Bomb damages Pentagon in Weatherman protest

By EDWARD K. DeLONG
WASHINGTON (UPI) — A bomb exploded in the Pentagon early today, sending thousands of gallons of water gushing through a 2 1/2 foot hole in the floor of a women's washroom near the Air Force communications center.

There were no injuries, but water seepage caused some damage in the Air Force computer center two floors below the fourth floor washroom.

Almost at the very moment the bomb exploded, the radical Weatherman organization telephoned newspapers in New York and Washington to boast that it was responsible. It said the bombing was done to protest the U.S. role in the Vietnam war and to celebrate the birthdate of Ho Chi Minh.

The Defense Department had ordered maximum security imposed on the Pentagon, the nerve center of America's defense establishment and the world's largest office building, effective at 7 a.m. EDT today.

The security precautions were invoked as antiwar organizations laid plans for a massive rally starting Sunday in Washington, with announced plans to try to block access to the Pentagon on Monday.

There also had been several recent bomb threats, the most recent coming shortly after President Nixon ordered the mining of North Vietnamese harbors.

The washroom was almost destroyed and the concussion caused some damage to nearby offices.

Water pipes were broken in the washroom and water gushed through the big hole in the floor on down to the third level.

The flow was so heavy that water continued down stairwells and ramps to the main Pentagon level the second level concourse, and even into the basement.

Air Force Brig. Gen. Daniel James said the seepage caused "some damage, as yet undetermined," to computers on the second floor. He said the computers were not the Air Force's main ones and "the Air Force assures me they can carry on without them."

The explosion blasted all the fixtures of the washroom, located on the inside of the Pentagon's outermost corridor on the side closest to the city of Washington. It buckled 40 feet of wall, exposed electrical wiring and shattered windows and picture frames far down the corridor.

Kontum defenders repel Red assault

SAIGON (UPI) — Five waves of North Vietnamese backed by tanks attacked Kontum City today in what a military source in Saigon said could be the "decisive stage" of the battle for the Central Highlands. They were driven from the defense perimeter in hand-to-hand fighting.

Military spokesmen in Saigon said B52s dropped between 1,800 and 2,000 tons of bombs on Communist positions around Kontum in what they called record strikes by 60 planes flying 20 separate attacks. The area had been hit for days with similar heavy raids.

Today is the 22nd anniversary of the birth of the late North Vietnamese leader Ho Chi Minh and both American and South Vietnamese military commanders had expected some major Communist effort to mark the event. They thought Hue might be the target, but it was Kontum, 280 miles north of Saigon.

The fighting was so intense and at such close quarters that at one point the defenders lowered their artillery pieces and were firing explosive shells into the North Vietnamese at point blank range.

The North Vietnamese had launched numerous probing attacks in recent days including one Thursday that was beaten back a mile or so from Kontum with 41 Communists killed. The big assault began at 10 o'clock tonight.

Reports from the area said an estimated regiment (about 2,900 men at normal strength) hit positions of the Vietnamese 44th and 53rd Regiments strung out along a perimeter one to three miles from the city.

In the next eight hours, the reports said, five waves of North Vietnamese backed by at least seven tanks hit the perimeter.

Poultry industry in TF 'dead duck'

By HUGH DAVIS
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — A group of poultry growers has given up hope of rebuilding the shut-down Twin Falls poultry processing industry.

Vaughn Egan, Burley, spokesman for a group of 30 poultry growers in southern Idaho, said Thursday night his group has given up hope of purchasing the closed down Twin Falls poultry processing plant formerly owned by bankrupt Northwestern Poultry Growers, Inc.

The plant had once been the heart of a multi-million-dollar Idaho poultry processing industry.

The plant was closed following Northwestern's bankruptcy.

Egan said Thursday night the poultry market is worse now than it was when the plant closed in January when chances for reorganization looked brighter.

"We can't raise a bird for 29 cents," Egan said. "Chicken feed in Arkansas and Georgia is $20 a ton cheaper."

Egan said poultry wholesalers around the state are "cutting their own throats" trying to market Arkansas chickens a penny cheaper than Idaho-grown poultry.

He said he and 30 other poultry farmers involved will now have to find something else to do with their poultry production operations.

"Some of the poultry houses can be used for storage if they are located near a equipment dealer with storage needs. Maybe, automobiles, boats, anything."

"Some of the insulated houses could possibly store grains, maybe beans if they are built right. And I have heard a few talking about tearing down their poultry houses and bulldozing them over," Egan said.

The death knell for the poultry growers came two days ago when the Small Business Administration purchased the equipment of Northwestern for $49,000. The SBA acquired the property to pay off part of a loan assumed by Northwestern when the firm attempted to reinstitute the poultry industry a year ago.

It was the hope of Egan's group to acquire the equipment and process chickens on a somewhat limited scale.

"This means there will be no broiler chickens in Idaho, Utah, eastern Oregon and eastern Washington," said Egan. "And it isn't our fault. We tried to get it going again."

"The stores wouldn't back us and with the wholesalers fighting a price war, we are just out of luck. Now, there isn't a thing more we can do."

Egan said his group represented production of 2.5 million birds a year.

VP selection still uncertain

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew said today he did not know if he would be President Nixon's running mate in November.

Agnew said it is "totally unrealistic" to suppose Treasury Secretary John B. Connally would be acceptable.

"I don't understand how anybody could seriously believe that a man who is registered as a Democrat in the middle of May can turn Republican and be nominated vice president," Agnew said.

Agnew said he had not yet been asked by the President to be his running mate and will not decide until he is invited. He said Nixon is delaying a decision to determine which running mate would be most helpful to him, but "Mr. Connally is not it."

Agnew talked with reporters after a 40-minute report to President Nixon on his Far East visit.

2nd life claimed by wreck

TWIN FALLS — An automobile accident Tuesday night in Jerome County has claimed its second victim.

Twenty-year old Teresa Gellatly, Wenatchee, Wash., died at 3:50 p.m. Thursday at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital where she had been a patient since the accident.

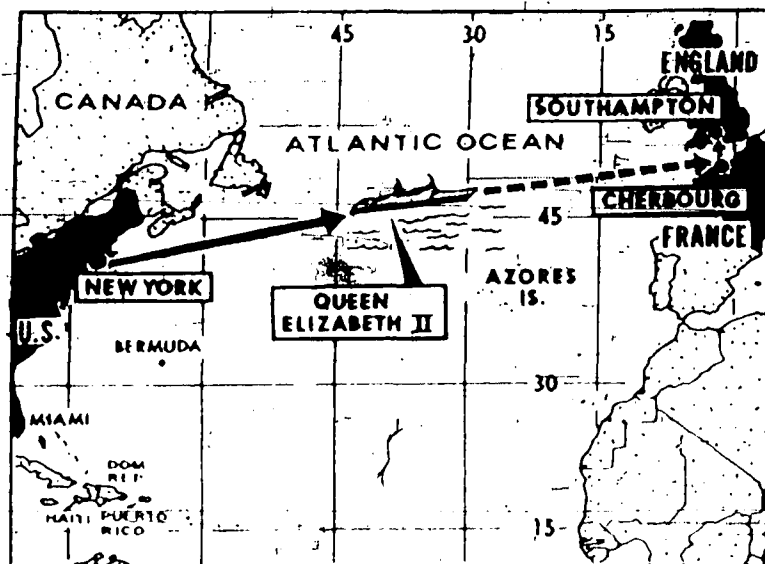

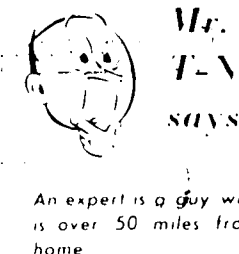

Dead at the scene of the wreck just east of the Valley Interchange on Interstate 80N was Kathleen Bulleset, 19, Portland, Ore.

The two young women, students at Stephens College, Columbia, Mo., were en route to their homes from Columbia when the accident occurred about 11:30 p.m. Tuesday.

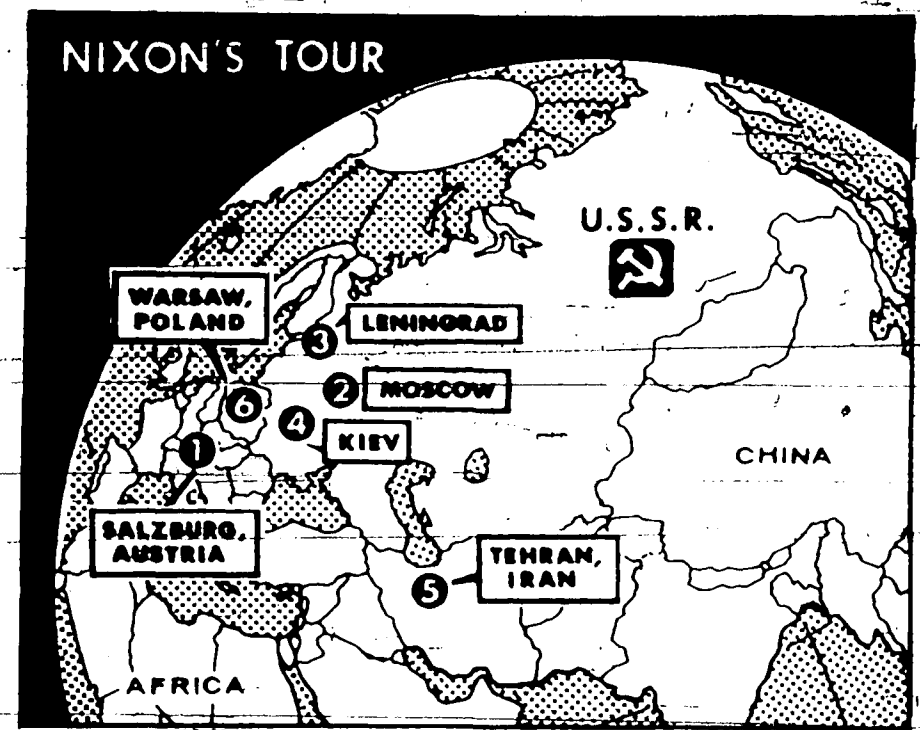

Miss Gellatly had graduated from Stephens College in three years and Miss Bulleset had completed her freshman year.

Both girls were thrown from their small station wagon when it went off the shoulder of the highway, crossed two lanes of traffic and went into the median strip.

It has not been determined which of the victims was driving the car.

TEAM OF BRITISH frogmen searched luxury liner Queen Elizabeth II for bombs reported planted on ship Thursday night, but found no explosives. Officials of Cunard line said in New York $350,000 ransom was demanded in apparent extortion plot, but no additional calls concerning threat to detonate bombs had been received. Passengers were reported unruffled by incident. (UPI)

Last stop will be in Warsaw, Poland, May 31. Nixon and party will leave Washington Saturday at 9:15 a.m. (UPI)

Truck bears death

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — A tractor trailer truck loaded with 40 tons of steel lost its brakes Thursday and cut a quarter mile path of burning wreckage along Pittsburgh's main thoroughfare, killing two persons and flinging cars into the air "like pieces of paper."

Another 10 were injured and at least 33 cars were damaged. Motorists scattered along the road to get out of the way of the fiery truck traveling at an estimated 80 miles per hour. The truck apparently lost its brakes near the Wilksburg exit on the Penn. Lincoln Parkway, state police said. The truck burst into flames when it struck the first car and picked up speed as it raced down the hill attempting to weave in and out of the crowded traffic.

"The tractor-trailer came down the parkway on fire, apparently trying to avoid other vehicles," said Gloria Scullin, whose home overlooks the four-lane highway. "It exploded four or five times."

Blasts rip German firm

HAMBURG, Germany (UPI) — Several explosions rocked the main building of the giant Springer Publishing House in Hamburg Friday afternoon, police said.

First reports said several persons were injured. A police spokesman said numerous fire trucks had been sent to the scene.

The blasts were the latest in a rash of bombings which have struck West Germany in the past 10 days.

Assailant's car yields 2nd weapon

BALTIMORE (UPI) — State officials said today a search of a car registered to Arthur H. Bremer, accused of wounding Gov. George Wallace, has turned up a second revolver.

The Prince Georges County state attorney at Seat Pleasant, Md., refused to say where inside the car the automatic pistol was found. But one report said it was located under an inside panel of the vehicle when it was virtually dismantled.

The gun, described as a nine millimeter Browning automatic, plus ammunition was listed on a state search inventory of the car's contents filed in Seat Pleasant, Md. The gun was found Wednesday by state authorities after an FBI search a day earlier failed to locate it. The FBI search found two books on the assassination of Robert F. Kennedy.

Wallace 'ace high'

SILVERSPRING, Md. (UPI) — President Nixon paid a 40-minute visit to George C. Wallace in his hospital room today and described the partially paralyzed Alabama governor as "ace high" — determined to overcome his disability.

Nixon made the unannounced visit to Holy Cross Hospital on his way to the White House from Camp David, Md., and on the eve of Nixon's departure for summit talks in Moscow. He said Wallace — his eyes flashing with vigor — "wished me well."

The latest hospital bulletin on Wallace's condition contained nothing encouraging about the possibility he might regain any feeling from the waist down. He has been paralyzed in his legs and lower extremities since an assassination attempt Monday. But Nixon said Wallace was "very alert and in good spirits." He told reporters, "He has some serious problems ahead. The bullets affected his body but not his spirit. He has the will to live. He will make it

Mentally he is very alert. His heart is strong. The President spoke with emotion with reporters of his impressions of Wallace's vigor. "His eyes flashed. He's in fine spirits and he will be able to lead a useful life."

Doctors who have attended Wallace as well as others who have followed the course of his recovery from Monday's shooting at a shopping center in nearby Laurel, Md., have indicated the odds are against Wallace walking again and diminishing daily as he does not have any feeling.

The bullet that caused the paralysis entered Wallace's spinal canal and is still there. Doctors, on Mrs. Wallace's decision, decided not to try to remove it.

Before-tax profits hit US record

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Pretax profits of U.S. corporations reached a record $91.6 billion in the first three months of this year despite wage- and price controls, the Commerce Department reported Thursday.

The department also reported a stronger growth rate for the economy, and a slower rate of inflation, in the first quarter than was estimated in April.

Commenting on the figures, Chairman Herbert Stein of the Council of Economic Advisers said the private economy was showing so much momentum that the federal government would have to increase efforts to hold down its own spending to avoid igniting runaway inflation.

Stein also said the federal deficit at the end of the fiscal year would be smaller than the $38.8 billion forecast in January. "I would not be surprised if the deficit was $10 billion less," he said.

Administration officials have been saying that price controls would not severely cramp business activity.

In the January-March quarter, pretax profits of corporations rose at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $5.6 billion, the quickest pace since the $11.4 billion surge in the last quarter of 1970 when the economy was recovering from the effects of a General Motors strike, the department said.

Pretax profits totaled $91.6 billion in the first 1972 quarter, surpassing the $89 billion peak reached in the October-December quarter of 1968.

In a revision of estimates last month, the Commerce Department said, the Gross National Product grew at an annual rate of 12 per cent in the first quarter. When adjusted for the effects of inflation the "real" growth of the economy was 5.6 per cent.

The April estimate listed the growth rates at 11.8 and 5.3 per cent.

Columnist raps Wallace views

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Pulitzer Prize-winning columnist Jack Anderson says George Wallace, wounded or not, is an unscrupulous politician who "promises things for America that he has not done for Alabama."

"I don't like to talk about a man lying in a hospital bed," Anderson said Thursday. "I don't like to talk about a man who may be paralyzed. But I've investigated that man and George Wallace is a demagogue."

"He is an opportunist who offers simple solutions, pie in the sky and promises," Anderson, in a lecture at the University of Utah, said underhanded financial policies of the state of Alabama during Wallace's governorship were as bad as the Teapot Dome affair and other past scandals combined.

"George Wallace has taken political pay offs from about every contractor who does business with Alabama," Anderson said, "and he says he's going to Washington to clean up the government."

"He senses the unrest," Anderson said. "It's ironic that the man who has his finger on the pulse of this country is the least fit to run it. He promises things for America that he has not done for Alabama."

TF Lions give $700 for park

TWIN FALLS — One of the largest contributions to the new county park west of the hospital along Rock Creek is a $700 check from the Twin Falls Lions Club announced today.

William L. (Bill) Chancey, Lions Club president, who also happens to be chairman of the county commissioners, said the money comes from Lions Club projects. Biggest fund raising program of the club is the parking concession at the county fair.

Chancey said the $700, which he presented to Donald Zuck, county parks and recreation chairman late Thursday, will be used for the purchase of picnic tables in the new park.

It is estimated the check will cover all of the tables needed and will allow the commission to install concrete table and bench sets to be as vandal resistant as possible.

The park, one of several considered for development by the county, with the Twentieth Century Club organizing and county-wide cooperation in the park project. Chancey said several other clubs have also donated money to help and more are expected to follow.

The Retired Mountain Bell Employees and several women's clubs have offered assistance. Chancey said the county is currently using rock and dirt from the city Urban Renewal project to fill low areas for a road into the park. By mid summer, it is hoped, grass, trees and shrubs will be planted and by late summer or early next summer the park will be ready for public use.

Zuck said the Rock Creek Park held a top priority because of the project's dual purpose. Almost more important than the park itself was the clearing of hundreds of wrecked cars which previously occupied the site and constituted an eye sore as well as a health and sanitation hazard and a breeding ground for rats.

TF club donates

THERE'S A LION in the woodpile somewhere. Two county officials who also just happen to be Lions Club members are contemplating a $700 donation from the Twin Falls Lions Club to the county for park development. William L. Chancey, left, Lions Club president and county commission chairman, hands check to Don Zuck, Lion and parks and recreation commission chairman.

TF judge reinstates judgment of $71,000

TWIN FALLS — An original judgment awarding $71,000 to the parents of a boy who was killed in an accident in 1969 has been reinstated by Judge Theron W. Ward.

The case was heard before Judge Ward in Fifth Judicial District with a court jury awarding Ray and Elaine Meissner, parents of Gary Lynn Meissner, 16, the $71,000 in damages.

The youth was killed Aug. 18, 1969, when he fell from a load of hay when the vehicle collided with an auto driven by Bernard J. Wetzelstein. Young Meissner was employed by Claude E. Smith, driver of the truck load of hay when the accident occurred. The parents named both Smith and Wetzelstein as defendants.

At the time of the original trial, Judge Ward reduced the jury's decision, and calculating on the basis of inflated costs and interest, allowed $38,000 to the plaintiffs in the loss of their son. They appealed to the Idaho Supreme Court and a recent decision from the high court ordered the original judgment reinstated or the case rescheduled for trial. Originally the plaintiffs had asked $125,000 punitive damages and $1,355 in general damages.

US gunfire damages 91 boats in N. Viet waters

WASHINGTON (UPI)—U.S. gunfire has sunk or damaged 91 small boats and barges in North Vietnamese waters since the all-out attack on Communist supply lines began 11 days ago, according to the Pentagon.

This week's shipping toll alone amounted to 26 vessels, Thursday's announcement said. Pentagon sources added that the craft involved included riverboats, junks, barges and North Vietnamese coastal patrol boats.

The administration also denied a North Vietnamese claim included in a New York Times dispatch from Hanoi that the minefield blocking Haiphong harbor had been neutralized by the Communists and that an East German freighter had entered the harbor after the mines were activated.

Later Thursday the administration coupled its denial with a direct attack on The Times. Kenneth W. Clawson, deputy director of White House communications, issued a statement to the wire services and The Times accusing the newspaper of "being a conduit of enemy propaganda to the American people."

"In contradiction of all journalistic standards, The New York Times is guilty in at least two specific instances of being a conduit of enemy propaganda to the American people," Clawson said. "In a report from Haiphong, featured on page one today (Thursday), The Times said that independent sources confirmed North Vietnam claims that the enemy is clearing American mines from Haiphong harbor and moving ships in and out," he said. "That claim is entirely untrue."

KH women convene

KING HILL — The United Presbyterians met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. H. J. McKee. Mrs. Nathan Miller, Mrs. Frank Jones and Mrs. Karl Carnahan gave reports of the spring Presbyterial held in Parma. They also reported the final synod meeting will be held in Twin Falls June 13, and the King Hill women are asked to bring a banner for the meeting. Blanks were filled "On Improvements for Women's Organizations" for Mrs. William Hopper, Boise.

A discussion was held relative to the quota of bandages to be made for the sewing secretary.

Bids open for TF airport program

TWIN FALLS — Bids for the 1972 Twin Falls City-County Airport improvement program will be opened May 26 at 5 p.m. in city hall.

City Manager Jean Milar announced the postponement of the bid opening by one week. He said the delay was made with the approval of the Federal Aviation Administration and will give some prospective contractors additional time to complete their bids.

This will in no way delay the completion of the project, Milar said, but was requested by several interested contracting firms. Plans are to hold a contract awarding meeting with the City Council and county commissioners on June 5.

Seniors honored

ALMO — The Raft River High School graduating class was honored at a senior breakfast Wednesday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert F. Tracy, Almo.

Hostesses were Mrs. Tracy, Mrs. James Sheridan, Mrs. Harold Durfee, Mrs. Boyd Taylor, Mrs. Orville Beecher and Mrs. John Nye.

Assisting with the serving were Mrs. William Tracy, Mrs. Richard Jones and Mrs. Arley Cahoon.

Convicts riot in Dublin

DUBLIN (UPI)—Hundreds of convicts led by prisoner-members of the Irish Republican Army (IRA) reduced Mountjoy Prison to "a bloody shambles" in six hours of rioting. They surrendered and released three guards held as hostages early today as Irish army troops prepared to storm the compound.

Outside the walls hundreds of police charged, swinging clubs against pro-IRA crowds who chanted "Up IRA!"

The demonstrators outside Mountjoy overturned and set fire to automobiles, threw stones and bottles at police while prison officials negotiated the surrender of the 400 rioting inmates.

The riots broke out Thursday night when 36 IRA member inmates tried to escape. They overpowered guards, seized their keys and released hundreds of prisoners from their cells. The prisoners then threatened to demolish the prison walls unless officials met their demands.

Ruairi O'Bradaigh, president of the political wing of the IRA, said from his home in Dublin that the riot was a demand for separation of so-called political prisoners, such as IRA members, from inmates convicted of felonies in nearby Port Laoise Prison. He said the protest was conducted in Mountjoy because there were not enough political prisoners in Port Laoise for an effective protest.

At least two prison wardens were seriously injured with cuts on the head and one prisoner, a member of the provisional wing of the IRA, suffered a head wound.

After 200 soldiers wearing rioting gear and armed with tear gas and clubs swept through the steel gates, officials said, "the prison is a bloody shambles."

A thought for today: American poet Ralph Waldo Emerson said, "Nature and books belong to the eyes that see them."

With every pair of Mr. Stanley's Hot Pants goes a free pack of short-short filter cigarettes.

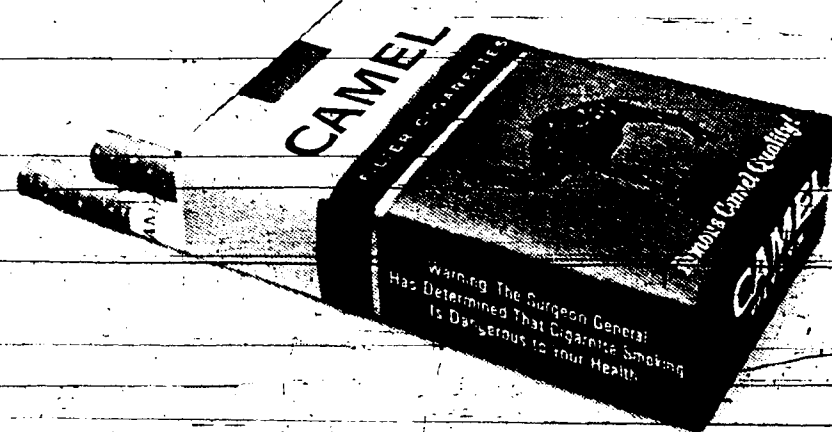

Now everybody will be wearing hot pants and smoking short-short filter cigarettes

...almost everybody.

Camel Filters. They're not for everybody. (But then, they don't try to be.)

20 mg. "tar," 1.1 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette, FTC Report AUG. 71.

Skyjackers

The Federal Aviation Administration recently made ground screening of passengers mandatory at all airports but hijacking of planes has continued, the latest rash being perpetrated by planenappers for ransom.

Now the FAA is moving to prevent skyjacking from parachuting from the rear exit with their booty, as several have done. Airliners equipped with rear steps will be modified so that the exits cannot be opened during flight.

Two Arab guerrillas who took over a Belgian airline May 9, threatening to destroy it with its 101 passengers and crew unless Israel released 1 to 300 Arab prisoners, were shot and killed on the ground at Tel Aviv by Israeli soldiers disguised as mechanics.

Premier Golda Meir said "the government assumed the responsibility of not submitting to violence and blackmail and not releasing hundreds of detained killers."

Aware that submission only invites further extortion, officials said a deal with the hijackers was never considered. Last year another Arab guerrilla was killed in a mid-air attempt to take over an Israeli plane.

American Airlines have been quick to supply the ransoms demanded, as they should be, having failed in pre-flight screening to keep the criminals off the planes.

There are three ways to stop the skyjackings. Clearly, the best way is to prevent them from occurring by screening sufficiently thorough to bar anyone from boarding with firearms or explosives. Another way, so far as the Israelis are concerned, is to shoot them and they recommend this course to other nations. This has happened only rarely in the U. S. because of the potential danger to innocent passengers. The third, which is often difficult if not impossible, is to catch and punish the criminals afterwards.

No one really likes the idea of a complete search before boarding a plane but no one should be reluctant to cooperate in an effort to prevent air piracy.

Freedom to travel, secure from piracy, is precious and must be safeguarded in every possible way until the menace is ended once and for all.

Vandalism

Usually, when fine old shade trees are to be destroyed, the sacred name of "progress" is invoked, as though this were enough to silence argument. It has happened often when some inflexible plan has called for the building or widening of a highway or the laying of utilities.

The bulldozer and chainsaw destroy in minutes the gentle growth of a century. Tree-lovers would do well to heed the traditional protest of Californians whenever a plan is advanced to hack through their famous redwoods to build a highway or whatever.

The redwood is one of two species of sequoia conifers to survive out of more than 40 different species which in ancient times were spread over much of the Northern Hemisphere.

They are spread over a narrow strip of the northern California coastline where the rainfall and fogs satisfy their incredible thirst. Together they form one of nature's great cathedrals. The redwoods live to an immense age. Some of those which have fallen in the past were, judged by their annual rings, nearly 2,300 years old.

Man destroys and devours his own environment, but a theory of justifiable vandalism can never be accepted. In this country the symbol of progress has usually been the bulldozer which has hacked, torn and ravaged much of the nation's beautiful heritage.

MR. SPECTATOR

See Here, Governor!

Awbile back we ran an article in which Gov. Tom McCall of Oregon was quoted as saying that they wanted tourists in his state — but they didn't want any of them to stay there to live.

Now the Governor is apparently going to change his mind again. This time he is getting ready to announce to the world that he doesn't even want the tourists. Why?

Well, it seems that the first announcement asking for tourists, but not permanent residents, attracted far more people than anyone thought. The tourists flocked to Oregon because they thought that if the Governor didn't want them to stay, then he must be hiding something they should see.

Now the records of the Travel Information Division disclosed a 27 percent jump in dollar volume and a 14 percent rise in the number of tourists. In other words — more tourists spending more money.

At the present time not everyone agrees with Gov. McCall but he has his new ideas and he seems to be able to push them.

But here is what hurts Mr. Spectator's feelings. Gov. McCall says if he has to have some tourists he would rather they would come from overseas or from the Eastern part of the country. Those people spend more money, he says.

The people like most of us who come from Idaho — and fill Oregon's campsites — are not so welcome because we are not so well healed.

See here, Governor, we hardly folks from Idaho — with a little less money than most folks, still have our pride.

Don't you dare say we are poor or whatever. And what's wrong with wanting to camp out?

INFORMATION

The way to find things out is to ask.

We have a habit of watching the early CBS news over Channel 5 out of Salt Lake City each morning at 6 and 6:30 a.m. Each day there would flash at the end of the program, the names of the people who put the thing together — in other words produced it.

But it was always cut off early or moved so fast we couldn't get a good head count.

So we wrote CBS and asked just how many people it took to produce a half-hour news show.

We got the answer yesterday. The staff totals 41 people including announcers, cameramen, writers, film cutters and what have you. That many people to produce 30 minutes of national news.

TODAY'S CHUCKLE

Every child knows that the best things in life are free — with one box top. And Mr. Spectator must point out that if you cross your bridges before you come to them then you end up paying your toll twice.

Fateful, Far-Reaching Plans

WASHINGTON — Fateful and far-reaching plans are behind that little-mentioned and little-noticed shift of powerful U. S. naval forces positioned off the North Vietnamese coast. A number of the principal fighting ships have moved southward from the Haiphong area.

The crux of the momentous plans is the number and quality of South Vietnamese combat reserves, and the availability of crucial transport and logistic resources and facilities.

Still very uncertain is whether numerous vital and complex aspects of the highly secret plans can be "effectively finalized" — to use a bureaucratic expression.

Whether that can be done, only time and events will tell. Long-experienced U. S. military planners and experts are actively taking part in the hectic organizing and formulating. Nominally they are acting as "consultants" and "advisers," actually they are doing the conceiving, directing and supervising.

Weather conditions are playing a major role; they conceivably could determine what if anything is undertaken. If the dramatic operation is launched, it will be the most eventful and spectacular since the fall of Dienbienphu (French fortified stronghold) nearly two decades ago — May 7, 1954. With one all-important difference: This time the Communists would be on the receiving end.

It is now definitely certain the Senate will vote on a 20 per cent across-the-board increase in social security payments!

That will be done regardless of the 10 per cent hike approved by the Senate Finance Committee in the social security-welfare bill that has been dawningly deliberated there for more than three months. Last December, chairman Russell Long, D-La., glibly promised to produce a completed measure by March 1, then April 1, then May 1 — and it's anyone's guess when it finally will be forthcoming.

Reason it is now positively assured the Senate will raise social security payments 20 per cent is the little-noticed bill introduced last week by Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, and co-sponsored by 49 other Senators. In addition, Sens. William Saxbe, R-O., and Robert Stafford, R-Vt., who didn't sign the measure, say they are for it and will vote for it.

That is 52 pledged backers — more than a majority of the Senate.

Significantly, a number of Republicans are among the co-sponsors; foremost among them Sens. Margaret Chase Smith, Me., Edward Brooke, Mass., Mark Hatfield, Ore. — all up for re-election.

This being an election year is a key factor impelling the 20 per cent social security increase. That's what prompted Rep.

Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, to suddenly reverse himself last month and come out for a 20 per cent boost. Last year, he limited the raise to only 5 per cent when his committee drafted the original social security-welfare bill that the Senate Finance Committee has been tortuously rewriting.

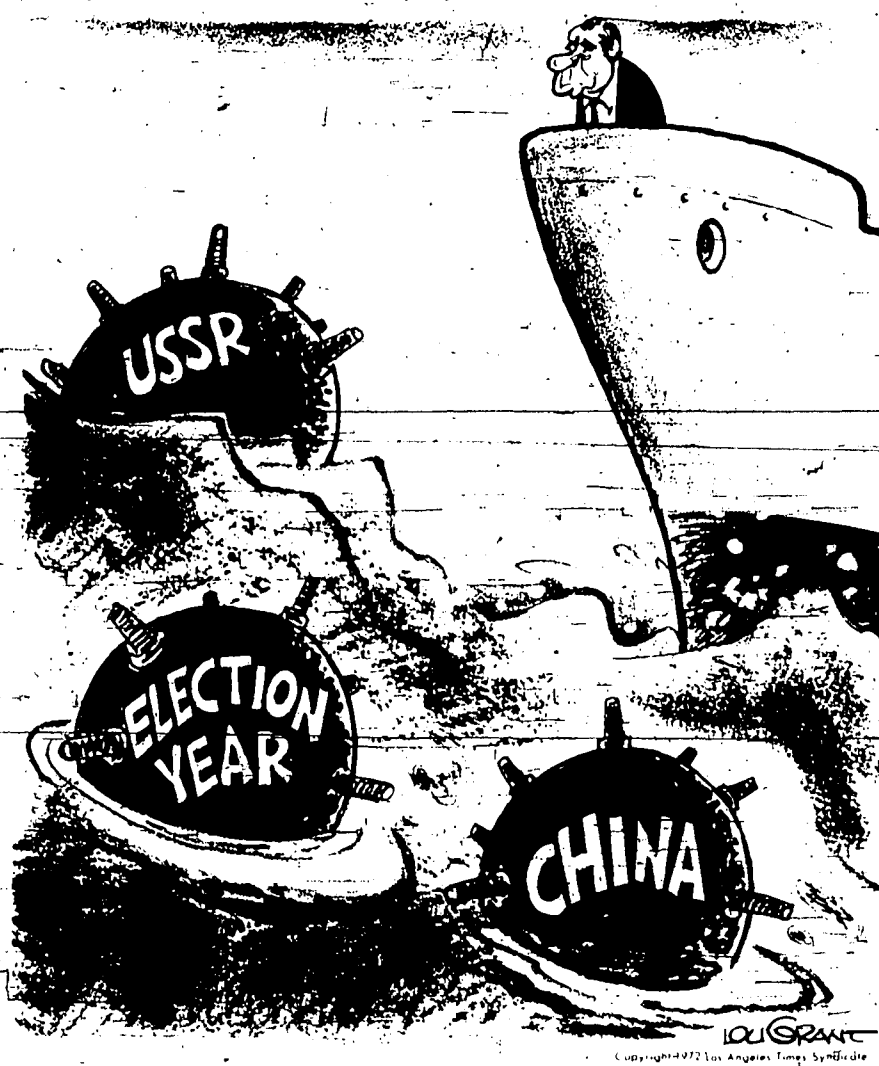

In the interim, Mills developed Presidential aspirations — and "rose above principle" on the question of the size of a social security increase that previously he avowed was not financially feasible. Now Mills not only thinks 20 per cent is financially sound, but good for the national economy.

Strategy behind the Church bill is simple: It will be offered as an amendment to whatever social security-welfare legislation will be reported out by Sen. Long.

With 32 votes already definitely lined up for a 20 per cent hike, and other Senators sure to be for it, adoption of Church's proposal is guaranteed. It's bound to be written into whatever measure Long comes up with.

If as some are beginning to suspect he doesn't produce anything in time for the voluminous multi-billion dollar legislation to be disposed of by the Senate, then Church's bill will be offered as an amendment to some other measure — possibly the appropriation bill for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW). Wherever Church's amendment winds up, it is certain of Senate approval.

A Big Surge

WASHINGTON (NEA) — If one big objective of Democratic party reforms was greater participation in the presidential selection process by a wider variety of people, then so far they must be deemed a very considerable success.

For instance, the sheer numbers of people taking part in precinct or district meetings were impressive in several nonprimary states. Some 85,000 participated in Minnesota's precinct caucuses. That compares interestingly with the 86,000 who actually went into voting booths in the March 7 New Hampshire primary.

Minnesota was not a "sport." Some 75,000 took part in Washington state, 37,000 in Arizona, 35,000 in Iowa, 20,000 each in Georgia and Mississippi.

Astonishing, furthermore, are the numbers of people formally filing for delegate spots for the 1972 Democratic convention in Miami Beach. In some primary states they are nearly swamping the ballot.

Some sample filings among these states:

For the 20 delegate posts to be filled in New Hampshire's primary, 117 individuals filed. For the 180 settled in the March 21 Illinois primary, 504 filed.

Other totals include 625 for 137 spots in Pennsylvania, 672 for 133 in Ohio, 427 for 48 in Maryland, 268 for 35 in West Virginia, 297 for 22 in Nebraska, 1,004 for 228 in California. In some of these cases, other delegates are chosen outside the direct primary process.

From figures like these, it would be hard to make a case in 1972, except in a few limited areas, that people are being frozen out of the selecting process.

An important reform aim, of course, has been to open up that process to fuller participation by women, the young, blacks and other minorities. Here, too, significant gains are being made.

In Arizona, 44 per cent of the 25-member delegation are young people, who represent just under 20 per cent of the state's population.

In Wisconsin, 32 per cent of the elected delegates are young, and they are less than 19 per cent of the state's population. Youthful representation on chosen delegations is strong, through not that high, in Georgia, Florida, South Carolina and New Hampshire.

Overall, in a check of nine states where selection is complete, the young hold 17 per cent of the delegate posts, a proportion just slightly below their 19.6 per cent representation in the populations of those states.

In several of these same states, blacks have won delegate spots in proportions higher than their "presence" in state populations.

They have 34 per cent of the delegates in South Carolina, where they represent 31 per cent of the population. They have 30 per cent of the delegates in Georgia, as against 26 per cent of the population. In Arizona, their delegation percentage is 12, their share of the population 9.4 per cent. In Wisconsin, the respective percentages are 5.4 and 3.6 in Iowa 9.0 and a mere 1.5 per cent of the population.

The blacks are somewhat under-represented on the Illinois delegation (9.4 per cent against 13.6 per cent of the population), and in Florida. But their average 15.5 per cent of nine delegations is a sharp improvement over earlier presidential years.

Child Abuse

Recently in Raleigh, N. C. — a conference on child abuse. We don't even like to think about this subject, but somebody has to.

Parents have beaten to death or otherwise killed 23 children — and injured 356 others.

Worldwide? No. Nationwide? No.

In eight months that many babies have been beaten and/or beaten to death just in North Carolina.

So Gov. Bob Scott has summoned judges and solicitors and social workers and health-care people and educators — anybody who might help identify the cause and prescribe a remedy.

California's State Assembly, considering the same problem, heard Assemblyman Leo Ryan say, "We all have within us the potentiality to beat our kids to death."

Psychologist Dr. Patricia Hallinan says, "Battered children, when they become adults, often beat up their own children."

Nationwide — though not all states require an official report — it is known that one or two children are killed at the hands of their own parents each day.

In New York City, in four years, the reported cases of child abuse increased 549 per cent! Dr. Vincent Fontana, chairman of that city's Task Force on Child Abuse and Neglect, guesstimates that 50 babies are thus killed each year just in New York City. And nobody knows how many more screams were unheard outside locked doors and closed windows.

Dr. Fontana reports from doctors which never went to court where beatings were administered with baseball bats, where babies were tortured over open flames — others were strangled, suffocated, drowned.

Dr. David Gil of Brandeis conceded that there is no precise tally of how many children are abused physically, emotionally or sexually, but his two years' effort to research the subject suggests that the number may approach 2.5 million.

Dr. Gil says corporal punishment is only rarely administered for the benefit of the attacked child. "Usually it is the attacking adult who is seeking relief from his own uncontrollable anger, frustration and stress."

He says it tends to occur most frequently in "large families of low socioeconomic status and educational achievement," though he concedes that any children beaten in a more prosperous environment are more likely to be treated by a family physician and left unreported.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Aneurysm

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is an aneurysm the same as a blood clot, or just the opposite? Is there any information about oral contraceptives causing aneurysms in the brain? — Mrs. V.S.M.

An aneurysm is neither the same as nor "just the opposite" of a blood clot. The "only thing" they have in common is that they are troubles involving blood vessels.

An aneurysm is a weak place in a blood vessel. Since it is a weak spot, it follows that there will be some bulging and weakening of the vessel wall. While there's no reason a blood clot might not form in or near an aneurysm, the big concern about an aneurysm is hemorrhage — that it might be weak enough to break down and let blood escape.

"Aneurysm" is a word that covers a lot of territory. Where is it? How big is it? Is it showing any signs of change? Is it what is called a "dissecting aneurysm," meaning that the layers of the blood vessel are separating, and the separation is advancing?

A small aneurysm in the brain might be cause for more concern than one of similar size elsewhere.

Control of blood pressure, obviously, is important. Keep pressure within limits and there is less risk of the aneurysm giving way. In some instances, depending on size and location, surgical correction may be the answer — replacing a section of the weakened blood-vessel. There also have been efforts directed at finding methods of reinforcing the weak place.

As to the other part of your question, about blood clots, well, a blood clot is just what the name implies. It is blood that has clotted inside a blood vessel. Small ones may be carried on through the vascular system, and gradually break up and disintegrate. Others, perhaps because reaching a narrowed place in a vessel, lodge there and shut off circulation. Clearly, the location of the clot is of great significance.

Oral contraceptives have been accused of so many things, with or without justification, that I wouldn't be surprised if somebody hasn't indicted them as causing aneurysms of the brain. However, I have no information indicating that this is so or that there is any reason to fear it.

It is true, however, that "the pill" is not recommended for women already known to have trouble with their veins, i.e., phlebitis in the legs, or varicose veins. It may be small, but there seems to be an element of risk in encouraging vascular trouble.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Free tests offered

MRS. RUSSELL PIETZ takes blood pressure on Jim Ward. The same service will be available to everyone 15 years of age or older at no charge Tuesday and Wednesday from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. at Robert Stuart Junior High School in Twin Falls.

Water disturbs TF slumber fete

TWIN FALLS — Graduating Twin Falls seniors had to give up a plan to camp out in the high school stadium Wednesday night when they found the stadium lawn was being irrigated.

Norman Thomas, vice principal, said a large number of boys and girls from the graduating class had planned the overnight slumber party in the stadium, but Wednesday night is the regular watering schedule for the stadium lawn and it was too wet. He said it was not intentional to keep the youngsters from having their overnight campout. About 30, he said, braved the cold temperatures and spread sleeping bags and blankets on the high school lawn near the rock and spent at least part of the night.

Club hears exchange student

SHOSHONE — Exchange student Marcio Luis Lima Caliope, Brazil, spoke at the Rotary Club meeting Wednesday noon.

He is staying at the home of the Burrell Williams family.

He was introduced by Ivan Hopkins, program chairman. A country music program was announced for 8 p.m. Tuesday at the high school building. All proceeds will go to the swimming pool fund. A number of popular area country musicians will appear with Holly Housburg, Twin Falls, who will be the master of ceremonies.

Ladies Night was announced for May 31 at Kay's Supper Club.

Wall hooks or pegboard can be one solution to keeping some small appliances handy, with out using counter space. Mountable wallables are hand mixers, electric knives, warming trays.

Meet tonight

SHOSHONE — The Lincoln County Republican Committee will meet at 8 p.m. Friday in the courtroom at the county courthouse.

The meeting will be to select five delegates to the state Republican convention in Boise June 9. District 21 Republican meeting which was scheduled for Friday has been postponed to Wednesday according to Clifford W. Ward, Richfield, chairman of the district 21 committee.

Blood pressure test set

TWIN FALLS — A free blood pressure screening clinic will be held in Twin Falls next week under sponsorship of the Idaho Heart Association.

The clinic, open to everyone 15 years of age or older at no charge, will be held in the Robert Stuart Junior High School Tuesday and Wednesday from 5:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Mrs. Charles Wagner, RN and heart association member, said doctors and registered nurses will staff the clinic, volunteering their services.

It is recommended all persons 15 years of age or over take advantage of the clinic opportunity to detect possible blood-pressure problems. Heart Association officials say people with elevated blood pressure will be asked to return for another check on May 30 from 2 to 4 p.m.

Some persons have a high blood pressure at all times, a condition known as hypertension. It is a common condition, with more than 21 million persons known to have it. Most can be helped by medical care, the association statistes show.

The Idaho Heart Association says people with high blood pressure should obtain medical treatment as untreated, high blood pressure can cause damage to the heart, kidneys and other organs.

Lake Normal, which covers 33,000 acres and measures 35 miles in length, is North Carolina's largest lake.

Fire at Kellogg's Sunshine mine reported contained but not out

KELLOGG, Idaho (UPI) — The fire deep in the Sunshine Mine which claimed 91 miners May 2 was reported contained late Thursday, but not out, by Marvin Chase, company vice president and general manager. "It has been confined on the 3,100 foot level and water has been turned on it," Chase said. "A night crew got to within 100 feet of the flames, sealed off the area with a bulkhead and turned water on it with high pressure hoses," he said. "If we can keep the fire confined in its present location, it should burn itself out," Chase said. Just how long this would take wasn't known. Chase said crews worked late Thursday in a continuing effort to cool the fire and keep it behind the bulkhead. While the men worked, the temperature and carbon monoxide levels were being monitored. Chase said only after the flames have been snuffed out, and the mine cooled, will it be possible to determine the cause of the fire. The preliminary cause has been listed as timbers burning behind a bulkhead in old workings of the mile deep mine. The spark that touched off the disastrous fire was believed to have been the result of spontaneous combustion, possibly as the result of a rockburst in an area where gases had accumulated. The timbers apparently served as the natural fuels, beginning with just a few sparks. It was also believed the fire may have smoldered for days before it burst through the bulkhead and consumed the mine in smoke and high concentrations of carbon monoxide.

Office of Emergency Preparedness had designated the mining district a major disaster the survivors would not have received unemployment benefits.

Andrus replies on funds for miners

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus Thursday replied quickly and sharply to statements made by Lt. Gov. Jack Murphy concerning state funds to the survivors of 91 miners who lost their lives in the Sunshine Mine fire May 2.

Murphy told a news conference Thursday while Andrus was in Los Angeles attending an education meeting that the need of the victims of the Coeur d'Alene accident should be re-evaluated and if it is "critical," Andrus ought to commit his governor's emergency fund to assist. "I pledged the entire governor's emergency fund to help the people of the mining district the day after the fire started," the governor said by phone from Los Angeles. He said the commitment was widely publicized. Murphy also said even if the

Meet set in Boise on aging

TWIN FALLS — About 60 Magic Valley residents will travel to Boise Wednesday to hear Sen. Frank Church keynote the Idaho Conference on Aging.

Delegates to the convention will be Jack Carlton, member of the Twin Falls council advisory board, and Manuel Lopez, Burley, who Wednesday was named by Gov. Cecil Andrus to the Idaho Council on Aging.

About 40 senior citizens from this area will travel in a special chartered bus and the other 20 will go by private car.

May has been designated senior citizen month nationwide and in the state.

The meeting in Boise will be at Boise State College and will include talks by Dwight Davis, aging specialist; Guy Shumbaugh of Social Security, and Dr. John Marks of the Department of Public Assistance.

Good wishes

GOV. George Wallace's mother in law, Ruby Folsom Ellis Austin, looks through a cart of well-wishing mail for the governor at Silver Spring, Md. The medical staff of Holy Cross Hospital has advised the governor's condition has shown some anticipated post-operative changes. He has been running a temperature. (UPI)

Aide intends to put deputy sheriff merit system initiative on ballot

BOISE (UPI) — Secretary of state Pete T. Cenarrusa told newsmen Thursday he intends to put the deputy sheriff merit system initiative on the ballot unless forced to do otherwise.

If those backing the proposed law gather the required 24,512 voter signatures, he said, he will put the initiative before the electorate this November unless the courts or some other legal authority prohibits him.

Twenty Canyon County voters presented Cenarrusa with the initial petition Wednesday proposing a permissive system of merit system commissions for sheriff's deputies. The proposed law would apply to single counties or to several counties wishing to act in concert.

Because there is no gubernatorial election this year to use in measuring whether the initiative passes or fails some legal authorities doubt if such a measure can be put on the ballot.

Idaho's State Constitution says an initiative proposal must receive favorable votes equal to a majority of the aggregate vote for governor "at such election" in order to win voter approval.

Back when Idaho governors served only two-year terms this meant an initiative could be considered at every general election. In the 1940's, however, the Constitution was changed to give governors four year terms.

Yet the section on initiative measures was unchanged and it still requires the aggregate vote for governor "at such election" to be used to measure whether an initiative has passed.

Cenarrusa, however, said he intends to put the measure on next November's ballot if the backers get the necessary voter signatures.

"My position is that the people have always enjoyed the right to legislate at every general election," Cenarrusa said.

House votes 2 MIG's shot from 'Midway' to limit U.N. funds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Disregarding pleas from the White House and State Department, the House has voted to limit U.S. contributions to the United Nations to no more than 25 percent of the U.N. budget.

The House passed the measure on a 202 to 156 vote Thursday. It apparently was a belated slap at the United Nations for admitting mainland China and ousting Taiwan.

The cut of about $13 million in the American contribution to the United Nations could force the world organization's budget into the red by October, Secretary of State William P. Rogers warned.

This year, the U.S. contribution is $80 million—31.5 percent of United Nations costs.

The White House complained the House step would put the United States "in the position of violating our international obligations under the United Nations charter."

The measure still must clear the Senate, which in the past has resisted attempts to cut the U.N. contribution.

SAIGON (UPI) — Two F4 Phantom jets flying from the aircraft carrier Midway shot down two Soviet-built MIG19s Thursday near North Vietnam's Kep Airfield and the Communist planes crashed in full view of North Vietnamese pilots on the ground, the Navy said today.

The MIGs were the first destroyed by Midway pilots since their ship arrived off Vietnam earlier this month and the first since the ship was recommissioned in 1970.

They also made good the motto of the carrier's fighter squadron 161 which hangs on the ready room wall: "MIGs in May for the Midway."

1st Lt. Bart Bartholomay of Winnetka, Ill., the pilot, and his radar intercept officer 1st Lt. Oran Brown of Flagstaff, Ariz., were credited with one MIG and pilot 1st Lt. Patrick Arwood of Lynchburg, Va., and radar officer 1st Lt. Michael Bell of Sacramento, Calif., got the other in a dogfight .35 miles northeast of Hanoi.

Squadron commander Cmdr. Deacon Connell told the Midway crew of the kills over the ship's closed circuit television channel Thursday.

"This was certainly a symbolic fight," he said. "We took the air war to their backyard, and faced two MIGs with two Phantoms! Two F4s came back to land on Midway and pilots there at Kep Airfield got to watch two MIGs fall to the ground."

The two Navy pilots were flying "Migcap" or combat air patrol for fighter bombers making strikes against North Vietnamese positions when Bartholomay spotted "a couple of white flashes" at about 500 feet.

Sharon Thompson, Held recite vows

KETCHUM — Sharon Thompson, Jerome, and Philippe Held, Switzerland, were married in rites April 1 at St. Thomas' Episcopal Church.

The bride is the daughter of Harold Thompson, Jerome, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Georges Held, Montreux, Switzerland.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Curtis Page. For Heyerdahl was organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory crepe, designed and made for her by Gerhilde Schendle. A scalloped V-neckline, high belted empire-waistline and full sleeves gathered to wide cuffs were features of the gown.

She wore a bridal hat of ivory straw which was adorned with two pink silk rosebuds and a back streamer of matching ivory ribbon. She carried a bridal bouquet of two gardenias and three pink rosebuds.

Mrs. Stratton (Marilyn) Laggis, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Laggis served as best man.

Flower girl was little Katherine Laggis, niece of the bride, who carried a basket of pink rose-petals. Her escort was Marcel Studer, Idaho Falls.

Matthew Laggis, nephew of the bride, carried the rings for the ceremony. Candles were lighted by Paul Laggis, nephew of the bride. Ushers were Ren Thompson and Stevan Thompson, brothers of the bride, and Greg Sturtevant.

A reception was held after the ceremony at Philippe's Restaurant, where Felix Gonzalez Jr. prepared a buffet. The three-tiered wedding cake was a gift from Mrs. Delores Sowersby. It was topped with white satin wedding bells and Lillies of the Valley. Rigmor Grabber cut and served the cake.

Guests were registered by Gaye Morris Nicholson who also opened and displayed the gifts, assisted by Kay Koehler, Gail Stone and Barbara Grindell.

Special out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ren Harrison, Malad, grandparents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Thompson, Yuba City, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Wight, American Fork, Utah; Mr. and Mrs. Philippe Crozier, Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. Carlo Studer, Idaho Falls, and Lucille Harrison, Malad.

The couple took a three-week honeymoon trip to Aspen, Grand Canyon, Las Vegas, Lake Tahoe and San Francisco. The bridegroom's parents, who arrived a few days before the wedding, traveled with their son and his bride.

The couple reside in Ketchum.

Murray Clements, Woolsey set date

MISS CLEMENTS sets date

TWIN FALLS — Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Clements announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Murray, to Douglas J. Woolsey.

A May 23 wedding is planned at St. Paul's Chapel, Boise.

Miss Clements was graduated from Twin Falls High School in 1967 and will be graduated from Boise State College this spring in special education.

Woolsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don D. Woolsey, Hollywood, Fla., was graduated from Boise State College and is on the football coaching staff at BSC.

Briefs

TWIN FALLS — A public dance has been scheduled for 9 p.m. Saturday at the TOOF Hall, Twin Falls. Music by Tom Lancaster's Band.

Mother, daughter to graduate

TWIN FALLS — A Magic Valley woman and her daughter will be graduated from college Sunday.

Mrs. Fred Maxwell, currently residing at Fort Lewis, Wash., is slated to get her degree in sociology from Pacific Lutheran University in Tacoma, Wash.

Her daughter, Deborah, will receive her degree in special education from the University of Idaho on the same day and at the same time.

For a while, it looked like either the mother or the daughter might have to give up her graduation to attend ceremonies for the other.

A telephone call to PLU provost Richard Jungkuntz and University of Idaho President Ernest Hartung rectified the problem. The two college leaders agreed to allow Mrs. Maxwell to receive her degree at Idaho right along with her daughter.

Mrs. Maxwell and her husband, Sgt. Fred Maxwell, have bought a farm near Jerome and will move to the Magic Valley after graduation.

Mrs. Maxwell's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Alexander of Weiser. Sgt. Maxwell's mother, Mrs. Evelyn Maxwell, lives in Gooding.

Guild leaders

formance, the key to success in college, how people learn, planning a study method, the importance of review, the vocabulary of college, what you should know about each course and instructor, college libraries and how they differ, meeting personal problems of adjustment to college living, etc. Further information and application for registration can be received by calling the YMCA at 733-4384 or writing the "Y" at 1751 Elizabeth Blvd. Twin Falls 83301.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has a fascination for mud! I think it's because when he was a little boy his mother never let him get dirty. He said she used to run after him with a damp wash cloth about 20 times a day to be sure his hands were clean.

Anyway, I didn't know anything about the way he liked to play in the mud until after I married him. He sometimes goes in the back yard and turns on the garden hose to make a lot of mud, then he gets right down in it and rolls around in it until he's covered with mud from head to toe. He gets a real satisfaction out of it, Abby. He yells for me to come and look, and he always leaves his muddy clothes in the yard for me to pick up and cart to the washer.

How can I break him of this weird habit? Otherwise, he is perfectly normal.

DEAR BEWILDERED: Why should you? It's harmless. Your mudder is finally getting back at mother.

DEAR ABBY: I am 22, and old enough to know my own mind. But my mother is driving me crazy. I went with a guy named Allen for two years, but it just didn't work out between us. He was a nice kid, but he just wasn't for me.

My mother always liked Allen, and she compares every boy I've gone with since him.

Right now I am practically engaged to Gerry, and my mother still asks me why I stopped going with a nice boy like Allen. She keeps saying things like, "Why don't you ask Allen over sometime, maybe you two can pick up where you left off."

Abby, I don't feel anything for Allen, and I'm sure he doesn't feel anything for me, but I can't seem to get that thru my mother's head.

To make matters worse, my mother calls Gerry, "Allen." Oh, brother!

DEAR UP: Your mother still obviously has a soft spot in her heart for Allen. In time she will get over him, just as you have. Be patient.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 19-year-old male, and I am going bald fast. There is hair on my pillow, hair all over the floor, and every time I wash my hair or comb or brush it, it comes out in fists.

My father went bald at a very early age so I am not surprised.

My problem is my parents. They say I am losing my hair because I wear it too long. They insist that it's falling out because it is heavy and it's being pulled down by its own weight, and if I cut it short (crew cut) it wouldn't fall out. This sounds idiotic to me. I figure it's just hereditary. My parents won't believe me, but they'll believe you. What's the answer, Abby?

DEAR GOING: You're right—it is hereditary. You won't have it longer, if you wear it shorter.

DEAR ABBY: I'm another man who reads your column faithfully, but never thought I'd be writing to you.

I am a dairy farmer and noticed that you said when a heifer and a bull were born twins, in slightly less than 15 per cent of the cases, the heifer was a freemartin and therefore can not reproduce.

Your definition of a freemartin was correct, but your percentage was wrong. Approximately 93 per cent of heifers born twin to a bull are freemartins.

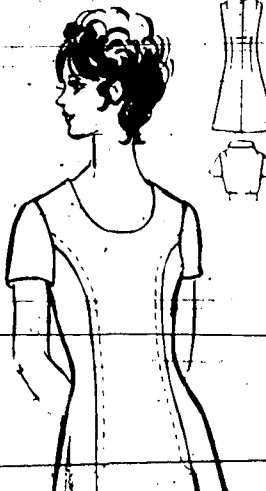

J. A. H., TURNBRIDGE, VT.

DEAR J. A. H.: Thanks to you and the many other sharp-eyed readers who caught the error and pointed it out to me. My farm animal expert reversed the percentages on me.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 6780, L. A., CALIF. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

BARE BACK COMES IN VIEW

By Mary Sue Miller

Fashion has bared the back. Not only the back of bathing suits, but of A.M. and P.M. dresses, too. To say that smooth shoulders are in demand is a big understatement.

Smoothers, follow. Let's begin with the hairline. Keeping the area conditioned is simple. At every shampoo, use a soft, sudsy brush on it. Go over the line daily with a hairbrush.

Moving now to the nape of the neck and shoulders, try sudsing with a long-handled body brush or sponge. A brush is the better instrument when the skin is roughened; a sponge performs gently on a blemished surface. As for soaps, cold cream or clear bars suit dry skins. Medicated suds have an affinity for oily excesses and eruptions.

After bathing, vigorously towel rough skin to shed flakes, but pat dry a sensitive complexion whatever the cause of it. Finish with a proper body lotion — emollient or medicated, just like your suds.

For special conditions, special treatments are at hand: grainy cleansers to dislodge blackheads, drying agents for pimples, antiseptics against the spread of problems. Your doctor!

Very special — if bra straps dig into the flesh, check bras for sizing. A properly-fitted bra does not ridge the skin. Investigate protective pads to wear under straps. That way, no strap marks on bare shoulders.

An expert looks foolish any time he makes an unnecessary safety play. He looks foolish but he only feels foolish when he neglects the safety play and loses his contract as a result.

The ordinary bridge player holds up his ace of spades until the third lead of the suit. Then he plays dummy's ace and king of clubs. The queen, jack and ten drop nicely and he claims the rest of the tricks.

The expert also holds off twice on the spades. Then he leads a low club and carefully covers West's eight with dummy's nine. East wins a surprise trick but can't do anything about getting his partner on lead and expert South makes the rest of the tricks to wind up with five no-trump as against the five no-trump made by those who banged out the top clubs. If the game is match point duplicate, the expert South feels a trifle guilty about getting a poor score instead of a good one. In fact, expert South might well have made the simple play in clubs on the theory that it could only hurt him if West held three clubs in addition to his five spades.

In a rubber bridge game expert South wouldn't regret the lost 30 points at all. He would know that he had made a play designed to insure game and rubber and expert rubber bridge players pay no attention to over-tricks that are only made by jeopardizing the contract.

Jerome plans parish hall

JEROME — Plans for construction of a new parish hall for the Jerome Catholic Church were announced today by Bishop Sylvester Treinen.

He and Father Bernard McBride approved the proposed building plans this week. The new parish hall will be erected on the west portion of the church property.

It will contain 7,000 square feet of space with six classrooms included, as well as a large dining and recreation room, seating for 450 persons and a modern well equipped kitchen.

The building will be of brick veneer and conform to lines of the existing church building, he said.

Parking facilities will be located on all sides of the new structure. Ivan Stone, Twin Falls, is architect.

Members of the building committee include John Hosman, chairman, and Mike Sullivan, Lee Chojnacky, Bill Last, Donald Nutsch, Dick Marshall, Mrs. Kenneth Martin and Mrs. Richard Scheer.

No date for construction has been set.

CHURCHES

Bible school

HAZELTON — The Valley Presbyterian Church is holding vacation Bible school Monday through May 26 in the church building.

Classes will be from 9 a.m. to noon for children from 3 years of age through the sixth grade. All children are invited.

FILER — Dates for camping at Cathedral Pines in the Sawtooth Mountains have been announced by Rev. Roy Watson, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Family camp is scheduled for July 1-3, to be followed by the Western Guild Conference July 3-8, and the Women's Conference July 8-8.

Junior camp for those entering grades five and six will be held July 8-15, and junior high camp, for those entering grades seven and eight is set for July 15-22. Mid-High camp, grades nine and ten, will be July 22-29.

Senior high trail camp will be August 6-12; family camp No. 2, Sept. 2-4, and senior high camp, Oct. 6-8.

Nixon suspected by Protestants

By LOUIS CASSELS

United Press International

Some Protestants suspect President Nixon on playing election-year politics with the touchy issue of aid to parochial schools.

The suspicion has been voiced by the Baptist Joint Committee on Public Affairs and by Americans United for Separation of Church and State, among others.

They thought the "parochial" question had been settled when the Supreme Court ruled last June 28 that state aid to church-related schools is unconstitutional an "excessive entanglement between government and religion" that violates the 1st Amendment principle of church-state separation.

But President Nixon, addressing the National Catholic Educational Association convention in Philadelphia April 6, declared unequivocally that the government "must and will find ways to provide" financial aid to parochial schools.

He didn't say how he proposed to get around the constitutional problem, and his own commissioner of education, Dr. Sidney Marland, confessed to the same convention he had "misgivings" about the chances of winning court approval of any form of public aid to church-related schools thus far suggested.

Despite Marland's misgivings, evidence suggests that the administration has decided to put its marbles on legislation providing federal income tax credits as partial reimbursement of tuition paid by parents of children attending parochial or other non-public schools.

Such legislation already has been introduced by Reps. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan and John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, Republican leaders who frequently served as administration spokesmen in the House.

Their bill would allow a parent to claim tax credit for up to 50 per cent of any tuition paid to a non-public school, with a maximum of $400 per child.

Whether this arrangement would be constitutional is a question only the Supreme Court can finally answer. And the court never renders advisory opinions. It acts only on specific cases challenging governmental programs already enacted.

Thus, if Congress should pass at its present session a bill giving tax credits to parochial school parents, it probably wouldn't come before the court until after the November elections.

The suspicion growing among some Protestant observers is that President Nixon plans to woo Catholic votes by espousing a form of aid to parochial schools which he knows to be vulnerable to court challenge, but which he figures will survive at least until election day.

The suspicion is fed by the emphasis Nixon placed in his Philadelphia speech on the fact that failure to aid parochial schools might result in their closing, which would vastly increase the cost of public schools in heavily Catholic states. He mentioned specifically that 70 per cent of the extra burden would fall on seven states—California, New York, Illinois, Ohio, New Jersey, Michigan and Pennsylvania.

Society elects

RUPERT — Mrs. John Uriguen is the new president of St. Ann's Altar Society of St. Nicholas Catholic Church, it is announced today.

Mrs. L. L. Wright is vice president and Mrs. Herman Henscheid, secretary.

A special Mass is being planned this month along with a covered dish during the Mass.

Lesson

TWIN FALLS — "Soul and Body" is the title of the lesson-sermon for the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Sunday at 11 a.m.

On Wednesday evenings the services will be conducted at 8 p.m. The reading room at 115 2nd St. W. is open from 1 to 4 p.m. each day, except Sundays and holidays.

Planning jaunt

TWO YOUNG delegates who hope to attend "Explo '72", an interdenominational conclave in June, display poster announcing the event. Mary Lynn Jones, left, and Bette Norris are among 10 Twin Falls students planning to participate.

10 TF youths planning to attend Dallas Explo

TWIN FALLS — Ten high school students and two advisers from the Twin Falls First Christian Church are raising funds to attend a church "Explo" in June.

According to Rev. Ray Jones, pastor of the church, the youths are holding a gospel sing-and-dance night May 25 at 8 p.m. at the church.

Singing groups will perform to help raise the needed funds.

Rev. Jones said today that the group would need to raise about $700 for the trip.

The "Explo '72" is sponsored by The Campus Crusade, an interdenominational campus ministry, Rev. Jones said.

The "Explo" will be held in Dallas, Tex., on June 12-17 and is expected to draw up to 100,000 participants from all over the world, he said.

Boise man sets TF talk Sunday

TWIN FALLS — Stanley D. Crow, Boise, chairman of the Citizen's Fact Finding Committee on Paraguts, will speak at the First Church of the Nazarene Sunday.

He will speak at 10:30 a.m. to the Sunday School. Crow is a lawyer and has given many talks on the need to make people aware of what is going on in the "rock" world.

A men's prayer meeting will be at 7 a.m. Sunday and rest home services for shut-ins at 2:30 p.m.

The church school board along with the Sunday school teachers will be installed during the evening service at 7 p.m. Board members are Norman Gaffington, Richard Gree, Vera Boyd, Carol Brockway, Vira Edwards, Ruby Hagrdorn, Connie Hendrix and Rose Marie Rosenau.

Muscle for the services Sunday will be furnished by Dan Edwards, Keweenaw, and Melvin Stokesberry, as a trumpet trio; Cindy Requa, piano solo and the Singing Cowboys (accompanied by Pauline Chastain).

Officers elected by Filer Baptists

FILER — C. E. Stanley was elected president of the Progressive Bible Class of the First Baptist Church, it was announced today.

Elza Prough will serve as first vice president; Edward Andrews, second vice president; Mrs. N. L. Johnson, secretary, and Mrs. Mary Wilson, reporter.

The class will not meet during the summer and the next meeting is set for Oct. 17.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Edwards were in charge of dinner arrangements.

Jerome classes set

JEROME — Mrs. Fred Peterson Jr., will hold Daily Vacation Bible School classes at the First Baptists Church June 5 through 11.

Sessions will be from 1:30 to 4 p.m. each day. Mrs. Peterson said the theme of this year's school will be "Fitting All of Life Together." Classes are open to children 3 years of age through the seventh grade of school. She said a registration fee will be charged.

Filer Baptist classes

FILER — The Filer First Baptist Church will conduct a vacation Bible School May 24-28.

Theme for the sessions will be "Fitting All of Life Together." Classes will be held from 9-11:30 a.m. each day. Mrs. Roy Wright is superintendent.

Assisting Mrs. Wright will be Mrs. Lauren Butts, secretary; Mrs. Bill Urie, in charge of nursery; Mrs. Elza Prough, kindergarten; Mrs. Everett Andrews, primary; Mrs. Gordon Larson, junior, and Mrs. Roy Watson, young teens.

Richfield sets dates

RICHFIELD — The Richfield United Methodist Church has set dates for summer bible school.

It will be held from 9 to 11:30 a.m. June 5-8 and June 12-24.

Classes will be conducted for children 4 years old and up to and including seventh grade students. Registration will be 75 cents per child, payable the morning of June 5.

Anyone wishing to help may contact Mrs. S. C. Peterson, director.

Patience a virtue for others, hard to practice

By LOUIS CASSELS

United Press International

The dictionary defines patience as "calm endurance of a trying situation or person."

It is a virtue we readily commend to others. But some of us find it exceedingly difficult to practice.

The Bible describes, at least, three types of patience.

One is putting up with people who annoy us, bore us, interrupt our work, make unreasonable demands, talk too much or otherwise grate on our nerves.

The Apostle Paul, who recognized that he personally had only a tenuous grip on this virtue, spoke of patience as a form of love.

"Love is patient and kind," he said. "It is not irritable or resentful... love bears all things, endures all things."

Impatient people sometimes seek to justify their irritable responses by pointing out they were subjected to severe provocation. But the Bible does not regard this ever as a sufficient excuse. It is precisely the most trying people, the scriptures insist, to whom we owe the greatest patience. "Be patient toward ALL men," Paul admonished the early Christians at Thessalonica.

But patience means more than maintaining a kindly tolerance toward difficult people. Both in dictionary definitions and scriptural usage, the word also denotes a cheerfully resigned acceptance of situations.

This kind of patience is especially important to people who are chronically or incurably ill, crippled or otherwise burdened with physical handicaps. A prayer for the sick written more than 400 years ago and still used in Episcopal and other Anglican churches, includes these words:

"O Father of mercies and God of all comfort, our only help in time of need; We humbly beseech thee to behold, visit, and relieve thy sick servant... and give him patience under his affliction."

The third type of patience which the Bible mentions is patience with God.

Although the tendency is perhaps more pronounced in our day, men always have been inclined to be impatient with God. They cannot understand why he does not intervene more promptly and pervasively to right the wrongs of the world. Many of the Psalms of the Old Testament are cries of impatience to a God who seems to tarry overlong in coming to the rescue of those who trust in Him.

"I am worn out, Lord, waiting for you to save me," complains the writer of the 119th Psalm. And the 141st Psalm says peremptorily: "I call to you, Lord, help me NOW."

But another psalmist warns that men who would know God and walk in His ways must learn to "wait patiently" for Him to reveal Himself and His will.

And the prophet Jeremiah, speaking to the children of Israel during a bitter hour of military defeat, put it even more bluntly:

"The Lord is all that I have; therefore I will wait for him patiently. It is good to wait in patience and sigh for deliverance by the Lord."

Characteristically, biblical writers never try to explain, much less to justify, God's refusal to intervene instantly in every situation where His help is sought.

TF Presbyterians set senior event

TWIN FALLS — Sunday events at the First Presbyterian Church in Twin Falls will include a breakfast at 9:30 a.m. for graduating seniors.

This will be held in the newly decorated dining room of the church. Dr. Robert Van Nest, pastor, said church school will be held at 9:30 a.m. as usual and the adult discussion group will meet in addition at the same time. Adult discussion group meets in the Fireside Lounge and will be studying the Apostle Paul.

At 11 a.m. services in the sanctuary will honor graduating seniors who will attend wearing caps and gowns. Each will receive a copy of the book, "God Is For Real, Man" by Carl F. Burke.

Rev. Van Nest will give a special sermon for the graduating seniors. Topic of the sermon will be "Performers, Pluggers, Playboys, and Prospectors."

Members of the church will be asked to make a donation Sunday to a special fund to assist the families of the miners who died in the mine at Kellogg. Donations may be left at the church Sunday morning or may be mailed to the Presbyterian Church, P.O. Box 523, Twin Falls.

This will be the final Sunday for Church School until fall and the last Sunday for church services at 11 a.m. until after Labor Day. Rev. Van Nest said the new time for Sunday services, after this Sunday, will be 10 a.m.

Jerome church sets rite

JEROME — The First Presbyterian Church of Jerome will hold confirmation and communion Sunday, according to Rev. William Barrett, pastor.

Pentecost Sunday has become the traditional date for us to receive intercommunion membership for the youth of our church who have taken the communicant classes.

It is also one of the state communion Sundays set by our session. All members should plan to be present for the Lord's supper," Rev. Barrett said.

Rev. Barrett also said the worship commission, has set June 4 as the Sunday when early morning worship will begin at 9:30 a.m. through the summer months.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—High-priced glamor issues and the blue chips led the way as prices on the New York Stock Exchange rolled up a sharp rise after three hours of trading Friday. Turnover was heavy.

Shortly after 1 p.m., the Dow Jones industrial average of 30 selected stocks was up 6.36 to 959.59. Standard & Poor's 500 stock index was up 0.80 to 108.74.

Advances led declines, 955 to 412, among the 1,698 issues on the tape. Three-hour volume came to more than 12.8 million shares compared to 10.7 million for the comparable period Thursday.

Analysts said the market's advance was a continuation of Thursday's rally and suggested investors were streaming back after a period of caution because of the uncertain international situation.

Analysts said traders and investors are growing increasingly optimistic regarding President Nixon's forthcoming trip to the Soviet Union. At the same time they said the market drew encouragement from the 6.5 per cent rise in corporate profits for the first quarter reported by the Commerce Department.

Steel issues were mixed. Motors were firm.

Rails, airlines and aircraft were mostly higher in fractions.

Showers may linger on Sunday

TWIN FALLS, Northside.—Burley-Rupert area: Variable cloudiness and a chance of showers through Saturday. Warmer temperatures with highs on Saturday in the low 70s. Low temperatures with highs on Saturday in the low 40s. Outlook for Sunday, chance of showers and a little cooler. Camas Prairie, Hailey and lower Wood River Valley: Variable cloudiness and a chance of showers through Saturday. Warmer temperatures with highs on Saturday in the low 70s. Low temperatures with highs on Saturday in the low 40s. Outlook for Sunday, chance of showers and a little cooler. A southerly flow of air aloft is bringing cloudiness and light shower activity to southern Idaho. This cloudiness has caused overnight lows to remain in the 40s in the lower valley locations. This basic flow should continue through Saturday with variable cloudiness and scattered showers and thunder showers. Most of the shower activity will be over and near the mountains. Temperatures will continue to warm with highs in the 70s through Saturday and lows in the mid 30s to upper 40s. The extended weather outlook indicates a chance of some showers lingering on Sunday with fair skies and a little cooler temperatures on Monday and Tuesday.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Walston & Co. forecasts a record year for the stock market and views the first half of next year "in a positive light." Walston says, "It would appear that both our enthusiasm on the economy and our temporary restraint relative to the market outlook have been borne out."

The Troy-Hollander stock market report says the recent correction of the stock market was overdue, and should not have been a surprise to investors who watched the market's sharp rise from November lows. The correction, the firm says, "is a requirement for healthy resumption of a longer term bull market."

Farm union asks probe on FB tax

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Farm Workers Union (FWU) seeks a congressional investigation of the tax-exempt status of the American Farm Bureau.

Union representative Ramon Romero staged a day-long vigil in front of the Farm Bureau's national headquarters Wednesday and during a sidewalk news conference he outlined the plan for an investigation.

He said his demonstration was prompted by the Arizona Legislature's passage of a bill May 11, due to become effective in 90 days, which the FWU said blocks effective farm worker organization in the state.

Provisions of the bill forbid farm worker union strikes in Arizona at harvest time.

The new law will take away the only economic lever that farm workers in Arizona have to bring employers to the bargaining table, Romero said.

The law, which he said was sponsored by the Farm Bureau, will make it impossible for farm workers to strike effectively, Romero said. Similar bills have passed in Idaho and Kansas, and have been introduced in 20 other states.

Romero said the union will press Congress to investigate the Farm Bureau's right to the tax exempt status it enjoys "although there is a serious question as to whether the Farm Bureau is an agricultural organization for the betterment of farmers."

As he spoke, Rep. Herman Badillo, D-N.Y., emerged from an apparent conference with

Farm Bureau officials and said he supported UFW's position. "The Farm Bureau claims to be an organization of small farmers which provides service to its members," FWU said in a statement. "In truth it is a $4 billion business empire which is more involved in selling insurance than in properly representing the interests of America's farm families."

Romero claimed many Farm Bureau members are not farmers but businessmen who buy Farm Bureau insurance. He demanded full disclosure of the organization's sources of income, salaries, and expenditures.

Romero made public a letter written by Cesar Chavez when he began his fast in Arizona two weeks after the farm workers resumed their boycott of iceberg head lettuce from California and Arizona.

"The fast is not out of anger at the growers," Chavez wrote in part. "My concern is the spirit of fear that is lurking behind such laws [as Arizona's] in the hearts of growers and legislators across the country. Somehow these powerful men and women must be helped to realize that there is nothing to fear from treating their workers as fellow human beings."

Chavez wrote in part: "The last time he fasted like

Chavez goes on hunger strike

PHOENIX (UPI) — Cesar Chavez, leader of the United Farm Workers Organization Committee (UFWOC), has been on a hunger strike since last Friday, protesting passage of a measure regulating farm labor activities.

Chavez began the strike when Gov. Jack Williams signed the controversial measure without submitting it to the attorney general for a ruling on its constitutionality.

Chavez is staying in a six-by-eight office in the Santa Rita Community Center in Southeast Phoenix.

A spokesman said Chavez is not eating anything and remains under observation by a nurse to make sure he drinks enough water to avoid dehydration.

Humphrey, McGovern set TV debate in California

By United Press International
Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey has won from Sen. George S. McGovern a commitment to debate the issues in California, but lost to his principal rival the endorsement of Martin Luther King's widow.

Coretta Scott King announced her support of McGovern Thursday at a black church in Los Angeles as McGovern opened his campaign for the key June 6 primary, which offers 271 delegates to the winner.

Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama, the third major Democratic presidential candidate, was recovering in Maryland from gunshot wounds which may leave him partially paralyzed.

U.S. Gov. Lester Maddox of Georgia offered to campaign for Wallace Saturday at a rally of Americans for Freedom in Washington. Maddox was the first of a series of expected stand-ins for Wallace, whose campaign staff says will remain in the race.

McGovern, on hearing of Humphrey's challenge to debate, said in Portland, Ore., "I welcome it."

The only other debate in the campaign came in New Hampshire when then frontrunner Sen. Edmund S. Muskie responded to McGovern's challenge. Humphrey, who was not on the ballot, did not participate.

All the polls I have seen indicate that I have the lead in California," Humphrey said in opening Los Angeles headquarters. "Nevertheless, I am prepared to put the issues right on the line so that the people of California can decide for themselves. I invite my good friend Sen. McGovern to debate our differences."

Wallace is not on the California ballot, but a write-in campaign will be waged on his behalf. His backers also plan to use film clips of earlier rallies for television campaigns in Rhode Island, New Mexico and Oregon.

Wallace was shot on the eve of resounding primary victories in Michigan and Maryland. Wallace won the popular vote in Maryland, but a plurality of McGovern-committed delegates was elected to go to the convention at Miami Beach.

McGovern Thursday urged the 18 delegates backing him to vote for Wallace on the first ballot. "In addition," McGovern said, "I am asking my staff to be alert to other points on which we should take prompt action to ensure that Gov. Wallace is given a fair chance."

Maryland Gov. Marvin Mandel, an at-large delegate known to back Humphrey, said he would vote for Wallace as state law requires.

Mrs. King said she backed McGovern instead of Humphrey, a longtime champion of civil rights, because the South Dakotan offers "an end to the era of division in our nation and will usher in a new era of reconciliation."

Rep. Shirley Chisholm, the only black woman candidate, said at a champagne fundraiser sponsored by Black Panthers in Oakland that she was not disappointed in Mrs. King's endorsement.

Secret accord seen prior to blockade

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey said Thursday he thinks President Nixon made a secret "arrangement in advance" with the Soviet Union in which the Russians agreed not to challenge the U.S. blockade of North Vietnam.

Humphrey said Nixon should tell the nation what conditions he accepted in the "secret deal."

Humphrey launched his campaign Thursday in the crucial California primary election by setting up a television debate with Sen. George McGovern, his chief rival for the Democratic presidential nomination. McGovern, saying he issued the challenge first, agreed to the debate and aides of the two candidates were to iron out details today.

Son kills father in prison

LEWISBURG, Pa. (UPI)—A former Army sergeant serving a 25-year term for conspiring to give secrets to the Russians was stabbed to death Thursday by his son who visited him at the federal penitentiary.

Robert Lee Johnson, 56, was brought into the prison's open visiting quarters to see his son for the first time in years; prison officials said. As he entered the room, his son, a Vietnam War veteran, lunged at his father with a knife, stabbing him in the chest.

Johnson died an hour later in the emergency room at Geisinger Medical Center.

Robert L. Jr., 22, Greenwood, Ind., was disarmed immediately by prison guards. He was taken to Williamsport, Pa., by FBI agents where he was arraigned on a first degree murder charge.

Sunday, Humphrey, asked his reaction to the mining of North Vietnamese harbors, said:

"It seems to me that President Nixon had made some arrangements in advance with the Soviet Union. I think he owes it to the American people to tell them what that arrangement is."

Humphrey said he believed there must have been a "secret deal" with the Soviet government, or Nixon would not have risked a confrontation.

Nixon 'losing face'

PARIS (UPI)—Nguyen Huu Tho, president of the Viet Cong's Provisional Revolutionary Government, said in an interview today that President Nixon was trying to save face by blaming Saigon forces for recent battlefield defeats.

Tho was interviewed by Madeleine Riffaut from Hanoi by telex while fighting somewhere in South Vietnam, the Communist newspaper Humanite said.

"President Nixon is primarily responsible for the flight of the Saigon troops and the collapse of Vietnamization. In one month our offensive has totally changed the situation. Nixon is trying to save face by throwing the responsibility on the Saigon administration." Tho was quoted as saying.

Irish youths wounded

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—Submachine gun fire wounded two teen-age Roman Catholic youths Thursday in apparent reprisal for the killing of a 15-year-old Protestant boy. Security officials said the Irish Republican Army (IRA) was trying to provoke a Protestant backlash against Catholics.

Submachine gun fire from a car that roared past a British army post on the Catholic side of the Springfield Road "peace line" hit a 15-year-old youth in the jaw.

As the car sped away toward the Protestant Shankill area on the other side of the "peace line," witnesses said—a second burst sprayed teen-agers outside Fleming's Fish and Chips Shop.

A 14-year-old fell with a leg wound. Two teen-age girls were treated for cuts inflicted by splinters of flying brick.

The attack on the Catholic teen-agers followed the killing of Protestant Harold Morris, 15, by two bursts of machine gun fire from the Catholic Falls

Road area across the "peace line."

The death of the youth and a British soldier wounded three days earlier raised the death toll in three years of Ulster violence to 332.

The steamboat Eclipse, built in 1852, burned 100 cords of wood per day as fuel.

THIMET is the recommended insecticide for controlling vectors of virus diseases

Extensive tests over many years have convinced western sugar beet companies of the economic value in controlling insect vectors with THIMET® 10-G Soil and Systemic Insecticide.

Insect populations have been reduced and sugar tonnage has increased substantially ... along with sugar profits. The recommended programs are:

- FOR CURLY TOP. Planting-time treatment with THIMET to control the beet leafhopper, carrier of curly top. Also controls aphids, leaf miners, mites and beet root maggots.

- FOR VIRUS YELLOWS. Topical treatment with THIMET to control the green peach aphid, carrier of virus yellows.

Full details of the recommended program for your area are available from your sugar company — or your insecticide supplier. Write us for sugar beet bulletins.

Before using any pesticide, stop and read the label.

Peugh was honored by receiving a life membership in the Magic Valley Peace Officers Association.

Teachers in Cassia sign contracts

BURLEY — This year's Cassia County teacher negotiation efforts crumbled Thursday as 22 teachers signed contracts in their principals' offices.

That left only six teachers who had not signed contracts as today's signing deadline neared.

Earlier teacher negotiations had planned to sign contracts but turn them over to teacher negotiators in order to strengthen their bargaining position.

The school district countered by demanding the teachers sign contracts individually in their principals' offices.

The teachers then were overruled in district court in their protest against the office signings.

After the ruling by District Court Judge Charles Scoggin that the district could keep the original copy of the teacher contracts in its possession and instead permit the teachers to have copies of the document, teachers' plans to stack contracts crumbled.

Supt. Harold Blauer said 208 contracts had been offered.

Jerome students end Idaho history course with tour

JEROME — Jerome fourth graders ended their Idaho history course with a trip to Boise and a meeting with the governor.

The classes Wednesday took buses to Boise to visit the state capitol building, museum and the city zoo.

For several of the fourth graders it was their first trip to Boise.

The highlight of the trip was Gov. Cecil Andrus stepping into the capitol hall to speak with the students and to tell them about the capitol.

Gov. Andrus answered questions and each student was given one of Gov. Andrus' business cards as a remembrance of the day.

Mrs. Estes Rowlands, Jerome teacher, said this is the fifth year the fourth graders have made the trip to Boise.

"We feel a good way for the students to top off studies on Idaho history is by visiting Boise and seeing the places we have been studying about."

"The tour of the historical museum shows the students the different things used by our forefathers," Mrs. Rowlands said.

The 168 students were accompanied by fourth-grade teachers and several parents.

Mrs. Rowlands said she hopes the school district will continue the Boise trips. She said the trip has taken the place of a year-end school party or picnic.

"We feel the students get so much more out of going to Boise and I feel the teachers enjoy even more watching the faces of the students as they recognize things they have been told about all year long. You feel the time you have spent trying to teach them is now paying off."

Shoshone development committee incorporates

By MELBA THORNE

SHOSHONE — Articles of incorporation will be filed by the board of directors for Shoshone's Chamber of Commerce industrial development committee.

This action, taken at a meeting Thursday evening at the Manhattan Cafe, will establish a local development company aimed to promote business and general development within the city.

The decision to file the articles of incorporation was made after Bert Mitchell, Boise, explained advantages of such incorporation. Mitchell is the community division counselor for the Small Business Administration.

He outlined programs within a city that will attract future development. He said these include the general atmosphere of the community, historical displays and museums, general cleanup, and recreational facilities such as the swimming pool project being promoted in Shoshone at this time.

Mitchell said at present Shoshone is one of four remaining communities of its size in the state that has not formed such a corporation.

Loans through the SBA could be made through participation of a local bank at a maximum of $350,000 for each new business attracted.

Robert Miller, chairman of the chamber committee, said articles of incorporation will be ready to present to the chamber at its Tuesday meeting. Sixteen stockholders joined Thursday night. There must be a minimum of 25. Miller said more stockholders will be solicited at the Tuesday meeting.

Shares are sold at a minimum of $25 each.

The SBA loans could be used for both new business enterprises and for improvements for existing businesses. Interest on the loans is set at a maximum of 8 per cent.

The industrial development committee will meet at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Manhattan Cafe. Miller said all persons in the city and the Lincoln County area who are interested are invited to attend.

Two honored

JEROME — Two Jerome teachers received the superintendent's award for impact on student performance in an athletic awards assembly in the Jerome High School Thursday.

Karl Kleinkopf and Ed Peterson were presented the awards given annually by Supt. John B. Campbell. Kleinkopf received the award for his efforts as head track coach and his work in the classroom. Peterson was recognized for his job as head football coach and classroom work.

Pat McIntyre, a senior, received the Tiger Pride award for outstanding track achievement; Gary Walter was awarded the outstanding senior class member award, and Kathy Capps received the award as the most inspired girl trackster.

Academic assemblies were scheduled for today with scholastic awards and other athletic awards to be presented.

TF forms new drug probe unit

TWIN FALLS — A new drug investigation unit combining city and county forces has been organized in Twin Falls County.

The unit, to be directed by Leon Smith, prosecuting attorney, and Sheriff Paul Corder and Chief of Police Frank Barnett, is known as the City-County Drug Control Unit.

Smith said the concept evolved to get away from the city-county jurisdiction problem. Twin Falls police officers will be allowed to work outside city jurisdiction by carrying deputy cards.

Sheriff Corder and Chief Barnett said at present one man from each department will be assigned to the unit, with more men available as needed. Although the operation will function as a full-time unit, the men will not necessarily be working full-time on drug investigations.

Any report involving drugs which is received by either the sheriff's or city department, will be investigated by the two-man team.

The team also will be available to meet with state drug investigators to aid in their investigations.

Sheriff Corder said a drug raid utilizing combined forces of city and county officers last January worked so well he feels it proved the value of the amalgamation of forces and information.

Chief Barnett said he believes the combined unit will prompt a better dissemination of information between the two departments.

Smith said both city and county governments are contributing financially to the project and there is a possibility federal financing may be received.

Tax hike predicted

BOISE (UPI) — State Sen. H. Dean Summers, R-Boise, predicts the sales tax will be increased to four per cent next year.

Summers made the prediction during a talk to the 81st annual meeting of the Boise YMCA.

There was no strong stand on taxes, Summers said, and as a consequence the sales tax will go to four per cent next year.

Had the legislature removed all the exemptions from the tax law, Summers said, an increase to four per cent would not be necessary.

Damage high from Paul fire

PAUL — Damage in excess of $125,000 has been estimated in a fire Wednesday night at the L. A. Gillette Ranch northwest of Paul.

Gillette said he did have some insurance. The fire destroyed an air conditioned 150-foot by 50-foot potato cellar, a three-bedroom trailer house and 40,000 100-pound sacks of potatoes.

The potatoes were still smoldering Thursday and crews were working to remove charred boards from the hottest spots.

A large front loader also was being used Thursday to remove the burning debris.

Gillette said children said they saw a lighted cigarette which started straw burning in the cellar.

Awards confab held at Filer

FILER — Citizenship awards and a surprise presentation to a retiring hot lunch cook highlighted the awards assembly held today in the Filer Elementary School.

Larry Kauffman and Camille Blastock were selected outstanding boy and girl of the eighth grade for the year and were presented trophies by Bill Heaps, principal.

Jim Steelsmith was awarded a trophy for most improved citizen of the eighth grade, and Kathy Hones was awarded a special certificate in recognition of outstanding scholastic achievement in the Filer Junior High School.

Students received perfect attendance certificates and trophies and certificate awards for completing mini-courses in reading.

Lawrence Knigge, chairman of the board of trustees, presented a gift on behalf of the board to Mrs. Elma Fouts in recognition of 13 years service in the hot lunch program. Mrs. Fouts is retiring from the position this year. The Filer Elementary school teachers also presented Mrs. Fouts a gift.

POTATOES still smoldering on the L. A. Gillette ranch, north of Paul. Damage from the fire Wednesday night is estimated in excess of $125,000, Gillette said. Some 40,000 sacks of spuds and a three-bedroom trailer home were destroyed.

State aides tour Gooding hospital

GOODING — A tour of the Idaho Tuberculosis Hospital by representatives of state agencies resulted in few ideas for what to do with the facility.

The purpose of the tour, according to Rep. Vernon Ravenscroft, D-Tuttle, was to make an on-site inspection and get some ideas for what future use could be made of the facility. He said there are no concrete plans for future uses as yet.

State agencies are looking at the hospital as a possible site for location of regional offices.

Dr. Wayne Carte, medical director of the South Central Idaho Health District, said "these facilities are far superior to those now occupied in Twin Falls City Hall. We have to move by January, 1974, and are looking at the Gooding facility as a possible location for our regional offices."

Ed Bess, fiscal officer for the Department of Public Lands, said "Our office is now in Jerome, but we would have no objection to moving."

Others on the tour were less optimistic about possibilities for future uses of the facility.

Ray Turner, director of vocational rehabilitation, said "It is so big, that it is hard to say what to do with it. The whole social services department could go in there and still not fill the first floor."

Among representatives of state agencies on the tour were Dick Adams, comprehensive health planning, Idaho Health Department; Paul Burnett, director of the Child Development Center, Twin Falls; Vince Nally, deputy director of the Department of Special Services; Br. John Marks, commissioner, Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services; Don Frank, region five director, Department of Social Rehabilitation Services; Dave Humphrey, regional services director, Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services; and Orval Bradley, director of Vocational Education, College of Southern Idaho.

The general consensus of the group seemed to be that they were just down for a look and all agreed that something has to be done with the facility since it is costing the taxpayers $40,000 per year for maintenance. But because of its size, nobody is sure what to do with it.

Gooding tour

DAVE Humphrey, regional services director, Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services, was among the group touring the former Idaho Tuberculosis Hospital at Gooding Thursday.

New head named to Idaho EPA

BOISE (UPI) — Dr. James A. Bax, 35, Washington, D.C., has been named the new head of the State Department of Environmental Protection and Health beginning June 19.

Gov. Cecil D. Andrus made the announcement Wednesday ending months of speculation as to who would be the administrator of the newly renamed department.

Dr. Bax, presently the commissioner for the Community Services Administration in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, succeeds Dr. Terrell O. Carver who resigned.

Robert Des Aulniers, assistant to Carver, has been serving as acting administrator since Carver's resignation.

Andrus called the new administrator "exceptionally well qualified, capable and gifted." He said Bax is enthusiastic about Idaho and brings with him "a wealth of knowledge and experience in the human resources field." As U.S. Commissioner, Bax had the responsibility of providing comprehensive services to individuals and families who are former, current and potential recipients of public assistance.

Before joining HEW in Washington, Bax served as secretary of health and rehabilitation services in Florida. He was responsible for the Florida agency's initial organization and staffing.

Bax said in a written statement his first priority in Idaho will be to establish a "goal oriented" department focused on achieving results.

He said he was eager to begin because "Idaho Gov. Andrus is recognized at HEW as an outstanding leader in the social services field who has a genuine enthusiasm for providing people programs that work."

Solon schedules Gem State talks

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Sen. Frank Church plans to be in Idaho the coming week for an extensive series of commencement addresses and other appearances, his office announced today.

The Senator will fly to Idaho Friday to attend interdenominational memorial services in Kellogg and Wallace for the men killed in the recent Sunshine Mine fire.

On Sunday Church will deliver the commencement address at the University of Idaho in Moscow. Later that evening he will deliver the commencement address at Kendrick High School.

On Monday the Idaho Senator is scheduled to fly to Boise. That evening he will join Gov. Cecil B. Andrus in the reviewing stand at the annual Idaho Special Olympics for Retarded Children at the Boise State College Stadium.

Poisons, drugs topic at Rupert

RUPERT — The Willing Hands Demonstration Club discussed poisons and drugs during its meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Lucille Vaughn.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Ella Mae Mahler. Mrs. Marge Miller, citizen chairman, read council bylaws which were approved.

Mrs. Lena Storey handed out leaflets on the Poison Information Center, Pocatello, and the group held a discussion on poisons and drugs. Mrs. Edna Vaughn reported a drug meeting is held at the Lutheran Parish Hall once a month and the public is invited. Mrs. Ella Winks reported on the drug program given by Sheriff Theo Johnson at the Senior Citizen Center.

Mrs. Mahler, fair co-chairman, requested new categories for a fair book. She announced that anyone who lives in Minidoka County may enter articles in the Minidoka County Fair and they need not belong to any club to enter items.

Mrs. Joanne Meuleman gave a report on the spring luncheon sponsored by the County Extension Homemakers Council. The club received recognition at the luncheon for having the most points. Each member received dahlia bulbs.

The club voted to pay registration fee for the club president to the district meeting.

The lesson on "Buffet Meats" was presented by Mrs. Mahler.

A Stanley party was held and proceeds will be given to the Mini-Cassia Child Development Center.

Guests were Mrs. Nadine Morris and Mrs. Alice Peterson.

Mini-Cassia media group picks slate

BURLEY — The Mini-Cassia Media Association elected officers and honored a retiring member during a meeting Wednesday at Bryan's Cafe.

Mrs. Bernus Olenlager, retiring chairman, conducted the meeting. Mrs. Ila Darrington, member of the state library committee, reported on progress of the new elementary library standards. Mrs. Olenlager reported on the Idaho Library Association Convention held recently in McCall.

Musical entertainment was a piano solo by Melanée Belliston of Dworshak School and Verna D. King, Southwest School, gave a presentation on elementary libraries. As part of the presentation Lisa Wilkins, a student presented a book review on "Trumpet of the Swan."

Mrs. Irene Udy, Malta Elementary School librarian, was honored as she is retiring. A tribute to Mrs. Udy was written by Mrs. Edith Sears and read by Patty Christensen who then presented the honoree with the tribute in the form of a golden book.

Invocation was given by Mrs. Edith Bywater.

Mrs. Esther Lay, East Minico Junior High School, was elected chairman for the coming year, and Mrs. Wanda Stimpson, Minico High School, was elected secretary-treasurer.

More test cars asked

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Volkswagen and Chrysler Corp. have been asked to supply more cars for testing because three-quarters of the Volkswagens and 60 per cent of the Chrysler vehicles checked failed to meet exhaust emission standards.

If further testing does not improve Volkswagen's showing, "We will have no other way out than to just hold up the sales," A.J. Haagen-Smit, chairman of the state Air Resources Board, said Wednesday. No such threat was made against Chrysler.

Delegates chosen

CAMAS COUNTY delegates to Boys' State are Bill Stroud, left, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stroud, and Garth Packham, son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Packham. They were chosen by the Elmer Miller American Legion Post.

Hollister group hears fund report

HOLLISTER — The Extension Homemakers Club of the Salmon Tract heard a report on the cancer fund drive when it met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Jo Owen.

Mrs. C. J. Boss, chairman, said the drive, sponsored by the club in the Salmon Tract area, ended Monday with $409 collected.

Working on the drive were Mrs. C. M. Lanting, Mrs. Evert Messener, Mrs. Lee Bitzenburg, Pam Miller, Joni Matney, Mrs. Richard Gines, Mrs. Frank Wolf, Mrs. Robert Leichter and Mrs. Elvie Berry.

The club has made a donation to the Idaho Youth Ranch to purchase laundry equipment. Mrs. Oran Jones reported on the cultural arts program sponsored by the Twin Falls County Extension Council. "Are You Listening?" was the program presented by Mrs. Roger Jones with Mrs. John Henstock assisting.

The next meeting will be at 2 p.m. June 21 at the home of Mrs. Boss. It will be guest day and all members are asked to bring a guest and a salad. Mrs. Willie Lanting and Mrs. Ora Jones will give a lesson on window treatment.

Mrs. Howard Mills, president, announced pressure cookers will be tested at 9 a.m. May 25 at the Idaho Power Auditorium in Twin Falls. Anyone wishing to have their cooker tested can bring them at that time.

Mrs. David Lohr reported on the best cooks contest held in Buhl at which she represented the Hollister club.

Barker attends LA education meeting

BUHL — Sen. John M. Barker, Republican, legislative district 24, is in Los Angeles attending an Education commission of the States meeting.

The commission consists of 42 of the 48 states and two territories. Each state commission includes the governor, representatives of the state's senate and house of representatives and four lay members appointed by the governor.

Sen. Barker represents the Idaho State Senate on the commission. This year the main thrust of the meeting is in the area of more state funding for public schools. There will be discussion of the California court case Serrano versus Priest.

Sen. Barker will be moderator for a panel on "Accountability versus Autonomy in Higher Education." Mrs. Barker accompanied him to Los Angeles.

Burley DAR meets

BURLEY — Members of the John Day chapter Daughters of the American Revolution met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Jay Mahoney, Ketchum.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Lloyd Driskell, president. Mrs. Gordon Carson, chaplain led the pledge to the flag. Mrs. M. H. Manning read reports and correspondence.

Mrs. Driskell read an article titled "Involvement in Vietnam" written by Andy Lee, the history-essay contest winner of Kate Duncan Smith DAR school.

The program on conservation was presented by Mrs. Mahoney. She stressed the symbol of Smokey the Bear and its meaning in fire prevention across the nation. Mrs. Jeff Caldwell assisted Mrs. Mahoney with the program.

The members dined out and then enjoyed a tour of Ketchum and vicinity.

The next meeting will be held in September with time and place to be announced.

Ski patrol to meet in Burley

BURLEY — The annual spring meeting of the intermountain division of the National Ski Patrol will be held May 19-21 at the Ponderosa Inn in Burley.

About 300 persons are expected to attend from Utah, Wyoming and eastern Idaho representing 24 ski areas. Special guests will be Harry G. Peltard, Rye Beach, N.H., national director, and Ed Ericson, Denver, Colo., executive administrator.

The ski patrol is the second largest volunteer service organization in the world and presently has over 27,000 active members.

Registration will begin at 6 p.m. Friday followed by a welcome dinner at 9. Visitors also have all day Saturday to register and business sessions begin at 9 a.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Pomerelle Ski Patrol is the host for the convention. Jim Williams, Bountiful, Utah, division director, will conduct the business sessions and two regional directors will be elected during the sessions. One director will be selected to represent Idaho-Wyoming and the other to represent Utah interests.

Saturday evening, the awards banquet will be staged with Dale Stroller, Paul, as master of ceremonies.

A ladies luncheon will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday and will include a style show. After the luncheon, ladies can tour the Magic Valley Foods facility if they choose to do so.

GF commencement speaker named

GLENNS FERRY — Dr. Hal C. Barton, director of development at Ricks College, will be the commencement speaker at Glens Ferry High School tonight.

The commencement exercises for the high school students will begin at 8 p.m.

Dr. Barton is a former principal of Madison High School in Rexburg. He received his doctorate in education administration from the University of Utah in 1970. He has been at Ricks since 1964.

Rupert BPW club installs officers

RUPERT — The Rupert Business and Professional Women's Club installed officers in a candlelight ceremony Wednesday at Elks Lodge Hall.

Officers installed were Mrs. Carmen Allen, president; Mrs. Nadine Archer, first vice president; Mrs. Marianne Koch, second vice president; Ms. Irene Whitton, secretary, and Shirley Porter, treasurer. Mrs. Jackie Allen, retiring president, was installing officer.

The business session was conducted by Mrs. Jackie Allen. Mrs. Dixie Walker, social chairman, reported on the social and scholarship presented to Marcella Bossert.

Mrs. Elizabeth Greene, district director, reported on the Silver Gift for the governor's mansion taken at the south central district meeting.

Delegates to state BPW convention June 8-11 at Coeur d'Alene are Mrs. Carmen Allen, Mrs. Lonni Lindstrom, Mrs.

Gladys Reed, and alternate delegates are Mrs. Koch and Mrs. Walker. Mrs. Greene will also be attending the state session as district director.

Mrs. Melba Seal, Mrs. Greene and Mrs. Whitton were appointed to revise the bylaws.

Mrs. Whitton was appointed in charge of placing a BPW sign at the east entrance of Rupert.

Retiring club officers presented Mrs. Jackie Allen, retiring president, with a gift.

Minico band wins over board

RUPERT — The band beat the trustees 54-49 Tuesday night in a hard-fought cage battle staged for the benefit of the Minico High School band.

Only a small audience watched, however, paying admission which went toward the band's uniform fund drive.

The basketball game, in the Minico High gymnasium, was preceded by a brief concert by the high school's Dorian Choir, in the auditorium. No admission was charged for the choral presentation, which was fairly well attended.

Scouts skate

JEROME — Girl Scout troops from three Magic Valley towns skated for merit badges Tuesday at the Twin Falls roller rink.

Girl Scouts from Jerome, Wendell and Twin Falls have been taking skating lessons for the past six weeks, and Tuesday's competition was the culmination of that course.

Brownie troops from the three towns also participated and were part of the special party following the skating event.

DE-FEND

Low cost protection from profit eating pests in seed alfalfa & beans.

Here's good news for seed alfalfa and bean growers. DE-FEND-E-267 is the low cost, dimethoate, systemic insecticide that works three ways to control aphids, leafhoppers, leaf miners, lygus, mites and grasshoppers in your seed alfalfa and beans.

Recommended for use at low application rates per acre. DE-FEND provides excellent protection at much less cost.

DE-FEND kills on contact, then works as a residual insecticide on plant or tree foliage. Once absorbed into the plant system, DE-FEND's systemic action protects against sucking insects for several weeks.

New DE-FEND, the low hazard, non-persistent, systemic insecticide that fights pests and high costs. For the name of your nearest DE-FEND supplier contact:

Wildlife refuge use fees set for 12 areas

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Interior Department announced Thursday that it would charge daily entry fees at 12 of the largest national wildlife refuges pending congressional extension of the $10 Golden Eagle passport for entry into any federal recreational area.

The Fish and Wildlife Service said it would charge an entrance fee of $1 a day for each automobile, regardless of the number of occupants and 50 cents for each person over 15 entering by means other than cars. Additional fees may be charged for the use of camping sites and other facilities. Other agencies administering federal recreation lands also plan to either charge daily entrance fees or no fees at all pending action on the Golden Eagle bill.

But National Park Service officials said they were considering also issuing their own annual passports for entry only into the national parks.

The same thing happened two years ago when Congress let the Golden Eagle authority lapse for several months. The annual permit authority expired Dec. 31. The Interior Department has asked Congress to extend permanent authority for issuing the Golden Eagle passports, which have proved popular with recreation area users.

The Senate and House both passed the legislation in different forms before April, but a conference committee has been unable to resolve differences between the two versions.

The Golden Eagle permits brought in $5.6 million in revenue in fiscal 1971 and $2.5 million during the last six months of last year. This money was added to $21 million in other entrance and user fee income from the federal lands to be used for acquisition and development of additional federal, state and local recreation areas.

The Park Service, in addition to its proposed annual passport similar to the Golden Eagle, has established daily carload fees to $1 to $2 and individual fees ranging from 50 cents to $1.

User fees for certain facilities are in addition to the entrance fees.

The Bureau of Land Management will charge $1 per car entrance fees and entrance fees of $1 to $2 per day. The Corps of Engineers and the U.S. Forest Service also have similar user fees, but will have no entrance fees pending action by Congress.

The 12 wildlife refuges where the daily fees will be charged by the Fish and Wildlife Service include three in Texas: Arkansas, Buffalo Lake and Santa Ana, and also the Bear River migratory bird refuge in Utah.

Other national wildlife refuges where the fees will be charged are Wichita Mountains in Oklahoma, Crab Orchard in Illinois, De Soto in Iowa, Bombay Hook in Delaware, Brigantine in New Jersey, Montezuma in New York, Parker River in Massachusetts and Chincoteague in Virginia.

POSTING AND DRAINING have reduced the number of places where shotguns can ply their sport. The most obvious way out is to acquire and develop more key lands and the ones already controlled to carry more waterfowl, game birds, game animals and fish. ## Increase of leisure time threatens use capacity of recreational lands

BY JIM HUMBIRD
Idaho Fish and Game Dept.

There are two main problems to be solved in this land of ours. One of them is work and the other is leisure. Both of them are necessary, though really two sides of the same coin.

Of the two, leisure is by far the more important.

Webster says that recreation is "refreshment of strength and spirits after toil diversion." His key words are "after toil" and this places "recreation" as the antonym of "work."

Some dedicated men do put in 10 to 12 hours of work a day and find it difficult to take time off for vacations and might well know the answers to many of the problems that appear to be developing in the use of leisure time.

Of course, the real problem is the failure of society to provide a smooth transition from work values to leisure values. Traditionally in American society, work has provided the central focus of the value system.

Certainly this makes it most difficult to develop a leisure-centered value system, or to find meaningful roles in leisure-time activities. Values largely are determined by institutions, especially schools, churches and governmental agencies. But the big problem remains the conversion of leisure time into an asset instead of a liability.

It is quite evident that industrial workers, at least, have vacation time and are getting more of it. The past 100 years, for example, the average work-week in industry has dropped from 72 hours to less than 40 hours per week.

The number of vacation weeks has grown from 20 million to 100 million in the past 30 years or so. Some labor unions even have negotiated sabbatical leaves for senior workers.

Automation has eliminated production line jobs, shortened the work week, increased vacations and forced earlier retirement. Those hardest hit are the ones with the least education and consequent inability to cope with leisure.

Much of Idaho is already in the public domain and available to help meet the needs for outdoor recreation, including fishing, hunting, camping and swimming, to name a few. It is obvious that fishing, hunting, and the nonconsumptive uses of wildlife are as broad, or broader, a base for outdoor recreation as, say, swimming, camping, picnicking, etc.

Nature walks and study, wildlife photography, wildlife viewing and similar recreation occur with increasing frequency on lands once considered primarily as key wildlife habitat and public hunting areas.

Most of Idaho's big game hunting and a large part of the fishing is now done on public lands and waters. The fish and game department controls some 130,000 acres specifically for wildlife, including three big game ranges, eight public game bird and waterfowl shooting areas and over 130 water access units. More is needed.

Several mule deer and elk herds are in serious danger because their comparatively small critical winter ranges are becoming ever smaller due to the construction of highways and reservoirs, urban sprawl and land overuse.

Posting and draining has reduced the places shotguns can ply their sport. The most obvious way out of the predicament is to acquire more key lands and to develop them and the ones already owned to carry more animals and fish.

The department's land management policy rests on two main points.

These are (1) to give hunters and fishermen an opportunity to participate in their chosen sport by providing places to hunt and fish, or by providing the access to public lands and waters that can provide the recreation, and (2) to provide the necessary habitat for endangered big game herds or other wildlife populations.

All of the lands purchased by the department specifically for purchase, lease or agreement is the first step toward the department's goals. Most Idaho laws favor the acquisition of lands and waters for fish and wildlife and the hunting and fishing public. Some laws need changing.

Sailing regatta set at C.J. Strike

MOUNTAIN HOME — A large fleet of sailors from all parts of southern Idaho is expected for the second Southern Idaho Sailing Association regatta.

It will be at C. J. Strike Reservoir near Mountain Home.

The regatta will be held this Saturday and Sunday at the Cove Campground near the southern side of the reservoir.

Top place winners of the SISA's first race held last month will again be competing. First place winner Craig Phelan, of Caldwell, second place winner Tod Owens of Idaho Falls, and third place victor Dave Kueneman of Caldwell will face each other in the open class.

A special Coronado 15 sailboat class will also be held with first, second, and third place winners Stratton Laggis, Jim Donald and Joe Demming also competing.

Six races are scheduled for the two-day regatta at C. J. Strike Reservoir. The first race will begin at noon on Saturday, the races Sunday will begin at 10:00 a.m. Three races will be held each day.

Wildlife viewpoint

By STU MURRELL — Idaho Fish and Game Dept.

There is an extensive fish management plan for Salmon Falls Creek.

It has been developed by the U.S. Bureau of Land Management, Nevada Fish and Game Department and Idaho Fish and Game Department. A $117,000 fish barrier will be completed this summer on the section of the creek near the Nevada line.

This barrier will be used as an egg collection site for spawning kokanee migrating upstream from Salmon Falls Reservoir and allow Salmon Falls Creek and its tributaries to be treated for rough fish above the barrier.

The Idaho Fish and Game Department has developed a successful fishery in Salmon Falls Reservoir over a period of years. Catchable rainbow have proven to survive well and are providing excellent fishing as 14-15 inch fish at the present time.

Fingerling plants of rainbows were shown to have a lower survival rate in previous experiments because of the extensive population of trash fish. Three strains of kokanee salmon have been and are continuing to be introduced in the reservoir.

These fish spawn in August-September, September-October and November-December, which provides a variety of spawning periods to allow them a greater possibility of success. Coho salmon have been released regularly as fingerling and provide an excellent fishery for, about a year after introduction but have not spawned successfully in the stream system.

Years ago there were perch and crappie that were planted and have been successful. Brown trout have been planted as fingerlings the past three years but have not yet shown up in the fishery.

The treatment of Salmon Falls Creek above the barrier will be carried out in September. The antibiotic used will be flintrol, a bio-degradable toxicant that will be neutralized by potassium permanganate at the barrier.

Potassium permanganate will turn the water a purple color for a short period of time but this will not affect the fish in any way below the barrier.

Most of the draining lies in Nevada above the barrier but three main tributaries, Shoshone, Cottonwood and Big Creek, lie in Idaho. These three streams will be replanted with a mixture of brown and rainbow trout.

Nevada Fish and Game Department will restock their section with the same species. Most of the fish released in the reservoir in recent years have been raised at the Twin Falls hatchery.

Salmon Falls Reservoir is providing excellent fishing for rainbow trout and kokanee at the present time. Trolling from a boat with a small silver wobbling spoon has been particularly good.

Ducks show up early

WINNIPEG — Lured by an unseasonable warm spell in mid-March, the first ducks returned to the prairies a good ten days early, according to Ducks Unlimited.

The habitat which greeted them will provide sufficient water for a successful nesting season if the weather is at all normal. As a result of drier conditions on the central and southern prairies, a shift in breeding populations to the northern prairies and parklands is expected. Water conditions are excellent there.

While no surveys have yet been run, preliminary DU reports indicate a very satisfactory return of breeding birds.

Studying

BOISE — The Idaho Fish and Game Commission spent Thursday studying dates and limits for this fall's big game and bird hunting seasons.

The commission took no definite action but is expected to finalize and announce the fall lineup for hunters Friday afternoon.

Steelhead run ends

ELLIS — With less than 100 new adults caught in the last week, the spectacular run of steelhead into the Pahsimeroi River appears about over.

C.R. "Bob" Quider, manager of the Niagara Springs steelhead hatchery, reports the total for the spring now stands at 4,561 — six times more than the previous record.

Three hold first-round lead in Thomas classic

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — While Arnold Palmer searched for his $1,200 gold wristwatch, pudgy Billy Maxwell huffed to a 3-under-par 69 Thursday and a first-place tie with Gibby Gilbert and Hubert Green in the first round of the $175,000

Danny Thomas golf classic. The threesome held a one-stroke lead over defending champion Lee Trevino and Charles Coody, each with a 70 over the rolling 7,193-yard Colonial Country Club course. Just two strokes back in a large crowd was golfing giant Palmer, whose caddy reported on the 12th hole that he had lost Palmer's fancy watch. "I guess I had that on my mind," said Palmer, who promptly hit one out of bounds and took a disastrous triple-bogey seven on the 450-yard 13th hole. But he rallied with a late charge and sank a curling 25-footer for a birdie on No. 18. The shocker of the day, though, was little Maxwell, who is pushing 43 like Palmer and whose popgun drives fall far short of most of the tour's boomers. He putted and chipped well on his way to a 37-32 over the par 36-36 course studded with hills and lakes.

"The trouble with this course," said Maxwell, a Texan who now lives in Jacksonville, Fla., "is not all that water. It's the fact that you're always hitting the ball uphill."

"It's hard on my short game and on my legs."

Trevino, who started slowly, overcame two bogeys on the first nine holes and — like Maxwell — nipped four from par on the back nine. That finishing nine is mined with lakes on every hole but No. 17. Maxwell, who won this year's satellite to the Doral Open tournament, has picked up only $3,621 in 1972. "I drove well," he said. "But I hit short and sometimes you could say I have to take chances by hitting a driver off the tee where these other guys are careful and hit three woods."

Gilbert and Green, both long hitters, found the course to their liking except for the rough. "The course played tough," said Green, a 28-year-old graduate of Florida State and two-year tour veteran who won the 1971 Houston Classic.

"It was especially rough off the fairway," said Green. "But I guess you can expect that with the new course. My PUTTING was really good so I can't complain."

Gilbert, who played with Maxwell and consistently outdrove the pudgy 5-foot-7 veteran, said he was never in trouble. "It's the first round I've played this year without a bogey," he said.

Knoll is entered in the intermediate hurdles, the 440, the 400 relay and the mile relay. Comer is slated to run the high and intermediate hurdles, and mile and 440 relays.

Beeten hopes to get some points in the distance events from Canadian freshman John Brooks. Brooks holds the ISU record in the mile with a 4:13 effort but he will be going against some of the best runners in the West, namely NCU's Richard Sliney and Richard Selby.

Selby took the mile last year while Sliney captured the three mile and steeplechase. Brooks is slated to run in all three of those events.

Idaho State is weakest in the field events as it will go with only one entry in the pole vault, discus, shot put and javelin.

Craig Byington will carry the Bengal's hopes in most of those events as he is entered in the javelin, discus and shot.

Junior high jumper Bob Luther has a shot at picking up some first place points in the high jump as he has been jumping as well as anyone in the conference. He set the ISU record earlier this year with a 6-8 leap.

He will be joined by Bernard Schell who will be coming out of retirement for this one meet. Schell, who holds the state high school record of 6-6, had to quit competing because of knee troubles but he hopes to try it one more time.

Cal edges A's 4-3 in 12th

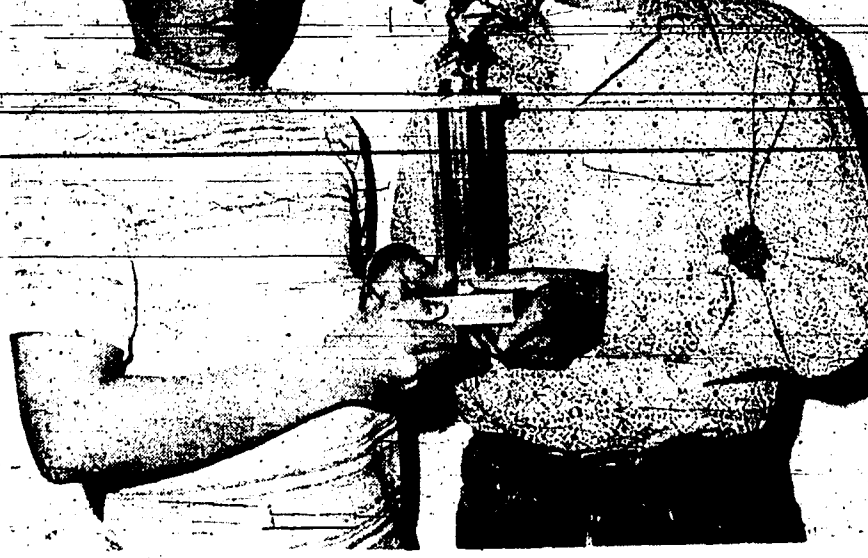

ANAHEIME, Calif. (UPI) — Mickey Rivers' two-out single scored Syd O'Brien from third base with the winning run in the bottom of the twelfth inning Thursday night as the California Angels edged the Oakland A's 4-3.

Oakland's Alvin Dark hit a home run in the eighth inning to give the A's a 3-2 lead. Dark's homer was the only one of the game.

The qualifying entries for next month's tournament total 4,252 with 2,595 professionals vying for a chance to win the title.

The odds against any of the amateurs even teeing up at Pebble Beach, Calif., June 15, are astronomical. Only 15 of the 1,523 who entered the 1971 qualifying round made it to the first tee at the Merion Golf Club in Ardmore, Pa.

Sectional qualifying is scheduled to take place at 13 locations on June 5-6.

TF bowlers win three titles in junior meet

TWIN FALLS — Craig Beutler and Jerry Miller won individual titles and The Flips took a team prize in the Idaho state junior bowling tournament.

The tournament ended in Idaho Falls last weekend. Beutler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Beutler, won the singles title in the bantam division with a 671 and also was on the team that placed seventh.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ted Martinez tripled in one run in the first inning Thursday and scored as Willie Mays' up ended catcher John Boccabella to lead the New York Mets to their seventh straight triumph, a 2-1 victory over the Montreal Expos.

Mays walked leading off the first and scored as Martinez tripled to deep right center. Mays barreled into Boccabella and the relay from second baseman Ron Hunt skipped away, allowing Martinez to score the eventual winning run.

Montreal's Steve Carlton pitched a 7-0 shutout in the first inning. He struck out three batters in the first and second innings.

Preakness field set for Saturday's run

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Riva Ridge, the Kentucky Derby winner, will have to beat stablemate Upper Case as well as seven others in the Preakness Stakes Saturday without any help from the rule book in his quest of the Triple Crown, trainer Lucien Laurin said today.

Laurin, if he so desired, could "declare" to win with Riva Ridge under Maryland racing rules. But, as far as he was concerned, it will be a case of "may the best horse win" when he sends Riva Ridge and Upper Case to the post in the 1-3-16 mile event.

"But if Upper Case wins, I'll be a very surprised, disappointed and sorry man," the trainer added. He wants Riva Ridge to win the Preakness and Belmont Stakes as well.

Such a declaration must be recorded with the stewards before the race and would permit jockey Ray Broussard to hold Upper Case back if the 97th running of the Preakness developed into a two-horse race between the Meadow Stable standard bearers.

"A jockey riding a horse with which his owner has not declared to win must on no account stop such horse except in favor of the stable companion on whose behalf declaration to win has been made," the rule states.

That would place a heavy burden on Broussard, a burden that proved too heavy for the only other Preakness jockey who rode under such conditions.

The Brookmeade Stable declared to win with Cavalcade, its Kentucky Derby winner in 1934, while also sending High Quest to the post in the Preakness.

High Quest went to the front at the start. Cavalcade drew alongside him with an eighth of a mile to go. But Discovery also challenged and jockey Robert (Bouncing Bobby) Jones kept driving with High Quest to beat Cavalcade by a nose.

Discovery's challenge faltered and he finished a length farther back. So if Jones had eased High Quest slightly nearing the finish line the declaration would have worked with Cavalcade the winner.

Key to the Mint, the second choice, are considered the horses most likely to challenge Riva Ridge in the stretch. By that time Upper Case probably will have done his job.

For Laurin indicated he would send Upper Case to the front at the start to insure a fast pace for Riva Ridge who led all the way in winning the Kentucky Derby.

Broussard was ready for any kind of riding instructions. "I ride as close to orders as I can. When the orders run out then you are on your own," he said. "It's just like going to work in the morning. The boss tells you what to do and you do it."

Upper Case needs racing. He's restless and gets upset easily. He never has been close to Riva Ridge and I don't think he will be Saturday," Laurin said of the colt who won the Florida Derby and the Wood Memorial this year to earn high regard.

Haller and Tigers top Boston 7-2

DETROIT (UPI) — Joe Coleman, backed by Tom Haller's two timely hits, pitched a three-hitter Thursday night as the Detroit Tigers scored a 7-2 triumph over the Boston Red Sox.

Haller, who made his first American League hit a three-run homer Wednesday night, led off the second inning with a triple off the fence in center field and scored when Rick Miller trapped Dick McAuliffe's fly ball which was ruled a double.

Boston's Roger Clemens pitched a 7-0 shutout in the first inning. He struck out three batters in the first and second innings.

Cards, Reds swap players

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The St. Louis Cardinals traded first baseman Joe Hague to the Cincinnati Reds Thursday night for outfielder Bernie Carbo in a straight player swap.

Hague was hitting .237 for the Cards with three homers and 11 RBIs. He had appeared in all but three of the Cardinals' 30 games this season and had spent his entire career with St. Louis after first coming up to the majors in 1968. He had a lifetime batting average of .242.

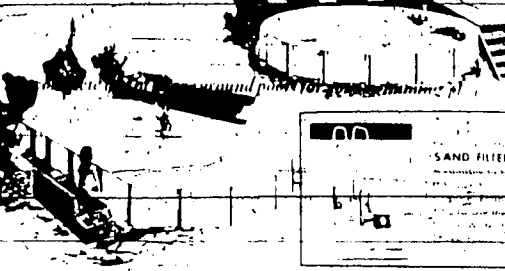

Carbo first came to the majors with Cincinnati for four games in 1969 and batted .310 in the club's pennant winning season of 1970 but slumped to .219 last year.

Muggers Wait For Elevators

What the New York City police are fighting now, I'm told, is a recent wrinkle among muggers. Namely, said strongarm boys hide in apartment house basements, push the elevator buttons, and wait. Eventually, some absentminded victim, who fails to notice whether he's going up or down, dispatches himself.

CORRECT, young lady, two new studies this year still show that professional woman least apt to get a divorce is the... school teacher.

YES, SIR, am now told the oldest trade name known is "Kikkoman Shoyu Co., Ltd." makers of soy sauce since 1830.

NO, MADAM, ordinarily the only nudist colony member called upon to remain at least partly clothed is the untrained toddler.

QUERIES

Q. "What one thing more than any other is most apt to make a woman forgettable?"

A. Alimony—must be No. 1. Good cooking is said by the fond sons of mothers to rank No. 2.

Q. "How many times do you have to shuffle the deck to make sure the cards are really mixed?"

A. Three shuffles is supposed to do it, if you use what the Nevada boys call the professional riffle.

ANOTHER thing that's so good about May 15 is the month when you're likely to lose the least hair. The "science" men have proved that hairs fall out of your head systematically year round. November is when the most go.

THAT THAT word between." Most think it's wrong to use it for more than two. Like: "An argument between Tom, Dick and Harry." Isn't wrong, though. Quite proper. Ask your old English teacher.

PRETTY circumspect, the male Indian elephant. It's not until he's 21 years old that he ever really gets serious about a lady elephant. Any earlier romance is merely adolescent flirtation.

MONEY

Still one more customer wants to know how to make $1 million. Nothing to it. Write a Christmas melody. So far, Johnny Marks has pulled in more than $9 million for his "Rudolph the Red Nose Reindeer" while Irving Berlin has collected more than $3 million for "White Christmas."

WHAT YOU'VE never eaten skunk cabbage? Pity. Boil the leaves with a pinch of baking soda and serve with green pepper sauce and butter, advises gourmet Chef Switell. "Excellent with pork roast."

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, MAY 20, 1972

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day that brings varied and changing conditions. If you take in stride unexpected delays and look to the new and the untold, you have some very interesting situations in which you will benefit. Steer clear of taking unnecessary risks. Be formal.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Concentrate on doing those things you have neglected to do in the past and you get ahead much faster now. Contact higher-ups and gain their goodwill. An ally fails to keep a promise.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You need a new approach in current activities and then you get far better results, be it in business or personal life. Be careful not to make any financial mistakes. Be alert.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You have to use a more modern system for handling responsibilities if you want to get better results. Your methods are now antiquated, so forget them. Make it easy tonight.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Meet with associates and talk over the best means for getting business matters to run more smoothly. Don't permit an insignificant person to bother you. Be poised.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You are now able to handle a problem properly and get the right answer so that you gain the cooperation of co-workers for greater prosperity ahead. Show appreciation to one who has been helpful.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You can now engage in a new kind of entertainment you have always longed for. Taking any risks where your credit is concerned could be very dangerous now. Have fun tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) A situation comes up at home that needs family discussion before it can be ironed out properly to the satisfaction of everyone concerned. Not a good day to make business plans.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Talk over a new plan with business experts and then with an associate before putting it in operation. Don't rely too much at this time on the advice of well-meaning friends.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Use your own good hunches and make big strides where important affairs are concerned. Know just where you are headed. Avoid an associate who is acting erratically at this time.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have good judgment now and can contact others for cooperation in a plan you have, so don't wait on the advice of others. Don't neglect to handle important correspondence.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have to meet certain responsibilities that require the aid of influential persons before going ahead with a plan you have in mind. Go out with mate tonight and have a delightful time.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) A good day to analyze with friends just where you are headed and come to a better understanding. Attend the social tonight and make a big impression. Show that you have poise.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY—He or she will be one of those clever young people who can be most successful in life because of the ability to be precise at work plus the perseverance and pride in doing a job extremely well. Teach early to concentrate on important factors and not to get bogged down with too many details. Religious training is a must.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU.

By WILLIAM H. LANDER
ABOARD THE QE2 (UPI)

We came out of the movie theater and my wife, Margaret, told me the ship had stopped. Actually the ship had been stopped for nearly a half hour. The movie, "The Boyfriend," had not been interrupted, but other people outside the theater told us Capt. William Law had announced on the loudspeaker that there was a possible bomb on board and the British Air Force was sending some experts over.

There was complete calm among the 400 people who had been in the movies and the others on the ship.

There's absolute confidence that the British are here and there is nothing to worry about. Everyone is enjoying it.

It was foggy and raining and there must have been easily 150 to 200 people on the open-top deck and many others on the other decks watching for the planes.

They said the planes would be here shortly so the ship stopped. The planes began circling overhead. They kept getting lower and lower. Then the men dropped from very pretty black and white striped parachutes.

It was a thrilling sight to see the four British parachuters. They came down with extreme precision through the fog and rain and were picked up in a ship's launch. We were told they were demolition experts.

The men came aboard and the ship resumed its journey.

Later the captain said over the loudspeaker that a ransom had been demanded and Cunard would do whatever the FBI advises.

Everybody on the ship was calm and people went back to playing blackjack.

Dinner was served and they extended the hours for eating so nobody missed dinner.

The ship was already going to be two hours late arriving in Cherbourg, France, because the captain had to go further south than usual because of icebergs in the water.

He came on the loudspeaker again and said: "Now I cannot tell you the times of arrival."

My wife and I have experienced earthquakes and revolutions in South America but this is the most excitement she's ever had.

Youths honored

Amtrak due more funds from joint committee

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A House-Senate conference committee is about ready to give Amtrak $50 million more than its officials say is needed to run the nation's rail passenger service.

A congressional source told UPI that the House and Senate members working on a compromise version of the Amtrak bill will allocate $220 million to operate the railroads through June, 1973. The compromise also calls for a $175 million authorization for loan guarantees for capital improvements such as new stations, locomotives and passenger cars. The Senate version of the Amtrak bill would have given the railroad service $337 million in operational funds and $330 million in loan guarantees. The House appropriated $170 million in operating funds and $100 million in loan guarantees.

Amtrak President Richard E. Lewis repudiated the generous Senate version of the bill and said Amtrak can use only the $170 million originally sought. Sen. Lowell P. Weicker, Jr., R-Conn., responded by charging Lewis with taking orders from the administration or "freezing" locomotives and passenger cars. One provision of the bills under consideration would cut the salary of Lewis and other Amtrak officials to a maximum of $60,000 a year. Lewis currently earns $125,000 annually.

Other aspects of the Amtrak bill would direct the semi-government corporation to take full operational control of its rail passenger trains; provide $2 million for service into Mexico and Canada; and require that Amtrak provide monthly reports to Congress on its finances and performance.

Amtrak was created in 1971 to take over most of the nation's declining passenger service.

Defense delayed

By DONALD B. THACKREY
SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI) — Angela Davis' attorneys have won a delay until Monday, saying they could prepare an "abbreviated defense" that will allow the murder-kidnap-conspiracy case to go to the jury by the end of May.

Judge Richard E. Arnason granted the delay Thursday so Miss Davis' attorneys could prepare the shorter defense to end the trial quickly.

Chief defense attorney Howard Moore even hinted to newsmen that there may be no testimony presented, only final arguments. The prosecution ended its case against Miss Davis Monday.

"We don't know what's going to happen Monday," Moore told newsmen outside the courtroom. "We may just start arguing Monday. We expect some abbreviated defense action."

Pilot becomes 1-hour series

NEW YORK (UPI) — That "Ghost Story" pilot that was seen on NBC March 17, with Sebastian Cabot as a leading participant has developed into a series of one-hour suspense dramas to be made by Screen Gems for the same network for next season.

TF achievement winners listed

TWIN FALLS — Sales and annual award winners have been announced by the Twin Falls Junior Achievement Club.

The sales category winner also provided the Achiever of the Year winner.

Gary Bortz, representing the "Pax" company, was named best salesman. His company sold $777 worth of bottle candles and "mod podge" plaques and returned 54 cents on the dollar to company stockholders.

For his efforts Bortz was also named "Achiever of the Year" which is most coveted award of the organization. Punctuality is apparently part of the scheme as Bortz also received a special award for three years perfect attendance.

Moyle Wilson was awarded the president of the year honor while secretary and treasurer honors went to Susan Parsons and Carol Crossaint, respectively.

Brian Hawkins was voted the best manufacturing vice president and sale vice president honors went to Sharon Jorgensen.

Wilson also won the company officer of the year award. The non-officer award was given to Tamara Roberts.

During the year, several companies are formed and go about business as a bona-fide operation. The best company record and sponsoring company wins the junior achievement award.

Bortz and the "Pax" company were sponsored by Mountain Bell.

The records and annual report of "Pax" now goes to the junior achievement western states competition and the national competition in San Francisco.

Conference in Moscow 'crucial'

MOSCOW (UPI) — Pravda, the Communist Party newspaper, today termed President Nixon's impending summit talks with Krenin leaders "crucial" and said the Soviet side will be realistic and businesslike.

It is from businesslike and realistic positions that the Soviet Union approaches the crucial talks, which may be of benefit to the vital interests of the peoples of the Soviet Union and the United States, to universal peace and security, a Pravda article on Soviet-American relations said.

Nixon is scheduled to arrive Monday for an eight-day official visit in the Soviet Union.

"The Soviet people very well realize what significance the state of Soviet-American relations has for the life of the peoples of both nations as well as for the international situation, for its further development toward stable peace," Pravda said.

Consumer aid unit proposed

BOISE (UPI) — The Boise branch of the American Association of University Women proposes creation of a department to emphasize constructive educational and informative assistance for consumers.

Spokesmen for the AAUW told Attorney General W. Anthony Park Thursday that a separate or coordinating department should be organized and given enough money to serve the consumer.

They said the Attorney General's Office also should be involved in consumer enforcement. But they said the proposed department should concern itself with education and information.

Pusher bounty

LANSING, Mich. (UPI) — The Michigan Senate has created a special committee to study the feasibility of offering $500 to $1,000 rewards for turning in drug pushers to police.

"Extensive studies of the drug problem reveal that the most important link between the user and the dealer in illicit drugs is the pusher," said a senate resolution.

Wilson and Mary Anne Ward will attend the national conference in Indiana as Idaho delegates.

Junior Achievers will be selling fireworks at the Blue Lakes Shopping Center to help finance Wilson and Ward's trip to the Midwest.
