Foreign aid foe predicts revival

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Otto E. Passman, (D-La.), for years has advocated slashing foreign aid, predicted today that Congress will revive some form of the aid program which the Senate voted Friday to abolish.

"I never have believed you could stop it overnight," Passman said. Speaking to a reporter as the White House and Republican congressional leaders marshaled forces to continue the program beyond the scheduled Nov. 15 expiration, Passman said: "You're going to have a foreign aid bill. It won't be the bill the House wants. It won't be the bill the Senate wants. It won't be the bill the President wants. But you're going to have a bill."

Passman, chairman of a House appropriations subcommittee that has jurisdiction over foreign aid funding, noted that he traditionally has been in the forefront of congressional critics of the $14 billion in foreign aid the United States has distributed since World War II.

As the Senate Foreign Relations Committee met to review the consequences of Friday's surprising 41 to 27 Senate vote which sentenced foreign aid to die Nov. 15, GOP congressional leaders already had the word from President Nixon about the initial strategy he will pursue.

SUNDAY'S SNOW brought the appearance of winter to many sections of the Magic Valley and the Wood River Valley. Rock Creek was flowing between banks buried under 18 inches of snow accumulated in the South Hills over the past week, and the cover brought snowmobilers out to pursue that sport. Deer hunters found the going tough in anything other than four-wheel drive vehicles. More snow fell this morning, with highways reported snow covered and icy. Drifting was reported near Craters of the Moon, and plows were working in the Shoshone area.

Fed pushes rate slash

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Arthur F. Burns said today the Federal Reserve Board would press for a speed-up in reduction of mortgage and consumer interest rates, but opposes any arbitrary ceilings on interest costs.

Testifying before the House Banking Committee, the FED chairman said a new committee he has created would concentrate on lower mortgage and consumer credit transactions in the months ahead. He said the group would "frown upon" any upward movement of rates.

The Burns committee was set up to work out a voluntary program to regulate interest rates which are not subject to controls, as are wages, prices and rents.

Burns testified that many interest rates such as on homes and on consumer credit do not fall as rapidly as other interest charges.

"The main role of the committee," Burns said, "should be to speed up the traditionally sluggish interest rates to movements in market rates."

He said his committee, for the present "intends to concentrate on those interest rates that most directly affect the American family, including residential mortgage and consumer credit rates."

Trustee choices delayed

TWIN FALLS — County commissioners have delayed until next week action to name five members to the Magic Valley Memorial Hospital board.

W. L. (Bill) Chancey, commission chairman, said the delay was necessary because one of the three commissioners, Merl E. Leonard, is out of the state, attending a water resources meeting in Dallas, Tex.

The terms of Sid Graves, former chairman who has resigned, and Lyle Schitker, Hollister; R. W. Pierce, Filer; Robert Brackett and Mrs. L. James Koutnik, both Twin Falls, expire this year. All five appointments will be for three years, Chancey said.

Hospital board members elect their own chairman. Following the resignation of Graves this past summer, the board elected William Wiseman, Hansen, to head the board.

White autumn

The five-megaton blast is planned for Friday, or possibly later, on Alaska's Amchitka Island. The Atomic Energy Commission said today it expected to be in a state of readiness to detonate by Friday, meaning the blast would not come before then. It previously had said the test would take place by Thursday.

Hart's ruling was a preliminary legal move that could be changed after the government had a chance to reply. He did not immediately release the documents pending a government decision whether to appeal the order.

Of the documents and portions of documents ordered released by Hart, the key part was a report from the Council on Environmental Quality. The documents consisted of reports from various government agencies concerning the environmental impact of the blast, the largest underground test the United States has ever staged.

Opponents of the test contend the secret papers showed that the test would be more harmful than beneficial. They implied that the documents were not considered adequately by the AEC in deciding to go ahead with the test.

The government contends the documents did not provide sufficient reason to cancel the test.

Judge denies test ban

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A federal judge denied today another legal attempt to block the Cannikin nuclear test. Conservationists said they would appeal.

U.S. District Court Judge George L. Hart ruled from the bench against a motion for a preliminary injunction against the explosion, saying "up to this point" the opponents of the test had not shown any likelihood of success in proving their case.

Hart made the ruling this afternoon a few hours after ruling that the government should hand over to test foes portions of secret documents pertaining to effects of the explosion.

The administration-backed bill to help schools pay the costs of desegregation faced probable defeat in the House today, but its backers said rejection would be only a temporary setback. The measure, which the Senate approved earlier this year, would authorize $1.5 billion over two years to help pay the costs of desegregation ordered by a court or federal agency, or achieved voluntarily.

Division enters limbo

SAIGON (UPI)—The American Division, the hard-luck unit that has embodied America's frustrations with the Vietnam War, is going home, to the peace and quiet of a Pentagon filing cabinet.

It will be a long time, however, before the division recovers from America's most unpopular war or before Vietnam gets over the mishaps of the American.

The U.S. command announced Sunday that 2,980 members of the American's Headquarters Company and other 23rd Infantry Division combat and support units have started standing down. Army leaders for break down and turning into a paper unit to be re-activated if needed.

The announcement was the final step in the piecemeal disintegration of the 23rd Infantry Division—American's short for its World War II name, American Forces in New Caledonia. It marked the retirement of the American's blue arm patch—four white stars representing the Southern Cross.

The command announced the stand-down earlier in October of two of the division's three brigades. The third—the 198th Light Infantry Brigade with about 5,000 men—will remain in Vietnam as an independent force.

The American seemed to attract trouble during its four years in Vietnam. Nine of its men won Medals of Honor, but the American's most famous soldier was undoubtedly a short platoon leader with a baby face—Lt. William Calley.

Calley's Charlie Company platoon was blamed for the wholesale massacre of My Lai 4 civilian population of My Lai 4 hamlet on March 16, 1968. The balding lieutenant—whose case still is under review—was convicted by an Army court martial of killing 22 civilians at My Lai. Charlie Company stood down a month ago.

The American—since nicknamed the "Atrocical"—and "American" by some of its punsters wound up in more hot water than any other unit in the war zone. Another incident involved the controversial defoliant, agent orange, which temporarily was banned by the U.S. Army in April, 1970, after government tests showed the plant killer caused birth defects in rats.

Despite the ban, American soldiers dumped a hundred 55-gallon drums of the defoliant over the jungles of Quang Tin and Quang Ngai Provinces the following summer. It wasn't stopped until press reports revealed the unauthorized use of the plant killer.

There also was the case of Brig. Gen. John W. Donahoe, who commanded the American's 11th Brigade.

Thieu honors fallen

BOWING HEAD at grave of soldier during National Day observance in Bien Hoa, South Vietnam, is President Nguyen Van Thieu, who was inaugurated in Saigon Sunday in closely-guarded ceremonies. Thieu visited military cemetery 15 miles northeast of Saigon today for observance honoring war dead. Nov. 1 holiday marks overthrow of Diem regime in 1963. (UPI)

Skirmish mars Viets' holiday

SAIGON (UPI)—A popular force of local militiamen supported by U.S. helicopter gunships today killed seven Communist guerrillas in a skirmish only 18 miles southwest of Saigon as the country celebrated National Day, the Saigon military command said.

The command also reported that 19 guerrillas were killed and 15 captured Sunday in a skirmish 350 miles north of the capital, near Duc Duc, site of a guerrilla massacre of Buddhist monks and nuns earlier this year.

South Vietnam observed its National Day almost peacefully today. The holiday marks Nov. 1, 1963, overthrow of President Ngo Dinh Diem, who was slain the following day.

President Nguyen Van Thieu, who was inaugurated in his second term in office Sunday, laid a wreath at the National Cemetery, 12 miles north of the capital, in memory of South Vietnamese soldiers killed in battle.

Gen. Duong Van (Big) Minh, a leader of the 1963 coup and one of Thieu's chief rivals, issued a statement, saying that "the state of the country today is better than it was in 1963." Minh said that with an apparent shift in the world balance of forces, "arrangements may be favorable for peace in Indochina" that could be "contrary to the interests of the Vietnamese people."

"To avert this," he said, "we must regain our sovereignty, for we shall win the peace we want only when we have sovereignty. And we can have sovereignty only when we have the support of the population."

National Day, usually marked by guerrilla rocket attacks on the capital, was fairly peaceful today. By dawn only 10 guerrilla attacks had been reported in the whole country, compared to 92 such attacks at the same time election day, Oct. 3.

Meanwhile, the U.S. Expeditionary Force in Vietnam cut back its manpower by 5,300 men last week, the biggest weekly drop in six months, the U.S. command said today.

U.S. troop commitment in Vietnam now stands at 198,700 men, the lowest figure since January, 1968, when there were 198,400 GIs in the war zone as the American military buildup continued in full swing.

Weekend clashes throughout South Vietnam from the Mekong Delta in the south to 350 miles northeast of the capital claimed 42 Communists killed.

3,000 dead in cyclone

NEW DELHI (UPI)—Nearly 3,000 persons were feared killed in the coastal region of Orissa near Calcutta when a 15-foot tidal wave and cyclone last Friday, hit the area, the Press Trust of India (PTI) reported today.

A PTI dispatch from Bhubaneswar, the state capital, quoted State Revenue Minister Pratap Mahanty as saying the death toll was bound to rise when details of the calamity were known from outlying populous areas.

Council to meet

TWIN FALLS — City Council members are expected to approve a license ordinance for the sale of table wine in grocery stores when they meet at 7:30 p.m. today.

City Attorney William Langley prepared an ordinance after the wine sale issue passed in a special election in Twin Falls Oct. 28.

A long agenda also includes a public hearing on assessments for Local Improvement District 86k Falls Avenue East and adjoining property. Council members will be asked to set a date for a public hearing on the revised zoning ordinance for the city.

Officers warn drivers of ice

TWIN FALLS — County officers warned today motorists should keep in mind bridges and overpasses may be ice covered during stormy, cold weather even though highways are clear.

Saturday night, Mrs. Terrence Moss, 29, Wendell, escaped injury when the 1970 station wagon she was driving went out of control on ice as she drove onto the Perrine Bridge. The vehicle crashed into the west railing of the bridge, tearing off a fender and damaging the front of the vehicle.

Confined to one lane until the damaged automobile was removed.

A Twin Falls woman and her two children escaped injury when their vehicle was struck by a train on Shoshone Street at 8th Avenue West Saturday night.

Coal miners strike

PRICE, Utah (UPI) — Over 1,600 miners at coal operations in Carbon and Emery Counties remained off the job today as the national strike by the United Mine Workers enters its second month.

The Bituminous Coal Operators Association and the UMW negotiators opened talks again today in Washington after a weekend recess.

Area debaters hold practice

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls High School Debate Club sponsored a round-robin practice debate tourney today at the school, giving area debaters an opportunity to debate in competition before intercollegiate tournaments begin.

Schools participating in the debate are Kimberly, Valley High, Glenns Ferry, Deelo, Minico, Wood River, Burley High, Jerome and Twin Falls. The teams debate in classrooms at the school, with faculty members judging the competitors.

Flight alert sounded

TWIN FALLS — A false alert was sounded here Sunday when a Denver pilot, flying on a flight plan from Twin Falls to the Colorado city, turned around because of weather conditions and came back to the Twin Falls City-County Airport.

The Denver pilot said he had informed Burley by radio to cancel his flight plan but FSS officials said they had no record of that communication. Flynn was flying a Cessna 210, single engine plane.

Question...

My father passed away recently. Before his retirement he purchased Series E Bonds monthly under a payroll deduction plan. Our family believes he still owns some bonds but cannot locate them — Is there anyway we can check on this?

Answer...

There is a very good possibility you may be able to replace these bonds if they have been lost, stolen or destroyed. At the same time you may also be able to determine the total number of bonds issued to your father, how many have been redeemed and whether there are any presently outstanding.

Write to: Bureau of Public Debt, Division of Loans and Currency, 536 So. Clark Street, Chicago, Illinois 60605

The Bureau will supply you with the forms necessary to establish the fact of ownership. If any bonds are still outstanding they will tell you what you must do to have the bonds issued to those legally entitled to receive them.

SINGAPORE (UPI) — Britain is in the final stages of severing another link with its imperial past.

The military forces that defended the Asian colonies and Commonwealth are, for the most part, standing down, handing over and going home.

By Nov. 1, the withdrawal from all but a few British military bases in Asia will be complete.

The Crown Colony of Hong Kong keeps its garrison and Britain is contributing to a new five-power defense grouping for Singapore and Malaysia. But most of the arms, ships and men that gave military muscle to once the greatest foreign power in the Far East are going or gone.

The former British Labor government made the decision nearly four years ago to pull back military forces from east of Suez by late 1971. The British decision followed the 1967 devaluation of the pound and renewed doubts over Britain's ability to go on paying to maintain large forces overseas.

The new British government under Prime Minister Edward Heath promised to reverse the withdrawal decision, but in the end drastic reductions in military forces in Asia remained fixed government policy.

The command's attention and facilities remained focused on its base in Singapore and neighboring Malaysia, scene of its last major theaters of battle.

In the post World War II period, it was Far East command troops who bore the brunt of a 12-year jungle war against Communist guerrillas in Malaya — and won — and fought off Indonesian confrontation against the Malaysian federation from 1961 to 1964.

Troop strength reached a peak in the command during the Indonesian campaign, totaling 91,000 British fighting men, 80 to 90 Royal Naval vessels and a large Royal Air Force (RAF) contingent.

Britain granted Malaya independence in 1957 but continued its military responsibility in the area under the Anglo-Malaysian defense agreement.

With expiration of the agreement on Oct. 31, the Far East command will be closed out, ending Britain's role as the dominant military power in the area of its one-time Asian empire.

As the pact expires, another treaty takes its place. The five-power agreement for the defense of Malaysia-Singapore goes into effect on Nov. 1.

Whereas the region gets the protective shield of another agreement, it is not at all of the same dimensions and, lacking the tradition which the purely British force built up over more than a century, is virtually untried.

The five-power agreement commits forces of Australia, New Zealand, Singapore, Malaysia and — on a vastly reduced scale — Britain to a defensive role in Singapore-Malaysia.

It is a role that is deliberately vague and indirect, committing partners only to "immediately consult together" in the event of aggression, and then only if the aggression is "externally organized or supported," meaning outside enemies must be involved.

The five-power forces will total 8,000 to 9,000 British, Australian and New Zealand personnel — against 74,000 British forces when the rundown began in 1968. Additionally, Malaysian and Singapore forces total some 65,000 reserve and active personnel in all services.

The three outside partners will function under a joint, Singapore-based command and will add a new acronym to the world's military jargon — ANZUK (Australia-New Zealand-United Kingdom). Singapore and Malaysian forces will continue to be maintained separately, with all five partners joining in periodic joint exercises.

Britain and Australia are tapped to make the largest outside contributions to the five-power forces. Each will station more than 3,000 men in Singapore and at Royal Australian Air Force base at Butterworth in northern West Malaysia.

Britain will supply seven frigates or destroyers and one submarine to the naval force and promises to continue cruises of other Royal Navy vessels into south and east Asian waters. Its Singapore-based eastern fleet, however, will be disbanded, ending a fixed naval command in Asia that dates back to 1816.

A Royal Navy Base on Singapore Island sprawling over 2,500 acres goes over to the local government, with some facilities retained for ANZUK forces.

Three large RAF bases at Singapore are or will be in the hands of Singapore military and civilian concerns. Britain's air presence in Singapore henceforth will consist of four Nimrod maritime reconnaissance aircraft and a detachment of helicopters.

Besides the ANZUK contribution and Hong Kong garrison troops numbering 10,000 British servicemen, Nepalese Gurkhas and local Chinese recruits, British military presence in Asia will consist of little else.

Soft-spoken housewife seeks 'Frisco' office

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — What the boys in the smoke-filled rooms may be asking themselves, is a nice girl like Dianna Feinstein doing here?

Mrs. Feinstein has the answer: She wants to become the first woman mayor of a major American city, namely, San Francisco.

That may be a formidable task for the slim, 38-year-old president of the San Francisco Board of Supervisors; wife of a neurosurgeon and mother of a teen-age daughter.

Incumbent Mayor Joseph Alioto, despite monumental legal difficulties over the next four months, is favored to win re-election in November against Mrs. Feinstein and 11 other candidates.

Mrs. Feinstein has beaten the odds before. Two years ago she led a field of 17 candidates for the Board of Supervisors, San Francisco's city council, and was elected president, a post which traditionally goes to the leading vote-getter. She was the first woman to hold that position.

Mrs. Feinstein, is no strident crusader. Quiet and soft-spoken, she has surrounded herself with young professionals and reformers who have put on a generally low-key campaign.

A member of her staff describes her as "very much of a woman," and Mrs. Feinstein herself says that while she agrees with many of the goals of Women's Liberation, such as economic and political equality, she feels "no identification with the bra-burners."

Mary Peppy, her 25-year-old administrative assistant, says that one of Mrs. Feinstein's strengths is that men don't feel defensive with her. "She's very subtle, very gracious; yet she has a strong viewpoint and can get her point across well."

Mrs. Feinstein is married to Dr. Bertram Feinstein, director of the Neurological Institute at Mount Zion Hospital in San Francisco. There is no conflict in her marriage because of her political career, she said in an interview.

"My husband is a very secure man," Mrs. Feinstein, clad informally in slacks and sweater, explained in the study of her English-style home — a study with a view of City Hall.

"I am not a threat to him," she said. "I have worked all through our marriage and he still brings me breakfast in bed every Sunday morning."

Speaking of both her husband and her daughter by a former marriage, Mrs. Feinstein said, "I have a family that believes and understands in me."

Mrs. Feinstein was a Stanford University graduate in history and political science, and government has always been her interest. "I love to go into a situation, work it out, and come to some resolution," she said.

She was student body vice president at Stanford, was assistant to the California Welfare Commission, and served on the California Women's Board of Terms and Parole, appointed to the board by then Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Days for the energetic board president are long and full now. Mornings are spent at appointments with constituents, department heads, business or labor leaders — anyone with information or concerns about matters she is involved in.

Afternoons are kept free for the many committee and board meetings she must attend. And many nights are spent answering correspondence she couldn't get to during the day.

Mayor Alioto was instrumental in getting Mrs. Feinstein into San Francisco politics. He appointed her to his Mayor's Committee on Crime and backed her in her bid for supervisor in 1969.

The mayor is involved in several court trials over the next four months, including both a civil and a criminal suit over a fee-splitting case dating from his days as antitrust attorney and a retrial of his $12.5 million libel suits against the now defunct Look Magazine for an article linking him with the Mafia.

Mrs. Feinstein has avoided discussing any of these issues but concentrates on local matters. Among other things she charges the mayor with a lack of civic responsibility in opposing San Francisco's court-ordered school busing.

"I think the mayor acted irresponsibly," Mrs. Feinstein said. "We had a situation of potential violence. In those cities where the public official has taken a stand against busing or in private ways fanned it, violence has come. The mayor came out against it and there was a big uproar. I don't think this is leadership."

"I think that busing does strike at the neighborhood school, but integration is the law of the land and the schools should be integrated."

Water panel OKs Swan Falls plan

BOISE (UPI) — A legislative committee on water resources gave the Idaho Water Resources Board the go-ahead Friday to negotiate with Idaho Power Co. on a plan for a joint venture.

The board decided the joint plan to construct the Swan Falls-Guffey complex on the Snake River south of Nampa was preferable after financial consultants White, Wolf and Co., New York, said Idaho Power's credit rating would be damaged if the state were to build the project alone.

The consultants said full state construction of the project would result in higher rates to power customers because of the higher borrowing costs that would be imposed on Idaho Power.

Under the joint venture, Idaho Power would pay 65 per cent of the total project cost in general, but the state would pay 45 per cent for the dam and reservoir.

The legislative committee must review and approve any contract agreement between the power company and the board, and the legislature has authority to veto the agreement.

TWIN FALLS — Voters in Twin Falls will elect four City Council members, each to serve four years when they go to the polls on Tuesday, Nov. 2.

Polls in the 10 precincts will open at noon and remain open until 8 p.m. with voters casting ballots on voting machines. This is the first time voting machines have been used in a Twin Falls municipal election. Thirteen candidates are running for the four posts.

City Clerk Edythe Koontz said the precinct boundaries for this year's election are the same as two years ago, except for an annexed area added since the 1969 election.

Polling places include:
Precinct 1, the northern part of the old townsite and the 100 block areas of the Presidential streets will vote at the Twin Falls County Courthouse, 425 Shoshone St. N.; Precinct 2, generally the east portion of the old townsite and between Blue Lakes Boulevard and Elm Street, will vote at Twin Falls City Hall, 321 Second Ave. E.; Precinct 3, the south and west portions of the old townsite, south to cover newly annexed areas, and south and west of Jefferson Street and north of Addison except for the 400 blocks of the presidential streets will vote at Robert Stuart Junior High School, and Precinct 5, running from the 200 blocks of the presidential streets from Jefferson to Fillmore and south of Caswell Avenue, Harrison Elementary School.

Other Precincts include: Precinct 6, covering property east of Fillmore Street, extended, north of Spruce and Stadium Boulevard and east to the city limits and north to the city limits will vote at Buttrey's Food Store in the Blue Lakes Shopping Center; Precinct 7, east of Blue Lakes Boulevard between Addison Avenue and Heyburn Avenue as far as Sunrise Boulevard and north to Stadium Boulevard, between Madrona Street and the east city limits, voting in Washington School.

Precinct 8, west of Madrona Street to Fillmore and south of the boundaries of Precinct 6, to a line running along Heyburn Avenue to Blue Lakes, then south to Shoup between Fillmore and Blue Lakes, voting at the senior high school.

Precinct 9 includes a triangle between Elm Street on the west and Madrona Street and bounded by Kimberly road on the south and Addison Avenue on the north, will vote YMCA-YWCA building; Precinct 10, taking in all of the city east of Madrona Street, not included in Precinct 7, and south of Kimberly road between the east limits and Blue Lakes Boulevard South will vote in Morningstar School.

City Clerk Edythe Koontz said voters should check address with the accompanying map to make certain of the precincts and voting places.

Candidates for office include Stephen Bancroft, Michael Gray, Stephen Lincoln and Winston Jones, running as a "Citizens for Good Government" ticket; Lynn Goodman and Ray Crandal who have indicated they favor another election in continuing the city manager form of government, and Stephen M. Carter, Ann Cover, R. Dee Jenkins, Dave Kihen, J. Clifton Smallwood, Mike Thompson and Rex Duffin.

A thought for today: Pope Pius XII said, "The American people have a genius for splendor and unselfish action and into the hands of America God has placed the destinies of afflicted humanity."

Submariners face tough tests

Adm. Rickover, we have great respect for you because of your dedication and your fearlessness and what you have done and are doing for the United States." — Chairman George D. Mahon, D-Texas, in conducting hearings on the Navy's fiscal 1972 budget.

By GRANT DILLMAN AT SEA: ABOARD THE POLARIS SUBMARINE U.S.S. GEORGE WASHINGTON CARVER (UPI) — The nuclear submarine Carver, 8,250 tons of deadly retaliatory power, is driving ahead at flank speed more than 400 feet deep in the Atlantic when the alarm signals an emergency shutdown of its atomic power plant.

There is a moment of frozen disbelief aboard the 425-foot warship. Then the crew explodes into action. Lighting is reduced as power is cut off to all but vital functions. Lt. Paul Carr, 27, of Niantic, Conn., watch officer in the power control room, steps toward his instrument board.

Before he can reach it, a hand falls on his shoulder. "You're dead," announces Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, motioning Carr out of the room. He nods at electronics technician, J. John Lennon, 28, of Voluntown, Conn., who had been manning the panel controlling the output of the submarine's nuclear power plant.

"You're in charge," the admiral says quietly. Lennon hesitates and looks around as if seeking the reassuring presence of one of the Carver's regular officers. Finding none, he looked back at Rickover.

"Can you handle it?" the admiral asks, a note of insistence creeping into his voice. The sailor finally nods. "All right, it's yours."

The Carver by then is losing momentum and is limited to her battery power. In wartime, if detected, she would be more vulnerable to attack and possible destruction without the propulsion capability of her nuclear reactor plant.

As Lt. Carr, still not believing the admiral is serious, hovers outside the control room, Lennon goes swiftly to work on the complicated task of bringing the power plant back to critically and restoring steam for the Carver's turbines. Minutes later, the lights are all on and the submarine is fully operational again.

Despite the apparent smoothness of the drill, Rickover does not seem completely satisfied. In a low-voiced post mortem with Carver's skipper, Cmdr. Donald Briggs of Gentry, Ark., he is overheard to say, "But what if it had been wartime... Lennon, the electronics technician, who took over the reactor, who born in Johns, Md. and has been in submarines for three of his eight and half years in the Navy.

Was he startled by Rickover's action? "You bet. But we had word that something might happen." Discussing the episode afterward in the officers' wardroom with a small group of newsmen invited aboard for the overnight trials, Rickover said he wanted to be sure crew members could take over if their officers were killed or disabled.

He also emphasized that while it was a test, like another in which the Carver was thrown into reverse from full speed ahead, the nuclear plant actually was shut down and the problems involved were the same as would confront the crew in combat.

It was a typical performance for the slim, white-haired 71-year-old admiral whose penchant for direct action and insistence on perfection have led to countless clashes with Pentagon superiors and made him something of a hero to the military community in Congress.

It was Rickover, backed by Congress, who 20 years ago forced construction of the Navy's first nuclear-powered submarine, the Nautilus, which eventually was followed by the Polaris and Poseidon missile submarines which now ring the Soviet Union at constant ready.

Currently, the admiral is at the forefront of a new battle to build more nuclear-powered aircraft carriers and frigate escorts, plus a new tactical cruise missile submarine capable just off the U.S. coast, making them harder to find and destroy. With China becoming a nuclear power, proponents believe they would have special value in the broad reaches of the Pacific.

Rickover likewise wants an early start on a new generation of bigger, faster and more powerful missile submarines to vessels, known as Ulma for undersea long range missile system, might even be able to

Mill levy cut

BOISE (UPI) — Oscar Arstein, Idaho commissioner of agriculture, announced Friday a tax decrease which will mean about $25,000 per year to Idaho's dairymen.

Arstein told a news conference a two-mill-per-pound of butterfat levy now brings in about $100,000 each year to pay for the bureau of dairying.

He said, however, the money is now running about $30,000 more each year than needed to run the bureau. He said the mill levy will be cut by 25 per cent on Jan. 1.

Arstein complimented Dean Christensen, head of the bureau, for running his department in such a way as to allow the decrease.

Also on Jan. 1, Arstein said, the Department of Agriculture in cooperation with the roving ports of entry of the Department of Law Enforcement will begin a potato inspection program to protect Idaho's potatoes for seed industry from any disease.

He said the program is designed to protect the Teton County area, where potatoes are grown for seed. He said out-of-state potatoes will be inspected when they enter state.

He said there is also a program being planned which would require the inspection for grape stocks coming in from other states. He said there is growing interest in establishing a grape industry in Idaho and said the check would be to see that grapes coming into the state are free of disease.

Arstein said he will travel to Miami this week and place before the National Association of Commissioners of Agriculture a resolution affecting the potato industry.

He said the proposal asks the U.S. Department of Agriculture to require more detailed reporting of potato stocks from all producing areas, breaking potatoes on hand down into those destined for fresh sales, processing and livestock feed.

He said the change would give a break on the market for Idaho's stored potatoes.

Mail bids called for two routes

TWIN FALLS — Bids on two mail service routes in the Twin Falls region will be received until Nov. 17 at the Twin Falls Post Office, Lloyd Libert, postmaster, said Friday.

He said applications are available at any of the Post Offices in the line of travel for each route.

The routes include service in the Bliss, Hagerman and Tuttle area, a relatively small route, and a larger service area between Twin Falls, Jerome, Wendell, Gooding, Blaine and Hagerman. Both will require daily service except for Sundays and holidays.

Libert said the Bliss-Hagerman area is involved in both routes because part is box delivery and part route delivery. The smaller route requires a vehicle of station-wagon or sedan size and the other an 800 cubic-foot space vehicle.

Additional information is available from the Twin Falls Post Office. Libert said those bidding must live in the counties adjacent to the service areas.

New plant Idaho pays site named insurance

IDaho FALLS — Richard Wash, will be the site of the new French fry plant planned by Rogers Brothers Co., R. G. MacLean, president, said Friday.

The facility will cost about $8 million and will be situated in an industrial park. The Idaho-based seed and food processing firm has two other plants located in Washington at the present time.

'Spoken Word' producer dies

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Born in Salt Lake City in 1906, he was the youngest of nine children. He was active in church work nearly all of his life. In addition to his labors for the Mormon Church in radio and television, Evans had charge of the LDS missionary programs in Alaska, Canada, the Pacific Northwest, the northwestern states and all of California.

In 1939 he joined with the CBS affiliate in Salt Lake City — KSL Radio — and has since served both in business and operations.

At his death he was a director for KSL.

He was also a director of the advertising firm David W. Evans & Associate, the Salt Lake Union Stock Yards, the First Security Corp., Bountiful State Bank and Bonneville International Corp.

Evans was a past president of Rotary International (1966-67); member of the board of trustees of Brigham Young University and a member of the board of regents at the University of Utah.

Radio and church work occupied the major portion of his adult life, but he still found time for speaking and writing.

Evans wrote 12 religious books and was a feature writer for King Features Syndicate from 1946 to 1952.

He was survived by his widow, Alice Thornley Evans and his four sons: Richard Jr., John, Steven and William.

Funeral arrangements were pending.

Evans' mellow voice was part of millions of households across the United States and in foreign countries each Sunday morning as he produced and wrote the religious broadcast "Music and the Spoken Word," carried from Tabernacle Square on CBS Radio.

The program is the oldest continuously presented nationwide program in American radio.

Escapee in custody

BOISE (UPI) — Officials at the Idaho State Penitentiary said Sunday Dee Langhof, 40, Pocatello, a prison inmate who walked away from State Hospital South has been returned to the hospital.

Langhof was serving a 20-year sentence for rape when he was transferred to the hospital for a psychiatric evaluation. He disappeared Oct. 23.

Prison officials received a telephone call from the Blackfoot hospital Saturday notifying them that Langhof had returned. Sources said relatives brought him back.

Eagle sets drink vote on Tuesday

EAGLE, Idaho (UPI) — Eligible voters in the newly incorporated community of Eagle are scheduled to vote Tuesday to decide if they wish to allow liquor sold by the drink.

The vote is required because of a petition requesting the ballot which was signed by 32 per cent of the town's voters, according to acting city clerk Shirley Beutrow.

Even if the issue gets favorable support, only one business in the town is open to sell liquor by the drink.

A thought for today: British poet Harold Monro said: "How lonely we shall be, what shall we do, you without me, I without you."

BPA environment aid asked

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Idaho Environmental Council has released a proposed "Northwest environmental account" involving $25 million annually which would be used for environmental planning, management and preservation programs in the Northwest.

The proposal, developed by the council's water development committee, would involve the Bonneville Power Administration funds to be used by Idaho, Washington, Oregon, Montana and Wyoming.

Committee Chairman Tom Davis said the proposal could eventually necessitate a "light" increase in BPA power rates, but it could be put into effect immediately through lengthening the existing BPA payout period.

The proposed fund is a "fitting environmental protection measure," the council stated in a news release, because hydro-power generation and cheap BPA power have done appreciable damage to the Northwest environment.

This damage, the release said, "is illustrated by fish kills due to nitrogen supersaturation and indirectly by providing an inducement for industrial growth."

The proposal is the result of a study by the council of the sources and uses of funds by the BPA.

While the BPA has two different revenue accounting methods, the council has come up with a third — namely the "Northwest environmental account," what they call an additional "repayment" load for BPA revenues.

The proposal is to divert a specified amount of the total revenues to the proposed special fund as an added cost of power generation.

Since costs enter separately into the repayment schedule and, in fact, determine total revenues by way of rates — total repayment or net revenues would not be involved. The council believes the annual repayment would be reduced.

The effects on the BPA, the council stated, would be twofold:

— The repayment schedule may be forced further into the future — possible because the projected repayment schedule upon which present power rates are based is ahead of the schedule required by law.

— And, an increase in power rates above the normal increase may be necessary. Power rates can only be changed every five years, but as was demonstrated by the 1970 increase in interest cost, the "Northwest environmental account" need not wait until the next rate review for enactment.

The council added that their proposal is to involve the $25 million a year to be used by the Northwest states — in varying percentages: Washington, Oregon and Idaho, each 25 per cent; Montana, 16 per cent; and Wyoming, 10 per cent.

Funds are proposed for pollution control, administration of state wild and scenic rivers systems, ecologic research, condemnation or purchase of land or water for public environmental purposes, urban planning and management, fish or wildlife habitat enhancement or preservation and other purposes.

The council notes the funds would be proposed to be annually apportioned to the state and local government agencies by a task force in each state appointed by the governor of the state involved.

Hostages released safe

MANILA (UPI) — A guitar-strumming killer took a 14-year-old American girl hostage today, held her for 9 hours and kept a shotgun in her ribs during an escape by helicopter. The girl and two other hostages, forced to board the helicopter with the Filipino gunman later were released unharmed. The helicopter pilot said the killer was dropped off somewhere in the Zambales Province 45 miles northwest of Manila.

The man was discovered this morning while robbing the home of American businessman Charles R. Butler. He stabbed a man to death, shot and seriously wounded Mrs. Butler and took Butler's youngest daughter, Susan, hostage. He held her in an air conditioned bedroom of the house for nine hours while he negotiated his release. During that time he drank whisky, ate pork and beans, whistled and occasionally strummed a guitar.

Some 200 police under the direction of Manila Mayor Antonio Villegas, who lives next door, stood helplessly by during the long siege. When the man left the house for a short auto drive to the nearby Manila Polo Club, sharpshooters were ready, but were unable to get a clear shot at him.

The gunman took Susan, her uncle, Stewart Raab, and a Manila Daily Star crime reporter, Ruther Batulgas, with him aboard the helicopter. Batulgas had been negotiating with the bandit.

The helicopter pilot, Alvaro Aspillero, radioed that he had let the man off in the Zambales province about 4 p.m. 11 hours after the nightmare began with the discovery of the thief in the Butler home. A second robber escaped over a back wall when discovered and was not involved in the kidnaping.

The helicopter was supplied by the Manila Daily Times.

45 persons dead

VIENNA (UPI) — Rescue teams dug through tons of mud at a small community in Romania Transylvania Sunday, looking for more bodies buried in a weekend mine disaster that left at least 45 persons dead.

Romania's national news agency, Agerpres, reported 45 dead and 88 injured in Saturday's accident at Certeal. Sacarimb, Romanian Transylvania. A Certeal-Sacarimb policeman reached by telephone from Vienna said, "We are still searching."

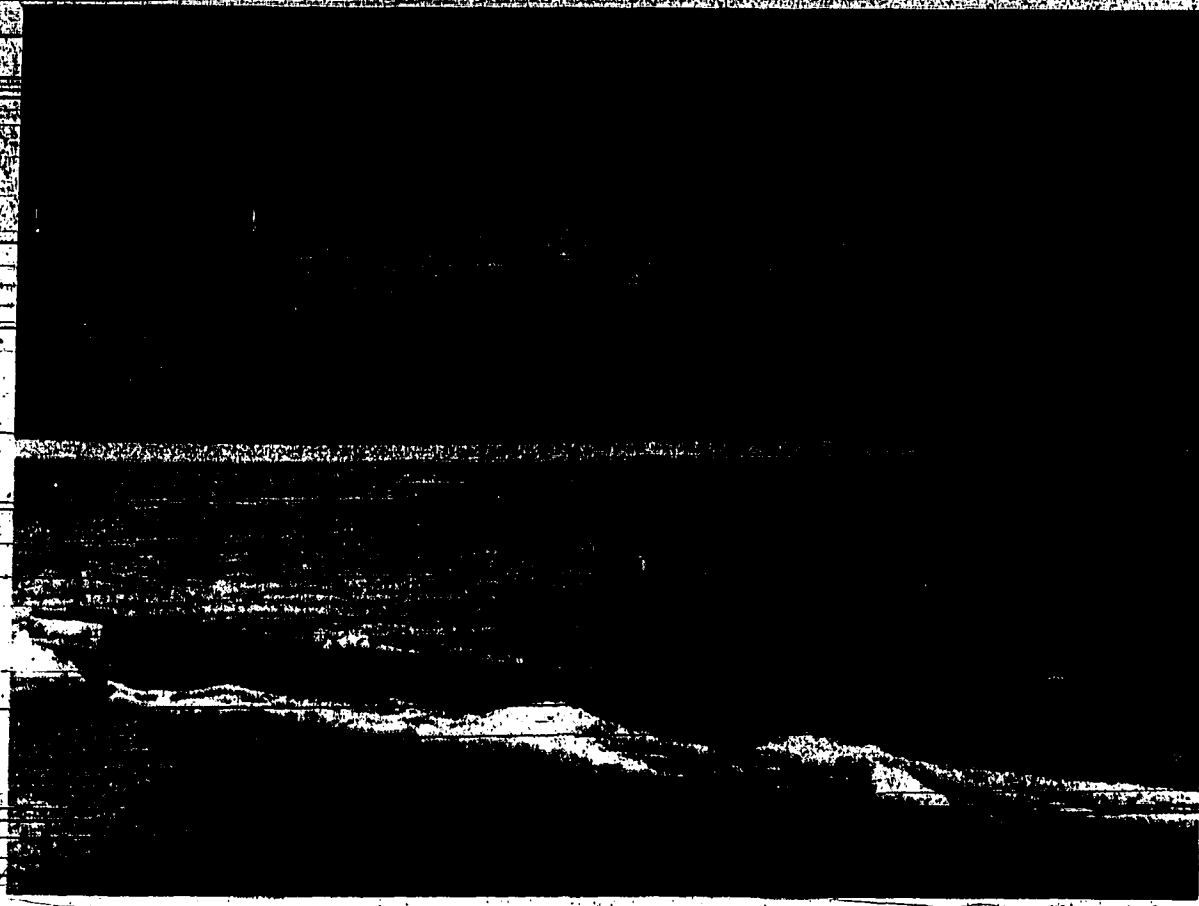

Agerpres said "separating installations in the mine collapsed, sending tons of black, slimy sludge onto the mine's administrative buildings and homes.

Volunteers and army units went to the region, a mountainous area 160 miles northwest of Bucharest, Romania's capital. Transylvania is a rough country, always linked with vampires and tales of horror.

Agerpres said it had no new details of the accident.

Arrogance cited

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey Sunday night said the Senate's defeat of the administration's foreign aid bill was due to "legislative arrogance" and a lack of leadership on the part of President Nixon.

The Minnesota Democrat said the President maintained "little or no contact" with the congressional leadership for several weeks prior to action on the aid bill.

"Then, when the administration did give an indication to the Congress of some interest it came in the form of a scruff of the neck, back of the hand threat of a presidential veto to any bill containing amendments that Mr. Nixon did not like," Humphrey said.

He added, "The President's high-handed threat to those liberal members of the Senate who wished to assure no further expansion of our war efforts in Indochina coalesced with his 'green light,' anti-internationalist statements against the United Nations to defeat the foreign aid bill."

"President Nixon," Humphrey said, "is guilty of the worst kind of legislative arrogance in this matter."

Humphrey, who had been paired in favor of the foreign aid bill and was not present at Friday night's vote in which the Senate killed the foreign aid bill, made his first public comments on the action before a $150-a-plate testimonial dinner given by the American Jewish Committee honoring St. Louis businessman Ben Fixman.

Humphrey told newsmen prior to the speech that "the administration lost its cool" in its reaction to the ouster of Nationalist China when Mainland China was admitted into the United Nations.

"I'm sure Mr. Nixon knows that the seating of Mainland China is potentially more important to his plans than the unseating of Taiwan," Humphrey said. "More than likely the President's trip to China would have been aborted if the two-China policy were accepted by the U.N."

Narcotics seized

TOLEDO, Ohio (UPI) — More than $10 million-worth of pure heroin and cocaine was seized by the police department's metropolitan drug squad here Sunday. Three Detroit men were apprehended.

Police said the capture — 12.1 pounds of heroin and 2.2 pounds of cocaine — was the largest in Ohio's history.

Arrested and charged with conspiracy to violate Ohio narcotics laws were Willie Middlebrook, 33; Allen Morris, 29; and Harold McSpadden, 24, all of Detroit. They were held under $100,000 bond each.

Cebis to give legal advice

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Dr. Valdimir Cebis, second secretary for consular and legal affairs at the Czechoslovakian Embassy in Washington, was assigned Sunday to give legal assistance in a deportation hearing Monday to 22 Cubans confined in a nearby naval air station by the immigration service.

The U.S. State Department made the announcement saying Cebis would arrive from Washington to advise the delegates to a world sugar conference. The men arrived in New Orleans last week without visas.

"He will appear on their behalf, though not as legal counsel, at a hearing which will be convened by a special inquiry officer sometime Monday afternoon, probably tending toward late afternoon," said a State Department spokesman.

An attempt to convene the hearing Friday was blocked when the Cubans exercised their right to be advised by someone familiar with the immigration law they are accused of violating. The hearing Monday will be private unless the Cubans exercise their right to a public hearing.

Filer has write-in woman candidate

Alice W. Blake

Name: Alice W. Blake
 Candidate for: Filer city councilman (write-in)
 Age: 61
 Birthplace: Howard, Kans.
 Address: 312 Yakima St., Filer
 Length of residence: 28 years
 Employment: Operates apartment house
 Previous political experience: None
 Affiliation: belongs to the United Methodist church and the Woman's Society of Christian Service.
 Special qualifications: Did bookkeeping and clerical work in the county courthouse in Kansas and has worked in grocery stores in Filer and Albertson's Baker, Twin Falls.
 Why should you be the voters' choice? I believe it would be a good thing for the town to have a woman councilman as in a small town, especially, it is good to have the viewpoints of both men and women. Would give full time to the office if elected.
 Family: Husband, Seth Blake and three children

Charles Crawford Jr.

Name: Charles Crawford Jr.
 Candidate for: Filer city councilman
 Age: 40
 Birthplace: Filer
 Address: 514 Yakima St., Filer
 Length of residence: 11 years
 Employment: Warehouse superintendent at Chester B. Brown
 Previous political experience: None
 Education: high school graduate
 Affiliations: currently serving on the city parks board. Former Jaycee president.
 Family: Wife Betty Crawford and four children
 Special qualifications: I am familiar with some of the problems that face the city council.
 Why should you be the voters' choice: I feel that all interested citizens should take part in city government. I am well known in the community and am interested in all city affairs and would like to do my part by serving as a city councilman.

(Editor's note: The third Filer candidate, Russell Sheridan, did not reply to the Times-News questionnaire.)

Agnew future queried

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Along with everybody else, high-level Republican strategists assume that President Nixon surely will seek a second term in the White House. They are far from sure, however, that Vice President Spiro T. Agnew will stay on as the second half of the GOP ticket in 1972.

As a result, the preliminary work for the 1972 campaign is geared strictly to Nixon, not Nixon and Agnew. Moreover, one high-ranking Republican indicates some reservations about Agnew, specifically Agnew's campaigning tactics. This official is not an Eastern, left-wing liberal. If anything, he comes closer philosophically to Agnew than to Nixon.

The grumbling about Agnew's failures as a campaigner can be traced, almost totally to his unwillingness to mingle. This trait of personality also surfaced on some of his foreign travels. Although an excellent fund raiser, according to this official, Agnew refuses to go through the dreary task of handshaking and chit-chat with the faithful. That leaves many local party members, who pay good money for dinner and a speech, somewhat hungry for a little more.

The basic complaint was that Agnew has a tendency to stick to his hotel room when local politicians would like to have him more visible.

This official is quick to point up Agnew's plus points while at the same time conceding that the vice president will be "persona non grata" in some states.

Agnew will be "good in the South" and could bring to the ticket a constituency of his own — those on the right who are dismayed by Nixon's overtures to Russia and Mainland China, the official observed.

The question, he said, is whether Agnew can hold that constituency for Nixon.

In musing on a possible replacement, this GOP strategist failed to come up with anyone. He said Gov. Ronald Reagan of California was losing popularity in his state and that New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller probably would not want the assignment.

The choice may well be delayed until after the Democratic convention next July to see what the opposition looks like.

ARMOND C. TAYLOR, Seattle, assistant traffic manager for the Union Pacific Railroad, has been named traffic manager at Boise, effective Nov. 1, according to H. F. Pettigrew, Omaha, Neb., vice president in charge of traffic. Taylor will direct traffic agencies at Boise, Pocatello and Butte, Mont., as well as all sales and service activities in the Southern Idaho-Montana region.

'Juice' heals bones

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — A university of Pennsylvania orthopedic research team has successfully employed small electric currents to heal bone breaks which have not responded to normal treatment.

The novel procedure appears promising for fresh fractures also, and may have healing time for bone breaks, according to the orthopedic surgeons.

Dr. Carl Brighton, head of the six-man team, outlined the steps of the procedure, five years under study, at a news conference Friday.

A small stainless steel wire is inserted into the bone at the fracture site. Dr. Brighton said. Attached to the wire is a small battery, giving off one-thousandth of the current used to power a heart pacemaker. The anode, or positive pole, is inserted under the skin.

A "soft" plaster cast encloses the battery and all the wire except for two leads which protrude through the cast so that hospital personnel can monitor battery strength.

The procedure, Brighton said, has been limited to old fractures.

Radioactive hazards outlined for city

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Nearly 3,000 homes and other buildings in Grand Junction, Colo., are sitting on or near radioactive material and the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) should pay to have it removed, a witness told the Joint Atomic Energy Committee's Raw Material Subcommittee Friday.

There is a danger of leukemia and cancer from the material, the executive director of the Colorado Department of Health, Dr. Roy L. Cleere, said while testifying at a subcommittee hearing on use of "tailings." Tailings are the sandy soil-like leftover of the processing of uranium ore into fuel for atomic energy.

"Without the knowledge of the state of Colorado, hundreds of structures were built in Grand Junction in the period between 1952 and 1966 with radioactive tailings from a local uranium processing mill used as construction fill either underneath or up against the buildings," Cleere said. During that time, the operations were under an Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) license.

"We discovered, quite by chance, in 1966 that tailings from the Climax Uranium Co. mill were being used for a construction fill in Grand Junction. We were alarmed at the potential health hazard posed by this practice and on Aug. 1, 1966 ordered a halt to the release of additional tailings material to anyone without prior approval by the department of health."

A survey shows 2,870 structures with radioactive tailings under them or adjacent to them, he said. That total is from 12,351 structures surveyed and there are 4,000 more to be screened.

Cleere thinks the AEC should pay to have the tailings removed, because of their potentially harmful radioactivity.

It could cost up to $15,000 per structure, he said. Glen E. Keller, Jr., president of the Colorado Board of Health, said, "we have observed the efforts of the AEC first to deny the possibility of a problem, then to admit possibility but pooh-pooh probability."

Robert D. Siek, an assistant director in the Colorado Department of Health, said, "the use of tailings has been identified in homes, businesses, schools and churches. It would be impossible to follow any individual and determine a total radiation exposure." For that reason, he said, the tailings should be taken away. Grand Junction Mayor Staley R. Anderson said in his prepared statement that the national publicity about Grand Junction's tailings has been harmful in some cases.

Sen. Muskie may reveal race plans

BEDFORD, N.H. (UPI) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, said Saturday he would probably announce his candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination about the first of the year.

Muskie, considered the front-runner for the nomination, said of his announcement, "The time is getting close. I would think that just before or after the first of the year you'll see a rash of announcements probably including my own."

"I like to keep some element of doubt in the whole thing so that when the announcement comes there'll be some element of surprise," Muskie told a small gathering of politicians at the Sheraton Wayfarer motel on a one-day campaign swing through New Hampshire.

T.F. Red Cross activities

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls Chapter of the American Red Cross held its stated monthly meeting this past week in the Boy Scout Auditorium, with Martin Foss, chapter chairman, presiding.

Jesse V. Haws, field representative of the American Red Cross for south eastern Idaho, was introduced and discussed code and procedure of American Red Cross.

Byron Hacking, chairman of first aid, gave his first aid committee report from a meeting it held the previous evening where it was decided if approved by the board to hold another symposium. The board voted unanimously to have another first aid symposium during March, with the exact date and place to be announced.

The symposium will be a two-day workshop to be conducted on a Friday and Saturday. There will be no charge. An open invitation to everyone who wishes to attend — oriented to emergency personnel, nurses, fire department, police department, state police, sheriff department, industry, government, service organizations, medical association, and the American Red Cross throughout the state and neighboring states.

Jeannine Brown, chairman of blood drawings in Kimberly, gave a report on the blood drawing executive board meeting she attended in Boise, stating the Twin Falls Chapter was commended on its blood drawings. The next drawings include Twin Falls, Nov. 6; Jerome, Nov. 9; and Kimberly, Dec. 9.

Zita Roache, chairman for veterans, gave a report on the 3-R Veterans workshop she attended in Boise. Some of the topics studied and discussed included compensation, pension, employment security, social security, G. I. loans, discharges, hospitalization and drugs.

Hazel Wilder, public relations chairman, reported the chapter received from the area office records and films on "American Red Cross the United Way" which she in turn took to KEEP, KTFI and KLLX Radio stations and KMYT-TV. Communications chairman, Diane Bridgum, reported she is still working on disaster radio communications and Eldon Ryals gave a report and discussion on disaster.

Chapter chairman, Foss, appointed Larry Henman as rural campaign chairman.

Foss commented that Hazel Wilder, a team captain for United Fund, was given special recognition at the final report Nov. 17 because of luncheon for being the first team to finish all its calls in the current United Fund Drive. Members of the Red Cross Chapter also receiving certificates for working their packets were Irene Bason, B. Ann Pollard, Foss and Dave Nelson. Others from the Red Cross Chapter working on United Fund Drive include

Chuck Charlton; a team captain, Larry Henman, Julia Campeau, Walt Ross, Laird Noh and Dr. Roy Shaub.

The November board meeting has been set up one week to Nov. 17 because of Thanksgiving.

Byron Hacking, first aid chairman, showed a film, "The Link — American Red Cross Service to Military Families," which explains the procedure of families sending messages to their immediate family in service, mostly overseas, through their local American Red Cross Chapter.

Try this test with dollar bill

SHOSHONE — "Test your refrigerator with a paper dollar," Mrs. Jeanene Annett, Lincoln-Blaine and Camas County home economist, said Saturday.

"A dollar bill should not pull out easily from anywhere around a refrigerator door. If it does, the opening may need a new gasket, or a door hinge may be out of alignment. This dollar bill hint can save money, Mrs. Annett points out. It can help spot air-leaks that add considerable to the refrigerator's work and build up frost.

Even if the refrigerator is in good repair, you can help it stay that way by defrosting before frost is more than one-third to one-half inch thick; keep drip pan dry so mold can't grow in it; making sure everything is on the lava and vacuum parts below and behind once a year to get dust and lint off the condensing coils and motor.

Pat Nixon disappointed that woman wasn't named

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House won't say whether First Lady Pat Nixon gave the President an earful for failing to name a woman to the Supreme Court.

Her aides say, "Naturally, she was disappointed. She was really hoping the right woman would be found."

"But in some pointed byplay last Friday, Martha Mitchell made it clear at a National Federation of Republican Women's banquet that she was upset. Her husband, Attorney General John N. Mitchell, told reporters, "She gave me hell." Mitchell added, "As I understand it, another gentleman in this town got hell, too."

But the President had his defense before the same female gathering earlier in the day. "While I know that a great number in this audience including my wife felt very strongly that not only should a woman be considered, but that a woman should be appointed, let me say that at least we have made a beginning, and there will be a woman on the Supreme Court in time."

Nixon also took a swipe at the American Bar Association for dubbing California Court of Appeals Justice Mildred Lillie as unqualified. He noted that the ABA committee judging his possible nominees was all-male.

"The jury ... should at least have one woman on it, not all men, if they are going to consider a woman," he jibed.

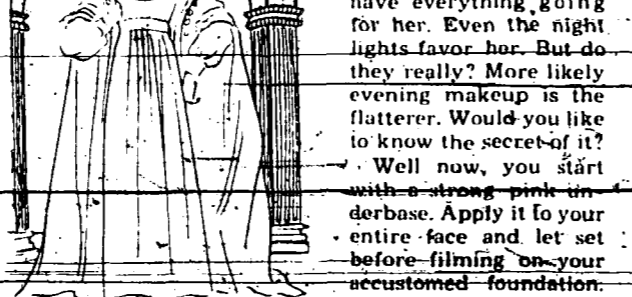

But women's lib groups thought Nixon might have named a number of other women they consider highly qualified, including Judge Shirley Hufstetter of the U.S. Court of Appeals in California; Superior Court Judge Sylvia Bacon.

A Lovelier You

LADY OF THE EVENING
By Mary Sue Miller

She is lovely, a lady dressed for an evening occasion. No thing of gypsy rags and patches.

Our lady is wrapped in furs and velvets. Her face gleams with fresh color. She has a slightly mysterious an, just enough to capture your interest. And she has quality. Star quality.

In short she seems to have everything going for her. Even the night lights favor her. But do they really? More likely evening makeup is the flatterer. Would you like to know the secret of it?

Well now, you start with a strong pink underbase. Apply it to your entire face and let set before filming on your accustomed foundation. The dual application results in a glow that appears to come from within. Has staying power too.

Lipstick holds its own when you wear clear, insistent reds; shades that are new again and newly a glow. Be sure always to avoid a blue-red. It has the faculty of looking macabre under artificial lights. You may want for a bit of color winged high on the cheekbones. If so, use whipped cream rouge, to meld in color with your lipstick. This consistency clings from dawn to dusk.

For a finish no light affects, try smoky silver or amber eye shadow. Tone the eyebrows with brow softener. Whisk the lashes with jet mascara.

Oh yes, as you make an entrance watch the heads turn.

'I white elephant' is admission cost

TWIN FALLS — Episcopal Churchwomen of the Episcopal Church of the Ascension, including accessories for all ages from toddlers and teen-agers to adults, both men and women.

During the luncheon, favorite recipes of the Episcopal women will be served, including casseroles, salads and desserts. Each will cost just 10 cents per dip.

Mrs. Robert Alexander will narrate the fashion show.

'Ballet West' tickets available

TWIN FALLS — District Five Junior Music Clubs, an affiliate of the National Federation of Music Clubs, with the help of the Idaho Arts Commission and the Federation of Rocky Mountain States, will present "Ballet West" Dec. 1 at the College of Southern Idaho Fine Arts Auditorium.

There will be a matinee at 2:30 p.m. for students as well as an evening performance. Student tickets are $1.50 and all seats for the evening performance are $3.

Students who purchase a ticket in the Twin Falls school system will be excused for the matinee performance.

This young company represents not only Utah, but the entire west, and the Rocky Mountain States are fortunate indeed to have one of the best ballet companies in America in residence in the region, according to Beverly Hackney, Publicity chairman.

"The fantastic success and great reputation of Ballet West is due to William F. Christensen as artistic director and teacher," she said.

Credit must also be given to the dedicated young artists who have foregone the usual transitory pleasures of adolescence and committed themselves to working long hours to perfect and preserve a 400-year-old art form. Many of these young people have or are working on their B.A. and M.F.A. degrees at the University of Utah while maintaining a full schedule of practice and rehearsal hours with the ballet company.

Walter Terry, dance critic for "Saturday Revue," said of the company, "The Dancers of Ballet West are young, good-looking and excellently trained. The company itself has a distinctive style that is expensive rather than tightly elegant, gracious rather than haughty, dashing rather than stately."

Don't miss this opportunity to see one of America's most exciting young ballet companies. Tickets may be purchased at Garth Music Store, Warner Music Co., Sullivan's Music and Rice's Music Store, and at the public schools.

DEAR ABBY: You told "HAVING DOUBTS" to grab the guy who was extra good to his mother. It's obvious that you don't know what it's like to be married to a mamma's boy. You're lucky!

Please print my true story for her to see: Before marriage, I thought Ralph (fake name) was a real jewel. Several said: "A guy who is especially good to his mother will make a fine husband."

Maybe this is true, if the guy draws the line. Ralph didn't. In spite of the fact that I tried my best to make Ralph happy, loved, feel like a man, here are a few things he did to ruin our marriage:

(1) Stopped off at Mom's house on the way to work, after work, and he called her daily on his lunch hour.

(2) Sat back and didn't say a word to defend me when his Mom put down me and my family.

(3) Took Mom out every Sunday to visit friends. When I asked to go along, Ralph said, "You wait here. I'll be back in a little while." (His "little while" was all day.)

(4) Told Mom all about our sex life. (How's that for a shocker?) She told me herself, and it was accurate, so I know she wasn't bluffing.

(5) When Ralph got sick he wouldn't let anyone near him but his Mama.

Abby, I could go on, but I think you get the point. Most guys who are soooooo good to their mothers are usually mama's boys.

Of course, our marriage didn't last long. Ralph's doctor told him if he didn't go back to his mother he would have a nervous breakdown. He went. And now I'm glad he did.

RALPH'S "EX"

DEAR ABBY: To "HAVING DOUBTS" because her boy friend always puts his mother first, you said: "Grab him. For a preview peek of how a man will treat his wife, take notice of how he treats his mother."

Not true, Abby. He will always put his mother first as long as she lives, and his wife will have to play second fiddle.

Believe me, I know. Well-cared-for invalids usually outlive their grandchildren.

O. W. K.

DEAR O. W. K.: The feedback on "Having Doubts" surprised me. Ninety per cent of those who wrote disagreed with my answer and expressed the view you expressed above. For a beautiful letter from the opposition, read this:

DEAR ABBY: I agree with your answer to "HAVING DOUBTS." When I was 19, I was engaged to a young man who seemed to have more consideration for his mother than he did me.

She was a widow, nearly 60, with a bad leg. She liked to go for rides in the car, and stop for ice cream, so my fiancé always put Mom in the front with him while I sat alone in the back. I resented it because sometimes they would have conversations about people I didn't even know.

And Mom stuck like a burr. She was one of those people who said good-bye 20 times before leaving. She really was a bore to a 19-year-old girl who wanted to be alone with her boy friend.

Then I took a closer look. Her son always helped her in and out of the car. He spoke politely to her, and if her chatter bored him, he never showed it. But most important, here was a woman who had raised her son alone. And he was a fine man who believed in God, and in getting a good education and in marrying instead of chasing around. She must have been quite a woman to have raised such a wonderful son.

We married, and Mom's real character came thru. She died at 83. That was 20 years ago. I still miss her.

NO DOUBTS

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get a copy of our book. Write to ABBY, Box 670, Los Angeles, Cal. 90005. Put a personal reply section stamped addressed envelope.

Miss Brashier marries Bourn

HANSEN — Connie Kay grandmother, Mrs. Jess Tur Brashier, brother of the bride, was topped with a miniature Brashier daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Brashier and Robert Kohl Harrison, Twin Falls. The wedding music was played by organist Mrs. Rachel Winton Bourn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Allen Bourn, all Hansen, were united in marriage Friday evening, Oct. 15, at candlelight services at the Carillon, Twin Falls. Rev. John B. Sims, Twin Falls, officiated at the double ring ceremony before the altar decorated with a basket bouquet of pink gladiol, pink chrysanthemums and greenery and a candelabra of lighted candles.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length white gown of chiffon and satin, which she fashioned herself. It was styled with an Empire waistline, tied with a satin bow in back, high stand-up collar, and sheer Meg-o-mutton sleeves. Three rows of Venice lace adorned the wrist, front of bodice, around the collar, and around the hemline of the skirt. Her waist length net veil was held with a headpiece of fresh flowers, styled of pink rosebuds and pink baby breath. She carried a nosegay bouquet of pink rosebuds and pink baby breath tied with pink ribbon streamers and backed with lace.

She wore white pearl earrings and a heart-shaped necklace borrowed from her maid of honor. She carried an old linen and lace handkerchief, borrowed from her

Hailey woman reports on Utah meet for Richfield chapter

RICHFIELD — Mrs. Hergan McQuin, Hailey, grand representative to Kentucky in Idaho, Order of Eastern Star, gave an account of the meeting of Grand Chapter of Utah held in Salt Lake City when she visited the Richfield Chapter No. 72 Thursday night.

Mrs. A. G. Biswell, worthy matron, and Clarence Lemmon, worthy patron, presided.

The altar was draped in memory of John A. Reubke, Wallace, past grand patron of the grand chapter of Idaho, Order of Eastern Star.

Announced were friendship nights to be held Nov. 14, at Buhl Chapter Number 28, Bethany Chapter Number 23, Hailey on Nov. 16, and Lincoln Chapter 42, Shoshone, on Nov. 16.

Plans were made for a meeting Nov. 11 with arrangements under direction of Mrs. Clarence Lemmon and Mrs. Forrest Armstrong. The rest of the evening Thursday was spent in a Halloween party. Mrs. John Lemmon and Mrs. Everett O'Donnell each read Halloween poems and Mrs. Iva Trowbridge passed out treats to those present.

Mrs. Agnes Powell was hostess and the refreshment table was decorated in the Halloween motif.

CLARK CAMERON

CHARLES J. DALRY

WILLIAM STRASSER

ILENE BENWARD

GROVER NEWMAN

Name: Clark Cameron
Candidate for: Rupert city council
Political party: Republican
Age: 65
Birthplace: Salt Lake City
Address: 314 8th Ave. E., Rupert
Employment: Cameron Sales, Inc. general manager and president
Previous political experience: served as Rupert mayor and was appointed to fill unexpired council term. Defeated for councilman four years ago
Education: High School plus 47 years practical experience in field of hard knocks. Managed zone territories for International Harvester Co. in the Intermountain area for 12 years. Have been in business in Rupert since August, 1944, and own, with sons, the firm of Cameron Sales Inc.
Affiliations: LDS Bishop's counselor, bishop, stake high councilman, Lions club president; twice president, Rupert Chamber of Commerce, Chairman hospital board before and during construction of present Minidoka Memorial Hospital. Currently vice chairman hospital board; 11 years as chairman of Selective Service board; district chairman and Scoutmaster helped bring North Side Minidoka North Side project into being Family: Wife, Beatrice Alice, and five children
Special qualifications: I have a keen desire to serve my community. I know the community, have been a property owner and taxpayer for over 27 years. Have served as mayor and councilman in the past, which qualifies me. My practical business experience lends toward my ability to render good judgment on city business. Why should you be the voters' choice: I am an honest,

Name: Charles J. Dalry
Political party: Republican
Age: 37
Birthplace: Kemmerer, Wyo.
Address: 529 15th St., Rupert
Length of residence: 17 years
Employment: Owner, manager of Dalry Electric Co.
Previous political experience: Four years on Rupert city council
Education: Rupert High School graduate in 1952
Affiliations: member Rupert Lutheran church, Idaho State Electric board, Association of Idaho cities municipal electric committee; Minidoka County Fire Department East End (assistant fire chief) and Rupert Chamber of Commerce
Family: Wife, Barbara, and two children
Special qualifications: I have spent four years in this capacity. Also I have worked for the city as a lineman in the electric department and have been interested in city affairs for the past 17 years. Why should you be the voters' choice: I will continue to provide dedicated creative leadership that the citizens of Rupert have a right to expect. I will work for the affairs of our city to be conducted on a sound businesslike manner.
 upright citizen and my background in business and fair dealings with people is recognized. Also my past experience in city administration, my service to the community over the past 27 years and my desire to serve. I do not need the job. I do wish to help bring about much needed improvement for the people of Rupert. I am mature in my judgment, have time to devote and a willingness to serve. I am not being led or dictated to by any individual or group

Name: William (Bub) Strasser
Candidate for: Rupert city council
Political party: Independent
Age: 56
Birthplace: Metalious, Ore.
Address: Grandview Addition, Rupert
Length of residence: 18 years
Employment: Partner in R. J. Strasser Drilling Co.
Previous political experience: Was defeated for Rupert mayor two years ago by 12 votes.
Education: junior certificate, University of Oregon
Affiliations: President Rupert Chamber of Commerce, member Minidoka County Hospital board, Southern Idaho Health resource board; Minidoka county representative to Regional Mental Health board, and vice chairman; Mini-Cassia Child Development Center building committee chairman
Family: Wife, Frances S. Strasser, and one daughter
Special qualifications: Twenty-five years of business administration. Participation in civic activities and time available to devote to the position if elected.
 Why should you be the voters' choice: I feel I am well qualified for this position as I have been involved in many civic activities and have been quite successful in each. Perhaps the fact that I have considerable time to devote to them is a contributing factor. Further, I am very proud of the city of Rupert, having chosen it as my home and am convinced that it is the best place to live in Southern Idaho. I enjoy administrative work and feel sure that I can be instrumental in restoring harmony to our city council. Total agreement is not essential or even desirable yet differences can be taken care of in a dignified way.

Name: Mrs. Ilene Benward
Candidate for: Rupert city council
Political party: Republican
Age: 39
Birthplace: Rupert
Address: 924 A St., Rupert
Employment: Circulation manager for Rupert, South Idaho Press
Previous political experience: Rupert precinct committeewoman. Helped in Nixon's unsuccessful campaign for the presidency in 1960 in California
Education: Rupert High School, bookkeeping, correspondence course, LaSalle University
Affiliations: active in PTA church, Blue Bird leader, volunteer Red Cross nurse, chamber member NCO wives club, Lawn Air Force Base, Laon, France, Albuquerque Little Theatre
Family: four children
Special qualifications: As a taxpayer and mother I believe I am well informed, have time to devote to the city and have communication with residents who are as vitally concerned with their city as I am.
 Why should you be the voters' choice: Because I truly care where and how the tax money is spent. I know how hard it is to make ends meet. I believe residents are frustrated because they do not feel they are truly represented. City departments, with regard to employees, are not treated equally, nor certain city areas.

Name: Grover Newman
Candidate for: Rupert city council
Political party: Democratic
Age: 52
Birthplace: Jerome
Address: 916 I St., Rupert
Length of residence: 25 years
Employment: History and government teacher, Minidoka county schools
Previous political experience: City council since 1964 and state senator candidate in 1966
Education: Jerome High School graduate, attended University of Idaho, and Southern Idaho College of Education, B.S. degree in education, one year graduate study at Utah State College.
Affiliations: Currently active in the Rupert Methodist Church, Methodist Men's Club and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Stockholder in the Rupert Development Corp.
Family: Wife, Marjorie G. Newman, and four children
Special qualifications: Active in politics and civic affairs since high school; a hobby as well as my profession
 Why should you be the voters' choice: My proven record for promoting thrifty dollar-wise progress. Rupert has progressed yet city taxes and several charges are lower now than in 1964 when I first went on the council. I was successful in persuading the council to lower the mill levy to offset the increased assessed valuation on property ordered by the state legislature. I shall continue to work for efficiency in government, not higher taxes.

Food taken to hospital

TWIN FALLS — The 18th annual Shrine caravan to the Shrine-sponsored Crippled Children's Hospital in Salt Lake City braved snow-choked highways over the weekend to transport an estimated 50 tons of food and several thousand dollars in cash donations to the Utah capital.
 In the Burley-Rupert area, pickup trucks and a number of cars joined the caravan Saturday morning.
 The Shriners and K of C members stopped in Ogden Saturday night, continuing on to Salt Lake City Sunday morning, where Westminster College students helped unload the trucks. Club members and a number of wives who accompanied them visited with the children in the hospital.
 Idaho and Utah State Police units escorted the caravan throughout southern Idaho and Utah to Salt Lake City.
 The Shrine caravan was initiated in 1953 in the Buhl area and has been a major effort of the Shriners every year. The Knights of Columbus joined the cause in 1970.
 Newbury said heavy snow was encountered in Utah late Saturday and early Sunday in the Salt Lake City area, but there was no interference with the caravan. The members and their wives returned home Sunday.

Race group names head

BURLEY — John Stelle, Jerome, was elected president of the Idaho Horse Racing Sponsoring Assn. Saturday at the Ponderosa Inn, Burley.
 W. B. Church, who has served four years as president, conducted a business meeting at which requested racing dates on the fair circuit were studied. Reports were given on last year's races.
 Elmer R. Terry, Pocatello, was elected vice president, replacing John Park, Glenn Perry.

Litley, Emmett, Hillman, and John Trevino, Rupert.
 It was announced the Idaho Rodeo and Fair Assn. will meet Nov. 18-19 at the Barnock Hotel, Pocatello. Dates will be set at this meeting for 1972 fairs, Terry said.
 The group set the first week in December for its next meeting when reports from the appointed committees will be heard. Time and place will be announced, said Stelle.

Burley, Albion contests warm

BURLEY — Councilmen in Burley and Albion are the only city officials facing opposition at the polls in Tuesday's municipal elections.
 Six candidates are in the running for three expiring Burley City Council seats. Incumbents in the race are Leslie Morgan, John Croft and Rex Stanley. Challengers include Calvin Heiner, George Warrell Jr. and Cloyd Taylor.
 Albion council incumbents Jay Nielson and Frank Adams are faced by one challenger, Rev. Alva Winder.
 Malta Mayor Wallace Briggs and Councilmen Osmer Smith and Boyd Both are all running unopposed in their bids for re-election.

Oakley
 In Oakley, Mayor Nathan Tamer and Councilman Denver Altom both seek additional four-year terms without opposition.
Declo
 Declo Mayor George Schrenk faces no challenge in his bid for re-election, as do Councilman Jones Leonard and Merl Riding.
 Polls in the various municipalities throughout the county will open at noon and close at 8 p.m.

Horses get Gem cutting trophies

JEROME — Idaho Championships in the 1971 cutting horse finals held in Jerome Saturday went to a Montpelier man in the open competition and a Twin Falls woman in the novice.
 Trophy saddles were awarded Dean Kuns, Montpelier, riding Vernal Sox in open competition. The horse has been leading on points throughout the season.

Burley observes quiet Halloween

BURLEY — Burley's downtown shopping district, scene of Halloween vandalism in past years and heavy security precautions this year, was generally quiet Saturday night.
 Police officials agreed a combination of poor weather and driving conditions and a rock concert at the high school joined with security measures in keeping trouble at a minimum.
 The only damage reported was a broken window in a bank and one soaped car.
 The entire city police force was on duty all night, and dozens of special officers were called in, including city employees and the Idaho Rangers.

Police patrolled the streets in marked and unmarked cars and foot patrols ventured out in twos or threes. Some carried hand guns, handcuffs, Mace canisters, radio equipment and 36-inch riot batons. Most police activity was confined to searching cars for rotten eggs, vegetables and other potential missiles.
 There was no trouble reported at the high school, site of the first police-sponsored rock concert. About 400 attended the concert to listen to Cheyenne and the Dream Children. By prior agreement, police agreed to leave security inside the building to the students.

3 enter Gooding campaign

GOODING — Three candidates vying for two expiring Gooding City Council terms highlight municipal elections set for Tuesday in Gooding County.
 Councilmen seeking re-election are Gene Kelly and Valdo Gray. Doris Vaughan poses the lone challenge to the two, following the withdrawal from the race by Duane Johnson.
Bliss
 Bliss Mayor Vernon Behrens and four councilmen seek four-year terms without opposition. Councilmen include Michael Hobbey, R. A. Armstrong, J. A. Pruett and Harold Flynn.

Rupert man fills post

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Association of Elected County Officials has elected Minidoka County Clerk August Bethke as its new president.
 Also during the group's first annual meeting Saturday at the Rodeway Inn, they selected Coeur d'Alene as the site of the 1972 meeting.

Woman seeking Richfield post

SHOSHONE — The candidacy of Billie Swainston, the first woman to try for a city council seat in Richfield, highlights municipal election campaigns in Lincoln County Tuesday.
 Mrs. Swainston and Wendell King are challenging reelection bids by Richfield City Councilmen John Lemmon and Ronald Ralls.
Dietrich
 All five Dietrich city officials, including Mayor Dean Durfee, face reelection without opposition. Councilmen running include Homer Anderson, Sidney Edwards, Sr., Roger Stoddard and Herb Dodge.

Shoshone
 Shoshone Councilman Wilson Churchman and political newcomer Edward Hill are the only candidates in the race to fill two council seats.
 Polls will be open Tuesday from noon to 8 p.m. in the three cities.

Leash law vote set

WENDELL — In addition to voting for three city council candidates Tuesday, residents of Wendell also will be voting on a much debated dog-leash law.
 The city council placed the question on the ballot in the regular municipal election to give residents an opportunity to determine if they wish a leash law at this time. Seven candidates are seeking the three council vacancies this year.
 Polls open at noon and close at 8 p.m. at the city hall.

Gooding votes on leash law Tuesday

GOODING — Gooding voters will decide whether the city is to settle a controversy credited with boosting registration to an all-time high.
 City Clerk George Silva said voters will be given a separate ballot in addition to the city council election, asking whether a leash law should be enacted by the council. The law would require confining of all dogs to owners' properties, or leashing of all dogs when off the property.

Gooding votes on leash law Tuesday

Two polling places will be set up for Tuesday's municipal election. Voters in the west precinct will cast their ballots at the city offices, 420 Idaho St., while those in the east precinct will vote at the First Baptist Church, 514 Washington St.
 Polls will be open from noon to 8 p.m. on Tuesday.

Air pollution index

The pollution reading was taken by the staff at the South Central Health District at the Twin Falls City Hall. The reading is expressed as the number of micrograms of particulate material per cubic meter of air for the 24-hour period.
 Federal pollution regulations say pollution levels should be kept below 25 micrograms per any 24-hour period and should not be permitted to rise above 260 micrograms for even a brief period of time.
 The forecast provided by the Idaho Department of Health indicates the ability of the atmosphere to disperse pollution burning or permitted by law should be curtailed when the air is poorly able to disperse air pollutants.

13 seek TF council posts

Four will be named Tuesday

By BONNIE JONES
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — Voters of the city of Twin Falls will go to the polls from noon to 8 p.m. Tuesday to elect four city council members, each for four-year terms.

There are 13 candidates seeking office including one woman and one first time voter, 18-year-old Mike Thompson. Ann Cover is the only woman in the field of candidates.

Four of the candidates are running as a ticket on the Citizens Committee for Good Government. These include Winston I. Jones, only incumbent in the race; Stephen Bancroft; Michael P. Gray, and Dr. Stephen Lincoln.

Two other candidates, Lynn Goodman and Ray Crandal are running as a team on a platform which includes bringing a vote before the public again to determine if the city manager form of government should be retained. The two say they favor a mayor-council operation for Twin Falls with the mayor a fulltime business administrator.

Street, traffic alignment, better support of the police department and better public relations as a whole have also been mentioned as issues. City offices being vacated include those held by Mayor Frank Feldman, veteran of eight years on the council; and Eugene Stacey and Frank Cook. Winston I. Jones, incumbent, has served two years, having been appointed to the office after being defeated in the election of 1969.

City Clerk Eddythe Koontz said between 4,000 and 4,500 persons will be registered for the Tuesday election.

There will be ten polling places, generally the same as those of two years ago. For the first time city voters will be casting their municipal votes on voting machines.

JONES

TWIN FALLS — Winston I. Jones, 50, is the only incumbent candidate seeking office in the Twin Falls city council election Tuesday. He is a member of the Citizens Committee for Good Government ticket.

Born in Twin Falls, he returned to make his home here in 1968 after retiring as a colonel in the U. S. Army. He entered the service in 1937 as a second lieutenant in the infantry.

Jones and his wife reside at 220 Lincoln Street. They have a son attending the University of Idaho and a daughter who is married and resides in Seattle.

A veteran of two years on the city council, Jones said he feels he has contributed something and learned something and the experience will help him better serve the citizens of Twin Falls. Jones said there are two areas in which he feels the county should press for more achievement. One, he said, is advanced planning and establishing a priority system for construction and development programs. The other, Jones said, involves greater cooperation with the county on such projects as joint support of sanitary land fill, law enforcement facilities and other areas where money and time could be saved by consolidating like services for the two agencies.

GRAY

TWIN FALLS — Michael P. Gray, 31, is a native of Twin Falls, and currently serves as vice president for Trust Development for the Twin Falls Bank and Trust Co.

He and his wife reside at 1207 Evergreen Drive. He is one of four seeking election on the Citizens Committee for Good Government. Gray graduated from St. John's University, Minnesota and served as an administrative to former Cong. Ralph Harding in Washington, D. C. He has been active in numerous civic groups including CSI Golden Eagle Boosters, Industrial Development Corp., Chamber of Commerce, United Fund and is a member of the county fair board and Rotary Club.

Gray said he is interested in a progressive and planned development of the city and would like to see better communication between city government and residents. He said he favors an orderly growth of the city and feels suitable industries to this area which would not cause pollution or other ecology problems should be encouraged.

LINCOLN

TWIN FALLS — Dr. Stephen R. Lincoln, 30, Twin Falls dentist, is making his first entry into politics as a member of the four man Citizens Committee for Good Government ticket in the Tuesday city election.

A native of Twin Falls, he is a graduate of the University of Idaho and Washington University of Dentistry. He has practiced as a dentist in Twin Falls the past one and one half years.

Prior to that time Lincoln served with the U.S. Public Health Department, Washington state, and worked with many indigent children and adults. He is a member of Kiwanis, Civitan and Toastmaster's Clubs in Twin Falls and of the South Central Idaho Dental Society. He and his wife and one child reside at 1262 Juniper St. N.

Dr. Lincoln said he is also interested in guaranteeing an orderly growth of the city of Twin Falls, and with his past experience of working with underprivileged children is interested in providing programs for such groups and anxious to see city services are extended to all residents on an equal basis.

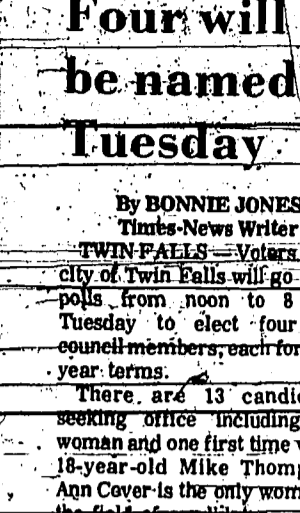

BANCROFT

TWIN FALLS — Stephen R. Bancroft, 45, certified public accountant with the firm of Peterson, Seamons, Stacey and Bancroft, is a member of the Citizens Committee for Good Government ticket.

He has resided in Twin Falls since 1957, coming from the Boise area. He is a graduate of the University of Oregon and is active in the Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis Club, United Fund and is presently on the executive committee of the United Fund.

Bancroft and his wife reside at 607 Grant St. and have one son living at home. He also has a son and daughter who are grown and reside out of state.

He said he is interested in the orderly development of Twin Falls as a good business community and a place to rear a family. Bancroft said he feels Twin Falls does not have any critical problems at this time, and prefers to reserve comment on issues until he has had an opportunity to study more thoroughly some of the circumstances.

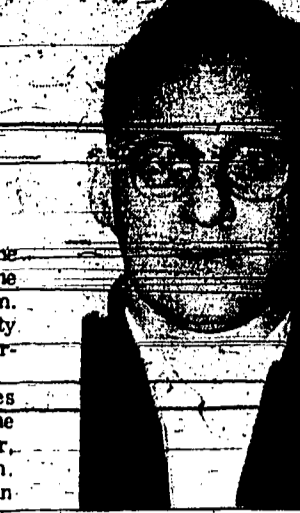

CRANDAL

TWIN FALLS — Ray Crandal, 43, an accountant with the firm of P. M. Egbert, Jr., is seeking election to the Twin Falls City Council Tuesday on an anti city manager platform.

He is active in the Civil Air Patrol, serving as information officer for the Twin Falls squadron.

Crandal is married and resides at 483 Braeken St. N. The couple has a daughter at home and a son in college. Crandal is teamed with Lynn Goodman seeking to serve on the council. He said he feels there should be a mayor council form of government in Twin Falls with a businessman who is successful in his own business serving as mayor. He said he favors putting the question to the voters of the city again to decide if the city manager form of government should be discontinued.

Crandal is also critical of the city's annexation program saying too many new areas have been annexed which cannot be properly serviced. He also feels better streets and improved traffic programs are necessary in Twin Falls.

GOODMAN

TWIN FALLS — Lynn Goodman, 45, 799 Lawrence Ave., was one of the first candidates to announce for one of the four vacancies to be filled in the Twin Falls city council election Tuesday.

He is a barber and a life long resident of Twin Falls. Goodman and Ray Crandal, running as a team, are seeking election on a platform which calls for replacing the city manager form of government in Twin Falls with a full time mayor, elected by the people.

Goodman and his wife have three children, all living at home. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walt Goodman, Twin Falls.

In addition to the mayor form of government, Goodman said he is also in favor of giving the public more consideration in such matters as zoning and annexation. He said he feels the city must grow through annexation but it should not annex a new area until the existing city has adequate street, sewer, water and other services. New areas should not be annexed, he said, until the city is ready and able to extend these services to the proposed annexations.

COVER

TWIN FALLS — Ann Cover, 46, 1135 Alder Drive, is the only woman candidate in a field of 13 seeking office Tuesday in the Twin Falls City Council election.

She has resided in Twin Falls for 24 years and has not previously sought public office. The widow of Jerre Cover, she has three children attending school in Twin Falls and two attending college.

She said she has time to devote to working in city government and serving the people of Twin Falls and a keen interest in good government at all levels. She said she feels a woman can lend a valuable and broader outlook to the city council and provide a better balance and variance in city administration.

Mrs. Cover has a degree in physical education from Oberlin College, Ohio, and has been active in the YWCA, United Fund, and is past president of the American Field Service in Twin Falls.

Her interests include better city streets, ordinances to prohibit parking near intersections to block motorists views. She said she favors the city manager form of government and a progressive city operation.

JENKINS

TWIN FALLS — R. Dee Jenkins, 49, 223 Pierce Street, vice president of Magic Valley Drug Co., is seeking public office for the first time in the Nov. 2 Twin Falls city council election.

He was born in Oakley and has lived most of his life in Twin Falls and Magic Valley. He attended schools in Twin Falls and at Idaho State College, Pocatello, where he studied pharmacy. He is a veteran of four years in the U. S. Navy, being commissioned Ensign prior to his discharge.

He is married and the father of two sons and one daughter living in Twin Falls, a son in college and a step son and step daughter in college in Utah. He is a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Jenkins said he is interested in preserving freedom of government and feels good government must start at the city level. He is interested in seeing better streets and especially an improvement in the West Five Points traffic pattern. Jenkins also favors greater support of the local police department and consideration by law enforcement and the courts for the citizen rather than the criminal.

Jenkins said he has a love of freedom and government on a national and local level and wants the best possible government for the citizens of Twin Falls.

SMALLWOOD

TWIN FALLS — J. Clifton Smallwood, 54, Falls Avenue West, owner and manager of General Building Supply Co., is seeking election Tuesday to the Twin Falls City Council.

He has resided here since 1941, having farmed 1100 acres in South Dakota before moving to Idaho. He has been in the building business and restaurant business. While in Twin Falls, he has also developed two sub-divisions, one which is completed and another nearly completed.

Smallwood is married and has son living in Pocatello and a daughter in Colorado. He has two grandchildren.

He said he is dissatisfied with the traffic pattern in Twin Falls, including the downtown area, and the routing of U. S. 30 through the city and North Five Points. Smallwood said he feels it is a mistake to drain the city's through traffic past two grade schools and would favor use of Addison Avenue since Washington school will have to be relocated. Smallwood said he favors city manager government but does not believe the council provides enough control.

Smallwood said annexation must be undertaken when feasible, but he believes many parts of the city should be provided upgraded streets and other facilities before new areas are taken in. Smallwood said he objected to purchase of Clarke's Lake and spending of additional money there when city residents have access to ample recreational areas in mountain regions and the outside areas.

KILLEN

TWIN FALLS — David Killen, 58, former professional golfer at the Blue Lakes Country Club, is one of 13 candidates in the Tuesday race for four city council posts in Twin Falls.

He has resided in Twin Falls 14 years. He has retired as golf pro and now works at the club on greens. He has been active in a number of civic organizations and golfing organizations. Mr. and Mrs. Killen reside at 1734 Poplar St. They are the parents of seven sons and daughters, including one daughter in school in Twin Falls and a son attending college.

Killen said he is concerned about traffic problems, especially the five-point intersections and is also interested in recreational facilities including playgrounds, parks, baseball and golf course. Killen said he would like to see an adequate irrigation system for the municipal golf course, which is one of the few facilities the city has which pays its own way.

He said he also has sufficient time to devote to city problems and is interested in maintaining good government for the city.

THOMPSON

TWIN FALLS — Youngest candidate of the 13 seeking office in the Tuesday city council election is Mike Thompson, 18, a student at the College of Southern Idaho.

Thompson is a graduate of the local high school and has resided here 15 years. He said he is seeking office as a serious candidate and has a genuine interest in good city government in Twin Falls.

Thompson has also studied at the William Allen White School of Journalism. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Thompson. In addition to wishing to add representation of the younger citizens to the city council, Thompson said he is anxious to see improvements made in traffic plans in the downtown area, street improvement, and protection of the city's environmental resources.

Thompson said he would, if elected, work for expansion of industry in Twin Falls, but only industry which would not create air and water pollution or otherwise detract from the city's esthetic values.

CARTER

TWIN FALLS — Stephen M. Carter, 25, 301 James Street, is assistant professor at the College of Southern Idaho, teaching social science. He holds a master's degree in political science and is a graduate of Highlands University, Las Vegas, N. M.

He came to Twin Falls three years ago and his wife teaches second grade at Bickel School. Carter is a member of the Kiwanis Club and Twin Falls Men's Golf Association.

He said he is interested in improving city traffic problems and would, if elected, attempt to reduce speed limits at all elementary schools to 15 miles per hour. Speeds are now 25, Carter said, but he feels safety of school children is more important than a few minutes time saved by motorists driving through town.

Carter is also asking removal of parked automobiles, trees and shrubs which block the view of several intersections in the city. He has called for street improvements and said more federal and local money is being made available for such projects.

Annexation, Carter says, should not take place until new areas can be serviced by sewer, water and other services. He is also asking for better golf course maintenance, which he says can be provided through better supervision of the parks department.

ULRICH

TWIN FALLS — Rex Ulrich, 53, 478 West Heyburn, was one of the earliest candidates to announce for the Tuesday city election in Twin Falls.

He owns and operates an investment firm, Rex Ulrich and Associates. He has lived in Twin Falls since 1947 and was formerly associated with I. E. DuPont Co., and traveled the western states. During that time he selected Idaho for his home. He is married and has four daughters, one still living in Twin Falls.

Ulrich said he is seeking the council in the interest of honest and efficient city government. He feels all major construction work such as some of the street and alley improvement projects now being handled by city crews should be placed on bid and done by contracting firms. This would provide more economy and better quality work, Ulrich believes.

Ulrich said he also favors revising traffic and parking patterns in the downtown area. In favor of the city manager form of government, he said he feels there may be a lack of communication between department heads and city administration and more coordination between departments. He said too often a street is torn up for a water line as soon as it has been repaved.

Interest high in Tuesday election at Heyburn

C. FRED DAYLEY
Name: Carroll Fred Dayley
Candidate for Heyburn City Council

Age: 39
Birthplace: Twin Falls
Address: 2022 12th St., Heyburn
Length of residence: 12 years
Employment: Minidoka County schools as teacher
Political experience: Precinct committeeman; Heyburn City Council, seeking re-election (four years on council)
Education: Burley schools; attended one year, Southern Idaho College of Education, Albion; four years in U.S. Navy; Bachelor of Science degree, Utah State University, 1962; post-graduate work, Idaho State University.
Organizations: LDS Church, Heyburn Lions Club, Minidoka County Teachers Association, serving as president in 1967.
Family: Wife LaDean, four children.

Qualifications: "An interest in the good of the City of Heyburn. Like work with the youth in the area of recreation. Four years as a City Councilman in Heyburn."
Reason for election: "I feel that Heyburn is one of the most progressive cities in Idaho. I like to think that I have had some part in its progress. I realize there is still much to do. We are doing things in the city as money and time allow. In my area of responsibility, recreation and irrigation, we have come a long way. We have extended underground irrigation to most of the city and have increased the pressure so that irrigation is more efficient. In recreation and parks, our summer program has been very successful. The use of our parks has increased tremendously. In the future I would like to see more improvement in the parks and expansion of the facilities for recreation. I would like to be part of this. I enjoy my work as Councilman in Heyburn and am proud of our city."

HAROLD HURST

Name: Harold R. Hurst
Candidate for Mayor of Heyburn

Political experience: Appointed to the City Council in December, 1957; appointed Mayor in 1965; elected Mayor 1967; have served on City Council or as Mayor since first appointment.
Education: Bachelor of Arts degree from Southern Idaho College of Education, Albion, majoring in social science and physical education; Master of Science degree, University of Idaho, majoring in education, social studies, administration and physical education.
Organizations: Member of LDS Church, serving in many positions; member, Idaho Education Association; life member, National Education Association; served on board of directors for the Association of Idaho Cities.
Family: Wife Irene, four children

Qualifications: "Have taught government for 10 years, specializing in social studies for a great deal of my formal education; also the years of experience I have had in city government."
Reason for election: "Because of the many things we have accomplished in the City of Heyburn and due to our rapid growth we must continue these programs and others as well. I am familiar with these programs and know what we must do to keep our growth well organized."

BUD SCOVIL

Name: V. Bud Scovil
Candidate for Heyburn City Council

Political Party: None listed
Age: 60
Birthplace: Springville, Utah
Address: Not listed
Employment: retired city manager

Birthplace: Emmett, Idaho
Address: Box 41, Heyburn
Length of residence: 45 years
Employment: maintenance of buildings and grounds for Minidoka County schools
Political experience: None listed

Education: Four years of high school, graduating from Heyburn High school in 1940.
Organizations: Boy Scouts of America
Family: Wife Myrtle, four children
Qualifications: "First of all, this is our home so our interests are here. I have had a lot of experience in purchasing and management which should be of some help."
Reason for election: "My wife and I have lived in Heyburn most of our lives. We own several pieces of land and have a small rental business here. I feel Heyburn is a growing community and is going to continue to grow. I would like to be a part of it. We feel we should participate in civic affairs."

Marine plants show DDT

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Scientists have discovered concentrations of man-made DDT and Polychlorinated Biphenyls (PCB) in a host of plant and animal specimens collected in the course of cruises throughout the Atlantic Ocean.

This was reported today by the National Science Foundation in a release on the U.S. program for the International Decade of Ocean Exploration.

It has long been known that DDT, the pesticide, has made its way into marine organisms as remote from civilization as Antarctica. During the recent cruises, conducted by vessels of the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution, DDT was found "in most specimens" collected.

The surprising discovery was that PCB was present "in practically all specimens" and usually in higher concentrations than DDT.

According to Dr. George D. Grice of the science foundation, who participated in the research cruises, both DDT and PCB apparently find their way into the oceans by way of the atmosphere.

About 20 scientists can say now about the levels of contamination discovered in marine plants and animals is that they appear to be of physiological significance.

Talent rewarded

Filer youngsters observe 'Cleaner Air Week' in state

By MARJORIE LIERMAN Times-News Writer
FILER — The Filer Elementary School observed "Cleaner Air Week" this past week at the school.
A poster contest was held which 88 students entered. First and second place cash awards were given to four students whose entries were selected as the best by the student body.
President Nixon had designated this week as Cleaner

Air Week, and Gov. Cecil Andrus declared it "Cleaner Air Week — It's a Personal Thing."
Jimmy Wright was named first place winner in the first grade through fourth grade group with his poster proclaiming "Don't Be the 'U' in Pollution." Second place was awarded Kent Knigge for his drawing entitled "Everything is Beautiful — Let's Keep It That Way."

Winners in the fifth through eighth-grade group were Julie Kniefel and Brian McGregor. The first-place winning poster showed a clean-cut American delivering a punch to an image of pollution, while the second place design portrayed a skyline of smoking chimneys with the thought-provoking message that "If People Don't Stop Pollution, Pollution Will Stop People."

Bret Heaps, student council president, presented the checks to the four winners. Members of the student body had selected the winners and the finalists all of which will be placed in the school Wall of Fame. All of the remaining posters will be on display in the school.

News Of Servicemen

SHOSHONE — Sp. 5 Michael Burgoyne, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Van Dyke, Twin Falls, has arrived home for a 30-day leave from the army after a year's tour of duty with the 118th Assault Helicopter Company at Chu Lai, South Vietnam.
He was decorated with the Bronze Star for outstanding service with the Army in military operations against enemy forces and earned two army recommendations for medals.
He will report to Ft. Hood, Tex., on Nov. 1

FILER — S. 4 Dennis W. Mai, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Mai, has completed a nine-week course at the Army Intelligence Center School at Ft. Huachuca, Ariz. After spending a 15-day leave visiting his parents, he will report to the Army overseas replacement station at Oakland, Calif.

SHOSHONE — Airman Dan Newby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reid Newby, Shoshone, returned to Altus Air Force Base in Oklahoma this week after an emergency leave for the funeral of his grandmother who died at Nampa

Hatred of poor noted

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Dr. Fred Romero, a high-ranking Labor Department official Friday said he has observed an unpleasant change in attitude among people working with the poor in the past few years.
"Since 1969 there has been a change for the worse in the attitudes of people working with the poor," he said. "Many seem to be blaming the victims of social injustice for their state, rather than judging them by the terrible things that have happened to them."
Romero, director of training and employment opportunity for the Manpower Administration of the Labor Department, attended a Chicano conference which attracted several hundred representatives of government, industry and the Intermountain Chicano community to the Salt Palace.
Some of the nation's most successful Spanish-American citizens are participating, including U. S. Treasurer-designee Ramona Banuelos; Henry H. Ramirez, chairman of the President's Committee on Opportunities for Spanish Speaking People and Elena Verdugo, television star of "Marcus Welby, M.D."
Dr. Romero, a holdover from the Johnson administration, said,

"One of the biggest problems faced by Chicanos is the inability of skilled men to work at an appropriate level."
He said the cause for this often lies with middle-management personnel who look at Chicanos as being incompetent, although many people in corporate management have committed their firms to extensive hiring programs of minorities.
The 40-year-old Romero, who holds a degree in mathematics education from Denver University, said the hardest part of his job is coordinating the many training and employment programs that exist.
"The spirit of social concern in the '60s produced a tremendous amount of legislation. Now we have to try to put it in order." He said there are 11 major programs that he is trying to sort out.
Although professing to be a Democrat, he praised President Nixon as "one of the most well-informed presidents we have ever had in terms of the federal bureaucracy."
He also said he favors Nixon's revenue sharing program and added: "The decision has to be made to decentralize government."
The conference, sponsored by the Spanish Speaking Committee, teen Government Employment, continues through Saturday with workshops on a wide range of problems in the Chicano community, including welfare, housing, education, employment and others.

Douglass guides Bears to 23-19 Dallas upset

CHICAGO (UPI) — Bobby Douglass, Chicago's almost forgotten quarterback, was more than a match for the Douglass, who had dropped from the status of first string quarterback to third string in his career with the Bears, threw 28 yards to Dick Gordon for one touchdown and ran 9 yards himself for another.

And when the snap from center after Gordon's touchdown went awry, Douglass picked up the ball and ran it over for the conversion.

Dallas Coach Tom Landry had hoped to confuse the Chicago defense by alternating his two quarterbacks, Craig Morton and Roger Staubach, on every offensive play so that he could tell them personally what signals to call.

The device backfired, however, when Bear backs picked off four Cowboy passes — three from Morton and one from Staubach — and turned two of the interceptions into setups for Mac Percival field goals.

Percival connected on a total of three attempts from distances of 44, 38 and 35 yards. In contrast, his Dallas counterpart, Mike Clark, couldn't make it in boots from 42, 25, and 29 yards out before he finally hit on one from 10 yards away.

Clark's failures were costly for Dallas since just two successes could have set up a victory margin in tandem with Morton's 45-yard touchdown pass to Goster Richardson with three minutes and 16 seconds left in the game.

It was the second time in as many weeks that Douglass, who got his chance to start when Jack Concannon and Kent Nix were injured, had led the Bears to victories over highly touted rivals.

Hulme takes race, Revson claims crown

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (UPI) — New Zealand's balding Denis Hulme led from start to finish to win his third straight time Grand Prix Sunday and his McLaren teammate, Peter Revson, became the first American to win the Canadian-American Challenge Cup series by finishing second.

World driving champion Jackie Stewart of Scotland, the only other man to win a Can-Am race this year, dropped out on the 39th lap with water in the oil of his Lola-Chevrolet while trailing Hulme by about 28 seconds.

Revson, 32, a bachelor from Redondo Beach, Calif., finished with 142 points in the 10-race group seven series to 132 for Hulme. It was the fourth straight year that Team McLaren won the Can-Am crown.

Wajima takes Bossi's title

TOKYO (UPI) — Challenger Koichi Wajima Sunday night used his crouching and weaving unorthodox style to good advantage and wrested the world junior middleweight crown from defending champion Carmelo Bossi of Italy by a split decision in a 15-round title fight.

There were no knockdowns as Bossi, 33, failed in the second defense of the title which he won from Freddie Little of the United States in July, 1970, in Monza, Italy.

Griese, Yepremian trigger Miami's 20-14 upset of Rams

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Bob Griese passed for two touchdowns and Gary Yepremian kicked two field goals as the Miami Dolphins upset the Los Angeles Rams 20-14 Sunday in their National Football League game.

Griese, the ex-Purdue star, kept the Dolphins in control of the game most of the way. He hit on 13 of 19 pass attempts for 208 yards, 132 of which were registered in the first half.

The Rams' Roman Gabriel also had a good day, completing 23 of 35 attempts for 277 yards and one touchdown.

A crowd of 72,903 watched Griese lead the Dolphins to a touchdown the first time they gained possession of the ball. They moved 81 yards in three plays.

After Jim Kilak and Larry Csonka picked up seven yards, Griese, connected to Paul Warfield on a 74-yard pass-run touchdown play. Warfield got behind Rams defender Dave Elmendorf to take the pass on the Miami 49 and then outrun him to the goal. The touchdown came at 6:08 of the first period.

Miami went 80 yards in 11 plays late in the second quarter for its second touchdown, climaxed by an 11-yard pass from Griese to Howard Twilley deep in the corner of the end zone. Griese set up the score by racing 20 yards around right end on a scramble play for a first down on the Rams 20.

The Dolphins took a 17-0 lead when Yepremian kicked a 20-yard field goal at 9:59 of the third quarter.

The Rams scored both of their touchdowns in the fourth period.

Larry Smith went over right tackle from one yard out for the first Los Angeles touchdown three seconds into the fourth quarter.

Gabriel then faked a handoff and passed to Jack Snow who was all alone on the Dolphin 25. Snow went the rest of the way for the touchdown, the play covering 45 yards. The Rams threatened late in the fourth quarter when they reached the Dolphin 84. Gabriel threw a pass to Lance Rentzel to the Miami seven but he was charged with pushing off on the defender and the threat ended

Trevino makes up four shots to win

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Lee Trevino came from four strokes off the pace Sunday and fired a six under par 66 to win the $135,000 Sahara Invitational by one stroke and set a record for yearly earnings in U.S. golf.

The first prize of $27,000 in the Sahara boosted Trevino's earnings for the year on the PGA tour to a record $286,469. With the victory Trevino, winner of six tournaments this year, passed absent Jack Nicklaus who was tops with $207,080, the previous U.S. high.

Nicklaus was in Australia where he won the Qantas Open Sunday and it was worth a mere $4,176, which does not count in his PGA earnings anyway.

Orioles top Japan all-stars

OSAKA, Japan (UPI) — Twenty-game winner Mike Cuellar struck out 12 and scattered four hits Sunday to give the Baltimore Orioles a 4-1 victory over an All-Japan team before 50,000 spectators at the Koshien Stadium.

It was the American League champions fourth win against a tie in as many games in their 18 post season games in Japan.

The Orioles scored two runs on two errors in the first inning off southpaw Yutaka Enatsu of the Hanshin Tigers.

The Japanese scored their only run in the bottom of the first inning when Shigeo Nagashima of the Yomiuri Giants, the most valuable player in the Central League this year, singled to right to score Isao Shibata, of the Giants, who had walked and advanced to second on a walk by Tokuji Nagaki of the Hankyu Braves.

Marino claims billiard title

JOHNSTON CITY, Ill. (UPI) — Jim Marino, Los Angeles, outlasted the veteran Luther Lassiter, Elizabeth City, N.C., in a playoff ending early Sunday to win the $20,000 11th annual World's All-Around Pocket Billiards Championship.

The 25-year-old Marino picked up $3,600 for the victory, his first win in a major tournament. Lassiter was seeking his fifth all-around title. Jim Marino defeated Lassiter 10-9 in the final.

TRYING THE TOP, MacArthur Lane of St. Louis scores the first touchdown of the game against the Buffalo Bills Sunday. Lane dove over from the one-yard line and the Cardinals won 28-23. (UPI telephoto)

Cards use breaks to whip Buffalo

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — Dale Hackbart recovered a fumbled kickoff to set up one touchdown Sunday and the St. Louis Cardinals used key penalties for two other scores to whip Buffalo, 28-23, and hand the Bills their 19th straight regular season loss.

The Cardinals led 14-0 at the half and Hackbart recovered Tim Beamer's fumble of the opening kickoff of the third quarter on the Buffalo 18 yard line. Quarterback Jim Hart fired a 10-yard scoring pass to tight end Jackie Smith four plays later as St. Louis moved to a 21-0 advantage after 1:35.

The Cardinals used Buffalo penalties to set up their second and fourth touchdowns of the day and a fourth-quarter Buffalo drive was stalled when Bruce Jarvis was called for holding on the St. Louis six.

After quarterback Dennis Shaw cut a St. Louis lead to 21-16 with a seven-yard touchdown pass to Greg Jones, Hart gave the Cardinals a 28-16 margin on a five-yard pass to Jim McFarland at 3:47 of the final stanza. That touchdown was set up by a penalty against the Bills, who had too many men on the field when they blocked Jim Bakken's 34-yard field goal try on a fourth and two play.

Alvain Wyatt closed out the scoring for Buffalo on a 61-yard punt return with 1:33 left in the game.

MacArthur Lane gave St. Louis a 7-0 lead after 5:46 of the opening quarter on a one-yard drive over the middle.

The Cardinals were aided by two personal fouls on their next scoring effort, the second breaking up a goal-line stand by the Bills. A call against Cal Snowden gave St. Louis a first and goal on the one instead of a third and goal on the six. Sid Edwards slipped on up with much and decided on desperate measures. Jim: "The desperate measures succeeded. Sims elected to try dummy's jack of spades at trick one. Ely produced the queen and returned a trump. Sims drew trumps and decided to knock out the ace of clubs. Jo went up with the ace and undertook her ace of spades a second time. No one can blame Sims for going wrong and playing low from dummy. Oswald: "Hal could also have made the hand by taking a diamond finesse and discarding a spade but that play would be bad percentage. He was sure of his contract if East held the ace of clubs and still had a chance in spades after Jo won the club trick."

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Oswald: "Ely Culbertson was a great showman and publicity genius. Back in 1935 he persuaded Hal and Dorothy Sims to play a rubber-bridge match against him and Jo Culbertson. The match was a natural from a publicity standpoint and also a cinch for Ely Jo Culbertson was a great player. Dorothy Sims a poor one."

Jim: "Here is a hand which shows Jo Culbertson at her best. It also indicates why the Sims had no chance. Three no-trump was unbeatable but Hal wanted to score his honors and also to play the hand."

Oswald: "Jo opened the four of spades. She could see that Ely would not show

YOUNG LADY, how many men have proposed to you? That query was put to 208 educated women by researchers. Talled out, the girls said they had received an average of 2.3 proposals each. Eleven said none, none, none. Fourteen claimed seven or more. And one, an exceedingly attractive lady, a smooth article about 50 years of age, counted up 18. Am thinking of trying to get her to write a "How to" book. It's needed.

CERTAINLY, cherry blossoms look sweet indeed, but any Japanese will tell you cherry blossom soup tastes exceedingly salty. Mention this to your gourmet friends while buffing your nails. If that doesn't impress them, add that preserved eggs in China taste like cheese.

CUSTOMER SERVICE "I say that occupational fellow-most apt to be bitten by a dog is the veterinarian, right?" A. Not right. The veterinarian ranks No. 3. The mailman is still No. 1, the new-boy No. 2.

NUMEROUS SURVEYS conclusively prove a majority of newlyweds would prefer sons to daughters! At least first. Yet, applications by childless parents to adoption agencies show the requests for girls outnumber the requests for boys. How do you account for that? IF YOU CAN'T find anything else to explain the trend among pro football coaches to rely on a balanced brace of quarterbacks instead of a solo star, try money. Any elderly bonus boy can tell you two of the new come cheaper than one of the old.

FEMALE RATS can outrun male rats. At least over long distances. Cornell University researchers proved that. With little treadmills. In a year and a half, the female rats covered almost 3,000 miles each while the male rats averaged only about 360 miles. The experimenters said they believed their studies threw significant light on the rat race in general.

Auto checks planned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government, warning defective heaters in some 1965 model Chevrolet Corvairs were threatening motorists with seeping carbon monoxide, has notified General Motors it will extend its investigations to other models of the car.
 Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe issued the warning Friday. He cited government tests showing it was possible for the defective heaters to fill passenger compartments with carbon monoxide to the extent a driver's "manual dexterity decreased markedly, and driving alertness was lowered."
 Volpe said this created "an unreasonable risk of accidents and injury. He told General Motors in a letter the government would widen its probe to include Corvairs built both before and after the 1965 models.
 Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., criticized Volpe's action, contending he should have extended the warning immediately to owners of all 1961 through 1969 models.

NEW YORK (UPI) — A few years back, when college students were blowing up research centers and disrupting hundreds of campuses, many Americans "fumed off" on the students.
 That anti-college feeling, as much as anything, prompted Prof. William A. Strang, director of a study conducted by the University of Wisconsin, Madison and Dane County Bureau of Business, to do some research. Results of it indicate that anyone touched by a college or university campus has reasons for being indulgent whether he agrees with campus feelings or not. The economics of the situation are that compelling.
 At the University of Madison, for instance, the university community contributes more than $460 million annually to the local economy. Strang's report indicates that — —The university purchases more than $14 million in goods and services from the locals.

 —An additional $8 million is spent on construction.
 —Visitors coming to Madison and its lakes because of the university leave behind more than $13 million.
 "As far as property taxes alone are concerned," said Prof. Strang, "the university community appears to pay more than its share in relation to the rest of the community."
 He noted that the campus community students, employees and their children — make up about 40 per cent of the total Madison population. Their children occupy only slightly more than 18 per cent of the school seats. And university residents paid $3.07 million more than their share toward Madison school operations.

 Aside from campus turmoil and local resentment about it, the survey was taken because Madison students irritated people by displacing local residents. Students began competing for private housing space and forced rents and land values upward. Tempers flared. "Research was indicated," explained Prof. Strang.

 His report showed that the 11,000 non-student university employees in Madison spend more than $73 million annually. That included more than $11 million on food, $8 million buying and fixing cars, $3 million to local charitable organizations and more than $4 million to local government in taxes and other payments.
 The 35,000 students spend more on rent than anything else: Local finance, insurance and real estate industries receive about $25 million annually from students.
 They also spend more than $20 million at grocery stores, boarding houses and at eating and drinking places. In the overall, the campus community injects almost $200 million into the Madison economy. A lot of it stays within Dane County and is recycled among local businessmen, bringing the money figure up to almost half a billion.

The academic community also pays enough to cover the local government's expenses on fire and police protection, street maintenance and other services to the campus community.
 There's more than just the dollar flow between campus and local community. Local citizens have access to cultural and research facilities, athletic events and services which can help them in their everyday business and social lives.

Finch out of prison

CHINO, Calif. (UPI) — Dr. Bernard Finch whipped a car out of prison gates to freedom, a new girl friend and hopes for resumption of medical practice Friday after spending 12 years behind bars for the murder of his wife in a love triangle with red-haired Carole Tregoff.

The 55-year-old Finch, solemn faced and pausing only long enough to shake hands with a guard who raised the pole barrier at the minimum security California Institution for men, ignored a crowd of newsmen and TV cameramen at the entrance.

More than 50,000 full-blooded American Indians from the Southwest served in the armed forces during World War II.
