

McGovern, Eagleton ready to oust Nixon

By STEVE GERSTEL
MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — George S. McGovern launched his quest for the presidency today, trying to convince dubious Democrats that bloodshed in Vietnam and economic fears at home can carry them to victory over President Nixon.

But with only 15 weeks remaining before the election, the restructuring of the Democratic alliance still eluded McGovern and little-known Thomas F. Eagleton of Missouri, the freshman senator he chose as vice presidential candidate to add sparkle to the ticket.

Demonstrating their divisions to the very end, delegates to the Democratic convention drifted home today, tired of oratory and clearly concerned about McGovern's chances of upsetting a popular President who believes both issues are working in his favor.

McGovern's battle for the convention's support was uphill to the very end. Even his hand-picked running mate had to fight for his nomination, in defiance of the long-standing custom under which conventions give presidential nominees free rein to select the No. 2 man.

McGovern's choice raised eyebrows. Some delegates from the South said they had never heard of Eagleton, but Fred Folsom, an Alabama delegate, said he wouldn't oppose giving the candidate the ticket he wanted.

"If Senator McGovern wants to get on a suicide mission, he has the right to travel with his own copilot."

While Eagleton won a majority of 1,741.81 votes with ease on the first ballot, 407 votes went to Frances "Sissy" Farenthold, who was defeated last month in her attempt to win the Texas gubernatorial nomination; 222 went to Sen. Mike Gravel of Alaska, a Senate iconoclast; and 107 to former Massachusetts Gov. Endicott Peabody, who had been campaigning for months.

McGovern settled on the Eagleton, 42, after first offering the nomination to three other Senate colleagues — Kennedy, Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut, who turned it down on grounds that at 62 he was too old; and Sen. Walter F. Mondale of Minnesota.

Eagleton was chosen in tough deliberations in which dozens of McGovern associates and aides participated. By one account, from Rep. William Clay of Missouri, Mayors Kevin White of Boston and Moon Landrieu of New Orleans were considered by McGovern but finally rejected after Democratic leaders consulted by telephone.

said they were too little known. But Clay's account of the deliberations was disputed by others in the McGovern camp and those involved in the selection process.

Eagleton has a voting record rated by the AFL-CIO as better in its view than McGovern's own Senate record. The dark-browed Missourian apparently was chosen because of his urban background, his compatibility with McGovern's own views, his impeccable record as a big-vote getter and his Roman Catholic faith. He served as attorney general of Missouri before his election to the Senate in 1968.

Eagleton acknowledged that he was unknown outside his home state. "I'm Tom who?" he laughed with reporters.

In yet another blow to McGovern's hopes of getting mobilizing organized labor and other disenchanted elements of the party behind his candidacy, Lawrence F. O'Brien said he would no longer serve as party chairman. O'Brien has strong ties with the party's old guard and McGovern had asked him to stay on.

McGovern could see for himself the size of his unity task when he stood at last before the convention.

Delegates from the big industrial states of Ohio and Pennsylvania gave him a relatively lukewarm welcome. Many remained seated while the McGovern supporters rose shouting to their feet.

I. W. Abel, president of the United Steelworkers Union and a Pennsylvania delegate, went home still angry.

Kennedy—the man AFL-CIO President George Meany most would have liked to have seen nominated—drew a thunderous roar when he stepped before the convention to urge Nixon's defeat. Shouts punctuated every Kennedy sentence. He said the convention had met "the test of greatness" by nominating McGovern.

McGovern's own reception was enthusiastic but less electric. He returned to the theme—uncompromising opposition to America's participation in Vietnam's War—that had led to his dismissal as an "one-issue candidate" when he announced his for the presidency.

Utah woman heads party

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Jean Westwood, a Utah businesswoman, was selected by George S. McGovern today to succeed Lawrence O'Brien as new chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary for President John F. Kennedy, was tapped as co-chairman.

Both Mrs. Westwood and Salinger were extremely active in McGovern's successful campaign to win the Democratic presidential nomination.

McGovern also picked Don Petrie, an Avis Corp. executive, to be the Democratic party's new treasurer, succeeding Robert Strauss who wound up his duties today.

Mrs. Westwood will be the first woman to assume the top leadership post in the history of the party. She has been co-chairman of the McGovern campaign committee.

Of the chairmanship of the party, she said, "I'm very excited about it." She added that her husband Richard Westwood also was enthusiastic about her taking the fulltime political job.

McGovern had tried to get O'Brien to stay on but said O'Brien was determined to resign after serving two terms in the post. "I know he's exhausted," said McGovern.

McGovern told members of the "72 Sponsors Club"—people who contribute $72 a month to the Democratic party—that he is attempting to work out an adequate program for financing political campaign.

It is known that he plans a major campaign to get grassroots contributions.

Eagleton gets Gem support

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Idaho delegates split their votes three ways on a wild roll call for the Democratic vice presidential nomination early today. Votes were scattered among 39 other candidates in the convention balloting in addition to the winner, Sen. Thomas Eagleton of Missouri.

There was no resistance from the Idahoans however, when at 1:30 a.m. Nebraska moved to suspend the rules so Eagleton could be elected by acclamation.

Sen. Frank Church said he wholeheartedly endorses Eagleton, and said "I have no reason for being disappointed."

Church's name had come up a few times in recent weeks as speculation ran rampant on who the presidential running mate would be.

Church admitted Eagleton is not well known and said "as he becomes better known in the course of the campaign he will add considerable attraction and vigor to the ticket."

Overbooking nets airline big fine

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) today fined Trans World Airlines $87,000, the largest fine ever levied against an airline for overbooking passenger flights.

The fine was the result of an investigation by the CAB's office of consumer affairs covering the period between 1971 and 1972.

According to the CAB, TWA oversold reservations on hundreds of flights and was unable to provide passengers with seats at departure time.

The procedure known as "oversale" is done with the expectation that not all passengers who made reservations on a particular flight will arrive to claim their seats.

MIAMI BEACH — Can Thomas Eagleton cut into Richard Nixon's sports fan vote?

President Nixon has become known for his liking for football in particular and sports in general. He has telephone victors, selected No. 1 football teams and all-star baseball teams, and has suggested plays to professional coaches.

Some members of the Missouri delegation think Eagleton can outdo Nixon as an ardent and knowledgeable sports fan.

St. Louis city treasurer Paul Berra, cousin of baseball's Yogi, told the Times-News, "He is very knowledgeable and perceptive about football and baseball. He can go to a training camp, watch for awhile, and tell you who's going to make it and who isn't. He goes to a good many Cardinal baseball and football games. When I was in Washington last October to see him, we had to have dinner early so he could go to a Red skin game. He used to go down to St. Petersburg every year to watch the Cardinals in spring training."

Commissioner out of surgery

TWIN FALLS — Heber Loughmiller, Twin Falls County commissioner, was reported recuperating today in the intensive care section of St. Luke's Hospital following heart surgery.

He underwent surgery Thursday in a seven hour operation for the bypass of three arteries from the heart. Members of the family said he is expected to be out of intensive care by Tuesday.

Natural gas prices to rise notch here

TWIN FALLS — Natural gas bills will soon rise 7.2 per cent here following an Idaho Public Utilities Decision Thursday.

A homeowner with a gas bill of $20 would begin paying $1.44 more beginning on Aug. 12 when the PUC ruling becomes effective.

William Winger of the Public Utilities Commission in Boise, said the increase is a standard rate for all residential, small commercial, large commercial and industrial users.

The only exception is the "interruptible" customers such as those demanding supplies on a seasonal basis.

An example of the interruptible customer, he said, would be the Amalgamated Sugar Co. plants which operate during several months per year on an around the clock basis. These firms are subject to interruption of service if the supply is needed elsewhere. Increases for these customers will total 2.7 per cent, Winger said.

A. W. Smith, vice president in charge of sales for Intermountain Gas Co. Boise, said the increase compensates the higher costs of purchase of natural gas to Intermountain.

Smith said there have been four increases by the suppliers which Intermountain has had to absorb without any increase in rates to their customers until the current 7.2 rate increase grant.

Intermountain Gas Co. filed for authority to increase rates on April 12 on the basis of increased cost of gas purchases from the major supplier, El Paso Natural Gas Co.

The PUC said the increase in rates and charges by El Paso Natural Gas Co. were effective No. 14, 1971, Feb. 1, 1972, March 1, 1972 and April 1, 1972. These increases will cost Intermountain Gas Co. about $1.65 million per year. Rates approved by the PUC for Intermountain charges to its customers are expected to match this figure.

Trout firm appeals US backpay ruling

TWIN FALLS — A Magic Valley trout procuring firm is appealing a ruling by a US district judge that the company owed over $12,000 in wages to its underpaid employees.

Earl Hardy, Boise, president of the Idaho Trout Processors Co., Filer, said his firm has begun action to appeal the decision to the US Circuit Court in San Francisco.

The firm had been ordered to pay $12,885.35 in back wages; with interest, to 115 employees by a U. S. District Judge.

The company was charged March 30, 1971, with violations of the Fair Labor Standards Act by the U. S. Department of Labor, according to Ernie Hood, information director.

June 15, 1972, Judge Ray McNichols handed down his decision enjoining the company permanently from paying less than the federal minimum wage of $1.60 an hour.

Hood said the original investigations were made by the Wage-Hour Division of the Labor Department.

He said some of the workers had left the company since the original ruling.

Earl Hardy, Boise, president of the Idaho Trout Processors Co., Filer, said his firm has started action for an appeal of the decision to the U. S. Circuit Court in San Francisco.

Hardy said today the ruling of Judge McNichols did not state on what basis Idaho processors lost their case.

Hardy said his firm was paying the minimum $1.40 per hour wage to high school and college summer time workers.

When the minimum wage was increased to $1.60 per hour for employees of commercial firms, his company did not make the increase," he said. "We were of the contention we came under the agricultural exemption," he said, "and this is the technicality on which the Labor Department people based their case. They contend we are commercial rather than agriculture, simply because it is a separate plant."

Chess loss

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (UPI) — The organizers of the $250,000 international chess champion ship said today they might give in to Bobby Fischer's request to remove closed circuit television equipment from the chess hall, but flatly refused to overturn Referee Lothar Schmid's decision awarding the second game to Russian Boris Spassky.

Sensuous Frasier dies with smile

LAGUNA HILLS, Calif. (UPI) — Frasier the sensuous lion, an inspirational example to elderly males everywhere, died Thursday in his sleep with "a look of contentment on his face."

In life Frasier reigned over a harem of 11 constantly pregnant young lionesses, although at roughly 20 years old he was the equivalent in age of a human male of more than 85. He had sired 35 cubs in 18 months, and more are still due. He kept up his activity through the last weeks of his life.

He apparently died of old age and a kidney ailment.

A funeral suitable to his position—complete with bagpipers, monument, a foundation in his name and massed mourners—has been planned.

The venerable lion, who became a pop hero and geriatric sex symbol in his dotage, was surrounded at his death by the best medical attention a valuable show business celebrity could claim.

The simba Valentino passed away with "a look of contentment on his face," said one of the attendants.

In death, as in life, Frasier inspired unusual tributes.

A team of more than a dozen doctors planned to conduct an autopsy today in an attempt to determine the source of the astonishing virility—given his advanced years and debilitated physical state—that made Frasier famous.

Elks reject non-whites

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI) — The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks rejected a proposal Thursday to admit non-whites as members.

Delegates to the Elks convention voted 1,798 to 921 to reject a resolution to delete a "whites only" clause from the constitution of the 1.5 million member group.

Similar resolutions were defeated in 1968, 1969 and 1971. In 1970 the resolution was bottled up in committee.

Francis Smith, of Sioux Falls, S.D., newly installed grand exalted ruler, declined comment on the vote. "I must decline because I feel that as grand exalted ruler, I must represent all of the membership," he told a news conference.

The proposal was rejected despite the support of the 16-member Elks Grand Advisory Committee. The committee, made up of past exalted rulers, voted last April to recommend passage of the resolution.

Richard Zelenka, Ridgewood, N.J., a member of the Committee to Integrate the Elks, promised to continue the fight to admit non-whites. "Of course, we're dismayed," he said. "But we'll continue the fight and be back next year."

Air pirates surrendered

FREEPORT, Tex. (UPI) — The two hijackers in a crippled jet stranded on a small South Texas airfield weren't ready to concede defeat.

The airplane was surrounded by police, it was out of fuel and had four blown tires, and the hijackers were weary from the 22-hour ordeal. But they still had $600,000 ransom money and parachutes they traded for 112 passengers in Philadelphia, and were holding three stewardesses hostage.

It was FBI agent Louis White of Baltimore, who convinced them they should surrender after talking to them about 30 minutes. The agent, like the hijackers, is black.

"White told them the three people who were injured in the ordeal were not hurt seriously. He said the only thing for them to do was give up," said Houston FBI chief Thomas Jordan.

"He made them realize they were in an untenable position."

The three stewardesses walked out first, followed seconds later by the hijackers, walking out of the rear door of the airplane with their hands held high.

White snapped on the handcuffs and the men, later identified as Stanley Green, 34, of Washington, D.C., and Lulseyd Tesfa, 22, a native of Ethiopia, were charged with air piracy and held in lieu of $1 million bond each.

The hijacking began Wednesday night as the jetliner approached New York on a flight from Philadelphia. The hijackers were armed with a sawed-off 12-gauge shotgun hidden in a fake arm cast, a pistol and a hand grenade.

They forced the plane to return and land in Philadelphia and demanded the ransom and parachutes.

Capt. Elliott M. Adams, 55, escaped by diving through a cockpit window. He was hospitalized in fair condition from injuries suffered in the fall.

W. J. Francis

BUHL. — William Joseph Francis, 86, former Buhl resident, died Thursday, morning at St. Benedict's Hospital, Jerome, following a short illness.

He was born Aug. 30, 1885, in North Ogden, Utah. His parents were Utah pioneers and his father freighted goods from Utah through Idaho and Montana.

On Dec. 11, 1907, he married Priscilla Elizabeth Montgomery in the Salt Lake City LDS Temple. They lived in North Ogden while he worked for Wright's Department Store in Ogden, and he later worked as a conductor for Southern Pacific Railroad.

In 1910 they moved to Metropolis, Nev., to homestead, and moved a year later to Malad where they ran a dry farm. In 1929 they moved to Wendell and farmed southwest of town. From 1925 to 1965 Mr. Francis also worked as a produce truck driver between Idaho and Nevada. They have lived at Heritage Homes in Jerome the past two years.

He was a member of the Buhl LDS Church and was a high priest at the time of his death. Mrs. Francis served a mission in England, and he and his wife served a six-month mission to Arizona in 1946. He was Sunday school superintendent at Malad and was stake missionary for the Twin Falls Stake.

He was preceded in death by one son, two brothers and a sister.

Surviving are his wife in Jerome; four sons, Norman Francis and John K. Francis, both Wendell, Robert Francis, Burley, and William J. (Tony) Francis, McGill, Nev.; two daughters, Mrs. Edgar (Lucille) Dryden, Jerome, and Mrs. Daryle (Alma Rae) Garfield, North Ogden, one brother, George Francis Ogden; one sister, Mrs. Rube (Mary) Earl, Twin Falls; 33 grandchildren and 19 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at the Buhl LDS Church Monday at 10 a.m. with Bishop Garth Atwood officiating. Burial will be in the Buhl Cemetery. Friends may call Sunday afternoon from 1 to 5 p.m. at Albertson Dickard Funeral Home in Buhl.

Low bid set by TF firm

TWIN FALLS — An apparent low bid was submitted by Neilsen and Co., Twin Falls, for construction of additions to Magic Valley Memorial Hospital Thursday.

Two firms, Neilsen and Co. and Miller Construction Co., Boise, submitted bids for the proposed remodeling and expansion of the county hospital. The base bid of Neilsen was $229,694 with additional alternatives of $39,532 for the administration area; $482 for solar glass, and $957 sidewalk installation. The firm bid a unit price of $45 per cubic yard of rock excavation.

Miller Construction bid $235,252 base bid and $60 per cubic foot of rock excavation.

Bids were taken under advisement by the hospital board and county commissioners. Commission Chairman William L. (Bill) Chancey set 10 a.m. Tuesday as the time for a vote of the commission on awarding a contract. This will give hospital board members time to consider the bids and make a recommendation following the Monday night meeting.

William Wiseman, Hansen, hospital board chairman, said in an initial review of the figures Wednesday the bids appear favorable and close to the construction cost estimates of the architect. He said the $45 per cubic foot of rock excavation is especially important as this is an additional contract item to be added to the base bid figure and the addition as proposed will involve much rock excavation.

Tickets will be available at the door, and are on sale at the Sun Valley sports desk, the Sun Valley Lodge news stand, Ketchum Chamber of Commerce, Atkinson's Market and Anderson's Lumber in Ketchum.

since hospital property is located on the rim of Rock Creek Canyon.

Cline, Small, Hamill and Shaw and Associates, Boise, are architects for the remodeling and additions.

Work will include three areas of the hospital. The first is a two-story masonry and concrete addition at the east end of the present building to provide recovery room space clean up and supply room. X-ray special procedure room and storage in the basement portion.

The second area is a one story block and brick veneer addition to the front portion of the building to provide for a new main entrance and enlarge the business office area.

The third region includes enclosure of the present patio area on the south side of the building near the west end. This area will be converted to pathological office space and a new isotopes laboratory room.

Construction is expected to begin yet this summer, hospital officials say.

Award presented

TF man honored

TWIN FALLS — J. A. (Art) Cederquist, local businessman, Thursday was named 1972 winner of the Kiwanis Judge O. P. Duvall award.

The award, in honor of the late Judge Duvall, a charter member of the Twin Falls club, is given each year to the most outstanding member of the organization. Selection is by a special committee and the honoree is not informed of the award until presentation is made.

Armour Anderson, a past president of the club, made the presentation on behalf of the membership.

Speaker was District Judge James Cunningham. Introduced by Richard Reed, Kiwanis program chairman for the day, the official asked the question "Whatever happened to justice?" He said society today is "just a little more complicated than it was some years ago" and that "courts are becoming aware that justice is changing from day to day."

He discussed an editorial page report of the Times-News in last Sunday's paper on the findings of the Committee for Economic Development concerning crime and justice. Judge Cunningham said the lead paragraph which said "there are times of change and suggestions of change. Often these suggestions are disturbing to many" should make the private citizen disturbed enough that he could come up with some of the answers.

Presentation of a tribute in memory of W. J. (Bill) Emerick, club member who was buried Thursday, was given by Stan Snow.

To make a colorful tablecloth, use blue-jean colored denim. At each place setting, stitch on a pocket to hold a napkin and silverware.

The Blacks Could Be Divided

MIAMI BEACH — As he surveyed the divisions among black delegates to the Democratic National Convention, Rep. Ronald Dellums, the chic black activist from California, was angry and bitter enough to utter an ominous warning.

"If we blacks don't watch out," he said sadly, "we'll wind up helping Dickie Nixon get reelected in November."

At the time, Dellums was outraged by the refusal of a caucus of most of the more than 450 black delegates to support George McGovern's bid to regain 151 disputed California delegates. But as this antic and acrimonious convention neared its end, his words could not be taken lightly.

For, as of today, the black Democrats could be even more divided than the white Democrats. There are only two substantial factions among the whites — the New Politicians and the Old Politicians. Those same factions split the blacks, but their unity is further endangered by the so-called "Poor Politicians" of the Rev. Ralph Abernathy and George Wiley, executive director of the National Welfare Rights Organization, and the small but vigorous bloc of blacks who supported Rep. Shirley Chisholm's bid for the Presidential nomination.

Time usually heals the Democratic Party's internal wounds. But over the generations, white Democratic leaders have accustomed themselves to the compromises of realism. The black delegates, here are a different breed. Due in part, perhaps, to their relative political naivete, they stand on principles.

Among the blacks, the "New Politicians" were always for George McGovern — period. The Old Politicians mostly were for Hubert Humphrey — period.

The Chisholm people were for Chisholm — period. Abernathy and Wiley are interested only in getting more money for the poor.

The New Leadership includes the more glamorous types — the mod "Dellums," Georgia state Rep. Julian Bond, Rep. John Conyers of Michigan, Mrs. Martin Luther King, and the Chicago Evangelist and social reformer, the Rev. Jesse Jackson. The Old Leadership consists of most regular party members, labor leaders and a sprinkling of older clergymen who came out early for Hubert Humphrey. Shirley Chisholm presides over the Chisholm bloc, just as Abernathy and Wiley own their factions.

Time may bring these diverse ideologues together, too. But time has seldom had a tougher job. The various black leaders are too new to the struggle for power to have learned the maneuvers necessary to form a coalition.

Moreover, as several black delegates noted in different words after their caucus on the credentials fuss broke up in pandemonium, black politicians may not forget as easily as their white counterparts the ugly things that are shouted at national conventions. Party regulars, labor leaders and the Chisholm people are still discussing with hot outrage Dellums' denunciation of their "Stop McGovern" coalition as a cabal of "cynical, diabolical forces." Mrs. Chisholm's supporters especially resent Dellums' inclusion of their heroine in that "cynical, diabolical" group.

Thus the Democrats' chances in November could be hurt badly. Although blacks comprise only about 8 per cent of the electorate, they make up 30 per cent of all so-called "strong" Democrats. Ninety-four per cent of the blacks who voted in 1968 went for Humphrey. If this vote is reduced by even, say, 20 per cent, the Democrats are in trouble.

An angry Dellums was shooting from the hip when he warned that the blacks could help win reelection for Richard Nixon. But unless some black leader can get the various brawling blocs together in the next three months, Nixon's recently renewed efforts to woo the black vote could pay fat dividends.

The Checkmate

We have seen over the past few days the creation of something new in chess, the Fischer gambit.

This is where you threaten to hold your breath until you turn blue and-or pick up your chess board and go home unless you can have your own way.

A true inspiration to the youth of America, Bobby Fischer has shown us that these tactics work in this greed-smudged real world.

Fischer's performance, the prelude to the world chess championship match in Iceland, should not have surprised us. He has, after all, never said he was sensitive, poised, considerate, modest, generous, admirable or intelligent. He has said only (though many, many times) that he is the best chess player around, in Brooklyn, the United States, the world and, presumably, the universe. Let us assume that he is right.

The next question is, so what? Fischer seems to be operating under the belief that because we pay our athletes and entertainers outrageously large sums of money, we should do the same for chess players.

From his point of view this is reasonable, of course.

But from everybody else's it is super-arrogant nonsense. That we are foolish enough to sanction paying Tom Seaver $125,000 a year to throw baseballs is no justification for our being foolish enough to sanction paying Bobby Fischer $200,000 for shoving a bunch of toys around for a month.

For one thing, there is the two-wrongs-don't-make-a-right theory. For another, there is the fact that chess is not, either historically or intrinsically, an interesting spectator sport. Such vicarious enjoyment as chess games provide comes from leisurely study of the move-by-move account, not from watching Fischer knit his brow in thought or lick his chops in fiendish anticipation of crushing an opponent's ego.

Maybe at some future time there will be enough fans around a support chess in the fashion to which Fischer would like to be accustomed. But right now there are not. And, no exploiting capitalist is getting rich on Fischer's talent.

This makes it doubly unfortunate that London investment banker James D. Slater saw fit to add $125,000 to the world championship purse. For Fischer's threats to quit the match bordered on extortion and his bluff should have been called. This would have been painful for Iceland — whose costly preparations for the match Fischer held hostage. But it would have put Fischer, a fatuous, graceless man, in his proper place, that of someone who happens to be a genius at a trivial pastime.

Now, though, we have the confrontation.

Fischer has at times tried to make his match with defending world champion Boris Spassky a Cold War kind of crusade, good old American versus godless Russian Communist. But he was not so dedicated to the crusade that he was willing to wage it for a mere $100,000. He was not so proud that he would not apologize to the Russians to save the match and his money. And he was not smart enough to realize that if he had just quietly won the championship, he would have earned the respect and, probably, the financial rewards he demanded so prematurely.

Go, Boris.

CHRIS CARLSON

Church And Nixon

Miami Beach — The Nixon Administration's record on care for the nation's 20 million elderly was blasted Saturday evening like it has never been blasted before in a preview of a major fall campaign issue.

With most of the Democratic party's major contenders for the presidential nomination listening, Idaho Sen. Frank Church lit into the Administration record before a senior citizen's host subcommittee meeting outside in Flamingo Park.

"Because of Democratic leadership, the elderly now have Social Security, Medicare, an Older Americans Act, and a national hot meals program — just to name a few. In practically every instance, these far-sighted, people-serving programs were not only resisted, but in many cases, strongly opposed by the Republican Party," Church charged in his emotional, partisan blast.

Church told his audience, including hippies from the nearby site, that Nixon was a president "who says 'yes' to privilege and 'no' to human needs." He charged because of presidential indifference programs for older Americans have been falling farther behind, but he pledged that the story of the "Forgotten American" of the Nixon years will be told this year.

The Nixon Administration closed its eyes to the everyday problems confronting the elderly. It became a silent partner in banishing millions of older Americans from the mainstream of society," he said.

Church recited litany of Democratic-proposed Social Security increases opposed by the Administration unsuccessfully, including the recent 20 per cent increase. Playing upon a charge of "politics" leveled at him by the presidential press secretary, Church kept rhetorically asking "is it playing politics" to increase the meager benefits for widows, to improve the lot of the poor elderly.

He called for a reordering of the nation's priorities and a reallocation of funds from expensive defense programs to more necessary programs aimed at the elderly.

Church also blasted the Administration for the manner in which it handled last fall's White Conference on Aging. He reminded the elderly in his audience of how the Administration had tried unsuccessfully to make the conference into a political circus. He pointed out the Administration had opposed legislation which would have established a senior citizens corps, had opposed a proposal to offer mid-career services for unemployed 45 and older, had opposed a continuation of a housing program for older Americans, and had opposed a research on aging act.

The 47-year-old chairman of the Senate Special Committee on Aging also charged Nixon had totally ignored White House Conference recommendation for a "reorganized and revitalized Federal Agency on aging."

Church concluded with a pitch for the elderly to support the Democratic nominee this fall and help that nominee tell the story of "the Nixon Administration's consistent failure to attend to the legitimate needs of the elderly in America."

Economics

Recessions used to terrify poor people. No job meant no money and no money meant no bacon or beans or shoes for the baby.

Poor people now have a government cushion to fall on. Now when there's a recession, the people who have most are most likely to panic.

They're spoiled, of course. With affluence they've lost their resiliency. You look at a fat man you'd think he'd bounce — but he doesn't very well.

Our country has just suffered another "recession." Our country has seen and somehow survived 26 full-fledged recessions since 1854. Only two were of catastrophic proportions.

And chartists will be reassured by the reminder that — with only two exceptions — in every election year the stock market has been higher at the year's end than at its beginning. Let's look at the business barometers which usually foretell tomorrow's weather: Machine tool orders last month were up 15 percent from the month previous, up 52 percent from the year-ago rate. New cars are selling at a rate 15.6 percent greater than last year.

Industrial output is growing at an annual rate of 4 percent; At the beginning of this year, American industry was operating at 75 per cent of capacity. The now indicated prognosis is that by the end of this year 87 percent of all our industrial machinery will be in use. Confidence has returned to the marketplace. Government economists predict that our nation's total output of goods and services the second half of this year will increase a whopping 7 to 7½ percent. Life insurance sales are running 18 percent ahead of a year ago.

Employment is at an all-time record high with 81½ million American workers working and employment increasing by 6,600 every day.

This is no small miracle. From no previous recession have we re-absorbed the unemployed so promptly — and despite the deflationary pressures of a winding-down war.

The computer industry suffered severely from the recession of 1970-71. Since August of 1971, computer orders have increased and Burroughs Corp. expects that industry to resume its normal 15 percent growth rate by this time next year.

When new homes are being built, many related industries prosper and new homes are being built at a rate of 35 percent up from the recent recession low.

So more Americans are right now making more dollars than ever before — about 11 percent more than at the bottom of the slump. Even allowing for cheaper dollars — everybody (with the possible exception of fixed-income retirees) is better off.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

About Angina

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What medication or treatment at age 60 is suggested, if any, for an occasional strong angina pain where an ECG doesn't indicate a problem? I have heard of taking nitroglycerine tablet in such cases. — F.L.

It is not unusual for patients with angina pectoris to have attacks of such chest pain even though an ECG (electrocardiogram) shows no abnormality when the patient is at rest. Sometimes, in these same patients, the ECG reveals abnormalities after a bit of exercise.

If a nitroglycerine tablet relieves the pain, it is pretty strong evidence that the pain is indeed angina, and not chest pain from some other cause.

Nitro tablets are what doctors call "the medication of choice" for angina. When pain occurs, a tablet slipped under the tongue brings very rapid relief. Indeed, if a patient knows himself well enough so he can tell what degree of activity is likely to provoke an attack, the nitro tablet can be taken BEFORE the pain starts, and may in fact prevent it.

However, such patients should remember that some degree of exercise should be taken regularly — not too much exercise, but whatever amount is possible just short of causing pain. Walking is the best type of exercise for this.

To return to medications, so-called long-acting nitrates also may be tried with angina patients. If they work better, that's fine. In other instances propranolol (Inderal) may be used.

Reminder: don't purchase too many nitroglycerine tablets at one time. They deteriorate rather easily.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Enclosed is 25 cents and an envelope for your booklet, "How To Take Care of Your Heart." What foods should a person avoid when he has high cholesterol? — Mrs. H.B.

In general, avoid saturated fats — those that are solid at room temperature. For a detailed explanation, what you want is my booklet, "Control Cholesterol Sensibly." Available by mail for 25 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: In the service my husband developed a loss of wrist control. He couldn't raise his hand from the wrist. He took physical therapy treatments, lifting very small weights. The condition has recurred on occasion.

The doctor referred to it as "wrist rot." Can you enlighten us on this disorder? — D.H.

I suspect that what the doctor said was "wrist drop." This is usually due to a neuritis of nerves to the hand.

It can be due to metal poisoning, i.e., arsenic, lead or mercury. Alcohol sometimes is a factor. Or injury somewhere along the course of the nerve.

Another possibility is a focal infection, particularly abscessed teeth, so any such infection should be sought out and treated.

Treatment of infection plus continued physiotherapy should relieve the trouble.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

It Is Interesting

For history buffs, there's a new reference book available. Well, really it isn't new because it was last published in 1918. It's new in the light of a new issue put out by the Shorey Book Store of Seattle.

The book is Idaho: Chronology, Nomenclature and Bibliography. It was originally published by the W.B. Conkey Co. of Chicago and was — and is — written by John E. Rees. The edition printed in facsimile by the Seattle firm has been limited to 100 copies. We got one of them and if you want one you had better make it snappy.

The reference is divided into several sections including Idaho Chronology, the Northwest Coast, Oregon Territory, Washington Territory, Idaho Territory, Idaho Nomenclature and Idaho Bibliography. The particular book to which we have referred is available for $5, as we remember it.

However, this concern has available facsimile copies of many old interesting books good for reference or just plain reading. You can get a list of these publications and the cost of each by writing Shorey Book Store, 815 Third Avenue, Seattle, Washington, 98104. Ask for Shorey's Catalog of publication Number 3. There is no charge.

South Viets smash into Red ring

SAIGON (UPI)—South Vietnamese marines supported by pinpoint naval gunfire and heavy U. S. bombing raids today smashed through North Vietnamese troops who had surrounded them for two days on the northern rim of Quang Tri City and edged deeper inside the Communist-held provincial capital.

Military sources said intense naval and air support helped the 800 marines battle through the Communist ring and that U. S. Army helicopters for the first time since Tuesday managed to land at the marine field headquarters a mile northeast of Quang Tri with supplies and reinforcements.

Casualties included one American and about 40 soldiers wounded in the fighting and the chief of staff of the paratroop division, Col. Nguyen Trong Ban, was killed when Communist gunners shot down his helicopter as he was surveying the action, sources said. American officials considered Bao one of the more able infantry officers in the South Vietnamese Army.

The breakthrough will enable the marines to set up a blocking force next to the Quang Tri Citadel, a stone walled fortress that occupies the city's northeastern section where large numbers of Communists are believed dug in and well fortified, spokesmen said.

The U. S. command said fire from the big guns of one light cruiser and three destroyers off the coast of Quang Tri, 435 miles north of Saigon, cleared the way for today's marine breakthrough. The Saigon command said the marines killed 67 Communists and U. S. naval and air attacks killed 48 others.

Further to the south at Hue, 14 Communist artillery shells today killed at least two civilians and wounded 16 others. Nine of the big shells hit the walled citadel and five landed beside the American civilian compound, sources said.

In the air war over the North, the U. S. command today said 270 jet fighter-bomber strikes Thursday ranged from just above the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ), separating the two Vietnams to within 50 miles of the Chinese border. Navy pilots using television-guided bombs said they "leveled" three coastal defense sites near Vinh, a port city 140 miles north of the DMZ, and on two nearby islands halfway between Hanoi and the DMZ. Air Force pilots reported knocking out four bridges just above the demarkation line.

Harry Truman listed 'good'

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Former President Harry S. Truman was listed in "good" condition today in Research Hospital, indicating improvement in his bout with a colon irritation.

Truman, 88, was admitted July 2 for tests and treatment for what his personal physician, Dr. Wallace Graham, described as a "gastrointestinal problem."

Graham said Thursday x-rays showed "no significant" change in the condition since his hospitalization in February, 1971. Both were the result of the same ailment.

New job set for Connally

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI)—President Nixon prepared to welcome his favorite Democrat, John B. Connally, home from a round-the-world mission today and give him a "very important" new government job.

The President disclosed in his last news conference two weeks ago that he had another job in mind for the former treasury secretary and Texas governor, who returned Tuesday from a 35-day tour that took him to 15 nations for conferences with foreign leaders.

The President did not immediately disclose details of the new assignment, but it probably will be a job that will keep Connally in the public eye. He was the only Democrat in the cabinet until his resignation last May and is highly regarded by the President for his persuasive powers.

Nixon apparently foresees a role for Connally in the upcoming political campaign. He is considered by some to be a possible vice presidential running mate, speculation that Connally and Republican figures say is unrealistic.

Connally left on his tour of Latin America, Asia and Europe on June 6 as a special presidential envoy to explain details of Nixon's Moscow and Peking summits to foreign

Idaho delegation meets dawn on beaches

BEST FOOD IN TOWN
RUSSET INN
360 Main Ave. N.
TWIN FALLS

By DWIGHT JENSEN
Special to the Times-News
MIAMI BEACH — While most of the nation slept, the Idaho delegation listened to the rousing climax of the National Convention.

Then as dawn approached, went out to meet it on the beaches of the Atlantic.

The convention adjourned at about half past three this morning, Miami time. The last events on the agenda were back-to-back speeches by Thomas Eagleton, Edward Kennedy and George McGovern.

They brought the convention to its feet time and again as they pledged unity and victory by the Democrats.

But outside convention hall itself most people were asleep, undisturbed by their stirring words.

That becomes the irony of what may be the most libertarian, most egalitarian national convention ever held by a major political party.

Sen. Frank Church said he thought it was a shame that most Americans missed out on the unifying speeches of Kennedy and McGovern and spent the prime time hours on television watching such nonsense as six Colorado delegates voting for Mao Tse Tung as vice president.

Church had to talk one Idaho delegate out of voting for him for vice president. In spite of that, a Minnesota man did cast his vote for the Idaho Senator.

The convention leaders had planned to have the TV viewers watch the nominee's acceptance speech. They had forgotten just how free and independent this year's delegates could be.

First the delegates went into a long wrangle over the question of further party reform. Many of them had been elected because of party reform and thought there might as well be more of the same, but some of the older hands and some new ones objected to the proposed new charter and it took a long bitter squabble to get past that item on the agenda.

Then they fought over the vice presidential nomination. They had been told by the McGovern organizers that they could nominate any presidential candidate they chose — that they did not have to obey party leaders.

Now many of the delegates could see no reason to obey the new party leader, McGovern himself, in picking a vice presidential candidate, so they nominated seven other people and cast votes for even more than that.

Finally in the wee hours, came the climax. Eagleton, dedicating his speech to his dead father, said it is his intention to lift the status of the vice presidency, making it a job that appeals to the highest, not the basest instincts of man, a position whose occupant feels free to speak his mind to the president and not hurl invective at his enemy.

Sen. Edward Kennedy listed the accomplishment of the Democrats, saying they had promoted self determination, fought for the common man, brought out the best in America, worked for civil rights and emerged triumphant. "And so will George McGovern," Kennedy declaimed after citing each accomplishment.

Then came McGovern himself, exuding more charisma than many thought he had. He went at the job of unifying his own party. He paraded by name each of his opponents. He commended the courage of George Wallace. He made special appeals to labor and to the farmer. He promised to end the war and bring the prisoners home.

He said his administration will put the nation back to work, first finding jobs for all who can work, and then providing relief for those unable to work. He pledged to maintain sound defenses and never let the United States become a second rate military power, but he said we must also stop wasting money on weapons we do not need.

Next year, McGovern promised, "We won't have Richard Nixon to kick around any more."

It may have been McGovern's best speech yet, but except for the happy people in convention hall, America was asleep.

When the Idaho delegation got back to their hotel about 4 a.m. most of them put on their swim suits and headed for the beach. Some of them went to the several private parties.

As the sun rose over the beach, people were breakfasting on such things as pickles, potato salad, spare ribs and meat balls. The motto became, "I could have danced all night if I had started sooner."

But the convention ended as it had begun with the anti-McGovern people saying his nomination was a mistake and that he cannot win in November.

The Prado, Art Treasures of Spain
You don't have to be an art buff to love this tour of Madrid's Museo del Prado. The production concentrates on the Spanish masters, reviewing works by El Greco, Goya,
and Velazquez, the great portraitist who presented his subjects, from kings to dwarfs, with dignity and realism. The works of Flemish and Italian masters also are examined.

Yippies burn picture

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Protesting Yippies burned a photograph of former President Lyndon B. Johnson outside the Democratic Convention Thursday night and vowed to come back in August "to burn the Republicans."

The number of demonstrators involved in the final march of the week to the convention hall was much smaller than on previous nights. When darkness came Thursday, the ragged encampment was cut to about one-third of the size it had been at its peak early in the week. All day, campers bearing packs on their backs left Flamingo Park for points all over North America.

But almost all said they intend to return for what they hope will be a much larger demonstration when the Republican convention is held here beginning Aug. 21.

Using lighter fluid as a symbol for napalm, a group of about 150 Yippies burned a 10-foot-tall portrait of "Johnson saying they wanted to remind George McGovern that Johnson also had run for president as a peace candidate in 1964.

"We wish McGovern and his running mate — what's his name, Thomas Eagleton — whoever the hell he is — luck in defeating Nixon. Let's hope he doesn't turn into another LBJ," a Yippie leader said as the picture burned.

"This is what the United States does to actual human flesh," shouted another protester as he threw the portrait over a fence surrounding the convention hall.

"Remember one thing! We're gonna be back in August to burn the Republicans."

Democrats invited to join Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon's campaign director, beginning the campaign to turn back the challenge of Sen. George S. McGovern, has invited disaffected Democrats to join the Nixon camp.

Clark M. MacGregor issued the invitation Thursday to "those Democrats who have been kicked out of their party because they were too temperate, too moderate, too tolerant."

"Join us in supporting the reelection of a man who truly represents the vast majority of Americans," MacGregor said. "Join us now — as independent thinking, responsible Democrats, as political neutrals or as new Republicans — join us now in re-electing Richard Nixon for the good of our nation and all mankind."

MacGregor charged that McGovern won the nomination with "new elitists" who used the same intolerant tactics of some radical youths. He said the McGovern "forces showed during the convention that they could 'act just as cynically and ruthlessly as have any of the so-called 'political bosses' whom they denounce."

Reports good news

SEN. THOMAS EAGLETON of Missouri, who was selected by McGovern as his running mate, stands by his wife, Barbara Ann, while she joyfully telephones home to give the good news (UPI)

Eagleton's fun times now over

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Up to 3:40 p.m. Thursday, Tom Eagleton was a happy-go-lucky delegate to the Democratic National Convention. Today he is the convention's nominee for vice president and the fun times seem to be over.

"You're kidding," the 42-year-old freshman senator from Missouri replied when Sen. George McGovern called his hotel room to say he wanted Tom to take second place on the party's presidential ticket. "I'm dead serious," McGovern replied.

"Let me hasten to say yes," Eagleton said, "before you change your mind."

Eagleton's high school year book pictured him as a good hitter, fine fielder, but slow runner. That may have described Tom on the diamond but in politics it proved only two-thirds right. He has been running and winning since age 26, after graduating cum laude from Harvard Law School and briefly practicing law.

He was elected St. Louis circuit attorney, state attorney general, lieutenant governor, and in 1968 United States senator. He is known in the Senate as a hard worker, articulate and witty speaker, and a staunch supporter of liberal causes and an immediate end to the Vietnam War.

McGovern staffers and outside advisers, including actress Shirley MacLaine, started the first of a series of huddles at 9 a.m. with a list of 24 names. By 11:30 or so, with McGovern himself in and out of the talks, the list had been pared to 11. The eliminations went on into early afternoon.

Too old. Not acceptable to local officials. Not in ideological tune with McGovern.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Prices moved narrowly higher Friday in moderate trading on the New York Stock Exchange as investors found some encouragement in earnings reports.

The Dow Jones industrial average was up 5.35 at 922.34 shortly before 1:15 p.m. Standard & Poor's 500-stock index was up 0.52 at 106.80.

Advances overtook declines, 680 to 540, among the 1,615 issues crossing the tape. The three-hour turnover totaled 8,980,000 shares, compared with 8,770,000 traded during the corresponding period Thursday.

After a mixed opening, the market turned slightly upward as earnings reports of some major companies were released. They were generally higher.

Bracoff was the most active issue, off 1/4 at 14% on 322,500 shares. Pan American World Airways was second, off 1/4 at 14% on 318,600 shares, including a block of 294,900 shares at 14 1/2, off 1/2.

Curtiss-Wright, delayed in opening, was third, up 1/4 at 42% on 228,600 shares. The issue has fluctuated wildly in recent sessions on comments about the Wankel rotary engine, for which Curtiss-Wright holds North American rights.

Glamors, electronics and computers made some solid advances. Chemicals moved irregularly. Steels, motors, oils, rails and aircrafts were mixed.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q—According to most of the published lists of favorite institutional holdings, blue chips predominate. Anyone can pick that kind of stock to hold 10 or 20 years. Why aren't the lesser known companies more widely held by the mutual funds? — R.R.

A—Small companies usually lack the liquidity necessary for any sizable holdings by institutions. Most institutional portfolios contain a good number of junior growth issues as well as a sprinkling of unseasoned stocks.

However, stock of a given small company is generally not found in more than a handful of professional portfolios. A large company with a huge floating supply of stock can absorb the type of transaction made by an institution with a barely noticeable effect on trading price.

Last year the average mutual fund purchase ran to about 4,000 shares. There were on average 42 large blocks (20,000 or more shares) transactions daily during June of this year.

The 17 million shares of General Electric, which are held in 700 bank, mutual fund, insurance and pension fund portfolios, represent only 9 per cent of the company's outstanding common shares. Thus, the professional portfolio manager can move in and out of a position in GE without significantly affecting the stock's trading pattern.

In a smaller company, on the other hand, with a total capitalization of, say, 7 or 8 million shares, trading can be disrupted by large transactions. This is particularly true when several institutions simultaneously move out of a position on some unexpected bearish news.

Since none of the managers wish to be "caught holding the bag" share price will at times drop spectacularly. Trading in Levitz Furniture stock is a prime example of this type of market reaction.

Of the 17 million shares outstanding, 34 per cent are family owned, leaving a float of 11.3 million shares. Another 4 million shares — 24 per cent of the outstanding stock — were institutionally held in the first quarter.

After a series of problems, sales by professional managers pushed shares down 25 points in less than three weeks.

Q—I am 22 years of age and like to venture in the stock market. I would like to buy A.J. Industries (NYSE) for speculation. Would you kindly give me your opinion on this stock? — G.K.

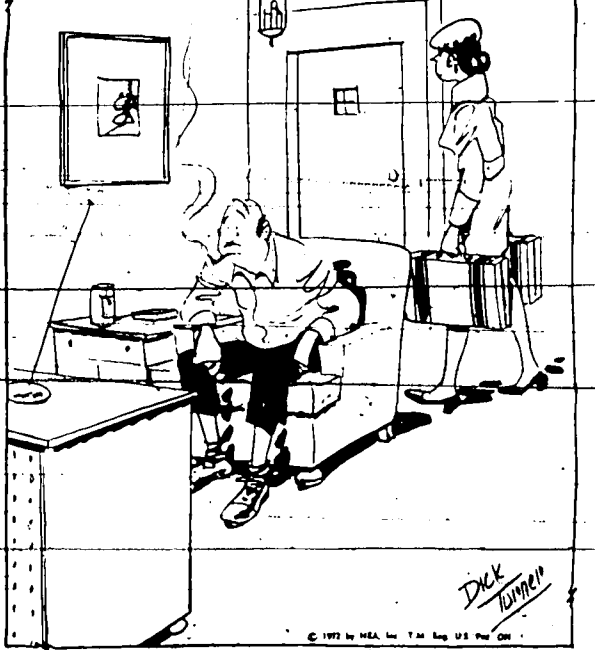

A—Following two consecutive deficit years, A.J. Industries turned in a profit for the fiscal year ended March. This diversified manufacturer posted operating net of $1.9 million, or 34 cents a share, a marked improvement over the prior year's $305,000 loss.

A.J. has completed its reorganization program, reducing subsidiaries and divisions to 16 from 24 in 1971. Along with this realignment, moreover, the company's financial condition improved.

As of April, 1971, total indebtedness was $18 million; at the beginning of this year, however, it was down to $12 million.

Also, the firm recently announced completion of an $8

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—All the factors, "fundamental, seasonal and psychological," point to a summer rally, Wright Investors Service says. The firm notes that every year the stock market experiences at least one decline or rally opposite the established trend. This year's spring decline reflected this condition, Wright says. Wright continues to advise a well diversified, "fully invested position in high quality cyclical growth stocks with superior prospects for substantial quarterly earnings gain during the next 6-18 months."

The market "is near to or close to an oversold position," Harris, Upham & Co. holds. This status will set the stage for a significant summer rally, the firm contends, and some good "peace news" will make the market surge. One significant factor, the firm says, is the odd lot figures which are close to a monthly low and may be good news for the market.

Temple bells

TOKYO (UPI)—In medieval Japan, time was measured by ringing temple bells six times at even intervals between dawn and sunset. Since day-light is longer in summer than in winter, the six time units varied in length around the year.

MV women invited to see '72 styles

TWIN FALLS — Magic Valley women are invited to view the entire fall collection of Lilli Ann costumes and coats. Ed Soren, Lilli Ann's design authority, is at the Paris, Twin Falls, through Saturday to give personal consultation and individual attention to Magic Valley women.

Among the collection are French mohair coats, French mohair combined with elegant natural Norwegian foxes, border coats, those trimmed with fox collars and the famous belted wrap clutch coat trimmed with natural Norwegian fox.

also shown for the new season, some trimmed with Spanish Lamb. Also featured are a group of pant ensembles as well as dress coat ensembles. Incorporated in the '72 Lilli Ann collection are high fashions for the larger women.

Soren said his company is showing what the customer wants to buy and wear not what a designer says she will wear. An unusual feature of Lilli Ann, the fashion coordinators travel the country listening to customers about their likes and dislikes, endeavoring to create fashions to enhance a woman's charm.

Try iced tea — the cloudless way

NEW YORK, N. Y. — Iced tea was "invented" back in 1904 at the St. Louis World's Fair during a heat wave.

The story is that a tea merchant who was promoting teas from the Far East found that no one wanted his samples of steaming hot tea. So he experimented and poured a strong brew of tea over ice. The new cooler was an instant success and the amber-clear beverage has been refreshing the hot and thirsty ever since.

Now there's a new way to make this popular refresher. In this method you don't even have to boil water. You simply fill a quart container with cold tap water, drop in 8 to 10 teabags, cover and let stand at room temperature or in the refrigerator. When you take the teabags out after six hours or more you have a pitcher of fine flavored, crystal clear tea which will never cloud.

You can make a pitcherful in the morning and have it ready for afternoon sipping. If you're expecting company, serve it with fresh strawberries and a mock Devonshire cream for dipping purposes.

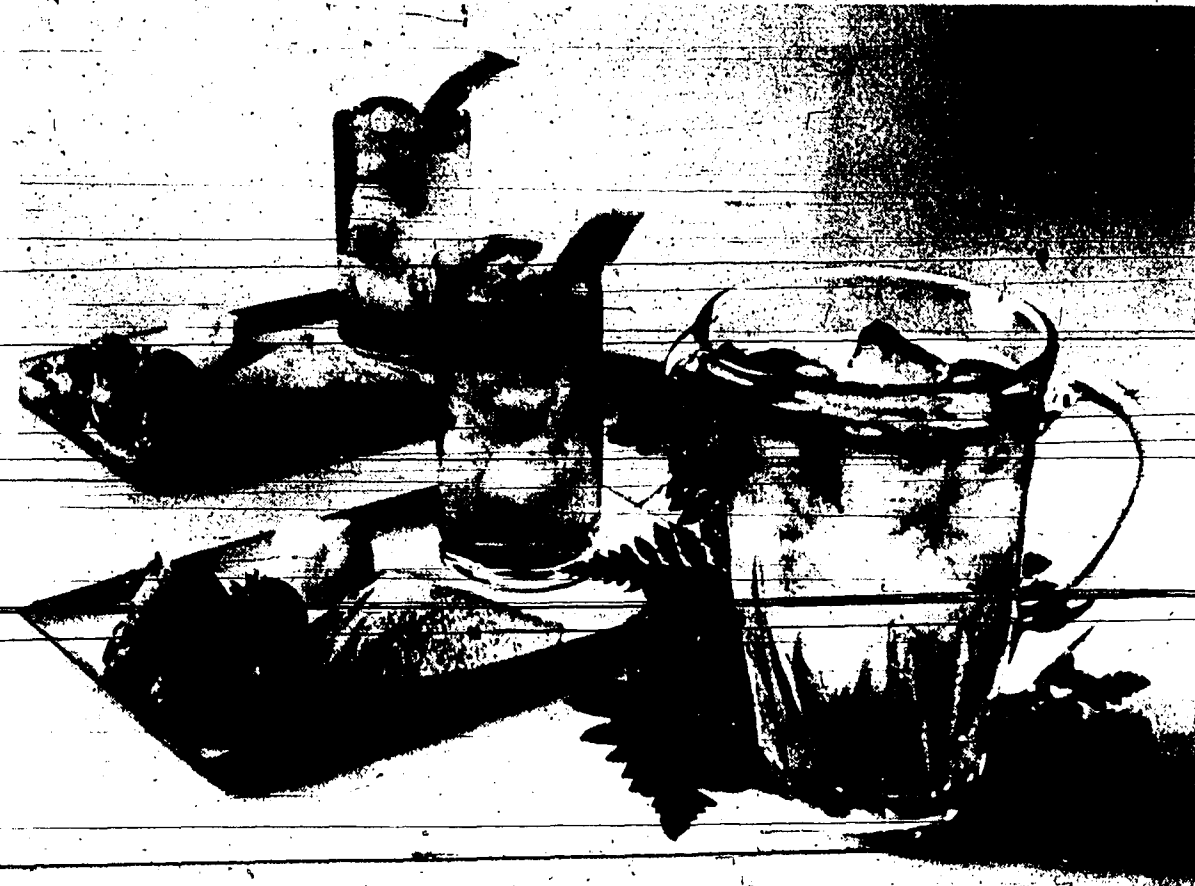

COLD WATER METHOD FOR CLOUDLESS ICED TEA

No. 1. Fill a quart pitcher or container with cold tap water.
No. 2. Add 8 to 10 teabags (remove tags).
No. 3. Cover with lid or aluminum foil.
No. 4. Let stand at room temperature or in the refrigerator.

No. 5. After at least six hours (or overnight) remove teabags, pressing against side of container. Stir.
No. 6. When ready to serve, pour into ice filled glasses. Makes five to six servings.

STRAWBERRIES DEVONSHIRE (Makes 8 servings)

1 3-oz. package cream cheese softened
1 tablespoon granulated sugar
Dash of salt
1 cup heavy cream
1 quart fresh strawberries, washed, not hulled
Melba toast
Mash cream cheese with sugar and salt; stir in cream. With electric beater, whip until stiff. Serve with fresh strawberries and Melba toast. Use packaged Melba toast or make your own by using day-old very thin bread. Remove crusts and cut diagonally or in triangles. Bake in 325 degrees oven until golden, about 15 minutes.

PAUL — The American Association of University Women will hold a lawn coffee hour at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Seth Corless, Paul.

Invitations have been mailed for the coffee hour. Former members who are interested in renewing their membership are also invited. Non members are also invited.

Mrs. Larry Brash, president, reminded members that dues must be sent to headquarters by the end of July. All dues are to be brought to date at the coffee hour.

Guest speaker will be Fatima Ferreira, foreign exchange student with the Youth for Understanding, from Brazil.

Mrs. Corless' home is located 950 west 500 North of Paul.

Reservations for the coffee hour are to be made by July 15 with Mrs. Brash, 436-9351.

Elmore County 4-H camp set

GLENN'S FERRY — The 4-Hers from all parts of Elmore County will leave for the Central Idaho 4-H Camp on Monday.

The bus will load at the courthouse in Mountain Home at 8:30 a.m. Those from King Hill, Glenn's Ferry and Hammett will meet at the Glenn's Ferry Park.

at the west edge of town at 9:30 a.m. and the bus will leave as soon as loaded.

Each 4-H'er is to bring a sack lunch including pork which will be eaten at the Shoshone Park. The group will leave Friday between 9:30 and 10 a.m. and arrive in Glenn's Ferry between 1-2 p.m.

A carnival, talent show, square dancing and treasure hunt are among the evening programs planned. Last minute reservations for camp are still being accepted, according to Mrs. Marilyn Jordan, Elmore County home extension agent.

There of the camp will be "The Mountaineers." Camp will be one day longer so the basic camp price will be increased to $18.50.

Optional activities for the afternoons will be provided. The group may swim at Easley Hot Springs or at Baldy Mountain pool in Ketchum, go ice skating at the Sun Valley rink or horseback riding from the Sun Valley stables.

Elmore and Gooding counties camp together. Anyone who is enrolled in 4-H is eligible to attend. If anyone has not received a form for registration, check with the extension office in the courthouse.

Campers will be divided into six groups: prospectors, explorers, lumberjacks, hunters, trail blazers and traders.

For the first time riding instruction will be given at camp, also lessons in archery and square dancing "Nature, do you Dig It" and crafts.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: In response to "FORMER READER" and all others who insist that what they do with their bodies is "their own business":

Yes, it's your business, provided no one else ever has to pay financially, emotionally or otherwise for your rashness. So long as your parents are footing your bills, your body is "their business," foul it up, and they must pay to straighten it—and YOU—out.

Even after you sever parental apron strings, if you foul up your body with alcohol or drugs, or some other damned foolishness, and someone else (the public, your spouse or your children) has to pay in money, hardship, or mental anguish, your body is not entirely your own business.

I am fed up with paying taxes to support wives and children of alcoholics and drug addicts, and I'm tired of paying for public-sponsored medical and psychiatric treatment for people who have chosen to wreck their lives. I am fed up with paying high insurance rates because of drivers who are addicted to alcohol or dope, and with supporting enormous police forces to combat crimes resulting from such addiction.

The only person whose body is absolutely his (or her) own to treat foolishly is one who is self-supporting, has no relatives, no friends, no dependents and is completely exiled from civilization.

AN OLD SQUARE IN CINCINNATI

DEAR "SQUARE": I'm in all four of your corners.

DEAR ABBY: I suppose to some my problem may seem funny, but to me it's no joke.

I've been dating this terrific guy for a few weeks now and we get along just great. He takes me to the best places, and he's a perfect gentleman, but the problem is this: He can't kiss. He really turns me on and I'd love to kiss the guy, but he's such an amateur!

I just don't know what to do. He has to be the worst kisser I've ever come across in my entire life. After a date, I dread going home because I know I will have to kiss him. It's getting pretty sickening.

I would normally tell any other fellow with this problem how I felt about it, but he is the nicest guy I've ever dated and I don't want to hurt him. Don't tell me he will improve with time because my stomach isn't that strong. Please hurry your answer. YICH

DEAR YICH: You MUST tell him. From your description of the guy, he's too good to kiss off because his kisses are from hunger when you're hungry for kisses.

DEAR ABBY: I have news for VILLANOVA G. P. A. Relationship, either by blood or marriage (or the absence of it) has absolutely nothing to do with dependency for tax purposes.

Any C. P. A. knows that one can claim a deduction for the first stranger that comes down the street if he can prove that he provides more than 50 per cent of that person's support and he occupies his household.

You were right the first time, Abby. If you don't have a legal spouse, you don't have in-laws.

VILLANOVA LAWYER

DEAR VILLA: Thanks, friend. I needed that.

DEAR ABBY: About that wife who wanted to nominate her husband for sainthood because he had caught her in the act THREE times with the same man, and he forgave her every time: That guy not only qualifies for SAINTHOOD, he's a candidate for MARTYRDOM! NO SAINT EITHER

A Lovelier You

DON'T COUNT SHEEP, SLEEP!

By Mary Sue Miller

How much sleep do you need? For adults it's an individual matter. Some people thrive on six hours or less, while others need ten.

What is the best time to retire? Your personal choice and life style dictate the hour. You may prefer to get to bed early and get up early, or the other way around. The hours are immaterial as long as you get the amount and kind of sleep that rests you and makes you happy.

The first requisite of a good rest is comfortable sleeping arrangements, such as a firm mattress (have you tried a water bed?). Pillows that pamper your head and neck are without which notes Likewise, fresh linens, a tidy room, and a airy atmosphere. An eyeshade and earplugs are recommended when you are sensitive to light and noise.

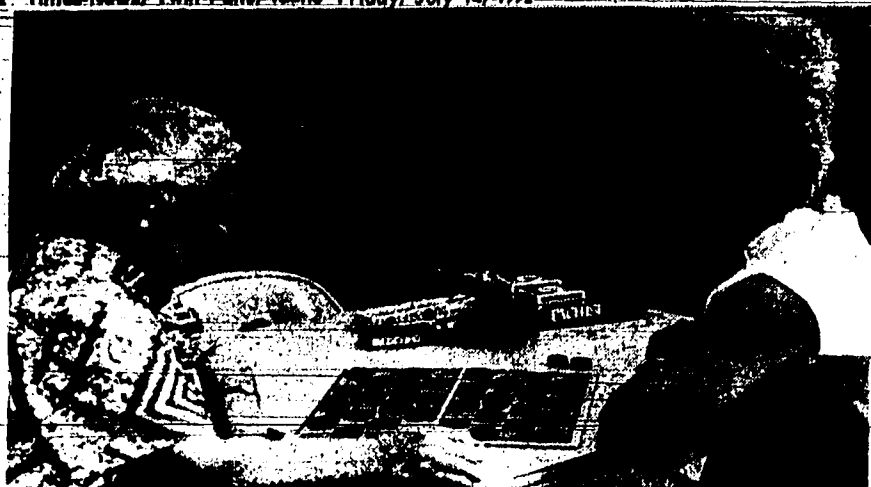

Most important is a relaxed approach. Counting sheep won't force sleep. It will not come unless you unwind and let your tensions go. On hot nights it is especially tranquilizing to devote a leisurely half-hour bedding down; to take a tepid shower, tend face and hair, slip into a fresh nightdress, spray yourself and room with a refreshing fragrance and sip a glass of chilled fruit juice.

Once in bed, concentrate on relaxing your muscles. Let every one go slack, starting with the toes. Then lightly massage your temples and forehead. As the body goes limp, the mind does, too. And off to sleep you go.

Officials say a record player is needed. Construction of the office area at the center continues and is expected to be complete this week.

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI)—President Nixon Thursday instructed his national security adviser, Henry A. Kissinger, to arrange complete intelligence briefings for Democratic presidential nominee George S. McGovern.

White House press spokesman Ronald Ziegler said Kissinger would meet with McGovern after the presidential party returns to Washington next week to "bring him abreast of the negotiations we have underway and arrange for a process of continuing intelligence briefings."

He indicated that after the initial meeting with Kissinger, CIA Director Richard Helms probably would take over the briefing responsibility.

Ziegler said the President had ordered that his rival for the presidency "be kept fully abreast" of all foreign policy and defense developments.

Ziegler said the President has and will continue to follow the developments in Miami through the newspapers and by watching television. He and Mrs. Nixon watched the balloting from their home Wednesday night and planned another quiet evening watching McGovern's acceptance speech.

But he said the President would have no specific comment on political proceedings among the Democrats until after the Republican convention in late August.

It is traditional for ranking government officials to brief opposition presidential candidates regularly on sensitive foreign policy matters if they so desire. One of the main subjects Kissinger will discuss with McGovern is the Vietnam peace negotiations which open Thursday in Paris.

Ziegler said preliminary cables on the proceedings which had reached the Western White House by midday Thursday showed "nothing dramatically new" in the initial session.

But he added that the United States, which broke off the sessions May 4 as a result of North Vietnam's massive offensive in South Vietnam and vowed not to resume them until Hanoi showed a constructive attitude, would be back at the sessions next Thursday. "We are entering these talks in a constructive attitude," Ziegler said. "We're interested in serious negotiations."

Vatican bans group absolution

VATICAN CITY (UPI) The Vatican Thursday banned group absolution of sins except under extraordinary circumstances and ruled Roman Catholics must continue to confess transgressions in private with a priest.

Vatican sources said a new document on the subject reflects official concern that Catholics are becoming increasingly more reluctant to recite their wrongdoings privately to a priest.

The document condemned the "recent custom" of giving group absolutions, which church officials said has taken root particularly in North America and some European countries.

It called instead for a complete return to the teachings of the 11th century Council of Trent that Catholics must confess mortal or grave sins to a priest in private, receive absolution and do some penance.

According to the Roman Catholic church, a mortal sin is one which separates a person from God and which causes death of the soul unless absolved.

The Vatican did, however, confirm a wartime ruling of March 1944, that priests can give a collective absolution to persons in imminent danger of death.

In both these cases, the document said, Catholics who receive a general absolution are "strictly obliged" to make a private confession within a year unless this is absolutely impossible. And they cannot receive a collective absolution for a second time unless they have privately confessed.

The Vatican instruction said priests may not give a general absolution "merely because of a great concourse of penitents such as can for example occur on a great feast of pilgrimage." In such cases it is the duty of the bishops to see that enough priests are available to hear private confessions, it said.

The Vatican also said priests should dedicate themselves to confessing rather than involving themselves in affairs which can be performed by deacons or laymen.

TF warehouse destroyed

TWIN FALLS — The warehouse of the Gem Equipment Co. southeast of Twin Falls was destroyed by fire Thursday afternoon.

Supply damages in the blaze, which broke out shortly after 2 p.m. have been set at $50,000 by a company spokesman. Fred Wanzenried, manager and partner in the business, said damage to the warehouse structure might double the total loss in the fire. There were no injuries reported.

Wanzenried said today the fire apparently started in a nearby shed and quickly spread to the warehouse. Employees of the company, who were on an afternoon coffee break when the fire began, exhausted their fighting equipment in attempting to control the blaze. Firemen from several rural communities, including Kimberly, Filer and the nearby Labor Center, responded to the alarm, joined briefly by a Twin Falls City fire unit.

James M. Rathbun, spokesman at the Labor Camp, was first to arrive at the scene, receiving an alarm shortly after 2:30. He said it was 15 to 20 minutes before the first fire fighting apparatus arrived.

The Twin Falls sheriff's log shows the fire being reported at 3:00 p.m. Five cars were dispatched to the scene.

Twin Falls City assistant fire chief Francis Horejs said today his office received a call at 3:35, approximately an hour after the initial report of the fire, and responded with one truck.

The city unit arrived at the scene, laid a line of hose, and returned to the station in 20 minutes, the official said.

Legally barred by city ordinance from actively fighting the fire, the men acted on what the assistant chief termed his "arbitrary decision" to assist with the hose line.

Horejs said a city ordinance restricts the city fire personnel to fighting fire within the city limits although they may take action if there is potential damage to property within the city limits involved. He said he made his decision to lend equipment, because it did not weaken the department's ability to respond to a blaze inside the city limits, had one occurred.

Fire Chief Bobby Bopp said this morning he had sent the truck and Horejs to the scene as a precautionary measure. He discounted earlier reports of a "jurisdictional dispute" between city and rural fire units. "There's no jurisdictional dispute as far as we're concerned," he said.

Wanzenried today applauded the efforts of the men at the scene, but also said he wished "something could be worked out" to allow the city's men to work more actively in the county. "I have mixed emotions about the way things are set up," he said.

The partner in the business said losses were covered by insurance.

He said it is impossible to estimate the total damage in the fire since the extent of the damage to the warehouse building is now known. Some of the contents of the warehouse were salvaged, he said.

He said the gusty winds which prevailed at the time of the fire probably caused it to spread from the shack where it broke

Truck rolls

THIS PICKUP truck rolled Thursday evening in an accident near Red Cap Corner. The Driver, Mrs. Opal L. Phillips, 53, Twin Falls, was treated for minor injuries. Mrs. Phillips, traveling east, attempted to change from the inside to the outside lane, when a driver behind her sounded his vehicle's horn. The truck swerved, crossed the median strip and landed in the west-bound traffic lane. (Photo by Earl E. Etter)

Burley girl injured

BURLEY — An 11-year-old Burley girl is listed in very serious condition today with multiple injuries received in a bicycle-motorcycle accident Thursday.

Cassia County sheriff's officers said Darlene Graves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Graves, Burley, was injured at 8:41 p.m. Thursday when her bicycle collided with a motorcycle driven by Chris Williams, Burley.

Officers said the child and a friend were riding their bikes facing traffic at 250 East, 100 South. The motorcycle, approaching the girls from the front, pulled out to go around the girls.

The Graves girl apparently did not think the motorcycle was going to pull out and swerved to miss the cycle, going into the motorcycle's path.

The Graves girl and Williams were both taken to Cassia Memorial Hospital.

10,000 acres near Minidoka burned

SHOSHONE — A fire has burned 10,000 acres of federal range land 15 miles north of Minidoka, and high winds could cause it to spread even further. Michael Green, Shoshone Bureau of Land Management public information officer, said the fire started at 4:30 p.m. Thursday from an unknown cause. Although it is contained at this time, there is a 20-mile fire line.

Wind velocity at the Kimama Lookout Station is between 35 and 40 miles an hour, and is expected to increase throughout the afternoon, with an anticipated temperature of between 85 and 90 degrees, Green said.

Under these circumstances, he said, it's impossible to estimate when the fire might be declared under control.

There are 93 men on the fire at this time. Forty-four are from the Shoshone BLM, 14 from the Burley district, and 12 from the Idaho Falls district. There is also a 40-man shovel crew from Parma and one helicopter from the Boise Inter-Agency Fire Center.

Crackdown

KETCHUM — A crackdown on drug abuse continues in Ketchum with the third raid in a week conducted Thursday afternoon.

According to Ketchum Police Chief Dennis Haynes, warrants of arrest will be sought in connection with the raids.

Confiscated during the raids were numerous marijuana plants and drug paraphernalia from the interior of the Ketchum residence.

Triple X theater sold

EDEN — DeWayne Foust has sold his "Triple X" theater in Eden to Mrs. Wilma York, it was announced Thursday.

Mrs. York said the sale was finalized Monday. She said Foust sold the theater because he was tired of fighting the county and city about a beer license.

Wednesday night Mrs. York applied for a beer license at a meeting of the Eden City Council, but was told the council had been advised by city attorney F. A. Coleman she would have to get a county beer license first.

Mrs. York was formerly in partnership with Foust in operating the theater, which opened May 9. She said the theater had attempted to show family movies on Thursday nights, but no one showed up for them.

The establishment, which is located in the former Eden Theater, will continue to show X-rated movies Tuesday through Saturday, Mrs. York said, with family movies in Spanish set for Sundays.

Couple injured at Burley

BURLEY — A Vancouver, Wash. man and woman injured in a wreck Thursday are reported in good condition today at Cassia Memorial Hospital.

Idaho State Policeman Tommy Thompson said Mr. and Mrs. Jim Skeans were injured when their car collided with a truck on Interstate 80N 34 miles south of Burley.

The officer said a heavy truck driven by Marvin Curnes, 40, Portland, Ore., had been traveling in the emergency strip of the north-bound lane when it pulled across both lanes of traffic, attempting to enter the south-bound lane.

The truck collided broadside with the car which also was traveling in the north-bound lane.

In the sleeper of the truck was Jim Vining, 45, Portland, Ore. Neither trucker was injured. A combined total of $13,000 damage was estimated in the accident which occurred at 1:35 p.m.

Cassia appoints group to study ambulance plan

BURLEY — Cassia County Commissioners have appointed an advisory committee to study the Western Ambulance Co. operation.

Roger Porter, owner manager of the ambulance service, had requested $7,200 subsidy from the county commissioners.

John Clark, chairman of the commissioners, announced the commissioners have appointed Bill Kendall, Robert Saxvik, Robert Barton, William Book, Spencer Black, Mrs. Bona Fuqua, and Mrs. Marilyn Funk to the committee.

"The commissioners have also agreed to pay $800 per month for three months on a trial basis to see if the ambulance firm can get on its feet on a sound operational basis," announced Clark. "This would also give the advisory committee time to study, and make suggestions as to operation of the ambulance," Clark added.

The advisory committee will meet with the county commissioners at 8 p.m. July 18 at the courthouse.

The commissioners urge all residents who owe Western Ambulance a bill to pay their account.

Porter in his report to the commissioners stated he was operating at a loss for the past 18 months and if financial aid is not available from the county he would be forced to close his doors and that many of his accounts were uncollectable.

A contract is being drawn up by Gordon Nielson, county attorney, and will be signed by the commissioners and Porter as owner-manager of the Western Ambulance Co.

The advisory committee will advise the commissioners as well as Porter, according to Clark.

Cycle crash hurts 2

TWIN FALLS — A Twin Falls couple received minor injuries in a one motorcycle accident early this morning.

According to Twin Falls County sheriff's reports, Gus Roerick, 42 and his wife Geraldine, 38, were apparently driving on a county road north-west of Twin Falls when Roerick lost control of the cycle.

Both were thrown into the opposite traffic lane. Roerick and his wife were kept in Magic Valley Memorial Hospital for observation.

Citations are pending further investigation in the accident.

Jerome man seeks preliminary hearing

JEROME — Carl Dean Lambert, 20, Jerome, charged with leaving the scene of an accident which seriously injured a young Wendell girl remained in the county jail today.

He was arraigned in magistrate court here Thursday and requested a preliminary hearing and the services of the public defender.

Lambert is charged with striking Sherie Hobdey, 16,

Wendell, two miles west of Jerome on the Appleton Road. The young woman was riding a bicycle, officers said, and was struck by a vehicle which left the scene of the accident.

Miss Hobdey, who suffered the loss of one leg as a result of the accident, is listed in good condition in St. Benedict's Hospital, Jerome.

Judge Russell C. Shaud set bond at $300 and remanded Lambert to the custody of the sheriff in lieu of the bond.

Ketchum C of C mulls merger

KETCHUM — Merger of the Ketchum-Sun Valley Chamber of Commerce and the Visitor's Bureau is under consideration.

During a chamber meeting Thursday, member Ed Pilkerton said the move "would unify our efforts and possibly save time, effort and also dollars."

The main thrust of the merger would be funding of the Ketchum-Sun Valley transit system, which was operated last winter by the Visitor's Bureau.

Pilkerton said annual or biennial fund raising events will be scheduled to partially offset the cost of the system.

The year-old Visitor's Bureau was organized so that travel agents and airlines could sell ski packages at area accommodations for a minimum of one week. However, the requirement for the organization is that some form of transportation be supplied for the skier.

Pilkerton said two 19-passenger buses may be purchased. He said bus purchase cost, labor, and maintenance would total about $4,000 for each of the four months the system would be operated each year for the next three years.

Last year the Visitor's Bureau contracted for the system through a private firm. Cost for that system was $11,283 for the ski season, which was partially covered by fares totaling about $3,780.

Through a chamber-owned system, better routes could be offered and the system may be able to support itself, Pilkerton said.

Currently the Visitor's Bureau has about 25 members. The chamber has about 120 members. Other projects of the Visitor's Bureau include a central reservations switchboard and a visitor's directory.

Wendell sewage system overloaded

WENDELL — City engineer Jack Straubhaar told the Wendell City Council Thursday night that the present sewage system is overloaded organically and hydraulically.

He said it would cost $83,750 for a new system, meaning a sewage charge per user could jump from $3 to $5 a month minimum to pay for the new system.

This is not an exorbitant sewer charge, he said. Of total needed, $38,125 is available through an Environmental Protection Agency grant, and $19,500 can come from Idaho Health Department grants, Straubhaar said.

The city already has paid $7,500 for land for the system, leaving $18,625 as the city's share.

Straubhaar said in building a new system, part of the existing system could be used.

Alterations to the present lagoons would be necessary, Straubhaar said.

Straubhaar said plans for the new plant have approval of the state department of health and that the new system would provide Wendell with tertiary treatment.

Also meeting with the council was Hugh Hedges, who will be new city engineer. He discussed proposals for a new water system. The cost will be $26,300 for a 50,000-gallon water tank and a chlorinator, piping, excavation and other construction factors, he said.

The council plans to study the new proposal and meet with the engineers Monday.

Straubhaar said loans are available from the FHA and the Idaho Water Resource Board for the water system and that a bond election should be planned for the new sewer system.

In other council action, Meredith Sisson of the Wendell Park Board informed the council that his board had received a year's extension to complete the McGinnis Park and that an $8,000 increase had been granted from the Idaho Parks Board.

Nurses briefed

Hospital gets new equipment

TWIN FALLS — New type fire extinguisher equipment is in use at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital and members of the staff are learning to operate it.

In small groups, the nurses, dietitians, secretaries and housekeeping workers took brief breaks from their work duties Wednesday to receive training from Charles Hopkins, hospital engineer, in how to use fire fighting equipment.

Jim Rosenbaum, assistant administrator, said the hospital conducts periodic training sessions for all hospital workers at regular intervals. Hopkins said about once each three months a training session is held and annually the hospital, assisted by the Twin Falls Fire Department, practices a hospital evacuation plan maneuver.

Hopkins said the new type extinguishers are dry powder units, more suitable to control of electrical fires, the most common in buildings such as the hospital where all equipment, including new beds are electrically controlled.

The new extinguishers are known as the A-B-C all purpose units, Hopkins said. Drills continued most of Thursday with the night shift meeting for a brief training session today at 7 a.m.

Rupert eyes vandalism

By LEE TREMAINE
Times-News writer

RUPERT — Some people have a peculiar sense of "fun" in the summertime.

While most folks enjoy swimming, picnics and ball games, others prefer destruction, perversion and wreaking havoc. At least that seems to be the case in Rupert, where a wave of senseless vandalism is plaguing the city parks and recreation department.

As soon as the municipal swimming pool opened for the summer, the vandals moved in climbing the fence at night to wreak their havoc, according to recreation director Mike Rinard. Restrooms have been invaded and damaged, and the pool itself has been used as a depository of human waste more than once.

Restrooms in several city parks are frequently damaged, apparently by the same vandals with the same weird sense of fun, Rinard said. One facility had to be nearly completely rebuilt, after plumbing was ripped loose and fixtures were smashed.

Strangely enough, Rinard said, the damage occurs during the days and early evenings, as the facilities are locked at night. Restrooms have to be kept open at the ballpark until 11 p.m., however, allowing the destructive visitors a chance to work in darkness.

Little can be done except "clean up the mess," Rinard said. At the pool, lights are kept on all night and increased patrolling of the area seems to be reducing the damage considerably.

"These repairs are not provided for in the city budget," Rinard commented. "The public should be aware that they are having to pay for the damage in one way or another."

If funds are insufficient, as damage mounts, the city would have no recourse but to cut back on recreational programs.

There have been no reports from anyone seeing the vandals at work.

Drama re-enacted

Diamondfield Jack story slated at Burley pageant Monday night

By GEORGIA LAYTON
Times-News writer

BURLEY — The Diamondfield Jack story is one of many historical events to be retold in the "History in Harmony" pageant.

Diamondfield Jack was hired by the Sparks-Harrell Cattle Co., as one of three gunmen who were instructed to keep sheep out of the cattle country. Deadline Ridge was the landmark that defined the boundary between sheep and cattle country.

The sheep became increasingly numerous, beginning in 1880 as the overgrazed range became unsuitable for cattle. It would, however, support sheep well enough to profit the owner. As the number of sheep in the area increased, their owners began to try to bring them across Deadline Ridge into cattle country until the cattlemen resorted to force to keep them out.

According to an account written by David H. Grover, Diamondfield Jack and the other gunmen were paid top wages of $80 per month and given written instructions which read: "Keep the sheep back. Don't kill. Wound if necessary. Use what means you think are best. If you do have to kill, the company will stand behind you. There is plenty of money and backing and the company won't desert you regardless of what happens."

Diamondfield Jack is reported to have repeatedly told sheepmen that if they crossed Deadline Ridge, they would be shot and killed. When one sheepman confronted him with a rifle in 1896, Jack summarily shot him in the shoulder. When the sheepman's companions were too afraid of Jack to come to his aid, Jack carried the wounded man to help.

Shortly after Feb. 4, 1896, Diamondfield Jack was arrested after Daniel G. Cummins and John C. Wilson, both sheepmen, were found murdered in their camp with 44 shells found nearby.

Even though Diamondfield Jack used a .45, he was sentenced to death after the trial which was held at Albion; then the county seat.

After two stays of execution and an unfavorable decision by the U. S. Supreme Court which reviewed the case because of a technicality raised by defense lawyer Jack Hawley, Diamondfield Jack won his freedom mainly due to the effort of prosecution lawyer William Borah.

Jack left Idaho, never to return, following his release from prison.

Power shutoff set at Rupert

RUPERT — The Rupert substation which serves part of Rupert with power will be out of service for two brief periods Sunday and Monday.

Boonville Power Administration officials announced the out of service periods will be from 1 a.m. to 3 a.m. Sunday and 1 a.m. to 3 a.m. Monday.

BPA spokesmen said the outages are required to complete a work project in the substation. They said the outages are scheduled during early morning hours to minimize the inconvenience to those normally served from the substation.

A number of Rupert power consumers are served from Haymill substation located west of the city. These facilities will not be affected by the outages.

Dog trainer talks to Wonder Dogs

BURLEY — Mrs. Virginia Hansen, a well known dog trainer in the area, was guest speaker Wednesday for the Wonder Dogs 4-H Club.

How a dog obeys was demonstrated by Mrs. Hansen. She gave the youths pointers on training a dog.

The 4-H members opened their meeting in the county agent's meeting room at the courthouse. Kay Hyde led the

Musicians set concert

TWIN FALLS — The "Lost and Found," a group of young musicians, will appear at 8 p.m. Aug. 12 at the Twin Falls High School stadium.

Members of the group, from colleges across the United States, are spending their summer giving religious musical appearances.

In early June, the group premiered a new Otis Skilling musical "Celebration of Hope" in Miami Beach, Fla. They also have a long playing record on the market and a book of their arrangements. They have been featured in a national magazine and had a major role in the film production "Just for the Love of It."

Their appearance in the Magic Valley is being sponsored by the Church of the Nazarene.

Women given report

RICHFIELD — Richfield United Methodist Women met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Max Behr.

Mrs. S. C. Peterson reported that 45 children had attended the vacation Bible school held at the church in June. Mrs. Marvin Webb was named to head a committee to have the sign in front of the church repainted.

Members decided to have more programs outlining the group meetings made that could be distributed to new members.

Mrs. Webb presented the lesson taken from the first fourteen chapters of Matthew.

Mrs. Myrtle Riley gave a reading, "Happiness Cake" and gave the treasurer's report.

A special guest was Mrs. Melvin Pope.

The next meeting will be a covered dish luncheon at the church Aug. 8.

Charismatic meet set in TF

JEROME — Rev. Sheldon Slagel, pastor of the Assembly of God Church in Jerome, has issued a public invitation to a special Charismatic Renewal conference July 19 and 20.

The event, featuring E. Glenn Kramar and his wife, Marilyn, will be held at 7:30 p.m. each of the two nights in the Assembly of God Church.

An added feature of the programs will be the St. Francis Production documentary film, "Charismatic Renewal in the Roman Catholic Church" which will be shown.

Kramar said the charisma in missions calls for a return to the teachings of St. Paul. It is a new approach to church programs which have seen a decline in attendance, to Mass and conventional church sessions he said.

"Spiritual renewal is spreading outward from North America to the whole world," he said.

Speaker set

TWIN FALLS — Rev. Ray P. Jones, pastor of the First Christian Church in Twin Falls, announced drive-in church services will be held Sunday.

The services at the Motor Vu-Drive-In Theater on Eastland Drive will feature an address by Rev. James Keefe, Kimberly First Christian Church.

Services will begin at 8 a.m. and continue for 45 minutes. Special music will include a solo by Mrs. Corlyn Keefe accompanied by Joyce Gee.

Column provokes abusive mail

By LOUIS CASSELS
UPI Religion Writer

Religion is a subject that stirs up strong differences of opinion, and anyone who writes about it can expect to receive a bit of abusive mail.

But even an old hand at the business is surprised sometimes by the intensity of the response.

The largest volume of irate mail I've received in years was provoked by what I thought was an offhand, obvious statement: That no moral issue is involved in the current vogue of men-wearing their hair long.

From all parts of the country, letters poured in quoting the 14th verse of the 1st chapter of St. Paul's First Letter to the Corinthians: "Nature herself teaches you that long hair is a disgraceful thing for a man."

None of my correspondents was prepared to accept the possibility that Paul in this passage was merely expressing his own personal prejudices, conditioned by the Greek culture in which he lived.

But it is obvious from the context that is what Paul was doing. In the sentence immediately preceding, he says: "Judge for yourselves: Is it proper for a woman to pray to God in public worship with nothing on her head?"

The women of 1st century Corinth could have answered that easily enough. In their culture, only whores went around without veils on their heads. That is no longer true—so Paul's admonition that a respectable woman should wear a hat in church simply is irrelevant to our time and society. It is, in fact, precisely as irrelevant as his view that long male hair is contrary to "nature."

The conservative Protestant magazine Christianity Today always an articulate defender of the authority of the Bible—gave prominent display recently to an article warning evangelicals: "It is an error simply to take a biblical injunction out of its cultural context and attempt to reproduce it in our society without reflection upon its significance."

To make the Christian gospel meaningful to people of many different cultures—not only those of distant lands, but also to our own youth subculture—it is imperative to extract its timeless truth from any particular cultural context, the article said.

Ultra-fundamentalists won't buy this. They are wedded absolutely to the doctrine that every line of the Bible represents a verbatim utterance of God himself.

This stance has the virtue of protecting scriptural authority from the gradual erosion that took place when biblical critics undertook to determine for themselves which parts of the text could be regarded as authentic.

Wegner challenges McClure to debate

BOISE — Republican senatorial candidate Dr. Glen Wegner challenged his opponent Rep. James McClure to a statewide debate, according to an announcement made today.

"I propose for purposes of total fairness a panel of four of our state's outstanding media and news representatives be selected as moderators and that this panel act to bring before the voters the compelling issues," Wegner said.

Wegner proposed the debate after commenting he is "getting very tired of the old political pro's in this state telling the public that the Senate race is all locked up. This year it will be the people of Idaho who decide this matter, not the boys in the back room."

Wegner said he hopes the technicalities of a debate of this type can be worked out, "because I know McClure is not a shoo-in in this primary race."

Lawyer wants to exonerate Christ

TEL AVIV (UPI)—Jesus Christ faced his accusers nearly 2,000 years ago and said nothing, the Bible says. Now, an Orthodox Jew wants a court in the city where Jesus was condemned to death to speak up and exonerate Christ of all charges.

Lawyer Itzhak David, 36, an Orthodox Jew, failed in his first attempt. But he said he will try again.

In the city where it all happened, Jerusalem, the supreme court Thursday rejected David's application of declaratory judgment to exonerate

Jesus of all the charges brought against him. It argued that his conviction and crucifixion is a matter of history and not something for a modern court to decide.

The court said Jesus reputedly had been sentenced to death by the Roman governor of Judea, Pontius Pilate, and that it was equivalent to a sentence handed down by a foreign military tribunal. Therefore, the court said, there was no reason for present-day judicial authorities to take up the matter.

Trevino, Jacklin lead Nicklaus by one stroke

MUIRFIELD, Scotland (UPI) — Defending champion Lee Trevino roared back from two bogies on the first three holes to fire a 36-34-70 Thursday and share the 36-hole lead at 141 with Britain's Tony Jacklin in the British Open golf championship.

Trevino, who teed off late in the day, opened bogie, birdie bogie but settled down, Birdies on the ninth and 12th pulled him even with Jacklin, leaving the pair one stroke up on Jack Nicklaus. Nicklaus, the big man from Columbus, Ohio who is bidding for his third straight major championship, suffered because of poor iron play while fashioning halves of 38-34 for 72 to be one of several men at 142.

After his round Nicklaus, who already has the Masters a U.S. Open titles in his possession in his bid for the Grand Slam, said: "The course is just waiting to be eaten up. It's absolutely a piece of cake."

Jacklin, a 26-year-old Briton, who won the title in 1969 and took the U.S. Open the following year, had halves of 35-72 over the 6,892-yard course despite a triple bogey six at the 13th.

Johnny Miller, a 25-year-old from San Francisco, came home with a course record 66 after halves of 32-34. But an opening 76 also left him at 142. The highlight of his round was a double eagle at the 558-yard 11th.

Nicklaus admitted over-confidence may have been his undoing. "Because of the good conditions I took it for granted I would shoot in the mid 60s. Maybe I took too much for granted and the course was tougher than I thought," he said.

Gary Player, who won one of his two titles here in '59, came in with his second 71 to join the group at 142. Player said severe pin placements may have had an effect, but Nicklaus would not have this. "They were difficult," he said. "But this is a championship."

Doug Sanders blew his chance of taking the outright lead when he took a disastrous triple bogey seven at the last hole.

Sanders, of Houston, Texas, birdied the 17th to go three under par when he stepped up to the 18th tee with the sun going down over the Firth of Forth.

He finished what had been a dramatic round in a shambles and the sympathetic cheers of the 17,655 gallery were no consolation.

His tee shot at the 18th found a right side trap. He blasted out into the rough, then chipped to the back of the green. He then had to negotiate a greenside trap, failed to make it, and then chipped 10 feet past the pin.

Rosenbloom completes Colt-Ram trade

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI)—Carroll Rosenbloom became sole owner of the Los Angeles Rams Thursday, trading his Baltimore Colts in a deal which cost him no cash.

The new owners of the Colts are Robert Irsay, a Chicago industrialist and Willard Keland of Racine, Wisc. Irsay is the 51 per cent owner as required by National Football League rules.

Rosenbloom called a news conference at the Beverly Hills Hotel to announce his acquisition of the Rams. He said he received word from NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle late Wednesday that the deal was approved by other owners and flew here immediately from Baltimore.

Rosenbloom said he contemplated no immediate changes in Ram front office or field personnel although he was accompanied by Don Klosterman, the Baltimore general manager.

"For the present we will make haste slowly," Rosenbloom said. "The Rams have a fine organization. I hope we can contribute something to Tommy (Prothro) and his staff."

only one year, was present at the conference along with outgoing Ram president Bill Barnes and his assistant, Jack Teele.

In answer to a question, Rosenbloom said, "I am 100 per cent owner of the Rams. That's the only way I operate. Frankly, I didn't have any cash in this transaction. It was simply a trade."

Rosenbloom said one of the prime reasons for his move to the Los Angeles area was because of the success of the Colt teams. He said that representatives of the news media in Baltimore expect the Colts to win and have a "so what" attitude.

Boxer's charges questioned

SEATTLE (UPI) — The Washington State Athletic Commission Thursday continued indefinitely the suspension of middleweight Fraser Scott's boxing license, saying he has offered "nothing but zeros" to back up his charge that he took part in two fixed fights.

Scott of Kirkland, Wash., made the charge three months ago, while abruptly walking out of a training session in a Seattle gym and announcing he was through with boxing.

"Unless and until he comes forward (with evidence), I can't believe they (his charges) are true, not in this state...or in any other state," said commission chairman Jimmy Rondeau.

Scott, once among the top 10 middleweight contenders for the world title, didn't attend the commission meeting. His former manager, Joe West of Seattle, said Scott was on two weeks reserve duty with the Army at Fort Ord, Calif.

Rookies and vets share meet lead

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Two new pros and a pair of veterans shared the first round lead at the end of the first round of the $125,000 Greater Milwaukee golf open tournament Thursday—a meet plagued by rain and blessed by an abundance of sub-par rounds.

Former U.S. amateur champion Bruce Fleisher, Tom Ulozas and veterans Labron Harris and George Johnson led the field as par took a beating on the 6,514 yard Tripoli Golf Course.

The hottest round came in the morning. Despite a rain that lasted until shortly before noon, 45 pros matched or bettered the par of 71.

Fleisher, Ulozas, Harris and Johnson all played in the rain-soaked morning round and fired 6-under rounds of 65. Jim Colbert, also playing early, and Bob Dickson, who played in the afternoon, were one stroke back at 66.

Bruce Crampton, the highest ranking pro here, led a group of nine players at 67.

Par came harder as the sun dried out the greens in the afternoon but the scores made it apparent that, for the second year in a row, it would take an under par total for two days to survive the Friday cut.

Fleisher and Harris had the steadiest rounds of the leaders.

Trudeau questions team picks

OTTAWA (UPI)—Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau entered what has become Canada's great summer hockey dispute Thursday when he said he did not think that it was final that Canada will play Russia this September without the great left winger Bobby Hull.

Hull's ineligibility became apparent Wednesday when, during the naming of Team Canada, it was revealed that only players signed to National Hockey League contracts by Aug. 13 could play for the team.

Hull recently signed a 10-year, $2.75 million contract with the Winnipeg Jets of the newly formed World Hockey Association (WHA), thus making him ineligible by Team Canada regulations.

Trudeau's optimism was cooled seconds after he entered the dispute when he was told by Douglas Fisher, chairman of the executive committee of Hockey Canada, that the agency would not take the initiative in trying to convince National Hockey League team owners that Hull should be permitted to play.

pin placements may have had an effect, but Nicklaus would not have this. "They were difficult," he said. "But this is a championship."

Doug Sanders blew his chance of taking the outright lead when he took a disastrous triple bogey seven at the last hole.

ABA eyes growth to 14-team loop

DENVER (UPI) — Outgoing American Basketball Association commissioner Jack Dolph said Thursday the ABA has mounted expansion plans that could result in a 14-team league within three years if a merger with the National Basketball Association falls through.

At a news conference following a meeting of the ABA Board of Trustees, Dolph said officials talked with six persons from five cities about possible new franchises.

The ABA recently eliminated two teams, giving the league nine.

Dolph said the expansion program calls for up to two teams this coming season; then one or two more for the 1973-74 season, and one or two for the 1974-75 season.

"We don't plan to rupture the present merger agreement (with the NBA)," Dolph said. "We will make no less effort in Congress."

Dolph said the ABA must plan for the future if the NBA merger fails to materialize.

"We must contemplate any and all actions that will make us an independent entity," he said.

A trustee committee of Roy Boe, New York; Earl Foreman, Virginia; Mike Storen, Kentucky; and Richard Tinkham, Indiana, will listen to all interested parties, Dolph said. Prime cities listed by Dolph as under consideration for expansion clubs were Cincinnati, San Diego, St. Louis, Los Angeles, Philadelphia; Washington, D.C.; Anaheim, Calif.; San Francisco, St. Paul and Minneapolis.

"We will not consider NBA cities for immediate expansion, but are using them with an eye toward the future," Dolph said.

Dolph, whose resignation takes effect in October, would not disclose the six written and telephone presentations made for possible franchises during the Thursday meeting.

He said the trustees are still screening candidates for his job.

Strong field looms in Rupert tourney

RUPERT — A strong championship flight and a near-capacity field will open the annual Rupert amateur golf tournament Saturday.

The two-day event is almost filled, host Pro Val Toolson said Thursday night, with a few spots remaining open. Those planning to enter should contact him immediately and all should call for starting times Saturday. The field will be flighted according to handicap and paired for Sunday's final round.

The meet will have a new champion since Norm Schaffer, last year's winner, is no longer in the area. However, Larry Malone, who finished second, is back and along with ex-Twin Falls high school classmate, Jim Packard, is expected to be a strong contender. Local favorites are former Rupert club champions Ken Olsen and Don Toolson. Of interest, Cal Hoss, now of Pocatello, will be re-debuting into the amateur field in this event. Hoss turned pro shortly after college then applied for his amateur status two years ago. It finally has come through.

Toolson said the field of 130 players will be divided into six flights with the first five based on gross and the last flight, for 18 and over handicappers, strictly on net. He added spotters will be used through both days to help keep play moving.

T.F. Legion drops Blackfoot by 8-3

Kevin Nelson's line-drive double off the rightfield fence shoved Twin Falls ahead in the seventh inning and it went on to defeat Blackfoot 8-3 Thursday night.

A portion of the crowd went home after Nelson's double sent Rick Spriggs in from second in the seventh as it was expected to be a seven-inning affair. But Blackfoot asked to play nine and the game continued. Immediately after, Mike Tremayne drilled a triple to score Nelson and Mark Hanchey's single plated Tremayne.

In the eighth, Dennis Warburton opened with a double. Spriggs was hit by a pitch and Mike Fries singled to load the bases. Nelson's sacrifice fly sent one run in and Spriggs scored the final on a passed ball.

Twin Falls now travels to Jerome for a single game at 8 p.m. Friday, then goes on to Boise Saturday night and Sunday afternoon for three games with the Senators. That winds up the regular season with the district being played July 24-26. Mountain Home meets Burley in the first game. The loser will play Twin Falls the second night, at Burley is it is Burley and at Twin Falls it is Mountain Home. The two undefeated teams then play July 26 with a possibility of a tripleheader.

Dick Walker's single and a ground out by Tremayne gave Twin Falls a 1-0 lead in the first with Blackfoot tying it in the fifth and going ahead with two runs in the sixth. Twin Falls tied it in the bottom of the sixth when winning pitcher Darrell Groves bunted for a single. Hanchey and Kerry Wentworth then followed with singles to plate the two runs.

City meet has record field

The largest field in the history of the Twin Falls Men's Golf Association match play city tournament will begin play this weekend. Course Professional Clyde Thomsen said pairings for the event are posted at the clubhouse. A total of six flights, 16 in each division, has entered. A new twist will be a match between the champion and the first flight winners for the overall crown. Curt Thomsen is the defending champion.

Up for grabs

OVER $500 worth of new trophies will go to winners in the Larry Fife benefit motorcycle races Sunday at the Jerome course, 15-miles north of Twin Falls. Proceeds from the event will be used to defray medical expenses incurred when Fife was paralyzed after being thrown by a motorcycle earlier this spring.

Benefit motorcycle race slated Sunday

JEROME — More than $500 in trophies will be presented to winners Sunday in the Larry Fife benefit TT motorcycle races.

Bob Helms, Jerome, representing the combined Magic Valley motorcycle clubs who are sponsoring this event, said practice will run from 11 a.m. to noon with the races opening at noon. All competition is planned for the Jerome track located five and one-half miles north of the Idaho 26-U. S. Highway 93 conjunction. The turnout will be plainly marked.

Proceeds from the event will be used to defray medical expenses for Fife, who was injured in a freak situation last spring. Fife had planned to enter a cross-country event north of Gooding but found the event cancelled upon arrival at the site.

He and some friends decided to look at the course. During that tour, Fife's motorcycle flipped him after hitting two ditches, the Twin Falls man landing heavily on his back. The fall resulted in spinal damage which has left Fife paralyzed from his chest down. He currently is in Boise undergoing physical therapy.

One more thing you don't get on a Pinto, Datsun, Vega and Toyota.

Buy a new VW from us and all service work is free for one year or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first. That includes tune-ups, lube jobs — everything but the gas.

It sort of makes you feel sorry for all those other little economy cars, doesn't it? They now have to contend with something no other car has ever offered before.

And this is what it is: effective July first, you get a free service contract on any new '72 VW you buy that covers things like oil changes, lube jobs, gaskets, filters, labor, and all the other things you'd normally expect to pay for out of your own pocket.

And it's good on all the new VWs we make: Squarebacks, Fastbacks, Campers, Convertibles.

The big 411 four door Sedans. And, of course, our lovable little Beetles.

All you have to do is drive your car back to the dealer who sold it to you for free service for one year or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first.

Nobody in the world offers you anything like that.

Nobody. Especially when you consider that all this is over and above our normal 2-yr./24,000 mile warranty.

You see, all the other cars in the world (with the notable exception of Rolls Royce) have to struggle along on a mere one-year, 12,000 mile warranty.

Now they'll all have to struggle along on even less. Even the mighty Rolls Royce — with prices starting at $25,200 — doesn't offer you this.

But, then, if you're not a Volkswagen, you can't expect every-thing, can you?

If an owner maintains and services his vehicle in accordance with the Volkswagen maintenance schedule any factory part found to be defective in material or workmanship within 24 months or 24,000 miles, whichever comes first, will be repaired or replaced by any U.S. or Canadian Volkswagen Dealer. And this will be done free of charge.

Gem economic view matches national

TWIN FALLS — The economic outlook for Idaho for the third quarter of 1972 should correspond closely to that nationally, reports the quarterly First Security Bank news letter.

Kenneth J. Newman, Twin Falls branch manager, released the contents of the news letter, which is edited by Dr. Fitts Nelson, First Security vice president and economist.

Percentage increases from last year's levels in the Gem State will probably continue above the national average. Increases will be shown in production of lumber and paper, food products, apparel, household wares and electronic products, as well as mobile homes. There will be a decrease in silver output.

The news letter states increased employment is anticipated in most areas of Idaho, while unemployment should continue to decrease below last year's levels.

Total personal income for the first half of 1972 was estimated at $1.3 billion, or an increase of 10 per cent over that reported by the Department of Commerce for the same period one year ago — an increase of two percentage points above the national average.

Cash receipts from farm marketing in Idaho for the first six months of the year were estimated at about $300 million — up six per cent over last year with all increases in livestock and livestock product areas. Receipts from the sale of crops were below those of last year.

Prices of beef cattle, which reached new peaks earlier in the year, declined in March and April, but had increased by June to the late January levels.

A combination of factors accounted for this increase, says the bank, including increased demand for beef, decreased output of pork and corresponding higher prices for the product, and the fact there has only been a small increase in commercial livestock slaughter for five months.

Metal production in the state for the first four months was above last year's levels for all major products. Silver output was reported at seven million ounces, up six per cent, before the Sunshine mine fire. Lead production at 21,970 tons was one per cent higher than last year.

Building permit construction in the leading cities for the first five months was valued at $59.4 million, an increase of 43 per cent over 1971.

Residential construction at $24 million was up 12 per cent, while commercial and industrial construction at $23.5 million was double that of last year.

Employment in May totaled 301,100, an increase of 4,690 from last year. Agricultural employment at 46,700 decreased by nearly 2,000, and self-employment declined slightly. Non-agricultural wage and salary workers at 29,000 increased by 3.1 per cent over last year.

Unemployment in May at 17,300 was up 1,500 from last year because the labor force has increased at a rate slightly above that of employment. The unemployment ratio of 5.4 per cent was well below the national average, but up slightly from one year ago.

Lumber production for the first four months totaled 590 million board feet and was five per cent above last year.

Demo hopeful

CAMPAGNING in the Magic Valley area, Byron Johnson, Democratic Candidate for the U.S. Senate rests on his workhorse campaign car. He said he has traveled 16,000 miles in Idaho since March 6 in his campaigning tour. The car has over 70,000 miles on it.

Six Tennessee prisoners escape

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Six prisoners overpowered a guard and escaped from the Tennessee state prison farm Thursday. Two were quickly recaptured and one apparently drowned while attempting to swim the Cumberland River to freedom.

Assistant Warden Robert Morford said Charles Davis of Scottsboro, Ala., serving a five-year term for robbery, and Ronnie W. Franklin of Nashville, Tenn., serving a one to three-year sentence for concealing stolen property, were captured shortly after the escape.

The other four were identified as Ronnie Kimbrell of Ft. Pierce, Fla., Eddie Warfield of Knoxville, Tenn., Clyde Triplett of Memphis, Tenn., and James Thompson of Nashville, Tenn.

Officials did not know which of the four was feared drowned. Civil Defense crews were alerted to begin dragging operations in the river.

Prison Operations Officer Bobby Campbell said the men were armed and considered dangerous.

Kimbrell was serving a 12-year sentence on seven charges of first degree burglary. Warfield a 20-year sentence on three charges of armed robbery. Triplett a life sentence for first degree murder, and Thompson a two-year sentence for stealing a car.

Battle deaths increase 20%

SAIGON (UPI)—South Vietnamese and Communist battle deaths increased by 20 per cent last week in Indochina, but the number of Americans killed in combat dropped sharply, the U.S. command said.

The command said four Americans died in action in South Vietnam last week, a drop of 10 from the previous week. Their deaths raised to 45,810 the number of Americans killed in action since Jan. 1, 1961.

Another 18 Americans were wounded last week—five less than the previous seven-day period—and five others were reported as missing. A command spokesman said 303,208 Americans have been wounded in the war, 1,639 missing, captured or interned.

A military spokesman said 661 South Vietnamese servicemen were killed last week, compared with 523 the week before and 2,585 wounded. The number of Communist dead was placed a 3,320, compared with 2,765 for the previous week.

The new casualties brought the total of South Vietnamese killed in the war to 163,175 and the Communist dead to 858,757, according to official figures.

The sharp increase in South Vietnamese and Communist casualties last week reflected the heavy fighting in the South Vietnamese counteroffensive in Quang Tri province.

Total casualties for 14 weeks of the Communist offensive are 131 Americans killed and 450 wounded.

Cablecar wrecks

BETTEN, Switzerland (UPI)—Police said Thursday a broken cable may have caused Switzerland's worst cablecar accident in which 13 persons were sent hurtling 2,000 feet to their deaths.

The accident occurred at dusk Wednesday. A cablecar linking Betten with Bettmeralp began slipping backwards along its cable, and finally smashed into the station it had just left at an estimated 60 m.p.h. police said.

Rescuers found 14 persons inside the mangled cabin. Two were still alive and were hospitalized in severe condition.

Police said another man, Marcus Margeulich, decided to jump from the falling car. His body was discovered 100 feet below in the Rhone River which runs underneath the cable.

JULY 14-15

OPEN DAILY FROM 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

YOU MAKE YOUR OWN DEAL

HERE'S HOW IT WORKS...

1. You browse through 2 acres of cars, and with the assistance of one of our courteous salesmen, select the model, color and equipment of your choice.
2. That's all the salesman will do. From there you will meet with the sales manager and he will furnish you with our cost on that particular new car.
3. You will then figure your own deal by adding to dealer cost, a service and handling charge of $60, plus 5% profit for the dealership.
4. Should you have a car to trade in, you will deduct the actual cash value, less reconditioning expenses from the previous dollar amount you figured. You and the sales manager will agree on a figure mutually acceptable to you and the dealership.
5. Should you need assistance with financing or insurance on your new car or truck, you will then meet with our finance manager and have the transaction.
