Higher meat prices spur food cost rise

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A new surge in livestock prices pushed wholesale food prices up for the second month in a row in June, the government announced today, but the nation's unemployment rate dropped sharply to its lowest point in 20 months.

The Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said a 4.7 per cent increase in livestock prices was the main reason for a 1 per cent rise in the wholesale price of consumer foods last month. It came on the heels of a 1.3 per cent hike in May after two months of sharp declines.

Unemployment, however, dipped from 5.9 per cent to 5.5 per cent in June. The 0.4 per cent drop brought joblessness to its lowest level since October, 1970. It was the first time since then that unemployment had not hovered near the 6 per cent mark.

The big jump in wholesale meat and food prices had been anticipated by the administration and led President Nixon to clamp price controls on farm products and lift the import quotas on meat in an effort to stem a price rise for consumers.

The BLS explained that the 5.5 per cent unemployment rate was seasonally adjusted to compensate for the normal big influx of students into the labor force during the summer vacation. Thus, the actual number of unemployed persons increased 1.1 million in June to 5.4 million, but this was less than usual for June and therefore the jobless percentage figure went down after seasonal adjustment.

Officials said most of the decline in unemployment occurred among workers aged 16 to 24 and that the teenage jobless rate dropped from 15.7 to 14.5 per cent, the lowest in almost two years.

The report showed the overall Wholesale Price Index increased 0.5 per cent in June, a rate slightly less than the 0.6 per cent advance in May but greater than the 0.1 per cent increases in the two previous months. Industrial commodity prices went up 0.3 per cent, the same as in May and about average for the past two years.

But wholesale prices of farm products and food reflected their second consecutive month of sharp increases. The index for farm products in processed foods and feeds went up 1.1 per cent in June, slightly over the 1 per cent increase for consumer foods. Non-food consumer items recorded a 0.3 per cent increase in June.

On the food front, live poultry prices shot up 6.9 per cent, livestock prices increased 4.7 per cent, processed meats, poultry and fish advanced 3.6 per cent.

Insurgents offer peace

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Chicago's insurgents, having ousted Mayor Richard Daley, offered today to make peace and seek a compromise on the seating of a delegation at the Democratic National Convention.

But William Singer, leader of the 59-member insurgent group, said that Daley "has not changed positions and is adamantly going all the way."

Singer, a Chicago alderman, said the idea of seating both delegations — the Daley group and the insurgents — each with half a vote, "is one that would be worth discussing."

Frontrunner George S. McGovern would stand to lose at least 20 votes under a 50-50 compromise. A McGovern spokesman, Pierre Salinger, said "we are not participating (in any compromise discussion) until the courts clarify the situation."

Democratic party leaders feared that if Daley were barred from sitting at the convention, President Nixon would sweep Illinois in the fall.

An olive branch was extended by Singer as three major candidates, George C. Wallace, Hubert H. Humphrey and Edmund S. Muskie flew to the convention city, knowing they have to stop George S. McGovern or forfeit their chances for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Singer told UPI that "our position is we would be willing to caucus to consider and discuss any reasonable proposal made."

He said the insurgents were not suggesting any specific compromise. "We are simply saying that if the situation changed and the mayor, or anybody from his office wanted to enter into discussions, we would be glad to do it."

AWOL soldier gives up, ends latest California skyjacking

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — A 21-year-old AWOL soldier, who hijacked a Pacific Southwest Airlines jetliner for $455,000 ransom, surrendered early today to a highway patrol captain he had taken hostage.

"I told him that as soon as he stepped down the ramp an FBI agent is going to squeeze me off and your head will disintegrate," said California highway patrol officer Lloyd Turner, 42.

The hijacker, identified by the FBI as Francis Goodell, Manassas, Va., handed over two guns and the ransom after two tense hours of waiting in the Boeing 727 on the runway at Oakland airport.

It was the second hijacking of a PSA plane in two days, the FBI killed two gunmen in Wednesday's hijacking at San Francisco International Airport. Turner, of Sacramento, had been a passenger in plain clothes aboard the plane when it was seized over northern California.

After a stop at San Diego where PSA turned over the ransom, the hijacker released all but two of the 57 passengers and forced the plane's crew to fly to Oakland.

"I talked to him about family and said it was going to hurt his mother and it would not be over today or tomorrow but would be a long term thing," said Turner.

One of the guns Goodell turned over was Turner's service revolver which the patrolman had taken from its holster and placed in a coat pocket.

Turner said he had not been frisked when he got on the aircraft at Sacramento. "I could have shot him several times but there were women and children on the plane and it could have ruptured the skin of the aircraft," Turner said.

Once on the ground in Oakland the hijacker, who had signed the passenger list with the alias of Goodwin M. Harrison, apparently lost his nerve. Turner talked him into surrendering.

Smoky canyon Fires sear Snake canyon, MV areas

By RUTH MILLER
Times News Writer

TWIN FALLS — A range fire in Snake River Canyon Thursday afternoon threatened the Blue Lakes Country Club.

The clubhouse and all other buildings in the area were saved, however, as volunteer and firemen successfully battled the blazing grass and brush.

Grounds around the clubhouse were extensively scorched, but Alpheus Creek, to the north of the clubhouse, prevented flames from reaching the building.

Egon Kroll, president of the country club, said there was smoke damage inside the building and functions at the club were canceled Thursday night.

He said he did not know when use of the club could be resumed. Fans were being used today to clear smoke from the clubhouse.

A fire in October, 1961, destroyed the original clubhouse.

The fire burned through power lines, cutting power into the area. A large crew of Idaho Power Co. personnel assisted in battling the blaze.

At least 14 poles were damaged or burned by the fire and power was not restored until 3 a.m.

Justices return, confer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Three of four vacationing Supreme Court justices were returning to their offices today, setting the stage for a full-scale consultation on the legal battle over seating key blocs of California and Chicago delegates at the Democratic convention.

With only Justice William J. Brennan absent, eight members of the Court were expected to be available for possible action.

The decision of a three-member U.S. appeals court on the delegations was appealed Thursday to Chief Justice Warren E. Burger, who took the dispute under study.

Four of the associate justices — Potter Stewart, Byron R. White, Thurgood Marshall and Harry A. Blackmun — were still in Washington and available for consultation at that time.

Justice Lewis F. Powell Jr. returned from Richmond, Va., early today along with Justice William H. Rehnquist. Justice William O. Douglas, who had gone to his vacation retreat at Goose Prairie, Wash., was en route back to Washington with his arrival expected sometime during the afternoon.

Brennan, vacationing on Nanuet Island, was not expected back at his office.

At issue were the appeals court decisions that would seat 194 disputed delegates in favor of the convention front-runner, Sen. George S. McGovern. The South Dakotan's strategists claimed that if the rulings are allowed to stand he would be assured of a first ballot victory.

Food price curbs eyed

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI) — President Nixon called in his economic experts to discuss ways of holding down food prices today after promising to veto any excessive election-year spending by Congress.

The President's moves were aimed at curbing inflation — one of the most persistent problems of his administration — and setting the stage for the forthcoming campaign debate over who is to blame for it.

Treasury Secretary George

P. Schultz, Consumer Adviser Virginia Knauer, Herbert Stein of the Council of Economic Advisers and other members of the Cost of Living Council were scheduled to report to Nixon on their jawboning sessions with executives in the food industry.

He directed them last week to hold series of meetings with union officials, chain store operators and food processors and producers to enlist their support in halting mushrooming food costs.

Thursday, Nixon laid the blame for inflation on the Democratic-controlled Congress.

Finance head quits

BONN (UPI) — West German Chancellor Willy Brandt today named Defense Minister Helmut Schmidt head of the Ministry of Economics and Finance.

Schmidt, 53, succeeds his former university teacher, Karl Schiller, who resigned in a dispute over tax reform, budgetary and economic monetary policies.

The cabinet crisis was a severe blow to Brandt's Social Democratic party and his coalition government which lost its parliamentary majority two months ago.

Pound, $ depressed on marts

LONDON (UPI) — International currency worries kept the pound and the dollar depressed in quiet trading on European exchange markets today.

One of Britain's top gold dealing firms said the pound's problems and doubts already existing about the dollar would prevent any sizeable fall in the price of free market gold.

The dollar stayed pinned near its "floor."

S. Viet troops surround citadel

SAIGON (UPI)—South Vietnamese troops surrounded the 19th century stone-walled citadel in Quang Tri city today and prepared for the major battle to recapture the city.

A 500-man paratrooper force moved into the city earlier, drawing rocket and artillery fire from the Communists. The paratroopers met no major resistance from Communist troops, but allied officers believe the North Vietnamese defenders are holed up inside the 500-square-yard citadel.

"We won't be able to say Quang Tri is captured until the South Vietnamese flag flies over the citadel," said Maj. Gen. Howard Cook, senior U.S. adviser to government forces moving on the city.

The 500-man force was the first sizable government unit to enter the city since it was captured by the Communists on May 1, slightly more than one month after the start of the current offensive.

South Vietnamese troops, operating under heavy allied air support, have been advancing cautiously through the Communist-held province.

So far there has been little man-to-man fighting in Quang Tri city, the provincial capital. The paratroopers seized two strategic areas near the city Thursday, then waited for 13,000 troop support reinforcements. But Communist forces using captured American-built tanks took the punch out of the reinforcement drive.

A military spokesman in Saigon said another airborne battalion, the 11th, was advancing into the city from the southern suburbs and the 8th South Vietnamese Marine Battalion was pushing in a mile east of the citadel, where North Vietnamese snipers in sizeable numbers are believed dug in.

A 30-man South Vietnamese reconnaissance company moved into the center of Quang Tri City by helicopter two days ago and scouted the citadel, but military spokesmen said today's drive was the first in force since the Communists captured the city and the rest of Quang Tri Province a month after the offensive began in the South March 30.

Rocket display in T.F.

TWIN FALLS—A wingless rocket plane the Air Force hopes will eventually replace the space capsule will be displayed in Twin Falls Saturday and Sunday.

The specially-built display model can be seen all day at the Lynwood Shopping Center. An Air Force representative will be present to explain the craft and answer questions.

The rocket plane is on tour from Norton Air Force Base, Calif. According to Sgt. Bill Donnelly, Twin Falls Air Force recruiter, the craft, called a "lifting body," can be used several times and does not need a parachute to land.

It may also be used as a space shuttle from one space station to another, he said.

According to a U.S. Air Force fact sheet, the lifting bodies would be far more versatile re-entry vehicles than the capsules currently used in manned orbital flights.

Capsules have little maneuvering capability and must rely on parachutes for the last phase of their descent into the sea. Lifting bodies could use their greater maneuverability to glide to low-speed landings at conventional airports.

The shape of the craft is described as a half a cone, with vertical fins 22 to 24 feet long, 9 to 11 feet high and 9 to 15 feet across the widest point. Some fly with their round side down, some with the flat side down.

A small unmanned model of the craft was successfully maneuvered back to earth from orbital altitude and supersonic speed following launch from an Atlas booster rocket.

The model to be displayed here made its first powered flight after being dropped from its B-52 mother ship in June of 1970.

Money Savers.

Michelin Radials last twice as long as bias-ply tires.

An average driver will run up about 10,000 miles a year. At that rate, you can count on at least 4 years, or 40,000 miles from a Michelin steel belted radial tire. About double what you can expect from a bias-ply tire.

Why? Because they run cooler and reduce the risk of heat blowouts. They're flexible. And they absorb potholes like a cushion. You'll even save gas because they roll easier. Look into Michelin radials today.

Our radial specialists will help you select the right tire for your car.

Incompetence

The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development has become the largest property owner in Detroit, with ownership at last count of more than 8,000 private homes. It could be well on the way to a similar distinction in other major American cities, all because it has failed to do its job.

Members of the House Government Operations Committee who have been investigating a growing scandal involving HUD-backed mortgages are placing the blame squarely on the department's doorstep.

The House committee took the unusual step of endorsing unanimously a report which blames "incompetent administration" of federal housing programs by HUD for the fact the federal government is holding a growing number of foreclosed mortgages.

In Detroit, in addition to the 8,000 foreclosures already made, estimates of the number of additional properties in default under federal mortgage guarantees range up to 20,000. Similar situations in Philadelphia and New York have resulted in the indictments of both government officials and real estate speculators.

Typically, what is happening is speculators purchase run-down properties at rock bottom prices, make minor repairs and sell them at twice their cost — backed by mortgage guarantees from the Federal Housing Administration. Many are overpriced and go into default.

Call Of States

There's an eye-misting grandeur at the political conventions in the solemn moments when the call of the states is made for nominations and for balloting.

There's more than the awesome fact that the presidency and vice presidency of the United States are involved. As the answers come rolling in the accents of the Deep South, the Yankee twang of New England, and the gradations in between — a vision of the diversity and breadth of this mighty land sweeps the mind. Our Motto, "From Many, One," is never better illustrated.

There is a note of sadness for the listener who cherishes this diversity, however. For quadrennium by quadrennium the differences in accent fade. Two world wars, more than 45 years of radio and 20 of television and an increasingly mobile population are ironing out the differences in speech as in other ways.

Listen well to those accents. In 20 years the call of the states may have leveled out to a Midwestern twang so that all the delegation chairmen will sound as though they were from Kansas.

MR. SPECTATOR

You'll Never Guess

Even if you take a good look at this pile of logs — you'll never guess what it is — or was.

It's one of the many interesting things an "explorer" will find over Galena Summit and in the Beaver and Smiley Creek areas of Sawtooth Valley. Of course, unless you know right where this thing is you will never find it.

But Mr. Spectator did one day when wandering around that area with another history buff — namely Ted Schiermeier. Ted is sort of the mayor of Sawtooth City, which is now down on Highway 93 but which used to be up in the hills in the old days back in 1875 or so.

A few words about the history of that most interesting area — and a few pictures taken by Mr. and Mrs. Spectator — will be in Sunday's Times-News.

If you like things historic then scan it — and someday when you feel like hiking just put on your walking boots and get up into that country. It's really something.

We almost forgot — we'll tell you Sunday about that pile of logs!

TODAY'S CHUCKLE:

There's one thing to be said for children — they never pull out pictures of their grandparents.

WASHINGTON — As a country, perhaps we are too preoccupied with petty offenses against the common weal. Elaborate regulations have been assembled to penalize the overtime parker on our streets. Yet murder, by firearm, although commonplace, is approached gingerly by our lawmakers and thus more often than not goes undetected.

"Other sins only speak; murder shrieks out," wrote John Webster in "Duchess of Malfi." Perversely, we hear the whisper but not the shriek. I must pay the parking ticket on my desk because my car is licensed and a line in the record books will lead the police to my door if I seek to escape the fine.

Yet three amendments to a gun control bill by Sen. Teddy Kennedy to require licensing and registration of handguns were overwhelmingly defeated by the Senate Judiciary Committee. In our streets, meanwhile, the men with nets were rounding up unlicensed dogs, and the widow presiding over a ghetto hovel was charged with operating a boardinghouse without a permit.

Consequently, it is hard to do a jig over the committee's brave 12 to 2 vote to ban the sale of cheap "Saturday Night Special" handguns, of the type used to murder Sen. Robert Kennedy and cripple Gov. George Wallace. Of the committee's action, it can be said that murder's shriek is heard only faintly on Capitol Hill.

Possibly, it is a necessary first step. The bill, sponsored by Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., bars the sale, import and delivery — to anyone except police and a few specially approved groups — of the low-quality, short-barreled, easily concealable revolvers and pistols used most frequently in robberies, holdups and other violent crimes. Bayh has estimated that about one million of these low-quality, inexpensive handguns — remarkably effective against people at short range — are sold every year in the United States.

However, there would be no prohibition on the sale of another 1.5 million higher-quality sporting weapons — because these guns meet "safety standards." That is to say, if a pistol, the gun is at least six inches long, if a revolver, the barrel is at least three inches long. Well, convenience may be everything these days, but I am not convinced an individual with murder in his heart would be deterred by a law forcing him to employ a somewhat bulkier so-called "sporting" weapon.

Indeed, there are sick minds abroad whose owners undoubtedly would get a special kick out of murdering a Presidential candidate — or a child at play — with a handgun designed for sportsmen. They could always rationalize that they were giving their victims a sporting chance by stalking them with a firearm that must be transported in a violin case.

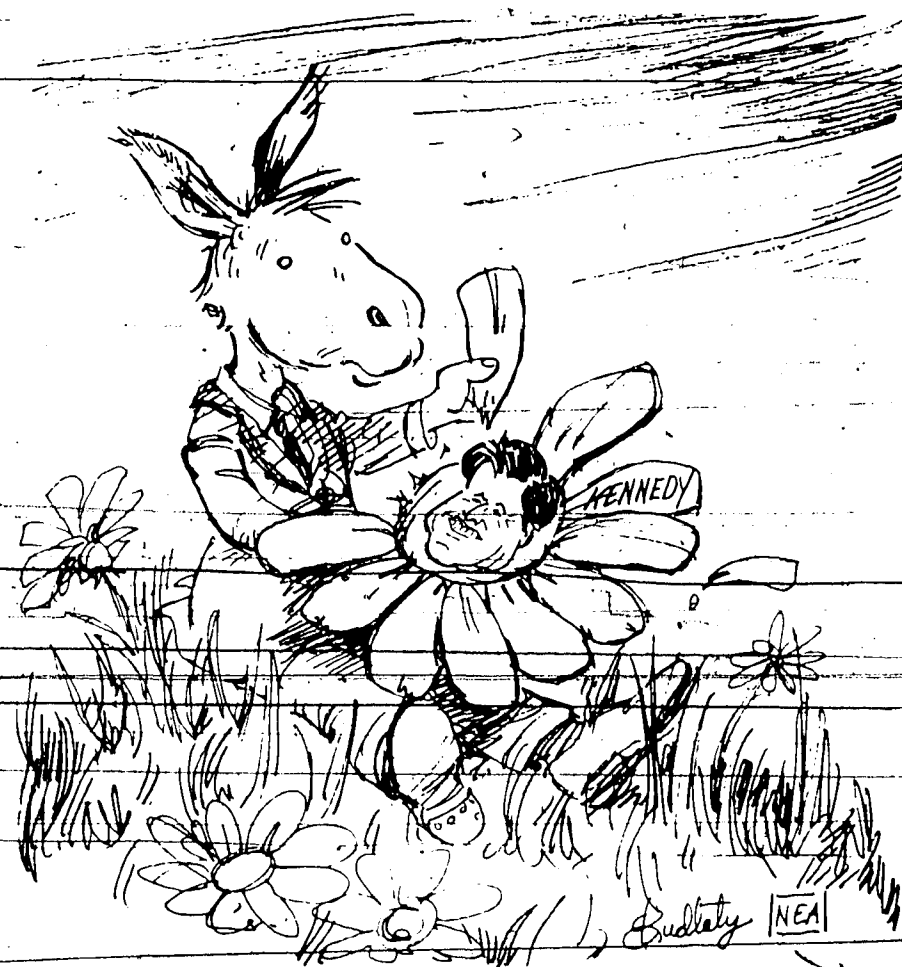

At any rate, it should be clear even to the most confused Congressman that something a little stronger than the Bayh bill is necessary if the Republic hopes to make murder a touch more difficult than buying a ticket to a hit show or a pro football game. If the hysterical National Rifle Association will permit, something might be said for a bill sponsored by Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., which not only would forbid sale of both cheap and sporting handguns, but would bar possession of handguns even by those who already have them.

I'm sure this would produce valid protests from the many legitimate citizens who use handguns only for target shooting and other innocent sports. But, given the violence of the times, I cannot buy their reluctance to register their guns, as they do their automobiles and marriages. And it would cause small inconvenience if Congress enacted a law decreeing that such guns must be kept locked up in bonafide sporting clubs.

What we've got to stop, before we are all shot pretty dead, is the casual, almost compulsive bearing of small arms in our streets, saloons and schoolhouses. I admit that the criminal frequently would find means to buy, conceal and carry a handgun, but he would have to live with the knowledge that the mere offense of owning such a weapon could put him behind bars.

He Loves Me; He Loves Me Not

ROBERT ALLEN

Wide Open?

MIAMI BEACH — Gov. Wallace wants a "wide open" convention on the selection of the Democratic running-mate.

That's the emphatic word he has sent the controlling McGovern leadership. The assassin-wounded Alabamian vigorously maintains that a "free choice" of the Vice Presidential candidate by the full convention is required by the "spirit and intent" of the reform rules — drafted by a commission headed by Sen. McGovern himself.

Loudly professed purpose of those rules is to assure the "widest possible" participation of the delegates in all decisions of the convention — including the ticket.

For the No. 2 standard-bearer to be handicapped by one individual or a "small inner clique" of "kingmakers" would be, Wallace contends, a flagrant violation of the fanfare reforms. Either the reforms mean what they say, or they are opportunistic window-dressing.

In making this demand, Wallace flatly insists he "hasn't the slightest interest" in being on a McGovern ticket.

Also that he has no choice for Vice President.

Confirming that, Wallace intimates are shrugging off reports that Rep. Wilbur Mills, Ark., chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, would be "acceptable" to him. They say "that's absolutely not true," that Wallace has "strong misgivings about some of the things Mills has indicated he's for."

These sources also are making it clear Wallace "is far from happy" about the platform likely to emerge from the convention.

They say that "under no circumstances" will he accept a pro-busling plank.

They are equally unequivocal about his uncompromising opposition to the planks on amnesty, homosexuals and other New Left stands. Stormy convention floor battles are slated on most of them.

Relatively recent history is cited as precedent for "wide open" convention selection of the Vice Presidential nominee.

In 1956, Adlai Stevenson left it up to the delegates to choose his running-mate. The top candidates were Sens. Estes Kefauver, Tenn., and John F. Kennedy, Mass. After a tense seesaw race, Kefauver, nationally renowned as a crime investigator, narrowly emerged as the victor.

Four years later, Kefauver was dead, and Kennedy was elected President.

There is no indication McGovern intends to follow Stevenson's 1956 example.

McGovern insiders make no secret that he proposes to pick his running-mate — regardless of who does or doesn't like it. According to them, that would not be a breach of the "spirit and intent" of the reform rules.

PAUL HARVEY

Time For Caring

Primary election returns are in this wise conclusive: You will vote for the someone who cares most for you — or seems to.

Historians will remember this as a time of caring. Where preceding generations had been oriented toward materialism, this one is concerned about the humanities.

Yesterday's preoccupation in fact and fiction was making and earning and accomplishing and winner take all.

Today's youth sees money buying too much misery; all that affluence bred such psychological distress that 1 in 20 of us is in a mental hospital and 1 in 10 ought to be.

Now and for as far ahead as we can see, the name of the game is — and will be — love. This is a time for caring.

Every program topping the TV ratings relates itself to human needs — from Mod Squad to Oral Roberts.

How about those corny, campy, overacting characters on Mod Squad? They grimace, stone face or emote with the unsophisticated exaggeration of school-agers — but they "care." About every single misfortune to an unfortunate individual — boy, how they care!

And audiences love it. As they do Dr. Marcus Welby and the attorneys Perry Mason and Owen Marshall.

The more impersonal true life becomes, the more we are forced to accept the hazards of muggers, speeders, corrupt courts, mercenary doctors and compromised religion and education in wholesale lots and the more we reach out for and cling to the TV doctor who'll helicopter over the gates of hell to help a pregnant, unmarried hippie.

In real life, an Atlanta mother holding a baby convulsing with leukemia is kept waiting at the hospital admitting desk by a debate over how the bill will be paid — until the baby died.

So, inexorably, we turn to, tune to, cling to even fictitious images of men from whom each individual in need of help gets it.

And nothing more than this explains the phenomenal response to the campaigning of George McGovern. His entire political image is that of a man who cares.

However impractical his economic platform, if you are poor — he cares. If you are black, Mexican, sick, old or a farmer or a draftee — he cares.

Subconsciously you may know that a society which mass produces itself inevitably ends up "a mass."

But each of us still yearns to be somebody special.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Menstrual Blood

Dear Dr. Thosteson: A college friend tells me that no woman can lose more than three tablespoons of blood during the menstrual period. I can't believe this is true since I know several large women who bleed more heavily than smaller women. I always thought the amount varied with the individual, so I cannot understand how such a statement could be made. — E.G.D.

If your friend had been talking about averages, the amount would be somewhere within range — but saying that is the maximum amount is quite another matter.

The amount can vary widely from person to person, but usually the average is somewhere in the vicinity of two ounces, which would be about four tablespoons. It can, in some cases, be substantially more than that, so your friend's "maximum" figure doesn't always hold true by quite a bit.

The size of the woman is not the most important factor. Rather the flow is determined by hormonal levels and by such things as the condition of the endometrium (lining of the uterus.) If it is thick, there can be a considerably greater flow.

Another factor: some periods last only a couple of days or so, others six or seven, and obviously that makes a difference. Excessive menstrual flow can contribute to anemia in some women.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please send me "How to Heal Peptic Ulcers." I enclose 25 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for it.

I don't have a peptic ulcer, but I have a duodenal ulcer. I'd like to know if they perform operations on ulcers even if it isn't absolutely necessary. I'm 13 and have had an ulcer for about three years and don't think I'm going anywhere on this diet. Maybe because I don't stick to the diet as close as I should.

A duodenal ulcer is a form of peptic ulcer — "peptic" includes both ulcers of the duodenum (outlet of the stomach) and of the stomach itself. Your type is the commoner, and preferable, too, in that gastric ulcers (in the stomach proper) are likely to be cancerous, which distinguishes them unpleasantly from duodenal ulcers.

Maybe you don't stick close enough to your diet. Or maybe there are other factors involved. You'll have a better understanding of what it's all about after you read the booklet.

It's tough having an ulcer when you're 13 and dare not eat everything under the sun, while other kids your age do, and get away with it. But peptic ulcers are no respecters of age or youth. Even small babies sometimes get them.

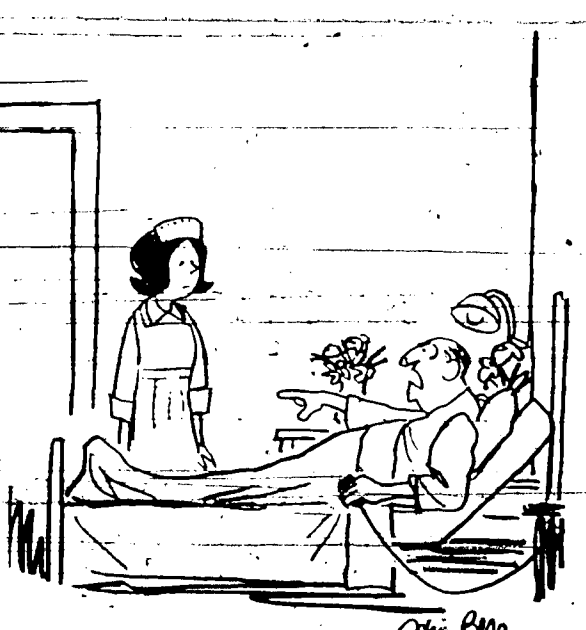

Generally speaking, surgery for ulcers is a last resort; it is tried after conservative treatment (diet, etc.) has been given a thorough trial first. Stick to the rules and avoid an operation unless absolutely necessary. The operation is no picnic.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have a lot of gold fillings, and have read that infinitesimal particles of gold wash down into one's system and can be especially bad for the kidneys. It is called gold sickness. Is there any truth in the story? — Mrs. T. M.

I can find absolutely no record of any such thing, and suspect somebody's imagination was working overtime. Metallic gold is quite insoluble. Where did you read it?

Note to Mrs. R.: Yes, a suitable blood test can tell your thyroid condition. It is the preferred way of doing so now.

Susan Heitz, Metzger say vows

TWIN FALLS — Susan Helen Heitz and Dale R. Metzger exchanged wedding vows in a June 24 candlelight ceremony at the First Presbyterian Church, Twin Falls.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Heitz, Twin Falls, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Bruce Metzger, Medford, Ore.

The evening rites were performed before lighted candles, with baskets of white gladioli and yellow daisies flanking the altar. The aisles were decorated with lighted white tapers in candelabra.

Rev. Herbert Morris of the Twin Falls United Methodist Church performed the ceremony.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore an empire-styled gown of nylon organza with Swiss lace accenting the bodice, sleeves and chapel train. The gown featured long, puffed sleeves with points at the wrist.

Her fingertip veil was held with a headpiece of large feather flowers trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of yellow and white daisies accented with yellow rosebuds tied with a large yellow satin bow.

Bonnie Heitz, Redwood City, Calif., sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Rita Heitz, Twin Falls, sister of the bride; Rosemary Vecera, Buhl, and Ronda Metzger, Medford, Ore., sister of the bridegroom.

Music was by Mrs. Charles Allen, organist, and Mrs. Don Wike, soloist.

Candlelighters were David and Edward Heitz, brothers of the bride. Lana Williamson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Herald Williamson, was flower girl and Jimmy Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Stewart, was ringbearer. All reside in Twin Falls. The couple was honored at a reception after the ceremony in the Church Fireside Lounge.

The bride's table was covered with white lace over green satin. The three-tiered cake was decorated with white daisies and topped with cherubs in a heart. It was flanked with yellow and white daisies.

Small tables covered with lace over yellow satin and centered with baskets of yellow and white flowers surrounded a lighted fountain of cherubs holding yellow candles.

Mrs. Reese Bybee, Las Vegas, Nev., aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Stewart-Young, Las Vegas, Nev., cousin of the bride, cut and served the cake. Mrs. Fred Stammen, Moraga, Calif., aunt of the bridegroom, served punch and Mrs. Don Wallace, Twin Falls, served coffee.

Linda Touve, Lostine, Ore., and Lennie Schmucker, Twin Falls, were in charge of the guest book. Ella Siebenaler, Butte, Mont., cousin of the bride, and the bride's brothers received gifts.

Special guests attending the wedding included Ernest Metzger, Ontario, Ore., great uncle of the bridegroom. Guests attended from Oregon, California, Nevada, Montana, Jerome, Hazelton, Emmett, Boise, Piler, Buhl and Coeur d'Alene.

A pre-nuptial shower honoring the bride was given by Mrs. Don Wallace and King's Food Host employees. A luncheon for the bridegroom's family and relatives of the bride was hosted by the bride's parents. The rehearsal dinner, hosted by the bridegroom's parents, was held at the home of the bride's parents.

After a honeymoon trip to Lake Tahoe, Nev., the couple will reside in Boise, where the bridegroom will attend Boise State College in the fall.

Summer pitcher punches

NEW YORK, N.Y. — In years past, a frosty pitcher of punch tinkling with ice cubes lifted many a wilted summer spirit.

Why not revive this pleasant tradition by serving pitchers of colorful punch this summer?

Punch by the pitcherful is excellent as an afternoon or late evening snack, for family or company. Good accompaniments for the punch include sandwiches, cake or cookies.

A pitcher of punch is also a great party beverage. It's portable, and allows the host or hostess to refill guests' glasses without disturbing a spirited conversation or heated political debate.

It's easy to make punch, too. Simply prepare the basic mixture ahead of time, and chill in the refrigerator. Carbonated beverages, sherbet or ice cream, and ice cubes should be added just before serving.

If you have an old cut-glass pitcher which has been in the family for years, now is the time to use it. Brilliantly-hued punches look elegant in these sparkling containers. If you prefer the safety and lightweight feel of plastic, many inexpensive and attractive plastic pitchers are available in department and variety stores.

Whichever you choose, don't be afraid to keep the pitcher in the refrigerator, since the cold will not damage either material.

Here are some new summer punch recipes created with ease of preparation in mind. Two traditional favorites, a tea punch and a wine punch, are included. Both can be served as dinner beverages, if desired.

MINTED PINK COOLER
1 can (46 ounces) lemon-pink Hawaiian punch, chilled
1/2 teaspoon mint or peppermint extract

1 bottle (12 ounces) club soda, chilled
Ice cubes

Mint sprigs, whole strawberries or lime slices for garnish.
In a large pitcher, combine punch and mint extract. Slowly stir in club soda. Add ice cubes. Pour into tall glasses. Garnish each serving as desired.

Makes about seven cups or enough for 6 10-ounce servings.
Note: Children might like a peppermint stick as a stirrer.

Summer coolers

COLORFUL pitchers of punch are a refreshing sight on a hot summer day. Fruit punches, sangria and tea punch are traditional favorites.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Please write something in your column about the sick humor that has become so popular on television. I refer to the skits in which they make fun of old people.

This type of comedy mocks and ridicules the feeble walk, faltering speech and the failing sight and hearing of the aged, many of whom have no other entertainment than watching television.

The elderly have earned a place of dignity in this land which they have built with their labor and supported with their money during their productive years. Sign me FORTY-EIGHT AND GETTING THERE

DEAR FORTY-EIGHT: Nothing can become popular unless the majority of the people want it, which is a pretty sad commentary on our times. However, our humor has improved since comedians ridiculed foreigners and minority groups. We've come a long way, but we still have a long way to go. For immediate action, complain to the sponsors or the network.

DEAR ABBY: I am 32 years old, have been married for seven years, and have three children. My problem arises from my night out.

I bowl with the boys on Monday nights. On Fridays I bowl with my wife. I belong to one civic organization which meets every other Wednesday night. I have a sales job, which means I sometimes have to make a call in the evening, maybe once a week, but when this happens, I am always home by midnight.

Abby, when I come home from any of these evenings my wife throws the book at me like I came home at 4 a.m. smelling of booze and women. My wife always knows where I am and who I'm with.

She treats me like a mother would treat a son. I am a good husband, and I don't appreciate being bawled out and yelled at.

What do you think?
A GOOD BOY
DEAR BOY: If you refer to yourself as a good boy—that could be part of your problem. Start thinking of yourself as a good MAN. Let your wife know that you will not be intimidated. Stand up to her, MAN-style, and she may treat you like one.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me how to solve an embarrassing situation without losing some friends we have known for years. They are a couple in their mid-sixties who visit in our home for a week at a time.

We are happy to have our friends visit us, but I am so embarrassed by the actions of the husband I fear I will lose my temper and tell him off.

He comes to the breakfast table in his undershorts for one thing. And for another, if the bathroom is occupied, he knocks loudly on the door until he gets the other party out. I have asked my husband to speak to this man, but he says he doesn't want to insult a guest in our home. The wife is a lovely patient person, but she will not criticize her husband either.

Have you any suggestions?
UPSET HOSTESS

DEAR HOSTESS: If anyone is going to criticize him, it appears that you are elected.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

South finds himself in four hearts after the Poppa-Momma sequence of one heart-two hearts-three hearts-four hearts.

Not that the bidding wasn't reasonable. North's two-heart call is eminently sound and he is entitled to go on to four after his partner's rebid. There is some question about that rebid by South but the contract is a reasonable one and it looks as if South will bring it home if he plays West for the ace of trumps and East for the queen.

We will never find out if South would have made the winning play in the trump suit because he never got a chance to guess.

The bidding has been:
West North East South
Pass 1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠
Pass 2 ♠ Pass 3 ♠
Pass 3 N.T. Pass ?

You, South, hold:
♥ A J 5 4 3 ♥ K 8 7 6 3 ♦ Void ♠ Q 10 7

What do you do now?
A—Bid four clubs. Don't leave him in what may be a terrible spot.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You do bid four clubs and he bids four diamonds. What do you do now?

Answer, tomorrow

Use pretzel sticks instead of toothpicks to serve cheese squares, olives and other munchies.

McClure speaks in TF

TWIN FALLS — Rep. James McClure, R-Idaho, said Thursday there were four major issues involved in the current campaign.

Speaking to members of the Twin Falls Kiwanis Club during a luncheon session at the Turt Club, the Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate post being vacated by the retirement of Sen. Len Jordan termed them as (1) the Vietnam War (2) the economy (3) the environment in which we live and (4) education.

McClure said the war in Vietnam has come to the front again because of the activity of the North Vietnam troops the renewed aerial bombing by forces of the south and of the United States and the mining of the harbors.

"It is now a hot issue," he said, but he added that President Nixon is handling the situation exactly the way he said he would handle it and is continuing in the direction of disengagement.

As to the economy, he said we would return to a free economy as soon as possible and that wage-price controls should be only temporary. In Idaho the most important phase of the economy involves mining and agriculture.

As to the environment he said unrestricted progress is no blessing and that we must establish realistic goals which we will be able to attain. We must decide in which way our resources will be utilized. Even tourism, which will continue to increase, will affect the environment as will such industries as Tupperware and Kellwood, mining operations and timber processes.

With education the concern of the people is can we afford to have it — can we afford not to have it? What is quality education and what will be the cost? Are we willing to assume that cost? How will it be financed?

He said he favored help from the federal level but not "full financing" which would mean federal control. The control of education, he said, should be at the local level.

In answer to a question from the floor he said he was opposed to busing "when it is used to achieve an artificial racial balance."

He told Kiwanis members the "toughest job" as a congressman is keeping open the line of communication to home. He urged everyone to take an interest in government and express their opinions openly and to the congressional representation.

Cong. McClure was accompanied to the session by his son, Ken, a senior at the Arlington, Va., high school, and by David Mead, area campaign coordinator. The speaker was introduced by O.A. (Gus) Kelker.

10 gallon donor

TF tops blood quota

THIRD 10-gallon blood donor in history of Twin Falls is Vernon E. Smith, Twin Falls. Smith was presented an award Thursday after the drawing by Burt Huish, Red Cross recruiting chairman, left.

TWIN FALLS — Summer vacation time, usually a slack period for the American Red Cross Blood drawings, showed a reverse trend Thursday with 208 donors contributing.

The drawing was one of the best in recent months, with a quota of 150 pints surpassed well ahead of closing time.

James Sinclair was honorary chairman for the event and Burt Huish is Red Cross Blood chairman for the Twin Falls chapter.

Special recognition was given during the day to Vernon E. Smith who received his 10 gallon donor pin and Richard W. Wheeler, a five gallon pin. Charles Reeder and Grant Gillette each received four gallon pins and Edward L. Kinney and Mark Loffer, two gallon pins.

Reaching the one gallon mark Thursday were Harold Billings, Floyd C. Gambrel, Drahomir Pospichal, Knodel Bennett, Loretta Jean Nielsen, Mark S. Kaffer, Keith Borah and Ron Blackwood.

The reception will be given by their children at Rose Villa Retirement Home, Portland, from 2 to 4 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Smithson were married July 10, 1912. The forthcoming anniversary will also mark Smithson's 90th birthday.

They are parents of Mrs. John D. (Muriel) Moore, Los Angeles; Mrs. Gerald (Charlotte) Richardson, Portland, and John Smithson, Buhl. They have five grandchildren.

Former residents plan observance

BUHL — Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smithson, Portland, former Buhl residents, will celebrate their 60th Wedding Anniversary Monday.

2 persons sentenced

TWIN FALLS — Two Twin Falls residents were sentenced this week on misdemeanor drug charges.

Casimir Mori, 18, and Audrey Lynn Boulware, 21, were both fined $200 for possession of a controlled substance. Mori was sentenced to 20 days in jail and Miss Boulware to 15 days in jail. Execution of both jail terms, however, was delayed for four months.

The charges had been reduced from felony charges of possession with intent to deliver a controlled substance.

Magistrate V.K. Jeppesen, Hailey, handed down the sentences.

A Twin Falls juvenile appeared in juvenile court this week. He had been arrested earlier this year and charged with possession with intent to deliver.

Horseless Carriage show set

TWIN FALLS — About 40 old cars are expected in Twin Falls Sunday for the fourth annual Horseless Carriage show.

The Gooding regional group of the Horseless Carriage Club of America sponsors the event. Fred Van Engelen, club member, said the show will start about 10 a.m. and run until about 5 p.m. The cars will be displayed at the Lynwood Shopping Center parking area bordered by Blue Lakes Boulevard North.

Cars from all over Magic Valley will be displayed. Most will be from the teens and '20s, but Van Engelen said it is hoped there will be a 1903 model and there also will be some special interest cars from the '50s.

There also will be a special showing of antique phonographs from the collection of E.D. Pippitt, Twin Falls.

A swap and sell section will be set up and there will be a concession stand.

Plaques will be awarded to each car entered and there will be special trophies given to the best pre-1915 car, the best post-1915 car and the car traveling the farthest to come to the show.

There is no charge for spectators.

About 10 per cent of Montpelier's total area is park land.

TWIN FALLS — Charges against one man were reduced and dropped against a second man at conclusion of a preliminary hearing Thursday in Twin Falls.

Jerry Grant, O'Dell, 25, and Delbert Lee Crawford, 27, both had been charged with assault with intent to commit murder after a shooting June 28.

Leon Smith, Twin Falls County prosecuting attorney, concluded the state's case early Thursday afternoon and moved for dismissal of charges against Crawford for lack of sufficient evidence.

At conclusion of the defense case, the charge against O'Dell was reduced to simple assault. O'Dell pleaded guilty to the lesser charge and Magistrate Daniel Meehl ordered a presentence investigation.

Entered into evidence during the state's case was a sawed off shotgun used to shoot James O'Dell, 21, in the abdomen on June 26. The gun was fired by Clifford W. Trammell, 257 Sidney St., after the O'Dell brothers and Crawford entered the Trammell residence.

Twin Falls Police Capt. Tim Qualls said the owner of the sawed off shotgun, classified as an illegal weapon, has been arrested and no charges will be made against Trammell.

Police said the incident apparently started over a baby sitting problem and that Trammell shot in self defense.

James O'Dell remains hospitalized at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital and is listed in fairly good condition.

Golden Bennett and Associates represented Jerry O'Dell and Crawford at the preliminary.

Although the assault charge was dropped against Crawford he remains in custody at the county jail on a parole violation charge and a charge of disorderly conduct resulting from an altercation at a Twin Falls bar. Jerry O'Dell also remains in custody.

Laird confirms damage to dikes

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Softening previous flat U.S. denials of Hanoi's claims, Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird has acknowledged American warplanes may have damaged some flood control dikes in North Vietnam.

Laird charged, however, that most of the claims result from a deliberate effort by Hanoi to duck responsibility for failing to repair the dike system adequately after disastrous monsoon floods a year ago.

North Vietnam's dikes themselves have never been the target of U.S. bombs or rockets, Laird said Thursday. But he said in certain cases dikes may have suffered damage during attacks against anti-aircraft weapons firing from them or supply convoys traveling down roads built on them.

Laird said U.S. pilots are allowed to fight back against anti-aircraft fire "wherever it comes from," including from emplacements on the dikes. He said he considers this proper, but implied it does not happen often.

Other defense officials said they saw no inconsistency between this policy and the presidential order against attacking dikes. Although the dikes are prohibited as targets, these officials said, neither are they intended to be sanctuaries for Hanoi's war effort.

Laird raised the matter of the dikes himself during a Pentagon news conference.

"I believe that at the present time the North Vietnamese are carrying on a very intensified world-wide campaign which is accusing us of tampering with the dikes and with their dam system," he said.

"Last year, as you know, they had tremendous rains and monsoons, and many of the dams and dikes were affected by the severe flooding which took place last year. The real damage to the dams and dikes is the damage that was suffered in weakening those dams and dikes last year during the very, very heavy flooding of North Vietnam."

"I believe that the North Vietnamese are carrying on this campaign in order for them to relieve themselves from the responsibility with their own people for the failure to adequately repair this system since the major flooding of last year."

In recent weeks, North Vietnam has repeatedly accused the United States of bombing the dikes. A Western correspondent based in Hanoi, Jean Thoraval of the Agence France-Presse, reported June 24 he had been taken to see some of the dikes protecting the town of Nam Dinh, 60 miles south of the North Vietnamese capital, and several of the dikes had been cracked or gutted.

Asked about these eyewitness reports in a news conference June 29, President Nixon replied: "We have checked those reports. They have proved to be inaccurate. We have had orders out not to hit dikes because the result in terms of civilian casualties would be extraordinary."

Defense Department officials have consistently maintained there is no photographic evidence of U.S. bomb damage to dikes—a position they restated after Laird's news conference.

BRANDON de WILDE actor killed

Purple robber

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—Mary Jackson and Patricia Gadsby told police they were robbed Thursday by a six-foot man who was wearing purple hot pants and carrying a purse.

A treaty between New Spain and the United States in 1819 set up the boundary between the two countries at what is now the southern and western boundaries of Oklahoma.

Actor killed in Colorado crash

DENVER (UPI)—Actor Brandon de Wilde, who gained his greatest fame when he played the role of a young boy in the 1953 western film classic "Shane," was killed in a car accident Thursday.

De Wilde, 30, was driving a camper van in suburban Lakewood during a light rain when the vehicle hit a construction truck used to install guard rails.

Lakewood patrolman Robert Ellis said the rain made it impossible to determine whether de Wilde skidded prior to impact.

He was rushed to nearby St. Anthony's Hospital where he died four hours after the accident of a broken neck, back and leg.

De Wilde, born in Brooklyn, April 9, 1942, was appearing in Denver in the Elitch Theater's production of "Butterflies Are Free."

Although he appeared in numerous pictures, he achieved his greatest acting success as the bucktoothed 9-year-old son of Jean Arthur in the film "Shane," which starred Alan Ladd.

Other pictures he was in included "Blue Denim," "All Fall Down," "Hud," "Those Calloways," "In Harm's Way" and "The Deserter." He also starred in the television series "Jaimie" in 1953 and 1954.

De Wilde got into show business at the age of 7 almost by accident. His father was stage manager for the Broadway play, "Member of the Wedding," and the casting director suggested his son test for a part.

The disinterested youngster was drilled in one scene by his father. He landed the role, playing 492 performances and winning the Donaldson Award in the "best debut performance" category.

He was spotted in the play by producer George Stevens who later signed him for "Shane."

Subway kisser

NEW YORK (UPI)—A 24-year-old man was arrested Thursday and accused of being the "subway kisser."

Police said at least 15 women had complained that a man kissed them if they fell asleep or closed their eyes. The kisser usually made his move during rush hours.

Okay expected on gas increase

BOISE (UPI)—The Idaho Public Utilities Commission is scheduled to issue an order today allowing the Inter-mountain Gas Co. to boost its rates 7.2 per cent in order to raise $1.9 million per year.

The next time customers in eastern Idaho receive their natural gas bills they will be about seven cents higher for each dollar of service.

The reason for the increase was explained by IPUC President Harry Nock: "We get that gas from Canada, and when you're buying it you have to pay what the guy is asking for," he said.

In this case, the authorities in Canada raised the rate for natural gas produced in gas fields in Northern Alberta and British Columbia.

GOP senatorial hopeful raps Gem Demo platform

By United Press International

Republican Senate candidate Glen Wegner said in Pocatello Thursday that the Democratic platform adopted in Sun Valley is a "welfare state platform."

Wegner said he had been talking with Idaho citizens, both Republicans and Democrats, and said, "I have found very few people who can totally agree with the Sun Valley platform."

Attorney General Tony Park, a Democratic Senate candidate, said in Twin Falls Thursday the Nixon Administration is more interested in increasing military spending and aiding big business than in programs for the people.

"Last week, President Nixon begrudgingly signed a Social Security Increase, vetoed a public television bill, and at the same time asked for more money for Vietnam and shipbuilding," Park said.

Democratic Senate candidate William E. (Bud) Davis campaigning in Coeur d'Alene Thursday, said, "the radical in America today may well be the citizen who supports things as they are."

Davis said under the Nixon Administration unemployment has increased 100 per cent while wage and price controls have failed to halt the inflationary spiral.

Meanwhile, Robert Purcell, Republican candidate for congress, said Thursday in Boise that some Department of Labor representatives have deliberately missed several businesses concerning the Occupational Health and Safety Act.

Speaking on a radio program, Purcell said he recently attended a meeting where an OSHA representative said the appeal process involves appearing before judges in a district court.

Another Republican candidate for congress, Steven Symms, told the Caldwell Kiwanis Thursday that Federal Communications Commission regulations that force radio stations to refile in order to renew their licenses every three years is "idiotic."

Symms said he favored instead a 10 year license renewal. In Twin Falls, congressman James McClure, making a bid for the U. S. Senate, said that the future of Idaho farmers is tied to "the availability of an adequate supply of irrigation water and a stable dollar."

In another development, Republican Senate aspirant George Hansen said in Blackfoot that a revolt by the American taxpayers against deficit spending "is not far off."

He proposed a plan that would eliminate excessive taxes and save the buying power of the working man's paycheck.

Campaigning in Lewiston, Democratic Senate hopeful Mrs. Rose Bowman said this year's race "is opening the eyes of Idaho voters" to widen a gap between the official statements of politicians and their actions in the campaign.

Colorado to vote over further Olympic funds

DENVER (UPI)—Colorado voters will get an opportunity this fall to cast their ballots on a constitutional amendment barring further state funding of the 1976 winter Olympic games.

Petitions calling for the issue to be placed on the general election ballot in November were filed Thursday with the Colorado secretary of state.

The petitions were signed by 76,226 persons, far more than the 50,410 needed to get the measure on the ballot.

State Rep. Richard Lamun of Denver, a leading opponent of state funding for the Olympics and a member of Citizens for Colorado's Future, said the petition campaign was "a major effort by a wide cross-section of the people of Colorado."

"These signatures represent a majority of both the old values and the new values," he said.

Lamun said the old values held the belief that tax money should be allocated frugally and the new values say we're too proud of Colorado to sell it—we'd rather conserve it."

Lamun said passage of the amendment would mean the people of Colorado "don't want their tax money spent to build ski jumps and bobsled runs" and also would be a blow to the "land developers who are running the state legislature."

Gov. John A. Love, who has opposed the anti-Olympics movement in the state, said he thought the opposition represented only a minority of Coloradans.

Idaho was unimpressed by the people of Colorado if they back out on a deal, and I don't believe they will," he said.

Gem board rescinds college fee hike

SANDPOINT, Idaho (UPI)—After giving tentative approval to an increase of student fees at four Idaho institutions of higher learning, the state board of education rescinded the proposal Thursday night.

Board member Joseph McCollum of Twin Falls made the motion to rescind the fee increase which was proposed earlier in the event of a three per cent holdback of state funds by Gov. Cecil D. Andrus.

The institution presidents and the board members had said they anticipated a holdback order from the governor's office on the basis of statements Andrus has made regarding a possible $2 million deficit in state revenue during fiscal year 1972-73.

The increases per student per semester at the four schools would have been: The University of Idaho, $15 per semester; Boise State College, $10 per student per semester; and $5 per student per semester at both Idaho State University and Lewis-Clark College.

Although he did not elaborate on the matter, Board President M. T. Deaton of Pocatello said at an after dinner meeting Thursday night that the three per cent holdback was "indefinite at this time" and the board won't know if such a proposal is necessary until July 15.

"In view of this," Deaton said, "it will still be important to make a decision on contingency funds, increased student fees or other avenues of financing."

The motion to rescind the student fee proposal was approved unanimously.

Patriarch dies

ISTANBUL (UPI)—Patriarch Athenagoras I, leader of the 250-million-member Orthodox church, died in an Istanbul hospital early today. He was 86.

The tall, white-bearded patriarch played a major role in attempts to end the 900-year-old split between the Orthodox and Roman Catholic churches. He met three times with Pope Paul VI—the first on the Mount of Olives in Jerusalem in 1964 where they exchanged a "kiss of peace" symbolizing the ecumenical movement.

Athenagoras, who was patriarch of North and South America for 18 years and during that time became a U.S. citizen, fell down the stairs at his patriarchate in central Istanbul a week ago and broke his hip.

He had been recovering, but two days ago took a sudden turn for the worse. Doctors had planned to fly him to Vienna for an operation, but a spokesman for Balikli Greek Hospital said Athenagoras' blood pressure dropped to "a very low level" early today and he died shortly after midnight.

His successor will be chosen by the 12-member Holy Synod of the Orthodox church.

Born Aristokles Spirou in 1886 in Epirus, Greece, Athenagoras became a priest and served in a number of ever-higher capacities in the church until he was named archbishop for North and South America in 1931. For the next 18 years he held the post, and during that time became a naturalized U.S. citizen.

On Nov. 1, 1948, he was elected overall head of the church, which carries the official title of Archbishop of Constantinople, New Rome and Ecumenical Patriarch.

Standing six feet, four inches tall and weighing 200 pounds, Athenagoras was an imposing figure. Normally dressed in floor-length black robes, his flowing white beard added to his distinction.

In 1964, when he learned Pope Paul VI was shattering tradition to leave the Vatican and travel to the Holy Land, Athenagoras decided to meet the Roman Catholic pontiff in the Holy City of Jerusalem. Their churches had been split since the schism of 1054.

They met on the Mount of Olives, where they embraced and exchanged a "kiss of peace" symbolizing their hopes for reunification of the two churches.

They met twice more, when Pope Paul journeyed to Istanbul in 1967 and in Rome, when Athenagoras returned the pontiff's visit.

Although Athenagoras believed in the ecumenical movement, some of his bishops did not, and he was criticized openly.

Another peak load for court

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court experienced another peak work load in the term ended last week—4,533 cases were docketed and 3,645 were cleared.

Final statistics showed the justices also delivered the greatest number of written opinions ever—129—even though the membership remained at seven until Jan. 7, when Justices Lewis F. Powell Jr. and William H. Rehnquist were seated.

The court heard oral arguments in 177 cases, a figure surpassed only in the 1967 term, when 180 were heard. (Some cases are decided by brief, unsigned opinions and others are combined.)

The term's docket was about double that of 10 years ago. The caseload has been rising steadily each year.

Even though the term has closed and the justices are in summer recess, 781 cases not ready for consideration earlier are now docketed. The new filings average more than 80 a week, each week of the year.

Connally on world trip

ISLAMABAD, Pakistan (UPI)—John B. Connally, President Nixon's special envoy, said today he was "very, very hopeful" about the future of the Indian-Pakistani-Bangladesh subcontinent.

Connally left today for Kabul, Afghanistan on his round-the-world trip during which he has visited, among other countries, Bangladesh, India and Pakistan.

Peabody wants VP seat

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Endicott Peabody Thursday crossed Gov. George C. Wallace off the list of potential presidential candidates with whom he would be willing to run for vice president.

That means the former Massachusetts governor will be happy to share the Democratic ticket this year with the likes of Sens. George S. McGovern, Hubert H. Humphrey or Edmund S. Muskie. None have asked him to run with them, and Peabody says he fervently hopes they don't.

Peabody is running for the vice presidential nomination this year, and insists he wants to be elected by the delegates to the Democratic National Convention, not selected by the party's presidential candidate.

This is regarded as an eccentric idea in some circles, but Peabody, who arrived in Miami Beach Thursday to take personal charge of his vice presidential campaign, is not the only Democrat to hold it.

Just before Peabody showed up for a news conference with about half a dozen reporters and somewhat larger number of his supporters, Sen. Mike Gravel, D-Alaska, the man who undertook last year to read the Pentagon Papers aloud in public, also announced he was running for vice president.

Peabody, who had been alone in the field of announced candidates for nearly eight months, warmly welcomed Gravel. In fact, Peabody said, it is about time everyone who wants to be vice president comes out of the tall grass and makes a run for it.

Peabody's invitation to the other vice presidential hopefuls did not immediately attract any new candidates. But there was a substitution on the growing list of people who McGovern is or is said to be considering for No. 2 if he gets to be No. 1. Declared out of the game was Terry Sanford, the former governor of North Carolina. A McGovern aide said Sanford had been a possible running mate, but that he made himself persona non grata when he lauded what the South Dakota's supporters regarded as a "steal" of his California delegates.

The news that he was crossed off didn't faze Sanford, who says he isn't running for vice president. His eye, he insists, remains firmly fixed on the presidency.

But the McGovern list was kept from shrinking by the sudden appearance of Gov. Patrick Lucey of Wisconsin, who announced the senator was thinking about him, too.

Wallace still intent on winning Demo race

SILVER SPRING, Md. (UPI)—Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, who entered Holy Cross Hospital on a stretcher 53 days ago, prepared to leave today half-paralyzed in a wheelchair, but still intent on winning the Democratic presidential nomination.

Wallace planned to hop a plane to Alabama to regain technical control of the governorship he relinquished while bedridden, then one hour later fly to Miami Beach for the Democratic National Convention that opens Monday.

Wallace aides said a seven-member medical team headed by vascular surgeon Joseph F. Schanno would accompany the governor. The team of four doctors and three nurses will continue three hours of daily physical therapy including weightlifting to strengthen his shoulders and arms.

The governor was shot four times May 15 in nearby Laurel while campaigning for the Maryland primary, which he won by a handy margin over Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey. The bullets were removed in two operations, but one missile that lodged near his spine left Wallace paralyzed from the waist down.

The governor closed out his stay at the suburban Washington hospital by receiving a visit Thursday from Democratic frontrunner George S. McGovern and attending a religious service. More than 60 Wallace aides, nuns and staff members of the Roman Catholic affiliated hospital heard Wallace read the 23rd Psalm.

Spokesmen for Wallace and McGovern said in almost identical statements that "Nothing of political significance was discussed."

"McGovern was encouraged by the strength and vigor of Gov. Wallace and wanted to wish him well over the next few weeks," the senator's statement said.

President Nixon provided an ambulance plane to take Wallace to Montgomery, Ala., and finally to Miami Beach.

By making the stop in Alabama, Wallace could reclaim the governor's job that he lost under a state law. It provides for a temporary transfer of power to the lieutenant governor if the governor is absent from the state for at least 20 consecutive days.

Labor leaders give warning

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Organized labor, a bulwark of the Democratic party since President Franklin D. Roosevelt forged the link four decades ago, is emitting signals it may not support the ticket if Sen. George McGovern is the presidential nominee.

Many top labor leaders are warning that the powerful AFL-CIO may desert the Democrats in the presidential race this time if McGovern wins the nomination at Miami Beach next week, although some individual unions have pledged to support him.

President George Meany and other AFL-CIO leaders have severely criticized President Nixon's Republican administration on the economy and other domestic issues. But they also have made it clear they don't like McGovern's dovish views on Vietnam and defense spending, and regard as radical his proposals on abortion, amnesty for draft evaders, welfare reform, taxes and other issues.

But perhaps even more important, they don't trust him. The distrust stems mainly from his 1966 vote in the Senate against labor's position in a fight to ban state right-to-work laws.

To prove the point, one labor official pointed out that the AFL-CIO could enthusiastically support Sen. Edward M. Kennedy for president, even though Kennedy's views parallel many of McGovern's, because "we trust Kennedy."

"Vast unenthusiasm," is the way one key union official described the AFL-CIO attitude toward McGovern. And President Edward J. Carlucci of the Sheet Metal Workers said, "McGovern would be very difficult to sell to our members."

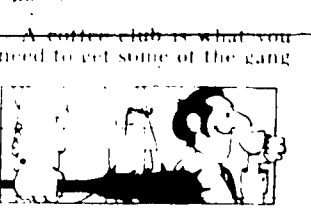

Meany and his key political operatives went to Miami Beach today to be on hand to protect labor's interests at the convention. Officially, the AFL-CIO is remaining neutral between the candidates, but behind the scenes will be working to prevent McGovern's nomination. More than 300 labor officials are delegates to the convention.

An official position won't be taken until Aug. 30 when the federation's general board meets in Chicago after the political conventions to decide whether to endorse anyone. Meany aides said there's no real chance the AFL-CIO will endorse Nixon. More likely, they said, the federation will either refrain from endorsing anyone or will endorse McGovern but not work to elect him, instead concentrating its manpower, money and resources on the congressional races.

Youth activities slated

CASTLEFORD — Youth activities will highlight events for both the Methodist and Baptist churches in Castleford Sunday and during the coming week.

A group of First Baptist Church youth arrived from Everett, Wash., today to participate in a cooperative program with youth of the community and the two churches. Also participating will be the Red Barrel Youth Center of Castleford.

Rupert firm to expand

By LEE TREMAINE
Times-News Writer
RUPERT — A $1.3 million expansion project, financed by a loan from the federal "telephone bank," is in the works for Project Mutual Telephone Co., Rupert.

Donald Dickson, manager of Project Mutual, an independent cooperative telephone company, said today the $1.3 million loan has been requested from the federal telephone bank for a five year expansion program for expanded central office equipment and services. The telephone bank, formed in May of 1971, is designed as a supplementary source of loans to the Rural Electrification Administration (REA), which has provided Project Mutual with seven loans in the past 18 years for continued expansion. Dickson said this is the first loan the company has requested from the telephone bank, the others were from REA.

The loan will be paid back at four to eight per cent interest, depending on operating volume of Project Mutual. Processing of the loan may take as long as a year, Dickson said, so it is hoped that some initial work can begin by this fall.

The expansion project includes construction of a new building to house repair services and equipment storage across the street from the present Project Mutual office. The company has purchased property, including land on which a small church is standing. The church will be moved to clear the land.

The new facility will also house storage facilities for Project Mutual vehicles and will provide off street parking for customers and employees. Continuing growth of the Rupert and Paul areas, particularly the area north of Rupert, is the principal reason for the expansion project, Dickson said. Heavy cable providing 2,100 pairs of telephone lines is being installed underground to replace lightweight 200 line cables.

In 1971, Dickson said the company set a new record for growth with installation of 448 "calling stations." Dickson explained that not all new installations necessarily represent new customers, since about half of the stations include extensions and other additions to present facilities.

Blaine officers examine plants

Ketchum raid nets 'garden'

By TERRY CAMPBELL
Times-News Writer

KETCHUM — Ketchum police netted a 200-plant marijuana garden and one arrest during a raid on a home in Ketchum Thursday afternoon.

Charged with manufacture of a controlled substance, a felony, is Charles W. Dixon, 22, a resident of the home located on First Street at Second Avenue.

He is being held in the Blaine County jail in lieu of $1,000 bond. More arrests are expected, according to Ketchum Police Chief Dennis Haynes.

During the raid, numerous controlled substances and drug paraphernalia were confiscated, Chief Haynes said.

Adjacent to the home over 200 marijuana plants from eight to 12 inches high had been planted, shielded by overgrown weeds. Police officers uprooted each plant and the area was then sprayed with weed killer.

Chief Haynes said intensive investigation led to Thursday's raid and was a joint effort between the Ketchum Police Department and the office of Blaine County Prosecuting Attorney Stephen W. Boller.

Fumes explosion caused fatality

By GEORGIA LAYTON
Times-News writer

BURLEY — An explosion apparently caused by fumes in a tank killed Vern Waters, 38, Burley, Thursday morning.

Cassia County sheriff's officers said Waters was welding on a 10,000-gallon fuel tank when the explosion occurred. He was starting work on the tank for the second day.

A resulting fire destroyed the shop building on his farm southwest of Burley. A tractor and hay baler in the building were also destroyed. The blast also broke six windows and a door on a nearby mobile home. Glassware and pictures on the trailer's walls were knocked to the floor.

The trailer is occupied by Floyd Jensen, a hired man on the Waters farm.

The blast hurled Waters about 30 feet from the tank, against the southwest corner of the building. One end of the tank landed in a corral about 75 feet away.

Two fire trucks from Burley were at the scene for two hours.

Officers said Jensen had been talking with Waters in the shop moments before the blast. He left to go to the trailer, which was located a short distance west of the shop.

Waters' body was taken to Payne Mortuary, Burley. Investigation of the blast is continuing.

Smith, Mrs. King pace U.S. tennis sweep hopes

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI)—America makes its bid for a sweep of the Wimbledon singles tennis championships Friday as Billie Jean King opposes defending champion Evonne Coolagong of Australia.

Stan Smith, reigning U.S. Open champion who lost here in last year's final, again reached the final Thursday and on Saturday will meet Romanian army lieutenant Ilie Nastase.

Smith, the top seed from Pasadena, Calif., dispatched Jan Kodes of Czechoslovakia, the man he beat at Forest Hills last year to win the U.S. Open, 3-6, 6-4, 6-1, 7-5 in two hours 11 minutes, while Nastase, the second seed, disposed of Spanish Davis Cupper Manuel Orantes, 6-3, 6-4, 6-4 in a rapid one hour 15 minutes.

Smith lost to John Newcombe of Australia last year—while Nastase beat the first Romanian ever to reach the final in his quest for the $13,000 prize.

Newcombe, who won a WCT tournament at St. Louis, Mo. last week, watched the match from the press box. He and 31 other professionals who compete on the WCT tour were barred from playing this year because of a dispute between their organization and the International Lawn Tennis Federation.

Miss Goolagong and three-time winner Billie Jean play for a $6,240 prize.

The 6-foot-4 Smith's heavy artillery—serve and volley—and Kodes' suspect temperament were the key to their match. Kodes virtually threw the third set away—after doubtful call in the 10th game of the second caused him to lose his service.

By the time the Czechoslovak began to play again it was too late. With victory in his sights Smith was not about to let things slip. Where his backhand had been faulty it was now a stroke of power, while his big first ball kept on finding the corners.

Miss Manning is the 800-meter and Kathy Hammond in the 400 meter were considered the nation's top contenders for gold medals in the August games in Munich, Germany.

They are among 147 women entered in six track and field events here Friday and Saturday nights. About 30 were expected to qualify for the American team.

Both women hold American records. Miss Manning clocked a 2:02 in the 800-meters at the Martin Luther King Games in Philadelphia earlier this year.

Miss Manning was ruled ineligible at the AAU meet because her coach, Edmund White, failed to submit a proper application.

Ali signs for rematch with Floyd Patterson on Aug. 28

Frazier, Thursday signed for an Aug. 28th battle with Floyd Patterson at Madison Square Garden.

Since Ali mauled Patterson before stopping him in 12 rounds in Las Vegas in 1965, there doesn't seem to be much point of a rematch. So Ali, who'll receive $250,000 to $125,000 for Patterson, was busy drumming up ticket sales.

Ali taunted Patterson at the meeting seven years ago, calling him the "rabbit." Now he has to build Patterson up.

"Floyd Patterson is one of the greatest names in the history of heavyweight boxing. Right now he's a much more skillful fighter. Regardless of the criticism of his age and this and that, I predict this fight will sell out the Garden and every theater in America because he's still a great drawing card and the world still loves him," he said.

"Floyd has proven to me he's got enough left for one more fight. He's such a nice guy. I let him call me Mr. Clay." And then Ali launched into an imitation of Patterson's soft-spoken mumble that broke up the crowd of reporters.

Henry's 65 leads Canadian tournament

FT. ERIE, Ont. (UPI)—Former Canadian Amateur Champion Bunky Henry fired a blistering six-under par 65 to capture the first round lead Thursday in the 62nd annual Canadian Open golf tournament at the Cherry Hill golf club. Tom Sanderson shot an opening round 66. Bunched together with four-under par 67's are, Gay Brewer, Sam Snead, Lou Graham and Sam Adams.

Lee Trevino, defending his Canadian Open title, was four strokes off the pace with a two-under par 69.

Henry, of Farrington, Ga., packed in five birdies and shot an eagle on the 12th hole when he sank a 60-footer out of the rough.

"This is really a great golf course," the youthful-looking Henry said, "by far the best course I've played in Canada." The 1965 Canadian Amateurs title winner added that he thinks an "eight or nine under par" will be good enough to capture the $150,000 Canadian Open with its $30,000 top prize.

Arnold Palmer, who shot an even-par 71, said he didn't think that if someone shot a low first round score he would run away with the tournament.

"I think this is a good golf course," Palmer said. "The fact that one man shot a 65 doesn't mean a thing." He added that a 275 would be "a good score" in the tournament.

A total of 150 golfers are entered in the tournament. The field will narrow down to 70 after Friday's second round with the third and fourth rounds scheduled for Saturday and Sunday.

Wottle, Ryun win qualifying heats in 1,500-meter trials

EUGENE, Ore. (UPI)—Dave Wottle and Jim Ryun showed strong finishing kicks in winning heats of the 1,500 meter run Thursday.

Rod Milburn in the 110 meter high hurdles while Prefontaine and Tarry Harrison won heats of the 5,000 meters.

In the 400 meter dash qualifying, all the favorites passed the first test. John Smith, the world 440 yard record holder, was second in his heat.

Wayne Collette of UCLA also was second in his heat while Lee Evans, the world 400 meter record holder and 1968 Olympic gold medalist, was third in his heat.

Also advancing in the 400 were Vince Matthews and Larry James, who won gold medals in 1968 while competing on the 1,600 meter relay team.

Milburn, the world record holder in the 120-yard hurdles at 13.3, hardly extended himself in winning his heats.

Also advancing through the first two rounds of the hurdles were 1968 Olympians Willie Davenport and Leon Coleman, Tom Hill of Arkansas State and Pac 8 champion Jerry Wilson of Southern California.

In the 5,000 Prefontaine, unbeaten in three years at that distance and the more commonly run collegiate three miles, won his heat in 13:51.2. He took charge late in the race and finished 30 yards ahead of the 1968 Olympian Tracy Smith (13:52.8) and 1964 Olympian Gerry Lindgren (13:53.6).

Also advancing to Sunday's final in the 5,000 from the heat were Richard Buerkle, former Villanova star, Cliff Clark of the Air Force and Sid Sink of Bowling Green, the American record holder in the steeplechase.

Tree project

LANSING, Mich. (UPI)—The State Highway Department and horticulturists at Michigan State University have begun a project to find out which tree species thrive best along urban highways.

The aim of the project is to determine which trees can survive the onslaught of auto fumes, industrial and household pollutants and mist from salt used in winter highway maintenance. More than 1,000 trees of 28 species have been planted in three freeway interchanges for the test.

Also advancing to Sunday's final in the 5,000 from the heat were Richard Buerkle, former Villanova star, Cliff Clark of the Air Force and Sid Sink of Bowling Green, the American record holder in the steeplechase.

The spunky and popular Quilici, 33, former "good glove, no hit" utility infielder, said his big job is now to get the club back together after its nosedive to third place in the American League western division.

Griffith said he planned to talk with Rigney, who replaced Billy Martin after the 1969 season and led them to the western division title in 1970, and possibly offer him a scouting job.

Rigney guided the Twins to a first place finish in the American League west in 1970, but they lost three games in a row to Baltimore in the playoffs.

Minnesota dropped to a fifth place finish last season, 20-12 games off the pace.

"I think the biggest thing is getting togetherness back on the ball club," Quilici told a news conference.

Quilici, a native of Chicago, broke into organized baseball in 1961 after playing collegiate ball at Western Michigan University. After several years in the minor leagues he was finally called up in 1967 on a permanent basis.

He was made a coach in 1971, but there were rumors he would quit the club before this season after a contract dispute with Griffith.

Quilici joked about the dispute Thursday and said the fact that he knows the players well would help him as a manager.

"I don't have to learn about their personalities," he said. "I've known many of them a long time."

Griffith said he made up his mind Thursday morning to fire Rigney. He said he thought of coach Ralph Rowe among other prospective replacements and had some hesitation about naming Quilici because of his inexperience as a manager.

"After a talk with Frank, he changed my mind," Griffith said.

How's that, Alex? Intermountain AAU swimming tourney opens here tonight

HOUSTON (UPI)—Alex Karras, former all-pro defensive tackle for the Detroit Lions, wiggled a cigar in his huge hand and said he calculated he took 27,000 showers with men during his pro football career, but now he has moved on to better things.

"I'm sorry but I didn't bring a speech," Karras told a Junior Bar of Texas audience. "I thought my manager said that this was the Junior Bartenders of Texas, and we'd just get drunk and go home."

Karras, describing the advantages and disadvantages of being a football player, told the group about his early days in Gary, Ind. ("The only place in the country where the birds cough") and at the University of Iowa ("The reason I went there was because they didn't have an entrance exam").

He said he met his wife while playing at Iowa.

"She was pretty well built in those days, which was quite a contrast from my teammates," Karras said.

He said he was the No. 1 draft choice of the Lions when he graduated.

"But those were the days before the big bonus," he said.

"A few days ago I met this chick in the hotel lobby and she knew right away who I was," he said. "I invited her to my room to discuss football."

She said OK, but warned me that she was a lesbian. I told her fine, how are things in Beirut?" Karras said.

"I'd call them collect and they wouldn't accept."

Karras reminisced about the good-old days with the Lions. "We were so bad that we'd play four games and be out of contention," he said. "Then we'd enjoy the rest of the season."

He said George Wilson, one of his coaches, was one of the most brilliant coaches in football.

"He told us that we had to do two things to win: Block, tackle and run."

"When we told him that was three things, he said to quit thinking and do it," Karras said.

The 250 pound Karras said he missed football. "Especially those pats on the bottom."

He said since he started appearing on television, people especially women, recognize him.

The annual Intermountain AAU swimming tournament gets underway with finals at 6 p.m. Friday at the Harmon Park pool and will run through the usual windup of the one-mile rough-water swim at Dierke's Lake Sunday.

Dr. John McNeese, tournament chairman, says "I can't tell if this is the biggest one we've ever had, but it will be as big as any. We have 1,800 entries in the individual events. Of course, many of those are doubled and tripled up."

Qualifying actually began Friday morning at Harmon Park. Dr. McNeese said qualifying will be held from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Friday and Saturday with the finals at 6 p.m. both days. Between race sessions will come the diving competition.

The rough water swim at Dierke's will again be split into age groups with the first swimmers hitting the water at 10 a.m. Sunday. Races will be run through conclusion, which should be mid-afternoon.

The Pirate Swim Club of Magna, Utah, again is expected to win the team championship and provide a lot of individual champions. However, Idaho Falls will have the largest team entry and the Boise Y team has nearly a full contingent.

Kearns, Utah, and the BYU swim clubs also have large entries.

Dr. McNeese said Twin Falls Swim Club should make a couple of showings in various events but notes it hasn't the depth or strength to run for the title. "For the first time since I've been here (handling the team), we have a lot of six, seven, eight and nine year olds who appear dedicated to the sport. We have enough of them that we can do a lot of work. We still would like to have more, so if there's any Knothole League baseball player who sits on the bench a lot and would like to try something else, the invitation for this year is still open."

"For the first time since I've been here (handling the team), we have a lot of six, seven, eight and nine year olds who appear dedicated to the sport. We have enough of them that we can do a lot of work. We still would like to have more, so if there's any Knothole League baseball player who sits on the bench a lot and would like to try something else, the invitation for this year is still open."

Dr. McNeese said Twin Falls Swim Club should make a couple of showings in various events but notes it hasn't the depth or strength to run for the title. NEW YORK (UPI)—Prices moved lower Friday in light trading on the New York Stock Exchange. There was little news to inspire the market.

The Dow Jones industrial average was off 3.24 at 938.89 shortly before 1:15 p.m. Standard & Poor's 500-stock index slipped 0.28 at 108.56.

Declines led advances, 681 to 563, among the 1,630 issues crossing the tape. Three-hour turnover amounted to 7,700,000 shares, down sharply from the 13,820,000 shares during the corresponding period Thursday.

Traders and investors more or less ignored a Labor Department report showing a drop in the unemployment rate in June.

Norton Simon was the most active issue, unchanged at 34 1/4 on 106,400 shares, including a block of 88,000 shares at 33 1/4, off 1/4. Winniebag was second, down 2 1/2 at 41 1/2 on 89,500 shares. General Electric was third, off 1/4 at 66 1/2 on 84,200 shares.

Glanoria came under selling pressure. Polaroid lost 2 1/2. Walt Disney 2. Wrigley gained 1/4.

Chemicals, oils and airlines were mixed. Steels, motors, aircrafts and rails were mixed.

"Before Church Day comes CARTOON day."

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, JULY 8, 1972

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The daytime is fine for errands and for thinking up ways to make conditions more comfortable and better organized. The evening however tends to give you an inflated sense of your worth, or of how much you can spend, which can cause you loss or embarrassment.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Do your shopping during the day, then make the important appointments you have been neglecting. Keep them on time and have a happy day communicating with others. Exercise care in p.m.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You want to get your financial matters well handled during the day and can do so. Make those repairs to property that are necessary. Investigate new methods of expression later.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Take those exercises you need for vigorous health during day, but take care you keep promises you have made in p.m. Plan how to advance during day hours. This is also true where social matters are concerned.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You can enjoy exciting recreation that makes you happy during day, as well as taking care of chores satisfactorily. But don't irk a fussy associate in p.m. Complete arrangements now for the coming week. Make notes so you forget nothing.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) A good day to see congenial friends you like; enjoy pleasures with them. Don't force anything tonight. You can gain some wish during day. Make the evening more delightful with the one you love.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You can handle public affairs well during day. The evening is fine for pleasure, but do not spend much. Handle that civic matter well, also. Pleasing mate should bring happiness tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You have fine new ideas and can put them in operation quickly. Take it easy and rest in the evening. Being with mate as much as you can will bring real happiness now. Try not to have clutter around your house.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Get errands done with closest tie today and plan the future more wisely together. Relaxation favored in afternoon. Find out what your position is with others and improve conditions. Evening is excellent for reading.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Out to the sports or other recreation that appeals to you during day, but do some resting tonight and restore your energies. Those you like recognize your talents now and appreciate them, give you backing. Think.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You need to carry through with the promises you have made and get the goodwill of others quickly. A good Saturday for some recreation, too. Talk over with an expert new ideas and put them in operation immediately for success.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Prevail upon congenials to accompany you to parties or other recreations that appeal to you and them. Evening is fine for those little tasks that need to be done. Show others how much you really like them.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Home and family affairs are your best bet today so keep busy making everything more attractive and happy. Take time to get the information you want in the evening. You can be more successful in your career.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY He or she will be one of those young persons with much ingenuity. However, there is also some shyness because of the fear of being ridiculed by others, so start early to encourage this youngster and to provide for him or her opportunities to be with other young people so this obstacle can be overcome. Anything of a creative or artistic nature is fine here. Make sure that you send your child to the right schools and give right religious teachings. Children are fine.

Martini Kills The Appetite

Any drink with an alcoholic content of more than 20 per cent tends to take away the appetite. Researchers at the University of North Carolina School of Medicine found that out. A dry martini, for instance, is about 40 per cent alcohol. Works like an anesthetic. Or did you know that?

A MILLION years ago at the circus, I saw a man seem to fall from a high trapeze, only to be jerked up short of the deadly ground by a long rope tied to his ankle. How that staged trick jolted us wide-eyed lumpy-throated rural kinder! Now I learn the natives of the New Hebrides Islands have executed that same performance for hundreds of years. On vines from the tops of tall trees. For the edification of stunned sailors. What's new? Nothing, nothing.

AGAIN a client asks where most matrimonial mates first meet, one another. In schools. Investigation into more than 9,000 marriages proves that second place these romantics most usually get together is in the homes of friends.

FOOD
Q. From whence cometh sugar originally, Louie?
A. India.

Q. "TAKE an ordinary batch of wheat. Before it winds up in my toaster, how many different chemicals are added to it?"
A. No less than 16. Too many.

Q. "WHAT does a zoo elephant eat for breakfast?"
A. Maybe 50 pounds of hay, five loaves of bread, couple dozen carrots, and a few apples. If the budget allows. No coffee, no Danish.

MAYBE you didn't know Denmark has 483 islands.

WOMEN

Women are far more apt than men to exaggerate their aches and pains. You say that's not news? Maybe not. Still, a study of more than 5,000 men and women sponsored by the Veterans Administration at the Cornell University Medical School now confirms the widespread claim. Said study also purports to confirm that most men are more intelligent than their wives.

SAY YOU take up a foreign language. Like German. It's hard. But you keep at it. Sir, you think you'll never get control of it. But you do, eventually. Query is how do you know when you finally hold some command? Linguists say you can be certain, finally, when you dream in that language.

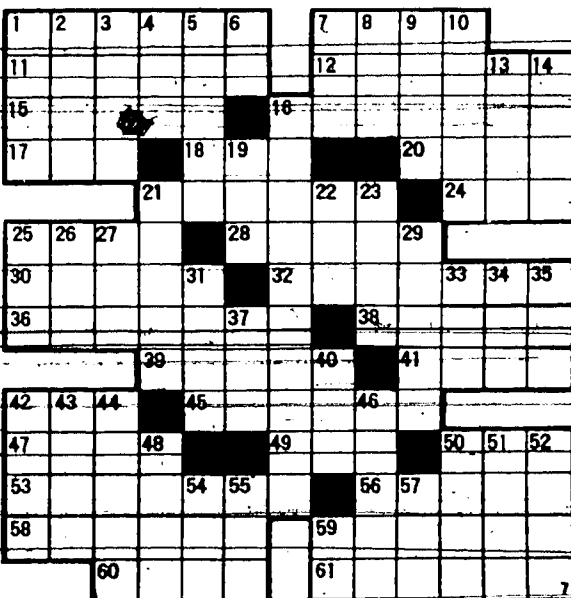

THAT SATURDAY is the day of the week when the most fatal car crack-ups occur is generally known. That Wednesday is when the fewest happen, likewise. Year in and year out, approximately the same number of death wrecks are reported on Tuesday and Thursday. More than on Wednesday. But not so many as on Friday and Saturday. Wednesday is that day of the week when the fewest people drink.

THEISEN MOTORS

The easiest place in the world to buy a car
 701 Main Ave. E. 733-7700

Buy one now and we'll pay for everything but the gas for one year.

Buy a new VW from us and all service work is free for one year or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first.
That includes tune-ups, lube jobs — everything but the gas.

If you'll permit us a brief moment of immodesty, we'd just like to say this is a supercalifragilisticexpialidocious deal.

Up to now every car maker in the world has asked you to pay for your own servicing costs. Spark plugs, gaskets, oil changes, filters, and that sort of thing have never been covered by new car warranties.

But as of July first, every Northwest VW dealer will give you a written service contract that covers all your maintenance costs for one year or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first.* And it's good on every car we make. Beetles, Squarebacks, Fastbacks, Campers. The big 411s. The works.

All you have to do is drive it back to the dealer who sells it to you. He'll pay for everything but the gas. And, believe us, your gas expenses won't put you in the poor-house. VW's sip gas instead of guzzling it.

Of course, this new offer is in addition to our regular 2-year/24,000 mile warranty** on parts and labor, which (if you'll permit us another immodest moment) is a longer warranty than you can get on any new car in the world except the mighty Rolls-Royce. (And even they won't pay for your servicing costs.)

So when you go looking for a new car, ask your friendly neighborhood salesman who's going to pay for your tuneups, oil changes and service expenses when you buy the car he's selling.

After he changes the subject, come to one of the VW dealers listed below and buy the car he's selling.

*OFFER APPLIES ONLY TO NEW VEHICLES PURCHASED AFTER 7/1/72. THE OWNER MAINTAINS AND SERVICES HIS VEHICLE IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE VOLKSWAGEN MAINTENANCE SCHEDULE. ANY FACTORY PART FOUND TO BE DEFECTIVE IN MATERIAL OR WORKMANSHIP WITHIN 24 MONTHS OR 24,000 MILES, WHICHEVER COMES FIRST, WILL BE REPAIRED OR REPLACED BY ANY U.S. OR CANADIAN VOLKSWAGEN DEALER AND THIS WILL BE DONE FREE OF CHARGE.
