Jobless aid funds okayed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congress rushed through legislation Wednesday to pay half a million unemployed workers an extra 13 weeks of reduced benefits in states with chronically high unemployment rates.

The proposal was approved over Republican opposition by a 194-149 roll call vote in the House and then agreed to by the Senate on a voice vote.

The proposal would provide the extra benefits to some 539,000 jobless workers in 11 states and Puerto Rico who have already exhausted 39 weeks of benefits. Other states might also qualify soon.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., the bill's manager, said the federal government would pay the entire $274 million estimated cost. Ordinarily, unemployment compensation is financed through a tax on employers, but there would be no added payroll levy under this measure.

Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., senior Republican on Mills' House Ways and Means Committee, called the measure a "Rube Goldberg discriminatory welfare program under the guise of an extra unemployment insurance program."

The measure would apply to states whose insured unemployment, plus those who had exhausted their benefits, totaled 6.5 percent for 13 weeks.

Foreign aid reformers, led by Sen. J. William Fulbright, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, blocked a House-passed resolution to continue appropriations for the foreign aid program until March 15 while Congress decides the future of the program.

A petition was filed last night to shut off further debate. A vote was set on the cloture motion Friday but mass absenteeism threatened its success, as many senators took off for far-flung vacations. A majority must be present before the Senate can do business unless those remaining unanimously agree.

There was no sign of agreement on anything Wednesday.

But after a day of meetings, Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., who had tried to mediate the dispute, said it was "the worst mess I've seen since I've been in Congress."

Fulbright was holding out for a drastically abbreviated measure to continue the aid program at a level of $1.5 billion. The House wants to keep it alive at nearly twice that amount—$2.9 billion.

Finally, well after the dinner hour, the Senate Appropriations Committee called out a $2.6 billion aid resolution it had approved Tuesday. Fulbright proposed a $1.5 billion substitute delaying tactics.

Senate Republican Whip Robert P. Griffin of Michigan then submitted the cloture petition, which will require a two-thirds vote of those present.

It cannot pass unless at least 50 senators are present or unless Fulbright and other aid opponents give up their fight.

Two killed, 56 wounded in Vietnam

SAIGON (UPI)—Two Americans were killed in combat in Vietnam last week and 56 were wounded, the U.S. command said today. The death toll was the lowest in any week since Oct. 30.

Another 38 GIs died in what the military command called nonhostile incidents. The 34 Americans killed in a helicopter crash Dec. 3 were listed in that category.

Nonhostile are usually fatalities due to illness, auto accidents or drug overdoses.

It brought to 45,619 the number of Americans killed in Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961 and 302,352 wounded.

The South Vietnamese command said 243 government troops were killed and 759 wounded last week. The allied commands said 1,048 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were killed in the same period.

The two Americans killed last week matched the low death toll for the week ended last Oct. 30, was the lowest in any week since the first U.S. combat troops arrived in Vietnam March 8, 1965.

Red commandos attack coast

SAIGON (UPI)—Communist commandos stormed a village on South Vietnam's central coast and killed or wounded 23 of its militia defenders before reinforcements broke up the attack, military sources said today.

The sources said 11 of the defenders were killed and 12 were wounded Wednesday in the attack on the Cat Nhon village, just outside Phu Cat and 255 miles northeast of Saigon. Losses taken by the Communist sapper force were unknown.

The United States earlier this month turned over its $35 million Phu Cat airbase to the Vietnamese. Cat Nhon is five miles from the base.

A U.S. Air Force F4 Phantom jet crashed and burned today at Phnom Penh's Pochentong Airport but the two crewmen parachuted to safety, military spokesmen here and in the Cambodian capital reported.

The $24 million aircraft, most expensive fighter-bomber in the U.S. Air Force, caught fire while on a bombing run over Cambodian territory, the U.S. command in Saigon reported. It was not immediately known whether the plane was hit by ground fire.

The weekly American casualty report issued today by the U.S. command showed two Americans killed and 56 wounded in Vietnam combat last week. Another 38 Americans died in nonhostile incidents, the command said, pushing non-combat deaths in the war past 10,000.

The command lists 45,619 Americans killed in action in Indochina since Jan. 1, 1961; while another 302,353 have been wounded.

Military spokesmen in Phnom Penh said about 800 Cambodian troops moving along Highway 7 in rubber plantation country 85 miles east of the capital had reentered Suong Wednesday evening.

Poll shows strong support for woman

BOISE (UPI) — Recent polls of Democratic party workers, one in Ada county and the other statewide, show a Boise woman who has not yet even announced her candidacy is making a strong showing as a possible U.S. Senate candidate. Unfortunately, the statewide poll showed only about a 10 per cent return possibly — as one party worker mused — because no return envelopes were provided for the ballots.

Ada County's poll showed a little higher return — about 25 per cent — and at this stage of the game the responses may not be significant. Still, Mrs. Rose Bowman, thus far the only woman mentioned as a potential candidate for the seat being vacated by Sen. Len B. Jordan, was not surprised at her strength and apparently not daunted by the low level of response. "That shows the apathy, right?" she asked. The 34-year-old mother who took an active role in Ada County during the last gubernatorial campaign, trailed Dr. William E. (Bud) Davis, president of Idaho State University, in the state-wide poll by one vote and was three votes behind Boise attorney Byron Johnson on the Ada County poll. "I think people just don't realize how many supporters I do have," she said. "They're going to start taking notice pretty soon, though."

Analysis

Mrs. Bowman plans to announce her candidacy in January and has begun collecting campaign funds — limited, however, to $25 per person. She has made two pre-campaign swings, one to Moscow and one to Pocatello, and will travel to Idaho Falls later.

She declined to place herself in any political niche, although she thought she could "appeal to all kinds of people because what I'm saying are really people-oriented things."

"I'm not an establishment candidate," she said. The reason for the $25 limit on campaign contributions is to draw attention to the high level of campaign spending, one of her major issues.

"Some people think I'm impractical for thinking I can run a campaign just right off the bat with the limitation. But really, I would take only 1,000 people and I could run an effective campaign."

Her campaign will push immediate withdrawal from Vietnam, the "right of every person to choose his own destiny," an availability of medical services, attention to the environment-economic conflict, and a de-emphasis of the military "so we can channel the bullet money into people-oriented programs."

She's also not ready to align herself with any particular group adding, "Individuals from all different kinds of strata are coming forward and wanting to help with this campaign."

WASHINGTON -- The ease with which India, backed by the Soviet Union, is dismembering Pakistan has raised the most serious concern high in the Nixon administration over historic Russian expansionism in Southwest Asia.

Rather, border regions in West Pakistan itself may be carved out of Pakistan and placed under virtual Indian control -- if Moscow concurs. In that event, the present Soviet leaders would have fulfilled the czars' ancient dream of penetration deep into Southwest Asia.

Snack Eaters

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My 3-year-old is forever asking for something to eat -- bologna, cookies, yogurt or whatever strikes her fancy.

permissible but a good thing. But when a child has done a good deal of snacking and then won't eat dinner, it's a strong hint that there was a little too much snacking.

I am becoming concerned, however, whether I may be teaching her bad eating habits by allowing her to snack at will.

Some of the foods you mentioned (bologna, yogurt) have a considerable protein content. Naturally, I'm not downgrading protein. It's a needed item of diet, and some folks don't get enough.

It's important, of course, to inculcate good eating habits, but that doesn't mean snacks are forbidden. They just have to be kept under control.

In terms of snacks, however, another consideration enters. Protein digests slowly. Hence, protein "stays with you" longer than other types of food and for that reason a high-protein snack in the afternoon can interfere with appetite at dinner time.

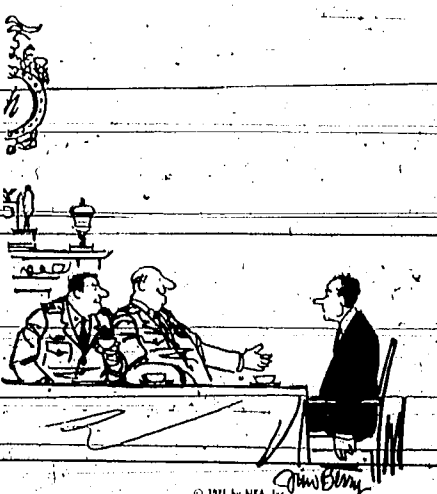

The basic pattern of "good eating habits" is eating three meals a day -- and, of course, eating the right things, with special emphasis on a good breakfast.

Incidentally, if you are worried about a child not getting enough to eat, remember that if a child is growing normally and has plenty of energy there's not much to worry about.

Growth spurts -- children don't grow steadily, but have growing periods, then plateau when growth slows down -- have a lot to do with a child's need for food. Especially in such a spurt, some sort of snack at mid-afternoon is not only

Dollar weak in trading

LONDON (UPI)—The value of the dollar continued to fall in Europe and Asia Wednesday in anticipation of a formal devaluation of the U. S. currency.

Wednesday was the first full day of exchanging trading since President Nixon announced Tuesday for the first time that the United States would consider devaluation as a step toward solving the world monetary crisis.

In Japan the value of the dollar fell to a new low, 321.0 yen, on Wednesday from its previous low of 322.5 on Tuesday. Japan's exchange markets had closed Tuesday prior to Nixon's announcement. The latest exchange rate in Japan represents a 10.6 per cent devaluation of the dollar there since Nixon launched his economic program Aug. 15.

The devaluation of the dollar in Japan is the greatest the dollar has undergone since August. Its devaluation in other non-Communist countries has ranged generally from less than 1 per cent in Finland to about 8 per cent in Belgium.

Finance ministers of the 10 richest nations in the non-Communist world will meet Friday in Washington to seek an interim solution to the monetary crisis, and it is at this meeting that Nixon's announcement about a possible devaluation may be amplified.

The dollar's own value has been fixed officially at $35 per ounce since 1934, and the value of many of the world's other currencies is determined by their relationship to the dollar.

An official devaluation of the dollar, which would require an act of the U.S. Congress, would entail raising the price of monetary gold above $35 per ounce.

Frazier to die in San Quentin gas chamber

JOHN FRAZIER

Arrests kin

DENVER (UPI)—Patrolman John L. Pinder, 38, a 15-year veteran on the Denver police force, arrested his daughter Wednesday on marijuana charges.

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (UPI)—John Linley Frazier was condemned Wednesday to die in the San Quentin Prison gas chamber for killing wealthy eye surgeon Dr. Victor Ohta and four others.

A San Mateo County Superior Court jury deliberated the fate of the 25-year-old, 5-foot-6 Frazier for four hours before reaching the decision.

The same jury of eight women and four men had previously convicted him of the Ohta murders, and ruled last week that he was sane.

Frazier sat with his back to Judge Charles Franck and the jury, he was chewing candy and listened to the verdict without any display of emotion, rocking back and forth in his chair.

The defendant became the 105th condemned person in California, which has not executed any prisoner since 1967.

Ohta, 47, his wife, Virginia,

41, their sons, Taggart, 11, and Derek, 12, and Mrs. Dorothy Cadwallader, 38, the ophthalmologist's secretary, were killed at the Ohtas' $200,000 mountain mansion on Oct. 19, 1970. The victims' bodies were dumped into the swimming pool.

The trial was moved here on a change of venue motion.

Santa Cruz County District Attorney Peter Chang told the jury in his final arguments Wednesday the killings were Frazier's "masterpiece-of-horror."

Frazier lived in a cabin a short distance from the Ohtas after he quit his job as a mechanic in Santa Cruz, Calif., and became a "hippie-type" engrossed in environmental protection.

Psychiatrist David Marlowe quoted Frazier during the trial as saying he lectured both Ohta and his wife at length on their "evil ways" in piling up material possessions and spoiling the environment before killing them. But Frazier never confessed the killing to police. He did not testify at the trial.

Snipers attack N. Irish patrol

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—Snipers shot a British soldier in the stomach early today in an attack on an army patrol in the Roman Catholic Upper Falls Road area of Belfast.

An army spokesman said the soldier sustained "very serious wounds" when three gunmen fired on a truck patrolling the streets of the district.

The wounded man was the fourth soldier struck by sniper fire in the Northern Ireland capital within 24 hours. The other three were wounded when gunmen fired on army patrols in the Catholic Lower Falls and Andersonstown areas Wednesday, the army said.

In London, political sources said Britain's Conservative government has joined the opposition Labor party in a search for a political solution to the Northern Ireland crisis.

The sources said agreement to work jointly towards a settlement was reached in a meeting Wednesday night between British Prime Minister Edward Heath and Opposition Labor party leader Harold Wilson.

The sources said Heath and Wilson will attempt to arrange talks early in the new year between their parties and the ruling Unionist and Opposition parties in Northern Ireland.

Dress code under fire

IDAHO FALLS (UPI) — Bonneville school officials said Wednesday night they would file a counter suit in Seventh District Court to keep the state Human Rights Commission out of a dress code controversy in which several students have been suspended.

The district accuses the human rights commission of "harassing, hindering and interfering" with the normal and legal duties of the district.

A request for injunctive relief was filed Monday by the commission asking that Bonneville High School officials be

No strike

TWIN FALLS — Grocery store managers in Twin Falls said today the stores here are not and will not be affected by striking meat cutters and grocery clerks in Utah.

Managers of Shelby's, part of the Smith's Food King chain, Albertson's and Safeway stores say their workers are members of different unions and work under different contracts which have been established for some time.

enjoined from enforcing the hair length standard for male students.

The suit by district 93 further claims that the actions of the commission are not for the purpose of "protecting any public interest or preserving any public right."

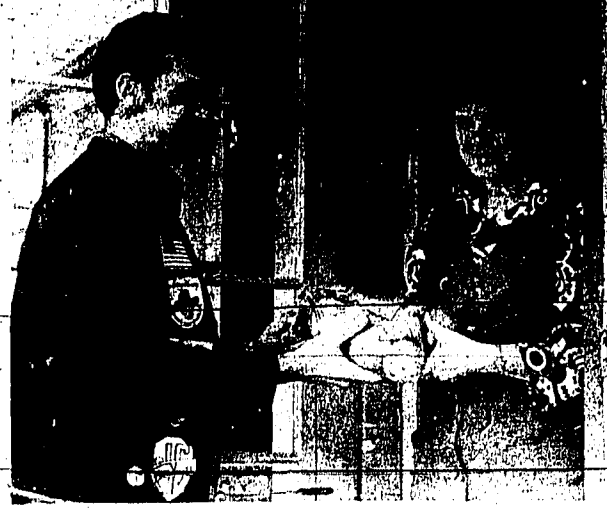

The injunction Monday against the district, filed by Idaho Deputy Attorney General Donald Kniehrehm, was on behalf of Bonneville High School students Kevin and Kim Getzinger.

The request contended that school district discriminates between the sexes, in that the hair rule applies to male students only.

A request was also filed for a temporary restraining order to bar enforcement of the school district's hair standard pending the outcome of hearings for the two suspended boys by the human rights commission.

But the district claims in its suit that further harassment will cause irreparable damage to its duties and functions.

In the suit the district is seeking a restraining order against the commission.

Annual project

A MEMBER of the Twin Falls Jaycees, Budd Phillips, sells a bag of oranges to Mrs. Wes Boeson, 1751 Borah Ave., Twin Falls. The orange sale will continue through Friday with proceeds to be used for the unit's annual needy children's shopping tour.

Jaycee orange sale continues

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls Jaycees have been out in force since Monday selling oranges for their annual needy children's Christmas shopping tour.

Because of the large amount of oranges to be sold this year, the sale will continue through Friday. Proceeds from the 2,000 bags of oranges will be spent on clothing for about 30 needy children in the Twin Falls area.

Names of the children are submitted to the Jaycees by the Department of Public Assistance, according to Gary Loder, project chairman.

Classes slated

TWIN FALLS — Vocational Spanish will be taught in two sections for beginning and advanced students at the College of Southern Idaho in January.

The class, dealing in the Spanish most often spoken by the people of Mexico and Spain, will be offered on Tuesday and Thursday nights in Room 103 of Shields Academic Building, beginning on Jan. 25. The beginning course will meet from 6 to 7:30 p.m. each Tuesday and Thursday, followed by the advanced class from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

The beginning course will be limited to 30 students, with no prerequisite. The advanced course will require either completion of the beginning course or permission of the instructor.

Students will register during the first class session on Jan. 25.

A registration fee of $10 will be charged, plus a nominal cost for textbooks.

Further information may be obtained from Marvly Glascock at CSI.

Damaged

TWIN FALLS — Fire which resulted from a spark igniting cleaning solvent caused only smoke damage Wednesday afternoon at the Brake and Petroleum Co., 213 4th Ave. W.

Fire department officials said they received the call at 2:45 p.m. and trucks dispatched returned at 3:30 p.m. Workers in the building were burning old brake shoes when a spark flew into a container of solvent used to clean grease.

Smoke filled the building and was blown out by fire department equipment.

BARBARA CARLTON

TF may be site for convention

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls area may be selected for the first annual convention of a new Western Regional Junior Achievement conference next year.

Garry Bortz, a Twin Falls High School senior and treasurer of "PAX," sponsored by Mountain Bell, and Barbara Carlton, a high-school junior and president of PAX, attended the organizational conference in San Jose, Calif., as representatives of the Twin Falls Junior Achievement organization.

"They joined three other Idaho 'achievers' to represent Idaho at the conference called by the Santa Clara County Junior Achievement organization, and approved by national JA officials.

The site of the 1972 conference is yet to be decided, Bortz said, but if Twin Falls citizens show sufficient interest, Twin Falls could be selected.

The association will seek to organize throughout the Western states, and will represent a united front for the West at the national JA convention each year, Bortz said. The "organization of JA organizations" is the first of its kind in the history of the Junior Achievement movement.

Officers of the Western Regional Achievers Association include Barney Christiansen, Salt Lake City, president; Mark Nerheim, Kirkland, Wash., vice president, and Barbara Henshel, Sunnysvale, Calif., historian. Bortz was nominated for the historian's post, but lost out in the voting to Miss Henshel, he said on his return.

The secretary and treasurer will be appointed at a later date.

Bortz also attended the national Junior Achievement conference last August, where he was nominated for but failed to win the position of national JA vice president.

Rupert safety plans proposed

RUPERT — Better traffic control signing, cross walks around the city square and uniform camper parking will be recommended to Rupert City officials by the Rupert Traffic Safety Commission, chairman Dan Reed said today.

In their December meeting, the commission reviewed a new street and highway signing program being adopted on a nationwide basis and designed to inform the motorist by one system which can be recognized by shape, size and color regardless of where he may travel.

Commission members reviewed a study on H Street

South, and called for further observation of traffic problems there before a final decision on improvements is resolved.

Traffic control signs used around the shopping square will also be included in the study.

Several cities in southern Idaho are working on the problem of camper parking, commission members were told. Ed Culver, chief of police, recommended the problem be taken to civic groups for discussion and backing. He said a uniform system should be adopted and suggested methods being used in other communities be reviewed.

Culver said more crosswalks in the center of the blocks around the city square are needed. Such crossings, he said would eliminate present jay walking which constitutes a hazard for motorists and pedestrians.

Elmer Eddington, Minidoka County driver education instructor, discussed in a state meeting in Boise recently.

He suggested the commission recommend appointment of two students who will be seniors in high school next year be appointed to the commission membership. In this way, he said, they could serve one full year before graduating. Charlene Spence and Tony Saras were named at the start of this school year and will serve nine months.

Solons divided on candidate effect

(Editors Note: This is the tenth in a series outlining problems facing the forthcoming session of the 41st Idaho Legislature. Today—Potential candidates.)

By LINDY HIGH

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho's legislators either think there will be no difference at all or think the 1972 legislative session will be lengthened by the presence of potential congressional or Senate candidates.

Sen. Arthur Murphy, D-Mullan, suggested the best solution would be a "vaccine for the running for higher office" bug and inoculate all candidates who serve in the legislature.

Several members of the Idaho Legislature have been mentioned as possible candidates for the U.S. Senate seat being vacated by Sen. Len Jordan, R-Idaho, or the First or Second District seats — particularly from the First District since incumbent Rep. James McClure, R-Idaho, will make a bid for the Senate.

Lawmakers responding to a UPI poll were split almost evenly between those who feel the presence of the candidates will make no difference at all and those who see a possible lengthy session as a result of political footwork. "It will be a humdinger," said Sen. John Penney, R-Rupert. "Having so many candidates could add two weeks to the session."

Many agreed with Penney and cited longer speeches, political nitpicking, behind the scenes discussions and lots of work for more publicity as the reasons.

One legislator, who declined to be identified, indicated such things go with the job.

"This is no different from other election years," he said. "This is an occupational hazard."

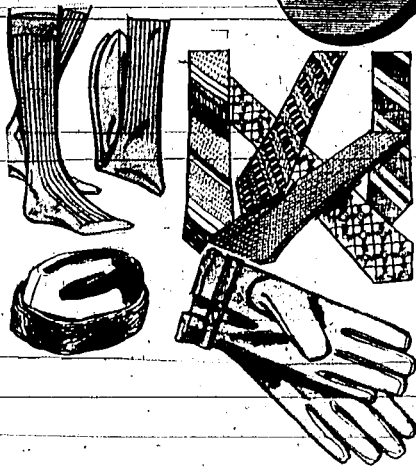

Others, however, see the election year itself as a factor in a potentially longer session.

The effect, according to Rep. Paul Worthen, R-Boise, will be "mostly oratory. We'll see more effect from this being the first election year in which a full annual budget is appropriated."

Sen. Edith Miller Klein, R-Boise, said the only effect would be "more speeches from those who are candidates," and Rep. William Lanting, R-Hollister, House speaker, agreed and added, "This may cause a little extended oratory."

5 agencies pledge aid for program

TWIN FALLS — Representatives of five federal and state agencies pledged their support and assistance to the Twin Falls County Rural Development Council program Tuesday.

Rural development council members of Twin Falls represent state, county and federal organizations dealing with land, water and other resource management.

Meeting with the regular council members Tuesday at the Soil Conservation Service office were officials of the U. S. Forest Service, Bureau of Land Management, Extension Service, Resource Service and others. All agreed to utilize their technical workers' talent and skills and information available in their offices to assist in coordinating rural development in the county.

Clarence Hedrick SCS, said such matters as land use, soil and water surveys and zoning studies will be available to the council.

Purpose of the council, he said, is to coordinate all resource groups and direct development plans toward one over-all coordinated plan for orderly development.

The council will work closely with the Twin Falls County Resource Planning group and the multi-county unit, the South Idaho Resource Planning and Development Committee.

Twin Falls County now has 12 planning and resource committees organized and working in the collection of resource information, Ed Woods, county zoning administrator told the group.

County Commissioners also attended the meeting with Commissioner Heber Loughmiller, chairman of the South Idaho Planning and Development organization, reporting on progress of his group.

4 Utah men charged

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (UPI) — The government Wednesday filed charges in federal court against four Utah men for allegedly slaying 12 Golden eagles on a ranch owned by a man implicated in eagle kills at a Senate hearing earlier this year.

The four were Henry J. Muzalaki, Gary Lee and Harry Lynn Halzlip, all of Murray, Utah, and Jack Stokes Howard of Salt Lake City. The complaints, filed by U.S. Attorney Richard Thomas, alleged the eagle kills occurred in December, 1970.

The four were accused of shooting the eagles on the Bolton Ranch in Carbon County, owned by Herman Werner. Howard was charged with killing eight eagles Dec. 12-13, 1970. The Halzlip brothers were charged with shooting three and Muzalaki was charged with shooting one.

The charges were the first in connection with the shooting of a reported 770 Golden and Bald eagles in Wyoming and Colorado last year. Thomas said additional charges were expected.

All four men were ordered to appear at U.S. District Court in Cheyenne Jan. 14. They were charged with misdemeanors punishable by a $500 fine and six months in jail.

Earlier this year, helicopter pilot James Vogan told a Senate subcommittee that groups of hunters he flew over the two states, including the area covered by Werner's ranch, were responsible for the deaths of the Golden and Bald eagles.

"The government believes all of the four men were trigger-men," said Thomas. He said the charges against the four were the result of testimony given by Vogan before the Senate subcommittee headed by Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo.

Vogan testified before the subcommittee that the eagles were shot while he was a pilot under contract to the Buffalo, Wyo., Flying Service and also while he was a Werner employee.

Vogan was fired by Werner after testifying before McGee's committee. Werner said he had specifically ordered Vogan to discontinue flights for eagle hunters but said that Vogan continued. Werner also denied ever ordering the killing of eagles.

The brothers filed a claim for $150, saying they worked with Vogan, at his invitation, with expectation of being paid $70 weekly. The claim said Gary worked with Vogan as a gunner from Dec. 28, 1970, to Jan. 8, 1971, and Larry worked one day. BFS Manager Doyle Vaughn denied Gary was ever employed by the firm.

Prior to Vogan's testimony that eagles were shot from the air, some 800 Bald and Golden eagles were found poisoned near Casper.

Slight wound

A MACHINE gunner opened fire Wednesday on a car carrying the Jordanian Ambassador to Britain, Zaid Al Rifa'i, wounding him slightly in the hand, a Scotland Yard spokesman said. The ambassador was being driven to the Jordanian Embassy in his chauffeured Rolls-Royce shortly before noon. (UPI)

Congress kills tank project

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress Wednesday killed the Army's project to produce a million-dollar super tank that some experts thought would be obsolete before the first one ever left the factory.

The administration had sought $86.6 million for the project, mostly for the construction of two prototypes, but the money was stripped from the $70.5 billion defense appropriation bill before it was approved by the House and Senate and sent to President Nixon Wednesday.

The cost of the program, which had risen to more than $1 billion per tank, plus a growing feeling in Congress that the era of tank warfare is over, contributed to the project's demise.

Writing an end to it, House and Senate conferees agreed to provide $40 million to terminate contracts and to set the Army

Andrus opposes

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus said Wednesday intrastate rail freight increases granted in Idaho for six carriers were "just another cost that will be detrimental to the grower and the consumer in Idaho."

The Idaho Public Utilities Commission announced it had approved the increases for Burlington Northern, Inc., Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad Co.; Washington, Idaho and Montana Railway; and Camas Prairie Railroad.

"Andrus, who earlier spoke out against the requested increase, said he was "very disappointed" the IPUC "found it necessary to once again hit the Idaho farmer, producer and manufacturer right in the mouth."

He said he had been told taking passenger service by train from all stops but Sandpoint, Idaho had saved the railroads millions of dollars.

Andrus appoints woman to post

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus has appointed Patricia H. Ehrlich, 34, Boise, to head the Idaho Traffic Safety Commission.

AAUW trims trees for Youth Ranch

BURLEY — The American Association of University Women held a tree trimming party at Idaho Youth Ranch, Rupert, for its December meeting. The women met at the home of Mrs. John McCloskey, Y-Dell, Burley, and then traveled to the Idaho Youth Ranch and assisted the boys at the ranch in trimming the three Christmas trees in the three homes on the ranch. After the trimming was completed the women and the youths met in the newest home on the ranch for refreshments and entertainment. Brad Clark, Vickie Russell, Nancy Larson, Melodie Forchler, Gara Barlow, Diana Trummell, Calvin Pearson and Royce Otte, all Burley High School students, sang several Christmas songs accompanied by Jean Graham. Mrs. Charles Reas made the arrangements for the evening.

Rupert sets public meet

RUPERT — Recommendations for the Rural Environmental Assistance Program for Minidoka County for 1972 will be heard at 1 p.m. Friday in the Rupert Civic Building. Henry Schodde, chairman of the county ASC committee, announced the meeting is open to the public. He said the program involved is not a new federal program, but is a remodeled agricultural conservation program. The conservation program was the federal program which authorized cost sharing on soil and water conservation practices. Presently the program is being re-oriented toward preservation of environmental quality and away from production-related conservation practices, such as land leveling and irrigation practices. Conservation practices can still be included in the cost sharing program if they are needed, according to Schodde. Each year public meetings are held at the county level to hear recommendations for the operation of the program in the county. Following the local meeting the recommendations will be submitted to the ASC state committee for approval, Schodde said. The pigmy rattlesnake is not more than 18 or 20 inches long.

Most Americans won't notice difference in dollar

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Devaluation of the dollar would change neither the price American farmers get for their wheat nor the price housewives pay for bread.

The news that President Nixon is offering such a move may shock patriots who consider the dollar "good as gold." And it may send chills down the spines of foreign car mechanics, Italian bankers, and American tourists about to change their dollars for travelers' checks.

But most Americans will hardly notice the difference once the United States devalues the dollar.

If you are worried about the consequences of Nixon's announcement, consider this: Devaluation changes only the value of the dollar relative to other currencies. It would not affect the price of eggs, milk, gasoline, haircuts or football tickets.

Most European nations have devalued their money at least once in recent years and the results have almost always been healthy for their economies.

The overall effect on the United States should be far less than on most other countries who have taken this step since the importance of imports and exports in the total U.S. economy is relatively small.

As put forward by Nixon, devaluation is simply a tactic—albeit a bold one—for bringing the world's currencies into better balance. For years, the dollar has been over-valued in relation to such foreign monies as the German mark, the English pound and the Japanese yen.

This has worked a hardship on American manufacturers by driving up the price of goods they sell overseas. At the same time, foreign countries have had a field day selling their lower-priced products in the United States. Look at the success of German automobiles and Japanese cameras and electronic equipment in the U.S. market.

US delays Paris talks

PARIS (UPI) — The United States put off the next Vietnam peace talks session for another week Wednesday, and the Communists responded by charging the move was aimed at killing the conference.

U.S. Ambassador William J.

Porter touched off the Communist accusations when he dispatched a liaison officer to the North Vietnam and Viet Cong delegations' headquarters with a four-paragraph memorandum informing them the Americans will not return to the negotiating table until Dec. 30.

Porter, the chief U.S. negotiator who has adapted an increasingly tough attitude in an attempt to soften Communist positions, already had ruffled the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong when he told them last week there will be no meeting this Thursday.

"The other side's approach to date in these meetings has been inconsistent with a process of serious negotiation," the U.S. delegation said in a press statement Wednesday.

"Accordingly, in order to afford the other side additional time for reflection and decision on their approach to these talks, we are withdrawing a proposal for a meeting on Dec. 23 and, instead, have now proposed that the next plenary session take place on Dec. 30," the statement said.

Summoning a joint news conference, the two Communist delegations then sharply accused both the Nixon administration and its chief Paris negotiator of trying to kill the peace conference.

Jury indicts pair

BOISE (UPI) — A federal grand jury has indicted two men on charges of robbing a bank in separate holdups during the past month.

The grand jury indicted Virgil E. Clappitt, 22, Yakima, Wash., on a charge of robbing the Eagle branch of the Idaho First National Bank of $4,632 Nov. 20.

Then the grand jury charged Vernon Roger Kuah, 31, Big Piney, Wyo., with robbing an Idaho Falls bank last week of $12,000.

California is the only state in the nation to raise almonds successfully in commercial quantities.

Youth sentenced

BLACKFOOT (UPI) — Bobby L. Benson was sentenced to a term not to exceed 30 years Tuesday for his conviction of second degree murder.

Seventh District Judge Arnold Boebe denied a motion for a new trial just before the sentence was pronounced.

Benson, 18, was convicted in the April 18 beating of 2-year-old Matthew Stephen Blair. Two months later Benson married the child's mother.

Newton count dropped

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — District Attorney Lowell Jensen today dropped manslaughter charges against Black Panther co-founder Huey P. Newton after three unsuccessful attempts since 1968 to make them stick.

Jensen moved before Superior Court Judge William J. Hayes to drop the indictment because, he said, there was no new evidence and he feared another trial would result in another hung jury.

Newton has been tried three times for the 1967 killing of policeman John Frey on an Oakland street. He was convicted in 1968 but the state court of appeal overturned the decision on the ground of judicial error.

Newton was accused of shooting Frey to death in a gun battle after the policeman stopped him for a traffic violation.

He was charged with murder in his first trial. The jury reduced it to manslaughter and convicted him. He served 22 months in prison before the appellate court reversed the decision last year because the judge gave erroneous instructions to the jury.

The second jury, last summer, was deadlocked 11-1 for conviction. The third, last week, split 6-6.

People balk over movie

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Bruce Cohn Curtis is in the unenviable position of having produced an excellent motion picture which people balk at seeing once they are told its content.

The movie is "Long Ago Tomorrow," a tender and touching love story which received favorable reviews.

The catch: The lovers are confined to wheel chairs.

Ordinarily—the public isn't wild about paying to see a movie which might be a downer, leaving them more depressed than before.

One dare not mention paraplegics in Bruce Cohn Curtis' presence. He winces in real pain.

While the picture has been exhibited in New York and Los Angeles, it will not be released in other parts of the United States until early next year. Curtis is seeking a peg on which to interest audiences.

He was reminded that "Ironside" is a most successful television series with Raymond Burr confined to a wheel chair. Marlon Brando made one of his better films, "The Men," as a paraplegic.

All the same, Curtis is distraught.

"The picture is not depressing," said Curtis ruefully. "Just the opposite. Those who have seen it feel the story is uplifting and inspiring."

A youngish man who lives and works in London, Curtis thought his picture would catch on with audiences based on word of mouth. Unhappily this method of promotion has not worked for him as, say, "The French Connection" has worked for 20th Century Fox.

It is incumbent on Curtis, therefore, to invent a campaign to drag people off the street and into theaters.

"That's what I had in mind when I made this picture," he said plaintively. "Every producer today is faced with the problem of tearing individuals away from their television sets."

"So far this picture has been good for me artistically, but it must show well at the boxoffice to satisfy the money men. So the old saying, 'you're only as good as your last picture' doesn't hold true.

"The guys who back movies want assurances and guarantees before a picture is made. No one can provide that. Only Steve McQueen, Bob Redford, Warren Beatty, Clint Eastwood, George C. Scott and John Wayne are bankable stars."

Curtis fell silent. The obstacle of selling a picture starring a young couple confined to wheelchairs remains unsolved. He is open to suggestions.

Maybe U.P. is bringing you something for Christmas!

Have you ever played hide-and-seek with a Union Pacific train?
It's a fascinating game, traveling thru Idaho, watching the sleek snake of freight cars disappear into a hill and then suddenly emerge from a distant valley or roar out of a canyon draw alongside the highway.
It's a game that "kids" of all ages enjoy, a game where everyone wins a magical moment or two to brighten his life. But in addition there is something pleasantly reassuring and steadfast about it all. Trains are important!
It's intriguing, too, just imagining what's in all those boxcars and on those flatcars. No matter what you guess, you'd probably be right, because Union Pacific brings a big portion of the things you use in your home, office, school, church, or plant. Machinery and merchandise. Foods and fabrics. Televisions and toys. Just about everything that helps make life wonderful comes to you, at least part of the way, by train...the Union Pacific.

That's why you can just about be sure that Union Pacific will be bringing you something for Christmas.
Your 3000 Idaho neighbors who work for Union Pacific hope it helps make your Christmas happy!

Card etiquette for '71 season

NEW YORK (UPI)—"Operation Christmas Cards 1971" can be a fun project with just a little planning and knowledge of card etiquette.

Here are helpful hints from the National Association of Greeting Card Publishers:

—On cards for your closest friends and relatives, your signatures should be as informal as possible with no "Mr." no "Miss" no "Ms." (the women's liberation designation for a woman who chooses not to signify her marital status) and no "Mr. and Mrs." Only when cards are addressed to formal acquaintances or business friends should you use the full name. These tips apply to both cards signed personally and those which carry imprinted name or family signature.

—The husband's name always comes first and also, when children's names are added, father's name still comes first. A widow or a married woman uses her husband's first name and a divorced woman would use her own first name.

—Among married couples, the person signing the card is expected to sign his or her name last, as a gesture of courtesy. But if the signatures have been imprinted or engraved, it is then proper for the wife's name to appear first. If there are children in the family, include their names. Indicate the relationship this way—"Paul and Alice—Judy, Pat and Tom" or, "The Four Masons—John and Mary, Dick and Polly."

—In sending cards to someone in mourning, you can choose special title Christmas greetings with messages of sympathy created just for this purpose.

—Make your cards special by writing brief messages on them. Just a few words of affection, an invitation to visit one day soon, or any news of a friendly nature is perfectly proper. To close friends, you might also send along a recent family snapshot.

—Address cards clearly and legibly, putting on flap your return address and zip code. This helps friends to keep their card list up to date.

—The Post Office Department says that Christmas seals, when used, belong on the reverse side of the envelope. This is to avoid conflict with the postage stamp on the face of the envelope.

—Mail early enough to assure delivery by Christmas. For nearby and local destinations, cards should go not later than a week before Christmas. For more distant places, they should be mailed by December 15. Use the "for out of town delivery" and "for local delivery" wrappers from the Post Office when bundling your cards.

—If you are mailing gifts by parcel post, include an extra label or slip of paper inside each package containing both the addressee's full name and address and your return address. This will help in delivery if the wrapper is damaged or removed.

VIRGIL Lee Ramsey, 76, and Eileen De Renia, 60, who said they got married so they could watch the late show on TV together, exchange vows at Alhambra Convalescent Hospital in Martinez, Calif. Ramsey and his bride said they had been prevented from watching the late show because of a hospital rule that forbids patients of the opposite sex from watching TV alone in a room, unless they are married. Couple recites VOWS

FILER — Deborah J. Szczechowski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Szczechowski, Waukegan, Wis., was married to Claude Franklin Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Davis, Filer, Nov. 27 at the St. Joseph Catholic Church, Waukegan.

Father Quartana performed the ceremony. The bride wore a full-length gown of pale ivory satin accented with clusters of scattered seed pearls. The back of the gown flowed into a six-foot train.

Her headpiece of pearls formed a bow. She carried a bouquet of ivory chrysanthemums and roses.

Pamela Szczechowski was bridesmaid for her sister, and Ivis Davis, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Peter Guerinio and Michael Guarino.

A reception in honor of the couple was held in the Temple Hall of Waukegan. Guests were entertained with dinner and dancing in the hall decorated in all white wedding bells.

The couple resides in California. The bridegroom is serving in the Navy, stationed at Pearl Harbor.

Tips on tree care

MOSCOW (UPI) — University of Idaho Extension Forester Vernon Burilson said today proper selection and care of your Christmas tree will make the holidays happier and safer.

Burilson said a well-tapered, moderately dense tree has the appearance preferred by the majority of people and the most attractive tree will have a base width of 60-70 per cent of its height.

He said to avoid trees with branches which are too narrow or too wide and too dense trees leave no space for ornaments. The forester suggested persons should check their selections for freshness by two methods.

"First," he said, "Take a few needles between the forefinger and thumb, then bend them about 90 degrees and pull."

The needles will usually break in a dry tree, he said. Burilson said on a green tree the needles will be filled with moisture and flexible and probably will pull loose at the base instead of breaking in two.

"The second test," he said, "is to lift the tree about 15 inches off the ground and drop it straight down. If any of the green needles shatter, the tree is beginning to dry."

Burilson said when the tree is brought home 1/2 to 3/4-inch of the bottom should be cut off and the tree reinserted in a stand with the base in water to keep it fresh.

Population Council gives findings on abortions

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Abortions performed after eight weeks of pregnancy are safer than those done before that time—although the greatest risk still faces women who wait until 15 or 16 weeks, the Population Council said today.

It based its findings on a study of 42,598 legal abortions in 12 states and the District of Columbia, and also reported that:

—Late abortions—after the 13th week of gestation—are three or four times more risky than early abortions.

—Abortions performed on an out-patient basis, whether in a clinic or hospital, were found to be associated with complications less often than those abortions in which the woman was hospitalized.

—There were fewer complications among women who had general anesthesia than among those who had local anesthesia.

—Ward or staff patients whose abortions generally were publicly financed, some by Medicaid, had "significantly higher complication rates" than private patients.

The study's authors attributed the greater risks for poor women to "some factor related to the quality of care."

The authors provided no further explanation about the higher complication rate among hospitalized women and "the quality of care" for poor women. They said the anesthesia finding, though it was "astounding," probably was related to the fact that women were more relaxed under general anesthesia.

They said the 42,598 abortions studied most frequently involved "a young, single, white woman pregnant for the first time. One per cent of the patients were under 15 years of age ... 10 per cent were under 18 ... and 24 per cent were under 20."

The study, which eventually will include analysis of 75,000 abortions, was done by Dr. Christopher Tietze, associate director of the population council, and Sarah Lewis, a research associate. The New York City-based council is a private foundation concerned with population research.

Secluded beach

A SECLUDED COVE on a beach near Honolulu makes taking a dip in the Pacific Ocean or surfing a very private affair. The shores of the outer islands also offer bathers miles of uninhabited white sand. Scenes like this will greet the Times-News Magic of Hawaii '72 tourists when they arrive in Hawaii aboard a Pan American jet.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is the head of a large corporation. He does not drink hard liquor, but very few people know this because at cocktail parties he takes one drink and pretends to sip it all evening.

Now he watches his junior executives' drinking habits very carefully, and they are promoted or fired accordingly. Anyone who takes more than two drinks is dropped or passed over for promotion no matter how good a job he does.

I feel that my husband should have a talk with the man and give him a chance to cut down. He says: "No, once a drunk, always a drunk." He says it takes guts not to drink in today's society, and he needs men with guts to run the business right. What is your opinion?

CONCERNED

DEAR CONCERNED: If everyone who takes more than two drinks is [as your husband states] a "drunk"—there are a lot of drunks effectively running a lot of businesses. I agree, it takes guts not to drink in today's society, but a man who takes a drink publicly and "pretends" to sip it so no one will know he doesn't drink, is tacking his guts himself. If you're in the issue, the alcoholic who said: "No thanks, I'm an alcoholic" has far more guts than your better-than-thou abstainer.

DEAR ABBY: I have a very good friend I have known for a long time, and I wouldn't intentionally hurt her for the world. She and her husband are about 15 years older than my husband and I, but we want around together and were all good friends.

The whole mess started when her husband started making advances and trying to paw me. I slapped his face once (real hard) in the kitchen when he tried to get fresh, but that didn't stop him. He came over to my house one night knowing my husband wasn't there. I wouldn't let him in, so he climbed in thru the window, and I ran him off with a broom.

In desperation, I told his wife, and do you know what she said to me? "I know his faults, but I love him anyway. You were very cruel to tell me and I will never forgive you for it!"

Our friendship has cooled off a lot since then, but at least it did not stop to all his funny business. Was I wrong in telling my friend about her husband?

BROKEN FRIENDSHIP

DEAR BROKEN: Yes, you did it the hard way. You should have told your husband.

DEAR ABBY: A reader wrote to tell you that he (or she) had read somewhere that when a couple becomes engaged and the boy doesn't give the girl an engagement ring, but buys her a fancy wedding ring instead, she can wear it as her "engagement" ring. The reader asked if that was proper.

You replied, "Not in MY book. A wedding ring should not be worn until AFTER the wedding."

Well, Abby, in Switzerland, where the couple becomes engaged, the boy gives the girl a plain gold wedding ring which she wears on her RIGHT hand. After the wedding she wears the ring on her LEFT hand. Sincerely yours, MRS. S. W.

DEAR MRS. S. W.: Live and learn! I appreciate your setting me straight. You and I have learned from different "books" ... each is correct, so when in Rome (or Switzerland) do what the natives do.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 49700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90049. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

MR. AND MRS. BRENT D. SUMMERS

Janelle Hopkins, Summers marry

BUHL — Janelle Hopkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim A. Hopkins, Buhl, became the bride of Brent D. Summers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Summers, Idaho Falls, in an evening ceremony Nov. 27 at the St. John's Lutheran Church, Idaho Falls.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Richard Scholz before a background of bronze chrysanthemums and orange bearded wheat straw flower candelabra tied with avocado bows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of bridal organza which featured a snowflake-trimmed chapel train with Venise lace accenting the Camelot sleeves and neckline. Her elbow-length four-tiered veil of nylon illusion was held in place by a crown of alencon lace, pearls and crystal trim.

She carried a bouquet of Woburnable roses, star and straw flowers.

Mrs. Brent Martens was matron of honor for her sister, and Rebecca Hopkins, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid.

Best man was Boyd Haskell, Idaho Falls. Ushers were Robert Walton, Idaho Falls, and Brent Martens, Moscow.

For the ceremony, Dee Glavin and Barney Glavin sang.

A reception for 125 guests followed the wedding ceremony at the church. Tables were decorated with avocado candles and straw flowers. Anita Herrick was in charge of the guest book and Kim Glavin and Toni Kruger registered gifts. The cake was made and decorated by Mrs. Walcott. Others assisting with the reception were Jill Hadley, Melissa Erkins, Carol Walton, Debbie Hann, Kathy Van-Buskirk and Gloria Haddon.

The couple resides at 980 N. Boulevard, Idaho Falls, where the bridegroom is employed at United Appliance and the bride at Staker's Flower Shop.

The bride attended Buhl High School and Cliff Mann Forest School, Denver. Summers was graduated from Bonneville High School, Idaho Falls, and attended Ricks College. He recently returned from Vietnam.

A pre-nuptial shower for the bride was given by Mrs. Harley Hanns and Meta Holtzen. The rehearsal party was held at the home of Dee Glavin.

Yule gift ideas for officials

By DEAN C. MILLER
UPI Business Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—It's time again to consider appropriate Christmas gifts for public officials who make our business and financial world spin. And here are some suggestions:

For President Nixon, who vowed never to liposse wage and price controls, a memory course.

For Treasury Secretary John Connally, a bronze plaque bearing the legend, "Remember the Alamo; forget the dollar."

For Howard Hughes, if you can find him, another year's supply of vanishing cream.

For William McCoskey Martin, former New York Stock Exchange and Federal Reserve boss who spent months on a study which recommended reforms in the NYSE, the job of putting them into effect. He's willing.

For William Casey, chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission and a Wall Street star at heart, the original manuscript of former NYSE Chairman Bunny Lasker's epic poem, "Be It Ever So Humble There's No Place Like the Floor of the New York Stock Exchange."

For Robert Haack, soon to depart as president of the NYSE, an all-expense paid Greyhound tour back to the Midwest from whence he came with a side stop at the Potomac, Md., home he maintained throughout his years on the New York job.

For Paul Kollon, president of the American Stock Exchange and candidate for the NYSE job, a pitch pipe to guarantee he's on key with those love calls across the Trinity churchyard.

For George Meany, the AFL-CIO boss whose remarks following President Nixon's recent union convention appearance would have raised even John L. Lewis' eyebrows, a copy of Emily Post's latest book on etiquette.

For Richard Gerstenberg, incoming chairman and chief executive officer of General Motors, a Ralph Nader doll delivered in a new Volkswagen.

For Ralph Nader, one share of General Motors' stock and an autographed picture of an outgoing GM Boss James Roche, the man who gave Ralphie his start.

For Hugh Hefner, whose Playboy empire went public Nov. 3 at an offering price of $23.50, now around $10, a rabbit's foot to get those bunny tails flying high again.

For Ross Perot, the Texas multimillionaire who likes his DuPont Gore Forgan employees to dress conservatively, a copy of the 1904 Sears Roebuck catalog.

For Bausch & Lomb, whose stock soared 600 per cent this year from the 1971 low of 27 1/2 because of its new soft contact lenses, rose colored glasses to get it through any dark moments in 1972.

For Aristotle Onassis, the Greek shipping tycoon, something practical like a South African gold mine.

KAL KAN Good meat protein, naturally balanced for complete nutrition.

Secrecy outdoes itself

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Backstairs at the White House: Sometimes the White House seems to outsmart itself with its propensity for secret diplomacy.

That was the feeling on the part of some reporters who heard an impressive account of a top-level official of the feverish activity by President Nixon, racing against the clock, to prevent the outbreak of war between India and Pakistan.

But the real came after the fact, and apparently only in answer to criticism by Sens. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, of U.S. policies toward the subcontinent.

Had the White House brought out into the open the concessions it had wrung from Pakistan for the eventual autonomy of Bangla Desh and the apparent political sabotage by India, it may have rallied public opinion against the use of force.

In private diplomacy seeking restraint from India, Secretary of State William P. Rogers met Ambassador Lakshmi Kant Jha 18 times and national security affairs adviser Henry A. Kissinger conferred with Jha 7 times.

The United States told the Indian envoy that the Pakistanis were prepared to discuss a timetable for political independence for East Pakistan — two days before India launched a massive attack.

Despite two personal messages from Nixon, Indian Prime Minister Indira Gandhi did not respond. Nor did she indicate during her State visit to Washington in early November that war was imminent.

White House officials admitted they were taken by surprise when hostilities began.

The crisis goes back to March 25 when Pakistani President Yahya Khan established military rule in East Bengal to put down the rebels led by Sheikh Mujibur Rahman.

Instead of publicly condemning the ruthless repression of the rebels which forced millions of refugees into India, the White House remained silent and attempted behind the scenes — diplomacy — to win concessions from the Pakistani leader.

The failure to condemn the suppression of the Bengalis left the impression that the administration was condoning the Pakistani action and lacked a concern for the refugees' fate.

But the White House said that

Thursday, December 16, 1971 Times-News, Twin Falls, Idaho 23

It had stopped arms aid to Pakistan and gave millions of dollars in humanitarian relief — more than any other country — to help the suffering refugees.

Safeway Pledges Continued Support Of Our Nation's Fight Against Inflation

As you would expect from a company which has devoted its life to keeping food cost down, Safeway will give full support to Phase II of the President's Economic Stabilization Program. We are in the process of making available in our stores lists of our base prices for non-exempt food products. These were our selling prices during the freeze period of the President's program. From these lists you will learn that many of our shelf prices are below our base prices. This will continue to be true under Phase II controls. Prices we pay for foods we sell are always subject to changes resulting from such things as crop conditions and seasonal demand. Thus, you will find that some prices will go up, others will go down, while many will remain unchanged. Control regulations provide for adjustments over base prices where necessary. In working under these regulations, you can be sure that Safeway will raise prices only when absolutely necessary. Also, we will promptly reduce prices whenever possible.

In Phase II, as during the freeze period, you can be sure that Safeway will do its part to help put the brakes on inflation.

Three tourneys feature weekend play: Hansen meet begins tonight

Three tournaments, a little conference action and a lot of non-league prep work continue this weekend in Magic Valley high school basketball action. One of the tournament opens tonight at the Hansen gymnasium where the Murtaugh

Red Devils will take on Kimberly's Bulldogs at 7 p.m. and Hansen goes against Valley in the nightcap.

Starting Friday, DeLoe hosts a tourney with Raft River, Oakley and Rockland, and Castleford has a pair of doubleheaders, Dietrich, Camas County and the Twin Falls Juniors jumping in. Both continue Saturday night.

Patulski, Reeves to be 1-2 choices

HOUSTON (UPI)—Defensive end Walt Patulski of Notre Dame and quarterback John Reeves of Florida will probably be the first two players selected in the upcoming pro draft, the owner and general manager of the Houston Oilers said Wednesday.

Lynn Dickey, a quarterback drafted last time, for an offensive back or lineman. "You could probably get three offensive linemen for Reeves," Adams said. "There are several teams wanting quarterbacks and there aren't that many good ones available this year."

Adams said he liked Nebraska's Jeff Kinney better than any other college running back and preferred Robert Newhouse of the University of Houston over Alabama's all-American Johnny Musso.

Breen said Bobb Moore of Oregon would be the first running back drafted by the pros.

Owner Bud Adams said if the Oilers get to pick second in the draft they would select and trade Reeves, who broke Jim Plunkett's NCAA passing record this year.

The Oilers entertain the San Diego Chargers Sunday in the Astrodome and if the Chargers win, the Oilers will have the second worst record in the National Football League and hence the No. 2 draft pick.

Last week the Oilers played Buffalo, the team with the first pick, and Oiler General Manager John Breen said he talked with officials about the draft. Breen said the Buffalo officials said they would select Patulski first.

Adams said Houston, if it got the second pick, would go with Reeves. He said the Oilers could then trade Reeves and possibly Adams also said Coach Ed Hughes' timing was bad in the firing of offensive backfield coach Will Schlinkman this week.

"If I was going to let him go, I'd have preferred to see it happen after the season was over," Adams said. "John Breen and I talked to Coach Hughes about it and he had good reasons."

Dallas won't coast; regulars must work

DALLAS (UPI)—The Dallas Cowboys will start their regulars against the St. Louis Cardinals Saturday even though the Cowboys are certain of a spot in the playoffs, Coach Tom Landry said Wednesday.

"We're not going to be saving anybody, we've got to keep our momentum going," Landry said about the season closing contest in Texas Stadium. The Cowboys will be going after their seventh straight victory.

The Cowboys have clinched a berth in the championship playoffs for the sixth straight year and can snare up their sixth Eastern Division title and an 11-3 record by beating the crippled Cardinals. A loss would open the door for the Washington Redskins (9-3-1) to win the division title by beating Cleveland Sunday.

The Cowboys, if they win the East, must go to Minnesota's Christmas Day to face the Vikings in the playoffs. But if they wind up second they would open the playoffs in either San Francisco or Los Angeles Dec. 25 as the wild card team.

"The thought of a return trip to the cold of the upper Midwest, where the Cowboys lost a 1967 championship game to Green Bay in sub-zero weather, seems certain to at least linger in the Cowboys' minds."

"It has got to affect them some," Landry said of that potential situation and how it might affect their play against the Cardinals.

"I don't know how much ... I can't predict football players. I've quit trying. But I know we want to win the East."

Landry said if the team winds up going to Minnesota as expected, he would not alter the usual Cowboys' practice plans in order to "take the team" up early in order to get used to the cold.

"We will go up the day before the game, as we normally do," he said, "arriving about noon and getting in one workout ... then wait for the next day."

"Don't think we can include a bad field in our game plan. It would not make much difference unless we got caught in a snowstorm (during the game)," cellar with a 6-20-2 record. The club, which was plagued by poor attendance this year, nearly folded last year and had been on shaky financial footing during much of its eighty-year existence.

Landry said he planned to start Duane Thomas at fullback and Calvin Hill at halfback against St. Louis for the third straight week. But he added he planned to "spell 'em off" by working season-long starting fullback Walt Garrison into the lineup.

Garrison has missed the last two games because of a thigh injury and the Thomas-Hill duo has been superb in perking up the rushing attack.

"I want Garrison to play, but I don't know how much he'll actually get into the game," Landry said.

East hockey team folds

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—The Eastern Hockey League Jacksonville Rockets finally folded Wednesday after eight frustrating seasons marked by poor teams and a shaky financial operation.

Jacksonville General Manager Bob Sabourin announced that efforts to sell the team had failed and he had sent telegrams to EHL President Tom Lockhart and other EHL teams notifying them the Rockets were disbanding.

"We will make every attempt to get the players jobs with another team in the EHL or, if things can't be worked out within the league, we will go outside to try and gain employment for them," Sabourin said.

Minico Spartans will entertain the Nampa Bulldogs Friday night in an SIC battle. The Spartans stay home to Boise Saturday night. Nampa stays in Magic Valley to play the Bruins at Twin Falls, the host team having cancelled out Friday's battle with Boise due to the flu thing.

Gooding's powerful Senators continue on the road, this time going to Glenns Ferry. The Pilots have pretty good height, but will look short compared to Gooding. The Senators have been devastating defensively, allowing no team more than 35 points thus far.

Wood River will entertain the Salmon Savages, both teams holding 1-1 records so far. American Falls returns a trip to Filer, the Beavers having won the first meeting in overtime.

Shoshone, which lost to Castleford Tuesday, will travel to Hagerman which holds a 2-2 mark and Carey goes to Mackay.

In Saturday's action, Wood River goes into the Big Six conference against the Trojans at Wendell. Buhl repays a visit to Emmett with an eye toward revenge since the Huskies knocked the midlans out of the undefeated ranks with a fourth-quarter scoring blitz last week.

Glenns Ferry stays home, playing host to Filer while Jerome leaves the district for a rematch at American Falls. Jerome won the first one.

Burley opens its Eastern Idaho Conference schedule by entertaining Rigby while Richfield is at Minico, playing the Juniors.

Vols complete long workout

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—The Tennessee Vols were on the practice field for three and a half hours Wednesday preparing to meet the Arkansas Razorbacks in the Liberty Bowl Monday night.

Coach Bill Battle said the Vols would begin one-day practices Thursday, but that the long layoff necessitated two sessions Wednesday.

"After a long layoff you get behind on the fundamentals," the young head coach said. "I felt we needed to get our timing back and regain a lot of other things in basic execution we lost during the layoffs."

Starting tour early

Utags open football tour in Japan

TOKYO (UPI)—Utah State's football team, which lost only three games this year including one to No. 1 Nebraska, has arrived to give the Japanese education in American football.

Two games are scheduled against teams of Japanese collegiate all stars—one at Tokyo Dec. 19 and the other at Osaka Dec. 28.

Foster defends crown

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI)—World light-heavyweight champion Bob Foster will defend his title Thursday night in the first world championship boxing match staged in Oklahoma.

Brian Kelly, the winner of his last 23 fights and the Oklahoma champion, will challenge the 6-3 Foster of Albuquerque, N.M.

Foster has never lost a fight as a light-heavyweight but last year he tried his luck as a heavyweight and lost to champion Joe Frazier.

Foster is five inches taller than Kelly and has a reach of 79 inches, seven inches more than Kelly.

Foster has knocked out 38 of his 50 opponents. He likes to fight often and has defended his title four times this year alone.

In his last outing, he stopped Tommy Hicks in eight rounds. Foster quit the ring at the age of 24 after five years as a fighter and took a job in a bomb factory in Baltimore.

"Three years ago, I couldn't get a loaf of bread without paying cash and there were a lot of times I didn't have the money, either," he recalls.

So he returned to the fight game and claimed the title from Dick Tiger in 1968.

Kelly also has retired from fighting once, two years ago because of an elbow injury. But he returned to become the most popular boxer produced in Oklahoma.

There is little doubt about the outcome. Utah State will outweigh the Japanese teams about 45 pounds per man and will average more than a foot taller.

The differences in power and skills should be even greater than that between the Baltimore Orioles and Japanese professional baseball teams. The Orioles recently won 12, lost two and tied four against the best professional talent available here.

In addition, baseball is a major sport in Japan while American football is strictly minor and ranks far below other sports including soccer and rugby.

One of the Japanese sports mysteries is how American football survived at all since its introduction 36 years ago by a group of seniors who had played their final varsity games at Washington, Oregon; California and Southern California late in 1934.

Japanese call the game "too slow" and it never has caught popular fancy. Fans could not understand the rules. Most exasperating to them was the huddle between plays. It was incredible to them that a team had to make 10 yards in four plays for a first down and then start all over again.

Nevertheless, starting soon after the 1934 exhibitions by the visiting collegians from the American west, "Nisei" or American students of Japanese parentage who were attending Waseda, Meiji and Rikkyo Universities, began to organize teams and play among themselves.

Other university students since then refused to give up the game, although attendance has been small. Some 25 colleges and universities in Tokyo and Yokohama area now have teams playing American football.

Until a few years ago, an all star Japanese college team played during the year-end holidays against a United States armed forces team but the Japanese were too small and suffered one-sided defeats. The event was cancelled with the reduction of U.S. forces in Japan but this year the Japan American Football Association decided to extend an invitation to Utah State to spur new interest.

Fox gets manager honors

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Charlie Fox, who guided the San Francisco Giants to the Western Division title in the National League this year, was named Manager of the Year by The Sporting News Wednesday in a poll of the 24 major league managers.

Close behind in the balloting was Bob Lemon, who piloted the Kansas City Royals to a second place finish in the American League West. A three-way tie developed for third between Earl Weaver, whose Baltimore Orioles captured a third consecutive American League pennant; Dick Williams of the Oakland Athletics which captured the American League Western Division title, and Chuck Tanner of the Chicago White Sox.

The 60-year-old Fox has been a member of the Giant organization since 1942, starting as a catcher with Bristol in the Appalachian League and appearing in three Giant games. He then entered the Navy and never returned to the majors as a player. After his discharge in 1946, Fox played briefly at Manchester and then took the reins as manager of that team. He then went back to Bristol to both catch and manage, moved to St. Cloud and Sunbury, managing and catching for those teams also.

He served as a scout for the Giants for seven years and then managed Tucoma in the Pacific Coast League.

In 1965, he was brought up to the parent club as a coach and in May 1970, was named manager.

Last season, the Giants grabbed the division lead six days after the season opened and held it all the way, although going to the wire against the Dodgers the final two weeks. The title came despite the lack of a 20-game winner or a 300- or even 200- hitter, and the lowest team fielding percentage in the major leagues.

Shelley drops Burley from undefeated ranks with 77-74 decision

SHELLEY — Shelley, handed by Bob Thompson's game-long scoring and specifically by his bucket in the last eight seconds, toppled the previously-undefeated Burley Bobcats 77-74 Wednesday night and spoiled the Bobcats' hopes, probably, for remaining on top of the state basketball rankings.

Rondon keeps title with 8th-round KO

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Vicente Rondon, the World Boxing Association light heavyweight champion, successfully defended his title Wednesday night by knocking out Doyle Baird of Akron, Ohio, at 2:10 of the eighth round.

It was the 23rd straight victory for the 27-year old littleholder from Caracas, Venezuela, who captured the light heavyweight crown by knocking out Jimmy Dupree last February.

The champion, who was two and a half inches taller than Baird and outweighed him by five pounds at 175-170, used short jabs through the first three rounds and opened a cut under Baird's left eye in the second round.

Baird, who kept crowding the champion, took the first round but ran out of gas after trying to put Rondon away in the first three rounds.

74 Wednesday night and spoiled the Bobcats' hopes, probably, for remaining on top of the state basketball rankings.

Shelley, ranked eighth in the poll announced earlier in the day with a 3-1 record, led almost all the time and twice posted 11-point margins. But the Bobcats closed with a rush, pulling into a tie at 73-all on two consecutive Lon Frazier shots. But the next time down the floor Thompson hit two free throws to push Shelley back on top. Frazier hit the first of a one-and-one free throw situation seconds later to reduce Burley's deficit to 75-74 and Burley regained possession. With 1:14 left, the Bobcats called time out and came back on the floor looking for the good shot. The strategy was spoiled, however, when a three-second violation was called. Shelley then worked the ball for about 35 seconds and appeared a bit premature when it took a shot with 18 seconds left and missed. However, Shelley's Steele grabbed the rebound and two passes later Thompson got clear and plunked in the crushing field goal.

It was a tight game over the first 10 or 11 minutes, although Shelley managed a 25-20 lead by that time. The Bobcats sustained a setback when Frazier was hurt in a collision and left the floor for the final three and one-half minutes of the half. During his absence, Thompson, Shaw and Swanson gunned Shelley into a 39-30 lead.

Thompson's field goal opening the second half gave Shelley its first 11-point spread and Burley was behind from nine to six points over most of the period.

BSC rallies in last minute to overhaul Bengals 78-76

BOISE (UPI) — Boise State College came from behind in the final minute to fudge foul-riddled Idaho State 78-76 Wednesday night for its fifth straight win of the season.

The Broncos scored the go-ahead points on a lay up by Ron Franklin and after Dean Ecklund added one from the foul line and then both watched as the Bengals missed three shots in the last 30 seconds.

ISU's 6-8 Ev Fopma, who took game honors with 31 points and 13 rebounds, missed one of the last three attempts and was charged with an offensive foul, his fifth, to end the Bengals chance to pull it out.

Bill Cottrell scored 16 points to pace BSC before fouling out with 1:11 to go.

Boise State appeared to have won when they pulled into a 76-70 lead, the biggest for either team in the second half, with two minutes left.

But Fopma erased the spread with a six point burst, setting up BSC's comeback.

Beside Fopma, ISU lost LeRoy Gibbons and Jerry Sabins on personal fouls. The Bengals had twice enjoyed ten-point leads in the first half, but inside sniping by Cottrell narrowed the deficit to 44-43 at halftime.

Weber rips defending champions

OGDEN (UPI) — Weber State pulled away from defending NCAA college division champ Evansville in the second half to post a 67-70 victory here Wednesday night.

Weber now stands at 5-0 on the season, while Evansville evened its record at 2-2.

The purple Aces jumped off to an early 6-2 lead, but Weber tied it up, 13-all. The Cats then gained the lead for good with 10:32 gone in the first half with the score reading 20-17, used a fast break to gain a 41-37 halftime advantage.

Evansville fought back in the second half to knot the score 50-50, but it was Weber's game from then on.

Richard Cooper led Weber with 26 points and 21 rebounds, while teammate Bob Davis hit 21 points and collected 17 rebounds.

For Evansville, it was Rick Coffey with 17 points, while center Steve Welmer had 15. Weber shot 42 per cent from the field and 83 per cent from the line and gathered in 59 rebounds.

The Purple Aces shot a sizzling 48 per cent from the floor and 65 per cent from the line while grabbing 31 rebounds.

Bucks batter Buffalo

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — Kareem Abdul-Jabbar scored 35 points and John Block added 24 to lead the Milwaukee Bucks to their seventh consecutive victory 122-108 over the Buffalo Braves Wednesday night.

Abdul-Jabbar scored 23 points in the first half as the Bucks went into intermission with a 63-57 lead. Abdul-Jabbar managed only two baskets the second half.

Milwaukee was ahead 73-70 in the third quarter when 7-foot-1 Buffalo center Elmore Smith picked up his fifth foul and had to sit it out until late in the fourth quarter. With Smith on the bench the Bucks began pulling away.

Smith finished the night with 18 points and Bob Kaufmann was high for the Braves with 29. Walt Hazzard and Mike Davis each added 22 for Buffalo.

Colonels cool Fopma

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Rookie Artis Gilmore scored 34 points, grabbed 25 rebounds and blocked nine shots Wednesday night in leading Kentucky to a 137-93 rout of the Carolina Cougars for the Colonels' biggest victory margin over.

The Colonels raced into a 28-11 lead in the first period and breezed on to a 63-45 lead at the half, cooling off a Carolina team that had upset the Utah Stars and the Virginia Squires in successive games.

Celtics pad league lead

BOSTON (UPI) — Don Chaney and Jo Jo White scored 22 points apiece Wednesday as the Boston Celtics romped to an easy 112-100 win over the Seattle SuperSonics, boosting their first place lead to 2-1-2 games in the Atlantic division, or the National Basketball Association.

Center Dave Cowens added 21 points and pulled in 14 rebounds. John Havlicek scored 20 points though he could make only one basket in the first period.

The Celtics lead 57-54 at the end of the second period, but shut off the Sonics' offense in the second half.

Spencer Haywood paced Seattle with 20 points. Don Smith and Dick Snyder followed with 15 points apiece.

Boston took control in the third period, outscoring the Sonics 30-23 and reeling off 10 straight points.

A-State rips North Arizona

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (UPI) — Arizona State University combined a fast break and control of the boards to smother Northern Arizona University 96-71 Wednesday night.

Bill Kennedy hit 20 points for the Sun Devils, now 5-1, and Mike Contreras and Rhea Taylor added 17 each. Paul Stallard grabbed 17 rebounds for the Devils, who out-jumped the Axers, 44-37.

ASU led 48-37 at the half and was never seriously threatened.

The Devils hold star lumberjack Walt Marmon to only two points, his lowest in three years.

NFL denies plans to launch closed TV program

NEW YORK (UPI)—Pete Rozelle, commissioner of the National Football League, Wednesday strongly denied a congressman's charges that last Saturday's closed circuit telecast in Miami was a "testing of the legal waters" by the NFL for future national closed circuit telecasts of title games.

In an exclusive interview with the UPI Editorial Board, Rozelle said, "any thought we conducted this in Florida as a test case is absolutely ludicrous."

Rep. Paul Rogers, D-Fla., said he was concerned the closed circuit telecast of the Baltimore-Miami game in Miami "could possibly lead to a national closed circuit network for championship games."

Noting only 3,900 fans turned up for the 30,000 seats available in Miami for the telecast, Rozelle said, "that confirms my judgment that closed circuit is not a big thing for pro football."

He added, "I think the All-Frazier fight gave many people misconceptions about what can be done on theater TV outside of just an unusual one-shot event. I think that Rep. Rogers and a great number of people are quite misinformed about both our testimony before Congress and also about the proposed FCC guidelines that will undoubtedly pass in some form."

According to the guidelines, an event that has been carried on free TV in an area for two or three years can not be made available for pay TV without first being offered to home TV.

Since the NFL title games have all been on home TV in the past two years, it would be impossible for Rozelle to take them off the home screens. The commissioner also added there were "no loopholes" to the proposed law.

"For many reasons, including FCC guidelines, I see no basic change in our TV policy," Rozelle said, "I think the All-Frazier fight led a great number of people to erroneous conclusions as to what can be done in other sports on theater TV."

Of course, under the FCC guidelines, it might be possible to put home games on closed circuit or pay TV because home games have always been blacked out when the home team is playing.

But Rozelle doesn't think that will happen. "We experimented closed circuit or pay TV, the ratings would go down on the networks showing other games. We would have to consider the business aspects and since the ratings would go down, we would have to achieve a considerable amount of money to compensate what we have to kick back to the networks," he said.

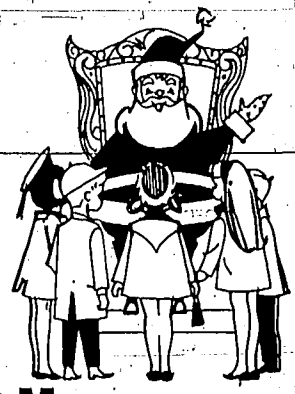

Explaining the decision to have a closed circuit telecast in Miami last Saturday, Rozelle noted the NFL couldn't televise the game in Miami because, "under the law the Orange Blossom Classic was protected against a pro telecast coming into Miami that day."

Noise, silence bad too

WASHINGTON—(UPI)—Noise, scientists agree, is bad for you.

But utter silence might, in some respects be worse.

Noise above certain levels inflicts pain on human beings. At lower but still fairly high levels it causes loss of hearing. At still lower levels it induces in many persons a distressing symptom called acoustic fatigue amounting in some cases to "extreme exhaustion."

Dr. Gilbert C. Tolhurst, formerly associated with the Office of Naval Research and now a teacher at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst, discussed human physiological and psychological responses to noise in a recent issue of Naval Research Reviews.

There are some persons so sensitive to noise that they may long for total quiet. They wouldn't like it if they got it, according to Tolhurst.

Researchers have rigged up what they call anechoic rooms where no outside sound penetrates. They also have managed to exclude all other stimuli, including visual.

This, said Tolhurst, is a condition "poorly tolerated" by both human and subhuman species. Few persons have ever experienced it.

"The usual reactions" of those who have, according to Tolhurst, "are extreme apprehension, fear or panic."

"It is truly an eerie first experience," he wrote, "to be in a situation where one can hear one's own heart beat clearly, the vertebrae grate upon each other as one rotates his head from side to side, and where each breath is most apparent, both upon inhalation and exhalation, no matter how one may try to breathe easily."

So perhaps the library and hospital zone signs saying "Quiet, Please," should be amended to read, "Quiet—But Don't Overdo It."

"It seems," said Tolhurst, "that with but few exceptions man has adapted to his 'noisy' environment as well during his maturation that profound silence is a condition to be avoided."

Reminder issued on taxes

TWIN FALLS — Ruth K. Jones, county treasurer and tax collector, issued a reminder today to county residents that only two office days remain before the Dec. 20 deadline for payment of real property tax.

Mrs. Jones said the 1971 total tax charge is $5,892,423.74, of which about $2 million has been collected.

This leaves a major part of the amount still uncollected as deadline nears. Total tax due from public utilities is $1,131,582.46.

Tax payments must be mailed or paid in person at the county treasurer's office which is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Payments mailed must be postmarked no later than Dec. 20.

Idaho law provides payments offered after Dec. 20 cannot be accepted until Jan. 24, 1972, and must include a 2 per cent penalty and 8 per cent interest in addition to the original tax.

Mrs. Jones urged taxpayers to make their payments as soon as possible with Monday the deadline.
