Chou vows friendship effort

PEKING (UPI)—Chou En-lai pledged tonight after four days of intensive summit talks with President Nixon to "work unwaveringly" to promote friendship and normalization of relations with the United States.

Nixon, noticeably fatigued and somber, said in a banquet toast a few hours after the latest meeting with Chou that he hoped "peace and harmony can be the destiny of our two peoples."

Nixon expressed hope during his remarks, at the banquet he hosted in the Great Hall of the People, for "a new world order in which nations of people with different systems and different values can live together in peace... letting history rather than the battlefield be the judge of their different ideas."

The President told Chou and the other 500 guests: "We began our talks recognizing that we have great differences. But we are determined that those differences not prevent us from living together in peace."

In response, Chou agreed with Nixon there are wide differences between the two systems of government but declared:

"It is the common desire of the Chinese and American people to enhance their mutual understanding and friendship and promote the normalization of relations between China and the United States."

"The Chinese government and people will work unwaveringly toward this goal," Nixon, as host at the gala dinner in the two-story banquet room of the Great Hall, spoke first. He and Chou only a short time before had completed an hour and a half talk that extended the total of their formal negotiations since Monday to 14 1/2 hours.

As he did during a visit to the Great Wall of China on Thursday, Nixon said he hoped that his talks with the Chinese leaders would begin "the long process" of removing a wall of hostility between the two nations.

Chou, who will accompany Nixon from Peking to Hangchow Saturday, said of their discussions:

"There exists great difference of principle between our two sides. Through earnest and frank discussion, a clearer knowledge of each other's positions and stands has been gained. This has been beneficial to both sides."

Neither Nixon nor Chou provided any clue to any agreements that may have been reached during Nixon's unprecedented visit to China.

But it was known that agreement in principle has been reached on a greater exchange of persons such as students, newsmen and scholars, increased trade and some form of diplomatic communication in the future, short of full formal relations.

These details filtered through an extraordinarily tight lid of secrecy that both sides placed on the summit talks. The news blackout on the part of Nixon's official White House party was considered unparalleled in recent presidential history as far as international meetings were concerned.

Gem solons set budget

BOISE (UPI)—Leadership in both houses may try to go to caucus today to get a reading on the lawmakers' attitude toward a tentative general fund budget level of $136.3 million for fiscal year 1973.

The Joint Finance Appropriations Committee reached that figure Thursday and—depending on which revenue estimates are used—the total will require between $6.3 million and $1.3 million of new revenue.

Gov. Cecil D. Andrus in his executive budget outlined a budget of $149.2 million and to balance it proposed $19.2 million worth of tax measures.

Andrus' bills are being held in committees in the house and senate pending the decision on just how much the state needs and how much the lawmakers think they can spend.

Andrus estimated revenue current sources at $130 million, the House Revenue and Taxation Committee at $132 million, and Senate Majority Leader Wynne Kidwell, R-Boise, more optimistic than his colleagues, at $135 million based on an anticipated upswing in the economy.

Senate President Pro Tem James Ellsworth, R-Leadore, and House Majority Leader Terry Crapo, R-Idaho Falls, said they hope to go behind closed doors with the majority party today; Ellsworth has already said the senate wanted to stay between $135 and $136 million, but House Speaker William J. Lanting, R-Hollister, predicted earlier this week the legislature would probably appropriate at about the $137 million level. (Continued on P. 5)

Senate stiffens drug penalties

BOISE (UPI)—The Senate passed 32-0 Thursday and sent to the house legislation stiffening penalties for possession or distribution of certain drugs under the uniform Controlled Substances Act.

Sen. Ray Rigby, D-Rexburg, said one of the problems faced by law enforcement officers is that it is "almost impossible in many instances" to catch drug pushers in the act of distribution.

"But many times they can catch these people with possession of controlled substance and that may be the extent of the prosecution."

Presently a misdemeanor, possession carries a shorter sentence term and is not extraditable. Rigby said raising the penalty to felony would allow stiffer sentences and extradition.

Penalty increases approved in the bill include:

—Possession penalty for narcotic substances such as heroin from six months to three years and non-narcotic substances such as marijuana, peyote, mescaline and LSD from six months to one year.

—Possession penalty for narcotic substances such as morphine and non-narcotic substances such as amphetamines from six months to three years.

—Possession penalty for cocaine or barbiturates from six months to one year.

—And distribution penalty for non-narcotic substances such as amphetamines from five years to 15 years.

Other changes included in the bill provide for arrest for probable cause for misdemeanor violations, authority for the attorney general's office to control enforcement, and provision for mandatory reporting procedures for violation of the act.

Store aflame

SMOKE, FLAMES engulf largest department store in Sao Paulo, Brazil, Thursday, where scores of trapped shoppers leaped from 25 story structure. Fleet of helicopters rescued over 400. Death toll passed 16 today. (UPI)

Air fleet saves 400

SAO PAULO, Brazil (UPI)—A floor-by-floor search Friday of the skeletal remains of a department store-office building uncovered more victims of the fire that totally destroyed the 25-story building.

Discovery of eight more bodies raised the death toll to at least 16 persons.

The fire, worst in Sao Paulo in several decades, was the most spectacular in the city's history with helicopters airlifting at least 350 persons to safety from the roof of the blazing building. At least 400 persons were injured, many of them in serious condition.

Police and hospital sources said most of the casualties were from burns or caused by people leaping from lower floor windows.

During the height of the blaze late Thursday, while 50-foot towers of flame leaped from the building, eyewitnesses said dozens of persons sought safety from the 10-year-old building. At least 2,000 persons were in the building, which houses the Pirani department store and dozens of business offices, at the time of the blaze.

Officials speculated the fire, of unknown origin, broke out on the second or third floor, inside the Pirani store section of the building, and quickly spread through internal ducts to gas mains located within the steel and concrete structure.

A gusty, 20-mile-per-hour wind helped spread the flames. The heat and fire were so intense that two apartment buildings 30 yards across the street were seared and gutted. Asphalt on the street became a molten mass.

The incredible helicopter airlift was carried out by daredevil pilots who flew more than 600 sorties to the stricken building braving intense heat. They took off injured in lots of two or three at a time.

The helicopters, from the air force, the city and state governments, were landing at a one-per-minute rate at the tiny heliport on the building's smoking roof.

Damages were expected to run into the millions of dollars.

Sixteen helicopters braved the flames and smoke to land on the top of the Pirani building and airlift hundreds of persons trapped there to safety.

Israeli forces smash Lebanese

By United Press International
Israeli troops, armor, artillery and warplanes attacked Lebanon along a 60-mile front today, in what both Arab and Israeli military sources called the heaviest punitive strike by Israel since the 1967 Six Day War.

At Falah guerrillas said as many as 30 Israeli jets struck targets as close as 34 miles from the Lebanese capital of Beirut and followed up with armored regiments into areas near the border. The semi-official Egyptian Middle East News Agency said 60 Israeli jets struck into Lebanon.

Guerrillas reported six Arab guerrillas killed, and three wounded. A Beirut communiqué said one civilian was killed and a soldier wounded and 20 houses destroyed. Israel said five guerrillas were killed and an unknown number of houses demolished, and the attack force suffered no casualties.

The big Israeli strike coincided with the arrival in Jerusalem of United Nations peace negotiator Gunnar V. Jarving in an attempt to revive his peace mission. His only comment after conferences with Foreign Minister Abba Eban was that he was encouraged that his mission was still alive.

He did not mention the strike against Lebanon.

Lt. Gen. David Elazar, the Israeli chief of staff, warned Lebanon Thursday of possible military reprisal for an ambush in which guerrillas using bazookas killed an Israeli couple returning from a Bar Mitzvah Wednesday night. Another guerrilla ambush soon afterward killed an Israeli soldier and Israel struck back early today.

First word of the Israeli attack came from Beirut Radio which broadcast a coded message: "Beware of snakes in area number 10." Israel in the past has withheld announcement of punitive raids until its forces returned to Israel.

The Israeli attack brought immediate sharp reaction from Egypt.

Blasts rip Ulster

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—Explosions and fire hit targets in Belfast and several Ulster cities today in the second consecutive day of bomb and arson attacks in the capital and outlying areas.

An explosion ripped through a bus station in Antrim, severely damaging the building and 13 buses, and fire razed an unmanned customs post near Londonderry, the army said. Bombs smashed two telephone record shops in the center of Belfast, touching off bursts of anger among shoppers against the outlawed Irish Republican Army (IRA).

"They should be shot," not interred, screamed a woman bystander when a bomb shattered the Hart and Churchill record shop and warehouse in Wellington Place.

"This is murderous," a police spokesman barked, as constables carried away a middle-aged woman who fainted when the bomb exploded.

Food spurs price index rise

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Wholesale prices climbed 0.8 per cent in January, the Labor Department reported today. It was the second consecutive month that they had risen by that level.

Most of the January spurt in the wholesale price index came from farm and food products, which rose 1.3 per cent. Raw agricultural products, which comprise most of this category, are not covered by price controls.

The closely watched industrial commodities index was up 0.4 per cent, and consumer goods rose 0.4 per cent for the month. The annual rate of inflation was 6.5 per cent.

variation. January's wholesale prices showed a rise of 0.4 per cent, with farm and food products climbing 0.2 per cent, industrial commodities up 0.4 per cent and consumer finished goods 0.3 per cent higher.

On an unadjusted basis, wholesale prices, which often preage changes at the retail level, rose 0.8 per cent in both December and January, the first two full months after the lifting of 30-day wage-price freezes.

The administration had said prices would rise during the transition period following the freeze.

substantial increases for hogs, cattle, chickens, raw cotton and milk. Meat, poultry and fish prices were also up while fresh fruits and grains declined.

Higher prices for steel and other metals, granted by the Price Commission was the chief cause of the increases in industrial commodities.

Lumber and wood products were unusually high for this season, officials said, primarily due to the continued boom in housing construction.

consumer price index, foods dropped 0.1 per cent after a sharp rise the previous month. Nondurable goods were up 0.4 per cent and durables rose 0.3 per cent.

The overall wholesale price index for January was 116.3, 4 per cent higher than in January, 1971. Based on a 1967 average of 100, this means a selected sample of wholesale goods that cost $10 four years ago would have cost $116.3 last month.

The BLS said wholesale prices have risen at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 2.1 per cent in the five months since August when the economic controls were imposed.

Miners end long strike

LONDON (UPI)—Britain's 280,000 striking coal miners voted overwhelmingly today to end their seven-week-old walk-out that plunged the country into its worst industrial crisis in nearly a half-century.

The shutdown, blocked out homes, left millions of Britons without heat, crippled industry and threw nearly two million workers out of jobs.

Government officials called it the most damaging industrial dispute in Britain since the 1926 general strike.

Japan nervous over Nixon's China trip

TOKYO (UPI)—Japan is as nervous as a bride and as hurt as a rejected suitor over President Nixon's trip to China, but it's top men can't officially say a word against the visit.

Nixon's trip is especially tough on Prime Minister Eisaku Sato, 70, who has been trying to mend the longtime rift between Japan and China for several years. Each time he tries, however, Chinese officials say the two countries will never be friends as long as Sato is in office.

In this mood, earlier this week, Sato glumly watched television coverage of Nixon's arrival in Peking. His reaction, according to Japanese news reports, was a sarcastic comment.

"Well, Nixon himself says it's the great event of the century, so perhaps it may be true. Circumstances do not permit me to say," Sato was quoted as saying.

There has been no official comment on the trip and none is expected.

At the same time, there have been definite Japanese moves to expand their relations and perhaps shed some of the dependence on the United States which has grown since World War II.

For one thing, there has been a noticeable thaw in relations with the Soviet Union.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko visited Japan recently and the results were spectacular.

Negotiations are now underway for a $1 billion pipeline in Siberia and the two countries have agreed to start talks on signing a formal World War II peace treaty.

In addition, Japan recently sent an official group to North Vietnam and has established diplomatic relations with Mongolia—an old Soviet ally in the dispute with China.

Another problem faced by Japanese officials is how to explain the new show of independence to the Japanese people, who have followed the government's pro-United States policy for more than 25 years.

"It's really a domestic political problem," one foreign ministry official said.

Nixon, Chou En-lai agreed talks have clarified differences

PEKING (UPI)—President Nixon and Premier Chou En-lai agreed Friday night that five days of talks had emphasized and clarified U.S.-China differences but they disclosed no significant progress in moving to narrow the gap.

This was not entirely surprising, since both leaders had made it clear at the beginning of Nixon's visit that the process of normalizing relations between Washington and Peking was going to be long and difficult.

However, the somewhat perfunctory speeches tonight at a dinner by Nixon for Chou, other Chinese leaders and Americans in the presidential party failed to live up to advance billing by some White House officials. They had indicated earlier that the occasion might be used to disclose some small but significant clues to how the talks had progressed.

The Chinese and American leaders plan ultimately to issue a communiqué of some sort, presumably after Nixon makes a southward swing this week to visit Hangchow and Shanghai. By that time, diplomats on the two sides may have found some formula for stating their common objectives in a manner not contrary to the basic principles of either side. The Taiwan issue remains the major barrier of the past

First Lady spends busiest day in China

PEKING (UPI)—Pat Nixon bought her husband a pair of $5.50 silk pajamas on a Peking shopping trip today. Then she tried out her Chinese in a visit to a children's hospital, where she watched three small girls undergo acupuncture treatment.

It was Mrs. Nixon's busiest day since she came to China for President Nixon's summit conference with Chinese leaders. Earlier, she joined her husband for a tour of the Forbidden City, home of Old China's emperors, viewing the historic site in a storm that piled snow ankle deep.

The First Lady bought the pajamas at the Friendship Shop in downtown Peking. She also was attracted by the sight of a jade ring, but when told it cost $80,000, threw up her hands.

"It's beautiful but, oh, no!" Mrs. Nixon exclaimed.

Mrs. Nixon called on the President's Marine aide, Maj. Jack Brennan to try on the pajama tops to see if they would fit her husband.

Muskie, Wallace get standing ovations during campaign tour

By United Press International

There were standing ovations on the presidential campaign trail for Sen. Edmund S. Muskie in Chicago and Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace in Atlanta.

Muskie, in an unscheduled appearance before Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley and Cook County Democratic committeemen, said he hoped the party would unite behind one candidate before the national convention.

Wallace brought the members of the Georgia Legislature to their feet three times Thursday, had them laughing at his jokes and cheering at his stand on campaign issues — particularly attacks on busing to achieve school desegregation. Wallace, one of the first politicians to oppose school integration, said he believed busing was "psychologically damaging."

Muskie, obviously pleased by the warm reception from the powerful Chicago Democrats, drew a roar of laughter when he said, "Feel like a mosquito in a nudist colony. I hardly know where to start."

Sen. George S. McGovern's Illinois campaign chairman, William Rosendahl, was critical of Muskie's appeal for early selection of a party candidate. "To lock up the nomination now violates the tradition and the spirit of the Democratic party," Rosendahl said.

Muskie and Wallace weren't the only Democratic candidates to receive warm support Thursday. Rep. Shirley Chisholm was applauded by students at Miami-Dade Junior College as she resumed her campaign for Florida's March 14 primary, and New York Mayor John V. Lindsay drew placard-waving backing in Sacramento at the end of a two-day swing through California.

President Nixon and McGovern drew the top spots on the Republican and Democratic ballots for California's June 6 primary. Their followers gathered enough signatures of registered voters on nominating petitions to enter the primary within 24 hours after qualifying began Wednesday.

Gov. Ronald Reagan, chairman of Nixon's California organization, said, "The great success of this one-day effort shows the strong and widespread support which President Nixon has among the people of California." The Nixon entry had 84,383 signatures, more than triple the 17,199 needed.

Winter's back on area ski slopes for weekend

TWIN FALLS — Winter is back on the ski slopes of area resorts.

All report new snow and an outlook of excellent weekend conditions.

Sun Valley has 51 inches of snow on the top of Baldy with 9 inches of this new snow this week. There is a 50 inch depth at the Roundhouse and 25 inches on the valley floor.

Temperatures are from 25 to 35 degrees and roads are clearing but still slushy in spots. All runs and bowls are open. Pomerelle received two feet of new snow with a total of 8.5 feet at the lodge and an undetermined amount at the top. Officials said all measurement devices have disappeared under the snow.

The road was opened today, but one-way traffic only was reported in some sections. Snow tires or chains are required.

Temperatures were reported from 20 to 30 degrees and a slight wind was blowing Thursday.

Magic Mountain lists 11 inches of new snow for total depths ranging from 70 to 105 inches. The road was cleared Thursday and snow tires or chains are expected to be required for the weekend.

Buses leave Saturday and Sunday from Lynwood and the area now operates Friday through Sunday.

Soldier Mountain received 7 inches of new snow and reports total depths of 40 to 55 inches. The road was cleared Thursday and snow tires or chains are again recommended.

The resort operates Thursday through Sunday.

Rotarun has 18 inches of snow and two inches of new powder. Temperatures are from 30 to 40 degrees and roads are snow covered and icy in spots but clearing.

Gooding City officials complimented on action

TWIN FALLS — City officials in Gooding were complimented today for their quick action in correcting inhumane disposal of stray dogs.

Mrs. Bobbie Glasmann, president of the Twin Falls County Humane Society, said immediate steps were taken to dispose of stray dogs through medical injections by a veterinarian after reports were received about the shooting of dogs and leaving them, sometimes not yet dead, at the Gooding city dump.

Mrs. Glasmann said the situation was one of the most inhumane cases the society has been advised of in this area. She pleaded with residents of Gooding to make certain such conditions do not develop again.

She said apparently the adoption of the new leash law resulted in a roundup of numerous dogs in Gooding and the disposal was not closely supervised.

The Twin Falls County Humane Society is willing to assist residents of Gooding at any time, she said, and this applies to other areas of Magic Valley.

Any case of cruelty to animals, either by the owner or in the possession of an individual is punishable as a misdemeanor and court action can and will be taken, she said.

The Twin Falls County Humane Society is newly organized and is currently working on a fund drive to provide an animal shelter in Twin Falls where abandoned or unwanted animals can be taken for placement or humanely destroyed.

Suitcase stolen

TWIN FALLS — Theft of a suitcase and contents valued at $300 was reported to city police today.

Richard Petersen, Woods Cross, Utah, told police he was with Roscoe E. Wagner, Twin Falls, and they were dining at the Turf Club when they returned to Wagner's vehicle. Petersen noticed the suitcase missing and notified officers. He said it contained a briefcase of business papers and clothing.

TF County aides amend ordinance

TWIN FALLS — County commissioners here have amended a public assembly ordinance adopted last summer to make it more applicable to the county.

Merl Leonard said the ordinance requires a permit for assembly of 500 persons or more at a fee of $100 per day. Previously the size of the assembly was 1,000 persons.

It also requires posting of a bond and providing security officers, fire protection, sanitation facilities and drinking water. Leonard said regulations do not pertain to rodeos, fairs, horse shows and other recreational activities, but to the collection of large numbers of persons.

Law enforcement officers summoned

TWIN FALLS — Summonses were served by a U.S. Marshal Wednesday on two Twin Falls area law enforcement officers, county commissioners and the state of Idaho.

The court order summoned the defendants to answer within 20 days the complaint brought by Robert Dean and Bethel Fortner against the officers, Golden Bennett represents county commissioners and the state of Idaho.

The complaint, now in court, alleges that the officers, Bennett represents county commissioners and the state of Idaho.

Content Of Sewer Authorities

WASHINGTON — In the drawing rooms and saloons of the capital city, people who once discussed the authentic genius of a Babe Ruth or a William Faulkner have been reduced to authorities on the content of sewers. The talk is about a movie director named Stanley Kubrick and his film, "A Clockwork Orange."

Naturally, Washington is as bad as New York in pursuit of the chic, and Kubrick has stamped the ultimate in chic by the self-appointed "intellectuals" of the media for producing the most revolting and most viciously Mongoloid movie of the year.

To be an intellectual is, above all, to care for mankind and to hold firm to mankind's capacity to send its spirit soaring. Intellectualism says that there is hope even for one who is basically evil. "Orange" is about as intellectual as stage night at Hitler's Dachau. Watching the film's mindless depravity unfold, the adult who is no better than he should be finds himself wishing for a helping of the "parental guidance" of which Movie Czar Jack Valenti, the old Lyndon Johnson hand, speaks so unctuously in official movie reviews.

Paraphrasing a cinema tycoon of my ken deposes: Frankly, that this warning suggesting "parental guidance" is worth a 25 per cent added profit to the exhibitor. "It sets the grownups to smacking their lips," he says gratefully.

Well, "Orange" certainly was produced with the aim of reducing its viewers to drooling through slack jaws. Its malignant duncery offers everything sadist and masochist alike can delectable. A poor householder is beaten almost to death before four youthful hoodlums take turns raping his wife. A woman is murdered by clubbing her with a phallic (naturally) statue. Careening through the country in a stolen car, the gang drives a series of innocent motorists off the road.

I could find no point to the film — other, of course, than its boxoffice muscle for the psychopathic customer. But my brighter friends tell me pompously, that "Orange" carries the message that mankind is no ruddy good and that because one has no control over one's baser instincts the world must put up with everybody "doing his thing."

The protagonist in "Orange," one Alex, is portrayed as not only needing to go his vicious way, but as possessing the inherent right to do so.

which is to say he belongs to the higher species of human. But if to humanize this character is to bring the audience to an understanding of him, viewers also have the right to compare him with the human being who adopts an orphan or gives $10 to the Bangladesh refugee fund. Movies can humanize all the Alexes they can drag out of the woodwork, but they cannot convince me I should take an Alex home with me, or even invite him to my club. Show me an Alex and I will forthwith call a cop, leaving to Kubrick the assignment of providing said

The appeals court of the entertainment world seems to have swallowed this monstrously lunatic premise whole. Newsweek and the Saturday Review peered at Kubrick, squatting under his rock, and gave him the full, approving, curbstone-Freud treatment. "Orange" was voted kudos by the New York Film Critics Circle for best picture and best direction. Then, presumably the reviewers went out looking for an infant to torture.

"Orange" is said by such curious journalists to "humanize" Alex. All right. Alex indisputably is human, even with a psychiatrist. "Humanizing" indeed! There is not enough of the humanist in Kubrick to show even a patronizing sympathy for Alex's victims. They are merely brutalized; then left on the trash heap. Unlike most of his audiences, of course, Kubrick need not live with the beasts he has glorified. He's a rich man, and after "Orange" has persuaded other confused people of their right to turn Alex, he can buy all the trick walls and hire all the private guards he needs to protect himself against the society he has helped to create.

The Real Aim's

President Nixon, talking to a friend, recently explained why the trip to China was arranged in easy air stages. Long plane trips get him down, Nixon said. He doesn't feel up to par for hours afterward. Mr. Nixon wanted to be in the pink of condition mentally upon arriving in Peking.

For there is no more skilled diplomat in the world today than Chou En-lai. And no more astute master politician than Mao Tse-tung.

From their standpoint — from the standpoint of Mao and Chou and their aides, the first objective was an attempt to read between Mr. Nixon's words and Henry Kissinger's statements and find out why Nixon "really" made this trip. This is the information relayed by a man who has been close to Chou personally off and on for 30 years and is just back from an extended stay in mainland China.

The mainland Chinese apparently have no hope that Mr. Nixon will withdraw U. S. recognition of Taiwan or cancel out the defense treaty we have with Chiang Kai-shek's government.

The Nixon administration has already made public statements that relations between Taiwan and the mainland are a Chinese matter. U. S. fleet movements in the area have already been restricted to some extent. Plans have already been made for reducing the number of American military personnel on Taiwan.

While the Chinese do not expect recognition at this time, they would like some sort of informal exchange of missions — economic, technical and cultural — which would serve the same purpose.

It is difficult to describe just how anxious the Chinese Communists are, after all these years, on the question of legitimacy. This is why Taiwan is so important to them. And the United Nations vote, on their terms. It is part of the reason for their desire to be included formally in any peace conference on Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia.

The men around Chou, as of a few weeks back were known to be convinced Mr. Nixon's aim was the building of some sort of arrangement to contain the Soviet Union. That purpose is fine with them.

But they wanted to find out for certain what really was on his mind. They do not necessarily believe what they see on the surface.

On the Chinese side there was no sign of wanting or expecting any sort of formal alliance or arrangement with the United States. But Peking apparently would like to build up enough of a link with Washington to give Moscow pause and thus insure mainland China's independence and freedom of action.

Everywhere he went, reported this man who spent much of his early life in China, he found deep Chinese concern with Soviet activities in Mongolia — and in Szechuan and in other border provinces. They were embittered by Moscow's extreme political pressures during the period when China was heavily dependent on Russia for economic aid. They talked incessantly of old Russian grabs of territory when China was weak.

The Communist Chinese strongly desire expression from President Nixon that would add to recognition of their legitimacy. For one, they want to be more firmly convinced that the U. S. government publicly and privately regards the relationship of the Republic of China on Taiwan (Formosa) and the People's Republic of China on the mainland as an internal affair to be settled by the Chinese themselves.

MR. SPECTATOR

Joke Is On Whom?

Joke patterns run in cycles, says Dr. Jan H. Brunvand, professor of English at the University of Utah. Polack jokes, for example, have outlasted the "sick" jokes, little moron, and elephant jokes. But the folklorist says there is no way to predict why some kind of jokes die and others thrive.

The professor says that most jokes have a fall guy. He may be among the high or the mighty, the easiest victims are the minority groups.

Most minority slur names, he says, are too emotionally loaded to be widely used, but few jokesters actually know a Polack, so that ethnic name draws safe laughs. It's been a lodestone for at least a decade, although in some parts of the country the jokes were making the rounds as early as the 1930's. Brunvand says that by collecting and examining jokes the modern folklorist can detect underlying patterns of behavior and thought.

"By making society aware of the attitudes underlying jokes," he says, "the folklorist can become to society what the psychiatrist is to the individual. The more aware a society is of its folk traditions, the better it will be able to change itself."

Brunvand is kind of a humor accountant. Consider the interesting possibility that somebody may be keeping tabs on the jokes you tell.

And don't say Mr. Spectator didn't warn you!

TODAY'S CHUCKLE

Husband: "What did the garage man say was wrong with this tire?"

Wife: "He said the air was beginning to show through."

THREAT TO FREEDOM

Americans, warns historian Henry Steele Commager, are in danger of losing their freedoms and the danger comes not from without but from within — from their own government.

"A society that discourages nonconformity," he says, "whether in little things like the length of hair or in big things like religion, or penalizes experimentation, whether in local matters like the organization of schools, or in national and global matters like new forms of sovereignty, will simply fail to solve its most important problems."

He's certainly right about the hair bit. How many young men do you see with hair below their shoulder blades?

Conformity demands that it cover the collar and the ears, and sometimes the eyes, but no more. And, like unshorn sheep, the young men do what they are told by the Federal Bureau of Tonsorial Control.

And that is a lot of hairy discussion, Mr. Spectator opines.

The Twain Shall Meet

ROWLAND EVANS & ROBERT NOVAK

China Challenge

WASHINGTON — Far more than President Nixon has acknowledged even to intimates, his spectacular journey to Peking faces trials unique for a Western statesman and dangers over which he himself has only a minimal control.

Thus, Richard Nixon, who in his autobiographical "Six Crises" defined for posterity the agonizing self-discipline of preparing for a crisis, today confronts potentially the most difficult crisis of all: negotiations with Communist China's prime minister, Chou En-lai, and the party's founder and chairman, Mao Tse-tung.

What first threatens Mr. Nixon's bold reach for détente with China's present leadership is the immense cultural and philosophical gulf separating Washington and Peking. When he sits down Monday for his first session with Chou, the President will find that the customary rules of dialogue between Western heads of government have no meaning in the Forbidden City.

Instead of moving quickly toward hot issues — such as the Formosa question — Mr. Nixon will find himself insulated in hours of philosophical discourse. He is sure to be asked about his convictions on the nature of man, the meaning of mystery, the basic forces that move societies and the significance of conflicting forms of government.

Mr. Nixon can cope with dialectics better than most American politicians. Nevertheless, such philosophical discourse is scarcely his strongest suit. Yet his hopes for détente will be judged by China's leaders largely on his performance during these hours of subtle soul-searching.

In the words of one Westerner who has had considerable contact with Chou: "The President will make or break it depending on Chou's judgment of his character as a human being, and his depth of human understanding."

If the President flunks that test, there will be no immediate calamity. The Chinese will simply make a mental calculation downgrading their own hopes for détente. Beyond that, the President will be operating under diplomatic delicacy unknown in the West. A case in point was Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's statement in Paris two weeks ago that Andre Malraux, the French intellectual and friend of both Mao and Chou, had told him Mr. Nixon should offer U.S. aid to China. Denying that he had told Kennedy any such thing, Malraux chafed to the President in the White House Tuesday evening that any Westerner who gave such outrageous advice had "a demented notion" of the Chinese character.

ROBERT ALLEN

Signs Of Age

WASHINGTON — The world-famed Lincoln Memorial is showing disturbing signs of age. While still structurally sound, an examination has uncovered considerable deterioration: a lot of crumbling mortar, little is left between the wide-front steps; edges of the marble blocks around the perimeter are chipped and some severely cracked; the roof leaks and needs extensive repairing and a complete new layer of tar and gravel; and the entire structure urgently requires thorough cleaning.

Richard Volpe, in charge of maintenance of the National Capital Parks, says these and other defects are primarily surface impairments and much more visually defacing than damaging to the building.

"Basically, there isn't a thing wrong with the Lincoln Memorial," he asserts. "Like any structure that is open to the weather over many years, it needs repairing and maintenance. But there isn't the slightest danger of its collapsing or anything remotely like that."

The Memorial will be 50 years old in May. It was dedicated May 30, 1923, by President Harding, at a ceremony attended by more than 200,000.

It is far and away the most popular attraction in the Capital, visited by millions annually. Last year, the total was 2,330,000 — the lowest since the early 1960s and 40 per cent less than the 3.3 million recorded in 1969.

However, last month, attendance showed a marked improvement — 72,221 some 20,000 more than January of last year.

Capital Parks officials attribute the increase to mild winter weather and other factors; notably the lack of mass demonstrations and better economic conditions. Both of these matters are deemed largely responsible for the big tourists' drop in 1971.

Around $200,000 will be spent this year by National Capital Parks refurbishing the imposing Memorial.

It will be cleaned both outside and inside, chiefly by steam; missing mortar will be replaced and cracks will be patched up and otherwise repaired. Also due for renovation are the two greatly over-used restrooms (one for men and one for women).

During this work, the Memorial will be available at all times to visitors. It is never closed, and tens of thousands of people come to see it at night.

Parking is one of the most serious problems.

Other than taxis and tour-mobiles, there is no public transit to the Memorial. As a consequence, parking in the area is a constant snag.

Similarly, there is only one public phone and that creates complications.

Auto fumes on the ground and smoke exhausts overhead from scores of commercial planes going to and from nearby National Airport are definitely adversely affecting both the interior and exterior marble. Capital Parks is experimenting with colorless preservatives to protect it.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Pseudo-Gout

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband has been suffering from calcium deposits in his knees for a year and a half. Pseudo-gout, the doctor calls it. The doctor prescribed a steroid medication three times a day. If he misses one or two capsules, he is in pain. Is there any other treatment? — Mrs. J. B.

"Dear Doctor: I am 75 and have developed agonizing pain in my knee. It didn't respond to pain pills, and it was diagnosed as pseudo-gout. I'm told there is no medication as with gout. Cortisone stopped the acute pain but I certainly am uncomfortable and a little uneasy. — Mrs. T. V.

Gout, as you probably know, is caused basically by too much uric acid accumulating in the system. In time it causes sudden episodes of extremely painful joints — first usually the big toe.

Well, pseudo-gout is an attack that resembles an attack of gout, in that it strikes a joint (usually the knee) with dramatic suddenness and with just as severe pain. But the cause is different.

The fact is we don't know the precise cause of it, but there is no elevation of uric acid, and the drugs that bring relief in real gout are of no use with pseudo-gout.

There are various ways of recognizing pseudo-gout, but the most specific one is to draw out a little fluid from the painful joint, and if it is pseudo-gout, there will be calcium pyrophosphate crystals in the fluid.

Various medications are used with good effect — large doses of aspirin, or other anti-rheumatic drugs such as phenylbutazone or steroids (cortisone-type medications). A word of caution: these require periodic checkups by your doctor to make sure there are no signs of over dosage. It's not a disorder that can be quickly treated.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please send me your booklet, "Hyalin Hernia and Eight Ways to Combat It" for which I enclose 25 cents and the usual self-addressed, stamped envelope. In this condition prevalent in men as well as women? — P. B.

Yes, but it is more prevalent in women.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: You wrote that lack of hydrochloric acid can be cured. I asked several doctors and they don't know. I have been taking five tablets with meals for 20 years, and still have to do so. — M. L.

Some misinterpretation here, because I've said, more than once, that lack of hydrochloric acid can be treated, but that's not the same as curing it.

"Dilute hydrochloric acid is one of the necessary digestive juices, and without some traces of it in the stomach, we can't digest our foods efficiently.

Medicines that change into the acid after being swallowed can be used, just as you do. In some instances, a very dilute hydrochloric acid can be taken by mouth — but in that case, the patient should be careful to brush his teeth after each taking, since traces of acid clinging to the teeth can do dental damage.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My daughter used to hold her breath and turn blue, and when she was around a year old the doctor discovered that she was anemic. I thought this might help Mrs. S. T. — Mrs. J. K.

I've mentioned exactly this possibility before in this column, but I really wouldn't be surprised if some people would pay more attention to the possibility after reading that another reader (and not just "the doctor") has encountered it.

BERRY'S WORLD

"It'll be dern'd! The crowd out near the road that you thought was gatherin' to go into town to meet the candidate is the candidates!"

Motives questioned in Berrigan trial

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI)— Ramsey Clark, a former attorney general, in a heated exchange in open court Thursday sharply questioned the government's motive in prosecuting the Rev. Philip F. Berrigan and six other activists against the Vietnam war.

The exchange came when the prosecution objected to Clark's line of questioning and the judge admonished Clark, saying he knew it was not a proper line of questioning.

"I don't know it at all," Clark responded.

The Harrisburg Seven are charged with plotting to kidnap Henry A. Kissinger, President Nixon's top foreign adviser, to sabotage Washington heating systems and to vandalize draft boards to call public attention to their antiwar views. They claim they are being prosecuted for opposing the war.

Berrigan was in Lewisburg penitentiary at the time of the alleged 1970 conspiracy. Much of the government case consists of 24 letters allegedly exchanged between him and sister Elizabeth McAllister.

Boyd F. Douglas, a prisoner at Lewisburg while Berrigan was there, copied the letters and gave them to the FBI.

In Thursday cross-examination of Robert L. Hendricks, former associate warden at Lewisburg, Clark brought out that Hendricks had known past high officials of the bureau of prisons, which Clark directed as attorney general.

Clark asked whether during Hendricks' years of acquaintance with the officials he had learned that it always was firm policy of the bureau "never to permit any prisoner to act as a government agent or informer."

Prosecutor William S. Lynch shouted an objection, and federal Judge R. Dixon Herman told Clark it was not a proper question.

$5 to vote?

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Former Census Director Richard M. Scammon says he opposes a bill to pay citizens $5 to vote because "that kind of voter would not do the country any good."

Scammon told a House subcommittee Thursday that people should not be rewarded for voting or penalized for not voting. "I don't want to drag the voter to the polls," he said. Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., sponsor of the bill, said, "Nearly 47 million Americans who were eligible did not vote in the 1968 presidential election. That's shocking and it calls for an answer."

Cheap air fares

WASHINGTON (UPI)— The Senate, in a response to cheap air fares being offered by such carriers as Lufthansa and Sabena, has voted to give the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) authority to suspend or cancel ticket charges set by foreign airlines.

The measure, which was requested by the administration and which now faces House action, passed by a unanimous voice vote. The administration claimed that Lufthansa's $210 trans Atlantic excursion fare was threatening U.S. airlines flying the same route.

The CAB currently can control domestic ticket prices but has never had authority to control rates for foreign travel.

Angela, supporters celebrate release

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI)— Angela Davis appeared jubilant at a news conference Thursday following her release on bail from 18 months in jail and a celebration by her supporters who said "We did it! We did it! We did it!"

"I feel fine. I feel better than I have in 18 months," the former UCLA instructor, released on $102,500 bail Wednesday night, told a packed gallery of newsmen at her defense committee headquarters.

"The real reason why I feel better is because now I can give much more of myself in the struggle to free my brothers and sisters."

Miss Davis said she would rest in privacy at an undisclosed location today and prepare for the start of her murder, kidnap and conspiracy trial Monday.

The 28-year-old avowed Communist charged with supplying the guns in a Marin County courthouse escape attempt and gunbattle in 1970 said her release was due to the "power of the people," and said efforts must be intensified to free "all political prisoners."

Franklin Alexander, co-chairman of the United National Committee to Free Angela Davis, said her first night of freedom was spent celebrating.

Jordan backs labor proposal

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Sen. Len B. Jordan, R-Idaho, Thursday backed legislation to provide new methods for dealing with emergency labor disputes in the transportation industry.

Speaking in the Senate, the Idaho Republican said, "It has become quite clear in recent months that the nation can no longer afford the luxury of labor-related work stoppages in the transportation industry. The West Coast dock strike, which was settled only after Congress enacted legislation to require compulsory arbitration of the dispute, cost the country an estimated $2 billion, including a loss of about $1 billion in farm income."

GOP aide resigns

BOISE (UPI) — State Republican Central Committee Chairman Roland Wilber, 47, resigned Thursday effective March 15, because of what he cited as "pressing business" matters that had to be handled.

The announcement came in a letter to members of the State Central Committee and the State Executive Committee, which outlined the reasons for his resignation as well as his personal assurance of support in achieving a Republican victory in upcoming and future campaigns.

Lieutenant Gov. Jack Murphy, acting as governor Thursday while Gov. Cecil D. Andrus remained in Washington, D.C., for the final day of the winter meeting of the National Governors' Conference, said a meeting of the Central Committee would be called to elect a new chairman.

He said Republican party bylaws stipulate that the first vice chairman of the Central Committee — Mrs. Gordon (Marge) Miner, Wallace — must call for a meeting within 30 days of the effective resignation date.

Mrs. Miner told UPI by phone that she had not received a final confirmation on Wilber's resignation and had not made plans for calling a meeting.

The typical American supermarket in 1970 stocked 8,500 items, of which 38 per cent were non-foods, ranging from hair spray to rawhide bones for dogs.

Date extended

BOISE (UPI) — The Senate approved 24-1 but held for reconsideration Thursday a bill which would extend to July 1 the effective date of bills passed by a regular session of the legislature.

The bill, designed to give uniformity to effective dates, would require the measure to become effective July 1 or 60 days following adjournment, whichever is the latest. The measure also requires that legislation with an emergency clause — a clause for immediate enactment — must base the emergency request on facts.

Presently the effective date is 60 days following the sine die adjournment of a regular session.

Safeguards for shelter home residents sought

BOISE (UPI) — Immediate action to provide more safeguards for shelter home residents was called for Thursday by the Governor's Advisory Council on Comprehensive Health Planning.

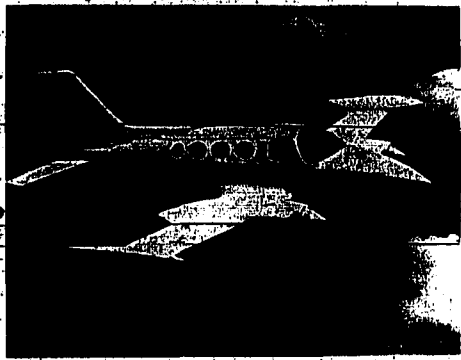

The council, deploring the lack of protection because of inadequate inspections, voted to seek assistance from the governor and the Department of Health in implementing changes.

Council Member Alvin Joslyn, Glenn Perry, said, "The present law on shelter homes is unsatisfactory and is persons who do not require constant professional nursing care. About 60 such homes are licensed at the present time by the Department of Health in Idaho."

The council urged more rigid enforcement of the present law, until adequate legislation is passed. The current law, enacted in 1969, "did not in any way achieve the purpose intended," the council noted.

Establishment of a Department of Environmental Protection and Health also was supported by the council.

Pastor leads WSCS study

KIMBERLY — Rev. Delbert Remeley, pastor, led the lesson "Through Change and Beyond Fear," at the WSCS meeting at the Kimberly church.

Mrs. Marion Wall assisted in a dialogue between a woman and her pastor as a part of the program.

He spoke on our reaction to change and asked members to discuss changes that have taken place during their lifetimes.

A new name for the WSCS was discussed. Since the Wesleyan Service Guild and WSCS will eventually be one organization, the group was asked to vote for a new name. United Methodist Women was the preference of the local group.

Mrs. Ralph Simmons, president, read a prayer and message for Ash Wednesday. Tentative goals for next year included that the group work for a 10 per cent increase in membership; and start an organized program for calling.

The treasurer was instructed to pay the pledge for missions. The World Day of Prayer will be observed March 3, as part of the Friday afternoon prayer group activities, with Mrs. Lavilla Legg and Mrs. W. T. McFarland as leaders.

A note of thanks was read from the Roger Houston Family, and Mrs. W. C. Klutz thanked the group for expressions of sympathy and kindnesses extended during the illness and death of her mother.

Mrs. Eugene Krueger was named entertainment chairman for the Sunday night fellowship at the church.

The Hansen WSCS Circle held a luncheon Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Bryan Harris. A week-day followed.

Mrs. Mable Helton and Mrs. Willard Webster were hostesses.

A report was made of the dinner the group served to the Eastern Star and that the Marian Kay Spice Co. donated a gift of butter flavored in observance of the company's 50th anniversary.

Mrs. Albert Pelley and Mrs. Eugene Alexander presented the lesson on Ash Wednesday, Lent, and Joseph, the earthly father of Christ. A discussion followed about the war in Pakistan.

The next meeting will be held March 14 at the home of Mrs. C. M. Pridmore with Mrs. Roy Young presenting the lesson.

Read during Lenten season

By LOUIS CASSELS
UPI Religion Writer

There are many ways to observe the season of Lent, now upon us, but one of the more useful disciplines is to read a book that will deepen your spiritual life.

In the fervent hope that no copy desk will blithely edit out all names of the publishers, thereby causing needless frustration to you and your bookseller, I offer herewith a few nominations for good Lenten reading:

"The Jesus Myth" by Andrew M. Greeley, published by Doubleday, is a fresh and extremely readable re-telling of the timeless story of Jesus by a Catholic priest who is famous primarily as a sociologist and educator rather than as a theologian. This book, which brilliantly underscores the relevance of Jesus to the human condition in our own day, is fully as rewarding for Protestants as Catholics, and perhaps most appropriate for agnostics.

"God in the Dock," recently published in the United States by the Wm. Eerdmans Co. of Grand Rapids, Mich., is a posthumous collection of hitherto-unpublished essays and talks by the late C. S. Lewis, the great Oxford don who was perhaps this century's most effective Christian apostle to skeptics.

Methodists still want minister

ATLANTA (UPI) — Members of the 1972 United Methodist General Conference to be held here in April have affirmed their desire to have controversial San Francisco pastor A. Cecil Williams speak to their group.

The Rev. Irving L. Smith, Oklahoma City, a vice chairman of the conference's commission on entertainment and program, said Wednesday there has been some objection to having Williams, pastor of Glide Memorial United Methodist Church, participate in the conference.

Williams has been criticized for gearing his ministry to younger people, using rock bands instead of organs, and having dancing in the aisles.

Rev. Robert Seaman said Victor Hubbard and Nelson Zarfas will "present the gospel in music and word" during both the morning worship service, 11 a.m., and the evening service at 7:30 p.m.

Hubbard, a tenor soloist, has appeared professionally with the San Francisco Opera Company, making his debut in "Der Rosenkavalier" in 1957. He has also appeared with the Berkeley Light Opera, the Opera State and the Peninsula Artist and Opera companies.

Zarfas, a native of Canada, is an instructor at Western Baptist Bible College, Salem, Ore. He has appeared as a pianist in numerous events, including his first public appearance at the age of 12 before an audience of 5,000 at Grand Rapids, Mich.

As a team, the two men have traveled extensively to combine their talents in presenting sacred music and preaching the word of God.

LIGHTED WINDOWS

It's after hours. Yet most of the windows are bright. Perhaps the cleaning crew is at work, or a few executives catching up on their mail.

Whatever the reason, the lighted windows glow with purpose. The dark windows are blank, austere and forbidding. What a difference one flick of a light switch can make!

People are like the windows of this building. Some radiant with the joy of living, find days full, happy and useful. They are fun to be around. Others, gloomy and sad, find life lonely and meaningless. Their company is tedious.

What makes the difference? Where can you turn if life seems troublesome? You can't flick a switch to change an attitude.

The secret is in your church. Worship and study there, and welcome the living presence of God into your heart and mind. Your whole life will be lighted and your days filled with new happiness.

Gem solons set budget

The joint committee — by a 10-4 vote — cleared the last two major items Thursday, approving a tentative $16.5 million for a reduced department of health and $18.5 million for an expanded department of public assistance.

Better placed spending levels for public school support at $47.5 million and for higher education at $29.5 million.

Part of the problem towards the end of the committee's sessions was the desire by some lawmakers to appropriate to the health department at a level which would force closure of State Hospital North at Orofino, with the patients there to be placed either in State Hospital South at Blackfoot or in community programs.

But Sens. Nels Solberg, D-Grangeville, and Mike Mitchell, D-Lewiston, argued the infant regional mental health centers are not yet equipped to take on the burden and are still too dependent on the Orofino institution to function without it.

The motion made by Rep. William Roberts, R-Buhl, to give health $5,735,000 was made without intent of closing the Orofino hospital — but gave both hospitals north and south no more than what they currently are receiving. Roberts said he felt Orofino could transfer some of its remaining 47

Senate kills driver measure

BOISE (UPI) — A plan to put driver education on a self-supporting basis in Idaho by raising the minimum driving age and hiking license fees was beaten down in the House Thursday.

After a lengthy debate in which 19 members argued the question the House defeated 20-40 a key bill to raise the minimum age to 16 from 14 for even a restricted driver's license.

Then, on motion by Rep. John Sessions, R-Driggs, chairman of the Transportation Committee, the House voted 49-19 to return three companion measures to committee.

DPA name change sought by solons

BOISE (UPI) — Germane senate and house committees apparently agree there should be a name change for the expanded Department of Public Assistance — but they cannot agree on just what to call it.

Sen. Mike Mitchell, D-Lewiston, principle sponsor of legislation to move to the DPA, mental retardation, youth rehabilitation, Idaho State School and Hospital, shelter home licensing and the state youth training center, wants to

Biennial session plan killed

BOISE (UPI) — Deciding the real problem may lie with internal organization, the senate killed 16-18 Thursday a proposed constitutional amendment to return to biennial legislative sessions.

Sen. Warren Brown, R-McCall, who proposed the amendment, said the annual sessions approved by voters in 1968 cost too much, take too much time on the part of state agencies, and, by demanding at least two months out of every year, discourage legislators from seeking reelection.

But Sen. Mike Mitchell, D-Lewiston, told his colleagues he thought the agencies "need a little harassment."

"We used to come down here and they'd slack talk us — and then we'd go home and they'd forget about us for 18 months."

Sen. Richard S. High, R-Twin Falls, chairman of the Finance Committee, disputed the higher cost statement, noting this is only the second year the legislature has attempted annual budgeting.

Sen. Charles (Chick) Bilyeu, D-Pocatello, reminded the senators Idaho is big business.

"We sit as a board of directors to handle the business of the people of the state of Idaho," he said. "I just wonder if there is any corporation of this magnitude that would let its operators sit for 60 days each year — let alone 60 days every two years — to handle the business."

Wine proposal introduced

BOISE (UPI) — By a vote of 8-4 the House Revenue and Taxation Committee Thursday introduced a possibly defective bill to give the state full control of the wholesale wine business.

Rep. Robert Haakenson, D-Coeur d'Alene, questioned whether the bill, as written, also would take profits of wine retailers.

Cumber Green, house attorney, said he felt the whole section dealing with this — when considered in toto — made it clear the measure was just directed at liquor store profits.

But Rep. Vernon E. Ravencroft, D-Tuttle, said if the bill is printed and ever gets out of the tax committee for action he will ask it be put on general orders for amendment to clarify the vague language.

Chairman Allan F. Larsen, R-Blackfoot, principal sponsor of the bill, virtually dragged it away from a deadlocked subcommittee for consideration of the entire tax committee.

Valley enterprise builds calf pens

BY MELBA THORNE
Times-News writer
DIETRICH — "Need" was the inspiration behind a new business enterprise at Dietrich, Rex Walker, one of the inventors, said Tuesday.

He and Herb Dodge, Dietrich, keep busy every day now turning out between 20 and 25 of their "Kozy Kaf Pens." The name given the product pretty well sums up its use.

When a new calf is born, it is placed in this pen, where it is kept warm, dry and clean, with grain before it at all times.

Walker said co-owners in the business, the Anderson Brothers, Dietrich, had experienced unusually good results in their calves this spring, and accredited the fact to their using 25 of the pens.

In fact, the pens were first built for the Anderson Brothers' operation and it was due to enthusiastic reaction by neighbors who saw them that the new business began about two weeks ago. The idea dates back about six weeks, Dodge said.

The men built the portable pens in a shop — formerly a chicken coop at the Joseph Nishimoto farm. The area is rented by Anderson Brothers.

Five-eighths-inch plywood is used for the pens. They feature a "quick erection" design, being cut from jigs with nails used to secure spots. Holes are drilled for the bolts that assemble the portable unit.

The design allows shipping the pens flat, and a recent delivery of 100 was made to an Idaho Falls patron on one truck bed. If they had been assembled, Walker said not more than three or four would have fit on the truck bed.

The pens are built with a two-piece roof that can be opened to admit good weather or closed to keep out bad weather. They weigh about 125 to 130 pounds each, will hold two calves conveniently and are equipped to allow feed buckets to be attached to the front of the unit for feeding.

This way, the feed is before the new calves all the time and not only do they grow better, but loss of feed is entirely eliminated, Walker said.

The feed bins will hold between six and eight pounds of grain at one time, and are an addition to the pens.

One customer, who had ordered six pens, when calling to pick them up asked what Walker was making, and when he explained they were feed containers, the customer waited

Many plants

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — University of Texas researchers are working to classify, and name more than 1,000 plants that grow in the Chihuahuan Desert of Mexico.

Dr. Marshall C. Johnston, an associate professor of botany, says less is known scientifically about the wedge-shaped desert which begins in southern New Mexico and spreads into the heart of Mexico than about the deserts of Mongolia and South Siberia.

Many cheeses

CHICAGO (UPI) — If you think you're a cheese expert, you may want to think again. Cheese, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica, is made in almost all parts of the world and there are 18 distinct varieties of it which have about 500 names.

BOISE (UPI) — Told farmers must protect their employees, the senate voted Thursday to amend a bill striking the agricultural exemption from workers' compensation to make it effective in 1973 instead of 1972.

The later effective date is intended to give interested farm organizations extra time to prepare for the coverage, possibly forming organizations for group coverage.

Sen. H. Dean Summers, R-Boise, noting the large sprinkling of "ranchers" or "farmers" in the senate membership, told his colleagues "I just think it's time agriculture takes its fair place and worries about people."

The bill from the Commerce and Labor Committee would remove the agricultural exemption, but shortly after debate opened Sen. Leon Swenson, R-Nampa, moved to take the bill to his Agricultural Affairs Committee. Some senators indicated they saw Swenson's motion as the first move toward killing the bill or to delay it until the waning days of the session.

Swenson and others contended agriculture would be most affected by this bill and therefore should have a chance to discuss the impact.

"I don't feel that agriculture, those who are going to have to pay the bill, have been heard adequately," he said.

But Summers said the bill "isn't a new concept. It's a moral concept of insuring your employees."

"The real issue is: When your employee gets hurt do you want him on welfare or do you want him protected?"

Floor sponsor Vern Brasse, R-Boise, said farm organization representatives have indicated they may wish to organize themselves.

Sen. James Stoltz, D-

Boise, who moved to send the bill for amendment, said the year delay would give the organizations "an extra year to tool up."

Brasse agreed with critics that farmers now can provide their own insurance, but said most of the coverage is payable only if the farmer or employer is at fault.

He said workmen's compensation was "no fault" insurance that would pay medical costs, income, rehabilitation or benefits to the survivors in case of death.

Cassia school vote set Tuesday

BURLEY — Cassia County voters go to the polls Tuesday to cast ballots on a proposed $3.5 million school construction and improvement bond issue.

The proposed issue would finance a new high school about two miles south of Burley to serve Oakley, Declo and Burley students of the 10th through 12th grades. Cost of this is estimated at $2.2 million.

Other portions of the bond issue would pay for an elementary and junior high building at Declo, costing about $715,000; renovation of the Oakley school complex for elementary and junior high school students at a cost of $250,000 and construction of a multi-learning center at the Raft River High School at about $120,000.

It would also remodel the Miller Elementary

School in Burley and the present Burley Junior High School for grades five and six.

Junior high school students would then move to the present Burley High School with improvements there costing about $65,000.

School officials say the cost to taxpayers would be about $8.25 per year on a home with a cash value of $4,000 and $23.43 on a home with a cash value of $15,000.

Bonds would be amortized over a 20-year period at an average interest rate of around five per cent, officials said.

Polls will open Tuesday at 8 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. with voting in the Oakley High School, Burley High School, Declo City Hall, Burley Junior High School, Albion Elementary School, Almo School, Southwest Elementary School, Raft River High School and the Beangrowers Warehouse at Milner.

Qualified electors are residents of the district for 30 days or more and of the state six months or more, who are 18 years of age or older. Voters need not be real property owners and no registration in advance of the election is necessary. Any voter may cast a ballot at any polling place in the district.

Trustees of the Cassia County School District have called on all residents to support the major improvement program. Board members say a knowledgeable and experienced architect has been employed to prepare plans and a reliable fiscal agent will handle professional chores in connection with the bond issue and bond sales.

WINTER BEAUTY for those who can still appreciate it is seen in the Mary L. Gooding Park in Shoshone. Most residents in Magic Valley were not too enthused about having to dig out the snow shovels again this week but skiers and photographers enjoyed it. Above scene is typical of many in Magic Valley cities today.

Dentists approve proposal

BOISE (UPI) — Dentists urged a legislative committee Thursday night by approving a fluoridation bill while concerned laymen warned it could lead to mass poisoning.

They spoke to a pending house bill calling for fluoridation of water supply systems serving more than 100 residences under rules laid down by the State Health Board.

Under the measure persons served by the system would have the right to petition for an election on the question. A majority vote would decide the issue.

Sub-district bill held in senate

BOISE (UPI) — Warned it might change the legal implications of Idaho's reapportionment plan, the Senate State Affairs Committee voted Friday to hold a bill to create sub-districts in five legislative districts.

The bill, approved by the house, would create sub-districts which are currently in existence but which were not included in the reapportionment plan being appealed to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Sep. James Ellsworth R. Leadore, said he was told by the attorney general's office one of the sub-districts contains a population disparity of 25 per cent and said he feared anything over 25 per cent might not come within the guidelines.

If the sub-districts became part of the reapportionment plan, Ellsworth said, there was question whether the high court would uphold the plan already approved by Federal District Court.

Ransom paid for jet plane

BOON (UPI) — The West German government paid $3 million in ransom for the release of the Lufthansa 747 jumbo jet and its 14-member crew hijacked to Aden, Transportation Minister Georg Leber said today.

Leber said a special messenger sent from Bonn paid the money in Lebanon to representatives of a group belonging to the Front For the Liberation of Palestine.

Blood drawing set at Jerome

JEROME — The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Jerome March 7 at the Moose Hall on North Main from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

"We have 15 people in Jerome County who need to have blood replaced," according to Mrs. Charles Parker.

"Some of them used several pints of blood, so we need a good attendance to replace this blood and also to build up our supply at the regional blood center in Boise," Mrs. Parker said.

The First Ward Relief Society will prepare lunch for the bloodmobile staff and volunteer workers with the Jerome County Home Extension Club members supplying cookies for donors, Mrs. Parker said.

She said the Key Club will help unload and load the van. Mrs. Kay McGill will serve at the juice table and Mrs. S. P. Richter is in charge of the canteen.

Mrs. Robert Nancolas will call people to be typists and receptionists. Mrs. Mildred Walker of the Association of Retired Persons is securing volunteers to call people and remind them to give blood, Mrs. Parker said.

Corn seminar conducted in TF

TWIN FALLS — The need to prevent overirrigating sweet corn in the pre-tasselling stage was stressed at a seminar here Thursday.

Dorrell Larsen, University of Idaho extension irrigator, told area corn growers that overirrigation in the pre-tasselling stage reduces yields.

He said, however, sufficient moisture must be maintained in the soil during the critical tasselling stages of corn growth.

Otto Wagner, Buhl, discussed the importance of bedding to conserve moisture. He said bedding enable growers to plant corn in moist soil to encourage a good stand and quick emergence.

Insects generally aren't a major problem to growers, according to Hugh Homond, Caldwell.

He said should a grower have an insect problem, he should determine if it would be economically feasible to control it chemically. He said the cost of control may be more than the cost of damage done by the insects.

In other talks, Bert Gribberton, Buhl, and Wayne Theissen, extension soil specialist, Twin Falls, urged growers to apply fertilizer according to soil tests.

Green Giant official Joe Fehrenbacher, Buhl, explained the company's water waste disposal system. Green Giant runs water containing starches and sugars over farm land and then disc it into the soil.

Fehrenbacher said this eliminates odor caused by waste water.

He said a chemical put into the water also helps cut down odor. The disposal process prevents water from running off the farm land, he said.

Cultural and chemical methods of weed control were discussed by Robert Higgins, extension agronomist. He said the primary step in weed control is to define the exact weed-control problem.

Don Norris, Buhl, representing the Green Giant Co., discussed use of accumulated heat units to project planting and harvesting times.

According to Don Youtz, Twin Falls County extension agent, the seminar was a great success. He said there are only a little over 20 sweet corn growers in the Magic Valley and to have close to a third of them at the seminar made it a success.

Youtz said with the good deal of interest this year, it should become an annual event.

Gooding studies lagoon project

GOODING — The Gooding County Planning Commission discussed the advantages of a lagoon-style sewer system at a meeting Thursday night at the Soil Conservation office.

Many members feel that the new State Health Department sewage regulations cannot be applied in Gooding County because of the high water table and the rocky sub-soil structure.

Resource Conservation and Development adviser, Wiley Price, told members of some other towns in Idaho and across the country using the lagoon system. He also explained its operation.

Planning commission chairman Bob Bolte instructed the secretary to write to Bob Amouraux, Jerome, State Health Department official, to invite him to speak to the group next month about health department regulations and various sewer systems, which are and are not acceptable under the new laws.

It's not spring, yet

Jerome clerk named

JEROME — Mrs. Clair (Virginia) Ricketts has been appointed county auditor to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Lee (Ella) McVey who has resigned.

Mrs. Ricketts will be administered the oath of office Monday. Mrs. McVey earlier this month submitted her resignation effective March 1, stating personal reasons for leaving.

Mrs. Ricketts was unanimously endorsed by the Jerome County Central Republican Committee. She will seek election to the post this fall. Mrs. Ricketts has worked in the city clerk's office for the past nine years and has been deputy clerk for the past seven years.

Joe Pharris was appointed county weed supervisor, succeeding Fred Webster, according to John Van Orman, commission chairman.

Stud auction Saturday at Jerome

JEROME — The Jerome County Recreation Association annual stud auction is slated for 8 p.m. Saturday at the Producers Livestock Marketing Association in Jerome.

According to Charles Hosmer, co-chairman of the event, 14 Quarter Horses, five Appaloosas, three Paints and four Thoroughbreds will be on sale.

Probation ordered in drug case

SHOSHONE — A two-year probation was ordered for Douglas Hutchinson, Shoshone, on a charge of selling a controlled substance.

The sentencing took place at 10 a.m. Thursday before District Judge Charles Scoggin.

Hutchinson had been arrested last month on the charge but a pre-sentence investigation was ordered when he appeared in court on the matter.

Hearing set over recall

JEROME — A hearing has been scheduled March 7 before Fifth District Judge Theron W. Ward, on a writ of mandamus filed on behalf of a recall election here.

The writ, sought by S.A. Kolman, attorney for recall petitioners, asks the court to order the Jerome City Council to hold a recall election for two of its members.

The writ is filed on behalf of Victor H. Haines, Dewey L. Oavin, Bill R. Cannedy, Raymond H. Alwood, and Robert A. Meyers earlier this month.

Petitions were certified by the city clerk for a recall election for Edwin Tinker and Walter Bentzinger.

The two and Councilman S.N. (Shorty) Weeks, voted not to hold the election when the petitions were presented to the council. Mayor J.A. Russell and Councilman Marshall Everheart did not vote against the recall election and are named in the application for the writ as members of the council.

The recall movement began after the council voted to dismiss Chief of Police C.H. Puntney at the first of the year.

Ketchum school chief supported

By TERRY CAMPBELL
Times-News writer

KETCHUM — About 75 parents and teachers voiced support of Sam Hazard, Ernest Hemingway Grade School principal, at a meeting Thursday night at the school.

The Blaine County School Board was urged to explore further means to allow Hazard to continue at his post even though he is not certified.

Supt. Charles Clark said the board was notified of Hazard's non-certification two weeks after school started last fall.

Hazard said he had been teaching for more than 20 years, mainly at private schools, and had acted as headmaster.

But, he said, to be able to certify he would probably have to complete two more years of college work in an undergraduate education program as well as continue with work on his master's degree. He said he has completed half the work needed for his master's degree.

Trustee Jane Kneeland said that should the district employ Hazard as principal "it means the end of state funds for the district."

Chairman of the board W. B. Mallory said $200,000 would be lost.

Mallory said the board "has delved into the matter quite deeply."

The group of parents and teachers decided to allow the board until its next regular meeting March 13 to continue its efforts to allow Hazard to be retained before taking action.

"Do not ask the board to go against state statute," if Hazard's contract cannot be renewed, Mallory said.

One parent said "irreparable damage to the morale of parents, teachers, students and the community" would be done if Hazard were replaced as principal.

Another said "I don't see any correlation between certification and qualification."

Richard Welch, special services aide for the district, said the meeting showed the board has a "mandate to explore a number of other avenues." He said a very clear statement that Ketchum wants Sam Hazard as principal, "came from the meeting."

Bank at Burley sets open house

BURLEY — Openhouse for the new First Security Bank at East Main and Albion Avenue will be from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday.

Music for the open house will be provided by Karen Herd, organist, Idaho's first runner-up in the 1971 Miss America pageant.

Opening ceremonies and interviews with visitors will be broadcast.

Federal reserve displays of both real and counterfeit currency, a privately owned bank and night depository facilities.

It's too late

BOISE (UPI) — The chairman of the Senate Commerce and Labor Committee said Thursday it is too late in the session to fully debate a bill to authorize binding arbitration between public employees and employers.

Sen. Vern Riffe, R-Boise, however, gave no indication as to the future of the proposal, opposed by representatives of Idaho's cities and counties.

The bill, introduced by Sen. George Greenfield, D-Boise, would require a private conference about public employees' wages.

Winter weather stops construction

JEROME — Construction, when construction begins again next week at Tupperware is once again being delayed by winter weather.

Don Sharp, construction foreman, said today work had been halted because of muddy conditions.

Sharp said the mud is 12 to 18 inches deep at the site and it is impossible to move equipment.

He said snow conditions have worsened site conditions.

Sharp said construction is six weeks behind schedule. He said it may take a week or two before work can be resumed.

Waring show set at Rupert

RUPERT — The Fred Waring Show will again be held in the Mini-Cassia area sponsored by the Burley-Rupert Shrine Club. The show will begin at 8 p.m. March 9 at Minico High School Gymnasium, said Dave Barry, president. Advance tickets are now on sale from all members of the Burley-Rupert Shrine Club. Tickets may also be purchased at Wood Music Store, Ropers and Skaggs Furniture, all Burley; Fricke's Fabrics, and Stocks' Music, both Rupert; Volco Builders and Roper's, both Twin Falls.

Waring will conduct the show this year. He did not make the circuit tour last year because of a heart attack.

"It's Happy," is the theme of his show. In this day of revolution, rebellion, war and inflation, that phrase should sound incredible. But let a master showman such as Waring loose on stage, and happiness is the rule, Barry said.

One of the great secrets of 55 years of success is that the Pennsylvanians are a hand-picked group of well adjusted, happy people. Waring is as careful in his selection of personnel as he is with his friends, Barry said.

Much like a family, for a better part of a year, this fine musical unit has younger and older members living in close proximity. But not all families have at their head such a sensitive man who gets to know each individual well enough to be aware of their moods, desires and weaknesses.

Traveling on a tour on one-night stands is not always a happy experience but somehow Waring keeps his groups' nerves and emotions smooth.

RUPERT — Minico High School's Band Boosters drafted plans for a fund-raising campaign for new band uniforms during a meeting at the school, said contributions received to date have brought in enough to purchase 10 new uniforms.

Each uniform will cost about $130, with a nine-per-cent discount on each uniform ordered before March 15. The Band Boosters have a sample uniform on display, and have ordered the school's first "Spartan" helmets to go along with the uniforms when they are acquired.

SHH! CALORIES SLEEPING

By Mary Sue Miller

Beware the bedtime snack! If you're a weight-watcher, that is.

In the first place, a late-late repast is certain to overdraw on your calorie allotment for the day. But even more significant is the fact that your body cannot possibly utilize the overage.

While you sleep, only about 400 calories per 100 pounds of body weight are used in 8 hours. During the day, an active person burns up more calories in a half-hour than in a long night's sleep. Excess weight is the direct result of the unused calories.

The midnight raid on the refrigerator, therefore, could be even more of a threat to successful reduction than cheating on your diet at regular mealtimes. Not that the latter course is ever recommended.

You actually have a chance to work off extra calories snatched during the day. The calories in the post-prandial fudge cake make a plump feather bed for themselves — and you know where — the moment you bed down.

Albeit many reducers are aware of the danger, they continue the one-for-the-road, all manner of reasons are given for the habit. The principal one seems to be, "I'm so hungry, I can't sleep."

True or false, the excuses cannot be shrugged off. Otherwise, real or imagined misery ensues. So what's the answer? One comes from low-cal snacks, such as chewy, bulky raw carrot and celery strips. Another idea is to save fruit or a glass of skim milk from daytime rations and have it at bedtime. That way you do not break your calorie bank and you save a lot of distress.

POCKET CALORIE COUNTER

Do you really know the calorie count of the food you eat? Our latest, POCKET CALORIE COUNTER, tells the score, step by step. It also gives a diet plan — a way to eat and sleep. For your copy, write to Mary Sue Miller, care of this newspaper, enclosing a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 15 cents in coin.

TF Bethel welcomes guests

TWIN FALLS — Mrs. Nancy Thompson, Bethel No. 4, Klamath Falls, Ore., was introduced Wednesday at the regular meeting of Bethel No. 55.

Honored queen, Judy Van Engelen, presided.

Also introduced were Carolyn Wylie, guardian, and Paul Moseley, associate guardian.

Patli Westbrook, senior princess, introduced Miss Van Engelen, grand representative to Ontario, Canada, from Idaho. Wayne Harper, past master of Butte Lodge No. 37, Emmett, was also introduced.

Debbie Sharp gave the librarians report, a tribute to the choir. Since the meeting was dedicated to the choir members, they presented three numbers.

"Jobie of the Meeting" was Mary Jones.

Nominee selection more than politics

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Ramona Banuelos was told that her prime responsibility as treasurer of the United States would be to sign the country's currency.

"I was brought in under false pretenses," she said after holding the position for 30 days.

The position of treasurer, held by a woman since the administration of Harry S. Truman, generally has been considered a sinecure, with politics an important factor in selecting the nominee.

Not so, Mrs. Banuelos said. "In reality, there is so much work that I'm at the office more than 12 hours a day," she said.

For example, she wound up with a letter by a constituent to his congressman, asking about the status of his attempt to buy a new Eisenhower silver dollar, for which he sent the treasury $6 and about which he has heard nothing. Another congressman relayed a complaint of a tax refund which he said was seven months overdue.

"I have to check these things, find out what happened," Mrs. Banuelos said.

Mrs. Banuelos, 47, is well prepared to be treasurer. Born in Miami, Fla., March 20, 1922, the daughter of Juan Francisco and Teresa Lugo Acosta, she is founder of Ramona's Mexican Food Products Inc., the largest independent Mexican food processing plant in California.

She was one of the founding directors of the Pan American National Bank of East Los Angeles, an undertaking launched in 1964 to serve the Mexican-American community and which now, under her board chairmanship, has resources of more than $22 million.

For example, she wound up with a letter by a constituent to his congressman, asking about the status of his attempt to buy a new Eisenhower silver dollar, for which he sent the treasury $6 and about which he has

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: This is my first letter to a column:

How should one react to the news that their friends have had an "abnormal" child? I think I can answer that because we had one. We were lucky enough to be told immediately of our baby's condition and did not have the agony of the slow realization that "something was wrong."

Feeling it best to face the problem, we freely told our friends and relatives about our "special" child. Altho we knew very little about what to expect, he was our baby, and we knew we wanted to keep him with us. He is now a lovable, mischievous 11-year-old Mongoloid, going to a special school, and we have never regretted our decision.

Perhaps "congratulations" are not in order, but to ignore the presence of a new baby in a home, when you would normally express interest in it, I think, cruel. To this day I remember the pleasure I felt when someone came to see our baby, to hold him, and to let me talk about him.

One of the burdens a mother of a retarded child has is not having anyone with whom to compare notes about her child's progress. Every tiny gain has a tremendous important meaning for the mother of a handicapped child.

So, do acknowledge the birth of a special child. Or send a little gift. Or send flowers to the mother. Continue to show an interest (not curiosity), and encourage the parents to get in touch with their local society for retarded children for help with mutual problems. It will be rewarded with much love, affection, and gratitude.

DEAR ABBY: Someone wrote asking you if they should send a gift or a card of "congratulations" to a mother who has given birth to a Mongoloid child. Thank you for saying: "By all means, yes. To a mother, a child is a child."

I know your advice was sound because I had a Mongoloid son. Friends called. They stopped by. They even gave me a surprise baby shower when he was a month old. Here is the message on one card which meant so much to me:

"God gave this child to you to guide, to love, to walk thru life beside. A little child so full of charms, To fill a pair of loving arms. God picked you out because he knew How safe His child would be with you" God bless friends like that, MRS. C. B. BEACON, N. Y.

DEAR ABBY: I liked your answer to the person who wanted to know if she should acknowledge the birth of a Mongoloid child or out of kindness ignore the "tragedy."

I will always be grateful to friends who sent cards and gave us the feeling of "normalcy" when our Mongoloid son was born. He is now a happy 6-year-old and a great source of joy to us. He goes everywhere with us and is so full of love, we wouldn't trade him for any other child in the world.

Not all Mongoloid children are severely retarded. No one knows at the time of his birth what his potential will be if given a chance. He deserves better than to be written off as a "tragedy." An investment of love and care and a little work can be returned tenfold.

There are organizations all over the country to guide and advise parents who share this experience. Anyone interested may write to the Mongoloid Development Council, 1810 S. 31st St., Kansas City, Kan. 64106.

Pilots hold Wendell, Kimberly wins 71-35

SHOONE — The Kimberly Bulldogs crushed host Shoshone 71-35, after the Glenns Ferry Pilots held off the surprising Wendell Trojans 49-43 in the second round of the fourth district class A-3 basketball tournament Thursday night.

Glenns Ferry, after drawing a first round bye, had a tough time defeating the Trojans.

The Pilots took an early 7-3 lead and were on top 11-5 with 3:24 remaining in the first quarter. The Trojans went cold for the remainder of the quarter and the Pilots led 17-8 at the close of the quarter.

In the second quarter a field goal by Rod Adams and a free throw brought the Trojans within seven at 18-11. Senior Pat Bennett scored to put Wendell behind, 22-16, the closest they were to come in the second quarter. Paul Shrum, Glenns Ferry's top scorer, started to score in the last of the second quarter, and put the Pilots ahead 30-19 at the half.

In the third quarter Bennett opened for Wendell with two points to put the Trojans nine behind but Shrum scored two field goals to keep the Pilots ahead by ten with 3:12 left in the quarter. At the end of the quarter Glenns Ferry led 39-29. Both teams were unable to get untracked offensively in the third quarter with the Pilots managing only nine points and Wendell, 10 points.

In the last quarter the Pilots were still cold but the Trojans began to rally to tighten the game. Bennett scored two for Wendell and with 7:13 left trailed by only six, 39-33. Shrum once again added three quick points on free throws to boost Glenns Ferry to a 42-33 spread.

The teams were at 42-37 with 5:48 left and neither team could score again until 3:10 remaining in the game. With 1:30 left a free throw by Ray Hansen put the Pilots on top 45-37. The Pilots didn't score again until 21 seconds left.

Adams put in two free throws for Wendell for a 45-39 score and with 41 seconds left Bennett scored two to make it 45-41. Webb scored two points to bring the Trojans within two with 27 seconds left.

Then Wendell fouled and Shrum again kept Glenns Ferry ahead by canning a pair of free throws and with eight seconds remaining in the game the Trojans fouled again and Shrum added two more for the final tally.

Shrum finished the night with 25 points and scored 13 free throws.

In the second game Thursday night Kimberly broke open a close game in the second quarter on the scoring and rebounding of John Burman and went on to defeat the Indians by 38 points.

Burman scored eight points in the first quarter but after trading the lead back and forth throughout the quarter Shoshone was on top 18-13. With 1:45 left in the quarter Tom Sapp was taken out of the game with three fouls for the Bulldogs.

Rick Nelson sank a pair of free throws in the second quarter to put Kimberly a single point behind at 18-15. Then Burman scored to put Kimberly ahead 21-18 and Kimberly never trailed after that. Burman scored six points in the last two minutes to give Kimberly a 31-21 margin at the half.

In the second quarter Shoshone only shot 15 per cent and was hampered by a complete lack of rebounding.

Burman scored two quick field goals and the Bulldogs added a free throw in the first couple of minutes in the third quarter to put Kimberly ahead 36-21. After that the closest Shoshone could come was 10 points. Kimberly led 48-31 at the end of the third quarter.

Burman finished the night with 26 points. The Indians managed only 14 points in the second half scoring four in the last quarter.

Tripped on knee

King asks revamp of NCAA choices

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (UPI)—College independents are slowly disappearing from the western basketball courts and causing NCAA basketball tournament selection processes to come under scrutiny.

Bob King, head man at the University of New Mexico for 10 years, feels the decline in independents creates a need for the NCAA to consider second-place conference teams to fill at-large berths.

He also feels there is a decline in caliber, at least in 1972, among the independents.

"There aren't any worthy teams in the west this year," King says in regards to the two independents that will be selected for the regional NCAA tournament.

"New Mexico State is going to the NCAA and it's not as good as UTEP—UTEP beat them twice and might not go anywhere."

"The Miners, victors over New Mexico State at home and in the Aggies den, are 8-4 in the Western Athletic Conference and 17-5 overall. Their only loss was to Southwestern Louisiana, one of the nation's top ranked teams. They are hoping for second place in the WAC and maybe an NIT bid."

UTEP athletic director George Mc Carthy feels the second place consideration has merit.

"I personally don't have any quarrel with New Mexico State," he said. "But the number of at-large teams is becoming more limited each year."

Mc Carthy said New Mexico State and West Texas State both join the Missouri Valley Conference next year, leaving only four major independents in the west—Utah State, Air Force, Seattle and Denver.

"Four teams after two spots makes the competition a lot less stiff," Mc Carthy says. "They are going to have to take some second place finishers."

The rest of the officials in the basketball-oriented WAC, which has built a 63-27 non-conference record this year, join in asking for the "new look" by the NCAA.

Colorado State's head basketball coach Jim Williams has some distasteful memories of the NCAA when he was head of an independent squad, but feels there is a need for second place teams to get a shot at the NCAA.

"Sometimes one conference will have three teams better than the best team in another conference," Williams says. "Take the Southwest Conference... Texas Christian is leading down there and we beat them by 31 points and we're going to get maybe fifth or lower in our conference." CSU is 6-6 in league and 14-7 overall.

Gooding St., Dietrich, Richfield win in A-4

RICHFIELD — Gooding State defeated Richfield 64-58 in the first round of the fifth district A-4 basketball tournament, Richfield bombed the Billas Bears 78-25 and Dietrich downed Carey 64-43, in earlier action.

Tonight in second round action Carey will meet Billas at 6 p.m.; Camas, after drawing a first round bye, will meet Gooding State at 7:30 p.m., and Richfield will face Dietrich at 9 p.m.

In the first game Thursday, Richfield took an early 15-4 lead and outplayed Billas throughout the game. By the half Richfield was on top 41-12 and 68-19 at the close of the third quarter when Billas could manage only seven points in that quarter.

Near the end of the first half

Dietrich broke open a tight game to give Carey an opening round setback.

Dietrich only led by two in the first quarter at 15-13. Dick Simpson's scoring kept Carey close in the first quarter. By the half Dietrich was on top 35-23. For Dietrich Meservy scored 13 in the first half and Weiss added 10 points.

Carey came out cold in the third period and didn't score a field goal for the first five minutes. Dietrich built a 25-point bulge at the end of the third quarter and in the final eight minutes Carey cut it to 10 points at one point but couldn't come any closer. Simpson scored 12 points in the second half for Carey.

In the final game Richfield took a 9-4 margin over Gooding St. in the first quarter and led 11-5 before Gooding St. came back to tie the score at 13-13 and then take a two-point lead at the quarter.

Littler takes lead on course record

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI)—Veteran Gene Littler, wielding his putter and short irons with precision, shot a course record 7-under-par 65 Thursday to take the first round lead in the $200,000 Jackie Gleason Inverrary Golf Classic.

Littler holed chip shots of 20 and 70 feet, and needed only 24 putts on the par 72, 7,128 Inverrary layout to take a two-stroke lead over Bruce Crampton, who shot a five-under par 64.

"I had a fair way around the greens," Littler understated with a grin after taking the lead in the year's richest tournament.

Mac McLendon, rookie Forest Frazier and Bob E. Smith were tied a stroke behind Crampton at 88 in the chase for the tournament's $52,000 first prize.

Jack Nicklaus had a pair of nightmare double bogeys on the first two holes. He toured the front nine in four-over par 40 but rallied with a three-under 33 on the back side and finished one over par at 73.

Arnold Palmer had to birdie the par four 18th hole to salvage a 74, and Lee Trevino skied to a 76.

Gary Player, making his first U.S. appearance of the year, shot an even par 72.

Littler, called "Gene The Machine" because of his smooth, effortless swing, fired a sizzling 32 on the par 36 front side and added a 33 on the back nine.

The 41-year-old, 18-year four veteran birdied the second and fourth holes on putts of 10 and 15 feet and on the fifth, made his first spectacular chip—a 24-footer with an eight-iron.

Littler birdied the eighth and then played even par until the 14th when he pulled out his deadly eight-iron again and holed out from 70 feet.

Birdies on the 15th and 18th gave him his 65, breaking the Inverrary record of 67, set earlier this month in a practice round by Sam Snead.

Wildlife Review

By STU MURRELL

Regional Conservation Educator, Idaho Fish and Game Department

The Idaho Fish and Game Department operates twenty fisheries installations, including fish hatcheries, spawn taking and distribution stations. They are located at American Falls, Ashton, Clark Fork, Eagle, Grace, Hagerman, Hayspur, Henrys Lake, Kamiah, Mackay, McCall, Mullan, Sandpoint, Twin Falls and Warm River. Hatcheries rearing steelhead and salmon are: Hayden Creek, Niagara Springs, Oxbow, Pahsimeroi, and Rapid River.

The purpose of this program is to improve fishing in Idaho. In some areas this means adding extra fish to waters where natural reproduction cannot keep up with the fishing pressure because of poor wintering or growing conditions. One of our biggest problems has been man-made changes such as channelization which has reduced the habitat for trout throughout the State. Here, the catchable-size fish are released, ready for the fisherman to catch during that same season. Without these extra fish, the early fisherman would soon take most of the wild trout, leaving only disappointment for people coming later that year.

Periodic releases of catchable-size fish in heavily fished waters maintain an available supply throughout the fishing season.

Some waters having below average spawning conditions, but having good growing conditions, receive plantings of fingerling trout. These fish grow to a catchable size quite rapidly and add to the fishing pleasure of many people over the state. Usually these are lakes or reservoirs where there is a minimum competition from other species of fish. Two of our best examples in Magic Valley are Thron Creek and Fish Creek. Reservoirs where fingerlings grow rapidly.

Most of the fish raised in Idaho fish hatcheries are rainbow trout because this species is a favorite with fishermen, does well in so many Idaho lakes and streams, and is easier to raise than most other trout species. However, the department also hatches and raises and plants cutthroat brook, brown, Kamloops, golden, and kokanee and mackinaw trout. Species of salmon raised and released are: coho, kokanee, spring chinook, fall chinook, steelhead and grayling. There have been two recent plantings of brown trout in the Little Wood River and grayling in Big Lost and Round Lakes which have been successful in the Magic Valley.

For a successful hatchery, the water must be plentiful and of suitable chemical quality. A water temperature of about 55 degrees Fahrenheit is preferred for the rearing of trout, and the more constant the better. The springs in Hagerman Valley are some of the best trout raising water in the world because they furnish these requirements. It is a peculiarity of cold-blooded animals that they have no "heating system" in their bodies as warm-blooded animals do. Their body temperature warms and cools with the temperature around them, and most of them cannot stand a very wide range of temperature. They become inactive or many even die if the temperature becomes too hot or too cold.

Wild trout in Idaho's cold mountain streams become dormant in winter. They eat very little and so, of course, they also grow very little. For this reason, trout that are hatched and reared in hatcheries with water temperatures between 50 and 60 degrees Fahrenheit will reach catchable size in a year, but trout from the same age class reared under less favorable conditions may grow only two or three inches in that length of time. In Idaho hatcheries, trout are fed a scientifically formulated diet to provide a healthy fast growth. Constant feeding and improvement of our Idaho Open Formula diet for trout continues, providing a good quality fish at a minimum of cost.

Work varies considerably at the 17 fisheries stations. The primary functions of a particular installation include one or more activities such as hatching, rearing, spawning, taking or simply holding ponds. The main purpose of the holding ponds is to serve as distributing stations. Large truck-trailer fish transports bring shipments of fish ready for release, and unload them into holding ponds. Smaller fish distribution tank trucks then haul the fish to the designated holding ponds. In the Magic Valley, the designated holding ponds are located at the following locations: American Falls, Ashton, Clark Fork, Eagle, Grace, Hagerman, Hayspur, Henrys Lake, Kamiah, Mackay, McCall, Mullan, Sandpoint, Twin Falls and Warm River.

Gooding rips Filer and Jerome tops Wood River

Motocross set for Hagerman

The Gooding Senators notched their 28th straight victory by downing outmanned Filer, 93-33, and the Jerome Tigers broke away from scrappy Wood River in the second half for a 59-43 decision in the opening round of the fourth district A-2 basketball tournament.

Gooding, the defending district and state champion, moved into the championship semi-finals and won't see action again until Saturday night. Friday night Filer will meet Wood River at 7:30 p.m. with the loser going to the sidelines and Buhl comes into play, going against Jerome in the feature at 9 p.m.

Wood River, giving away all kinds of height, scrapped hard against Jerome over the first two and one-half quarters but then wore down as Jerome's height, basically found in 6-4 Randy Hobbey, started tucking the game away.

Bill Aldinger was the chief reason Wood River stayed in the game as he hit 16 of his 18 points over the first 20 minutes.

For the most part Jerome held meager leads of one to three points with Wood River flurrying back at times for ties. Jerome took a 5-2 lead and stayed ahead until a 14-1 tie, then moved back in front until Aldinger hit four straight points for a 23-23 deadlock. It was tied 25-25 at halftime.

Wood River took its first lead on Aldinger's foul shot to open the second half and led again at 28-27. But then Hobbey started putting in some follow shots against the Wolverines who have no one only six feet — and only three reserves.

Still the Wolverines stayed close with Diabennett, Smith and Aldinger offsetting points by Jerome's Dave Wyke, Greg Jewell and Sich Watson. But with the score favoring Jerome 35-34, the score fell in on Wood River.

Over the last two minutes, Jerome outscored Wood River 11-1 to push out 46-35 and that was as close as the Wolverines ever came again.

The first game was over before it started. Frank Krahn and Gary Correll hit two field goals each as Gooding ran off in a 10-0 lead in 1:18. The Senators used a half-court trap press throughout the night and it gave the Wildcats fits. Jeff LaCroix and Doyle Rogers, made innumerable steals and forced about as many turnovers. Most of the steals turned into crumbles as Gooding rushed ahead 30-6 at the end of the first period and pumped that to 63-15 at intermission.

FAMILY CIRCUS

"Mommy said to tell you I had a very nice time."

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1972

CARROLL RICHTER'S
HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Richter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You have some very definite ideas about just what you want to do and how you would like to do it, and if you will only ask for what you want with a smile and a kind voice, you have a good chance of getting it. The mood, however, is for most everyone to make demands and so get into unpleasant situations, which is not necessary.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Ideal day for amusement, but make sure you are with congenial and those you can trust. Put to work the fine talents you possess. Don't forget to get your shopping done as early as you can.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Some situation at home is most annoying but do not argue over it, or something serious could result. Quietly analyze what changes you want to make. Then use intelligent methods to do so.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Pals are amenable to your suggestions, ideas during the day, but tonight are stubborn and unyielding. Try to be more helpful to others in group affairs. Take the cause more to heart.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Get into those things that please you the most and be sure not to irritate a bigwig in any way. Your health and appearance need toning up. Take the treatments that are truly helpful.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You have fine ideas now and can get the cooperation of new and interesting contacts you made recently. During the day, go to some worthwhile party to which you have been invited. Evening, however, is best spent at home.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Find the right system for taking care of any promises you have made so there is mutual satisfaction. Forget that urge to criticize others and do something to improve own life. Kindness pays.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Talking over with partners and congenials how best to have greater harmony and more successful results with mutual activities is fine now. You can get much backing from them and can use it wisely. Make this a banner day.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) A bigwig is watching how you do that special work assigned to you and can be very generous if you handle it particularly well. Gain the cooperation of co-workers for best results. Rest on laurels tonight.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Forget all that wornout type of amusements and delve into new and more exciting, interesting activities today. You can do much to perfect any special talents you may have. Take a more active interest in other persons.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You made promises to fellow workers that you would get some special work done today, so do not disappoint them. A short period for exercise would be wise to build up your health. Take more care where diet is concerned, too.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You can hit on the right method for taking care of routines and should discuss it first with allies for best results. Out to see good friends later, though the trip may be a little long. This will result in a fine exchange of views.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You can carry through with practical plans during the daytime with much success following, but tonight it's somewhat difficult in dealing with others. Do not argue with anyone. Perk up surroundings with a little paint, bric-a-brac, etc.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those very charming and dynamic young people who understands own abilities and powers early and will succeed in almost anything tackled, get along well with others, provided you give the encouragement necessary here while young, plus the fine education deserved, even if you have to scribble a little, to do so. Too much needling could have adverse results here, though.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

After Age 40,

"Divorce is not always in error; but always in error is what the divorced dream they will do next."

Arnold Whidby
If the man is divorced before age 30, it's likely he'll marry again promptly. But if he's divorced after age 40, he's more apt to postpone further matrimonial plans. Such were the finds in an extensive study of broken marriages. The young fellow (it's said, thinks he made a mistake he can fix, right now. But the middle-aged man appears to want one more crack at the nightclub circuit. He tends to take a lively interest in fancy females in low-cut gowns. He may even allow himself to be referred to for a time as "Daddy."

A PENGUIN is stupid. Toss a live fish on the ground in front of such a bird and said bird won't even recognize it as food. Yet wiggly fishes, plucked out of the water, are just about all a penguin eats.

THAT FELLOW up in Everett, Wash., who checks up on all the claims herein, has written again: Good! I've missed him. All right, it's a fact you can get 28 million bubbles out of a pound of soap. Certainly would like to watch him work this one out.

HUNTER
He always gets his buck, this Montana hunter. His trick, he writes is as follows: "I find me a likely tree and hang in it a gallon jug full of apple juice upside down with a little hole punched in the lid. That's the night before. Next day the deer will show, they'll be there."

Q. "WHAT kind of wood makes the best butcher's block?"
A. American sycamore, I'm told.

Q. "HOW MANY times does the average person fall in love before marriage?"
A. Seven times, insist the experts. Don't know, that sounds high.

THE HARD FACTS
Ask 100 people how often they visit their dentists, and 88 will say once a year. However, the dental records show only 40 really do.

EXACTLY 137 of the marriages performed in Nevada last year were annulled within a week of the wedding ceremonies. Analysts blame liquor.

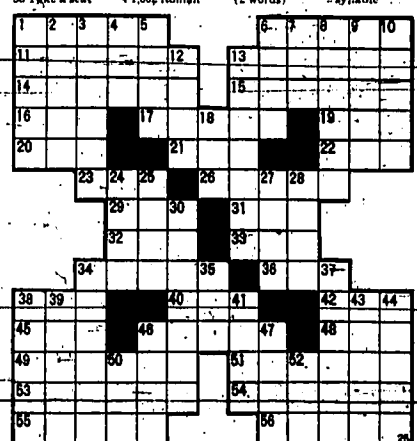

AN IRRITATED client who just flunked his real estate license examination asks how many citizens do likewise. About 38 out of every 100 who take the test don't cut it.

"REDHEADS are livelier," reported old Cedric Adams. He based this claim on the studies of a London dentist. "Blondes go under anesthesia the most readily, average 52 seconds. Dark-haired people take 62 seconds. But the dear little redheads resist for 68 seconds."

Senate gives aeronautics board authority to regulate foreign fares

GLOBE'S

GLOBE 1972

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate passed an administration bill Thursday to give the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) authority to regulate foreign airlines' fares in a move aimed at eliminating discount tickets to Europe.

The administration contends that foreign lines are seriously threatening the survival of hard-pressed American carriers that serve the same market on higher, CAB-fixed rates.

Lufthansa, for instance, has a $210 excursion fare between the United States and Germany while the lowest U. S. fare of a scheduled Lufthansa, for instance, has a $210 excursion fare between the United States and Germany while the lowest U. S. fare of a scheduled airline for the same trip is about $240.

In the past, CAB has had authority to regulate all rates, foreign and domestic, for U.S. airlines. But it has never had the authority to suspend or control rates for foreign airlines serving the United States.

The bill was passed unanimously by voice vote and sent to the House.

The International Air Transportation Association (IATA), an organization of scheduled international air carriers, in the past has established minimum fares. But its rate structure has begun to be whittled away under pressure from non-scheduled airlines offering low charter fares to Europe.

The Senate would endow CAB with authority to reject any foreign carrier rates or suspend them for up to one year, if it found them to be unreasonably low. The President would be empowered to reverse the board's decision within 10 days.

Now directors

Unity firm elects new leaders at yearly meet

BURLEY — New directors were elected and yearly reports were given during the annual meeting Wednesday of Unity Light and Power Co.

Jack Gochmour and Gerald Larson were both elected for a three year term as directors and Fred Hawker was elected for one year to complete the term of Morris Mitchell, who recently resigned due to moving from the district.

The business session at the Star LDS church was conducted by Wallace L. Banner, president. Banner said in January the board of directors passed a resolution authorizing the execution of a net billing agreement with Washington Public Power System and Bonneville Power Administration to participate in ownership in a 1,100 megawatt nuclear power plant at Hanford, Wash., which will start generating needed kilowatts in September 1977.

This plant will be constructed and financed by 94 consumer-owned utilities and it will be the first all publicly owned nuclear power plant in the northwest.

"It is the determination of the board of directors to have low-cost electric power when we need it," Banner added.

The company's original bylaws, adopted in 1919, were revised and adopted. Banner also reported that a new garage was built and a new chain link fence has been built to protect supplies stored in the company yard.

John L. Jones, manager, reported that inventory supply carried amounts to about $69,000 and 25 per cent of this is transformer stock. A new filing system has been initiated and 128 memberships were processed in 1971.

Power sales in 1971 were 9.4 per cent greater than in 1970. This increase came from new members with new homes, a large pump in View area, three new grain mills and older homes being converted to electric space heating.

Growth is expected to continue and no increase in power rates is anticipated, Banner said.

During 1971 the company continued its construction program of upgrading the system to meet the economic growth of the service area. Members average cost per kilowatt was 9.3 mills which is 3 mills less than 1969.

He said 241 members have electric space heating in their homes, and business, an increase of 45 from last year. Average use per member is among the highest in the Northwest and five times the national average.

Edward E. Ralph, vice-president and manager of wiring supplies at Columbia Electric and Manufacturing Co., was the guest speaker. His topic was "Electricity is for People."

"Safety is a main factor in the electric industry," he stated. He referred to the National Electric Code which governs equipment and systems in the electrical fields.

"Electricity is a fast growing industry with most of the growth being in the past 25 years," he said.

"The growth will continue for some $17 billion has been set aside for electric power facilities scheduled for construction at present power plants on the Columbia River in the next 10 years," Ralph said.

Richfield class visits legislature

RICHFIELD — Richfield High School seniors witnessed the "legislature in action" Tuesday when they visited a session of the Idaho Legislature in Boise.

The visit is an annual one held in conjunction with their American Government class study.

Sen. John Peavey, R-Rupert, introduced the class to the senate. The students watched sessions of both the senate and house and witnessed the defeat of the bill raising prosecuting attorney's salaries.

Americans take up chopsticks

By CAROL ROSS
United Press International
American diners, joining in the spirit of President Nixon's trip to China, are flocking to oriental restaurants to use chopsticks, eat Peking duck and cashew nut diced chicken-Nixon.

A survey by United Press International of Chinese restaurant owners in several major U.S. cities showed an upsurge of business since the President and Mrs. Nixon dined on Mandarin delicacies at a banquet Monday night hosted by Chinese premier Chou En-lai.

Cecilia Chiang, a Northern Chinese refugee and operator of San Francisco's "The Mandarin," said: "We've had a big upsurge in business doing Peking-style cooking ... on (Chinese) New Years Day (Feb. 15) we had to turn more than 200 people away."

Miss Chiang said the real test of love for Chinese food came when "we had no request for forks ... people did their best with chopsticks."

Jimmy Wong, owner of three Chinese restaurants in Chicago, said "I think the way the Nixons have been talking about Chinese food — and how they like it so much — has helped us. I expect their experiences to stimulate business all over the world for Chinese restaurants and Chinese food."

The manager of Anita Chu's Chinese restaurant in Boston said he thinks Mrs. Nixon's visit to the Peking hotel kitchen where she remarked that "Americans love Chinese food" was a great endorsement for his business. "I know it'll do us some good," he said.

In Providence, R. I., Robert Low, whose Ming Gardens has the chicken dish named for Nixon, said that at a recent job he served dishes similar to those being prepared for the president and his entourage in Peking.

Horse sale causes lawsuit

BOISE — A Lewiston man filed a suit to seek recovery of a loss alleged through the confiscation and sale of his horse and mule.

Charles D. Warnock brought the action in U.S. District Court against the federal government.

He claimed the animals were captured on land adjacent to U.S. Forest Service land and the Forest Service employee assumed control of them some time in April.

He said the Forest Service sold them at a public auction, although they were advised of the rightful ownership.
