Balky soldiers removed from border outpost

SAIGON (UPI)—Communist gunners pounded a U.S. artillery base near the Cambodian border with mortar fire for the first time in three days Monday while its company of U.S. soldiers was being replaced because of reports they would not go on patrol.

U.S. military command spokesmen said that Fire Support Base Pace, less than a mile from the Cambodian frontier, was hit by 35 rounds of 82mm mortar fire during the day. Light American and South Vietnamese casualties were reported.

The commander of the Third Regional Assistance Command (TRAC), Vietnam, meanwhile, ordered the pullout of the 80-man Bravo Company at the base after reports that many had refused to obey orders and go out on patrol. The company was replaced by another company and sent to an undisclosed location.

More than 60 of the 80 members of Bravo Company, 1st Battalion, 21st Infantry, 1st Air Cavalry Division were reported to have sent a petition to Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., saying the patrols were suicide missions.

The TRAC commander, Maj. Gen. Jack J. Wagstaff, who acted on reports from commanders sent to the base, said publicity surrounding the incident and the possible harm it could do to troop morale were the reasons for the transfer.

The refusal apparently stemmed from an incident Saturday afternoon when six of seven Americans on patrol stumbled across a minefield believed laid by allied troops as an ambush. The patrol returned to the base unhurt, but 60 of the men reportedly signed a petition stating the patrols were suicide missions and sent it by hand to Kennedy.

GIs petition Viet war end

SAIGON (UPI)—A group of American servicemen stationed in Vietnam are collecting signatures from GIs on a petition to Congress asking for "an immediate cessation of all hostilities in Southeast Asia," an organizer said today.

The organizers, the Vietnam Veterans Against the War, said they had collected "several hundred" names. They said that one organizer circulating the petitions was arrested for four hours by U.S. Air Force police but was released.

This was believed to be the first time such a campaign has been conducted among troops in Vietnam by their fellow servicemen. The American press last summer reported such a petition but investigation in Saigon failed to produce any signers still in Vietnam.

James Mohler, 24, a U.S. Navy enlisted man from Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, said more than 400 servicemen from all branches have signed the petition and he believes the final response will be higher than his original goal of 2,000 names.

Mohler said he believed the signers are within their rights, as defined in Title 10, Section 104 of the United States Code which says no person may restrict members of the armed forces from communicating with a member of Congress "unless the communication is unlawful or violates a regulation necessary to the security of the United States."

Mohler said the petitions would be sent to the parent Vietnam Veterans Against the War organization, in New York, which plans to present them to Congress just before the Christmas recess.

Gunmen raid post offices in Ireland

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—Gunmen raided four post offices in Northern Ireland in 30 minutes today, briefly kidnaping a 70-year-old man in one of the strikes. Shippers also kept up attacks on British troops, wounding a soldier.

In a post office raid at Lonnends in County Antrim, three robbers carried off the postmaster's 70-year-old father but later released him, police said. How much money they got was not immediately known.

High court selections due in week

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon said today he would make nominations next week for both of two vacancies on the Supreme Court.

The President told reporters that Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., "is definitely on the list" of possible nominees and added: "At least two women are under consideration at this time."

"I don't rule out Sen. Byrd and I don't rule out a woman for consideration," the President said.

Nixon said newspaper speculation that Byrd was a certain nominee and counter-speculation that he had been ruled out "are both wrong."

Court ducks Viet war

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court refused today for the second time to rule on the constitutionality of the Vietnam War, never formally "declared" by Congress.

The case was rejected on a 5-2 vote by the seven-member court, at its first business session of the new term. Justices William O. Douglas and William J. Brennan Jr. voted to hear the case.

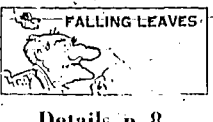

The court's brief order left standing a ruling last April 20, by the 2nd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New York.

That court held that congressional approval of the war could be inferred from passage of the Tonkin Gulf resolution, appropriation of billions of dollars to carry on the conflict, extension of the draft law and specific conscription of manpower.

The government had urged the court to dismiss the appeal on the ground the issue was one that only Congress and the executive branch could resolve.

It was brought in federal district court in New York by the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) on behalf of two servicemen.

The Justice Department told the Supreme Court: "A President violates the constitutional powers of Congress in this area at his peril—and Congress is the best judge of whether there has been a violation."

Egyptian gets Red bear hug

By United Press International

Egyptian President Anwar Sadat arrived in Moscow Monday for talks with Soviet leaders which diplomatic sources said could determine the question of war or peace in the Middle East. He was greeted with bearhugs and kisses by the three top men in the Kremlin.

Sadat, Communist party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, and President Nikolai V. Podgorny apparently wasted little time in getting down to the business at hand.

UPI correspondent James O. Jackson said they went straight from the airport to the Kremlin to begin the opening round of talks even before they had their supper.

Zones to alter school board

By LEE TREMAINE
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls school trustees approved a post-census proposed realignment of trustee zones Monday night.

The realignment will throw two incumbent trustees into zones occupied by other incumbents, leaving two zones without incumbents.

The new alignment will have to be submitted to the Idaho Board of Education for approval, then returned to the board for approval of any change suggested by the state, then submitted to the patrons of the school district for formal approval in a general election.

By state law, according to board Clerk J.T. Anderson, the district election must be scheduled 30 days before the statutory time for election of board members next April or May. State law establishes a six-week period during which trustee elections are to be held.

The overall boundaries of the school district, extending nine miles east and west by 15 miles north and south, will be unchanged by the proposed realignment. Major changes within the district, however, greatly expand Zone 5; establish what will be in effect a new Zone 4, with a greatly reduced area; expand Zone 2 to extend from Highway 30 south to include the entire western half of the district, and shift Zone 1 eastward a block.

State law requires that the trustee zones be drawn so each zone has no more than three percent variation in population.

Anderson rolled upon block-by-block population tallies to calculate the new zones, a task which has required several months to complete.

The official population of the five zones includes: Zone 1, 5,149; Zone 2, 5,187; Zone 3, 5,226; Zone 4, 5,268 and Zone 5, 5,225.

By zones, the major changes are:

— Zone 1: The new district will encompass the entire central business district and adjoining residential areas, instead of being divided along Shoahone Street. Thus, the northern boundary will remain Addison Avenue; the eastern line will move to Locust Street instead of Blue Lakes; the southwestern boundary will run along Rock Creek instead of Highland Avenue, and the western boundary will run northward from Rock Creek to Washington, north on Washington to 5th Street West, northeast on 5th Street West to Main Avenue, and northwest along Main to West Five Points to complete the roughly triangular zone.

Labor goes along!

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Organized labor agreed today to cooperate with the administration's Phase II economic controls after getting a statement initiated by President Nixon that said the government would not veto Wage and Price Board decisions.

AFI-CIO President George Meany said labor representatives would "help try to make the mechanisms" work and would serve on the board that will review wage increases following the end of the 90-day wage-price freeze Nov. 13.

But the AFI-CIO Executive Council and the leaders of the Teamsters and Auto Workers Unions said they would set up watchdog units across the nation to monitor prices and make sure that there were no violations of the administration's price controls.

Labor Secretary James D. Hodgson and Director George P. Shultz of the White House Office of Management and Budget met for about 40 minutes with Meany before the executive council session. They handed him a statement initiated Tuesday by Nixon outlining the roles of the Wage Board, the Price Commission and Nixon's Cost of Living Council (COLC).

One paragraph of the document said: "The COLC will not approve, disapprove or serve as an appeal level for case decisions made by the Pay Board and Price Commission and it will not approve, revise, veto or revoke specific standards or criteria developed by the Pay Board and Price Commission."

Nixon will visit Russ

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon announced today he will visit Moscow next May.

The President announced the visit—to take place in the latter part of May—in a personal appearance in the White House press room.

The President said the leaders of Red China, where he will visit before his trip to Moscow, U.S. allies in Europe and Japan had been informed about the meeting before it was announced.

House and Senate leaders also were called to the White House to get the word shortly before Nixon made the announcement.

Nixon said the trip to Moscow was independent from the Peking visit—scheduled some time before May 1—and that both were for the purpose of discussing bilateral matters between the two countries.

"Neither trip is being taken for the purpose of exploiting the differences that may exist between the two nations," he said.

Nixon said his discussions with Russian leaders would include strategic arms limitation, the Middle East and "a number of other areas where presently the U.S. and the Soviet Union are having negotiations.

Nixon said the official invitation for the Moscow visit was delivered to him by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko who met with Nixon at the White House a couple of weeks ago.

Nixon said his visits to Moscow and to Peking would be preceded by intensive discussions at lower levels to make sure the summit conference, "will serve a useful purpose."

Cassia school trustees back high school union

By DAVID ESPO
Times-News Writer

BURLEY — The Cassia County School Trustees Monday night approved, in principle, the consolidated high school for students of Burley, Oakley and Malta.

By a vote of 2 to 1, the trustees directed Supt. Harold Blauer and his administrative staff to work with Architect William Richardson, Salt Lake, in drawing up costs and land use estimates for a consolidated high school and other facilities to be presented at the Oct. 21 meeting of the board.

The vote, coming after two hours of debate, represents a major reversal of a decision reached by the board six months ago to retain the county's four high schools in Burley, Oakley, Declo and Malta.

The board's action does not commit it to presenting a proposed consolidated high school plan to voters for consideration. Technically, Monday night's action is only a go ahead for Richardson to present defined estimates in case the trustees decide the consolidated high school should be placed on a bond referendum, trustees explained.

The proposed bond election vote is tentatively scheduled for late this year.

Trustees approving the action included Albert Klink and Norval Wildman. Charles Ward voted against it. William Matthews, serving as acting chairman in place of Winslow Whiteley, did not vote. Whiteley is presently recovering from surgery.

In other action in the special meeting, the board accepted a bid of the Mitchell Construction Co. for $50,000 to build two new classrooms at the Burley High School.

The action came after emotional pleas by three members of the high school staff urging the trustees to appropriate funds for the new facility.

Thomas Gruwell, principal, said the decision about the added facilities was a question of "whether you want to get by or whether you want quality education." Also making appeals to the board were Mrs. Lucille Nielson, guidance counselor, and Jeanie Snow, remedial reading teacher.

Both described problems of what they described as the presently overcrowded high school.

Public worker strike ban OK

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court held constitutional today laws denying public employees the right to strike, thus settling a long, bitter and previously unresolved dispute.

The court affirmed the judgment of a lower court last spring upholding a law forbidding strikes by federal employees. The case was brought by the United Federation of Postal Clerks against the federal government.

The court acted in a brief order with no explanation. Only Justice William O. Douglas wanted to hear arguments in the case and decide it by written opinion.

The ruling affects all federal government employees and probably all state and municipal jobholders as well. Although many state courts have ruled public employee strikes illegal and forced strikers back to work, it was the first time the Supreme Court had ruled on the issue.

Nearly one out of every five workers in the American labor force is employed by government, according to Labor Department data. These include 2.6 million civilians at the federal level and another 10.6 million by state and local units. All federal employees and most state and local government workers have been barred from striking.

A three-judge panel of the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia held in the postal clerks case on April 20 that while government workers have a "fundamental right" to organize and bargain collectively, that right did not extend to striking to achieve their labor objectives.

Burley girl killed

By GEORGIA LAYTON
Times-News Writer

BURLEY — Virginia Kenner, 14, Burley, died Monday evening of injuries received when she was hit by a pickup truck 1.5 miles south of Rupert on Idaho Highway 24.

Idaho State Police said the girl ran into the path of a truck driven by Luther Morton, 45, Rupert, about 8:20 p.m.

Miss Kenner was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Kenner, Burley. She was taken to Mindoka Memorial Hospital, but was dead on arrival there.

Robert Walk, Mindoka County coroner, said today an inquest is pending in the girl's death.

State police said Miss Kenner apparently argued with two other girls with whom she had gone to a drive-in restaurant at the miniature golf course south of Rupert. After the argument, officers said, she apparently started to walk back to Burley. She crossed two lanes and the median strip of the four-lane highway, but was hit as she crossed the southbound lanes.

State police said the girl was wearing dark clothing. Officers quoted Morton as saying he saw a blur seconds before the truck hit the girl.

The body was taken to the McCulloch Funeral Home.

Turkish arms aid assured

ANKARA (UPI) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has assured Premier Nihat Erim that Washington will continue military and economic aid to Turkey, government sources said today.

Agnew met with Erim for 90 minutes Monday shortly after his arrival. Turkey is the first stop on an 11-day trip that will take Agnew to Iran for the 2,500th anniversary celebrations and to Greece, his father's homeland.

On the vice president's schedule today were meetings with President Cevdet Sunay, Turkish parliamentary leaders, a reception for the U.S. colony and a dinner honoring Erim at the U.S. Embassy.

Sunay was receiving Agnew at the presidential Cankaya Palace atop a hill overlooking the capital.

There were two explosions in Istanbul aimed at Americans only hours before Agnew's arrival. One blast destroyed the car of U.S. cultural attache Kenton W. Kelth. The other blew up a car outside the U.S. Mission.

Istanbul's martial law command prohibited the city's newspapers from printing news of the explosions. A martial law order circulated to newspapers said: "We are in consultation with the government. For the time being, refrain from printing news of the blasts."

Tight security was in effect for Agnew, the second U.S. Vice President to pay an official visit to Turkey. Lyndon A. Johnson visited here in 1962. Hundreds of police and troops were stationed on Agnew's route in the city.

In contrast to the number of security forces, the crowds turning out to greet Agnew were small.

In addition to U.S.-Turkish relations, the government sources said Agnew and Erim discussed the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT), mutual force reductions in Europe and Turkey's relations with Greece over Cyprus.

Agnew was scheduled to leave Wednesday morning for Tehran. Saturday he will fly to Athens for two days before making a three-day private visit to the home area of his Greek father. He returns to Washington Oct. 22.

CHESTER CONKLIN

Keystone Kop dies at 83

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Keystone Kop Chester Conklin, a pioneer movie comedian in the slapstick era of two-reel silents, died Monday at the age of 83.

Conklin was the daffy cop with the walrus mustache and a penchant for hitting the wrong man with his club. He also caught his share of ples in the face.

Conklin died at the Motion Picture and Television Country House of emphysema complicated by a heart condition. At his request, no funeral will be held.

The long-time comedian appeared in hundreds of Mack Sennett shorts, often making two Keystone Kops pictures a week.

Conklin was born in Oskaloosa, Iowa, Jan. 11, 1888.

As a young man he joined a Barnum circus as a clown. He began making movies in 1913 and amassed a considerable fortune, part of which went into a $70,000 Hollywood mansion—a great deal of money at the time.

With the advent of talkies, Conklin's career began to slide. At one point he said, "Talking pictures ruined comedy. Real laughs are based on pantomime. Everything was action, and audiences were forced to use their imagination."

In 1965 Conklin surprised everyone by eloping with June Gunther to Las Vegas. He was 77. The bride was 65.

Committee probes pension jungles

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Murray Finkelstein, 60, Reno Park, N.Y., sold shoes for 35 years before the store he worked at folded. He thought he would be entitled to a pension from his union when he reached 65. He is entitled to nothing. Steve Duane, 52, Jersey City, N.J., worked for the A&P grocery store chain for 32 years before the cold storage warehouse he worked in closed. He thought he would receive a pension at retirement. He, too is entitled to nothing. And Mrs. Iris Kwek, 48, Detroit, worked for the Anaconda Co. for 30 years before it closed part of its Detroit operations and laid her off. She, too, thought she would receive a pension to supplement her husband's retirement income, but she is entitled to nothing. Today the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee called officials of the Anaconda Co., A&P, and the Retail Shoe Salesmen Employee's Union to testify about their pension plans and to explain why Finkelstein, Duane and Mrs. Kwek are entitled to nothing. Harrison A. Williams, D-N.J., the chairman, said it was becoming evident that hundreds of people across the country have suffered irreparable loss of pension benefits because of a legal jungle of nonexistent vesting provisions, inadequate funding, lack of transferability of credits or lack of reinsurance. Today's hearings marked the second round of the committee's inquiry into private pension plans. Last summer, the committee heard from a dozen witnesses all with same complaint: they had contributed for years—either directly through regular salary deductions, or indirectly in lieu of higher pay—to pension plans in the expectation they would retire on a comfortable wage. They found they lost their rights when they were forced to quit before normal retirement age.

New Gooding teen-age voters will be in unusual position

By RICHARD CHARNOCK BOISE (UPI) — Teen-agers who go to the polls to cast ballots in Gooding County's special election Oct. 23 are going to be in a unique position.

Under the most recent amendment to the United States Constitution those 18 and older are entitled to vote in federal, state and local elections.

But under Idaho law they must be 21 to drink wine or liquor and at least 20 to buy or drink beer.

One of the two questions on which they will cast their ballots in the Gooding County election is whether to allow sale of table wines in grocery stores.

Attorney General W. Anthony Park said he believes the youngsters have a right to cast ballots on the wine question even though, by law, they have no right to buy or drink it.

"It is kind of an ironic situation," Park conceded. "It's somewhat unique. It's an example of a constitutional change coming before the Legislature can bring the statutes into conformity."

To bring Idaho law into conformity in this case, lawmakers would have to lower the voting age — something Park doubts is on the immediate horizon. "I would doubt it," he said. "Because...of our tradition of conservatism in matters involving alcohol."

Ironies such as this, however, together with the voting power of those 18, 19 and 20 could lead to some changes in Idaho's present liquor laws if the youngsters were to marshal their power.

Legislation touching on this was introduced in 1969 at the behest of State Rep. Patricia McDermott, D-Pocatello.

Besides lowering the drinking age to 18 her bill also would have permitted youngsters of that age to do a number of other things now prohibited because they are under 21.

That measure never went anywhere. But Miss McDermott said she has asked the Legislative Council to draft legislation affecting this question and others involving the 18, 19 and 20 year olds.

Whether this legislature, at its next session in January, is ready to take such a step seems doubtful.

But Miss McDermott believes the lawmakers eventually will pass such legislation.

Gov. Reagan reassures Formosans

TAIPEI (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan of California Monday reassured a jittery Nationalist China of continued U.S. support in defense of Formosa and her seat in the United Nations.

In a speech at an American University Club dinner in celebration of Nationalist China's Oct. 10 National Day, Reagan said he was authorized to reiterate the United States will "continue honoring our treaty commitments" to Taipei.

The Republican governor, who came here Saturday to attend Nationalist China's double ten celebration as President Nixon's personal representative, said:

"We will weaken no cherished associations. We will break no promises."

In a double ten message, President Chiang Kai-shek expressed this deep-rooted anxiety and accused the non-Communist world of abandoning his "outstanding but persecuted people who have chosen to resist communism to the bitter end."

Noting this anxiety, Reagan said President Nixon's announced trip to Peking is aimed at opening communication with mainland China.

Nixon's desire to achieve a dialogue with Peking, the governor said, "does not dilute or jeopardize" the desire of the United States to maintain friendly ties with Nationalist China.

"Our defense commitment will continue to support the full participation of the Republic of China in the international community," Reagan said.

COMPLAINT

Dear Mr. Spectator: The prowl-car pilots at CSI are ever watching the welfare of their students. They must have set a new record for efficiency. While I was parked in their skimpy "visitor" parking area (they do not encourage too many visitors, apparently) your reporter received a ticket that is rare indeed — traffic, that is.

We have five lovely kittens who are in need of new homes. There are four black ones and one silver gray. I also have two expectant mother cats. So you can see I am desperate. Please help by calling 788-4295 in Hailey.

Not only was yours truly cited for parking erroneously (I have a student's decal since my wife has been a student) but my car, the untended, motionless and, indeed, locked tight, was ticketed for a MOVING TRAFFIC VIOLATION. The nature of the violation was not indicated — just "other than speeding or unsafe driving" — perhaps the car, eager to be gone, was rocking back and forth slightly while parked?

Have eight — that's right, eight — puppies to give away. Mother is a Brittany Spaniel. They are assorted and darling. We really hate to give them up but we have three other dogs and are running out of room. Ask for Mrs. Larry Morton at 733-9408 or see at 933 Morningside, in Twin Falls.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — In addition to the 105 Soviet agents Britain is ousting, it is likely from the evidence that there are at least another 100 active Soviet espionage agents in the Soviet embassy and missions in London. These British are not expelling — at least immediately — for one reason or another.

As a rule of thumb, in the larger industrial countries one-third to one-half of the officials and other employees of the embassy, consulates and trade and other delegations are actively engaged in spying.

Medical Academy

WASHINGTON — The American Medical Association has itself largely to blame for the House Armed Services Committee's extraordinary unanimous approval of the bill to establish a military medical academy.

Dr. Rland Cannon, Memphis, member of the AMA's Council of Medical Education, testified that one serious objection to setting a military medical academy was doubt about the maintenance of high teaching and other professional standards. This drew sharp fire from Rep. Alexander Pirnie (N.Y.), a ranking Republican.

"I don't think you have given any reason why it shouldn't have your support," retorted Pirnie. "Clearly, even if we did have excellence in this institution, you still wouldn't approve it. As I understand it, that's what it all gets down to."

ROBERT ALLEN

Lack Of Funds

WASHINGTON — Despite those bombastic announcements of grandiose plans, the Communist-led Peoples Coalition for Peace and Justice (PCPJ) is having serious difficulty getting its proclaimed Oct. 25-26 mass anti-Vietnam demonstrations in the capital off the ground.

Not only is the PCPJ deep in debt due to large legal and other expenses from its riotous May Day operations here, but it's severely wracked by internal discontent and feuding.

Also that William Douthard, New York City coordinator, is regularly collecting his salary but doing very little. He is being torridly assailed as a "slacker."

Hebert is firmly confident the full House will pass his bill when it's considered later this month. But what happens thereafter is conjectural.

So severely strapped is PCPJ that at a recent meeting the faithful were bluntly told to kick in or else!

In an effort to patch up the rancorous bickering and close ranks for the announced mass "fall offensive" in Washington late this month, PCPJ moguls, under Communist party prodding, have summoned another conference. What happens there remains to be seen.

Whatever the committee does, it won't be unanimous. In known memory, it has never been unanimous on anything.

As an example and to start contributions rolling, the Communist Party U.S.A. (CPUSA), which controls PCPJ, pledged $1,000. This was immediately followed by a similar pledge by the Young Workers Liberation League, the youth branch of CPUSA.

Meanwhile, according to the continued rash of propaganda hooplah, demonstration plans include:

The Senate has never deliberated this legislation. The Senate Armed Services Committee, which will take it up first, is stormily at odds on virtually every issue — and very likely will be on this one.

To cap this show of munificent backing, Ronnie Davis and David Dellinger, of the Chicago Seven defendants, jointly promised $1,000.

(1) "Mass civil disobedience around the White House;" (2) a public "anti-Vietnam grand jury" on the spacious ground near the Washington Monument; (3) candlelight procession around the White House, Treasury and Executive Office Building. In that affair, a so-called "eviction notice will be served on Mr. Nixon."

Insiders claim none of this money has yet shown up.

That charge is given credence by angry backstage squawking of regional officials over not being paid the past month. These are key functionaries who are responsible for producing the crowds for the mass demonstrations.

Internal brawling is also plaguing the other big leftist anti-Vietnam agitation organization — the National Peace Action Coalition (NPAC), organized and controlled by the Trotskyite Socialist Workers Party (SWP).

The AMA lost the game in the Armed Services Committee's hearing by its inept presentation and irritation of committee members by contradictory and seemingly obtuse pronouncements. Following are illustrative highlights:

In answer to their vehement complaints about going payless, they have been told PCPJ is "temporarily strapped." But they've heard other stories. One that national coordinator Bradford Lyttle is flitting about embassy, consulates and trade and other delegations are actively engaged in spying. This information comes from former Soviet agents who have defected and from documents and other data obtained when Russian spy rings are broken.

Union was after what American secrets it would find. In the same way, of course, Soviet espionage in the United States seeks British, French, Japanese and other free-world industrial and military secrets guarded in U. S. government offices and local branches of foreign firms.

The extent and variety of Soviet espionage can best be illustrated by listing some of the Soviet officials expelled by governments for espionage this year and last, remembering that governments normally think long and deeply before declaring a foreign diplomat persona non grata.

February — A Soviet first secretary in Italy for spying. January — A first secretary in West Germany for scientific and technical espionage.

In 1971: August — Two Soviet diplomats in the Sudan for working with the group which attempted to oust the government.

September — The Soviet chief engineer of a joint Soviet-Norwegian commercial venture for attempting to recruit a woman in the Norwegian Defense Department for espionage.

July — A Soviet consul and a commercial officer in the trade mission in Ghana for activities endangering Ghana's security.

May — Four Russians in the Congo; a K.G.B. agent for attempting to bribe five officials in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs; an attache (K.G.B.) for recruiting and paying Congolese students for spying and other anti-government activities; an interpreter for subverting Congolese students for a spy ring; an attache for illegal entry.

July — The Soviet counselor, first secretary and chief economist in the trade mission in Ecuador for funding labor unions seeking to overthrow the government.

A Sad Story

Dear Dr. Thosteson: A recent question by a mother whose daughter deliberately made herself vomit after eating (to lose weight) brought to mind a similar case in our family.

result has been a very obvious case of malnutrition, and I don't like to think what might happen if that emaciated, tired body had to combat some serious illness.

My sister, now past 30, started doing the same thing several years ago. What started in fun became a daily eating-and-vomiting habit. She has emaciated from 160 pounds to a mere 98 (she stands five-foot-eight) over the last two or three years.

How to approach her on the subject, I am not sure, but it occurs to me that in her case, this eating-vomiting routine has gone past the dimensions of a "habit," and a genuine emotional disturbance is part of the picture.

She is a source of constant worry to my retired parents. She is still single and working as a secretary. She gets absolutely no enjoyment from life. She lives from day to day with little energy for anything else.

I'd like a psychiatrist's appraisal of the situation — but unfortunately I don't know how to suggest that it be accomplished, at a distance of 750 miles.

Since this has been going on so long, is there any possible cure for it? If so, how do we proceed, as she lives 750 miles from us? What is the best way to approach her? — Mrs. E. L.

All I can say is that this practice of eating and throwing up isn't wise, and can be really harmful.

A doctor can't say that this is what will happen to everyone who adopts this out-and-vomit routine, but here's the evidence that it happened in one case.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What would insulin do to a person who had been taking one to two pills a day for two and a half years but did not have diabetes? — Mrs. M. J.

It's not a new idea; the gluttons of ancient Rome used to do it so they could keep on gorging themselves.

First, let's get this straight: insulin has to be injected, and the pills taken for diabetes are not insulin. They are a medication that lowers the blood sugar level. Insulin, taken by mouth, would merely be digested, and would not be insulin any longer.

But I keep getting letters from or about people (it always seems to be girls) who think it's a clever way of reducing while still eating too much.

If a person without diabetes took the pills, they could lower the blood sugar level to the point of making him quite uncomfortable — tired, groggy, sweaty, confused. Or there might be no effect at all, if the person ate enough to offset any drop in blood sugar.

A cranky, nervous stomach is one conscience that occurs to me first, but there can be others. The frequent retching can damage muscles or other tissues.

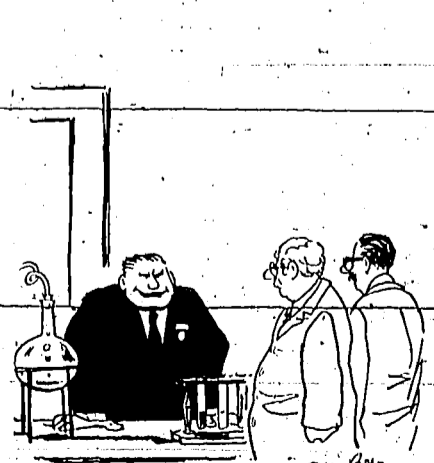

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have heard that if you are on birth control pills for about a year and then get off because you want a baby, that the child will be deformed or die. Is there any chance of this? — Mrs. H. C.

And here's another point to consider: not all forms of food, including vitamins and minerals, are absorbed in the same part of the digestive tract. Eating and throwing up permits absorption of some nutrients in the stomach, but can result in a most unbalanced diet.

No. And I wonder who starts such false rumors. Or why.

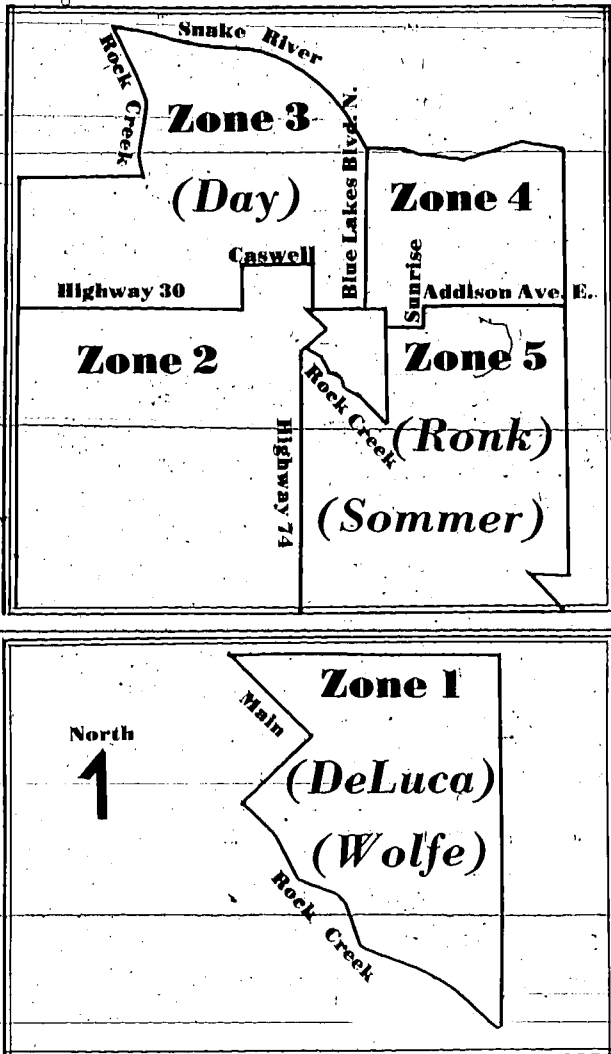

In the case of Mrs. E. L.'s sister, I would say that the Trustees OK rezoning plan

New District 411 trustee zones

 Zone 2: Northern boundary, Highway 30 (Addison Avenue) as before, except for a jog northward along Grandview Drive to Caswell Avenue, east to Jefferson Street, then south again to Addison; Eastern boundary, same as western boundary of Zone 1.
 Zone 3: Little change, except for southern boundary, where Zone 2 cuts into Zone 3; other boundaries the same.
 Zone 4: Bounded on west by Blue Lakes, on north by Snake River, and on east by same boundaries as present; southern boundary moved from former line along Rock Creek to Addison Avenue, except for jog south along Eastland Drive to 9th Avenue East, west to Locust and north on Locust to Addison.
 Zone 5: Considerably changed: Northern boundary the same as southern boundary of Zone 4. Eastern boundary the same as edge of school district. Western boundary south along Locust to Rock Creek, up Rock Creek to Highway 74, where western boundary runs due south to edge of district along Highway 74 and a line extending southward where Highway 74 turns west.
 After the zone realignment is approved by the district's patrons, the board must adjust its five members to coincide with the new lineup, Anderson said. The specific points of law on this phase of the trustee realignment will have to be interpreted by the district's attorneys at the time.
 All five board members will have to run for re-election next spring.
 The new alignment will materially affect the board as it now stands. Under the present lineup, John Wolfe, Zone 1 trustee, will remain in Zone 1; Frank DeLuca, Zone 2 will also reside in the new Zone 1, which will take in the whole of the central business and residential district; Ruth B. Day, Zone 3, and Elmer Sommer, Zone 5, will remain in their zones, but Dr. H.W. Ronk, presently Zone 4 trustee, will also become a resident of Zone 5.

 Thus, under the new alignment, Zones 2 and 4 will lack trustees, while Zones 1 and 5 will have two each.

Lost girls located by search

WALLACE (UPI) — A 14-hour search ended successfully here early Monday when two seven-year-old girls were found alive and well.
 The two—Patsy Hocking and Kim Paul — were found by searchers about 3:30 a.m. Monday in the trunk of an abandoned car near the Woodland Park area north of here.
 They had been reported missing by their parents about 1:30 p.m. Sunday and a search was started by Shoshone County sheriff's deputies.
 Both were reported tired but in good health after spending most of the night lost.
 The 'fellow' who wants to break a lot of records needn't be an athlete. He probably has three teenagers.

Board's books OK

TWIN FALLS — The books of Twin Falls School District No. 411 are in perfect shape, according to Ted Roth.
 Roth, of the accounting firm of Riddle, Roth, Evans and Evans, told trustees Monday night the annual audit of the district's books revealed no discrepancy between income and outgo.
 Roth commended board clerk J.T. Anderson for his accuracy, saying that with a $3 million budget, a discrepancy of as much as $300 is not unusual.
 Trustees, apparently anxious to keep the board meeting as short as possible, accepted the audit with no discussion or comment.

Organizing advocated

SPOKANE (UPI) — Consumer protection spokesman Betty Furness said Monday consumers "can no longer accept the idea that being taken is part of the consumer game."
 "The consumer game is one in which the consumer is perpetually at a disadvantage," she told an audience at Eastern Washington State College Monday.
 "We have grown up secure that someone out there somewhere is taking care of us and it is disillusioning to find out that this is not the case," she said.
 Miss Furness advocated that retail outlets adopt unit pricing and urged local consumer protection groups.

 "Organized numbers really do count. We've found consumer groups have real clout, even if they are only voluntary."
 "New York City's consumerism department works," she said, "because it formerly was the licensing and marketing department and has real legislative teeth."
 She criticized the U.S. Surgeon General's recent statement that people might want to use phosphates rather than substitutes because some of the alternative products proved caustic and harmful to health.

Showdown looming at Demo meeting

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A showdown between the old guard and militant reformers over selection of a temporary chairman to police delegate credentials for next year's Democratic National Convention promises to dominate this week's meeting of the party's National Committee.
 The two-day meeting, which opens Wednesday and may be the final session before the June convention, also is expected to pass a reverse loyalty oath designed to control any convention delegates Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace might pick up in Democratic primaries.
 The contest for temporary chairmanship of the Credentials Committee matches Patricia Roberts Harris, former ambassador to Luxembourg, and Sen. Harold E. Hughes of Iowa.
 As expected, Hughes has the backing of the liberal, reform elements in the National Committee. Mrs. Harris has the support of organized labor and the old guard.

Panama demands return of Canal Zone control

PANAMA (UPI)—President Omar Torrijos Monday said the 10-mile-wide Panama Canal Zone is a "colonial enclave" and called on the United States to return full sovereignty to Panama. He announced elections would be held next August to return the Panama Republic to constitutional rule.

Temporary platform four stories high, just 200 yards from the Canal Zone boundary. He said the present Canal Zone treaty is "shameful" for Panama and "ignominious for democracy."

He said in August there will be an election of 500 representatives for an assembly of townships which "will decide the destiny which Panama shall follow." He said the assembly should revise the 1946 constitution.

He urged his followers to provoke no disturbances along the Canal Zone boundary. There were no disturbances during the rally.

Korean protest

Sato said most upset

TOKYO (UPI)—Nobody has been more upset by President Nixon's voyage to the People's Republic of China than Japanese Premier Eisaku Sato.

Ever since taking office in November, 1964, Sato has worked with the United States to check Communist China's influence in Asia. He also has befriended the rival Chinese government on Taiwan headed by President Chiang Kai-shek.

As a reward, Sato expected to get Okinawa back from the United States next year, and retire in triumph in the autumn of 1972 after eight years service.

The 70 year-old prime minister was publicly humiliated July 17 when the news of Nixon's China venture arrived without the slightest advance warning from Washington.

Leaders Joka Opposition Now even some leaders of his ruling Liberal-Democratic party have joined the left-titled opposition in demanding Sato's replacement by somebody more "flexible" on the China question.

So far, Sato has contained this drive to unseat him if Nixon's venture in Peking proves fruitless. The prime minister might even survive the whole thing. But at the moment he is fighting for his political life.

Like South Korea, Thailand and America's other Asian allies, Japan never has recognized the 22-year old Communist regime in Peking. Her diplomatic ties are with the Taiwan-based Chinese Nationalists.

Trade is another matter. Japan reopened trade with the Chinese mainland in 1963, and has been making money at it ever since.

Leading Trade Partner Japan accounts for about 20 per cent of China's foreign trade. She is China's leading trade partner and doesn't want to lose that position. The announcement that Nixon was going to Peking persuaded many Japanese tycoons that American was ready to make her economic move in China.

The Japanese are keenly aware of Chinese Premier Chou En-lai's policy of favoring countries that recognize China.

Leading Japanese businessmen who long backed Sato's China policy, are deserting him in droves, and journeying to Peking for assurance Chou will not freeze them out of China. Companies like Toyota, New Japan Steel, and Japan Airlines are loosening their ties with Nationalist China.

The pressure from the businessmen is frustrating because any move Sato makes toward Peking could get him in trouble with Nationalist China and the United States.

Personal Promise Made To get the United States to return Okinawa to Japan after a 28-year U.S. military occupation, Sato personally promised Nixon in 1969 that Japan would continue to cooperate with American in the defense of Taiwan.

Sato has another big problem in improving relations with Communist China—he is detested by Chou En-lai.

Urbanization changes lion hunting habits

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI)—It was in Botswana in Southern Africa that Ivan Tors first realized man is perhaps seeing for the last time the natural life of wild animals. Two lions prowling around his house one night stopped off to kill two cows simply for the sake of killing.

"In all my journeys I have never seen a lion kill without eating," he said. "This is one of the basic changes in the nature of animals being brought about by the gradual urbanization of large parts of Africa, the constant encroachment on wild areas, the multitudes of tourists."

So Tors, who is a television producer as well as a practical oceanographer and zoologist—director of the World Wildlife Fund—immediately set about a project he envisions will take 25 years to finish: A complete motion picture record of all living animals to be called "The Animal Encyclopedia."

"If I am not here to finish it someone else will," he said. "Alligators and elephants are the first two whose life cycles are being recorded for future generations."

"We may be a little late on elephants," Tors said. "They used to migrate 400 to 500 miles a year but this is impossible in the preserves to which they are confined, so we cannot any longer really show elephants as they were intended to live."

Tors, whose new underwater television series, "Primus," is being widely syndicated, said he expected the animal project to be self-supporting. He foresees some sad day in the future when families will have to plug in a 25-minute cassette to see an animal no longer available in the wild.

Tors said the change in wild animals cannot be over-emphasized to tourists.

"For 40,000-50,000 years," he said, "wild animals learned to fear and stay away from man. They were able to do this because of the huge areas of the wild. Now tourists are so close to animals they are losing their fear of man. They are not hunted or shot at anymore. It is familiarity that is dangerous now—remember the two girls killed by bears in Glacier National Park? Wild animals may look playful and cuddly but a playful lion can break a man's back."

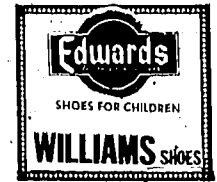

"When we were filming the elephant story a German tourist driving a small English Vauxhall honked his horn at an elephant, startling it. The angry elephant hooked the car on his tusks and shoved it away. Then he sat on it.

"Only the fact that the pressure exploded the tires with a loud bang saved the tourists. It frightened the elephant away."

Doggy origin

CHICAGO (UPI)—Canaries are canaries because explorers found a multitude of dogs on some islands. The familiar yellow cage bird, according to Encyclopedia Britannica, descended from the wild canary, named from the Canary Islands.

Utah police kill driver with gun

MONTICELLO, Utah (UPI)—A man driving a car stolen in Los Angeles was shot to death in an encounter with two law officers on a highway near here, the Utah Highway Patrol reported Sunday.

The unidentified victim was shot four or five times when he "whirled and aimed a gun" at trooper Robert Low and San Juan County sheriff's deputy Verl Green, the Highway Patrol said.

The officers said they stopped the car for a "routine check because it was acting in a suspicious manner" on U. S. 160 between the towns of Moab and Monticello Saturday night. Green said the man carried a .32 caliber pistol, and had no chance to fire before being shot. The Highway Patrol said Green fired five times and Low twice. Neither officer was injured.

Low had been shot in the back earlier in the year in another case and was back on two weeks when the Saturday incident occurred.

The Highway Patrol said the dead man carried "a number of stolen credit cards and identification papers." Los Angeles police had put out an alert for the stolen 1971 car.

Prison picketed in Utah

DRAPER, Utah (UPI)—A crowd of 35 protesters picketed the Utah State Prison Sunday afternoon in support of two efforts of inmates last week to improve conditions at the penitentiary.

The sign-carrying demonstrators assembled at the south Salt Lake County facility about 2:30 p.m. and paraded back-and-forth in front of the institution's main gates for nearly two hours.

Warden John W. Turner said most of the demonstrators had just visited inmates in the prison and joined the picketing when they came outside.

A spokesman for the group said they were picketing the prison in support of the inmates, "to make sure the prisoners get the rights they are entitled to."

Wednesday and Thursday of last week the inmates staged sit-down demonstrations at the prison in an effort to achieve certain improvements, include better food and lower commissary prices.

DEAR ABBY: Do you think a mother should address in front of her three boys, ages 1, 3 and 5? I never used to because my husband drilled it into me that it was "wrong."

Whenever I was to address, I or my husband would send the boys out, or they would turn around, or I would hide myself—so they wouldn't see what the female body looked like. The two older boys got so curious they used to hang around constantly while I was undressing just to get a look at what Mummy was hiding from them.

Well, I recently changed my views, and I haven't made any effort to hide myself while undressing. I do not parade around naked, I just don't hide anymore. Now, the boys have quit gawking, and sometimes they run off to play and don't even bother to look.

My husband found out last night that I've let the boys see me in various stages of undress, and he had a fit. He thinks I am terrible.

Abby, I have seen 6 and 7 year old boys peek under little girls' dresses to see something they've never seen before and I don't want that happening to my boys. Please tell me if I am wrong or is my husband? I will abide by your decision.

DEAR "J": I vote with you.

DEAR ABBY: My husband likes to look at girls in mini skirts and hot pants, but he doesn't want me to wear them. What's wrong with him? CAROLINE

DEAR CAROLINE: He's like the man who wants to enjoy his neighbor's scenery, but he builds a high fence around his own.

DEAR ABBY: My father in law (a widower) married a childless widow about six months ago. Recently on a visit to their home I noticed that my husband's picture was missing from his father's bedroom bureau where it has stood for 20 years, and in its place was a STUFFED DOG!

My husband was very hurt but said nothing. He's an odd child and has always had a very good relationship with his father—until this marriage.

Dad and his new wife come over about once a week and when they leave she says, "Come around sometime," but she never says when.

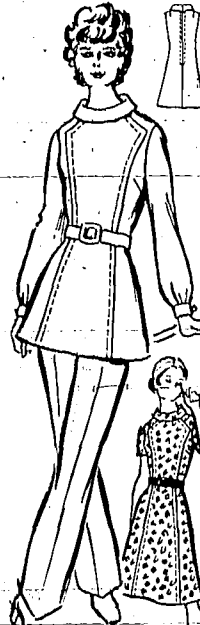

Since it was my husband's mother who gave us the money for this house, I feel Dad's new wife should not be welcomed in it after hurting my husband that way. Would I be out of line to have a talk with my father in law? And please don't say, "Let your husband do it." He hasn't got his guts. NO NAME, NO TOWN

DEAR NO NAME: The new wife could use a few lessons in diplomacy and manners, but unless your husband wants to write his father and stepmother off for good [which I doubt], don't say anything.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ROZZIE: Your boy friend seems to have "bone" trouble. [Too much in the head, and not enough in the spine.] If you "love" him enough to want to support him, go ahead and marry him.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69706, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Cassia board gives nod to consolidation study

Blauer said the new classrooms to be built adjacent to the shop facilities will be used temporarily as academic classrooms with expectations they will go toward expanding vocational education facilities in a few years when enrollment is expected to decrease.

The decision to authorize further investigation of the proposed county high school followed a heated and often angry debate between school board members and members of a citizens group petitioning for consolidation.

About 30 persons jammed the board room, overflowing into the hallway, for the second time within a week. With temperatures in the room reaching above 80 degrees last Wednesday, the petitioners requested a consolidated high school be considered by the trustees as the basis for a bond election, presenting copies of petitions with over 500 names backing up their request.

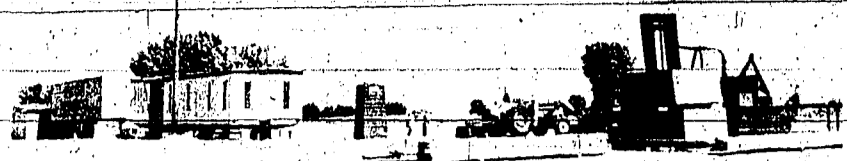

The board, at that time, tabled the request to give school administrators and architects time to work on cost estimates. In response to the request of the board, Richardson, representing the Salt Lake City architectural firm of Richardson and Richardson, Monday night outlined several revised proposals.

Included was one of $2.9 million. Elements include a remodeled Declo High School to accommodate elementary and middle school students at a cost of $370,000; two additional teacher stations at the Haft River High School, Malta, at a cost of $90,000; a $20,000 remodeling project at the Oakley High School to accommodate junior high school students; renovating the Burley Junior High School to serve as a "middle school" for sixth and seventh graders at a cost of $50,000 and construction of 1,000 student county high school to incorporate the present high schools of Burley, Oakley and Declo at a cost of $2.37 million.

Richardson also presented other options including transforming the existing Burley High School into a county high school and constructing a new "middle school" in Burley along with other modifications.

The board's motion, following the presentation, authorized Richardson to continue planning for consolidating the high school and other necessary remodeling and construction coming within the range of about $3 million.

At present, the county is legally able to bond up to $3.8 million of which about $500,000 dollars is already bonded.

Tupperware plant site activity starts

Plant builder arrives

JEROME — The Walter Kilde Contractors, Inc., New York, N. Y., contractor for construction of the Tupperware plant south of Jerome, has started moving in men and equipment to begin construction of the $5 million facility.

The facility will occupy 300,000 square feet on 88 acres of land and employ 450 people at the beginning, with plans for 900 employees in the future.

Although some construction work started this week, full construction will get underway following ground breaking ceremonies at 10 a.m. Wednesday at the site just south of the Jerome City limits on State Highway 79.

The public is invited to the ceremonies. John R. Ainsley, president of Tupperware International; Robert A. Bussiere, Jerome plant manager, and James G. Hagen, vice president of international relations, will attend the ceremonies.

The public also is invited to a coffee hour sponsored by the Jerome Chamber of Commerce at 11 a.m. followed by a no-host luncheon at Wood Cafe in Jerome.

Hagen said there will be a special display of Tupperware products at the restaurant.

They will be types which the company will manufacture at the Jerome facility. He said when the plant is completed, it will help serve increasing consumer demands for the company's food storage, serving containers and toys, and will better serve distributors in the western states.

A dinner is being held tonight at the Blue Lakes Country Club by Tupperware officials with public officials, community leaders and the press as guests.

About 70 people are expected to attend.

Shoshone Fire burns trustees at Salmon

SALMON — A 300-acre forest fire is currently burning out of control in the Salmon National Forest about 35 miles northwest of Salmon, according to district fire dispatcher Gordon Daniels.

Daniels said he could not predict when the fire would be brought under control. He said it was the first major fire this year in the Salmon National Forest. The blaze centers in the rocky and steep terrain of the Owl Creek area.

The fire started about 4:30 p.m. Monday, and Daniels said it was "apparently man caused." Two air tankers and about 130 forest service men are battling the blaze.

The campaign for county

Board hears vote choice

BY DAVID ESPO Times-News Writer

BURLEY — Cassia County School Superintendent Harold Blauer told the Burley Chamber of Commerce Monday of options facing the school trustees in their effort to present a school bond issue to county voters this year.

Blauer presented the businessmen with cost estimates prepared by the Salt Lake City architectural firm of Richardson & Richardson.

He said improvement of several existing schools for elementary and junior high schools and the construction of a new county wide high school in Burley would range in the neighborhood of $3 million.

A citizens group which claimed to represent people from Burley, Oakley and Declo presented Blauer with petitions carrying 500 names at last week's trustees meeting, calling for the consideration of the proposed high school.

Architectural estimates for the new high school, Blauer said, ran to $2,250,000, with a fixed seat auditorium costing an additional $500,000.

The discussions now going on,

His wife Martina is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hanson, Wendell.

CONSTRUCTION crews have begun grading between Wendell and Tuttle for the next leg of Interstate 80N through that area of the Magic Valley. Here a driller prepares holes for blasting in a rocky stretch along the present Highway 25. Some grading and bridge work is now in progress.

Hailey OK's pay hike

BY TERRY CAMPBELL Times-News Writer

HAILEY — City Council members Monday might establish a three per cent annual pay increase for city employees, effective Jan. 1, 1972, depending on the price freeze.

Council members will receive a $5 expense allowance increase for each special meeting.

Mayor Lawrence Hengel said after the meeting he had requested the pay increase because city employees had not received an annual pay raise in over a year.

In other action a representative from the Foulger Equipment Co. Boise, discussed a tractor shovel which the council is considering for snow removal. The representative said the machine with wing and plow would cost the city about $40,000.

Jerry Smith, first assistant fire chief, Hailey, proposed a reciprocal agreement with the Ketchum Fire Department to lend one fire truck if needed for fire emergency. The council asked Smith to check with the insurance company to determine what additional money is needed to cover the truck if it leaves the city.

Councilman Neal Nyblad said the ordinance requiring nine-foot sidewalks in Hailey should either be clarified or changed.

He said the majority of merchants on both sides of the block between Bullion and Crox Streets want 12 foot sidewalks. Nyblad said the walks should be a uniform width for snow removal.

Hailey Chief of Police Roy Evans requested a car impoundment lot be established in the old city park on Bullion Street. The land is currently being leased by Idaho Power Co. from the state.

The way to offset the increased assessed valuation, the candidate said, is to lower the mill-levy. The present Rupert levy is now lower than it was in 1964, Newman said, the year he assumed office.

Newman is one of six candidates vying for the two expiring terms on the city council. Other candidates include incumbent Charles Dnlry, William Strasser, Ilene Benward, John Hilling and Clark Cameron.

Tractor fire vanishes in Jerome

JEROME — The Jerome Rural Fire Department was called out Monday to a tractor fire four miles east and a half south that wasn't there.

According to Lynn Brigham, fire chief, a call came into the fire station around 4:45 p.m. from a very excited man, who said his tractor was on fire and gave the location. The Jerome rural firemen responded to the call and made a search of the area. They were unable to locate a tractor on fire or even a tractor.

Fifteen minutes later the man called back to say the fire had burned itself out. He said he had made a mistake and thought he had called the Wendell Fire Department.

Jerome tot class requested

BY CHARLOTTE BELL Times-News Writer

JEROME — Mrs. Marvin McClure, Jerome, spokeswoman for a delegation of young Jerome parents, asked Jerome School District trustees Monday night to apply for a kindergarten slot.

District 201 did not apply for a teacher position when slots were announced earlier this fall. Mrs. McClure listed numerous reasons why a public kindergarten should be started in the Jerome area. She said a head start program is not available; the private kindergartens are full, and many parents cannot afford the costs of private kindergartens even if there was room.

She said many parents are willing to provide transportation for the children and volunteers could be used as teacher aides. She told the board the Rev. William Barrett of the United Presbyterian Church has offered the basement of his church for kindergarten classes if space is needed.

She said if the school district does not show interest in starting kindergarten this year, legislators may feel, due to the lack of concern, public kindergartens are not wanted and money will not be appropriated for them.

Supt. John Campbell told the delegation while school officials are not opposed to kindergarten, the district does not have space or money for such a program at this time. He said he is strongly opposed to volunteer help.

"I don't think it has a place in the school system and a kindergarten should be totally a part of a school system. We should not go into this type of project on a half-way basis," Campbell said.

"We are at this time finding it difficult to take care of the 19 years of schooling we presently have and to add one more year of schooling would make it worse. I am more concerned with the problems of first, second and third grades and feel lowering of the number of students in each class should presently be our first concern," he said.

Dale Vining, chairman of the board, said "The majority of the board is in favor of more education if someone can find the money and I think this is going to have to be up to the legislature next year. I personally feel the district cannot afford a kindergarten at this time."

Gordon Hollifield, vice chairman, told delegates he has always been opposed to a kindergarten program beginning four years ago with the Head Start program. He said his principal objections are there are no grades given and there is no chance for failure under the kindergarten system.

He said, "This is something we have to live with all of our lives. I don't believe isolation from failure will work. I think our money would be better spent in trying to upgrade our present teaching system and I personally feel the governor is using the federal money for kindergarten teachers to fulfill a campaign promise."

After discussion, trustees tabled action on the kindergarten request.

Campbell told the board the high school band will provide music from 9:30 to 10 a.m. Wednesday at the groundbreaking ceremony at the Tupperware site south of Jerome and will begin the ceremony with the playing of the National Anthem. He said student body officers will be present and invited trustees to attend.

In other action the board approved application for matching funds under Title 2 for library money to cover half of the $4,010.80 program for this year.

Under Title 3, performing arts, the board approved spending $9,890 with half of this being reimbursed. Under the program the district will spend $3,210 for remodeling including a seven foot carpeted extension to the stage, install ducts for a blowing system, more lighting for the stage and wiring for the increased electrical load, all in the newly remodeled auditorium of the junior high school.

Board members agreed to meet Monday night with a representative of the Bank of Idaho to hear proposals for providing fiscal agent services for a bond election to be held this fall to finance a new elementary school. They have heard proposals from two other Jerome banks.

Jobless rate rises in UK that it is taking so long for the measures to work. They say indications are that it may be months before the tax cuts show appreciable effects in public demand and have a real impact on unemployment.

LONDON (UPI) — Britain's jobless total, like that in the United States, is moving appreciably upward. It is edging close to the one million mark—highest in more than 30 years—and has become a grave political liability for the Conservative party government. Figures for mid-September showed the total had reached 929,121, or 3.6 per cent of the nation's work force. Employment Secretary Robert Carr described it as "very serious." British newspapers said it had reached crisis point. The Daily Telegraph's Gallup

Opinion Poll showed the opposition Labor party has tripled its lead over the governing Conservatives and now is running 19 per cent ahead of them in popular favor. The Daily Telegraph said soaring unemployment, coupled with mounting bloodshed in Northern Ireland, is the chief reason for popular discontent with the government. The Trades Union Congress (TUC), which represents more than 10 million British workers, has announced demonstrations against unemployment in 10 major cities in the next two months. Union leaders said they might fall a one-day national protest strike. What particularly worries the government is that "hard core" unemployment—those out of work for six months or more—continues to rise and job vacancies continue to drop. Except for May and June this year, the jobless total has been rising every month without halt. It did so even during the summer, when it usually falls sharply. In a bid to get the country's sluggish economy moving again, the government last April and again in July announced a package of tax cuts and other measures worth the equivalent of $2.7 billion to help industry. Chancellor of the Exchequer Anthony Barber expressed hope it would help prime stagnant economic pumps, boost demand and hit both unemployment and inflation. Now, however, officials are expressing growing concern. Plant now, Pluck later. Dutch bulbs are sure to bloom! GLOBE SEED & FEED TWIN FALLS

Police official sees problem with arrests

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) — Connecticut's new state police commissioner is a man who believes law enforcement needs to be mixed with a little more discretion and understanding by police officers. A veteran of 25 years with the state police department, Commissioner Cleveland B. Fuessenich, 52, tells his troopers it isn't necessary to make an instant arrest the moment there's an infraction of the law. He wants them to adopt the attitude of the "old time cop on the beat." Years ago, Fuessenich explained, the copy on the beat knew the people of his area, was familiar with their problems and often decided on the spot whether an arrest should be made. "He used his own discretion," the commissioner said. "This program boils down to the same thing. We want the troopers to use their own discretion and take whatever action they think is best. They will have more responsibility. They will have to make decisions." There has been controversy over the commissioner's methods, and some hostility, possibly because his predecessor for 12 years, Leo J. Mulcahy, had gained a reputation as a tough cop who advocated a policy of strict law enforcement. Fuessenich says his way does not mean a slackening of law enforcement. "We're not becoming softies," he said. "The law will be enforced. We are going to find the causes of the violation rather than just punish the person. We will evaluate each case and see what the causes are. Arrests won't just be automatic." "The new commissioner let it be known at the time of his appointment in March, that he did not necessarily share Mulcahy's views and that changes would be forthcoming. "I do feel strongly that the state police must reflect very clearly my philosophy and my approach to law enforcement if I am to meet the heavy responsibility which has been placed on my shoulders," Fuessenich said. The commissioner said the new arrest policy has caused some misunderstanding among his men because they have been trained for so long to automatically arrest all lawbreakers. He said the general reaction among the troopers has been "very good" but added that it will take considerable retraining to make the policy work. "We have to instruct the officers what discretion is and show them why an arrest should only be made if they believe it is absolutely necessary. We must clarify our position." Fuessenich plans a major retraining program that will involve not only the state police but, he hopes, local police as well. He sees the program as a seminar-type that will feature representatives of the court system.

GM gives findings on faulty engine mounts

DETROIT (UPI) — General Motors Corp. has submitted to the government results of an investigation into possible faulty engine mounts and frames on 1968-69 Chevrolet vehicles. GM confirmed Sunday that it had investigated reports of the possible defects after having been notified by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA). A GM spokesman said the automaker was aware of complaints of rusting frames and engine mount failures on 1968-69 Chevrolet model vehicles. However, he said there was no way of telling how many vehicles were involved. The entire mount problems found in the vehicles could lead to the "possibility of the throttle sticking or fuel-line breakage" if the engine shifted during usage, he said. When the mounts break, the accelerator can be stuck wide open and the power brake system can fail. Last week, NHTSA head Douglas W. Tom's said his office began investigating engine mount failures as a result of reports from Ralph Nader, who mentioned a dozen letters of complaints he received from persons around the country who had experienced mount breakage on their cars. Tom's said the investigation so far indicated "that in over one-half of the cases when the engine mounts failed, the engine ran wide open." "The average person finds it very difficult to brake a car under this condition," he said. "The best thing to do, besides putting on the brakes, is to turn off the ignition and try to get it out of gear."

Receives medals

U. S. AIR FORCE Major Dale E. Cartee (right) is presented the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal at Dyess AFB, Tex. by Colonel Robert D. Gregg, 96th Strategic Aerospace Wing deputy commander for operations.

Major awarded medals

Buhl — U. S. Air Force Major Dale E. Cartee, son of Mrs. Bertha Cartee, Buhl, has received the Distinguished Flying Cross (DFC) and eight awards of the Air Medal for aerial achievement in Southeast Asia.

Major Cartee distinguished himself as an AC-119 Gunship pilot. In earning the DFC, he located and destroyed several enemy trucks while on a mission over enemy communications lines.

His Air Medals — he now holds 10 — were for outstanding airmanship and courage on successful and important missions completed under hazardous conditions.

The major was presented the medals during ceremonies at Dyess AFB, Tex., where he now serves as a B-52 Stratofortress heavy bomber navigator in a unit of the Strategic Air Command.

The 16-year Air Force veteran holds the aeronautical rating of senior navigator.

A 1951 graduate of Buhl High School, Major Cartee received a bachelor of science degree in 1955 from the University of Idaho, where he was commissioned through the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps program. He earned his master of science degree in 1969 of San Diego (Calif.) State College and is a member of Alpha Zeta and Sigma Iota Epsilon.

The major's wife, Helen, is the daughter of Mrs. Irma G. Dodsworth, Bowle, Tex.

BURLEY — Autumn, regardless of choice, is rapidly approaching. Harvest is well along in some crops while others are close behind. In most cases, crop and crop rotations have already been decided for the coming year.

Full tillage practices will start soon with operating capital already budgeted for these operations. Hopefully, weed control has been included in the fall program. Now is the time to begin complete weed control program with the end result being realized in higher and cleaner yields for the year 1972.

Farming and ranching, as it is known today no longer consists of ground preparation, planting, cultivating and harvesting, but also includes a vast number of technological practices and managerial responsibilities. Somewhere within this framework of farm "know how" must be included a practice called "weed control." And, should only this one item be eliminated or relaxed, it will immediately or eventually have a direct effect on the net return. Weed control, per se, would not present the problem of today. The plants remained isolated to only those farms where control measures were overlooked or ignored. This, however, is not to be as weeds are not respecters of localities and unfortunately tend to expand their domains to non-infested areas. Therefore, it can be safely concluded that everyone must get into the act in weed control.

The cost of a good weed control program is never too high regardless of situation. Any loan institution that approves an operating budget even on a marginal profit operation would agree to a set program for weed control where net returns would be increased over costs. Consider a loss of income of 16 per cent to 80 per cent in cereal grains alone.

These figures are test figures compiled over several years of research. Through the use of a rigid program using cultivation, crop rotations and chemical application, the cost of this one operational expense can be reduced to that of a minor fixed cost. Should output versus input be considered the economic gain would exceed other budgeted items.

The possibilities of a cost-share program with the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) remain somewhat questionable for the coming year. Requests have been accepted by the ASCS office on a cost-sharing basis whereby 30 per cent of the total cost of noxious weed control would be covered up to a maximum of $400 by the ASCS. Hopefully, this or a similar program will continue in effect for 1972.

When crops have been barbed and a regrowth of noxious weeds is prevented, a timely chemical application would be in order. First, irrigate field, second, allow maximum regrowth of plant, third, apply chemical, fourth, allow time for translocation of chemical, and fifth, continue fall farming practices. Include ditch banks, fallow ground and waste areas in this program.

DALLAS (UPI)—Craig Morton's 48-yard scoring bomb to Bob Hayes sealed a 20-13 Dallas Cowboys victory over the New York Giants Monday night in a nationally televised National Football League game marred by an overabundance of turnovers and penalties. Roger Staubach guided the

Bloodletting opens in Big Eight race

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—The first of the Big Eight's three contenders to a national championship will be eliminated this week when No. 6 Colorado invades No. 2 Oklahoma. And the game will have all concerned Big Eight eyes on it. Nebraska Coach Bob Devaney, whose unbeaten Cornhuskers have been ranked No. 1 all season, said Monday, "I'll be honest about it, we're certainly aware of those two and the unusual strength they've shown. It should be a heckuva game. I guess Oklahoma will have a slight edge being at home, but the only thing we're thinking about is our game with Kansas."

Kansas State Coach Vince Gibson said what most Oklahoma fans must be thinking. "The thing I don't know about is Oklahoma's defense," said Gibson. "It looks like if a team could shut down Oklahoma's offense, it might have a chance to beat them."

And Kansas Coach Don Fambrough added, "Boy, we've created such a monster here in the Big Eight, it's unbelievable. Darrell Royal of Texas said Oklahoma was the fastest football team he's ever seen. Coming from him, that's something. It's just unbelievable to me that a team can beat

76ers suspend W. Jones

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The Philadelphia 76ers of the National Basketball Association suspended veteran Wally Jones Monday night because he has not accepted the salary terms of their final contract offer. The suspension was announced two hours before the midnight deadline for reduction of the team roster to 12 players. The 76ers, who open their season Tuesday in Chicago, made the player limit also by asking waivers on guard Marv Watson, their No. 2 draft choice from Nebraska.

Jones, the first 76ers player ever to remain a holdout as the season opened, rejected the latest offer made Monday night by General Manager, Don DeJardin. A club spokesman said the next move is up to Jones and that his alternatives are to accept the offer, play out his option or refuse to play. Jones also faced a minimum of $2,800 in fines levied at the rate of $100 a day since training camp opened four weeks ago. The 76ers were understood to be working on a deal to trade Jones but no other team was willing to accept his salary terms.

Coach rips fans for booing

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI)—Texas Tech football coach Jim Carlen Monday rapped his own fans for booing senior quarterback Chirles Napper during Saturday's 28-7 win over Texas A&M. "If you want to boo me, that's one thing. But leave my kids alone," Carlen said. "I'm the one who went into the dressing room and saw one kid in the corner crying his heart out."

Before Texas Tech scored its first touchdown against the Aggies, Carlen sent in sophomore quarterback Joe Barnes after the Red Raiders recovered a fumble at the Texas A&M six yard line. Barnes rolled left to the one, then Carlen sent in Napper. Texas Tech fans booed. Napper was stopped for no gain and Carlen sent in Barnes. The fans cheered. Barnes then threw for a touchdown.

Southern Cal and Texas and throw only three passes. I never heard of such a thing." Colorado (5-0) was ultra-impressive in non-conference victories over Louisiana State, Wyoming and Ohio State, but has had trouble the last two weeks in turning back Kansas State (31-21) and Iowa State (24-14). As yet, no one has come close to stopping the Sooners' Wishbone-T offense. Oklahoma is averaging 41.5 points per game.

"It could be a real high-scoring game," said Colorado's Eddie Crowder. "I'd guess Oklahoma is leading the world in points scored per game." Crowder added, "I think Oklahoma has got to be favored. Their advantages are 1, playing at home; 2, Greg Pruitt, he's averaging a first down (10.6 yards) every time he carries the ball, and 3, they've got more depth. Also, I think Oklahoma has more overall team speed."

Oklahoma Coach Chuck Fairbanks, asked about Colorado's triple-option offense, said, "I'm much more concerned about Colorado's players than the triple-option. They're executing well and running hard. We've had a tough non-conference schedule, but what we're looking at ahead of us doesn't look very easy to me."

"I said all along that the key to our season would be maintaining a certain level week after week. There's a lot of electricity down here Saturday. I'd think one of our players would have to be dead or something if he can't rise to the challenge we are facing this week."

Iowa State Coach Johnny Majors said a mouthful when he tried to analyze the game. "I would have to think the team that plays the best defense will win," he said. "Colorado has a good football team. I would say Colorado has a better football team than either one of the last two teams (Southern Cal and Texas) Oklahoma has played."

Ali called 'pathetic clown'

ROME (UPI)—The Communist Party newspaper L'Unita said Monday former world heavyweight boxing champion Muhammad Ali was an "amusing but pathetic clown." It said his exhibition appearance Saturday night in Genoa was farcical and indecent and even people who laughed at his clowning went away with "a bitter taste" in their mouth about the whole sport.

All, also known as Cassius Clay, boxed six rounds against three men and clowning with such stunts as feigning a knockout and swapping punches with two men at the same time. Boxing sources said he was paid $6,000, but L'Unita was not as upset about his pay as his performance. "He should go around the world to publicize and ennoble the sport," the newspaper said. "But too often he has humiliated it with indecent spectacles. An amusing but pathetic clown."

But the former champion had his defenders. The newspaper Stampa Sera said the reason All did not act serious was because he did not want to face prosecution for manslaughter. "If he had been serious," the paper said, "he would probably have killed one or more men."

Filer bows to Twin Falls

FILER — Twin Falls defeated Filer by identical 15-6 scores Monday night in girls volleyball action. It marked the second defeat for Filer which fell before Jerome 15-12 and 15-7 last week.

Cowboys to a 13-6 halftime lead with a four-yard touchdown pass to Billy Truax to go with 43 and 41-yard field goals by Mike Clark. But the Cowboys' offense was so ragged Coach Tom Landry switched to Morton in the last half. He got the pullaway touchdown pass to Hayes out of Morton, but nothing seemed to cure the home club's turnover tendencies as the Cowboys lost five fumbles and an interception to the Giants' five lost fumbles.

The Giants could manage only 35 and 20-yard field goals by Pete Gogolak in the first half as they also blew two excellent scoring opportunities by fumbling the ball away to spill good drives.

The victory gave the Cowboys undisputed second place in the National east with a 3-1 record behind the unbeaten Washington Redskins and dropped the Giants to 2-2.

The Giants finally put together a complete drive in the final minutes and got a touchdown on a 24-yard pass from Fran Tarkenton to Clifton McNeil with 1:16 left in the game, but it was too late.

Tarkenton had considerable success with his short passing game, hitting 25 of 45 attempts for 289 yards. But Joe Morrison fumbled away one big threat at the 10-yard line and Bobby Duhan blew another the same way at the 14-yard line.

The Cowboys also blew great opportunities. Danny Reece once getting away on a 2-yard run inside the New York five only to fumble it away to Spider Lockhart at the one.

The Giants set their turnover pattern by fumbling the first two times they touched the ball

Texas has little left for Hogs

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Texas Coach Darrell Royal, whose Longhorns took a physical beating from Oklahoma, said Monday his team will limp its way to Little Rock Saturday to meet Arkansas "and just do the best we can with what we have left."

Texas lost 48-27 to the Sooners in the Cotton Bowl and the Longhorns were devastated with injuries.

"I'm not going to answer any more questions about injuries this week," an irritable Royal told his regular Monday news conference. "I was practically driven nuts last week on an hour-to-hour basis by questions on whether Eddie Phillips would play. I don't know now, I don't know Friday and I won't know at noon Saturday."

The game with Arkansas likely will decide the Southwest Conference champion and the host team for the Cotton Bowl game New Year's Day. Royal indicated that neither Phillips nor second string quarterback Donnie Wigginton would be ready for Arkansas. In that event, he will start sophomore quarterback Rob Riviere with sophomore Mike McCulloch as the backup man. "How do you get a team ready for Arkansas with two quarterbacks that have got a total playing time of two minutes?" Royal asked. There was no answer.

Big Eight dominates UPI grid ratings

NEW YORK (UPI)—The United States International major college football ratings are fast becoming a showcase for the Big Eight Conference. Nebraska again emerged No. 1 in the fifth week of voting by the 35-member Board of Coaches with 31 first place votes and 345 points, but the Cornhuskers were joined in the first five with fellow Big Eight members Oklahoma and Colorado.

The offense-minded Sooners, coming off last Saturday's stunning 48-27 victory over Texas, leaped from seventh place all the way up to No. 2 as they picked up three first place votes and 285 points. Michigan, which slipped a notch to third after struggling past rival Michigan State 24-13, got the remaining first place vote and 281 points. Alabama, an easy 42-0 winner over Vanderbilt, retained the fourth spot, but Colorado, which tied with Oklahoma at No. 7 last week, made it three out of the top five for the Big Eight by edging past sixth place Notre-Dame by two points, 172-170.

Following the sixth-ranked Irish, was Auburn, a 27-14 victor over stubborn Southern Mississippi while Georgia, the third Southeastern Conference club to make the top 10, was eighth after sweeping to its fifth straight win, 38-7 over Mississippi. Penn State, improving two places, grabbed the No. 9 spot after crushing Army 42-0 for its fourth straight victory and Texas, which fell from third after the loss to Oklahoma, closed out the top 10. Arizona State, which coasted to its fourth straight win of the season—42-0, "jumped" three notches to No. 11 and LSU, another easy winner (48-7 over Florida), improved four places to No. 12. Stanford got back in the top teams with its impressive 17-6

"Yes," said Charley. "I also know the straight mathematical odds were 4-3 in favor of your bidding the queen... but I have watched you in action for several hands and you are good enough to have discarded a heart at your first chance should you really be sitting with the queen. Of course, had you thought I was anything but an old man playing out of his depth, you might have double-crossed me."

East smiled sheepishly. "Have you ever played in this event before?"

"Yes," said Charley. "I won it four times before you were born."

COFFEE definitely sharpens up your ability to distinguish colors. Liquor, however, dulls your color perception. Or so U.S. Air Force studies indicate... HOW LONG an apple lasts in storage depends somewhat on how it's picked, I'm told. Apples without stems go bad more quickly.

WHO invented the lawnmower? Credit an English textile worker named Edwin Budding. He got the notion from a little machine designed to put the pile on cloth. That was 140 years ago. Mr. Budding did not want his compatriots to know what he was up to. So he never took his tricky device out to mow his yard until after dark. Historical records show his neighbors thought him exceedingly weird.

TO BE ATTRACTIVE to a man, a young lady needs to do four things: 1. Look alive. 2. Forget about bashfulness. 3. Be responsive. 4. Ignore her faults. Such is the claim of a widely known Love and War expert. Interesting. But this authority leaves out the most important item. To be truly attractive to a man, a woman must be attracted to said man, don't forget that.

This means a six-footer is supposed to weigh 168 pounds, to be perfect. Believe most of us six-footers are more than perfect.

Solon checks report letter withheld

DETROIT (UPI) — A Michigan congressman plans to seek an investigation into a report by the family of a released prisoner of war Sgt. John C. Sexton Jr., that the Pentagon withheld for two years a letter written by Sexton.

Rep. Lucien N. Nedzi, a member of the House Armed Services Committee, revealed his plans Monday, saying "there appears to have been extreme callousness on the part of the Pentagon." Sexton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sexton Sr., of Warren, Mich., went to Denver Monday where they plan to see their son for the first time in three years.

Before leaving, the elder Sexton said his son wrote a letter seven days after he was captured by the North Vietnamese saying he was not dead "like everyone probably thinks" but the letter was held by the Army for two years. The father said he would like to know why the letter was held up that long with the family not knowing whether the 22-year-old Army sergeant was alive or dead.

However, a Pentagon spokesman said Monday that Sexton's parents were told of the general contents of the letter, but did not receive a copy of the note which remained in Vietnam. He said the Pentagon planned to ask the Army for further clarification as to how the family was told, specifically what was told and when.

The spokesman said that until clarification is received from the Army, the Pentagon would continue to stand behind its statement that the family was told two years ago.

two years because they were uncertain of the note's authenticity. A handwriting analysis was then begun, officials said, and was completed last Tuesday, when it was confirmed that Sexton was the writer.

Nedzi, a Detroit Democrat, said Monday he "could not conceive of any valid reason for the Pentagon handling the matter this way."

Ex-PW begins flight to States

By KENNETH J. BRADDICK SAIGON (UPI) — A 23-year-old Army sergeant freed after two years in Communist captivity left for the United States today "anxious to get home."

S. Sgt. John C. Sexton Jr., Warren, Mich., was flown in an olive-drab military medical evacuation chopper from a hospital where he has been under treatment since Friday to the airport. In a stretcher, he was put aboard a starliner jet for the long flight from Saigon to Denver, with a brief stop at Travis AFB, Calif.

"It's great to be back," Sexton told a crowd of newsmen at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Air Base.

"I'm anxious to get home. I don't have anything else to say."

News photographers jostled to get pictures of Sexton, who is the 24th American prisoner released by the Communists in the Indochina War.

Sexton starts flight home close-cropped, his right eye inflamed and a small scar was visible on his chin. The injuries, apparently were caused by shell fragments when his armored personnel carrier was ambushed Aug. 12, 1969, about 60 miles north of Saigon. He was captured by the Viet Cong and, he has reported, apparently moved across into neighboring Cambodia where he remained in captivity. Sexton walked into a South Vietnamese post Friday at Lac Ninh, about 70 miles north of Saigon, about 10 miles from where he was captured and five miles from the Cambodian frontier.

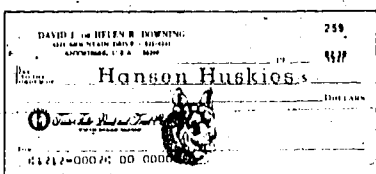

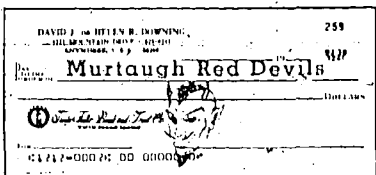

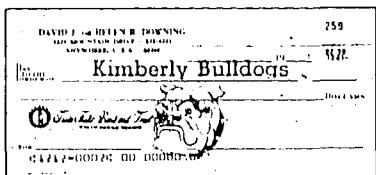

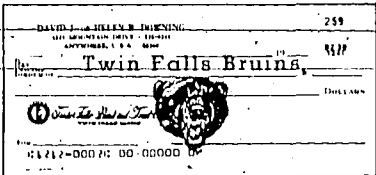

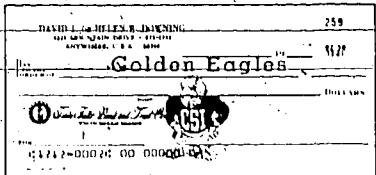

A faded picture of the soldier was attached to the letter. The elder Sexton said there was a notation in Vietnamese which confirmed that his son was a prisoner and was being treated well.

"Whoever receives this letter, tell everyone I said hello, especially Marvin, Harter and Rossback (Army buddies). This is no hoax letter, so take care of yourself and maybe someday you can all go home alive. Your friend, John Sexton Jr."

The elder Sexton and his wife first saw the letter last month when they went to Washington to examine their son's file. Sexton said he and his wife saw an Army major who "pulled this letter out of this folder and we went after it. There was no doubt in our mind that it was written by John."

A faded picture of the soldier was attached to the letter. The elder Sexton said there was a notation in Vietnamese which confirmed that his son was a prisoner and was being treated well.
