US jets punish N. Viet

SAIGON UPI — U.S. fighter bombers struck into North Vietnam for the fifth day Saturday in the most prolonged series of air attacks on the north since bombing was halted nearly three years ago.

Communist forces in turn stepped up rocket and mortar attacks in South Vietnam and Cambodia, hitting at least four American bases, including two airfields.

In Cambodia, mortar fire destroyed a large quantity of aviation fuel stored at Neak Luong, the Mekong River ferry crossing 32 miles southeast of Phnom Penh.

U. S. Air Force jets hit truck convoys moving from North Vietnam through the Mu Gia Pass in Laos Saturday morning when they came under fire from guns a mile across the border.

Two F4 Phantom fighter-bombers turned into North Vietnam and bombed the emplacements, triggering an explosion that indicated ammunition or fuel was hit, spokesmen said.

The planes were not damaged in that exchange of fire 78 miles north of the Demilitarized Zone. It was the 64th "protective reaction" strike reported by the U. S. command this year and followed a similar thrust into North Vietnam Friday by a pair of Phantoms.

U. S. spokesmen said the attacks on American bases in South Vietnam were insignificant because no casualties or damage occurred. One attack was against the big coastal Phan Rang air base, 165 miles northeast of Saigon, where three 107 mm rockets hit.

In Cambodia, at least 20 rounds of 82mm mortar fire hit the South Vietnamese airfield at Neak Luong, torching off an aviation fuel depot.

It's final: Tupperware signs!

By CHARLOTTE BELL Times-News Writer

JEROME — It's final. After weeks of uncertainty, the contract to build the huge $5 million, 400 employee Tupperware plastics factory south of here has been signed, according to Tupperware President John R. Ansley, Orlando Fla.

He told the Times-News Saturday that the Walter Kidde Constructors, Inc., New York, will move equipment to the site soon to begin construction.

Donald Sharp, who has been stationed in Boise during construction of the world headquarters of Boise Cascade Corporation, also a Kidde Constructors project, will be construction superintendent for the Jerome Tupperware plant. The amount of the contract was not made public.

The new plant will serve increasing consumer demands for Tupperware's food-storage and serving containers and plastic toys, and will serve distributors throughout the West, Ansley said.

The plant will occupy 300,000 square feet on 88 acres of land, employing 400 persons when production starts in February, 1972. Up to 900 workers may be employed eventually.

Tupperware, with world headquarters in Orlando, has 14 manufacturing plants throughout the world. The firm is a division of Dart Industries, Inc., with headquarters in Los Angeles.

Jerome Chamber of Commerce President James Keith said a meeting of businessmen has been called for Monday morning to plan dedication ceremonies for the new plant.

Idaho Gov. Cecil D. Andrus "will probably be asked to participate" in the groundbreaking ceremonies, Keith said, but added that the decision would be made by the Chamber members.

Kindergarten funds yanked

TWIN FALLS — The door has been closed to federally funded kindergartens for Twin Falls children.

Ironically, the development took place just as there were signs that Twin Falls school officials had begun to reconsider their stand against accepting funds to pay kindergarten teacher salaries.

The Times-News learned from Dr. Roy Turby, assistant to the Superintendent of Public Instruction for Idaho, that funds to pay for three kindergarten teachers for the Twin Falls district have been reallocated to other districts.

This action was taken, Turby said, even though Twin Falls had given no formal notice to the state that the funds were not desired.

Turby said the decision by the state, which distributes the federal funds, was made on the basis of press reports of statements by Twin Falls Schools Superintendent George Staudaher that the teachers would be refused.

Even if the Twin Falls district should not request the teachers, the district could only be put on a waiting list in the eventually another district would turn down its allotment of kindergarten funds.

The Times-News has learned that despite statements that the district would not participate, Staudaher had recently begun a system-wide survey of parents of 5-year-old children to determine their opinion on possible kindergartens.

Presumably the survey suggests that district officials believed the proposed kindergarten program to be an unresolved issue.

Among other things, the survey asked whether parents would consider volunteer work in a kindergarten system.

Another indication that the possibility of kindergartens was being reconsidered was a statement by Staudaher, echoed by school trustees, that the initial decision against accepting the funds was not final until the school board formally acted on the proposal. Staudaher initially had said that the board had authorized him to make the decision on the kindergarten offer.

The superintendent declined to comment further when questioned Friday, saying only that he would make a "statement" on his position later this week.

In Boise, Dr. Turby told of the state's decision to reallocate the teachers originally planned for the Twin Falls school.

"We understand from news reports that the Twin Falls district was not interested in participating," he said, "so we reassigned the slots elsewhere in the state."

Turby has been in charge of allocating the teacher slots among the state's districts.

Nixon hails dead jurist

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon, the legal world and the nation mourned the death Saturday of Hugo L. Black, eight days after he resigned from the Supreme Court where he was a liberal pillar and champion of civil rights for a third of a century.

Black died at 1 a.m. EDT Saturday at Bethesda Naval Hospital, Md., of inflammation of the arteries and a severe stroke which he suffered last Sunday. He was 85.

At his bedside were his immediate family, including his second wife, Elizabeth Demeritte Black; his two lawyer sons, Hugo Jr. of Miami and Sterling F. Black of Albuquerque, N.M., and a daughter, Mrs. Mario Pesaresi of Hackensack, N.J.

Black entered Bethesda Aug. 28 and resigned Sept. 17. His stroke two days later marked the start of a quickly deteriorating physical condition. The hospital said he died "peacefully."

A funeral service will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at Washington Cathedral. Burial arrangements were incomplete.

The President, who now has two court vacancies to fill with the retirement of all Justice John M. Harlan, 72, last Thursday said Black had "such independence, tenacity and total integrity of mind that his imprint on the court and on our nation will be indelible."

Said Nixon: "Justice Black believed that the primary responsibility of the judiciary was that of giving force and effect to constitutional liberties... his faith in the United States constitution was absolute and so his convictions were rooted absolutely."

"Mrs. Nixon and I join the nation in mourning at the death of this noble American."

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger termed the sharecropper's son from Clay County, Ala., "one of the authentic legal philosophers of our time. He will be sorely missed, not only on the court but in American life." (Continued on P. 3)

Mourned Wendell cyclist killed

WENDELL — A Wendell man became Idaho's 228th highway fatality of the year Friday when the motorcycle he was driving crashed into the side of a truck at the north edge of the Wendell.

Roger James Dohse, 26, Route 1, Wendell, was pronounced dead at the Gooding Memorial Hospital moments after the 12:35 p.m. collision. He is survived by his widow and two small children.

Investigating officers said the young man was riding his motorcycle when it careened into the side of a truck driven by John R. Schwenson, 46, Wendell. Schwenson was uninjured by the impact.

Police investigators said Dohse drove over a slight rise in the street and was unable to see the truck backing from the Ambrose Service Station parking lot. The force of the impact threw the cyclist under the rear truck wheels.

Police said Dohse was employed by a Wendell tire company. He had formerly lived in Twin Falls and Kimberly.

His body was removed to the Leaper Mortuary for services Monday at 11 a.m.

Docks pact asked

ABOARD AIR FORCE ONE (UPI) — President Nixon, saying the government "cannot tolerate" further delay in ending the west coast dock strike, called both sides together in Portland Saturday to "make a renewed and determined effort" at settlement.

"We cannot tolerate a continuation of this pattern of delay and slow progress toward an ultimate settlement," Nixon said in a statement issued from the presidential plane, Air Force One.

The President was enroute to Kalispell, Mont., to open a weekend visit to the Pacific Northwest culminating in a meeting with Emperor Hirohito Sunday in Anchorage, Alaska.

"I am acutely aware of the severe economic and human impact of the west coast longshoremen's strike and keenly disappointed at the continued failure of the parties to that dispute to resolve their differences through collective bargaining," Nixon said.

"The time is overdue for the parties involved to live up to their responsibilities to the American people and to work diligently and urgently toward that settlement."

Nixon said he had asked J. Curtis Counts, head of the National Mediation Service, Labor Secretary James Hodgson and Budget Director George Shultz to meet with negotiators for the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union and the Pacific Maritime Association in Portland.

They will "discuss how the parties can best be brought to recognize and meet their responsibilities," Nixon said.

Crisis watch

Thieu calls for calm; GI tries to burn self

SAIGON (UPI) — South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky met with opposition group leaders at a party Saturday night after a day marked by sporadic demonstrations against President Nguyen Van Thieu's one-man election Oct. 3.

While the party was in progress, a young American civilian tried to burn himself to death in the heart of Saigon, but was stopped by national police.

The man was identified as Raymond Crombie, 24, a veteran wounded while serving in Vietnam in 1968. At police headquarters Crombie appeared to be confused, police said.

The vice president's party was viewed as an attempt by Ky to maintain communication with opposition factions rather than as a response to groups of students and disabled veterans who have urged him to "lead street demonstrations" and "take a firm stand against Thieu."

Vietnamese and American political observers said the vice president had not shown any sign that he felt strong enough to commit himself to open protests, but that he hoped to "ride on the demonstrations if they get violent enough to force Thieu into a showdown."

Thieu, meanwhile, went on national radio twice Saturday calling for calm. The president repeated his statement that he was "acting constitutionally" in his one-man race.

In Saturday's demonstrations in Saigon, the U.S. command reported one U.S. Navy man was slightly wounded in the firebombing of an American vehicle.

Fists honor Attica dead

NEW YORK (UPI) — Crowds of mourners, many with arms raised in clenched-fist salute, watched a funeral procession move through ghetto streets Saturday for six prisoners slain during the Attica prison rebellion.

The start of the march was delayed for two hours following a complaint by the family of dead inmate Thomas Hicks that prison officials had sent the wrong body.

A young man told the mourners that the body was not that of "brother Hicks, and we are trying to get permission to include whoever the brother is in the procession."

Faulty equipment, gas line contributed to Rupert blaze

BY DAVID ESPO Times-News Writer

RUPERT — A ruptured gas line that poured natural gas into a burning warehouse for nearly three hours, faulty fire prevention equipment within the building, and adverse weather conditions blunted the efforts of the Rupert fire department in their battle against a $1 million industrial fire the night of Aug. 30.

These facts came to light Friday with the release of Rupert Fire Chief O'Dell McLane's official investigation into the fire that gutted the main plant of Big O Tires of Idaho and Magic Valley Food warehouses.

The two-and a half page copy of the report made available to the press is complete except for estimates of losses suffered in the fire.

The report deals largely with the number of firefighting units at the scene at various times during the course of the fire and the amount of equipment required to combat the blaze.

Two brief sections, however, trace the origin of the fire and enumerate conditions which stilled the efforts of firefighters at the scene.

The report states that a gas line broke "soon after the start of the fire. It was approximately 11:30 p.m. before the gas line was shut off. This held back men fighting fire on the side of the gas line."

The report offers no explanation for the length of time required to turn the gas off. William H. Wetstein, Burley, an official of Intermountain Gas Co., which operated the line, refused comment on the question Saturday, saying "all information will have to come from Boise." The company maintains its headquarters in the capital city.

The fire chief's report also mentions a lack of firewalls and fire doors in the structures which burned. Although inspected in November, 1970, the buildings have since been "roofed over and two open holes cut in the cinder block wall. The dry storage warehouses also had several openings cut in the partitions," the report states.

China worries Soviets

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union says Communist China is in the throes of "grave political developments" and is trying to conceal them by spreading fears of an imminent Soviet invasion.

Moscow spoke its first word about the mystery of what is happening in Peking with a commentary published Friday night by the official Tass news agency.

"One thing is clear," Tass said. "A number of grave internal political developments are affecting the general situation in the People's Republic of China these days ..."

"The Chinese leadership ... is trying to shift the blame for the difficulties in the country onto external factors — the imaginary threat from the Soviet Union — and thus distract the attention of the Chinese people from acute domestic political problems," Tass said.

The Soviets also said the Chinese were attributing their cancellation of the Oct. 1 Revolutionary Day Parade to the need for war preparations. Tass said this information came in "news reports from Peking, but no report reaching Moscow supported it."

"According to journalistic circles in Peking," Tass said, "the calling off of the National Day Parade is explained to the country's population by references to the alleged threat to China on the northern frontiers, where an attack on Chinese territory is allegedly planned."

Brezhnev enters Hungary quietly

BUDAPEST (UPI)—Leonid I. Brezhnev slipped quietly into Hungary Saturday to tell its leaders why he gave neighboring Yugoslavia the right to develop its own form of communism.

Brezhnev was seen off at Belgrade airport earlier Saturday with a brass band and a kiss from President Tito, his host for three days of talks. The Bulgarian government announced it will give the Soviet Communist party general secretary a full ceremonial welcome when he arrives in Sofia Sunday.

But Brezhnev's arrival in Budapest was almost a secret operation. There was no prior announcement that he was coming and the fact that he had come for a short friendly visit was not even announced officially until he had been here nearly two hours.

There were no ceremonies or welcoming crowds. Instead, Brezhnev and Janos Kadar, the Hungarian party leader, drove quietly to the party guest house in the hilly Buda section of town, where they began their talks and where Brezhnev will sleep Saturday night.

Hungary and Bulgaria border both Romania and Yugoslavia, and they have been the spearheads of the Kremlin's campaign this summer to pressure the Romanians and Yugoslavs into cooling their new friendship with China. In addition, Tito's policy of an affluent and democratic communism has had its major impact on Hungarians and Bulgarians, who are well aware of the better living conditions in Yugoslavia.

For this reason, the two nations were the ones most affected by any deals or agreements which Brezhnev made with Tito. Brezhnev consequently made them the first stops—even before Moscow—on his flight home, to tell their leaders what had happened in Belgrade.

In public speeches, Brezhnev endorsed Tito's right to give Yugoslavs the kind of social conditions that are not allowed elsewhere in the Soviet bloc. But he urged Tito to bring his foreign policy more closely into line with the Kremlin's.

It was recalled that Brezhnev's predecessor, the late Nikita S. Khrushchev, few immediately to Albania—then a Soviet ally—and Bulgaria after a similar fence-mending trip to Yugoslavia in 1955. That trip, in which Khrushchev also gave his blessing to Titoism.

Ernest Simons

BOISE — Ernest T. Simons, 72, 2104 Palouse St., Boise, died Friday morning in a Boise hospital following a heart attack. He was a former resident of Hazelton.

He had been employed by the Union Pacific Railroad as a telegraph operator, working from 1923 until 1936 in Soda Springs.

He was in Kemerer, Wyo., from 1936 to 1939 and in Pocatello from 1939 to 1941. He then became station agent in Hazelton from 1941 to 1953 and moved to Emmett as station agent where he remained until retiring in 1964.

He has lived in Boise since January, 1965. He was a member of the Sons of the American Revolution and the Modern Woodmen of America. He was preceded in death by a son, Richard G. Simons, Aug. 3, 1959, and by a brother, Sidney Simons, March 16, 1966.

He was born July 8, 1899, in Valley Falls, Kans. He married Goldie Sibbett Nov. 29, 1924 in Soda Springs.

Surviving are his widow, Boise; a daughter, Mrs. John (Geraldine) Yasvac; and a grandson, Thomas Yasvac, both Boise; four brothers, Charles Simons, Cheyenne, Wyo.; Harry Simons, and Marion Simons, both Valley Falls, Kans.; and Raymond Simons, Newport News, Va.; six sisters, Mrs. Edith Worner and Mrs. Mary Marsh, both Valley Falls, Kans.; Mrs. Elsie Lane, Eureka, Calif.; Mrs. Edna Killion, Gardner, Kans.; Mrs. Louise Dunmire, Leavenworth, Kans.; Mrs. Stella Crow, Huntsville, Ala., a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be conducted at 10 a.m. Monday in Summers Funeral Home, Boise. Dr. Roy E. Howes, First United Presbyterian Church, will officiate. Burial will be in the Fairview Cemetery, Soda Springs Monday at 6:30 p.m. Rev. David Crawford, Soda Springs Presbyterian Church, will be in charge.

Billy Byrd

TWIN FALLS — Billy B. Byrd, 56, Twin Falls, died at his home Wednesday of a short illness. He lived alone.

He was born March 17, 1915 in Bluefield, W. Va., and was a professional photographer until his health forced his retirement several years ago.

Surviving are a son, William B. Bird, Fredrick, Md., and a daughter, Linda Kiss, San Jose, Calif.

Funeral services will be held in Portsmouth, Va. with White Mortuary in charge of local arrangements.

D. Atkinson

BUHL—Funeral services for Donald Vernon Atkinson, 54, address unknown, were conducted Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Filer cemetery by Rev. Floyd Austin.

Atkinson died Wednesday when the truck he was driving left the roadway and plunged into a canal. He had been employed as a driver for farmers on the Bell Rapids project a few days earlier.

No survivors were located. Albertson-Dickard Funeral Home, Buhl, was in charge of arrangements.

3 hurt in T.F. mishap

TWIN FALLS — Three persons were treated for minor injuries and released from Magic Valley Memorial Hospital Saturday afternoon following a two-car accident at 2:30 p.m. at the intersection of Sixth Avenue West and Third Street West.

City police said Danny R. Johnson, 18, Jerome, was cited for speeding. He was traveling east on Sixth Avenue West when a car driven by Joe Sprenger, 76, Route 1, Wendell, stopped at a stop sign and then drove into Sixth Avenue.

Officers said Sprenger and his wife, Elda, 73, and Johnson were all taken to the hospital for treatment of lacerations and other injuries.

Candidate against airport

Ray D. Crandal

TWIN FALLS — Ray D. Crandal, Twin Falls, an announced candidate for election to the Twin Falls City Council in the November general election, said Saturday he is "definitely opposed" to the proposed regional airport.

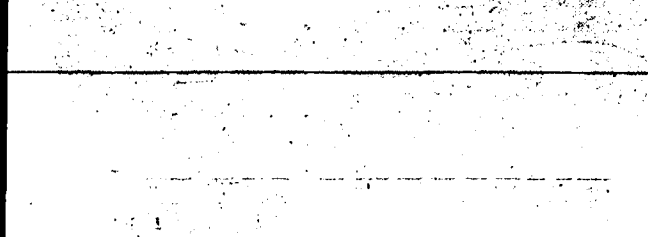

"I don't think we can afford it," Crandal said. "Also, I'm not satisfied with the various statistics issued by the proponents and opponents. There are too many discrepancies. Maybe in 10 or 15 years we could afford a regional airport, but now now."

Crandal said also that his feelings on the council-mayor form of government needed clarification. "I am personally opposed to our present form of government, but I can and will work within the system if necessary."

"We'll let the people indicate what they want with their votes," Crandal said. "I'm making no campaign promises at this time."

Roseburg, Ore. Deputy Anderson said investigation is continuing.

Alaskan turnout expected

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI) —Thousands of residents of this city of 46,137 were expected to turn-out Sunday for one of the biggest events in his history—an unprecedented meeting between President Nixon and Emperor Hirohito of Japan.

A giant hangar at sprawling Elmendorf Air Force Base will be open to the public when Hirohito, the first reigning Japanese monarch to set foot on foreign soil, steps off a plane late Sunday night onto a pink carpet to greet Nixon.

Secretary of State William Rogers, Interior Secretary Rogers Morton, Budget Director George P. Shultz and Dr. Henry Kissinger, Nixon's foreign affairs adviser, will also be among the official U.S. welcoming party.

The meeting is scheduled to 10 p.m. Alaska time (3 a.m. Monday EDT.)

Foreign Minister Takeo Fukao and other high level Japanese officials will accompany Hirohito on the stopover at Alaska, and on the 19-day tour of Europe which will follow.

Both Nixon and Hirohito will make brief statements before being escorted over a one-mile route to the home of Lt. Gen. Robert G. Ruegg, commander in chief of the Alaska Air Command, where the two leaders will hold a private meeting.

The emperor is scheduled to board his plane for Europe at 11:40 p.m. (4:40 a.m. EDT). Mr. and Mrs. Nixon will spend Sunday night at Gen. Ruegg's residence and depart for Washington at 8:30 a.m. (1:30 p.m. EDT) Monday.

Tougher acts if necessary

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Cost of Living Council served notice Saturday that tougher hold-the-line action will be taken if necessary to prevent violations of President Nixon's price-wage freeze.

Council Executive Director Arnold R. Weber announced that in addition to two court actions already initiated, three others are under consideration, including one against a professional football team.

"Today's announcement ... emphasizes our intention to be more forceful when necessary," Weber said. "The problem we have to solve—economic stability—is a serious one and we are serious about it."

The previously announced federal court actions sought injunctions to force the Jefferson Parish school board in Louisiana to rescind teacher pay raises and to compel a San Antonio, Tex., landlord to roll back rent increases.

Weber said similar crackdowns may be forthcoming against the unidentified pro football team for refusing to make refunds; another Texas landlord for unauthorized rent increases and another school board for teacher pay infractions.

Weber announced there were 16 other instances in which local officials were unable to obtain voluntary compliance but the threat of legal action at the regional level did.

These included a bowling alley in a western state, a west coast restaurant, a chain of food stores in an eastern city, a western state trailer park, several midwestern school boards and landlords of apartments and housing in various sectors of the country.

The council said a summary showed 2,608 complaints were received in the week ending Sept. 21 with a heavy percentage involving food price hikes. "Almost two-thirds of retail complaints concerned food prices," the report said. "No other consumer item accounted for any substantial proportion of the complaints."

The summary also noted that New England with an estimated 5 per cent of the population accounted for 15 per cent of the complaints.

Momentum said for 2 Chinas

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) —Secretary of State William P. Rogers said Saturday the "momentum" favors a U.S. proposal for keeping Nationalist China in the United Nations while Communist China also is granted a seat.

Rogers, at a brief news conference, said he was encouraged by the General Assembly vote Friday on the China issue. The assembly voted down, 65-47, an Albanian attempt to prevent a debate on the U.S. plan, which would preserve Nationalist China's seat while admitting Communist China.

The vote, Rogers said, "has given us reason to be encouraged. The vote was larger than expected. I think the momentum is going in our favor."

The secretary of state held the news conference after a morning call on U.N. Secretary General Thant and Adam Malik, president of the General Assembly.

Spokesmen said that during the 40-minute meeting Thant and Rogers discussed the Middle East, Cyprus and aid for East Pakistan.

Rogers, in an appraisal at the news conference of his Friday night meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, said "it was a particularly friendly meeting. There were no points on which there were strong differences."

U.S. sources said that during the meeting Gromyko had given assurances that the Soviet Union would not interfere in U.S. efforts to reach a partial Middle East settlement.

Rogers added that the U.S. effort to find an interim Middle East agreement between Egypt and Israel was still "quite alive."

He also acknowledged that the expulsion from London by the British government of 105 Soviet officials on spy charges might complicate the convening of a European security conference sponsored by the Soviet Union.

Projects said feasible

KETCHUM, Idaho (UPI) —Financial consultants to the Idaho Water Resource Board today pronounced "economically feasible" the proposed joint venture to build a Swan Falls-Guffey hydroproject on the Snake River.

Phil Peterson, Lewiston, board attorney, told the board and members of a legislative interim committee that the consulting firm of White-Weld and Company of Chicago had reached this conclusion in its study.

Construction of the project as a joint venture between the state and the Idaho Power Company is being studied by the board and the interim committee.

Consultants offered these two main points, Peterson said:

—The joint venture planned would not seriously impair coverages and earnings position of the Idaho Power Company whose credit and financial integrity is vital to the sale of bonds if issued by the board for the purpose under consideration.

—The legislative proposal for total state ownership would sharply erode the coverages of Idaho Power Company. The decline in coverage as a result of the enlarged "debt equivalent charge" would be serious enough to create a very real risk that the company's bond would be downgraded by the rating services.

The consultants said in a closing statement that the joint venture "in our judgment encompasses a workable partnership arrangement with a natural sharing of interests."

Such partnerships between private utilities and public enterprises have been increasingly successful and beneficial in the Pacific Northwest in recent years," the consultants said.

Peterson also told the group he had been advised within the past 10 days that Internal Revenue Service will issue a favorable ruling on tax benefits on the proposed joint venture.

Meantime, the board granted a request by Dr. Cal Warnick, head of the water resource research unit at the University of Idaho, for a nine-month extension on the present cooperative study on Idaho's wild and scenic rivers.

Dr. Warnick said that among other things the unit will be looking at geothermal power sources in Idaho, study of depletion in the upper Snake River and economic analysis of water distribution in Jefferson County.

Liberal jurist passes

Rep. Claude Pepper, D-Fla., who was a fellow senator when President Franklin D. Roosevelt plucked Black from the Senate in 1937 to join the high court, said Black "leaves as his imperishable legacy a better and more free America which he, as a statesman and jurist, so much helped to build."

Publisher Ralph Ginzburg, who figured in obscenity cases before the court, said that "in an age when living by principle has all but vanished, Hugo Black ... was one of the few judges who deserved to be called 'Your Honor.'"

Black, who carried a well-thumbed copy of the constitution in his pocket, fought most consistently for a literal interpretation of its guarantees of freedom of speech and press, and opposed anti-obscenity and anti-liberal laws as unconstitutional.

Among his dissents which eventually became the law of the land were a ruling that required states to provide legal counsel for needy defendants and the landmark requirement that state legislatures must be apportioned equitably.

His 34 years and 28 days of service on the Supreme Court were exceeded by only two men, Chief Justice John Marshall and Justice Stephen J. Field. Only two men served to a greater age: Chief Justice Roger B. Taney, who died in office at age 87 and Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, who retired at 90.

WASHINGTON — A backstairs struggle at the White House with possibly serious repercussions on the 1972 Presidential election has now broken out over the future status of Deputy Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst, with the anti-Kleindienst faction now holding a clear edge.

Boiled down, the question is whether President Nixon should risk a mean Senate confirmation fight and nominate Kleindienst as Attorney General in January. Atty. Gen. John Mitchell and Mr. Nixon have now privately reached solid agreement that Mitchell will leave in early January to take active leadership of the Nixon reelection campaign.

That agreement between the President and Mitchell by itself represents a concession to political reality. There was serious talk several weeks ago that, to avoid the potentially messy question of Mitchell's successor as Justice, he would stay on as Attorney General until well into next spring, running the President's campaign from his hip pocket in his panelled office at the Justice Department.

Under that arrangement, with Mitchell's departure long delayed, Kleindienst might have been given Mitchell's job with the title of "Acting" Attorney General, thus avoiding either a Senate confirmation battle or a humiliation to Kleindienst by the appointment of someone else. There is ample precedent for long tenures at Justice as "acting" boss, with Nicholas Katzenbach holding the modern record of almost six months.

But Mitchell rejected that untidy solution. With the New Hampshire primary only a little more than five months away, party politicians around the country have been clamoring for him to take command of the plush offices of the Nixon campaign headquarters one White House (officially styled "The Committee for the Re-election of the President").

Accordingly, with Mitchell's departure from Justice now set for early January, the Kleindienst problem has suddenly moved off the back burner and powerful anti-Kleindienst lobbies are beginning to work on both Mitchell and the White House, led by the moderate National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP).

Thus, Clarence Mitchell, who runs the NAACP's Washington office and has close ties to liberal Republican Senators, blames Kleindienst more than Mitchell or Mr. Nixon for the President's two Supreme Court fiascoes: the nominations of Clement Haynsworth and G. Harrold Carswell, both rejected by the Senate.

Perhaps more to the point, Clarence Mitchell and the NAACP claim that Kleindienst personally vetoed New Jersey Republican Sen. Clifford Case's campaign to win a seat on the Third Circuit Court of Appeals for Clarence C. Ferguson, former dean of the law school at Howard University. Ferguson would have replaced another Negro, retiring Judge William H. Hastie last spring.

Likewise, Kleindienst has run afoul of powerful newspaper and television executives, partly as a result of his actions during the bitter litigation over publication of the Pentagon papers.

Such implacable opponents of Kleindienst have allies in Congress for entirely non-ideological reasons, based on nothing more than Kleindienst's power to make or withhold recommendations of all Federal judgeships. A stickler for form, Kleindienst has leaned heavily on the recommendations of local bar associations, only to find himself on the receiving end of outraged Senators whose own judicial preferences have been overridden.

To this active opposition must be added Presidential advisers who have no specific grievance against Kleindienst but who fear the political impact of an all-out confirmation fight on the eve of the President's reelection campaign. With one of the two or three highest jobs in the Federal government about to open up, they want Mr. Nixon to milk the appointment for every political advantage he can find in it.

As of today, these advisers have a clear edge, and Mitchell, whose opinion may well be the controlling one, seems to be leaning that way too. That poses the strong possibility that Mr. Nixon will pass up Kleindienst in still another affront to his own right wing on the theory that the right has nowhere else to go.

Environment

The United Nations Conference on the Human Environment meets next summer in Stockholm but it has apparently already crossed a major obstacle to any final agreement.

The conference is to deal with the total environment, including such issues as overcrowding, soil deterioration, air and water pollution, food contamination and conservation of resources.

One big problem was the enthusiasm among many developing countries for the prosperity that industrialization brings, without an equal degree of accompanying concern with the pollution that comes with it.

Conference Chairman Maurice Strong, a Canadian diplomat, is reported to have conducted a series of regional seminars at which it was successfully impressed upon the developing nations that industrial production and pollution are not inevitably linked. They were told to profit from the experience of the affluent nations now confronted by the necessity of cleaning up.

Another probably major hurdle to agreement at the Stockholm conference, on which no progress has been reported so far, is the fear in some industrialized countries that if "crimes against the environment" gain recognition, they may have to face the problem of compensation and damages even while they are working out ecological solutions.

Perhaps the resourceful Mr. Strong and his staff can devise some sort of "statute of limitations" to allay such fears.

And he can perhaps also do something to work up a little enthusiasm for his cause in the U.S. delegation, whose seeming aloofness belies the tremendous concern with the environment issue in the U.S.

Rat Count

An estimated 90 million rats infest America's densely populated areas. Though poisons, traps and improved sanitary habits of residents have had some impact in reducing this prolific pest, it has been a slow uphill fight.

Now from Oklahoma City comes a glimmer of hope for a more effective strategy. Dr. Allen J. Stanley, a physiology professor at the University of Oklahoma medical center, has isolated a fertility gene that, by his optimistic estimate, could reduce the rat population to a nonproblem level in eight years.

Male rats with the sterility gene are sexually active but can produce no offspring. Female rats with the gene can bear offspring, but half of these will carry the sterility gene. One of the intriguing aspects of Dr. Stanley's sterile rats is that they can be distinguished by a white mark on their fur.

Once there is a good supply of white-spotted male rats available, communities can use them in their rat control programs. It sounds like a plausible, effective approach—one with no hazard to the environment.

MR. SPECTATOR

It's Really Nice

Things just ain't what they used to be — and sometimes that makes it very nice.

For instance, Mr. Spectator asked Ben Mottern where his son Jim was now and just what he was doing. As the kids grow up it's sort of hard to keep track of them. Ben responded with a big smile and said: "Your asking that is really something because I just received a note you might like to read."

Ben protested when we said we were going to print the note. But over his protest here's the story behind it because, as we said, it is very nice.

The note, written longhand, was from Commander W. A. Toehke, USN, commanding officer of the USS Agerholm in Vietnam waters. Here's what it said:

"Dear Mr. and Mrs. Mottern: "A few days ago I had the pleasure of promoting Jim to the grade of Lieutenant, Junior Grade. I'm sure you will be happy to know that it was a well deserved promotion."

Like we said it was very nice — and not at all like the service of years back. And for your information we might add that Jim, a graduate of the Twin Falls High School, and the University of Idaho, likes Navy life.

COMMENT

Mr. Spectator received a note from Patty Hooper of Tuttle, and we thought we should pass it on to our readers. It's food for thought. Here it is:

"I have a little something that I would like to share with you and your readers.

"A few years ago I attended a small college of 3,000 in northern California. At that time campus unrest was just getting stirred up. There was a young drama professor who had received a draft notice and most of the students felt that this teacher should not be taken away from his job in the middle of the semester.

"The news reporters were informed and the next day they were all on campus, looking for an exciting story. The reporters had set up a rallying point, microphones and the whole works.

"Well, when the big rally didn't go off as planned, the TV news cameras had to be satisfied with a short talk with the student body president. The cameras took a very close up picture with only room in the background for an occasional curious student wanting to see himself on TV.

"The worst idea of all was that this was still portrayed as a big rally of distressed students. This to me was nothing more than an out and out encouragement of unrest for radicals.

"After seeing all this happen I have often wondered how many other news stories are misrepresented.

"This is why I believe that President Nixon's and Vice-President Agnew's attitude about poorly represented news is not totally unfair."

ART BUCHWALD

Sunday Afternoon

WASHINGTON — "Harry... Harry will stop looking at that stupid football game and listen to me? There's a very suspicious man lurking in front of the house... What do you mean find out what he wants? You find out what he wants... You're the man in this house... Harry, I think he's getting into your car... Yes, he is getting into your car... Let's call the police."

"How can you say that Harry? Even if the car is insured you should at least make some effort to stop a thief... I don't care if it is fourth down and one to go, you can't let somebody just up and steal your car... Look Harry he's getting out now and opening the hood... He's probably trying to get it started... I think you should at least yell at him..."

"All right, so the Redskins made a first down... But if you just come to the window... Look he's got the motor started... Please, Harry, call the police... What?... It will ruin your afternoon if the police come... Yes, I know you have your heart set on watching the game, but what are we going to do for a car?... I'm not distracting you... How can you say I always think of ways of interrupting you when you're watching a football game... Am I supposed to let someone steal your car without telling you... Harry you're getting up from your chair... What happened?... Oh, it's a commercial... No, the car's gone now... The man drove it off... Are you going to report it? After the Kansas City game which ends at 7 o'clock?... Well, you've certainly made a contribution to law and order today..."

"All right, I promise I won't bother you again... Go back to your game... Harry, there's a cab pulling up to the house... Harry it's our son Jimmy who has been in the Navy for two years... I didn't even know he was back in this country... Oh, my goodness, he looks so brown and tall... Come Harry, let's greet him at the door... Harry, you don't want to greet your son after he fought for his country?"

"The Service Station Man is in business for himself. That means he is allowed to work for you for less than the legal minimum wage—and no tips. Why does he?"

The Service Station Man sweats year 'round; in winter shoveling, starting, towing; in summer pumping gas for pennies.

He delivers and installs air, water, and a wipe-off windshield for free.

He crosses his fingers while a careless motorist flicks ashes by the gas pump.

He crosses his heart when the next carload look like hopheads who'll rob for a fix and kill if they have to.

The Service Station Man. On prices he's trapped between the company and the pirates. The majority overpopulates the intersection in anticipation of a brighter tomorrow, gets their 2 cents no matter what, while the guy on the pump handles gets squeezed and squeezed.

And reamed by part-time grease monkeys who goof off and lose customers one at a time forever.

Or misstamp a credit card with an old roller nobody can read and guess who will pay.

The Service Station Man gets rained on, shouted at, maybe shot at.

May work 20 hours on crackers and pop.

And there are four in the driveway when number five can't wait for the restroom key.

The Service Station Man. With busted knuckles from a hundred sprung tire irons, he called from the hospital and she's about to give birth to the baby... Will you stop screaming at me? I know it isn't a big thing to have a baby... Women have them all the time. Ordinarily it isn't worth interrupting a football game to tell you about it, but I would like to remind you of one thing, Harry... Gertrude isn't married!... This could be a very traumatic experience for a 15-year-old girl... "Yes Harry, I'm as sorry as you are that Bragg missed the field goal... it's very wet on that astroturf... Well I'll go to the hospital myself. I'm sure Gertrude will understand..."

"I'm back Harry... Gertrude had a little boy... What game are you watching now?"

The San Diego Chargers. What happened to the Redskins? They won?... Isn't that wonderful... Then your afternoon wasn't a complete waste after all.

"Harry I've decided to leave you... No, I can't wait until San Diego loses the ball... I wish to discuss it now... I've given it a lot of thought and I've decided that life is just passing me by... Don't turn the volum up, Harry... It won't do you any good. I'VE MADE MY DECISION, HARRY... HARRY, TURN DOWN THE SET... NO, HARRY, THERE IS NO SENSE TALKING ABOUT IT TOMORROW NIGHT... WHY NOT? BECAUSE TOMORROW NIGHT DETROIT IS PLAYING THE MINNESOTA VIKINGS."

PAUL HARVEY

turns the key in the door and he's through for the day—except for that desk-drawer full of paper.

Somewhere in that pile is the answer to how much leaked and how much evaporated and of how much sold and make sure out of every 40 cents, 12 is tax, or else.

And where'll he borrow for the new tank for the low-lead gas that nobody's sure of but he's got to bet on?

And on Seventh Street in Phoenix there's an old nozzle-squeezer named Verne Forward who has all those raindrops fallin' on him plus the kids from MHT (Most Holy Trinity School).

Their bikes on the driveway bell jerk a man from the pit a nickel a minute for nothing.

Those kids take more time and spend less money because, "Dad says be sure to let you put the air in my bike tires because I always blow them up too much."

And this always happens when there are two on the rack and four on the drive.

And Verne's gone home lots of nights wondering why he can never say no. But he can't, and he won't.

He found a note on his desk the day after school reconvened:

"Dear Mr. Service Station Man, We have enjoyed drinking from your fountain on hot days. We want you to know we appreciate it. Thank you very much. Sincerely, Students of Most Holy Trinity.

"P.S. can you put up with us for another year?"

Ear Damage

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would you discuss the operation called a myringotomy for people with chronic ear infections? It is a new term to me, and I would like to know more about it, especially any side effects that might permanently damage hearing. — M. M.

Side effects damaging hearing? It would be more to the point to worry about damage to hearing if the operation is needed but isn't performed.

To begin with, let's keep in mind the general geography of our hearing apparatus — our ears. First, there's the ear canal, which extends to the ear drum. Inside the ear drum is the part called the middle ear, which contains the linkage of tiny bones that pick up vibrations from the ear drum and conduct them to the inner ear, where the auditory nerves translate the vibrations into the sensation we call "sound." Or "hearing."

Myringotomy is used frequently in cases of ear infections when the ear drum is bulging from formation of fluid. That is, infection of the inner ear can develop considerable pressure against the ear drum. A clean-cut incision in the proper portion of the ear drum relieves the pressure and lets the accumulated fluid escape. That is a myringotomy. The incision is made where it will not disturb that tiny linkage of bones inside. Then medication or other means can be used to clear up the infection, and the incision in the ear drum heals readily.

But suppose you don't perform the operation? The ear drum can rupture. If the infection involves pus, the area simply may not heal, and a chronic discharge develops.

Alternatively, or even also, the infection and its concomitants can fuse or otherwise damage the linkage of bones so they no longer conduct sound vibrations as well.

Myringotomy done to combat acute infection does not impair hearing, but letting the infection continue unchecked very definitely can.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

About Computers

Editor, Times-News:
I would like to complain about computers. Billing computers—and one in particular. But a person can't complain directly to a computer because it is, after all, just a machine. And I've found out that if the computer in question belongs to a public utility (in this case the Intermountain Gas Co.) then when you go to complain all you can expect is to be told of the complexity, accuracy, necessity and total infallibility of it. Also, you are told of the need for it to be located far away in Boise. And you're not told with old-fashioned counter-girl courtesy, either.

Rather you get—you'd better go back to school, Mr. Krefl—or I'm not here to argue, Mr. Krefl, you just don't understand—or, well, as long as you know it's paid, Mr. Krefl, what are you worrying about?

Well, Miss Gas Co., I don't care to go back to school and I don't understand. While I know I've paid the bill I want to know that you know I've paid it because when I get a bill on Sept. 14 that I paid on Sept. 2 and with a billing date of Aug. 27 then I worry!

As I've tried vainly to explain, mail service can't be so bad that a bill dated Aug. 27—and I guess (as you say) sent out from Boise on Sept. 1, doesn't arrive until 14 days later. This is why I want to complain about your computer. It obviously must have sat there with my debit in its "inards" and refused to register my credit. And for two weeks. In the most serious vein, I must feel this is a strange sort of progress. In 1850 you went to the trading post and paid your bill and the account was marked paid or crossed out and that was that. In 1950 if you paid the bill at the store and the statement was in the mail, you got the statement in a couple of days and knew it was paid. On September, 14, 1971, you get a computer slip showing an unpaid balance that was paid two weeks ago.

No, Miss, I don't quite understand yet. As a matter of fact, I don't quite understand paying up to $60 a month for gas and electricity for a small two-bedroom house. But then I don't even understand why the taxes are so high. Or the groceries. Or the water. Or etc. etc.

But perhaps you know something I don't. All I'm sure of is that whenever I scrape up the money to pay your bill I want to be sure you have credited it to me and not someone else. Can you understand, Miss? Can you understand that even huge public utilities can make mistakes? And can you understand that it's usually the one who thinks he is above making a mistake that makes the most?

I understand. That's why if I get another bill of the same nature, I'll visit you. Thank you!

Freedom Concept

Editor, Times-News:
Junior Senator Frank Church visited the Senior Citizens of Emmett on Sept. 9.

Commenting on his recent trip to Russia he is reported, by the little Emmett paper, to have stated "he believed the average citizen is apparently satisfied with the Soviet form of government."

Such an utterance causes one to ask if Senator Church—the Sportsman's friend—remembers that none of those "citizens" have guns—only the Bolshevik government! It is amazing how "satisfied" and docile people finally become who only see the business end of an automatic rifle.

William E. Borah, the late Senator from Idaho, speaking in Congress once said: "Peace upon any other basis than national independence... is fit only for slaves." This was in the United States Senate on Nov. 19, 1919.

That which comes under Senator Borah's classification of "slavery," Senator Church calls "apparent satisfaction."

It causes one to wonder how far some politicians have drifted in their basic concept of freedom.

Twin Should Pay

Editor, Times-News:
I see in the Times-News one of your county commissioners is trying to throw a scare into Twin Falls people about the high cost of the regional airport.

It seems to me that if Twin Falls can have what they want, then they don't want anyone else to have it. How about the college? Jerome people pay taxes on it besides a large tuition for one who goes there.

If Twin Falls property is worth more money than other places they should pay more for what they get.

So I say to Mr. Leonard—don't knock a good regional project. You are bigger and richer and should pay for it.

ROBERT ALLEN Jordan's Voice

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — The voice is the voice of Jordan, but the hand is the hand of the U.S. State Department — that is, behind the UN Security Council's consideration of the Arabs' latest demand for drastic sanctions against Israel.

R's open talk in UN lounges and lobbies that the State Department covertly "aided and abetted" this menacing move against Israel in order to pressure it to agree to Secretary Rogers' secrecy-shrouded peace terms.

With amused cynicism, UN diplomats are explaining that startling accusation by pointing out that because of Jordan's heavy dependence on the U. S. for military and financial support, the State Department could have readily "dissuaded" Jordan from insisting that the Security Council crack down on Israel because of alleged annexation of Jerusalem and adjoining Arab lands.

As evidence of Jordan's extensive dependence on the U.S., it is being wryly noted that in recent weeks the U.S. shipped some 100 heavy M-40 tanks and a large quantity of ammunition and other military hardware to Jordan. Also that $30 million in so-called "security supporting assistance" is earmarked for Jordan in the foreign aid authorization bill pending in Congress. The U. S. has been dishing out such funds to Jordan's military budget for years. Total U.S. military and economic aid to that country exceeds $750 million.

But several months ago, when Jordan began clamoring for the Security Council to impose trade and military sanctions against Israel, the State Department, instead of exerting its powerful influence to induce Jordan to desist, did nothing.

Thus, UN insiders are sarcastically observing, the State Department, in effect, gave Jordan the green light to pursue its highly explosive vendetta against Israel.

This secret policy is attributed directly to Secretary Rogers, who has been markedly unfavorable toward Israel throughout the nearly three years he has fumblingly headed the State Department.

Last year, when he opposed credits to Israel to finance the purchase of more fighter planes and other armaments, Sen. Henry Jackson (D-Wash.) sponsored a bill that went through Congress like greased lightning. This year, with Rogers again dragging his feet on more such legislation, Jackson is preparing to again put it through over his head.

What happens in the UN Security Council remains to be seen.

The situation there has become particularly uncertain as a result of the renewed fighting on the Suez front.

While the 13-month-old ceasefire still held, the general backstage view was that Jordan's demand for sanctions, strongly seconded by Egypt and Syria, would be watered down to a United Nations inquiry of Arab charges that Israel was absorbing additional territory.

Israel indignantly characterizes these accusations as "frivolous" and made solely to divert world attention from Jordan's bloody internal conflict with the Palestinian guerrillas.

But with the Suez front once more inflamed, anything may happen — both there and in the Security Council.

The U.S. may have lost much of its clout both with Jordan and in the Security Council.

For domestic reasons and his tattered relations with the other Arab leaders, King Hussein may no longer be "pressurable" by the State Department. And the Security Council, for some time, has displayed a distinctly anti-Israel bias. It is definitely weighted against Israel.

The U.S. can block the imposition of sanctions by exercising its veto power. But it has never done so before — and it's highly doubtful whether Rogers will use it in behalf of Israel, in view of his underlying hostility toward it.

So the outcome is a toss-up, and from the talk in the lobbies and lounges, UN insiders won't be surprised if it's a bombshell.

Note: The word here is that Moscow is making strenuous efforts to avert the life of former Egyptian Vice President Ali Sabry, now being tried with a number of other high officials for plotting to overthrow President Sadat. Sabry and most of the other conspirators were strongly pro-Soviet, but Sadat is demanding the death penalty for them.

Whether the Krumlin can save Sabry and some of the others remains to be seen. Moscow had no luck in trying to help the Sudan plotters against President Nimeiry. He brushed off Russian pleas and executed a number of leading Communists.

United Nations circles are buzzing with a report that an "important" official of the Chiang Kai-shek regime defected to Peking.

According to this account, he is Chang Shuang-chao, who is described as the "executive secretary of the Department of Finance of the Taiwan government." Apparently he and his whole family somehow got to Peking.

Where and how this defection took place is vague. It is assumed the Changs got to the Red-ruled mainland from Hong Kong.

Taiwan diplomats here are declining comment on the matter.

Instead, they are telling inquirers a satirical story about Communist China, as follows: "A well-heeled party official died, and as he left no heirs, his property was sold to a second-hand furniture dealer. The dealer, proudly displaying the articles, posted a sign reading, "Six-piece bedroom suite for immediate sale." A customer, after studying the display for a while, was puzzled and finally said to the dealer, "Your advertisement says a six-piece bedroom suite, but all I can see is one straw-sleeping mat and five portraits of Chairman Mao."

The Hungarian government is quietly trying to line up United Nations support for a new effort to persuade the U. S. to relinquish the Holy Gown of St. Stephen — which has been in this country since World War II.

The legendary coronet, which Pope Sylvester II reputedly gave the Magyar king in the 11th Century, was smuggled out of Hungary by loyal crown guards who didn't want the sacred national treasure to fall into Nazi or Communist hands. So far, every Washington administration has turned deaf ears to Hungarian overtures for return of the crown.

Prayer For Today

Help me to see the things that are right with the world, God. We keep so busy talking about what is wrong that we almost forget to notice the good things. As long as there is the kind of love that makes one sacrifice his life to save another, as long as some people are so honest that they almost cheat themselves, as long as there are people who are sincerely trying to find answers to the world's problems, we don't need to lose hope.

Here's The Law Governing Regional Airports

(Editor's Note: Because of the interest in the coming election which, if successful, would result in establishment of a Regional Airport Authority, the Times-News is printing House Bill No. 459. This act amends the original airport bill and is now in effect. It was passed at the second regular session of the Fortieth Legislature. From Section One until the end of the bill, words in bold type are those which were added to the original bill by amendment. The bill, in Section Four, lists in detail the powers of the regional board. The election in the Magic Valley counties will be held Oct. 26. This area is the only section in Idaho in which a regional airport setup is planned.)

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
HOUSE BILL NO. 459
BY ANTONE AND RAVENSCROFT

AN ACT
AMENDING SECTION 21-805, IDAHO CODE, RELATING TO ESTABLISHMENT OF REGIONAL AIRPORT AUTHORITY BY ELECTION, BY PROVIDING THAT PETITIONS CALLING FOR AN ELECTION SHALL BE SIGNED BY FIVE PER CENT OF THE VOTERS IN EACH COUNTY RATHER THAN EACH VOTING PRECINCT, AND BY PROVIDING THAT AN AFFIRMATIVE VOTE IN THREE OR MORE CONTIGUOUS COUNTIES SHALL CAUSE A REGIONAL AIRPORT AUTHORITY TO BE ESTABLISHED IN THOSE COUNTIES AND SHALL CAUSE THOSE COUNTIES VOTING AGAINST THE PROPOSALS TO BE EXCLUDED FROM THE AUTHORITY; AMENDING CHAPTER 8, TITLE 21, IDAHO CODE, BY THE ADDITION OF A NEW SECTION 21-805A, IDAHO CODE, TO PROVIDE FOR ANNEXTION OF COUNTIES TO AN EXISTING AIRPORT AUTHORITY; AMENDING SECTION 21-806, IDAHO CODE, RELATING TO ELECTION OF BOARD OF TRUSTEES, BY PROVIDING THAT THE ELECTION OF TRUSTEES SHALL BE ONLY WITHIN THE PARTICIPATING COUNTIES; AMENDING SECTION 21-807, IDAHO CODE, RELATING TO POWERS OF THE BOARD, BY PROVIDING THAT THE BOARD MAY DETERMINE THE DEGREE OF FINANCIAL PARTICIPATION AFTER THE AUTHORITY HAS BEEN FORMED; AMENDING SECTION 21-808, IDAHO CODE, RELATING TO ISSUANCE OF BONDS, BY PROVIDING THAT INDEBTEDNESS SHALL NOT EXCEED TWO PER CENT OF THE AGGREGATE ASSESSED VALUATION OF ALL PROPERTY WITHIN THE PARTICIPATING COUNTIES WITHIN THE REGION; AND AMENDING SECTION 21-809, IDAHO CODE, RELATING TO BOND ISSUES, BY PROVIDING THAT THE QUESTION OF ISSUING BONDS SHALL BE SUBMITTED TO THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF THE PARTICIPATING COUNTIES WITHIN THE AUTHORITY.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Idaho:

SECTION 1. That Section 21-805, Idaho Code, be, and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

21-805. REGIONAL AIRPORT AUTHORITY — ESTABLISHMENT BY ELECTION. — A regional airport authority may be established by the vote of the electors of such region, voting at an election called and held as herein provided:

(a) A petition signed by not less than five per cent (5) of the electors from each county in the region, describing the degree of percentage of financial participation of each such county in the district and the proposed location of the regional airport, and praying for the organization of the region as a regional airport authority, together with a true copy thereof, shall be filed with the state department of aeronautics. Prior to filing such petition each board of county commissioners of the counties in the region shall verify the validity of the signatures within the county.

(b) Upon approval of the petition, the state department of aeronautics shall advise the boards of county commissioners of the counties in the region of the date of the election, but no later than sixty (60) days after approval of the petition, and each such board shall enter an order that a special election be held on such date for the purpose of voting on the question of the creation of such regional airport authority. Notice of election must be posted, notice shall be published, the election shall be conducted and the returns thereof canvassed as required in elections of the question of creating junior college districts. Provided, however, as a condition of voting in such election, an elector shall meet the qualifications prescribed in section 34-401, Idaho Code, and in addition shall be a resident of the proposed regional airport authority. The ballot shall contain the words "Regional Airport Authority — Yes" and "Regional Airport Authority — No," each followed by a box in which the voter may express his choice by marking a cross "X". The board of county commissioners of each county shall conduct such election and canvass the returns thereof as though it were the only county in which such election were being held. The returns of the election so canvassed shall be certified promptly to the state department of aeronautics, and if a majority of all of the votes cast in three (3) or more contiguous counties be in the affirmative, then the state department of aeronautics shall enter an order declaring such regional airport authority established within the limits of those counties that did vote in the affirmative, and shall certify such fact to the board of county commissioners of each county in the region in which an affirmative vote was cast. Counties which voted in the negative shall be excluded from the regional airport authority and shall be so notified by the state department of aeronautics. The cost of providing such election shall be paid by the respective boards of county commissioners, from any funds available to such county.

SECTION 2. That Chapter 8, Title 21, Idaho Code, be, and the same is hereby amended by the addition thereto of a new section, to be known and designated as Section 21-805A, Idaho Code, and to read as follows:

21-805A. ANNEXTION TO EXISTING AUTHORITY — ELECTION. — Subsequent to the organization of a regional airport authority, any county which is contiguous and which voted in the negative and was excluded from the authority at the time of the election held as provided in section 21-805 Idaho Code, may vote to join the authority. The provisions of section 21-805, Idaho Code, shall apply as nearly as possible to the election to be held. The question to be submitted to the electors of the existing authority and to the electors of the county wishing to be annexed shall clearly indicate the degree of financial participation of each of the participating counties should the annexation be approved, the division among the participating counties of any existing bond or debt obligations should the annexation be approved, and the representation on the permanent board of trustees to be given the annexed county should the annexation be approved. If a majority of all the votes cast in the existing district be in the affirmative, and if a majority of the votes cast in the county wishing to be annexed be in the affirmative, the state department of aeronautics shall enter an order declaring such county to be a part of the regional airport authority, and shall certify such fact to the board of county commissioners of each county in the authority.

SECTION 3. That Section 21-806, Idaho Code, be, and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

21-806. ELECTION OF BOARD OF TRUSTEES. — At the next succeeding primary election following the creation of any such regional airport authority, the electors of each of the legislative districts within the participating counties within such region shall elect, on a nonpartisan basis, a member of the authority's permanent board of trustees, hereinafter referred to as the board, except that in the northern and north central regions, one (1) additional board member shall be elected from each such region at large. At the first such election, members elected from even-numbered legislative districts, together with the member elected at large from the northern region and the member elected at large from the north central region, shall be elected for four (4) year terms of office, and members elected from odd-numbered legislative districts shall be elected for two (2) year terms of office, and shall serve until their successors are elected and qualified. The term of office of members so elected shall commence on December 1 of the year in which they were elected.

Notice of the election and the conduct thereof shall be as prescribed for the election of junior college district trustees. As a condition of voting, an elector shall meet the qualifications prescribed in section 34-401, Idaho Code, and in addition shall be a resident of the regional airport authority.

The person receiving the largest number of votes shall be declared elected. If it be necessary to resolve a tie between two (2) or more persons, the interim board or the permanent board, as the case may be, shall determine by lot which thereof shall be declared elected. The clerk of the board shall promptly notify any person by mail of his election, including a form of oath to be subscribed by him as herein provided.

When elections held pursuant to this section coincide with other elections held by the state of Idaho or any subdivision thereof, or any municipality or school district, the board of trustees may make agreement with the body holding such election for joint boards of election and the payment of fees and expenses of such boards of election on such proportionate basis as may be agreed upon.

Elections of board members shall, after the first such election, be held every other year in even-numbered years, and shall be held on such uniform day of such uniform month as the board shall determine. Vacancies on the board shall be filled by appointment of remaining members for the expiration of such term of office. The board members shall take and subscribe the oath of office required in the case of state officers and said oath shall be filed with the secretary of state. Members shall be reimbursed for actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their official duties.

SECTION 4. That Section 21-807, Idaho Code, be, and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

21-807. POWERS OF BOARD. — The board of any authority established under the provisions of this act shall have power:

- (1) To sue and be sued;
- (2) To acquire, hold, and dispose of personal property;
- (3) To acquire, in the name of the authority by purchase or condemnation, real property or rights or easements therein necessary or convenient for its purposes, and, except as may otherwise be provided herein, to use the same in acquiring property, any such authority may exercise the right of eminent domain as provided in chapter 7, title 7, Idaho Code;
- (4) To establish rules and regulations for the management and regulation of its affairs, and to make rules and regulations for the use of projects, and the establishment and collection of rentals, fees, and all other charges for services or commodities sold, furnished, or supplied by such authority;
- (5) To appoint a chairman from the membership of the board, and to appoint officers, agents, and employees and fix their compensation;
- (6) To make contracts, leases, and all other instruments necessary or convenient to the purposes of the authority;
- (7) To design, construct, maintain, operate, improve, and reconstruct such projects as shall be necessary and convenient to the maintenance and development of aviation services to and for the region in which such authority is established, including landing fields, heliports, hangars, shops, passenger and freight terminals, control towers, and all facilities necessary or convenient in connection with any such project and also to contract for the construction, operation, or maintenance of any parts thereof, or for services to be performed thereon, and to rent parts thereof and grant concessions thereon; all on such terms and conditions as the authority may determine;
- (8) To include in such project, subject to zoning restrictions, space and facilities for any or all of the following: public recreation, business, trade or other exhibitions, sporting or athletic events, public meetings, conventions, and all other kinds of assemblages, and in order to obtain additional revenues, space, and facilities for business and commercial purposes. Whenever the board deems it to be in the public interest, the board may lease any such project or any part or parts thereof, or contract for the management and operation thereof or any part or parts thereof. Any such lease or contract may be for such period of years as the board shall determine;
- (9) To charge fees, rentals, and other charges for the use of projects under the jurisdiction of such board. All fees, rentals, charges, and other revenues derived from any project shall be applied to the payment of operating, administration, and other necessary expenses of the authority properly chargeable to such project and to the payment of the interest on and principal of bonds or for making sinking fund payments therefor. The board may treat one or more projects as a single enterprise in respect of revenues, expenses, the issuance of bonds, maintenance, operation, or other purposes;
- (10) Subject to and consistent with the percentages of financial participation determined by the board and approved by the electors of the region, as provided in sections 21-804 and 21-805 hereof, or as determined by the board as provided in subsection (14) of this section, to certify annually to the boards of county commissioners of the participating counties in the region the amount of tax to be levied for airport purposes, not to exceed one (1) mill on the dollar upon the assessed valuation of all the taxable property in such county, and the boards of county commissioners shall levy and collect the taxes so certified at the same time and in the same manner as other county taxes are levied and collected, and the proceeds of such taxes when due and as collected shall be set aside and deposited in the special account or accounts in which other revenues of the authority are deposited;

(11) To construct and maintain under, along, over, or across a project, telephone, telegraph, or electric wires and cables, fuel lines, gas mains, water mains, and other mechanical equipment not inconsistent with the appropriate use of such project, to contract for such construction and to lease the right to construct and use the same, or to use the same on such terms for such periods of time and for such consideration as the board shall determine;

(12) To accept grants, loans, or contributions from the United States, the state of Idaho, or any agency or instrumentality of either of them or from any private group or individual, and to expend the proceeds thereof consistent with the laws of the United States and of the state of Idaho;

(13) To enter on any lands, waters, and premises for the purposes of making survey, soundings, and examinations; and to do all things necessary or convenient to carry out the powers expressly conferred on such authorities by this act;

(14) To determine the degree of financial participation of each county participating in the regional airport authority after such authority has been established as provided in section 21-805 Idaho Code.

SECTION 5. That Section 21-808, Idaho Code, be, and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

21-808. ISSUANCE OF BONDS. — Subject to and consistent with the percentage of financial participation determined by the board and approved by the electors of the region, as provided in sections 21-804 and 21-805 hereof, or as determined by the board as provided in section 21-807 (14), Idaho Code, an authority may secure the necessary funds to finance part or all of the cost of acquiring, establishing, constructing, developing, expanding, extending or further improving the regional airport within its limits through the issuance of general obligation bonds as hereinafter provided, the principal amount of which at any one (1) time outstanding, together with other outstanding indebtedness of the authority, shall not exceed two per cent (2 per cent) of the aggregate assessed valuation of all property within the participating counties within the region. Provided further, all such bonds shall be payable within thirty (30) years from the date of issuance.

SECTION 6. That Section 21-809, Idaho Code, be, and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

21-809. BOND ISSUE — SUBMISSION TO ELECTORS FOR APPROVAL. — No general obligation bonds shall be issued until the question whether the bonds shall be issued is submitted to the qualified electors of the participating counties of the region and approved by a two-thirds (2-3) majority of those voting upon the question. As used in this section, qualified elector means a person entitled to vote in a school bond election. The question may be submitted at any general election or at a special election called for such purpose by the board of the authority. Notice of the submission of such proposition at any such election shall be published at least once in a daily or weekly newspaper or newspapers of general circulation within the participating counties within the region, not less than fifteen (15) days prior to said election. In all other respects, procedures for such elections shall be in the same manner as for junior college bond elections. The ballot to be voted at said election shall read substantially as follows:

Shall the _____ Airport Authority be authorized to issue general obligation bonds in the amount of (fill in the amount) for the purpose of (state purpose)?	YES
	NO

If two thirds (2-3) of the electors of the region voting upon such proposition vote in favor thereof, such bonds may be issued.

Carson begins 10th show year

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Johnny Carson next week begins his 10th year as host of NBC-TV's "Tonight" show, and there isn't the slightest doubt in anyone's mind that he is the runaway ratings leader in the late-night video field.

The bad news for the competition is that he has no plans at present to quit. Telephoning from New York Thursday, he said:

"The show is stronger than ever, and I still enjoy doing it. I just take it a day at a time."

Carson's competitors on the major networks are, of course, Dick Cavett on ABC-TV and Merv Griffin on CBS-TV. Recently, Griffin and CBS-TV have indicated their mutual dissatisfaction with each other, a situation that almost unquestionably means they will split as soon as possible. Concerning this situation, Carson said:

"You know, when you're opposite somebody on the air you'd be a hypocrite if you said you hope they do real well—even though it's a nice thing to say. But I do think CBS treated him (Griffin) a little shabbily, saying he's not doing the job well and breaking it in the newspapers. But networks are not known for their heart."

It was Oct. 1, 1962, that Carson began as the "Tonight" host. And next Friday will mark the beginning of the 10th year. To note the occasion, the

Monik earns award

POCATELLO — Gregory A. Monik, former Twin Falls agency manager for Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., has earned the coveted Chartered Life Underwriter (C.L.U.) award for his sales achievements.

The award was presented Friday during conferment exercises of the American College of Life Underwriters in Chicago, Ill.

The ACLU grants the C.L.U. designation to agents who pass a series of professional examinations and meet the stringent experience and ethical requirements of the college. This year, more than 1,800 men and women will earn the award, bringing to 25,387 the number who have received it since the ACLU was founded in 1927.

Monik began his career in 1965 in Jerome, transferring to Twin Falls the following year, and earning a promotion to the agency managership in 1968. Last December, he was named Pocatello area agency manager, which includes Blackfoot and American Falls.

Doctor relates cause of stress

NEW YORK (UPI) — What really causes severe emotional and mental stress in executives — the kind of stress that leads to peptic ulcer and coronary thrombosis?

According to Dr. Ari Kiev of Cornell University Medical School in New York, a clinical psychiatrist, all the causes of this extreme stress boil down to trying to run away from things, to refusal to face reality.

The reality may be that the tense executive doesn't really want the promotion he's trying hard to win. It may be that he hates going to big functions and being insincerely pleasant or drinking or eating too much because the job seems to demand it.

"A certain amount of stress is unavoidable for every executive," Kiev says in a current edition of "The Executive Voice," a cassette lecture series produced by Time-Life audio. But if the executive reacts realistically to stress, if he says "to hell with things!" at the proper moments, he will unarm. If his reactions are unrealistic, he is heading for serious trouble — maybe for ulcers or a coronary.

How does a chap recognize the signs that he is reacting unrealistically to stress? Kiev cited the following as danger signals:

- Feeling dissatisfied about the job.
 - Leaning on other people for work or decision making.
 - Getting irritable with co-workers too frequently.
 - Losing the power of concentration.
 - Declining energy.
 - Sleeplessness.
 - Drinking too much.
 - Overeating.
 - Smoking too much.
 - A failing sex drive.
- Too often, Kiev said, a man blames his wife or thinks it's just a matter of middle age when this happens. Not true, according to the doctor. It may be a real sign of dangerous reaction to stress.

The realistic reaction, Kiev said, is to do your own thing the best you can and refuse to be concerned about the rest.

In short, the people who stand stress the best are those who say "To hell with that!" says Kiev.

Car engine meets pollution tests

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government announced Friday development of a car engine that has met in initial tests the stringent antipollution standards that the law requires for 1976 models.

William D. Ruckelshaus, administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), said the prototype 72-horsepower, four-cylinder engine was built for an Army quarter-ton truck — the traditional jeep.

The engine was developed by the Ford Motor Co.

"It remains to be seen how well this engine will perform in the coming 50,000-mile durability tests," Ruckelshaus said in a statement. "But this engine is the cleanest we have ever tested."

"It represents a breakthrough in emissions control technology and means that the truly clean air is not as far away as many people thought."

Ford, along with General Motors and Chrysler, told EPA in public hearings last May that they were pessimistic about meeting the law's requirements. It specifies that 1976 models reduce hydrocarbon and carbon monoxide emissions 90 per cent compared with 1970 levels, and that 1976 models also cut nitrogen dioxide emissions 90 per cent compared with 1971 models.

Friday's announcement indicated the goal might be met after all.

The engine is an internal combustion type used in all cars, EPA said. It uses 91 octane unleaded gasoline and cuts exhaust emissions through use of fuel injection, exhaust gas recirculation and a catalytic muffler, Ruckelshaus said.

Delay rejected

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate rejected legislation Friday to postpone deployment of the nation's newest offensive missile system to promote international arms control.

The vote was 39 to 12 against an amendment sponsored by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn.

Defection data helps crack ring

LONDON (UPI)—Diplomatic sources said Saturday information from a Soviet KGB defector that caused the expulsion of 105 Russian officials from Britain could lead to similar action in the United States.

The information provided by the defector has been conveyed to other North Atlantic Treaty organizations, including the United States, the sources said. They said the data could help crack Soviet spy operations in the United Nations and lead to a similar expulsion of Soviet officials.

The report coincided with angry Soviet reaction from Moscow where the official Tass news agency called Britain's mass ouster of Soviet diplomats totally unjustified and said it could lead to "rather grave consequences for London."

"It is difficult to assess such actions other than as a revival of the cold war," the official Soviet agency said.

A Moscow-bound Aeroflot plane was booked solid in an apparent swift withdrawal of the Soviet officials ordered to leave Britain for spying. The 140-seat airliner was scheduled to leave London Monday.

The British government announced Friday it was expelling 90 Russians now in Britain and barring the return of 15 other Soviet officials who are out of the country for engaging in intelligence activities which constituted a "direct threat to the security of this country."

British officials said the 105 Russians engaged in espionage activities so openly and brazenly that it was "almost like a Moscow circus."

Stolen art work recovered

ROME (UPI)—Detectives Saturday recovered more than 40 stolen works of art and arrested four persons in a nationwide raid on gangs of thieves who looted churches and private art collections.

The latest recoveries included a Vivarini oil, a 16th century silver chalice covered in precious stones, three Tiepolo canvases and a Russian bronze cross found in a basement near Naples.

Earlier Saturday police reported the recovery of 28 works of art in Genoa and the arrest of two persons dealing with the stolen art treasures. No value was placed on the paintings.

The recoveries and arrests followed a month of spectacular art thefts including that of a Titian valued at more than $1 million and an altar panel by Bellini from Venice taken from unguarded churches in northern Italy.

The art squad detectives swooped in on several villages around Naples in concerted raids during the night and recovered 16 works of art including the Vivarini, three Tiepolos, the Russian bronze cross and the 16th century chalice.

Police said some of the objects had been identified as loot from the theft of the Church of St. Thomas at Beckett in Padua several days ago. Police said two persons were arrested in the raid. Their names were not disclosed.

Since the spate of thefts from unguarded churches, volunteers have spent the night in many cathedrals watching over the priceless works of art which are prey to thieves in northern Italian cities. Both the Roman Catholic Church and Italian government expressed alarm over the thefts and began studies on how to better protect the works of art.

Ireland reports quietest day

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — Civil rights groups demonstrated in Northern Ireland Saturday, and churchmen prayed for peace. British army officials said it was one of the quietest days in months.

The demonstrators met at the Long Kesh internment camp, where the North Ireland government is keeping people suspected of belonging to the extremist Irish Republican Army (IRA). There were speeches against internment without trial and for greater civil rights for Roman Catholics in this largely Protestant province.

The most serious incident of the day, the army said, was the bombing of a hotel in northern Belfast early Saturday. The explosion shattered windows and walls.

Dr. Michael Ramsey, archbishop of Canterbury, whose authority reaches to Northern Ireland, called Saturday for a week of prayer for peace in Ulster. He was followed by the Right Rev. Charles Grant,

Toll at Attica climbs

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—The death toll in the Attica prison rebellion climbed to 42 Saturday with the death of another injured inmate.

A spokesman for the State Correctional Services Department said Edward Meneff, 21, of Parkville died in Meyer Memorial Hospital in Buffalo. The cause of death was not revealed.

Meneff's death raised to 32 the number of prisoners who died in the insurrection, which began with a riot Sept. 9 and ended Sept. 13 when state police stormed the sprawling correctional facility near the village of Attica, 25 miles east of Buffalo. Ten prison workers also died.

As Meneff's death was announced, funeral services were held in the Bedford-Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn for six other Attica inmates.

The services at the Cornerstone Baptist Church were to follow a street procession.

Also in New York, a branch of the Chase Manhattan Bank was firebombed, apparently to protest the storming of Attica by police. Damage to the structure was slight, authorities said.

The prison scene was quiet Saturday. Lawyers entered in pairs to visit inmates.

Data stolen

SOME OF THE 105 Soviet officials ousted from Britain for spying were trying to steal technical data on the Anglo-French Concorde supersonic airliner (SST) diplomatic sources said Saturday. They said the agents were trying to get information on such things as electronic devices, computers and aircraft engines. The Anglo-French Concorde SST is shown here in a 1969 photo during flight over Paris. (UPI)

Mrs. Faulkner to head board for distributive education

TWIN FALLS — Hazel Faulkner was named chairman of the 1971-72 Distributive Education advisory board during an organizational meeting Thursday evening at Twin Falls High School.

Board members met with the new distributive education instructors, John Heckert and Nancy Helmer, who explained their program of instruction and asked for advice in developing the course and placing students in work stations for on-the-job training. Distributive education is vocational in nature, rather than academic, Heckert explained. Students enter the program in their junior year for intensive classwork in all phases of marketing, distribution, advertising and allied fields. Mrs. Helmer is instructing 103 students this year, she told the board members.

In the senior year, taught by Heckert, students move into part-time employment at "work stations," through the help of cooperating Twin Falls merchants, and continue their classwork.

The overall aim of the program is to give students interested in a career in marketing a head start in entering the field. The DE program, by its nature, does not conflict with Mrs. Dorothy Pressey's office occupations class, also taught at Twin Falls High School, as her students, all girls, plan secretarial and clerical careers, Mrs. Helmer said.

More work stations are needed for his 38 students, Heckert said. Some jobs are not suitable for the type of training sought by the students. In fact, John Loder, who won the state salesmanship title last spring in the state distributive education conference in Boise, is mending fences while awaiting an opening in the sales field, Heckert said.

Several other students have no jobs at all as yet, a circumstance which could be disastrous, as state and local school requirements demand on-the-job work experience in order to earn credit for the course.

Distributive education students at Twin Falls High School belong to the local chapter of the national "DECA" (Distributive Education Clubs of America) organization. This year's DECA officers include John Loder, president; Thomas Mikesell, vice president; Joanne Edson, treasurer; Helen Evans, secretary; Larry Fisher, parliamentarian; Brian Bradshaw, public relations, and Kathy Willis, historian.

Advisory committee members, selected from the business community, include Mrs. Faulkner, chairman; Curtis Eaton, John Roper, Doug Richter, Kay Miller, V. A. Harmer and Lee Tremaine, members.

Senior students and their work stations include Carla Anderson, none; Valera Archer, working with monograms;

Mrs. Tanner speaks to club meet

TWIN FALLS — Fran Tanner from the College of Southern Idaho speech and drama department was guest speaker for the first meeting of the season of Magic Toastmistress House this past week at the Colonial House.

Mary Sharp, president was in charge of the meeting. Dot Miller, vice president and program chairman, gave an outline of the program for the coming year.

Vera Young was in charge of table topics and Alda Strong won the travelling prize. Speakers were Alda Strong and Alleen Lindamood, Mrs. Strong winning the blue pencil.

Itinerary completed for Hawaii tour

TWIN FALLS — The itinerary of the Magic of Hawaii Tour, sponsored by the Times-News, has been completed, offering residents of Magic Valley sun and fun in February during 10 days on Hawaii's four main islands.

The agenda, announced today by Ruth Miller, tour hostess and Times-News staff writer, and Joe Salisbury, co-sponsor, Magic Carpet Travels, includes visits to many of the island's most famous historical, cultural and scenic attractions.

Tour members will leave the Twin Falls City-County Airport Feb. 14, arrive in Portland at 10:40 a.m. for a Pan American flight departing for the Islands at noon.

The traditional Aloha greeting will welcome the tourists to Honolulu where the group will stay at the Outrigger Hotel which is next to Waikiki Beach. A Trade Winds host will meet with the group at the hotel to outline activities and tell of some of the attractions available.

On Tuesday, Feb. 15, tour members will again have time for leisure or to take one of the optional tours available. During the afternoon the group will transfer to Kawelo Basin to board the motor vessel, Adventure, for an historic tour to Pearl Harbor. Following the shoreline to Oahu the group will get a view of the famous Aloha Tower before entering Pearl Harbor to observe operations there and hear a vivid description of the Japanese attack on Dec. 7, 1941.

On Wednesday afternoon a visit to the Polynesian Cultural Center will offer the Magic of Hawaii tourists a chance to see "Polynesia in a day." Following dinner at the center, a gigantic cast of entertainers will present a musical pageantry of Polynesia.

Thursday will be a full day of leisure on Waikiki, island of Oahu.

Friday the group will fly to Kauai, the "Garden Isle," for a motor tour past Nawiliwili Harbor, Menehune Fishponds, Koloa Plantation and Molr's Gardens. The tour will continue past Capt. Cook's first landing spot and the old Russian fort. At Kekaha, the group will begin the ascent to Waimea Canyon, the "Grand Canyon of the Pacific," where soft blues and greens change to brilliant reds and coppers in always changing tones against massive walled gorges. A breathtaking view of Napali Cliffs of the Pacific Ocean, a visit to Poipu Beach and Spouting Horn, a cruise up the Waialua River, a look at many ceremonial locations and serenading at the Fern Grotto all are included on the Friday agenda. The group will lodge overnight at the Kauai Islander Inn.

On Saturday it's back to the "Garden Isle" for a full day of leisure. For those who prefer, there are many special activities including fishing or sightseeing to the north side of the island and Hanalei Bay where "South Pacific" was filmed.

On Sunday the group will take off from the Lihue Airport for Maui, the "Valley Isle," for a full day's tour. The "Needle," a fern-covered volcanic spire will be one site on the day's agenda. The town of Lahaina, former capital of the islands and an old whaling center, will be another. Several historic points, a floating museum and curio center will be visited that day before a flight to the island of Hawaii, the "Orchid Island." There another day will be spent in leisure or the tourists can deep sea fish, surf or take in the Captain Cook Cruise along the Kona Coast.

On Tuesday a motorized tour by way of the South Kona Forest and many lava flows to the Black Sand Beach at Punaluu will take the visitors to the Hawaii National Park. The group will stop at the world famous Volcano House and later will explore the park, visiting Kilauea Volcano with its firepit, Halemaumau, the Giant Tree Fern Forests, the Lava Tube, Sulphur Banks and Steam Vents.

The group will overnight at the Hilo Lagoon Hotel and have until late afternoon Wednesday to explore the island before beginning the flight home. The Magic of Hawaii tourists will arrive in Twin Falls Feb. 24.

Applications are now being taken for the tour. Anybody interested in joining the group can write to Ruth Miller, tour hostess, at the Times-News, Box 548, Twin Falls, or to Magic Carpet Travels, 230 Shoshone St. E., Twin Falls.

The coaching staffs from both schools were busy for a while but squelched things reasonably well.

Twin Falls forced a punt immediately after the kickoff but the punt was dropped the Lewis recovered at the Bruin 31-yard line. Six plays later Lewis threw a 22-yard bomb to Kevin Beckwith and John Kirtland converted.

Guthrie leads Boise State to 17-10 win over Nevada

RENO, Nev. (UPI) — Eric Guthrie had a hand in all of Boise State's scoring Saturday as he led the 11th ranked Bobcats to a 17-10 victory over the University of Nevada at Reno.

Guthrie hit Al Marshall on an 18-yard scoring pass on BSC's first offensive play of the game, plunged over from one yard out for the go-ahead TD in the fourth quarter and booted a 23-yard field goal for his best collegiate performance. In addition, he kicked both BSC extra points.

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Halfback Woodrow Green raced for 212 yards, scored two touchdowns and set up a third score on a 25-yard pass Saturday to lead Arizona State to a 41-21 victory over Utah.

A 92-yard run by Mark Granucci and Ray Hayes' 22-yard field goal accounted for Nevada-Reno's points.

Oklahoma overpowers Pitt 55-29

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Jack Mildren and Joe Wylie scored three touchdowns each and Greg Pruitt rushed for 118 yards Saturday as 11th ranked Oklahoma, behind a swift offense, walloped Pitt, 55-29.

Field goals by Hurst help ISU rip L.A. State

POCATELLO — Louie Hurst of Bellevue booted two field goals and Mike Davis and Dan Halt ran for touchdowns as the Idaho State Bengals overpowered Los Angeles State's Diablos 19-6 Saturday night.

touchdown in the first half came when there wasn't enough time left to capitalize on it. A 35-yard pass from Tom Lee to Hoffman put the ball on the five-yard line with nine seconds left. But Hurst's field goal kick was wide.

L.A. State then made its only consistent move of the night and gained the ISU one-yard line on a pass interference call. Two plays later Hunt quarterback sneaked in but ISU stopped the two-point play.

Fla. State shellacks Kansas

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Quarterback Gary Huff, playing less than three quarters, passed for 300 yards and three touchdowns Saturday night as Florida State routed Kansas 30-7.

Huff hit Barry Smith for two touchdowns, one covering 88 yards and the other a 19-yarder. He also connected with Kent Gaydos on a 24-yard TD toss. Fontes booted field goals of 47, 31 and 42 yards.

Vandals collect first win of year, beating Colorado State 10-0

SPOKANE — The running of Frank Dockter and Fred Riley and a rare shutout performance by the defensive (wild bunch) unit gave the University of Idaho Vandals their first victory of the season Saturday night, a 10-0 whitewash of the Colorado State Rams.

Idaho's next possession started the long scoring drive. Colorado punted to the Idaho 11. Seefried opened from there with a pass to Jay Curcio and then picked up a 15-yard penalty.

converted. Dockter and Riley provided most of the Idaho 228-yards rushing.

The stunned Jayhawk defense had not allowed a point in two previous games, but FSU showed little regard, building up a 16-7 halftime lead and adding 14 more points in the third period.

S.C. belts N.C. State by 24-6

COLUMBIA, S.C. (UPI) — South Carolina used a crunching ground attack and a record-breaking 52-yard field goal by Little Tommy Bell to overwhelm puncheoness North Carolina State 24-6 Saturday night.

Meanwhile, the "wild bunch" kept the Larry McCutcheon-led Rams well in check. The Rams moved inside the Vandal 30-yard line only once, that late in the game when they gained a first down on the Idaho 19-yard line. But Bill Cady, who led a strong pass rush all night, caused a fumble and the Vandals, behind Dockter and Fred Riley, then ate up five minutes with three first downs and cement the decision.

OGDEN, Utah (UPI) — Weber State's Wildcats, despite losing starting quarterback Dale Mager with a knee injury late in the first half, pushed a strong ground attack past Northern Arizona University for a 23-7 Big Sky Conference victory Saturday night.

Utags hit early, top Nevada

LOGAN Utah, (UPI) — Utah State's Aggies, rolling up four touchdowns in the first quarter, outlasted a surging University of Nevada at Las Vegas team 27-7 Saturday afternoon.

The Aggies, in a game marked by fumbles and interceptions, including seven turnovers in the scoreless second half, did all of their scoring in the initial stanza and then spent the rest of the game trying to contain a momentum-building Rebel offense.

A highlight of the contest was a record-breaking punt by Utah State kicking specialist Mickey Doyle, who sent the ball 72 yards downfield. That broke his old Romney Stadium mark of 69 yards last year.

The game had a sloppy second half, particularly the third quarter in which five turnovers were recorded. Aggie defender Bob Bloom scored two interceptions that period.

The scoring opened for Utah State when split end Bob Wicks took a Tony Adams pass for a 38-yard touchdown at 12:52 in the first quarter.

The Aggies rolled up three more TDs that frame, with fullback Ed Giles scoring at 10:06 on a 5-yard pitchout play and junior halfback Jerry Hughes getting the last two, one on an 8-yard pitchout at 5:22 and the other at 1:21 from nine yards.

Missouri stuns SMU on aerials

COLUMBIA, Mo. (UPI) — Quarterback Chuck Roper stunned Southern Methodist with three decisive passes, two for touchdowns, Saturday as Missouri romped to its first victory of the season, 24-12.

Roper fired 20 and 27-yard scoring passes to John Kelsey and Charlie McMurry, along with a 34-yard strike to Otto Nichols that set up another score from the one.

Ahead 10-6 at halftime, Roper came out throwing in the second half, moving the Tigers on scoring marches of 47 and 60 yards to put the game out of reach.

The 34-yard pass to Nichols allowed Don Johnson to score from the one. On Missouri's next possession, a 19-yard run by Jack Bastable gave Missouri a first down on the Mustangs' 27. From there, Roper nailed McMurry for the touchdown and a 24-6 lead.

Stanford runs past Oregon

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI)—Don Bunce proved a worthy successor to Jim Plunkett Saturday in Stanford's first Pacific-8 Conference game of the season, throwing for three touchdowns and running for a fourth as the unbeaten Indians routed Oregon, 38-17.

Bunce completed 12 of 24 passes for 262 yards. He hit Miles Moore on scoring throws of 78 and 41 yards and got his third TD on a 26-yard heave to John Winesberry.

The Indians, 12-point favorites, led by only 10 points at the half at 17-7 and then put it away for their third consecutive victory with three touchdowns in the second half.

Duke blanks Virginia 28-0

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (UPI) — Duke fullback Steve Jones ripped through winless Virginia for two touchdowns and 140 yards Saturday as the unbeaten Blue Devils posted a 28-0 victory.

The 200-pound junior carried the ball 23 times to lead Duke to its third straight win while Virginia dropped its third in a row and has yet to score a touchdown.

Johnson-led Colorado tips Ohio State Tulsa shocks Arkansas in 21-20 upset

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Quarterback Ken Johnson, who wasn't supposed to play, ran for two touchdowns and speedster Cliff Branch raced 68 yards with a punt return for another Saturday as eighth-ranked Colorado defeated fifth-ranked Ohio State 20-14.

The tough Colorado defense stopped Ohio State, the nation's second-leading rushing team, three times inside the 10 yard line and bottled up the Buckeyes' running attack most of the afternoon. Both Ohio State touchdowns came in the final period when quarterback Don Lamka scored on a one yard plunge and passed 14

Michigan shatters UCLA 38-0

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)—Alternating senior and sophomore fullbacks Fritz Seyferth and Ed Shuttlesworth each scored from a yard out in the first quarter Saturday to let the fourth-ranked University of Michigan Wolverines turn two early breaks into a relatively easy 38-0 win over UCLA.

Sophomore quarterback Kevin Casey also hit split end Bo Rather with a 32-yard scoring pass and safety Tom Darden went 92 yards with a fourth-quarter pass interception as the Wolverines handily won their third in a row and made the Bruins perhaps the best 0-3 team in the country.

Michigan also got a 31-yard field goal from Dana Coin plus a late 3-yard run for a touchdown by reserve Harry Banks.

The Wolverines put enormous defensive pressure on throughout the game, limiting the Bruins to negative rushing in the first half and 68 yards, unofficial, for the game.

K-Staters outgun BYU 23-7

MANHATTAN, Kan. (UPI)—Bill Butler hammered out 142 yards in 41 carries, including touchdown runs of five and three yards, to lead a gambling but error prone Kansas State to a 23-7 victory over out-manned Brigham Young Saturday.

Six times Kansas State sent Butler into the line on fourth and short yardage situations, and each time the 6-foot, 225-pound senior halfback got the first down.

The Wildcats, whose offense was a demolishing ground game that racked up 269 yards, fumbled three times and quarterback Dennis Morrison was intercepted four times. But the Cougars were just as haphazard, giving the ball away six times, including the first three possessions.

Kansas State cashed in on two of those three fumbles. John Goerger topped a 27-yard field goal, and Butler scored six plays after the third, giving the Wildcats a 10-0 lead.

Alabama smashes Florida

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—Sixth-ranked Alabama, powered by tailback Johnny Musso's four touchdowns, carved out an easy 38-0 victory over Florida Saturday with Coach Bear Bryant mercifully calling off his troops in the second half.

Musso scored twice on one-yard plunges, once on a two-yard burst and again on a five-yard run, tying an Alabama one-game touchdowns record set in 1950 by Bobby Marlow.

The final Alabama tally came midway through the fourth period on an 11-yard pass from reserve quarterback Billy Sexton to Dexter Wood as Bryant's team posted its third straight win.

Oakley and Raft River draw 0-0

MALTA — The Oakley Hornets and Raft River Trojans battled to a 0-0 windblown deadlock Saturday afternoon that opened up several possibilities in the eventual outcome of the Magic Valley Conference championship chase.

The Hornets fought poor field position throughout the first quarter and once stopped the vaunted Trojans offensive game on a fumble at the 15-yard line. But after that the Hornets more than held their own and had Raft River backed against its own goal line. The Hornets were inside the 30 yard line three times in the final eight minutes but were stopped on downs, a pass interception and a penalty.

Army stuns Georgia Tech 16-13

ATLANTA (UPI)—Sophomore Jim Barclay kicked his third field goal of the game from 40 yards out with 4:06 left to play Saturday to give aroused Army a stunning 16-13 victory over a Georgia Tech team that had been expected to win by a wide margin.

The Cadets jumped off to a 13-0 first period lead on two Barclay field goals and a four-yard touchdown run by Ray Ritacco but then had to come back in the closing minutes after the Yellow Jackets tied the score at 13-all on a 21-yard field goal by Cam Bonifay 45 seconds after the final period began.

A 44-yard pass from Dick Atha to Ed Francis gave Army a first down at the Georgia Tech 15 the first time the Cadets had possession of the football.

Boston pins 49-6 loss on Navy

BOSTON (UPI) — Ed Rideout's 59-yard touchdown run on a punt return in the opening minute of play Saturday launched Boston College on a 49-6 drubbing of overmatched Navy.

Rideout's early romp came after a fake handoff and he later scored on a four-yard run as BC won for the second time in three starts while Navy was being blasted for the second time in as many weeks.

Flanker Mel Briggs also scored twice for the Eagles on runs of four and three yards.

injury in the undefeated Buffaloes' first win over Louisiana State, was not supposed to play but was a surprise starter.

He got the first Colorado touchdown in the first period on a seven-yard keeper play and the third Buffalo touchdown with 3:30 remaining in the game on a 39-yard run to make the score 20-7.

Branch, who has been clocked in 9.2 seconds in the 100 yard dash, took a punt on his own 32 yard line in the second period, eluded one tackler and raced down the sidelines untouched.

Montana State tops Fresno

BOZEMAN, Mont. (UPI) — Quarterback Zoonie McLean ran for three touchdowns and passed for another as the Montana State Bobcats downed Fresno State 37-28 here Saturday.

The Bobcats were playing under the handicap of losing two first-string sophomores because of disciplinary suspension.

But the young Bobcats, led by the speedy McLean, capitalized on Bulldog errors to pull the winning edge.

Bobcat Tweed Rhodes kicked three field goals — the longest for 31 yards — to aid the winning cause in a rough and loosely played ballgame.

Fresno made two dramatic runs in the contest, one by Harry Woodson going 55 yards off tackle, and the other when Larry Miller took a kickoff 85 yards to score.

LSU drops Badgers in point duel

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — Junior quarterback Paul Lyons ran for three touchdowns, passed for another and set an LSU total offense record of 304 yards Saturday to lead the 18th ranked Tigers to a 38-28 victory over Wisconsin in an inter-sectional football game.

Lyons went 38 yards with just 1:15 gone in the game for the first LSU touchdown and scored twice in the second half on runs of 11 and three yards. He passed to Andy Hamilton for a third quarter touchdown and the Tigers' other scoring came on a 42 yard field goal by Jay Michaelson and a two yard fourth quarter touchdown run by Chris Dantin.

Wisconsin took a 14-10 half-time lead on touchdown runs of 63 yards by Alan Thompson and two yards by Rufus Gerguson and stayed close in the second half on a 22 yard scoring pass from Neil Craft to Al Hanna and Ferguson's four yard touchdown run.

LSU scored the first four times it had the ball in the second half and was going for a fifth successive touchdown when time ran out with the Tigers on Wisconsin's 26.

the leading rusher for Colorado and the workhorse of the Buffalo backfield with 116 yards rushing in 18 carries.

Texas blanks Texas Tech

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Sparkplug quarterback Donnie Wigginton ran for two touchdowns and an alert defense set up two others with interceptions Saturday as third-ranked Texas shut out Texas Tech 28-0 in the opening Southwest Conference game of the year.

Wigginton, a 5-8 senior subbing for the injured Eddie Phillips, worked the Longhorn triple option for touchdown runs of seven and six yards.

Sophomore halfback Don Burris and senior fullback Bobby Callison each scored on five-yard runs for the defending conference champions in a game played before a crowd of 76,638.

California overpowers San Jose

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI)—After a lethargic first period in which they netted only 36 yards, the California Bears erupted for three touchdowns in the second period Saturday enroute to a comeback 34-10 win over San Jose State.

Steve Kemnitzner, a bullish 195-pound running back from Klamath Falls, Ore., scored twice on short runs and quarterback Jay Cruze flipped touchdown passes of 11 and 18 yards for the Bears. Isaac Curtis raced 25 yards for the other Bear TD in the second period.

Arkansas in 21-20 upset

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (UPI)—Lightly-regarded Tulsa struck for three fourth quarter touchdowns Saturday on the passing of quarterback Todd Starks to stagger ninth-ranked Arkansas 21-20.

Starks, held in check for most of the first three quarters, hit on passes of 23, 9 and 21 yards to Dave Stewart, Drew Pearson and Larry Frey to wipe out the 20-0 lead Arkansas had built up in the first half.

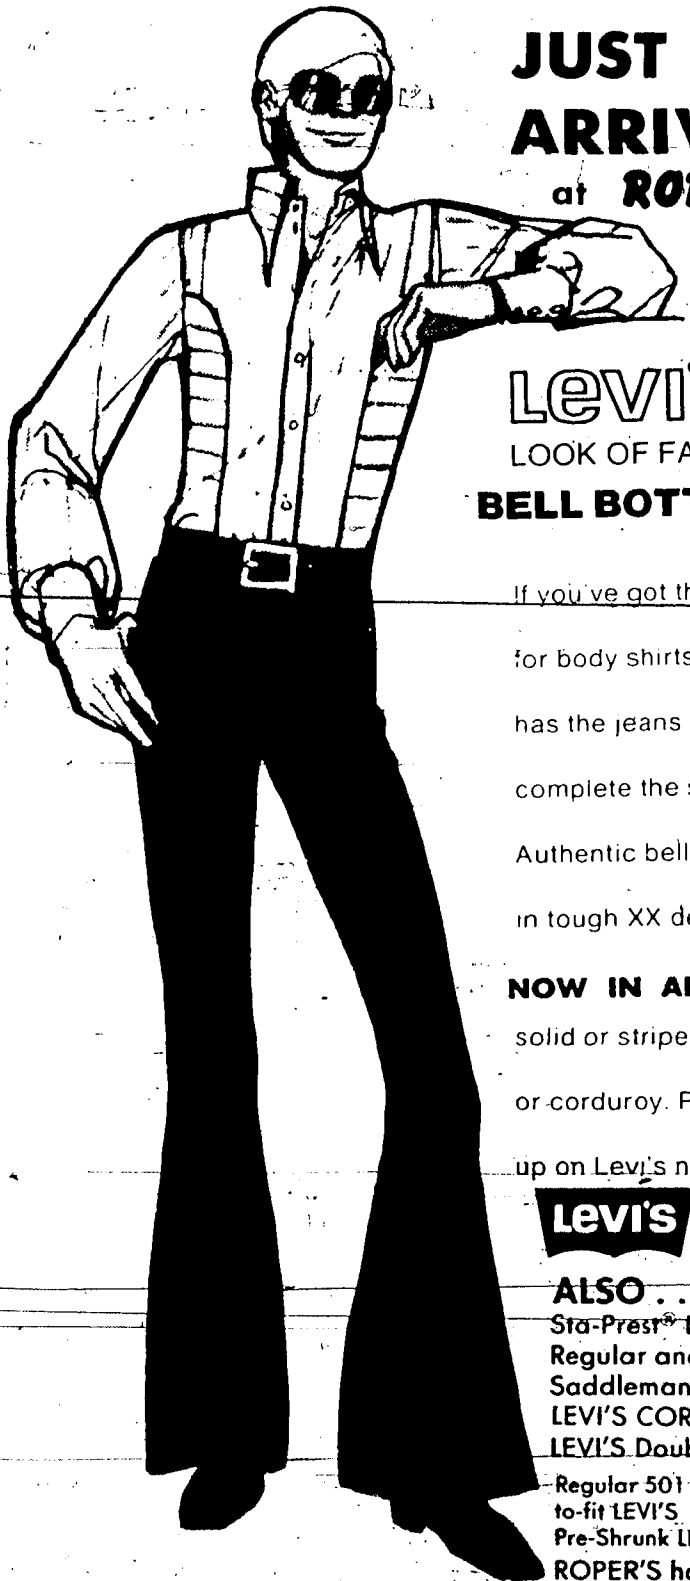

An enthusiastic overflow crowd of 37,000 sat back in anticipation of another Razorback walkaway after two impressive opening season victories over California and Oklahoma State.

And, for a while it looked like that was what was going to happen.

Arkansas' Joe Ferguson, mixing his passes with handoffs to fullback Skipper De Borde and running backs Jon Richardson and Dicky Morton, guided the smooth Arkansas offense to one first quarter score and two more in the second period.

Tar Heels roll over Maryland

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (UPI)—Wingback Lewis Jolly caught a 62-yard pass from quarterback Paul Miller for one touchdown and ran for another Saturday as North Carolina crushed Maryland 35-14.

Tailback Ike Ogilbesy's running produced a touchdown on a nine-yard dash in the second period and provided most of Carolina's offensive thrust, but two of his three fumbles set up Maryland's scores.

Miller ran in from the seven with :17 left in the third quarter to break up a 14-14 tie and Tar Heel linebacker John Bunting intercepted a Maryland pass and ran 32 yards for a touchdown late in the fourth period to destroy Terrapin hopes.

Quarterback Al Neville tossed a 24-yard pass to end Dan Burgori for one Maryland score in the third period.

Washington outpaces TCU 44-26

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI)—Aerial Wizard Sonny Sixkiller passed 56 and 48 yards for touchdowns and set up two more scores Saturday to lead Washington to a 44-26 rain-drenched victory over Texas Christian, which got a record passing performance from quarterback Steve Judy.

With a record turnout of 59,900 on hand, Sixkiller hit Jim Kreig and Tom Scott with his TD arials and then connected on key passes that kept the Huskies on offense.

Judy, meanwhile, completed nine passes to top the TCU career completion mark of the legendary "Slingshot" Sammy Baugh. Judy's nine completions gave him a total of 275, bettering Baugh's mark of 270.

Hillcrest leads BLCC

Hillcrest Country Club of Boise took a 36 1/2 to 29 1/2 lead over Blue Lakes Country Club Saturday in the opening round of the inter-club tournament.

Each match was worth three points, one for each nine and one for the 18. Ties resulted in the half-points.

The 22-man teams will meet in the second half of the competition Oct. 10 at Hillcrest.

Dodgers trim Braves, cut Giants lead to one

ATLANTA (UPI)—Duke Sims blasted a three-run home Saturday to give Los Angeles a 5-4 victory over the Atlanta Braves and bring the Dodgers to within a game of first-place San Francisco in the National League's hot west division race.

The Dodgers, who opened their Atlanta series three games behind the Giants, took their second straight while the Giants were losing their second straight to Cincinnati 6-5.

Each contender now has four games to play.

The Dodgers were trailing 3-2 when Sims homered over the center field fence, in the sixth. Jim Brewer pitched scoreless ball the final 2 2/3 innings to preserve Don Sutton's sixth victory against 12 losses.

Reds 6, Giants 5

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Hal McRae socked two home runs and Lee May and George Foster chipped in with one apiece to lead the Cincinnati Reds to a 6-5 victory over the San Francisco Giants Saturday afternoon.

Ed Sprague, the last of four Reds pitchers, cut short a Giant uprising in the seventh inning and then blanked the western division leader the last two innings to pick up his first victory since being recalled from the Reds' Indianapolis farm club.

Cubs 4, Phils 2

CHICAGO (UPI)—Ferguson Jenkins beat Philadelphia for the eighth straight time Saturday and the 19th time in his career in pitching the Chicago Cubs to a 4-2 victory.

Pittsburgh center fielder Gene Clines made a running catch of Bud Harrelson's line drive after which Leroy Stanton was purposely passed. Aspromonte then batted for Dave Marshall and clipped Raymond Hernandez, the Pirates' fourth pitcher, for the winning blow.

Georgia rips Clemson 28-0

CLEMSON, S.C. (UPI)—Tailback Ricky Lake scored two second-half touchdowns Saturday as low-starting Georgia rolled to a 28-0 shutout over Clemson.

The Bulldogs held only a 7-0 first half lead on Don Golden's 72-yard dash with an intercepted pass. But quarterback Andy Johnson, held in check through the first two periods, rallied heavily favored Georgia to three second-half scores.

Johnson scored Georgia's first touchdown from scrimmage with 9:07 left in the third quarter and Lake scored the final two TDs on a four-yard dash with less than a minute remaining in the third and a two-yard buck in the fourth to cap a 72-yard drive.

Monzon stops Griffith on TKO in 14th round to retain middleweight crown

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—Carlos Monzon, scoring repeatedly with jack-hammer power punches, stopped Emile Griffith of New York in the 14th round Saturday night to retain his world middleweight championship.

Mexican referee Ramon Beruden Mejias stopped the bout with less than a minute to go in the round as Monzon pounded a virtually helpless Griffith with a ceaseless windmill of blows.

In shattering the American's hopes of regaining the title for the third time, the 29-year-old Monzon did not have an easy time of it.

The end came with 28 seconds left in the 14th round and brought a wildly cheering crowd of 19,000 partisan fans to its feet.

The veteran Griffith showed Monzon with jabs and hooks throughout the bout, employing all his skills to overcome the Argentine's five-inch reach advantage and four-inch height advantage.

But Monzon's jack-hammer punching style won out, especially after Griffith tired in the 12th round.

For the Argentine, it was the second successful defense of the title he won last Nov. 8 in Rome from Italy's Nino Benvenuti, and his 66th victory in a row.

He knocked out Benvenuti in the return match in Monte Carlo last May 8 in only three rounds.

There were no knockdowns in Saturday night's bout.

Rebels down Kentucky

LEXINGTON, Ky. (UPI)—Sophomore quarterback Kenny Lyons passed for three touchdowns and ran for a fourth Saturday to lead Mississippi over Kentucky, 34-20.

Lyons scored Mississippi's first touchdown on a one-yard plunge in the first quarter, and hit Randy Myers with a 69-yard scoring bomb in the second quarter to put Mississippi ahead for good after Kentucky had tied the score at 6-6 on a 13-yard run by Lee Clymer.

Falcons nip Wyoming in last two seconds

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (UPI)—Sophomore Air Force quarterback Rich Haynie Saturday calmly ignored frantic Wyoming linemen and passed 15 yards to flanker Greg Smith in the endzone with two seconds left, giving Air Force a 23-19 victory.

Haynie, the No. 2 Falcon quarterback going into the game, took over the team in the second period.

Wyoming had to give up the ball with 23 seconds left and a 19-16 lead after cutting off an Air Force drive by intercepting a Haynie pass in the endzone. But 23 seconds and two plays was all the Falcons, who got the ball on the Wyoming 45, needed.

Irish nip Purdue on late fumble

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (UPI)—Pat Steenberge's looping pass through a driving rain was pulled in by Mike Creaney for a two-point conversion after a fumble recovery in the end zone to give Notre Dame an 8-7 win over Purdue in what almost turned out to be a shocking upset.

Wyoming passed to right end Dan Novak for 30 yards and then tossed to Smith in the right corner of the endzone. Wyoming, the underdog by two touchdowns coming into the game, appeared to have it won in the final period. Quarterback Gary Fox, striking quickly after a bad snap on a punt gave the Cowboys the ball on the Air Force 25, tossed eight yards to flanker Jerry Gadlin, giving the Cowboys a three-point margin.

Then Fritz Turner, Wyoming's right corner, intercepted a Haynie pass in the Wyoming endzone with 1:25 left. But the Cowboys couldn't move and had to punt.

Oliver, Stanwood added to Idaho Cup Squads

Dean Oliver, more famous for his rodeo riding and cowboy world championships, has been named to fill the 10th spot for the amateur field in Wednesday's Idaho Cup golf match while pro captain Dave Killen made his first change by naming alternate Keith Stanwood of Caldwell to take his place on the playing team. The Idaho cup, which pits the top 10 amateurs against the best 10 pros, will be played at the Blue Lakes Country Club course Wednesday to begin perhaps the busiest golf week in Twin Falls' history.

After Wednesday's competition, a pro-am is slated for Twin Falls Municipal course Thursday and the Idaho Open begins Friday and runs through Sunday.

Final preparations for the Idaho Cup will be formulated at a dinner for the field Tuesday evening at the Turf Club. The amateur team is composed of Captain Newt Carter, Boise; Paul Davids, Lava Hot Springs; Jim Lagos, Idaho Falls; Paul Bayhouse, Joe Flower and Wayne Peterson, all Boise; Willie Peterson and Jim Packard, both Twin Falls, and Gordon Crockett, Caldwell. Paul Wynes, Ontario, has been named first alternate.

The pros will send Arnold Haneke, Ray Honsberger and John Kinsey, all Boise; Mike Renshaw, Pocatello; Al Jones, Twin Falls; Ken Sparks, Nampa, Lenny Stroup, Payette; Marv Hipkins, Ontario, and Stanwood. Dave Berrett, Blackfoot, will be the pros' first alternate.

The teams will be divided into five twosomes for an 18-hole Scotchball test Wednesday morning and then meet in match play head-to-head in the afternoon. The winner will receive one point for each 18-hole match.

Gallery tickets, at no charge, may be picked up from any of the sponsoring Twin Falls merchants. These include First Federal Savings and Loan; Bank of Idaho; United Oil, Bank and Trust, The Paris, Idaho First National Bank; Kellwood, Longview Fiber, First Security Bank and Theisen Motor. They also may be obtained at the pro shop Wednesday and all spectators will be required to wear one of the tickets.

In the meantime, Idaho Open host pro Clyde Thomsen reports the field is filling up and should reach about 160. He said 23 spots remain open in the amateur side and as of Friday night 47 pros had entered and a minimum of 55 is expected.

Kennedy was timed in 13:54, followed by Tom Simmons in third, Dave Lawley in fourth, Rod Hershberger in sixth and Jess Torres in seventh.

In his first full season as manager, Lemon guided the Royals to their best record in the club's three-year history, 84-71, as the Royals opened a doubleheader Saturday with Minnesota.

Kansas City already has clinched second place in the American League West.

Lemon was elevated from pitching coach to manager June 9, 1970. He led the club to a 46-54 record and a fourth place tie that season.

General Manager Cedric Talis said the short-term contract is a club policy.

Weigle-led Jerome drops Tigers 28-14

MOUNTAIN HOME — The Jerome Tigers, getting two touchdowns from Jeff Weigle and overcoming 185 yards in penalties, dropped the Mountain Home Tigers 28-14 Friday night in a South Central Idaho Conference battle.

The Tigers piled up a big advantage statistically, out-gaining Mountain Home 425 yards to 49 and controlling the ball about 66 per cent of the time. Coach Ed Peterson, after his first unit had piled up a three-touchdown advantage, went largely with underclassmen.

Jerome drove the first time it had the ball, overcoming 35 yards in penalties before sending Rich Thomason in from the one. Before the first period ended, Bill Childers capped another march with a one-yard dive and Weigle tackled on the two pointer.

Weigle shook loose on a 55-yard scoring run in the second period with Gary Walter kicking the point-after, Jerome's first one-point conversion in two years.

Mountain Home replied with a 73-yard scoring bomb, but Weigle nullified that with a seven-yard scoring burst in the third period. Bill Childers kicked the PAT.

Late in the fourth period Rick Singleton went four yards to end Mountain Home's scoring.

Gooding stuns Buhl with 19-0 league shutout

BUHL — The Gooding Senator defense foiled two second-half drives and picked up two touchdowns in the closing three minutes to knock the Buhl Indians out of the undefeated ranks 19-0 Friday night.

Gooding scored in the second period on a 15-yard sprint by Fred Cheslik and that proved enough.

Buhl made two sustained efforts in the second half, driving from its own 20 to the Gooding eight and losing that one on a fumble and then going 78 yards from its 20 before Gooding held at the two-yard line.

Gooding mounted a drive in the fourth period but appeared stymied by a lost fumble at the Buhl 30. However, Buhl fumbled the ball right back and Gary Correll immediately put the Senators in business with an 18-yard run to the Buhl four. He then sneaked in for the touchdown with 2:50 remaining.

Gooding got the ball back in the closing seconds and on the last play of the game Correll hit split end Jeff LeCroix.

Minico rallies late in game to overhaul Nampa by 14-12

NAMPA — Kent Condie's pass interception with five minutes left set up the winning touchdown Friday night as the Minico Spartans opened their Southern Idaho Conference schedule with a 14-12 victory over the Nampa Bulldogs.

The victory capped two weeks of rejuvenation and renovation by Coach Corky Hill and the Minico coaching staff. It was their first victory after two opening defeats in which the Spartans had shown little cohesiveness. But with a two-week layoff since bowing to Burley, the Spartans, changing offenses and making several personnel shifts, shook off a month of misery.

The Spartans opened well, Blake Hoffman getting them on the scoreboard with a 68-yard scamper in the first quarter.

But Nampa, holding a big edge in size in the interior line, then managed to hold the Spartans out of the end zone while it regained the lead. Jim Baker got the first Bulldog touchdown with a two-run plunge and the Bulldogs went ahead when Monte Ward belted

T.F., W.R. dominate Boise meet

BOISE — The Twin Falls Bruins and Wood River Wolverines ran one-two Friday in the annual Boise Invitational cross country meet over the Ann Morrison Park course.

Twin Falls, placing three men in the top five, dominated the event with 50 points while Wood River, which is Class B in cross country, was second with 77. It was a long step down to Boise in third at 106, followed by Weiser 182, Burns 190, Borah 203, Jerome 214, Ontario, 223, Meridian 248, Idaho Falls 279, Skyline 343, Mountain Home 357, Bishop Kelly 373, Nampa 396, Caldwell 401, Filer 44, Valle 476 and Capital, no score.

Idaho Falls' Brian Parker nipped Twin Falls' Stan Doten for the individual title with Bruin junior David Sears placing third. Parker was timed in 12:37 and Doten at 12:38. Sears had 12:52. Junior Gary Sievers was five while Darrel Groves was 13 and Fred Stansel 27th.

Jim Kennedy took the individual crown in pacing the Bruin jayvees to an easy decision in that division. Twin Falls had 21 and second place Boise 75.

Kennedy was timed in 13:54, followed by Tom Simmons in third, Dave Lawley in fourth, Rod Hershberger in sixth and Jess Torres in seventh.

Declo ends Wolves' undefeated hopes

DECLO — The Declo Hornets, striking for 10 points in the first period, knocked the Castleford Wolves from the undefeated ranks with a 16-6 Magic Valley Conference victory Friday afternoon.

The Hornets broke onto the score board with about five minutes left in the opening period when they pushed Castleford into a hole and then threw quarterback Larry Reese for a safety in the end zone.

The Hornets came right back with the ensuing kickoff to make it 10-0, the payoff coming on a halfback pass from Gaylen Osterhout to Pete Alejandro. Rod Osterhout drove for the two extra points.

It stayed at 10-0 until early in the fourth quarter when the Reese boys, Larry and Lynn, hooked up on a flea-flicker. Larry started it with a lateral to Lynn who put the ball away as if a sweep were developing. Meanwhile, Larry circled away from the flow and was all alone when Lynn suddenly threw a cross-field pass. The play covered 36 yards but a fumble stymied the conversion try.

In the second period, Shoshone blocked a punt to set up its second score. Tim Pagoaga got it on a 12-yard burst and added the two points that proved decisive.

Kimberly got on the scoreboard late in the half when West Remaley hooked up with Tim Howard on a 40-yard touchdown bomb.

After a scoreless third period, Kimberly drove for its last score in the closing minutes. Dave Higgins plunged in from the two to cut the deficit to two points but Shoshone foiled the conversion play.

Shoshone slips past Kimberly

KIMBERLY — The Shoshone Indians fashioned a 14-0 lead in the first half, then beat back a late surge by the Kimberly Bulldogs for a 14-12 Little Five Conference win Friday night.

It marked the third time this year that extra points have cost Kimberly a chance to win or tie.

Shoshone took the lead early when, helped by a 15-yard penalty, it drove to a first down inside the Kimberly 10. On fourth down, Kinghorn threw a six-yard scoring pass to John Johnson. The point-after attempt failed.

In the second period, Shoshone blocked a punt to set up its second score. Tim Pagoaga got it on a 12-yard burst and added the two points that proved decisive.

Kimberly got on the scoreboard late in the half when West Remaley hooked up with Tim Howard on a 40-yard touchdown bomb.

After a scoreless third period, Kimberly drove for its last score in the closing minutes. Dave Higgins plunged in from the two to cut the deficit to two points but Shoshone foiled the conversion play.

W.R. tops Filer for first win

FILER — The Wood River Wolverines built their winning margin with two touchdowns in the first quarter as they downed the Filer Wildcats 21-6 for their first victory of the year Friday night.

Phi. Stelma put the Wolverines on the scoreboard when he took a 10-yard pass from Ken Uhrig. Jimbo Hurst booted the point-after. Minutes later the Wolverines marched again, this time sending Uhrig on a rollout from the 10 and Hurst again converted.

Wood River wound up its scoring in the third period when Dave Bergin scored from the 10. Filer replied with its best drive of the night and scored when Ron Griff went in from four yards out.

The game was marked by numerous personal foul penalties with Filer having 110 yards in penalties and Wood River 120.

Flynn and Devils top Huskies

MURTAUGH — Senior John Flynn put on a triple threat show Friday night that carried the Murtaugh Red Devils to a 50-14 Magic Valley Conference decision over the young Hansen Huskies.

Murtaugh scoring four times before Hansen got untracked. Stuart Tolman got the first on a 10-yard quick pitch and Steve Stanger threw to Rick Denny for 15 yards and the second score. Flynn threw to Tolman for the two points. Early in the second period Flynn scored on a 20-yard sweep and kicked the first of four conversions. Stuart got the fourth touchdown on a 25-yard ramble.

Hansen cut the margin to 28-14 before halftime, however. Jim Hopkins threw to Dave Lockwood out of punt formation and the play, plus a penalty, carried the Huskies to the Murtaugh five. Seconds later Hopkins went in from the two. The Huskies recovered a Red Devils fumble soon after and made it pay off on a 10-yard tackle around play by Caudil. Shepherd threw to Caudil on a tackle eligible for the two points.

Flynn ran wild in the second half. He threw a 25-yard pass to Barkes to set up his own five-yard sprint but he didn't score again.

Trojans top Pirates on early blitz

WENDELL — The Wendell Trojans roared for three touchdowns on the first three possessions Friday night and rolled over the Hagerman Pirates 34-13 in a non-conference game.

The Trojans moved 64 yards in five plays after the opening kickoff, Russ Rost scoring on a 30-yard dash. Seconds later Hagerman punted with Wendell's Randy Chandler returning it 30 yards to the Pirate 35. Five plays after that, Rost went in from the 10 and Kirk Webb threw to Tony Rost for the two extra points. Hagerman tried a quick kick that was partially blocked and Wendell's Rod Adams scooped it up and went 50 yards to end the early explosion.

There was no scoring until midway through the third period when Wendell shook Kip Dennis loose on a 52-yard touchdown gallop. Webb and Tony Rost again collaborated for the two points.

Hagerman came back with a long drive, much of it coming on a 46-yard strike from Owsley to Doug Butler that carried to the Wendell seven. Owsley went in from the one and Butler booted the point-after.

Wendell took the ensuing kickoff and moved 59 yards in five plays with the six points coming on a 24-yard pass from Webb to Adams.

Hagerman wound up scoring on a 10-play, 67-yard drive with Owsley again going in from the one. The point-after was blocked.

Pilots stun Valley with shotgun

EDEN-HAZELTON — The Glens Ferry Pilots caught the Valley Vikings unaware with a shotgun formation Friday night, and with Paul Shrum at the controls, overwhelmed the Vikings 40-8.

Valley drew first blood, however, as Jim Patterson recovered a Glens Ferry fumble deep in Pilot country. Seconds later Alex Perry went in from the five and Tim Brulotte got the extra two points.

Glens Ferry started scoring in the second period when Jody Allen scampered 17 yards for the touchdown and Robb Black got the tying two extra points. The Pilots then recovered a fumble on the Valley six and Paul Shrum cashed it in with a one-yard plunge.

Glens Ferry broke it open in the third period when Shrum hooked up with Black on an 85-yard scoring pass play and later in the period Leslie went in from the five. Jones converted on the second one.

In the final period, the Shrum to Black combination clicked for 33 yards and another six points and the Pilots wound up scoring on a five-yard strike from Shrum to Belliston.

HEREFORD STEERS captured both the overall interbreed championships at the Twin Falls Fair. Deanna Scott, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Scott, Hazelton, exhibited the grand champion steer. Her entry, sired by LRD PR Bushman 20V, weighed 1,095 pounds and was purchased from McBride Ranches, Mabton, Wash. Wayne Naugle, president of the Idaho Hereford Association, Nampa, presented the trophy. The reserve grand champion was shown by Harper Brothers, Malta, Ida. (Photograph by American Hereford Association)

FILER — The first Register of Merit Hereford show to be held in the State of Idaho turned out to be one of the biggest such events staged in the Pacific Northwest, according to observers of the recent Big Western ROM Show at Filer. More than 10,000 in premiums and a bright array of silver were awarded to exhibitors from 12 states. Show judge Odell Gelvin, Fairland, Okla., evenly distributed the top awards, as he selected four champions for four states. Champion bull was SR Mark Arthur E434, a summer yearling son of Mark Arthur 775, exhibited by Stone Hereford Ranch, Hemiston, Ore. Stone entries took top honors in five classes.

Nearly 500 people watched the show which was sponsored by the Idaho Cattlemen's Association, Idaho Hereford Association, and Twin Falls Fair Board. Other winners and their classes were: Junior Bull Calf, Stone Hereford Ranch on SR Command F004; Winter Bull Calf, Cumming Cattle Co., Armerst, Colo., and Andy Hop, Greeley, Colo., on CCC Mischief H50; Senior Bull Calf, Adams Bros. & Co., on ABC Mischief C4; Junior Yearling Bull, Adams Bros. & Co. on ABC Mischief 31; Senior Yearling Bull, Adams Bros. & Co. on ABC Evan Mischief 15, and Two Year Old Bull, Cumming Cattle Co. on 4A Prince 534.

Three Bulls, Adams Bros. & Co.; Two Bulls, Stone Hereford Ranch; Junior Heifer Calf, BB Cattle Co., Connell, Wash., on BB Miss B' Mark 103; Winter Heifer Calf, Adams Bros. & Co. on ABC Lady C7, Spring Yearling Heifer, Stone Hereford Ranch on SR Miss Mark E216; Pair of Yearlings, Stone Hereford Ranch, and Pair of Calves, Adams Bros. & Co.

Now that your poinsettia is indoors, how can you force it to bloom by Christmas?

Remember one cardinal point: the poinsettia is extremely sensitive to light and darkness. It should be put on a short-day, long-night schedule starting in September and ending around Thanksgiving Day.

In the subtropics nature takes care of this by providing the short days and long nights required. But in a living room that's lit, the plant is likely to get just the reverse and will be retarded.

So you should limit the poinsettia's day to about 10 hours and put it to bed for the rest of the night. Even a dim but continuous light will delay flowering, so a dimly lit hall is not dark enough.

If you haven't a dark room, cover the plant with a sheet of black plastic at night. Many home gardeners who brought their poinsettias in from the garden noticed that the leaves turned yellow and drop. This happens when roots are disturbed or broken. That's why it's always a good idea to twist the pot once a week so roots will break off.

Many of you have asked for the chemical way to shorten a tall poinsettia. Commercial growers use an ammonium compound (CCC or Cycocel), a growth retardant which keeps the plants shortened. It's sold as an 11.8 per cent solution and you pour it on the soil not later than late September. This chemical will not shorten a tall plant, but will keep plants dwarfed. If you have a leggy plant and want to shorten it, use a trick florists use, known as bending or folding of stems. The time to bend or fold your poinsettia is from Nov. 15 to Dec. 1. The stem has to be just at a certain hardness, not too soft and not too hard.

With your thumb and index finger, seize the stem where you want to make a bend on the branch, and, in a space of one and one-half inches or so, mash it with your fingers. This softens the spot where you want to make the bend. Make two bends on the stem: fold it down and then back up again. Put a stake in the soil and tie stem to it.

PARE DOWN WITH PEARS: Avoiding 3-way mirrors these days? A medium-size Bartlett pear, yellow ripe and about to burst with sweet juice when you sink your teeth into it, contains only 85 calories. It makes a good dessert, as do apples, grapes or any other fruit.

STORING ONIONS: This has been a good year for onions. Now comes the problem of storing them. First, the tops should die down naturally. The root system of the onion plant begins to die at about the same time the top starts to flop over.

I feel it's a mistake to hasten maturity by rolling down the tops with a lawn roller or a cart of some sort. After the tops have died down, onions should be brought into a garage to dry. Cut tops off, leaving one inch of stem on bulb, and they should be placed in slatted crates or course mesh bags, then stored in a dry, dark storage at around 40 degrees for a couple weeks. Some people hasten drying by putting a fan on them.

If you've had trouble with onions sprouting in storage, try this trick sent me by a gardener. Place the onions in a box with the root side up and they supposedly will not sprout.

PRAYER PLANT: The so-called "rabbit-track plant" or "prayer plant" is unusual in that the leaves fold upward at night, like hands in supplication. Hence the name "prayer plant."

Maranta has tuberous roots about the size and shape of small olives. Many think these are some sort of disease or insect trouble. They are part of the plant, yet many accuse these structures of causing plants to wilt or turn brown. The big trouble comes when you overwater or use a soil that's poorly drained.

Give the Maranta a bright, or semi-shady window (not direct sunlight), and a soil that has equal parts sand, peat and man. During winter the plant likes to be kept slightly on the dry side as it is going through a rest period. Other times, the soil should be kept uniformly moistened. You can start new plants by dividing the roots. Meanwhile, don't worry about those swellings on the roots. They are natural.

DRYING FLOWERS: Did you know that one of our readers used kitty litter for drying her flowers for indoor arrangements? Other materials to use include sand, borax, a mixture of sand, silica gel, corn meal and a mixture of cornmeal and sand.

FREE: If you want more information on drying flowers, send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope and ask for my guide, "ALL ABOUT DRIED ARRANGEMENTS."

It's packed full of good tips on drying flowers and preserving materials by various means. And while writing, tell us how you like our service and how we can improve upon it.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK: D. E. of Twin Falls: "We have no eave troughs on our house, therefore when it rains, the water splatters mud on the foundation. What can be done to prevent this?"

One trick you might try consists of putting some crushed stone or gravel along the foundation wall, making it about 3 inches thick. Or if your budget allows, you can plant a ground cover such as Pachysandra or Vinca to prevent splashing. Some gardeners use square patio blocks along the foundation to prevent splashing. These are just a few tricks to use. Living plants or a layer of stones work the best. A. H. of Aberdeen: "Why is it our pears never keep after we pick them? Is something missing in the soil?"

No, I think it's a matter of picking them at the right time. Just about every pear we know should be picked long before it is ready to eat. A fair rule of thumb is to pick when the stem parts from the branch when the fruit is lifted. Some folks wait until the seeds are brown. If your pears don't keep well, chances are you're picking them too late, causing the fruit to be mealy or gritty.

Some gardeners let wormy pears be their guide for picking. When wormy fruit begins to turn yellow, that's the time to pick the green fruit, as injured fruit will ripen first. To ripen your pears after they are picked, cover them with newspapers and keep them in the garage, or on a cool porch. Pears ripen best at 65 degrees and 85 per cent humidity, or higher, which means a cool, humid place.

FREE: If you'd like a bulletin on using Bartlett pears in recipes, send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope for your copy. Ask for "Favorite Pear Recipes."

Meanwhile, if you're thinking about setting out pear trees next year, you might include more Bartletts, Bosc, Clapp's Favorite and Seckel. If you choose Bartlett and Seckel to grow together (a dandy combination), do be sure to provide a pollinator, either by planting a third pear variety, or by hanging bouquets in trees.

Estimates of costs withheld

BOISE (UPI)—The Idaho Department of Highways said today from now on its engineer's estimate of detailed construction costs will not be announced prior to or at the time bids are opened for highway projects.

The announcement said, however, the state highway engineer may after the contract is awarded release the engineer's estimate to the news media.

Valley Weather Report

Twin Falls and vicinity; North Side; Burley-Rupert area:

measurable precipitation, 20 per cent today, 40 per cent tonight.

Camas Prairie; Halley and Lower Wood River Valley:

Variable cloudiness with locally gusty winds and scattered showers today; increasing clouds late today with occasional light rain in the valleys and snow above 6,500 feet elevation. Highs today and Monday in the 50s and low 60s; low tonight 35 to 45. Chance of the 30s.

Central Idaho mountains south of the Salmon River: Considerable cloudiness with scattered showers today; increasing clouds late today with occasional light rain or snow, with snow predominating above 6,500 feet. High today and Monday 45 to 55; low tonight 33 to 43.

Synopsis: A cool low-pressure trough continued to develop Saturday along the Pacific Coast. With high pressure in the Eastern Pacific, small impulses will move around this high and down into the Western United States at intervals, bringing recurrences of stormy weather.

By mid-afternoon Saturday, a cold front had moved across Idaho and expanded to extend from Western Wyoming southwestward into the Las Vegas, Nev., area. Some shower activity was reported in the unstable air behind the front, and a trace of rain fell in Twin Falls and throughout the West Valley.

Professional cleaners can treat a carpet to make it fire resistant.

BEDDING: A proposed Bureau of Standards regulation would require mattresses to resist burning by a dropped cigarette. Some department stores already offer fire-resistant mattress covers and pads. For smokers, they're a must.

UPHOLSTERY: Furniture stuffing, like mattress stuffing, will smolder and can give off asphyxiating billows of smoke. The best upholstery coverings are tightly woven, hard surface wool and modacrylics or vinyl.

If you're still lukewarm about flammable fabrics, you should get the booklet, "Silent Epidemic," which describes with grim pictures what happens to children burned by clothing. There are tips on how to prevent clothing fires which make it a good teaching tool for children.

Libraries in state lack funds

BOISE (UPI)—Gov. Cecil D. Andrus acknowledged Friday that Idaho's public libraries are underfunded and he hinted they may continue to be for some time.

Andrus told the Governor's Library Conference in Boise that libraries are one of the priorities for state funding but that "this year been a year when even our priorities have felt the financial crunch."

"Education, health, environment — all are under-funded like you are," Andrus said. "I can't say that it will be corrected soon."

Mind Your Money

By PETER WEAVER
A 5-year-old boy was playing with matches. His pajamas caught fire and roasted him alive.

This is not an odd accident. Clothing burns are common. The government estimates that 4,000 deaths, 200,000 serious injuries and $250 million monetary damages are suffered annually because most fabrics in common use will burn like a torch when ignited.

The government is moving slowly toward tougher regulation of fabric flammability. Children's nightwear will soon have to face much tougher flammability tests. Carpets already have to pass a test.

Still, many commonly used fabrics are dangerously flammable. Here's a buying (or home safety) guide suggested by some top fire experts:

CLOTHING: Sears, J. C. Penney and possibly some other department stores now offer flame-resistant children's nightwear. Unfortunately, you can only buy it through the catalogues. It's also more expensive and is limited to flannel nightwear in sizes up to 6-X.

Halloween costumes are treated to resist burning but don't wash them or use them after they've been out in the rain. The fire protection washes off. Specially treated children's nightwear can pass flammability tests after 50 washings (the standard due to go into effect next year).

Aside from these few specially treated fabrics there are others which are naturally flame resistant. Wool and modacrylics that are tightly woven and have no fuzzy nap resist fire well.

Nylon, polyesters and olefins do not ignite easily if they're closely woven, but when they do ignite they smelt and drip which can cause a burn. Cotton, linen, rayon, acetates, triacetates and acrylics (not modacrylics) burn easily, especially when they're loosely woven or have a nap surface.

You can get a booklet, "Fibers and Fabrics," describing the qualities of various fibers (including the more flammable fabrics by brand name) by sending 65 cents to: U. S. Government Printing Office; Washington, D. C. 20402.

After small children, older persons are the most susceptible to clothing burns. The National Fire Protection Assn. suggests women should not wear loose, flowing, long-sleeved gowns or housecoats. These can easily ignite when you reach across a kitchen range. Older men who smoke should avoid rayon or cotton sweaters. Wool sweaters are safest.

CARPETS: Experts say most shag carpets will ignite easily unless they are specially treated. Densely woven wool or modacrylic carpets are the safest. Carpets made after April 16 this year have to pass a government ignition test. Small throw rugs are exempt but by December must have a "warning — flammable" label if they can't pass the ignition test.

Production of eggs increases

BOISE (UPI)—Egg production in Idaho during August totaled 18 million eggs, three million more than August of 1970.

The Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service said the average number of layers on hand during August at 940,000 was 13 per cent more than last year.

"Improving the environment goes hand-in-hand with economic progress. You can't have much of one without the other."

Quality of Life Starts with Bread and Butter

Economic progress means jobs, payrolls — bread and butter. It — with environmental improvement — can create a better quality of life for everyone. All of us need both.

The best and perhaps the only way to achieve these twin objectives is through the greater use of energy other than muscle power. This is how Americans over the years multiplied production, made higher wages possible with shorter weeks and increased leisure time for workers.

In our business of furnishing your needs for electric power, we know the demand today is twice as great as it was ten years ago, and we think that pattern of growth will continue, perhaps increase.

No new plants to generate power will be necessary on schedule. We will make them compatible with the environment in every possible way — whether they are hydro, thermal or nuclear. Abundant clean power will continue to be available as a driving force for a better economy and for a better environment too. Electricity is essential for both.

1972 AUTOMOTIVE NEWS

1972 - NEW MODEL ANNOUNCEMENT 236 SHOSHONE ST. W. TWIN FALLS

WILLS AND PLYMOUTH ARE COMING THROUGH FOR YOU!

WILLS MOTOR CO. ANNOUNCES NEW LINES FOR 1972
Hank Wills, manager of Wills Motor Company stated today that the new lines from Plymouth will startle, thrill, and delight every man, woman, and child in Magic Valley. There is at least one automobile among these new 1972's that will respond to the taste, desires, and dreams of even the most discriminating car buyer.

Plymouth offers for 1972 the most versatile new model line-up in history, with a freshly restyled and realigned full-size Fury series. This year introducing the Fury Gran Coupe, and the Fury Gran Sedan. An improved Road Runner-inspired intermediate line, the new Valiant and Dusters in the compact series, and the newly styled exciting Barracuda.

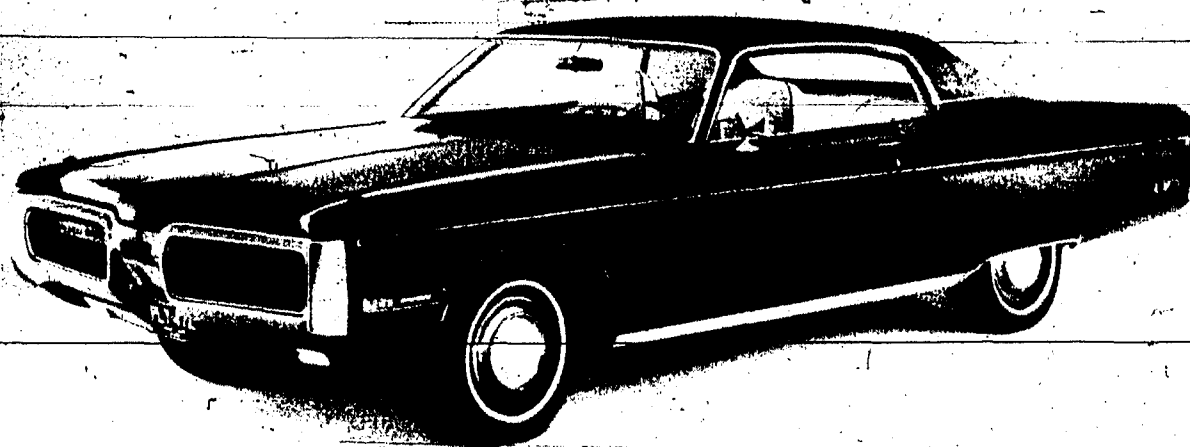

"The 1972 line is indicative of Plymouth's offer to create truly outstanding product offerings in every market segment," Wills said. "Never before have we gone into a new model year with such strength in each model we offer. We are very enthused about Plymouth's outlook for 1972."

Ernie Wills, new car manager of Wills Motor Company stated, "The new 1972 Plymouth Fury has head, shoulder and leg room as large, or larger than some of its high-priced competitors. Standard features out number the optional items too."

On styling, Mr. Wills said, "Plymouth is one of the few all-new styled passenger cars from the industry, Plymouth Fury series will feature changed sheet metal exterior, with bumper, grilles, lamps and exterior ornamentation characterizing the 1972 look. Station wagon models have a new tailgate door with concealed upper hinges and hardtop glass, which allows the door to be opened without lowering the window."

"A new engine will debut in 1972," Mr. Wills said, "It's a 400 CID single, two-barrel. The 400 will offer a ready reserve of power in the lower range as well as fuel economy."

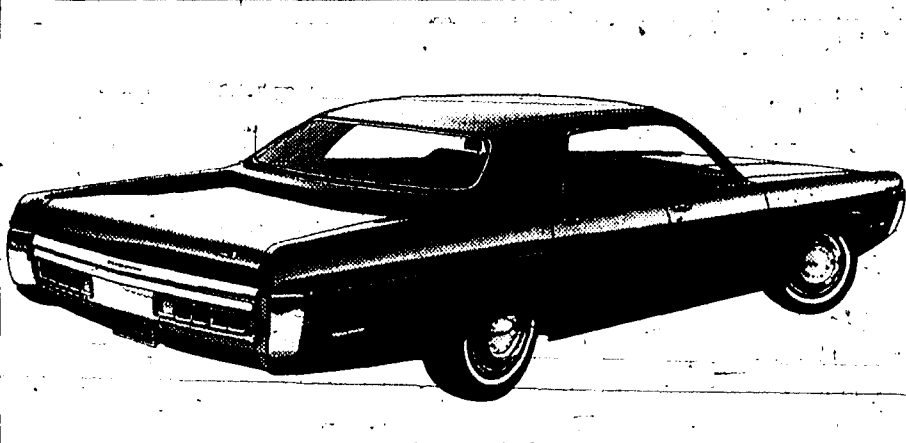

"Wills Motor Company is very proud of the 1972 Plymouth line, and we would like to invite everyone in the Magic Valley to stop by and see them," Wills said.

1972 FURY GRAN COUPE

The good life has never looked so good before. And you've got two beautiful ways to go. You can choose from two Gran Coupe hardtops. The Fury 2-door standard hardtop. Or the 2-door formal hardtop. To add even more luxury, order an optional vinyl roof for either in your choice of five colors. Besides being big in luxury, the Fury Gran Coupe is also one of the biggest hardtops in the industry.

1972 FURY III

A big car should be big in comfort and convenience. And that's exactly what the Fury III is. It's 18 feet long and its wheelbase measures a full ten feet. On the inside you'll find one of the industry's roomiest interiors. And then there's Torston-Quiet Ride. The comfort and handling package for quiet, controlled driving.

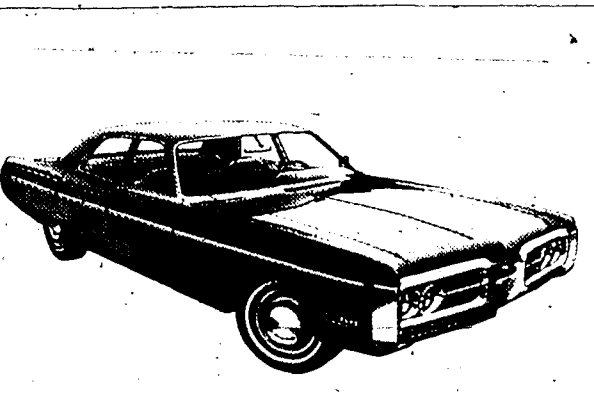

1972 PLYMOUTH FURY HAS FRESH STYLING. LONG LIST OF ENGINEERING IMPROVEMENTS.

"Mini" — "Sub" — "Small" may be "in-words" to some but the 1972 Plymouth Fury Series will offer new style and innovation to the standard size automobile for the market that wants more in things automotive. A complete new styling, coupled with economy, value and comfort, will be featured in the eight series, and 16 models of the top line of Plymouth. The consumer who is interested in the standard size car is being offered a new look as well as engineering improvements for the 1972 series. Models have been realigned to provide the widest selection possible. There are two-door hardtops in the Fury II, Fury III, and Plymouth Gran Coupe; a two-door formal hardtop in Fury III and Gran Coupe, and three four-door sedans in Fury I, Fury II, and the Fury III. There are also available two four-door hardtops in the Fury III and Gran Sedan; a total of six wagons — three two-seaters, three wagons with three seats in the suburban, Custom Suburban, and Sport Suburban. This, according to extensive market research, indicated that the standard size car will be a leader in the 1972 model year.

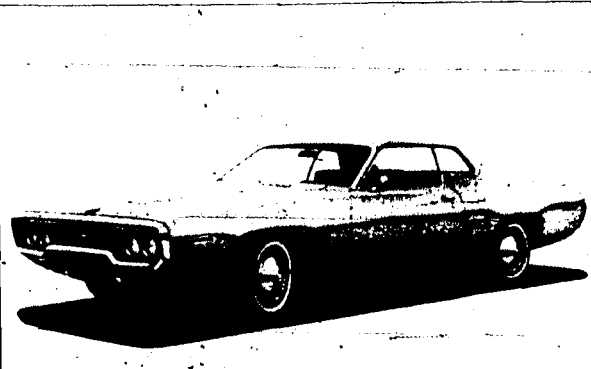

1972 FURY CUSTOM SUBURBAN

Big on looks, big on loads. That's the '72 Fury wagons coming through for you. For load space, you've got 104 cubic feet of room for picnic baskets, gardening supplies, what-have-you. For a solid, quiet ride, you've got Torston-Quiet Ride - the ultimate in driving comfort. All Fury wagons now feature a three-way tailgate with hardtop glass. You can use the tailgate as a door without lowering the glass.

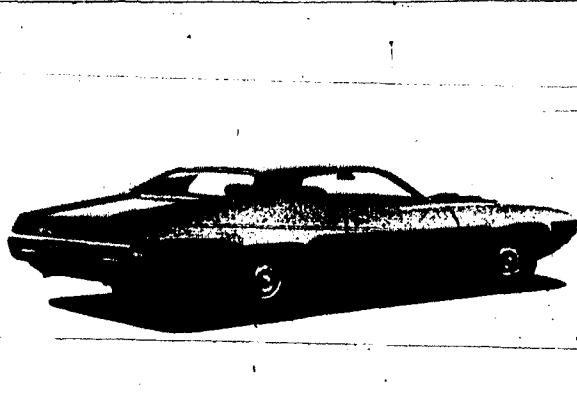

1972 FURY II

Here is the most economical way to go Fury in '72. A long list of engineered - to - last features as standard equipment: automatic transmission, power steering, ventless side glass, keyless door locking, bias-belted tires, an anti-theft ignition system that locks the steering column and ignition when you remove the key, and much more.

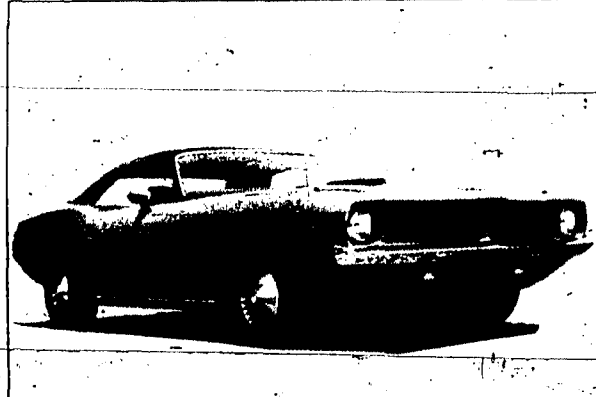

1972 SATELLITE COUPE

One for the mobby! And here's one for the show! A full measure of style, performance and comfort . . . inside and out . . . plus new taillights and new side marker lights-reflectors. Big enough for the road; practical enough for the city.

1972 ROAD RUNNER

The bird is on the wing again. Flying better than ever. With a new deep-throated grille. Standard equipment is the type all Road Runner fanciers appreciate: 340 c.i. 4 bbl. V-8 engine. Heavy-duty suspension and much more; including a 'Beep-Beep' horn.

1972 BARRACUDA

By far the sportiest car in America. The Barracuda hardtop, 6 or V-8, it's the low-cost way to let it all hang out. Additional sporty options are even more plentiful for '72.

From F. S., Hansen, Idaho: I have a one hundred dollar bill from the State of Louisiana dated March 10th, 1863. Has this any value?

Answer: Your note, No. N-338 in Criswell's "North American Currency" currently sells at $4.50, if it is in extremely fine condition. From D. L., Twin Falls, Idaho: I have a real fine looking coin which is larger than a fifty-cent piece. It is a deep, reddish bronze color. On one side there are three men's heads. The lettering says "Founders". Around the outside it says "Russell-Majors-Waddell". Also "United States Commemorative Medal". On the back is a pony express rider. The reading says, "National Pony Express Centennial Association" and it is dated 1860-1960. I have never seen another like this and think it may be valuable. Would you know about it? Answer: It is not a coin—it is a medal. In 1957 an organization known as the National Pony Express Centennial Association was chartered in Utah. Its only purpose was to sponsor a 1960 re-run of the Pony Express and to preserve the history of that organization. The Governors of the eight states through which the original Pony Express ran were honorary members of the Board of Governors. (California, Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Nevada, Utah and Wyoming).

The original Pony Express was founded by Russell, Majors and Waddell, three men who were prominent in the early days as freighters. The Pony Express route ran between the Missouri River and California and its performance was remarkable.

The riders carried mail, written on tissue paper, through hostile Indian Territory on a 1966 mile route on which were established 190 stations. Eighty riders and 400 horses made 308 trips in 19 months and only one rider and one sack of mail were lost. The transcontinental telegraph was finished at that time and the Pony Express went out of business. The Centennial celebration had 10-day Pony Express re-runs requiring 96 riders and 960 horses—480 in each direction. Many local celebrations were held along the course, and in Salt Lake City a "Pony Express Queen" was crowned. A great many monuments and plaques were put up at this time at locations on the old route. All riders were local people who volunteered, and at the end of the run they were presented with Bibles, as they were 100 years ago.

The bronze medal you have was struck at the Philadelphia Mint to commemorate the occasion. It was designed by J. A. Links. The rider on the reverse is from a famous painting of the Pony Express which was painted by Herman Hansen in 1900. There were 500,000 of these medals struck in bronze (which is what you have) and 5,000 silver. They sold for $1.75 originally, and at the present time are worth around $2.50 in uncirculated condition. They are not hard to buy—there being a great many around.

From N. M., Burley, Idaho: I have the following silver dollars. Can you tell me their value?

1878, 1885, 1884, 1891, 1921. Also I have four Indian Head Pennies dated 1904, 1904, 1907, and 1908. I would like to know what they are worth.

Answer: Dates do not mean much unless I know the condition of the coins. Since I have no way of knowing their condition, about all it is possible to say is that the silver dollars are worth from $2.50 to $4.50 and the Indian Head Cents, from twenty cents to $1.00 each. Sorry, your description is too vague.

(Questions on coins and currency should be sent to The Money Box, c/o The Times News, Twin Falls, Idaho 83301.)

Farm alert

COLLEGE STATION, TEX. (UPI) — A Texas agricultural specialist has warned swine and poultry farmers to install warning systems to alert them when electrical power goes off.

W.S. Allen said a battery-operated alarm system could mean the difference between success and failure when electricity is used to provide warmth and light for young poultry and swine.

McClure will talk to clubs

TWIN FALLS — Cong. James McClure, R-Idaho, will be honored at a reception and will address members of two service clubs as he visits this area next Wednesday and Thursday, it was announced Saturday.

The Republican Women's Club of Twin Falls is sponsoring a no-host dessert luncheon at the Turf Club Wednesday starting at 2 p.m. This will also be the regular monthly meeting of the organization, according to Mrs. Shirlee Coiner, chairman in charge.

Prior to the reception the Congressman will speak to members of the Twin Falls Rotary Club at noon. On Thursday, at noon, he addresses members of the Twin Falls Kiwanis Club. Both clubs meet at the Turf Club.

At the reception, according to Mrs. Coiner, the Congressman will answer questions from members and guests as to his views on various subjects. He will discuss the role of women in politics and will also give special recognition to Mrs. James A. Sinclair, Twin Falls, newly elected national GOP committeewoman for Idaho.

The Congressman is being prominently mentioned as a candidate for the Senate seat which will become vacant next year with the resignation of Len Jordan. Cong. McClure is from Idaho's First Congressional District.

Usual senate snail's pace rudely upset on draft bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — So accustomed is the Senate to a pace which the Supreme Court once called "all deliberate speed" that anything faster becomes a totally alien tempo. Anything swift or sudden, of course, is beyond even remote thought and leads to embarrassed confusion.

But one day this week—Tuesday—both speed and suddenness—simultaneously—struck the Senate.

After devoting 32 days of debate on the draft bill and then seven more on the conference report, there certainly was nothing to indicate the Senate was in a hurry.

The program—and the Senate under the guidance of Assistant Democratic leader Robert C.

Byrd is becoming more and more programmed—called for a vote to cut off debate at high noon.

That, being on the advance schedule, worked well. Everybody—at least everybody who bothered to be in town—voted on time and cloture carried.

Under the Senate's sometimes strange rule when a filibuster is choked off it does not really end. Every senator can still gab for another hour.

Knowing this, senators routinely fled the chamber, heading for lunch, office, even committee meetings. The expectation was for two, possibly three, days of futile debate before the final vote which would send the draft bill to President Nixon.

League to discuss detention facilities

TWIN FALLS — Local information concerning existing and proposed detention facilities will be presented Thursday at the unit meetings of the League of Women Voters of Twin Falls.

Mrs. Chuck Charlton, detention study chairman, and the committee consisting of Mrs. T. M. Robertson, Mrs. Luther Thompson, Mrs. Golden Bennett and Mrs. John Ricks, have interviewed city and county officials. They will be presenting material concerning statistics on contributing factors in arrests and convictions; plans for updating the county jail; present treatment and prevention procedures; existing detention facilities for juveniles; suggestions for future improvements in the system; and facts from studies in this area.

The two League units will be held Wednesday at 9 a.m. at Heritage Manor on Filer Avenue West, and Thursday evening at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Tom Howard, 1943 Stadium Blvd.

Mrs. Steve Smith, local president, announced there will be babysitting available for that morning meeting and that anyone who would like to attend and use the babysitting service, should call Mrs. Howard, 734-2138 for arrangements.

IT'S A BAD TRIP

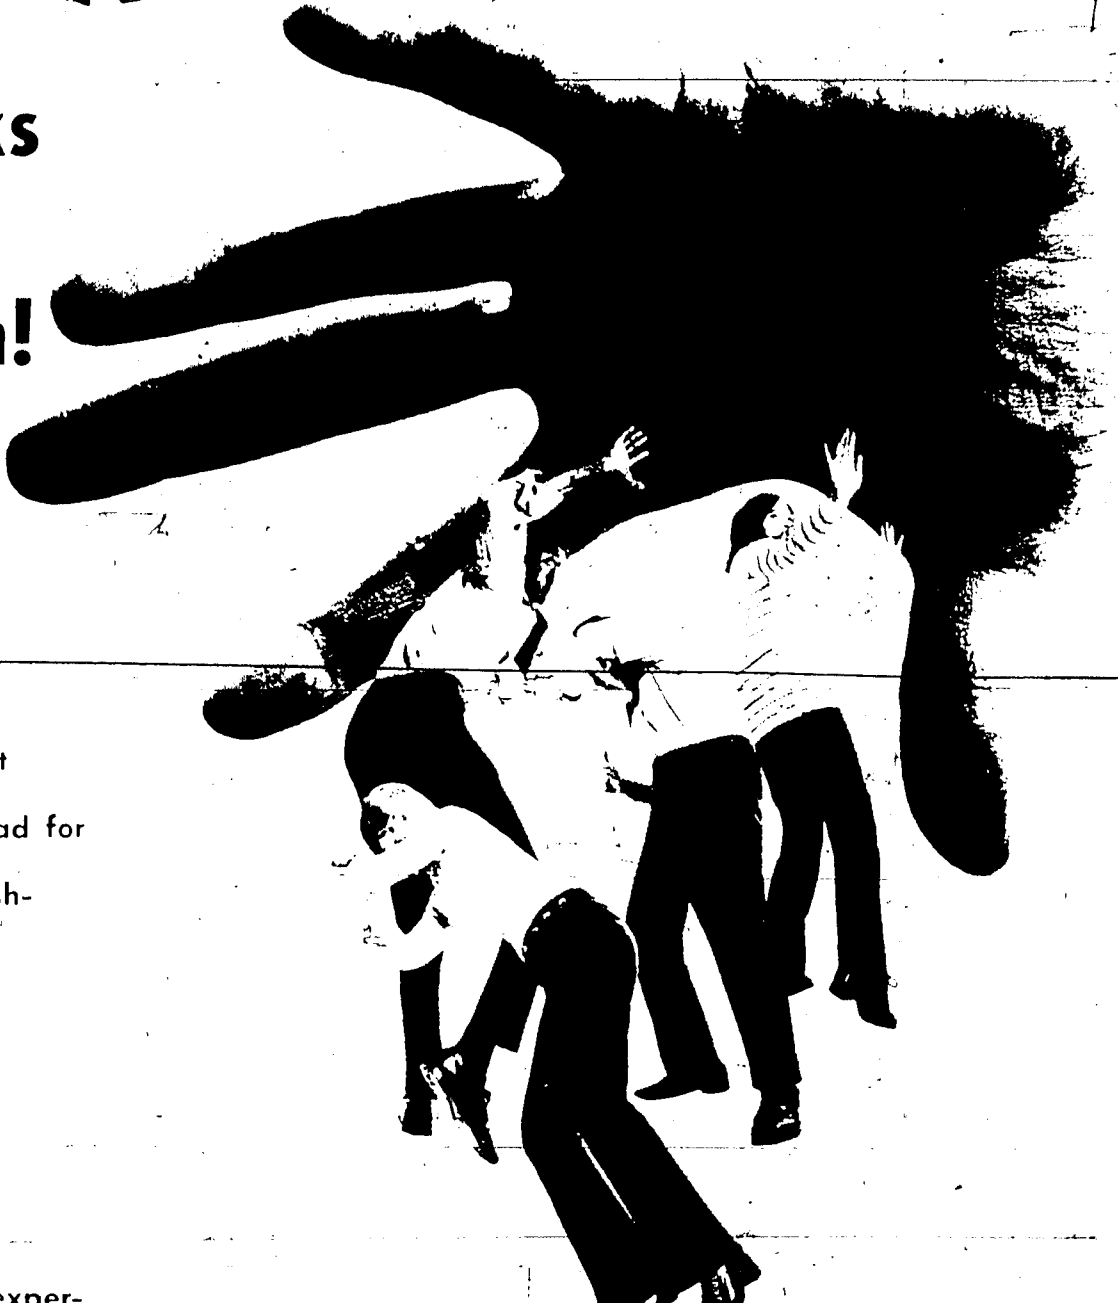

(with the nightmare OF DRUGS)

That Just-for-Kicks "High" Goes Just One Way... Down!

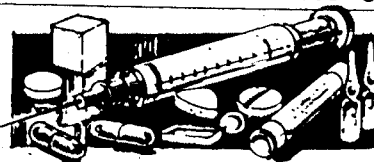

Oh, sure. We all know the guy who wasn't going to get hooked. He was a real cool cat who could handle the stuff. He told us so himself. We've been reading a lot about him for some time — in the newspapers. Once he got caught stealing — he needed more bread for more junk. Then, he got busted for pushing the stuff. Same old story. He needed more and more money to feed his habit. The other day he OD'd. End of bad trip. Maybe that sounds like a very familiar story.

Maybe it's someone you know. Don't experiment with drugs — even if some of the crowd do. Tripping never ends up right. It can end up wrong. Dead wrong.

KNOW YOUR ENEMY!

BEFORE IT'S TOO LATE! We must stem the epidemic of drug-abuse. We must educate ourselves and our children to the dangers. We must work with national and local organizations to set up Information Centers, Drug Rehabilitation Programs.

Sunday, September 26, 1971

TWIN FALLS — "EDITH" could become the best friend of every Twin Falls family — someone to depend on in case of tragedy in the form of a serious fire in the home.

"EDITH" stands for Exit Drills In The Home and is the Twin Falls Fire Department's means of calling attention to the need for every family to prepare a means of getting safely from a home in the event of fire, especially one which strikes in the night time while parents and children are asleep.

Fire Prevention Week which begins Oct. 4 was chosen as the time "EDITH" visits Twin Falls. Throughout the week the fire department is stressing fire prevention and protection measures. Films will be shown during service club meetings and in the schools. Special fire drills will be held in the schools and personnel at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital will be given additional training in procedure in the event of a fire there.

Fire Chief Bobby K. Bopp said 20,000 pamphlets will be distributed to homes in the area through the Times News. Each will help families in their plans for training members as to proper exit. Each family, Bopp says, should go over its house plans and prepare a safe escape with two possible exits.

They should practice making escapes and should drill frequently with all members of the family present. The home applies to the main family home, a relatives home, motel or hotel where they might be staying over night.

Many serious fires in which persons have been trapped and killed have been in the news in recent months, Bopp said, including one life lost in the Camera Center Hotel fire in Twin Falls earlier this year.

In the United States, more than 600,000 homes and apartments are destroyed by fire annually and 6,500 persons die in these fires. Many of these people are defenseless young or old, Fire Marshal Fred Higgins says.

In addition to the exit plans, each family should take an inventory of the home to eliminate or correct fire threats.

School drills are conducted frequently in Twin Falls and in practice evacuation of the Lincoln Elementary School, about 800 students and faculty members cleared the building in just two minutes. The largest wing of the building was cleared in one minute, Fire Department officials said.

Another phase of fire safety in Twin Falls involves steps which have been taken for institutions where ill or injured persons would require help. A drill at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital is held at least every 30 days to acquaint all shifts of personnel with what should be done to extinguish the blaze, protect and evacuate patients.

Bopp said in Twin Falls during 1970 there were 281 fire alarms answered and fire accounted for a loss of $63,700 or a per capita loss of nearly $3. This compares to a national average of $14 per capita.

Of the total alarms in Twin Falls, 84 involved calls to homes and most of these were between 6 a.m. and 6 p.m. There were calls to stores, two to warehouses, five to schools, two to the hospital. Alarms also included one rest home, one theater, 28 small businesses, 24 automobiles, 16 false alarms, 68 weed and trash fires and 42 stand-by burns. Three calls were for resuscitator equipment. Twenty fires occurred from 12 a.m. to 6 a.m., 200 from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. and 61 between 6 p.m. and midnight.

Fire Department members undergo continuous training and practice in use of the department's equipment and in employing latest techniques and knowledge in fire fighting.

Protection for Twin Falls residents includes one 85-foot ladder truck capable of reaching windows of a seven story building; three pumper trucks including one new unit acquired during the past year.

There are also two reserve trucks including the department's oldest unit, a 1940 truck still in good working condition.

Working with the fire chief in the fire prevention week campaign are all 39 members of the department. Fred Higgins, fire marshal, and Claire Harkins, fire inspector.

Operation "EDITH" is sponsored by the Merchants Association, Insurance Association and restaurant owners.

Prevention measures

A MAP of the house and the two emergency exit routes to be used in case of fire are reviewed by Mr. and Mrs. Claire Harkins and their daughters, Mitzi, 4, and Tammy, 2.

Emergency exit

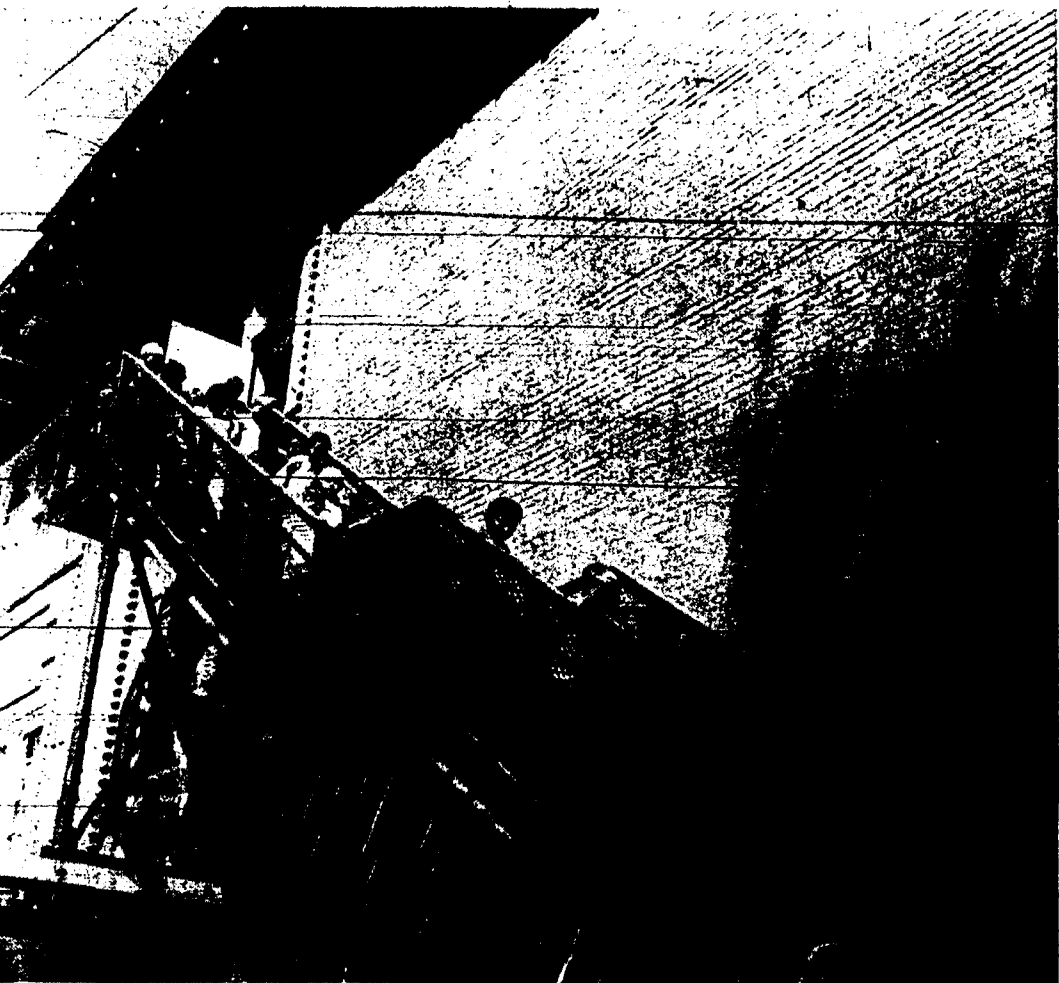

MRS. CLAIRE HARKINS hands their daughter, Tammy, to her husband as they practice leaving one of the emergency exits as little Mitzi looks on. Exit drill in the home is of great importance and will be stressed during Fire Prevention Week which begins Oct. 4.

Early teaching

CLAIRE HARKINS shows his daughters, little Tammy, 2, and Mitzi, 4, how, in case of fire, to check the door for heat before entering the next room. All family members should be thoroughly briefed on fire safety rules.

YOUNGSTERS leave Lincoln School via the fire escape during a practice drill. The school was cleared in two minutes.

Rescue operations

FIREMEN practice rescue operations at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital. In introducing "EDITH," special emphasis will be placed on safety in institutions where it may be necessary to help ill or handicapped persons evacuate the building.

Newlyweds honored

TWIN FALLS — Newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Kent Jasperson, were honored at a reception Sept. 10 at the Twin Falls LDS Third Ward Cultural Hall.

Kathryn Newman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Newman, Twin Falls, and Kent Jasperson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jasperson, Payson, Utah, were married Sept. 9 in rites at the Mantle LDS Temple, Utah. An open house was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents in Payson.

The bride wore an empire-styled long-sleeved gown of white satin with an overlay of lace on the bodice and cuffs of the sleeves. The veil was attached to a crown of ribbon and lace. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lavender mums with cascading lavender and purple ribbon streamers.

Gail Newman, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, with Lesley Crane, Castro Valley, Calif., and Jolyn Nebeker, Vernal, Utah, as bridesmaids.

Kent Olson, of Santaquin, Utah, was best man. Wendy Flanders, Tooele, Utah, and Debbie Mitchell, Spanish Fork, Utah, nieces of the bridegroom, were flower girls.

Mrs. Tom Hauge, Boise, cousin of the bride, registered guests and Mrs. Gerald Jackson, Caldwell, the bride's aunt, and Mrs. Blaine Mitchell, Payson, Utah, the bridegroom's sister, served refreshments. In charge of the gift table were Lynda Reid, Jerome, friend of the bride, and Mrs. Jay Flanders, Tooele, sister of the bridegroom.

Marty Flanders, Tooele, nephew of the bridegroom, and Cerise Edwards carried the gifts, Theresa Mitchell, Spanish Fork, Utah; Ann Hines, Mountain Home, Idaho; Joni Higginbotham and Jerine Graybill assisted with the individual tables.

Mrs. Lee VanderDoes was hostess at the reception and Mrs. Dee Hansen, Mrs. Don Mallory and Diane Loughmiller assisted in the kitchen.

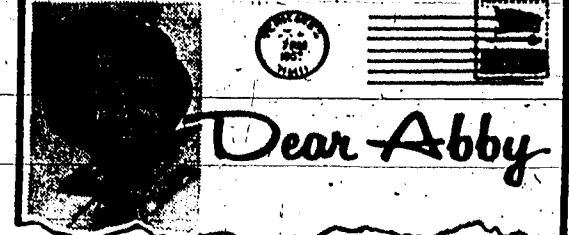

Special guests were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bennett, Mountain Home, and the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Sabra Barney, Pleasant Grove, Utah.

DEAR ABBY: Nell, a very dear friend of mine, 63, recently lost her husband. Nell has a well-to-do aunt (85) who invited her to come and live with her and be her companion. Auntie lives in a beautiful apartment with a full-time housekeeper. Auntie has a daughter living with her. The daughter is 60 and also widowed, and Auntie and Daughter can't be in the same room for 20 minutes without fighting.

Well, Nell moved in with Auntie and things were going splendidly until Daughter fired the housekeeper and informed Nell that SHE was to be the housekeeper!

Now poor Nell is breaking her back over there with all the work in addition to being referee for Auntie and Daughter. Nell is rather on the timid side and has asked me to help get her out of that situation without getting Auntie angry with her. (Nell is not destitute.)

I am considering playing "sick" and sending for Nell to "nurse" me for a few weeks, after which she can tell Auntie she is not returning.

My husband says if I try to pull a stunt like that I am out of my mind. What do you think?

NELL'S BEST FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: I'm with your husband. Tell Nell to remind Auntie that she was invited to be a "companion," not a housekeeper, and since the picture has changed, she's leaving.

DEAR ABBY: I am on a self-imposed diet, and I try to eat sensibly. I am inclined to be a little on the heavy side, but I finally got my weight down to where I want it, and I'm trying hard to keep it there.

Well, I always eat uptown at a place near work. A group of co-workers eat with me. Invariably someone will look at my plate and say, "Is THAT all you're going to eat?" Then someone else will say, "You don't have to watch your diet, you're so THIN!"

Abby, I find these remarks very irritating, and I would like to say something to put them in their place, but I don't know what. Can you give me a simple phrase? Nothing too smart-alecky because I'm a shy person. However, whatever you suggest, I will give a try. Thank you.

COUNTING CALORIES

DEAR COUNTING: Say, "Yes, that's all I'm going to eat. And the reason I'm so thin is because I DO watch my diet."

DEAR ABBY: Some time ago you printed a letter from a husband saying his school-teacher wife wanted to go off to Europe for her summer vacation, and he said he would offer her a divorce if she went.

Well, my wife of 14 years took our kids and went to Europe for 10 weeks with my blessing and I've learned a hundred times over how much my wife means to me. I honestly never realized what a wonderful wife I had. I recommend any man let his wife take a month or two vacation. It will rekindle their love. He will soon learn how important a wife is. He will also learn what a rotten job housekeeping is.

LOVELORN IN ONTARIO

DEAR LOVELORN: It's the old story: You never miss the water 'til the well runs dry.

DEAR ABBY: A while back some young person wrote in asking why the old folks didn't prepare for their old age.

Well, I think I can speak for oldsters as I am 80. My husband's pension was based on prices as they were 50 years ago. A loaf of bread was 5 cents, eggs were 10 cents a dozen, and the best steak could be had for 15 cents a pound. Times have changed, and so have prices.

Social Security is a wonderful thing, and some of the younger ones are kicking because they have to pay so much in taxes. I wonder what they think is going to happen in the next 50 years. I will not be here to say, "I told you so." Ha!

79's plan 50th anniversary meet

SPRINGDALE — The Golden Anniversary meeting of the "79's" will be held Oct. 2 at the Allicon Grange Hall with registration beginning at 11 a.m. and dinner being served at noon by the women of the PTA.

This will be followed by a program and memorial candle services for those who died during the past year. Election of officers for the coming year will be held.

Officers in charge are Oleen Lewis, DeLo, president; Vard Chatburn, Albion first vice president; Acel Murray, Hansen, second vice president; Zella Chatburn, Albion, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Anna Hays, Twin Falls, historian; and Mrs. Camilla Bronson, Springdale, publicity chairman.

This year marks the 50th Anniversary of the organization of the "79's" which was organized Sept. 28, 1921, in Burley, although before then many early pioneers felt there was a need for an organized group to perpetuate the history of the area and honor the memory of the early pioneers.

The group is one of the earliest historical societies in the state and has been active since its organization.

The first meeting in Burley was chaired by John F. Hansen who lived at Rock Creek at the time. Frank Ribble was the first president. There were 73 qualifying for membership at the time. The right of membership was awarded to those who came to the area before Dec. 31, 1879, hence the name, "79's."

Other presidents of the group have been John F. Hansen, Lawrence Hansen, Hyrum S.

"Guys and Dolls" production set

TWIN FALLS — "Guys and Dolls" has been chosen as the 1972 production for the Dilettante Group of Magic Valley, Inc., with stage dates set for March 3-5 and 9-11 at the College of Southern Idaho Fine Arts Center Auditorium.

"Guys and Dolls" is an adaptation of a little-known Damon Runyon story, "The Idyll of Sarah Brown." It has retained the absurdity, toughness and tenderness of the writer who was not only a humorist but a humanist. The plot centers around Runyon's typical Broadway characters — all of them gamblers — and the action concerns them, their girls and their troubles.

There are two love stories — equally wacky, with the chief trouble being the difficulty of deciding between the rolling of the dice and the beating of the heart.

Brad Hickerson director of the production, announced today that tryouts will be at 8 p.m. Nov. 6 and at 2 p.m. Nov. 7 at Vera C.O'Leary Junior High School auditorium.

Anyone interested in a leading role is urged to come to tryouts prepared to sing a number from the production. Those interested in non-singing roles also are asked to attend. For the Mission Group a man and a woman who play trombone and trumpet are needed. Anyone who is not a member of the group and would like to join may also attend tryouts.

New officers of the Dilettantes are Jim Latham, president; Kip Wood, vice president; Liz Pierce, secretary; and Bob Fries, treasurer. Directors are Miriam Breckenridge, past president; Gerald Ridgeway, H. Paul Kliss, Dr. Arthur Frantz, Mrs. Richard Baun, Mrs. James Moore, Richard Reed, Phillip Rayher, Jim LaGrone, Larry Christensen, Mrs. Richard Lee, historian, and Mrs. John Christoffersen, publicity.

Couple observes 50th anniversary

TWIN FALLS — Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Williams were honored at a family dinner at the Turf Club this past week in observance of their 50th Wedding Anniversary.

The host and hostess were their son, Robert A. Williams, Boise, and their daughter, Mrs. Richard Robertson, Twin Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams were married Sept. 21, 1921, at Buhl and have resided in Twin Falls during their married life.

Williams was associated with the Twin Falls Feed and Ice Co. for more than 40 years before retiring. Mrs. Williams, the former Fay Anderson, was employed in the office of the Twin Falls County treasurer as deputy for many years.

Besides the host and hostess, the couple has two granddaughters, Dinah Williams,

Handiwork project outlined

SHOSHONE — Handiwork projects were outlined for the annual husbands' party to be held in November.

Mrs. Stutzman conducted the meeting in the absence of Mrs. Clifton Dayley, president.

Members told "Just Once I would like to —" as a humorous exchange.

Mrs. Ward Mills gave the secretary's report.

Diet tips presented

TWIN FALLS — "Don't eat alone" and "don't eat standing up" were the diet tips shared by members of TOPS Measure Ups this past week.

A contest with the Hansen Club will begin Oct. 7 and last six weeks. Sharon Burgess was queen of the week.

The group started an exercise program which will last until Christmas, with a prize given to the one losing the most inches. Most members decided to follow the Canadian Air Force exercise plan.

An auction was held to increase the club treasury.

Couple weds at temple

JEROME — The Idaho Falls LDS Temple was the setting for the marriage of Susan Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne J. Thompson, and Robert E. Williams, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert E. Williams. Vern L. Brown, temple official, performed the ceremony. They were accompanied to the temple by their parents; Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Davis, grandparents of the bride, Malad; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Davis, Afton, Wyo.; Mr. and Mrs. Errol Williams, Malad; Mr. and Mrs. Ted Lott, Blackfoot; and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Scott, Ogden, all uncles and aunts of the bride and bridegroom.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT E. WILLIAMS (Ambrose photo)

A wedding reception was held for the couple at the Jerome LDS Cultural Hall. The newlyweds received their guests before a white Austrian backdrop flanked by white, velvet columns, valanced in orchid and purple chiffon. Illuminated pedestals holding white and gold cherubs and fresh floral bouquets of pink and lavender chrysanthemums and gladioli carried out the bride's colors.

The bride wore a modified empire-styled gown of peau de soie trimmed with re-embroidered Chantilly lace accented with seed pearls and fashioned with bishop sleeves. Her cathedral train was encircled with lace and enhanced with appliques of pearls.

Her bouffant veil of English silk illusion was held by a cluster of Chantilly lace, pearls and crystals.

She carried a cascade bouquet of feathered white carnations and pink rosebuds.

Bridesmaids were Christy Thompson, Cathy Newman, Linda Reid, Mrs. Larry Glassett and Nancy Wills, with Teri Thompson, sister of the bride, serving as junior bridesmaid.

Kristin Davis, cousin of the bride, was flower girl.

Pat Williams served as best man for his brother, with Jeff Williams, brother of the bridegroom, Tom Parry and Dave Christianson as attendants. Ushers were Park Worthington, Steve Tingey and Jon Jensen.

The pathway leading to the receiving line was covered with a purple shag carpet bordered with white and gold aisle stanchions topped with fresh floral bouquets and connected with green ivy garlands and orchid ribbons.

Guests were registered at a round table covered with flounced lace over orchid satin and centered with a white bird cage with a fresh pink and orchid floral arrangement by Cindy Davis, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Clarence Phillips, Twin Falls, was in charge of the gift table.

The five-tiered wedding cake, decorated with white wedding bells and cascades of orchid star flowers, was displayed on a table covered with satin and lace.

Serving were Mrs. Max Thompson, Mrs. John Van Orman, Mrs. Ralph Davis and Mrs. Tom Davis. The serving area was set apart by orchid tulle topiary trees. Guests were seated at round quartet tables covered with orchid satin with flounced lace overcloths and centered with white bird cages filled with pink and lavender fresh flowers.

Special out-of-town guests includes grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. David, Malad, and Mrs. Elmer Neilsen, Wendell.

After a honeymoon trip to Jackson Hole, Wyo., the newlyweds reside in the Chicago area.

The bride is a graduate of Brigham Young University with a degree in home economics

Program given for art club

TWIN FALLS — "Fresh Flowers Forever" was the theme of the program at a meeting of the Mary Davis Art Club this past week at the country home of Mrs. Elgin Wilson.

Mrs. Eldred Taylor presented the program and described how to give fresh flowers a ceramic-like finish without firing to preserve them indefinitely. The material used comes in many colors and is applied to fresh flowers covering them completely. After drying, they may be coated with clear glaze. Many other things can also be preserved in this way, she noted.

Guitar class set

TWIN FALLS — The College of Southern Idaho will offer a beginning course for adults in guitar beginning Oct. 7, according to Marvin Glasscock, director of adult education, CSI.

Students will learn the basics of reading music, how to play chords, and the basic approaches to folk, rock, classical, western and popular music.

The instructor will be John Martizia and will meet once a week on Thursday from 7 to 8:30 p.m. The class will last 10 weeks. The cost for the course is $10 plus books. The class will be limited to 20 students.

University to study highways

MOSCOW — A $200,000 contract to develop a practical laboratory test system which will predict future water damage to asphalt pavement in any given geographical location in the U.S. has been awarded to the Department of Civil Engineering of the University of Idaho by the National Cooperative Highway Research Program. The 30-month research contract, one of the largest ever awarded to the university, began Sept. 1.

CSI offers new course in tailoring

TWIN FALLS — The College of Southern Idaho is sponsoring, for the first time, an adult course in the techniques of tailoring men's slacks and jackets.

The class will be taught on Monday mornings from 9 a.m. to noon, starting Oct. 4. Cost of the course is a nominal $15 plus $5 for registration, for 15 weeks of instruction.

Home sewers today, reflecting the great changes in our society, contrast sharply with those of a few decades ago. Home sewing is no longer an economic necessity — today women sew for numerous reasons. Some sew to insure superbly fitted garments, while others desire truly personalized costumes.

Many women appreciate exclusive fabrics and know that such beautiful materials deserve excellent construction. In the final analysis, most women find great pleasure and satisfaction in sewing as a creative outlet. During the course of this instruction, information will be offered on artistic principles which must be applied in the choice of color combinations, in the use of texture contrasts, and in the selection of pleasing lines for the individual figure.

Detailed information concerning this course, and other sewing classes, can be obtained by calling 733-9554, Extension 294.

University drama set

TWIN FALLS — The cast for the University of Idaho drama department production of "You Know I Can't Hear You When the Water's Running," scheduled to run Oct. 7-9 at the University Auditorium, has been announced by Edmund M. Chavez, department head and director for the play.

Because the play is composed of four individual vignettes offering glimpses of contemporary American life, all 13 roles in the play are major characters.

Tailoring class

DR. H. W. Rank is being measured by Mrs. Rank, left, and Mrs. Dale Ford as preparations are completed for the adult course in the techniques of tailoring men's slacks and jackets to be offered by the College of Southern Idaho. The class will be taught on Monday mornings from 9 a.m. to noon, beginning Oct. 4.

Music Club announces events

BURLEY — Dates of coming events for the Burley Music Club were announced by Mrs. J. W. Young, president of the Burley Music Club.

A salad bar luncheon will be held Oct. 1 in the Conference Room of Idaho Bank and Trust. Mrs. Frank Bauman is chairman of the luncheon. Serving will be from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and salads will be furnished by club members.

The annual dinner-dance will be held Nov. 19 at the Ponderosa Inn, with Mrs. Charles Peugh and Mrs. Garry Lee as co-chairmen of the semi-formal event. Dale Plotts Orchestra will be furnishing the music for dancing.

A spring salad bar luncheon is being planned in connection with Music Week.

The club held a Membership Tea at home of Mrs. Arlie Harris, with Mrs. Pat Stephenson as hostess and membership chairman.

Special guest was Mrs. Clifford Mullikin, Burley, president of the Idaho State Federation of Music Clubs. She reviewed summer activities. Mrs. Mullikin praised the first congressional seminar of the arts held in June at Sun Valley, sponsored by Sen. Len Jordan and Congressman Orval Hansen. This was the first such event in the nation, reported Mrs. Mullikin.

Also, she reported on the Federation Days at Sun Valley Music Camp held in August and the first state board meeting conducted by Mrs. Mullikin was held at that time.

The state board has adopted its program for the coming year to better communications on the local, state and national levels; increase emphasis on development of junior clubs and scholarship programs; and more effort in telling the federation story in communities. "Tell the Federation Story" is the theme for the year. Summer Music Camp scholarship winners presented the program including Priscilla Belnap, vocalist; Janine Wood, piano and Miriam Carey, violin. Each of the girls told of her experiences at the camps.

Mrs. Don Norton introduced the "Hymn of the Month" as "God of Our Fathers," written by Daniel C. Roberts with George W. Warren the composer of the music. The group sang the hymn led by Mrs. Gerald Marchant, with Mrs. Robert Dean as accompanist.

Lana Butler, Morgan wed

HAGERMAN — Lana Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. (Bob) Butler Hagerman, became the bride of Nick Morgan, Boise, in early evening rites Sept. 11 at the Hagerman Ward LDS Church. Morgan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Morgan, Boise. Bishop C. W. Choules performed the double ring nuptials and the prayer was given by James Sipe, Elko, Nev. Arrangements of orange gladioli in white baskets decorated the chapel. The bride, escorted by her father, wore a Bridal Original gown of silk and nylon organza, fashioned with a low scooped neckline, empire waistline and full sleeves gathered to a deep cuff at the wrists. Lace appliques accented the floor-length skirt and formed the scalloped neckline and cuff. Her tiered veil of silk illusion fell into a graceful chapel train which was also banded by the scalloped lace and was held by a Juliet cap of alencon lace. She carried a bouquet of orange pom pom chrysanthemums and spoon chrysanthemums tied with white bows and ribbon streamers. She wore a pearl and diamond birthstone ring, a gift from the bridegroom. Mrs. James Sipe, Elko, Nev., was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. George Tate, Idaho Falls, Carol Jensen and Karin Kellgreen, Salt Lake City. Charles Hartman, Boise, was best man. Ushers were Doug Butler, Hagerman, brother of the bride and Larry Chandler and Grant Muir, both Boise. Jeannie Moyné was flower girl and Mitch Moyné was ringbearer. Both are from Boise and cousins of the bridegroom. Helyn Woody was soloist, accompanied by Kristi Choules. Mrs. Floyd Marsh was organist. All floral arrangements and bouquets were made by Mrs. Frank Glauner, Hagerman. A reception was held immediately after the ceremony, in the LDS Cultural Hall. Gifts were carried by Tammie and Gloria Paschal, cousins of the bridegroom, and Anne Rademacher, cousin of the bride, and arranged by Corrine Rademacher and Vickie McNealy, both Boise, and Cindy Butler, Sweet, cousins of the bride, and Dee Dennis, Boise, friend of the bride. The bridal party greeted 130 guests before a sheer drape backdrop accented with a rope of boxwood greenery held with orange satin bows. Quartet tables for the guests were covered with white satin

"DECORATING FROM THE BOTTOM UP"

Carpeting is one of the most important parts of your decorating scheme. For a small room carpeting, wall to wall, can give the impression of space. When matched to wall color, an even greater illusion of space can be achieved. If your problem is a big living area, make a conversation corner with an area rug. Area rugs can define and set aside one living area from another in the same room. Just be sure the rug is large enough so that at least part of the furniture sits on the rug, so your group looks cozy and inviting rather than skimp.

At Volco our salesmen can help you select the carpeting that will give your room an entire new look. With today's choice of deep dyed colors, and the big choice of miracle fibers and blends, you no longer have to choose an ordinary dull color "so it won't show the dirt." This is the age when you can make exciting things happen with brilliant new colors in your living room. Come in and see our new carpeting; there are styles to blend or contrast with your present furniture, whether it's early American, contemporary, or your own inventive blend of mix and match. Our salesmen suggest that you pick several samples you like, and then have us call at your home with the samples so you can compare them with your furnishings. This is one of many decorator services at Volco, that are always available to you without obligation. Call on us soon at Volco's.

VIVIAN ALLRED

November wedding planned

DIETRICH — Mr. and Mrs. Clyde M. Allred announce the engagement of their daughter, Vivian, to Evan Sorensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn I. Sorensen, all Dietrich.

Miss Allred is a 1971 graduate of Castleford High School.

Sorensen was graduated from Dietrich High School in 1968 and attended the College of Southern Idaho and fulfilled a two year LDS Cumorah mission in New York.

A Nov. 12 wedding is planned at the Idaho Falls LDS Temple.

Jobies make presents for hospital

TWIN FALLS — Members of Bethel No. 56, International Order of Job's Daughters, were reminded to make their stuffed animals for the Shriners Hospital to be delivered as Christmas gifts when they met this past week at the Masonic Temple.

Sandie Sharp, honored queen, was in charge of the business session, with special introductions going to Mrs. Nancy Thompson, past honored queen of Bethel No. 6, Klamath Falls, Ore.; Carolyn Wylie, guardian of Bethel No. 56; Paul Moseley, associate guardian of Bethel No. 56, and Judy Van Engelen, Grand Bethel representative to Ontario, Canada.

The librarian's report was given by Debbie Sullivan entitled, "Keep in Tune", using music as keeping in tune with life. Linda Armstrong was given a "Jobie" pin for selling tickets for the smorgasbord.

Carla Grabert was given a plaque for her librarians' report submitted at Grand session. It is a traveling award and is entitled to keep it for a year.

"Jobie of the Meeting" was Janet Houston, with "Robie Jobie" named Shawna Dean. Bob Harvey and McKinney were honored for their birthday anniversaries.

Chaplain, Jeri Peterson, gave her favorite thought, "Do Unto Others as You Would Have Them Do Unto You." At the close of each meeting a member will give a favorite thought or verse.

The meeting was dedicated to the choir and members of the choir presented a special number. Carla Grabert read a Bible verse and Debbie Sharp was soloist while the choir, forming a cross, used the arm movements to interpret the music.

Refreshments were served and the choir sang. The next meeting is Oct. 13 honoring the parents.

Area miss accepts position

SHOSHONE — Darlene Glauner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Del Glauner, North Shoshone, has accepted a position in Chiapas de Corso, Mexico, with the Brigham Young University New World Archaeological Foundation.

She will work in a laboratory doing processing, classifying and studying artifacts in the Mayan Civilization.

Miss Glauner and a fellow worker, Suzanne Herman, Southern California, will drive the 2,700 miles to Chiapas where they will reside for from six months to a year.

Both girls were graduated from BYU last spring and will pursue careers in anthropology and archaeology.

Miss Glauner left Shoshone Tuesday for Provo where she will serve as a bridesmaid at a girl friends wedding, then will depart from there for Mexico Oct. 3.

Miss McDrummond, Soran say vows

TWIN FALLS — Sandra McDrummond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. McDrummond, Twin Falls, was married to Timothy Soran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Soran, Twin Falls, in rites Sept. 10 at St. Edward's Catholic Church by Father Thomas J. Lafay.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of Antelleen styling with a cascading train. The gown was done in iridescent Chantilly lace and seed pearl trim with a net neckline. Illusion veiling covered the bride's hair. Her bouquet was a cascade of pink and white variegated gladioli. Baskets of pink and lavender gladioli were placed on each side of the altar with vases of pink and lavender asters set on the back of the altar.

Debbie Sizemore was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Cindy Gillespie, Lori Thompson and Connie Turner, sister of the bride.

Steven Soran, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and Mike Gillespie, Rick Skeen and Dave Sparrow served as ushers.

The Arlon Bastian Trio provided by Mr. and Mrs. Leo Soran presented the music at the reception held at the Turf Club. The bride's table was covered with a light green, chiffon tablecloth and centered with a four-tiered wedding cake and crystal candleholders.

The buffet table was elegantly laden with food and flowers and was accented by pink and lavender asters.

Mrs. Milton Seefried and Mrs. Gene Lefler, aunts of the bride, served the cake.

Out-of-town guests attended from Caldwell and Boise.

The couple took a honeymoon trip to California and will reside in Twin Falls.

A pre-nuptial shower was given for the bride by Mrs. John Bertie.

Idaho water board projects Blaine sewage needs in 1990

By TERRY CAMPBELL
Times-News Writer

KETCHUM — Blaine County will need a central sewage treatment plant by 1990 in addition to present and proposed municipal facilities.

According to an Idaho Water Research Board (IWRB) study released Friday evening.

The study projected that county population will almost double in the next 20 years, from the present 5,749 to almost 12,000.

Richard Day, the Boise office manager for Stevens Thompson & Runyon — the consulting engineers on the study said, "Degradation of surface and subsurface water, compounded by population growth, would require that the county build the facility."

The study was presented to the Blaine County Planning and Zoning Commission and local governmental leaders. It set planning guidelines for water and sewage facilities in Blaine County as well as cities within the county during the next 20 years.

Jack Peterson, chief of the environmental branch of the IWRB, said that the report was a three-pronged effort. The Water Board carried out the study in cooperation with the County Planning Commission and with the help of the consulting firms.

The Farmers Home Administration fully financed the study under the Rural Water and Sewage Study Program. Peterson estimated that the one-year study cost between $15-20,000.

Day said the proposals were presented to prevent a situation where "the equipment we build today is not used tomorrow."

The proposed facilities, if accepted by the Planning Commission said the city would be constructed in stages over the next 20 years.

Peterson said the existing sewage plants "are not treating the sewage adequately to preserve the quality of either the Big Wood River or the ground water."

The study suggested that a pipeline be run from North Fork to a central sewage treatment plant south of Bellevue. Municipal and private plants in housing developments would feed treated sewage into the line.

Peterson said "the primary plants would remove about 85 per cent of the pollutants. Final polishing at the main plant would produce almost 100 per cent pollutant-free water."

"Stopgap measures," Day said, "will not apply here." And, he said packaged sewage plants or systems would not be able to handle the problem.

The study also suggested that the water systems of Sun Valley and Ketchum be interconnected for economy and efficiency. Day said under the present system in five years the two towns would have about three million gallons of stored water, which he termed, "excessive."

In Bellevue, the study said the main problem was a high use of water. Residents, the study said, "use about 1,500-2,000 of water a day per capita, which, according to Day is ten times the normal consumption of water."

Day attributed the high use of water to irrigation and leakage. He recommended that irrigation practices be modified and that eventual metering be considered. And the report also recommended that a storage facility be constructed on the hill east of the city which would maintain the water pressure.

In Hailey, the study agreed with present improvements of the water system and the planned sewage system. But it recommended that an additional water storage tank be added.

And the study suggested that the Pocatello should have some disinfection facilities.

Peterson said that water resource board studies are being conducted in "25" rural Idaho counties. But, he said, Blaine County posed special problems.

Most rural counties "ship out" people, Peterson said, but Blaine County has had an influx of population in the last 10 years. As compared with Bear Lake County from 1960-1970 Blaine County gained 729 people while Bear Lake County lost about 2000 residents.

Schools in Minidoka initiate team teaching

By DAVID ESPO
Times-News Writer

PAUL — Team teaching, a relatively new educational theory which places two teachers in the same classroom at the same time, has made its introduction into Minidoka County this year, and the initial response from educators is positive.

"The idea behind the concept," explained Dr. Darrell J. Hatfield, county superintendent of schools, "is that you use the strengths of the staff to use materials better. Some teachers have strengths in areas where other teachers don't and the idea is to combine the strengths."

Team teaching is currently in use in scattered classrooms throughout the district, including the sixth grades at the Washington Elementary School and in elementary classes in Heyburn and Paul, as well as in the West Minico Junior High School in Paul.

At the junior high school, Mrs. Carol Engstrom and Mrs. Susan Anderson combine their teaching in one classroom for English and reading. Both stress the importance of compatible personalities, pointing out the necessity of the exchange of ideas between the two teachers involved.

The two women "came to me last year," related principal Earl Carlson "and were really enthused over the idea of team teaching. We had done a little of it last year, and they used the summer to make plans."

The new junior high school, the principal noted, was built to make the combination of teacher efforts possible. In their room, the two teachers can hold class for slightly over 60 children at a time.

They teach reading and English to three double periods a day, determining how the lesson is to be divided.

"We take turns with the presentation to the class," reported Mrs. Engstrom, and while one teacher is presenting the work for the day the other is free to roam in the class to give help to students who don't understand the work."

"There's more time for individual attention for the students this way," according to Mrs. Anderson, "and it's more efficient." There is less time wasted, both educators report, in taking attendance and settling the class down for work.

The teachers are pleased with their new system, and Mrs. Anderson feels the students respond well, also. Although there are as yet no testing results to determine the educational value of the program, both teachers insist they wouldn't return to the old method of teaching — one teacher per class.

Carlson is as enthusiastic as his teachers. "I'd like to see more of team teaching," he said last week. I hope to enlarge and expand it right here." He reports an interest shown by other educators who frequently visit the school to look in on classes.

"Hardly a day goes by," he said, "when somebody doesn't show up to take a look."

Hatfield, too, is pleased with the change, although he has remained more in the background. New to his job this summer, he prefers to let the impetus for team teaching originate with the teachers themselves.

"Unless they're enthusiastic," the superintendent said, "it won't work."

Hatfield is cautious, too, about the program. "Some of the best programs I have seen have been team teaching," he says, "but so have some of the worst. It all depends on the teachers involved."

Concern voiced over Gem trails

SUN VALLEY — Trail experts and enthusiasts voiced concern about Idaho trails, discussed possible improvements and talked about the future of trails during the first Idaho Trail Symposium here Saturday.

U.S. Rep. Orval Hansen (R-Idaho) said the state's trails are "a valuable natural resource as well as an important educational tool."

He invited public agencies and private groups to work together to determine the use and location of trails and to preserve and protect these pathways.

Douglas Hofe, director of the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, said trail use has increased at an "alarming rate." In 1965 individuals used trails 1.3 billion times — an 85 per cent increase since 1960.

He said his department is aware of increasing use of off-road recreation vehicles which are barred from trails designated as scenic pathways.

He said, "It is not our philosophy, however, to exclude them from trails."

"We will expend all effort to create trails for all users," he said.

Professor Emeritus of Idaho State University, Pocatello, Albert Van S. Pulling, disagreed. He said, "Anything that burns gasoline is a threat to trails."

He also included as enemies of the trails, loggers, grazers, and realtors, but he said there are exceptions to every rule.

Pulling said Americans have to be reeducated to turn away from what he called "the great American nightmare to conquer the environment." The education, he said, may take from 25 to 50 years and he recommended the U.S. Forest Service in building cheap trails rather than expensive roads.

Max Bruce, district manager, Bureau of Land Management, stressed Idaho's "unparalleled" opportunity to create more trails because 65 per cent of the land in the state is government owned.

He said emphasis should be placed on preserving historical trails through Idaho such as the old California trail.

He recommended Congress make historical trails a separate category of paths with the primary purpose of preserving their historical values.

About 100 outdoorsmen attended the Saturday phase of the symposium. Sunday's schedule includes an all day hike up the East Fork of the Wood River. The hike ends with a trailsweep from 4 to 5 p.m.

Hansen favors trail use

SUN VALLEY — Rep. Orval Hansen (R-Idaho) said Saturday he was behind a greater increase in the use of trails, making them available for more people, rather than limiting access.

His observations were made as he spoke to those attending a trail symposium sponsored by him. Saturday's session was devoted to meetings and discussion groups, with today being given over to a trail hike.

Hansen said from his point of view "the great increase in trail use in the next decade or two is good news. It doesn't bother me. Rather it challenges me." As a congressman, he said, faced with the growing pressures of every day life and decisions his conviction is strengthened that if more people can hike the trails of the United States and Idaho and "inhale the fresh air, it's good for the people."

Chief lists reasons for fire fighting troubles

McLane had made allusions to possible violations of the city's fire codes in the building in his preliminary verbal report to the city council nearly three weeks ago.

The report summarizes, "there were no fire doors and no positive firewall throughout the entire risk area." The area measured 342 x 180', according to the chief.

The fire broke out, the report states, as the result of an explosion in the recapping section of the tire plant, possibly caused by a short circuiting in electrical wiring.

"Four men in the recapping area were working," the report states, and one noted that "while applying rubber cement to one of the tire carcasses, one of the men heard a sound which could have been a short."

A brief time later a similar sound was heard, after which the glue caught, igniting the tire and the overspray in the area.

A rubber hose feeding glue from a pressurized pot into the spraying gun was burned out, releasing a stream of rubber cement. After turning the air supply off, the men attempted to put out the fire with three different extinguishers. Their efforts failed.

"For some reason the extinguishers would not work," the report says, "and the fire was out of control and they then called the fire department."

The alarm reached the fire station at 8:03 p.m. and the first firefighting units reached the scene only three minutes later. At that time, the chief noted in his report, "the entire vulcanizing plant (was) engulfed in flames."

Within a few minutes of his arrival, the chief sent out calls for assistance. They were answered by fire units at Burley, Paul, the Minidoka Fire Protection District and the Idaho Youth Ranch.

Small fires in nearby areas, caused by lightning strikes, necessitated periodic removal of parts of the total force at the industrial site. Rain storms following on the heels of the lightning are credited in the report with keeping minor fires to a minimum, however.

The report states that early efforts at laying hose to bring water to the fire were hampered by traffic congestion in the area. McLane had mentioned traffic problems in his report to the city council, but praised the city police department for assuming control rapidly.

At the height of the fire, the report states, over forty men were at work attempting to bring it under control, pouring 2,500 gallons of water a minute through 7 hoses.

Seven men remained at the scene throughout the night and all the next day and into the next night to man the hose and apply water to the fire that was still smoldering," the report states.

Aide to run for city job

RUPERT — One term city councilman Charles Dalry announced Saturday he would seek re-election in the Nov. 2 municipal elections. Dalry becomes the third candidate in the race to fill two council seats.

Chamber of Commerce President William Strasser and housewife Ilene Benward filed petitions this week with the city clerk.

Dalry, who had been reported previously to have decided not to seek re-election, said he would attempt to expand municipal services if re-elected. He mentioned garbage pickup and extension of city sewer lines as top priority items in the coming months.

Candidates have, until Oct. 4 to file nomination papers with the city. Petitions carrying 40 valid signatures are necessary for certification.

The term of councilman Grover Newman expires in November. He has yet to indicate whether he will be a candidate for reelection.

Backs into decision?

TWIN FALLS — If Cong. James McClure announces his decision to stay in the House in about two weeks then it means he will run again for the post of First District Congressman — but if he doesn't make that announcement in two weeks, it means he will seek the Senate seat being vacated by the retirement of Senator Len Jordan.

By telephone, the Congressman told the Times-News Saturday he would "make up my mind in two weeks. There are a couple of more things

I must consider but I'll have those figured out in that time." "If you decide to stay in the House will you announce it at that time?" he was asked. "Yes, I'll announce it then."

"And if you decide to run for the U.S. Senate will you announce it at that time?" "No, not at that time."

"Then it means that if you say nothing in about two weeks people can assume you are going to run for the Senate?" he was asked. "That is what the voters will assume. If I decide to stay in the House I will announce that right away."

Cong. McClure, who will be in Twin Falls Wednesday and Thursday of next week for a series of speeches, said he had met with Cong. Orval Hansen on Sept. 13 (as announced in the Times-News in an exclusive story) and that they had discussed the possibility of running for the Senate as they both saw it. He said that any announcement concerning Cong. Hansen's possible plans would have to be made by him "but I am sure that we will not both decide to seek the Senate post."

"Right now you might say we are both weighing various aspects."

Dedication set for Simplot facility

BURLEY — Idaho Gov. Cecil D. Andrus and Idaho industrialist J. R. Simplot will throw a switch to initiate operation of a new $771,000 secondary treatment plant at the Burley Simplot plant during dedicatory ceremonies Tuesday afternoon.

The dedication will start at 2 p.m. at the site of the facility, followed by an open house of primary and secondary treatment facilities from 2:30 to 4 p.m.

The treatment facility is the fourth phase of an environmental quality protection project announced by Simplot last December.

The largest single element in the multi-phased treatment facility is the 135,000-square-foot aeration pond. Measuring 450 by 300 feet in size, and varying from 12 to 15 feet deep, the pond holds 80 million gallons of effluent, which will be aerated by giant mixers to add oxygen which in turn feeds bacteria which decompose the waste matter.

A large surge pond adjacent to the aeration pond will hold any overflow from the plant. From the aeration pond, waste material is piped to a secondary clarifier for further settling and clarifying, then is pumped into the Snake River for final disposal.

The complete process is designed to remove at least 95 per cent of all in-plant solids, according to Simplot spokesmen. This level is believed well in excess of Idaho Department of Health standards.

Burley license suspended

BOISE (UPI) — The license of the Surf Club, Burley, is being suspended for 30 days for failure to seal and lock up open bottles of liquor after closing hours, the Department of Law Enforcement said Friday.

The department said the suspension will run from Oct. 6 through Nov. 4.

Briefs

WENDELL — Mrs. Helen Henderson, Twin Falls, will be guest speaker at the annual Teachers Reception at the Wendell high school, sponsored by the Hub City PTA at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Mrs. Henderson, youth rehabilitation counselor and Idaho mother of the year in 1970, will use as her topic "Preventive Measures and Warning Signs." A question period will follow the talk.

TWIN FALLS — Fifteen cases are scheduled to be heard by the Idaho Supreme Court when they convene in Twin Falls Monday for a week long session.

The appeals to be heard cover cases from Fifth Judicial District Courts including one by Lee Barnes who operates a dental laboratory but who is not a dentist. He is appealing a ruling by District Judge James M. Cunningham enjoying him from carrying on certain practices in connection with his business including those of relining and duplicating dental plates. Judge Cunningham issued the opinion based on Idaho Code Section 54-901 which defines the practice of dentistry and prohibits non dentists from various activities.

Barnes has appealed the holding to the Supreme Court contending the law was not intended to exclude dental laboratories from practices, especially those relating to relining and duplicating of den-ture plates. Barnes alleges such an injunction would impair his business and deprive him of his property without due process of law.

The original action against Barnes was brought by the Idaho Board of Dentistry. The case is set for Tuesday at 1:30 p.m.

Another appeal to be heard will be that of Ray and Elaine Meissner seeking additional damages from Claude Edward Smith and Bernard J. Wetzstein in the death of their 16 year old son Aug. 18, 1969 in Blaine County.

A jury awarded the plaintiffs $70,000 general damages and $1,333.35 special damages and the court held an earlier Supreme Court ruling limited to 20,000 the amount of damages which can be awarded in such cases. Taking into consideration inflation since this ruling was passed in 1960, the district judge allowed $29,335.35. Meissner appealed the reduction of the jury's verdict and Smith and Wetzstein cross appealed asking a new trial on grounds errors were made in the original trial which prejudiced the jury.

Other cases include an appeal from Patrick L. Turner, Buhl, on a conviction of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor; an appeal by Delbert Lee Crawford, on a perjury conviction stemming from his trial on charges of exhibiting a deadly weapon; Ross and Berdina Peck appealing a non-jury verdict of the court on alleged payment due W. W. Ivie, all Blaine County; all scheduled for Monday.

Tuesday the court will hear an appeal from Kenneth Moen, Earl S. Carver and Patrick Joseph Kinner on their conviction of jail escape and injury to a public jail; and an appeal from the same three to a conviction and sentence on first degree burglary involving the Twin Falls municipal golf course building, and the Lee Barnes appeal in which the Board of Dentistry is named as plaintiff-respondent.

Scheduled Wednesday are the appeals of D. E. Hollowell, Fairfield, from the summary judgement granted Marjorie L. Turner, Jerome to recover a promissory note signed by the defendant's late husband, Noble Turner; an appeal by August L. and Avis Heisel against a judgement in favor of LaVon G. Cunningham; and Carol Cunningham in a real estate contract dispute and the Meissner appeal in their damage suit reduction.

Scheduled for Thursday are the appeals of Norris Shaub against Glegg Dale Ranches, Inc. involving a dispute over water; the appeal of Garry J. Hibbard, C. Edgar Hibbard and Elda Hibbard in a dispute over use of an access road in Blaine County, and the case of C. H. Hisaw versus Harold Ingram both Cassia County, in which awarded damages to Ingram in the alleged breach of a potato purchase contract.

Friday's cases include an appeal of the Eastern Idaho Packing Corp., Heyburn and Anderson - Martin farms. Burley from the judgement which foreclosed mechanic's liens on the farmland owned by the appellants in Cassia County; the appeal of John F. Christolm and G. M. Manning who farm near Malta, for judgement against J. R. Simplot Co. and DuPond DeNemours in the case in which they alleged weed killer purchased from the defendants resulted in loss of a potato crop, and the case of Harold Patterson against Twin Falls County in which he was awarded no damages in a $310,000 suit brought against the county and Magic Valley Memorial Hospital alleging dye used in injections into his spine for medical examination resulted in damage to his health and physical condition.

CHARACTERISTICS of women are fascinating, no question. Much more so than the traits of men. If you don't believe that, consider the fact the New York Public Library has approximately 15,000 books on the subject of women compared to about 1,000 on men.

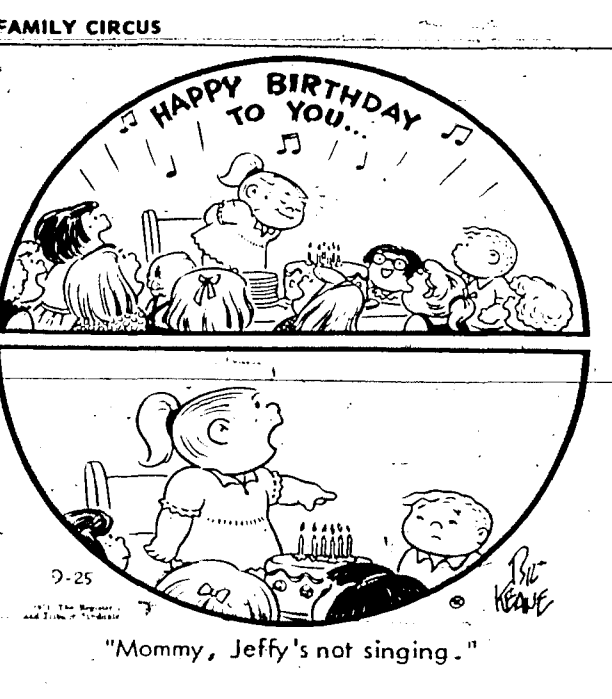

WHEN a husband and his wife get divorced on the island of Barbados in the West Indies, it's not uncommon to accomplish settlement by cutting the house in half, literally... "ANTICS" may not be the only word in English that produces six progressive words — a, an, anti, antic, antics — but it's pricier, I'll warrant... ORDINARILY, a well-dressed woman who's at least 20 pounds overweight spends just about twice as much money for her clothing year round as a well-dressed woman who's even so much as one pound underweight.

HOW MUCH can a man afford to pay for a house? That query arises. The computer boys contend he ought not commit himself to more than two and a half times his annual income. If he makes $10,000 a year, the house must cost no more than $25,000. And that's only if he doesn't owe anybody anything else. His monthly payments, they say, shouldn't be more than a fourth of his monthly income.

CUSTOMER SERVICE: Q. "Do elephants sleep standing up or lying down?" A. Most lie down. Q. "Isn't football the most popular high school sport now?" A. Football ranks No. 4. Basketball is No. 1, baseball No. 2, track No. 3. That's participating sports. Q. "What's a crossword pancake?" A. It's what the English call a waffle. Q. "Wasn't Vermont the first state to ban slavery?" A. Technically, suppose so. Still, it was the last to do away with debtors' prisons. Q. "How long does it take to train a polo pony?" A. About four years. That's after the saddle-breaking.

Minico student reports on tour

RUPERT — Chris McKim Minico High School student body president, and Sally Brim, Minico student, were guests of the Rupert Chamber of Commerce luncheon meeting Thursday.

Miss Brim, described a six-week study tour she took this summer in Europe. The study tour included Spain, Italy, Austria, France, Germany and England. She paid her own expenses, she said.

Daily classes were held for two hours to learn the local customs—and history of the country—the students were visiting.

She mentioned as highlights of the tour the bull fights, seeing the Pope twice, visiting a glass factory, a candlelight concert and the people of the countries visited.

William Strasser, chamber

Raid

BURLEY — Police in Burley raided the back yard of a Burley home late Friday and confiscated a quantity of marijuana.

The plant was taken in a large flower pot to the police station for safekeeping. About 22 stalks were dug up, officers said, some of which were old enough to have seeds.

BURLEY — Billy Duane Mitchell, 24, Burley, was found guilty by jury on a charge of robbery of the Quik-Pik, Dec. 31, 1970 in Fifth District Court Friday with Judge Sherman Bellwood presiding.

The case which started Thursday was submitted to the jury at 10:30 a.m. Friday. They returned at 12:15 p.m. with the verdict.

Judge Bellwood requested a pre-sentence investigation and no date was set for sentencing.

Gordon, Nielson, county prosecuting attorney, represented the state and Herman Bedke, public defender, was the attorney for Mitchell.

Postponed

BURLEY — The Salt Lake City Chamber of Commerce group scheduled to visit Burley and Southern Idaho Monday has postponed its visit until spring.

Fred Ball, Salt Lake City chamber manager, has notified the Burley chamber office that several large groups are meeting in Salt Lake City with chamber members this next week, making it impossible for the Utah group to make the planned tour.

The Salt Lake City chamber was to host a dinner here for invited guests.

Need 27 pints

2 brothers need blood at Rupert

By GEORGIA LAYTON Times-News Writer
RUPERT — Two brothers are in the need of blood replacement Monday when the Red Cross Bloodmobile is in Rupert from 2 to 6 p. m. at the Civic Building.

Kerry Arritt, 13 and Kasey Arritt, 5 sons of Mr. and Mrs. Parker Arritt, Grandview Addition, Rupert, need a total of 27 pints of blood replaced.

Kerry received gamma globulin shots for some time but presently does not have to take shots. He needs 15 pints of blood replaced. An eighth grader at East Minico Junior High, he enjoys playing outside.

Kasey has been taking the gamma globulin off and on for three years. He is at this time still receiving the gamma shots, and is in kindergarden this fall.

The quota for the Rupert area

KERRY ARRITT, 13, and his brother, Kasey, 5, engaged in one of the many games they play together at their home. The two brothers, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Parker Arritt, Grandview Addition, Rupert, between them need 27 pints of blood replaced. The bloodmobile will visit Rupert from 2 to 6 p.m. Monday in the Civic Auditorium. Quota is 125 pints.

is 125 pints, announced Mrs. Dorothy Burton, Minidoka County blood chairman.

Since the last blood drawing residents have used 75 pints of blood at the Minidoka Memorial Hospital and 57 pints of blood at other hospitals, reported Mrs. Burton. Also many pints have been used for gamma globulin.

Mrs. Burton said there is no charge to the patient for blood used, but there is a charge for laboratory and administration costs, made by the hospital where the blood is used. These charges include typing blood, cross matching and other necessary lab work since each unit of blood a patient receives must be cross matched to ensure compatibility.

Without donated blood, each pint of blood would cost the patient another $35 to $50 if it had to be purchased, Mrs. Burton said.

Anyone from age 18 to 66 inclusive may donate blood. Also 18 year olds no longer need written consent from parents to donate their blood, announced Mrs. Burton.

Other persons needing blood replace besides the two Arritt boys are David M. Burns, also a gamma receiver.

W.W. Dawson, Paul, needs 12 pints replaced which he used during heart surgery in Boise; James Patten used six pints in surgery in Salt Lake; Lois Teeter need five pints replaced. Also nine pints are needed for replacement for the late Howard Leisen.

One of the world's greatest discoveries was how to use blood from one human to save the life of another.

Burley Soroptimists plan

BURLEY — A rummage sale will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 2, in conference room of Idaho Bank and Trust, sponsored by Burley Soroptimist Club, Mrs. Joe Hinz, chairman of ways and means, announced during the club's meeting at Bryan's Cafe.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Glenn Bailey, president. An education session on Soroptimist Club activities at local, state, regional, national and international was presented under the direction of Mrs. Gerald Bryan, education committee chairman.

Mrs. Retta Payne, a charter member of the Burley Club, reported on the club's history and projects accomplished since being organized in 1948.

Rocky Mountain Region information was presented by Mrs. Roy Matheson. States in the region include Colorado, Idaho, Utah, Wyoming and western Nebraska. Several local club members are serving on regional committees.

A report on the foundations was given by Mrs. Edith Raustadt. Funds from members, clubs, regions and how they are spent was explained by Mrs. Raustadt.

"What is expected of us as a Soroptimist Club," was presented by Mrs. D.C. Fullmer. "Soroptimist Clubs are classed as the largest women's organization in the world and we are expected to be concerned about the world community as well as our own," she said. "Club members should cooperate with other groups, but first of all Soroptimists should lead the action, stated Mrs. Fullmer.

Mrs. Bryan reported there are about 50,000 women who are members of Soroptimist Clubs around the world in some 900 clubs. Membership is for all races and membership is on classifications of businesses. Regular attendance is important and the Burley club meets twice a month.

Opening exercises were directed by Mrs. Payne and Mrs. Bryan gave the thought for the day.

Almo man falls into machinery

ALMO — Ronald Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Ward of Almo, apparently escaped serious injury in an industrial accident Friday at Interstate Feeders, Malta, when he became entangled in moving machinery.

A company spokesman said Ward was preparing to weld a piece of equipment when he apparently lost his balance and fell into the machinery and was caught.

Kevin Tracy, a fellow worker, called to an operator to shut off the equipment, then helped to cut Ward loose. Workmen had to cut solid steel sheeting away from the injured man.

Attendants of Western Ambulance Service, Burley, administered first aid.

Top models

Door not closed

SHOSHONE (UPI)—Rep. Orval Hansen, R-Idaho, said Friday he had not yet "closed the door" to the possibility of being a candidate for a U.S. Senate seat.

stronger interest in running for the seat to be vacated by Sen. Len Jordan, R-Idaho, and said his plans will depend on what others do.

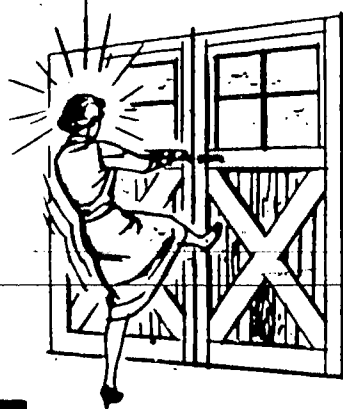

But, he said, "I've never had the burning desire to move to the Senate. I find service in the House very satisfying."

POLLY'S POINTERS

DEAR POLLY—I find that fishing lures, hooks and flies often get tangled. The hooks are dangerous, so I hook lures, flies and hooks to a sponge and leave them there until needed.—LARRY

DEAR POLLY—To shorten sleeves on jackets so they can be easily lengthened when needed, I mark the new length, turn the sleeve wrong-side-out and make a tuck in the lining a short distance from the end of the sleeve, and that is all.—MRS. A. M.

Polly pays $1.00 for every idea used. Send them to her, c/o this newspaper.

DEAR POLLY—AFTER washing white tennis shoes and BEFORE drying them in the dryer or on the line I put white shoe polish on the wet canvas. This makes them nice and white when dry.—M. W.

DEAR POLLY—When washing permanently pressed slacks, I turn them wrong-side-out and feel that this helps keep the creases in longer. Otherwise, I find the crease fades after several washings.—C. F.

DEAR POLLY—My heels hurt so much of the time until I bought foam rubber powder puffs and put one of these in the heel of each shoe. This has saved me much misery.—BERTHA

DEAR POLLY—When my husband assembles or disassembles anything he uses a muffin tin for sorting small bits and pieces. They are easily seen and there is less danger of a small screw or piece being lost.—ANNA

DEAR POLLY—When ironing men's or women's man-tailored shirts, I spray starch on the reverse side of the collar so it is stiff, but with no starch spots on the right side of the part of the collar that shows.—AGATHA

DEAR POLLY—My mother thought of a great idea for keeping her tape measure wound up. She glued the end opposite the 1-inch end to the inside of an adhesive tape holder, wound the measure around the holder and put the outside metal band on. She is able to roll off the amount of tape needed without unwinding all of it.—MARY

DEAR POLLY—When pouring sugar into a canister, put a towel or cloth under the can and save having to clean off the counter.—CAREN

Ask Them Yourself

Want to ask a famous person a question? Send the question on a postcard to "Ask," Family Weekly, 641 Lexington Ave., New York, N.Y. 10022. We'll pay $5 for published questions. Sorry, we can't answer others.

FOR ROBERT MITCHUM

Who have been your favorite leading ladies? What do you look for in a leading lady?—Mrs. John Jackson, Little Rock, Ark.

● Deborah Kerr and Sarah Miles. I like good responsive actresses. And Shirley MacLaine, too. Shirley can do anything—sing, dance, play drama, comedy. But I've got another candidate—one who may surprise you. I'm not saying Jane Russell is as versatile as Shirley MacLaine, but she's a very talented actress. It was Jane's misfortune that the exploitation of her talent stopped with the exploitation of her dimensions. As a result, she was limited by the material she was offered. You see, that's the trouble... When you're successful in the movies, Hollywood doesn't let you do better, they just let you do more.

FOR BOB HOPE

Who in your opinion is the most famous personality in show business?—J. McGee, Savannah, Ga.

● Lassie. That dog has been starring in her own TV series for 18 years. Even though the program will no longer be carried on CBS, a "Lassie Network" has been formed to reach 78 to 100 percent of the former total viewing audience by September 13. Now that's what I call a smart dog—and a famous personality!

FOR JIM BOUTON, author of "I'm Glad You Didn't Take It Personally"

What percentage of baseball players use pep pills or other illegal drugs to be able to play without getting worn out?—Mrs. Martin Rouse, Malibu, Calif.

● I'd estimate about 10 percent use them regularly. About 20 to 50 percent use them on certain occasions—before a double-header on a hot day, or after a bad hangover.

FOR FRANK CAPRA, director

What do you, a man who directed some of the most popular movies in the past, think of the modern trend in films?—M. R. Carter, Atlantic City, N.J.

● I consider these permissive movies garbage. They lack form and discipline. There are exceptions of course. I liked "Patton" and "The Graduate." And at least "Midnight Cowboy" had a kind of love story. But generally the kids making movies today seem to be out for the fast buck. I believe that when the dust settles, most of these guys will go back to making stag films.

FOR ELIZABETH POST, editor of "Etiquette"

What's the worst-decorated home you've ever seen?—J. O'Neal, Augusta, Ga.

● The worst taste usually stems from the lavish misuse of money. For example, one fabulously wealthy woman had a "Salvador Dali Room" in which nothing but Dali's paintings were displayed. The love-seats in this room were made to look like sea shells! Another lady I know is a world traveler who uses her entire 10-room apartment to show off her objets d'art. She and her poor husband live only in a sitting room and bedroom. Even their kitchen is unusable.

FOR JEANE DIXON, clairvoyant, author

You once stated that Russia would be the first to put a man on the moon. How do you explain your mistake?—Debbie Schureck, Lexington, Ohio

● Forecasts made through telepathy are subject to change. While I was right at the time in picking up those thoughts, the Russians changed their plans. Later, I was able to get psychically that Russia began to concentrate all of their scientific know-how into becoming the military master of space. Someone once said, "A wise person sometimes changes his mind—a fool never does."

FOR DARRELL ROYAL, football coach, University of Texas

What is the secret of your success in being able to produce so many winning teams in bigtime football?—Robert Barney, San Antonio, Texas

● There is no secret. It is a combination of playing talent, coaching talent, and good luck—and they all play a part. You can't have a good football team without a good plan, and a plan is no good unless you have the talent to make it work. But you can take both of those, and they are no good without luck. Finally, you must have the desire to win.

FOR HUGH DOWNS, TV Host

What one thing do you think you will miss most—and least—after leaving television?—G. Barnes, Brooklyn, N.Y.

● I'll miss access to the guests who appear on the "Today Show." But I certainly won't miss getting up at 4:30 every morning. I do plan to lecture on communications and environment, since I believe that our environmental problems are among the most crucial faced by humanity at this moment.

FOR CARROLL O'CONNOR, star of "All in the Family" TV series

In your role as "Archie Bunker" in "All in the Family" you are portrayed as a political reactionary. What party do you belong to in real life?—L. L. James, Utica, N.Y.

● I am an Independent because I don't care for either of the major parties or what they're doing with their new ideas in foreign policy. Archie's against radicals, and so am I. The difference is, I think the radicals are those who conduct foreign policy with armies when we haven't even voted on it.

FOR BOB NEWHART, comedian

I read that you used to be an accountant. None of the accountants I know can make people laugh. How did you become a comedian?—D. Roberts, Daytona Beach, Fla.

● For one thing, I was probably the worst accountant in the history of Chicago. Like Walter Mitty, I used to daydream about all the other things I'd like to be doing. It finally occurred to me that there might be a more satisfying way to earn a living—by making people laugh. Friends encouraged me to write down some of my experiences as an accountant. I did that in the form of five-minute humorous radio spots. They came to the attention of a Chicago TV station, where I was put on staff. A coworker, Dan Sorkin, brought my writing to the attention of Warner Brothers Records. They liked it and recorded it. "The Button Down Mind," my first album, turned out to be the biggest selling talking album in

HUNGER IS ALL SHE HAS EVER KNOWN

Margaret was found in a back lane of Calcutta, lying in her doorway, unconscious from hunger. Inside, her mother had just died in childbirth.

You can see from the expression on Margaret's face that she doesn't understand why her mother can't get up, or why her father doesn't come home, or why the dull throb in her stomach won't go away.

What you can't see is that Margaret is dying of malnutrition. She has periods of fainting, her eyes are strangely glazed. Next will come a bloated stomach, falling hair, parched skin. And finally, death from malnutrition, a killer that claims 10,000 lives every day.

Meanwhile, in America we eat 4.66 pounds of food a day per person, then throw away enough garbage to feed a family of six in India. In fact, the average dog in America has a higher protein diet than Margaret! If you were to suddenly join the ranks of 1½ billion people who are forever hungry, your next meal would be a bowl of rice, day after tomorrow a piece of fish the size of a silver dollar, later in the week more rice—maybe.

Hard-pressed by the natural disasters and phenomenal birth rate, the Indian government is valiantly trying to curb what Mahatma Gandhi called "The Eternal Compulsory Fast."

But Margaret's story can have a happy ending, because she has a CCF sponsor now. And for only $12 a month you can also sponsor a child like Margaret and help provide food, clothing, shelter—and love.

You will receive the child's picture, personal history, and the opportunity to exchange letters, Christmas cards—and priceless friendship.

Since 1938, American sponsors have found this to be an intimate, person-to-person way of sharing their blessings with youngsters around the world.

So won't you help? Today?

Sponsors urgently needed this month for children in: India, Brazil, Taiwan (Formosa) and Hong Kong. (Or let us select a child for you from our emergency list.)

By Arlene Silberman

"Why Can't I Ever Seem To Beat the Odds?"

What do they mean
by a "buyer's market"?
Go to sell something,
you'll find out . . .

The winter I was six years old my grandfather completely befuddled me by winning every round in our daily game of flipping coins. Not once did I manage to topple that invincible champion. I don't recall how long it took me to realize that I never had a chance in the first place. Grandpa's foxy challenge of "Heads I win, tails you lose" provided him with an absolutely foolproof system. How ever long it took me, in any event, was certainly shorter than my much delayed adult realization that life is full of many such foolproof systems.

Take the time we sold our house. Potential buyers trooped in with real-estate agents and eyed our home (into which we had poured tender loving care—and money) as if it had a faint odor. After peering suspiciously into our closets, poking around in my refrigerator and pinching the pile in our one-year old carpeting, each entourage departed in mysterious silence. When the real-estate agent returned to put in a bid, it was more of an insult than an offer. Ignoring our built-in wall ovens and counter-top burners, our sunken garbage pails and the imported living room draperies that were included with the house, each agent offered the same four-word explanation for his pitiful bid. "It's a buyer's market."

Sellers in a buyer's market, we had no choice but to part with our home for several thousand dollars less than we had expected.

"Don't worry," my husband reassured me, "if it's a buyer's market, we'll get the same break, too." And so we started the joyless process of peering into other people's closets, which were too small, poking around other people's refrigerators, which were outdated, and viewing carpeting that had no pile left to pinch. But every time one of our agents called the home owner to put in a bid, it was immediately rejected. The agents all had a four-word explanation: "It's a seller's market."

Learning that it is a buyer's market when I am the seller, and a seller's market when I am the buyer was a painful lesson, of course, but at least I can control the situation by refusing to buy or sell.

I can't control the United States Post Office, however, and it also has me locked into a "heads we win, tails you lose" position. Whenever someone sends me a letter that is lacking a stamp or two, the mailman unhesitatingly rings my bell to collect the missing money. With uncanny timing, he manages to summon me precisely as I am emerging from a shower and shampoo—but that's another matter. I hand over a slightly damp coin, usually in exchange for an advertising circular or a bill with POSTAGE DUE stamped on in pinkish-purplish ink. Even so, I'm not complaining. This is the way the United States Post Office works.

Why is it, then, when I mail a letter that is lacking a stamp or two, the other fellow is not asked to provide a similar courtesy? Why does my letter come back to me, some six days later, with INSUFFICIENT POSTAGE stamped on in that same pinkish-purplish ink? The Post Office has taken up where Grandpa left off.

I do not wish to single out the Federal Government, however. Private enterprise is equally cunning. Especially hotels. When I am enjoying a hotel visit so much that I decide to extend my stay another day or so, the management informs me, "Sorry, but you'll have to vacate before 11 a.m. We have confirmed reservations for other guests who are arriving at noon. We do wish that we could accommodate you, but it's quite impossible."

That's reasonable enough, of course. Two objects cannot occupy the same space at the same time. But when I arrive with a confirmed reservation, why does the man behind the desk say, "Sorry, but the guests occupying that room decided to extend their stay. We certainly can't insist that they leave" (why not, pray tell?), "and we don't have another room in the house." Nor does it do any good to wave my letter of confirmation in his face. The verdict is final. Heads I win, tails you lose. ♥

Why My Youth Was One Great Rehearsal for Television

"One shouldn't waste time. I hate wasting time. People immediately say to this, 'Ah, very Methodist, very Puritan.' Which may be true . . ."

By David Frost Especially for Family Weekly

I was born in a small town in England called Tenterden. My father told me that Hitler marched into Czechoslovakia two hours later—as soon as he got the news! I was the third child in the family, and my arrival came as quite a surprise, since my parents were in their late 30s at the time, and my two sisters had arrived 14 and 16 years earlier.

My father was a Methodist minister—which meant that we moved from one small town to another about every seven years. After Tenterden we moved to Kempston, then to Gillingham, and finally to Raunds in Northamptonshire. I had a wonderfully happy childhood in spite of the moving around and the fact that my father only made about 10 pounds (about $25) a week. It must have been very difficult for him to provide the bare necessities for us, and also to be the well-dressed leader of the community that he was expected to be. We didn't eat beef bourguignon, but we did have great roast beef and lamb. And we always ate very plentifully. I'll never really know how he did it.

There were few if any serious disagreements in our household. My parents had such a good marriage and partnership, there didn't have to be. Since my sisters were well on their way to adulthood, my mother had plenty of spare time for me.

One of my earliest memories is of being with my mother at the age of about 18 months and sitting outside a grocery store in Bedford. She had left me in the pushcart with some packages. I can actually remember being intrigued by a yellow jar at the bottom of the cart. I opened it and just swallowed all I could get down. It was hot mustard; that's what, and it was horrible. I've never eaten mustard since. Childhood experiences certainly leave their impressions!

Our house was a vicarage, and so it was the melting pot of the community and provided me with a whole fountain of experiences I shall never forget. It certainly had the effect of stimulating my curiosity and intensifying my interest in people. The ability my parents had for handling people and events so calmly and peacefully seems to have rubbed off on me to some degree. People from all walks of life—from church members to escaped convicts—found their way in and out of our home.

I can actually remember a fleeing convict coming to the house, as well as people who had just been released from prison and people who were destitute. Father counseled and advised them all.

The most memorable person who ever came to our house was a man who lived across the road. Let's call him Mr. Harris. He was 80 years old, and he had founded something called the "New and Latter

A Reader Writes Us: "I Think I'm in Love With David Frost!"

Would you believe that a conventional matron with two grown children could flip with unabashed ardor over David Frost? She could . . . and I did!

David Frost has charmed me with his genial wit and courtliness. He is such a joy. I bet he's not even grouchy when he wakes up in the morning!

What a great listener he is! I have difficulty holding the attention of my dear family who have heard too often about my aches and pains. David would listen and ask sympathetic questions about my arthritis, my rash, my hangnail . . .

My amiable husband doesn't mind my being enamored of David Frost as long as I stay on my side of the TV set. He has in the past indulged my infatuations with Robert Stack, Mike Connors and the Galloping Gourmet (I may be fickle, but I have good taste, huh?), so what's one more rival?

Would I like to meet David Frost? Of course! But not until I get a blonde wig to cover my graying hair, install a new set of teeth and lose 39½ pounds. Otherwise it wouldn't be fair to David. After all, he should at least have the privilege of meeting the real me!

—Helen DiMarzio Lynch, Quincy, Mass.

"The ability my parents had for handling people seems to have rubbed off on me. People from all walks of life found their way in and out of our home. I can actually remember a fleeing convict coming to the house. Father counseled and advised them all."

House of Israel" or the "Jezreelites." The Jezreelites were building a vast tower near our house called Jezreel's Tower. The purpose of the tower was based partly on their belief that you should not cut your hair but should let it grow as long as possible because eventually you would be pulled to heaven by it. The Jezreelites were building the tower to get as close to heaven as possible. But they ran out of money—and now the tower is used as a motorcycle-racing stadium. Rather sad.

In addition to never cutting his hair, Harris never washed. As my father was the nearest holy man to his house, every year Harris would bring us the first fruits of his fig harvest. My parents used to pray that the wind would be blowing in the right direction. Mother would say, "Thank you very much" and take the figs through our house and out to the garbage in the back, and that was that. It was a majestic ritual I'll never forget.

My father was a superb preacher, but he was never a doctrinaire one. With me, it was much more a case of teaching by example. I remember in Sunday school hearing a saying to the effect that the only gospel most men will follow is the gospel according to you. If that's so, Father certainly practiced what he preached. In our home it was never sermon time back at the ranch. Apart from the fact that my parents' faith was obvious, and central, it wasn't a holy household in the sense of being a preachy one; and I was an unholy terror, I'm sure.

I attended church a great deal, of course. Sunday was sort of full-time church. In the afternoon there was Sunday school for the kids. I will always remember one occasion when I was unjustifiably praised by a visiting speaker. He was talking about SW's—"Saviour of the World, SW, went to Sychar's Well, SW, and met Samaritan

What Do You Know About How Sleep Affects Your Life?

True or False: Even if you haven't been out late the night before, you'll feel better next day if you sleep late instead of getting up early (See number 3)

Sleep has much in common with the fair sex. Each can be seductive and comforting, but each can be difficult for a man to understand. Since sleep is so mysterious, let's put it under the X-ray eye and see if it will hold still for a true-false quiz.

1. Some people can get along fine on three hours sleep a night.
2. People who have the most worries and anxieties are the hardest to awaken.
3. Even if you haven't been out late the night before, you'll feel better next day if you permit yourself the luxury of sleeping late instead of getting up early.
4. If you talk in your sleep, it's a sign you're neurotic.
5. Sleep helps you to forget.
6. You'll feel much better mentally and physically if you will avoid getting either too much or too little sleep.

ANSWERS

1. True. There have long been unsubstantiated reports of people who get by on three or four hours sleep a night, and now recent sleep studies have provided documentary evidence that some people can and do thrive on as little as three-hours sleep a night. On the other end of the spectrum, there are many people who don't feel fit unless they get nine or 10 hours of shut-eye.
2. False. In studies at the University of Chicago, where light sleepers and deep sleepers were given personality tests, the light sleepers—those easiest to awaken—were found to have the most anxiety and inner conflict.
3. False. University of California sleep studies have shown that students who slept late—unless making up a sleep deficit—were far more inclined to "feel worn out, tired, lethargic and given to fuzzy thinking" than those who did not sleep late. When this negative late-sleeper syndrome occurs, the investigation showed it lasts on an average of about four and one-half hours. Moral: unless you really need the sleep for some reason, the odds are you'll feel better if you don't allow yourself the so-called luxury of sleeping late.

4. False. Studies show the sleep-talking is not at all uncommon and is not itself indicative of an abnormality. Psychologist Wilse B. Webb, who has conducted extensive research on sleep, cites the findings of studies which show that in most cases talking in one's sleep doesn't happen while we're dreaming but occurs during "very light sleep" or what is described as a borderline state between sleep and wakefulness. Sometimes sleep-talking comes out loud and clear, with each word carefully enunciated. But in many cases it is toneless, indistinct and impossible to understand. Thus many a wife is perturbed by the satisfied smile on her sleeping husband's face, as he gives forth with emphatic but unintelligible mutterings and murmurings.

5. False. If something happens that you'd like to forget, the worst thing you can do is go to sleep right afterward. For this will make a great deal harder for you to ever forget it. Studies show that sleep following any incident or happening causes it to make a much deeper impression on memory.

6. True. As one sleep scientist has noted, oversleeping can be just as bad as you as overeating. And getting enough sleep, can be just as harmful as not getting enough to eat. Since individuals vary so widely in the amount of sleep they need, you should experiment to determine how many hours sleep make you feel your best. If you're feeling as alert, alive and vigorous as you'd like there's a good chance you're either getting too much sleep or too little.

YOUR ROOM INTERIORS: THE 'LAST FRONTIER OF INDIVIDUALITY'

MAKE FABRICS WORK FOR YOU

Every inch of this family/guest room is used to full capacity for dining, games, TV-watching, sleeping (in built-in bunks) and just plain living. If you study this interior, you can learn how to mix fabrics successfully within one room. Notice that colors in each pattern match or blend; the large-scale diamond print on the sofa and wall is balanced by the small-scaled stripe on the bunk-beds and chairs and the even smaller-scaled diamond-print cushioning on the red lacquer wing chair. Remember that a pattern, unless it's a small accent, ought to be repeated more than once to make the scheme really work. The room is then pulled together with a liberal use of solid reds, blues and neutral white. Try your own fabric mix, it's fun and not that complicated. It'll earn you a room that expresses your own unique tastes. Furniture by Flair; upholstery of Celanese Fortrel double-knit stretch fabric.

The Trend in Decorating Is You!

By Rosalyn Abrevaya

● The key phrases surrounding the state of home furnishings today are not so much "French Provincial" or "free-wheeling modern" as "environment" and "consumerism." As more and more Americans work for vast corporations and face numbered, credit-card existences—and as people feel increasingly impatient with what seems to be a general indifference to their own particular needs—the home is being recognized more and more as the "last frontier" of comfort, privacy and individuality.

In short, in home furnishings at least, the consumer is beginning to come into his own.

What does this mean? Well, for designers, who often used to design primarily to please themselves, it means that they must now pay more respect to the customer—his living habits, his tastes, his pocketbook. For manufacturers it means attempting, through technology, to reduce the cost of furniture. And for retailers it means devising new ways to present a total look in home furnishings that will appeal to people who actually have to do the sitting in, the lying on, the living with and the looking at.

No event is more indicative of this trend than "Debut '72," the beginning of an annual national consumer-oriented promotion effort of the home-furnishings industry. This year "Debut '72" takes place from September 27 through October 9. Furniture dealers throughout the country are being urged during these two weeks to give their customers a preview of new styles, new colors, new materials—the new home "environment."

In this, FAMILY WEEKLY's inaugural "At Home" section, you'll find plenty of ideas to help you create more satisfying and comfortable interiors. After you've studied the section, you might want to lift it out and save it.

Take Your Cues from Carpeting

● Within a short span of time, carpeting has gone through revolutionary changes. Once limited to a few floral and dark colors, carpets now are blazing with color, bursting out in new textures and brilliant designs. What kind to choose?

Wall-to-wall carpeting can make a small room look larger or unify adjacent rooms. Area rugs work their wonder in large rooms that need defining; in rooms with floors too lovely to cover up; in temporary residences where you don't want the permanency of tacked-down carpeting. Or you may want to use both wall-to-wall and an area rug in a heady combination.

Carpeting, in fact, can be the catalyst that sparks the scheme of an entire room or be the perfect warming touch that completes your room setting. Need color? Need pattern? Take a cue from the interiors shown here . . .

DEFINE AN AREA

Show off a dining alcove with the addition of a brilliantly patterned area rug, such as this one designed by Dorothy Liebes. The advantage of area rugs, because they come in all sizes, is that they can work magic if you need to inject a splash of color or want pattern in small dosage. This artful area rug was placed on a contrasting field of shag lime carpeting. The small dining setting, which was designed by Pat Plexico from the floor up, was planned for decorative impact as well as function by selecting a scaled-down buffet cabinet with a laminated surface, an oval table that opens up to seat six, and a side table with a pull-out shelf (off the living room) that can be called into service for entertaining. Carpeting, area rug by Bigelow; furniture by Hickory Mfg; art prints by Syroco; lamp by Tyndale.

CARPETING THAT CLIMBS THE WALL

When you lay down carpeting, why stop at the floor? A relatively new decorating idea is to continue up the wall. In this room self-sticking 12-inch-square shag carpet tiles were used. They are quick to install, easy to pick up for moving, and will save on installation cost. The latex foam backing provides deep comfort underfoot. And, if you cover an entire wall, it cuts down on noise between rooms. This contemporary living room derives its snappy color scheme from the all-vinyl foil plaid wall covering, which is nontarnishable, washable. An effective way to add a shelf is to suspend one from the ceiling on metal chains, as shown, sprayed a vivid green. The chains, available at hardware stores, are hung by hooks from the ceiling. Carpet tiles by Ozite; furniture by Selig; hassocks by Crawford Mfg; wall covering by Lloyd; framed mirrors by the Cypress Tree.

How to Make Your Room Say: Real

● Good rooms have certain things in common. They may vary in style and color scheme, but a basic group of elements is always present. A room looks "right" if it has balance (furniture is not weighted down in one area); versatility (enough similar shapes such as cubes and rectangles, contrasted with softer, rounder forms, perhaps in a chair or lamp); scale (the furniture and accessories suit a room's size, are not dwarfed or cramped); color (the general rule, which can be broken: choose quiet hues for large areas, such as floor and walls, more muted colors for medium-sized areas, such as upholstery, the most vivid tones for accents).

There are some suggestions on how to blend the old with the new, how to collaborate with color, how to achieve good furniture arrangement. But most of all, how to create vital interiors, not decorating showcases, that proclaim real people live here!

▲ BOLD WALLS CREATE THE COLOR SCHEME

Intense, primary colors create an almost Mondrian landscape in this living room, achieved by painting the walls in rectangles of color edged with black magnetic tape. The background sets off a plush high-back chair and a sectional sofa in a creamy expanse of white (a style revival on the home furnishings scene because of its great flexibility). The warmth of wood plus the see-through and reflective surfaces of accessories are good low-key harmonizers for this bold-colored setting. Remember that wall color can be used in unlimited ways—to modify or conceal architectural faults, and to give simple furniture, fabrics and rugs a sumptuous air. It can also induce excitement or relaxation, gaiety or calm. So choose hues you are comfortable with. Imaginative use of color can be your most inexpensive decorating tool. Furniture by Selig.

▲ TRADITIONAL—BUT NOT PRICELESS

The chief furnishings of this room—upholstered furniture, wall covering and beams—were purchased for under $1,000. Just as modern furniture is being mass-produced at affordable levels, beloved traditional styles are also being reproduced for less. In this setting, designed by Marcus Tuttle, the upholstered chair and pair of love seats are not constructed in the usual costly way of hand-tying and knotting but are composed of strong forms of rigid polyurethane foam, developed by UniRoyal. The savings are passed on to the consumer. Adding to the traditional air of the room, unsightly walls were covered with Naugahyde decorative fabric, tall light-weight beams of rigid polyurethane foam were added, and the old arched window was capitalized upon by framing it within linear beams. Above the mantle, the straight-lined frame of the painting repeats this design concept with its oval inner-shape. Furniture by Bassett.

People Live Here!

MIX OF CULTURES

The eclectic look—a mix of the best of several cultures—is a favorite way to decorate today. This richly appointed room, combining a prized oriental rug with a Chippendale chair and an American Colonial secretary, is not without its practical side. The modern, clean-lined sofa opens up into a sleeper. Hide-A-Bed sofa from Simmons.

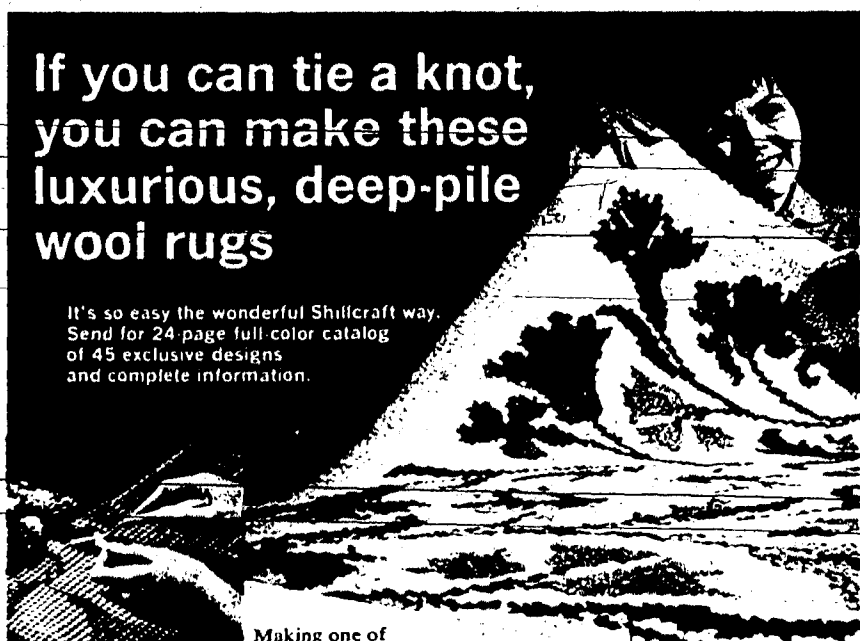

TRY A FRESH APPROACH

This room is not just for sleeping. Imaginatively designed by Karl Steinhäuser, it has been created with multifunctional furniture that would not ordinarily be found in a bedroom. Instead of regular night tables, two small-scaled secretaries with drop lids are used to provide additional drawer and shelf storage. For dramatic interest, a pleated ruffle is suspended over the headboard between the two secretaries by means of a painted rod and wooden rings. A desk and comfortable upholstered tub chair completes the bed-sitting-room atmosphere. The off-white furniture, by Stanley, is finished with bright striping of yellow and olive green.

Furniture That Solves Your Storage Problems

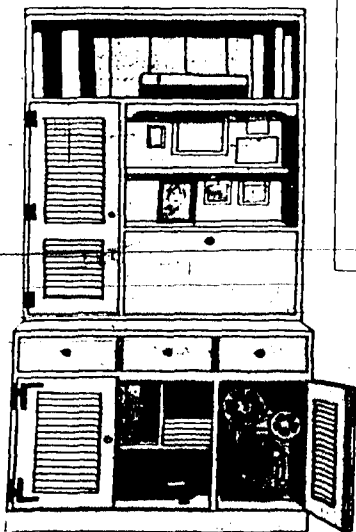

Illustrations by Werner Kappes

● The Common Complaint of those of us who dwell under roofs is not lack of space, but over-stuffed space. Where can you put the new tape recorder or musical instrument, last year's Christmas decorations, six weeks worth of magazines, party games and hobbies? Is there a solution, short of building a new wing on your house just for closets?

Happily, more and more furniture is being designed not only for good looks, but for cleverly concealed capacity as well. Well-scaled, rather than inflicted on a room, wall components and such appointments as an exquisite chest or buffet, can help to integrate home furnishings and diminish clutter. Equally important, they can be moved where you want them to go.

Need six smart storage solutions right away? They're yours, in furniture pieces that will star in any room in the house, on this page and the next...

CAMERA HEADQUARTERS

other) features a laminated plastic drop-lid work surface and compartmentalized storage space for photo albums, cameras, film, lenses, editing equipment, carousels, reels, projectors and gadget bag. Stacked, the components stand 78 inches high by 40 inches wide. When closed, the pieces (which come in solid maple and birch), are a pleasing blend of louvered doors, drawers and cork-surfaced display area. Photo center by Ethan Allen. About $475.

MINIATURE STORAGE CHEST

For the music buff who collects cartridges or cassettes, there is a special storage solution—a chest, divided into five compartments, each of which will hold 10 tape cartridges. The one shown is in a modern tortoise finish, but Early American and Mediterranean styles are also available. Designed to rest on top of a home-entertainment console, on a table or bookcase shelf, the unit measures 24 x 11 1/2 high x 8 1/4. Tape Storage Chest by Lane, about $60.

LINGERIE CHEST IN SHAKER TRADITION

A contemporary adaption of an unusual Shaker woodbox results in this harmoniously styled lingerie chest (or keeper of men's shirts and socks, for that matter). In a honey-colored pecan finish, the tall chest features a lift-up top to reveal mirror and velvet-lined jewelry compartment behind simulated top drawers. It also has a tambour roll-top door concealing a roomy storage area with black laminate shelf surface, and six handy drawers. It measures 20" x 18" x 54". Lingerie Chest by Drexel. About $200.

WHERE TO STASH THE TV TUBE?

If your television set is not a console model, it is often stylelessly conspicuous when it's not on. A handsomely designed two-level utility deck in a warm, pecky pecan finish comes to the rescue. It frees valuable floor space that might otherwise have been wasted on a TV stand and offers additional room on top for a plant, books or stereo, enabling you to create a complete home-entertainment center. It's 24 inches high, available in two widths of 30 inches or 47 inches. Utility deck by Lea Industries. About $60 or $80, depending on size.

CABINET THAT LEADS A DOUBLE LIFE

Today buffet servers come in every style from traditional to modern, and in a variety of dimensions. They're furniture items that not only solve the problem of where to store the napkins and silver but can be equally at home in the dining, living, family room or foyer. For example, this rich, architecturally wrought cabinet is really a flip-top buffet server with concealed storage parts behind its lattice-work doors. When open and extended, it features a black plastic top and an adjustable shelf and tray, lined and partitioned for silver. In pecky pecan veneers and oak solids, the piece measures 38" x 18" closed, 76" x 18" open, and has concealed casters. Server by Thomasville, about $260.

STORAGE WALL SYSTEM— AT A REASONABLE PRICE

One of the great design achievements of our day has been the development of modular component storage systems with parts that interchange so you can custom-style a wall unit to suit your individual needs. These systems have often been high in cost for the average-income family. But that is changing. The china cabinet shown, for example, is the highest priced component (about $200) in the group. The pieces are 76 inches high and come in five bright lacquered wood finishes and a simulated rosewood. Unizontal wall system by Bernhard.

Here's the Classic— Basic and Beautiful

F-975

● A classic by definition withstands the test of time, refuses to date itself out of existence. A perfect example is this basic, beautifully tailored dress you can easily sew yourself. It has all the great details working for it: a turtleneck standaway collar that flatters the face, button-tab pockets and smart saddle-stitching. You can make this dress in long, short, or sleeveless style. Fabric suggestions: a lightweight wool, in solid or tweed, or a silk gabardine.

Size 14 takes 2¾ yards of 44-inch fabric in long sleeves, 2½ yards in short sleeves, and 2¼ yards in sleeveless. Standard body measurements for size 14 are: bust 36, waist 27, hips 38.

David Frost

Woman, SW, and he gave her satisfying water, SW. What did she become that begins with SW?" I thought this was a silly question, so I said, "Satisfied Woman." The preacher stared, then shouted excitedly, "Sanctified Woman! That's the most brilliant answer from a child I've ever heard." After that, I couldn't let him down by telling him what a hum-drum answer it really was.

Being around my father and the church actually started me off in front of an audience. I began helping him by giving some speeches and reading a few of the lessons. I suppose I liked congregations, and that's why later I decided to exchange them for audiences. I began to be more and more interested in audiences. When I was 13 or 14, I wrote a revue for the Methodist Youth Club in Gillingham. My parents asked me then whether I would like to go off to boarding school, but I remember saying, "No, life is far too interesting at home."

In fact, I attended state schools up to the age of 18. I then had a free year before going to Cambridge—and in that year I made a decision to teach. I taught in a co-educational secondary school, which is the kind of school where students go if they fail their examinations to get into grammar schools. As a result, these schools really needed teachers. I found it a very rewarding experience. If I weren't doing what I'm doing now, I believe I would be very happy teaching.

Then I went on to Cambridge. I was very fortunate to be able to do two things I had always wanted to do. The first was to edit the main magazine, "Granta," and the second was to run the Footlights Revue and Cabaret Society, the biggest theatrical effort at Cambridge. I also started doing some television programs for the local station, Anglia, in Norwich. We never had a television in our house, and when I was in my teens, I would go across the road to our neighbor's house to watch it. But it was at Cambridge that my love affair with television really began.

A friend of mine, Tony Jay, with whom I wrote a book called "The English," once said, "Television is seeing things happen." This to me is very true, especially about talk shows. You are seeing people happen before your very eyes.

"Being around my father and the church actually started me off in front of an audience. I began helping him by reading a few of the lessons. I suppose I liked congregations, and that's why later I decided to exchange them for audiences."

My present show is a combination of journalism and entertainment. I think the most exciting thing about it all is when people come over as they really are. That is what gives me the energy to work 15 hours a day or whatever it comes to. My work is like a Chinese meal—half and hour after a show, I'm hungry again.

One thing I've learned about television is that everybody becomes an expert after the event and not before. If you have an idea for a program and it's a new idea, you can't conduct a computerized survey to find out if it will be a success. Thank God! You've got to take that leap of the imagination yourself. If I had asked people, "Should I do 90-minute interviews with people?" (the norm before that had been eight or nine) they would have said I was crazy. But it worked, and here I am.

I think the main key to having a successful talk show is listening. People know when you're interested in what they are saying. It is lucky for me that I like to listen because no one can fake it. The success of the talk show can be judged by how soon an interview turns into a conversation. I initiate many of the bookings myself because I am not interested in interviewing everybody in the world. What we hope to do is winnow out the people with whom there is no hope of chemistry before they get on the air. We know before going on that I look forward to the prospect of talking to whomever I'm going to talk to. This rapport helps insure spontaneity and involvement.

I am a great believer that you can achieve anything if you're really determined enough to achieve it. And when it comes to work, I believe you can condition yourself to anything. I remember my father used to put on two or three extra cardigans when it got cold in the winter; I always told him not to do it because by the end of the winter his body would have gotten the message that it didn't have to keep him warm. By the end of the winter he'd be needing those cardigans. By the same token, if you give yourself 10 hours sleep every night, you'll eventually need it.

My pet peeve is wasting time or wasting the talents one has. I feel very much that we all have a duty to use our talents if we've been given the opportunity to fulfill ourselves. One shouldn't waste time. I hate wasting time. People immediately say to this, "Ah, very Methodist, very Puritan." Which may be true. My background certainly did influence me in other ways, too. I'm against anything that makes life less than it can be for people. I'm sure that's the result of my upbringing. And I'm incredibly well informed about Sychar's Well! ♦

Danger on the Job: To End the Threat

On a recent morning, Bill Ferris, a 38-year-old foundry worker, neglected to tighten a nut when he changed an abrasive wheel. As he switched on the equipment, the wheel vibrated wildly and shattered, hurling pieces in all directions. Ferris and four other men were badly hurt.

Last December, a coal mine explosion near Hyden, Ky., killed 38 miners. So many safety rules were violated that the Justice Department was asked to prosecute those responsible.

During one week in Detroit, three workers in daily contact with cutting oils used in high-speed machinery were found to have developed skin cancer.

Such carnage on the job—from accidents and occupational diseases—have been termed by the National Research Council "the neglected epidemic of modern society." Not only factory workers and miners are affected, crippling mishaps and job-linked ailments may also strike at any of the millions of Americans who earn their living in offices and stores, on farms and other work sites.

New technology, creating different kinds of work environment, has created new hazards, often unforeseen. Many innovative processes and high-speed machines make it hard for workers to protect themselves.

The toll is appalling. Official Federal reports count upward of 14,200 deaths and two and a half million lost-time injuries on the job each year. The National Health Survey estimates the total number injured at eight million. A recent private study for the U.S. Department of Labor puts the score on seriously injured at 25 million a year. (These discrepancies probably indicate that many industries fail to file complete records.) Whatever the true figures on accidents, some 245 million man-days are lost, for an annual cost to the nation of nine billion dollars. Add to this the number of job-related diseases—estimated at 336,000 cases per year—and you can see why crusader Ralph Nader says that "elk and deer are better protected than working men and women."

The need and demand for better worker-safety was clearly recognized last December when Congress passed a new Occupational Safety and Health Act (see box). Sponsors call it "far-reaching, a landmark piece of social legislation," while critics label it as "minimum," contending it does not go far enough. At least the country has been alerted more than ever to the pervading threats to our well-being at work.

These threats are tangible and often avoidable. In accidents, industrial machinery is responsible for almost half the nonfatal injuries and for one out of four occupational deaths. Farm machinery, such as tractors, can be just as lethal. Other frequent causes of injury include blows from moving objects, piercing instruments, falls, overexertion in lifting and being hit by moving vehicles.

In occupational maladies, as well as certain accidents, the list

What It Will Take to Make the New Law Work

A Message to Family Weekly Readers from the Secretary of Labor

The new job safety law says that working conditions must be safer and healthier than heretofore—and the Labor Department is determined to enforce that law.

But you and I know that laws alone cannot stop job accidents. Only people—concerned employers and vigilant employees—can, in the long run, prevent disabling accidents, work-related illnesses, and death in the work place.

As Mr. Irwin has so wisely pointed out, working men and women must learn to safeguard themselves against potential job hazards. Like automobile safety belts—protective equipment is useless unless utilized; safety instructions, worthless unless heeded.

The time has come for all of us—Government and industry, employers and employees—to unit to eliminate the needless human tragedy that stems from on-the-job illness, injury, or death.

The time has come to think safety—and work safely.

Working together, I am confident that we will achieve the objectives of the new Occupational Safety and Health Law.

—J. D. Hodgson, Secretary of Labor

What's Being Done to Life and Limb?

By T. K. Irwin

An estimated 245 million man-days are lost each year because of accidents. Add to this the number of job-related diseases—about 336,000 cases per year—and you can see why crusader Ralph Nader says that "elk and deer are better protected than working men and women."

of known or potential health hazards is long. They range from solvents to plastics, resins, oils, gases, microwave, ultrasonic, ultraviolet, lasers, masers and complex chemical compounds. And the list keeps growing. About every 20 minutes a new and potentially toxic chemical is introduced into industry.

At least 400 different substances have been pegged as carcinogens (cancer-causing agents). Insulation workers inhaling asbestos fibers, for instance, run the risk of lung cancer and a lung-scarring disease, asbestosis. Some chromium compounds used in fur processing, metal working, soap making and textile dyeing are suspected cancer agents. A variety of skin diseases, including skin cancer, has been traced to coal-tar pitch used in many kinds of work, from roofing to farming. Men and women packaging enzyme detergents have come down with chronic respiratory diseases.

Children of workers may also be affected. Dr. Samuel S. Epstein, of the Children's Cancer Research Foundation in Boston, has warned of the increased dangers of birth defects and damages to "the genetic pool," traceable to dust irradiation and chemicals.

In the face of these and other perils, U.S. industry is currently spending about $320 million a year for health services and professional safeguarding of plant "environment." But the problem is, four out of five people hold down jobs in small companies where no doctor or nurse is on duty, and no health service at all is offered.

To deal with special problems, the Federal Bureau of Occupational Safety and Health has been studying the effects of dusts, chemicals and other hazards, developing preventive and control measures which can be applied by industry. All but a few states have by now set up occupational health units. A diversity of rules, regulations and laws dealing with occupational health has been decreed. Yet, thus far, they have apparently not made too much of a dent on the problems.

What's different about the new Occupational Health and Safety Act is that for the first time there will be Federal supervision over working conditions. Essentially, the act gives broad authority to the Departments of Labor and HEW. They are empowered to set up safety and health standards for those who work in a business or industry engaged in interstate commerce; to impose penalties for violation of these standards; to investigate conditions and to conduct research on hazards and harmful materials.

Just how meaningful and effective the law will turn out to be remains to be seen. Meanwhile, if you are in any kind of vulnerable job, here's what you can do to help safeguard yourself:

- Know what you're working with or exposed to, whether they are harmful fumes, drugs, dusts, lasers, radioactive materials, molds or bacteria.

- Then learn how you can avert being harmed. If protective gloves or clothing, goggles or hard hat, mask or respirator are indicated, don't pass up using them. With dangerous vapors or dusts, check the exhaust system.

- Make sure your work place is clean, free of grease and clutter. Keep solvents and other dangerous materials in covered containers and use them only with good ventilation.

- Be alert to unexpected hazards. Report peculiar odors immediately.

- Don't take chances. See that hoods, guards and other safety devices are in place—and effective.

- To make certain that your work is not placing your health in jeopardy, get examined regularly by your company doctor and report symptoms promptly. If you don't have a health service at your job, see your family doctor and discuss potential hazards to which you may be exposed. ◆

Does More Than Help Shrink Swelling Of Hemorrhoidal Tissues Due To Infection

Also Gives Prompt, Temporary Relief in Many Cases from Pain and Itching in Such Tissues.

When hemorrhoidal tissues swell, become inflamed and infected—it can be very painful for the sufferer. Dog Nearly Dies From Scratching Skin Raw

"Last year, a skin problem made our dog, Heidi, scratch her skin raw. I thought we'd have to put her to sleep, she suffered so. Then a neighbor told me about Sulfodene. I put Sulfodene all over Heidi. She stopped scratching and soon she was completely healed. Her coat grew back nice and thick. I'm convinced Sulfodene saved Heidi's life."

Mrs. L. Schrank, Arlington Hts., Ill., Sulfodene relieves the most frenzied itching almost instantly. Then it clings to the skin to go on working to kill infectious bacteria, help heal, used by kennels and veterinarians. Get Sulfodene, the specific medication for dogs' skin problems. PIN-WORMS A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, loss of sleep and a tormenting itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it. To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly, easily. Ask your pharmacist.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... small, easy-to-take tablets... special sizes for children and adults.

COOKBOOK/By Melanie DeProft

Louisiana Yam 'n' Ham Supper

The popularity of the flavors in these recipes probably originated in the South. But today their appeal is nationwide. Here are a few favorites that will provide a "down home" dash for the most inveterate Yankee palates.

Louisiana Yam 'n' Ham Casserole with a cranberry orange sauce is served hot from the oven with squares of golden cornbread.

LOUISIANA YAM 'N' HAM SUPPER

1 pkg. corn bread mix
6 medium yams, scrubbed, cooked, peeled, and sliced, or 3 cans (17 oz. each) yams, drained and sliced
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
½ cup maple-blended syrup
1 large orange, quartered and ground
½ cup whole cranberry sauce
1½ lbs. cooked ham, cubed
½ cup chopped pecans
2 tablespoons brown sugar

1. Prepare corn bread mix following package directions. Bake, set aside on a wire rack, and keep warm before cutting into squares for serving.
2. Meanwhile, heat butter or margarine in a saucepan. Stir in maple-blended syrup, ground orange, and cranberry sauce. Bring to boiling and simmer about 5 min., stirring occasionally.
3. In a shallow 2-qt. casserole, layer half of the yams and half of the ham. Spoon half of the sauce over ham and yams. Repeat layering. Stir nuts into remaining half of sauce and spoon over all. Sprinkle brown sugar over top.
4. Set in a 350°F. oven 30 min., or until thoroughly heated. 6 to 8 servings

Note: Thinly sliced white meat of turkey or chicken may be layered along with the ham and yams in this casserole.

WATERMELON-PEAR SALAD

Watermelon chunks
Pears (unpared), cut in wedges
Cucumber, pared and cut in cubes

Escarole, torn in pieces or chunks
Romaine, torn in pieces or chunks
French dressing (use lemon juice instead of vinegar and add sugar)

1. Chill ingredients thoroughly in a salad bowl. Cover with moisture-vaporproof material before refrigerating.
2. Just before serving, uncover, drizzle lightly with salad dressing and toss until coated.

PECAN PIE

1 unbaked 9-in. pie shell (prepared from a pie crust mix)
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 teaspoons vanilla extract
¾ cup sugar
3 eggs, well beaten
½ cup chopped pecans
1 cup dark corn syrup
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup pecan halves

1. Cream butter or margarine with extract. Add sugar gradually, creaming well. Add beaten eggs in thirds, beating well after each addition. Thoroughly blend in chopped pecans along with syrup and salt. Turn into the unbaked pie shell.
2. Bake at 450°F. 10 min.; reduce heat to 350°F. Arrange pecan halves over top of filling. Continue baking 30 to 35 min., or until set.
3. Cool on a wire rack. One 9-in. pie

BEST-EVER TOMATO PRESERVES

1 lb. tart green apples
4 lbs. firm ripe tomatoes
2 lemon slices, each ¼ in. thick
4 cups sugar
Jars and lids

1. Wash, quarter, core, pare, and cut apples into small cubes (about 3 cups).
2. Wash tomatoes, scald, peel, and cut out around stem ends. Cut tomatoes into small pieces (about 2 qts.).
3. Combine apples, tomatoes, and lemon slices in a large heavy saucepan or preserving kettle. Bring to simmering over medium heat and stir in the sugar. Boil gently about 1½ hrs., or until thick and clear; stir occasionally as the mixture begins to thicken. If desired, blend in several drops of red food coloring.
4. Meanwhile, wash jars and lids in soapy water; rinse thoroughly in boiling water and drain. Set aside.
5. Ladle mixture into the jars. Seal, using the jar covers and following manufacturer's directions. Cool on a wire rack.

BACK HOME WITH GRANNY A Snakebite Reunited Them

When Grandmother Amelia Bowden and granddaughter Ann Sherell, nine, kissed good-bye in London, they thought they'd never see each other again. Anne's mother had emigrated to Australia. A month later, the child was in a coma from a poisonous snake bite. When she began her miraculous recovery, Grandma withdrew her entire life savings, enough for a one-way journey for two, and sent it to Australia with the message, COME HOME. After a 32-hour trip, Ann, Mother, and Granny were reunited. Says Grandmother Bowden, "It was money well spent. I've never been cuddled and kissed so much before."

There's a new political party especially for a group of people who often feel no one listens to them: "The Party for Invalids, the Lonely and the Old." The party is in Holland—but a smart politician might gain a lot of supporters bringing it to the U.S.

Cigars may be the last bastion of male chauvinism. And women are known to be rather negative about cigars. To turn women into fans—or at least not enemies—the cigar people suggest that the confirmed smoker reeducate himself before he tries to sell her: 1) Remove butts from sight and smell as soon as the cigar gasps its last. 2) After dinner, be sure everyone at the table has finished eating before lighting up. 3) Do not smoke in crowded rooms, on elevators or on the street. 4) Do not talk with a cigar in your mouth. 5) Do not chew the end of a cigar.

A decorator's unorthodox advice to you (This week's book quote): "You can have great flexibility in your budget if you discard the notion that your room must traditionally include certain items. For example, you can: use a loveseat instead of a couch—or no couch at all; use inexpensive occasional chairs or pillows on the floor instead of lounge chairs; use benches, banquettes, and cubes for seating; use window shades instead of draperies or curtains; leave your floors completely bare; use unmatching night tables, end tables, and lamps, which are, in fact, more interesting; or, when matching items are preferred, use "lookalikes" instead of things that are identical." We read a lot of papers,

And they really multiply;
In just about a week or so
The pile grows very high.
No one ever takes them out,
No matter how I plead,
Until the day that I decide
Some recipe I need.
That's when I find my loving spouse,
Earlier that day,
Has tried to help around the house,
And thrown them all away.

The bride of a few weeks noticed that her husband was depressed.

"Lester, darling," she said, "I know something is troubling you, and I want you to tell me what it is. Your worries are not just your own worries now . . . they are our worries."

"Okay, honey," he replied. "We've just had a letter from a girl in New York, and she's suing us for breach of promise."

HOMESICK

A traveling man, I nightly dwell
In any beckoning motel.

My pillow is of rubber. Foam!

It whispers: "Ain't no place like home."

—Robert H. Marriatt

A man eating in a hole-in-the-wall restaurant found his steak too tough to cut.

"You'll have to take this steak back and get me another one," he told the waiter. "I can't even begin to cut it."

"Sorry, sir," said the waiter, examining the steak closely. "I can't take this back now. You've bent it."

—A. T. Quigg

Payment Plan

Yes, the latest edition of Britannica—the greatest treasury of knowledge ever published—is being offered on a remarkable direct-from-the-publisher plan. All 24 volumes will be placed in your home NOW... you pay later on convenient budget terms. It's as easy as buying a book a month.

Benefits Passed on to You

You may wonder how we're able to make this truly amazing offer. First, we have ordered a tremendous printing which materially reduces our costs, and, under a remarkable direct-from-the-publisher plan, we pass these benefits on to you.

Thousands of Subjects of Practical Value

In the new edition of Britannica, you will find thousands of subjects that you and your family will refer to in the course of your normal day-to-day affairs. For example, you'll find special articles on household budgets, interior decorating, medicine and health, home remodeling, child care, adolescent problems, rules and regulations for all sports, every kind of hobby... plus a treasure house of knowledge on all subjects. Usable information that can save you many dollars.

If card is detached, write to Encyclopaedia Britannica, Dept. 351-B, 425 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill. 60611.

New Edition Is Profusely Illustrated

The new Britannica almost "televises" information with over 22,000 magnificent illustrations. But it does not merely show "attractive pictures"—it is the work of 10,400 of the world's greatest authorities.

Britannica in your home can give you the broad knowledge that makes people listen when you talk, enabling you to speak factually and intelligently on the widest range of subjects.

Essential for Homework

For students, Britannica is indispensable. It is the finest and most complete reference set published in America. Its use develops the active, alert minds that bring success in school and later life.

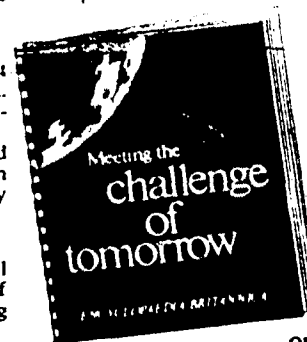

Britannica has always been the symbol of a good home. It is a treasure house of knowledge that can open a richer, fuller, more successful life to every member of your family.
