for six. Deluxe interiors. Under the hood, a Rocket 350 V-8. A "little limousine"—priced within your reach . . . that's Cutlass Supreme. What a step-up, holy cow! If your friends could see you now.

TORONADO The one personal luxury car that puts it all together in quite a different way. Toronado's Rocket 455 power goes to the front wheels to pull the car over the road with superb traction, ride and handling. Inside, Toronado is spacious and comfortable. There is ample room for six, including their feet—for there is no hump on the floor. In luxury, in styling, in quality, it is uniquely Toronado. There's nothing common about it.

Muskie comments on post

COLUMBIA, S.C. (UPI)—Sen. Edmund Muskie, a prime candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, said today regionalism should not play a part in the selection of a successor to Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black.

"I don't think regionalism has anything to do with it," the Maine senator said. "I think the quality of a man should be the highest consideration."

Muskie's comments came at a morning news conference as he opened a five-hour visit to South Carolina including a scheduled luncheon meeting with Gov. John C. West. Muskie, seeking to boost his strength in the South, spoke Sunday in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Muskie refused to say what effect he feels the Black resignation will have on the Supreme Court.

Four children in one family doomed to die

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (UPI)—Mrs. Jacqueline Collum, 34, a divorced mother on welfare, had four children—all apparently doomed to early death.

The oldest, Patricia Ann, 13, died a week ago. The tragic story of the Collum children was revealed Monday as a result of a dispute over how much the county would allow for burial expenses.

Mrs. Collum said she has three more children, all of whom are apparently doomed to early death.

They have Batten's Disease, an extremely rare inherited disease which attacks the nervous system. The children appear normal until the age of 4 or 5 when they start becoming blind. From then on there are other complications of the nervous system.

Mrs. Collum said she was holding Patty in her arms feeding her orange juice when the child coughed and died. She had been told 18 months ago there was no hope for the girl.

Now Mrs. Collum has Kathleen, 12, who is at home being cared for this year because she is blind and having speech difficulties after getting through the fourth grade.

Charles, 7, is also blind, but is going to special classes at Daniel Webster School.

Chrystal, 6, the youngest, is in first grade at El Rancho School but is beginning to have sight problems.

Mrs. Collum said she really didn't expect her children to die.

"I just refuse to give up hope," she said. "Just because I don't have the answer, it doesn't mean there is no answer. All I can do is hope against hope that somebody, somebody, will come up with an answer."

The woman, whose ex-husband is somewhere in Texas, said her family had no history of the disease, which doctors have told her is extremely rare, and incurable.

Servicemen

RICHFIELD — Sp. 4 Rodney Riley has returned to Fort Dugway, Utah, where he is working in the registrars office of the hospital while convalescing from a broken knee cap suffered in an area accident while home on leave. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Riley Jr., took him to the base.

RICHFIELD — Petty Officer 3.C. Terry Swainston has returned to his ship, the Coral Sea, at San Francisco. He will leave Nov. 12 for his second tour of duty in Vietnam on the aircraft carrier. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Nyle Swainston.

Discount firm slated

TWIN FALLS — The continuing business expansion that has seen addition of four new businesses and relocation of two major auto dealerships on Blue Lakes Boulevard North brought word today of yet another new business — Gibson Products, to be located in the building formerly housing Albertson's supermarket and adjacent to Save-On Drugs, at 667 Filer Avenue.

Gibson Products will offer a large variety of discount merchandise on a self-service operation similar to other area merchants, according to Bob Tomme, representative of the home office in Utah. Tomme and Ray Phillips, Missoula, Mont., manager of the new store, will move to Twin Falls to take up their residence.

The Gibson chain presently includes 628 outlets throughout the nation, including the newest store, recently opened in Missoula. Gibson officials chose the Twin Falls area for their new store because of the apparent growing prosperity and favorable future of the entire Magic Valley.

"The economy looks good in this area, there's no doubt about that," Tomme said.

The Twin Falls store will encompass 17,000 square feet, employing 20 to 25 salespeople and assistants, most to be hired locally, Phillips said. Total inventory on hand will average about $250,000, Tomme said. The firm plans to open in October, as soon as remodeling of the building can be completed.

Gooding facility funds available

By LEE TREMAINE
Times-News Writer
BOISE — Larry Lockridge, Boise, executive secretary of the Idaho Veterans Affairs Commission, took issue today with Idaho Lt. Gov. Jack Murphy over a proposal to use the former tuberculosis hospital at Gooding as a nursing home for veterans.

Murphy told the Times-News that the Veterans Administration has expressed an interest in the hospital and that "adequate funding" is available in an endowment fund of $350,000 that applies to the hospital. Murphy also said the federal government would provide up to 50 per cent matching funds if the facility is turned into a veterans' hospital. Lockridge explained that the Veterans Administration is definitely interested in the hospital, but only as a long-term-care facility for veterans who would otherwise have to find shelter in a private nursing home at much higher cost. When the TB hospital was envisioned by the state legislature, the $350,000 endowment fund was developed to apply strictly to the hospital, Lockridge said. The VA would have to petition the legislature to transfer both the hospital and the endowment fund for its operation.

The Veterans Affairs Commission has pondered the problem of adding to its care facilities for veterans for several years, initiating the present investigation in May, when Gov. Cecil Andrus asked the commission to explore use of the Gooding facility as well as the Orofino mental hospital and other state facilities as veterans' care units.

There is a growing need for a long-term care facility devoted to caring for veterans, Lockridge said, due to a number of factors. Private nursing homes cost $12 to $15 per day or more, all of which has to be paid by the patients, and this is far more than many disabled veterans can pay from pensions and other limited income.

Also, with the advancing age of many World War I and II veterans, more intensive care is needed for more veterans for longer periods of time. The growing civilian population is also overcrowding many private nursing facilities, he added.

The new facility would be funded through a Veterans Administration grant of $5 per man per day, plus a fee schedule to be paid by each patient with the endowment funds taking up the slack. Hopefully, Lockridge said, the patient fees could be kept low enough to avoid strain on the veterans.

SAFETY IMPROVEMENT project to increase the sight distances across the Big Wood River Bridge on U.S. Highway 93 south of Ketchum involved pouring fills for the approach to the steel structure. Howard Johnson, Shoshone, district engineer of the Department of Highways, said next spring more fills will be poured and the area surfaced.

Better view

State pledges funds for road

BOISE (UPI) — The State Highway Board told a Blaine County delegation that $1 million has been included in the board's five year program for the improvement of the Ketchum-Hailey road.

The board told the delegation headed by Sen. John Peavey, R-Rupert, and Sen. Don Frederickson, D-Gooding, Tuesday that the program would include improvement and relocation of U. S. 93 from its junction with State Highway 68 to beyond Ketchum. State Engineer Ellis Mathes told the delegation that a preliminary study would be completed as soon as possible so that hearings on the proposed location of the road could be held. Mathes also said $500,000 has been set aside for improvement of the road from Ketchum to Sun Valley.

Peavey told the board that the right of way should be purchased as soon as possible because of the booming land values in the area. Deputy Engineer Dean Tisdale said that only after the location hearings are held could the right of way be acquired. Lloyd Barron, board vice-chairman, said the requirement for an environmental statement on the proposed road's impact on the area could mean a six-month delay.

Petitions circulate on taxes

SHOSHONE — A petition will be circulated throughout Lincoln County this week asking Lincoln County Commissioners to roll back the tax assessment to the 1969 level and make restitution to those people under the new appraisal program, according to Floyd Silva, president of the Tax Equality Association.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Lincoln County tax association Tuesday night in Shoshone, note was made that more than 100 signatures had already been obtained in these petitions and the canvass had hardly started. Three other alternative moves were considered by the board of directors.

Hansen will visit Blaine

HAILEY — Rep. Orval Hansen will be at the Blaine County courthouse Friday from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. to meet with any interested citizens. The 2nd District congressman will also address the Wood River High School at 12:20 p.m. Friday.

Pickets start at Burley

BURLEY — Nine pickets began marching in front of the Wes Welding and Iron Works firm at 915 Overland Ave., Burley, this morning and fellow workers had not crossed the picket lines. Wes Karlson, owner of the firm, was continuing to operate with administrative and sales personnel. He said if an emergency arose where pipe cutting was necessary, some of the trained supervisory personnel would be able to handle the request. Wes' Welding and Iron Works is a non-union firm and picketing began in an effort to organize the approximately 25 workers as part of the Sheet Metal Workers Local 213.

Property dispute calmed

KIMBERLEY — A minor property line dispute involving two Kimberley men and several old automobiles has been temporarily solved, according to Twin Falls County Sheriff Paul Corder.

Apparently Gerald Alderman, Kimberly, had been parking old automobiles on the property of Ray Potter, Kimberly, the sheriff said. The two men came to words about the situation Tuesday evening with Potter telling Alderman to remove the cars from his property. Potter apparently was wielding a shotgun but evidently no verbal threat to use the gun was made, according to the sheriff.

Sheriff Corder said the dispute has been temporarily worked out. He said he understands a fence will be built on the property line to solve the problem.

The sheriff said that there is no ordinance in Kimberly that cars cannot be parked on one's own property.

He said however, they cannot be parked unattended for more than 24 hours on a street regulated by stop signs.

Corder said several neighbors have complained about the vehicles as an eyesore to the area.

Rupert sets changes

By DAVID ESPO.
Times-News Writer
RUPERT — The Rupert City Council Tuesday night approved a change in personnel policy for city workers allowing them to live up to one mile outside the city limits. The ruling came at the prompting of Wayne Plocher, a city electrician, who appealed to the council to allow him to build a residential dwelling about a mile outside the city. In effect the council made the change by ruling the phrase

"metropolitan area" to include all land extending one mile in any direction from the city limits. The city's hiring policy states that all "permanent employees shall be residents of the metropolitan area during the time of their permanent employment."

The council tabled until next meeting a proposed city ordinance placing restrictions on gatherings of over 500 persons within the city limits for longer than 22 consecutive hours.

The ordinance prepared at the request of councilman William F. Whitton is closely patterned after a similar Blaine County ordinance passed in the anticipation of this year's Labor Day Weekend Wood River Rock Festival.

Fifth District Judge Theron Ward subsequently declared provisions of the Blaine County law unconstitutional but Rupert City Attorney William T. Goodman said the city's version of the law had taken the court's ruling into account.

The council also accepted the bid of American Oil Co. to provide gasoline for city use at a cost of 20.89 cents per gallon, the same rate as last year.

Mayor O.W. Johnson also gained approval of the council to enable the Southside Power Co. to join a reciprocal operating pact with 14 other power companies to provide the city with emergency manpower and equipment if necessary. The agreement among the 14 companies, the Reciprocal Operating and Emergency Repair Agreement Contract, was drafted three years ago.

The council also approved five new building permits including a residential dwelling with complete basement to be built by Pete Espinoza.

Gooding school 70 per cent up

GOODING — School Supt. James Muscat announced tours of the new high school building in Gooding will begin next week, but no date has been set.

He made the announcement at the Tuesday meeting of the Gooding Chamber of Commerce. He also said the school is about 70 per cent complete now.

He invited any organization which may need musical entertainment at meetings to invite the high school music department to perform.

Jim Wilkins, manager of the Gooding Airport, told chamber members that Bill New, owner of the Firebird Raceway between Emmett and Boise, has talked to the Gooding City Council and himself about the possibility of using the north-south runway and the diagonal runway at the airport for drag racing.

He said New has told him that 28 per cent of the attendance at his races in Boise Valley are from Magic Valley. Wilkins said this would be a good way to bring revenue into the city and that it would help support the airport which is having financial troubles. He said the reason Gooding was contacted regarding the drag racing is that it has the only airport in the area with extra runways.

He said city council members and Mayor Harley Crippen and he will go to the Firebird Raceway Saturday at the invitation of New. They will look over the racetrack operation there.

Wilkins said New had all racing equipment needed if a drag strip was set up at the Gooding Airport. He said, however, the city would have to see to fencing the area and crowd control. He emphasized that drag racing is no longer considered a "hazardous kid sport" and is a money making operation.

Wilkins said that the FAA and the Idaho State Aeronautics Department would be contacted before proceeding with any plans for drag racing at Gooding. He said there probably would be nothing occur on the proposition until next spring.

Severt Swenson asked the chamber of commerce to think the proposition over and let their opinions be known at the next meeting. He also announced that pros and cons of the regional airport will be discussed at the next meeting.

After crash

TWO HEYBURN MEN ESCAPED serious injury Tuesday afternoon when a camper truck collided with a tractor-drawn street sweeper in Heyburn. Carroll Kolb, driver of the camper, was unhurt when his vehicle collided with the rear of the sweeper being pulled by a tractor driven by James McGill. The sweeper was severed from the tractor which was knocked into a ditch. Kolb's vehicle overturned, blocking traffic in the construction zone on Alfresco Road. In the foreground is the camper's undercarriage, with the tractor shown in the background.

Murtaugh slates Homecoming

MURTAUGH — Homecoming at Murtaugh High School will be Friday, according to Kim Peterson, school reporter.

The homecoming game will be with Hansen at 8 p.m. with the class of 1968 to be honored this year.

A parade will begin at 6:45 p.m. with alumni and high school classes entering floats.

Half-time entertainment will be provided by the Murtaugh Devillettes and the queen and princesses will be crowned.

The homecoming dance will follow the game. Music will be by the King King. There will be a bonfire at 8 p.m. Thursday.

France closed the famous penal colony of Devil's Island and repatriated 2,800 inmates in 1946.

Site opening date set

JEROME — The official opening of a recreational site in the Snake River Canyon behind the Jerome golf course south of Jerome is scheduled for noon Monday.

The Jerome Kiwanis Club, in cooperation with the Idaho Fish and Game Department, has been working all summer to prepare the recreational site. No name has been given the area as yet.

A luncheon will be served at the top of the grade, with Kiwanis Club officials and county officials invited.

A long hard battle has been fought since 1962 by recreational groups in the Jerome area to gain access to the site. Legal action has been threatened by sportsmen and civic organizations to gain access, which has been forbidden.

Public access into the canyon had been denied because of a gate built across the road at the top of the grade. W. R. Cameron, who owns property on the south side of the Snake River, and the state Department of Highways, who had access to a gravel pile, had been the only ones with keys to the gate, though the road ran across BLM land, leading to Fish and Game Department property.

An agreement had been reached earlier this year between all parties concerned to remove the gate at the top of the grade, allowing access only to the BLM and Fish and Game land, but keeping Cameron's property inviolate.

Flooding conditions earlier this year had converted the grade into a route which could be used unsafely by pedestrians and nimble horses. The Jerome Highway District had been ready to sign necessary transfer documents to take the road into the highway district before the flooding damaged the area. However, because of the costs involved in repairing the road, the highway district voted to refuse to participate.

The Jerome Kiwanis Club, Rod and Gun Club and other civic groups continued to press for settlement of the dispute. An agreement was reached with the Idaho Highway Department and the Fish and Game Department to repair the flood damage. The combined efforts of the two state agencies resulted in repairs, and the locked gate has been bypassed.

Union Pacific's fast, efficient service and low freight rates help keep Idaho's basic products competitive in expanded market places.

In face of spiraling wage and equipment costs, which have increased 75 percent over the past fifteen years, it is surprising that Union Pacific rates in some instances are actually lower in 1971 than five or even ten years ago.

This is more remarkable considering the shrinking value of the dollar which today is worth only 72 cents of what it was ten years back.

Despite these zooming costs and inflation, some U.P. rates have dropped.

For instance, fresh potatoes, a backbone product in Idaho's economy, can now be shipped to Chicago from Idaho Falls for $1.38 per cwt. compared to $1.43 in 1958. Potatoes from Idaho Falls to St.

Louis cost $1.21 per cwt. in 1961 and just $1.15 per cwt. in 1971.

Dry fertilizer to Des Moines today costs just $14.66 per ton compared to $16.10 in 1962.

Intra-state phosphate rock shipments from Gay to Don cost .64 per ton today compared to .71 in 1963.

Other Idaho rail rates on the Union Pacific are only slightly higher today than they were five and ten years ago.

The reductions have been made possible by bigger cars, more power, increased volume, computerized operations, and other factors. They do not represent general overall freight reductions. They do show, however, how Union Pacific strives continually to provide lowest possible freight rates to keep basic Idaho products competitively strong in as many market places as possible.

Helping to build a strong industrial Idaho.

Wheat to sprout

NO BEAUTY is seen in open gravel pit such as this site which provided crushed gravel for the airport runway in Twin Falls. Gale Lim, left, project superintendent, and Bob Brock, BLM, discuss plans to fill in the pit, replace top soil and seed the ground to create wheat as soon as the last load of gravel has been removed.

No hint

PUBLIC VIEW, illustrated by Robert Brock, BLM, gives no hint of open gravel pit hidden from roadway by hills in the background. Even the access road is obscured by contour of the land.

Gravel removed without scar

TWIN FALLS — Removal of 35,000 tons of gravel from a hillside without leaving a scar is being accomplished through the cooperation of the Bannock Paving Co., Bureau of Land Management and consulting engineers for the City of Twin Falls.

Robert Brock, Bureau of Land Management, Burley district, said the gravel pit used for the Twin Falls City County Airport runway resurfacing project may serve as a guideline in preserving aesthetic values in future such programs on public lands.

The gravel pit was opened two months ago east of the road leading into Shoshone Basin south of Rogerson but is completely hidden from view of motorists traveling the road as it was opened on the back of the gravel knoll.

Brock said the BLM gave the gravel to the city of Twin Falls and the contractor, Bannock Paving Co. built a good access road which was located at some additional expense to the builder, on a line going around the hillside rather than directly into the hill. This makes the road less visible and prevents further detractor from the natural contour of the land in the area.

When the contractor completes his gravel crushing and removal program, top soil which was saved, will be bulldozed over the pit area and seeded to crested wheat. Should it be necessary for additional gravel to be used from the site, the next contractor will uncover a portion of the pit and utilize the same access road. A gate will close the road when the present operation ends.

All that will remain visible to mark the gravel pit, Brock says, will be a rock cliff face above the pit and this will blend in with other natural rock formations in the area. This will only be visible from the site itself as it is hidden from the roadway.

Brock said the work will prevent erosion and eliminate the natural tendency of the public to use gravel pits for collection of trash. This is the type of rehabilitation the BLM encourages on all public lands, Brock said.

Miss Idaho costs ok'd

By RICHARD CHARNOCK
BOISE (UPI) — Miss Idaho is entitled to a fee of $25 per day, plus expenses, when she makes personal appearances for the state, the State Board of Examiners decided Tuesday.

He said a major portion of the money is used to keep up the costly wardrobe Miss Idaho must maintain in the role of Miss Idaho as well as the state's official hostess.

In authorizing the expenditure, the board relied on a 1969 legislative resolution which designated Miss Idaho as the official hostess for the state.

Secretary of State Pete T. Cenarrusa suggested the board authorize payment of $25 per diem plus travel and other expenses for this and other similar appearances of Miss Idaho — the agency requesting her to appear to make the payment. He noted that board members of various agencies generally receive that form of reimbursement.

Board action marked the first time in memory the state has paid Miss Idaho for a public appearance.

Karen Herd, Idaho Falls, the current Miss Idaho and runner-up in the Miss America contest, appeared at Arco Aug. 9 at the grand opening of the Arco Atomic Energy Educational Center.

Patient drowns

Idaho's Nuclear Energy Commission, which requested her appearance, put in a voucher for a fee payment of $35. The board sent it back for further explanation.

NAMPA, Idaho (UPI) — Dr. Henry C. Wesche, Canyon County Coroner, says a 48-year-old wheelchair patient at the Idaho State School and hospital died as a result of "accidental drowning."

Tuesday, it was advised by Commission Director Gene P. Rutledge, Idaho Falls, that Miss Herd appeared at the official opening and later made a special television appearance. Russell Carter, chairman of the Miss Idaho public appearance committee, notified Carter that the fee was a standard one charged for all public appearances of Miss Idaho.

An attendant found the victim, Keith Humphrey, lying face down in what was described as a "scalding hot" tub of water. Tub faucets were turned on.

"This fee is utilized entirely for the purpose of paying expenses related to the appearance of Miss Idaho at the events," Carter wrote Rutledge.

Dr. Wesche said another resident of the institution apparently undressed Humphreys and helped him into the tub before regular attendants arrived to bathe him.

First purchase

PAUL REYNOLDS, right, chairman of this year's annual Peanut Brittle sale of the Twin Falls Kiwanis Club, makes the initial purchase from Bert Lassen, president-elect. The candy sale, set for Thursday, raises money for the club's youth fund.

Kiwanians will sell candy Thursday in TF

TWIN FALLS — One hundred members of the Twin Falls Kiwanis Club will sell boxes of peanut brittle Thursday afternoon and evening to raise money for the organization's youth fund, officials announced today.

Paul Reynolds, drive chairman, said plans call for canvassing the entire town starting at 5 p.m. Thursday and continuing until 9 p.m. The drive starts after club members meet at the Turf Club for a dinner session. Reynolds also said the candy will be available at Lynwood, Shelby's Market and in the downtown mall during the afternoon hours.

In Twin Falls it is expected 2,000 boxes of the special candy will be sold. Later this fall similar sales will be held in the communities of Buhl and Jerome with officials of clubs in those communities in charge.

Ladies 'weaker' sex

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Women are more helpless, nervous and anxious than men—upright, by today's definitions—according to a new government-sponsored study on behavior by two researchers.

"One would expect to find this," said Bernice Sandler, one of the campaigners for women's rights. A leader of the Women's Equity Action League, she was one of those who pushed for government investigations of alleged sex discrimination in college hiring and enrollment.

That might be expected to touch off one more charge by Women's Lib that, being the work of two men, that it's just another example of male chauvinism since both researchers are men. Not so, necessarily.

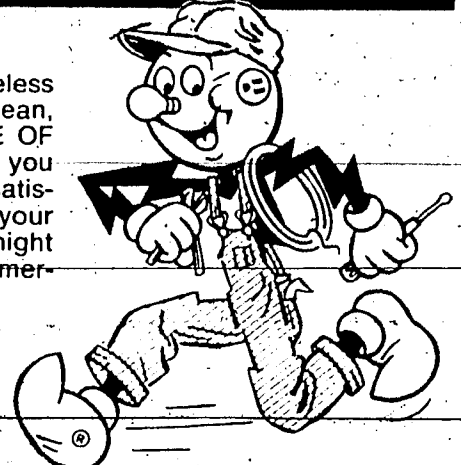

But she did not take issue particularly with the findings of the behavioral researchers in this instance.

AL owners shift Solon franchise into Texas

BOSTON (UPI)—American League owners voted Tuesday to shift the franchise of the financially ailing Washington Senators to Arlington, Tex., between Dallas and Ft. Worth. American League president Joe Cronin announced the owners had approved the shift on a 10-2 vote with some conditions relating to the number of seats and a lease for Turnpike Stadium in Arlington. The present stadium seats 21,000 and could ultimately be expanded to 50,000 seats. The owner of the Senators, Robert Short, said "Bob Short failed in Washington to field a team successfully." He claims the Senators have lost $3 million over the last three years. Tuesday's game with Cleveland had an attendance of 1,311, smallest in the major leagues this season.

O'Halloran Danzansky puzzled by Solon pullout

HOUSTON (UPI)—Irish heavyweight Jack O'Halloran brawled his way to a 10-round split decision Tuesday night over Cleveland Williams, staggering the "Big Cat" with three powerful combinations in the final round.

O'Halloran, 10 years younger at 28 and with a four-inch reach advantage, apparently realized the decision was close and finished strong with the quick combinations. There were no knockdowns but both fighters suffered bloody noses in the sixth round.

In discussing Danzansky's bid, league president Joe Cronin said he felt the Washington group was "thinly capitalized" which Danzansky said wound up the negotiations on a "rather peculiar note."

O'Halloran landed a looping right to the jaw but recovered and finished strong. Both fighters hit well with strong left jabs.

The owner of the Giant Food Co. chain said he and two others originally offered $7 million for 80 per cent of the franchise stock some months ago and later increased it to $7.5 million for 90 per cent of the stock.

The food store magnate said that if Cronin's objection was to the $1 million he group planned to have in the bank for paying debt service, then the amount could have been increased. He said he had received numerous calls during the day from friends who would have been willing to provide additional capital had he known it was required.

Judge Jimmy Webb voted O'Halloran 96-94 over Williams and Judge Ernie Taylor voted 97-94. Referee Earl Keel favored Williams, 96-95.

His "firm offer" was $7.9 million for 90 per cent of the stock but Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn sought unsuccessfully late in the evening to increase the offer to $7.9 million for 80 per cent of the club stock.

"This is no tragedy for us, no tragedy for Joe Danzansky," he said. "But it is a tragedy for the city and for those 5,000 kids walking the streets at night who could just as well have been at Robert F. Kennedy Stadium watching a ball game."

O'Halloran was staggered once in the third round when Williams landed a looping right to the jaw but recovered and finished strong.

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The midweight bout between Eugene "Cyclone" Hart and Denny Moyer ended in a no decision Tuesday night when both fighters tumbled out of the ring during the sixth round.

"I just hope organized baseball will not long keep a franchise out of that city."

O'Halloran landed a looping right to the jaw but recovered and finished strong. Both fighters hit well with strong left jabs.

The ruling came from commission doctors after both fighters failed to get back into the ring within 10 seconds after the fall.

Arlington mayor Thomas Vandergriff said he was "most proud and pleased" to obtain the franchise and predicted it would be one of the most successful in baseball. He said Short would be charged a basic rental of $1 per year until at least a million attendance was reached.

O'Halloran landed a looping right to the jaw but recovered and finished strong. Both fighters hit well with strong left jabs.

Hart, a 20-year-old Philadelphia, seeking his 21st straight win, was battling toe to toe with the veteran Moyer against the ropes at 2:10 in the sixth when both fell out of the ring.

Cronin said the league had received "a last offer" from Washington food magnate Joseph Danzansky "a while ago" or late in the more than 12 hours of discussion. Cronin also noted that the Baltimore Orioles and Chicago White Sox filed the two dissenting votes and said that while they had talked about President Nixon's suggestion of playing some Oriole games in Washington next season, "we haven't had time to make a decision of any kind."

O'Halloran landed a looping right to the jaw but recovered and finished strong. Both fighters hit well with strong left jabs.

Hart, 159-1-2, who had dominated the fight until the tumbled, was told to have X-rays taken of his right shoulder and head at St. Agnes Hospital here Wednesday.

In Washington, City Council Chairman Gilbert Hahn expressed "bitter disappointment" at the team's move. He said there was no chance any team would play in the nation's capital next season.

The baseball hierarchy discouraged any overtures to any other clubs while the Senators were here," Hahn said. But the chairman said the city would be interested in making offers to the San Diego Padres and San Francisco Giants.

"Considering the nature of Washington, which is made up of transients and large numbers of people who are from other cities, it might be the best solution," Hahn said.

Devine kept from practice

Devine had hoped to attend the session, the first in preparation for Sunday's game against Denver at Milwaukee, but he had to be satisfied instead to meet with the team in the locker room before practice.

Dr. James Nellen, the Packers' team doctor and orthopedic surgeon who set Devine's leg, said the 46-year-old coach would have to return to the hospital after practice—at least for a couple more days.

Devine's leg was broken in a sideline incident during Sunday's 42-40 loss to the New York Giants. The walking cast was put on immediately and Devine had hoped he would be discharged from the hospital Tuesday.

Devine, in his brief stay at the Lambeau Field offices, met with coaches, watched movies of the Giants' game with the team and talked briefly with newsmen.

Assistant Coach Dave Hamner handled the workout on the field.

It had been anticipated that Devine might use a golf cart to get around during the practice session, but the club instead rented a small van with a hydraulic lift to use instead.

The coach—wheelchair and all—will be transported to the practice field by the van.

Nellen said it would be at least a week before Devine can walk on the leg and said he would have to wear a cast about 12 weeks—or most of the regular season.

Kimberly wins in volleyball

KIMBERLY—Kimberly girls bowed into inter-scholastic volleyball Tuesday night with an easy decision over the Buhl girls.

The varsity had little trouble in winning 15-3 and 15-4 to settle the best of three format in the quickest way. The Bulldogs jayvees also won the eight-minute preliminary 16-3.

Two Chicago baseball players, Billy Sunday and Joe Quest, are generally credited with coining the phrase, "Charley horse," for a muscle strain in the leg, after a horse they backed in a race pulled up lame near the finish line.

NL race stays static; Reds top Dodgers and Astros defeat Giants

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Lee May drove home five runs with a double and a home run and Johnny Bench added his 26th homer of the season as the Cincinnati Reds dumped the Los Angeles Dodgers, 9-3, Tuesday night to give Don Gullett his 16th win.

Gullett gave up a first-inning double to Maury Wills and then hurled hitless ball until pinch-hitter Billy Grabarkewitz singled with two out in the eighth inning. The 20-year-old Gullett lost his bid for a shutout when Joe Ferguson singled and Wills doubled home two runs and was replaced by Wayne Granger at the start of the ninth. Granger yielded the Dodgers' last run when Willie Davis homered.

Strong amateur field building for Idaho open

Claiming "it might be the year an amateur could win the open," Clyde Thomsen, professional at Twin Falls Municipal golf course, reports a strong championship flight of amateurs has entered the 1971

Idaho golf open. The meet, a 54-hole, three-day affair, will wind up a busy week of golf in Twin Falls. It will begin with the new Idaho Cup series, pitting the 10 top amateurs against the top pros, on Sept. 29 at Blue Lakes Country Club. A pro-am is slated for the municipal course on Sept. 30 and the open, co-sponsored by Holiday Inn and Cactus Pete's, will run Oct. 1 through 3.

A strong out-of-state contingent from Utah and Nevada bolsters the Idaho championship flight. However, Thomsen said about 40 spots are still available for amateurs.

From Nevada will come two University of Nevada golfers, Tom Paul, medalist of the West Coast Athletic Conference, last spring, and teammate Mark McLoughlin. Salt Lake City will send Tom Branca, medalist in the Utah amateur, and brother-Ron Branca plus brothers Greg and Steve Sharp. Jack Ridd, one of the best in the intermountain area, also will play.

The Idaho contingent is not too big at this time. Entered are Mark Higgs, Nampa; Newt Carter and Dean Oliver, both Boise, and Willie Peterson, newly crowned Magic Valley amateur titlist and consistent contender Jim Packard, both Twin Falls.

Thomsen said it would appear the professional field will run from 45 to 60 members and at least five former champions are among them. These include defending champion Tommy Williams, Brigham City; John Moss, Ogden; Ken Sparks, Nampa; Dick Kramer, Salt Lake City, and Ernie Schneider Jr., Ogden.

He added the amateur merchandise prizes will be paid in both gross and net divisions. Through sponsored ship of Club 93 in Jackpot, the pros will have a special senior division. The club has donated $500 which will go to the pro 50 years of age or older who has the best three-day total.

Holiday Inn and Cactus Pete's have provided the $2,000 added money.

Ervin asks Congress to veto merger of pro grid leagues

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Sam J. Ervin, D-N.C., told organized basketball Tuesday that its proposed league merger would lead to the "economic enslavement" of athletes. Ervin opened three days of hearings by the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee into the proposed merger of the American and National Basketball Associations.

The commissioners of the two leagues urged approval of legislation exempting them from prosecution under the antitrust laws when the merger is completed.

ABA commissioner Jack Dolph and NBA commissioner Walter Kennedy said if the merger does not go through, professional basketball will soon kill itself with staggering contracts to untested rookies.

Dolph cited one player who got a $900,000 five-year no-cut contract, a $50,000 bonus, three Cadillacs, a $2,000 per year housing allowance and a $10,000-a-year job in the club's public relations department for his mother.

Ervin, however, said if basketball teams are losing money, it was none of the government's business: "One Lockheed is enough for this year."

"Personally, I believe that if a basketball player is good enough he should be paid the highest that bidders for his services are willing to pay," Ervin said. "I do not believe that contracts for player services will rise indefinitely beyond what a team can pay."

Ervin said the common draft and the option clause which will result from the merger "are issues concerning the economic enslavement of professional basketball players and are too important for such ephemeral treatment as was accorded the football merger."

Congress approved the merger of the National and American Football Leagues in 1966 and Ervin said the measure was "railroaded" through congress. He vowed it would not happen again.

He said if Congress does grant basketball a similar monopoly, it should create a federal commissioner of athletic to regulate all major professional sports. The commissioner "should have the right to determine such things as rates of return, ticket prices, territories and it should supervise the draft-of-new-players."

Sixkiller tops total offense

NEW YORK (UPI)—Sonny Sixkiller, quarterback for Washington's Huskies, is the total offense leader according to statistics released today by the National Collegiate Sports Services.

Sixkiller, the nation's 1970 passing champion, ran up the young season's high of 361 yards as he took his team to a thrilling 38-35 win over Purdue Saturday.

Passing honors went to Florida's John Reeves, who has completed 38 of 78 tosses.

Brigham Young's Golden Richards equalled a major college record of returning three punts for touchdowns in his first two games.

McNally gets 4th 20-game win year

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dave McNally became the first American League pitcher in 32 years to put four 20 victory seasons back-to-back when he pitched a five-hitter Tuesday night to give the Baltimore Orioles a 5-0 victory over the New York Yankees.

Red Ruffing of the Yanks was the last American Leaguer to accomplish this feat, from 1936 to 1939.

Fritz Peterson gave McNally a battle but homers by Paul Blair and Boog Powell in the fourth and fifth innings helped give McNally his 20th win against five losses. The victory also reduced Baltimore's magic number to three in the East Division.

ANAHEIM (UPI)—Lou Piniella got three singles and Bob Oliver hit a three-run homer to back up a seven-hit pitching job by Dick Drago that gave the Kansas City Royals a 6-2 win over the California Angels Tuesday night and clinched second place in the American League West.

Solons 9, Indians 1

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Dave Nelson scored his first four times to the plate to pace a 14-hit Washington attack as the Senators whipped the Cleveland Indians 9-1 Tuesday night before a crowd of 1,311, the smallest in the major leagues this season.

Nelson, who played for Cleveland in 1969, walked in the first, singled in the third, doubled in the fourth and stroked his fifth home run in the sixth. He also stole two bases.

Dick Bosman scattered seven hits to gain his 12th victory against 15 losses. It was his seventh complete game in 33 starts. He struck out six and walked two.

Sox sweep A's

OAKLAND (UPI)—Carlos May and Pat Kelly drove in four runs each Tuesday night to lead the Chicago White Sox to a 5-1 and 6-2 doubleheader sweep of the American League West champion Oakland A's.

May drove in two runs in each game while Kelly had one in the opener, enlivened by a ninth-inning fly between Mike Epstein of the A's and Bart Johnson of the White Sox, and three more in the nightcap.

May's fourth-inning double and eight-inning sacrifice fly and Rich McKinney's first-inning homer and eighth-inning single were the key blows of the opener as Johnson won his 12th game in 22 decisions.

Emry leads SIC in rushing

Ron Emry, Capital senior, has opened his quest for another Southern Idaho Conference rushing title and perhaps record as he has amassed 379 yards in the Eagles' two non-conference games so far.

According to statistics released today by league coaches, Emry is averaging 14.6 yards per carry. His teammate, Willy Herbert, is averaging 14.5—with 174 yards in 12 carries—and those two will present the conference opening defensive problem for Twin Falls at Bruin Stadium Friday night.

John Morgan of the undefeated Caldwell Cougars leads the league in passing yardage with 392 and in total offense with 398 and a 13.1 per play average. Emry and Charlie Grant of Caldwell are tied for the scoring leadership with 42 each.

Terry Wilson of Poeatello, who caught 11 passes in his first game, leads the receivers with 18 grabs for 160 yards and two touchdowns. Jim Croft of Meridian is tops in punt returns with 152 yards in six tries and Bill Patterson of Minico has the only lead for Magic Valley SIC players, topping the loop in kickoff returns with five for 168 yards.

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (UPI)—Walt Frazier scored nine of his 15 points in the fourth quarter to rally the New York Knicks to a 104-92 exhibition basketball victory over the Baltimore Bullets Tuesday night in the first game for each team.

would still have bid five spades with his hand.

The five spade call is all South needs to get him to a grand slam—South knows that his partner has opened the bidding and then given a jump raise in hearts with not more than one of the three top honors and without the king of his first bid suit. It is apparent to South what North's holding is so South leaps to seven hearts without any shilly-shallying.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Your partner responds two clubs. What do you do now?

Answer Tomorrow

By Oswald & James Jacoby

When your suit is either spades or hearts, a five-club or five-diamond barricade bid, after your four no-trump, does not bother you at all if you are using DOPI. Take today's hand as an example. West puts in a five-club bid in order to interfere with Blackwood. North and South are doubling with no aces; passing with one ace and bidding with more than one ace. Thus, West's five-club bid actually makes things easier for North. He can actually show two aces by a bid of five diamonds. Would a five-heart bid show three aces?

Not if North and South are advanced bidders. North would bid five diamonds to show two aces and five hearts to show two aces plus

PASS IT ON

HOW DO YOU address your ladyfriend, mister? At hand is an elderly survey. Matrimonial researchers 20 years ago discovered the most popular salutation by husbands to their wives was "Darling." Next came "Baby," "Honey," "Sweetheart," "Precious" and "Dearest." They've changed. At least in order. No. 1 now is "Honey." And delete "Precious," please.

YOU KNOW the majority stockholder in Rome's Hilton Hotel, don't you? It's the Vatican.... A GOOD BARTENDER ought to know how to mix at least 80 different cocktails.... WHY IS IT smokers lose their teeth at a much earlier age than do non-smokers?... CONTRARY to popular opinion, it's known Wyatt Earp only killed one man in his entire lifetime.... IF THE PRICE of gold drops to $27, I'm informed, the $1 bill actually will be worth its weight in gold.

STILL UNSETTLED is that matter of which refrigerator leftovers make the best midnight snacks. Ballots are now in for cold chicken, rice pudding and artichokes with mayonnaise. I vote for spareribs with Chinese mustard, Polish sausage with Mexican peppers, a little Virginia ham, some blackeyed peas, cucumbers and onions in vinegar, a half a raw potato, well-salted, and a glass of buttermilk with a dash of lemon pepper, all together.

CUSTOMER SERVICE: Q: "Is Jane Russell still on Howard Hughes' payroll?" A: As far as I know in 1955, she signed a 20-year contract for $50,000 a year, reportedly. Believe she's still collecting it.... Q: "What state is Hell in?" A: The town? That's in Norway.... Q: "Where can I write to hire a guide to hunt reindeer in Alaska?" A: Nobody hunts reindeer. Up there, that's livestock, not big game.

THAT TURKISH SULTAN named Mah Moud II of Constantinople was weird. One day five centuries ago, he ordered the makers of women's dressing gowns to remove all the stitches from said costumes, then seal the seams instead with glue. On ladies' day in Constantinople's great turkish bath, Mah Moud II ensconced himself in a hidden cubbyhole overlooking the whole shebang. He waited. Gown by gown, the hot steam dissolved the glue. Mah Moud II took notes, then issued orders to recruit for his harem, the rasnal.

AM ASKED WHY baseball umpires always look smaller than baseball players. An optical illusion, that. The umpires wear dark clothing usually, the players light. Put them in business suits, they look about the same.

THE NEW WEARS off everything, what? The TV audience that watched David Scott and James Erwin walk on the moon was only a third the size of the TV audience that watched Neil Armstrong make his giant step.

NEVER can tell what will explode. Freshly mined diamonds have done so. With considerable violence, too. So have elephant tusks when suddenly chilled. And several storerooms full of dried milk.

Your questions and comments are welcomed and will be used in PASS IT ON wherever possible. Please address your letters to L.M. Boyd, P.O. Box 17076, Fort Worth, Texas 76102.

 . . . and more T-Bird than ever!
 How would you change Thunderbird? The only way. Make it more Thunderbird. And we did for 1972. Welcome to a whole new world of driving and riding ease. A world of new spaciousness and comfort. Of new luxury and pride of ownership. More regal. More personally-individual. More Thunderbird than ever. More Thunderbird in every thoughtful detail.

1972 GRAN TORINO
 An all-new group of quiet mid-size cars. Gran Torino, available in a 2-door hardtop model, a 4-door pillared hardtop model, a wagon, and a Squire. Gran Torino is here ushering in a beautifully new, incredibly quiet mid-size era. With all-new styling plus a talent for practicality you've come to expect from Ford. Like six-people roominess with nimble size outside. Big-car luxury, yet small-car handling. And Ford did it with flair. There's a low, forward-sweeping hood. An oval grille, thin roof-line. Flowing side contours. New rear deck. Just the right chrome touches at rocker panels, wheel lips, rear deck and deck-lid lock. Your only difficulty will be choosing the Gran Torino best for you

1972 Chevrolet. Building a better way to see the U.S.A.

Caprice Coupe illustrated at Mt. Rushmore in South Dakota.

We want your new Chevrolet to be the best car you ever owned.

The best. No qualifications. No reservations. We want it to be the most beautiful, most trouble-free, most comfortable car you ever owned. So we've given the 1972 Caprice (above) power steering, power front disc brakes, refined power ventilation and an improved front bumper to provide added front-end protection. Plus a 400-cubic-inch V8 engine and Turbo Hydra-matic automatic transmission.

—All standard, as you expect with a luxury car. And Caprice is but one of the new Chevrolets. There are 45 in all: pictured below (left to right) are the 1972 Monte Carlo, Chevelle, Nova, Camaro and Vega.

There's bound to be a Chevrolet just right for you, your family, your budget and your kind of driving. Whatever your choice, we want your new Chevrolet to be the best car you ever owned. No less.
