

Giant B-52 bombers again pummel N. Viet

By ARTHUR HIGBEE
SAIGON (UPI) — American B52 heavy bombers braved high-flying missiles and raided North Vietnam today for the first time in five years. U.S. warships duelled with Communist shore batteries and two destroyers were hit.

The commander for South Vietnam's northern war zone, Lt. Gen. Hoang Xuan Lam, said in Da Nang that "we have stopped the invasion" by Communists across the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) separating the two Vietnams.

However, in Saigon the South Vietnamese headquarters appeared less optimistic. Asked if the northern offensive had ended, a spokesman said "we are not qualified to characterize the situation in Quang Tri province" — the province bordering on the DMZ which bore the brunt of the original Communist attack April 1. Fighting continued in Quang Tri and other battle areas to the south, including the vicinity of Saigon.

It was the first time the eight-engined B52s based in Guam and Thailand have bombed in North Vietnam since Nov. 27, 1967, although they have carried out regular raids against Communist positions in South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia. A spokesman said President Nixon personally approved the strikes. The B52s, each worth $8 million, fly at a relatively slow 650 MPH and have an altitude of 10 miles, which make them vulnerable to the Soviet-built surface-to-air missiles (SAMs) in North Vietnam. One of the planes on a mission over South Vietnam was hit by a SAM Sunday, but landed safely without injury to its six crewmen. It was the first time a B52 has been damaged by enemy fire.

The U.S. Navy said that Communist shore batteries opened up on four American warships shelling the DMZ and hit two of them. The destroyer John R. Craig suffered hull and material damage and the destroyer Rowan received only light shrapnel. The Navy did not report any injuries, but said the two destroyers returned the fire.

Last Thursday Communist shore fire hit another U.S. destroyer, the Lloyd Thomas, causing light damage and wounding three sailors.

A total of eight destroyers and the cruiser Oklahoma City Sunday, blasted Communist beach positions in and to the north and south of the DMZ, triggering eight secondary explosions, two fires and silencing three North Vietnamese artillery batteries, spokesmen said. In the ground fighting, Communist troops who overran two artillery bases protecting Da Nang blew up a bridge during the night on Highway 1.

The Communists also maintained their momentum of attacks elsewhere throughout the country, shelling bases in the Central Highlands, raiding militia posts throughout the Mekong Delta south of Saigon, and keeping up pressure on South Vietnamese troops defending the provincial capital of An Loc, only 80 miles north of Saigon.

Gen. Lam told newsmen his troops had stopped the northern invasion with two major victories Saturday and Sunday.

Nations sign pact outlawing germ weapons

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Eighty of the world's nations, including Great Britain, Russia and the United States, sign a treaty today promising "never in any circumstances to develop, produce, stockpile or otherwise acquire or retain" the weapons of biological warfare.

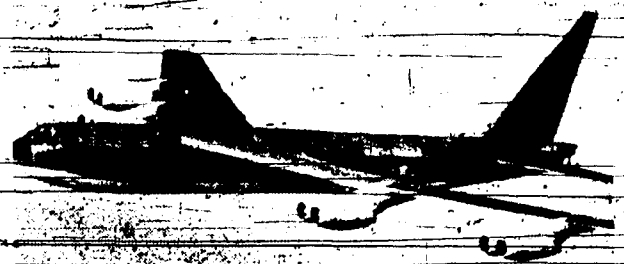

The agreement was to be signed for the United States by Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Ambassador James F. Leonard at an 11 a.m. EST ceremony, with President Nixon present.

It was not known what position China would take on the treaty but it appeared definite that France would ignore it. The U.N. General Assembly endorsed the pact by a vote of 110 to 0 with one abstention in December.

France never has taken its seat in the 26-nation Geneva Disarmament Conference, where the treaty was worked out during the last several years.

The pact covers both biological agents which could be used in germ warfare and toxins, or poisons — which can be produced through a biological or microbiological process. And the agreement calls on all parties who sign it to destroy whatever stockpiles of such weapons they now have and to pledge never to transfer them to other countries.

Irish issue ultimatum

By COLIN BAKER
BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — The Roman Catholic civil rights movement today gave Britain 20 days to meet its demands or face "massive and nonviolent opposition."

A spokesman for the Northern Ireland Civil Rights Association told a news conference the association would consider defying a British ban and resuming the marches and demonstrations that have caused violence here.

Kevin McCorry, press officer for the association, said Britain must free interned Catholics, pull its troops off the streets where they are searching for Irish Republican Army (IRA) gunmen, and give Catholics the same civil rights Englishmen have in England.

McCorry joined the city's Catholic bishops in condemning the violence of the IRA.

He called for an end to the disorder that has plagued Northern Ireland.

DECLLO — Robert Lynn Thompson, 19, Decllo, died at Cassia Memorial Hospital Sunday following injuries received in a car-tractor accident.

The accident occurred at 10 p.m. Saturday one mile north of Decllo on State Highway 77.

Thompson was driving a car south on Idaho 77 and collided with the rear of a tractor pulling a till and pack machine. The tractor was driven by Earl Hurst, 38, Decllo.

The impact caused Hurst to be thrown off the tractor. His equipment was spun completely around and was facing north. The rear wheels were knocked from under the tractor.

Hurst was taken to Cassia Memorial Hospital where he was treated and later released.

Thompson was alone in his car. The vehicle was demolished and came to rest in the west borrow pit.

O. J. Brannan, state policeman, reported the tractor was well-lighted.

Investigation into the accident is continuing.

Heyburn woman slain, man held

HEYBURN — A Heyburn woman was found beaten to death in her apartment late Sunday and her common-law husband is in custody today charged with second-degree murder.

Dead is Irene Christine Fernen, 42, also known as Irene Christine Kubler, who has resided in the Burley and Heyburn areas the past two years.

Minidoka County Sheriff Theo Johnson said the woman's blood-spattered body was found in the apartment after Burley police received a telephone call about 5 p.m. Sunday from a man who said his wife was either dead or dying in their Heyburn apartment, 1821 J St. Arrested was Bernard Boyd Fernen, 32, Heyburn.

Details of the arrest were sketchy but Johnson said the man was apprehended by Burley City police in Burley about 6 p.m.

A complaint charging second-degree murder was filed this morning by Minidoka County officers.

Coroner Robert C. Walk said he was called to the scene Sunday night. He said the woman was dead when officers arrived and appeared to have been badly beaten about the face. He said the apartment showed signs of a violent struggle. He said strands of hair, apparently pulled from the victim's head were found along with bloodstains in the living room and bathroom.

Mrs. Fernen was found lying on the floor beside the bed in the bedroom.

Walk said an autopsy was conducted Monday but results were not yet available at press time.

Officers said Fernen suffered a minor chest wound, probably made by a small blade. A blood-stained man's shirt, with a small hole in the front, was found in a trash container in the kitchen. A blood-soaked bath towel was also found in the container.

Officers said Fernen was in custody in the Minidoka County jail pending arraignment. No bond had been set this morning.

Mrs. Fernen was born at Tahona, Okla., May 20, 1930, and had lived in the Burley, Rupert and Heyburn areas the past two years, coming from South Dakota. She is survived by a previous common-law husband, David Kubler, Jr., in South Dakota, and a son, Michael Swicker, Walnut Creek, Calif.; her mother, Mrs. Ethel Young, Stockton, Calif., and four sisters and three brothers.

UPI reports two gunmen took $7,000 from a Salt Lake City theater. The film? 'The Godfather, Part II.'

2 quit school posts tonight

TWIN FALLS — Two Twin Falls school district trustees are expected to step down from their offices tonight during a regular meeting of the board.

The two will be from the new trustee zones 1 and 5 which were realigned following an election last week.

Meanwhile, six nominating petitions have been taken out for the May 5 election which will see trustees elected from all five zones because of the vote to change boundaries.

Deadline for filing nominating petitions is April 17 at 3 p.m. J. T. Anderson, board clerk, said.

In Zone 1, Frank DeLuca and John Wolfe must decide who shall continue to serve and who will step out of office. In Zone 5, a similar situation exists with Chairman Elmer Sommer and Dr. Howard W. Rank, both residing in the revised zone.

Trustees have not given any indication which will continue to serve, pending discussion by the entire present board of trustees tonight. No indication has been reported as to who may be named from the Zones 2 and 4 where the realignment left no trustees.

FBI grabs Provo skydiver, evidence

By DUSTON HARVEY
SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — The FBI today announced recovery of $499,970 in the home of the sky-diving college student held for the hijacking of a United Air Lines jet last week.

The disclosure came in a list submitted by the FBI to the U.S. magistrate on the results of a Sunday search of the Provo, Utah, home of Richard Floyd McCoy Jr., 29, a Vietnam veteran, majoring in law enforcement at Brigham Young University.

Agents had dug up McCoy's backyard during the search, but the money was found in a box taken from his brick home. Among other items reported seized at the home were:

— A green military-type flight suit with two aerial flare cartridges in the pockets, and a second flight suit.

— A blue and white parachute with red trim and a black parachute harness.

— Two helmets, one crash type and one military jump style.

— A pistol and holster and clothing, which were in the box with the money.

— Two electric typewriters and a brown striped sport coat.

The UAL hijacker was given a $500,000 ransom in the escape which started Friday over Colorado and included a landing in San Francisco and a bail-out over Provo.

FBI agents took four boxes and two suitcases from the McCoy home Sunday, saying they had "evidence" but refused to disclose if the money had been found.

McCoy taught Sunday School the last year for the Mormon church, and a teen-age student he had said "all he ever talked about was sin." McCoy told classmates at Brigham Young University that he "wanted to make his dent on the world by uncovering organized crime," was held without bail at Salt Lake County jail.

He was arraigned Sunday on charges of air piracy and interfering with an airline crew member. U.S. Magistrate A. M. Ferro declined to grant bail because of the seriousness of the crime, which carries a maximum penalty of death.

McCoy was accused of hijacking the United Air Lines 727 with 96 persons aboard over Colorado Friday and forcing it to land in San Francisco. The hijacker, who carried two guns, a grenade and plastic explosives, allowed 91 passengers to leave the plane after the airline paid $500,000 ransom. Then he allegedly forced the pilot to fly over Provo, about 40 miles south of here, where he bailed out with the suitcases full of money.

A casual conversation with a friend about skyjacking and the concern of his sister-in-law over his absence from home Friday evening turned suspicion on McCoy, the FBI reported.

The friend, Utah Highway Patrolman Robert Van Ieperen, said McCoy talked to him a few weeks ago about how a successful hijack could be pulled off.

The patrolman also told the FBI that during the hijacking McCoy's sister-in-law, who was not identified, called Ieperen, saying McCoy was not home and she was "scared to death" because he had previously tried to enlist her in a hijacking scheme.

The FBI, in a complaint filed with Ferro, said McCoy's handwriting was "identical" with the printing on a note retained by a stewardess during the hijacking and that a passenger on the plane had identified the suspect's picture as that of the skyjacker.

Fiesta Mexicana reviewed

BY NICK BOND
The Magic Valley Community Concert Association presented its last concert of the 1971-1972 season Sunday to a capacity crowd of members at the CSI Auditorium.
"Fiesta Mexicana" was an explosion of Mexican color and high spirits. The staging ranged the gamut of ancient and modern Mexico. Earthy rhythms of lost civilizations contrasted startlingly with the mariachi trumpets, the mellow marimbas, the serenades of Vera Cruz.
The gracious charm of the Chiapas Wedding Dance underscores the ultimate virtuosity of the dancers' tapateado or heel work.
Daniel Armas, virtuoso of the Sallerio and Floreador, Charro Valenino were the main solo highlights.

May limit political donations

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A new law that requires public disclosure of political contributions to federal campaigns probably will "dry up" single donations of $50,000 or more, according to Herbert Alexander.
Alexander, author of the book "Money in Politics," helped write the regulations for implementing the Federal Election Campaign Act that took effect Friday.

Pregnant woman beaten in Belfast

BELEAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—The Roman Catholic Civil Rights Association said today direct British rule over Northern Ireland has failed to bring real progress toward peace and justice. It said Britain must move faster if it wants to stop the violence.
In one violent incident Sunday, six youths and two young women dragged a five-months pregnant Catholic housewife from her Belfast home, beat her with sticks, coated her with red paint and feathers and strapped her to a lampost, police said.
Neighbors said the attackers were members of the militant Provisional wing of the Irish Republican Army (IRA), meting out punishment for some infraction of IRA rules.
In other violence, gunmen wounded a Belfast Protestant homeowner when he answered their knock at his door; a bomb blasted a Belfast supermarket; an army post in Londonderry came under fire; and a mine blew up under an army land rover patrolling the border with the Irish Republic near Crossmaglen, security spokesmen said. Three soldiers in the vehicle were treated for shock.

A spokesman for the Civil Rights Association, which welcomed Britain's suspension of the Protestant-dominated provincial government March 30, demanded the immediate release of all suspected IRA members from internment, and the withdrawal of British troops from Catholic city areas as vital to speed an end to violence.
The punishment squad invaded Mrs. Phylomena McGuckin's home in Belfast's Catholic Ballymurphy section as she prepared Sunday lunch, police said. While her three children, age eight months to 5 years, screamed inside the house, they dragged the 24-year-old pregnant mother into the street.

Police report TF thefts

TWIN FALLS — Burglars were busy in Twin Falls over the weekend with three business firms and a small trailer house entered.
City police reported the Southern Idaho Distributing Co. was the victim of an apparent burglary attempt. Sheriff's officers discovered a panel had been broken from a rear door and notified city police who said the door was broken but apparently burglars were frightened away.
The Twin Falls Beverage Co. 356 Bridge St., was not as fortunate. Here burglars broke out a glass panel in a door and unlocked the door to gain entry. Matt Smith, manager, said about $150.00 in beer and wine is believed to have been taken. Total loss will be determined following a closer inventory.
At L'Herisson's Furniture Store, 120 Main Ave. N., officers said a glass was broken from a door to gain entry. The building was ransacked and cash registers opened but nothing has been missed by the store manager.
E. L. Snodgrass, 356 Fillmore St., told city police someone pried open the door of the old Twin Falls Starch Plant where his travel trailer is stored and then forced the door on the trailer and opened an outside storage door to remove three sleeping bags.

Senator used marijuana

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Harold E. Hughes, D-Iowa, a member of the National Commission on Marijuana and Drug Abuse, said Sunday that he had tried marijuana while in the Army during World War II and that "it had absolutely no effect on me."

"Marijuana is not new and it is used, as most Americans do not realize, by many business people, by many prominent people in America who suffer no ill effects from it," Hughes said.

"I think a part of the pain of what we are doing today is the fact that it is forcing us to review our total drug consumption, including alcohol, and that is very difficult for many of us to do."

Hughes, a former alcoholic, is chairman of the Senate Special subcommittee on alcoholism and narcotics. In its recent controversial report, the Marijuana Commission recommended a policy of discouragement by the government along with further liberalization of laws governing possession and use, but not sale of marijuana.

The senator made his statements during an appearance on the NBC television program, "Meet the Press." Former Gov. Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania, the chairman of the marijuana commission, was interviewed as well.

Hughes acknowledged having tried marijuana when asked if members of the commission felt they could be objective in their year-long inquiry without the benefit of personal experience.

Question...

I am a widow not old enough to qualify for Social Security and unable to be employed because I have a mentally retarded child to care for. Do you know of any pension available for me?

Answer...

If your child is disabled as the result of mental retardation or from any other cause and if your deceased husband was covered by Social Security you and your child, regardless of your ages, are entitled to Social Security benefits for Social Security purposes "disabled" means:

your child is unable to do any substantial gainful work because of an impairment which can be found by doctors... his impairment has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months.

Benefits continue for the balance of your life and the lifetime of your disabled child. At least half of the retarded beneficiaries now receiving Social Security payments are over 35 and some are over 65.

Check given

CONTRIBUTION TO the College of Southern Idaho which followed damage last week to about $18,000 worth of windows at the college, has been made by the Twin Falls Bank and Trust Co. The $500 check was presented by Harry Eaton, bank president, to Dr. James L. Taylor, CSI president, and Larry Stamps, student body president, from left.

Bank gives CSI $500

TWIN FALLS — A gift of $500 has been presented to the College of Southern Idaho. It can be used in whatever manner the college sees fit since destruction of about $18,000 worth of windows last week.

The board of directors of the Twin Falls Bank and Trust Co. authorized its president, Harry Eaton, to make the presentation.

Eaton said the citizens of Jerome and Twin Falls County have bonded themselves for $3 million to make possible educational facilities at CSI and also pointed out that individuals in the same area raised over $400,000 to help make possible an auditorium at CSI.

"We are shocked and distracted," Eaton said, "at the destruction of either private or public property such as has recently occurred at CSI."

Eaton, when expressing his feelings about the window breakage, quoted Oscar Wilde, who said "I can stand brute force but brute reason is quite unbearable. It is hitting below the intellect."

Highway change brings TF committee protests

TWIN FALLS — Proposed rerouting of U.S. Highway 93 in Blaine County has drawn protest from the Twin Falls County Parks and Recreation Committee in the interest of recreation and environment.

Don Zuck, chairman, in a letter to the Idaho Department of Highways, said the Twin Falls County group feels no rerouting should be done at this time along Big Wood River because of adverse effects on fish and wildlife.

Zuck said there are three alternatives in the proposed rerouting now under consideration and a public hearing will be held later this year. He said the Twin Falls County group is interested in the matter on a basis of protecting the environment and the fishing and hunting for recreational purposes.

In the letter, the parks and recreation group, urged full consideration of the flood plain of the heavy run off occurring along Big Wood River. The critical winter range of big game in the area could also be affected by proposed changes along with further siltation of the river.

The letter asked for further opportunity to be heard in the public hearing and for the letter to become part of the official record concerning the proposed reroutings.

Letters concerning the change may be mailed prior to April 30 to the survey and plans engineer, Idaho Department of Highways, 3311 West State St., Box 7129, Boise, 83707, Zuck said.

Residents of Hailey have also debated the proposed rerouting which could by-pass the city of Hailey. Business leaders of Hailey have declared such rerouting would leave Hailey in a ghost town condition.

TF Young GOPs to host '72 conclave

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls County Young Republicans will host the 1972 Idaho State Young Republican League convention April 21 and 22.

According to Kumber Ricks, Rexburg, state president, the convention will be at the Holiday Inn. Benny Bluck of Castleford will serve as general chairman.

Delegates from every county and campus YR club in the state are expected to attend the two-day affair. The convention will open on Friday with a business meeting followed by committee assignments and meetings. Workshops covering various political activities are scheduled for Friday afternoon.

Saturday will be taken up with committee meetings as well as election of officers for the coming year. Resolutions from the committees will also be voted on at the final business meeting.

Saturday evening there will be a "Meet the Candidates" no-host social hour starting at 8 p.m. at the Twin Falls Elks lodge. Announced Republican candidates have been invited to meet with the delegates as well as the general public.

The concluding banquet will begin at 7:30 p.m. with Congressman Samuel L. Devine of Ohio, the featured speaker. Cong. Devine is serving his seventh term in the House of Representatives from the 12th district in Ohio and is an attorney and former FBI special agent.

The public is invited to attend both the social hour and the banquet. Tickets for both are available from Rich Stivers, Twin Falls; Steve Kohnstopp, Filer; Benny Bluck, Castleford, and Bob Bailey, Jr., Buhl.

TF truck dealer plans new plant

TWIN FALLS — Plans for construction of new facilities for Magic Valley International, Inc., representing a $300,000 investment, were announced today by Tom Kalange, owner-manager.

Kalange said a new building will be erected across Fourth Avenue West and south of the firm's present rented facilities. In addition the company has purchased new body shop facilities on Fifth Avenue West and further room for expansion in the 300 block of Fourth Avenue West.

The building permit taken out for new construction by the contractor, Ullman Construction Co., Twin Falls, lists a $125,000 price, but Kalange said total investment for all expansion will amount to nearer $300,000.

Construction is expected to begin this week, Kalange said, on property occupied until June, 1971, by Sopers.

Magic Valley International, which deals in trucks from the largest to the smallest of the International line, has been in Twin Falls for seven years when the truck and farm equipment lines split dealerships.

Kalange said relocating in the same section of Twin Falls was a hard decision to make because of the higher cost of property. But, he said, it was felt better service could be offered to customers in the industrial section of Twin Falls rather than locating on the periphery of the city.

"We feel we'll be adding something to that end of town," Kalange said.

Provided for in the new construction, which takes place on about two thirds of a block in the 280 block of Fourth Avenue West, will be sales, service and parts facilities. It will provide twice the work space, will have 14 overhead doors and be a completely modern one story steel construction.

Magic Valley International has been operating in facilities rented from Wills, Inc., at 304 Fourth Ave. W.

The recently acquired property in the 300 block of Fourth Avenue West is being cleared for display of new trucks, Kalange said.

When Magic Valley International, Inc. purchased the truck portion of McVey's in 1965, it started operation with seven employees, Kalange said, and has expanded to 21 at present. He anticipates hiring three or four more people after expansion is complete, and "growing from there."

In 1970, the U.S. Office of Child Development reports the mothers of about 60 per cent of the children in the United States worked and therefore probably were away from home a significant part of the day.

COMMENT Representative

St. Louis Post-Dispatch
American governments are intended to be both popular and representative, and the new United States Supreme Court decision on residency requirements can only make these governments — federal, state and local — more popular and more representative. In its 6-to-1 decision, the court held that long state and local requirements for residency, demanded before a citizen can cast a ballot, are unconstitutional because they do not allow equal protection of the laws. That is, new residents are not given the voting rights provided to those longer resident in a state or community. Without stating precisely what a residency requirement ought to be, Justice Marshall suggested that 30 days was long enough. That is, of course, the federal residency requirement for allowing votes for president and vice president. Justice Marshall added that 30 days seems ample time for the state to complete the administrative preliminaries for new voters. The decision does more than compel 33 states, Missouri among them, to reconsider their one-year state residency requirements, or common 60-to-90 day county residencies. The decision implies that about the only remaining excuse for any residency rule is administrative necessity. In the past the usual argument for restricting voting rights of new residents has been that they may be ignorant of the political issues and candidates in their new localities. This is a subjective consideration. Is a citizen who has lived in a state for 30 days necessarily more ignorant than his neighbor who has lived there one year, or is living in one place for a year automatic evidence of superior knowledge? Justice Marshall was content to say that "as devices to limit the franchise to minimally knowledgeable residents," the long residency requirements are "much too crude." Above everything else, that is what extensive residency regulations have become in a highly mobile nation — crude devices for limiting the franchise. Chief Justice Burger, in dissent, argued that residency laws are no more a denial of equal rights than laws making the voting age 18. But residency requirements have become an arbitrary restriction against millions who otherwise would be entitled to vote. Nearly 6,000,000 American were unable to vote in the last presidential election simply because they had moved. At least a comparable number remain barred from congressional, state and local elections. In a decade both the high court and Congress have tried to broaden the franchise, not limit it, and that is the best course in a democracy. The Supreme Court decision continues the healthy trend.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The "alienation vote," reflecting broad disenchantment with politics as usual, is carrying the day in the Democratic presidential primaries thus far. And in the key Wisconsin test the new, strong beneficiary is Sen. George McGovern. In this mood of protest, voters in places as distant from each other as Wisconsin and Florida seem to see Gov. George Wallace of Alabama as running on a parallel track with McGovern — outside the arena of heavily distrusted traditional politics and government. Together, McGovern and Wallace won half the very sizable votes cast for Democrats in the widely watched Wisconsin primary. The big victims of this devastating surge are the Democrats' most important 1972 practitioners of politics as usual — Sen. Edmund Muskie and Sen. Hubert Humphrey. Both have been dealt crushing blows. It is no exaggeration to say Muskie, believed for more than a year to be the front-runner for the Democratic nomination, is today teetering on the brink. The morning-after meeting in Milwaukee with all his top advisers was inevitably a crisis session. But the outcome is hardly better for Humphrey. His "reign" as front-runner was brief indeed. Of course it was illusory, founded upon unwise, premature judgments that he was rising sharply in the nation after a thin, 18 per cent second-place showing in the Florida primary. Losing out in Wisconsin was doubly damaging to Humphrey because only a short time ago he was seen as the clear winner by the state's most respected appraisers. His touted status as the neighbor from Minnesota, the "well-known old friend," seems to have been worth no more than about a fifth of the vote — barely better than he got in far-off Florida. McGovern's stunning victory, then, has brought absolute chaos to the 1972 Democratic presidential picture. His winning may have come close to knocking out Muskie and Humphrey. But it is simply too soon to say it has elevated McGovern to a place where he is widely seen as the nominee and as a man who can beat President Nixon. Up to now, his evident, hold on both party leaders and the voters has been remarkably slight. Today, obviously, he is getting an intense fresh look everywhere. It could not be otherwise. McGovern in Wisconsin proved again the paying value of his superior organization, and exhibited again his impressive tenacity against enormous odds. Moreover, his Wisconsin vote shows that his grip on the nation's disenfranchised voters may be wide and deep. The computerized vote analysis made election night by CBS reveals that McGovern scored very well with farmers and both white and blue collar workers. Thought to be the darling only of fancy liberals and college students, he instead scored well in all groups but the blacks (Humphrey's, overwhelmingly), and in all areas. He took every industrial sector, even edging out Muskie in Polish south side Milwaukee where he was supposed to be the strong one. With Muskie crumbling and Humphrey battered, McGovern is the man of the hour. What the Democratic party is now weighing hard is whether he can make it for man of the year.

Help Plotkin?

WASHINGTON — My friend Plotkin, who has a candy store in Hollis, N.Y., called me excitedly the other day and said, "The government just hit me for $1,230 in back taxes, as well as a $240 penalty. This is outrageous because they told me at the time I could deduct several business expenses that they have now disallowed." "Now don't get upset, Plotkin. I'm sure we can work something out. Why don't you fly down on your private plane and see Kleindienst?" "Private plane? What the hell are you talking about?" "If you have a private plane, it makes it a lot easier to get senators and congressmen to listen to your story." "You know, I don't have a private plane, wise guy." "All right, all right. I'll tell you what you do. Have your lobbyist get in touch with some of the boys at the Justice Department." "What lobbyist? I haven't got a lobbyist. What kind of candy store do you think I've got?" "It's pretty hard to get much done down here without a lobbyist. Let me think. Wait a minute. I've got an idea. Call Peter Flanagan at the White House. He can probably fix things for you." "Who is Peter Flanagan?" "He's in charge of helping businessmen who get into difficulty with the government." "Why would he help me?" "Because of your contribution to the Republican National Committee." "I didn't make any contribution to the Republican National Committee." "Well then, how do you expect to get any help from the White House?" "Who said I expected help from the White House?" "Of course, it's not too late to make a contribution to the Republican National Committee." "I said, 'How much would I have to give?'" Plotkin asked. "It doesn't make any difference. What about $400,000?" "Come on, will you knock it off. Fifteen hundred dollars is a lot of money to me, and I called you because I thought you could help me." "I'm trying to help, Plotkin, but there are certain ways of doing things down here, and no one likes to deviate from them. Have you thought of seeing acting Atty. Gen. Kleindienst?" "Why? Could he help me?" "He could, but he wouldn't because that would be a conflict of interest." "You know I'm not going to get to see Kleindienst," Plotkin said. "Probably not. Say, why don't you go down to the Kentucky Derby and talk it over with John Mitchell?" "I've got a candy store to run. I can't go to the Kentucky Derby." "Where would Dita Beard be today if she thought the way you did?" I asked. "Please be serious. What can I do?" "You might sell your stock before the public finds out what a mess you're in." "I don't have any stock. I own the candy store by myself." "That's a pity. Most corporation executives usually make a buck on their mistakes by selling their stock before the word gets out." "Then you're not going to help me?" "I would if I could, Plotkin. But no one down here is going to talk to anyone who hasn't made a political contribution, doesn't have a private plane or a lobbyist or can't find time to go to the Kentucky Derby."

PAUL HARVEY

What's Next?

It's almost axiomatic now. If your town's downtown is not in decay, it's headed that way. But after that — When Main Street is lined with poster-plastered windows on empty stores it's more than an eyesore, it's symptomatic of internal hemorrhaging. The long-range prognosis, however, is good or bad depending on your point of view. Early Americans would have reacted with horror to any prospect of multiple dwellings — apartment living. A man's cabin was his castle. The very idea of sharing walls and halls and floors and doors was inconceivable. Yet subsequent generations learned to live over and under and with one another; indeed many now prefer it. Nowadays we are again repulsed by the visionaries' visions of things to come: cities shaped like honeycombed spheres and such. "I don't want to live in a beehive!" you protest. Yet I look out my skyscraper window in Chicago or down from an inbound airplane and see 150 additional recent high-rise residential buildings. I watch their towers obscure the sky with construction ever more cloistered until already midtown is a quasi-commune of cubicles and passageways with common heat, power, plumbing and patches of green. Astor.

So what's happening is that we are moving into the beehive but gradually enough to become acclimated. Some fight it. President Nixon says the cities are "strangling themselves." A presidential task force on rural development urges everybody to "move out into the country." Yet more to blame than the population increase which gets most of the blame is the "herd instinct" which bunches us regardless. Constantinos Doxiadis, the Greek city planner who has developed and directed urban projects in 53 countries on five continents, predicts that mankind will build more buildings during the next 30 years than he has built in the last 6,000 years! And a University of Chicago psychologist, Dr. Bruno Bettelheim, says we are building faster than we are adopting it says, "The vastness of the building makes for anonymity within it; the individual, for recognition, may revert to extremes of behavior, even to violence." And laboratory animals, too, respond to confinement with violence — at first. Seldom is any major transition painless if only because it involves too much uprooting. That is what is now happening downtown — the displacement which precedes replacement.

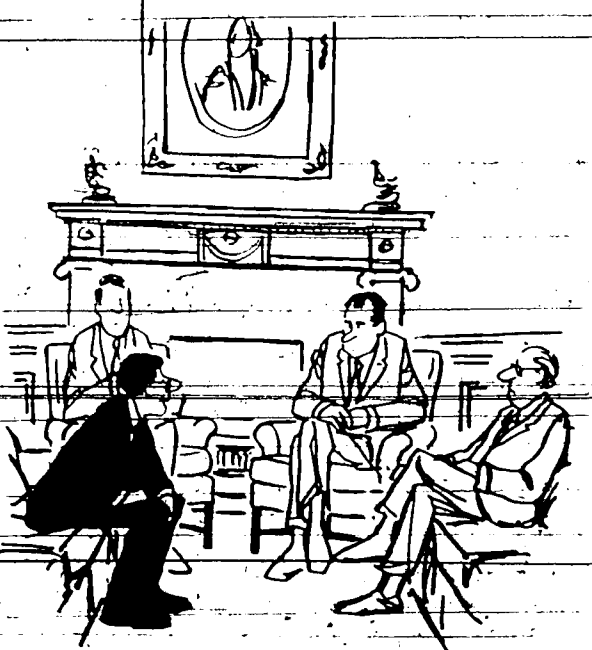

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D. Arthritis Cures

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What do you know about the treatment for rheumatic diseases in Canada? Also the Institute of Mexico? My daughter-in-law flew to Mexico City for the treatment that took two days. Now she thinks she is completely cured of rheumatoid arthritis. If this is so good, why aren't doctors in the United States using it? — Mrs. G.W.B. A good deal is known in the United States about the treatment you mention — and you and others will wonder why I don't use the name. I omit it because I think, as does the Arthritis Foundation, that publishing the name does more harm than good. It is against the law to import the medication (a mixture of powerful hormones) even though it is known that a good many people have smuggled it across the border. It is, in a word, dangerous stuff to use, and especially dangerous when someone takes it without medical supervision. Yet the Arthritis Foundation has found that, even when warnings are printed, the result is an increase in the number of ever-hopeful sufferers going over to buy it. It is no secret that powerful doses of hormones of the cortisone group can relieve arthritis temporarily. This was learned years ago, and briefly hailed as a "cure" for arthritis. But the results were temporary; the patients had to keep on using large doses, and in time the side effects began to appear, so the medication had to be stopped. I can understand your daughter-in-law's feelings, in two days her arthritic pains have stopped. She thinks she has found a "secret cure." Well, either her troubles will return, or, alternatively, she has brought home a supply of this hormone medication which she takes on her own hook. The risk is that she will ultimately develop the side effects which go with large doses. You may ask why, if the stuff is not allowed to be imported into the United States, the Canadian authorities haven't done anything about it. Well, they have, but the last I heard it all was tied up in such legal tangle it resembled some of the long drawn-out hassles that occur in the United States! The best advice I can offer is to be suspicious of these "cures" which you have to go across the border to get. They may seem miraculous temporarily, but the consequences can be disastrous. Check with your own physician. Check with the Arthritis Foundation or the local branch of it in your own community. They can give you some sound advice, but as I said before, they've quit publicizing the name of this and other "arthritis cures" because too many people, instead of being warned, decide to "take a chance on it." I've observed the same thing with some of the "cancer cures" that have cost so much money and misery in the past. The more you warn about them, the more people flock to try them anyway. Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband is a heavy beer drinker, from half a dozen to a dozen a night. I am afraid he is doing something to his health. Also is there a chance of becoming an alcoholic? He said that only happens to people who drink hard stuff. He looks very healthy, but he has a big stomach. — Mrs. J.A.N. People often become alcoholic from any type of alcoholic drink, and that includes beer. The drinks (any of them) represent calories, which helps account for the beer belly. Your husband would do well to stop kidding himself.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is the difference between diabetes mellitus and sugar diabetes? — Mrs. T.M.T. No difference — just different terms for the same thing. Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters.

Iraq, Russ new allies

BEIRUT. (UPI)—Iraq has allied itself with a major power for the first time since it pulled out of the Western Baghdad Pact 14 years ago and adopted a left-leaning neutrality. Its new ally is the Soviet Union.

Under the green dome of the grandiose Republican Palace in Baghdad, Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and Iraqi President Ahmed Hassan al-Bakr signed a document Sunday that linked their nations in a 15-year treaty of friendship and cooperation.

Kosygin ended his five-day official visit to Iraq today and returned to Moscow.

For the Kremlin, it was the third such accord within a year, two of them in the Middle East with nations belligerently opposed to Israel. It signed a similar pact with Egypt in May and another with India in August.

The treaty provides for Soviet military aid to Iraq, immediate consultations on any threat to peace, stepped-up economic cooperation—particularly with regard to oil—and the alignment of foreign policies. Each side guaranteed it would not join an alliance which the other opposed nor permit its territory to be used for purposes which could harm the other.

The pact declared a bond of "permanent" and unbreakable friendship.

Arab political sources said the treaty strengthened Soviet influence in the Middle East and gave it a toe-hold in the oil-rich Persian Gulf, an area from which the British recently withdrew.

Noteworthy was the presence of Soviet naval vessels in the Iraqi gulf port of Basra. The gulf opens into the Arabian Sea which in turn gives wide access to the Indian Ocean, an area where Soviet vessels have been active.

Egypt for years has been the Soviet pet in the Middle East, but relations between Moscow and Cairo recently have been strained by President Anwar Sadat's insistence that war with Israel was the only road to recouping Arab losses in the 1967 war. Moscow has urged moderation.

The sources said they believed that the Soviet Union aligned itself with Iraq as a move to insure its position in the Middle East in the event of a serious break in relations with Egypt, where it now has naval bases and thus a reach into the Mediterranean.

Hijack suspect walks into FBI agents' arms

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—A Pacific Southwest Airlines Boeing 727 following a formula nearly identical to one used by a hijacker two days earlier.

FBI agents subdued the FBI Agents late Sunday arrested Stanley Speck, 31, San Francisco, on charges of hijacking a Pacific Southwest Airlines Boeing 727 and demanding $500,000 ransom. (UPI) would-be hijacker at Lindbergh International Airport here after he startled authorities by agreeing to leave the aircraft to pick up himself maps and weather information he had demanded for a flight toward Miami.

"He doesn't appear to be the smartest hijacker I've heard of," one official said.

The FBI identified him as Stanley Harlan Speck, 31, of San Francisco. Police there said a man by that name was on two years probation for a disorderly conduct conviction in January.

The hijacker commandeered the jet shortly before its landing here as flight 942 from Oakland, and demanded four parachutes and $500,000.

The suspect, wearing Navy-type blue fatigues and with blond hair reaching to his shoulders, was apprehended as he walked down the ramp a few minutes after the 86 passengers aboard were released.

Earlier Sunday, the FBI arrested Richard Floyd McCoy Jr., 29, in Provo, Utah, as a suspect in the United case.

Lyndon Johnson's heart 'permanently damaged'

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (UPI)—Dr. J. Willis Hurst said Sunday that Lyndon B. Johnson had suffered "permanent damage" showing "some signs of improvement" but added that the former president's heart had suffered "permanent damage."

The heart specialist, however, said that it was safe for him to leave Johnson's bedside and return to his duties at Emory University in Atlanta.

Hurst treated Johnson, 63, after his first heart attack in 1955 and flew here Friday when the second occurred.

"Now is a safe time to go. Otherwise I would not go," Hurst said. He said Johnson's condition was "satisfactory with some signs of improvement."

Hurst stood by his prognosis of an 80 per cent chance of recovery for the former president.

LDS conclave ends with thanksgiving

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—Joseph Fielding Smith, the 95-year-old President of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, ended the 142nd annual conference Sunday with a message of personal thanksgiving.

"I have no language to convey the feelings of thanksgiving which are in my heart for the infinite and eternal blessings the Lord has given me, my family, the Church and the whole world," said the leader of three million Mormons.

An LDS spokesman said Smith appeared strong and well in spite of the schedule of speeches he has made in this conference, marking the anniversary of the founding of the church on April 6, 1830.

Smith was the last to speak to the 10,000 delegates assembled in the Salt Lake Tabernacle on Temple Square.

"I am pleased with the growth and development of the church, with the increased missionary work, with the many temples we now have and with the lives of all those who are seeking to serve the Lord," he said.

Ex-governor dies at 81

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (UPI)—John S. Battle, 81, governor of Virginia from 1950 to 1954, died Sunday in a nursing home. He had been ill for two years and suffered a stroke last Friday.

Battle, who called his education program his greatest contribution to the Commonwealth, is to be buried in Monticello Memorial Park today after a funeral at the University of Virginia chapel.

Shortly after his inauguration in 1950, his program, called the "Battle Fund," was passed by the General Assembly, where he had been a member for 20 years.

Burley men held for burglary

JEROME — Steven Robert Judd, 18, and Robert R. Poulsen, 19, both Burley, were arraigned before Magistrate Russell Shaud for second degree daylight burglary Friday afternoon.

The two were placed on $500 bond and are presently in the Jerome County jail.

Stuart Murrell, Jerome, with the Idaho Fish and Game Department, apprehended the two Thursday afternoon, when he returned to his vehicle, which was parked along the Blue Lakes country road, and found them burglarizing his vehicle.

Murrell, who was dove hunting at the time, had to fire a warning shot to persuade the two that he meant business when he informed them he was taking them into the Jerome County sheriff.

Statesman dies at 92

COLUMBIA, S. C. (UPI)—Flags flew at half staff at the White House and state buildings today in memory of James Francis Byrnes, one of the nation's most versatile and honored statesmen. He died at his home Sunday at 92.

The body of the former Supreme Court justice, assistant president, secretary of state and governor was to lie in state at the rotunda of the statehouse for 24 hours preceding noon services Wednesday.

President Nixon led the nation in mourning the death of Byrnes.

"No man in American history has held so many positions of responsibility in all branches of our government with such distinction," said Nixon. "He was a great patriot who always put his country ahead of his party."

Mrs. Nixon will attend the funeral.

Byrnes, hospitalized three times in recent years, had been in declining health during the past few months. He died at 1:30 p.m. Sunday with his wife Maude and his private nurse at his side.

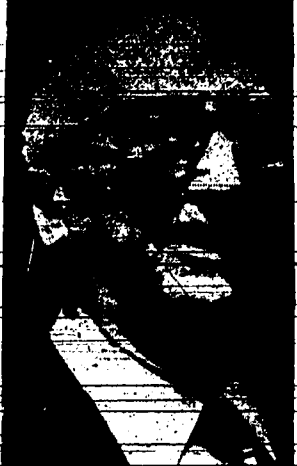

The funeral will be at Trinity Episcopal Church, across the street from the statehouse, with burial in the church cemetery.

Byrnes served as "assistant president" under Franklin D. Roosevelt and was a key figure in mobilizing the nation for World War II and negotiating postwar treaties.

Byrnes had been named to the U. S. Supreme Court by Roosevelt in 1941 but a year later became head of the Office of Economic Stabilization at the President's request. In 1943 he shifted to head the war mobilization office and was dubbed "assistant president for the home front."

The short and dapper Byrnes was born May 2, 1879, a child of a recently widowed mother at Charleston, S. C. He dropped out of school at 14 to help support his mother and launched his public career as a small-town prosecutor after teaching himself law.

He was elected to the House in 1910 and moved to the Senate in 1930, where his friendship with Roosevelt, then governor of New York, prospered.

Outhouses 'out'

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—The outhouse may soon be a thing of the past in the Bear Lake area.

A spokesman for the Bear Lake Property Owners Association says the Bear River District Health Department will post area outhouses with notices giving owners until June 15 to have them removed.

William A. Carver, Salt Lake City, said his group has been working for some time to have laws concerning the use of outhouses enforced around Bear Lake.

Quake hits Iran

TEHRAN (UPI)—A strong earthquake struck Fars province in southern Iran today causing heavy casualties and damage, government officials said.

Fars province governor general Manouchehr Pirouz said the quake which measured seven on the Richter scale killed between 2,000 and 4,000 persons, mainly in the adobe hut villages of Ghir and Karzin about 100 miles from the city of Shiraz.

"Not less than 2,000 persons are buried in the rubble of adobe homes and I think up to 4,000 may have been killed," Pirouz said in a report to the Iranian government in Tehran.

Rebels set style for annual Academy Awards

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Charlie Chaplin, Jane Fonda, George C. Scott, a trio of rebellious, colorful stars, set the style for tonight's 44th annual Academy Award Presentations.

A union representing Hollywood's television stagehands was considering a strike, which could force a video blackout of the ceremonies. Local 33 of The International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees had been working without a contract since July 31.

It was a homecoming for Chaplin, exiled for 20 years from the United States for political and so-called moral misbehavior.

Miss Fonda, a political and social maverick, is the sole American actress nominated for an Oscar.

George C. Scott, who won the award for best actor last year in "Patton," belittled the academy for its Oscars but added excitement to this year's event by holding out hope he would make an appearance.

The presentation ceremonies were scheduled to be telecast nationally at 10 p.m. (EST) in a two-hour NBC show dominated by the white haired, 82-year-old Chaplin who never won an academy award through all his long years in Hollywood, but who previously was given an honorary Oscar.

Bob Hope, almost a fixture as master of ceremonies, will be replaced as host by Helen Hayes, Jack Lemmon, Alan King and Sammy Davis Jr.

In a year when no single picture overwhelmed more than 2,000 voting members of the academy, honors were expected to be well distributed among the five nominated pictures.

Many Swedes boycott TV

By IAN WESTERGREN
STOCKHOLM (UPI)—It began as an isolated action by a Baptist pastor and his flock in the tiny south-Swedish village of Aneby last January. Today the boycott against Swedish television—in protest against sex and violence on the screen—is spreading across the nation.

"We didn't mean to start a national campaign against the Swedish Broadcasting Corporation (SR)," said Goethe Henriksson, the 36-year-old mild-mannered and softspoken pastor of Aneby Baptist Church. "We are just a group of Christians who are getting fed up with the sex and violence they are putting out and we decided to try to do something about it."

Today Henriksson estimates that more than 50,000 Swedes have joined the boycott movement. He keeps an informal count through the forms he and his supporters have printed up for all participants to fill in.

"Our mail is running high. Several hundred letters a day from all sorts of people, not just religious groups," he said. The boycott proper will start July 1, 1972, and last for three months. The participants will cancel their TV licenses for a three-month period and put their TV sets away.

In Sweden, like in many other European countries, the owner of a TV set pays a license fee of $40 a year for the privilege of watching SR's two TV channels. There is no commercial network.

SRK, which enjoys a monopoly on TV and radio broadcasting in the nation, has for long been a controversial operation. The company, which is in practice if not in theory state-owned, also runs three national radio networks and a number of local stations.

It derives its operating funds from the TV and radio license fees.

Mrs. Rucker, program chairman, Rep. McClure who discussed the demands of the society for energy. He said that "one-third of the electricity used in the nation is used by the housewife in the kitchen." The demands on electricity is doubling about every seven years and we need to find sources of new energy and develop it," McClure stated.

"Natural gas supply is becoming short, oil in the Middle East for imports is of interest to us, there is coal underground in the U. S. but restoring the land after mining is a problem," McClure said.

"Some nuclear plants in the nation have been stopped by court suits," McClure said. "It is time to force action for it takes five years to develop new power and put it on the market, and we need power sources," he added.

Child care authorities say nursery schools, which are part-day programs under varying auspices, may be free or may charge tuition.

The book included favorite tributes, poems, as well as humor in letters to the employes of the Rigby bank, from Shoshone bank employes, "a fairy tale" section, cartoons, and on the spot pictures of the event.

Suggestion made for birth control

DETROIT (UPI) — The world's population growth rate could be cut by one-seventh if only women between the ages of 18 or 20 and 35 were allowed to bear children, a birth-control researcher said Friday.

Dr. Bernard Berelson, president of the Population Council of New York, said most women are capable of giving birth between the ages of 15 and 45. He said mothers under 18 and over 35 account for about one in every seven births.

"If no children were born to women below 18 to 20 or above age 35 the benefits to mankind, and especially to womankind, would appear to be considerable," Berelson told the 300 physicians attending a conference of the American Association of Planned Parenthood Physicians.

"Limiting human production to about half of the present 30-year-span would probably cut the population growth rate in the world from its present level of 35 per cent to about 30 per cent and would insure a better chance of survival for both the mother and child," he said.

Before the two-day meeting came to a close, the association adopted a resolution urging the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) to approve a long-lasting injectable contraceptive for sale and use in the United States.

Frumps, she added, never get around to doing alterations.

Book Review

By ALLEN BENZ
Twin Falls Public Library

TWIN FALLS — The Eastern UFO Symposium, "Proceedings" is a thin volume by regular standards. However, it is filled with valuable information.

Participants at the symposium, held on Jan. 23, 1971, at Baltimore, included Theodore Spickie, assistant professor of physics at West Liberty State College, Wheeling, W. Va.; Thomas M. Olsen, nuclear engineer, isotopes nuclear systems division, Teledyne Corp.; Bethold Eric Schwarz, M.D., consultant, brain wave laboratory, Essex County (N.J.) Medical Center and fellow in psychiatry, The Mayo Foundation; Coral E. Lorenzen, editor, The Aerial Phenomena Research Organization Bulletin, and Dr. J. Allen Hynek, chairman, astronomy department, Northwestern University.

Prof. Spickie examines the theory that most UFO's are plasmas and says that the plasma theory as a general explanation is unconvincing.

Olsen discusses the common features of 160 cases reported from 1947 to 1964. He examines the reports as to their reliability, and lists some of the most common characteristics. Dr. Schwarz discusses the role of the psychiatrist in the examination of the UFO mystery, stressing the collection of facts, rather than the formulation of theories, concerning the reported events.

Mrs. Lorenzen recaps the history of UFO's since 1947 and the lack of thoroughness in the Condon Report. She concludes with a discussion of reports since 1969.

Dr. Hynek briefly discusses the subject in general, proceeds to examine cases in six basic categories, and urges continued investigation into the phenomenon.

The symposium itself is a sort of phenomenon. It is doubtful that even five years ago such an event could have been held. As such it represents a giant step forward in both social and scientific attitudes.

The U.S. Office of Child Development reports the highest percentage of children getting licensed day care services in any one state was a mere 5.8 per cent.

Oswald: "The most skillful form of bridge competition is an IMP team match where a hand is played just twice and all you have to do is to play more successfully than opponents' partners."

Jim: "You said more successfully, not better. In other words there is still some luck involved."

Oswald: "Here is a hand from a match played a few years back. The bidding in the box took place at one table. North's three-heart call was an all-purpose modern cue bid. It could be the start of a slam try or it could be an invitation to South to try no-trump. South went to no-trump on the theory that maybe his queen of hearts would be a key."

Jim: "I imagine South was happy when he saw that jack of hearts lead."

Oswald: "He was! It looked as if his queen of hearts would be the ninth trick but when East produced the king and returned the suit, South had to go one down. At the other table, North just bid three no-trump after the two heart overcall. East opened his partner's suit and the queen of hearts became declarer's ninth trick."

Jim: "Real luck. Most of the time the king of hearts would be held by the bidder of the heart suit and South would have been the proper declarer. Of course, with no heart lead at all there would only be eight tricks since eventually West would get in and lead hearts toward the king."

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: The letter from Patty in Tacoma, the 25-year-old who looks like a teen-ager, has prompted me to write my first Dear Abby letter.

My problem is the reverse. I look much older than I am, but to make matters worse, my husband looks much younger than he is. John and I are both the same age, but I am constantly mistaken for his mother.

Don't tell me to touch up my hair because John says he likes gray hair. (His mother was prematurely gray.) And I know I am overweight, but John says he likes me this way, and he keeps pushing the food at me. I would like to wear more youthful and stylish clothes, but they don't come in my size. Believe me, Abby, I don't enjoy looking like my husband's mother, so what should I do?

FORTY-TWO AND LOOKS LIKE 60

DEAR FORTY-TWO: You may not enjoy looking like your husband's mother, but apparently your husband enjoys it. If you really want to look younger, announce that you are going on a diet. Then, with your doctor's help, go on one. And wash that gray out of your hair! Your husband may like the new you better. And if he doesn't you'll be stuck with a lovely figure and a dye job which doesn't last very long, anyway.

DEAR ABBY: Much has been said about thoughtless, stingy, selfish people who impose their hard-of-hearing problem on others by refusing to wear a hearing aid.

But there are cases (I am one) where no hearing aid can be of any help. I am not guessing. I have been to the best audiologists in the world, and they agree that the hearing aid that can help me with my kind of deafness has not yet been made.

So what do I do when I cup my ear and strain to hear until I am nearly exhausted, and people look at me as tho to say, "I'll give this cheap dumb-cluck who's deaf and won't wear a hearing aid a hard time and I'll refuse to speak up?"

HARD OF HEARING

DEAR HARD: Say, "I am hard of hearing. And if there were a hearing aid made to help my kind of deafness, I'd be wearing one, so if you have something to say to me, please speak up and let me hear it."

DEAR ABBY: How does one introduce stepparents gracefully? My parents are divorced, and they are both married again to wonderful people. Using the term, "step-mother" or "stepfather" seems so unfeeling.

I love my parents very much, and I truly love their new mates, but introductions are so awkward for me. Can you help?

NAMELESS, PLEASE

DEAR NAMELESS: Why not simply introduce them as "my parents"?

DEAR ABBY: This is concerning the young lady whose newly divorced father objected to her calling him "Dad" because he didn't want to give away his age.

The daughter should have readily replied, "Of course I'll not call you 'Dad,' if you can come up with some other way of letting people know I am not dating a man old enough to be my father." Cooperatively yours,

CAROL IN CAMBRIDGE

A Lovelier You

TO TRIM JAW TO SIZE

By Mary Sue Miller

A square jaw is much admired in the face of a man. But in a woman's it is sometimes thought mannish. But when a woman's jaw develops lax, crepey flesh, there can be no question as to the effect. It's oddish!

Much can be done to soften chin problems. A bit of clever makeup camouflages the trouble at once. Simply wing blusher or rouge upward from the center of the cheek bones into the temples. Then apply contour shadow to the length of the jaw bones. Wear lipstick in generous curves. Arrange the hair high over the forehead, slick at the temples and foolish behind the ears.

These steps actually improve the jawline. 1. Exercise for two minutes night and morning, to tighten chin muscles. Just place fingertips well out on cheekbones, gently draw skin upward and at the same time, drop jaw, hold position for five counts, relax and repeat.

2. Because excess pounds and excess chins are inseparable, keep a check on your weight. Reduce, if that course is indicated. Beware, though, of fast methods. A quick drop in weight accentuates crepiness before exercise can tighten it.

3. Give the chin area special skin care. Sculpt the jawline with throat cream or oil before retiring. In the morning apply a moisture cream or fluid, as a foundation for makeup.

BANISH CREPEY THROAT AND CHIN

To firm and uplift sagging facial muscles and flesh, use my four-way method. It works wonders through corrective exercise, posture, skin care and makeup. Procedures are detailed in the leaflet, BANISH CREPEY THROAT & CHIN. For your copy, write Mary Sue Miller, in care of this newspaper, enclosing 15 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas — If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment for both men and women that is not only stopping hair loss but is really growing hair.

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. They invite you to try the treatment for 32 days at their risk and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this opportunity unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure that is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Hair loss caused by sebum can also run in your family, and many other conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair, now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days at their risk. If they believe the treatment will help you, just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered confidentially, by mail and without obligation. Adv.

Demos move meet to SV

BOISE — The executive committee of the Idaho Democratic party confirmed today plans to hold the Democratic State Convention at Sun Valley June 16-17.

This is a change from the previously announced location at Burley. The decision was made due to lack of facilities to accommodate the number of delegates and staff expected to exceed 1000 persons, explained Joe McCarter, state chairman. Site of the convention is the Continental Convention Center, Sun Valley.

Incorporated in the convention will be the delegate selection caucus made up of the 425 elected delegates chosen from the state's 35 legislative districts at 8 p.m. April 17. From this group, 20 Idaho delegates and 17 alternates will be elected to carry their commitments to elect the national presidential candidate at the Miami, Florida convention July 10-15.

In addition to the delegates elected April 17, each legislative district central committee made up of precinct committeemen will meet before May 1 to elect the balance of 25 delegates allowed from each legislative district to the state convention.

Other convention business will include formation of the party platform and the election of the state chairman, vice chairman, national committee persons and executive committee members.

Nolan Hancock, executive secretary at the Boise headquarters, said recent trial runs of mock legislative district caucuses were held to refine the mechanics required for the orderly process of allowing every Democratic member to state his presidential choice.

He described the qualifying process of participants who will sign the following pledge: "I will be a qualified voter in the next presidential election in District No. — I am a member of the Democratic Party and should the Party desire to publish my name as such, I hereby agree."

All who sign the pledges shall be permitted to attend, participate and vote in all proceedings. Execution of the pledge shall be a condition precedent to participation in voting, Hancock said.

Hailey bridge gets stringer

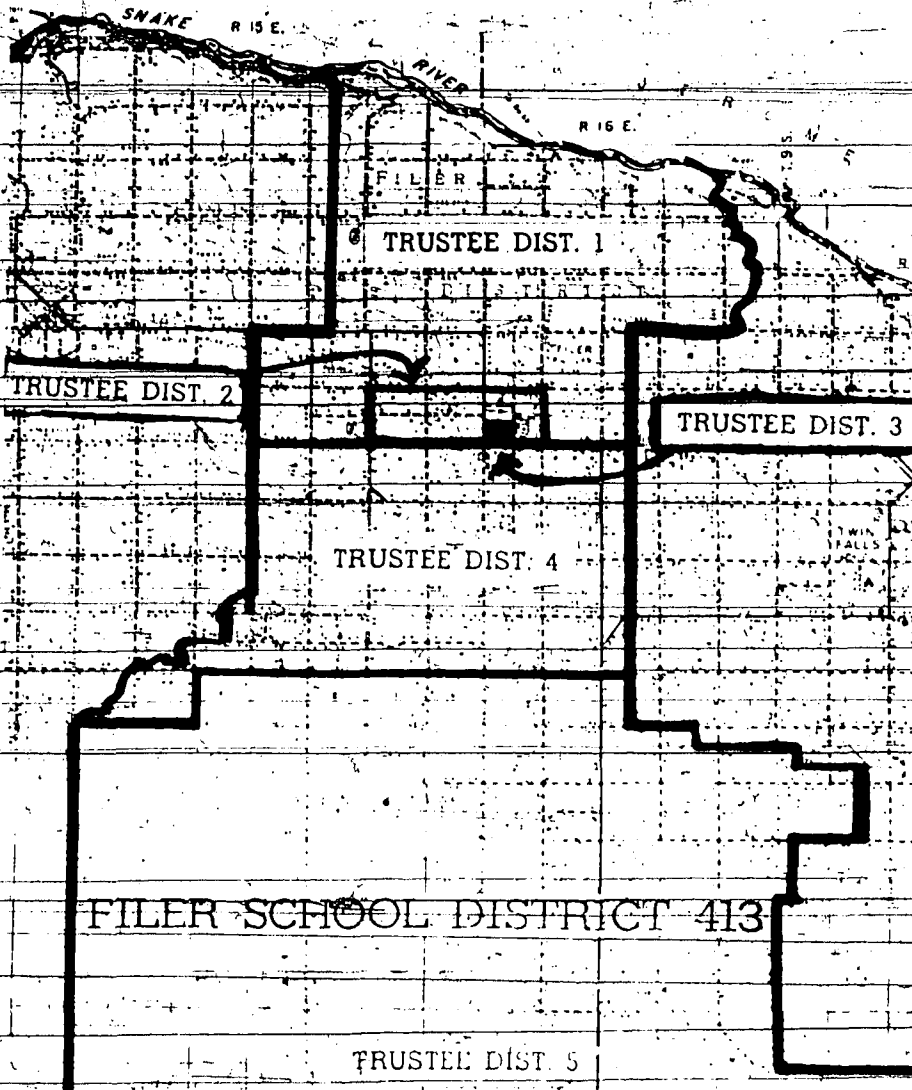

SHOSHONE — The bridge stringer on a 101 foot concrete bridge over Big Wood River at Hailey will be placed this week. Howard Johnson, Idaho Department of Highways engineer, said there should be no traffic interferences, however.

The bridge construction and grading with drainage and roadway approaches are under contract to Tany Russell Construction Co., Hailey, for $78,685.

The roadway approaches are located on Bullion Street and the project is called "Bullion Street Bridge."

First woman named fiddler champion

GOODING — Edna Grice, New Plymouth, was chosen Idaho State Fiddlers champion Saturday night in Gooding. She is the first woman to be picked overall winner in the history of the state fiddler the various trustee districts in the Filer School District. Polls will be open between noon and 7 p.m. at the high school and at the Hollister school. All eligible voters in the entire district will be able to vote in the election since all five trustee zones are involved in the boundary changes.

Population figures for the proposed trustee districts would be zone 1, 716; zone 2, 707; zone 3, 768; zone 4, 751; and zone 5, 702.

If a majority approves the zone equalization, the board will then appoint trustees to serve until the annual trustee election will take place in May.

At that time, an entire board of trustees will be elected with trustees from zones 1 and 4 to serve for two years; a trustee from zone 2 to serve a one-year term, and trustees from the new zones of 3 and 5 to serve terms of three years each.

Present board members are Lawrence Knigge, zone 1; Don Kauffman, the proposed new zone 2; no present member of the board resides in the new zone 3 which is entirely within the Filer City limits; John Lutz, incumbent member of the new zone 4; and Eugene Griff and Dave Chadwick, present members of the board in the new zone 5.

Griff, who has served nine years on the board, has indicated he plans to retire at the end of the term.

Church opposes land try tactic

By HUGH DAVIS Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Idaho Sen. Frank Church does not approve of the methods of a Utah judge trying to acquire property in the Snake River near Hagerman. Sen. Church said Monday, "I do not approve of the method Judge Ritter is using, that is, having to attack the title dispute from two fronts. He should use either the court system, which I personally think is the best method, or use the legislation approach."

Church was referring to the suit in Boise Federal Court which would grant land rights to three islands to Judge Willis Ritter.

Ritter owns Thousand Springs Ranch which adjoins the island property, and by virtue of his land title, there, Ritter claims ownership of the islands.

Sen. Church is chairman of the parks and land management subcommittee currently reviewing the bill.

"I have not scheduled hearings on the bill as yet," said Church, who as chairman, controls the disposition of the bill. If the bill is reported out of the subcommittee, it would then go to the larger Interior Committee for further review and study.

"There is a way this could all be avoided," said Church. "My Clear Title bill has finally received the endorsement of the Justice Department."

Church said the bill would "open the courts to private citizens" in matters of land title disputes and omitted lands controversies.

"There are 500 eastern Idaho landowners currently in the same situation and they can't take their disputes to the courts unless the government agrees to the suit," said Church.

Church's proposed bill would repeal the concept of sovereign immunity whereby a government agency cannot be sued unless it gives its consent.

Mallard ducks leave their wintering grounds in the South in late February and early March and arrive at northern breeding grounds by May.

The idea dates back to the King of England and protected monarchs from being taken to court by private citizens. The Justice Department has finally seen the injustice of this policy and has now given its approval to my bill with some changes of which I approve," said Church.

The bill has passed the Senate and is now before the House Judiciary Committee.

As the situation now stands, the Department of Interior, named in the Boise court suit by Ritter, could refuse litigation and Ritter's title claim would die.

When asked why Ritter went to a Utah Senator to propose legislation of Idaho land, Church said, "Judge Ritter has written to me in the past and I have always refused to sponsor that legislation because I feel, as I state in my bill, that a private citizen ought to have access to the courts for land title disputes with the government."

The future of Senate bill, S-2471, Ritter's title dispute, is uncertain.

The disposition of his court claim is pending the return of the presiding judge, who became ill in late March and suspended the case until his return. No continuance date has been set.

Historic ceremony held at old Gooding school

By PEGGY CHU Times-News writer

GOODING — A copper box set into the cornerstone of the old Gooding High School 60 years ago was opened Saturday.

It revealed a copy of the dedication address for the school and copies of two Gooding newspapers which reported the ceremony.

School officials and members of the Gooding Masonic Lodge, which laid the cornerstone in 1912, removed the cornerstone Saturday and took the box to the Masonic Temple to be opened. The contents were yellow with age but in perfect condition. Inside an envelope, with a two-cent postage mark, was the dedication speech given June 22, 1912.

"We the undersigned Board of Trustees of school district 10, Gooding, Lincoln Co., Idaho, hereby dedicate this high school building to the school system of Gooding, and trust that it may always be used for the best interests of education and the better training of young men and women to the end that those leaving this school will be better fitted to take their place in the world and become useful citizens, always imparting an influence that will tend to uplift and elevate manhood and womanhood to the more perfect life," the speech read. It was signed by George Wedgewood, chairman, A. E. Thompson, clerk, R. W. Houston, trustee.

The copper box also contained a June 20, 1912, copy of the "Gooding Herald" and a June 21, 1912, copy of the "Idaho Leader."

Rod Glauner, Tren Myers, Bill Dunham and Clarence Reynolds assisted in removing the cornerstone from the old high school.

Jerome aides to get proposal

By CHARLOTTE BELL Times-News writer

JEROME — The Jerome School board is again faced with the question of what to do about Lincoln Elementary School.

A delegation of Jerome citizens is expected to meet with the board tonight to request approval of a 14-classroom addition to the Jefferson Elementary school, and eliminate use of Lincoln school.

The citizen's proposal was presented to the school board on March 27 by trustee Jim Keith but was rejected because the board was split on what action should be taken.

The proposal came after school trustees decided to keep Lincoln school open but limit spending to $30,000 for repairs and maintenance.

LeRoy Craig, chairman of the citizen committee, said the suggestion for an addition to Jefferson school was not adequately aired by school trustees. He said a public meeting would put the trustees in a better position to evaluate what the public feels is necessary for the district.

Craig said the trustees had only two major options in reaching their decision, either closing the school which would result in district students attending classes on a shift basis, overcrowding classrooms, or spending between $30,000 and $80,000 to keep the school open.

A third option, adding onto Jefferson school could help solve the Jerome building dilemma, Craig said.

We feel it is impossible to get a 12-mill levy at this time for a high school or a grade school because the majority of taxpayers are split on the course of action to be taken, Craig said.

Craig said under the proposal, 14 regular classrooms and one and one-half special education classrooms could be added to Jefferson for less than $400,000.

The present school district indebtedness will be retired at the end of June and the mill levy necessary to finance the addition would be no more than is presently being paid in the district.

Craig said the mill levy amount needed to finance the project would run for five or six years. The whole result is there would be no increase in taxes because the new mill levy would take the place of the former mill levy.

The problems confronting the school board were caused by the defeat of the bond issue for a new senior high school creating a problem of what to do with Lincoln school.

Craig said in 1963 the Idaho State Department of Education recommended abandonment of Lincoln school and that two insurance companies had previously refused to insure the structure because of the unsafe condition in regard to fire danger.

Craig said no matter how much money is put into Lincoln school it would not be an adequate educational facility.

"I feel the public would support the proposal to build an addition to Jefferson school," Craig said. "I also feel that many of the people don't want to put money into Lincoln because it is not the type of building we want in our educational system," he said.

Craig said the children in the basement of the school would have no chance of getting out if a major fire broke out. He explained when all lights in the school are turned on at one time, or when some of the audio-visual equipment is used it creates an overload on the wiring causing fuses to blow. He emphasized that inadequate wiring is a major cause of fires in all buildings even if they are deemed safe in other aspects.

Craig also questioned the advisability of spending the district's reserve money and said if the money was used for Lincoln school it would shortchange improvements in other buildings.

Craig said they will try to convince the school trustees that the addition to Jefferson school is the right course to take. If they agree, the trustees could ask the state board to view the matter as an emergency, waiving the 90-day waiting period between bond elections and an election on the Jefferson addition could be held within 30 days.

He said an additional four and one-half acres is available by Jefferson school and the building could be constructed on present school ground, buying the acreage for increased playground facilities.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stock prices moved higher Monday as optimism prevailed in active trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones industrial average of 30 selected blue-chip stocks advanced 1.35 to 963.95 shortly before 1:15 p.m. Standard & Poor's 500 stock index rose 0.28 to 109.90.

The three-hour turnover totaled 1,140,000 shares, compared with 10,940,000 traded during the corresponding period Friday. Advances led declines, 808 to 572, among the 1,710 issues crossing the tape.

Analysts said investors continued to be optimistic in the wake of last week's rally, which saw the Dow average climb more than 21 points. Some said the market is ready for an assault on the 1000 level of the Dow.

A feature was Superior Oil, which soared 24 points before trading was halted. It did not trade Friday because of an order imbalance. Company officials said they knew of no reason for the advance.

One Wall Street source, however, said two or three major bidders wanted to buy the company. The reasoning, Walter O'Hara of Thompson & McKinnon said, was the desire for oil sources closer to home because of the demands of Middle Eastern nations for more control over their oil.

Another strong feature was Corning Glass, up 4 1/2. The issue gained more than 21 points last week after reporting first quarter earnings.

Milwaukee Bucks drill hapless Lakers 93-72

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI)— Kareem Jabbar scored 33 points and Milwaukee's air-tight defense limited the Los Angeles Lakers to only eight points in the third quarter as the defending champion Bucks ran off with a 93-72 victory Sunday in the opening playoff game between the National Basketball Association's two super powers.

It was the lowest point total in Laker history and Milwaukee accomplished it against a Los Angeles team that won an NBC record 69 games and led the league in scoring with an average of 121 points a game. The intimidating 7-foot-2 Jabbar completely dominated Wilt Chamberlain, scoring 21 of his points in the second half. The cold-shooting Lakers were still in the game at halftime, trailing only by points at 37-34. But Milwaukee, which ranked second in the NBA in defense this season, came out and outscored the Lakers 14-2 in the first 4:49 of the second half for a 61-36 advantage.

That was the game as the Bucks left with a 68-42 lead at the end of three quarters after outscoring Los Angeles 31-8 in the third period.

The second game of the best-of-seven Western Conference final series will be held here Wednesday night. It then moves to Milwaukee for the third and fourth contests.

Bob Dandridge and Lucius Allen aided Jabbar in the Milwaukee scoring with 18 and 15 points, respectively.

For Los Angeles, which won four of five regular season games from Milwaukee and had been established a 9-5 favorite in the series, Happy Hairston led the sputtering attack with 16 points.

Jerry West and Gail Goodrich, who both averages more than 25 points a game in the regular season, were held to 10 and 8 respectively.

Chamberlain, giving away 11 years to Jabbar, had 10 points and 24 rebounds. Jabbar finished with 18 rebounds but was clearly more of a defensive factor.

For the game, Los Angeles shot a miserable 27 per cent from the floor on 28 of 103. West was only four of 19 while Goodrich was 2 for 11. Jim McMillian, who finished with only six points, was 3 of 20 from the floor.

The Bucks meanwhile shot 44 per cent on 39 of 88 as Jabbar hit 14 of 26 shots attempted.

The Lakers, who swept by Chicago in four games in their opening playoff series, out-rebounded the Bucks who took five games to get past Golden State, 65-23.

Hairston added 20 rebounds while Curtis Perry finished with a Milwaukee high of 23 in that department.

The previous low point total in Los Angeles' history was 73 points in the playoffs against Milwaukee last year.

Celtics top Hawks to win NBA playoff

ATLANTA (UPI)—The hot-shooting Boston Celtics opened up with a 41-point first quarter Sunday and rolled on to defeat the Atlanta Hawks 127-118 and win their National Basketball Association first round playoff four games to two.

The Celtics, who will meet the winner of the Baltimore-New York playoff, once again got excellent support from their bench. Steve Kuberski came in to contribute 22 points. Don Nelson collected 14 and Art Williams 14.

Dave Cowens, playing perhaps his finest game of the best-of-seven series, and John Havlicek each hit 26 points to lead the Celtics. Cowens picked off 20 rebounds, dominating the offensive boards in particular. Pete Maravich, who virtually kept Atlanta in the game singlehandedly in the first quarter with 20 points, led all scorers with 37. But the Hawks failed to get a balanced attack going.

Boston led all the way and except for closing to within three points in the third period, the Hawks couldn't muster a challenge. Boston, which averaged 55.6 from the field, had its famed fast break cut off by Atlanta but made up for it with outside shooting. The Celtics also showed a better eye from the foul line, hitting 27 of 37 to Atlanta's 28 of 41.

For the Hawks, Walt Bellamy hit 18 points and 15 rebounds and Lou Hudson had 18 points, below his 20-plus average. In the first period, the Celtics' Cowens, Havlicek and Nelson contributed heavily to the attack that gave the Celtics a 41-31 first quarter lead, but the Hawks kept battling back until they pulled to within 91-88 late in the third period. But then Williams hit two foul shots and a field goal and Havlicek hit two from the field to run Boston out of reach to a 100-88 lead going into the fourth quarter.

New York topples Baltimore 106-82

BALTIMORE (UPI)—The New York Knicks' superb defense held the Baltimore Bullets to 12 points in the third quarter en route to a 106-82 victory Sunday afternoon which gained a 3-2 edge in their NBA eastern semifinal series.

The Bullets shot a poor 27 per cent (15-58), as New York outscored them in the decisive quarter 27-12.

Allison wins race at Bristol

BRISTOL, Tenn. (UPI)— Bobby Allison of Hueytown, Ala., scored his third racing victory at Bristol International Speedway Sunday, easily capturing the Southeastern 500 in a Chevrolet.

Running a near perfect race, Allison averaged 92.826 miles per hour and finished three laps ahead of Bobby Isaac's Dodge. A record crowd of 34,700 watched in perfect weather.

Allison, who led the final 313 laps, was in command throughout after starting from the pole position. Isaac of Catawba, N. C., gave Allison his most serious competition before falling a lap behind shortly after the halfway mark.

The victory was worth $6,825 for Allison, who paces the NASCAR Winston Cup drivers in money won this season.

Richard Petty, of Randleman, N. C., also a contender in the early going, finished a distant third in a Plymouth. Lee Roy Yarbrough of Columbia, S. C., ran fourth in a Ford and Cecil Gordon of Horse Shoe, N. C., brought his Mercury in fifth.

Jack Nicklaus wins 4th Masters title

Champion begins quest for golf's grand slam

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—Favored Jack Nicklaus, already a golfing legend at 32, won his fourth Masters championship by three strokes Sunday despite struggling like a duffer in the final round and thus nailed down the first leg of the elusive professional "grand slam."

Nicklaus, who tied Arnold Palmer's record for Masters victories and moved just one back of the late Bobby Jones' record of 13 major titles, held a five-stroke lead with only eight holes left to play but then ran into "boogie trouble."

Golf's leading all-time money winner, the man colleagues insist is one of the greatest ever, wound up with a two-over-par 74 for the day and a two-under-par 286 for the tournament, the highest win-

Nicklaus led this Masters from start to finish. His opening 68 on Thursday had him a stroke ahead of ageless Sam Snead; his 71-139 Friday was a stroke better than silver-haired Paul Harney; and he went into the final round a stroke ahead of streaky Jim Jamieson after shooting 73-212 on Saturday.

He won the $25,000 first prize, pushing his career total past the $1.5 million mark in less than 11 years, simply because no one else could maintain a run at his lead.

No other golfer in the field even broke par for 72 holes. Nicklaus' playing partner, Tom Wieskopf, with a final 74, and Australian Bruce Crampton and Virginian Bobby Mitchell, both with 73s, wound up in a tie for second at 1-over-par 289 and got consolation prizes of $15,833.

Jameson, who soared to Sunday 75 after his late rally Saturday, had pulled him from five strokes back to within one of Nicklaus, who was 2-over-290 along with Australian pro Bob Devlin (71), Jerry McGee (72), Homero Blancas (74) and Jerry Heard (74).

Palmer, who had hoped that going to contact lenses would enable him at 42 to regain his championship touch, fretted through a 9-over-par 81 Sunday and wound up far back in the field at 12-over-par 300.

Another notable 300 shooter was U.S. Open and British Open champion Lee Trevino, who was over par in each of the first three rounds but finally equalled it Sunday with his 72. Trevino had boycotted the previous two Masters on the grounds that "my game wasn't suited for the (longer playing) Augusta National course," but had returned this year "determined to win now that I've made the necessary adjustments."

In order to complete the first professional "grand slam" Nicklaus must now win the U.S. and British Opens and the PGA — three tournaments which he alone has won twice each before.

The golfing superstar said before the year started that he felt 1972 offered his best chance to win all four since "they are being held on courses which I like and on which I have played "prettily nervous" when his lead was dwindling rapidly.

"There was a little something in my swing that wasn't right," said golf's "Golden Bear," who equaled Arnold Palmer's record for the most Masters victories and captured the first leg of what some experts think may become the first professional grand slam in golfing history.

"It's tough for me to lead a tournament all the way," Nicklaus confessed after he had been handed a check for the winner's prize of $25,000 and donned his fourth green coat emblematic of a Masters triumph.

"When I come into the last round of a tournament a stroke or two behind, I get to feeling 'Now I can make a charge,' strokes.

"Early in this final round, Nicklaus said, "I wasn't under much pressure because nobody was making a run at me. I wasn't doing very much, but nobody else was doing anything at all."

Along about that time Nicklaus was smiling a lot, exchanging talk with people in the gallery, and seemed relaxed. Then, starting with bogey on the 11th hole, trouble suddenly flared up.

Then came another bogey on the 14th when he three-putted, missing a shorty. On the 15th he put his second shot to the left of the green in trees

On the 16th Nicklaus saved his par with a short putt and he said, "That little putt sort of turned things around for me."

On the 17th Nicklaus saved another par with another short putt—this one an almost semi-circular one that travelled about seven feet to cover four feet.

And that put him on the 18th tee—with three strokes left of his lead over Bruce Crampton and Bob Mitchell, who had just finished, and over Tom Weiskopf, who was playing with him.

Playing carefully, Nicklaus put his second shot within 12 feet and two-putted for the par.

Nicklaus shows strain of late slump

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—Jack Nicklaus, showing the strain he'd been under in fighting off a late slump to win his fourth Masters golf championship after leading since the opening round, admitted Sunday he was "pretty nervous" when his lead was dwindling rapidly.

"There was a little something in my swing that wasn't right," said golf's "Golden Bear," who equaled Arnold Palmer's record for the most Masters victories and captured the first leg of what some experts think may become the first professional grand slam in golfing history.

"It's tough for me to lead a tournament all the way," Nicklaus confessed after he had been handed a check for the winner's prize of $25,000 and donned his fourth green coat emblematic of a Master triumph.

suddenly Nicklaus was out from by a fat five strokes. It seemed that things were going to be easy for him, maybe as easy as back in 1965 when he won the Masters by nine strokes with a tournament record of 278
strokes.

"Early in this final round, Nicklaus said, "I wasn't under much pressure because nobody was making a run at me. I wasn't doing very much, but nobody else was doing anything at all."

Along about that time
Nicklaus was smiling a lot, exchanging talk with people in the gallery, and seemed relaxed. Then, starting with bogey on the 11th hole, trouble suddenly flared up.

Then came another bogey athe 14th when he three-putted missing a shorty. On the long 15th he put his second shot to the left of the green in trees

then ran his chip far past the cup and wound up with another bogey, his third of the back nine.

"The 15th has been bugging me all week and it got me again," Nicklaus said.

On the 16th Nicklaus saved his par with a short putt and he said, "That little putt sort of turned things around for me."

On the 17th Nicklaus saved another par with another short putt—this one an almost semicircular one that travelled about seven feet to cover four feet.

And that put him on the 18th tee with three strokes left of his lead over Bruce Crampton and Bob Mitchell, who had just finished, and over Tom Weiskopf, who was playing with him.

Playing carefully, Nicklaus put his second shot within 12 feet and two-putted for the par.

that wrapped it up.

"I think this was the fastest I have seen the greens here since I set the record in 1965," Nicklaus said.

Attempt is sought on strike

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon expressed interest in a settlement of the baseball strike Sunday as the negotiators for the players and owners headed here for a meeting with a top federal labor mediator. J. Edgar Hoover said the president's "interest" in a settlement was expressed through a spokesman for the mediator, who said that the federal mediator had received a telephone call from the President. The spokesman did not reveal whether Nixon intended to take an active part in helping to negotiate a settlement.

Marvin Miller, executive director of the Players Association, and John Gaherin, the chief negotiator for the clubdowners, will meet with Counts Monday morning in a new attempt to end the eight-day old strike.

"Counts called me last night and said John Gaherin had agreed to come and meet with him in Washington," said Miller.

"I am hopeful we can accomplish something. Quite often skilled mediators can be very helpful. But you must remember that there is a very distinct difference between mediation and binding arbitration. A mediator does not have the authority to step in and hand down a decision."

Gaherin has held firm throughout the talks with Miller, that the clubowners would not accept any binding arbitration.

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, APRIL 11, 1972

CARROLL RIGNER'S horoscope

from the Carroll Rignier Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A time to look at both sides of whatever question arises and then to sleep on it before coming to any definite conclusion which you can do much better tomorrow. You now would be wise to engage in aiding close companions with their problems. Also, take care of own personal problems.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Making right preparations now for what is very important in your life, particularly where intimate affairs are concerned, is wise. Listen to the voice of your conscience before acting.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Handling those matters that will benefit both you and friends is best today. Engage in group affairs that can be most helpful. Enjoy harmony at home with kin tonight.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) A day to attend to business matters and show your fine talents to those who can help you to advance more quickly. Show others that you are concerned about their welfare. Be generous.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You can now obtain information needed to round out your knowledge so that you can pull ahead in your line of endeavor. Take the time to study new avenues of expression in the evening.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Keeping promises; you have made can now wipe the slate clean so that you can make greater progress in the future. Strive for greater harmony with mate. Kindness is the key.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Associates seem to be thinking in a radically different way from you, so study the situation and come to a perfect understanding. Then be more cooperative. Be careful in travel.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Planning to make your surroundings more charming and delightful is time well spent now. Add to wardrobe only those items that are really necessary. Throw away unwanted clutter.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Engaging in recreations that are not expensive is fine. The money saved will come in handy in the days ahead. Look into a new activity that appeals to you. Study all the angles.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Little annoyances may arise at home but you can bring them quickly under control, so don't lose your temper. Avoid one who talks too much. Evening is fine for relaxation.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Handle all routine affairs in a relaxed way. Schedule your time wisely. New ideas you have need more work on the details before you put them in operation. Don't forget to shop.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You need to get down to more practical affairs now even though you are idealistic by nature. Prove to associates that you wish to cooperate with them. Read and relax tonight.

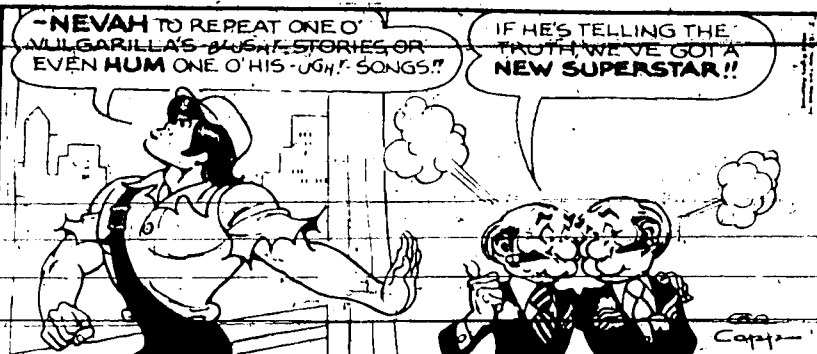

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Dress in good taste, then make contacts with interesting people. Stop feeling so sorry for yourself. If you count your blessings you will realize you have a lot to be thankful for.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be one of those delightful young people full of sensitivity, which is fine, provided you teach to use this quality in the proper manner, otherwise your progeny will never become the sturdy individual that others can depend upon. Direct the education along philanthropic, psychological and humanitarian lines.

No, it's no mystery why the typical caricature of the feminine fashion model is always tall, bony and extra thin. Catalog artists at the turn of the century decided they could impart an extra grace in their sketches by drawing the whole figure exactly eight times the length of the head. Actually, the real girl with the proper, pulchritudinous proportions in her entirety is only six times as long as her head.

20-day demand in Erin

By COLIN BAKER
BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—The Roman Catholic civil rights movement today gave Britain 20 days to meet its demands or face "massive and nonviolent opposition."

A spokesman for the Northern Ireland Civil Rights Association told a news conference the association would consider defying a British ban and resuming the marches and demonstrations that have caused violence here.

Kevin McCorry, press officer for the association, said Britain must free interned Catholics, pull its troops off the streets where they are searching for Irish Republican Army (IRA) gunmen, and give Catholics the same civil rights Englishmen have in England.

"If at the end of this month there are no real moves toward the ending of internment, withdrawing troops to barracks and creating democracy in the north, then we will have no alternative but to lead the people again in massive and nonviolent opposition to continuing tyranny," he said.

McCorry joined the city's Catholic bishops in condemning the violence of the IRA.

He called for an end to the disorder that has plagued Northern Ireland for the past 32 months.

But he said Britain's abolition of the Protestant dominated Northern Ireland Parliament and imposition of direct British rule had failed to bring any real progress toward peace and justice.

Services eulogize Powell

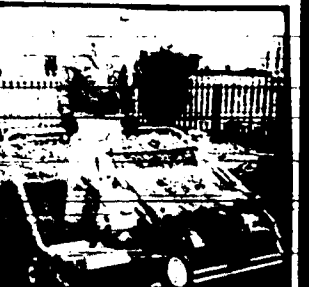

NEW YORK (UPI)—Adam Clayton Powell, the pleasure-loving Baptist minister who represented Harlem in Congress for 11 terms, was praised at his funeral services Sunday as a man who did more for the civil rights movement than anyone in his time.

About 2,000 mourners gathered inside the 167-year-old Abyssinian Baptist Church where Powell had been pastor for 34 years, to pay their last respects. Among them was Rep. Charles Rangel, the man who unseated Powell in 1970 through a combination of Powell's legal problems, his expulsion from Congress and the changing temper of the civil rights movement.

Another estimated 10,000 mourners lined the cool, sunny Harlem streets outside, and many more watched the funeral procession from their windows. Mayor John V. Lindsay, Reps. Shirley Chisholm and Oren Reid of New York and Charles Diggs of Michigan; Powell's three wives; and Darlene Expose, Powell's companion in his last years on his retreat in the island of Bimini in the Bahamas, sat in the front rows.

Request jolts Hiss

BOSTON (UPI)—A former State Department official jailed 44 months for perjury following an investigation into an alleged Communist conspiracy during the late 1940s has been asked to support the re-election of President Nixon, who helped put him behind bars.

Alger Hiss received an appeal for money from the Finance Committee for the re-election of the President, the Boston Sunday Globe reported. It was a request that Hiss said gave him "a bit of a jolt."

"First of all, I'm not going to contribute," said Hiss, now 67. The perjury conviction in 1950 followed a Nixon-supported probe in which self-confessed Russian spy courier Whittaker Chambers accused Hiss of having taken part in a Washington-based spy ring. Nixon, a freshman congressman from California, was a member of the House Un-American Activities Committee at the time of the investigation. Nixon's position as investigator for the probe provided him with the first big break in his climb to the vice presidency which he achieved in 1952.

Hiss has consistently maintained his innocence of charges that he lied when he told a grand jury he never gave Chambers secret documents.

U.S. attacks drug flow from Latin America

By ALAN RIDING
London Financial Times-UPI
MEXICO CITY—The United States is stepping up its campaign to halt, or at least reduce substantially, the flow of drugs entering the country.

Malta has talent event

MALTA — A talent show sponsored and directed by the Malta Lions Club was held Friday night at the Raft River High School gymnasium.

Members also heard a talk by William Halleck of Boise, and Donald Bottcher, Twin Falls, concerning the conservation of sight.

Talent show winners in the grades 1, 2 and 3 section were Gay Lynn Teeter, first, singing "Coat of Many Colors"; Kirsten Hintze, second, singing "Maresey Doats"; and Chad Fridel, third, who played an organ solo, "Home On the Range."

Grades 4 through 7 were won by Lynn Kowles and Kyle Fowles, playing a piano and trumpet selection entitled "Lyra." Second place went to Dallen Ward who sang a novelty number and accompanied himself on the guitar. The Fifth Grade Five band composed of James Parke, Guy Neddo, Renee Crump, Trudy Ward and Matthew Gardner won third place playing "America" and "Away We Go."

Paula Beecher won first place in grades 8 through 12 with a song, "In My Own Little Corner." She also did a dance number. Second place winner, Gina Neddo, presented a humorous reading, "Mrs. Snicklefritz and the Four O'Clock Train." Darlene Beyler and Susan Beyler won third place with a song, "Both Sides Now," accompanied on guitar by Michael Beyler.

Other contestants were Laurel Cottle, Jimmy Crane, Rickey Teeter, Trudy Ward and Renee Crump. Donald Carson presented each winner a trophy. Judges were Robert Saxvik, Mrs. Joe Carlson and Mrs. Clyde Wardle. Arrangements for the talent show were by Donald Carson, Roy Rose, Duane Hutchison and Edwin Schlender.

A special presentation concerning the function, care and problems of the human eye was presented by Halleck, vice-president of the Idaho Oregon Lions Eye-Bank Sight Conservation Foundation, and Donald Bottcher. Bottcher is a two-times recipient of eye transplants. In one eye he now has 20-20 corrected vision. The other eye was repaired in January and it is still too early to specify the final results. Prior to the operations Bottcher was blind.

The Malta Lions presented a check for $368 to the eye foundation. Alvin Neddo made the presentation to Halleck. The money represents fund raising events including the appearance last week of the All American Redheads, a professional women's basketball team.

The money is to help the eye foundation with plans to buy a mobile unit for screening preschool children for Amblyopia, or "lazy eye." It will travel across the Lions district of southern Idaho and the extreme eastern edge of Oregon.

The unit will provide free checks so that children with "lazy eye" can receive attention while there is a good chance of preventing marginal vision or blindness. The Lions hope to have the unit operational in two to three years.

from Latin America. Until recently, only the United States embassy in Mexico had a special narcotics bureau, concerned mainly with guiding the local authorities in their drive against the growth and smuggling of opium and marijuana.

But now narcotics offices are being opened in more Latin countries and several more are planned for Central America. Their role will be to infiltrate and break up what has been described as the "Latin Connection" in the multi-million-dollar narcotic traffic.

These drugs have traditionally entered the United States directly from Europe, after processing in Marseilles. But recent international agreements and treaties between Washington and the French, Turkish and Iranian governments have put greater pressure on the traffickers; they are now using Latin America as an indirect avenue to the United States.

At present, one of the worst problems faced by the United States government is the unwillingness of several Latin American regimes to cooperate in a campaign against the narcotics traffic. Paraguay would seem to be a particular problem.

Tucked strategically between Brazil, Argentina and Bolivia, Paraguay has long been a haven for smugglers. But until recently, the traffic was in an assortment of luxury goods such as watches, whisky and gold, all moving south from the United States to Latin America. Not surprisingly the drug traffickers, looking for new ways of entering the United States, wasted no time in adapting this network to their convenience.

After a series of important and perhaps lucky catches last year, United States narcotics agents began to investigate this "Paraguayan Connection" in the drug ring and concluded that it was run by a man described as an expatriate Frenchman and former Nazi collaborator. Washington asked the Paraguayan courts for an extradition order.

For several months now, the man, said to be responsible for an annual heroin traffic worth $2.5 billion dollars, has evaded extradition. And United States authorities are beginning to despair of bringing him to trial in the United States. Doubts also have risen in the United States about the Panamanian government's enthusiasm in the anti-drug campaign. Panama refused to extradite a civil aviation official who was allegedly allowing drug smugglers into the country without customs clearance. But the United States caught up with the official when he naively entered the U.S.-controlled Canal Zone to watch a softball game. He is now in a United States jail awaiting trial.

But if Washington complains about Paraguay, Panama and some other Latin countries, it could not be happier with the assistance it has received from Mexico, despite a bad start when the United States unilaterally launched "Operation Intercept" in late 1969. Every one coming from Mexico was stopped and searched, causing long delays at border crossings.

and provoking a sudden drop in tourism. All this was done without consulting the Mexican government.
