Jerome names chief

By CHARLOTTE BELL

Times-News writer
JEROME — Howard I. DuBois, 54, Jerome, was hired Tuesday evening as chief of police by the City Council.

DuBois fills the job formerly held by C. H. Puntney, who was not rehired by the council in January.

DuBois has lived near Jerome for the past year, moving from Sacramento, Calif.

Mayor J. A. (Jack) Russell said DuBois and his wife bought a farm northeast of Jerome after he retired from the Sacramento sheriff's office, where he was employed as juvenile officer.

Russell said he felt DuBois will make a "very good chief of police for Jerome."

Russell said DuBois wanted the job, because, he said, he was not ready to retire as he had thought.

DuBois will begin work immediately. He will be on a 90 day probation period and his term as the police chief will run until Jan. 1, 1974.

DuBois plans to leave his farm and move into town as soon as he can find housing.

DuBois began in law enforcement in 1941 as a reserve officer in civil defense. He worked with the Sacramento department as an unpaid deputy from 1941 to 1943 attaining the rank of sergeant.

He joined the Sacramento County sheriff's office juvenile division and was on parole duty from December, 1955, through September, 1957, when he was promoted to sergeant and assigned to the communications and records unit. In 1963 he was transferred to the juvenile division.

He attended Sacramento Police Academy for training and also acted as instructor in the academy. He became eligible for retirement in January, 1970.

Bomb blasts TWA jet

Bomb wrecks jet on airport ramp

NEW YORK (UPI)—An explosion ripped through a "thoroughly searched" Trans World Airlines jetliner parked at Las Vegas airport early today less than 24 hours after a live bomb had been discovered in a TWA jet at Kennedy Airport in New York.

There were no injuries in the blast that almost totally destroyed the cockpit of the plane at McCarran Airport in Las Vegas.

Charles Wyre, TWA general manager in Las Vegas, said the plane had been searched before it left Kennedy Airport Tuesday night and was again searched after passengers debarked in Las Vegas shortly after midnight.

"The plane was thoroughly searched," Wyre said. The line carried out searches on all its 250 aircraft following a claim by an extortionist demanding $2 million that four explosive devices had been placed on TWA aircraft.

A live bomb had been sniffed out by a trained dog in the cockpit of a TWA jet at Kennedy Airport Tuesday and was defused at 12:48 p.m. EST, only 12 minutes before it was set to go off.

The Las Vegas explosion came at 6:45 a.m. EST, 15 minutes before the fast deadline in the extortionist's threat to blow up a TWA plane every six hours for 24 hours.

The plane was positioned in a parking ramp area only yards from the terminal awaiting refueling for a flight to London.

Ex-governor jolts panel probing ITT

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former Gov. Louie B. Nunn of Kentucky told a Senate investigating committee Tuesday that Mrs. Dita D. Board lost consciousness at a Kentucky Derby party after trying to discuss the ITT antitrust case with then Attorney General John N. Mitchell.

The Judiciary Committee resumed its investigation today with Acting Attorney General Richard G. Kleindienst and ITT Director Felix G. Rohatyn among the expected witnesses. The committee is holding up the confirmation of Kleindienst to succeed Mitchell—who resigned March 1—to head President Nixon's re-election campaign—until it can sort out the facts surrounding the Justice Department's 1971 decision to drop an antitrust suit against International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. and an alleged offer by an ITT subsidiary to donate $400,000 to the Republican National Convention in August.

Syndicated Columnist Jack Anderson in citing memos written by Mrs. Board as ITT's lobbyist in Washington—has alleged the Justice Department dropped its suit against the largest merger in U.S. corporate history in exchange for the donation from the Sheraton Corp., an ITT subsidiary.

Mrs. Board has not been able to testify at the hearings because Dr. David Garland of the Rocky Mountain Osteopathic Hospital in Denver has her under intensive care for a serious heart condition. Garland said Tuesday that Mrs. Board, 53, suffered a relapse after reading newspaper accounts of the Senate investigation.

Nunn, a Republican whose term ended in December, testified Tuesday night that the incident between Mrs. Board and Mitchell took place at the governor's mansion last May after the Kentucky Derby horse race.

Nunn said the pair and a number of other guests at a buffet dinner were talking when Mitchell made a joke about his wife "Marta"; her celebrated telephone calls to reporters and American Telephone & Telegraph Corp.

Nunn said suddenly Mrs. Board interjected, "AT&T, that's a dirty word. How about ITT?"

The ex-governor testified that she then began speaking of ITT's problems with the Justice Department's antitrust division. Mitchell, who then headed the department insisted it was "not the time or the place to discuss it," Nunn said.

'Top secret' limits told

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon ordered new restrictions today on use of the "top secret" stamp in classifying government documents. He said the result will be to increase the amount of information available to the public.

The new rules will affect documents issued after June 1, but Nixon also ordered a review and possible declassification of 400 million pages of classified documents that have accumulated since the outset of World War II.

Nixon said his action was "designed to lift the veil of secrecy which now enshrouds altogether too many papers written by employees of the federal establishment."

He noted that 24 departments and agencies—in addition to the White House—now have broad powers to classify documents up to the "top secret" category. Under the new rules, he said, only 12 departments and agencies would have "top secret" power.

The President made it clear that some government information would continue to be kept secret for years if national security was involved.

"We are moving into an era of delicate negotiations in which it will be especially important that governments be able to communicate in confidence," Nixon said.

Under the new rules, many documents will be automatically declassified six to 10 years after the "top secret," "secret" or "confidential" stamp is put on them. However, there are exceptions to the general declassification procedure which could keep material locked up for 30 years or longer.

The new rules for classification permit an official to use the "top secret" stamp only if disclosure of the information "could reasonably be expected to damage the national security." Previously, Nixon said, "material could be classified if the originator had any expectation of such damage, however remote."

LOUIS NUNN surprises

Southern walkout averted

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Shippers and longshoremen in the nation's second busiest port have reached a contract agreement that will avert a threatened March 15 strike.

Negotiators for the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) and the New Orleans Steamship Association (NOSSA) announced approval of the pact Tuesday.

Alfred Chittenden, president of ILA Local 1418, called the contract "the best in the nation."

It calls for an hourly wage hike of $1.50 above the current $4.00 over the three years of the contract, increased fringe benefits and a guaranteed annual wage.

Spiro tops first vote

MANCHESTER, N.H. (UPI)—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew captured 71 per cent of the vote in the Republican balloting for vice president Tuesday's New Hampshire primary.

With 85 per cent of the vote for vice president tabulated, Agnew received 38,272 write-in votes compared to 6,822 write-in ballots for Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass. Brooke, with a halfhearted write-in campaign working in his behalf but against his wishes, received 12 per cent of the vote.

The only name to appear on the GOP vice presidential ballot was that of Austin Burton of New York City, who also goes by the name Chief Burning Wood. He received 1,412 ballots, or 17 per cent of the vote.

French executive kidnaped

PARIS (UPI)—An extreme left-wing group said today it has kidnaped Renault auto executive Robert Nogrette, 65, and demanded for his release that authorities release leftist demonstrators and reinstate laid off Renault workers.

The kidnap was in retaliation for the shooting death of Maoist sympathizer Rene-Claude Overney, who died in a clash with Renault auto works guards last Feb. 26.

Nogrette is in charge of labor union relations for the auto company.

In a communique, the secret left-wing organization said Nogrette "was arrested early this morning by the New People's Resistance" organization.

"We represent the will of the People against the law of assassins," the communique said. "We represent the will of the people's justice in the face of those who want terror to reign in the largest factory of France."

Nixon wins

RANDOLPH, Vt. (UPI)—President Nixon scored an easy victory Tuesday over more than a dozen opponents, Republicans and Democrats alike, in an unusual election believed to be the nation's only community-level presidential primary.

There were 772 votes cast in this conservative Republican town of 3,882. Nixon drew the most—407. His closest rival was his liberal GOP challenger, Rep. Paul N. McCloskey of California, who was second with 109.

Gem Senate confirms McCollum

BOISE (UPI)—Appointment of Joseph McCollum, Twin Falls, to the Idaho Board of Education, was confirmed today by the Idaho Senate.

McCollum's appointment by Gov. Cecil D. Andrus had been announced earlier. Also confirmed today by the senate were the appointments of Janet S. Hay, Caldwell, to the board of education, and of Marcus Ware, Lewiston, to the State Historical Society.

McCollum has been serving as chairman of the board of education.

Demos' race tightens

MANCHESTER, N.H. (UPI)—Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, a tarnished frontrunner, and Sen. George B. McGovern, a rejuvenated challenger, were locked in a close race today for New Hampshire's 20 delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

Muskie, a well-known neighbor from Maine, claimed his "third victory in a row" by winning the New Hampshire presidential primary—but he fell slightly short of a majority in what was anticipated as a big win destined to propel him to the Democratic presidential nomination.

McGovern, the South Dakota senator who began his active campaign more than a year ago and spent much more time in New Hampshire than Muskie, exceeded by a wide margin his expectations of 25 per cent of the vote. It was the kind of effort he wanted to spur his campaign in succeeding primaries.

Muskie's role as the front-running candidate was placed in even graver doubt in the balloting for New Hampshire's 20 delegates to the Democratic convention. With fewer than half the precincts reporting, Muskie and McGovern each had 10 delegates, the final results may not be known for days.

Commenting at a news conference today on McGovern's showing, Muskie said, "Sen. McGovern made a good showing here and I should think that would be helpful to him."

However, Muskie said he never tried for a "maximum showing" in New Hampshire. "We did the best we could with what we had and we won," said the Maine senator.

"We didn't have the time or the resources to make a maximum showing. I've got to win in the other primaries or at least make a consistent showing, so of what relevance is the percentage to me?" Muskie said.

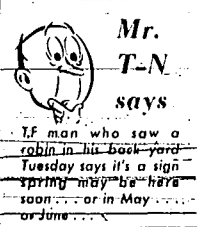

The east of candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination now moves south to Florida where four major entrants who by-passed the New Hampshire primary waited to challenge Muskie and McGovern.

The Democratic primary ballot showed, with 90 per cent of the precincts counted: Muskie 38,689 votes and 48 per cent of the vote; McGovern 30,022 votes and 37 per cent;

Mayor Sam Vorty of Los Angeles 4,777 votes and 6 per cent; Sen. Vance Hartke of Indiana 2,236 votes and 3 per cent; Rep. Wilbur Mills of Arkansas 3,393 votes and 4 per cent; and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts 741 votes and 1 per cent.

The Republican ballot, with 90 per cent of the precincts counted, showed President Richard M. Nixon with 72,875 votes.

NH primary future doubtful

MANCHESTER, N.H. (UPI)—There will be another New Hampshire presidential primary four years from now, but whether the contest draws candidates and publicity equal to this year is questionable.

The dividends in New Hampshire—30 convention delegates for the Democrats and 14 for the Republicans this year—traditionally have been only an excuse for the presidential hopefuls involved. The real prize was the national notice that flowed from the first test of voter sentiment each election year.

But this year several major Democratic candidates—notably Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York and Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington—ignored the New Hampshire balloting, even though the running drew a crowded field of five other Democrats and three Republicans.

The reason Humphrey, Jackson, Lindsay and others eschewed New Hampshire was in part that Florida now has an early primary—with considerably more delegate votes and outright voters—one week after New Hampshire.

An added reason, of course, was that some candidates conceded the New Hampshire contest to the man from the neighboring state, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine.

But there was speculation that in years to come the Florida contest might increase the spotlight from New Hampshire as an early and significant indicator of election year feeling. There are more people in Florida, the weather is better and media-oriented campaigns there may be more successful.

One traditional comment about New Hampshire and its voters is that the state represents a cross-section of the population and, therefore, theoretically, should reflect the mood of the nation. It doesn't necessarily work that way, however.

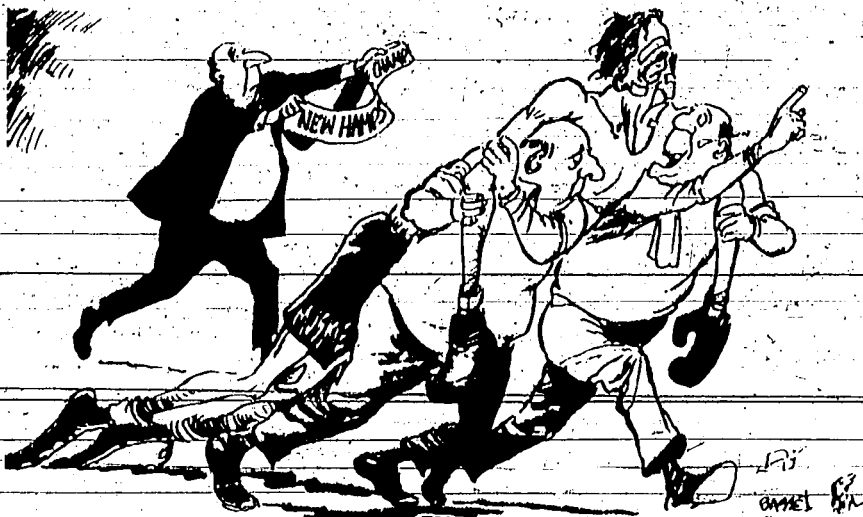

Although it is the home of Dartmouth College and its rich Ivy League tradition, plus a number of other colleges, the state is still largely rural, white in population, bound by tradition and with apparently little feel for some major issues of the day, notably race relations.

On the other hand, Florida perhaps more accurately represents the nation. It has a highly mobile society and is not nearly as "anchored-in-the-past" as many sections of New Hampshire.

Economically, each state has its rural element and is tourist oriented. However, while New Hampshire concentrates on small businesses for much of its livelihood, Florida has more sophisticated industries fueling its economy—not to mention a more lucrative tourist trade.

But, tradition, economics and everything else aside, the major issue in 1976 is likely to be the delegate count, and Florida with its larger population—and a delegate total five times the New Hampshire count this year—quite likely could wind up pilfering the "first-in-the-nation" headlines.

Anwar Sadat searches for Arab support in Israel confrontation

By United Press International Egyptian President Anwar Sadat flew today to Jeddah for talks with Saudi Arabian King Faisal in a search for more Arab support for any confrontation with Israel, the Middle East News Agency reported from the Saudi Arabian capital.

He will go from Saudi Arabia to Kuwait, another immensely rich oil nation, and then return to Cairo Friday to prepare for a meeting March 12 with the heads of state of Libya and Syria, partners with Egypt in the Federation of Arab Republics.

The semi-official Cairo newspaper, Al-Ahram, said Sadat hoped to "increase the effectiveness of joint Arab action" against Israel.

The Middle East News Agency also reported a speech Tuesday by Egyptian Prime Minister Aziz Sidki who told an audience in upper Egypt that Arab troops "are now ready and have the means to undertake the role that will ensure victory. There was no elaboration."

In Tel Aviv, Lt. Gen. Haimi

Bar-Lev, the former Israeli chief of staff, told the Labor party magazine Ot today that Egypt does not possess the weapons to launch a "significant attack" on Israel's major cities.

Bar-Lev said Egypt does not possess ground-to-ground missiles capable of reaching Israel's main cities from the present Egyptian positions on the banks of the Suez Canal and that Egypt would need intercontinental missiles to do so.

"The prospects of intercepting such a thing, when it comes in a not too concentrated form, are rather good," he said. "But what will prevent them using such a thing is the knowledge that if they do, we are fully capable of finishing them off."

In Beirut the weekly magazine Al-Sayyid reported today that Romania is secretly providing Israel with spare parts and ammunition for tanks captured from the Arabs during the 1967 war and said the agreement to do so was reached by a Romanian military delegation which recently visited Israel secretly.

U.S. attacks Viet anti-aircraft site

SAIGON (UPI) — American fighter-bombers attacked a North Vietnamese anti-aircraft site 20 miles north of the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) Tuesday and eight-engine B52s resumed bombing in South Vietnam, ending a three-day lull.

The U.S. Command said Tuesday's "protective reaction" strike marked the seventh straight day such raids have been conducted. It was the 87th such strike so far this year—more than were flown in 1969 and 1970.

Following a policy announced Monday, the command refused to say how many planes participated in the strike on grounds the information could help the Communists prepare a counter-attack.

A military spokesman said the strike was carried out by F4 Phantoms flying escort for an unarmed RF-4 reconnaissance plane after Communist gunners opened fire on the unarmed aircraft.

The spokesman said no American aircraft were damaged and the results of the strike were not known.

The B52s, which operate out of Takhli and Guam, flew 10 missions against suspected Communist base camps below the DMZ, which separates North and South Vietnam. Six of the attacks were in the area of the abandoned U.S. base at Khe Sanh, three were in the vicinity of the A Shau Valley and one was northwest of Hanoi in the Central Highlands.

The raids marked a renewal of the American air offensive, which has been steadily increasing despite the pullout of American ground troops.

The number of B52s in Indochina was doubled in recent months with 45 of the big planes being sent to Guam. There were already 45 stationed in Thailand.

The number of fighter-bombers available for duty in Vietnam has also increased with the addition of at least one aircraft carrier on station in the Gulf of Tonkin. There are now normally two or three carriers in the Gulf and each carrier has about 50 fighter-bombers aboard.

Fifty additional Air Force F4s have also been sent to Vietnam and Thailand.

Fighter-bombers made 75 "protective reaction" strikes in North Vietnam in 1969, only 21 in 1970 and 108 in 1971.

Indians meet aides

GORDON, Neb. (UPI) — Some 600 Indians succeeded early today in obtaining a meeting with government officials in their quest for a federal investigation into the death of a 51-year-old Indian here last month.

The Indians drove into Gordon Tuesday from the Pine Ridge, S.D., Reservation and vowed to "stay-until-we-get what we want."

Sheridan County Attorney Michael Smith said today a meeting had been scheduled between federal authorities and the Indians for 1:00 p.m. EST.

Immediately after the agreement to talk with federal authorities, the Indians went into a closed religious ritual, including smoking of the peace pipe, and praying for bodily and mental strength for today's meeting.

Smith said he would "cooperate fully with a federal grand jury investigation or any other kind of investigation they want."

Officials of the American Indian Movement, controlling the gathering of Indians here, have demanded a full-scale Justice Department investigation into the circumstances surrounding the death of Raymond Yellow Thunder, an Ogalaia Sioux.

McCloskey cheered by NH showing

CONCORD, N.H. (UPI) — Rep. Paul N. McCloskey, R-Calif., cheered by what he considers a "strong showing" in the New Hampshire primary, indicated today he will continue his challenge to President Nixon in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Oregon.

those primaries," said George Murphy, McCloskey's press secretary.

"How credible a campaign we can put on, however, will depend on whether we can raise some money," he said. "We leave New Hampshire $40,000 in debt."

With 87 per cent of the precincts counted, including an estimated 98 per cent of the total ballots, McCloskey had polled exactly 20 per cent of the vote.

In a midnight speech to 300 supporters, McCloskey sounded like he — not Nixon — won the majority of votes in the primary.

"Where we go from here is down to Massachusetts," he said. "And after that we're going to have to get used to commuting between Portland, Ore., and Providence, R.I."

Peace talks off again

PARIS (UPI) — The Vietnam peace talks, which have seen only 17 minutes of negotiation in the past month, were postponed for the second consecutive week Tuesday by the U.S. and South Vietnamese delegations.

A joint statement said Thursday's session will be postponed until March 18 because of the walkout staged by the Communist delegations at the last session Feb. 24 and "recent official announcements from Hanoi."

The Viet Cong and Hanoi delegations called the boycott absurd and said it demonstrated the hypocrisy of President Nixon. They said they would announce later whether they would go along with the March 16 date.

An Instance Of Political Hokery

WASHINGTON — Those amnesty propaganda hearings being dexterously stage-managed by Sen. Edward Kennedy are a straight-out instance of political hokery. They are part of his covert strategy of running for President while earnestly disclaiming doing so, of busy campaigning and grand-standing while all the time instantly denying he is a candidate.

Clearcut evidence of this is the indisputable fact that nothing of any consequence will come out of these fanfare hearings.

There will be no legislation or anything else of any real moment regarding amnesty. There isn't the remotest likelihood Congress will do anything about this intensely controversial issue this session.

It's possible the Judiciary subcommittee headed by Kennedy may produce some kind of a report advocating amnesty for draft dodgers, deserters and defectors. The eight-member panel is heavily weighted with liberal Democratic doves — 5 — to two Republicans, Strom Thurmond, S. C., and Edward Gurney, Jr., A third Republican, Charles Mathias, Md., has indicated no position so far.

But at the most, that's all likely to result from these astutely timed and manipulated proceedings.

Any attempt by Kennedy to highball action out of the full Judiciary Committee is certain to be promptly and decisively squelched. The bipartisan leadership of the 16-member panel is all set to take care of that — Chairman James Eastland, D-Miss., and Ranking Republican Sen. Roman Hruska, Neb.

They definitely have the votes to do the job, and would have no qualms in cracking down.

The situation in the House is even more unfavorable.

Neither the Judiciary Committee, headed by Rep. Emanuel Celler, 84-year-old New York Democrat, nor the Armed Services Committee, headed by Rep. E. Edward Hebert, D-New Orleans, tough-minded onetime newsman, has any intention of considering amnesty legislation this year.

Hebert is sternly against granting amnesty at any time. Celler is too busy pondering student busing to give a serious thought to anything else.

Meanwhile, Kennedy, who is clangorously against meddling in Vietnam but ardently for U. S. intervention in North Ireland, is contentedly garnering headlines far and wide from the amnesty hearings. That was his real purpose in engineering them, and he is succeeding nicely.

There is nothing to those reports that Rep. Robert Drinan, D-Mass., first Catholic priest to be elected to Congress, is quitting at the end of this session.

Far from it.

The militant liberal dove is not only running for reelection, but under the state's reapportionment, his prospects appear improved.

Putting a quietus on word that he had decided to give up his Congressional seat, Drinan has resigned as dean of Boston College Law School. He held this job for a number of years, and nominally took leave of absence when he ran for Congress in 1970.

But apparently, the Jesuit priest enjoys drawing $42,500 a year as a legislator with another $300,000 in office and other expenses and perquisites. So he has decided to make a career of politics — as long as it lasts.

His chances to do so for two more years look promising. In 1970, he upset a 20-year Congressional veteran by a narrow margin. But now, as a result of a favorable redistricting, Drinan's likelihood of winning a second term are rated better than two years ago.

Thumb Sucking

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would you discuss breaking children of sucking their thumbs? Our granddaughter is 5 and still does so even though her parents have tried everything to break her of it. She does this only when she is quiet or goes to bed at night. — S.R.M.

The sucking instinct, to begin with, is entirely normal, and as soon as an infant discovers toes and fingers, the thumb is a handy thing to poke into the mouth. So a moderate amount of thumb-sucking isn't anything to get too upset about.

By age 3 it usually fades automatically. When it persists, one must consider the possibility of some emotional factor. After all, since it isn't a physical matter, it has to do with emotional needs.

If this youngster seeks solace in the thumb only at night or when resting, I doubt the problem is an extreme one, and I'd still give nature a chance to solve it.

One thing I would NOT do: make an issue of it. Trying to force a child that age to stop is likely to do more harm than good. Look at it from the youngster's point of view. He (she in this case) finds the thumb comforting, and can't see any point in being made to change a habit that makes him feel happier.

Of course, some dentists believe that if the habit continues by the time second teeth appear, it can force teeth out of alignment, but my own feeling is that it would take an awful lot of concentrated thumb-sucking to make much difference. Occasional thumbing isn't likely to.

Therefore, at this stage of the game, I would stop making a fuss about the thumb. Or trying to break the habit by exerting pressure of any kind. I would quietly watch to see whether you can detect any pressures under which the child is living — too much demand for performance at too early an age, or some worry or conflict in the household, something of that sort. Without any attention being drawn to the thumb, you may find the youngster will gradually give it up.

You might keep in mind that adults have their various substitutes for the thumb — outlets for the original sucking instinct, if you please. Technically it's the "oral urge," the psychologists say. Anyway, smoking, sometimes eating, nail-biting and such habits are just a variant, and the person derives some sort of comfort. Same idea with a youngster's thumb.

History Footnote

WASHINGTON — Perhaps we should allot Martin Kelley of Dorchester, Mass., a passing footnote in history. He has told a truth most of us seek to keep locked in the attic closet of our minds.

Testifying at a Senate Judiciary subcommittee hearing on proposals to grant amnesty to Vietnam War draft dodgers, Kelley cut his way through the jungle of political rhetoric. That war, he said, is "as moral a war as any this country has been engaged in."

Kelley, a World War II infantryman whose son was killed in Vietnam in 1968, was right of course. Since men first took up arms against their brothers, war has been an exercise in morality only in the expedient minds of the ruling powers. Some wars may be just; Hitler gave free men no alternative to the battlefield. But none of them is moral. There is nothing relative about murder, even when committed en masse as a national policy.

Thus, while it may be accurate to describe the Vietnam War as unpopular — at least in convenient retrospect — morality is not an issue. What is at issue is the question of equal rights in wartime. In effect, Sen. Teddy Kennedy and other professional doves who favor unconditional amnesty are asking that the Republic discriminate against the young man who obeyed the law of the land and fought in Vietnam in favor of the youth who fled the country, on whatever grounds.

Hasten to Kennedy on a recent TV show: "Well, I favor amnesty, and I don't believe we ought to get conditions for people to receive amnesty." It was these young people who left the country that were right about the war, and why they ought to be additionally penalized for their deep-seated feelings or beliefs is something I don't understand.

Aside from the historic fact that nobody has elected Kennedy a one-man Supreme Court on moral rights and wrongs, he just plain doesn't know what he's talking about. If his argument is tenable, then he is making a case for the American Nazis who claimed it was wrong to fight Hitler and, in some cases, went to jail for their sincere beliefs. He is saying that if we ever fight another war, any man may safely sit it out on the grounds he has decided the President and Congress were wrong to get us into it.

I'm afraid I have more respect for the views of David Harris, former husband of folk singer Joan Baez. Harris opposed the war but he didn't blow the country — he served a year in jail for flouting the draft. It is merely ridiculous that Harris now says he "wouldn't take a pardon but would take an apology," although there is something to be said for a man who continues to "stick to his guns" — he should pardon the expression.

At any rate, Harris stands apart from those draft dodgers who, in Martin Kelley's words, "crawled into Canada or Sweden or any place else they could pull their holes in after them." They did not stick to their guns. They fled the country when the heat was on and seek to return without penalty now that vote-seeking politicians have decided they "were right about the war."

Another mouthful of twaddle is the historian, Henry Steele Commager, who has let his famed scholarship go to his egghead. Noting that the word "amnesty" means forgetfulness or oblivion, Commager questioned that there could be conditional amnesty of the sort proposed by Sen. Robert Taft, R-Ohio, who wants draft evaders to work out their penalty in civilian service for two or three years.

For Socrates' sake, Commager, come off it. Kennedy's position might be understandable; he's always running for some ruddy office. But you, sir, are supposed to be one of the bright ones. If you like, I'm sure Taft would substitute another word for "amnesty," but a historian should be capable of something better than an exercise in semantics when discussing the subject of how to deal with lawbreakers.

ROWLAND EVANS

In Florida

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — The Democratic Presidential primary campaign here, a snake-pit of lethargy, has now been transformed into a bruising battle between Gov. Reubin Askew, a church-going teetotaler with steel in his spine who had hoped to avoid any entanglement in the primary, and Gov. George Wallace of Alabama, who is far ahead of his opponents in the March 14 primary election.

Askew's bold decision to stake his prestige on smothering the burning school busing issue has both angered and dismayed some of his political allies here in the state capital.

"His approval rating was 80 per cent in December," one Askew ally told us forlornly. "Now he's risking it all, trying to stop the wind."

The "wind" is a straw-vote question forced onto the March 14 ballot over Askew's objections asking voters to vote for or against a Constitutional amendment banning "forced busing."

With Wallace's seemingly invulnerable lead in the Presidential primary resting largely on his own anti-busing rhetoric, Askew is now trying to raise $50,000 for a one-week saturation television campaign with an admittedly modest goal: reduce the huge anti-busing straw-vote to less than a 3-1 majority.

At a private meeting with supporters in Miami Friday, he got pledges for $15,000 from such diverse sources as the AFL-CIO steelworkers, the Urban League, a Northern financier, and a Tallahassee bank president.

Askew, chosen to keynote the Democratic National Convention in Miami Beach next July, will also try for an off-sitting 2-1 vote in favor of a second straw-vote question he insisted be placed on the March 14 ballot — whether voters favor "an equal opportunity for quality education for all children ... and oppose a return to a dual (segregated) system of public schools."

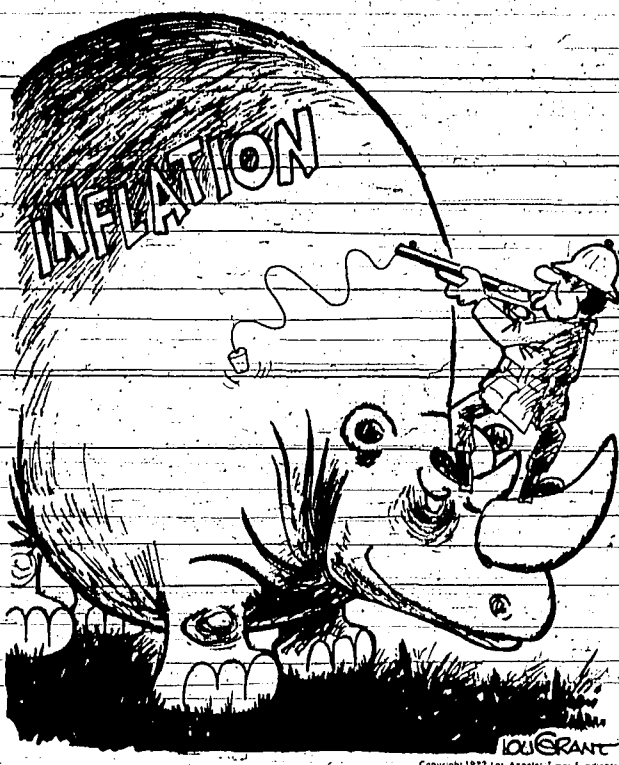

But his prospect for anything like that result is dubious indeed.

In fact, by insisting on placing that second question on the ballot, Askew ran a grave risk. If he cannot get a majority to vote yes on "equal opportunity," black parents will perceive the vote as evidence that the white majority never really has accepted the painful adjustment to equality in the public schools.

Moreover, Askew's decision to meet the busing issue — and the Wallace Presidential campaign here — head-on is certain to galvanize anti-busing forces.

The expected primary vote of about one million will now probably be swelled an additional 100,000 or more by the drama of the governor's television campaign in the blazing busing battle.

Work-Relief

At a recent Kiwanis Club meeting in Twin Falls a regional Health, Education and Welfare official was questioned closely as to plans for having welfare people work if at all possible. Now we have a report from California that a one-year test along this line is about to begin. It will test the concept of registering relief recipients for public service jobs. This was one field Kiwanis members suggested.

Under the modified plan, 30,000 jobs will be provided for able-bodied persons on relief. They will consist of activities like monitoring schoolyards, park maintenance and crosswalk supervision. Relief recipients who refuse to register for work totaling 80 hours a month — or job training — will be dropped.

Those who will be required to register for the program represent about four per cent of the individuals on California's families with dependent children program. The sampling should be sufficient to give the work-program a fair test.

Air Piracy

Air piracy for profit is a relatively new wing of the hijacking game, but one which could quickly grow out of bounds if various governments continue to cooperate. The basic plan is simple. Hijack an expensive airliner filled with people, take it to a friendly country and demand a handsome ransom for its return. It is a centuries-old formula. Sea-going pirates of old practiced it profitably — until they became such a nuisance even their friends turned on them. The infamous Capt. Robert Kidd hardly imagined when he sought sanctuary in New York he would be turned over to London authorities and promptly executed. Blackbeard's arrangement with the colonial governor of North Carolina to split the contraband ended when the governor of Virginia organized a party to capture the pirates and shoot their leader.

There are more civilized ways of handling air pirates, but they still depend upon the cooperation of governments. The Arab pirates who hijacked a Lufthansa Boeing 747 succeeded in forcing West Germany to provide $5 million and amnesty only because Aden, where the plane was taken, provided sanctuary.

That successful piracy may be followed by others, as long as the Adens look the other way. It is toward the sanctuaries that the law-abiding countries must direct their fire if the modern Blackbeards and Kidds are to be put out of business permanently.

Restless Seas

As if to remind the populace of the old adage about water, water everywhere, but not a drop to drink, the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey finds that the oceans are still closing in on great land masses. In 30 years, the waters surrounding much of the United States have risen as much as 10 inches. This may not sound great in terms of perpendicular rise, but horizontally it means that a large parcel of land which once was habitable is now under water.

The greatest rise was recorded in the Gulf of Mexico, the smallest along the Pacific Coast.

Earthquakes, floods and tornadoes are not nature's only means of changing the world, although they are sudden and dramatic. Constant movements of the earth, unmeasurable by the human eye, produce the same effects over a period of time.

Some land masses have a tendency to grow over the years. The explanation lies in movements which bring the Earth out of the ocean.

Melting glaciers in the Arctic region are responsible for the increasing oceans. Climatic changes are largely responsible for the rise in ocean waters.

Someday the oceans will be among man's greatest material assets. At present they are little more than a means to an end, and frequently a destructive force to harass and annoy.

MR. SPECTATOR

Youth Revolt

Disabuse yourself of any idea, or hope, that the youth rebellion is one of those things that will have its day and pass away.

Mr. Spectator didn't.

The subculture which has been characterized by a "new morality," drug use, rock music and social revolt is evidence of nothing less than a new state in human evolution.

Today's note from the newsroom oracle asks a question. If, he asks, a "single" fly can have more than a thousand offspring, what could we expect of a "married" fly?

That's the contention of author Robert Hunter, in a new book "The Storming Of The Mind."

Dear Mr Spectator: They go to Boise all happy and gay, and the first thing they think about is how to raise their pay. Then they sit down trying to think and get in a jam trying to think up more laws that ain't worth a toot.

The children of the age of "future shock" have adapted through "psycho-revolution," he says, to a point that has widened the generation gap until it is now "as great as the gap between homo sapiens and Neanderthal man."

Then one guy pipes up and says to relax, we will slap on another stiff tax. So they add more tax so they will have plenty, while the suckers who voted for them run around with pockets empty.

This may seem like a slight exaggeration, until we recall that Neanderthal man, as much as we know about him, was a shaggy, hairy, ill-dressed, brutish-looking character who probably indulged in strange nature rites and who had few of the graces we associate with civilization — and then look around at some of the representatives of this alleged new stage in human evolution.

TF library aides vote for funds

BY RUTH MILLER
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls Library trustees voted Tuesday to request $500 from an endowment fund to operate its migrant program again this summer.

The library will ask the $500 in matching funds from the Bohrer Grant administered through the Idaho State Library.

The board also authorized drawing $10,000 from its funds to invest in 90-day certificates at local banks.

The Civitan Club and the Junior Club, which recently contributed labor and supplies to the library, will be honored at a reception. The date of the event will be set after conferring with officers of the two clubs.

Librarian Arlan Call asked the trustees to consider installing washable fabric on two "problem pillars" in the library. Rather than painting them, Call said cost of the installation would be about $120 but overall saving in paint would make the cost seem less prohibitive.

Trustees also considered painting the front foyer and directed Call to gather more information and cost about the painting and washable fabric before a decision is reached.

Call was authorized to explore the possibility of the Twin Falls Library participating in the surplus property disposal program to purchase supplies for the library.

Orofino hospital director quits

BOISE (UPI) — The superintendent of State Hospital North at Orofino resigned Tuesday and one official said a factor was the uncertainty of the funding situation at the facility.

Dr. William Van Duyn resigned effective April 5th. Acting director of the Idaho Mental Health Program, Jack Steneck, said he was of the opinion that the "uncertainty of the hospital with funding, the rumors of its closure and reduction of 170 to 60 patients" made the superintendent feel there "wasn't much of a future in sticking around."

Van Duyn made his decision "over the weekend," Steneck said, and did not have any plans for the immediate future.

Man's body found

CALDWELL (UPI) — The body of a 22-year-old man who drowned Jan. 2 while duck hunting with his father was found Tuesday by a Caldwell trapper on the Snake River.

Canyon County Sheriff Dale G. Halle said Lynn Hanson was trapping along the river between Homedale and Marsing when he found the body identified as Richard Logsdon. He was with his father, Verne Logsdon, Boise, when the accident occurred more than two months ago.

Halle said the young man had waded into the water to retrieve a duck when the swift-running current caught him up.

Sheriff's deputies helped recover the body which was taken to a Caldwell Funeral Home.

BOISE (UPI) — The Republican National Finance Committee asked the wrong man when it appealed to State Auditor Joe R. Williams for a contribution.

Williams, who described himself as a "third generation Democrat," has been elected state auditor since 1958 on the Democratic ticket.

Chubbuck votes revenue bond

CHUBBUCK (UPI) — Chubbuck voters Tuesday passed a $1 million revenue bond issued to construct a municipal sanitary system.

A total of 601 voters cast ballots in the election, 561 yes and 130 no. City Attorney Joseph Wise said the issue passed with an 81 per cent favorable vote.

The money will be matched with $1,175,000 in federal and state funds for construction of a city-wide sanitary sewer collection system in Chubbuck. The project will include three lift stations and will terminate at the Pocatello Sewage Treatment Plant. Mayor John Cotant said engineering studies should be completed in a few months with bids to be let after that time. Construction is slated to begin this summer.

Chubbuck was informed last year if no sewer system was built, development would be restricted to one family per acre. Currently, all Chubbuck sewage empties into septic tanks and cesspools.

Burn sites approved

BOISE (UPI) — Two sites have been approved for the burning of junked autos in the Pocatello area, according to Al Elguren, Idaho Air Pollution Control Commission director.

Elguren said Tuesday controlled dumping and burning on a limited basis will be allowed at Henry's Scrap Metals and McCarty's, Inc., until the end of this year or until an economically feasible alternative is developed.

Hydroponics is the science of raising crops without soil. The plants are supplied with water which contains minerals and other plant foods.

TF woman injured

TWIN FALLS — A 21-year-old Twin Falls woman received minor injuries Tuesday in a motorcycle accident.

Mary Elizabeth Dauven was riding east on Filer Avenue East when she was hit by an automobile driven by Dora Carolyn Wilks, Twin Falls. The Wilks vehicle was attempting to pull out of Lynwood shopping center onto Filer Avenue East.

Mrs. Wilks was cited with failure to yield right of way.

Court appeal ruling changes Idaho law

TWIN FALLS — Ruling by the Idaho Supreme Court on an appeal of a Fifth District Court damage suit verdict changed Idaho law regarding wrongful death of minors.

Supreme Court Justice Allan G. Shepherd issued the unanimous opinion of the high court which in part upheld a ruling of Fifth District Judge Theron W. Ward, and in part reversed it.

which pulled onto the road in front of the Smith truck. Young Melson died of injuries shortly after the accident.

A jury awarded the Melsons $71,335 in damages and Judge Ward revised the verdict to $39,335. To determine the figure, he followed the results of the Checketts vs. Borman case which had established $20,000 as an allowable figure for the death of a minor child.

BARABBAS

Whether he was a murderer as suggested by St. Mark and St. Luke or a robber designated by St. John, Barabbas deserved to be in prison. Matthew called him a "notable prisoner" and most historians feel that Barabbas was a member of the Zealots—but for the overthrow of Rome.

Barabbas gained sudden freedom by being the popular choice of the crowd before Pilate. He offered to free Jesus or Barabbas and the mob screamed for the guerrilla leader.

Many popular legends followed Barabbas. One is that he was arrested and executed in a final plot against Roman authority. Another—and more popular—is that he became a Christian and ultimately was martyred in Rome.

Troops duel with snipers

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—British troops dueling with snipers in Belfast and Londonderry during the night and several bomb explosions hit the commercial section of Londonderry today. No casualties were reported in the bombing.

A British army spokesman said one soldier in Londonderry suffered a hand wound, but he reported troops said they believed they shot two snipers. Another sniper fired at shots at troops patrolling the city wall in Londonderry but the troops held their fire. In the town of Limnawady, stores and businesses closed for half a day in mourning for the funeral of Marcus McCausland, found hooded and shot three times through the head on a country road near Londonderry last weekend.

Irish Republican Army (IRA) officials said McCausland, a former captain in the Ulster Defense Regiment, was executed because he tried to gather information on the outlawed organization.

US witness questioned

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI)—The man with the pudgy, smooth face, mod red-striped bow tie over a light blue shirt, and a swatch of smooth dark hair, standing down across his forehead, faced his questioner calmly.

"I knew after several months," said Boyd Douglas, "that Philip Berrigan was highly looked upon by members of the Catholic inner circle, and to my knowledge anything he said would be carried out in due course."

He was talking about his months in prison with the radical priest in 1970 and about a circle of antiwar activists of the Roman Catholic left, five of whom are charged with Father Berrigan of plotting to kidnap presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger and blow up Washington utility tunnels.

Douglas had just testified that in addition to talking about blowing up the steam-heat ducts, Berrigan had "mentioned about putting an explosive device inside the computer system of the Pentagon."

The Pentagon project, however, "had been looked at, and ruled out at that time" in the summer of 1970, Douglas said.

Douglas, former forger, impersonator, two-time convict, and confessor began his first day of cross-examination Tuesday in the federal-court trial of the Harrisburg Seven.

Berrigan and the five other present for former clerics have as a co-defendant a Muslim Pakistani scholar who has been teaching in the United States as a resident alien. All are charged additionally with conspiring to vandalize draft boards to publicize their cause.

Berrigan's jaw dropped when the government's star witness, Douglas, came out with the Pentagon sabotage accusation under questioning by defense attorney Ramsey Clark. Berrigan might have been startled at the boldness of the utterance, but he couldn't have been too surprised.

Douglas had made the same accusation before the grand jury that indicted the seven, and the defense has a copy of the testimony.

Clark had opened up the subject in trying to show that in conversation with Berrigan, Douglas had mentioned explosives before any "Washington projects" were discussed, and had implanted the blowing up of government property in Berrigan's mind — perhaps urged on by the FBI, for whom Douglas was an informant.

Nixon hopes for rocket agreement with Soviets

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon hopes to announce a first agreement with the Soviet Union on limiting strategic rockets when he visits Moscow at the end of May or early May with a first administration officials said Tuesday.

The officials said the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT) with the Russians could produce an agreement limiting anti-ballistic missile systems and setting an interim limitation on long range, offensive rockets if they continue talks.

The talks, now in recess, are expected to resume in Helsinki March 28 and conclude in April or early May with a first agreement to be signed in Moscow.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers told newsmen the administration hoped that the negotiations "will result in an agreement on offensive and defensive weapons this year."

The negotiations have been in progress since November, 1969. Rogers made the comments Tuesday in presenting his 604-page report on U.S. foreign policy.

He said that two major issues remained to be negotiated with the Russians: "The specific areas in which ABM (Anti-Ballistic Missile) launchers may be deployed and their precise numbers and the specific coverage of the interim offensive agreement."

Potential Davis jurors queried

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI)—Defense attorneys hinted Angela Davis might not take the witness stand and played a game of role-reversal with a prospective juror and anti-Communist Tuesday at her murder-kidnap-conspiracy trial.

Chief defense attorney Howard Moore Jr. questioned building contractor Howard P. Atkinson on how he'd feel if Miss Davis didn't testify during the trial.

"What would be the effect of her not taking the stand on your opinion of her guilt or innocence?" asked Moore.

"I don't think it would affect it," Atkinson answered.

It was the first indication that Miss Davis might not testify at the trial, where six potential jurors, three men and three women, were tentatively seated by the end of Tuesday's session. Questioning resumes today.

Miss Davis, an avowed Communist and former philosophy instructor at UCLA, is co-counsel in the case, where she is charged with supplying the guns used in the 1970 Marin County shootings.

FDA drops plans to prosecute 18

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Blaming a snafu in which lives needed for court evidence were lost, the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) quietly has abandoned efforts to prosecute 18 farmers for shipping cattle or sheep containing residues of a cancer-causing feed additive, it was learned today.

In addition, a second FDA program to keep the additive out of meat carcasses so far has resulted in a higher, rather than lower, rate of residues.

Despite the apparent failure of both programs so far, FDA officials said today they were still not ready to ban the additive, as have 21 other nations.

The additive, an artificial hormone called diethylstilbestrol (DES), is mixed into the feed of about 80 per cent of U.S. cattle and a lesser percentage of sheep.

Its purpose is growth promotion.

FDA Commissioner Charles C. Edwards told a House subcommittee Nov. 11 that DES brings a 500-pound steer to marketable weight of 1,050 pounds 31 days sooner, and with 511 pounds less feed, than without the additive.

Veterans hear Nixon's ideas

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon told the Veterans of Foreign Wars Tuesday night his journey to China was necessary to improve chances for peace in the Pacific and the world.

Nixon said the prospects for peace between China and the United States were "infinitely better" because of his trip.

"If they do not communicate, the chances of our having peace in the world and peace in the Pacific are very dim," Nixon told the veterans organization's mid-winter conference. "That is why the trip was necessary."

The administration's emphasis on negotiation does not mean the United States will withdraw from the rest of the world, Nixon said. He said the United States should use its strength at the conference table "so the world may be one in which people of different philosophies can live together and not die together."

The President presented the VFW's 9th annual congressional award to Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa. Morgan drew applause and cheers by urging that the United States remember its prisoners of war in Indochina and by criticizing those who fled the country to avoid the draft.

Name change asked

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Florida's Senate Interior Committee today urged that people in their state want the geographic name "Cape Kennedy" changed back to Cape Canaveral.

Chairman Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., called a one-day hearing on the proposal in 1970 but it died in his committee. Jackson, now a candidate for president, called for new testimony six days before the Florida primary.

Bills introduced in the House and Senate in the 100th Congress would not affect the name "John F. Kennedy Space Center" given the NASA facility in 1963 a week after the President's death.

Former President Johnson named the space center by executive order and, according to Florida witnesses, "suggested" that the Board of Geographic Names rename the cape as well.

Gooding leads six area teams into state cage tournaments

The Gooding Senators, pointing toward their second straight A-2 state basketball championship, lead six Magic Valley teams into the first round of state elimination.

Gooding, fourth district A-2 champions and packing a 30-game winning streak, and Buhl will be the best teams in the first state tournament ever conducted in the new College of Southern Idaho gymnasium Thursday through Saturday. Meanwhile, Glenns Ferry helps lift the curtain in the A-3 event at the Boise State gymnasium and Camas County and Hagerman are in opposite brackets in the A-4 tournament at Lewiston. Minico, rated probably the team to watch, opened the Magic Valley contingent's attack Wednesday afternoon at the ISU minitome in the A-1 eliminations.

Shelley has a win over powerful Burley to its credit and in the "common opponent" column has a three-overtime, one-point victory over Buhl. Gooding defeated Buhl four times this year, twice in the district playoffs.

Gooding will have a height advantage over most of its opponents and an experience edge over everyone. Frank Krahn and Gary Correll are winding up their fourth year as starters and guard Jeff LaCroix has started three years.

Shelley has two stickout scorers in Steele and a sophomore guard, small but quick and deadly from the outside.

The upper bracket, being away from the two favorites, could be up for grabs. Wallace has to be favored over Vallivue, unless the Falcons still have the carry-over magic from last weekend. Buhl will send a tall team against Marsh Valley, which is rated as one of the better ones in the meet. The Indians have 6-7 Kendall Meier, a workhorse on the boards and scoring, and 6-4 Craig Saunders, one of the most improved players in the district from his junior year. Adding the outside punch is 6-2 guard Mark Hoops. The form sheet is listing Clark Fork as the "most likely to succeed" in the A-4 tournament. Mullan will be an unknown factor for Hagerman which has the firepower to outscore any team it runs into. Camas County's problem will be height in the big event.

Middletown, which has lost only two games all year, is rated the A-3 favorite. Glenns Ferry, with three boys in the 6-3 area under the boards and coming back well in the district after a late-season slump, will face a veteran outfit in Hornedale.

In all the state tournaments, the second day will have the upper bracket playing at 1:30 (losers) and 3 (winners) p.m. and 7:30 (losers) and 9 p.m. (winners). On Saturday, a lone game is set for the afternoon, the consolation finals at 1:30 p.m. with the two semi-final losers playing for third play at 7:30 p.m. Saturday and the championship at 9 p.m.

Filer sets annual outlaw tournament

FILER — The 12th annual Magic Valley outlaw basketball tournament will be held March 15 through 18th at the Filer high school gymnasium, reports Lee Bartlett, tournament manager. Bartlett said some openings still exist for the 16-team, single elimination tournament, which generally introduces high school seniors to the less refined method of getting rebounds and playing defense. Only teams and individuals from the geographical limits of Magic Valley will be eligible. Bartlett said a player can play for only one team during the tournament and any man having played for any college, junior college or AAU basketball team this season is not eligible.

The player limit is 10, although managers may file a roster of less than that number and add to it during the tournament. In the interest of time, due to the heavy scheduling, no one-and-one free throw situations will be allowed. Over-times will be three minutes and offensive and back court fouls will be taken out of bounds.

The tournament will open with five games Wednesday night, followed by five on Thursday and six on Friday. All three sessions starting at 6 p.m. Four games are slated for Saturday afternoon, starting at 1 p.m., with the consolation finals and championship battles set for 7 p.m. Saturday. First-round pairings will be announced early next week.

Minnesota ends 35 year title drought

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (UPI) — Minnesota, playing its five starters all year, wrapped up its first Big Ten basketball title in 35 years with a 49-48 thriller over Purdue Tuesday night.

The Gophers, who finished with an 11-3 conference mark, fell behind 5-0, but raced into a 9-7 lead and held a 26-18 halftime edge. It was 41-26 before Purdue put on a closing rally that fell one point short.

Purdue moved to within two at 49-47 with 3:13 remaining, and with 1:59 to play, Bob Ford hit one free toss but missed the tying effort to close out the scoring.

Minnesota's Jim Brewer missed a one-and-one free throw situation with 32 seconds left and Purdue got two final shots at the basket but failed to pull it out.

The Gophers were led by Brewer and Clyde Turner with 12 points each, and Dave Windfield with 10. Ford hit 24 and was the only Boltermaker in double figures.

Both teams played cautious ball but Minnesota hit 488 from the floor to 339 for Purdue to win it.

By winning, the Gophers shut out Ohio State and Michigan in the consolation game.

L.A. cops 60th win of year

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI) — The Los Angeles Lakers became only the fifth National Basketball Association franchise to win 60 games in a season Tuesday night when they rode a 15-point effort by Gail Goodrich for a 114-97 victory over the Philadelphia 76ers.

Only Boston, New York, Milwaukee and the 76ers had totaled 60 or more triumphs previously. Los Angeles still has an outside chance of bettering the 76ers all-time NBA mark of 68-13 but it would take an 8-1 finish to do it.

The Pacific Division champions put the game away early, outscoring the 76ers 18-3 during a span that covered the last four minutes of the opening quarter and the first minute of the second period.

The blitz transformed an 18-10 deficit into a 28-21 Laker advantage.

With Goodrich pumping in 13 of his points in the second quarter, the Lakers steadily built up a 55-44 halftime lead.

Big 10 to render verdict

CHICAGO (UPI) — Big Ten faculty representatives reached a tentative decision Tuesday on an appeal by suspended Minnesota basketball players Corky Taylor and Ron Bohagen, but said the decision would not be announced until Wednesday morning.

Marcus Plant, a professor at the University of Michigan and interim chairman of the faculty group, told reporters the group had finished deliberations on the appeal and was drafting a tentative decision to be announced by noon Wednesday.

Taylor and Bohagen, suspended by conference Commissioner Wayne Duke for their part in a fracas that cut short a game between Minnesota and Ohio State, filed an appeal with the faculty group after Big Ten athletic directors reaffirmed Duke's action.

The faculty representatives are the players' last resort in their attempt to be reinstated. Eight of the 10 representatives will vote on the final decision on the appeal. Representatives from Ohio State and Minnesota excluded themselves.

Kansas St. takes Big Eight title

COLUMBIA, Mo. (UPI) — A three-point play with 1:08 to play by 6-10 Steve Mitchell, who scored 19 points in a relief role, gave Kansas State the cushion it needed to win the Big Eight Conference championship Tuesday night as the Wildcats upset Missouri, 79-76, ending an 11 game winning streak by the Tigers at home.

Ahead 71-70, the Wildcats went to their delay game and Mitchell worked for a layup. He was fouled and added the free throw for a 74-70 lead.

Kansas State, which shot 70 per cent in the second half, clinched a berth in the NCAA Midwest regional and raised its record to 11-2 in the conference. Missouri, at 0-4, trails by two games with only one to play. Missouri, which trailed by nine points midway through the second half, fought back to take the lead, 70-69, on John Brown's free throw with 3:18 to go.

Nevada Reno coach resigns

RENO, Nev. (UPI) — A frustrated Jack Spencer, coach of the University of Nevada basketball team, resigned Tuesday.

Spencer's wolf pack won no West Coast Athletic Conference games in 14 tries this season and only managed two victories in 20 outings. Arrests, poor grades, and transfers took their toll this year as only four of the original 13 who tried out for the team played the last game of the season.

Green Bay end to survive gun shot

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Green Bay Packer defensive end Bob Brown, in "very good condition" despite a painful .38-caliber bullet hole in the jaw and a swollen tongue, was moved from the intensive care unit of Baptist Hospital to a private room Tuesday.

Nurses said Brown could barely make himself understood because of swelling in the tongue and throat caused by the shooting Friday night after he and a friend reportedly picked up a hitchhiker in nearby West Memphis, Ark.

"He was lucky," said hospital spokesman Maurice Elliott. "The bullet entered the right side of the neck just under the jaw and exited from the left side of the jaw."

"It drilled a hole in the jaw bone but did not shatter it. There is a very small exit hole in the left jaw."

"Doctors said the wound would not affect the athletic career of the big, seven-year veteran from Arkansas AM&M and that he would be released from the hospital within a week."

"He is in good spirits and in very good condition," said Elliott.

Brown and a friend told police they had picked up a man in West Memphis, Ark., across the Mississippi River. Brown makes his off-season home in West Memphis.

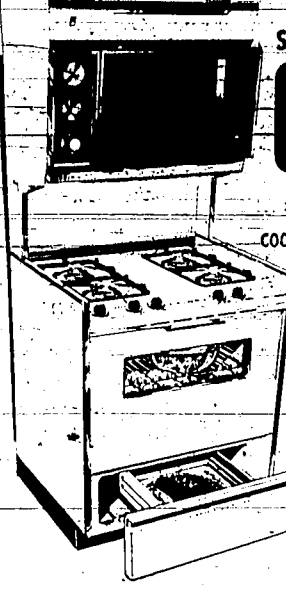

Police withheld details of the shooting but said they were holding Howard Sanders, 41, of West Memphis in the county jail at Marion, Ark. on charges of assault with intent to kill.

Texas grabs NCAA berth

WACO, Tex. (UPI) — Texas survived a near collapse in the second half Tuesday night and got key baskets from Lynn Howden and Eric Groscurth in an overtime period to whip Southern Methodist, 91-89, and win a berth in the NCAA playoffs.

SMU's Zack Thiel had a chance to win it all for the Mustangs with 13 seconds left to go in regulation play, but his free throw bounced off the rim and the game, between the champions of the Southwest Conference, went into overtime.

Cassia trustees ponder move

BURLEY — Burley secondary students may have to "double up" at the high school.

One proposed solution to continued growth at Burley junior and senior high schools after the defeat of the $3.5 million bond issue is to use the high school as a junior high on a two-shift basis.

The solution was proposed by Herman Bedke, attorney for the school district, during Monday's board meeting.

Trustees discussed ways of solving the district's studentload problems after the bond issue was defeated by a 15-percent margin. The total vote, as canvassed by the trustees, included 2,279 in favor and 2,324 in opposition, for a favorable margin of 52.3 per cent.

State law requires a two-thirds plurality, or 67 per cent, to endorse a levy against property.

The defeated proposal would have allowed construction of a centralized high school south of Burley to serve Burley, Declo and Oakley. This in turn would have allowed a shuffling of grades in the district, with Burley High converted to use as a junior high school.

Bedke suggested the two-shift concept as a desperation measure if overcrowding becomes acute at the junior-high level. Students would attend from 7 a.m. to noon on one shift, and from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. on the second shift, Bedke said.

"This would take much planning, but it could be done," he added.

The thorny concept of "de-consolidating" the Burley district, splitting the single district into the four districts of which it was originally composed, was discussed at length. Trustee Norval Wildman said he doubted if the Idaho Department of Education would sanction the move.

Board chairman W. B. Whiteley, noting that all bond issues proposed in recent years have been defeated, said he doubted if any bond issue could be passed by the present board.

"At the trustee election in May, it is possible that an entirely new board of trustees could be elected. Maybe they could come up with a solution," Whiteley said.

The trustees agreed to defer a decision on future planning until after the trustee election in May.

Quota exceeded

SISTER CYRILLA, St. Benedict's Hospital, is given a hemoglobin test by Dorothy Alexander, public health nurse, Shoshone, prior to giving blood in Tuesday's Red Cross blood drawing in Jerome. Donations totaled 137 pints, exceeding the 125 pint quota.

Jerome joins county to lease equipment

JEROME — Jerome City Council Tuesday night agreed to a 50-50 lease contract with Jerome County for a teletype machine.

The Jerome County Commissioners attended the council meeting and commissioner John Van Orman told the council the agreement for leasing of the teletype from the telephone company will cost $75 per month and asked the city to join them on a 50-50 basis.

Mayor J. A. (Jack) Russell asked if the judicial system had been invited to participate in the lease and if so, it should be on a one-third basis.

Mayor Russell said that undoubtedly the judicial district will be using the machine and noted "it's the girls in the police department who would have to operate the machine and the city would have to furnish the paper." He then asked the county to make another offer.

Van Orman said the county will agree to pay for half of the paper and explained that

Counselor named at Gooding

GOODING — Robert Schelake has been appointed counselor for the youth-rehabilitation division of the Idaho State Board of Health.

Schelake, whose office is located in the Gooding County courthouse, will have jurisdiction over Gooding, Blaine, Lincoln and Camas counties of the Fifth Judicial District.

His work will entail counseling youth who have had adjustment problems or difficulty abiding by the law.

"He will be responsible for making social investigations for the courts in the four-county area and also for supervising youth placed on probation by the courts."

He also will supervise youth under the jurisdiction of the State Board of Health and who have been paroled from the youth-training center at St. Anthony.

He will work with other agencies in arranging for psychological and social rehabilitative services for those under his jurisdiction.

JEROME — Fifth District Judge Theron Ward continued until April 4 a hearing on a writ of mandamus filed against Jerome City Council members and Mayor J. A. (Jack) Russell.

At a hearing Tuesday morning, Judge Ward granted a writ to quash the original petition for a writ of mandamus, filed against the city of Jerome.

It was amended Monday to include the council and mayor.

Judge Ward, in granting the writ to quash, noted that the original petition was faulty.

Judge Ward said based on the original and amended writ of mandamus he will issue an amended writ on the council and the mayor and all other matters will be held in abeyance.

Judge Ward said he will hear the case in its entirety on April 4 and make a final decision.

He instructed both lawyers, Richard Seeley for the city, and S. A. Kolman for the Citizens for Puntney group, to have all papers, arguments and briefs filed with the district court by that time.

S. A. Kolman told the Times-News following the hearing he was elated with the judge's ruling. "At least we know where we stand and that we will definitely have our answer on April 4 and not have this drag on forever," Kolman said.

In a related matter, a claim for damages that was filed last week with the city for $30,000 on behalf of Puntney was not presented to the Jerome City Council Tuesday night.

Mayor J. A. (Jack) Russell informed the council of the claim but said it would be read and acted on at the March 24 meeting which is the regular meeting for reading claims.

SV hearing set on city budget

SUN-VALLEY — A proposed 1972 budget of $140,482 was adopted Tuesday by the Sun Valley City Council.

A public hearing was set for 1:30 p.m. March 17.

In 1971, city expenditures totaled $25,281. The new budget, however, includes funding for the new police and fire departments as well as added road and maintenance costs.

The allocations reflect the staged implementation of a two-year plan for the city to acquire responsibility for certain facilities and roads currently maintained by the Sun Valley Co.

Anticipated general fund expenditures for 1972 were set at $124,609, compared to actual 1971 expenses of $127,039.

Under the general fund, about $66,000 was allocated for the police department, including about $46,000 for salaries. The department became operative Feb. 1.

A $9,450 budget was established for the volunteer fire department, which will begin operations April 1. Of that figure, $2,700 was allotted for salaries and compensation for fire calls. A $5,000 contingency fund was also established.

The general administration budget totaled $48,869. About $11,000 was designated for salaries and $7,000 for office construction. The figure also included a $10,000 allocation to support the Sun Valley Hospital.

Road and bridge expenditures were set at $9,378, compared to $1,829 last year. Hospital bond fund costs were estimated at $6,495 as opposed to $6,613 in 1971.

Shoshone hires new police chief

By MELTA THORNE
Times-News writer

SHOSHONE — City Council members Tuesday night hired John Schaeffer as the new Shoshone chief of police.

Schaeffer has been serving as assistant chief of police for the past year and will move up to the post being vacated by Jerry Conklin.

The city has accepted the resignation of Conklin effective March 30. He will move to Mackay to take over duties as foreman of a ranch there.

David L. Swanner, Shoshone, has been named assistant police chief and both appointments are subject to a 90-day probation period.

City officials voted Tuesday night to make another payment of $37,000 to Hartwell Excavation Co. for the current sewer-installation project. This is the fifth payment, bringing to $306,129.86 the amount paid to the contractor to date.

City Council members heard a report indicating the sewer installation is now 53 per cent complete and work is expected to end well ahead of the Sept. 1, 1972, completion date in the contract.

Council officials received $99 from the Lincoln Magistrate Court as the city's share in fines and fees for February. They issued two building permits covering a chain-link fence at the Gerald Wallace home and a new garage for Clayton Clifford.

The council approved plans for three city employees to attend a safety meeting in Twin Falls later this month and passed a resolution budgeting $3,820 for the city ditch budget.

The ditch serves three major shareholders: and supplies water for irrigation of property in the north of the city. Shareholders pay fees amounting to $2,500 and the budget also includes more than $1,300 in holdover money this year.

Those who do not have access to the ditch water irrigate by siphon from the city water system and pay a flat rate per year.

Hearing set March 21 on Rupert City budget

By LEE TREMAINE
Times-News writer

RUPERT — Higher costs in several departments will contribute to a 21 per cent increase in the Rupert City budget this year.

The Rupert City Council set March 21 at 8 p.m. for a public hearing on the proposed $959,787 city budget during Tuesday night's council meeting.

The budget represents an overall 21.14 per cent increase in anticipated expenditures over last year's $794,500 budget. The principal increases are in the police department, up to $115,000 from last year's $91,000; and electrical department operation, up to $334,000 from $312,000.

Most of the police department increase is represented by $21,000 budgeted to allow personnel, principally police officers, to attend several training sessions and seminars, according to Loretta Klingenberg, Rupert city clerk.

The parks department budget is up to $80,000 from $54,000. A portion of these expenses will be reimbursed by the Idaho Parks Department and federal funds.

Another increase is represented by $9,817 in bond redemption for three local independent districts.

Total 1971 revenues for the city departments was $865,276 including $346,023, electrical department revenue; $87,518, water department; $58,034, tax levy; $334,202, general fund; $15,353, irrigation; $34,000, special sewer fund, and $9,242, library.

Anticipated expenses for 1972:

- Electrical $334,000; water plant operation, $40,000; administration, $5,500; police department, $115,000; fire department, $112,000; street department, $28,000; sewer department, $85,000; parks, $80,000; buildings and grounds, $12,000; irrigation, $37,000; engineering, $14,000; recreation, $48,700; garbage department, $82,500; contingency fund, $26,450; sewer bond redemption, $16,000; LID guarantee fund, $3,000 and LID bond redemption, $9,017.

By deducting reimbursable expenses and special funds, the anticipated income and outgo balance, Mayor O.W. Johnson said following the council meeting.

The expenses and income for the electrical, library and sewer departments, plus the general fund, balance at $988,150, including $334,000 for the electric department, $627,150, general fund; $9,000, library, and $16,000 sewer department.

Rupert director named

RUPERT — Mrs. Lottie Martindale has been appointed part-time director of the Rupert Senior Citizen Center.

Mike Rinnard, Rupert recreation director, announced the center is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily, except Sundays.

Starting in April the Social Security representative will visit the center.

Mrs. Martindale said the programs and center is open to all senior citizens in the county. She urged senior citizens to visit the center to get acquainted and suggest new programs.

A resident of Minidoka County since 1932, Mrs. Martindale worked for 25 years at the Rupert J.C. Penney's store. She then worked for Cleo's Clothing, Burley, until last September when she broke her leg.

The wife of Earl Martindale, she and her husband reared two children.

She was a member of the Rupert Business and Professional Women's Club for several years and served as secretary.

Confab set

JEROME — The Jerome City Council will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. Friday at Jerome City Hall to set the 1972 budget.

Mayor J. A. (Jack) Russell told the City Council Tuesday that it has some last-minute details to work out on the budget before the Friday night meeting.

He said a public hearing on the budget will be set either the last week in March or the first part of April.

Filer votes no water extension

FILER — The Filer City Council decided no extension of water service or water lines will be granted beyond city limits unless the property is annexed.

The resolution, effective immediately, was approved at the meeting Tuesday night.

Gilbert Chandler, Filer water commissioner, said city employees are somewhat limited with summer coming on. The council doesn't want to let water pressure get low when persons use more water for sprinkling purposes. This is in order to give the best service to water users.

Chandler said people can use ditch water for lawns if they want to.

The councilmen approved a beer license for Glen Tipton of The Club.

Back into alleys

JEROME — Jerome Mayor J. A. (Jack) Russell said today garbage pickup in Jerome will again be in the alleys beginning Friday.

Jerome residents have, for the past few weeks, placed refuse in the streets because of muddy alleys.

Mayor Russell said city officials think the condition has improved significantly allowing resumption of pickup in the alleys.

Almost ready

GOODING — The new Gooding High School should be ready for occupancy by March 20.

According to Supt. James Muscat, moving will begin on March 16.

Lockers are being installed in the student commons and in the physical education rooms.

General clean-up and repairs will be finished before the move.

PTA scores overcrowded classrooms in Twin Falls

TWIN FALLS — Harrison School Parent Teacher Association members are urging steps to provide temporary relief for overcrowded Twin Falls classrooms.

The PTA approved a statement urging the school board to investigate all possible methods of providing relief for overcrowding pending passage of a proposed bond issue and construction of permanent school facilities.

A committee, headed by Mrs. Jerry Hale, will confer with the school board, Jerry Holman, PTA president said today.

The committee reported Monday night on the size of classrooms in Twin Falls elementary schools as compared to recommendations of the district's teachers.

Teachers, through their negotiations committee, have recommended a class size of 20 pupils for first and second grades and 25 for the third through the sixth grades, Mrs. Hale said.

Parents are also concerned about the classrooms in which they feel there are too many children for effective learning.

School officials are aware of the situation and are also concerned, Mrs. Hale said.

Regardless of the outcome of the proposed bond issue election for additional elementary classrooms in Twin Falls, school building Holman said, will be some time before new permanent facilities could be in use and the situation relieved.

In the meantime, the PTA is asking the school board to investigate ways of providing temporary relief to cut down the size of classrooms. Holman said the committee is making no recommendations on how this could be done, but will leave this to the decision of administrators and board members.

Holman said in Harrison School the four first grade classes have 26, 21, 25 and 23 children; second grade classes include three with 24 children and one with 23 while the third grade has 30, 33, 34 and 35 children in the four rooms.

Fourth grade classes range from 35 to 37, while fifth grades include 32, 35 and 34 children each and sixth grades have 30, 31 and 32 students in the three rooms.

Holman said this is about the same situation as can be found in each of the elementary schools.

Last fall, closing of the St. Edward's Catholic School added 300 pupils to the five elementary schools of the Twin Falls district.

School officials are currently preparing for a bond issue election to obtain funds for construction of at least one new elementary school building with some expansion to existing buildings.

Ketchum OK's uniform building code

KETCHUM — By a split vote, Ketchum City Council adopted a 1970 edition of the Uniform Building Code Monday night.

Councilmen Glenn Branan and Gerald Sidwell voted for the ordinance enacting the code.

Vern McCallan and JoAnn Algiers were opposed. To break the tie, Mayor Kenneth Richey voted for the ordinance and said, "We should at least try it for one year."

In earlier discussions, McCallan said, "You're forcing people to hire an architect. I think it's a lot of expense for a lot of people."

After the meeting Miss Algiers said that the code contains some provisions that don't apply to Ketchum. She said she felt the exceptions should have been reviewed with a building inspector before the code was enacted.

Sidwell said earlier that the code was needed "so we have some teeth to go by."

In other action the City Council:

- Accepted the $3,280 bid from Neyman Chevrolet, Halley, for a pickup truck for the sewage treatment plant.
- Voted to pay $4,000 to Arlo Nelson of the Environmental Planning Group, Boise, for the completed Phase II of the 20-year comprehensive plan for Ketchum.

Tabled for further discussion an ordinance calling for closing Sixth Street to parking from Main Street west to its intersection with the railroad tracks.

Received a letter on the Elkhorn at Sun Valley before additional deeds to the plant are constructed.

Fred Waring show slated

BURLEY — The only Idaho appearance this year of the Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians Show will be at 8 p.m. Thursday, at Minico High School.

The event in Mini-Cassia area is again being sponsored by the Burley-Rupert Shrine Club, under the direction of Dave Barry, president.

Advance reserve tickets are available at Volco Builders, Burley. General admission tickets are available from all Burley-Rupert Shrine Club members. Roper's Wood Music, Skaggs Furniture and Volco Builders, all Burley. Roper's Ytacks Music and Fricke's Fabric, all Rupert. Roper's and Volco Builders, both Twin Falls. After 55 years of continued activity in show business, hundreds of radio and TV shows, scores of records and so many one night stands, it would be hard for the average man to come up with something new, but not Fred Waring.

In the roaring '20s with its flappers, dappers and tappers, Fred Waring was one of the trend setters. In the swinging '30s with jazz, razzmatazz and bobby-soxers, Waring broke house attendance records wherever he appeared. In the 'Second World War, it was Fred Waring's Shows, canteens and music that helped boost the morale of our nation.

The Fred Waring Show will present the best of the past in a whole new segment dedicated to nostalgia together with what's happening today in the Mini-Cassia appearance at Minico High School.

Troubled? Call Hotline 733-0122

Salinity tackled in Idaho lake

BOISE (UPI) — Crane Falls Lake, for fifteen years one of southwestern Idaho's more popular fishing lakes, may again attract trout fishermen if work now underway proves effective in solving the problem of salinity.

A 75 horsepower pump was put into operation last week by the Fish and Game Department to exchange new water for the toxic water which has existed in the lake for three years.

The lake, located south of Mountain Home, has been completely out of action as a trout fishery since all fish died in 1969 due to excessive alkalinity of the water. The exact cause for the change in the lake has not been definitely pinpointed, but long term evaporative losses of water with its replacement from highly alkaline sources is considered to be the most probable cause, according to the Fish and Game Department.

Crane Falls Lake did not always exist. It formed soon after completion of C. J. Strike Dam on the Snake River in 1952. It was first planted with rainbow trout in 1954 and frequent planting together with a plentiful food supply, made it a productive and popular fishery. According to the department, some mortality and distress was found among the fish in 1968 and by the summer of 1969 trout could not survive more than several hours.

Senior Engineer Grant Christensen said the water exchange project consists of simply pumping water from the lake so that underground percolation of new water will restore proper chemical balance to permit maintenance of a trout fishery. He said the project involved construction of a dike extending out into the lake to permit placement of the pump in deeper water. A partial cut through the low ridge between Crane Falls and the reservoir provided fill material for the dike and also lowered the necessary pumping height. Electrical power was brought in from two miles away.

"In operation," Christensen explained, "water is pumped under pressure to the high point in the pipeline. The vacuum created by the siphoning effect on the other side enhances the flow of water through the pipe. The pump pushes the water and the siphon effect on the downward side pulls the water, thus decreasing the overall pumping cost."

In just five days of pumping the water level was reduced by more than a foot, Christensen reported. Since new water is probably percolating into the lake because of this, he estimated that approximately 130 per cent of the lake's volume will have to be pumped out to achieve a 75 per cent water exchange. Sixty days pumping at the rate of 8,000 gallons per minute, or 22 acre feet per day, is expected to be sufficient.

With luck, Crane Falls Lake might be restocked and providing good fishing by sometime in May, Christensen said.

Burley chamber holds last visit

BURLEY — Burley Chamber of Commerce members held their final telephone visit with the county legislators at Boise Monday during a chamber luncheon meeting.

Ernest Blauer served as telephone moderator for the chamber members. J. Vard Chaburn and Ernest Hale, both Cassia County Representatives, discussed various bills. Senator Robert Saxvik was unable to attend the telephone visit Monday because of committee meetings.

As of Monday when the governor had not signed the repeated criminal code, the new criminal code is good until April, according to Chaburn. The two legislators expect the budget to be around $137 million as compared with $149 million asked for by the governor. Last year the budget was about $129 million.

Funds for the general fund increase are expected to come from income tax, according to the representatives. They reported there is very little talk on increasing the sales tax.

They also reported the governor's plan for reorganizing the state departments will be voted on by the residents of Idaho in the November election as a constitutional amendment.

Most of the other bills were on third reading or back in committee, they reported. A few hearings on bills are planned for early part of the week.

The legislators expect still to be in Boise next week.

Gooding argues over drag strip

By PEGGY CHU
Times-News writer

GOODING — Disagreement about the amount of profit from a proposed Gooding drag strip has come from two companies interested in using the strip.

According to city clerk George Silva, a letter from Bill New, owner of Firebird Raceway in Boise, claimed figures presented by BC Inc., of California, were "grossly inflated and highly improbable."

Gilbert Schmidt, who has been retained by BC Inc., had told the council the firm had $100,000 to invest in the project. The company hopes to gross $150,000 per year from the strip.

The firm's plans were to begin construction and advertising this summer with completion of the project in 1973. Schmidt told the council the firm wanted an 8-year lease and three additional 8-year options. The council decided at that time requested a representative from the firm meet with the council for a question-and-answer session.

question-and-answer session. According to New, his Boise race track has yet to reach $150,000 in one year. He said he has one of the top drag strips in the Pacific northwest. He told the council to move cautiously before signing any lease with BC Inc.

Last year New expressed interest in holding races in Gooding but not on a permanent basis. He told the council that although he has not been able to make further plans on the Gooding strip, he is still interested in holding future races there periodically.

Earl Kelly, airport manager, told the council the drag strip would be beneficial to the city, but it would have to be built to FAA standards.

The council took no action and decided to await more information. According to Mayor Harley Crippen, BC Inc. is still interested in the Gooding strip. He has requested a meeting with Edward Brubaker, president of the firm, to review figures and plans for the strip.

Woman promoted

RUPERT — Mrs. Alene B. Harding, has been promoted to customer service officer of First Security Bank of Idaho's Rupert office.

Dwinnelle Allred, Rupert manager, said she is a native of Twin Falls and graduated from Hollister High School in 1942. She started her banking career that year at Hazelton State Bank (now known as the Fidelity Bank) where she remained until 1944.

From 1944-46 she served as secretary of the president of the First Hardin National Bank, Elizabethtown, Ky. In 1946 she returned to the Hazelton State Bank where she worked until 1955.

In 1961 she joined the First Security Bank of Idaho at Rupert as a teller. In 1968 she was appointed secretary and served in this post until her new appointment.

She and her husband, William L. Harding, former Hazelton resident, are the parents of three daughters, Mrs. Pamela Pratt, Amarillo, Tex.; Tamara L. Harding, a junior at Minico High School, and Cammy Rae Harding, seventh grader at East Junior High School and one son, Gale Harding, attending the University of Idaho, Moscow.

Active in community affairs, she is a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club and the National Secretary's Association. She is also a member of the LDS Church.

House GOP narrows gap on revenue projections

By RICHARD CHARNOCK

BOISE (UPI) — House

Republicans narrowed the gap between them and their senate counterparts by $1 million on revenue projections Tuesday, butting present sources will produce $133 million next year.

Virtually splitting the difference between house tax writers' estimates of $132 million and the senate GOP's predictions of $134 million they headed for negotiation, caucus chairman Ed Rife, R-Boise reported.

In raising their sights by $1 million the house Republicans did so with an eye on total general fund appropriations of $137.8 million to $137.9 million, Rife said, the figure including about $900,000 in supplemental appropriations for this fiscal year.

Rife said they discussed income tax and cigarette tax increases as the primary means of closing the gap between been anticipated revenue and projected spending from the general fund.

He said the Republican leadership of both houses was to meet at noon Wednesday and that revenue projections will be on the discussion agenda. He said leadership of both parties in the legislature will meet with Gov. Cecil D. Andrus' cabinet Wednesday.

Rife said economic indicators were the chief reason for the boost in anticipated revenue for the general fund. He said the upswing in predictions was triggered by increased sales tax collections of some 13.5 per cent during February.

He said there was no overall consensus on the budget, but "there were no objections" to projections of about $137 million.

Whether this will satisfy the governor, Democrat, remains to be seen, Andrus asked for $149.2 million and — even subtracting $3.5 million for kindergartens and $5 million for property tax relief which the legislature apparently will not approve — would leave Andrus still near $141 million.

Rife said the house Republicans also looked at the possibility of $900,000 worth of reversions to the general fund at the end of this fiscal year — a circumstance that would put the house and senate GOP virtually on the same wave length.

Senate Majority leader Wayne Kidwell, R-Boise, said it appeared "we're getting closer" and that the house Republicans' decision hopefully would speed up this session of the legislature.

Vote change

BOISE (UPI) — The senate approved 28-9 Tuesday a proposed constitutional amendment to require only a simple majority — rather than a two-thirds vote — in revenue bond elections for water and sewage systems.

Sen. Robert Saxvik, D-Burley, floor sponsor, said legislative approval of the amendment which will be placed on the 1972 ballot was the "first step to clean up our environment."

He said the simple majority requirement might mean passage of several bond issues which have failed by just a few votes in some Idaho cities.

College funding said inadequate

BOISE (UPI) — Funding of higher education in fiscal year 1973 at the proposed $29.5 million level would "not even provide enough to meet the bare bones needs," the acting director of higher education said Tuesday.

But Milton Small provided the Joint Finance Appropriations Committee with one alternative for distributing the money: a 3.3 per cent increase for each institution over current spending, full funding of the computer programs, and a contingency fund of $207,730 which the state board of education would later distribute on the basis of emergency needs.

The proposal would give the University of Idaho $12,163,108; Idaho State University $9,018,043; Boise State College $7,002,016; and Lewis-Clark State College $1,105,003.

Small appeared before the committee after it threatened to do its own distribution unless the board made some specific suggestions. He said the proposal was not that of the board but was a mathematical translation of suggestions made by Board President Joseph McCallum to the board plus figures presented by the institutions.

Potato tax hike to aid research

BOISE (UPI) — The senate

reconsidered and sent to the amending order Tuesday legislation to increase the potato tax to support a research, development and advertising program for the Idaho apud.

The bill was killed Monday after some legislators questioned the strict proceedings for referendum to improve the increase to five cents per hundredweight by 1975. Sen. Leon Swenson, R-Nampa, said a "variety of approaches" were being considered, including one to have an immediate referendum on the first three-quarter of a cent increase.

He said it would be a "compromise that will make this bill acceptable to a majority of the people."

Get message?

BOISE (UPI) — Told the legislation was unnecessary, the senate killed 13-20 Tuesday a bill to require a 1973 survey of state roads to see which should be included or excluded from the state highway system.

Although some lawmakers questioned whether the bill was necessary since the state highway board must now do the same thing, Sen. Richard Egbert, D-Teton, said it was a message to the board to "continue the good works, boys, but get at it a little bit more often."

Boost sought on wine taxes

BOISE (UPI) — House

taxwriters called for introduction Tuesday of bills to tax tobacco products other than cigarettes 35 per cent and raise the tax on wine to $1 per gallon from 45 cents.

Both bills would dedicate their revenue — nearly $1.5 million to water pollution control.

Meantime, the House Revenue and Taxation Committee held until Wednesday a bill to raise income taxes, conform to changes in the federal internal revenue code and produce $2,085,000 for the general fund next year.

Rep. Harold Reid, D-Craigmont, who has tried unsuccessfully to win approval of Gov. Cecil D. Andrus' proposal for elimination of the federal tax credit on state income taxes, objected strongly to the bill.

He also asked whether it is a feeling of this legislature that all the increase in taxes must be borne by individuals or whether some of the burden will be put on corporations.

County attorney salary bill okayed

BOISE (UPI) — The Senate

finally passed 19-15 Tuesday an amended bill to place county prosecuting attorneys' on a salary schedule based on the county population.

The bill was killed on a 17-17 tie vote Feb. 22, but was amended to change the population basis and delay the effective date until July 1.

Under the bill, which now goes to the house, salaries range from $20,000 per year for counties of 60,000 or more to a maximum of $7,500 computed at $20 per hour in counties of 5,000 or less.

The measure also requires prosecutors in counties of 40,000 or more to devote themselves to their duties full time, although prosecutors in smaller counties can spend some time in private practice.

Meeting asked

BOISE (UPI) — Warning of

"possible repercussions" from the proposed budget, Gov. Cecil D. Andrus asked the Joint Finance Appropriations Committee to meet with the Board of Corrections and the penitentiary staff to discuss the proposed appropriation.

In a letter to co-chairmen Sen. Richard High, R-Twin Falls, and Rep. Jenkin Palmer, R-Malden, the governor said the planned budget "can and undoubtedly will cause security problems in the coming year as it will require the return of maximum security prisoners to the old site — again awaiting the total completion of the new site."

The Joint Finance Appropriations Committee has analyzed a $1.8 million general fund budget for the penitentiary, $108,157 less than the governor's recommendation and $158,517 less than the continuation level.

The penitentiary had requested $2.3 million.

School rezoning measure approved passed 22-8 and sent to the house Tuesday legislation to let public school districts "on an optional basis" re-zone themselves for seven instead of five trustees.

BOISE (UPI) — The senate

Sen. John Barker, R-Buhl, floor sponsor, said the bill was a compromise after the committee you can get right from the State Department of Education to let the State Board of Education direct re-zoning under certain circumstances.

Sen. Mels-Gelberg, D-Grangeville, argued against the measure on grounds it was "just change for the sake of change. If you get a small committee you can get right down there and do the job."

Insurance bid

TWIN FALLS — One bid in the amount of $23,348 was received by Twin Falls County Commissioner Monday for liability insurance for the county.

It is for the 12 month period beginning March 15. Commission Chairman W. L. (Bill) Chancey said the bid has been taken under advisement and will be compared with the specifications for coverage. The bid was submitted by the Twin Falls Association of Insurance Agents.

Chancey said the bid is good as far as the amount is concerned and may be a little less than the bid received a year ago.

Real estate rules

BOISE (UPI) — The senate

agreed Tuesday to amend a bill to let the Idaho Real Estate Commission make rules and regulations regarding subdivisions.

Sen. Art Manley, D-Coeur d'Alene, said the legislation could be regarded as consumer protection but asked for the amendment after other lawmakers questioned the subpoena power given to the commission and the third degree felony penalty carried in the bill.

No recommendation

BOISE (UPI) — The Senate

Commerce and Labor Committee has sent out without recommendation a bill adopting a state occupational safety and health act.

The measure, already approved by the house, would have the federal act of 1970 enforced on the state level.

Mass gatherings measure okayed

BOISE (UPI)—Despite warnings that it would not solve the problem, the Senate approved 32-3 today legislation aimed at regulating mass gatherings of over 500 through advertising.

The bill was proposed by the Citizens' Fact-finding Committee on Farragut which investigated the Universal Life Church's Fourth of July weekend "picnic" at the North Idaho State Park.

Sen. John Barker, R-Buhl, floor sponsor, said some of the 30,000 people who attended the festival had "innocent expectations of a simple rock festival" but that others felt drugs would be available and laws would not be enforced.

Warning Idaho may again be the site of such large gatherings, Barker said the legislation would institute some control by requiring any advertising to be submitted to the attorney general who could require warnings be placed on advertising if he found a "substantial likelihood" of violation of drug or criminal laws or physical danger to participants.

But Sen. Art Manley, D-Coeur d'Alene, in whose district the Farragut festival occurred, said he did not feel the measure would solve the problem.

He said one problem faced at that time was an inability to locate sponsors of the proposal and questioned whether the advertising regulation would be enforced.

Noting the Farragut festival was the first of its kind in Idaho, Manley said he felt there was "not very much disagreement that a lot of bad things occurred there" but that he felt the state would be better prepared the next time.

"We have had some bad experience which would help us in the future," he said.

The bill exempts state-sponsored sessions such as the Boy Scout Jamboree at Farragut, gatherings within city limits, high school or college gatherings and family gatherings.

Asked how the attorney general would know whether the gatherings were daily sessions, Barker said, "I'd say we Barker, we Evanses and we Joneses who want to have a family gathering know who the kinfolk would be."

The measure now goes to the House.

Tightens links

BRUSSELS (UPI)—Finance ministers of the European Common Market Tuesday drew up plans for tightening links between their currencies as the first step in a 10-year plan for economic and monetary union.

Market officials said the ministers, at the end of a two-day meeting, had reached agreement on the first stages of a program that eventually will lead to the creation of a single Common Market currency.

The package of economic and monetary measures will be formally approved when the finance ministers meet their counterparts for foreign affairs and agriculture at a super-council meeting March 21-22.

The floating was the beginning of a world monetary crisis that led in December to the devaluation of the dollar and the fixing of new central rates for the world's major currencies.

The Common Market decided Tuesday its currencies would be linked by narrower fluctuation margins in foreign exchange dealings.

Pains cause testimony delay

DENVER (UPI)—Dita D. Beard, upset with stories linking her with the International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. antitrust case, suffered chest pains Tuesday that doctors said would delay her testimony to Senate investigators for at least five days.

"Mrs. Beard had a small amount of lateral chest pains late Monday night and again in the morning," said Dr. David Garland of the Rocky Mountain Osteopathic Hospital. "She has developed a little more nervous tension."

Garland blamed the relapse on newspaper stories read by Mrs. Beard, 53, the ITT's Washington lobbyist and the purported author of a memo linking an ITT antitrust case settlement with a $400,000 donation to the Republican National Convention.

Garland said Monday he would allow Senate Judiciary Committee investigators to question her in the hospital if she continued to improve.

Israeli lines not definite

By United Press International Foreign Minister Abba Eban said Tuesday Israel would not regard as final the lines its occupation forces in the Sinai peninsula withdrew to under any interim Suez Canal agreement with Egypt reached through U.S. mediation efforts.

Eban spoke in Jerusalem to the Knesset (Parliament) even as Arab diplomat observers in Beirut said indications are that Egypt may be embarking on a policy to reactivate guerrilla operations in the occupied Sinai.

In outlining Israel's foreign policy, Eban left no doubt Israel preferred the Washington initiative to the peace-seeking mission of U.N. special envoy Gunnar V. Jarring.

He said, however, that an agreement between Egypt and Israel which would reopen the Suez Canal, blocked since the June, 1967 war, would create a better atmosphere for Jarring.

The decision taken Tuesday relaunches plans for economic and monetary union dropped last May when Germany let the mark float away from its official parity with the U.S. dollar.

T.F. seeking federal aid

TWIN FALLS — County Commissioners in Twin Falls Tuesday adopted resolutions seeking two separate federal funds for county projects in 1972.

The county approved application for $11,562 for the Land and Water Conservation Fund to match county money in the development of a recreation site at Salmon Dam. The total project cost is estimated at $23,685. A power line will be installed to the area to provide lighting of a park area and electricity for caretakers home.

The area currently serves fishing and boating interests and a small park is planned for camping and picnicking.

Another application is for $42,500 in federal money to meet matching county money for the proposed jail remodeling in Twin Falls County.

County Commissioner Chairman William L. (Bill) Chancey said the application goes to the Law Enforcement Planning Commission and if approved will cover a construction program beginning in September and continuing into 1973. The county this year budgeted $50,000 for jail improvements.

Plans call for converting space now utilized as the sheriff's apartment into additional cells to provide separate facilities for housing juveniles and women prisoners. Other general improvements are planned to provide space needed under the court reform program.

A visitor area already has been constructed in the foyer of the fourth-floor area so prisoners may meet with their attorneys and family members in an enclosure. Previously open hallways had to be used for visiting purposes.

Bid accepted

TWIN FALLS — Bid of the Kendrick Oil Co., Twin Falls, was accepted by County Commissioners Tuesday for $5,000 gallons of gasoline.

The gasoline will be used by the Twin Falls County Weed Bureau for operation of county owned weed equipment and vehicles. Bid of Kendrick Oil was 22.8 cents per gallon for regular gasoline and 25.8 cents for premium.

Other firms bidding included Conoco, Pacific Cooperative Supply, Standard Oil of California, United Oil and Texaco. Bids were relatively close on both grades of gasoline, commissioners said.

Damages sought for auto crash

TWIN FALLS — Suit for $15,000 general damages and about $2,000 in medical expenses and loss of income has been filed in Fifth Judicial District court as the result of a March 6, 1970, auto accident.

C. J. Berry is seeking damages against Thelsen Motors Inc., Lols E. Hayden, Kirkman Bros. Inc., and Peter Johnston.

He alleged negligence on the part of Lols Hayden and Peter Johnston, drivers of vehicles involved in the accident with his own pickup truck.

Berry charged the vehicle driven by Lols Hayden pulled into the path of his own vehicle on Highway 74 two miles south of Twin Falls March 6, 1970.

He was required to make a sudden stop, Berry said, when a bus driven by Johnston crashed into the rear of his pickup. The bus was owned by Kirkman Bros. Inc., and the sedan driven by Mrs. Hayden was owned by Thelsen Motors Inc.

Berry alleges he suffered severe head and neck injuries which continue to hinder his activities and incurred $1,700 in loss of wages and $328 in medical expenses.

Multiple tests cause concern

NEW YORK (UPI)—A reaction is setting in against multiple testing of patients by physicians and hospitals, a Georgetown University professor of biochemistry says.

Dr. Martin Rubin was speaking as vice-president of Omni Research, Inc., a firm engaged in extensive contract research and laboratory testing in Washington, D.C., and Puerto Rico.

"Multiple testing was sold as protection against malpractice suits but it is a two-edged sword," Dr. Rubin said, "because it contains a 20 per cent error factor."

If a doctor orders a score of such tests just to protect himself, Rubin said he may be confronted by the results that indicate three or four possible troubles he hadn't even suspected. These indications may be groundless but if the doctor, or the hospital administration, ignores them and they turn out to be genuine, then they are worse off from a legal standpoint than if they hadn't ordered the tests in the first place.

On the other hand, Rubin said, following up all the indications may waste large amounts of the patient's time and money and the doctor's time.

For that reason, Omni Research is staying out of the multiple testing business, which has grown quickly in recent years, said Dr. Irving Gray, the president.

He said Omni Research will stick to selling lab tests that are clearly indicated as necessary. The company's bread-and-butter businesses up to now have been urine screening tests for narcotic addiction and research in steroid compounds. One field of the steroid research is to seek substances useful in contraceptive drugs for both sexes.

Because Omni Research has wide capability in chemistry, microbiology, biochemistry and clinical pharmacology and in computers, it is moving to more ambitious fields.

It has proposed to set up in Puerto Rico, Honduras and eventually in other Caribbean countries, a computer-based health support system. Such a system would handle clinical laboratory data, patient scheduling, billing service and bookkeeping for large groups of hospitals and clinics. Puerto Rico already has agreed to install this system in prototype.

The company is developing a program for central computerized health and welfare information services. This system would be valuable to public authorities and special agencies in determining the eligibility of welfare clients and applicants.

Motherly love

A BABY black rhinoceros born Sunday is nursed by its huge mother at the St. Louis Zoo. The baby, a mere 38 pounds, is dwarfed by its two-ton mother, "Olive." Zoo director William Hoff said black rhinoceros births occur occasionally in American zoos, but the species is in danger of becoming extinct. (UPI)

Burley shows set tonight

BURLEY — Tommy Overstreet, well-known recording artist, will be featured in two shows Wednesday at the Ponderosa Inn.

Overstreet and his group will present dance music and two shows starting at 9 p.m. and concluding at 1 a.m. at the Ponderosa Inn Convention Center. He is being presented by the Ponderosa Inn and KAYT Radio.

Overstreet is one of the fastest rising stars on the musical horizon today, with two No. 1 national chart hits in less than one year, "Gwen, Congratulations," and "Ann, Don't Go Running."

Program on mental health presented

TWIN FALLS — Roger Abernathy was featured speaker during the Country Club meeting at the home of Mrs. Maurine Allen.

Abernathy, a member of the Idaho Mental Health Association board, showed a film and talked on mental health.

Mrs. H. A. Childers was hostess and Mrs. J. H. Sharp, president, was in charge of the business meeting.

A report was given on the amount of newspapers delivered to the recycling center. Mrs. Sharp will pick up any paper from persons calling her.

Plans were made to attend the South Central District Extension Homemakers meeting March 23 in Burley. Mrs. George Thomas and Mrs. Childers were appointed to attend the planning meet for next years extension lessons.

Mrs. Don Hine demonstrated how to make puddles with cockleburrs.

The next meeting is at 9:30 a.m. April 20 with Mrs. Sharp for a breakfast. The lesson will be on photography. It was announced the Twin Falls County Extension Homemakers Council will meet Monday at the Idaho Power Auditorium.

Speaking contest

FILER HIGH School drama student Connie Allen received the only superior of the District No. 4 declamation speaking contest and will compete for further honors Saturday in Nampa at the regional meet. She is shown with the trophy board on which the class placed 14 ribbons they brought home from 18 entries.

Valley Briefs

TWIN FALLS — The date and place for the meeting of the Past Noble Grands Club of Primrose Rebekah Lodge have been changed. The group will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Odd Fellows Temple.

World travelers

NEWLYWEDS, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Snyder, just completed a six-week around-the-world honeymoon trip. Mrs. Snyder is the former Glenda Mitchell, Twin Falls. They reside in Sun Valley.

Recipe section

TWIN FALLS — To all of you who have submitted recipes to the recipe section, the Times-News thanks you.

It is obvious that some readers, however, do not understand the working of the contest.

Five recipes are taken from the many received each week for use in daily Magic Valley favorites. The people submitting those recipes do not receive the cash prize, but their recipes are put back in with the other recipes received and one weekly winner is picked.

The cash award is sent to the person sending the recipe chosen as the weekly winner; the one printed in the Sunday edition of the Times-News and always has "Week's Recipe Winner" printed above the name.

All recipes submitted become the property of the Times-News and cannot be returned. The recipes are all saved for consideration for the annual recipe edition in preparation now.

The Times-News pays $5 for each week's recipe winner. If you have a favorite recipe, just mail it to the Recipe Department, Women's Page Editor. Who knows, the next winner might be you!

Filer HS plans to compete

FILER — Drama class students of the Filer High School have left plenty of room on their trophy board for ribbons.

They hope to bring home many ribbons from the regional declamation contest they will be attending March 11 in Nampa.

Five of the members who placed superior at the District No. 4 contest recently held in Buhl will be competing at the regional contest.

They include Lois Slaughter, oral interpretation; Connie Allen, sales speaking; Mary Nell Pastoor, extemporaneous speaking; Randy Lammers, original oratory; and Lida Thaele, recited story.

Debbie Baker and Donna Rae Reichert also received superiors, and Miss Allen was the only contestant in district 4 to be awarded a superior in her class of sales speaking.

Mrs. Margaret Youree, drama and speech instructor at the high school, noted that at the last competition, 18 of her students who participated in various speaking events, came home with 14 either excellent or superior ribbons.

Students who receive superiors at the regional level will go on to compete in the state meet March 18 in Boise.

Wrong date

HAZELTON — The wedding date in the Connie Griffiths and Robert Bloxham, engagement story in the March 5 issue of the Times-News was wrong.

It should have said Aug. 19 instead of April 19.

Miss Griffiths is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Griffiths and Bloxham is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bloxham, all Hazelton.

Safari highlights newlyweds' trip

SUN VALLEY — How many couples on their honeymoon eat zebra... fly over two war zones... stay overnight on top of Mt. Olive?

That is what Mr. and Mrs. Richard Snyder did. They have recently returned to their Sun Valley home after a six-week around-the-world honeymoon trip.

Mrs. Snyder is the former Glenda Mitchell and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Mitchell, Twin Falls. Accompanied to traveling before her marriage, she met Snyder in New York City where she was flying internationally as a stewardess.

"I would absolutely recommend the trip to couples," Mrs. Snyder said. "It gives the chance to see a small glimpse of the entire world and brings two people very close together," she said.

The Snyders said that the highlight of the trip was a five-day photographic safari through Kenya, during which they camped out overnight in tents on the African bush or in game lodges.

On the tour, they saw lions, giraffes, zebras and got a close view of a bull elephant when it charged their vehicle.

One night for dinner, they had a choice of the hunt of the day — wildebeest or zebra, Snyder said. The zebra "lasted like beef."

Also during the safari they visited a Masai village and purchased several spears.

Stops on the six-week trip included Hawaii, Hong Kong — where they saw the Queen Elizabeth the day before it burned and sank — Bangkok, Bombay, the Holy Land — where they visited the cave where the Dead Sea Scrolls were found — Athens, Rome, Nairobi and Madrid.

The Snyders said Bangkok is similar to Venice, "a city of canals, floating markets and temples." In the Holy Land, they walked the path of old Jerusalem — on which Christ carried the cross — and visited the Church of the Nativity.

On the trip, the Snyders flew directly over two war zones, Da Nang and the Middle East, but their plane was diverted to Calcutta to avoid flying over Bangladesh.

Mrs. Snyder said that the different people and cultures encountered on the trip were "extremely interesting."

On the tour, they saw lions, giraffes, zebras and got a close view of a bull elephant when it charged their vehicle.

One night for dinner, they had a choice of the hunt of the day — wildebeest or zebra, Snyder said. The zebra "lasted like beef."

Also during the safari they visited a Masai village and purchased several spears.

Stops on the six-week trip included Hawaii, Hong Kong — where they saw the Queen Elizabeth the day before it burned and sank — Bangkok, Bombay, the Holy Land — where they visited the cave where the Dead Sea Scrolls were found — Athens, Rome, Nairobi and Madrid.

The Snyders said Bangkok is similar to Venice, "a city of canals, floating markets and temples." In the Holy Land, they walked the path of old Jerusalem — on which Christ carried the cross — and visited the Church of the Nativity.

On the trip, the Snyders flew directly over two war zones, Da Nang and the Middle East, but their plane was diverted to Calcutta to avoid flying over Bangladesh.

Mrs. Snyder said that the different people and cultures encountered on the trip were "extremely interesting."

news about the people you know Valley Living

DEAR ABBY: This may seem like a small problem to you, but it's big to me. My husband's sister is a cat. About 20 years ago my husband and I had a big fight with her, and we decided then that we wanted nothing more to do with her, and we haven't spoken since.

Well, the other day my husband ran into this cat's 28-year-old son, who invited him to his house to meet his wife and see their new baby. And my husband went!

When he told me, I wanted to wring his neck. He said he only went to meet the boy's wife and see the baby, and he didn't think there was anything wrong with it. I became terribly upset and still am. Abby, we decided 20 years ago that we wanted nothing to do with that cat. And that includes her kids! Am I wrong to be upset? Or was my husband wrong for going to his nephew's?

STILL BURNING

DEAR STILL: Obviously the nephew didn't inherit his mother's grudge against your husband or he wouldn't have invited him to his home. I think you're wrong to be upset. Most people make enough enemies in a lifetime without going into the second generation.

DEAR ABBY: This is the most difficult letter I have ever had to write, but I desperately need help with this problem, and I can't ask anyone else:

I am the only daughter of a wonderful mother who had a hard time raising my four brothers and me. She's been a widow for many years and lives alone.

Everyone loves Mom. She is so kind and good, but there is a problem which is very embarrassing to all of us. I think Mom must have lost her sense of smell, and she doesn't realize that at times (quite often, really) she has a very offensive body odor.

We have tried hinting about how "older people" should bathe more often, but it doesn't seem to penetrate.

She can't understand why her daughters-in-law don't visit her more often or invite her to their homes. It just breaks my heart to see Mom shunned this way, yet it's so hard for me to tell her. I hate to hurt her. Can you help me?

NO NAME OR CITY

DEAR NO NAME: Tell your mother that she must bathe every day in order to keep herself sweet and fragrant. Explain that the body chemistry changes as we grow older (it does), while our sense of smell sometimes diminishes. Bring her a little gift of bubble bath, soap, dusting powder and cologne when you tell her. It would be cruel to withhold such necessary help from the dear lady.

DEAR ABBY: I have been a waitress in Burlington, In., for nearly nine years, and I have never been able to figure out why people will come into a cafe and always sit at a table where there are dirty dishes when there are plenty of clean tables they could just as easily have sat at. I have asked waitresses who work at other restaurants, and they can't figure it out either. Can you explain it? — CAROL W.

DEAR CAROL: It's probably for the same reason people prefer to sit in a crowded little kitchen even though there is a larger, more comfortable room available. Call it the coziness of clutter. And if it's any comfort to you, it's the same in New York City as it is in Burlington.

DEAR ABBY: I sympathize with the woman who doesn't like to share her recipes.

I still don't give mine out unless I'm forced to. And I have yet to hear of the copycat who is as pleased with her results as she was with mine. CAN'T SIGN MY NAME

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 6740, Los Angeles, Cal. 90060. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

A Lovelier You

ELBOWS GET A GENTLE NUDGE

By Mary Sue Miller

Loads of lotion and meticulous manicures are basic to presentable hands. Everybody knows that. But, for loveliness, do you know?

• Before your hands ever become downright dirty, you should cream them well prior to washing. This loosens soil and helps soap do its rightful job.

• Silcone lotions and creams act to protect your hands from grimy contact. Work gloves — how often have you heard it? — are the most effective hand savers.

• Products containing such healing agents as aloe vera, vitamin E, and shea butter, help soothe and protect your hands.

• Chap and irritation find a hospitable breeding ground under finger rings. So make a point of removing your bangles whenever possible before washing or lotioning your hands. Obviously it's a good idea to cleanse your rings with frequency. For their sparkle as well as yours!

• In nail health, the old-fashioned process of buffing cannot be overestimated. It increases circulation, natural color and sheen. Modern cuticle creams and nail fortifiers purport to strengthen weak nails.

• Your wrists and elbows are an extension of hand beauty. You'll see how if you point bare elbows in the direction of a mirror. Any roughness or redness simply ruins the looks of the arms. The same is improved with a twin treatment — friction cream to remove scuff and superlubricant to smooth and soothe.

You know all that? But do you practice it? Consider yourself nudged!

LOVELIER HANDS

Do you have a hand problem? Send today for LOVELIER HANDS, a leaflet that covers every step in a quest for hand beauty. It tells how to keep the skin and nails groomed — how to overcome weak nails, polish chips, discolored knuckles, prominent veins, wrinkles; how to use the hands with poise and grace. To obtain your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of this newspaper, enclosing a 10-cent self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin.

TF group conducts Rally Day

TWIN FALLS — The Women of the Moose held a Rally Day meeting Sunday at the Twin Falls Moose Home.

Mrs. Bonnie Tate, Pocatello, deputy grand, attended.

Members from the Jerome, Idaho Falls, Pocatello and Twin Falls chapters participated in the exemplifying of ritual.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Clyde Greenup, senior regent of the Twin Falls Chapter.

Ruby Murphy, Twin Falls, gave the address of welcome; with Mrs. Custer Keyes, Jerome, responding.

Mrs. Greenup spoke about the Moosehaven Furnishing Fund. Violet Miller, Pocatello, gave an address of committment.

An address on chapter changes effective July 1 was given by Mrs. Nina J. Jensen, Idaho Falls.

Mrs. Duane Heasler and Mrs. Louise Messinger, Jerome, and Mrs. Greenup were given special recognition for earning Key Awards. The address was given by Mrs. Eynon Ward, Jerome.

The midyear conference and Academy of Friendship session will be held May 6 and 7 in Jerome.

Mrs. Greenup gave a report on the conference. Ritual director for the meeting was Mrs. Claude Savert. Mrs. Kay Wilkinson, Pocatello, was pianist.

Mrs. Lewis Hoffman and Mrs. Marion Murray were in charge of registration.

Mrs. Murray and Mrs. Marion Miller decorated the luncheon tables with centerpieces of spring flowers.

Mrs. Claude Savert made arrangements for the luncheon preceding the meeting.

Setting Trick Can Be Lost

It he is playing with a poor partner he is very likely to go wrong on the theory that South might well have jumped to four spades with just a seven card suit.

If the good player is playing with a good partner there will be no way for him to go wrong. When South leads the three of hearts good player West will play the eight spot. This play will tell his partner that he has an even number of hearts. It won't require much thought on East's part to decide that this is showing four, so East will go right up with his ace, return the nine of trump and wait for the setting trick.

Marriage breakup study discussed

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A man is twice as likely as a woman to commit suicide after his marriage breaks up because men undergo more emotional strain from divorce than women do, according to a psychiatrist with extensive suicide counseling experience.

Dr. Robert E. Litman of the University of Southern California, medical director of the Los Angeles Suicide Prevention Center, spoke at a symposium on suicide prevention sponsored by the university and the County Medical Association.

He praised the change in California's divorce law, which now grants divorces based on grounds of "irreconcilable differences" rather than requiring one of the partners to prove the other was at fault in breaking up the marriage.

The change eases the pressures on recently divorced men that drive them to suicide, he said.

Divorce is a greater upheaval for a man because it is usually the man that moves out of the home, Litman said. The wife may remain behind in familiar surroundings, usually with the children and the comforts of her home, but the man has to leave and begin anew.

Under the old system of proving fault to obtain a divorce, it was usually the man who took the blame, he said.

"He felt as if he were being trampled under by wife, the courts and the lawyers, and in some cases felt like he might as well kill himself," Litman said.

"The new law is good to the extent that it eliminated much of the hostility and paranoia," he said.

Litman said that although 70 per cent of would-be suicides who call the suicide prevention center for help are women, more than half of those who carry out the threat to kill themselves are men.

Gooding contest judging set May 6

GOODING — Judging for entries in the National Grange Sewing Contest for the Gooding County Pomona Grange has been set.

Judging will be at 1:30 p.m. May 6 at the Gooding Grange Hall. The clothes will be modeled after the judging and pictures taken to be sent with the winning entries for judging by State Grange.

Each year the National Grange sponsors one of the country's largest sewing contests drawing nearly 50,000 entries from 41 states. The contest is divided into three classifications. Class A - for persons 18 years and over sewing for themselves or another person in the same age group; Class B - for persons 12 through 17 sewing for themselves or another person in the same age group; and Class C - for persons 18 years and over sewing for a person under 18. Both members and non-members of the grange may enter. Non-members must be sponsored by a grange member. Contest rules can be obtained from local grange women's activities chairmen and many fabric stores across the country. Entry deadline is April 30.

Vegetables which steam well in the oven include green, Italian and lima beans; beets, carrots, onions, parsnips, squash and turnips.

TF BPW unit observes 51st Anniversary

TWIN FALLS—The Twin Falls Business and Professional Women celebrated the 51st Anniversary of its organization with a banquet Monday night at the Hogerson Hotel, Roundup Room.

Special guests were Elizabeth Greene, South Central District director, and Doris Grimsman, state chairman of world affairs.

Mrs. Greene spoke on the new penal code and read a letter of congratulations from Gata Underwood on the success of efforts in getting the Equal Rights for Women Bill before the legislature.

Doris Grimsman spoke on the forthcoming state convention and on the importance of exchange students.

Gifts were presented to the special guests.

Mrs. Betty Bever, Department of Employment spoke on careers, discrimination and Women's Lib.

Marge Prater, beauty consultant from Top of the Stairs Beauty Salon, gave a demonstration on makeup application using Lois Adamson as her model.

Frances Buhler read "What is a Secretary" by Dan Valentine.

Members of other clubs, led by Marygrace Cox, Jerome, sang "Happy Birthday" to the Twin Falls club.

Letters of congratulations from Penny-Wise Drug and Twin Falls Rebekah Lodge were read.

Robert Kuhn, president of the Lynwood Association, and the Lynwood Safeway store furnished a large cake decorated with daffodils and the words, "Golden Years of BPW."

The numerals 51 were represented with upright plastic numerals on top of the cake.

For the 51st Anniversary celebration, 51 members and guests attended.

60th year

MR. AND MRS. Jesse W. Matthews, Burley, will observe their 60th Wedding Anniversary with an open house from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday. The event will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cleo J. Larson, 2827 Bernice Drive.

60th Anniversary open house set

BURLEY—Mr. and Mrs. Jesse W. Matthews, Burley, will be honored at an open house from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday, March 19, in honor of their 60th Wedding Anniversary.

The event will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cleo J. Larson, 2827 Bernice Drive. Friends and relatives of the couple are invited and they request no gifts.

The couple was married in Oakley, and their marriage was later solemnized in the Logan LDS Temple.

They have resided in Oakley, Marion and Burley, and in 1942 they moved to the Unity area where they have since resided.

Matthews was born at Grantsville, Utah, and attended school at Marion, Albion and the Oakley Academy. He clerked in a store for a short time and then went into farming. He remained in the farming business until 1969 and he has run 100 head of sheep until last year.

Mrs. Matthews was born at Ogden, Utah, and attended school at Ogden and Albion and completed her education at Oakley. She assisted her mother in a millinery store, which her mother owned and operated. In the early years she played the organ for the Sunday school, later was teacher in Sunday school and MIA, and was active in the LDS Church.

They are the parents of five daughters. Mrs. Howard (Raida) Halford, Mrs. Cleo J. (Nyla) Larson, Mrs. Gerald (Rachel) Larson, all Burley; Mrs. Ros (Bessie) Gronbeck, Long Beach, Calif., and Mrs. Donald (Virginia) Bade, Lima City, Mich.; three sons, Ernest Matthews, Oakland, Calif.; Gene Matthews, Fountain Valley, Calif.; and Clair Matthews, Boise. They have 40 grandchildren and 20 great grandchildren.

Open seminar set

WENDELL—A seminar open to the public entitled "A Clean River in Our Agricultural Valley" is set for 2 p.m. on March 16 at the Wendell City Hall.

The seminar is sponsored by the Home Extension Clubs of Gooding County. The program is being arranged by Mrs. Paul Kearley, Mrs. Hugh Caldwell and Mrs. Ruth Wahler, all of Wendell.

Mrs. Caldwell said the group planned the seminar to inform the public of pollution in the valley. It is a follow-up of a seminar held in Twin Falls last fall sponsored by the League of Women Voters.

The program is designed to tell the individual what he can do to combat pollution. Speakers will include Edward Koester, Gooding County agent, who will speak about "The Economic Feasibility of Cleanup;" Aldrich Bowler has chosen as his topic, "Esthetics Through Public Pressure."

POLLY'S POINTERS

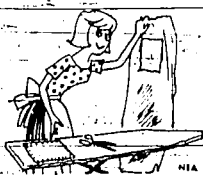

Room Redecorator Needs Helping Hand

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—As a baby sitter, my Pet Peeve is with people who are not on time. Often someone will say they will pick me up at seven o'clock so I drop my work, get dressed and am ready by a quarter to seven. Sometimes they are early and expect me to be ready whenever they come. Other times they do not show up until seven thirty, we arrive at their home and someone may be still dressing and scurrying around so it is light or later before they leave for an expensive evening of fun and I get paid only for the time I am alone and in full charge of their children. It isn't fair!—MRS. E. G.

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—I am redecorating my son's room and as I am more experienced at this I need ideas for shelf space. There is no place to put things. I would like to know how to make some kind of container for small toys so they do not get lost in the big toy box. Also, how can I utilize old diaper bags that are perfectly good except for missing handles? I am sure there are other mothers who have encountered these problems so I would appreciate any help they could give me.—S.W.

DEAR POLLY—When I am replacing an old ironing board cover with a new one I cut about a foot out of the good part of the old one and sew it on the side of the new one where the iron will stand. This saves the new cover from stains resulting from water which often drips out of the iron.—LENA

DEAR POLLY—I am answering Leesa's problem concerning her tile floor that was scratched by dragging the piano over it. When my kitchen tile was scratched by moving a stove I got wax crayons in matching colors, warmed them slightly and then carefully filled in the scratches to match the pattern colors. The top was smoothed and when the crayons hardened again the floor was waxed as usual. The marks are not even noticeable.—MRS. M. M. JI.

College survey

BOISE—A survey of transfer students at Boise State College showed that 40.6 per cent rated BSC better than colleges they attended.

This compares with 17.7 per cent who found the institution to be inferior to their previous college or university.

The survey was made by Robert S. Gibb, assistant to the president, who sampled the opinions of students who have attended other colleges and universities both within and out of Idaho before coming to Boise State.

Gibb reported the data center identified 2,210 students who had attended other institutions. From this a sample of 910 was selected at random. There were 884 questionnaires actually delivered with 324 responses.

Gibb said this is a 37.5 per cent return of questionnaires, which he terms exceptionally good in opinion survey.

Grangers divide on coyotes

RICHFIELD, D. — Lincoln-Blaine Pomona Grangers are divided over the government ruling forbidding poisoning of coyotes.

Some members went on record approving the ruling, while others, both cattlemen and sheepmen, disapproved during a heated discussion at the Pomona - medical Church, Ralph Towne, District, reminded members to sign up for the wheat and feed grain allotments at the county ASCS office by Friday.

After a loss, Richfield, displayed pictures taken at the Magic Reservoir and Wood River in the early days and of the Shoshone and Richfield business districts around the turn of the century.

The next meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. May 4 at the Hailey Grange Hall.

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, MARCH 9, 1972

CARROLL RICHTER'S HOROSCOPE
from the Carroll-Richter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is an unusually good day and evening to get your practical affairs on a firm foundation, so build a new structure for your everyday living. This can bring you the benefits you want to have in your life for a considerable period of time to come. Your most positive qualities are touched off well.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Take on some extra work that will give you more prestige and please your employer very much now. Get busy paying your bills, making collections that are long overdue. Show you are an excellent citizen.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Some new project appeals to you, but it first requires some extra study if you want to be successful, with little to see right sources of information early. Accept changes more readily and you can make your life more prosperous and easier.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Sit down with experts and talk over new ideas and then carry through with responsibilities you have that are entirely your own. Evening can be particularly fine with the one you love. A show of generosity is good.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Plan how to have better understanding with an associate where some mutual project is concerned, get better results in the future. You attain a fine meeting of minds quickly. Take it easy tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) If you sit down with co-workers and iron out points of difference, you find more headway can be made in the future. Do that shopping today for the right articles of apparel, a new chapeau that makes you feel chipper. Have fun in p.m.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) If you get your important work done early, you can then go out for the entertainment you desire. Showing particular devotion to mate brings fine results, also. Stop being so belligerent.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You are able to have things your way at home and do those things that will bring true harmony. Entertain them tonight with zip as only you know how and make others truly happy, delighted.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Much success can result from any appointments you make and keep today; whether for personal or business purposes. Cement better relations with everyone. Handle your correspondence early.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Forget all that daydreaming and get right down to brass tacks with others and add to your funds. Make the right impression on an important person in business. Get the results you seek.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Use that good judgment you have to make personal matters more as you want them to be. Out to social events in p.m. that you really like. Deepen friendships and have more happiness in the future.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Plan this day for thrashing out practical affairs and getting them in better order. You have a good adviser who can be of great assistance now with ideas. Don't turn a deaf ear to those who can come to you for aid.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You have an opportunity to spend some time with a good pal who has the know-how for getting ahead faster who will give you right ideas. The personal side of your life is as important as the business side now, so be sociable. Show true friendship.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be one of those interesting young people who will be more concerned with achieving fame than merely making money, so slant the education along whatever line is the forte here, the greatest talent. Supervise the play early in life, choose friends carefully, then your youngster can truly make a name for himself, or herself. Permit to choose own religion for best results.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

L.M. BOYD

The Training Of Young Knights

"Teach well-born boys these things they'll practice when they're grown."

Diogenes Laertius Comes clear now why all our merry-go-rounds run counterclockwise. Originally, they were toys for the boys of Europe, the noble boys. While servants turned their carousels, those youngsters rode the wooden horses, stabbing with their spears at rings on strings. Naturally counterclockwise. It was the handling of the lances. Most of the lads were right-handed. SURE DO like old Oliver Herford. He's the fellow who wrote: "God made Man, frail as a bubble... God made Love, Love made Trouble... God made the Vine; was it a sin... That Man made Wine to drown Trouble in?"

WORLD'S tallest pyramid is only about 200 times the height of the average fellow. But the world's tallest termite hill is thousands of times the height of the average termite. Humbling.

QUERIES

Q. "What proportion of the unhappy souls who jump off San Francisco's Golden Gate Bridge are women?"

A. "One out of every four."

Q. "How long could the city of San Francisco last without drinking water?"

A. A day maybe. But in any case, longer than it could last without fire water, I've heard.

WISH SOME knowledgeable client would tell me why the Norway rat, which doesn't come from Norway, is so-called.

NOT COUNTING Jesus, more songs have been written about Charles Lindbergh than about any other man in history. It's said.

ON PENNIES, it's reported, the "In God We Trust" is for the benefit of those who use them for fuses.

DISCONTENT

Two out of five married grownups say they'd do it differently, if they had another chance. First thing they'd do differently, they say, is get more education. Second thing is marry somebody else. Mostly the women say they'd marry older men. The men say they'd walk, then marry younger women. Third thing is go into a different line of work. So contend the surveytakers.

IT'S NOT enough to report the see-through blouse is outlawed in Providence, R. I. Any feminine transparent apparel is outlawed there. Even nylon stockings, technically.

ONCE EVERY three years, I ask plaintively, can anybody think of a word that rhymes with "month"? Nobody ever can, nobody, nobody.

PECULIARLY, there are towns in Texas closer to the Atlantic Ocean than to the city of El Paso.
