Expect spooks soon!

BY LEE TREMAINE
Times-News Writer
TWIN FALLS — It's Halloween time Saturday night, or Sunday night, or both, depending on your community and your inclinations.
By the calendar, Sunday Oct. 31 is the night for spooks and goblins to ply their trade; conning householders into buying "protection" from vandals with candy and treats.
However, since many people consider Sunday a religious holiday, many trick-or-treaters plan to roam Saturday evening.
Twin Falls Mayor Frank Feldman has asked trick-or-treaters to visit their neighbors between the hours of 5 to 9 p.m., and to be in off the frosty streets by or before 9.

Some communities are planning youth-oriented activities for Saturday in an attempt to keep vandalism to a minimum.

In Buhl, acting Mayor Dave Munroe said a Halloween carnival is scheduled for 6 to 8 p.m. Saturday at the elementary school for all elementary-grade youngsters. Games, treats and activities will be offered to entice the would-be goblins to attend, Munroe said.

Buhl children should wear their costumes to the affair and bring their trick-or-treat snacks. Parents should be at the school at 8 p.m. to pick up their children at the end of the carnival.

In Goodland, Mayor Harley Crippen set Saturday for the roaming youngsters, asking drivers to use extra caution Saturday night.

In Burley, merchants are sponsoring costume parties on Saturday. Youngsters will vie for three merchandise prizes to be given by each participating business for the most imaginative costumes.

Burley police have asked that the trick-or-treaters be off the streets early this year — a request that may be easy to comply with, in light of the unseasonably cold temperatures that have plunged the Magic Valley deep into the chill of winter.

At Jerome members of the Elks Lodge have scheduled a dance at their hall. It was erroneously reported earlier this week by a Jay-C-ette member that a children's party would be sponsored Saturday by this group. The party was held last week.

Jerome Police Chief C. B. Puntney said today that he would prefer Halloween be observed on one night only, and that be Saturday.

The trend toward a Saturday observance is not without its critics. One Twin Falls man with three grade-school-age children said his children would still observe the Sunday holiday.

"Observance of Halloween by proclamation is fine for those who can, but by the calendar and tradition Sunday is still the day, so that's when we'll observe it."

Another man questioned today said his daughter would trick-or-treat on Sunday, or not at all.

"This is a traditional holiday that probably goes back thousand of years so you can't just change it."

"Next they'll change Christmas Day if it falls at the wrong time of the week," he said.

If very many dissidents observe the "traditional" Halloween date on Sunday, valley homes may well be visited on two nights instead of one.

Chinese Reds will send United Nations delegates

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — Acting Chinese Communist Foreign Minister Chi Peng-fei told U.N. Secretary General Thant today that Peking would send a delegation to the current session of the General Assembly.

A U.N. spokesman said the cable received today from Peking did not set a date but said the Chinese delegation would arrive "in the near future." Diplomats have predicted the Chinese would arrive by Nov. 4.

The cable also did not specify the makeup of the mission but there has been speculation that Chi would head the delegation. There had been earlier speculation that Premier Chou En-lai might even attend.

The General Assembly voted overwhelmingly Monday night to expel Nationalist China from the organization and to send the Peoples Republic of China, giving it a seat on the Security Council and veto power as one of the five permanent representatives.

Thant sent a cable to Peking immediately, informing the Communist Chinese of the U.N. action and asking them to name a delegation. There was no reply and Thant sent another cable Thursday asking again.

Thant asked that Peking act as soon as possible, especially in appointing a representative to the Security Council since, he said, the council must be able to function continuously and all of its members must "be represented at all times at the seat of the organization."

Under council rules a new representative must convey his credentials to the secretary general no less than 24 hours before he takes his seat in the council.

Diplomats noted that if the Chinese representative arrived by Sunday he could assume the chairmanship of the Security Council for the month of November. The chairmanship is rotated monthly and the Peoples Republic would be eligible following Nicaragua, a non-permanent member, this month.

The cable from Chi gave no indication of the makeup of the delegation but said the names would be sent to the secretary general "later on," thus apparently ruling out any possibility China would take over the chairmanship for November.

Chi's cable acknowledged only receiving Thant's earlier official notification of the U.N. vote and did not mention the note Thant sent later urging more speed.

Nation regains trade surplus

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Under pressure from the dock strikes and President Nixon's 10 per cent import duty, the United States posted its first foreign trade surplus in six months in September, with exports soaring to an all-time high of $14.5 billion.

Word of the economic breakthrough came from the Commerce Department Thursday as the President declared: "We have launched an offensive in this battle against inflation, and we are going to win this battle."

The U.S. trade surplus of $265.4 million in September, the first full month of the import surcharge, reversed a record of five consecutive months of deficits.

But officials said the United States still had a $670.7 billion trade deficit so far this year — through September — and would need monthly surpluses averaging at least $224 million for the rest of the year to avert the first annual trade deficit since 1963.

It was the string of monthly deficits totaling nearly $1.4 billion starting in April that prompted the President to slap an emergency 10 per cent tariff on imports and order de facto devaluation of the dollar overseas in mid-August.

The goal of both controversial moves was to make American goods cheaper and more competitive in foreign markets.

The Commerce Department estimated it was too early to measure the full impact of the emergency measures on the U.S. foreign trade position.

But Assistant Commerce Secretary Harold C. Passer said that although many imports were exempt from the surcharge in September because they were in transit, "concern about higher import costs may have begun to induce cancellations of orders and cutbacks in shipments from supplier countries."

Also, he said, the three-month shutdown of West Coast ports crippled the flow of imports, which are heavier than the volume of exports.

Senate refuses backlash UN fund cutbacks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate, despite initial anger at the turn of events in the United Nations, has decisively rejected a move to cut American contributions to the world body.

Sen. James L. Buckley's attempt to reduce outlays for U.N. aid and humanitarian projects by $101.5 million was defeated Thursday 55 to 28.

The proposal by the New York conservative Republican was the first of two major challenges to U.N. funding by senators upset about Monday night's expulsion of Taiwan.

Sen. Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., planned to move today for a smaller cutback — estimated at between $25 million and $30 million. The Dominick amendment was given a better chance, but Thursday's vote indicated there was no major anti-United Nations uprising brewing in the Senate, and few members were in a mood for retaliation.

Dominick and Buckley said their proposals were not retaliatory, only an effort to stop the United States from paying more than its fair share of contributions to support the organization. They acknowledged, however, that their amendments were triggered by Monday night's vote and the anti-U.S. demonstrations on the floor that followed it.

The Dominick and Buckley amendments were not aimed at regular U.S. dues paid to the United Nations but at the voluntary contributions the United States makes to such programs as aid for underdeveloped countries and food for starving populations.

Buckley's amendment would have eliminated $100 million for the U.N. Development Fund and $1.5 million for the U.N.'s World Food Program.

Opponents of the amendment generally agreed the United States was paying more than its share for U.N. expenses and other countries should be encouraged to pick up more of the tab.

"Everytime I go into the washroom at the U.N. and pull the paper towel, 1,2 or 3, we're paying for the third one," said Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I.

But the opponents said to slash the contributions would be viewed by world as an act of petulance because the United States did not get its way.

— Support House Bill 133 which calls for increased taxation on marketed potatoes. The tax would be used for advertisement and research within the industry.

— Opposed any plan of revenue sharing which would jeopardize such organizations as the extension service.

— Opposed regulation which would require special licensing of farm machinery and its operators.

— Approved maintaining the U.S. Department of Agriculture with retention of the secretary. (Continued on p. 33)

Britons vote to join European Common Mart

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Edward Heath won an overwhelming victory in the first round of his parliamentary fight to take Britain into the European Common Market, but the toughest battle lay ahead.

Parliament Thursday night endorsed Heath's bid for British participation in the booming six-nation Common Market by Jan. 1, 1973. The approval came despite public opinion polls showing half the nation opposed entry — opposition that a high-powered government propaganda campaign has not been able to dissolve.

The economic community's six members are France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. The market was formed March 25, 1957.

The House of Commons vote was 356 to 244 — an unexpectedly large majority. Pre-vote predictions had indicated a 50 to 60 vote majority. In the House of Lords, the result was 451 to 58.

The Commons voting all but ignored party lines. Although opposition entry, 69 pro-market Labor lawmakers defied him. Another 20 abstained.

But 39 anti-market Conservatives voted against the government and three abstained. This meant that Heath, a Conservative, would have been defeated without the support of Labor party pro-marketeters.

In Brussels, Franco-Maria Malfatti, president of the Common Market's Executive Commission, said "the historic decision marks the success of the building of Europe and above all provides it with the necessary dimensions and status."

On the white cliffs of Dover, cheering pro-marketeters lit a giant bonfire. Among them was former Prime Minister Harold MacMillan, whose Conservative party government made Britain's first entry bid in 1961.

Heath's problem now is how to get Parliament to pass the enabling legislation needed to get Britain into the Market.

The government planned to introduce this early next year. It will consist of a short bill ratifying the treaty making Britain a Common Market member and a longer bill designed to align British legislation with that of the European Economic Community.

Wilson served notice Thursday night that in the future Heath could not expect help from labor's pro-marketeters.

"From now on Mr. Heath has got to stand on his own two feet to get the legislation through — and this will be a very different matter," Wilson said in a televised interview.

(The obvious implication was that while he had tolerated a revolt by 70 Labor pro-marketeters Thursday, he would not do so in future. Whether Wilson could deliver a straight party vote next time as he promised was the question.)

Among pro-market Laborites who supported the government Thursday were deputy party leader Roy Jenkins.

Idaho Grange asks potato crackdown

By DAVID ESPO
Times-News Writer

BURLEY — Delegates to the 63rd annual Idaho State Grange convention Thursday approved resolutions designed to spur the Idaho potato market on a nationwide basis.

Delegates had more than three dozen resolutions to take action on today before the convective closes tonight.

Grangers approved resolutions which would:

— Prevent the practice of selling No. 1 potatoes out of state which are "of poor quality" and are not standard No. 1 grade.

— Support House Bill 133 which calls for increased taxation on marketed potatoes. The tax would be used for advertisement and research within the industry.

— Opposed any plan of revenue sharing which would jeopardize such organizations as the extension service.

— Opposed regulation which would require special licensing of farm machinery and its operators.

— Approved maintaining the U.S. Department of Agriculture with retention of the secretary. (Continued on p. 33)

Two dovish Democratic presidential contenders, Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okl., and George S. McGovern, D-S.D., could have provided a majority for the amendment if they had been present. But McGovern was campaigning in New England and Harris was in Oklahoma City.

The amendment, sponsored by Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., was not as strong as earlier amendments to cut off funds for the war, since it did not impose a deadline for withdrawal. But the administration still fought it vigorously.

Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott told his colleagues before the showdown "we're not just voting on Cooper-Church. We're voting on whether we'll have a foreign aid bill at all... this bill is not going anywhere if this amendment is in it. It will be vetoed."

The defeat of the Cooper-Church amendment was a narrow victory for the administration. But it had to accept a partial defeat on another restriction in the aid bill on its Indochina policy.

Mercury plummets in Valley

TWIN FALLS — Thermometers in Magic Valley dipped to record or near record lows for the month of October. Thursday night, according to Ernie Sales of the U.S. weather reporting station at Kimberly.

The official low in the state, according to the weather bureau, was at Fairfield, where a minus one reading was recorded. An unofficial reading of minus four was recorded at the Buck Creek Ranger Station.

Winter put on a serious appearance at Magic Mountain Thursday, with 15 inches of snow on the ground. Another two inches fell during the night.

At Fairfield, only a trace of snow was reported, while about an inch of snow Thursday.

The overnight low at Kimberly was 9 degrees, compared to a previous low for October of 18 degrees. Twin Falls' low was 11, compared to the all-time low of 19 set in 1917.

Forest Service officials reported 17 inches of snow had fallen at Magic Mountain south of Twin Falls.

Senate narrowly defeats Vietnam War fund cuts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate, heavily on record in favor of a swift withdrawal from Vietnam regardless of the consequences to the Saigon government, still is unwilling to enforce its decision by closing the pursestrings.

Under pressure of a presidential veto, members rejected by a one-vote margin the Cooper-Church amendment which would have cut off funds for the war except those needed to withdraw American troops and protect them as they leave.

The restriction was removed from the foreign aid bill by a 46 to 45 roll call vote Thursday. The vote will go into the record books, however, as 47 to 44 because Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., switched before the final tally for a procedural reason.

Two dovish Democratic presidential contenders, Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okl., and George S. McGovern, D-S.D., could have provided a majority for the amendment if they had been present. But McGovern was campaigning in New England and Harris was in Oklahoma City.

Meet the TF candidates, 8 p.m. today, YMCA

Time changes Sunday

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Most Americans will have a chance Sunday to get back that hour of sleep they lost last spring.

Daylight Savings Time officially ends at 2 a.m. and clocks will have to be turned back one hour.

The autumn half of the "Spring forward, fall back" ritual will not be observed in four states—Arizona, Hawaii, Michigan, and Indiana. Under provisions of the Uniform Time Act of 1966, these states have exempted themselves from going on Daylight Savings Time.

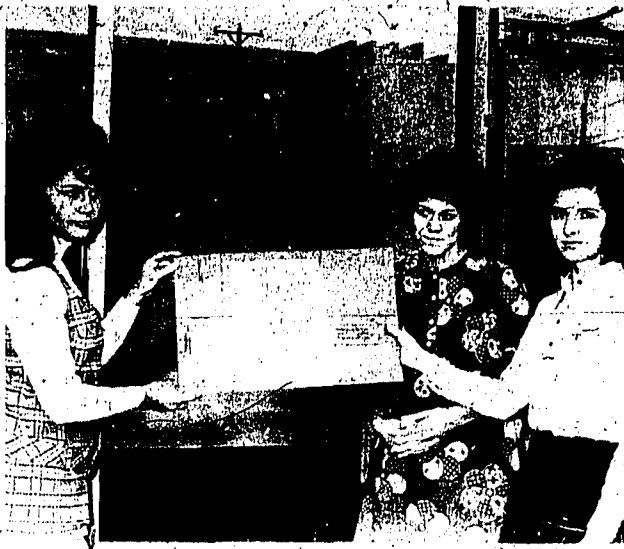

Until the passage of that law, the United States was a crazy-quilt of time. Some cities within a state remained on Standard

Time and others advanced to Daylight Savings Time.

First introduced in World War I as a means of saving electricity, the idea caught on but remained controversial until the federal government set up mandatory rules.

Farmers would rather have the extra daylight in the morning, but city dwellers wanted it at the end of the day. Transportation interests like railroad and airlines were its biggest backers. In fact, the railroads set up the first time zones in 1883.

Once again, for those who can never remember which way the clock is turned—this Sunday it is turned back one hour.

Candidate Fair

POSTERS TELL of plans for the League of Women Voters Candidate Fair to be held tonight at the YMCA at 8 p.m. when candidates will be introduced to the city voters. Making preparations are Mrs. Ernie Salas, Mrs. Loren Cannon and Mrs. Patrick Florence, from left. All Twin Falls City candidates have been asked to participate and the fair is open to the public.

Saigon police enforce security regulations

SAIGON (UPI)—Saigon police today enforced the tightest security restrictions ever imposed in the capital in preparation for Sunday's presidential inauguration. American officials warned that a wave of terrorist attacks would be expected during the weekend.

Outside the capital, Communist gunners shot down an American OH6 helicopter 23 miles northeast of Saigon today, but the two Americans aboard parachuted to safety, the U.S. military command said.

The Americans had flown nine miles north of the big U.S. air base at Bien Hoa searching for Communist movement in the area when they were hit by ground fire. The chopper was destroyed when it burned on landing, spokesmen said.

Communist guerrillas today launched a vicious 70-round mortar barrage against an infantry regimental headquarters in the mountain resort town of Dalat, 140 miles northeast of the capital, and followed it up with a commando attack, the Saigon command said. They killed six government troops and wounded four, leaving one body behind, a spokesman said.

Authorities in Saigon increased security as foreign dignitaries began arriving for Sunday's inauguration of President Nguyen Van Thieu for a second four-year term.

Police barred motorists and pedestrians from a four-square-mile area in the heart of the city until after Thieu's investiture. Police told civilians to evacuate parked cars from the area and "strictly obey" police orders.

Police arrested an unidentified American trying to take pictures of the inaugural site early this morning while conducting door-to-door and rooftop searches around the hill, wood and steel platform.

Among the dignitaries due to arrive Saturday was Treasury Secretary John B. Connally. Squads of U.S. security men turned up at the inaugural platform with binoculars and radios today, presumably to doublecheck security precautions taken by their South Vietnamese counterparts.

Just outside the capital, American "firefly" helicopters equipped with bright spotlights swept low over swamps east of Saigon Thursday night to pinpoint Viet Cong troops believed intent on disrupting Sunday's inauguration.

War continues Valley Briefs

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—The trouble began with about 60 women screaming abuse and throwing stones at an eight-man British Army patrol in the city's Roman Catholic Ardoyne area, an army spokesman said.

It ended with one sniper dead and a second gunman wounded. In addition, the army said one woman was hit—the fifth woman felled by security forces' bullets in the past week. The sniping incidents Thursday night came as controversy grew over a border incident earlier in the day in which troops of the Irish Republic had their first armed confrontation in 50 years with British soldiers.

Premier Jack Lynch of the Irish Republic said in a statement that the British policy of blowing up minor border roads, which touched off the confrontation, was a "breach of normal good relations."

TWIN FALLS — Plans for a Halloween party were made when members of the Omicron Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Wednesday at the home of Candy Stovall. The party is set for 8:30 p.m. Saturday. Prizes will be given for the best costumes. The next meeting will be Nov. 10.

TWIN FALLS — The First United Pentecostal Church will hold a Halloween open house at the church Saturday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

According to Pastor G. Wallace Vos, the public is invited. He said there would be "free treats, no tricks."

Horses compete indoors

JEROME — Because of weather conditions the Idaho Cutting Horse Championships scheduled for Saturday have been moved to the Storey training stable in Jerome.

The top open and novice competition for the 1971 cutting season will be held among top contenders and two trophy saddles awarded winners. Plans were to hold the event outdoors in Twin Falls but competition has been moved indoors in the cutting arena at the Storey stables, Norma Aslett, association member said today. The event will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Kiwanis hears candidates

By O.A. (GUS) KELKER
Editor, Times-News

TWIN FALLS — A former mayor told candidates seeking seats on the Twin Falls City Council in Tuesday's election they will be faced with many problems and their task of trying to solve them will not be an easy one.

The cautioning remarks were made by Egon Kroll as he introduced 11 of 13 candidates to members of the Kiwanis Club Thursday noon at the Turf Club. Kroll was the club's program chairman for the day.

Two candidates — Mike Gray and Lynn Goodman — were not present. Goodman had a previous commitment and Gray was hospitalized. The other 11 candidates were introduced and each gave a brief statement.

Kroll said problems and "things for you to think about" will be possibility of a new, and combined, police and fire station; demand for more services and the demand at the same time for no raise in taxes; anticipated cost of living wage request by city employees; sewage treatment plant "that is on the books"; the city's expanding recreation program; the proposal that mobile homes, now coming more and more into use, be permitted on lots within the city.

The candidates and a brief of their comments:

(1) J. Clifton Smallwood. He said he felt some other departments of the city could be curtailed in order that more money would be available for street improvements. "We must get more out of the tax dollar," he said. He pointed out he had been a resident of the city for 30 years.

(2) Mrs. Ann Cover. The only woman candidate, she said she was not running on a platform involving "women's lib." She said street improvements should come through open bidding and should not be done by city crews. Now that her children are raised, she said, she has plenty of time an "I think I can help the city."

(3) Mike Thompson. A CSI student, Thompson is the youngest candidate. He said his political position was known from press releases but that he would like to comment on just why he decided to run. He said it was his opinion the council should be composed of all interest groups — not "just old men or young men or businessmen or laboring men." He said the council should be a "balanced one" and that this could be achieved by selective voting from among the candidates seeking the four open posts.

(4) Ray Crandal. He said he was probably the most "controversial" candidate because he was opposed to the city manager form of government. He said the matter should be put to a vote of the people to determine if they still wanted this form. He said he didn't believe solutions to problems can be given before the problems are studied.

(5) Col. Winston Jones. Col. Jones is the only council member seeking to succeed himself. He has been a council member for two years and now seeks a four-year term. He said he believes the present council "has been a good team" with wide differences but that they have reached solutions. He expressed the opinion the "good work" could be continued if he remained a member of the team.

(6) Dr. Stephen R. Lincoln. He said the issue is growth and progress. "But actually it is really not an issue, it is a challenge." He said that "I welcome the challenge growth and progress means."

(7) Stephen M. Carter. He said "I want the streets improved and improved immediately. Not later but now." He also advocated a 15-mile-an-hour speed limit around all the schools. He called for an "action line" direct to the city council, probably through the news media. He also advocated services be available for annexed areas before the areas are annexed.

(8) R. Dee Jenkins. He said that he was long a resident of Twin Falls and "loved Idaho and Twin Falls." He said he wanted to be a part of the city planning. (9) Stephen R. Bancroft. He agreed the present council had done a good job. He said "I am living in Twin Falls because I want to live here" and added that his 21 years experience as an accountant would aid in solving the city's financial problems.

(10) Dave Killen. He said he was interested in the city golf course and parks. He was critical of irrigation practices at the city course and contended funds available were not enough to operate it. He also expressed a view the Twin Falls library "was good" but that it should have more money for improved facilities.

(11) Rex Ulrich. He said as problems come up "I am going to look at them like a business man and spend your dollars like I would like my own dollars spent." He said he was for the city manager type government because with the complexities of a modern city a part-time official could not do the job.

The candidates "drew straws" for the order of introduction.

Registration for city vote closes Saturday

TWIN FALLS — Registration books for city council election Tuesday will close at 9 p.m. Saturday.

Elythe Koontz, city clerk, said her office will be open from 7 to 9 p.m., tonight and again Saturday night to accommodate working persons who do not have an opportunity to register during the day. The office will also be open Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. It will reopen at 7 p.m. Today, there were 3,036 registrations on the city books, Mrs. Koontz said. All persons who have missed voting in one city election must register again, the clerk said, and those who have moved to a new address since voting must also register again.

Mrs. Koontz said registration of 18, 19, 20 and 21-year-old voters is running about average with registration of older voters with no heavy registration of young voters.

All registration is being conducted at the clerk's office at City Hall. Persons registered for the election this week on airport and wine sales questions are not necessarily registered for the city election. City registration books are separate from county, the clerk said, and this year there has been confusion because of registrations being conducted at the same time.

Thirteen candidates including 12 men, one 18 years of age, and one woman are seeking office. Voters will fill four council vacancies.

Readers theatre begins tonight

TWIN FALLS — "It's a great world to be born into — if you don't mind . . ." chant the readers in the CSI Readers' Theatre production "Modern Matters" to be shown tonight and Saturday night at 8:15 in the Cirque Theater.

The Cirque Theater, in the CSI Fine Arts Auditorium, is a small theater-in-the-round sort of arrangement, with the audience seated on one side, facing a "stage" devoid of scenery or props other than four tall stools and a two-sided set of stairs. The actors are readers, sometimes reading their parts, or at least carrying the script but rarely referring to their well-learned lines.

The small five-member cast of Susan Pattig, Jim Langley, Marcia Lickley, Rhonda Miracle and Keith Coats, all members of the drama honorary Delta Psi Omega, present three acts termed "shows" in this most unusual production. Drama instructor Mrs. Marion (Fran) Tanner is director and producer.

The shows, each bearing no relation to the others, comment on life in America in terse, pointed fashion, sometimes humorous, often somber and hard-hitting. The comment "It's a great life to be born into . . . if you don't mind dead minds at higher levels . . ." gets things under way.

The readers echo all the moods of life in all its complexities — happy, sad, angry, glad. Superb actors all, they live their roles to the fullest throughout.

Tickets are available at the information desk in the CSI Commons Building. The public is invited to attend either performance.

Student council meet set

TWIN FALLS — The Idaho Association of Student Councils will hold its 14th annual fall conference at the College of Southern Idaho Nov. 14 through 16.

Student council officials from high schools throughout Idaho will attend, said Larry Anderson Jr., Twin Falls, state president.

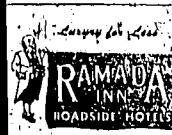

Anthony Park, Idaho attorney general and State Sen. John Barker, R-Buhl, chairman of the Senate Education Committee, will be among the speakers.

Possibility: Social Security Hike

WASHINGTON — Prospects are definitely brightening for another Social Security increase next July 1.

deemed emergency legislation and certain of enactment this year. By shifting the Social Security hike from the huge and highly controversial welfare legislation to one of these bills its adoption will be assured this year.

It also has a procedural advantage that would be crucial in the House. As that chamber has already approved the Social Security increase — when the chamber passed the family assistance program last spring — the former would be "germane" as part of another bill.

Social Security increase because of the opposition to the welfare bill. "It's ridiculous," says Stratton, "to ask the millions of senior citizens living on Social Security to wait another two or three years to get much-needed additional benefits which one branch of Congress has already approved simply because of the difficulties associated with an entirely different program.

Potential Risk

WASHINGTON — As I understand Edward Cole, president of General Motors, the owners of eight million Chevrolet produced from 1965 through 1969 need not worry about dying a sudden death if their driving skills qualify them for competing in the Indianapolis "500."

Drivers who have complained to the Federal agency claim that their cars lurched forward so suddenly that, before they could turn off the ignition and put the car into neutral, they had hit something.

Women Vote?

NEW YORK — A group of male chauvinist sexist pigs met here recently at a black-tie stag dinner to see if they could do anything about stopping the Women's Lib movement.

Network officials dedicated to variety show

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Among the curiosities of the new television season is NBC-TV's all-out devotion to its new one-hour comedy-variety series "The Funny Side," for which Gene Kelly is the chief host.

The show is getting killed in the ratings on Tuesday nights by ABC-TV's "Marcus Welby, M.D." and "Movie of the Week," and CBS-TV's "Cannon," a new entry with Bill Conrad as a fat, middle-aged private eye.

Nonetheless, some NBC-TV executives seem to have made "The Funny Side" into a personal cause, and have let it be known far and wide that they are going to stand by it as long as is humanly possible.

For all I know, their decision may turn out to be a successful move in the long run so far as the ratings are concerned. NBC-TV, to its credit, has a good reputation for sticking to shows it thinks has potential so they at least have a chance to develop. ABC-TV, on the other hand, drops series almost as fast as they are made.

However, in the case of "The Funny Side," it is difficult to comprehend just exactly what NBC-TV is standing by. Outside of the fact that variety shows are very scarce on the networks these days, "The Funny Side" has very little of value or originality going for it, and its horizons seem highly limited.

In case you haven't heard, this is a series that tries to poke fun at various aspects of contemporary American life through the use of five couples who represent different life styles—young, old, middle-aged, black, white, blue collar, white collar and so forth.

It has some amusing performers and occasional moments of recent comedy, but by and large—despite the gracious hosting of Kelly and a guest host like Jack Benny—it is routine in the extreme. It would seem that if a network wants to stand by a certain cause in programming, it would have much more prestigious and worthwhile choices to choose from. Even many NBC-TV executives are mystified at the network's dedication to "The Funny Side."

It strikes me that if a network wants to be identified with principle in keeping a certain show on the air, it would surely get more out of its move by selecting a program that is some kind of breakthrough in broadcasting, something that takes real guts to put on and keep on. Then if you are going down with a certain honor above and beyond the call of programming at the network level.

"The Funny Side," though, isn't being talked about by anybody I know except the people at NBC-TV. An hour special about why the network is sticking by it would undoubtedly be more worthwhile as television than any given broadcast of the series itself.

Status of Idaho board questioned

BOISE (UPI) — Despite mandatory provisions of a state law calling for meetings every March and October, Idaho's natural resources advisory board has not met for 18 months, records disclosed Thursday.

Created in 1967 by the legislature to advise the constitutionally-established land board and provide a unified voice for development of and management of the state's resources, the 19-member board has met six times.

Its last meeting was in March of 1970. The October meeting that year apparently was skipped because of the state election campaign then in progress.

Trustees support tax hike

POCATELLO (UPI) — The president of the Idaho State Trustees Association said today his organization will back an increase in sales tax and state income tax to provide more funds for public school education.

Norval Wildman, Burley, told the Idaho Congress of Parents and Teachers existing funding for the public schools is inadequate and said more money will have to come from some other source if quality education is to be maintained.

He said, however, the trustees did not think the money should come from additional taxes on property owners.

The tax increase was part of a seven-point program Wildman said the trustees association will back when the legislature meets again.

Other parts of the program include state-supported kindergartens, the concept of 75 per cent state funding for public schools, accountability for every school teacher on a voluntary basis, intensive vocational education programs, a statewide data processing information center and exemption of school districts from various sales and use taxes.

Wildman said Idaho schools are providing now a better education than ever before, but added, "Sometimes we are more concerned with our shortcomings than with our successes. It's time that we took a look at our accomplishments and goals and stand proud."

Ron Flinn, Twin Falls, president of the Idaho Education Association, complimented the PTA on bringing its suit against the State Land Board, the State Parks Board and the legislature.

State Land Commissioner Gordon C. Trombley said he discussed the board briefly with now-Gov. Cecil D. Andrus, its chairman, last March and it was decided to postpone a meeting until a more appropriate date.

Section 38-101 of the Idaho Code requires — with the word "shall" — that the resources board meet the third Monday in March and the second Monday in October each year.

Trombley said the board did not hold its October meeting this year and "at the present time there is nothing scheduled." He said he probably was to blame, as the board's non-voting secretary, for not pressing the issue with the governor and other board members.

Andrus was out of town elk hunting Thursday. His administrative assistant and his press secretary also were out of the city.

His federal-state coordinator, Roy Haney, said he had heard of the board although he had not discussed it — or the lack of meetings — with the chief executive.

"I don't know if it (lack of a meeting) was an oversight," Haney said. "But I am told that in the past the board's meetings were not productive."

"I've heard the comment it was basically a waste of money getting those people here when they came."

Whether Andrus feels this way, however, Haney could not say.

The legislature established the board at a time when the administration of then-Gov. Don W. Samuelson was trying to reorganize the land department.

At its first meeting, the board created subcommittees to outline the board's purposes, to look into inventory of state lands and to consider Payette lakes land development problems. At the time, there was a pending application for sale of 1,700-some acres of state land just north of Payette Lakes.

Out of the subcommittees created at that first meeting, the board came up with recommendations for a state land inventory, a multiple land use and disposal system, and an independent study before sale of anymore state land at Payette lakes.

Peterson has declined to mail the cards to the county's estimated 36,000 eligible voters on Land department personnel still are conducting the inventory — whenever leases come up for renewal — but are stymied by lack of funds from accelerating the program. The other recommendations still are under study.

At its last meeting, some 19 months ago, the board decided to look into air pollution, water pollution, aesthetic values and solid waste problems — as they affected state lands. Samuelson duly appointed subcommittees to study these and report back to the full board.

What the subcommittees have done in this regard is not clear. They never have had a chance to report back to the board.

In creating this board, the legislature — for some reason — included all five members of the state land board on it even though the resources board is supposed to advise the land board.

Auditor Joe R. Williams, as a land board member then and now, said he has heard of no plans for a resources board meeting but would welcome one if it were called. Attorney General W. Anthony Park said he had heard of the board and asked who its members include. A reporter told him he was one of them.

Others on the board include the presidents of the two universities or their representatives; directors of the Water Resource Board and the Parks, Water Administration, and fish and Game Departments; a representative of the Idaho Association of County Commissioners and Clerks; a representative of the Timber Protective Associations; a representative from the wool growers and cattlemen's associations; a representative of the Idaho Mining Association; a representative of the U.S. Forest Service; the director of the U.S. Forest Service Intermountain Experiment Station; the state commissioner of agriculture, and the state director of the U.S. Bureau of Land Management.

State and federal employees on the board receive no extra compensation for their services and their own agencies pay their expenses. Others receive actual expenses. Trombley said the land department picks up whatever tab there is.

Clerk 'holds out'

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho (UPI) — Harold Peterson, Kootenai County clerk, Thursday continued to hold out against compliance with an order from Secretary of State Pete Cenarrusa to mail out voter re-registration forms to county residents.

Peterson has declined to mail the cards to the county's estimated 36,000 eligible voters on grounds the Idaho code requires the mailing only when there is a complete or blanket registration and that there is no code at this time, ordering the blanket registration.

Wednesday, John Croner, assistant attorney general, said he will ask first district court to order Peterson to comply with the voter re-registration procedures.

Down

BOISE (UPI) — Boise Cascade Corporation reported Thursday net income in the third quarter of 1971 was $1,480,000, a decrease of 87 per cent from the $11,860,000 earned during the same period a year ago.

Net income per share dropped this year to five cents from the 38 cents earned during the same period a year ago.

Robert V. Hansberger, president of Boise Cascade, said the company does not view the fourth quarter of 1971 with optimism.

Africa's highest peak is 10,349-foot Mount Kilimanjaro.

Court upholds power of trial judges

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Supreme Court affirmed sixth and seventh judicial district orders Thursday, in both cases upholding the discretionary powers of trial judges and trial courts.

One involved a seventh district court decision in Bonneville County to grant a new trial in a case brought by Jerrie Evans against Albert Small and Consolidated Freightways, Inc.

After a jury rendered a verdict of $28,000 in favor of Evans, the district court granted a new trial because of alleged errors in the court's instruction to the jury.

Supreme court Justice Charles R. Donaldson, writing the decision for the high court, agreed with the district court the instructions were erroneous and noted a trial judge possesses wide discretion to grant or deny a new trial, a discretion the seventh district judge did not abuse.

The other case arose when Sixth District Court in Bear Lake County dismissed a suit against Ray L. Wildmer, Geneva, because Paul Cox, Salt Lake City, failed to prosecute the case with "due diligence."

Cox was not present with the jury trial began and while his counsel called one witness he was unable to proceed further without the testimony of Cox.

Cox's counsel then asked for a continuance, which the district court denied, and the case was dismissed for failure to prosecute.

Writing for the high court, Justice Donaldson noted the question of dismissal for failure to prosecute is generally with the discretion of the trial court and said the supreme court found no abuse of discretion in the case.

2 Gooding hopefuls

DORIS VAUGHAN
 Name: Doris Vaughan
 Candidate for: Gooding City Council
 Age: 47
 Birthplace: Dearborn, Mich.
 Address: 1234 Idaho St., Gooding
 Employment:
 Previous political experience:
 Education: 12 years
 Affiliations: PTA, Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary, Cancer Crusade and election judge for Gooding County.
 Family: Husband, Harry R. Vaughan, three children.
 Qualifications:
 Why should you be the voters' choice?
 Reason for election: Many people wonder why I chose to run, and I say why not? Does every voter in a community think it takes a business man to decide what's best for our city? I've known of many decisions made that benefit the individual more than the community. Because I am a housewife, mother and parttime clerk does not mean that I lack the honesty and sincerity known as integrity to serve my community. I have lived and worked in our city for 40 years and have seen the good and the bad. I can assure the people their voices can and will be heard through my seat on the city council.

EUGENE KELLY

 Affiliations: Chamber of Commerce, Elks Lodge, senior warden and lay leader of Episcopal church, past master of Masonic lodge.
 Family: Wife, Dorothy, and four children.

Lost wallet returned

SHOSHONE — "There are still some honest people in the world," Gilbert Pierson, Shoshone drug store owner, said today.

On Sept. 21 or Sept. 22, as he was leading a horse out of the Thompson Flat area from an elk hunting trip in company with a group of other men, he lost his billfold.

It was returned to Jim Wednesday by mail, with a little note from Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. King, Route 1, Arco, who said they had found it earlier this week, as they went along the Thompson Flat route in the Selway Forest.

Contents of the billfold were intact and in addition to the money it contained, other valuables included: his credit cards, driver license and other personal things.

Edges of the billfold, however, showed definite evidence of an attempt to explore, as it had been gnawed along one end and the folded section.

Pierson speculates one of the little varmints of the forest thought he had found a good, free meal, then gave it up after finding the leather a bit distasteful.

Report expected

TWIN FALLS — County commissioners said Thursday they expect a report from preliminary surveys on a joint city-county jail facility by next week and can then make plans for needed improvements in the county jail.

Merl E. Leonard, commissioner, said no action has been taken pending reports of a survey being paid for by the city and county and from the State Law Enforcement Planning Commission funds and scheduled to be completed this week.

Leonard said when information from the survey is available the county should have a better idea of feasibility of the joint complex and will know how extensive repairs for the existing facility should be.

License office adds clerk

TWIN FALLS — An extremely heavy load in the driver's license bureau of the Twin Falls County Sheriff's office has brought the employment of a third clerk.

Sheriff Paul Corder said Mrs. Anita Angelina Cargill is being added to the staff in the bureau. Mrs. Cargill, who speaks Spanish, will be a great asset to the sheriff's office staff, Corder said, because she will be able to assist Spanish speaking people who apply for licenses. She also may be called upon to interpret for officers in police work at the sheriff's office.

Sheriff Corder said there is a need for someone who can speak Spanish in his department because of the large number of full-time residents and seasonal workers who are Mexican-American.

Sheriff Corder said that in 1970 there were 7,507 chauffeur's and driver's licenses issued in Twin Falls County. In the first nine months of this year, there have been 9,004 issued. The sheriff said this does not include a large number of driver training permits issued by the license bureau.

Mrs. Cargill, wife of Twin Falls City Police Officer Jerry Cargill, was with the San Bernardino Police Department for four and a half years.

Other employees in the license bureau are Mrs. Laura Haynes and Mrs. Nadine McMaster.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Prices were mixed after more than three hours of trading Friday. Turnover was light.

While the market generally was on the upside, the Dow Jones industrial average was moving lower. As of 1 p.m., the DJIA had given up almost 2 points to 835.63. Of the 1,520 issues on the tape, they were 633 advances and 540 declines. Standard & Poor's 500-stock index eased 0.11 to 93.85.

Several analysts observed that the market has been "overvalued" for some time and that it rally could be in order. One analyst offered the opinion that for weeks the market has been in a "disorganized psychological state," thus militating against any sustained advance.

Volume after three hours was 6.5 million shares, compared to 10.3 million at 1 p.m. Thursday. Wrigley Co., which opened fractionally higher, gave up 1 1/2 points, apparently succumbing to profit taking. The issue rose more than 4 Thursday.

Steels moved up fractionally. Motors were mixed. Chemicals and oils moved fractionally in either direction.

Electronics eased, led by Magnavox down 2 and IBM off 1. Magnavox and Texas Instruments lost large fractions. Fairchild Camera, recovering from Thursday's drop of more than 8 points, added 1 1/2.

Atom radiation helps plants resist disease

TWIN FALLS—With the use of atomic technology, scientists are learning to manipulate the heart of all life in a deliberate attempt to produce disease-resistant crop seed, according to Dr. A. M. Finley, University of Idaho plant pathologist.

Dr. Finley, professor of plant pathology in the Department of Plant Sciences at Moscow, told an agronomical conference at the Holiday Inn on Thursday that disease resistance can be

Farming relation stressed

TWIN FALLS — Nuclear technology has an ever-growing relation to the science of agriculture, ranging from charting the growth of living plant roots through every phase of farming to the treatment of farm products for insect control.

A series of speakers outlined these and many other phases of nuclear technology in a day-long agronomical conference Thursday at the Holiday Inn. Sponsored by the Idaho Nuclear Energy Commission, the conference brought a wide variety of professional men together to share concepts and swap ideas, all centered around the growth of Idaho agriculture.

Speakers included Idaho Agriculture Commissioner Oscar Arstein; Dr. Ronald D. Ensign, associate director of the Idaho Agricultural Experiment Station, who discussed the work of the University of Idaho in agricultural research; Dr. Wayne Bills, speaking for the Idaho Operations Office, Atomic Energy Commission, discussing nuclear research and education in Idaho, and Dr. Robert Brugger, an official of Aerojet Nuclear, speaking on the National Reactor Testing station's role in agricultural research.

Others speaking Thursday morning included Dr. Arthur M. Finley, professor of plant pathology at the University of Idaho, speaking on induced disease resistance; Lowell Miller of Aerojet Nuclear, discussing neutron radiography; Dr. Don Huber, affiliated with the Department of Plant Science at Purdue University, speaking on soil sterilization for disease control, and Lynn Sirrine, of the R. T. French Co., discussing potato waste irradiation.

A luncheon speaker, Dr. Warren Witzig, of Pennsylvania State University, was reported snafwed in during a visit to Denver, and could not attend.

Afternoon speakers included Dr. John Howe, Department of Wood Utilization, University of Idaho, who spoke on wood-waste management in a "team effort" with Dr. James Buckingham of Allied Chemical, Corp., which operates a portion of the facilities of the NRTS, and Dr. Howard Smith, associate professor of entomology at the University of Idaho, who outlined techniques for controlling insects by irradiation.

"induced" or developed within the germ plasma of crop seed by nuclear radiation.

In effect, the radiation creates mutations akin to the natural mutations that are caused by natural radiation, but the deliberate treatment can accelerate and pinpoint the mutations, he said.

"Plant pathologists and plant breeders have spent much time, effort and money searching for ways and means of preventing infection. The success of such searches is evident since individual plants resistant to specific diseases have been found in most genera. If the search has been intensive and long enough," Dr. Finley said.

"Generally speaking, the most productive source of resistant germ plasma has been a few such individuals from indigenous populations has often led to the presumption that they originated as mutants created by natural radiation."

Dr. Finley said he discovered the "phenomenon" of naturally occurring disease resistance while searching for "a source of resistance" to the common soilborne pathogen Fusarium, which causes wilting and death of cultivated tomatoes.

"After screening all the known cultivated varieties without success, we finally turned to the mountains of South America where the tomato is presumed to have originated. Literally thousands of individual plants were tested before one was found that was apparently immune to infection. The progeny of this plant, known as Accession 160, is the source of resistance to Fusarium wilt in all cultivated varieties today.

"A similar story can be told about curly-top virus resistance in tomatoes, beans, sugar beets and many other plant disease."

Though much success has been achieved by "this process of foraging exploration, testing and breeding," the process is tedious, time-consuming and expensive, Dr. Finley said. Nuclear scientists have found the tools and the knowledge through their research to "create in the laboratory what nature may already have done if we only knew where to find it. Plants can be irradiated to cause mutations without destroying them. In so doing we do not generate new germ plasma, but we do rearrange whatever nature has provided, to make it more useful to us."

The use of nuclear energy in the United States has been hindered by public fear of "the destructive use of atomic energy," while Europeans have gone further than Americans in the science, Dr. Finley cautioned.

"It is probably being more commonly used in Europe than the United States because new varieties are patentable there and become the sole property of the developer," he explained.

A recent introduction in Idaho and other states is a variety of peppermint which is resistant to Verticillium wilt which has developed by Dr. M. J. Murray of the A. M. Todd Co. Dr. Finley offered details of the work to illustrate the difficulty of producing a desirable mutation.

Peppermint, known genetically as Mentha piperita, was known to be sensitive to the wilt pathogen in 1924, but resistance could not be developed "because of the almost total sterility of the species."

In 1955, Dr. Murray began his studies of irradiation, and over a four-year period, 1955 to 1959, he irradiated 138,514 stolons. Of these, 103,667 survived the treatment and were planted in a field heavily infested with wilt. Dr. Murray selected 10 wilt-resistant clones which were treated under controlled conditions in the greenhouse and in fields in Oregon, Washington and Michigan.

Finally, three clones were selected as having potential commercial value.

Potato, beet harvest slows

BOISE — Harvesting of potatoes and sugar beets in Idaho was slowed this week due to cool weather and rains, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The harvest of potatoes, now well advanced, is expected to be slower for the rest of the season due to the likelihood of more frequent storm activity and cool temperatures.

Sugar beet harvest is in full swing and cool temperatures are helping the stockpiles to keep better. About 35 per cent of the sugar beet crop is now dug.

Winter grains are responding well to the wet weather in North and East Idaho where stands are in excellent condition.

Farmers are generally entering into the late fall and winter cycle of feeding livestock and completing tillage operations, the department said.

Temperatures for the week ending Oct. 22 averaged two to six degrees below normal with the lowest temperatures the first half of the week. Precipitation was heavy north and east, elsewhere it was near normal.

The USDA reports that there will be no more crop weather bulletins for the 1971 season.

Nevada FB sets session

EKLO, Nev. (UPI) — The Nevada Farm Bureau Federation will open its annual three-day convention Nov. 4.

Featured first-day speaker will be Craig Thomas, head of the commodity division of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Other speakers at the convention include Jess Goicoechea, Nevada Woolgrowers Assn. President; Dr. Dale Bohm of the College of Agriculture at the University of Nevada, Reno; and Mrs. Haven Smith, chairman of the women's committee of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

LAS VEGAS (UPI)—With an approximate playing life of only two days, a finished set of Las Vegas casino dice is the culmination of more than 11 months of curing a precision machining involving 13 separate operations.

BOISE — Wheat stocks in Idaho were up about one per cent from a year ago on Oct. 1, according to the Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. On farm wheat stocks decreased 11 per cent, but off-farm wheat stocks increased 16 per cent a year earlier. Idaho's supply of major feed grains — oats, barley and mixed grain — was below the level a year ago. Oats and barley supplies were lower but mixed grain stocks were higher.

On Oct. 1, the total major feed grain stocks in the state was 1,023 million tons, compared with 1,131 million tons a year ago.

Total stocks of the four feed grains — oats, barley, and sorghum — on Oct. 1, amounted to 50.6 million tons, 21 per cent less than the 64.2 million tons a year earlier. Large declines were noted in corn and sorghum while barley and oats were relatively unchanged.

Procedures asked by airport board

BURLEY — Representation on the permanent airport board of trustees, election procedures, and the process of annexation are among questions outlined in a letter from George Forschler, chairman of the airport interim board of trustees, to the Idaho attorney general's office.

In his letter to Assistant Attorney General John Croner, Forschler requested clarification of these and other issues in the light of Tuesday's vote.

Croner said Thursday he hoped to be able to respond "within a week."

The questions set out in Forschler's letter include the following:

How long will the present Twin Falls representatives continue to serve as trustees in the light of that county's refusal to back the authority?

How is representation on the permanent board to be determined since in some cases legislative districts split over the authority vote?

How many trustees are required to sit on the board by law?

What is the process by which counties can be annexed into the authority at a later date?

What are the procedures for holding elections for the filling of seats on the permanent board?

What power does the interim board enjoy in terms of establishing committees and gaining reimbursement for expenses?

Many of the questions are in keeping with Forschler's stated intention to pursue the establishment of an airport "in the next five to seven years."

In an interview Wednesday Forschler expressed hope that eventually Twin Falls County would agree to become part of the authority.

The interim board is scheduled to meet Thursday to notify the aviation officials of the establishment of the board by vote. The chairman is expected to be in Washington, D. C., in a week to hold discussions with federal officials on the availability of funding for a preliminary study for the board.

Of the eight Magic Valley counties, Twin Falls, Blaine and Camas failed to pass the question.

Wendell sets fee on wine

WENDELL — City councilmen in Wendell asked the city attorney Thursday night to draft an ordinance setting a license fee of $25 for grocery store wine sales in Wendell.

The councilmen, in voting for drafting of the ordinance, said that the license fee would be set for the three grocery stores in Wendell which currently sell beer. They are Simerly's, IGA Cash Grocery and Parr's Food Center. None of the three has made application for a license according to city officials, but all have indicated they would when the ordinance is drafted.

Mrs. Gwen Collett, city clerk, said a public hearing has been scheduled for 8 p.m. Dec. 9 in the city offices pertaining to a zone variance requested by James Archibald. The hearing will be to determine if a mobile home can be placed in Lot 5, Block 56, on a space less than the now required 2,050 square feet.

Beginning Jan. 1, installation of water services to homes and businesses will be increased to cover the complete cost of installation.

November council meetings were rescheduled for Nov. 10 and Nov. 29, instead of the second and fourth Thursdays.

TF wine sales to start soon

TWIN FALLS — Wine sales should be able to begin in Twin Falls grocery stores early next week, city and county officials indicated today.

County commissioners said they will set a license fee and adopt a county ordinance on sales later today.

City Manager Jean Milar said he has instructed the city attorney to draw up a city ordinance which will be discussed and possibly voted on Monday night by the city council. He said his recommendation, based on what state law permits and what other cities are doing, will call for the maximum $100 per year city license fee. The county is also expected to set the fee at the maximum, $100.

Milar said the city clerk's office is now taking applications for licenses and about six grocery stores have applied for wine sale permits. He said the Association of Idaho Cities has recommended the cities use the regular beer license forms and simply cross out the "beer" and write in "wine" to permit immediate licensing.

County Clerk Harold Lancaster said he has ordered printers to make up a county license as soon as possible.

Voters of Twin Falls County approved wine sales in retail outlets in a special election Tuesday.

Pocatello men hurt in crash

WENDELL — Two young Pocatello men were injured Thursday, one of them critically, in a two-vehicle collision in Gooding County.

James Burke, Gooding County deputy sheriff, said one of the victims, Melvin Howard, 22, Pocatello, was taken by helicopter to St. Alphonsus Hospital, Boise. Howard, who received a fractured leg, head, chest and other injuries, was in critical condition this morning.

Howard was driver of one of the vehicles involved in the 9 a.m. accident. His passenger, Doland Page, 21, Pocatello, is hospitalized at Gooding and is listed in good condition.

Burke said Howard, traveling east, failed to stop at a stop sign and his vehicle collided with a truck driven by Wilbur Greufe, Wendell, and owned by James Gunning, Wendell rancher. Greufe received minor injuries.

Officers said the accident occurred at the intersection of Idaho Highway 25 and the Wendell-Hagerman road a mile west of Wendell.

Howard and Page, employees at the Bell Rapids project near Hagerman, had been living in Wendell.

In other business, Harold Gray, Moscow, was elected to a three-year term on the Grange executive committee.

Forschler was featured speaker for the annual lecturer's program. Also appearing were Rick Waitley, member of the National Grange youth organization; the Minico High School dance band, and the local chapter of the Sweet Adelines singing group.

Tonight, he goes on the auction block.

Bid lack delays drilling

BOISE (UPI) — The lack of a suitable number of bidders for the drilling of two stock water wells will hold up needed range improvement work on Bureau of Land Management land in eastern Idaho.

Clair Whitlock, Boise, associate state director for the BLM in Idaho, said the wells are needed for balanced use in two critical range resource areas, one approximately 12 miles south of Arco and the other about 10 miles north of St. Anthony.

Whitlock said a single contract will be let as soon as an acceptable bid is received.

Opening of bids set

BOISE — Bids will be opened by the Idaho Highway Department Tuesday on a 12.1 mile interstate highway project in Elmore County.

Officials said the work includes roadway and drainage structures on 12.1 miles of Interstate 80 North from State Highway 68 to Gap. The Highway 68 interchange is a short distance north of Mountain Home.

Opposition asked for Packwood bill

By DAVID ESPO
Times-News Writer

BURLEY — Sen. Len B. Jordan, Idaho, appended to the state Grange convention Thursday to work against a bill that would declare the middle Snake River a national waterway for recreational purposes.

Sen. Jordan attacked the Packwood bill as "dangerous" adding, "I resent people outside planning the use of a resource like that."

"The bill would authorize the federal government to assume control of the middle portion of the Snake, purchase adjacent property and develop recreational areas. It was drawn up by Oregon's Sen. Robert Packwood.

At present, Jordan said, the river irrigates approximately 3.5 million acres and is capable of twice that. At a time when the amount of land being taken out of production doubles that of new acreage going into production, Jordan said, "We've got to be careful about husbanding our resources. There are plenty of people who want to do our planning for us, but generally speaking it should be kept close at home."

Jordan and others have said that if the Packwood bill becomes law, federal regulations would control the downstream flow and deprive arable lands of needed water.

For the present, Jordan said, the bill is not likely to become law. "But, I want you to become alert," he said. "I warn you to become careful. We have the water, so let's be careful."

Turning to the United Nations and the domestic economic situation, Jordan said the government had overextended itself in both areas.

"We've attempted to be not only the world's policeman, but sought to be other nations' Santa Claus, a rich uncle," he said. He said this week's vote in the United Nations to send the People's Republic of China at the expense of Nationalist China proved "you simply can't buy people with money."

"It's significant," he said, "that many of the people who have been our allies over the years who've received the greater part of our foreign aid deserted us."

Also in that vein, he said, he applauded the president's new economic program, including the import surcharge imposed on foreign made goods. "The 10 per cent duty is long overdue," he said. "In our efforts to be relatively free traders we were being put upon."

Jordan defended President Nixon's decision to halt the convertibility of dollars into gold, saying "the president simply had to move. The dollar was under pressure."

He called upon the Grangers to support the president's economic plan. "I think we will get the country moving again, but it will take some doing. It's going to require the cooperation of all of us."

The alternative to the economic changes were a further rise in unemployment and a continued "unconscionable" rise in inflation at the present rate of six per cent a year.

The Grange convention ends today with action expected to be taken on over 40 resolutions now being considered in committee.

TF zone hearings slated

TWIN FALLS — The first of two public hearings to be held on the revised Twin Falls City zoning ordinance will be held at 8 p.m. Nov. 22 by the planning and zoning commission.

City Manager Jean Milar said a second public hearing will be held by the city council and he will ask Monday night that a date be set sometime following the hearing.

Members of the zoning group have been working throughout the past year to modernize and revamp the city's zoning laws. They have also prepared a new mobile home court ordinance and one governing commercial signing.

These do not require public hearings but will be reviewed during council meetings before action is taken, the city manager said.

Air pollution index 45

The pollution reading was taken by the staff of the South Central Health District at the Twin Falls City Hall. The reading is reported as the number of micrograms of particulate material per cubic meter of air for the 24 hour period.

Federal pollution regulations say air pollution levels should be kept below 75 micrograms per cubic meter. Readings should not be permitted to rise above 250 micrograms for even a short period of time.

Forecast

Today: Good
Tonight: Poor
Tomorrow: Good

This forecast provided by the Idaho Department of Health indicates the ability of the atmosphere to disperse pollution burning as permitted by law should be curtailed when the air is poorly able to disperse air pollutants.

Golden Jubilee of Soroptimism observed by Twin Falls group

TWIN FALLS — The Golden Jubilee of Soroptimism was celebrated by the local club this week at their Founder's Day dinner at the Rogerson Hotel Roundup Room.

Husbands of members were guests, along with Mayor and Mrs. Frank Feldtman; Mrs. Ina Knox and Mrs. Doris Harper from the BPW Club, and Mrs. Louise Harral and Mrs. Emma Stone, Golden Ago Club.

Since United Nations Day was observed in October, the head table decorations consisted of the United Nations flag display which the club houses in the Twin Falls Public Library for the use of the public; a copy of the United Nations emblem and pictures of the building and rooms of the U.N. building.

Other decorations were autumn fruits and vegetables centered with pumpkins on each table, resting on strips of blue, together with blue candles in golden delicious apples, carrying out the blue and gold colors of Soroptimism.

Mayor Frank Feldtman presented to Ruth Guyer, immediate past president, the coveted Golden Jubilee Certificate and Charter emblem which he received from Katharine Stinson, president of the Soroptimist Federation of the Americas, Inc.

The Golden Jubilee status was achieved during the 50th Biennium by "Leading the Action" in community service projects. In federation citizenship, scholarship and fellowship activities and in contributing to international understanding, in making the presentation, Mayor Feldtman paid tribute to the local club which will celebrate its Silver Anniversary in January, 1972.

Mrs. Louise Bush, president, was in charge of the meeting. Announcement was made by the ways and means committee concerning a rummage sale to be held Nov. 6. Ruth Guyer, Nedra Greene, Delsa Anderson and Maida Olsen made the arrangements for the decorations and program.

program, with organ accompaniment by Jeannine Berg and Bill Doull on the drums. Helen Cannon related the aims and accomplishments of Soroptimism during its 50 years of existence, internationally, nationally and locally, and described the many ways in which the local club has been an asset to Twin Falls. In its projects for women, children and senior citizens.

Maurine Terry gave a brief resume of the founding of the United Nations on Oct. 24, 1945, its various agencies, accomplishments and its objectives. She related the ongoing program of peace carried on by UNICEF, world peace through working toward a better world for children; WHO, world peace working for better health for mankind; FAO, world peace through food for life, and UNESCO, world peace through food for thought.

DEAR ABBY: What should a mother do when she knows her unmarried daughter is taking birth control pills? This daughter doesn't even have a steady boyfriend.

She works, pays room and board and is paying for her own car. Altho her friends have always been welcome at home (tho I admit lately I have criticized the appearance of some of them), she seldom has a date call for her at home anymore.

I just don't know what to do. She leaves these pills in plain sight. Do you think this is her way of asking for help? Or doesn't she give a damn? HER MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: How old is this "unmarried" daughter? If she's 18, she could be asking for help. If she's 28, she may not give a damn. You would worry less if you had more communication and a better relationship. For openers, resolve not to criticize her friends. She sounds like a responsible girl, and there is a chance that she is doing nothing of which she's ashamed.

DEAR ABBY: I have a neighbor I refuse to call her a "friend" who uses people.

She represents a direct-selling cosmetic company and she is always trying to sell the line to everybody she knows. (I bought some.) She also sells a line of cookware. I bought some of that, too. Her son recently started selling subscriptions to magazines, so she sent him around to all of her friends and neighbors, and naturally we couldn't very well turn him down.

She also sells Christmas cards, and gets into people's homes by offering to "collect" for every worthwhile cause you can think of. How can I say, "I've had it" to a woman like this? MILWAUKEE

DEAR MILWAUKEE: In English. Unless you can speak a language she understands better.

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law is a very lovely, well-bred woman who is employed as a housekeeper. Her days off are somewhat irregular. Since my husband is her only child we include her in most of our plans, outings and vacations. She always spends her days off with us, and sometimes we have no notice whatsoever and have already accepted a dinner invitation or weekend with friends. When this occurs, my husband calls the hostess for the dinner (or weekend) and tells her that he is bringing his mother.

I think it is very presumptuous to bring uninvited guests, but my husband says as long as it's his mother it is perfectly all right. What is your opinion? "M"

DEAR "M": I think your husband's obvious consideration for his mother is admirable, even the some hostesses would regard it as an imposition.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "HURT" IN MINNEAPOLIS: It takes an enemy and a "good friend" to hurt you to the quick. The enemy to say something rotten about you. And the "good friend" to tell you she said it.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 89700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Dickson cops one-shot lead over Lee Trevino

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Bob Dickson, a 27-year-old pro who learned to play golf on the windy plains of his native Oklahoma, braved blustery weather in the first round of the $35,000 Sahara Invitational Thursday to shoot a four-under-par 68 for a one-stroke lead over Lee Trevino.

Dickson, who has won only about $17,000 this year as compared with almost $200,000 by Trevino, shot 33-35 on the par 36-36-72 Paradise Valley

Country Club course that was pelted by chilly rain, a bit of snow and gusty winds up to 30 miles an hour during the day.

Trevino who noted he has lost 13 pounds since he underwent surgery for appendicitis in August had a card of 37-32 with an eagle, two birdies and two bogeys.

He said the wind didn't bother him; explaining, "It's just like playing at home in El Paso."

Dickson who has won one tournament, the Haig Open in 1968, his first year as a pro, said, "this was one of my best rounds in a long time ... it was exceptional. I've played a lot in the wind in Oklahoma ... lots of winds 20 to 30 miles an hour but this was an exceptional round for me."

Tied for third a stroke back of Trevino were Bob Goalby with 33-37-70 and Dale Douglass, 38-34.

There were five pros at 71—Don January 37-34; Jim Jamleson 35-38; Denne Berman 34-37; Bert Vancey 38-33 and Fred Marti, 35-36.

Dickson had a remarkable putting round. He had six birdies and two bogeys. Four of his birdie putts rolled in from 20 feet.

Arnold Palmer, No. 3 money-winner this year, could do no better than 38-36-74 and commented philosophically, "I've played in worse weather—but not often."

Only nine pros from the starting field of 144 broke par 72.

The official high temperature for the day at nearby McCarran airport was 47. Winds gusts to 30 miles an hour across the unprotected expanses of this desert course. There was a brief snow flurry during the morning and intermittent bursts of cold rain.

Mike Irwin, an early starter, shot 39-39-78 and said "I figure breaking 80 isn't bad out here. It was so cold I couldn't take a full swing."

January, another Texan who knows how to play in the wind, said, "The only way to play under these conditions is jump and run. I run. You've got to just roll the ball up there and jump and run after it."

High man for the day was Bob Damron, a young pro from Dallas, Tex., who shot 48-44-92—20 over par. He was in the first threesome starting at 7:15 a.m. when the temperature was just above freezing.

Most of the pros wore foul weather gear—heavy windbreakers and extra trousers over their regular slacks.

Montana State gets NCAA slap

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—The NCAA Council Thursday reprimanded and censured Montana State University for violating principles governing financial aid to student-athletes.

Specifically, the NCAA said in a statement, during September 1970 the university's head football coach presented a $10 cash award to a student-athlete for outstanding performance in a football game Sept. 26, 1970.

Also, the NCAA said, during the 1969-1970 academic year, the university granted a student-athlete's institutional financial aid during the period of its award for athletic reasons. It said the financial aid awarded to the student-athlete was graduated in the amount of room and board for approximately five weeks during the spring semester.

And the NCAA said the form utilized by the university to notify grant-in-aid recipients contained requirements for maintenance of the award which permitted the institution to cancel or graduate financial aid during the period of its award for athletic reasons.

Every other Big Ten school has lost at least two conference games and could get back in contention only if both Ohio State and Michigan lost twice, an unlikely occurrence.

Wisconsin, with a 2-2 record, appears at Iowa Saturday as a two-touchdown choice to hand the Hawkeyes their eighth straight loss without a win, while Northwestern, also 2-2, will be at Illinois in an intra-state battle with the Illini seeking their second straight win after six defeats to open the season.

Notre Dame, 6-1 for the season but out of the top 10 rated teams nationally, also will be at home, against Navy.

Colorado rated underdog despite 5-1 record; Buffs playing at Oklahoma

By BILL MADDEN
UPI Sports Writer

It's been quite a while since a team with a 5-1 record went into a game as a 30-point underdog and that's why college football fans will be watching with interest the outcome of Saturday's Oklahoma-Iowa State matchup.

Iowa State, with only a 2-14 loss to Colorado marring its record, could be vastly underrated by the oddsmakers even though the No. 2 Sooners are averaging 47 points per game. "Iowa State is the most improved team in the Big Eight and in the nation," Oklahoma coach Chuck Fairbanks observed early this week. "They have developed a winning attitude and this is the best Iowa State team I've seen."

They're a credit to coach Johnny Majors. Besides Oklahoma being favored by 30 over the Cyclones, top ranked Nebraska is a 20-point choice over Colorado in the other key Big Eight contest Saturday.

Elsewhere, Ohio State is tabbed 14 over Minnesota, Houston five over Florida State, Oregon seven over Washington State, Stanford seven over Oregon State, Notre Dame 38 over Navy and Texas 21 over SMU.

Third-ranked Michigan is 30 over Indiana, fourth-ranked Alabama 24 over Mississippi State, No. 5 Auburn 21 over Florida, No. 6 Georgia 14 over South Carolina and seventh-ranked Penn State 20 over West Virginia.

One of the big reasons for Iowa State's improvement this year is quarterback Dean Carlson. Ranked among the nation's top passers all season, Carlson has completed 50 per cent of his passes for 975 yards and five touchdowns.

Carlson, who can also shake up opposing defenses with his running, is complimented by tailback George Amundson while on defense, linebacker Keith Schroeder has been drawing notice as Iowa State's first bonafide All America candidate in recent years.

Oklahoma, of course, is another story. Led by quarterback Jack Mildren and halfback Greg Pruitt, the Sooners' Wishbone T has demolished everyone in sight this year and indications are the Thanksgiving Day clash with Nebraska will decide not only the Big Eight title but also national honors.

Pruitt, with 13 touchdowns in six games, is ranked third in the nation behind Cornell's Ed Marinaro and Penn State's Lydell Mitchell in scoring. Mildren is not far behind in fifth place.

Floridians drop Cougars

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—The Floridians rallied behind Larry Jones' 30-points for a 104-91 American Basketball Association victory over the Carolina Cougars Thursday night.

Outscoring the Cougars 21-8 in the first five minutes of the final period, the Floridians went 11 points ahead at 91-80 after trailing from the first quarter.

Ira Harge and Craig Raymond held heralded rookie center Jim McDaniels to only one basket in 14 attempts in the second half.

The 7-footer from Western Kentucky still was Carolina's top scorer with 24.

Ballman out for season

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Receiver Gary Ballman of the Philadelphia Eagles will miss the rest of the season while recovering from surgery to repair damaged cartilages in his left knee.

Ballman was hospitalized for the operation on Thursday. The knee, damaged in the first regular season game, was reinjured in last Sunday's 23-7 victory over the New York Giants.

Buckeyes, Michigan expected to continue toward showdown

CHICAGO (UPI)—Unbeaten Michigan and once-beaten Ohio State were solid favorites today to rack up conference victories Saturday and continue toward a final game showdown for the Big Ten football championship for the fourth straight season.

The Wolverines, ranked third nationally on their 7-0 record, were a four-touchdown pick for their home game against Indiana, Ohio State, on the road at Minnesota, was a two-touchdown favorite.

The Buckeyes and Wolverines each has a 4-0 Big Ten record and four conference games remaining. But Ohio State was in 10th place in the national ratings because of its only loss, against Colorado.

Ohio State appeared to have the more dangerous prospects for Saturday since it will be away from home and Minnesota, despite its 3-1 record including two conference defeats, could come into the game at peak morale.

The Buckeyes probably will be trying to better the 35-7 score run up by Michigan on the Gophers last week, but for the same reason, Minnesota could be high trying to prevent a second such a debacle.

Indiana, without a conference victory and with only one win in seven starts, was not expected to challenge the Wolverines seriously. However, the Hoosiers gave Ohio State a tough struggle two weeks ago and again could be surprisingly tough.

Of the other eight schools, only Purdue appeared to retain any hope of challenging again for the top rung of the conference. The Boilermakers have a 3-1 Big Ten record, and Saturday play at home against Michigan State as a touchdown favorite.

Every other Big Ten school has lost at least two conference games and could get back in contention only if both Ohio State and Michigan lost twice, an unlikely occurrence.

Wisconsin, with a 2-2 record, appears at Iowa Saturday as a two-touchdown choice to hand the Hawkeyes their eighth straight loss without a win, while Northwestern, also 2-2, will be at Illinois in an intra-state battle with the Illini seeking their second straight win after six defeats to open the season.

Notre Dame, 6-1 for the season but out of the top 10 rated teams nationally, also will be at home, against Navy.

Foreman will call for title match

By MARTIN LADER
UPI Sports Writer

With the National Football League season reaching its midway point this week, the jockeying for position in the various division races takes on increasing importance.

Despite excellent starts by a handful of teams, none of the six divisions has produced a runaway and there isn't a single leader boasting anything more comfortable than a one-game lead. Thus, a number of games will have a direct bearing on the standings, although two stand out in particular on Sunday.

In these, the Kansas City Chiefs and Oakland Raiders, fierce old rivals with identical 5-1 records, clash in California while the Miami Dolphins, developing into a power team for the first time in their history, invade Los Angeles for their first meeting ever with the Rams.

The Chief-Raider game, with first place in the Western Division of the American Football Conference at stake, is rated pick 'em and Los Angeles, the Western Division leader in the National Football Conference, is picked by four points over the Dolphins, who head the Eastern Division of the AFC.

In other games Sunday, the Cleveland Browns are picked by six points over the Atlanta Falcons, the St. Louis Cardinals are nine over the Buffalo Bills, the Denver Broncos are 6-1-2 over the Philadelphia Eagles, the Minnesota Vikings are 13-1-2 over the New York Giants, the Washington Redskins are 13-1-2 over the New Orleans Saints, the Dallas Cowboys are 6-1-2 over the Chicago Bears, the San Francisco Forty-Niners are 20 over the New England Patriots and the San Diego Chargers are 10 over the New York Jets. There is no line on the Baltimore-Pittsburgh and Cincinnati-Houston games.

The Detroit Lions are favored by five points over the Green Bay Packers in Monday night's nationally televised game.

Daryle Lamontea, the Oakland quarterback, suffered a jammed thumb injury to his throwing arm last Sunday, but shrugged it off today and said he would be ready for the Chiefs.

Orr not getting protection

BOSTON (UPI)—The penalty for Bobby Orr's greatness is to be hooked, held and tackled illegally, according to the superstar's coach.

Boston Bruins coach Tom Johnson flew into a verbal rage after the Bruins' 2-0 loss to the California Seals Thursday night and charged that "all the officials are the same way—they're not calling penalties on the guys who are hooking him, holding him, even tackling him."

Johnson, running the risk of a stiff National Hockey League fine for criticizing the officiating, snapped "I don't care. What I do care about is what they're doing to him."

"It's so obvious he's bound to lose his cool which he did tonight," Johnson said after Orr spit out the final 4:03 of the Bruins' loss to California for seven minutes of matching penalties with the Seals, Walt McKechnie.

"It's been every obvious, particularly in our last four games," Johnson said, explaining that Orr, the NHL's top defenseman, "can't even get out of our own end without being tackled. They're hanging around his shoulders now."

"They're not calling it as if it's the penalty you have to pay for greatness," Johnson said.

Idaho tests N.M. State in quest of sixth in row

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (UPI)—The University of Idaho Vandals, like their namesakes who traveled far to do their plundering, will be here Saturday to see if they can set some all-time school records.

The Vandals have a chance to become the greatest winning team in Idaho football history when they meet the New Mexico State Aggies. So far this year the Vandals have won five games, while losing two. In fact, they have won their last five in a row, tying a mark that goes back to 1905. Much of the credit goes to the Idaho "Wild Bunch" defensive unit which has allowed the Vandals' last five opponents only 27 points. The Idaho defense, which has scored two shutouts this year, has allowed its opponents an average of three yards per carry.

However, this record could take a beating against the Aggies who have displayed what Vandal coach Don Robbins calls "the most balanced offense we will see this year."

New Mexico has a strong running game spearheaded by Ron (Po) James, who has carried the ball 127 times this year for 506 yards for a 4.0 per carry average.

The Aggies also have a talented quarterback in Joe Searles. Robbins said, "Searles has completed 93 of 105 passes this year for 1,167 yards and 11 touchdowns."

Idaho has its own well balanced offensive attack under the guidance of either of its more Rick Seefried or senior Tom Ponciano.

Seefried has thrown 111 times this year, completing 53 for 465 yards and Ponciano is 22-45 for 268 yards.

Neither is particular who he throws to. Idaho has six receivers with 10 or more catches this year headed by senior co-captain Jack Geddard, who has come back after sitting out most of last year because of injuries, to make 16 catches for 223 yards.

Idaho's ground threat centers around Frank Doctor, who has carried 104 times for 478 yards, and Fred Riley, who has gained 321 yards in 110 tries. Riley and Doctor also are two of the Vandals' top pass receivers, Doctor with 11 catches and Riley with 10.

Moore-Jackson duel spices Pac-8 game

SPOKANE, Wash. (UPI)—A monumental battle is shaping up this Saturday between two of the best running backs in the nation.

Bobby Moore, figured to go fast in the pro draft this winter, is the keystone of the University of Oregon offense, while Bernard Jackson holds the same position with the Washington State Cougars.

So far this year Moore has torn opposing defenses apart to the tune of 877 yards in 169 carries for a 5.2 yard per carry average. Moore is the leading Pacific 8 Conference rusher.

However, Jackson, who is in second place in conference running, has a better average per carry. The Cougar speedster has averaged 6.2 yards for each of the 120 times he has packed the ball this year for a total of 785 yards and has scored eight touchdowns to Moore's four.

Another struggle is shaping up between Oregon quarterback Dan Fouts and WSU's Ty Paine for third place in conference total offense standings. Fouts currently leads Paine by two-tenths of a yard per game average, 167.8 to 167.4.

While Fouts primarily lives and dies by the pass, Paine is also one of the Cougars' better runners, averaging 51.9 yards per game via the overland route. Fouts, on the other hand, has passed for all but 4.4 yards of his per game average.

Player cited second time

DOVER, Del. (UPI)—One of 13 athletes suspended from the Delaware State College football team for drug abuse earlier this month was arrested again Thursday with three other students in a drug raid at a campus dormitory Thursday. Willie Paul, 20, was charged with possession of heroin and cocaine with intent to sell. Also arrested were Leonard Bennett, Anthony Jones and Nevitt Green, all 20. Two other suspects were still being sought.

BSC returns to Big Sky, meets Montana State

BOISE — After facing two non-conference opponents for the past two Saturdays, the Boise State Broncos jump back into the Big Sky football race this Saturday afternoon when they entertain Montana State.

Game time is Bronco Stadium is 1:30 p.m. for the Homecoming clash. The Broncos are currently 6-1 for the year and 2-1 in the conference, while Montana State is 2-4-1 and 0-2-1 in the Big Sky.

Montana State came close to their first conference win last Saturday night in Idaho State's Mindinco when they lost by a narrow 38-36 score. They have tied conference leader Idaho State, who is in his first year at the Montana State helm, will be playing in their fourth straight Homecoming game when they meet the Broncos.

Montana State is a tough ball club. Bronco head coach Tony Knap commented, "They play very hard and are exceptionally hard to defense because all of their quarterbacks are runners as well as passers."

"They feature some strong blockers on the front line and extremely tough running backs. In addition, last week's performance against Idaho State showed that we will have to be concerned about their wide receivers," Knap said.

The Broncos lost wide receiver Allen Dykman in the Broncos' 35-28 win over Central Washington last Saturday night. Dykman suffered a shoulder injury and will be out for 10 days. Coach Knap said that defensive back Dave Ober will be back in action as will running back Ross Wright. Offensive tackle Arlo Decker, Minico, will also be back in uniform for the Montana State game.

Montana State has one other thing going for them in this game. Last year, in the Broncos' first Big Sky football game ever, they upended the Bobcats 17-10 in Bozeman and Coach Holland will have his players remembering that game.

Starr, who is in his first year at the Montana State helm, will be playing in their fourth straight Homecoming game when they meet the Broncos. ISU hosts Nevada in second try at winning last 5 games

POCATELLO — Idaho State hosts defensive-minded Nevada, Reno in the Mindinco at 7:30 Saturday in a game that ISU Coach Ed Cavanaugh hopes will be win number two in the Bengal crusade to capture the last five games of the 1971 campaign.

"Last week we set a goal of winning our last five games," says Cavanaugh. "We had just lost to Montana State but we thought we had the personnel to take our last five games and win."

"Nevada is an extremely well-coached football team with a fine defensive unit," continues Cavanaugh. "They lost 17-10 to Boise and 14-13 to undefeated Cal Davis last week. I'm sure they'll try to be just as rough on us."

Laver saves net tour pro pride

WEMBLEY, England (UPI)—Defending champion Rod Laver of Australia tonight upheld the pride of the professional circuit by fighting his way to the semi-finals of the $48,000 Wills Embassy tennis tournament.

Laver, winner of the $4,800 first prize for the last two years and the only surviving seed, overcame a sluggish start to beat fellow-pro Cliff Drysdale of South Africa, 3-6, 6-4, 6-2.

In the semi-finals Laver meets Bob Hewitt of South Africa while Iie Nastase of Romania faces Tom Gorman of Seattle, Wash. in the other match. The other three survivors are independents.

Hewitt beat Iuy Ruffels of Australia 6-4, 6-2 to advance; Nastase upset top seed John Newcombe of Australia 6-7, 6-2; while Gorman came from behind to eliminate Fred McMillan of South Africa, 3-6, 6-3, 6-0.

Laver was at odds with himself in the first set and dropped his service in the third and ninth games, losing the set on a double fault.

In the second set the Australian began to vary the pace and angle of his delivery and launched an all-out attack on Drysdale's double-fisted backhand. He broke to 30 in the fifth game and wrapped up the set to love in the 10th.

Laver raced to a 4-0 lead in the deciding to firmly close the door on Drysdale and then the crowd of about 4,000 fans inside the Empire Pool saw him produce his vintage backhand as he passed the South African at will on either wing.

Jockey losses ban appeal

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Jockey L.J. Durousseau, suspended a week ago for allegedly having an electrical device in his possession during a race at Santa Anita, Thursday lost a court battle for immediate reinstatement.

The Oak Tree at Santa Anita stewards ordered the suspension and referred his case to the California Horse Racing Board with the recommendation that his license as a rider should be revoked.

Durousseau took his case to court in an effort to gain reinstatement prior to Saturday's close of the Oak Tree meeting on grounds he was being denied the right to earn a living.

do to win a game. His Wolfpack held Cal Davis to just 171 yards but lost his 6-0 opponents. In Reno they call their front four "The Department of Defense" and justifiably so.

Defensive end Mike Stewart (6-0, 220-lbs) leads a unit that has allowed only 572 rushing yards in six games. The Wolfpack pass defense has limited the offense with safeties Greg Henry and Dick Croughan packing off five each. Cornerback Bill Marston will probably draw the unenviable assignment of guarding ISU's pass receiver Tom Hofmann, who last week was atop national receiving stats.

Offensively the Wolfpack has had trouble moving the ball. The situation wasn't helped when starting quarterback, Chip Hochuli quit the team. Paul Sylvia, number one signal-caller a year ago, is back at the controls. Sylvia has completed 36 per cent of his passes for 537 yards. Most of his tosses have been to wide receivers Charlie Nunnally, 12 catches, and Bob Kramer, nine.

Offensive tackle Hayden Hill (235) is considered to be one of the better players in the conference. Hill has completed 93 of 105 passes this year for 1,167 yards and 11 touchdowns.

Idaho State has gained yardage through the air almost at will against such defensive powerhouses as Eastern Michigan, Montana, and Montana State but will undoubtedly have trouble with Nevada.

Foster and Hicks in top condition

SCRANTON, Pa. (UPI)—Lightweight champ Bob Foster and challenger Tommy Hicks, who teaches retarded children when he's not boxing, were both pronounced in "excellent and superb physical condition" Thursday for their Saturday night title fight.

The two were examined by Pennsylvania Athletic Commission doctors in preparation for the 15-rounder, which is not expected to go the distance.

Experts figure the fight, under the state commission's rules, will end in a knockout rather than a verdict by the two judges and a referee.

The thinking is based on Foster's record of 36 knockouts in 49 professional bouts. And more than half of Hicks' 24 bouts have ended in knockouts.

Foster, the busiest of modern fighting champions, arrived here Wednesday night from his Albuquerque, N.M. home. He said he didn't come to this northeastern Pennsylvania town to battle a full 15 rounds.

Hicks' feat which won him the approval of a challenge was in battling British heavyweight Dan Mc Alinden in two London fights. Mc Alinden dethroned Hicks in one and the other bout was a draw.

Hicks, who teaches at the School for Retarded Children in Ithaca, N.Y., is the first college graduate to challenge for the crown in any division since Chuck Davey fought Kid Gavilan for the world welterweight title.

Collapsed lung hits Kansas star

LAWRENCE, Kan. (UPI)—Kansas' No. 1 basketball center, Randy Canfield, has been felled by a collapsed lung. It is his second such injury in less than a year.

Canfield, a 6-9 Wichita product upon whom Coach Ted Owens had counted heavily for the coming season, complained of chest pains Wednesday. X-rays Thursday confirmed his left lung had collapsed.

Team physician Dr. David Helbert said Canfield's condition is not nearly as serious as it was last January when his right lung collapsed and he missed most of the remainder of the Jayhawk season.

"He had some therapy and his lung is completely expanded again," Helbert said late Thursday. He said Canfield will be hospitalized for at least three days and will miss at least two weeks of practice.

Last year, Canfield complained of chest pains just prior to boarding the team plane for the Jan. 12 trip to Atlanta, where the Jayhawks played Georgia Tech. He missed the next 14 games before returning to play March 8 in the last two games of the regular season.

Thinned Sonics edge Buffalo

MOSCOW — University of Idaho football Coach Don Robbins reports that sophomore quarterback Rick Seefried and senior halfback Fred Riley probably will not see action against New Mexico State Saturday.

Safety Kelly Courage is listed as very doubtful and junior tackle Andy Cupp, expected back after three weeks on the injured list, will not be available after all.

Intercom, but he did not expect that to happen. He treated that as the very first trick with the queen. South might give up clubs entirely and go after his nine tricks in the other suits.

East was right on all counts. If he had saved his ace of clubs the chances are that South would have tried out the diamonds and would have made five diamonds and two hearts and two spades. As it was South led a second club; played the 10 from dummy to repeat the finesse and wound up three tricks down when East took his queen and five spades to take

We aren't going to comment on the bidding of today's hand, except to say that three no-trump is a sound contract.

South started out by winning the spade with his ace. A useless false card since it could not fool East who was the dangerous defender.

Then South studied awhile and decided to go right after clubs. If he could score three club tricks he would be sure of his contract.

East did some thinking while South was studying the hand and decided to win the first club with the ace instead of the queen. He would look mighty silly if declarer plucked his queen of clubs

Church observes broadcast date

TWIN FALLS — Sunday services at the Immanuel Lutheran Church at 8 a.m. and 11 a.m. will include a special tribute to the 25 years of broadcasting the regular morning worship service over Radio Station KTFI in Twin Falls.

Sunday marks the 25th anniversary of the program and the radio station will present Rev. Harold A. Iben, pastor, with a large bronze plaque inscribed in honor of the occasion.

On Oct. 27, 1946, the religious program was first carried over KTFI as a Sunday morning broadcast. At that time KTFI was a 1,000-watt station.

Richard Ryall, KTFI manager, said persons throughout the United States have heard the program while traveling or visiting in Twin Falls and have commented on the program. Members of the congregation have also received letters from persons traveling through the area who enjoyed the program, Rev. Iben said.

Persons on weekend hunting and fishing trips are able to hear the broadcast while in their automobiles and regular listeners are living as shut-ins as far away as the Boise, Pocatello and even Nevada area. Ryall said one woman living in Wisconsin wrote saying she is a regular listener when she can receive the program on her radio.

Since 1958, the church has owned its own radio transmitting equipment so the program is assured of con-

GOODING—The 25th Anniversary of Calvary Lutheran Church, Gooding, will be observed Oct. 31 with a guest pastor speaking at the 11 a.m. worship service. A potluck dinner will follow in the church basement.

History of the congregation through the years has proven interesting as members recalled events and activities which they experienced.

Pastor F.N. Westerkamp, St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Jerome, accepted a request to begin preaching services at Gooding in 1946. Pastor J.C. Naus, also of Jerome, continued the services for a time until they were discontinued.

After a survey made of the Gooding area by several neighboring pastors, to determine the feasibility of a mission church, Pastor L.F. Witte, (Buhl), resumed the services in 1945. These were held in the American Legion hall on Idaho Street across from the present fire department.

The Mission Board of the Oregon-Washington District was then asked to consider placing a pastor in Gooding. Rev. Victor E. Kauffeld, then of Endicott, Wash., accepted a call and was installed at the American Legion hall on June 24, 1945. Rev. Hy C. Schulze, Edin, preached at the service and Rev. Witte was installing pastor.

The following several years were difficult in many ways as there was no church, no parsonage, no organized congregation. The Kauffeld family lived in a tourist camp until July 8 when the pastor's father died. After the funeral services in Nebraska, Mrs. Kauffeld and sons spent the summer with her parents while Pastor Kauffeld returned to Gooding, and stayed at the Lincoln Inn.

It was during this time that the district board authorized the purchase of a parsonage located at 133 Aust 12th Avenue at a cost of $6,200, with possession possible in October. Also the former Presbyterian Church building on the corner of 6th and Nevada Street was purchased by the district for $1,000.

The property included the building and four lots. After some minor repairs were made, the congregation moved into its own church building with the first service conducted Aug. 19, 1945.

The next Dec. 27, the male communicant members eligible for voting met to organize into a congregation. Pastor H. Kahle, Nampa, conducted this meeting and the name Calvary Lutheran Church, Inc., was adopted and the congregation was formally organized.

Signing the constitution were William E. Koeppen, Herman A. Ohlensehnen, Arthur W. Koeppen, Ernst A. Braun, Erwin W. Brauer, Ervin F. Braun, Herman Braun, Christian W. Marquardt and Pastor Kauffeld.

Improvements at the church included leveling the church grounds, a new lawn, old wooden steps and platform replaced with cement, a sidewalk made in front of the church, the building renovated and painted and the interior completely remodeled. Mr. and Mrs. George Alten, Lancaster, Ohio, (Mrs. Kauffeld's parents) donated velvet material for the dorsal curtain as well as presented the congregation with the gifts of a brass cross and candlesticks.

Arthur Moore, Long Island, N.Y. gave the brass vase and Mr. and Mrs. P.F. Schatzmann, the candelabra. The congregation supplied a mimeograph and in 1951 the Lutheran Women's Missionary League provided a new Communion-ware set.

After serving six years in Gooding, Pastor Kauffeld accepted a call to Cross Plains, Inc., and preached his farewell sermon July 8, 1951.

Vacancy pastor for a time was Rev. Edwin Wiebel, Buhl, who installed the Rev. Gilbert C. Moore, Aug. 16, 1953. Outstanding event during the three years of Pastor Moore's service was a large confirmation class of 15 in 1954.

In the fall of 1955, the 10th anniversary of the church was observed with services held each evening for a week with Rev. Theodore Gieshen, guest speaker.

Pastor Moore accepted a call and went to Seattle, Wash., June 17, 1956.

Rev. Alwin Reimnitz, Buhl, served as vacancy pastor until March 3, 1957, when Rev. Harry H. Spaude was installed by Rev. Carl Losser, Clover. The following April 29, Rev. E. Henrichs, Portland, met with the congregation to provide a loan of $35,500 requested for a new church building.

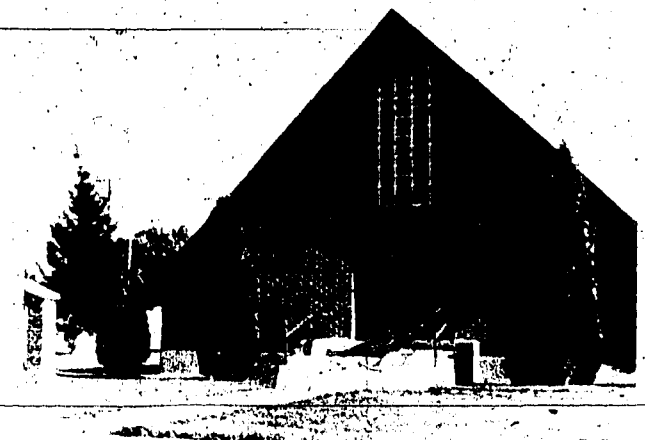

May 8 a garage was erected close by the parsonage and groundbreaking services for the new church at California and 21st street were held Nov. 24. A few days later, Dec. 2, digging of the basement was begun.

R.J. Bjerken, Seattle, Wash., was the architect; Daryl Keck, Jerome, the contractor, and the church building committee included Vernon Behrens, chairman; Walter Reinke and William LeFurgey, church members, as well as help from Clover, Buhl, Jerome and Wendell volunteered a considerable amount of building work and time.

Women of the congregation were faithful in providing coffee and food for the workers during the building program. Special gifts for the new church were acknowledged for altar floor coverings and pews from the Utah-Idaho District of LWML; collection plates from Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Bauder; pulpit and lectern Bibles, Ila Nicholls; aisle floor covering, Mr. and Mrs. Ernst Braun; a refrigerator, Mr. and Mrs. Armin Knisp; electric stove, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Sively.

Other specific gifts came from Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ragland, Louis Pah, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reinke and Frank Lehmann, as well as Gerald Weisman, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Braun and others of the congregation.

Dedication of the new building was March 16, 1958, with Rev. Henrichs conducting a 3:30 p.m. service and Rev. Ernst, Edin, at the 8 p.m. service. The old church building was sold to the Church of Christ.

Quarter century GOODINGS'S present Calvary Lutheran Church was dedicated March 16, 1958, and is located on 21st and California Street. The 25th anniversary of the church will be observed Sunday.

Reports on trip

WHITE HOUSE adviser Henry A. Kissinger, left, tells newsmen at White House that President Nixon will travel to Peking early in 1972, providing "an opportunity to make a new beginning" in relations with mainland China. German medics aid Vietnamese DA NANG, Vietnam (UPI)—Dr. Ernst Tenembergen pulled a chunk of iron from the unconscious Vietnamese peasant's arm, ordered X-rays for the head wound and then grabbed an end of a hammock-like sling and helped carry the terrorist grenade victim to a clean white bed. "He's in shock, but he's not too bad. The fragment in the head seems just under the skin," the bearded 32-year-old physician from Essen, Germany said. By the next day, the man was recovering. But by then Tenembergen and his comrades aboard the German Hospital, Ship MS Helgoland were busy again—caring for a dozen civilians wounded in shooting and grenade blasts in this river city.

Tenembergen. "When such a case is in your ward, you are not finished when you go to your room." Working at better than 100 per cent capacity during its entire tour, the Helgoland staff has treated about 23,000 patients aboard ship and about 40,000 more at a first-aid station on the pier. More than 200 wounded, injured and sick Vietnamese are now aboard. "The only time the ship was damaged was when a rocket exploded in the water nearby and blew out some starboard windows. Tenembergen said the Communists apparently respect the ship's neutrality because it treats only civilians.

Like its namesake in the North sea, the Helgoland is an island. The sparkling white ship, three large red crosses painted on each side, is berthed in Dan Nang River amid gray naval vessels and rusting merchant ships. To the Vietnamese, it's an island of mercy. It has been on station in Vietnam five years, the tour paid for by the German government and managed by the German Red Cross. It is at present the only hospital ship in Vietnam. The skipper, Capt. Rolf Pinnow of Hamburg, and medical chief Dr. Klaus Frenzel of Hamburg, set up a deck party last week to mark the fifth anniversary. The Helgoland is to leave for home in January, but another medical team will be sent in to help staff a German-built hospital.

The eight doctors, approximately 25 nurses and 25 crewmen—all volunteers—will take home memories. Mostly good memories. But they also will think about the ones they couldn't save and the ones who were maimed through no fault of their own. Like a 16-year-old boy who stepped on a land mine and lost all of both legs and one arm. "I have seen many tears," said Eilfriede Hubel, 25, of Bonn, the attractive brunette who is the ship secretary. "They get attached to some patients and if they die, it is very bad."

"It's when the idens and therapy do not work," said
