Nixon, French leader confer

ANGRA DO HEROISMO, Azores (UPI)—In an 18th century building that once housed Portuguese kings, President Nixon gave French President Georges Pompidou today an outline of what he hopes to achieve in visits early next year to Peking and Moscow.

Nixon and Pompidou put off until later meetings in the afternoon, tonight, and on Tuesday, a discussion of the thornier problems created by now U.S. economic policies announced by Nixon Aug. 15.

White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the initial meeting included Nixon's report on his forthcoming trips but no details were given. While Nixon and Pompidou conferred for 2 hours, 35 minutes in their first session, with only interpreters with them, their principal financial and foreign policy advisers met separately in the world money crisis.

Aid funds head list

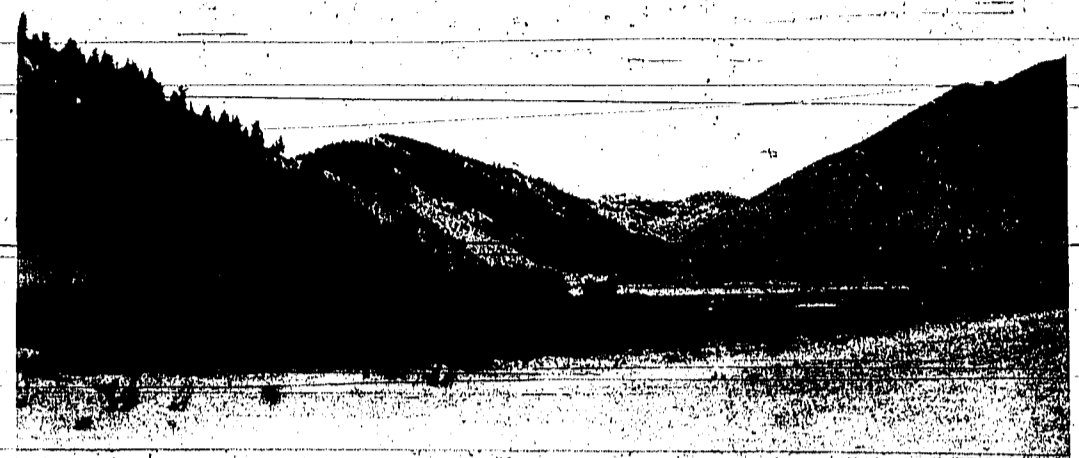

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The 92nd Congress—which struggled, protested and resisted but eventually gave President Nixon his way on the key issues—today neared the adjournment of its first session.

The major items still to be acted on were foreign aid legislation, a defense appropriations bill exceeding $70 billion and a bill authorizing Nixon to continue wage and price controls for another year.

Tough bargaining was anticipated over the international money crisis in particular. In addition, French officials said Pompidou wanted to discuss the differing views between Washington and Paris over the possibility of an all-Europe security conference and the possibility of mutual East-West troop reductions.

Media not exempt

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate and House negotiators refused today to exempt news media from wage-price controls.

The adjournment foiled a move by the United States to get a quick vote on its proposal to end the war.

Soviet Ambassador Yakov A. Malik, who vetoed two ceasefire resolutions in the 15-nation Council Dec. 5, objected to a quick vote on the U.S. resolution, introduced by Ambassador George Bush under instructions from President Nixon.

Ravenscroft in Senate bid

By O.A. (GUS) KELKER, Editor, Times-News
TWIN FALLS—Vernon Ravenscroft, Tuttle, said today he will run for the United States Senate seat being vacated by the retirement of Sen. Len B. Jordan, R-Idaho, if financial backing can be solidified.

"Will you run for the Senate?" he was asked. "This depends entirely on the financial backing which becomes available. Running for that high office cannot be undertaken, successfully, without such backing," he said.

Red China frees 2 Yanks

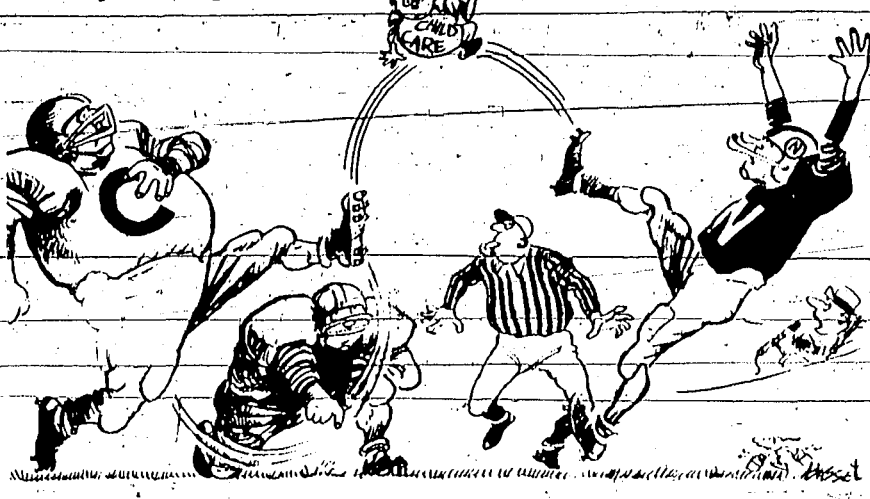

HONG KONG (UPI)—Communist China today announced the release from prison of two Americans, including a woman, the commutation of the life sentence of a third and the reported suicide of a fourth.

Two of the Americans freed, Richard Fecteau and Miss Mary A. Harbert, crossed the border into Hong Kong shortly before the Chinese announcement on their release was broadcast by the New China News Agency (NCNA).

Downey and Fecteau were captured in November, 1952, while trying to set up guerrilla espionage bases in North China, according to the Chinese. They were civilian employees of the U.S. Army at the time—during the Korean War.

The Chinese charged that they were employees of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) and led them before a military tribunal.

Irish Senator dies in attack

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—The official wing of the outlawed Irish Republican Army (IRA) said today it was responsible for killing a Protestant legislator Sunday and blowing up his home. In a statement issued in Dublin, the IRA said the death of Northern Ireland Sen. John Barnhill, 65, was a mistake. It said he had been asked to evacuate his home but was shot when he attacked members of the raiding party. British troops dug Barnhill's smashed body from the ruins of his bombed home early this morning. "About 6:45 p.m. a unit of the IRA based in the six counties (Northern Ireland) carried out a raid on the home of the senator," the IRA statement said.

Question... My mother makes her home with me in Twin Falls. It is her wish to be buried next to my father in Missouri. When she passes away, will I have to pay for a complete funeral in Twin Falls and for another in Missouri?

Answer... In the situation you outline two mortuaries will be involved, and the total cost will, therefore, be greater than if we alone served your family. Deleted from the cost of the funeral in Twin Falls will be those services we do not furnish. These include pall bearer car, family cars, funeral coach to the cemetery; transportation of the flowers to the gravesite; the organist, soloist and other personnel required for the proper conduct of a funeral service. The cost of these must be added at the place of interment. Essentially then, you pay for one complete funeral plus a modest fee to the receiving funeral director for the use of his facilities.

Sewage permit needed

TWIN FALLS — Permits from the State Board of Health to install individual sewage disposal systems will be required beginning Jan. 1, according to Dr. Wayne B. Carte, director of the South Central District Health Department.

Dr. Carte said the state board has authorized all district health departments in the state to issue the permits, and all contractors, builders and private individuals must apply for a permit through the South Central District Health Department before beginning construction.

Offices for making the application are in the Jerome County Court House, Minidoka Memorial Hospital, Cassia County Court House and the Twin Falls City Hall.

A review will be made of the proposed plans, Dr. Carte said, to see they conform with the State Board of Health rules and regulations. An inspection must then be made before the system is covered to see that it has been constructed in accordance with the approved plans.

A fee will be charged for the permit, in addition to any local, city or county fees that might be charged for building permits or sewage permits.

Office site vote Tuesday

RICHFIELD — A third straw ballot will be cast Tuesday to determine whether to move the existing American Falls Reservoir District Two office from Gooding to Shoshone.

If the office is moved, the American Falls and the Big Wood Canal Co. offices would be combined.

Richfield directors for the American Falls District, Wendell Johnson and Harold Pridmore, are seeking a strong vote from the Richfield community in favor of the move. The men said the combination would mean a large savings in upkeep and bookkeeping and would create a closer knit operation.

Two voting sites have been set up in the Richfield area, at the Richfield City office for residents living south of the two mile corner, and at the north Richfield residence of Mr and Mrs. Jerry Johnston for all others.

Polls will be open from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m. and all reservoir water users are eligible to vote.

Pridmore and Johnson serve on both the Big Wood and American Falls water boards and said the water is all intermingled except that water going to the Hunt area.

Also on Tuesday's ballot, two directors for the American Falls District Two board will be elected. Ralph Faulkner, Gooding, chairman, is opposed by Robert Johansen, Gooding, in Precinct 6; and incumbent from Precinct 2, Charles Barnes, Jerome, for the Hunt district, is unopposed.

The event will be a combination dinner and business meeting with a guest speaker whose name will be announced. Included in the business meeting following the dinner will be election of new officers and a discussion of plans for the 1972 state convention to be held here.

All members, delegates and credit union officials and members are invited to attend. Door prizes will be awarded.

Fine, probation meted pair in eagle killings

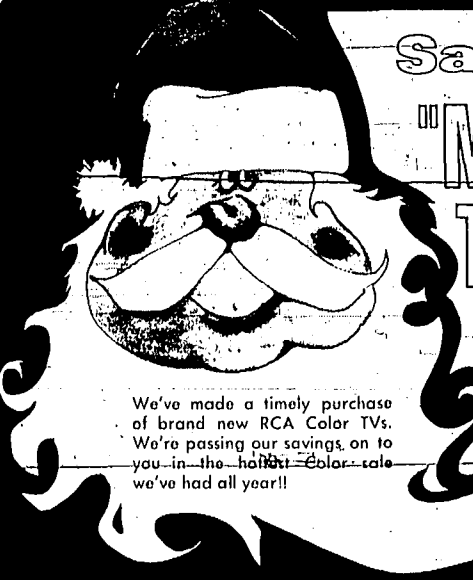

TACOMA, Wash. (UPI) — Federal Magistrate Robert E. Cooper has fined two men $1,000 each and placed them on one-year probation for taking part in an illegal taxidermy ring dealing in bird and golden eagles. The fines and probation involved Tacoma taxidermist Roger Paul Hamel and Lawrence Bruce Combs of Shelton. They pleaded guilty to five counts of killing, buying and possession of golden and bald eagles. The birds are fully protected under federal law, and all forms of hunting for them are illegal, the state game department said. Cooper originally levied the maximum allowed fine of $2,500 against Hamel and Combs, who were also sentenced to 2 1/2 years in prison. However, the men were put on probation for one year and $1,500 of the fine and all of the prison sentence were suspended. A condition of the probation was that Hamel and Combs not hunt nor accompany anyone else on a hunting trip in the United States for one year. A State Game Department spokesman said the taxidermy ring involved the killing of eagles in Mason County in southwestern Washington.

Orange sale set in TF

TWIN FALLS — Jaycee chapter members will conduct their annual door-to-door orange sale tonight, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. Gary Loder, project chairman, said more than 2,000 bags of oranges have been prepared for sale, which will start about 5:30 p.m. each day. Proceeds from the sale will be used for clothing for about 30 needy children from the Twin Falls area.

Names of the children are submitted to the Jaycees by the Department of Public Assistance and after the orange sale the children are taken to various stores where they are fitted for new clothing. Loder said the chapter hopes to realize a profit of $300 to $500.

Window shot out

TWIN FALLS — Officials at Smitty's Pancake House on Addison Avenue West told city police Sunday someone shot out a window in the building, apparently with a pellet gun. The window was a 28 by 32-inch glass. Value was listed at $7.50.

Yule drive success

ST. MICHAEL'S, Ariz. (UPI) — The annual Christmas drive for the sprawling Navajo Indian reservation was "successful beyond all expectations," according to a project spokesman.

An estimated 20 tons of food, clothing, toys and medical supplies arrived at St. Michael's Catholic Mission Saturday for distribution. A drive at Lincoln Elementary School in Orem, Utah, spearheaded by the Air Force ROTC, netted 5,600 cans of food. Five tons of clothing came from the Ogden Rescue Mission and three tons of flour from a mill at Brigham City.

Numerous Air Force units, private firms and individuals donated to "Project Navajo," which had its beginning in 1962 when a missionary at Farmington, N. M. wrote his parents and asked they send him gifts for some Navajo children. Thousands of Navajos live on the 24,000-square-mile reservation and the goods delivered to St. Michael's were for the southern section. Additional cargo will be taken to the Four Corners region for distribution on the northern half of the reservation next week.

Former policeman arrested

POCATELLO, Idaho (UPI) — A 10-year veteran of the Wichita, Kan., police department and former deputy sheriff of a Wyoming county was held in a county jail here today on charges of robbing an Idaho Falls bank of $12,000.

The suspect, Vern R. Kush, was being held in lieu of $15,000 bond. He was arrested in Idaho Falls shortly after the robbery. Officers said he was driving a vehicle that fit the description of the getaway car. Kush was a Natrona County deputy in 1966 but left the staff in 1967.

Anniversary observance set in eastern Idaho

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (UPI) — The age of nuclear power began 20 years ago this month when the world's first experimental breeder reactor produced enough power to light four bulbs.

The next day the entire building of the reactor was operated on nuclear electricity and four years later, in 1953, AEC, Idaho, became the first city lighted entirely with nuclear-power electricity.

The anniversary of the first production of nuclear electricity will be celebrated by eastern-Idaho communities Monday with a daylong open house featuring one of those original historic light bulbs, a Christmas tree lit with nuclear electricity and members of the original team that worked on the project.

The original experimental breeder reactor (EBR-1) which produced the first usable amount of electricity has long been retired and was memorialized as a National Historic Landmark by former President Johnson five years ago.

But since the inception of nuclear power 20 years ago, the 1,000-acre National Reactor Testing Station 40 miles west of here has housed 46 experimental and testing reactors, including the prototype reactor for submarine propulsion.

It was on Dec. 20, 1951, that a team of 16 scientists, engineers and assistants headed by Dr. Walter H. Zinn, fired up EBR-1 and generated enough steam from the heat of the fissioning atoms in the reactor core to operate the facility's turbogenerator.

The following day, Dec. 21, the supply of outside power to the facility was cut off and the reactor was operated at full power, producing about 220 kilowatts of electrical power.

Before it was retired, EBR-1 also demonstrated the feasibility of breeding fuel — producing more fuel than it consumed and opening the way to utilizing nearly all of the energy occurring in natural uranium.

Zinn, the first director of the Argonne National Laboratory, recently retired as vice president of a major supplier of nuclear-power plants to the utility industry. He and his co-workers of 20 years ago will be honored during the anniversary celebration Monday.

33 wrecks follow snow

TWIN FALLS — City police investigated 33 traffic accidents during the weekend, all occurring on icy streets.

Officers said there were no injuries and generally damage was under $500 per vehicle. At one time city officers said four accidents were under investigation at the same time Sunday night.

City street crews sanded and spread salt on major intersections to help cut down the number of collisions and prevent traffic congestion.

Sky marshal use aired

Washington (UPI) — The government was urged Sunday to take 75 per cent of its 1,400 sky marshals off airliners and put them to work stopping hijackers at the airport loading gates.

Captain J. J. O'Donnell, president of the 31,000-member Air Line Pilots Association, also suggested the Federal Aviation Administration bar passengers from carrying luggage into the passenger compartment.

"The only thing that should be allowed is a small business attaché case that would be opened for inspection when the passenger boards the airliner," O'Donnell told United Press International in a Washington Window interview.

Congress authorized the government to spend $25 million in fiscal 1972 on its sky marshal program, but sources predicted the program will be cut sharply as part of the administration's economy program.

"We figure that 75 per cent of the marshals would be better on the ground at the gates of airports" in cities such as New York, Chicago, Detroit and Miami, O'Donnell said. But he said the other 25 per cent of the marshal force should continue to be used on airliners flying high-risk hijacking routes.

Under the present anti-hijack system, the sky marshals are one-third of a security screen. Weapons detection devices, and a "psychological profile" — a formula used by ticket agents to detect muggings common to potential hijackers — make up the other two parts.

O'Donnell said the psychological profile "is so accurate it picks up 90.0 per cent of the hijackers." But O'Donnell said the day-to-day use of the psychological profile is not as effective as it could be due to the high employment turnover among airline ticket agents, and the speed required to ticket waiting passengers.

"If you have just one ticket agent pulling tickets, and trying to monitor passengers" with the psychological profile, "it is just impossible for him" to do an effective job of spotting the hijacker.

"But if the marshals were used in greater numbers at gates to bolster passenger surveillance, most of the hijackers would be prevented from getting on the airplane," O'Donnell said.

Hansen asks for House approval

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressman Orval Hansen, R-Idaho, has asked for House approval of his bill providing for more equitable treatment of veterans enrolled in vocational education.

In a statement to the House Veterans Affairs Committee, which is holding hearings on the legislation, Hansen said his bill would standardize veteran absences charged against Voc-Tech and candidates for standard college degrees in computing their educational assistance allowance.

Hansen said under the present law veterans enrolled in courses not leading to an academic degree are paid no allowance for absences in excess of 30 days a calendar year other than weekends and legal holidays. Included among "absences" are school designated vacations such as Christmas vacation.

The current law also stipulates that the Voc-Tech veteran will not be paid his education allowance each month until the VA administrator has received certification of his actual attendance.

"This law is grossly unfair," the Idaho Republican said. "These provisions do not apply to veterans enrolled in courses which lead to a standard college degree, but only to Voc-Tech students."

He added, "The practical result of this differentiation militates against justice and common sense."

India winner after week

NEW DELHI (UPI) — After a week of war with Pakistan, India is winning militarily and politically.

On the war front, Indian troops have shattered the outer defenses of East Pakistan and appeared to be in a position to capture the East Pakistani capital of Dacca. Military sources said the Indian military have been told to take Dacca by Monday night.

East Pakistan, said to be defended by 90,000 West Pakistani troops, was hopelessly cut off from its supply base in the west 1,200 miles away. India rules the skies over East Pakistan and claimed to have destroyed all the 16 F86 Sabrejet fighters aloft to the east.

Once one of the largest nations in the world with a population estimated at close to 140 million, Pakistan now appears certain to become cut in two with an independent "Peoples Republic of Bangla Desh (Bengal Land)" taking the place of East Pakistan.

Analysis

The division will leave West Pakistan about 65 million people and an area of 310,403 square miles adjoining Iran, Afghanistan, India and China.

Bangla Desh, with an area of only 64,501 square miles bordering India (on three sides) and Burma, will have a population of 75 million if all the estimated 10 million refugees who fled to India return.

Civil war in the east has badly disrupted the economies of both Pakistani wings. The east had been the world's largest jute exporter and as such earned 60 percent of undivided Pakistan's foreign exchange. Its loss is expected to put a severe strain on the Pakistani treasury.

A good deal of trouble in the past resulted because the lighter skinned Pathans and Punjabis who ruled Pakistan from the west did not like the darker skinned, talkative, politically active Bengalis who populate the east. West Pakistan's military crackdown on the east began on March 25 because the Bengalis, led by Sheikh Mujibur Rahman, were bent on forming a national government.

Eight months of civil strife, political maneuvering and one of the great exoduses in modern history culminated Dec. 3 in the start of India's third war with Pakistan in 24 years.

The establishment of Bangla Desh will fulfill three of India's long term objectives: — An international black eye for persistent foe Pakistan, loss of face and more than half of its people and hard currency income and substantial reduction in its international importance and influence. Hence, its virtual removal as a serious rival to India on the subcontinent.

— A friendly eastern neighbor, dependent on India for advice and assistance.

— A homeland for the 10 million refugees currently in India, most of them in camps in the already crowded problem state of West Bengal. (It is too soon to say whether the Hindus, who make up 50 to 70 per cent of the refugees will go back but India has been trying to portray Bangla Desh as a secular, non-discriminatory state. Like Pakistan, Bangla Desh will be overwhelmingly muslim.)

Committee adopts goals during Boise conference

BOISE (UPI) — The State-wide Housing Coalition will ask the 1972 legislature to establish a state housing agency, adopt state housing code standards, and write a law governing landlord-tenant relationships.

The temporary steering committee for the coalition adopted these goals at a meeting in Boise Sunday.

The committee will meet again Jan. 10, the opening day of the legislature, to give final approval to draft legislation.

Gov. Cecil Andrus met with the committee for an hour and a half Sunday, listening to suggestions and problems and offering some of his own ideas.

He stressed that he would want proposals for a new agency to be compatible with his ideas for state government reorganization, and suggested that the coalition seek to achieve its goals without creating a brand new State housing authority, or where a local housing authority is in existence but is not acting.

The proposed housing code would also take effect where there is no local housing code, and would also provide minimum and maximum standards for local codes.

The committee discussed in detail a draft of the landlord-tenant bill. It would spell out the responsibilities of the people on both sides of a rental agreement, and would provide protections for each.

The coalition went on record as wanting the membership of a state housing agency to consist of a majority of members from low income groups, with representation given to minority groups and senior citizens.

Under its proposals, the state housing agency would be authorized to act to upgrade housing in areas where there is no local housing authority, or where a local housing authority is in existence but is not acting.

American dramatist Marc Connelly was born Dec. 13, 1890.

On this day in history:
In 1642 New Zealand was discovered and named by Dutch navigator Abel Tasman.

In 1918 American soldiers attached to the U.S. 3rd Army crossed the Rhine at Coblenz, Germany.

In 1941 the Japanese demanded the British surrender of Hong Kong. Britain refused and the Japanese began an concentrated air attack on the crown colony.

In 1948 James Melillo's 11 1/2-month ban on phonograph records by members of his American Federation of Musicians ended.

Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, founded in Troy, N.Y. in 1824, is the oldest engineering school in America.

A thought for today: American poet Ralph Waldo Emerson said, "The only reward of virtue is virtue: The only way to have a friend is to be one."

Sarnoff dies at 80 of infection

NEW YORK (UPI) —David Sarnoff, who rose from a Russian immigrant paperboy to one of the giants of the communications industry, died Sunday of complications from an infection. He was 80.

Sarnoff's communications career was launched April 14, 1912, when he was the first American to hear word of the sinking of the Titanic. He went on to pioneer both radio and television and rose to chairman of RCA Corp.

He retired from RCA in 1970, but retained the title of honorary chairman until his death. He had suffered from the ear infection for several years and underwent a series of operations to try to correct it.

The body will repose at the Frank E. Campbell Funeral Home today and Tuesday. Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday in Temple Emanuel.

"Gen. Sarnoff had the qualities of spirit that embody the highest tradition of our nation — imagination, daring, patriotism and generosity," President Nixon said Sunday. "Mrs. Nixon and I join his family and the nation at large in mourning the passing of this gifted American."

Neither an investor nor an originator of the electronic means which brought the radio-television boom, Sarnoff was a man who saw clearly the potential of these new inventions and gambled on their success, even in the darkest of times.

Born Feb. 27, 1891 in the small Russian village of Uzman, near Minsk, Sarnoff came to the United States in 1900 with his parents. After his father's death he sold newspapers on the streets of New York and later went to work as a copy boy for Marconi Wireless.

As an operator for Marconi, Sarnoff had the tedious job the night of April 14, 1912, of monitoring broadcasts at an experimental wireless station at the top of Wanamaker's Department Store on Broadway.

It was there that he heard the first faint SOS that would shock the world: "S.S. Titanic ran into iceberg, sinking fast."

For 72 hours, Sarnoff sat by the wireless set relaying to the world the news of the sinking of the "unsinkable" ship and copying down the names of the survivors.

President William Howard Taft ordered all other stations in the country to shut down to minimize interference with the signals coming from the doomed ship.

Sarnoff's actions in those days earned him a succession of rapid advancements at Marconi. In 1916, he sent his famous message, saying, "I have in mind a plan of development which would make radio a household utility in the same sense as a piano or phonograph. The idea is to bring music into the home by wireless."

He predicted sales of radios would reach $75 million, but in the first three years of production alone sales reached $83 million. In 1923 he sent his second famous memo, stating, "I believe that television, which is the technical name for seeing as well as hearing by radio, will come to pass in due course."

Another of his hopes, a central broadcasting organization, was realized in 1926 when RCA formed a subsidiary which was to become the National Broadcasting Co.

Although best known for his work in communications, Sarnoff was the major influence in building RCA into a multifaceted corporation that at the time of his death was grossing more than $3 billion annually.

Mansfield says Muskie leads field

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said Sunday that Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, although still an undeclared candidate, was leading the field among Democratic presidential contenders and that he was gaining strength.

Mansfield also said that President Nixon's vulnerability in his bid for re-election depended on the state of the economy and the military situation in Indochina, which he indicated might give the Democrats some campaign leverage.

Mansfield was interviewed on television, CBS' Face the Nation.

"I think that Muskie is beginning to acquire that 'star quality,'" said Mansfield, "necessary to project him above his competitors. Muskie is leading and gaining strength."

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., said Mansfield, "does not want to run in 1972" despite speculation to the contrary.

As for Nixon, Mansfield said that his prospects for reelection would hinge primarily on the state of the economy and the degree of U.S. disengagement in Indochina.

Mansfield said that he did not believe foreign policy would have much bearing on the 1972 elections, except for the case of Indochina, where he said even maintenance of a noncombat residual U.S. force would provide the Democrats with a campaign issue.

But a big issue, he said, could be "the dollar ... unemployment ... inflation ... if it is not controlled he is going to have a most difficult time being re-elected."

Students say they made busing program work out

PONTIAC, Mich. (UPI) — An interracial group of school children have a "news flash" for parents aroused over the city's court-ordered busing program to integrate schools.

"Students made it work. While parents riot, or picket or pray, we kept our cool. We came to school. We made it work!"

The children, calling themselves "The Group," have been going from school to school presenting assembly programs to show the positive side of integration in the classrooms.

"When school started in September," said Sheryl Toby, a seventh grade honor student at Jefferson Junior High School, "there were all those newspaper people around asking questions of the parents and teachers. Very few of 'em talked to us kids."

"We decided that that was wrong and we should say something. We also decided that if parents would leave the kids alone, everything would come out fine."

The parents Sheryl was talking about were spearheaded by the National Action Group (NAG), which was formed to work against forced busing to achieve integration.

"The Group" began at Jefferson and then branched out, gaining recruits at other schools under the motto, "We can make it work."

"The assemblies are to offer other students an opportunity to join our club," said Kevin Sweeney, a seventh-grader and club president. "We sing songs, dance and act out skits. Then we offer a challenge to the audience."

Their "news flash" is printed on a large placard for all to see.

Most states shirk birth control responsibility

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Most states are shirking their legal responsibility to provide birth control information and devices for low-income women under the federal government's illegitimacy prevention program, a government study said Sunday.

"There has been little directed effort on the part of the states to comply with federal guidelines to initiate programs aimed at preventing illegitimacy," said the study done for the Health, Education and Welfare Department (HEW).

HEW estimates that 2.3 million children in welfare families were born illegitimately. However, it estimates about 65 per cent of the more than 7 million welfare children were born in wedlock.

The study was a mail survey of all state welfare departments and 266 county and city welfare agencies. Its purpose was to determine how well states were following requirements of 1967 amendments to the Social Security Act and 1968 HEW guidelines on family planning. One amendment required states to offer and provide family planning services to all "appropriate" welfare recipients and to establish programs aimed at preventing illegitimacy. HEW rules to implement the law said, in part, that family planning should "specifically include medical contraceptive services (diagnosis, treatment, supplies and followup) social services, and educational services."

The survey found that only 12 states reported they had established functioning programs, and that their combined annual spending totaled only about $2.5 million. About 90 per cent of the money is used for drugs and devices and only 10 per cent for medical services, the study said.

The nine other states, which each planned to spend under $100,000, were Arizona, Florida, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Ohio, Oregon, South Dakota and Wyoming.

Only 10 states estimated that as many as one in every five welfare families headed by females was receiving family planning services, the study said. The 1967 amendments mandated family planning services to these families.

The study said Massachusetts and Wisconsin "had restrictions that severely limited the delivery of family planning services by their welfare departments.

"Most states blamed shortages of money and qualified staff or geographic problems for lacking in providing services," it said. "Some had trouble raising local matching money to take advantage of federal funds."

"But perhaps even more important is the factor of insufficient political motivation for organized pressure for these expenditures despite the fact that two successive administrations have stressed that the provision of family planning services to all who need and want them is vital to the national interests," the study concluded.

The report was published in the current issue of Family Planning Perspective, a professional journal.

Airplanes evacuate 435 from Pakistan

CALCUTTA (UPI) — Three British Royal Air Force transport planes evacuated 435 foreigners from the besieged East Pakistan capital of Dacca Sunday, circling the airport before landing while those awaiting evacuation cleared and patched a runway with their bare hands.

"Some of those craters were 10 feet deep," said Robert L. Barr of Albuquerque, N.M., of the 110 Americans among the evacuees.

Barr, a consulting engineer who had been working in Dacca, and other men among those who had been waiting for evacuation since the Indo-Pakistan war began nine days ago did the work themselves to give the planes a place to land at Dacca's airport.

Indian warplanes have been attacking the airport, daily, opening up bomb craters in the runways and clogging them with debris. But India agreed to a "four-hour cessation" of the attacks Sunday, and Pakistani officials in Dacca reversed a previous regulation and allowed the evacuation planes from Calcutta to land.

The three C130 Hercules transports, one of which made two 70-minute round-trip flights to Dacca, brought the evacuees to this Indian city. A total of 293 of the evacuees, 78 of them American, flew on later in the day from Calcutta to Singapore where the British planes are based.

The planes, designed to carry a maximum passenger load of 82, averaged 109 passengers per flight on the evacuation. Diplomatic officials here said 20 foreigners, none of them Americans, were left behind at the Dacca airport because there was no room for them on the last flight and not enough time for another flight before the evacuation deadline expired at 2 p.m.

"It was mainly the British and American menfolk who cleared the rubble and patched the craters so the planes could land," said Mrs. Elizabeth Calvery of Soking, Surrey, England. "They worked with their bare hands."

British officials said 400 Britons were evacuated from Islamabad in West Pakistan Sunday in a separate operation. Those evacuated from Islamabad were flown to the British base in Masiran in the Persian Gulf, where they were to make connecting flights to Cyprus. A Soviet Aeroflot airliner also evacuated 180 Russians from Islamabad Sunday.

Art could be answer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Retarded youngsters and young adults, if encouraged, might be able to make their living by painting or sketching.

Wilmer James, director of the Exceptional Children's Foundation Art Center in Los Angeles, is out to prove that premise.

"The Art Center is my way of showing that these people are gifted instead of retarded," she said in an interview while in New York showing some of her students' paintings. They are priced from $50 to $300. Professional appraisers have told Mrs. James that the prices she put on the paintings are too low.

"The trainable retarded (I.Q. of 50 and above) are not to be dismissed as a burden to society," she said.

"Retarded means slowed down. Nobody is completely retarded in all areas. I haven't seen a student in seven years who couldn't do something. They ought to be accepted for their talents."

Mrs. James said in most cases the art of the retarded is better than that of others because it hasn't been tampered with.

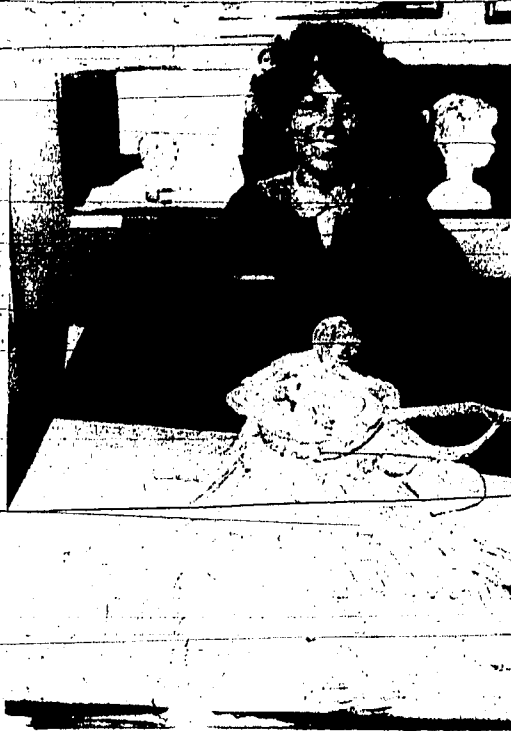

"The retarded are less restricted; they are not prone to criticism of others and don't react to peer influence, or don't work in competition.

"They haven't had a chance to have schools and parents take the creativity out of them with coloring books and by insisting that their artwork always be something adults can recognize. Nobody has bothered to take the creativity out of the retarded."

The Art Center's products are sold nationwide through the Flame of Hope. A catalogue is available from the organization at 502A Washington St., Wellesley, Mass.

The subjects of paintings and sketches include people, houses and trees, landscapes and bugs. There are few abstracts and practically nothing relating to contemporary newsmakers and issues—such as the space program.

One of the most prolific artists, Milton Davis, 21 does pen and ink sketches, using black and colored inks. One of his works in the New York show had this message printed in black letters over the silhouettes of green, yellow and red persons: "There are black people, there are white people, there are Mexican people. There are many other races of people. We are part of God. Whether if we know it or not God loves all of us. So why not show him that we really can love one another and not war?"

Jewelry sales help drug rehab program

NEW YORK (UPI)—The new fashions have moved out of the costume-y "do your own thing" look. They've moved back to the pattern of sanity.

Some of the pretty looks for spring rise from designers' nostalgia for the glamour clothes of the 1930s and '40s (there goes the influence of the late, law shows again!)

Some rise from the fact that women simply wouldn't go for the mid-, or mid-calf length, which, let's face it, was just not becoming to many women.

This back-to-clean-cut shapes, to the tidy and elegant look showed throughout collections buyers and some press first saw in late October and early November when New York designers first previewed their spring collections.

The trend was reaffirmed this week with the American Designer Group (ADG) showings staged for visiting reporters from all news media.

As Eleanor Lambert, who organizes the ADG showings put it, the spring "slicked up look ... signals that the pace-setters are tired of the mess and intend to do something about it ... elegance has recaptured its full dictionary definition."

Gone are the kooky clothes, the gypsy costumes, the "just raided the attic" look.

The general sprucing up begins with the silhouette. The figure always is clearly defined, basically slender but with wider shoulders, with the waistline shaped in, with or without a belt ... whatever their cut (pleats, godets, flares or gathers), all skirts flare at the hem.

Here is how designers see women shaping up for spring.

In the hat department, the Millinery Institute of America reports that "great looks" are the pull-down around the face clutches, reminiscent of the 1930s. The institute sees little future for the coolie hat, even though the rest of the fashion world is now on a Chinese kick.

Necklines and sleeves. For day, the big bow ties at the throat, plus wide flat collars abound. The white collar girl is back, with linen, organza and other fabrics in white used for both big collars and cuffs.

Sleeves are fuller again and many are exaggerated versions of the oriental kimono sleeve. Necklines for evening are bare, bare, bare, as designers cut out backs, slash fronts to the waist, and revive the halter neckline, high in front, backless in the rear. The bare-shouldered, strapless evening dresses are back.

Bustline. Clothes shaped to show the figure in what designer Mollie Parnis calls a return to clothes that make a woman whistle bait.

Waistline. On display. Designers belt it, or cut clothes on the princess shape (bias with flared skirt) so that the waist is definitely accented.

Hips. A boom year for the woman who wants a little disguise here. Those gathered skirts help camouflage.

Legs. The dominant hemline length is the one just covering the knees.

MR. AND MRS. MARK WILLIAM LEE

Miss Patterson, Lee recite vows

GOODING — On Dec. 1, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Denn Patterson, Rupert, became the bride of Mark William Lee, Fairfield.

Rev. Edson G. Gilmore performed the double-ring ceremony before 200 guests in the First United Methodist Church at Gooding. Large floral baskets of red and white flowers and red candles formed the background. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride wore an original floor-length straight wedding gown of peau de soie. The bodice and full-length sleeves were designed in Venise lace.

Her veil of French silk illusion was shoulder-length and attached to a pearlized fabric flowerette.

The bride's bouquet was red roses. She wore a necklace and earrings belonging to her mother. The traditional blue garter belonged to her sister, Mrs. Rodney Pridmore, Boise.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Pridmore and bridesmaids were Joan Riley and Kelly Pridmore, both Richfield, and Christy Glesler, Pocatello.

Serving as best man was Monty Funkhouser, Pendleton, Ore. Rick Glesler, Twin Falls, was groomsmen and Ray Tschannen, Bliss, and Bill Patterson, Spanish Ranch, Nevada, brother of the bride, were ushers.

Organist was Brenda Hiatt, Richfield. She and Cheryl Hiatt, also Richfield, sang with Miss Hiatt playing guitar accompaniment.

The candles were lighted by the ushers.

Mindy Funkhouser was flower girl and her brother Lonny was ringbearer. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Funkhouser, Fairfield.

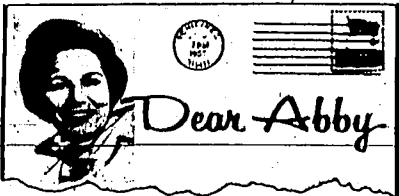

Candy Tester, Boise, cousin of the bride, registered guests. Gifts were arranged by Lori Patterson, Gooding, another cousin of the bride, and Louanne Edwards, Richfield.

A three-tiered wedding cake, flanked by two small heart shaped cakes, was served from a lace covered table. Table decorations were red and white. Sherrie Pridmore, Twin Falls, served the cake, and Miss Tester presided at the coffee service, while Lorie Pridmore, Richfield, was at the punch bowl. The women of the Gooding Women's Society of Christian Service catered the reception. The cake was baked by Mrs. Velma Blissett, Gooding.

Special guests included Mrs. Letha Tester, Gooding, grandmother of the bride; Mrs. Hyrum Lee, Gooding, grandmother of the bride; Mrs. J. T. Patterson, Gooding, great-grandmother of the bride, and Mrs. Max Funkhouser, Jeffrey City, Wyo.

Guests attending the wedding and reception were from Gooding, Boise, Pocatello, Richfield, Fairfield, Twin Falls, Nevada, Oregon and Wyoming.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Patterson gave the rehearsal dinner for the wedding party.

DEAR READERS: I recently published a letter which I found extremely difficult to answer. I wavered between two opposite solutions. I asked my husband. He asked others. I then asked my readers how they would answer it. The letter:

DEAR ABBY: My husband's boss has invited us to a "housewarming party," which my husband feels we must attend. I disagree.

His boss's wife had surgery recently and was found to have inoperable cancer. [The wife doesn't know this.] The boss sent her to Europe [where she came from] to be with her mother while she's "recoverating." He told her he'd join her in three months and bring her home. But it's obvious that he's banking on her not lasting that long, because the day after she left he moved his girl friend into their home and they've been living together ever since. [She's a divorcee whose husband got custody of their children, so you know what she's like.]

This unmarried team goes everywhere together, knowing that no one is going to tell his dying wife what's going on. They have now moved into a deluxe high-rise apartment furnished with the European wife's generous dowry, and we are invited to the housewarming.

My husband says if we don't attend it will mean his job, and jobs aren't exactly hanging on trees these days. Am I wrong for refusing to go? Or is my husband wrong for insisting that we do? CAUGHT IN A BIND

My suggested replies:

1. Dear Caught: Your first consideration is to your husband. Close your eyes, hold your heart, and go!

2. Tell your husband that he can help "warm" their house if he wants to, but the setup leaves you cold, and you're not going!

The surprising results: Number of responses: 877,091. Don't go: 566,001 [predominantly female]. Go: 311,090 [predominantly male].

Some interesting observations: The youngest voter was a nine-year-old girl reader of the New York Post. [She voted for Number 2.] The oldest was a 98-year-old female Los Angeles Times reader. [She voted for Number 1.]

Of the females who said, "Go," slightly more than 40 per cent added, "your first duty is to your husband."

Of all who voted "Don't go," and indicated that they were under 30, a surprisingly high number added, "and be sure the boss knows your absence is in protest to his immoral behavior."

Those who voted "Don't go," and indicated they were 40 or older, suggested in overwhelming numbers, "Don't go," but make up an excuse, a sick child, the wife came down with the flu, or some sudden family emergency came up.

I heard from "Nursing Homes," where the majority of women said, "Don't go," and the men said, "Go!"

Some male inmates of the Federal Prison in Sandstone, Minn., agreed that the husband should go, but the wife should not.

Nine sisters at the Saint Rose Academy Convent in San Francisco voted for "Don't go." One sister voted "Go."

The Padres of Mission Dolores Basilica wrote, "After years of marriage counseling experience and the overruling principle of Christian charity and emphasis on commitment to spouse, we took a closed ballot and amazed ourselves with a unanimous vote for Number Two!"

The mail is still pouring in, and my mailman is not speaking to me, but tomorrow I shall use my entire column to share with you some of the most quotable replies accompanying the votes.

And to those of you who responded, thank you. ABBY

Fashions move back to sanity

NEW YORK (UPI)—A fine New York department store's supply of Reality House jewelry is depleted—sold on its merits at $15 to $100 per piece. The people who bought it didn't know they were helping a unique drug rehabilitation program.

A new supply is being made the same way the first pieces were. The ingredients include patience, some tears, a little frustration and anger, a lot of striving for perfection.

The jewelry which not long ago was featured in Vogue is made by women and men, ranging in age from 17 to early 50s, enrolled in a rapidly expanding rehabilitation center for drug addicts, in upper Harlem.

Founded in 1967, Reality House offers men and women free of charge a coordinated program of rehabilitation with workshop experience. Amos Henix, the director, had been on the staff at Exodus House, when he helped found Reality House.

He felt Harlem needed a storefront drug rehabilitation place. Exodus was the drug treatment center where Henix, who had spent 13 years in prison, was rehabilitated. It is a residential treatment center.

Now 42, Henix turned over a job leaf when he was 33. He is the personification of a person who sought a long time for his identity and finally has found it as an important person in the mainstream of society. He says that is what he's trying to do for those who sign in at Reality House, under the program supported by contributions and funds from New York state.

What is outstanding about the Reality House program, which spans two years of torture track therapy: Among those who have stayed in the program the prescribed 24 months there have been no repeaters.

Among those who stayed in the program 12 months, two-thirds also have stayed out of trouble. The Reality House success is considered fantastic in circles where people labor to rehabilitate addicts in particular.

Many on the staff are Reality House graduates. The theory is that a person who has been on drugs can best help others find a happy ending.

One-third of those helped by Reality House are female. Many among these, once they have broken the narcotics-jail-narcotics cycle, are running community-sponsored drug rehabilitation centers in many parts of New York.

The street program has touched 775 troubled persons since its inception. That it has succeeded is a tribute to the toughness of the program, run with an almost West Point-like discipline.

What is astounding about the successes, according to Henix, is that Reality House isn't a haven for the addicts.

"No coddling goes on here," he said. "Our people go right back to their lousy environments every night. They've got to deal with the same temptations day after day—the pusher on the corner, the friend who offers a joint. And they've got to be strong."

What happened during the evening and night away from the program comes out during group therapy sessions scheduled each day. At present, there are nearly a dozen sessions for some 116 persons.

"This is where it all hangs out," Henix said. "It's rough. It's very rough. But it's a dirty business—drugs. No matter how rough it gets here, though, it's all better than being strung out on drugs."

A Lovelier You PREPARE FOR MISTLETOE

Before you hang the mistletoe, schedule your beauty moves for the next three weeks. It takes more than luck to look your loveliest at any time. It takes good planning. During the press of holidays, it takes extra good planning.

A basic schedule follows. It should be adapted, of course, to individual needs.

Whether you frequent a salon or are a do-it-yourself girl, be sure you have reserved enough time for shampoo, cut, trim, massage, pedicures and any other regularly required jobs. Salon bookings are seldom available much after this date. Home duties get squeezed out by other pressures unless you block out sufficient time for them.

If a permanent, tint or touch-up is in order, make haste to have it. Perms improve with aging. Coloring can never await an occasion; neglect becomes apparent.

Take stock of your cosmetics, manicure aids and hair-grooming supplies. Make certain you have a full quota before you're caught short on a big evening.

Double up on whatever treatment causes your skin to bloom. If you have never used a mask or stimulation cream, now could be the time.

Keep "premium" tabs on your wardrobe. That stillet in time enables you to have the thing you want to wear.

STRICTLY PERSONAL

Few panels produce laws, candidates

By ARNOLD B. SAWISLAK

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There are two congressional committees that produce labor laws, antipoverty programs, school aid and, for some reason known only to the political gods of chance, presidential candidates.

Four of the five men who represented the Republicans and Democrats in the three presidential elections during the 1960's served on the House Education and Labor Committee, the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee, or both.

This year, three members of Congress who are announced or potential presidential candidates serve on the two committees and a fourth already has been in and out of the White House sweepstakes.

Back in 1947, the Senate committee was headed by Robert A. Taft, the Ohio Republican who was the front-runner for the GOP nomination in 1952 until Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower got into the contest. That year, at the start of the 80th Congress, House elders assigned two freshmen, Democrat John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Republican Richard M. Nixon of California to the Education and Labor Committee.

Nixon went to the Senate in

Analysis

1951 and joined the Labor and Public Welfare Committee. Kennedy went to the Senate in 1953 and went on the committee, but Nixon already had moved on to the vice presidency.

While Democrat Eugene McCarthy was one who never served on the committees, his rival for the 1968 presidential nomination, Robert F. Kennedy, was a member of the Senate panel.

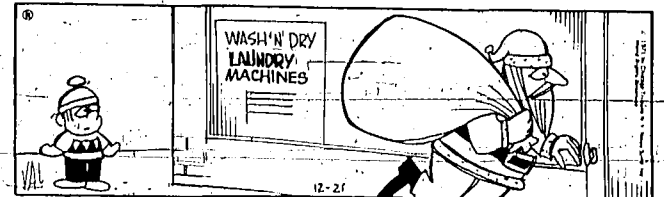

Now, the third of the Kennedy brothers, Edward, is a member of Senate Labor and Public Welfare. He says he will not run for president in 1972, but there are plenty who do not believe it. One of Kennedy's current committee colleagues, Harold Hughes of Iowa, already has tested the climate for seeking the Democratic nomination and announced he will not be a candidate. Most observers believe him.

Back on the House side, the Education and Labor Committee has an announced presidential aspirant in Rep. Shirley Chisholm, D-N.Y., the first black woman elected to Congress. The Republican side of the committee got its potential presidential candidate recently when a group of conservatives unhappy with the trend of the administration, tapped Rep. John Ashbrook, R-Ohio, to carry the flag against Nixon.

Nixon achieves goal with court

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon apparently has achieved his stated goal of turning the U.S. Supreme Court from an activist role on social issues to one of restraint.

The court took on a decided conservative cast Friday when the Senate confirmed in a 68 to 26 vote after a week of heated debate the appointment of William H. Rehnquist, 47, a Goldwater Republican and assistant attorney general.

Senate liberals, who had attacked Rehnquist's record on civil rights, gave up their fight to block confirmation after concluding they could, at best, only delay the favorable vote until early next week.

Another conservative, Richmond, Va., attorney Lewis F. Powell Jr., 64, was confirmed earlier in an 89 to 1 vote. He and Rehnquist will take their seats when the court returns to work from its Christmas recess Jan. 10.

Powell was nominated to succeed the late Associate Justice Hugo Black and Rehnquist to occupy the seat vacated by Associate Justice John M. Harlan, who retired.

When Nixon nominated Powell and Rehnquist Oct. 21, he characterized them as judicial conservatives.

Nixon hailed the confirmation of Rehnquist and Powell by saying both men had undergone intensive scrutiny and been found thoroughly qualified.

"Indeed, I believe they bring to the bench such an exceptional degree of integrity and intellect and so keen an understanding of the judicial process that the quality of court decisions should be enhanced for years to come," Nixon said.

Nixon now has appointed four members of the Supreme Court. His earlier picks who won confirmation were Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Associate Justice Harry A. Blackmun. Two of his nominees, Clement F. Haynsworth and G. Harrold Carswell, were rejected by the Senate.

With Associate Justices Byron White and Potter Stewart generally on the conservative side of issues, the President clearly has changed the balance of the tribunal.

Only Justices William O. Douglas, Thurgood Marshall and William Brennan Jr. remain from the liberal majority that dominated the court during the chief justiceship of Earl Warren.

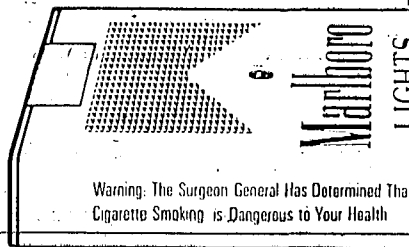

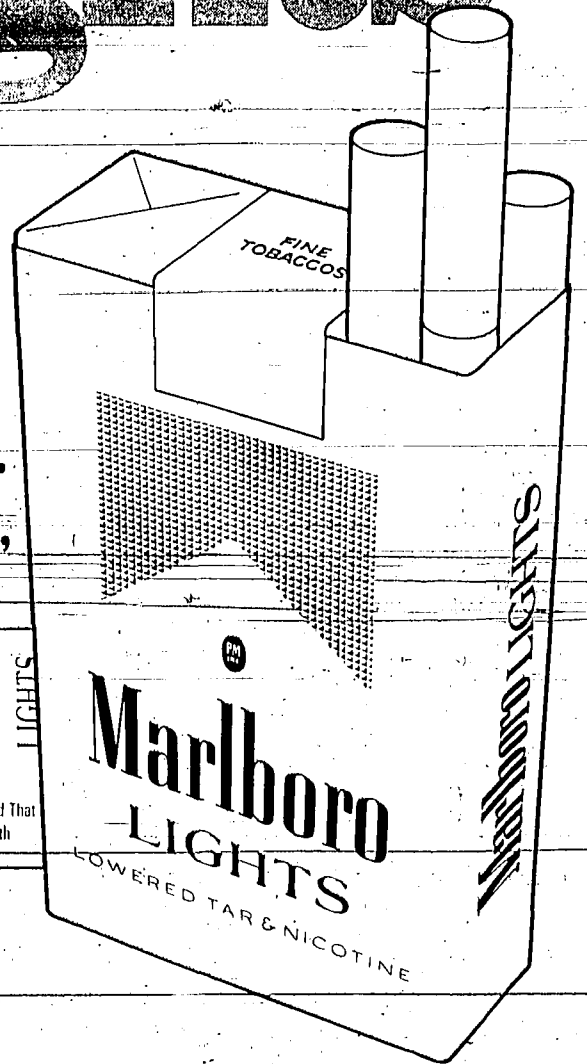

Powell was confirmed with only mild opposition, both within the Senate and without.

Barefoot mother found in storm

BOISE, Idaho (UPI)—A barefoot young mother was sitting in the middle of a lonely mountain road in a swirling snowstorm when Forrest Fleck rounded the curve in his plowing rig.

"She was nearly frozen and incoherent," said Fleck, who drove Wilma Lindsey 14 miles to Idaho City, the nearest town. She told authorities her two children were still in the wilderness.

Searchers found one son, Matthew, 3, alive in a car, but her other son, 8-month-old Andrew, was discovered frozen to death under 10 inches of new snow.

Mrs. Lindsey, 26, was listed in "fair" condition with exposure and frostbite at a Boise hospital. Matthew was examined and discharged in the custody of his father, David Lindsey.

Boise County Sheriff John Williams said Mrs. Lindsey, of Emmett, was driving over Mores Creek Summit with her children Saturday evening when her car became stranded during a storm that dumped a foot of new snow in the area overnight.

Williams said the woman told him she left her older child in the car and tried to walk to Idaho City with the baby. Two miles from the car, she collapsed, apparently, after dropping the infant in the snow, the sheriff said. Williams estimated the temperature was 13-25 during the night.

Fleck, a highway department snowplow operator, said he discovered the woman about 6 a.m. Sunday sitting barefoot and clad in long pants, a blouse and a light jacket. He "couldn't get her to talk" because she was so cold.

The sheriff said Mrs. Lindsey last was seen in Emmett Saturday evening but he had no idea how she got on the road to Idaho City, about 100 miles east. The roadway is plowed during the winter, but is frequently closed to traffic during major storms, isolating the small community.

"We really haven't found out why she was up there in the first place," said Williams, who said he or a deputy would question the woman when her condition improves. He speculated she lost her shoes in the long walk from her car.

Two hours after Fleck found the woman, searchers discovered young Matthew in the car. It took three more hours before they found the baby's body buried in the snow.

Depot closure looms

PENDING BEFORE THE Idaho State Public Utilities Commission, Boise, is a hearing date on Union Pacific's request to close the Ketchum depot agency. Presently, the railroad has only one more agency on the branch.

Date pends on hearing at Ketchum

KETCHUM — No date has been set by the Idaho Public Utilities Commission on a request by the Union Pacific Railroad to close its agency at Ketchum.

A spokesman for the commission said the selection of a hearing date is pending.

C. R. Rockwell, Salt Lake City, division engineer for the railroad, said the application filed with the PUC asked only that the railroad not be required to have an agent on duty at the depot.

"The move, he said, 'implies no change in train service or schedule.'" Rockwell said the request was made because "the depot lacks sufficient business to support an agent."

Currently, one agent is on duty at the station from 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. five days a week. One train a week serves the Ketchum branch, which leaves the UP's main line at Shoshone.

Rockwell said the agent at Ketchum and an agent at Shoshone are the only two depot agents serving the branch line.

He said the railroad has closed agencies before and whenever possible it tries "to get away from needless expense."

Directors elected

SUN VALLEY — Seven members of the board of directors of the Ketchum-Sun Valley Chamber of Commerce were elected during the chamber's annual election and installation meeting Saturday night.

New directors are Don Bedford, Bill Brohan, Lorraine Curtis, Maggie Cutler, Ross Fitzpatrick, Ed Pilkerton and Billie Thompson. They were elected for one-year terms.

State units get funding

BOISE (UPI) — An additional $106,500 is being divided among six health districts in the state to help them maintain current programs for the next six months, the secretary of the Idaho Board of Health reported Sunday.

Dr. Terrell O. Carver, secretary and administrator, said the funds are derived from state sources and federal grants. He said the new allocation is based upon the districts' request and their indicated need.

Carver said, "The State Board of Health was unable to fulfill the financial requests of the district health departments last spring when it allowed the reduced Health appropriation made by the 41st Legislature.

"Since that time, the district boards of health have notified the State Board of Health they would be unable to continue present levels of public health service without additional money."

The additional allocations for each district are:

- District One — $24,300 — Coeur d'Alene, serving Boundary, Bonner, Kootenai, Benewah and Shoshone counties.
- District Two — $11,000 — Lewiston, serving Latah, Clearwater, Nez Perce, Lewis and Idaho counties.
- District Three — no monies — Caldwell, adequate funding and no additional funds were requested.
- District Four — $17,200 — Boise, serving Boise, Valley, Ada and Elmore counties.
- District Five — $8,100 — Twin Falls, serving Camas, Blaine, Gooding, Lincoln, Jerome, Mindoka, Twin Falls and Cassin counties.
- District Six — $36,500 — Pocatello, serving Butte, Bingham, Power, Bannock, Caribou, Oneida, Franklin and Bear Lake counties.
- District Seven — $10,500 — Idaho Falls, serving Lemhi, Custer, Clark, Fremont, Jefferson, Madison, Teton and Bonneville counties.

Work starts on 181-space park

KETCHUM — Surveying and rough grading have been completed for a 181-space "luxury" mobile home park three miles south of Ketchum off U. S. Highway 93.

Spokesmen for the developers—Examiner Realty Inc. of Idaho—say the park will be ready for occupancy by July, 1972.

Termed Mountain Meadows, the development will be located on a 35-acre site southeast of the Red Top Motel. Spokesmen say the park will be screened from the roadway by the banks of Cornstock Canal, which runs along the west side of the site, and will be encompassed by a landscaped green belt.

Mountain Meadows will accommodate 136 permanent sites for single or double-wide mobile homes with 45 spaces set aside for overnight travel trailers. Lot size will be 50 by 110 feet with a density of six trailers per acre.

All utility lines, spokesmen say, will be buried. The park will have lighted and paved streets, telephone and cable television connections, a baseball field and family recreation areas.

The recreation service center features a recreation room, showers, toilets, laundromat and ice and soft drink machines. Fenced storage space for snowmobiles, trailers, boats and other vehicles will be provided as well as a corral for horses, say spokesmen.

A significant feature of the Mountain Meadows park is a self-contained sewage treatment plant which will process all of the waste disposal. The system utilizes an aeration process and is completely odorless, discharging water that is "crystal clear and virtually pure," eliminating ecological problems, according to development spokesmen.

Gordon Glasman, executive of Examiner Realty Inc., said, "Mountain Meadows is the largest, most modern, luxury mobile home park to be built in an Idaho recreation area."

Reservations are now being taken for the July, 1972, opening.

Ravenscroft plans Senate seat race

If he does run, it is evident he would campaign as a multiple use conservationist. Saturday, in Twin Falls, he was re-elected to the office of president of the Idaho Public Land Resource Council.

In his annual report, at that time, he said "during the past year we have seen at least four serious proposals from preservation-minded groups that would have long-term detrimental effect on the economy and the society of Idaho." The proposals, he said, are "neither desirable, responsible or realistic."

Ravenscroft gave these proposals as:

- (1) — The recent announcement of the forest service that in northern Idaho the combined influence of revised cutting practice and exclusion from harvest of all currently unroaded forest areas would reduce the total allowable timber cut for the northern counties by some 50 per cent.
- (2) — Ravenscroft said this would mean a serious reduction in payrolls, a partial loss of present manufacturing facilities and an increasing pressure on the privately owned timber.
- (3) — A recent serious proposal of a health planning committee that the Idaho Legislature adopt and the state administration implement a policy of "no growth" for the state of Idaho.
- (4) — The Sawtooth Park proposal of 1970 which would have established park boundaries at the lower timber line in Sawtooth Valley. This, he said, would have necessitated removal or destruction of four or more church camps, numerous well-planned summer homes, and would have eliminated big game hunting and therefore management on a significant acreage of fragile granite-type soils.

(4) — The Packwood bill for the recreational management of the middle Snake, as currently worded, would authorize the secretary of agriculture to manage that area "in his judgment" to assure and preserve certain recreational, sociological and historical values.

Ravenscroft maintained that any "judgment" that involved a minimum flow of 10,000 C.F.S. or more would totally commit the present—unobliterated—dry year flow of the Snake River at Weiser. He advocated an intelligent "middle ground position" in the use of public lands and water resources in Idaho.

"A recent survey" in California indicates that nearly one-third of the residents of that state want to migrate somewhere else. As long as we have a free economy, many of these people will continue to purchase operating property and retirement property in Idaho.

"We cannot put a fence around Idaho. Instead, we must develop those programs which provide growth and resource use in responsible ways. Renewable resources can be managed to provide continuous sustained yield and the non-renewable resources can be restored in some way to provide continuing use after the mineral or building materials have been removed," he said.

Ravenscroft also pointed out many of Idaho's fur crops are not now in surplus and that forest products are needed for the growing population. These, he said, are two more reasons why all the resources of Idaho "should be built on a multiple use basis."

'Best Christmas' follows release

LYNN, Mass. (UPI)—Mrs. Margaret Fecteau, ex-wife of Richard Fecteau who was released today after 19 years in a Communist Chinese prison, said the release assures his family of "the best Christmas ever."

Mrs. Fecteau, who divorced her husband after he was captured in 1952 when his plane crashed in north China, said she had sent her twin daughters, Sidnee and Suzon, 21, on a shopping trip to "keep them busy" while she tried to keep occupied at home.

"I spoke with (the American Consulate in) Hong Kong earlier this morning but I don't have any details on where he'll be flying to or when he'll get there," she said. "They said he could go wherever he wanted to, so I guess that means Boston but I don't know."

Fecteau, 43, and Miss Mary A. Harbert crossed into Hong Kong earlier today after being released from a Red Chinese prison.

Fecteau's parents were in seclusion, she said, but she did not know where.

Mrs. Fecteau, who works in a fashionable women's wear shop in downtown Boston and never remarried, said she and her daughters had been depressed during the weekend because her father had died last week.

"It's marvelous," she said. "Can you imagine we were so depressed and miserable, but now this is the best Christmas ever."

She first learned of his release when informed by a newsman Sunday night, Mrs. Fecteau said, "and we haven't slept all night. We've had calls all night long."

But she was more elated than tired in waiting for news of her former husband. "It's just fantastic... marvelous... such good news," she repeated.

Ranch workers reported safe

HILL CITY — Two men employed by Art Linkletter on a cattle ranch near here were reported safe Monday at a base camp after becoming stranded in heavy snow last Thursday.

Elmore County sheriff's officers said one of the men was identified as Hugh Marchbank, Hill City, and the identity of the other worker was not known. The two were remaining in the area to try to bring cattle out of the high elevation after heavy snows isolated the livestock and the men late last week.

Officers said the two were attempting to reach the cattle on horseback Thursday when their horses gave out in the heavy snow. It was also impossible to operate snowmobiles in the area. When the men failed to return from Morris Flats near High Prairie Thursday night Bill Gill, ranch foreman drove out by four-wheel vehicle to notify officers.

The Soldier Mountain rescue team, operating snow machines, reached the men at a base camp about the time the men arrived there. Sheriff Paul Cox, Fairfield, said the men had food and warmth and were no longer in danger. He said equipment went in and out a road through the snow to the base camp at Hunter Creek but it was passable only by four-wheel drive vehicle.

The men can get out, he said, but he understands they plan to stay and help move the cattle out.

Elmore County officers said the base camp is in Elmore County and they made contact with the men Saturday to determine they were all right and could get out if they wished to leave.

Ski races moved

SUN VALLEY — The Holiday Classic Ski race scheduled for Thursday through Saturday at Sun Valley has been moved to Aspen, Colo. Gordon Butterfield, Sun Valley Ski Club chairman, said Sun Valley has ample powder snow, but hard-packed snow is needed for the racers' safety.

The Holiday Classic is the first major downhill race of the season. Among the 115 racers who were scheduled to attend were all members of the U. S. Ski Association who are not in Europe and 28 racers from Canada.

The races in Aspen will be on the same dates as those scheduled for Sun Valley.

U.S. Highway 30 open to traffic

BLISS — U. S. Highway 30 between Bliss and Hagerman is open to all traffic, Sheriff Earl Brown said today, but a dirt and rock slide area which blocked the roadway Friday is still being watched closely.

The sheriff said some dirt is continuing to sluff off and rocks are rolling onto the highway occasionally and traffic is warned to use caution in the area.

Heavy equipment cut through the slide to reopen the highway to traffic Friday night but it has been necessary to hold vehicles up several times since then because of danger of additional falling material.

Sheriff Brown said as soon as temperatures rise, more rocks and dirt drop down onto the roadway. Both his office and the Idaho Department of Highways are watching the area, he said.

Gooding visit set

GOODING — The American Red Cross bloodmobile will be in Gooding from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m. Tuesday at the War Memorial Hall.

A 100-pint quota has been set for the visit. A positive blood is especially needed, and there is always a need for O-negative, according to Mrs. M. V. Klingler, Gooding Red Cross chairman. Mrs. Klingler said blood replacements are needed for Don Haney, Gooding.

Valley Briefs

TWIN FALLS — Pink Ladies Christmas decoration committee will meet in the Magic Valley Memorial Hospital auxiliary room at 9 a.m. Tuesday and Wednesday, according to Mrs. Cloe Shaddy, committee chairman.

Nixon meeting place peaceful

TERCEIRA ISLAND, The Azores (UPI) — The rush and worry of the outside world seem far away on this tiny volcanic island where President Nixon will meet this week with French President Georges Pompidou and Portuguese Prime Minister Marcello Caetano.

Pedestrians, ox carts, produce-laden burros and horse-drawn wagons dominate the dozen main cobblestone and gravel roads that crisscross the island's mountains and the winding route that follows its rocky coastline.

Automobiles and trucks are relatively scarce because of high shipping costs and import taxes. Even in late fall, bright yellow flowers bloom on the lower slopes of ridges that tower as high as 3,100 feet and include two extinct volcano craters: Neat white houses with red tile roofs nestle in the valleys amid orange groves.

The rectangular fields themselves are brought into bold relief by fences of reddish brown volcanic rock, stacked two to six feet high without mortar, which serve the triple purpose of riding the fields of rock, keeping cattle from straying and preventing erosion by winter wind and rain.

The placid pace of life retains an old-world charm.

Boys and girls still carry out their entire schooling under the watchful eye of a chaplain. Dating between island girls and U.S. servicemen stationed on Terceira is rare. Couples usually marry young and children are viewed as a blessing, with five or more per family considered normal.

Life revolves around the family and the Roman Catholic Church, with religious holidays and fiestas providing the chief source of entertainment. Picturesque churches dot the island, and every village has its gaily painted roadside chapel.

Brightening either in the village streets or in the arena at Angra, the island capital — is a major sport, although tradition and law prohibit killing the bull.

The central fact of life for most of the 78,000 who live on Terceira, as on the other eight islands in the Azores, is hard work.

Nixon's summit conference with Pompidou and Caetano will take place at Angra, a city of 18,000, on Monday and Tuesday. They will meet in the Junta Geral (general council) building overlooking the beautiful Se' Cathedral, the largest of all churches in the Azores.

In the eyes of the outside world, the most important part of this meeting likely will be the talks between Nixon and Pompidou. But for the people of the Azores, the rare occasion of a visit by their Caetano carries at least equal significance to the presence of the other two heads of state.

Clean air 33 index

Expressed as micrograms of particulate matter per cubic meter of air for the 24-hour period ending at 5 p.m. today's readings were taken at Twin Falls by the South Central Health District staff.

A federal recommendation calls for levels below 75 for any 24-hour period, and below 240 for even a short period of time.

Suspect in robberies

SPOKANE (UPI) — A 17-year-old boy was held by juvenile authorities today on charges of armed robberies in connection with holdups at four area service stations in the past few weeks.

Boley runs unopposed

MILNER — Max Boley, incumbent, is unopposed for reelection as director for the Milner-Lowitt Irrigation District Tuesday.

Ballots will be cast from 7 to 7 p.m. Tuesday at the district office for precinct one; the Glen Briggs home, Precinct 2, and the Clyde Goodman home, Precinct 3.

Although only one director will be elected, any land owner in any of the three precincts is eligible to vote.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks were firm at the halfway point Monday, but below morning levels. Turnover was heavy. Steels and motors were fractionally irregular. James M. Roche, chairman of General Motors, predicted that as many as 11 million new cars could be sold next year. He said that the key factor his optimistic projection was repeal of the 7 percent excise tax on new cars and light trucks.

GM's outlook exceeded that of Henry Ford II, chairman of Ford Motor Co., by 500,000 units. Ford predicted sales of 10.5 million vehicles.

Oils and electronics, among the day's biggest movers, also traded on both sides of previous closings.

Among the most active stocks were Occidental Petroleum up 1 on 178,300 shares, Wheelabrator-Frye up 1/4 on 168,600 shares, Computer Sciences 1/4 higher on 134,900 shares, and City Investing 3/4 on 133,100 shares.

Bolse Cassa, trading ex-dividend, was ahead a full point, and American Telephone edged up 1/4.

The Dow Jones industrial average showed a gain of about 2 points at 858.70. Advances led declines by a two-to-one margin.

Turnover at 1 p.m. amounted to 11,460,000 shares, up from 9,640,000 shares traded at a comparable period last Friday.

Man trades job for clowning

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Leon McBryde traded his white collar for white greasepaint and he's not trading back.

McBryde, who once had a public relations job with a bright future, kicked it all over and became "Buttons the Clown" with Ringling Brothers Barnum and Bailey Circus.

McBryde, who was here with the circus during a two-week stand in the San Francisco Bay area, is 6-5 and 240 pounds. Tim makes a pretty impressive clown when you add large floppy shoes, a red bulbous nose, brilliant white grease paint and baggy clown costume.

McBryde is representative of a new generation of pros who are rejuvenating the mainstay of all good circuses—the clown.

Four years ago, he said, there were less than 200 clowns in the country. "Our profession was dying," he said.

The older clowns began to realize "there was no one to replace them—anyone." So, working in conjunction with Ringling Brothers, they began teaching their trade at the world's first clown college, in Venice, Fla.

The college meant new horizons for men like McBryde, who two years ago was successful in his job but nursed an inner calling to do exactly what he wanted—make people laugh.

"I had security, position, money," he said, "but there is a big difference in doing what I wanted to do and just working for money."

So, at 25, McBryde announced he wanted to give up his public relations job with a large store and try his luck at making a business out of clowning around.

"Sure," said his wife, Linda, scornfully, "and I'll ride the elephants."

Early the next morning she sat upright in bed, looked the aspiring Buttons in the eye and said anxiously: "Hey, you're serious."

"Sure 'am," McBryde said. Within a few days he packed his bags and was off for clown school, accompanied by his wife. She kept asking how she could reply to friends—who, when informed "my husband is a clown," invariably retorted "yeh, my husband clowns around a lot too."

She has since "adjusted," McBryde said. "Now she makes all my costumes."

During his eight weeks of clown college McBryde got new insight into what professional clowning is all about.

The competition was tough. His class had 748 applicants, of whom just 35 were chosen for the school. Of the 35, contracts were awarded to only 12 and six of those were weeded out by the first year, McBryde said.

The new Buttons found the circus of the good old days no longer exists. "That good old days 'is a lot of bull,"

The big top is gone and instead circuses are staged in climate controlled buildings. Lighting is better, enabling clowns to wear yellow and other colorful costumes.

"They used to have to wear white because that's the only thing that would show in the bad light," he said.

The big reward for a professional clown is when "little faces light up."

"Until you've looked into the face of a 2 or 3-year-old; or a 100-year-old lady—whose whole life passes before her in nostalgia when she sees a clown—you wouldn't really understand what it's all about," said Buttons the clown.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Of Hemorrhoidal Tissues Promptly Relieved

In many cases Preparation H gives prompt, temporary relief from such pain and itching and actually helps shrink swelling of hemorrhoidal tissues caused by inflammation. Tests by doctors on hundreds of patients showed this to be true in many cases. In fact, many doctors, themselves, use Preparation H or recommend it for their families. Preparation H ointment or suppositories.

Look-around

NEW YORK (UPI)—Shopping around for toys? Then you're among the 25 per cent of buyers who shop more than one store before making a purchase, according to market researchers at a toy firm. And it's a good bet you're looking for toys for children under ten. Eight of 10 toys are bought for boys and girls in that age bracket, the toy firm's statisticians say.

Set up posters

SINGING AS THEY GO, members of the Samothrace Club of CSI serenade shoppers in the Blue Lakes Shopping Center with Christmas Carols during the annual Samothrace Christmas party. The girls also placed large posters announcing the appearance of the Homeros at CSI on Jan. 22, 1972, in store windows.

CSI's caroling party serves double purpose

TWIN FALLS — A Christmas caroling party served a double purpose for the Samothrace Club of the College of Southern Idaho Thursday evening.

Club members screened shoppers in the Blue Lakes and Lynwood shopping centers, then asked merchants to display posters advertising the appearance of the Homeros, a family of guitarists, who are appearing at CSI in Jan. 22 under sponsorship of the CSI Music Department and Lyceum Committee.

Bonnie AllLee, president of both the Samothrace Club and Phi Theta Kappa, the CSI chapter of the national honorary society, said members of both groups participated in the caroling party and the Samothrace Christmas party following the caroling at St. Benedict's Priory.

During the party, Miss AllLee told Samothrace members that the group has been formally commended by Jerry Meyerhoeffer, director of admissions at CSI, for conducting a survey on religious preferences among students.

The members also assisted with a voter-registration campaign before state and county elections, with all members registering to initiate the campaign.

Mary List, Jerome, a freshman at CSI, was awarded the spring semester scholarship by Mrs. Marguerite Montgomery, representing the Business and Professional Women's Club, which raised funds for the scholarship in cooperation with Samothrace. Gifts were presented to Rev. Simeon Van de Voord, rector of St. Benedict's for his hospitality; Dr. Adele Thompson, CSI dean of women and an advisor for Samothrace; Mrs. Montgomery, a sponsor; and Mrs. Vern Tidolph, a sponsor.

Special guests at the caroling party included Suzanne Holmquist, Sheila Garrison, Mrs. Montgomery and Mrs. Betty Ainsworth.

49'ers defeat Falcons, boost title chances

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — John Brodie threw 23 yards for one score and ran five yards for another following two Atlanta turnovers Sunday as the San Francisco 49ers defeated the Falcons 24-3 and moved into a quarter. Willard culminated a 49-yard, seven-play drive with a one-yard amash over tackle.

Skip Vanderbundt intercepted a pass by Bob Berry on the first play of the second quarter, and Brodie converted the turnover into a second San Francisco score when he flipped to Larry Schreiber for a 14-0 lead.

Willie Belton fumbled the following kickoff and Elmer Collett picked it up at the Atlanta 33. Seven plays later, Brodie rolled to his right and into the end zone untouched on a perfect fake to Vic Washington.

The Falcons then netted their field goal on the following kickoff but they needed a 42-yard fake punt play to set it up. Harmon Wages took the snap from center on fourth down with Atlanta at its own 40. The Falcons wound up with the ball on the San Francisco 18 when the 49ers were caught for a facemask penalty.

Field goals let Eagles whip Cards

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Tom Dempsey kicked four field goals, including a 54-yarder, and Pete Liske fired a 69-yard touchdown pass to Harold Jackson Sunday to give the Philadelphia Eagles a 19-7 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Dempsey, who kicked field goals of 27 and 22 yards in the first quarter, broke his own Eagles team record of 52 yards, set last week against Detroit, with his 54-yard kick in the third quarter.

Dempsey, acquired last month as a free agent from New Orleans, added a 24-yarder in the fourth quarter to clinch the victory after the Cardinals had pulled to within 18-7 on an 80-yard pass from quarterback Peter Beathard to speedy wide receiver Mel Gray.

The play, the Cardinals' longest touchdown of the season, clicked when Gray took a sideline pass, dodged an arm tackle by Eagle safety Leroy Keyes at midfield and dashed untouched into the end zone.

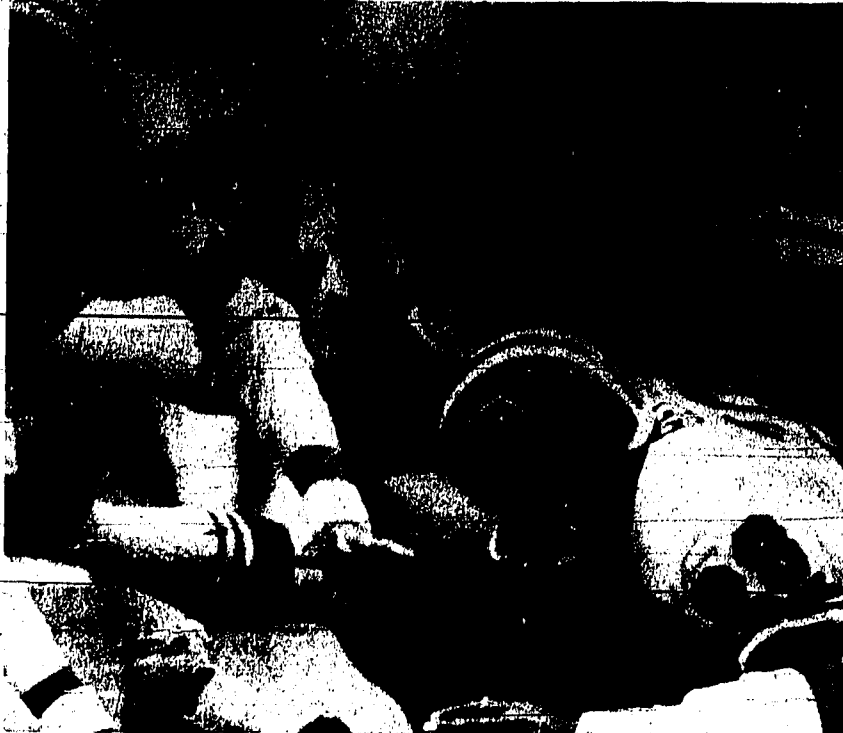

Keyes thwarted two Cardinals scoring threats with pass interceptions in the end zone in the second quarter and at the Eagles' one-yard line with five minutes left in the game. Al Nelson registered the Eagles' fourth pass interception at the Philadelphia 35-yard line with 1:28 left in the game.

Bradshaw helps Pitt nip Bengals

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Terry Bradshaw, benched until late in the third quarter, fired touchdown passes to John Fuqua and Ron Shanklin in the last period Sunday to clinch second place for the Pittsburgh Steelers in the American Football Conference's Central Division with a 21-13 win over the Cincinnati Bengals.

Bradshaw connected with Fuqua on a 40-yard pass play with 8:51 to play to send Pittsburgh ahead 14-13. He rifled a five-yard scoring aerial to Shanklin three minutes later to nail down the victory after cornerback Ralph Anderson picked off a Virgil Carter pass and returned it 14 yards to the Bengals' 16-yard line.

Two field goals of 22 and 17 yards by Horst Muhmann in the third quarter appeared to have the Bengals headed toward a 17-17 victory until Bradshaw relieved rookie Bob Leahy at quarterback with 4:24 remaining in the third period.

Hadl fires four TD passes, Chargers bomb Broncos 45-17

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — John Hadl fired four touchdown passes, including a 77-yarder to Gary Garrison, as the San Diego Chargers bombed the Denver Broncos 45-17 in a National Football League game Sunday to clinch third place in the AFC West.

The 77-yard aerial came with only 1:27 gone in the second half and put the game out of reach for the Chargers at 21-3. San Diego now has won six and lost seven while division yard pass before a one-yard scoring dive by Mike Garrett. Hadl, who completed 21 of 38 passes for 322 yards, took over the NFL lead for touchdown passes with 22 for the season.

Denver outgained — the Chargers 224 yards to 121 in the opening half but left the field trailing 14-3. Two interceptions stopped first period Bronco drives.

San Diego linebacker Rick Redman picked off the first on the Charger 38 and was stopped immediately. Following a punt, the Broncos drove to San Diego's 12 from their 27 but Chris Fletcher tipped a Steve Ramsey pass to teammate Joe Beauchamp, who took the ball 52 yards to Denver's 45.

Joe Namath, playing his first complete game since a preseason injury, out-clused rookie cornerback Jim Plunkett as the Jets won their sixth straight home game over the Pats.

The Jets broke a 3-3 tie in the opening seconds of the third period when linebacker Al Atkinson knocked the ball loose from Carl Garrett's arms on the second play of the quarter and safety Phil Wise recovered on the Pats' one-yard line. Riggins, a rookie, went over for his first rushing TD with 25 seconds elapsed.

Five minutes later, cornerback Steven Tannen partially blocked Tom Janik's punt and the Jets had the ball on New England's 35. A 15-yard holding penalty — almost stalled — the drive, but Riggins' five-yard run and Namath's six-yard pass to Riggins set up Howfield's longest field goal of the season.

Howfield — booted — a 16-yard field goal in the first period, but Charlie Gogolak's 34-yard field goal with seven seconds remaining in the first half tied the score. Gogolak also kicked a 46-yard field goal in the fourth quarter.

Namath, content to rely on a ground game, was intercepted twice, both times in the first half. He completed seven of 12 passes during the game for 95 yards, Plunkett hit on 15 of 28 passes for 1069 yards and gained 79 yards running. However, the former Stanford All-American, billed in his attempt at a scoring pass which would have tied Namath's rookie total of 18.

collar-dweller Denver is 4-8-1. Hadl's other scoring passes were nine and two yards to fullback Jeff Queen and 13 yards to rookie Chuck Dicus, his first touchdown of the season. Queen also ran 41 yards to set up a field goal and caught a 54

A 44-yard pass interference call against Denver's Leroy Mitchell set up San Diego's first score, a nine-yard swing pass to Queen with 2:20 left in the first quarter.

A 13-yard field goal by JIm Turner narrowed the margin to 7-3 early in the second quarter.

It was set up by a 25-yard pass from Ramsey to Bob Anderson. Dicus came back with his diving catch in the end zone to put the chargers ahead 14-3 with 5:08 left in the half.

Hadl followed his touchdown pass to Garrison by marching the Chargers 80 yards in 14 plays the next time they got the ball. A 33-yard pass to Jerry Levin and a fourth down, seven-yard run by punter Dennis Pardee hopped put the ball in position for a two-yard pass to Queen.

virtual tie for first place in the NFC West.

The victory was San Francisco's eighth compared to five losses with one game left to play. The Los Angeles Rams, who have two games left in the next six days, lead the NFC West with a 7-4-1 mark.

The loss was the sixth of the season for the Falcons and dropped them out of the race for first.

Ken Willard smashed one yard for San Francisco's other touchdown and Bruce Gossett booted a 48-yard field goal for a club record 22 on the year to account for the final 49er points.

San Francisco jumped to a 22-0 lead by 4:31 of the second period before the Falcons scored their only points on an 18-yard field goal by Dick Shiner.

The San Francisco defense, which kept the Falcons buried in their own end throughout most of the game, enabled the 49er offense to gain field position late in the opening

Browns edge Saints 21-17

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Bo Scott ran two yards for one touchdown, Leroy Kelly ran one yard for another and defensive tackle Walter Johnson scored on a fumble recovery in the end zone as the Cleveland Browns beat the New Orleans Saints 21-17 Sunday.

The Saints scored on a seven-yard run by Jim Strong, a four-yard fumble by Virgil Robinson and a 28-yard field goal by Charlie Durkin. The Browns missed another scoring opportunity with 3:44 left in the game when Don Cockroft was wide on a 48-yard field goal attempt.

The Browns have already clinched the AFC's Central Division championship and the win improved their record to 8-5 for the season. The Saints dropped to 4-7-2.

Johnson put the game out of reach for the Browns when he recovered an Archie Manning fumble in the end zone with 12:15 left in the final period, making the score 21-10.

But the Saints roared back when Manning, the Mississippi rookie replacing an injured Edd Hargett at quarterback, moved them 80 yards in four plays. The touchdown came when Strong scampered seven yards with 10:47 left in the fourth quarter.

Kelly's one-yard touchdown run, with 18 seconds left in the third quarter, capped a drive of eight plays and 45 yards. The Saints' Hugo Hollis, during the Browns' drive, was ruled to have committed pass interference against Fair Hooker and the ball was placed on the New Orleans one, setting up Kelly's score.

Scott's two-yard touchdown run with 5:04 left in the first quarter capped an 86-yard drive by the Browns in nine plays. Quarterback Bill Nelson tossed passes of 24 and 23 yards to Hooker during the drive.

Durke's 20-yard field goal came when the Saints' drive stalled after 78 yards in seven plays with 13:40 left in the second quarter.

Defensive end Joe Owens set up the Saints' second quarter touchdown when he recovered a 16 Cornell fumble on the Brown 13. Hargett pushed 10 yards to Dave Parks on the five. Three plays later, Hargett pitched out to Robinson who swept left end four yards for a touchdown with 35 seconds left in the half.

Cleveland lost five fumbles and the Saints converted two of them into second period scores that gave them a 10-7 halftime lead.

Field goal lets Kansas City nip Raiders 16-14

KANSAS CITY (UPI) — Jan Stenerud's 10-yard field goal with 1:34 left Sunday lifted the Kansas City Chiefs to a 16-14 victory over Oakland and ended the Raiders' four-year reign as Western Division champions of the American Football Conference.

The Chiefs, winning their first division title since 1966, drove 90 yards to the Oakland three before Stenerud delivered his third — and shortest — field goal of the day.

Four times quarterback Len Dawson passed complete to Otis Taylor in the drive, for gains of 16, 9, 15 and 4 yards. At the Oakland 41, Dawson threw deep to Jimmie Warren at the 12. The pass-interference call allowed the chiefs to run three times before the winning field goal.

Strong safety Jim Kenney clinched the verdict when he intercepted a fourth down pass by George Blanda at the Chiefs' 43 with 31 seconds left.

The Chiefs now are 9-3-1, while Oakland is 7-4-2 with only one game remaining.

Blanda, who replaced Daryle Lamonica in the second quarter, gave Oakland a 14-13 lead 41 seconds deep in the fourth quarter driving the Raiders' 26 yards to the go-ahead touchdown. The drive was set up when second-year pro Gerald Fróns blocked Jerrell Wilson's punt. Marv Hubbard scored from the one after Johnny Robinson was called for interference on Rod Sherman at the goal line.

A sellout crowd of 51,215 watched the Chiefs build a 13-7 halftime lead by making good use of the last 48 seconds after Oakland's first touchdown.

With the clock ticking and less than 10 seconds left before intermission, Dawson fired a pass to Dennis-Homan on the sideline from the Oakland 37. The Raiders failed to cover, thinking Homan would step out of bounds to stop the clock. But Homan sprinted down the sideline to the seven before Jack Tatum knocked him out of bounds, saving a touchdown with one second left.

The Chiefs opened the scoring with 7:00 left in the first quarter when Dawson flipped a 29-yard touchdown pass to Taylor.

Packers dump Chicago 31-10 as Brockington equals mark

GREEN BAY (UPI) — John Brockington became the fourth player in National Football League history to rush for more than 1,000 yards in his rookie year Sunday, as the Green Bay Packers convincingly beat the Chicago Bears 31-10.

But Brockington's heroics had to share the spotlight with middle linebacker Ray Nitschke.

	Chi	GB
First downs	24	18
Rushing yards	244	53
Passing yards	188	182
Return yards	28	41

Points	10	31
Fumbles lost	2	2
Yards penalized	16	35

The 14 year veteran was honored Sunday at Lumberton Field by 56,263 fans who turned out to pay tribute to him. Packer Coach Dan Devine also paid homage of sorts, to Nitschke, by giving him a starting assignment—his first of the year—and Nitschke played the entire game.

Almost lost in the concern over Brockington's quest for 1,000 yards and Nitschke's "day" was a bruising football game that saw the Packers strike early and never trail.

Green Bay quarterback Scott Hunter opened up the game with a surprising—to the Bears—77 yard touchdown pass to Carroll Dale on the first play from scrimmage. But the game quickly settled down to a typical Packer-Bear battle.

The two teams marched back and forth without a break until Danny Anderson fumbled a Hunter pitchout on the Green Bay 32.

Chicago quarterback Kent Nix then hit George Farmer for a 31 yard touchdown pass to tie the score.

The rest of the first half was devoted mainly to wondering if Brockington would pass the 1,000-yard mark before half-time. He had 969 yards going into the game, and he carried 11 times the first half—picking up 29 yards—before leaving him two short of the 1,000 yard mark.

Mac Percival continued having trouble place kicking as he missed on field goals from 13 yards and 30 yards in the first half for the Bears.

Jim Carter intercepted Nix's second pass of the third quarter and returned it 16 yards to the Packer 16 and the stage was set for Brockington.

The Big Ohio State rookie got his 1,000 on the next play as he plunged off tackle to pick up six yards giving him 1,004.

Following a four yard run by Anderson, Brockington ran another six yards for a touchdown to give the Packers a 14-7 lead.

The Green Bay defense then forced Chicago to punt and the offense took over on the Green Bay 42. The drive stalled on the Chicago 38 with fourth and one and Devine sent the field goal unit into the game. But he called (missed), thought about it, and decided to go for it.

Brockington, making the big play as he has all year, picked up 17 yards to keep the drive alive. Hunter then hit Daye

Percival finally got a field goal as he booted one from 33 yards out to make the score 21-10.

The Packers punted on their next series of downs but Ron Smith fumbled the ball and Al Randolph recovered for Green Bay on the Chicago 14.

Goalby outlasts Archer to win Bahamas tourney

FREEPORT, Bahamas (UPI) — Veteran Bob Goalby holed out from a sandtrap on the seventh hole Sunday and went on to fire a 70 to outlast Big George Archer and capture the $130,000 Bahamas National Open by a single stroke.

Goalby, a 40 year old from Belleville, Ill., won $28,000 in first place money, an amount more than the $23,203 he won earlier this year. His four round total was 69-70-66-70-275. Goalby's victory saved him from having to qualify for tournaments next year. He went into this event 91st on the earnings list.

Archer, the third round leader, played erratically Sunday and finished with 66-67-71-72-276. It was Goalby's first victory since the Heritage Classic in 1970.

Bert Yancey and Tommy Aaron tied for third place with totals of 277. Ralph Johnston was next at 278.

The turning point of the final round came on the 210-yard seventh hole when Goalby bunkered his tee shot. But he blasted the ball high into the air and it scooted softly into the hole for a birdie. Obviously ignited, Goalby smashed a big tee shot on the 489-yard par five eighth hole and then hit a wood onto the green leaving himself a four-foot putt for an eagle. He missed the putt but he was two strokes ahead of Archer, who playing behind him, had bogied the sixth hole when he hit his approach into the trap.

Archer, the fourth leading money winner, sank a 20-footer for a birdie on the eighth hole to move into contention but he bogied the ninth when he hit his drive into the rough. He picked up another bogie on the 10th when he again hit into the rough and then, after getting a birdie on the eleventh, he hit his drive on twelve into the woods and took a double bogie.

Two birdies by Archer on the 15th and 16th were not enough as Goalby withstood the tension to shoot a one over par 36 after a 34 on the front nine. "All my eggs were in one basket," he said. Goalby had to hole a seven-foot putt for a par on the 18th hole to avoid being tied by Archer but he sank it with little hesitation. Julius Boros and Gfer Jones finished in a tie for sixth place. Jones, only a stroke behind Archer going into today's round, went four over par on the first nine as he succumbed to the pressure and finished with a 76 over the difficult Lucayan Country Club course. Boros had a 72 today.

Bobby Mitchell and Jerry Heard were tied for eighth place at 281 and Tom Shaw and George Johnson finished at 282. Aaron shot the day's best round, a five under par 66. Oke Goalby, he holed out of a sandtrap, the shot coming on the 540-yard, third hole nothing him and eagle. He picked up four other birdies with putts of 22, 15, 5 and 7 feet. He narrowly missed making three others.

"I was playing well all week," said Aaron. "The difference today was that I dropped a few putts."

George Knudson of Canada, earned $1,222.50 thus enabling him to finish 60th on the money winning list and thereby becoming exempt from qualifying in 1972.

The tour now recesses until the Los Angeles Open on Jan. 6.

Next year, a number of big names won't automatically be qualifying for tournaments, namely Doug Sanders and Jim "Chichi" Rodriguez. Others who failed to make the top 60 list include Jim Jamieson, Jim Wiechers, Bert Greene, R.H. Sikes and Larry Ziegler.

Late score lets Oilers nip Buffalo

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—Robert "The Tank" Holmes scored on a two-yard run with 24 seconds left in the game Sunday to thwart a Buffalo rally as the Houston Oilers edged the Bills 20-14 in a battle of the National Football League's two worst teams.

Rookie quarterback Dan Pastorini set up the winning score with a 41-yard off-balance pass to Jim Belne while Pastorini was being dropped to the ground by defensive tackle Bob Tatarak. Holmes rumbled around the right side two plays later for the score.

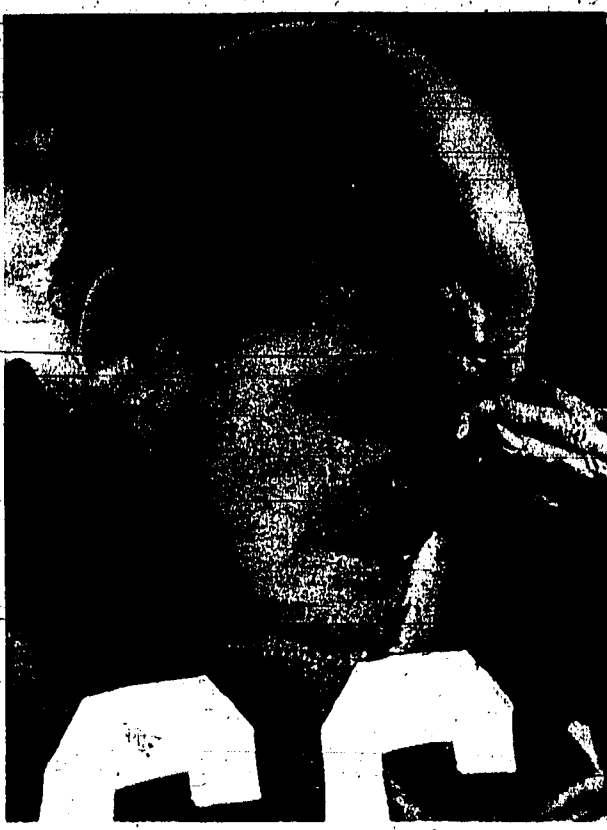

The TD wrecked a comeback effort by the Bills, who trailed 13-0 after three quarters and took the lead for the first time in the game on Dennis Shaw's 14-yard TD pass to Haven Moses with 1:55 remaining in the contest.

Safety Ken Houston tied an NFL record—shared by Herb Adderley and Erich Barnes with the seventh TD interception of his career—Houston picked off Shaw's pass to J. D. Hill on the Buffalo 17-yard line and raced in for the score at 7:7 of the third quarter to give the Oilers their 13-0 margin.

Buffalo got on the scoreboard with 0:03 left in the final quarter on O.J. Simpson's sixyard drive up the middle.

Mark Moseley gave Houston their first six points on a pair of 17-yard field goals, the first after 2:00 of the first quarter and the other at 2:38 of the second period.

The loss gave Buffalo a 1-12 record and assured the Bills of a first round pick in the annual draft of college players. The Oilers' record is 3-9-1.

Staubach passes Dallas over New York for playoff berth

NEW YORK (UPI) — The streaking Dallas Cowboys, featuring three touchdowns passes by Roger Staubach against a porous New York secondary, sewed up a playoff berth for the sixth successive year Sunday by routing the New York Giants 42-14.

Staubach, who played the first three quarters, picked apart the Giant defense that was crippled when safety Spider Lockhart broke his collarbone in the first series of downs. Staubach tossed 46 and 85-yard touchdown passes to Bob Hayes and hit Calvin Hill with a 10-yard strike. Hill also ran four yards for a TD while Duane Thomas scored on touchdown runs of three and seven yards as the Cowboys almost-matched last week's 52-10 rout of the New York Jets.

The Cowboys, who own the longest winning streak in pro football—at six straight, have clinched at least a "wild card" he directed touchdown drives of 80-yards in six plays and 78-yards in nine plays.

He climaxed the first drive with a 46-yard pass to Hayes, who beat the double coverage of Pete Athis and Joe Green on a straight fly pattern. Thomas climaxed the second drive with a three-yard end run after taking a pitchout from Staubach.

Chuck Howley intercepted a Fran Tarkenton pass on the Giant 40 and ran it back to the 15 to set up the 10 yard TD pass from Staubach to Hill that made it 21-0.

The next time the Cowboys got the ball, Staubach ducked under a blitz by linebacker Ron Hornsby, strengthened up and fired a strike to Hayes.

Oswald: "I was the unfortunate East. If I had been clairvoyant I could have bid clubs and got out of the trap but I chose to bid one trump."

Jim: "Nothing wrong with that bid. You have a book call of one trump after the heart opening and the double."

Oswald: "As you can see we would probably make three clubs although perfect defense might beat us one trick. We also figure to beat two spades, but we didn't. It seems that no one played diamonds until very late. Eventually I did lead my diamond six. By this time South was sure about the location of the king and went up with his ace and dropped it."

Jim: "A final minus for that silly heart bid."

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Oswald: "In JACOBY MODERN we point out that a hand is either worth an opening bid of one or it isn't. This rule applies in any suit, vulnerable or not. An expert might occasionally shave a bid in third or fourth seat, but he never should go haywire. Today's hand shows a typical example of expert idleness."

Jim: "West's one-heart opening certainly qualifies. He has 11 high-card points, including three for the singleton king. There is nothing wrong with a pass, but if he wants to open in third seat he should bid one club. He has good cards in that suit and if the opponents buy the hand he will have told his partner what to lead."

She Is 30, Still Single

Edna Ferber

She is 30, she says, and still not married. "Is it possible a woman can be so unattractive she just won't ever find a husband?" she inquires, wistfully. Certainly not, my dear. You know what old Alexander Pope said: "There swims no porpoise so grey but soon or late she finds some honest gander for her mate." Most ladies, who don't marry, don't want to.

HEIGHT

Mostly, you can figure the average 15-year-old girl is just a shade less tall than ever she'll be. But the average boy of 15 can be expected to grow another 3-4 per cent, ordinarily. That's an additional three or four inches, maybe more.

Certain tax hikes may win study

(Editors note: This is the seventh dispatch outlining problems confronting the forthcoming session of the 41st Idaho Legislature. Today — ways to increase revenue.)

BY LINDY HIGH

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho's legislators indicated on a UPI survey they don't favor a general tax increase, but they are willing, it appears, to look at changes in some specific areas.

A large number of the lawmakers would favor a one-cent increase in the gasoline tax, now set at seven cents per gallon. Many indicated they are open to discussing changes in the sales tax monies given to counties to replace the inventory tax.

But the permanent building fund — suggested by Gov. Cecil D. Andrus in the 1971 legislature as a possible source for the general fund — probably will be left intact unless the need for money is greater than now anticipated.

During the 1971 legislature, lawmakers gave one of the seven cents per gallon gasoline tax to the cities. The result was a banana for cities but the state highway fund — which lost the penny — has been suffering ever since.

Members of the state highway board of directors have been told the loss of income could delay the state's highway construction program.

One plan discussed by Andrus would be to raise the tax to eight cents per gallon and give one of the pennies to the cities with the state highway fund to get the other seven cents.

Not one of those responding to the UPI poll wanted to take the penny away from the cities, although a couple of lawmakers suggested lowering the amount to one-half cent.

When asked about raising the tax to eight cents, the majority favored the increase, although several said they were uncertain about the proposal.

The inventory tax replacement was another controversial item during the 1970 legislature after Andrus suggested limiting the payback to counties to 15 per cent instead of the scheduled 20 per cent.

The legislators turned that proposal down many on grounds the counties already set their budgets and were participating the money.

But the UPI poll this month shows while the lawmakers responded 10 to one against a change, a large segment was either uncertain or "hopeful" something could be done.

Several, including Rep. Terry Crapo, R-Idaho Falls, House majority leader, suggested an immediate lid on the amount going to the counties. Rep. William Roberts, R-Duhl, said he favored freezing the county portion at the current dollars-and cents level instead of the current percentage level.

Sen. Dean Summers, R-Boise, probably spoke for many. When asked about the chances of changing the inventory tax payback, he replied, "No, but there definitely should be."

The permanent building fund — supported by a head tax and miscellaneous taxes — probably will be left intact during the session.
