

TF County legislators hold unprecedented power

TWIN FALLS — The chances are good that Twin Falls County will have unprecedented political muscle in the next legislature. The three most powerful positions in the Idaho Legislature will likely be held by three Twin Falls County legislators.

The single most powerful Idaho legislator probably is the Speaker of the House, Rep. William Lanting, R-Hollister.

The most influential Senator probably is the chairman of the powerful Senate Finance Committee, a post held by Sen. Richard S. High, R-Twin Falls.

And following the resignation of Rep. Jenkin Palmer, R-Malad, as chairman of the House Appropriations Committee this week, the key chairmanship belongs temporarily to Rep. William Roberts, R-Buhl, who has been vice chairman of the committee.

There is a strong possibility that Rep. Roberts will be named permanent chairman of the powerful committee when the legislature reorganizes next year.

The prospect of three of the most powerful legislative posts falling to members of a single county's delegation is certain to draw protests from legislators from other areas of the state.

There has never been such a concentration of power in a single County delegation.

In addition, Sen. John Barker, R-Buhl, is chairman of the Senate Health, Education and Welfare committee, which touches nearly every aspect of State government.

Rep. Ray Lincoln, R-Twin Falls, is Chairman of the House Local Government and Taxation Committee.

Should Rep. Jack Claiborne, R-Twin Falls, seek re-election, he undoubtedly will retain the chairmanship of the House Agriculture Committee.

It so, every Twin Falls County legislator will be either a committee chairman or House Speaker.

But the Twin Falls County delegation's legislative wallop is by no means certain. A number of factors could cause it to crumble.

The key incumbents could be defeated for re-election. Newcomers replacing the incumbents undoubtedly would have to serve long enough to develop seniority needed for key positions.

The key chairmanships and the House Speakership are held by the majority party of each house. Should the Republican Party lose its control of the legislature, these positions would be forfeited.

Particular opposition from legislators could arise to the prospect of the two co-chairmen of the Joint Finance Appropriations Committee coming from a single county.

The House Appropriations Committee and the Senate Finance Committee meet jointly to consider all spending.

The committee has a near stranglehold on all legislation requiring the expenditure of money. The record suggests that control of the committee is a good way to bring home the bacon to the local district.

During the past four years with Sen. High serving as a chairman and Rep. Roberts as vice chairman, Twin Falls County institutions have seen increasing state funds come their way while other areas of the state were served poorer fare.

For example:

The College of Southern Idaho competes with other local-interest educational institutions throughout the state. Legislators from each section of the state boost their local colleges with particular zeal.

During the past four years, CSI has seen large increases in state funding.

CSI's annual state funding has risen from less than $250,000 in Fiscal Year 1969 to about $1 million for Fiscal Year 1973.

While CSI's state appropriation had quadrupled in those years, other state colleges saw funding rise only about half as fast. Much of the total increase for all other colleges was used up by Boise State College when it joined the state higher education system.

Mine scene 'grim'

GOODING — "It is very grim at the mine," a Gooding woman whose father died in the Sunshine mine at Kellogg said today.

Eileen Michaels said her father, Patrick Michael Hobson, 57, a mechanical worker, was one of the first five men found dead in the mine disaster.

She said some fellow mine workers told her he apparently had died in trying to run from the mine. He had been working at the 3,700-foot level.

One worker told Mrs. Michaels he may have gone back to help some of the others out, but he didn't know for sure. She said they seem to be making heroes out of everyone now.

"It is still quite an uproar up there," said Mrs. Michaels, who was at the mine scene Saturday night.

Everybody is huddled around National Guard Stoves, the town itself is in shock everyone walks around in a daze.

She said the rescue teams are funneling smoke out and fresh air into the mine as fast as they can.

Flames delay rescue

KELOGG, Idaho (UPI) — A sudden increase in intensity in the fire burning in the Sunshine mine again stymied efforts today to reach 58 men trapped a mile underground for six days.

The fire, which has already killed 35 men in the country's biggest silver mine, flared up while rescuers were fighting electrical and compressed air failures.

One part of the rescue efforts — dropping a metal "capsule" down a parallel shaft — was expected to go on as scheduled early in the afternoon.

But Marvin C. Chase, mine general manager, said the new fire had made it more difficult to repair a hoist to lower rescuers to the bottom of the mine.

"I'm not as optimistic as before" about the rescue operations, he said.

The fire broke out last Tuesday at the 3,700-foot level of the huge mine. A total of 108 workers scrambled to safety. Rescuers working in thick smoke and poison carbon monoxide found five bodies Tuesday, 19 Wednesday, eight Thursday and three Friday.

They had estimated 47 others were missing, but Sunday night added 11 others to the list.

Key solons return from China trip

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield and Republican leader Hugh Scott returned from an "encouraging" 16-day visit to China, but said they would withhold specific comment until they brief President Nixon today.

In a joint statement after landing at Andrews Air Force Base Sunday, Mansfield and Scott said they hoped their visit along with that of Nixon would be the forerunner of more exchanges and better relations with China.

"I think it was a very meaningful and honest exchange of views," Scott said. "They have their system; we have ours."

generalfund budget is for $2.9 million, lower than the proposed 1971-72 budget but slightly above the actual 1971-72 expenditures. A $90,000 amount in error and has been taken into consideration in setting the 1972-73 figures.

One of the district's proposals for meeting the situation created by the $90,000 error is to trim elementary teacher salaries, especially where new teachers are coming into the district for the first time.

Other districts scheduling hearings tonight are Valley School District, Shoshone School District, Camas School District, Minidoka County School District and Richfield School District.

Wendell School Trustees have scheduled their public hearing for 8 p.m. Thursday in the school offices on a $508,517 budget. This is about a 9 percent increase, most of it for salary increases. On Tuesday Wendell school district residents go to the polls to vote on a proposed five mill maintenance and operation levy for the coming school year. Polls are open from noon to 8 p.m. in the Wendell High School.

Minidoka County residents will meet at 8 p.m. tonight in the East Minico Junior High School to protest or support the proposed budget. The general fund budget there is $2.60 million compared to $2.57 million last year. Most of the increase is for teacher salaries. The salary schedule, approved by the district's more than 200 teachers is about 3.5 percent above last year.

Valley School District in the east end of Jerome County will hold a hearing in the Valley High School at 8 p.m. tonight.

Reds claim US destroys dikes

By ARTHUR NIGBEE SAIGON (UPI) — The U.S. command said U.S. Navy jets struck a military base and training camp 15 miles west of Hanoi today. Hanoi radio reported American planes were bombing irrigation dikes for the first time of the war in raids that could sharply curtail North Vietnam's food supplies.

Hanoi Radio broadcasts said two Navy jets were shot down near Hanoi today, bringing to seven the number of planes shot down in three days. The command denied this Hanoi report but had no comment or reports the previously spared Red River Delta dikes were being hit.

The command announced the raids within hours of Hanoi broadcasts which said the actual targets were dikes and agricultural areas in the Red River Delta in what Hanoi called the fifth consecutive day of major raids above the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ).

The irrigation dikes were never targets even at height of the American bombing of North Vietnam ordered by former President Lyndon B. Johnson in 1965-68. The dikes had been on the Air Force's proposed target list but were spared.

According to documents in the Pentagon Papers, attacks on the dikes were ruled out then because of possible charges the United States was engaging in inhumanitarian attacks on civilian rather than military targets.

North Vietnam, with a population now estimated at 21 million, must import food but 80 per cent of what it does raise is in the Red River Delta, below Hanoi where 65 per cent of the population of North Vietnam lives.

Today's Hanoi broadcast did in fact say that the American air raids were killing civilians destroying economic installations and social works of the North Vietnamese people.

There were reports in the French press today that U.S. planes were bombing in the outskirts of Hanoi, but the U.S. command would say only "no comment." Raids have hit comment. Raids have hit North Vietnam over the past four days and the United States reported shooting down three MIGs in weekend fights. Hanoi reported five American planes shot down, two of them Sunday. In the ground fighting in South Vietnam, Communist troops laid siege to two vital base camps, Ben Het and Polei Kleng, guarding the north and west valley approaches to the provincial capital of Kontum in the Central Highlands 280 miles above Saigon.

Front dispatches said Montagnard mercenary troops at Ben Het rebelled briefly and shot a South Vietnamese officer before quieting down. The Montagnards were trained by U.S. Green Beret band and still have U.S. advisers.

US summons Rogers for crisis

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon rushed Secretary of State William P. Rogers back from Europe and summoned a meeting of the National Security Council today to plot policy for the Vietnam crisis.

There was no immediate word on what new courses the President was considering to back his public promise of taking "all necessary measures" against the continuing communist offensive.

But there was speculation the possibilities included:

A South Vietnamese counter-invasion into the North, backed by American airpower, in an attempt to relieve some of the pressure on the South.

An allied seaborne invasion south of the Demilitarized Zone for the same purpose.

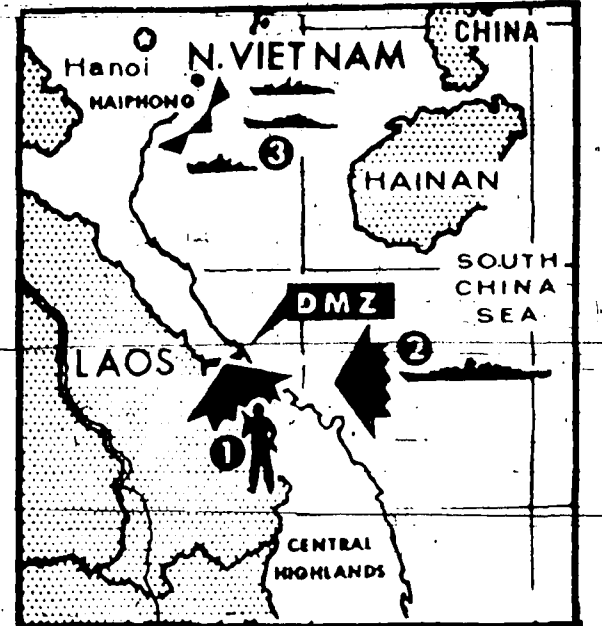

A quarantine on Haiphong harbor in an effort to halt the flow of military supplies to Hanoi.

The meeting by Nixon with his top diplomatic, military and intelligence advisers began at the White House at 9:10 a.m. EST, with no indication how long it might last.

Rogers was not accessible to newsmen when he returned Sunday afternoon to Washington from Bonn, where an urgent summons from the President interrupted his nine-day European tour in advance of Nixon's Moscow trip.

Rogers returned with his wife and his top press aide, Robert McLoskey, leaving behind in West Germany the other members of his party. That fact was taken as an indication that Rogers would return to Europe, presumably later this week, to resume his scheduled visits to Paris, Rome and Madrid.

Options studied

A TOP-LEVEL meeting of the US Security Council was called to discuss options in Vietnam. Speculation was that the US was considering (1) a South Vietnamese counter invasion, (2) an Allied seaborne invasion south of the DMZ, or (3) a quarantine on Haiphong Harbor. (UPI)

US policy irks POW kin

By DANIEL RAPAPORT WASHINGTON (UPI) — Last September, members of the National League of Families of American Prisoners and Missing in Southeast Asia stood and cheered wildly when President Nixon told them he never would abandon America's prisoners of war.

Sunday, seven months later, members of the same organization formally denounced the keystone of the President's Vietnam policy, called for the immediate adoption of a policy that would guarantee a return of the POWs and an accounting of the missing, and demanded that within 10 days Nixon sit down, face-to-face, with three of their representatives and answer their questions.

The action of the once-friendly league presumably came as a surprise both to the administration and to dissidents within the organization. Shortly after the league adopted its resolution condemning the President's Vietnamization program, about 50 activists went ahead with previous plans to deliver a letter to Nixon demanding a face-to-face meeting.

Their letter, which they said bore 70 signatures, contained language less harsh than the resolution adopted by the league.

In its first direct, publicized slap at the administration, the league expressed "its extreme distress at the failure of this administration's policy to resolve the MIA-POW issue."

The National League of Families expects the government to immediately adopt a policy which will insure an accounting of the missing men and the release of the prisoners of war, not just the withdrawal of combat troops," it said.

The league's weekend action, stemming from a specially shirking our duty.

called meeting, could have an impact on Congress, lawmakers, especially hawkish, enthusiastically have joined in expressions of support for the relatives of the country's approximately 400 POWs and 1,300 MIAs.

Joan Vinson, Alexandria, Va., the league's former national coordinator and the wife of a missing Air Force pilot, said that the league was considered by some a pawn of the administration.

"If we go away today without taking some action," Mrs. Vinson declared, "we will be taking some action."

Wallace in third race

By ROBERT GORDON, RALEIGH, N. C. (UPI)—Strong antibusing sentiment carried George Wallace to his third presidential primary victory and the Alabama governor indicated Sunday he may enter the California primary as a write-in candidate.

Wallace campaign strategists said Sunday in Montgomery, Ala., the situation "looks favorable" for a bid in California, but that a final decision probably will not be made until after the Maryland and Michigan primaries May 16.

Resentment against busing to achieve integration has been strong in North Carolina, particularly in the populous Charlotte area where a massive program is in effect. Wallace rode this to an impressive victory over former North Carolina Gov. Terry Sanford. With more than 99 per cent of Saturday's vote in, Wallace had 408,785 votes to 304,397 for Sanford, now president of Duke University.

Veteran Sen. B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., also fell in the primary, although there was a possibility he may demand a runoff with Rep. Nick Galifianakis, 45, son of Greek immigrants, who led the four-man race for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

BURLEY — The Magic Valley Iris Society held its quarterly meeting in Burley Saturday, with Marianne Koch, Salzburg, Austria, guest speaker.

Miss Koch, an exchange student, was introduced by Mrs. M. Clayville. Her program told of some of the customs and interesting places in Austria. Carl Henschel, Rupert, assisted her in showing a film of the Austrian countryside.

It was mentioned that the "Sound of Music" was filmed in Salzburg. Miss Koch also mentioned the friendliness of the average American citizen.

Mrs. Al Kramer presided at the business meeting. Mrs. S. W. Smith gave the schedule for the coming Iris Show June 10 and 11 at the Twin Falls YM-YWCA. Anyone interested is invited to display and attend free of charge. Juniors also are invited to show a Best Stalk.

Door prizes were won by Mrs. Carl Crooks, Mrs. C. W. Vallette and Don Chadd.

The Iris of the year is named One Desire, it was announced. Mrs. G. Thietten is general chairman of the coming show and Don Chadd is co-chairman.

Mother charged

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Gloria Jenkins, 31, and two other persons were jailed Sunday on murder charges in the death of her 2-year old son from burns and the effects of a beating.

Police detective John Basman said the mother, her boyfriend, Kenneth Brock, 22, and his sister, Laverne Brock, 28, admitted they beat the child with their hands and a belt to stop his crying after he was scalded.

Basman said the mother told him the boy "climbed into a tub of very hot water" Thursday night.

The mother brought the boy's body to General Hospital Sunday. Doctors said he had been dead 10 hours. They said the boy received multiple third-degree burns and injuries to his body, legs and arms and had suffered from malnutrition.

The three accused were arraigned Sunday and jailed without bond pending a preliminary hearing May 17 on murder charges.

Question...

Why are morticians licensed by the State?

Answer...

Primarily, we are licensed to safeguard public health and secondarily to establish an orderly system for the care and disposal of those who have died. Unless both of these functions are performed by people under the control of a state licensing authority the situation could become chaotic.

In just the past few years, however, another aspect of licensing has evolved which is equally as important as public health and that is the public interest aspect of funeral service. We have become the original data source of public interest information. Although we do not process workers' compensation, Social Security, Veterans' Affairs, Pension, Veterans' Allowances, Railroad Retirement Benefits, and all of the other rights and benefits survivors may be entitled to receive, we do furnish the documentation required to take action on them. State Licensing Boards are now demanding as much competency in the public interest aspect of funeral service as they have always required in that affecting public health.

Gem airline boarding fee expected by '73

TWIN FALLS — Airline airports in Idaho will probably be charging a passenger boarding fee by the end of 1972 or early 1973.

Action along this line is contemplated because of a ruling by the United States Supreme Court that such a step would be legal, according to O. A. (Gus) Kelker, member of the Twin Falls City-County Airport commission.

The proposal has been under discussion in Idaho for months, Kelker said, but no action was taken because of possibility it would be declared unconstitutional.

However, the Supreme Court ruled in two cases: (1) Evansville-Vanderburgh Airport Authority District vs. Delta Airlines and (2) New Hampshire Aeronautics Commission vs. Northeast Airlines, that such a step was constitutional, he said.

In both instances, the airports were charging passengers $1 each as a boarding fee. The money was to be used to help defray the costs of airport construction and maintenance. The court ruled that use of the money for this purpose — and the actual charge — does not violate the Federal Constitution. In Idaho such a boarding fee can now be expected at several airline airports including Twin Falls, Pocatello, Idaho Falls, Boise and Lewiston. It is expected that, as a result of the decision, all major fields in the nation will make such a charge.

Kelker explained that under proposals studied by the various airport commissions, the boarding charge would apply only once for each passenger, and that would be at the original field of departure. There would be no additional charge on a through or round trip ticket if several stops and transfers were made.

In other words, Twin Falls would profit only from people boarding here originally and this would be true at Boise, Pocatello and the other major Idaho fields, said Kelker.

Members of the Twin Falls commission anticipate an agreement with the state board members as to whether the collected monies would go into a statewide fund or the amount collected at each field would remain at that field.

"This will have to be worked out," Kelker said, "but there is no doubt that a boarding charge will be set up as soon as possible because we have discussed such an arrangement for months and have only been waiting for the Supreme Court ruling."

The boarding charge would be added to the ticket at time of purchase and the collection would be made for the city-county by the airline or travel agent making the sale.

This boarding fee would be another aid toward making the Twin Falls field, and other Idaho airports, self-supporting through charges paid by those using the facilities," Kelker said.

GOP meet set

TWIN FALLS — State Republican leaders will meet here Thursday.

The meeting was announced by Mrs. George Coiner, state committee woman from Twin Falls county. She said among officials attending will be Larry Jackson, new executive secretary for the statewide party, and Mrs. Marge Miner, state chairman.

The luncheon session, at which local businessmen and women and professional people will be present, will be at Room C of the Holiday Inn starting at 12:30 p.m.

13 N. Vietnamese prisoners killed

SAIGON (UPI) — A South Vietnamese military spokesman confirmed today a report that Communist prisoners of war had rioted on a prison island Saturday and said that 13 of the North Vietnamese POW's had been killed and 56 wounded.

Four South Vietnamese military policemen—two officers and two enlisted guards—were wounded during the five hours it took to quell the riot, the spokesman said.

He could not confirm reports that about 300 prisoners were involved and that they had seized weapons from their guards.

The riot occurred on Phu Quoc island 30 miles west of the Vietnamese coast in the Gulf of Siam where an undisclosed number of "hard-core" Communist war prisoners are kept. Similar riots have occurred in past years.

A military spokesman said, "at 2300 (11 p.m.) on May 6 a number of POWs refused to respect curfew time when requested to go back to their cells and go to bed. They captured as hostages four officials trying to persuade them to go to bed, and beat them."

Other military police personnel, after warning shots, fired on the prisoners, killing 13 and wounding 56 others. Two MP officers and two MP enlisted men were wounded. The POWs were brought under control at 0400 (4 a.m.) May 7.

COMMENT Oil Imports

Christian Science Monitor
We welcome word from Washington that the Nixon administration now favors increased quotas on foreign oil. Those quotas cost the average American family $100 a year in higher gasoline and fuel oil prices.

Oil import quotas were imposed by President Eisenhower back in 1959 by executive order. The former president based his decision on the argument that by restricting the import of foreign oil, domestic producers would be encouraged to seek new American deposits. This was to ensure adequate supplies in case of a national defense emergency.

That argument has been repeatedly disputed by many observers, including the Department of Justice in a memo to the White House.

Beyond the estimated $5 billion annual cost to American consumers imposed by the quotas, slowing the inflow of foreign oil makes little sense in the face of everdeclining domestic reserves. Brownouts in urban centers are widely forecast for this coming summer.

While we laud the apparent intent of Mr. Nixon to raise the quotas, there are some cautions to be observed. One is the tendency, now apparent in a series of bills before Congress, to whipsaw from oil shortages into hasty over-commitment to nuclear power. The development of atomic energy is needed. But it should not be pushed to the point of running contrary to standards set up by the National Environmental Policy Act. Some proposed bills would weaken or eliminate those carefully reasoned safeguards.

Another trend stirring in Washington would disallow Canada from the proposed higher quotas, as a means of gaining leverage in the current deadlock over trade between two countries.

SUPPOSE, for a moment, that it is 1932 and that every American home has a television set. The desperate incumbent President, Herbert Hoover, engages a firm of political consultants to convince voters he was not responsible for the Great Depression. In the closing weeks of the election campaign, 30-second TV spots relentlessly drive home the argument that Hoover has "real remedies" for the slump, while his opponent offers only "political promises."

The strategy works. Hoover wins a second term by a razor-thin margin. The defeated Democratic standard bearer, Franklin D. Roosevelt, retires to his home in Hyde Park, N.Y., and is never heard from again. Well, it might have happened. Robert Goodman, a Baltimore-based political consultant whose clients have included Vice President Agnew, says that he would love to have handled Hoover. "I enjoy handling the underdog, the man who is in trouble that may not be of his own making."

POLITICAL CONSULTANTS will, for a hefty fee, direct almost any aspect of a candidate's campaign. The best of them can provide such varied services as public opinion surveys, electronic data processing, fund-raising, budgeting, media advertising, research, public relations, and recruitment of volunteers.

Sometimes it works and sometimes it doesn't. Surveys showed that Howard M. Metzbaum, a Cleveland industrialist, was known to only 10 per cent of Ohio's voters when he entered the 1970 race for the Democratic nomination for a U.S. Senate seat. His opponent, former astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., had a "recognition factor" of 95 per cent. But thanks to the efforts of Guggenheim Productions Inc., a Washington consulting firm, Metz-baum won the primary. He lost the general election, however, to Robert Taft Jr., who had retained the services of Robert Goodman's firm. A 1969 clash between Goodman and Guggenheim clients turned out the same way. The Goodman entry, Linwood B. Holton, defeated William C. Battle in the Virginia gubernatorial race.

POLITICAL CONSULTANTS sometimes are accused of reducing politics to the level of show-biz in their zeal to produce a winner. Joe McGinniss took this view in "The Selling of the President, 1968," a caustic account of Treleaven Associates' media campaign for Richard M. Nixon. More recently, the New Yorker commented: "Sometimes the candidate is actually more of a hindrance than a help to the image. Often the advisers must wish they could get rid of the man altogether and run a composite."

With voters in an anti-establishment mood, image-building may be more difficult this year than in the past. Lewis W. Wolfson, an American University communications professor, asserts that "voters no longer will accept syrupy ads that make the candidate look like a silk purse when they see what a sow's ear the same man can be on the evening news."

This being the case, political consultants are now said to favor "mini-documentaries" — TV spots that show the candidate in a real setting talking about real issues. But perhaps that is not the answer after all. Both John Lindsay and Edmund Muskie opted for the mini-documentary approach in the early primaries, and look what happened to them.

We would like to see candidates on live televised forums answering live questions from a live audience, or from each other. The packaging should not be more important than the product.

Voting

Nampa Free Press

During an exhausting election year, when not a few persons profess boredom with the whole exercise, is a good time to remember that millions elsewhere have no chance at a ballot box, not in any meaningful sense. Some of them demonstrate their despair with their feet, the only real vote they have.

Refugees from the northern invasion of South Vietnam flow south, not north, by the tens of thousands. The destruction and virtual enslavement offered by the north is no offer at all. In Europe the story is much the same, although with a different twist.

Refugees must first run an obstacle course of barbed wire, mine fields and other booby traps. The Berlin Wall is the most obvious example and most heavily fortified. But in the first three months of this year, 220 East Germans successfully made their way through these hazards. Last year 152 successfully escaped during the same period.

Many more tried and failed. It requires courage to vote, the way some people who cherish freedom have to do it.

CHRIS CARLSON

Church-Case Amendment Collapse?

WASHINGTON — "President Nixon has been the Hamlet of the Vietnam tragedy. To leave or not to leave has been the question on which he could never make up his mind from the start of his term in office," Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, charged this week.

Church, along with Sen. Clifford Case, R-N.J., is preparing for debate to begin this week on a Church-Case amendment to end America's involvement in Southeast Asia by Dec. 31st of this year if agreement is reached with North Vietnam on America's prisoners of war and missing in action.

In an interview, however, the Idaho Democrat acknowledged that the apparent collapse of parts of the South Vietnamese army in face of the new North Vietnamese offensive, may paradoxically jeopardize chances for passage of the Church-Case amendment.

"President Nixon has now placed us in the most precarious and impossible of all positions. We're half in the war and half out. Our ground forces have been reduced to the point where they must rely on the army of South Vietnam for their own defense," Church said, adding, "there's no question that our troops are now in jeopardy because of the South Vietnamese collapse."

Church pointed out that under these circumstances he has not opposed strategic bombing in South Vietnam, to protect American positions and that his grave doubts about the current bombing escalation are aimed primarily at the strategic bombings in the North.

The long-time war critic pointed out such bombings in the North did not work for President Johnson and almost certainly will not work for President Nixon.

"At the end of our massive bombings, the North Vietnamese can still mount, supply and sustain the largest offensive they've yet undertaken," Church said.

Church speculated the main wrong with President Nixon's policy of Vietnamization is that the President has not followed the policy, which calls for a turning of the war effort over totally to the South Vietnamese.

The Idaho Democrat carefully explained that the Church-Case amendment "will not automatically cut-off funds for American forces in South Vietnam at the end of the year if no agreement has been reached on the POW-mia problem. It is contingent on the release of our POW's and an accounting of the M.I.A.'s and until that happens, funds would still be available for further American engagements."

Church said he views the amendment as giving the president over six months to get the remaining 59,000 American troops out of Indochina. "It's not a precipitous withdrawal, and it actually is a little more true than the President's current withdrawal rate of about 10,000 troops a month."

Asked about President Nixon's televised plea last week for the war not to be lost by the American people's will giving out or Congress ending it through legislation, Church angrily said the statement reflected "an attitude President's assume when accustomed to the trappings of power."

He added, "what the President was saying is that he has more confidence in the South Vietnamese army than he does in the American people or the Congress." Church said if the President had listened to the common sense of the American people the United States would have been out long ago.

Citing statistics on Saigon's military strength, Church said the problem with the war has remained the same throughout.

"It is not a lack of equipment for the South Vietnamese to defend successfully their own country, its lack of the will to stand on their own and fight. We can't give them that will. We just accomplish more American casualties and more American POW's."

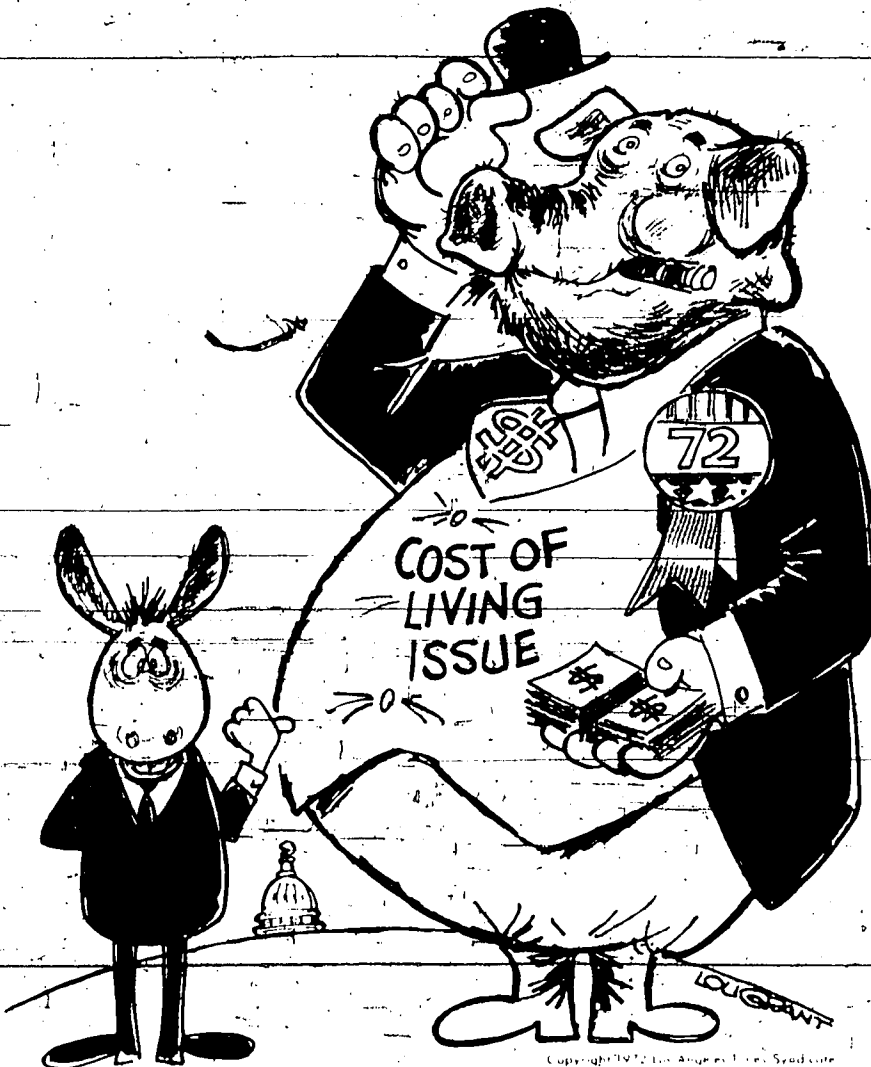

Church pointed out the United States now "only has bombers to rely upon. That's a weak reed against an army determined to seize the ground."

Church said he never has had much hope that a negotiated settlement would end the conflict, "least of all one in which the United States is a party. After we leave, the Vietnamese will work out a settlement by themselves."

Church said passage of his amendment would be an indication to Hanoi to call off its military pressure and "would provide a powerful incentive to Hanoi to release America's POW's. Enactment of this amendment would provide the framework for an orderly and dignified disengagement of U.S. forces in Southeast Asia."

Idaho's senior senator concluded by saying "the President's policy, on the other hand, could easily lead us into the ugly predicament he has pledged himself to avoid — a Dunkirk-like evacuation of our remaining forces under conditions that would spell disaster and defeat."

"MEET MY CAMPAIGN MANAGER"

ANDREW TULLY

Male Over 40

SOUTHBRIDGE, Mass. Gastronomically, the male who is over 40 can't go home again. After years of thinning his blood and lowering his capacity for honest vittles in Washington, Macao, Paris, Tunis and Chevy Chase, Maryland, he can only look with horror on a breakfast menu at the Public House that features ~~an~~ England baked beans.

Can this be the boy who ate the Boston bean every Saturday night and whose idea of an after-school snack was a thick and very cold baked bean sandwich?

No, the boy is gone and in his place is an aging male who has rejected the Public House's recommendation and opted for two poached eggs and dry toast. Even that choice was a gesture to a bygone day; at home the male invariably settles for orange juice, coffee, a newspaper and a cigarette.

The only consolation is that he is not unique among his contemporaries across the land. Southerners who rose to strapping manhood on a morning diet of grits now breakfast on corn flakes with skimmed milk. Texans transplanted to the capital's world of Dover sole and tripe à la Caen shun the straightforward and character-building bowl of chili as the plague. Most Midwesterners have not eaten steak and eggs before noon since they walked into their first Washington office.

Clearly, we exiles have lost something. During the weekend festivities attending the wedding anniversary of an older sister, this male could only gaze admiringly, and wistfully, at a brother nearly 20 years his senior as Ben polished off a plate of turkey, ham, baked beans, potato salad and four hot rolls drenched with real butter. Ben is strong because he never left home, and therefore was never forced to forsake the art of wholesome eating.

A casual poll at the country club party was admittedly incomplete, but the breakfast eaters still won in a landslide. Surely that was why the visitor's female Mason and Cudworth cousins were still as comely and vivacious as they were 20 years ago. The honored guests, Bea and Tim, scoffed at suggestions that they take a nap. So did Stuart and Lucy. They don't need naps. They eat real food, brimming with honest calories, not dietetic mixtures of straw and cottage cheese. Nephew Bill, down from Maine, did not attain his muscular six-foot, two-inch frame ingesting protein pills. Nor did George father a Marine and the captain of the West Point hockey team by toying with one small lamb chop and a lettuce leaf.

Sheep's eyes in a Moroccan tent and octopus at the Raffles Hotel in Singapore are all very well as conversation pieces in a Georgetown drawing room, but they give little pleasure to the taste buds and tend to produce threatening gurgles below the belt. No such internal bickering troubles the 50-year-old striping in North Carolina or Alabama who stuck to his grits, ham with red gravy and black-eyed peas. A bowl of chili leavened with milk crackers can't hurt the man who never emasculated his digestion by trying every Frenchified restaurant in town.

This is a country that produces pretty good food, and it's too bad we don't eat it. Next time, this male is really going home; he has already chosen the menu for his first breakfast. To wit, steak and eggs and baked beans, topped off with apple pie and cheese, with a half serving of salt codfish on the side. You only live once.

Tough Time

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Bits and pieces of information trickling from behind the Iron Curtain suggest President Nixon will have his hands full in Moscow later this month to keep from being boxed in.

Indications are the Russians are fully aware of the President's political problems, farmers hurting from the heavy supply of feed grains, with Mr. Nixon needing the farm vote. He must have more exports, an improvement in the balance of payments and an overall sharp improvement in the economic outlook to insure his re-election. In addition, because of the hopes he has aroused, he requires some sort of a strategic arms limitation agreement and a noticeable improvement in Vietnam.

The extremely able Soviet ambassador in Washington, Anatoly F. Dobrynin, is known to this reporter as a careful and astute political and economic observer, who most certainly has sent Moscow carefully detailed analyses of Mr. Nixon's domestic problems and what type of public reaction could hurt him most on Nov. 7.

The Russians aim at extracting a heavy price in return for giving Mr. Nixon even part of what he wants. They expect cheap credits for grain, sizable dollar and technological investment in Soviet mining and industry, an easing of U.S. bans on exports of various high technology goods to Russia and a cutback on U.S. restrictions on imports from the Soviet Union.

Moscow also will demand directly or indirectly, subtly or unstably, Mr. Nixon's cooperation in securing public U.S. and West European recognition of Russia's special position in East Europe and the inviolability of that position.

This information comes directly and indirectly from private academic and business sources, from government economic specialists and diplomats dealing with the Russians and from other private organizations with connections in the Soviet Union and East Europe.

The Russians, of course, will attempt to minimize their own serious problems — the growing demand for meat in the Soviet Union and East Europe and the serious political consequences of failing to solve that problem. They will gloss over the serious winter crop failures and the consequent heavy Soviet need for grain in quantities. They will not stress the Soviet shortage of cash and their urgent need for credit to buy grain in the quantities they require.

They will attempt to hide the very serious internal economic decisions they will be forced to make if U.S. credit is not forthcoming — and the possibly unhappy domestic political repercussions which may follow from those decisions.

Can She Marry?

Dear Doctor: I have a daughter who is 28 and who has never had a period.

She has been examined by a doctor who says she can live a married life.

Can she get pregnant? — Mrs. R.I.T.

Whether or not she can, as you say, lead a married life is a question that's subject to many factors that I can't predict, but I would say that if her doctor has told her this, he has good reason.

As to a possible pregnancy, this is very unlikely in amenorrhea, the medical term for absence of menstruation. Since she has never had a period, the amenorrhea in your daughter's case is undoubtedly what is called "primary" as opposed to "secondary." In secondary types, menstruation stops after it has begun.

It is rather uncommon, but there are other women who have never experienced menstruation.

The cause is usually underfunctioning of the glandular system — the pituitary, thyroid, ovaries, or all of them.

At her age, I'd say the chances of this condition reversing itself are very minimal.

What are ulcers? How should they be treated? What can you do to help rid yourself of ulcers and stay rid of them? For answers, read Dr. Thosteson's helpful booklet, "How To Heal Peptic Ulcers and Keep Them Healed." For your copy write to him in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed (rusty zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

U.S. men continue pullout

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. manpower in Vietnam kept dropping on schedule today but combined U.S. military and naval strength in Thailand and aboard U.S. warship offshore was at its highest peak of the war.

Another 2,700 Americans left Vietnam last week, bringing the total down to 65,400, the lowest in nearly seven years. But the Thailand plus offshore total was 90,000 men.

The U.S. force in Thailand, mostly airmen, was close to the 50,000 record of four years ago and the 7th Fleet force totaled 41,000 men, far more than the 35,000 here in the late 1960's.

An estimated 5,000 of those naval personnel were Marines reported aboard the amphibious helicopter ships Tripoli and Okinawa and the smaller Denver, an amphibious landing craft transport.

The Marines are organized into three landing battalions which can be summoned to help protect the withdrawal of American personnel if they are threatened in the current Communist offensive.

Navy strength briefly soared to 44,000 last week when the carrier Hancock with its crew of 3,000 remained on station after the arrival of the Midway, bringing the carrier force to five. In the late 1960s, the carrier force never numbered five for more than a day or two at a time.

The Hancock went off station at midweek for resupply and refitting, dropping the force to four flattops, but the Saratoga is en route from the U.S. East Coast and is expected in a week or 10 days.

Smylie hits Gem transport

PRESTON (UPI) — Robert E. Smylie, a Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate, said Saturday that transportation for Idaho citizens in the last six years "has gone to pot."

The former governor, appearing during a reception for him, said, "we can move cattle across the state with ease, but there is no way that we can move people from Preston to Pocatello or from Emmett to Boise."

He said, "We need to use some of that ill-spent Amtrak money on research and development to produce a transportation system that will get people between the small cities and in the sparsely settled west."

Russia hits U.S. spy try

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union has accused British and American intelligence services of attempting to recruit and subvert Soviet officials in foreign countries, East European sources said today.

The sources said the accusations were contained in an official protest note that was delivered to the British Ambassador, Sir John Killick, last month.

At the time of the protest, neither the British nor the Soviets divulged details of the accusations, but the sources said they involved Soviet officials in Washington, Denmark, Mali and Kuwait.

The protest was one of a series of mutually recriminatory actions that have marred Soviet-British relations, beginning with the British decision to expel more than 100 Soviet diplomats and trade officials from Britain last year.

The sources said the Soviet note accused British and American intelligence services of attempting to recruit a Soviet trade mission official in Washington, identified as a Mr. Uchakov. It said Uchakov had also been approached while he was at a previous post in London.

In Africa, the sources said, the Soviets charged that a British diplomat in Zaire named Rellie had attempted to recruit a Soviet diplomat assigned to Mali.

Tot recovers after rare surgery

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI) — Two-year-old Sandra La Fontaine, who underwent a heart operation probably rarer than a heart transplant, was to be released from the University of Michigan's Mott Children's Hospital this week.

The child, who suffered from Taussig-Bing malformation, which occurs once in every one million births, underwent the five-hour operation April 21 to reverse the flow of blood within the chambers of her heart.

Before the operation, the Grand Rapids girl's color was a choking blue because oxygen-enriched blood was being pumped to her lungs instead of throughout her body due to a transposition of the two main arteries leading to her heart.

Today, doctors said Sandra is encouragingly pink and is progressing nicely from the surgery.

Only five cases of the birth defect have been corrected surgically, two of them by the UM surgical team which also has performed six heart-transplant operations.

Dr. Douglas Behrendt, head surgeon in Sandra's case, said infants born with transposed heart arteries have little or no chance of surviving without surgery.

He said it's only been within the last few years that the technology for such a complex operation on children has been developed.

The two sides of Sandra's heart were connected in the middle instead of being separate chambers.

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI) — Computers on the campuses of the state's three largest universities — Michigan State, Michigan and Wayne State — have been tied together in a comprehensive program of inter-university cooperation.

U.S. eyes subsidies for black teachers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government is considering a plan that would pay subsidies to black school teachers in the South so they can be re-educated, relocated or given a chance to fight in court when they lose their jobs because of desegregation.

Many teachers and school principals in southern and border states — some estimates range as high as 20,000 — have been fired or assigned out of their fields in recent years when formerly all-black schools were combined with white schools.

"Should the present rate of displacement continue, it is conceivable that black educators could become extinct in Southern and Border State school systems," said one confidential memorandum on the subject. "Therefore, the elimination of this problem is one of the highest priorities in the Office of Education."

The government currently has a program which was aimed at retraining 1,500 black teachers and administrators, but William C. Young, deputy commissioner in the Office of Education, said it has reached only 176 persons so far and its financial life is due to expire June 30.

"What we are saying at this point is that the present retraining program never provided the degree of support and effectiveness that we are trying to effect now," Young said. "All the ideas were here but they were never put into effect."

Young said the administration plans a $6 million budget, compared with present spending of $4.9 million.

Surgeons transplant marrow

LEYDEN, The Netherlands (UPI) — A Dutch medical team has successfully transplanted bone marrow between persons unrelated to each other in what today was the first operation of its kind in the world.

A spokesman for Leyden University Hospital, where the surgery was performed last week, said previous bone marrow transplants had been undertaken only between donors and patients who were related.

He said it had been believed by medical scientists a successful bone marrow transplant only was possible if the donor and patient were related.

It could well be yours.

Not only your voice. It would be a chorus. You may not be aware of a study now going on but it can affect jobs, taxes—the economy of the entire area.

The Forest Service has been instructed to review certain undeveloped National Forest areas as potential additions to an already large Wilderness System.

"Wilderness" is land untrammeled by man—an area of resource neglect. No roads. It's exclusively for those who can hike or go in on horseback. Beautiful.

And we need some Wilderness. But of this national resource, less than 5% of our countrymen pack in to it. Use it.

So what do the remaining 99.5% of the people do for recreation? Many of them choose to go to it in automobiles, campers, bikes, snowmobiles or other such vehicles not permitted in the Wilderness.

It's their land too, and yours.

You and your community gain from industry uses of the forest lands. A minimum of nine people have jobs in the forest industry for every million board feet of lumber from trees, the renewable resource. But when timber is taken out of production, jobs go too. Some mills have already closed. If all the identified "undeveloped areas" in Idaho's National Forests were designated "Wilderness," the estimated annual loss of potential timber harvest would be 400 million board feet. This translates to more than 3600 jobs lost forever.

One-fourth of the dollars paid for National Forest timber sales goes to the roads and schools of the county involved. Who would pick that up in taxes?

This doesn't include the hundreds of thousands of dollars paid by the forest industry and its employees in local, state, and federal taxes.

Wilderness and Primitive Areas do not provide jobs that you need today and your kids need tomorrow. Wilderness doesn't help pay your taxes—it uses them.

That's what we mean when we say the voice crying in the wilderness may be yours.

Just as much as ours.

Italy sees large vote

ROME (UPI)—A record turnout by voters appeared almost certain today in the Italian national election, but experts disagreed on what it meant for the extreme right and left.

Most attention on the election, which ended at 9 a.m. EDT, focused on the neo-Fascist Italian Social Movement (MSI) and the Communist Party.

Most opinion polls said the Christian Democrats, the major force in Italian politics since World War II, would retain their place as the single biggest party. But polls disagreed about the neo-Fascists and Communists.

Polls said the neo-Fascists might score fairly heavy gains, but not as heavy as moderates once feared, while the Communists might lose ground.

The Communists, who claim the allegiance of one of every four voters, have never lost ground in any national election. The neo-Fascists have never emerged as a major political force.

A loss, no matter how slight, for the Communists coupled with an advance, no matter how small, for the neo-Fascists has important implications in the fragmented spectrum of Italian politics.

This situation, experts said, brought out 78.9 per cent of the country's more than 37 million voters Sunday. They said this indicated the total turnout would exceed the record 92.8 per cent in the 1968 national election.

Nebraska election eve keeps Demos campaigning

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI)—Hubert Humphrey and George McGovern, running neck-and-neck in Nebraska, today intensified their campaign schedules to influence 400,000 voters on the eve of the state's Democratic primary.

Humphrey returned to the Cornhusker state Sunday night after campaigning in West Virginia, which also has a primary Tuesday. He toured a Polish area, then concluded the night with several stops at high rise public retirement homes.

He told residents of the homes that Medicare should be broadened to include the cost of prescriptions and that Social Security checks should be increased by 25 per cent. Humphrey joined residents of one home in singing "God Bless America," and was later beaten in a swift game of bumper pool by the home's champion of the sport.

McGovern spent part of the day defending his stand on abortion, which he said is a matter that should be decided by each state.

Besides his stand on abortion, McGovern also spelled out his position on legalized marijuana and amnesty for draft evaders during the taping of television shows. He said he did not favor legalization of marijuana and thinks users should be jailed. He said his stand favoring amnesty after the cessation of hostilities was the same as that of former Presidents Lincoln, Truman and Coolidge—all of whom granted amnesty.

Demos seek votes

By MANNIX PORTERFIELD candidates pledged to Humphrey and some of these were opponents in district races. Such also was the case of some of the 45 candidates pledged to Sen. George S. McGovern and the 45 pledged to Sen. Edmund S. Muskie. Wallace had only three pledged to him.

The primary's preferential vote, in which only the Minnesota senator and Alabama governor were entered, is not binding on the 35 delegates to be selected in district contests.

There were 71 delegate state's primary.

Suspect charged with killing 5

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (UPI)—Robert Lee Fuller, 22, was arrested and booked on suspicion of murder Sunday night in the killing of five persons, including a young woman and her two children.

Fuller is a tenant in the ghetto apartment where the five bodies were found late Sunday morning—about 10 hours after neighbors in the four-family building reported bawling heard shots.

Police Chief William E. Dye said murder warrants would be sought against Fuller today. They said they planned to campaign between now and Aug. 23, the anniversary of his death, to restore the glitter of Hollywood.

"After all, there's really not much we can do for a man who is actually dead," said Chris Harris.

"But we can try to keep Hollywood as a city from becoming a glamor ghetto."

Byron Johnson campaigns

Democrat Johnson talks to students

TWIN FALLS — Byron Johnson, campaigning in Twin Falls Friday as candidate for Democratic nomination for U. S. Senate, called the President's Vietnam strategy a "political judgment."

"It would seem this may be a most important period to protest the Vietnam War," Johnson said, "because of re-escalation. It appears the President has made a political judgment. If he were to withdraw forces from Vietnam it could be treated as a defeat and could well spell his defeat at the polls."

Johnson appeared briefly at a College of Southern Idaho demonstration to speak to students. He also visited Rupert before coming to Twin Falls to meet with individuals including party leaders.

Johnson said there are 42,000 voters in Idaho between the ages of 18 and 20 and they have a tremendous strength in the coming elections.

The candidate said he respects the right to demonstrations but said if they turn to violence resulting in death, injury or property destruction, they destroy the very liberties which permit people to demonstrate as a means of showing concern.

Johnson said other issues of vital importance to Idahoans are the agricultural programs and care and protection of senior citizens.

He said there is a need for a 20 per cent increase in Social Security benefits and added information indicates this could be provided without cutting short the present Social Security fund.

He said Idaho lawmakers should consider some means of exempting senior citizens from property taxes where the high cost is making it almost impossible for some to maintain their homes.

Lame lead blind

KARACHI (UPI) — The lame in Pakistan are leading the blind to try to redeem President Bhutto's promise of a new society.

Sixty blind men led by a cripple recently marched from the Adult Blind Center to the home of the senior adviser to the governor of Sind to protest management of the center. The crippled spokesman said that because of traditional neglect the nation's disabled persons were on the verge of starvation.

State highway projects suspended until fall

BURLEY — Work has been suspended on the state highway projects, Oakley-Burley and Barrymore Junction to Rupert.

They will not be resumed until fall when the irrigation water is turned out of the canals.

Howard L. Johnson, Shoshone district engineer, said traffic went on these bridges Wednesday.

Specifically, this project calls for construction of two concrete bridges over B-1 and B-2 canals on State Highway 24, extending two minor structures and replacing two pipe culverts on State Highway 27, Oakley-Burley, and widening two structures, replacing one structure on State Highway 25 (Barrymore Junction-Rupert).

Work is progressing on the east Burley to Raft River rest areas, Interstate 80N and 15W. Slopes are being finished, seeding put in and guard rails installed along with installation of sign foundations. Minor traffic interferences are to be expected from time to time.

Work will start Monday on painting the Overland Bridge State Highway 27 and Heyburn Bridge US 30.

Nader files suit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Ralph Nader aide filed suit Saturday to force release of confidential Agriculture Department reports on conditions in intrastate meat processing plants in Missouri, Nebraska, Massachusetts, Kentucky, Ohio and Texas.

The suit naming Agriculture Secretary Earl B. Butz as a defendant was filed in U. S. District Court here by Peter H. Schuck, an attorney associated with Nader's Center for the Study of Responsive Law.

The documents he sought are used by the department in determining whether state-operated meat inspection programs are "equal to" the federal inspection standards.

Under the 1967 Wholesome Meat Act, states are permitted to retain inspection control for intrastate plants, which sell products only within the borders of their states, but only as long as the state inspection system is equal to that of the federal government. Otherwise, the department must take over a state's intrastate inspection program.

Schuck and a colleague, Harrison Weifford, charged recently that many state-operated inspection programs are "inferior to the federal program" although the Agriculture Department has given them "equal to" ratings.

Nixon urges expansion of free food programs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon urged Congress Saturday to authorize expansion of lunch and breakfast programs for poor children by $64.5 million and to approve a new formula to encourage school year participation by reluctant localities.

Nixon's proposals, to be submitted in detail to Congress on Monday, would allocate $50 million for free or cut-rate lunches this summer, an increase of $25 million.

It also would boost to $92.5 million the breakfast program in the 1972-73 school year. The proposed increase of $19.5 million would provide breakfasts for 3,000 additional needy children, Nixon said.

The increased financing would come from other Agriculture Department budget sources to avoid a boost in over-all government spending, Nixon said.

The new formula, applicable to school year lunches and breakfasts but not to the summer program, would give school districts money according to how many meals they served. The present system

Shoshone sets two programs

SHOSHONE — Two music programs will be held by the Shoshone School this month.

The high school music students will give a pops concert at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the high school building. Ronald Jenkins, instructor, is in charge.

The elementary school will present a music festival at 8 p.m. Thursday under direction of Mrs. Cleova Peterson.

This, too, will be at the high school gymnasium.

allocates funds on a strictly population basis.

Assistant Agriculture Secretary Richard E. Lyng told newsmen the "old payment" system "penalized states that were trying to have the programs grow." Under Nixon's formula, Lyng said, "the more meals they serve the more money they will get."

He said the formula, coupled with the speeding increase, was intended to spread the program to "hard core districts that are not participating," mostly in the West and Northeast.

Lyng said the administration hoped to add a million needy children to the 8.3 million who now get free or reduced price school lunches.

Nixon said the extra money for summer meals would expand the program to all states seeking them if they meet federal criteria.

Back door

SHOSHONE — Patrons of the Shoshone City Library are asked to use the back-door entrance during re-construction of Highway 26.

Mrs. R.G. Neher, chairman of the library board, said since only dirt is left in front of the building, a better approach is the back door.

The kindergarten class of Mrs. Delgiar Hardy is now displaying their work in the children's section of the library.

Blaine to hear requests

HAILEY — The Blaine County Planning and Zoning Board will consider two variance requests at its next meeting May 15.

Joe Goltandia, Ketchum, has requested permission to install three additional trailers in the northwest corner of the J and C Trailer court south of Ketchum.

According to Mollie Hecht, landowner immediately south of the court, a recent survey indicates the property line may have been set from 15 to 20 feet too far north, and that about 10 trailers may be on her property.

A complete survey will be conducted in a few days, Mrs. Hecht said.

State health officials will have to determine whether the water and sewer systems could handle the additional load, according to board member Royce Asher.

Don Aslett, co-owner of the Red Top Motel, has asked to construct 10 more double units. They would resemble the present log units and would conform to the board's proposed commercial use zone for the area, including a planned frontage road, Aslett said.

Swimming pool data sought at Shoshone

SHOSHONE — Questionnaires are circulating in Shoshone and other areas of Lincoln County regarding a swimming pool and recreation district formation.

Several residents of the county have expressed interest in renewing efforts to build a municipal, or county-sponsored, swimming pool. Some committees are planning fund-raising projects at this time.

The questionnaire asks "Do you agree with the efforts to construct a county swimming pool in Shoshone?" and "Would you favor the formation of a county-wide recreation district for the purpose of maintaining and operating a swimming pool for Lincoln County?"

Howard E. Adkins, an attorney, tells of the legal aspect of creating such a district. He said signatures of 20 per cent of the voters in the proposed boundary could be followed by an election. If brought to an election, it must carry by 50 per cent. Three district commissioners would be appointed by the governor. Limitations on tax levies would be placed at two mills. If, for instance, the whole county was included, there would be $15,000 to be raised on a county valuation of $7.89 million.

It might be possible that any mill levy would be used for only maintenance and management of the pool if it could be built by other funds.

If a district election failed, it would be a year before another election on the same project could be held.

Farm scenes of old buildings and horses working in fields, remembered from her childhood are favorite subjects. She sketches pheasants, ducks and geese seen from picture windows, to be done in oil later.

Mrs. Gardner said Indians are also excellent subjects, they have character and color. She paints portraits from photographs, a number of them on velvet.

She has shown her work in a number of Magic Valley towns including Gooding, Wendell, Jerome and Twin Falls. Her first showing was at Fritchman's Art Gallery in Boise. She is currently showing at Village Inn and the Art Mart in Boise and Crimson Steer in Reno.

Oswald: "Artificial conventions are essential to good bridge. You should play some as a matter of course. Blackwood as a starter. On the other hand, you don't whip a good horse to death. You don't need to use Blackwood in all your slam bidding."

Jim: "The first thing to learn about Blackwood is that it is primarily a method of keeping out of slams. Take the South hand as an example. South is interested in a slam the moment his partner opens the bidding. When his partner's second bid is a jump raise in hearts, South knows that the material is there for a slam. All that matters is the number of aces held by his partner.

Oswald: Our example is a classic Blackwood hand. South has 16 points in high cards, plus a lot of distributional points. He knows the total partnership count has to be in the grand-slam zone. More important, he knows that he can set the final contract the moment his partner tells him how many aces he holds.

Jim: He is mighty disappointed when the best North can do is to bid five hearts in response to the Blackwood call. Not that North doesn't have a sound three heart bid but rather that South expected North to show up with three or even four aces for his bid. He is also happy that Blackwood has kept him out of trouble.

Twin Falls Public Library

TWIN FALLS — The book, "Incredible Deborah" by Cora Cheney is the story of a young girl who joined the Continental Army to fight the British.

Deborah's father died when she was very young and the family was forced to separate. Her deep desire to learn instilled in her the determination to travel.

Women in the 18th Century were not allowed to travel alone, so she dressed up as a man and enlisted in the army. During the two years Deborah served in the military she was wounded twice. Through all that she was not suspected of being a woman. She was finally detected due to a very serious illness.

The author did extensive research and has explained how she wove in some incidents to make the story more interesting.

Deborah did marry and she was one of our first lady lecturers.

DEAR ABBY: I am absolutely furious with you! What do you mean saying that you thought parents had the "right" to search their children's drawers and closets and go to all lengths necessary to find out whether their children were involved with drugs?

I am 16, and it is my "right" as a citizen to do what I want with my body. And if I want to take drugs my parents have no business spying on me to find out whether I am or not.

I have always thought you were reasonably fair minded, but not any more. And it won't do you any good to retract your statement because I am thru reading your column.

FORMER READER

DEAR ABBY: Re the letter in your column relating to the difficulties of getting an arrest stricken from the record after an acquittal.

In Illinois, the procedure is simple: One files a petition with the Chief Judge of the Criminal Court, and states simply that he was arrested and acquitted and desires to have his arrest record expunged.

Not only will his arrest be expunged, but if his fingerprints and photographs were taken, those will be returned by the Chief of Police and absolutely no record is kept of the arrest.

DEAR MR. E.: Congratulations to the progressive State of Illinois!

Nancy Gardner, Murtaugh, was bridesmaid, and Don Barnes, Murtaugh, was best man.

A three-tiered white cake centered the reception table. Lavender flowers enhanced the beauty of the cake between the pedestal colonades. It was topped with lovebirds nestled in lace.

The cake was made and decorated by Mrs. DeVon Anderson, Murtaugh. The cake was placed on a mirror and centered the lace covered table. Mrs. William Linton, Pocatello, and Mrs. Derold Mabey, Burley, aunts of the bride, served the cake and punch.

Guests included family and very close friends from Hansen, Murtaugh, Twin Falls, Pocatello, Burley and Oakley. The bride was honored with three showers.

The new bride will finish her senior year at Hansen, and the bridegroom will finish his school at Murtaugh. They plan to live in Murtaugh.

OVER 65 ONLY: ENROLLMENT PERIOD ENDS MIDNIGHT THURS., MAY 11, 1972

Here's where most folks over 65 find out...too late... what Hospital Medicare does not pay...

Now, for just $1 for your first month's protection, you can examine 'on approval' this sensible, affordable Plan! New Elder-Care® pays you up to $50,000 Tax-Free Cash! It covers every hospital expense that Hospital Medicare leaves out, except the initial deductible!

- only $3 a month after the first month!
- no age limit ■ no health questions
- all pre-existing conditions are covered!

Your first month is only $1. And you get your dollar back if you're not completely satisfied.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

MEDICARE COSTS JUMP AGAIN!

Now You Must Pay 13 1/3% MORE!

Effective January 1, 1972, Hospital Medicare payments have been reduced again by law. This means your annual out-of-pocket costs will rise very sharply. Up to $1,100 a year! ELDER-CARE owners need not worry! This Plan will pay for all hospital bills to cover increased hospital charges. A $100 deductible for the first month. Today your total deductible is $100 (up from $50). After the 60th day you must pay $1 per day (up from $1/2) and your lifetime reserve contribution is now $1 per day (up from $1/2). These continuing annual increases make it more important than ever to protect yourself at a day's notice. Send your Application NOW before the postmark deadline.

MEDICARE IS GREAT—BUT!
Wake up friends. Blessing that it is, please realize that Medicare isn't everything many folks suppose. It has Gaps! deductibles, percentages and charges that you must pay out of your own pocket. And recent changes have increased those Gaps. The Government pays less and you pay more! What a shock to find this out too late. Today, even with Hospital Medicare, a long siege of illness in the hospital could leave you with crippling financial debts.

DON'T LEARN THE FACTS THE HARD WAY!
After you're laid up, it's a little late. Under Medicare today you pay the initial deductible for each "benefit period." That's the first $68 of hospital expenses. Then from the 61st day of the period you must pay $17-a-day. After 90 days this increases to $34-a-day. $238 a week. $1020.00 a month that you must pay. Plus you start dipping into your Hospital Medicare 60-day "Lifetime Reserve." And after your Lifetime Reserve is used up, Hospital Medicare won't pay you a cent for the rest of that period. Think what a long spell of illness could mean the slow kind that older folks get more than anyone else! You could be stuck with unpaid bills that could wipe out retirement savings... force you into borrowing (at today's rates)... selling your home... even turning to your children for charity!

ARE YOUR PARENTS OVER 65? READ THIS!
Right now you have an opportunity to help protect your parents against today's skyrocketing hospital bills. A long illness can easily exhaust their savings. That's why we urge you to bring this plan to their attention immediately... and help them get $50,000 worth of lifetime maximum benefit. Or better still, just complete the form below for them using your address and we will send the Policy and payment notices to you.

THIS PLAN IS A MUST FOR ANYONE OVER 65
If you feel Medicare Gaps are confusing, you're right... they are! Worse, they're expensive! Part "A" of Medicare is Hospital Insurance, designed primarily for in-hospital costs. Part "B" is Medical Insurance, for doctors and medical service bills. This Plan supplements only Part "A" to protect you for every eligible Medicare hospital expense that Hospital Medicare doesn't pay. After your initial deductible, you're covered for all the Hospital Medicare Gaps... 100%... with no time limit... no matter how much or how often you collect... up to $50,000.00 tax-free cash! And no matter how Hospital Medicare Gaps widen in the future, you needn't worry. This Plan fills in automatically. There's no finer Plan in America today!

MEDICARE GAPS KEEP GETTING WIDER
The law requires that Hospital Medicare costs must be reviewed each year and if hospital charges change significantly, the money that patients contribute must be adjusted the following year. Well, it's no secret, it's already happened three times in '70, in '71 and again in '72. In fact, hospital costs have TRIPLED in the past few years. And are still increasing! There's little doubt about it. You'll wind up paying even more. That's why our Elder-Care Hospital Plan makes so much sense!

THE COMPANY BEHIND YOUR ELDER CARE
Elder-Care is issued to citizens over 65 no matter what their present state of health by Union Fidelity Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia, a progressive old line legal reserve company. Union Fidelity is recommended by both Best's and Dun's, the insurance industry's leading independent rating authorities.

EVERY GAP IS ANOTHER PROBLEM FOR YOU:

The Social Security Administration estimates that Medicare will pay less than half of your total health cost! That's why this Elder-Care Plan is so vital. It assures you virtually complete hospital coverage no matter how much Hospital Medicare pays (or doesn't pay) in the future. It assures you will never be saddled (or saddle anyone else) with bankrupting hospital bills. It's like having up to $50,000 set aside against a rainy day!

ANY CONDITION YOU HAVE NOW IS COVERED NOW!

There are no tricky "catches" or "waiting periods." All pre-existing conditions (physical illness you've had or have right now) are covered in any recognized hospital, from the moment your policy is in force. Here are the only exceptions: Federal or State Government facilities, mental institutions, sanitariums for alcoholics or drug addicts, and geriatric extended-care facilities like nursing or rest homes. Loss paid by Workmen's Compensation or Occupational Disease Laws is not covered. Your plan cannot be cancelled as long as you pay your premiums, and the $3 rate cannot be raised, unless a general rate adjustment up or down applies to everyone in your state.

SEND $1 FOR YOUR FIRST MONTH'S PROTECTION

while you examine your Elder-Care Plan. It's yours with a money-back guarantee. Examine it carefully in the privacy of your own home. There's no "fine print." Show it to any trusted advisor. Indeed, show it to your doctor. He knows about the limitations of Hospital Medicare. He'll tell you how valuable this Plan really is. Even then, if you're not completely satisfied, return the policy within 30 days and we'll promptly refund your money... no ifs, ands or buts! It makes sense to protect yourself now for such a low amount... while you make up your mind! If you decide to continue, your regular monthly premium is only $3 per person. A small premium for so much peace of mind!

ENROLL AT ONCE - NOW IS THE TIME!

Everyone over 65 automatically qualifies during this mass enrollment period... with no medical questions asked! The closing date, however, is definite! We cannot accept application after the postmark deadline. So please don't hesitate. You are protected by an ironclad 30-day money-back guarantee. Mail your Application Form with only $1, regardless of the number of people to be covered, before the midnight deadline. Act now while the thought is uppermost in your mind!

9 IMPORTANT QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

- Q If I have Medicare, why do I need this Plan?
A Medicare, with its maximum limitations, was never designed to cover all hospital expenses. But the amount you pay gets bigger! $12 a day is up from $15! $34 a day is up from $30! Where will it all end? These widening Gaps could cost you thousands of dollars. But Elder-Care relieves your hospital money worries up to $50,000 security in tax-free cash!
- Q How do I collect my benefits once I'm in the hospital?
A There's a simple form to be completed by you and your doctor... and that's all there is to it. As soon as your request reaches us, it gets immediate attention. Folks all over the country have praised the speed and efficiency of Union Fidelity's claim service.
- Q Can I enroll if I'm not in good health?
A Yes, you can. There are no medical questions to answer. No matter how poor your health, any health condition you have right now is covered. There is no waiting period. And of course, any accident or future health condition is covered too.
- Q Can you cancel me, or raise my rates if I go in and out of the hospital, or if I collect thousands of dollars?
A Absolutely not! Your Plan cannot be canceled as long as you keep up your low premiums, no matter how often or how much you collect... up to the $50,000 maximum. And you'll never pay more than $3 per month, unless a general rate adjustment is made on all policies of this class (Form 1-919) in your state.
- Q Does this plan cover doctor bills?
A No. Private doctor bills are not covered by Elder-Care, because they do NOT come under the hospital part of Medicare. For protection against doctor bills, make sure you're signed up for the Medical part of Medicare through the Government.

- Q How can it cost only $3 a month?
A Because the initial deductible is not insured, that's still your responsibility. Without this one provision Elder-Care would be too costly to afford. With it, however, this Plan is exceedingly reasonable. Hospital Medicare covers most expenses in the first 60 day hospital benefit period. Then Elder-Care fills in the rest of the hospital benefit Gaps. 100% provides up to $50,000 long-range protection. In addition, mass enrollment by mail only plus "no" medical questions to protect keeps policy issue costs at a minimum. And, since no salesman will call, there are no sales commission costs. All these savings are passed on to you!
- Q If I have other hospital insurance, doesn't it cover these Medicare Gaps?
A Unfortunately no! Many other plans specify exclusions, limitations and limitations on Medicare. They don't bridge all the Gaps, particularly as benefits are adjusted. But with Elder-Care you know that hospital Gaps are covered automatically, with up to $50,000 protection. There's no waiting period, you're covered immediately for pre-existing conditions. And note... this Plan pays in addition to any other coverage you may have. It's your money to spend as you wish.
- Q What other advantages are there to joining this Plan right now?
A During this limited period there is no red tape of any kind. Just fill in the simple Application Form here. And you enjoy a 30-day approval guarantee! You're protected for only $1 while you examine your Elder-Care Policy. If you're not completely satisfied return the Policy within 30 days and we'll promptly refund your money. In the meantime, you're still protected!
- Q How do I enroll?
A Complete the Application Form at left and mail with only $1 for the first month's protection. Your spouse, if over 65, may also be enrolled on this form. But do not send more money! $1 covers you both during your 30-day approval. Be sure to sign your name and mail before the postmark deadline.

Jerome citizens discuss schools

By CHARLOTTE BELL
Times-News writer

JEROME — A citizen's group interested in Jerome County education discussed today what it thinks school board top priorities should be.

The group recently proposed to the Jerome School Board Trustees the addition of new classrooms to Jefferson Elementary and the closing of Lincoln Grade school.

Leroy Craig, group chairman, said, "In view of the possibility of another manufacturing plant locating in Jerome, I feel the committee should check into other possibilities than just the addition onto Jefferson."

"Generally we are going to ask the school board tonight to plan towards September for what the district needs. He said the district is desperately going to need new classrooms.

Craig said the committee will start the ball rolling and work towards educating the public. Craig said he did not know if the committee would ask for a high school or a grade school, but he felt the public would be for whatever the committee comes up with.

We are not going to design a school and tell the school board, here it is. The basic idea is that last time the school board asked for a bond election for a new high school they had to first decide on the school and then present it to the voters. We intend to reverse this and first find out what type of school the voters want and then present it to the school board."

Gordon Hollifield, School trustee, who was opposed to the high school bond election and has been opposed to the addition onto Jefferson, said today the increase in the number of school students in Jerome is still a matter of speculation.

"This is still a big factor in determining whether we should use the addition of a new building for district expansion," Hollifield said. In his opinion the school board should not make any fast decisions until "we are absolutely certain this new plant is coming and what type of factor we may expect because of it."

Dale Vining, chairman of the school board, said he had no comment to make other than the board will definitely have to consider what the growth factor would be if the plant decides to locate in Jerome.

Other trustees were not available for comment.

Budget hearings, votes set for valley schools

The Valley district's budget proposal is up 7.4 per cent over last year, again mostly for teacher salaries. The budget is proposed at $429,644 for the 1971-72 school year.

Camas County also will hold a school budget hearing at 8 p.m. tonight in the school. The budget there is proposed at $201,657 or about $17,363 below last year's budgeted amount. One of two districts in the area to show a decrease, the amount this year was lowered after final payments were made on a 20-year school improvement bond issue.

In Shoshone, the hearing is scheduled for 8 p.m. tonight in the high school building. Proposed budget for the coming year is $367,494, only a slight increase over the $363,262 budget of last year. School officials say this is for salaries and includes a slight increase in the hot lunch program. The plant facility fund in Shoshone is down slightly this year.

Richfield, where a decrease is also shown in the proposed budget, has a hearing scheduled tonight at 8 p.m. in the elementary school office. The proposed budget is $146,016 compared to $158,171 for last year. An $8,000 reduction was made possible by final payment last year on the district's bonded indebtedness.

Budgets have already been adopted in Jerome, Filer, Cassia, Gooding and several other districts. Blaine County has not set a hearing.

Hagerman schools have scheduled a budget hearing for Friday at 8 p.m. in the school offices. The budget is scheduled for $254,933, about $30,000 more than the present year, depending on an enrollment factor which would give the district an additional approximately $30,000 in state revenue.

Hagerman voters were balloting today on five school trustees following a district wide change in zone boundaries. Eleven candidates are in the running and polls remain open until 8 p.m.

Trustee elections are scheduled for Tuesday in Minidoka, and Filer while Murtaugh has a mill levy election Tuesday.

In Minidoka only one seat is up for election with two candidates running. Filer has five trustee positions to fill but all candidates are running unopposed.

Murtaugh will vote Tuesday on a six mill maintenance and operation levy, to bring in about $18,000. Polls open at noon and close at 7 p.m. with voting in the high school office for Twin Falls county residents and the Robert Alfred home in Cassia County.

Burley ministers conference ends

BURLEY — A friendship luncheon Sunday ended the three-day area conference of the Stonecroft Ministers.

The conference, conducted at the Ponderosa Inn, was attended by over 250 persons from Idaho, Oregon and Utah. The group is also known as the Christian Business and Professional Women as well as the Christian Women's Club.

The noon luncheon was preceded by a worship service with messages from group ministers and Mr. and Mrs. John O'Malley.

Featured speaker at the Saturday banquet was Pat Matriciano, Berkeley, Calif., well-known coast sports figure, who is also co-chairman of the Berkeley-based Christian World Liberation Front. This is a Christian organization teaching radicals, street people and students with the life-changing message of Jesus Christ, he said.

Blaine ruling made

HAILEY — Blaine County Deputy Sheriff Pat Keefer said today the death of A. Joseph (Joe) Harris, 25, Hailey, has been ruled as suicide.

The man was found in his Hailey Apartment at about 7 p.m. Saturday by a neighbor, Karolyn Larson, who told officers she heard a gun shot and went to investigate.

Harris was taken to the Sun Valley Hospital where he died about an hour later. Keefer said a pistol was found on the floor beside the body and the man had apparently been talking on the telephone when the shot was fired.

Keefer said no autopsy will be held. Keefer said the bullet entered the man's right temple.

Wendell winner

HOLDING TROPHY he won for grand prize in the Wendell High School Science Fair is Tony Rost. He re-created Wendell as it was in 1909 for his project.

Wendell in '09 takes fair prize

WENDELL — Tony Rost was awarded the Grand Prize Trophy for his model of "Wendell 1909" at the annual High School Science Fair in the gym Friday Night.

Other first place division trophies went to Nikki Holmes and Betty Trousion, biology, and Vickie Behrens, history.

Second place winners were Lesje Isaacs and Joy Askew, biology, and Brett Holmes and Don McCloud, history.

Donna Hillis, Mark Miller and Danny Mason received third place trophies in biology and history respectively.

Rost had re-created Wendell as it was in 1909 with old records, newspapers, and photographs of the era as his text. In addition to his model of Wendell he had a first edition of the Wendell Irrigationist on display.

He listed all of the first businesses and had dummed a newspaper ad for each that he had copied from old issues of the Irrigationist. He said that he was amazed that Wendell had so many businesses at that time, about three times as many as it has now.

Miss Holmes' and Miss Trousion's project was an experiment using static electricity and color to train fish to respond to food.

Miss Behrens' project was drawing of modes of transportation from 1790-1930. Miss Isaacs and Miss Askew win with their drawings of the human anatomy.

Holmes and McCloud used Chief Joseph as their theme. They illustrated his flight from White Bird into Canada from the U.S. Army.

Miss Hillis' project involved experiments with plants in relation to different environments. Miller and Mason's project was a model of the Wright Brothers plane.

Mrs. Gaye Petersen, adviser, said the fair was a success and even though each student didn't receive a trophy for their efforts it was part of their semester grade.

Several hundred people viewed the projects. Judges were Charles Miller, Kot Jones, Ray Herd and Jerry Mowry.

State PEO meet begins in T.F.

TWIN FALLS — Registration for the 57th annual state convention of Idaho's P.E.O. Sisterhood began at 1 p.m. today at the Holiday Inn.

Mrs. John Walters, Boise, presided over the opening and tea at the Holiday Inn.

A Memorial Hour presented by Chapter AH, Filer, was to be held at 4:15 p.m. at the First Baptist Church with Juanita Gasser, state first vice-president, in charge.

The prelude and postlude will be played by a string quartet composed of Clare Gibbs and Marion Adkins, violin, Claire Theener, viola, and Helen Corner, cello. Lois Lehrman is serving as organist.

Mrs. David Mead sang "The Lord's Prayer" with an interpretive choir made up of Doll Smith, Alice Nungester, Betty Lou Wright, Virginia Carlson and Valerie Quesnell.

The P.E.O. Projects dinner and program is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. tonight at the Blue Lakes Country Club. Valerie Quesnell will serve as organist.

Dorcas Revelli, state second vice president, will welcome those attending. The P.E.O. Projects will be presented by Dorcas Revelli, Marilyn Crutcher, Juanita Gasser and Margaret Carter.

"The Vogues," a P.E.O. Choir will sing appropriate songs.

Tuesday's schedule includes the official opening at 8:45 a.m. at the Holiday Inn with a flag ceremony. Officers reports will be given during the morning session, followed by a noon luncheon at the Turf Club.

Harley said, "I feel my age is an advantage because I will be able to identify with both students and patrons of the District." He also said he is interested in seeing the district expand its present on-the-job training so all Wendell students can use the program for career exploration if they wish.

T F legislators have power grip

In addition, the Joint Finance Appropriations Committee managed to bring CSI under the umbrella of funding by the Permanent Building Fund, which led to an unprecedented appropriation for a new CSI Vocational Education building.

CSI, along with the smaller North Idaho Junior College was the only non-state institution ever given money from the state building fund.

In another display of political muscle, the joint committee and the legislature gave CSI an additional windfall of over $100,000 a year beginning in Fiscal Year 1972.

One hundred per cent of the money for CSI's Area Vocational School was provided by the state, removing the burden of supporting the vocational program from the junior college district taxpayers.

Previously CSI had to pay about 30 per cent of the money for the program from local sources.

The change was for only CSI and North Idaho Junior College. The change shifted nearly all of that year's increased vocational appropriation statewide to the two junior colleges, most to CSI.

Other Magic Valley projects have been funded. The Perrine Memorial Bridge replacement was approved at the latest legislative session, a state-funded Child Development Center was established at Twin Falls, and the Twin Falls City-County Airport was given the bulk of state funds available for its emergency repairs.

With the state's purse opened for Twin Falls County projects to such an extent in the past, legislators from other sections of the state may well object to addition of a second Twin Falls Co-chairman of the Finance Appropriations Committee.

The prospect of allied co-chairmen may prompt state Democrats to put up strong opponents to unseat both Sen. High and Rep. Roberts.

Sen. High is known to be a high priority target for Democratic opposition in this year's elections, following his opposition to a number of Gov. Cecil Andrus' financial proposals.

Andrus was reported particularly irked at Sen. High's reluctance to accept Andrus' prediction that low state revenues would require additional tax increases.

High balked, arguing before a special joint House-Senate caucus, that Andrus had predicted and the tax increases would be unnecessary.

In a final compromise arrangement following a prolonged deadlock between supporters of High and Andrus, the Legislature moved about two thirds of the way toward High's projections.

2 run at Rupert

RUPERT — The May 23 trustee election for the Minidoka County School District will see two candidates vying for the single seat to be filled.

Sherrill Stallings, chairman of the board of trustees, will be seeking a second term. He will be opposed by Lloyd Thaege.

Both Stallings and Thaege filed nominating petitions prior to the Friday afternoon deadline. They are both farmers.

The School district patrons will also vote on a five mill plant facilities levy in the May 23 election, with patrons throughout the district voting on the levy. Only those in Zone 5, the eastern portion of the county, however, will vote in the trustee vote.

Cassia hailstorm causes no damage

BURLEY — A hailstorm west of Burley Sunday afternoon apparently did no damage to crops.

The storm began about 3 p.m. 12 miles west of Burley, and was about three miles wide. The middle of the storm appeared to be near the Conrad Ranches on U.S. 30.

Howard Conrad said today the hail did not do any damage. When he measured it at his headquarters, it was four inches deep and contained a good deal of moisture, he said. Conrad said this was the first hail he had encountered since farming in this area.

A hard rain followed the hail.

Red Cross drawing planned at Buhl

BUHL — The Red Cross Bloodmobile will make its semi-annual visit to Buhl Tuesday, according to Ralph Assendrup, Buhl Chapter, blood chairman.

The goal for the drawing is 100 pints. The bloodmobile equipment will be set up by Buhl high school boys under the direction of Frank Charlton, school principal.

The canteen will be operated by the Deep Creek Grange. Nursing assignments are under the direction of Mrs. George Harvey. Beta Sigma Phi members and Jay-Cettes will serve as receptionists and on the telephone reminder program.

Charter night

RICHFIELD — Donald Botcher, Twin Falls, and Bill Hallack, Boise, spoke to Richfield men and wives at the annual charter night observance in Richfield Saturday.

They spoke concerning the Lions Club eyesight transplant program. Botcher has had two successful eye transplants himself. He explained how the operation is done and how donors are found.

Hallack is the state chairman of the Lions Eyesight Foundation.

An auction was held and $71 was raised which will go to the Eyesight Funds.

Rupert auction net high

RUPERT — The annual Holstein Black and White sale held Saturday at the county fairgrounds here, brought an average $1,130 for the 30 animal consignment.

It was believed to be an all-time record for the state in Holstein dairy sales, officials said.

Three-way race at Wendell

WENDELL — A three-way race for trustee in Zone 3 is offered voters in the Wendell school election Tuesday.

Vying for the three-year term are Ervin Rast, Vard McHan, and Tom Harley. All the candidates are engaged in farming. John Newbrough, incumbent, is not seeking re-election.

Patrons also will be asked to renew a five mill maintenance and operation levy. The levy has been approved the past two years in addition to the 30 mills levied for maintenance and operation.

Polls will be open from noon until 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Wendell High School. Only residents of Zone 3 may vote in the trustee election.

All three candidates have said if elected they will attend all trustee meetings during their term of office.

Rast, who has lived in the West Point area for 45 of his 56 years, has belonged to the West Point Grange for 32 years. He is a past master and now serves as treasurer. He has been a member of the Gooding County Farm Bureau for 23 years.

Rast said, "I have three grown children and six grandchildren who are in school. Therefore I am interested in education. If elected I will work for the people of my zone.

Before making any promises I will try to become informed and do my best to see the district has

"quality education" with a wise use of available tax monies."

McHan, the father of a first grader and three pre-school children, said "If elected I will strive for more vocational courses at the junior and senior high level because not all of our young people are suited for college."

McHan feels he should represent the patrons of his zone by trying to find out what is actually happening in school, as well as defining the needs of the district. A graduate of the Wendell schools, he is active in the LDS church. He raises beef cattle and has a dairy herd in addition to farming.

Harley, 22, is a graduate of Wendell schools and the College of Southern Idaho, Twin Falls. He is associated with his father in farming and the dairy business. He attended vocational agriculture classes but found them limited and said a course in basic electric wiring, carpentry, mechanics, plumbing and woodworking would have given him a lot of practical experience.

Harley said, "I feel my age is an advantage because I will be able to identify with both students and patrons of the District." He also said he is interested in seeing the district expand its present on-the-job training so all Wendell students can use the program for career exploration if they wish.

NEW YORK (UPI)—TPO Inc. says warning signs have been flashing for the past two weeks. "The technical deterioration during the past two weeks has been more severe than at any time since the advance began last November," the firm adds. It sees a further correction of the Dow Jones industrial average (DJIA) to the 880-890 area before the market regains its steam.

Hoppin, Watson Inc. notes emotional issues at play on the stock market. Investor concern with the Vietnam War, Price Commission rollbacks, and the election are causing "consolidation" periods, it adds. Still, the smart investor will not allow such consolidations to "scare him, and will build on periods of weakness, it says.

Idaho leads in car clean-up

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho leads the nation in removal of junked cars, the State Highway Department said today.

In a monthly publication, the department said, most of the credit for the program's success can be attributed to efforts of auto salvage dealers, scrap processors, the Air Pollution Control Commission and the Health Department and Highway Department.

The department said credit also is due other county and civic organizations.

Bruce White, chief right-of-way agent for the department said 83 of the 129 junkyards within 1,000 ft. of the interstate and primary highways of Idaho either have been screened or removed and restrictive easements obtained.

Department personnel at present are negotiating on 36 of the remaining 46 yards for screening or clearing, he said. "Although screening is an acceptable method of isolating or hiding the junk bodies from the traveling motorist, the ultimate goal is complete removal of this unsightly solid waste," the department said.

Another
Dunkirk
warned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., said Saturday American forces in Vietnam face the prospect of "a Dunkirk-like evacuation under fire" unless President Nixon negotiates with the North Vietnamese.

In a statement issued here, Cranston said the 69,000 remaining U.S. ground forces were in peril, protected only by a South Vietnamese army which has shown itself unable to contain the North Vietnamese.

"The slow, gradual reduction of our ground forces under the Vietnamization program has left our remaining men far more vulnerable," he said.

"Standing between them and a numerically superior North Vietnamese force is a disorganized and demoralized South Vietnamese army. Large numbers of our men may come under direct military attack — and possible encirclement — if the South Vietnamese military situation continues to deteriorate."

Recycle line

NEW YORK (UPI) — The nation's first "hot line" for citizens wishing to recycle used bottles and cans has been installed in Los Angeles, Calif., the Glass Container Manufacturers Institute reports.

All the citizen has to do is pick up the phone and dial "R-E-C-L-A-I-M" (which is the same as dialing 733-5246). The voice on the other end will be that of Mayor Sam Yorty, giving the locations of reclamation centers where used glass bottles and jars, metal cans and plastic milk bottles will be received for recycling.

Question from T. D., Twin Falls: I have a silver coin, about the size of a half dollar. On one side is a man's head, and around the head these words: "Georgivs VI D. G. BR. OMN. Rex. F. D. IND IMP."

On the back at the top it says "Florin," then there is a shield with a crown on it and a kangaroo on one side and what looks like an ostrich on the other. Underneath it says 1939, Australia.

What can you tell me about this and how much is it worth to a collector?

Answer: Your coin is the standard issue "florin" of Australia. Its collector value, in brand new condition, is about $1. Exchange value is about 50 cents — however, the denomination "florin" is obsolete, since Australia is now on the decimal system.

Incidentally, the inscription around the head reads, "George the Sixth, by the Grace of God King over all Britain, Protector of the Faith, Emperor of Indian."

From L. A., Burley: I have a small copper coin which has a woman's head on one side and the words "Republique Francaise" around it.

On the other side are the following words, "Un Centime 1851" and underneath this a large letter "A." I would like to know about this coin.

Answer: Your coin is from France, issued under the Second Republic, from 1848 until 1851. Collector value of an "extremely fine" coin is approximately 20 cents. It has no other value, being obsolete.

From D. R., Twin Falls: I have a coin I would like to find out about. It is light in weight, and shiny. There is a woman's head on one side, with what looks like wings in her hair. Around this it says "Republique Francaise, Union Francaise" and the date is 1948.

The back has a sailboat on it, with some kind of wreath below the sailboat. On one side of the wreath is a large "2" and on the other side "Fr's."

Above the sail boat it says "Saint Pierre Et Miquelon." Where is this coin from? What is its value? Maybe it is not a coin because it looks like play money.

Answer: You have a two-franc piece from the islands of Saint Pierre and Miquelon, located off the southwest coast of Newfoundland. The islands belong to France and the coinage is French.

The "franc" is worth about 19 cents, United States Exchange, and collector value of this coin is about 35 cents, brand new. It is made from aluminum which gives it the light weight.

From T. T., Buhl: I have a small copper coin about the size of a one-cent piece. On one side it says, "J. S. Queeby, Dealer in Dry Goods and Notions." The other side has a wreath with a large star in it. Is this a coin? It appears to be old.

Answer: You have a Civil War token. During the Civil War small change was scarce, and a good many merchants issued their own money. It was never legal tender, but did circulate as money. There are thousands of these tokens still in existence.

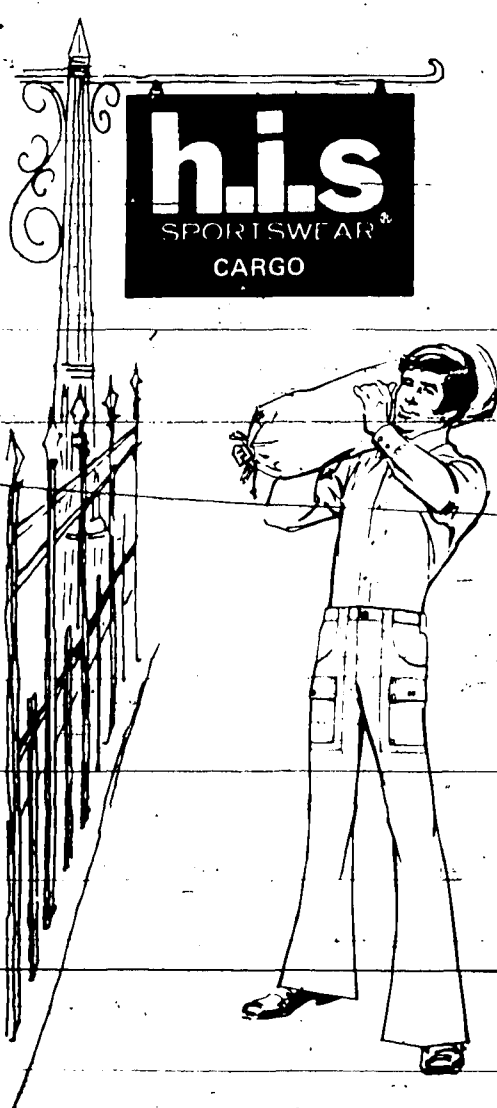

The particular one you have came from Peru, Ind., and is number 740B, in Fuld's "Guide to Civil War Store Card Tokens." The value of this piece is about $1.25, if the condition is "very fine." Few of the Civil War tokens are worth much money.

Questions on coins and currency should be sent to The Money Box, c/o The Times-News, Twin Falls, Idaho 83301.

Safe aspirin

WASHINGTON (UPI) — By August 15, all packages for aspirin and products containing aspirin must be designed to be hard for children to open. This is according to requirements set by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) in February.

FDA said that although accidental ingestion of aspirin has decreased sharply in recent years, aspirin still is the leading cause of poisoning of children under five. This list of aspirin-containing products includes: powder preparations, suppositories, chewing gum, effervescent tablets and cold pills.

Just right for boating, tramping, or hiking plenty of roomy pockets to hold just about everything. A great idea by h.i.s.

Australian said: "This wind doesn't bother you too much if you hit the ball well. It's only when you are playing bad that it bothers you."

Irwin, of Boulder, Colo., was trailed by Doug Sanders, Jack Ewing and Chuck Thorpe, all seven-under 209. Mike Reasor, Tommy Aaron, John Lister and Roy Pace were next at 211.

Irwin, 26, was bothered by the 20-mile-an-hour winds and dropped from a three-stroke lead to two back after Saturday's play with a 67-67-74-208.

"But I don't want to blame the round on that (winds)," Irwin said. "It was a 74 and I'll have to take it."

Peter Tesso, a PGA official, said the 8,998-yard Westwood Country Club course was playable at 7:30 a. m. but the persistent rains resumed. The scheduled 9:05 a. m. tee-off was postponed for almost four hours and called off when more rains came.

- PHILADELPHIA (UPI) - Steve Carlton boosted his record to 5-1 on a seven hitter and recorded his 1,000th career strikeout Sunday to lead Philadelphia to 8-3 victory over the San Francisco Giants and push the Phils into first place for the first time since 1964.

Carlton, traded away by St. Louis owner Gussie Busch because he was holding out for a higher salary, struck out 13. He reached the 1,000 mark with his sixth strikeout and finished the game with a career total of 1,007.

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Milt Wilcox tossed a three hitter to lower his earned run average to .92 Sunday in pitching the Cleveland Indians to a 3-0 victory over the Chicago White Wilcox, now 4-2 for the season, struck out seven and talked two in pitching his second shutout of the season. The victory gave the Indians six victories in their last seven games. Wilcox was obtained in a winter deal with Cincinnati.

Yamaha racers win top honors

TWIN FALLS — The international Yamaha racing team ran off with top honors in Evel Knievel's Snake River Motocross, the world's richest, Sunday.

John Weinert, New York, and Gary Jones went one-two in the 250 expert finals and Jones came back to win the 500 expert class. The victories were worth $2,500 each with second going for $1,750. But it was the biggest motocross day in the corporate life of Yamaha, which up to now has found its greatest success in other aspects of motorcycling.

Brad Lackey, 18-year-old sensation from California and a member of the Kawasaki team, figured as the chief challenger for the two events. But on his C-2 in the 250 class, he spun out twice while challenging for the lead and then lost all hope—settling for fourth—when his bike flipped. In the 500 final, Lackey had fortune and misfortune. The misfortune was he became caught in a ditch on track's edge and hit a small boy. Fortunately, while death seemed a possibility, the youngster sustained only a broken leg.

Knievel, in presenting the biggest checks in the sports history, told the riders next year he will sponsor three motocrosses. The first two will be in Utah and Boise and the third, and biggest, at his canyon rim jump site. He will pay $50,000 on that one.

The top 20 250 finishers were J. Weinert, G. Jones, J. Pomeroy, B. Lackey, T. Rapp, M. Runyard, P. Lampu, G. Lindstrom, B. Sass, G. Parker, B. Clements, B. Payne, D. Longcor, R. Staten, K. Fowler, G. Mosler, D. Jones, T. Clark, D. Kaufman and J. Hoover.

The 500 winners were Gary Jones, California; R. Bass, R. Norgaard, T. Hart, R. Thorwaldson, B. Lackey, J. West, D. Packard, B. Cook, M. Anderson, G. Chaplin, G. Lindstrom, B. Fisk, R. Huffman, R. Self, N. Kopp, R. Hershey, B. Torbett, W. Axthelm and J. Cooke.

Skyrocket

UNVEILING THE $200,000 skycycle he'll ride in trying to leap the Snake River Canyon is Evel Knievel, center. The initial thrust of the machine will be provided by steam, generated outside the skycycle and compressed further into a titanium ball just behind Knievel's back rest.

Miss Burgeindt cops Sealy golf

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)— Betty Burgeindt, Caanan, N.Y., bettered par by four strokes Sunday to win the $50,000 Sealy Ladies PGA Classic with a 72-hole score of 282, ten under par.

"In adding a final 69 to her earlier scores of 67-70-76, the 27-year-old Miss Burgeindt earned $10,000 and a new automobile valued at $6,000.

The leader through all four days of the Desert Inn Country Club event, Miss Burgeindt finished four strokes ahead of Kathy Ahern, Denton, Tex., who earned $6,000 for her second place 73-73-70-70—286.

Third place and $4,200 went to Clifford Ann Creed, Alexandria, La., who equalled Sunday's low of 69 for an even par 292. Judy Rankin, Midland, Tex., fell off to a 77 Sunday but managed to pick up fourth money of $3,100 with her one over par 293.

Miss Burgeindt collected birdies on the first, third, 13th, 17th and 18th holes Sunday with putts ranging from four to 20 feet but three-putted the 14th for her only bogey. Her nines were 34-35 against par of 36-37. "I didn't really feel safe until I rapped in a 12-footer for a one-putt par on the 16th," Miss Burgeindt said.

Miss Ahern, who was 23 Sunday, birdied three of the last five holes starting with a chip-in from 25 feet on the 14th, in putting together nines of 36-34. She also birdied the third and bogeyed the sixth hole.

Miss Creed finished with two birdies for her 35-34—69. Her other birds came on the first, fifth and 10th holes. She bogeyed the ninth.

Miss Burgeindt, who won her first LPGA tournament in Birmingham, Ala., two weeks ago, almost doubled her previous 1972 tour earnings of $10,619 in picking up the first prize in the Sealy.

Knievel unveils costly skycycle

Evel Knievel unveiled and partially demonstrated the $200,000 skycycle he'll ride in an attempt to leap Snake River Canyon on July 4, 1973.

There appeared to be considerable more rocketry and ballistics in the skycycle than motorcycle. It is shaped like a small rocket with rear aerilons for stability. It starts on steam pressure and ascends on jet pods attached to the sides. The pods weren't in view in Sunday's showing.

Wedding Kiss Shook Church

Am asked by a bride-groom to be about the nuptial kiss at the altar. Should it be long or short? Hot or cold? Loud or quiet? Sorry, am not qualified to advise. In "The Taming Of The Shrew," however, Mr. Shakespeare describes the following classic wedding kiss which has satisfactorily served as a pattern for centuries: "He took the bride about the neck, and kiss'd her lips with such a clamorous smack that at the parting, all the church did echo."

COME ON, name the American woman with the most bronze tablets cast in her honor. Correct, Sacagawea.

NUMBER four on that list of most popular pies is custard.

IN ONE out of every four of those married couples who are involuntarily childless, the problem is the husband's, the medicos say.

ARE YOU aware you can't sneeze with your eyes open?

WAS NONE other than Lola F. Pasley who noted poetically: "Parking spaces... Every time. Never head... The same way I'm."

MURDER

The murderer is not as fascinating as the murdered, turns out. Study of the records shows half the first degree homicide victims were themselves arrested at one time or another in offenses of violence.

YOU'VE EATEN Post Toasties, but have you ever eaten Elitjah's Manna? That's what C. W. Post first called his famous breakfast cereal. But clergymen from far and wee lambasted that name as blasphemous. So Mr. Post settled for a less titillating trademark.

STATISTICALLY, the people who refuse to watch television in this country -- about 13 per cent -- still outnumber the people who decline to get married -- about 8 per cent.

Is that not a good sign?

QUERIES

Q. "How many baseballs does a major league team use up in a season?"

A. Little better than 10,000, probably.

Q. "WHAT were the last words of that great wardman O. Henry?"

A. "Turn up the lights. I don't want to go home in the dark." Earlier, O. Henry said, "If men knew how women passed the time when they are alone, they'd never marry." But he didn't say why. Why? Have wondered for years.

WHAT the starfish, that salty gourmet, likes best is oysters on the halfshell. So says a marine biologist who has made a study of the dining habits of sea beasts.

NO, THAT report a Boston biologist crossed a giraffe with a swordfish recently to produce a peculiar-looking tree surgeon, is whimsy, mere whimsy.

MICKEY was not the original name of the late Mickey Mouse. Mortimer was. The late Walt Disney picked the moniker, but Mrs. Disney frowned upon it.

Truman observes birthday today

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (UPI) Harry S. Truman observes his 88th birthday content with a quiet life more typical of a plain spoken Missouri haberdasher than the "give-em-hell" President of the United States.

Both Truman and his wife, Bess, 87, are reported in substantially good health, though the years have forced the couple to curtail their activities. The former president avoids public appearances and spends his days reading and taking an occasional drive. Monday will be no different.

Truman also receives occasional visits from the dwindling number of his contemporaries still living, and a few relative newcomers to Democratic politics. The visits are never announced, and none was planned for Monday. But, if being a political year, someone is likely to stop by the old Victorian house at 219 N. Delaware St. to wish the elder statesman a happy birthday.

The most recent visitors were former Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and retired Chief Justice Earl Warren. Warren's visit escaped publicity, but Harriman was accompanied by an entourage of newsmen grown accustomed to 51st State?

Philippine congressional circles are beginning to take a closer look at the activities of the statehood Philippines movement, a group led by a former Filipino congressman that is campaigning to make the Philippines the 51st state in the United States. The movement claims a membership of over five million adult Filipinos and aims for an even bigger membership by 1973 in order to force a plebiscite in the country. Although the claims appear to be exaggerated, some congressmen are beginning to take the movement seriously, no longer regarding it as a joke. One congressman is reported set to demand a government investigation of the statehood movement, particularly its sources of funds for its big-spread, expensive campaign advertisements in Manila newspapers and magazines.

Soviet-Japan Talks:
Look for the Soviet Union and Japan to open their long-delayed talks this year on a World War II peace treaty. For the first time since they occupied Japan's northern islands in 1945, the Soviets have told Japan's conservative government that they are willing to discuss a peace treaty. A World War II pact would involve four small Kuril islands occupied by the Russians but claimed by the Japanese. The U.S. decision to return Okinawa to Japan May 15 apparently forced the Soviets to reconsider their territorial dispute. Best guess is that full-scale Soviet-Japanese peace talks will open before the end of the year.

Seeks New African Ties.
French President Georges Pompidou is reported by Elisee Palace sources to be readying plans for a closer cooperation among Mediterranean nations. He wants to discuss them first with President Habib Bourguiba during the Tunisian president's state visit to Paris June 28-30. Informants say Pompidou will give special treatment to Bourguiba who is the first North African leader to visit France since the end of the Algerian war in 1962. French diplomats noted that Algeria, apparently somewhat disappointed by the results of her economic cooperation with Soviet Russia, has made it known she would be ready to attend a conference of Mediterranean nations.

Mideast Arbitrator?
Israeli Premier Mrs. Golda Meir's visit to Bucharest has stirred speculation that Romania might succeed in bringing Israel and the United Arab Republic together in peace talks where the superpowers have failed. Mrs. Meir has given the go-ahead to Romanian President Nicolae Ceausescu's peace efforts, and the Romanian leader in turn has had recent close contacts with Egyptian President Anwar Sadat during a visit to Cairo. Romania has relations with both sides and as a small nation is less likely to be accused of attempting to further big-power interests. Romania is in the Communist bloc but has conducted a foreign policy largely independent of Moscow.

Water study planned

BOISE (UPI) — The lower Boise River drainage is one of 11 areas in the country selected for a U.S. Army Corps of Engineers study of water and waste water management problems.

Walla Walla District engineer for the corps, Col. Richard M. Connell, said Friday congress has been asked for fiscal 1973 funds, including $97,000 for the Boise project. Studies would begin July 1.

He said under the program the corps would lend its planning expertise to assist state and local entities in taking a "broad look" at problems within an entire drainage area.

Connell said the corps did five pilot studies in the Merriam Basin in New England, Detroit, Cleveland, San Francisco and Chicago last year to examine problems of drainage in urban areas.

He said as a result the corps hoped to expand its studies of urban areas where population and industrial growth have complicated water problems to 11 new areas.

He emphasized it would be a cooperative effort among federal, state and local agencies, but said he was not yet certain what local or state contributions would be needed in the Boise area.

Campaign law gets Smylie OK

MONTEPIER, Idaho (UPI) — U.S. Senate Candidate Robert E. Smylie said Friday the new campaign expenditures law is "headed in the right direction" but it needs improvement.

The former governor told the Montpelier Chamber of Commerce that the law as written is "designed to make it easy for incumbent congressmen and presidents to win re-election."

Smylie, a Republican, said the new law "gives any incumbent an undue advantage, even if he has gained the disapproval of most of his people."

He said, "It would be far better to shorten the time frame in which elections occur and require incumbents to stay at the seat of government to perform the chores for which they were hired than to try to control campaign expenditures by artificial and self-serving protection of anybody's incumbency."

Successful Investing

BY ROGER E. SPEAR

Q — A few years ago when our son was employed there, he urged us to buy shares of Sheller — Globe. We are in our seventies and need income. Would you advise a change at this time? — M.M.

A — The 80 per cent price rise since the end of the year presents an excellent chance for you to sell these Big Board shares. While further appreciation is anticipated over the next several years, the strong performance of the first quarter will undoubtedly be modified. As a replacement, First Mortgage Investors offers a generous indicated return of 9.1 per cent. Listed on the NYSE, FIM was the first mortgage investments trust to qualify under the REIT Act of 1960.

For the year ended Jan. 31, 1972, earnings reached $2.40 a share, an 18 per cent increase year-to-year. In the previous five years earnings have increased an average of 15 per cent compounded annually.

Further earnings gains, reflecting the upturn in construction, are anticipated this year. Since at least 90 per cent of earnings must be paid to shareholders in order to retain tax exemption as an investment trust, dividends should remain generous.

Q — I am 49 and this will be my first venture in the stock market. I am interested in buying Maritime Fruit Carriers (OPF) and would like your opinion on it. — L.G.

A — Company has reported its fifth consecutive year of rising earnings. Sales for 1971 gained 67 per cent to $47.6 million. On a fully diluted basis, earnings rose to $1.49 a share from $1.31 in 1970 despite a 15 per cent increase in shares outstanding. Maritime's 24 automated refrigerated cargo ships are chartered to a Swedish company. By 1974 the fleet will number 41 ships.

Other activities include oil tanker operations, a 75 per cent interest in an oil venture company and insurance. Although shares are trading at 15x last year's earnings, the $80-million market value of common is almost double 1971 sales volume. Long-term debt was $97 million and current ratio less than 1-to-1 at the 1970 year end, not unusual in the transportation industry. Maritime has speculative appeal.

Q — I hold 200 shares of Kaiser Industries (ASE) bought at 12 1/2. Much publicity has been given to the growth potential of CATV. Since a subsidiary is engaged in CATV, do you think the shares should be held? I am interested in both growth and income. — W.P.

A — In March, 1972, Kaiser sold its cable TV business for $9 million. Thus, this potential source of growth is no longer a part of Kaiser's future. Earlier, the parent company sold its 5.5 million shares of American Motors. A $10.3-million loss was incurred on the sale. In addition, a 10 per cent interest in a Los Angeles skyscraper was liquidated netting $4 million. All told $32 million in capital was generated by these sales, bolstering cash flow which stood at $24 million at the year end.

The complex network that comprises the Kaiser empire did not fare well in 1971, nor in 1970 for that matter. The company and its wholly owned divisions reported revenues of $71 million, up 19 per cent. Income, however, was off 23 per cent reflecting lower contributions from partially owned subsidiaries as well as from parent operations. Prospects for this year are clouded by a cutback in orders from Japan, reduced demand for aluminum and competitive pressures in steel markets.

Shares should be switched to Skil Corp., maker of hand power tools. A strong earnings recovery was posted for 1971 and further gains are anticipated this year. Now trading at 21x estimated 1972 earnings, shares yield 2.6 per cent.

Q — I recently retired on a small pension. The few thousand dollars I received then I would like to invest in bonds for safety and income. Could you recommend a few? — A.P.

A — Three recently issued utility bonds which meet your needs are: Arizona Public Service 7.45s, Narragansett Electric 7.75s and Niagara Mohawk 7.62s. All three mature in 2002 and are protected against refunding through 1977.

TF flower symposium scheduled

TWIN FALLS A symposium on flower arranging will be conducted at the Twin Falls YM-YWCA next October, Mrs. Sidney Smith told a garden club meeting on Friday.

Speaking at the Magic Valley District meeting of the Idaho State Federation of Garden Clubs on Friday at the YM-YWCA, Mrs. Smith said the symposium is scheduled for Oct. 10-12 in Twin Falls. Accredited instructors will outline the principals of flower arranging.

Mrs. Tom Petthel, Kamiah, president of the state federation, the honored guest, spoke on the many aspects of "environment," particularly our "mental environment," involving "mental pollution," the changing of the meaning of words in our minds.

"All sides of a given question must be explored and evaluated before any decision can be made, either on judging a flower show or in establishing political policies," Mrs. Petthel said.

Standing committee reports were given by Mrs. Smith, who said the federation plans to install a memorial marker at the rest stop one mile west of Filer on Highway 30. Mrs. Tom Hicks, who said two textbooks on environment have been placed in the Jerome schools, and Mrs. Al Kramer, Mrs. John Flatt, Mrs. Patrick Kennedy, Mrs. C.F. Gregg, Mrs. Lloyd Staples, Mrs. LaVar Steel, Mrs. Carl Henscheid of Rupert, Walter Penny, Mrs. Lawrence Wheeler, and Mrs. Marshall LeBaron, Kimberly.

Mrs. Kenneth Hodder listed winners of the Smoky Bear coloring contest, including the Jerome junior group of Adam Goetsel, Kathleen Davis, Deborah Nelson and Denece Devin; the Jerome senior group of Clarence Cox, Jean King, Jeff Marble and LeRoy Brinkerhoff; juniors from Castleford, Jana Kramer, Mary Easterday and Debbie Turdy; and Castleford seniors Mikki Allred, Laurie Gandiaga and Kenny Burgess.

Hailey clinic planned

HAILEY — A "Worry Clinic" for women, covering all aspects of home life, has been scheduled for Tuesday evening.

The clinic, starting at 7:30 p.m., will be under the direction of F. Wegner, head of the Wood River Mental Health Center, Hailey, and the Gateway Center, Pocatello.

Registration will begin 7 p.m. Tuesday at the Hailey Grange Hall.

Library assistant named at Ketchum

KETCHUM — Diana Driscoll, Ketchum, has been named assistant librarian at the Ketchum-Sun Valley Community Library.

Librarian Mrs. Daniel Hart will begin a six-month leave of absence in June but will serve as official library consultant during that period.

A native of Chicago, Miss Driscoll is a 1970 graduate of Loyola University with graduate studies in child psychology at Roosevelt University, Chicago. Prior to moving to Ketchum last fall, she was employed by the Illinois Department of Children and Family services as a child welfare caseworker, and previously was a child care counselor with the Jewish Children's Bureau.

During her undergraduate studies at Loyola, Miss Driscoll worked for two years on the university library, shelving and cataloging books.

Miss Driscoll said, "The library is an intricate sphere of every community and since living in Ketchum, I have found this library to be quite impressive."

In stating her objectives, she said she would like to initiate a book discussion forum and to further awaken the community to books.
