

Treaty sets nuclear arms limits

MOSCOW (UPI) — President Nixon and Soviet leaders reached agreement today on a historic treaty limiting nuclear arms.

The treaty was to be signed at 11 p.m. Moscow time (4 p.m. EDT) at an all-America dinner.

White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Nixon would sign for the United States, and diplomats told UPI Communist Party General Secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev probably would sign for the Soviet Union.

The agreement capped 1 1/2 years of negotiations at the strategic arms limitation talks (SALT) in Helsinki and Vienna and provided a crowning achievement for Nixon's summit talks in Moscow.

The treaty covers both offensive and defensive missiles. It will limit antiballistic missiles (ABM), ban building more launching silos for intercontinental ballistic missiles (ICBM), freeze the number of ICBMs at the present figure, and allow no new construction of missile-launching submarines.

The United States now has 1,054 land-based ICBMs; 41 missile-carrying submarines and two ABM sites under construction. The Soviet Union has an estimated 1,550 ICBMs; 25 missile-carrying subs; and the only operational ABM in the world.

Even as the final wording was being worked out, the two nations reached agreement on yet another accord, this one to set up a Soviet-American commission to develop trade and business, economic relations. The trade agreement, less than Nixon had hoped for, was preceded during the week-long talks by the signing of five other pacts, covering joint efforts on disease, pollution, space, science and "rules of the sea."

Ziegler said that Nixon and the ruling Soviet troika, Brezhnev, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and President Nikolai Podgorny met in the Kremlin for two hours this afternoon.

They discussed international problems and completed the final agreement on strategic arms limitation, Ziegler said. The two chief arms negotiators, U.S. ambassador Gerard C. Smith and Soviet First Deputy Foreign Minister Vladimir S. Semenov, flew together in a U.S. air transport plane from Helsinki to Moscow for the ceremony.

Shortly after agreement came, Nixon and Brezhnev themselves met in the Kremlin for the President's eighth summit session in five days. Soviet and U.S. sources said the two went on to discuss other issues. But Nixon's main goal of his mission to Moscow had been reached in the arms pact. The aides negotiated under terms laid down by the leaders of the two superpowers at a 40-foot-long conference table in the Kremlin.

It looks like we have virtually all matters of principle dealt with, one U.S. official said. There is a possibility the treaty will be signed today.

The conference delayed signing the agreement and issuing a formal announcement while a joint communique was prepared, sources said. American sources described the task of writing the communique as difficult but said the task could be completed today.

Following their arms agreement, the conferees went on to other topics, summit sources said, ranging over other crucial issues, presumably including Vietnam.

A final pact on trade matters has been stalled by old disagreements about Soviet war debts and new conflicts.

Jets blast Red Viet port

SAIGON (UPI) The U.S. Command today reported a third consecutive day of massive air strikes against Haiphong and said American helicopters firing electronic missiles had broken up a Communist assault on Kontum, destroying 13 tanks.

Heavy fighting continued in Kontum, a provincial capital 280 miles north of Saigon, and government forces beat back two assaults on the Kontum airfield while other units routed out Communist sappers who infiltrated Kontum's "back door" Thursday and occupied a number of houses.

On the My Chanh River defense line 22 miles north of Hue a force of 1,000 North Vietnamese using tanks launched another major assault along Highway 1 today but were beaten back by U.S. air power and South Vietnamese Marines using hand grenades in fighting that swept to within 30 yards of the South Vietnamese lines. The Marines reported killing 200 of the attackers.

The battle for Kontum was far from over but the missile firing American helicopters were making it easier for the defenders. The helicopters were using missiles known as "TOWS" for Tube-Launched, Optically Tracked Wire-guided missiles. They first began using them seven weeks ago when they were brought in from West Germany.

UPI Correspondent Matt Frañjola, who reported the first use of the missiles in fighting north of Kontum in April, said the operator aboard a helicopter guides the missile by keeping the target centered in a telescopic sight. The missile trails two wires behind it like a remote-controlled toy airplane and the operator sends electronic impulses over the wires to guide the missile.

New electronic and other scientific developments also were being used in the heavy air raids over North Vietnam where bombs are guided by laser beams projected by the pilots of American planes and in the U.S. 7th Fleet where the cruiser USS Chicago shot down a MIG fighter on April 19 with a 31-foot Talos missile.

The U.S. Command, reporting a third consecutive day of heavy raids against the Haiphong area, said U.S. Navy pilots from the carrier Midway using laser-beam bombs destroyed two bridges just northeast of Haiphong and heavily attacked a power plant near Vinh, 137 miles north of the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ). Four other bridges were destroyed plus two missile sites and some war materiel.

The power plant was the fifth hit since President Nixon lifted the ban on strikes against industrial targets. Pilots said damage to the Ben Thuy thermal power plant at Vinh could not be determined "because of intense smoke obscuring the target area after the strike."

The U.S. command said 290 American planes took part in Thursday's strikes in the North.

Watch nets silver urn

MOSCOW (UPI) — First Lady Pat Nixon presented a Mickey Mouse watch to the director of Russia's biggest timepiece factory today and got a laugh and a silver samovar in return.

I brought it along to you as a joke, Mrs. Nixon told the director of the Moscow watch factory, Dmitri A. Paramonov, who laughed as she handed him the watch. I understand Mickey Mouse is a favorite in your country as well as in America. I'm sure the works aren't as good.

Paramonov gave Mrs. Nixon a foot-high silver samovar, the ornate water heaters used to brew tea in Russian households. It symbolizes that those who are on friendly terms should sit down and have tea together, he said.

I think it's a wonderful factory, spotless and clean, Mrs. Nixon said. It's important for a watch factory to be clean. I've seen so many happy faces.

Mrs. Nixon, whose slimmest is a sharp contrast with the more buxom Russian women, laughed and said her hostesses have been doing their best to fatten her up in Moscow.

She said her Kremlin household staff thinks she is too thin and puts her with sweets and pastries of the kind the factory staff served her during a tea break at the end of her visit.

With Mrs. Nixon and her party was Mrs. Leonid I. Brezhnev, wife of the Communist party general secretary, and the wife of Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Hijackers captured by troops

BLANTYRE, Malawi (UPI) — Malawi troops firing machine-guns today stormed a hijacked South African Airways (SAA) 737 Jetliner at Chilika Airport and captured the two Arab gunmen who were reportedly planning to extort money from South African diamond magnate Harry Oppenheimer.

A pilot at the airport said the Malawi soldiers wounded one of the hijackers as he tried to make a run for it. The other staggered from the plane, which the two had hijacked in flight nearly 48 hours before, with his hands up, the pilot said. The attack came at the expiration of a 6 a.m. deadline officials had set for the hijackers to surrender.

Assailant's trial set for June

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Federal and county prosecutors set tentative trial dates Thursday for Arthur Herman Bremer, 21, accused of the shooting of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace.

Prince Georges County States Attorney Arthur Marshall set a "very tentative" trial date of July 12. Bremer is accused of 24 violations of Maryland law, including four charges of assault with intent to murder.

Butte County collision kills young TF child

ARCO — A 17-month-old Twin Falls baby was killed Thursday in a head-on collision of two automobiles three miles southwest of Craters of the Moon National Monument.

Deputy Sheriff Dick Lords said the baby, Daniel Helsley, son of Patricia Helsley, Twin Falls, was crushed between his mother and the steering wheel when the Helsley car crossed the center line of the highway and crashed head-on with an eastbound vehicle driven by Wilford Schueler, Detroit, Mich.

Officers said the child was sitting on the mother's lap as she drove, and apparently the driver diverted her attention to the baby briefly and allowed the car to drift into the lane in which the Michigan vehicle was approaching. The collision occurred at 10:30 a.m. Thursday.

The young driver and her 14-year-old sister, Cindy Helsley, Mackay, and Mrs. Wilford Schueler were hospitalized at Lost River Hospital in Arco with cuts, bruises and possible internal injuries. All were listed in good condition today. Schueler was treated at the hospital and released.

Officers in Butte County said the young woman was apparently returning to Twin Falls from Mackay at the time of the accident.

The child's body was taken to Marvel Mortuary in Arco pending funeral arrangements.

US tax changes looming

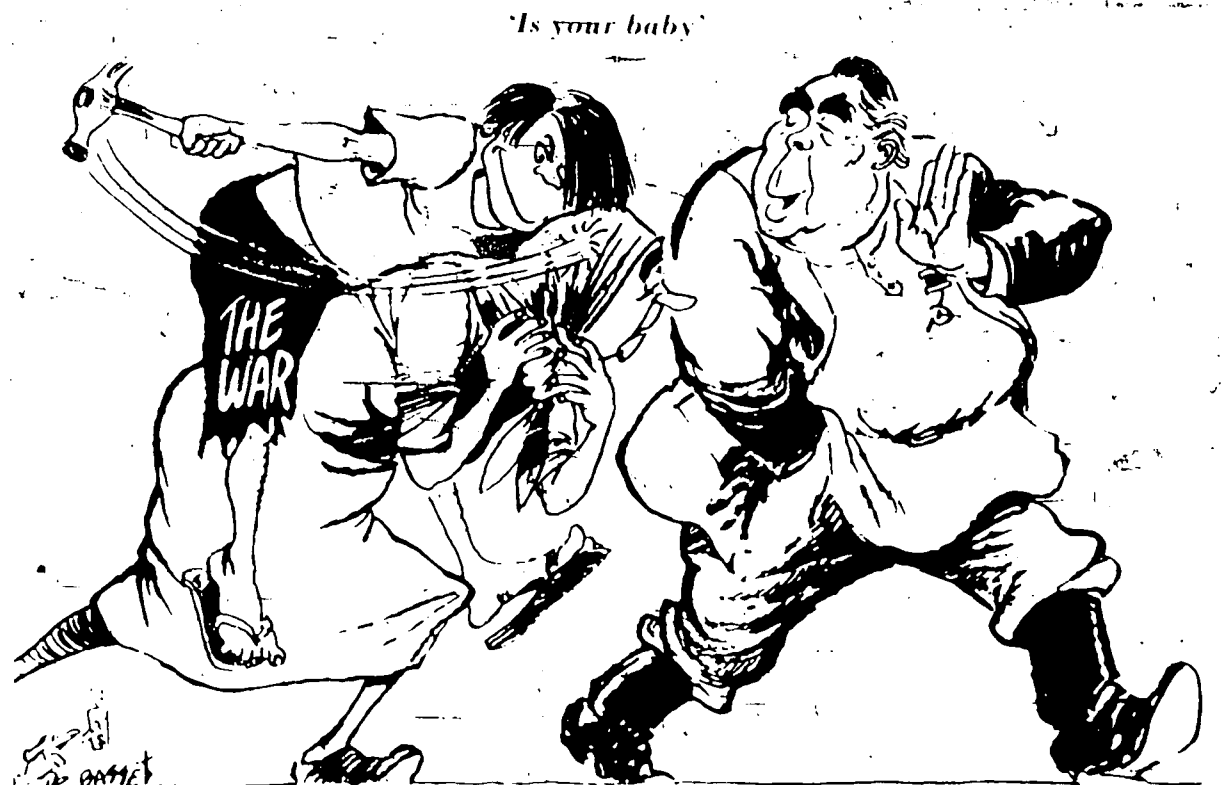

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon may soon propose changes in the federal tax structure without any increase in paying taxes, according to a White House aide.

The possible changes would be substitutes for existing taxes, such as a value-added levy on manufactured goods to replace a portion of the property taxation used to finance public education, the aide said.

John D. Ehrlichman, Nixon's chief adviser on domestic affairs, Thursday answered a study by the Brookings Institution that claimed increased taxes will be necessary by 1976.

"My difference with the Brookings analysis is that it rejects any possibility of effecting economies in the operation of the federal government," Ehrlichman said.

Brookings, a private organization devoted to economic research, reported in its study that federal programs were increasing in number and cost faster than treasury revenues to pay for them.

US April trade deficit zooms

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States suffered its second worst monthly trade deficit in history in April as the value of imports outran exports by almost $700 million, the Commerce Department said today.

The nation has now imported more than it exported in 12 of the past 13 months and the trend has accelerated since the first of this year. For the first four months of 1972, the trade balance plunged $2.2 billion in the red.

The trade gap has been the bleakest part of the nation's economic picture, contributing to the dollar drain overseas and cutting into the domestic sales of U.S. firms.

On the basis of the international monetary agreement last December and the current domestic economic expansion, administration officials have predicted that imports should about balance exports by the end of this year. However, foreign trade would have to execute an almost unprecedented turnaround for this to occur.

VonBraun retires

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr. Werner von Braun, German-born rocket expert who directed development of the rocket that sent Americans to the moon, retired from the space agency today.

An announcement of his retirement issued by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said that von Braun would join Fairchild Industries as corporate vice president for engineering and development, effective July 1.

Von Braun was serving as deputy associate administrator at the time of his resignation. Before that, he was director of the Marshall Space Flight Center in Alabama for 10 years, heading the team that developed the world's most powerful rocket, the Saturn V which propelled Apollo's moon-landing missions.

Protest cry mars Pat's night out

MOSCOW (UPI)—It was Pat Nixon's evening out and it was perfect, until the piercing voice made it seem not unlike home. "Free-dommm to Viet-nammmmm!" came the heavily accented cry.

It was a beautiful young red-haired woman sitting in a high golden balcony at the Bolshoi Theater Thursday night. She yelled down and to her right at the gilded royal box where President and Mrs. Nixon, Soviet President Nikolai V. Podgorny, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and Mrs. Leonid I.

Breznev were settling in for the third dreamy act of "Swan Lake."

The audience gasped. The dimming house lights flared a bit in the gold and red-plush theater, then darkened.

The shadowy figures of Soviet security police moved through the balconies toward the source of the shout.

The Soviets tolerate no such behavior, ever. The beam of a portable spotlight stabbed through the darkness up around the roof.

"I feel sorry for her," muttered a U.S. Secret Service agent in the audience.

It was dark again in the theater by now and ballerina Natasha Bismertnova was gliding through Swan Lake's climax. Guests seated nearby said the police lifted the woman and her female companion right over the backs of their cross-aisle seats, so as not to disturb others in their row, and took them away.

The woman later was identified as Miriam Fracassi, wife of Claudio Fracassi, correspondent in Moscow for the Italian communist newspaper Paese Sera.

Security police questioned her in the theater lobby but released her after a few minutes with the warning not to do it again.

It was plain she was proud of her demonstration. A real beauty—glender, curvaceous and chic in beige bell-bottom trousers and a chocolate jacket, with creamy skin and rich red hair—Mrs. Fracassi looked the policeman in the eye coldly and appeared to be replying with cool disdain to his comments.

A few minutes after the policeman and the woman disappeared, the Nikons came down through the lobby commenting happily on the performance of Swan Lake, Mrs. Nixon's favorite. They gave no sign they had been ruffled by the incident.

The theater evening—her first night out in Moscow with the President this trip—capped a day in which Mrs. Nixon visited the Bolshoi Choreography School and viewed fashions at a special show.

Accident causes minor injuries

TWIN FALLS — Minor injuries were reported Thursday afternoon in a three-vehicle accident at Third Avenue West and Third Street West.

Twin Falls Police said a car driven by Connie Lynn Allred, 26, Twin Falls, was traveling west on Third Avenue West when it collided in the intersection with a pickup truck driven by Pam Revai, 19, Twin Falls.

The pickup truck continued across the intersection after the impact and struck a parked car. Passengers in the Allred car were David Allred, 5; Roger Allred, 10, and Gary Allred, 9.

Miss Revai was issued a citation for failure to yield the right of way.

Damage estimated in the accident totaled $1,500.

Bomb blast shatters Ireland violence lull

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—A 100-pound bomb blast wrecked a police station and adjoining family quarters today and a man was tarred and feathered, shattering a comparative two-day lull in Northern Ireland violence.

The explosion at Moneymore caused no injuries but demolished the station and the family annex and damaged buildings over a wide area. Police said it blew out the windows of an old people's home a quarter of a mile away, leaving some residents in a state of shock.

In Belfast, army troops early today found a 24-year-old Catholic man tarred and feathered in the city's market area. A spokesman for the Irish Republican Army (IRA), which operates revenge squads that deal with police informers and other rule-breakers, said the man was caught stealing.

Other violence punctuated the fragile peace in the province, although security officials said Ulster was relatively calm compared with the violence of recent weeks.

Blacks barricade school official

WATERLOO, Iowa (UPI)—Police used power saws to cut through the office door of Waterloo School Superintendent George Distelmeier Thursday night after some 200 angry blacks barricaded him in his office in the second day of protests over a controversial reading of "Little Brown Koko and the Preacher's Watermelon."

Thirty-two blacks were arrested Thursday in protests over alleged racial slurs of the material, which was read before a West Junior High School speech class by Mrs. Alice Hayes, a 30-year veteran of the school system.

Mrs. Hayes was suspended for the duration of the school term Wednesday after 30 black parents conducted a sit-in protest in her classroom.

The arrests Thursday also set off some brief incidents of trouble in the city's predominantly black section. Officials said that two fires were set in vacant buildings in the area and several incidents of rock-throwing were reported.

Earlier in the day, the blacks had barricaded Distelmeier in his office and the Waterloo School Board had called an emergency meeting to consider calling off classes today in schools throughout the city.

However, when the school superintendent was later freed unharmed, the board decided classes would be held as usual.

Church scores elder care

By LORAYNE SMITH
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — Treatment of the elderly is one of the standards by which a society is judged, Sen. Frank Church said here Thursday night.

By any standard the United States — the richest nation in the world — comes up short, he said.

Idaho's senior Senator spoke to a membership dinner sponsored by the Twin Falls County Mental Health Association at the College of Southern Idaho Student Union.

He said one out of four citizens over 65 years of age lives in "statistical poverty," defined by the government as $1,800 for a single person and $2,400 for married persons.

If you add 25 per cent to this statistical level, then half of the elderly in America are in the poverty bracket, he said.

"This is a poor record and unnecessary," the Senator said. "Nothing that 'inflation' has eaten the heart out of the Social Security system," Church has proposed a 20 per cent boost in payments. He said 56 senators have endorsed this measure which, if passed, would still leave many older persons below the poverty level.

Church has served 14 years on the Senate Committee on Problems of the Aging, and became chairman last year. He has proposed a supplemental income for the elderly which would both replace old age assistance and welfare.

Americans must change their attitudes if older persons are to receive better treatment, Church said. Money is not the entire answer, for senior citizens, even those with adequate finances, need other services.

They need neighborhood centers, transportation, visitation and other home services, he said.

If communities would be more flexible and organize to answer these needs, they would save themselves a lot of money," he said.

But, instead, most senior citizens in need of such services are institutionalized where they are often lonely, unhappy and at three or four times the cost, either to them or society.

If home services were available in many cases they would suffice, Church said, and for a minimal cost.

He cited the example of the "community school" plan, initiated years ago in Flint, Mich., and gradually being implemented across the nation. There the community's school facilities are made available for use by not only senior citizens but by all age groups.

This plan is in operation in Boise.

The senator said for an additional two per cent in cost schools can be put into full use "with a little imagination and flexibility."

Dale Higer, Boise, president of the Idaho Mental Health Association, spoke briefly. He said Idaho ranks fifth in the nation in terms of population percentage covered by mental health facilities.

Marge Sloten, Twin Falls, secretary of the regional mental health board, said the federal grant for establishment of mental health facilities in Magic Valley is expected to be sent to Seattle in June.

Rev. John Wallace, chairman of the dinner, and Lotus Schmucker, mental health association president, also were introduced, as well as several political candidates attending.

TWIN FALLS — Boathouse facilities burned Thursday afternoon at the Blue Lakes Country Club.

Club manager Ernest Augustus said he was not certain yet of the dollar loss from the fire that burned the structure to water level.

The boathouse interior was sectioned off into 10 cubicles used by club members who had furnished the small rooms.

One club member, J.A. Cederquist, utilized two of the small rooms. He lost furnishings and a small boat valued by Cederquist at $3,000.00.

Another stall user, Dr. L.M. Neher, Jerome, said his lost furnishings total "about $500" as did the items in the room used by Dr. R. G. Neher of Shoshone.

There were 10 stalls in all, built about two decades ago by participating members. The facility was later turned over to the club.

The wood and aluminum structure was built on used oil drums and the only remnants of the facility were loose barrels floating down the river at 9 p.m. Thursday.

Gem health unit picks TF doctor

SUN VALLEY — A Twin Falls physician was elected president of the Idaho Health Association Thursday during its annual meeting here.

Dr. Michael T. Phillips, an orthopedic surgeon, will begin a two-year term next year. Other new officers include Jacqueline Mason, secretary, and Richard Adams, treasurer, both of Boise.

Four new directors also were elected to the 12-man association board. They are: Larry Belmont, Coeur d'Alene;

Dr. Ronald V. Pottenger, Homedale; Ray Willy, Boise and Rev. Jack Viggers, Idaho Falls.

During the annual award ceremony, the "Taymen's" award for service in the health field went to Cecil Sandberg, Blackfoot. Mrs. Eileen Merrell, Boise, received the "outstanding professional" award.

With the theme, "Controlling Drug Abuse," Idaho's Health Association concludes its three-day meeting today.

Senator speaks

JIM CHRISTY, Buhl, visits with Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, Thursday night following the Senator's speech at a dinner sponsored by the Twin Falls Mental Health Association. Sen. Church spoke on problems of the elderly.

Cassia plans told

BURLEY — A film was viewed and plans announced for the annual meeting during the breakfast meeting of the Cassia County Red Cross Chapter Thursday.

William McGill, chapter president, conducted the business session. McGill gave a report on the National Red Cross Convention he attended at San Francisco, Calif. There were some 4,000 delegates at the convention. The principal problem discussed at the convention was fund raising.

It was announced a water safety course will be taught June 12 at the Twin Falls swimming pool.

The Cassia County Red Cross chapter annual meeting will be at 10:30 a.m. June 20 at the Ponderosa Inn. Directors will be elected at that time and the directors will in turn elect officers.

Appointed to serve on the nominating committee were Ormand Burch, Mrs. Dorothy Kunau and Mrs. Jean King. Annual meeting arrangements will be under the direction of Mrs. Joyce Rucker.

It was announced the home nursing instructor's course will begin June 6 at Cassia County courthouse

TF teenager injured

TWIN FALLS — A Twin Falls teenager escaped with only minor injuries Thursday night when her bicycle and a pickup truck collided.

Twin Falls Police said the accident occurred at 9:20 p.m. in the 200 block of Addison Avenue West.

They said Carol Adamson, 16, was riding her bicycle on the sidewalk, traveling west, when a pickup truck driven by Jerry L. Clark, 31, Twin Falls, attempted to pull into a driveway and the two collided.

Police said Miss Adamson was unable to avoid the accident because the brakes on her bicycle were not operating.

Gem audit shows unequal tax plan

POCATELLO (UPI) — The State Tax Commission, lacking standard employee guidelines and adequate audit capability, has been "unable to treat all Idaho taxpayers in an equitable and uniform manner," according to a legislative audit.

Reporting to the budget and fiscal committee today, Legislative Auditor James Defenbach said an inadequate legal capability results in "unequal tax compromises" with corporations paying varying percentages of their tax assessment ranging from zero to 100 per cent.

Specific problems and their results cited by Defenbach in the comprehensive fiscal, operational, compliance and performance audit included:

"An apparent policy of settling disputes out of court — coupled with a legal staff shortage and lack of guidelines — which may have accounted for write-offs of over $2 million in corporate taxes assessed during the 18 month period ending Dec. 31, 1970. The audit suggested court settlement of disputed interpretation of law to ensure uniform treatment for all taxpayers.

— An "undue slowness" in processing tax reforms which meant in 1971 payment of over $14,300 by state in interest.

— Lack of proper use of computer capabilities at a possible loss of $200,000 per year because of lack of comparison of federal and state returns.

An adequate audit resulting in audits of only 17 sales tax accounts since inception of the tax in 1965. The report said only two per cent of Idaho sales tax accounts are audited each year by the five full time and 10 part time auditors servicing over 21,000 vendors.

— An apparent lack of prosecution of claims believed to be fraudulent.

— A lack of field audits in most taxable areas due to lack of personnel, travel moneys and other factors. The audit said cigarette tax losses could be as much as $30,000 per month.

— An apparent ineffectiveness in the collection process. The audit said there could be as much as $750,000 in delinquent taxes.

Many of the problems were attributed to the lack of internal controls and policies, levels of funding, and statutory provisions which bind the commission to some unnecessary policies and procedures.

Demo trio raps federal program

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Three Democratic senators said Thursday the federal government may be a "leading offender in applying pressure tactics" to force older workers into early retirement at reduced pensions.

The trio said this money-saving device works a particular hardship on middle-aged personnel forced out of their jobs since they often cannot find new ones and federal training programs "are frequently off limits" to persons 45 or older.

The indictment came in a preface written by Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, Jennings Randolph, D-W. Va., and Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., to a report prepared for the Senate Special Committee on Aging.

Church is chairman of the committee and Randolph and Mondale chair two of its subcommittees.

"Unfortunately, there is very disturbing evidence to suggest that the federal government — which it seems clear, ought to be a model employer — may be a leading offender in applying pressure tactics to coerce older employees to retire at an early age," the senators wrote.

"Instead of seeking more effective alternatives, the federal government may be adding to the growing unemployment problem which our nation is painfully seeking to reduce."

The report was prepared at the committee's request by Elizabeth M. Heidbreder, an economist with the National Council on Aging.

Gem nursing home can't meet rating

SILVERTON, Idaho (UPI) — Shoshone County Nursing Home, constructed in 1916 and with a present-day patient load of 89, has been notified that as of July 1 federal Medicaid funding will be terminated because the building does not meet present day standards.

The State Department of Public Assistance informed Chuck Eastman, administrator, that there are eleven noncorrectable violations of the Federal Safety Code of 1967 within the home.

It is not a matter of cleanliness. The building primarily is constructed of brick and has a wooden frame, which is taboo under the new standards.

World oil

TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — World output of crude oil rose by 3.2 per cent in the first two months of 1972, to an average 49.7 million barrels a day, oil industry sources report. U.S. output fell 3.6 per cent in the same period.

Church was asked by KID-TV to respond to a statement from Idaho Republican State Chairman Marjorie Miner, Wallace, who alleged the senator made one statement to the national news media and another to his colleagues in the Senate.

Church said his statement was that Nixon had eased the peace terms "but when I said that he had eased the terms I did not endorse all the particulars of those terms."

"I said I thought Hanoi would be well advised to accept them," Church said. "But we have to face the fact that an internationally supervised cease-fire has never been acceptable to Hanoi and it's less likely to be acceptable now when the battle is going well for Hanoi in South Vietnam."

Church talks on Vietnam

IDAHO FALLS (UPI) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said Thursday he had maintained a consistent position regarding recent developments in the war in Vietnam.

Church was asked by KID-TV to respond to a statement from Idaho Republican State Chairman Marjorie Miner, Wallace, who alleged the senator made one statement to the national news media and another to his colleagues in the Senate.

Church said his statement was that Nixon had eased the peace terms "but when I said that he had eased the terms I did not endorse all the particulars of those terms."

"I said I thought Hanoi would be well advised to accept them," Church said. "But we have to face the fact that an internationally supervised cease-fire has never been acceptable to Hanoi and it's less likely to be acceptable now when the battle is going well for Hanoi in South Vietnam."

New region commission

IDAHO FALLS (UPI) — The states of Idaho, Washington and Oregon have been designated by the U. S. Commerce Department as the Pacific Northwest Economic Development Region.

The new region commission is one of several throughout the nation being formed for planning purposes.

GOP aides seek re-election

BOISE (UPI) — Three Republican legislators from Boise Thursday announced they would seek re-election to the Idaho House of Representatives.

They include: H. Fred Koch, Senior County legislator from District 17; Rudy Anderson, District 18, and Jack Kenneville, District 18.

Anderson has been chairman of the House Health and Welfare

Committee for three years, and also serves on the Judiciary and Rules and Transportation Committees.

Koch is chairman of the House State Affairs Committee and is a member of the Local Government committee. He is also an elected member of the Legislative Council, and is serving on interim committees on workman's rehabilitation and on the Finance of Public Education.

Candidate challenges Jaycees

McCALL, Idaho (UPI) — A candidate for congress has challenged the Jaycees here to start a national project for a constitutional amendment limiting the terms of senators and representatives to 12 years.

Steve Symms told the group Thursday that a major reason for the rapid growth of power in Washington is the long terms of many senators and representatives, coupled with the seniority system.

He said it was necessary to limit the terms of the president of the United States, and it is equally important to limit the terms of senators and representatives.

Bill Foster, original director of "Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In" for NBC, will resume that post for the 1972-73 season.

Hoss also dies

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Hoss Cartwright, the amiable bear of a cowboy who gave the television series "Bonanza" much of its flavor and success, will die off screen, with the man who played him.

The series producers have been trying to decide what to do with the Hoss character since actor Dan Blocker died May 13 of a blood clot on the lung. They doubted another actor could assume the role, which had become so deeply identified with Blocker in the public mind.

In the first show next fall, the Ponderosa Ranch family will refer to the death of Hoss, the producers said Wednesday.

Aides to confer on agency fund

BOISE (UPI) — A deputy attorney general will confer with the fiscal agent for Idaho's water pollution control fund bonds to determine whether Idaho should seek a legal opinion from another counsel on a 1972 statute authorizing refunding of $1.5 million of the bonds.

The 1972 Legislature authorized State Treasurer Marjorie Ruth Moon to, in effect, pay off bonds issued in 1970 at a 6.65 per cent rate of interest and sell new bonds at a lower rate of interest, possibly 4.5 or 5 per cent.

Miss Moon said the move could result in quite a savings to the taxpayers over the 20-year life of the 1970 bond.

Crash hurts two women

JEROME — A two-car collision in Jerome this morning resulted in minor injuries to two young women.

Jerome Police said cars driven by Phyllis M. Critser, 37, and Barbara Hart, 17, collided at Fourth Street and Fillmore Street. Miss Hart and Rosalie Casper, 18, Jerome, both received minor injuries but were not hospitalized.

Racing scheme divulged to committee

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House Select Committee on Crime was told Thursday that organized crime developed a scheme to race fast horses under the names of slower thoroughbreds.

Paul Berube, a special investigator for the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau, testified that the FBI and a federal grand jury are investigating, and "it's my expectation that indictments will follow."

Berube said that at 12 tracks in nine states between November 1970 and March 1972, six horses of superior racing ability were found to have raced using the names of 12 different horses, winning at least 14 of 41 races.

He said the incentive came not only at the race track betting window but also in off-track killings that could be made on bets placed with bookmakers. The horses with the slow names would return high profit because the odds against them winning would be high.

"It's my opinion that organized crime is definitely involved and perhaps financing the whole operation," he said. Berube said the horses were raced at: Hazel Park, Mich.; Rockingham Park, N. H.; Garden State, N.J.; Suffolk Downs, Mass.; Narragansett, R. I.; Atlantic City, N. J.; Md.; Florida Downs; Liberty Bowie, Laurel and Pimlico, Belts, Pa.; and Delaware Park.

4-H club has meet

OAKLEY — The Spoons and Needles 4-H Club held its meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. LaRue Burch.

Chris Hendrickson gave a demonstration on how to make pudding. The members learned about cleaning up the kitchen after making an item and what equipment to use.

Christine Hendrickson opened the meeting by leading the pledge to the flag and the 4-H pledge.

Tot class receives diplomas

TWIN FALLS — Diplomas were presented to 37 children Wednesday night who completed the kindergarten taught by Mrs. Dorothea Shorthouse.

The children presented songs and rhymes for parents and friends at the Washington School auditorium.

Prizes were presented to Peter Ogden and Scott Marshall for outstanding work in the book report program.

Citizens attend conclave

KIMBERLY — Mrs. Ruth Mitchell, coordinator for the Ageless Senior Citizens organization, reports that several members from Kimberly, Hansen and Murtaugh attended a statewide meeting in Boise Wednesday.

Mrs. W. T. Howard, Mrs. Leona Gooch, Mrs. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Hanes, Mrs. Arthur Addison, Mrs. Loren Bolton and Mrs. Wall all attended.

The organization has been forming during the past few months, to meet the problems of the aging. The main service will be in recreation and helping with transportation.

Carey sets dedication

CAREY — Dedication ceremonies will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday for the new Carey LDS Chapel.

The ceremonies will be a part of the Blaine Stake Conference being held this weekend.

President Harold R. Boyer, Salt Lake City, regional representative of the Quorum of the 12, will dedicate the structure.

The chapel, which cost $441,000, was built by Ellsworth Construction Co., Blackfoot, and designed by CTA Architects, Engineers and Planners, Twin Falls.

Included in the chapel facilities are 16 teaching stations for Sunday school use. The facility will seat 320 persons normally and 900, when combined with the recreation hall.

The building is entirely paid for, according to second counsel Millard Meanea. The bishop is Verd Murdock and Alton Patterson is first counselor.

Oral J. Stewart, Carey, stake president, will preside over the ceremony dedication, the recently completed facility. Groundbreaking ceremonies for the building were held April 15, 1971.

A priesthood meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Saturday and the stake conference general session is scheduled for 10 a.m. Saturday.

Snowshoe priest

JACK E. ANDERSON, a metal sculptor, webs a 26-foot snowshoe with brass tubing for a 35-foot-tall statue of the Snowshoe priest, Bishop Frederic Baraga, which will be erected about June 1 near L'Anse, Mich. The statue will stand on a cloud of brass coated with silver overlay, supported by five laminated wood beams rising from concrete teepees, representing Baraga's five major missions. (UPI)

Kimberly WSCS slates mystery daughter fete

KIMBERLY — The Kimberly Women's Society of Christian Service plans a "Mystery Daughter" banquet at 7 p.m. June 14 at United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Grace Durk, Mrs. Grace McFarland and Mrs. Lavilla Legg are in charge of menu committee; Mrs. John Nelson, Mrs. Ron Ballard and Mrs. Delbert Remaley, program; Mrs. Don Kilborn, Mrs. Eugene Krueger, Mrs. Kenneth Eiersen and Mrs. Marion Wall, decorations; Mrs. Hugh Sanderson, Mrs. Kenneth Naylor and Mrs. Willard Webster, serving.

At the last meeting Mrs. Ralph Nelson discussed the School of Missions to be held at CSI July 19-21. The society discussed the possibility of paying expenses for any girls who qualify, who may wish to go, and paying registration fees for delegates. It was also decided to purchase three sets of study books to be used by those attending.

Mrs. Nelson also reported on the district officers' meeting held recently at her home with several southern Idaho area women represented. A new constitution has been adopted for the United Methodist Women, a name which the WSCS has adopted to be in use nationwide by 1973.

It was decided the Browse 'n Buy store will open June 2 with a cooked food sale in addition to the clothing and other items at the old Idaho Power building in Kimberly. Co-chairmen for the Browse 'n Buy project this year will be Mrs. Mabel Helton and Mrs. Hugh Sanderson. The store will be open Mondays and Fridays from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m.

The group is responsible for cookies and punch for the Bible School this week. Mrs. John Nelson is superintendent of the Bible School. Mrs. Ron Ballard will have charge of the refreshments.

Mrs. W. C. Klutz gave a report for the five members who attended a recent "Leadership Development" meeting at the Twin Falls Methodist Church.

Missionary pair speaks at Filer

FILER — The Naomi Circle of the Filer First Baptist Church hosted the salad luncheon at the church.

Guest speaker was Edward R. Rupprecht and his wife and young son. They showed films of the Bible translation work they do in Nigeria, and also showed pictures of their wedding which took place in that country.

Rupprecht has been in Nigeria since 1965 under the Missouri Synod Lutheran board. He stated that all the evangelical churches of Nigeria are pastored by nationals. Americans are not always accepted in the country unless they are willing to live among them and become one of them, the speaker noted.

The Rupprechts are accepted in the community where they live and belong to a young married group and participate in community events. They will return to Nigeria in a short time.

Mrs. Gene Kuvár presided at the meeting. Mrs. Ray Rutherford, former White Cross chairman, gave her report. Members were urged to attend the women's conference in Cathedral Pines July 6-8.

The group will not meet during the summer months and in the fall the meetings will be held on Friday afternoons instead of Thursdays as in the past.

The Judson Circle will meet at 8 p.m. June 12 at the home of Mrs. Stanley Melton with a hobby show to be featured during the meeting.

The Naomi Circle will meet at noon June 15 at the home of Mrs. Elza Prough for a potluck luncheon.

Episcopalians to honor youth

TWIN FALLS — Youth Service will be a folk Mass, Sunday will be observed at the Episcopal Church of the Ascension, with the 10 a.m. service to be conducted by members of the Episcopal Young Churchmen.

Ann Turner, E. Y. C. president, will preach the sermon. Other young people taking part will be Scott Roberts, K. T. Waegelin, Andy Inkley, Mary Allen, Nancy Wonderlich and Bruce Stradley.

The E. Y. C. will hold a "moving-up" party for the incoming members tonight (Friday) at the home of the advisers, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Marshall. III. The party is for all those who will be attending high school next year.

Paint party

FILER — The junior High Sunday School class of the First Baptist Church held a painting party followed by a pizza supper at the church.

The group painted the class room at the church in colors of hot pink and purple. Mrs. Lauren Butts, teacher, baked the pizzas.

400 attend lamb cooking demonstration in Burley

BURLEY — The "Adventures in Lamb Cookery" was attended by over 400 women Wednesday at the Ponderosa Inn.

The event was highlighted by Felix Gonzalez and Bill McCrary, both chefs from Ketchum, and Glen Coffey, Burley, preparing main dishes of lamb.

Felix prepared "Butterflied Leg of Lamb Barbecue" and "Leg of Lamb in Aspic." Bill prepared "Rack of Lamb Christiana, with Fresh Vegetables" and "Crown Roast of Lamb."

Chef Coffey prepared "Lamb Shanks Coffee," Fran Hopper, consumer consultant for Intermountain Gas Co., Boise, prepared "French Lamb Chops En Brochette" and then was assisted by Chef Coffey in preparing "Flaming Shashlik."

Charlotte Sandifer, food technician for J.R. Simplot, Caldwell, prepared "Lamb Bake" and Juliette Sour Cream Fries and Pecan Crescents.

The lamb demonstration in cooking was hosted by Idaho Sheep Growers Auxiliary, Intermountain Gas Co., South Idaho Press, J. R. Simplot, Co., The Ponderosa Inn and Cal Gas Co.

Refreshments of cookies and punch were served as the women registered. Each person attending was given a folder that contained all the nine dishes prepared in the afternoon. Also each received a booklet titled "Patio Cooking With Today's New Lamb."

The Twin Falls High School class of home economics was in attendance with its instructor.

All of the dishes of lamb prepared in the afternoon were given away as door prizes. Other door prizes given away were lamb pelts, dutch ovens, hard back cookbooks, potato products, a one gallon instant hot water heater, gift certificates for groceries, a variety of spices, dinners and the floral arrangements in the shape of a lamb.

The welcome was given by Mrs. Larry Garro, Rupert, president of the Idaho Wool Growers Auxiliary. Timer was Mrs. Pat Powell who also assisted Mrs. Norma Rich in arrangements.

TF miss, McDonald exchange promise

TWIN FALLS — Betty Grose and Lon Cooper McDonald were married in rites May 13 at the First Baptist Church, Twin Falls, with Rev. Robert Schreckenberg officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Arlene Grose, Twin Falls, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Hildred McDonald, Castro Valley, Calif.

The bride wore a Bridal Original gown of pearled and scalloped nylon. Chantilly French lace outlined the transparent bodice, the long sleeves and accented the chapel train of the organza gown.

A pearl-trimmed Venice lace half hat held her three-tiered elbow-length veil of English nylon illusion. She carried a cascading bouquet of yellow and white pompons, daisies, baby's breath and white roses.

The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, Guy Fairbanks.

Kathy Grose, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Bonnie Dodge, Twin Falls, and Connie Hartmen, Nampa.

Stephen McConnell, Portland, Ore., brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man. Other attendants were Dennis Sullivan, and Carl Christensen, both Caldwell.

Jeffrey Henry, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

Rilla Rider played the wedding music and accompanied Clair Loosle, Idaho Falls, cousin-of-the-bride, soloist.

The couple was honored at a reception after the ceremony.

The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with a three-tiered cake. The cake was topped with flowers similar to the bride's bouquet. Daisies trimmed the edges. Arrangements of lighted white tapers and daisies flanked the square cake.

Guest tables were covered with white lace and centered with cherub vases, filled with daisies.

Lennie Schmucker was in charge of the guest book and Bobbie Henry cared for the gifts.

Cake and punch were served by Shirley Crumrine and Colleen Henry, sisters of the bride, and Ruth Areola and Lois Budd, aunts of the bride.

The women of the church assisted with kitchen arrangements for the reception.

Guests attended from Portland, Ore.; California, Boise, Caldwell Idaho Falls, Nampa, Twin Falls and other Magic Valley towns.

The bride and bridegroom are graduates of the College of Idaho, Caldwell. After a wedding trip to Southern California they will reside at Castro Valley, Calif.

The elimination play is one of the nicest to teach. It usually is rather difficult, but pupils just love to see how it works. Today's hand is given to advanced pupils by Barbara Brier of Miami.

Barbara currently holds the world's mixed pair championship with Walde-mar von Zedtwitz.

Hearts are led three times. South ruffs high and pulls trumps with two leads. This sets the stage for a simple elimination play. The ace and king of clubs are played and the last club is ruffed, as is dummy's last heart.

playing low and sticking East in. Unfortunately for this plan, if West just plays the eight spot, East will be able to play the four and won't be in trouble.

It is up to declarer to see a better way to force East to lead a diamond.

The play goes just the same until the last heart is led. At this point, instead of ruffing, South discards a diamond. East is on lead and must either lead from his king of diamonds or play his last heart to allow South to discard another diamond while ruffing in dummy.

Wouldn't South look silly if West showed up with the diamond king? Yes he would, but East really needed that king for his opening bid.

news about the people you know Valley Living

DEAR ABBY: I have to take issue with your advice to parents who wanted to know if they had the right to snoop into their children's belongings to discover if they were using drugs. You said this was a case in which invasion of privacy was justified, and parents had the right to use "whatever means possible" to find out what their children were doing. Abby, now I'm convinced that you are not qualified to give advice on drugs; in fact, your column is beginning to show the characteristics of Gestapo police.

I am a college student who uses drugs, and as a citizen of this country, I have as much right to privacy as the next person. It is my life and my body, and I will do what I like with them.

Wise up, Abby. Talk to some users. Find out where it's really at, and stop encouraging kids to fink on each other. Someday the soft drugs will be legal and then a lot of us will breathe easier, just as people did after prohibition.

SICK OF HASSLES

DEAR SICK: So it's "soft drugs" you want to legalize? Who's to decide which drugs are "soft" and which are "hard"? You? If you then disagree on which drugs should be legal, will you still assert your "right of privacy" to use illegal drugs?

The legalization of some drugs as "controlled substances" may be on the way, and should be. But until it arrives, I'll continue to counsel obedience of the law as it stands, along with reasonable surveillance of the young in their use.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I (married for 12 years) have two children, and we finally managed to take a vacation alone (no kids) for the first time since our marriage.

We arranged to have a nice young married couple move into our home in our absence to look after our children.

When my parents saw us off at the airport, my mother asked, "Did you make a will in case something happens to you?" I really was shook up, Abby. Of course we didn't make a will.

I realize it is a possibility, but the point I am trying to get across is that nothing happened to us, but that remark of my mother's was on my mind the whole time, and it spoiled my vacation.

I ask you, wasn't that a lousy thing for her to have done?

DEAR STILL: Her timing was "lousy." But her suggestion was a good one.

DEAR ABBY: My son works long hours daily and when gift-giving time comes along, he asks me if I will please shop for a gift to give his wife.

I do not mind shopping, altho it is not easy for me, but no matter what I select, my son's wife always takes it back and exchanges it for something else. I know her size, but it seems I can never choose a color or style she likes well enough to keep it.

Since I have yet to select a gift that she has kept, I feel I am wasting my time to buy gifts for her.

I once told my son that perhaps he ought to just give her the money and let her buy what she wants, but he said she did not like to receive money as a gift because it was so crass, and lacking in warmth and sentiment.

Have you any suggestions?

DEAR SHOPPING: If it's "warmth" and sentiment the lady likes, tell your son to send her a warm, sentimental card. And if money is too crass, how about a gift certificate?

DEAR ABBY: For pity's sake, please tell "Hard of Hearing" to stop cupping her ear with her hand and asking people to please speak up. Tell her to study lipreading instead!

I learned lipreading out of a book recommended by the Volta Bureau of Washington, D. C., after suffering a complete loss of hearing. I haven't heard a thing for 13 years, yet people who have known me a long time find it difficult to believe.

Last year I flew to Alaska and back unaccompanied. Of course, I always inform the airlines personnel of my handicap and they graciously look after me.

California primary slugging grows

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Hubert H. Humphrey, fighting to survive as a contender for the Democratic presidential nomination, reluctantly has shed his "nice guy" image to slug it out with old friend George S. McGovern in the California primary.

McGovern indicated he was ready to play the same game. Pressed by his frustrated campaign aides and admittedly feeling an uphill fight, Humphrey for the first time has made the South Dakota senator the campaign target, sharply criticizing McGovern's proposed welfare reforms and $32.4 billion cut in the defense budget over three years.

At two luncheon sessions in Orange County Thursday, including a $30-a-plate hot dog and potato salad fund raiser, Humphrey warned that McGovern's drastic cuts in the military budget would be "dangerous to our national self interest," would create massive unemployment, and could "lead to disaster."

He repeated the charge later in San Francisco.

Humphrey said he did not consider his attacks on McGovern's record "personal." But he added that the possibility he was providing ammunition for the Republicans to use against the Democratic nominee in the fall election "is a risk and one that weighs heavily on me. I have been very sensitive to this."

At the same time, McGovern, also campaigning in the populous southern part of the state, told a news conference in San Diego that it was "the most outrageous nonsense and demonstration of gall that I think I've seen" for Humphrey to claim their records on the Vietnam War are identical.

He charged that Humphrey, from the time he became vice president in 1965 until the latter part of his 1968 presidential campaign, was a supporter of the Johnson administration's war policies.

"If I wanted to really go on the offensive I could read statements of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey until the end of June on his support for our military involvement in Southeast Asia," Their increasingly acrimonious exchanges increased interest in the three nationally televised debates which will be held before the June 6 primary, in which 271 delegate votes are at stake. The first debate is Sunday.

Los Angeles Mayor Sam Yorty, also on the ballot as a presidential candidate, accused both Humphrey and McGovern of trying to "buy the votes of the people of California by deception" with huge outlays of money and misleading statements.

Yorty accused McGovern of trying to "pull a hoax on people" in describing his long opposition to the Vietnam War and charged that Humphrey was trying to attract aerospace labor votes by campaigning on his vote to provide a $200 million loan guarantee to the Lockheed Corp., without mentioning his vote against the supersonic transport (SST).

McGovern also ran into severe criticism from a new quarter, Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter, who accused him of picking up delegate votes in nonprimary states by relying on technical selections rules in states where he has no support.

Carter charged that McGovern, who as chairman of the party's reform commission helped write the procedures for delegate selection, was putting his expertise to use in New York, Tennessee, North Carolina and other states where he has "little or no voter support."

Florida's population increased 2,119.3 per cent during the past 100 years, compared with a nationwide increase of 304.8 per cent.

Angela's trial in recess

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI) — Angela Davis' murder-kidnap conspiracy trial was in recess today while attorneys for both sides prepared for next week's final arguments to the all-white jury.

Judge Richard E. Arrason met with defense and prosecution attorneys in his chambers Thursday to lay the groundwork for the closing procedures.

Miss Davis' defense team rested its case Wednesday after only three days of testimony by 11 witnesses. The prosecutor, Albert W. Harris Jr., presented 95 witnesses and 200 pieces of evidence in weaving a circumstantial case to support charges that the black militant helped plot the Marin County courthouse kidnappings of 1970.

All that remains when the trial enters its 14th week Tuesday are rebuttal, final arguments and instructions from the judge to the panel of seven women and five men.

Harris said he had not yet decided whether to present rebuttal witnesses Tuesday. Rebuttal testimony had been scheduled for today but the session was canceled after Harris said a witness he might present would not be available until Tuesday.

Miss Davis, 28, a former UCLA philosophy instructor and avowed Communist, made the defense's opening arguments in the case, but it had not been decided by her attorneys if she would make the closing statement.

Coalition attacking no-bus law

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A coalition of civil rights groups has opened a drive to kill Senate-passed antibusing legislation. One leader called it part of the greatest threat to equality since the end of Reconstruction.

Representatives of the 127 groups which make up the National Leadership Conference on Civil Rights held an emergency meeting in New York City Thursday night to head off in the House the bill which the Senate passed 63 to 15 earlier this week.

Roy Wilkins, chairman of the conference, said he and other rights leaders feared the enactment of any form of suppression of busing would set precedents which might lead to erosion of other constitutional rights.

Shultz

Tighter control pledged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — George P. Shultz, who is moving closer to confirmation as Treasury secretary, says the administration will try to tighten control of the budget now that the economic picture is brightening.

Shultz, President Nixon's selection to succeed John B. Connally who has resigned, underwent two hours of questioning Thursday before winning unanimous endorsement of the Senate Finance Committee. His appointment is expected to gain easy confirmation in the Senate.

"We're going to exercise discipline on budgetary matters. The testing time is here, right now," he told the panel in response to generally friendly questioning. "Before we say anything about the need for higher taxes, we have to do everything we can to keep expenditures under control."

Other issues, Shultz said: A tariff system would be a fairer way of regulating oil imports to the United States than the present quota system. Tax reform should be high on the administration's priority list next year.

GM recalls 22,000

DETROIT (UPI) — General Motors Corp. is recalling about 22,000 current-model Buicks and Oldsmobiles with possible steering linkage defects which could make it impossible to steer.

GM said that while there have been no reports of this actually happening, it would be "most apt to occur during low speed cornering or in parking type maneuvers where steering system loads are the highest."

Gem Demo meet may attract top candidates

HAILEY — Two and possibly three presidential candidates will attend the Idaho State Democratic Convention scheduled for mid-June in Sun Valley.

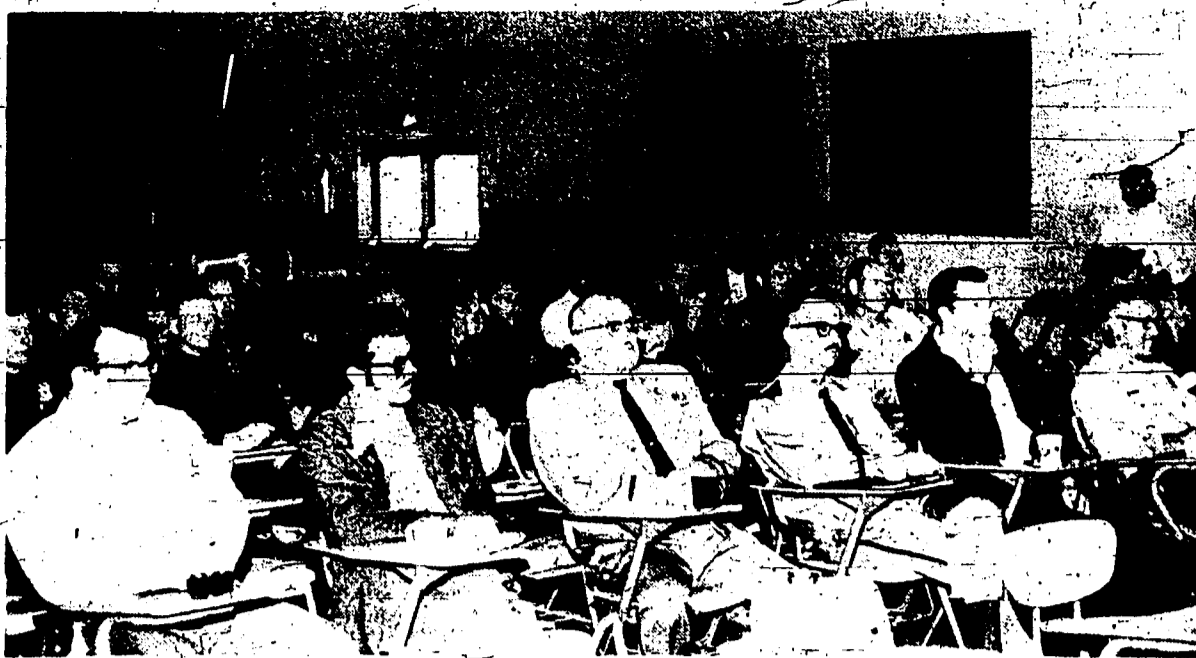

Blaine County Central Committee chairman and assembly chairman for the convention, Ms. Betty Lavery, said Cong. Shirley Chisholm, N.Y., and Gov. Terry Sanford, N.C., have said they will attend.

State Democratic Chairman Joe McCarter, Corral, has received word from a Hubert Humphrey aide that the candidate may come for the state presidential caucuses conducted during the convention, Ms. Lavery said.

The convention is scheduled for June 15-17. The assembly chairman also said Sen. Frank Church will deliver a major address at the Saturday night banquet during the convention, after a no-host reception for Gov. Cecil Andrus.

Volunteers who wish to help with the convention may call Ronda Hunt, Carey legislative district chairman or Betty Lavery, Ketchum district chairman.

THREE FBI AGENTS and Magic Valley Law enforcement officers met Thursday at the National Guard Armory in Twin Falls to discuss protection for policemen against attack.

Andrus will name Blaine County aide

HAILEY — Gov. Cecil Andrus will make an interim appointment to fill the vacant district 2 Blaine County Commission seat by June 1.

The move was necessitated by the death last week of John Fox, Hailey, a Republican. The Blaine County Democratic Central Committee recommended Fox's successor to the governor during a meeting Thursday night in Hailey.

The committee chairman, Ms. Betty Lavery, said the submitted name will not be disclosed at this time, but that the governor has promised to act on the appointment before June 1.

Under vacancy procedure, the governor in power requests the representatives of his party in the county to recommend a state of names for the appointment.

However, Ms. Lavery said that only one resident has expressed interest in the position.

During the meeting, Ms. Lavery said, John Fox has, in his short years, left a great legacy of accomplishment for Blaine County. It is with great sadness that we must fill this position.

District 2 includes the area from about half way between Hailey and Bellevue, north to Gulet between Hailey and Ketchum. The two-year term is up for election this fall.

In other action, the central committee submitted a group of names to the governor for a planned Blaine County Council of Public Assistance.

The committee also paid tribute to Betty McDonald, a long-time county Democratic leader who died recently. Ms. Lavery said, "Her excellent work and effort on behalf of the Democratic Party does not go unnoticed. She will be missed."

A donation was made in her honor to the Blaine County museum for use in the facility's political displays.

Campgrounds reported muddy

TWIN FALLS — Campers planning to head for mountain campgrounds in the Sawtooth National Forest will find snow and muddy conditions in nearly all higher elevations.

A campground report from the Sawtooth National Forest this morning indicates Red Fish Lake will be open, contrary to earlier plans. Only the Point Campground at Redfish Lake is closed.

In the Hailey area only Claredon Hot Springs and Bridge Campgrounds are open.

North of Ketchum only Easley and Wood River campgrounds are open. Dollar Hide Summit is closed as are Baker Creek, Alturas Lake, campgrounds below Galena Summit. All roads and trails above

7,000 feet are closed. Fleck's Summit is closed. Baumgartner Campground is open.

Several campgrounds around Stanley and on the Salmon River are open but only the first campground at Stanley Lake is accessible.

Fee charges are being made in the Stanley area only.

In the South Hills, no campgrounds are open above Harrington Fork in Rock Creek Canyon and near Burley, all campgrounds south of Burley are closed by snow. The Oakley to Rogerson road is closed.

Several campgrounds are open in the Malta area and fishing is fair to good, but higher streams are muddy and fast.

Deadline given at Jerome

JEROME — Jerome City Clerk Mrs. Bruce Bragg said Thursday that the deadline for registration in the June 6 municipal election is 9 p.m. June 3.

Mrs. Bragg said to be eligible to vote in the election persons must be registered or have voted in the last city election.

Those eligible to register must be at least 18 years of age, a citizen of the U.S., a resident of the state for six months and a resident of Jerome for at least three months prior to the election.

Registration is at the city hall where absentee ballots may also be obtained, Mrs. Bragg said.

For those unable to go to city hall during regular office hours they may contact Mrs. Bragg at her home or Maxine Buck, deputy registrar, also at her home, to register.

The June 6 election is being held because Fifth District Judge Theron Ward ordered a special recall election be held against two city councilmen, Elwin Tinker and Walter Bentzinger. Running against the councilmen are John Hosman and Cecil Moore Jr.

Wendell man asks position

JEROME — James Yost, 24, Wendell, announced Thursday night he will seek the Republican nomination for the state senate.

Yost spoke briefly to members of the Republican Legislative District 23, and asked for their support in the coming primary election. The legislative district Republicans met Thursday night to select three delegates and three alternates from Camas, Lincoln and Jerome counties who will attend the state convention in Boise.

The delegates and alternates selected are uncommitted. Yost said following the meeting he is seeking the senate seat because he feels he can improve significantly the representation of Gooding County.

He said improvement is needed in the educational system including special education for handicapped children. Yost was born in Rupert, attended Valley High School until 1964 when he moved to Wendell and graduated from high school there. He attended the College of Southern Idaho and received a bachelor's degree in secondary education at Boise State College.

While attending college in Boise, he worked parttime for the state in the division of building services and at the Idaho State School and Hospital in Nampa. He said this background will help him in his bid for office.

He owns the Creamery of the Valley Distributors, Wendell. It was brought out by Republicans attending the meeting the 18-year-old vote should not be overlooked. Definite steps were recommended to contact the young voters. It was agreed in order to hold the interest of the youth, they should be given responsible jobs in the party.

Minidoka schools end year

RUPERT — The summer of '72 was formally launched today as schools were dismissed for the year throughout Minidoka County.

Students flocked to the classrooms at the usual hour this morning only to clean out lockers and desks, bid farewell to school friends and teachers and have yearbooks signed by faculty members.

Schools showed movies and held other activities to keep the youngsters at school until the buses could run their routes for the last time. Many students, living near the schools and impatient to wait for the buses, walked home in chattering groups.

Crash probed

TWIN FALLS — The Federal Aviation Agency is investigating the possibility that alcohol was involved in a near-collision May 13 at the Twin Falls City-County Airport.

Russell Fishback, investigator with the general aviation office in Boise, said investigation is continuing into the incident.

On May 13 a private plane piloted by a Spokane, Wash., man identified by Fishback as Irvin Gushall, reportedly landed at the airport, barely missing the tail section of a Hughes Airwest DC-9 jet as it was boarding passengers. The Cessna craft reportedly taxied dangerously close to the jet.

Property tax called antique

SUN VALLEY — Property tax is an "antique" method of raising revenue, Rep. Steve Antone, R-Rupert, said here Thursday.

Speaking before the Ketchum-Sun Valley Chamber of Commerce, the Rupert Republican discussed current legislative trends and priorities.

Antone said, solutions have to be found to the problem of funding local governments.

One bill, proposed during the last legislative session, would have provided 100 per cent state funding of school districts — essentially lowering the maximum allowable local mill levy for schools from the current 30 mills to 22 mills — he said.

The representative said the bill would have provided relief for the taxpayer, but he cautioned against loss of local control over schools.

Terminating a local sales tax an "aid" to a tourist area, Antone said, the local option could be another solution to the revenue problem. He also said a state-operated lottery may be eventually adopted.

Antone said later that e

"highly opposed" the creation of a national park in the Sawtooth region. He cited a need for a multiple-use area for farming and other required uses and said national parks have proven to be "harder on the environment than recreation areas."

In other statements, Antone voiced the need for improvements on U.S. Highway 93 and opposed the reasoning that the present condition of the roadway would discourage a larger influx of tourists. "The tourist will come no matter what the roads are like. If we can save the life of one Blaine County resident," the work will be worthwhile, he said.

described Sen. Len Jordan's efforts on work-incentive as a solution to public criticism of welfare abuses.

said he favored bi-annual budgeting of state agencies with a review every off year. Currently, Antone said the legislature is considering "a lot of trivia" while waiting for the budgets to be completed and said that a great deal of agency work is devoted to formulating yearly budgets.

Vandals destroy milk at Rupert

RUPERT — Vandals destroyed 3,500 gallons of milk at the McCombs Dairy Farm near Rupert Thursday night.

Minidoka County Sheriff Theo Johnson said someone broke into the dairy barn of the McCombs farm and opened a tap at the base of a large bulk milk storage tank. With the tap open, 3,500 gallons of milk ran down into the sewer.

Sheriff Johnson said there were nine windows broken out of the milkinghouse and several locks on the doors were broken off. A refrigerator, used to store antibiotics and other farm supplies was left open, spoiling the contents. Johnson also reported the theft of a carton of light bulbs.

The McCombs dairy operation is located at county roads 100 west and 475 south of Rupert.

Johnson said there are no leads in the case but investigation is continuing. A reward of $100 is being offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the guilty parties, the sheriff said.

Caravan slated for Filer rodeo

FILER — A caravan will tour Magic Valley Saturday to advertise the Fifth District High School Rodeo which opens Wednesday at Filer.

Lawrence Knigge, who is co-chairman of the Filer Kiwanis Club, sponsored rodeo with William Brake, said anyone who plans to be a queen contestant or perform in the rodeo is invited to participate in the caravan. They can meet at the Twin Falls County Fairgrounds at Filer at 10:30 a.m. Saturday.

About 170 students will participate in the rodeo which will have performances at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The Fifth District Queen will be crowned Saturday night prior to the rodeo and event winners and all-around cowboy and cowgirl will be named following the final performance.

The Kiwanis Club plans to put the majority of its proceeds from the rodeo into the Filer swimming pool fund.

HOPE needs items

JEROME — HOPE in Jerome is in need of blankets, sheets, pillows, bedspreads, dishes of all kinds and children's clothing as well as toys.

Migrant workers are beginning to move back into the area and the labor camp is now half full. Some migrant workers reportedly need these items.

Mock elections set for staters

BOISE (UPI) — The 350-high school seniors-elect attending American Legion Gem Boys' State this year will hold mock "city" elections on the opening day, May 28.

Cities organized for the week-long lesson in government hosted by the American Legion of Idaho are historical locations. They are Millers Camp, Elk City, Newsome, Warren, Roosevelt, Ruby City, Dempsey, Soda Springs, Mount Idaho and Spalding.

On Monday, May 29, youths will vote in county elections including state senators and representatives for counties of Nez Perce, Shoshone, Boise, Alturas and Owyhee.

Youths will attend a legislative school and will take out petitions for state office on the traditional two parties of Boys' State — the Gold and Silver parties.

The youths will hear addresses by elected state officials and Chief Justice Henry F. McQuade of the Idaho Supreme Court during campaigns for the mock state officials.

Before leaving Boise, the delegates will choose delegates for Boys' Nation.

Joslin Field said lost cause

By MELBA THORNE
Times-News Writer

SHOSHONE — Joslin Field is a lost cause, Frank A. Titus, Jerome trustee of the Regional Airport Board, told the North Side Communities meeting Thursday night in Shoshone.

Access is poor there, the roads are not too good, space is limited, and there is a wind problem, Titus said.

Participation from Twin Falls County is needed to construct the regional airport, and Twin Falls County, over a period of years, cannot alone stand the cost to provide future growth air service, according to Titus.

He announced a regional airport study by the firm International Engineers will start about June 1. Engineers will not only make a cost estimate of construction, but will select a site and make an over-all master plan, Titus said. Titus said few people from Burley and Rupert areas use Joslin Field now, instead going to Pocatello, Salt Lake City or Boise where more service is available.

In the August primaries, three trustees will be elected, one each from the three legislative districts now within the regional airport area. The present five appointed trustees will be eliminated.

Titus said he anticipated results of the engineering study, when released, will provide incentive to enlist support for a regional airport from Twin Falls citizens. The importance of Sun Valley patrons to an airport, Titus said, must be considered, as it is an important factor to airline traffic in this area.

Titus was introduced at the meeting by Merle

Hanna, Rupert. During the business meeting, community reports were given by Dr. Charles Parker and Richard Waite, both for Jerome, Ralf Lucke, reporting for Gooding and Wendell Chambers of Commerce, Claude Bowman, for Rupert, and Kenneth Blackburn and Ray Walker, both for Shoshone.

July 4 celebrations will be held in Jerome and Rupert this summer. North Side Communities, President Mrs. Harrell Thorne announced the next regular meeting will be Sept. 28 at the Manhattan Cafe, Shoshone.

Summer meetings of the Sawtooth Valley Association will be June 14 at Smiley Creek Lodge, July 12 and August 9 at Stanley Schoolhouse. Members of the North Side Communities are asked to attend one of these meetings, Mrs. Thorne said.

GRASS FIRE in the 1900 block of Fourth Avenue East Thursday singed about a quarter-acre of a vacant lot. Cause of the fire, which started at 10:50 a.m. and was out at 11:45 a.m., is not known. Twin Falls fireman Rick Giebler wets down the smoldering grass.

Heads Comes Up Oftener
Again am asked if a flipped penny is more apt to come up heads than tails. It is. Comes up heads 50.8 per cent of the time. One Professor Edward L. Spitznagel proved that. With 319,020 flips. The stamping process for the mint is such, he concludes, that the tailside is a smidgeon heavier. That's the penny only, remember.

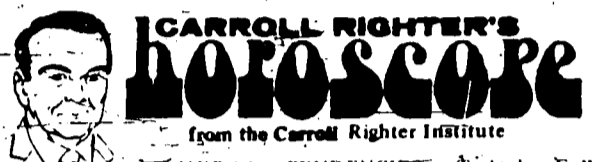

CAN YOU list all the U. S. presidents from memory? Neither can I. When pollsters asked a sizable sampling of citizens to do so, a particular seven of the chief executives repeatedly failed to turn up on the rosters. Those most forgettable men were Tyler, Polk, Taylor, Fillmore, Pierce, Buchanan, and one more, can't recall, who'd I miss?

THAT numerous insomniacs count sheep to help themselves doze off is not noteworthy. What's noteworthy is numerous sheep are insomniacs, too. Their stomachs each sheep has four don't work right in just any old position. The body has to be upright. Makes the long night's snooze difficult.

QUERIES
Q. "What proportion of the men and women in this country wear bridges or dentures?"
A. Men, 17.2 per cent. Women, 50.8 per cent.
Q. "IN Ireland, which outnumber which, the Murphys or the Kellys?"
A. The Dublin telephone directory lists six columns of Murphys, five columns of Kellys, that's all I know.
ARGUMENT continued over where in the Bible it tells a man how to wipe dishes. That's Second Kings XXI, 13: "As a man wipeth a dish, Wiping it and turning it upside down." This reference repeatedly has been quoted to wives in search of biblical proof that their husbands should help in the kitchen.
COST of a new Federal office building generally runs about 35 per cent higher than the cost of a private office building. Takes about two years for private industry to design and construct such an edifice, but about five years for the Federal government to do so. Can you explain why?

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, MAY 27, 1972

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE
from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES Today's Full Moon brings considerable activity in getting out of any rut into which you have sunk. Fine for gaining new-age ideas and also good for artistic and cultural expansion. Good for gaining the goodwill of those of different backgrounds. State views directly to others.
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Study that new idea well that can be of great help to you in the future, and bring in much-added income. A new contact has fine suggestions to make. Listen carefully and follow them quickly.
TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Your intuition is working accurately now and you should follow it for best results in whatever you are doing. Know what your most important responsibilities are and handle them diligently. Think Grow.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Be sure to cooperate with associate who has a fine new plan to put in motion and don't put a damper on it. Use a different approach in order to handle that difficult problem. Get right results.
MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Accomplish all that work as fast as you can so you free much time for whatever is more attractive. Take the time to shop for fine new items for your wardrobe. Get ready for busy days ahead.

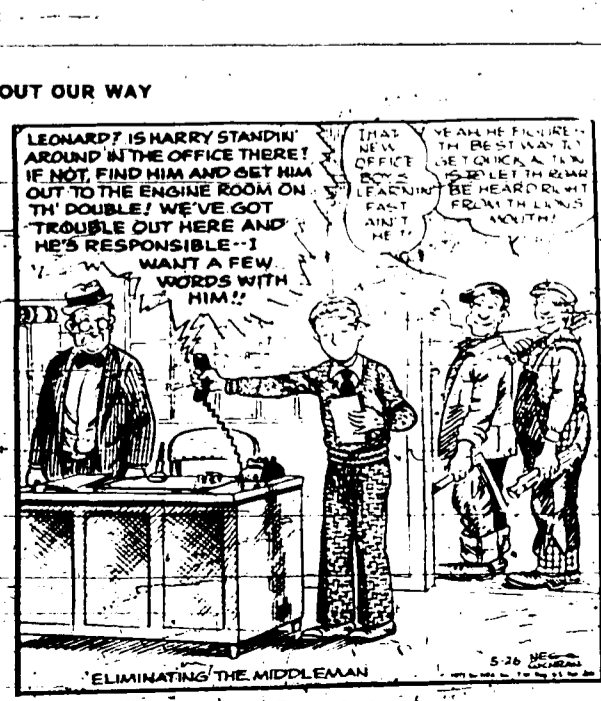

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You can get into new and interesting activities today that will please you very much. Proving your devotion to the one you love is wise. Don't take any chances that could lead to a separation.
VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) By analyzing situations at home more accurately you know how to increase harmony there and have more ideal conditions. Try to help a family tie who is bothered about something. Show kindness, understanding.
LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Shopping for the articles you really need and should have is wise today so you can become more efficient in whatever your interests are. Handle correspondence and transportation matters well, also. Think constructively.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) Organizing financial affairs well is your best bet today so you can have a much better income in the near future. Listen to what experts have to suggest. Get that new plan operating wisely.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Know what it is you want of a personal nature and then go after it in a most positive fashion. Either accept or extend invitations for happy social functions. This can lead to fine things in the future.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Certain secret affairs that have been difficult to take care of in the past should now be relatively easy for you to do. Get information you need for some new plan you have in mind. You can soon get it operating successfully.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You are able to be your fine sociable self today and during p.m., and get to know others better, understand their ideas. Show loyalty to a good pal who is full of anxiety. You can be very helpful to this person now.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Ideal day to be with persons of note and importance so you can get good advice and ideas from them. Handle some civic matter well so you improve your image with the public in general. Don't talk too much or too long with others.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be a person with many talents, but will require some discipline, and needs to be taught early to finish whatever has once been started. Otherwise there can be a jack-of-all-trades and master-of-none here instead of a fine, successful and even famous person possible. Teach not to be blurt to the point of being unkind, or others could resent your otherwise exceptional youngster. Permit to follow own religious leanings and be happy in them.
"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Coyote repellent chemical sought

LARAMIE, Wyo. (UPI)—The federal government has awarded a $36,000 grant to a University of Wyoming research team to develop chemicals which would discourage or repel coyotes from sheep.

The grant, which becomes effective June 1, was awarded by the agriculture research service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture as environmentalists and sheepmen continue to argue over predators and profits.

The project, proposed by biochemistry professor Dr. Robert J. McCulloch, dean of the graduate school, was chosen in competition over numerous proposals from other states.

"We hope to develop aversive agents which could be applied to sheep in any one of a number of ways," explained McCulloch, "the effects of which would be either to repel the coyote on first taste or give him some very bad physiological experiences which would discourage him from attacking them a second time."

McCulloch said he hoped it would be possible to use the coyote's learning ability in repelling the predator.

"If that worked, of course, there is always a possibility they could teach their pups that sheep were a bad thing," he said.

McCulloch stressed however, the theories were just that so far.

"Everybody is just shooting in the dark," he cautioned. "There is no way of telling if we're going to be successful. There has never been any money to support this work before."

He noted while UW tried to find chemical compounds which will repel coyotes by taste, a similar grant was awarded to Colorado State University researchers to seek repellents through use of odor.

McCulloch said the aversives - if developed - might be sprayed on sheep, or contained in a sheep collar or even put in tiny capsules which could be sprayed on the sheep but which would be broken to expose the chemical when bitten or crushed.

"Most of what we'll be doing is from our knowledge of compounds and how they interact to find those which are most aversive, and then testing them on live coyotes," said McCulloch. He said if certain chemicals looked promising, he hoped to continue the project "another year or two."

Grasshopper meet set at Shoshone

SHOSHONE — Control of grasshoppers on private land will be discussed at a public meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday, at the Lincoln County Courthouse.

Lincoln County Extension Agent Ivan Hopkins said Roger Pollard, Twin Falls, will be present to discuss the matter. Pollard is from the U.S. Department of Agriculture, plant protection division.

Estimates are that grasshoppers will again be a problem in the area this summer, Hopkins said.

Grange backs FB

WASHINGTON, D.C. — John W. Scott, master of the National Grange, said the Grange joins the American Farm Bureau Federation in its response to the United Farm Workers Union.

"The Grange has been consistently in favor of free elections for employees and employers to determine who shall represent them," Scott said. "However, such election should be free from coercion, intimidation or threat of economic pressure."

Scott said the UFW's campaign to discredit the Farm Bureau and initiate a boycott against iceberg lettuce "forces consumers to use their economic purchasing power to help determine a labor dispute about which they have no personal knowledge and it denies consumers the freedom of choice in their food purchases."

Northwestern fruit scarce

LEWISTON, Idaho (UPI) — "Soft fruit grown in the Pacific Northwest will be scarce this year," according to Leonard A. Lahti, this area's largest orchard owner.

Lahti said poor pollinating weather and frost damage this spring has hurt soft fruit orchards in this area.

In addition, he said, the acreage used for fruit trees has been cut sharply by the loss of the orchards along the Snake River for the flooding of Lower Granite Dam pool and the loss due to expansion of residential areas.

Lahti said crops in Utah had been wiped out and those in southwestern Idaho and the Yakima Valley of Washington had been hit hard by frost.

He said some apples and pears were saved in this area but much of the crops were damaged severely by frost in late March and April.

Lahti said cool, cloudy days since then have kept the bees home in their hives and has hindered pollinating of the trees.

The orchardist said crop damage in the area ranges from severe to a total loss of some crops.

THIMET is the recommended insecticide for controlling vectors of virus diseases

Extensive tests over many years have convinced western sugar beet companies of the economic value in controlling insect vectors with THIMET® 10-G Soil and Systemic Insecticide.

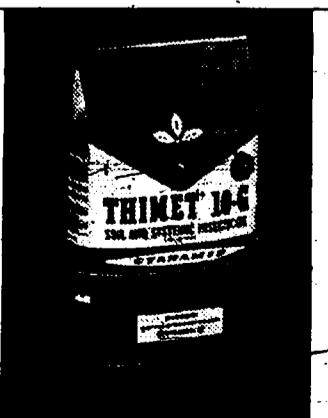

Insect populations have been reduced and sugar tonnage has increased substantially... along with sugar profits. The recommended programs are:

■ FOR CURLY TOP. Planting-time treatment with THIMET to control the beet leafhopper, carrier of curly top. Also controls aphids, leaf miners, mites and beet root maggots.

■ FOR VIRUS YELLOWS. Topical treatment with THIMET to control the green peach aphid, carrier of virus yellows.

Full details of the recommended program for your area are available from your sugar company — or your insecticide supplier. Write us for sugar beet bulletins.

Before using any pesticide, stop and read the label.

Lions at Richfield elect

RICHFIELD — New officers for the Richfield Lions Club have been announced.

They are Marvin Webb, president; Robert Ford, first vice-president; Norman Albrechtsen, second vice-president; Carl Paulson, treasurer; Charles Buttane, secretary; and Melvin Pope, tail twister and lion tamer.

The new president and his wife will be the Richfield delegates to the district Lions convention in San Valley Friday through June 4.

Bethel at Shoshone elects

SHOSHONE — New officers have been selected for Shoshone Bethel No. 61, International Order of Job's Daughters.

They include Christie Burkett, honored queen; Nancy Borden, senior princess; Coleen Jones, junior princess; Jan Coffman, guide; and Linda Webb, marshal.

Charlene Jones, retiring honored queen, presided at the meeting Wednesday night at the Masonic Temple, Shoshone, and announced officers will be installed Sunday, June 4.

Carla Hahn read a poem in tribute to Miss Jones, the retiring honored queen.

Three new members passed the proficiency test for membership.

Final plans were made for attendance at the 38th annual session of the International Order of Job's Daughters to be held June 22-24 at the Boise Masonic Temple. The session will be called "Song in the Music Box."

The mystery secret-father banquet was announced for Thursday night.

East, West German talks set

BERLIN (UPI)—East and West Germany said today they have agreed to hold talks on the normalization of relations between the two parts of the divided nation.

They said the historic talks, designed to end cold war disputes, would begin after the Big Four foreign ministers sign the four power agreement on Berlin in the city June 3.

The announcement was made at a ceremony on the signing of an East-West German transport treaty—the first such state treaty between the two rival states in the East German Cabinet Office Building in East Berlin.

East Germany at the ceremony repeated its decision to allow East Germans to visit the West for the first time since the Berlin Wall was built 11 years ago.

It said East Germans would be allowed out "on urgent family business"—family deaths, births, sickness, weddings and similar family matters. It also said West Germans would be allowed to make more visits to East Germany.

The transport agreement was signed by the two state secretaries who negotiated it—Egon Bahr of West Germany and Michael Koh of East Germany.

The treaty regulated technical transport matters. Its importance was in the fact that it was the first state treaty ever signed by the two nations and that it paved the way for the talks sought by West German Chancellor Willy Brandt on the normalization of relations between the two states.

Merry Mixer Club meets

KIMBERLY — The Merry Mixers Card club met at the home of Mrs. Stella Whitehead Wednesday night.

Mrs. Marsha Bulcher was high score winner. Mrs. Ira Hall was low. Mrs. Dale Kirkpatrick won the traveling prize. Mrs. L. V. Jones, Mrs. Anna Krueger and Mrs. Bulcher were guests.

Cooperation said key to stemming of drug abuse

SUN VALLEY — Cooperation between all drug control agencies — law enforcement, rehabilitation, and education — is the key to stemming drug abuse.

That comment was made Wednesday by Otto C. Heinecke, regional director of the federal bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs, Seattle, Wash., before a conference of the Idaho Health Association.

The regional drug situation is "quite serious," the director said.

"Right now Seattle is in the middle of a monstrous heroin trade system coming in from southeast Asia," with heroin and cocaine available in pound quantities in the city and kilo quantities for sale in Vancouver, B.C., he said.

"The stuff is moving, this way," Heinecke told the Idaho group.

Although Idaho is a progressive state Heinecke said the attitude seems to be "I am in a nice quiet community, nothing can happen to me."

The director stressed that we live in a mobile society with college students traveling from community to community and all over the world.

"The drug problem is too big, too many lives are involved," to be made with divided action, Heinecke said.

The director said recent statistics indicate that 20 million persons in the United States have used marijuana. "I don't think the answer is to put everyone in jail," he said.

However, Heinecke said that although he didn't favor legalization of marijuana, he recommended that law enforcement personnel take a longer harder look at the drug problem especially as it pertains to marijuana.

Unless law enforcement takes a realistic approach to the problem it will not receive the support of the general public," he said.

The director also urged rehabilitation-oriented agencies to work with law enforcement officials to estimate the number of addicts within each state.

"We can't deal with the problem intelligently" until the figures are known, Heinecke said.

Citing the absence of such figures in the region, the director said in 1969 a count listed only eight known addicts in Idaho.

The director cautioned rehabilitation officials to preserve the identity of undercover drug control agents.

"The duty is a dangerous hard job. These people deserve your respect provided they are honest and fair," Heinecke said.

The director also urged that college administrators to find out the extent of the drug problem on their campuses. "They owe it to their students, parents, city, county and state," he said.

Assassination

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — There will be another assassination attempt on a major Democratic candidate, according to prophetess Jeanne Dixon.

"Who it is, when or where, I cannot tell you," Mrs. Dixon told a Sacramento reporter after addressing a luncheon. She said the recent shooting of Alabama Gov. George Wallace was her prediction in 1968.

Hagerman holds 8th grade rites

HAGERMAN — Graduation services were held Wednesday evening at the Prince Memorial gymnasium for 28 eighth grade students.

The welcome was given by Lonny Tate, class president. Phil Gossai gave the valedictorian address and talks were given by Julie Aspitarte and Nancy Jones, co-salutatorians.

The class history was read by Kathy Wilson, class secretary, and Mark Bolduc read the class will. Debby Bean and Gary Hogue presented the class prophecy.

The junior high chorus and Adele Arterburn sang. The sixth and seventh grade band played the prelude, two special selections and the processional and recessional.

The invocation was offered by Juli Hafen and Lana Williams pronounced the benediction.

The diplomas were presented by Supt. Kenneth Black and Mrs. Glorienne Cortabitarte, class adviser.

Craters official named to force

ARCO (UPI) — The superintendent of the Craters of the Moon National Monument has been chosen a team captain with a task force which plans to spend six months selecting 80 million acres of Alaskan land to be set aside as "national interest lands."

Paul Fritz, who has been superintendent of the Craters since September, 1966, will leave with the task force June 4.

The Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act, authorized the setting aside of the lands for possible inclusion by Congress in national parks, forests, wildlife refuge or scenic river systems.

Father-daughter social held by Burley youths

BURLEY — The father-daughter box social was held Wednesday by Camp Fire Girls in the United Methodist Church basement.

Each Camp Fire girl prepared the box supper for herself and her father and decorated the box. Decorated box winners were Lisa Nielson, Blue Bird, Wendie Bunn, Camp Fire girls, and Connie Anderson, Discovery Club, all first place. Second place winners were Jeannette Burch and Carol Wright.

The prizes were cash certificates which can be redeemed for day camp July 13 at Camp Tawakani, or can be applied on the regular resident camping fee for one of the three weekly camps to be held July 17 through Aug 5.

Judges for the box social were Mrs. Neva Frederick and Lloyd LeClair, camp chairman, Twin Falls.

Games were played and LeClair presented a program on camping, showing slides of activities held at previous camps at Camp Tawakani.

It was pointed out that all girls are eligible to attend this camp even if they are not a member of the Camp Fire organization.

The day camp on July 13 includes activities also presented at resident camp including arts, crafts, games, lunch and hikes.

The social was held to help promote interest in Camp Tawakani, the Camp Fire camp in the South Hills. Attending the social were Bluebirds, Camp Fire Girls, and Discovery Club girls of the Burley branch of the Southwestern Idaho Council of Camp Fire Girls.

MAZDA RX-3 WAGON

The new Mazda RX-3s offer all the luxury appointments of the sedan and coupe with the versatility of 5 doors and a fold-down back seat for extra cargo area. The power of the RX-3s mean an uncanny quiet ride without vibration and because there are only three moving parts in the rotary engine, wear and maintenance are minimal. Come see why people are switching to MAZDA!

MAZDA

The new Mazda Sports Pickup is powered by an in-line 4 cylinder 1600cc overhead cam engine with a 4 speed full syn-chromesh transmission for extra rigidity and toughness, it has a heavy ladder type frame, along with the separate cab and bed.
It also offers clean styling and plenty of room. See this stylish

Joint mission

PRELIMINARY plans for joint US-Russian earth orbital mission call for three-man Apollo spacecraft (upper right) and Soviet space station (lower left) to dock and circle earth for two days. Craft are linked by coupling device in this model mockup prepared by NASA. (UPI).

Proposed street plan data may be sent soon

RUPERT Residents of the Grandview Addition may soon be sent information on a proposed street project.

The project would cost an estimated $15,000 and would upgrade streets through the addition.

According to Clark Cameron, councilman and Rupert Street commissioner, the streets in the area have insufficient base for oiling, with the exception of 18th Street.

He says the city had budgeted funds for resurfacing two Grandview area streets, but no funds had been budgeted for additional street work there.

The $15,000 estimate by Cameron was for a two-inch thick covering on a 24-foot-wide roadway through the area.

Assuming the city paid for half the improvement cost, he said, residents would have to pay from $160-180 for a typical lot.

The request for information on the project was made by about 25 residents of the subdivision who met with city officials earlier this week.

At that time they also had asked that a time limit be set for a written vote by each homeowner on the proposed

Local Improvement district that would be required to accomplish the project.

Survival name of game, Butz says

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz, in congressional testimony released Thursday, said many persons, especially young environmentalists, do not realize that Americans must upset the balance of nature in order to survive.

"Survival is the name of the game," said Butz in testimony before a House subcommittee. "If we had not upset the balance of nature we could not have 200 million Americans living in the continental United States."

Butz criticized not only "emotional" ecologists but back-to-nature advocates whom he said believe erroneously that fertilizer and pesticides produce unhealthy food.

"Before we go back to organic agriculture we will have to decide which 50 million Americans will starve," Butz told an appropriations subcommittee headed by Rep. Jamie L. Whitten, D-Miss.

Butz said farmers, despite continue research on alternatives, must continue to use substantial amounts of chemicals if Americans are to continue to eat. Whitten said the Agriculture Department has not done enough to show people they can't have it both ways. "You cannot even breathe without changing the environment," Whitten said.

Butz said he agreed that "entirely too many people" believe it is inherently wrong for man to disturb his environment or turn it to his own use.

"When these people talk about returning to nature, I want to know how far back they want to return," he testified. "The reason for much of that attitude is that two-thirds of us in America are so young we never had the experience of biting into a wormy apple, looking at the worm hole and wondering, 'Is it in there yet, or did I get him?' We think the God of nature made a nice, red, plump appetizing apple."

"God puts the worm in the apple, and man takes it out. Two-thirds are so young that we do not appreciate it. He puts the termite in the timber and parasite in the pig and man takes them out. The problem of agriculture is to convince the juicy apple only because we two-thirds of us who are under 30 that we get a nice, plump apple only because we disturb the ecology of nature."
