Convicts release hostages

RAHWAY, N.J. (UPI)—Five prison guards and the warden, held hostage for 24 hours by rebellious prisoners at Rahway State Prison, were set free Thursday night when Gov. William T. Cahill guaranteed no reprisals and said he immediately would consider the inmates' other demands.

Warden U. Samuel Vukcevic, suffering "stab wounds" which inmates insisted were inflicted accidentally by a guard, and the other hostages were released about 10 p.m. Thursday.

Following their release Cahill said his administration "intends to carry out our part of the commitment to guarantee there will be no brutality and that we will meet with and talk to the prisoners in relation to their complaints."

Archibald Alexander, head of the citizens committee advising the governor on penal affairs, went to the prison to sleep overnight. He was accompanied by Raymond Brown, a prominent criminal lawyer.

Alexander said "there will be no reprisals of any sort taken against the inmates." He and Brown were the two main negotiators for the state in the talks with the inmates.

The prisoners complained about the medical care at the prison, food, high prices in the prison commissary, parole procedures, inadequate educational and vocational opportunities, disciplinary procedures, racial discrimination, lack of black cultural classes, lack of religious freedom, delay of incoming mail, low wages, "meager" expenses given to released prisoners and lack of rehabilitative opportunity.

"To be treated as human beings is all that we ask of this administration," said the inmates' petition. "We are sincerely trying to correct the mistakes we have made in the past against other people."

They also insisted the rebellion occurred only after inmates "tried every other possibility to bring about changes in the above-stated complaint ..."

Three of the six hostages were reported in good condition today at Rahway General Hospital, although Dr. Richard Newman said Vukcevic, 43, had two stab wounds in his back and "was worked over pretty good." It was learned that Vukcevic's wounds were treated in the prison by an inmate who served with U.S. forces in Vietnam.

Cahill revealed that only the insistence of Dr. Maurice Kott, Acting State Commissioner of Institutions and Agencies, and another unnamed state prison official prevented an assault on the prison early Thursday by about 150 armed and helmeted state police, local police and guards from other prisons.

"It was because the hope was there of a negotiated settlement that we declined to use force," said Cahill. "Fortunately, I didn't have to make that decision."

The rebellion erupted Wednesday night following a movie in the prison auditorium. Vukcevic and five guards were taken hostage by inmates who refused to leave the auditorium when another prisoner arose to speak on "Injustices in society" and penitentiary conditions.

Inmates claimed the takeover was "spontaneous" and was supported by all 500 to 600 prisoners in two of the five cellblocks taken over by the convicts. Prison officials said, however, that about 150 hardcore inmates led the rebellion and took control of the two wings.

Seven guards suffered minor injuries when they tried to rescue the warden and the other hostages, and the nation's second major prison rebellion of the year was underway. The other, at Attica, N.Y., resulted in the deaths of 32 inmates and 11 guards.

Cambodia fight hot as S. Viets advance

SAIGON (UPI)—American helicopter gunships flew in support of South Vietnamese troops today in the first all-out battle of the new allied campaign to destroy guerrilla sanctuaries in Cambodia.

UPI correspondent Stewart Kellerman reported that the Viet Cong bombarded a hilltop outpost eight miles inside South Vietnam with 150 mortar shells Thursday night then launched a ground assault.

Fighting raged through the night. At one point the guerrillas got within the barbed-wire perimeter of the base, defended by a company of South Vietnamese soldiers, about 160 men, and flung satchel charges.

At dawn the two helicopters, fitted out with rocket launchers, flew over the outpost to reconnoiter. They drew AK47 and machinegun fire and counterattacked with rockets.

One of the American choppers was hit but it returned to its base with nobody hurt.

It was the first battle of the five-day-old campaign but apparently not the last.

From 30 to 40 North Vietnamese tanks were reported massing on the east bank of the Mekong River north of Kompong Cham, only 40 miles from the Vietnamese frontier.

South Vietnamese spokesmen refused to comment on Saigon press reports that another 25 North Vietnamese T34 and T35 tanks were sighted in the Chhlong River Valley in the area of the Snuol rubber plantation.

About 200 South Vietnamese tanks and armored personnel carriers were reported massing for a sweep through the valley. Spokesmen for the Army of the Republic of Vietnam (ARVN) have named Snuol as one of the chief targets of the current operation.

American helicopter pilots flew 180 sorties in the 24 hours ending at dawn Thursday and another 140 to dawn today in support of the dry-season campaign. U.S. artillery was back in action as well.

American artillery was pulled off the Cambodian frontier Nov. 5 as part of President Nixon's withdrawal program.

Indo-Pakistan war toll high

By United Press International Radio: Pakistan said today more than 300 Indian Army troops had been killed in fighting at the East Pakistan town of Jessore, about 20 miles inside the country's western border.

UPI correspondent Ajit K. Das, reporting from the Indian town of Bongaon, about four miles from the border of the Jessore sector, said sounds of fighting from the border sector were audible earlier this week but no longer could be heard.

Das said the silence indicated fighting may have moved farther into the interior. News-men were prohibited from traveling in the area.

On the political front, sources in Calcutta said key members of the Pakistani rebel Bangla Desh (Bengal Land) cabinet were called to New Delhi by Indian authorities to discuss possible recognition by the Indian government. A decision was expected within 10 days.

Conflicting reports on the role Indian troops might have played in the fighting around Jessore from both New Delhi and Islamabad, the capital of West Pakistan.

India said the fighting was being carried out by East Pakistani guerrillas.

Das said Indian military traffic continued to move toward the frontier roads around Bongaon were being widened and wooden bridges were being strengthened. Das said Indian military officials refused to comment.

Jessore, with a Pakistani Army camp and an airport, is a key town on the route to Cadda, capital of East Pakistan.

Meany survives attack

WASHINGTON (UPI)—AFL-CIO President George Meany, hospitalized with severe chest pains, was reported in "good spirits" today after a "very quiet" night of rest.

An AFL-CIO spokesman said George Washington University hospital doctors told him that all medical tests on whether the 77-year-old labor leader had suffered a heart attack were "normal."

"He spent a very quiet night, a very restful night," the spokesman said, "and he was in good spirits this morning."

Meany was taken to an emergency coronary unit at a downtown hospital from his home in nearby Bethesda, Md., shortly after returning from the AFL-CIO convention at Miami Beach.

The spokesman said patients normally are kept in the intensive care unit for 72 hours which could see Meany released some time Sunday. He added, however, the doctors want the AFL-CIO president to rest and "whether that is in the hospital or at home is something that will be decided later."

(See earlier story p. 5).

Nixon plans Heath meet

LONDON (UPI)—President Nixon and Prime Minister Edward Heath will meet in the second half of December to discuss the world trade and money crisis, British government sources said today.

They also will discuss relations with the Soviet Union and Communist China and the threatened conflicts in the Middle East and between India and Pakistan, the sources said.

Injunction asked for dock strike

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Justice Department, at President Nixon's request, sought today a Taft-Hartley injunction to send 45,000 striking longshoremen back to work at Atlantic and Gulf Coast docks.

Nixon took time out from his Thanksgiving celebration at the Western White House to order Attorney General John N. Mitchell to file for the injunction when federal courts opened today.

"In my opinion, these unresolved labor disputes have resulted in strikes affecting a substantial part of the maritime industry of the United States ... these strikes, if permitted to continue, will imperil the national health and safety," the President told Mitchell in a letter.

Nixon may take new war to UN

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI)—The United States is considering the possibility of taking the India-Pakistan military confrontation to the United Nations Security Council, the Western White House said Thursday.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler also told reporters that President Nixon discussed the critical South Asian border dispute with British Prime Minister Edward Heath in a trans-Atlantic telephone call Thursday.

Speaking of the India-Pakistani border crisis, Ziegler said: "As you know we have done a great deal in terms of providing humanitarian assistance in the area."

"A resort to military action would be hard for the American people to understand" Ziegler said, adding he is certain this was conveyed to Heath by Nixon.

The White House has spurred behind-the-scenes diplomacy to halt the hostilities before a major conflict breaks out. The appeal to the UN would be on the grounds that the warring parties are threatening world peace and stability.

Robbery suspect autopsy slated

BURLEY — An autopsy was scheduled today in Burley in the death of Richard Thomas Jenkins, 29, who was fatally wounded in an exchange of gunfire with Burley police officers during a robbery attempt Wednesday night.

The man allegedly entered the Safeway store on Overland Avenue and demanded money at gun point. After getting money from the cash register, he demanded money from the safe. Officers were called by a store employe and arrived as the man attempted to flee the building.

Officers said Jenkins fired a shot at police, creating the scalp of Police Chief Ken Barry. He was shot by Officer Rex Madden and fell to the sidewalk after firing another shot which missed officers.

Police Chief Barry said employees of the Safeway store are to be complimented for remaining calm in the face of the situation. Foolish action on the part of the store personnel, he said, might have resulted in several deaths.

Mail hike requested

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. Postal Service today applied to the Price Commission for a 23.9 per cent increase in third class mail rates, the largest boost in prices sought since Phase II of President Nixon's economic stabilization program began two weeks ago.

The proposed increase would affect mainly advertising circulars and other "junk" mail. First class and air mail would be unaffected.

Hijack parachutist elusive

WOODLAND, Wash. (UPI)—FBI agents and police fanned out in the Cascade foothills today searching for the daring hijacker who parachuted into the wilderness with $200,000 ransom.

"If he is in the area ... we'll dig him out of the woodwork somehow," an FBI spokesman promised.

The FBI decided Thursday to set up search headquarters here for a "D.B. Cooper," who pulled off the bizarre Thanksgiving Eve hijacking and parachuting and disappeared with the ransom.

According to Lynn Emrick, who supplied one of the four parachutes handed over to the hijacker, one of the two parachutes apparently used in the jump was inoperable.

Emrick, of Sky Sports Inc., Issaquah, Wash., said the chute was for ground practice only and the canopy was sewn shut.

"I didn't know it when I went over and picked it out," he said.

However, most experienced parachutists would use the back pack first and Emrick's was the chest device.

"We're either looking for a parachute or a hole in the ground," said Clark County Under Sheriff

Tom McDowell.

The FBI said the suspect was about 6 feet tall, 175 pounds, with black hair and an olive complexion.

A Northwest Airlines Boeing 727 was hijacked late Wednesday with 42 persons aboard on a flight from Portland, Ore., to Seattle, Wash. The methodical hijacker allowed the 36 passengers to disembark after he received the ransom and four parachutes.

The hijacker, described as middle-aged and "very relaxed," disappeared as the plane flew on from Seattle-Tacoma International Airport to Reno, Nev.

The FBI said the search was being concentrated in the Cowlitz-Clark County area in southern Washington as a result of information provided by the crew and "strictly conjecture on our part."

An FBI spokesman said the 75-square mile area was selected because the crew reported a slight shift in the plane's balance while over this farmland region.

Searchers were aided by helicopters and light planes.

The jetliner, Flight 306, originally took off from Washington, D.C., and stopped at Minneapolis, Minn.; Great Falls and Missoula, Mont.; and Spokane, Wash., before touching down at Portland.

The hijacker gave a note to a stewardess and showed her "two red cylinders with wires," officials said. The alleged bomb was in a suitcase.

The man told the captain at Seattle that the crew and passengers would be killed if his demands for $200,000 and four parachutes were not met.

When Northwest acceded to his request, the plane took off on a southward course. Two Air Force jet planes tailed the commandeered airliner to Reno. Officers said the hijacker could have bailed out unnoticed because of the darkness and because the jetliner was flying so low.

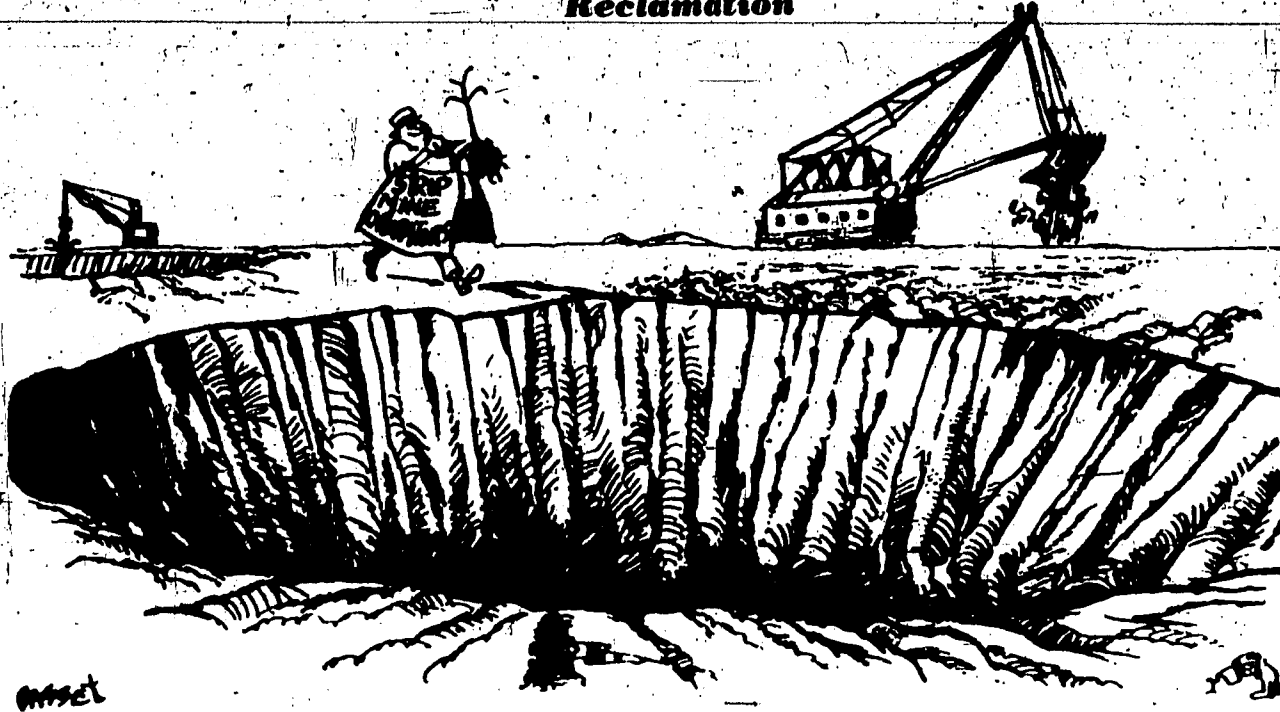

The plane flew to Reno with its tail section exit steps open.

It was a dramatic landing at Reno. Hundreds of persons were gathered at the airport terminal. Scores of police and FBI agents surrounded the field.

Upon landing the crew disembarked, but there were no signs of the bomb, the money, one of the four parachutes or "D.B. Cooper."

Mr. T-N says...
It's ironic that the new private postal service wants price hikes 10 times as high as permitted under the government's guidelines.

Association set for handicapped

TWIN FALLS — An association for retarded children will be organized Tuesday evening in Twin Falls. The Twin Falls Association for Retarded Children is sponsoring the formation of a Magic Valley-wide group, to meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Child Development Center, 803

Harrison St. A news release indicates that "A group of forward-looking parents and other interested persons in the Magic Valley" have been concerned with the problems of the handicapped child. Noting that four of every 30 retarded children will become semi-dependent adults, able to work at jobs in sheltered workshops or under some supervision; the group is seeking "positive action."

"Many adults in our area are already in need of this kind of program. Many more are approaching this age," the news release said.

A panel of experts including Mark Litvin of the Vocational Rehabilitation Service and Lois Darnell of the Vocational Development Center, Inc., will discuss the sheltered-workshop concept at Tuesday's organizational meeting.

A display of workshop items will give some idea of the work done by the handicapped.

The public is invited to attend. Refreshments will be provided at 7:30, with the meeting scheduled to start at 8 p.m.

New specialist

VIETNAM veteran, Steven V. Grupe, assumes duties today as a new rehabilitation specialist with the Twin Falls Office of Idaho Vocational Rehabilitation Service.

Steven Grupe assumes specialist post in TF

TWIN FALLS — Steven V. Grupe, a Vietnam veteran and graduate of Utah State University, is a new rehabilitation specialist with the Twin Falls Office of Idaho Vocational Rehabilitation Service, Ray W. Turner, state director, announced today.

Grupe, completing a vocational rehabilitation in-service field and procedural training course, formally began his duties today.

In his 12 months of Vietnam Army service, he was stationed at Phu Loi near Saigon. Upon returning to the United States in February, 1970, he became chief data analyst for 16 months at Ford Hood, Tex.

Prior to military service, Grupe was a counselor with the Youth Training Center, Elko, Nev. He also has been employed as a case worker with the Twin Falls DPA office. Mrs. Grupe is a psychology and physical education teacher at Buhl High School. They reside at Buhl.

A general vocational rehabilitation program counselor, Grupe's office is at 1039 Blue Lakes Blvd.

There are about 87 million bicvclists in the United States.

Crowning slated for Junior Miss

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls will have a new Junior Miss Friday night when one of 10 contestants is crowned by reigning Junior Miss Janice Cook.

Competition will begin at 8 p.m. at the College of Southern Idaho Fine Arts Center. Contestants from Twin Falls, Filer, Kimberly, Castleford and Hansen are entered, according to Tom Hewlett and Mrs. Larry Utley, chairmen of the pageant sponsored by the Twin Falls Jaycees and Jav-C-Ettes.

The new Twin Falls Junior Miss will compete in the Idaho Junior Miss contest in January at Moscow.

'TIP' program outline given

COULEE DAM, Wash. (UPI) — The Chamber of Commerce here has announced it will sponsor the "Tip" program in this area.

TIP stands for "Turn in Pushers."

The Coulee chamber took the action following a guest lecture by W.M. Lauterbach, project manager of the Communications Satellite Station at Brewster, Wash.

Lauterbach told chamber members TIP is a citizen involvement venture in which anyone witnessing a pusher of hard drugs in operation telephones a central office giving all the details.

The caller, Lauterbach said, does not give his name but the office assigns him a code number so if a conviction results from his information, he will receive an award.

Lauterbach said many citizens want no reward other than the satisfaction of having helped to "run the pushers out of business."

3 stereo thefts reported

TWIN FALLS — Three automobile burglaries were reported to Twin Falls City police Thursday and Friday, involving the loss of tape stereo players and tapes.

Kenny Gorrige, 105 Blue Lakes Blvd., N., told officers someone entered his 1965 sedan sometime Thursday morning or Wednesday night and took a player and tapes valued at $121.

Nick Martinez reported his automobile was entered while it was parked at 168 Ramage St. and a tape deck and tapes taken. He estimated the value of the loss at $184.

Rick Wilson told officers someone broke out both front windows in his car while it was parked at the D. J.'s parking lot Thursday night.

Minor injuries

TWIN FALLS — Ronald Victor, 29, suffered minor injuries in an automobile accident at 9 p.m. Thursday on Addison Avenue West near Blake Street.

City police said he was driving west on Addison Avenue when a vehicle driven by Eddy Carpenter, 18, Twin Falls, turned onto Addison from Blake Street, and struck the rear of the Victor vehicle. Victor had stopped, he told officers, waiting for a third vehicle which was turning left.

Radioactive rain hits south Japan

TOKYO (UPI) — Radioactive rain has fallen in western and southern Japan since the latest nuclear test in China, Japanese health officers said today.

Abnormally high radioactivity was measured in rains which fell Wednesday in Tottori prefecture on the western coast of Honshu and in Sasebo on northern Kyushu.

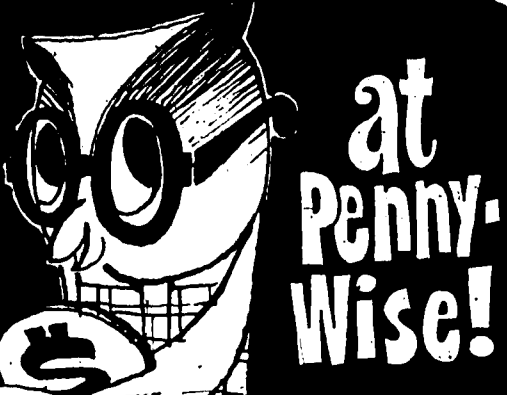

Honshu is Japan's largest and most populous island, and Kyushu is the nation's southern island.

The Tottori Prefectural Health Institute measured radioactivity of 1.9 microcuries per cubic centimeter of rain — 95 times the normal amount.

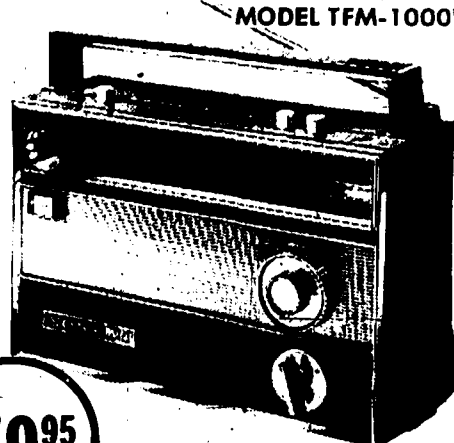

In Sasebo, rain registered 88.02 counts per minute on Geiger counters, 17.6 times the normal, officials said.

Communist China detonated a 20,000-ton blast Nov. 18 in what western authorities believed to be a test of a nuclear war head. Japanese officials said they believed that radioactive particles were carried eastward by prevailing winds from China across Japan.

Deserves Backing

Even though the required amount of money has not been determined at this time, it goes without saying that the proposed bond election for a building program in the Twin Falls school district should receive the backing of all citizens.

The Times-News has always taken a stand in favor of projects which are needed, and has consistently urged support of funding programs in these cases. On the other hand the support of projects which are not really a necessity has been withheld.

There are some who take the rather ridiculous stand that the officials should not call for a multimillion-dollar bond issue after they (the officials) said only a few weeks ago that support of kindergarten classes to the tune of $30,000 could not be backed because of lack of funds. This comparison is a far stretch of the imagination. The fact the district turned down the kindergarten offer has since been stamped as the correct move because several school districts over the state did the same thing. And the fact the money was not immediately available is only one of many reasons local officials turned down the offer.

The new facilities for the school are—and will be—needed. The superintendent and the board have instigated a study which will come up with the cost of the project. The final say will come when the voters cast an "aye" or a "nay" for the issue. The Times-News, even at this early date and before the amount is known, believes that the "aye" vote will be the proper one.

Mini-Towns

"Zero population growth" has already been achieved in the United States—on a modest scale.

Five incorporated towns—Bay City, Alaska; Ironton, Colo.; Ridotto, Iowa; Westfall, Ore., and Parker, Tex.—show up in the 1970 Census of Population and Housing with a population of zero.

Three of them — Westfall, Ridotto and Ironton—lost their entire populations between 1960 and 1970, plummeting from 8, 6, and 1 respectively.

All five are still listed as towns, however, since in most cases it requires legislative action to terminate corporate status. This may not take place until long after the last person has gone.

It's also possible that a town may be incorporated even before the first resident moves in. Two of the zero-population towns—Bay City and Parker—did not exist in 1969 and still showed no inhabitants in 1970. Presumably, they were incorporated for some special reason, says the Census Bureau.

Census Bureau information shows there were 116 incorporated towns with populations of 25 or less in 1970, compared with 79 in 1960. This was an increase of nearly 47 per cent.

Although the 116 are scattered through 27 states, 53 of them are in the belt ranging from the Dakotas to Texas.

MR. SPECTATOR

The Day After

Like you folks, Mr. Spectator feels miserable. It's just because there was too much to eat yesterday — the day of the big feasts!

When we started to push ourselves away from the table we discovered we had gained so much weight that we just didn't have the strength left to move the bulk.

But we guess it was worth it. We feel we will not have to eat again until Sunday breakfast — and, perhaps, not even until after the first TV football game.

Hoping you feel the same — we remain !!

CAN TROUBLE

When we moved into our present, and new, apartment we bought a couple of nice garbage cans. One was metal and the other was plastic.

About a week after the purchase, someone backed into and ran over the metal one which had been placed at the curb pickup position. So that metal one was replaced with a new one.

Then this week we put out the cans on collection day. Coming home for lunch we stopped to pick them up. We found the lid to the big, plastic can split about half way across.

Great life, isn't it?

SNEAK PREVUE

Went to a sneak prevue of the new uniforms (we guess that is what they call them) the Airwest hostesses will wear as the "new look" of the airline is followed. The new attire will come along about January 1 and will somewhat match the new sunburst yellow of the jet planes. The uniforms are in very good taste, are very nice and are attractive.

ABOUT A LETTER

Remember Ron Jennings, the Navy recruiter in Twin Falls? He and family, were transferred awhile back and the other day we received a note from him — finding he is now in Argentina, Newfoundland. He writes he is in an area where there is a lot of hunting and fishing, that they are living on base and that the homes are real nice.

But he put two really important things in his note. First, he wanted to subscribe to the Times-News. This request we put through the right department. Second, he said that when he retires in three years or so he and his wife want to come back to Twin Falls and live here "because we sure miss Twin Falls and that is where we are going to go when I get out of the Navy."

To which Mr. Spectator would add: — you will find a welcome in Twin Falls because it is filled with nice and friendly people.

Anyone want to drop Ron or Mrs. Jennings a note? Their address is: Chief Ron Jennings Box 60 U.S. Naval Facility c-b Fleet P.O. New York, N. Y. 09597

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The coup in Thailand was sparked by three factors:

An increase in the guerrilla threat exacerbated by Khmer Rouge (Cambodian) border disruptions and the growing threat from Communist forces in Laos as the China-Laos military supply road moves closer to the Thai border. The resulting instability has caused grave concern in Thailand and in the U. S. State Department.

A seriously worsening economic picture, resulting in part from the hefty decline in U. S. dollars as American troops have withdrawn from Southeast Asia and in part from disruption in the normal economy caused by increased smuggling from the People's Republic of China.

The United Nations vote ousting Nationalist China made a bad situation worse by strengthening the hands of the pro-Peking Chinese in Thailand and weakening the position of those loyal to Taiwan. The Chinese community in Thailand is strong economically and politically. Allegedly, it has used its economic power in widespread attempts to corrupt officials.

A series of splits within the chief opposition party (non-military) renders it virtually powerless to effectively protest despite considerable strength in the parliament.

Democracy has been struggling in Thailand. The constitution setting up an appointed senate and an elected lower house with limited powers is barely three years old. Before that, a military group ruled for a decade. The premier, Field Marshal Thanom Kittikachorn, reported head of the Revolutionary Council which has suspended the constitution, dissolved parliament and ordered martial law, was also leader of the old military group which reluctantly gave up some of its power in 1969.

Despite antagonism toward local Chinese, it is known that influential members of the military group advocate improved relations with Peking as a hedge as American troops move out. Because this course could arouse much local opposition, advocates may well believe a "strong" government is necessary.

Some weeks ago, a State Department official warned this reporter of the deterioration in Thailand. It worried him more than Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia, which is saying a good deal. A letter to a Thai friend brought this answer just one day before the coup was announced.

"More and more of the Communist activities are appearing in print. The stress seems to be the north and the south. I suspect that it is designed so that the troops will have to be separated between Nan and other cities up north and the cities in the south, a distance of well over 1,000 kilometers.

"Then only lately the Khmer Rouge are beginning to be active along the border.

"We are borrowing thousands of millions a year. So far, the country has acquired a debt of some 40 billion baht or more. Whether we like it or not... we shall have to keep a mighty army formed, spending on them more than we can afford... Even if you have Peking's Mao Tse-tung it does not mean that his cousin down south will not play a rougher game with us still. Or will the bad dream be over once Mr. Nixon has tasted the Peking duck?"

A few years ago Thailand was pointed to as a model of financial responsibility. The discipline of Thai economic officials was widely praised. Bangkok government men aimed at developing a small but vigorous foreign aid program of their own.

The letter went into detail on the growing corruption, the Chinese smuggling, the spreading opium traffic, the effects of the United Nations vote and a general nationwide decline in morale.

"I once worried about Quemoy and Matsu... Now I worry about my own bank account..."

Emphysema

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is the difference between emphysema and pulmonary fibrosis? Some people say they are the same. Is there any cure or help to make breathing easier? — E. F.

They are not the same, although either can make breathing difficult. The inside of the lungs contains vast numbers of tiny spaces, or air sacs. When you breathe, the air filters into this myriad of spaces, just as water fills a sponge.

In the surface of these sacs, there takes place the exchange of oxygen and carbon dioxide.

Emphysema means that the walls of these tiny air sacs have weakened and broken down. The "sponge" effect is diminished, and the area where the oxygen exchange takes place is reduced. The elasticity of the lung is lost.

Pulmonary fibrosis, however, means that excessive scar tissue is present in the lungs. This can result from various causes: infection (tuberculosis being an important one); exposure to dusts and irritants; sometimes it is related to the collagen diseases; cancer; fungus infections of the lungs; and various less common causes. Sometimes no specific cause can be identified.

There is no effective treatment for pulmonary fibrosis in the curative sense. It is important, naturally, to combat whatever is causing the scarring, so it won't get worse. Treatment for emphysema involves abstinence from tobacco, medication to keep the airways open so the patient can get more oxygen, and mechanical means of aiding breathing.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please print cause and cure or treatment of a spastic bowel. I have been told by doctors that is my trouble, but get no information as to a cure. — Mrs. E. R.

Tense, nervous people are the usual sufferers from this, but allergies, errors in diet and other factors can be involved, too, so you are deluding yourself if you think some simple, specific "cure" will be the answer. It is a chronic condition that, usually, yields best to gradual, persistent control. I suggest that you send 25 cents and a long self-addressed, stamped envelope for a copy of my booklet on "Colitis," which will give you a more detailed understanding of the problem you are up against.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband is on a salt-free diet. We have a water softener. Someone told me that water is not any good because the water has salt in it. Is it true? — Mrs. H. J.

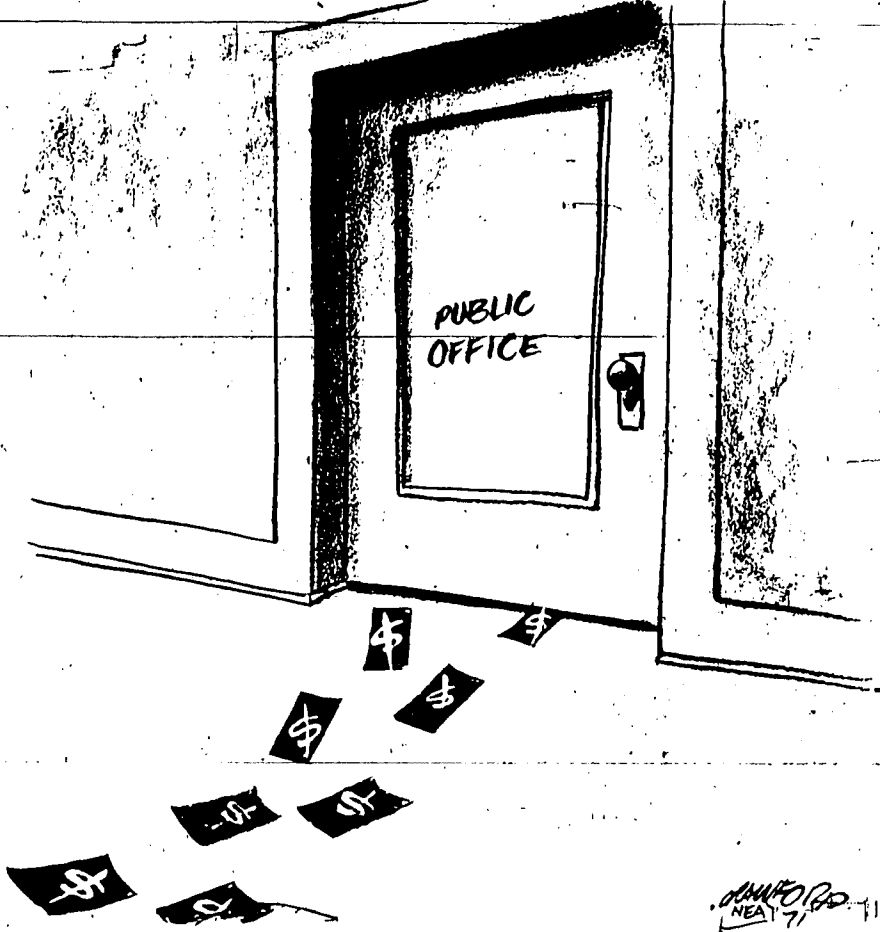

It depends on the type of softener. It is sodium (which is contained in salt) that has to be avoided in a low-salt diet, so you'll have to determine whether your softener substitutes sodium for other chemicals in order to soften the water. If so, your husband should not consume the water.

Meantime, why not use soft-softened water for drinking and cooking? There's no reason why you can't continue to use the softened water for washing.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am a professional furniture stripper and use large amounts of commercial paint remover. The shop is well ventilated. I have recently begun to suspect that I am pregnant. Would the fumes of this stripper be harmful to my baby? — Mrs. N. W.

You have probably answered your own question with your comment that the shop is well ventilated. I doubt that the mere smell of the solvents would harm the baby.

A Good Market

A declining stock market is good news?

This declining stock market is good news.

One subject on which nobody is an expert is the stock market. What evidence?

During September, 1968, the stock market posted an all-time high when most analysts had been forecasting a plunge.

The Wall Street Journal published a front-page confession that the experts which it regularly quotes did not know what they were talking about.

Want more evidence? If the experts were so expert would all those brokers have gone broke or run for cover these past three years? Including four big ones!

The only stock market advice you ever got from this column was this: If you haven't the stomach for a roller-coaster ride, stay out of it.

So if anybody tells you the downtrend is over or that the slide will slide further, tell him you remember 1968. And lots of other times when the highly touted economists had egg on their faces.

Wall Street is never having to say you're sorry.

But the traders are a breed apart. The news is good, they go to sleep. It's bad, they go to pieces.

Have you heard Robert Orben's version of how the world will come to an end? What the last spoken words will be before the world comes to an end?

Orben says, "In the concrete bunker 800 feet under the White House sits a lone individual with a red telephone and a back button.

"The phone rings, he picks it up. The President of the United States orders him to mash that button. He says, 'Yes Sir.'"

"Then he hangs up. "And with trembling hands reaches for the other telephone, a number. Then, his voice crackling with emotion, he says, 'Merrill Lynch? Sell!'"

All of which is preparation for this observation, this recently sagging stock market is good news. It reflects the inflation fever — subsiding. Recent years investors have hedged in the market against the apparent inevitability that dollars would be worth less.

And speculators took advantage of that logical response.

Now, if dollars are going to stop shrinking so fast — and Treasury Secretary Connally expects the inflation rate to be cut in half this next year — we can all invest with prudence instead of in panic.

History says it's better that an overheated stock market cools down than for our nation's currency to burn up.

So, Merry Christmas!

Dim Prospects

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The judgments continue to pile up among international economic specialists that the world's underdeveloped countries may have trouble ever achieving a humanly acceptable level of living.

The greater dream, that these nations of Asia, Africa and Latin America might one day reach the plane of affluence enjoyed today by the United States and other advanced countries, is deemed to be especially remote.

On this matter, Courtney Brown, editor of Columbia Journal of World Business, writes:

"For perspective, consider that even now the United States, with six per cent of the population, consumes 40 per cent of the world's production of raw materials."

What he is saying is that the world simply can't support such levels for all its billions. Brown adds:

"The depletion of the world's resources is already occurring at a rate that alarms the geologists."

He appears, indeed, to agree with a group of Massachusetts Institute of Technology which contends that even the developed nations may have to accept a somewhat diminished standard of living in order to prevent suffocating pollution and the wipe-out of resources.

In the Columbia Journal's early fall issue, Andre Van Dam suggests that the steadily swelling numbers of unemployed in the underdeveloped lands pose a major threat to world stability. He contends that unemployment rises at about twice the rate of population, which itself is booming up at three per cent per year in some poor countries. Says Van Dam:

"It is a particularly sensitive problem because about half the unemployed are not more than 25 years old in a labor force where the starting age can be as low as 10."

What we are witnessing, he suggests, is "dramatic deterioration in the use of human resources in the case of 77 per cent of the world's population."

Optimists like to stress the food production gains from the so-called "green revolution," the striking advance in the use of new high-yield strains of basic crops. They sometimes talk buoyantly of still more remarkable "miracle strains" which may support far more people than now with adequate diets.

But the MIT specialists, studying the world's future, think the green revolution may offer no more than short-run advantage. They believe it can easily prove a spur to renewed population explosion which may obliterate the economic gains.

Agriculture itself is not seen as a hopeful boost to desperately needed employment.

More take up weapons

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) —Although overall violence is down in Northern Ireland, an increasing number of women and children are taking up weapons against security forces, an army source said today.

The situation concerns security officers, the source said.

"With so many men being arrested since internment, women and children are taking up weapons in their place," he said. "But if attacked, we'll fire back, regardless of age or sex."

Home Affairs Minister John Taylor told the Northern Ireland Parliament Thursday that since internment began Aug. 9 the average weekly number of incidents has fallen.

He said the number of incidents involving shootings and bombings had dropped from a weekly average of 225 in September to 186 in October to 160 so far in November. Figures in the past two weeks likely will show a bigger drop, the official said.

The army source pointed to an incident Thursday in the Roman Catholic Falls Road area as an example of the increased participation of youngsters in violence.

spokesman said. All the shots missed.

The troops from the First Battalion Scots Guards fired back and thought they had hit the machine-gunner. "He was seen to jerk unnaturally as if he had been wounded," said one officer.

The boys ran off as troops returned fire after the daylight attack but vanished in back streets.

New rules asked

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The White House has overruled the Food and Drug Administration and ordered immediate application of new rules to ensure honesty in "cents-off" promotions.

The FDA wanted a delay of several months to subject the rules to changes, but the Federal Trade Commission objected and the White House intervened on the side of the FTC, it was learned Thursday.

White House sources said that as a result, the rules probably will become effective Dec. 31 as scheduled, or shortly thereafter. Under the new rules, the manufacturer will print the amount of "cents off" on the label. The retailer then will stamp on the reduced price. Also, the retailer must post a sign designating the regular price.

As originally issued by both the FDA and the FTC, the regulations would have required a single label listing the price this way:

Regular price —30 cents.
Cents off —8 cents.
You pay —22 cents.

However, grocers complained that this was too much trouble for store clerks and too costly, and several retail chains said they would not handle cents off sales under such regulations.

Hospital release set

WASHINGTON (UPI) —AFL-CIO President George Meany, hospitalized with severe chest pains, was resting comfortably today with the possibility that he will be released Sunday.

The 77-year-old labor leader was stricken at his home in suburban Bethesda, Md., shortly after returning from the AFL-CIO convention at Miami Beach.

He was admitted to the emergency coronary unit at George Washington University Hospital, where his physician, Dr. Marvin Fuchs, said he had apparently suffered "spasms in the coronary arteries."

An AFL-CIO spokesman, Al

Zack, however, reported late Thursday that Meany's pains had vanished and that his condition was "very satisfactory."

He said that Meany had undergone a series of tests, all of which had turned out negative, but that it was routine for a person with such symptoms to remain hospitalized for 72 hours.

"He probably will be released on Sunday," Zack said. If so, Meany may be allowed to return to work after "a couple of weeks" rest, Zack said.

Meany first complained of discomfort while aboard a train en route from Miami Beach to Washington. The train was stopped at Columbia, S.C., Tuesday night, where a doctor examined him for stomach pains, thought to have been caused by a meal which aggravated a previous stomach disorder. He has no history of heart ailment.

After Meany's train arrived in Washington shortly after noon Wednesday, Zack said the labor chief went immediately to his office and dictated a letter to George Boldt, chairman of the Pay Board, noting that the AFL-CIO convention had raised his salary from $70,000 to $90,000 a year and that of the AFL-CIO treasurer from $45,000 to $60,000 a year.

Affidavit adds fuel to fire

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Another affidavit that William H. Rehnquist harassed black voters in Phoenix added more fuel today to the controversy surrounding President Nixon's nominee to the Supreme Court.

Aides to Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., one of the leading opponents of Rehnquist's nomination, said the affidavit merits further investigation, even though Rehnquist personally has denied he even was present at the voting precinct where he allegedly harassed voters in 1964.

The Senate Judiciary Committee approved Rehnquist's nomination 12 to 4 last week, and endorsed the uncontested nomination of Lewis F. Powell Jr. to 0. Both nominations are expected to reach the Senate floor sometime next week, and there are indications Bayh's opposition may delay Senate adjournment, hoped for during the first week of December.

workers swore in affidavits submitted to the Judiciary Committee that Rehnquist challenged the voting qualifications of three Negro women and ordered them to read from the Constitution.

The latest affidavit, still unreceived by the Judiciary Committee, was by the Rev. Snelson McGriff, pastor of the Church of God in Christ, in Phoenix.

McGriff said he was present at the Bethune School voting precinct in 1964 and that he saw a man challenging voters to read from the Constitution. The affidavit said McGriff had seen pictures of Rehnquist and if he was not the man "it's his twin brother."

11 candidates claim victory

MONTEVIDEO (UPI) — Uruguay's colorful election campaign, a blend of carnival and Latin fiesta, went into its final phase Thursday with all 11 presidential candidates claiming certain victory when the voters go to the polls Sunday in the most complex elections ever held in this tiny South American nation.

Flags, banners and pennants fluttered in fine late spring weather and the blare of loudspeakers, horns and radio and television propaganda broadcasts blended into an almost incomprehensible cacophony. Handbills and leaflets were being passed out—and discarded—faster than street cleaners can sweep them up.

Blenders the gay atmosphere of the closing hours of electioneering—campaigning must cease at midnight Friday—loomed the grim uncertainty of the country's political future.

The signalmen have 13,000 members nationwide, Chamberlain said.

The new contract is now before the Pay Board, Chamberlain said, and he expects it to be approved.

Signalmen assured wage hike

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Brotherhood of Railway signalmen has ratified a contract that provides for a 46 per cent wage increase over a 42-month period.

Union President Charles J. Chamberlain made the announcement Wednesday. He said 75 of the nation's general chairmen met in Chicago last Saturday and later approved by an "overwhelming majority" a contract agreement reached on Nov. 16 with the nation's railroads.

Almanac

By United Press International Today is Friday, Nov. 26, the 330th day of 1971.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase.

There is no morning star.

The evening stars are Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

Those born on this day are under the sign of Sagittarius. John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born Nov. 26, 1607.

On this day in history: In 1789 President George Washington set the day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1930 one-fourth of all office space in New York City's skyscrapers was vacant due to the depression.

In 1940 the Nazis forced one-half million Jews in Warsaw to live in a ghetto surrounded by an 8-foot-high concrete wall.

In 1968 South Vietnam agreed to take part in the Paris peace talks.

A thought for today: American journalist Ambrose Bierce said, "Prejudice is a vagrant opinion without visible means of support."

Airwest unveils bright new look

TWIN FALLS — Hughes Airwest unveiled a bright new look in Twin Falls this week. The look — completely contemporary — runs from new uniforms for ground personnel and flight hostesses to dazzling new color for the airline's aircraft.

"Sundance Yellow" is the key in the carrier's new look. Bright polyester uniforms in several styles are mostly yellow, accented by "Universe Blue" and orange.

Hughes Airwest's fleet of DC-9 jets and F-27 propjets are being repainted. The wings and horizontal stabilizers on the tails will remain silver, but for the rest of the planes, it's bright all over. Three separate layers are applied, including one containing simulated pearl fragments which cause the yellow fuselage to sparkle in the sun and possess an unusual quality of depth.

New windows also are being put into the planes. Each consists of two panes of plexiglas. The outward surface of the inside pane will be treated with a vacuum deposition of aluminum particles. The end result is a silvery window which creates a highly reflective exterior quality and reduces interior cabin glare.

Changeover in hostess uniforms and aircraft color is expected by early 1972 and later in the year the airline will introduce new uniforms using similar colors for all public contact employees.

New look

DAZZLING AS a streak of sunlight, Hughes Airwest's new hostess fashions were shown in Twin Falls this week by Marge Marques and Zonia Arauzo. In the picture at left, Miss Marques shows the straight coat and contemporary western hat, while Miss Arauzo wears the full cape hostesses will wear when weather is chilly. The fashion worn by Miss Marques in the photo at right is the customer service agent's uniform. An entirely new fashion look will appear on Hughes Airwest ground personnel and hostesses by January. All are boldly bright and mainly "Sundance Yellow." Accents of "Universe blue" and orange also are used. The fashions are color coordinated with the airline's planes, which also are scheduled to be all re-outfitted by January.

60th year . . .

TOAST TO 60 years of marriage is offered by Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Henry, Twin Falls couple. The two recently observed their 60th Wedding Anniversary.

TF couple observes 60th anniversary

TWIN FALLS — Approximately 200 friends attended the reception and party at the Holiday Inn honoring Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Henry, 137 Fillmore St., in the observance of their 60th Wedding Anniversary.

The couple was married Nov. 11, 1911, in Springfield, Mo., and just observed the 60 year anniversary. They came to this area in 1919, purchasing an 80 acre farm near Kimberly and for 42 years made their home there until moving to Twin Falls for greater convenience.

Frank and Hattie Henry met while attending Southwest Missouri College, Kansas City, Mo., and were married several years later. Henry was employed by a railroad company in Springfield and was transferred to St. Louis, Mo., where they resided. While employed by the railroad, he and his wife made a number of trips to Idaho and after the fifth visit decided to leave the railroad business and take up ranching in Idaho. Even in the 1900's the Magic Valley area was well known as the garden spot of the nation, Henry recalls.

They selected an 80 acre farm north of Kimberly where Henry farmed and enjoyed his hobby of raising and showing horses. Henry is one of Idaho's best known horsemen and for a number of years was the only official horse show steward in the state, working major shows throughout the Intermountain region. He was one of the organizers of the Magic Valley Horse Show which a number of years ago featured some of the nation's best gaited, fine harness, jumping and western horses in competition at Frontier Field. He also won many honors showing his American Saddlebred stallion, Grand Stonewall, in shows around the western states. Until recently Henry remained an avid rider and frequently led Frontier Riding Club rides in the area.

Mrs. Henry says she has spent the past 60 years taking care of her husband and home.

Surprise unit made to TOPS

HANSEN — Mrs. Lois Ann White, Mrs. Louise Olson, Mrs. Sharon Federico and Mrs. Abby Becker, members of the Measure-Up TOPS Club, Twin Falls, paid a surprise visit to the Slim and Trim TOPS Club members this week at the home of Mrs. Thomas Steelsmith.

They brought and waved banners stating "We Won," and placed a black wreath over the head of the local chapter leader, Mrs. George R. Goley. The Measure-Ups won the contest between the two groups, stating their members had lost some five pounds each during the contest, as an average. The Slim and Trim Group lost some over three pounds each. The Slim and Trims did attain one goal, a night with complete loss or staying the same with no gains. This is the second time the club has attained this goal.

Plans will be made at a later meeting for entertaining the Measure-Ups.

Mrs. Marie Presnell was best loser for the week, and Mrs. Ann Admire was a 10-pound loser. Each received gifts.

It was decided that during the winter months, the group will meet at 7:30 p.m. with weigh-ins starting at 7 p.m.

Mrs. Goley presented quotations from Shakespeare and the Bible asking members to identify the play or Bible.

Mrs. Goley, who was hostess and program chairman for the evening, presented mod podge art in picture plaques. She explained how they were made and the ways in which mod podge may be used on all types of articles.

SANDRA FREEMAN

Engagement revealed

WENDELL — Mr. and Mrs. Jim H. Freeman, Wendell, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sandra, to Greg Scheele, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Scheele, Twin Falls.

Miss Freeman was graduated from Wendell High School and from the Kinman Business University, Spokane, Wash.

Scheele is a graduate of Twin Falls High School and is stationed in Germany with the 123 Maintenance Battalion, U. S. Army.

No wedding date has been set.

Past noble grands feted

JEROME — Syringa Lodge met in regular session this week to honor past noble grands.

The members dressed in costumes. Mrs. Willard Shropshire presented the 11 past noble grands in attendance with a gift.

Officers for the coming year were nominated. Elections will be Dec. 13.

Members voted to donate to the Odd Fellows float for the Tournament of Roses Parade.

It was reported that the Odd Fellows are raising money to purchase gas heaters for the hall.

Winners

SHOSHONE — Mrs. Edward D. Savaria entertained Grand Slam Bridge Club this past week.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Howard Johnson, Mrs. Arthur Martin and Mrs. E. C. Hahn.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pagona hosted Couples Club at their home after dinner at a cafe. Prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Churchman, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Neher and Mr. and Mrs. Max Coffman.

Extra homemaking lesson meet set

SHOSHONE — There will be an extra homemaking lesson meeting at the LDS Relief Society Tuesday, Nov. 30, Mrs. M. J. Dille, president, announced.

This meeting will begin at 10 a.m. with luncheon at noon. Members will exchange Christmas decorating ideas with a display of items they have made.

The second outlined lesson of the season, for this department, will be given on the subject "Enemies of Time — Thieves of Time." To be pointed out will be that certain habits can dissipate a woman's time and rob her of valuable hours.

Procrastination is listed as a major enemy of time, and an outline will be given to help overcome this habit.

Idleness and excuses for indolence will also be considered during the discussion.

There will be just three lessons during the month of December, with the spiritual living and visiting teacher message meeting to begin at 9:30 a.m. Dec. 7. Topics will be "A Time for Independence" and "Priesthood Blessings."

For the next cultural refinement lesson, continued study of the Bible will be on the scripture, "I Will Fear No Evil, For Thou Art With Me."

The social relations lesson topic will be "Bridging the Communications Gap Through Trust." Objective is to help the women more effectively instill trust in their children in order to help them develop a greater capacity to control and govern themselves.

Blaine Stake Relief Society leadership meeting is set for Dec. 6.

Area Jay-C-Ettes plan coffee day

KING HILL — Glens Ferry Jay-C-Ettes are joining the chapter of Jay-C-Ettes throughout the state in sponsoring a Coffee Day. The Glens Ferry day will be Nov. 30.

On that day local restaurants will participate by serving free coffee to customers and the guest will then be invited to "pay" by dropping coins into a special container.

All proceeds will be donated to the Nampa State School and Hospital to be used for the purchase of special playground equipment for handicapped children. Nearly all other Jay-C-Ette chapters throughout the state will be participating in the project during the month of November.

Mrs. Ernest Gayle Messerley, wife of Glens Ferry's mayor, served as honorary hostess for a "Silver Coffee Hour" to kick off the local project.

Local business and schools are also participating in "Coffee Day" by placing the special containers in employee lounges.

Mrs. Cecil Irving is local chairman of the project, and Mrs. William Farris, president of the Glens Ferry group, is assisting.

Engagement announced

GLENN'S FERRY — The engagement of Lella Estes has been announced by her parents, Mrs. Marjorie Geddes Estes and Freeman Estes, both Boise, to Grover Edward Poppleton, son of Mrs. Samuel D. Blackwell, Glens Ferry, and James Kenneth Poppleton, San Diego.

The bride-elect is a teacher at the Maridian High School. Poppleton is in the accounting department of Albertson's, Boise. Both are graduates of the University of Idaho.

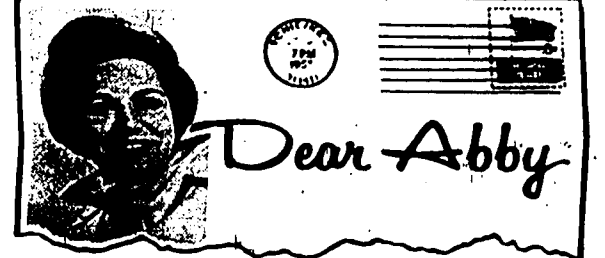

The couple plans a Nov. 27 wedding in the First United Methodist Church Cathedral of the Rockies, Boise.

structors. For more information call 733-2887.

RUPERT — Susan Kowitz, Rupert, is one of the co-chairmen for a series of activities for AOPJ week, Nov. 29 through Dec. 3. The activities are being scheduled by Alpha Omicron Pi social sorority chapter at Idaho State University. The other co-chairmen are Nancy Parker, Pocatello, and Mary Hatfield, Carmichael, Calif.

GLENN'S FERRY — The Jaycees will be kicking off their annual orange sale during the first part of December, reports Dick Callison, chairman. Two new members, George Bailey and Larry Smith, have been added to the membership roll. The Jaycees are striving to enlarge their group, and anyone between the ages of 18 and 38 is urged to contact a Jaycee member about joining.

GLENN'S FERRY — Scouting adults receiving 10-year pins recently were Mrs. Patricia Farley, Mrs. Elden Allen and Mrs. Jessie Edwards, during the District Girl Scout meet in Boise.

DEAR ABBY: When our son reached his 18th birthday, he announced that he was his own boss and could do as he pleased. He started skipping school, lying and staying out all night.

We tried to talk to him, but it did no good. After six months of this, we told him to either abide by our rules or find another place to sleep, which is all he ever came home for anyway.

He promptly packed up and left. Since then he has quit school, wrecked his car, bumped around and picked up odd jobs here and there.

Recently, my parents who live right next door, have been providing our son with food, shelter, and pocket money. Their door is left open all night, and if he doesn't come home, no questions are asked. We know they love him, and think they are helping him. We love him, too, but feel they are hurting him. Can we demand that they withdraw their help?

PARENTS

DEAR PARENTS: You can't demand anything, but you surely can explain to your parents that in their eagerness to "help" the boy, they are depriving him of a learning experience he desperately needs if he is ever to face life, meet its challenges, and be a man.

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a "kissing bug." He has to kiss me hello, goodbye, good morning, good night. You name it, he has a kiss for it, no matter where we are.

Last Friday I was in the beauty shop getting a permanent and my husband stopped in to leave me some money, and before he left he put his face in the shampoo bowl to kiss me goodbye! I felt so foolish. Even on street corners if we are going our separate ways for an hour, he has to kiss me goodbye.

What makes a man want to kiss so much? He can't possibly get anything out of those little token pecks. Or can he?

KISSED A LOT

DEAR KISSED: Are you bragging or complaining? A kiss is a statement. It says, "I like you" or "I love you." It's a physical expression of approval or affection. The time to write a Dear Abby letter is when he STOPS kissing you.

DEAR ABBY: At a wedding reception, my husband and I were dancing together when this lady, a total stranger, came on the dance floor and tapped ME on the shoulder, indicating that she wanted to dance with my husband.

My husband was quite surprised, but he took his arms from around me and proceeded to dance with HER, leaving me stranded on the dance floor. Not knowing which way to turn, I then went to sit with friends.

I felt very humiliated to think that I was cast aside for a complete stranger. My husband had never seen that lady before!

When we discussed it at home later my husband said he couldn't understand why I was so upset. He said he danced with her to avoid making a scene on the dance floor.

Abby, what do you think should have been done in that situation? Wasn't that woman entirely out of line?

LEFT STANDING

DEAR LEFT: The woman was indeed out of line. But oftentimes when an unexpected situation arises, we are so astonished we act on the impulse, which is probably what your husband did. I doubt the situation will arise again.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "ROCKY MARRIAGE IN S. F.": No, I don't think agreeing to "swing" will help. It's not a means to an end, it's the beginning of the end.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Nebraska comes from behind in second half to edge Oklahoma 35-31

NORMAN, Okla. (UPI)—No. 1 Nebraska stunned by two Oklahoma rallies that put the Cornhuskers behind for the first time this season, relied on the Bulldog running of Jeff Kinney in the second half Thursday to finally subdue the No. 2 Sooners in the college football's super game of 1971.

Kinney scored on runs of one, three, one and two yards in the final two quarters on a dark day before the largest crowd ever to jam into Owne Stadium, 63,385, to bring his team an almost cinch national championships. Kinney's final, winning touchdown came with only 1:38 showing on the clock.

But it took everything Kinney and his fellow Cornhuskers had to subdue the Sooners, who twice-came back from 11-point deficits on the quarterbacking of Jack Mildren.

Besides Kinney's four scoring efforts, Nebraska got another touchdown on a stunning 72-yard touchdown romp by speedster Johnny Rodgers with a punt in the first quarter.

From there, however, Oklahoma shut down the nation's No. 1 squad except for Kinney, who wound up with 175 yards for the game after gaining only 20 in the first half.

Mildren scored two touchdowns for Oklahoma on two runs of two yards each, one coming in the second quarter to slow down a first half Nebraska surge and the other coming in the fourth period to once again get Oklahoma back in the game after Nebraska had assumed its second 11-point lead of the day.

Mildren also hit high school teammate Jon Harrison with two touchdown passes of 24 and 16 yards, the second coming with 7:05 in the game and getting the Sooners out in front 31-28.

Then it was up to the Oklahoma defense, considered at times this season to be suspect. But the defense could not cope with Kinney and the aerial artistry of quarterback Jerry Tagge.

That last scoring drive lasted 12 plays and 74 yards and was the picture of relentlessness which Nebraska has been all season.

Kinney carried the last four plays of the drive, bouncing off tacklers just as he had all day.

Nebraska came into the game having allowed no more than 17 points all season, and Oklahoma easily outdistanced that. Along with Mildren's two scoring runs and the two touchdown passes, Oklahoma also got a 30-yard field goal from John Carroll.

But Oklahoma lost the ball three times on fumbles, exactly its average all year, and it was these mistakes which in the end prevented the Sooners from enjoying their first undefeated season in 15 years.

Two of the fumbles came near midfield and led to Nebraska scoring drives, one each in the first and second halves. The third fumble came midway through the second period at the Oklahoma 30 and kept the Sooners from possibly putting additional points on the board.

Nebraska shut down Oklahoma's rushing attack about as well as could be expected. The Sooners had been averaging 481 yards on the ground and only wound up with 279 Thursday.

The Nebraska win leaves the Orange Bowl—which has already made a match between Nebraska and Alabama—with at least one half of a perfect football game, at least if Nebraska beats Hawaii as expected next month.

Alabama meets Auburn Saturday and will be unbeaten this year if it can get by its old rival.

Gets hard knock

RUNNING BACK Jeff Kinney (35) of Nebraska, gets knocked into the air by Oklahoma tackler Larry Roach, (26), for a gain of two yards in the fourth quarter Thursday in Norman, Oklahoma. Nebraska won 35-31. (UPI telephoto)

Discuss outcome

Oklahoma coach expresses disappointment over outcome

NORMAN, Okla. (UPI) — "Our guys played their hearts out, but we just came up short," Oklahoma coach Chuck Fairbanks said after the Sooners' 35-31 loss to No. 1 Nebraska Thursday.

"Obviously I'm extremely disappointed with the loss. I have no way to hide my disappointment, but I'm not at all disappointed with the team," he said, speaking quietly, eyes lowered.

Fairbanks said his players "have no reason to hang their heads in shame... but this game meant so much to them." "I am proud for Coach Bob Devaney and his team," Fairbanks said. "Nebraska has a great team, they are true champions."

Oklahoma Gov. David Hall, Nebraska Gov. James Egan and House Speaker Carl Albert of Oklahoma all came to the dressing room to congratulate Fairbanks and his team on their effort.

"It was a great game," Hall said. "I was happy with everything except the score."

Egan told Fairbanks the No. 2 rated Sooners and the Cornhuskers were "the two finest teams I have ever seen." He predicted "a great victory for Oklahoma in the Sugar Bowl."

Oklahoma meets Auburn in the Jan. 1 classic in New Orleans.

"Jack Mildren was the star of the game," Albert said. "And that Nebraska quarterback (Jerry Tagge) also is a splendid performer." Mildren ran for two touchdowns and passed for two more Saturday. He personally ran for more yards in the first half than the per-game average Cornhuskers have given up to other teams this year.

"They've got some great guys over there," Mildren said of Nebraska, "but I wouldn't take anything for anyone on our team. We played the best game we could."

Mildren said the Cornhuskers defense forced the Sooner offense inside and dictated his running with the ball. He wound up with 130 yards rushing on 31 carries and 137 yards in the air on five completions out of 10 attempts.

"Nebraska has by far the best defense we've played," the senior quarterback, nicknamed by the press as the Wishbone Wizard, said. "But we didn't do too badly moving the ball."

Oklahoma totaled 467 yards against the nation's stingiest defense. Previously the Cornhuskers had given up only 171.7 yards per game and 6.4 point per game.

Fairbanks had pride for Tagge, running back Jeff Kinney and the entire Nebraska offensive line.

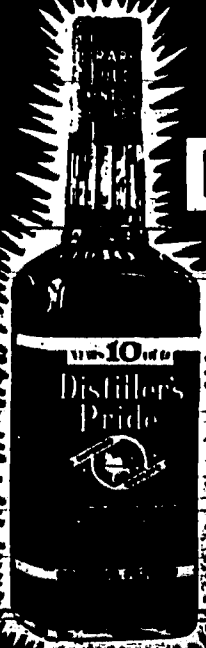

"I would like to think the two teams were pretty equally matched," the OU coach said.

"We played them right down to the line."

President Nixon telephoned Fairbanks, after talking with Devaney.

"If you played again, Oklahoma would probably win," were Nixon's closing words.

CASPER, Wyo. — Sophomores Vic Kelly and Dan Dressen combined for 45 points to lead the College of Southern Idaho past Lamar, Colo., College, 84-62, Thursday night and into the second round of the Thunderbird Thanksgiving classic.

The Golden Eagles will play Yavapai, Ariz., at 7 p.m. today in the semi-final round of the basketball tournament. Also advancing in the winners' bracket were Western Arizona and host team Casper College.

CSI, evidently bothered by the 5,200 foot altitude, went to a 1-2-2 zone which almost completely cut off Lamar early in the second half, then pulled away to the victory.

Dressen and Rick Sobers shot CSI into a 9-2 lead before Lamar settled down and made a fight of it over the first 17 minutes. Lamar, on the shooting of Carl Benson, closed the deficit to one point 13 minutes into the game before Dressen, Willie Williams, Kelly and Williams again reeled off unanswered CSI points.

The Eagles led 43-35 at halftime and jumped ahead by 10 or more for the rest of the game. When Dressen opened the second half with a three point play, The Eagles led by 12 with 11:16 left in the half, but over the next four minutes they outscored Lamar 11-1 for a 22 point lead. Kelly led CSI with 24 points, three more than Dressen. Benson led Lamar and all scorers with 25.

We improve with age.

We like to think of ourselves as the Chairman of the Board of the Automotive World. We keep getting better every year. Since 1949, we've improved our little car over 2,200 times. Last year we gave it a more powerful engine and nearly twice the luggage space it had before. This year we added 29 more improvements. Since '49, we've made over a thousand body and chassis improvements. Since '49, we've made over a thousand engine and transmission improvements. And the reason for all this progress? Since '49, we've spent absolutely no time making silly styling changes. What you see is what you get.

By STUMURRELL, Regional Conservation Educator Idaho Fish and Game Department, Jerome

The west slope cutthroat trout is on the endangered species list and the population is declining in Idaho. The west slope cutthroat, one of the more preferred fish by Idaho anglers, is that species native to the Salmon, Clearwater, St. Joe, and Clark Park drainages. It's habitat has gone downhill from logging and road building practices and it can be easily overfished of its low reproductive rate. Unlike the Yellowstone or Henry's Lake cutthroat native to Eastern Idaho, the west slope cutthroat has been difficult to raise in hatcheries.

There have been two major studies on this species in the Middle Fork of the Salmon River in late 50's and late 60's and another on the St. Joe River in 1970. All of these showed that overfishing could have a serious effect on cutthroat populations. The cutthroat trout does not mature until about 5 years old and they are slow growing fish, being only 11-12 inches at that age. Rainbow trout can lay eggs in 2 to 3 years and may grow to 15 inches or larger in that period. Since the fishermen take these larger cutthroat that are the breeding stock, they can knock down a population rapidly if not closely controlled. There have been increasing restrictions on cutthroat with a 3 fish limit and 13 inch minimum of the St. Joe this year, a catch and release program on Kelly Creek in the North Fork of the Clearwater drainage, and a 2 cutthroat limit on the Middle Fork of the Salmon River in an attempt to maintain this endangered species.

In 1972 the Middle Fork of the Salmon River becomes a fishing for fun stream for trout during the regular trout season. Barbless hooks and artificial lures are the only legal means of fishing in this restricted area during the summer months. This is the longest catch and release stream in the U.S. One of the reasons for this drastic change in regulations has been the increase in float trips in recent years. According to U.S. Forest Service figures, there were 625 people that went through this reach in 1962, this increased to 1,600 in 1969 and 3,000 in 1970.

The studies on the Middle Fork of the Salmon showed most of the fish were 12 inches or smaller and therefore not mature egg layers. This year Don Corley, Regional Fishery Biologist, at Salmon used scuba gear to count fish in 20 main holes of the Middle Fork. He indicated this appeared to be an excellent sampling method and found a limited number of trout in each hole. Corley stated 20 fish in a 50 to 200 yard hole would be a high number. They did find high numbers of whitefish. These scuba counts will be continued on the same holes every three years to determine the effects of the regulations on the cutthroat population. Fishermen wishing to take fish for eating during the summer months can still take whitefish, which are plentiful. During the steelhead fishing season, fishermen can fish with bait, barbed hooks and can keep Dolly Varden trout if they catch them while fishing for steelhead.

The Cutthroat trout is using the tributaries to the main Salmon River as spawning areas and rearing places for the young until they reach 6 or 7 inches in length, when they migrate to the main river. It is very important these spawning streams be protected from development or overfishing. Many of these streams originate in the Idaho Primitive Area and Salmon River Breaks Primitive Area which do provide this protection. For this reason, it is hoped they will be classified as permanent wilderness areas under the Wilderness Act. Those wilderness areas also supply some of the purest water in the U.S. because of this lack of development. This clean water will continue to be one of Idaho's most important assets.

The Fish and Game Department is attempting to raise west slope cutthroat in hatcheries. The most promising program has been from eggs taken at Fish Lake in the Clearwater drainage and raised in Clark Fork Hatchery. In 1970, 13,000 eggs were collected from these fish and they have survived well and should provide brood stock by next year. There were 336,700 eggs taken in 1970 from Fish Lake and the fish from these eggs will be used to replant the lake, the North Fork of the Clearwater and the St. Joe River. Don Corley captured over 40 Middle Fork of the Salmon cutthroat last year and has been attempting to raise them in Mackay Hatchery. So far they have not done well in a hatchery situation and won't feed properly. Corley recently collected about 60 pounds of freshwater shrimp from Richfield Canal to mix with the hatchery pellets in an attempt to accustom the trout to taking the pellets along with the shrimp. Hopefully, hatchery reared cutthroat can help increase the native population and this combined with strict regulation of fishing, should protect this endangered species in Idaho.

Wigginton guides Texas past A&M

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI)—Donnie Wigginton, the red haired master of the explosive Wishbone T, scored twice Thursday and guided the Texas Longhorns into the Cotton Bowl with a 34-14 Southwest Conference victory over outmanned Texas Aggies.

Texas, with eight wins and losses to Oklahoma and Arkansas, goes against sixth-ranked and undefeated Penn State in the Cotton Bowl Jan. 1 in Dallas. The Thanksgiving Day victory over rival Texas A&M earned Texas an unprecedented fourth straight Southwest Conference championship and Cotton Bowl trip.

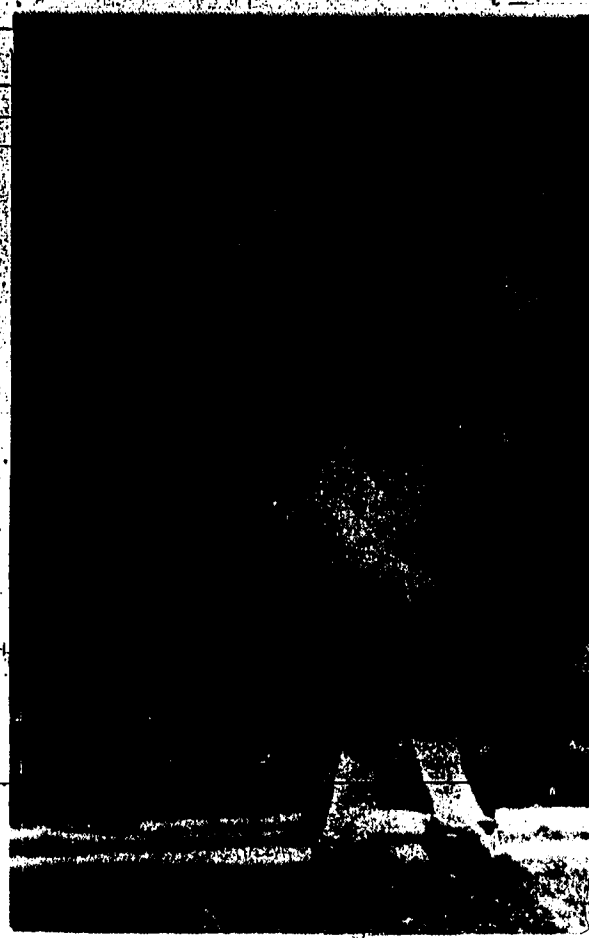

Wigginton, the team's second string quarterback, tied a Longhorn season record of 14 touchdowns on two, one-yard scampers in an explosive 21-point second quarter. The 5-10, 183-pound senior leads the conference in scoring and has directed the Longhorn machine since No. 1 quarterback Eddie Phillips was injured in the season opener.

Jim Bertelsen, the Longhorns' quarterback, scored on a one-yard plunge in the first quarter and on a twisting, second effort eight yard run in the second period. Fullback Dennis Ladd scored on another one-yard run and Steve Valak added four of five conversions. The Aggies, hobbled by turnovers and penalties, scored on a 28-yard pass from Joe Mac King to Billy Joe Polasek after Texas rang up a 34-point lead on a two-yard scamper by tailback Mark Green. Polasek's touchdown was the first allowed by Texas in 13 quarters. It was the Aggies' sixth loss against five wins and could mean the dismissal of Coach Gene Stallings.

Texas defensive back Alan Lowry intercepted two passes leading to a pair of touchdowns as the 18th ranked Longhorns took their fourth consecutive win over A&M and their fifth straight of the year. Jeff Zapalac's recovery of a Hugh McElroy's fumble in the second quarter set up Bertelsen's first touchdown.

Texas was on the Aggie 35 with one-inch to go when the Aggies were penalized 15 yards for a personal foul. Six plays later Wigginton bowled over behind the block of guard Travis Roach to make it 14-0. Lowry intercepted a King pass on the Aggie 28 in the second quarter and returned it 16 yards setting up Ladd's score. Texas came back with a 51-yard drive with Wigginton hitting Dan Stankley with a 14-yard pass and Don Burriak running for 33 more. Wigginton sprinted around right end for his record tying touchdown four plays later.

Greg Landry leads Detroit to 32-21 win over Chiefs

DETROIT (UPI) — Quarterback Greg Landry counted touchdown passes of six yards to Charlie Sanders and 17 yards to Earl McCullouch among his string of seven of seven consecutive completions midway through the holiday game Thursday to lead the Detroit Lions to a 32-21 nationally televised roasting of the Kansas City Chiefs.

Errol Mann added field goals of 27, 28 and 21 yards as the Lions improved to 7-3-1 in their playoff berth struggle in the National Football Conference. The American Conference Chiefs fell to 7-3-1 also.

Ed Podolak scored on runs of two, five and six yards, but Kansas City was unable to overcome its own mistakes and the precision passing of Landry. Detroit also added a safety when a punt blocked by Ron Jesse rolled out of the end zone and Steve Owens scored on a run of one yard. Owens gained 79 yards on 22 carries and ended the game two yards short of equalling the club season rushing record of 872 yards set by Nick Pietrosante in 1960.

Landry completed 15 of 22 passes in the game for 225 yards and Sanders caught five of them for a total of 118 yards. Podolak had just scored his first touchdown with 2:17 left in the second quarter when Sanders hauled in his TD pass with only 41 seconds play in the half. He had caught a 20-yard pass while flat on his back after safety Johnny Robinson of Kansas City juggled the ball off his chest and hands.

An interference call on Sanders sustained the drive and Mel Farr caught a 39-yard pass to precede the touchdown by one play.

Landry opened the second half with hits of 16 yards to McCullouch and 15 yards to Larry Walton before hitting McCullouch again with the scoring strike.

That was his sixth completion in a row as Detroit upped its lead to 24-7. The Lions added five more points after the ensuing kickoff when Jesse blocked the first punt of the game by either side and it rolled into the end zone.

Detroit took Kansas City's free kick and turned into Mann's 28-yard field goal to make it 29-7 with just over 20 minutes to play.

Staubach stars in Dallas victory

IRVING, Tex. (UPI)—Roger Staubach hurled a 51-yard bomb to Bobby Hayes and set up two second half touchdowns with his scrambling to guide the Dallas Cowboys to a 28-21 victory over the Los Angeles Rams in a Thanksgiving Day television feature.

The Cowboys, who strengthened their National Football Conference East hold on first place with an 8-3 record, headed all the spark they could get to overcome a rigged first half defense thrown up by the Western Division leading Rams, who outgained the Cowboys 241 yards to 82 but could manage only a 14-14 deadlock in the first 30 minutes of play.

Staubach's bomb to Hayes came with 2:06 left in the half and the Cowboys' other first-period points came on rookie Isaac Thomas' 89-yard runback of the opening kickoff.

Chuck Howley's 12-yard run-back of an intercepted pass and Staubach's 15-yard scramble set up his 21-yard scoring pass to Lance Alworth in the first three minutes of the third quarter. And, his 11-yard scramble in the opening minute of the final period set up Duane Thomas' five-yard fourth Cowboy touchdown.

Roman Gabriel baffled the Rams by his mixture of short and long passes and threw for two of the Rams touchdowns—a 33-yarder to Bob Klein in the first quarter and a two-yard flip to Pat Curran in the third quarter—and set up Larry Smith's one-yard plunge for the opening Los Angeles touchdown in the first period.

Gabriel, who hit his first eight passes for 103 yards, wound up with 20 of 35 for 234 yards. The loss dropped the Rams to a 6-4 record and a temporary tie with the San Francisco Forty-Niners (6-4-0), but San Francisco has a chance to go back ahead in the West when they play the Jets in New York Sunday.

Staubach, who was a questionable starter because of a bruised shoulder, hit only eight of 14 passes for 176 yards, but escaped without an interception.

The Rams not only lost that costly interception to Howley, but lost another just 29 seconds before the half when Larry Smith fumbled away the ball to Dave Edwards after the Rams had driven to a first down on the Dallas 20.

A Los Angeles gamble which failed also helped set up Staubach's bomb to Hayes. The Rams, facing fourth and three on the Dallas 45-yard line, faked a 52-yard field goal, but ball holder Jerry Rhome's surprise pass to Smith in the clear was overthrown and the Cowboys took over in their own end of the field.

The Cowboys' offense came to life in the second half and they ground up on the short end of the total offense statistics 301 to 278 yards after the 24-22 deficit at halftime.

The game also kept alive the Cowboys' string of never having lost a Thanksgiving Day game.

Pat Sullivan is winner of Heisman Trophy

NEW YORK (UPI) — Quarterback Pat Sullivan of Auburn, the most prolific passer in the history of the Southeastern Conference, Thursday was named the 1971 winner of the Heisman Trophy, significant of the nation's best college football player.

Sullivan, a 21-year old senior from Birmingham, Ala., has passed for 1,891 yards and gained 1,977 yards overall in leading Auburn to a 9-0 record this season. He has one game remaining with unbeaten Alabama Saturday.

Sullivan received 1,597 points from the voters across the country who participated in the balloting. Ed Marinaro of Cornell was second and Greg Pruitt of Oklahoma was third.

A 6-0, 190-pound senior, Sullivan finished sixth in the Heisman balloting last year despite leading the nation in total offense with 285.6 yards per game and compiling a touchdown responsibility total of 26.

Sullivan, who has a TD combo of 26 this year, needs only one more against Alabama to break the NCAA career record of 71. A business administration major, he has scored in all but one of 29 career starts for Auburn and has directed his team to 26 victories over that span.

Sullivan's favorite passing mates have been Terry Beasley, an all American prospect who holds the Southeastern Conference record for passes caught (28) and Dick Schmalz, a high school teammate from John Carroll High in Birmingham.

"Pat doesn't know what it means to give up," Beasley says of Sullivan. "He seems to play his best in our biggest games."

Sullivan becomes the fourth player from the deep south to win the Heisman award. The others were Steve Spurrier of Florida in 1966, Billy Cannon of LSU in 1959 and Frank Sinkwich of Georgia in 1942.

Marinaro, seeking to become the first Ivy Leaguer since Princeton's Dick Kazmaler in 1951 to win the award, received 1,445 points while Pruitt, only a junior, was a distant third with 586 point. Johnny Musso of Alabama was fourth with 365 points and Lydell Mitchell of Penn State rounded out the top five with 251.

Hale Irwin fires 68 for Heritage lead

HILTON HEAD, S. C. (UPI) —Hale Irwin, a former Big Eight safety anxious to finish so he could watch the Oklahoma-Nebraska football game, played fine iron play into a 3-under-par 68 Thursday to take the opening round lead in the Heritage Golf Classic.

His score, all the more impressive when you consider that only five golfers in the 102-man field were able to break par Thursday over the tricky Harbour Town course, was one shot better than everybody's favorite Arnold Palmer and poker-faced Dave Eichelberger who shared the runnerup spot with 69s.

The 26-year-old Irwin, who played football at Colorado in the mid 60s, sank four birdie putts and had a shot at a half dozen more as he kept placing his approach shots well onto the green.

"I didn't miss any fairways and only a couple of greens," said Irwin who has won over $71,000 this year despite not finishing higher than seventh a couple of times. "However, I guess I would have to say that my putting was disappointing. It was just that, all of a sudden after a fast start, I couldn't get the greens read." Irwin was four under after 11 holes but missed three birdie putts in a row and then three-putted three holes from the end of his round to wind up with his 68.

"I suppose I got the most out of my round that I could," he added.

Eichelberger led through the first 60 finishers Thursday with a five-birdie, three-bogey round that really didn't begin to take form until five holes from the end.

The Texan, who won his first PGA victory in five years of trying this past summer at Milwaukee, birdied three of his last five holes, the second coming on a 50-foot putt. Leading the group at evenpar 71 was superstar Jack Nicklaus who helped design the Harbour Town golf course and who calls it "one of the most demanding golf courses in the United States today."

Top Methodist aide to talk

RUPERT — Bishop W. Maynard Sparks of the Seattle and Portland Areas of the Western Jurisdiction of the United Methodist Church, will officiate at the dedication of the Rupert United Methodist Church Sunday.

A symbolic mortgage burning will be held in addition, the church will be celebrating 66 years of worship and service in the community.

This is the third sanctuary to be used by the congregation of Methodists in Rupert. The first was dedicated June 9, 1905, a small frame building which seated 150 people. By 1914 the growth of the community and the congregation necessitated a larger church, so a brick building was erected on the same spot at the corner of 6th and H Streets.

During the pastorate of Rev. Wendell Coe, plans were made to build a third and larger sanctuary which was constructed while Rev. Raymond Thompson served the congregation as pastor. The building was consecrated on Nov. 4, 1961, and it is this building which Bishop Sparks will dedicate. All past members and pastors of the church has been invited to participate in the service.

The dedication service will begin at 10:30 a.m. Sunday, Rev. Everett Gardner and Rev. Raymond Thompson, past ministers of the church, will take part in the service as will Rev. C. Keith Mills, Superintendent of the Snake River District of the Oregon-Idaho Conference, and Rev. Sydney Galthier, the present minister.

Bishop Sparks' sermon is entitled "The Church That Wouldn't Stand Still". Rupert Mayor Wendell Johnson will bring greetings from the community.

Special music will be provided by the three choirs of the church.

Leader of the Angel Choir is Mrs. Claud H. Bowman. The Carol Choir is led by Mrs. Tom Pierce, and the Senior Choir is under the direction of Tom Pierce and Mrs. John Peavey. Solo selections will be offered by Claud H. Bowman and Jim Wright.

Ministers who have served the church since it chartered in 1905 with 11 members are Rev. A. M. Lamber, 1905-1907; Rev. Ira R. Aldrich, 1907-1909; Rev. Frank B. Hardin, 1909-1911; Rev. J. Martin, 1911-1912; Rev. J. E. Baker, 1912-1915; Rev. C. E. Deal, 1915-1917; Rev. George W. Barnes, 1917-1923; Rev. C. O. Heath, 1923-1927; Rev. B. F. Meredith, 1927-1929; Rev. Victor Phillips, 1929-1934; Rev. George Roseberry, 1934-1937; Rev. A. B. Parrett, 1937-1943; Rev. Dallas McNeil, 1934-1946; Rev. James R. Crowe, 1946-1951; Rev. Earl Terry, 1951-1953; Rev. Wendell Coe, 1953-1960; Rev. Raymond Thompson, 1960-1965; Rev. A. M. Thomas, 1965-1967; Rev. Warren McConnell, 1967-1969; Rev. Everett Gardner, 1969-1971, and Rev. Sydney B. Galthier, the present pastor.

Ladies Night will be observed Dec. 6 with a supper at 7 p.m. to be catered by the Sarah Angle Circle. Mrs. Mildred Neumann, Twin Falls, will give an illustrated report of her participation in last summer's Bishop's tour of Africa.

Harvest day set at Filer — The Filer Church of the Nazarene will observe Harvest Day next Sunday, the 10 a.m. service will feature The King's Witnesses with a special musical program and a talking dummy as a treat for the children.

The 11 a.m. service will be the start of 10 days of special services with Rev. Don Cook, evangelist and Mrs. Pauline Chastain, singer. The services will be held at 7:30 p.m. each night through Dec. 8, according to Rev. Gernie Iwersen, pastor.

Bible display planned

KIMBERLY — Kimberly Christian church will hold a Bible display Sunday, according to Mrs. Jack Wright.

The display will be open to the public from 3 to 5 p.m. at the church sanctuary, she said. Mr. and Mrs. Wright are in charge of the display, assisted by Mrs. James Keith.

The Bibles will include some antique ones and others in foreign languages as well as different translations.

Films set Dec. 3, 6 at church

TWIN FALLS — "No Greater Love" a film about the people involved in Vietnam fighting will be shown Dec. 3 and Dec. 6 at 7:30 p.m. in the Free Will Baptist Church, 869 Washington St. S.

The showings are open to all interested persons, and will be of interest to everyone, Pastor Schillereff says.

Filed under combat conditions, the film depicts the heroism of the people in Vietnam and their human interest in helping one another and sharing problems and benefits. The film is a followup of an earlier film, "Vietnam Profile", also produced by World Vision.

Scenes in the film show such acts as the helicopters carrying World Vision film teams into the battle area and dropping them to warn American soldiers of a possible enemy ambush ahead.

Spanish Assembly of God church dedication set

RUPERT — Dedication services for the newly remodeled Spanish Assembly of God Church will be at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at the corner of A Street and South Second Street, Rupert.

Scheduled on the program are Rev. Edward O. Gomez, local pastor; Rev. S. R. Franco, superintendent of the Pacific district; Rev. Nestor Bazan, superintendent of Central district; and Luke Juarez, Nampa, section presbyter. Church officials are also expected from the Salt Lake City section.

Rev. Gomez explained that the dedication service is being held Saturday in as much as the monthly sectional fellowship meetings are held then and the congregation wishes to invite other Spanish Assembly of God Churches to attend the dedication.

The church purchased the building and lot from CVA Enterprises in September 1971, after selling its former church and property on the Sugar Factory Road. The building has been painted outside and members of the congregation have been busy cleaning, painting and remodeling inside. The chapel room has been newly paneled, the floors refinished and carpet laid. The building has seven Sunday School rooms in addition to the basement where the kitchen is located.

The Spanish Assembly of God Church was founded in the later part of 1961 by Rev. Solz in a rented building on First Street, Rupert. The next building was on the Sugar Factory road in 1962.

The church was a mission church until May, 1971, when incorporation process began. Plans were completed Aug. 10, 1971.

Rev. Manuel Ortega was the next pastor who served for five years and Rev. Gomez has served the church the past two years.

The church board of directors include Charles Chapa, president; Antonio Lopez, vice president; Mrs. Alice Maldonado, secretary; Tom Valdez, treasurer; Roy Maldonado, Mrs. Bennie Lopex, Mrs. Pauline Villazenor, Jesse Abeyta, Jesse Rodriguez and Rve. Gomez, all board members.

Sunday services are 9:45 a.m. Sunday School followed by 11 a.m. worship; and 7 p.m. evangelistic services.

HANSEN — A pledge service was held at the Women's Society of Christian Service meeting at the United Methodist Church, Kimberly. It was conducted by Mrs. Eugene Kreuger.

Mrs. Ralph Nelson finished the African Study series which she has been leading. She used the book, "Cry Sorrow, Cry Joy," among others as resource books.

The group voted to contribute to the Building Fund pledge. A report was given on the successful annual fall turkey dinner held recently at the church as a fund-raising project.

The Browse and Buy store is now closed and will remain so until spring, when it will reopen, if the building is still available. Ladies are asked to save clothing and other articles for use in the store. New yearbooks were given to members.

The Dec. 15 meeting will feature installation of new officers.

Mrs. J. Roy Durk and Mrs. John Nelson were hostesses.

DON E. COOK

Speaker scheduled at Filer

FILER — Guest speaker at the evangelistic services to be held Sunday Dec. 8 at the Filer Church of the Nazarene, will be Rev. Don E. Cook, ordained minister of the Nazarene Church.

Pauline Chastain will be in charge of special music at the services.

Rev. Cook was born in Arkansas and reared on a farm in central California. He graduated from Pasadena College, Pasadena, with a major in religion, and began his ministry as assistant pastor in Monterey Park, Calif.

After graduation in 1952 he accepted his first pastorate in Arizona and later moved back to California to become pastor of youth in Bakersfield First Church of the Nazarene.

He moved to Idaho in 1965 and served as a pastor until this year when he resigned to enter fulltime evangelistic work. He was special speaker during this summer's Filer Youth Retreat at Cathedral Pines in the Sawtooth Mountains.

Revival

HAZELTON — There will be a revival service at 8 p.m. Monday at the Hazelton Assembly of God Church.

Rupert Lutherans set mission event

RUPERT — Trinity Lutheran Church, Rupert, will celebrate its Fall Mission Festival Sunday, with Rev. Larry Meinzen, Salt Lake City, as guest speaker.

A mission service is scheduled for 2 p.m. in the Trinity parish hall, following a potluck dinner at noon. The public is invited.

Rev. Meinzen was born in 1925 in India, where his parents were serving as missionaries. When he was 13, he returned to the United States. He attended college at River Forest, Ill., in preparation for the teaching ministry. For a period, Rev. Meinzen also studied engineering. Later he joined the service and served in Europe and Japan.

After his discharge from the service, he re-entered college at River Forest and received his teaching degree. He was called to serve as superintendent at Trwandrum, in India. Rev. Meinzen served in that capacity for 13 years.

Seven of his 11 children were born in India. The former Indian missionary pursued his studies for the preaching ministry after his return to the States. He was ordained as a Missouri Synod clergyman in 1968.

Rock Creek Road rules proposed

TWIN FALLS — New regulations governing winter recreation traffic on the Rock Creek road south of Hansen will be presented for adoption by the Twin Falls Highway District board at its next meeting.

The regulations, designed to meet the needs of all area users without conflict, have been endorsed by user groups and individuals and the U.S. Forest Service.

Keith Andersen, engineer for the highway district, said the specific regulations were called for in a meeting Monday afternoon arranged by the Forest Service and highway district out of concern heavy use of the road and need for traffic regulation and winter maintenance.

The highway district has jurisdiction over the road, Andersen said, and will provide full service during the winter use months in snow removal. He said men and equipment will be available for snow clearing as needed seven days a week, providing there are no emergency conditions in the valley area.

Under the proposed regulations, specific rules are spelled out and will be enforced, Andersen said. Plans are to station a deputy, under supervision of the Twin Falls sheriff's office on the road Saturdays, Sundays and holidays during the winter season to enforce traffic laws, and special regulations.

Andersen listed five divisions of the new regulations. First, he said, the action calls for enforcement and augmenting of state laws which prohibit snowmobiles, sleds and toboggans on any public road.

No skiing or tubing will be permitted although two designated pedestrian crosswalks will be established at the Magic Mountain Ski Area for skiers crossing from one lift to another or from the lodge to the lifts on the opposite side of the road.

It is unlawful to park a vehicle on any roadway and this will also be enforced with parking designated only on parking lots for skiers and snowmobilers or at the tubing and sledding areas.

A speed limit of 10 miles per hour from just below the Magic Mountain ski lodge to the Rock Creek Ranger station will be established and enforced.

Uphill traffic beyond the Third Fork of Rock Creek will be prohibited from 3 to 5 p.m. because of heavy down traffic. This will be in effect throughout the winter season, designated as the period during which the Magic Mountain Ski Area is in operation each winter.

All vehicles entering the area under winter driving conditions will be required to have chains, snow tires or other suitable traction devices as deemed necessary by the enforcement officer in charge.

In addition to these five measures, Andersen said, the district may also hold up all traffic at Third Fork while snow plows are clearing the roads and parking areas. This, he said, would be in the event of the need to plow the road on a Saturday or Sunday morning when heavy traffic to the ski area and snowmobile area has begun. Andersen said this would give plows a chance to clear a place for the vehicles to park so they could be out of the way of plows finishing up the road-clearing work.

Andersen said enforcement of any regulations is the key to the effectiveness and it is hoped a deputy can be hired to work the two days per week during winter months. He said the highway district and Claude Jones, owner of Magic Mountain Resort, have each offered $100 toward the salary and it is believed the snowmobile association and other interested persons and agencies can come up with another $200.

He said persons violating the regulations will be issued a citation and must appear in court and answer to a misdemeanor charge. He said it is hoped regulations will be observed voluntarily and no citations will have to be issued but when violations occur citations will be given.

Those attending the Monday meeting to discuss the problem included representatives of the highway district, Forest service, snowmobile association, Jones representing skier use, Sheriff Paul Corder, all three county commissioners, and Dorothy Persons, cabin owner. Ralph Olmstead, highway board chairman, conducted the Monday meeting.

Those attending pointed out the improvement of the road last year and enlarging and surfacing of the snowmobile parking lot this past summer have helped the situation greatly and the problem of conflict of use between skiers and snowmobilers in the improved ski area has diminished. Forest service signing of ski runs has helped with this problem.

SNOWFALL in Magic Valley put a white frosting on these mall boxes south of Twin Falls. The light snowfall also blanketed much of the state's highway system.

Hunter walks twenty miles

RICHFIELD — S. J. Peterson, about 28, Richfield, walked out of the freezing desert Thursday after being lost for over 20 hours.

Peterson, who had gone hunting Wednesday with two companions, became separated from the others about 3:30 p.m., about 13 miles northeast of Richfield, and 15 miles southeast of Preacher's Bridge.

Lincoln County sheriff's officers were notified by a member of the party about 9:30 p.m. Wednesday. A search party was organized Thursday morning. About 50 area residents and three officers searched the area on foot and horseback until about 3 p.m., when they were notified Peterson had walked into Carey.

Peterson notified relatives in Carey about noon, after walking nearly 20 miles over lava beds. He had spent the night in the desert in freezing weather. Snow and rain were falling.

Peterson was dressed for bad weather, wearing a sheepskin lined vest, Army jacket, jeans and overshoes. He carried no food. No medical treatment was required.

Area Civil Air Patrol units were alerted but were not needed in the search, officers said. Several planes also were standing by.

Second ski swap slated Dec. 10, 11

KETCHUM — So successful was the Sun Valley benefit ski swap another such event is planned for Dec. 10 and 11.

Gross total from the annual event, held at the IOOF Hall in Ketchum, was $9,216.23, according to Mrs. George Kneeland, president of the Sun Valley Ski Education Foundation, Inc., and the 15 per cent for the Junior ski team came to $1,350.41.

Lane Monroe, head ski coach, and his nine assistant coaches were at the swap to help answer technical questions about skis and boots.

Mrs. Jack Simpson, chairman of the event, said persons came from as far away as Idaho Falls and "weren't disappointed with the bargains they found." Several local merchants brought in new skis and boots.

The ski swap is held each year before the ski season starts with a percentage going to benefit the Sun Valley Junior Ski team.

The second event, Dec. 10 and 11, also will be held in the Ketchum IOOF Hall from noon to 7 p.m. both days. Items should be brought in between 2 to 7 p.m. Dec. 9. All merchandise should be clean and well tagged with the price. Mrs. Simpson said.

TV special scheduled

TWIN FALLS — Dr. John Lee, Meridian, appears in a TV special "The Eagle and the Hawk" to be shown from 2 to 3 p.m. Sunday on Channel 11 and at 5 p.m. on Channel 4.

It was filmed under the sponsorship of the National Audubon Society and General Electric Corporation, and concerns the conservation of birds of prey.

Dr. Lee, a veterinarian, was born in Jerome and grew up there. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lee.

Filing ends in Minidoka

RUPERT — Today was the final date for filing nominating petitions for the Dec. 6 elections in Minidoka County fire protection and highway districts.

Elections are slated for both the West End Fire Protection District and the Minidoka County Fire Protection District, and for the Minidoka County Highway District board of directors.

Candidates for the position of chairman of the board of the West End Fire Protection District must reside within the boundaries of subdistrict 3 and must file their declaration of candidacy with U. U. Locander, Clyde Greenwell is the incumbent chairman.

Voting will be from noon until 7 p.m. Dec. 6 at the Paul Fire Hall, and the Paul D. Werner residence, 1450 West, 325 South, Jerome County.

Two commissioners for the Minidoka Fire Protection District will be elected with voting at the Minico High School. Terms are expiring for LaVern Montgomery, sub-district 2 and W. C. Gentry, sub-district 2. Petitions should be filed with secretary Eldon J. Stephenson.

Highway commissioners will be elected from sub-district and 2 for four year terms. Terms are expiring for Ed Hartman, sub-district 1 and Lynn Manning, sub-district 2. Hold-over commissioner is George Hedlund, sub-district 3.

Voting for the highway election will be at the Acequia School, the Minidoka County Highway District office, Rupert; highway district office in Paul, and the Heyburn City office. Petitions should be filed with Lee W. Merrill, secretary for the highway district.

No registration is required for the elections, but voters will be required to sign an elector's oath.

Wilderness clamor said unrealistic

BOISE (UPI) — A spokesman for the Greater Snake River Land Use Congress says the clamor for designation of vastly more public lands as wilderness "is based on an unrealistic assumption."

Herb Fitz, president of the Greater Snake River Land Use Congress, a chapter of Outdoors Unlimited, discussed the subject at a directors meeting of the chapter earlier this week at Farewell Bend, Ore.

"Proponents of all-out wilderness would have it believed that additional millions of acres of public land could be closed to most uses without adverse effects," Fitz said. "This is simply not so."

"Long established industries — principally timber, livestock and mining — depend to a significant extent on the continued development of the natural resources of the western states.

"Arbitrary and capricious shackling of carefully planned long range management and development programs will constitute a severe blow to these essential industries and the general economy of the western states," he said.

"Designation of large additional areas of wilderness will also limit the future opportunities of the average recreationalist."

The La Raza Unida party surfaced in 1970 as a political arm of militant Chicano organizations in Colorado Texas and other states.

Convention organizers said only Chicano organizers would be allowed to attend convention workshops, although all news-men will be allowed to attend general sessions.

Speakers will include Rodolfo "Corky" Gonzales, Denver Chicano leader; Jose Angel Gutierrez, chairman of the board of education in Crystal City, Tex.; Mario Campbell, chairman of the Mexican-American Young Organization, and Florencio Medina, city council candidate from Oakland, Calif.

Officers capture escapees

MALAD, Idaho (UPI) — One-ida County law enforcement officers arrested two men accused of escaping from jail in Tooele County, Utah, Thursday night at the scene of a traffic accident on Interstate 15.

Sheriff's officers said both Joe Berry, 28, and William Allen Langston, 30, were thrown from the stolen pickup truck in which they were riding when it overturned on the highway 3 1/2 miles north of Malad.

Officers said the two men were seriously injured and that one received a fractured skull in the accident. They were taken to University Hospital in Salt Lake City by Intermountain Ambulance Service.

Deputies said the men, who appeared to have been drinking, were in a pickup truck belonging to the U.S. Forest Service. They said they became suspicious when neither man had any identification. A check disclosed they were wanted for jailbreak in Utah, officers said.

Tooele County Sheriff Cliff Carson said the two had been using a public vehicle to run errands and failed to return to their jail cells at Tooele Thursday afternoon.

Gem NFO opens meet at Burley

BURLEY — Idaho National Farmers Organization members gathered in Burley Thursday for the opening session of the state convention at the Ponderosa Inn.

Meetings Thursday and today were open only to NFO members, but Saturday's sessions will be open to the public, according to E. B. Hicks, Twin Falls, NFO president.

A presentation preview by the Green and White Trucking Co. of a new truck highlighted today's session. NFO members have banded together to buy trucks for the company to transport commodities to different markets. Also this afternoon, potato commodities members and beef growers meeting were held. Dairy and grain commodities members will meet at 7:30 p.m. tonight. Registration for Saturday's session begins at 8 a.m., with the convention session to begin at 9 a.m. Main speakers include Oscar Arstein, Idaho Commissioner of Agriculture, and DeVon Woodland, Idaho National NFO director.

Hailey firm wins announced contract

HAILEY — U. S. Congressman Orval Hansen, R-Idaho, today announced award of a contract in the amount of $2,540 to Tony Russell Construction, Hailey.

The contract is part of the Columbia Basin Project and covers cleaning, deepening and removing of silt and sand for drain rehabilitation.

Low bidder on roadway

BOISE (UPI) — Quinn-Robbins Co., Inc., Boise, is apparent low bidder for work on .280 of a mile of Second Street South extension and .758 of a mile of Second Street South to the Nampa one-way couplet and .263 of a mile of Seventh Street South in Canyon County.

One of three bidders for the contract, Quinn-Robbins offered to do the work for $619,825.15, the Idaho Highway Department said.

Potato council sets talk by former T.F. resident

BURLEY — Charles E. Gilb, a native of Twin Falls, will be the keynote speaker at the 23rd annual meeting of the National Potato Council at the Ponderosa Inn Wednesday through Friday.

Gilb will lead off at the keynote luncheon Dec. 1 with his provocative remarks entitled, "What Have We Got To Look Forward To?"

Gilb will set the pace for a meeting that carries a theme of: Production: your choice; Marketing: your responsibility; Promotion: Your obligation.

Gilb is president of the Charles E. Gilb Co., Los Angeles. He is a co-founder and full partner of Progressive Produce Co., Los Angeles, one of the nation's largest potato and onion jobbing and packaging operations. Pathfinder Trucking Co., a subsidiary of Progressive Produce, operates a fleet on the West Coast.

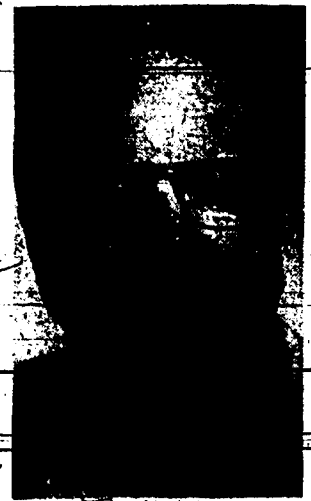

A member of the United

Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association since 1959, he was made membership chairman in 1960, sergeant at arms in 1962, and was elected to the executive board in 1964. Gilb served seven years on United's potato division board and three years as its distinguished chairman.

Gilb is a member of the board of directors of the former Potato Growers Association of California, Associated Produce Dealers and Brokers of Los Angeles, Fresh Produce Council of Southern California, and Produce Marketing Association.

Bert Block, The Godfrey Co., Waukesha, Wis., will follow in the first business session. His remarks will deal with what needs to be done by the potato industry in the field of promotion and public relations. Other speakers will be interspersed throughout the business sessions with each presentation offering a different viewpoint on the overall theme.

Some of the other speakers will include Floyd Hedlund, director, Fruit and Vegetable Division, USDA; Bill Coon, general manager, The Packard-Rand Book, Deane Donald Johnson, Colorado State University; Ray Hancock, SRS, USDA and others.

Minidoka Pink Ladies select new officers

Superintendents plan meeting Monday in TF

RUPERT — New officers elected for the Pink Ladies of Minidoka Memorial Hospital and the Christmas Tea are announced by unit officers. Officers include Mrs. Norma Pflughoeft, president; Mrs. Ruby Workman, president elect; Mrs. Hazel Miller, second vice president; Mrs. Valda Moller, treasurer; Mrs. Norma Youngman, recording secretary; Mrs. Olive Haynes, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Dottie Burton, historian; and Mrs. Pat Slavin, membership chairman for two-year term. Installation will be at a meeting prior to the Christmas Teac which is planned for Dec.

13 at the hospital. The public is invited to the tea from 3 to 5 p.m. and the event will honor the new director of nurses, Mrs. Joyce Georges; Mrs. Cecile Benton, the new anesthetist, and Gary Garrison, a new physical therapist. Mrs. Bonnie Dalley and Mrs. Mary Lu Truxal reported on the meeting with the Pink Ladies of Magic Valley Memorial Hospital concerning the Candy Striper program. Several young girls from Minico High School who are interested in the Candy Striper program were in attendance including Margaret Larimer, Linda Workman, Susan Goodman, Arlette Smith, JoEllyn Taylor, Barbara Spaulding and Elaine Natwick. A film on merits of the Candy Striper was viewed and plans were made to organize a group of for the local hospital. Appointed to a Candy Striper planning committee were Mrs. Joyce Zunino, Mrs. Truxal, Mrs. Dalley and Mrs. Evelyn Honsinger, all Pink Ladies. The women will meet with Mrs. Georges to set up the program. The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Mildred Markland, president. Mrs. James Throckmorton was welcomed as a new member.

WENDELL — Wendell superintendent and Fourth district Superintendent Association president, Lawrence LaRue, announced today that there would be a Fourth District School Administrator's dinner meeting at 7 p.m. on Monday at the Holiday Inn, Twin Falls. He said this will include all principals and superintendents from the Magic Valley. Business will include a discussion on the possibilities of forming a state "umbrella" association of school administrators. This type of organization has worked well in the states of Nebraska and Utah, LaRue said. Administrators need to be together on planning program to improve education in Idaho he said. Speakers from Idaho State University, college of education will discuss the "umbrella" concept. LaRue said other personnel from the State Department of Education will speak about school evaluation and updating of certification requirements for school administrators.

Clothing drive on in Jerome

JEROME — Collection of used clothing for aid to the refugees fleeing the war in East Pakistan has begun by the Jerome United Ministerial Association, Rev. John M. Garrabrandt announced today. Rev. Garrabrandt is chairman of the association's clothing project and said the Jerome organization is joining a state-wide effort to collect clothes for the needy. He asked persons to leave their donations at the United Methodist Church during the day or on the porch of the parsonage, 253 E. Ave. A., during the evening. Clothing should be in boxes suitable for shipping, he said. Rev. Garrabrandt said eight Protestant denominations and the Idaho Catholic Diocese of Boise have joined the project. Collections will be distributed by the Lutheran World Relief, Catholic Relief Services and Church World Services. This year's lightweight clothing, suitable for wear in the tropical zones is being sought.

Volunteers receive awards

afternoon in an awards presentation at the fire department. Fred Higgins, fire marshal, presented the name plaques to area chairmen and block chairmen who assisted in organizing store owners and employees for fire extinguishing demonstrations and other educational phases of the annual fire prevention program. Rudy Ashenbrenner was honored as downtown area chairman, and Jack Muldoon as Lynnwood Area chairman. Block chairmen included Walter Mildon, Edd Bossard, Ozz Nelson, H. W. Zimmerman, Robert Harvey and Robert Ellis. Fire Chief Bobby Bopp expressed appreciation to the volunteers saying about 150 persons attended the demonstrations to become familiar with emergency fire control. He said the campaign this year was an effective one, emphasizing fire prevention and control in the business areas and also a home evacuation program tabbed the "Edith" program.

Bopp said the program plans to promote the campaign with 'Edith is Coming to Twin Falls' were shot down by the arrival of Hurricane Edith on the southeast coast with resulting damage to that area. Hurricane Edith arrived the same week as the Edith, the home evacuation plan program, was being launched in Twin Falls and other cities around the country. As a result, Bopp said, not too many communities wanted to declare "Edith" was arriving in their community. Bopp said many programs were given in the schools and before service and social groups to explain the home evacuation program and to demonstrate proper procedure in the event of a fire. Only about 30 per cent of the business buildings which burn are ever rebuilt, the fire chief said, and as a result fire means loss of jobs and other economic pitfalls to any community.

Vote set

MURTAUGH — An election will be held Dec. 6 to elect a commissioner for sub-district No. 3 of the Murtaugh Highway District. C. LaVere Bennett, secretary, said voting will be from 1 to 7 p.m. at the Murtaugh Highway District office. The term of A. L. Carrier is expiring.

Richfield gets coal

RICHFIELD — A car load of coal has arrived at the Richfield Western Feed and Grain elevator, it is announced by manager Ronald Rails. Richfield's heaviest coal user is the cheese factory and the elevator had hauled coal from Twin Falls and Jerome to meet the need. Some coal was hauled from Buhl for the Richfield school furnace, but no actual shut-downs arose from the coal shortage.

SV team heads for Europe

KETCHUM — Sun Valley will be well represented when the U. S. Girls' Ski Team heads for Europe next week. Susan Corrock and Susie Patterson, both Sun Valley, will be among the eight girls heading for Europe to participate in the famous world cup races. The other six members are Karen Budge, Barbara Cochran, Lindy Cochran, Marilyn Cochran, Cindy Nelson and Sandy Poulsen. The first race in the series is a downhill Dec. 4-5 at St. Moritz, Switzerland. Next they will go to Val d'Isere, France, for a downhill and a giant slalom race Dec. 9-12. The last stop before coming home for Christmas is the Ariberg-Kandahar at Sestriere, Italy, Dec. 12-19. Where they will compete in a downhill and a slalom race. Since the end of October, the girls have been training at Baker and Bend, Ore., with the head women's coach, Hank Tauber and his new assistant women's coach from Boise, Ron Sergeant. From approximately 15 of the best girl ski racers in the United States, these eight were chosen to represent the United States in the European races because of their outstanding performances in recent training and time trials.

Petitions taken out

RICHFIELD — Petitions for two Richfield fire protection district trustees have been circulated with James M. Brown and F. M. Crowther, incumbents, nominated for re-election. The election will be Dec. 6 at the fire department office between noon and 7 p.m. Two trustees will be elected for terms of four years each.

Pay-as-can

BELOIT, Wis. (UPI)—Starting next fall, students entering Beloit College in Wisconsin will pay a tuition fee based on the amount of taxable income appearing on Line 50, Page two, of their parents' federal income tax form 1040 for 1970. Beloit's daring abandonment of the traditional fixed tuition fee for a "pay-what-you-can" policy is aimed at helping the forgotten middle income family that cannot afford to send its young to the same private institutions the parents attended.

Nurse 'capped' Nurse trainees capped at CSI

TWIN FALLS — Eleven practical nurse trainees received a challenge to "do your best" along with their caps during a capping ceremony Tuesday night at the College of Southern Idaho. The annual ritual in which the trainees receive their caps, symbolic of their acceptance into the program, featured addresses by Orval Bradley, director of the CSI vocational school; Mrs. Marilyn Blackburn, assistant professor of nursing, and Mrs. Gigi Lianne Erdoisa, director of the program. The trainees will qualify to take the state examination leading to the Licensed Practical Nurse (LPN) certificate. The LPN program is vocational in nature, given under the vocational school at CSI, as a counterpart to the academic Registered Nurse (RN) program directed by Mrs. Judith Roberts. Mrs. Blackburn, featured speaker during the brief ceremony in Shields Academic Building at CSI, told the audience and trainees that "Nursing is helping service. It also involves supervising and teaching." She cited a typical burn case that might come into a hospital, in which the patient is severely burned. His recovery involves not only helping him medically, through cooperation with physicians, but alleviating his worries over whether he will recover and if he will be disfigured. Mrs. Blackburn traced the growth of nursing education in the United States and Idaho, commending the state planners for maintaining one of the best, most comprehensive nursing programs in the nation. Idaho currently ranks third in the nation for its nursing education, Mrs. Blackburn said. Idaho also has 17 practical nursing training programs in operation, compared to only one for all of Alaska, and scattered programs in many other states. In addition, in 19 years of practical nursing training in Idaho, she said, "we have never had a failure on the state board examinations." Bradley, extending the official "welcome" to the students on behalf of the vocational school, reviewed the nature of the program, which is carried out in cooperation with Magic Valley Memorial Hospital to allow the students on-the-job experience. "You have reached a plateau with your capping," Bradley

Idahoans asked to note "Bible Week"

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Influencing the life of Western civilization. — The Bible remains man's best handbook for life," Hansen said. Hansen said that National Bible Week is celebrated annually during Thanksgiving week to encourage the reading and study of Holy Scripture. "The Bible, in addition to its wealth of literature — history, biography, drama, poetry, sermons and letters — is a priceless treasury of spiritual truth," Hansen said. "From it have come the basic ideas and ideals on which the best of our democratic culture is founded. Every legal system in the world, including our own, has been built upon the foundation of the Ten Commandments." "Not only is it international in appeal, it is timeless in its wisdom. The Bible helps us better understand our fellow men — understanding that is vital if we are to achieve a world of peace and love," the Idaho Congressman said. Hansen said he believes the Bible's spiritual truths offer an abiding hope for the future of men. "Love will conquer hate. Right will triumph over wrong. Truth will prevail over falsehood. Life will be victorious over death and the God of men and nations will survive any and every foe god which men may ever fashion."

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stock prices were sharply higher through mid-session Friday. Turnover was slow, as is usual the day after Thanksgiving.

As of 1 p.m. the Dow Jones Industrial average soared 13.58 points to 812.21. Standard & Poor's 500 stock index gained 0.95 to 81.23. Of 1,477 issues on the tape, there were four times as many advances as declines, 960 to 240.

Volume of 6,850,000 shares, ran about one million under the comparable figure in the previous session.

Analysts had expected diminished turnover with some traders and investors taking a four-day weekend. The advance was described by one analyst as "a technical rally" after the market's depressing appearance in recent sessions.

The electronics popped up with some sizable gainer. IBM jumped more than 5, Motorola and Texas Instruments more than 3 apiece. Electronic Data Systems rose 4%. Among the glamor issues, Xerox picked up 3, Walt Disney 3%, Polaroid 2% and Itak 2%.

Sears, Roebuck added 2%. The company recently posted higher October sales. Dow Chemical, with an announcement of price increases on several industrial products, rose 1%.

General Motors picked up 1, Ford 1%, Chrysler 1/2 and American Motors 1/2. Mid-November auto sales were at a record level.

Steels gained, led by Bethlehem with a pickup of a point. Gainers of a point or more in the chemicals and oils included Eastman Kodak, Superior Oil, Natomas, Atlantic Richfield and California Standard.

Rails, airlines and aircrafts also moved higher. American Telephone gained 1/4.

Cattle industry symposium slated

MOSCOW — Idaho's first symposium on the state's cattle industry, organized by Dr. Auttis Mullins, professor and head of the Department of Animal Industries at the University of Idaho, will highlight the 58th annual Idaho Cattleman's Association convention at Coeur d'Alene Sunday through Tuesday.

Mullins will preside and speak at the symposium, titled "Cattleman and Cattle of the Future," along with five other experts in the fields of livestock production, feeding, marketing and management.

Symposium experts include two University of Idaho College of Agriculture speakers in addition to Mullins.

Dr. Ross E. Christian, professor of animal science, will discuss the role of the animal breeder at the morning symposium session on Monday, following Mullins' introductory speech.

Dr. Richard Schermerhorn, professor and head of the Department of Agricultural Economics, will discuss the role of marketing during the afternoon symposium session on Monday.

Other symposium speakers include O. C. Swackhammer, member of the board of directors of Missouri Beef

Packers, Inc., Rock Port, Mo., who will speak Monday morning on "Beef for the Future;" James E. Oldfield, professor and head of the Department of Animal Sciences, Oregon State University, who will discuss the role of the animal nutritionist Monday afternoon; and Noah England, manager of the Bar M Ranch, Covington, La., who will speak Monday afternoon on "Management Decision to Survive."

In addition, Roy E. Taylor,

University of Idaho extension agricultural engineer, will address the Idaho cattlemen's convention Tuesday morning, on "The Cattleman's Position in Ecology." John M. Trotman, first vice president of the American National Cattlemen's Association, will also speak to the convention Tuesday morning.

President of the Idaho Cattlemen's Association is John A. Pierce, Malta, and convention chairman is Robert Bandy, Priest River.

Louisiana ends rustic outlook

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI)—Louisiana is the latest of the Southern states to shed its rustic political past, rejecting the old banjo-picking, stump-shouting, ruffled seersucker and muddy shoes politicians in favor of men of moderate philosophy and urbane manners.

"The public officials haven't caught up with the feeling of the people," Johnston said early in the campaign. "I think it was the feeling of the people of Louisiana at one time to sort of wink and smile at corruption. I can guarantee that that's not the feeling now."

Johnston was right. Voters went to the polls angry for the Nov. 6 primaries.

Both contenders for governor in the state's Dec. 18 Democratic primary runoff—congressman Edwin Edwards and state Sen. J. Bennett Johnston—have campaigned on pledges to redeem Louisiana from its highly entertaining but often sordid political past.

Edwards and Johnston, running in a field of 17 Democratic candidates in the first primary, defeated such political fixtures as former Gov. Jimmie Davis and former congressman Gillis Long.

They pulled the switch on four-term incumbent Attorney General Jack Gremillion, who was convicted on federal perjury charges earlier this year but campaigned for reelection anyway. Gremillion ran a miserable fourth.

They kicked out the speaker of the house of representatives and either defeated outright or forced into runoffs half the members of the state legislature.

Davis—who wrote the song "You Are My Sunshine," spent much of his first term as governor making movies in Hollywood and once led his horse up the state capitol steps and into the governor's office—campaigning this year in his usual manner, with a hillbilly band and a gospel singing group.

They gave two-term incumbent Superintendent of Education William Dodd such a drubbing he withdrew from the second primary runoff.

In short, the voters just generally cleaned house. The only incumbents re-elected to statewide offices were those with no opposition or only minimal opposition.

Gillis Long, a cousin of the late Sen. Huey P. Long and the late Gov. Earl K. Long, tried to capitalize on the flamboyant Long tradition, especially in rural areas.

The voters rejected Davis and Long in favor of Edwards and Johnston, who both make as big a point of being reserved and businesslike as Huey Long once made of proving to the farmers that he, like them, wore cotton socks with holes in the toes.

Edwards and Johnston succeeded, at least in part, because they understood better than most that times are changing in Louisiana.

Edwards indicated this a year ago when he first announced his candidacy.

"More often than not our state capital has been the bastion of men who were colorful, but crass—of men whose public pronouncements have made the literate wince, the cynical laugh and the sensitive cry," he said.

The past few years' dramatic revelations of public corruption, evidence of Mafia influence in state government and labor racketeering seems to have prompted the big change in voter attitude.

Louisianians have largely blithely assumed a large percentage of their public officials were corrupt. One historian has said the average Louisiana voter would be offended if someone accused his favorite candidate of honesty, because he wouldn't want to be thought of as backing a "damned fool."

Bennett Johnston, given only a slight chance of winning when he first announced for governor, sensed that this attitude had changed.

It's been a rough day for incumbents," Edwin Edwards said when the returns came in.

So now Louisiana, almost in a single bound, moves toward what has come to be called the "New South."

And the state's next governor will have the look of such moderate Southern executives as Dale Bumpers of Arkansas; Bill Waller of Mississippi and Jim Carter of Georgia.

Flight symbol

KUALA LUMPUR (UPI)—Malaysia Airline Ltd. (MWL), the new national flag carrier, has chosen for its symbol a kite design shaped after a mythological bird. Flying giant kites is a favorite pastime of rural Malays.

Idaho farm youths win trip to 4-H Congress

TWIN FALLS — Four Magic Valley 4-H students have earned high state honors and expense-paid trips to the 50th National 4-H Congress in Chicago, which begins Sunday, as a reward for their 4-H achievements.

The four winners, each winning the state competition in his or her project category, then going on to the regional competition where they won the trips, include Rory Scanlon, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Scanlon, Gooding; Tom Bishop, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bishop, Gooding; David Ramseyer, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Duane Ramseyer, Filer, and Miss Lark Kyles, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kyles, Twin Falls.

Another Magic Valley

student, Dana Reedy of Fairfield, along with Doris Yasuda of Wilder, will attend the 4-H Congress with the duty of representing Gov. Cecil D. Andrus during a Presidential ceremony in Chicago.

Reedy and Miss Yasuda will present an official state seal on behalf of Gov. Andrus to President Richard M. Nixon during the ceremony.

Scanlon, who won high honors for his tractor-driving skills even though he was too young to drive during the first two years of his project, was given the expense-paid trip by the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. He made up for lost time by running up honors during the past two years in economy runs and skill-driving competitions.

A high school junior, Scanlon plans a career in advertising or commercial art.

Bishop will travel to Chicago as the guest of the Moorman Manufacturing Co. He earned his trip for his swine project, which he started in the fourth grade when he purchased a weaner pig for $4. After winning a purple ribbon at his first county fair and a red ribbon at his first district fair, Bishop was in the swine business.

As soon as he could afford the outlay, he acquired a registered pig, and now has almost a full-time job on his hands raising and showing his growing family of swine.

Bishop, also a high school junior, plans a career in veterinary science—a field in which he has a strong head start.

Ramseyer, with seven years of 4-H experience to his credit, also plans a veterinary medicine career. His area is beef raising, and since 1968 he has been winning blue ribbons at county fairs and grand-champion honors at the district level. For his project he raised steers, feeling that "raising meat animals is a mighty complicated and scientific profession."

Ramseyer has been awarded a $50 savings bond for his project in veterinary science by the Upjohn Company. He has also earned honors for work in forestry, entomology and leadership.

Although Miss Kyles won her Chicago trip from the International Harvester Co., for her agricultural project, she is a most versatile young woman.

In addition to her eight years working on her beef project, she found time to study music and model her own clothes at 4-H style shows.

She used the money raised by her beef projects to finance the growth of her stock.

She has visited Germany as a participant in the Youth for Understanding Program, and is currently in her freshman year at the College of Southern Idaho, studying agriculture and foreign languages.

The 4-H awards programs are arranged by the National 4-H Service Committee. About 30 young Idahoans will attend the Chicago 4-H Congress as a reward for their devotion to the field of agriculture, joining nearly 1,600 young men and women from throughout the nation.

Feedlot rations outlined

BURLEY — Cattle feeders from Twin Falls, Burley, Rupert and Blackfoot viewed an educational film and heard the latest information on feeding heifers in the feedlots.

The meeting was sponsored by Western Stockman Supply, Caldwell, and was under the direction of Rod Nicklos, Kimberly, sales representative for the Magic Valley area.

Others assisting with the program were Lyle Buhler, Caldwell, and Dr. Nick Mathis, Kalamazoo, Mich.

"MGA is one of the most rapidly accepted feed additives for heifer feeders" according to Nicklos. Heifers fed MGA have averaged 6.5 per cent improvement in feed conversion compared to "no drug"; improvements in daily gain up to an average of 11.2 percent more than heifers receiving no drugs mean further savings on yardage and interest.

"Heifers on MGA have shown net profits up to $3 to $7 more per head than any other feed additive through improvements in both feed efficiency and gain," reported Buhler. "Benefits of MGA in gain and feed efficiency are due primarily to the cattle being kept out of heat," Buhler added.

From the standpoint of carcass quality, grade, dressing percent, cutability, marbling scores, rib eye area, incidence of dark cutters, and percent of lean to fat, data on thousands of heifers indicate no difference exists between heifers fed MGA and those not receiving the MGA according to the officials.

The 4-H awards programs are arranged by the National 4-H Service Committee. About 30 young Idahoans will attend the Chicago 4-H Congress as a reward for their devotion to the field of agriculture, joining nearly 1,600 young men and women from throughout the nation.

SHOSHONE — The Shoshone Grazing District Advisory Board will meet at 10 a.m. Dec. 13 and 14 at the Bureau of Land Management offices in Shoshone, according to Edward D. Savaria, acting district manager.

As a result of unseasonably snowy, wet weather in the Eastern area of the state harvesting of the potato and sugar beet crop was subject to delays. Despite the delays, nearly 95 per cent of the potato crop and half of the sugar beet crop had been harvested by the month's end.

Many construction projects were also forced to shut down as winter conditions limited work to indoor projects.

Soil lab results in mail

MOSCOW — The University of Idaho Soil Testing Laboratory now sends results of soil tests directly to the farmers involved, with copies going to county agents, to expedite utilization of the results.

In addition, fertilizer guide sheets are furnished with the soil test results, to guide the grower in determining the proper fertilization for a particular crop.

The fertilizer guides have been developed after three years of research, correlating plant yields with soil tests, according to Frank Parks, director of the Soil Testing Laboratory.

Guide sheets have been prepared for potatoes grown in the Treasure Valley of Southwestern Idaho, the Magic Valley and Eastern Idaho. Guides for other crops grown under irrigation, including winter and spring wheat, alfalfa, barley, field corn, onions and dry peas will be provided by the laboratory on request.

Other crops which have been tested for the guides include irrigated pastures, Northern Idaho peas, lentils, barley and wheat, and beans, sweet corn seed, sweet corn for processing, sugar beets, mirt and hops.

WINTER ACTIVITIES of the South Idaho Swine Producers Association are discussed by Justin Mills, president, left, and outgoing president Bill Loughmiller. Mills was elected during a district meeting in Twin Falls Wednesday along with two other officers and three directors.

The group nominated Clair Daniels, Gooding, as a candidate for Idaho All American Pork Producer. Bill Loughmiller was named winner of this title last year.

Members said 4-H and FFA judging will be featured during the carcass show with special recognition for the top judges.

On Dec. 2 and 3, South Idaho Swine Producers will meet in Grangeville with producers from other parts of Idaho for the annual meeting of the Idaho Swine Producers Assn. Inc.

Important matters to be discussed, Loughmiller said, will include the state wide port promotion program and the financing through a 5 cents per head assessment on all marketed swine.

Other topics discussed Wednesday by the South Idaho group included legislation regulating various phases of swine production.

Barton, Heyburn, vice president; Gale Wrigley, Burley, secretary-treasurer, and directors, Keith Stiegemeier, Buhl; Clark Mills, Twin Falls; Clair Daniels and Dick Graves, both Gooding. Wilford Gebauer, Paul, was named new state delegate, and Clair Daniels, alternate.

Members discussed plans for the Feb. 15, 16 and 17 meeting, carcass show and sale of registered swine.

Richard K. Baum, Portland, executive vice president of Western Wheat Associates, will discuss the West Coast dock strike and its effect on grain growers.

Jerry Rees, Washington, D. C., executive vice president of the NAWG, will assist Moos in his presentation.

Alfred Eiguren, administrative director of the Idaho Air Pollution Control Commission, will discuss pollution problems facing agriculture.

The convention is scheduled next Thursday through Saturday at the Rodeway Inn in Boise.

assistant stewards; Burl Akins, gatekeeper; Mrs. Ray Hubsmith, Ceres; Mrs. Rupert Goicoechea, Pomona; Mrs. Frances Friestad, Florin, and Glenn Ross and Marvin Webb, executive committeemen.

Dues were raised from $4 per year to $6 due to a rise in the state Grange dues. Ed Harper, Twin Falls, will serve as district Grange fire insurance agent.

Mrs. Alexander presented a program of reading by Mrs. H. A. Ross Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ross and Mrs. Tom Owens.

Others installed included Eugene Alexander, overseer; Mrs. Burl Akins, secretary; Mrs. Glen Ross, treasurer; Mrs. Agnes Powell, chaplain; Rupert Goicoechea, steward; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hubsmith, celerated pace.

The favorable weather also allowed area construction work to continue at the previous month's level, especially on interstate and highway construction. Construction is continuing on schedule on the new Tupperware Plant, south of Jerome, with the concrete footings being poured on the site. Work will continue through the winter with lights set for completion by May, 1972. At full operation, the plant will operate around the clock with a total of 450 employees and $25 million in sales per year.

When the beet harvest got under way, the Amalgamated Sugar Co., opened its dumps Oct. 7, and began receiving the first returns on the 37,000 acres of beets in the Mini-Cassia area. Nearly 300 workers reported for work when the plant opened in Twin Falls.

Elsewhere throughout the state during October, rain and snow hampered most outdoor work in the panhandle area, although employment slowed only slightly. The lumber market remained healthy and the demand for woods workers was high. This was also true in the Northcentral area, despite rains which temporarily kept loggers out of cutting areas during the latter part of the month.

The agricultural industry also dominated the employment scene in the Southwestern area of the state as the harvesting of major cash crops peaked during the month. With both potato and sugar beet harvesting reaching peak levels, the demand for equipment operators and truck drivers increased agricultural

Check plans

Mills to head swine producers

TWIN FALLS — Election of new officers and plans for a district meeting, sale and carcass judging contest highlighted the Wednesday meeting of the South Idaho Swine Producers Assn. in Twin Falls.

Bill Loughmiller, Hollister, president, conducted the meeting, turning the gavel over to Justin Mills, Twin Falls, following the election. Other new officers include Lyle

Gem wheat meet slated

BOISE — Three national wheat industry leaders and the director of the Idaho Air Pollution Control Commission will address the Idaho State Wheat Growers convention in Boise next week.

Eugene Moos, Edwall, Wash., president of the National Association of Wheat Growers, will report on association activities. He has also participated in the International Wheat Arrangement sessions at Geneva, Switzerland, and spoke at the French Wheat Congress in Grenoble. He is a graduate of Washington State University, and is a past president of Western Wheat Associates.

Richfield Grange elects officers

RICHFIELD — Mrs. Eugene Alexander was elected lecturer of the Richfield Grange, succeeding Mrs. Edna Bell, at a special meeting of the Grange on Tuesday.

Mrs. Bell, former Grange lecturer, resigned her post.

Others installed included Eugene Alexander, overseer; Mrs. Burl Akins, secretary; Mrs. Glen Ross, treasurer; Mrs. Agnes Powell, chaplain; Rupert Goicoechea, steward; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hubsmith,

Farm employment increases

BOISE — Agricultural employment in south central Idaho increased substantially during the month of October, while the sugar beet and potato harvest dominated labor market activity, according to the November Idaho Manpower Review.

Good weather conditions speeded the harvest with fewer delays than normal experienced. With the harvest moving at good levels, processors of the crop increased employment. Major plants across the area began hiring seasonal workers at an ac-

Gem board OK's land negotiations

BOISE (UPI) — The State Land Board gave the go-ahead Wednesday for negotiations with the federal government over about 12,000 acres of land the state wants in the Island Park Reservoir and Henry's Lake areas.

The land involved is part of the 37,000 acres owed to Idaho by the federal government. Earlier this year a legislative committee headed by Lt. Gov. Jack Murphy was named to recommend sites for selections. Murphy cautioned the land board the 12,000 acres in eastern Idaho is not land which the federal government has said is available. He said the first part of the negotiations will include a look at some of the legal problems involved.

Murphy told the Land Board the land in question is now owned by the Bureau of Land Management and is considered very valuable.

He said the lieue land committee's prime object was the "highest and best use" of land to be picked, followed by a desire to block up areas of state land to make more manageable units.

The land in eastern Idaho picked by the legislative committee and approved by the Land Board subcommittee, Murphy said, is "high and very valuable ground" which he said would "give the Land Board many options for bringing income to the endowment bonds."

Murphy said all land chosen by the state is subject to the approval of the secretary of interior, but said there is case law indicating the secretary may not "unreasonably" withhold his approval.

Murphy said there may be one problem with the federal government in that the state — while seeking blocks of land — does not want part of the BLM land at Island Park. That land, he said, is underwater and he is taking the position the land is already encumbered and therefore of no use to the state.

Gov. Cecil D. Andrus said, "We've talked for many years about the selection of these lieue lands. It's certainly time we got on it."

Murphy said of the 12,000 acres, 7,000 acres are considered "most desirable" and the other 5,000 acres "not of the same quality but at the same time highly desirable."

He said included in the recommendation is some prime recreation sites, grazing lands and lightly timbered areas.

Recommendation of the eastern Idaho land is the first step in choosing the 37,000 acres. Murphy said the next phase will involve between 12,000 and 16,000 acres of land.

Tax hike to fight pollution

BOISE (UPI) — The Association of Idaho cities plans to ask the legislature for an increase in the cigarette tax to fight water pollution.

AIC officials said they want to see the tax increased by four cents a package to meet the need for $3 million worth of state matching funds for sewer grants.

Executive secretary Ed Simmerman said the cities are offering a means of financing the grants.

"If the legislature likes it fine, if not it puts them on the spot to come up with something else," Simmerman said.

The AIC also wants a constitutional amendment to allow use of highway user funds for public transportation systems and an election law change to bring city registration policies into line with the new state law. Still another proposal calls for a change in the recall law to make provisions relating to cities and counties identical to those relating to state and other officials.

Jubilee scheduled

PROVO (UPI) — The Uinta National Forest Diamond Jubilee celebration has been set for Feb. 22, 1972.

The event will commemorate the founding three-quarters of a century ago of the first forest reserve in Utah. Tentatively scheduled are field trips, various contests, an employee reunion, tree planting and a Founder's Day celebration.

"We want to provide events and activities which will be enjoyable for the people of the state and local communities and at the same time enable them to gain a greater appreciation of their forest," said forest Supervisor Clarence S. Thornock.

Top funding set for departments

BOISE (UPI) — A Health Department spokesman said Wednesday that top funding priority for the upcoming fiscal year will be given to the seven district health departments.

Robert Des Aulniers, assistant to the health administrator, told the health services committee of the Governor's Advisory Council on Health Planning that separate lump sum appropriations will be sought by the state board of health for the districts.

He added that appropriations will be also sought for operation of the state health department.

Legislation enacted in 1970 creating the districts stipulate that the health department would provide 35 per cent of the monies budgeted by each district. Allocations in the districts so far this year have fallen short of this figure.

In other action, committee members formulated three recommendations for consideration by the governor's council regarding operation of

DUNCANNON, Pa. (UPI) — A 32-year-old entrepreneur has proved to be a real life "Santa Claus" for this tiny central Pennsylvania town. ## Money reason for no plans

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine, said Wednesday there was a simple answer to why he hasn't declared himself a presidential candidate yet: money.

He also said there was a simple solution to that problem: the $1 checkoff plan.

Muskie politicking in Wisconsin, said he has been repeatedly asked why he hasn't formally declared his candidacy and "one simple answer is it's a damn costly business."

He told a service club meeting it would cost a candidate $8 million to $12 million to run in all of the primaries next year and "nothing like this kind of money has ever been raised before in like circumstances. I don't know if it can be."

"We must find a way to insure that all significant points of view are made available to the people of this country," he said. Muskie said it has been conservatively estimated that as much as $45 million would be given to the political parties if the checkoff measure wins approval.

Exemption asked on tax

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Canada's Consul General for the western U. S. says his country should be exempted from the 10 per cent surtax on foreign imports.

"It is Canada's view that because of the size and depth of Canada-U.S. trade, approximately $20 billion a year, the U. S. measure would hurt Canada more than any other country," said Consul General Jim S. Nutt.

Protection asked for river area

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, has asked that a 13-mile stretch of the Colorado River in Utah's Grand County be protected under the Wild and Scenic Rivers Act.

The section of the river Moss wants set aside, which begins six miles west of the Colorado border and flows west and south through Utah, is a narrow canyon of hard black granite rock topped by 1,000-foot-high red, orange and yellow Navajo sandstone cliffs.

"I have run these rapids myself and I assure you it is an exhilarating experience in this remote, primitive and completely unspoiled area," Moss said.

He said the best way to preserve the river's beauty is to keep it "in its free-flowing condition, and its environment in its natural state, so that generations to come may enjoy them."

would drop doubleton. South looked over dummy and fessed his jack. West took his queen and led a second heart. South ruffed, cashed a second high trump, led a diamond to his king, ruffed his last diamond and claimed the slam.

He won the heart, cashed one of his high spades and dummy's ace-king of clubs to get rid of his losing heart. Then he led a low diamond and fessed his jack. West took his queen and led a second heart. South ruffed, cashed a second high trump, led a diamond to his king, ruffed his last diamond and claimed the slam.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

North's four-club call shows an expert gadget at work: South's jump to three spades was a game force. North's four-club bid showed the ace of clubs and suggested slam. North had the cards to warrant it—18 points in aces and kings.

South's four-diamond call was a trifle optimistic, but South liked his distribution. He signed off at four spades after North cuebid in hearts but North simply went to the spade slam.

The slam was a good one since it would be a cinch if East held the queen of diamonds; if diamonds broke 3-3; if trumps broke 2-2; or if the queen of diamonds

Storm blurs Mars

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—Scientists once suspected the "wave of darkening" that sweeps across Mars at regular intervals was the seasonal blooming of vegetation.

Now a Mariner 9 scientist reports the phenomenon may be caused by dust storms of the kind that is now dying down on the red planet.

The dust storm, which has hampered photography of the planet's surface by Mariner 9, may be the explanation, said astronomer Bradford Smith of New Mexico State University.

Scientists have watched the ebb and flow of dark waves on Mars for 75 years, and some explained it as hardy plant life, blooming and dying as the Martian seasons changed.

But Mariner 9, orbiting the planet and relaying television pictures to the Jet Propulsion Laboratory here, found an enormous dust storm in progress, with powder-fine particles whirled across virtually the whole planet by winds estimated by some scientists at more than 200 miles per hour.

"The dust storm may confirm just how such a wave can be swept over the face of the planet with a kind of scouring action by dust," Smith said. "I don't think any scientific student of Mars has seriously believed in the vegetation theory for several years now."

Card of Thanks

WE WOULD like to thank all our friends, relatives, and church members for their kind expressions of sympathy, with flowers, food, and calls sent in time of the loss of our father and husband. Especially, Reverend Darby E. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Truman Clark, Mr. and Mrs. James Clark and Family, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Tversy and Family, Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Clark and Family, Mr. and Mrs. Roderic Smith and Family, Cheryl Cox.

Personal

WE WISH to extend our heartfelt thanks to all of our friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted and for the words of sympathy and beautiful floral offerings extended at the death of our beloved wife and mother.

Poor rate high

WASHINGTON (UPI) — One of every four Americans over 65 lives in poverty, and the trend will accelerate because firms are "easing" older workers out before they are old enough to collect pensions; the Senate Committee on Aging said Thursday.

In a special report, the committee said the number of elderly Americans living in poverty is 4.7 million — an increase of 100,000 since 1968.

"In 1971, the likelihood of being impoverished is more than twice as great for older Americans as it is for younger Americans," the report said. "One out of every four persons 65 and older — in contrast to one in nine for younger individuals — lives in poverty." The increase reversed the trend of the 10 years between 1959 and 1968, when the number of impoverished elderly Americans decreased from 6 million to 4.6 million, the report said.

It called attention to the "no-man's land" of "Being too young to retire, but too old to hire" which, it said, more and more older workers find themselves in.

Between January, 1969, and last September, it said, unemployment for those 45 or older increased by 77 per cent and one of every five jobless worker is over 45.

More workers are drawing Social Security benefits before reaching age 65, even though benefits are reduced for those who retire early. Nearly 85 per cent of all persons who were awarded benefits in the last half of 1969 were not 65.

Idahoan comments on Nixon's conduct at AFL-CIO meeting

BOISE (UPI) — An Idahoan who attended the recent AFL-CIO convention at Miami Beach says the delegates did not show disrespect to President Nixon when he addressed them.

Robert MacFarlane of Boise, president of the Idaho AFL-CIO, said "there were no jeerboos or catcalls."

"He was brought in with a guard of honor and seated in the customary seat where President Johnson and the late President Kennedy also sat," MacFarlane said. "Everyone stood when the President was introduced."

"He was applauded, although lightly, several times, and the only time there was laughter was when he remarked that prices had gone down and if the delegates did not believe it to ask their wives when they got home."

MacFarlane said Nixon was

"extremely nervous when he spoke." He said when the president left the podium "he did not wait for the guard of honor — just took off."

MacFarlane also contended Nixon did not go to Miami Beach to speak to the delegates. "He obviously spoke to the American public," he said.

Soldiers give thanks in rain-soaked Vietnam

FIRE BASE LINDA, Vietnam (UPI) — On this rain-soaked and isolated mountaintop, the officers served the men Thanksgiving dinner Thursday under a canopy of rain clouds.

A colonel, a major and several captains ladled out hot turkey and pumpkin pie in one of the most unusual observances of the holiday among the approximately 184,000 U.S. troops still in Vietnam.

But the GIs at this artillery base located a 10-minute helicopter ride west of Da Nang, longed for their family dinner tables "back in the world." Instead, they took their paper plates atop wet sand bags, bunks and for a few hours were distracted from the war.

"I'm thankful, all right. I'm thankful I'm up here instead of down in the bush and I'm thankful that I'm still alive," Sgt. Jerry Kaube of Nickerson, Neb. said.

"Back home today we'd go out and shoot a pheasant or two, then go home and eat turkey with the family and then we would watch that football game between Nebraska and Oklahoma."

The dinner was only an interlude.

Shortly after digging into the special meal flown in by helicopter, PFC Robert Brawley of New York was dropping shells down the tube of an 81mm mortar. The weapon coughed the shells into a high arc that ended with an explosion down in a valley where a group of Communist soldiers had been sighted.

Dawn had come to the area under a blanket of rain that had hit the mountains and valleys for days, soaking the red dirt to the consistency of the surrounding rice paddies.

The rain stopped about noon and the men shucked their ponchos and rain gear. They had been given the day free of extra chores and projects and devoted their time to playing cards, throwing softball and talking.

Lt. Col. Clyde J. Tate of Fort Rucker, Md., looked around the sandbagged position just before calling his officers to the serving line.

"Thanksgiving is a special day to each individual, but to many guys in a place like this Thanksgiving is just another day," he said.

"You don't notice the days," Spec. 4 Aaron Taylor of Obern, N.D. said. "The Army does this special stuff to make you notice it. They've got special arrangements for the lifters, but we're just happy we're eating."

Utah OK's treatment of waste

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — The Utah Water Pollution Committee Wednesday approved a waste water treatment plant proposed by Kennecott Copper Corp. for its smelter on the shore of the Great Salt Lake.

Lynn Thatcher, assistant state director of health, said polluted water is currently discharged into the lake "but the company is anxious to construct a plant."

The committee, acting on the principle that "the Water Pollution Committee resists the fragmented construction of sewage treatment facilities," Thatcher said, also turned down developer requests for permits to construct sewage lagoons for subdivisions near Mapilla, American Fork and Highland.

Thieves get $630 in Spokane

SPOKANE (UPI) — Robbers made off with an estimated $630 Wednesday night in three holdups and a till tapping incident in the Spokane area.

The robberies brought the total of holdups here since mid-August to above the 40 mark.

Held up were Carl's American Service Station and Bozarth's Texaco Station on the city's north side and an Economy Station just east of the city.

The cash register of the Western Union office in the downtown area was tapped for $280 while a clerk was answering a telephone in the rear of the building. Descriptions of the men involved did not match.

Students demonstrate

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Students from the Bella Vista Elementary School, complete with hand-drawn picket signs, visited department store executives and the Salt Lake Chamber of Commerce offices Wednesday to protest the early arrival of the Christmas commercial season.

"Ho, ho, I come too soon," said one painted Santa Claus.

The students were told the appropriate boards of directors would take their protests under consideration.
