India seeks quick victory as forces sweep E. Pakistan

Pakistan rebels display weaponry

By United Press International
India recognized the Bangla Desh rebel government of East Pakistan today and reported its troops, with almost total air supremacy, were moving rapidly through East Pakistan in hopes of a quick victory.

India reported major victories in southern Kashmir where it said a Pakistani tank force was defeated with destruction of 23 Pakistani tanks and said its air force struck the harbor at Karachi again today and found the waterfront in flames.

Pakistan Radio reported it had captured up to 20 Indian border posts and carried out widespread air attacks against Indian military positions and air fields and reported victories in the Poonch sector of western Kashmir.

Most of the victory claims came from India, especially in East Pakistan where it reported new bombings of Pakistani ports and said East League in East Pakistan had won a majority in the Pakistani Parliament in elections late last year but Yahya Khan prevented the league from taking its seats.

There was rebellion, civil war and the flight of 10 million refugees into India. India called the flight of the refugees a threat to Indian security and gave moral support to the Bangla Desh.

Today Mrs. Gandhi told Parliament: "Now that Pakistan is waging war on us, the hesitation which the government was feeling in according recognition to the Bangla Desh government has lost significance."

She did not break relations with the military government in Rawalpindi but Pakistan immediately broke off diplomatic relations with India. Although they had been fighting a major war neither had severed diplomatic relations.

Maj. Gen. J. F. R. Jacob, chief of staff of the Indian Eastern command which includes East Pakistan told newsmen in Calcutta today his forces were moving very rapidly through East Pakistan and that the air force had gained almost total supremacy.

India has covertly supported the rebel movement since the Pakistani civil war last March when the West Pakistan government with headquarters 1,000 miles away across Indian territory, sent troops into East Pakistan to suppress the followers of the rebels' Awami League political party, which declared East Pakistan independent last March 25.

Some 10 million East Pakistanis fled to India after the start of the civil war, straining India's resources.

Two rebel government figures — acting President Syed Nazrul Islam and Prime Minister Tajuddin Ahmed — flew to New Delhi during the weekend for talks with Indian officials about recognition.

Indian military spokesmen said the main East Pakistan port of Chittagong was in flames and was cut off from reinforcements on the north. The second largest port, Chalna, was attacked by Indian planes later.

Foreign ships were warned to stay out of East Pakistan ports or face the danger of Indian attacks.

The U. S. State Department said Indian planes bombed and strafed one U. S. Merchant ship — the Buckeye State — off Chittagong and intercepted a second ship — The Esplanade — which was escorted toward the port of Madras. The United States lodged a formal protest over the incidents.

Indian spokesmen said about 6,000 Pakistani troops supported by about 45 tanks attacked Indian positions at Dovamandala

Russian veto

US tries move past Russ veto

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The United States led a move today to take the India-Pakistan crisis to the General Assembly and out of the Security Council where two Soviet vetoes have paralyzed efforts to demand a cease-fire.

A number of nations have called for an immediate cease-fire and mutual troop pullback. The latest appeal came today from the government of Sudan which warned that the fighting between India and Pakistan will have harmful effects on world peace.

The Soviet Union Sunday vetoed for the second time the Security Council resolution calling for an immediate cease-fire in the Indo-Pakistan war.

The 15-nation council scheduled another session on the Indo-Pakistan crisis today to come within hours after the full 151-member General Assembly begins a new round of debate in another theater of conflict — The Middle East. Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban scheduled a major address to the assembly today in reply to Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Rissad's demand Friday for sanctions against Israel on grounds it refused to implement a Nov. 12, 1967 council resolution directing Israel to withdraw its forces from occupied Arab territory.

Steadfast in Moscow's support of India, Soviet Ambassador Yakov A. Malik used the Russian veto for the 10th time in the council to strike down a cease-fire and mutual troop withdrawal resolution offered by eight small nations, all of them nonpermanent council members except Poland and Syria.

It was the second Soviet veto of a cease-fire resolution in 24 hours and came in the face of severe criticism of the Russian position by China and the United States. The veto ended without consensus Sunday's five-hour debate of the India-Pakistan conflict.

Minutes earlier, Chinese Ambassador Huang Hua cast the sole vote against a Soviet resolution seeking a political settlement in East Pakistan which would inevitably result in a cessation of hostilities. The Soviet and Poland voted for it and the 12 other council members, including the United States, abstained.

Pakistan was now isolated from resupply by West Pakistan. The capital city of Dacca has been cut off from its supply routes, India reported.

Two waves of Indian planes carried out low level bombing and strafing attacks of Dacca's international airport today, imperiling but not hurting a group of 10 British women and children who had just arrived there for evacuation aboard a United Nations mercy flight.

Another group of 250 American and other refugees in the Inter-Continental Hotel in Dacca took refuge in the hotel corridors and were not hurt. The U.N. had asked for a two-hour cease-fire to permit two chartered U.N. planes to fly in from Bangkok.

India's decision to recognize the rebel Bangla Desh government was announced in Parliament in New Delhi. Members began cheering and thumping their desks even before Prime Minister Indira Gandhi finished her announcement.

The India-Pakistan war stems from the decision of Pakistani President Agha Mohamud Yahya Khan last March to bring in West Pakistani troops to put down a rebellion by the Bangla Desh movement which declared itself independent of West Pakistan. The Awami

S. Koreans declare war 'emergency'

SEOUL (KPI) — President Park Chung-hee declared a state of emergency today because of what he termed a grave threat from North Korea and the admission of China to the United Nations. He told South Koreans the price of defending freedom may include forsaking "some of the freedoms we now enjoy."

Park said the North Korean Communists have turned the whole of North Korea into a huge garrison with considerable fortifications. He said there are 1.4 million militia and 700,000 Red Youth guards supporting 500,000 regular army troops.

The state of emergency falls just short of martial law but the government declined to say exactly what restrictions the people will face. It did say it will not tolerate social unrest which endangers national security. Government sources said the state of emergency would remain "as long as tension mounts in Korea."

"We must be aware of the fact that the local tension in the Korean peninsula is constantly mounting," Park said. He said China had recently supported the North Korean demand for dissolution of U.N. forces and other U.N. agencies in Korea and he said it portended danger for South Korean security.

"Japan, our neighboring country, has embarked in more frequent contact with both Communist China and North Korea," Park said. "Only we, the Koreans who have the personal experience, can tell how terrible the Asian Communist menace is."

Latin OK'd for treasury post

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate today confirmed Mrs. Roman Acosta Bantuelos to the largely ceremonial role of U.S. Treasurer.

Her nomination was approved by voice vote without debate or discussion after being opposed by the AFL-CIO because illegal Mexican aliens had been found to be working in her Mexican food factory in Southern California.

Employer gets NLRB voice

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court ruled unanimously today that employers are entitled to a voice in National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) hearings in jurisdictional disputes between unions.

Such an interpretation of the law had been nullified by the U.S. Appeals Court in a dispute between two construction workers unions over which would apply cement in a job on the University of Houston Library.

The appeals court decision was reversed in a 7-0 decision with Justice Byron R. White writing the opinion.

Russia warns China against involvement

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union said Sunday it will stay out of the India-Pakistan conflict and warned China to do likewise. It further warned Pakistan the fighting near the Russian border threatens Soviet security.

"The Soviet government believes that the governments of all countries should refrain from steps signifying in this or that way their involvement in the conflict and leading to a further aggravation of the situation on the Hindustan peninsula," a Tass statement said.

It urged "the speediest ending" of fighting and a political settlement in East Pakistan.

The Soviet Union sides with India in the current crisis. The statement blamed Pakistan for escalating the crisis and said the fighting might threaten Soviet security.

The Soviet Union cannot remain indifferent to the developments, considering also the circumstances that they are taking place in direct proximity to the U.S.S.R.'s borders and therefore, involve the interests of its security," the statement said.

"The Soviet government finds it necessary to speak to the Pakistan leaders with all clarity about the grave responsibility that they assume following this dangerous course."

The statement said "in the face of the military threat now overhanging Hindustan, the Soviet Union comes out for the speediest ending of the bloodshed and for a political settlement in East Pakistan on the basis of respect for the lawful rights and interests of its people."

Solons want kindergartens

(Editor's note: This is the first of several dispatches outlining problems confronting the forthcoming session of the 41st Idaho Legislature. Today — kindergartens.)

By RICHARD CHARNOCK
BOISE (UPI) — An overwhelming number of Idaho legislators appear to favor public school kindergartens even if it takes state money to run and staff them.

By a ratio of three to one, those answering a UPI questionnaire said they believe the state should continue the program started in some districts this year with federal funds.

About half of them said they feel the classes should be financed by the state while a few said they felt local districts should pick up the tab and a couple said both should share the costs.

Rep. Rudy Andersen, R-Boise, took even a different tack. He said the state and federal governments should fund the preschool classes. Among those favoring kindergartens are some who feel Idaho is now boxed in to a point where it must keep them open. Rep. Larry Jackson, R-Boise, summed it up in one terse sentence when he commented that "Uncle Sam will leave us holding the bag."

While most legislators, for one reason or another, seem to believe Idaho should have public kindergartens there are some notable dissenters.

"I prefer — many people in my area — private kindergartens as now exist," said Rep. Wayne Tibbitts, D-Loreno.

"What's the matter with people?" asked Rep. E.V. McHan, R-Ketchum. "We have not funded elementary schools yet."

Rep. John Reardon, R-Boise, thinks the emphasis is misplaced. He said that "our problems, immediate, are with teenagers not infants." Some of those who want the public kindergartens think they should be a local responsibility and should be initiated at that level. Rep. Edward Rice, R-Boise, said they should be started there and "when they have become established to the satisfaction of the local people and proved themselves they would ultimately become part of the state system and funded accordingly."

Still another viewpoint was expressed by Rep. Max Kendall, R-Aberdeen.

"If federal money is available, yes," Kendall replied. "Until the state has funds available, no."

Gov. Cecil D. Andrus told the Idaho Education Association over the weekend he will ask the legislature to fund kindergartens and the public schools in the same bill.

Rep. William Onweller, R-Boise, indicated he may be the troglodyte with this idea. He said kindergartens should be part of the "public education budget."

Cambodia fight nearing capital

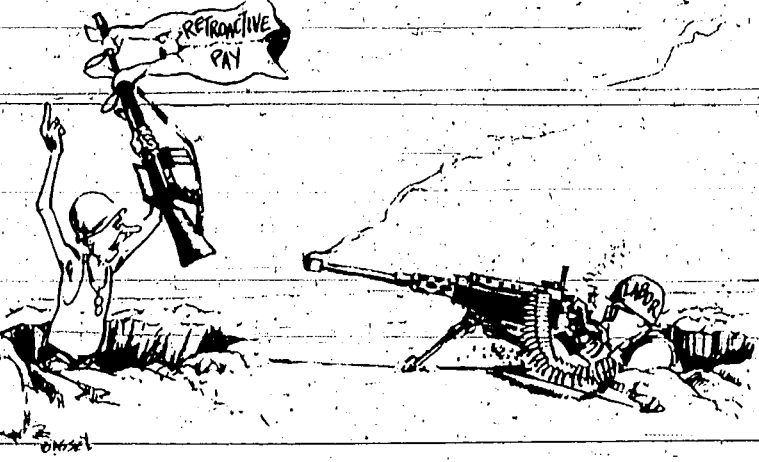

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — U.S. helicopter gunships and planes were called in to help government troops battling Communist units 15 to 18 miles north of the capital, where Cambodians suffered heavy losses in three days of fighting, the Cambodian high command said today.

The helicopters, A-1H and Phantom jet-bombers were called in to support Cambodian troops trying to halt a Communist attempt to take Banteas Meanchey, 15 miles north of the capital, and stride a strategic infiltration route into the north.

"North Vietnamese" troops killed three Cambodians and wounded seven in close fighting, the high command said. But three miles north in the Banteas Meanchey area, a Communist force of a battalion of government troops had been lost in fighting after Communists overran the Cambodians in hand-to-hand combat.

Field reports said many Cambodian troops and civilians were wounded and killed when the North Vietnamese overran the area. The heavy fighting killed three Cambodians and

Open Berlin Wall

BERLIN (UPI)—East Germany offered Sunday to open the Berlin Wall for year-end family reunions in a "goodwill gesture" evidently intended to put pressure on the government of West Berlin.

It is clear the Christmas offer published in the East German press, was intended to get the 500,000 West Berliners with relatives in the East to put pressure on the West Berlin city government.

Berliners should have the same right as West Germans, who may visit East Berlin every day if they wish.

Boisean suffers injuries

TWIN FALLS — Erma Ida Boepple, 48, Boise, is listed in good condition at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital today with injuries suffered in a traffic accident Sunday on Highway 74 three miles southwest of Twin Falls.

Officers said Mrs. Boepple was driving a 1964 pickup truck going west on Highway 74 and was preparing to turn left. She told officers she had the turn signal working.

A semi-truck and trailer driven by Larry James Smith, 42, Oakland, Calif., was getting the Christmas spirit traveling behind her in the same direction. He told county officers the pickup's right turn signal was flashing, and he prepared to pass the woman on the left when he realized she outside lights were taken from was turning in that direction.

Minor injuries

TWIN FALLS — Ester Wolff, 53, Paul, suffered minor injuries late Sunday afternoon in a two car accident at the intersection of Shoahone Street and 11th Avenue East.

City officers said Mrs. Wolff was passenger in the vehicle driven by Luanna J. Wolff, 21, Paul. The vehicle was traveling northeast on Shoahone Street when another vehicle driven by LaDonna Butler, 43, Twin Falls, turned left from 11th Avenue East and collided with the Paul auto.

GOP farm state campaign will do well, Butz says

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Despite the massive Democratic assault on him and on the administration's farm policy record over the past three weeks, new Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz says the GOP will do "very well" in 1972 farm state campaigns.

Butz, describing himself as an aggressive activist, was sworn into office last Thursday after a bruising battle in which he won a slim 8-6 approval by the Senate's Agriculture Committee and a 51-44 confirmation vote on the Senate floor.

Less than 24 hours later, following repeated pledges during the confirmation fight to do something about low corn prices, Butz ordered an open-end program of government corn purchases to strengthen open-market prices.

shortly after issuing the corn order that the confirmation fight had been a "political vote."

"This was the opening salvo of the 1972 campaign in mid-America ... we might as well recognize it for what it is," he said.

Butz conceded the GOP had suffered some political scars from the wave of attacks picturing him as an ally of giant agribusiness corporations with scant sympathy for the family farmer — an attitude he holly denies.

among grain farmers with his repeated statement that on the heels of a record 1971 crop, "the price of corn is too low."

Nixon, Trudeau to meet

News in brief

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon's meeting with Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau today was likely to be centered more on the two nations' common problems than on the world affairs which will dominate Nixon's four other summit meetings in the coming weeks.

Trudeau was scheduled to arrive at the White House at 4 p.m. EST for about two hours of talks with Nixon. He will fly back to Canada Tuesday after a dinner tonight and a press conference in the morning.

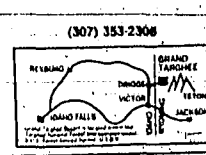

Most of Nixon's meetings with the heads of allied nations between now and Jan. 8 were designed to solicit advice and offer explanations for his forthcoming trips to China and the Soviet Union, but the Trudeau meeting, which the Canadian leader requested, was expected to be slightly different.

While superpower relations were undoubtedly on the agenda, more time was expected to be allotted to the economic problems which have cropped up between the two North American neighbors.

Trudeau was expected to lodge another protest against the 10 per cent surcharge on imports which Nixon levied Aug. 15 when he imposed his various other controls on the U.S. economy. The Canadians feel the surtax has hindered unnecessarily the long-standing and generally free flow of trade between the two countries.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (UPI) — The Robert Wood Johnson foundation, established in 1938 by the former chairman of Johnson & Johnson medical products firm, has become nation's second largest foundation with assets of more than $1 billion, it was revealed Sunday.

BERLIN (UPI) — Police used tear gas tonight to break up a demonstration by about 100 rioters protesting the shooting death of a member of an anarchist criminal band.

The demonstrators carried a red flag and a wreath with thorn when they blocked a crossroads on the Kurfuerstendamm, West Berlin's main boulevard. The demonstration was against the death of 24-year old Georg Von Rauch, son of a professor and long sought by police as a member of the notorious Baader-Meinhof group of anarchist bandits.

Von Rauch was killed Saturday in a gun duel with police. A policeman was seriously wounded in the battle.

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — A string of highway accidents involving three buses and 11 vehicles near here Sunday left five persons dead and 49 injured, highway police said.

Carlos Nicolas Cuesta of the Mexican Highway Police said the accident occurred when a passenger bus traveling between here and Cuernavaca, approximately 45 miles south of here, crunched into a highway divider strip and turned over. Seconds later a school bus carrying children on a Sunday excursion jumped the divider while trying to avoid the first bus and crashed into a bus from the University of Chihuahua going the opposite direction, police said.

ANOTHER 'OPERATION SKYJACK'?

ART BUCHWALD

About Solace

WASHINGTON — In spite of all he has to do, President Nixon still takes time out of his busy day to telephone football coaches and offer them encouragement and advice.

While the President does this on the spur of the moment, it has never occurred to any football coach to telephone Mr. Nixon and offer HIM words of inspiration and solace.

I imagine if a coach did, the call would go something like this: "Hello, Mr. President, this is Coach Harold Elkins of the John V. Lindsay High School football team. I just wanted to call you and tell you to keep you chin up and don't get discouraged because you've lost a few lately."

"Thank you, Coach." "The most important thing to remember is that when you're on the five-yard line and you're fumbling, the other guy still has to recover the ball."

"I never thought of that, Coach." "Mr. President, my team has lost 39 out of its last 40 games, but I learned one thing. Never give up. You have to say to yourself, 'I may be losing the battle for inflation or the economy; or the fight with labor or with Congress, or whatever you're losing at the moment, but I'm going to stick in there and give as good as I get, because I'm a pro.'"

"Those are inspiring words, Coach." "Now, I want to tell you something Mr. President; that you probably don't know about me. I always wanted to go into politics. But I wasn't light enough to make the team. I played some sandlot politics, and in my freshman year in college, I ran for a couple of offices, and so what I tell you now comes not from the heart, but from experience."

"The game of politics is just like the game of football. You win some and you lose some, and you usually lose more than you win. But what counts is not when you're winning and the crowd is cheering, but when you're losing and you're still willing to play. You have that spirit, Mr. President. You've lost a few, but you've never given up, and I admire that in a politician."

you're going to be in the playoffs in 1972. If Connally can pull off Phase II, and Agnew doesn't get hurt, and the stock market goes up, and you can block George Meany, and if you can score some points against George Wallace, I believe you're going to be very tough to beat."

"Coach, I have to ring off now. "I want to make one thing perfectly clear, Mr. President. You're going to goof between now and '72 — everyone goofs in politics, as in football, but the man who wins is the one who says, 'I've goofed, but I'm still in the ball game.'"

Death And Back

Two heart transplant patients say today they're "grateful," but they "would not go through it again."

And simultaneously, coincidentally, I hear from a friend who's been to the edge of death and back and he's powerful glad to be back.

What's the difference? In Sydney, Australia, a substitute heart was installed in a tiny baby boy at the age of 27 hours. That was last April. Today he's out and about, weighs 17 pounds and revisits the hospital only for checkups.

But Herbert Batholomew has had two — and says he would not go through it again. Commerce City, Colo., truck driver at 50 has had two heart transplants. Says he appreciates being alive. But the drugs they needed to retard rejection caused cataracts on both his eyes. He can't get insured, can't get a job, still must receive regular doses of drugs.

"Coach, I've got Chou En-lai on hold." "Mr. President, do you know what wins football games?" "No, I don't."

"It's team spirit, Gen. Pershing once said that a team with a great morale is nothing if you don't have the spirit to go with it."

"He said that?" "Right. Team spirit is contagious. If you, as President, say to your team 'Let's get them,' it can infect everyone in your Administration from the Vice President of the United States to Henry Kissinger's 10-year-old son."

with a whole new dimension. If Louis dies again tomorrow — heaven forbid — nonetheless already during this reprieve he has left with millions of readers a new tolerance for pain.

In one essay he reflected on the 23rd Psalm's promise that God is "with" you in the Valley of the Shadow.

It still hurts. God does not prevent pain and never promised He would. Not for St. Paul. Not even for Christ on the Cross.

What He does promise and what He does do is to be "with" you. And in that presence Louis Casseals found his crisis endurable. And more, he came "back to life" with a totally new perspective, a new comprehension of what Paul called "God's peace," "liberated" he says, "from fear, anxiety, unimportant ambitions..."

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

A Bulla

Dear Dr. Thosteson: A recent X-ray showed that I have a small bulla in the left lower lobe on the lung.

Just what is this and what can be done to cure it? — R.L.R. A bulla is a distended sac of air which can form on the outer surface of the lung.

If it ruptures and air escapes into the pleural space outside the lung, the lung collapses, and a situation known as pneumothorax results. It is not, I assure you, as serious as it may sound.

The rupture, usually small, ordinarily heals fairly promptly. The air in the pleural space is either absorbed by nature or withdrawn by a hollow needle, and the lung returns to normal.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Enclosed is 20 cents and a self-addressed stamped envelope for your booklet on emphysema. In a number of articles there is mention of a "barrel chest" developing. Can you explain or describe it? — B.L.C.

you will. It is entirely unpredictable. In most cases, a small bulla causes no discomfort or symptoms of any kind. It requires no treatment if it is small.

If the bulla is large, it can compress a normal lung to some degree, and in that case the bulla is removed surgically, after which the compressed portion of the lung promptly expands to normal.

The "barrel chest" doesn't always develop with emphysema, but it frequently does. In that disease — as the booklet will explain — the lungs lose their elasticity, cannot expand enough, "usud" air — and hence cannot draw in enough fresh.

BERRY'S WORLD

"I'll be glad to answer questions but tell me first, am I suspected of being subversive or am I a candidate for a government job?"

President Stella

Lewiston Tribune This democracy will be in danger the day a presidential election fails to attract a wide variety of candidates. That variety is vital, and should never be discouraged simply because some of the candidates and their platforms may seem a mite unusual.

Thus must the electorate suffer Stella Stevens, a curvy-blonde Hollywood actress who is planning a Third Party race for the presidency in 1976. She's the One Party candidate.

"I'm not a liar," she says. "If I lose by telling the truth, the country doesn't really want the truth." Her heart-shaped campaign buttons will read, "I'm One, Are You?"

Miss Stevens once posed nude for Playboy magazine. She says, "all sex is natural," and she calls marijuana a gift from God. She has rejected the suggestion of seeking the nomination of either Republicans or Democrats.

Obviously, no such campaign could win, though the candidate might find strong support in small pockets of voter irrationality in some states, such as California.

Besides, Miss Stevens is utterly naive to think her platform could win any office in the land, and especially the presidency.

After all, telling the truth on the campaign trail simply is not fair. Opponents deserve a better break than that. She obviously has no respect for any of our political traditions. — C. C.

Protective Reaction

Denver Post In a politically protective reaction to environmentalists' criticism of the five-megaton nuclear bomb test at Amchitka Island, President Nixon said, "Unless we have an adequate program for defending the United States, we won't have an environment to protect." Since the Amchitka explosion was to test a warhead for a defensive antimissile system of highly questionable effectiveness, the President was taking a cheap shot at his critics. Justifying the Amchitka test on the ground that it was necessary to defend the United States is about as logical as saying that to protect the environment it was necessary to destroy it.

Kent State coed faces trial

RAVENNA, Ohio (UPI)—Mary Helen Nicholas, 21, Akron, Ohio, a Kent State University student, is scheduled to go on trial today on charges stemming from the 1970 campus disorders which were climaxed when National Guardsmen killed four students.

Nicholas, one of three women indicted by a special grand jury which returned 25 indictments, was charged with interfering with a fireman May 2, 1970 when the campus ROTC building was set on fire.

A sophomore in the Kent State College of Arts and Sciences, she will be the fourth person to go on trial in connection with the campus antiwar disturbances, which ended May 4, 1970 when the four students were shot to death by Ohio guardsmen.

Jerry Rupe, 23, Ravenna, was convicted last week of interfering with a fireman at the scene of a fire; Larry Schub, 20, Cleveland Heights, pleaded guilty to first degree riot.

Price relief farm key

BOISE (UPI) — A Montana congressman says the only way the U.S. Agriculture Department can help farmers today is to include price relief in its programs.

Rep. John Melcher, D-Mont., told the Idaho State Wheat Growers' Association Friday night that such an opportunity is available through bills on loan rates and storage gain reserves.

pending an appearance on the House floor, he said.

Melcher called for action now because, he said, "no other country allows its producers to be treated as shabbily as they are in this country."

"There is a great deal of talk these days about revitalizing urban America, but unless we talk about putting money into the hands of those who make it up this is useless," he said.

"The only way to do this is give the farmers a decent wage."

He said the measures he wants to see passed by the Congress will cost the government about $280 million. But he said they will put about $2 billion into the market for the farmer.

Formerly a farmer at Tensed, Edwards was honored for having been an original organizer.

Card designer work finished

NEW YORK (UPI)—For all practical purposes, Christmas 1971 is over for David and Margery Forer. The Forers now are planning Christmas 1972.

The Forers are a husband-wife team of designers-manufacturers of greeting cards. Christmas sales make up the major part of their card business.

"We work only a year ahead on designs," said David. "The big companies work two and even three years ahead."

The couple sat at an oversized, L-shaped desk arrangement (providing space for each) as they talked of how they got into the card business—by way of the Walt Disney studios, she from a fashion editorship.

Their office, part of their loft operation on New York's West Side, was cluttered with card samples, the walls "papered" with 1971 designs.

"We make two lines," said Mrs. Forer, a handsome brunette. One is their whimsical collection, an inexpensive light-hearted look at the holidays. The other is their Brett (from a family name), a personalized, high-style card usually engraved with the name of the sender. You know the type—corporation executives send them and some of them run as high as $2 each.

"Every year," said Forer, "we make one featuring a model T ... The Fords always buy some."

They said the card trend today is toward informality and some senders will scratch through their printed names to sign the cards personally.

Three themes are the major trends—peace, religion and love. Peace, for instance, might be the lion and the lamb lying down together, or the biblical message, "they shall beat their swords into plowshares ... The message of religion and love could be represented by a card showing two angels on the cover saying, "What the world needs now ...". Inside, the answer is "love."

"Because we're a smaller company (an annual volume of around $1.5 million), we can keep our designs keyed to the mood of today," said Forer. There is, for instance, Santa in orbit with the message, "Friends make the world go around." There also is a Santa in a hard hat.

Forer said they had a very successful offbeat card in the line at one time with the message, "We regret to inform you, there is no Santa Claus ..."

"We learned that when a major magazine folded, one of the cards was posted on the bulletin board," he said. "We took that card out of the line once and for all."

The Forers have been in the greeting card business almost ever since they were married in December, 1948.

Forer, a graduate of William and Mary College where "I took every art course offered," was a gunnery training officer in the Navy in World War II.

Clean stream law 'ignored'

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Department of Water Administration says Idaho's new stream protection law is being enforced only for streams bordered by state or privately owned land.

Stephen Allred, deputy director of the administration, said, "It is not going to do much good to police 30 per cent of the land if the 70 per cent federally-owned land in Idaho is not complying."

The new law requires that persons planning to change a stream channel or bank in the state must first get a permit from the water administration — except for irrigation work.

Department director Keith Higginson said the question was "whether state law is binding on federal land." Both Higginson and Allred said the department was negotiating with the U.S. bureau of public road and forest service officials concerning the new statute.

A "memorandum of understanding" — developed for both federal — bureaus which would solve the present problem — if approved by the federal agencies would require road projects or timber sales "include provisions to protect streams in the federal area of Idaho."

A like memorandum exists between Higginson's department and the Idaho Highways Department. And if such an agreement exists, obtaining a permit is unnecessary under the law, he said.

Allred said the memorandums were sent to the federal agencies, but no replies have yet been received.

Air base ejects Gem editor

MOUNTAIN HOME AFB (UPI) — Seventeen persons carrying copies of the New York Times, the Idaho Statesman, the Intermountain Observer and an anti-war publication were escorted off an Air Force base here this weekend after trying to distribute the publications.

The 17, including Sam Day, editor of the Observer, a Boise-based newspaper, were passing out the papers when Col. Gilbert Hereth, commander of the 6,000-man base, arrived in front of the base exchange and asked them to leave. The Observer carried a 32-page insert of the anti-war publication, Helping Hand.

The anti-war sympathizers were escorted off the installation with newspapers in hand after a brief verbal confrontation with the commander.

But a spokesman for the Mountain Home AFB said Sunday that the New York Times, the Idaho Statesman or even the Intermountain Observer was not approved for distribution on the base — but the publication had never applied for approval.

"The general idea was to establish the fact that freedom of the press should exist at the base as well as the area around it," Day said Sunday.

He said Saturday's action would be followed by what recourse is available in the courts.

"Any newspaper should have the right to distribute on the base." He said he realizes the Air Force has regulations, but they should be reasonable ones. "These are not reasonable."

He said the Observer made the Helping Hand an "integral part of the paper" on a one-time basis.

Day said he has no intentions of applying to Air Force officials for permission to distribute his publication on base.

He said the whole matter of the Helping Hand has been a bother to base officials and only a small percentage of the base personnel are involved in the activities of trying to get the newspaper distributed on the installation.

Heart unit cites help on pressure

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Heart Association says there is a need for new methods to effectively treat patients with high blood pressure, or hypertension.

The association said a national survey indicated that up to 20 per cent of U.S. adults are hypertensive but that only 15 to 20 per cent of hypertensive patients are being adequately treated.

The report said many persons are not aware they have the disease because often there are no symptoms. The IHA suggests that everyone between the ages of 15 and 65 should be screened for hypertension.

The association says detection programs could be sponsored by labor or management groups or carried out in connection with screening programs for other ailments in community centers, in mobile units or through door-to-door surveys.

One screening program has been completed at 20 employees of Morrison-Knudsen Co. Sponsored by the Idaho Heart Association and conducted by student nurses at Boise State College.

New US judge OK'd for Idaho

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Trial lawyer J. Blaine Anderson, Blackfoot, has been confirmed by the U. S. Senate as the new federal district judge for the State of Idaho.

Anderson, a member of the board of governors of the American Bar Association, succeeds Judge Fred M. Taylor, who is leaving the post to assume the status of senior judge.

Anderson received support from both Idaho Sens. Len B. Jordan and Frank Church.

Solon's kin safe

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Several anxious hours passed Saturday for Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, before he learned that his wife and son had safely boarded the last commercial airplane out of war-torn India.

The Indian Embassy and the State Department in Washington confirmed that his wife, Bethine, and son, Chaso, 14, were on board Air India flight 111 from Bombay. The news reached the Idaho Democrat while he was busy with duties in the Senate. His wife and son accompanied him to India over Thanksgiving, to get a first-hand look into the India-Pakistan conflict for the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, of which he is a member.

Church returned home, but his wife and son stayed an extra week to visit friends outside the war zone. India suspended commercial flights to and from the country as the fighting with Pakistan increased.

Dock talk resumed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — With a Taft-Hartley back-to-work order set to expire in three weeks, negotiations have resumed in the West Coast dock strike under the auspices of President Nixon's board of inquiry.

Representatives of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union (ILWU) and Pacific Maritime Association (PMA) met Saturday for the first time since 15,000 dock workers were ordered back on the job two months ago. They will hold another session Monday.

In Hawaii, where ILWU members stayed on the job during the 100-day West Coast walkout, the union local withdrew a strike threat after Gov. John A. Burns appointed two mediators to help negotiations. The ILWU members, who have been working since June without a contract, agreed to the talks and said they would give 72 hours notice prior to any strike.

A strike by the 900 longshoremen would bring shipping to Hawaii to a standstill. The island state has still not completely restocked shortages caused by the West Coast walkout.

Neither side issued a statement following Saturday's 90-minute meeting in San Francisco, which was not billed as a full-scale contract bargaining session.

J. Keith Mann, chairman of the board of inquiry President Nixon appointed in order to obtain a Taft-Hartley injunction, said the two sides will "explore whether settlement is possible by resumed negotiations."

Wheat men choose aide

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho State Wheat Growers Association has named Robert Drake of Plummer as its president to succeed Kenton Fredrickson of Weston.

Drake was elected at the annual convention in Boise. Ben Hayden, Pocatello, was elected vice president and George Brammer, Lenore, was named secretary.

In other business, the growers passed several resolutions, including a call for the state legislature to include Idaho feed grain production in the tax on wheat to provide research and promotion monies for the Idaho Wheat Commission.

Heady stats

NEW YORK (UPI) — An estimated 2.5 million American males wear hairpieces, according to a research company. This is only 5 to 10 per cent of the nearly $1 billion wig market, but interest is steadily growing as embarrassment declines, says Arthur D. Little, Inc.

About 80 per cent of today's wigs are made of human hair. Synthetic fibers, however, are making rapid inroads.

Renters told to resist hikes

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Mrs. Rosetta Wylie of the government's Rent Advisory Board urged tenants by the thousands to refuse to pay their rents if landlords impose increases before the government issues its final post-freeze guidelines.

Holiday now time of thief

NEW YORK (UPI)—It's better to take than to give, say the burglars of the land at Christmas shopping time.

If you're not careful some of those presents you tote in a shopping bag may wind up under someone else's tree—the burglar's. The thieves lift from shopping bags in department stores, at bus stops, on buses. Pickpockets find the hectic shopping days engulging many shoppers much to their delight, too. With all the crowding, bumping and pushing that goes on in stores one hardly notices when the thieves help themselves, with a touch that's lighter than a feather.

The professional sneaks also are attracted to homes during this merry season. December is the favorite month of burglars, as any experienced detective on a burglary detail can testify. So you've got to take extra precautions on the home front, too.

What attracts them: The homes loaded with gifts. What helps them: The added hours of darkness, made to order for a thief. What also aids them: The increased numbers of strangers in neighborhoods as deliveries of packages from stores pick up. People grow accustomed to seeing unfamiliar faces.

There are many ways to thwart a would-be burglar or pickpocket, according to Stephen Jance, of CNA-Insurance in Chicago. Some of his recommendations:

- Carry a purse that's hard to open. A bag with one handle and a snap-clasp is a cinch for a pickpocket, particularly when it's slung over someone's elbow and arms are full of view-blocking bundles. More theft-proof are purses with tricky clasps and two handles, one on each side.

- Before starting out, make a list of all your credit cards and their account numbers. Keep it in a safe place, not your purse. That way, if your purse is lifted, you'll be able to report the thefts speedily and accurately to those who have issued you charge cards.

- Never put your purse inside a shopping bag. This is an open invitation to both professional thieves and amateur kleptomaniacs.

- With shopping bags, limit what you carry. The more overloaded the bag, the more likely a loss, either by theft or broken bag. Also, the more you carry, the less able you will be to keep track of everything. Your shopping will be more theft-proof if you have some packages sent to your home.

- Tips for burglar-proofing your home include:
 - Make sure all doors, especially those leading into the house from enclosed patios, are well lighted after dark.

- Leave lights on inside when leaving home. Lock all windows and doors. Lock the garage door, too. An open garage door is a sure sign no one is home. Also, don't close draperies completely. The closed drapes make a good screen for a burglar's activities.

Christmas shopping time is a good time to take your house keys off the key ring with the car keys. Then, when you put your car in a parking lot that requires you to leave the car keys, you can be sure no one will take an impression of your house keys. Some burglars harvest same for parking lots.

Girl finds drugs, police don't mix

A 14-year-old girl was picked up, along with her boyfriend, by Detroit police while the couple were on their way to a rock concert. It was her first experience with a drug THC and her first arrest. She spent two nights in the Wayne County Youth Home and, at United Press International's request, wrote her experience.

DETROIT (UPI) — After considerable hassle, we got taken to the precinct. At the station, after about an hour, a policewoman took me into another room, away from my boyfriend.

Until then, I was pretty sure I could lie my way out of it, and get away free. Since I was alone, the whole thing seemed totally unreal. It wasn't until they separated us that I got really frozen with fright.

The policewoman told me she knew I was stoned, there was no use to try to hide it, and I had to admit it. Period. No mention of what would happen if I didn't say anything. So, after a while, I got all mixed up and admitted I had taken some dope. Then she told me that since I had freely admitted taking dope, I was under official arrest, and would be sent to the home.

I was handcuffed to another girl and taken to the home. The woman told me that if I had a release I could possibly get out that night. I held onto that and didn't let myself think beyond it.

At the home, after handing over all our belongings, I felt as if the last thing that was "me" was gone, and I had nothing left. Being stoned as I was didn't help my feelings of abandonment. Finally, I slept.

I was awake at about 2 a.m. I remember looking at the clock. The next thing I remember is looking at the ceiling in the morning and trying to remember what was going on. I was completely down from the pill I had taken, but I wouldn't quite remember where I was supposed to be, and why I wasn't there.

My father visited me. He only stayed for a few minutes. He said he'd try to get me out that day, Sunday, but he didn't know what he could do.

At 10, I got up, washed, and put on the clothes they'd given me the night before. White tennis shoes and ankle socks, white underwear, and white men's T-shirts for blouses, and sack dresses. I got a pink dress.

One of the older girls, a 16-year-old, broke down crying. She had been up for a hearing twice already and both times her parents hadn't shown up. She was afraid to face it again.

Some of the girls frightened me. A few of them, who had been there for several months, were Zombie-like. They'd talk if directly addressed; if not, they'd sit for hours, not even bothering to get a book or listen to the radio.

Looking out the window at the sign on the lawn, "Wayne County Youth Home," I thought about myself, my friends and my sudden lack of individuality.

I seemed to just realize the full impact of all of it—the fact that no matter what happened, I was now a criminal, I had a record. I think that's the only time I ever broke down. I felt absolutely inconsequential.

Some of the girls were there just because they had no place else to go. One girl told me she was there because her mother's boyfriend had beat her up and when she went to the hospital to see if they could stop the bleeding of her eye, they had put her in the home "for her own protection." She and others like her were still treated like criminals.

A half hour before lunch Monday, I talked to a social worker, who seemed to think I'd be able to get out that day. I fervently hoped so.

I was too nervous to eat my lunch, so my new friend cleaned up my food for me. She said, "after you've been here a few times, for a month or so, nothing can upset you. You've seen how the girls are. Most of us just don't care anymore." For some reason, that really shook me up.

As soon as I walked into the room for my hearing, I saw a woman begin filling out what I knew was my release forms. I walked out the door, really so shaky and light-headed I couldn't see straight and walked away from it as fast as I could. The polluted old air of Detroit never smelled so beautiful.

Postscript: The parents of the girl spent a frantic two days trying to gain the release of their daughter; they even failed in finding out whether she had been charged with a crime.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Mrs. Rosetta Wylie of the government's Rent Advisory Board urged tenants by the thousands to refuse to pay their rents if landlords impose increases before the government issues its final post-freeze guidelines.

Mrs. Wylie of Philadelphia spoke not as a member of the 14-member board drafting the guidelines but as chairman of the National Tenants Organization, which says it represents 300,000 tenants organized in more than 90 cities.

"There must be mass action around the country until the board does issue guidelines," she told a news conference. "You should refuse to pay your rent and contact the IRS if rents are increased."

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS), which is charged with enforcing Phase II economic controls, advised tenants Friday they could legally refuse to pay their rents unless landlords opened their books to prove that higher rents were justified.

The Price Commission previously ruled that rent increases were justified if the same higher rates had been charged for at least 10 per cent of similar apartments in the same building or complex before the wage-price freeze began Aug. 15.

The government has urged landlords to withhold rent increases until the Rent Advisory Board's guidelines are approved, possibly next week, but it has not gone as far as Mrs. Wylie in calling for a "mass action" refusal to pay all higher rents.

Mrs. Wylie, who says she is the only tenant representative on the board which includes four "consumer" representatives, said she was disappointed in its outlook and charged that it was "dominated" by "business interests or those who represent landlord interests."

Her fellow board members "haven't been as responsive as I had hoped they would be about the plight of tenants," she said, and rebuffed her efforts to add five tenant representatives to the panel.

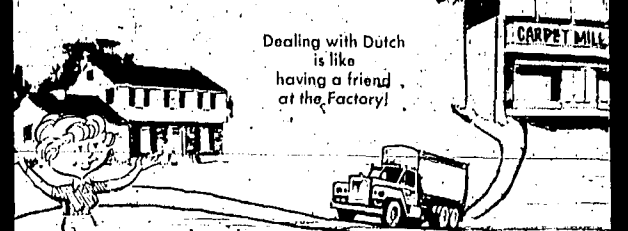

The Democrats and Republicans meanwhile traded political attacks over President Nixon's economic policies.

Little Theatre's season opens with December play

TWIN FALLS — The Magic Valley Little Theatre opens the 1971-72 season with the award winning farce, "The Waltz of the Toreadors," by the renowned French playwright Jean Anouilh.

The play is set for Dec. 9, 10 and 11 at the YM-YWCA, Twin Falls, with curtain time at 8 p.m.

The play, written in 1952, has successful productions in Paris, London and New York. It was judged by New York drama critics circle the best foreign work of the 1957 season. It was also selected as one of the best plays of 1956-57. The next year it toured the country with Melvyn Douglas in the lead.

The play centers around the riotous comic husband and wife tug-of-wars between the central character Gen. St. Pe' and his wife. The aging general, who now is retired, fancies himself quite the torador with the ladies. The general would like to waltz through the remaining years of his life with the lovely partner he had danced with at a military ball 17 years earlier. Unfortunately, the lovely lady is not his wife, and here the trouble and fun begin. There follows a couple of comic attempts at suicide (one on the railroad tracks 15 minutes after the train has passed), a long lost son discovered, and two ugly daughters throwing themselves into a pond for "lack of love."

Most of Jean Anouilh's plays deal with the conflict of the individual and society. He has portrayed the theme in a variety of dramatic moods. In all his plays the drive of the action evolves from the tension between the youthful ideal of life and the adult realization of what life is. Theatre Arts says of Anouilh, "He has a magnificent sense of theater, and exquisite feeling for the absurd, a sparkling style."

The cast of the Magic Valley Little Theatre production includes actors well-known to local audiences and also several new faces.

The general is played by Art Frantz, whom theater-goers have many times enjoyed in Children's Theatre, Dilatante and Magic Valley Little Theatre productions. His aging wife is Madi Brailsford, who has played with the Antique Festival Theatre. The general's secretary, Geoff McIntosh, is new to Little Theatre, but has participated in all aspects of stage production. Buzz Langdon, as Dr. Bonfant, adds another role to the many he has ably performed for Children's Theatre, Antique Festival and Little Theatre.

For the first time performing with Magic Valley Little Theatre is Dee Dee McDonald, Sherry Machamer, Pat Wentworth, Karen Dalton and John Detweiler, but none of them are newcomers to the stage. Rhonda Miracle, as the New Maid, adds another role to the list she has already played in Little Theatre.

MR. AND MRS. STEVEN D. HARRISON (Shig. Maritz photo)

Miss Peterson, Harrison marry

TWIN FALLS — Christine Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Peterson, Twin Falls, became the bride of Steven Douglas Harrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas L. Harrison, Sacramento, Calif., Nov. 27 in rites at the First Presbyterian Church, Twin Falls.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. D. Robert VanNest.

Tiered, candleabra and baskets of yellow chrysanthemums were placed on either side of the altar, with an arrangement of greens and candles behind the altars. Lighted tapers, ornamented with greens and bows, marked the double aisles of the sanctuary.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an empire-style, floor-length gown of white sheer silk peau de sole, accented with a fitted panel of heavy lace in front. The full sleeves were cuffed with a wide band of the same lace, ending in sheer ruffles at the wrist. The lace inserts and scalloped edge of her chapel train repeated the lace of the dress. Her veil was of waist-length illusion net, held in place with a bandeau of lace. She carried a nosegay of white roses, small yellow chrysanthemums and baby's breath, tied with white ribbons.

The bride wore a pearl and diamond pendant necklace which her sister also wore at her wedding. Matron of honor was Mrs. Laurel Steffy, Kirland, Wash., sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Roger J. Peterson, Boise, sister-in-law of the bride, and sorority sisters, Mrs. J. R. King, Boise; Mrs. Fred L. Finlayson, Moscow, and Jean Brassay, Moscow.

Serving as best man was David Harrison, Sacramento, brother of the bridegroom. Other attendants were Roger Peterson, Bolso, brother of the bride; and fraternity brothers of the bridegroom, Richard Silvers, Twin Falls; Jerry Rule, Sacramento, and George Hulbert, Bellevue, Wash.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony at Blue Lakes Country Club, where decorations were carried out in a color scheme of yellow, gold and rust. The bride's table was covered with a yellow cloth, skirted with gold flounces. Garlands of greenery with yellow and rust chrysanthemums were laid the length of the table, with silver candleabra and yellow candles at either end. The table was centered with a tiered, all-white bride's cake, topped with a small silver bell engraved with the date of the couple's engagement, suspended from a double arch of small yellow roses. The cake was cut by Mrs. Vernon Riddle and Mrs. Eugene Stacey. Coffee was served by Mrs. Ruth Edmunds and Mrs. G. Reed Lewis. Mrs. Louis A. Thorson presided at the punch bowl.

The couple took a honeymoon trip to Sun Valley. They will reside in Moscow, where Harrison is employed at the University of Idaho. Out-of-town guests attended from Texas, Ohio, Colorado, Wyoming, California, Washington and Utah, and from Moscow, Nampa, Boise and Pocatello. A luncheon shower honoring the bride was given by Mrs. A. L. Lindemer, Mrs. Louis A. Thorson and Mrs. G. Reed Lewis at the Turf Club. A dinner party after the rehearsal was hosted by the bridegroom's parents at the Turf Club for the wedding party and guests.

DEAR ABBY: The letter signed "RESIGNED" interested me, but your very clever non-answer interested me even more. "Resigned" said her husband batted zero in the love department, "but when a woman can't change a situation, she had better learn to live with it. And that's what I'm doing. Outside of being no Romeo, he's a good, sober, hard-working man, which is a lot more than some women have." And she signed herself "RESIGNED". Your answer: "As long as you remain 'resigned' you'll have no problem."

Now, I ask you, Dear Abby, what if she doesn't remain resigned? "ONCE RESIGNED—BUT NO MORE"

DEAR ONCE: Either the woman's frustrations over whom her, and in order to get some attention she becomes a neurotic with some very real symptoms. Headaches, backaches, "nerves", pill-popping, marials, to name a few. Or she finds herself a romance on the side, and the only thing that bothers her is her conscience—occasionally. But rather than take her problem to a professional, who might be able to improve her relationship with her husband, she keeps telling herself it's hopeless, because she really likes the situation as it is, and if her husband should "recover", she won't be able to justify her playing around.

And by the way, this works the same with the husband who justifies his playing around because his wife is "cold". There are no "cold" people, just those who don't know how to kindle the fire and keep it going.

DEAR ABBY: This is a letter to "Resigned" and to all her spiritual sisters who find themselves in a sexually unfulfilling marriage, and who nobly tell themselves, "When a wife can't change a situation, she had better learn to live with it. After all, he is a sober, hard-working man, and for security and the children's sake, etc., etc."

That was me 20 years ago. I also made the best of a marriage with a dull, unresponsive husband, and I suppressed everything I felt inside, and even convinced myself that I was in control and was doing the right thing.

Now I am 45, my children are grown, and all the frustrations I've suppressed for years have suddenly broken thru. I suddenly realize that I've probably done my husband a great injustice by assuring him that everything was "fine", and I was perfectly happy with things the way they were. For in a way, he was cheated, too. I don't know yet how this will turn out, but the realization that I've compromised my life away is almost unbearable.

I have no advice for all the "Resigneds" of the world, except perhaps to say that right now you are dealing with surface feelings, and one day you'll have to face your inner feelings honestly. And my God, how it hurts! MUST "ME"

DEAR ABBY: In all the years I have been reading "DEAR ABBY," I think the letter signed "RESIGNED" is the most intelligent I have ever read in your column.

Here is a woman who had a cross to bear, and she bore it. No woman has everything. That woman's husband did not give her the sexual satisfaction she would have liked, but she reviewed his other attributes, and was grateful for them. That woman was a saint!

We would be amazed at some of the things we can do without if we have to. Sign me DEEN THERE

DEAR BEEN: I agree, if a woman MUST do without something, she shows maturity and intelligence in accepting her lot with grace and being grateful for that which she has to compensate. But in this enlightened age while some women MUST live without sexual fulfillment, many do not. They just think they do.

Castle's home for farmer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Farmer Raymond Nelson, a former major in the British Army lives in what surely is one of the most spectacular farm houses on either side of the Atlantic Ocean.

An 1860 Victorian-style castle, it was built 111 years ago on the Isle of Mull in the Hebrides Islands off the western coast of Scotland.

Mrs. Nelson, the former Janet Farr of Chevy Chase, Md., met her husband on a trip to Nairobi. They were married in 1904 and lived in England and the far east until Nelson decided to farm in Scotland.

He found Glenorm Castle on a 5,000-acre site, and in 1970 moved his wife and their three small children, 5-year-old twin girls and a son, 2, to their new home.

The castle has six turrets and a big tower, and no central heating.

Electric "fires" are installed in the family rooms to make them habitable in the winter, and a big log fire burns almost all year in the castle's big hall. "A critic once described the castle as a folly, phony and ostentatious."

Janet Nelson would not accept that.

"It looks grim," she conceded, "but it has its own personality."

Hospital radio net set

By RICHARD CHARNOCK
 BOISE (UPI) — Idaho's ambulances and hospitals soon will be wired to save lives in times of disasters and other emergencies.

In cooperation with the Idaho Hospital Association, the state has embarked on an emergency radio medical service to provide hospital-to-ambulance communications.

Barrett Rainey, outgoing administrator of communications for the Department of Administrative Services, said the program will go into effect in western and a portion of eastern Idaho next February.

He said it is hoped to put it into effect in southeastern and northern Idaho after next July 1 and in the remainder of the state after July 1, 1973.

Rainey said it's all going to come about through federal grants in aid.

He said the state has received an initial grant of $50,000 to help purchase necessary equipment to set up the base stations and other facilities that will be needed in the operation.

Applications now are being made for another $50,000 next July 1 and for an additional $50,000 a year after that.

These monies, he said, are to be matched by equal amounts from the hospitals.

Initially, Rainey said, the program will be put into effect in western Idaho from Mountain Home to the Oregon border and from Blackfoot and Idaho Falls north in the eastern end of the state.

Pocatello south and Lewiston and Moscow north are expected to be brought into the system next July 1.

Magic Valley and some difficult to reach areas — which will require utilization of mountain top base stations — will be brought into the system after July 1, 1973, he said.

At present, the state for the most part packs adequate ambulance to hospital communications, Rainey said.

With them, he said, not only can the state cope with disasters and civil defense emergencies but many lives can be saved where quick emergency medical treatment must be given.

Eventually, he said, it is hoped that 90 hospitals and ambulance services in Idaho will be brought into the communications system.

Rainey added that a special frequency will be set aside for the emergency medical communications — a frequency that is to be used for no other purpose.

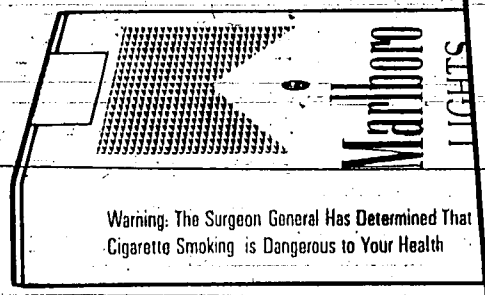

He said northern Idaho units will be on the same frequency as those in neighboring Washington, those in southwestern Idaho on the same one as Ontario, Ore., and those in southwestern Idaho on the same frequency as those in northern Utah.

One feature of the system will allow an ambulance operator to "dial up" a special hospital emergency room in his area directly and report on the patient's condition and medical needs. That way physicians, their assistants and equipment can be ready and waiting.

Additionally, in cases where one hospital cannot handle the case it can direct the ambulance driver by radio to one that can — thereby saving valuable time now lost in transferring patients.

Irish teachers angered

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — Teachers at a Roman Catholic high school Saturday protested the arrest of eight of their students by British troops and said they would oppose any such future detentions.

Army sources said troops detained eight school boys of 14 and 15 years of age during a search Friday for weapons and gunmen in the Catholic Falls road area of Belfast.

The boys were questioned for 12 hours by military interrogators and then released, the sources said.

Small crowd sees good play

BY LEE TREMAINE
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — Though the cast nearly outnumbered the first-night audience, The College of Southern Idaho Drama Department tussled and pleased the few viewers who did turn up Thursday for the opening of "Arms and the Man," at the CSI Fine Arts Center.

A George Bernard Shaw dramatic comedy written in 1894, "Arms and the Man" offers a continual round of wit and comedy, interspersed with one of the most complex and enjoyable series of on-again-off-again love affairs known to the theatre. Director H. Paul Kliss, well known for his dramatic artistry throughout the Magic Valley, makes this most of Shaw's penchant for dry wit with a combination of imaginative, enjoyable selection of actors and actresses.

The scene is set in a manor house near Sophia, Bulgaria, "after one of those little Balkan wars," according to the playwright. Kliss uses the built-in Slovak manners and British wit with Near-Eastern, almost Russian, costuming to develop the theme most charmingly.

Towering (6-8) James Langley makes everyone look up to him with both his height and his acting skill as Sergious the soldier, recently returned from the wars where he gallantly directed a cavalry charge right into the teeth of the enemy guns," according to his hopeful mother-in-law-to-be, Catherine Petkoff, well portrayed by Terry Kilmes.

Things get sticky when Rhendal Bluntschill, an enemy soldier until the latest war ends, then automatically a friend, turns up in the Petkoff home — right in the middle of the boudoir of Sergious Saranoff's one-and-only (for a while), Raina Petkoff. With Patrick Cunningham as the "enemy soldier" and Marcin Lickley as Raina, the action begins in earnest.

Rhendal, the "enemy," is at first hiding from pursuing Bulgarians (he is a Serbian), and is hidden by the sympathetic Raina. Later, when peace terms end the hostilities, he returns as a "new friend of the Bulgarians," and becomes a friend to everybody except Sergious.

In the meantime, the fussy, confused "lord of the manor," Paul Petkoff, in the person of Robert Haynes, bustles about, complaining endlessly about trivialities, obviously quite overcome by these people roaring about his house. He has no use for Sergious, and shows it; but the smitten Sergious has eyes only for Raina.

In the midst of the bustle and busyness, the two servants of the Petkoffs, Loukvendik, played by Pat Woodbury, and Niccola Goryl, portrayed by John Bailey, squabble, make up, squabble again and reveal a most intimate, human side to characters who are usually shadows in the background of a theatrical drama.

An unusual, comic-relief character, Cpl. Pashek, in the person of Doug Garland, dressed as a Bulgarian soldier with a strong flavor of Cossack interwoven in his uniform, adds an interesting touch by performing a "dick" Russian-style dance around the open "stage" of the Cirque Theatre, to the strains of a balalaika-style recorded tune.

Nixon primary race starts in China

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon can begin his reelection campaign in China while his more conventional Democratic opponents pay their ritual visits to the firehouses and shopping centers in New Hampshire and Florida.

The President will spend his historic week on the Chinese mainland, starting Feb. 21 while the early presidential primary campaigns are approaching their climaxes before the voting in New Hampshire March 7 and in Florida.

Under Florida's new primary law, it is expected Nixon will be on the Republican ballot there. It also is expected that he will be a candidate in New Hampshire, although indirect approaches are available there.

But Nixon can be in the Far East and almost black out the publicity given the Democratic candidates in the two states with much more exposure on television and the front pages of newspapers.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts presumably will not be on the Florida Democratic ballot, although he is beginning to look like a man looking for his draft card. Other strong Democratic contenders will suffer because publicity in early primary contests has become important for presidential contenders of the party out of power, especially when it has an crowded field of candidates.

Florida's law makes it the first of six states directing one or more state officials to enter everyone recognized by national news media as presidential candidates. Except for Oregon, which amended its law to forbid withdrawal, these states allow anyone entered to withdraw only by filing a sworn statement that he is not and does not intend to become a candidate.

Nixon is not yet an announced candidate but is recognized by news media as a man already running for renomination. Rep. Paul N. "Pete" McCloskey, the still lightly regarded Californian, is an announced candidate for the Republican nomination.

On the Democratic side, Sens. George S. McGovern of South Dakota and Henry M. Jackson of Washington and Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles already are declared candidates. Sen.

Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota appears ready and eager to join them for another run for the prize he lost to Nixon in 1968.

SALT talks may take leaders' push again

BY PHIL NEWSOM UPI Foreign News Analyst who see it as the first stage of after the 70-year-old Tito's the unrest which is expected death.

President Nixon and Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin will have to take a direct, hand again, as they did last May, to push the SALT talks to agreement. The talks are bogging down again with disagreement over details, and it is clear that only a "political decision," of the sort that the White House and Kremlin can provide, can produce a treaty by the time Nixon goes to Moscow in May. The betting in Vienna, where the talks to limit strategic arms currently are being held, is that the decision to give them a shove will be made and the jam broken.

Look for President Tito to take steps to stem the Nationalist passions in Yugoslav republics — especially Croatia — which have built up while he has been traveling the world this year. The just-ended student strike in Croatia frightened many Yugoslavs.

Chargers upset Vikings 30-14 on scoring march and pass interception

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—John Hadl capped a 63-yard scoring fourth quarter march with a five-yard scoring pass to Mike Garrett and Pete Barnes returned an intercepted pass 36 yards with 58 seconds to go to give the San Diego Chargers a 30-14 upset victory over the Minnesota Vikings in National Football League action Sunday.

The loss left Minnesota 1-2 games ahead of Detroit, which also lost, in the National Conference Central Division. The 30 points were the most scored against the Vikings this year.

Hadl's short scoring pass came with 13:14 left. An 18-yard pass to Gary Garrison and a 23-yard run by Jerry Lewis set up the Chargers' go-ahead score.

Dennis Partee kicked two field goals in the closing minutes, a 43-yarder and a 22-yarder, before Barnes capped the scoring.

Minnesota had only two scoring chances in the second half. The Vikings drove from their six to San Diego's 22 early in the third quarter, primarily on a 36-yard Bob Lee pass to Bill Brown, but usually reliable scoring chances in the second half.

an 11-play, 64-yard drive of their own to tie the game 7-7 with 1:56 to go in the first quarter. Oscar Reed went over from the 10 on a draw play, the longest play of the drive.

The Chargers regained the lead 10-7 with 8:57 left in the half on a 12-yard field goal by Partee. Chris Fletcher intercepted a Lee pass and returned it 10 yards to Minnesota's 49. Aided by two major penalties, the Chargers drove to the four but could not cross the goal line.

A 35-yard pass interference penalty against San Diego's Joe Benachamp for tripping Joe Washington in the end zone set up a one-yard touchdown plunge by Clint Jones to put the Vikings back in front.

Hadl completed 20 of 29 passes for 165 yards to treat the San Diego Stadium record crowd of 54,500 to revenge for a 34-7 exhibition loss to the Vikings.

Gabriel-led L.A. Rams defeat New Orleans 45-28

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Los Angeles Rams ran up a 28-point lead at halftime with Willie Ellison scoring on an 80-yard end run, Travis Williams returning a kickoff 195 yards and eventually beat the New Orleans Saints 45-28 before a crowd of 76,010 Sunday.

During the course of an explosive afternoon, Ram quarterback Roman Gabriel threw three touchdown passes.

Ellison ran for a total of 247 yards from scrimmage, setting a National Football League record for yards gained rushing in a single game. The old mark was 243 set by Cooky Gilchrist of Buffalo against the

New York Jets in 1963.

The Saints got on the scoreboard at 9:38 in the first quarter when Edd Hargett hit Dan Abramowitz on a 25-yard scoring pass. The Rams led at halftime 35-7.

Ellison made his 80-yard touchdown run on the third scrimmage play of the game, bursting around right end behind a block by Tom Mack, who wiped out Saint Safety D'Artagnan Martin. Ellison scooted down the south sideline without further trouble.

At 5:04 of the first quarter, Gabriel hit Jack Snow on a 37-yard touchdown pass. The score was set up when New Orleans punter Julian Fagan got off a kick that was good for only four yards after taking a bad pass from center.

After the Abramowitz touchdown, Williams took the ensuing kickoff five yards deep in his own end zone, headed up the middle, cut left of the Ram wedge at his own 20 and scampered down the north sideline to the end zone.

In the second quarter, Larry Smith scored for the Rams on a five-yard run and Gabriel connected for an eight-yard TD pass to Lance Rentzel.

The Saints scored three touchdowns in the second half, all on one-yard plunges, two by Bob Gresham and one by Hargett, but could never come close to threaten the Rams.

Gabriel's third scoring aerial was a 39-yarder down the middle to Rentzel at 2:27 of the fourth quarter.

David Ray wrapped up the scoring with a 12-yard field goal for the Rams to make it 45-28.

Ellison carried the ball 26 times to get his 247-yard total. He gained two yards late in the fourth quarter to break Gilchrist's mark of 243 and then on the next play got two more to make his total 247.

Gilchrist's mark was made in the old American Football League but the record was carried over following the merger with the NFL. Jim Brown of the Cleveland Browns twice rushed for 237 yards, the second top total. He first did it in 1957 against the Rams and did it again in 1961 against the Philadelphia Eagles.

Gabriel attempted 18 passes and completed 10 for 137 yards and three touchdowns while Williams was 19 of 36 for 210 yards and one TD. Hargett had one pass intercepted.

The American Music Conference reports there are millions of adults who used to play instruments. The music conference says there are bands and orchestras in many communities looking for those "dropouts."

Redskins defeat New York 23-7

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Larry Brown scored two touchdowns, Curt Knight kicked three field goals and the Washington Redskins grabbed off five interceptions Sunday to defeat the New York Giants 23-7 and remain in hot pursuit of a championship playoff spot.

The Dallas Cowboys lead the Eastern Division of the NFL with a record of 9-3, a half game ahead of the Redskins at 8-1.

The victory marked the first time since 1955 that a Redskins team had attained eight victories in a season.

Brown, who had scored only two TDs previously this year, wound up the day with 129 yards on 25 carries.

The Redskins moved to a 13-0 first quarter lead by intercepting quarterback Fran Tarkenton the first three times the Giants had the ball.

The fifth two by Chris

Hanburger and Myron Pottlos set up field goals of 28 and 25 yards by Knight. The third interception, by Ron McDole on the New York 42 produced a touchdown on five plays with Brown streaking 17 yards through tacklers for the score.

Another Giant miscue set up a second period Washington TD. Punter Tom Blanchard fumbled a low snap from center and was downed on his own 10.

Brown cracked over from two yards out to make it 20-0 at the half, despite the fact the Giants had outgained the Redskins 131-52.

Knight booted his third field goal from the 44 in the third quarter shortly after Ted Vector blocked a field goal effort by New York's Pete Gogolak near mid-field.

The Giants finally scored early in the final period when Pat Hughes blocked Mike Bragg's punt and Otto Brown recovered it in the end zone for a TD.

But against the tough Redskins defense, the Giants were able to emerge from their own territory only twice in the game.

CSR plays

The College of Southern Idaho Golden Eagles return to the home court at 8 p.m. Monday to host the Boise State College frosh—and this time the Eagles aren't odds-on favorites.

The Eagles, working on a 4-1 record, will be home twice this week, hosting Boise State tonight and Utah Friday, then traveling to BYU Saturday evening.

Boise State has probably its strongest frosh team since the old junior college days. The young Bronco played to within four points of Utah State at Logan Saturday night—and that's no mean accomplishment since the Utags feel they have one of their best frosh clubs.

Eagles stun Lion hopes with upset

DETROIT (UPI)—Tight end Kent Kramer caught a five yard touchdown pass from quarterback Pete Liske with one minute to play Sunday—just 53 seconds after Detroit had scored to go ahead—to enable the Philadelphia Eagles to stun the Lions' playoff hopes with a 23-20 upset.

Quarterback Greg Landry had scored on a five yard dash up the middle to put Detroit in front after the Lions had surmounted a 16-0 halftime deficit.

But Liske, who completed his first seven passes in a row and guided the 4-7-1 Eagles to scores all four times they had the ball in the first half, completed passes of 21, and 25 yards to wide receiver Ben Hawkins to bring Philadelphia back.

Those two passes, combined with a 15 yard personal foul after the 21 yard catch by Hawkins, put the ball on the five with 63 seconds to play and Liske found Kramer with a diving catch in the end zone for the winning touchdown.

Detroit had ended the game tied with Washington as the National Football Conference's second place team with the best record but now in a game back at 7-4-1 with two games to play.

Philadelphia marched smartly down the field with the opening kick-off and back Lee Bouggess went over from one yard out to finish the 72-yard drive.

Tom Dempsey, who stunned Detroit a year ago with a record 63-yard field goal to win a game for New Orleans, added field goals of 22, 25, and 52 yards the next three times the Eagles had possession to give them a 16-0 halftime lead. Safety Bill Bradley's tenth interception of the season and subsequent 61-yard return enabled Dempsey to kick the field goal of 52 yards and set a new club record, a yard better than Sam Baker's 1966 effort.

Detroit did the same thing to open the second half with Landry running over from two yards out to score.

Kelly scores to give Browns 31-27 victory over Bengals

CLEVELAND (UPI)—High-flying Leroy Kelly scampered for a four-yard run with 1:48 remaining in the fourth period Sunday to give the Cleveland Browns a hard-fought 31-27 victory over the Cincinnati Bengals.

Cleveland, now 7-5, remained in first place in the American Conference's Central Division and was assured of a spot in the playoffs in the event of a tie with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

On the opening kickoff, running back Fred Willis picked up the ball on the nine and took it to the 18 where he fumbled and Ken Brown, reactivated for the Cincinnati game, recovered and returned it 14 yards to the Bengals' four. Bo Scott carried the ball on a sweep right on the next play and was hit by linebackers Al Benachamp and Bill Burg before Kelly followed with a one-yard blast over left tackle to make it 7-0 with 1:21 elapsed to cap a three-play four-yard drive. Bill Nelsen, who completed 14 of 28 attempts for 244 yards and two touchdowns, hit wide receiver Fair Hooker with five seconds left in the first half for the Browns' other tally.

The three-play, 72-yard drive was highlighted by a 27-yard

The second game on a pass intended for Bill Morin which was picked off of the air at the Cleveland 47 and taken 12 yards to the 36.

Before a double reverse failed, Carter passed 72 yards to Trumpy and Willis went over left guard for two and Carter rolled out right for five before going out of bounds with 33 seconds left. Horat Muhlmann then booted a 24-yard field goal. His other score came on a 46-yard attempt in the first quarter.

The Browns scored on a 12-yard field goal by Don Crockett which was highlighted by a 34-yard run by Scott from the Bengals' 42 to the seven.

Russi wins ribbon in St. Moritz

St. MORITZ, Switzerland (UPI)—Bernhard Russi of Switzerland, reigning world downhill-ski champion, proved he is still the best by winning the "White Ribbon" descent here today, first of the new world cup season.

The 23-year-old engineering draftsman from Andermatt spearheaded a brilliant swiss performance all around, his teammates Walter Tresch and Michel Dettwyler placing third and fourth and Hans Berthod and Jean-Daniel Daetwyler eighth and tenth.

Thus the Swiss men laid firm claim to the downhill team title and to medals in the winter Olympics in Sapporo, Japan, in February.

Heini Messner and Veteran Karl Schranz saved Austria's honor with second and fifth places respectively. Messner was only five hundredths of a second slower than Russi, which at 80 miles per hour meant not much more than a ski tip.

Schranz, at 33, ten years older than Russi, showed he is not about to put away his racing skis. In excellent form, "The Lion of St. Anton's" is determined to win a medal at Sapporo before retirement.

The Frenchmen, who with the Austrians had dominated the ski circuit for so long, put in a disappointing performance on the precipitous, 2,980 meter long downhill track.

Bernard Orcel could do no better than 11th while Henri Bovillard, France's biggest downhill hope, finished 13th.

Switzerland had five in the first 10 to take a commanding early lead in both individual and team world cup standings.

Austria had three in the top group—Messner, Schranz and Josef Loidl, who came sixth.

Franz Vogler, the giant six foot six German, came seventh and Canadian Jim Hunter, ninth.

Plunkett leads Pats to upset over Dolphins

FOXBORO, Mass. (UPI)—Rookie quarterback Jim Plunkett and favorite target Randy Vataha celebrated birthdays with a pair of touchdown passes Sunday for a stunning 34-13 New England Patriots victory over the Miami Dolphins.

Patriot touchdown on a six yard run while Larry Csonka choked off Miami comeback hopes with a 53-yard pass interception return for the final New England score.

The Patriots, two touchdown underdogs, were shattering an eight-game Miami winning streak while winning for the fifth time in seven home games before a record crowd of 61,457. Exuberant fans, who sat through sub-freezing temperatures, tore off their shirts in celebration and several ran onto the gridiron in the dying moments.

The Patriots now sit with a seven game winning streak after only 16 so-called sub-zero days at home, and scored 14 points in a 39-second burst late in the opening period to take charge.

Baltimore blanks Hapless Bills 24-0

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Sparked by the announcement that New England had upset Miami, the second place Baltimore Colts ripped off three touchdowns and a field goal in the second half Sunday to blank the hapless Buffalo Bills 24-0 and pull within a half game of the leaders in the AFC east.

quarterback John Unitas hit Eddie Hinton on a 22-yard pass and Norm Bulach plunged in from the one six plays later for the Colts first touchdown.

Mark Moseley had two 25-yard field goals and one of 37 yards. The other Oiler points were a 27-yard touchdown pass from Dan Pastorini to tight end Alvin Rod in the first quarter and a four-yard burst by Robert Holmes in the fourth period.

HOUSTON (UPI)—Safety John Charles and tackle Leo Brooks sparked a Houston Oilers defense that turned a series of Pittsburgh Steeler mistakes into 16 points midway through the first half Sunday and gave the Oilers a 29-3 triumph over the Steelers, virtually eliminating them from the Central Division race of the AFC.
