4 Yanks die in Viet war

SAIGON (UPI)—Four Americans died today in Vietnam, two killed when a 150-man patrol exploded a Communist booby trap 31 miles east of Saigon; two others, when they fell into a giant jet fuel tank at the Long Dinh army base on the outskirts of Saigon.

The U.S. command said the two men killed and four injured by the boobytrap were members of the 3rd Brigade, 1st Cavalry Division (Airmobile), last U.S. combat unit in the Saigon area. A few hours later another U.S. patrol was attacked nearby and one American was wounded.

Viet plane crash kills Paul man

PAUL — Army Capt. Gregg N. Hollinger has been listed as killed in action as a result of a plane crash near Da Nang Dec. 14, 1971.

Captain Hollinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hollinger, Paul, was assigned to the U.S. Military Assistance Command with the Joint Staff, and was serving his second tour of duty in Vietnam.

He had been listed as missing in action until this week. (Obituary P. 2)

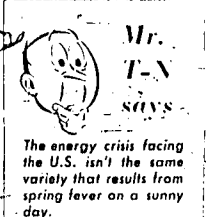

One American was killed Monday in a helicopter crash in the Central Highlands, raising the week's toll above the two Americans reported killed in combat last week.

Reports from Long Dinh said the two Americans killed there were working on a 420,000 gallon tank when they fell through a manhole. They were dead, possibly from fuel vapor, when a rescue team brought out the bodies.

In battlefield action South Vietnamese ground troops backed by American jets launched a daring, pre-dawn raid on a hilltop overlooking the A Shau Valley and captured a former U.S. artillery base in what American advisers called a textbook operation against the heavily defended site.

The South Vietnamese moved in after B52 bombers softened up the Communist position. A spokesman said 52 guerrillas were killed, 40 by the air strikes, and that the South Vietnamese lost two men wounded. The base was known as Veighe before the Americans abandoned it.

South Vietnamese officials circulated reports today that unconfirmed intelligence reports said the Communists were planning to use Soviet-built jets in South Vietnam and Laos for the first time in the war.

Dollar survives

PARIS (UPI) — Representatives of ten leading western industrial nations agreed today the U.S. dollar has successfully withstood new speculative attacks since its devaluation and that the western economies are moving into a period of faster growth.

The consensus was reached at the 10-nation Working Party Three of the Organization of Economic Cooperation (OECD) grouping the United States, Japan, Canada and leading western European countries.

Oskar Emminger, vice president of the West German Bundesbank and chairman of the group, told a news conference the recent firm pledge of western central banks.

National boycott set against Idaho potato

By IRENE PETERS
Times-News writer
(Copyright 1972, Times-News)
KEENE, Calif. — Farm labor leader Cesar Chavez today pledged a national boycott of Idaho potatoes to protest enactment of an Idaho law he believes repressive to farm workers.

Chavez said his United Farm Workers will initiate a three-part action including the boycott, worker strikes and legal action to seek "redress against the repressive clauses" in the Idaho Farm Labor Act of 1972.

Chavez said in a telephone interview that the farm labor act was enacted without the workers' knowledge because it was not published in Spanish, which he said is the language of most migrant farm workers.

He said the union is now preparing for the boycott by studying the workings of the potato marketing system. A starting date for the boycott has not yet been set, he said.

The union plans to "tell the workers of Idaho of the dangers of the law," that Chavez termed "a backroom deal that determines the future of thousands of farm workers and dooms their families to poverty and injustice."

Chavez said there are many things in the law which are "outright anti-union, and passed with no other intention than to discourage the formation of unions."

These involve, he said, limits on picketing and the right of local courts to issue injunctions against union activities without recourse by the unions.

The union must submit a list of its leaders, which is "totally against the dictates of a free society," Chavez said. "For what purpose, we ask, must the union leadership be registered with the state?"

"We are asked to submit a financial report annually. Nothing is said about the employers disclosing their part," he said.

"They also went to the ridiculous position to say that the (Idaho Agricultural Labor) Board can determine if union dues are excessive."

"It's hard to believe the citizens could permit such a blot on their state reputation for decency, justice and democracy," Chavez said.

He claimed another section of the law is contrary to the policy of the U. S. government and trade unions. "If a worker would like to pay his dues by having them deducted from his paycheck, this is illegal. This strikes at the heart of freedom of contract central to the American system of free enterprise."

Chavez called "one-sided" the right of the board to determine who the bargaining unit will be.

The power of the board to determine who can vote in union elections and when could mean that if most of those in favor of the union are seasonal workers, the board can say they do not have the right to vote, Chavez said.

Chavez called a one-cent increase in Idaho's potato advertising tax a "slush fund to break the union."

He said the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee is prepared to "tell the country they are paying one cent per hundredweight to fight the union."

The Idaho act sets up an agricultural labor board with subpoena power which can seek injunctions against unfair labor practices.

District courts were given jurisdiction to enjoin or restrain unfair labor practices which threaten injury to perishable agricultural products.

Violence fades across Ulster

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—Sporadic overnight violence by Protestant mobs died out in daylight hours today and Northern Ireland moved from street battles to political ones. The general atmosphere was a kind of emotional hangover from the crisis weekend.

A woman died of injuries she suffered in a gasoline bomb attack six weeks ago, raising to 291 the number of dead in three years of violence here. Two men were killed by a bomb explosion Tuesday in Limavady, a small town in County Londonderry.

The emotional peak came Tuesday when 100,000 Protestants massed in front of Stormont, Castle, seat of the Northern Ireland Parliament, in a wake to observe its dissolution, the end of 51 years of Protestant rule and the imposition of direct rule from London.

Gunfire broke out when the emotional crowd dispersed and there was some shooting in Londonderry, but no casualties. Some bands of Protestants set fire to a Roman Catholic school, Our Lady of Mercy, and British troops fired rubber bullets and broke up the crowds.

In general, there was a return to normalcy.

FDA discloses limits on food filth

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Breaking a secret it kept for 61 years, the Food and Drug Administration disclosed Tuesday the amount of "natural filth" it allows in the nation's food supply.

Included are mold, insect parts, rat feces and other substances.

Despite the acknowledged repugnance of the list, the FDA said the limits "were set on the basis of no hazard to health."

Dr. Virgil O. Wodicka, director of the FDA Bureau of Foods, said if food were required to be totally pure, "There would be no food sold in the United States."

The agency's limits on chemical additives and harmful bacteria in food have long been public knowledge. But since 1911, when the first maximum limits were set, the FDA has kept secret its limits on "natural or unavoidable defects caused by insects, rodents, parasites, mold and rot."

The list disclosed Tuesday includes 79 items ranging alphabetically from chocolate (limit — 150 insect fragments and four rodent hairs per 225 grams) to tomato soup (limit — microscopic mold content on 40 per cent of samples).

James S. Turner, a frequent FDA critic, formerly associated with Ralph Nader, said the limits should be reduced. If pressure were put on, he said, industry would find ways to eliminate impurities from foods.

Wodicka said that "these things are processed in the real world," explaining why some filth must be allowed. "If any consumer has questions, I would invite her to bring in some home processed food for testing. The average home canner will do no better," he said.

Some examples from the FDA's filth limits include:

Foods with contaminants above the listed levels are subject to seizure or recall as contaminated. One gram equals 0.035 ounce.)
Chocolate: Average of 150 insect fragments and 4 rodent hairs per 225 grams; maximum of 250 insect fragments and 8 rodent hairs in any single 225-gram sample.

Frozen eggs: Two cans from any lot, no matter its size, containing decomposed eggs; decomposition based on 8 million bacteria per gram.
Fresh and frozen fish: Contaminated if 5 per cent of samples have "definite odor" of decomposition over at least one-fourth of their bodies, or if 20 per cent have "slight odor" of decomposition over 25 per cent of bodies, or a combination of the two.

Corn meal: Contaminated if 20 per cent of samples contain more than 200 insect fragments per 50 grams or 2 insects per 50 grams and if another 20 per cent of samples contain more than 25 insect fragments per 50 grams or 1 insect per 50 grams.

Also contaminated if 20 per cent of samples contain more than 8 rodent pellets (feces) per 50 grams, and another 20 per cent contain more than 2 rodent pellets or rodent hairs per 50 grams.

Fresh, canned or frozen cherries: If 10 per cent are rejected due to rot, the lot is contaminated. Also if 4 per cent are insect infested. (Continued on P. 13)

TF GOP Women meet

TWIN FALLS — Funding expanding and existing Idaho programs and remaining responsible to the taxpayer is difficult, Rep. William Roberts, R-Buhl, said Monday.

"But," Rep. Roberts said, "to do so while Gov. Andrus uses his special form of 'new math' is an almost impossible job."

Rep. Roberts, vice chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Twin Falls GOP Women.

He reported in detail on intricate funding procedures of the appropriation committee which acts with the senate finance committee in hearing all agency requests. The committees also work together to set up a budget for the state.

Rep. Roberts said the governor's proposed budget of $140.2 million was extremely unrealistic when compared to the sum of $137.3 million passed by the legislature.

He said it would behoove taxpayers and voters to review actions and suggestions of Gov. Andrus in such areas as reduction of state employees, Social Security surplus funds and funding of public schools. He said that in truth, more money had been appropriated for public schools than had been proposed by the governor.

In response to a question, Rep. Roberts was emphatic in stating that deliberate attempts from Gov. Andrus' office forced the legislature to remain in session longer than was necessary to complete its task.

Mrs. Robert Stradley, president, conducted the meeting and read the basic principles of the GOP party.

Mrs. Marguerite Hartley, member of the Toastmistress Club, introduced by Mrs. R. L. Utman, program chairman, gave a short program on the United States flag.

Mrs. George Coier announced action taken at the GOP state central committee meeting in Boise. Mrs. Marjorie Miner, Wallace, was elected state chairman and rules for delegate selection were changed so there will be no automatic delegates.

Also at the state meeting Gary Chase presented a proposal to the state group that a committee person be elected from the age group of 18 to 26 to serve on the national committee. Chase is a campus representative of this age group and attends the University of Idaho, Moscow.

A report of the Sen. Len B. Jordan honorary dinner was given by Mrs. Kenneth Marshall.

Clean up urged

TF yard cleaning time

TWIN FALLS — Spring lawn and yard cleaning time is here and the city sanitation department has some special instruction for city residents.

Joe Coon, city sanitation officer, said the city no longer sends special street department trucks and crews through the city during clean up periods. Instead, the Parks and Sons Co., trash contractors, pick up the extra amounts on routine rounds providing residents meet requirements.

Branches, leaves and other trash must be tied or packaged for easy handling by the sanitation crews and for placing in the regular compactor trucks. Trash trucks will not pick up old appliances, car bodies and similar large items. These can be hauled to the sanitary landfill with no charge at the landfill if the hauler has a current city water bill receipt.

Coon said any brush or limbs under six inches in diameter should be cut in lengths of not more than four feet and tied in bundles weighing no more than 75 pounds.

Limbs over six inches in diameter may be cut in shorter lengths so long as they do not exceed the 75 pound limit.

Leaves, grass, weeds and clippings must be in containers. Heavy duty plastic bags are ideal, providing they do not weigh more than 75 pounds.

Other items which are not picked up by the regular trucks but can be taken to the landfill by residents include building materials such as mortar, plaster, dirt, rocks, sod or stone. Dead animals and manure also will be refused by the sanitation contractor.

Commercial rates charged for hauling to the sanitary landfill are 50 cents for a regular car, $1 for a pickup truck, $1.50 for a 1 1/2-ton truck and $2 for two tons or over.

Coon said efforts are being made to coincide the city clean

CLEANUP of city alleys, back yards and homes is being urged during April by the Twin Falls City Sanitation Department. In cooperation with the county's April 29 clean-up day, the city is urging residents to complete cleaning of alleys such as this.

up for April with the county's Johnny-Horizon Clean Up Day, April 29. City officials hope most of the private property owners will clean their own trash from their own property prior to the April 29 campaign.

Coon said it is illegal to maintain abandoned or junked vehicles and other trash on private property for over 48 hours. Persons doing this are subject to fine, he said. He said Parks and Sons Sanitation Co., the solid waste contractor for the city, is doing an outstanding job of hauling refuse.

The city is willing to assist residents with specific problems, he said, and persons with specific questions should contact the city sanitation department.

Instrument landing system slated for TF

TWIN FALLS — Construction of the $500,000 instrument landing system at Twin Falls City-County Airport will start in June, Jean Milar, City manager, said today.

He made the announcement after a story from Washington, relative to a $240,000 grant to the local field suggested that the instrument system would not be installed this year.

"What the information from Washington means," Milar said, "is that the $240,000 grant for Twin Falls will be used for ramp and taxiway improvement, security fencing and land acquisition. Matched with local funds, this will represent an expenditure of some $425,000. The instrument landing system, including towers, beacons and radio beam facilities, will be paid entirely by the federal government and this expenditure will amount to an additional $500,000.

"The ILS work, after a June start, should be completed and in-use by next December. The total project expenditure at the field this year, from all sources, will amount to nearly $1 million."

That Degree

More and more a college degree is proving to be not as important as it used to be. It is valued and respected but it is no longer the "ticket" to a job. More and more the so-called "blue collar" workers are in demand. Industry is wanting people who know how to work, in addition to knowing how to sit and think.

There will always be a certain number of openings for the degree holders, but in Idaho this is becoming less important. There are just not enough "white" collar jobs to go around.

So small institutions of learning — such as the College of Southern Idaho — are coming into their own. There has been much complaint that the Legislature did not provide enough funds for higher education in this state. Perhaps, the way things are going, it is not really needed.

There are more important things in life than an institution of higher learning. We will draw an argument on that statement but we believe it.

A Tax Slash

Because of our own domestic economic problems, it will be interesting to watch the results of the British government's dramatic new attempt to cope with "the twin evils" of inflation and unemployment.

For the second consecutive year, the Conservative government of Prime Minister Edward Heath has announced a wide array of tax reductions.

The cuts this year amount to about 7 percent of the total national budget. On an individual basis the reductions amount to a tax cut of $2.60 a week per Briton. Old-age pensions will be increased 12.5 percent, and the tax cuts will be applied to both income and purchase taxes.

Individual exemptions will be increased, and 2.75 million persons with low incomes will be exempt from income taxes altogether.

With all of that the annual budget of $43.6 billion will still be expected to show a surplus of $500 million.

Last year Britain experienced an increase in the retail price index of 8.1 percent. In January, unemployment had risen to 4.3 percent, bringing the jobless to the highest level since 1974.

Within the months the shock waves generated by the government's latest budget revisions should be having some effect on the total economic picture.

A Man Lost

The State of Idaho lost a good man with the resignation of John R. Blaine as insurance commissioner. He decided to resign his $18,000 a year position for employment outside government circles.

Gov. Andrus, who kept Mr. Blaine at the post to which he was originally appointed by Gov. Samuelson, termed the resignation "another example of private industry making better financial offers to state employees."

Actually, the Governor is missing the real point. Even at $18,000 a year why should Blaine — now 51 — remain on the job? Job security just isn't there in a political appointment and if a comparable or better position is available in private circles then Mr. Blaine would be foolish not to take it.

The Governor cannot expect a good man to stay around until someone throws him out. The state could attract many qualified individuals if there was real job security. The size of the salary isn't everything.

MR. SPECTATOR

It's For The Shelf

Every now and then a humor — or catch-all — column should get serious. That's the case today, so Mr. Spectator will discuss the recent marijuana and drug abuse report.

National commissions usually follow one of two courses. They occasionally attack the subject of inquiry with gusto, surround themselves with controversy — and have their recommendations quietly ignored by the President. Or more frequently they tiptoe through the pitfalls, skirt the issues and produce inconclusive conclusions — also quietly ignored by the White House.

The National Commission on Marijuana and Drug Abuse has chosen the latter course. The commission, established by Congress in the fall of 1970, has spent the last year surveying the drug picture at home and abroad and has issued its first report.

That report is both ambiguous and filled with double standards. It deals primarily with marijuana, but it reaches no positive conclusions. It states frequently through many pages that light use of marijuana has not been proven to be harmful.

It may even be beneficial, the report states at one point, in "youth's transition from a 'rowdy' to a 'cool, non-violent type'."

Having concluded that marijuana may not be harmful, the 13-member panel then says marijuana should not be legalized — except in the home. Laws should be changed, the commission recommends, to make smoking the drug in private permissible. Also to permit carrying less than an ounce in public, and to permit casual private distribution of small amounts for little or no profit.

But production, sale or distribution for profit would remain a felony. Any amount found on a person in public would be subject to seizure (though the individual would not be charged, if it were less than an ounce). And public use would be considered a misdemeanor.

The commission makes the marijuana picture more scrambled than ever. It avoids the principal issue — is the drug harmful or not? It compounds the confusion by appearing to take both sides.

How logic could decree it is illegal to do it on the front porch escapes reason. Should the commission's recommendations be adopted into law, a tangled quagmire would descend upon the courts.

The report also conveniently omits mention of how the "legal" user would get his supplies if distribution and production remained outlawed, or who would check the numerous strains or purity of the product. This report, more so than some in the past, deserves to gather dust on a presidential shelf.

PRaise Doc TAYLOR

Dr. Taylor, ye old president at CSI, was commended by members of the college board at the last meeting. He was praised for staying so close to expenditures after he reported that eight cases of toilet tissue were used at the gym during the A-2 tournament.

PAUL HARVEY

This is a preview. What I'm about to relate is "news before the fact," a happening before it has happened. Maybe you can prevent it.

California's Supreme Court has decreed that the death penalty is unconstitutional. The U.S. Supreme Court is considering the question.

If the U.S. Supreme Court agrees with the California State Supreme Court, then the death penalty becomes illegal in all states. No more hanging, no more gas chamber, no more electric chair, no more killers will be killed. Understand, most Western nations have abolished the death penalty and our next generation would like to.

A recent campus opinion poll in the United States shows 67 per cent of college students would abolish the death penalty. Most quote a moralistic concept, insisting that "Thou shalt not kill" should apply to society as well as to individuals.

California makes 15 states which have done away with the death penalty. Actually, nobody's been executed in any of the United States in 4½ years — 697 men and women wait for the Supreme Court to decide. Our Supreme Court has acted repeatedly in related cases; but what the court is considering right now is of transcendent significance: the constitutional question, "Does capital punishment constitute cruel and unusual punishment?"

That's what California's Supreme Court says; that it's "unconstitutional" because our Constitution's Eighth Amendment specifically prohibits "cruel and unusual punishment."

When that amendment was adopted in 1791, its authors were concerned with the abolition of torture — thumbscrews, mutilation, castration, drawing-and-quartering, the rack, burning alive.

That's what they meant then. Only recently has "humane execution" been construed as "inhumane."

The Supreme Court may again duck a "yes or no" decree, may equivocate, may judge the specific cases before it without ruling on the "constitutionality" question.

Because? And hear this, please, because it must not be misled by contemporary semantics, nor should we be. Let's assume that the Supreme Court finds that killing a criminal constitutes "cruel and unusual punishment."

Now, traditionally, Americans have held certain things to be more precious even than life itself; honor, virtue, "liberty."

Patrick Henry said, "Give me liberty — or death." Thousands of thousands have died in war to defend their and others' "liberty."

The Declaration of Independence promises us the right to "liberty."

What is to prevent the next petition to our Supreme Court alleging that anything less than "liberty" is un-American? That "confinement" constitutes "cruel and unusual punishment."

Then all the prisons must be unlocked; then everybody goes free.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

More Clothes

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have a problem of having to wear more clothes than I feel I need, or I get chilled and colds. I'm 54 and an outside worker, so it is rather inconvenient.

The doctor explains that it is from not being able to make use of the sugar I eat, but he doesn't seem to think there is anything he can do about it.

I've had this trouble for some time, and it seems to be getting worse. Can anything be done? — A. B. G.

It's true that we get our energy, and body heat, from sugar created from the food we eat, but that may not be the entire answer in your case.

First, a layer of fat acts as insulation for the body, retaining heat. Women have more of this surface fat than most men, and that is why they can wear thin hosiery and skimpy clothes that would make a man turn blue.

So, if you are lean, adding some weight can help.

Another common cause of feeling cold is hardening of the arteries, retarding circulation. Possibly you have more of this trouble than is average for your age.

In this connection, tobacco constricts the small blood vessels and you get less heat at the surface of the body. A physician friend of mine was a chain-smoker and also an avid hunter. When he went hunting in fall or winter he cut down his smoking drastically. (That was good for him in more ways than one.) But he did it because his feet and body stayed noticeably warmer. If you smoke, there's a valuable tip for you.

Finally, low functioning of the thyroid can make a person intolerant of cold, so a metabolism test might indicate a need for thyroid medication.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I had a test last week and was told my blood sugar was too high, so if you have a booklet on diabetes, would you please publish the cost? — Mrs. C. C. B.

It's "Diabetes, the Sneaky Disease," and for a copy send 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of the Times-News.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Re: Could the Answer Be TwinBeds and Using the Pill?

Your article on the report issued by the Commission on Population Growth and the American Future makes me wonder just who these learned men are? What kind of families did they evolve from? What kind of family do they have and could I venture, are they happy and satisfied with it? Who appointed them to their task and to what political end? Do they seriously think twin beds could keep people apart? That the psychologically and sometimes physically damaging pill holds the answer? Wouldn't marriage later in life tend to weaken mental attitudes by more abortions and result in progressive insecurities in both male and female? Can old people want to live if their one purpose in living is that they will not add to our problems?

I submit that the immediate need in this country is to modernize behavior of the public servant. Many of our modern politicians spend too much time trying to make sure of their social status for the next two or four years. I'd be more impressed to vote for the one who was doing his job and not just mouthing it.

I'd like to go back to relying on faith in beautiful, intelligent, imaginative and creative wanted children to come up with answers to all these problems made by increased population. There are many problems, but not insurmountable as lazy, near-sighted, selfish people claim. I can't believe our trouble is advanced medicine or people who believe in a family of 3 children. I do believe advanced medicine is a blessing in this day. I also believe a blessing to be the couple who through their love and their faith in the future, will have a family of three or more. These are the people who will want to use the advanced medicine, so their lives will be long and they can enjoy their children and grandchildren, knowing that these beloved children love and want them.

America is the country that families built and not just families with one or two children.

Americans won't stand for anyone tampering with the individuals' right to freedom of choice and happiness that can come only from the family they plan.

Americans won't be frightened by a "startling report" made by "learned men" into taking the "stand pat" approach to their problems.

Americans will accept the challenges of tomorrow, modernize their thinking and solve their problems by using both the earth's resources and human resources available to them.

Is the answer twin beds and the pill? I think not.

The answer is based on love. Love of spouse, love of family, love of country, love of God and love of our fellow men.

Think of what our parents accomplished, what we are accomplishing and what our children can accomplish, each with a loving family to support and sustain them.

Why strive to change this basic need for a family and our chance for true happiness? Why not strive to change the things that are threatening it? — Sue A. Child

Editor, Times-News:

Veterans, Veterans wives and families I would say look out. Caveat Emptor is a Latin term in law which means "Let The Buyer Beware."

Recent news releases by two Veterans' organization spokesmen endorse a free grave for veterans' promotion which bears looking into before jumping into. I became concerned after reading the first release so I stopped in to see my good friend Bill Madland of the Twin Falls Cemetery Association. I wanted to obtain prices which I could compare with those detailed in the articles, one of them a detailed story carried in the Times-News.

Here are my findings. The comparison is the big deal for Veterans compared to full retail quoted by Mr. Madland for the Twin Falls Cemetery:

The news release in the Times-News said:

Veteran's space, Free; Wife's space, $50; perpetual care, both spaces, $30; Veteran's marker, bronze, free (note: All Veterans get a free marker from the Veteran's Administration).

wife's marker on companion base, $350; two crypts, $300; recording and registration, $19.50 Total is $749.50.

The quotations from Mr. Madland are:

Two separate graves (not spaces) at $95 each and including perpetual care a total of $190; Wife's matching marker on a companion base, choice of any of six styles, $125; two crypts at $75 each total $150; No recording or registration required. This makes a grand total of $465.

I have also been informed the sales force of the proposal for veterans receive substantial commissions. There is no commission involved with dealing direct.

As I see it, what it boils down to is that if you take the free space and the free marker (which is free anyway) it will cost you $749.50. If you deal direct at full retail it will cost you $465.

I would suggest that veterans check with their local cemetery directors first.

BERRY'S WORLD

"I've got an idea for putting the magic back in our marriage. This evening let's watch shows we never normally watch!"

Anxious West Berliners trek into East Germany

BERLIN (UPI) — Normally soberside Communist border guards relaxed their strict procedures today and waved some anxious West Berliners into East Germany hours early. Between 400,000 and 750,000 West Berliners are expected to stream into Communist East Germany during the next week. It is the first time Westerners have been allowed into East Berlin in six years and the first time into other East German cities in 20 years. Border guards were supposed to start letting package-toting West Berliners into the Communist state at 6 a.m. but many were admitted earlier, especially those who had to catch trains into the interior. One man was allowed to cross through at 15 minutes after midnight and a couple with their three children went in one hour later. On the east side of the wall there were happy tears and shouts of joy from friends and relatives who had not seen each other in half a decade.

Most of the visitors carried packages and gifts into the east — principally coffee, nylon shirts and pantyhose which are scarce in East Germany. Despite the historic occasion, the early traffic flow into East Germany was not much heavier than usual. The main rush was expected Friday when Germans begin celebrating a four-day Easter holiday. Even though a Big Four ambassador's agreement has not yet been signed, the East Germans said they would open the wall for seven days—March 29-April 4—as a goodwill gesture.

'Drunk' charges said exaggerated

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Arthur K. Watson Tuesday said that charges by columnist Jack Anderson that he got "gloriously drunk" on a transatlantic flight were exaggerated. Watson, the U.S. ambassador to France who was named by President Nixon as the contact for further discussions with China, conceded he was "exceedingly and unintentionally rude" to the crew of the Pan American jet on the flight

March 9 from London to New York. He attributed his conduct to spending an entire night working without sleep, two ineffective sleeping pills and "several drinks." But he denied that he was intoxicated and offered to produce witnesses to prove it. Watson stated his case in a letter to Rep. Wayne Hays, D-Ohio, chairman of the House Foreign Affairs subcommittee.

Trial continues into 10th week

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI) — The Harrisburg Seven defense Tuesday told the jury in the case of the Rev. Philip F. Berrigan and six other antiwar activists that what should be on trial is the morality of the FBI and the character of its informant, Boyd F. Douglas Jr. Three more defense attorneys remained today to give summations in the 10th week of the federal court trial. The seven, vigorous opponents of the Vietnam War, are accused of plotting in 1970 to kidnap presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger, blow up Washington heating systems and vandalize draft boards to publicize their cause. More than 200 seminarians said they plan today to ring the federal building with their bodies in peaceful civil disobedience in support of the Harrisburg Seven. Authorities said they had been assured by the National Union of Theological Students that there would be no forcible blocking of entrances. The action was part of a Holy Week program of sympathetic demonstrations to be climaxed by a rally Saturday. J. Thomas Menaker opened the defense summations Tuesday with an attack on the FBI and Douglas, its paid informer who in the summer of 1970 supplied information on letters to and from Berrigan in prison. These, plus Douglas' testimony, are the key government evidence to prove a conspiracy. Menaker said the defendants had been accused by the government of using Douglas to help their movement.

Racial balance

DETROIT (UPI) — U.S. District Judge Stephen J. Roth ruled Tuesday that the city's predominantly white suburbs must be included in any plan to achieve racial balance in Detroit schools. Such a metropolitan school integration plan would involve massive cross-district busing and could be ordered implemented for the 1972-73 school year. Roth, in issuing the ruling, rejected the three Detroit-only plans before him. "That the court must look beyond the limits of the Detroit school district for a solution to the problem of the school segregation in the Detroit public schools is obvious," the judge said in a six-page opinion. He said that of the three plans he rejected, two proposed by the Detroit Board of Education and the other by the NAACP, none would result in the desegregation of the city's schools.

Trial recesses

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A U.S. district judge in a surprise move Tuesday recessed the trial of United Mine Workers President W.A. "Tony" Boyle and two associates on charges they illegally funneled $49,500 in union money to political campaigns. Judge Charles R. Richey recessed the trial before attorneys for both sides could present their final arguments to the jury. The judge had speculated on Monday that the jury would receive the case Tuesday. Final government and defense arguments were rescheduled for today. The jury was expected to begin its deliberations later in the day. Boyle, the 67-year-old head of the coal miners since 1963, is charged along with two other union officials with funneling $49,500 of UMW money to political campaigns.

Bill extending US Capitol's west front defeated
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The 35-a bill that would have Capitol's west front. Senate defeated Tuesday 40-10 allowed extending the U.S. Capitol's west front. The Senate apparently heeded a warning of Sen. Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C.

Recreation bill backed

SHOSHONE — Persons interested in passage of the National Recreational Area Bill, HR 6857 are urged to write to their legislators and the Parks chairman now.

Mrs. Harrell Thorne, Shoshone, president of the North Side Communities, Inc., said hearing will be held before the Senate Subcommittee on Parks and Recreation on April 12-13 in Washington, D. C.

Backers of this bill are in favor of the multiple-use concept for the Sawtooth National Forest area.

Members of the Sawtooth Valley Association state "Idaho cannot afford to lock up her resources for just one use."

A main point of concern to residents in the Sawtooth Valley, Mrs. Thorne said, is the wording in Section 3a, however and they are asking for a definition of the statement "Provided that acquisitions of lands or interests therein for access to and utilization of public property, and for recreation and other facilities, etc." They feel the words "other facilities" should be defined or stricken entirely, as this particular bill is for administration of recreation use only.

They also ask for deletion of Section 8 of the bill as it takes the game management from the State and puts it in the hands of the Federal Government, and they ask that wording in the original Bill, Sec. 10, be retained. It read "nothing in this act shall affect the jurisdiction or responsibility of the State of Idaho under other provisions of law with respect to hunting and fishing."

"With those changes, the Sawtooth Valley Association, now backed by the North Side Communities, Inc., feel this is a good piece of legislation and should be enacted as quickly as possible," Mrs. Thorne said.

The Parks chairman is Alan Bible, Subcommittee on Parks and Recreation, Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Committee, North Senate Office, Building, Washington, D. C. 20515.

Andrus signs into law key revenue proposals

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus has signed into law three key revenue proposals designed to balance the budget and provide funds for prison construction and water pollution control.

The bills raise the cigarette tax from seven to nine cents per pack, impose a 7 1/2 per cent increase on the liquor surcharge and a 35 per cent tax on tobacco items such as cigars, snuff and pipe tobacco.

The $137.3 million general fund budget approved by the legislature was to be balanced by revenue from the current tax base, $2.6 million from a tax bill still awaiting action by the chief executive, $800,000 from one penny of the two-cent cigarette tax hike and $550,000 from 2 1/2 per cent of the liquor surcharge increase.

The chapter started a new contest that will honor all members each time they have a five pound weight loss. Out going president Mrs. Frederickson gave each member a gift. Both new and the old presidents attended a meeting in Twin Falls to plan the State Recognition Day for TOPS Clubs set for April 28 and 29 at the CSI Auditorium.

'That's a long way down!'

SUN VALLEY — "Racing tots" served a double purpose as pre-schoolers took part in the annual Kindercup ski races at Sun Valley.

The races, sponsored by the Papoose Club, are designed for the non-racing children of Blaine County. Separate classes for boys and girls up to junior high school age were established.

But a roster of about 25 veteran racers, all six years old or younger and all four feet tall or shorter, led off the day's races in the pre-school events.

Despite a few runny noses and crossed skis, most of the skiers easily swept down the slalom course, using whatever style they felt would gain victory — snowplow, Christie or "all down and slide." Younger group members, including a 2½ year old girl, completed the course by plowing between a parent's skis.

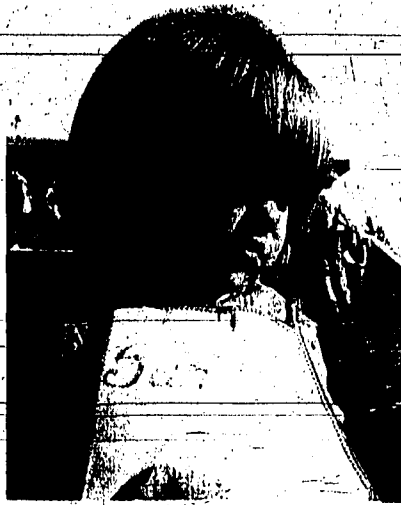

"Buckfever," however, caused the most concern. After struggling to put on his skis, one boy said to another, "We still have to go up the lift, you know."

A three-year old girl, with her skis laid on the snow in front of her, stood motionless for almost five minutes at the top of the course, looking down Dollar Mountain. She didn't even flinch when first one ski, then the other slid down the slope.

No one watched to see whether the loss was purely accidental.

Another girl seemed more frightened by getting her picture taken than by the course. But she quickly calmed herself by sucking on the handle of her ski pole.

By the end of the races, most spectators agreed that the pre-schoolers appeared, dressed and skied like professionals. One woman commented on a tow-headed, tanned boy who had a slightly wicked grin, by saying, "He looks exactly like a ski instructor."

Convict dies in break attempt

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI)—A convict who showed how tough he was by plunging a knife six inches into his leg was killed by a police marksman Tuesday, ending a jailbreak attempt in which two persons were held hostage 100 yards from the courtroom where Angela Davis is on trial.

Jacob Zitzer, 28, was shot to death when sheriff's deputies rushed him and two other prisoners to end a two-hour, 15 minute standoff at the Santa Clara County Jail.

"It's all over. The two hostages are OK," said Sheriff's Lt. Don Tamm at 11 a.m.

He spoke over a loudspeaker to about 500 newsmen and spectators who had gathered for Miss Davis' trial, which was postponed until today.

The hostages—a young medical secretary and a public defender—were released safely. During their ordeal Zitzer, a convicted robber, plunged his knife six inches into his own leg to show he would not hesitate to kill the hostages.

The three prisoners used knives to take the hostages in the incident that was unrelated to Miss Davis' trial, but similar to the 1970 Marin County shootings for which she is accused of murder, kidnap and conspiracy.

Miss Davis arrived with her attorney shortly after the 8:40 a.m. attempted jailbreak began. She was stopped at the locked gates leading to the Superior Court, then was allowed to enter and go directly to Judge Richard E. Aronson's chamber.

The three inmates, Zitzer, Norman Lucas and Ted Querregg, reported to the prison medical center on sick call shortly before 8 a.m. It was there they pulled 12-inch knives and took the hostages.

Zitzer, alias Chuck Williamson and the ringleader of the group, had escaped from San Quentin Prison three months ago after he and two others had placed carefully constructed dummies in their cells to deceive guards. The other two were captured but Zitzer escaped over the wall using a rope fashioned from prison denim.

Under Sheriff Tom Itoga said the prisoners telephoned the sheriff's office in the jail building and ordered a car "with the motor running."

The car was taken to the jail's underground entrance after negotiations with the inmates ended with their threatening to kill the hostages immediately if they were not released.

Angela's trial delayed 1 day

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI)—Angela Davis arrived Tuesday at her trial for plotting to break prisoners out of San Quentin only to find the day's session called off because of an attempted jailbreak.

The abortive escape try in which two hostages were taken and a prisoner shot and killed Tuesday had nothing to do with the case of the 28-year-old former UCLA philosophy teacher except that it occurred in the jail where she would have been held had she not been freed on bail.

The two hours of suspense were played out 100 yards from the courtroom and ended with a sudden shot that sent 500 spectators scrambling to the ground outside the Santa Clara County Jail where a getaway car had been revved up for three inmates.

The trial itself was to resume today with the defense making an opening statement rebutting state charges that Miss Davis conspired in the Marin County courthouse shooting of Aug. 7, 1970, because she was passionately in love with "Skeedadd Brother" George Jackson.

The defense was expected to advance its case that Miss Davis, a black militant Communist, played no part in the taking of hostages in the Marin County courthouse and slaying of Judge Harold Haley, but is being prosecuted in a "political frameup." She is on trial on charges of murder-kidnap.

PAUL THE MISSIONARY

The author of much suppression and imprisonment of the young Christian church became its chief writer and architect: St. Paul. A bright, zealous advocate of traditional Judaism, a strong member of the Pharisees, Paul had dogged the first Christians with his pursuit—threatening imprisonment and more. Yet Paul (known as Saul) did not keep his commitment to track down suspected Christians in Damascus. For on the road, he had a vision of the Lord who asked, "Why do you persecute me, Saul?"

Temporarily blinded, Saul was baptized "Paul," soon to become a world leader of the Christian faith. St. Paul represents those millions of believers who never met Jesus in the "flesh" but came to know Him in the Spirit. His journey roamed across the known world and his letters to new and growing churches make up the largest single block of material in the New Testament.

Computer removal may start lawsuit

BOISE (UPI) — Claims submitted to the state by the Univac Division of Sperry-Rand Corporation could be the prelude to a lawsuit over the removal of the Univac 494 computer from state service, according to state auditor Joe R. Williams.

He said Tuesday "I have no way of knowing of course. I've never had a deal like this before."

He added he is maintaining close contact with the office of the attorney general for future developments.

IF solon may not run again

IDAHO FALLS (UPI) — Rep. Terry Crapo, R-Idaho Falls, hinted Tuesday he may not run for re-election to the State House of Representatives this November.

The House Majority Leader told KID Television in Idaho Falls he had not made a decision yet, but is "near a decision not to run" again. His term expires at the end of this year.

Crapo said following adjournment of the second regular session of the 41st Idaho Legislature, he is more concerned about getting back to his law practice and spending more time with his family.

KID reported that Crapo said he enjoyed the legislature but indicated it was "too time-consuming."

IDAHO FALLS (UPI) — A performance audit of the department of education may be completed by May, according to Legislative Auditor James Deffenbach.

He said Tuesday the audit will be presented to the legislature's interim budget-fiscal committee, which has set its first meeting for April 28 in Boise.

Budget OK'd for Jerome

By CHARLOTTE BELL
Times-News writer

JEROME — The Jerome City Council approved a 1972 budget of $585,579 after no citizens appeared at a hearing.

This represented a 7.9 percent increase over last year's budget of $542,498. The total general fund this year is $181,563, down 25.8 per cent from the 1971 budget of $242,693.

Increases in the general fund are for legislative fund, $4,855; executive fund, $1,683; and administration, $28,805, compared to $35,298 for 1971. Legislative and executive funds were not figured separately in last year's budget.

Included in this year's general fund is $25,000 for the water department, anticipating that the city will have the opportunity to redeem additional bonds. Also accounting for the increase is a 5.5 per cent raise in wages for city employees.

The law enforcement and crime prevention funds show a 16.5 per cent increase from last year for a 1972 total of $71,983. The increase is for a teletype machine and a new police car.

The budget for the fire department is $30,522, down from last year's $31,650. Building, housing and protective inspection fund is $3,905 and animal control shelter, $3,359.

Not included in this year's general fund are Social Security, which was $7,000 last year; retirement, which was $7,800; a contingency fund, $25,000; and the street department $5,160, which are contained under other categories in the 1972 budget.

Total special fund this year is $424,019, compared to $324,803 last year. Included in the special fund are: fire department $3,000; highways, streets and roadways, $110,847; parks and recreation, $15,363.70; irrigation, 17,922; sewers, $53,579; sanitation, $30,131; library, $18,881, and water department, $165,000.

Tri-county unit approves plans

TWIN FALLS — The tri-county board of the South Central Community Action Agency approved a new program outline Tuesday when it met in Twin Falls.

Dennis Pratt, SCCAA director, said the program is new in philosophy and presents a complete diversion from the way programs are normally set up by the agencies.

According to the approved proposal, each interest group within the SCCAA will formulate its own program rather than the SCCAA planning programs to hand to the groups for implementation.

Pratt said the new program "will not work without citizen participation." He said "we won't know what their plans are until various groups are formed. Then they will tell us what they want to do."

Now programs are scheduled to begin July 1.

Also at Tuesday night's meeting a budget of $750 was approved for the United Welfare Mothers to cover costs of travel, babysitting and other items. Pratt said the money was authorized so the mothers "will be able to help themselves."

Attending Tuesday night's meeting were between 55 and 60 people, including many involved in the senior citizens program.

Mike Ishakawa, representing Region 10, attended the meeting and will be in Twin Falls helping the SCCAA write its equal opportunity plan which must be complete by the end of April.

Rupert to buy pool equipment

By LEE TREMAINE
Times-News writer

RUPERT — The Rupert City Council approved a $13,978 bid for a roomful of equipment for the city swimming pool on Tuesday.

During a brief council meeting attended by only three members of the council the bid from Globe Feed and Seed Co., Twin Falls, was accepted.

Councilman Clark Cameron presided over the meeting in the absence of Mayor Wendell Johnson, who was out of town.

Councilman George McDonald was also unable to attend.

The only other bid received was from Bradley Boiler Co., Twin Falls, bidding $19,857 for equipment.

The contract will allow purchase of nearly all of the equipment used in pumping, heating and filtering swimming pool water, providing comfortably warm water for swimmers for the first time.

The contract specified that the city of Rupert will be responsible for removing all of the present equipment. In addition a doorway must be provided in the equipment building to allow installation of the huge sand filter, eight feet in diameter and about eight feet high.

Trial delayed over islands at Hagerman

BOISE — Trial in U.S. District Court here to determine ownership of several Snake River islands in Hagerman Valley has been continued indefinitely.

The trial opened Tuesday before Judge Ray C. McNichols and was just getting underway when the presiding judge was stricken and taken to a hospital where he underwent an emergency appendectomy.

Judge Willis Ritter, chief judge of the Utah Federal District Court, who owns the Thousand Springs Ranch in Hagerman Valley, brought the action against the Bureau of Land Management and Department of Interior to obtain title to islands located in the river adjacent to his ranch.

The Utah judge contends the islands belong to his ranch on a basis of his and previous owners' longtime use of them and improvements made on them.

The Department of Interior had stated they were under the jurisdiction of the BLM and had announced plans to sell them to the Idaho Fish and Game Department for game habitat.

Shoshone okays budget for '72

By MELBA THORNE
Times-News writer

SHOSHONE — The 1972 city budget of $692,925.40 was approved Tuesday night by the Shoshone City Council.

The action followed a hearing at which no citizens appeared either to protest or ask questions. The 80 per cent increase results from the sewer construction project.

Of this amount, $114,561.40 is for general city expenses. Another $575,404 is for sewer construction, and $2,960 is in the water works reserve fund. The latter amount is set aside to make needed major repairs or improvements in the town's water system, according to Mrs. Claude Chess, city clerk.

There may be need for greater expenditures in this fund because public health regulations require water and sewer pipes be separated and meet certain standard for installation, she said.

Tax requests to finance the budget for 1972 total $41,595.40, compared to $34,352. The rest comes from other revenues.

In other action, the council studied requirements for installation of water and sewer lines under state regulations.

All street lights on South Rail Street, North Rail Street and adjoining streets will have to be replaced, at an anticipated cost of $7,000.

Components of the budget include general fund, $64,882; library, $3,070; fire department, $3,383; recreation, $1,070; street and street lighting, $40,350; water works reserve, $2,960.

Attempt fails

KIMBERLY — An apparent attempt to obtain two extra days of Easter vacation at Kimberly Junior High School with a bomb threat was foiled Tuesday.

Sheriff Paul Corder said a letter, made with words cut from newspapers and magazines, was pushed under a classroom door. The note demanded that the school be closed for 48 hours.

Corder said the school was searched and no bomb was found. Classes continued in session. The school will be dismissed for Easter vacation Thursday.

Get licenses early

TWIN FALLS — Persons buying license plates or tags in Twin Falls County will have to do their shopping earlier in the day.

Ron Taylor, county assessor, announced effective Monday the automobile license office on the first floor of the county courthouse will close to the public at 4:30 p.m.

Taylor said the employees of the department are finding more time is needed at night to check out their sales of the day and balance their books. There are more and more vehicles being licensed in the county he said.

If the office is kept open to the public until 5 p.m. the girls must work until 6:30 or 6 p.m. to complete their book work.

As a result they are working longer hours than other county courthouse employees and are not being paid for the extra time.

Several other courthouse offices including magistrate and district courts are forced to close to the public at 4:30 p.m.

Help pledged for TF cleanup

TWIN FALLS — Cooperation from 44 organizations and individuals was pledged Tuesday in a planning meeting for the April 29 Johnny Horizon Twin Falls County Cleanup.

Meeting in the county courthouse, the organization representatives pledged assistance in manpower and equipment for various areas of the county. Plans similar to those in the past two years will be followed, County Commissioner William L. (Bill) Chancey said.

Many area assignments were completed last night and others will be made in the next organizational meeting April 11.

The one-day campaign will be part of the American Beautification Day and will get underway at 9 a.m. with an army of manpower and equipment covering roadsides, parks and other areas where citizens are inclined to scatter litter during winter months.

Several tons of trash have been picked up during the previous two Johnny Horizon Twin Falls County Cleanup days. Cassia County will also join the effort this year as will the city of Twin Falls.

Chancey said the Tuesday night meeting was by far one of the most enthusiastic held and he anticipates many more volunteer workers this year. A noon to 2 p.m. picnic lunch will be served at the Filer fairgrounds and at the LDS Church lawn in Murtaugh.

Wallace Savage, county weed director, is in charge of obtaining food and preparing serving for the event.

Chancey said 4-H clubs and Boy Scouts are mobilizing for the event and some of the others who have accepted assignments include Jennings Pierce, chairman for the Castleford area with Eugene Thomas, assistant. Soil Conservation Districts under the direction of Clarence Hedrick in charge of equipment, will cover parts of the county. The Kimberly area will be chairmaned by Dick Stafford with the Snake River Soil Conservation District assisting. Clark Kleinkopf and Twin Falls Grange volunteers will be in charge of Salmon Dam.

Swede Lundy, Kimberly, U.S. Forest Service, will be in charge of Rock Creek Canyon with Ranger Lewis Munson in charge of other forest areas. Al Peters, Twin Falls Canal Co.; Mrs. Sherman Day, Twin Falls PTA Council; Virgil Malone, Moose Lodge; Buhl Jaycees; John Ortel; Filer Highway District; Al Porrott, Civil Air Patrol; Dick Chillot, Baptist Church youth group; Jim Gannaway, Idaho Fish and Game Department; Mrs. Ed Hansen; Col. Sam McGraw, National Guard and Mrs. Roy Painter, Twentieth Century Club, were among those pledging assistance.

Jean-Milay, city manager; Bob Brock, BLM; representatives of the Buhl Jaycees, Castleford Men's Club, Extension Service, Camp Fire Girls, Twin Falls Rotary Club, Idaho State Police, Salmon River Canal Co., Twin Falls Zoning Board and numerous individuals attended and agreed to assist.

Juveniles appear at Jerome

JEROME — Nine juveniles arrested last week in connection with burglaries, auto thefts and armed robbery appeared before Magistrate Russell Shaud Tuesday for a detention hearing.

The magistrate hearing granted a request by the prosecuting attorney Eugene Fredericksen for detention orders until petitions for a juvenile hearing can be completed.

Fredericksen said he will try to have one of the youths arrested tried under adult criminal proceedings, since part of the crimes allegedly committed by the youth were done after he became 18 years old.

A date for the hearing has not been set.

Jerome sets vote April 25

JEROME — The Jerome School Board set April 25 as the date for a trustee election.

Trustee Clair Fife's term expires July 1. Fife represents the first district which covers an area three miles south of Lincoln Street and one mile east and west of Main Street.

Fife said he does not intend to seek re-election to the school board.

Laundry firm sued

BOISE (UPI) — An Idaho laundry and dry cleaning firm that operates in Twin Falls and Rupert has been sued in U.S. District Court here on charges of violating minimum wage, overtime and record keeping provisions of the federal wage-hour law.

The U.S. labor department complaint named L. A. Boyd, individually, and doing business as Boyd's Laundry and Dry Cleaning Village as defendant.

Crews inspect canyon

BY PEGGY CHU
Times-News writer

GOODING — Work at Box Canyon was inspected Tuesday by the Bureau of Land Management which reported that recent complaints apparently are unfounded.

According to Dean Durfee, BLM official from Shoshone, he received a letter from the Magic Valley Recreational Council that construction of a road into Box Canyon had been causing rocks to roll onto BLM.

Road construction is one of the steps being taken by Richard Kaster to use Box Canyon water for a fish hatchery.

Durfee said a permit must be granted if BLM land is to be disturbed, but after Tuesday's inspection Durfee said "not even a rock has rolled on us."

He said the BLM had surveyed Box Canyon very carefully and had set corners so they would know of any allight encroachment on BLM land.

Kaster has built a road for about a mile up Box Canyon, Durfee said, but the road is on private land.

He also said Blind Canyon, which empties into the Snake River south of Box Canyon, was undisturbed until a year and a half ago. However, about the same time Box Canyon started being developed, Blind Canyon also was opened for development.

Durfee said Kaster's employees operate heavy equipment through Blind Canyon to get to Box Canyon in order to avoid BLM land. He said, however, that Kaster is not the developer of Blind Canyon.

Kaster is into the area protected by House Bill 69 by about 30 yards, Durfee said.

Last fall Kaster applied to the Department of Water Administration for a higher point of diversion in Box Canyon. According to Durfee if the application had been denied, the BLM could have affirmed Kaster's work in the canyon because the previous diversion point would have required Kaster to cross BLM land.

Bob Fleenor, assistant director of the DWA who attended the [all] hearings, the permit for the higher point of diversion could not be denied under present statutes. The only grounds for denial would be proof that issuing a permit would be injurious to present water rights.

This could not be established in the Box Canyon issue, Fleenor said.

Opposition to the change in the point of diversion by the BLM and the Idaho Fish and Game Department was not valid. Fleenor said these protests should have been brought out when the original permit was granted. The filing on that first permit was in 1968.

Fleenor said Kaster can be within the area protected by House Bill 69 because his filing is prior to the Idaho Parks Department filing of 850 cubic feet per second which is provided in the bill.

Fleenor said because the water was already appropriated, the parks department filing was secondary. If development in Box Canyon does not take place then the parks department filing would be considered.

When asked about development already taking place in Box Canyon, Fleenor said "I don't know what we can do about it."

He said water users in the Hagerman Valley, including Kaster, have protested the application by the parks department filed under House Bill 69. The issue, he said, may have to be decided by the supreme court.

ABA raids Jacksonville, grabs 7-1 sophomore

Howard finds holding out is like playing in poker game

NEW YORK (UPI)—"It's like a poker game. A guy doesn't know whether to raise, stand pat or drop out."

Frank Howard, standing pat right now at home in Green Bay, Wis., was saying how it feels holding out, how it was negotiating with Bob Short, the bossman of the Texas Rangers.

Last week Frank Howard got on a jet and went down to Pompano Beach, Fla., where the Rangers are training to talk with Bob Short. They talked and talked and then Howard came home. Short made his 6-foot-7, 280-pound outfielder-first baseman one of those final take-it-or-leave-it offers. He also invited him to make a deal for himself if he could. The whole thing sounded rather ominous, sort of final. But they never really are.

"It's not all that bad," Howard says. "We're only $10,000 apart."

At the plate, Howard was Washington's No. 1 producer last season, hitting 26 homers, knocking in 83 runs, and batting .279 for the Senators before they left for Texas. Those figures were something of a comedown from the year before when Howard hit 44 homers, drove in 126 runs and batted .283.

When they began talking this year, Short tried to cut Howard's $110,000 salary. Howard countered by asking for a raise. The last time they spoke Short was offering the same salary as last year and Howard was asking for a $10,000 raise.

What about Short telling him he could make a deal for himself?

What about Short? "He has given too, but not as much as I have."

A lot of people have the wrong idea about a baseball holdout, particularly one who has gone this far. They picture him sitting on top of the phone, chewing his fingernails into fine little bits and working himself up to a nice case of anxiety neurosis.

That isn't the picture of Frank Howard though.

"I'm up at 7 in the morning and there's always plenty to do," says Howard, who sells commercial real estate for supermarkets throughout Wisconsin with a partner, Don Holzrecht.

Howard is aware that he, Vida Blue and Richie Allen are the last three major holdouts but he hasn't kept up with their negotiations very closely.

"I guess they're the same as me," he says. "They want more money."

Not a bad guess, although in Allen's case he seems to be interested in time more than money.

"I like Howard says, Vida Blue and Richie Allen are the same as he is. All three will wind up playing this year."

"I want to play as long as I can," Howard says. "With the price of poker what it is, a guy is foolish if he doesn't."

Squires bow in last minute

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI)—The Carolina Cougars scored six points in the last 48 seconds Tuesday night to take a 127-121 win from the Virginia Squires in an American Basketball Association game.

The Carolina win paired with a New York victory over Indiana means Virginia must defeat Memphis in the season-end Wednesday night at Memphis to clinch second place.

Carolina, despite its victory, slipped into fifth place and out of a fourth place tie with the Floridians, who beat Memphis.

Wendell Ladner hit a jumper to break the 121-all knot as Julius Erving was called for goal-tending. A pair of foul shots by Gene Littles and former Squire George Carter's lay-up at the buzzer iced the game for the Cougars.

"I thought for awhile it might be the thing to do," says the 35-year-old blockbuster, "but when a ballplayer tries to do that it's like prostituting himself. So I decided against it. Besides, I think it was only a ploy on his part."

Howard and Short talked money four different times during the four days Howard was in Pompano Beach. It was all very friendly. No shouting, no names, no hard feelings.

"He'd tell me his reasons why he couldn't pay me more and I'd tell him my reasons why he should," says Howard, who, lucky for everybody, always is reasonable anyway.

"Look, I understand Short's point of view. You gotta realize he's in business to make a dollar. A ballplayer has to respect management's position. What it boils down to in the end I suppose is both sides have to give a little."

Has he given?

"And how!"

Florida cops playoff spot

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Warren Jabali sparked a late rally that lifted the Floridians to a 118-170 victory over the Memphis Pros Tuesday night, clinching the final American Basketball Association East playoff berth.

Jabali drove for two three-point goals in the final 1:15 of the third quarter after Memphis had whittled what was major signing beneath the senior level this year in its declared war against the established National Basketball Association.

The New York Nets earlier signed junior star Jim Chones of Marquette.

"He was so happy to sign," said Memphis General Manager Bob Vanatta, "that he put down the pen and grabbed both of my hands in his. There were tears in his eyes."

No wonder: The 20-year-old giant, who blocked 32 shots in leading Jacksonville to a third-place finish in the recent National Invitation Tournament, probably made close to seven figures for his signature.

Vanatta called the contract "excellent."

Brent said he was extremely happy to be drafted by the Pros, who are propping up the Western Division of the ABA from the bottom, and to sign with them. He'll play in Memphis next year—if the team can work out its financial difficulties and remain in this city of 800,000 on the muddy Mississippi.

"For many reasons I'm pleased to be with Memphis," said Brent. "I am close to my home in St. Louis and I have heard many wonderful things about the city here." He met with newsmen Tuesday afternoon after signing the contract in a motel room at 3:30 a.m.

Brent averaged only 11 points a game this year but he broke his leg early in the season and was late getting started. He averaged just under 20 PPG as a freshman at Jacksonville and drew praises from the Dol-

'Little' all-stars selected

NEW YORK (UPI)—Let's hear it for the little guys.

They're becoming less and less visible on the college basketball scene as the years roll by, but without them teams like Niagara, Florida State, Hawaii and Kentucky may not have achieved the goals they did this past season.

So, once again United Press International is proud to honor these "midsize" with the selection of its 24th annual "small America" basketball team for players 5-foot-10 and under.

Named to the first team are Al Williams of Niagara, Otto Petty of Florida State, Ron Lyons of Kentucky, Jerome Freeman of Hawaii and James Tedesco of Union College (N.Y.). Only one member of the first team, Lyons, is as "big" as 5-10. Williams and Freeman are both 5-7 and Petty and Tedesco stand 5-7. Tedesco is the only repeater from last year's team.

The second team consists of 5-8 Greg Samuel of Florida State, 5-8 Art Gaxiola of Worcester State, 5-10 Steve Gaspar of Boston State, 5-10 Mike Pagliaro of Massachusetts and 5-10 Billy Johnson of Youngstown.

Those receiving honorable mention are 5-8 Bopale White of Indiana, 5-9 Berto Bautista of Texas El Paso, 5-8 Jim Burke of Brown, 5-10 Gary Lusk of Iowa, 5-10 Al Fischer of Bridgeport, 5-10 Willie Collins of Bishop College, 5-10 Fred Riley of Edgboro State, 5-10 John Betancourt of Massachusetts, 5-10 John Garrett of Southern Illinois, 5-10 Paul Collins of Temple and 5-10 Steve Hirschorn of Tennessee.

phins' big Artis Gilmore, who is now a star with the Kentucky Colonels of the ABA.

Gilmore said recently after the Pros announced that they had drafted Brent that he "should become a super star."

The Pros did not get a first-round pick in the ABA draft. They named Brent in the second round.

"We picked him because he indicated to us earlier that he wanted to sign," said Vanatta. "We would not have drafted him otherwise. That way, we might have simply lost a high pick."

Napoles flattens Charles in seventh round to keep title

WEMBLEY, England (UPI)—Jose Napoles retained his world welterweight boxing title tonight by knocking out British challenger Ralph Charles in the seventh round.

The 31-year-old Mexico-based champion caught up with his elusive challenger after 2:52 of the round, tagging him with a left and following with a vicious right that sent the Briton down for the full count.

It was the only knockdown of the fight and the 1-5 favorite.

Charles switched his boxing style completely and changed from a come-forward "bang-away" slugger to a will-o-the-wisp.

The 29-year-old Briton led Napoles a merry chase for six rounds and clearly angered the mustachioed champion with stinging counter-punches. Napoles, often caught off-balance in his efforts to tag his challenger with the big punch, had to take several sharp cracks to the head.

Charles' most successful round of a fairly even fight at that stage was the sixth and an annoyed Napoles made him pay for it. The champion came out swinging in the seventh, chased his man around the ring and finally caught him for good.

World lightweight champion Ken Buchanan shook off the rust of a six-month layoff and outclassed Canadian Al Ford in a non-title 10-round preliminary to the Napoles-Charles bout.

The agile Edinburgh boxer suffered a severely gashed left eye in his last title defense on Sept. 13, a classic 15-round encounter with Ismael Laguna in New York's Madison Square Garden.

Ford, a 21-year-old with a gaudy 41-1 record entering the fight, forced most of the pace as Buchanan was content to stay at long range and get in a needed workout.

Warriors shock Bucks 117-106

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—The Golden State Warriors came back from an early 13-point deficit Tuesday night to post a 117-106 victory over the Milwaukee Bucks and take a 1-0 lead in opening round of the National Basketball Association Western Conference playoffs.

The Warriors started as if they were still feeling the effects of their flight from San Francisco, but they soon got straightened out.

Golden State hit just 37 per cent from the floor in the first quarter, compared with 60 per cent for the Bucks. Cazzie Russell's 13 first quarter points kept Golden State within shouting distance as the Bucks opened a 36-26 lead.

Milwaukee had a 46-33 lead midway through the second quarter, but then the Warriors got hot. Jim Barnett got 10 points in the last six minutes of the second period to close the gap to 61-50 at the half.

Golden State turned on the steam in the third period and again it was Barnett showing the way. The team's "Crazy Horse" teammates call "Crazy Horse" had 11 points in the third period to help the Warriors to a 90-81 bulge going into the final period. The Warriors hit on 57 per cent from the floor while the Bucks were cold at 33 per cent in the third period.

The win put the Warriors in good shape in the playoffs as the two teams will meet Thursday night in Milwaukee and then play the next two games on the West Coast.

Barnett was high scorer with 30 points.

Minico has third win in baseball

The Minico Spartans racked up their third baseball victory in 24 hours Tuesday afternoon by defeating the Burley Bobcats 6-1 behind the one-hit pitching of Mike Tremayne. Monday, the Spartans defeated Borah 4-2 and then outslugged Boise 9-8. Minico didn't overpower Burley with its hitting but took advantage of the two hits it managed with walks and errors to run up a 4-0 lead in the first two innings. That was enough for Tremayne to coast in. The Spartans added their final two runs in the sixth.

In Monday's action, Runyon hit a two-run triple in the second inning to get Minico off to a 2-0 lead. Winning pitcher Dennis Warburton held Borah through the first five innings while the Spartans added another run, then went up 4-0 with their last tally in the sixth. Borah broke the shutout in the sixth with two runs.

The Boise victory was the hardest to come by, Minico having to go into extra innings and come behind as the slugfest dominated the first four frames.

The Spartans jumped out to a 3-0 lead in the top of the first with Boise reclaiming the lead with two in the bottom of the frame. The teams offset two runs each in the second with Minico taking the advantage in the fourth. But Boise climbed ahead with two runs in the fourth and Minico had to score in the seventh to throw it into extra innings.

Sarus and DeeLynn Seumons sparked the Minico attack with three and two RBIs, respectively.

Nets rally past Indiana

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (UPI)—Rick Barry celebrated his 28th birthday with a 32-point effort Tuesday night as the New York Nets defeated the Indiana Pacers, 92-86, and kept alive their hopes for a second place finish in the ABA's Eastern Division.

Carolina defeated Virginia, 127-121, which left the losing Squires a half game ahead of New York with their final game of the season Wednesday night.

Knothole champs

FOURTH GRADE champions in the Twin Falls City Recreation Department's Knothole Basketball are the above trophy winners. The Bickel School fourth graders, Toms Team, finished regular season play with a seven win, one loss record.

Lakers trounce Bulls 95-80 in opener

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—After a sluggish first half, Los Angeles caught fire to reel off 15 straight points in a 4 1/2 minute span of the third period Tuesday night and the Lakers went on to deflate the injury-troubled Chicago Bulls 95-80 in the first game of the NBA Western Conference playoff semifinals.

Guard Gail Goodrich, who contributed six points in the blitz, wound up scoring 32 points while his backcourt mate Jerry West contributed 23.

The Bulls, paced by Jerry Sloan's 18 points, held the record-breaking Lakers to their second-lowest point total of the season. It was only the second time Los Angeles has failed to score 100 or more points.

With West and Goodrich each getting six key points in the third period rally, the Pacific Division champions turned a 49-43 deficit into a 58-49 advantage. The bulls, who trailed by three at intermission, had sunk nine unanswered points to start off the third stanza before the Lakers took charge.

Los Angeles upped their advantage to 12 points, before the Bulls sliced the margin to 72-69 with 7:56 to go in the game. But once again West and Goodrich took charge and in no time the Lakers led by 12 again.

Besides being one game down to the winningest team in NBA history, Chicago also lost starting center Tom Boerwinkle, who re-injured his left knee hauling down a rebound in the first quarter. That left rookie Clifford Ray to handle giant Wilt Chamberlain the rest of the night.

Boerwinkle's status is undetermined for the second game of the best of seven series which will be played Thursday night at the Forum.

Both squads were obviously tight in a low scoring first quarter but wound up tied 17-17. The aggressive Bulls blocked out well to keep Los Angeles from getting any offensive rebounds. They shut out the Laker fast break.

But Chicago converted on only seven of its first 30 field goal attempts for a poor 23 per cent. This allowed the Pacific Division champs to remain close even though they popped in only seven of 22 attempts in the first 12 minutes.

The biggest lead of the first half came when Chicago reeled out six straight points to take a 16-11 advantage with 3:48 left in the opening round. Los Angeles had led 11-10 but they went scoreless for four minutes and 18 seconds to wind up equaling their lowest scoring quarter of the season.

The Lakers got better outside shooting in a see-saw second period and led at the half 43-40. Each team led by three points twice in that quarter, but West's 10-point effort gave Los Angeles the advantage of intermission after he had contributed only one point in the initial quarter.

At half time, the Lakers were outshooting Chicago only 39 per cent to 31 per cent.

Maryland studies new park

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (UPI)—Gov. Marvin Mandel of Maryland Tuesday introduced legislation in the General Assembly to build a multi-million dollar sports complex in downtown Baltimore.

The bill, prompted by the Baltimore Colts threatened pullout from the city and move to Tampa, Fla., calls for the construction of a combination arena and stadium at a cost of anywhere between $90 million to $219 million on railroad property near the city's harbor.

Beasley's knee okay

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—Terry Beasley, the all-America split end from Auburn, underwent surgery here Tuesday for a condition his doctor described as a "housemaid's knee."

A spokesman said the knee condition, where water collects periodically between the skin and the kneecap, should be easily corrected and Beasley should be out of the hospital within three or four days.

Dallas nips Utah in finale

DALLAS (UPI)—The Dallas Chaparrals tuned up for their West Division playoffs against Utah with a 98-85 victory over the Stars in an American Basketball Association regular season game Tuesday night.

It was the final season game for Dallas, Utah has one more against Denver Wednesday night. The best-of-seven playoff start Saturday night in Salt Lake City.

The win was Dallas' fourth in the last five games against the defending ABA champs, and evened Dallas' record at 42-42 and its five-year record at 204-204.

Donnie Freeman, playing with a strained achilles tendon, led Dallas with 19 points, but had his scoring string of 20 or more points halted at 34 games.

Military team cops AAU crown

LONDON, Ky. (UPI)—Don Crenshaw led a balanced scoring attack Tuesday night with 20 points to propel the Armed Forces All Stars to their fifth consecutive national AAU title with a 92-89 victory over Lexington (Ky.) Marathon.

It was the second straight championship loss to the Armed Forces for Marathon, who were led by Kenny Davis' 28 points. Phil Argento chipped in with 20 for Marathon but fouled out in the second half.

Then the soldiers shrugged off a 44-43 halftime deficit to go ahead for good after breaking a 56-all tie with 12:09 on four straight points by Paul Andrews. Three technical fouls were called, two on the losers.

Arrow
"the look of the leader"

The fashion word's out — and it's subdued. Gentler. Quieter. But never dull. Arrow as the #1 selling shirt in America leads — naturally — and makes you a leader in its go-everywhere subtle Kent. With Met II collar (longpointed but not extreme), the 2-button rounded cuff (very with-it but not flamboyant), the pattern's resplendent (but far from savage). Of course these Kents are Decton Perma-Iron, marvelously easy on washday and thereafter. "Sanitized Plus-2". All calculated to keep you subtly elegant from now on.

Study slated at Almo site

BURLEY — National Park Service officials are expected this summer to study the City of Rocks, Max Bruce, Bureau of Land Management official, told Burley Chamber of Commerce members Monday.

Bruce said that earlier the Cassia County commissioners appointed a committee of 25 people to gather information on the City of Rocks. The committee recommended the area be made into a state park. The Cassia County Commissioners adopted a resolution which was sent to the Idaho State Parks Division recommending the City of Rocks be made into a state park. The commissioners also included in the recommendation that livestock grazing in the City of Rocks remain as it is now.

The Parks Division reported that the City of Rocks was top priority according to Bruce, then their funds for the department were cut and State Parks Department was at a standstill.

Bruce said the commissioners then called on Rep. Orville Hansen, R-Idaho, and the National Parks Service. Hansen reported to the commissioners that funds have been approved for a feasibility study of the City of Rocks under the national parks service.

There are about 7,000 acres of privately owned land, one section of state land and over 2,000 acres public domain including forest service and BLM lands in the City of Rocks.

"The area is rich in history, for the records dating back to 1850 refer to the City of Rocks. Also studies made in the 1880's refer to the City of Rocks," said Bruce.

"It is my belief that we need to set goals for the future of the City of Rocks, make changes where changes are needed and work toward our aims and goals," Bruce stated.

He also reported briefly on the National Trails Act passed two years ago by Congress.

"The historical trails should be preserved for once gone, they can never be returned, and we have historical trails in Cassia County and Idaho," said Bruce.

Jay Schofield, president, said that next week the Cassia County legislators will speak.

Kimberly youth wins audition

TWIN FALLS — Pianist Mark Nelwirth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nelwirth, 'Kimberly,' is state winner of the Stillman Kelley Audition held in Twin Falls.

He will compete with winners from ten other states in the western region for a $1,000 scholarship to further his music study. The scholarship, presented annually by the National Federation of Music Clubs, is made available to a student in the western region once every four years. The entrant must not have reached his 17th birthday and must be an instrumentalist.

Mark is a student of Mrs. Teala Bellini, Twin Falls. He is 15 years old and has studied piano for eight and one-half years. He was chosen from 13 contestants.

Carol Ann Floyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Floyd, Boise, and piano student of Mrs. Fern Davidson, Caldwell, was second place winner. Melanie Williams, cellist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Williams, Boise, and Dorinda Vevig, pianist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Vevig, Boise, tied for third place.

MARK NELWIRTH

A 20 minute program of classical music, including one American work, was prepared by memory by each contestant for the audition. Judges said there was an unusual amount of outstanding talent in Idaho for this age group displayed at the audition.

Mrs. David Mead, chairman for the audition, stated the 13 was a record for the Stillman Kelley Scholarship.

MV home extension clubs learn about mental health

TWIN FALLS — Home Extension Clubs in the Magic Valley area this month at their meetings are listening to speakers informing them about mental health.

Rev. Les Brown, past president of the Twin Falls Mental Health Association, and his staff, attend or send speakers to the clubs to give them more details on this important subject and to answer questions pertaining to mental health.

A film, "How are you?", often accompanies the speeches to demonstrate the discussions. The film refers to the seven keys to emotional maturity.

These seven keys or abilities are those with which we learn to face and deal constructively with reality, to adjust and adapt to change, to control anxieties and take appropriate action, to find more satisfaction in giving of oneself than in receiving, to consider others and understand them, to curb hostility and direct this energy into creative and constructive outlets, and to love and care about others.

Mental illness is quite common and may be experienced to some degree by nearly everyone sometime during their life. One out of every ten persons in the United States will be hospitalized with mental illness during his lifetime.

There are now about 800,000 persons in hospitals with mental illness, or as many as with all other diseases combined including cancer, heart disease, tuberculosis and every other killing, crippling disease.

However, with new treatments and cures being found, seven out of ten mental patients can leave the hospital partially or totally recovered.

The symbol of the Mental Health Association throughout the nation is a bell which was cast in 1953 from chains and metal restraints formerly used to bind mental patients.

The bell bears the inscription, "Cast from shackles which bound them, this bell shall ring out hope for the mentally ill and victory over mental illness."

A mental health center in the area would mean many patients would not have to be separated from their families and many could continue to work and earn a living while undergoing treatment.

It would include inpatient and outpatient treatment, partial hospitalization, emergency services 24 hours a day, and consultation and education to individual and group leaders in the community.

The clubs have also been told about the Twin Falls "Hot Line" which was started in 1970 by a group of interested students and adults who was concerned about the lack of a sounding board where youth and others could discuss their problems.

This Hot Line has a group of doctors, lawyers, and counselors to whom problems can be referred. It provides an anonymous phone answering service available to anyone. All conversations are held in strict confidence.

It can be reached by phone, 733-0122, evenings.

Don't buy appliances that are loaded with deluxe features you'll never use. To get your money's worth, learn how to use every feature that's already paid for, advises the Extension Service, the University of Nebraska.

The steady free bidder gets in a lot of bids during the course of a bridge game. He also gets in a lot of trouble with these bids that just aren't really going to do him any good.

West's two-diamond overcall is a good example. He had nothing to gain by it and he might well have run into a killing double. He escaped that fate since East had enough cards to protect him, but his overcall told South how to make his contract.

East won the first trick with the ace of diamonds and returned the suit. South ruffed the third diamond and drew trumps with three leads. East discarded a club. South cashed the ace and king of clubs just to see if West would follow suit. West did.

How many spades did West hold? Not many! He had shown up with 11 cards in the other suits.

Who held the king of spades? West probably. Even the most dedicated steady free bidder wasn't likely to put in a vulnerable overcall at the two level on a six-card suit to the king-queen and nothing on the side.

Could South make the hand now? Yes, he could and did! South led a low spade and stuck in dummy's eight. East won with the jack, a useless false card, and returned a club. South ruffed with his last trump and led a spade to dummy's ace. West had to play the king whenupon South had no problem about finessing against the ten.

South's count had shown that West could not hold another spade.

A Lovelier You

SPRINGTIME OF JEWELRY

By Mary Sue Miller

White is forever the grand dame of spring and summer jewelry fashions. This season it looks its loveliest, reaching seemingly impossible heights of creativity. Shimmering white coral-like stones set with rocky form distinctive pendants.

But perhaps the Far East is your thing. Then you will take delight in pins, hair ornaments and drop earrings of white "jade" and enamel.

But to make the most of the jeweler's art, there are several points to consider. A piece should complement the wearer's costume, as already suggested. It should be in keeping with her size — neither dinky nor overpowering. The design of her personality and the design of the jewelry must be compatible. Don't expect a dainty Victorian filigree brooch and a mod-maid to keep company.

Finally, one quality piece of costume or precious jewelry is worth a cascade of flimsy trinkets.

news about the people you know

Valley Living

DEAR ABBY: My husband has had three serious accidents at work in the past two years. I have quit asking him to do chores around the house because he is always smashing his fingers with a hammer, cutting himself, or falling off the ladder while changing the screens or storm windows. It's a good year when he hasn't had a couple of automobile accidents. The doctor at the plant where he works suggested that he see a PSYCHIATRIST! Why! He isn't crazy.

DEAR WIFE: People who have more than their share of "accidents" could be unconsciously punishing themselves for unresolved guilt. And they need not be "crazy" to do so. I think the plant doctor planted a very sound suggestion in your husband's mind.

DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter in your column about the husband who completely avoids sex. I was glad to learn I wasn't the only person in the world who feels this way about sex. I am a married woman, and thank heavens my husband isn't the type of man who makes unpleasant demands on me.

In almost every article I have ever read about failing marriages, they say the main reason is that one of the partners is "sexually inadequate"—whatever that means. What most people can't understand is that some people just don't care for sex that much. I personally find the very thought of it sickening. It is really more trouble than it's worth.

I am not an unloving person, Abby. I just happen to feel that love can be expressed in other ways. Besides there are too many people in the world already.

Believe me, we have a better marriage than most people I know. And my husband really understands me.

HAPPY WITHOUT SEX
DEAR HAPPY: If you are happy, and your husband is happy, then I am happy.

DEAR ABBY: I'm going with a swell guy and I like him a lot. He is very kind and considerate. He's polite, too, helping me with my chair and holding doors open for me. You could say he was a perfect gentleman—except when he eats, and Abby, he eats just like a hog! I am so ashamed to eat with him. He slurps his soup and smacks his lips. He locks his little finger over his fork and holds his knife in a tightfist grasp. He eats very quickly and practically shovels his food in.

How can I correct him without hurting his feelings? Or worse yet, scaring him off! I don't want to lose him.

CHICKEN
DEAR CHICKEN: When you and he are alone together (and ideally, eating) start by suggesting that he eat a little more slowly. Then suggest that he eat a little more quietly. Next, very diplomatically show him how to hold his knife and fork. If you correct him gently, and in the spirit of kindness he will be neither hurt nor scared off.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MY READERS: Next Sunday is Easter. Please do not give a child who is too young to care for it properly a living gift. Every year a shocking number of baby chicks, rabbits, kittens and puppies have been mauled, handled, smothered and neglected to death by children who received them as Easter gifts, and regard them as "toys." Have a heart, and give small children stuffed animals instead.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69760, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Ornaments changed

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bride and bridegroom ornaments for wedding cakes are not done much any more, says the banquet manager of a leading restaurant here. Many brides choose instead to decorate the cake with either a tiny vase of real flowers sunk in the center or bone china ornaments. Some select peace symbols.

Not bubbly

NEW YORK (UPI) — Champagne isn't what most brides and bridegrooms sip when they toast each other. A survey for Modern Bride magazine shows that among all first marriage brides, 24.6 per cent served champagne. The rest did the toasting with something else.

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, MARCH 30, 1972

CARROLL RICHTER'S horoscope

from the Carroll Richter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and evening when your reasoning powers are apt to conflict with your emotions which could cause some difficult relationships with others. Try to maintain self-control and equanimity in whatever you think, say or do and thus avoid any difficult conditions.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Try not to be demanding with associates and avoid serious trouble. Any changes you want to make should await a better day. Put everything in right perspective. Relax at home tonight.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You may be out of focus and not getting your work done properly, so get back on the beam. Eliminate a bad habit and then make this a most productive day. Don't neglect correspondence.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Instead of being suspicious of your loved one be reassured. Don't spend too much money on amusements. Stay within your budget at all times. Accept a nice invitation this evening.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Use a diplomatic approach with a family tie who is not acting in a proper manner. A good day to avoid a friend who is in an irritable mood. Show that you have poise.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) A good time to exchange ideas with associates and then begin new routines for mutual benefit. See to it that valuables are in safe places. Don't be careless and lose something of worth.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Be careful not to deplete your finances by hasty investments or foolish spending. Make sure that advice you get from an expert is good, since this person may have monetary woes.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Try not to force anything today or others may resent it. Use more tact to get right results. Don't take risks of any kind. Avoid the social tonight since it wouldn't be worthwhile.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You can obtain information you need now in a quiet way. Put your mind to work on an important project that could be helpful to you. Make sure your shoes are in good condition.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You have to treat others with kid gloves now, since they are in an irritable mood. Plan how to gain personal desires quietly without any fuss. Avoid one who likes to bicker.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Not a good day to see influential persons who are now busy, so take care of your own immediate affairs. An outside matter could be upsetting, but take it in your stride. Be objective.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) A big problem developed lately and you want to make radical changes, but first solve this matter wisely and you do much better. It's important that you keep promises made.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You have many obligations to meet, so schedule them wisely and carry through in a methodical way. A close tie could be annoying but show understanding. A kind word goes a long way.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those interesting young people with a knack for getting into hot water early in life and requires understanding and guidance before aims are realized. The chart would be fine in any of the engineering fields. Religion early is important.

Rare Day With No New Taxes

"Count that day won when, turning on its axis, this earth imposes no additional taxes."

F. P. Adams

How right old F. P. Adams was! And Howard Dietz, too, for that matter. Wrote he: "In seventeen hundred seventy-six... a group of American mavericks... renounced the yoke of tyranny... the tax on stamps, the tax on tea... Our fathers felt that we were fit... to tax ourselves and you'll admit... We have been very good at it."

AMONG whales with teeth, the male is larger than the female. Among whales without teeth, the female is larger than the male. Confusing.

"FERTILITY of the human female," reports a medical researcher, lowering his eyes, "is highest when the room temperature is approximately 64 degrees F."

ONLY three out of every 10 teenagers nationwide eat dinner nightly with the folks. What's meant by nightly is more than three times a week. Or so say the pollsters now.

FAIRM

Client notes I infrequently refer with some nostalgia to those bygone days on the farm. True. Still, it wasn't really my line of work. The old boy who ran the place pointed that out to me once. Said he: "When I'm out plowing, I yell to the mare, 'whoa, Becky, haw and git up!' It just doesn't seem to have the same music, son, when I hear you say, Halt, Rebecca, pivot and proceed!"

Q. "WOMEN'S slacks are always hung by the waist. So how do you account for the fact men's trousers are always hung by the cuffs?"

A. Can only assume that technique was devised by a wife, reluctant to go through her husband's pockets.

Q. "HOW many banks in this country are closed down each year because of embezzlement?"

A. About five, on the average.

DIME

That phrase "to go the whole hog" has nothing to do with a pig, remember. Generations ago, a dime was called a hog. And when a spendthrift blew it all at once, such was the description.

THE BUG BOYS who study such matters say they've seen a dragonfly eat 40 houseflies in less than two hours. Some appetite. In size a housefly is to a dragonfly, proportionately, just about what a chicken is to a man.

IT'S NOT enough to mention Notre Dame's rowing team has a member named Roe. Must report also that team has a fellow called Orr.

Some drug penalties stiffer

(Editor's Note: This is the second in a series examining actions taken — or not taken — by the second regular session of the 41st Idaho Legislature. Today: Enforcement of Drug Laws.)

By LINDY HIGH

BOISE (UPI) — The 1972 legislature stiffened some penalties in the Uniform Controlled Substances Act and formalized transfer of the Bureau of Drug Control from the State Board of Pharmacy to the attorney general's office.

Atty. Gen. W. Anthony Park said the changes in the Uniform Controlled Substances Act raise from misdemeanor to felony status the penalty for simple possession of certain hard narcotic substances such as heroin.

The Uniform Controlled Substances Act as passed in 1971 contained the misdemeanor penalty and Park said some local law enforcement officers "felt the relaxation of penalties went too far."

The changes raise the penalty for possession of narcotic substances such as heroin from six months to three years, from six months to one year for non-narcotic substances such as marijuana and LSD, and from six months to three years for such substances as morphine, cocaine and amphetamines.

Both changes in the law and the appropriation approved by the legislature formalized transfer of the Bureau of Drug Control from the State Board of Pharmacy to the attorney general's office.

The shift was actually made in late 1971 after federal auditors questioned certain uses of a Law Enforcement Planning Commission grant given to the Pharmacy Board. At that time the authority for the office was turned over to the attorney general.

The legislature appropriated $186,000 from the general fund to the Bureau of Drug Control, more than the "continuation" level suggested but less than the $226,200 request.

Park said the appropriation would allow the bureau to continue but not to expand its current efforts.

He said there would be another request before the 1973 legislature for greater funding for the program. He said he would like to increase the bureau's manpower, develop closer relations with local law enforcement agencies, and increase the bureau's "buy" money — the money used by agents to actually purchase drugs.

The legislature approved another law change, this one lowering from 18 to 16 the age for treatment of drug abuse without parental consent.

The 1971 legislature lowered the age from 21 to 18 and, as originally written, the 1972 change would have lowered the age to 12.

The bill was amended, however, to make the age 16 instead of 12 following a public hearing.

Permit needed in obtaining new Shoshone sewer hookup

SHOSHONE — Regulations pertaining to hookup to the new sewer system have been announced by the Shoshone City Council, Mrs. Claude Chess, clerk, said today.

A permit must be secured prior to commencing any installation, the regulations state. The permits are available at the city hall office and inspection is required prior to covering of work. This will be done by the city inspector, William Trapp.

All plumbing work shall be done by a plumbing contractor or owner-occupant.

Material used must be four inches, of cast iron three feet inside the building, then regulations determine the type of material used and depth regulations for installation outside the building.

Grades, cleanouts, direction change, bedding, septic tank disposal, voids and vents are also regulated in the rulings. Metal septic tanks in the town must be pumped and filled with sand, the regulations state.

Landowners who intend selling their property in the future for buildings are advised they may have the sewer line connection made at the time of installation of the sewer past their property, then will pay a fee of $1 a month for six years.

At the end of that time, the fee will cease and there will be no further cost to the property owner for connection.

If the connection is not made at the time the sewer goes by, to open the main line and allow new connections the city will charge a $200 fee, the clerk said.

Budget 'cripples' human rights unit

By GEORGE FRANK

BOISE (UPI) — The president of the Idaho human rights commission said Tuesday the agency's $14,435 appropriation for the next fiscal year will have a "crippling effect" on the four-year-old commission.

"A majority of the legislators don't take the Idaho anti-discrimination act of 1969 seriously," President Glenn Selander, Boise, said, when asked why he thought the commission was not funded adequately.

"Our attempt to be affirmative in administering the act was too aggressive for most of the legislators," he said.

The commission originally requested $85,000 for an expanded program. The figure was cut to $29,500 by the governor and the legislature reduced the appropriation to just over $14,000.

Attorney-director Judy

Grimes said "under the final budget the commission could not afford to hold meetings or hearings."

Nearly $5,000 for travel and investigative work by staff members will have to be cut along with $240, for postage and $456 for supplies.

She agreed that if the commission composed of members appointed by the governor from throughout the state cannot meet there would be no way of acting on discriminatory complaints which are increasing at a 30 per cent rate annually.

She said complaints could be taken directly into the courts, but said that is a very expensive method of settling disputes.

Miss Grimes said the commission is the only state agency which has the power to carry out the provisions of the state anti-discrimination act.

The commission met five times last year to sift through complaints to determine which ones needed action and which were unfounded.

The final appropriation for the commission was $1,500 higher than what it was appropriated from the general fund when it was created in 1969.

The commission takes complaints from residents throughout the state who feel they are being discriminated against. The staff, which includes investigators, follows up on the complaints and in turn recommends action to the commission.

Commission members make the final decisions on whether legal action should be sought if conciliation cannot be met by opposing parties.

Miss Grimes said one alternative for the commission to fall within the operating budget would be to lay off staff members. But she said that would be the last action.

Man asks damages

TWIN FALLS — A man who was hit in the face with an ice cream dish in a Twin Falls restaurant is seeking $15,000 damage from the restaurant owner.

Suit was filed in Fifth District Court here by Michael Powlis against Leo Soran and the Depot Grill.

The plaintiff charged he was injured Oct. 2, 1971, at 2:40 a.m. while sitting in the Depot Grill and when two other persons, customers, began fighting.

Powlis charges negligence on the part of the business owner in allowing the altercation to develop.

Powlis asks recovery of $92 medical expense and $32.16 travel and telephone expense in connection with treatment of the injury, and $15,000 general damages.

THE IDAHO DEPARTMENT STORE

If one gasoline could do all this, would you buy it?

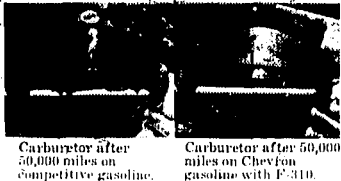

1. Chevron with F-310* will clean dirty carburetors and keep them clean.

Carburetor deposits can increase fuel consumption and exhaust emissions of hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide. Conventional carburetor detergent additives may slow down the build-up of these deposits, but do not prevent them from forming.

F-310 not only helps prevent them from forming, but cleans up existing deposits in dirty carburetors. And a clean carburetor means better performance, better mileage, and cleaner air.

2. Chevron with F-310 will reduce the need for carburetor tune-ups.

Deposit build-up in the carburetor is the major cause of carburetor tune-ups and boil-outs. By cleaning up such deposits in older carburetors, and preventing them from forming in new ones, continued use of F-310 can virtually assure that you will never need major carburetor repair due to deposits.

3. Chevron with F-310 will prevent excessive intake system deposits.

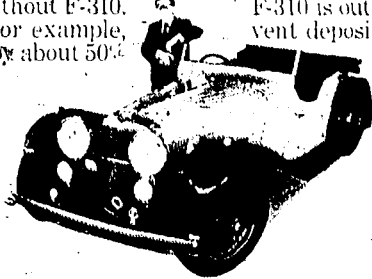

Deposits that form on the intake manifold, intake ports, and intake valves can cause poor performance and engine damage.

F-310 has a unique ability to prevent these deposits from building up throughout the entire intake system of new cars.

4. Chevron with F-310 reduces deposits built up by gasoline without F-310.

F-310 does more than keep clean intake systems clean. It can actually clean up deposits in older cars that have been using gasoline without F-310. In a test of privately owned cars, for example, F-310 reduced intake valve deposits by about 50% after 10,000 miles.

5. Chevron with F-310 can reduce exhaust emissions.

Dirty smoke is usually caused by carburetor and PCV deposits that create too rich a fuel mixture. This enrichment also increases the concentration of carbon monoxide and unburned hydrocarbons in the exhaust.

Tests conducted in the U.S., Holland and Germany have confirmed that F-310 can minimize increased emissions as cars get older, and can even reduce exhaust emissions from cars now using other gasolines.

6. Chevron with F-310 can make PCV valve replacement unnecessary.

Most auto manufacturers recommend that the PCV valve be replaced every 12,000 miles because deposits that clog this critical part can have serious consequences.

F-310 can prevent PCV valve clogging and can clean up deposits caused by other gasolines. As one example, a PCV valve recently taken from a Yellow Cab in Salt Lake City was still free and clean after 96,000 miles of operation on F-310. And a cleaner PCV valve means a cleaner exhaust and a better running engine.

7. Chevron with F-310 will reduce chances of costly overhaul.

Sludge, varnish, and other engine deposits can lead to premature engine failure. They cause rings to stick, valves to burn; they increase oil consumption and create excessive wear of engine parts.

F-310 minimizes the formation of such deposits and reduces the chance of engine failure.

8. Chevron with F-310 will keep vital emission control parts working properly.

Exhaust emissions generally increase as cars put on mileage. Carburetor deposits are usually the main source of increased emissions, but deposits in the PCV valve can also cause greater emissions.

F-310 is outstanding in its ability to prevent deposits from forming in both of these areas on new cars, and in cleaning them up on older cars.

9. Chevron with F-310 can reduce gasoline consumption and increase mileage.

If carburetor air bleeds are clogged by deposits, your engine burns more gasoline than it should. If deposits form in the PCV valve, the problem gets worse. F-310 prevents those deposits from forming in new carburetors and PCV valves, and starts cleaning up older ones in as little as 2000 miles.

F-310, by reducing those deposits, can actually improve mileage in older cars and help maintain good mileage in new cars.

10. Chevron with F-310 can improve performance.

Carburetor deposits can cause rough idling and stalling. Intake manifold deposits can cause poor performance when the engine is cold. Deposits on the intake valve and the intake port can reduce power and acceleration.

F-310 prevents these deposits from forming in new cars, and cleans up deposits already there in older cars.

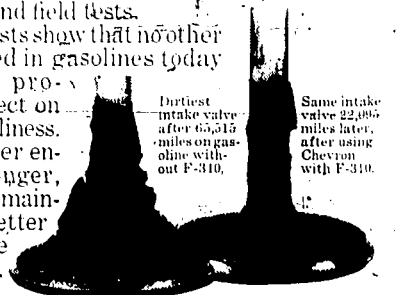

11. Chevron with F-310 is superior to other gasolines in preventing and removing deposits in critical engine parts.

F-310 is the most thoroughly tested gasoline deposit control additive in history. Its superiority has been demonstrated in a variety of severe laboratory and field tests.

These tests show that no other additive used in gasolines today has such a pronounced effect on engine cleanliness.

And a cleaner engine lasts longer, costs less to maintain, gives better performance and mileage.

Buy it. It works.

F-310 in Chevron gasolines keeps vital engine parts cleaner than any other additive in any other gasoline we know of.
