

Time gear activates US mines

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. mines blocking the entrance to North Vietnamese ports became activated at 7 a.m. EDT today but there was no immediate reports of any ships hitting them. Several ships including a Russian freighter left Haiphong before the deadline.

The U.S. 7th Fleet assembled the largest naval force since World War II in the Gulf of Tonkin to enforce the first U.S. naval blockade since the Cuban missile crisis of 1962, but its exact whereabouts was not reported.

A U.S. military source said President Nixon ordered a sharp cutback in American air raids over the North today and only about 200 planes crossed the DMZ during daylight hours, about two-thirds the number that struck the Hanoi-Haiphong areas Wednesday.

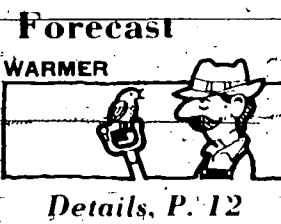

In the Wednesday raids the U.S. command said American planes shot down 10 MIGs and lost three planes themselves with four pilots missing and two rescued—the same two who had shot down three MIGs to bring their total to five kills and become the first aces of the Vietnam War.

Hanoi Radio said today eight more American jets were shot down throughout the country, five over Hanoi itself, bringing to 24 its claims of U.S. losses. It also reported two Russian ships hit in Haiphong Harbor and a Chinese trade mission hit in Hanoi.

Russians demand US drop Viet blockade

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union demanded today that the United States cancel without delay its naval blockade of North Vietnam and warned that the U.S. action endangered international peace and security.

The Russians, in their first official reaction to President Nixon's speech Monday night announcing the blockade, did not mention Nixon's Moscow summit conference scheduled for May 22-30.

The Soviet statement, carried by the Tass news agency and broadcast by Moscow Radio, pledged continued military help to North Vietnam and said if the United States wants peace in Vietnam it should return to the Paris peace talks.

"The Soviet government resolutely insists that the United States steps to block the coast and disrupt ground communications of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam be cancelled without delay," the statement said.

(In Washington, neither the White House nor the State Department would comment immediately on the Soviet statement pending a close study of the text.)

The Soviets demanded that the United States stop mining and blockading the ports, pledged continued military help for Hanoi and urged Washington to resume the peace talks in Paris.

The statement made no mention of President Nixon's scheduled May 22-30 visit to the Soviet Union.

The Russians said no matter what false pretenses are used to cover up the adventurist actions of the United States armed forces in Vietnam the real purpose of these actions is obvious—"to save the notorious Vietnamization policy which suffers an obvious failure."

The Kremlin said intensification of U.S. bombings and Washington's attempts to establish single-handedly its own rules of international navigation cannot but cause indignation and strong censure.

"These actions show again for the whole world the piratical nature of the war which the United States has unleashed and continues against the Vietnamese people for many years," it said.

The Soviets said the United States had signed the 1958 Geneva conventions on freedom of navigation and "the Soviet Union considers as inadmissible the U.S. actions which jeopardize the freedom of navigation and security of Soviet and other ships."

"The Soviet Union will draw from this appropriate conclusions, the government of the United States will bear the entire responsibility for the possible consequences of its illegal actions," it said.

The Russians warned the United States it is following "a dangerous and slippery road" and said it "can lead only to a new complication of the international relations."

"A new escalation of the aggressive actions cannot solve problems of Indochina, cannot break the will of the Vietnamese people fighting for freedom and independence," it said.

Moscow trip plans drawn

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon met with two top-ranking Soviet officials today and the White House said that plans for his summit visit to Moscow are going ahead.

Nixon met in a cordial atmosphere with the Soviet foreign trade minister, Nikolai Patolichev, and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin for about 45 minutes in his Oval Office. The session began about three hours after U.S. mines at North Vietnamese ports were activated.

Ziegler declined to say, specifically whether the Nixon trip was discussed at today's meeting, but told reporters, in response to questions, "We are proceeding with plans for the summit."

Ziegler declined to discuss in detail the meeting with Patolichev and Dobrynin. Nixon particularly appeared in buoyant mood in his first appearance since his speech.

Sitting in on the session in the Oval Office along with the Russians and the President were national security affairs adviser Henry A. Kissinger, Commerce Secretary Peter G. Peterson and Peter M. Flanigan.

Silver mine toll hits 65

KELLOGG, Idaho (UPI) — Rescue workers found seven more bodies today in the depths of the Sunshine Silver Mine, raising the disaster's toll to 65 with 26 men still missing.

So far only two survivors have been found.

Marvin Chase, the mine's vice president and general manager, said the seven bodies were found at the 4,400-foot level.

"I think they tried to get to fresh air deeper in the area," Chase said, "since the bodies were found some distance from the mine shaft."

Chase has predicted that by tonight "we're going to know pretty much the answer" in rescue efforts.

Rescue men are probing the mine's 4,200 and 4,000 foot levels to see if other survivors exist.

The two men rescued alive Tuesday night were at the 4,800 foot level.

Rescuers used a 36-man elevator in the No. 10 shaft for the first time Wednesday.

Police arrest hundreds in widespread protests

By United Press International

Hundreds of antiwar demonstrators, including the president of Rutgers University students at New Brunswick, N.J., resulted in 18 arrests when some 200 demonstrators blocked one track of the Penn-Central's main commuter line early today.

At Madison, Wis., three policemen were shot when they chased a group of persons into a house near the University of Wisconsin campus, but there was no indication the incident was connected with the antiwar demonstrations there the past two nights.

Police said they arrested between 300 and 400 persons, including Dr. John William Ward, president of Amherst, a former Marine, outside the gate of Westover Air Force Base, a strategic air command post in western Massachusetts. Other faculty members also were seized.

Demonstrators for the fourth straight day marched around the John F. Kennedy building in Boston, and between 100 and 150 persons were taken into custody. Others were seized as they tried to halt workers going into an army research laboratory at Hanover, N.H.

Seventeen demonstrators protesting the Vietnam War today chained themselves to seats in the United Nations Security Council chamber. The group was immediately surrounded by U.N. guards who took no immediate action.

Pickets carrying pamphlets again disrupted traffic on Chicago's Lake Shore Drive, a main automobile artery for workers bound for Loop area and downtown jobs in Chicago. Police arrested 16.

Some of the demonstrations were marked by rock-throwing, window-smashing, burning and in a few cases looting.

In Minneapolis, 150 National Guardsmen patrolled the University of Minnesota campus today. Gov. Wendell Anderson activated three units totaling 715 men when Minneapolis Mayor Charles Stenvig reported the situation was "very critical."

Cassia contract hassle to courts

By LEE TREMAINE
Times-News writer

BURLEY — The courts have entered the hassle over contracts for Cassia County school teachers.

Harold Blauer, superintendent of Cassia County district schools, has been ordered to release contracts to members of the teachers organization, or appear in court Monday.

Blauer received an order from district court late Wednesday requiring him to "deliver to the petitioner the originals of the written contract" and to give the teachers "reasonable time" to consider their 1972-73 contracts.

If this is not done, the order requires Blauer and the members of the board of trustees to appear in court Monday morning to explain why the order was not obeyed.

Blauer said today, "We will appear." He will continue to refuse to allow the teachers to take the contracts from the principal's offices, as he earlier ordered.

"We wouldn't have ordered it if we didn't think we had the right to do so," Blauer said today.

The Cassia County Education Association, representing a majority of the teachers in the district, filed the suit on request of its members.

The school district administration had ordered teachers to sign contracts in the principal's office of each school, and told the principals to refuse to allow the teachers to take the contracts out of the offices.

Teachers in the Cassia County district voted on the issue Wednesday, and decided overwhelmingly to file the action, according to Mrs. Jean Snow, CCEA president.

The teachers also agreed that if the district administration failed to heed the petition, or if the court order had not been issued by that time, to sign all remaining contracts en masse on May 19, the deadline set for signing by the administration.

A number of teachers have signed their contracts as required, Mrs. Snow said, but a sizable number of holdouts remained Wednesday afternoon to press the action. All non-tenured teachers — those with less than three years in the district — signed their contracts, so as not to endanger their jobs, Mrs. Snow said.

Business forms plant to Jerome

JEROME — Moore Business Forms, Inc., has taken an option on about 30 acres of the Kay L. Smith property one mile southwest of Jerome.

Mike Sullivan, manager of the Jerome branch, Bank of Idaho, a spokesman for the firm, had earlier appeared before the Jerome City Council to request consideration of rezoning and annexation of the property. He was not authorized to reveal the name or the product of the firm at that time.

Sullivan said the plant would have a $1 million annual payroll, with construction to begin the end of July and possibly be finished by the end of the year.

The plant would employ 150-200 persons, Sullivan said, 70 per cent of them men. From 10 to 12 persons will be brought in by the firm to manage the plant, he said.

He said the plant would be a one-story, low-lying building involving 90,000 square feet.

Sullivan also told the council May 2 the firm would need about 30,000 gallons of water a day, and wanted to be hooked up to the city's sewer and water systems.

Moore Business Forms' Pacific headquarters is located in Oakland, Calif., and operates eight plants in the western states. The newest plant was built in 1967 at Logan, Utah, and expanded in 1969.

The company has a net worth of about $400 million, Sullivan said.

The firm's district sales representative, Larry Whitte, Twin Falls, said it is one of the world's largest manufacturers of business forms and related office products.

Sullivan said the work force will be recruited from the Jerome area and Magic Valley. The company prefers to hire young men out of high school, he said.

Sullivan said today he has not received confirmation from the council on the Moore firm's request, but said he hopes to soon.

Most of the councilmen have indicated they favor construction of the new plant, but that water and sewer details must be worked out.

Jerome businessmen seem to be favorable to the new plant, since it is non-polluting.

State PEO confab ends

TWIN FALLS — About 200 members of Idaho's PEO Sisterhood concluded their convention Wednesday in Twin Falls.

Installation of state officers highlighted the closing session. Those installed by Mrs. Irene Snell, national supreme representative, will serve for the coming year.

They are Mrs. Blaine Gasser, Pocatello, president; Mrs. Robert Russell, Wallace, first vice president; Mrs. Wayne Davis, Caldwell, second vice president; Mrs. J.L. Mauk, Pocatello, organizer; Mrs. John Johnson, Coeur d'Alene, corresponding secretary; Mrs. E.E. Babin, Boise, recording secretary; and Mrs. Keith Turner, Twin Falls, treasurer.

A luncheon at the dining room of the Holiday Inn ended the convention which opened with registration Monday. General business sessions continued through Tuesday and Wednesday morning.

The membership voted to hold the 1973 convention in Lewiston.

Thieu's martial Law outlined

SAIGON (UPI)—New martial law regulations were ordered into effect today subjecting South Vietnamese citizens to more taxes, less fun and possibly military service up to the age of 43.

President Nguyen Van Thieu invoked martial law at midnight Wednesday in the face of the threat posed by the Communist offensive, now in its seventh week. The new regulations were the stiffest imposed since the fall of the late President Ngo Dinh Diem in 1963.

According to a government statement issued today, the new regulations:

- Raised the draft age from 33 to 43 and cut down on deferments.
- Closed all government and private universities and colleges "on a temporary basis."
- Levied additional taxes on services such as movie tickets, restaurant tabs and hotel bills.
- Authorized unlimited police searches of private homes at anytime of the day or night.
- Restricted the movements of all citizens and denied travel abroad to all males between the draft ages of 13 and 43.
- The new regulations gave mayors and provincial chiefs the powers "to impress" citizens for "urgent civil or military needs."
- It also allowed government officials to control distribution of all food, to outlaw strikes and to ban demonstrations.
- The government now can arbitrarily assign places of residence "to elements considered a danger to the national security."
- Officials also were empowered to close night clubs, music halls, race tracks and steam baths. "Private balls and parties are strictly prohibited."

Anne Hagerman Pageant didn't last long enough

By HUGH DAVIS
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — Idaho's Junior Miss, Anne Hagerman, returned to the Magic Valley Wednesday night from Mobile, Ala. and the national Junior Miss finals.

Miss Hagerman was met at Twin Falls City County Airport by a crowd of 40 classmates and friends from Wendell.

Anne, salutatorian for her graduating class at Wendell, finished as fourth runner-up in the national finals, won by a Kentucky girl.

Asked if Miss Idaho, Karen Herd, and her participation in the Miss America pageant had some influence on her showing in Mobile, Anne said, "I think so. After both of us doing well, other states think there is some hope for Idaho, after all."

Miss Hagerman said the best thing about her experience in Alabama was "meeting girls from other states and learning that, despite being from different places, the girls were all normal and not different at all."

The Wendell miss said the worst thing about the competition was that it didn't last long enough. She would like to have stayed longer because of the experience of meeting people.

"My roommate was Miss Alabama and after two days, I found myself speaking with a southern accent. I was caught up in the whole thing. The Junior Miss spirit kept us all going."

"When one girl was homesick, another would pick her up. It was really wonderful to see girls of different backgrounds interacting that way," Anne said.

When asked what next, after her fine showing in Alabama, Miss Hagerman said, "My reign as Idaho Junior Miss runs until January, 1973. I'm looking forward to that and seeing a lot more of the state."

In September, Anne intends to go to the College of Idaho. In three competitions, she won scholarships totaling nearly $3,000.

DETROIT — Even with his current string of major primary victories, Sen. Hubert Humphrey's indispensable blue-collar support is still eroding.

casting doubts on his chances to win the Michigan primary May 16 and beyond that, the Democratic Presidential nomination.

That conclusion is buttressed by answers from voters in a typical Democratic precinct on Detroit's west side given to a questionnaire prepared by pollster Oliver Quayle. Obsessed by school busing, bitter that the government has done too much for black people and outraged over high taxes, the voter here is turning from past Humphrey loyalties. His substitutes: Gov. George Wallace, McGovern's constituency in the white-collar suburbs, Wallace's new supporters in the blue-collar suburbs (where anti-busing sentiment is stronger) and a big outstate Republican crossover for Wallace.

Moreover, the voters in Precinct 11, backing Humphrey—concentrated among older voters—seemed less than militant and perhaps subject to change. "Humphrey knows more about us older people," said a retired crane operator. But most Humphrey voters could talk only vaguely about his experience as Vice President as a reason for backing him.

On the other hand, in this slice of Humphrey Country, a substantial majority thinks he talks too much and changes his mind too often—judgments shared by some Humphrey supporters.

Wallace's partisans are markedly more fervent, firmly tied to issues. A young working wife who is a supermarket cashier had no difficulty explaining why she voted for Humphrey in 1968 but now likes Wallace: "I don't want my kids bused. That's all that counts." A retired auto worker put it this way: "Wallace is against high taxes and busing, and so am I. He's for the lower classes."

Far less explicable is McGovern's rising support. Here again, the McGovern Phenomenon is operative: blue-collar workers supporting McGovern, though their views contradict his.

Screen Violence

The recent Surgeon General's report on the effects of TV violence on children is being supported in several ways by the research of a University of Utah psychologist. The psychologist, Dr. Victor B. Cline, adds motion pictures to the list of media that may be leading Americans into an era of unremitting violence and exploitive sex devoid of love and responsibility.

Evidence is mounting that motion pictures and television can alter behavior patterns, influence values and attitudes and possibly contribute to changes in life styles. Cline remarked after conducting a recent study of theater fare in his home town.

"By making violence appear glamorous and exciting and illicit sex normal and desirable, these media are setting the stage for a society based on aggression and irresponsibility," he added.

To examine some of today's theater offerings, Cline and four of his research assistants sat through 37 movies in one week in Salt Lake City. After carefully analyzing the films' content, themes, values, behavior of heroes, etc., they found the following in the 37 films:

- 833 aggressive acts.
- 566 sexual acts of displays.
- 59 murders.
- 89 "justifiable killings."
- 76 attempted murders.
- 11 massacres.
- six bombings.
- 168 nude scenes.
- It all averaged out to some 23 acts of violence and 15 episodes of sex per film. And these weren't "skin flicks," Cline says, because there are no hard-core pornographic theaters in Salt Lake City. Breaking down the films by ratings, 16 per cent were "X," 24 per cent "R," 56 per cent "PG" and 14 per cent "G."

In 57 per cent of the films the movie-watchers found that dishonesty was presented in a heroic light. In 38 per cent, criminal activity was made to "pay off," and was presented as a successful, exciting pastime with no negative consequences.

In 43 per cent of the films the heroes were lawbreakers or antisocial characters. In 60 per cent of the films, premarital and extramarital sexual relations were presented as "normal, acceptable and desirable."

Only one film out of the 37 depicted sexual relations between a man and woman legally married to each other.

According to the Surgeon General's report, there is a causal link between the exposure of some children to television violence and subsequent aggressive behavior.

"Psychologists have for years demonstrated, for example, that you can overcome a person's fear of snakes by gradually exposing him to others who casually play with snakes," Cline noted. "It stands to reason that you can also change attitudes and emotional responses to violence, sex and various antisocial behavior by repeated exposure."

The real question raised by all of this research, however is this: Is the violence in television and the movies the cause of troubles in our society? Or is the trouble in our society, perhaps, being accurately portrayed by these media?

It all boils down to the chicken or the egg riddle, and since we don't know where these behavior patterns come from, we are hard put to find ways to stop them.

ROBERT ALLEN

USIA Budget Cut

WASHINGTON — The Senate's 57 to 15 vote restoring $45 million slashed from the budget of the United States Information Agency told a lot about the Senate that was not apparent on the surface.

First, the lopsided bipartisan majority to give USIA the $200,249 million it asked for was a stinging rebuff to Foreign Relations Committee Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) who put through the steep cut at a closed-door session of the committee.

Second — in reversing that hatchet job out in the open on the Senate floor, some Senators who had voted for it in the secrecy of the committee did a flipflop when they went on record in public — a not uncommon Congressional practice.

Throughout the acrimonious Senate debate over the USIA budget, Fulbright was virtually fit to be tied over the strong bipartisan opposition to the $45 million cut. He had rained through at a press-barraged session of the Foreign Relations Committee.

At one point, he petulantly berated Sen. Hubert Humphrey and Henry Jackson who were out campaigning but had sent word they favored the USIA's original $200,249 million budget.

These very ambitious Senators, snarled Fulbright, "who no longer think it is very significant to be members of this body and who would like to move downtown," they see themselves in the White House, doubtless also denying Congress information necessary to exercise its legislative functions.

Replied Sen. Gale McGee (D-Wyo.) mockingly with a grin, "I note that the chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee is among the elite few who are not aspiring to a position downtown."

"That is correct," snapped Fulbright. According to the Foreign Relations Committee's printed report, the budget authorization bill drastically pruning USIA funds to $155 million was approved 15 to 9.

The following Senators are recorded as voting that way — Fulbright, John Sparkman (D-Ala.), Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.), Frank Church (D-Idaho), Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), Claiborne Pell (D-R.I.), Gale McGee (D-Wyo.), Edmund Muskie (D-Me.), William Scott (D-Vt.), George Aiken (R-Vt.), John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky.), Jacob Javits (R-N.Y.), Hugh Scott (R-Pa.), Clifford Case (R-N.J.), Charles Percy (R-Ill.).

But the vote on the Senate floor reversing that steep axing produced a very different lineup, as follows:

For the cut: 3—Fulbright, Church, Symington. Against the cut: 7— McGee, Spong, Aiken, Case, Cooper, Javits, Percy.

Not voting: 5 — of which 3 ducked, being absent without explanation (Sparkman, Pell and Muskie) and 2 were junketing in China (Mansfield and Scott).

Voting one way behind closed doors in committee and exactly the opposite out in the open is a common practice in Congress — as well as in most other legislative bodies. The two-timing on the USIA budget cut is an old story.

Chairman Fulbright was righteously indignant, but the Senate paid him no heed. The querulous and testy Arkansan is not popular with his colleagues.

RAY CROMLEY

Successor

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The kind of man the new FBI director turns out to be may have a greater bearing on your life and mine than any other appointment made by a U.S. president.

If J. Edgar Hoover's 48 years in the post are at all indicative of the future, his successor will, from time to time, face political pressure of the strongest type aimed at using the very considerable power of the FBI in ways dangerous to democracy and to our liberties.

If history is any judge, these pressures will come both from "liberals" and "conservatives" or men who use these labels to describe themselves.

Hoover faced down these pressures with guts and with some very able marshalling of his political and public defenses. For courage alone is not enough. To defend against such pressures you must have political resources and the ability to use them.

Three examples will illustrate what Hoover's successor will face.

After watching the FBI in operation for something over two decades, this reporter has, on occasion these past few years, awakened at night worrying over who might be Hoover's successor. I would think of the information in those millions of files. A ruthless politician with that data could come close to destroying much of his opposition.

Not too many years ago, this reporter knows that a very high U. S. government official made direct personal attempts to secure the FBI's files for use against his political enemies. Among other things, he had a list of opposition congressmen he wished to tarnish.

Hoover faced him down. Though this powerful politician then set out to destroy him, Hoover was by then so well ensconced and had so much prestige that this man, with all his high connections, could not force Hoover to do his will. But Hoover bore the marks of these attacks until his death. The question is, could a new man, however courageous, face this type of pressure?

Then again, there has long been a movement within Congress for enlarging the police powers of the federal government. There have been moves to give the FBI more power on the college campuses, to make more crimes federal crimes, thus giving the FBI more authority.

In these piecemeal moves Hoover saw danger — the risk of making the FBI a national police force. He repeatedly told colleagues he would have no part in this — that a national police would be a step toward a police state.

Most assuredly Hoover's successor will also face this problem time and again — as local violence threatens to get out of hand and Congress moves toward stronger federal crime laws. Hoover's answer was that these problems, great as they are, are for local communities and local police — and that the FBI role was in providing information, training and backup for local police forces, on request — and for work on a few truly national crime problems.

A succession of political figures have attempted to bring their men into the FBI — either as a means of molding the institution to their own partisan objectives, or as a means of providing jobs for faithful retainers.

Here, Hoover was particularly fierce. For the ineffective agency he inherited was a shambles because it was backridden and dominated by politics.

It is certain that at one time or another men with political authority will again attempt such infiltration. Hoover's predecessors were unable to resist those moves. If it is essential that his successors have the will and the ability to hold firm at whatever political cost to themselves.

Hoover was a human being. Like all of us, he had weaknesses. But when we think of those, let us remember the great strengths, too.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Short Leg

Dear Dr. Thosteson: About three years ago I was told I had a curvature of the spine. The doctor didn't recommend a brace but told me to do some exercises. Unfortunately, I didn't stick to them.

I have recently turned 17 and was wondering when this trouble will end or if it will continue. The curve is almost at my waist, my hips are not the same, and one leg is nearly an inch different than the other.

Could you tell me if this can be cured and what will happen if it's not? — G.N.

Let's not cry over spilt milk. The years you should have been doing the exercises but didn't. Few of us are exactly symmetrical.

One leg's shorter than the other and your hips don't match. This may or may not get worse as time passes. One thing is certain: it won't get better by itself.

At 17 you haven't much time left before your bones become too rigidly set to change very much. Not much time, but probably a little.

Get back to the doctor. More especially, go to an orthopedist who is a specialist in these things. I may take more than exercises. It may take a brace AND exercises and perhaps even other therapy. It may require a special shoe.

But go get some expert advice at once. And follow it. Don't spend the rest of your life saying, "I wish I'd done something when I was 17 and things could still be corrected."

Dear D. Thosteson: I have been told I have skin cancer. It is a black spot on my breast, almost under my arm, about the size of a half dollar. It has been there about 10 years and gives no trouble.

The past few months there have come a few black spots in the neighborhood of the original spot. Is there any danger from this? Is anything needed to treat it? I am 94 years old. — H. A. J.

Who diagnosed it as cancer? If it is cancer, it needs attention, and you should have a doctor look at it right away.

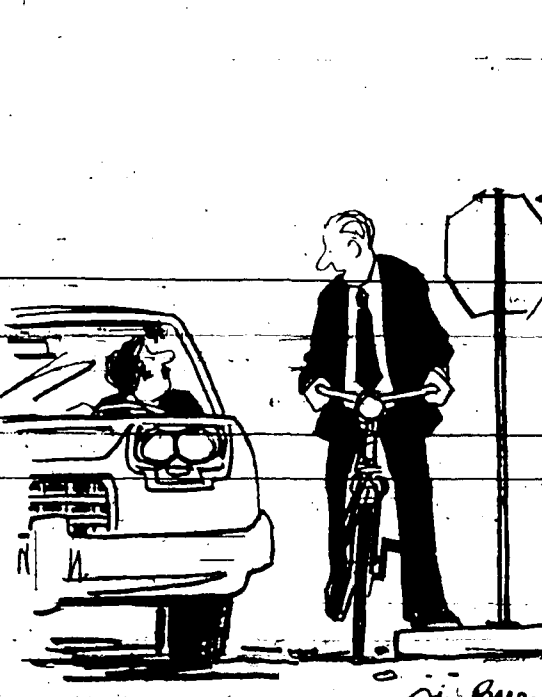

Your age is a factor to be reckoned with. If you were younger, I would say the spot should be removed forthwith — because skin cancer, promptly removed, is a very curable disease.

The trouble is that cancer, even though painless, has the savage habit of spreading, no matter where it is. Give it time enough, and it will spread also to other parts of the body, sooner or later attacking and destroying some vital organ.

In the elderly, cancer often has a tendency to spread very slowly, which may answer a lot of questions in your case. The appearance of more spots, however, could be an indication of spreading, so I urge you to see your doctor without delay.

What his judgment may be, I can't guess. Whether to test the new spots to see what they are; whether to remove them and the original spot, or to use X-ray or other treatment to keep the spreading at a slow rate. But see him.

A Biological Tide

It is not news that a full moon affects humans. Unsuspecting lovers discovered that attraction centuries ago.

But the apparent relationship between the phases of the moon and incidences of violence involving man discovered by a team of psychiatric researchers at the University of Miami's medical school could lead into entirely new fields of research in erratic behavior.

After two years of study, the team headed by Dr. Arnold L. Lieber found a relationship between the number of murders committed in Dade County (Miami) and the lunar phases. A chart of 1,900 murders over the last 15 years showed a trend of ebbing and flowing in concert with the moon.

The murder rate began to increase about 24 hours before full moon, dropped back after full moon and rose again at new moon.

Referring to the phenomenon as a "biological tide," Dr. Lieber said the gravitational pull could be sufficiently strong to trigger emotional instability in borderline cases.

One point is assured by the research findings. Scientists now have added incentive to study the full moon, professionally or otherwise.

Warden talks with inmates

FLORENCE, Ariz. (UPI)—Arizona State Prison Warden Frank Eymann pleaded with striking inmates Wednesday to avoid violence, but warned if any attempts were made to take and harm hostages he would "make Attica look like a picnic."

Eymann told the last of six groups of prisoners' representatives with whom he met to discuss a sit-down strike.

"Let me warn you that while I hate violence, it can be handled. I don't trade for hostages. If you take hostages, I'll be there in 20 minutes and if you harm the hostages, I'll make Attica look like a picnic."

Forty-three persons died when the Attica, N.Y., prison was retaken by troops last September.

The Arizona prison remained quiet with no threat of violence as it has been since May 3 when prisoners refused to report to their jobs. Eymann and Allen Cook, director of the State Department of Corrections, met Tuesday with 48 prisoners, selected at random to discuss a list of 13 grievances and try to "open lines of communication."

Eighty prisoners had been selected to participate in the talks, but 32 declined.

Following the day-long sessions, Eymann said the earliest any work call would be issued would be 7 a.m. Friday. He said he would attempt to learn the general feeling of the inmates following the talks and whether most of the 802 prisoners on strike wanted to return to work.

Boyle goes before grand jury

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—United Mine Workers President W.A. "Tony" Boyle appeared before a federal grand jury Wednesday to dispell "wild inpuendos" involving the murder of UMW leader Joseph A. Yablonski, his attorney said.

The UMW president spent one hour and 20 minutes before the panel, which is investigating the murder. On the advice of his lawyers, he did not meet with newsmen after his appearance.

"He answered every question with no hesitation and no reluctance," UMW general counsel Edward Carey said afterwards.

"He came here to dissipate rumors circulated to the press based on inference innuendo," Carey said. "Unscrupulous persons make wild statements that have no basis in fact."

Carey made it plain he referred to special prosecutor Richard A. Sprague. In the last year Sprague has won two convictions and three confessions in the Dec. 31, 1969 murders of Yablonski, his wife and daughter in their home south of here, barely three weeks after Yablonski lost a bitter campaign for the UMW presidency to Boyle, the incumbent.

The last two suspects to confess said money to pay the Yablonski killers came from Albert W. Pass, a UMW international executive board member, and Whitman J. Prater, a UAW field representative, both of whom have been arrested.

Sprague said last week that the $15,000 paid to the killers came from a UMW research and information fund, set up at a meeting between Pass and Boyle, which was actually a murder fund.

"I sent a letter to Mr. Sprague two years ago challenging his propriety," Carey said. "I told him it was wrong for a prosecutor to make extrajudicial statements."

Trial traces Angela's steps

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI)—Angela Davis' movements following the Marin County shootings of 1970 were traced Wednesday by prosecution witnesses at her murder, kidnap and conspiracy trial.

The prosecution, nearing the end of its case against the former UCLA philosophy instructor, presented written statements by four persons and live testimony from two others.

The testimony attempted to establish her whereabouts for the three-month period from the Aug. 7, 1970 kidnappings until her arrest in New York by the FBI in October.

Miss Davis' movements were traced Wednesday from Chicago to Detroit to Miami to New York. Earlier, a witness said the black militant purchased an airline ticket from San Francisco to Los Angeles only minutes after the courthouse "escape attempt and kidnappings in which a judge and four others died."

Miss Davis is charged with supplying the guns and helping

Treaty contents demanded

BONN (UPI)—Opposition Christian Democrats today demanded clarification from both Moscow and the West German government before they will approve nonaggression treaties with Russia and Poland.

The treaties were to have come up for a vote in Parliament this week, but Chancellor Willy Brandt bowed Wednesday to opposition demands for a postponement—demands made when Russia raised last-minute questions about West German interpretation of the pacts.

Parliamentary consideration of the treaties was suspended until next Wednesday, to give all parties time to find their way out of the confusion over interpretation of the treaties. It was the third postponement in as many weeks.

Lotion recalled

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Food and Drug Administration says at least 7 million tubes and bottles of Tanya Hawaiian suntan lotion have been recalled by the manufacturer, Bristol-Myers.

The FDA said Wednesday that the recall covers Tanya distributed between January, 1969, and February, 1972, which Bristol-Myers discovered contains bacteria that could be harmful to some persons.

The FDA said Bristol-Myers initiated the recall by notifying retail stores Feb. 17.

Wage boost bill nears passage

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Legislation that would raise the minimum wage from $1.60 to $2 an hour was near passage in the House today.

The $2 figure was contained in both a Democratic-backed bill from the House Education and Labor Committee and a Republican substitute. The change would affect 3 million nonfarm workers. It also would boost the $1.30 minimum for agricultural workers to $1.70. The committee measure, however, would expand the minimum's coverage to 4.7 million federal, state and local government workers and 1.1 million household domestic workers. It would also create machinery to require the President to impose higher tariffs or order quotas on imported goods that threaten the economic life of a community.

Galleries close

WASHINGTON (UPI)—On a warning from police that war protesters planned to try to disrupt proceedings of the House of Representatives, Speaker Carl Albert closed the House galleries Wednesday to the public for three hours. It was an act almost without precedent.

The galleries were closed from noon to 3 p.m. EDT. Capitol Police Chief James Powell said the galleries will be closed again if there are new threats of disruption.

Bill passage assured

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congressional approval of a 20 percent election-year increase in the Social Security benefits paid 27 million Americans appears certain.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said he had lined up 49 senators behind the measure, with the quiet support of a few others — enough to assure passage.

President Nixon has proposed an increase of 5 percent and the House passed a welfare reform bill in June which would provide a 5 percent boost. But since then, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, has become a presidential candidate and now supports a 20 percent increase. The 20 percent raise will be proposed when the Senate Finance Committee sends its version of the welfare bill to the Senate floor, probably in mid-June.

Candidates to Michigan

By United Press International
Sen. George S. McGovern joined Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace in Michigan today where 132 delegate votes to the Democratic National Convention are believed to hinge on antibusing emotions.

The third major Democratic presidential candidate, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, was in Maryland in response to Gov. Marvin Mandel's appeal that only heavy personal campaigning could head off Wallace in the Chesapeake Bay State.

Both Maryland and Michigan hold primaries next Tuesday. Wallace, discounting his poor showing in Nebraska and West Virginia, said in Dearborn Wednesday, "The other primaries at the moment are not important. Everybody's watching Michigan."

Although court-ordered busing has raised emotions in Michigan, a recent poll by the Detroit Free Press listed busing as the sixth most important issue after crime, drugs, the economy, unresponsive government and Vietnam.

Wallace led the poll with 28 per cent popularity, followed by Humphrey with 21, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie 14 and McGovern 10.

Wallace, in the fourth day of an 11-city blitz of Michigan, criticized claims by McGovern and Humphrey that they would stop the war.

"They were in office when the war started," Wallace said. "Why didn't they stop it then?"

McGovern, who scored a solid victory in Nebraska with 41 per cent of the vote, compared with 35 for Humphrey and 12 per cent for Wallace, planned only a brief campaign in Michigan.

Frank Mankiewicz, McGovern's campaign coordinator, said the South Dakota hoped to pick up 25 to 30 delegates in Michigan.

Humphrey was to meet ministers in Baltimore today before moving on to Michigan Friday. He toured the Baltimore fish market Wednesday, where he eyed a 14-pound rockfish and conceded jokingly that he was "fishing for votes."

Mandel has made no endorsement, but is said to be quietly supporting Humphrey and has expressed concern that Wallace could win Maryland's 53 convention votes. McGovern plans only a token appearance.

In other political developments: President Nixon's only active opponent, Rep. John M. Ashbrook, said in Columbus, Ohio, that China is using narcotics as a "weapon" against the United States.

Muskie, Humphrey and McGovern in a telephone hookup from Washington to Gainesville, Fla., urged University of Florida students to avoid violence in protesting the war.

Six lawyers resigned from the Justice Department to join McGovern's campaign, charging Nixon was trying to roll back civil rights progress.

Astronaut Parachutes from plane

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Astronaut Charles "Pete" Conrad parachuted safely out of a crippled T38 jet trainer Wednesday night, landing only 100 yards from the base operations building at Bergstrom Air Force Base.

Conrad was not hurt. He had been on a flight from Georgia to Houston, was diverted to Austin because of bad weather, and then developed some kind of aircraft problem while approaching Bergstrom for an emergency landing.

Air Force officials would not say exactly what the problem was, but the aircraft was crashed in an open field two miles east of Bergstrom and was destroyed.

Longshoremen mull Pay Board appeal

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The West Coast longshoremen's union met with shippers Wednesday in a secret session, apparently to decide whether to appeal to the Pay Board over the agency's cuts of a contract settlement.

The meeting took place after the International Longshoremen's Association, which represents East and Gulf Coast workers, announced that they would appeal the board's cut in pay hikes from 70 cents to 55 cents an hour.

Harry Bridges, president of the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA), met with the Pacific Maritime Association to discuss the ILA action.

Bridges had warned that his 15,000-member union would resume a walkout if "one cent" was cut from a contract reached with the PMA after a 134-day strike against 24 West Coast ports.

Blaine plans home for juveniles, 'shoestring' opening set in July

HAILEY — A home for problem juveniles is planned for Blaine County.

Designed to serve both as a shelter and a re-education center, the home is expected to open in Hailey on an initial "shoe-string" budget by July, according to facility organizer Janet Small, Hailey.

Mrs. Small holds a degree in psychology and formerly was employed at the Nevada Girls Training Center. She said the home is presently being organized with local donations but said as soon as a tentative budget is formulated, application may be made to the Law Enforcement Planning Agency for 75 per cent funding.

Children will be assigned to the home by the juvenile court as well as the departments of health and public assistance for a minimum of six weeks, Mrs. Small said.

Termed "The Other Side of Time," home atmosphere will be based on the absence of "hurry up and wait" pressures of time and artificial schedules, Mrs. Small said.

"Our over-riding concern will always be to provide the special love and concern that our residents are in need of and to develop a confident self-awareness that can return them to the outside world able to cope with its pressures," Mrs. Small said.

Upon entering the home, each child will attend a staff meeting where he will discuss his problems and set his own goals for self-improvement. The Wood-River Mental Health Center, Hailey, has pledged support in establishing and carrying out an individualized program to meet these goals. Tentative house parents are Randy and Jeanne Stare, Tacoma, Wash. Stare is a VISTA volunteer and his wife is a kindergarten teacher.

Mrs. Small said, "The Other Side of Time" is currently seeking a house in Hailey that can shelter three staff members and at least six children. Because of a limited budget, she said she invites any donations of food, clothing or furnishings.

Positions are open on the home's board of directors and advisory board, Mrs. Small said. Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Small at 788-2571.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — After a little more than four months of toll the average American worker has finally earned enough to pay the federal and local taxes he will owe next year, the U. S. Chamber of Commerce estimated.

It said the Jan. 1 to May 10 period it took to meet tax liability was the same as 1971.

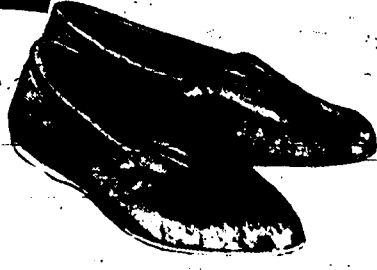

Put another way, the average employee spends two hours and 31 minutes of each eight-hour day working off his tax liability.

THE IDAHO DEPARTMENT STORE—ON THE MALL

Preparation low keyed in Moscow

MOSCOW (UPI)—Hello smiling, lovable GI Joe. Take a bow on Moscow television.

Goodbye, for the moment, imperialist Yankee killer. The public posters condemning you have gone into storage.

It is getting tougher and tougher for Soviet propagandists to keep smiling about President Nixon's visit and to justify it to the homelands. But they have World War II going for them.

Tuesday, an hour or so after the Tass news agency condemned the "overt aggression" of Nixon's blockade order, Soviet television broadcast a long, loving reminiscence of the wartime alliance.

Newsreels showed American and Russian troops paddling rafts across Germany's Elbe River in 1945 at the moment of meeting between the victorious armies. Soldier kissed soldier, tears flowed, grins sprouted. GIs, their ranks and insignia clearly visible, snapped pictures of their new buddies and smiled for the camera.

Moscow's preparations for Nixon's May 22 visit—psychological and otherwise—have been so low key as to nearly escape notice.

The obvious benefit of this soft-pedal diplomats say, is that it will minimize the number of red Russian faces in the event the Kremlin decides it has to cancel the visit.

Many Moscow diplomats said they thought that had become a real possibility with Nixon's decision to blockade North Vietnam.

Nonetheless, preparations there are, and many of them aim at reviving warm recollections of the U.S.-Soviet alliance against Nazi Germany. The message is that the world has come to such a pass as to need that kind of close cooperation again.

Tuesday's television documentary, cast in honor of the day Moscow marks as Victory in Europe Day, showed U.S. and Soviet troops separately arresting German prisoners of war and liberating occupied towns. It beamed a picture of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower over words of affection. The soundtrack played, in English: "Glory, Glory Hallelujah. His truth is marching on."

Removal of forces asked from Taiwan

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon could hasten progress toward establishment of diplomatic relations with Peking by removing from Taiwan as soon as possible all U.S. military forces engaged in logistic support of the Vietnam operation.

That is the view of a veteran former U.S. foreign service officer, Robert W. Barnett, who now is head of the Washington office of the Asia Society. He believes that limiting American military personnel on Taiwan to those advising Chiang Kai-shek on purely local defense would help create an atmosphere in which the Peoples Republic of China and the Nationalist regime on the island could negotiate a settlement of their differences.

Mutual economic advantage and ethnic solidarity, in Barnett's opinion, could overcome differences in ideology.

Barnett, China-born son of missionary parents, served in the diplomatic service in China and subsequently in Washington, where he was deputy assistant secretary of state for East Asia before quitting to take his present post.

In a recent statement before House Foreign Affairs subcommittee, Barnett emphasized he believed the United States must honor its 1954 defense commitment to Chiang Kai-shek. To do otherwise, he said, not only would damage American credibility in the eyes of its allies but would be regarded by Peking as evidence of instability in U.S. policy.

Peking, while making it clear to Nixon that it would not use force to settle the Taiwan issue, told him there could be no formal diplomatic relations once it begins to move to what he considers an inevitable political rapprochement with Peking.

Barnett's scenario is based on the assumption that the Chinese on the mainland and those on Taiwan will find themselves impelled by mutual advantage to find some accommodation.

"If Peking knows that Washington will not terminate the defense treaty unless asked to do so by Taipei, Peking will have good reason—one day, if not right away—to consider ways to give Taipei grounds for preferring negotiation over confrontation," Barnett said.

Thursday, May 11, 1972 Times-News, Twin Falls, Idaho 11

He noted that Premier Chou En-lai, in talks with visiting journalists, has said that he and Chiang are agreed on one point: "There can be only one China—so a way could be found."

Barnett says that Peking and Taiwan have reason to admire the other in some respects. Peking must be impressed by Taiwan's spectacular industrial growth and its great success in foreign trade, Barnett said.

Analysis

the Nationalist government on Taiwan itself eventually would ask that the American defense commitment be terminated

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Traders kept prices higher after three hours, Thursday on the New York Stock Exchange. Trading was slow.

Shortly after 1 p.m. the Dow Jones industrial average was up 4.14 to 935.21. Advances led declines, 849 to 433, among the 1,619 issues crossing the tape.

Standard & Poor's 500 stock index was up 0.47 to 105.89. The three-hour volume of 8,260,000 shares suggested an attitude of caution on Wall Street, some analysts said.

Analysts said investors were keeping a watchful eye on international news developments, especially the overall implications of the Soviet Union's denunciation of President Nixon's new Vietnam move. The Soviet reaction, which broke on news wires before the market opened at 10 a.m., was relatively restrained, Washington sources said.

Mild as the Soviet response might have been, observers said institutional traders were on the sidelines while they assessed the Russian response. China has yet to react officially to the mine blockade of North Vietnam ports and stepped up bombing of its rail links with Hanoi.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q—I am retired, 79, and my wife is 62. I would like a safe 6 percent to 7 percent interest bearing investment for $25,000 now with another $25,000 to be added at the end of the year. Monthly income would be preferable. W. B.

A—A portfolio of six different bond issues will provide you with income ranging from $268 to $325 each month.

At recent discounted quotes the $64,000 face value bond portfolio will cost $49,600 for an eventual capital gain of $14,400 and a current return of 7 percent.

Interest on all six issues is covered at least 2.2x and the bonds are rated BBB or better. Maturities on these NYSE-listed securities are 14 to 20 years away.

For income in January and July, 11M Lone Star Industries 4 1/8s of 1990; 10M Ashland-Oil 6.15 of 1992 will provide $308 in each February and August.

Purchase of 11M Niagara Mohawk 4 1/8s of 1987 and 12M Consolidated Edison 5s of 1990 will provide income in March, April, September and October.

The final two months in each half will be covered by 10M each in Whirlpool 5 1/4s of 1986 and Union Pacific 6 1/2s of 1989.

With your initial $25,000 purchase Cons. Edison, Niagara Mohawk and Western Union; the other three to be purchased when additional capital is available. Commission costs should be reduced by splitting the purchase in this way.

A Lovelier You

MATERIAL GAINS AND LOSSES

By Mary Sue Miller

Many a lovely overlooks the importance of fabric to dressing attractively. The factors of quality and fashion aside, fabric has a measurable effect on one's figure.

In that connection, most of us concentrate on silhouettes and linear constructions.

But fabric weights and patterns play an almost equal part in causing you to look heavier or thinner, taller or shorter. The most becoming sort of fashion-y fabric selections are listed on this chart.

To appear Taller and Slimmer (for 5-by-5 Figure) select light weights but not clinging, small, shadowy patterns. For instance, silky Honan as opposed to, voile; sketchy geometrics, never large florals.

To appear Taller and Fuller (for Petites), choose crisp, starched textures such as gingham and organdy; dainty prints like narrow stripes or well-spaced tiny florals.

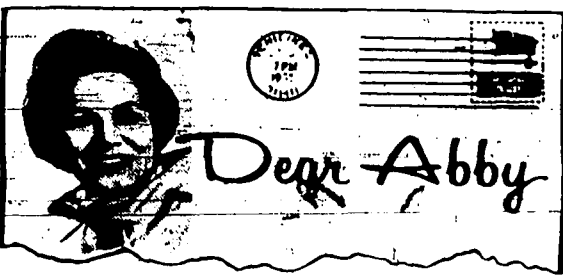

To appear Shorter and Slimmer (for Statuesque Figure), wear medium weights, silk-like suetucker and linen, conservative, scattered prints — polka dots here and there.

To appear Shorter and Fuller (for Slim-Janes), stay with full-bodied weights, striking patterns. Examples: denim, pique, garden flowers in profusion, splashy plaids. While the fabrics listed are for summer wear, the same principles carry over into wintertime materials. Contouring the figure via fabric is a year-round proposition.

YOUR GAIN

Are you too, too thin? And you never can gain an ounce? Send for my leaflet, YOUR GAIN. It shows you how to gain a pound a week by eating the right foods, working with spot increasing routines and having fun. Plus tips on your most flattering fashion styles. For your copy, write to Mary Sue Miller, in care of your newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 15 cents in coin.

Historical display

THIS is part of a new display at the Twin Falls County Historical Society Museum near Curry. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Waggoner, directors, have converted the basement of the museum to displays of old documents and newspapers with a typical office of the early 1900s.

DEAR ABBY: Have you a solution to this problem? Our brother married this lovely girl who happens to be of a different race.

She is intelligent and respectable. The problem is our parents refuse to meet her. It has been two years now and we, the younger generation of the family, are getting fed up.

We know that our parents are prejudiced because of their own upbringing, but how can they judge her without even meeting her?

What can we do? There are six of us. THE KLAN

DEAR KLAN: Prejudice is caused by ignorance. The only cure for ignorance is education. There is nothing you can do for those who refuse to learn. Don't fight it; it's their loss.

DEAR ABBY: I read a letter in your column about a couple who announced on their 25th wedding anniversary that they were being divorced. The writer asked, "Can anybody top this?"

Well, I can. A Chicago couple was being honored on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary. After the dinner, the golden wedding couple were appropriately toasted, then the bride of 50 years stood up and said, "Herman and I have had 50 years of marriage. It hasn't always been a bed of roses. In fact, it has been rougher than most of you know. I liked Palm Springs. Herman liked Miami [We always went to Miami.] I liked Canasta. Herman liked the horse races [We went to the races.] I wanted to travel and see the world. Herman thought one trip [to Miami] a year was plenty, so we never went anywhere else.

We've raised our children and they are raising theirs. We have done our duty, but what I am getting at is this. Please don't be surprised if you hear that we are calling this partnership quits."

Some thought Mamma had a little bit too much champagne. Maybe she did. But three months later Herman went to Miami and she went to Palm Springs, and they now have a legal separation. TRUE STORY IN CHICAGO

DEAR ABBY: I've never felt compelled to write to you before, but the letter from the mother who heartily disapproved when her husband announced to their children that he had SOLD his class notebooks evokes this response.

There is a vast difference between selling notes and selling exam papers. As a student and graduate of two colleges, I fail to find anything immoral about selling or buying notes. I didn't sell mine only because I didn't think of it. I GAVE them away.

If the student who buys notes, uses them to his detriment, depending upon the second hand notes solely, and not paying attention in class to take his own notes, then that is his misfortune. But buying notes or reviewing notes of one who may have been more proficient at note-taking as an additional resource should not be frowned upon by student, teacher, parent, or Abby. EDUCATION MAJOR

DEAR MAJOR: You could be right since one goes to school to LEARN, and if he in fact learns, he has achieved his objective. But some teachers may take a dim view of students who, instead of taking their own notes, borrow (or buy) notes of others. I say, a student who has this in mind should ask his teacher how he feels about it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "JUST ASKING:" "Age" is not a factor in adoption. Many people have adopted one who is NOT a minor.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 63706, L. A., CALIF. 90063 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

Birthright groups formed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The increasing freedom of young women to resort to abortions has encountered militant opposition from women who challenge the right of anyone to kill an unborn baby.

Eighty-five chapters of the volunteers' organization, "Birthright," have been formed throughout the country. Mrs. Dorothy Garrett, director of the northern Virginia chapter, does not argue the point that a woman has the right to determine what will happen to her own body.

"But this is another person's body," she said. "Three weeks after conception the baby's heart beats. In eight weeks, its feet and toes are fully developed."

Most of the abortions performed in this area are on white women, she said. "The blacks take care of their own. White women usually choose an abortion because having a child is too much trouble."

Mrs. Garrett apparently considers no reason an adequate excuse for abortion. Pregnancies caused by rape occur to only .0003 per cent of the victims, she said.

The assaulted girl should go immediately to a hospital for treatment.

"This will preclude pregnancy and the strong possibility of venereal disease," Mrs. Garrett said.

CALVIN WEBB elected

East discarded a heart and Z ruffed again. Now he ruffed a second club in dummy and another diamond in his own hand. East discarded a second heart on that fourth diamond, but it did him no good.

Z simply played his king of clubs. West took two club tricks, but then had to lead a heart. Z went up with dummy's queen and collected the rest of the tricks.

For those 160 young to remember, chintz was a fabric of the great depression of the 1930s. It was a cheap cotton that tried to be elegant with the aid of starch and wax glazes. The chintz of 1972 is an elegant, easy-care fabric. And it seems to be coming back.

New store confirmed at Jerome

BY CHARLOTTE BELL
Times-News writer

JEROME — Pete Martin, vice president of Safeway Stores, Inc., and Salt Lake City division manager, confirmed today a new Safeway store will be built in Jerome.

According to Martin, the 18,000 square foot store will be constructed along the back of the property facing the 200 block of Main Street, and will have room for a 70-car parking lot in front of and to the west of the building.

Martin said all the existing structures on the block will be removed, except the two service stations on the corner. He also confirmed that Magic Valley Cafe, operated by Sam Wong will be relocated in a new building to the east of the new Safeway store. Martin said the firm hopes to have the new store completed later this year, and survey work will begin immediately.

Bids to construct the building will be let at a later date. The architect is Holland, McGill and Pasker, Salt Lake City. The present Safeway building will either be sold or leased after the new store is opened, Martin said.

DO-IT-YOURSELF billboard removers, armed with chain saws, were active again early Wednesday morning, downing about 10 large billboards between Hailey and Ketchum, which were not included in Blaine County clean-up last month. The Idaho Department of Highways plans to purchase newly downed billboards, which were mainly owned by the Cosgriff Sign Co. Unknown vandals have downed more than 30 signs in the county during the last year.

Filer approves school budget

FILER — Trustees of the Filer School District adopted a $570,200 budget for the 1972-73 school year Tuesday night following a public hearing which drew no comments.

The budget is 7.8 per cent higher than last year's $528,790, mainly because of a $150 across-the-board raise given to all teachers of the district. About 50 school personnel are affected by the raise.

Trustees also conducted a canvass of the Tuesday trustee election without finding any errors. Books were audited by Max Yost of the Associated Taxpayers of Idaho, and by auditors of the El Paso Gas Co. and the United Pacific Railroad.

Several applicants were interviewed for teacher vacancies in the district and plans were made to meet again at 8 p.m. May 15 in a special session to continue interviews. One appointment was made. Julia Astorquia, Twin Falls, was hired as a physical education teacher at the high school.

Board members voted approval for track teams and coaches to attend a meet in Boise and for the golf team to travel to Pocatello for competition.

The schedule for 1972-73 was adopted with school to begin Aug. 28 and students to be out Sept. 6 through 8 for the county fair to allow 4-H and FFA members to participate.

Cassia teacher hassle goes legal

The action has revolved around a difference of opinion between the teachers and their employers over the deadlocked negotiations in working conditions. Salary has not been a major point of contention in this controversy, according to spokesmen for the teachers.

"We know that the school district has only so much money to go around, and we understand their problems in that regard," former CCEA President Clyde Wardle said earlier in the dispute. The school board adopted a salary schedule for the 1972-73 school year that was somewhat lower than the salaries proposed by the faculty negotiators, but no major protest was voiced.

During the first five meetings between the representatives of the school trustees and administration and the teachers' representatives, what issues developed over what issues could be negotiated.

The trustees and administration declared that the teachers could talk about only wages, fringe benefits and a grievance procedures whereby those with a grievance could approach the administration.

Not so, said the teachers—all issues involving education must be brought to the table, including textbook selection, curriculum development and even personnel matters.

"We feel that anything involving our working conditions and our profession must be negotiable," Wardle has said. "We are the professionals—we are the ones who know about textbooks and curriculum."

The administration, spearheaded by Supt. Harold Blauer, has been determined to hold to their original stand. Textbook selection, curriculum development and personnel are strictly the responsibility of the administration, not of the teachers, Blauer said.

There the negotiators locked horns, deadlocked over procedures and issues. In answer, the CCEA talked about and approved a form of contract "stacking" in which the teachers belonging to the association would sign their contracts when issued, but refuse to turn them over to the administration. The association would "hold" the contracts, as a type of lever over the heads of the administration in the negotiations.

Blauer, answering the association, then ordered the principal in each Cassia County school to hang on to the contracts for his teachers, and told the principals to have the teachers sign the contracts in their offices.

The court action is the answer. Burley attorney Pete Snow (incidentally the husband of the new CCEA president) told members the district was exceeding its legal rights in refusing to let the teachers study the contracts at their leisure.

The district could set a deadline for signing, Snow said; they could not restrict the teachers. On that basis, the petition was filed.

Blaine forms parks board

HAILEY — A Blaine County Parks Board was established Wednesday with the appointment of a seven-man parks commission.

The formation of the board was initiated in February after Hailey City Atty. Stephen W. Boller requested the county join in a city plan to build a nine-hole golf course to be located north of Hailey.

Commissioner Chmn. John Fox said at that time he "favored" getting involved in the plan but said he "would like to go one step further and establish a parks board."

The centralized board could obtain "the proper equipment to maintain the parks within the county and provide a better organization," he said.

Commissioner Jack Bennett said because of county growth, "the need is coming for a parks board."

During a commissioners' meeting Wednesday, the board was selected from a group of volunteers, following commissioner district guidelines for population and geographical representation.

Bennett said board members will have staggered terms of office which will be determined at the first meeting by drawing lots. The board will also set their goals and obligations at that time, he said.

At large delegate Jerry Johnson, East Fork, was appointed as temporary chairman. The remainder of the parks commission includes James McDonald, Ketchum; Edward Dumpke, Sun Valley; Mary Anderson and Verbon Murphree, both Hailey, and Lorn Ivie and Harvey Bickett, representing the area from Bellevue to Carey.

Bellevue aides try to improve housing quality

BY TERRY CAMPBELL
Times-News writer

BELLEVUE — Bellevue officials took initial steps toward improving low cost housing quality Tuesday night.

During a joint meeting with the City Council, the Bellevue Zoning Committee moved to require all prospective builders to answer a questionnaire, listing detailed construction specifications. The motion also included a provision that every foundation be reinforced with steel bars.

The nine-man committee, chaired by Mark Patterson, has been working toward a city planning and zoning ordinance since June, 1971. Tuesday's meeting was scheduled to acquaint the new aldermen with the group's plan and to review the progress of the project which Mayor James Pigg said was about 90 per cent complete.

Discussions centered on low-cost housing after resident Dixie Ivie termed much of the housing construction "shameful."

Patterson revised the questionnaire which was earlier proposed to the council. The chairman said the form could be used as a contract between the builder and the city.

Alderman Duke Martin further recommended that building permits be issued only after a review of the specifications by the council.

Martin, zoning member John Jensen and resident William Andrews were appointed by the committee to draw up the questionnaire. The committee recommended that the group concentrate on builder specifications for footings and foundations, floor joists and roof pitch and rafters.

Alderman Mike Ivie said problems arise in controlling low-cost housing because a majority of the homes are prefabricated and then trucked into Bellevue. But, he recommended that "re-bar" be required because foundation construction can be supervised.

During a similar meeting in January the council approved the zoning plan in concept.

Shoshone girl hurt

SHOSHONE — Velda Heath, 15, Shoshone High School student, was injured in a car motorcycle accident in Shoshone about noon Wednesday.

She was taken by ambulance to St. Benedict's Hospital, Jerome, where she was reported in good condition this morning.

Miss Heath was injured when the motorcycle on which was a passenger went around a truck and struck an oncoming car. She was thrown off the motorcycle in the impact.

She was riding on a motorcycle driven by Dale Kerner, a Shoshone High School senior. The accident occurred on a residential street in the northwest section of Shoshone. The car they hit was driven by John Jones, another high school student.

Neither Kerner nor Jones was reported injured. Damage to both vehicles was reported minor.

2 injured in TF crash

TWIN FALLS — A dramatic two-car collision this morning resulted in injuries to two Twin Falls persons.

According to Don Hiebert, Idaho State Police officer, a van driven by Lee Wilford Bastian, 54, was struck in the side while traveling west on Falls Avenue East.

Hiebert said Marlettia Campbell, 58, driving a small station wagon, apparently ran through a stop sign while traveling north on Eastland Drive and struck the Bastian vehicle.

After the collision, momentum carried the van west down Falls and turned it over on its top, with the front pointing east.

The Campbell vehicle veered left after the collision and came to rest in a concrete ditch with the front end of the car pointed northwest.

Both persons were taken by ambulance to Magic Valley Memorial Hospital. Bastian was released after treatment of minor injuries. Mrs. Campbell is listed in fair condition.

Damage to the van was estimated at over $1,000 by Hiebert. About $500 damage was done to the Campbell vehicle.

Mrs. Campbell was cited for failure to yield right of way at a stop sign.

Cassia school vote challenged

BURLEY — Gene Sorensen, former school board member, has announced he will file an injunction in district court to stop the subdistrict election set for Monday.

Sorensen presently is contacting each school board member requesting that the subdistrict election be postponed due to advertisement of the incorrect legal description of the subdistrict area.

"The subdistrict was advertised one way in the May 4 issue of the South Idaho Press, then the school officials changed the advertising for the May 9 issue," said Sorensen.

"I have talked over the matter with Harold Blauer, county school superintendent, and Herman Bedke, school district attorney, but neither of these men have authority to make a decision," Sorensen said.

"The board of trustees or the courts are the only ones who can stop the election at this point," Sorensen added.

"Also, the trustees failed to set up a polling place for zone 4 in the Burley area. They set only the Springdale Elementary School as polling place for zone 4," Sorensen said.

"I think the polling place is an oversight," he added.

"I am in favor of a subdistrict and I worked to help petition for the subdistrict but it must be legal from the beginning. So, if it passes on a vote by the people, the issue will not be challenged now or in years to come," Sorensen stated.

He pointed out the petition filed with the school trustees requesting a subdistrict set 650 East as the boundary line on the east and the trustees changed the east boundary line to 450 East, just so more assessed valuation could be included if Declo should request a subdistrict.

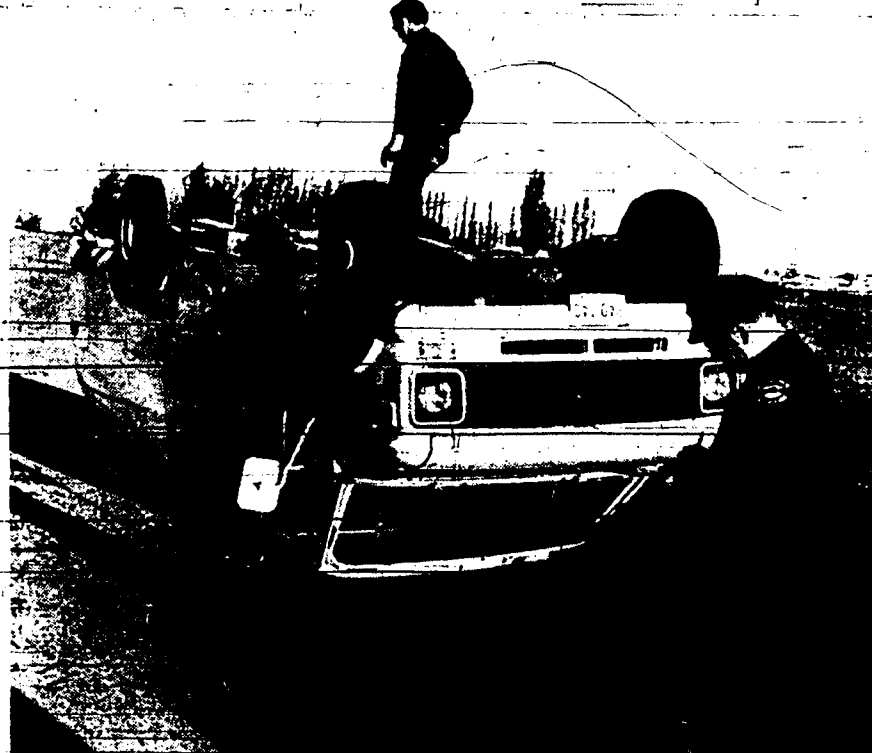

According to superintendent Blauer, voters are scheduled to go to the polls Monday to vote on a subdistrict that includes that portion of the school district north of the 800 South Road and West of the 450 East Road.

Also set for Monday's election are the five trustees in the district including W.B. Whiteley, Oakley zone 1 seeking his fifth three-year term; Dr. A. Paul Brown, Burley zone 2; Alvin M. "Pat" Kelly, Burley zone 3; William E. Matthews, Declo, incumbent, is opposed by Dan Crane of Burley in zone 4; Charles Ward, Malta, incumbent, is being challenged by Brent J. Peterson, Cottier.

Cassia County voters will also vote on the five-mill levy for maintenance and operation. All polls will be open from 1 to 8 p.m.

Voting places are Burley High School, Oakley High School, Bean Growers Warehouse in Milner; all zone 1 polls; Southwest Elementary School, zone 2; Burley Junior High School, zone 3; Springdale Elementary School, zone 4; Declo City Hall, Raft River High School; Albion Elementary School and Almo Elementary School, all zone 5.

Van upsets

A TWO-CAR collision this morning resulted in extensive damage to two vehicles and minor injuries to Marlettia Campbell and Lee Wilford Bastian, Twin Falls.

Classrooms provide security

KELLOGG, Idaho (UPI) — School Superintendent — Leale Larson says the classrooms can provide a sense of security for children of a community stunned by a disaster such as the Sunshine Mine fire.

"For many of the kids here, the salvation now is something where there is normalcy," Larson said Tuesday. He said local schools have tried to maintain things as usual atmosphere through the turmoil of the tragedy that began eight days ago.

Desks of many children of dead and missing miners have been empty during the grim rescue operations at the mine. Youngsters at the school have carried transistor radios with them daily to keep posted on the latest news.

"We have been trying to cushion themselves for any kind of reaction or problem children face during this ordeal," Larson said. "Classes are going in regular sessions. The schools are trying to maintain normal programs and give them a place to go where they have a sense of security."

Spokesmen for individual schools in the area agreed that while the reality of the disaster was ever present, students in all grades were taking it well.

"It's amazing what children can take," said a spokesman for the Elk Creek Elementary School. "I think some children hold up such a strain much better than adults do. We have children here of five families directly involved in the disaster. They have gone home to be with their families. I think the other children accept this as a part of life. I think they have been very understanding."

The Sunnyside Elementary School postponed several special events because of the disaster, but maintained a regular class schedule.

"Four of our children have fathers involved in the tragedy," said Principal Walt Koepel. "There has been a different feeling here, a helpless feeling. It has seemed quiet, but the children have been taking it well. There have been about 50 portable radios around, at least."

La Donna Boothe, a teacher's aide at the Lincoln Elementary School, said four children there were absent because their fathers were listed as missing at the mine.

"The first few days, there was a lot of talk in the school about what was going on at the mine, but the teachers tried to contain this somewhat and I think the children have accepted what has happened in an understanding way. We haven't changed our scheduling or programs as yet."

"One thing we've noticed: the kids have become, well, quite meditating. We're not getting quite the response from them as during normal times. Some of them seem preoccupied with this tragic thing which has been such a shock to us in this area.

Demos set Monday meet on platform

TWIN FALLS — One of six meetings for Idaho Democrats to help write the 1972 Democratic platform will be held Monday at 7:30 p.m. It will be in the Twin Falls County Judicial Building.

The public-hearing type meetings will give all party members in Idaho an opportunity for a voice in the party's platform, state chair man Joe McCarter said. In addition to verbal opinions, Democrats may submit opinions in writing. These comments should be mailed to Democratic state headquarters in Boise, McCarter said.

The Monday night meeting in the Twin Falls County Judicial Building is open to party members of all parts of Magic Valley. Other meetings will be held in Idaho Falls, Pocatello, Boise, Lewiston and Coeur d'Alene.

Platform committees will receive the information with committees including foreign relations, human rights, education, health, welfare and housing, economic development which will also include inflation, unemployment, trade federal spending and tax reform.

T.F. big favorite in district meet

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls Bruins, who haven't lost a district title since Buhl turned the trick in 1957, are prohibitive favorites Friday evening against Minico and Burley.

Coach Jerry Kleinkopf's charges should win 10 events — maybe another one or two — and qualify a busload of individuals and relays for state runoffs next week at Boise State Stadium. The completion starts at 5 p.m. Friday in Bruin Stadium with field events.

The high jump, hurdles, discus and sprints will be the places Twin Falls might be found wanting. However, Burley and Minico have top quality individuals there.

In the high jump, Burley frosh

Brent Bodily and senior Cory Kidd could give Burley a one-two sweep — only two qualify for state. The hurdles favor Toby Harding of Minico and Mike Sagers, Burley, in the highs and Harding and Ken Harper of Burley in the lows.

Twin Falls' Rick Spriggs, third in state in both last year, has been slowed by a tendon tear. The Bruins have one other low hope, junior Jeff Miller who has the speed but perhaps not the experience, to top a state berth since he's only run one low hurdle final.

The discus looks like a Minico one-two affair with Bair and Kelly Feil, the other three spots to be battled for by Twin Falls' Dave Wilcox and Burley's Tracy Nielsen and Cardiel.

Twin Falls is not destitute in the sprints with Bill Woodson, Brent Thompson and Gary Scott — and that depth could prove the undoing of Minico's Roy Young and Larry Bell and Harper of Burley. Young and Bell figure to get the two spots in the century — and pick 'em by a foot either way — with the Bruins nipping at their heels.

The 220 could be a five-man battle with Woodson and Thompson coming off two big wins in two weeks — both over Young by hairs — and Bell and Harper have been running within a yard or so in their meets. Two-tenths of a second should cover the group with some to spare.

But after those events, it should be all blue. Alan Gibbs and Gary Cooper should go one-two in the quarter and the Bruins, headed by Gary Sievers, Randy Mildon and Hershberger could be one-two three in the 880.

Darrell Groves is the mile favorite and Jim Kennedy could be the two-mile king. Willy Howard of Burley and Todochiney of Minico seem the best bets for upsets.

One thing to watch is Bruin junior Dave Sears trying to get back into the two-mile situation

— he's the defending champion here — after taking a month-long sabbatical in midseason. Twin Falls should sweep the relays — essential to Bruin hopes for a third straight state crown — since only the championship team advances to state.

Bruin Mike Murray is the shot put favorite with Minico's Feil having the best chance for surprise. John Blake, up to 14 feet in the pole vault, ranks first there with Minico's Johnson in second place and the long jump appears a duel between Bruins Alan Conner and Thompson.

Richfield honors athletes

RICHFIELD — Athletics is a game of life.

That was the theme used by Jerry Hale, CSI basketball coach, as he spoke to Richfield High School athletes at their annual banquet Tuesday.

He urged boys and girls to make the most of what they had and always do their best. The banquet comes as a climax to the year's athletic activities with only regional and state track meets remaining on the schedule.

Coach Merril Beyer presented Scott Ward with the outstanding all-around athlete trophy. Both the outstanding basketball and football trophies went to Allen Paulson. Both boys are seniors.

The ham dinner was cooked and served by mothers of the athletes. Master of ceremonies was Nick Hubsmith. Musical entertainment was furnished by Sheryl and Brenda Hiatt, who sang and played the guitar.

RON MAXWELL, FILER GRADUATE, was named the most improved player on Boise State's basketball team. The junior was one of 24 athletes honored at the school's all-sports banquet.

G.F. takes frosh-soph girls title

WENDELL — Glenns Ferry, getting a double win from Miss Brown, won the Little Five Conference girls frosh-soph track title Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Brown won the 220-yard dash and the high jump, placed second in the long jump and anchored the winning 880-yard relay team as Glenns Ferry scored 95 1/2 points against 80 for Wendell and 44 1/2 for Shoshone. Kimberly and Valley did not show up.

Miss Askew of Wendell took a pair of victories, winning the 100-yard dash and the shotput.

Nelson, coming off a week's (two games) suspension, fanned 10 Spartans, walked two and gave up three hits. The loss was charged to Minico's Dennis Warburton who struck out five, walked one and allowed four hits.

Twin Falls scored the only run in the bottom of the third inning when Mark Hanchey lived on an error and was sacrificed to second by Mike Fries, who later turned in the defensive play of the game. Hanchey moved to third while Jerry Barbour was grounding out, then scored on Nelson's broken bat single.

Minico's best chance came in the fifth when an error and walk put a runner in scoring position with no outs. But the lead runner was forced at third base on a bouncer and Nelson fanned the next two.

Wood River fills coaching positions

HAILEY — Coaching changes at the Wood River High School, Hailey, have been announced. According to a Blaine County Board of Trustees news release, Fred Trenkle has been appointed to the head basketball coaching position from his previous assignment as junior varsity basketball coach. He replaces Bill Bowman, who resigned from the post in March.

Jim Praegitzer has received an interim appointment as head football coach while Bowman takes a year's leave of absence to complete work on a master's degree at the College of Idaho.

Trenkle is a graduate of Shoshone High School, Shoshone, and the College of Southern Idaho, Twin Falls. He received his BA degree from Idaho State University, Pocatello, in 1970.

The new basketball coach participated in both basketball and football in high school and achieved outstanding honors in basketball while at ISU. His coaching experience consists of two years as junior varsity coach at Wood River High School.

Praegitzer is a graduate of Minico High School, Rupert, and Magic Valley, Christian College of the Ozarks, Clarksville, Ark., in 1968. He has been an active football player and a student of the game for many years, according to the release.

By attending coaching schools and seminars, Praegitzer has continuously upgraded his coaching qualifications. His coaching experience includes football, basketball and track-field over a six-year coaching career with two years at the Ketchum Junior High School and four years at the Wood River Junior High.

In a statement, the trustees said they "felt very fortunate to have men of Jim's and Fred's capabilities available."

Harper-led Burley takes frosh-soph

RUPERT — The Burley shatter Kelly Feil's old Minico mark by more than five feet. Cochran doubled by winning the discus at a less illustrious 120-31.

Harper set the low hurdles record at 21-flat and won the 220 and 100-yard dashes as the young Roberts piled up 85 points against 77 for Jerome. Stuart had 72, Twin Falls sophs 29, West Minico 25, O'Leary 15 and Minico 9.

Harper turned the 100-yard dash in 10.4 and the 220-yard dash in 23.9. His record in the lows eclipsed by three-tenths of a second the old standard set by Jones of Minico.

Jerome freshman Norm Cochran got back into the swing of things in the shot put, sending the ball 52-feet, 9 inches to

Ayers resigns Kimberly post

KIMBERLY — Gary Ayers, head football and wrestling coach and athletic director at Kimberly High School, said Wednesday he is leaving education.

Ayers, who earlier gave up coaching duties at Kimberly but indicated he might stay on as a faculty member, said he had accepted a position with the Humble Oil Co. He anticipates moving into the Denver area immediately after the close of the school term and might be transferred to Texas by fall.

Kimberly will interview candidates for the football job Saturday and an announcement is expected shortly.

Chevelle and Impala. We've packed them for your vacation.

Chevelle Malibu Sport Coupe and Impala Sport Sedan.

There are certain things no family should start out on vacation without.

Things that will help make your trip more enjoyable and less worrisome. We've packed many such things into our Chevelles and Impalas, the two most popular cars in their fields.

Chevelle: The most popular intermediate.

Impala: The most popular full-size car year after year.

"Talking" seat belts.

Traveling around, getting in and out of the car a lot, it's easy to forget about buckling up.

Consequently, every new Impala and Chevelle has a front seat belt reminder system that speaks up if you try to start out before buckling.

A buzzer buzzes and a light flashes to make sure you get the message.

And that's just one of many protective features now being built into these cars.

Feel their muscles.

Out on the road, it's reassuring to realize you're riding in a car that's well built.

What you get with an Impala or Chevelle is a body that's an all-welded steel superstructure, painstakingly put together. In other words, a Body by Fisher.

You get a sturdy steel guard beam in every door for added protection in case of side impact.

You get a steel cargo guard that walls off the passenger compartment from the trunk and helps keep everything in its place.

You get double steel panels in the doors, in the hood, in the deck lid.

Up inside the fenders: inner fenders to protect against corrosion and kicked-up stones.

What you get, in both of these popular cars, is a lot of built-in strength and durability.

Good things to have along as you travel.

Let's talk comfort.

Another reason why Chevelle and Impala are the top cars in their fields is their comfort.

Impala is one of the roomiest cars around.

And Chevelle, though slightly smaller, gives you room for six. Plus plenty of baggage.

But comfort is more than just room. So at all four wheels we've put big coil springs to gentle up your ride.

And between the body and the frame we've placed a network of little rubber cushions to help keep things quiet inside.

There's even more.

Here are a few more items you'll be taking along this summer if you travel in a new Impala or Chevelle:

A tough acrylic lacquer finish.

A battery with its terminals on the side so corrosion can't build up.

An engine that operates efficiently on no-lead, low-lead, or regular fuel.

Why, on Impala, you even get power steering, power disc brakes and Turbo Hydra-matic transmission—all standard.

A beautiful choice.

We suggest you stop by your Chevrolet dealer's soon, to take a close look at the 1972 Chevelle or Impala.

It's nice to know that whichever way you go, you'll be getting a whole lot of car.

Have a good trip.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You are able now to use more up-to-date methods at your regular duties and get better results. Add comforts to your home. Out to the right sources where you can get the facts you need at this time.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be one of those charming young people who seems to put a dollar sign in front of everything from earliest childhood, so be sure to give the spiritual and ethical training necessary while young to combine this trait with idealism. Then this becomes not only a successful, but a happy child and much of value can be accomplished during the lifetime. Some sports are necessary early to build up the rather frail body here.

Why God Made The Mosquito

"Why did God make mosquitoes?" inquires a youthful North Carolinian. I don't know. Do know what some early American Indians believed, however. They preached the Great Spirit, they created the mosquito to prevent young braves and maidens from spending too many unchaperoned evenings together outside the camp. Maybe so.

AM ASKED why so few newspapers print poetry anymore. Oscar Wilde explained that "A poet can survive anything but a misprint." Still, it's too bad. The poet is rejected these days. As gold Max Eastman said, "In history he's divine, but a poet in the next room is a joke."

DID I SAY horse breeders don't know why mares tend to foal at night? They do, too. Has nothing to do with nightmares. Incidentally, writes one of same, "Now as always, a mare, when foaling, is helpless against such predators as big cats. So her genetic memory tells her to foal in the protective darkness." Reasonable.

FLIGHT

No joke, that claim the drive to the airport is more dangerous than the flight in the sky. Odds are 15 times higher you'll get hurt in a car than in a plane, say the computer boys.

A CUSTOMER in Casper, Wyo., recalls an ROTC inspection there where an officer took the butt plate off a rifle and a note popped out which read: "You sure are anony."

QUICK AS half a flash, write down five odd figures that add up to 14. No can't do? Maybe you're trying with numbers instead of figures. Answer is 11 and three 1s.

CERTAINLY you're a Seasoned Citizen if you remember what article of clothing actress Dorothy Lamour made famous in her movies. The sarong. The truth be, though, she only wore sarongs in six of her 40-plus films. Those sarongs cost maybe $10. But her wardrobe for the other pictures were valued at about $100,000. Point this out to your wife, mister. Clearly, it's neither the number nor the expense of her dresses that makes them memorable.

HICCUPS

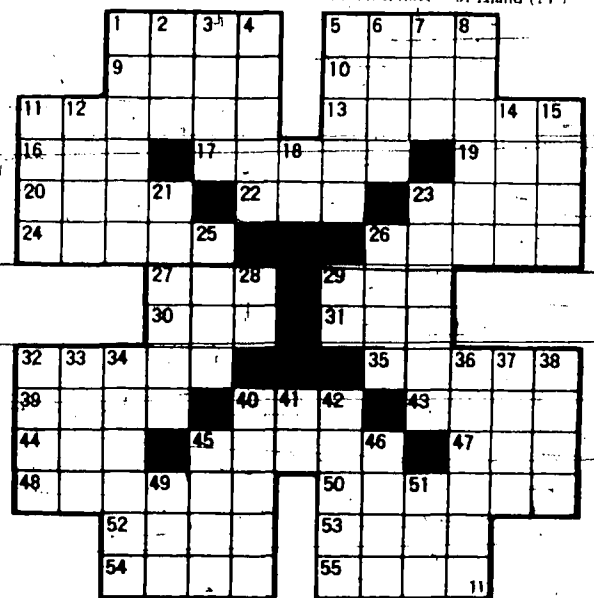

Best cure for hiccups known to date is a spoonful of ordinary table sugar. So report medical researchers at the University of California and the University of Miami. They claim that simple sugar trick works in 19 out of 20 cases of hiccups. Must remember that.

WOMEN CONVICTED of capital crimes were not hanged in Old England. Before 1789, at any rate. A moral matter. Was thought to be unchivalrous to dangle a girl on a rope thus to expose her bare legs before onlookers. A toothsome indignity. Executed women for this reason were burned at the stake.

Survivors

'We sure were praying down there,' says rescued miner

BY RICHARD CHARNOCK
KELLOGG, (UPI) — "We're not praying men," said Ron Flory. "But we were sure praying down there."

Flory, 28, and fellow silver miner Tom Wilkinson, 29, were rescued from the Sunshine Mine Tuesday night after surviving seven days trapped by a fire which killed at least 47 others. Refreshed after a good night's sleep and a breakfast of New York cut steak, they were released from West Shoshone General Hospital Wednesday. Neither man heard the muffled explosion May 2 in the upper reaches of the mine which touched off the fire.

"Somebody come in from up above and told us to come down to our level and get these people out so they'd have a chance," Flory said. "We went down and got a motor (car) and went back and got them and went out to the station (a lift station on the No. 10 shaft)."

"We got our gas masks — our respirators — and we stood around waiting for the skip (lift cage). Then my partner he got sick and passed out and we took him back to where we were when they found us (about 1,800 feet back from the shaft where the hoist was located)."

"Then we just more or less waited for all these other men who were down there with us who didn't make it," he said. "When the other seven men failed to show up, they became concerned, Wilkinson said, and Flory went forward in the shaft to look for them. He returned, Wilkinson said, "and he said they were just laying there all over."

"Wilkinson said he jumped on the motor car and went to the shaft."

"The first one we seen, we grabbed him and dragged him back to good air, but it was too late," he said. "We checked and we couldn't find a pulse."

At that point the two men began their long, lonely seven-day wait for rescue.

There was a light on the battery operated car and they kept it on most of the time, even while they were sleeping. "We tried to turn it off but it seemed like everything closed in on us," Flory said.

They tapped on metal lines in the drift, or passageway, at their level in hopes they might be heard by rescue teams. They talked a lot and slept a little.

It was about 100 degrees, they said, in the narrow drift where they waited.

"It was very warm, there before they rescued us," Wilkinson said.

"We were thinking about our families," he said. "We kept thinking about how they (the rescue teams) were going to get down."

"We knew they were bound to get down to us."

To pass the time, they talked about "everything" — we could think of, anything that came into our minds," Wilkinson said.

They also braided a roll of blasting wire and Flory, who is an inveterate toothpick chewer, whittled some toothpicks to chew. He had one in his mouth when rescued.

Wilkinson said they had a calendar watch and kept track of the time as it dragged along from day to day.

They drank water from a water line in the drift. But from Tuesday until Friday they went without food. Finally, they went back toward the smoky No. 10 shaft to a place where they and their dead companions had stacked their lunchboxes Tuesday morning and picked up a few.

On Sunday, he said, they were out of food again and returned to get the rest of the lunchboxes, containing candy bars, peanut butter and jelly and tuna fish sandwiches.

Flory said they briefly considered trying to climb out of the mine on ladders but decided against it.

"Our lights wouldn't have held out," he said.

Flory said they never heard the rescuers until those who brought them out entered their level from a bore hole.

"When we first seen the light we couldn't really believe it," Wilkinson said.

Mine law repealer proposed

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — President J. W. Abel of the United Steelworkers of America (USWA) Wednesday called for the repeal of the current mine safety law and its standards, saying the fatal Sunshine Mine fire at Kellogg, Idaho, reveals the law's "gross inadequacies."

"A nation that affords the ultimate in protection for its astronauts in their collection of moon rocks must likewise see that the miners who extract vitally needed earth ore are extended the same protection," said Abel.

Abel called for repeal of the federal law since its administrator, the U. S. Bureau of Mines "cannot adequately represent miners because it is the voice of mine operators."

"I therefore urge congressional committees to hold immediate hearings into the Kellogg disaster and also for the need to transfer the question of miner safety from the Bureau of Mines to the Occupational Safety and Health Administration under the Department of Labor where all other workers receive greater protection."

The USWA sent investigators to Kellogg to interview survivors of the mine disaster. Abel said the interviews revealed "gross inadequacies" of the existing federal law.

"These miners have testified that emergency equipment was lacking and that training and preparation for its use was totally inadequate or lacking," he said. "New mine technology was not employed. Even the weak standards of the mine safety law were not implemented by the company nor enforced by the Bureau of Mines."

KELLOGG, Idaho (UPI) — A federal official said Wednesday there will be an inspection of all mines in this area as soon as rescue operations at the Sunshine Mine are completed.

The announcement came from Bureau of Mines Director Elbert F. Osborn in response to a request from the Bunker Hill Co. and the United Steelworkers of America, who said they wanted to "benefit as early as possible from what safety experts have learned in their experience with the Sunshine Mine fire."

The request came from Bunker Hill President Frank G. Woodruff and Steelworkers' District Director Frank S. McKee. They asked for a thorough investigation of the Bunker Hill Mine here, saying, "We feel that modifications to Bunker Hill's safety equipment and procedures to incorporate at least the more obvious lessons to be learned" from the Sunshine tragedy can't wait long.

Osborn, who has been here since shortly after the Sunshine fire started May 2, replied in a letter to the two men:

"As soon as our effort to recover men in the Sunshine Mine is completed, we will give the inspection of the Bunker Hill Mine our highest priority."

Gem units plan probe of 'frauds'

BOISE, (UPI) — Idaho's Department of Public Assistance and the Attorney General's Office have joined forces to increase enforcement of child support provisions and investigate possible DPA fraud cases.

Clarence D. Suiter, chief deputy attorney general, said Wednesday the DPA would finance the assistant attorneys general to be placed throughout the state, but added the program "would more than pay for itself."

Tom Vasseur, assistant attorney general directing the new program, said first estimates indicated the staff could collect about $1 million more than is now collected for child support.

The program will eventually place an assistant attorney in each of the state's seven judicial districts to work with county prosecuting attorneys and the DPA.

In the past, Vasseur said, there has been no "strong, concentrated effort" to collect child support payments. He said the attorneys would assist the county attorneys who will bring non-support cases if necessary to compel payment.

He said the attorneys would also investigate and where necessary prosecute for fraud.

Revenue estimate for Idaho pared

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho's acting budget director revised downward Wednesday the estimate of revenue to the general fund and predicted the state may have to postpone some fiscal year 1972 bills to end the year in the black.

D. E. (Skip) Chilberg said the current fiscal year's $125.3 million general fund budget plus over $900,000 in supplemental appropriations approved by the 1972 legislature were to have been balanced by revenue of $122.6 million and a carry-over from the 1969-71 biennium.

But following a meeting with State Tax Commission Chairman Ewing Little and State Auditor Joe R. Williams, he said it appeared revenue will reach only $121.3 million.

He said that meant a fiscal squeeze on June 30 and absolutely no surplus to carry over into fiscal year 1973.

"We'll definitely end the year in the black," he said. "We're going to probably be increasing agency encumbrances and carrying bills into next fiscal year."

That move, he said, would meet both the general fund responsibility and the supplemental appropriations, but would throw payment of some debts over into fiscal year 1973.

"It's going to compound the problem of an underfunded appropriation for next year," he said. Referring to the fiscal year 1973 million general fund budget.

Chilberg said the brightest sign in the latest figures compiled by the tax commission as of April 30 was a 12.9 per cent increase in sale tax revenue.

He said the sales tax for the current fiscal year was estimated to be $35.1 million but had been raised to a new projection of $36.2 million, "more optimistic than we'd hoped for in the past."

But, he warned, the sales tax increase — up $1.8 million thus far — may not continue.

"We don't know yet whether we can expect this large burst of sales to continue in the next year," he said. "It's not the type of thing that would be sustained over a long period of time."

Revenue from the State Department of Insurance was increased from the original estimate of $5.9 million to the present estimate of over $6 million.

The estimate for beer tax revenue was increased from $1.4 million to $1.5 million and the cigarette tax revenue projection hiked from $5 million to $5.1 million.

Individual income tax returns, he said, were holding pretty steady. The tax commission figures showed an increase of $1.9 million, but Chilberg said refunds still had to be made and as yet the total is not known.

But in the other areas of revenue the projections were lowered. The original estimate of corporate income tax at $11.5 million was dropped to $10.5 million and the wine tax estimate decreased from $500,000 to $400,000.

Teacher aide awards planned

PAUL — George MacDonald, special education instructor, West Minico Junior High, announced Wednesday awards of recognition to all teacher aides in the special education department.

A major award will be made to the teacher's aide considered to be the most proficient and effective. All aides will receive a certificate. The winner of the major award will have his or her name inscribed on a plaque to be retained by the school and will also receive a framed certificate indicating the particular individual had won this honor, said MacDonald.

The award will be made sometime during the last week of the school year.

MacDonald indicated that the purpose of this award program, which will be an annual event in the West Minico Junior High Special Education Department, is to emphasize the value of service to exceptional people and to encourage excellence of performance in this service.
