Grateful Teamster leaders back Nixon

RANCHO LA COSTA, Calif. (UPI)—The Teamsters, largest independent union in the country, broke with traditional labor support for the Democrats and endorsed President Nixon Monday, saying George McGovern doesn't care about middle class workers.

It was another blow at the McGovern candidacy by organized labor, which fiercely resisted McGovern's nomination.

The executive council of the AFL-CIO—to which the Teamsters do not belong—has scheduled a special meeting in Washington Wednesday to discuss what stand to take. The meeting was called by AFL-CIO President George Meany, a leading figure in the bitter pre-convention fight against McGovern.

There have been reports the giant labor organization, traditionally a very important power base for the Democratic candidate, might opt to "sit out" the campaign, refusing its support to McGovern but not going to so far as to work for Nixon's re-election.

The Teamsters' decision was announced by the president of the 2 million member union, Frank E. Fitzsimmons, who said he realized such an action is "at odds with the traditional and almost reflex support of labor for the Democratic ticket."

The board had decided to back Nixon, he said, because "the blue collar workers, which comprise the backbone of America, seem to be of little concern to the McGovern ticket."

Conversations with Teamster members convinced him the Nixon endorsement reflects the wishes of the union rank-and-file, he said.

He said the Democratic nominee "has not earned the support of America's working men and women. Our members work hard for their wages. They are entitled to what they earn, and they figure the government ought to get off of our back and out of our pockets."

Sawtooth agreement announced

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A proposed Sawtooth National Recreation Area in central Idaho is moving closer to a reality, with Monday's announced agreement by Senate and House conferees on legislation to establish the area.

As approved by the Senate and House conference committee — on which Church, McClure and Jordan served — the legislation includes these major provisions:

- A permanent withdrawal of all lands within the recreation area from new mineral entry, and a prohibition against granting patents on existing unpatented claims.
- The state of Idaho will retain control over hunting and fishing rights in the recreation area.
- The bill established a Sawtooth Wilderness Area but makes it part of the overall NRA and subject to the withdrawal of the area from mineral entry.
- Authority for the National Park Service to include the Pioneer Mountains in preparation of its master plan for the proposed creation of a national park in the area uplands.
- The boundaries of the area will encompass about 754,000 acres.
- And the bill authorizes $19.8 million for land acquisition in the NRA, and $26.2 million for development.

Egypt asks Russian advisers to go home

CAIRO (UPI)— Egyptian President Anwar Sadat today ordered home an estimated 20,000 Russian advisers, apparently breaking ties with the Soviet Union that stretched back to 1956.

The reason for Sadat's action was not completely clear but an official announcement was expected later. The decision came only three days after Premier Aziz Sidky spent only one day of a scheduled three-day visit to Moscow.

Sadat asked Russia to bring its men home following a two and one-half hour meeting with the central committee of the Arab Socialist Union, Egypt's only political party.

Sources said the advisers, which included an estimated 200 pilots and an unknown number of missile and air defense experts, have already started leaving.

(London reports quoted a British newspaper today as saying Sidky asked for more offensive weapons from the Soviets and was rebuffed. The expulsion of the advisers was the Egyptian reply, it said.)

Al Ahram newspaper said two days ago that Sidky spent eight straight hours with Kremlin leaders discussing topics relating to Egypt.

(Political sources in Beirut said it was an open secret the Soviet presence was becoming an increasing internal irritant in Egypt and they noted that at a recent ASU meeting as many as 90 per cent of the questions related to the Soviet advisers.)

(The sources said it was likely Sadat would state that since the major Soviet task of installing SA2 surface-to-air missiles was completed, their presence was no longer required.)

The Beirut An Nahar newspaper said recently Egypt was spending an average $5 million a day on defense and now owed the Soviet Union a total $7 billion. This sum, it said, was equal to the value of all of Egypt's agricultural land.

According to the Institute of Strategic Studies in London, the Soviet advisers operated Egypt's air defense system consisting of anti-aircraft guns, 70 sites with six launchers each of SA2 surface to air missiles, a radar network and six squadrons of MIG21 interceptors. Coordinated with this defense are up to 150 MIG21 and possibly MIG23 aircraft.

The institute said there were also up to 65 Soviet-controlled sites with four launchers each of SA3 missiles.

Egypt's ties with the Soviet Union go back to a weapons agreement in 1956. Since then, including the period during the Middle East war of 1967, Russia has been Egypt's major military and economic backer.

Sadat also signed a new military pact with the Kremlin earlier this year, apparently giving the Arabs major concessions and enough arms to prepare Egypt for another war with Israel.

Viets near Red fortress

SAIGON (UPI)— South Vietnamese paratroopers fought to within 50 yards of the stone-walled Citadel in the northeastern corner of Communist-held Quang Tri city today, but there still was no major attempt to recapture the stronghold.

The troops were the lead elements of a 2,500-man paratrooper unit battling its way into the city which has been in Communist hands since May 1. Field reports said other government troops were as far as one mile behind the advance unit.

South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu has promised his troops will recapture the territory and drive the Communists back into North Vietnam.

Irish agree to new truce

BELFAST (UPI)—The Provisional wing of the Irish Republican Army (IRA) said today it has agreed to a truce in Belfast's Lenadoon housing development to enable Roman Catholics to return to their homes there.

British officials said William Whitelaw, secretary of state for Northern Ireland, will meet army commanders today to discuss withdrawal of British troops from the district.

The army said Monday was the first day without death from violence in Northern Ireland since the Provisionals called off their two-week-old cease-fire eight days ago.

At least 36 persons have been killed since the truce ended, bringing the death toll in three years of violence in the province to 446, according to army figures.

Air threat nets trial for TF man

BOISE—A Twin Falls man will face trial Aug. 14 in U.S. District Court here on a misdemeanor charge of giving false information to an airline.

Ronald H. Victor, was indicted by a grand jury last week and appeared in U.S. District court here Monday on the indictment. He entered a plea of innocent and a trial was set by the court for Aug. 14.

The incident occurred April 11, in which Victor allegedly told airline officials he was carrying grenades and plastic explosives as he prepared to board an Air West airliner at the Twin Falls air terminal.

Action against Victor was brought by the U.S. attorney in Boise following an investigation by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Ex-emperor asks Vietnam War end

PARIS (UPI)—Bao Dai, former emperor of Vietnam under French colonial rule, has broken 17 years of silence to issue an appeal to the "whole Vietnam nation" to join efforts in ending the war.

Bao Dai, 61, called for an end to the "fratricidal war" in a letter addressed to South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu Sunday.

The ex-ruler in his letter accused the North Vietnamese of attempting to invade the south in an offensive beginning last March.

The letter also expressed Bao Dai's wish to find a "national reconciliation," in South Vietnam.

"Like any other Vietnamese citizen," it read, "I formulate the dearest wish for national reconciliation, let us join hands so that Vietnam can survive."

The appeal broke a 17-year silence by the former emperor who took exile in France after being voted out in a referendum a year after the end of French colonial rule in Indochina in 1954.

Ousted Daley still supports Democrats

CHICAGO (UPI)— Mayor Richard J. Daley re-entered the public eye with an endorsement of the national Democratic Party ticket.

"I have a statement to make here if I can get this music quiet a minute," Daley said Monday, at his first news conference since dropping out of sight 10 days before, while the Democratic National Convention was held without him.

As Daley began speaking, music suddenly blared from a tape recorder with which a reporter was fumbling. Daley laughed heartily, waited for the reporter to master the tape recorder and began speaking.

"I am a Democrat," said one of the nation's most powerful Democrats. "I am chairman of the Democratic party of Cook County and have always supported the nominee of the Democratic ticket. I will support every candidate on the Democratic ticket, federal, state and county."

That meant Daley would support the Democratic presidential ticket of Sen. George McGovern and Sen. Thomas Eagleton. There had been widespread speculation he would withhold his support because McGovern's forces were active in the convention's decision to unseat a group of 59 Illinois delegates led by Daley and replace them with a group of challengers led by Alderman William Singer.

How hard Daley will push his machine to turn out votes for the ticket in November remains doubtful. The name of McGovern never crossed his lips. He talked around a question on whether he would go all-out for McGovern. In addition, one of Daley's top lieutenants, Alderman Vito Marzullo, said Monday he would never support McGovern.

"Alderman Vito Marzullo is an outstanding Democrat and has always been. This is July. We wait till November," Daley said.

"We don't have to," Daley said sharply when asked why he had not mentioned McGovern by name. "He's the nominee, isn't he?"

Asked if he thought McGovern's forces were responsible for his ouster, Daley replied, "What do you think?"

Immersion

DEFENSE Secretary Melvin Laird conceded Monday that some dikes and dams in North Vietnam may have been struck accidentally in U.S. bombing raids. At the same time the Pentagon released this photo of N. Viet flooding in the Red River Delta area, but did not say what caused the flooding. (UPI)

Laird says dikes hit by accident

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird has again conceded that U.S. bombing attacks may have struck some of North Vietnam's dikes and dams.

But Laird said at a news conference Monday that any dikes or dams struck were not part of major water control installations and were hit because they were near military targets.

"There has been, and will continue to be, no targeting of the dikes and dams in North Vietnam," Laird said.

He said there were "of course, occasions when dams and dikes could be hit" if they were the sites of anti-aircraft batteries firing on attacking U.S. planes.

Arabs demand action

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—The Arabs demanded U.N. Security Council action today to force Israel to return Syrian and Lebanese officers captured in an Israeli cross-border raid June 21.

The 15-nation Security Council scheduled a meeting at 3:30 p.m. at the insistence of Lebanon and Syria.

Israel sent a raiding party into Southern Lebanon, where it contends 5,000 Arab guerrillas were encamped, after the May 30 massacre at Lod International Airport. The Israelis seized five Syrian officers including a general and one Lebanese officer in the raid.

The Security Council on June 26 approved a resolution sponsored by France, Belgium and Britain condemning the raid and appealing for release of the Syrians and Lebanese "in the shortest possible time."

Israeli Ambassador Yosef Tekoaah, consigned the U.N. resolution to "the morgue of history" and Israeli responded no further.

Israel took the position that all prisoners of war held by either the Arabs or Israel should be released simultaneously and also charged maltreatment of Israelis held by the Arabs.

Sinatra promises to appear, talk

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Frank Sinatra promised to appear before the House Crime Committee today to answer questions about his association with a now defunct race track allegedly bankrolled in part by the New England Mafia.

Committee Chairman Claude Pepper, D-Fla., said Sinatra had exercised his prerogatives as a witness under House rules to bar television, radio and cameras from the open session.

The panel is conducting an investigation of criminal infiltration into sports. It wants to ask Sinatra about his role as vice president of the Berkshire race track of Hancock, Mass. Committee investigators said that during the six to nine months that Sinatra filled the post in 1963 and 1964 the New England Mafia held a "substantial" interest in it. The track finally went bankrupt and closed in 1965.

The committee has been trying to talk to Sinatra since May but has met a series of obstacles. Pepper said it was about to serve him with a subpoena in Baltimore on May 19 when the entertainer briefly stepped out of retirement and sang at a function honoring his friend and golfing companion, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew. But Sen. John Tunney, D-Calif., according to Pepper, informed the committee that Sinatra wanted to be spared the embarrassment and would testify without a subpoena.

The next thing the committee knew Sinatra was in Europe, where U.S. subpoenas cannot be served with any legal effect.

On June 27, according to Pepper, Sinatra agreed through his attorney to testify voluntarily today.

The fiery-tempered Sinatra denies the existence of the Mafia, the shadowy organized crime network allegedly transported to the United States from Italy.

Sinatra almost got into a fight when he was introduced to Mario Puzo, the author of the best selling novel, "The Godfather." The book, purportedly a fictional account of the Mafia, contains a character which closely resembles Sinatra.

Desegregation order looms in Detroit

DETROIT (UPI)—A federal appeals court ruling to delay the purchase of 295 school buses for a massive desegregation program between Detroit and suburban schools could speed up a final integration order.

A three-judge panel from the U.S. 6th Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati Monday continued its order of July 13 prohibiting the purchase of the buses until U.S. District Judge Stephen Roth issues a final desegregation order.

The panel said, however, that the stay on the purchase of the buses would be lifted if Roth certified an appeal of his desegregation ruling.

Presently, Roth's decision last fall that Detroit schools were deliberately segregated and must be integrated with schools in 52 suburban school districts is not appealable because it is not in the form of a final desegregation order.

Roth was not expected to sign the final order until after mid-August, when he was to review the recommendations of an integration planning panel.

But, after Monday's ruling, there was speculation he would give permission for an early appeal to his full integration order—possibly today.

The appeals court acted on an appeal by the state of Michigan against two orders by Roth to create an 11-member panel to recommend a desegregation plan and to purchase the buses in the event Roth orders busing this fall.

The order for the buses is crucial to any desegregation plan, which school officials have tried to block by saying they had no means of transporting students from the city to the suburbs.

Accident injures TF youth

TWIN FALLS — A one car accident Monday evening resulted in minor injuries to a Twin Falls youth.

According to Twin Falls Police reports, Jack LaVern Elisinger, 17, was headed west down Falls Avenue West when a large dog apparently ran in front of his car.

He told police he attempted to swerve left to miss the dog and the car started fishtailing several times. He was speeding at the time, moving at least 65 miles per hour.

The vehicle skidded sideways about 130 feet after fishtailing, hitting an embankment. Estimated damage to the car was $2,000. Elisinger was charged with speeding.

Elisinger was treated and released from Magic Valley Memorial Hospital.

Herrett's suffers damage

TWIN FALLS — Vandals destroyed a large thermo-pane display window at Herrett's Jewelry early this morning.

According to investigating officer Bud Phillips, Twin Falls Police, vandals threw a fist size piece of concrete through the window. After smashing the window, he said the missile hit a display table about eight feet inside the store, breaking several pieces of china and crystal.

Phillips said the estimated damage is $150 to the six and one-half foot tall, eight foot wide window and $26 to the other merchandise.

The officer said the vandals must have thrown the rock from a moving car to gain enough force to travel through the window and hit the table.

Investigation is continuing in the case and a similar incident earlier this month when vandals broke the front window of the Idaho State Liquor dispensary in Twin Falls.

The Deals

Soviet Russia will buy $750 million dollars worth of surplus grain from the United States over the next three years beginning August 1 as a result of President Nixon's mission to Moscow.

This is good news for the American farmer as it will increase exports of wheat, corn, barley, sorghum, rye and oats by an average of 17 per cent and, according to agricultural experts, will mean between 22,500 and 37,500 jobs for Americans.

Henry Kissinger, Presidential adviser, said the agreement paves the way for progress on other economic issues, including settlement of Russia's lendlease debt from World War Two.

Moscow agreed to payment in three years with interest at six and one-eighth per cent. Russia's credit no doubt is good but more than a few Americans would prefer cash in view of the long outstanding lendlease debt.

If Russia wants to continue further trade expansion, prompt payment will advance the prospect.

The White House sees the export agreement as providing more income for farmers, jobs for transportation workers, and lower cost to taxpayers for surplus grain storage.

Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz predicted the Russians would buy more than the $750 million dollars worth because of the need for more feed grains to meet their five year program for a 25 per cent increase in meat production.

Those few Americans who profess to admire communism should note that Russia, with more land and more people and a string of five year plans, has not been able to meet its need for feed grains and comes to us for them. Stalin's liquidation of the Kulaks or peasant farmers may be partly to blame.

Lack of adequate incentives for greater productivity certainly is one reason.

Red China also is in line for American products. The Commerce Department has granted an export license to Boeing for the possible sale of $150 million dollars worth of 707 jets and parts. Now all Boeing has to do is return to the Peking negotiations with a firm proposal and make the sale.

MR. SPECTATOR

It Was An Event

What About The Out-Of-City Fire?

By O. A. (GUS) KELKER
Editor, Times-News

Can anything be done about quenching an out-of-the-city fire?

Plenty can be done but it will take positive action and cooperative cooperation between county-situated residents to get the job done. Every time there is an out-of-city fire of any magnitude and the city trucks fail to respond — there is a great swell of emotionalism calling for use of Twin Falls City fire equipment outside the line separating the city from the rural dwellers.

Right now there is one basic rule — termed a law — that prohibits city trucks from answering country alarms. That's the one which prohibits city equipment from leaving the city limits. There's one exception. Permission can be granted by the members of the city council — acting as a group. But when there is a fire in the country the councilmen are not always in collective session waiting to receive the alarm.

So? The fire trucks do not leave the city limits.

A case in point — and one which once again as it always does in such a case raises the emotional surge — is the Gem Equipment fire last week. The one unit of city equipment finally responded — but only to be sure the resultant fire was not going to spread and damage city property. After it was determined there was no danger, the firemen did lay hose to aid the rural departments, then returned the unit to the firehouse.

One way to end this "why can't the department come" question is to annex surrounding property to the city. But most dwellers just outside contend they do not need the services the city offers — especially the fire protection. They do not need it, that is, until there is a fire. Then they find out they can't have it.

Another way? This would be formation of a fire district. It closely follows the rules and requirements of the college district. By petition and then by majority vote, the country residents can form this district, buy their own fire equipment, hire their own firemen and call for help when it is needed.

Like the city dwellers, they will pay for this service — even if they do not use it. But it is there if they do need it.

Chief Bobby Bopp of the Twin Falls department says the secret of successful fire fighting is getting there fast with adequate equipment. This is why a manned department is more successful than a volunteer one.

Right now even Twin Falls could stand an upgrading of men and equipment. The Idaho Survey and Rating Bureau rates the local department "5" on a scale of "1" to "10" — the "1" being the highest rating. Result of the "5" rating? Higher insurance rates and they would be still higher if city equipment made it a habit of attending country blazes.

Right now the city equipment can go into the county — but only to reach city property such as Joslin Field, Shoshone Falls Park, Dierke's Lake or water equipment belonging to the city but on Blue Lakes Country Club property.

There are still some who contend the city truck should respond to outside calls. The law says no, unless, for instance, city property is in danger from outside sources. Otherwise who would be assessed the blame if the Magic Valley Memorial Hospital became engulfed in flames with resultant life loss, or if a rest home caught fire and the patients burned to death?

What would you say if this happened — and the city trucks and crews were out in the country?

That's a good question. So to stop the emotional swell each time there is a country fire and the city men and equipment do not respond, why not a county fire district?

Perhaps then, with enough equipment available, the city and county could cooperate somehow under the law.

Small county volunteer units are not the answer. Time is precious, no matter how true blue to the call of duty are the volunteers.

"But it will be necessary to go all the way in the establishment of a district, or several districts in the county. The city department cannot stop an eighth of a mile from the city, or a half mile from the city or a mile out. This could go on forever at the expense of the city dweller."

Under present law and present lack of established fire districts the only place to stop is at the city limits.

This Is Your Year

Republicans and Democrats are competing to see who can relieve your tax burden this election year. Look out! Looks like they're not "lifting the load," they're just "shifting it" from one of your shoulders to the other — and maybe making it heavier in the process.

It's act-now time for Americans who want tax relief. Election year is the electorate's year to be heard. Lawmakers are listening to you, now.

But if they don't hear from you what they are likely to do is to further muddle the muddle.

President Nixon is promising tax relief for homeowners by instituting a federal sales tax.

Historically, however, when a new tax is added the old tax it was intended to replace stays.

Sen. McGovern proposes a wholesale redistribution of income.

Essentially, the difference between most Republicans and most Democrats is that Republicans propose shifting the load from state governments to federal government. Democrats propose closing loopholes which rich people use.

Well, let's see:

Eliminate the tax exemption on municipal bonds and state and city governments would have to pay more interest on the money they borrow. That would not lighten anybody's load.

Eliminate deductions for charity and those institutions would collapse, increasing the welfare burden. That would not lighten anybody's load.

Eliminate deductions for interest and you increase the cost of home ownership, car ownership.

Eliminate deductions for depreciation and private investors would stop building houses and apartments.

Eliminate oil depletion allowances and who'd "wildcat" for new sources when the odds are eight-to-one against?

Eliminate capital gains tax advantage and you step on the neck of the investment goose which has been laying all those golden eggs. And you lighten nobody's load.

Yet fiscal experts of the stature of Wilbur Mills are urging some of these political deceptions; he only since became the Democrats' Harold Stassen, pitifully deluded about this personal political grandeur.

There is a way to unload the shoulders of the taxpayers without toppling the top-heavy system. Demand every American pay 25 percent tax on all income from any source with no deductions for anything.

You earn $1, you know two bits goes to Sam's pocket and 75 cents is yours.

Rich or poor, no exceptions — risky business or whatever — your tax is one-fourth of your take.

You could disband the Internal Revenue Service and the army of tax accountants and tax lawyers. You would eliminate much of the mountain of tax paperwork which penalizes every taxpayer, stifles business.

Of all the "equal rights" Americans should be demanding, this one would lighten everybody's load.

Armed Truce

MIAMI BEACH — If and when AFL-CIO president George Meany and Sen. McGovern meet to talk things over, it will be at best a very temporary armed truce on both sides.

Meany makes no bones of his dislike and distrust of McGovern, scornfully refers to him as "the jerk."

McGovern has a long record of legislative hostility to organized labor, including what they trately charge as "welching" and "double-crossing" on commitments allegedly made to them.

Whether Meany and McGovern do get together is highly doubtful.

Lieutenants of both are working at it, but with no luck so far.

Up to now, neither Meany nor McGovern has made a serious effort to meet.

Meany has ignored McGovern, except to make disparaging remarks about the South Dakota radical. It's very evident Meany has no intention of extending an invitation; if McGovern asks for one, he'll get it. That's as far as Meany will go.

McGovern has talked about seeking a session with Meany, but has done nothing about it. Several weeks before the Democratic convention, McGovern, in response to a question in a televised interview about labor's opposition to him, said he planned to "phone Mr. Meany next week and drop around to see him."

He has yet to do so.

Although McGovern had time to spend several days resting and relaxing at his $75,000-eleven-acre "Royal Oak" estate on Maryland's Eastern Shore, and met with visitors and others at his campaign headquarters, he made no move to get in touch with Meany.

When an assistant of the veteran AFL-CIO chief asked about that, he replied, "I haven't heard from the jerk. He's not listed on my appointment calendar. That statement about his coming to see me was just another of his publicity stunts."

Addendum: McGovern bought his Eastern Shore place in 1965. There are a swimming pool and a tennis court. The house, located on a cove off of Broad Creek, is roomy with a sun porch that extends the full length of the structure. There is a white picket fence entwined with honeysuckle and other flowers. Records show there is a $34,000 mortgage on the property.

McGovern's custom-built Japanese-style Washington home, which he bought from Chief Judge David Bazelon of the U.S. Circuit Court of the District of Columbia, for $110,000 and a $47,000 mortgage,

The Doctor Speaks

Dear Dr. Thosteson: How much sugar is contained in beer and alcohol? — R. F.

Beer has about 4 per cent sugar content, hard liquor only a trace. Wines, 4 to 8 per cent.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Does prostate gland trouble stop a man from having children? My husband is one of those men who won't go to a doctor. He says he's not going to pay a doctor all that money for something he knows can't be cured. He told me about his prostate trouble back in 1954, and it still bothers him. Is there any way I can get him to a doctor without a lot of trouble? — Mrs. V. C.

What it boils down to is th t your husband doesn't know anything about prostate trouble and he doesn't intend to. Depending on the nature of the trouble, it might or might not have anything to do with having children, but until he is examined, nobody is going to know whether his trouble would have any such effect.

How to get him to a doctor? If I knew a way to do that, I'd gladly tell you. If any reader knows a sure way, let me know! In too many cases, the only way seems to be to wait until some minor ailment has reached a painful and sometimes incurable state.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Why would a family doctor advise a senior patient to sprinkle dry yeast over his food, and take brewer's yeast tablets? — M.V.

Probably because it is a very good source of the B vitamins.

Note to F.U.: The Pap test is not 100 per cent accurate — but its accuracy is in the high 90s, which is better than any other method except actual tissue biopsy.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Nine years ago (when I was 16) I was involved with a boy. Recently I ran into him at a party, and he told me he had syphilis that summer. He said he didn't tell health officials — my name because my parents would have known he was responsible. Now I am 24, married to a wonderful man, the mother of two little girls, and scared to death. How can I find out if I

Guards walk out on riot

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Following settlement of two Maryland state prison riots in 36 hours, more than 100 guards staged a brief walkout claiming that government officials had yielded to prisoner demands.

"We've got to come back in here again," said guard James Whalen. "If these guys aren't disciplined, they'll do the same thing again."

The guards agreed to return to their duties after 90 minutes Monday. They met with Gov. Marvin Mandel who told newsmen that he "made no commitments in the inmates, but we said there would be no physical or mental reprisals."

Some 200 inmates were involved in the riot at the maximum security facility in Baltimore that started at the noon meal Monday.

The inmates held the prison for about five hours, burning one building and taking four hostages. The hostages were released unharmed. Four other persons were injured in the melee.

Saturday evening 300 inmates rioted at the House of Corrections in suburban Jessup. Before order was restored Sunday, there were four persons shot and an estimated $1.5 million in damages from fires and destruction.

The complaints and the methods of airing them in both instances were similar. After gaining control of the prisons and taking hostages the inmates demanded to meet with Mandel and Cep. Parren J. Mitchell, D-Md.

The inmates said the food was bad, medical care was poor and some personnel should be fired.

Mitchell said the prisons were overcrowded, understaffed and old. He recalled the Attica, N.Y., prison riot of last September and said Maryland officials should have been aware that changes were needed in the state's 5,000-inmate system.

"The employees (guards) have been saying these things for the last three years but no one is listening to them," said Ed Johns, executive secretary of the Maryland Classified Employees Association which represents the guards.

Mandel said he would not let the Maryland riots become "another Attica."

The governor moved quickly to regain order in both cases. After hearing grievances of inmate spokesmen, Mandel assured them that steps would be taken to improve the situations.

Mandel then threatened to use police with clubs, dogs and tear gas unless the hostages were released and the inmates returned to their cells.

Nurse dismissal sparks hunger

ATTICA, N.Y. (UPI)—A nurse, whose dismissal apparently sparked a hunger strike Monday by about 900 inmates at the Attica Correctional Facility, has been rehired. There were indications, however, that the firing of Mrs. Mary Kingsley, was only one of a number of problems disturbing the prisoners.

The prisoners refused to leave their cells all day Monday but Ernest L. Montayne, the prison superintendent, said the situation was peaceful. "There was no violence, they just refused to leave their cells."

The scene contrasted sharply with the rebellion last September, when inmates took over part of the prison. The five-day uprising resulted in 43 deaths, including 32 inmates.

The inmates held Mrs. Kingsley in high regard, according to prison officials. A petition which was reportedly circulated among the prisoners described her as a "nurse who listened to our complaints and tried to help."

Mrs. Kingsley, of Medina, said she was slightly bewildered by all the commotion.

Firm publishes surgery guide

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI)—The Pennsylvania Insurance Department released a "Shopper's Guide to Surgery" Monday warning consumers to shop for surgeons just as carefully as they shop for used cars.

Insurance Commissioner Herbert S. Denenberg, author of the guide, said it is designed to prevent consumers from becoming one of the almost 2 million patients each year who undergo needless surgery.

"Most surgeons are competent, conscientious, careful and conservative," Denenberg said. "Some are narrowly trained and tend to do what they are trained to do—operate."

"A small minority are knife-happy, incompetent and greedy. And there is a tendency for surgeons to do their thing—which is to perform surgery."

The guide cites numerous studies and books, including one by Ralph Nader, which support Denenberg's contention that "unnecessary surgery takes a needless toll of human lives and generates suffering, disability and expense."

It said, for example, that a study by Columbia University School of Public Health and Administrative Medicine found that of 60 hysterectomies, 20 were unnecessary and six were questionable.

The guide was the fourth in a series published by Denenberg. It was preceded by shopper's guides for auto insurance, life insurance and hospitals.

Released from prison

LEWISBURG, Pa. (UPI)—Dr. Martin Sweig was released from a federal prison farm Monday after serving one year of a 2-1/2 year sentence on a perjury conviction involving influence peddling in former House Speaker John McCormack's office.

Sweig, former chief administrative assistant to McCormack, entered the prison farm at Allenwood July 23, 1971 after he was convicted in federal court of the perjury charge.

Miner in Nevada faces tax count

LAS VEGAS (UPI)—Eldon Cleveland, a veteran Nevada miner who sold or arranged the sale of numerous mining claims to Hughes Tool Co. in the late 1960's, owes the government more than $1.8 million in back taxes, according to a federal lien on file in Clark County.

The delinquent tax payments are for the years 1968 and 1969, according to the lien. Those were the same years in which Hughes Tool Co. spent some $18 million to buy up thousands of mining claims in counties throughout Nevada.

It was the first recorded hint of the intensive Internal Revenue Service investigation into the Hughes Mining acquisition operation.

John Meier, acting as a "scientific advisor" for Hughes, headed the mining claim buying spree in the late 1960's. Cleveland, now reportedly in South America and suffering from a heart ailment, was a consultant to Meier.

Hughes purchased the mining claims for cash.

Dismissal of astronauts sought over 'moon-mail'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Wisconsin congressman believes the Apollo 15 astronauts should be kicked out of the space program for their "moon-mail" caper.

Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., said Monday the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) "grossly underreacted" when it only reprimanded astronauts Col. David R. Scott, Lt. Col. Alfred M. Worden and Col. James B. Irwin.

The astronauts took 400 specially postmarked envelopes to the moon. A foreign dealer got some of the envelopes and sold the stamp collector items for $1,500 each.

The astronauts were reprimanded and Worden left the space program although NASA said his departure was approved before the moonmail became an issue.

Aspin said that if the scheme had worked it probably would have netted the Apollo 15 crew more than $500,000.

"They should be thrown out of the space program," the former Pentagon economist said.

Aspin contended NASA officials "almost certainly had to be aware" of the three astronauts' scheme.

NASA confirmed details of the smuggling episode, but its spokesmen said the spacemen abandoned the plan to sell the envelopes for personal profit after about 100 postcards had been sold. NASA said the astronauts did not receive the money.

"Why after all of this planning and effort did they finally decide that their illicit scheme was immoral?" Aspin asked. "Was it moral qualms that made them abandon their plan, or was it the realization that they might get caught? Or did NASA actually order them to abandon the scheme and then try to cover up their abortive attempt?"

Russ spaceships given for project

By AL ROSSITER JR.
UPI Space Writer
SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—Russia plans to commit two Soyuz spaceships and rockets to the joint Soviet-American project aiming toward a rendezvous of cosmonauts and astronauts in Earth orbit three years from now.

U.S. project manager Glynn S. Sounes said at a news conference Monday the preparation of two of the Russian ship for flight will increase the probabilities of success for the unprecedented space meeting.

Soviet space officials advised their American counterparts of the dual Soyuz plan during a two-week meeting at the Manned Spacecraft Center which reached agreements on several key technical areas, including a July, 1975, target date.

talks were held in an "especially friendly atmosphere."

The American and Soviet engineers will meet again in the fall in Moscow.

According to the latest plans, three Americans will be launched in an Apollo command ship from Cape Kennedy to rendezvous and dock with one of the Soyuz ships, manned by two cosmonauts. The original plan called for the Apollo to take off first, but with the addition of a second Soyuz to the project, officials of both nations agreed to launch one of the Soyuz first.

Army recalls cattle prods from warzone

SAIGON (UPI)—The U.S. command said today it is recalling the electric cattle prods that were issued to some medical evacuation crews in the An Loc area to prevent South Vietnamese soldiers from mobbing the helicopters.

A command spokesman said "a small number" of the three-foot "shock batons" were issued to the units "in the belief that they might be useful as a safe method of discouraging individuals from attempting to crowd on overloaded helicopters and endangering the lives of U.S. crewmen and South Vietnamese passengers."

"To the best of our knowledge none has been used," said the command statement. "A determination has since been made that these items were not required and they are being withdrawn."

Unlike the teargas cannisters also issued to some U.S. helicopter units, it is impossible for officials to tell if a prod has been used.

The prods, battery operated devices which emit a strong electric shock, were authorized after several American helicopters were rushed by South Vietnamese troops in and around An Loc during the heavy fighting for control of the province capital, 60 miles north of Saigon.

"I felt that a lot of the injuries around An Loc were from falling off helicopters," said one pilot.

U.S. spokesmen said the teargas has never been used.

It is not known if teargas was on board a helicopter which overturned Friday near Quang Tri city, far to the north of An Loc, after it was mobbed by South Vietnamese marines.

The crew chief on a second helicopter was shot and killed while trying to rescue the crew of the crashed craft.

Martial law for S. Viets

SAIGON (UPI) — President Nguyen Van Thieu's new martial law decree provides jail terms for strikers, curfew violators and agitators and allows police to shoot to kill motorists who disregard orders to halt, the government news agency said today.

The act signed into law Saturday by the president also provides jail terms for employers who fire workers during the period of the state of war and for persons who circulate news or pictures "detrimental to the national security." It will permit shooting to kill looters, arsonists or saboteurs who attempt to flee when ordered to halt.

All violators will be tried before military courts, the news agency said.

The tough new restrictions on curfew violations provide jail terms of six days to two months and fines of $2.50 to $25. Similar jail terms and fines of $12.50 to $250 will be imposed on strikers and on employers who fire workers.

Agitators who organize meetings and demonstrations "detrimental to public order" will be jailed from one month to six months. Circulators of news or pictures "detrimental to national security" will be jailed and their printing implements and means of transport seized.

Looters, arsonists, saboteurs or persons who commit "any other actions detrimental to the lives and properties of others at public installations, factories, offices, ships, vehicles," may be shot if they disregard a second order to halt, the news agency said.

"Public agents are also entitled to shoot after vehicles, and ships which continue to run despite the 'halt' order given more than once by whistle or signal or shouting," the news agency said.

The news agency, Vietnam Press, failed to define "public agents" but it presumably would include security guards, soldiers and militiamen assigned to guard duty, and home guardsmen (unpaid volunteer part time soldiers) assigned to security patrols in and around cities and villages.

Viet project losses found

SAIGON (UPI)—About one of every five dollars invested in air conditioning and elevators for a construction project financed with compulsory savings of South Vietnamese soldiers was lost or embezzled, an investigating committee has found.

Maj. Gen. Nguyen Van Hieu, special assistant to the vice president, reported the shortages Friday in announcing the results of the first phase of the investigation, the government news agency said Sunday. Hieu is secretary general of the Special Investigation Committee.

The air conditioners and elevators were purchased for a bank building under construction by military engineers in downtown Saigon as an investment of the Military Saving and Mutual Assistance Fund. The decision to build the bank was made by former Defense Minister Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Vy rather than by the fund's executive council, Hieu said. The investigators found that the council did not act on the project until a year after Vy's decision.

Hieu said that of $185,900 spent on elevators, $41,880 was lost or embezzled. He said that of $249,410 spent on 13 air conditioners, $44,710 was lost or embezzled.

Hieu said to date the committee has considered only two of 60 contracts involved in the construction project.

Hieu said a 28-page report covering the first phase of the probe will be submitted with recommendations to President Nguyen Van Thieu for action.

UN chief in Russ

MOSCOW (UPI)—Secretary General Kurt Waldheim of the United Nations Monday made his first visit to the Soviet Union as head of the world body.

Western diplomatic sources said Waldheim would discuss the Middle East situation and other foreign policy matters with Soviet leaders. He conferred recently with Gennar V. Jarring, the U.N. mediator for the Middle East in Geneva.

The official Tass news agency said Waldheim was greeted at Moscow's international airport by Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and other officials. The itinerary for his visit was not officially disclosed, but Western diplomats said he would spend five days in the Soviet Union and would confer with Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, Gromyko and other high-ranking officials.

It said a quarter of today's five-year-olds probably will wear some kind of dentures by the time they are 60.

Miss Egusquiza, Hall recite vows

GLENN'S FERRY — The Veterans Memorial Hall was the setting for the double ring ceremony uniting Mary Bernarda Egusquiza and Leslie Wayne Hall.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Egusquiza, Glenn's Ferry, the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hall, King Hill.

Rev. Edward Bawden officiated at the nuptials July 2.

Shades of pink and white were used at the altar and the climbing rose arch. Floor baskets of pink and white roses and candelabra of gold with white candles flanked the arch.

The bride, given by her father, wore a floor length gown of white Chantilly lace, princess silhouette. It was fashioned with a square scallop neckline and lily point sleeves. The gown had a fitted bodice of lace and tulle over taffeta, the bodice dipped to a point below the waistline.

The full bouffant 'sweep' skirt had rows of lace ruffles. A rhinestone tiara accented her sheer bouffant veil of bridal illusion draped to her elbows. Her bridal bouquet was of white daisies and centered with pink rose buds and trimmed with pink net and pink and white satin ribbons. She wore a silver cross necklace, a gift of the bridegroom.

Betty Irving was maid of honor and Mary Sims, cousin of the bride, and Juanita Marin were bridesmaids.

Connie Hall, sister of the bridegroom, and Tressa Falconburg of Jerome, niece of the bridegroom, were flower girls.

Lee Hoagland of King Hill was best man, Alvin Hall and Guy Vern Hall, brothers of the bridegroom, Louis Egusquiza, cousin of the bride, and Richard Egusquiza, brother of the bride, served as ushers. Jeffery Irving, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Irving of Hammett was ringbearer.

Wanda Callison, cousin of the bride, and Susie Hall, sister of the bridegroom, were candelighters.

The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth over pink rose cover. It was centered with a four tier cake trimmed with pink roses, white hearts and white doves and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, under a double circle archway.

Mrs. Celia Ann Falconburg, sister of bridegroom, Jerome, and Mrs. R. A. Sims, aunt of bride, Glenn's Ferry, cut and served the cake. Mrs. Frank Irons and Mrs. Michael Chaffin, King Hill, served the punch. Mrs. C. G. Callison, Glenn's Ferry, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Ines Brown, Gooding, were seated at the silver coffee service. The service, dated 1871, was a wedding gift to the bride's great grandmother, Mrs. T. A. White.

Debbie Crane registered the guests. The gift tables matched the serving tables. Joylee Wheeler, Lis Crane, Shawn McNeely, Glenn's Ferry, and Christine Hall, sister of the bridegroom, King Hill, displayed the gifts.

John Lawson, King Hill, played the background music and accompanied Lois Watkins, Emmett, cousin of the bride, for vocal numbers.

The young couple will reside at 21 E. Cleveland, Glenn's Ferry. The bridegroom is employed on the Muleshoe Ranch, west of Glenn's Ferry.

Guests attended from Jerome, Gooding, Fruitland, Emmett, Weiser, Boise, Mountain Home, Hammett and King Hill, including the grandfather of the bride, Paul White of Glenn's Ferry.

MISS MCINTYRE sets date

August wedding planned

TWIN FALLS — Mr. and Mrs. Gene McIntyre, Twin Falls, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Patsy McIntyre, to Kenneth D. Watts.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Watts, Sandpoint. Miss McIntyre will be a senior this fall at the University of Idaho, Moscow, majoring in special education. She is a 1969 graduate of Twin Falls High School and received an associate of arts in education from the College of Southern Idaho in 1971.

Watts is a graduate student in mechanical engineering at the U of I.

The wedding is set for Aug. 12 at the Presbyterian Church with Rev. Robert Van Nest officiating.

4-H'ers meet set

GLENN'S FERRY — The 4-H Council and County Builders will meet at the fair building at 8 p.m. on July 25.

All the county builders should come prepared to paint.

This will be a work meeting, according to Mrs. Marilyn Jordan, Elmore County home extension agent. Any that arrive early can begin working. Members are asked to note that this meeting is on Tuesday night, instead of Monday night, as the previous council meetings have been.

Camp Fire counselor named

RUPERT — Joyce Hillis, Rupert, has been selected as one of six junior counselors for the three week Camp Fire Girls camp today through Aug. 5.

The camp for girls is at Camp Tawakani, south of Hansen in the South Hills.

The program includes activities for all girls beginning with seven-year-old Bluebirds.

The older girls will receive instruction in advanced camping skills in preparation for a back-pack trip into the surrounding hills during the final week of camp.

Ann Dally, camp director, announced enrollment for the first week has been filled with 74 girls registering. There are still some vacancies for the second and third week of camp, according to Miss Dally. Girls interested in attending camp should submit their registration at once, she said.

Other junior counselors besides Miss Hillis are Marie Leclair, Becky Meeks and Tina Vice, all Twin Falls and Dawn Jacobson and Cindy Bergin, both Shoshone. All of the junior counselors have themselves attended Camp Tawakani, as Camp Fire Girls.

Stir fry to retain nutrition

SHOSHONE — Nutrition in vegetables can be saved by "panning." Instead of the boiling-in-water method.

Mrs. Jean Anness, home economics agent, said the panning is often called the "Chinese method, or stir frying."

To pan a vegetable, first slice, dice or shred it. Melt one or two tablespoons of oil or fat in a heavy skillet, add the vegetable and salt. Cook over low heat until tender, stir occasionally to prevent sticking.

For variety, try adding finely chopped onion or onion juice before you cook the vegetable, or crumble bits of crisp bacon into cooked vegetables.

MISS CORRELL engaged

Engagement revealed

JEROME — Mr. and Mrs. Keith Shewmaker announce the engagement of her daughter, Rebecca F. Correll, to Robert Davis, all Jerome.

Davis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Davis, Jerome.

The bride-elect was graduated from Jerome High School in 1971 and attends Boise State College. She is employed by Carroll's Inc., Boise.

Davis was graduated from Jerome High School in 1971 and is assistant manager of Floyd's Shoe Stop, Pocatello. He will attend Idaho State University this fall.

The exact wedding date has not been set.

Return from Greece

FILER — Frankie and Greg Knight, Boise, daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Knight, former Filer residents, returned recently from Greece where they visited friends.

They are the grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Musgrave, Filer, and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Knight, Twin Falls.

After spending three weeks in Greece, Miss Knight toured New York before returning to Boise.

Dawn Walker, Race wed

RICHFIELD — Dawn Renee Walker and Tom Race were united in marriage in rites conducted July 1 at the First Baptist Church in Shoshone.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Bishop La Mar Duffin of the Shoshone LDS Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Walker, Richfield. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Merle Race, Shoshone.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of nylon net and lace that featured a full skirt and chapel train. The fitted bodice formed a point in the front and back. Lace scallops outlined the rounded neckline, and the long nylon net sleeves formed a point over the wrist.

Her elbow length veil of bridal illusion was caught in a crown adorned with pearls. The bride carried a bridal bouquet of yellow rosebuds and baby's breath.

The bride wore a diamond necklace belonging to her mother. Her gown was borrowed from her sister, Marilyn Elorrieta, Twin Falls, who was her matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Charlene Race, sister of the groom, Shoshone, and Kelly Pridmore and Joanne Riley, Richfield. Lisa Elorrieta, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

The best man was Bill Johnston, Richfield. Ushers were Dennis Race, brother of the groom, Shoshone, and Sidney F. Edwards III and David Chatfield, Richfield.

Candelighters were Todd Race, brother of the groom, Shoshone, and Patrick Elorrieta, nephew of the bride, Twin Falls. The ring bearer was Terry Race, brother of the groom, Shoshone.

The ceremony was performed in the chapel decorated with beauty baskets of yellow gladioli yellow candles and yellow and white palms tied with green ribbon bows. The pews were decorated with green ribbon bows.

A reception and dance honoring the couple were held at the Legion Hall in Richfield following the ceremony.

The bride's table was covered with a white lace ruffled skirt over white taffeta and adorned with green ribbon bows and streamers. On it was a large white memory candle with yellow netting, ribbon and flowers.

Three white satin wedding bells topped the four-tier wedding cake. White candles in silver candelabra flanked the cake and were highlighted with corsages of white and yellow palms.

Serving the wedding cake and punch were Mrs. Clifford Conner, Mrs. Robert Aja, Mrs. Loyd Lee and Mrs. Clifford Dayley, all Richfield.

Assisting with the gifts were Mrs. Melvin Pope, Richfield, and Kathy Heath and Debbie Magoffin, both Shoshone.

The guest book was attended by Mrs. David Chatfield, Richfield. She sat at a round table covered with a white ruffled skirt.

Special guests were Amos Walker, paternal grandfather of the bride, Twin Falls, and the groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Race, Gooding, and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Johnston, Phoenix, Ariz.

Out of state guests were from California, Utah, Oregon and Arizona. Other guests attended from Rupert, Burley, Gooding, Twin Falls, Shoshone, Richfield, Wendell and Fairfield.

Showers honoring the bride were given by Mrs. David Chatfield, Kelly Pridmore and Joanne Riley, all Richfield.

After a honeymoon trip to Jackson Hole and Yellowstone Park, the new couple are making their home in Richfield where the groom is employed at the C. F. Chatfield ranch.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: This is in regard to that lady whose husband is always gawking at women with big bosoms while she is made to feel inferior because she is small.

I have what is considered a "sexy" bosom, and I hate it! Ever since my teens I have been conspicuously large. Even today I have an entire bureau drawer filled with expensive bras of every description because I have never found a comfortable one. I am sick and tired of bras which cut and bind and torture me.

I am seriously considering surgery to reduce the size of my bosom. I envy the woman who is lucky enough to enjoy the freedom and comfort of a small bosom. And if her husband is a male chauvinist pig who humiliates her by constantly gawking at big-bosomed women, any psychologist could tell him that he is still a little boy looking for his Mommy.

BIG IS BURDENSOME

DEAR BIG: Your feeling has been confirmed by many. But one woman's "burden" is another woman's booty prize.

DEAR ABBY: Do you think retired parents should spend EVERY day with their married daughter? Mine have rented an apartment near us and they use my home to store all their "hate-to-part-with" treasures. My closets contain their off-season clothing, and they use my house as theirs, which doesn't upset me, but I resent more and more the lack of privacy.

They come here at 9 a.m. for "coffee" and stay for lunch, then they wait for the children to come home from school. They are still here when I start dinner, and since they never have any plans, I ask them to stay. They don't sponge off us. In fact, they're always bringing steaks, fresh fish or something for the family.

They do many things to "help" me. Dad works in the yard and Mom sews and darts and bakes. I go to nothing alone. Not even a dental appointment. They like to go along "for the ride" and are content to just sit in the car and wait for me.

Altho there are many retired couples in this community, my folks want no part of them. We are their only interest. Several years ago our friends were very good about including them in parties, etc., but they grew tired of this, and now our social life is very sparse.

Well, Dear Abby, my problem is somewhere in this rambling letter, so if you can find it, perhaps you'll offer a solution.

TRAPPED

DEAR TRAPPED: Your problem wasn't hard to find. You lack the courage to extricate yourself from a situation which has become stifling. The only solution is to try harder to acquaint them with their contemporaries, and introduce them to other interests.

DEAR ABBY: Three cheers for that wife of 50 years who was married to Herman, and felt that after 50 years of "for better or worse" she was entitled to a few years of "better" before she died.

She probably raised a family and helped Herman in his business, while Herman (on his off hours) charmed the ladies and pursued his hobbies. Then Herman grew old and the ladies were no longer charmed.

Herman's wife probably got tired of hearing Herman tell people what a great father and husband he was. And how hard he had worked all his life to become a big success from such a humble beginning.

Hooray for Herman's wife who had the courage to call it quits after 50 years. I hope she's living it up in Palm Springs, and still has the health to play a few games of canasta.

I wish I had her courage.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. James Keefe before altar baskets filled with lavender gladioli and candelabra, decorated with greenery, florets and tied with lavender bows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a Bridal Original Val lace edged Chaped length veil. The floor length gown of dacron polyester organza was trimmed in a pinafore effect on the bodice, with a high neck and bishop sleeves.

Her bridal bouquet was single lavender orchid arranged on a Bible with a handkerchief which was brought from Hong Kong by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Frahm, and made by an aunt, Mrs. Mary McCloud.

She wore a gold locket, a gift from the bridegroom. Her gift to him was a St. Christopher medal.

Her matron of honor was Mrs. Brian Crockett, Gardnerville, Nev., sister of the bride. Mrs. Doug Werner and Mary Ann Hildreth were bridesmaids. Candelighters were sisters of the bride and bridegroom, Sherri Gunter and Debra Ball. George Wagner, Buhl, was best man. Darryle James, Halley, and Don Sievers, Twin Falls, were ushers.

Guests were registered by Sandra Fredrickson and scrolls were presented to guests by Stacey Crockett.

Giftbearers were Benny Gunter, brother of the bridegroom, Sherri Gunter, sister of the bridegroom, and Debra Ball, sister of the bride. A reception was held after the ceremony.

ceremony in the Church Fellowship room. The bride's table was covered with a floor-length lavender cloth overlaid with white lace.

The six-tier white cake, centering the table, was enhanced with shades of lavender roses, cherubs and doves, and was topped with a wedding bell cluster. Shades of lavender chrysanthemums flanked the cake. Mrs. Roger White, Jerome, and Mrs. Lewis Reed, Hansen, decorated the cake.

Round quartet tables covered like the bride's table were centered with tippers filled with lavender, pink and white flowers and lavender candles.

The newlyweds stood before a tassled Austrian backdrop with a valance of lavender, and stood on a lavender rug. The bride's table, too, was before sheer white curtains with a sheer valance of lavender background. Between the reception line and bride's table a backdrop of greenery and lavender wisteria were placed.

Guests were guided to the reception line, first by a large lavender net heart with a bouquet of flowers nestled at the top, then a garland-lined pathway to the reception line and bride's table.

The gift tables were headed with a large ball of lavender net, with a bouquet of flowers at the top, and centering the gift table was a large bouquet of lilacs.

Mrs. Ed Flora, aunt of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Brice Standlee cut and served the cake. Judy Pollard and Katie Rasmussen, classmates of the bride, served coffee and punch. Ladies of the Christian Women's Fellowship served as hostesses.

Guests were present from California, Wendell, Boise, Jerome, Buhl, Halley, Hollister, Castleford and Hansen.

After a wedding trip to Banff and Jasper National Park the couple will reside in Twin Falls until this fall. They will then move to Logan, Utah, where the bridegroom will attend college and the bride will do stenographic work at the college.

Prenuptial showers were given at the home of Mrs. Howard Sievers with Mrs. Standlee and Mrs. Lenden Gunter as co-hostesses, and by Mary Ann Hildreth and Mrs. Doug Werner at the home of Mrs. Tommy Russell.

Curtain or drapery styles should relate to the style of a room. For example, an informal colonial room might have cafe curtains. Formal swags would not be appropriate.

Today's hand was played almost 40 years ago at New York's Cavendish Club by a new member named Helen White.

Helen won the spade lead in her own hand and after some thought played her ace of clubs. West's singleton queen dropped and from then on it was an easy matter for Helen to collect a second club trick and win the rubber.

West was one of the Cavendish experts of the day and was rather unhappy about losing the rubber so he proceeded to explain carefully that her play of the club ace had worked but it was still a frightful play and if she wanted to be a good bridge player she should learn how to play card combinations.

Helen thanked him, but didn't bother to explain that her play of the club ace had insured her two club tricks against any and all card combinations. Just look it over carefully.

She was sure of two club tricks against any 3-2 break. How about 5-0? Cough! Suppose 4-1 with both honors in either hand. A second club lead toward dummy would show the situation.

For the record, young Helen married tournament director Al Sobel shortly thereafter and as Helen Sobel is remembered as the greatest woman bridge player of all time

Chessmen

AMERICAN CHESS challenger Bobby Fischer, right, won the third game in the $250,000 world championship match against Russia's Boris Spassky, left, who resigned when the board looked like the picture above. The game took 42 moves, 41 the first day and one the second. Fischer, whose second made the winning bishop to Q6 move for him, was not present when the moment of triumph came. He's lagging behind in the series, holding one game to Spassky's two. (UPI)

Fischer misses greatest triumph

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (UPI)

It was the greatest triumph in his career, yet Bobby Fischer missed the moment by arriving late.

Ten minutes before the 29-year-old American challenger rushed into the exhibition hall, titleholder Boris Spassky resigned, giving Fischer his first win in the drive to take the world chess championship. His win in the third game in the 24-match world championship cut Spassky's lead to 2-1.

The fourth game is scheduled to start at 5 p.m. (1 p.m. EDT) today with Fischer playing white, thus giving him the first move.

The end of third game—begun Sunday and adjourned until Monday—was swift. German referee Lothar Schmid and Spassky were alone on the stage with no sign of the American when the clock passed 5 p.m. Schmid opened a large, brown envelope, read the move Fischer had scribbled down Sunday night when the game adjourned and moved Fischer's bishop.

The crowd held its breath and waited for Spassky to sit down. For 30 seconds the Russian stood by the board and looked at the pieces. Then he calmly stopped the clock to his right. He tipped over his king indicating he resigned, nodded curtly to Schmid and left.

The hall was almost empty and Schmid ready to leave when Fischer rushed in. He looked round but could not find Spassky.

"What happened, had he resigned?" Fischer asked. Schmid nodded and in one swift movement Fischer had grabbed his pencil and signed the game sheet.

"Is that all?" he asked. Not a flicker of emotion showed on his face although he had scored his first victory against Spassky.

Spassky's decision to resign on the 42nd move came as no surprise for the large gathering of grand and international masters in the hall. Fischer had the advantage of a pawn and a stronger attacking position.

With his protegee back in the presidential suite, Father William Lombardy, Fischer's second, told newsmen, "This could be the turning point."

"Don't forget Bobby came through a lot of trouble. After four defeats and two draws against Spassky (including previous nonchampionship games), he has finally broken the ice with more to come. I think it was one of Bobby's best and most important wins."

Fischer resigned the first game on the 56th move and lost the second game last Thursday, by forfeit when he failed to show up in protest against the presence in the hall of television cameras.

Monday it was the Russian camp's turn to lodge a protest against playing conditions. Spassky had agreed to play the third match Sunday in a secluded table tennis room on the first floor of the hall, but protested against outside noise.

At an emergency meeting Monday morning Schmid ruled the match should return to the main hall.

"Mr. Spassky said he could hear children playing and traffic noise below. He did not like the lighting and also objected to the board. Comparing conditions there was no doubt in my mind that the smaller room was vastly inferior to the hall," Schmid said.

Finance leaders round out money reformation

LONDON (UPI) — Western European finance ministers today rounded out details of an eight-point blueprint for reform of the creaking world monetary system.

They planned to present it as a joint European contribution to worldwide money talks in Washington in September.

Britain's Chancellor of the Exchequer Anthony Barber said Monday the blueprint constituted the "fundamental objectives of a new world monetary system rather than rigid positions taken up in advance of the Washington talks."

He stressed that the ministers who agreed on it represented countries with a total population of 266 million and 10 per cent of world trade.

Barber presided Monday at the opening session of a two-day meeting of finance ministers from the six present Common Market countries and the four which join next January—Britain, Ireland, Denmark and Norway.

The eight-point blueprint, according to Barber, provided that:

—The new system should be based on fixed but adjustable currency parities.

—It should be designed to re-establish general convertibility of currencies.

—It should provide for effective international regulation of the supply of money "liquidity" in the world.

—It should provide for securing the necessary adjustments in the balance of payments of participating countries.

—It should seek to cut down the effect of short term movements of capital which upset world monetary stability.

—It should conform to the principle of equal rights and obligations of all participating countries.

—It should take into account the interests of developing countries.

—It should make clear that such a system is in no way incompatible with progress towards economic and monetary union in Western Europe.

NY power out

NEW YORK (UPI) — Some 300,000 Brooklyn residents were without electric power today, following a massive failure of Consolidated Edison feeder cables.

Police, reinforced by the tactical patrol force, beefed up their regular patrols in the darkened areas. At least one arrest for looting was reported and there were reports of rock-throwing at houses, stores and patrol cars.

Russia fails in China reconciliation attempt

LONDON (UPI)—A new Soviet attempt at reconciliation with China has failed, diplomatic sources said today.

Peking was said to have scored recent Soviet diplomatic approaches aimed at improving the strained relations between the two Communist giants.

Resumed talks on their border dispute in Peking have produced no results. The talks have been in progress for several years and after a temporary lull were resumed recently with a new Chinese representative.

The latest Russian approaches to Peking were part of the Kremlin's current global peace offensive, primarily aimed at the United States and Europe. The Soviets apparently tried to get on friendly terms also with China, but found no response.

Diplomatic sources reported that Peking remains uneasy about Russia's power and her alleged expansionist tendencies in the Far East.

Peking's current overriding fear was said to be motivated by anxiety that the Soviet Union may become the strongest superpower, overtaking the United States. Peking evidently would prefer a balance between the superpowers, although it remains wary of both.

China's fears, the sources said, have been further heightened lately by Russia's revived push for a Far Eastern security pact which Peking sees as a calculated move to encircle China politically.

There is, moreover, strong suspicion on the part of China of Soviet attempts to win North Vietnam over to the Russian side. These fears have lately subsided somewhat because of Hanoi's anger over lack of active Soviet response to the American blockade of North Vietnamese ports and over Moscow's counsel to the North Vietnamese to negotiate a settlement.

Peking, the sources reported, was therefore out to improve its own political stance in Asia.

The recent Korean developments which brought about talks between the two parts of Korea were seen at least partly as having been sponsored by China.

NEW YORK (UPI) — The non-commercial Public Broadcasting Service's stations will have available in the fall a series of 12 programs dealing with international music and dance made possible through a $500,000 grant by the General Electric Company. The series originally was produced for France's national video network. The first of the programs, which total 14 hours of entertainment, will be aired in mid-October.

GM head accepts award

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Edward N. Cole, president of General Motors, accepted a national safety award Monday and said critics of Detroit "might take a different attitude" if they could see the inside of the complex automobile business.

Outside the hotel where Cole accepted the award, the critics protest signs carried by about 50 members of consumers groups read, "Put GM's safety award in ITT's paper shredder," and "Enjoy your Vega—between recalls."

In Washington, D.C., Ralph Nader called the first annual safety award by the National Motor Vehicle Safety Advisory Council "outrageous" and a "mockery of justice."

"It reveals conflicts of interest within the advisory council and the final takeover of that council by automotive interests," Nader said. The Naders Raiders unveiled a statue made of "defective GM parts" they said should be presented to Cole as the "Automotive Engineering Malpractice Award."

Cole did not comment directly on criticism of his selection by Nader and Walker Sanbach, executive director of the Consumer's Union who resigned from the safety council in protest.

Mass slay suspect found in contempt

FAIRFIELD, Calif. (UPI)—Mass murder suspect Juan V. Corona followed his attorney's advice Monday and was fined $250.

Attorney Richard E. Hawk advised Corona, accused in the slayings of 25 migrant farm workers, against giving a handwriting sample in the courtroom of Superior Judge Richard Patten.

The judge found them both in contempt. He ordered Hawk to serve 48 hours in jail.

Patten cited a case in which it was found that "persistent refusal to provide handwriting examples could be construed as evidence of guilt."

Corona told the judge, "I have given you and the district attorney enough," when asked directly for the handwriting sample.

Execution of the contempt sentences was delayed until July 24 to give the defendants time to appeal the ruling.

Corona, 38, is charged with hacking 25 farm laborers to death and burying their bodies along the Feather River in Sutter County. His trial was moved to Solano County because of the publicity the case received in the area around Yuba City.

Russia to prepare two spaceships

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—Russia will prepare two Soyuz spaceships to increase the chances of success for an unprecedented meeting of Americans and Russians in Earth orbit in 1975, space leaders of both nations reported Monday.

One of the Soviet crafts will be launched from the Baikonur Cosmodrome with two cosmonauts aboard and then three American astronauts will be launched seven and a half hours later from Cape Kennedy in an Apollo command ship.

The two spacecraft will rendezvous and link the next day to test complicated new equipment designed to allow either nation to rescue stranded spacemen. The ships will remain docked for two days and two Americans will visit the Soyuz and one cosmonaut will enter the Apollo for several hours of familiarization and experiments.

The mission plans and a July, 1975, target date were agreed on by engineers and officials of both countries during a two-week technical meeting, which ended Monday with a news conference at the Manned Spacecraft Center. American and Russian flags stood together at one end of the rostrum.

"We have achieved considerable success in the course of these discussions," said Dr. Boris N. Petrov, president of the Soviet Interkosmos Council. "The way is now open to the agreement on details that will insure the success of this experimental flight."

"This project can hardly be exaggerated in its importance because it opens up the way to the creation of joint missions in such a way that they can accomplish the humane purpose of insuring the greater safety for the men who fly in our spacecraft, as well as the conduct in space of joint experiments by both Americans and Soviet astronauts," Petrov said through an interpreter.

Space Center Director Christopher C. Kraft said that a lot of work remains to be accomplished before the mission can be launched. The Soviet project director, K. D. Bushuyev, agreed and said the latest discussions have occurred in an "especially friendly atmosphere."

The original plans called for the Apollo to be launched first and then the Soyuz. But this was changed when the Russians said they will commit two Soyuz spacecraft to the mission.

Shot planned

RUSSIAN and U.S. space scientists discuss and agree on plans for the rendezvous and docking between a U.S. Apollo spacecraft and a Russian Soyuz spacecraft. Demonstrating the docking with a scale model are, from left, K. D. Bushuyev, Soviet technical project director; Boris N. Petrov, Council of Interkosmos; C. C. Kraft, head of the U. S. delegation, and G. S. Lunney, technical director.

Stabbing suspect 'chased by witches'

TACOMA, Wash. (UPI)—A suspect in the stabbing of five persons at a Greyhound bus depot said he had been chased out of Portland, Ore., by witches, police reported Sunday.

"He must have been brooding about something," a police spokesman said of Alexander Murphy, 23, the suspect.

Murphy was shot twice by bus driver Harold Falgreen, 47, Auburn, Calif., after the suspect "began stabbing and slashing indiscriminately" with a 3-1/2 inch-blade knife on Friday night.

Four persons remained in the hospital in satisfactory condition and one has been released. Murphy was in critical condition Sunday.

Police said that no charges were filed against Murphy, but that some "action" would be taken today.

A man got off a bus from Portland Friday night and began slashing 22-year-old Linda Chapman of Portland. She fell to the ground but he continued the attack, police said.

A nearby bus driver, Harvey Powell, attempted to drag the man from Miss Chapman and was slashed twice. According to police, the man then re-entered the bus and stabbed Frida Kunz, 63, John Hopkins, 63, and Lucile Osvald, 75, all of Portland.

Falgreen shot Murphy in the arm with a gun from his briefcase. The suspect fell, but got back up with his knife in hand and Falgreen fired again, hitting the assailant in the middle of the chest, police said.

Many fabric retailers believe the new knits are stealing the home-fashion show from other fabrics. One company's records, for example, show a 24 per cent increase in knits in little over a two-year period. Double knits are leading the way.

Indian forces hunt man-eater

NEW DELHI (UPI)—Troopers of the Indo-Tibetan Border Police Force have been pressed into the service to hunt down a man-eating tiger that has killed 33 persons in the Kumaon Hills of northern India.

The regional commissioner of the area told reporters in the district headquarters at Nainital last week that besides the police force, hundreds of villagers along with two veteran sportsmen are involved in the hunt. They are combing a 400-square-mile area known for its dense jungles inhabited by elephants, tigers, panthers, bears and various species of reptiles.

The commissioner said parties of hunters will fan out in the eastern and western banks of the River Ramganga and try to drive the tiger into the open with the help of elephants and beaters—men who form lines and march along making as much noise as possible.

Official statistics list 33 human "kills" against the man-eater but local villagers swear the tiger has already accounted for more than 100 human lives.

The tiger, probably the most efficient killing machine in Nature, is a protected animal in India now. Recent wild life census figures have indicated an alarming drop in the tiger population—from nearly 40,000 in 1950 to a low of 2,000 last year.

Costly diamond

HONG KONG (UPI)—One of the world's longest and finest diamonds, the Jonker Diamond, was sold to a Japanese businessman for about $3.5 million recently, the diamond's previous owners said.

"The Japanese flew to the Colony last month for the sole purpose of buying the diamond. It took him three weeks to complete negotiations with us," a spokesman for the Chow Tai Fook Jewellery Co. said.

The diamond came to Hong Kong four months ago from Europe. It was once owned by King Farouk of Egypt but after his exile it was said to have been bought by a tycoon in Europe.

It weighs 125.65 carats and is about 1.5 inches long, 1.2 inches wide and more than an inch deep.

Pope gives out vacation advice

CASSELGANDOLFO, Italy (UPI)—Pope Paul VI told Roman Catholics to read good books and see good friends during their vacations.

"Do not be content with thrillers and so-called best sellers, which are so often of doubtful value from a moral and literary point of view," he told pilgrims and tourists gathered to receive his first Sunday blessing at his summer retreat.

The Pope arrived in Casteigandolfo Saturday for his annual two-month "working vacation," but appeared on the balcony of his summer palace in the Alban hills to give his usual Sunday blessing.

"Even worse are the worldly illustrated magazines and the sad pages of worthless publications which now are invading and infecting every place," he said.

Instead, the Pope said, "you should talk to serious and good friends and read good books."

Hudson's Shoe Repair . . . Expert Boot & Shoe Repairs

Pictured above is Mr. Jim Mann, Owner of Hudson's Shoe Repair Shop located in the basement of Hudson's Shoes Downtown Twin Falls. Here we see Jim using a "Stitching" machine to put new soles on a pair of shoes. Jim has been doing this type of work for over thirty-five years here in Magic Valley. His shop is one of the most modern in the valley with over $18,000 worth of precision machinery. Over the years, Jim has repaired shoes and boots for most of the prominent families of Magic Valley. In years past, Jim did custom work, making, by hand, boots and shoes to order. He says, "The three most important aspects of a successful shoe repair business are: Good Work, Good materials, and fast service."

Even though Jim does a lot of work on cowboy boots and work shoes, he says his favorite is women's shoes. Another very important aspect of this business is orthopedic corrective adjustments. Jim takes particular pride in being able to assist the crippled or deformed by rebuilding shoes to the doctors' specifications. Jim is quick to tell a customer that he should save his money, if the shoes are too badly worn to justify the cost of repairs. Jim says, with regrets, "The shoe repair business is a dying trade, the young men of today seem to lack the patience and perseverance to learn shoe repairing."

If you want expert shoe repair service, stop and see Jim Mann at Hudson's Shoe Repair in Downtown Twin Falls.

Gooding probes traffic signal

GOODING—The Gooding City Council will ask to meet with the school board and Idaho Highway Department to resolve the problem of a traffic signal.

At a previous City Council meeting, the council decided to ask the highway department to remove the traffic signal which stands in the middle of the block in front of the elementary school, and install flashing lights at the two intersections.

At a school board meeting earlier this month, board members went on record as opposing the signal's removal, saying the light was preventing accidents.

Monday night, City Att. Cecil Hobday, who is also the school attorney, told councilmen that there is a mixup in information, and that the school board and the City Council are each getting a different story.

"Let's get over 22 years of fooling around and get this thing resolved," Hobday said. The state highway department has been approaching the city for that long to have the light removed, but every time the matter is brought up, the removal has been opposed by the school board.

According to the highway department, if the signal were removed from the middle of the block, the state would install and maintain the flashing lights at the intersections.

Mayor Harley Crippen told the councilmen the cost of repair of the signal, which is now broken, and its continual maintenance, about $50 a year, are the reasons he brought up the removal again in the first place. Also, a patrolman is needed at the crosswalk during school hours.

Crippen also said that a patrolman is needed on Seventh Avenue because people have complained of student drivers speeding on the way to the new high school. The patrolman "is tied up at the crosswalk at the grade school, and we can't have one man in two places," the mayor said.

Burley approves garbage charge

BURLEY — A garbage pickup fee of $3 a month per rental unit was approved by the Burley City Council Monday night.

Previously, the landlord was charged for the pick up, according to the number and sizes of garbage cans for the building. The landlord will now collect the fee and pay it to the city.

Al Putnam, chairman of the Mini-Cassia Multiple Rentals Association, had told the council he preferred the former arrangement, but would go along with the new setup.

Councilmen approved a new system of recording purchases proposed by City Treasurer James Ash. All purchases of $30 or more now require a purchase order before ordering or buying.

Ash said this system would expedite keeping closer track of the city's budget. Previously, only the department head might have record of a purchase ordered, and by the time the item arrived several months later, budget money was allocated for another item.

A total of $39,000 in bonds for Local Improvement District No. 17 has been sold to three local banks. Dale Dammerell, of First Security Bank; Bob Hillard of Idaho Bank and Trust, and Bill Campbell of Cassia National Bank each presented the mayor and council a check for $13,000.

Mayor Garis Robertson reported he had received a number of complaints concerning the charge ranging from $2 to $8 for use of patios and fireplaces at Salmon Park. These charges pay for lighting the areas, but mainly for cleanup after the party has left.

Robertson said the complainants felt there should be no charge since it is a public park. Councilmen, however, decided the charge is nominal, and will leave it as it is.

Jerome hopeful sets fund fete

JEROME — A potluck fund raising picnic was planned when the "Paul Whaley for Sheriff" committee met Monday at Wood Cafe.

The picnic is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. July 25 at the Jerome City Park. Those attending are asked to bring a covered dish and their own table service. Whaley is expected to speak to the gathering and a short program will follow. A small admission will be charged. Plans for a county-wide caravan have not been finished but the caravan will tour the county prior to the primary election.

Whaley is expected to spend time in the Eden-Hazelton area campaigning for office.

Steps high

THE BURLEY HIGH SCHOOL BAND thrilled hundreds of shoppers and tourists Saturday with an unscheduled, impromptu parade through downtown Burley, when they arrived home from Calgary, Canada. The band claimed third place among the many bands entered in the Calgary Stampede parade.

Range in flames

Fire at Paul watched

PAUL — A 58-man fire fighting crew was still reported at the scene of a 12,000-acre range fire 17 miles northwest of here today.

Michael Green, public information officer for the Shoshone district of the Bureau of Land Management, said the men hoped to have the fire extinguished by late this morning. It was brought under control late Monday night.

The fire, caused either by man or a piece of equipment, according to Green, mushroomed from a 2,000-acre blaze about noon Monday and had covered 12,000 acres by 10 p.m. Monday.

The crew at the scene includes 13 men from the Burley District BLM and 45 men from Shoshone, in addition to eight tankers, three crawler tractors and one spotter aircraft.

Gooding rancher asks post

JEROME — Bob Fields, a Gooding County rancher, said Tuesday he will be a candidate from legislative district 23 in the Aug. 8 regional airport authority election.

Fields explained he is seeking this position because he feels establishment of a regional facility is important to the basic growth of Magic Valley in terms of passenger and freight service.

Man held over drugs at Ketchum

KETCHUM — A Ketchum man was arrested Monday by Ketchum police on a felony charge of manufacture of a controlled substance.

Robert Griswold, 26, Ketchum, was arraigned Monday in Blaine County Magistrate Court and a preliminary hearing was set for July 25. He is currently free on a $200 bond.

The arrest followed a raid Thursday on a Ketchum residence, conducted by Ketchum Police Department officers. During the raid, about 55 marijuana plants were confiscated.

CLOUDS OF hostile grasshoppers fled the smoke and flames of this range fire near Paul Monday. Fire fighters had to work amid swarms of the insects along the rapidly moving fireline. One observer believed farmers to the east of the fire will have a greater grasshopper problem because of the fire forcing them from the range.

Candidate talks at Buhl

BUHL—Ron Goodman, candidate for Twin Falls County sheriff, will be the guest at the Jay Jaycee "Meet Your Candidate" program tonight at Jaycee Hall.

Goodman will be at the hall between 8:30 and 9 p.m.

The Jaycees are providing the program to acquaint area residents with candidates running for election in county and state offices.

The public is invited.

Calvin Wilde, president, said any candidate interested in participating in the program may contact him at 543-6188.

Jerome FHA legal action dropped

JEROME — Mrs. John Wilder, Jerome, said today they are no longer contemplating legal action against the Farm Home Administration or American Pacific Corporation.

Legal action had been threatened by the Wilder family and they and Mr. and Mrs. Luis Madrid purchased homes in the Kerri subdivision south of Jerome. The action was threatened after many attempts were made to have repairs done to their homes that were faulty due to construction.

Burley sets card party

BURLEY — A card party will be held Wednesday from 1 to 4 p.m. in the Burley Senior Citizen Center.

A potluck dinner will also be held and from 4 to 5 p.m. a movie will be shown. A special event of the day will be a welcome to the Spanish speaking senior citizens in the Burley area.

Filer pump still out

FILER — Citizens in Filer are still being asked not to water or irrigate their yards for the next few days.

Frances Wells, city clerk, said a part has been ordered for the pump which burned out Saturday morning, but the part is not expected to arrive until Thursday.

Mrs. Wells said pressure in the area is way down but there is sufficient water for household use. She said if the pump couldn't be repaired soon it would be necessary to get a loather pump.

Council meet at Jerome

JEROME — The Jerome City Council will meet at 8 p.m. tonight in the Jerome City Hall.

It is expected the council will discuss an ordinance on abandoned automobiles which has been under discussion by the Council for some time.

Street use plan hit at Ketchum

KETCHUM — A legal point has been raised in opposition to the use of Garnet Street as access to a proposed 192-unit condominium project.

During a Ketchum City Council meeting Monday night, residents presented a petition, seeking reconsideration of the use of the street in southeast Ketchum, to feed into the Balsamroot project.

The petitioners contended that disapproval of an earlier petition was in direct violation of the intent of city ordinance 85, section 1. The petition stated that the ordinance read in part "that residential areas should be protected against the invasion of abnormal vehicular traffic."

"We estimate the vehicular traffic would be increased twelve-fold or approximately 400 per cent," the petitioners stated.

Mayor Kenneth Richey said the council would take the second petition under advisement, consult the city attorney and report the results to the news media.

The Balsamroot plat plan was approved by a two to one vote during the last council meeting.

At that time, Mayor Richey said that if the project adhered to the city planning and zoning laws, "there is nothing legally the city could do to stop it."

During that meeting Kent Elwell of Keith Romney Condominium consultants, Salt Lake City, represented the developer, Selag Development Co., Galesburg, Ill. Elwell said that from 160 to 192 condominium units would be built on the 30-acre site over a three and a half year period.

He said that the project population would be 600 or less and that the density would be far less than one-half that it would be if the area were developed as a regular neighborhood.

The development spokesman said that two other access roads had been considered, including the road behind Swank's Motor Lodge, and the easement further south of the project.

But he said, the first alternative had from 18 to 21 per cent street grades and he called chances of gaining easement of the second alternative "very poor to impossible."

Elwell said the development would improve Garnet Street and maintain it year around.

During the first meeting, Garnet Street resident J. D. Pace presented a petition in opposition to the project signed by 11 street property owners or residents.

The petition said that two way traffic on the street is possible in the summer, but "one way traffic is the rule in the winter and only then with the full cooperation of all the neighborhood."

"It is inconceivable to us that anyone would gamble $4 million on a project with such poor access," the petition said. And the signers requested that the developer "find a decent safe access, preferably one that doesn't destroy an entire neighborhood."

Pace said that the petition presented Monday night represented 13 out of 18 of the property owners or residents of Garnet Street.

Bellevue youth 'good'

HAILEY — A Bellevue youth was listed in good condition at the Magic Valley Memorial Hospital, Twin Falls, after a two-car collision Sunday night.

Barry W. Shipman, 19, Bellevue, was transferred from Moritz Community Hospital, Sun Valley, to the Twin Falls facility Monday. He received facial lacerations and a fractured nose and ankle in the crash.

The driver of the second vehicle, James E. Stricker, 17, Hailey, died at the crash scene. The accident occurred about 9:30 p.m. on U. S. Highway 93, about five miles south of Ketchum.

State Patrolman Gene Bolton said Monday that witness reports indicate that Shipman, who was traveling south, had been passing vehicles but had pulled back into his lane, then drove left of center, colliding with the northbound Stricker vehicle.

Probe continues in Bellevue theft

BELLEVUE — Investigation is continuing today into a Bellevue residence breakin during which $100 in cash was stolen.

According to Bellevue city marshal Duane Dudley, the breakin occurred at the John Tracy residence on Broadford Road, sometime between 4 p.m. Friday and 7 p.m. Sunday.

Marshal Dudley said the thieves kicked a back door off its hinges to gain entrance to an enclosed pool, then entered the house through a window. The cash was stolen from a dresser drawer in an upstairs bedroom. Nothing else was apparently taken, he said.

Tracy was away on a fishing trip at the time of the theft. However, a daughter had been at home.

Attend meet

Rupert Legion members return

RUPERT — Rupert residents returned Monday from the 54th annual convention of the Department of Idaho American Legion July 13-16 at Lewiston. W.F. (Bill) Whitton, Rupert, Idaho state senatorial candidate, met Saturday with the delegates concerning legal holidays in Idaho.

Whitton told the delegates, "I received a written opinion recently from W. Anthony Park, Idaho's attorney general, that stated it would take an act of the Idaho Legislature to change the various holidays, designations and, as such, the American Legion should direct its efforts toward the legislature in hopes of convincing them to modify the state statute."

Polyglots

LONDON (UPI)—English is one of five languages spoken in the British Isles as a native tongue.

Welsh is spoken by a quarter of the people in Wales. About 81,000 persons in Scotland speak a Scottish form of Gaelic, while some families in Northern Ireland speak Irish Gaelic.

French is the official language of the island of Jersey, and a Norman-French patois is used throughout the Channel Islands. On the Isle of Man, certain official pronouncements are in Manx.

42. If you are a drug user would you make use of any available help?

1. yes, 2. no.

43. I would like to know more about drugs and drug abuse:

1. yes, 2. no.

44. It is very important that we know the real situation of drug abuse in Minidoka County. Please give us a straight answer:

1. disregard my answers, 2. most of my answers are accurate, 3. you can rely on my answers.

The attorney general's opinion also said, "It must be pointed out that it is always the prerogative of the voting public to petition their legislators to change the statutes of the State of Idaho, whether this be in the form of a petition to the individual legislator, or in the form of an initiative proposed by the voters themselves."

"Therefore, it is most certainly appropriate for your American Legion contingent to exercise either of these two methods of obtaining changes in our state law."

"The American Legion is to be commended for its interest in Americanism, and the flag," Whitton said. "They are always working to educate the public about the flag. It is a shame when traditional holidays are eliminated because all that the public thinks about is another holiday without realizing the importance of the date."

Whitton's address also included information from the state statute on Flags and Banners, Section 18-3401.

Otha McGill, Paul American Legion Post No. 77, chairman of the flag education committee for the Department of Idaho, presented a resolution to the delegates which read in part: "The Idaho American Legion should go on record opposing each of the four nationally adopted holidays and return to the traditional holidays."

McGill told the delegates that the action taken by Congress is contrary to American history and should be corrected.

The resolution took issue with the changed dates of Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day, Veteran's Day and Columbus Day and requested the national holidays be returned to their original date. The resolution was approved by the American Legion voting delegates.

The convention was scheduled to conclude Sunday with election of new officers and installation. A reception was planned for all newly elected department officers.

'Hopper delay gets criticism

HAILEY — State Sen. John Peavey, R-Rupert, has expressed concern with too much time delay in handling a grasshopper problem in southern Idaho.

In a letter to Idaho's commissioner of agriculture, Oscar Arstein, the Rupert Republican said many farmers and ranchers who have entered into cooperative spraying agreements have been waiting for as long as two weeks for "promised and paid-for spraying programs to commence."

"Each day of delay sees the grasshoppers grow and multiply, devastating a larger area," Sen. Peavey said. "The more delay in spraying, the less benefit the spraying programs will be," he said.

Sen. Peavey said, "I am sure I speak for most of agriculture when I say we appreciate the help the state and federal government give us." In writing to Arstein he said, "we would also appreciate any effort you could make in seeing that those responsible get the program started in time."

Hansen asks new Demo candidate

TWIN FALLS — Republican George Hansen has called on the Democratic party in Idaho and across the nation to regroup and nominate a "responsible" Presidential candidate.

Hansen, a candidate for the U.S. Senate said Monday the orthodox element of the Democratic party should call a new convention and nominate a new man so the people can have a "reasonable choice in the 1972 Presidential elections."

He said the results of the Miami convention have made this year's Presidential race both an enigma and an absurdity.

"Democrats are frustrated and Republicans are shocked. Both the platform and the philosophy of the candidate are a smack at the morality and image of a great people and a great nation," Hansen said.

Hansen was in the Magic Valley Monday for an appearance at the Rupert Kiwanis Club.

Trees given

WORKMEN at the fairgrounds in Filer unload a tree and its container after five trees were donated by the Twin Falls Bank and Trust Co. The trees are being placed around the grounds and will be planted permanently later on.

Fairgrounds get trees

FILER — Five young trees have been added to the Twin Falls County Fairgrounds. They were donated by the Twin Falls Bank and Trust Co.

The trees in their containers formerly stood in front of the bank on the sidewalk before Twin Falls began its urban renewal project, and were then moved to a lot behind the bank.

The bank's donation is appreciated by the fair board, said Tom Shouse, secretary-manager, who had them placed in positions at the grounds Saturday.

One tree are green ash, honey locust and maples, and are in green cement containers filled with green ground covers. They will be left in the containers until a proper planting time this fall or spring, Shouse said.

The ground where the former grandstand stood has been planted to grass. This fall during fair time it will be used for a farm machinery exhibit. Machinery dealers in the area are being invited to bring machinery for display on the grounds.

For many years the fair always included a large display of farm machinery. However, the practice was discontinued several years ago and fair board members would like to see farm machinery displayed and once again become an integral part of the fair.

Soviet farmers get capitalist policy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Communist government of the Soviet Union is offering capitalist-style incentives to farmers in its campaign to step up meat production.

Some phases of current Soviet policy, in fact, sound like the directives had been written by U.S. farm leaders who counter criticism of high domestic beef prices by insisting profitable cattle prices are needed to assure an adequate supply.

Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz, for example, told an audience recently the "only way to have more meat is for farmers and ranchers to be able to make a reasonable profit raising beef." "Our economy operates on the profit motive, not the loss motive," Butz said.

In the Soviet Union, which recently agreed to buy a minimum of $750 million worth of U.S. grain over the next three years to help fuel a livestock expansion program, a report by Agriculture Department observers noted that profit incentives are also being used.

"An impressive incentive and bonus program is in effect to make livestock raising profitable to the (collective or state) farm and attractive to the worker," officials said in an article in the current issue of "Foreign Agriculture." The weekly magazine is published by the Foreign Agricultural Service (FAS).

"Average government procurement prices paid to farmers for livestock products appear to be two to three times the comparable prices in the United States and well above prices in Western Europe," the article noted.

The incentives are part of a five-year plan, launched in 1971 to meet rising Soviet consumer demands. The plan is designed to boost meat production 30 per cent, milk by 21 per cent, and eggs by 29 per cent.

In addition to "incentive pricing" and imports of grain to feed expanded numbers of livestock and poultry, the report said the Soviet program also includes:

— Plans to convert some general collective and state farms into specialized livestock and poultry operations by offering long-term, low-interest loans to finance the conversion.

— Creation of "inter-collective" feeding centers for cattle, hogs and sheep. These huge feedlots, following a pattern used in the United States, fatten stock raised by nonspecialized general farms. The "inter-collective" operates as a cooperative, with profits distributed back to the member farms.

— Creation of "inter-collective" feed mixing plants to prepare complete rations and special premixed feed concentrates for livestock feeding.

— And purchase of high-quality breeding stock including over 300 U.S. bulls and heifers, more than 100 British bulls, and nearly 1,000 Canadian cattle.

Grasshopper air war continues

EDEN — The airborne grasshopper war continued early Monday with a two-plane attack crew flying west of Eden toward Richfield.

Roger Pollard, Twin Falls, acting supervisor of the USDA Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, said the planes must fly into the prevailing west or east winds to give the Malathion spray the proper drift pattern. The planes were flying a 40 mile swath from Eden toward Richfield, Pollard said.

The four county, 380,000-acre spray area has been divided into blocks within which planes, usually flying in tandem to cover a wider area, will fly a carefully outlined pattern. The next block will see the planes moving from the Kimama Butte area westward toward Eden, Pollard said.

At the east edge of the prescribed area a single plane was spraying an area northeast of Minidoka this morning, and will work back toward the Kimama Butte area.

Ground personnel work with each team of planes, guiding the pilots to their area with the aid of mirrors. The ground personnel can locate a specific area to be covered far easier than the fast moving pilot, Pollard explained.

The Malathion being used in the 'hopper war is not toxic to warm blooded animals, Pollard said. The insecticide was chosen to pose no danger to livestock or people on the ground near the spray area. Pollard concluded.

'Beautiful' remark

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — "Wasn't that a beautiful thing," said Dolores Huerta, vice president of the United Farm Workers.

The thing of beauty to Mrs. Huerta was Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's surprising public support of the union's boycott of non-union lettuce growers by his remark "fellow lettuce boycotters" in beginning his nationally televised speech to the Democratic National Convention.

Mrs. Huerta said about 5,000 pledges to boycott non-union lettuce had been signed by delegates and guests to the convention.

She contrasted the union's success this year with 1968 when there was little support for the UFW's grape boycott.

Successful MV herds tested Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q— I inherited 300 shares of Oklahoma Natural Gas (NYSE) many years ago. It is a good investment now? — D.D.

A— This depends largely on what your goals are as an investor. If you require supplemental income, then this issue, currently yielding 7.2 per cent, is a good investment. If, on the other hand, you are trying to build capital, then Oklahoma is not your best choice.

The denial by the Oklahoma Corporation Commission of the company's request for a rate increase will probably be appealed. It will nonetheless restrict earnings for the year to end August 31.

For the twelve months through April, earnings had dropped 5.1 per cent to $1.83 a share year to year on a 4.8 per cent gain in operating revenues.

With natural gas reserves sufficient for about 14 years, Oklahoma is in an above-average industry position. Also favorable for the company was the recent opening of a barge canal between Tulsa and the Mississippi River. Even with earnings at a somewhat depressed rate, the dividend appears secure and shares are worth holding for income.

A— What is the outlook for National Homes? Any hope for recovery in the near future for this NYSE-listed stock? — M.M. & C.H.

A— Prospects for improvement in the final half are enhanced by the strong trend in housing. Results on the order of $1.75 a share for 1972 are looked for, despite the drop in first quarter profit.

A request was submitted to the Price Commission for increases of 7.6 per cent in prefabricated home prices and 3.1 per cent for mobile homes.

These increases will probably not be received early enough to benefit June quarter results. Margins have been penalized recently by stepped-up advertising expenditures, and higher raw material costs.

In January cash dividends were resumed, having been discontinued in 1949. National's financing subsidiary, which contributed to earnings at a record level last year, should continue to grow although at a somewhat slower pace.

Increased plant capacity will expand production to 28,000 mobile home units annually by 1978 from a rate of 8,250 in 1971. Shares have above-average turnaround potential and should be held.

BURLEY — Twenty-one dairy herds were tested during the month announced Garth Shaw, Dairy Herd Improvement Association.

The herds included 1,673 cows with 1,427 milking and 246 were dry. The total pounds of milk produced was 1,812,355 with 70,305 pounds of butterfat.

Average pounds of milk per cow including dry cows was 34.6 and the average amount of butterfat was 1.34 pounds per cow.

There were 950 cows that produced 40 pounds or more of butterfat during the month.

The highest producer in the association was a Holstein cow owned by Jack Gochmour which produced 75.1 pounds of milk per day and 105 pounds of butterfat per month with a test of 4.6.

Other high testing cows are Rex Gerratt's grade Holstein producing 56.8 pounds of milk per day, 99 pounds butterfat for the month with a test of 5.8; Charles Taylor's Holstein produced 73.8 pounds milk per day, 96 pounds butterfat for the month with a test of 4.4; Garr Wayment's Holstein produced 71.3 pounds milk per day, 96 pounds butterfat in the month for a test of 4.5.

The highest herd averages, including dry cows in herds over 75 cows, include Charles Taylor's herd of 84 grade Holsteins, 71 milking and 13 dry, averaged 41.6 pounds milk, 1.45 pounds butterfat per day. The Stoker Farms' 146 registered and grade Jerseys, 109 milking and 37 dry, averaged 26.2 pounds milk and 1.41 pounds butterfat per day.

In herds between 30 and 75 cows, highest were Alan Zollinger's herd of 37 Holsteins all milking averaged 41.2 pounds milk and 1.62 pounds butterfat per day; Burlview Dairy's of 54 registered Holsteins, 46 milking eight dry, averaged 44.5 pounds milk and 1.57 pounds butterfat per day.

Clifford Sutton's herd of five Guernseys produced 31.6 pounds milk and 1.51 pounds butterfat per day was high for herds of 30 cows and under.

Another top herd is owned by Richard J. White, 30 grade Holsteins all milking averaged 39.3 pounds of milk and 1.39 pounds of butterfat per day.

Other herd tested were Bryce Allred, 85 cows, 40.3 milk, 1.40 butterfat; Crane Dairy, 133 cows, 32.2 milk, 1.33 butterfat; Frand Daisies, 70 cows, 39.9 milk, 1.48 butterfat, and Rex Gerratt, 312 cows, 33.1 milk and 1.24 butterfat.

Lincoln farm sold

SHOSHONE — Mr. and Mrs. George Goularte and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Altantor, Union City, Calif., have purchased the former Jess Velasquez farm in North Shoshone.

The Goularte family is living temporarily at Gooding and Mr. and Mrs. Altantor plan to move to Idaho at a later date.

Lincoln farmers get funds

SHOSHONE — About 50 farmers in Lincoln County will receive farm-set-aside program payments totaling $107,523, during July, James W. Pate county ASCS director, said.

By the end of the month the amount will total $400,000 to 300 farmers.

Nationwide, about 750,000 cotton, feed grain and wheat producers were mailed a total of $850 million in expedited preliminary payments in time for the checks to arrive in the producer's hands by July 1.

Payments under the set-aside programs are made to farmers who agree to set-aside part of their land production in order to meet a national objective of balancing supply and demand in certain commodities.

These payments help to offset the loss of returns from cropland that otherwise would be used for income-yielding production, and on which the farmers are obliged to continue to pay taxes and apply needed conservation steps.

Allen top vote-getter for American loop team

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dick Allen, a National League castoff who has found a home with the Chicago White Sox, polled over a million votes to become the American League's top vote-getter in balloting by fans for the All-Star Game July 25 in Atlanta.

Bench, Aaron top repeaters on National all-star squad

NEW YORK (UPI)—Johnny Bench and Hank Aaron topped a quartet of repeaters from the 1971 squad for the National League All-Star team announced Monday by Commissioner Bowie Kuhn.

Bench, coming off a mediocre 1971 campaign, was the top vote-getter in the poll of fans in the U.S. and Canada. The Cincinnati catcher polled a total of 1,229,677 votes in a record response by fans who cast 3,171,556 votes for the starting lineups for the contest against the American League All-Stars set for Tuesday night, July 25 in Atlanta.

Aaron, bidding to eclipse Babe Ruth's home run record, was named on 1,116,694 ballots. Joe Torre of St. Louis picked up 1,180,613 votes to easily grab the third base slot again. It will be Joe's fifth start as an All Star, although his first three selections to the dream team were a catcher.

Aaron will be joined in the outfield by Roberto Clemente and Willie Stargell, both of the Pittsburgh Pirates. Clemente topped the million mark with 1,091,423 while Stargell, the fourth repeater from last year's team, was picked by 717,597.

The starting outfield of Aaron, Clemente and Stargell had hit 45 home runs and driven in 144 runs through games of July 16.

Cincinnati and Pittsburgh were the only clubs placing more than one starter on the NL Stars.

For Bench, it was his fourth straight selection, as it was for shortstop Don Kessinger of the Chicago Cubs, but Kessinger was in the narrowest race of all, edging the New York Mets' Bud Harrelson by exactly 3,000 votes, 665,921 to 662,921.

Cincinnati placed Joe Morgan at second, as Morgan, traded to the Reds by Houston in the winter, edged Glenn Beckert of the Cubs, 554,035 to 540,748.

Another first time berth was earned by first baseman Lee May of the Houston Astros, who outdistanced Tony Perez of the Reds, 568,581 to 443,546.

Trailing the top three for outfield berths were, in order, Billy Williams of the Chicago Cubs, Willie Mays of the Mets, Frank Robinson of Los Angeles, Cesar Cedeno of Houston, Lou Brock of St. Louis, Al Oliver of Pittsburgh and Bobby Tolan of Cincinnati.

Munson signs long pact with Detroit

DETROIT (UPI)—Backup quarterback Bill Munson Monday ended a long holdout and signed a multi-year contract with the Detroit Lions.

Munson, 30, had played out his option through the 1971 season, behind first string quarterback Greg Landry.

Munson apparently resigned himself to playing behind Landry and gave up hope of finding a top quarterbacking spot on another National Football League team.

"We're happy that Bill has agreed to return to the Lions,"

Chief says Trudeau won't talk

MONTREAL (UPI)—National Hockey League president Clarence Campbell said Monday Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau had refused to discuss the Bobby Hull-Team Canada situation with him.

Hull was named last week to the 35-man team which will participate in an eight-game Canada-USSR series in September. It quickly became clear, however, that he would not be able to participate.

A stipulation in the agreement reached by the NHL and the National Hockey League Players Association with Hockey Canada on the formation of the team provides that only players with signed NHL contracts as of Aug. 13 may participate.

Friday, Trudeau sent a telegram to Campbell, NHL Players Association president Gordon Berenson and Hockey Canada president Charles Hay expressing what the prime minister termed the "intense concern" of Canadians over the situation.

Trudeau specifically mentioned Hull in asking that Canada's best players be used in the series.

Campbell said he had since tried to contact Trudeau. "However, he refused to answer my call or to talk to me," Campbell said, adding, "I don't know if we will do anything more."

Hull's status results from the fact he quit the Chicago Black Hawks of the NHL June 28 to sign a $2.75 million contract as a player-coach with the Winnipeg Jets of the World Hockey Association.

"Hull has jumped his contract—As far as we're concerned he's under our option until Sept. 30," Campbell said Monday. "We have a reserve clause in our standard NHL players contract and that says the athlete is bound to one club until traded or given his unconditional release. It is clear that his (Hull's) exclusion from Team Canada had grown out of his move to the World Hockey Association."

Much public support has rallied at Hull's side through the controversy.

In Montreal and Toronto a billboard campaign was opened Monday. The boards read, "To Russia with Hull," and, in smaller print, "Write Clarence Campbell."

said general manager Russ Thomas. He called Munson "one of the league's finest quarterbacks."

Terms of the contract were not disclosed, but it had been reported that Munson was negotiating for about $80,000 a season.

"It is no secret that in pro football that an excellent quarterback is one of the biggest keys to victory," Thomas said. "We feel extremely fortunate that we have not one, in Munson, but another one in Greg Landry, plus a third one in Bill Cappelman."

Munson was one of 20 NFL players who remained free agents as the training camps opened.

Munson, of Utah State, has played eight years in the NFL. Munson was an authorized absentee Sunday night when Lions veterans reported to coach Joe Schmidt at the Cranbrook training camp.

Ali, foe fight over ring size

DUBLIN, Ireland (UPI)—There was confusion tonight on what size ring or gloves will be used for Wednesday's heavyweight fight between former world heavyweight champion Muhammad Ali and Al Blue Lewis in Dublin.

The Irish Boxing Board of Control said that an 18-foot ring and eight-ounce gloves have been authorized.

But a spokesman for the promoters said that the ring being erected at the open air sports stadium at Croke Park is only 16-1/2 feet and that the two camps have agreed on six ounce gloves.

A 20 foot ring "was to have been borrowed from a promoter in Belfast but the spokesman for the promoters said, "It was not quite suitable so we had to use the sparring ring which has been in the gym all this week and has been found satisfactory by the two boxers."

Pro money list static

NEW YORK (UPI)—All the money and glory Lee Trevino and Jack Nicklaus collected for their one-two finish in the British Open are not reflected in the weekly list of money winners of the PGA, since the event at Muirfield is not part of the regular tour.

There was only one change in the top ten for the week, that seeing Grier Jones, who tied for second in the Greater Milwaukee Open, gaining the ninth spot on the list.

Jim Colbert, winner of the Milwaukee test, soared from 78th on the list to 32nd after pocketing his first place money of $25,000. Jim has now won $43,949 on the tour.

The top ten money winners:
1. Jack Nicklaus $184,051
2. Lee Trevino 129,147
3. Jerry Heard 114,378
4. George Archer 112,745
5. Tom Weiskopf 110,908
6. Bruce Crampton 104,657
7. Dave Hill 92,503
8. Bobby Mitchell 87,735

Cards' Gibson has 10th in row

HOUSTON (UPI)—Bob Gibson, thanks to Donn Clendenon's eighth inning homer that snapped a 1-1 tie, captured his 10th straight win after five consecutive losses Monday night in pitching the St. Louis Cardinals to a 3-2 victory over the slumping Houston Astros, who dropped their fifth straight game.

The win ran Gibson's record to 10-5 as he continued to avenge a poor start early in the season. He struck out 12 and at one time retired 12 straight Astros as he picked up his 27th career win over Houston.

Houston broke out of Gibson's spell in the seventh inning on singles by Cesar Cedeno, Jimmy Wynn and a double by Bob Watson.

Game's the thing

RAIN and the threat of severe thunderstorms didn't deter these Green Bay Packers fans who camped outside the Milwaukee Journal building for the sale of single game tickets for the three Green Bay games at Milwaukee Stadium this fall. The tickets go on sale at 8 a.m. Wednesday. Mark Cotton, 17, arrived at 3 p.m. Sunday to start the vigil. (UPI)

Grid officials meet Wednesday

Magic Valley men interested in officiating fourth district high school football games this fall are asked to attend a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at Twin Falls High School.

District Commissioner Paul Ostyn said the earlier-than-usual first meeting will give candidates a month more to become acquainted with the new rule changes and brush up on the old. Another meeting tentatively is planned late this month.

Driver in stable condition

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)—Auto racer Merle Bettenhausen, who lost his right arm and suffered burns in a fiery crash Sunday, was listed in serious but stable condition Monday.

The son of Tony Bettenhausen Sr., who was killed testing a car at Indianapolis in 1961, remained in the intensive care unit at the Burn Center of the University of Michigan Medical Center.

Bettenhausen, 29, of Tinley Park, Ill., was injured when his Grant King race car slammed into the wall in the No. 2 turn on the fourth lap of the Indy-type portion of the Michigan 200 at the Michigan International Speedway at nearby Irish Hills.

Bettenhausen's car tore down a guard rail for more than 1,000 feet. The entire right side of the car was torn away, and flames engulfed the vehicle with the young driver slumped over the wheel.

His right arm was severed below the shoulder and he suffered third-degree neck and face burns and lacerations around the pelvic area.

Bettenhausen making his first start in an Indy-type car, was running behind his brother Gary in a Roger Penske McLaren when the younger Bettenhausen hit the wall at 180 miles per hour.

VIP ends in no contest

IOWA CITY, Iowa (UPI)—The sixth annual Amana VIP Golf Tournament was rained out Monday before any golfer finished regulation play.

Officials said the $20,000 in prize money will be divided equally among the 36 pros in the tournament, with each receiving $555.50. There will be no winner, officials said, although 29 of the 36 pros had completed nine holes of play when heavy rains, lightning and winds forced an end to the tournament.

After a 1 1/2 hour delay from the rain, PGA officials on hand called the tournament.

Dave Stockton was the leader after nine holes with a six under par 30 to his credit. Sixteen other golfers were also under par after nine, including Bill Collins with 33 and Larry Ziegler, George Archer Lionel Hebert with 34s.

Bears delay putting Sayers' knee to last critical test

NEW YORK (UPI)—Gale Sayers makes sure he keeps busy. It's vital.

The way he does is by throwing himself completely into the five-times-a-week TV show he has in Chicago, "Gayle Sayers Comments," as well as some other outside interests he has so that he doesn't dwell on his football career too much.

He knows if he does, he runs the risk of being depressed, of wondering whether he has any football career left at 29. Sayers has worried about that, and still is worrying now.

You know the old line "I'm not there—start without me?" Well, there's nothing funny about it to Sayers.

The Chicago Bears have started without him. They've begun practice at their Rensselaer, Ind., training camp and when all the regulars showed up last Saturday, Gale Sayers did not.

The Bears' brilliant running back, who has played only two league games in each of the last two seasons, has been working out regularly the past few months following a third knee operation, but Dr. Theodore Fox, who performed the Chi Chi Rodriguez says the trouble with most weekend golfers is they worry too much about how they look.

"When you worry too much about how good you look out there, you're in trouble," Rodriguez says. "For example, they talk about the way Doug Sanders looks when he swings. All I know is I never see the guy out of the fairway. You can also worry too much about how your clothes look. I'll give you another example. I gotta wear loose pants. Baggy. So what? I don't go out there for a fashion show."

Gabriel to miss month of training

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—Quarterback Roman Gabriel of the Los Angeles Rams suffered a collapsed lung on his first day of practice Monday and was rushed to a hospital. Physicians were optimistic he would be back in action in about a month.

Buford, Orioles drop Texas 3-1

ARLINGTON, Tex. (UPI)—Don Buford walked his first two times at bat, took advantage of Texas fielding lapses to score both times, and Baltimore hung on to defeat the Rangers 3-1 Monday night for the Orioles fifth straight victory.

The win went to Pat Dobson, his 11th, although he tired and was relieved by Rorick Harrison in the eighth inning. Buford walked to lead off the first inning and then Johnny Oates lofted an ordinary fly ball to left field but Ranger leftfielder Larry Bittner lost the ball in the setting sun and Oates was on with a single.

Rookies praised in Green Bay

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI)—A couple of Green Bay Packers rookies put on a big display of pass rushing in practice Monday but afterwards coach Dan Devine wondered whether it was due to their fine play or just poor blocking.

The new men were defensive end Dave Purelory, a 6-foot-1, 240-pound East Michigan draft choice, and Charlie Burrell, a 6-foot, 290-pound defensive tackle from Arkansas-A & M. "You've got to be a bit impressed with the way they blew the veterans out of there," Devine said, referring to the way the rookies outmuscled the offensive linemen in the pass protection drill, a 7-on-7 affair. "There was good hitting in the pass protection and both stood out," he said but added, "I was more disappointed with the blocking than pleased with their show."

Going into the training camp one of the biggest question marks was defense. Monday, seven of the positions seemed to have been filled with these men on the first string—linebackers Fred Carr, Jim Carter and Dave Robinson and defensive backs Doug Hart, Charlie Ellis, Al Mathews and Jim Hill, all veterans.

Paris-Culligan raps Alley 9-7

TWIN FALLS — Paris-Culligan dropped second-place Alley 9-7 Monday night.

That just about wrapped up the Pacific division championship for idle Coors-First Federal. — Milton Horton homered for Paris-Culligan.

Blue Lakes Volkswagen dropped Lynwood Standard 12-9 while Royal Lounge toppled Ford Transfer-Brake and Petroleum 11-4. Theisen's beat Twin Falls Bank and Trust 1-4. Maxie's Pizza kept Turf Club on the skids 10-7 and Olympia Beer defeated Haney Seed 16-9.

Mota gives Dodgers answer to Pirates' hitting

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Los Angeles Dodgers' answer to the hardhitting Pittsburgh Pirates is Manny Mota, a former Pirate, of course.

At 24, Mota is a candidate to win the National League batting title in his 11th season in the majors. In the week before the All-Star game, the veteran outfielder from the Dominican Republic is hitting .343 in 64 of the Dodgers' 83 games.

Mota, who began the season with a .300 big league career average, denies his candidacy. "Oh, no, no," he exclaimed when asked if he was thinking about the batting crown. "It's too early to think about anything like that. I'm just happy to be hitting over .300."

That reaction is typical of the modest Mota, who may be the most underrated player in either the National or American Leagues. A likeable athlete with a disarming smile and a mild manner, he does say his best hitting months are ahead.

Platooned in his past seasons, Mota also expects to get up enough times to qualify for the hitting championship won in 1971 by St. Louis' Joe Torre with a .363 average. "I think I can play better ball in the hot weather," he said. "When it's cold and you hit the ball good it stings your hand. You don't feel comfortable."

Wills from Montreal in 1969 for Ron Fairly and Paul Popovich. He hit .312 with Los Angeles last season but was used in only 91 games, getting up 269 times. However, you will never hear him offer a word of criticism about his managers—present or past.

"I have always wanted to play every day but the manager is the guy who makes out the lineup," Mota offered. "Like Walter Alton. He knows when I need a rest and when I don't. He knows what's the best for me."

Alton has said words to the effect that Manny Mota could get out of bed in the middle of winter and get a base hit. Mota explained his secret: "When I don't play, I try to keep myself in shape. I try to do as many exercises as I can because I try to be ready when I get the opportunity to start or pinchhit."

"I take a lot of extra hitting when I don't play because I think I need it. I also try to stay alert and watch the pitchers and see how they're pitching to the different hitters. Then when I get a chance to hit, I know what to expect from them."

The man from Santo Domingo with the soft Calypso accent cut down the number of games he played during the winter and says: "I feel much stronger than last year."

Alton doesn't want Mota to overdo it because of Mota's age and slight build (5-11, 168).

"Day to day, Manny's the greatest," the Dodger skipper remarked. "But I want him healthy all the way and if we're in the race in September I want him ready."

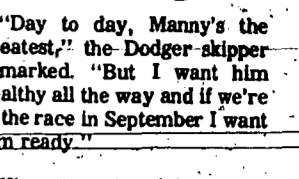

His most serious injury came after Montreal selected him in the expansion draft from Pittsburgh, where he spent six years, after the 1968 season. He shattered his left arm at the elbow in a fall in winter ball.

Lolich has 16th win for Detroit

DETROIT (UPI)—Mickey Lolich won his 16th game of the season with a seven-hitter and the Detroit Tigers, behind Jim Northrup's long-ball bat, handed the Chicago White Sox their fifth defeat in a row Monday night, 3-1.

Northrup, who was hitting .120 early in the season but now is crowding .280, stroked his fifth homer of the season with two out in the first and tripled home Detroit's last run in a two-run third.

Ed Brinkman doubled to open the third off loser Tom Bradley, 10-8, and went to third on Dick McAuliffe's line single to center. Aurelio Rodriguez forced Brinkman home, and scored on Northrup's triple which rolled to the left centerfield wall.

Lolich, 16-6 with one start left before the All-Star Game, struck out 11 and didn't walk a batter in the Tigers' eighth win in nine games.

Reds rip Cubs for 7th in row

CHICAGO (UPI)—Clay Carroll picked up his 21st save of the season Monday in helping the Cincinnati Reds to their seventh straight victory by crushing the Chicago Cubs, 7-2.

The Reds backed up starter Wayne Simpson with seven runs in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings, while routing rookie Rick Reuschel, who was tagged with his third loss against three wins.

Carroll, who gave up a walk in the eighth, got in trouble in the ninth when he gave up singles to pinch-hitter J.C. Martin, Don Kessinger and Billy Williams to fill the bases with one out. Carroll then got Joe Pepitone to fly out and Jose Cardenal on a forecourt at the plate to end the game.

FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY, JULY 19, 1972

CARROLL RICHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Richter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You are now able to get an influential plan to go along with a plan you are developing into a campaign to bring you many of the conditions most suitable to you at present. Be sure to merchandise your ideas in such a fashion that those of the general public who can help you will do so.

ARIES (Mar 21 to Apr 19) Someone in government could be most helpful to you now with some problems you may have. Make sure you do not start any arguments with kin in p.m. Do whatever will make them much happier instead.

TAURUS (Apr 20 to May 20) Show partners you're more than willing to cooperate now and then you get better results. Plan the future more intelligently with them. Get approval of plans you have. Relax in p.m.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Show skill in the handling of duties ahead of you and gain better cooperation from co-workers. Buy the right kind of clothing that will accentuate your best points. Avoid extravagance, though.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Out to the pleasures you enjoy with others during your spare time and relieve anxieties. Make sure you do not argue with others in p.m. Showing your devotion to the one you love is wise in p.m. Add to happiness.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Handle duties early whether in business or at home so you can get out to social activities in p.m. and have fun. Buy whatever gadgets are necessary so the home functions better. Take it easy in p.m.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Get busy at the duties that make your life run more smoothly in the future so you get rid of frustration. Gain the cooperation of partners by starting some new upswing in all of your mutual affairs.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Keep busy at bookkeeping records and government reports and get all straightened out well. Make sure your wardrobe is in good order, too. Out socially in p.m. or for other recreation.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Get busy with personal matters and make the progress you want. Spend time at beauty or barber shop. Make a fine impression on that special date you have and enjoy the evening.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Gadding about gathering knowledge and data you need is good during the morning. Fine day for that philanthropic work you want to do, also. Today's activities can add much to your present success.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Try to see those fine friends today who are usually difficult to reach and deepen your association. Until the Sun goes down, you can progress in gaining some aim. Avoid some situation that could lead to big trouble.

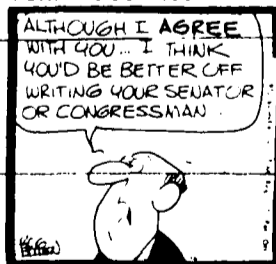

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You can accomplish a great deal where outside duties are concerned, so be sure to get an early start. Support some fine official who can do you a big service in return. Show courtesy.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Concentrating some of your time on recent acquaintances, whose background, experience are dissimilar to your own, is wise. Get the information you need. Plan a trip for further data.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be one of those delightful young people with many ideas buzzing around in the head who is so magnetic that everyone will want to spoil this clever youngster. Be sure to give enough discipline to teach to stand off own two feet and make a big success, instead of becoming a mere sponger. Teach proper ethics early, or your child could become very ruthless because of lack of such teaching, and the life could be bitter.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Nixon ends rest

(UPI)—President Nixon winds up an 18-day working vacation at the Western White House today and heads back to Washington to confront a Democratic Congress he claims is feeding inflation by wild spending.

White House aides said the President is concerned about the fate of his pending domestic programs and will call in Republican congressional leaders sometime this week to discuss them.

Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler left open the possibility Nixon might address the nation on the subject of congressional irresponsibility if the Congress continues to make a shambles of its budget.

Nixon's chief congressional liaison, William Timmons, told newsmen last week that he would be keeping a close eye on Congress during the politically charged month-long session before the Republican convention.

He said the President would veto measures that substantially exceed his budget, which the White House claims already has been put out of balance by more than $7 billion.

Timmons ticked off such Nixon proposals as antibusing legislation, welfare reform and revenue sharing as measures which Congress has not yet properly dealt with.

Nixon has spent most of his time in California mapping the broad outlines of his re-election campaign with key aides and resting up for the coming battle.

WHILE it's one thing to have a lion by the tail, it's quite another when a lion has you. That's what 6-year-old Natasha Weber, Melbourne, Australia, found out at the animal nursery in Melbourne's zoo. The six-week-old lion cub goes by the name of Joshua. (UPI)

Yank wrests sumo title from Japanese

TOKYO (UPI)—Forget about that $4 billion U.S.-Japan trade imbalance, trade with China and all those other "little issues."

Let the strains of Hawaii Ponoi (the Hawaiian "national" anthem) waft across the land: Jesse Kuhaula has brought the sumo — that's Japanese wrestling — championship to the United States, the first time a foreigner has wrestled the title from Japan in the 800 years (give or take a century or two) this ritualized, blubbery sport has been practiced in the Land of the Rising Sun.

His victory Sunday was his first tournament win in Japan. It brought a message of congratulations from President Nixon and tears to Jesse's eyes, disproving the adage strong men don't cry.

Jesse's victory topped eight years of rugged training. He came to Japan in 1964 from his native island of Maui in Hawaii where he was a standout football player.

After years in spartan training quarters, serving and tending to the needs of older and more successful sumo wrestlers, and eating hundreds of tubs of rice to fatten up to 365 pounds, Jesse finally won the Emperor's Cup.

It was like Ethiopia winning the world series, like Burundi taking the U.S. Open or Tom Thumb knocking out Muhammad Ali.

It was all the Japanese talked about as the midsummer heat settled on the nation. For the day pollution, trade problems, bad roads, poor housing and all the other troubles of a festively growing nation were out.

On one commuter train today every person in the car who had a newspaper had it opened to the photo and story of Jesse's victory. To the Japanese he is better known under his sumo name of Takamiyama.

Foreigners, who don't know a "hidari-yotsu" from a "moro-zashi," both sumo wrestling holds walked a little more confidently into their Japanese.

staffed offices this morning.

This may be the first and last time for Jesse, but until the next grand tournament two months hence, the United States will hold the sumo championship of the world.

Bible runner nabbed

LONDON (UPI)—A British clergyman charged in Czechoslovakia with illegally importing Bibles was interrogated at the border for 36 hours before being arrested, a friend said today.

The Rev. David Hathaway, a Pentecostal minister, was accompanying a party of 15 tourists in a bus crossing into Czechoslovakia from West Germany when he was detained June 21.

A Foreign Office spokesman said Saturday Hathaway has been charged with "sedition and contravening regulations concerning the importation of literature."

Neither the Foreign Office nor Hathaway's family and friends have been able to explain what the charge of sedition relates to.

Hathaway, minister of the Pentecostal Church at Dewsbury, England, is also managing director of Crusade Tours, which runs bus tours to several European countries.

Foster said Hathaway making his first visit to Czechoslovakia and coach driver David Loph were held and questioned for 36 hours.

Bottle urges junk cleanup

BRISTOL, N. H. (UPI) — The New Hampshire Fish and Game Department got the message.

Two biologists from the department found a bottle at the bottom of the Pemigewasset River Saturday containing an anti-pollution message from a 16 year old girl.

The note said: "Pick up this bottle to help stop pollution. That's the least you can do for the water that has supplied you and your family for generations. If you don't, 20 years from now, you and your family behind you will be in serious danger."

Jennifer Wixson said she wrote the note "at least two summers ago" after she had spent a day picking up bottles near the river.

Red paper would mobilize workers

SAIGON (UPI)—The influential North Vietnamese newspaper Nhan Dan (People's Daily) in an editorial signed by a top government official has urged total mobilization of labor and a harsh crackdown on shirkers, Hanoi Radio reported today.

"In the present situation," the editorial said, "all citizens of working age in the labor force must be mobilized to fight the American aggressors and to build socialism in the North." "Citizens must put the national interest above all else and must seriously follow the mobilization order in war time to serve the fighting front, production lines and public works." "Government workers and officials must fulfill their duties with diligence for results. They must absolutely obey superiors' orders, strictly enforce labor discipline."

"Workers must observe regulations on working hours and be prepared to work overtime. They cannot leave their jobs at their own whims," said the newspaper editorial, signed by deputy Prime Minister Le Thanh Nghi.

Nhan Dan pointed out that persons who fail to obey the regulations on working hours or fail to obtain jobs aiding the national effort may be ordered by chairman of local administrative committees to do "labor useful to society in forced labor camps for from six months to two years."

Holland aides quit

THE HAGUE (UPI)—Two cabinet ministers submitted their resignations to Prime Minister Barend Buisjevel Monday, splitting apart the five-party government carefully put together after last year's general elections.

Transport Minister Willem Drees and Education Minister Hans de Brauw told reporters they were resigning to protest the proposed budget for 1973. The two ministers are members of the right-wing Socialist party. If they go through with their resignations, they will leave the nine-month-old government without a majority in the 150-seat lower house.

The resignations came at the end of a week of negotiations among the five coalition partners on the budget. Buisjevel had proposed increased taxes to meet a feared $1.3 million budget deficit.

TF volunteer drivers give lift to elderly

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls senior citizens now have a convenient way of being taken to a doctor or the hospital for medical assistance. The transportation comes from voluntary drivers as one of the functions of the Senior Citizen's Agency.

The service is provided for anyone in Twin Falls over 55 years old, who has no family to take him or her to the doctor and cannot otherwise provide transportation.

Those needing transportation can call the senior citizens agency at 733-9351, Twin Falls. According to Tad Ross, coordinator of the service, those requiring the service should call the agency as soon as the doctor's appointment is made so the program can function smoothly.

She said this early notification is in consideration of the volunteer drivers that she may coordinate her own errands with the volunteer driving.

The agency has about 30 volunteer drivers, she said. The agency tries not to call anyone more than once a month.

There is one male volunteer driver and any other male drivers interested in the program can contact the agency.

This transportation is for medical assistance only and not for shopping or other business.

The program started in May this year, revived after being organized about 18 months ago.

Man released, charged again for 2nd murder

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A teen-ager who confessed killing a policeman almost three years ago, but was freed by a legal stalemate, was back behind bars today, awaiting arraignment for another slaying.

The case of Alfredo Bryan, 19, earlier this year angered Police Chief Edward M. Davis, who complained that it was an example of what is wrong with the criminal justice system. Although Bryan admitted killing the officer, he was still on the streets because of "yo-yo justice," the chief said.

Bryan was arrested late Saturday with three other youths in connection with the killing of Javier Medina, 23.

Medina was killed by three shots from a passing car. Police thought it might be a youth gang killing, connected to a battle between the Flats Street gang, to which Medina belonged, and the rival Third Street gang.

Police broadcast a description of the assailants' car, provided by witnesses, and an auto matching the description was halted a few minutes later several blocks away, resulting in the arrest of Bryan, Cesar Perez, 19, John Nunez, 18, and Ricardo Ortiz, 18.

They were expected to be arraigned Tuesday.

Bryan, then 18, fought with officer Jerry Maddox during a disturbance in the East Los Angeles Mexican-American district in August of 1969. Police said Bryan wrestled the officer's revolver away from him, shot him in the neck, then shot him several more times in the back.

The police chief called it the start of "an unbelievable sojourn through the so-called justice system."

The basic problem was whether Bryan should stand trial as a juvenile or an adult. The case was shuttled between courts until the State Supreme Court ruled that he should be tried as a juvenile.

Bryan pleaded guilty and was remanded to the California Youth Authority, which refused to accept him, saying he would have to be turned loose at age 21. The juvenile court then ruled he could be tried as an adult, but the ruling was appealed to the State Supreme Court on the grounds another trial would constitute double jeopardy.

Bryan was free on bail, awaiting the decision of the Supreme Court.

The police chief wrote an open letter to the court's chief justice, complaining that "there is an obvious problem in our criminal justice system when a murderer can spend two years manipulating the court system to his own ends."

Davis said the courts should "consider the rights of the community to be protected from those who either have no values or who do not fear the consequences of their acts."

Scientists eye Martian quakes

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—Scientists investigating Mars want to know if there are "Marsquakes."

"A geologically active Mars means life is more likely to exist, or have existed, there," Dr. Don Anderson, director of the seismological laboratory at the California Institute of Technology, said Sunday.

If the planet quakes, it could provide some of the basic conditions that led to the development of life on Earth.

"Marsquakes would indicate an unstable interior, similar to the Earth's, insides, which produced the hot gases that escaped to the surface to form oceans and an atmosphere suitable for the evolution of life," Anderson said.

Scientists at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory at Cal Tech have been guiding the Mariner Mars probe. The Mariner is in orbit around the red planet and has been radioing back to JPL photographs of the surface.

The satellite completed its basic task—providing enough photos to complete a map of Mars—last week.

To cope with the problem of detecting quakes on a planet over 30 million miles away, the Cal Tech scientists have developed a seismograph which they plan to land on Mars in the Viking spacecraft in 1976.

The telephone-sized instrument can detect movements as delicate as one twenty-five millionth of an inch in any of three directions. It is designed to withstand temperatures from 150 degrees below zero to 200 degrees above, absorb the shock of landing, and function at just about any angle.

The scientists hope to land two of the devices far apart, so they can determine the depth and epicenter of any Marsquakes.

"If seismic activity on Mars is equal to that on Earth, we might expect two or three moderate Marsquakes per day in addition to any smaller ones," Anderson said.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The biggest Chinese community outside the Orient is being tapped for chefs — to cook America-style chow. The California Department of Human Resources Development, one of the sponsors of the American Cook Training program, reports the Chinese have a real zest for U.S.-style cooking.

Students have proved, a spokesman says, they can make rice taste just as good as a la pilaf as fried. The 22-week course covers breakfast pastry, short order and advanced cooking.
