Explosive put down

Blast shakes pond area

Hagerman blasts clear out rushes

By LARRY HOVEY
Times-News Sports Editor

HAGERMAN — Whether a public service or instant clearing and snagging, aquatic vegetation clogging open water at the Hagerman Refuge is going up in smoke.

A couple of practice blasts Tuesday by a Navy team of underwater demolition experts showed the project could be feasible.

The team set off two blasts. The first was from 75 pounds of explosives at ground level to clear the rushes and some of the muck. The second was from 300 pounds to hollow out a channel about 15 feet wide and six to seven feet deep.

With none of the neighbors reporting any window damage and the livestock in neighboring pastures showing nothing more than the expected jump at the time of detonation, it would appear the marsh vegetation will fall before the planned war of 16,000 pounds of Navy explosives.

The work is proposed for three reasons. The primary concern is the flow of spring water through the ponds that offer fishing during the summer and refuge for migratory waterfowl in the fall and winter.

Because the bullrushes had clogged the ponds, the flow was curtailed to little or nothing. The decaying vegetation, equipped with low flow, caused the water temperature to climb in the summertime and oxygen depletion and fish kill set in.

By using the blasts, the Navy team also deepened the pond enough to prohibit quick regrowth.

Idaho Fish and Game Department biologists Robert Bell, fisheries, and Dale Turnipseed, birds and animals, like the results of the blasting.

It leaves "dikes" in between deep channels. The islets created offer shade and cover for fish plus ideal nesting sites for the numerous diving duck species and usually a family or two of Canada geese, they said.

In addition, it beats walking a dragline out into the marsh and winding up with mounds of muck and ooze everywhere.

The idea for the blasting came from Guy Harris, a department employee who became aware of the blasting techniques while a UDT member during World War II.

"I wrote to San Diego and asked them if there was a way we could buy some of this explosive commercially to run a test or two," Harris reports. "I got this letter back that said the Navy might be interested in making an experiment and if it payed out, do the job as a public service and also as a way of training some men. It just grew from there."

The explosive comes in a rubber hose-like casing that disintegrates during the blast. It comes in 25-foot, 50-pound lengths which can be connected. It makes it easy for a man or two to drag a couple hundred pounds through the dense marsh vegetation.

Burley girl still critical

By GEORGIA LAYTON
Times-News writer

BURLEY — Debbie Flowers, 17, one of several Burley High School band members injured Monday night, remains in critical condition but "holding her own" today.

She is being treated at Cassia Memorial Hospital for injuries sustained at 10:10 p.m. Monday when a car driven by Milo Hatt, 17, Burley, crashed into marching band members and Stappertes, a pep group, on 24th Street in Burley.

Listed in good condition today are Deanna Winks, Mike Brown and Steve Woolstenhulme, other members of the marching group. All are teenagers. Don Black, another member, was dismissed from the hospital Tuesday. In all, 17 were treated for injuries. Hatt and his passenger, Judy Reeder, 17, Burley, were not injured.

The city police report on the accident shows the Hatt vehicle, traveling east on 24th Street, skidded 201 feet before the point of impact with members of the marching group which was also facing east.

The vehicle came to rest at the curb facing southeast following the impact. Damage to the vehicle was listed on the report at $200.

Hatt is charged with driving while intoxicated and reckless driving. Arraigned before Magistrate Gleason Anderson Tuesday, he entered a plea of innocent to both counts and was released on $100 bond. No date for his trial has been set.

Michael Chesley, Burley High School band instructor, called a meeting for 8:30 p.m. today at the school band room for students and parents to discuss a trip to Canada to participate in the Calgary Stampede.

Marchers were practicing for the event when the accident occurred. Several band instruments are missing and anyone who may have picked them up at the accident scene, Monday night is asked to call the high school.

Money mart reopens

LONDON (UPI) — Europe's money markets reopened on a note of caution today, uncertain whether they were in the middle of a new monetary crisis. The British pound showed a devaluation of about 4.6 per cent and the U.S. dollar was holding steady.

The markets were closed last Friday when Britain decided to let the pound "float."

Economy signs continue rise

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government's index of leading economic indicators rose for the twelfth consecutive month in May but the increase was slight, the government reported today.

The monthly index, considered one of the best barometers of how the economy will move in the future, gained 0.2 per cent in May compared to average monthly gains of 1 per cent over the past year and a half.

Harold C. Passer, assistant commerce secretary, said "the relatively small increase in May does not alter the fact that a strong upturn has been noted. Thus, the index continues to signal that strong economic growth is ahead."

Of the eight indicators presently available, only housing permits and industrial materials prices increased in May but they rose sufficiently to offset declines of the other six.

Declining indicators were the length of the average work week, new orders for durable goods, capital goods orders, stock prices and the price-labor cost ratio.

Initial claims for unemployment insurance picked up in May, considered an unfavorable sign for the index.

Night-long Jerome plan draws fire

By CHARLOTTE BELL
Times-News writer

JEROME — The trouble-plagued old Frontier Theater building will reopen under new management here Thursday.

Already controversy has arisen.

The building, which most recently housed Magic Valley's first "XXX" theater, will soon hold "late-night rock music concerts for young people."

The concerts are scheduled from 1 a.m. to 5 a.m.

The new managers of the theater, Mr. and Mrs. James Sutterby, Jerome, said they will show family-style movies during the day in addition to the night concerts.

Even before the opening, opposition to their late-hour plans developed.

Jerome Police Chief Howard DuBois said Tuesday his department will "discourage" the late-hour shows.

"The after-hour aspects of the theater encourages the youth of the community to violate the curfew laws and also encourages them to mingle with older and possibly less desirable subjects," DuBois said.

"Even if Mr. and Mrs. Sutterby are able to hire an off-duty policeman this will not guarantee that the youth of the community would remain in the theater and not be running the streets at all hours of the night," he said.

DuBois said Jerome citizens should know that Mrs. Sutterby had been arrested under the name of Sandra Trussell Blake by Jerome police on June 7.

She was charged with producing a controlled substance after she allegedly grew marijuana near her Jerome home.

She was arraigned before Magistrate Russell Shaud and was freed on $2,000 bond, DuBois said. She is scheduled to appear for a preliminary hearing in July.

DuBois said the theater managers had approached him to determine whether their plans were legal.

The chief said he told them that there was nothing illegal about their plans, but nevertheless expressed his "disapproval."

The chief said Tuesday he would again ask the managers to curb their late-hour programs.

He said he had received verbal approval to "discourage" the plans from the Jerome mayor and a majority of councilmen.

He said he had no objection to the planned daytime family shows.

The Sutterbys could not be reached for comment.

Jerome police commissioner Marshall Everheart said today the council is working on an ordinance to govern places of amusement in Jerome by the requirement of their licensing.

"Although the ordinance cannot be made retroactive in respect to the theater, it will still be required that they be licensed, which would have to be renewed on a yearly basis."

"And the council could put some pretty stringent requirements for the application of the license," Everheart said.

New US pullouts planned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon announced today an additional 10,000 GIs would be pulled out of Vietnam over the next two months, reducing the troop level to 30,000 by Sept. 1.

At the same time, Nixon announced, effective immediately, that draftees would no longer be assigned involuntarily in Vietnam.

Ronald L. Ziegler, presidential press secretary, said Nixon would have another announcement on the subject of troop levels before Sept. 1.

Ziegler said the President's previous announcement that there would be a force level of 49,000 in Vietnam by this Saturday would be met.

He said the additional withdrawals were decided upon after consultation with the government of South Vietnam and "a thorough review of the situation" on the battlefield.

Ziegler said that when the level of 39,000 was reached Sept. 1, Nixon would have withdrawn more than 510,500 troops since he began the program in July, 1969.

2 men held in shooting

By MIKE ROBERTSON
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — Two Twin Falls men have been arrested and charged with assault with intent to murder in connection with a shooting here Monday evening.

Arrested this morning were Jerv Grant O'Dell, 25, and Delbert Leo Crawford, 27. According to Capt. Tim Qualls, Twin Falls police department, detective division, James O'Dell, 21, Twin Falls, was shot in the incident. O'Dell is listed in "fair condition" in Magic Valley Memorial Hospital with gunshot wounds in the abdomen.

Hospital officials said he received surgical treatment Monday night for the wound. According to Qualls, the incident began over "a baby sitting problem." The two O'Dells and Crawford went to the residence of Clifford W. Trammell, 257 Sidney St., and apparently threatened the lives of Trammell and his wife.

Trammell, armed with a .410 gauge shotgun, attempted to protect himself with the firearm as the three men came into his residence.

Qualls said Trammell fired from a distance of 10 to 15 feet when the men advanced, hitting James O'Dell. Qualls said Trammell shot in self-defense. Trammell was not held.

Crawford had been released Tuesday morning on parole from the Idaho State Penitentiary in Boise.

Daley asks total gun seizure

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago urged Congress today to "take the guns away from every private person."

"As far as I'm concerned the only purpose of a hand gun is unauthorized hands to kill," Daley told a Judiciary subcommittee.

Representing the U.S. Conference of Mayors, Daley supported legislation "which would take the guns away from every private person, but in the absence of such legislation, there should be the severest penalty for the person committing a crime with a gun or possessing an unregistered gun."

TF landfill shift to county cleared

TWIN FALLS — City and county officials reached preliminary agreement Tuesday on transferring operation of the city landfill to the county.

The agreement was reached following state requirements that county solid waste disposal facilities be upgraded.

County officials say operation of the central sanitary landfill would best serve county users as well as city users.

Final approval of the transfer must be given by city councilmen and county commissioners.

Beginning July 1, the county will assume responsibility for the city landfill, but the city will continue the maintenance and operations for a 30-day period to give the county time to prepare for full control.

Nixon sets news meet Thursday

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon will hold a nationally broadcast news conference Thursday night in the East Room, the White House announced Wednesday.

Exact time of the broadcast was to be announced later.

It will be the first televised news conference Nixon has held since June 1, 1971, and also the first time in more than a year the White House has announced a press conference in advance.

Troops launch offensive

SAIGON (UPI)—More than 10,000 South Vietnamese marines and paratroopers launched a massive offensive on the heels of U.S. air and naval bombardments in Communist-held Quang Tri Province today but ran into immediate North Vietnamese resistance.

The South Vietnamese troops surged over the My Chanh River defense line 20 miles north of the old imperial capital of Hue in a drive to sweep Quang Tri clear of Communist troops who have held the northernmost province since May 1. But Lt. Col. Do Dang Bo in Hue said dug-in North Vietnamese gunners fired massive artillery salvos at the advancing government troops and small pockets of Communists battled to halt the northward advance.

The air war over North Vietnam also intensified as U.S. warplanes flew through heavily overcast skies Tuesday to bomb the country's major airport and truck repair yard two miles from the center of Hanoi for the second consecutive day, the U.S. command said today.

Waves of Air Force F-4 Phantom jet fighter-bombers also hit a gasoline and oil storage area just eight miles above the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ), separating the two Vietnams, spokesmen said. Their bombs blew up six tanks capable of holding 32,000 gallons of petroleum, cut a fuel pipeline and caused a "three-acre oil-fed fire with flames reaching to 300 feet and smoke billowing up to 7,000 feet," spokesmen said.

The storage area presumably was feeding gasoline and oil to tanks and trucks being used by Communist troops north of Hue.

Bo said today's northern drive involved more than 10,000 troops. The spearhead on the eastern flank was a two-regiment, marine task force totaling about 4,500 men with an equal number of paratroopers on the west. He said armored columns from other units made up the balance of the attacking force.

Vietnam debate placed on ice

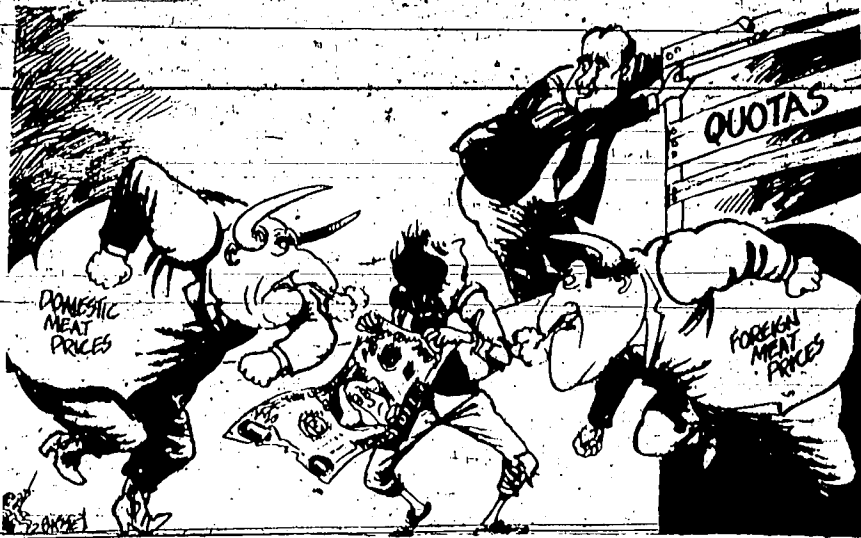

WASHINGTON (UPI)—With a thumping endorsement of President Nixon's policy, the House has put the congressional debate over Vietnam on ice until after Democrats select their presidential nominee.

The next attempt to enact the war legislation will not come before mid-July, when Congress returns from the recess it begins this weekend, for the Democratic National Convention.

Longtime war critics Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., is expected to be chosen as his party's presidential candidate, a move that some feel will solidify Republican support behind Nixon and Democratic opposition against him.

Doves in the House suffered some erosion from their ranks Tuesday when they lost 244 to 152 in an attempt to add to the $21.3 billion military hardware bill an amendment backing a halt to U.S. military action in Indochina by Sept. 1, subject only to a return of prisoners and a safe withdrawal of remaining forces.

"Now, you've got a choice — right?"

'No-fault' idea backed

TWIN FALLS — Marvin E. Lewis, San Francisco, in Twin Falls Tuesday, said trial lawyers favor no fault insurance but not the proposed federal no fault bill.

This, Lewis, president of the American Trial Lawyers, said, would close the door of the court room to the person who suffers the many unpleasant consequences of auto accident injuries that cannot be paid for simply by paying the medical bills.

If the presently proposed federal no fault legislation is passed, it would force states to adopt a similar policy, taking the rights of the states to determine their own regulations.

No fault, Lewis said, would remove the blame from the drunken driver or the one high on some type of drugs and leave his victim no basis for general damages.

Lewis, in Twin Falls in preparation for an address today before the Idaho Bar Association, said attorneys oppose the no fault measure, but not because of the cases they would lose.

Rather, he said, because the public has been misled and is not aware of the position such legislation would leave them in the event of an automobile accident and injuries.

"The public has been lead to believe the measure would save them thousands of dollars in insurance premiums, when actually the legislation would be saving the insurance companies millions in payments which is the reason for the proposed bill," he said.

Lewis said attorneys are urging the public to become familiar with the situation and to write their congressmen urging such legislation not be adopted.

MARVIN E. LEWIS
...no-fault OK

Some states, the San Francisco attorney said, have good no-fault insurance laws and the trial lawyers would favor a federal measure on the same basis as laws now in use in Oregon for example.

In Massachusetts, where a law similar to the federal proposal is in effect, Lewis said 78 per cent of benefits were lost to the people involved in accidents.

In a nine-month period insurance companies in that state paid over $4 million in benefits, but after the no fault law was adopted, the same number of accidents with about the same degree of severity resulted in only $800,000 in benefits.

Under a no-fault system, Lewis said the injured could sue only if he or she could prove total disability, permanent inability to perform bodily functions or permanent disfigurement.

Lewis said he favors the proposed legislation to control hand guns.

Musicals featured in TF band concert

TWIN FALLS — Selections from two Broadway musicals will be featured in the Twin Falls Municipal Band concert Thursday.

Lawrence Curtis will conduct the concert at 8:15 p.m. at the city park band shell. Featured will be selections from "West Side Story" by Bernstein and from "Showboat" by Kern.

Other numbers include "Green Briers of Wexley March," by Nestico; "Bugler's Holiday," by Anderson, performed by a trumpet trio; "World Events March," Zamecnik; "The Thunderer," Sousa; "Get Together and Light My Fire," a medley of a medley of patriotic songs by George M. Cohan and "Triumphal March," Rosza.

'Extra effort' asked July 6

TWIN FALLS — Blood donors are urged to "put forth extra effort" for the July 6 Red Cross drawing here.

The event will be held from 1 to 6 p.m. at the American Legion Hall. Quota is 150 pints.

Burt Huish, blood program chairman, said since July is a vacation month with many persons out of town, prospective donors are asked to make an extra effort to donate, especially O negative type donors.

Dr. William A. Kendall will be the attending doctor.

Huish said the purpose of the Boise Regional Red Cross Blood Program, in which the Twin Falls Red Cross chapter participates, is to maintain an adequate supply of blood and blood products to meet the needs of residents in the area which it serves.

The Boise Regional Red Cross Blood Program was started in 1949 and now includes 37 counties in Idaho, eastern Oregon and one county in Washington. It requires about 500 pints per week to meet the demands of the region.

Each chapter must reach its quota each time for the program to operate at maximum efficiency, Huish said. Replacement of blood used is only a moral responsibility, he said; there is no financial penalty if the blood is not replaced but replacement helps to maintain an adequate supply.

Budget panel meets

TWIN FALLS — The Legislative Budget and Fiscal Committee will meet in Twin Falls on Thursday.

The committee meeting is scheduled to begin at 9 a.m. in Room 139, Vo-Tech Building, College of Southern Idaho.

The committee is composed of members of both the Senate Finance and House Appropriations Committees, who consider interim legislative budgetary matters between the sessions.

The Idaho Department of Education's budget and expenditures will be audited during the meeting, Penney said. Interested persons are invited to attend the meeting.

S. Park quits water district

TWIN FALLS — Withdrawal of the South Park area from the newly created Twin Falls Irrigation System was asked in petitions filed at City Hall Tuesday.

Residents of the area will meet tonight at 8 p.m. in the VFW Hall, 333 Highland Ave., to organize plans for maintaining their own irrigation system.

George Michael, city engineer and public works director, said the petitions filed with the city have been checked and contain more than the 50 per cent of residents signatures necessary to withdraw from the city system.

Mrs. Alpha Cederburg, 221 Washington St. S., who submitted the petitions, said they contain 108 signatures. Residents using the ditch water for irrigation purposes, under the city regulations, may withdraw from the district at any time if half or more of the properties wish to do so, providing they assume the responsibility of water deliveries and irrigation ditch maintenance.

Mrs. Cederburg said tonight's meeting of South Park residents will result in establishing a method of maintenance and management of the ditch water. Michael said of the 28 original units in the Twin Falls irrigation system, 14 have now withdrawn. These no longer are assessed city maintenance fees which amount to an average of $10 or so per year per city lot. Persons with larger lots or acreages within the city found the fees too high to be practical, Michael said, and many adjustments were made for these persons.

Michael said persons handling their own maintenance and delivery of water must deal directly with the Twin Falls Canal Co., and the city no longer is involved in the water problem.

Some of the areas where property owners have withdrawn from the system are having problems while others are not, he said. Each area withdrawn must have an individual responsible to the canal company.

TWIN FALLS — Two car stereos with a total value of about $200 were stolen in separate incidents Monday night or early Tuesday morning.

An eight-track tape deck was taken from the unlocked car owned by Mary Bengoechea, Twin Falls. The car was parked in front of her residence. She reported the loss at $40.

Bill Whitten, Twin Falls, reported to the police a stereo deck and several tapes, valued at about $160 was taken from his car parked in front of his residence.

Plan for merger ordered

BOISE (UPI) — A legislative interim committee has directed preparation of a tentative plan for government reorganization, despite fears it will defeat a proposed constitutional amendment.

Action was taken at a meeting in Boise Tuesday at which the committee discussed the proposed amendment to limit to 20 the present 268 state agencies.

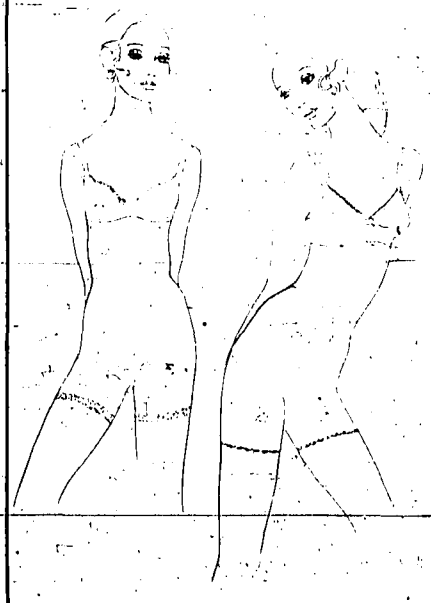

"I think we better have something concrete to talk about... or if (the reorganization amendment) isn't going to make it," said Rep. Larry Jackson, R-Boise.

Other Republican members of the bipartisan committee agree. Democrats, however, suggested the proposal be put before the people just as it is and if the electorate approves it then develop a plan based on input from the general public.

This is similar to the approach desired by Gov. Cecil D. Andrus, also a Democrat.

Air Piracy

The strike called by airline pilots was only partially effective but it did focus the world's attention on the need for action against nations that harbor hijackers or encourage air piracy.

In any event, the UN Security Council is giving belated consideration to the problem and it is reported nearing agreement.

The International Civil Aviation Organization, a UN-related body composed of representatives of 124 countries, under pressure from the U.S., modified its constitution to permit imposition of sanctions against nations that shelter or encourage shyjacks.

Full cooperation between nations is urgently needed to halt the increase of ransom and political demands by desperate men willing to jeopardize the safety of passengers and crews.

Pilots want a program that would include denial of air service to countries that shelter shyjacks and shut off ground service to airline controlled by non-cooperating nations.

If there were no haven on earth to which shyjacks could direct a landing, there would be an immediate end to a large number of shyjackings. Other means must be found to stop the criminals who ransom planes and passengers and parachute from the plane.

Members of the International Federation of Airline Pilots threatened further strike action if the Security Council does not agree upon a deterrent course.

The strike should not have been necessary but the Security Council's failure to act immediately was blamed.

Communication and commerce between nations is too vital to be jeopardized by a few criminals.

Every means to prevent would-be shyjacks from boarding planes are urgently needed. When those measures fail, apprehension and punishment of the criminal should be swift and certain.

Get In Step

Defense Secretary Melyin Laird has done everything but fall down on the floor and threaten to hold his breath unless Congress agrees to support the administration's plan to modernize out "offensive strategic forces."

Never quite having gotten into the spirit of the arms limitation talks with the Soviet Union, Laird insists we need all kinds of new weapons systems to make sure we are better at making peace than our enemies are.

Without the new weapons, he says, he can't support the treaty

President Nixon negotiated with Moscow.

Congress should remind Laird that (1) he ranks below the President, who has not associated himself with Laird's position but did most strongly associate himself with the treaty; (2) increase in defense spending would do less than wonders for the credibility of our support of the treaty; (3) he is, in theory at least, a civilian whose job it is to keep a rein on the military careerists' addition to weapons accumulation.

MR. SPECTATOR

Words Of Praise

Most of Sunday was spent answering telephone calls from people wanting to compliment the Times-News staff on the Progress 72 edition which went out with the regular paper that day.

Everyone seemed to like it and they all wanted to be sure that the people responsible for the edition know just that! And so we passed the compliments on. And we appreciate the many who were interested enough to take time out for a telephone call of praise.

Here are a few samples: George Staudaher, Superintendent of Schools: "There is more history in that paper than in any Idaho textbook we have in the school system. We are ordering 286 extra copies of the special section — one for every room in every school building in our system."

Harold Hove, Kimberly: "That story about Lars Larsen just has to be the most interesting of all time. Now I hang up so I can go back and read all the other stories in your special edition."

A. G. (Ab) Benoit, Twin Falls: "You and members of your staff have done a distinct service to the community by putting out that edition."

That's enough to say about it. We don't want to appear that we are tooting our own horn — but we are real happy people like our efforts. And there will be another one next year. Work starts on it right now.

CALL FOR HELP

Received a note from Bob Murphy, whose address is 3915 Austin St., Houston, Texas, 77004. Seems as though he lived in Twin Falls in 1932-33 when his family lived here. He was in the second grade of school at that time.

During his stay here, he writes that he can recall Kathryn Kuhlman coming to either a Baptist or Methodist Church for two weeks of meetings. He recalls that it was winter and that she fell and broke a leg on the ice but went right on preaching with the leg in a cast.

He is sure that the gal is the same Kathryn Kuhlman who now headquarters in Pittsburgh.

He writes that he was very impressed with the meetings, and the fact the speaker went right on with the broken leg. He wonders if there is anyone in Twin Falls who recalls these meetings. If so, he would appreciate hearing from them.

So if you remember — why not drop Mr. Murphy a line?

WASHINGTON — Don't laugh. Carried to their logical extreme, the Democratic Party's Reform guidelines for the selection of delegates to the national convention would decree that the President of the United States be half man and half woman, and by chemical analysis part Negro, part white, part yellow, part brown; both young, old, Catholic, Protestant, Jew, Moslem, Buddhist and atheist.

Well, laugh. Presumably sanity would prevail and a loophole would be arranged to permit the election of another Lincoln.

But the situation remained chaotic this week as the party's full credentials committee began work on 54 different challenges to convention delegates affecting 25 states. Almost surely, the challenges will not be disposed of until the convention opens in Miami Beach July 10, because if at least 15 of the 150 committee members choose to do so they may bring any delegate challenge to the convention floor.

Since three-quarters of the challenges are based on the new — and idiotic guidelines — the suffering public can be assured the convention floor will become a bear pit. Perhaps the most divisive battle will be over the seating of 59 Chicago delegates allied with Mayor Dick Daley.

This bloc has been challenged by a black-leader, the Rev. Jesse Jackson, on the grounds it lacks an adequate number of blacks, women and young people. A U. S. District Court judge ruled against the Jackson group, deciding that the party could not compel states to balance delegations on the basis of race, age or sex. But that decision was reversed by a three-judge panel of the U. S. Court of Appeals on the grounds the Democratic credentials committee had not yet ruled on the challenge. Therefore, said the panel, the party reform rules do not "warrant action by the court in the absence of their concrete application."

In short, the appeals court was saying that the plaintiffs Daley group could come into court again if the credentials committee ruled against seating its delegates. Wait until a crime allegedly has been committed, said the panel, before asking us to rule on the constitutionality of the act.

Well, perhaps no crime has been committed, but the reform guidelines — sure as shooting — strain the Constitution. Under their crazy provisions, the Americans who voted for the Daley delegation would be disenfranchised merely for exercising their franchise. The District Court judge, George L. Hart Jr., brought this out when he asked Joseph Califano Jr., counsel for the Democratic National Committee, whether the new rules amounted to an effort to tell citizens whom they should select as delegates.

"When you try to provide who you vote for," said Hart, "then you are getting into a Communist or Fascist form of government, not a republican form," Hart told Califano. Regardless of whether a crime had been committed, if passage understanding why the appeals court refused to consider this point.

At any rate, the reform guidelines seek to take the power out of the hands of machine bosses — which may be laudable — but in the process have given this power to assorted organized minorities. In effect, they say it doesn't matter whom the majority wants sitting on its convention delegation; it must vote for a delegation carefully made up according to a quota system based on race, age and sex. If there is a difference between this system and that employed by Communist and Fascist dictatorships, it is not readily discernible.

In the Chicago case, for example, the challengers would unseat the elected delegate slate in favor of an UNELECTED slate merely because the latter group had a better balance of women, blacks and young people. That constitutes "participatory democracy" like Richard Nixon is a secret Democrat.

BUG SEASON

About Lavelle

WASHINGTON — The House Armed Services Investigating Subcommittee may come up with a startling surprise regarding Gen. John Lavelle. It's possible the special panel may recommend that the former commander of the Seventh Air Force be retored to four-star rank instead of being demoted to lieutenant general and retired for unauthorized strikes against North Vietnam's massive buildup for its violent spring offensive.

Whether the 13-member subcommittee of Democrats, 6 Republicans will make such an unexpected recommendation is debatable. But it is being seriously discussed in the private deliberations on the group's forthcoming report on the Lavelle case. The report, which has to be approved by the full Armed Services Committee, is expected.

The proposal that Lavelle be restored to four-star rank has bipartisan support. No member of the Investigating Subcommittee favors disciplinary action against Lavelle. Sen. William Proxmire's court-martial demand is shrugged off as "characteristic publicity seeking and grandstanding."

Derisively remarked one committeeman. "He can always be expected to stick in his loud-mouth out to grab off a self-serving headline."

Unquestionable Gen. Lavelle made a distinctly favorable impression during his interrogation by the Investigating Subcommittee. This was noted by Rep. F. Edward Hebers, D-La., chairman of both the special panel and the full Armed Services Committee.

Committeemen commended the former Seventh Air Force commander's candor, forthright acceptance of full responsibility and intense desire to atack the Communists' "unfathomable preparations for a big offensive."

N.J. "It seems to me the only thing wrong about the air strikes you ordered was that there should have been a bit more of them. What you did do your responsibility in a small way before Hanoi's murderous offensive was what was belatedly launched on a large scale after the offensive got underway."

In your considered judgment, could the offensive have been averted or smashed if there had been an all-out assault against the build-up that was very apparent?"

"I am quite sure of that," replied Lavelle quietly. "If we couldn't have completely stopped them, we certainly could have crippled them so desperately that they couldn't have gotten very far."

PAUL HARVEY

Buy Or Rent?

Americans on the move are moving out of houses and into apartments. Hold everything! Now most states promise tax relief for homeowners. Such could tip the advantage the other way again.

Governors and candidates for governor are promising homeowners lower taxes. As is nationwide, there's a wide disparity.

On a $25,000 house you'll be taxed $743 in Philadelphia — only $115 in New Orleans. You'll pay $763 in Minneapolis or St. Paul — only $188 in Jackson, Miss.

In most of the big-big cities with their high welfare and other burdens — all things considered — it's cheaper to rent.

All things include the higher taxes plus upkeep and repairs, inside and out — and heat, water, garbage collection, snow shoveling.

For minor plumbing, electrical and carpentry repairs you may pay less to keep a janitor in a large apartment than you'll pay one for a special house call just once a year.

Measured just in terms of dollars, there are enough things for which the renter does not pay extra so that, in most cases, he'll end up ahead.

Historically the homeowner was building up an equity which offset his upkeep costs.

Assuming on that $25,000 house he pays $150 a month on his mortgage, any residual value when he sells the house someday has already been eaten away.

The Time-Life book on Family Finance cited examples of two brothers, Sam and Dan, each of whom started out with $3,500. One made a down payment on a house.

The other invested in stocks and rented a place to live.

After 30 years Sam the renter was way ahead — financially. One category of workers who has no business buying is the one whose job is likely to move him from place to place at frequent intervals.

It's seldom you sell a house under pressure without absorbing a substantial loss.

This, plus the 7 percent the seller pays the realtor, makes buying and selling houses with any degree of frequency unduly punitive.

A compromise as old as ancient Greece and as new as now in many cities is the "row house" — the attached town house — said to provide most advantages of houses plus most conveniences of apartments.

These, builders tell me, are selling faster than any other.

Now that I've said all that — and what I've said was said after consulting major realtors who deal in both homes and rentals — presently, for me there's no home like a house.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Abortion?

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is it possible for a doctor to know his patient has had an abortion if no one tells him?

Several years ago I had an abortion and have been embarrassed to tell my doctor about it. Could this affect the possibility of a future pregnancy? Mrs. M. W.

Dear Doctor: I had an abortion in New York by D. and C. method a few months ago. My periods have returned to normal. My family physician does not know about the operation.

Will it be necessary to tell him? Will this in any way affect a future sex relationship if I marry? Will my husband have to know? Recently I have been getting hot flashes. I am only 22 and wonder if this could be caused by the abortion. T. Y.

Ordinarily it is not possible to tell whether a patient had an abortion, particularly after several years have passed.

The procedure might be suspected fairly soon afterward if there is bleeding, spotting, or indication of infection — which, unfortunately, occurs all too often in "back alley" abortions — but that is far less likely to occur when the procedure is done under suitably sterile operating-room conditions.

If there has been no subsequent infection to cause scarring of the Fallopian tubes, there is no reason to think that pregnancy would not be possible afterward.

I see no reason why some future husband should be told about an abortion; if it is a present husband, father of the unborn child, that's a quite different matter.

If there are no after-effects from the abortion, I see nothing to be gained by telling your doctor. Again, it can be a different matter if there ARE after-effects (bleeding, spotting, infection). The doctor may be aided in treating the case if he knows the background. Hot flashes after an abortion, at 22? Not unless the ovaries were damaged, the essential risk being that infection spread up the Fallopian tubes to the ovaries.

I would say that a thorough pelvic examination would be wise, and the doctor will have a better chance of success if he knows the background and knows what to look for. But if the pelvic examination shows nothing out of the ordinary, I'd suspect that the "hot flashes" might be the result of nerves.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is "obstructive lung disease," and is it considered serious? — R. G.

It means that exchange of oxygen and carbon dioxide in the lungs is unpaired. Emphysema, certain cases of asthma and fibrosis (scarring from any of several causes) are the chief disorders in this classification.

Serious? Depends entirely on the degree of the trouble. You'll have to ask the doctor to give you some indication of that. He's the only one who can answer in your case.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I went to a throat specialist to have my larynx examined for hoarseness. I had about a dozen X-rays and he told me that there was no cancer or polyps.

But I still talk hoarse. Can you tell me why? M. S.

With any physical obstruction ruled out, I'd check out your personal habits — excessive smoking, your occupational environment, excessive use of the voice (ball games, singing, etc.) or mouth breathing.

Are you grossly overweight? Such persons tend to have such voices.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Does itching skin ever indicate kidney trouble? S. H.

Ordinarily not

Porno crackdown looms in Idaho capital area

BOISE (UPI) — Ada County is getting ready to crack down on hard core pornography, but Boise Mayor Jay Amyx is uncertain what the capital city may do about it.

Prompted by the opening of an adult book store in Garden City called "Ginger and Spice," the county is preparing an ordinance to prevent sale of pornographic books.

Chairman Jack Barney of the Ada County Commissioners said the county will do "everything in its power" to make certain each city in the

Canyon future up to US aides

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Frank Church said Tuesday it is "now up to the Nixon Administration to prevent or permit the commercialization of Hells Canyon by private developers."

He made the comment after being notified the Senate Appropriations Committee has approved a request he made earlier this year to allow the Forest Service to spend $4 million to acquire private holdings along the Middle Snake River in Hells Canyon.

Evidence bar studied

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — A quick succession of prosecution witnesses Tuesday placed hijack suspect Richard F. McCoy Jr. on a commandeered airliner and then near the scene where a hijacker is thought to have bailed out with $500,000 in ransom money.

But the government's case was clouded in the second day of testimony in U.S. District Court here when Chief Judge Willis W. Ritter removed the 12-member jury from the courtroom and revived a defense motion to suppress evidence.

Ritter was holding the motion in abeyance pending the appearance of U. S. Magistrate A.M. Ferro. It was brought on grounds a search warrant which uncovered area passes the ordinance, too.

"You just don't have to put up with this sort of pornography," Barney said.

"The ordinance should be ready in two or three days and it shouldn't take too much longer for all the cities to pass it."

While the county ordinance will have effect outside city limits, Barney said, the individual cities must approve the proposed law, too.

"The county can't act on its own unless the ordinance is passed in each city," he said. "They're the ones the thing depends on."

"You can't bet the county will be pushing, though."

Meantime, Amyx said he is uncertain what if anything Boise will do to prevent sale of pornography in the downtown area.

His statement came in response to establishment of the Garden City store and indications from owner Bill Snow that he was looking for a downtown Boise location.

"I can't say at this time what the desires of the city council will be," Amyx said. "I'm sure some serious review of our ordinances will be in order if the people indicate they want it."

At Garden City, the City Council Tuesday night unanimously passed an ordinance to regulate sale of material judged to be obscene to the average person.

However, council member Margaret Mockwitz said she doubted if the ordinance would do much good.

"It won't shut the store," she said. "They can keep on making money and it will not stop the sale of material — not even for one day."

At first, Mrs. Mockwitz abstained from voting but later she voted for the ordinance.

Garden City Attorney Dave Samuelson told Mrs. Mockwitz the ordinance was as strong as can be adopted under law.

Idaho Chicanos form organization

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

Chicano leaders from 20 southwestern Idaho communities have formed an organization for political and educational purposes.

According to a spokesman, the group, Huitzilopochtli will be a coordinated effort between MAYOS (Mexican-American Youth Organization) of Parma and Nyssa; the American G. E. Forum of Barley; and MACAC (Mexican-American Civic Affairs Committee) of Pocatello.

In the political aspect, Huitzilopochtli will conduct voter registration drives and transportation will be provided for those unable to get to the polls.

Spokesmen said Chicanos will be made aware of upcoming elections and where they can vote. Volunteers will gather data on the voting records of legislators and bills which will affect Chicanos.

The organization will get up scholarships for Chicanos wishing to go to college and will work with educational agencies and departments to correct discrepancies if they exist.

According to the group, there are approximately 15,000 Chicanos in Idaho.

Western student applications down

BOULDER, Colo. (UPI) — The Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education (WICHE) said Tuesday student applications for the fall college semester were down this year — in some cases drastically — in 13 western states.

It said the lack of students was caused by fears of being drafted and rising tuition costs.

The drop of application was reflected in a survey of institutions of higher learning in the 13 states by WICHE. The survey showed three times as many openings for fall classes as there were in 1971.

The lower number of applications to colleges could be due to several reasons, WICHE said.

The organization said the "best guesses" of registrars included the "rising costs of college, reduced pressure from the draft and the end of the (Korean) post-war baby boom."

One community college registrar in northern California quoted by WICHE said, "the situation is drastic. We have as many applications this year as we had in 1971."

In southern California, a small college official questioned said, "the big universities that haven't recruited for years now are sending out recruiting letters."

What ham did for Virginia, Old Crow did for Bourbon.

Even before Virginia's George Washington became President, Virginia was famous for the good taste of her country hams. Not long after, the good taste of Old Crow made Bourbon famous.

Before 1835, Bourbon was made every which way. That year, Dr. James Crow took it out of the hit-or-miss league and created the process that gave Bourbon its mellow taste — and good name — Old Crow.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI) Prices drifted lower Wednesday in some of the slowest trading of the year on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones Industrial average was off 4.36 at 930.02 around 1:15 p.m. Some analysts have predicted it will go as low as 920 in the near term. Standard & Poor's 500 stock index was off 0.18 at 107.19.

Declines led advances, 718 to 502, among 1,834 issues across the tape. Three-hour turnover amounted to 7,020,000 shares, down from the 8,400,000 traded during the same period Tuesday.

First-hour turnover of 2,960,000 shares was the smallest since 2,040,000 were traded during the same period Nov. 26, 1971. This was an indication of the caution prevailing among investors.

There still is concern over international currencies in the wake of Britain's floating of the pound, which carried it and the U.S. dollar lower.

American Telephone & Telegraph warrants topped the actives, off .45 at 6 on volume of 290,300. Levitz Furniture, one of the glimmers, was second, up 1/4 at 46 1/4 on 104,600 shares. Florida Power & Light followed, off 1/4 at 31 1/2 on 103,800 shares.

Electronics and computers were mixed. Ralls generally moved lower. Airlines and aircrafts were mixed. Motors, chemicals, and oils moved in either direction.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — Despite a number of negative influences such as increasing interest rates, higher consumer prices, and Britain's problems with the pound, the market has given ground gradually in recent sessions, according to the Spear Market Report. "This reflects the likelihood that major institutional investors recognize the fact that the most important measures of the recovery are expanding under a full head of steam. On this basis, we believe that the market's primary upturn will reassert itself in due course, and that a bullish investment policy remains in order for the firm adds."

Mud, debris cleanup set

By United Press International
Fighting the ravages of tropical storm Agnes which spawned the greatest flood in their history, 10 eastern seaboard states today attacked the problems of accumulated mud and debris and the shortages of food and drinking water.

The latest death count was 130 and the figure was expected to rise as flood waters receded. Damage was expected to exceed $2 billion.

President Nixon sent Vice President Spiro T. Agnew on a three-state tour to get an assessment of the regions devastated by the storm. Nixon also asked Congress for an additional $100 million in relief funds for Pennsylvania, New York, Maryland, Virginia and Florida.

Meanwhile cleanups moved ahead in the affected areas with mud a major impediment in many cases.

In Wilkes-Barre, Pa., residents were permitted to return to their mud-caked homes Tuesday for 11 hours. They had to use water to flush out the first floors burdened with trash, garbage and damaged furniture.

At other locations, officials asked them to leave and National Guardsmen sealed off the flooded areas. But several hundred persons moved into second floor rooms in first floors.

upper story apartments. They camped out, lacking electricity, gas or water.

The two hardest hit towns in Maryland, Ellicott City and Port Deposit, also began the task of cleaning up the tons of mud which covered the two communities.

In Washington, D.C., highway crews and Interior Department personnel scraped mud and debris from Rock Creek Parkway and the streets along the Georgetown waterfront. In Western New York federal and state officials began the task of bringing relief to floodstricken areas. The Department of Housing and Urban Development opened up offices to handle requests for emergency shelter from a number of communities.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller asked for more federal assistance in the stricken areas. Twenty tons of food were shipped into Elmira where debris covered the streets and the sewer system was inoperable.

Richmond, Va., permitted water taps to be turned on for the first time since last Friday, when the James River overflowed and flooded the water purification plant. Richmond officials said it would probably be Saturday before water would be clean enough to drink without first boiling.

Papers reviewed

NEW YORK (UPI) — Soviet Premier Alexei Kossygin in the passed American proposal regarding the Vietnam War to Hanoi, according to a hitherto unpublished section of the Pentagon Papers, the New York Times reported today.

The papers, dealing with diplomatic moves between Washington, Moscow, Hanoi and other nations since 1960, that the Soviet Union in 1960 refused to act as an intermediary between the United States and North Vietnam.

The Times, which first published part of the Pentagon

Briefing begins

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — Presidential envoy John B. Connally arrived in Cambodia under heavy security today to brief President Lon Nol on U.S. foreign policy in the wake of President Nixon's summit talks in Moscow and Peking.

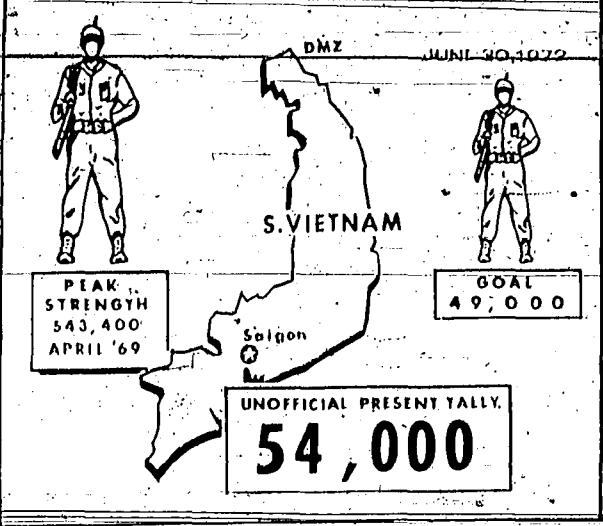

Connally planned to leave for Singapore following his talks with the Cambodian leader.

Air traffic at the Phnom Penh airport was shut down for two hours and the facility closed off by guards for Connally's arrival. The heavy security was reminiscent of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's visit to Phnom Penh in September in 1970.

Connally, former secretary of the treasury, has been on a world tour explaining U.S. policy changes resulting from the President's talks in China and Russia.

U. S. TROOP REDUCTION

Wallace begins therapy

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Gov. George C. Wallace, aided by braces and parallel bars, stood up Tuesday for the first time since he was shot in an assassination attempt May 15, an aide said.

Press Secretary Billy Joe Camp said Wallace, confined to Holy Cross Hospital at Silver Spring, Md., stood up at the start of a new phase of physical therapy designed to counter paralysis of Wallace's legs.

The governor was fitted for braces on his legs today and he actually stood up with the help of parallel bars, Camp said.

Taylor Hardin, state finance director and a close advisor to Wallace, said Wallace told him to prepare the governor's mansion for his return to Montgomery "possibly within four or five days."

Camp and Hardin were interviewed on a local television station (WSFA).

The two Wallace aides indicated acting Gov. Jerry Beasley would cancel a meeting he scheduled for Thursday at the state capital to boost Wallace's presidential candidacy. Beasley invited southern Democratic officeholders to the meeting, but most indicated they would be unable to attend.

Wallace wants to meet personally with the officeholders at the Democratic National Convention in Miami Beach, Camp said.

Camp also said Wallace wanted officials to halt a drive to raise funds to help pay Wallace's medical bills. Camp said Wallace had two medical insurance policies and felt he "should bear the costs himself."

SEATO council airs problems

CANBERRA (UPI) — The Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) council said today chances of building a lasting peace in Asia seem better than they have in a long time, but that Communist infiltration and subversion in the treaty area remains a major problem.

The final communique from the 15th annual SEATO conference said "externally promoted insurgency, subversion, infiltration and terrorism" was the most urgent problem in the region, particularly in Thailand and the Philippines.

Outgoing Secretary General Jesus Vargas of the Philippines said SEATO could not take military action against subversives, but would offer advice and economic assistance to threatened countries.

The communique and statements from individual delegates and the SEATO secretariat itself showed the alliance placed its greatest hopes on Moscow and Peking easing their support of insurgency movements which have kept Indochina a war zone for more than 20 years and caused unrest elsewhere in the treaty area.

Singapore's per capita income rose from $463 in 1960 to $1,164 in 1971, according to a government report.

Nixon's troop level cut aired

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Administration sources report the Vietnam troop level cut President Nixon is expected to announce today probably will be the last until U.S. prisoners of war are released.

Nixon started removing U.S. forces from Vietnam in July, 1969, six months after he took office. At that time, there were about 540,000 American military personnel in Vietnam.

By the end of this month, the force level is expected to be cut to 49,000 men, although U.S. commanders have had to move some air units to neighboring Thailand to meet the level.

Nixon's newest reduction is expected to bring the Vietnam troop strength figure down to 45,000 to 50,000 men.

Administration sources said the President was thinking in terms of maintaining a residual force in Vietnam until an internationally supervised cease-fire is attained and U.S. prisoners of war are released by North Vietnam and the National Liberation Front.

Thus, the new troop withdrawal announcement probably will be the last until the peace conditions are met, the sources said.

The force level of 49,000 will include only two infantry battalions plus a few hundred artillerymen. The remainder of the force will be assigned to logistic functions.

U.S. forces ended their active ground "combat" role several months ago.

Last week, the American troop level in South Vietnam fell to 54,000, down 6,100 from the previous week.

While the number of U.S. personnel assigned to duty in South Vietnam has decreased on schedule, the United States has built up its forces in Southeast Asia during the North Vietnamese offensive starting in March.

Severe season seen for fires

BURLEY—A severe fire season is expected on Bureau of Land Management public land in the Burley district, H. Max Bruce, Burley district manager, said today.

Over a million and a half acres of public land are protected by BLM fire crews in the Burley district, which extends from the Wyoming border west to the Owyhee County line and from the Snake River into parts of Utah and Nevada.

Five fires have already occurred this season, burning about 600 acres of multiple-use land.

Bruce reminded the public of state laws that require landowners who desire to burn on their land to obtain a burning permit from the BLM, or the U.S. Forest Service.

The purpose of the burning permit is to help fire lookouts and fire wardens identify controlled burning in their area. This eliminates many costly false alarms that fire crews would otherwise have to answer.

The free permits are available from the BLM office in Burley, 678-9071, or Chink's Penk Lookout near Pocatello, 232-6910.

Ex-Richfield men escape in storms

RICHFIELD—Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pelley, Richfield, have received word that their two sons and families living in disaster areas have escaped any injury.

One son, Melvin Pelley, Scottsdale, Ariz., said a window in their new family home and one in his car blew out when a cyclone hit the city. He said there was also some water damage to the home.

Pelley and his wife Caroline had just moved into the new home during the Memorial Day weekend. They said the roof of the house next to their home was torn off in the high winds.

Because of limited telephone service, they were unable to get word directly to Richfield. They were able to contact Caroline's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bierck, Idaho Falls, who relayed the message on to Richfield.

The telephone service was limited because of the many residents calling out to notify families of the disaster, Mrs. Pelley said.

Another son, Darrell Pelley, Newark, Del., said his home escaped damage in floods there. He told his parents, by phone, the town surrounding the home was under five to six inches of water. It was receding, however, he said.

Pelley said wind and rain literally picked up tomato plants in their garden and deposited them across the yard.

European meet set for spring

VIENNA (UPI)—West German Chancellor Willy Brandt said today a European security conference probably will begin next spring and that the United States should attend it.

Austrian Chancellor Bruno Kreisky said the Middle East conflict should be brought up at the conference and suggested a "committee of good services" be formed to examine the conflict.

The remarks came in speeches by Socialist government leaders at the 12th congress of the Socialist International.

Brandt said the "explicit prerequisite" for a conference—a Berlin settlement—has now been fulfilled.

"One can reckon with the commencement of multilateral preparatory talks in Helsinki around the end of this year," he said. "It can be assumed that the conference itself can begin even before the summer of 1973."

Brandt said it was essential for the United States to attend such a gathering because of its interests in Europe.

"I feel that, however close the union of Western Europe becomes," he said, "Americans will be neither able nor willing to withdraw from her commitments in Europe."

Brandt said the question of balanced East-West force reductions is a "complex and time-consuming subject" and could not be brought up at the conference.

At a news conference Monday, Israeli Premier Golda Meir rejected the idea that a solution could be found at a European conference. "Peace in the Middle East is only possible between the countries concerned," she said.

Mrs. Meir met privately with Brandt this morning to discuss the latest Middle East situation, Israeli sources said.

Brandt planned to visit Israel in November but called off the trip because of elections at home.

JIM 'N' GARY

Set Rupert date

Jamboree slated at Rupert fete

RUPERT—The Country Western Jamboree will start the events planned for the July 4th Celebration at Rupert.

The Minico High School band will present a concert at 8:30 p.m. Saturday on the football field. At dusk, the fireworks display will be set off.

Jim 'n' Gary Group will be featured at the County Western Jamboree in the high school gym at 9:30 p.m. with Holly Houburg, Twin Falls, as master of ceremonies. The group will present about 30 minutes of entertainment followed by dancing.

Jim 'n' Gary group has appeared the past two years at state fairs amusement parks, night clubs and special civic celebrations and conventions.

Debbie Gittins, reigning queen, will be the honored guest.

The queen candidates will be on hand to meet the public. Each ticket purchased to the jamboree allows one vote for rodeo queen candidate.

The Minico Jaycees are planning a "Shoot Out" Saturday night on the north side of the square. The simulated western style fight will begin over a disagreement at the card table inside a tavern (on the street).

The mock shootout will culminate in the street, where vigilantes will be on hand to finish up the fight and haul the offenders away, according to Melvin Birdwell, Jaycee chairman.

The Jaycees are also planning a kangaroo court and a dunkadette in the city park, Saturday through July 4, with Wolbert Caddy serving as the kangaroo court judge. Violators of the western wear proclamation (those who fail to wear at least two articles of western attire will be fined and sentenced to time on the dunkadette stand.

There will be a rodeo July 24 at the county fairgrounds starting at 8:30 p.m. night, and kid's night is Sunday.

Pari-mutuel horse racing will be at 1 p.m. daily starting July 1 through July 4 and ten races are planned each day.

Theme for the parade is "The Magic of Magic Valley" which will get under way at 11 a.m. July 4 with Larry Edgar as parade chairman.

Committee favors ban on hand guns

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Judiciary Committee voted 12 to 2 today in favor of a ban on the manufacture, importation and sale of snub-nose hand guns of the type used in the assassination attempt on George C. Wallace.

The committee adopted stiff legislation proposed by Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., that would remove one million hand guns from the market annually by:

—Banning sale, importation or manufacture of revolvers with a barrel length less than three inches and pistols with an overall length from stock to barrel of less than six inches.

—Directing the treasury secretary to establish regulations to prohibit the sale, manufacture or importation of guns not suitable for "sporting purposes."

Earlier, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., who lost two brothers to gunfire, testified at a House hearing that Congress should declare death by gunfire an epidemic.

Owner, officials fight over pet fawn

GRIFPIN, Ga. (UPI)—A 3-week-old fawn that sleeps with a protective dachshund, drinks Coca-Cola and eats peppermint candy, is the center of a struggle between its keeper, who wants it for a pet, and state game and fish officials.

The fawn now lives at the home of Mrs. Darrell Crumley, who took it in after "a friend of mine was harvesting a field, cutting wheat, and almost ran over him with a combine. I can't give the friend's name because it's illegal to take a deer. The deer still has scars on his face where he was cut."

The trouble is that state officials won't give Mrs. Crumley, who has three children, six goats, four cats, four dogs and a wild turtle already, a permit to keep the fawn.

State law makes it illegal to "hold or possess birds or animals for the purpose of propagation or sale" without first obtaining a state permit.

"We're not granting any new permits," State Game and Fish Director Jack Crookford said Tuesday.

"We now issue permits only for public facilities like zoos and for the University of Georgia, which has a wildlife disease study program," said Crookford.

But attempts to take the fawn away from Mrs. Crumley so far have been unsuccessful.

When Game and Fish Department officials came to her house last week to get the deer, after refusing her application for a permit, Mrs. Crumley packed the little fawn into the back seat of her car, its legs wrapped to prevent it from jumping, and went to see Gov. Jimmy Carter and Lt. Gov. Lester Maddox.

She led it around the state Capitol on a leash and "he wasn't any problem. He thoroughly enjoyed it. He won the heart of everybody at the state Capitol that day," she said.

Though Carter and Maddox were sympathetic, she said, there was nothing either could do. "Those matters come under the authority of fish and game officials."

And those officials aren't budging.

Crookford noted that Mrs. Crumley keeps the deer in an 18 by 6 utility room that he truly dangerous animal. No matter how gentle they've been, they'll turn on you. No matter how tame you think they are, during the fall of the year they simply cannot be trusted."

Crookford said Mrs. Crumbley once agreed to have the animal taken to the University of Georgia, but apparently changed her mind.

"The only way they'll take him from me is if they want to bring a Gatling gun out here after me," she said.

Daley delegation loses seats

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A House Committee and the full Democratic Credentials Committee, after a hearing, have upheld a challenge to bar Richard Daley and 58 other "uncommitted" delegates at the Democratic National Convention, Chicago alderman William Singer said today.

Singer told reporters "It is almost impossible for me to conceive" of anything but the seating of the 59 delegates challenging Daley by the 150-member Democratic Credentials Committee, and the full party convention.

Singer, citing excerpts from "findings of fact" by hearing examiner Cecil Poole, said: "We are saying at this point that those 59 are not entitled to seats." Singer is one of the challengers of the Daley delegation.

Copies of Poole's report were not available immediately but the excerpts cited by Singer indicate he found violations in the state-making processes which had produced a gross underrepresentation of women, blacks and young people on the Daley delegation.

Refusal to seat Daley at the convention would touch off an explosive floor fight. If the Credentials Committee refuses to seat him, the matter would have to be decided at the full convention, provided that 10 percent of the Credentials Committee sought a floor vote—seen as virtually certain.

"We are asking the credentials committee to deny seating of the 59 Daley delegates and seat the challengers," said Singer.

A convention floor fight over the platform was assured when the committee supported submission of Wallace's proposed plank which was in sharp opposition to those adopted by the committee majority.

The Platform panel completed action on all major items by midday, then moved on to procedural ground rules for presenting the platform to the convention and other cleanup matters.

He said Poole had found the Daley organization totally ignored party rules on slate-making and the representation of women, young persons and blacks in a proportion roughly equal to their proportion in the state's population.

American Indians taught early colonists how to make maple syrup.

Hard decision in flood rescue

AVOCA, Pa. (UPI)—Navy Lt. Howard Glad made thousands of split second decisions during the four days he directed helicopter rescue operations in the devastated Wilkes-Barre area—but there is one he will never forget.

"I'll never forget that question from the control tower," he said. "We had one helicopter, I could send it to those people trapped in the hospital or that child."

The patients were in the Retreat State Hospital south of Wilkes-Barre. The Susquehanna River was on its rampage Friday, and threatened to flood them out. The grounds were already surrounded by water, and oil and gasoline were leaking from nearby tanks.

threatening to explode.

It was Glad's job to decide—Send a state health official to the hospital in the helicopter so the decision on whether or not to evacuate patients could be made, or rescue the dying child with the copter.

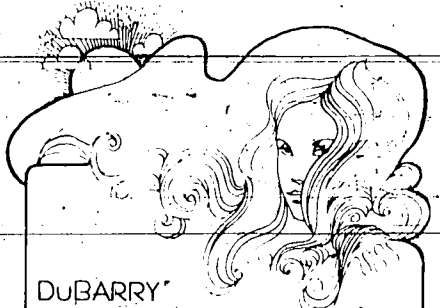

"We had about 900 people in there in all, but they told me three emergency cases were in another area, one of them a dying child. What could I do?"

"I had to balance those 900 lives against that kid. I had to pick the patients."

The waters of the Susquehanna receded, and the patients were saved without evacuation.

"The kid? We got him evacuated a little later," Glad said. "I don't know what was wrong with him or, even his name, all I know is that he lived."

"We're battling 1,000. We've evacuated hundreds of people for medical emergencies and all of them are alive today."

Blaine school surplus

Filer discusses school needs

By MARGE LIERMAN
Times-News writer

FILER — Filer school trustees and members of a district citizen's committee discussed a proposed levy at a public meeting Tuesday night.

Lawrence Knigge, chairman of the school board, said a similar decision was held Monday night at Hollister and Tuesday noon at the Filer Kiwanis Club.

Tom Turner, retiring superintendent, said the school runs on money from two sources, from local patrons, and from the state.

Turner said the Filer school had lost more than 100 students in the last four years and this cuts down the amount paid for each student by the state.

Most schools in the state are experiencing this same loss, he said.

He said that although the income has dropped, expenses have gone up and money must be raised for future school programs, as well as present necessary repairs.

An election will be held July 7 on a proposed five-mill levy for six years to bring in $37,500 each year or a total of $225,000 for the six years.

Ray Baker, new superintendent of the district, showed pictures of some of the needed repairs and improvements in the three schools of the district, the Filer High School, Filer elementary school and Hollister grade school.

Baker said the levy would cover all priorities, first of which will be new heating systems at the Hollister school and high school. Other projects this year would be repairing the roof on the old high school building, replacing lawn equipment, replacing wiring in the old school, replacing doors and fixing locks.

New desks and chairs would be purchased for the elementary school in Filer as these were not bought when the new school was erected several years ago.

Also needed are high school gymnasium, curtains and drapes, completion of dressing rooms, typing desks, a computer for the mathematics department, items for the industrial art department and a paint job on the old high school.

Cassia trustees study contract

BURLEY — Cassia County School District trustees met in executive session Monday night to discuss the controversy concerning the contract of a junior high school instructor.

Prior to the time contracts were to be signed and returned to the district, the Cassia County Education Association asked that contracts be signed and that the association hold the contracts for negotiation purposes.

The school board and superintendent denied the association's request, and said that all contracts must be signed and left at the central school office. Ted Hanks, however, had signed his contract and taken it home with him.

He was present at the Monday night meeting. By a secret ballot the board members voted 3-2 to approve Hanks' contract.

The resignation and release from contract of Dennis Goodenough, Burley High School teacher, was approved without prejudice. Supt. Harold Blauer said a death in the family necessitated Goodenough's leaving Burley.

Several teacher contracts were approved for the fall term. Deborah Beecher, Beth Ann Waymont, Karin Taylor, Lois Cummins and Ann Martin were approved to teach in the district.

run loose in the city, partially as a result of a petition against control of dogs which was signed by many Hansen residents and filed with the City Council.

According to Mrs. Tom Steelsmith, village clerk, there was an ordinance controlling dogs at one time, but it automatically lapsed with the change to the City Council form.

Two auctions set Thursday at Hailey

HAILEY — Two major properties — Calico Resort and the controversial Elkhorn Gulch school section — will go on the auction block Thursday afternoon.

The two separate sales are expected to net a total of over $3 million.

Following a series of financial difficulties and changes in ownership, the 2½-year-old Calico Condominium Development, Ketchum, will be sold as a parcel to settle a foreclosure judgment sought by Provident Federal Savings and Loan Association. The highest bidder over about $3.3 million will receive a complete resort, including a lodge with restaurant facilities, condominiums and all furnishings. Privately owned condominiums will be excluded from the sale.

The sale is scheduled for 1 p.m. on the resort grounds and will be conducted by the Blaine County Sheriff's department.

One hour later, at the county courthouse, Hailey, a 620-acre school section will be auctioned off at more than twice its original appraised value.

The acreage, adjacent to the Elkhorn at Sun Valley development, was applied for last year by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Holmes, Sun Valley. At that time, state land board members agreed to put the land up for sale and placed an arbitrary value of about $350,000 on it.

Public criticism, forced re-appraisal, which jacked the price up to about $700,000, and scheduling of the public auction.

Ketchum tour

KETCHUM — The rustic Snook family homes and contrasting formal homes north of Ketchum will be highlighted during the annual Home and Garden Tour.

The Thursday event, sponsored by the Ketchum - Sun Valley Community Library Association, will also feature the Clear Creek Canyon gardens.

According to publicity aide for the event, Rita Hogg, special rates for groups or organizations numbering 15 or more members will be offered this year.

Groups interested in the special $3.50 ticket price must make advance reservations by contacting Mrs. Clifford Donnelly, Ketchum, at 726-5050. Single tickets will be $5 per person. This year, refreshments will also be served at two of the homes on the tour.

Mrs. Hogg said the tour will provide an ideal opportunity for clubs to have a holiday in the Sun Valley area. The tour will be conducted from 1 to 5 p.m.

Board at Richfield elects

RICHFIELD — The annual report for the Richfield Library District was reviewed at the library board meeting Monday.

Mrs. Carl Paulson, board secretary, reported that $2,304 had been received during 1977 from library district taxes, Title I LSCA, rent from the apartment owned by the library and fines.

Taxes received from one and one-half mill levy were based on the assessed valuation of the library district of $1,048 million.

Total expenditures amounting to $1,032.50 were spent for librarian's salary, new books, repayment of operating loan, and operating expenses. The unexpended balance at the end of the report year was $777.46.

The circulation of books has increased over the previous year, with 3,132 books and phonograph records being checked out. There were 75 new adult books and 94 juvenile books added to the library during the year, making a total of 169 new volumes.

This number includes books purchased with tax money from the library district.

Repairs slated on Burley break

BURLEY — Repair work was expected to begin today on a 10-inch high pressure water line which broke away from the Burley-Paul bridge Monday night.

Burley City Engineer Leon Bedke said Neilsen Construction Co. of Twin Falls is to begin repairing the pipeline today. Meanwhile, residents of north Burley are being supplied with water from the Green Acres well.

Leonard Staker, Burley water superintendent, said he received a call about 11:30 p.m. Monday from the Ponderosa Inn that "they did not have any water and other persons in the area were also out of water."

Staker and Albert Lee, foreman of the water department, found water shooting some 100 feet in the air over the bridge when they went to investigate. About 200 feet of pipe had dropped into the Snake River.

Valves on the main line were closed near the south end of the bridge and near Ida Gem Dairyman, Inc., in North Burley. The pump at Green Acres well was then started to supply water to residents of North Burley.

"At the present time we are keeping two men at the well to control the pressure manually," Staker said.

Tuesday afternoon, it appeared that other hangers holding the remainder of the pipeline also showed signs of pulling away from the bridge.

Staker Tuesday was consulting with John Straubhar of J-U-B Engineers Inc., Twin Falls, consulting engineer for the city of Burley. Straubhar also conferred with Bedke and Don Shanahan, resident engineer for the Idaho Highway Dept.

The water pipe was installed in October, 1965, by Detweiler Brothers Inc. of Twin Falls under the administration of Mayor Mack Crouch.

Shanahan told city officials he had spoken with Bob Jarvis, Boise, bridge specialist for the state highway department, concerning the broken pipeline.

Dangling pipe

THIS 10-INCH high pressure water pipeline broke away from the east side of the Burley-Paul bridge Monday night and about 200 feet of pipe fell in the Snake River.

Range fire out

SHOSHONE — Bureau of Land Management crews extinguished a small range fire within two and a half hours after the fire was reported Tuesday.

The fire, located about 10 miles east of the US 93-Interstate 80 interchange, burned several acres before it was extinguished at 9:30 p.m.

according to Bureau of Land Management public information officer Michael Green, Shoshone.

The fire cause was not determined. Green said ranges are extremely dry and have been classified as in the "critical burning stage." He urged public effort to reduce range fires.

TF landfill to county

A written agreement was being prepared by Councilman Tom Nelson.

Merl E. Leonard, commissioner, said the county is attempting to meet federal and state regulations on solid waste control and to provide proper control of waste items.

He said it's obvious the county could not operate with only one landfill in the entire area and efforts are also moving ahead to clear the Black Bear Dump area near Buhl which will be converted to a landfill system when debris is removed.

Allen Parrott has been awarded the cleanup contract there and has 45 working days in which to complete the removal of debris.

operation. City residents will continue to use it but it will also be open to rural residents.

A two-mill levy is charged county wide for solid waste control but commissioners say this will not cover the total cost of solid waste control if new federal and state standards are met. One of the requirements is for daily covering of debris at all landfills.

George Michael, city public works administrator and engineer, said city residents now paying a monthly fee for solid waste collection will not pay any higher rates and may have a reduction since they also share in the two-mill county levy plus monthly fees Parks and Sons contractors collect and haul wastes to the city landfill under the city contract. The county is not planning any collection services but rural area residents would be permitted to haul their own debris to the landfill.

Leonard said he expected Kimberly and probably Filer cities will also use the large landfill now operated by Twin Falls City, when it is taken over by the county.

It is located about seven miles south of Twin Falls and presently serves a number of commercial haulers in addition to the city contractor. The commercial haulers would continue to pay for use of the landfill, county officials said.

Leonard said the county must also make some provision for handling large items such as tree stumps, household appliances and other items too large to be placed in landfill trenches and covered.

LINDY HIGH named

Mrs. High named to news post

MOSCOW — Lindy H. High, 27, currently a correspondent for United Press International, Boise, has been named assistant manager of the University of Idaho news bureau.

The appointment is effective July 1, pending board of regent approval. She will fill the vacancy created June 1 when Barbara H. Petura was promoted to manager of the news bureau. Mrs. High has been with UPI since October, 1968, serving as acting bureau manager during portions of the summer of 1970. For two years she has covered legislative action in the state senate.

A member of the Idaho Press Club and the Idaho Press Women, she won the IPW 1971 interpretive writing award for a five-part series on consumer protection.

During the summer of 1968, Mrs. High was manager of the Twin Falls office of Rep. Orval Hansen, R-Idaho. Prior to that she did research for the Idaho Historical Society. She was graduated from Caldwell High School in 1963 and received her bachelor of arts degree in history from the College of Idaho in 1967.

New vote set Dec. 1 for miners

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Labor Department has tentatively scheduled a new election of officers of the United Mine Workers (UMW) for Dec. 14. Federal court on May 1 set aside the 1969 election in which incumbent President W. A. "Tony" Boyle defeated Joseph A. "Jack" Yablonski. Judge William Bryant ruled there were extensive violations of federal laws in the balloting.

Less than a month after the disputed election, Yablonski, his wife and daughter were murdered in their home. Government monitors began overseeing operations of the UMW Friday Bryant gave the Labor Department power to veto expenditures and to supervise election preparations.

ends training

News Of Servicemen

BURLEY — Alvin Gordon L. Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin C. Clark, Burley, has completed basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex. He "has" been assigned to Sheppard AFB, Tex., for training in aircraft maintenance. Clark is a 1968 graduate of Burley High School.

Hansen only one not filing

BOISE (UPI) — The secretary of state's office said today that George Hansen is the only federal candidate in Idaho who has not yet submitted a file of his campaign contributions and expenditures under the Federal Campaign Contributions Act.

Hansen is a Republican candidate for the United States Senate. Secretary of State Pete T. Conrads said the candidates must file with the secretary of the Senate and the U.S. House clerk in Congress, respectively, and filing with the state is done so there will be a public record of contributions and expenditures.

Deadlines for the disclosures were set up for March 10, June 10, Sept. 10, and Jan. 31. Also, deadlines are set for the fifth and fifteenth days before the primary and general elections.

Conrads said the enforcement of the federal act this year was "flexible and understanding" since it was the first year for the statute. "We are just a filing office and we have no discretionary power," on the state level, he said.

Duplicate club lists winners

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls Duplicate Bridge Club met Monday evening. Winners included Mrs. M. D. Hartnutt and Mrs. A. J. Lindemer and Mrs. B.L. Kelly and Dr. H. E. Burgess, who tied for first and second place. J. R. Burton and Bill Cook were third with Mrs. J. E. Feldhusen and Mrs. Lewis Hock, fourth.

There will be no play next Monday because of the July 4 holiday.

TF county tour views 3 irrigated pastures

TWIN FALLS — Three different programs of irrigated pasture management will be featured in the annual irrigated pasture tour of the county's soil conservation districts.

The tour, open to all interested persons, begins at 10 a.m. July 11 with free bus transportation for those wishing to travel with the main group.

Buses will leave at 9:15 a.m. from the old hospital building, 834 Addison Avenue W. Those wishing to take their own vehicles may meet at 10 a.m. at the Ellis Fuller farm, seven miles straight south of East Five Points.

Sponsored by the Snake River, Twin Falls and Balanced Rock soil conservation districts, the tour will begin with an inspection of the Twin Falls City sanitary landfill located on the Fuller property.

An explanation will be given of the plan and operation. The landfill site is being trenched and solid waste buried by bulldozers. As the trenches are filled the area is reseeded to provide new and improved pasture or grazing lands.

On the Fuller farm, the tour will include inspection of the irrigated pasture where three types of grass and alfalfa are grown, the sprinkler irrigation system and Charolais and Angus cattle production.

A no-host luncheon, provided by the Huhl Jaycees, will be served at noon at the Fuller farm.

Buses or private cars will then proceed to the Dick Stafford farm where another pasture operation will be inspected and discussed. Here a surface irrigation system is used. Another Charolais and Angus cattle herd is pastured there.

Gem spud levy wins FB support

POCATELLO (UPI) — The president of the Idaho Farm Bureau said Tuesday the bureau supports the one cent increase assessment for potato promotion under the direction of the Idaho Potato Commission.

W. Dale Rockwood, Pocatello, said "Additional sales and markets are needed by the Idaho potato industry, along with research and education, have proven to be the best methods of obtaining increased sales."

He added, "We urge all potato growers to vote 'Yes' in the referendum that will be held the first 15 days in July."

Water outlook said excellent

BOISE — The water outlook is good to excellent throughout Idaho, according to the Soil Conservation Service snow survey.

The survey is made between Jan. 1 and June 1 of each year.

Key snow courses measured near the first of June indicate a heavy snowpack remains at elevations. High elevation snow courses in southern Idaho show slightly less water content than June 1971. Courses on the Clearwater and Spokane watersheds reported greater snow-water equivalent than last year.

Cool temperature in general retarded snowmelt allowing a more normal runoff and minimized the flood hazard in most areas. Precipitation during May ranged from slightly above normal on the Clearwater watershed, average on the Pend Oreille-Spokane drainages, to well below normal in the rest of the state.

Planning ahead can save wear on the temper and make your vacation more pleasant.

FFA winners told

MOSCOW — Eight contestants and one team from the Magic Valley are listed in results of the Idaho Future Farmers of America judging competition.

Results were announced Tuesday by University of Idaho officials.

Listed as high individuals in some of the contests are Bill Chaburn, Declo, livestock judging; Paul Foote, Jerome, crops; John Molyneux, Carey, poultry; Matthew Clark, Oakley, meats; Scott Branner, Murtaugh, and Randy Sharp, Oakley, dairy; Randall Hector, Castelford, and Rod Thompson, Jerome, dairy products.

The West Minico team composed of Chris Marrigan, Brian Hadel and Pat Harrison placed third in dairy judging.

Inoculation drive opens

POST FALLS (UPI) — An extensive vaccination program started Tuesday in Kootenai County to protect livestock against the disease known as black leg.

Ten calves in this area just east of the Idaho-Washington state line have died in the past few days from the infectious disease.

Jack French, owner of the cattle, reported their deaths to County Agricultural Extension Agent Joe Dobson. He said the disease is normally only contracted by young animals, calves, hogs or sheep.

Gem crops slowed

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service said today Idaho weather has been too cool for maximum crop growth.

"Scattered rains have been beneficial to crop growth, but many areas in central and eastern Idaho lack soil moisture. The limited moisture is mainly affecting dryland grains and pastures.

Some of the higher ranges in east Idaho are becoming dry, but North Idaho has ample moisture, the service said.

The crop summary also said grasshopper damage is occurring in south-central Idaho and spray programs are in progress. Alfalfa was not as troublesome in many areas of South Idaho.

Salmon bag limit hiked

BOISE (UPI) — Confronted with a shortened salmon fishing season because of high waters, Idaho's fish and game commission Tuesday doubled the legal daily-and-weekly bag limits for salmon.

Director Joseph C. Greenley said, however, the season salmon limit will remain at five. Effective July 1, the daily bag limit will be two salmon. Up to four may be taken during any seven consecutive days, Greenley said.

He said this includes chinook, ocean-run coho (silver) and sockeye salmon.

One lone exception to the five fish season limit was declared for the Little Salmon river with 10 salmon to be legal for the season. The daily-and-weekly limit will be the same as elsewhere.

"This has been made possible due to the marked success of the Rapid River salmon hatchery near Riggins to which a large number of salmon have been returning this year," Greenley said.

"Adequate numbers of salmon are returning to the hatchery facility and surplus salmon can be made available for sport fishing harvest."

In addition to the shortened season, Greenley said nitrogen problems affecting adult salmon at downriver dams have been reduced this year and this is another reason for liberalizing bag limits.

Pitchers bat A's by Texas

ARLINGTON, Tex. (UPI) — Rookie pitcher Dave Hamilton got his first major league hit to set up a two-run sixth inning and Oakland reliever Rollie Fingers drove a two-run home run into the leftfield stands Tuesday to carry the Athletics past the Texas Rangers, 5-3.

Hamilton, 20, hit a single in the sixth inning to lead off the inning. Fingers, 28, hit a home run in the sixth inning to lead off the inning. The Athletics won their fourth straight game.

Mayberry-led KC tips Sox

KANSAS CITY (UPI) — Sizzling John Mayberry singled twice, doubled and homered Tuesday night, driving in two runs and scoring two, as the Kansas City Royals defeated the Chicago White Sox, 6-4.

Master Sheet Metal wins

TWIN FALLS — O'Dell's homer proved the difference when Master Sheet Metal nipped Lynwood Standard 7-6 in city slowpitch play Tuesday night.

Gallatin Valley Seed topped Theisen Motors 19-13 and Blue Lakes Volkswagen edged Haney Seed 10-8. Cain's Furniture ripped Culligan-Lavelle 19-8 and Ford Transfer-Broke and Petroleum downed Maxie's Pizza 10-7. Pepsi Cola thumped Twin Falls Bank and Trust 14-6.

Pro?

BOISE — Big Sky Conference schools are awaiting word from the league office concerning the reported professionalism of Boise State quarterback Eric Guthrie.

A Pittsburgh Pirate spokesman Tuesday confirmed that Guthrie had signed a contract with that team in 1965 but was released in July of that year.

Commissioner John Roning was not available for comment Tuesday but will have to make a decision on the case. The Broncos finished second in the Big Sky football race and won the Camellia Bowl, almost all of it due to Guthrie's passing and placement kicking.

Triple play helps Cal win

BLOOMINGTON (UPI) — Nolan Ryan, with the help of a zany triple play and his own booming three-base hit, pitched a six-hitter Tuesday night to lead the California Angels to a 3-1 victory over the Minnesota Twins.

Rain shortens action at Wimbledon

By MIKE HUGHES
WIMBLEDON, England (UPI) — Rain, the curse of an English summer, delayed Chris Evert's debut at the 88th Wimbledon lawn tennis championships Tuesday but it stayed off long enough for top-seeded Stan Smith to advance to the third round of the men's singles.

Miss Evert, a 17-year-old from Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. who is unbeaten since her arrival in England just over two weeks ago, was due to have met Valerie Ziegenfuss of San Diego in the third match on No. 1 court—scene of Chris' two victories in the Wightman Cup. But with the match between fourth seeded Andres Gimeno of Spain and unseeded New Zealander Onny Parun going into the fifth set, Miss Evert was left to chew her nails in the locker room.

Just as she was beginning to warm up, the rains came. The covers were placed on court, removed and then applied again and by then her chance of playing had vanished into the night.

Smith, from Pasadena, Calif., was well below the form which

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, JUNE 29, 1972

CARROLL RICHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Richter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A wonderful day for you to get in touch with good friends, whether they are conventional or unconventional, practical or visionary. Let them know you want to join forces with them in an activity that will bring mutual benefits. Be active.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Plan to meet with friends you like for whatever joint aims you may have, be it business or recreational. Make notes so you do not forget salient points. Take it easy tonight.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) A good day to contact influential persons and get their support for your ideas. Engage in civic work that pleases you and at which you are so adept. Show that you have poise.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Improving your home and business situations is possible now if you apply yourself. Look into a new activity that would be fine for you. Show that you are a broadminded person.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You can inaugurate a new system that can help you handle your responsibilities more efficiently. Come to a true understanding with mate. Show that you are truly devoted.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Cementing better relations with associates and showing you understand their viewpoints is wise. Situations arise through which you can benefit greatly. Be on the alert for them.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You are enthused about getting those duties behind you, which is fine, but use modern methods for best results. Fellow workers cooperate willingly now. Relax at home tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Forget unimportant work and go out to the amusements that give you relief from worry and perk up your spirit. You have a personal goal which you can attain with the help of mate.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Try to establish a more relaxed relationship at home now so that there will be more happiness there for all concerned. Do some entertaining in your home tonight. Be poised.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You have good plans to discuss with associates, so do just that early in the day. Make and keep the appointments that are necessary later in the day. Be wise.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Show that you understand your monetary responsibilities and do whatever will insure security for you in the future. Follow the advice of a business expert.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Once you have handled business affairs, seek out those friends you like and enjoy recreation together. A new attitude could be very helpful now. Show that you have wisdom.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Use your intuition and know what you want to accomplish in the future. Take the right steps in such directions. You can have far greater rapport with mate in the days ahead.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY He or she will be one of those unusual young people who brings luck to self as well as to others. As parents you should encourage your child's progeny to have as many friends around as possible. Direct the education along lines that deal with government, the masses and philanthropic work. Give religious training early and success is assured.

Lovers Meet By Accident

It's a rare wife who'll admit to pollsters she was a pickup of her first date with her husband. But numerous wives readily confess they met their husbands quite by accident in some convivial public place. Noting this, an observer of amorous matters says it's all in how you describe it. Love at first sight, he avers, is merely a fast flirtation that renewed its option. That's cynical.

STATISTICALLY, odds run five to one the murderer will be a male, three to one the murdered, too.

ANOTHER unexplained peculiarity of women is they tend to write far more postscripts on their letters than do men.

MAY 1 this year was a Monday. So Christmas will be a Monday, too. Always works that way.

QUINIES

Q. "In pro sports, how do you account for the fact the lowest salary for a football player is about $12,000 while the lowest salary for a rookie baseball player is only $10,000 a year?"

A. The baseball boys start younger, much younger.

Q. "DIDNT David Hartman of 'The Bold Ones' play basketball in college?"

A. Played baseball. At Duke. He's 6-foot-5.

Q. "WHAT'S the combined weight at birth, average, of twins?"

A. About 10 pounds. Record combined weight was 14 1/2 pounds.

Disaster loan rate reduced

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House Banking Committee agreed today to reduce the interest rate on federal disaster loans and crack down on misuse of the loans.

Committee sources said Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., the chairman, would attempt to push the legislation through the House quickly. It is intended mainly to aid victims of floods in the East and South Dakota. The interest rate on disaster loans, now at 5-1/2 per cent, would be lowered to 1 per cent if the loan is fully repaid or to 3 per cent if the recipient chooses to invoke a "forgiveness factor." This factor would forgive the recipient from repaying 25 per cent of the loan, not to exceed $2,500.

This is a tightening of the law, which until now has required repayment of only $500 of the first $3,000 of any federal loan in a presidentially declared disaster area.

The committee figures that the breakdown point in cost between the 1 and 3 per cent loans would be about $15,000 on a 10-year loan.

Congress joins help in floods

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congress has joined President Nixon in an effort to make more federal help available for regions devastated by tropical storm Agnes.

Sens. Hugh Scott and Richard S. Schweiker of Pennsylvania introduced legislation Monday that would provide an additional $200 million in relief funds. A House Banking subcommittee agreed to substantially lower the interest rate on federal disaster loans.

Nixon has signed an executive order declaring five Eastern states disaster areas and clearing the way for government agencies to channel large amounts of money into the states hard hit by flooding.

Gem advertising plans queried

By RICHARD CHARNOCK
BOISE (UPI) — A legislative interim committee today questioned the "impartiality" of a proposed advertising campaign for government reorganization.

Joe Welch of the State Planning and Community Affairs agency provoked the question by reporting his agency cannot take sides on reorganization because it receives federal housing and urban development funds.

However, this agency is developing an advertising campaign for Gov. Cecil D. Andrus' proposed constitutional amendment to reduce to 20 from 268 the number of state agencies. The proposal is on the November general election ballot.

Welch said his agency has worked up a campaign for newspapers, radio, television and public appearances before civic groups—including the showing of slides and color informational films.

Stressing the role of his agency simply was to inform the public about proposed reorganization of the executive branch, he said the newspaper advertising copy for instance has received federal approval.

One ad, he said, contains the headlines "There are 268 reasons why 20 is plenty." Welch said that while this line received federal approval only stating "Idaho Government is Being Strangled by 268 Agencies" did not and will have to be replaced.

"This (the ad on 268 reasons) was approved by federal officials, as impartial?" asked Sen. John Peavey, R-Rupert.

"Yes," Welch replied.

"Incredible," Peavey said. Peavey said he would like to see the amendment win approval of the electorate. But he said, "The headline is not impartial." He said it is "taking a positive stand" on the issue. He said it will give those opposing the plan "something to shoot at."

Besides newspaper ads, Welch said, the agency proposes spot announcements both paid and public service on radio and television stations; a 30-minute panel show and "Meet the Press-type shows."

Broadcast announcements, he said, will carry a disclaimer offering equal time for opponents even though federal officials examining the copy do not believe this is necessary.

Rep. Patricia McDermott, D-Pocatello, questioned the wisdom of this approach, saying the very use of a disclaimer at the end indicates the copy advocates rather than just informs.

Welch said it is being included to pacify individual radio station managers who might have a different concept than the agency as to what constitutes impartial copy.

The legislative committee is charged with looking into reorganization and reporting back to the next regular session of the legislature. It was a $5,000 appropriation and is instructed to work with the State Planning and Community Affairs Agency.

JEROME Mrs. James Henson, Wendell, was presented an 8 pound 6 ounce beef roast Monday by Mrs. Dean Weatherwax.

The roast was presented to Mrs. Henson by the South District Gold CowBelles as part of their beef promotion for Father's Day. The beef is normally given to the father of the first child born on Father's Day but because Mr. Henson is in Vietnam the roast was presented to Mrs. Henson.

Mrs. Henson gave birth to an 8 pound 6 ounce boy, James Arvill Henson, III, June 17 at St. Benedict's Hospital in Jerome.

MRS. DEAN WEATHERWAX, secretary-treasurer of the CowBelles at Jerome, presents a beef roast to Mrs. Henry Riddle, who accepts for her daughter, Mrs. James Henson, in honor of Mrs. Henson's son born June 17. The project is an annual promotion for Father's Day.

LONDON (UPI) — Mrs. Doreen Barnett, 38, a bus conductress, appealed to the National Industrial Relations Court today to help her achieve her ambition to become a bus driver. The court turned her down, saying there was nothing in the law to help her. Male drivers objected to giving her a driving job.

Mary Kinney, Fox say vows

TWIN FALLS — Mary Katherine Kinney became the bride of Frank H. Fox on June 17 in a formal afternoon ceremony at the home of the bride's parents in Twin Falls.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Kinney, and the bridegroom's parents are Dr. and Mrs. Francis H. Fox, Twin Falls.

The double ring nuptials were performed by Rev. D. Robert Van Nest before a fireplace background setting of lighted tapers in gold floor candelabra decorated with simlax, Calla lilies, white and green gladioli and apricot-colored carnations. Matching floor baskets, large cream-colored candles and bouquets of Calla lilies and white roses decorated the home. The stair rails were wound with simlax with line arrangement of cream and green gladioli, white roses and lilies.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an imported floor-length gown of candlelight silk organza over peau de soie. Tiny seed pearls and scallops of re-embroidered alencon lace circled the dress and chapel train, and long lace-embroidered sleeves. Her elbow-length veil was ivory French illusion falling from a Cameliot hat of beaded alencon lace.

She carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis, white Butterflies roses and bouvardia. Mrs. Richard Sheppard, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. Mike Baird served as best man and John Kinney, brother of the bride, was usher. Carrie Sheppard, Caldwell, niece of the bridegroom, was the candlelighter.

A garden reception was held immediately after the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with candlelight lace over a floor-length satin cloth.

The four-tiered wedding cake was topped with a nosegay of fresh pink Elfe roses, bouvardia and stephanotis. Identical nosegays were on each layer, tied together with rose velvet ribbon.

A circular buffet table featured a turntable centered with a huge bouquet of red and pink gladioli, pink chrysanthemums and hot pink carnations. The patio was decorated with hanging baskets of hot pink begonias with pink and rose carnations to match.

Large floor bouquets of red and pink gladioli circled the patio. The yard was decorated with a gazebo and wrought iron love seats and chairs. A large cherub fountain was decorated with red and hot pink floral arrangements.

The guest tables, covered with floor-length candlelight lace and satin cloths, were centered with wrought iron bird cages containing pink chrysanthemums and baby's breath.

Mrs. Robert Cooper, Boise, served the cake. Punch was served by Mrs. Henry Coier, bridegroom's aunt, Melbourn Davidson, and the bride's great-aunt, Mrs. Ray Shearer.

The bride was honored at a coffee hour given by Mrs. George Davis and Mrs. Gerald Ridgeway at the Davis home for members of Chapter D, PEO. A luncheon at the Blue Lakes Country Club was given for the bride by Mrs. Hugh Phillips, Mrs. B. Robert Stephan, Mrs. Henry Coier, Mrs. Earl Finkler and Mrs. Ben Katz.

The rehearsal dinner, hosted by the bridegroom's parents, was held in the Colonial Room of the Hogerson Hotel.

The bride and bridegroom will be completing their senior years at the University of Utah this fall. The bridegroom is a biology major. The bride attended Scripps College, Claremont, Calif., for two years.

Kristi Sheppard, niece of the bridegroom, distributed the groom's cakes.

Special guests were the grandmothers of the bride, Mrs. Georgia S. Gamble and Mrs. Guy H. Shearer; the bridegroom's aunt, Melbourn Davidson, and the bride's great-aunt, Mrs. Ray Shearer.

Education classes conducted in GF

GLENN'S FERRY — Adult basic education classes are being held in the Glenn's Ferry High School library on Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 7:30 p.m.

Anyone interested in finishing high school education is urged to attend. The classes are sponsored by the United States government, in cooperation with Boise State College.

These classes are informal and stress skills in reading, writing, mathematics, spelling, social studies and government. Classes are being offered in such a way that anyone can enroll at any time and drop out of the classes when he believes he has gained enough knowledge to pass the high school equivalency test.

Due to the good response to this opportunity, a special government class is planned for Wednesday evenings. For more information call 366-2250.

Glenn's Ferry Health Fair continues

GLENN'S FERRY — The Health Fair continues in Glenn's Ferry at the elementary school.

Anyone needing transportation to the clinic may call Mrs. Lee Trail at 366-2188. There is free baby sitting through Debbie King at 366-7979.

The Rika Rehabilitation Center in Boise is providing a speech and hearing therapist, Jack Palmer, an environmentalist with the Central District Health Dept. in Mountain Home will be in Glenn's Ferry during the "Health Fair."

Palmer, as a member of the health team, will be available for consultation at the high school to discuss all aspects of environmental health.

Health Clinic hours are Wednesday, 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.; Thursday 10 a.m. to 10 p.m., and Friday from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

TF Kooky Kookers meet

TWIN FALLS — The Kooky Kookers 4-H Club will have a demonstration on making cucumber sandwiches at their regular meeting Monday.

Brenda Sayers presented the demonstration.

Members worked on their record books and are finished with the "Sandwiches Galore" project and ready to begin the "Snacks and more" projects.

The club is planning a swimming party July 10 at Banbury Hot Springs. The party will be followed by a wienner roast with each girl bringing some part of the meal.

Trip set for railroad fans

BOISE — A 100-mile round trip for railroad fans behind a steam locomotive is planned for Sept. 16.

The Idaho Model Railroad Association and the Idaho Historical Museum are sponsoring the trip from Boise to Weiser behind Union Pacific locomotive 8444, the road's only operating steam locomotive.

Proceeds from tickets sold for the trip will be used for completion of a new transportation display at the Idaho Historical Museum in Boise, being built by the association. An operating model railroad and artifacts will be included.

Departure time from Boise will be about 9:30 a.m. Tickets and complete information are available from The Great Train Ride, Box 1182, Boise, Idaho 83701.

Also planned for the day are a luncheon at Weiser while the train is being turned for the return to Boise and opportunities for photographing and recording the sights and sounds of steam powered railroad operations.

Engine 8444 is now assigned at Cheyenne, Wyo., and seldom leaves the UP's Wyoming division.

cards only. His trumps appeared to be almost worthless and he had to use one right then. He cashed fully ruffed with the eight.

South overruled with the jack and led the queen of trumps. Johnny took his ace right away and led another spade. Howard ruffed this with his nine spot and South's contract was doomed.

Howard had used his eight and nine of hearts to force South to use two of his high trumps and thus establish his partner's 10 as the setting trick.

Receives degree

TWIN FALLS — Lorraine Deagle Swisher, daughter of Mrs. J. E. Gillespie, Twin Falls, was granted a master's degree in library science at the University of Washington.

Mrs. Swisher, a graduate of Twin Falls High School, received her bachelor's degree in education from Idaho State University. She is a former teacher at Lincoln School, Twin Falls. She is presently employed as an elementary school librarian in the Renton School District, Renton, Wash.

MV students attend course

TWIN FALLS — Six Magic Valley students returned home this week after attending a two-week course in computer programming at the University of Idaho, Moscow.

They were among 32 high school juniors from Idaho who participated in the digital computer summer school devoted to instructions on programming the IBM-360-40 computer.

The school was held June 12-23 at the university, sponsored by the Junior Engineer Technical Society. The students selected had outstanding science aptitudes and were recommended by their high school principals, science and math teachers.

Those attending from Magic Valley were Gary Arford, Tamara Carson, Bonnie Gier and Connie Wetstein, all Buhl; John Harding, Jerome, and DeAnn Dixon, Richfield. Scholarships were awarded by the University of Idaho and the electronic companies of the Pacific northwest area. The state, JETS co-ordinator, Ronald O. Byers, served as director of the course, and David B. Shaw was instructor.

The students stayed at the Theophilus Tower dormitory.

A Lovelier You

STAR OF A SUMMER'S NIGHT

By Mary Sue Miller

In the city, in the country, at resorts, a star of the evening wears an ankle-length skirt with a tiered top of matching or blending material. Chinese floral splash, jersey, crepe and chiffon, subtle monochromes like shrimp or lupine color linen, voile and organza.

Very short jackets or very long shawls go out in the hand and come home around the shoulders. Small wonder shoulders, back, thigh or arms are bare. The whole works sometimes. Plainly, there's more to fashion this summer than cut, cloth and color. There's y-o-u, a good deal of you. And what's on view needs perfection care.

Skin wants for pual texture and patina. Makeup must have a shimmer and glow that seem to come from health and vitality. Not a little pink jar. To accent a tan, try a slightly deeper shade of lipstick and nail enamel.

The polish-and-sheen of your hair literally caps appearance appeal. For a cool, unruffled look, draw your locks smoothly up or back. Brush on a bit of protein hairdressing or use a whisk of herbal hairspray.

Let the final touch be a delicate, illusive perfume. Surround yourself with it. Do you know how? Simply decant your fragrance into a glass atomizer. Atomize the atmosphere in front of you and walk slowly through the mist.

Result: Stardom.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am writing to you from the State Penitentiary in Huntsville, Tex., where I have been locked up for two years. I have three more years to serve and here is my problem.

Three months before I got locked up and sent here I met a very lovely young lady. She is 27 and I am 29. She works in the daytime and goes to school three nights a week. She is a "lady of the evening" but that doesn't interfere with her love for me. She writes to me faithfully and says she loves me and will wait for me. She is loyal, and true. Miss Abby, and I think about her all the time.

Should I put all my faith and trust in this woman? I believe I really love her. I need your advice and opinion. VERY TRULY YOURS, 278946 (Not my real number)

DEAR "TWO": If she has stuck by you, writes faithfully and promises to wait for you, I'd say your faith in her is well justified. Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: I read with interest the letter signed "Troubled Daughter" in which two brothers refused to share with three sisters the responsibility of caring for their elderly mother.

Did you know that in the State of California only sons are responsible (money-wise) for an aged parent who is on welfare, unless the daughter works or has an outside income, regardless of how large her husband's income is?

My husband (an only son) pays over $100 a month to the California Public Welfare office while his three married sisters pay nothing, as they are not employed outside the home.

Our attorney advised us that it is unconstitutional to discriminate against the sexes, but Kings County Department of Public Welfare threatened to take us to court if we don't reimburse them $100 per month.

UNLUCKY TO BE LIVING IN CALIF.

DEAR UNLUCKY: Your letter (accompanied by valid documentation) was a surprise to me. Does anyone out there have an ace to beat that King?

DEAR ABBY: A wife signed "Old Fashioned" wrote to say that she didn't share her husband's yen for X-rated movies. If you read between the lines you could see a middle-aged male with a sagging libido. What he needs is a wife who can kindle a few sparks, lose some of her inhibitions and be a little less old fashioned.

Let's face it, that husband is hoping that if he exposes his wife to a few explicit scenes in the biological realm it will give her an inspiration.

It's amazing how dense some women can be when it comes to something as basic as satisfying a man. Prostitutes will tell you that most of their customers are married men. And do you know why? Because that sweet little lady at home knows how to dish out the steak and potatoes, but she's too nice to dish out eroticism in the boudoir.

NORTH CAROLINA

DEAR NORTH: Before blaming the inhibited woman for baiting zero in the boudoir, consider this: Psychiatrists tell us that a surprising number of men can perform anywhere except at home because of their inhibitions. Every decent woman is "mother," so they find their pleasure where "mother" isn't.

DEAR ABBY: This is for "YOUR HUSBAND'S MISTRESS," who ends up with, "What good is the status of being a legal wife when all your friends know that your husband is in love with another woman?"

I would like to know since when is love equated with sexual satisfaction? If that man really loved you, he'd have married you first and had his sex later.

Wake up, Slater. You're being used!

Thanks for letting me get this off my chest, Abby.

PCA rated high in work check

TWIN FALLS The Southern Idaho Production Credit Association scored in "the top 20" of 411 associations surveyed in financial strength and progress.

The survey of all PCAs in the nation was completed by the Farm Credit Administration, Washington, D. C. The top 20 were chosen in each of several areas of performance as of Dec. 31, 1971.

In the category of "net worth of reserves from accumulated earnings," the Twin Falls firm ranked sixth in the top 20, with $2.3 million. It scored 12th in "capital stock owned by members" with $2.75 million, and number 17 in "amounts borrowed by members during the year" with $6.1 million.

The Southern Idaho PCA serves farmers in Camas, Blaine, Gooding, Lincoln, Minidoka, Jerome, Twin Falls and Cassia counties. It has branch offices in Burley and Gooding.

The associations make short term and intermediate term loans to farmers and ranchers. Money for loans is raised primarily through the sale of securities in eastern money markets by the 12 Federal Intermediate Credit banks in the U. S., and by use of reserves built up by the individual PCAs.

Earl R. Stansell is manager of the Southern Idaho PCA. On the board of directors are Manning Patterson of Gooding, president; Everett A. Campbell, Bellevue, vice president; Raymond E. Butler, Hansen; L. A. Gillette, Paul; Eugene Griffin, Twin Falls; Howard Hill, Shoshone; and Max W. Martin, Burley.

Beef for US?

WORKERS AT Australian meat processing plant prepare carcasses following slaughter. Plants there and in other overseas nations are expected to benefit from lifting of meat import restrictions by President Nixon Monday. (UPI)

Mind Your Money

Peter Weaver

In the market for a car this spring?

If you take care, buying a used car is a good way to chop as much as one-half off your annual ownership costs.

That old devil "depreciation" is the biggest single cost of automobile ownership. When you buy a used car, you automatically knock down much of the depreciation cost. For example, if you buy a new car for $4,000, it will depreciate to around $1,500 in three years (total depreciation $2,500).

Let's say you buy the same car "used" when it's two years old for $2,000 and sell it after three years for $1,000. This gives a total depreciation cost of $1,000 for an annual depreciation charge of $333 compared with $833 if you had purchased a new car.

There are two completely different ways of buying a used car. The one you choose depends on your personal needs.

Plan 1 is to buy a two-year-old car and trade it in for another one after three years or, when the mileage is just under 55,000. This way you get a dependable, fairly up-to-date car and avoid heavy depreciation costs.

You can buy a two-year-old car from a new car dealer with a good reputation. If you can buy one of his customers' trade-ins, he can give you the previous owner's name for checking and can often show you the car's service record.

Another good place to buy is from a leasing company. Phone book yellow pages under "Automobile Rental" and "Leasing." A leasing company, according to Tony D'Lauro, group vice president, Rollins International, a major leaser, can sell you a two-year-old car for around $200 less than a dealer's price. You should ask to see the car's entire service record.

Don't buy a car that's been used for daily rental or one that's been used by a number of different drivers, such as traveling salesmen.

Now for Plan 2. If you really don't care about a car's looks and just want "good, cheap transportation," buy a car that is seven or eight years old. You won't find these on a new car dealer's lot. You have to look for private sellers in newspaper ads. Don't overlook neighborhood weekly "shopper" papers.

You should be able to get a serviceable seven-year or eight-year-old car for around $300 to $400. Get one that's medium size and isn't loaded with complicated extras such as power steering, brakes, windows and the like. A simple four-door sedan is your best bet.

John Barker, manager, Florida Aircraft Federal Credit Union, has come up with some comparative operating costs. Lease depreciation, maintenance and repair figures. He found that it costs from $25 to $40 a month to own a seven-year or eight-year old car compared with $65 to $70 to own a new car.
