

Court orders new hearing in McGovern delegate case

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A federal appeals court today ordered a lower court to reconsider its decision to let stand the Democratic Credentials Committee's ruling stripping Sen. George S. McGovern of 153 California delegates.

The three-judge court also sent back to U.S. District Judge George L. Hart Jr. a case in which Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley is seeking reinstatement of himself and 58 other Illinois delegates denied seating by the credentials panel.

Daley's legal counsel meanwhile was enjoined from taking further action in state courts—apparently pending disposal of the federal case—to block seating of a challenge delegation accredited by the Credentials Committee.

On a 2-1 vote, the three judges of the U.S. Appeals Court for the District of Columbia overruled Hart's decision that he had no jurisdiction in a suit filed by McGovern challenging the credentials panel ruling in the California case.

A spokesman for McGovern said he was "obviously delighted" with the decision.

McGovern won all 271 of California's delegates in that state's winner-take-all presidential primary, which put him on the verge of victory in the Democratic nominating convention starting Monday in Miami Beach.

But challengers led by Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey and Edmund Muskie fought successfully before the Credentials Committee to have the California delegates apportioned among the candidates on the basis of popular votes won.

On the Daley case, the three appeals judges were unanimous in voting to send the appeal back to Hart and enjoining

Daley from taking any other court action that would impair the effectiveness of the judgment of this court.

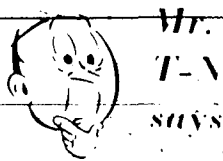

In the California ruling, the appeals court reversed Hart's ruling that he lacked jurisdiction on the delegate challenge and said the matter is hereby remanded to the District Court for the District of Columbia for further proceedings.

The delegate-seating panel also upheld a challenge to the 59-member Daley bloc of delegates.

Chess play undecided

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (UPI) — American chess challenger Bobby Fischer apologized today for delaying the start of the world championship match with Russian Boris Spassky but a demand from the Soviet chess federation threatened to cancel the 24-game series.

The Russian chess group cabled Dr. Max Euwe, president of the International Chess Federation (FIDE), demanding that Fischer be ordered to forfeit the first game because he did not abide by an agreement which said both players must show up within one hour of the scheduled game time.

"If the Russians insist on this penalty I believe the whole match is off," said Euwe.

"We are sorry that the world championships were delayed. The problems causing the delays were not with world champion Spassky who I respect as a player and a man," Fischer said.

If grandmaster Spassky or the Soviet people were inconvenienced or discomforted I am indeed unhappy for I had not the slightest intention of this occurring," Fischer's said.

Officials hoped the twice-postponed tournament could get underway Thursday but earlier representatives of both Fischer and Spassky broke off talks, casting doubts on the possibility the match would be held.

The start was postponed from last Sunday while Fischer stayed in New York, bargaining for more money. It was postponed a second time Tuesday after Spassky said Fischer insulted him by refusing to show up to draw lots to see who got to make the first move. He demanded Fischer apologize and said FIDE must censure Fischer.

Fischer, who has remained in seclusion since arriving in Reykjavik early Tuesday, apologized in a statement read by his second, the Rev. William Lombardi.

French cabinet resigns

PARIS (UPI) — French President Georges Pompidou today named Pierre Messmer, former minister of overseas departments and territories, as the new prime minister to succeed Jacques Chaban-Delmas.

Chaban-Delmas and his 40-man cabinet resigned earlier in the day to allow Pompidou to build a new cabinet to meet expected strong opposition in next March's National Assembly elections.

Chaban-Delmas' resignation has long been rumored and officially denied. The action was announced in a communique from Pompidou's office following today's weekly cabinet session.

Pompidou's Gaullist coalition, which has been in power for 13 years, faces stiff opposition from a newly formed Communist-Socialist coalition, even though the Gaullists' now control 380 out of the 487 seats in the National Assembly.

Chaban-Delmas has been criticized from within his own party for not being tough enough in dealing with several financial scandals in which Gaullists were allegedly involved.

Pompidou felt it was better to have an entirely new cabinet rather than reshuffle the old one, political sources said.

China jet sale wins approval

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Commerce Department said today it has approved a $150 million export license for the Boeing Co. that would clear the way for the sale of American-made commercial jet airplanes to Communist China.

The license means that the administration has given its blessing to the sale of several 707 aircraft to the Peking government if Boeing and the Chinese can come to terms.

"We are still negotiating with the Chinese on this purchase," a Boeing spokesman said in Washington. "We have not got anything signed on the dotted line."

The Boeing official would not say how many aircraft were under discussion. New 707s cost about $11 million each. The license was authorized for $150 million in "commercial aircraft with spare parts and accessories."

Export licenses are required when any U.S.-made equipment with possible strategic value is sold to foreign countries, even to allies.

Missing group found

BLISS — Four teenagers who were reported missing early today were found stuck in a bog at Monument Gulch, north of Bliss.

They were reported in good condition.

Ted and Steve Quigley, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Galen Quigley, Bliss; Cris Wilkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilkins, Bliss, and Patsy Clements, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Clements, Gooding, were found by Quigley about 9 a.m. today.

According to the Gooding County Sheriff's officers the group had gone on a picnic sometime Tuesday and couldn't return. They were reported missing about 1 a.m.

Victim identified in Salmon drowning

CLAYTON — A Twin Falls man who drowned Sunday in the Salmon River was identified today as Frank Stanley Anderson, 22.

Custer County Sheriff Bert Mechem said Anderson was in a group of four young men in the main Salmon River near Challis when the accident occurred. He said the four were traveling on two inner tubes and one two-man rubber raft.

When the party went through rapids, the two-man raft capsized. One man reached shore, badly battered by rocks and swift water.

Anderson was unable to reach shore and was carried downstream. His body has not been located.

Sheriff Mechem said search parties are out today looking for Anderson's body and for another body which has been in the river for three weeks. He said the river still is extremely high and muddy, hampering search efforts.

Others in the group with Anderson were George Dumas and Galen Carson, both Twin Falls, and Victor Fisher, Ketchum.

Mechem said Anderson's father, Frank Anderson, Twin Falls, was scheduled to arrive today to join the search for his son's body.

The Anderson family was on vacation when the accident occurred and identity of the victim was withheld until members could be notified of the drowning.

Surrender ends hijack attempt

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — A 23-year-old man stabbed two persons including his estranged wife today, then boarded an empty airliner with his 14-month-old daughter in his arms and threatened to hijack it, police and FBI agents said.

Three hours later he surrendered and released the little

Authorities said the infant, Jayton Smith, suffered a small cut on the nose but appeared otherwise unharmed. Her clothing was spattered with blood but authorities said it was either from the cut or from the two stabbing victims.

Her mother, Mrs. Ethyl Smith, 20, of Buffalo, was in critical condition at a hospital with multiple stab wounds. Dennis Keays, 22, also of Buffalo, was in fair condition.

Police said Mrs. Smith's husband, Charles, left a note in his mother's home indicating he was contemplating suicide following the stabbings and then drove to the airport with the little girl and boarded an empty American Airlines 707 jetliner about 5 a.m.

After hours of negotiations with police, FBI agents, the suspect's parents and a minister, he walked down the ramp cradling the frightened little girl in his arms, flipped away a cigarette and handed the child to a policeman and his knife to an FBI agent.

Smith's mother threw her arms around him and sobbed, "Oh, no, no, no, not my poor baby," before police took him away in handcuffs.

Airlines officials were astounded he had been able to get on the plane.

S. Viets move into Quang Tri proper

SAIGON (UPI)—A 1,200-man South Vietnamese force moved into Quang Tri city today, set up a command post and fanned out through the ruined city's business and residential districts. However, government spokesmen said they would not list the city as recaptured until government troops controlled the walled citadel in the center of the town.

Military sources said the troops met only light resistance but no attempt was made to storm the citadel, the possible Communist headquarters.

A 20,000-man South Vietnamese task force moved north into Quang Tri province more than one week ago. So far, fighting has been relatively light and allied officers said they do not know where the estimated 48,000 Communists who took the province May 1 are hiding.

The provincial capital, Quang Tri city, has been leveled by bombing attacks since the Communists captured the province.

While the lead elements moved into the city with little resistance, South Vietnamese marines seven miles southeast of Quang Tri City met with a heavy North Vietnamese counter-attack from a battalion supported by 15 tanks. The marines reported no tanks knocked out but said 48 Communists were killed with government casualties placed at nine dead and 16 wounded.

Two miles southeast of Quang Tri City at sundown Tuesday, a battalion of about 500 Communists attacked government troops in an assault led by 18 tanks and at about the same time, another battalion attacked seven miles east of the city. No casualty reports were available on either skirmish.

UPI correspondent Barney Seibert reported the troops entering Quang Tri City today radioed back that it had been leveled by bombardment. Heavy naval shelling and aerial bombing preceded the North Vietnamese capture of the province, South Vietnam's northernmost, May 1 and during the government drive to retake the city over the past eight days.

The province fell to the Communists a month after they launched their offensive in South Vietnam March 30. It is the only province still in North Vietnamese hands.

Kakuei Tanaka succeeds Sato

TOKYO (UPI)—Kakuei Tanaka, 54, a pro-American politician who rose from farmboy to industrial magnate, was elected prime minister of Japan today to climax a hectic campaign to select a successor to Eisaku Sato.

Tanaka will officially take office Thursday following his certification by the Diet (parliament).

Under Japan's parliamentary system, delegates of the ruling party elect a party chief who automatically assumes the post of prime minister.

Tanaka was elected on the second ballot of a nationally televised special election called by the ruling Liberal Democratic party. He polled a majority of 282 votes with a total of 476 party delegates casting ballots.

Tanaka beat former Foreign Minister Takeo Fukuda in a runoff made necessary because none of the original four candidates got a majority on the first ballot. Fukuda had 180 votes.

Tanaka, minister of international trade and industry, was born to a poor family in the northern prefecture of Niigata and is the first modern Japanese premier without a college degree. He left home for Tokyo at 16, went to night school and worked his way to leadership in the construction business and entered government at the age of 28 when he was elected to the Diet.

Tanaka recently introduced a radical plan to revamp Japan's industrial organization. The plan would move heavy industry out of congested urban areas in an effort to reduce the nation's growing pollution.

In foreign affairs, Tanaka advocates continued close ties with the United States while trying to bring normal relations between Japan and China.

Tanaka, sometimes called a "computerized bulldozer" because of his decisiveness and his adroitness in mathematics, was a loyal aide to Sato, who resigned June 17 after holding office for a record seven years and eight months.

But Tanaka broke away from the retiring premier when it became known that he was not Sato's choice as a successor. Sato supported Fukuda.

Tanaka bowed and raised his right hand in response to a great burst of applause when he was declared the winner. He went to the rostrum and sat next to Sato.

Holidays keep firemen busy

TWIN FALLS — Firemen in Twin Falls had a busy holiday weekend but only one fire was the result of children playing with Fourth of July fireworks.

At about 10:30 p.m. Tuesday, children setting off fire works started a fire in shrubs at 840 Fairway Drive. Firemen said by the time crews from the substation arrived the family had the flames under control and confined to a small pine tree.

Other calls included a 10-year-old boy whose knee was wedged in the fork of a tree Monday at 320 Locust St. Firemen said they used a "porta-power" machine to release tension on the tree fork and allow the boy to free himself. City police said the man who reported the boy's predicament said he had been in the tree for an hour at that time.

Other fire calls included a call to 229 Canyon St. Sunday where a man was burning down a vacant house and summoned assistance from the city fire department.

On Tuesday at 610 Second Ave. S., a call at 1:10 p.m. required assistance after a fire ignited in oil soaked trash at the Ed Studdard Auto Sales.

Firemen said the side of a building and the fender of one automobile were scorched before the fire was extinguished.

At 12:35 p.m. firemen from the substation were called to Orchulara Avenue to stand by while a field was being burned off to control weeds.

Rogers, Greek officials meet

ATHENS (UPI)—U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers met for two hours with Greek government officials today, including a half-hour private talk with Premier George Papadopoulos.

The topics of discussion were not disclosed.

The talks took place in Papadopoulos' ground floor office in the parliament building, just a few yards from the tomb of the unknown warrior where Rogers had earlier laid a wreath.

Uniformed police and plain-clothes security officers, outnumbering onlookers, swarmed around the vicinity, especially in the premier's garden.

Two years ago a bomb went off in the garden while Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird was meeting with Papadopoulos.

Before leaving for Romania, the next stop on his world tour, Rogers was the guest of honor at a luncheon given by Papadopoulos.

Shortly after his arrival on Tuesday, Rogers said there were some differences between the American and Greek governments "but the important thing is that we have so many things in common."

He said the talks with Papadopoulos would mainly concern Greece's role in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) alliance.

Tractor vandalism probe continues

TWIN FALLS — County officers investigating vandalism to two tractors in a timber harvest area south of Hansen said they are looking for some young motorcyclists.

George Pullin, who is cutting out dead timber in an inaccessible area, told officers Tuesday he left two tractors and other equipment at the site Saturday and on returning found they had been vandalized.

Officers said dirt had been poured into the radiators, gasoline tanks, oil and gasoline supplies. Wires, fan belts, and hoses were all cut and other damage caused.

The area is located south and east of the LDS Church camp and can be reached only by four-wheel drive or trail machine. Sheriff's officers said trail machine tracks around the damaged tractors indicate the vandals were traveling by machine.

Persons whose youngsters may have been in the area on trail machine or persons who may have seen cyclists in the area are asked to contact Sheriff Paul Corder or members of his staff.

This brings to five the incidents of serious vandalism in the county recently, one of the cases having been solved.

Coffee and rolls will be served at 8 a.m. with a special surprise planned then for association members. Awarding of a trophy will follow the 18 holes.

The Anti-Busing Alliance

WASHINGTON — A secret meeting on Capitol Hill between White House aides and influential Southern Democratic Congressmen has charted new strategy to revive anti-busing legislation this summer — to the immense political benefit of Richard M. Nixon.

On the surface, the move to force a House vote on busing is of wholly Southern Democratic origin. But in reality, the Southerners have collaborated in an anti-busing alliance with the White House, reflecting President Nixon's desire to exploit what he regards as the most politically explosive domestic issue.

In the midst of his Moscow summit, Mr. Nixon reported back to the White House that he feared his total opposition against racial school busing was being blurred. Since his return, he has made clear his disagreement with the minority of White House aides who feel no need to press the issue. With Gov. George C. Wallace apparently out of the national political picture, Mr. Nixon feels the busing issue might start fading unless he acts.

That was the situation last Tuesday when Rep. William Colmer of Mississippi, chairman of the House Rules Committee, passed word to the White House that he was ready to move. He planned to seek a Rules Committee vote to force an anti-busing Constitutional amendment out of the House Judiciary Committee and onto the House floor.

Fearful that Colmer could not find a simple majority on the Rules Committee — much less a two-thirds majority on the House floor — White House emissaries asked Colmer for a meeting to discuss alternative strategy.

That session was held Wednesday in Colmer's office in the Capitol. Present were two shrewd conservative Democrats, Reps. Joe Waggonner of Louisiana and Omar Burleson of Texas. Representing the President were Richard Cook, Mr. Nixon's chief House lobbyist, Ed Morgan, top White House aide on all school desegregation matters, and Ken Clawson, the Administration's deputy propaganda chief.

Burleson and Waggonner backed up the White House aides in telling Colmer the Constitutional amendment approach looked impossible. Instead, they suggested a plan the Southerners have been cool to: Mr. Nixon's bill for a moratorium on court-ordered busing, which does not help Southern school districts where busing already has been imposed.

As a result, this scenario was worked out: Colmer would write a letter and make it public — to Rep.

Emanuel Celler of New York, chairman of the Judiciary Committee, asking him to pass out either the Constitutional amendment, the moratorium or both. When Celler predictably refuses, Colmer would call the Rules Committee into session to force the moratorium bill onto the floor. Colmer believes he has the necessary eight votes on his 15-member committee for that.

To win Southern support, the bill would provide for reopening busing plans previously ordered by the courts. Moreover, it would contain a provision for a quick court test of its constitutionality. Such a proposal almost surely would pass the House.

If the Senate went along, the courts might declare the moratorium unconstitutional by early September. That would open the way for Mr. Nixon to endorse a Constitutional amendment, as many aides and Southerners have been urging, for Congressional action late this year or early next. That strategy keeps the President out from opposing a most popular integration device while the Democratic National Convention is getting ready to endorse it.

3-Mile Limit

Something new is buzzing around communities of Magic Valley — especially around the larger ones. The "buzzing" is talk about possible steps to establish a three-mile buffer zone around each town and city. Some such step, we believe, is necessary because of the urban sprawl. In Twin Falls county a good step has been zoning of the county — and more planned steps along this line. Now is the time to get the job done. We should not wait until the damage is done.

Over most of the state a one-mile control zone surrounds the various communities but this is not enough. People who do not want to live within the city limits simply stay outside the zone. Of course, they would stay outside the three-mile zone too, but many would think twice before taking such a step.

Most troubles outside community control come because builders want to escape municipal taxes and restriction. They end up with many problems — including poor sewer facilities, poor water supply and inadequate fire protection.

In the normal course of things, cities usually have to face the problem of annexing these fringe areas. When they do they also inherit a lot of headaches. Many of these headaches could be eliminated if a new three-mile jurisdictional limit were established.

We believe such a step would be in the best interest for all of us.

Wooing Mrs. Wallace

WASHINGTON — Mrs. Cornelia Wallace is getting a lot of flattering attention from leading McGovern supporters. Foremost among them are two noted Kennedy wives.

(1) Mrs. Joan Kennedy, wife of the Massachusetts Senator who is one of McGovern's most influential advisers and a persistent running-mate possibility despite repeated (and sometimes contradictory) disclaimers.

(2) Mrs. Ethel Kennedy, widow of Bobby Kennedy, who made a much-publicized hospital visit to the assassin-wounded Alabama Governor several weeks ago.

Inside word is this was suggested by Frank Mankiewicz, McGovern's "national campaign coordinator" and authoritatively said to be his choice for Democratic national chairman. Mankiewicz, press lieutenant of Bobby Kennedy and a key manager of his 1968 Presidential drive, is credited as masterminding the good-will cultivation of Mrs. Wallace. This carefully discreet campaign is apparently an important aspect of the earnest McGovern effort to avert a Wallace bolt — that could have disastrous effect nationally.

While the Alabama governor ran in various state primaries as a Democrat, he has maintained tight-lipped silence on what he might do after the Miami Beach convention — if he disapproves of the ticket and platform.

Among Wallaceites, Mrs. Wallace (niece of a former Alabama governor) has the reputation of being "politically ambitious." That seemingly is the basis for her social cultivation by McGovernites.

The idea appears to be she could influence her husband to stay in the fold.

One unverified report is that intimations have been dropped that in a McGovern regime, Mrs. Wallace might well be appointed Director of the Mint — a $26,000 job traditionally held by a woman.

Mrs. Rose Kennedy, an astute and experienced political operator, is another member of the family who reputedly has courted Mrs. Wallace. The mother of the famed Kennedy sons is said to have had a "warm and ingratiating" telephone visit with the governor's lady.

So has Mrs. McGovern, wife of the front-running South Dakota leftist.

All these ladies and other McGovernites who have been in touch with Mrs. Wallace have expressed concern about her husband's condition and offered to be of help. Some invited her to quiet and informal gatherings at their homes.

Mrs. Ethel Kennedy asked Mrs. Wallace to her Hickory Hill estate in McLean, Va.

There is good reason for McGovernite apprehension about a possible Wallace bolt.

Sources close to the Alabama have dropped hints there have been overtures from Nixon quarters. It is intimated he has been told he can play a leading role in the President's reelection organization; also that he would be completely free to expound the policies and concepts he champions.

One backstage story going the rounds is that Vice President Agnew and former Attorney General Mitchell, Nixon campaign manager, have had what is described as a "heart-to-heart" talk with Wallace — presumably about his being active in the Republican camp.

PAUL HARVEY

A Long Road

(Of all the impressions revised or re-established by the Nixon's visit to Moscow, the one which must haunt us is the irrefutable and obvious fact that Russians behave themselves better than we do.)

But there is some evidence the United States has begun the long road back to enforcement of the law.

The mayor of Moscow told our visitors, "You're safe anywhere here."

Isn't that something? Chicagoans, scared to death of being raped or knifed on a city bus in broad daylight, hear from Moscow in presumably backward Russia that anybody can walk any street day or night in safety.

Guns are for sale in Moscow stores. You need a permit to purchase one, but they're available.

Yet Vladimir Promyslov, mayor of one of the four biggest cities in the world, said, "Nobody shoots anybody."

And Mrs. Nixon, visiting a Moscow secondary school, noted that the students were "better disciplined" than those she sees in the United States.

But there is now apparent the first pale glow of a brighter day in the U.S.A. The United States Supreme Court, in a decision of no small significance, has decreed that state criminals may be found guilty without the unanimous agreement of the jury.

None of us knows how many criminals have been getting off because one member of the jury held off — perhaps was bought off.

But hereafter, at least in state courts, no one juror can veto the other 11.

It may be significant that the 54 Supreme Court decision reflected all Nixon appointees to the court.

You've heard dissent. You've heard some decry the decision as opening the door to future convictions on inadequate evidence.

But those same protesters were protesting when the Supreme Court gave lawmen permission to stop and frisk suspects.

Former Atty. Gen. John Mitchell says the proper function of the court is the discovery of guilt or innocence; that function has been drowning in a sea of legalism.

He said, and hear this: "The right of an individual to a fair trial does not outweigh the right of society to prompt justice."

Ideally, we don't want tougher police, tougher courts. But practically, whenever individuals refuse to discipline themselves, government must.

Also, ideally, it is better to correct the cause of a social sickness than to treat the symptoms. But that's for the religionists. And until they are more successful cleaning us up from the inside out — it's going to have to be done from the outside.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Rotten Feet

Dear Dr. Thosteson: This is urgent. My daughter, 21, has a very bad odor on her feet and shoes. She takes baths every day after work but her feet still smell so bad I don't know what to do.

What causes the rotten smell? Is there a special kind of soap or powder? She's tried several. — Mrs. A.J.M.

When sweating feet smell "rotten," just a "special soap" or powder isn't going to be the entire answer, although either or both may help.

First of all, keep this in mind: odorless sweating is due to bacteria on the skin. The warm moisture of sweat provides just what the bacteria need to proliferate — and make feet smell bad.

The answer is a combination of keeping the skin dry and keeping it clean. Neither of these can be achieved totally, but the idea is to keep the bacteria count low and the skin fairly dry.

Keeping the bacteria count low can best be accomplished by using a daily foot bath with a germicidal soap. (I do not, however, recommend daily use of a germicidal soap for all-over bathing. It can be irritating.)

Reduce perspiration by the use of drying agents. Safest of these is a 25 per cent solution of aluminum chloride as a foot soak. Various anti-perspirant cosmetics also contain aluminum salts, and these could be tried — powders, sticks, liquids, etc.

Another possibility is a weak solution (about 1 to 3 per cent) of formaldehyde, which your pharmacist can prepare. It may be irritating though for some people.

In any event, the drying agents should be used to treat the inner soles of shoes. Never wear the same shoes two days in a row. If possible, let shoes dry more than a day between wearings.

Nylon hosiery can be a factor, too, since it doesn't absorb moisture. I understand that nylons with cotton soles are available, so try them, too.

Just why some people perspire more (feet and elsewhere) is not always clear, but it is more prevalent among those of a nervous, tense disposition. I haven't much doubt that the person with sweaty feet probably sweats even more just because of worrying about it.

If you can't solve the situation with the above suggestions (although I trust that you will be able to), the best course then would be to see a skin specialist (dermatologist).

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am a young adult female and have a hard time stirring up much energy. I wonder if it is because my hemoglobin never runs much over 11.5. Is this considered low? I tried iron tablets once, but they caused awful stomach cramps. — D.M.

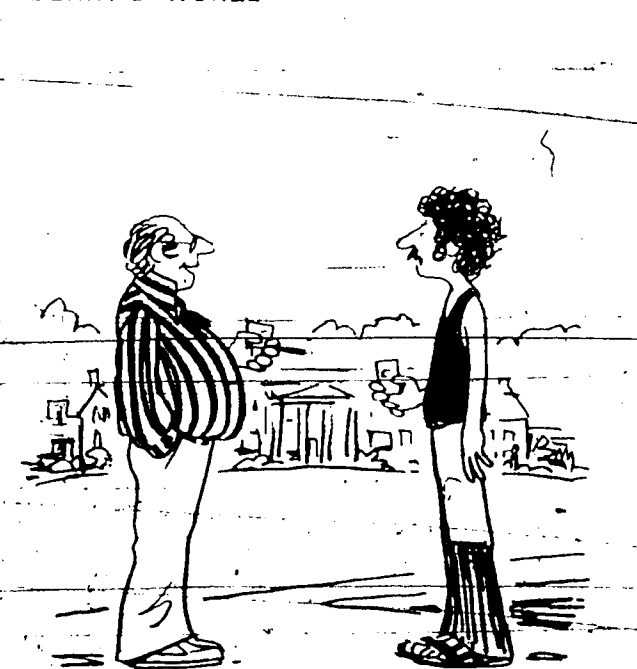

Yes, 11.5 hemoglobin is a bit low. Common causes are excessive menstrual flow, or dietary deficiency — low intake of protein, fruits and vegetables.

I recollect a study of a nursing group, all with low hemoglobin levels — and all were found to have a poor dietary history.

If you do, in fact, need an iron supplement, your physician can suggest other forms of iron to avoid the stomach upset.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated into his column whenever possible.

College Costs

As the cost of higher education goes higher, remedial measures have generally fallen into two categories.

One has been to increase the number and size of scholarships, loans and grants to students. The other approach to curbing higher education costs has been a determined effort by colleges and universities to improve their business practices and to eliminate so-called unnecessary expenses.

This has resulted in cutbacks in faculties, abolition of some academic departments, less elaborate food service in dormitories. Some smaller institutions caught in the financial squeeze have had to close shop completely.

As this process of economizing and subsidizing is going on, the Carnegie Commission on Higher Education, a bluestocking group engaged in studying all aspects of higher education in the United States, urges further economies.

The commission states that currently 2.5 percent of the national gross product goes into higher education. If the spiraling costs trend is not checked, this will rise to 3.3 percent of the GNP by 1980. And, says the commission, it is unlikely that society is going to be willing to put that proportion of its resources into higher education.

One suggested way for colleges to economize is to screen applicants more carefully and to deny admission to the reluctant attenders — those who are there because going to college is the thing to do. Carefully applied, this is a sound proposal, but it does run the danger of denying a college education to some who could really profit from it.

Another suggestion from the Carnegie Commission is that college curricula be shortened to three years. Shortening college education would most likely mean concentration on career subjects and neglect of courses in other fields.

Money should not be spent foolishly on education more than on any other item, and there is little doubt that the breath-taking educational expansion of the last two decades has made for carelessness and some waste.

TF blood drawing slated Thursday

Thursday. James Sinclair, honorary chairman for the drawing, said it will be conducted at the American Legion Hall from 1 p.m. until 6 p.m.

"Drawings during the summer months are those at which the quota is usually the hardest to meet," Sinclair said. "However, we would like to see the goal of 150 pints of blood not only met but exceeded. It would be an excellent response if donors would give enough blood to reach the 200 pint mark," he said.

Both the time and the date of the July drawing have been changed, Burt Hulsh, blood recruitment chairman, said.

Because of the Independence Day holiday, the drawing has been moved to Thursday from Monday, the usual day on which they are conducted in Twin Falls, Hulsh said.

The time has also been advanced an hour, from 2 p.m. until 7 p.m. to 1 p.m. to 6 p.m.

New Harbor House site of meeting

TWIN FALLS — Harbor House board members will meet at 4 p.m. Thursday in the new building at the end of Fillmore Street.

Frank Finlayson, of the Law Enforcement Planning Commission, will meet with the board to discuss additional financing of the project.

Construction of the new permanent Harbor House is now in its final stages, with interior work and painting to be completed before the foster home agency can occupy the new facility.

Service clubs and other community organizations have been offering volunteer painters to assist with interior work and more are needed to complete rooms now ready for painting.

Tribute set

TWIN FALLS — A tribute to John Phillip Sousa and selections from "The Sound of Music" will highlight the Twin Falls Municipal Band concert Thursday evening.

Director Del Slaughter said the concert will be presented at 8:15 p.m. at the city park band shell.

Other numbers on the program include "Knightsbridge March," by Eric Coates; "Rienzi" excerpts, by Richard Wagner; "Song of Jupiter," by Handel; "Dixie," arranged by Jimmy Carroll; "Andante Cantabile," by Tschalkowsky; "March Dramatic," by Jager; "The Gallant Men," by Cacavas; "Two Israeli Dances," arranged by Allan Small; "New England Chronicle," by Gordon, and "The Star Spangled Banner."

Nixon maps strategy for new Paris talks

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI)—President Nixon, mapping U.S. negotiating strategy for the renewed Paris peace talks, considers a report today from a military adviser who returned Tuesday from a fact-finding trip to Southeast Asia.

Ma. Gen. Alexander M. Haig, the No. 2 man to Henry A. Kissinger on the National Security Council staff, made the four-day visit to Saigon and Phnom Penh to furnish Nixon a first hand assessment of the military situation there as the peace negotiations are resumed.

The meeting with Haig was one of a series Nixon was expected to hold with Kissinger and other top advisers during the remainder of the week to firm up final instructions for the U.S. negotiators at the Paris talks which will resume July 13.

Nixon ordered the talks broken off May 4 when the North Vietnamese launched a massive offensive into South Vietnam and said they would only be resumed when the Communist side indicated a willingness to engage in serious discussions. He announced last week in Washington that the United States was going back to Paris "on the assumption" that the other side is ready to "begin negotiating in a constructive and serious way."

Although the President did not show much public optimism about the chances for success in Paris, other administration officials have privately expressed the feeling that North Vietnam may be more agreeable because of pressure brought by the failure of Hanoi's offensive in the south, the lukewarm assistance now given by its two chief allies, China and Russia, and the U.S. blockade.

When the Paris sessions resume, it will afford the Communist side their first opportunity to corrupt officially on Nixon's new peace formula, which he outlined May 8—withdrawal of all American forces from Vietnam within four months of a ceasefire throughout Indochina and release of American prisoners of war.

The North Vietnamese already have publicly denounced the proposal and insisted that the United States dump the present Saigon regime and withdraw all forces unconditionally.

Officials said Haig talked with South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu and Gen. Frederick Weyand, the newly named U.S. commander, during his visit.

Demo win possible

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The nation's largest public employees' union says its poll indicates that Sen. George S. McGovern could defeat President Nixon in November.

Jerry Wurf, president of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, released the poll Tuesday when he endorsed McGovern's candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination.

"The primaries and the conventions have proven that Democratic voters overwhelmingly prefer George McGovern," Wurf said in a statement.

He said the poll showed that McGovern would be "a viable candidate against Nixon" and that "a McGovern candidacy would not adversely affect the party's showing in congressional races."

"There is no question that the American labor and liberal political leadership agrees it does not want another four years of Richard Nixon," Wurf said.

Steamroller said halted

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey's campaign manager and chief strategist today claimed that Sen. George S. McGovern's attempt to "steamroll" the Democratic presidential nomination has been totally stopped.

Jack Chestnut, putting the final touches on Humphrey's convention planning, said "part of the steamroller was puff. They were counting delegates they didn't have."

"I think the attempt to steamroll the nomination has been clearly stopped. That's (steamrolling) a two-edged sword."

Humphrey was the first of the major candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination to send his campaign team into the convention city. Humphrey, resting up at his lakeside home in Waverly, Minn., was due Friday.

McGovern, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, and Gov. George C.

Wallace, the other leading contenders for the nomination and the holders of most of the committed delegates, also were to fly in Friday and Saturday for what could become a tumultuous, and perhaps explosive, national convention.

As preparations continued for the convention opening Monday, the Miami Beach City Council was scheduled to meet on a delicate matter which would decide whether demonstrations outside the convention are peaceful or break into violence reminiscent of the 1968 convention in Chicago.

The City Council is expected to vote, once more, whether Zippies, Vippies, Hippies and other demonstrators can set up a campsite at Flamingo Park or the par-three golf course, both on the beach. Last month the council voted 5-2 against giving the demonstrators a sleeping area.

Renewed US-India aid not discussed

NEW DELHI (UPI)—John B. Connally, President Nixon's special envoy, today discussed with Prime Minister Indira Gandhi U.S.-Indian relations, now at an all-time low, but said the question of resuming U.S. aid to India "didn't come up."

Connally held a news conference here after meeting with Mrs. Gandhi at Simla, the Himalayan hill station where Mrs. Gandhi signed a summit conference agreement to improve relations with Pakistan on Monday.

The former secretary of the U.S. Treasury noted that there had been speculation in the press on U.S. aid to India. He evidently referred to reports that he might announce restoration of $87 million in U.S. aid which was suspended during the December war in which India defeated Pakistan.

"My purpose here was not to discuss aid," Connally said. "I would have been delighted to discuss it but the subject didn't come up."

Connally said that the question of U.S. military aid to Pakistan did come up in his 90-minute meeting this morning with Mrs. Gandhi at Simla, 240 miles north of this capital city.

Fire destroys plane

BOISE (UPI)—An old World War II plane on display in a Boise park burned early today.

Firemen said it appeared someone had been smoking inside the bomber when it caught fire. The tail section of the B-26, which is made of metal and fabric, was destroyed.

Firemen said the plane, located on the east side of Julia Davis Park, has been there "for a long time."

"I don't see how they can put it back together," one fireman said.

The fire call was reported shortly after 2 a.m.

Ditch claims Nampan

NAMPA, Idaho (UPI)—Lloyd E. Goodman, 25, Nampa, died Tuesday after he dived into an irrigation ditch here, witnesses said.

Canyon County sheriff's deputies said Goodman was attending a picnic at the home of Jesse Bowles at the time of the accident.

Witnesses said the victim dived into the irrigation ditch and was pulled from the water by friends. An autopsy was scheduled this morning to determine the exact cause of death.

Girl transferred

BURLEY — Debbie Flowers, 17, Burley High School student, has been transferred to a Salt Lake City hospital.

Miss Flowers, who is on the critical list, was injured June 26 along with 16 other Burley High School band students when a car driven by Milo Hatt, 17, Burley, drove into the marching group. Hatt was cited for driving while intoxicated and reckless driving. Judy Reeder was a passenger in the Hatt car.

Still hospitalized are Steven Woolstenhulme, 17; Mike Brown, 14, and Deanne Winks, 17, all in good condition at Cassia Memorial Hospital.

Conspiracy trial begins in Chicago

CHICAGO (UPI)—The conspiracy trial of Cook County State's Attorney Edward V. Hanrahan begins today after almost 11 months of court battles in the controversial 1969 Black Panther case.

Hanrahan, 51, was charged with conspiring with an assistant and 12 policemen to cover up evidence and prevent prosecution of police who raided a Black Panther apartment Dec. 4, 1969.

Hanrahan, who won re-election in the Democratic primary March 21 by defeating a liberal independent and a candidate backed by Mayor Richard J. Daley, has refused to plead to the charges, saying the charges are invalid.

Two young Panther leaders,

Mark Clark and Fred Hampton, were killed during the raid and the seven surviving Panthers were charged with attempted murder.

The gist of the indictment against Hanrahan was that he gave a grand jury evidence "which he knew or reasonably should have known to be false and inflammatory" to procure charges against the Panthers.

Charges against the surviving Panthers were later dropped for lack of evidence. A federal grand jury determined that the raiding police had fired about 100 shots and the Panthers only one, although 19 illegal weapons were found in the apartment.

Hanrahan authorized the raid and has steadily defended the police when they were accused of clumsy planning, inept handling and "whitewashing" the facts.

When the indictment charging him with obstructing justice was opened in August, 1971, Hanrahan refused to enter a plea of innocent or guilty, contending the charges were invalid. He has maintained that position ever since.

He contended that Bargabas Sears, the special prosecutor who obtained the indictment, had coerced the grand jurors into returning it. During subsequent court fights, Sears went to the Illinois Supreme Court three times, and Hanrahan unsuccessfully asked the U.S. Supreme Court to hear an appeal.

Bomb injures officers

DENVER (UPI)—A bomb exploded in the faces of three Denver police officers Tuesday as they tried to remove it from a car. All three were injured critically.

The car belonged to Arthur Homan, 55, a janitor at a bakery goods manufacturing plant where three employees were injured last week when a similar device exploded in a car. Police found another bomb in a company truck at that time and defused it.

Police said the most seriously injured of the policemen, Sgt. Jack O. Burns, 38, head of the city's bomb squad, lost his right hand, a portion of his left and may be permanently blinded.

Also injured were Detectives Clifford V. Stanley, 31, and John T. Garrison, 36, both members of the bomb and arson squad.

"It was 6000y trapped," Stanley told fellow officers who carried him to a waiting ambulance.

The bomb, made up of two boxes of blasting caps, was discovered under the hood of a car owned by Arthur Homan, 55, a janitor at the Rust Sales Co. The car was parked outside Homan's home when the bomb exploded.

Authorities said the bomb apparently was planted at the same time as the earlier bombs, but was not discovered until Homan checked his oil.

When the bomb squad members first arrived at the scene, they indicated the bomb could go off because of the way it was wired.

Another row fire

MONTEREY Calif. (UPI)—An abandoned building was set ablaze by arsonists on Cannery Row Monday night, the latest in a series of fires on the historic stretch of waterfront.

Fire investigators said Tuesday that the arson fires have all followed a pattern of being set on weekends during major events or on holidays.

The row, made famous by novelist John Steinbeck, has been the scene of dispute recently between those who want to develop it as a tourist attraction and those who want to keep it as a site for arts and crafts.

Assistant Fire Chief Jack Reynolds said the blaze ruined the ocean side of the Oxnard Cannery, which was damaged in May by another arson fire. The building was scheduled for demolition.

China visit brings vow

HONG KONG (UPI)—Two leading American congressmen returned from a visit to China today and pledged to work for normalization of relations between Peking and Washington.

"Together our countries compose more than a billion people," Reps. Hale Boggs and Gerald Ford said in a joint statement issued shortly after crossing the border from China.

"It is therefore in the interest of both sides and, indeed, of all the world, to reach out for mutual understanding and respect." Boggs, the House Democratic Leader from Louisiana, and Ford, the House Republican Leader from Michigan, declined to discuss their visit with newsmen.

They said in their statement that they would report to President Nixon and to Congress after their return to Washington.

"We concluded today our visit to the People's Republic of China, only the third such official visit in nearly a quarter century. The mission was undertaken to gain a deeper understanding of China and to further normalize relations between our two countries," they said.

Their statement said a policy of mutual understanding and respect "can re-establish and deepen the friendship between our peoples."

"We were privileged to confer with the Chinese premier, Chou En-lai, and other leaders and to explore with them a wide range of subjects of common interest and concern. These discussions occurred in an atmosphere consistent with our objectives to improve relations," they said.

In addition to Peking, they also visited Shenyang, one of the leading industrial centers in the northeast; Anshan, a major steel center; Shanghai, the nation's largest city, and Canton, the largest city in south China and site of bi-annual export fairs.

Truman receives home town salute

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (UPI)—Citizens of former president Harry S. Truman's home town gave him an Independence Day salute Tuesday and sent wishes to Research Hospital in nearby Kansas City that Truman recover and return home soon.

Truman, 88, remained in satisfactory condition with an unspecified gastrointestinal ailment. He was hospitalized Sunday and doctors have been taking blood tests and x-rays since.

News conferences have been scheduled daily at 10 a.m. (EDT) for news of Truman's condition.

While the 33rd President was resting in his seventh floor hospital room, thousands gathered along the Fourth of July parade route in Independence.

The parade marched in front of Truman's 100-year-old white Victorian frame home and those in military regalia snapped the traditional "eyes right" salute to a former commander-in-chief.

Mrs. Gray read from a letter she sent to Truman via his wife, Bess, 87. "I skip fancy rhetoric, one of your characteristics, and tell it as it is," Mrs. Gray said. "Your stature as a President of the United States ranks among the top-most of the greats—Washington, Jefferson, Jackson, Lincoln and just a very few others."

"I rejoice the good Lord has spared you to know this judgment during your lifetime."

Mrs. Gray told reporters Truman was doing "just fine."

She said she did not see him but Mrs. Truman told her he was "taking it easy in his room, sitting up in bed some, and doing just fine."

The National Automobile Club reports the problem drinker killed 19,000 people in motor vehicle accidents in the United States during 1971.

This "gesture of friendship" would be an important step forward in efforts to normalize relations between Washington and Peking, Fairbank said in an interview with United Press International.

Fairbank, a Harvard University professor and author of many books on China and the Far East, arrived in Hong Kong after an extensive visit to China.

He said Taiwan still is the main obstacle to normalization of relations between China and the United States. "It is up to the leaders in Taipei and Peking to resolve this problem, but there are some important steps the United States could take to help," he said.

"Most people we talked to in China felt that we couldn't go very far towards any state relations as long as there is an American Embassy in Taiwan," Fairbank said. Among the people he talked with in China was Premier Chou En-lai.

Agreements reached between North and South Korea recently are a good indication that "China and Taiwan can get together," Fairbank said.

HONG KONG (UPI)—Prof. John K. Fairbank, a leading American Sinologist just back from a visit to China, said today the United States should reduce its diplomatic representation in Taiwan from embassy to consular level.

This "gesture of friendship" would be an important step forward in efforts to normalize relations between Washington and Peking, Fairbank said in an interview with United Press International.

Fairbank, a Harvard University professor and author of many books on China and the Far East, arrived in Hong Kong after an extensive visit to China.

He said Taiwan still is the main obstacle to normalization of relations between China and the United States. "It is up to the leaders in Taipei and Peking to resolve this problem, but there are some important steps the United States could take to help," he said.

"Most people we talked to in China felt that we couldn't go very far towards any state relations as long as there is an American Embassy in Taiwan," Fairbank said. Among the people he talked with in China was Premier Chou En-lai.

Agreements reached between North and South Korea recently are a good indication that "China and Taiwan can get together," Fairbank said.

NAACP raps Nixon plans

By RICHARD HUGHES
DETROIT (UPI)—The national convention of the NAACP passed a resolution Tuesday accusing President Nixon of "arousing passions of hate and bitterness" with his stand against school-busing for racial balance.

In the only resolution passed by the 2,300 delegates Tuesday, the second day of the week-long convention, the group called Nixon's antibusing remarks during his recent signing of the Higher Education Act "a divisive strategy totally destructive to a constitutional form of government" amounting to "changing the rules in the middle of the game."

"The President of the United States has picked up the 'never never' battle cry and is leading the mob in its assault upon the Fourteenth Amendment's Equal Protection Clause," the resolution said.

"He is invading the prerogative of a co-equal branch of government, the judiciary, by proposing legislation designed to interfere with the power of the courts to correct constitutional violations. He is arousing passions of hate and bitterness."

Bishop Stephen G. Spottswood, 75, chairman of the NAACP's board of directors, said in a news conference that the civil rights group may break with its nonpartisan tradition to seek Nixon's upset. "Nixon's record is so anti-Negro that I would not be surprised at all at such a resolution emitting from this convention," said the black retired bishop of the AME Zion Church.

The only time the NAACP officially urged the defeat of a presidential candidate was in 1964, when it opposed Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz.

Bishop Spottswood said no endorsement of a Democratic hopeful was expected. He said, however, that his personal choice was Minnesota Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey.

"When you lift out the small amount of people without racism," Bishop Spottswood said, "I would put Hubert Humphrey in that crowd. I do not know enough specifically about Senator (George) McGovern to put him in either crowd."

Sterilization

KUALA LUMPUR (UPI)—A total of 14,038 persons have been sterilized in Malaysia to date, the government reports, of these, only 1,046 were men. The government has rejected proposals to reward those who undergo voluntary sterilization.

Earlier gunmen shot and wounded an 18-year-old Protestant and a 22-year-old Roman Catholic in separate incidents in Belfast.

The two deaths raised the toll in almost three years of Ulster strife to 403.

Commanders of the 13 Belfast areas of the militant Ulster Defense Association (UDA) met to discuss a new confrontation with British troops this weekend, UDA sources said.

"We are going to do some things in Belfast this weekend," one UDA official said. "Obviously we're not going to tell you what our plans are."

UDA leaders said Tuesday their men will fire back if they are fired upon by troops in any new confrontation.

The UDA is trying to force the army to move against Roman Catholic "no go" areas in Londonderry. A negotiated compromise over a UDA move to extend barricades around a Catholic neighborhood Monday

Fire kills 30 patients

SHERBORNE, England (UPI)—Fire swept through one wing of the Coldharbour Hospital early today, killing 30 of the 36 mentally handicapped patients housed in the wing.

Harry Kempshall, hospital secretary, said "this was a deep dependency ward, housing men who were severely mentally handicapped." He said that six of the patients were evacuated but the other 30 were trapped and killed in the blaze.

The fire started at the dormitory end of the single-story Winfrith Villa in which the 36 patients were sleeping. The first alarm, shortly before 3 a.m., brought fire engines, police, and ambulances from two counties.

Firemen battled the blaze for three hours before extinguishing it.

"We have just begun our own investigation and the police and firemen will be conducting separate inquiries," Kempshall said.

The 25-year-old brick building had been completely remodeled earlier this year and had only been open for two months.

Coldharbour Hospital accommodates 336 mentally and physically handicapped patients.

Korean reunification termed 'distant goal'

SEOUL (UPI)—South Korean Premier Kim Jong-pil today warned the National Assembly not to expect an immediate end to hostilities between South and North Korea despite Tuesday's surprise announcement that they would seek peaceful reunification of the country.

Kim said that reunification of the land, divided for 27 years, is a distant goal. "No one knows how long it may take," he said. "We will have to be patient until we can trust each other."

The accord was announced in communiques issued jointly in Seoul and Pyongyang, the North Korean capital. The two nations, which have been technically at war since 1950 and have refused to recognize each other, agreed not to "undertake armed provocations against each other" and decided "to promote mutual understanding and expedite peaceful unification."

Kim said he foresees many difficulties ahead in dealing with the North Koreans. He stressed, for instance, that South Korea's formula for unification still calls for general elections throughout the peninsula under United Nations supervision. Pyongyang has so far refused to accept U.N. authority over the Korea question and has rejected a U.N. unification formula.

Death toll rises to 10 in Belfast

BELFAST (UPI)—An army patrol found the bullet-riddled bodies of two young men today, raising the death toll to 10 since Friday.

Talks on air strike progress

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—A federal mediator Tuesday reported the first progress in negotiations between Northwest Airlines and the Air Line Pilots Association, which has been on strike since last Friday.

Representatives of both sides were to meet again today.

After the second straight day of meetings, mediator Harry Bickford said he was "a little more optimistic."

"I'm going to report some progress," he said.

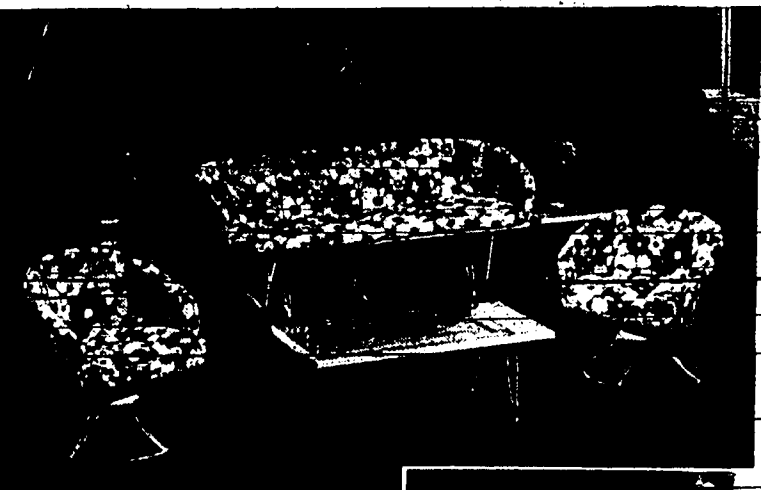

He said it appeared the 1,600 striking pilots were satisfied with the company's pay offer, which would give them a 22.7 per cent increase over three years with a maximum salary of $65,000 per year.

German aide quits

BONN (UPI)—West German government sources said Karl Schiller, the controversial minister of economics and finance, has resigned effective Friday.

The sources said Chancellor Willy Brandt would officially announce the resignation in a news conference Friday. Schiller's resignation was by letter mailed over the weekend to Brandt, the sources said.

Rupert fete draws many

LEE TREMAINE
Times-News Writer

RUPERT — Everybody loves a parade, from young to old, and the Rupert Fourth of July parade offered thrills for all.

For the first time, the parade route led past Minidoka Memorial Hospital on the east edge of town, to give patients, particularly the geriatric ward, a chance to see the floats and hear the music.

Minidoka County Sheriff Theo Johnson, leading the parade, paused after passing the hospital and directed the rest of marchers through the hospital parking lot.

Geriatric patients had been brought out by their nurses to watch from the lawn. A gentle breeze kept the sun's heat somewhat at bay, providing a perfect day for parading and watching.

The Burley Civil Air patrol unit led off with a color guard, bringing the many viewers seated on curbs and car fenders to their feet as Old Glory swung by. Migrant youngsters on tire trucks got a first-hand view of parade watchers as they slowly rolled past the throngs lining the streets of Rupert.

A number of elegant floats highlighted the parade, with "Bell Agency-Magic" capturing first place in the commercial division, and the Lutheran Church youth group winning first in the church category.

A delicate float with golden tracery soaring into the sky, prepared and entered by the Job's Daughters, was named grand prize winner.

Mini-Cassia citizens by the thousands turned out for the only parade in the eastern part of the Magic Valley, thronging into the downtown business section afterward for a traditional band concert by the Minico-High band.

Police blocked streets for a block in all directions from the city square to keep traffic at bay and give pedestrians a chance.

Extra adventure

TWIN FALLS — City Manager Jean Milar returned Monday from a vacation in Europe which included an additional adventure aboard a 747 Jet airliner.

The plane, carrying more than 300 passengers, made an unscheduled stop in Newfoundland after a passenger went berserk over the mid-Atlantic and threatened the safety of other passengers.

Milar said the passenger was subdued by the crew and as the plane landed a search for his luggage was made.

The plane carries luggage in special compartments and since the craft does not normally land at Newfoundland, the airport was not equipped to unload the luggage and it took six hours to find the passenger's luggage and determine it contained no explosives.

Milar, his wife and 8-year-old daughter left two weeks ago for Switzerland to take Milar's mother for a visit to her native Switzerland.

Milar said the trip was extremely enjoyable for all, but especially for his mother, Marguerite Milar. She left Switzerland 40 years ago and has since resided in the Magic Valley.

Milar said she still speaks fluent French and was able to converse with many of her childhood friends and to enjoy relatives she had known many years ago and some she had never seen.

The trip also included visits to London and Paris.

Buhl float wins

BUHL — A float entered by Erb Brothers Market, but there was no entry in that division.

Over 6,500 people watched the parade which lasted for about an hour and a half.

About 2,000 people were served at a free barbecue Tuesday afternoon. Games and rides were available for the children and concession stands were set up at Eastman Park.

A western dance, featuring music by the Walden Brothers, was held Tuesday night at the Jaycee Hall.

A fireworks display also was held Tuesday night sponsored by the Buhl Chamber of Commerce and the city of Buhl.

GLENN'S FERRY — The Glenns Ferry Barracks and Auxiliary of the Veterans of World War I will meet on Thursday at 12:30 p.m. for a potluck dinner. The meeting will be in the Veteran's Memorial Hall. Reports of the state convention held recently in Twin Falls will be given.

Bellevue man held

HAILEY — A Bellevue man was in jail today after a fight with two Halley police officers Tuesday evening on the Blaine County Hospital lawn.

Robert Dean Key, 24, Bellevue, was charged with possession of a controlled substance with intent to deliver — a felony — as well as misdemeanor charges of disturbing the peace, resisting arrest and two counts of assaulting a police officer.

Key is being held in the Blaine County jail with arraignment set for this morning. No bond has yet been established.

According to Halley Police Chief Roy Evans, Key was arrested for disturbing the peace when he visited a patient in the hospital. As Key attempted to escape, the altercation occurred.

Small fire near falls

SHOSHONE — One small range fire was reported over the holiday weekend, according to Michael Green, public information officer for the Shoshone office, Bureau of Land Management.

The fire, man caused, was located just north of Shoshone Falls at 4 p.m. Tuesday.

Dean Ricketts, per diem guard, who lives in that area, was promptly alerted and Green said he and his crew were able to extinguish the blaze before it spread.

Peaceful protests pledged

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Protest organizers have pledged peaceful demonstrations at the Democratic National Convention after purging a pie-throwing band known as the Zippies.

The pledge for peace was underwritten Monday night when a group of young protesters abandoned a plan to camp out on a public golf course and agreed to sleep on the grounds of a synagogue instead.

Spokesmen for the Yippie wing of the Youth International Party called the arrangement "the first concrete gain" in their efforts to get the city to set aside public facilities for demonstrators to camp out during the convention that starts next Monday.

The Yippies said they would hold off on using the golf course until the Miami Beach City Commission reconvenes.

The more radical Zippies of the Youth International Party did not indicate whether it would honor the compromise, but the threat of confrontation passed without incident Monday night.

The Zippies were disowned Monday by the Conventions Coordinating Committee, which is organizing protests at the Democratic and Republican conventions. A committee statement said the Zippies were guilty of "provocative acts" regarding the peace demonstrations and programs of all other members of the committee.

Sicilian gals can't cross legs

RAGUSA, Sicily (UPI) — Pretty girls from foreign lands beware: crossing your legs in public can be a crime in Sicily. Ingrid Krause of Marburg, West Germany, was seated with friends at a sidewalk cafe, eating ice cream, when Judge Carlo Scribano walked past.

He saw the crossed legs of Miss Krause, 34, and summoned a woman officer to take her to the police station.

Scribano, meanwhile, rushed back to his chambers and handed down a ruling fining Miss Krause 10,000 lire ($17).

Clubwomen hold meet at Burley

4th in Saigon 'so-so'

SAIGON (UPI) — The 4th of July in Saigon means only a half day's work but that's still not as good as the celebrations Air Force Sgt. Richard L. Taylor remembers in Jackson, Mich.

"In Jackson, my best friend, Ritchie Collins, and some other friends and I would go to the lake (Portage Lake State Park), lie in the sun, do some swimming and eat a little food. It was a real nice day."

Taylor who grew up in Jackson, His mother now lives in San Diego, Calif.

"We'd just sort of lounge around and have a good time," he added, eating a bowl of chili and drinking a soda for breakfast at the Saigon USO. Tables near the snack bar were decorated with small U.S. flags for the celebration.

"Jackson is known for two things—the Cascades and it's got the biggest waterfalls in the world—Southern Michigan Prison," Taylor said. "On the 4th of July there was always a fireworks thing at the Cascades—that's a man-made waterfall with pools and lakes."

"I'm celebrating the 4th of July here," he said smiling. "I just bought suits and pants and I have a half day off. After that I might go see a movie and have a couple of beers in the office and then crash."

"The airmen's club is having a big bash-free dinner" and hands—but that's no big thing. The USO club is having free beer."

Taylor has been in the Air Force two and one-half years and has four months left in his one-year tour in Vietnam. He works in the finance office at nearby Tan Son Nhut air base issuing final pay and endorsed travel orders to departing servicemen.

Speedy RR links set in July

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — July 15 marks the beginning of a new, high-speed rail link between Chicago and the West Coast, the U.S. Postal Service and the Union Pacific Railroad announced Monday.

The new daily train, which will carry bulk mail and passengers, will be called the Overland Mail. It will speed mail from Chicago to Portland and San Francisco, as well as intermediate stops in Salt Lake City, Boise, Pocatello, Cheyenne, Denver and Omaha.

Transit time for eastbound shipments will be reduced by 18 hours, and a savings of 8 hours will be made in west-bound shipments, say railroad spokesmen.

The program is part of the new U.S. Postal Service's drive to improve its transportation network including trains, trucks, and planes.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Prices moved broadly higher Wednesday in moderate trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones Industrial average was up 5.34 at 934.00 shortly before 1:15 p.m. Standard & Poor's 500-stock index was ahead 0.69 at 108.18.

Advances led declines, 823 to 466, among the 1,659 issues crossing the tape. The three-hour turnover amounted to 8,630,000 shares, up from the 5,120,000 traded during the corresponding period Monday.

Investors apparently found some stock prices attractive following the recent declines in the market. Much of the activity was in the glamors, electronics and computers.

Curtis-Wright, which has attracted attention recently because it holds the North American rights to the Wankel rotary engine, was the most active issue, up 1 1/2% at 57 1/2 on 157,300 shares.

Lear-Siegler Inc. was second, unchanged at 9 1/4 on 115,000 shares. Control Data was third, up 1/4 at 78 1/4 on 104,400 shares.

Among the glamors, Levitz Furniture gained 4 after reporting June sales increased more than 100 per cent from the comparable month last year.

Airlines, which had a busy holiday weekend, were higher. Chemicals generally were higher. Oils and rails were mixed. Steels, motors and aircrafts were mixed in fractions.

Hostilities to end in N., S. Korea

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The decision of the two Koreas to speed the easing of the tensions that have kept them estranged since the end of World War II apparently owed much to the improved relations between the United States and China.

The State Department responded to the dramatic news of the contacts Monday night by saying the United States welcomed the move and was "most encouraged" by the prospects for peace and stability on the Korean peninsula.

North and South Korea said they had agreed on specific steps to seek reunification by peaceful means without respect to ideological or social differences.

Talks between the two Koreas started a year ago through Red Cross representatives on the possibility of reuniting families which had been divided by the cease-fire that ended the Korean war in 1953.

Informed diplomatic sources here said the talks took a much more concrete form and moved into the political sphere shortly after President Nixon and Premier Chou En-lai held their series of conferences in China.

Diplomats here have not claimed that Nixon or Chou intervened specifically to bring about the expanded contacts.

But the assumption in diplomatic circles in Washington was that when the United States and China took steps to begin liquidating their Cold War, the smaller nations involved in the East-West conflict in Asia decided it was time to start easing their own disagreements.

North and South Korea will use a joint commission to work toward the goal of reunification.

While American officials expressed great pleasure at the Korean decision, they warned against undue optimism at this time.

The officials said the situation was much the same as that between West Germany and Communist East Germany, when those two countries more than two years ago first began discussions to try to find solutions to their differences.

The goal of German reunification still is far in the future, if it ever occurs.

Tensions between the two Germanies, however, have been greatly eased. This has been due in part to continuing American and Soviet pressure on their respective friends.

In San Clemente, Calif., the Western White House hailed the agreement between North and South Korea to end their hostilities as "an encouraging indication of lessening of tensions in the area."

Deputy Press Secretary Gerald Warren said President Nixon had been kept informed of the secret negotiations by the government of the Republic of Korea.

More than 30,000 Americans died defending South Korea in the early 1950s and hundreds of millions of American dollars since have furnished for defense of the country.

UN aide serves as intermediary

GENEVA (UPI)—U. N. Secretary General Kurt Waldheim said today he played the role of a secret intermediary between the two Koreas in talks that led to the agreement signed earlier.

Waldheim expressed satisfaction over the accord reached between North and South Korea.

He said he met in Vienna with North Korean representatives last March. During these meetings, he said, the North Korean delegates had passed on to him their positions on the various issues, reviewed the contacts they had already had with South Korea and made a number of suggestions.

These suggestions were passed on to South Korea, Waldheim said, and "I am happy to see that their hopes have now been realized."

Projects done by poor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Three hundred welfare recipients who were put to work by the state legislature have transformed the once grimy, graffiti-covered Staten Island ferries into models of cleanliness, a city official said Tuesday.

Transportation administrator Constantine Sidamon-Eristoff said one welfare recipient, who holds degrees in mechanical and electrical engineering, assisted in drawing up plans for improvement of the old boat repair dock.

The welfare recipients have made it possible for the Department of Marine and Aviation to clean the eight Manhattan-to-Staten Island ferries every week instead of once a month, as was previously the case.

The work is being performed under the legislature's 1971 requirement that employable welfare recipients be placed in city or state government jobs, if private employment for them cannot be found.

The workers put in an average of 4½ days every two weeks in jobs paying $2 to $4 an hour, Sidamon-Eristoff said. He said in addition to scrubbing the decks, stairways, windows, walls and benches of the ferries, the workers are scraping, sanding and shellacking benches in the terminals. Carpenters, plumbers, mechanics, riggers, painters, caulkers and engineers among the welfare recipients have played a major role in the improvement of the boat repair depot at Pier 7 in Staten Island, Sidamon-Eristoff added.

Limelight may fade for Martha

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The telephone was both Martha Mitchell's trademark and her undoing as a superstar in a Republican administration with few glittering personalities.

She was outspoken on topics from the Vietnam War to the Republicans to the Democrats to her husband.

She said the unthinkable in a town where discretion and protocol act as effective gags for most people.

"The Vietnam War is over" was one of her shockers.

As the wife of one Cabinet member, she said of another. "We're thinking of running (Treasury Secretary) John B. Connally for Pope."

"Right on Martha! Give 'em Hell," President Nixon used to say when the wife of his attorney general, John N. Mitchell, teed off on the Democrats.

Now, three years after her spectacular rise to becoming the most sought after woman in Washington, she and her husband are preparing for an eventual move back to New York and away from the limelight Mitchell, who resigned as attorney general to manage President Nixon's reelection campaign, has quit the latter post at his wife's insistence. He will remain as an adviser but it seems certain that he and his wife will not command the same attention in Washington which was sometimes aghast and often amused by Mrs. Mitchell's frankness.

Mrs. Mitchell, 53, burst into prominence early in 1969, when she told an interviewer that anti-Vietnam War demonstrators looked like "Russian revolutionaries." She made a 2 a.m. phone call to the Arkansas Gazette to blast Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., a leading critic of the war.

Martha had the nerve to say what she thought and called the shots as she saw them, sometimes outrageously.

President Nixon was amused. He felt she added a touch of liveliness, even glamor to the staid stamp of his administration. She fell into a class with Henry A. Kissinger as a Nixon-style celebrity. Mail showered into her letter-box and she developed a country-wide following. Some of her detractors started calling her "Moutha."

The wives of other Cabinet members who were under strong restraints, neither understood nor liked Martha's power.

Mrs. Nixon and her daughters, Julie Eisenhower and Tricia Cox, defended her right to speak, but did not approve of some of her fiery opinions.

Although their husbands were close, Mrs. Nixon and Mrs. Mitchell maintained a cool and detached relationship, although they spent many social hours together.

With her dimpled smile and vivacity, Martha's pictures easily made the front pages and the lead spots on the social pages.

She began to feel her opinions, by now receiving wide attention, were worth something, as indeed they were.

She angered some of the senatorial wives when she personally attempted to lobby them on the telephone while their husbands were adamantly opposing such proposals as the President's nomination of Florida Judge G. Harrold Carswell for the Supreme Court. It was a breach of protocol on her part.

Martha had been a happy "country club" wife in Rye, N.Y. before moving to Washington. Her husband headed an illustrious Wall Street law firm before merging it with Nixon's law partnership.

The Mitchells, both divorced from previous marriages, have one child, daughter Marty, 11, who is adored by both. Martha was a Pine Bluff, Ark. belle who attended Catholic schools. Although she was not a Catholic, her friends dubbed her "Saint Martha."

She sends her daughter Marty to a Catholic school and worries about her safety now that both parents are public figures. Along with the fan letters came "hate" mail.

When her husband was in the Justice Department, she was assigned an FBI agent for protection.

When she appeared to be losing her White House stamp of approval as the days slipped by she maintained her "love affair" with the press.

There were indications that she was barred from the "Spirit of '76," the presidential plane, after she wandered to the rear where reporters were seated during a presidential trip.

All children winners at Hailey's Days of Old West

By TERRY CAMPBELL

Times-News Writer
HAILEY — "I hope my feet don't get hot."

"Hey, bikes go down there." With those comments, a long line containing witch doctors, seven dwarfs, an entire baseball team, bikes and small covered wagons moved out towards Main Street during the "Days of the Old West" celebration kids' parade Monday.

The 150 participants were accompanied by their mothers—makeup artists, who carried an array of safety pins, tape and lipstick, which they used to generally glue, pin and pull together the troops before the parade.

However, one mother expressed concern over her son who was painted purple and dressed as a witch doctor. She said to bystanders, "I told him if it doesn't wash off, he'll have to stay that way for the rest of his life."

All children were winners, with each one receiving a popsicle, at the end of the march. Prizes were also awarded in each one of the classes of pets, bikes and trikes, and characters.

The first place each class received $5, with $2 to the second place, and three other $1 prizes given.

Winners in the bikes and trikes class were Donnie Litzinger, first; Mike Dunn and Greg and Lorie Bartholemew, all second; and David, Michelle and Angela Ovard, all third.

Judges for the class were Pauline Bird and Letha Kinney. In the characters' competition, winners were Korrena Beanan and group, first; John Bolton and the Valentine children, second; Steve Roberts, third; Jo Anna and Margie Schmidt, fourth, and Greg Taylor, fifth. Judges were Pam Schewe and Tony Croce.

Winners in the pet class were Tiny Roberts, first; Casey Wilkinson, second; Carolyn Caster, third; Cathy Fox and Polly Anderson, fourth, and Polly Breneman, fifth.

Judges for the pet event were Alba Arndt and Mrs. Grant Patterson.

Co-chairmen for the kids' parade were Barbara Nyblad and Liz Bolton.

France explodes device

PAPEETE, Tahiti (UPI)—France secretly exploded a second nuclear device last Friday and is planning the third—and possibly final—blast of the current series later this month or early August, unofficial reports said Tuesday.

French officials here and in Paris refused to comment on the reports, which also were published in the Monday edition of the Journal de Tahiti newspaper.

France has never officially admitted the first nuclear test which took place June 25 from a balloon tethered high over the Mururoa atoll, 800 miles southeast of here.

Faced with a mounting wave of criticism and protest throughout the world, including particularly Pacific nations such as Australia, New Zealand, and Peru, France for the first time in eight years of testing in the Pacific has imposed a heavy veil of secrecy.

Signs that there will be a short interruption in the nuclear test program came when three support vessels returned to Papeete from the proving grounds. The frigates Amiral Charner and Doudard de Lagree arrived Saturday. They were followed Monday by the assault landing ship Orage.

The aim of the current test series is to miniaturize the trigger for the missile-carried hydrogen warheads France plans to install in its nuclear submarine strike force. The force is scheduled to be operational in 1976.

White House turns down probe appeal

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI)—The White House has turned down an appeal from the Democratic party for a special investigation of the alleged attempt to bug Democratic headquarters.

The incident is already being investigated by the FBI, and the request from Democratic party chairman Larry O'Brien is for political purposes, commented Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler Monday.

From Miami Beach, O'Brien responded by saying the refusal indicates the President and his reelection advisers "indeed have something to hide."

Washington police last month arrested five men in the Watergate Hotel, in the Democratic party's office suite, carrying electronic eavesdropping equipment. One of the suspects, James W. McCord Jr., is a former CIA and FBI agent who was under contract as a security adviser to the Republican National Committee and Nixon's reelection campaign.

Delta farmers struggle to retain rich lands

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—long with reaping a rich crop harvest annually from the expansive Sacramento-San Joaquin delta, farmers are engaged in a continuous struggle to prevent ocean tidal waters from winning back land they began reclaiming more than a century ago.

What was once a vast swamp has been methodically converted into productive cropland and a maze of interconnected waterways billed as a boating and fishing paradise.

Located at the confluence of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers system near San Francisco Bay, the delta—once dotted with Indian Villages—contains 738,000 acres and 700 miles of meandering waterways.

More than 100 islands and tracts, known as the "lowlands," encompass 450,000 acres of land, including a capping layer of peat more than 50 feet thick in parts.

The islands lie from 5 feet above to more than 20 feet below sea level and are protected from flooding by some 1,100 miles of man-made levees.

But last month—as she has done occasionally in the past—"Nature took back two" of those islands, and it will cost millions of dollars to wrest them from her again. The rupture of a levee on the San Joaquin River June 21 resulted in the flooding of Andrus and Branna Islands. Damage is estimated at $20 million.

After the Gold rush, many men turned to working the soil. Numerous miners entered the delta and adjacent bottomlands and became gardeners and woodchoppers.

They selected the area of tree-cloaked natural levees fronting on the Sacramento River because of ample supplies of water, good soil and easy access to transient consumers.

Reclamation of the islands began at that time and by 1930 earthen dikes had been erected on practically all of them by private individuals anxious to use the rich soil to grow a variety of crops such as asparagus, tomatoes, potatoes, sugar beets, corn, celery and grain.

Their efforts have led to an annual harvest now estimated in excess of $100 million.

The delta islands are totally dependent on the levee system for survival. Many of the protected lands are now 10 to 15 feet below sea level and because of soil changes are still sinking.

Many of the islands, due to oxidation of peat soils, are subsiding at the rate of 3 to 4 inches per year.

The levees surrounding these islands are continually dropping as the soft underlying peat foundations compress. As the levees sink, landowners are forced to place material on top of them to keep them at an adequate height to prevent flooding.

Conditions of levees throughout the delta vary greatly, according to Col. James Donovan of the Army Corps of Engineers. Some are constructed to high standards and maintained that way, such as the Sacramento River deep water channel. Others are not as well off.

Donovan indicated that to some extent the problem lies with those dikes which are privately maintained because they do not have to meet specific protection standards. "I wish the corps had built all those levees because we have to maintain certain standards," Donovan said.

"When private interests build the levees they are really strapped (financially) in order to build them to proper standards. We have never had a viable long range program to rebuild some of those levees that need rebuilding."

The corps said the waterside erosion of levees is not a new problem, but one that has existed ever since the embankments were constructed.

The erosion is due to wave action caused by winds, tidal action and turbulent flood flows.

With the expansion of commercial navigation and recreational boating the problem has become increasingly troublesome.

Water fund accepted

BOISE (UPI) — The deputy director of the Idaho Department of Parks and Recreation has accepted a check for $56,500 from the economic development administration for water development at Idaho's Farragut Park.

Deputy director R.P. Peterson said the money represents the first payment of a $125,202 grant to be used on the Farragut park water system.

Park contest slated

Prank puts giant chicken on steps

BOISE (UPI) — Say, did you hear the one about the 5½ foot chicken on the steps of the statehouse Monday?

Gov. Cecil D. Andrus' press secretary John Hough did as he was catching up on some paperwork when his telephone rang.

The woman caller asked in an embarrassed voice, "Have you seen my chicken around the statehouse?"

Hough replied, "Your what?" "My chicken. You see, it's 5½ feet tall," and adding that it is a plastic statue of a chicken which she used as a decoration on her lawn. She said it was stolen Saturday night.

A friend called her Sunday saying he saw the creature perched on the steps of the capitol building.

Hough told her there wasn't a 5½ foot chicken on the statehouse steps, but told her to hold on and he would check with security.

A call to the security force drew the following response: "Yes, we've got it. That thing was so heavy it took two of us to carry it down into the basement."

The overgrown chicken was then returned to its owner and Hough returned to his paperwork.

He admitted it just didn't seem the same for the rest of the day.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Television resulted from a number of inventions dating as far back as 1884. Field testing of the "tube" began in 1936. This year, there are about 98.6 million television sets in use in the United States alone. Fifty-two per cent of them are color.

Defects delay water service

FRESNO (UPI)—Final installation of huge water pumps to carry state water project water over the Tehachapi Mountains to Southern California may be delayed up to 18 months because of defects in the pumps, the Fresno Bee said Monday.

Some 25 pumps at the Wind Gap, Wheeler Ridge and A.D. Edmonston pumping plants in Southern Kern County were found defective and will have to be taken off the line—one at a time to maintain pumping capacity—and repaired, according to State Department of Water Resources officials.

However, they said all commitments to water contractors will be met and no water shortages were anticipated.

The Bee said a spokesman for the Allis-Chalmers Corp. which manufactured the pumps at a bid price of $24.4 million said only 14 pumps had developed problems.

Another company employee, who asked not to be identified, said the work of installing the giant pumps could take up to 18 months.

The pumps were covered by a warranty and the company will bear the additional costs, the Bee said.

2 to attend meet

Socks Should Last a Year

How long should your various articles of clothing last? The National Institute of Dry Cleaning did a study on that. So its members would know how much to pay for customers' claims. A woman's basic suit, it was found, ought to be good for four years. A cloth coat, three years. A street dress, two years. A house dress, one year. A man's winter suit, four years. His overcoat, four years. A dress shirt, two years. A pair of socks, one year.

A POLISH doctor claims his research proves the labor of unmarried expectant mothers is almost invariably shorter than that of pregnant wives.

A HOLIDAY INNS bartender has to come up with the money for 20 1/2 drinks for each fifth of liquor, that's the rule.

QUERIES

Q. "Can a man be taught a foreign language with a pillow speaker attached to a tape recorder while he sleeps?"

A. Not if he's really conked out. He might pick up a few lines as he dozes off, however. Such is the latest contention of the sleep researchers.

Q. "AREN'T there small claims courts in every state?"

A. Except Colorado, Indiana and Nebraska.

Q. "CAN an armadillo swim?"

A. Can indeed. Pumps its digestive innards full of air first, then paddles along most mightily.

BEAUTY

What makes Eric Money of England an authority on female pulchritude? I guess, is the fact he has managed more than 2,000 beauty contests. In looks, he thinks the shape of a woman's leg is more important than her face. But he says her height and tape measurements are even more significant. As previously reported, his ideal girl stands 5-foot-6 and tapes 36-25-35.

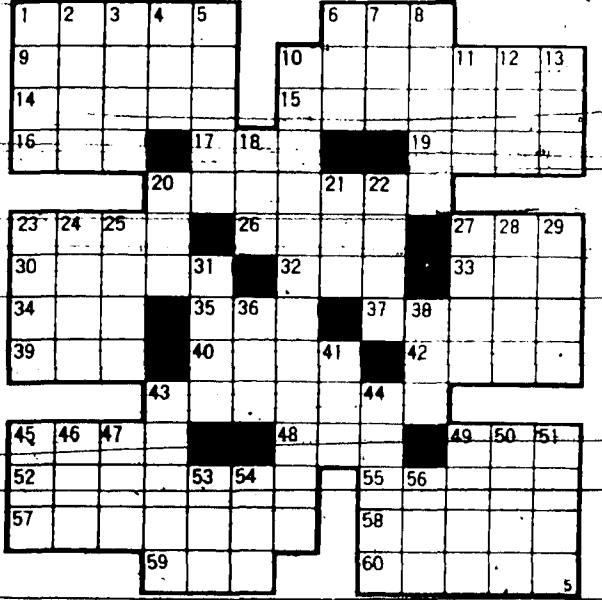

IF IT'S really white, citizens hereabouts think it ought to have a slightly blue cast. But in South America, if it's really white, the Latins expect it to show a reddish tinge. Like beauty, white is in the eye of the etc.

THE MEDIAN age of those souls who leap off the San Francisco Bridge is 43. And the men who do so outnumber the women by 23 to one. That's odd. Usual men women ratio among suicides is three to one.

Body lies in state

Grant given

Crash injures 2 men

Wednesday, July 5, 1972 Times-News, Twin Falls, Idaho 27

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—Mormons began moving today in solemn double lines past the open metal casket of Joseph Fielding Smith, the church's 10th president, as his body lay in state before a funeral in the nearby Tabernacle.

Smith, 95, the grandnephew of the founder of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, (Mormon) died Sunday of a heart attack at the home of a daughter after more than two years at the church's helm.

The large casket, similar to one used for the funeral of his predecessor two years ago, rested in the center of the Church Office Building marble-pillared rotunda and just 50 feet from the small office where Smith worked.

The body was to lie in state until 8 p.m. today and again in the morning Thursday before funeral services at 12:15 p.m. in the domed Tabernacle on nearby Temple Square, about two blocks distant.

After the burial of the religious leader, the Council of the Twelve Apostles will meet Friday to consider choosing a new president. He is expected to be Harold B. Lee, 77, the Council's senior member.

President Nixon has designated Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, and Housing and Urban Development Secretary George Romney as his representatives at the funeral. Both are Mormons.

Lee will also conduct the funeral services, which will include songs by the Mormon Tabernacle Choir and talks by the high church officials including Lee, President N. Eldon Tanner and Elder Ezra Taft Benson, secretary of agriculture during the Eisenhower administration.

The faithful today trudged up the granite steps of the administration building of the three-million-member church and first filed into a smaller reception area and then into the rotunda where the casket stood between an honor guard.

The double lines, moving over a green carpet with designs from the "Tree of Life" in it, filed past the casket and out a rear door, in view of the new 20-story LDS Office Building, begun under Smith's predecessor, President David O. McKay, and yet to be officially dedicated.

They passed within a few feet of both Smith's office and the conference room of the First Presidency, paneled with rare woods from Russia and Honduras.

The First Presidency, normally two men to assist the President, in the administration of the church, is dissolved upon the death of the president.

Administration devolves upon the council, which has selected Mormon leaders in short order since the turn of the century. Prior to that, however, the calling of a leader could take years.

MOSCOW (UPI)—The University of Idaho has received a $100,000 grant from the Kresle Foundation to be used towards construction of phase one of the school's Performing Arts Center.

The grant from the Birmingham, Mich., foundation will allow the university to proceed with planning the facility's construction.

BLACKFOOT, Idaho (UPI)—Two men were injured and 200 sheep killed Tuesday when a semi-trailer truck crashed into a farm vehicle near here, Idaho State Police reported.

Injured in the accident were Hector M. Meneses, 35, Ogden, Utah, and Evaristo Altamirano, 61, Moreland, Idaho. Both were hospitalized.

State police said the semi carrying the sheep crashed into a farm truck loaded with machinery, pushing it across Interstate 15 and into an irrigation ditch a half mile from here. The bigger truck rolled on its side.

Officers said the semi, driven by Larry Cloward 24, of Orem, Utah, crashed into the other vehicle from the rear. Altamirano and Meneses were in the farm truck.

Damage to the semi was estimated at $18,000 and to the farm truck at $2,000.

Attendance set

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI)—Secretary George Romney of Housing and Urban Development and Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, will represent President Nixon Thursday at the funeral of Mormon Church President Joseph Fielding Smith, the Western White House said Tuesday.

Romney and Bennett are both members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints (Mormon) which Smith headed before his death Sunday at the age of 95. The funeral will be in Salt Lake City.

Bennett's wife is the daughter of the late Heber Grant, a former president of the church.

Crackdown

MANILA (UPI)—Manila's Mayor Ramon D. Bagatsing has lifted his order closing down seven downtown movie houses for showing "bomba" (lewd) pictures in violation of a city ordinance. Bagatsing said owners and operators of the theaters pledged to cooperate with the anti-bomba campaign.

McCoy trial first under new ruling

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—Results of the airline piracy trial of Richard F. McCoy Jr., Provo, the first federal capital punishment trial under a new Supreme Court ruling—may get national attention.

The McCoy trial was in its fourth day last Thursday when the nation's highest court abolished the death penalty. It was then U. S. Judge Willis W. Ritter instructed the jury to rule out the death penalty as a possible sentence.

McCoy was later convicted of hijacking a United Air Lines jet April 7, holding the plane and its passengers for $500,000 ransom, and then bailing out over Provo with the money.

"The main question over the high court's decision is whether the ruling did away with capital punishment in all cases, or only in cases where state courts have unequally administered the law."

The judge's charge to the jury to disallow a death penalty, therefore, set an important precedent since the McCoy trial was the first federal capital crime case to be tried under the new ruling.

Petitions signed

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (UPI)—Members of the 14 Indian dance teams who performed in the Flagstaff Indian Pow-Wow have signed petitions criticizing those who disrupted the weekend event.

The petitions said the American Indian Movement (AIM) does not represent the dancers; nor do the dancers support the actions of AIM.

The petitioners also said they participated in the dances on their own free will, supported the all-Indian pow-wow committee, and were not coerced into dancing.

"Nine men were arrested Sunday night when they disrupted the ceremonial dances, claiming the Indians were being exploited. The announcer said an Indian grabbed his microphone and shouted into it while a group of Indians rushed into the arena and yelled to dancers, 'Don't dance, don't sell out.'"
