Eagleton flap grows, ticket said 'damaged'

Eagleton stays in, denies drunkenness

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Democratic vice presidential candidate Thomas F. Eagleton said Thursday his campaign would at times be "dirty and rough, but I'm not going to quit."

"If anybody thinks I'm going to drop out, they got a long think coming," Eagleton said after his arrival at Oakland airport from Hawaii and before he was whisked to San Francisco to rest. He holds a 1 p.m. EDT news conference today and an afternoon luncheon with California Democratic leaders.

Before leaving Hawaii, Eagleton labeled as a "damnable lie" a report by Washington columnist Jack Anderson that Eagleton was arrested between six and 11 times on charges which included drunken and reckless driving.

"Jack Anderson is not going to run me out of town or run me off this Democratic ticket," Eagleton Thursday told a cheering crowd of 1,400 delegates attending the annual convention of the Retail Clerks International Association, AFL-CIO, in Hawaii.

"If I were determined to stay on the ticket yesterday, I am doubly determined to stay on it today," he said.

Eagleton disclosed earlier this week that he had undergone psychiatric treatment, including shock therapy, in the 1960s for fatigue and a nervous condition. However, he told reporters at the time that alcohol "was not involved in any way, in any way, shape or form, whatsoever."

Anderson reported in Washington Thursday that he heard of Eagleton's traffic citations, which included drunk driving, from a "former high official in Missouri." He said he had not actually seen the documents and suggested they might have been destroyed.

McGovern hangs on

CUSTER, S.D. (UPI)—Sen. George S. McGovern, standing firm on his vice presidential selection amid growing criticism, said Thursday he will meet again with Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton early next week when they both return to Washington.

For the second time in six days, McGovern reprimanded his staff, telling them he wanted no further comment by anyone other than himself and Eagleton. "I have made my support of Sen. Eagleton clear and I want no further comment on the matter by any one connected with the campaign other than Sen. Eagleton or myself," McGovern said in a statement.

Columnist backs off on Eagleton story

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Columnist Jack Anderson was quoted today as saying he should have checked further before broadcasting his claim that Democratic Vice Presidential candidate Thomas F. Eagleton had a record of drunken and reckless driving.

The Washington Star-News in a story by Robert Walters and Michael Satchell reported Anderson said he "probably should have withheld" publicizing the charge but that competitive news pressure prompted him to make it without full verification.

Eagleton denounced Anderson's assertion that he had been arrested on drunken and reckless driving charges in the 1960s as a "damnable lie." Missouri records for the senator show that he had two traffic involvements—once for speeding and once for an accident on an icy highway.

Demos alarmed

By United Press International
Almost every influential Democrat who has expressed an opinion says that Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton's admission of undergoing psychiatric treatment will hamper Democratic chances of defeating President Nixon in November.

And a growing number of Democrats are asking Eagleton to withdraw as the vice presidential candidate.

Texas State Rep. Frances T. "Sissy" Farenthold and former Cleveland mayor Carl Stokes Thursday joined those advocating Eagleton's withdrawal.

"...He should resign," Mrs. Farenthold said Thursday in Houston. "This seems the only plausible rationale for the Democratic party."

Mrs. Farenthold, who was second to Eagleton in balloting for the vice presidential nomination at the Democratic convention, said she was not a candidate to succeed Eagleton. Stokes, in Cincinnati for a college forum, said Eagleton should quit before presidential nominee George S. McGovern is forced to ask him.

"I think it depends on whether or not Sen. Eagleton will get off the ticket," Stokes said. "No, I mean for him to get off, not for Sen. McGovern to ask him to get off."

Rep. Roman C. Pucinski, D-Ill., and Cleveland millionaire Howard M. Metzbaum, McGovern's top financial backer in Ohio, each predicted Eagleton would withdraw soon.

"Sen. Eagleton has said he doesn't want to be a liability to the ticket," said Metzbaum. "And I think you could go so far as to say that for that reason, a change will take place voluntarily by Sen. Eagleton."

Pucinski said in a Quincy, Ill., radio interview that the belated disclosure of Eagleton's treatments had "created a credibility gap." Pucinski said he did not know who would replace Eagleton, but that he hoped it would be Sen. Adlai Stevenson III, D-Ill.

Rep. Herman Badillo, D-N.Y., said psychiatric treatment is not enough of a reason to dump Eagleton, but "it is understandable that public confidence in Sen. Eagleton has been shaken."

Briton strike closes ports

LONDON (UPI)—Britain's 41,000 longshoremen today struck all the nation's seaports and the government hinted it may proclaim a state of emergency.

This would enable it to use troops if necessary to ship vital food supplies.

The government is giving immediate consideration to the action it may need to take to protect the general interests of the economy and the consumer. Employment Secretary Maurice MacMillan told Parliament.

The walkout—Britain's second total seaport shutdown in two years—was called to back longshoremen's demands for greater job security.

More than 40 ships which had anchored in the Thames Estuary waiting to see whether the strike would begin sailed for continental ports.

In the British Channel island of Guernsey tons of ripe tomatoes were dumped and left to rot.

Tons of fresh fruit also piled up on the docks.

'Cooper' skipped Boise stop

BOISE (UPI)—The Boise Police and the FBI were there, but mysterious hijacker D. B. Cooper didn't show up.

Police and FBI agents were waiting at Boise Municipal Airport Thursday afternoon after Hughes Air West officials were told by a passenger that Cooper was aboard a flight from Lewiston.

Cooper successfully hijacked an airliner last year and parachuted with $200,000 on a flight from Seattle to Reno. He was never found.

Police boarded the plane when it landed in Boise and soon determined the suspected man was not Cooper.

Burley woman killed

BURLEY — Josephine Leal, 36, Burley, was killed in a car pickup truck accident Thursday afternoon near Burley.

The accident occurred at 4:30 p.m. seven miles south and one mile west of Burley on a county road.

Ignacio Leal, 44, and Olea Leal, 17, both Burley, were listed in fair condition today at Cassia Memorial Hospital.

Officers said Deland P. Snyder, 25, Pocatello, was driving a pickup south when it was struck in the right side by the car driven by Leal. After the impact, the pickup came to rest upside down in a grain field. The car also came to a stop in the grain field. Both vehicles were demolished.

Cassia County sheriff's officers issued a citation to Leal for failure to yield right-of-way. Funeral services for Mrs. Leal are pending and will be announced by Payne Mortuary, Burley.

Many treated successfully

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Countless thousands of people have been treated successfully for depression, the American Psychiatric Association said today.

APA issued a statement on depression and its treatment, prompted by questions concerning Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton's disclosure that he was treated three times in the 1960s for depression. The treatment included electroshock.

The APA offered the statement as general background information without reference to any individual case.

"In general, the assumption of normal activities by countless thousands of people who have been successfully treated for depression is compelling evidence that the existence of an episode of depression in a person's medical history should be considered in the same manner as a wide range of other successfully treated illnesses," the APA said.

It said a person can expect "early recovery" from almost all episodes of depression if treatment is obtained. It said some episodes may recur, but repetition "is not fully predictable."

The APA said there are three main treatments for depression—psychotherapy, drugs and electroshock. Electroshock "has been a highly effective treatment for moderate and severe depressions since it was introduced in 1938," the statement said. It said the treatment is "relatively safe," has the advantage of terminating depression quickly and in carefully selected cases has proven approximately 90 per cent effective.

"During an episode of depression, a person's judgment may be effected in proportion to the degree of severity of the depression," the APA said. "The distortion of judgment may vary from a slight coloration to a gross defect. Following recovery from the episode, there is a full return of judgemental capacity."

Byron Johnson told Pocatello voters Thursday that if he is elected senator he would return to Idaho "as often as possible."

He said he would "take off his coat and tie, roll up his sleeves, and visit Idahoans in the fields, factories, mines and farms."

"There must be a rebirth of people power in our government," the Boise Democratic Senate hopeful said.

Robert E. Smylie, Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate, said Thursday he is "willing to leave the conduct of that unwanted war in Vietnam to the President of the United States."

Smylie said in Boise, "Republican candidates for congress or the Senate do the public a great disservice when they try to act like instant experts on the conduct of our foreign affairs."

Meanwhile, Ed Williams, Democratic hopeful for First District congress, Thursday claimed an average of 51 per cent of adult chinook salmon passing the last dam on the Snake river did not reach Idaho's fishing and spawning areas during the last three years.

"These fish suffered delayed mortality traced directly to nitrogensupersturationproblems caused by heavy water spillage over the dams," Williams said.

The public's right to privacy has been under a process of slow erosion, according to Wayne Kidwell, a Boise attorney running for congress on the Republican ticket.

He said a 1971 act of congress which theoretically guaranteed "every American the right to know what personal data was being reported to credit and employment agencies" is an example of this erosion process.

Democratic Senate Candidate William E. (Bud) Davis termed "calloused and barbaric" statements made by Congressman James McClure this week in which he called for bombing North Vietnamese flood control dikes and a threat to use tactical nuclear weapons.

Campaigning in Magic Valley Thursday, Davis said McClure "even repudiates the war policies of President Nixon, of whom he is so fond."

Campaigning through southwestern Idaho Thursday, Glen Wegner, Republican candidate for the Senate, said environmental issues can never be played down in Idaho.

"That's the whole reason I went to Washington, D.C. in April, and testified before the Senate subcommittee on parks and recreation," he said. "In that testimony, I took a firm stand against any more mining in the White Clouds."

In another development, Tony Park, Idaho Attorney General and Democratic Senate hopeful, said Thursday the Nixon Administration's rejection of the Public Works Bill "is a way to lengthen the unemployment lines, not shorten them."

Speaking to a group in Boise, he said, "we hear constant talk coming out of Washington about the necessity of getting people off the welfare rolls and back on the payrolls, but last week the Republicans voted against a public works bill that would have provided 500,000 construction jobs to help states and local governments build needed water and sewage plants."

Republican congressional Steve Symms addressed the Boise Bench Optimists Club Thursday, and said, "It's time we had some people in government who know which way they're going."

"We seem to have lost sight of the principles that a free country is founded upon," Symms said.

TF suit filed

TWIN FALLS — Suit has been filed in Fifth District Court, Twin Falls, by a Meridian couple and their son seeking more than $200,000 in damages.

Thane D. Johnson and his parents, C. Aldon Johnson and Delora Johnson, have filed the action against R. O. Jacky and Vivian L. Jacky and Times-News-Ace Printing, Inc.

The suit alleges that Thane Johnson was operator of a motorcycle involved in an accident with a car driven by Vivian Jacky on Feb. 16, 1972. Information contained in the suit alleges that Mrs. Jacky was an employee of the Times-News, carrying newspapers when the accident occurred.

The plaintiffs are asking $175,000 for permanent injuries, pain, mental anguish and emotional distress; $15,000 for medical expenses already incurred; $15,000 for future medical expense and $50,000 for lost wages, and costs of the suit.

TF firemen called

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls Firemen were called Thursday afternoon to extinguish a fire in a car owned by James Vincent.

Firemen said the alarm was turned in at 5:27 p.m. and the car was at Fourth Avenue North and Sixth Street North.

Earlier in the day firemen were called to 442 Fourth Ave. N. to a tree fire. Firemen said an evergreen was burning and someone had apparently been playing with matches under the tree.

A truck also was dispatched to Longview Fibre Co. Thursday, but there was no fire. Workmen had apparently cut through a line, triggering the plant's alarm system.

Viet troops battle in Quang Tri

SAIGON (UPI) — Government reconnaissance teams made their way in and out of Quang Tri City's Citadel today, military spokesmen said, but the marine force under new orders to retake the city remained outside the fortress.

The marines, who replaced government paratroopers Thursday in the Quang Tri City fighting, battled North Vietnamese forces to within 100 yards of the Citadel but did not enter the installation, government spokesmen in Saigon and Hue said. A Saigon spokesman said small reconnaissance units filtered in and out of the stone structure today but he had no details.

Paratroopers stormed the 13-acre Citadel Tuesday, laid claim to half of it Wednesday but withdrew from it Thursday. The elite marine force was then ordered in to replace the paratroopers and do what the 20,000-man airborne force failed to do in a month of fighting — sweep the Citadel and the rest of the city clear of North Vietnamese soldiers who overran Quang Tri Province 89 days ago.

South Vietnamese rangers today recaptured without a fight a third district town in the same area, field reports said. A government spokesman said Hoai An district town, about 270 miles northeast of Saigon, was recaptured in the 10-day-old South Vietnamese counteroffensive in the coastal highlands. But UPI reporter Ed Bassett said Communist troops reentered Bong Son district town, 10 miles northeast of Hoai An, and a regimental command post in the town was taking small arms fire during the morning. Refugees, who had returned to Bong Son within the last five days, were again fleeing.

Recapture of Hoi An brought to five the number of district towns in South Vietnam retaken in government counteroffensives. Twelve other district towns remain in Communist hands.

Bassett said the fighting in Bong Son once again cut newly reopened coastal Highway 1, isolating South Vietnamese troops in the recaptured district town of Tam Quan, 10 miles to the north, and Base Camp English, five miles north.

The U.S. Navy, for the third time in a week, Thursday thwarted a North Vietnamese attempt to float supplies into the Communist defenders of Quang Tri City, the U.S. command said. The cruiser USS Newport News and destroyer USS Trippe sank four of the supply craft at the mouth of the Cua Viet river, 12 miles north of the provincial capital, military spokesmen said.

Communist gunners turned a captured 105 mm howitzer on a South Vietnamese ammunition dump at Bong Son Thursday night and blew it up along with several artillery pieces.

James Olson

BUHL — James F. Olson, 64, Buhl, died Thursday at the LDS hospital in Salt Lake City of a short illness.

He was born Dec. 12, 1907, in Bismarck, N. D., and attended schools there, graduating from high school in 1927. He attended the University of North Dakota.

He served with the U.S. Army in the Philippine Islands from 1930 to 1933. He married Ruth Ann Peck July 14, 1935, in Buhl.

He farmed in the Buhl area until the time of his death. He was a member of the Buhl Grange and the college fraternity, Kappa Sigma.

Surviving are his widow, Buhl; one son, Jim Olson, Bryan, Tex.; a daughter, Mrs. Gary (JoAnn) Robbins, Tacoma, Wash., and two grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday at 2 p.m. in the Buhl United Presbyterian Church, with Rev. Bob VanNest officiating.

Final rites will be held in the Filer IOOF Cemetery. Friends may call at Hopkins-Buhl Funeral Chapel Saturday, Sunday afternoon and until noon Monday. The family suggests memorials to the Idaho Youth Ranch.

N. Viet supplies down

WASHINGTON (UPI) — North Vietnam is getting only about 10 per cent of the supplies she was receiving before the mining of her harbors almost three months ago, defense officials said today.

The officials said that contrary to published reports the North Vietnamese have not yet completed construction of a four-inch pipeline that would bring much needed fuel from China down to the Hanoi-Haiphong area. However, they said portions of the line have been finished and are in use with trucks hauling the oil along the unfinished sections of the line.

The officials said that the pipeline in the panhandle was being hit regularly and was totally out of use so that fuel for the tanks and vehicles operating against the South Vietnamese in the Quang Tri area now had to be trucked in.

Altogether, they said, North Vietnam was getting only about 10 per cent of the imports she received before the May 8 mining of her main harbors.

They said Hanoi was probably getting sufficient small arms and rockets by truck from China but no big items — like tanks and replacement surface-to-air missiles — and "essentially no POL," the Pentagon acronym for petroleum, oil and lubricants.

The officials said the bombing of bridges and tunnels had cut the rail lines from China but the North Vietnamese continued to use the sections in between. Goods are then trucked or hand carried across river fords and over hills to another train waiting beyond the bombed out bridges and tunnels.

D. Morgart

RUPERT — David Jackson Morgart, 72, Layton, Utah, former Rupert resident, died Wednesday in an Ogden nursing home.

He was born July 1, 1900, in Beverly, W. Va. He came to Rupert with his family as a young boy and lived there until after his marriage to Wandamie Yearsley on July 25, 1925. Their marriage was solemnized in the Salt Lake City LDS Temple.

The couple lived in Ogden for a few years, returning to work on the Minidoka Project. In 1941, they moved to Layton where Mr. Morgart worked at Hill Air Force Base.

He was a retired supervisor at Hill Air Force Base and a member of Ogden Elks Lodge No. 719.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Pete (Eva) Cowan, North Ogden, Utah, and three grandchildren.

His wife preceded him in death May 12, 1972.

Funeral services will be conducted at 11 a.m. Saturday at Langquist and Sons Mortuary, Kaysville, Utah. Final rites will be at 3 p.m. Saturday in the Rupert Cemetery.

Friends may call at the mortuary from 7 to 9 p.m. Friday and Saturday one hour prior to services.

D. Salmon

BURLEY — Mrs. Dorothy Salmon, longtime Burley resident, died Thursday at Cassia Memorial Hospital.

She was the wife of former Burley mayor Leonard Salmon. Funeral services are pending and will be announced by Payne Mortuary.

Floyd Moseley

RUPERT — Floyd Smith (Buck) Moseley, 62, Rupert, died of a short illness Wednesday evening at Minidoka Memorial Hospital.

He was born June 16, 1910, at Broken Bow, Neb. On Nov. 16, 1935, he married Dorothy Cole at Burley.

He was a well driller and had lived in Jerome before moving to Rupert nine years ago.

Surviving besides his widow are three sons, J. Richard Moseley, Roland Heights, Calif.; J. H. Moseley, Englewood, Calif., and serving with the U.S. Navy in Vietnam, and F. Scott Moseley, Rupert; a daughter, Mrs. Jack (Carrie) Nutter, Bennett, Colo.; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jewel Moseley, Broken Bow, Neb.; a brother, L. A. Moseley, Burley, and eight grandchildren.

Funeral services are pending and will be announced by the McCulloch Funeral Home, Burley.

Davis hopes for close win Aug. 8

By DAVID ESPO
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — At a William E. (Bud) Davis "ice cream party" Thursday night, an aide of the senatorial candidate was talking with a pretty friend.

Davis walked up to the young staffer and said "Would you like to borrow the car tonight, son?" It was said with a mischievous humor, a pleasant gesture that Davis delighted in.

His aide didn't understand what Davis seemed to be saying, but the candidate persisted and the offer was accepted.

So Davis' station wagon, plastered with campaign stickers loaded with the remains of stacks of campaign literature and Davis' newly printed book, "Nobody Calls Me Doctor," had still another use for the campaign.

The car has gone 21,000 miles since the beginning of Davis' campaign for the senate this spring, and the candidate is hopeful now that he can win a close primary race.

"I feel I'm coming on very strong," Davis said after the party. "Starting from scratch the first of May, to where I'm considered one of the two top candidates."

At times, he seems almost to forget the primary and attack Cong. James McClure, a Republican candidate for the same job. Yesterday, he called McClure's call for bomber attacks on North Vietnam flood control dikes "barbaric" and repeated that statement again at the rally.

"I don't intend to take any shots against other Democrats," Davis said, "the big battle is against McClure."

He said McClure's statement was "callous and barbaric," and "even repudiates the war policies of President Nixon, of whom he is so fond."

Campaigning in the Magic Valley the past two days, Davis said he had been received well.

His staff talks hopefully of the campaign making "Idaho history," staffed largely by youth, relatively inexperienced in politics.

There is not enough money for television advertisements, so the effort relies on hearings such as the one Thursday night in the city park, door to door canvassing of voters, leafletting, radio spots, and novelties like four bicyclists touring 1,000 miles of the state in promotion of a clean environment.

He has attracted the youth in the primary, he says, contradicting the claims of other candidates who would seem to have a natural constituency with them.

A former Marine, Davis calls for a policy of "justice with compassion" for men who fled the country to evade the draft for Vietnam.

"I don't feel you address yourself to amnesty while in a shooting war," he said Thursday night, "but at the conclusion of the war the nation can administer it."

But deserters to the Army are a different issue. He says, "They committed themselves." For himself, "I feel a strong obligation to serve, and would if called upon."

He is against abortion on demand, saying there is "more than one life at stake," and flatly opposed to the legalization of marijuana.

"I would be for rigorous prosecution and harassment of pushers of all types of addictive drugs," he said Thursday, but wants "mere possession" of marijuana to be a misdemeanor rather than a felony.

He is convinced of the need for stringent legal control of the drug traffic, he says, because experience with a White House Conference on Youth and discussions with addicts has him convinced that marijuana leads to experimentation with more potent, dangerous substances.

Demo committee needs members

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Democratic National Committee, which would choose a successor if Thomas F. Eagleton withdrew as the party's vice presidential nominee, is short about 50 members and there is considerable confusion over how they would be chosen.

If it came to that—and both Eagleton and presidential contender George S. McGovern insist it won't—there also is some question whether all the committee members would be eligible to vote.

One of the final acts of the recent Democratic convention at Miami Beach was to enlarge the national committee from 110 to 303 members. But some members have only fractional votes and there is at least a possibility some may wind up with none at all.

Theoretically, any action such as replacing Eagleton, would have to get a majority of the total cast.

When the committee met the day after the convention, many states still had not completed their roster of committee members. Since then, Democratic headquarters here has been flooded with inquiries as to how the additional members should be picked.

There also have been some inquiries on how prospective members could be challenged and a procedure now is being developed. Committee Counsel Joseph A. Califano Jr. said it would allow a reasonable time for protests.

Man charged with arson

TWIN FALLS — A Twin Falls man was charged with first degree arson Thursday by Twin Falls Police.

Detective Capt. Tim Qualls said Richard LeRoy Carraway, 30, is accused of starting a July 20 fire at the home of his ex-wife, Mary Carraway.

About $65 damage was done to the curtains and rugs of the bedroom in the home at 469½ Van Buren St.

TF youth still in hospital

TWIN FALLS — A Twin Falls youth remains hospitalized at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital today with injuries received in a car-bicycle accident.

Twin Falls Police said Kris M. DeAlba, 13, was injured about 5:20 p.m. when his bicycle and a car driven by Wandelyn Campbell, 21, Twin Falls, collided at Filer Avenue and Blue Lakes Boulevard North.

The DeAlba youth was taken by ambulance to the hospital where his condition today is listed as fairly good.

More street work scheduled in TF

TWIN FALLS — Another inconvenience to motorists due to progress in the way of street improvement is scheduled to begin Aug. 1.

City Manager Jean Milar said today Neilsen and Co., contractors for the half-million dollar Local Improvement District #7 work, will be tearing up the present Shoshone Street surface.

This will be on the entire project from Second Avenues East and North to Sixth Avenues East and North and will necessitate detour of traffic during about 10 days of demolition and resurfacing work.

Milar said this is one of several streets in the LID project now under various stages of construction or reconstruction. He said after the present surface is torn up gravel will be placed on the roadway and it will again be open to traffic.

"This is another of the inconveniences residents of Twin Falls will encounter, in the process of obtaining better streets through the LID program," Milar said. "We believe they will find the difficulties well worth the results when the project is finished," he said.

TF United Fund articles amended

TWIN FALLS — Articles of incorporation for the Twin Falls United Fund were amended today to comply with Internal Revenue requirements.

Attorney Fred Decker who drafted the amendments said the IRS requires a statement prohibiting use of the organization's funds for the benefit of any individual.

The change to conform with the IRS was necessary, he said, to retain the not-for-profit status of the organization.

The change was approved unanimously by UF board members at the breakfast meeting.

In other business, president Earl Faulkner announced committee assignments for board members.

Faulkner reported that a request by the Red Cross for an additional $1,400 had been refused by the UF executive board because no funds were available for the grant.

Faulkner said the Red Cross had been asked to conduct a special drive to raise the money.

He encouraged board members to support the Red Cross project.

TF County aides agree to bale cars

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls County Commissioners Thursday entered into an agreement with Weldon Haney, Caldwell, to bale cars at the county's dumpyards.

County residents who have cars they want baled can contact the county commissioners or take the cars to the dumpyards.

Bill Chaney, commission chairman, said Haney's baler should be able to handle about 100 cars per day. Chaney estimates there already are more than 500 cars at the county's dump.

Idaho residents urged to check registration

TWIN FALLS — The Idaho League of Voters urges Idahoans to check with their county clerks if they have any doubt concerning their voter registration.

Kay Merriam, Pocatello, state voters' service chairman, said that in order to vote in the Aug. 8 primary, citizens must register on cards, under the new state election laws. "Registration differs from registering to vote. All new residents and new voters must register and all previously registered voters must re-register," she said.

Mrs. Merriam also noted that the recent U. S. Supreme Court decision that no residency requirements, for voting may apply, means that anyone who registers with his county clerk by two days before the election will be able to vote in the primary.

The re-registration cards will provide a permanent registration for voters. Information required includes name, sex, location of residence, length of residence, citizenship, legal qualifications and where previously registered.

Persons who will be absent from their voting precinct on election day should contact their county clerk for information on absentee balloting.

The Impact

Completion of the planned Rodeway Inn on Blue Lakes Boulevard North will do much for the economy of the City of Twin Falls.

The new facility, coupled with the major improvements being made right now to the Holiday Inn, located across the road, will provide convention groups with meeting areas and banquet areas second to none in this section of the state. This, coupled with availability of the College of Southern Idaho meeting areas in many instances, will give local convention groups what they have been lacking in the past.

The Holiday Inn facilities, the Rodeway Inn facilities and the College of Southern Idaho facilities will tend to attract the larger conventions which have been going elsewhere in the Valley. Although officials of the Holiday and Rodeway have made no public announcement, it is inconceivable that they will not cooperate by "joining up" for the larger groups, even with the possibility of closed circuit television.

Such an arrangement — the ability to attract the larger conventions — will also mean money in the pocket of owners of other motels in Twin Falls. Cooperation in room assignments according to customer preferred price categories will benefit all. And such benefit spreads over the entire community — in the stores, the restaurants and the automobile service establishments.

The availability of more convention facilities, along with Hughes Airwest jet service less than 15 minutes away through the Twin Falls City-County Airport, is bound to return this community to convention leadership — a position that has been hard to hold onto for several years.

Counsel By Phone

More than 250 telephone counseling services to help troubled people have sprung up, in every state in the nation.

"Crisis intervention centers, telephone counseling services, hot lines, help lines, lifelines — by whatever name, the procedure of counseling the troubled by telephone is flourishing across the country," says Edwin Kiester Jr., reporting on his study of new development in a recent issue of Family Health magazine.

Many provide specialized help such as drug counseling, advice on youth problems, companionship for the elderly, suicide prevention. Others do no counseling but tell callers where they can go for assistance.

Originally intended for teenagers, the first hot line was started by Children's Hospital of Los Angeles to enable young people to talk anonymously with sympathetic adults when they felt cut off from their own parents.

Other agencies quickly saw the technique as a way to combat drug usage and drug hot lines were soon operating in many metropolitan areas and university towns, providing the names of rehabilitation services and other counseling.

At Stony Brook, Long Island, the human-to-human hot line is called "Response" and is sponsored by the United Ministries of Suffolk County.

In Philadelphia, "Help Line" was organized at a "street people's" headquarters to help teenagers with drug-related problems.

In New York City, another "Help Line" is operated by Marble Collegiate Church and is one of 24 such church-sponsored services in the nation.

"We don't have barn-raising and other events to help each other any more," says a volunteer at Response.

Notes From History

It was on August 24 in 1932 that Amelia Earhart became the first woman to make a transcontinental non-stop flight. She accomplished the feat in a Lockheed Vega, a real sporty looking high-winged monoplane of that day.

Today, a plane similar to that one is one of dozens of historic planes now on display in the museum of transportation at the Greenfield Village and Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn, Michigan.

Along this transportation line, it is well to recall that the first automobile to cross the continent under its own power arrived at New York City from San Francisco on August 31, 1903.

This Packard, named "Old Pacific," completed a 52-day journey from coast to coast to make automotive history. This same car, which made the historic trek with many a bang and a whimper, is now one of 200 classics on display in the same museum.

CAMPAIGN FLOPS

A recent saturation campaign of television commercials urging seat belt use "had no effect whatever," reported its sponsor.

During a nine-month period in 1971 and early 1972, the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety conducted a television campaign in a middle-sized American city consisting of six professionally produced commercials. Observations were made of cars throughout the city to determine any change in the level of seat belt use.

"In spite of the number of campaigns urging safety belt use," concludes the institute, "the proportion of vehicle occupants using them is so low that much of the reduction in death and injury that should be achieved by their use is not realized."

So there you have it. Do you use your seat belt? Or would you rather have that suit or dress sans wrinkles when they carry you to the grave? Wearing a seat belt can, you know, wrinkle your clothing.

Nixon To Get Southern States

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Alabama Gov. George Wallace's emerging decision not to run this year as a third party presidential candidate seems likely to give President Nixon all 11 "old south" states and nearly half the electoral votes he needs for re-election.

The word "emerging" is used because a judgment is forming not from open Wallace statements but from utterances by aides, seasoned Wallace-watchers, and at least one of his physicians. The doctor's word, that the governor's nonpolitical wounds have weakened him more than earlier realized, is getting around. Less appreciated is Wallace's evident mental depression.

Alabama newsmen who had a group visit with him at Miami Beach have not said much about it. But they found him in a state of melancholy. He seemed almost disinterested in current politics. He would give one-line answers to questions and then fall silent and look down at the floor. Once or twice people around Wallace have hinted that a third party effort might be good therapy for him. But his downcast mood and weakened condition appear to work against the idea.

If he is out of it this time, what then?

The best information is that he will not endorse the Democratic nominee, Sen. George McGovern, and will not encourage any of his followers to take that course. But he won't endorse Nixon, either. He will play what seems a plausible role, that of a disabled man who is necessarily sidelined and understandably quiet.

This stance will do him no appreciable harm if he recovers sufficiently to make another presidential bid in 1976 within the Democratic fold. His party credentials will be intact.

11 old south states with their total of 130 electoral votes and get a long leg up on the 270 required for election. Nixon won five of those states — Virginia, Tennessee, the two Carolinas and Florida — in 1968. He lost Texas to Sen. Hubert Humphrey by a single percentage point. And in Georgia, Louisiana and Arkansas he ran ahead of Humphrey while trailing Wallace. Only in Alabama and Mississippi did Nixon place third.

Alabama sources tell me the guessing there today is that Nixon would beat McGovern by at least two to one.

To gauge the significance of a southern sweep for Nixon, you need only make the further realistic calculation that he may bag another 71 electoral votes by blanking McGovern in the 13 Mountain and Plains states and getting just Oregon and Alaska in the Pacific tier. Conservatively, give the President just 42 in four of the nine middle west states, leaving out the really big ones. That puts him 27 short of election, without counting any large states but Texas and Florida.

Calling B. Fischer

WASHINGTON — In a few weeks President Nixon will have to make one of the most important decisions of his Administration. He will have to decide whether or not he puts a telephone call through to Iceland if Bobby Fischer wins the World Championship Chess Tournament.

There hasn't been an antihero like Bobby Fischer in years. His behavior before and during the tournament caused one Washington Post reader to write, "Fischer is the only American who can make everyone in the United States root for the Russians."

Based on what Fischer has been doing in Iceland, the President's call could go something like this:

"Hello Bobby, this is President Nixon. I just wanted to call and congratulate you on your victory in Iceland."

"Make it short will you? I'm tired."

"This is a great day for America, Bobby."

"It's a greater day for me. I won $150,000, and I showed these Icelandic creeps a thing or two."

"You know, Bobby, I almost made the chess team at Whittier College."

"But I went out for football instead."

"Is that what this call is all about?"

"Now wait a minute, Bobby. I always call anyone who wins a championship for America. I would like to give you a white dinner at the White House when you come back."

"How much will you pay me to come?"

"Pay you? I don't pay people to have dinner at the White House."

"Then what's in it for me?"

"I'll invite the Cabinet, the Supreme Court, the leaders of Congress and every rich Republican chess player in the country. I'll get Guy Lombardo to play after dinner. It's the least I can do for someone who beat the great Spassky."

"All right, I'll come. But these are my demands: You send the presidential plane to Iceland to pick me up. You personally meet me at the plane and provide me with a limousine, a suite of rooms, a private tennis court, my own swimming pool and 10 Secret Service men so I'm not buzzed by the press."

"I think I can do that, Bobby."

"And no television cameras."

"No television cameras?"

"I hate television cameras. They send me into a frenzy. If I see one television camera at the dinner, I'm walking out."

"Don't worry, Bobby. There won't be any television cameras."

"And no talking while I'm eating. I can't eat when people talk."

"It's very difficult to hold a large dinner at the White House and not have anyone talk."

"That's your problem. If I hear noise of any kind, you're going to have to get yourself another world champion chess player."

"Anything you say, Bobby. It's your dinner."

"What time is this shindig of yours going to take place?"

"I thought about eight o'clock."

"I'll be there at nine. I don't like to stand around and make small talk with a lot of stuffed-shirt politicians."

"I understand, Bobby."

"And I'm bringing my own chair."

PAUL HARVEY

The Cigarette

Evidence against the cigarette is now irrefutable and overwhelming, yet more Americans are finding it impossible to quit, and wait until you hear the new theory as to why.

"The cigarette is a lover."

My goodness!

The newest research establishes that the baby is 28 percent more likely to be born dead if the mother smokes during the last five months of pregnancy.

But one-third of all expectant mothers keep smoking.

Also, women who smoke are twice as likely to die of a stroke or heart disease. By smoking they are asking for lung cancer, emphysema, bronchitis, cirrhosis, aortic aneurysm or cancer of the mouth, pharynx, larynx and esophagus.

Yet today, 30.5 percent of our nation's adult women smoke — more than ever before.

I did not open this subject today to nag. It's obvious now that nagging does not help and may have a reverse effect. But I'm fascinated and thought you might be with the new theory as to what makes the cigarette irresistible.

You've heard the pacifier theory — that we have to have something to suck on. You've heard the self-destruction theory — that the danger is the attraction, that inevitably we flit like moths around a flame.

But it took a woman to suggest that "the cigarette is a lover."

During a decade of preoccupation with other drugs, there has been much debate as to whether certain of them are addictive. All of them are, including tobacco.

It is the consensus of the new researchers that tobacco is more addictive than alcohol. The drinker in 20 becomes an alcoholic, but almost every individual who becomes a smoker becomes addicted.

In New Canaan, Conn., the Silver Hill Foundation divided women smokers into therapy groups. They reduced their use of cigarettes gradually for three days. On the fourth day they quit.

Remaining under observation, the women began to mourn. I mean as at a funeral with grief and tears, some torrents of tears.

A researcher, Dr. John Tamerlin, says, "The dynamics of grief and loss appeared to be central to the entire cessation process. Subjects generally agreed that they had never before in their lives given up anything as meaningful, nor had any loss ever cost them such pain."

Of the experimental group of 10-day abstainers, all returned to the habit within three months.

And this researcher attached significance to the fact that the grieving women voiced several variations of this statement: "My cigarettes are more a lover than a friend."

If that says it as it is, the efforts of our health crusaders certainly should be redirected and may be useless.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Those Scabs

Dear Dr. Thosteson I am in my late 70s and have had trouble with two sores coming on my face for the last eight years. I have one on the side of my face about an inch from my eye and the other on my forehead.

Scabs will form and I try to remove them and they finally drop off leaving a very red, raw-looking spot. Is this anything that is hereditary? Is there anything I can use to cure these ugly looking sores? — Mrs. H.D.

I never was much for using scare techniques, and I trust that you won't be frightened by my answer to you, but I DO hope you will pay attention.

I can't, after all, undertake to diagnose those unsightly spots that are bothering you just from hearing about them. They could be various things.

But don't they fit one of the seven danger signs of cancer — a sore that does not heal?

The spots may be some sort of slow, chronic infection, or possibly some other skin disorder, but I most certainly think you should go to your doctor for a definite diagnosis.

If they are skin cancer, have them removed before they have time to spread and cause really serious trouble. In folks your age, cancer spreads very slowly, so even having waited eight years may not pose any great problem for you.

But have your doctor take a look. That's the one safe thing for you to do.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: You mentioned a wood tick repellent called diethyltoluamide. Pharmacists say they can't find the word in their booklets. Is this in powder or liquid form? — J.U.R.

The repellent is also — and perhaps more commonly — called deet. It comes in liquid form or in a lanolin-type ointment. You put a few drops on your hands and rub it onto areas that are likely places for exposure to ticks.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: A friend just asked me if I had ever heard of the medicine called metotrexate for treatment of psoriasis, as I have it very severely. Have you ever heard of it? — N.S.

Yes, indeed. But it is such a powerful medication that it has to be used under the most careful circumstances, and therefore is used only in extreme cases of psoriasis.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Five years ago my Fallopian tubes were tied after birth of my last child. I have heard stories from several women that after five years the tubes can become unknotted. Some say it happened to them. My doctor told me it can't happen. My five years are up and I have begun to worry. What do you say? — Mrs. E.C.

BERRY'S WORLD

"Hey, man! What's with you? First, you grow an 'Afro' — then you dye it blond!"

Candidates' aides can't outrank their man

By DAVID ESPO
Times-News Writer
TWIN FALLS — There is a little over a week to go before Idaho's voters make their primary choices, and another three months after that before they make more permanent ones.

But even at this early stage of the campaign, there is one law of politics that is universally respected, violated only at great peril.

It says that a candidate's advance men must dress, act and speak less appealingly than the candidate himself.

The law operates on a sliding scale of course, since candidates dress differently. If the candidate is dressed in a business suit, then his press aide, or campaign coordinator is allowed tasteful sports jackets and fashionable pants. If the candidate is dressed in a sports jacket but not matching pants, the advance man may either remove his jacket, or wear less expensive looking clothes.

Finally, if the candidate is dressed casually, that is pants, sports shirt and sun glasses, he either has no advance man, or else he has one who is dressed, say, in work pants.

There are sound political reasons for this rule. After all, an advisor is meant to advise, soothe, counsel and uplift the boss, not to overshadow him.

And there are risks if the law is violated. Not here, but in Washington, D. C. a senator was scheduled to appear at a political anti-war rally. He and two or three aides were met at the door by an anxious rally organizer. Without hesitation, he walked up to the senator's press secretary and said, "Hello, senator, I'm glad you could speak to us."

The senator looked deflated, his aide said only, "I'm not the senator, this is."

But it points up potential problems. Nor can an advance man speak better than the boss. It does no good for a candidate to slug his way through an ill-worded, sloppily written text, no matter how noble the ideas, if his aide is saying in well turned phrases how marvelous the candidate is in front of crowds.

So the primary goes on in Idaho, and in other states as well, with the candidates shaking hands and wagging fingers, trying to shake votes from the political vines. And their devoted assistants trot along with them, two or three steps to the rear, in clothes that need laundering.

Lush spring pastures, while high in potential food values, often offer cattle less nourishment than in summer because high moisture content cuts the amount the animals are able to eat.

British troops pour into N. Ireland

BELFAST (UPI) — British troop reinforcements poured into Northern Ireland by the thousands today to help mount "what Defense Ministry officials said would be a rigorous new army campaign against the Irish Republican Army (IRA). Three men, including two Roman Catholics, died Thursday in continuing violence in the province. The deaths brought to 477 the number of persons killed in three years of strife in Northern Ireland. Army sources said most of the 4,000 troop reinforcements ordered into the province Thursday would arrive in the territory today. The reinforcements will bring overall army strength in the province to 21,000, including the 8,000-man militia, the Ulster Defense Regiment.

The reinforcements include a Battalion of the Coldstream Guards, transferred from duty as scarlet-coated, bearskin-capped sentries at Buckingham Palace, and three units stationed in West Germany. A Defense Ministry statement in London said the reinforcements were ordered in to help take "very resolute and determined action against those responsible" for last Friday's wave of bombings in Belfast, in which nine persons died and 130 were injured. The IRA's extremist Provisional wing has claimed credit for the bombings. In Belfast troops found the body of an unidentified man wrapped in a bag in the back of a warehouse in the Protestant Sandy Row district. In the day's other fatalities, police discovered the charred bodies of Frank Carr, 38, and another fellow Catholic in a blazing car in Belfast's Protestant Crumlin Road area.

Philippines still battling floods

MANILA (UPI) — Monsoon rains touched off landslides and renewed flooding today in Central Luzon, the Philippines' main island where an estimated one million people are still isolated following the worst floods in 26 years. The Red Cross said landslides in the mountain resort city of Baguio and on the west coast province of Zambales killed eight more people today, raising to more than 260 the number killed since devastating monsoon rains began a month ago. A Red Cross official said the flooding is the worst he has seen in his 26 years of work with the organization in the Philippines. Officials said floods today washed away graves as torrential downpours spilled rivers over their banks in some areas. Residents in San Simon Town, 45 miles north of Manila, reported coffins raked up by floods in the municipal cemetery drifted to outlying villages and had to be tied to trees.

Bus project continuing in Detroit

DETROIT (UPI)—The special panel drawing up a cross-district busing program for Detroit and 52 suburban school districts does not expect such a program to be implemented before next February, even on an interim basis, a panel member said today.

Marvin Tableman, a liaison for the State Department of Education, said the groundwork for the program—such as the reassignment of students and teachers—could be laid in September if preliminary rulings by U.S. District Court Judge Stephen Roth are upheld by higher courts.

Roth's rulings setting the stage for cross-district busing are under appeal to the U.S. 6th District Court of Appeals in Cincinnati, which has scheduled an Aug. 24 hearing on the matter.

The court ruled, in accepting the appeal, that no buses could be ordered for the plan until a decision is reached. But it permitted the panel to continue work on the plan.

The panel will present its formal recommendations to Roth on Monday, Tableman said.

said. Roth will be unable to act upon them, however, until the appellate court decision is handed down.

If Roth's rulings are upheld, Tableman said, a proposed affirmative action program would be launched immediately, in which minority employment among teachers and administrators in the school districts involved would be increased.

Students and teachers would be reassigned but would most likely not be transferred to other school districts until the beginning of the second semester in February unless they volunteered for immediate transfer, he said.

Tableman said it would be very difficult to begin transporting students from one district to another before February no matter what takes place, but that all the other necessary work would be completed by then.

He said the report that will be presented to Roth "will be a very comprehensive document that addresses itself to how you develop a desegregation plan for the metropolitan Detroit area. What happens to that plan is up to the court."

Russ pullout in Egypt larger than first seen

WASHINGTON (UPI)—American intelligence sources said today the Soviet military pullout from Egypt apparently will be on a far more massive scale than had appeared likely earlier this week.

The sources said combat forces which operate the more sophisticated equipment were joining the exodus of purely advisory officers.

The Russians, these sources said, not only are removing the most advanced military aircraft they had sent to Egypt—the MIG23 "Foxbat"—but are beginning to evacuate personnel from the new SA3 anti-aircraft missile sites south of Cairo and to withdraw from military bases in the Alexandria area.

The Egyptians, who have had control of the SA2s for some time, have begun taking over the SA3s from Russian personnel and have begun to move into some of the anti-aircraft, naval and aircraft installations in the Alexandria area, they said.

Five of the 10 MIG23s in Egypt—flown by Soviet pilots as protection against Israeli penetration in depth—already have been dismantled and taken back to Russia in AN22 cargo planes. It appears that the remainder will be taken out soon, intelligence officials here said.

It was unclear just what would happen to about 72 MIG21 jet fighter-bombers which have been flown by Soviet pilots. The only thing that seemed certain was that Egypt will keep control of more than 200 MIG19s and MIG21s which have been turned over to her during the past five years.

Israeli intelligence sources have reported that the 16 to 18 reconnaissance bombers Russia sent Egypt were also being removed.

Senior senator, 81, dies

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Allen J. Ellender, the outspoken Louisiana Democrat who served under six presidents during a 36 year Senate career in which he became one of the nation's most influential politicians, died Thursday at the age of 81.

Ellender, the oldest as well as the longest serving Senate member, was stricken by stomach pains while boarding a private plane following a Louisiana campaign swing.

According to aides, the pains progressively worsened during the flight to Washington. Upon arrival, he was examined and rushed to Bethesda, Md., Naval Hospital where he died at 7:20 p.m. of apparent heart failure.

President Nixon ordered

White House flags flown at half-staff and eulogized Ellender as "a good friend, a fine Senator and a splendid American."

As President pro tempore of the Senate, Ellender was third in succession to the presidency following the Vice-President and the Speaker of the House.

Ellender's death was announced by his Senate colleagues by Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., son of Huey P. Long, "Kingfish" Long, who gave Ellender his start in politics.

Long said his senior colleague had served for 36 years "with honor and dignity" and that his half-century of public service was "unblemished by so much as a hint of misconduct."

Vice-President Spiro T. Agnew issued a statement saying Ellender was "one of the most respected and distinguished members of the United States Senate."

Other tributes came from Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana; minority leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania; James B. Allen, D-Ala., and John C. Stennis, D-Miss.

In Louisiana former State Senator J. Bennett Johnson, Ellender's opponent in this year's Democratic primary, said Ellender "served with great dignity in the United States Senate."

He was first elected to the U.S. Senate in 1936 succeeding Long, who was shot down by an assassin in September, 1935.

Workers laid off by storm

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Trustees of the Penn Central Railroad, already cutting corners due to bankruptcy, announced Thursday 1,000 workers will be laid off because of flood damage caused by tropical storm Agnes.

The announcement came one day after the railroad released terms of a plan it will use to cut the size of 285 train crews and eventually eliminate 5,700 jobs.

The railroad said the latest layoff was "temporary." It estimated its flood losses at $20 million to rail facilities and equipment, and $10 million in lost freight revenue.

The railroad also said capital projects already under way or planned for 1972 would be re-evaluated and other expenses cut.

The carrier, undergoing reorganization in U.S. District Court here, had been planning on increased freight revenue and expanded service to help it return to solvency.

The trustees said they hoped to receive help from the federal government in repairing the flood damage.

Practice waving

WITH THE DEMOCRATS out of the way and the Republicans on the way for their convention, Donia and the other elephants at Lion Country Safari in West Palm Beach, Fla., practice their flag waving for the GOP convention in Miami later this month. Let's we forget, elephants are the symbol of the Republicans. (UPI)

Breakdown in GOP party discipline gets blame

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. William B. Saxbe, R-Ohio, charged Wednesday a total breakdown in GOP party discipline led to the success of end-the-war amendments in the Senate and House.

The outspoken Ohio Republican said President Nixon's wishes were not carried out because the GOP leadership in Congress does not have enough access to the White House. The Senate Monday voted 50 to 45 to cut off funds to maintain U.S. forces in all of Indochina four months after enactment of the legislation if American prisoners of war are freed.

The historic vote was later nullified when the Senate turned down, 48 to 42, a $1.8-billion foreign aid bill to which the end-the-war amendment was attached. Less than 24 hours later, the usually docile House Foreign Affairs Committee voted 18 to 17 for a similar pullout. The only conditions attached were release of the POWs, safe withdrawal, and a "cease-fire" between U.S. and Communist forces to effect the departure.

A White House aide, meanwhile, predicted the foreign aid bill would be killed on the House floor with or without the antiwar amendment attached to it by the Foreign Affairs Committee.

Singer will have operation on eye

MONACO (UPI) — Singer Ella Fitzgerald will return soon to the United States to undergo an eye operation in hopes of saving her from blindness, her doctor said today.

Dr. Miller Berliner said Miss Fitzgerald's condition required surgery after a hemorrhage in the left eye earlier this week forced the 52-year-old jazz singer to cancel her current foreign tour and future engagements in the United States.

Miss Fitzgerald, who is now resting under doctors orders in her hotel room, has already lost almost total use of her right eye because of a cataract condition.

Berliner said any prognosis on the black songstress' chances of recovery would be premature until the full results of recent medical tests were known.

Miss Fitzgerald underwent eye surgery last fall after a first ocular hemorrhage forced her to curtail a European singing tour.

Richard Cook, chief White House lobbyist in the House, told reporters in an effort to take out the amendment succeeds, enough doves will vote against the legislation to defeat it.

And should the amendment remain, he said, Republicans and Democratic hawks would doom it.

"Either way, the bill is dead," said Cook.

Saxbe said "the Republicans were running around like chickens with their heads cut off" during the series of confusing votes Monday night.

US warns Japan to reduce trade

HAKONE, Japan (UPI) — The United States warned Japan anew Thursday that it faced "serious" consequences if it did not reduce the huge Japanese trade surplus with the United States.

Economic diplomats of the two countries met for the third day of tense four-day negotiations that, so far, have produced few concessions from the Japanese side.

The aim of the talks is to cut down Japanese profits in trade with America which the U.S. Department of Commerce economists say may reach $3.8 billion this year.

"I think you can expect some results here," said Harold B. Malmgren, President Nixon's deputy special negotiator for foreign trade. "It will be impossible to wind up this week without an agreement. The political ramifications are just too serious—not just for us, but for Japan."

Malmgren did not spell out all the consequences of the Japanese failure to give the United States help on the trade deficit problem, aside from the threat of protectionist legislation in the U.S. Congress.

"The United States would not be able to sustain pressures for congressional action," Malmgren warned. "Now is the time for decision. Either Japan is going to be in the international business community or she isn't."

A spokesman for the U.S. delegation denied a report in a leading Japanese financial newspaper that America had threatened to impose a special tariff on all Japanese goods. "It absolutely never has been considered," he said.

The report, attributed to official Japanese sources, appeared in Thursday's Nihon

Keizai newspaper. The United States wants to solve the U.S.-Japan trade problem by getting Japan to buy more American goods to help even out the trade figures. The first concessions from Japanese negotiators came Thursday, Japanese delegation sources said Japan is now ready to open its market to increase imports of American nuclear reactors, cosmetics and patent medicines.

However, the Japanese were refusing some of the major American requests, including: —Granting American chain stores the right to do business in Japan on the basis of 100 per cent American ownership, with up to 20 outlets. At present such chains are restricted to 11 outlets and must be joint ventures with Japanese partners.

Candidates urged to open records

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two medical professors have proposed that candidates for political office open their health records to the public in the same way that financial interests are revealed.

Drs. William R. Ayers and James C. Aller said in a 14-page paper that "performance under the stress characteristics of many high political offices" makes public knowledge of health conditions a necessity.

Ayers and Aller said the major objection "is the question of the sophistication of the public. Can they make informed judgments on implications of data that are cloaked in some sort of jargon—medical in this case."

curriculum at the School of Medicine. Aller is an associate professor at the George Washington University Medical Center. Ayers and Aller specifically rejected psychological tests because of the "subjective" factors involved in analyzing them.

Reception set for Follingstads

TWIN FALLS — A reception will be held Sunday for Mr. and Mrs. David Follingstad, who will be moving soon to Mt. Vernon, Wash.

The event will be held at the First Presbyterian Church dining room after the 10 a.m. worship service. Follingstad is choir director for the church, and music director of Valley High School. He has accepted a position with Skagit Valley Community College as theory instructor and band director. All friends of the Follingstads are invited to attend the farewell reception.

Rev. Robert Van Nest, pastor, has returned from summer vacation and will give the sermon, entitled "Let's Be Honest With Ourselves." Special music will be provided by Follingstad playing selections on the vibra harp.

Methodists set school at Rupert

RUPERT — The United Methodist Church will hold its vacation church school July 31 through Aug. 4 at the church. Theme this year will be "We Need Each Other." The sessions will begin at 7:30 p.m. with an assembly of all attending. Special music and programs are planned for the general assembly.

At 8 p.m. each evening class instruction will begin for all ages including two classes for adults. Registration fees will take the place of offerings each night.

All church members and interested persons are invited to attend the vacation church school.

The final night of the school a covered dish dinner is planned with a special program presented by the children who have attended the school.

CHURCHES

Evangelist team sets Rupert date

RUPERT — The Kroeze Brothers, internationally known evangelist team, will present a program at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the First Assembly of God Church, Rupert.

The group from Everett, Wash., is being jointly sponsored by First Assembly of God and the Spanish Assembly of God churches of Rupert.

The public is invited, announced Rev. William E. Fish and Rev. Hill Alvarado.

The evangelists have extended their ministry into more than 50 countries around the world and speak weekly on radio and television programs across the nation.

The brothers have been preaching since they were 12 and 15 years old. They have produced several long-playing albums.

The team consists of Billy and Sandra Kroeze and their two daughters, Johnny and Kowanda Kroeze and their son.

They sing a variety of gospel songs, and the musical instruments they play include accordion, organ, piano, guitar, banjo, mandolin, bawooka and bass fiddle.

Speaker set

TWIN FALLS — Rev. Robert Van Nest of the First Presbyterian Church will give the sermon on "Let's Be Honest With Ourselves" for the Drive-In Church this Sunday.

The service will be from 8 to 8:45 a.m. at the Motor Vu Drive-In Theater, Eastland Drive. Special music will be by soloists Mrs. Junelle Wike.

King Hill grange has skit

KING HILL — The Gopher Knoll 4-H Club put on two skits for the King Hill Subordinate Grange Picnic Tuesday evening.

The club was host for home made ice cream for the group. Sarah and Glenns McTeary modeled their 4-H sewing projects. Debbie Davis demonstrated making cookies.

Mrs. John Davis, Mrs. Frank Jones and Mrs. T. M. Timbers asked all Grangers to let them know, as soon as possible, what flowers or garden produce would be available for display at the Elmore County Fair, Aug. 10-12.

Karl Anderson gave a history of the Grange for the past 50 years. He said that until the Grange was able to purchase regalia, badges were used, and they met in the school house for a number of years. The present hall was purchased in 1946.

At one time the King Hill Grange had four degree teams, one of them all women. A woman may hold any office in the Grange, a man may hold all but three offices.

Early service at Rupert

RUPERT — Services at Trinity Lutheran Church, Rupert, will begin at 9 a.m. during August.

There will be no Sunday school classes during August, church officials said Thursday.

Awards rally set at church

TWIN FALLS — The Neighborhood Bible Time Crusade will conduct a graduation and awards rally at 8 p.m. today.

Teachers and boosters will gather with parents and friends at Grace Baptist Church, 211 4th Ave. E., Twin Falls, pastored by Rev. Robert Seaman.

The evening will feature the highlights of their week's activities. A special musical program is planned. Awards will be presented to honor students in each grade. Bible drill grand champions will be selected.

Regular bus transportation services will not include the program Friday night, but transportation can be arranged by calling 733-1452.

Gooding speakers slated

GOODING — Rev. R. B. Cavaness Jr., an Assembly of God missionary to Indonesia, will speak Aug. 3 at the Gooding Assembly of God Church.

Rev. Theron Piper, pastor, said Rev. and Mrs. Cavaness will return to Indonesia where they began their missionary service in 1947. They have spent several years in Malaysia.

He will speak on "Missions in the Decisive Seventies," and will illustrate his talk by a unique panoramic color slide presentation using three synchronized projectors to three screens.

The timed sequence cycling of the projectors gives an unusual but fast moving, informative and inspirational view of Indonesia, today, Rev. Piper said. Rev. Piper invites friends and anyone interested to attend.

Lesson on love

TWIN FALLS — "Love" will be the topic of the lesson Sunday at the 11 a.m. service of the First Church of Christ, Scientist.

The Wednesday evening meeting will be at 8. The reading room, 115 Second St. West, is open from 1 to 4 p.m. Monday to Saturday. Every Monday at 6:30 p.m. the Christian Science Radio Program can be heard on station KTFI.

Catholics, Jews turning to GOP?

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

The vast majority of America's Catholics and Jews have traditionally been Democrats.

This year, a large number are likely to vote Republican. That is the consensus of Catholic and Jewish leaders who are intimately familiar with trends and attitudes in these two large religious communities.

There are several reasons for this historic shift in political allegiance.

The first is economic. Rising affluence has caused many Catholics and Jews to identify with the haves rather than the have-nots. "There is no question about it," says Rabbi Louis Bernstein, president of the Rabbinical Council of America, "a lot of Jews are swinging to the right in politics."

Racial issues have played a part in the swing to the right, particularly among so-called "ethnic" Catholics and among Jews who live near black neighborhoods in big cities. Many Jews who once considered themselves liberal allies of black men in the struggle for civil rights now feel that they are targets of virulent anti-Semitism among blacks and have become defensive about it.

Most important issues in switching Catholic and Jewish votes, however, are (1) abortion and (2) Israel.

Sen. George McGovern, the Democratic presidential nominee, is trying to sidestep the abortion issue by saying it's one for states to decide. But Catholics know—and Republicans won't let them forget it—that McGovern was saying only a few months ago that "abortion is a private matter which should be decided by a pregnant woman and her own doctor." In other words, he favored abortion-on-demand, with no legal restrictions.

This position is deeply repugnant to many Americans—not only Catholics—who feel that the state has a responsibility to provide protection to the most helpless form of human life—a quickened but unborn fetus.

President Nixon has squarely aligned himself with this latter sentiment—and again you can rest assured this point will be made perfectly clear in the election campaign. On April 3, 1971, Nixon said:

"From personal and religious beliefs I consider abortion an unacceptable form of population control. Further, unrestricted policies of abortion on demand I cannot square with my personal belief in the sanctity of human life—including the life of the yet unborn."

Jews aren't much concerned with the abortion issue but are quite concerned about American support of Israel. The general feeling of the American Jewish community, according to qualified informants within it, is that Nixon has proved himself a stalwart supporter of Israel, both in diplomatic maneuvers and in shipments of U.S. arms, including Phantom jet planes.

McGovern, on the other hand, is widely remembered among Jews as a man who once advocated making Jerusalem an open city.

Joint rites set Sunday at Buhl

BUHL — Rev. Bert Allen will conduct a joint Holy Communion service Sunday for the congregations of the United Presbyterian Church and Holy Trinity Episcopal Church.

The service will be at the Presbyterian Church at 11 a.m. Rev. Allen is the rector of Ascension Episcopal Church, Twin Falls.

Assisting Rev. Allen will be John MacKay, elder of the Presbyterian congregation. Rev. Allen's daughter will serve as acolyte.

The service will be according to the Episcopal liturgy, with both congregations receiving the sacrament.

The open communion acceptance in each church permits this sacramental fellowship, and in the spirit of the present day ecumenism, is a vital factor in leading members of several churches into common understanding, furthering effective joint efforts in religion and community service, according to Rev. John Wallace, Episcopal priest, who is at present ministering the Presbyterian congregation in Buhl.

Nazarenes set Burley school

BURLEY — The Nazarene Vacation Bible School starts Sunday and will end Aug. 4, announced Rev. Earl D. Hunter.

All the Bible school sessions will begin at 6:30 p.m. and will be completed by 9 p.m. each evening.

The men of the church will assist with the Bible school, according to Rev. Hunter.

Clifford Jackson will be serving as the director. He will be assisted by John Gray, music; Jerry Coe, Henry Meek and several of the young men will direct the recreation. Ken Roth, assisted by his wife, is in charge of the refreshments, and Lloyd Miller with the aid of all the men will handle the handicraft.

Rev. Coen and wife of the Rupert Church of the Nazarene will be assisting with teaching and devotional services.

The final program will be at 7 p.m. Aug. 4 at which time the children's handicraft work will be on display. Refreshments will be served after the program.

There is no fee for the Bible school.

A fee will offering will be taken Aug. 3 for foreign missions.

HANSEN — Mrs. Wayne Smith was elected president of the Rock Worthwhile Club at a pot luck picnic meeting Wednesday in the Kimberly City Park.

Other officers elected include Mrs. Dale Kirkpatrick, vice president; Mrs. Vera McKinstler, secretary; Mrs. Grace McFarland, assistant secretary and reporter; Mrs. Elsie Henry, treasurer, and Mrs. Glenn Gott, assistant treasurer. Both Mrs. Smith and Mrs. McKinstler were awarded perfect attendance awards.

Committee appointments include Mrs. Nial Bradshaw, card committee; Mrs. Kirkpatrick, flowers; Mrs. Burton Hill, gifts, and Mrs. A.G. Austin and Mrs. Earl Baker, welfare.

Guests were Mrs. Opal Brown and Mrs. June Yarbrough, both Twin Falls, Mrs. Frieda Owens and Bell Brady, Kimberly.

$1,400 quota set in TF

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls chapter of the American Red Cross has a quota of $1,400 in a nationwide fund drive for several hundred thousand flood victims.

Disaster relief operations in 12 states exhausted the budget and disaster reserves of the Red Cross, which is now trying to raise a minimum of $10 million for services to homeless victims.

Contributions may be made to the Red Cross office, 164 Main St. North, or call 733-6464 for someone to pick up the donation.

As of July 10, the Red Cross has spent $13.9 million to provide food, shelter and other mass care services to 384,280 disaster victims and emergency workers. The organization also had given individual assistance to 41,141 families to meet their immediate needs for clothing, household furnishings, home repairs, medical aid, and maintenance in temporary quarters.

A total of 125,439 families suffered losses and 173, 226 evacuees were sheltered in 581 Red Cross shelters. Many more families are expected to need this individual help as they return to their flood-ravaged homes.

Red Cross disaster relief assistance is given all year around to the victims of thousands of such smaller disasters — transportation accidents, explosions and similar calamities, as well as home or apartment house fires and minor floods involving small numbers of people.

Local chapters nationwide responded in more than 20,000 such situations last year. The cost of such smaller Red Cross disaster relief operations amounts to between $2 and $3 million annually.

Even in large catastrophes, the new federal programs provided by the Federal Disaster Relief Act of 1970 and designed to assist in long-range recovery have not reduced Red Cross responsibilities in the impact and emergency period.

Moreover, there are more people with such emergency needs living where disasters strike than there were five or 10 years ago. The scope of Red Cross responsibility for disaster relief has increased as the population has grown. In addition, the cost of helping people keeps rising.

When a major disaster sweeps through a community, the Red Cross makes help available to all the victims, whoever they are, and pays particular attention to those who because of age or economic status are not eligible for insurance or government benefits.

The Red Cross also guides families in obtaining assistance through the Federal Disaster Relief Act. Because many families are not eligible for such assistance, however, the Red Cross must continue to provide recovery help to hundreds of disaster victims.

After the southern California earthquake of last year, the Red Cross spent $1.25 million to provide extensive emergency help to more than 11,800 families pending their receipt of government benefits for which they qualified.

Federal programs of disaster help, such as those offered by Small Business Administration, Farmer's Home Administration, Housing and Urban Development, the Department of Agriculture and other federal agencies, are seldom available in calamities that affect less than 25 families or small businesses. In hundreds of such incidents annually, the Red Cross becomes the sole source of assistance to victims of these disasters.

TF woman named award alternate

TWIN FALLS — Helen Walker, Twin Falls, has been named an alternate for a communication award by the Major Appliance Consumer Action Panel.

Sidney Margolius, New York, received the $250 award for effective communication on major appliances and MACAP services. He donated it to the Consumer Federation of America to help further the cause of consumerism.

The award for research went to Anne Sweahy, University of Alabama, for work on compactors and their use.

The other communications alternate was Jane Butle, New York. Research alternates were Mildred Davis, California, and Minnie Lee Inzer, Nevada.

Citations were given to Anna Bine, Texas; Priscilla Chapman, Massachusetts; Sister M. Pierre Flynn, Illinois; Romana Johnson, Kentucky; Nellie Prall, Wyoming; Lou Ann Sandoval, California, and Jacquelyn Westfield, Michigan.

Area pair weds in temple rites

TWIN FALLS — Caren Diane Crane and Brent Alan Gines were married in rites July 14 in the Ogden LDS Temple, with President A. Reed Halverson officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Crane, Twin Falls, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Gines, Hollister.

The bride's floor-length gown was fashioned of Charleston lace over slipper satin. It featured a high rounded collar and fitted bodice with seed pearls beaded in a floral design across the front of the bodice. The wrist-length fitted sleeves were cuffs with lace ruffles. The skirt of the gown was finished in lace scallops. A satin bow accented a deep pleat in the back of the gown. Her three-tier veil was made of matching lace and attached to a satin bow. The gown and veil were fashioned by the bride and her mother.

She carried a victorian nosegay given to her by the bridegroom featuring shades of pink roses, carnations and bachelor buttons with deep pink streamers.

Matronsof honor were Mrs. Viri A. Brown, Ogden, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Charles D. Crane, Mountain Home, sister-in-law of the bride. Teresa Benoit, Twin Falls, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid.

Kent Henstock, Hollister, was best man.

A reception honoring the couple was held at the Twin Falls LDS West Stake Center. The receiving line was flanked by two large baskets containing shades of pink gladioli, mums and baby's breath.

The bride's table was decorated with pink clothes with a lace overcloth. Arrangements of pink roses and fern graced the table.

The four-tier wedding cake was decorated with pink roses and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom with a pink floral heart background. Quartet tables were covered with lace over pink and centered with pink floral hearts and oval mirrors with miniature swans on the mirrors.

Mrs. Gene Crane, Glens Ferry, served cake. Mrs. Robert Benoit and Mrs. Bruce Glandon, both Twin Falls, served punch. All are aunts of the bride.

Assisting in the kitchen were Mrs. Bertha Reynolds and Mrs. Ruby Matson. Carrying dishes were Mike, Kurt and Bryce Gines, brothers of the bridegroom.

Pre-nuptial showers were given for the bride by Mrs. Roy Babbel, Mary Ann Babbel and Mrs. Joel Tate and by Mrs. Robert Benoit and Teresa Benoit.

After a honeymoon trip to Utah, the couple reside near Hollister where the bridegroom is employed by Dave Chadwick.

DEAR ABBY: Two years ago I lost my wonderful 44-year-old husband.

A year before his death I was treated for a rare gum disease. I sat in a dentist's chair for endless hours, for weeks, but despite the enormous expense, pain and time, my teeth could not be saved.

Since my husband's death I have been out on dates, but no one appealed to me until I met this one person I think I could really care about.

My problem: I have never told anyone that I have dentures [I hate the very thought of it!]. I am terribly sensitive about the fact that I wear them, altho they look very natural and fit perfectly.

Could you please ask your male readers how they feel about women with false teeth? Thank you.

FEELING LOW

DEAR FEELING: I'll ask, but I'm sure that no intelligent man would think anything of it. Just keep your mouth shut. [P. S. In one way, he'd be getting a break. He'll never have to pay your dentist bill.]

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a new mother who breast-feeds her baby in mixed company—and strangers at that? She is my daughter. It wouldn't be so bad if she did it in her own home, but the other night she was a guest in our home and she did it at the dinner table in the presence of our guests.

You would think she would have more modesty than this, but apparently it didn't seem to bother her.

We wouldn't ask her to leave the room in front of the other guests. Please tell us how to handle this. The only thing we can think of is not to have her to our home again until the baby gets older.

DEAR UPSET: Of necessity, mothers have nursed their babies in public places with such subtlety and efficiency with the use of a blanket or shawl that they were hardly noticed. But sitting at the dining room table at a dinner party seems a bit brash. Tell your daughter how you feel.

DEAR ABBY: There are places to go for a drinking problem. And places to go with a mental problem. But where does a person go with a mother in law problem?

I have practically turned myself inside out trying to get along with her. Nothing works. My mother in law just doesn't like me.

I've been a good wife to her son, and a good mother to her grandchildren. I'm a good housekeeper and cook, and when it comes to pinching pennies, I can do that, too. I'm a loyal church worker, and I'm not boisterous or gossipy. So how can I solve my problem?

TRIED EVERYTHING

DEAR TRIED: If you've "tried everything," and can't get along with her, try getting along WITHOUT her.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are adopting a baby. What can I say to friends and casual acquaintances alike [even clerks in stores, etc.] when they ask my husband and me which one of us is sterile?

I've been at a loss for words, and have fumed about this for days.

DEAR EVA: An impertinent question doesn't deserve an answer.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 8770, L. A., CALIF. 90008 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

Susan Boring, Bolton wed

GOODING — Susan Marie Boring and Robert L. Bolton were married in evening rites July 14 in the United Methodist Church, Gooding.

Rev. William Scruggs, Hagerman, performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore an Alfred Angelo original wedding gown styled with an empire waistline, short sleeves and a scalloped neckline. The gown of re-embroidered beaded Alencon lace featured a skirt with two panels of beaded lace down the front and a chapel train.

Her elbow-length veil was held by a Juliet cap matching the fabric of the gown. She carried a handkerchief borrowed from her maternal grandmother.

Cindi La Croix was bridesmaid. Best man was Lyn Stevenson, Gooding. Jon and Larry Bolton, brothers of the bridegroom, were candlelighters and ushers.

The church was decorated with baskets of apricot color gladioli for the ceremony.

At a reception after the ceremony, the bride's table was covered with a white cloth and trimmed with apricot-color bows and tiny white bells. The cake, made by the bridegroom's mother, was iced in lavender and white. Small side cakes were topped with the dolls used at the bride's parents' and grandparents' weddings.

Mrs. Bill Bolton, Twin Falls, was pianist.

Karen Johnson, Cherri Scanlon and Donita Kuhn cared for gifts. Audrey Thiemann, Spokane, Wash., registered guests.

Linda Boring and Mrs. Richard Thompson, sisters of the bride, cut the cake.

Punch was served by Mrs. John Junkert, aunt of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Hugo Eichelberg, aunt of the bridegroom, served coffee.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Herb Patterson, Bliss, and E. C. Boring, Gooding, grandparents of the bride and Fred Junkert, Beaverton, Ore., grandfather of the bridegroom.

Guests attended from Twin Falls, Gooding, Bliss, Buhl, Wendell, Jerome, Mountain Home, Spokane, Wash., Portland and Beaverton.

After a short honeymoon, the couple resides west of Gooding.

West had discarded the jack of spades and jack of hearts on the last two trump leads. Obviously his last four cards were three clubs and the ace of hearts. East had to be holding two hearts, the king of spades and one club.

The odds in favor of finding the jack of clubs in the West hand were three to one so Jim made the expert's play of leading his 10 of clubs and letting it ride. East cashed a surprise trick with his singleton jack and the expert had paid the penalty of knowing too much.

Filer couple repeats promise

FILER — A double ring ceremony July 14 in the Filer Methodist Church united in marriage Donna Bean and Curtis Smith.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Bean and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith, all Filer.

Rev. James Crego performed the ceremony before yellow and lavender floral decorations.

The bride wore a floor-length Juliet-style gown of dotted swiss. Her veil was accented with white daisies. She carried a basket of yellow and lavender chrysanthemums enhanced with fern.

Sally Williamson was matron of honor.

Butch Shepherd was best man and Randy Williamson and Steve Bean, brother of the bride, were ushers.

Ronnie Bean, brother of the bride, and Brad Smith, brother of the bridegroom, were candlelighters.

Soloist was Susan Fleenor and Eileen Lanting was organist. The couple was honored at a reception after the ceremony.

Vickie Smith was in charge of the guest book and Cathy Bean cared for the gifts. Barbara Watkins and Jan Baggett, aunts of the bride and bridegroom, cut and served the cake. Tomi Shaw and Cindy Hanley poured punch.

The bride was honored at a pre-nuptial shower hosted by Mrs. LeRoy Fleenor and Sally Williamson.

The couple will reside in Filer, where the bridegroom is employed by Acme Manufacturing Co.

The event will be held at her home, 352 5th Ave. N., from 2 to 6 p.m. and will mark Mrs. Cook's 90th birthday anniversary. Mrs. Cook was born July 26, 1882, in Edinburgh, Scotland.

Mrs. Cook moved to Twin Falls with her husband in 1934. Prior to Mr. Cook's death in 1955, she and her husband operated a grocery store and motel.

She is the mother of six children, three living. They include Mrs. Arvil (Jeanette) Talbot, Ogden, Utah; Mrs. Anton (Winona) Demiter, Richland, Wash.; and Junius Melvin Cook, San Francisco, Cal. She has nine grandchildren and 20 great-grandchildren. A sister, Mrs. Margaret Redpath, lives in Scotland.

A Lovelier You

UNLAXED OR UNHINGED?

By Mary Sue Miller

Why, oh why do you suppose a lovely could leave her consideration for others at home when she sets out for beach or pool? We all know at least one such character. She appears so charming at the Saturday night party, and then turns up for a Sunday swim unkempt and uncaring.

Could be that her actions stem from a desire to relax and leave the world behind. Well, everyone swims and swims for the purpose of relaxation. The point our girl misses is that "relaxed" never means "unhinged."

As in any other social situation, she must consider the comfort and pleasure of others present. Or else she should hide behind a wall to preserve where she could be alone, unobserved.

Good manners under the sun ask but little of one. A practitioner makes the time happier for everybody, including herself. Let's take a look at her conduct.

She NEVER wears a messy suit or hair rollers, sprawls when sitting or lying, tunes her transistor or voice at so loud a pitch as to jangle the public ear, drips water or sand on anyone, fails to stow her possessions neatly in her share of space, plays beach games in crowded areas, neglects to dispose of trash — her picnic wrappings, for instance.

In short, she's relaxing to have around.

TWIN FALLS — Mr. and Mrs. John J. Gilster, Twin Falls, announce the engagement of their daughter, LaRae, to Mike Morrison.

Morrison is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alma Morrison, Buhl.

Miss Gilster is a 1972 graduate of Twin Falls High School. Morrison was graduated from Buhl High School in 1972 and is employed by Lorenzo Haley, Twin Falls.

An Aug. 26 wedding is planned at St. Edward's Catholic Church.

She's commander

PRINCETON, N. J. (UPI) — Mrs. Georgia Johnson, a registered nurse and veteran of World War II, assumed command of American Legion Post 76 Wednesday night. Her husband, also a post member, said he did not mind at all.

"Females have long been eligible to join the American Legion, and there's even a Trenton post composed entirely of distaff members," said Mrs. Johnson, a distaff member.

"I joined the post 10 years ago and I've had to work as hard as any of the men," she said. Her installation, she said, has nothing to do with the women's liberation movement.

One difference in her command, however, may be a greater stress on programs such as child welfare, she said.

Styles feature sweater girl look

PARIS (UPI) — Yves Saint Laurent's winter look is the sweater girl for millionaires.

When is a sweater not exactly a sweater? When Saint Laurent, considere Paris' most influential designer, makes an intricately crocheted cardigan, puts fur on the collar and cuffs and adds a wool skirt imprinted in the same pattern.

Saint Laurent's luxurious sweaters and skirts, swirling Russian coats and embroidered black satin evening gowns brought applause after applause from buyers, private customers including actress Lauren Bacall and magazine editors who saw the winter fashion show.

As the bridal gown in black satin — yes, black — with floral embroidered sleeves disappeared from the runway, the crowd shouted "bravo" and cheered until the shy designer came out for not one but two curtain calls. Two ovals are rarely handed Paris designers.

Saint Laurent's sweater look which he started last season appears to be as influential — two other couture houses are following the same mood.

According to buyers and fabric sellers who saw the show, the Saint Laurent hit was his long, belted cardigans knitted or crocheted in multi-colored chevron designs with badger or fox collars and cuffs. Matching wool skirts were printed in the same chevron design and picked up the colors of the sweater. Underneath the cardigans were crepe de chine blouses, printed or plain, with soft bows or scarves. The suits were in soft tones such as green and brown or beige and navy. Other sweater-skirt suits came minus the fur.

Some cardigans became jackets for dresses, such as one knitted sweater edged in silver fox over a wool shirtwaist in a wine and blue harlequin print.

Saint Laurent showed more suits than pants, only three daytime trousers and two evening trousers appearing in the collection of 60 models.

Saint Laurent showed day-

Wendell drops project

WENDELL — Refusal of the Wendell City Council to provide a building site was given today as the reason for abandoning a senior citizen housing project.

Edwin McNutt, chairman of the Wendell low income housing project, resigned his position Thursday night during the Wendell City Council meeting. The council action, he said, forces abandonment of the building plan.

"It is my opinion," he said, "The council feels the property in question is being put to a better use now than if it were to provide a location for a senior citizen low cost housing project."

He said a used clothing store is now located on the land the housing committee had requested for a building site.

"Apparently the City Council just does not want this kind of project in Wendell," McNutt said.

He said the 27 persons who had applied for housing in the proposed project should contact the Gooding Housing Authority.

Murtaugh big event readied

MURTAUGH — Western Hospitality Day, the major western celebration here annually, opens Saturday at 11 a.m.

During the day the community will be playing host to many tourists and residents from throughout Magic Valley.

Highlights of the day will include a western gymkhana, open to all horsemen and horsewomen of any age, a parade and queen contest.

The events begin with a roast beef luncheon at 11 a.m. in the Murtaugh High School lunch room, followed by a parade at 1 p.m. through the community.

Awards will be given the top entrants in several parade divisions.

Parade chairmen say this year's event promises to be longer and more colorful than ever.

At 2 p.m. the gymkhana will begin at the Murtaugh fairgrounds with selection of a queen for the 1973 hospitality day opening an afternoon program of contests and games.

Saturday night the queen will be honored in a street dance on the Valley Bean Warehouse property beginning at 9 p.m. and sponsored by the Murtaugh Jaycees.

Queen contestants include Cindy Bourn, Betsy Moorman and Betty Will. Reigning queen is Loretta Conrad, Milner, who will crown her successor during the gymkhana.

A thought for the day: American naturalist John Burroughs said, "Life is a struggle, but not a warfare."

Potato researcher, industrialist get ovation at banquet in Burley

By LEE TREMAINE
Times-News writer

BURLEY — Two veteran potato researchers and developers received standing ovations Thursday night during the Potato Association of America banquet in Burley.

Jack Simplot and James E. Krause were awarded honorary life memberships in the association for their pioneering work in the potato industry.

Krause served as dean of the college of agriculture at the University of Idaho for more than 20 years, retiring the first of July. He became the first full time potato researcher for the university in 1941 at the Aberdeen Branch Experiment Station.

Simplot began his career as a youth growing and selling potatoes in Idaho, continuing to own several major industries and become an industrial giant of the nation, the award said.

In accepting the award, Simplot commented that when he was young, "you had to be careful to avoid freezing the potatoes, keeping them warm

Ketchum man cited in crash

KETCHUM — A Ketchum man was cited Thursday for failure to report an accident after a one-car rollover following an accident early Wednesday morning.

The man was identified as John J. Creighton, 31, Ketchum. Neither Creighton nor a passenger, Dennis McFaden was injured.

According to state patrolman Gene Bolton, Creighton told him that he was traveling south on U. S. Highway 93 about four miles south of Ketchum at 2:30 a.m. Wednesday when he encountered five or six deer on the highway.

Creighton said as he tried to miss the deer, he lost control of the vehicle and it rolled over. The officer said the vehicle was demolished and about 75 feet of fence was torn out in the accident.

Bolton said the accident was not reported to him until 1:30 p.m. Thursday.

Cassia team wins judging

POCATELLO — The first state contest of the Idaho 4-H Horse Judging Program drew 31 competing teams Wednesday at Pocatello.

The Cassia County team, consisting of Lee Carter, Pat Parke, Heather Holtman and Helen Parke, placed sixth in judging six classes of horses.

Lee Carter was fourth in intermediate age (12-13 years) individual winners, and Sylvia Molyneux, Twin Falls County, was third in the junior age group (9-11 years).

This first state-wide 4-H horse judging contest was sponsored by the Idaho 4-H Horse Council and funded by the Idaho First National Bank. Competing teams consisted of three or four 4-H members age 9 to 19 currently enrolled in an organized horse-interest youth group approved by the district horses judging committee.

The more than 600 members of the association and their wives attended the banquet Thursday night at the Ponderosa Inn, Burley. Today, the delegates were to travel to Aberdeen to study potato research at the agricultural experiment station. They had been attending a potato convention at College of Southern Idaho in Twin Falls all week.

The Thursday night buffet style banquet was largely devoted to honoring John C. Campbell, a pioneer association member and editor of the association magazine for a number of years. Ora Smith, a past association president, honored Campbell with a "this is your life John Campbell" presentation, with the aid of slides of the guests' early years.

As an editor, Campbell edited hundreds of technical and scientific manuscripts submitted each year for publication

2 women hurt at Bellevue

BELLEVUE — A Nampa woman and her daughter received minor injuries in a two-car accident Thursday afternoon south of Bellevue.

Cleo Nettinga, 33, and Kim Nettinga, 17, were taken by ambulance to the Blaine County Hospital where they were treated and released.

The two, along with five other Nettinga children, were passengers in a vehicle driven by Sam Nettinga, 35, Nampa. State patrolman Gene Bolton said the driver of the second vehicle, Robert D. Worthington, 19, Bellevue, was cited for failure to signal.

Bolton said both vehicles were traveling east on state highway 68, 12 miles south of Bellevue, at 2:45 p.m. Worthington slowed down and started to turn left. Nettinga saw the vehicle had a slow moving emblem and started to pass him, Bolton said.

Filer phone firm to cut rates

By MARJORIE LIERMAN
Times-News writer

FILER — "Beginning Sept. 1, 1972, the rates for each subscriber of the Filer Mutual Telephone Co. will be reduced 50 cents," said Merl Leonard, company secretary.

Leonard spoke on the company's history up to the present time at an informal meeting of members and subscribers of the company Thursday evening in the high school auditorium.

The company is now completely debt free and the mortgage was released in December of 1971, Leonard said. The rates now paid by the Filer Mutual subscribers are among the very lowest in Idaho, according to Leonard.

Approximately 300 people attended the meeting to discuss the $1 million offer of the Idaho Telephone Co. of Homedale to buy the assets of the Filer Mutual.

R. P. Parry of the law firm of Parry, Robertson and Daly spoke on the changes a company would make if it went from a mutual company to a stock company. A stock company would be required to pay state and federal income tax, he said. The Filer Mutual does not pay either of these taxes as it is exempt since it gets 85 per cent or more revenue from its members.

Mrs. Helen Cannon, a certified public accountant, read the audit of last year for the Filer Mutual Co. She compared the revenue of 1970

School crossing signs at Wendell have to go

By PEGGY CHU
Times-News writer

WENDELL — Mayor Eugene Soares told the Wendell City Council Thursday night the portable school crossing signs in front of the elementary school will have to be removed.

He read a letter from the State Highway Department stating the school crossing signs do not meet the uniform highway code. Soares will notify the school the signs must be taken down.

The signs equipped with flashing amber lights, have been placed on Main Street, beside the school, by city police during morning, noon and closing hours.

The council requested a one year extension on a work project for the City Park. The five-year work project deadline is Sept. 1, 1972 but the city will need more time to install a sprinkler system, Soares said.

City Supt. Ed Johnson said the project has not been completed because the city did not have matching funds. The project is finance by grant from the State Parks Department on a matching funds basis, to cover mowers, lighting, concrete sidewalks, removal of trees and purchase of playground equipment.

The city accepted the audit report for the period Jan. 1 Dec. 31, 1971. City Auditor Thomas Mañan told the council his auditing firm gave the city "a clean bill of health" and said the city had not overspent in any fund.

George Wahler, Wendell fire chief, reported 17 fire calls in the months of June and July. A total of $7,000 was lost in the rural fires and $1,800 in the city fires, Wahler said.

He reported the special emergency van was in operation with only a small amount of equipment to be added.

The council reviewed applications for city superintendent and an appointment will be made Monday. Retiring after eight years as superintendent is Ed Johnson.

The council discussed the possibility of raising sewer, water and garbage rates to help meet the cost of the new sewer and water systems and the new garbage truck. No action was taken. The garbage truck cost the city $12,700.

According to City Clerk Gwen Collett, the city could pay $7,000

Rumor squashed by fish, game chief

JEROME (UPI) — The director of the Idaho Fish and Game Department has assured Jerome area residents that public opinions will be sought before any decision is made on a new office for the Magic Valley region.

Director Joseph C. Greenley was in Jerome this week for an interview with State Rep. Earl Greenawalt. He invited Greenley to Jerome to discuss rumors about the future location of the regional fish and game office.

It is now located in Jerome. Greenawalt told Greenley that rumors are widespread that the department plans to move its headquarters to Twin Falls and that the bird farm located in Jerome would "either be downgraded or phased out."

Greenley denied rumors of the move and said he was gathering facts so he can be prepared to make final recommendations to the Idaho Fish and Game Commission.

Greenley said $80,000 has been designated in budget funds for a new headquarters building. The plans will be confined to the building and not involve a site at this time.

300 attend breakfast in TF park

TWIN FALLS — Almost nobody could resist the aroma of sausage and pancakes from city park this morning.

More than 300 persons had been served pancakes and all that accompanies them by 8 a.m. today in the annual YMCA-YWCA chuckwagon breakfast in city park.

Several grills were kept in operation and service club members, YMCA board of directors members and city officials were given an opportunity to serve as honorary "flapjack flippers."

Proceeds from the annual event are used to sponsor programs for the YM-YWCA programs and to provide equipment for events.

At the conclusion of the banquet PAA president Dr. Robert Plaisted turned the gavel over to incoming president Paul Mosher of the state of Maine. Other new officers, Moser said, include Dr. Robert Treadway, Philadelphia, Pa., vice president; Hugh Murphy, also of Maine, secretary, and Ed Johnson, treasurer, Maine.

which amounted to $194,715 or an increase of 12 per cent over 1969 to that of 1970 which was $243,347 or 25 per cent over 1970. Revenue for 1972 should reach approximately $275,800.

Several members of the Idaho Telephone Co. attended the meeting to present their side of the offer. Ed Jennings, Bakersfield, Calif., president of the Idaho Telephone Co., said of eight or nine companies the company has bought in the past, none had received a telephone rate increase. The only rate increase since 1961 was at Parma, he said, where because of extremely rundown conditions, the plant had to be rebuilt.

G. C. Shipley, Homedale, vice president of the company, and Bill Tway, legal council for the company from the law firm of Webb, Tway and Redford, Boise, accompanied Jennings.

Jennings stated he had contacted the manager of the Filer Mutual Co. in April requesting a meeting to discuss the company's sale be arranged and was refused. A second letter to each board member was mailed April 14, he said, again requesting a meeting to discuss sale of the company's assets. This was refused and the request was signed by all the board members of the Filer company, he said.

Leonard stated that none of the letters had made mention of the cash offer and that the board members made a cross-section survey of patrons the company serves and no interest in selling the company was noticed at that point.

The need for Metro-Pak and possibility of lower toll rates were discussed during the question and answer period. Directors said the company is always expanding and is working with Mountain States Co. to reduce toll service rates.

The only Metro-Pak system in Idaho is in Twin Falls, directors said.

Filer's telephone company was first formed in 1909 and was known as the Farmers' Mutual. In 1948 it became defunct and was reorganized and became the Filer Mutual Telephone Co.

The company went to dial system in 1958 and in 1963 included automatic ticketing equipment to computerize toll rates.

In 1966 it installed direct dialing equipment. In 1968 it purchased the Salmon Tract telephone system and erected unattended buildings in Hollister and Jackpot.

Other new equipment includes a garage and new storage building in Filer. Its rates have remained stable with no increases until 1961 when due to legislative law an ad valorem tax was placed on mutals.

The system has 11,000 miles of line, six or seven miles of cable, some buried line and 592 miles of open wire. From the previous seven to eight party lines, lines are now being changed to two or for party lines with more single lines being added all the time, directors said.

The company services 1,700 telephones in the Filer, Hollister and Northern Nevada areas.

Blaine hospital consolidation seen in future

SUN VALLEY — Consolidation of the Blaine County and Moritz Hospitals may be required in several years, according to the hospitals' administrator.

G. Robert Ackerman, administrator for both the Hailey and Sun Valley facilities, spoke Thursday before the Ketchum-Sun Valley Chamber of Commerce.

Although the hospitals presently "prove more than adequate," Ackerman said the area is experiencing tremendous growth and a larger scale health care facility may be needed in three or four years.

Neither hospital has sufficient ground or is located in a desirable position for expansion, Ackerman said. The best solution is a new 50 to 75 bed facility situated between the Hailey and Ketchum population centers, he said.

Ackerman said a committee of interested residents consisting of city, county and other officials is exploring the need and funding of a new hospital.

Coupled with that need, the hospital administrator said, is a need for a long term care nursing home and perhaps a retirement home. But he said, one possibility may be a nursing home run by a private individual.

Ackerman said the Blaine County Hospital could be converted, without alteration, into a 25 bed nursing home. Remodeling of doctors' facilities could add another 10 beds but 50 beds would be more desired by a private operator.

LOSE 20 POUNDS IN TWO WEEKS!

Famous U.S. Women Ski Team Diet

During the non-snow off season the U.S. Women's Alpine Ski Team members go on the "Ski Team" diet to lose 20 pounds in two weeks. That's right... 20 pounds in 14 days!
The basis of the diet is chemical food action and was devised by a famous Colorado physician especially for the U.S. Ski Team. Normal energy is maintained (very important!) while reducing "You keep 'till" no starvation, he use the diet is designed that way. It's a diet that is easy to follow whether you work, travel or stay at home.

This is honestly a fantastically successful diet. If it weren't the U.S. Women's Ski Team wouldn't be permitted to use it. Right? So give yourself the same break the U.S.
Ski Team gets. Lose weight the scientific, proven way. Even if you've tried all the other diets, you owe it to yourself to try the U.S. Women's Ski Team Diet. That is if you really do want to lose 20 pounds in two weeks! Order today. Tear this out as a reminder.

to lose 20 pounds in two weeks! Because that's what the Ski Team Diet will do!

Idaho "the white spot in the nation" in the area of railroad crossing safety.

Rail crossing project listed

TWIN FALLS — An intensive railroad crossing safety program is being carried out in Idaho by law enforcement officers with the cooperation of Union Pacific Railroad.

Idaho Gov. Cecil Andrus announced the program earlier this month.

Called the "Life Saver" railroad grade crossing safety campaign, the program will be based on the three "E's" of highway safety — education, enforcement and engineering.

Twin Falls County Sheriff
Paul Corder and Twin Falls
Police Chief Frank Barnett have indicated their support for the campaign and asked public cooperation to make it successful.

With the great number of railroad grade crossings in Twin Falls County, a program of this type should be most helpful in reducing the number of grade crossing accidents.

Corder said, "We know we can count on the citizens of this area to cooperate with us after all, they are the people we are making the effort for."

After a six week information campaign stressing caution and alertness at railroad crossings, law enforcement personnel throughout the state will intensely their efforts to enforce grade crossing laws and regulations. Already started is a statewide survey of Union Pacific grade crossings by the railroad's engineering personnel to identify and correct any physical problems that may cause accidents.

Andrus said he hopes to make

Pea picking machines at Oakley

Pea harvest in Cassia ending

By GEORGIA LAYTON
Times-News writer

The pea crop yield has been better than average this year according to Wood.

OAKLEY — Pea harvesting machines for DelMonte Corp.
Burley, will finish the green pea harvest in Cassia County this week.

Paul Wood, manager of the Del Monte plant, Burley, reported the pea combines are working in the Oakley area and expect to finish harvest by Saturday.

Then the combines will be moved to the American Falls area where they will work for about one week.

The green pea harvest has been under way in the Twin Falls, Cassia, and Minidoka counties for the past month.

The green peas are hauled from the fields to the DelMonte plant, west of Burley where they are processed and canned.

Wood reported that as soon as the pea harvest is completed in the American Falls area crews will begin working in the sweet corn which is also canned at the Burley plant.

Survey studied on airport site

BURLEY — The comprehensive survey of potential sites for the proposed regional airport is well underway, meeting the lengthy time
schedule with few problems.

Trustees of the Regional Airport Authority heard reports Wednesday night during the July board meeting from four representatives of engineering firms retained to make the survey.

Presenting the reports were Sam Barton, Boise, a partner in the firm of Barton, Stoddard, Milhollin and Higgins, a consulting engineering firm and prime contractor for the survey; Lloyd C. Rixe, Bozeman, Mont., president of the affiliated firm of TAP Inc., aviation consultants; Ray Mickelson, Boise, engineer with Barton's firm; and Otis T.
Calloun, San Francisco, Calif., director of the airport division of International Engineering
Co., a subsidiary of the Boise firm.

Barton explained the basic survey program now under way by his firm, as ordered by the airport trustees. Calloun and Mickelson described a complex progress chart guiding the many phases of the survey.

Contracts have been signed with subcontractors, and a large number of agencies have been contacted for any available information bearing on the need for a new regional airport, and its location.

Agencies contacted by the surveyors include state planning agencies, the Water Resource Board, the federal Bureau of Land Management and Bureau of Reclamation, the Soil Conservation Service and many others who might be concerned with the location of a new airport, Mickelson said.

In addition, 75 letters signed by George Forscher, chairman of the airport board, will be sent to civic officials, agencies and others throughout the Magic Valley, asking for data on the area and seeking opinions on the effect of a regional airport.

Federal funds will contribute as much as 75 to 80 per cent of the overall cost of airport construction, Forscher told the board Wednesday. He said legislation is in the works which could allow federal participation in the construction of many of the buildings and installation of some facilities.

The Federal Aviation Administration is to be allocated $400 million to be used for the assistance of regional airports throughout the United States,
Forscher said.

Aaron, Coody grab lead in PGA team tournament

LIGONIER, Pa. (UPI) — Tommy Aaron and Charles Coody, two of the quiet men of the PGA tour, shot a nine-under-par 62 on their better ball Thursday to take a one-stroke first round lead in the $200,000 National Team Championship.

Bert Yancey and Tom Weiskopf were in second place with a 63 that included an amazing 10 birdies, while two teams of longshots, Steve Oppermann—Chuck Rotar and Hubert Green—Mac McLendon, scored 64 and 65, respectively. Arnold Palmer and Jack Lewis, the young, last-minute replacement for Jack Nicklaus, were another stroke behind in a group of 10 teams at 66 but many of the favored teams had problems on a Laurel Valley Golf Club course made long and soggy by overnight rains.

Bruce Crampton and Orville Moody, challengers to the Palmer-Nicklaus domination of this tournament the past two years, faded to a 70. Lee Trevino and Ray Floyd were at even-par 71 and Billy Casper and Jerry Heard shot a 72.

With scoring on a better-ball basis—only the lower of a team's scores on each hole counts toward its total—scores around par are not good ones and all three of those teams were in danger of missing the 36-hole cut.

Aaron, a perennial tournament runner-up who already has three second place finishes in 1972, and Coody, the 1971 Masters champion, built their lead around nine birdies and nine pars—with five of the birdies coming in succession on the front nine—but they credited one shot on the back nine with putting them on top.

After both drove into the rough at the 397-yard, par-4, 13th hole, and missed the green with their second shot, Coody sank a chip shot from 100 feet for a birdie. They followed that with birdies at 14, 15 and 18.

"We turned a five into a three at 13," Coody said.

"That was the shot that got us going," added Aaron, pointing out it came right after they had missed good chances for birdies at the 11th and 12th holes.

Coody and Aaron each had four conventional birdies, Coody sinking putts ranging up to 30 feet for his and Aaron up to 40 feet for his.

Weiskopf, putting superbly, made seven birdies and Yancey had three but they suffered a double-bogey six at the 10th hole, both driving into a water hazard, to cost them a shot at the lead.

"If I putted all the time like I did today, I probably would have won two or three tournaments the last couple of weeks," Weiskopf said. "I made every makeable putt. I'm really not that type of putter."

Neither Palmer nor Lewis, selected when Nicklaus withdrew following minor surgery on a finger, made a putt longer than 10 feet all day, leaving Palmer with hope he could win the tournament a third straight time if they start putting better.

"Generally, it was a pretty good round," Palmer said. "We had a lot of opportunities that we didn't capitalize on."

The other teams at 66 included a pair of family pairings, brothers Dave and Mike Hill and uncle Sam and nephew J. C. Snead. The only other prominent team in the group was Lanny Wadkins-Gibby Gilbert.

George Archer and Bobby Nichols, Bob Lunn and Dave Stokton, Gary Player and Bob Rosburg and Miller Barber and Don January were among those at 67.

The field will be trimmed to the low 36 teams and ties following Friday's second round for the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday, which will be nationally televised (ABC).

Youngster ignores Palmer tip

LIGONIER, Pa. (UPI) — Jack Lewis, the pinch-hitting replacement for Jack Nicklaus in the National Team Championship, said he was "more fired-up than nervous" Thursday but Arnold Palmer hinted there was another side to his new partner, too.

"He was cocky," he disobeyed his partner's orders.

Palmer and Lewis suffered their only bogey of a five-under-par 66 round on the 18th hole when Lewis dumped his second shot into a lake and Palmer three-putted. But Palmer, 42, said he warned his partner, 17 years his junior, not to try to hit over the lake.

"Lewis' drive had landed in the rough, giving him a downhill lie from which to hit uphill to an elevated green across the lake, an almost impossible shot."

"I told him to lay up," Palmer said. "He had a bad lie and he couldn't make the green under any circumstances. It would have been a matter of hitting an eight-iron or nine-iron to the green and he would have had a chance for a par."

But Lewis disregarded Palmer's advice, shot for the green with a four-iron, and watched his ball plopping into the water.

Palmer was still in position to save the team's par on the hole but his approach shot hit the green and bounced onto the fringe and he took three puts from there.

Miss Palmer scored for Blalock stand

ATLANTA (UPI)—An LPGA official admitted Thursday that Sandra Palmer was censured for rising to the defense of Jane Blalock who earlier was charged with cheating but denied that any lady professional golfer were being intimidated.

"That simply isn't true," insisted LPGA Executive Director E. M. "Bud" Erickson. "All we were trying to do was to keep Sandra from making public statements that were detrimental to the LPGA."

The latest furor over Miss Blalock came on the eve of the Lady Pepsi Open here in Atlanta where the 26-year-old proette was the winner in both 1970 and 1971.

Miss Blalock was earlier suspended from the LPGA tour for allegedly moving her ball but she countered with a $5 million suit and got an injunction delaying that suspension until the matter is decided in court.

Miss Blalock, a pigtail-wearing blonde from Portsmouth, N.H., is currently the leading money winner on the LPGA tour with earnings of $39,548, but all money that she has won since the injunction permitted her to rejoin the tour two months ago is being held in escrow by the court pending outcome of her suit.

Miss Palmer, currently seventh with earnings of $22,663, was quoted recently as saying she did not believe that the charges against Miss Blalock were true and that further she didn't think that one of the affidavits signed by another LPGA player was true.

"We can't have one of our players calling another a liar," protested Erickson. "If Sandra had made her charge in an affidavit to the court that would have been something else. But we were asking her not to make such charges, especially when they are unproven, to the news media."

Miss Palmer, of Ft. Worth, Tex., surprised the LPGA executive board Wednesday when she arrived at their meeting, as requested, with Eugene Partain, Miss Blalock's attorney, in tow.

"We adjourned the meeting without taking any action because we felt that we too should have an attorney under the circumstances," Erickson said. "We were planning to call the player Sandra had accused but decided that she should be represented by counsel too."

Jane Blalock didn't appear upset by this latest development as she prepared to tee off Thursday afternoon in a program.

"Sure, this has all bothered me and it has affected my game," she said quietly. "But I hope that it will soon be resolved in the courts."

"It was all pretty much a shock at first," said Miss Blalock. "But things seem to have gotten pretty much back to normal as far as outward appearances are concerned. I've had a lot of support from the fans."

It was understood that at least one member of the LPGA board wanted Miss Palmer suspended "for shooting off her mouth."

He'll be the highest paid athlete in all sports for the 1972-73 season."

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The Philadelphia Blazers of the World Hockey Association said Thursday they were willing to make Derek Sanderson "the highest paid athlete in all sports for the 1972-73 season" if he leaves the Boston Bruins.

Jim Cooper, president of the Blazers, said he had offered the National Hockey League center $2.65 million under a multi-year contract.

"He was very interested and very flattered by our offer," Cooper said. "If he accepts

George Archer and Bobby Nichols, Bob Lunn and Dave Stokton, Gary Player and Bob Rosburg and Miller Barber and Don January were among those at 67.

Celler recalled the high court's observation that any change in the exclusive monopoly exemption given baseball but not football or basketball was up to Congress. There are several bills before Celler's committee to remove baseball's exemption and the New York Democrat, author of one of them, said he hoped that Congress would finally act to settle the issue.

Celler jumped bills to permit the ABA and NBA to merge, with the baseball measures and took testimony in the first day of expected prolonged hearings from league spokesmen as well as from Lawrence Fleisher, counsel for the NBA Players Association, which opposes the merger bill.

Former Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., representing both leagues and flanked by Walter Kennedy and Jack Dolph, NBA and ABA commissioners respectively, and by Wendell Cherry, part owner of the Kentucky Colonels of the ABA, repeated testimony they gave earlier before a Senate Judiciary Subcommittee.

"It's just a simple merger bill that is of the greatest urgency if professional basketball is to survive," said Kuchel, who said it permitted a limited option clause affecting only rookies and then binding them for only one year.

"It permits every conceivable violation of the anti-trust law," said Celler. "We're being asked to buy a pig in the poke. We don't know what the agreements referred to here will involve."

Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Tex., ranking Democrat behind Celler on the subcommittee and author, along with 44 other House members of the merger bill, told Celler that the "arrangements" allowed in the bill "are exempt from anti-trust laws only as they are incidental to the merger. This is not a broad anti-trust exemption."

Celler remains adamantly against merger of pro loops

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman Emanuel Celler of the House Judiciary Committee told spokesmen for the National and American Basketball Associations Thursday they were asking Congress to "buy a pig in the poke" with their proposal to merge.

Celler made the charge as his anti-trust subcommittee opened hearings on the general question of "giant sports trusts" and in particular on the Supreme Court's decision in the Curt Flood case June 19 to let baseball remain free of anti-trust laws.

Celler recalled the high court's observation that any change in the exclusive monopoly exemption given baseball but not football or basketball was up to Congress. There are several bills before Celler's committee to remove baseball's exemption and the New York Democrat, author of one of them, said he hoped that Congress would finally act to settle the issue.

Indians nip Orioles 4-3

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Pinch-hitter Tom McCraw slammed a one-out, two-run homer in the ninth inning off Pat Dobson Thursday night to give the Cleveland Indians a 4-3 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

Dallas rates big nod against stars

CHICAGO (UPI)—The pro to rack up another victory to champion Dallas Cowboys, open the 1972 grid season with boasting a 10-game winning streak, were favored Thursday Stars in Friday night's 39th annual spectacle.

Soviet, U.S. youth track meet opens

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI)—The best Russian and American athletes 19 years old and younger compete in the first junior track meet between the two countries Friday and Saturday nights at Hughes Stadium.

Colt coach likes looks of defense

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—Baltimore Colts Coach Don McCafferty put his full-strength defensive line through a workout Thursday and said it looked sharp.

"Our first defense is tough," McCafferty said. "Everybody is there who was there last year so our first offense had a lot of trouble—and the rest of the league had the same trouble last year."

The Colts' defense led the American Conference in 1971.

A big factor in Thursday's workout was the participation of Bubba Smith, the 6-7 260-pound defensive end who was late reporting because of a contract dispute.

Smith worked out for the first time Thursday, after arriving in camp Wednesday and halting the $300-a-day fines that cost him $2,200 for missing the first four days of training camp.

Smith wants to have his contract renegotiated on the final year of a five-year deal. The Colts have five men playing regularly in their front four-Smith, and Roy Hilton and tackles Fred Miller, Billy Newsome and Jim Bailey.

"John Sandusky (Colts line coach) rotates them and they are five good defensive linemen," McCafferty said.

"We're looking for a sixth right now and he might be Rusty Ganas or Don Croft."

McCluskey has fastest time

LONG POND, Pa. (UPI)—Veteran U.S. Auto Club driver Roger McCluskey set the fastest time of the day Thursday in qualifications for Sunday's Pennsylvania 500 at Pocono International Raceway.

McCluskey drove his 1970 Plymouth around the 2.5 mile tri-oval track at an average speed of 148.177 miles per hour.

The Pennsylvania 500, a USAC-sanctioned stock car race, is the second part of the 1,000 miles of Pocono scheduled this weekend.

Bobby Unser qualified for the pole position Tuesday in Saturday's Schaefer 500, a 500 miles race for USAC "Indy-type" cars and the second jewel in USAC's Triple Crown series.

Astros call hot prospect

HOUSTON (UPI)—James Rodney Richard, 22, a right-handed pitcher who is the most highly regarded prospect in the Houston Astros organization, was called up from Oklahoma City by the Astros Thursday night.

Jack Hiatt, reserve catcher who is hitting .200, was sent to Oklahoma City. Hiatt recently came off the disabled list after being out six weeks with a broken shoulder bone.

Richard, a 6-foot-8, 222-pounder from Ruston, La., had a 10-8 record with a 3.02 earned run average this season. He has struck out 169 batters in 128 innings.

Richard, who is supposed to throw harder than any of the current Astro pitchers, will pitch in one game of the doubleheader against San Diego Sunday.

The only member of the U.S. Olympic team participating in the meet is Randy Williams, a USC long jumper. His chief competition is expected to come from Valery Podluzhnyi, an alternate on the Russian Olympic team who, Soviet coaches said, might be placed on the team if he makes a good showing in this meet.

The Russians, who have three Olympic team members on their squad, will be pinning their hopes in the 100 meters on Anatoly Radul, who has a 10.01 clocking, and Sergei Izotov, with a 10.05 best.

The U.S. entries in the 100 meters are Steve Williams and Harold Williams, both of the University of Texas El Paso. Both have 9.3 times in the 100-yard dash.

Marshall Dill of Michigan State, a silver medal winner in the Pan American Games, will be an American favorite in the 200 meters.

Harrelson needs more head help

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—In the year since Ken "Hawk" Harrelson turned from professional baseball to golf he says he has "mastered a lot of the game, but needs more mental experience."

Harrelson quit the Cleveland Indians last summer after 12 years in baseball and announced he was heading for the links to make a living.

"Golf's the biggest challenge I have," he said. "It's not work for me, it's fun. But I don't want to just make it. I've got to be a winner. I will be."

"I've found out you can't tee it up and let it fly on tour," said Harrelson, who lasted two rounds of the British Open before being cut after a 153 for 36 holes.

"Still I played super in England, nine birdies in two rounds," he said. "But I also had too many double bogeys."

Harrelson said the main thing to learn "is to manage myself on the course, score when you're going bad."

The Hawk said he's not trying to win "right now."

"A guy who's been in baseball 12 years isn't going to beat those guys who have been playing golf all their lives," he said.

Oilers down to one tackle

KERRVILLE, Tex. (UPI)—Robert Wells, one of two remaining offensive tackles in the Houston Oilers training camp, will undergo knee surgery Saturday and will apparently be lost for the season, coach Bill Peterson said Thursday.

Wells, a 6-foot-4, 280-pound, four-year veteran acquired by the Oilers earlier this year, was injured Wednesday night during a scrimmage in Fredericksburg, Tex.

Eagles obtain linebacker

READING, Pa. (UPI)—The Philadelphia Eagles Thursday acquired middle linebacker Doug Woodlief from the Green Bay Packers on waivers.

Woodlief, a six year veteran of the National Football League, was traded to Green Bay in the off season by the Los Angeles Rams.

The six-foot-three, 225-pound linebacker was the Rams' fifth draft choice in 1965 and their starting linebacker in 1969.

He was hampered in 1970 by a knee injury.

Eagles Coach Ed Khayat said Woodlief's acquisition had nothing to do with the fact that regular middle linebacker Tim Rosovich has still not reported to camp.

Both teams were expected to rely on their passing to win with Roger Staubach at quarterback for the pros and Lance Alworth and Bob Hayes his star receivers, while the Stars will open with Jerry Tagge of national champion Nebraska at quarterback. His most dangerous targets could be Glenn Doughty of Michigan and Mike Stani of Villanova as wide receivers.

The collegians were expected to run the Nebraska offense since Cornhusker coach Bob Devaney and his entire staff have been in charge of the All Stars.

Devaney in addition to his own star Tagge has another Nebraska quarterback, Van Brownson, as well as Heisman trophy winner Pat Sullivan of Auburn to throw the ball.

Running could be a strong part of the All Star attack, too, with Bobby Moore of Oregon, Lydell Mitchell and Franco Harris of Penn State and Bob Newhouse of Houston likely to try to test the Cowboys defense in the early going.

Dallas coach Tom Landry indicated that he would start the same lineup which triumphed in the Super Bowl with Duane Thomas and Walt Garrison at the running back spots. However, Tony Lascio will not be available at offensive tackle and Ralph Neely was expected to return to his starting berth. Also there was uncertainty whether either Mike Ditka or Billy Truax would be available at tight end.

The collegians, who have won only nine times with two ties in 38 previous games, should be as big and as fast as the pros. Devaney believed that his team, which has scrimmaged both the Chicago Bears and St. Louis Cardinals in preparation for Dallas, would have good morale without being overconfident.

The Stars have some big men on defense and could contain the Dallas running with such standouts as Sherman White, Pete Lazzetich, Greg Sampson, Mike Kadish and Larry Jacobson working on the line and Mike Keller and Jeff Simon at linebackers.

On the offensive line, the Stars were expected to depend on Reggie McKenzie, Dan Yockum, Gordon Gravelle, Steve Okoniewski and Lionel Antoine to do the line blocking.

The pros have won the last eight games from the Stars, and Dallas was better than a two touchdown choice for this contest.

Pirates and Mets split twin bill as race remains static

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Willie Stargell slammed his 20th homer and drove in two runs and Jackie Hernandez also drove in a pair Thursday as the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the New York Mets, 7-5, earning a split in their twin-night doubleheader.

The Mets won the first game, 1-0, in 10 innings.

The Pirates, playing before 49,886, their second largest home crowd ever, maintained a lead in the second game.

Chaney, Reds belt Padres

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Darrel Chaney rapped out two hits, one his first homerun of the season, and drove home three runs as the Cincinnati Reds defeated the San Diego Padres 8-2 Thursday night behind the six-hit pitching of Jack Billingham.

Chaney pitched the first nine innings, allowing only two runs and two hits. He struck out seven batters and walked two.

San Diego's only run came in the first inning when Davey Johnson hit a home run off Chaney. The Padres' second run came in the fourth inning when Davey Johnson hit a home run off Chaney.

Broncos outscore Los Angeles 12-6

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—The Denver Broncos scored two touchdowns to one for the Los Angeles Rams as the teams engaged in a passing scrimmage Thursday in 100-degree weather.

The scrimmage was a seven-on-seven drill with no interior linemen participating. The Rams completed 29 of 62 passes for 509 yards and had no interceptions. The Broncos completed 29 passes out of 57 for 463 yards and had four interceptions.

For the Rams, Jerry Rhyme completed 12 of 22 for 208 yards; Mike Yanceff 7 for 15 for 163 yards and John Walton 10 of 25 for 138 yards. Bob Klein caught five passes for 87 yards; John Love 4 for 48 yards; Jack Snow 3 for 43 yards and Joe Sweet two for 92 yards including a 75 yard touchdown pass from Yanceff.

For Denver Steve Ramsey completed 8 of 16 for 165 yards, had two interceptions and one touchdown; John Stofa completed 10 of 14 for 150 yards and one touchdown; Don Horn 6 of 16 for 87 yards and one interception and Mike Ernst 5 of 11 for 61 yards and one interception.

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, JULY 29, 1972

CARROLL RIGHTER'S
HOROSCOPE
from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES. Use this day to find out the cause of what is holding you back, especially where intimate problems and anxieties are concerned. If you get involved with people today, tempers are apt to be short, so be on the lookout for this wherever it appears.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Private anxieties can be annoying but if you talk to others you find they will soon straighten out. Do what you can to improve your appearance. Take health treatments and feel better.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You are not certain just what you want to do in the future, so don't make any definite decisions while in such a mood. Study those persons who are truly happy and emulate their methods.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Work on your own personal ambitions instead of trying to see influential persons who are busy right now. An unpleasant situation arises, but handle it wisely. Show that you are capable.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Not a good day to visit new places since you could meet with delays. Do what will make you feel stronger and more sure of yourself. Take health treatments you need.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Do away with whatever is unwanted and you can have real progress in the future. Being more willing to do what friends desire is wise now. A spirit of cooperation brings fine results.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Keep the promises you have made to associates and gain their respect. Try not to involve yourself in any civic problems that may arise, but keep a close watch on all activities.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) You feel nervous today and should do some reading or resting instead of bustling about. Do only work that is important, then relax. Await a better time for doing work you had planned.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) You are anxious to do the things you like to do and have fun, which is all right provided you don't use too much energy. Take exercise that is helpful to your health. Avoid one who bickers.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Delve into whatever will put you in a happier frame of mind and make your life more interesting. Avoid argument at home. Don't spend too much time on unimportant matters. Be wise.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) An associate may want a big loan from you, or may want to take you to an expensive activity, so use willpower and refuse. Study your personal budget and cut down on your expenses.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) If you do something about improving your budget, you need not worry about finances in the future. Not a good day to ask for advice from a business expert who is in a bad mood.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Your most accurate judgment is not quite good now, so don't decide on anything that is important. Do more analyzing of your life. See where to make improvements for a fuller life.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be one of those charming young people who has to be taught early not to be a spendthrift, and to depend more on orthodox systems. Make sure to include courses in psychology in the educational curriculum because your progeny requires knowledge in how to deal with others successfully. Give early ethical training.

A Homemade Diet Drink

Am asked if those milky diet mixtures so popular among the heavyweights who want to lose pounds, can be homemade. Certainly. Combine 10 ounces of evaporated milk with eight ounces of water. Stir in six level tablespoons of dextrose. Add a jigger of corn oil. Blend well. Flavor the stuff with a couple of teaspoons of instant coffee, vanilla extract, imitation maple or whatever Refrigerate. That's it one day's supply. This simple formula devised about 16 years ago made the first of those canned concoctions for calorie counters.

WHAT THE editor inadvertently left out of the 1960 Farmer's Almanac was the weather prediction for July 13. But the typesetter, a wise fellow, decided "rain" and "snow" and "hail" would fill in the blank quite nicely. He figured the editor would correct the thing on the proof. The editor didn't. That typesetter must have had a direct connection. On July 13 it rained, snowed, hailed.

"The physicists ought to discover some way of capturing those enormous stores of energy which accumulate in unemployed women of sanguine temperament. Now it's vented in ways generally deplorable. In interfering with other people's affairs, in working up emotional scenes, in thinking about love and making it, and in bothering men until they cannot get on with their work."

Spassky loses eighth game in world match

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (UPI)—World chess champion Boris Spassky committed an apparent blunder to lose the eighth game of his world title match to Bobby Fischer Thursday, giving the American challenger a commanding two-point lead in the 24-game championship.

Spassky's error caused consternation among world chess grand masters gathered to witness what has been termed the match of the century.

Svetozar Gligoric of Yugoslavia, one of the great names in the relatively closed world of chess, shook his head and said, "Why did Spassky bother to come today? He should have stayed in his hotel rather than commit such a tremendous blunder."

"Once he played that rook on the 19th move he was lost," said Gligoric. "He should have resigned but carried on for appearances sake."

Miguel Najdorf, dean of Argentine chess, banged chess pieces into a box when he saw Spassky's 19th move on the closed-circuit television.

"This is terrible," he said. "How can a world champion play like this? Spassky is kaput. He must be seeing ghosts."

Thirty minutes later the Russian titleholder stopped his clock and offered his hand to Fischer. Spassky had resigned the eighth game on the 37th move.

The challenger accepted Spassky's hand then got up and walked quickly off the stage. He had scored his fourth win in six matches and taken a two-point lead.

At the beginning of the game Fischer had stormed over to German referee Lothar Schmid after he made his first move.

Twice during the game the temperamental 29-year-old challenger went backstage to complain about the noise.

Television cameras were in the hall for the first time since the first match. An ABC producer Lorne Hassan said Fischer gave final approval to put the cameras back in during a 45-minute talk at 2 a.m. today.

"Bobby told me he wanted this great game to go out to millions of fans in the United States, but on his conditions," Hassan said. He said cameras were moved back into the hall on the balcony with three cameramen filming the board at a distance of 140 feet.

Grassman talks at Rupert meet

RUPERT — Lloyd Patterson, last year's Minidoka County Grassman winner, was the guest speaker during the Rupert Chamber of Commerce Thursday luncheon.

Patterson was introduced by Ken Roth, program chairman. Along with being county grassman winner last year, Patterson was one of the four district winners in the state.

Last year there were about 35 counties with grassman programs, according to Patterson.

The county winners were then judged and district winners selected. From the district winners the state winner is

Patterson has a row crop and pasture operation with sheep on his family farm operation.

Roth reported the grassman candidates are judged land use and community activities.

Local residents who were on the Minidoka County Grassman Tour were guests at the chamber luncheon and the grassman candidates and families were introduced.

Pete Ford, chamber president, presided at the meeting and welcomed the guests. He issued an invitation for persons to travel by bus for the afternoon part of the grassman tour.

Filer Missionary Church gets cleric

FILER — Rev. Stan Runyon is the new minister of the Filer Missionary Church and will present his first sermon to the Filer congregation Sunday morning.

Rev. Runyon is from Bronson, Mich., and this is his first parish. He attended Ft. Wayne Bible College for three years and graduated from Bethel College, Miskowaka, Ind. He attended Trinity Evangelical Divinity School, Deerfield, Ill., for a year.

His wife, Sharon, attended Bethel College for two years. The Runyons were married Dec. 17, 1971. They moved to Filer this week.

Nixon predicts hard-fought battle

By United Press International

President Nixon predicted Thursday a "close, hard-fought" campaign despite the current disarray of the Democratic party.

Nixon was asked at a news conference Thursday if he was concerned about over confidence in the organization that will attempt to win him a second term in the White House.

"I have told all my associates this that regardless of what the polls show, whether we are ahead or behind, this will be a close, hard-fought election right down to the wire," Nixon said.

Nixon said he did not believe the Eagleton affair would seriously damage Democratic prospects. He ruled out personally commenting on Eagleton's problems but recalled his own troubles as a vice presidential candidate in 1952, when he was criticized for accepting a fund from private donors to pay for his political activities. The incident led to his famous "Checkers" speech on television.

"In 1952, when another vice presidential candidate was urged to get off the ticket there were some who thought that whether he stayed on or got off that it would sink the presidential ticket," Nixon said. "It didn't."

Nixon said he felt the confrontation between him and McGovern would provide "the clearest choice in this century."

"We must campaign on issues and not personalities," he said.

Goodwill Club names treasurer

TWIN FALLS — The Goodwill Club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Eva Atkinson with Mrs. Claud Severt presiding.

Mrs. Nellie Orndorf led the prayer and Mrs. George Rigdon the flag salute. Thoughts for the day were given by Mrs. Walker Carr and Sandra McCollum.

Mrs. Orndorf was elected treasurer. Mrs. Lucile Smith received both an anniversary gift from her secret pal and the white elephant gift.

Program chairman Mrs. Marjorie Kennon introduced Sgt. Cliff Sharp from the Twin Falls Police Department who gave a talk on defensive driving.

Next regular meeting will be Aug. 9 with Mrs. Chloe Carr as hostess.

Swim party at Almo

ALMO — A swimming party and picnic lunch sponsored by the Almo Ward MIA were held Wednesday evening at Indian Springs for families of the ward.

The event was the closing social for the organization. Classes will resume in September.

TIMES-NEWS STORY INFORMATION

The Times-News would like to have information concerning activities of your organization. To make preparation of news stories easier, this form is provided. It offers spaces for the principal elements in every news story—WHO, WHERE, WHAT, WHEN, WHY and HOW. Because additional information may be desired, the news desk asks that the name of the contributor be provided, along with a telephone number where that source of information may be reached.

The Times-News has a deadline of two days following an event in which information will be printed. So, if an event occurs on Monday, information about it should be submitted early enough so it can be in Wednesday's newspaper. There is no limit on how far in advance of a coming event that a story may be submitted.

Important—USE FULL NAMES. NOT NICKNAMES. BE SURE NAMES ARE SPELLED CORRECTLY.

Cenarrusa lists voter law change

BOISE — Secretary of State Pete T. Cenarrusa has prepared 24 questions and answers designed to tell voters about election law changes.

To help voters understand registration and voter qualifications the questions and answers include:

1. Who may vote in Idaho? You must be a (1) U. S. citizen, (2) 18 years of age or older, (3) a bona fide resident of the state and of the county in which you want to vote, and (4) registered as required by law.

2. Who must register? Everyone must be registered to vote before receiving a ballot.

3. What is re-registration? The legislature enacted a new card system of registration which requires all persons registered under the old law to re-register.

4. I've voted in Idaho for many years. Do I need to re-register? Yes, you must. The new card system registration will be the only official register of Idaho voters.

5. I moved to Idaho just recently. May I register to vote? Yes, you may. Idaho has no durational residency requirement.

6. But I thought that the Idaho Constitution required a six months residency in the state. A decision of the U. S. Supreme Court this year has been interpreted by the Idaho attorney general as invalidating any residency requirement. Idaho is an open registration state.

7. But I must be a resident to vote? Yes, you must have moved to Idaho with the intent of becoming a permanent, full-time Idaho citizen.

8. Where can I register? You may register with your precinct registrar until 8 p.m., July 28th. You may also register in the office of your County Clerk until 8 p.m., Aug. 5th.

9. I see that this registration form requires date of birth and Social Security number. No, this information is optional for record-keeping purposes.

10. Once I register on this new card form, will I have to go through this again and again? No, this registration is a permanent registration. You need only continue to vote to keep your registration valid.

11. I just moved. Where do I register? In the county of your new residence. Your new county clerk will notify the county where you lived before.

12. May I register at the polls on election day? No, the last day for a new registration is Aug.

13. May I re-register at the polls on election day?

Yes, Idaho law does allow this but you should make every effort to re-register before that day so as not to inconvenience others who are voting.

14. When is primary election day? Tuesday, Aug. 8th.

15. Where do I vote?

At the designated precinct polling places in your county. They are published in your local newspaper.

16. When are the polls open on election day?

The polling places open at 8 a.m. and close at 8 p.m.

17. In this primary election, how many political parties are on the ballot?

There are five — Republican Party, Democratic Party, American Party, Socialist Workers Party and the Peace and Freedom Party.

18. Must I vote on only one of these party ballots?

Yes, you will be furnished all five. You detach the one you wish to vote upon.

19. What do I do with the remainder of the ballot?

You return all of the ballot that you have been given to the election official. He or she will deposit the used and unused portions in the proper ballot boxes.

20. Isn't there a judicial election, too?

Yes, you will also be given a separate ballot for judicial candidates.

21. We'll be away from home on election day. May I vote absentee?

Yes, you may. Your county clerk has a booth set up in his office for that purpose. You must contact your county clerk for this absentee voting privilege.

22. If I'm disabled or confined to my home or the hospital, may I obtain assistance in voting?

Yes, you may. Please contact your county clerk. The county clerk and his staff will make every effort to assist you.

23. May I be assisted at the polling place in casting my ballot?

Yes, you may. An individual of your choice or one of the official election personnel may give you assistance at the polls.

24. One more question: Our son is in the service. How can he register and vote?

He should contact his voting rights officer at his duty assignment and ask for the federal post card application form. He should mail this form to his county clerk who will treat it as a registration and will send him an absentee ballot.

NORMAN CANTOR joins force

KETCHUM — Norman (Pete) Cantor, Ketchum, has joined the five-man Ketchum Police Department.

Cantor, who has been an area resident for four years, replaces officer John Douglas who is returning to law school. Douglas has served with the department for 14 months.

He was formerly employed in Ketchum as a mechanic, is married and has two children.

KATMANDU, Nepal (UPI)—A yogi who wanders through the Himalayas claims to have seen and photographed the abominable snowman.

However, Narahari Nath's article in the latest issue of Yogi, "a monthly magazine published in Nepal, was accompanied by no photographs of the snowman and the yogi himself was not available to elaborate on his experience.

Aquaintances said he probably was meditating but they did not know where.

Nath said he encountered the snowman on "a glorious day with snowflakes flying in the air."

"All was still and calm," he wrote in Yogi, which is the name the Nepalese give to the legendary snowman.

The yogi said he was chanting Hindu prayers when he saw "the greatest spectacle of my life."

"I knew it was the yeti, the great snowman, the thing we have been talking about for years. I was astounded."

He said the snowman did not appear to be frightened by him.

"As he drew closer he looked once in my direction," wrote the yogi. "He nodded his head and continued hopping or limping as he moved."

Then the snowman moved away and seemed to disappear into the misty clouds that hang over the mountain, Nath wrote. By that time some companions had caught up with him.

"They were surprised to see me in this dazed condition," he said. "I pointed in the direction of the disappearing yeti and my friends said it was nothing."

"I could shoot pictures only of his back."

Nath said the footprints left by the yeti were "each as long as my forearm and two fists wide."

He described the beast as "seven forearms tall and very stout with long arms and a short neck and hairy all over. He had no tail."

Painless drilling

CHICAGO (UPI)—Two Tufts University researchers say they have developed a chemical that can be sprayed onto teeth for the painless removal of tooth decay.

However, Drs. Melvin Goldman and Joseph Kronman said Wednesday the chemical does not eliminate all drilling.

Appearing before the convention of the American Society for Preventive Dentistry, Kronman and Goldman described experiments with a compound they call GK-101.

Kronman said experiments with animals and incomplete clinical tests on humans show that "when there is proper access the decay is removed rapidly and painlessly and the solution is suctioned away.

But, he added, "We would like to make perfectly clear that this does not eliminate all drilling for the preparation of the cavity. It may be necessary to establish good access with a drill...and it may also be necessary to create (with a drill) retention for the fillings."

Clinical tests have shown no side reactions to the compound, Kronman said.

Baby's world inside bubble

HOUSTON (UPI)—Since his birth 10 months ago, David has lived inside a sterile plastic bubble. His world of gloved hands and distorted faces is the size of a large playpen.

Placed outside his artificial nursery David could be dead within a few hours. Even a common cold virus would become his deadly enemy.

His system is unable to produce antibodies, substances in the blood that kill or weaken invading bacteria. That defect killed his brother at birth and forewarned doctors who delivered David last Sept. 21.

The baby, identified only as David at his parents' request,

Wednesday, doctors at Texas Children's Hospital said David is now ready for corrective treatment which may give his otherwise healthy body some immunity against germs.

Doctors first will give him a protein extracted from a normal person's white blood cells. A physician said it may show his immunity system is intact but "that a chemical necessary to activate it is missing."

If this fails other options are a thymus gland transplant and then a possible bone marrow operation.

This seal is not an advertising gimmick.

(Neither is the chicken behind it.)

Unless you live just down the road from a poultry farm, the fresh chicken you buy has quite possibly lost the very peak of its country-fresh flavor along the way to your shopping basket.

It's not the chicken's fault. And it's not your fault. It's Nature.

And, since you've probably never tasted true, country-fresh chicken in the first place, there's no reason for you to be dissatisfied.

You just haven't had a basis for comparison. Until today.

In selected fine foodstores and supermarkets, you can now buy Grade "A" chickens and chicken parts that have been Deep Chilled—an exciting new process that locks in the freshest, most succulent flavor components of the natural chicken... without ever freezing it! Here's what happens:

Immediately upon processing, the chickens are chilled to about 28 degrees—which is just cold enough to "lock in" their true country flavor and freshness, without freezing the chicken itself. (Frozen poultry, as you know, is chilled to well below zero before shipping—an entirely different process from ours.)

In your supermarket, Tyson's Deep Chill Country-Fresh Chicken will feel a bit firmer to your touch. That's because your store's display case is also chilled to the "magical" 28 degrees that keeps all the fresh flavor and natural moisture in the chicken. Without freezing it.

So you can prepare it your usual way, refrigerate it, or freeze it for future use (without re-wrapping). We hope you prepare your first Tyson's Deep Chill chicken the very first day you buy it. And the simplest way possible—no fancy seasonings, no fancy gravy. The ultimate test!

Because the sooner you taste the difference, the sooner you'll be back for more.
