Wallace terms win 'dawn of new day'

MIAMI (UPI) — Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace said today that his sweeping victory in Florida's Democratic presidential primary marked "the beginning of a new day in the political history of this country."

But Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota argued that his own second-place finish proves "that Hubert Humphrey is a viable candidate and that he has to be reckoned with and that this is a wide-open campaign."

Humphrey said Wallace has no chance at all of winning the Democratic presidential nomination "and I think he knows that."

Wallace's steamroller victory shattered the claim of Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine for the party's front-runner position. Humphrey said the badly beaten Muskie "must be disappointed" in having won only 9 per cent of the vote, well behind Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington.

Wallace won 75 delegates to the Democratic convention to six for Humphrey. He won 42 per cent of the state, and carried every congressional district except one in the Miami Beach area.

But Humphrey dismissed his showing as a "protest vote."

"He doesn't present the tradition of the Democratic party and the party is not going to nominate him," he told reporters at Miami International Airport.

Humphrey said the "lesson" of Tuesday's voting and of the past is "that the Democrats had better start concentrating on a candidate who can win."

But a sleepy-eyed Wallace told reporters in Orlando, "You witnessed the beginning of a new day in the political history of this country and a change in direction for both political parties."

Muskie, after the results were in, denounced Wallace as a "demagogue of the worst possible kind."

Replied Wallace today: "I'm sorry the senator is frustrated. I don't mean to make light of it. He's a fine man, but when you get in this game you have to be able to take it as well as dish it out."

Wallace said he would open his campaign on March 22 to win Wisconsin's April 4 primary. Humphrey planned to fly to Washington and then to Wisconsin to begin campaigning.

Wallace collected 514,722 votes, all but one precinct reporting. Humphrey had 231,015. Jackson surprised with 167,535 votes, 13 per cent. Muskie had 109,461 votes, 9 per cent.

Next came New York Mayor John V. Lindsay and Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota, with 81,075 and 74,832 votes respectively. Black Congresswoman Shirley Chisholm of New York had 4 per cent of the votes.

The results, closely watched by politicians over the country, even further confused the Democratic presidential sweepstakes and left the party split without a dominant candidate for the nomination.

"My situation looks hearty, encouraging and building," said Humphrey. Wallace pledged, "We shall continue our campaign for God and country," and said that the other Democratic candidates "may want to get together with me now. I think all of them have been badly hurt."

Muskie said his own loss did not disturb him as much as the victory by Wallace, whom he bitterly attacked as "a demagogue of the worst possible kind."

A grim Muskie conceded defeat and lashed out at Wallace as "a man who believes the way to advance himself is to exploit fear."

Never mentioning the other candidates, Muskie said, "I pledge to you tonight that as long as his kind of politics, his values threaten the nobility of this country, I will fight him with everything I've got."

In next week's Illinois primary, only Muskie and former Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy are entered in the presidential preference test and Muskie and Sen. George S. McGovern are the only ones seeking convention delegates. The entire field, however, is entered in the April 4 Wisconsin primary.

Pay Board mulls dock worker wage increase

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Pay Board called a closed meeting today to tackle for the second day in a row its toughest problem to date—the contract settlement that ended the record-long West Coast dock strike.

The board met for three hours in an unusual public session Tuesday, and followed that by a two-hour executive meeting, but failed to decide whether to accept the contract or soften it and risk a re-run of the recent protracted waterfront tieup.

If the panel approves the one-year contract, now estimated by Pay Board analysts at 21.5 per cent in wage and fringe benefits, it risks setting an inflationary precedent for other large wage settlements waiting in the wings.

But if the board says the longshoremen must stick firmly to government wage control guidelines, the dock workers will qualify for only an 8.9 per cent combined increase. This, or even a slight modification of the contract, likely would incur the wrath of Longshore leader Harry Bridges.

Bridges, president of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union (ILWU), has said that East Coast dock workers would join his troops in a nationwide waterfront strike if the board cuts the contract "by as much as one cent."

But Bridges made no threats Tuesday when he went before the board. In his testimony he calmly asked the board to relax its guidelines in this case because of a dramatic improvement in dock worker efficiency in recent years.

E. J. Flynn, president of the Pacific Maritime Association (PMA), the bargaining group for West Coast steam ship companies, backed up Bridges on this point. The Pay Board's own staff also offered its endorsement.

Viet battle tempo rises

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. warplanes and South Vietnamese ground troops battled Communist forces on three widely-separated Indochina fronts today, reportedly killing more than 310 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong in some of the year's heaviest fighting.

American bombers ripped apart two Viet Cong battalions in eastern Cambodia, Saigon paratroopers tangled with one of North Vietnam's elite divisions in the Central Highlands, and guerrillas kept up a massive bombardment of government outposts below the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ).

Despite the heavy fighting, the U.S. command announced one of the biggest pullouts of American units from the war zone and began breaking up the last two U.S. combat brigades still in Vietnam. The deactivation of 42 Army and Air Force units comprising 5,700 men was the largest single "standdown" since 6,100 men were deactivated last July.

In eastern Cambodia, B52 bombers following up a tip from government spotter planes pounded two guerrilla battalions encamped about six miles from the South Vietnam border. Spotter planes flying over the target area, 75 miles northwest of Saigon, after the attack reported seeing about 100 bodies amid the rubble.

Gem Senate backs Salmon Falls plan

BOISE (UPI) — The senate approved by voice vote today a memorial to Congress urging implementation and funding of the Salmon Falls Division project for Twin Falls County.

Sen. Richard High, R-Twin Falls, said the project to divert surplus flow from the Snake River into the area had been under study by the Bureau of Reclamation for 15 years.

Presently, High said, the U.S. Senate Interior Committee is holding hearings to determine whether to authorize the project.

Sen. John Barker, R-Buhl, said such a project "helps the whole state of Idaho."

Mitchell returns

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Judiciary Committee called former attorney general John N. Mitchell back for more questions today about the out-of-court settlement of a billion dollar antitrust suit against International Telephone and Telegraph (ITT).

And lined up behind Mitchell as the next witness in the committee's investigation of whether there was any improper influence brought to bear in the settlement was ITT President Harold S. Geneen.

Mitchell told the committee Tuesday he had no part whatever in the antitrust settlement and no knowledge of any ITT offer to provide financial support for the GOP National Convention this summer in San Diego, Calif.

Klein Dienst has been nominated to succeed Mitchell as attorney general.

Nixon triumphs on GOP ballot

MIAMI (UPI) — President Nixon won a lopsided victory in the Republican presidential primary Tuesday night, outpolling the combined totals of liberal Paul McCloskey and conservative John Ashbrook by nearly a nine-to-one margin in Florida.

With 99 per cent of the state's precincts in, Nixon had 357,230 votes or 87 per cent to 16,978 or 4 per cent for McCloskey and 35,974 or 9 per cent for Ashbrook.

Nixon's margin was of rout proportions in every one of Florida's 12 congressional districts.

McCloskey had dropped out of the campaign last week, citing financial difficulties, but his name remained on the Florida ballot.

McCloskey campaigned only briefly in Florida before dropping out. Ashbrook's campaign also did not compare in magnitude with some of the efforts made by Democrats. Nixon's only campaign effort was a "presidential appreciation rally" in Miami Thursday, at which he did not appear.

Rep. C.W. "Bill" Young, R-Fla., called the vote a "clear endorsement ... of the policies and leadership of President Nixon."

Toll hits 106 in jet crash

MANAMA, Bahrain (UPI) — A Danish Caravelle charter jetliner flying holidaymakers home from Ceylon crashed Tuesday night near Dubai in the Persian Gulf, apparently killing all six crewmembers and six passengers, officials said today.

A report that one man had survived the crash in the mountains some 40 miles east of Dubai airport was not confirmed.

Sterling Airways, the Danish charter airline which owned the plane, and the Tjaereborg Travel Agency in Copenhagen, which had chartered it, said there appeared to be no survivors.

"As far as we have learned from our man in Dubai, there are no survivors," a spokesman for both companies said.

The passengers included 68 Danes, 20 Swedes, 12 Norwegians, four Finns and two Germans while the six crewmembers were all Danes, the airline said.

The passengers were returning from a two-week holiday in Colombo, Ceylon, flying via Bombay and Dubai to Copenhagen. The jetliner was scheduled to make a refueling stop at Dubai.

Airport officials said they lost radio contact with the airliner only minutes before it was to land. The acting airport director said "the last radio message we had from the pilot was: 'I am landing in four minutes.' Then the plane just disappeared."

He said the plane crashed at 8:40 p.m. Tuesday in hilly terrain three or four miles from the coast.

Some 20 planes and helicopters started a search for the wreckage, which was located this morning by a helicopter pilot.

Florida voters reject busing

MIAMI (UPI) — Florida voters are against busing black and white children to achieve racial balance in schools, but they do not want to return to a segregated public school system.

That sentiment was expressed resoundingly Tuesday in a "straw vote" tacked onto the Florida presidential primary ballot, which also showed heavy support for a constitutional amendment to return prayer to the classroom.

The "straw vote" had no binding effect on any legislative or judicial body, but it was expected to have political repercussions throughout the country.

Slots legal under 'new' Gem code

By RICHARD CIARNOCK
BOISE (UPI) — If you think the new criminal code requires too many amendments to make it sensible, you should read the bill to reenact the old laws.

While the legislature over the years has made many changes in Idaho's penal code it often has not bothered to remove the old laws from the books — relying on the later act to take precedence.

Thus just before the old code was repealed at midnight last Dec. 31 and the new one instituted the statutes contained a number of outdated laws. In restoring the code as it was on Dec. 31, the bill drafters picked up a lot of these outdated laws which, if enacted now, will supersede many enacted over the years to replace them.

Not only will enactment of Senate Bill 1003 in its present form outlaw pari-mutuel betting on horse races it will "legalize" unconstitutional punchboards and slot machines.

Idaho's Supreme Court, in a landmark case in the early 1950's, held that — legislative language notwithstanding — punchboards and slots were lotteries and therefore unconstitutional. It said they met the three criteria of chance, consideration and prize.

However, the legislature never bothered to remove the punchboard and slot machine law from the books and Senate Bill 1003 picks it up again.

In fact, this bill picks up a lot of curious sections of the old Idaho criminal code.

For instance, it outlaws as a misdemeanor betting on elections — not just for money but betting period. And it makes it illegal for any person to "attempt to influence the vote of any elector by means of a promise or a favor."

That would outlaw campaigning for public office as we know it in Idaho today.

Watchful of public morals, the bill bans pool and billiard games on Sunday or after midnight on other days if beer, liquor or wine is sold on the premises. It also bans use of screens or blinds which prevent passers-by from looking into such places.

With language which probably would apply to most restaurants, bus stations and the like in Idaho it makes it a misdemeanor to place a tobacco vending machine in a spot accessible to persons under 18.

Section 18-6408 of the proposed code provides for a prison term of up to two years for any one who engages in, instigates, encourages or promotes any ring or prize fight or any other premeditated fight or contention without deadly weapons. Presumably, this would outlaw not only prize fights but amateur boxing and wrestling.

Ever wary of those dastardly persons who might harm animals or disturb the dead, the bill makes it a misdemeanor to kill, wound or trap any bird other than swallows or English sparrows or destroy the nests of any bird swallows or English sparrows within any public cemetery or burying ground.

Howard Hughes leaves hideout

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (UPI)—Howard Hughes has left his latest hideout. Destination: unknown—but at least he gave what may be the first outsider in years a look at him.

Turner B. Shelton, U.S. ambassador to Nicaragua, a movie producer who became a diplomat, was on hand Monday night when the 66-year-old billionaire reclusé met with Nicaraguan President Anastasio Somoza. Shelton said Tuesday that Hughes wears a small goatee, a pointed beard and has close-cropped hair flecked with white.

"He looks very well, very alert and he is very personable," Shelton told UPI. "He looked quite healthy."

The ambassador said Hughes left his Central American capital where he has been for the past four weeks for an unknown destination Monday night. One source said Hughes had gone to Miami, but a check of customs and aviation authorities in the area gave no indication he actually had arrived.

Somoza said that several of Hughes' aides had remained behind to continue business discussions. The president owns the national airline, Lanica, while Hughes owns Air West. There have been reports of a possible merger.

Somoza said Hughes told him he was looking forward with keen anticipation to having the opportunity to returning to Nicaragua soon.

For the past 15 years, few—if any—outsiders have seen Hughes.

Space agency switches to solid fuel rockets

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Departing from past Manned Space Flight Practices, the U.S. Space Agency today announced it has chosen solid propellant rockets rather than a liquid-fuel rocket to hurl its space shuttle into orbit.

Dr. James C. Fletcher, National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) chief, said the switch to solid rockets would cut development costs for the space shuttle by about $350 million and would cause only a slight increase in the price tag of each mission when compared to liquid fuel boosters.

The booster decision settles the principal question left open for further study at the time the decision to proceed with the development of the space shuttle was announced by President Nixon in January, Fletcher said.

Hussein plans restructuring

BEIRUT (UPI)—King Hussein's plan to restructure Jordan into a federal state could pave the way for a peace settlement with Israel, according to political sources in Beirut.

The Jordanians heatedly deny that this is their intention and a government spokesman said today the king's move was a hardening of Jordan's position against Israel.

Nevertheless the plan could have no doubt attractions for the Israelis, the sources said. Under the Hussein plan for a "United Arab Kingdom," the Palestinian West Bank, once it is free of Israeli occupation troops, will get a government of its own, as will the Jordanian East Bank. Each will be responsible to a central council in Amman with representatives from each bank.

Workers give up pay hikes

DAYTON, Ohio (UPI)—Some 550 laid-off workers returned to their jobs at the Frigidaire Division of General Motors Tuesday after fellow workers voted to give up pay hikes.

The company and the union agreed last fall that jobs might be lost permanently due to lower-wage foreign competition if scheduled wage increases took effect.

Kidwell announces for House

BOISE — Senate Majority Leader Wayne Kidwell today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for the House of Representatives from Idaho's First District.

Kidwell said that, with the legislature drawing to a close, it was time for him to make his future intentions known and to end speculation of his intention to seek the U.S. Congressional seat.

Kidwell, a former Ada County prosecuting attorney and two-term state senator, made the announcement at news conferences in Boise, Lewiston, Spokane and Coeur d'Alene.

Kidwell said he would propose federal legislation allowing certain highways, such as U.S. 95, to qualify for interstate funds for improvement; that he favors legislation imposing a moratorium on dam building on the Middle Snake River, but with an "escape valve" to meet emergencies such as economic survival; and that he proposes a complete discussion of federal land use proposals before Congress, considering needs and philosophy of Idahoans.

Kidwell said he would work on legislation insuring that transportation strikes can not "put the death grip" on the economy of small states such as Idaho.

Auxiliary meets in Twin Falls

TWIN FALLS — Guests from Burley, Elmer and Buhl attended the dinner meeting of Magic Valley Barracks' 509 and Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Monday at the IOOF Temple.

Route Of The Sweaty Primary

WASHINGTON — Forget New Hampshire and Florida for the moment. Indeed, by Democratic national convention time in July, there is the finite possibility that the party's delegates will find meaningless the whole body-numbing, sweaty primary route. Drunk with the wine of "participatory politics" — a phrase undoubtedly minted by some confused academic — the Democrats have created a monster by reforming the method of selecting convention delegates. If the new formula is followed to the letter, the poor delegates will still be wrangling in Miami Beach when winter room rates are invoked. Would you believe it could take the Democrats two or three months to nominate a President?

Unfortunately, this is not a wild flight into hyperbole. One merely needs to refer to the statement of Sen. Fred Harris of Oklahoma that he will challenge the seating of any state delegation that is not approximately 53 per cent female to grasp the horror of the situation.

Harris is simply swearing fealty to the new rules. They say there must be "the fullest representation of the oppressed minorities" at Miami Beach. Women represent rough 53 per cent of the national population. Meanwhile, the 17 other specific rules change take care of blacks, youth and practically everybody else except maybe pool hall hustlers. And in big bold print the regulations proclaim that each state must have adopted "participatory" practices or face a credential fight.

Already, the Americans for Democratic Action has charged that New Hampshire, Ohio, Illinois, and the District of Columbia have violated the new politics. Credentials challenges are certain in Texas, Louisiana and Arizona.

The ADA and Fred Harris will have plenty of help in creating chaos out of order. Undoubtedly there will be several hundred black delegates at Miami Beach, and Congress' Black Caucus will have its own political axe to grind. Rep. Shirley Chisholm, the black feminist who is running for President, will be heard, and so will Rep. Bella Abzug, whose decimal range makes of Mrs. Chisholm a character out of "Little Women." Anybody want to bet that youth, both genuine and ersatz will keep quiet?

Then there will be the George Wallace delegates. The Alabama governor knows he hasn't a chance at the Presidential nomination, with both the liberals and the party bosses united in ironic matrimony to bar his way. But unless he falls on his face in the meantime, Wallace at least will be poised to demand that some of his views be represented — after all, he's a minority, too — and the little slugger has never backed away from a fight.

Perhaps nobody can save the convention from degenerating into a howling mob that will wreck the party and insure the reelection of President Nixon, but one man will be in there trying. This would be National Chairman Larry O'Brien, who is determined — as he puts it — not to "let my party blow its chance to elect a President."

O'Brien probably is the Democrats' only hope. Acting months ago, he seized control of the convention's mechanics — corn-ventations, schedule, and housing and transportation accommodations. O'Brien has it in his power to arrange matters so that debate can be cut off by an exercise of raw political autocracy. The dissenters could sue later, but at least the party would have a nominee.

The question is whether O'Brien will dare to tan the route outlawed by the advocates of "participatory politics." Well, O'Brien's fibers are tough and the convention will be his last as party chairman. More important, he is a man who faces facts, and as the situation now appears he will have to choose between running the show or tending by while the convention is tied up for weeks or months by credentials challenges. An orderly technician, Larry O'Brien has no taste for anarchy.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Thyroid Gland

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is a "cold nodule"? Would you comment broadly on its symptoms, causes, where it is and what to do? — M. B.

I presume you refer to a nodule in the thyroid gland, as that is the principal meaning of a cold nodule.

The thyroid gland, being a gland that secretes a substance (in this case, the thyroid hormone), is subject to formation of cysts and nodules. Many of these nodules can be felt, in the form of lumps in the thyroid. — A procedure in determining the nature of a nodule is to give the patient radioactive iodine. The thyroid avidly absorbs iodine. Therefore, the radioactive iodine will be distributed quickly through the gland. Then the gland is "scanned" by use of an instrument that measures the distribution of the iodine.

A "cold" nodule does not absorb the iodine. A "hot" one does. Therefore a "cold" nodule can be identified in the scanning process because that area will not give off enough radiation to show.

Nodules may be single or multiple; they may or may not cause any symptoms other than being felt as lumps.

The significance of a cold nodule is that it has a great possibility of being cancerous, but a "hot" one does not. Therefore, a cold nodule usually is removed surgically as a matter of safety, whereas other treatments are adequate, as a rule, when hot nodules are found.

"Bad Breath Can Be Corrected" is the title of Dr. Thosteson's booklet, explaining the causes and cure of bad breath. For a copy write to him in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Japan Gains

Between 1966 and 1970, reports Industry Week magazine, Japan racked up productivity gains on an astonishing average of 14.7 per cent annually.

In contrast, productivity in the United States increased at an annual rate of little more than 2 per cent in the same period.

What this means is that in each of those years, Japan produced nearly 15 per cent more goods for the same amount of labor and investment than it took to produce 15 per cent fewer goods in the previous year. Or to put it another way, Japan could have produced the same amount of goods each year at 15 per cent lower cost than in each previous year.

It is this productivity, says the magazine, that has enabled Japan to capture large areas of the U. S. market.

Fueling Japan's productivity has been the world's highest level of investment in new plants and equipment amounting to about 33 per cent of gross national product throughout the '60s. The U. S. investment rate of 16 per cent was among the lowest for industrial countries.

This difference in investment levels is partly a result of another difference, says Industry Week. In Japan, labor, industry and government have a strong sense of national purpose and are united in a drive for common goals. In the United States, adversary relationships dominate interaction among the three sectors.

(One recent "adversary relationship" was the West Coast dock strike, longest and most expensive in U. S. history. According to Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz, it cost U. S. farmers at least $1 billion in lost sales.)

Japanese workers are "dismayed" by the resistance of American workers to automation, claims the magazine. The Japanese regard more efficient tools as a way to increase production, lower costs and thereby increase sales.

They consider restrictive work rules, long strikes and workers doing less than they are capable of doing as detrimental to their companies, and they have the curious idea that what is detrimental to their companies will eventually be detrimental to themselves.

Strange people, these Japanese. Strange people, these Americans.

The Park Pass

The gatekeepers at national parks and forests have resumed collecting entrance fees from all comers because Congress has allowed the Golden Eagle Passport law to expire again.

The Golden Eagle, a sort of season pass to national recreation areas, was first created in 1964. By now, it can hardly be called an experimental idea. Yet Congress has never passed a permanent authorization bill.

Year after year, springtime tourists have been denied the advantages of using Golden Eagle Passports because Congress had let the program expire, and then delayed action on a renewal bill until June or July. Even then, it required strong pressure from travel-oriented organizations.

This year, Congress should remove any time limit from the bill to revive the park passports. The present on-again, off-again system is unfair to those who use federal recreation areas in the first half of each year.

RAY CROMLEY

Washington Word

WASHINGTON (NEA) — However ambiguous the Nixon-Chou communiqué on the point, this reporter has been assured by Pentagon, State Department and White House sources the United States will use military force, if necessary, to prevent invasion of Taiwan.

Military aid to Chiang Kai-shek will continue, U. S. private investment in Taiwan will be encouraged and guarantees provided for those investments. The United States will reduce its forces only so far as Taiwan's safety permits. The decision was made and is closed months ago — well before the Peking trip — as part of Nixon's low-profile foreign policy.

There are 8,000 U. S. military men and women on the island. Two-thirds are involved in overall West Pacific defense operations and can work as well in other locations in the Far East. One-third are primarily concerned with Taiwan defense. As the Nationalist Chinese become proficient in certain military specialties, the need for the 2,700 will disappear.

Chou En-lai's insistence on putting down Taiwan is easily explained. It is a thorn in Peking's side. It offers the Chinese people an alternative to Communism. And that alternative has been doing remarkably well.

Investigators just back from the Far East tell this reporter that among the world's underdeveloped countries they've studied, Taiwan has accomplished the most in recent years to bring up the standard of living of the lower half of the population — and reduce the gap between the rich and the poor.

Real per capita income has been growing by 4.5 per cent a year and is now double what it was a decade ago. Now at about $320 per capita, it is roughly three times that on the mainland, and growing much more rapidly. Taiwan's per capita is expected to reach $1,000 by 1980.

Land reform has been effective. Nearly 80 per cent of the farmers on the island own their own land. Unemployment is low. Inflation has been held in check. Nine years of education are required and free.

Taiwan maintains one of the world's most effective aid programs. Dollarwise, the program is small, but it focuses on rice production, in which the Chinese and Taiwan have considerable expertise. Agricultural aid now goes to 30 nations in Africa, Latin America and Asia.

As on the mainland, the government is dominated by older men. But a 1971 study reported in the British scholarly journal, China Quarterly, says "a group of intelligent, well-educated and relatively young technical experts have moved into top leadership positions and are having a substantial impact on policy-making."

The study goes on to say that while Chiang's mainlanders dominate the political system, explicit and not insignificant steps are being taken to increase Taiwanese participation.

A U. S. study reports that while Taiwanese do not play an important role in the central government and hold only three cabinet portfolios, they do hold most of the elective and appointive positions at the provincial and local levels. "Taiwanese are mayors of all five cities, county magistrates of 15 of the 16 counties and occupants of most of the seats in the Provincial Assembly."

Presidential Series

Sam Patrick

Wallace Patterson

PRESIDENTS OF MANIFEST DESTINY, an illuminating and historical election year series based on the times and lives of the various men chosen to lead the Republic, will appear in the Times-News beginning soon.

PRESIDENTS OF MANIFEST DESTINY is produced by the same award-winning team which developed the nationally acclaimed presidential series, "The Loyal Opposition." It is written by Wallace Patterson, author, historian and consultant in psychology and education for the Bureau of Auditory Education. He is the co-founder of Creative Enterprises, which applies modern technology to the creation of recorded educational materials.

Patterson is currently working on an intriguing book based on the extent to which each President's personality affected his performance in office and place in history.

The series' illustrations are by Sam Patrick, three-time winner of the Freedoms Foundation award for his syndicated newspaper series "Our Presidents," "Jesus Loved Them" and "The Loyal Opposition," sharing the last named with Patterson. He has had a long career as staff artist for the Los Angeles Times.

PRESIDENTS OF MANIFEST DESTINY shows how presidential power developed and how the Chief Executives used that power, both wisely and unwisely, to influence the course of history. It avoids the drybiographical approach found in so many textbooks (students and teachers, please note) and instead focuses on what major issues faced each President when he took office and how capably he coped with these issues.

Election year 1972 will mark the 47th presidential election of our Republic, and PRESIDENTS OF MANIFEST DESTINY will enable readers of The Times-News to examine the course of events and personalities that shaped the last 106 years of our history.

Plan on taking this educational junk at our presidential history each weekend — an election-year exclusive appearing only in the pages of the Times-News.

MR. SPECTATOR

St. Patrick's Day

Well, we received an invitation to join in "what will be the world's greatest event since the discovery of the Shamrock or the invention of the brick."

The proposition is to convince the United States government that March 17, St. Patrick's Day, should be a legal holiday. That those who have to work on that day would be paid time and one-half. It was also mentioned that there was a campaign afoot to make Ireland the 51st state.

Honorary national chairman of all this is Pat O'Brien, the movie star most of the oldsters know.

From the letter we received it is difficult to tell if the project is legitimate or all in fun. One sentence of the letter is serious and the next is slightly silly. For instance, one that says an official holiday would cause the banks to close and allow the bankers to go to church "because the world would be improved if we could lure the bankers into church."

To which Mr. Spectator is forced to add — we know quite a few regular church-attending bankers in Twin Falls and in other Magic Valley towns!

So with that thought, we will leave you!

WE POINT OUT

Mr. Spectator points out that the earth, as 1972 graduates will soon learn, is a big ball which revolves on its taxes.

GIVEAWAY DEPT.

We have three adorable puppies to give away. They are about five and one-half weeks old and live at 196 Blue Lakes Blvd. North in Twin Falls. Their telephone is 733-6484.

We have four kittens needing good homes. They are just over four months old and box trained. Any interested person may call 326-4837 or see them at 620 Midway in Filer.

We have a lovely female German Shorthair to give away. Has a real good disposition, young and friendly and likes children. Call 886-2572 in Shoshone and ask for R. Drake.

TODAY'S CHUCKLES

Husband to wife: "What do you say we take the money we have been saving for a new car and blow it in on a movie?"

Then there are some men who permit women to make fools of them. Others, Mr. Spectator knows, are the do-it-yourself type.

TF health planning agency aired

TWIN FALLS — A health planning meeting is planned next month in Twin Falls to attempt to form a Comprehensive Health Planning Agency in Magic Valley.

Blaine Durrant, Pocatello, executive director of the Southeastern Idaho Center for Health Resources, said such an agency was set up in the eight counties surrounding Pocatello last month.

An application for recognition as such an agency and federal funding for the agency was submitted in that region,

Durrant said, and it is hopeful the same thing will happen in Magic Valley.

Most of the western part of the state is organized in health agencies, Durrant said, "Most everything in health care has to be approved or passed on by a health planning council."

Durrant said.

What this means, he said, is when applications are submitted by comprehensive health planning people, the application has to go to Boise for their review.

Durrant said by setting up gencies in other areas of the state "we can control our own destiny." He said review by a local board is preferable because these boards are more familiar with problems in each particular area.

The organizational meeting in Twin Falls is set for 7:30 p.m.

April 5 at Room 110, Shields Academic Building, College of Southern Idaho.

Durrant said "we hope to come up with a viable group, a steering committee, which can make eventual preparation of an application."

This, he said, will tend to unite the eight Magic Valley counties of Camas, Cassia, Gooding, Jerome, Lincoln, Minidoka and Twin Falls, together. He said each county now has its own health planning group, but an area-wide agency is needed to take an overall look at health problems.

Citation given Jerome woman

JEROME — Sharon Kay Nash, 32, Jerome, was cited for failure to keep her vehicle under control Tuesday morning.

The citation stemmed from a car-pickup accident in which the car she was driving struck the rear of a pickup owned by Michael Nash.

The pickup, which was parked at the time of the accident, knocked down about 20 feet of picket fence and struck the corner of a house owned by Rodney Paul at 109 E. Ave. E.

According to detective Ernest Cowles, Mrs. Nash's car struck the rear-end of the pickup, knocking it into the northeast corner of the house where it penetrated about two inches.

TF man receives minor injuries

TWIN FALLS — A Twin Falls man received minor injuries in a one-car accident at the College of Southern Idaho Tuesday.

Seferino Cuellar, 20, was charged with driving while intoxicated and driving with a suspended license.

Cuellar was apparently making a left hand turn from one roadway of the CSI parking lot into another roadway of the main entrance.

According to Twin Falls Police, Cuellar missed the turn and ran up over the curbing, running over some shrubbery and hitting a light pole head-on.

He was dismissed following treatment at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital.

All-white jury hears Davis case

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI)—Angela Davis said she is convinced she cannot get a fair trial in middle-class Santa Clara County, but believes the all-white jury sworn in to hear her case "will do their best."

Eight women and four men, including one Mexican-American, were accepted by both sides Tuesday at the murder, kidnapping and conspiracy trial of Miss Davis, 28, a black woman and an avowed Communist. Selection of four alternates was expected to be completed today or Thursday and testimony could begin as early as Monday.

The trial, now in its third week, had been expected to bog down over jury selection for months.

Miss Davis stood up in court to formally accept the jury.

Tuesday after a surprise agreement was worked out between the prosecution and defense during a 45-minute conference with Judge Richard E. Arnason.

The former UCLA philosophy instructor, who is charged with supplying the guns in the Marin County courthouse shootings of 1970, addressed the bench in clear, matter-of-fact tones:

Viet peace talk stalemate ends

PARIS (UPI)—Communist representatives at the Vietnam peace talks agreed today to resume the sessions Thursday, ending a month-long stalemate.

The U.S. and South Vietnamese delegations, which boycotted the session last week to protest "recent official announcements from Hanoi," suggested both sides meet this week to get the talks moving again.

The Communist decision to attend this week's session was announced in an official statement from the Viet Cong delegation, which traditionally speaks also for the North Vietnamese group.

"The delegation of the Provisional Revolutionary Government of South Vietnam to (the) Paris Conference on Vietnam will participate in the 14th session of the conference, Thursday, March 16, 1972, as usual," the Viet Cong statement said.

Stephen Ledogar, official spokesman for the U.S. delegation, said the statement indicated the talks would resume. "That makes me think there is a meeting agreed for tomorrow. We'll see," he said.

If the talks resume, it will mark the 14th meeting since negotiations started three years ago. The last full session was on Feb. 10.

Serves sentence

NEW YORK (UPI)—The U.S. Court of Appeals Tuesday reinstated a 30-day contempt of court jail sentence given Edwin A. Goodman, manager of radio station WBAI-FM, for refusing to turn over to the prosecutor tapes recorded during a prison uprising.

Goodman began serving the sentence March 4, but was released two days later on a writ of habeas corpus granted by a federal judge.

However, the U.S. Court of Appeals in New York reinstated the jail sentence and gave Goodman 48 hours to appeal to the Appellate Division of the state Supreme Court.

Jackie completes 5 days of query

NEW YORK (UPI)—Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis Tuesday completing five days of cross-examination in her suit to put a distance of 300 feet between herself and free lance photographer Ronald Galella.

Galella, an aggressive free lancer who for some time has earned an estimated $40,000 a year photographing the former First Lady, is counter-suing for $1.3 million. He contends that his livelihood would be threatened if U.S. District Court Judge Irving R. Cooper rules for Mrs. Onassis.

During cross-examination by Galella's attorney, Alfred F. Julien, Mrs. Onassis conceded she may have embellished her previous testimony about an encounter with Galella at P.J. Clarke's Bar on the East Side.

In the past direct testimony, Mrs. Onassis said Galella's picture taking through a window of Clarke's had so disturbed her that she had a window blind pulled down and moved with her husband, Greek shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis, to another table.

But under cross-examination Tuesday, she said "there may be no blinds at the restaurant."

A manager at Clarke's said there were shades which could be lowered on all the windows, when queried by newsmen.

Guilty verdict

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The last of the series of nine murder cases involving Charles Manson and his disciples ended Tuesday in a guilty verdict.

Bruce Davis, 28, a follower of Manson, the convicted mastermind of the Sharon Tate killings, was convicted of two other slayings and a conspiracy count.

The guilty verdict brought to a conclusion the murder trials involving the so-called "Manson Family," although some of its members face lesser charges. Davis was convicted of the 1969 killings of musician Gary Hinman and ranch hand Donald "Shorty" Shea. Both victims became involved with Manson around the time of the Tate-Labianca murders.

Mistrial motion denied

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI)—The Harrisburg Seven defense promised to spell out in a formal motion today instances of courtroom conduct in which it charged a federal judge allowed the star government witness liberties "unheard of in jurisprudence."

Defense attorney Paul O'Dwyer, whose motion for a mistrial was denied by Judge

R. Dixon Herman Tuesday during a heated exchange in which O'Dwyer was threatened with a contempt citation, said he would file the motion in written form, documenting it with excerpts from the testimony of Boyd F. Douglas Jr.

Douglas, a paid FBI informer, has testified he smuggled out of prison letters from the Rev. Philip F. Berrigan to six other antiwar activists. The seven are charged with plotting to kidnap presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger and blow up Washington heating tunnels.

Douglas was in his 18th consecutive day as a witness today, his seventh on cross-examination. It was his conduct under questioning and an alleged "relationship between the witness and the court" that sparked O'Dwyer's outburst. The nine-woman, three-man jury had not returned to the courtroom from a recess but Douglas was back on the stand talking to the judge when the white-haired O'Dwyer arose and objected that the judge's witness colloquy was not being entered in the court record.

2 US narcotics agents expelled

PANAMA CITY (UPI)—Panama's foreign minister Tuesday night expelled two U.S. narcotics agents "for intervention in Panamanian internal affairs."

The order stemmed from a syndicated column written by Jack Anderson accusing high Panamanian officials—including Foreign Minister Juan Antonio Tack—of being implicated in heroin smuggling. Anderson's column also implicated Moises Torrijos, brother of Panamanian Strongman Gen. Omar Torrijos.

Narcotics agents Ruben Monzon and Wilbur Plase, both assigned to the U.S. Embassy, were given 24 hours to leave Panama in a bitter announcement read over Panamanian television.

A U.S. embassy spokesman said Monzon and Plase were classified as "attaches" but were in Panama on assignment from the U.S. Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs. He said both men would probably leave the country today.

Biggest war zone pullout

SAIGON (UPI)—The U.S. command announced one of the biggest pullouts of American units from the war zone today and began breaking up the last two American ground combat brigades left in Vietnam.

A command communique reported the deactivation of 42 Army and Air Force units with a total of 5,700 men, second in size to the 42 units and 6,400 men that "stood down" last July.

The mass withdrawal included the pullouts of one battalion each from the last two U.S. ground combat brigades left in Vietnam—the 196th Infantry Brigade operating west of Da Nang and the 3rd Brigade of the 1st Air Cavalry division operating north of Saigon.

A spokesman said the latest pullout left the United States with only seven ground combat battalions in Vietnam—three with the 196th and four with the 3rd Brigade—down from a high of 112 at the peak of U.S. involvement in 1969.

by Matthew

MATTHEW
One of the most colorful disciples, next to St. Peter, was Matthew, son of Alphaeus. Earlier known as Levi, the tax collector, he changed his life and his name to become a disciple of Jesus. As a Jew who had worked for the despised Romans, he was considered a turncoat. Yet the call of Jesus was met with genuine and eager acceptance.

Matthew brought a level of brilliance not matched by the fishermen and tradesmen in the ranks of the Twelve. His education and advanced business experience led many to believe that he is the author of the first gospel, the Gospel According to Matthew. It is Matthew who preserved some of the most powerful and convincing messages of Christ, like the Sermon on the Mount. As an Apostle, he used his resourcefulness and dedication to bring the life of Christ to a waiting world.

Senate kills amendment

BOISE (UPI) — The senate killed on a 23-9 vote Tuesday a bill to amend the Idaho constitution to require the governor and lieutenant governor to be elected on the same ticket.

The only opposition on the house-approved amendment came from Sen. Reed Budge, R-Soda Springs, who said he favored a separation of the legislative and executive branches.

Federal review unit abolished

BOISE (UPI) — The senate approved 24-9 Tuesday a bill to abolish the Federal Land Law Review Commission in Idaho, a commission which has been inoperative since last summer.

Sen. Herman McDevitt, D-Pocatello, chairman of the commission, said a vote for the bill would be a "vote of confidence" in the ability of the present administration to represent the state before Congress.

Procedure outlined

BOISE (UPI) — The Senate passed 21-9 and sent to the house today a bill to provide a uniform procedure for filling judicial vacancies created by death or disability between the primary and general elections.

If the vacancy comes when a judge or judicial candidate has received a majority of votes in the primary the vacancy will be filled by nomination of the Judicial Council.

If there were more than two candidates in the primary and a run-off election was planned for the general election the candidate receiving the third highest number of votes will be moved up.

Dedicated

BOISE (UPI) — The senate approved 21-9 Tuesday a bill to dedicate one per cent of the motor fuels tax to the State Parks Department.

Sen. James Stolcheff, D-Sandpoint, said the estimated $300,000 return would be used by the department to build facilities for off-highway vehicles such as snowmobiles and motorcycles.

Already, he said, the parks department has placed seven miles of snowmobile track at Ponderosa State Park.

Two members added to board

BOISE (UPI) — Two new Department of Health, said the members have been added to appointments of Mrs. Cherie the Idaho Mental Health Thompson, Boise, and Stan Advisory Council, officials Sower, Payette, have been reported Tuesday.

Jack Stenack, director of the division of Mental Health, Idaho.

Employee selection guidelines for human rights creates confusion

BOISE (UPI) — After an hour-long discussion in which members could not agree even on a time for the subject they were discussing the House State Affairs Committee held for study Tuesday employee selection guidelines.

Rep. Russell Fogg, R-Idaho Falls, asked spokesmen for the Human Rights Commission to come before the committee and explain the purpose of the commission's guidelines.

Before the discussion ended the committee members seemed to be uncertain whether they were discussing guidelines or rules and regulations.

About the only thing those who talked about them did agree upon was that it would be helpful if they were written in plain, understandable English.

Bid minimum hiked

BOISE (UPI) — The senate approved 22-1 and sent to the governor Tuesday a bill raising from $500 to $1,000 the amount over which bids must be let for construction or remodeling of public buildings.

Levy vote set by Minidoka

RUPERT — Minidoka County School District patrons will vote on a five-mill plant facilities levy and one school board member on May 23.

Trustees of the district set the date during a marathon board meeting lasting more than five hours Monday night, and after lengthy discussion of the advisability of asking for a tax increase.

Dr. Darrell Hatfield, district superintendent, presented a comprehensive list of needed repairs at many Minidoka County schools in asking for the five-mill levy. He suggested the levy to "buy capital-outlay items" for which general fund money is now being spent.

A two-mill levy now being applied to pay for new school buses will expire in two years, Dr. Hatfield said. The five-mill levy, if approved, could then be split, with two mills utilized for plant facilities and three mills being set aside for general improvements throughout the district.

The district budget must be approved in the near future. In addition, complicating the picture, Dr. Hatfield said, State law requires that the budget hearing be held at least 30 days before the annual meeting of the board in June. This would make May 8 the latest date for the budget hearing.

Though Mrs. Jerry Chugg, an Acequia parent attending the board meeting to represent the Acequia PTA, suggested that many farmers in the county might not feel they could afford a tax increase at the present time, trustees said the voters should be given a chance to choose whether they would accept the levy.

The trustees accepted a suggestion from Hatfield to set the election for the latest date allowable under state law, making it May 23.

Last train of season

SPRING SKI enthusiasts, 278 strong, arrived from Los Angeles, Calif., aboard the season's second ski train special. The 11 railroad cars brought skiers to Sun Valley Sunday for a week of spring skiing. Although not as fast as the jet airline service, train travel gave the skiers plenty of time for social activity enroute to Idaho.

Minidoka Red Cross slates fund drive

RUPERT — Minidoka County Red Cross Chapter officers held a breakfast meeting Monday at Ponderosa Inn to outline plans for county fund drive.

W. F. (Bill) Whitton, county chapter chairman, announced the county quota in funds is $2,100 and the drive is being directed by Mrs. John (Ruth) Simpson. She announced volunteer packets are being delivered to the workers.

Mrs. Simpson stressed the need of volunteer workers. Individuals or organizational groups who wish to assist with the fund drive for the Red Cross are urged to contact Mrs. Simpson.

Add to military families' was discussed.

Mrs. Mary Ellen Carlson, county health nurse, reported during last year 12 women received the home nursing course and in turn taught the course to some 120 persons in the county under the direction of the Red Cross chapter.

It was reported residents have been meeting their quota in the Red Cross Blood drawings for some time.

UP turns over 4 park concessions

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI) — Union Pacific Railroad, after nearly 50 years in the tourist business, has turned over its concession properties in four parks, three of them in Utah, to the Interior Department.

John C. Kendrick, U.P. president, Monday, said the company donated lodges, inns, curio shops and service stations in Zion, Bryce Canyon, and Grand Canyon National Parks and the lodge and cabins in Cedar Breaks National Monument.

The National Park Foundation, a private non-profit organization chartered by Congress, received UP property in Cedar City, automobiles used for tours. The donation was valued at Utah, a laundry at Kanab, and a fleet of buses and more than $2 million.

Aid reduction urged to N. Viet

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers said Tuesday the United States had tried in vain to persuade the Soviet Union and China to reduce their aid to North Vietnam, but that President Nixon would press the point when he visits Moscow next May.

In testimony before the House Foreign Affairs Committee, Rogers did not indicate whether Nixon made the request for a cutback in Chinese assistance to Hanoi during his visit to Peking late last month.

"So far we have not been successful in persuading either of these countries to limit their supplies to North Vietnam," he said in response to a question by Rep. J. Irving Whalley, R-Pa.

The Russians have been Hanoi's biggest arms supplier in the war, including sophisticated aircraft and defensive missiles, while China has contributed mostly small arms, ammunition and road-building assistance.

Minico HS advised of deficiencies

RUPERT — Minico High School has been "advised" that its accreditation may be in danger due to a number of deficiencies.

Dr. J. Darrell Hatfield, superintendent of the Minidoka County School District, told trustees Monday night at the board meeting that the Northwest Accrediting Association has placed Minico High on the "advised" list, first step in the process leading to eventual withdrawal of accreditation if the deficiencies are not corrected.

Minico Principal Glen Maughan said the association gives a district two years to correct the "advised" status. If the deficiencies are not corrected to the association's satisfaction, the school is placed on "warned" status. Following this, Maughan said, the school could be placed on probation, with its accreditation withdrawn.

Without accreditation, students graduating from a school on probation could find their "high school credits" unacceptable by colleges.

Hatfield said the association listed a number of major deficiencies, including:

- "Guidance ratio," the number of students handled by each guidance counselor, is too high — an average of 428 students per counselor at Minico, compared to the optimum of 400.
- Industrial arts — Too many students in wood shop. The single teacher has 22 boys in one class, compared to a suggested maximum of 16.
- Homemaking classes are also "overloaded," and storage space is inadequate.
- Vocational-technical classes are not offered by the school.
- Art classes are overloaded for the number of teachers.
- Maughan said the strong interest in the classes among students has forced severe limitations on the number allowed to enroll.
- Food services are inadequate. Only about 600 students out of more than 1,200 are served by the hot lunch program.
- Faculty work spaces are inadequate. Association standards call for a faculty "workroom" supplied with typewriters, calculators and other equipment to help teachers prepare their classroom.
- Library space is inadequate, with a shortage of seating facilities, group-conference facilities and table and counter space.
- "Innovative courses," suggested by the association, are lacking at Minico. Hatfield said the district needs to "complete" a needs assessment, such as the Cassia County district is now initiating. Maughan and several faculty members will assist their neighboring school district in the assessment, Hatfield said.

Hatfield said the trustees need to consider the reported deficiencies at Minico High with an eye to fulfilling the needs where possible. No action was required by the trustees during Monday's meeting.

Richfield schedules exercises

RICHFIELD — Commencement exercises for Richfield High School are scheduled for May 16 at 8 p.m.

Commencement speaker will be Jerry Meyerhoeffer, director of admissions and records at the College of Southern Idaho.

Baccalaureate is scheduled for May 14. Rev. Kevin McArdle, St. Peter's Catholic Church, Shoshone, will deliver the baccalaureate address.

GSA plans sale of CC silver dollars

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. James W. McClure, R-Idaho, said Tuesday the General Services Administration plans to sell 2.9 million Carson City silver dollars dating back to 1878.

McClure said the first coins will not be sold until early 1973. As a first step, he said, the coins were recently transferred by armored car from the U. S. Treasury in Washington to the silver bullion depository in West Point, where the coins are being sorted and packaged.

Order forms will be available in about a year, McClure said they will be obtained from post offices, banks and federal information centers. Individuals who are on the mint's mailing list will automatically receive order forms.

To get on the list, prospective buyers should write by post card to: Officer in Charge, U. S. Assay Office, Numismatic Service, 50 Fell Street, San Francisco 94103.

The coins, mostly uncirculated, were minted at the now-closed Carson City mint between 1878 and 1885, 1890 and 1891. Each will be placed in a plastic case suitable for display. Additionally, about 91,000 coins, some circulated and some form other mints and of other dates, also will be sold.

McClure said that a person may bid on one Carson City dollar from each of the following 12 groups:

Date	Estimated Number Available
1878	58,000
1879	7,000
1880	134,000
1891	149,000

1882 611,000
1883 756,000
1884 965,000
1885 156,000
1890 4,000
1891 6,000
Mixed uncirculated 21,000
Mixed circulated 70,000
Total 2,937,000

"Persons desiring the coins will be required to bid at the numismatic value of the coins or higher," McClure said.

"Orders will be processed by a computer to insure that only one order per person is accepted in each category. If orders exceed the inventory, coins will be delivered to the highest bidder. Full payment will be required in advance."

McClure noted that these are the last remaining unused and uncirculated silver dollars containing 90 per cent silver.

"Because of their age, many will show bag marks or be tarnished," he said. "But coins will not be selected for their condition and returns will not be accepted."

Kaiser Industries trades AM stock

NEW YORK (UPI) — Kaiser Industries Tuesday sold 5,245,000 shares of American Motors stock at $7.25 a share for more than $38 million in the largest block trade ever on the New York Stock Exchange.

A 244,000-share block traded on the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange at the same price.

The transaction was the 15th largest in value in Exchange history. A 730,312-share transaction in American Standard preferred a totaling $76,135,026 on June 13, 1968 set the record for dollar volume.

Tuesday's American Motors block surpassed the previous record 3,248,000 shares of Allis-Chalmers traded Feb. 8, 1971.

According to American Motors Officials in Detroit, Kaiser Industries had said last month it planned to sell the stock. It was understood there were several buyers.

House proposes geothermal plan

BOISE (UPI) — The House Resources Committee sent to the floor with a favorable recommendation Tuesday companion bills to regulate geothermal resources in Idaho.

At the same time the committee recommended the house suspend rules on both bills — one originating in the house and one in the senate — for their immediate consideration.

The house bill provides for regulation of geothermal power development and exploration. The senate measure authorizes the state land board to lease geothermal resources on state lands.

Attorney Phil Barber who helped draft both bills said "We don't know if we're on the right side of the declaration of independence."

"We can go up or down," Barber said.

Basically, Barber said, the bills are designed to give the state control of geothermal resources and make certain anyone developing them is known to state officials to have financial resources to do the job properly and to pay for any damage done.

Land transfer legality sought

By GEORGE FRANK

BOISE (UPI) — The State Land Board today directed Attorney General W. Anthony Park to look into the legality of state agencies transferring land if money is involved in the transactions.

The question arose when the Land Board members were asked for approval of a land transfer between the Idaho Highway Department and the State Fish and Game Department.

Besides the land, the Highway Department wanted the Fish and Game Department to pay $11,950 for 5.25 acres in Idaho County on the banks of the Salmon River.

Gordon G. Trombley, state land commissioner, said agencies under law are allowed to transfer land, but what was being questioned was the right of one agency to ask another for money or a consideration.

"We have been handling this way as long as I can remember," Trombley said, referring to money transfers.

But he said under the rules the Land Board is allowed to dispose of or transfer land in three ways.

Bicentennial

BOISE (UPI) — The Senate Finance Committee introduced legislation Tuesday to create a bicentennial commission in Idaho to plan the state's participation in the bicentennial commemoration of the American Revolution.

A companion measure would appropriate $2,500 for use of the commission members.

Youths oppose student wages

BOISE (UPI) — College students appeared before the Senate Commerce and Labor Committee Tuesday to express opposition to a house-approved bill to allow payment of minimal wages to students 19 and under.

The measure would allow payment of no lower than $1.40 per hour to student workers 19 and under. The minimum wage now is $1.40 per hour but will reach $1.60 per hour on July 1.

David Thiessen, a representative of the Idaho Student Lobby, called it a "slave labor bill."

But Robert Weinberger, Boise, said purpose of the measure is to "provide an incentive for small businesses to hire and train high school and college students."

Veto regretted

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus said Tuesday, he regretted "very much" the senate turned down a bill to create state inspection and enforcement of the Federal Occupational Safety and Health Act.

In doing so, he said, the senate "had rejected the possibility of Idaho taking care of Idaho people."

Noting the proposal was endorsed by a number of interest groups, Andrus said, "now the people who suffer from this will be the small farmer-rancher, the small manufacturers who find themselves facing federal inspections."

Lewiston OK's proposals on Clearwater bypass

LEWISTON, Idaho (UPI) — by any resolution involving a four-lane highway for about 18 blocks along the south shore of the Clearwater.

On the other hand, the Highway Department has indicated it will recommend no funds for the bypass "if it does not include room for expansion from two to four lanes."

The resolutions are an attempt to placate the Army Corps of Engineers and the Idaho Highway Department, which have different ideas about how the bypass should be built.

Col. Richard M. Connell, district engineer for the Walla Walla District of the corps, had warned the council dike beautification would be endangered.

Clearing house

BOISE (UPI) — The Senate Finance Committee introduced legislation today designating the State Planning and community affairs agency as the state's federal assistance clearing house.

The measure would require all state agencies to submit notification of intent to apply for federal assistance to the state planning and community affairs agency in an effort to keep track of the federal funds.

Pollution puts 2 in hospital

ATLANTA (UPI)—Two men on a river dredging crew were hospitalized with apparent sulfur dioxide poisoning in Georgia's first recorded incident of air pollution affecting human health, the State Air Quality Control division said Tuesday.

Bob Collom, the state's air pollution control chief, said the incident occurred on the Savannah River March 7 and one of the victims, examined at Savannah's U.S. Public Health Service Hospital, was found to be suffering from sulfur dioxide exposure.

He was identified as Elbert C. Gayle, a dredge tender operator, and the health department said he has since been released from the hospital.

The second man, who was not identified, was transferred to Wilmington, N. C., for further tests and treatment. A health department spokesman said he was not positively identified as suffering from sulfur dioxide poisoning.

The incident occurred in the vicinity of American Cyanamid's acid plants located east of Savannah.

Teachers scolded for talk

CRANSTON, R.I. (UPI)—Three teachers have been reprimanded by the School Committee for allowing a prostitute to address a class of high school seniors.

The prostitute, a 23-year-old mother of two, was invited to West High School last Friday by the students, who are studying crime as part of their course on economics and politics in the community.

Her talks was about "victimless crime," but her appearance created a furor among certain members of the community, resulting in the School Committee's decision Monday night to reprimand the teachers for "errors of judgment."

Students who attended Monday night's meeting said they were not bothered by the speech given by the prostitute, but they were not allowed to voice their opinions to the committee.

The teachers reprimanded were George O'Neil and James D'Amico, coordinators of the program, and Walter Campbell, chairman of the Social Studies Department.

Pandas arriving April 1

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The two giant pandas China is giving to the American people will arrive about April 1 to take up residence in Washington's National Zoo, where President Nixon has decided they will be kept.

A White House spokesman said there were many fine zoos in the country which deserved to house the rare pandas, but Nixon felt the National Zoo was a proper home because it represented all the people.

Seniors invited to school

LEWISTON, Idaho (UPI)—The Lewiston school board has authorized senior citizens to be invited to join students for lunch at school cafeterias.

The board gave the administration permission to establish and publicize senior citizen tables at many public schools as possible.

The elderly citizens would pay 45 cents per lunch, the cost of a regular adult meal.

Shanghai, China's largest seaport, has a population of about 10 million.

Jokers found in old code

But, recognizing that some dumb animals can become a drain on their owners when their working days are done it provides for killing those unfit for work by reason of their physical condition.

This code also looks to the welfare of livestock, stable operators, making it unlawful to defraud them of horse or feed or keep their horses too long.

One chapter of the code outlaws duels and taunts for not fighting them and makes it a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of $5 to $50 to point a firearm at another intentionally but without malice.

Carrying concealed weapons — including sling shots — is specifically banned under the bill although your county sheriff could give you a permit to do so should you prove to him a compelling need.

Under this bill it is unlawful to race your horse or horse-drawn wagon on a public highway or to wear Grand Army of the Republic, Elks, Knights of Pythias or fraternity pins to which you are not entitled. Although the only passenger train stop left in Idaho is at Sandpoint it nonetheless still would be specifically unlawful to counterfeit a railroad ticket or steal a train ride.

A no-nonsense chapter on obscenity makes it a misdemeanor to sing a bawdy song in any public place or "in any place where there are persons present to be annoyed thereby."

Mindful of a need to protect public health the bill also outlaws most hospitals as we know them in Idaho today. It makes it a misdemeanor to establish, keep or cause to be established or kept within limits of any city, "any pest house, hospital or place for persons affected with contagious or infectious diseases."

But it doesn't just speak of public matters. It also helps regulate business. For instance it is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of $25 to $100 to work as a barber in any city after 7 p.m. on any working day or after 10 p.m. any Saturday or day preceding a legal holiday.

It also is unlawful — a misdemeanor in fact — to hire an illiterate trainman under this bill.

One final section of the bill contains an effective date — April Fool's day. Only that section is no joke.

Officers confer

Minidoka hosts FBI conclave

RUPERT — Ninety-one law enforcement officers from Montpelier to Boise attended a one-day FBI School Tuesday, hosted by Minidoka County Sheriff Theo Johnson and his staff.

Harold Vogelsang, special FBI agent from Butte, Mont., headquarters for FBI operations in Montana and Idaho, was instructor.

Current law enforcement problems were the main item of discussion at the meeting in the Ponderosa Inn. Topics discussed included participation of officers in various situations, and activities concerning robbery and burglary.

Vogelsang used photos as visual aids during the discussion.

Questions were asked from the floor throughout the day's study, Vogelsang said. "This was some of the best participation by the officers attending the school that we have had in a long time," he said.

"All the officers were eager to learn and hear new approaches to problems facing law enforcement officers," said Vogelsang.

City, county and state law enforcement officials attended the meeting.

LAW ENFORCEMENT techniques are reviewed by Harold Vogelsang, left, FBI special agent, Butte, Mont., and Sheriff Theo Johnson, Minidoka County, during special FBI school for area officers held in Minidoka County. The one-day program featured instructions by Vogelsang.

Jerome applies for funds

JEROME — Jerome County Commissioners have applied to the State Department of Aeronautics for state matching funds to resurface the airport.

The $9,000, according to commissioner Cleo Ambrose, will be used to put a one and one-half inch overlay on the county airport runway surface.

Ambrose said that because of bad winter weather conditions, considerable damage had been done to the runway. He said "the overlay is badly needed."

He said the commissioners are preparing papers for the purchase of 15 acres west of the airport to extend the runway.

According to Ambrose, county commissioners are considering a request by the interim board of the Regional Airport Authority for a partial early payment of tax funds due it.

Ambrose said although the 1972 county budget has been approved, taxes are collected at a later date to finance the appropriations, so the money is not available at this time without issuing tax warrants.

The Regional Airport Authority has asked for a 20 percent payment before tax dollars are collected, Ambrose said.

Ketchum principal's status questioned

By TERRY CAMPBELL
Times-News writer

KETCHUM — Ernest Hemingway Grade School Principal Sam Hazard may be able to continue at his post despite non-certification.

About 35 parents and teachers met with the Blaine County School Board of Trustees Monday night to review the board's progress toward retaining Hazard. At a headmaster. And he said that he had completed about half the work needed for a master's degree at Harvard.

Supt. Charles Clark said that the board had been notified of Hazard's non-certification two weeks after school started last fall.

Clark said Monday if Hazard is allowed to continue as principal while he completes work toward certification "it wouldn't be anything unusual." He said that one year ago "we didn't have one certified administrator." But he said that, as of two weeks ago, all had completed certification requirements.

Shirley Roy, president of the Blaine County Education Association, said that teachers were concerned that the district did have certified personnel. He said that the "correct procedure" for certification must be followed "with no short-cuts."

The association president said, "We want to see certification upheld — what a person knows, not who, he knows." He said also that the teachers were concerned that Hazard had not seemed "to show interest" in taking courses toward certification.

Mrs. Jean Colvin, parent, said, "You are forgetting all the schooling he has had. No consideration has been given to any preceding work, including work toward a master's at Harvard."

The parent said that previous discussions had not indicated that Hazard would not have to leave the area to continue his education.

SAM HAZARD may continue

Gooding's new school official

By PEGGY CHIU
Times-News writer

GOODING — The new Gooding High School will officially be taken over today when the certificate of substantial completion for the interior is issued.

According to Supt. James Muscat, Ed Peterson, CTA architect of Twin Falls, the building would have to be cleaned up before moving could begin.

Moving is scheduled to begin Thursday with classes beginning March 20.

Peterson assured the trustees there would be a minimum amount of disruption once classes were in progress.

The district four school superintendents' meeting is scheduled for Wednesday at Gooding. Superintendents will tour the new facility.

Disagreement has arisen between the school board and the Nielsen-Miller Construction Co. over who is responsible for the gas bill incurred during construction of the new school.

The trustees agreed to pay one-third of the $467 bill since February because the school had been using the gymnasium.

According to attorney Cecil Hobday, they will not pay any of the $1,487 bill in arrears since November.

All utilities needed during the construction should be paid for by Nielsen-Miller, he said.

Peterson said the firm would not pay the bill. "Whoever ends up paying it can pay the interest charges too," he said.

The disagreement stems from wording in the contract over when the heating plant becomes operational and whether in fact the building must be operational. Hobday read from the contract "The permanent plant may be used when ready at which time the owner will assume the utility bill."

The board accepted the resignation of Rick Ritter, seventh grade teacher and coach, effective March 13 who resigned for personal reasons.

The board also rehired Cora Ziegler, high school home economics teacher.

School trustee David Boring suggested hiring an athletic director to teach physical education and coach most sports, so that coaches will not have to teach academic classes.

He said, "We hire a coach and force him to teach in the classroom."

Trustee Claude Scanlon said "teaching suffers when his football or basketball or whatever is going on."

The proposal was taken under advisement.

Muscat announced he had received a letter from Idaho State University stating the average freshman grades of Gooding High School graduates was 2.89 as compared to a 2.37 general-freshman average.

Trustees set May 2 as the date for trustee election. Two trustees up for re-election are Rod Glauner and Arden Stutzman.

Stutzman was appointed to fill the unexpired term of the late Bill France.

Contract pending on Gooding strip

GOODING — Gilbert Schmidt, B. C. and Co., said he expects word by the end of this week concerning a tentative drag strip contract with the city of Gooding.

The contract is for a proposed drag strip at the Gooding City Airport.

According to Schmidt, Ed Brubaker, president of the company, met with Mayor Harley Crippen, councilman Valdo Gray and Earl Kelly, airport manager, Saturday to discuss the proposed drag strip and look over airport facilities.

Brubaker said airport and runways were bigger than he had expected but cracks in the runway to be used for the drag strip would probably necessitate resurfacing, and Crippen told him the city did not have enough men, so they should probably hire a private contractor for the work.

According to Schmidt, Brubaker requested that the city supply police protection, fire equipment, a street

Kimberly hears cost for project

KIMBERLY — Kimberly City councilmen heard a report Tuesday night from engineers on cost estimates for updating the city's sewage treatment facilities.

Mrs. Edythe Widmer, city clerk, said JUB Engineers, Twin Falls, reported cost of the project, designed to bring the facilities into line with state standards, would be $128,500.

Kimberly is eligible for 50 percent funding from the Environmental Protection Agency and 25 percent from the State Department of Health.

Mrs. Widmer said.

This would leave a local obligation of $32,125.

Councilmen directed the engineering firm to apply for the grants. Engineers said it would probably be about a year before actual construction would begin.

The present sewage treatment plant is 18 years old. The project is planning calls for revising and adding to existing facilities.

TF County officials confer on solid waste problems

By BONNIE JONES
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — What to do with mounting solid waste in view of tightening state restrictions was discussed here Tuesday.

County commissioners called the meeting with Department of Health officials, sanitation contractors, Twin Falls city officials and Ed Woods, county zoning administrator.

Joe Fehrenbacher, Bulli, chairman of the pollution committee of the county's comprehensive planning organization, also attended.

Woods was asked to continue the study along with officials of Parks and Son, sanitation contractor, in an effort to determine the scope of a county program and cost estimates.

Woods was asked to have the information available for another meeting about April 25.

Possibilities considered included acquiring the present Twin Falls City sanitary landfill operation to serve the entire county. Arrangements would then be made to serve Twin Falls through the same program.

City officials said residents of Twin Falls pay double taxation as they pay a monthly fee for sanitation service and also pay the county tax levy for solid waste control. Under a unified program this could be eliminated, they said.

County commissioners this year budgeted $101,000 for solid waste programs. The county has been advised, Woods said, it must clean dump grounds on Bureau of Land Management land. All county sites are on BLM and operated in the county on a make-shift landfill system.

Debris is dumped by the public and efforts are made by heavy equipment operators, hired by the county, to trench and cover it as frequently as possible.

The city of Kimberly has been given a deadline of July 1 for closing the Kimberly City Dump near Snake River.

"We should be well on our way toward a countywide plan by that time," Woods told the group.

R. P. Fasolino, consultant, completed a solid waste study for the county last year.

Fasolino recommended construction of several large collector stations in the county where the public could dispose of waste and where it could be collected by a contractor.

Rick Parks of Parks and Son, said his firm has had good results with more and smaller collection bins in the Pocatello area. The firm also handles the sanitation contract for the city of Twin Falls.

Dr. Wayne Carte, South Central Health District director, told the group the practice of using public lands for dumps sites must be ended in the near future. No deadline, date has been established by the state.

Ketchum man released

KETCHUM — A Ketchum man charged with battery has been released on $100 bond.

John Lee Walsh, 32, Ketchum, was arrested Monday by Ketchum police officers on a warrant issued by the Boise Police Department.

Kimberly approves increased budget

KIMBERLY — Kimberly City councilmen Tuesday night approved a $140,100 budget for 1972 operation.

The public hearing held on the matter last night drew no members of the Kimberly citizenry to either protest or register approval of the budget and commissioners okayed the budget with little discussion.

Gooding's chamber meetings closed to press

GOODING — Gooding's Chamber of Commerce has declared its meetings closed to the press.

The new policy replaces the open meetings of the past which were reported by the press.

The new system provides that only an "authorized" version of chamber meetings will be made public.

According to Chamber President Walter Locke, reporters still will be welcome to attend meetings.

The only catch is that they cannot write news reports.

Instead, reporters will be given the authorized version of the meeting later in the form of a handout from the chamber's publicity director.

The only press representative permitted to write will be Publicity Director Al Hagen — who also is publisher of the Gooding County Leader.

The specific reason for the change, Locke said, is to delay Times-News reports of chamber events by at least one day in order to give the Leader time to print its news coverage.

The Times-News, he said, regularly prints chamber news before it appears in the Leader.

"The news of the chamber will be a day later in order to give it to the Gooding paper," Locke said Tuesday.

Locke denied the public's right to obtain prompt news coverage was being made subordinate to the publication schedule of one of the several newspapers covering the Gooding area.

"Our intent," he said, "is not to keep the people of Gooding from having news immediately. This action will have the effect of preventing them from having it immediately by a matter of two days."

He acknowledged that the action could restrict "positive news" about Gooding, leaving a preponderance of "bad news" remaining from the public record such as news of criminal cases.

"Coverage in the Times-News of the chamber has been fair," he said. Quality of news coverage was not involved in the decision, he said.

Locke said the decision was reached despite the fact that the Times-News circulation in Gooding County is greater than that of the Leader. WEEKLY Times-News circulation is over 11,000 per week in the county, compared to the Leader's 2,500.

Locke said the decision was made by a unanimous vote of the chamber's 11-man executive committee, which included the vote of publisher Hagen.

Hagen Tuesday denied that he had supported the action. Instead, he said, he had pressed for stronger action.

"My stand on the matter was to exclude it entirely," he said.

Hagen said he sees "no restriction of the freedom of the press whatsoever, as long as you receive a press release of it."

Hagen said he personally would write the press releases.

He disagreed with Locke's statement that the reason for the meeting closure was to delay news reports by other newspapers.

"As far as competition is concerned, I don't have any illusions or delusions of competing with a daily newspaper," he said.

The real reason for the new closed-meeting policy, he said, is to screen comments occasionally made by some chamber members which, he said, should not be reported.

"Too many things are brought up at a chamber meeting that shouldn't be brought up at any meeting. Too frequently they're taken as fact," he said.

He said his press releases would screen out any such awkward statements.

Architecture of Hailey bank 'won't conform'

HAILEY — "Old western" vs. "rambling ranch" style buildings caused discussion Monday during the Hailey Chamber of Commerce meeting.

Bank of Idaho officials presented plans for a new $250,000 branch to be located on Main Street, Hailey. Nita Latta, bank vice-president, said the exterior of the facility will be constructed of used brick, exposed wood beams and hand split shakes.

Individual cattlemen's brands burned on wooden blocks will decorate the interior, Latta said.

Alan Bixby, chairman of the Hailey Restoration Project, said the building "quite obviously" did not conform to the "old western" theme adopted for Main Street. He said that the Hailey Planning and Zoning Board had voted to back the chamber's work toward a single theme.

The western theme "is a matter of public knowledge, Bixby said. "I feel that the bank should have come to the people," he said.

J. C. Hayden, senior bank vice-president and cashier, said that the plans were finalized and that the building "is an interpretation" of western. He said that the style of the facility was "rambling ranch."

However, he said, the bank sign may be altered. The restoration committee had promoted use of flush mounted signs.

Latta said that the new branch "would complement the economic growth of Hailey." He said that Idaho "was on the 'threshold' of growth and population migration."

Construction on the bank will begin as soon as weather permits.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market continued to move higher in fairly active trading Wednesday on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts said investors have reaffirmed their belief in a recovery of the economy. A major prop to the list was the Federal Reserve Board's move to tighten the supply of money, which would strengthen the dollar abroad and dampen a rekindling of inflation at home.

The Board boosted the rate on Securities Repurchase Agreements with dealers.

Analysts noted there was some selective buying which helped push the market higher. There were some signs, however, of profit taking.

Shortly before 1 p.m., the Dow Jones industrial average of 30 selected blue-chip stocks was ahead 5.42 to 939.42. Standard & Poor's 500 stock index rose 0.33 to 107.34.

Of the 1,653 issues crossing the tape, advances led declines, 417 to 493. The three-hour turnover amounted to 11,280,000 shares, compared with 15,740,000 traded during the corresponding period Tuesday.

Some stocks drew encouragement from the announcement by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration that it would use solid fuel for its space shuttle rocket.

Thiokol Chemical, which makes solid fuels, led the active list, and moved up 1 1/2. United Aircraft, which plans to bid for the NASA contract, advanced 3/4.

Electronics and computers were stronger. IBM gained 2, RCA and Honeywell around a point each.

Rails, motors, and oils were mixed. American Motors was one of the most active issues, unchanged at 7 1/2. Kaiser Industries sold a block of 5,245,000 shares of American Motors Tuesday in the largest such transaction in NYSE history.

Chemicals pointed mostly higher. Eastman Kodak gained 2 1/2.

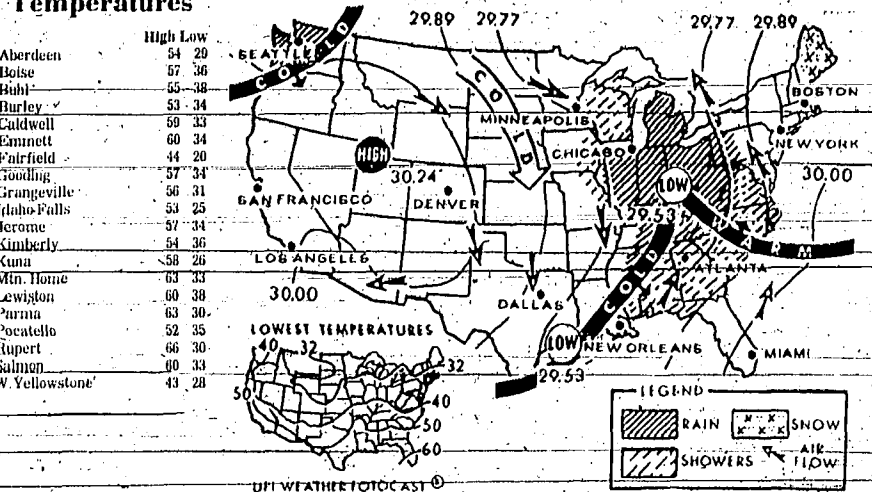

Rails were narrowly higher. Airlines and aircrafts were mixed.

Glaucous headed both ways. Walt Disney gained 2, Xerox 1 1/2. Bausch & Lomb dropped 1/4. Levitz Furniture 3/4.

High clouds through Thursday

Twin Falls, northside, Burley, through Thursday. Warmer days. Highs in the 50s Thursday. Lows tonight in the 20s.

Outlook for Friday, partly cloudy and not as warm with chance of showers.

Synopsis: Fair weather prevailed over the area yesterday except for some areas of, rather dense morning fog. An area of high pressure at the surface will remain the dominant weather feature for the next several days.

A northwesterly flow of air aloft over the area will bring variable high cloudiness at times but sunshine is expected to prevail and fair weather to continue.

Temperatures: yesterday afternoon were in the upper-50s and low 60s.

A little further warming is forecast for Thursday. Over-

Wall Street Chatter

"Some Wall Street observers are concerned that a market correction is now in the cards," according to Spear & Staff, Inc. However, the investment advisory firm says, "our research to date does not show it to be a serious factor now." The company says its experience shows the type of market action "we are presently experiencing is the best type that can occur after a strong advance." Spear explains that during this type of period, prices tend to pull back, undergo reaccumulation and then resume their advance.

James Dines & Co. calls this "a low-quality market, concentrating on growth stocks. Over-the-counter shares and low-priced speculative." But, the firm says, there is no reason for investors to back away from the current excitement. It adds, however, "one must be extremely careful to avoid the coming calamity when this fun is over."

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

"I find myself in a position where I can afford to 'take a flyer' with a few speculations. Warrants interest me, for this purpose but I am not clear on the fine points of this kind of investment. Would you favor warrants for speculation and if so, could you suggest three or four?" — C. S.

The market climate at this time appears favorable for speculative investments such as warrant. Spurred by economic recovery and concurrent improvement in investor psychology, not to mention its being an election year, 1972 should witness a generally upturning market. In such an atmosphere the leverage afforded through warrants is a distinct advantage.

Warrants are options to purchase common shares, usually on a one-for-one basis, at a stated price, within a prescribed time period, although certain issues are perpetual. The warrant is generally priced well below the common share to which it is tied. Thus $1,000 will purchase possibly 5 times as many warrants as common shares. As a rule warrants move up and down faster than their common share counterparts, a fact confirmed by the Director of Research for NYSE. Between Jan., 1971 and 1972, National General warrants more than doubled the average move in the common, while Elgin National did the same on the downside.

There are 11 warrants on the Big Board and 68 on the Amex, allowing investors a broad list from which to choose. American Telephone, Continental Telephone, McCrory Stores (new) and Northern Natural Gas-Mobil are all attractive for purchase now. Ma Bell is the only one listed on the Big Board, the other three being Amex issues.

Expiration dates should be noted carefully, since warrants are worthless after that time. Cont. Tel. expires in 1974 and is leveraged 3.2 times. Am. Tel., which expires in 1975, has the greatest leverage — 5.8x. NNG-Mobil also expires in 1975 and has a 3.3 leverage factor. McCrory at 2.6x has the longest term, expiring in 1981.

Here's how the Big Winners in Las Vegas did it!

If you thought the big winners in Las Vegas were the high-rolling gamblers—think again! The big winners were the lucky people who way back invested their money in Las Vegas land.

The tremendous growth of the Las Vegas area has made land investment a winning occupation. Clark County property values are up 375% in 10 years. Nye County property values are up 400% in 10 years. That's the kind of profit that makes big winners.

And the growth goes on! Now, Nye County is the location of a new, master-planned for 52,500 people. It's called Calvada Valley and it could be your chance with a money-back guarantee to be a winner in Nevada's land boom. Calvada Valley is taking shape now. Its growth pattern is established. Yet it's still in its beginning stages—when offers the same land of investment opportunity that paid off in substantial profit for early Las Vegas investors.

Investment literature of Calvada Valley, outlining its unusual money-back guarantee protection and details of a special property inspection trip to Las Vegas is available now!

Gem-spud holdings decline

BOISE — Stocks of potatoes held by growers, dealers and processors in Idaho on March 1 totaled 33.5 million hundredweight, according to the Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

This is 500,000 hundredweight below March 1 holdings one year ago and reflects record February disappearance of 7 million hundredweight. All disappearance (quantities shipped fresh, utilized in processing, sold for livestock feed and seed used on farms where produced for household consumption and feed, plus potatoes lost through shrinkage, decay and dumping) of the 1971 Idaho potato crop through Feb. 29, 1972, totaled 42.35 million hundredweight. Disappearance of the 1970 crop through the same date totaled 40.66 million hundredweight.

Estimates of total stocks represent all potatoes held in Idaho by growers, local dealers and processors. Included are quantities to be sold for table use, feed and seed and to be utilized in processing as well as quantities to be used on farms where grown for feed, seed, and household use. Also included are potatoes that will be lost through shrinkage and waste after March 1.

Storage stocks of Irish potatoes for all uses held by growers, local dealers and processors in fall producing areas totaled 96 million hundredweight on March 1. This is one per cent less than the 97.7 million hundredweight on hand for all uses a year earlier, but 10 per cent more than the 87.4 million hundredweight on hand March 1, 1970.

Stocks in the eight eastern states at 25.8 million hundredweight were four per cent above last year's holdings of 24.8 million hundredweight. Maine stocks of 21 million hundredweight compare with 19.9 million hundredweight on hand a year earlier. There were fewer potatoes on hand than a year earlier in upstate New York and in Pennsylvania, but Long Island supplies were larger.

March 1 stocks in the eight central states totaled 19.6 million hundredweight this year, 16 per cent more than the 16.9 million in 1971. Minnesota had a 6.4 million hundredweight, compared with 4.6 million hundredweight a year ago. North Dakota stocks were 7.6 million hundredweight compared with 6.9 million hundredweight last year.

In the eight western states, March 1 holdings totaled 50.7 million hundredweight.

House votes down arbitration plan

BOISE (UPI) — The House crushed 22-45 Monday a bill to provide for arbitration of certain water disputes by an impartial individual who is not a judge or magistrate.

Rep. Terry Crapo, R-Idaho Falls, said he opposed it on grounds it is optional. It is unnecessary and if it is mandatory it will force arbitration which could be costly.

Defending the proposal, Rep. Wayne Tibbitts, D-Lorenz, said arbitration is used the world over that it is a "gen-

MV plants end '71 crop runs

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls and Paul sugar factories have finished beet processing from the 1971 crop.

According to Robert Day, district manager of Amalgamated Sugar, said beet slicing ended at the Twin Falls factory Feb. 6 but processing of raw sugar continued until the end of last week.

The factory sliced beets for 117.5 days this year, Day said. He said the raw juice run lasted about a month.

He said beets can be cut faster than they can be processed so the juice from cut beets is stored.

Day said the Twin Falls factory processed about 1.5 million 100 pound-bag of sugar this year.

The Mini-Cassia factory at Paul does not have large beet juice facilities and processes the juice into sugar as soon as the beets are sliced.

TOO MUCH WATER is causing problems along lower Owyhee River near Adrian in eastern Oregon. Field near farmhouse was flooded by overflow from river but dike was thrown up to protect buildings. Rapid snowmelt above reservoir brought heavy runoff, causing officials to release 11,000 second feet of water to lower storage level behind dam. (UPI)

Butz says rationing price control result

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz said today there will be meat rationing and empty meat counters if consumers force the government to clamp price controls on beef.

Cattle and retail beef prices were reported at record levels recently. Butz today predicted further zig-zag increases and insisted the upturn will help consumers by encouraging added production. The blunt-talking Butz, in a speech prepared for delivery to the Texas and Southwest Cattle Raisers Association at Houston, added that the administration's decision last week to raise allowable beef imports by 7 per cent will not dampen prices.

Butz, promising again to fight "like a wounded steer" against controls on food prices, warned against pressures to impose controls because of recent price hikes. "As a consumer, I know price controls won't work. I vividly remember the OPA (control) days of World War II and what happened. Black markets, rationing priorities... and a host of government officials checking prices, weighing packages and hauling people into court. And empty meat counters!"

"What good does a consumer get from a low price for beef if no beef is available at that price? Price controls simply won't work for commodities as perishable as food products," Butz said.

Kelly rallies CSI past Ulster by 85-75

Eagles erase 16-point deficit, face Ferrum

HUTCHINSON, Kans.

Quick Vic Kelly blazed for 29 points in the second half and his teammates chimed in with a 54-point effort as the College of Southern Idaho Golden Eagles swept from 16 points off the pace at halftime to overcome Ulster Community College of Stone Ridge, N.Y., 85-75 in the first round of the national junior college basketball tournament.

Kelly, who stated two weeks ago that if things weren't going well for CSI in the tournament season he was going to take over, did just that and his leadership and brilliance sparked the Eagles in a comeback that saw them turn a 13-point deficit into a five-point lead in just about 10 minutes.

The 5-6 New Yorker, who will be named first-team All-America honors by the 10th region—and didn't exactly hurt his chances with the spectacular show—was devastating as he used penetration drives, fast break spin shots and outside bombs to beat the young but scrappy Ulster team.

Kelly, who has scored 70 points in his last two games, was at his hottest when he ripped for nine points in a two and one-half minute span and, joined by Rick Sober's at five points and Dan Drensen with two, gunned CSI from 56-43 deficit into a 66-43 lead. That spanned the 12:30 mark in the last half until the climax with 7:02 remaining.

CSI now advances to the quarterfinals where it runs into a tough team, Ferrum of Virginia which dropped the home standing Hutchinson, Kans., Blue Dragons 82-72. That will take place at 9:30 p.m. (8:30 p.m. MST) Thursday.

Tuesday night's game started out exactly opposite of the expected. CSI was in its third straight tournament and had two of its top six from last year's second place team. It was Ulster's first appearance ever. But it was CSI that came out with tournament filters. Expected to be the matchup of the two quickest teams, Ulster won the foulances and forced CSI to turn to a zone defense in the second half.

CSI managed a 2-2 tie before Ulster went ahead on the shooting of Coleman Link. Link, who averaged 14 points for the season for Ulster, picked up his average in the first 11 minutes as the New York crew pushed steadily away to a 25-18 margin.

From then on only the scoring of Dan Drensen kept CSI within any kind of halting distance as Nelson Marchelle and Henry Nixon took over from Link and kept Ulster inching steadily ahead.

By halftime the Eagles appeared out of it, playing poorly with nine turnovers and shooting only 36 per cent—against 58 per cent for Ulster. Drensen and Kelly revived a little CSI hope when they hit the first six points of the second half to reduce the margin to 10 but Ulster steadied and with 4:10 gone in the half moved back in front by 13. The teams traded buckets until Link hit a free throw to give Ulster its last 13-point lead at 66-43.

Kelly then hit a long shot, turned a fast break into a three-point play. After Koola scored for Ulster, Kelly hit a 15-foot jumper. Drensen got a free throw and Kelly came up with two more buckets.

Seconds later Kelly missed a tough driving shot, but Rick Sober, who to this time had shown a little nervousness, followed the ruse home. Nixon got an Ulster free throw with 9:30 left before Sober scored three CSI points.

With 8:07 remaining, Marchelle hit a follow shot for Ulster's last moment, holding a 63-60 advantage. Sober pulled CSI to within one and Kelly then completed the rally by scoring four points.

Twice after that Ulster cut the margin to one. Kelly's 28th and 29th points sent CSI ahead by three and Willie Williams, who scored only three points, picked up two at the line for a five-point advantage. The lead stayed at four to five points over the next minutes before Kelly's three point play opened it to eight. After a Link tip in for Ulster, CSI went into a delay game and harvested free throws by Kelly and Sober as the Senators tried to fail to get back into the game.

CSI wound up the night hitting 51 per cent from the field after a miserable 35 per cent in the first half. The Eagles hit 66 per cent in the decisive half. Ulster held an 18-12 first-half rebounding advantage with CSI coming on to win the board game 30-24. Sober topped CSI with 15 rebounds while Williams had 11 and Drensen eight. Link paced Ulster with 14 takeovers.

CSI hit 27 of 30 free throw attempts. Kelly getting 14 of 15, while Ulster had five of 10. Ulster wound up shooting 43 per cent for the night, dropping 15 points from its first half effort. Ferrum staged a steady scoring rally in the second half to dump host Hutchinson 82-72. Bobby Joe Jackson's 34 points for Hutchinson was not enough to turn back Ferrum, which overcame a 46-41 halftime deficit. Charlie Thomas hit 23 and Carlos Bermudez got 18 for Ferrum.

No. 1 ranked Vincennes, Ind., needed a scoring spree midway in the second half to crush Buffalo, N.Y., 107-83.

Buffalo tied it 62-62 and then Vincennes began a steady beat on the basket to go ahead 87-66 and put it out of reach of the New Yorkers despite a 27-point performance by Calvin Murphy. Dennis Shidlar led Vincennes with 24.

Casper, Wyo., led by 6-8 Ken Morgan, defeated State Fair of Sedalia, Mo., 79-65. Morgan contributed 31 points. Jim Lassiter, with 29, was high for Sedalia.

Panama City, Fla., stopped No. 2 ranked Dalton, Ga., 78-69 and Paducah, Ky., dumped No. 3 ranked Arizona Western 86-76. Butch Taylor led Panama City with 24 points, followed by Morris Rivers with 27. Roger Rome hit 20 for Dalton.

Paducah's Gary Taylor and Horby Williams produced 24 and 23 respectively while Candy LaPrince paced Arizona Western with 21.

Ticket sales growing for Friday's all-star cage game

Ticket sales for the first annual Magic Valley all-star game exploded in Gooding and Rupert Tuesday and began moving briskly at several other communities which have them on sale. The game, bringing together 20 of the top stars in Magic Valley, will be held at 8 p.m. Friday at the College of Southern Idaho gymnasium with all proceeds going into the Easter Seals financial campaign.

Rolle Moore, game

chairman, said "cooperation from every community and every news source in the area has been fantastic. This is something that Magic Valley fans evidently have been waiting for a long time. The response has been overwhelming."

He noted both Rupert and Gooding, each community having three representatives on the respective teams, went through 300 tickets Tuesday morning and were calling for more Tuesday afternoon. Hardly a surprise to the game committee, however, since those two are the traditional basketball hotbeds in Magic Valley.

Moore added several businesses in Magic Valley have tickets for sale. These include S and A and the two banks in Hagerman; Federal Land Bank in Gooding; Farmer's Market and Grose Drug, Shoshone; Rogerson Coffee Shop, Twin Falls; R and R Cafe in Buhl; McCleery Drug in Jerome; Reed's Market and First Security Bank in Rupert, and Cassia National Bank in Burley.

"We will, of course, be selling tickets at the door," Moore said, "but if anyone would like to pick his up in advance, it would save him and the ticket sellers considerable time at the gymnasium box office."

One other item was added to the "ground rules" for the game with the coaches, Gary Swan of Minico to the east, and Jim Thacker of Gooding, to the west, agreeing to lengthen playing time to 10-minute quarters. One other note, the game also will be the last coached in the area by Thacker who has announced his resignation from Gooding and tentatively is looking for other coaching employment. The other two ground rules are (1) all players must play and (2) no zone defenses will be allowed.

Magic Valley was split into east and west sections generally along the line of U.S. highway 83 with Jerome and Wood River being placed in the east for enrollment balance.

Participating for the eastern club will be Tony Sarns, Randy Ketterling and Toby Harding of Minico; Lon Frazier, Cory Kidd and Kent Sager of Burley; Ray Severe of Oakley; Tom Sapp of Kimberly; Randy Hobbey of Jerome and John Flynn of Murtaugh.

Opposing them will be Gary Gorrall, Frank Krahn and Jeff LaCroix of Gooding; Paul Shrum of Glenns Ferry; Gray Laughlin and Doug Butler of Hagerman; Darrell Groves of Twin Falls; Mike Kinney of Shoshone and Kendall Meier and Mark Heaps of Buhl.

Each will be presented a plaque, courtesy of Sterling Jewelry, Twin Falls, and the boys will be hosted at a post-game banquet at the Depot Grill, Moore said.

UCLA opens quest against Weber

PROVO, Utah (UPI)—Top-ranked and undefeated UCLA begins the meat and potatoes portion of its grind toward another National Collegiate Athletic Association crown Thursday against upstart Weber State.

Coach John Wooden and company were expected to arrive here Wednesday to prepare for a match with the Big Sky Conference champion from Ogden, Utah.

At stake in the NCAA Western Regionals is a berth in the NCAA finals the following weekend in Los Angeles.

The Bruins seek their eighth NCAA championship since 1964. UCLA and Weber open playoffs here, followed by fifth-ranked Long Beach State and the University of San Francisco.

The Western Regionals are to be staged in the new J. Willard Marriott Activities Center—largest of its kind in the United States—on the Brigham Young University campus.

SLATED FOR ACTION IN Friday's Magic Valley all-star basketball game is Buhl's Mark Heaps, shown here scoring in a state tournament game played last weekend at CSI. The game, bringing together 20 of the top seniors in Magic Valley, will start at 8 p.m. Friday at the CSI gymnasium.

Grant scores 60 in NAIA cage meet

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—The Pittsburg (Kan.) State hit 54.3 per cent of its shots in the first half Tuesday night, rolling to an easy 90-75 victory over Western Carolina (N.C.) in the first round of the NAIA Basketball tournament.

Kentucky State's Travis Grant set a tournament record with 60 points as the defending champion Thorobreds trampled Minot (N.D.) State 118-68 and second-seeded Stephen F. Austin (Tex.) defeated Hillsdale (Mich.) 71-61 in earlier night games.

Pittsburg State raced to a 47-28 halftime lead, outscoring Western Carolina 14-2 during one 4-minute stretch. The Gorillas were led by Calvin Kinzer's 22 points and Doug Baker's 20. Wilson Scott led Western Carolina with 14.

But it was the shooting performance of Grant that dazzled the sellout crowd of 10,410.

Grant scored 43 of his 60 points in the second half hitting his last bucket with 2:18 to play. He broke the tourney record of 50 points set in 1947 by Nate DeLong of River Falls State.

Kentucky State seeded No. 3 this year roared to a 53-28 halftime lead and never looked back.

College choir well known

Adelphian choir to sing Friday night at Burley

BURLEY — The Adelphian Concert Choir will perform at 8 p.m. Friday at the United Methodist Church, Burley.

The choir is nationally and internationally known as a musical group which has brought cheering audiences to their feet on its last tour of Great Britain, Ireland and Canada.

Sponsoring the concert by choir from the University of Puget Sound, Tacoma, Wash., is the United Methodist Church, Burley. The group's only other Idaho appearance will be at Nampa.

During the concert, the 41-voice, mixed choir will perform selections by both contemporary and classical composers, including Piausch, Fast, Lekberg, Karlen, Palestrina, Lotti, and Mendelssohn.

Dr. Bruce Rodgers, director of the University of Puget Sound School of Music and conductor of the Adelphians for the past 20 years, said the special concert will highlight music from throughout history and around the world.

A native of Simcoe, Ontario, Canada, and a graduate of the Eastman School of Music, Dr. Rodgers is largely responsible for bringing this musical group to international note.

Opening the program will be a musical adaptation of Walt Whitman's famous poem, "I Hear America Singing." Other numbers will include presentation of sacred tunes, works by romantic composer, the robust vitality of Russian liturgical music and a series of contemporary pieces.

Also featured are folk songs, spirituals, a sea chanty for the men's chorus and a one-act opera.

Progress reported on child development work

RUPERT — There are about 40 persons in the Mini-Cassia area under the Child Development Center program who will benefit from the new center.

This was reported by Dr. John Head, general chairman of the proposed center, in preparing information for organizations and service clubs of the area. Members from many of the clubs will be providing volunteer service at the new center.

Dr. Head said the program will begin as soon as the building is ready with about 15 pre-school children who will receive training over eight-week periods. Programs for school and post-school youngsters will follow.

Dr. Head said the center will be operated on state funds under the Department of Public Assistance.

William Strasser, building chairman, said the remodeling of the building which will house center activities is now about 75 per cent complete with the restroom area now 85 per cent complete. The community provided $2,930 through a fund campaign toward matching funds. Additional donations have been received since that time.

Dr. Head said an opening date for the Mini-Cassia Child Development Center and open house program will be announced soon.

He also said a list of items needed to furnish and equip the center will be prepared and sent each community organization for their use in assisting with donations.

Area chamber meet set

BURLEY — Plans for the annual South Idaho Chamber of Commerce meeting March 21 were announced Monday by the Burley Chamber of Commerce.

Gov. Cecil Andrus will be guest speaker.

Plans for the dinner meeting were announced during the Monday luncheon meeting of Burley Chamber meeting. The dinner will begin at 7 p.m. in the Ponderosa Inn following the 1:30 p.m. business meeting.

Gov. Andrus will address the banquet guests with Clayton Stewart, president of the South Idaho Chamber, in charge of business sessions.

In the Monday meeting, chamber members were assigned contracts for the current membership campaign. Each was asked to take the names of several new non-member business firms and contact them for membership during the coming year.

A letter was read from Idaho State Sen. Robert Saxvik, explaining the debate on a potato bill before the Idaho legislature.

National legislation on the minimum wage law was discussed. The law would increase the minimum wage of $1.60 per hour to $2 per hour and the unions are seeking an increase to $2.50 per hour.

The national chamber urged members to contact legislators in Washington, D.C., in regard to the proposed bill which will be voted upon soon in the House of Representatives.

Kay Merrill, a member of the Burley Stepperettes of Burley High School displayed three styles of pillows which the girls are selling for $2.50 each to raise funds to pay expenses to Calgary, Canada, this summer to march in the Calgary Stampede.

Burley High School Band members will also be selling the pillows as they, too, are raising funds to travel to Calgary.

The pillows will be on sale three days only.

Prepares for lunch

SNOWFLAKE, a polar bear at Pittsburgh's Highland Park Zoo, licks her paw while still in the water for her before-lunch swim. The fish in the foreground are part of her lunch, which includes beef, fish and all the peanuts and marshmallows that are thrown at her. (UPI)

Soviets building missile cruiser

LONDON (UPI) — Defense sources reported today the Soviet Union is building a new missile cruiser and its first aircraft carrier as part of Russia's relentless drive to expand its surface and submarine fleets.

The new cruiser and the aircraft carrier were said to be under construction at the Black Sea shipyard of Nikolayev. They were reported to include the latest in naval and rocket developments.

The move runs parallel with an all-out nuclear submarine program which Russia is pushing in a determined effort to catch up with the American lead.

Defense sources said the Soviet naval program signifies the intention of the Kremlin leadership to expand the fleet considerably in coming years and to make it the world's most modern, overtaking that of the United States.

Russia has been pushing naval buildup with increasing determination ever since the Cuban crisis of 1962 when its naval inferiority proved a severe handicap to the then Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's missile strategy.

The sources said Russia is working on all fronts, feverishly building simultaneously nuclear submarines, equipped with missiles, including under-water launched rockets. Having caught up and, in fact overtaken the American lead in intercontinental ballistic missiles (ICBM), Moscow now seems intent on achieving the same goal on the submarine front. This is the reason why

Russia has refused so far to agree to American proposals at the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT) for a freeze on submarine-launched missiles.

Russia, with fleets already in the Arctic, the Baltic, the Black Sea, Mediterranean and the Far East, is now moving steadily into the Indian Ocean.

The Soviets have built more than 60 warships of various types in the past few years and now have some 210 major surface warships in operation, the sources said.

The United States fleet at the same time has shrunk steadily. Experts have recently pointed repeatedly to the threat of the Soviets strengthening and modernizing the army and navy.

Narcotic control proposed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon proposed Tuesday a new, $42.5 million program to support international efforts to control narcotics traffic.

In a message to Congress, Nixon urged approval in full of his $2.15 billion request for foreign military aid in the fiscal year beginning July 1, and included the narcotics program in it.

"Control of illicit drug production and trafficking is one of the highest priorities of my administration," he said.

"I believe the authorization and appropriation of funds specifically for this purpose is essential to clearly demonstrate the determination of the administration, the Congress and the American people to overcome this serious menace."

Gerald L. Warren, deputy White House press secretary, said this was the first time that narcotics control was included in a foreign aid proposal. He gave no details on how the money might be spent.

Class offered

TWIN FALLS — A "Birds' Eye View of the Real Estate Business" will be offered through the College of Southern Idaho continuing education program.

The course is to be instructed by George Haney, will begin March 22 in Room 208 at CSI. One college credit will be given for the seven-week course.

Interested individuals may pre-register with Haney at 840 Addison Ave. Registration may also be made the first night of class.

Further information is available from Marvin Glasscock, 733-8554, Ext. 221 or from Haney 733-3682.

TF symposium set in March

TWIN FALLS — Preparations are well under way for the symposium on "The Emergency Care of the Sick and Injured."

It is sponsored by the Twin Falls Chapter of the American Red Cross, South Central Idaho Medical Society and the Idaho Department of Health.

Emergency Medical Services to be held March 24 and 25 in the College of Southern Idaho Fine Arts building.

Everett Perry, program director, Idaho Department of Health, emergency medical services, will be the guest speaker March 24 at the no-host noon luncheon to be held at the Twin Falls Club.

Perry was with the health department in Twin Falls in 1964 then was transferred to Boise with the Idaho Department of Health. He worked on the ambulance service bill that was passed during this legislative session.

Perry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Perry, reside in Jerome. The symposium will expose all phases of first aid on "The Emergency Care of the Sick and Injured." Lectures will be given by doctors, Mark F. Grefenson, M. D.; Wendell Petty, M. D.; Bruce Buck, M. D.; Harry F. Brumbach Jr., M. D.; Michael Phillips, M. D.; Russell Newcomb, M. D.; George H. Miller, M. D.; Gregory Kadlec, M. D.; Wayne Carter, M. D.; V. Telford, M. D.; C. F. Wurster, M. D.; Jon D. Wilmoth, M. D.; Roy O. Shaub, M. D.; Miles H. Humphrey, M. D.; John D. McKain, M. D.; George W. Warner, M. D.; and Robert Paine, attorney-at-law.

Films appropriate to subjects will be shown. All lectures and films will be in layman terms. There will be exhibits and demonstrations by the Heart Association and several first aid supply companies which will be manned at all times to give demonstrations and answer questions.

Demonstration of an accident will be given by the Idaho State Police and the Magic Valley Ambulance Service.

Byron Haeking, symposium chairman, is urging all people, industry, ambulance services, businesses, schools, governmental agencies, law enforcement, construction, Red Cross personnel, fire departments, service organizations, nurses, public services and private individuals to attend.

Housewives, mothers and farmers are especially urged to attend. Think of the accidents from machinery, insecticides and pesticides. It is common knowledge that more accidents happen in the home than anywhere else.

Registration will be in the foyer of the Fine Arts Building at 8 a.m. March 24 and at 8 a.m. March 25. There will be no charge.

A certificate of award will be given to everyone attending both days of the symposium.

Conference kits with unlimited valuable pamphlets and other information will be given free to those attending.

For further information call the Red Cross office, Twin Falls, 733-6464.

March symposium

'Violet' panel featured

TWIN FALLS — A panel discussion on violets was presented when members of the Magic Valley-Saintpaulia Club met Monday at the home of Mrs. Darrel Dorton.

Participating in the panel were Mrs. Alice Prescott, Mrs. Sam Porter and Mrs. Elvis Utley.

Leaves were distributed to the members for a yearly project and progress will be reported periodically.

Roll call was answered with a "Short Memorial Prayer" in remembrance of deceased members.

Mrs. Alice Prescott presented the club's president's pin to Mrs. Spencer Greene. The club's bylaws were reviewed and new yearbooks distributed.

Birthday anniversary gifts were received from secret pals by Clara Walton and Mrs. Elvis Utley. A St. Patrick's Day motif was used by the hostess in decorations and favors.

The next meeting is April 10 at the home of Mrs. Carol Utley.

Daytime the fashionable woman is keeping her hemlines moderate, but after five the hemline drops at least to the ankle and perhaps all the way to the floor. It isn't necessarily a dress-up, gown-type look. The casual air is elegant these days in separates—long skirts, perhaps, in fabrics such as black jersey, combined with bright, patterned shirts. Long strings of tinkling chains can add a further bright touch.

Driven to edge, he cries for help

court if it takes everything we have. WEST COAST CASE

DEAR ABBY: A blood test can only prove who the baby's father is not. If your husband is in fact not the baby's father, but the baby's father just happens to have had "O negative" blood type, nothing is proved.

DEAR ABBY: A woman wrote to tell you what she thought was a "cute" saying: "The neurotic builds dream castles. The psychotic lives in them, and the psychiatrist collects the rent."

Your reply was great! You said, "A competent psychiatrist doesn't collect the rent; instead he helps his patient find a dwelling he can live in." And his fee is more appropriately the cost of moving."

You couldn't have given her a better answer: I was in a psychiatric hospital for a short time recently, and am still under a psychiatrist's care. He has put me on the right track; and I now see a completely different side of life. The right side! I don't know what would have happened to me and my family had I not found him.

If more people who had serious problems would seek the help of a psychiatrist instead of hanging onto that almighty dollar, this would be a better world. I could never pay my doctor enough for what he has done for me.

Please, Abby, print this. It may help someone who needs psychiatric help, but hesitates to go because it's too "expensive."

DEAR NEW: The person who admits he needs help is halfway cured. Thanks for writing.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "ON THE SIDELINES IN JERSEY." He's not your husband. You are only guessing. You have a business? Mind it!

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 60764, Los Angeles, Cal. 90060. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

MAKING PLANS for a symposium, "The Emergency Care of the Sick and Injured," are from left, Everett Perry, program director; Martin Foss, chapter chairman; and Byron Haeking, symposium chairman. The two-day symposium is scheduled for March 24 and 25 at the CSI Fine Arts building.

TF County council hears purpose of state ASAP

TWIN FALLS — A film, "Don't Abuse the Use," was shown during the Monday afternoon meeting of the Twin Falls County Extension Homemakers Council.

The film was presented by L. C. Lowry, Boise, and Parke Garrard, assistant traffic director for Idaho, who are affiliated with the Alcohol Safety Action Program a new federally funded program just recently started in Idaho.

The program is geared to screen alcoholic drivers who could cause serious traffic accidents. Garrard said 26 new state patrolmen have been hired who will work only with this type of driver.

Garrard said this ASAP film and program are available for other clubs and organizations to better acquaint the general public with the program's aims.

Mrs. Fred Montgomery, president, presided at the Monday meeting at the Idaho Power Auditorium. Ten clubs were represented, with the Sharp Achievement Award being presented to the Filer Civic Club. The club's name has been inscribed on the plaque and it is displayed in the extension agent's office.

Plans were made to attend the south central district meeting scheduled Dec. 23 at the Ponderosa Inn, Burley.

The next council meeting is set for May 8 with Mrs. Maurice Allen in charge of the program on cultural arts. The next leader training meeting is March 28 and will feature a program on drying of fruits and vegetables.

CAREY — An Idaho horsewoman and an Elko collector are featured authors in the current issue of the North-eastern Nevada Historical Society Quarterly.

Nevada Boise Strode of Carey has compiled the life of Horace and Elita Agee, her grandparents, who were pioneers in the Wells and Clover Valley areas.

Primarily about the Agee branch of the family, the article traces the family back 140 years by local casinos.

"Almost Forgotten Money," an article about merchant token collecting, was contributed by Leonard W. Hoskins, supervisor of the local Nevada Department of Fish and Game office.

Hoskins states he is "a natural born collector" and a special exhibit has been designed to complement his article and display his 150 trade tokens and "bingles" provided by local casinos.

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

The secret of weight control is the habit of normal and enjoyable eating. It is no more normal to overeat than it is to go on a starvation diet.

For us moderns there are several hundred delicious foods that we can indulge in and still keep our weight at a healthy and handsome level. Actually the variety is greater than the average housewife uses in a year's time.

Some foods, like broiled perch or hard-boiled eggs, are routine and relatively inexpensive. Others — mushrooms, pea pods, zucchini, fennel, bean sprouts, winter chestnuts, endive, Cornish hen, grey sole, beef filets, strawberries in champagne — come under the heading of Low-Calorie Gourmet.

Then there are the delectable packaged foods offering delights at bargain counts. For instance cling peach halves counting 35 calories per half cup as against the regular pack's 90 calories. But only your scale knows the difference. Your taste buds will never even guess.

Would you say that a woman who fails to make a habit of this pleasurable kind of weight control is not with it? She's the type who keeps on over-eating when she gains several pounds, instead of cutting back at once. She rides when she should walk. She doesn't think she needs exercise, yet she can't rise from a chair without using both hands.

Of course you and she have nothing in common. You keep in shape the modern way.

Speaker set for TF class

TWIN FALLS — Garth Hull, Ames Research Center, NASA, Mountain View, Calif., will speak Thursday in Twin Falls.

Hull has been invited to speak to members of the College of Southern Idaho aerospace class taught by Rev. Robert Schreckenberg at 7 p.m. at the Idaho Power auditorium. He will speak on the "Moon and Beyond."

He is director of educational program for NASA. The public is invited.

3 members transfer

HANSEN — Three new members transferred to the TOPS Club, Chapter 84, of Hansen during the Monday night meeting.

Mrs. Bryan Harris Jr., was program chairman. Mrs. Audria Klier and Mrs. Betty Rice transferred to the club from Murtaugh and Vickie Rice, Murtaugh, joined as a new member. Mrs. Janice Eaker transferred from a Twin Falls club.

Mrs. Eaker was the best loser of the week and Mrs. Harris won the "quackie" contest. It was announced the deadline for registration for the State Recognition Day in April in Twin Falls, has been extended to March 27.

Election of officers will be held by the club at the meeting next Monday.

Employee feted

CELEBRATING his 75th birthday and 50th year as an employee of the Twin Falls Feed and Ice Co. is Gene Larson.

TF man employed 50 years at same firm

TWIN FALLS — Gene Larson began delivering ice in a horse-drawn wagon in the 1920's for the Twin Falls Feed and Ice Co. He has worked for the same company ever since — over 50 years.

Saturday was his 75th birthday, and on Aug. 21 he will start his 51st year of employment with the firm. Larson came to work for the founder of the company, A. M. Sande, in 1922 and has stayed with the firm through three changes of ownership.

After the automobile became common, he delivered both ice and feed in a pickup. A year ago he retired from driving and is now all-around handyman for the company.

Dorner Bertsch, manager of Twin Falls Feed and Ice, said he hopes Larson will work for the firm the rest of his life.

"He could see what had to be done, and went ahead and did it," said Bertsch. "He was and is a remarkable gent."

CRANAPPLE SALAD
1/2 cup cold water
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/4 cup cranapple juice, boiling
1 red apple, diced
1/4 cup walnuts, chopped
Sprinkle gelatin on cold water to soften. Combine sugar, salt, boiling juice and lemon juice. Add gelatin mixture and stir until dissolved. Cool. Stir in apple and nuts and pour into mold. Chill. Especially good served with meats.

BRIDGE

By Jacoby

Declarer's 'Blind Spot'

The winning play is to take the first trump in his hand and lead the singleton club. West's best play is to rise with the king and lead a heart.

South wins in dummy and leads the queen of clubs. If Send $1 for JACOBY MODERN book to: "Win at Bridge," (c/o this newspaper), P.O. Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

East ducks. South must discard a heart. He ruffs the next club with a high trump; enters dummy with the jack or 10 of trumps; ruffs out the ace of clubs; leads his last trump to dummy to pull West's last trump and cashes the last two clubs. He has to lose two hearts at the finish but he has 10 tricks in.

If East plays the ace of clubs on the queen, South will ruff and come to the same 10 tricks — by ruffing another club next.

Awarded prize

ROGER LAUGHLIN, Hagerman, an Idaho State University architecture student, shows a sketch of his design for a community center which won an honorable mention in this year's contest sponsored by the Idaho Concrete Masonry Association.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I am a 41-year-old man, and I feel like a jerk writing to you, but I have no one else to talk to, and I need some advice before I just drive my car off a cliff.

Over a year ago, my wife had an affair with a married man she works with. It was not her first, and I'm sure it won't be her last. I got fed up with her and her running around, and I finally got a divorce. (We have two kids who are living with me for good reasons.)

I really tried to work things out before divorcing her. That's how I met Lois. (She's the wife of the last guy my wife was fooling around with.) Well, to make a long story short, I dug Lois and Lois dug me. She has three kids, but she won't divorce her husband because she says it was his first offense, and he deserves another chance for the sake of their children.

I'll be honest with you. Lois and I have been having an affair. She says she loves me, but she can't divorce her husband.

Abby, I am crazy about Lois, and can't make it without her. Please tell me what to do.

DEAR GOING: Quit seeing Lois unless you want to wind up with another wife who cheats on her husband.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married only two months. We were very happy until yesterday when his ex-wife called to tell him she was pregnant and is naming him as the baby's father!

Abby, my husband is not the baby's father! He divorced her for running around with other men and leaving their two children alone.

If this goes to court, can't a blood test prove for sure that my husband is not the father of her child? Please tell us the facts about blood tests. My husband is "O negative." We are frantic, and we are determined to fight this in

HS symphonette gives TF program

TWIN FALLS—The Crusade for Strings program was presented for the March meeting of the Twin Falls Music Club Monday by the Senior High School Symphonette.

The symphonette was directed by Del Slaughter for the presentation to the music club, an affiliate of the National Federation of Music Clubs.

Slaughter explained that the symphonette is the "pop band" of the orchestra and numbers that are diversified and fun for the members are played. The program ranged from "Rach to Rock."

Mrs. Henry Coiner, crusade for strings chairman, announced that Jack Glatzer, Czechs, Portugal, concert violinist and clinician, will conduct a two-day workshop and present several concerts.

Concerts will be presented at all of the grade schools, two will be given at Verna C. O'Leary Junior High School for all Junior high students and one at Twin Falls High School. The concerts are sponsored by the Twin Falls Junior Music Clubs, Magic Valley Symphony and the two Junior high schools.

Glatzer plays a rare Guarnerius violin and specializes in works by Bach and Paganini. He began study of violin at the age of 6 and made his debut at 13. Winner of the Merriwether Post competition, he has studied with Leonard Posner, Josef Fuchs, Sander Vegh and Maxim Jacobsen.

He has been chosen to appear as clinician and soloist at the Idaho Music Educators' Association convention in Moscow on March 23 to 25.

Skin decorating game goes female

ELMONT, N.Y. (UPI) — Another male bastion — the tattoo — is crumbling.

Tattooing once was a masculine business of eagles, snakes, dragons and other rugged adornments, but now hearts and flowers are coming to the fore as women take to the skin decorating game.

That's the view of one tattoo artist, Peter Poulos, 26, who says that about one third of the customers at his Long Island Tattooing Studio in Elmont, N.Y., are women.

"It has nothing to do with women's lib," Poulos insisted during an interview. "Tattooing is a genuine art form and women find it attractive."

Poulos said the vogue for feminine tattoos began over a year ago and that his women clients are not "swingers," but neither do they hold what he calls the "silly attitude" that tattoos project a "tough woman image."

The Tattoo artist recommends that women be tattooed where they can show off or cover up their decorations — the thigh, the back and the breast.

"Not on the arms," he said. "For men, okay, but for women it's unattractive and much too masculine."

He advises hearts, roses, butterflies and birds for women because they are "small but elaborate."

ISU class planning meet set

TWIN FALLS — Magic Valley residents have an opportunity to express their wishes regarding fall classes at Idaho State University.

Charles R. Stinson, ISU regional director of continuing education will hold class-planning meetings in the West Minico Junior High school library, Paul, March 20-23 from 6:30 p.m. until 7:30 p.m.

Meetings in Twin Falls will be at the College of Southern Idaho Academic building, March 20-23 from 8:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

Stinson said the meetings have been planned to increase residents' opportunities to make known their interests in courses that can be offered by ISU and other state educational institutions in the first semester of the 1972-73 school year.

All interested persons are invited to attend the meetings so their ideas and needs may be considered.

ISU offers Europe tour

POCATELLO — Idaho State University is offering a one-month architecture-music tour of Europe as a cultural summer workshop.

The program offers from one to four upper division of graduate credits.

Persons who do not wish to gain university credits from the experience may also join the tour, scheduled from May 30 to June 29.

The cost of the trip is $904 per person, plus registration fees for those desiring university credit.

March benefit set in SV

SUN VALLEY — A benefit cocktail hour for the Idaho State Mental Health Association will be conducted March 22 at Sun Valley.

According to Mrs. Rita Hogg, publicity aide for the event, the movie, "Only Human," starring Barry Sullivan will be shown during the benefit. She said the film is a new public education movie produced by the National Association of Mental Health.

"The bright and sensitive narration by Barry Sullivan brings new perspective to many of the commonplace ways in which we often express our attitudes toward emotional problems," Mrs. Hogg said.

The Mental Health Association conducts a research program, works to improve legislation, educates the public and professional groups about mental illness and health as well as provides services to patients in the community, she said.

The Wood River Mental Health Clinic has helped over 260 people in the last six months. With the slogan "You Can Make a Difference," the Idaho Mental Health Association, which is composed of volunteers and interested citizens, has worked to promote legislation to support and expand the mental health program in Idaho, Mrs. Hogg said.

The cocktail hour will start at 7 p.m. in the Sun Valley Lodge Dining Room. Tickets will cover the cost of the cocktails and the movie. The event will be underwritten by the First Security Bank of Idaho, so all donations will go directly to the Idaho Mental Health Association.

Officials for the event include: Mrs. Oliver Dibble, chairman, and committee members, Mrs. Ben Goldberg, Mrs. Robert Ackerman, Mrs. Harry Holmes, Mrs. George Kneeland, Mrs. Pete Lane, Mrs. Hogg, Mrs. George Fritz, Mrs. Gerald Sidwell and Mrs. Marilyn Loring, secretary of the state association.

They will be assisted by representatives of "Nite Line," the emergency call in service for the Wood River Valley.

March wedding slated

TWIN FALLS — Kathryn Graham-Dallas, Blacksburg, Va., has announced her engagement to Tommy Lee Coggins.

Coggins is the son of Neva June Coggins and the late Henry J. Coggins, formerly of Twin Falls.

She is the daughter of the late Col. and Mrs. Thomas Spencer Dallas, Blacksburg, and is a sophomore at the University of Idaho, majoring in art and psychology.

Coggins is a senior at the University of Idaho with a communications major. He will be graduated in May and plans to continue with graduate studies.

The couple plans a March wedding in Virginia.

News Of Servicemen

TWIN FALLS — Col. Louis G. Lelso, son of Mrs. Constance Bowers, Twin Falls, will soon be stationed in Duluth, Minn., as commander of the Aerospace Defense Command's 2nd Air Division.

Now stationed at Colorado Springs, he was recently nominated for promotion to brigadier general. He has been a command director in the North American Air Defense Command.

Col. Lelso has had overseas tours of duty in Korea, Vietnam and Greenland. Rated a command pilot, he includes among his decorations the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Bronze Star.

He is married to the former Barbara Nichols and they have three children.

RICHFIELD — Spec 4 Rodney Riley spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Riley Jr., he brought with him as a guest his immediate superior officer, Lt. Jay P. Rich.

Riley is stationed at Dugway Proving Ground, Utah, where he works in the registrar's office of the base hospital.

Europe's economy cut back

BRUSSELS (UPI)—A combination of recession and inflation has cut dramatically into Europe's economic growth, the Common Market said today.

The Market's gloomy report urged Italy and Germany to take action soon to stimulate their economies. But it warned that high inflation in France, Belgium and the Netherlands made such anti-inflationary action there risky.

The report, prepared by the Market's Executive Commission, said that only France, with an expected 4.5 per cent growth rate this year, escaped the general slowdown. Growth rates in Belgium and Italy will be 3 per cent, it said. The Netherlands will have 2 per cent and West Germany and Luxembourg only 1.5 per cent.

This was far below the annual growth rates—ranging between 5.5 and 6 per cent—which the commission had targeted two years ago in its 1971-72 program.

The Market can still meet its overall growth target by 1975, the report said, although this will be more difficult in Italy. But it said the original target of an annual inflation rate of 2.5 per cent is probably beyond reach, because inflation is galloping along not at 4.5 to 7 per cent.

The report blamed the problem on the general western recession—a slowdown in business activity causing unemployment, combined with high inflation.

The report recommended anti-inflation measures in Germany and Italy. More generally, it called for more liberal credit policies and continued monetary and economic union within the community. But a program to achieve such union was launched only last week and is expected to take 10 years to bear fruit.

The Market's agricultural ministers met here today to try to iron out their wide differences on farm prices for the coming year and long-range reforms in modernizing European farming.

Jordan's dinner set Friday

TWIN FALLS — Enthusiasm for the Republican dinner Friday is running high, according to Douglas Kramer, Twin Falls County GOP chairman.

Kramer said there are still tickets left for the dinner which will honor Sen. Len B. Jordan, R-Idaho, but "sales are good."

The Jordan, appreciation dinner will be at 7 p.m. Friday at the Elks Lodge. "This will be a perfect time for people to meet and visit with Sen. Jordan and to listen to the remarks of one of America's senior statesmen," Kramer said.

The public is invited.

FAMILY CIRCUS

L. M. BOYD

Dirty Movies Get Cleaner

Those X-rated films, known colloquially as dirty pictures, don't stay in circulation long, I hear. And they get shorter and cleaner as they make the rounds. The movie makers found out why. Some projectionists nip out portions of the more electric skin scenes. Understand they place them together to make full-length films of short takes, each a little epitome of pornography.

SIMILAR accidents are more often fatal to men than to women. Likewise, similar surgery. Why? It's baffling. THERE ARE more people who understand English outside the United States than inside the United States, please note.

AT THE MOMENT, can only think of one word - latching - containing six consecutive consonants. Must be others, though.

WRITES a cunning client: "Seven years ago, my wife's car was ransacked of about $500 worth of Christmas presents. Since, at my direction, she has kept a life-sized baby doll, wrapped in receiving blankets, in a crib basket in the back seat. Thieves won't monkey around in a car with a baby in it. It works. She never even bothers to lock it anymore."

HOG

Vocabulary of the typical hog is about 20 words. No, not words exactly. But tones of oink. Studies at the University of Sussex indicate that. At any rate, the hog is far more conversational than, say, the cow or the horse. Prit-near loquacious, in fact.

Q. "What's it mean when a horse is described as 14.2 tall?"
A. That it's a pony. Just 14 hands 2 inches. That's 4-feet, 10-inches, actually. If it's 14.3 tall, it's a horse, too big for a pony. That's 14 hands 3 inches. Or 4-feet 11-inches.

CONSIDER 1,200 human births. Of these, 1,180 arrive normally. Now consider the other 40. Of these, one presents itself brow first. Four, face first. Thirty, buttocks first. And five, blocked crossways, must be manipulated into position before delivery. In a comedy column, this type of item is known as clinical relief.

SEASONED

You may also call yourself a Seasoned Citizen if you recall when: 1. The biggest evening at the movies was "Bank Night."

2. When all the hearsees were Packards.

3. An agricultural expert with the government during World War II suggested farmers remove the horses' shoes at night to save the metal.

OH AND FOR those who prefer to buy in bulk, might mention that house flies weigh about 100,000 to the pound.

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, MARCH 16, 1972

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Instead of going off on a foolish tangent, plan a better way to handle responsibilities quickly and well. Your public image can be much improved. Think sensibly.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You have to show that you are dependable and conscientious if you want to clear up a situation that is difficult. You can be helpful now to a friend who is in difficulty.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Doing anything that could hurt a good friend would only bring animosity so be careful. Know what you want of a personal nature but wait a better day to put in motion.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) If you do not obey rules and regulations that apply to you as a good citizen, you could get into trouble. Not a good day to invest in any new appliances.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You want to make some radical changes, but it is better to wait until you are less emotional. A particular situation needs more study. Then you can handle it wisely.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) A day for convincing advisers and creditors that you are most conscientious. Listening with care to what associates have to say brings fine results.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Don't be upset with an associate who is brilliant but lacks patience. This person has to benefit by a lesson learned the hard way. Stay sober and gain the respect of others.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Wait for a more opportune time before taking any chances in business. Others are in an uncompromising mood right now. Cooperate more with co-workers. Be wise.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can enjoy yourself now provided you steer clear of a person who is too superficial for you. Visit persons who think as you do. Show that you are a kind person.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Being too demanding gets you nothing at home, but using intellect does the opposite. Be sure to take care of vexing problems and the future will be happier for you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) If you are careless in motion you get into unexpected trouble. Eliminate a feeling of belligerence. Make sure you use your words wisely when talking to others.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Study your financial situation well and then pay your bills. Show others more leniency in the collection of bills owed to you. Make a good friend of an adviser. Be wise.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those persons who has little patience and could lose out if not taught to be calm early in life. Give the right spiritual and ethical training early so that it will help your progeny to think logically and at the right pace. Then the chart becomes both successful and happy.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Jerome's Lincoln School repairs to cost $82,195

By CHARLOTTE BELL
Times-News Writer

JEROME — An estimated $82,195 is needed in repairs to Lincoln School to keep it open, Supt. John Campbell told the Jerome School trustees Monday.

Campbell read reports from Commissioner Bartlett B. Brown of the Department of Labor; Maurice A. Bowers, district inspector for the State Plumbing Board; and Robert L. Amoureux, environmentalist with the South Central District Health Department.

The trustees, in a 4-1 vote, approved $1,050 for immediate work that must be done to maintain insurance on Lincoln for the rest of this school year. Leroy Craig, of Prescott and Craig Insurance, told the board what repairs would have to be made before his company could continue the insurance.

They include raising guard rails at each landing to not less than 42 inches to prevent students from falling or being pushed over the rails; the present wood frame additions to the east and west ends of the building should be replaced by buildings having a fire-resistant rating of at least one hour, and the doors leading to the outside should be as wide as those connecting the main building to the additions.

Other changes required are that the exit doors have anti-panic hardware and open in the direction of exit travel; the exit door on the third floor leading to the north fire escape must be replaced or repaired so that it works easily; anti-panic hardware should be replaced to provide safe exit on north basement doors, and the concrete slab outside the east entrance to the building should be rebuilt to provide adequate surface and steps for children leaving by that door to get to the ground level.

Trustee Clair Fife voted against the expenditure, saying "The more we put into that school, the less value we have. I wouldn't spend my own money on it, let alone the district's." Craig said an additional $25,000 would need to be spent to insure liability and contents insurance for the next school term.

The following items would need to be repaired: stairwells at both ends of the building be enclosed with materials having a fire resistant rating of not less than one hour, with self-closing doors of the same rating to provide adequate means of exit from the building in case of fire; electrical wiring should be replaced as necessary to comply with the National Electrical Code, including replacement of knob and tube wiring.

Craig said the purpose of his report is not to close Lincoln School but to make it safe in case of fire. He said a double effort should be made on fire drills, and that all electrical wiring should be checked immediately.

"We feel that the children, teachers and the public are in grave danger from fire in this building, and we are recommending that this building be brought into conformity no later than the start of next school year."

"With the exception of a recent rewiring of some areas, the electrical service is substandard and extremely hazardous. The electrical system is not grounded as required.

This is both a hazard for electrical shock and fire. Some lighting fixtures are supported with deteriorated cords. Some conduit has been separated in places, exposing wiring. Junction boxes are not covered and are accessible to students. All electrical lighting is some instances."

Brown said some rooms do not have alternate escapes as required, and corridors do not meet the one-hour resistance lighting. Brown said faulty wiring is responsible for many fires.

"Fire would spread fast in Lincoln. The basement does not have a sprinkling system as required," stairways are extremely hazardous because of flammable wooden stairs, required fire doors are nonexistent, exit doors do not have proper hardware, and in fact, are blocked and locked in some instances."

Brown said some rooms do not have alternate escapes as required, and corridors do not meet the one-hour resistance lighting. Brown said faulty wiring is responsible for many fires.

Brown also said the building has settling cracks, loose facial stone and sagging structural members. "However, we do not feel that these present an imminent danger at this time," he said. He recommended that loose stone be reset.

Converting toilets and lavatories, Brown said they are definitely substandard, and the majority of the original fixtures installed about 1900 are still in use.

Bowers said none of the toilets, urinals and wash basins conform with the state plumbing code. "Generally plumbing facilities are unsanitary with a strong odor of sewer gas notable in some areas of the basement. Children must go from the second and third floors to the basement for toilet facilities." Bowers said from an economical position, repair and replacement to bring these facilities to half-way decent standards would be "highly impractical in a structure of this age."

Lincoln cost broken down by category

JEROME — Jerome School Supt. John Campbell presented a breakdown of approximate costs for meeting the requirements of state agencies to repair Lincoln School.

Campbell told the board of trustees Monday night it would take about $82,195 for the repairs.

They are a new roof at $6,396; either a fir floor like the present one at $8,000 or a tile floor, which is a better quality, at $18,000; toilet floors tiled, $9,800; steel stairs to replace the wooden staircases, $15,000; electrical wiring and adequate lighting, $14,300; replacement of lavatories and toilets using steel construction, and addition of doors, $9,359, and brickwork to repair the entrance and bricking up some windows, $9,440.

Campbell said by placing good equipment in the school, some of it could later be removed to a new building if needed. He told the board he would like to have its decision as soon as possible so he can prepare his budget for next year.

The trustees will meet again Monday night to decide what should be done.

Campbell said the district will not have any money for repairs until after July 1.

That would leave only July and August for repair work if the trustees feel this is what should be done. The students would have to be placed elsewhere until the repairs are finished, Campbell said.

At present, third and fourth graders attend the Lincoln School.

Campbell listed three options for accommodating the students: First use Washington and Jefferson elementary schools for the first through the fifth grades, put the sixth graders in the junior high school and return tenth through twelfth grades to the high school building who are now using the junior high.

The cost for this plan would be practically nothing, Campbell said.

A second alternative is to reopen Appleton School. The fifth grade would probably be sent there, as the expected enrollment of 155 students is the least. First through sixth grades would then be redistributed throughout Washington and Jefferson schools.

Costs would include the expense to ready the building, about $7,200; busing about $3,000, and catering of hot lunch since the kitchen at Appleton would have to be used as a classroom.

The third option is to provide portable classrooms to be placed adjacent to Jefferson School. Students would use the toilet facilities and library and lunchroom at Jefferson. The cost for the annual lease on 12 classroom units would be about $85,000. Each unit would be 24 by 40 feet and accommodate about 30 students.

Campbell said the money for repairs would probably come from the instructor's portion of the budget. Curtailment of some programs, preferably in the high school, and cutting some of the staff may be necessary.

Campbell read a letter from Ephraim J. Swann, president of the Jerome Education Association, which recommended another alternative if Lincoln School is closed.

Swann proposed instead of cutting programs and staff, that the elementary schools be spread into the junior high building, and run the junior and senior high students on a split shift.

They would use the high school building and junior high as necessary. At present the high school students use both schools.

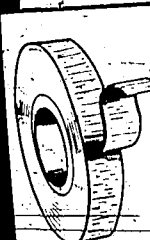

Campbell said this program could be worked out by scheduling seniors to attend classes from 7 a.m. to noon, sophomores from noon to 5 p.m., and juniors from 5 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

He said all high school students would be in the high school, and all junior high students would be in their own building, thus eliminating the extra time it takes to get from class to class.

Special consideration would be given to senior and sophomore students who rely on bus transportation, fitting them into the 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. schedule, Campbell said. This would also mean that none of the staff would have to be cut.

Campbell told the board an engineering investigation of Lincoln School in 1963 had recommended $106,000 for substantially the same repairs as were just suggested to the board Monday night.
