'Ginger' stirs froth

HURRICANE GINGER, although 600 miles off Daytona Beach, Fla., kicked up Atlantic surf into long-awaited "hang ten" waves which produced delight on this surfer's face in this striking photograph. Frothy waves thundered ashore along Florida coast Tuesday as storm held stationary. Today, Ginger began edging toward North Carolina coast despite efforts of Navy bombers to weaken storm by dumping silver iodide into eye. (UPI) (Related map, story on P. 5)

Parents would pay fees for kindergartens

By MIKE ROBERTSON
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — The trend was overwhelmingly in favor of public school kindergarten, with over 75 per cent of those responding to a survey conducted by school officials also indicating they would pay tuition for their children, according to Supt. George Staudaheer.

He said that about 40 parents indicated that they would also be willing to spend some time working with kindergarten students.

The survey sponsored by the League of Women Voters proved to be "unrealistic" and "inconclusive" however, because it did not get to the right people, Staudaheer said. The questionnaires were distributed to students in elementary schools to be taken home and filled out by those parents with kindergarten age children. Only 154 survey sheets were returned.

Staudaheer said many parents with pre-school children evidently didn't have older children in school.

"We just don't know who the students are who would be in kindergarten," he said. Staudaheer said the projected first grade enrollment will be about 550 next year, but the school system doesn't know how to locate them.

The results of the survey were inconclusive for several reasons, he said. Many people failed to complete the survey, answering only one or two questions. Some answered some questions but didn't indicate if their child would be five by Oct. 15.

Many parents indicated they could not provide transportation for their kindergarten age children. Staudaheer said the costs of providing buses for kindergarten students would be prohibitive.

"I believe the state should finance kindergartens 100 per cent for 100 per cent of the students," Staudaheer said.

He said, "I firmly believe we should have public school kindergartens." Staudaheer said he also believes in the gradual transition from home to school that kindergartens provide.

Nixon voices POW hope

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon Tuesday told families of American prisoners of war that the United States would "eventually succeed" in winning their release.

The President offered his "personal commitment" in a surprise appearance at the second annual convention of the National League of Families of American Prisoners and Missing in Southeast Asia.

Nixon outlined no timetable for securing the POWs' freedom, but he received a standing ovation when he finished his remarks—just as he had when he entered the Statler-Hilton ballroom where a banquet was just getting underway.

CBS chief asks law for press

WASHINGTON (UPI) — CBS President Frank Stanton today called for new laws to protect newsmen from the "dark shadow of surveillance" by government.

Stanton, who successfully resisted attempts by a House committee to subpoena material gathered by CBS but not broadcast, testified at the second day of senate hearings into press freedom.

He said governmental subpoenas represented a "particularly insidious threat to the ability of newsmen to carry out their responsibilities effectively" and should be forbidden.

He said in prepared testimony: "Not only is the burden of compliance with such subpoenas extreme and in itself punitive; but compelling journalists to reveal their sources or unpublished materials such as notes, films, tapes, has a chilling effect on and seriously impedes their future access to such sources ...

"The gravity of this threat to the free press stems from efforts to subject professional news judgments to governmental scrutiny. The dark shadow of surveillance can do nothing but inhibit the free flow of information, without which we believe a robust press is an impossibility."

Major Viet battle near

SAIGON (UPI)—Thousands of South Vietnamese and American troops poured into embattled Tay Ninh province northwest of Saigon today to join what appeared to be developing into one of the major pitched battles of the Indochina war.

UPI Correspondent Kenneth J. Braddick reported from Tay Ninh City that South Vietnamese Gen. Nguyen Xuan Tinh, commander of the 25th Infantry Division, said 50,000 South Vietnamese troops along with a regiment of 5,000 South Vietnamese and elements of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division were battling three divisions or some 36,000 North Vietnamese.

Massive American air support including seven strikes by B52 bombers and raids by low level tactical jet fighter-bombers were brought to bear on the Communists but heavy cloud cover and squalls from the backlash from Typhoon Della grounded most U.S. helicopter support.

The combat role of American troops in Indochina has greatly diminished in recent months as the South Vietnamese army took on more and more combat duties under the Vietnamization program. But the U.S. command apparently thought the Communist offensive in the area 85 miles northwest of Saigon was too great to be ignored.

As the reinforcements arrived, the U.S. command reported that American B52 bombers had joined the four-day battle along the border, flying missions in the Saigon military district for the first time in nearly a year.

Thieu: 'shoot on spot' Unemployment hurts economy

SAIGON (UPI) — President Nguyen Van Thieu today ordered police to shoot "on the spot" any demonstrators caught in firebombings or causing serious damage to property.

Thieu called a meeting of police officials in a crackdown against opposition to his one-man candidacy in Sunday's presidential election.

Firebombings, many against vehicles owned by the U.S. military, have occurred almost daily in the past few weeks in Saigon and other cities.

"Henceforth, if somebody is caught redhanded firebombing property, he can be shot on the spot, if necessary, or put in jail," Thieu told the police officials.

A government spokesman said demonstrators for and against Thieu's regime would be tolerated but they "must be orderly."

"Those who burned cars have brought losses to public funds and properties of the population and thus created confusion in the daily life of the population," Thieu told 400 police commanders from throughout the nation.

Thieu's new tough policy has been made necessary, he said, "to maintain order because without a strict policy, the country will fall into disorder."

As Thieu delivered his pronouncement, Gen. Doung Van "Big" Minh charged that Thieu "has refused to wake up to the grave crisis and instability" caused by his decision to run without opposition.

Canada asks China UN seating

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — Canada said today the seating of Communist China in the United Nations could mark a turning point in U.N. history and give the organization an opportunity for a "new beginning."

Canadian External Affairs Secretary Mitchell Sharp, in a policy speech to the General Assembly, avoided arguing against U.S. hopes of saving a seat for Nationalist China in the assembly while seating the Peking government.

Sharp was mildly critical of the United States, however, in connection with pollution of the Great Lakes and of President Nixon's import restrictions affecting world trade.

"It may mark a turning point in our history and the opportunity for a new beginning if this assembly moved promptly and effectively to seat the People's Republic of China in the China Seat," Sharp said.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Federal officials said today an 0.9 per cent drop in the government's composite index of leading business indicators last month was due chiefly to increased claims for unemployment insurance.

The drop in August of the index that is considered a key barometer of future economic trends reversed a generally upward movement of the index for the past 10 months.

But administration spokesmen tried to put the best face on the statistic.

"Month-to-month movements in the composite index are especially difficult to interpret at this juncture because it cannot be determined how soon the leading indicators will fully reflect the changes resulting from the new economic program," said Harold C. Passer, assistant commerce secretary for economic affairs.

The Commerce Department report said unemployment insurance claims increased $53 million in August to $327 million. It said five other indicators showed unfavorable declines.

Tuesday, the administration took new steps to enforce its 90-day wage-price freeze, ordered into effect by President Nixon Aug. 15 as a key part of the new economic policy.

—The President announced a $2.4 billion pay raise for military personnel would be postponed until after the freeze. Nixon signed a bill extending the draft two years which contained a provision to put the raises into effect Oct. 1, but an aide said Nixon had a Justice Department opinion showing the raise could be delayed.

—The Justice Department charged a Corvallis, Ore., property owner with violating the freeze by increasing rents $15 a month. It was the fourth court suit filed to enforce the freeze. Earlier legal actions were aimed at a teacher pay increase, an apartment house rent hike, and an increase in ticket prices by professional football's Atlanta Falcons.

Although Nixon delayed the military pay increase, the cost of living council ruled U.S. servicemen overseas could receive increased housing, living and travel allowances to make up for decreases in the value of the dollar abroad last month.

Red Chinese cancel banquet festivities

HONG KONG (UPI)—Diplomatic reports from Peking said today the Chinese had called off the usual high level banquet held on the eve of the Oct. 1 National Day celebrations, and Peking radio indicated the celebrations would be quiet.

The sources said indications were that the banquet, usually hosted by Premier Chou En-lai, would be replaced by a more subdued lower level reception.

Earlier, Chinese officials said the traditional mass rally and parade, the main feature of the National Day celebrations for the past 21 years, had been cancelled and that smaller, scattered gatherings would be held in the capital. There has been no official word from Peking radio, the People's Daily, the New China News Agency or any of the Chinese propaganda media on cancellation of the traditional rally and parade.

Despite the outward calm in Peking, China analysts in this listening post still were convinced that the Peking regime has undergone some sort of leadership crisis.

The consensus was that the crisis involved a power struggle within the top level leadership between extreme leftist elements and moderates, mainly in the military establishment.

$60 billion bill for foreign help

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States will spend about $60 billion on foreign aid between now and 1977, the staff of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee estimated Tuesday.

Denied long-range projections of foreign aid programs by the administration, the committee asked its staff to estimate the amounts for themselves, based on previous programs plus a 3.5 per cent inflation figure on military aid.

The published result indicated total foreign aid of $9.3 billion this fiscal year and $51 billion dollars for 1973-77. The committee chairman, Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., told reporters he suspected one reason the administration was reluctant to make its estimates public was the magnitude of the figure.

"It's a right healthy amount," Fulbright said. He said the amount was very close to totals actually spent on the programs for the past five years, but could be affected by any number of events such as an end to the Indochina War.

CSI student makes bid for T.F. Council seat

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — Interest in the Nov. 2 Twin Falls municipal election picked up today with two additional prospective candidates including an 18-year-old CSI student announcing candidacy.

This brings to six the number of persons who have announced plans to seek office although none had returned adequately signed petitions as of this morning. Deadline for filing petitions, each with 40 signatures of currently registered city voters, is 5 p.m. Monday. There are four vacancies to be filled.

Latest to announce candidacy and take out nominating petitions are Mike Thompson, 18, a CSI student, and Clifford J. Smallwood, manager of General Building Supply in Twin Falls.

Smallwood said he seeks office as an independent candidate and favors more efficiency and better management in the Twin Falls city government.

Thompson said he is seriously seeking the office—not to make a mockery of city government nor to instigate any radical proposals, but out of concern that he feels he could contribute to improved conditions in the city.

Thompson says he has been a resident of Twin Falls 15 years and is a graduate of the Twin Falls High School. He studied at the William Allen White School of Journalism, University of Kansas, and is currently attending CSI.

The young candidate said he would recommend certain changes in Twin Falls administration including a general re-arrangement of the traffic pattern in downtown Twin Falls. He said he also favors better maintenance of city streets and opposes a regional airport. Thompson said he believes the present Twin Falls airport can meet the needs and be maintained or expanded if necessary at a lower cost to taxpayers.

Cardinal termed last major red 'prisoner'

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—For 15 years an unmarked car parked daily in front of the U.S. embassy at 12 Freedom Square in Budapest. Its occupants, three leather-jacketed Hungarian secret police, waited in fruitless vigil for Cardinal Jozsef Mindszenty.

Early Tuesday morning, the aged cardinal, his bald head covered by a black fedora, stepped into the street. And the plainclothesmen stood by and watched him go to freedom—or exile—in the Vatican.

He was the last major "prisoner" of communism's "church of silence," a martyr for his faith. As the Hungarian prime minister once put it, "a dead cardinal may be worth more to the cause of freedom than a live one."

Since the end of World War II Mindszenty, now 79, had fought the Communists who took over his native Hungary. He spent 23 of those 26 years in prison, under house arrest or in the self-imposed exile of the grey stucco building on Freedom Square.

He was prepared—even wanted—to spend the rest of his life in that battle rather than leave Hungary, even if it meant the exile of endless hours in his spartan, two-room "home" on the fourth floor of the embassy rather than leading the 6.5 million Hungarian Roman Catholics who were his flock.

Mindszenty, named a cardinal by Pope Pius XII 1948, for years resisted all efforts and pressures to get him to leave the embassy, where he sought refuge Nov. 4, 1956, when Soviet tanks brutally crushed the Hungarian revolt. He could not accept the conditions set by the Hungarian government—that he leave the nation never to return.

It finally took a direct order from Pope Paul VI to make Mindszenty leave. The pontiff called on him to "make the hardest sacrifice of your life." Mindszenty bowed to his wishes, saying in a letter "I accept what will be perhaps the heaviest cross of my life."

The two men finally met Tuesday after Mindszenty was driven to Vienna then flew to Rome. Pope Paul was visibly moved as they embraced in the Vatican gardens. He presented the cardinal with a personal gold ring and gave him the cross from around his neck.

Mindszenty will spend several days resting in the Vatican.

I can hardly wait to taste it

Former prison guard gives up citizenship

NEW YORK (UPI)—A middle-aged housewife, officially accused of being "a cruel, brutal and sadistic woman" while allegedly serving as a guard at two Nazi concentration camps, has consented to have her American citizenship revoked.

Mrs. Hermine Braunsteiner Ryan, 52, of Queens, agreed through her attorney in Brooklyn Federal Court Tuesday, to the revocation of her citizenship.

"There is ample evidence to support the conclusion that said Hermine Ryan, during the 1939-45 period was a cruel, brutal and sadistic woman, who unnecessarily beat and tortured defenseless prisoners in her charge," the government said in an affidavit.

Mrs. Ryan, the wife of an American construction worker, entered the United States on April 14, 1959. On Aug. 22, 1968, the government asked for her denaturalization, saying she lied in her application for citizenship when she allegedly claimed she had never been arrested, jailed nor received amnesty, said Robert A. Morse, an assistant U.S. Attorney.

Although Mrs. Ryan did not admit any guilt, the consent order means she could be deported. A spokesman for the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service said an investigation would be conducted to decide whether her deportation would be sought.

The government's complaint alleged Mrs. Ryan in 1939 became a guard at the Ravensbruck concentration camp, one of six major camps in Nazi Germany at the time.

In 1942, the government alleged, she was transferred to the Maidanek camp in Poland where 1.5 million persons died, according to Nurnberg trials testimony. She returned to Ravensbruck two years later, the government said.

In 1945, Mrs. Ryan was section supervisor at Ravensbruck when the Allies liberated it, the government said. The British arrested her and the Austrian government charged her with torturing inmates, said the government brief. Morse said she was convicted and sentenced to three years in prison.

Mrs. Ryan, however, was credited with time served, fined court costs, had her personal property confiscated and in 1957 received legislative amnesty from the Austrians, said Morse. That year, he said, she married a construction worker.

Morse said the consent order culminated an investigation which began in 1964, when a private investigator of Nazi war crimes identified Mrs. Ryan as a former member of the Nazi SS Elite Guard.

Fast start marks UF campaign

TWIN FALLS — United Fund in Twin Falls has taken an initial $27,850 step toward the 1972 campaign goal of $112,000. Pledges totaling this amount were announced at the close of a kick-off luncheon Tuesday at the Turf Club.

Darl Glead, executive secretary of the United Fund organization, said the amount includes the $22,543 covered in 51 pledges obtained by the blue chips and advanced gifts divisions of the drive and $3,870 received in pledges from volunteer workers themselves during the kick off luncheon meeting.

Fred Frazier, chairman of the blue chips division, said his group hopes to obtain one third of the total goal or $37,333. He said his workers are well on their way to meeting this quota within the next few days.

Chairman of the campaign, James Sinclair, said this year the committee asked organizations to present a budget stating what they needed to operate during the coming year.

"We are asking for this exact amount without cutting out part of each budget-as has been done in the past," he said.

He also said volunteers will be seeking pledges rather than cash donations on the spot. These pledges will then be collected throughout the coming year on whatever basis they are pledged and bills will be mailed by the United Fund office. The budgets are not padded, he said, but are the minimum each agency needs for the year's operation.

3 judges set date on remap

BOISE (UPI) — A three-judge panel headed by Ninth Circuit Judge M. Oliver Koelsch, San Francisco, will hear two cases in U.S. District Court Nov. 19.

Koelsch, who will be joined by Idaho's two federal judges, Fred M. Taylor and Ray McNichols, will hear a legislative reapportionment case and a university tuition suit.

Plaintiffs in the legislative reapportionment case contend remapping of the state legislature earlier this year discriminates against urban residents.

They have proposed a plan of their own which includes adoption of foloterial districts — combining some counties into special districts for the purpose of legislative elections.

A film on "selling" the subscriber was shown and a proclamation by Mayor Frank Feldtman was read by Jack Muldoon, master of ceremonies. Mayor Feldtman has designated October as United Fund month in Twin Falls.

Sinclair asked the workers to complete their assignments in October. He said additional report meetings to list results are planned Oct. 8, 15, and 22. All will be luncheon meetings at the Turf Club.

The West Berlin city government called off a meeting scheduled for Sept. 22 because of the dispute. Talks between East and West German officials also are deadlocked.

The three were among nearly 300 persons taking part in the campaign kickoff Tuesday. Here they inspect a volunteer worker's information kit and pledge cards given out during the meeting.

Harris cites example of black running mate

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — Sen. Fred Harris, D-Okla., campaigning for the Democratic presidential nomination, said Tuesday that he would accept a black running mate and cited Wilson C. Riles as an example of an electable Negro.

Harris disagreed with the contention of Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine, frontrunner for the Democratic nomination, that a presidential candidate could not win with a black running mate.

Harris said "Wilson Riles is a good example" of a black who can win a major race. Riles, state superintendent of public instruction, was the first black to win statewide office in California and the first elected state school chief any place.

Riles said he was not interested in running for higher office.

Speaking to a group of Sacramento State College students, Harris also called for the "redistribution of wealth" and cited Gov. Ronald Reagan as an example of one who "does not pay his fair share of taxes."

Reagan paid no state income tax for 1970 because of "business reverses."

Harris said a coalition of poor, minorities, students, women and small farmers was needed to "change the country."

"It's not enough any more just to be white when you come from Mississippi," Harris earlier told the Sacramento Press Club, explaining low wage earners regardless of race pay taxes proportionately too high and are hit the hardest by inflation.

Harris said he would enter the California primary next year because he considers it a must to win. The senator said he also would enter at least the Florida and New Mexico primaries.

Distributors expand association's roles

TWIN FALLS — Passage of table wine bill by the Idaho Legislature and the approval of the sale of table wines in grocery stores in many Idaho counties has led to expansion of the Idaho Beer Distributors Assn., to a new role as the Idaho Beer and Wine Distributors Assn.

This was announced today in Twin Falls by Roy D. Frizelle, executive secretary of the association. He said the delegation of beer distributors from throughout Idaho voted to expand their association during the annual convention last week in Coeur d'Alene.

The revised organization will be headed by a Twin Falls distributor, Delbert Rupert, who was named president.

Other new officers include Lee Scott, Boise, vice president; Frizelle, re-elected executive secretary, and directors include Ron Frizelle, Idaho Falls; Tom Walker, Jr., Twin Falls and Denton Howde, Payette.

Frizelle said many beer wholesalers are also handling wine as a result of the new Idaho wine law. It was felt one organization to work with both types of distributors would be more effective than separate associations, he said.

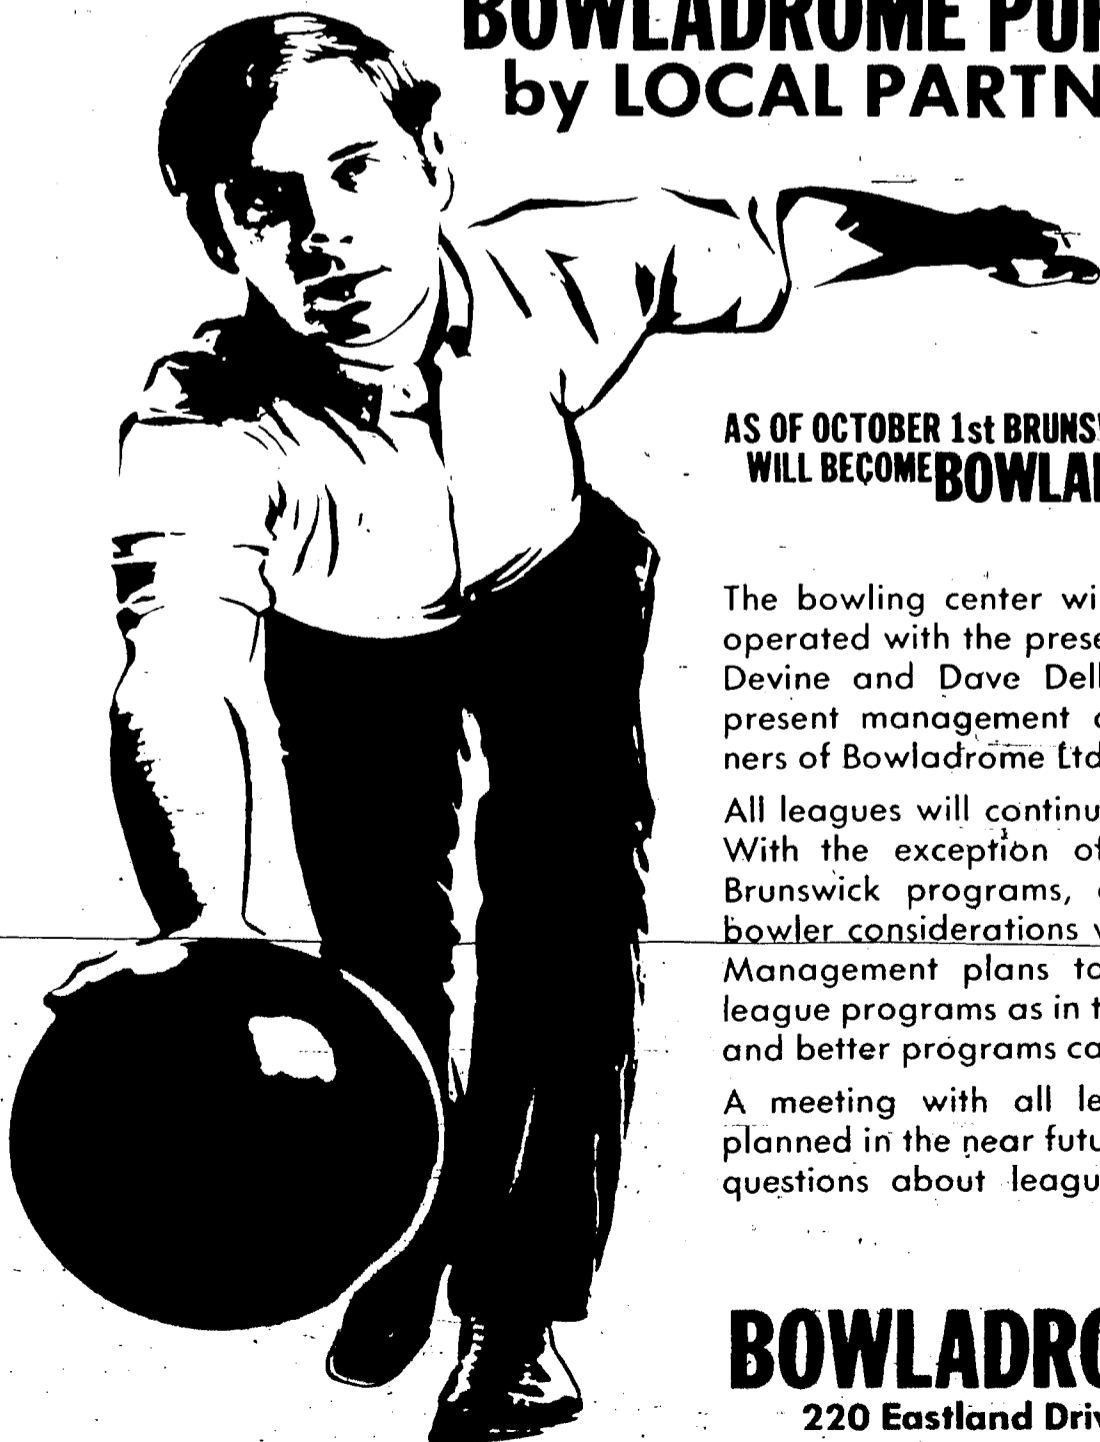

Speakers for the state convention included George W. Osoke, vice president, U.S. Brewers Assn.; John Bender, law enforcement commissioner, and Richard Cade, director of liquor law enforcement.

Review plans

NEW PRESIDENT of the Idaho Beer and Wine Distributors Assn., Delbert Rupert, left, Twin Falls, reviews plans for the expanded roll of the organization with Roy Frizelle, executive secretary, also Twin Falls.

Solar scanner salvage goal

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—Rocket trouble left America's most advanced sunwatching satellite in an abnormal orbit today but engineers worked quickly to recover from initial control problems and salvage the $36 million scientific mission.

The 1,400-pound orbiting solar observatory, called OSO 7, carried six instruments to study the sun and tell man more about the way it generates the energy of billions of hydrogen bombs.

OSO 7 was supposed to soar into a 345-mile high circular orbit, but instead dropped into an egg-shaped path ranging from 266 to 355 miles above earth. Engineers said the control system on the satellite's rocket aimed it the wrong way.

"We may very well be able to meet our mission objectives, even with this orbit," said Robert Davis, assistant project manager. "All is not lost. We are fairly confident we can come out of this."

OSO 7 was accompanied into the elliptical orbit by a little eight-sided satellite equipped to imitate the radio voice of Apollo moonships to exercise ground tracking stations.

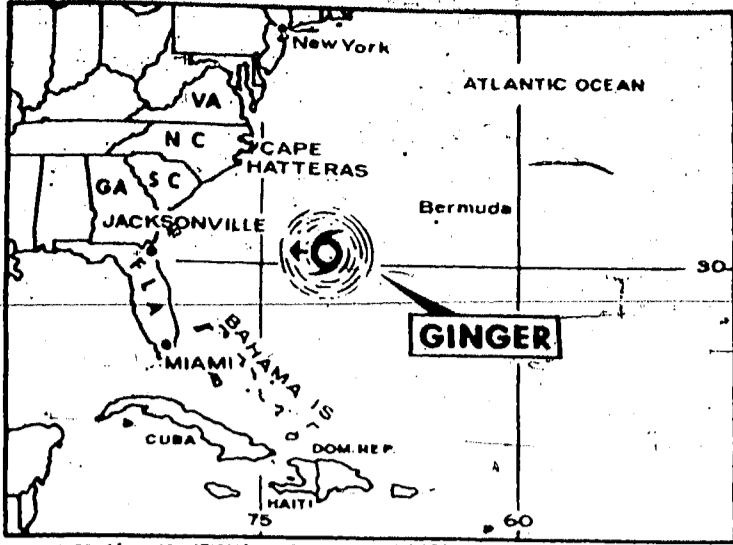

The first problem—resulting from the low orbit was that the sunwatcher was wobbling more than expected and was not immediately able to aim its sail-like solar panel toward the sun to soak up energy and recharge its batteries.

Engineers at the satellite control center at Greenbelt, Md., began sending radio commands to OSO to fire small control jets to maneuver the satellite into the proper position. Davis said this could take most of the day but he said, "I think they can recover."

He said OSO-7 appeared high enough to remain in orbit long enough to study the sun for a number of months as planned. He said the accuracy of the observations should not be degraded by the orbit and there was no indication the satellite was affected by the abnormal movements of the rocket.

Giant storm moves toward U.S.

Carolinas menaced

MIAMI (UPI)—A hurricane watch was posted for North Carolina today after Hurricane Ginger, undiminished by seeding with chemical ice, aimed its massive circle of 90-mile-an-hour winds toward the U.S. mainland.

"Gale-force winds are expected over most of the North Carolina coast tonight with a possibility that they may reach hurricane force in some sections by early Thursday," the National Hurricane Center warned.

Ray Kraft of the Hurricane Center warned North Carolina residents to start making plans for the possibility of at least getting a glancing blow from Ginger—the longest-lived hurricane on record.

By mid-morning, forecasters said winds to 40 m.p.h. were already slapping at North Carolina's Outer Banks, which have already been pounded for over a week by heavy surf and ground swells from Ginger, a massive storm that covers an area the size of Florida.

Forecasters warned small craft from the Virginia capes southward along the Carolina coast to seek safe harbor and not venture into the hurricane-whipped Atlantic.

Ginger's gales extended 275 miles in all directions and the eye of the storm measured 80 miles across.

"She's enormous in size and if it comes ashore, it will cause somebody a lot of trouble," said Dr. Robert Simpson, director of the National Hurricane Center.

Born north of the Bahama Islands 20 days ago, Ginger is the oldest hurricane ever recorded by the National Hurricane Center.

Scientists of "Project Storm Fury" twice seeded the hurricane with silver iodide in an effort to sap its strength. The final effort came Tuesday when the Navy's "Black Falcons" attack squadron from the Oceana, Va., Naval Base and an Air Force "Hurricane Hunter" plane bombed Ginger with silver iodide canisters four times within eight hours.

Project Director Dr. R. Cecil Gentry said Tuesday, the overall results of the mission were uncertain.

Herb Lieb, spokesman for the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration said no further seeding attempts were expected on Ginger.

British 'spying' assailed

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Communist party newspaper Pravda today accused British businessmen, tourists, journalists and scientists of spying against the Soviet Union. It said such actions in the past have led to trials and expulsions.

The accusation in the nation's biggest newspaper lent support to diplomatic reports of a Kremlin blacklist of Britons. Diplomats said the list has been prepared in case the Soviets decide to retaliate for Britain's mass expulsion of Soviet officials.

The diplomats said the list was "fairly comprehensive" and extended beyond diplomatic personnel to take in businessmen and those in other occupations, possibly some journalists.

Victor Mayevsky, a senior commentator for Pravda, said the British expulsion order of last week was done partly to cover up British intelligence activities against the Soviet Union and other Communist nations.

"For its sinister aims, British intelligence uses employees of British institutions in the USSR, businessmen, tourists, journalists and scientists," Mayevsky said.

Besides the 40 diplomats and 38 nondiplomatic staff members assigned to the British embassy, the Soviet Union hosts British airline officials, other businessmen, journalists, students and technical advisers.

The Pravda article was the first time since the British action that any Soviet commentators have referred to trials of alleged spies.

Since the British have far fewer official trade and government personnel in the Soviet Union than the Soviets maintained in Britain, the Kremlin would have to oust almost the entire official British representation in Moscow in order to retaliate on a one-for-one basis.

NEW PARIS ENVOY
MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union Saturday appointed Pyotr Abrasimov, who has been serving as Moscow's envoy in East Germany, as ambassador to Paris, the Soviet Tass news agency reported.

Justice Black rites conducted in capital

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Hugo L. Black, son of a Clay County, Ala., storekeeper who rose to pre-eminence on the Supreme Court, was buried in an unfinished pine coffin Tuesday and eulogized as a legal giant who "had little patience with so-called strict constructionists."

President Nixon decided at the last minute to attend the service at Washington Cathedral for Black, who died Saturday at age 85 after a severe stroke. The President sat beside Attorney General and Mrs. John N. Mitchell throughout the service which rang with Black's favorite hymns and writings.

Past and present members of the Supreme Court, united by Black's death as they seldom were during his 34-year tenure, formed a double receiving line as the liberal justice's coffin was borne into the vaulted Gothic cathedral by officers of the court police force.

Missing was former Justice John M. Harlan, 72, who retired last week and is hospitalized for treatment of spinal cancer. Nixon, with Mitchell's help, is reviewing lists of potential nominees for the two court vacancies.

The Rev. Duncan Howlett, former minister of All Souls Unitarian Church here, delivered a eulogy containing a reference to Nixon's oft-stated intention to name "strict constructionists" to the court. Howlett said Black had little patience with them.

Indian leader ends Russ visit

MOSCOW (UPI)—Prime Minister Indira Gandhi today completed a visit that moved the Kremlin to censure Pakistan and treat its Indian guest like a queen.

Mrs. Gandhi was scheduled to return to New Delhi by plane today. Departure time was not announced in advance.

Her first task upon returning home will be to prepare return-hospitalities for Soviet President Nikolai V. Podgorny, scheduled to stop one day in India Oct. 1 en route to North Vietnam.

Mrs. Gandhi arrived Monday for talks with all three members of the Soviet leadership. Diplomatic sources said the talks were aimed principally at strengthening the new Indo-Soviet alliance against common rivalries with China and India's conflict with Pakistan.

The Soviets indicated by word and deed she had succeeded.

Premier Alexei N. Kosygin condemned Pakistan's handling of the East Pakistan civil war and urged President Agha Mohammad Qayyah Khan to stop it. Speaking at a Kremlin luncheon for Mrs. Gandhi, he said:

"It is impossible to justify the actions of the Pakistani authorities which compelled over eight million people to leave their country, land and property and to seek shelter in neighboring India."

"At this crucial moment we address a call to President Yahya Khan to take the most effective steps for the liquidation of the hotbed of tension that has emerged."

Leonid I. Brezhnev, head of the Soviet Communist party, joined Podgorny and Kosygin in hosting the state luncheon for Mrs. Gandhi. All three leaders also joined the talks with her, a rare honor for a visiting prime minister.

Treaty content Indira's quest

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Having signed a "friendship treaty with the Soviet Union, Indian Prime Minister Mrs. Indira Gandhi wants to know what's inside the package. She therefore flew to Moscow for an exchange of views with Soviet leaders because, in her own words, "in today's changing world it is very necessary to know what other people think of these changes."
It was early August when India and the Soviet Union signed the treaty which some have seen as a departure from the Indian non-alignment espoused for so long by Mrs. Gandhi's father, the late Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, and others have said may have prevented a war between India and Pakistan.
However that may be, it is noteworthy that the treaty came at a time of steadily deteriorating Indian relations with the United States and the visit to Moscow comes just a month before Mrs. Gandhi begins a Western tour which is to include the United States, Britain, France, West Germany, Belgium and Austria.

The trip is in response to "long-standing" invitations, according to the Indians, and should not have too much importance attached to it. It will, however, be her first chance to talk with top western leaders since signing the Soviet treaty.
The story declaring the pact may have prevented an Indian-Pakistan war says that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko dashed to New Delhi after being informed India intended to grant formal recognition to Bangla Desh, secessionist East Pakistan.
The Russians, fearful of the results, according to the story, talked them out of it in return for the treaty.

At little cost to themselves, the Russians won Indian gratitude and an accompanying further decline in U.S.-Indian relations.
The Indians, feeling the strain of seven million East Pakistan refugees and a burden which has been estimated to put a $500 million strain on the Indian economy in the first year, widely interpreted the pact as a mutual defense treaty.
The language of the pact does not bear out the Indian view. It says merely that if either is attacked, they will hold consultations "to remove such threat and to take appropriate effective measures to ensure peace and the security of their countries."
Pact Carries Benefits
For the Russians, the pact carried with it definite benefits.

Cello student sleeps through dream concert

LONDON (UPI)—Hiroyuki Ohno spent $1,358 and flew halfway round the world for a dream, then dreamed it all away by taking a nap.
Dr. Otto Klemperer was conducting Brahms' Third Symphony at London's Royal Festival Hall. At home in Tokyo, Hiroyuki read of the concert and decided he had to be there.
To the 16-year-old cello student, son of a Tokyo publisher, Klemperer was a god on the podium.
With a bit of parental help, Hiroyuki booked the 12,500 miles round trip flight to London and arrived early Sunday in plenty of time for the concert that evening.
He met David Richardson, concert manager for Klemperer's New Philharmonia Orchestra, who arranged a front row seat for him. After a whirlwind round of sightseeing, Hiroyuki returned to his hotel room at about 4:45 in the afternoon and lay down exhausted for a catnap.

The concert went magnificently. One critic hailed Klemperer's penetration of "the inner core of the Brahms' poetry... invested with wonderfully sustained dark hues"—just the sort of music Hiroyuki had flown halfway around the world to hear.
As the final ovation thundered through the festival hall, Richardson glanced down at the Japanese visitor's front row seat—and started. It was empty.
"I telephoned him immediately," Richardson said. "He had slept through the whole concert, probably exhausted by the time changes in the flight from Japan. I went straight to his hotel. He was too dazed to say anything, and completely shattered to have missed the concert."

Richardson thought fast as the boy sat on the side of the hotel room bed, weeping quietly. He picked up the telephone.
Less than an hour later, Hiroyuki was still dazed—this time at the idea he was actually sitting alone with Klemperer in the 86-year-old conductor's private study, talking about music.
In parting, the old man gave the boy a personal treasure, one of the batons with which he has conducted Brahms, Beethoven and other favorites of Hiroyuki's in the past.
The boy flew home to Japan Monday evening with a Promise: "I will be back," he said at the airport. "And next time I will not fall asleep until after the concert."

Press restraints hit

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A New York Times executive expressed concern today that the people's right to news may have been diminished by the government's attempt—even though unsuccessful—to suppress publication of the "Pentagon papers."
Harding F. Bancroft, executive vice president of the Times, said "journalistic timidity or unwarranted self-censorship" might be an outgrowth of the government effort to halt publication by the Times, the Washington Post and the Boston Globe of accounts or portions of the secret Pentagon study on the Vietnam War.
Bancroft was an opening witness before a Senate subcommittee undertaking a broad examination of the status in this "general time of crisis" of freedom of the press.
Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., chairman of the group, laid out the objectives of the hearings with a spirited defense of the right of the press to put forward even "thoughts and ideas which we hate and despise."
Bancroft told Ervin that even though the Supreme Court, by a 6-3 decision, upheld the right of newspapers to publish the Pentagon papers tracing the history of American involvement in Vietnam, the decision was not a total defeat for those who would restrain the press from publishing whatever news it considers newsworthy.
Referring to injunctions obtained by the Justice Department in lower courts, Bancroft said:
"The hard fact remains that for the first time in the history of our nation, the government sought and obtained a direct suppression of news. Even though the restraint lasted for only 15 days, an extremely unfortunate precedent, we submit, has been established...
"The fact that the government sought and obtained an injunction leaves us with the prospect—despite the Supreme Court decision—that it may seek similar restraints in the future.
"The possibility of future attempts by the government to suppress the news is not good for the country and is a prospect with which the nation's press cannot easily live."
Bancroft said it was "of first importance that this threat not result in journalistic timidity or unwarranted self-censorship," but he said that danger does exist.

Agnew rips prison riot coverage

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI)—Vice President Spiro Agnew praised Gov. Nelson Rockefeller Monday for putting down the Attica prison revolt and said the "liberal press" portrayed "criminals as heroes" in its coverage of the uprising.
"A governor of a state cannot allow himself to be prematurely summoned into the presence of outlaws," Agnew told the 78th annual conference of the International Chiefs of Police.
On news coverage of the revolt, Agnew said, "We again find wide and relatively uncritical exposure being given the most inflammatory and baseless charges made by radical militants and their counsel—not to mention in this instance, convicted criminals."
"How many murderers, robbers, burglars and rapists become known to the public by affectionate nicknames and the awed recital by the liberal press of their organizational or oratorical ability?" Agnew asked.
The 5,000 delegates to the convention interrupted Agnew during his speech and gave him a standing ovation when he finished.

Oliver Cromwell was called the "uncrowned king" of England.

Tribunal convicts widow

ATHENS (UPI)—Lady Amalia Fleming, widow of the man who discovered penicillin, was found guilty of conspiracy today and sentenced to 16 months imprisonment.
Three other defendants accused with her of plotting the escape of a man sentenced for attempting to assassinate Premier George Papadopoulos were jailed for a total of 42 months.
Theology student John Skelton of Yardley, Pa., was convicted, given a seven-month jail sentence and told it would be suspended for three years.
A five-man special military tribunal handed down judgments in the case after 90 minutes.
"What can I say?" asked the 62-year-old Lady Fleming, whose late husband shared the Nobel Prize for medicine in 1947 and who holds dual Greek-British citizenship. "I will not accept deportation."
She looked pale and shaken as the verdicts were announced. Friends rushed forward in the crowded courtroom to shake her hand and kiss her.
Lady Fleming was arrested Aug. 31 and charged with joining a conspiracy to free Alexandros Panagoulis, 33, sentenced to die three years ago for his role in an assassination plot against Papadopoulos.
Panagoulis' life was spared after pleas from world leaders, including Pope Paul VI.
All five defendants in today's case faced a maximum prison sentence of five years.

First week TV show rankings shocking as 'Bonanza' falls

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—There are several statistics shocking to the television industry in the national ratings for the recent premiere week of the new season.
One is that NBC-TV's "Bonanza," long a frontrunner, came in 50th among the listed shows. It was knocked off by CBS-TV's new Sunday night combination of an early movie—in this case "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner"—and Glenn Ford's new series, "Cade's County," in which he plays a modern sheriff.
It was also knocked off by ABC-TV's Sunday movie, "El Dorado."
"Guess Who's Coming to Dinner" came in third among all programs. "Cade's County" ranked a strong 11th and "El Dorado" finished in a tie for seventh place. The networks are known to throw their most potent movies against the competition early in the season, so "Bonanza" might well come back, but the ratings do indicate that the veteran Western series is vulnerable to tough opposition.

Ford's showing, meanwhile, indicates he may have the pull to give "Bonanza" some heat, although he undoubtedly benefited from the lead-in of "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner." He would normally have a tough spot—starting halfway through "Bonanza"—and this might hurt him with weaker lead-in motion pictures on CBS-TV.
The other shocker in the ratings is that NBC-TV's new Jimmy Stewart series also finished badly in the inter-network competition, ranking 51st. It's true the premiere was dull, almost wholly ignoring the star's special qualities as an attraction, but what is surprising is that there was such little tune-in interest.

This show, however, if it perks up a bit, could also do a turnabout because, like "Bonanza," which it precedes on Sunday nights, it was the victim of tough early-season competition. The Stewart show took it on the chin from "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner," and, for that matter, from the returning ABC-TV series "The FBI," which came in a moderately successful 31st.
"Marcus Welby, M.D.," on ABC-TV, ranked first among all shows, and its competitor for the No. 1 spot, CBS-TV's "All In The Family," was 18th in this particular listing. "All In The Family" was last season's top-rated series once it got rolling. Another returning series, NBC-TV's Flip Wilson Hour, ranked second in premiere week.

The highest-rated new series in these rankings was NBC-TV's "Columbo," with Peter Falk as a detective. This is one of three alternating shows in a series called "NBC Mystery Movie," and it came in fifth. "Cade's County" was next among the new series, and then came the new Dick Van Dyke Show (14th), James Garner's comic-western "Nichols" (19th) and "Funny Face" (20th), starring Sissy Spacek as a college student who does television commercials.
Some big-name stars finished very low in the ratings with their new series. Besides Stewart, there were Rod Taylor in "Barefoot" (54th), Tony Curtis in "The Persuaders" (56th), Anthony Quinn in "The Man And The City" (58th), Gene Kelly in the variety show "The Funny Side" (64th), Shirley MacLaine in "Shirley's World" (65th) and Bobby Sherman in "Getting Together" (66th). A movie star name, the video industry knows well, is no guarantee for television success.

New vote signup plan set

BOISE (UPI) — Secretary of State Pete T. Cenarrusa Tuesday announced plans for implementing a new, legislative-ordered voter registration system about which he admitted he has grave doubts.

"I think it was designed as a money-saving scheme," Cenarrusa said, describing the new, mail-out registration system.

"But I don't think there's going to be great amount of saving."

Cenarrusa said that about Friday those persons presently registered in Idaho will receive a mail-out card for re-registration purposes, along with notification that election officials in Idaho are implementing a new form of registration.

He said all other Idaho citizens will be encouraged to contact their county clerks so that they also may become registered.

The secretary of state said each person now registered to vote is urged, upon receipt of the re-registration card form, to supply the requested information in a legible form, firmly affix his signature and return the card to the county clerk within 30 days in the envelope provided.

Cenarrusa, who indicated he would prefer to pay registrars up to 25 cents per person to go out into the precincts and conduct the re-registration, said election officials anticipate only about 20 per cent of the voters will return the cards.

Thus, to get the other 80 per cent re-registered, he said, will cost the taxpayers up to 50 cents per person through registrars and other methods.

He said the legislature called for re-registration for several reasons — among them the fact that under the old law a spouse could register for his or her spouse. This created problems when officials sought voter verification signatures on initiative and other petitions, he said.

Recently, Cenarrusa's office assisted in registration of new, eligible voters on college campuses in the state. He said a program of registering eligible high school students is planned for the last week in October.

Cemetery strike end asked

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A strike of workers in suburban cemeteries here has grown to crisis proportions, with nearly 1,400 bodies, some of them persons who died in June, unburied despite pleas from religious and government leaders for a break in the 117-day impasse.

"Either by injunction, or by 24-hour a day negotiations if necessary, this terrible thing must be cleared up," Rabbi Joseph Asher, president of the Northern California Board of Rabbis, said in a plea to the deadlocked negotiators. "I haven't seen anything like it since we liberated the Bergen-Belsen concentration camps and found thousands of the bodies of our people unburied."

Asher, senior rabbi at Temple Emanu, El in San Francisco and a chaplain in the British army during World War II, said Monday that 144 Jewish deceased have gone unburied because of the strike.

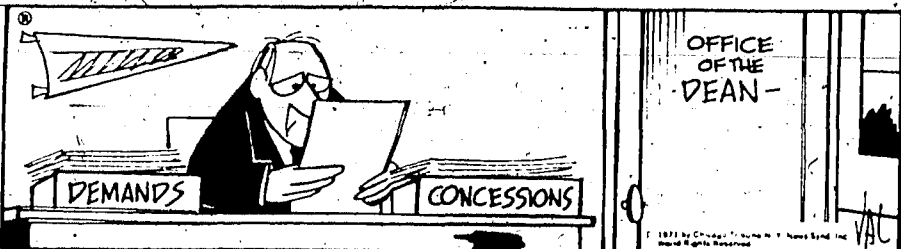

Asher said the latest figure he had was that nearly 1,400 persons had gone unburied since the strike began June 3, and "I have much compassion for all the dead."

The bodies lie in caskets stacked in funeral parlors and the city morgue.

The walkout was staged at 11 San Francisco Peninsula graveyards by about 200 members of Cemetery Workers Union Local 265 seeking about a $6 daily wage increase plus a higher pension, a dental program, and improvement in medical coverage.

DEAR ABBY: We have a cow on our farm named Helen Mae and she hates women. Helen Mae is a beautiful Guernsey with soft brown eyes and a gentle manner, but she won't let a woman within 20 feet of her. She is very friendly to all men whether she's seen them before or not, but any woman who has tried to milk her has had to run for her life. You can't fool Helen Mae either. She can tell women from men regardless of how they're dressed.

Is there any explanation for this? And if you can find out if there is some way to get Helen Mae to let a woman milk her, I'd appreciate it, as my husband can't always get to her at milking time.

FARMER'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: None of my farm experts have studied psy-cow-ology, but they tell me that cows have their hangups just like humans. However, I'll milk my readers, and try to come up with an udder opinion.

DEAR ABBY: I really got a big chuckle the other day when I read your answer to the lady whose 12-year-old son still wets the bed. You said, "No man ever went on a honeymoon in a diaper."

Well, you're wrong I did. Due to an accident, I became a paraplegic from the waist down, and I always wear "diaper type" shorts, well padded in front. I wore them on my honeymoon last year, at age 41. And I still wear them. Sign me.

ALL WET IN FREEPORT, PA.

DEAR WET: Thank you for teaching me a lesson I should have learned years ago. "ABSOLUTES" are risky. Now it's my turn to be all wet.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is married to a fine young man who is the only child of a rich mother. She floods them with gifts and trips, etc. which I could never afford to give them.

Two of my friends have the same problem and we wonder if these women know they are being unkind to the other mothers. Or do they care?

"NO SCRAPS FROM THE TABLE"

DEAR NO SCRAPS: Would you prefer that your daughter and her husband receive none of the things you are not able to give them from the "other mother"? That is what you are suggesting.

DEAR ABBY: How can I tell my mother (age 47) that if she doesn't quit her job and start spending more time with my father (age 52) she is going to lose him?

I am married now and my parents are alone again. Mother has now started selling real estate like the very bread on their table depended upon it, which it does not, as Dad has always made a very good living.

I didn't realize the seriousness of the situation until Dad came along with my husband and me one evening. We ran into a girl friend of mine, now newly divorced, and I saw Dad actually encourage this divorcee's attentions.

He is not a dirty old man, Abby. He is just very lonely, and looking for something to do with his spare time, which is a dangerous combination. How can I tell my mother she had better start being a wife again before it's too late?

CONCERNED DAUGHTER

DEAR CONCERNED: Tell her, just the way you told me.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

A Lovelier You

THE NEW CONTACT LENS

By Mary Sue Miller

A Lovelier writes: I have heard of a new contact lens that is soft and pliable. I am interested because my eyes cannot tolerate hard lenses. Can you tell me anything about this development?

The Answer: There is now a soft lens, created by a reliable producer of ophthalmic products. The new contacts are made of polymacon, a hydrophilic (water-loving) plastic. In a hydrated state the material remains soft and pliable. It is stored in a saline solution, provided in a care kit, to keep it stable. If accidentally allowed to dry, the lens reverts to the original condition when immersed in saline solution.

Soft contact lenses are indicated for wear by individuals with healthy eyes. They are not recommended when there is inflammation of the eye's anterior, a condition affecting the cornea, or scant lacrimal secretion; in the early stages of pregnancy.

Wearers are cautioned not to wear lenses for long periods of time at the outset. They are carefully instructed as to the methods of insertion and of asepticising.

The lenses are now to be found in major population centers. Check with your medical group. Whether or not you try soft contacts rests in the hands of an ophthalmic professional—the expert who cares for your eyes.

CAROL LYNN HAWK

EDEN — Patricia Ann McClain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex McClain, Eden, became the bride of Ben Wight, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Wight, Paradise, Calif., in rites performed Sept. 11 by Rev. Herbert Morris at the First United Methodist Church in Twin Falls. The single ring ceremony was performed before an altar decorated with cathedral baskets of orange and yellow gladioli and spider chrysanthemums flanked by a background of brass candelabra entwined with ivy and orange satin streamers. An altar arrangement of orange and yellow Starburst chrysanthemums and baby's breath completed the setting with the bridal isle marked with orange satin bows entwined with trailing ivy.

MR. AND MRS. BEN WIGHT

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full-length A-line gown with a scattering of applied embroidered French teardrop lace. The gown, fashioned by her mother, was made of white doekin and silk organza, featuring a deep pleat in the back, long pointed sleeves and a train and neckline edged with lace. She carried a formal cascade of orange and yellow Starburst chrysanthemums, white pompons, baby's breath and ivy with orange satin streamers tied with love knots. Mrs. Tom Tothill, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Sheryl McClain, cousin of the bride, and Irva Dee McDonald were bridesmaids.

Miss Armga, Roth exchange vows

TWIN FALLS — The Carillon was the setting for the Sept. 9 wedding of Cheryl Armga, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry H. Armga, and Dick Roth, son of Mrs. Lola Snelson.

Bishop Stanley Snow performed the double ring ceremony, attended by family members, before an archway of Austrian draperies centered with white wedding bells draped with orange and yellow satin streamers.

Candelabra holding orange tapers flanked the archway.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an empire silhouette gown of silk organza and alencon lace featuring full Juliet sleeves and a Victorian neckline which was trimmed with tiny seed pearls. Her mantilla fell from an alencon lace bow and formed a long cathedral train which was edged in matching lace.

She carried a cascade of yellow pompons and bronze starburst chrysanthemums with green velvet streamers.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Carol Armga. Best man was Lawrence H. Armga Jr., brother of the bride.

Guests were registered by Patricia Armga, sister of the bride, at a circular table skirted in lace and centered with an orange plumbed pin and an arrangement of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums. After the guests were received by the wedding party, they were served a catered dinner at quartet tables covered with lace over tables.

The bride's table was skirted in white lace draped with white satin and enhanced with orange and yellow satin bows. It was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake decorated with white lattice work and orange and yellow chrysanthemums. The cake was topped with white lace bells and yellow Lilies of the Valley.

The cake was made by Pat Vinyard, friend of the bride.

After a short honeymoon trip, the bride returned to Las Vegas where she is based as a stewardess for Air West. The bridegroom will reside in Twin Falls.

Red visit

HUEY NEWTON, cofounder of Black Panther Party, entered Communist China Tuesday. A Red government spokesman said Newton, who is awaiting trial on voluntary manslaughter charge, and two other Black Americans crossed border at Hong Kong to catch train for Canton. Reasons for his visit to China were not known. (UPI)

Kennedy attacks inaction

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., said today GIs are "rotting" in Communist prisons because the Nixon administration had failed to respond to a peace proposal by the Viet Cong. In an emotional exchange with relatives of U.S. prisoners and men missing in action, Kennedy harshly dismissed President Nixon's proposed trip to China as a "smoke screen." "While he's over there in Peking your husbands and sons are rotting," Kennedy told the families. His comments came in an informal and highly charged session at the annual meeting of the National League of Families of American Prisoners and Missing in Southeast Asia. Appearing at a coffee session for members of Congress, Kennedy was surrounded when he visited the Massachusetts table. A young man asked the senator why he was not speaking out forcefully on the issue of securing better treatment for POW's. Kennedy spoke quietly at first, but grew more emotional as he went on. He said he felt the men freed was to negotiate an arrangement with the Communists. He said a Viet Cong offer of July 1 to free prisoners in exchange for a U.S. military withdrawal from Vietnam was a starting point. Yet, he added, the administration had not responded to that proposal.

Treatment plant into operation

BY GEORGIA LAYTON
Times-News Writer
BURLEY — The switches were pushed Tuesday which started the new $771,000 secondary treatment plant for the J. R. Simplot Co.

About 300 persons from Mini-Cassia area attended the dedication. James E. Conrad, food division president for the J. R. Simplot Co., said the treatment facility operation would start as soon as the switches were pushed.

The secondary waste treatment system was designed by CH2M, consulting engineers, and built by Mitchell Construction Co., Pocatello. It is a modification of the conventional activated solids process, termed a "complete mix activated process."

In this system, waste water, after primary treatment, is discharged into an aeration basin, where micro-organisms utilize the soluble nutrients supplied by the sugars and starches in the process wastewater as a food source to provide energy, and the constituents necessary to produce more organisms.

"The activated sludge process is similar to a farming operation, in that it relies on growing small micro-organisms in the presence of oxygen provided by the 12 aerators which are 75 horsepower wells or aerators," Conrad said.

The biological solids are separated from the treated water in the final clarifiers, and the final overflow from the secondary clarifiers is discharged into the Snake River. Most of the solids removed in the secondary clarifiers are re-cycled to the aeration basin, to provide a high concentration of active biological solids needed to assure a high degree of treatment.

A small portion of the biological solids removed in the final clarifier will be disposed of by irrigation, or with the solids from the primary clarifier.

The secondary treatment phase cost $771,000 and when added to the existing primary aeration, will amount to an investment of $1.37 million, officials said. The overall efficiency of this treatment facility will approach 95 per cent removal of organics, Conrad said.

This operation, coupled with dry-peel equipment will reduce the potential raw wasteload by upwards of 98 per cent, according to Conrad.

The huge aeration basin is 450 by 300 feet or 135,000 square feet in size and is 12 to 15 feet deep, holding 80 million gallons of water.

The cluster of 12 aerators agitate the effluent from the primary settling pond, adding oxygen which is essential for the work of the aerobic bacteria in converting the waste products to harmless solids.

A surge pond is included to handle any overflow from the aeration pond.

From the aeration pond, the waste is piped to a secondary clarifier for further settling and clarifying and then goes to the Snake River, for disposal.

Removing at least 95 per cent of the in plant solid waste is well in excess of the Idaho Health Department standards, Conrad said.

Primary engineering was started in spring of 1970 on the treatment plant.

The secondary treatment plant is located on 125 acre tract of land owned by Simplot north of the railroad and east of Burley next to Snake River.

Governor backs end to pollution

BY DAVID ESPO
Times-News Writer
BURLEY — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus called upon cities and across the state Tuesday to participate in an effort to "cure pollution." He made his remarks in joining with local city officials and industrialist J. R. Simplot at dedication ceremonies for a secondary waste treatment system at the Burley-Heyburn potato processing plant of Simplot Co.

Andrus told an audience of over 200 people at the dedication that the new waste system proved that the problem of cleaning up the environment can be overcome. "People are doing it in industry," he said, "and we the people must do the same thing." Following his brief remarks, Andrus pushed a button on a console adjacent to the speaker's platform to turn on a series of 75 horsepower aerators in the secondary waste treatment lagoon. He was followed to the speaker's platform by Simplot, Burley Mayor Garis Robertson and Harold Hurst, Heyburn mayor.

The total cost of the secondary treatment facilities is $771,000, part of a $2 million package including primary aeration designed to reduce the amount of wasteload by up to 95 per cent.

This effort, in addition to a newly operational "dry-peel equipment" for ridding potatoes of their skins is expected to reduce potential raw wasteload by as much as 98 per cent.

Simplot's address to the dedication audience stressed the contribution of the "worker" in the Snake River Valley. A native of Cassia County, Simplot said, "We've come a long way here and the workers have done the job. They've helped create this kind of installation, and they're going to help keep this country going down the road in the same way it's going."

Simplot, who introduced Andrus to the crowd, lauded the chief executive as a "great guy and a great Idahoan. He is young and tough," Simplot said.

The Governor, who flew from the state capital to attend the afternoon proceedings, was met at the Burley airport by a crowd of over 100 people, including the Burley High School band. He termed the reception "the nicest I've received since becoming governor."

Andrus returned to Boise immediately after the ceremony concluded.

Utah mining town to end existence

BINGHAM CANYON, Utah (UPI) — This Utah mining town that once housed 10,000 persons has dwindled to 14 and they are expected to vote the town out of existence on election day.

"I hate to see the town disappear because it has always been good to me and I have enjoyed living here and working in the community," said the town marshal, Jesse Lopez.

The demise came slowly from snowslides, mudslides and the great open jaws of the Kennecott copper mine, largest pit mine in the world in 1968.

But the sheer canyon walls could not support enough trees to hold the soil during the heavy rains and melting snows and the mine grew higher and bigger. Now it surrounds the community of high-pitched and ornately carved wooden houses on three sides.

All the town's property owners have agreed to sell their land to Kennecott after disincorporation is voted for Nov. 2. Kennecott has agreed to buy the city hall, fire station and city jail for $73,000. It also offered $240,000 to a family owning a souvenir shop and museum.

The town marshal says he lives "down in the valley" now but still patrols the one street twice a week.

"Our biggest problem is the traffic," said Lopez. "We don't have any shootings, beating or other serious types of crime." The city hall, he said, still houses a jail but it is never used these days.

Flooding repair aid to Custer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Orval Hansen, R-Idaho, said today he has been informed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture that emergency conservation assistance is being offered to Custer County to help repair damage caused by spring flooding.

Hansen said an allocation of $30,000 has been made to the Idaho Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service state committee.

He said the money will be used to share with Custer County farmers the cost of removing debris from farmland, rehabilitation of irrigation systems, channel clearance, streambank protection, and grading, shaping and leveling eroded land areas.

Film cost paid woman

BOISE (UPI) — A young woman who claims her film was confiscated when she was arrested at an anti-war demonstration in Garden City has won the cost of a roll of film in small claims court.

Judge Edward A. Johnson awarded Carolyn Mugar, Mountain Home, the cost of the film, $2.50, and ordered Ada County Sheriff Paul Bright to pay $3.25 in court costs.

Miss Mugar had asked for $75 in the suit against Bright.

The plaintiff presented witnesses who testified there was film in Miss Mugar's camera when she was taken into custody last month at the Rode-way Inn. They also testified there was no film in the camera when it was returned to her upon her release.

Bright did not present any evidence to the contrary.

Buhl high homecoming in progress

The annual homecoming parade will begin at 2 p.m. Friday. Thursday evening there will be a bonfire and program at the Buhl rodeo grounds.

The homecoming dance is slated for 9 p.m. Saturday at the Buhl High School gymnasium. Music for the dance will be furnished by King Kong. Dress is casual.

Gem justices hear appeals

TWIN FALLS — Supreme Court justices continued hearing appeal cases in Twin Falls today, during the third day of their session here.

Three cases were scheduled to be heard today including arguments this afternoon in the case of Ray and Elaine Meissner versus Claude Edward Smith and Bernard J. Wetzstein in the matter of damages awarded by a district court jury in the death of the Meissner's 16 year old son.

They have appealed the court action awarding them $39,335.35 in damages after a jury returned a verdict of $70,000. Judge Theron W. Ward, Fifth District Court, ruled the Supreme Court's previous decision no more than $20,000 be awarded in such cases, plus inflationary costs since the ruling was established would make the $39,335.35 a fair amount.

Mr. and Mrs. Meissner are seeking the full amount held reasonable by the jury which heard their damage suit.

The court heard several cases Monday and Tuesday. Arguments will be taken under advisement by the justices, who will make their decisions and announced at a later time.

The high court has scheduled 15 appeal hearings in Twin Falls this week and will continue sessions through Friday afternoon.

Schools solution slapped

BURLEY, Idaho (UPI) — A suggested solution to the public school kindergarten problem by Rep. Wayne E. Tibbitts, D-Lorenzo, Tuesday ran into opposition from Robert C. Mavity, Burley, chairman of Idaho Voters for five-year-olds.

Tibbitts said the need for kindergartens could be eliminated through passage of a constitutional amendment permitting children to begin the first grade at 5 instead of the present 6.

Mavity agreed that age 5 is the proper time for a child to begin school but added "starting a 5 year old in the first grade does nothing to prepare him for school."

Fairfield has snow

FAIRFIELD — Snow was falling in Fairfield this morning, with about half an inch of measurable white stuff on lawns.

Residents said this is early for snow to be on the valley floor and is the first measurable snow anywhere in the area so far this year.

Air pollution index 142

The pollution reading was taken by the staff of the South Central Health District at the Twin Falls City Hall. The reading is expressed as the number of micrograms of particulate material per cubic meter of air for the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. today. Federal pollution regulator says pollution levels should be kept below 75 micrograms over any 24-hour period and should not be permitted to rise above 250 micrograms for even a short period of time.

Forecast

Today: Excellent
Tonight: Good
Tomorrow: Excellent

This forecast provided by the Idaho Department of Health indicates the ability of the atmosphere to disperse pollution. Burning as permitted by law should be curtailed when the air is poorly able to disperse air pollutants.

Youth, business man in bids

"I also believe the city should take a firm stand to insure the environmental quality of the city be preserved," Thompson said.

"I do recognize the city must acquire new industry to prosper. However, this prosperity must come as the result of clean honest business-not business that would rob the earth of its possessions. No polluting industry should be allowed within the city, but clean industry should be encouraged," he said.

Smallwood has been a resident of Twin Falls since 1943 and in his present business since 1953.

He said he is not in agreement with some of the decisions the city has made in the past and feels there should be a greater response to the needs of the majority of the people.

"I am not wholly against the city manager form of government, but I do feel it is the duty of the city manager to carry out the instructions of the councilmen, who in turn are responsible to the voters," Smallwood said.

The candidate said he feels priority has been given some projects which have not benefitted the majority, but rather only a few. For example, he said the city streets are in deplorable condition and have been neglected while money was spent to purchase Dierke's Lake property, build a road and buy hunting rights in the area. Smallwood said he feels the city had ample recreational facilities without acquiring the lake area.

Other nominating petitions taken out include those for Mrs. Jerre (Ann) Cover, who might become the city's first woman council member, and those for Lynn Goodman and Ray Crandal, who are calling for an election on repeal of the city manager form of government, and one incumbent, Winston Jones.

TODAY'S QUESTION
He does bid on to five spades. What do you do now?
Answer Tomorrow

By Oswald & James Jacoby

If South puts the code word ARCH to work, he should have no trouble with his four-heart contract.

He analyzes the lead as top of a short suit. This marks East with the king and queen of clubs. Then he reviews the bidding and remembers that East has passed throughout. East is not vulnerable and South can decide that if East held six clubs to the king-queen and the ace of diamonds he would have been in the bidding.

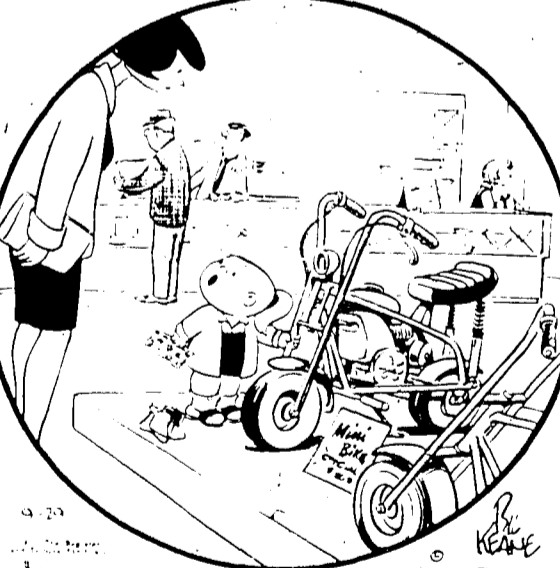

South counts his winners and losers and sees that he can afford to lose one trump trick and one club or one club and a ruff but that he can't afford to lose two clubs and a trump.

Then South plays dummy's jack of clubs and lets East hold the trick with the queen. After that East is helpless to defeat the contract.
