Solon demands massacre report

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., has demanded the release of a 260-page secret report drafted by a panel of high-ranking U.S. Army officers which accuses two generals of misconduct in connection with the My Lai massacre.

Excerpts from the so-called "Peers Report" were published by the New York Times in its Sunday edition. The document

Those portions of the report published by the New York Times raise serious questions about the effectiveness of our system of military justice," Aspin said in a statement Sunday. "Gen. Koster and Gen. Young have been accused of 43 specific charges of misconduct. It is clear they should have answered those charges."

"It is foolish for the government to withhold a document, part of which has already been published," he added.

The two generals never faced criminal charges as a result of the investigation because of insufficient evidence. Both, however, were censured and Koster, who had been commandant of West Point, was demoted to Brigadier General.

Aspin demanded that hearings be held on the entire handling of the My Lai case.

Earlier, a rocket slammed into Phnom Penh's National Defense Ministry. The city's military police chief, Shen Kim Eng, told reporters the 120mm rocket killed a girl soldier and wounded three other persons. But a panicked soldier rushing out of the ministry said there were at least three dead and more wounded.

Don't count Connally out

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It is conceivable the GOP convention could nominate Democrat John B. Connally as President Nixon's running mate this year. If Vice President Spiro T. Agnew decides he does not want to run,

But House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford said Sunday he had seen "no evidence nor do I see any effort being made to change the winning combination of 1968."

Warships watch Reds unload ship

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. Navy ships spotted a merchant ship apparently unloading cargo on a beach off the southern coast of North Vietnam but took no action against it, a UPI newsman reported Sunday.

Photographer David Kennerly, aboard the USS Newport News off the North Vietnamese coast, said Navy ships watched the cargo boat for several hours last Friday but did not approach it. Kennerly, who was ship was actually unloading among those who saw the ship cargo. But he said he was told about 50 miles north of the that the Newport News "got Demilitarized Zone (DMZ), said word that a merchant ship was he could not estimate the size unloading on the beach into causing 'moderate shock damage' but no casualties. Jury frees

Angela

By JACK V. FOX

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI) — Angela Davis was freed Sunday and kissed and embraced the all-white jurors who acquitted her. But she said she had not changed her mind about the injustice of the American court system.

The only fair trial would have been "no trial," she said.

Miss Davis, 28, the former UCLA instructor who is an admitted Communist, was found innocent of all charges that she conspired in the San Rafael kidnapping of hostages and murder of a judge.

Shrieks of joy filled the tiny courtroom on her acquittal and the usually stone-faced Miss Davis grinned broadly, said "Gee" and then went out onto a mall to talk to some 400 supporters.

"This is not only the happiest day of my life," she said. "But I am sure the people who struggled for me across this country and around the world are aware that it is a symbol that we are going to free all political prisoners and the oppressed."

As the jurors filed out, the spectators in the 40 by 40 foot room stood and joined in thunderous applause.

At a news conference a short time later, she was asked what she thought of her acquittal by an American jury which included no blacks.

"I didn't think of them as part of the judicial system," she said. "I thought of them as part of the people, people who have to be brought into the fight against injustice."

If you are implying that my acquittal changes my mind about the American judicial system, then you are wrong. The fact of my acquittal means there was no fair trial at all. The only fair trial would have been no trial."

Despite a chain of circumstantial evidence from 97 state witnesses, the seven-woman, five-man jury found there was "reasonable doubt" that Angela knew of, or participated in Jonathan Jackson's break into a Marin County courthouse on Aug. 7, 1970.

The state has charged Angela was a party to the plot, motivated by her love for George Jackson and determination to free him and the other Soledad Brothers.

Superior Court Judge Harold Haley was killed by a shotgun blast in the head in a getaway van. Jonathan Jackson, 17, and two convicts were also killed. Two women jurors were wounded and a deputy district attorney paralyzed for life.

THIRTY FOUR-LEGGED Sun Valley guests head back toward the stables Sunday after a brief, hectic tour of Sun Valley. The boarding horses began their tour about 7 a.m. after escaping from corrals along Sun Valley Road. Highlights included a 100m gallop across an open field towards the lodge, a quick breakfast on the lawn in front of the Harriman Cottage, a side-trip toward the Cottonwood Condominiums and a thwarted attempt to reach Ketchum. The horses were finally rounded up.

Prosecutor Albert W. Harris Jr., downcast and almost overlooked in the tumult of celebration, left the Santa Clara County courthouse complex with no comment.

The jury received the case at 11 a.m. Friday after 13 weeks of trial. They deliberated 13 hours before bringing in their verdicts.

The jury, headed by forewoman Mary Timothy, a medical technician at Stanford University whose husband is a Palo Alto attorney, notified Judge Richard E. Aranson at 10:30 a.m. PDT that they had reached their verdicts.

Aranson looked at the three written forms on the counts of the indictment—kidnap, murder and conspiracy. Then he handed them to court clerk Art Vanek.

When Vanek read the first, not-guilty verdict, there was a gasp in the courtroom, then the sound of sobbing and laughter mixed. When he concluded all three verdicts of innocence,

Mrs. Davis rose and ran to her parents in the spectator section and embraced them and her two brothers and sister.

Mrs. Timothy was asked later what she thought of the American jury system.

"Well, I think it's the best anyone has yet devised," she said.

Angela was asked whether she would seek to return to her post as assistant philosophy professor at UCLA where she was fired by the board of regents.

"I haven't made any plans," she said. "I've been waiting for this day and now I can start making plans." This is the happiest day because it means this is now out of the way so I can resume the struggle against oppression."

Angela was asked what she thought of her personal safety now that she had been acquitted.

"Well, there is a danger," she said. "Over the past week we have received threats. But they are not going to deter me in the struggle to free the oppressed."

Demo governors rap McGovern

HOUSTON (UPI)—Democratic governors from some southern and border states openly rebelled today against the possible nomination of Sen. George McGovern. They contended that his support for defense spending cuts and a Federal minimum income would doom the party to defeat.

The governors complained that McGovern forces were "unfairly" filing hundreds of credential challenges under the reform procedures instituted by the McGovern Commission last year. They said if it was an attempt to put together the 1,500 delegates McGovern needs to win the nomination. The Democratic governors conference got underway here today.

Carter reiterated his belief that should McGovern win the nomination it would mean "disaster" for other Democratic office-seekers throughout the South. "I don't think his massive welfare program and defense cuts are acceptable to the majority of the people," he said.

GOP raps Andrus finance 'stab'

BOISE (UPI) — The Executive Secretary of the Idaho Republican Central Committee says Gov. George D. Andrus took another "stab" at the Republican majority in the Legislature by indicating a potential $2.5 deficit in state spending this year.

Larry Jackson, said Andrus

"justly alarmed" the Greater Boise Chamber of Commerce Wednesday by using the executive pencil to substantiate his legislative session argument this fall," Jackson said. "The Governor has blamed the legislature for the release of his own imposed one per cent holdback on department spending."

He said the latest reports from the State Tax Commission show individual tax revenues and sales tax receipts far exceeding the estimates of both the Governor's office and the Legislature.

True to his word, that he would do everything he could to defeat Republican legislators and safety tax receipts for exceeding the estimates of both the Governor's office and the Legislature.

It isn't raining rain.

It's raining violets.

Great song. It isn't very real but it expresses our dreams in an idyllic world. Occasionally we must wake though, and come back to the real life of the real world... and a day's work.

There's a correlation here. The rain is reality. The violets a romantic dream.

We are reminded of those who insist quite vocally that more and more of our forests should remain untouched, unimproved, uninvaded, unavailable to most people. All this cliché is there. The pristine beauty—Primitive needs—last remaining areas, and so on. They say that to take it all away from the majority of people and to lock it up, is best.

It isn't. That's a romantic dream. The rain of violets. It doesn't improve the forest, and it doesn't help people.

A locked up forest deteriorates. It wastes wood badly needed by a growing population. Where access is difficult such as in Wilderness Areas, the natural threats of insects, disease and fire are the greatest killers of trees, bar none. Wasted trees.

Our already large Wilderness System and Primitive Areas are used by fewer than one-half of one percent of our people. Over 15 million acres of it. No vehicles. No roads. No jobs. The classic "no, no."

Today's healthiest forests, and most used by the majority of people, are the professionally managed ones. They give you needed wood products, recreation, payrolls and other benefits because they're accessible. You can drive into them. They're working forests. They have aesthetic beauty. They're productive to people, towns, industry. They're growing, renewable forests and under today's forest management practices they can last forever.

They're the real forests where it rains real rain. Not the romance of violets... and wilderness.

Go ahead. Smell the violets. Love them. But let's look to real rain and real working forests for reality... like jobs and recreation.

Kellogg victims

untrained

SALMON (UPI) — One miner who survived the May 2nd Kellogg mine disaster says if miners had been trained in respirators usage and had been given enough respirators, many lives could have been saved.

Former Salmon resident and veteran miner Harrell Fowler was one of the last to escape from the Sunshine Mine where a fire took the lives of 21 men. He said, "only one man in 50 ever knew how to use the respirators and we never had fire drills."

He added that another factor in the loss was failure to get into the mine as quickly as possible to rescue those men who were trapped.

He found his way through dense smoke, he said, by using a respirator which filtered the deadly mix.

Jackson asks for reform

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., called today for a three-year, $750 million program to reform the courts and assure justice within 90 days of speedy trials.

Jackson said he would offer an amendment to the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 to provide the funds for court reforms.

The legislation, he said, would require states and localities receiving grants from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration to take effective steps toward assuring trials to defendants within 90 days of arrest or the filing of charges, whichever comes first.

Jackson said his bill would provide funds for additional prosecutors, judges and defense counsel, as well as for the planning of court reforms.

Jackson said "almost nothing has been done by the state and local governments to assure swift and sure dispensation of justice with funds appropriated under the Safe Streets Act."

"My bill emphasizes the Constitutional right to a speedy trial, imposing the requirement of prompt trials as an action-forcing device to speed reform of the whole criminal court system," he said. "Congress must take the initiative in establishing criminal justice reform as a major national goal."

Fast ends

UNITED FARM workers leader Cesar Chavez takes bread from folk singer John Baez at mass in Phoenix, Ariz., Sunday, ending a 24-day fast. Some 6,000 persons attended the afternoon mass. Seated beside Chavez are Richard Ybarra, his brother-in-law, and Joseph Kennedy III, son of the late Sen. Robert Kennedy.

McGovern looks forward

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—George S. McGovern, confident of winning in California, already is looking past Tuesday's primary.

In the month before the national convention he hopes to lock up a first-ballot nomination and "build bridges" to the South and other parts of the Democratic party wary of his candidacy.

The preconvention strategy is twofold: to pick up enough uncommitted delegates and possibly some which belong to Edmund S. Muskie to go over the top; and to meet personally with leaders in the South and others in an effort to unify the party.

Among those McGovern aides most certainly will call are Hubert H. Humphrey and Muskie, although McGovern has said he has given no consideration to the primaries.

The entire strategy hinges on winning in California, with its 271 winner-take-all delegates votes. Without that victory, McGovern concedes it would be difficult to win the nomination at all.

McGovern's campaign aides feel he has "a good chance" to win the New Jersey, New Mexico, and South Dakota primaries on the same day. That leaves New York (278 delegate votes) as the last of the primaries. McGovern hopes effort to win the uncommitted together 500 votes from California and New York, the two biggest delegations.

The entire strategy hinges on winning in California, with its 271 winner-take-all delegates votes. Without that victory, McGovern concedes it would be difficult to win the nomination at all.

A top McGovern campaign aide said the staff now projects that after the New York primary, McGovern will have 1,340 of the 1,500 delegate votes needed to win the nomination. A month ago that projection was 1,230 and the increase is based on better-than-expected showing in several nonprimary states, and despite some losses in others, notably Washington where McGovern dropped a district he expected to get.

McGovern plans a concerted effort to win the uncommitted through June 30. At the time, the administration requested a ceiling of $400 billion effective through June 30, 1973.

Budget deficits that have been estimated as high as $39 billion for the current fiscal year.

Earlier this year, Congress raised the debt limit from $430 billion to $50 billion, making the increase effective only through June 30. At the time, the administration requested a ceiling of $400 billion effective through June 30, 1973.

Budget deficits that have been estimated as high as $39 billion for the current fiscal year.

There are no firm plans, but almost certainly McGovern would meet with George's Gov. Jimmy Carter, who is trying to form a coalition to stop McGovern. He might also meet with Arkansas Gov. Dale Bumpers, who said it was "absolutely essential" for McGovern to have a southern running mate if he wins.

Golombo sons shot at

NEW YORK (UPI) — Shots were fired today at the two oldest sons of all-time underworld leader Joseph A. Golombo Sr. as they drove up to their father's house. There were no injuries, police said.

Police said an unknown person fired several shots at Anthony, 27, and Joseph Jr., 25, at 1:15 a.m., hitting the right front door window of Anthony's car. There were two other persons with the Golobomos when the incident occurred.

The four, returning from an Italian-American Civil Rights League rally in Madison Square Garden, had just parked their car in front of their father's home in the Bay Ridge section of Brooklyn.

A foreign-made revolver of undetermined caliber was recovered in the street-by-police. Anthony Golombo, the oldest of Joseph Golombo's four sons, is a vice president of the civil rights league. Anthony was with his father when the elder Golombo was shot and seriously wounded at a league rally last year.

Joseph Golombo has been recuperating ever since from wounds received in the attack by Jerome Johnson '24. Johnson was shot to death shortly after wounding the elder Golombo.

Today's shooting was the latest incident in a resurgence of underworld activity, touched off, according to some authorities, by the shooting of Joseph Golombo.

Protest jailing

Irish strife continues

BY DONALD O'HIGGINS
BELFAST (UPI) — Protestants today dismantled barricades they erected in Londonderry, Belfast and other areas to protect the Irish Republican Army's "no-go" strongholds in the Roman Catholic areas of the cities.

In Ardoyne, 12 miles north of Belfast, a bomb exploded shortly before midnight outside Hills Hotel, heavily damaging the building but causing no injuries, a British army spokesman said.

The Protestant vigilantes, wearing paramilitary uniforms Sunday, removed all the barriers shortly after midnight without incident. It was the third in other cities on recent weekends, but today's were the first in Londonderry.

The army said the Protestants removed all the barriers shortly after midnight without suspected IRA members.

A group of about 50 youths attacked troops with stones and bottles but later dispersed when soldiers fired several rounds of rubber bullets.

DEAR ABBY: Recently a dear friend passed away, having requested no funeral services whatsoever. She did this in order to spare the family and friends the stress of a funeral. To me that was the height of unselfishness, and an expression of real love.

Funeral services may be a comfort to some, but the full treatment usually makes the final farewell far more painful than comforting. Any method of reducing such pain is a gift of love to those left behind, and the one who plans ahead in this way is to be commended. NO MOURNING!

DEAR NO: I have been privileged to know only one such unselfish person. She was a beautiful newspaper woman, and her name was Maggie Savoy.

DEAR ABBY: I agree wholeheartedly with the person who wants no funeral. I have arranged for a private church service before the notice of my demise goes into the paper. Life has been good to me, and my wonderful friends need not take time out to attend my funeral. I would rather have them go about their business and think kindly of me.

I never send flowers to a funeral. I donate a book to the library instead. But lest you think I am depriving the florists of business, be assured that I am a steady customer because I believe in giving flowers to the living.

J. N. N.: OKLAHOMA CITY

DEAR ABBY: This is for M. M. B. of Greenwood, S. C., who says that she is not going to attend her own funeral.

Well, I am sorry to inform you, but this is impossible. If there is one thing in life we cannot get out of it's attending our own funeral. Even if the body could be taken out to the city dump and burned, it is still a funeral.

I agree, grief is no fun, and no one goes looking for it, but death is a fact of life, and to try to run it under the rug is decidedly unhealthy.

To deny the loved ones the opportunity to pay their last respects at our funeral shows a lack of consideration for them.

When someone you love leaves town, do you go to the airport to bid him a fond farewell? Or do you call on the telephone and leave a message?

THE REV. J. P. G. IN CLEVELAND

DEAR ABBY: Mrs. M. M. B. of Greenwood, S. C., indicated that she would like to hear from others relative to her ideas on her funeral. I wonder if she has ever thought of the gift of sight to two blind persons by her donating her eyes; the gift of health and even life to two persons who need a kidney each; the gift of normal growth to doomed children who are in need of serum from the pituitary glands of donors.

It is possible for anyone to perform such miracles after death by getting in touch with the local eye bank or Lions Club, the National Kidney Foundation, 116 E. 27th St., New York, N. Y. 10016; the Human Growth Foundation, 307-14th Av., New York, N. Y. 10016.

CHARLOTTE R.

DEAR ABBY: I am going to go Mrs. M. M. B. one better—I am not going to my own funeral, and neither is anyone else! I have made arrangements with the San Diego Memorial Society to cremate my remains and scatter the ashes over the ocean. (It's now legal.)

There will be no services for me, but later, if and when my family wish to gather to recall the happy times we had together—and offer their prayers for the living—it's up to them.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Oswald: Some apparently simple hands offer a choice of plays right at the start. Sometimes all will work. Other times all will fail. When only one will work, it is important to choose it.

Jacy: Here is a type in point. West makes his normal lead of the Jack of spades. The four-spot is played from dummy, and East leads the deuce. South is in with the ace and must make a decision.

Oswald: If spades are 6-1 he is not likely to make the hand so the first thing South does is to ignore that possibility. This leaves him two lines of play. The first is to go right-after-a-trump if East holds the ace of clubs nothing is going to hurt South. If West holds the ace of clubs and East gets in with either the ace of trumps or by means of a diamond lead from his partner, the trump play won't succeed. East will lead a club and South will lose two clubs tricks.

Jim: South can do something about those potential club losers before leading trumps. He can try to make dummy's king and queen of spades for a club discard.

Oswald: If East started with just two spades, East will pull the third lead. South will overcut and still be able to make the hand if the ace of clubs is in the right spot.

The spade plays would only cost him at the gammon table a doubleton.

Jim: A good South will decline the discard attempt as the superior play and will be rewarded this time.

SUN VALLEY — Jack Euchon, associate administrator of the Small Business Administration, will be featured speaker at the tenth annual convention of the National Ski Areas Association Meeting Tuesday through Thursday.

Over 400 managers and developers of privately owned ski areas from throughout the Nation are expected to attend the annual session. The three-day meeting will explore ecologists and environmentalists which result in ecology and environmental greatly-increasing costs.

"The industry," he related, "will require hundreds of millions of new dollars to meet the anticipated 15 per cent annual growth rate in the years ahead."

Euchon will discuss interim and term debt financing, existing and possible future plans for Federal Agency participation in recreational area development, and tools to encourage private capital investments in existing and future ski area growth.

Doug Sanders birdies 18th to edge Trevino

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (UPI) — Doug Sanders sank a birdie putt on the 18th hole to defeat a surging Lee Trevino by one stroke Sunday in the $175,000 Kemper Open.

Sanders, 38, making a comeback from painful tendonitis in his wrist, started off the final round nine under par and sank five birdies against one bogey for a scoring four-under-par 68.

His total for the tournament was 14-under-370.

The fun-lover with skirt and pepper hair pocketed the $35,000 first prize money after the tightly-contested final-round with Trevino.

The Mexican star, who also began the round at nine under, sank five birdies against two bogies, including a four on the par-three-eighth hole, which Trevino calls "the worst hole in the world."

Trevino and Sanders roared into the lead early in the final round and matched scores until Trevino birdied No. 6 to go one stroke ahead.

Labron Harris of Stillwater, Okla., fired a four-under 68 to finish third with a 277.

"I'm so pleased to win again," said Sanders. "There's no question I can win now."

The putt on 18 was a blessing from the sky, some people say it was 20 feet, some say it was 40; hell, it broke that much," he said.

When asked what the win meant to him, he said, "It means I'm back in the Masters, back in the tournament of champions and it gives me the confidence back again."

Sanders' last win came in the 1970 Baltimore National.

First-round-leader Cesar Sanudo, who also went to the final round nine under par,

finished one-under-par 71 on the

Quail Hollow Country Club

course to finish in a three-way

for fourth place with Gary

Player and Bruce Devlin at 10-

under.

Sanders got off to a miserable

start Sunday with a double

bogey on the first hole, but

played consistent golf after

that, including three birdies.

Second and third round leader

Gibby Gilbert blew up Sunday

and dropped from under par

to seven under by way of his

hodge-podge 75.

Ray Floyd, 1969 PGA champion, tied for fifth place at nine-under with Tom Shaw and Dave Hill.

An estimated 23,000 fans lined

the Quail Hollow course under a clear sky with scorching 80-

degree temperatures.

Sanders and Trevino played

close to the leaders throughout

the tournament. The injury

Mexican shot a 69 every day, while bogeying the eighth hole every time out.

"They ought to hang the guy who designed that hole," Trevino said.

Sanders, whose best finish

this year was a tie for second

at Houston, fired a 71 in the first round, following with

consecutive 68s.

final round nine under par,

finished one-under-par 71 on the

Quail Hollow Course

course to finish in a three-way

for fourth place with Gary

Player and Bruce Devlin at 10-

under.

Sanders got off to a miserable

start Sunday with a double

bogey on the first hole, but

played consistent golf after

that, including three birdies.

Second and third round leader

Gibby Gilbert blew up Sunday

and dropped from under par

to seven under by way of his

hodge-podge 75.

Ray Floyd, 1969 PGA champion, tied for fifth place at nine-under with Tom Shaw and Dave

Hill.

An estimated 23,000 fans lined

the Quail Hollow course under a

clear sky with scorching 80-

degree temperatures.

Sanders and Trevino played

close to the leaders throughout

the tournament. The injury

Mexican shot a 69 every day, while bogeying the eighth hole every time out.

"They ought to hang the guy who designed that hole," Trevino said.

Sanders, whose best finish

this year was a tie for second

at Houston, fired a 71 in the first round, following with

consecutive 68s.

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, JUNE 6, 1972

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Whatever long-range plans you have in mind can now be tackled successfully by a fresh-new approach. Do not take unnecessary risks and chances. Show those of experience that you are willing to go along with their viewpoints and sidestep any arguments.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) If you talk over with others what you most desire, you get very fine advice and suggestions. You can make that appointment now that has been impossible to do before. Keep busy and keep happy.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) If you give that financial matter your full attention, you find you can be very successful with it. You have some new idea that requires time before trying to put it across. Study it thoroughly first.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Projects of future importance should be studied well. Try to get the assistance of a good pal so they mature faster. Making new contacts is easy and you can please old friends now, also. Do this.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) If you follow through with what bigwigs expect, you get along well. Do not take that big risk an associate wants of you. Handle any crisis matter satisfactorily. Show you are conscientious.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You can easily gain the goodwill of one who has the information that is vital to your welfare, so get busy early on this. Keeping are forgetful with co-workers, you find you can get into trouble. Avoid this.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You have obligations to fulfill and should do so with the aid of experts who give you good advice and help. Don't go along with one who is frivolous and could get you into a peck of trouble. Show you have willpower.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) A good friend from afar has a fine project for you to work on wisely but you are tempted to go along with someone else, which is not good. Get busy and make plans for expansion. Take it easy tonight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Plan how to meet responsibilities better in the future and clear the slate for bigger things. A good day to think over that situation with an attachment. Do whatever you believe is best.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You want to go out for pleasure but be sure to include an associate for best results. Not a good day to dwell on the monetary side of your life. Await a better day for such and then you will have good results.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Get on the good side of a clever person within your family circle and don't force your own views on anyone. Keep them to yourself. Buy the right articles for your home that impresses considerably.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Instead of fretting about what you cannot help; get out to activities where you can sharpen your mind, sense. Find the right people who can be of great assistance to you. Take it easy tonight.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Listen to what a family tie has to say instead of going along with one who paints a very bright picture but is really a phony. Get a good day's work done. Do some entertaining at home in the p.m.

If YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY — he or she will be one of those clever young people who can become quite a success in life because there is the ability to plan and organize well, then carry through efficiently with all the work required. Much exercise is necessary early in life since there is a strong nature in this chart which produces tremendous energy which has to be controlled. The spiritual studies are most important early, too.

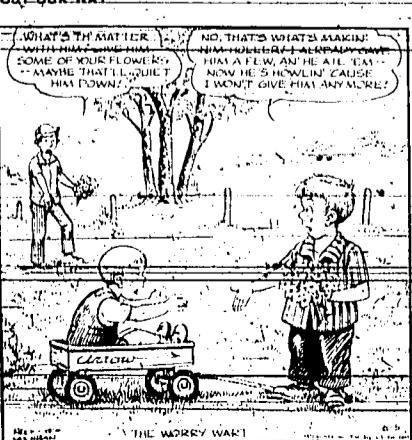

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Women On Pill Lose Less Time

Married working women who do not take The Pill lose an average of 6.6 days from the job per year. Married working women who do take The Pill lose an average of 4.7 days from the job per year. Such were the findings of a physician who concluded therefrom that the medicated ladies tend to be sturdier employees than the Pillless girls.

STATISTICS show the biggest day of the week for the granting of divorces is Tuesday. Why?

To simulate a genuine blush, it is merely necessary to hold the breath while counting to 60. This information is for that sophisticated girl who may feel inclined sometimes to fake it.

TRUE LOVERS feel back. So said that famous expert in romantic relationships "Arthur" Richman. "When a woman refuses to quarrel with a man," said he, "she is turned off him."

LATEST STATISTICS show Johnson is not the most common surname in this country after all. Smith is. Johnson is No. 2. Williams or Williamson is No. 3.

YOU'VE HEARD this gone or that one sing the Irish ballad "Danny Boy." But do you know the original melody? That heavyweight boxer most likely to beat Joe Frazier is not Muhammad Ali but George Forman. That film actress of star billing least apt to be recognized on the street is Raquel Welch. That actress most likely to make the largest sum of money — gone or that one sing the Irish ballad "Danny Boy." But do you know the original melody? That heavyweight boxer was supposed to be? No, not Danny Boy's ladyfriend. His father. The old man was dying. And he's already lost two other sons in battle. And now Danny was off to the wars.

This image is a collage of numerous classified ads from a vintage newspaper, likely from the 1970s. The ads are arranged in a grid-like fashion across the page. Categories include:

- Business Property: Listings for mobile homes, acreage, and office space.
- Real Estate: Ads for land, houses, and specific properties like "TWIN FALLS" and "JOHNSTONE REALTY".
- Automotive: Listings for cars, trucks, and trailers, including "FLEETWOOD" and "M.K. MOBILE HOMES".
- Household Goods: Items like "BEDROOM DUPLEX", "BEDROOM BASEMENT", and "BEDROOM AWNING CO".
- Services: Services such as "PAINTING", "CARPET LAYING", and "CARPET CLEANERS".
- Personal Ads: A prominent section for "WANTED" and "FOR SALE" items.
- Entertainment: An ad for "SIMPSON'S MOBILE HOMES" featuring a cartoon character.
- Specialty Ads: An ad for "Let An Expert Do the Job!" with a central figure holding a wrench.

The ads are written in a mix of bold and regular typefaces, with some featuring small illustrations or logos. The overall layout is dense and typical of mid-20th-century print media.

Officer survived on berries

SAIGON (UPI) — Capt. Roger C. Locher, who spent 23 days behind enemy lines in North Vietnam, lived on berries, nuts and banana water and even raided a farmer's garden while waiting to be rescued, the Air Force said Saturday.

The 24-year-old native of Sabo, Kan., was picked up by an American helicopter Friday halfway between Hanoi and China.

Locher ejected from his F-4 Phantom jet when it was hit by a missile from a North Vietnamese plane May 10 during stepped-up air raids ordered by President Nixon the previous day to stop delivery of war supplies to the Communists.

"When I opened my eyes, I was in my parachute and just chives. They had some pretty airplane hit the ground right below," he said.

Landing in the jungles 70 miles northwest of Hanoi, he existed on fruits, nuts and the North Vietnamese anti-aircraft gunners he heard but because of the sparse diet, "but never saw, the Communists, so otherwise was in excellent condition," the Air Force said.

One problem was water. One day I eyed a banana tree all day. It didn't have any bananas on it, but I remembered I could get water out of it. Just before evening I stuck a hole in it and got myself three pints of good banana water."

On another occasion, Locher said he "went through some-first time I made radio contact."

A rescue armada of slow-flying A-1E Skyraider fighters from the U.S. base at Nakhon Phanom, Thailand, headed bombers and a Super Jolly Green Giant helicopter headed north again. Locher crouched in an abandoned North Vietnamese hut at the base of a steep hill.

Overlook

LUCKY, A 10-foot East African reticulated giraffe, checks the problem as Leon Leopard works on changing a flat tire on the truck transporting Tucky and another giraffe to the Lion Country Safari in Atlanta, Ga. Lucky, who will be 1 year old June 9, was picked up Friday at the St. Louis Zoo, but the non-stop trip to Atlanta was delayed when Leopard, a native of Waco, Tex., had to stop and change the flat. The other giraffe was picked up at the Oklahoma City zoo. (UPI)
