

Viet Reds attack on 3 fronts

Upward bound

SAIGON (UPI)—Communist forces attacking at close range pinned down two South Vietnamese battalions only 38 miles north of Saigon today. Tank-led North Vietnamese overran three firebases in the Central Highlands and another force seized 10 more miles of Highway 1 in Cambodia.

The air war over North Vietnam heated up and B52s again joined fighter-bombers in strikes today against the port of Thanh Hoa, 82 miles south of Hanoi. One B52 was riddled by fragments of a surface-to-air (SAM) missile but landed safely at Da Nang. A Navy F4 Phantom was shot down Sunday but its two crewmen were rescued from the Tonkin Gulf.

The American planes were assisted by ships of the U.S. 7th

Fleet bombarding coastal targets in North Vietnam. The guided missile destroyer USS Parsons was slightly damaged by shore batteries Sunday and the guided missile destroyer USS Benjamin Stoddert was slightly damaged Saturday.

Military sources said the Communist attacks in the Central Highlands 280 miles north of Saigon appeared to be the long-expected opening of a North Vietnamese front there. Four Americans were killed today in the region when their helicopter was shot down.

Of more immediate concern in Saigon was the battle along Highway 13 leading from the capital to An Loc, 60 miles to the north. Fierce fighting continued in An Loc and military spokesmen said the North Vietnamese hit the rubble city with 500 more rounds of mortar and rocket fire during the night.

UPI Correspondent Leon Daniel reported from Highway 13 that Communist troops apparently in strength pinned down two government battalions totalling about 1,500 men four miles south of the town of Chon Thanh and just outside the big base at Lai Khe, 38 miles north of Saigon.

Daniel said the North Vietnamese fired B40 antitank rockets, mortars and automatic weapons from dug-in positions in tree lines on both sides of the highway. Government casualties appeared heavy although there were no figures.

The North Vietnamese have said they wanted to capture An Loc and make it a provisional government headquarters for the Viet Cong. More important, from a military standpoint, its capture would pose a direct threat to Saigon with the help of major Communist forces operating west of Highway 13. Adding to the threat to Saigon was another Communist victory near the Parrots Beak sector of Cambodia which juts into South Vietnam only 35 miles from Saigon. Phnom Penh dispatches today said Communist forces captured the isolated government outpost of Spean Tram, six miles west of the besieged provincial capital of Svay Rieng.

The Communists, using human wave assault tactics, seized 10 more miles of Highway 1 linking Phnom Penh and Saigon, the Cambodian High Command announced. It said the Communists now control almost all Cambodian territory east of the Mekong River. The Communists also were reported to have brought up five tanks in their drive aimed at opening a new invasion route toward Saigon and the Mekong Delta.

Reports from the Central Highlands indicated a general worsening of the situation with the North Vietnamese moving in reinforcements from Laos and Cambodia, including Russian-made tanks. The picture was familiar: thousands of South Vietnamese refugees began streaming south today along the ruined highways with their meager possessions.

Apollo begins homeward trip

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—Apollo 16's astronauts got a final look at the moon from orbit today before heading home with a 245-pound package of rocks that a geologist predicted would be the most important yet brought back from the moon.

John W. Young and Charles M. Duke Jr. left an 184-mile web of car tracks and footprints as evidence of man's only planned expedition to the moon's rocky central highlands.

The two moonwalkers and command module pilot Thomas K. Mattingly began their last day in lunar orbit when Mission Control awakened them at 10:12 a.m. EST after a sound sleep. Before eating breakfast, Mattingly uncapped the command ship's mapping cameras and aimed its other surface sensors toward the moon to add to the $445 million mission's scientific harvest.

Mission Control monitored the morning's camera-aiming operations and ground communication. Henry Hartsfield kept Mattingly advised of the progress.

"I'm glad somebody's awake this morning," said the pilot of Casper.

Hartsfield radioed up a long string of flight plan changes made necessary by Apollo 16's departure from lunar orbit one day ahead of the original schedule.

"It's getting so damn confused I might miss something," Mattingly said, "I'm doing more deleting and writing over than anything else."

The astronauts plan to blast out of the orbital grip of lunar gravity at 9:15 p.m. after jettisoning the still-attached lander Orion and leaving behind a small satellite to monitor magnetic forces and radiation around the moon.

They are due to splash down in the Pacific Ocean Thursday, a day early and 50 pounds overweight. Their heavy load of moon samples will be rushed to the Lunar Receiving Laboratory at the Space Center Saturday for preliminary analysis by impatient scientists.

Scientists were elated over the results of the three days Young and Duke spent exploring a hummocky valley between Stone Mountain to the south and North Ray Crater on the flank of the smokies to the north. Their investigations may force major revisions in the chronicle of the moon's early history.

"I think these findings will be the single most important set of elements in understanding the history of the moon," said Dr. Harold Masursky, an Apollo geologist from the U.S. Geological Survey.

Of the five-hour moon exploration Sunday, flight director Pete Frank said: "It was really the crowning achievement for the Apollo 16 crew. I just don't know what could have been done better, or done more."

Young and Duke rocketed off Descartes Base in full view of a television camera and rejoined Mattingly in the command ship Casper at 10:35 p.m. Sunday. The camera that showed the launch still is operating and engineers hope it will last until the sun sets over Descartes.

Once docked to Casper, Young and Duke transferred 111 moon rocks and soil samples and 1,745 frames of film from Orion to Casper's storage lockers. The samples were coated with dust and at one point, Duke said:

"Looks like a dust storm in this cockpit."

The two astronauts finally glided through the manhole-sized tunnel linking the two docked craft about 2 a.m. today and retired for most of the morning.

Customer refunds looming

NEW YORK (UPI)—Price Commission Chairman C. Jackson Grayson announced today there will soon be millions of dollars in price reductions, some of them resulting in refunds to persons who have bought items during the last few months.

The big firms involved will be making the reductions, he said, because their financial statements for the first quarter of this year, now being filed with the Price Commission, reveal they have exceeded the government's profit margin ceiling.

Beginning late last week, the Price Commission inaugurated a series of major actions which will result in hundreds of millions of dollars of price reductions, which will roll back current prices of some of the country's largest companies to their "base" period levels, Grayson said.

"These reductions will result in actual refunds to known customers, or though reduced prices in the market place, when customers aren't identifiable," he added.

Envoy sees SALT gain

HELSINKI (UPI)—U.S. Ambassador Val Peterson said today he expected "something very good" to come out of the current round of the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT) now gaining momentum after the return from Moscow of the chief Soviet delegate.

Peterson, a former Nebraska governor and member of the Strategic Air Command, said in an interview with UPI on the eve of the 120th plenary session of SALT, that he was really optimistic about the outcome.

Scores arrested in war protests

By United Press International
Protests, many by student groups, against the stepped-up U.S. bombing in the Southeast Asia War entered a second week today and police arrested scores of protesters in eastern areas of the nation.

Protest leaders said the demonstrations will continue until American involvement in the Indochina War is halted. Plans announced Sunday in New York include "Out Now Day" demonstrations scheduled across the nation, a May 4 student strike day and a possible march on Washington.

Police arrested about 35 persons early today when they tried to block the main gate at Westover Air Force Base in Chicopee, Mass. The demonstrators carried signs and planted wooden crosses at the site where planes and personnel were reportedly reassigned to aid the bombing step-up. Police peacefully arrested 10 demonstrators when they refused to leave the ROTC building at Colby College in Waterville, Maine, seized by antiwar students last Friday.

About 637 students from 113 colleges and universities, 32 high schools, one junior high school and two elementary schools representing 28 states participated in a Student Mobilization Committee (SMC) demonstration scheduled at the Loeb Student Center of New York University.

In Salt Lake City, antiwar leaders called for a "no work, no school" strike today with plans to march to the federal building. Steve Holbrook, one of the group leaders, said the march would feature a "cast of thousands," including middle class Americans down through college and high school students.

In Atlantic, Iowa, a Vietnam veteran who won two purple hearts during his tour of duty, entered a Catholic church Sunday and fired an M-1 rifle at a crucifix during Mass. Authorities said Robert R. Presley, 24, dressed in full Army uniform was subdued by an off-duty policeman.

Cassia school accord offered

BURLEY An agreement to negotiate will be presented to the Cassia County School Board tonight by a faculty negotiating team.

The agreement, drawn up during a long session Saturday night, may break the deadlock between the school district administration and the Cassia County Education Association, if approved by the trustees and ratified by the teachers.

A joint statement issued this morning by School Supt. Harold Blauer, Clyde Wardle, association president, and Dahl Reed, spokesman for the negotiating team, said: "The board of education and the Cassia County Education Association agree to negotiate according to the Professional Negotiations Law on items as mutually agreed by both parties."

The agreement would be effective when signed by the CCEA president and chairman of the school board. It would continue in effect until July 1, 1972.

Cassia County teachers will meet at 7 p.m. Wednesday at Burley High School to consider ratifying the agreement.

Wardle said the items of negotiation which had deadlocked the agreement, including textbook election and curriculum development, will be dealt with individually by negotiators.

The school trustees will also consider the tentative 1972-73 budget during a public hearing tonight.

In the past, the administration has refused to discuss personnel matters, textbook selection and curriculum with the teachers. The teachers' association said salary disputes are not the main item of issue with the board.

GOP site pick nears

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Republican Party leaders are expected to announce by mid-week whether the GOP national convention in August will be moved here from San Diego.

The possible move has been the subject of hurried conferences and contradictory statements in Washington, California and Florida in the past week. The Republicans began thinking about moving the convention from the planned San Diego site when convention hall construction there lagged behind schedule and a shortage of hotel rooms loomed.

Rights case appeal refused

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Without explanation, the Supreme Court changed its mind today and decided against reconsidering the controversial 1966 Miranda confession ruling.

The action reversed a Court order on March 20 that it would hear arguments in a Philadelphia case which might have resulted in modification at least of the Miranda decision that confessions may not be used against a suspect who has not been advised of his right to remain silent.

The appeal involving the Miranda rule had been brought by Philadelphia authorities from a state supreme court finding in favor of Paul D. Ware who was accused of four robbery-murders.

In today's reversal, the Court merely denied a request for a hearing and said the state court decision in Ware's case "rests upon an adequate state ground."

The Court took these other actions: Agreed to hear Vermont's complaint that New York state and the International Paper Co. are polluting Lake Champlain. The justices however instructed lower federal courts to hear pollution suits brought against a group of Wisconsin cities for contaminating Lake Michigan and a third case charging the nation's Big Four automakers of conspiring to delay production of a pollution-free engine.

Refused to speed up consideration of an appeal by Norfolk, Va., school authorities from a lower federal court ruling that the city institute a massive school bus program.

It had been widely believed that when the Court decided last month to hear the Ware case, it meant that four justices appointed by President Nixon could join with opponents of the original 5-4 Miranda ruling and perhaps overturn it.

The Miranda ruling was one of the most controversial of the Court under former Chief Justice Earl Warren.

U.S. voice endangered by feud

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A fight between President Nixon and the Senate Foreign Relations Committee over executive privilege threatens to endanger the Voice of America and other operations of the U.S. Information Agency.

The committee wants to see memoranda prepared by USIA agents in countries around the globe for planning future operations; but the USIA says the memoranda are "internal working papers."

Nixon has directed the agency not to make them available to Congress because "unless privacy of preliminary exchange of views between personnel of the executive branch can be maintained, the full frank and healthy expression of opinion which is essential for the successful administration of government would be muted."

The President wants $200 million to run the USIA in the business year starting July 1. The Voice of America's share would be $46 million.

Former TF school aide files for zone 1 post

TWIN FALLS — The School District 411 election May 5 will see newly appointed board Chairman John Wolfe challenged by Frank DeLuca for the Zone 1 position.

DeLuca was zoned out of a job when Twin Falls voters elected to adopt new zone boundaries in March. He was a school trustee for five and a half years before the rezoning.

DeLuca is the director of the Medical Center Laboratory of Twin Falls and a former director of Southern Idaho Laboratories. He has been a resident of Twin Falls for 25 years.

"I am running for the school trustee position because there are some things I would like to follow up on," said DeLuca. He said replacement of Washington Elementary School and the addition of needed classrooms are top-rated priorities the board should consider.

Sadat seeks Soviet aid

CAIRO (UPI) — President Anwar Sadat will seek additional fighter bombers and long-range missiles during his forthcoming talks in Moscow, political sources said today.

"The president will leave for Russia Wednesday or Thursday and will stay in the Soviet capital two or three days, the sources said.

They listed three major topics which will be discussed:

—An Egyptian request for additional warplanes and long-range missiles, either ground-to-ground or air-to-ground.

—The prospects for a political settlement of the Middle East crisis.

Convening a conference of nonaligned Mediterranean countries to discuss the "neutralization" of the Mediterranean area.

The sources gave no further details on the weapons shopping list Sadat will take with him other than to note all the military hardware he is seeking is "offensive" rather than "defensive" in nature.

"A lot of people think our board is against kindergartens," DeLuca said, "and that's not the case at all. I, for one, am in favor of a kindergarten system, but not at the expense of existing programs. We can't cut back programs already working effectively in the schools to add something new."

"I think the state should fund kindergartens and not local districts. I came from a state where kindergartens were part of the state's role in education and I consider it invaluable to education," he said.

DeLuca said there is a chance, after the election, there may be a whole new board of trustees. Such a situation would make progress for on-going programs difficult for the board and school administrators.

TF firemen answer two calls

TWIN FALLS — Firemen were called to 235½ Ramage St. at 9:06 p.m. Saturday to check an overheated oil stove. There was no damage.

The building is owned by Mrs. Minnie Griffin and occupied by Wanda Schmidt.

On Friday, firemen were called to the Colonial Motel, 401 Addison Ave. W., where a food fight started a fire in some shrubs which burned into the outside covering of a wall of the motel building. Damage was slight and the fire had been put out before firemen arrived by some young men who saw it while driving past on the highway.

The fire was reported at 11:37 p.m. Friday.

'Y' ground broken for swimming pool

TWIN FALLS — Ground was broken Sunday afternoon for the Magic Valley YMCA-YWCA swimming pool.

Before a gathering of about 100 persons, the ceremonies were conducted on the site for the pool and related facilities behind the present YMCA-YWCA building on Elizabeth Avenue.

Turning the first shovels of earth were Mrs. Ada Powell, Mrs. Wanda Reed, Mrs. Rose Sinclair, Robert Balleisen, Rev. Ernest Hasselblad and Stevie Upton. Young Upton, age 9, is the son of Charles Upton, executive director for the YMCA.

Harald Gerber, architect, described the facility and said a bid opening will be scheduled after plans are approved by the Idaho Board of Health.

Introductions and other comments were offered by Mrs. Mary Russell, YWCA president, and Richard Shotwell, YMCA president.

Rev. Robert VanNest, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church, offered the invocation.

SV ski group gives awards

KETCHUM — The Sun Valley Ski Education Foundation capped the winter season with a special dinner and awards ceremony Saturday night.

Named as outstanding boy and girl racers of the season were Bill Shaw and Claire Blechmann. The two Junior National champions will have their names engraved on a "Bill Janss Award" revolving trophy and matching plaques as well as receiving gift certificates from local stores.

The awards followed the reading of a telegram from Gov. Cecil Andrus, congratulating the team on its completed season.

Also during the ceremony, foundation president Jane Kneeland received a standing ovation from the about 100 parents and racers present. Board member Bud Siemon praised Mrs. Kneeland for her continuing work with the foundation and for making the program a "great success."

Awarded engraved mugs and gift certificates were the following skiers: Alex Dibble, most improved skier; Pete Watson, sportsmanship award; and Pete Patterson, inspirational award — an honor voted by his fellow racers.

Receiving special broken bone recognition were the following racers: Truff Patterson, broken elbow; Pat Brown, broken thumb; as well as Jeff Kirk and Tony Anderson.

5 trees planted at Cascade Park

TWIN FALLS — In honor of Earth Week, five trees were planted in the Cascade Park Saturday by the Magic Valley Club of Telephone Pioneers of America.

Three ash trees, one Scotch pine and one shademaster were donated for the project by the club and planted in the park which is on Stadium Drive behind the Twin Falls High School, according to Earl Anderson, club president.

The trees were planted with the permission of Harold Johnson, city park commissioner, and will be maintained by the city. If any of the trees should be damaged or die, they will be replaced by the club.

Assisting Anderson with the tree-planting were Gordon Bourner, Ted Hartwell, Ivory Duffy and Bill Kirkpatrick.

COMMENT

Corruption

Christian Science Monitor

There is no mistaking the steady pressure being felt by state legislatures to legalize gambling within their borders.

On the surface, the pressure is financial. States are sore pressed to pay their bills. This year, more states are levying income taxes, or are upping present forms of state taxes. In this atmosphere of fiscal crisis, almost any new form of revenue is made out to look good, including the running of lotteries, the licensing of "beano" tours, or the setting up of government betting operations.

But the fiscal relief argument for legalizing gambling or increasing the state's role in it is a negative one. What is really needed in most instances is a revision of present tax policies. Turning to gambling operations for what slim returns they might offer only postpones coming to grips with urgent reforms. The tight state fiscal situation does not make gambling any better a business for the state to be in.

It is troubling to note, however, how quickly the state's undesirable role in betting operations can be taken for granted, once the state's foot is in the door. In Massachusetts in recent days, for instance, there has been much hue and cry over some $8.3 million the state is "losing" because of illegal beano operations — as if the state has some inherent right to a share of any gambling take. The state has no such inherent right, just as it has no right to a share in income from dope peddling, prostitution, or any other socially obnoxious activity.

We continue to maintain that state governments do not belong in the gambling business. The other chief argument for such involvement, namely that state takeover will keep funds from channeling into the underworld, should also be seen through. There is no evidence that state takeover inhibits overall underworld activity. It is likely that the underworld will be able to subvert public gambling operations to its own ends anyway. For instance, no one seriously believes the underworld has been kept out of professional boxing, despite the creation of state licensing authorities. If anyone did think so, he should have been awakened by the announcement last week by one young boxer that he was retiring from the ring because too many of his fights had been fixed.

Further, though it may seem like a strong statement, it is nonetheless true that many state operations are run at a criminal or near-criminal level. The recent housing scandals in many cities, the shady construction contract dealings of local politicians, even police rake-offs from gambling operations — these suggest that government takeover does not mean the cleaning up of activities. On the contrary, government takeover of gambling could mean a stronger footing for corrupt elements within government.

We continue to believe that many citizens are unaware that the tax-relief and fight-crime arguments for state involvement in gambling are shams. Probably the biggest, though undiscussed, force behind such government involvement comes from those who want to extend the number of high-paying jobs inside government for patronage purposes. This however, is seldom discussed.

Unhandy Autos

Idaho State Journal

THE AMERICAN CONSUMER, it is said, is reaching the end of his long love affair with the automobile. For city governments, the romance died years ago. Now several large cities in this country and overseas are taking steps to reduce the level of private automobile traffic within their borders.

One approach to the problem involves lowering or eliminating mass transit fares in the hope of luring motorists out of their cars. Atlanta, for example, voted last November for a one per cent sales tax that will enable the city's transit authority to reduce bus fares from 40 to 25 cents. Rome has gone even further. Starting April 30, bus travel in the Italian capital will be free during the morning rush hours on weekdays.

A second approach is to make commuting by automobile considerably more expensive than at present. Washington, D. C. may well be the leading exponent of the soak-the-commuter school. By 1975, the District hopes to force at least one-fourth of its commuters to leave their cars at home and switch to public transit. To this end, it has proposed (1) a 50-cent tax on cars left all day in downtown parking lots and garages; (2) a parking ban on all downtown streets; (3) raising rate in government parking facilities to commercial levels.

FOR WASHINGTON, restriction of motor vehicle traffic is a legal necessity. It offers the only way by which the city can meet the air pollution standards that will become mandatory in 1975 under terms of 1970 amendments to the Clean Air Act. William D. Ruckelshaus, head of the Environmental Protection Agency, laid in April 1971 that five other cities — Chicago, Denver, Los Angeles, New York and Philadelphia — also will have to curb automobile traffic.

Persuading the commuting motorist to forego his car for mass transit will be no easy task. In most cities, the bus lines are barely able to handle the number of passengers they now carry. Few could accommodate a massive influx of additional patrons without substantial investment in new vehicles.

Americans, moreover, are notoriously reluctant to use even the best mass transit facilities. With the aid of a federal grant, Flint, Mich., introduced "maxicab" service in September 1968. The maxicabs were elegantly appointed buses that offered front-door to factory-gate service, piped-in music, and free coffee and doughnuts. Despite these attractions, the maxicabs were carrying only 300 passengers a day one year after the experiment began.

SAN FRANCISCO, Washington, and Atlanta are pinning many of their hopes for traffic relief on new subway systems. Such hope maybe displaced. The Economist of London asserts that the San Francisco subway will meet only around 7 per cent of the area's transit needs. It also notes that subway construction in Toronto and Montreal led quite quickly to more rather than less traffic congestion on the roads, because more trips by bus, car, taxi and (truck) were generated on the surface by property development than were generated underground by the subways.

But San Francisco has not put all its eggs in the subway basket. It plans to reduce tolls on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge for motorists forming car pools. What is a car pool, after all, but a sort of minibus?

It all points up why more thousands of urban residents each year throw up their hands and head for Idaho.

New warnings today from doctors, ecologists and the FDA.

Reasonable fear is essential to survival.

Unreasonable fear is paranoia. Which is which?

Your breakfast eggs are a recommended source of protein — but look out — for cholesterol!

Sweeten your coffee if you like — but sugar has calories, cyclamates are out and saccharine is suspect.

Without population control our babies may starve — but contraceptive devices can cause cancer and the pill can cause blood clots.

Sunshine is your best natural source of necessary vitamin D

— but sunshine can cause skin lesions, malignancies.

Our leached out farmland must be enriched for our health with phosphates and nitrates — but both tend to poison our water supply.

Even pet turtles may transmit salmonella, pet cats may carry leptospirosis and Prof. Robert Steele, Queens University, Ontario, says sex can kill you!

He says an active sex life tends to encourage prostate cancer in men and cervical cancer in women.

And jetliners upsetting the upper altitude ecological balance may expose earthmen to lethal interstellar radiation.

For any one warning there is a degree of validity, but when you total them it's as symptomatically paranoid as is the individual who imagines that everybody around him is plotting to do him in.

Our comparatively recent preoccupation with the negative side effects of so-called progress has overlooked one key factor which alters most all these profoundly proclaimed conclusions.

That factor is the individual variations in individual tolerances.

What's an irritant to one individual's skin, liver, lungs or uterus may not irritate another.

Your chemistry may include antibodies which resist certain diseases, not others. Resistance varies with individuals and at various times within individuals.

It's important that these variables be understood, some health warnings qualified — muted — so that the several very real menaces can be identified and counterattacked. And so that we will not foolishly throw into reverse gear the measurable, provable, beneficial progress which science and industry have made in sanitary engineering and antibiotic drugs.

On the sunshine side of the ledger, the same communication suspected of emitting potentially cumulative radiation and maybe hurting somebody — that same communication — has facilitated weather forecasting and weather warnings which have saved countless lives from approaching hurricanes.

The compatible marriage of engineering and medicine has facilitated devices for alleviating human suffering and extending human life.

On balance, who's to say whether technological progress has been more beneficial than otherwise? But the effort to recover our fumbles is not aided by public panic.

Physicist Dr. Ralph Lapp says the demand for instant cleanup of the environment is going to create power shortages in the United States which may produce a severe backlash against the entire environmental movement.

And this, he says, would be a tragedy for everyone.

Apollo astronauts do job joyfully

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
UPI Senior Editor
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Exuberance.

The Apollo 16 astronauts are professionals, and that professionalism has been evident since liftoff April 16 from Cape Kennedy.

But their exuberance is something else. They have done their work joyfully. Before millions of television viewers, and in the face of unremitting danger on a venture that has been plagued with nagging small problems, Young, Duke and Mattingly have had pure fun.

And tonight, after the main engine of the command ship Casper fires a burst to get the astronauts out of lunar orbit, the last leg of the trip will begin — toward a Pacific splashdown Thursday.

Whether they make it home safely, depends largely on whether the big rocket does its duty. An instrument malfunction in the rocket's secondary control system Thursday delayed the moon landing six

Analysis

'Barney' Young speeds on moon

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI) — Anybody who drives like Barney Oldfield can expect his car to fall apart.

And that's exactly what happened to speedy John Young and his $8 million Rover II on the moon Saturday. The right rear fender fell off the electric car, the power and the steering in the rear wheels failed; the pitch meter went out, and the navigational system went kaput.

Young and Charlie Duke were forced to find their way back to moon lander Orion "by the seat of their pants," in pilot terminology.

Duke nicknamed Young after Oldfield, the pre-World War I Indianapolis race driver whose name is synonymous with daring driving.

"Old Barney's really driving this beauty," Duke said as they dashed away from Orion. "We ow, men, that was a great big skid."

Later, as they raced up and down craters, dodging boulders, Duke exclaimed:

"Hey, that was super. That wheel just left the ground, I love it. It's great. Eight clicks (5 miles an hour). We got up to 12 (7-12 miles an hour) there once."

"Look at this baby," Young said. "I'm really getting confidence in it now. It's really humming like a kitten. No wonder we broke the pitch meter. This is where we did it. Whoops, we almost spun out."

The pitch meter shows how much the car is tilted on the uneven surface of the moon. After the meter broke, they parked it so crooked once that a rear wheel wasn't touching the ground.

Duke said it was easy to drive through craters up to 10 feet wide.

"The rover is hacking these little ones with no sweat," he said.

Duke said. "No, not through this crater."

"Ha, ha," Young said, faking an immediate left turn through a big crater near Stone Mountain.

"Right on the other side of this crater," Duke ordered. "You got to expect trouble out of back seat drivers," said Young.

Midway through Saturday's "Grand Prix," Rover refused to respond when Young tried to drive up a slope.

"We've got full throttle on and we're not hardly moving," Young reported. "What it is, we've lost rear wheel drive."

"My best guess of what may have happened is that we may have cut a wire or something in the back. On the way down here, we came down on two rocks that I know about."

Young, prodding the Rover at half power around the dusty crater, told ground controllers, "This is like driving a camel."

Later, when Young wanted to take a practice run to check out the steering, Duke balked at riding with him.

"I'm thinking about driving halfway around this crater to do a steering test," Young said. "You want to stay off and watch?"

"Yeah," Duke quickly replied.

Young found the steering was working and the failure was caused by a switch that had been activated accidentally rather than by his reckless driving.

Costly junk pile

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI) — The Apollo 16 explorers Sunday left an $83 million junk pile on the moon.

John W. Young and Charles M. Duke Jr. abandoned an $8 million moon buggy, a $25 million scientific instrument package, the descent half of the lunar module and assorted other pieces of equipment valued at about $30 million.

The lunar rover was a "lemon" its first two days on the moon, but performed so well Sunday that Young and Duke hated to leave it behind. And, the spent third stage Saturn rocket, costing $20 million, crashed into the moon a week ago.

'Lunar Olympics' performed Sunday

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI) — Charles M. Duke, who is more interested in science than sports, held a "lunar Olympics" Sunday in the highlands of the moon.

Duke performed in both the javelin and the high jump, showing questionable form in each event.

Duke said he threw the javelin about 200 feet, which wouldn't even win many college events on Earth. He ended up flat on his back after leaping four feet in the high jump.

Duke's leap in the one-sixth gravity of the moon came with 125 pounds of equipment on his back, but he lost his balance as he landed and fell backwards.

"That's not very smart," said the 36-year-old Air Force officer. "I guess that's about the fifth time I've fallen. Ah, how about a hand, John."

John W. Young helped his partner to his feet and explained:

It's time your checking account went to work for you

Many people use their checking account as a convenient way to buy things and have a record of payment . . . and, as a budgeting device.

It can be a lot more. Especially when it's an Idaho First checking account.

You can have certain recurring bills (such as insurance premiums, auto payments, etc.) automatically paid through your account. And, in the same way, the Idaho First Save-O-Matic plan can transfer a designated amount to your savings account.

... at Idaho First it pays bills, puts money in savings, and it even makes loans ... all automatically!

Another optional convenience, Line-O-Credit, backs your account with a cash reserve. Then privately and confidentially you can lend yourself money, up to your established limit and pay it back monthly.

Here's modern checking . . . working checking. Don't you think it's about time you put your checking account to work?

Businessmen keep open at Shoshone

SHOSHONE — Businessmen along South Rail Street in downtown Shoshone say they will operate as usual during reconstruction of the roadway and sidewalks past their businesses.

Some of the merchants are offering to provide transportation for patrons to their businesses, and state the back door entrances are more accessible at this time than the front.

The entire length of South Rail Street from the west edge of the city to U. S. Highway 93 on the East, along with the sidewalks, is now under reconstruction.

The highway work is being done through contract of the State Highway Department. When the 4.5 mile section now being done is finished, the entire roadway from Gooding to Shoshone on U. S. Highway 20-26 will be completed.

The new street on South Rail will be slightly wider than the old with corresponding sidewalks narrower. Old street lights are also torn out and they, along with some on South Apple street that were put out of operation with the construction work, will be replaced by the city.

Property owners along South Rail are paying for the new sidewalks, under contract with Miller Construction Co., Twin Falls.

A storm sewer line is being laid on the same street, Mrs. Claude Chess, city clerk, said. Contract price for the sidewalks is seven cents a square foot.

Owners of the business property may either pay for the cost of the walks now or have it placed against their property on the county tax rolls, she said.

Dog licensing deadline past

SHOSHONE — Deadline for licensing dogs in the city of Shoshone has passed, Mrs. Claude Chess, city clerk, said. After the end of April, dogs not licensed will be picked up by the city police and held for licenses or disposed of.

Only 167 licenses have been purchased. Deadline for new license purchases for 1972 was April 1.

Bureau lowering reservoirs

BOISE (UPI) — The reclamation Bureau is releasing large amounts of water from its Pacific Northwest reservoirs to provide storage space for major flood control operations later this spring.

Regional Director E. F. Sullivan said this action is being taken because of the exceptionally heavy snowpack that has accumulated on the higher mountain areas of the Pacific Northwest.

Current storage in 47 bureau reservoirs in the Pacific Northwest is 7,870,000 acre feet. This compares with 18,300,000 acre feet when they are full.

Streamflow was high throughout the Pacific Northwest during March and record monthly means and maximum daily flows were established at several reporting stations, Sullivan said. Several other stations reported the greatest March volume runoff since 1910.

By basin of system, this was the report:

Upper Snake River Basin—current storage content of six reservoirs on Upper Snake River system in Idaho and Wyoming is 2,730,000 acre feet.

Planned flood control operations are in progress on the upper Snake at Palisades and Jackson Lake reservoirs with 1,170,000 acre feet of space available at this time. Present flood control release of 16,000 cubic feet per second at Palisades will continue until approximately 1,350,000 acre feet of reservoir space has been evaluated. Flood potential is high and flood control operations this year probably will be required until late June or early July.

Current space in Jackson Lake is about 300,000 acre feet and it will be increased gradually until about 400,000 acre feet is available around mid-May. Present discharge of 2,500 cubic feet per second will be increased to approximately 5,000 cubic feet per second during next two weeks.

American Falls Reservoir usually is full at this time of year but in the interest of optimum flood control operations 200,000 acre feet of space is being filled on a slower-than-normal schedule.

Little Wood River — the forecasted inflow to the Little Wood River Reservoir near Carey is the smallest since 1968 and the reservoir has less than 1,000-acre feet of remaining space to be filled. This space will be used to provide short-term regulation during the next four to six weeks. No flooding is expected along the little Wood River below the dam.

Boise River system—Streamflow potential on the Boise River is comparable to last year when the April-July runoff was the third highest on record. Flood-control operations of the three reservoirs in the system—Anderson Ranch, Arrowrock and Lucky Peak—were begun in early January. Approximately 480,000 acre feet of reservoir space was empty on April 20. No major flood problems are anticipated at this time.

Payette River system—Current storage content in Cascade and Deadwood reservoirs on the Payette River system was 320,000 acre feet April 20, leaving nearly 500,000 acre feet of vacant space for regulation of the spring snowmelt flood later this spring. Space available in the reservoirs appears adequate for regulation of the anticipated flood-inflow to the reservoirs this spring. However runoff from the area below the reservoirs may produce flows in excess of channel capacity along the lower Payette River near Moutour and Emmett later this spring.

Appointed

SHOSHONE — Ken Robbins, formerly of Boise, is the new manager of the Arco service station in Shoshone. He and Mrs. Robbins live at the Gateway Trailer Park, Shoshone.

Kimama ranch bought

SHOSHONE — Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Nixon, formerly of Tulare, Calif., are new residents of Lincoln County.

They have purchased a 2,300-acre ranch from Mr. and Mrs. Riley Matheson in the Kimama area of Lincoln County.

They plan a cow-calf operation with grain, hay and pasture grass grown as crops.

The Nixon's have a 14-year-old son, now a student at Minico junior high school, and a daughter of Tulare, Calif., who will join the family this summer.

Spelling contest

SHOSHONE — The ninth annual American Legion-sponsored spelling contest for schools in Lincoln County will be held at 7 p.m. May 1 at the Lincoln School.

Last year the event was held at Richfield.

There will be five divisions, with each school to enter three contestants in each division.

The divisions include grades one and two, division one; grades three and four, division two; grades five and six, division three; grades seven to nine, division four; and grades 10-12, division five.

Judges for the event will be superintendents of the three schools, Neil Andreason, Richfield; Kenneth Crothers, Shoshone; and Wayne Perron, Dietrich.

Words will be pronounced by Mrs. Dale Sluder, Richfield, for division one; Mrs. Joe Pagoaga, Shoshone, division two; the Rev. Mike Fitzgibbons, Shoshone, division three; John Sabala, Dietrich, division four; Richard Sparks, Richfield, division five.

Harry Eden is to be the guide and Mrs. Elmer Terry is the clerk.

The school compiling the most points will then earn the right to host the contest next year.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD NIELSEN (Leyson photo)

Carol Herbold, Nielsen say vows

RUPERT — Carol Herbold, Rupert, and Richard Nielsen, Paul, were united in marriage in a candlelight ceremony April 23 at St. Nicholas Catholic Church.

Rev. Kenneth Arzen performed the double ring ceremony before a setting of altar arrangements of large apricot chrysanthemums, white gladiolus, and palm fern.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Herbold, Rupert, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Blain Nielsen, Paul.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dacton polyester organza empire styled floor-length gown, with detachable wattleau chapel train. Bodice of Venice lace which also circled flounced hem and train. She wore a lace choker.

Her chapel length veil of silk illusion was bordered with Venice lace and attached to a lace headpiece with a cascade of love knots.

She carried a cascade style bouquet of white stephanotis, apricot roses, white stardust chrysanthemums and baby's breath.

Mrs. Randy Ruppert was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Yolanda Zizumbo, Julie Matthews, and Victoria Finlinson.

Flower girls were Suzette Herbold, Melanie Mthwe and Laura Herbold. Ringbearers were Christina Swenson and Todd Swenson.

Rick Miller was best man. Ushers were John Knoble, Robert Nielsen and Claude Rasmussen.

Clyde Richan, soloist, sang three selections. Betty Rausch was the organist.

A reception was held following the wedding ceremony in the St. Nicholas Parish Hall.

The newlyweds greeted guests before an off-white tasseled Austrian backdrop with apricot chiffon valance.

At each end of the receiving line were illuminated pedestals topped with large bouquets of apricot chrysanthemums and white gladiolus.

Three large electric candleabra illuminated the buffet area where the wedding cake was served from a round table flanked by two large buffet tables. The tables were covered with floor length skirts of apricot taffeta with overcloths of embroidered dacton.

Punch was served from illuminated punch fountain, coffee from a silver coffee service, a gift presented to the bride's mother on her 25th wedding anniversary. Serving punch were Ms. Jane Klebe, Mrs. Anna Dalsoglio, Mrs. Al Henscheid and Mrs. Vick Dalsoglio, all great-aunts of bride.

Fresh daisies and greenery surrounded the tiered wedding cake decorated in all white and topped with wedding bells. Cake was served by Mrs. Harold Gray, Mrs. Bill Gnemi, Mrs. J. W. Henscheid, aunts of the bride.

Champagne was served by Dennis Herbold, brother of the bride, and Wayne Matthews from a silver champagne fountain.

Gifts were displayed on decorated tables centered with illuminated pedestal topped with bouquets of fresh flowers.

Guests were seated at round tables covered with apricot taffeta and embroidered dacton, centered with fresh yellow daisies and a lighted yellow candle.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Dennis Herbold and Mrs. Robert Nielsen. In charge of the gifts were Debbie Felt and Barbara Burks.

Following a trip to California the couple will reside in Paul.

Prior to the wedding a shower-brunch was hosted at the Burks' home, the engagement party was held at the bride's home in December, and the rehearsal dinner was at Blain Nielsen home.

RHUBARB SURPRISE PIE:

1 cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter
1 egg, beaten
2 tablespoons milk
3 cups diced raw rhubarb
1 (3 oz.) package strawberry flavored gelatin
1/2 cup unsifted flour
1 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup melted butter

Sift together one cup flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in butter. Add egg and milk, mix.

Press into a greased nine inch pie plate.
Arrange rhubarb in pie shell. Sprinkle with gelatin. Combine remaining ingredients. Sprinkle on top of pie. Bake at 350 degrees for 50 minutes or until rhubarb is tender.

DEAR ABBY: About that male cook who "took pride" in his cooking and refused to divulge his recipes: Some of the worst cooks I've known were men who "took pride" in their cooking.

I don't claim to be a good cook, but I am probably the best corn popper in the state of Michigan. Admittedly, my prowess is not divinely inspired, but is the conglomeration of instructions from a local 65-year-old lady and a former national champion grower of corn.

I have taught many people how to make delicious popcorn, and I derive as much pleasure out of their enjoyment of it as I do my own.

TF man collects beads

By MARJORIE LIERMAN
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — A.P. Thomas has a string of beads more than 30 feet long and containing about 2,000 beads he has collected since 1930.

Thomas began his unusual hobby in 1930 when he was wrecking an old building in Buhl and picked up a few colored beads from the floor. He showed the beads to a friend who took them, looked at them, and then tossed them away, saying "What possible good are they?"

Thomas said he decided "then and there" that even if they weren't good for anything, it might be interesting to string them and add any others he might find. Since then he has picked up beads lying on the streets, in parks in buildings and many other places.

His collection includes beads of many colors, sizes and shapes. The most unusual bead is a small one shaped and painted like a man's skull. Thomas strings the beads on fish line and has had to tie several lines together because one was not enough to hold all the beads.

Some of them are of unusual color and shape. Buttons are collector's items and antique jewelry, too, is becoming sought after by collectors, so beads may soon be in the same class.

Thomas, 84, lives at 436 5th Ave. W. He spent 21 months at Heritage Manor where his bead string was a favorite topic of discussion among the tenants.

Thomas has a daughter, Edna Ejan, in Richmond, Utah, and two sons, Fred Thomas at Portland, Ore., and Russell Thomas, Hillsboro, Ore. He has six grandchildren, and has five great-grandchildren in Burley.

spades, but he found himself doubled. He also saw very little play for his contract, but he worked it out with help from his opponents.

Jim — He won the heart lead, entered dummy with a trump and led a club. East cashed two clubs and got out with a heart. South won, went over to dummy with a trump and led a low diamond. East did the best he could and played low, but South went up with his king and led a second diamond. West was in with the queen and had to give South a ruff and discard — his contract.

Oswald — South was lucky to find West with exactly queen and one diamond. He was even luckier when West failed to drop his queen under South's king in which case South's fine try would have just been a fine try, not a winner.

"What do you do now?"

A — We favor a spade slightly, but would not really criticize a bid of two no-trump if you want to live dangerously.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You do bid two no-trump and your partner goes to three clubs. What do you do now?

Answer tomorrow

DEAR ABBY: You blew it when you stated that good cooks should share their recipes.

I happen to be the world's best dancer, salesman and amateur chef. And Abby, my love, no one, but NO ONE gets my recipe for spaghetti! [They also beg me for my recipe for sweet and sour sauce, and many others, but my spaghetti sauce is out of this world, and everybody who tastes it wants to know my secret.]

Thus far I have given it to no one. I'm not selfish. I like to cook, and I like to treat my guests to something they can't get anywhere else. Sorry about that.

BOB IN LONG BEACH

DEAR BOB: You may be the world's best dancer and amateur chef, but you blew it when you said you were the world's best salesman. My husband is, P. S. — I'll put my mother in law's sweet and sour sauce against yours any day, but Bob, old boy, about that spaghetti recipe: Are you willing to negotiate?

DEAR ABBY: Can you stand one more letter about recipes? I used to share mine, too, but no more. Here's why.

A few years ago I dreamed up a recipe of my own and it made such a big hit, my friends asked me for it, so I gave it to them.

Well, one fine day I saw that one of those "friends" had submitted MY recipe in a contest, taking full credit for having created it, and she won $25 for it!

When I spoke to her about it, she said when I gave it to her I forfeited all right to it.

In a more recent instance, a hairdresser asked me how I kept my skin so nice. When I told her it was my own formula, she wormed it out of me with a plea that she had "problems" with her skin and really had to know.

A year later, I found that this hairdresser had been making MY formula, putting it up in jars, and was selling it for a big price.

When I threatened her with a lawsuit she stopped, but since that incident, I have never given a recipe or anything else that hasn't been published in a magazine or newspaper that everyone has access to.

LEARNED A LESSON

DEAR LEARNED: If people write and ask me how they can get your miracle dry skin formula, what shall I tell them? To dry up?

DEAR ABBY: About that, earth-shaking question of whether to give out a recipe or not, why the hassle?

I agree with you, "If someone else enjoys the same thing you enjoy, it in no way diminishes your enjoyment of it."

And if someone takes the recipe to her grave with her, who gains?

BIG-HEARTED BETTY

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 68700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90068. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Sage Council meet set

BURLEY — The annual meeting of the Girl Scout Silver Sage Council will be conducted at the Ponderosa Inn Tuesday. Among matters to be discussed are ways of expanding the Girl Scout program in the area served by the council, which includes southern Idaho and eastern Oregon, according to Mrs. Gene Funk, Burley, one of the coordinating chairmen for the meeting.

Mrs. John A. Mather, Boise, council president, will conduct sessions which are scheduled to start at 9:30 a.m. Mrs. David Miller, Pocatello, a member of the national nominating committee, will address the morning session.

As part of the 60th anniversary observance of the 60th anniversary of Girl Scouting, tribute to leaders will be presented in the form of a fashion show, Mrs. Funk said. Girl Scouts from Burley and Heyburn will participate in the event.

Candidates for office, to be elected during the meeting, include Mrs. Ralph Peinecke, LaGrande, Ore., president; Mrs. Robert Blandenship, Caldwell, first vice president; Mrs. E. J. Indihar, LaGrande, secretary, and Mrs. Glenn Anderson, Boise, treasurer. Mrs. Walter Yeomans, Boise, is a candidate for re-election as second vice president.

Nominated to the board of directors are Mrs. Roy E. Rhodes, Pocatello, District 2; Mrs. James H. Hutch, Jr., Parma, District Four; Mrs. Edwin F. Sullivan, Boise, District 6.

Candidates for director-at-large seats are Mrs. Dale Waldon and Mrs. Bernard York, both Boise; Mrs. Robert Johnson, Pocatello; Mrs. Ralph Read, Burns, Ore.; Mrs. Lester Tovey, Idaho Falls, and Mrs. Keith Farber, Ontario, Ore.

Candidates for the nominating committee are Mrs. Edward C. Anderson, Idaho Falls; Mrs. Burdell Borchardt, Boise; Mrs. Charles Frederickson, LaGrande, Ore., and Mrs. H. S. Nokes, Boise.

Attending from Twin Falls will be Mrs. Maurice Allen, Mrs. Clay Hartz and Mrs. Dan Steele. Mrs. Ken Woodrow and Mrs. Truman Arbough, both Jerome, also plan to attend.

Receive commissions

POCATELLO — Delbert L. Bennet, Murtaugh, and James E. Dauven, Buhl, are among 17 Idaho State University students in the Reserve Officer Training Corps Program who will receive commissions in the Army at the end of this semester.

SHOSHONE — Scouts of Troop 57 and their parents will meet at the Lincoln School at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. They will be discussing "Operation Reach," a project to help families communicate and close the generation gap. Aim of the project is to help young people take a stand against drug abuse.

Hansen guests attend lodge meet

TWIN FALLS — Guests attended the Twin Falls Royal Neighbor Lodge meeting Friday night.

They include Lena Bohrn, district deputy, Hansen; and Mrs. Barbara Ripley, Mrs.

Elsje Henry and Mrs. Ruth Wright, all from the Hansen Camp. They were introduced and welcomed. The flag was presented by the marshal, Mrs. Evelyn Smith.

Welfare committee reported 15 hospital and home calls made. Mrs. Smith reported on food taken to members of the Mrs. Mable Ryan family.

Miss Bohrn reported on the district convention to be held in Burley June 10. There will be no luncheon served at noon by the camp, but the banquet will be at Nelson's Cafe at 6:30 p.m.

The retiring march was practiced with the Hansen members acting as pro tem officers. The mystery gift was received by Mrs. Kathryn Adamson.

Refreshments were served in the dining hall by Mrs. Virginia Stearns and Mrs. Velma Treadwell.

Camas club elects

FAIRFIELD — Mrs. Russell Pate is the new president of the Camas Club for the 1972-73 year. It was announced Saturday.

Mrs. Don Ivie is vice president. Mrs. Wesley Fields, secretary and Mrs. Robert Newhouse is treasurer.

The club has voted to donate $100 to the Little League baseball team, $100 to the local Boy Scout fund and another $100 to a Little League for girls if organization plans materialize. Mrs. Pate said $15 was donated toward the cost of a special school breakfast.

Rodney Spackman spoke to the group. The club voted to buy enough signs for the main and intersecting streets. The main street will be renamed Soldier Road.

The club will again sponsor an appearance of the Antique Festival Theatre on Aug. 17 and will have members of the local Youth Center assist with preparations. All proceeds above the guaranteed amount will be donated to the Youth Center.

A cleanup day is planned sometime in May with the school children and all interested citizens assisting.

Games were played following the business session. Hostesses were Mrs. LaVona Johnson, Mrs. Donald Groff, Mrs. Earl Hupfer, Mrs. Dean Mason and Mrs. Larry Weeks.

Tuesday concert slated in Hansen

HANSEN — A spring concert will be presented at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the school auditorium, according to Raymond Cassingham, the music director.

The band will play "Her-Verdies Yuite," "Liberty Bell March," "El Capitan,"

"Slavonic Dances," and "American Folk Song Rhapsody."

The Senior choir will sing "Abraham, Martin and John," "My Lord, What a Morning," "No Man is an Island" and "Maria, The Wind Calls Maria."

A baritone duet will be played by Marty Wright, Murtaugh, and Jim Hopkins, Hansen.

Valley Briefs

MOSCOW — Delta Mu Chapter of Delta Tau Delta, University of Idaho has received the Hugh Shields award for chapter excellence. The award, based on house grades, rush and intramural sports, placed the chapter in the top ten Delta Tau Delta chapters internationally.

Violations charged at Burley yard

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The operator of the Burley Livestock Commission has been charged with violating trust account, payment, fair trade practices and recordkeeping requirements of the Packers and Stockyards act.

The U. S. Agriculture Department said Sunday Jim Palen is registered as a market agency dealer to buy and sell livestock in commerce. His primary trade area is Idaho, western Oregon and northern California.

The USDA Packers and Stockyards Administration charged in an administrative complaint that Palen — from July through September of last year — allegedly:

- Endangered prompt payment to livestock consignors by failing to properly maintain his trust account;
- Failed to pay when due the full purchase price for more than $99,000 worth of livestock purchases in that he failed to honor drafts drawn for such purchases for up to 12 days;
- Sold livestock for his own account under assumed names and issued checks and accountings showing such incorrect names, and made copies of the false records a part of his accountings;
- And, failed to keep complete accounts and records which correctly disclosed all transactions involved in his market agency and dealer business.

The department said market agencies must maintain trust accounts for proceeds from the sale of consigned livestock. Livestock dealers must pay for livestock by no later than the close of business on the day after purchase unless credit has been arranged beforehand.

Palen can request a hearing on the charges, but if charges against him are proven, he could be placed under a cease and desist order, and his registration could be temporarily suspended, authorities said.

No race at Filer

FILER — Only one candidate in each zone had filed for school trustee election in Filer's five zones when deadline for filing closed Saturday.

Those filing petitions and their zones were Lawrence Knigge, 1; Everett Andrews, 2; Alvin Ochsner, 3; John Lutz, 4, and Dave Chadwick, 5.

The election will be from noon to 7 p.m. May 9. Electors in the Hollister area will vote at the Hollister Elementary School.

Residents of the other four zones will cast ballots at the Filer High School.

Accident victims still in hospital

BLISS — Two small boys injured Friday in an accident near Bliss remain hospitalized in Boise.

Appointed

SHOSHONE — Burt E. Brookbank, former Shoshone resident, has been named manager of the San Francisco, Calif., distribution center of IBM corporation Field Engineering Division.

Rupert youth wins

REXBURG (UPI) — Chris Schwendiman, a Rupert High School student, has won the decathlon event of the seventh annual Ricks College Math Relay Races.

Schwendiman was the top individual winner of the meet. The meet had 10 sections — trigonometry identities, equations, logarithms, factoring, graphing, analytical geometry, sequences, slide rule, trig functions and exponents and radicals.

Twenty teams from 16 schools competed for the honors.

Vote on machines

Coming down

Blaine sign removal set

HAILEY — Blaine County, city and private trucks will be busy Tuesday hauling about 20 signs to the Ohio Gulch sanitary landfill.

According to county planning and zoning administrator David Vhay, billboard owners have given permission to remove the signs on the special clean-up day which also will include student clean-ups along the county's major highways.

Signs slated for removal included signs purchased by the Idaho Department of Highways from the south county line, north along U. S. Highway 93.

Two billboards along Highway 26 also will be removed as well as signs downed earlier by vandals.

Vhay said.

County Earth Week events include an Environmental Science Fair from 7 to 10 p.m. Thursday at the Wood River Junior High School auditorium, Hailey.

The fair will feature special student displays depicting Wood River Valley environment problems and issues, demonstrations and speakers.

Jerome summer program studied

JEROME — Possibilities of a summer driver training program for Jerome students who could not be included in the program during the current school year was revealed Saturday.

Gordon Hollifield, school trustee, said only 60 per cent of the students wishing the program this year could be processed because of the cut in funds by the state. This leaves 40 per cent of this year's students and all of the 1972-73 enrollment to be handled.

He said an official from Boise will be in Jerome today to determine whether or not the district can hold a program this summer. If so, with the beginning of the 1972-73 school year the district will not have a carryover and all students wishing to enroll will be accommodated.

Farm fire at Jerome reported

JEROME — No estimate of damage was available today for a fire at the Dewey Thomason farm Sunday afternoon.

Don Rupert, rural fire chief, said the fire was started when Thomason was burning weeds and the weed fire spread to some nearby corrals. Corals and a manure pile were partly burned.

According to Rupert, 10 men answered the call which was received at about 3 p.m. and worked for about an hour and a half at the farm, six miles east and one and a half miles south of Jerome.

Candidate sets meet

JEROME — Paul Whaley, candidate for Jerome County sheriff, will meet with the public from 7 to 10 p.m. today at Pioneer Hall.

Whaley, one of five candidates for the office of sheriff, said that he is taking this opportunity to meet and talk with the public in an effort to get acquainted and better understand the needs of Jerome County.

Jerome school hearing tonight

JEROME — The Jerome School Board will hold a special public hearing tonight on the proposed 1972-73 school district budget.

The hearing will be at 8 p.m. in the superintendent's office in the junior high. The total of all funds in the proposed budget is $1,337,860, compared to $1,237,740 for the 1971-72 budget.

John Campbell, superintendent of schools, also is expected to ask the board tonight to name LaVere Gooch as principal of the junior high. The board had previously named Bill Emerson as principal. However, Emerson has indicated he does not want the new assignment because of problems in scheduling and wants to remain as vice principal at the senior high school.

Motorcycle wreck hospitalizes boy

JEROME — Greg Hensley, H. Hazelton, was listed in fairly good condition this morning in St. Benedict's Hospital following a car-motorcycle accident.

State police who investigated said the Hensley boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth Hensley, was operating a minibike without his parents' permission. Officers said he left an alley in Hazelton, entering Howard Avenue and colliding with a sedan driven by Kenneth Ellis, 15, Hazelton.

A passenger on the minibike, Eddie Hernandez, 12, was also taken to St. Benedict's Hospital where he was treated for minor injuries and released.

Officers cited the Hensley boy for operating a vehicle without a driver's license. Damage was estimated at $50 to the cycle. No estimate was listed for the automobile.

Work at Elkhorn

BACKHOE DIGS DRAINAGE ditch at Elkhorn at Sun Valley in preparation for preliminary site grading. Staked area in background will contain 46 condominium units by next fall. Site is criss-crossed by numerous canals and small creeks, necessitating the drain work.

4 seek two Richfield positions

RICHFIELD — Four candidates are seeking the two school trustee posts to be filled May 8.

Grant Flavel, currently board chairman, is opposed for re-election in Zone 3 by Ronald Ralls, manager of Western Grain and Seed Co. here in Zone 4. Bruce Sorensen, a former member, is vying with Mrs. Hoyt Pugh, a newcomer to school politics.

Flavel has served on the board since 1964. He said he always has had an interest in schools and will work "to have better schools." He is engaged in farming and is an instructor for Genetics, Inc. Of his four children two are still in school, one attends Utah State University and one is a speech therapist for Lincoln county schools. A young nephew also makes his home with the Flavels.

Ralls, the father of four children, said "I felt I should take my turn in serving the school and community." Two of his children attend Richfield schools and one is a freshman at Ricks College.

Sorensen, a farmer, served with the Richfield school board from 1963 to 1965 when he lived in another zone. He has four children, three of whom graduated from the local high school. Flavel has a daughter in college and another still in school. He feels he shouldn't turn down the opportunity to serve.

Mrs. Pugh came to Richfield four years ago and has three school-age children. She said, if elected she will "assist in helping school affairs run smoothly" and work to "do the best I can for all students."

Alumni of blind approve action

GOODING — Action of the board of education and school for the blind in expanding educational facilities and programs for blind children was approved Saturday.

The action was taken by the alumni and former student association of the Idaho School for the Blind at its annual meeting according to Jesse Anderson, Ogden, Utah, president.

The expanded facilities and programs include a proposal to give statewide services instead of centralizing all blind programs at the state school. The school will operate the programs, but will expand them to reach students in the public schools.

Ed Reay, superintendent of the state school, explained the new services to the group.

Frank Smith, Boise, chairman of the education committee of the National Federation of the Blind in Idaho (Gem State Blind), also addressed the group.

Anderson was re-elected president. Other officers elected include Frank Collins, Idaho Falls, vice president; Ruth Ellen Parker, Gooding, secretary; Pete Johnston, Boise, treasurer; and Chris DeVore, Boise, board member at large.

Wayne Nobel, Ogden, mobility instructor for the Utah School for the blind, Ogden, spoke at the Saturday evening dinner.

Valley trustee election Tuesday

VALLEY — Voters of the Valley School District will elect two trustees Tuesday in an election at the high school from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m.

School officials say voters of zones 2 and 4 will cast ballots. In zone 2, which includes the entire town of Eden, Herman Martens as running unopposed except for possible write-in candidates.

In zone 4, candidates are Arthur Baish, Howard Sellers and Forrest Johnson.

School officials say they have had numerous inquiries about the boundaries of zone 2 as it pertains to the town of Eden. All voters of the town may ballot for a trustee of that zone.

Two hospitalized

GOODING — Mike Harbarger and Joe Morgan, both Gooding, are listed in good condition today at Gooding County Memorial Hospital with injuries received in an accident Sunday.

The two were injured when a car driven by Harbarger went out of control on Highway 46 about nine miles north of Gooding.

Gooding County Sheriff Earl Brown said investigation into the accident is continuing.

Packard, Lowman take golf crown

Jim Packard and Don Lowman pulled away over the final nine holes Sunday afternoon to nail down the championship in the first annual Twin Falls two-man best ball tournament.

Battling Jack Ridd and Jack Knoble of Salt Lake City, Packard and Lowman fought through the first nine on even terms, protecting the one-shot lead they fashioned in the opening round. But over the second nine of Sunday, the champions started pulling away and it became only a matter of finishing up by the 14th hole.

Packard and Lowman finished with a six-under par 130 while Ridd and Knoble took second with 134. Tied for third were Jeff Cartmill and Mike Mooney of Pocatello and Larry Malone and Dennis Malone, Twin Falls, at even par 136.

Mooney and Cartmill defeated Packard-Lowman and Malone-Malone in a playoff for the Sunday lap prize.

First flight champions were Bob Schofield and Tom Smith who posted a three-under 133 best ball and picked up the Sunday lap only with a two-under 66. They were followed by three twosomes in second place — Duane Serpa and Del Rupert, Twin Falls; Gary Rene and Ray Dey, Twin Falls, and Will Spaulding and LeRoy Ingless, Wendell. Sharing fifth were Bill Cook and Dave Driscoll, Twin Falls, and Brandon and L. Thompson, at 141.

Second flight honors went to Walt Coombs and Jay Theisen who posted a 144 and won the lap prize. Tied for second were Dwight Butlin and Ken Emert and Dr. Jack McNeess and Dr. Ed Allison, Twin Falls, at 145. Jess Lowman and Duard Lawley had 146 for fourth while Duane Schueberger and Gary Jenkins were fifth at 147 — due to an "unbelievable string of bad luck," Schueberger said.

Kimberly basketball Coach Dick Rees and Bob Slater won the third flight at 147, four shots ahead of J. Bellingham and G. Bellingham, Utah, and Ron Pope and Dale Crist, Twin Falls. In fourth place were Doyle Amstedt and Paul Callison, Mountain Home, at 153 and they also collected the $50 lap money.

Ken Stratford and Arnold Towers, partnering almost perfectly, fired a 150 best ball to win the fourth flight and their 75 total won the Sunday lap money. Stratford had 87 and Towers 89 to show how the two partnered. Perry Crozier and Lakz Crozier, Utah, were second at 155, followed by Doyle Clark and Bern Everett, Mountain Home, at 158, and George Merritt and Bob Skredervu at 159. Tied for fifth were Evn Meyer and Jim Meyer, Sugar Salem, and Lowell Wills and Don Blevins, Twin Falls.

Atlanta nips Cincinnati

ATLANTA (UPI) — Felix Milan singled home pinch runner Gil Garrido to cap a three-run uprising in the bottom of the 11th inning Sunday and give the Atlanta Braves a 4-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Phils defeat Pirates 5-1

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Pinch Tom Hutton lined a single on his first pitch from reliever Bob Miller with two out in the 11th inning, driving Greg Luzinski with the winning run Sunday as the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-1.

Bobby Mitchell beats Nicklaus in playoff

RANCHO LA COSTA, Calif. (UPI) — Bobby Mitchell, little known pro from Danville, Va., sank a birdie putt of about 20 feet Sunday to beat Jack Nicklaus on the first hole of a sudden-death playoff for a victory in the Monte Tournament of Champions.

Mitchell, 29, who got his first PGA tour victory in the Cleveland Open last year, was on the green with his tee shot on the 14th hole, a 202-yard par three, but Nicklaus was in the rough to the left. Nicklaus chipped out and waited while Mitchell putted. The putt almost slipped out but sank and the usually unemotional Mitchell leaped in the air.

New York wins NBA playoff

BOSTON (UPI) — Dave DeBusschere packed eight game-breaking points into the last two and a half minutes of the third quarter Sunday afternoon to power the New York Knicks to the National Basketball Association's Eastern Conference championship with a 111-103 win over the Boston Celtics.

The victory gave New York a 4-1 edge in the conference championship series between the two clubs and enables the Knicks to face the Los Angeles Lakers, winners in the Western Conference, for the NBA championship.

The Knicks trailed by 14 points at the start of the game. They failed to score in the first 3:45 of play, finally getting two points on a layup by Bill Bradley.

But with Jerry Lucas contributing eight points, Phil Jackson adding a hook shot, a jumper and a free throw and Dean Meminger tossing in two jumpers the Knicks narrowed the gap to 27-23 at the end of the first period.

New York held a brief 41-40 lead in the first half on Earl Monroe's 20-foot jumper, with 5:22 left in the second period.

New York trailed 75-71 when DeBusschere sank in three straight foul shots, a layup, a short jumper and another free throw to lead New York of a 12-3 string that gave the Knicks an 83-78 advantage with 41 seconds left in the third period.

DeBusschere led New York with 24 points while Lucas added 23 and Walt Frazier scored 21.

John Havlicek paced Boston with 32 points and Don Nelson added 27.

The Celtics closed the gap to 96-93 with 5:20 left in the game as Nelson put away a steal and a free throw.

But DeBusschere sank three free throws, Lucas added a pair of charity tosses and Meminger scored on a steal to wrap the game up for New York, 103-93, with 1:30 remaining.

Rangers sweep

Chicago series

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bobby Rosseau, taking part in the 100th playoff game of his career, scored two goals and two assists Sunday night to power the charged up New York Rangers to a 6-2 victory over Chicago and a sweep of their Stanley Cup semi-final series from the Black Hawks.

Rod Gilbert added a goal and three assists and Vic Hadfield collected one goal and two assists as the Rangers completed the first four game playoff sweep in their history.

Meet set

TWIN FALLS — A second organizational meeting for the Twin Falls City slowpitch league will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. All managers should attend and entry fees are due.

Boston romps over St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Johnny McKenzie and Mike Walton scored two goals each Sunday to lead the Boston Bruins to a 7-2 romp over the St. Louis Blues in the Stanley Cup semi-finals.

The Bruins have won all three games in the series while outscoring the Blues 23-5 and can move into the finals with another win at the St. Louis arena Tuesday night.

The Blues have never beaten an Eastern Division team in the playoffs and now have a Stanley Cup record of 0-15 over five seasons.

Texas defeats Angels 5-2

ARLINGTON, Tex. (UPI) — Don Mincher's three-run homer in the first inning Sunday boosted the Texas Rangers to a 5-2 victory over the California Angels.

Mincher's home run came off California pitcher Steve Carlton, who pitched a complete game and struck out 11 batters.

Carlton pitched a complete game and struck out 11 batters. He allowed two runs, two hits and one walk in the first inning. He struck out 11 batters in the rest of the game.

Mincher's home run came off Carlton in the first inning. It was the first home run by a Texas player in the playoffs.

The Rangers took a 5-2 lead in the first inning. They led 5-2 at the end of the game.

Ledbetter has top prize in trapshoot

TWIN FALLS — Ben G. Birdsall, Salt Lake City, won the junior prize, with Richard Sabin, Paul, taking the sub junior prize and Marthana Sabin, Paul, posting the top score for women.

Fred Webb, Twin Falls, took the handicap championship with a 93 with Frank George of Bountiful, Utah, second at 96. George was not eligible to win the title, not being an Idaho resident.

Marlene Miller, defeating Wanda Lewis, Kuna, in a shootoff, was the top woman with an 82 while Keith Loyd of Boise defeated Dave Ledbetter, Twin Falls, in two shootoffs to claim the junior title. Jerry Eisenhower, Twin Falls, was sub-junior champ.

The 16-yard singles was won by the Ellis, Idaho Falls, who shattered 195 out of a possible 200. Marilyn White, Nampa, was the top lady at 162.

Division winners were Bill Salt, Salt Lake City, 194 in the A division, Don Sellers, Bountiful, Utah, 188, in the B division; Don Perkins, Kimberly, 193 in the C division, and Bill Chess, Twin Falls, 184 in the D division. Keith Loyd, Boise, was the junior leader at 183.

Chuck Woodland, Twin Falls, cracked 97 out of a possible 100 to win the Magic Valley handicap with Don Newman, Payette, taking second in a shootoff over Nile Winn, Buhl.

Eagle fete set at Burley

BURLEY — Sixty-six Eagle Scouts will be honored at the 23rd Annual Eagle Scout Recognition Dinner here Wednesday.

The dinner will begin at 7 p.m. at the Ponderosa Inn.

Robert S. (Bob) Gibb, administrative assistant to the president of Boise State College, will be the speaker. Gibb is a former director of athletics at the University of Idaho and has long been involved in activities relating to youth.

Business and professional men from the Magic Valley will serve as hosts to the Eagle Scouts, all of whom attained that rank during the past year, according to Ivan Skinner, Twin Falls, Snake River Council advancement chairman. Several honors will be conferred on men who are former Eagle Scouts. Judge Sherman Bellwood, Rupert, will also deliver a challenge to the Eagle Scouts. Doug Bedke, Burley, will give a response from the Scouts honored at the event.

Artifact permits needed

OGDEN, Utah — An antiquity permit is now required for collecting any artifacts, including those on the surface of the ground, within the national forests.

Regional Forester Vern Hamre said the U. S. Forest Service, in an emergency directive, made it "unlawful to remove any object or artifact from national forest land without permission, whether or not surface disturbance is involved."

The term "artifact" is defined as any product or byproduct of human activity, from arrow points and beads to the soil matrix of an Indian village.

Permits may be issued only to qualified institutions certified by the Smithsonian Institute.

The permit requirement is in response to the damage and destruction by relic collectors of numerous Indian ruins, archaeological sites, historic and prehistoric monuments and structures, and objects of scientific interest.

You're never too old to hear better

Chicago, Ill. — A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model of the smallest Beltone aid ever made will be given absolutely free to anyone answering this advertisement.

Try it to see how it is worn in the privacy of your own home without cost or obligation of any kind. It's yours to keep, free. It weighs less than a third of an ounce, and it's all at ear level, in one unit. No wires lead from body to head.

These models are free, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, we repeat, there is no cost, and certainly no obligation. Write to Dept. 5480 Beltone Electronics Corp., 4201 W. Victoria, Chicago, Ill. 60646.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S horoscope

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES The daytime is excellent for coordinating your efforts toward cooperative goals with those you have known for a considerable period of time. But the evening is not good for anything that is of a risky nature, or for listening to unreliable persons who are trying to get you to do what they want.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Day hours are best for contacting individuals who can help you advance in some way, but the evening is taboo for such. Shop around for articles you need in the days ahead. Treat mate with more kindness for best results.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) Planning for more money in the future is wise during the day, but take care you do not overspend for pleasure in p.m. Look into new avenues of expression for which you are suited. A more cooperative attitude toward co-workers is good.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You can enjoy dining and other pleasures with one you like and make this a mutually happy day. Plan just how to improve your present existence best. Stop playing games with mate or you get into trouble.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Focus attention on home and family and do some delightful entertaining there in p.m. Add the bric-a-brac, articles that add to its charm, comfort. Pay those bills without further delay.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23) Sit down with associates and talk over how to have more future profits and how to gain more goodwill from customers. A letter may reach you that opens new doors of opportunity to you. Take care of it quickly.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) If you follow advice experts give you, you know how best to handle financial and other matters well. Set up a new budget that meets the present needs. Stop being so old-fashioned in daily operations.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) You are in a most charming mood now and can do much to please your regular allies who are rather depressed. Attend that social affair where your presence will be appreciated. Value! Have fun!

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Secret affairs need to be handled in such a way that you are satisfied. So collect all the information you can which will help you. Better preparation can make daily duties more successful. Stop being so antagonistic toward others.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) If you plan how to be more helpful to good friends, you can get along harmoniously with them in the future. Accept invitation to a party in p.m. that will make it possible for you to rub elbows with charming people and make them your friends. Grow.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have many career matters that need immediate and wise attention, take care of them first of all today. Get credit affairs handled early. Showing you are exact makes a fine impression on others.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) New ideas are swimming around in your head and if you contact people who can be helpful with them, you can make big headway soon. Study brochures, manuscripts, periodicals, etc., also. A more enthusiastic manner is wise now.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Your intuition is working fine today, so be sure to rely on it more than you have in the past and get right results when dealing with others. Doing something tonight that is thoughtful will make mate happier.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY He or she will be one of those gifted young people who will quickly understand what others have in mind and this combined with the unusual charm of this nature can make for a happy and successful life. Since communicating with others will come easy. An ideal chart for the super salesperson, the beautician, the artist, and particularly the stage and the movies. Wise discipline needed early.

The Stars impel, they do not compel. What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

God Counts Girl's Tears

"Tears are the hydraulic force through which masculine will power is defeated by feminine water power."

East Dubuque Reporter

In taking the measure of a husband, God counts the wife's tears. So it's written in the Talmud. Interesting. Some believers insist the Deity actually keeps an exact tally of those tears as though with beans in a jar. The weeping woman, it's thought, chalks up eternal demerits against her man.

DID I TELL you the leg of the average woman now is an inch and a half longer than its counterpart 30 years ago? And almost half an inch wider at the calf, too. What's causing this lengthening of the lady's lonesome limb, of late?

AS TO THAT thing called jealousy, women are far more susceptible than are men. Studies repeatedly prove that. But peculiarly, among the lower animals, it's the male, not the female that reveals the jealous nature.

QUERIES

Q. "Aren't all the Presidential candidates this year first-born sons?"

A. Several, but not all. First-borns are George McGovern; Ed Muskie and Hubert Humphrey. Henry Jackson and George Wallace are second sons. As is that fellow named Richard Nixon.

Q. "ABOUT that despotic character who writes cutting comments in 'Parade' magazine's personality quiz feature - is that a pseudonym?"

A. So it's said. Scott evidently is the Mr. Hyde. The Dr. Jekyll is reported to be Lloyd Shearer. One and the same.

THAT OHIO temporal

ily loses more vacationers to Florida every year than any other state is also a matter of record.

WHAT MAKES giraffes so hard to catch, it's said, is they tend quite easily to die of fright, plain fright.

SIR, THE world's smallest tree, the dwarf willow, is so little even when fully grown you could use it for a boutonniere.

WIND

Do you know what Robert Fulton said when he invented the steamboat? "Now we won't have to wait for the wind." Historical. But that's not the item. The item is it's the identical sentence delivered publicly by Charlie Manna a few years ago when the fashion experts introduced the miniskirt.

YOUNG LADY, proceed with caution in your efforts to get a constitutional amendment for equal rights. Such is the advice of a student of the law. An amendment like that, he says, will make you subject to military draft, for one thing. For another, it will turn the child support laws upside down. Be careful.

Australian girl talks to Grangers

The charter was draped for Rosecoe Walker, former member. Mrs. Glyde Vanaunder read a poem.

Grange family graduates will be honored at a dinner May 10 in the Grange Hall. The committees for the produce and fruit at the 1972 county fair were announced. Mrs. Craig Dunlap said the deadline for the Grange sewing contest is April 30. She said contestants should include a photo of the garment with their entry, as there will be no modeling this year.

Richfield cleanup week set

RICHFIELD — Residents are urged to clean up their yards and premises as part of a city wide "Clean Up Week" campaign being conducted this week in Richfield.

Cleaning should be done during the week and then on Saturday volunteer crews will pick up the debris and haul it off. Members of the Boy Scout Troop 8 and Little League ball team will assist with the pick up.

The boys and volunteers are asked to meet at the city park Saturday at 9 a.m. to start work. At noon the city will furnish a weiner roast for those assisting with the project.

Waste should be placed in front of homes where it will be easily accessible for loading.

UP gets bad air complaints

POCATELLO (UPI) — A new Union Pacific Railroad diesel service shop in Pocatello has come under the eye of federal and state authorities investigating union complaints of bad air.

United Transportation Union and Federated Shop Crafts officials filed complaints that the ventilation system apparently is not removing the fumes when diesels are brought in for service.

They alleged that workers' eyes are smarting and the workmen are subject to heavy coughing and headaches, according to State Labor Commissioner Bartlett Brown.

Eastern Idaho rodeo sets date

AMERICAN FALLS — May 13 has been set as the date for selection of a queen to represent the Eastern Idaho Rodeo Association.

Association spokesmen said the queen will attend EIRA rodeos to help promote the sport of rodeo in the state.

There will be a luncheon at 10 a.m. at Rogers Cafe, American Falls, and a contest at 1 p.m. at the American Falls rodeo arena, both on the 13th.

All girls 18 years of age or older are eligible to enter. Entry blanks are available from Merna Madson, Mink Creek Road, Pocatello. Deadline for applications is May 8.

The EIRA has 24 rodeos scheduled this summer.
