AUTUMN'S ARRIVAL in the Wood River Valley has produced golden leaves on trees along Highway 93, and early snow has placed a white cover atop higher peaks in the region. The area's natural beauty is in a period of transition from the greens of summer to the gold and white of autumn, before the white and dark tones of winter dominate the view.

Panel proposes ILS work start

TWIN FALLS — Members of the city-county airport commission Tuesday recommended that engineering work enabling installation of an instrument landing system, ILS, and recovering of the taxiways and ramp start at once.

The two projects, both planned for 1972 and both approved by the federal government through the FAA, will be funded for the most part with federal funds.

Installation of the ILS system was only recently recommended by the FAA and work will start next June. The system will enable planes to land at the local field when the ceiling is only 200 feet and the visibility one-quarter of a mile. This capability will place Twin Falls in the "instrument landing" category now in effect at such fields as Seattle, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

The recommendation, asking that the firm of Hiedesel and Straubler be retained for the engineering details, will be considered by members of the city council and the county commissioners.

At the airport board meeting Tuesday, City Manager Jean Milar reported $100,000 from the Idaho Department of Aeronautics and approximately $120,000 from the FAA had not yet been received to complete payment for the new main runway at the field. He said, however, that this amount is expected to be available to complete payment to the contractor by Oct. 20.

The city manager also said preliminary study on land purchase relative to construction of the ILS system was favorable. Milar, County Commissioner Heber Laughmiller and Airport Commission Chairman O.A. (Gus) Kelker are members of the special committee interviewing land owners.

Military rite Thursday for ex-Marine chief

CHRISTCHURCH, Va. (UPI) — The nation's most decorated Marine, Lt. Gen. Lewis B. "Chesty" Puller, will be buried with full military honors Thursday in this tiny eastern Virginia town.

The body of the veteran campaigner, who died of pneumonia Monday night at the age of 73, will lie in state in the nave of Christ Episcopal Church for 24 hours prior to services at noon Thursday. Four Marines will stand guard over the casket.

"All of us bow our heads in respect, admiration and sadness at the loss of this fellow Marine," said Gen. Leonard F. Chapman Jr., commander of the Marine Corps.

"He was a professional and he was tough—not callous, not brutal, but really tough. He spent 37 years in the Marines, rising from private to lieutenant general and amassing a tangled mass of 56 medals that he kept stashed in a cigar box.

Among those were five Navy Crosses, the Army's Distinguished Service Medal, and the Air Medal and two stars.

He fought in both world wars, the Korean conflict, and dozens of so-called "banana" wars that occurred between World Wars I and II.

Puller's flag draped coffin will be drawn by caisson from the 305-year-old brick church to its nearby cemetery.

Air rescue rule seen in '73

TWIN FALLS — William L. (Bill) Chancey, chairman of the Twin Falls County commission, said today there is every reason to believe forced certification of fire and rescue equipment at airports such as Twin Falls will not come until 1973.

By that time, he said, federal airport development funds should be available for the entire expense.

Chancey said he has received a letter from Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, in which a letter from Sen. Russell Long, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, was enclosed.

Senator Long wrote that Senate Bill 1437, which would provide for funding by the federal government, was looked on favorably by the Senate Commerce Committee, and the full Senate is expected to act within the next few weeks. Request for extension of the "due" date from 1972 to 1973 will be taken care of on the Senate floor, Senator Long wrote.

The upgrading of rescue and fire equipment plans brought sharp criticism from airport spokesmen who claim the cost was prohibitive. In the case of Twin Falls, it would have represented an expense of several hundred thousands dollars, in addition to manning the project, he said.

"Senator Long wrote that under the bill the money would come from Public Law 91-256 and would insure that taxes now collected from private plane owners in the form of assessments on each plane and a special gasoline tax of eight cents a gallon go to airport use," Chancey said.

"This will mean that this money, which is collected from private fliers like those using the Twin Falls City-County Airport, would be used for upgrading of the fire and rescue facilities and would cost the city and county taxpayers nothing."

County commissioners, the city council and the airport commission had all written Senator Church and Sen. Len B. Jordan, R-Idaho, urging they support the legislation. Both indicated they would do so when it came to a vote.

Parents of Harrison pupils seek changes

TWIN FALLS — A safety committee to study changes in pedestrian traffic by Harrison Elementary School pupils was appointed at a PTA meeting this week.

Frances Anderson, principal at the school, said a discussion about the problem evolved at the meeting and that all parents voicing opinions believe the situation should be improved.

Members of the committee who plan to talk to Jean Milar, city manager and members of the city council about the problem are Joseph Marshall, Jr., chairman, Mrs. Billie Spencer, Mrs. Dorothy Miller and Bill Lay, all parents of Harrison School pupils.

She said except for a small portion of Filer Avenue, the area from which Harrison School pupils are drawn is almost devoid of sidewalks.

She said the youngsters walk along the side of the road and have worn paths in the grass. But, she said, when weather is bad and the paths become muddy, the children take to the edge of the street.

She said the parents feel this is a dangerous situation and hope to get something done to establish a safe pedestrian traffic route in the area.

"They all have children walking to school, so it really hit home to them," Miss Anderson said.

Signup campaign pressed

TWIN FALLS — High school students throughout Twin Falls County are registering for the county, state and national elections this week.

The voter registration campaign is being carried on through the efforts of the League of Women Voters of Twin Falls.

Students at Buhl, Castleford and Hansen were registered on Monday. On Tuesday, league volunteers talked to the government classes at Murtaugh. Today, students at Kimberly were registered.

Twin Falls High School students will be registered on Thursday in an all-day effort. Filer students will be registered on Monday.

The registration program, under the direction of Mrs. Laird Noh and Mrs. Charles Wagner, will allow the 18-year olds to vote in the Oct. 28 election.

The league also urges all voters to return their new registration cards that they received recently from the county clerk's office.

Man held on damage charges

TWIN FALLS — Vern Jay Climer Jr., Twin Falls, was in custody today, charged with destruction of city property after allegedly breaking a window and mirror in the police station Tuesday night.

Officers said Climer came to the police station and asked for a gun, then asked to be locked up. When told there was no charge against him, broke a glass panel near the desk sergeant's desk. While being booked, police said, he broke the mirror in a medicine cabinet in a back room. Climer was taken to Magic Valley Memorial Hospital for treatment of hand cuts and returned to city custody.

Classes delayed

TWIN FALLS — Head Start classes in Twin Falls will not reopen tomorrow as originally scheduled, according to Norman McIntosh, director of Head Start for Twin Falls, Cassia and Jerome counties.

He said contractors are now in the building assessing damage and beginning repairs which will take from 10 days to two weeks to complete. He said however, emergency repairs will be complete in time for a Monday reopening.

McIntosh said about 200 children are enrolled in the Twin Falls program.

TO: Chu Ping Pi, Political Bureau, Peking SUBJECT: Situation in the United States at present time vis-a-vis Nixon's trip.

1 - There is great confusion here in Washington concerning who is in charge of the American government. President Nixon has been photographed in public and, to prove he was in good health, the capitalist newspapers showed him greeting Emperor Hirohito in Alaska.

"IT IS I, RICHARD MILHOUS NIXON, U.S. MARSHAL!"

2 - The big mystery is what has happened to Vice President Spiro Agnew. He has not been photographed with President Nixon for six months.

3 - Another mystery which has most U.S. watchers confused is that the Supreme Court is now down to seven members.

4 - Walter Hickel, the former secretary of the interior, is no longer under house arrest in Alaska.

5 - One of the reasons for the confusion in Washington is that the United States is in a serious economic condition and a wage-price freeze has been in effect, which has caused a great deal of bitterness among the workers.

Anemia Causes

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What causes anemia? What is the difference between anemia and pernicious anemia, the symptoms and treatment? - D.J.K.

You sound as though you thought there were just two kinds of anemia, ordinary anemia and pernicious anemia. Actually there are more types than that.

In general, all have a common characteristic: lack of sufficient red cells in the blood and/or the iron which the red cells carry.

Principal causes of the anemias are faulty diet (lack of adequate iron and protein); loss of blood, along with the cells in it; some ailment that causes abnormal destruction of red blood cells; some condition that prevents the body from creating enough red cells.

You see, red cells are constantly being destroyed by the body, and replaced with new ones. But when more are destroyed than are replaced, anemia is the result.

I dare say it surprises you to be told that "anemia" is actually a whole lot of diseases - but that's the way it is.

For "ordinary anemia," faulty diet is one of the two commonest causes. Meat and green leafy vegetables provide iron, but iron also can be given in medicinal form.

BERRY'S WORLD

"If you want to hit the big time in professional sports, you've got to have a gimmick, an image, something DIFFERENT. Why don't you come on as a soft-spoken, unassuming modest type?"

PAUL HARVEY We'll Vote

The last years of L.B.J., the world watched the unbecoming spectacle of an American President, lunging about painfully, piteously trying to extract one foot from a bear trap - and he never did.

Our efforts to rescue Laos will cost another $500 million this year. Sen. Stu Symington demands at least a 60 per cent cut in spending for what he calls "this other undeclared and uncontrolled war."

A little jungle country overwhelmed and toppled the President of the United States. President Nixon insists that he is winding down the war, getting us out no matter what. But it begins to appear that we will go to the polls over here before it's over over there.

The United States is training, arming and feeding the Laotian army. The United States Embassy in Vientiane is directing that side-war. Our CIA is spending millions to induce locals to fight, Laotians who would not fight otherwise.

Indeed, popular accounts of differences between Hoover and Sullivan are over-idealized. Although Hoover was unhappy with Sullivan's factually incontestable thesis that the Communist Party, U.S.A. has nothing to do with terrorist groups of the left, the basic criticism of the director for his own agents and top assistants hits the way he runs the agency.

Southern Democrats, Sens. Talmadge and Jordan, Horatofore Hawks, now urge prompt and total withdrawal. The United States went to Vietnam ostensibly to ensure self-determination. The South Vietnamese have had their election. However farcical it was - however Communist-like it was - they had their election.

Contrary to the myth (accepted even by the left) that the FBI is a great law enforcement agency and the director its greatest lawman, the bureau has failed to grow with the times. Hoover has ignored new technology, including the computer. Paranoically suspicious, he relies on yes-men within the bureau and prohibits contacts

After 25 years and 45,000 lives and 135 billion American dollars - they had their "free election."

Now, while President Nixon has Democrats of the stature of Symington and Mansfield and these others trying to "help him out" of this bear trap, why does he not yield to them, share any subsequent credit or blame?

Court to hear school splits

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court agreed Tuesday to look into two cases where school districts were split in two so that in-town white children had an improved numerical advantage over blacks.

The NAACP Legal Defense Fund filed appeals in both cases—from Virginia and North Carolina—after the 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals found the "primary purpose" of the new alignment was not to continue segregation but to improve education. The Justice Department joined IDF in appealing the North Carolina cases.

The two cases will be heard later in the term. The towns are Scotland Neck in Halifax County, N.C., and Emporia, in Greensville County, Va.

Federal district courts refused to go along with the newly created districts but the 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals reversed them on March 23, 1971, on the ground that the "primary purpose" of the new alignment was not to continue segregation.

The 4th Circuit took the opposite view in connection with a split in the Littleton-Lake Gaston district in North Carolina and refused to permit it.

The court of appeals formulated this test in the Emporia case:

"If the creation of a new school district is designed to further the aim of providing quality education and is attended secondarily by a modification of the racial balance, short of resegregation, the federal courts should not interfere.

"If, however, the primary purpose for creating a new school district is to retain as much separation of the races as possible, the state has violated its affirmative constitutional duty to end supported segregation."

The Justice Department said this kind of examination of motives would trap the federal courts "in a quagmire of litigation" and would also "sanction an easy method of evading" Supreme Court school desegregation rulings.

The IDF told the high court Emporia's proposed "superior" educational program for city students would change the black-white ratio in the remaining county schools from 2 to 1 to a ratio of 3 to 1.

In the case of Scotland Neck, the North Carolina legislature voted the change—approved later by town voters in a referendum. The town's children had been educated in the county school system since 1936—racially separated until 1965.

According to the Justice Department, the net result of the change was to reduce the county system from 10,655 to 9,644 students, of whom 17 per cent were white, 82 per cent black and 1 per cent Indian. The Scotland Neck system had 1,011 students, 74 per cent white and 26 per cent black.

Venue change hearing due

IDAHO FALLS (UPI)—Arguments are tentatively scheduled to be heard Thursday on change of venue motions for a man and woman facing three charges each of first degree murder.

Teton County Prosecuting Attorney Harold Forbush said appearances are scheduled before Seventh District Judge Willard Burten at 2 p.m.

Michael Wren Hennage, 28, Sacramento, Calif., and Joyce Diane Turner Frye, 22, Reno, Nev., are charged in connection with the Aug. 28 shooting deaths of three Mexican-American farmworker brothers near Driggs.

They are also charged with two counts each of assault with intent to commit murder in the shootings of a cousin of the victims and of Driggs town Marshal Melvin Jones.

William B. Kennedy, Roxburg, court-appointed attorney for Mrs. Frye, will also argue on his motion to separate the trials.

W. Joe Anderson, Idaho Falls, court-appointed attorney for Hennage, has not asked for separate trials.

Jet pass labeled political

By United Press International

An Israeli military source said today the "very dangerous" flight of two Egyptian MIG23s to within 60 seconds of Tel Aviv was a political rather than military action. The modern jets were believed to have been flown by Soviet aviators.

The two MIG23s, moving at nearly 1,800 miles per hour, came to within 18 miles of the Israeli seashore south of Tel Aviv Sunday in what a government spokesman described as a non-hostile action. Since territorial water and airspace extends only 12 miles from the shore, the planes did not violate Israeli airspace.

It was the first time the MIG23, the most advanced fighter-bomber in the Soviet arsenal, has been reported involved in action on the Israeli side of the Suez Canal. Military sources said the planes are flown only by Soviet pilots.

Norway has an area of 124,556 square miles.

Women save trapped British troops

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—The British Army officially said "thank you" today to two middle-aged women who used an umbrella, stones and their fists to fight off youths attacking an armored vehicle.

The action of the women, who left before giving their names, may have prevented death or serious injury to three soldiers trapped in Londonderry's Roman Catholic Bogside area Monday, an army spokesman said.

The vehicle broke down with a gas blockage during an outbreak of disturbances in the area. It was immediately surrounded by a crowd of about 30 youths who threw stones through the thick glass windows after ripping off the metal grilles.

One of the soldiers inside put a piece of board across the windows, but youths jumped onto the vehicle and tore it away, the spokesman said. They also tied barbed wire around the wheels and poured paint over the outside and attempted to light it, he said.

"Suddenly two women pushed their way to the front of the crowd and physically beat them back with their fists," the spokesman said. "One of them kept shouting, 'You are not Christians. You will kill them.' One of the women flailed away with her umbrella, her handbag slung over her arm. The other picked up stones thrown by the crowd and threw them back.

The women kept up their defense for about 15 minutes, long enough to enable the vehicle's driver to climb out the back and go for help. The mob dispersed and one of the women disappeared, the spokesman said.

Lance bombardier Brian Hall, who, with gunner Michael Clark had locked himself inside the carrier, jumped out and pulled the other woman into the vehicle.

"She did a marvelous job and I was thankful for it," Clark said later. Hall said the women could have saved his life because the stones thrown by the crowd were beginning to get inside the carrier.

Said the army spokesman: "These were courageous women and we would like to say thank you. We don't even know their names."

The incident was one of about half a dozen in Londonderry and Belfast Monday night and today. Army posts in both cities came under sniper attack and bombs damaged a movie theater and British Legion Hall in Londonderry. Several residents living near the Legion Hall were taken to a hospital suffering from shock.

Ex-secretary Acheson dies

(Continued from p. 1) Acheson was born at Middletown, Conn., on April 11, 1893. His English father was Edward Campion Acheson, late Episcopal bishop of Connecticut. His Canadian mother was Eleanor Gertrude Gooderham, member of the Gooderham and Worts whisky distillers. He went to Groton, Yale, and Harvard, where he received his law degree in 1918. He then served two years in the Navy, and worked with a railroad survey gang in Canada, emerging from these experiences as lucid in profanity as in legal Latin. Although rated a liberal, Acheson mixed his liberalism and wealthy background with a distinct touch of realism that cropped up early. When he was 15, he went to the family's summer home. His sister sought to interrupt her brother's rapt reading by announcing: "Dean! The people next door have three carriages, five horses, and a footman." Acheson kept reading. His sister, impatient at being ignored, asked what he would do if he had three carriages, five horses and a footman. "I'd start a lively stable," he replied. Acheson entered government service as undersecretary of the Treasury in May, 1933. Six months later, President Roosevelt announced plans to devalue the dollar through juggling the price of gold. Acheson said the whole scheme was illegal. Mr. Roosevelt fired him through the subtle process of asking for his resignation. He left quietly, in contrast to many employees of the New Deal who belittled loudly and long when they got fired. Ironically, it was Roosevelt who in 1941 induced Acheson to leave his lucrative law practice and return to government as assistant secretary of state. Acheson, displaying the internationalist thinking that was to mark his career, vigorously supported wartime aid to Great Britain and Russia, and helped to write a brief defending Roosevelt's deal whereby he gave Britain 50 destroyers in return for naval bases in the Atlantic. Acheson was promoted to undersecretary of state in 1945. He resigned in 1947. On Jan. 21, 1949, one day after Harry S. Truman was elected president in his own right, Acheson was nominated to be secretary of state. When Acheson took over the huge, cumbersome State Department, the Soviet-American cold war was intense. Russia was blockading Berlin, menacing its neighbor nations and preparing to sponsor war in Korea. The United States was committed to numerous wartime agreements which, signed in good faith, often played into Russia's policy of postwar expansion. In Europe, the Acheson directorate hammered out the North Atlantic Defense Treaty, fashioned the parallel foreign arms program, and pressed economic recovery as an antidote to political instability. In sponsoring a fighting resistance to communism in Korea, Acheson helped to persuade the United Nations for the first time to send at least token forces into battle. This was more than a year in the wake of a State Department white paper on China. The white paper, unparalleled in normal diplomatic practice, was a blockbuster against Nationalist China. It denounced the Nationalist regime of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek for corruption and inefficiency. Chiang later backed off the mainland and set up shop on Formosa. The military losses in Korea, memories of the white paper, and some congressional concern for the Nationalists revived Capitol Hill cries for Acheson's resignation. But on Nov. 8, 1950 election day—Acheson said he had "no intention whatsoever" of resigning. One week later, he said he expected to remain as secretary of state for "further years." Republican gains in the elections of 1950, he said, were not a repudiation of his foreign policy. Acheson lived quietly in an ivy-covered house in the Georgetown section of Washington. On weekends, he went to his farm at Sandy Spring, Md., where he and Mrs. Acheson—the former Alice Stanley of Detroit—sawed wood or puttered in their flower garden. Acheson once demonstrated his loyalty to Truman no less than the president demonstrated his loyalty and respect for Acheson. The day after the November, 1946, elections, Truman returned to Washington from his home at Independence, Mo. The Republicans had captured both houses of Congress, and the way looked dark for the man from Missouri.

Army said recovering

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Gen. William C. Westmoreland said Tuesday that the war put the Army in a "Vietnam straitjacket" that lowered its level of professionalism and delayed development of many important new projects because of lack of money. A former commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam and now Army chief of staff, Westmoreland said the Army, near the end of its role in Indochina, has already begun to overcome the adverse effects of the war. He declared the Army had clearly achieved its objective of preventing a Communist takeover in South Vietnam and had "substantially achieved" its secondary goal of training Saigon government troops. But this was not achieved without a price. Westmoreland told the association of the U.S. Army which is meeting here. "During the last six long years we have devoted the bulk of our efforts and resources to the Vietnam effort while important projects were delayed due to lack of resources to support all requirements," he said. "We were literally forced into a 'Vietnam straitjacket' which restricted our actions in other areas. There is inertia in overcoming certain practices, and certain malpractices, that have crept into our system." Westmoreland said fighting the Vietnam War without calling up the reserves, with high personnel turnover rates and with a rapid expansion that placed responsibility on inexperienced leaders "has had an adverse effect on (the Army's) professionalism." Westmoreland said the Army has begun a major effort to rehabilitate itself. This includes improving the inspector general and military justice system, removing soldiers from non-military duties, improving leadership through more careful selection of commanders and getting rid of officers and sergeants "who are marginal performers," he said. "Problems must be identified, causes isolated and solutions aggressively sought. This effort is well under way. I doubt if many institutions have engaged in more intensive, searching introspection," Westmoreland said.

'Robot' ruled guilty

Watson

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Charles "Tex" Watson, the "robot killer" for cult leader Charles Manson, was found guilty Tuesday of first degree murder in the final trial for the Sharon Tate murders. Manson and three of his female followers were sentenced to death in the gas chamber after they were convicted of the seven savage killings at an earlier trial. At Watson's trial, a jury of six men and six women rejected the defense contention that Watson was not morally responsible for his actions. The first degree murder conviction meant that Watson must undergo a "penalty" phase trial to determine whether he, too, will be sentenced to death or will get life imprisonment. Watson, dressed in a dark blue blazer and pale blue shirt, sat motionless in his chair at the defense table as the clerk of the court read the verdict finding him guilty of all seven murders. In contrast to the trial of Manson and the three women in which "family" members struggled to get into the courtroom, not a single member of the commune was present when Watson was convicted of the deaths of Miss Tate, Abigail Folger, Jay Sebring, Volky Frykowski, Steven Parent, Leno LaBianca, and Mrs. Rosemary LaBianca. Minutes after the verdict, Deputy District Attorney Vincent F. Bugliosi, who prosecuted the first trial, was asked for his reaction. "This is the final chapter of the Tate-LaBianca murders," he said. "All five killers now have been convicted. I believe justice has been served. The state will vigorously pursue the death penalty for Charles Watson."

School use bill offered

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, introduced legislation Tuesday intended to make public schools year-round community centers for people of all ages. The "Community School Center Development Act" would give local school boards modest grants intended to pay for added expenses involved in opening schools for recreational, educational and social services after regular school hours. "The traditional school, operating limited hours and serving only the young, is an extravagance modern America cannot abide," Church said. He said it is a "shameful waste" to use the public schools only part of the day, five days a week, 39 weeks a year and solely for formal education of youngsters. The royal couple and their

German students attack emperor

COLOGNE, Germany (UPI)—West German students demonstrated in two cities Tuesday against Emperor Hirohito, but the visiting Japanese ruler did not witness either incident. Instead, he was greeted by lines of waving Germans at Bingen-am-Rhein, Coblenz and Cologne as he concluded the last full day of his seven-nation European tour. Members of his official party described the greetings Tuesday as the warmest of the tour. The major student demonstration occurred in Bonn several hours after the emperor and his party had left the capital to begin the day's journey by train and boat through the Rhineland. A smaller demonstration occurred in Cologne but was broken up by police before the emperor arrived. In Bonn, police used water hoses and clubs to break up a demonstration by about 250 left-wing students from Bonn University. The marching students were chanting "Hirohito is a Fascist!" and opposing Japan as "militarism and colonialism." Police said three students were injured and four arrested in the breakup of the demonstration. In Cologne, a small group of students sat down in the street in front of the Japanese Cultural Institute before the emperor's arrival there. By the time Hirohito and Empress Nagako arrived at the institute, police had cleared away the demonstrators. A police spokesman estimated that 10,000 persons lined the flag-bedecked streets of Cologne to greet the emperor and his party when they arrived by special train from Coblenz after a 36-mile cruise along the Rhine River. The royal couple and their party of 40 began the day in Bonn, traveled by train to Bingen-am-Rhein where several hundred persons lined the river bank to see them off on a paddleboat. Another special train was waiting when the boat docked at Coblenz to bring the royal party to Cologne, where the emperor and empress visited the cathedral and city hall and then met members of the large Japanese business community. The royal tour ends Wednesday when Hirohito and his party return to Tokyo by way of Anchorage, Alaska.

Huey wants new judge

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)—Black Panther leader Huey P. Newton showed up Tuesday for the start of his third trial on charges of killing an Oakland policeman and demanded the disqualification of all 25 of Alameda county's "backwards and racist" judges. Newton and his attorney, Charles R. Garry, asked for the removal of the judge assigned to the voluntary manslaughter trial on grounds he was prejudiced and for disqualification of the other Superior Court judges on grounds they had been pressured by a citizens group.

Shotshell reloading

Outdoor class taught

WENDELL — "This class is the first one I've ever had to throw the kids out of when the bell rings," said Jim Jax, Wendell Junior High and High School teacher of his outdoor recreation class.

Jax said a teacher usually gets trampled as the students try to get out of the classroom when it is over, "but not this one." The outdoor-recreation class is the first of its kind to be taught in the Wendell Junior High School. Jax said the purpose is to teach seventh and eighth grade students the basics of hunting, fishing and outdoor related activities.

Fly-tying and fishing were the first subjects dealt with in the 18 member class. Jax said he spent several classes teaching fly-tying and the use of the different kinds. He and his students made a field trip to Riley Creek to test the flies they had made for the class.

The students are now learning to shoot shotguns and reload shells. Jax said the class loaded 75 shells in the first session and then used these shells to learn to shoot a shotgun. He said the students hit only three targets thrown in the first session. The second session, 27 targets were broken and in the last shoot, 37 targets were hit. Jax said the boys are really learning fast and are enjoying it.

The next step in the class will be rifle and pistol shell reloading and shooting. Jax said he will include an extensive gun safety program in this phase.

Jax said he hopes to include snowshoeing and other outdoor lore in his class this semester. He said the class has only two problems, finding time to do everything and getting everyone asking for the class into it. He said new students will take the class each semester to try to get everyone in. He said it is the most asked for class he has ever had.

Jackrabbit

ODESSA, Tex. (UPI)—The Texas jackrabbit actually is not a rabbit at all, but a hare, according to authorities on the long-eared, long-legged animal that abounds in the scrub brush country of West Texas.

Dan Hemphill of Odessa points out that the jackrabbit's young are born with their eyes open and with fur on their bodies, whereas a rabbit is born with its eyes closed and furless.

The animal was given the misleading name more than 100 years ago when early explorers saw the creature's mule ears and began calling it the "jackass rabbit."

The girls who lost the most weight for the past three months were honored by division, with the runners-up as escorts. Division No. 3 queen was Myrna Johnson, with Ollmae Armstrong as runner-up; Division No. 5, Shirley Pope, with Betty Christian as runner-up; Teen-age Division, Pattie Beau, Flier, queen, with Sheryl Stout as runner-up.

Corsages, banners and gifts were presented the winners. Sandra Moeller read an essay, "Happiness," and Marjorie Kramer, second leader of the club, presented a history in which she paid tribute to the past leaders, Betty Frantz, first leader and club organizer, and Gladys Cullip, third leader.

It was noted that after a beginning with six charter members, there are 25 annual KOPS to Trimmer TOPS. All persons interested in the group are asked to call 733-5089 or 733-4566. Meetings are held Monday evenings at the "V" building.

CRAIG BROWN, right, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brown, Filer, discusses his class schedule with Kevin Thionas, Hayden-Lake, before heading for the College Union. Former T.F. resident receives appointment

TWIN FALLS — A former Twin Falls resident, Lu Rogers, Hawaii, daughter of Mrs. Emma S. Lake and the late Mr. C. L. Lake, Twin Falls, has been appointed assistant secretary to the public relations officer for the American Savings and Loan Hawaiian Division.

The appointment was made by Blair Brudshaw, Salt Lake City, president of the firm. Mrs. Rogers has been with American for the past four years and has been active in the Savings and Loan League, which comprises Hawaii's 10 Savings and Loan Associations. She served as director of the women's section of the league conference which was held recently on the island of Kauai. She will also chair the industry's forthcoming billion dollar asset promotion.

Mrs. Rogers was in charge of the Institute's seminar for all island Savings and Loan personnel and has also been active in the league's business development marketing committee for the past year.

Mrs. Rogers was graduated from Twin Falls High School and attended Brigham Young University where she met and married M. R. (Scully) Rogers, presently associated with Earl Thacker Real Estate Co., Waikiki. They have five children. The two oldest sons are attending Brigham Young University this year.

DEAR ABBY: I urge you to run for the office of President of the United States.

You have everything a good President needs. Intelligence, common sense, courage, and a real understanding of people's problems. Furthermore, you're uncorrupted and fair-minded.

I feel certain that with Abigail Van Buren as our President, we would have peace and friendly relations with our foreign neighbors.

If you would become a candidate, I can promise you the support of millions. And campaign funds would be the least of your worries. How about it?

"ABBY FOR PRESIDENT"

DEAR "ABBY-FOR": Thanks, but no thanks. Not that I'm reluctant to serve my country. But I'm not so sure how my husband would feel about being "First Lady."

DEAR ABBY: I am 36 years old. I was a widow for 5 years before I married this man who had been divorced for two years. This man is a perfect husband in every way — except one.

He has two children by his first wife, 6 and 11, and they live with their mother, but they spend weekends with us very often and I love having them. Now my problem...

My husband refuses to tell his wife and children that he is married to me. This hurts me deeply. They think I am just the lady he lives with. This makes me feel so cheap.

When his children come to spend weekends with us they like it so much they hate to go home.

Abby, why does my husband want to keep our marriage a secret from his children? I just can't look those kids in the face anymore.

MARRIED BUT HIDDEN

DEAR MARRIED: Something doesn't add up here. Tell your husband to quit playing games — that you are not going to permit him to make a less than honest woman of you. Insist that he introduce you as his wife. And make it retroactive!

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have arranged to adopt a child which will be born in three months. The natural mother is young and unwed and she lives in another city. I have never met her and I do not ever want to meet her. She is distantly related to my husband, but he's never met her either. This will be a private adoption — not thru an agency.

My husband and I were invited to a family wedding in the city where this unwed mother-to-be lives, and we were told that she will be at the wedding. Abby! I can't explain why, but I simply do not want to ever meet or know this girl. After declining the invitation (I [judo-no reason], I received a telephone call from my husband's cousin, begging us to come.

My husband says he'll do whatever I wish, but he can't understand my reasoning. Can you? I'll do whatever you say.

BETTER STRANGERS

DEAR BETTER: I can understand your reasoning. Feeling as you do, stay home.

A Lovelier You.
BLACK MAKES A COMEBACK
By Mary Sue Miller

Black moves up again into the ranks of fashion. Black crepes and matte jersey in body-cling dresses are without peers for sophistication. Black wool suitings offer day-long polish. In the evening, cascades of black chiffon, taffeta, satin or velvet re-introduce elegance and romance to the scene.

Still a woman in black can look awfully drab. Take slinky black: If snuggled to a body, it can make an inkblot of a heavy figure and a disappearing spectre of a thin one. Unless you are figure-perfect, black performs best when it clings to good points and leaves the rest to the imagination.

The luster of black also influences its flattery. Matte finishes beg for shimmer, your own and store-bought. Your own involves hair and lips polished to a high glow. From fashion's cache, choose sheer, patterned stockings and an explosive sort of enamel or diamenté brooch.

That brings us to shiny black, the satiny stuff. What's most wanted against this "blackdrop" is lustrous make up. This means transparent gauzy—opalescent.

Tryouts slated

BOARD MEMBERS of the Magic Valley Little Theatre strike various poses and moods in preparation for the group's tryouts for "The Waltz of the Toreadors." From left are Mrs. Larry Hovey, Jim Langley and Dianna Hickerson. Tryouts will be at 7:30 p.m. Thursday and Friday at the "Y" building. Anyone interested in auditioning can obtain a script from Buzz Langdon at the KMYT studios.

Antique Festival Theatre sets October election meet

BUHL — The board of trustees of the Antique Festival Theatre will meet late in October to reorganize and elect officers.

Mrs. Alan Pierce, chairman of the trustees, in announcing the coming meeting, said Nerissa McNealy has been elected to the seven-member board, replacing James Brennan, Piler.

Mrs. McNealy, who has worked with the theater since its inception in 1964, is a long time Buhl resident, presently teaching at the Lincoln School in Twin Falls.

Wayne Kimball, business manager, presented a financial report at the annual membership meeting on the 1971 summer repertory season.

State Sen. John Barker, Buhl, traced the history of the Idaho Commission on the Arts and Humanities and the National Endowment for the Arts. He said grants from the commission must be matched dollar for dollar and that the theater has always raised, through local support and box office receipts, more money than half its budget.

He said the theater's tour program of taking theater productions to all parts of the state, follows the philosophy of the Congressional Arts bill.

Aldrich Bowler, producer-director, reported on ways in which the Antique Festival Theatre has reached its goals and said there is a need to perform for more people in parks in the Magic Valley area. He said the Castleford performance and the play in the Shoshone Park demonstrate the feasibility of this activity to other cities of the valley.

Slides of the summer repertory were shown by Mrs. Bowler and Jan Boles, Caldwell.

Anna Marie Boles, Robert Williams, of the summer company, and H. Paul Kliss performed numbers from the past season's variety "acts" to entertain the membership.

Shapely hints
TWIN FALLS — Since styles seem to be aiming at the women not-so-well-endowed, the voluptuous women of the world have encountered difficulties.

If you want to de-emphasize magnitudinous proportions, follow these don'ts.

Avoid white tops that make you appear bigger. Stay away from jackets or shirts with pockets over the bust.

Empire dresses are not designed for big-busted women. Never wear a size bigger in order to hide your bust. It does quite the opposite.

Turtlenecks give you a stuffed look. A round or moderate V-neckline is much more attractive.

Bargains?

This is the season of bargain-hunter's delight: Most stores have end-of-summer sales in which the merchandise is greatly reduced. But make sure you're really getting a good buy. Check the product for stains and damages. Don't ignore the possibility of style changes, particularly with shoes and dresses. And if your weight fluctuates greatly, think twice before buying something for next year.

Sass attends Wesleyan University

TWIN FALLS — David G. Sass, Twin Falls, has entered Wesleyan University as a freshman in September. It was announced by Robert L. Kirkpatrick, Jr., Wesleyan dean of admissions.

Sass is a graduate of Twin Falls High School where he was senior class president.

He is one of the 440 men and women who have enrolled in the class of 1975, which Dean Kirkpatrick has termed "one of the most able, diverse, and potentially contributing classes in the 1300 year history of the university." The class was selected from more than 2,820 applicants and comes to the university from 38 states and 9 foreign countries.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Sass.

Chemical war feared since WWI campaigns

CHICAGO (UPI)—"Gas!" To a soldier it's one of the most feared words in any language.

For millions of men throughout the world for more than half a century the word has meant poison gas, and for humanity in general a military milestone will be reached this Wednesday which, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica, marks the 30th year since poison gas was last used in battle.

Various forms of gas often are used in skirmishes and in such situations as the recent seizure of Attica Prison. But none of it is poison gas, the kind that bilsters skin and sears lungs beyond recovery.

World War I brought on the first widespread employment of chemical warfare, although smoke and fire had been used by opposing armies before recorded history.

The Germans used modern chemical technology to produce perhaps the most feared weaponry ever conceived—death or disability by vapor. It was tried first on Jan. 31, 1915, when Germans fired gas shells at Russian troops. The chemicals, however, failed because of the nullifying effect of the intense cold.

But the next attempt, the following April 22 at Ypres, Belgium, brought success in the form of a strange green foggy hell which floated on a light breeze from German trenches. Scores of Algerians and Canadians choked on the chlorine cloud and left a four-mile gap in the Allied lines.

The Germans, not anticipating such results, did not have sufficient forces ready to capitalize on the retreat. But the attack signaled widespread use of gas by the Germans, resulting in thousands of casualties to Allied soldiers, some of whom spent years in agony. The war ended with both sides prepared for large scale chemical warfare escalation.

However, since the final days of World War I there have been only two recorded instances of the use of toxic chemicals in warfare. The first was by Italians against Ethiopia in 1935-36. The Italians used blister gas to rout their ill-equipped foe.

The next and last time poison gas was known to have been used was by Japanese against Chinese on Oct. 13, 1941, at Ichang, on the Yangtze. Like the Ethiopians, the Chinese were not prepared for gas. The Japanese, like the Italians, used blister gas, which destroys tissue and injures blood vessels. The Chinese troops, which had been on the attack, were forced to withdraw.

President Roosevelt took note of the Japanese action and, when the United States went to war, issued a threat of "retaliation in kind and in full measure" should gas be used again.

still feared weapon

THURSDAY marks 30th anniversary of last use of poison gas in battle in Sino-Japanese war, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica. For military men, term "gas" has meant poison gas, here being used by French in March, 1918, during World War I. (UPI)

Kidnaped GI truck drivers freed after Viet vets paid

DA NANG, Vietnam (UPI)—Twelve U.S. Army truck drivers were kidnaped and held for ransom today by furious South Vietnamese civilians; but were released unharmed nearly eight hours later.

The drivers and their six trucks were seized after their convoy allegedly ran into a minibus in a funeral procession, injuring eight mourners. The drivers were released after compensation was paid.

The civilians had demanded a ransom of 2.5 million piasters, or about $9,000. They settled for 200,000 piasters or about $728 plus 170 cases of salad oil and 150 cases of soybean mixture. Provincial authorities provided the salad oil and soybean mixture. American military authorities, apparently paid the ransom. In the past they have made cash compensation to the families of Vietnamese killed or injured by U.S. drivers.

The civilians, mostly disabled veterans, seized the 12 drivers and their six vehicles nine miles south of Da Nang. The mourners were in a funeral cortege of a veterans' leader shot Sunday. Armed with carbines, 45 caliber pistols and M16 rifles, the veterans piled out of six other minibuses in a funeral cortege nine miles south of here, shot out the tires of the six U.S. trucks leading a convoy and surrounded the vehicles.

The drivers and helpers of the six Army trucks were captured and the veterans, manning electric bullhorns, demanded that U.S. authorities pay them $9,000 ransom for the trucks and soldiers.

The incident was touched off when the front truck of a convoy of 10-20 semitrailer trucks rammied the rear minibus in the cortege.

State mails tax refunds

BOISE (UPI)—Crossing their fingers against possible, embarrassing duplications, the state tax commissioners have sent out nearly $600,000 worth of sales tax refunds to Idaho's senior citizens.

"They went into the mail on Saturday," Dennison Ambrose, deputy tax commissioner, reported Tuesday. "Last year we issued them in July on the 31st. (But) we made some mistakes — principally in duplications."

"To avoid paying the refunds twice to some of the recipients the commission this year deliberately held them up," Ambrose said, "to double check them."

In 1970, the commission paid out $589,996 in refunds to 21,937 claimants 65 and older. This year, Ambrose said, the commission paid $595,030 to 22,475 claimants.

"That's a tremendous number," Ambrose said. "To try to be 100 per cent accurate is quite an undertaking."

To reimburse taxpayers for what they pay in sales taxes on food, the legislature has permitted a $10 state income tax credit for each bona fide taxpayer exemption. Persons 65 and older get an additional $10 per exemption and those who are blind get another $10.

However, many elderly persons do not earn enough money to require them to file a state income tax return. To make certain they receive the sales tax credit, the legislature devised a system whereby they can make claim for their credits and collect them in cash.

Last year was the first in which the Tax Commission handled the claims — for the calendar year of 1969 — under the new system and, by getting out the payments in July, made some mistakes, Ambrose said. "We made some duplicate payments and then had to go to try to collect them from some old folks — which is an unpleasant task," he said. "This year we deliberately delayed the payments in order to avoid that situation."

Ambrose said many elderly persons simply "forgot" they have made claim for their refunds and put in duplicate ones. He said he visited a field office in Twin Falls one time when an elderly woman came in and said, "I hear you're giving money away."

He said the program was explained to the woman and she was given a claim form to fill out. While the woman was in the process of doing so a Tax Commission employee who knew her came into the room and asked what she was doing.

Wenzel, Kellwood to join

ST LOUIS, Mo. — An agreement in principle has been reached providing for the acquisition of H. Wenzel Tent and Duck Co. and two related firms by Kellwood Co., officials of the firms said Tuesday.

Under the agreement, Kellwood would acquire the Wenzel firm of St. Louis, American Waterproofing Co. and Wenzel Company West. The proposal is subject to approval of Kellwood's board of directors and the boards and selling stockholders of the Wenzel firms.

Robert A. Collett, Kellwood Co. vice president-finance, and William H. Wenzel, president of Wenzel Tent and Duck, said in a joint statement the acquired firms will operate as wholly owned subsidiaries of Kellwood with the same executives and personnel.

The Wenzel firm, founded in 1887, makes camping equipment, principally tents and sleeping bags. American Waterproofing Co. makes waterproof and fireproof canvas for other manufacturing firms. Wenzel Company West makes and sells tents and sleeping bags in 11 western states including Hawaii and Alaska.

Collett said Kellwood sees the proposed acquisitions as a further step in the planned expansion of its recreational market.

Kellwood, which operates a hosiery plant in Twin Falls, makes wearing apparel, home fashions and recreation equipment. It has 52 plants in 14 states with a labor force of more than 17,000.

Lincoln receives project

SHOSHONE — Lincoln County will be included in the Resource Conservation and Development project recently approved by the government on a 3.8-million-acre area in south-central Idaho.

This program will assist the Wood River Resource Area which encompasses Camas, Blaine, Gooding and Lincoln counties, in efforts to improve the economic situation and better care for natural resources.

This is the first such project located entirely in Idaho. The U.S. Department of Agriculture will provide technical and financial help to local groups in the conservation and development programs.

The area is bordered on the north by the Sawtooth Mountains, on the south by Snake River, and includes the entire Little and Big Wood River drainage basins as well as the upper reaches of the South Fork of the Boise River.

Of the 3.8 million acres involved, 282,447 are under U.S. Forest Service administration; 1,727,404 are Bureau of Land Management, and 14,440 are Craters of the Moon National Monument.

TWO-YEAR-OLD Ronnie Connors shows jubilation at being able to walk with the help of his mother, Mrs. Lee Connors, while Shrine Club member Vic Graybeal watches approvingly. Graybeal introduced young Ronnie and his mother during the victory dinner of the Shriners and Knights of Columbus Monday night at St. Edward's Parish Hall, as an example of the work of the Shrine-sponsored crippled children's hospital in Salt Lake City. Crippled from birth, Ronnie has made "great progress" toward learning to walk with the help of the Shriners, Graybeal said.

Knights top Shrine in ticket hassle

TWIN FALLS — "They done it again," the slogan of the Shriners, has signaled the second successive victory by the Twin Falls Knights of Columbus over their friendly rivals in selling tickets to the annual Shrine football game. A victory banquet Monday night at St. Edward's parish hall — until last year "forbidden ground" for the Masonic-backed Shriners — allowed the losers to treat the winners to a ham dinner and an evening of fellowship. Twin Falls High School football coach Norm Thomas presented a substitute for the official game ball to Ray Abundis, president of the Knights of Columbus chapter in Twin Falls. Morris Roth, chairman of the Shrine-sponsored ticket competition, told those present that the game ball used in last year's ceremonies has turned up missing.

Selection keys told for Jerome

By CHARLOTTE BELL
Times-News Writer

JEROME — High quality people availability of utilities and rail transportation were listed as the prime reasons for selection of the site of the new Tupperware plant by Jim Hagen, the company's vice president.

Hagen addressed a group of 80 persons attending a dinner Tuesday night at the Blue Lakes Country Club. Included in the attendance were mayors of most Magic Valley communities.

The company official told the guests, "Tupperware is a community oriented organization which enjoys working with the community in which it operates." Officials attending the dinner included Mayor Jack Russell, Jerome; Mayor Frank Feldman, Twin Falls; Jerome City Council members; Mayor H. V. Crippen, Gooding; Jerome and Twin Falls chambers of commerce officials; Jerome County commissioners; Earl Greenawalt, Jerome, state representative; C. R. N. Shepherd, First Security Bank manager, Jerome; Mike Sullivan, Bank of Idaho manager, Jerome, and other public officials and community leaders of Magic Valley.

Robert A. Bussiere, who will manage the Jerome plant, told the group he and his family are pleased to be part of the Jerome community.

"To be with Tupperware and be in Idaho are two things we have long looked forward to," he said.

John R. Ansley, president of Tupperware, said Jerome has become like home to the company officials.

"We traveled for weeks through seven states before deciding on a location for the plant," he said. "I truly feel the outstanding people of this area represent the major factor in our decision to locate in Jerome."

The firm president said he hopes to see the new plant in production by May 1, 1972. Each person attending the dinner received a four piece canister set of Tupperware.

Seminar on drugs traced

JEROME — A comprehensive program of drug education has been in progress the past few days in Jerome in an effort to better inform Jerome residents of the drug problem in this area and what is being done to combat it.

Stan Olson, Boise, state director of drug abuse education, now on leave from the Idaho Department of Education, spoke Tuesday to Rotary Club members.

Eighteen months ago, he said, the agency received a grant of $10,000 from the U.S. Office of Education to set up an education program and later a preventive program on drugs. Olson said while some mistakes have been made in setting up the program, as a whole it is now beginning to get off the ground.

"We have set up six regions in the state and have held workshops for each region with six or seven people from each area attending. Jerome is in Region Five which begins at Glenns Ferry and extends into Cassia and Minidoka counties and north to Blaine County," he said.

Those on the committee, he said, who will work in the local region include Rev. Michael Fitzgibbons, of the Episcopal Church in Shoshone as coordinator; two nurses, one from Gooding and one from Rupert; a law enforcement officer from Burley, and three youths selected from various parts of the region.

They will now be working in different communities to enact an effective program of drug education not just in the school but throughout the community, Olson explained.

"I don't think there is a community in Idaho where the students don't know more about different drugs than the adults. Drugs are a problem but a drug is not a problem until an individual decides to use it. Our prime purpose is to provide education and prevention and to determine why people use drugs and what if anything, can provide a substitute.

This is more than just a drug program, he said, it is also a program designed for substance abuse — the misuse by the public not just the use of things such as cigarettes, alcohol, coffee and things taken into the body to make one feel good.

"We are a drug oriented society. Television, magazines and radio tell us if you have a pain we have a pill for it. We want to help you wake up or put you to sleep," he said.

The speaker answered questions following his talk, saying Jerome is not the drug center of Idaho but drug problems do exist in all Idaho communities. He said in the Boise and Lewiston areas a greater use of heroin is now evident. He agreed with Supt. John Campbell that through effective use of school activities and by keeping the youth involved it will lessen the drug problem.

A point was raised on while school programs are good, the Jerome youngsters have little to do after school and Jerome might consider a recreation center. Olson said many community leaders have taken this step and have built youth centers equipped with all necessary recreational items.

Tactics of airport opponents assailed

BURLEY — A Burley man said today that selfish interests and petty politics are obscuring long range benefits which can be gained for the eight Magic Valley counties by creating a Regional Airport Authority.

Ed Elliott, Burley, first president of the South Idaho Chamber of Commerce, spoke out today against "deception" being practiced by opponents of the proposed Site A-1.

The site, he said, is located in the geographic center of the valley, east of the U. S. 93 and Interstate 80 junction north of the Perrine Bridge in Jerome County.

A few years ago, he said, the city of Twin Falls employed the engineering and planning firm of Cornell, Howland, Hayes and Merryfield of Portland to study the airport situation in the valley. The firm, he said, was paid $16,000 for this professional study.

The recommendations of the survey were specific. Three potential sites were offered that would fulfill the requirement of a regional airport to serve all of the valley.

The Portland firm did not recommend the location of the Twin Falls City-County Airport. The situation has not changed, he said.

TF improvement 'not wasted'

By HONNIE BAIRD JONES

TWIN FALLS — Improvements at the city-county airport south of Twin Falls will not be wasted if a Regional Airport Authority is approved for the eight-county Magic Valley area on Oct. 26, Harry LeMoine, Twin Falls, told Exchange Club members Tuesday.

LeMoine, a member of the Interim Regional Airport Board, said approval of the authority in the coming election cannot mean an immediate regional airport construction and at the best it would take five years to establish such a facility.

"If the meantime," he said, "we need the best possible air transportation facilities we can get."

LeMoine said the present Twin Falls airport will serve the needs of the area for a few years, but not for any extended period in view of the growth and development potential of the Magic Valley area and the trends in airline service to larger planes.

The speaker traced the history of regional airport planning back to the special report in 1966 following an engineering survey by specialists hired by the Twin Falls city and county.

At that time, LeMoine said, the engineers of Cornell, Howland, Hayes and Merryfield recommended a regional airport north of the city and found a number of reasons for the basis of their recommendations.

LeMoine told Exchange Club members those reasons include the high cost of obtaining farm

Pupil needs check made

GOODING — Gooding School Board Trustees are conducting a survey to determine the kindergarten needs of the district.

The survey, to be completed by Oct. 22, should help determine the number of students who will be involved in the program.

Gooding School District has been granted two slots under the federal grant for kindergarten teachers. Supt. James Muscat told the board the district has sent letters to various universities in the state. So far no teachers have become available. He said there appears to be a shortage of kindergarten teachers in the state.

Muscat said the district hopes to have four half-day sessions with two teachers with a minimum of 80 students. This will depend on the survey, he said. Survey sheets will be sent home with students of the high school to try to determine the number of children of kindergarten age.

Muscat said one of the colleges contacted advised they have no kindergarten teachers available which could be a major problem in initiating the kindergarten program. If at all feasible, he said, Gooding will enact the kindergarten program. Until studies are completed, the district does not know if it will be possible. In fairness to the people, the superintendent said, "we don't want to get into something the parents and students cannot accept. We want to be able, if we have a kindergarten, to do the whole job and not just a partial job," he said.

The superintendent said the district wishes to make the program available to all of the children — not just part of them.

William C. Oakley, public accountant, submitted the audit of the 1970-71 school year. According to Supt. Muscat, the audit followed procedures set forth in the budget and brought into consideration the new Gooding High School.

In other action the board approved the Title I program to be submitted to the state education department for federal funds. They also approved Title III, NDEA program application. This is under the National Defense Education program act and includes new equipment for the high school to be used in art courses such as music, art and crafts. The total program is expected to run close to $9,500 of which half is provided by federal matching funds on a reimbursal basis.

New passenger runs proposed

SHOSHONE — The Shoshone Chamber of Commerce is asking Congressional support for proposed tri-weekly passenger train service through southern Idaho.

H. A. McMurray, Montpelier, director of the Idaho State Legislative Board, told the chamber the trains would originate in Seattle, Wash., and Oakland, Calif.

Shoshone chamber president Myron D. Johnson said Tuesday letters were sent to David Watts, vice president of the National Railroad Passenger Corp. (Amtrak), which would operate the trains; Sen. Len B. Jordan, Sen. Frank Church, Rep. Orval Hansen and Rep. James McClure.

They were asked to support a proposal for service between Portland, Ore., and Green River, Wyo., which would cross the Magic Valley on Union Pacific tracks.

The Magic Valley has been without passenger trains since May 1, when the Union Pacific suspended service at the time Amtrak assumed operation of all passenger trains in the United States.

The proposal calls for a trial period of one year beginning

Salmon forest fire contained

SALMON — The first major forest fire this year in the Salmon National Forest, about 35 miles northwest of Salmon, was brought under control at 10 a.m. today, according to District Administration Officer Lou Slagowski.

The blaze encompassed about 340 acres in the rocky and steep terrain of the Owl Creek area. The main vegetation in the area is ponderosa pines and douglas firs.

The fire started about 4:30 p.m. Monday. Slagowski said the forest was "under dry" and the blaze spread to 300 acres in ten hours.

A 200-man crew, which included four servicemen, Indian fire-fighting units and three Spanish-American crews from Twin Falls, battled the blaze, according to Slagowski. Snake jumpers from the McCall area aided the crews, but returned to McCall today.

Two tanker planes from Twin Falls were called in and dumped fire retardant on the Air pollution index 213

The pollution reading was taken by the staff of the South Central Health District at the Twin Falls City Hall. The reading is expressed in the number of microns of particulate matter for the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. today.

Federal pollution regulations say air pollution levels should be kept below 75 microns over any 24-hour period and should not be permitted to exceed 150 microns over any short period of time.

Today: Excellent
Tonight: Good
Tomorrow: Excellent

This forecast provided by the Idaho Department of Health indicates the ability of the atmosphere to disperse pollution burning as permitted by law should be considered when the air is nearly able to disperse air pollutants.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks were lower in moderate turnover as trading rounded the halfway mark Wednesday.

Electronics and airlines, strong features Tuesday, were among the day's weakest spots. Part of the setback in the two groups was attributed to profit taking.

Turnover at 1 p.m. amounted to 8,500,000 shares, down from 8,980,000 shares traded in a comparable period the previous session.

Stocks off a point or more included IBM by 5/8, UAL Inc. 2 1/4, Flying Tiger 1 1/4, and Natoms 1 1/4.

Among the most active issues were Crown Zellerbach off 1/2 on 125,000 shares, Duke Power up 1/4 on 123,200 shares, Delmarva Power & Light up 1/4 on 102,200 shares, and North Simon 1/4 lower on 87,000 shares.

Honeywell, one of the few strong spots, gained about a point.

Analysts said investors generally were marking time pending more complete details of phase two of President Nixon's economic program, or strong evidence that the plan actually is helping spur economic recovery.

Blass ends Pirates skid, stops Orioles on 3 hits

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Steve Blass, twice blasted out during the National League playoffs, got the Pittsburgh Pirates into contention in the World Series Tuesday by pitching a three-hitter to beat Baltimore 5-1 and spoil the Orioles' dream of a four-game sweep.

Missed bunt sign resulted in Pirates' game-winning homer

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Pittsburgh slugger Bob Robertson had his eye on the stands and not on the coach's box, otherwise the Pirates might have had a tougher time of it in their 5-1 victory over Baltimore Tuesday.

If he'd been watching coach Frank Robinson on the third base line while batting with two men on base in the seventh inning, Robertson would have caught the sign telling him to bunt.

Hurler confused on Oriole batting book

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—It should come as no consolation to the Baltimore Orioles, but Pirates' pitcher Steve Blass was "totally confused" on how to pitch to the defending world champions before throwing Tuesday's three-hit, 5-1 victory.

Both of those games. But I made one or two bad pitches in each of them—especially that home run to (Willie) McCovey and that was the difference. I only made one mistake today, and that was trying to throw a hard slider past Frank Robinson.

Delaware advances in ratings

NEW YORK (UPI)—Eastern power Delaware continues to challenge top-ranked North Dakota State for supremacy among the United Press International top 20 small college football teams.

The unbeaten Blue Hens blasted previously unbeaten Lafayette 49-0 and moved from fourth place to second behind the No. 1 Bison. North Dakota State's margin, with 21 first-place votes to Delaware's five, was 31 points (288-267).

Pistons run past New York

By GARY KALE, UPI Sports Writer. Who would have thought the Detroit Pistons would turn into a fast-break team with Bob Lanier in the lineup?

Coach Red Holzman of the New York Knicks didn't really believe it until the Pistons played two exhibition games in Madison Square Garden last week. Holzman became a firm believer Tuesday night after Detroit surprised the Knicks, 91-84 in the opening of the National Basketball Association.

Coach's ex-school tops U.S.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bo Scherbelcher knows how to teach defense. Scherbelcher left Miami of Ohio two years ago to take over as head coach at the University of Michigan, but he's left the mark of his defensive theories at both schools.

Michigan leads the nation in rushing defense and scoring defense and ranks second in total defense, according to official statistics released today by National Collegiate Sports Services. And who leads the country in total defense? None other than Miami of Ohio.

Net finale shifted to Dallas

DALLAS (UPI)—Lamar Hunt, a director and guiding force behind the World Championship Tennis professional tour, announced Tuesday the tour's final match this year—the richest tennis match ever played—will be moved from Madison Square Garden in New York to Dallas.

The championship match, with $50,000 going to the winner and $20,000 going to the loser, will be held Nov. 26 at Dallas Memorial Auditorium.

lasted only two innings in his second start, set the Orioles down without a hit until Brooks Robinson, a show-stealer even in defeat, singled with one out in the fifth.

Frank Robinson slammed a homer over the leftfield fence to lead off the seventh, and Blass then retired eight straight batters before Frank got the final hit, a single up the middle, with two out in the ninth.

Blass then got Elieo Hernandez on a bounce to second to end the game and pick up his first post-season victory.

Newspaper criticizes Tech coach

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI)—Texas Tech University Coach Jim Carlen was criticized in a newspaper editorial Tuesday for saying he was "sick of Lubbock."

Carlen, upset because fans at Saturday's game between Tech and Texas A&M booed quarterback Charles Napper, told a group of boosters Monday:

"If you want to boo me, that's one thing. But leave my kids alone. You may be proud of Lubbock today, but I'm sick of it."

The editorial, appearing in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, said if Carlen was sick of Lubbock, there is no law to keep him here.

"We had football at Texas Tech—good football—before he came. We'll have it after he's gone, whenever that may be. There's no excuse for the booing. There's no defense for it. It was wrong. But to so completely 'lose his cool' as to say, 'I'm sick of Lubbock' is something else."

Andrus will face Gem tax increase

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus reiterated Tuesday he would "not run and hide" if it appears the state needs a tax increase, but added, "like any taxpayer, I hope we do not."

The decision will be made, he said, when "he can see the needs, the revenue from existing sources, and then what it will take to close that gap if that gap is there."

The Governor spoke at a meeting of the Idaho Press Club.

Andrus said figures from the State Tax Commission show an increase in sales tax collections but a drop in corporate taxes. He said he hoped that area would improve — "or we'll be in worse fiscal condition than we thought we were."

The governor declined to say exactly where he would look for a tax increase, although he said he did not like "the prospect of boosting the state sales tax from three to four per cent."

When asked about inequities in the tax system, Andrus pointed to the increasing property tax burden. The problem is compounded, he said, by the dependence of schools on the property tax.

"If we do not face the problem at the state level...the problem does not go away. It just transfers itself from the state level to the local level."

Asked about the controversy over the Teton-Damn project in southeastern Idaho, Andrus said it was "utterly ridiculous" to make a political issue out of the problem.

The project, he said, is a federal one supported by Idaho's congressional delegation and the Nixon Administration.

He said he was told by Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton the decision on the project would be made strictly on the basis of its cost-benefit ratio — not on environmental consideration — and that the study will be done by Morton's own economist.

"The decision is not at the state level," Andrus said. "The decision, as the secretary pointed out, is his decision and his alone."

Andrus said he hoped the decision would be made soon, adding, "if the determination is not to build it, the state is going to have to get involved in other aspects of it." He said there are 1.7 million acres in the Snake River Plain projected for cultivation.

On other matters, Andrus said:

Officials concur on Idaho duties

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus and Attorney General W. Anthony Park have reached a quiet agreement between them as to which is chief executive and which the state's chief legal officer.

It began with a letter from Sacramento, Calif., addressed to "Governor Asic" W. Anthony Park, State Capital, Boise, Idaho (sic).

The letter, which began "Dear Excellency," asked for information about Idaho.

It first went to Park's office, was opened there, then forwarded to the governor's office. Andrus, acknowledging his position, responded:

"I have received your letter addressed to Governor W. Anthony Park and it has caused me some concern. I can send you some material as you requested but the legal question remains."

"I would ask Attorney General Park for an opinion but since you have promoted — or demoted, depending on your point of view — him to governor he probably won't give it to me. If that leaves me as attorney general I'm probably the only one in the United States without a law degree. That should be something unique."

Actually, as I read the election results last November, I was elected Governor, and Mr. Park, Attorney General. So far as I know, we are both satisfied with that arrangement and will continue it for the time being."

Board pick due shortly

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus said Tuesday he hopes to name the new state board of health member sometime this week and said qualifications for the post include "female," a "consumer of services" and "some administrative background."

"But, he said, he is considering two persons and neither meets all three qualifications. One, he said, is a man from Central Idaho and the other a woman from North Idaho who lacks administrative experience. He said his new appointee will not be a medical doctor.

He said he is "not satisfied" with the performance of the Department of Health, adding the "morale in the department is not what it should be."

He plans to spend four or five days each month traveling to different parts of the state to discuss local issues.

The state will "cooperate in every way we can" with President Nixon's phase two plan, adding, "it's about time that we in America drew a line and said we have to correct the problem."

He plans no further cut-back in the number of state employees since "we cut it to the bone the first time." He added he hoped to be able to implement his plan for pay increases for certain state employees, but said future cost-of-living raises would await the federal decisions.

He is satisfied with progress made by the state prison staff, but said about $7 million of the original $10 million appropriated for the new penitentiary site had been spent and it is "obvious that the $3 million remaining is not going to be enough to do the job."

And, referring to criticism of his administration, said, "we've been under fire a few times. But I would point out Idaho has not had an Attila, New York, and we came very close to it."

On other matters, Andrus said:

Arsenal expands

ROTARY RAPID-LAUNCH equipment in weapons bay of B-52 bomber gives plane ability to penetrate heavily defended targets using Air Force's new short-range attack missile. Launcher carries eight missiles, and plane can carry six more on wings, Air Force officials said. Missile, produced by Boeing Co., can be launched at targets ahead of, behind, or at the side of the plane, at either subsonic or supersonic speeds. (UPI)

Resignation accepted

FT. McPHERSON, Ga. (UPI) — The Army has approved the "unqualified resignation" of Capt. Ernest L. Medina and an honorable discharge is expected to follow shortly, a spokesman said Tuesday.

Medina, who was acquitted last month of all charges in the My Lai massacre, has already accepted a civilian job with a helicopter firm headed by his chief defense attorney during the court-martial. F. Lee Bailey, the 35-year-old Army veteran of 16 years was at Ft. Meade, Md., Tuesday, to confer with attorneys for Col. Oran Henderson, the last man facing charges in the My Lai incident.

The Army spokesman said the exact day Medina will leave the service will be up to him and added that the necessary papers for his departure have already been approved. The spokesman said Medina decided against applying for an "inactive reserve" retirement, which would have entitled him to retirement benefits.

The spokesman said that if any objections had been raised to Medina's request for an honorable discharge, he would have been notified by now.

Medina, of Montrose, Colo., is expected to begin work as a corporation executive with Bailey's firm in Xenon, Mich., as soon as he leaves the Army.

Jail blaze fells dozen

BOISE (UPI) — Prisoners in the Ada County Jail set fire to mattresses Tuesday night, hospitalizing one city patrolman and 11 prisoners with smoke inhalation. Five of the inmates were in critical condition.

Deputies said the fire started on the sixth floor of the County Courthouse about 7:30 p.m. When officers went to investigate the incident, they discovered the heat from the blaze had so warped the cellblock door they could not open it.

Boise firemen summoned to the scene pried open the door and put out the fire about 45 minutes after it started, Sheriff Paul Bright reported.

By that time, many prisoners had been overcome by smoke. They were taken to St. Luke's and St. Alphonsus hospitals.

Bright said the blaze broke out in cell block No. 2. He said about 200 prisoners stacked mattresses against the cellblock and set them afire.

It was the second fire of the day in the jail. Earlier in the afternoon prisoners set fire to another mattress on the "penitentiary or top floor of the courthouse."

hospital said City Patrolman James Lemieux was treated for smoke inhalation he received while assisting deputies on the sixth floor of the courthouse. Boise City Police said Lemieux was released from the hospital.

Six men taken to St. Alphonsus hospital, all listed in fair condition, were identified by attendants as Jack Brown, 23; Ken Davis, 19; Stephen Clink, 23; Thomas Ruben, 25; Emmett Dalton, 19; and Wynn Stanley, 28.

Brown was placed in a maximum security ward of the hospital at the request of sheriff's officers. The others were placed under guard.

Attendants at St. Luke's Hospital listed all of those admitted as in critical condition. They included Thomas Collins, 25, first taken to St. Alphonsus and then transferred to St. Luke's; James Wallace, Jerome Harris, Steven Simpson and Jack Groom.

Crews from Idaho Ambulance Service, Ada Ambulance Service and Twin Cities Ambulance Service from the Nampa-Goldwell area were called to assist.

"I don't believe the two fires were connected," Bright said.

Bright said he had no idea of who started the fires or the motives involved.

"My only concern right now is to get the place back in order and get it cleaned up."

Attendants at St. Luke's Hospital listed all of those admitted as in critical condition. They included Thomas Collins, 25, first taken to St. Alphonsus and then transferred to St. Luke's; James Wallace, Jerome Harris, Steven Simpson and Jack Groom.

Crews from Idaho Ambulance Service, Ada Ambulance Service and Twin Cities Ambulance Service from the Nampa-Goldwell area were called to assist.
