

N. Viet assault repulsed

SAIGON (UPI)—Some Communist troops pulled out of the Central Highlands city of Kontum today but allied officers said they may only be regrouping for another attack.

Heavy fighting was reported in several spots inside the city but government troops recaptured one Communist-held position and pounded North Vietnamese attackers point-blank with tanks and machine guns.

In the air war, the U.S. command said F4 Phantom fighter-bombers knocked out more than 30 supply warehouses and three bridges on raids in North Vietnam.

Military sources said Communist mortar rounds killed 100 soldiers and civilians early today as a government relief column tried to reach the besieged provincial capital of An Loc, 60 miles north of Saigon.

The Saigon command reported South Vietnamese forces Sunday recaptured the La San School and an orphanage occupied by the Communists during five days of bitter fighting for Kontum, a strategic provincial capital in the Central Highlands 260 miles north of Saigon. Military spokesmen said 168 Communists were killed in battles around the city.

Marine arrivals equal withdrawals

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. withdrawals countered by an equal number of Marine arrivals last week marked the first time since January, 1971, that the number of Americans in the war zone did not drop, military spokesmen said today.

The new influx of Marine fighter-bomber crews and pilots left U.S. troop strength at 64,800, spokesmen said.

The U.S. command said that a record average of 3,100 American servicemen will have to be withdrawn from South Vietnam over each of the next five weeks to meet President Nixon's orders to reduce U.S. strength in the war zone to 49,000 by June 30.

Spokesmen said it was still had been recaptured but that an orphanage 500 yards away was still held by the North Vietnamese.

Franjola said government M41 tanks and machine gunners were firing at point-blank range at North Vietnamese commandos who still clung to some sections of the city. The Communists were returning the fire with AK47 assault rifles and light machine guns.

Senior U.S. advisers said the main force of the Communist units appeared to be pulling back to the northeast. Military sources earlier in the day said the situation at Kontum "looks grim," but that was before later developments in the fighting.

U.S. B52 bombers dropped more than 1,500 tons of bombs on suspected Communist positions within two miles of Kontum late Sunday and early today. The North Vietnamese hit the city with 100 rocket and mortar rounds Sunday in concentrated attacks believed aimed at cutting South Vietnam in two.

Today's attack near An Loc pounded two government positions 3 1/2 miles south of the city on Highway 13. Military sources said the Communists fired about 1,000 mortar rounds in the three-hour shelling before dawn. Another North Vietnamese mortar attack at a government artillery base about seven miles below An Loc blew up an ammunition dump and wounded at least two South Vietnamese troops, sources said.

Rate slash postponed

TOKYO (UPI)—The Japanese government today put off for at least until Saturday a slash of interest rates designed to ward off American pressure for another revaluation of the Japanese yen. The Bank of Japan had been scheduled to lower its discount rate Tuesday from the present level of 4 1/2 per cent to 4 1/4 per cent.

The move was to be followed in July by a 0.5 per cent slash in the interest rates paid millions of Japanese on their savings deposited in banks and post offices.

Fear of public protest over the slash in bank and post office interest apparently caused the delay.

Forecast

Details, P. 9

The Postal Administration Council, which advises the government on the savings program at post offices, refused to approve reductions of interest rates paid to the general public.

Its members argued that incomes of many retired persons depended on bank and post office savings rates and that a cut in interest at a time when prices were rising might bring on an explosion of public anger.

Many Japanese deposit their savings directly with the government in post offices, rather than relying on banks. The United States formerly used the postal savings system but discarded it a few years ago.

The central bank rate, or discount rate, is the rate of interest at which the Bank of Japan makes money available to the big city banks of Tokyo to finance large industries and international trade.

It is comparable to the rediscount rate of the U.S. federal reserve bank.

Nixon, Russians sign peace vows

MOSCOW (UPI)—President Nixon and Soviet leaders crowned their Kremlin summit today by signing a 12-point pledge to "avoid military confrontations and to prevent the outbreak of nuclear war."

Soviet Communist Party Secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and President Nikolai V. Podgorny at the same time accepted an invitation to visit the United States "at a mutually convenient time."

To smiles, the sound of applause, the drinking of champagne, and handshakes, Nixon and Brezhnev put their signatures to two documents at a table in the Kremlin's Vladimir Hall.

One of the documents stated the "basic principles" of Soviet-American relations. The other was a joint communique on the eight days of historic talks, which saw the two super powers agree to nuclear arms limitations and five other pacts.

The President and his wife were flying to the Ukrainian capital of Kiev later today after formal farewells at a state reception with champagne and caviar in the Kremlin's St. George Hall.

The Nixons will leave Kiev Tuesday for Tehran, Iran, and Warsaw, Poland, on their way home to Washington.

The statement of principles in the declarations spoke of peace, but the communique disclosed the leaders' inability to narrow the gap that separates them on the issue of Vietnam. Each side reaffirmed the position it held before the summit began.

Soviet people saw the signing on live television.

The statement of principles contained 12 basic points, including one that said the two nations "attach major importance to preventing the development of situations capable of causing a dangerous exacerbation of their relations. Therefore, they will do their utmost to avoid military confrontations and to prevent the outbreak of nuclear war."

The communique said "each side set forth its respective standpoint" on Vietnam, but the views were not the same.

President Nixon's top adviser, Henry A. Kissinger, in a briefing for newsmen, said the talks on Vietnam had been "long, sometimes difficult and very detailed."

The communique also said the two sides agreed on the desirability for peace in the Middle East for the convening of a European security conference and for negotiations on reduction of forces in Europe.

The White House press secretary, Ronald L. Ziegler, said the President felt that "this was a week of major accomplishment and the President feels it has met expectations in every respect."

Major points in the declaration of principles:

—The two countries "will proceed from the common determination that in a nuclear age there is no alternative to conducting their mutual relations on the basis of peaceful coexistence. Differences in ideology and in social systems of the USA and the USSR are not obstacles to the bilateral development of normal relations based on the principles of sovereignty, equality noninterference in internal affairs and mutual advantage."

—In seeking to prevent war and confrontations "they will always exercise restraint in their mutual relations, and will be prepared to negotiate and settle differences by peaceful means. The prerequisites for maintaining and strengthening relations between the USA and the USSR are the recognition of the security interests of the parties based on the principles of equality and the renunciation of the use or threat of force."

—The USA and the USSR have a special responsibility as do other countries which are permanent members of the United Nations Security Council to do everything in their power so that conflicts or situations will not arise which would serve to increase international tensions.

The declaration also pledged the two nations to faithfully implement all the agreements between them, including those signed during the week of summit in Moscow.

They also agreed to continue exchanges of views and even to hold future summit meetings when they are necessary.

They said they will continue to negotiate on the limitation of strategic weapons, which was the major issue in their summit.

Mr. T-N says

If Russia's leaders make their return visit to the U.S. this year, they may have a chance to duck some of the verbal pre-election missiles.

US visit planned

MOSCOW (UPI)—A Soviet spokesman said today no date had been set for a trip the three chief leaders of the Soviet Union plan to make to the United States.

Leonid I. Zamyatin, an official of the Tass news agency, said the date of the trip by Party Secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and President Nikolai V. Podgorny had yet to be negotiated.

The invitation by President Nixon was announced at the final summit session. The three Russians said they had agreed to come to the United States "at a mutually convenient time."

Kosygin was the last Soviet leader to visit the United States. In 1967, he conferred with President Lyndon B. Johnson at Glassboro, N.J.

Richfield child, 2, drowns

By DIXIE DIXON
Times-News Writer
RICHFIELD — Todd Harold Newey, 2, drowned in a ditch Sunday near his home three and one-half miles north of Richfield.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Newey who moved to the Richfield area last winter.

Todd was playing with his brother Chad, age three, in the yard near the house when Chad went in the house for a few minutes. When he returned, he couldn't find his little brother.

A search by the family led members to the ditch that runs about 100 yards behind their home.

The boy's maternal grandfather, Etsil Fisher, Farmington, Utah, found the body about one-half mile downstream. The Fishers had arrived to visit the family about two hours before the drowning occurred.

The boy's parents said it appeared that Todd had climbed the fence between their yard and the ditch and fallen into the swift water.

The family dog was wet when it returned to the house and it is not known if the dog might have attempted to save the boy.

The body was taken to Bergin Funeral Home, Shoshone.

TF man killed in Lincoln crash

SHOSHONE — A Twin Falls man died Sunday in a one-car accident north of Shoshone.

Lincoln County Sheriff Thomas (Wid) Conner identified the dead man as Glen James Mort, 18. He was dead at the scene of the accident about 3 p.m.

Others in the car were Dale Dutt, 19, Twin Falls, believed to have been the driver, and Harold D. Mort, 11, Twin Falls. Both were taken by ambulance to Magic Valley Memorial Hospital where Dutt was listed in poor condition and Mort was listed in fair condition today.

Sheriff Conner said the car was traveling south when it missed the Wood River Bridge and went off the west side of the road. The vehicle was airborne for 105 feet before dropping 18 feet down onto the south side of the river.

Sheriff Conner said the driver of the vehicle may have gone to sleep.

Tokyo school closed

TOKYO (UPI)—A junior high school whose students have been stricken with suspected smog poisoning was closed today.

The school was closed indefinitely after 130 students reported to classes complaining of sore eyes.

The school has been under close surveillance since several students collapsed or complained of dizziness during exercises Thursday.

Tokyo Gov. Ryokichi Minobe blamed the situation on smog resulting from the effects of sunlight on automobile exhaust. Japan has 19 million motor vehicles packed into an area the size of California. The automobile density is eight times as great as that of the United States.

City officials said 103 other students at other schools also complained of sore eyes and throats. However, the schools were kept open.

Minobe is working on legislation to stop automobiles in the city during smog emergencies.

Duchess receives Buckingham bid

Windsor

LONDON (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth tried to ease the grief of the widowed Duchess of Windsor today by inviting her to stay as a guest at Buckingham Palace—a gesture the royal family found itself unable to make when her husband was alive.

It was the lack of just this sort of acceptance of the woman for whose love he gave up the British throne that drove the Duke into self-imposed exile after his abdication in 1936. He died of cancer in Paris Sunday only a week before the 35th anniversary of his marriage to the former Wallis Warfield Simpson of Baltimore.

The Duke's wish to lie in state in historic St. George's Chapel at Windsor and be buried near his great-grandmother, Queen Victoria, in the family plot at Frogmore were granted by his niece, Queen Elizabeth.

There were other dreams unfulfilled when he died at 77. He wanted to end his days among his own people in the land he ruled for 327 days as King Edward VIII. But he said he could end his exile only if his Duchess was raised to his own rank of a royal highness.

This never came.

The Duchess, 75, will accompany her husband's body from Paris when it is flown in a British Royal Air Force VC10 Wednesday to the RAF base at Benson in Oxfordshire. The Duke and Duchess of Kent will meet the big jet and escort the Duchess of Windsor to Buckingham Palace in London.

The Duchess of Kent, a commoner, was raised to royal status when she married the Duke, a first cousin of the Queen.

From the RAF base the body will be taken to 500-year-old St. George's Chapel where it will lie in state Friday and Saturday so the public can pay last respects. The coffin will be closed as is customary in Church of England services.

The funeral Monday will be private, with only about 200 members of the family and friends in the chapel. Only members of the immediate family will accompany the coffin to nearby Frogmore House, whose tiny burial ground holds Queen Victoria, her beloved consort Prince Albert and the Duke's brother, the Duke of Kent, killed in a World War II air crash.

The Duke of Windsor stipulated when he discussed his funeral plans with his niece that his Duchess someday would lie by his side. He said he did not want to be buried in St. George's where a number of British kings — Edward IV (1483), King Henry VIII (1574), beheaded King Charles I (1649) and the Duke of Windsor's brother, King George VI, are interred.

Flags flew at half staff over public buildings and at military installations today. When she was informed of the death Sunday the Queen ordered court mourning until June 5 and a number of royal engagements were canceled.

First debate satisfies Demo hopefuls

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Hubert H. Humphrey and George S. McGovern, satisfied with their first debate in California's torrid presidential primary, today faced a threat from Shirley Chisholm to block any further television confrontations unless she is included.

McGovern and Humphrey, long-time friends and former neighbors, exchanged sharp, sometimes heated, accusations, in their hour-long confrontation on the Vietnam war, defense spending, and welfare.

Each predicted he would win the Democratic presidential nomination. Both said President Nixon was beatable next fall.

But Mrs. Chisholm, running for the nomination in the state's critical June 6 primary, planned to seek in Washington, D.C., today a federal court to block "debates" scheduled Tuesday and Sunday.

Although Humphrey and McGovern both seemed pleased with their performances on the hour-long interview program, there were indications that not too many people in California watched the program.

A random telephone survey by United Press International, in Sacramento and Los Angeles, indicated that most people either were not home or did not watch the program. Twenty-five residences which answered in Sacramento showed that only two families watched the debate. In Los Angeles, only eight out of 30 households which answered watched the program. Registered Democrats, undecided before the debate, said the program did not help them come closer to a decision. Most called it a standoff.

With only nine days left before the voting begins for 271 delegates to the national convention, McGovern and Humphrey wasted little time in getting back on the campaign trail.

Humphrey campaigned in Los Angeles' black ghettos late Sunday, then flew to Fresno. He mapped out a 14-hour day today in Fresno, Sacramento, and San Jose.

McGovern attended three rallies late Sunday. He was to campaign in San Diego and Los Angeles today.

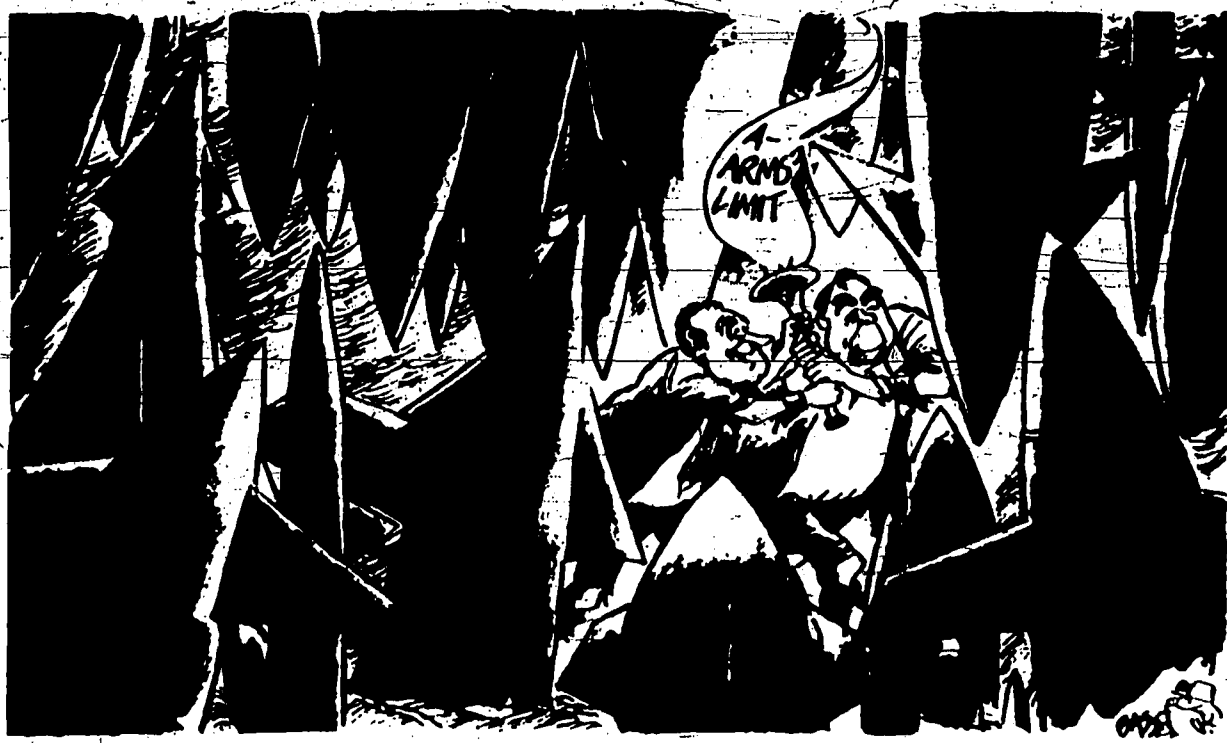

Even in advance, Humphrey and McGovern considered the Tuesday "debate" crucial because it will be shown on a weekday evening and will not have to contend with beautiful weather, the Memorial Day weekend, and evening church services.

Although both front-runners for the Democratic presidential nomination leveled charges and countercharges during their lively "debate," no new issues or specifics surfaced.

The questions were generally limited to the Vietnam War, defense spending, and welfare reform. Topics considered critical in California—such as the government's $200 million loan to the Lockheed Corp., and funds for the space shuttle—never were raised.

On the offensive from the start, which at first "startled" McGovern, Humphrey claimed that "we were both wrong on Vietnam."

"The fact is, that all through the senator's career he voted for the appropriations for the war in Vietnam," Humphrey charged. "There is no doubt that he spoke out against it but he voted for it."

Question...

The kindness on the part of our friends when we experienced a death in our family was the source of great strength to all of us in our bereavement. In your column can you find a way to tell people how important this is?

Answer...

Quoting from Guideposts: "In Time of Sorrow the Gift of your Presence" author Seymour Shubin recalls returning home from the funeral service of his father. "When we got back to my mother's house, it was good to see the quiet friendliness of neighbors, good to have people coming and going, to talk, to reminisce about my father, and now and then to smile. This was not a turning away from mourning, nor was there a moment's forgetting, it was instead, a communion of the living."

There is almost never a time in our lives when we are so dependent upon our relatives, friends and neighbors as we are when we lose someone we love. Perhaps the way we remember at this time will reflect the way we shall be remembered.

Wallace improves

Solar flare

$45,000 suit filed

SILVER SPRING, Md. (UPI)—Gov. George C. Wallace left intensive care briefly Sunday as evidence mounted that his alleged assailant tracked President Nixon with the purported intent of assassination.

Ironically, the President may have been spared from assault in Canada by students demonstrating against him and the U.S. role in Vietnam.

The new evidence concerning Nixon comes from an alleged diary on lined notebook paper that indicates Arthur H. Bremer made a 45-day odyssey from his Milwaukee home to sometimes distant points where Nixon and Wallace appeared.

Bremer was arrested in Laurel, Md., May 15 moments after Wallace was shot and paralyzed from the waist down. Bremer is being held in lieu of $200,000 bond in the Baltimore jail pending trial.

Wallace left the intensive care unit at Holy Cross Hospital for the first time Sunday. He used a wheelchair during a 15-minute visit with his wife, Cornelia.

The Alabama governor and Mrs. Wallace earlier talked with Sen. and Mrs. Edmund S. Muskie during what Muskie called a "neighborly visit."

Although the medical report said Wallace continued to show improvements, it did not indicate where or when a second operation would be conducted.

The diary of Bremer's travels was found by the FBI in a search of the suspect's car, according to Newsweek magazine.

Sources told Newsweek that Bremer made his way to Canada with the express purpose of killing Mr. Nixon but apparently found security too tight.

BOULDER, Colo. (UPI)—Short wave frequencies across the entire sunlit hemisphere were disrupted Sunday, because of a "quite severe" solar flare.

Don Baker, chief space environment forecaster for the Space Environmental Services Center, said the flare, which occurred at 9:15 a.m. EDT, was accompanied by a "very intense radial burst."

Baker said the solar flare or sun eruption ejected x-rays that interacted with the earth's atmosphere to disrupt radio communications.

TWIN FALLS—Mr. and Mrs. Marshall LeBaron have been named in a $45,000 damage suit by the Sun Valley Music Camp.

The suit was filed in Fifth Judicial District Court in Twin Falls, charging the LeBarons with failing to comply with terms of a lease.

In 1969, the Sun Valley Music Camp entered into a contract with the LeBarons for lease of a site near Ketchum for the music camp. The contract, according to the complaint, was for one year with option to renew for four years.

The complaint states the organization renewed the lease in 1970 and paid the amount stipulated. In 1971 the owners terminated the lease and although notified of the plans of the organization to again lease the property.

In the complaint, the Sun

Valley Music Camp states the LeBarons did not have the right to terminate the lease agreement and ask $45,000 damages as a result.

A thought for today: In his 1961 inaugural address, President John F. Kennedy said, "Let the word go forth from this time and place that the torch has passed a new generation of Americans."

Memorial Day statement given

MOSCOW (UPI)—President Nixon Sunday issued the following statement to commemorate Memorial Day:

"As all America pauses today to pay tribute to the brave men and women who have given their lives in our country's defense over the past two centuries and to pray for a lasting peace, Mrs. Nixon and I join in that homage and in those prayers.

"Though we observe Memorial Day in a far country, our hearts are very much with our own countrymen, the honored dead and the hopeful living alike.

"Our purpose in the Soviet Union is to open a new era of negotiation and cooperation between our two great powers. We seek a world where no more men need die for peace, but where instead all men may live in peace.

"Each American in his way has much to contribute, through thought and action, to the building of such a world. We can make no more fitting resolve on this day than a resolve to press forward to that goal."

COMMENT

The Back Door

Christian Science Monitor

Word that the Soviet Union will ship or is already in process of shipping arms to North Vietnam via overland routes through China, underscores the fragility and the expediency of detente between the Big Three superpowers. At the same time it shows once again the ability of small "client state" members of the third world to play off the major powers against each other to the smaller countries' own advantage.

While the Soviet Union failed to react in anger when President Nixon announced the mining of waters around North Vietnamese ports (evidence grows that Washington forewarned Moscow of this plan), the Kremlin clearly had no intention of lying supine while Washington interdicted its flow of arms to Hanoi. We are now told that Soviet Ambassador Vasily Tolstikov held high-level talks with Peking officials soon after the President's action, and then left hurriedly for Moscow.

Meanwhile, high-level delegates from Hanoi have joined the action. Communications Minister Phan Trong Tue and Deputy Minister of Foreign Trade Ly Ban reportedly are in Peking to coordinate the shipment of both Soviet and Chinese arms to North Vietnam, after Hanoi appealed to the rival Communist superpowers to patch up their ideological differences long enough to thwart the American blockade.

Western observers with access to official Chinese Communist Party and government sources say Peking will not block the flow of Soviet arms. And the Soviet Union has surprised these same observers by saying it will send advanced weapons, such as surface-to-air missiles, via China. Premier Chou En-lai has told visitors, privately that he was displeased with President Nixon for not having lived up to the joint communique issued after Mr. Nixon's Peking visit.

In Washington, Pentagon spokesman Jerry Friedheim told the press that American bombing of North Vietnamese roads and railroads make it doubtful that large amounts of Chinese and Russian arms and supplies can get through to the North Vietnamese forces below the demilitarized zone. But the effort is being made. Thirteen freighters that had been headed toward Haiphong harbor have been diverted and appear to be headed toward the South China coast, most likely toward harbors such as Chankiang, which has excellent road and rail connection to the North Vietnam border 140 miles away.

Aside from immediate tactical considerations, the larger significance of what is happening is the newfound willingness of Peking and Moscow to set aside their rivalry, at least in a limited way, when it serves their mutual ends. Washington is being told it cannot count on intramural fighting within the Communist world to always work in its favor. It is a warning worth heeding.

The Policy

Idaho State Journal

We are pleased to be informed by the Pocatello Police Department that the policy of pursuit of reckless drivers in the city is not the same as in Logan, Utah, where a driver fleeing from a pursuing police car early Saturday crashed into another car and killed four young people.

An editorial Monday said that policy is the same here, but Police Capt. Pete Rountree corrects us. He says Pocatello police are specifically directed to break off pursuit of a fleeing driver "when the hazard of pursuit becomes greater than the hazard of violation."

That means a police car will not jeopardize others in a high-speed chase through the city, unless the circumstances are desperate.

We recall at least two instances in recent years in which persons in this area were killed in incidents involving police pursuit, so we are not sure how all police agencies operate.

But we like the Pocatello police department's policy, and recommend it to others.

No Thanks

Lewiston Tribune

Gov. Lester Maddox of Georgia has volunteered to campaign for the wounded George Wallace, saying, "I will walk for him, talk for him, and work for him in the cause he represents." A commendable offer of solidarity, but one that is likely to be politely declined by the Wallace campaign staff.

The trouble with having Maddox on the team is that his political origins are so similar to Wallace's that he would tend to put Wallace in perspective. Wallace has been shaping his campaign issues in such a way as to obscure his anti-black political origins and to enhance his image as an old-fashioned populist. He is not likely to want Governor Maddox — the man who once vowed he would never allow a black in his restaurant and tried to prove it with an axe handle — running around the country reminding the voters that Wallace once vowed that no blacks would enter the public institutions of higher education in Alabama.

Maddox does not cringe from his past, and in fact to this day passes out miniature axe handles as souvenirs. He is not a very subtle man. Wallace on the other hand would just as soon the voters forget the racism that propelled him to national attention, so we suspect that when the Wallace campaign people hear officially from Maddox their answer will be, "thanks a lot, but no thanks." — L. H.

WASHINGTON — Any time now, David J. Armor of Harvard University should hear the clatter of hobnailed boots as the liberal-intellectual storm troopers come to take him away for exile in some backwater cow college.

Armor, an associate professor of sociology who used to do research for the U.S. Civil Rights Commission, has committed the unforgivable. He has conducted a major study of school desegregation by busing and concluded that it doesn't work, and that black children are its major victims. Poor Armor apparently has learned nothing from the fate of those educators who bucked the line of Hitler's academic gauleiters — or, more recently, from Harvard's refusal to take back Walt Rostow after he had served Lyndon Johnson as a foreign policy adviser.

For forced school busing, and the devil take both children and parents, is THE liberal-intellectual life. To depose publicly that busing is a tragic farce is tantamount, in the with-it towers of ivory, to suggesting that perhaps the time is not yet ripe to canonize Ben Spock.

Armor's study covered research on busing programs in Boston, Ann Arbor, Mich., Hartford, Conn., Riverside, Calif., and White Plains, N.Y. His data was compiled from 1965 to 1971 and follows some 5,000 children from grades 1 to 12 for from one to five years. Armor claims his study is the largest showing the "before and after" effects of long-term busing projects by using the same tests to compare bused children with others.

According to Armor, achievement test scores have not been raised, and in several cases the busing experiments have worsened race relations. He says the grades of Negro students generally fell when they were transferred to predominantly white schools because grading standards were higher.

Armor goes further. He even dares to suggest that much of the research on race and education done before the late 1960s, and widely used in court integration decisions, is now outdated. The data that research produced, he says, fails to take into account the new militancy and pride of many black students who do not regard studying with white children as a big deal.

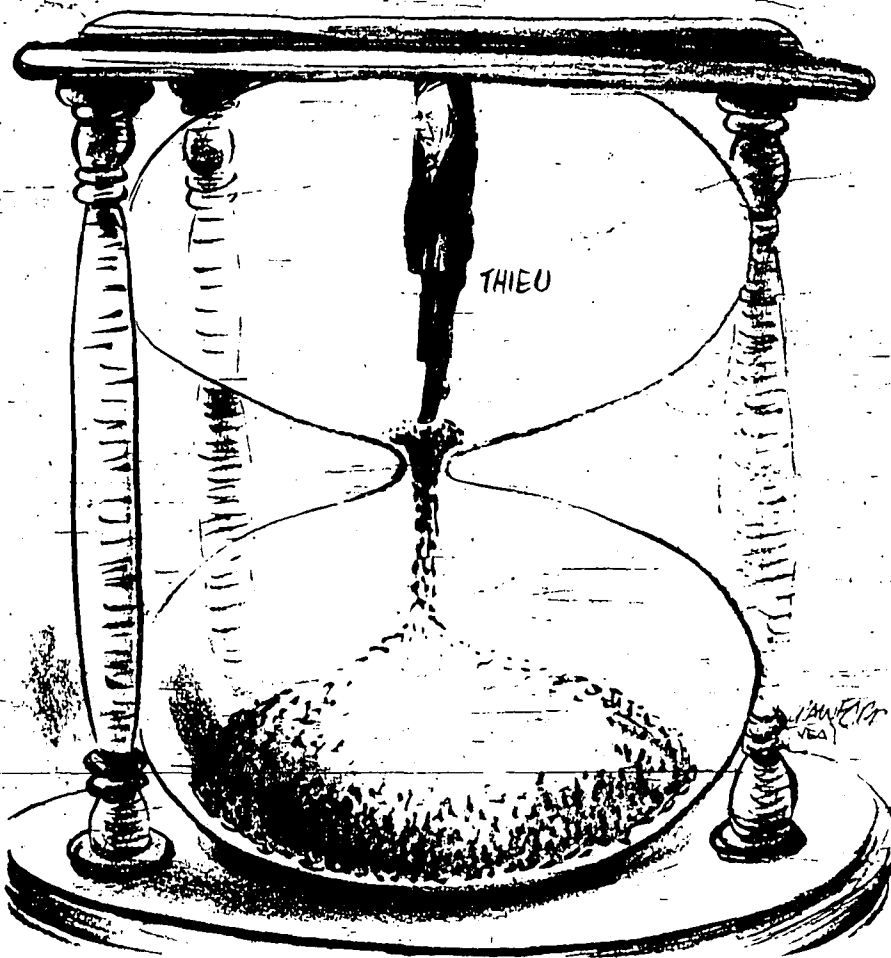

He should know. He worked on a government project in the mid-1960s, which produced a fat report concluding that lower-income black students make "some" academic gains in predominantly white, middle-income schools. Armor says, in effect, that the study was phony because the tests used were all given at the same time — in the fall of 1965 — rather than following the same children after they had switched from a predominantly black school to a predominantly white one.

Armor doesn't say so, but I'm cad enough to suggest that the superficiality of the earlier report was due to the researchers' blind insistence that their study produce the findings they desired. In fact, that suggestion was made in this space at the time, producing a flood of mail denouncing me as a racist, Kluxer and fascist.

But, back to Armor's latest study. In four of the programs he studied, he said, black children bused to suburban schools made "no significant gains" when compared to black students who stayed in inner-city schools, or to whites who took the same achievement tests. In the fifth program, in Hartford, Negro children in suburban schools did better in some grades, but in others the children in neighborhood schools scored higher.

As for racial attitudes, Armor demolishes what he calls "the central sociological hypotheses in integration policy . . . that integration should reduce racial stereotypes, increase tolerance, and generally improve race relationships." In fact, he says, "the effect is the opposite."

Rich-Radical

WASHINGTON — Two front groups to this day Garry is the lawyer most frequently associated with the Panthers, although other radical attorneys like William Kunstler also work in their behalf.

The lecture circuit, particularly college forums, is a principal source of Panther income. Panther moguls rake in fees as high as $2,500, plus expenses. Reports the Internal Security Committee.

Recently, Congressional sources ascertained that the debt-afflicted Kennedy Center lost $300,000 in staging Bernstein's lavish and pretentious "Mass."

The other top contributor is Anna Louise Strong, long-time American Communist expatriot in Russia and Red China, where she died last year leaving the Marxist-avowing Panthers $17,000.

These disclosures are among the highlights of a comprehensive report by the House Internal Security Committee based on an exhaustive study of the Panthers. Other significant financial details are:

Starting with a "modest" $710.50 deposit in April 1968 in an Emeryville, Calif., bank, Panther funds had soared to $171,943.24 a year later. By early 1970, deposits zoomed to $11,798 per month.

But in 1971, when the first serious schism occurred among Panther leaders (the murderous break between Huey Newton, party founder and minister of defense, and Eldridge Cleaver, minister of information, who jumped bail and is now a revolution-preaching fugitive in Algeria), this bank account had sunk to less than zero — being some $400 overdrawn.

Principal Panther expenditures, according to the report, "were for weapons, bail and legal expenses."

High among the beneficiaries of the large "legal expenses" is Charles Garry, San Francisco, described in the study as follows: "Garry is a white lawyer identified as a member of the Communist Party, USA, who has long been active in behalf of the Communist Party, USA, its leaders and various front groups. To this day Garry is the lawyer most frequently associated with the Panthers, although other radical attorneys like William Kunstler also work in their behalf.

PAUL HARVEY

Post-Mortem

Surely the classic quote of this political season was when AP's Lee Byrd said, "What happened to Ed Muskie, for crying out loud?"

One after another, presidential hopefuls have left some comfortable niche in Senate, House or governor's mansion and sought the national following which might lead to the more venerated if less comfortable niche in the White House.

And one after another they have had to surrender their swords.

Hughes, Harris, Landsay, McCloskey, Hartke — Muskie. Political primaries are a precarious gamble. You win and it ensures nothing. You lose, and your financial supporters drop out from under you.

The only adequate reason for campaigning for the presidential nomination in the several state primaries is for a locally prominent politician to get his name recognized nationally.

That's why the Kennedys can afford to sit 'em out. Muskie should have. In my professional recollection, no man had a bigger head start toward the nomination than did Sen. Ed Muskie six months ago. He was well remembered from the '68 campaign when his polite deference to running-mate Humphrey conveyed an illusion of immense inner strength.

He was a great second banana. But he is no star.

When his hopes were finally buried in Pennsylvania, Sen. Muskie modified his own epitaph. "I'm everybody's second choice." Factually, actually, he's not even that. Ed Muskie lost his lead because he stumbled too many times. For a politician to remark that "a ticket including a black vice-presidential candidate could not win at this time" is wrong even if it is right. For anybody to refer to Canadians as "Canucks" is inexcusably disrespectful. Write off another minority.

For a potential Commander-in-Chief to urge disengagement in Indochina but then say we may have to fight in the Middle East — that offends the whole antiwar majority.

Then, standing on that flatbed truck in the New Hampshire snow, he shed tears for the TV cameras.

Sen. Muskie — defending his wife against published reports that she had used profanity, invited dirty jokes — merely focused additional attention on the accusation and, at the same time, diluted with tears his own image as a strong, self-confident leader.

The people want their President to appear in total command of himself, even when it's a mask.

And then, of course, the war heated up at a most opportune time to favor a peace candidate, and Sen. McGovern had already corralled that following.

Tragically, however, his essential honesty finally did him in. Muskie sought to claim for himself the philosophical "middle ground" and Mr. Nixon owns that.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Epileptic

Dear Dr. Thosteson: A friend and I witnessed a teen-age girl having an epileptic seizure recently. The girl appeared to be swallowing her tongue, or trying to swallow it.

What is the correct procedure to aid such a person? I wanted to help but was afraid of doing the wrong thing. — Mrs. W. M.

Bless you for wanting to help. Too many people are frightened and don't think of helping.

There isn't too much to do — but there are some things.

First, if the person is standing or sitting, help get him flat. First consideration is to keep him from injuring himself (herself) in the convulsions and thrashing around. Keep the person away from hot radiators, for example.

Open a tight collar, if there is one.

As to the tongue, just keep the head turned to one side to prevent swallowing the tongue.

Once a seizure starts, there is nothing to do to stop it. Fortunately, it doesn't last long.

Put a folded coat or pillow under the person's head, to keep the head from being banged against floor or ground; then stand by.

If the person's teeth are clenched, don't try to force anything between them. There used to be a notion that you could put a pencil or some such object between the teeth to prevent biting the tongue. Unfortunately, too many people took this as gospel, and they did much unwitting harm to teeth and gums trying to jam something between the teeth, when actually there was no real point in it.

There may be moments when breathing appears to have stopped. Don't panic; breathing will resume.

After the attack is over, the person, usually is drowsy and exhausted; let him rest and reassure him that he is all right.

The main thing to do is to keep calm yourself, and do the above simple things to prevent the person from hurting himself.

It's trouble enough having epilepsy without having folks around you getting into a panic or being frightened or trying to do the wrong thing. Most of the things you can do are, you see, dictated by common sense. Try not to let the person hurt himself.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What causes fungus growth that leaves white spots on the nails?

What cure is there? — M.E.L.

White spots on the nails aren't necessarily due to fungus. Nails vary in hardness. White spots may be due to nail polish, injury (as in manicuring), strong soaps or household cleansers or chemicals.

If fungus is present, usually there will be signs other than just the white spots.

So find out what your trouble really is. See a dermatologist. If he identifies fungus, there are treatments he can give you.

Don't take chances with "kidney trouble." It may be only minor, but it can be dangerous. Read R. Thosteson's booklet, "Your Kidneys — Facts You Need To Know About Them." Write to him in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Viet talks yield words

By STEWART HENSLEY
UPI Diplomatic Reporter
MOSCOW (UPI) — President Nixon's lengthy discussions of the Vietnam issue with Soviet leaders produced only one thing from the Russians — their advice to send U.S. negotiators back to the bargaining table in Paris.

Russian and American sources agree on this. Visible evidence of Nixon's failure to secure Russian diplomatic intervention came Friday with disclosure that the two countries were unable to reach any long-term trade agreement.

A broad and comprehensive five-year trade pact, including liberal credit terms and "most-favored nation" treatment, was the bait Nixon dangled before Communist General Secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev and his colleagues in an effort to enlist the Kremlin's aid for a U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam on honorable terms.

Analysis

When Soviet and American leaders finally announced only the establishment of a joint commercial mission to work on a trade agreement, it was a signal that Brezhnev was unwilling to intervene diplomatically on Washington's behalf.

It is possible the United States and Russia will announce a "one shot" deal for sale of $150 million worth of American feed grain to Russia during the next 12 months. Soviet and American negotiators in Washington have reached virtual agreement on the amount Russia should pay to settle its World War II lend-lease debt. But the big and broad trade agreement is on ice for the time being.

The Soviet Union, in the view of U.S. officials, could take either of two choices of diplomatic action that might prove effective in bringing the Vietnam war to an end. —It could urge Hanoi to give serious consideration to Nixon's offer May 8 to withdraw all American forces from Vietnam within four months after release of U.S. prisoners and establishment of an internationally supervised ceasefire.

—It could accept Britain's suggestion that Moscow join London in proposing a revival of the 1954 Geneva Conference formula to bring together all nations most directly concerned to work out an agreement for neutralization of all Southeast Asia after establishment of a ceasefire throughout the area and withdrawal of American troops.

The Kremlin apparently feels that either course would damage its position in its contest with China for leadership of international Communism, thus, the Chinese attitude has much to do with Moscow's inability to move with any great freedom on the diplomatic front.

The consensus here is that the Soviet Union would have at least postponed and possibly cancelled the conference after Nixon ordered the mining of Haiphong and other North Vietnamese ports had it not been for the Russians' grave concern about their eastern border, where they have one million troops and 1,000 aircraft tied down because of the continuing ideological and geographical dispute with Peking. —Nixon's failure to win diplomatic support from Moscow on Vietnam was somewhat expected. And it was obscured by the major achievement here — agreement on measures to limit the numbers and further deployment of strategic nuclear offensive and defensive weapons.

—The Vietnam war has been costly and traumatic for Americans, but the possibility of Soviet-U.S. collaboration in ending the nuclear arms race and establishing a realistic basis for peaceful cooperation.

Auto novelties reduce safety

DETROIT (UPI) — Accessories and novelty items installed by do-it-yourself car customizers often nullify safety design improvements made by the auto manufacturers, a General Motors safety engineer said Friday.

There is no real way of estimating how many of these owner modifications and other vehicle changes cause accidents," said Wilton D. Nelson, but it is known that such alterations "are contributing factors in injuries to car occupants."

He said his report was based on GM files and research done at the University of Michigan.

Cornell University and the University of California at Los Angeles, but described it as "a clinical review of what can happen, rather than a statistical study."

As an example, Nelson used the energy-absorbing steering column, whose effect, in many cases, has been nullified by people who attach tachometers, trailer brake controls and even stereo tape-decks to the steering column. These attachments, he said, have interfered with the normal compression of the steering column under collision impacts and increased chest injuries have resulted.

Evidence indicates 'bigfoot' of Indian legend may be real

Written for United Press International by Phil Carpenter LEWISTON (UPI) — For centuries, the Indian tribes on the North American continent have shared a common legend concerning a sort of gigantic monster man that roams the forests leaving behind huge footprints that have earned him the nickname "Bigfoot."

British Columbia Indians call it "Sasquatch," the name most often used today to label what is believed by certain individuals to be a hitherto unclassified species of primate that walks upright and has high intelligence.

The origins of the creature are shrouded with the mists of time, but serious researchers say it has been around as long as man himself, if not longer.

This spring the annual rash of reported sightings has again given impetus to the search for evidence of this elusive prey, especially in the Northwest.

The latest incident involved the reported sighting of a large, furry ape-like thing about 113 miles north of Boise in the New Meadows-Tamarack area.

A couple from Ontario, Ore., took a Polaroid photo of the alleged Sasquatch and the Ontario newspaper sent its own reporters to the scene.

The usual large tracks were found and photographed. However, the whole thing apparently was a hoax concocted by area persons.

Such instances of practical jokes designed to lure the tourist trade to certain area, or just as a prank, make it more difficult for the serious researchers that hunt for evidence of a real sasquatch.

There are many persons who believe strongly that some 500 of the primates may exist, and are scientifically trying to prove it.

One of these persons is Russell Gebhart, an employee of Speer Ammunition Manufacturers, Lewiston. Gebhart, who has been gathering data for five years, advertises at his own expense in newspapers to obtain information of any type on the "bigfoot."

He checks out each report, driving hundreds of miles a weekend and said he would "just up and leave" even in the middle of his work week, if strong evidence was discovered.

"I definitely believe they exist," Gebhart says. He estimates the main body of some 500-600 live in small family groups of 10 to 20 in the Canadian wilderness where man has not penetrated, explaining why no more than one at a time has ever been seen.

'I definitely believe they exist,' says Gem resident Russell Gebhart after extensive study

Gebhart admits that most of the evidence available is circumstantial but has hundreds of letters of reported sightings, some photos and plaster casts of huge footprints.

The most publicized evidence is an alleged film of a sasquatch taken by the late Roger Patterson, Yakima, Wash., who died in January. This is what hooked Gebhart into becoming a "sasquatch bug."

"You have to talk with these people who were mentioned in the film and the resulting article," he said. "I didn't believe, until I met and talked with many of the persons who had reported seeing the creature."

He said he had found, after checking on the people, they were "real" people who had sound reputations and stories that could not be shaken.

Gebhart says all of the reports coincide concerning the animals' size, about seven to eight feet in height and weighing upwards of 500 pounds.

Questioned about the lack of cadavers, detailed close photos, or physical evidence, Gebhart says, apparently just a few individual creatures wander about at night and corpses are probably scattered by scavengers.

"How many dead cougars or bears do you see in the woods?" he asked.

According to many reports, the usual contact comes at night when people around a campfire hear a noise in the dark, go to investigate, and find the tracks where the creature apparently stood watching them.

Gebhart says most sighting and reports are false, eight by design or accident, but all cannot be ignored.

He is in close touch with other researchers and utilizes two separate computers, one in Miami and the other in Portland, to correlate data.

Executive Director Peter Byrnes says they have been gathering data on all such creatures for 23 years.

Another researcher is professor Grover Krantz of Washington State University. A professor of anthropology, he holds a degree in physical anatomy and teaches evolution.

Krantz said he has studied the possibility of such a creature for about 12 years but "it wasn't until two years ago I ran across enough evidence that I could not account for any other way than to accept the existence of the creature."

"Now, I feel sure it actually exists," he said.

Krantz accepts the estimate of 500 creatures in the northwestern portion of the continent but says "not more than a handful at any time are in the United States."

"They are much scarcer than the grizzly, for example, and on top of that are evidently nocturnal in their habits," he said.

The professor is candid in his appraisal of the validity of reported sightings as is Gebhart.

He said the footprints are the best existing examples of physical evidence he has seen.

"I've examined copies of casts of 17 different individuals, studied them in detail," he said.

"I have these in my collection and after minute inspection can state unequivocally that some of them could not have been faked due to anatomical details nobody could have figured out. These would have been impossible to create artificially."

Krantz admits he has suffered some ostracism from more conservative colleagues in the scientific community for lending his prestige and academic qualifications to the credibility of the Sasquatch theory but shrugs this off.

"I'm only interested in scientific facts," he said. "I would greatly like to acquire some bone samples from one of these creatures. Then I could reconstruct an accurate example."

Krantz said, "I have no interest in catching one alive at all. It would be far more trouble than it's worth."

Other sasquatch hunters take differing attitudes.

John Green, Harrison, Hot

Springs, B. C.; George Haas, Oakland, Calif.; the late Roger Patterson; Peter Byrnes, and many others have been looking for a live sasquatch, with the idea of tranquilizing it, studying it and then releasing it back to its habitat.

The only problem appears to be that "the sasquatch, if it exists, has successfully eluded all man's attempts to even get close. It can apparently easily outdistance running dogs, blends with cover and may be as cunning, if not as intelligent, as the men who hunt it."

If a sasquatch is ever trapped alive, a new joke may begin making the rounds.

Question: "What do you do with a 500 pound sasquatch?"

Answer: "Whatever it tells you."

Idaho listed as 38th in income

TWIN FALLS — Idaho ranks 38th of the 50 states in per capita personal income.

According to statistics compiled by the U.S. Department of Commerce for the year 1971, Idaho has a per capita personal income of $3,402, some 18 per cent below the national average.

The commerce report indicated the Gem State experienced an increase of 5½ per cent last year, the same rate as the entire country.

In regional records, Idaho ranked third among the five Rocky Mountain states for personal income.

Colorado is the best earning mountain state with a per capita personal income of $4,507 while Montana is rated at $3,479 personal income per person. Only Utah and Wyoming had lower personal income figures than Idaho.

All five mountain states recorded the greatest income increases in the construction field and the greatest decreases in agriculture.

Though no money figures were given in the report, manufacturing and construction payrolls were reported to have increased at a faster rate than the national figure for that field.

In agriculture, Idaho income remained stable while the nation, as a whole, recorded a 5½ per cent jump.

In overall income growth, Idaho reported a 10½ per cent increase, well above the national quote of 6½ per cent.

In 1971, 2.25 per cent of the country's $853.5 billion personal income came from the Rocky Mountain region.

Nationwide, Connecticut recorded the high reported per capita personal income with a figure of $5,032. The lowest reported came from the State of Mississippi where the per capita rate was $2,755.

The highest region, on an income basis, was the midwest section made up of Maryland, Delaware, New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

The District of Columbia, not ranked because it is not a state, turned in a personal income of $6,000 per person.

The Rocky Mountain region ranks sixth among the eight sections listed in the report.

Auction set in Minidoka

RUPERT — An auction has been scheduled June 15 at the Minidoka County landfill.

The Minidoka County commission scheduled the auction. Items to be sold include a diesel tractor and other equipment no longer needed at the landfill. The sale will begin at 1 p.m. June 15.

The commissioners also have approved a bid of $5,079 from Larry Wright Construction Co., Rupert, for construction of rest rooms at the county fairground. The job was reported well under way this week and will be completed in the near future.

The commissioners heard a complaint from two farmers from the area known as the Cap Hawley area northwest of Rupert. The farmers, Bill Schorzman and Henry Rickert, said periodic flooding by drain water from the A and B Irrigation Project has ruined their land values and damaged their property.

Schorzman said he objected to paying taxes on land valued at $500 per acre when the land is worth at most only about $250 per acre due to the flooding.

In addition, both men said an early runoff this spring froze during a sudden freezing spell and a number of fences were damaged.

Rickert said he lost a field of winter grain, due to the runoff, which had to be replanted.

A cattle operation on Rickert's property had to be abandoned after pasture was destroyed over a period of several years.

The men said they had contacted the irrigation district as well as the Soil Conservation Service, the Bureau of Reclamation and Idaho Sen. Frank Church. They said they had received no help from any of the agencies.

The men said they may have to sell their land at a heavy loss and move elsewhere.

Commissioner Alex Roemer said he would check into the situation and see what could be done.

Candidate symposium scheduled

BOISE (UPI) — Democratic and Republican candidates for the U.S. Senate and Congress will have a chance to explain their environmental stands at a symposium in Boise Friday.

Starting at 8 p.m., the symposium will be in the Boise State College Liberal Arts Auditorium.

Coordinator Margie Boylan said state environmental leaders planned the symposium "to give the public a chance to hear each of the candidates speak out on a matter vital to us all — the protection of Idaho's environment."

After giving brief prepared statements, the candidates will be questioned by a panel of outstanding environmentalists, sponsors said.

adding to stocks. Furthermore, some selective profit taking, it might be a good time to do, Hooper said.

NEW YORK (UPI) — With glamors and blue chips leading the way, the stock market moved higher this week, although the trading was not enthusiastic.

The Dow Jones average of 30 selected blue-chip industrial stocks climbed 9.71 to 971.25, reaching its highest level since Dec. 19, 1968 when it was 975.14.

Standard & Poor's 500 stock index rose 1.68 to an all-time high of 110.66. The New York Stock Exchange common stock index rose 0.84 to 61.38.

"This market is moving in a selected area," said Monte Gordon, analyst for Sartorius & Co. "Mainly its the glamors and blue chips. The rest of the list isn't showing much."

The market had risen sharply in anticipation of President Nixon's trip to Moscow. Now that he is there, investors are watching carefully for developments. Several agreements were reached, but significantly there was nothing on-trade.

Gordon said if Nixon does not come back home with some kind of agreement on the Vietnam War, investors might show some concern and the market could go lower for a while.

Lucien O. Hooper, senior analyst for W. E. Hutton & Co., thinks the market has reached a point where "it might be wise to think a while before Fair today and tonight, partly cloudy Tuesday. Possible isolated thundershowers over the mountains. Continued warm. Highs in the upper 70's and lower 80's both days. Lows tonight upper 30's to lower 40's. Winds mostly light. Outlook for Wednesday, little change except slight cooling. High today, 79, low tonight 38, high Tuesday, 80.

Synopsis:
The warm high pressure area at higher levels over the northwestern states is moving slowly eastward. The flow at higher levels over the southern Idaho area will gradually become more southerly, bringing some high level moisture up from the south by Tuesday. In addition this movement will allow a weak frontal system along the West Coast to move slowly inland. Temperatures will continue at unseasonably warm levels, although a slight cooling trend is likely by midweek. Continued warm temperatures are forecast in the extended period with highs in the upper 70's and 80's and lows in 40's and mid 50's.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q — I inherited a substantial number of shares in Great Lakes Paper (TSE). The stock has dropped in price and the dividend has been cut. Should I hold or sell? — M.T.

A — Downtrending earnings were reported in 1970 and 1971, despite rising sales. In the March, 1972, quarter a deficit of 3 cents a share resulted from an 11 per cent decline in sales. On Feb. 1, newspaper prices were reduced 1 per cent by the company, although costs continued high. Because newspaper production by this Canadian company is sold primarily to U.S. publishers, fluctuations in the exchange rate carry a considerable impact to earnings. Reductions in the exchange premium last year reduced earnings about 25 per cent. As of the end of December current asset ratio was 1.94-1 down from 2.6-1 in 1970. Sale is recommended.

Farm collective bargaining demands grow in volume

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Increasing demands are being heard for collective bargaining by farmers to improve prices and incomes — and Congress may respond.

The proposal is extremely controversial, however, with pro and con factions equally vehement. It is not certain what congress will do in this election year.

In 1967, a law was enacted to protect farm bargaining power by eliminating "unfair" trade practices against farmers and their associations. It forbids handlers and processors to interfere with a producer joining a cooperative or discriminating against one who does. False reports about, or interference with, cooperatives is prohibited.

Efforts to strengthen this legal protection began the next year and have been continuing since. A number of bills are pending in Congress this year with two proposals claiming special attention.

One was introduced by Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., with Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., and George S. McGovern, D-S.D., both candidates for the Democratic Presidential nomination, co-sponsors.

Rep. B. F. Sisk and Johny V. Tunney, California Democrats, are prime sponsors of the House bill.

Both have been heard by agriculture subcommittees of the House and Senate, but neither has progressed beyond that point and the outlook is far from clear. A spokesman for the Senate subcommittee said chances for the legislation "are 50-50, at best," and a House subcommittee staff when said the Sisk bill "is very controversial."

The Mondale bill would create a National Agriculture Relations Board (NARB), similar to the National Labor Relations Board.

If requested to do so by a representative group of producers, NARB could assign a committee of producers to bargain on sales with a committee of purchasers.

Gas firm keeps cutback plans

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — No changes will apparently be made by El Paso Natural Gas Co. in its plan to cut back on supplies of natural gas to four Southwestern states in order to benefit California and its pollution problem.

J. R. Hadd, vice president in charge of gas operations for Tucson Gas & Electric, said Saturday gas supplies would be cut for Arizona, New Mexico, Nevada and Texas before there would be reductions for California.

"El Paso officials told us they'll put their proposal for cutbacks into effect starting next September," he said.

Local utility officials, plus Arizona, he said.

Bark mulch called landscaping aid

SHOSHONE — Bark mulch may be what is needed to make home landscaping more attractive and easier to maintain, Ivan Hopkins, county extension agent, said today.

Experiments by the Department of Agriculture show that bark improves texture of the soil by enriching it with natural humus, and bark mulch is entirely organic. Plants use fallen bark and other natural debris as a protective coating against heat and drought. It also eases the blows of alternate freezing and thawing in winter.

Many home owners, the department points out, enjoy the rustic look of bark mulch and the russet-colored appearance that lend other dimensions to garden and home landscaping plans.

Another point is that weeds are smothered by the mulch so you do less weeding and trimming along the borders. It prevents clay soil from packing. This means less work with the hoe and less evaporation so less water is needed.

However, bark must be used judiciously, scientists emphasize. There are some areas where it may smother vegetation. Desirable plants deserve a chance to grow. Sometimes the bark treatment is not the best answer.

Gem 4-H members hike aid

MOSCOW — Idaho 4-H members recently added $1,400 to their contribution toward expansion of the National 4-H Center in Washington, D.C., announced Maurice E. Johnson, state 4-H leader, University of Idaho.

That brings their total contribution so far to $6,406, he said. Idaho's goal is to raise $10,000 for the center. Interested 4-H clubs conduct various fund-raising activities to help meet this goal.

The National 4-H Center serves as a focal point for many national programs for 4-H members and the adults who work with them, Johnson explained.

Prevention due now

TWIN FALLS — County Extension Agent Donald F. Youtz says now is the time to take measures to prevent wormy apples. Youtz said the first codling moth was reported Friday by state-federal Inspector Dale Taute. The codling moth is the adult of the well-known worm and a cover spray should be applied right away. Youtz recommends using an insecticide designed specifically for one's needs and follow directions of the label of the insecticide container.

Optimism about economy grows, magazine reports

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Optimism about the economy is increasing, and for the vast majority of Americans 1972 is shaping up as one of the "best of years," Industry Week magazine said today.

This spring, the magazine's panel of economic consultants is more confident of good times than it was last fall when it forecast strong and widespread business improvement. The panel consists of 31 business and private economists.

The panel now believes that a variety of economic sectors will perform better than had been anticipated and that more of the overall growth will be real because of success in curbing inflation.

Of top interest to consumers is the expectation that the Bureau of Labor Statistics' consumer price index will increase only 3.5 per cent this year, compared with 4.3 per cent in 1971 and the anticipated inflation rate last fall of 3.8 per cent. Meanwhile, projections for wholesale prices remained unchanged, a 3.1-per-cent rate of gain versus 3.2 per cent last year.

As a result, less of the economy's growth will be sapped by inflation, although estimates of total growth have been lowered. Gross National Product in 1972 currently is pegged at $1.143 trillion, a gain of 9.2 per cent, instead of the $1.146 trillion predicted last fall.

One panelist told Industry Week, "A more solid base has been established for a more stable and sustainable expansion in the years ahead."

Industry Week said the economists agreed that major sources of economic strength this year will be plant and equipment spending, up 9.6 per cent; total new construction, up 9.5 per cent; auto production, up 6.1 per cent, and steel production, up 10.6 per cent.

The consensus of the 31 economists is that production of nondurable goods will be up 5.8 per cent, slightly better than expected last fall.

However, they see the government's index of durable goods output rising less than anticipated, though up 6.7 per cent, and total industrial production rising a bit less than hoped for, although up 6.2 per cent.

Profits also will grow this year, the magazine said.

Soviet police, US press clash

MOSCOW (UPI) — The American press covering Mrs. Richard M. Nixon and the Soviet Secret Police are starting to understand each other.

The credit goes to KGB Col. Nikolai Gladkiy, a suave, barrel-chested man entrusted with protecting the first ladies of the world's two superpowers.

Protected they are. Too protected, contends the press. Mrs. Nixon has said as much herself. Soviet ladies accompanying Mrs. Nixon have been bothered by large press crowds. Gladkiy himself took charge of Mrs. Nixon's visit to the Bolshoi Ballet School Thursday so he could assess the situation. And he probably prevented an ugly brawl.

The 30 KGB agents assigned to Mrs. Nixon and her party are having their first taste of American journalists and cameramen. The American press is not amused.

KGB men to not suffer disobedience. They say move and Russians move. A push, a shove, an elbow in the ribs may be used. It is instinctive reaction.

But Mrs. Nixon's press entourage stands its ground. A television cameraman is told to move back and is shoved at the same time. He protests.

Without a word, the brown-suited Russian security man shoves him again.

"Do that once more and I'll kick you in the —," the cameraman snarls. He means it.

Gladkiy sees he means it. There is a dialogue between the cameramen and the colonel who speaks English well. It becomes understood that cameramen in particular need mobility around Mrs. Nixon. Reporters also make it clear they must stay close to the First Lady, but within reason, and reason means a spoken request to move, not wordless scrimmages.

The points are well taken. Inside the school, security is more restrained, movement is easier.

During a staged performance for the first ladies in the auditorium, a relaxed man in a dark gray suit, white shirt, and red plaid necktie occupies an aisle seat by the right wall.

After 16 primaries, race narrows to McGovern, Humphrey in California

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — After 16 primaries coast to coast, the Democratic presidential sweepstakes has narrowed to two candidates and one state — George S. McGovern and Hubert H. Humphrey in California.

The showdown between the two South Dakota natives, former neighbors and old friends comes June 6.

To the winner go 271 delegate votes, the title of front-runner for the Democratic presidential nomination, and momentum going into the national convention.

McGovern calls California the "make or break" primary and candidly admits that "by midnight on June 6, we'll have a pretty good indication of whether we're going to win the nomination or not."

Humphrey said the same thing in different words.

"This is the playoff," Humphrey said. "Then we go to the Super Bowl in Miami."

New York State has the largest bloc of delegate votes at the Democratic convention, but unlike California, New York does not have a winner-take-all primary. Individual delegates pledged to certain candidates are selected under a complicated formula.

There are only three serious Democratic candidates left — McGovern, Humphrey, and Alabama's George C. Wallace. Wallace, however, is not on the California ballot, and a write-in effort is difficult in this state.

In addition, Wallace is partially paralyzed from a would-be assassin's shots and cannot campaign.

That makes California a clear-cut, classic showdown between Humphrey and McGovern and the winner takes all the delegates to Miami Beach.

Although McGovern has a solid lead in the number of delegates after sweeping Oregon and Rhode Island in primaries Tuesday.

Egyptian rabbi has left land

CAIRO (UPI) — The Interior Ministry said Saturday that Egypt's chief Rabbi Haim Douek left the country permanently last March 1. But it said his departure was legal and with the full knowledge of Egyptian authorities.

The JTA dispatch said Douek had arrived in Paris and quoted him as saying he left Egypt secretly "to escape the pressures he was subjected to," and that he was "drawing attention to the sufferings of Jews living in Arab countries."

THE BON MARCHE

Boys State session in second day

BOISE (UPI) — The 29th annual American Legion-sponsored Gem Boys State moves into its second day today with city elections having been conducted Sunday on the Boise State College Campus.

The 330 registered delegates representing 118 high schools elected mayors and city councilmen and other officials in their 10 cities.

In other opening activities, dignitaries welcoming the boys included Boise State president Dr. John B. Barnes, Boise Mayor Jay Amyx, and Boys State president Bernie D. Harmon.

Larry Anderson, 1971 Boys State governor, said this year the event has been "revamped" with five deans who split the process of running the governmental workshop which runs through Saturday.

Anderson said the deans are elections, administration, councilors, judicial system, and social.

Loss at Blaine cabins reported

KETCHUM — Five summer cabin breakins were discovered over the weekend, with stolen property in three of the breakins valued at more than $1,300.

According to Blaine County sheriff's officers, four of the breakins were in the Sandy Lane area, about 10 miles west of Ketchum along Warm Springs Road. One occurred at Easley Creek, 10 miles north of Ketchum.

Most cabins involved were unoccupied since last fall.

Saturday, the sheriff's department investigated a burglary at a Sandy Lane cabin, owned by Bill Whitton, Rupert, in which over $800 in goods were stolen. Stolen items included sleeping bags, a pistol, a rifle, chain saw, quilts, canned foods, and a metal detector, the deputy said.

Whitton told officers the breakin occurred between Thursday and Saturday with the thieves entering the cabin by breaking out a window and unlatching the door.

An antique table and chairs, valued at $500, were stolen sometime during the winter from a cabin on Easley Creek, owned by Maxine Doss Byrnes, Twin Falls. Entry was made through the front door after the thieves unscrewed a hasp holding a padlock.

Three other Sandy Lane breakins resulted in minimal or no property loss.

Wreck damage high

ROGERSON — State police reported heavy damage late Saturday when a truck and trailer filled with cattle left U.S. Highway 93 and overturned.

Officers said the trailer of the truck was demolished and three or four of the animals were badly injured. The driver was not hurt. The accident occurred about 6:30 p.m. five miles south of here.

A large crane was called from Northwest Rigging and Crane Co., Twin Falls, to right the vehicle and another truck was sent to pick up the cattle. Officers said the truck, owned by Free Truck Co., California, was enroute to the Gooding sale yard with the stock. Patrolman Frank Mogensen investigated

Price set on apricots

BERKELEY (UPI) — The Apricot Producers of California have set an asking price of $140 a ton for canning fruit this summer, the group's board of directors announced Saturday.

The organization estimates a crop of 120,000 tons, well below the 15-year average of 180,000, because of spring frost damage. About 95 per cent of the nation's apricots are grown in California.

Gem insurance aide favors 'no fault'

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho's new commissioner of insurance says he is in favor of a modified "no-fault" automobile insurance plan for the state, but warns that it will not save the premium-paying public much money.

Robert Hay, who has been heading the state insurance department for the past month, said he will not push for pure "no-fault" insurance legislation when the lawmakers gather in the capitol next January.

But the commissioner feels all the talk about this bill or that may soon be forgotten, because for all indications Congress may be gearing up to pass a federal no-fault plan to be adopted by the states.

"I would just as soon keep the federal government out of this," Hay said. "But if it does pass there would be one good point—the law would be uniform from state to state."

Last week the U. S. Senate Commerce Committee approved a bill establishing a national no-fault car insurance system. Under the plan, anyone injured in an automobile accident would collect damages for his medical treatment and loss of income from the insurance company covering the vehicle in which

Cyclists gathering peaceful

HAGERMAN — About 35 motorcyclists, members of the Brothers Speed Motorcycle Club of Boise, were in the Thousand Springs area of Hagerman Valley over the weekend.

This is the third annual encampment for the cycle organization in the Thousand Springs area.

State police at the King Hill Port of Entry said about 30 riders, covering a mile or so in distance passed the port Saturday with several individual riders following. Another report from Mountain Home indicated about 15 more riders, also believed to be of the Brothers Speed group were enroute later in the day.

Gooding County sheriff's officers, patrolling Hagerman Valley said the group was orderly and no problems had developed.

Tea mostly

LONDON (UPI) — Britons drink 178 pints of beer per year per head.

The British have doubled their coffee consumption since 1956 to a 1970 figure of 35 pounds of coffee per head of population. But they still drink twice as much tea as coffee, 87 pounds per head in 1970, down from 101 pounds in 1956.

HAGERMAN VALLEY, always a popular place for vacationers and sportsmen, had its share of visitors this weekend as the general fishing season of 1972 opened. The Brothers Speed motorcycle club also held its annual meeting in the valley.

Bloodmobile sets drawing at Burley

BURLEY — The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Burley Tuesday from 2 to 6 p.m. at Burley Elks Lodge Hall, announces Mrs. Linda Halouska, county blood chairman.

The quota is 150 pints, reports Mrs. Halouska. In the last quarter Cassia County residents have used 175 pints of blood.

Blood is needed for replacement for Mrs. Mary Maas, Burley, who had open heart surgery at St. Luke's Hospital, Boise. Mrs. Maas needs 10 pints of blood replaced.

Other county residents who need blood replaced are Ernest Green and LaMar Anderson, eight pints each; Dr. E. J. Cutler, seven pints; Pauline Taylor and Bernardo Vigil, six pints each, and Alfred Knight, five pints.

Persons who need blood replaced are urged to phone Mrs. Dave Barry 678-8065; Mrs. S. H. Kunau 678-7350, or Mrs. Halouska at 678-8759.

All residents are urged to donate a pint of blood, Mrs. Halouska said.

Californian injured

HAILEY — A California man injured in a one car accident Saturday afternoon remains in satisfactory condition at Blaine County Hospital.

Charles W. Cox, 20, East Nicholas, Calif., was involved in an accident on U. S. Highway 93-A between Carey and Richfield about 4 p.m. Saturday.

Report praises Burley teachers

BURLEY — The Burley High School staff draws praise from the state evaluation team for its efforts "when equipment and facilities are lacking."

In the comprehensive survey of Burley High School, every academic and vocational department is studied in depth. Some are praised, some criticized, but throughout all departments the instructional staff, by and large, is commended.

The vocational agriculture program, "offered by a well-qualified teacher with generally good facilities," provides a variety of projects for the 82 students enrolled (during the 1971-72 school year). The classroom is spacious, well-lighted and well-kept; the department "does a good job of running a 17-acre school-owned farm," spending the income "wisely in purchasing some needed equipment," and storage is adequate.

Some power equipment is needed, along with newer textbooks, and an advisory council could help to plan projects.

Instructors in other departments, including business education, distributive education, foreign languages, industrial arts, mathematics, music, science, social studies, physical education and the library staff are singled out for praise by the evaluators.

Major faults in the Burley High curriculum are found in the science department, where biology laboratory facilities are deemed to be "totally inadequate" and must be upgraded if "biology is to be considered a laboratory science." The team notes that "All students must have the lab experience."

In addition, instructors should "remove electronics material from the chemistry lab immediately" and use more care in placing students in classes. The electronics equipment has been stored in the chemistry lab, the report says.

In one of the most sharply worded critiques of the report, the surveyors note that "Science cannot be taught without the necessary tools of science any more than welding can be taught from a textbook. A careful study based on a complete inventory should be conducted to see what inadequacies exist."

The math program also comes in for sharp words: "The needs of students not taking math at the college level or not going to college are not met with this program."

Further, "Burley High School is not taking the educational leadership its size and position in the district demands."

And: "There is some indication of planning; however, the vehicle for bringing about needed change seems to be lacking. The staff has indicated a need for an enriched program."

All department instructors, says the report, "have coaching or other extracurricular activities," which should be removed from their assignments.

Home economics, though possessing "a defined philosophy of homemaking in keeping with current trends," and boasting "a competent new teacher who is interested in building the program to meet local and state goals," is not meeting the challenge of preparing students for "home and family life."

The department no longer has the homely and attractive atmosphere it once had, "largely due to adding other classes not connected with the subject in the area. In addition, the enrollment appears very low for the size of the high school."

Also deplorable, according to the evaluators, is the enrollment in foreign language classes, "considering the large concentration of Spanish-speaking people in the Burley area." Only about seven per cent of the student body was taking French, German or Spanish at the time of the survey.

"This percentage is far below the average foreign language enrollment of Idaho schools of similar size," says the report.

In addition, "there are no electronic classroom facilities and the instructional materials provided are generally old and quite inadequate. Supplementary audio-visual materials and cultural realia are noticeably absent from the program."

On the other hand, "the foreign-language preparation and background of the staff is generally good and most have spent extended periods of time in the foreign country."

The evaluators urge that "a committee of patrons, teachers, students and administrators be formed to develop a district statement of philosophy and goals for the foreign language program in the Cassia County schools."

Physical education facilities at Burley High are "outstanding," with the exception of additional storage space, locker accommodations and a permanent weight room. The "professional attitude" of P. E. teachers is also commended.

A more comprehensive girls' athletic program, advanced physical education classes "with emphasis on lifetime sports," and an intramural program are urged by the report.

The area of "trade, technical and industrial education," including shop, welding and auto mechanics, has many limitations, including inadequate space, confusion in registration of students and lack of teaching equipment.

Regarding registration, the evaluators found that "Those in charge of registration have turned away students with basic welding background from advanced welding, while at the same time scheduling students with no basic welding into the advanced welding class."

In addition, "The shop area is completely inadequate for a proper auto mechanics class."

Cassia youth lauded in state evaluation

By LEE TREMAINE
Times-News writer

BURLEY — Cassia County youth come in for high praise in the evaluation of the county's four high schools.

"The youth in this area appear to represent a fresh, vibrant interest in life and a respect for the consequent responsibilities essential to becoming participating citizens," the report declares.

"The opportunity to take advantage of such quality presents a rare and pleasant challenge to the citizens of the school district to put forth a cooperative effort and to expand the opportunities for all the children."

In evaluating the school staff and administration, the survey team admits that "it is too often easy to evaluate a situation and run from the responsibilities of carrying out the recommendations." The team pledges to "offer whatever services (are) possible to help the school board, administration and staff."

An "insecure situation" in Cassia County high schools, says the report in an obscure statement, is being "held together" by the administration. "Solutions have been, at best, 'patch' and 'scratch.' The administration and staff will be just as competent and imaginative as the nourishment that it is fed by the resources of the community. It is the nature of the people to improve and excel as they are inspired by the confidence and support of their fellow men."

Though the administrators, being "residents and members of the school district," admittedly have "a vested interest in the young people and their assignments," the report says "they appeared to have lost interest in having an active part in bringing about educational change. Morale is essential to inspire young people to finish their education and become worthy citizens."

All citizens of Cassia County, the survey concludes, "should cooperate in bringing about better solutions for their school problems."

The district, it should be noted, "does have the financial structure to bring about the changes needed."

The district draws praise from the evaluators for "an excellent policy manual... interest in improvement of the schools... (and) having financial aid to upgrade programs if so desired."

Recommendations include continual updating of the policy manual, giving the administration "leeway to bring about change," initiation of a needs assessment program (planned for this fall), more administrative help, better use of the custodial staff and "a general plan of instructional improvement."

Lincoln deputy files for sheriff

SHOSHONE — Lincoln County Deputy Sheriff Bill Anderson has declared his candidacy for the office of Lincoln County sheriff.

Anderson will be running on the Republican ticket in the August primary election. He was born at Grace in 1923 and graduated from Shoshone High School in 1942. He served nearly three years in the armed services, much of the time in the Pacific.

When Anderson returned to Shoshone he worked for the state highway department from 1947 until 1951 and then went to Utah where he was employed as a civilian policeman at Hill Air Force Base.

He served as police chief for the city of Shoshone from 1957 until 1971 when he became Lincoln County deputy sheriff. He is married to the former Mae Walton, Dietrich, and they have four children.

Anderson is the only announced candidate for the office at the present. Lincoln County Sheriff Thomas Conner has announced that he will not seek re-election. Conner has served as Lincoln County sheriff for the past 20 years.

DEAR ABBY: Recently you printed a letter from someone who claimed to be a "well-adjusted homosexual." There is no such thing as a well-adjusted homosexual; the two terms are antonymous. Homosexuality, male or female, is a form of sexual deviation which is symptomatic of personality disorder. By any reasonable standard of human development, homosexuality is an abnormal human condition which needs competent professional treatment. It is, in effect a form of emotional illness.

I think that you would be as interested as I in what your readers think about the subject.

HAPPY HETEROSEXUAL

DEAR HAPPY: By whose definition is homosexuality an illness? There are homosexuals who live socially well-adjusted, discreet, personally happy lives, whose homosexuality would come as a surprise to many of their close heterosexual friends.

The fact that homosexuality is morally condemned by most people in our culture makes it seem abnormal. In other times and in other cultures it has not always been so judged.

Much of the maladjustment seen in homosexuals is due to the rejection, persecution and guilt imposed upon them by intolerant and ignorant contemporaries.

DEAR ABBY: This letter is in reference to a question you asked in your column recently: "Exactly how does one go about thawing out a Swede?" If you ever receive a practical answer, I beg you to publish it at once.

You see, my wife, altho American born, is of Swedish extraction. Moreover she has an intensely religious background—the kind which stressed "no-no's" concerning anything to do with sex. Because of this she is so inhibited that she is totally unresponsive to my lovemaking. (Unresponsive? Worse yet. She finds it disgusting.)

I've tried everything, tenderness, ingenuity, sex manuals, marriage counselors, but to no avail.

Now, after 10 years of trying to thaw out my little iceberg, this "flame" is pretty well burned out.

Your question, "How does one thaw out a Swede?" has somehow sparked a narrow beam of hope again. If you ever get an answer, do publish it.

DEAR ASHES: If the Reproductive-Biological Research Center in St. Louis, Mo., can't solve your problem, nobody can!

DEAR ABBY: Congratulations to your reader, Leonard M. Lake, in regard to that young woman's decision to marry a conscientious objector. It does not follow that a person with pacifist convictions could not act to protect his family. Take it from no less a spokesman than Mahatma Gandhi—

"He who cannot protect himself or his nearest and dearest of their honor by nonviolently facing death, may and ought to do so by violently dealing with the oppressor. He who can do neither of the two is a burden. He has no business to be the head of a family. He must either hide himself, or must rest content to live forever in helplessness and be prepared to crawl like a worm at the bidding of a bully." Submitted by: SPENCER H. MACCAELUM

CONFIDENTIAL TO R. R. IN PORTLAND, ORE.: If you are serious about locating E. R. to tell her you are sorry and want to make everything up to her, save enough money to hire a private investigator. Bob Lunn wins Atlanta tourney by two strokes

ATLANTA (UPI)—Burly Bob Lunn snapped out of a season-long slump Sunday as he ignored a day-long drizzle to shoot a 13-under-par 275 and win the $130,000 Atlanta Golf Classic by two strokes over Gary Player.

Lunn, who won this tournament four years ago with a 280 total, capitalized on an eagle at the 563-yard, par 5 second hole to post a 3-under-par 69 in the final round.

South Africa's Player, back in the states after a seven weeks absence, started the final round tied with Lunn for the lead, made a late charge after Lunn pulled ahead but then ran into late bogey trouble and settled for a second place with a 71-277.

Lou Graham was third with a 70-278 and Homero Blancas, who went into the water when he gambled for an eagle on the final hole, had a 69 to tie Dave Hill, who had a 71, at 279.

Lunn, who had won a total of only $6,880 previously this year, got $26,000 for his victory and Player got a $14,800 consolation prize.

Lunn, who had finished no higher than 25th in any previous regular PGA tournament this year, moved two strokes ahead of Player with that eagle at No. 2 and the only other time he was even on the leader board came when he bogeyed No. 14.

At that moment, he and Player were both at 12 under but the word came quickly that Player, in the twosome ahead of Lunn, went into the water at No. 15 and when the little South African took a bogey there, Lunn led the rest of the way in finishing like a champion with a birdie on the final hole.

"Of course I would have like to have won," said Player. "But I'm pleased for Bob Lunn. He's had a rough time of it late and I'm glad to see him win."

Gary Brewer, in the 60s his last three rounds here, had a 69-280 to take sixth place. Doug Sanders, with a closing 67, was at 281 along with Bob Murphy (69), Labron Harris (70), and Lunn's playing partner Tom Weiskopf (73).

Jack Nicklaus, who came here after four weeks off the tour to prepared his game for the U. S. Open three weeks away, was the second round leader in this tournament but closed with 75-76 the last two days for a 285 that left him far back in the par-busting pack and he didn't want to talk about the last two days.

"I simply couldn't make myself concentrate," grumbled Nicklaus, who tied the course record with a 64 Friday and appeared to be in shape to go after the second leg of pro golf's first "grand slam"—a drive he began in this state last month when he won the Masters.

Dave Stockton, who also had a record-tying 64 Friday, closed with a 69 for 282 that tied him with Grier Jones who had a final round 70: Ken Still and Jim Colbert were at 283 and Jim Jamieson, Tommy Aaron and Kermit Zarley at 284.

Lunn, who won five tournaments and an average of $90,000 a year from 1968 through 1971, said he was unable to explain why he had been playing so poorly this year prior to this week.

"I think everyone goes through slumps like this," the 215-pound Californian said. "Well, at least almost everyone. I'm just one of those guys. It was a number-of things. Mainly, my putting slacked off."

But Lunn added that he plays better on certain golf courses and the hilly Atlanta Country Club is one of those. "I hit a high ball and it drops in soft and that's what it takes around here."

Richard Karl, the former Alaskan champion who took the first round leads with a 66 on Thursday, finished even farther back than Nicklaus—shooting a 75 Sunday for a 287 total.

Sunday's final round was played under heavy overcast skies and the rain started and stopped through the day. It was raining rather hard by the time Lunn, in the last twosome, reached the 15th hole but slackened off a bit as he finished.

"I thought I had a chance to win but I didn't know for sure until I got the ball into that last hole," said Lunn. "That Player scares you to death. He drops off the tour for six months and then comes back and gives everyone fits."

CSI bows out of tourney

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. — College of Southern Idaho Golden Eagles were eliminated from the national junior college baseball tournament Sunday, absorbing a 12-10 setback at the hands of Merrimac College of St. Louis.

Merrimac commanded most of the way, running up an 8-0 lead through the first six innings. Then CSI put together its best offensive punch of the tournament to move ahead 10-8, only to lose to Merrimac's closing rush.

The Eagles lost two straight in the tournament, winding up the season with a 20-19 record. The team includes only three sophomores.

Atlanta edges L.A. 7-6 in 11th frame

ATLANTA (UPI)—Dusty Baker singled home Hank Aaron in the 11th inning Sunday to give the Atlanta Braves a 7-6 victory over the San Francisco Giants in the second game of a doubleheader after the Giants had won the first game, 3-2.

The Braves opened the eleventh by loading the bases with none out on a double by Felix Millan, a single by Ralph Garr and an intentional walk to Aaron.

Rico Carty and Earl Williams then each bounced into force plays at home before Baker singled to left.

The Giants, who won the first game when Atlanta's Ron Schueler walked in two runs in the seventh inning, got six hits each from Garry Maddox and Bobby Bonds during the doubleheader.

Maddox cracked a homer, two doubles and three singles. Bonds got a homer and five singles.

In the second game, the Braves jumped on top in the first on two walks and a single by Rico Carty. But the Giants took a 2-1 lead in the fourth, scoring two unearned runs after an error by shortstop Marty Perez. One run scored on a wild pitch and another scored on a sacrifice fly by Chris Speier.

San Francisco stretched its lead to 4-1 in the next inning on Maddox' homer and singles by Bonds, Tito Fuentes and Ed Goodson. Then Atlanta got two runs back in the sixth on Aaron's homer, Carty's double and an error wand wild pitch.

Baker is winner in 600 event

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (UPI)—Buddy Baker in a Dodge roared past Bobby Allison's momentarily crippled Chevrolet with only 50 miles to go Sunday to win his second World 600 stock car race and his first super-speedway event of the year.

Allison had led the grueling event for 250 of the 400 laps when both tires of the right side of his car were cut, sending him into the pits on the 368th lap.

Baker used the opportunity to speed into the lead for only the second time of the day. Although Allison's pit crew dashed two tires back onto the car, Baker held off a charge from the Hueytown, Ala., star and flashed across the finish line with a record speed of 142.255 miles per hour.

Baker, whose last win came in the 1971 Rebel 400 at Darlington, S.C., led only six laps in his STP Dodge during the four hour-13-minute endurance test before taking over from Allison.

Baker took home $21,975 in prize money after the Charlotte Motor Speedway race before a packed crowd of more than 80,000.

Allison, who won the 1971 World 600 with the same strategy he used Sunday—trying to lead the entire route—won $16,950.

Six laps off the pace was Charlie Glotzbach, who took third place and $9,625 in a Dodge. Benny Parsons was fourth and fellow Mercury driver LeeRoy Yarborough was fifth.

NASCAR's Golden Boy, all-time money winner Richard Petty, once again failed in his attempt to take his first win on the Charlotte Motor Speedway.

Speedway splits record payoff, protests abound

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind (UPI)—The Indianapolis Motor-Speedway Sunday night split a record payoff of nearly $1,012,000 with the 33 starters in the 500-mile auto race, with winner Mark Donohue receiving a paycheck of nearly $220,000.

The total was about $11,000 more than last year's record jackpot, but Donohue's pay was well short of the more than $271,000 Al Unser received for winning the 1970 "500".

Donohue, Newton Square, Pa., led for only the final 13 laps, thus the major difference in pay.

Second place Unser received more than $95,000 with Joe Leonard, San Jose, Calif., the third place finisher, receiving nearly $59,000.

Gary Bettenhausen, who led the major portion of the 200-lap grind before engine failure eliminated him, received more than $41,000 the fourth highest, although he had to settle for 14th position in the final standings.

The smallest paycheck, more than $13,700, went to rookie Swede Savage, Santa Ana, Calif., who placed 32nd.

Mike Hiss, Tustin, Calif., who finished seventh, was awarded "rookie of the year" honors.

Donohue was earlier confirmed winner of the race despite some of the biggest rhubarbs but an apparent foulup in the pits cost Jerry Grant runnerup honors.

While a protest challenging Donohue as the winner was denied, a second protest made Al Unser the runnerup instead of Grant, who was dropped to 12th position.

That gave Unser a three-year finish of two firsts and a second in racing's richest gasoline derby. Behind Unser, the others through 11th place moved up one spot.

But Grant, Seattle, Wash., lost his No. 2 position in the final amended official finish posted by the United States Auto Club after race stewards allowed a protest by George Bignotti, chief mechanic for the Vel's Parnelli Jones racing team of Torrance, Calif.

Bignotti contended that Grant, on his fifth and final pit stop only 13 laps from the finish, took on fuel illegally from teammate Bobby Unser's pit. Earlier, USAC officials denied charges of illegal refueling by Grant's crew.

Chief Steward Harlan Fengler said evidence shown in films he and other officials viewed earlier Sunday and from reports of witnesses, that Grant's pit crew did indeed refuel his car illegally, and as a result, he was not credited any laps after the 187th.

Fengler said the designer-builder Dan Gurney, now a retired race driver and head of the All-American Racing Team of Santa Ana, Calif., had three days in which to appeal but added, "Dan doesn't deny (fuel) lines were hooked up" from Unser's pit.

"Grant's car was fully in Bobby Unser's pit," said Fengler. "It would have been all right had it been pushed back a few feet into Grant's own pit."

There was no indication whether an appeal would be lodged but Gurney's protest of Donohue's first place finish was disallowed. In fact, Gurney said he accepted Donohue as the winner following a recheck of timing and scoring data.

Also disallowed was a third protest by Dick Sommers, Indianapolis, co-owner of Jim Hurtubise's car. Sommers said Hurtubise, North Tonawanda, N.Y., should have finished 16th instead of 23rd and should have been credited with 171 laps instead of 94.

Fengler ruled Hurtubise was automatically disqualified when his car stalled and went off the race course. It was later restarted and continued in the race.

Donohue led only the final 13 laps, going in front on Grant's final but fateful pit stop, to win in a record speed of 162.962 miles per hour.

The first four went the distance of 200 laps, with Unser, third place Joe Leonard and fourth place Sam Sessions also shadowing Unser's 1971 record of 157.735 m.p.h.

Sam Posey was fifth and rounding out the top 10, in order, were Lloyd Ruby, Mike Hiss, former winner Mario Andretti, Jim Caruthers, and Cale Yarborough.

Final statistics also showed 14 cars, not including Grant, running at the finish, that the lead changed hands seven times, and that Gary Bettenhausen, Tinley Park, Ill., who went out with engine trouble and placed 14th, led 138 of the 200 laps.

Bobby Unser, Al's older brother and the 1968 winner, led the first 30 laps before being eliminated. Grant led 16, and Mike Mosley, the other three before crashing into the wall after losing his right rear wheel on the 57th lap. Mosley was hospitalized in satisfactory condition with second and third degree burns.

Donohue turned in the fastest lap of the race, 187.539 m.p.h.

Tigers defeat Yankees for third straight day

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mickey Stanley drove in three runs and Chuck Seelbach turned in 6-2-3 innings of four hit relief Sunday to pace the East-Division leading Detroit Tigers to a victory over the New York Yankees.

Stanley drove in runs in the second and fifth innings with grounders that were booted by Yankee infielders, and he singled home the decisive run in the seventh to help the Tigers beat the Yankees for the third straight day.

Seelbach, the third pitcher used by Manager Billy Martin, took over for Phil Meeler with one out in the third and runners on first and second. He retired two batters in a row to get out of the inning and then blanked the Yankees until the ninth.

Seelbach got into trouble in the ninth when he walked Jerry Kenney and gave up a single to pinchhitter Bobby Murcer that put runners on first and third with none out. Horace Clarke, attempting to bunt, bounced into a force play at second and Ron Swoboda struck out. But Seelbach then unleashed a wild pitch that scored Kennedy. He then retired Thurman Munson on a pop out to end the game.

The Tigers, who were aided by some shoddy defense, broke a 3-3 tie in the fifth with the help of an error by Clarke. Paul Jata opened the inning with a single and went to third on a one-out single by pinchhitter Jim Northrup. Stanley then hit what looked to be a double play ball to Clarke but in his haste to get the play started, Clarke booted the ball and Jata scored.

Jata led off the seventh with a double and scored on Stanley's one-out single.

The Yankees had tied the score at 3-3 in the third when Roy White walked, scored second and scored on a double by Felipe Alou.

Larceny Is a Girl's Name

A researcher fascinated by funny feminine first names dug into the newspapers, phone books and college rosters to turn up the following girls' legal monikers: Dinette, Chlorine, Larceny, Blooma, Mecca, I like Larceny. Pretty ring to it. Almost as lyrical as Diarrhea. That, you may recall, was selected by a sizable sampling of first-graders as the most poetic feminine name of all.

Call long distance. Perfectly reasonable the telephone company should slip that filler line of house copy into the Yellow Pages. Unfortunately, it showed up therein at the bottom of the listings, for funeral directors and thus made a most peculiar impact.

WRITES L. F. Parsons: "You quoted the medical boys as saying a teaspoonful of sugar is the best cure for hiccups. Wrong! It only works half the time. A teaspoonful of vinegar is much better."

A THIRD of the salesmen write two thirds of the business. A third of the fishermen catch two-thirds of the fish. This parallel performance of salesmen and fishermen is noteworthy. I think the reason? Which is it, talent or hustle?

AM ASKED why so many prisons ban hair tonic. Two reasons. Lot of it is alcoholic. Pass the bottle, Joe. And that greasy kid stuff has been smeared off a body or two that slipped through bent bars.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Handle those obligations in a wise and careful manner if you are to discharge them properly. You can please the one you love now if you try. A more pious manner can be helpful.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Listen to what an associate is planning and go along with the ideas that are good for both of you. You are partly responsible for recent disappointments. Correct it now.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You have much work to do so don't try to throw it off on others. Start early and do it efficiently. Do whatever will improve your health and you will feel happier and look better.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) It's fine to enjoy recreation if you don't take unnecessary risks with your health or your money. Be sure to be careful in travel. The simple and clean pleasures are best.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Know what it is that kind desire of you instead of trying to force them to do things your way. Show thoughtfulness to close ties that will endure you to them. Avoid a troublemaker.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You can go ahead and get much done that is vital to your welfare. Forget all those humdrum duties and concentrate on important ones. Don't neglect important correspondence.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) If you plan your monetary affairs better, you can achieve greater success in the future. Make sure that you are not extravagant in any way. Economy and good sense are necessary.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Make contacts with those who are in the line of endeavor that is important to you. You can now gain your most cherished desires. Think along romantic lines tonight. Be wise.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Use better psychology in dealing with those who are important in your scheme of things. Planning the days ahead with greater intelligence can make them far more successful.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You are able to be with good friends and receive the favors that you need. Being with persons who are confident helps you to have more assurance also. Do some studying tonight.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be one of those persons who will think more of having a good reputation and the goodwill of others than of the mere practical aspects of life. Be sure to give the finest education so there can be a fine combination of both for a successful life. Organizational ability is high which will help your progeny get along well with higher ups.

Man who lost 8 kills self

SIGOURNEY, Iowa (UPI)—Funeral services were held Saturday for a man whose eight children were killed in a car-train crash near their Keokuk County farm in 1956.

Keokuk County sheriff's deputies said the body of Richard P. Hammes, 61, was found Thursday in a wooded area along the banks of the South Skunk River near Ollie. County Medical Examiner Opas Jutabja said Hammes died from a self-inflicted rifle shot.

Hammes was last seen by friends Monday night in Sigourney. His car was found early Thursday morning near an old boat-loading dock beneath a bridge over the Skunk River.

Searchers combed the wooded area and finally found his body in a seated position at the base of a tree.

Hammes' eight children were killed Oct. 25, 1956 when the family car was struck by a Rock Island freight train. It was one of the worst accidents in Iowa history.

His wife, Ruth, was driving the children to school at the time of the accident, and was the only survivor. She was seriously injured.

Mrs. Hammes gave birth to a son, Myron, in 1958. Myron, now 14, is the only survivor of the family. Mrs. Hammes died in 1960 of a heart attack while awaiting the birth of another child. The child was stillborn.

A.J. Foyt injured in race

DUQUOINA, Ill. (UPI)—Veteran Race driver A.J. Foyt suffered burns Sunday when fire broke out in his racer while he was leading the 100-mile United States Auto Club dirt track race here.

Tom Bigelow, Whitewater, Wis., won the race in one hour, seven minutes, 52.80 seconds for the biggest victory of his career.

Foyt, Houston, Texas, was almost a full lap

Foyt, Houston, Tex., was almost a full lap out in front on the one-mile dirt track at the DuQuoin State Fairgrounds when he pulled out of the pit.

Foyt jumped from the car and fell over a hedge before the fire in his clothing could be extinguished. The car kept on running to the first turn.

He was taken to Marshall Browning Hospital where officials said he suffered first and second degree burns on his face, right arm and right leg and a dislocated ankle. He was listed in stable condition.
