Regulars offer GOP compromise

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Republican regulars drafted a compromise on party reforms today in an effort to head off a convention clash with party liberals over proposals for a major overhaul of the GOP.

Dubbed the "Miami Compromise," the plan would establish a new system of allocating delegate votes for the 1976 convention. It would mean extra votes for the big states but not as many as they would receive if the current "bonus" method was wiped out entirely or if the party adopted a rival proposal by Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill.

The liberal aim is to attract more women, young people and minorities to the GOP. Otherwise, they said, it may "wither and die."

The compromise was offered by Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., a prominent Republican conservative, and Rep. Jack Kemp, R-N.Y., a friend of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew as well as a member of an ad hoc congressional group that has been advocating party reform.

At present, states carried by the Republican presidential candidate receive a bonus of six delegate votes, regardless of their size.

Under the "Miami Compromise," those states would receive three bonus delegates. But they would also receive a bonus equal to 40 per cent of the state's electoral vote, a figure that is based on population.

Laird wants plank backing strong US

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird said today George S. McGovern "must have his eyes shut" if he does not see that the world is more peaceful than when President Nixon took office.

Laird, appearing before the Republican Platform Committee, reacted to a question from Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., about what tower said was a McGovern statement that the country was no better off than it was when Nixon was inaugurated.

"I would say to anyone who would say anything like that, 'open your eyes and look at America and look at the world,'" the Defense Secretary said.

Laird headed a string of administration officials who told the Platform Committee how good things were under Nixon. The platform already has been largely drafted by GOP leaders and approved by the White House. Little controversy was expected except possibly over the issue of abortion.

Laird was highly critical of McGovern's plans to cut defense spending, saying it would place the country in a "position where it would not be able to negotiate."

Payment balance improves

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two important measures of the U. S. balance of payments improved sharply in the second quarter, the Commerce Department said today.

The official reserve transactions balance, which measures the dollar holdings of foreign central banks, narrowed by $2.5 billion from the $3.3 billion deficit in the January-March quarter.

The balance remained $831 million in the red; the department said, chiefly because of speculative pressures and large overseas government purchases of the dollar following the floating of the British pound.

The broader net liquidity balance, which covers dealings with private as well as official foreign sources, improved by $794 million in the first quarter but remained in deficit by $2.3 billion. This compared with a first quarter deficit of $3.1 billion.

The figures were adjusted for seasonal variation.

Saigon date for Henry

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon has sent Henry A. Kissinger to Saigon to confer with South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu on efforts to negotiate an end to the war, the White House announced today.

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Kissinger, who held a private meeting with North Vietnamese negotiators in Paris on Monday, will arrive in Saigon Wednesday evening (Wednesday morning U.S. time) and remain there until Friday afternoon.

Ziegler said Kissinger would fly to the South Vietnamese capital from Laax, Switzerland, where he paid a brief visit to his parents, celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary.

Ziegler said the President directed Kissinger to visit South Vietnam "for a general review of all aspects of the Vietnam problem including the negotiations in Paris."

Ziegler left open the possibility that Kissinger would make another stop before returning to Washington this weekend, but ruled out a visit to Hanoi or any immediate return to Paris where Kissinger has been holding a series of meetings with Le Duc Tho and Xuan Thuy, Hanoi's two top negotiators there.

Kissinger's visit inevitably raised speculation that significant progress had been made in the negotiations which resumed July 14, and in the four private sessions Kissinger has held with the two North Vietnamese officials.

Ziegler sought to dampen the speculation, saying that the President merely thought it was "an appropriate time" for high-level discussions with South Vietnamese leaders.

Pay Board keeps wage guideline

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Pay Board, saying that inflation is slowing, has voted to continue its annual guideline for wage increases at 5.5 per cent.

But the board in a decision announced Monday said the guideline would be reviewed again this year.

"The Pay Board has completed a comprehensive review of the general wage and salary standard to determine whether any revision is indicated," the seven-member board said in a statement.

The board has concluded that it will make no change in the standard at this time. It will be reviewed again as additional data becomes available later in the year.

Berlin crash toll 156 lives

BERLIN (UPI) — Eyewitnesses said today an East German Interflug Ilyushin 62 developed engine trouble and apparently was trying to return to East Berlin when it exploded Monday, killing 156 persons in the world's second worst air disaster.

Last year, 162 died in Japan in the collision of a jet fighter and Japanese Boeing 727 in the worst disaster.

Eyewitnesses said the pilot of the Russian-built transport apparently had engine trouble soon after takeoff on a charter flight from East Berlin's Schoenefeld Airfield to the Bulgarian Black Sea vacation resort of Burgas. They said he seemed to be trying to return to Schoenefeld. But the aircraft exploded in the air and crashed in woods near the town of Koenigs-Wusterhausen, 20 miles southeast of Berlin.

There were no survivors among the 148 passengers and eight crew.

Interflug announced there were no West Germans or foreigners on board. It said all the dead were East Germans.

An East German government commission headed by Transport Minister Otto Arndt is investigating the crash made no report on the cause.

"We can give no details until the investigation is completed," an East German official said.

Math error cuts 700 TF votes off McClure total

TWIN FALLS — An addition error cut 700 votes off the total given Rep. James A. McClure in Twin Falls County in the primary election a week ago.

Even with the error uncovered by the county commissioners as they canvassed the voting returns from the county's 48 precincts, the three-term Congressman still defeated former Rep. George Hansen and two other challengers in the county balloting for the Republican senatorial nomination.

But what had looked like a victory of over 700 votes for McClure locally was reduced to a margin of less than 200 votes over second place finisher Hansen.

The official vote counts certified by the county commissioners were: McClure, 2,982; Hansen, 2,788; Dr. Glen Wegner, 2,071; and former Gov. Robert E. Smylie, 1,151.

The final vote counts for the Democrats were nearly identical to unofficial totals of a week ago. William E. (Buddy) Davis, who was the statewide victor, also took Twin Falls County with 682 votes, while Atty. Gen. W. Anthony (Tony) Park took second place with 434 votes. Byron Johnson had 306 and Rose Bowman 232 votes.

The change in the McClure vote was apparently an error in addition rather than in reporting the vote on election night. Of the 48 precincts in the county 46 had the same totals both a week ago and in the final canvass county officials Friday and tabulated Monday.

In the other two precincts, the total change was less than 50 votes. But when the votes were added a week ago on primary election night, the figures were inflated by about 700 votes.

In another change uncovered by the canvassing effort, Rep. Orval Hansen and Coroner Cloyce Edwards both surpassed Sheriff Paul Corder for popularity at the ballot box.

Corder had appeared a week ago to be the high vote getter in the county, but the final returns gave that distinction to Hansen, running unopposed for the Republican nomination, for another term in office and handed second place to Edwards, who is seeking re-election as county coroner. Hansen showed official returns of 7,324 votes, while Edwards had 7,230.

But the official results did not significantly alter the margin of victory for Corder over challenger Ron Goodman.

In official voting results, the five-year incumbent sheriff took 7,231 votes, while Goodman received 1,593.

In other changes as a result of the canvassing, several of the county figures running unopposed on both sides of the county figures running unopposed on both sides of the ballot emerged with higher totals than it had appeared Tuesday night.

These changes were not unexpected, however, since several of the outlying precincts had not reported returns for uncontested races a week ago in their efforts to speed the returns for the contested two four-way Senate races and the sheriff's election.

Rep. Ray Lincoln R-Twin Falls led all legislative candidates with 3,787 votes.

In the non-partisan balloting for supreme court judge, Justice Joseph J. McFadden received 6,183 votes, while Justice Henry F.

McQuade tallied 5,812.

In the only contested races for precinct committeeman for either party, in the Republican 15th precinct, Roger Lewis was elected over John McNeas; in the Republican 23d precinct, Frederick Plankey defeated Frank M. Acree III.

Also for Republican precinct committeeman, in the 24th precinct, Lloyd Webb defeated Ruby Wyatt, while in the 98d precinct, Robert J. Bailey won over David Monroe.

The final, official Twin Falls County vote for all state and county offices: U. S. Senate: (Republican) Rep. James McClure, 2,982; George Hansen, 2,788; Dr. Glen Wegner, 2,071; Robert E. Smylie, 1,151; (Democrat) William E. (Buddy) Davis, 682; Atty. Gen. W. Anthony (Tony) Park, 434; Byron Johnson, 306, and Rose Bowman, 232.

U. S. Congress Second District (Republican): Rep. Orval Hansen, 7,324 and (Democrat) Willis Ludlow, 885.

Twin Falls County sheriff: (Republican) Paul Corder, 7,231; Ron Goodman, 1,593.

Twin Falls County commissioner: (Republican) Merl Leonard, 5,885; William Chancey, 5,504; (Democrat) Robert Geer, 3,170. Twin Falls prosecuting attorney: (Republican) Robert Galley, 5,884; (Democrat) Golden Bennett, 1,101.

Twin Falls County assessor: (Republican) Ronald Taylor, 6,683.

Twin Falls County coroner: (Republican) Cloyce Edwards, 7,230.

State Senate, Legislative District 24: (Republican) Sen. Richard S. High, 3,691.

State Representative, Legislative District 24: (Republican) Rep. Ray/ Lincoln, 3,787; Rep. Ralph Olmstead, 3,633.

State Senate, Legislative District 25: (Republican) Sen. John M. Barker, 2,788; (Democrat) Raymond Strickland, 547.

State Representative, Legislative District 26: (Republican) Rep. William Lanting, 3,800; Rep. William Roberts, 2,419.

State Supreme Court Justice: (non partisan) Henry F. McQuade, 5,812; (non partisan) Joseph J. McFadden, 6,183.

Clark denies talk

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Former Attorney General Ramsey Clark denied Monday that he had ever made any broadcasts over Radio Hanoi during his visit to North Vietnam.

Clark, who returns to Washington today with two suitcases of material he gathered on the "senseless bombing" damage to the Communist country, said his comments while in Hanoi may have been tape recorded and broadcast on the air.

"I'm a free man, I talk, I express myself, but I did not talk on Radio Hanoi," he said.

The prisoner of war issue dominated Clark's first news conference Monday since returning from his two-week journey, Clark said.

Hanoi's foreign ministry "guaranteed" him that American POWs would be released immediately after a war-ending treaty was implemented by the United States.

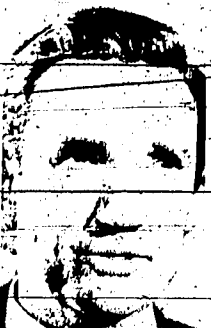

The editor of North Vietnam's leading newspaper told him that if Sen. George McGovern was elected, president some prisoners would be released on inaugural day and all of them within 90 days after the new administration takes office.

He held a "bull session" with 10 Americans in a prisoner of war camp and they were in good health, good spirits and well treated.

Clark said North Vietnam's deputy premier and foreign minister, Nguyen Duy Trinh guaranteed him the prisoners of war would be released as part of a military and political settlement of the war. He said he spoke with Trinh almost three hours and then was given a signed note reaffirming their talks.

Clark said the minister "guaranteed" him the POWs would be freed, but "I don't know, first, whether he means it, or second, whether he can. But I know he said it."

I fire battled today

BOISE (UPI) — Only one major forest fire is being battled today in the state of Idaho. It is the Salmon-National Forest's Goat Creek fire which has burned 1,620 acres.

Forest officials said Monday they hoped to get the primitive area blaze under control by Wednesday. Twenty-five mile per hour winds whipped the flames in a scrub timber area.

Nearly 600 men continue to fight the fire in the steep terrain in the Middle Fork River area.

Boise Interagency Fire Center officials said many crews are to be sent back to home stations and crews based in Boise are to be brought back from Alaska.

Mitchell says Ramsey duped by N. Vietnamese

WASHINGTON (UPI)—John N. Mitchell said today Ramsey Clark was "duped" by the North Vietnamese into playing upon the "deep concerns" of the families of American prisoners of war.

Mitchell, the former attorney general and campaign manager for President Nixon, called upon Democratic presidential candidate George S. McGovern to answer two questions.

"Does Sen. McGovern endorse and approve the outrageous conduct of his adviser and supporter, Ramsey Clark, while in Hanoi?"

"Does Sen. McGovern believe Ramsey Clark is the 'perfect choice' to fill the shoes of the late J. Edgar Hoover as director of the FBI?"

Clark, a former Democratic attorney general, said in San Francisco Monday that the North Vietnamese foreign ministry "guaranteed" him that all U.S. prisoners would be released as part of any settlement. And he said the editor of the leading Hanoi newspaper told him some prisoners would be released the day McGovern is inaugurated and all of them within 90 days.

Mitchell said there was "nothing new" in the offer to return U.S. prisoners when there is a military and political settlement. But the editor's alleged statement was new, Mitchell said.

N-project study set

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI)—El Paso Natural Gas Co. announced Monday it will engage independent experts in its continuing study of the proposed Wagon Wheel nuclear project.

A spokesman said that a team of experts from Colorado State University will be hired to expand the bienvironmental studies already carried out on the project in southwest Wyoming.

Dr. F. Ward Whicker, who specializes in radiation ecology and terrestrial wildlife, will head the three-man team from Colorado State.

The consultants will begin their work this month. The study will probably take a year,

Military drug abuse control not effective

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The military crackdown on drugs has not been effective and may have driven servicemen from marijuana to heroin and other narcotics, a government study has charged.

A six-volume report on "Drug Abuse Control Activities Affecting Military Personnel in the Department of Defense" was sent Congress Monday by the General Accounting Office (GAO).

The GAO said it had received many reports during its investigation that law enforcement efforts "had not been too effective in curtailing the illegal use of drugs by military personnel."

The study said intensification of enforcement activities may have contributed significantly to the replacement of marijuana—which is bulky, easily detectable by smell, and not physically addictive—by more dangerous addictive drugs such as heroin.

This may have contributed to a new, more serious problem," the GAO said.

The auditors said the present legal sanctions against possession or use of marijuana by military personnel preclude condoning the drug.

"Officially, there can be little alternative to mounting aggressive drug suppression and law enforcement activities," the report said. The auditors said unannounced urinalysis tests at randomly selected military units probably would be a more significant deterrent to drug users than the current systems of announced, programmed tests.

The GAO said the present urinalysis-testing programs have failed for two reasons: Marijuana, hashish and LSD are not detectable in urine.

Even hard drugs such as opiates, barbiturates and amphetamines cannot be detected if the servicemen abstain from their use for three to five days before testing.

GOP liberals accept Agnew as VP choice

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Strong men all, Republican liberals have manfully accepted President Nixon's verdict that Spiro T. Agnew is their choice for vice president.

The little sparks of anguish that flared were dutifully extinguished when Nixon announced that Agnew was his choice.

Whatever dismay persists will be discreetly muted to blend with the all-pervasive harmony at the Republican National Convention.

But the GOP liberals are once again suspect, although perhaps unfairly, in their attitude towards Mr. Agnew.

They have come to the convention with demands that the party do some reforming—open it up to let in more women, more blacks, more youth.

When the 1976 convention is called to order, these GOP liberals want fewer, older, white, men seated as delegates although they have always been the backbone of the party.

Two of the movers in this effort are Massachusetts Gov. Francis W. Sargent and New York's Sen. Jacob K. Javits.

In 1970, Sargent asked Agnew to stay out of Massachusetts where the governor was running for re-election. He felt that Agnew, then at zenith of his campaigning, could only hurt the Republicans.

Javits was one of a select few Republican senators who suggested that Nixon could do better than take Agnew for a second term.

Their reform demands, shared by many moderates, are based on the fear that failure to broaden the party could mean the end of the GOP or, at best, make it a perpetual minority party.

Considering their track record, however, the GOP liberals were asked whether they were trying to short circuit a possible Agnew bid for the presidency four years from now.

Their answer was a flat no. "That certainly is not my intention," Sargent told a news conference. "It certainly is not an effort to endorse or prevent any political candidate four years from now."

Similarly, Sen. Robert W. Packwood of Oregon, a liberal although more administration-minded, said "so far as I'm concerned this is not a dump Agnew movement." He added: "I think the vice president is a fair and honorable man and he would not want to be the beneficiary of a convention where the delegates are chosen by procedures closed to youths or blacks."

Whatever the motive, the admission of larger numbers of blacks and youths as delegates to the 1976 convention probably would hinder an Agnew try for the presidential nomination.

McGovern raps GOP claim

By United Press International Sen. George S. McGovern accused the Republicans Monday of making a "cynical and cruel" attempt to claim credit for increased migration by Soviet Jews to Israel.

The Democratic presidential candidate made the statement as he prepared for his first general election campaign trip to the industrial centers and farmlands of the Midwest. He flies today to Youngstown, Ohio, to start a journey that also will take him to Illinois and Wisconsin.

Polls have shown McGovern losing some of the support Democrats have enjoyed in recent presidential elections from Jewish voters. McGovern Monday chastised New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for the Republican's claim that President Nixon's summit visit to Moscow earlier this year resulted in a "major increase" in the migration of Russian Jews to Israel.

McGovern said this was "both cynical and cruel of President Nixon's agent."

holds out a false promise of hope to Jewry—a promise Richard Nixon is in no position to keep."

McGovern said the migration of the Jews was due to "the heroic determination of Soviet Jews themselves." He said Soviet Jews were migrating at the rate of 35,000 a year last December, long before Nixon went to Moscow.

McGovern planned to mend some political fences on this week's trip, meeting Wednesday with Chicago Mayor Richard Daley. It will be the first encounter of the Democratic leaders since the Miami Beach convention where Daley's Cook County delegation was ousted by a pro-McGovern slate headed by the Rev. Jesse Jackson.

Daley has endorsed McGovern, but the meeting at the Illinois State Fair could provide some clues as to how hard Daley's strong organization will work for McGovern.

The meeting was to begin at 10 a.m. today and last until 3 p.m. Arlan Call, Twin Falls head librarian, said. Participating in the regional meeting are 15 librarians from district and public libraries in the eight-county Magic Valley area.

Scott Brown, community development coordinator from the University of Idaho, is expected to discuss with librarians the successes and failures in the regional library program for the past two years.

Zoning hearing set on TF site

TWIN FALLS — A public hearing on zoning for a 20-acre tract to be developed in northwest Twin Falls will be conducted Sept. 11.

The Twin Falls Planning and Zoning Commission set the hearing Monday night at the request of Dave Armstrong, Twin-Falls architect, who is owner and supervisor of development for the tract.

Armstrong said medium density residential zoning will be sought for the tract. He said a variety of dwellings will be planned, including single family homes, town houses, condominiums, duplexes and fourplexes.

Annexation of the area into Twin Falls will also be asked, and annexation of an adjoining 10-acre tract will be requested after Jan. 1, 1973, Armstrong said. The entire area lies southeast of Falls Avenue and Washington Street North. The 30-acres for which the zoning hearing was set lies between the line of Robbins Street extended and the present city limits near Caswell Avenue.

The commission Monday recommended zoning for two areas to be annexed, approved requested zoning changes for two other sites, and recommended approval of curb and gutter ordinance amendments following public hearings. The recommendations will be sent to the City Council for consideration at its Aug. 21 meeting.

Two other public hearings were set for Sept. 18. One is to allow a home-business at 2038 Concordia Way and the other is for a side yard variation for a carport at 1201 Tenth Avenue East. All three hearings will be at 8 p.m.

Residential low density zoning was recommended for two tracts of property being considered for annexation. One 10-acre site adjoins Falls and Madison roads. The other, of 20 acres, following 'arrangement' on 'a' is owned by School District 411 charge of possession of con-and is located between Locust North and Madison North, north of Stadium Boulevard. Rezoning of a lot owned by Idaho First National Bank, fronting on Spruce Street, from low density residential to commercial local, was recommended for approval by the City Council. The lot is one of several in the site of a drive-in bank on Blue Lakes Boulevard North between Wilmore and Spruce. It will be used for parking, architect Harold Gerber said.

Also recommended for rezoning, from medium density residential to commercial general, were several lots and portions of lots east of Madison and south of Morningside. The change was sought by Scott Refrigeration, which plans to erect a storage building on the site, according to Jack Scott, of the firm.

The commission also recommended approval by the council of an application for sewer service connection to 1.5 acres of land owned by H. A. Armstrong south of Twin Falls lying east of Highway 74. The land is now outside the city limits.

Denied a preliminary plat of Falls West Estates Subdivisions, offered for reconsideration by Robert Christensen. The commission voted 2-1, with one member abstaining, for denial because of stated plans to use septic tanks on lots in the subdivision southwest of Falls and Sparks Street.

Tabled for more study a possible requirement for locating utility lines on all subdivision plats.

School signup set Thursday

TWIN FALLS — Registration for first year elementary students in the Twin Falls schools will be Aug. 17 and 18 from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Students entering Twin Falls elementary schools for the first time this year should register at the elementary school nearest their home.

School Supt. George Staudacher said students could be signed up for class either by telephone or in person.

He said registration applies to those who will be 6 years old on or before Oct. 15, as well as any others who have moved into the area and will be attending the elementary schools in District 411 for the first time.

Classes will begin Aug. 28, Staudacher said.

Despite quorum lack, hospital bills paid

TWIN FALLS — Magic Valley Memorial Hospital trustees, lacking a quorum by one member, paid bills anyway after substituting a county commissioner as a board member.

County Commissioner Merl Leonard, an ex-officio member of the board, was counted as a voting member to permit the board to pay the July bills.

Board chairman W. D. Wiseman said the procedure was of dubious legality.

"If anybody ever wanted to contest it we'd be in trouble... but, by God, I don't know who'd want to object to it," Wiseman said.

"We've got to pay the bills," he said.

Action on several items of business was postponed until the September board meeting in hopes that a quorum could be reached then.

According to Wiseman, Monday night's meeting was the first in his memory that a hospital board had failed to reach a quorum. During the short meeting, the trustees:

— Authorized the chairman of the hospital building committee to approve change orders that may arise in the hospital's $271,000 remodeling project. A limit was set at $4,000 per change order. Larger changes would require full board action.

— Named D. Patrick P. Desmond to the hospital's courtesy staff for a one year period.

— Heard an appeal by Dr. W. H. Karmner, president of the hospital medical staff, to place a window in a small room being constructed for isotope therapy. Dr. Karmner argued that patients would be lying motionless for up to two hours in the cramped room. He said installation of a window could relieve much patient anxiety.

Hospital Administrator Irene Oliver questioned the need for the window.

Following discussion, the trustees referred the matter to R. W. Pierce, chairman of the building committee.

Curb ordinance changes OK'd

TWIN FALLS — Approval of proposed changes in an ordinance regulating curb and gutter construction was given by Twin Falls Planning and Zoning Commission Monday night.

The action came following a public hearing at which no comment — either pro or con — was offered.

The amendments to the ordinance will be sent to the City Council for its consideration next week.

The measure provides that concrete curb and gutter sidewalks shall be built by the property owner at the same time as new construction or modification of existing buildings, in accord with city standards, except in one or more of these situations:

— Residential modifications that are not an addition to existing living area nor those that increase existing living area, less than 20 per cent.

— Commercial or industrial modifications that do not increase the size of existing main buildings.

No sidewalks are required in the industrial zone.

— If, in the opinion of the city engineer, the improvement would create a traffic hazard or an unusual drainage problem, construction may be deferred. — If 60 per cent or more of the total property length adjacent to the property on a standard block does not have existing curb gutter, the construction of new curb gutter may be deferred, unless it will connect to an existing section.

— If existing curb gutter is in good repair and built to acceptable line and grade and conforms to the line and grade of other curb gutter in the standard block, it may be retained. The same criteria may be applied to sidewalks.

— The city engineer may defer construction if requested by another governmental unit having jurisdiction over the road and street in question.

The proposal also provides that the fifth exception shall not apply to new subdivisions inside the city limits or to new subdivisions outside the city limits which have or will have city water or sewer service.

Deferrals of curb gutter and sidewalk construction or determinations on retaining existing curb gutter or sidewalks shall be made by the city engineer, but appeals from his decisions may be taken to the City Council, the ordinance provided.

TF Dems re-elect Smazal

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls County Democrats re-elected Vincent Smazal, county chairman at a county central committee meeting Monday night.

About 35 Democrats, mostly precinct committeemen and women, attended the meeting in the judicial building in Twin Falls.

Also elected for two-year terms were Wendell Gannon, Buhl, vice chairman; Russell Briggs Jr., Twin Falls, re-elected treasurer, and Hazel Wilder, Twin Falls, who will serve another term as secretary.

A. K. Reed, Filer, and Mabel Smazal, Twin Falls, were picked to sit on the state central committee for another two years. Smazal, in accepting the position as chairman for another term, repeated his pledge that at least four Democrats would be on the ballot in legislative races in November. Only one Democrat, Ray Strickland, Buhl, had filed his candidacy for the primary election a week ago.

Mrs. Wilder was also chosen to serve another term as chairman of Legislative District 24, while Melvin Martin, Hansen, is chairman for Legislative District 25.

Blasts wrack oil refinery

BILLINGS, Mont. (UPI) — A series of five explosions wracked one of Montana's largest oil refineries Monday, injuring four persons, one seriously.

The blasts threw a three-ton piece of solid steel 1,000 feet and started a fire from which pillars of black smoke could be seen for miles.

Firefighters from the 40,000-barrel Humble Oil and Refinery Co.'s Lockwood plant confined the fire to a 10,000-square-foot area of the 200-acre facility.

A 250-foot high tower was demolished in the explosion and a one-inch thick piece of steel from the structure hit an unoccupied truck and dug a two-foot hole in the ground.

Harold Hartman, 44, Billings, was in serious condition at a hospital with extensive burns. Three other employees were treated at the refinery for minor burns.

A company spokesman said a power failure occurred just before the explosions, indicating there might have been a connection.

Range fire talk topic

TWIN FALLS — Range fires and the damages they cause to public lands and natural resources will be the program of the Magic Valley Gem Club monthly meeting.

The meeting is at 8 p.m. Thursday at the IOOF Hall. Wallace G. Fixsen, fire control officer of the Shoshone Bureau of Land Management District, will show a series of slides on fire and will conduct a question and answer period. Fixsen spent 15 years in Alaska working on fire and land management before coming to this area.

All interested persons are welcome.

Wine vote set

PAYETTE, Idaho (UPI) — Sale-of-table wines in Payette County's retail stores will be considered by the voters of the county in the Nov. 7 General Election.

Last year county commissioners agreed to permit sale of table wines in the retail outlets. Then, last November, a delegation from the Payette County Evangelical Ministerial Association met with the commissioners and asked that a referendum be put on the ballot.

Atom waste site viewed

CARLSBAD, N. M. (UPI) — The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) announced Monday it is considering southeastern New Mexico for a multi-million dollar atomic waste disposal site. The tentative site, in huge salt beds east of Carlsbad, was chosen for its geologic formations. Dr. Frank Pittman, AEC director for waste management and transportation, announced at a Carlsbad news conference.

The AEC still is considering sites in Kansas for the disposal facility, Pittman said, but had run into technical problems there which forced it to consider other locations. Initially, the AEC plans a $25 million pilot facility east of Carlsbad and if the pilot project is successful, a permanent facility could be constructed at a cost up to $60 million, he said.

The pilot facility, still in planning stages, would involve only the disposal of atomic wastes from commercial nuclear power plants.

No Objections

It still has a long way to go—but if the proposed law to ban those "Saturday night special" hand guns finally becomes a fact it will be met with favor by most interested persons in Twin Falls and other parts of the Magic Valley.

Most of us have no real protest over such a law—banning sale or possession of this type gun—a small, snub-nosed easily concealed hand gun. What we do object to is the proposal advanced by some groups that all hand guns be banned. The "Saturday special" law passed the U. S. Senate last week with little real opposition. Now it goes to the House where the future is not so certain. If it clears the House we still are prone to wonder what President Nixon will do with it. An attempt to ban guns failed miserably in the Senate. This is as it should be. Banning all hand guns or forcing owners to license such guns through the states or through a federal setup is a needless task to law-abiding citizens, would be ignored by criminals and would be costly to administer. So we see Senator Bayh's proposal to hit at the "Saturday" guns as a good one.

On the other hand we take sharp issue with Senator Ted Kennedy's effort to require the registration of all firearms. We are not alone in this objection. The Senate turned down his proposal 78 to 11.

Senator Kennedy blamed the "power and influence" of the National Rifle Association for the defeat of his bill and of like measures. He was also critical of the administration for what he called failure to take a strong stand on gun control.

Senator Kennedy can believe what he wants to but we would point out that his blaming the so-called gun lobby for influencing the considered judgment of the great majority of his colleagues is as far out of line as his defeated bill.

In this part of the country, we want no such gun controls as Senator Kennedy advocates. — OAK.

A School Vote

A citizens committee to drum up enthusiasm for a school bond election has worked in Twin Falls in the past. Will it work in the future?

The opportunity to find out will be presented. Initial steps toward formation of such a committee have been instigated by public school officials, looking down the road toward a bond election expected to provide money for extensive modernization and replacement of present educational facilities.

Frankly, putting the project over will be no easy task. It is needed—There is no doubt about that—but a lot of people shy away from higher taxes, bond elections and the like. This is especially true at the present time.

In downtown Twin Falls everyone you ask admits they will vote "yes," on such a bond election. But this is just not the case. A solid vote on anything is an impossibility. Normally, in a school bond vote, citizens with children in school can be counted on for "yes" votes. So-called senior citizens who have raised a family might vote yes or might vote no. They cannot be counted on to present a solid block either way.

The big unknown in the bond election to come will be the "new voter" group. These citizens—the group between 18 and 21 years—will carry or defeat the issue. Under the new rules a voter no longer needs to own property. These young voters can vote yes and feel they will not have to foot the bill.

School bond elections have not been popular in other sections of Magic Valley or in other sections of Idaho. It remains to be seen if a citizens committee can ensure the success of the one being planned for Twin Falls. — OAK.

A Bicycle Built . . .

Next time you folks from Magic Valley jump on your bike to go someplace—watch your manners. The guy ahead of you—also on a bicycle—might just be a policeman.

Well, it could be! Back in Baltimore the police have discovered that the bike is some sort of an anti-crime weapon. It's not exactly new, of course, but cops there are starting to use bikes again and this hasn't been done for 50 years or so.

They started it out this way. Four foot patrols in the high crime district were converted to bicycle patrols. Since April 9, when the whole thing started, 29 arrests have been made and reported crimes are down some 50 per cent.

The police in Maryland said the secret is in the low profile of a bicycle, as compared to a car, motorcycle or other traditional conveyance. The bikes make no noise, can get up and down narrow alleys and in passageways where cars cannot go. Not only that, but riding a bike is just a step ahead of walking—so the police get to know people in the neighborhood.

And the officers report two other favorable results. Not a rider has been bitten by a dog and no bicycles have been stolen. If the experiment continues to be a success, the Baltimore officials say more policemen will be put on wheels.

So, like we said, watch out when you get reckless on your bike. Who knows—police in Twin Falls, Burley, Rupert, Ketchikan, Buhl, Jerome, Filer or whatever may have you surrounded.

GOLD UNDER THE SEA

The ocean floor is rich beyond man's fondest dreams. Soviet Pacific expeditions in the past found riches that cannot be properly estimated, according to a Russian scientist.

Among the minerals found in abundance were gold, manganese and uranium. From the sample explorations made, the professor estimates the oceans contain 10 billion tons of gold, 260 million tons of uranium, 150 billion tons of magnesium and 6.5 billion tons of sodium.

The ocean floor is a mighty big area in which to go prospecting, and it is easily possible that the minute part so far explored by man is not indicative of the whole. But it is obvious that whatever the eventual value of the ocean's riches, they are considerable.

George Did It All Alone

WASHINGTON — Whatever may be his liabilities, Sen. George McGovern has shown he can go quietly and patiently at the job of repairing a mistake—namely the Vice Presidential candidacy of the unfortunate Tom Eagleton.

McGovern's pursuit of a second running mate climaxed by the selection of Sargent Shriver, was enough to drive most politicians up the wall, but not the South Dakotan. Although members of his staff were vocally impatient that he make a virtually instant decision so they could "get" at their assignment of cutting up Richard Nixon, McGovern refused to be rushed. Indeed, at one point he gathered his aides together and reminded them gently that they had plenty of work to do without taking on the additional burden of choosing the No. 2 man.

This time, it was facts about the list of possible McGovern wanted from his staff—not opinions. He did not have to note that his aides had been short on the first and long on the second the first time around.

The general assumption that Sen. Teddy Kennedy was McGovern's first choice was a conventional myth. His first choice—and, incidentally, that of a majority of his staff—was Maine's Sen. Ed Muskie. But he asked Kennedy again, because in Democratic politics one needs must pay proper courtesy to the crown prince of the royal family.

However, while wanting Muskie, McGovern knew he had to have some names to fall back on if the Maine man turned him down. So he asked Sens. Hubert Humphrey and Connecticut's the second spot at the Miami Beach convention. At the same time, certain staff members were permitted to encourage some others to remain available, including the Kennedy-in-law, Shriver, Boston's Mayor Kevin White, Wisconsin Gov. Pat. Lucey and former Democratic boss Larry O'Brien.

McGovern did NOT offer the job to any of these men; he merely asked them if they would be interested. He kept his eye on Muskie, despite the urgings of his political director, Frank Mankiewicz, and his finance chairman, Henry Kissinger, to pick Shriver.

Members of the Kennedy clan were unenthusiastic about Shriver taking the job. If lightning should strike, Senator Ted and his family want its target to bear the Kennedy name. Besides, there is a family feeling that Shriver was a touch uppity in accepting Lyndon Johnson's appointment as ambassador to Paris. But this did not deter McGovern from putting Shriver on his fallback list. After Eagleton, McGovern was taking heed of the counsel of Pauline: "Vain is the help of man."

For Muskie, the situation had to be a delicious development, even while he characteristically took almost two days to decline the honor. Like Richard the Second's Bullingbrooke, Muskie had been "Eating the bitter bread of banishment," while the McGovern troops fed upon his signiority. Now those who had dispatched him into exile were pleading with him to join the feast.

McGovern, of course, had been the soul of courtesy during his successful campaign to drive Muskie out of the primary campaign. He had simply emphasized that his program offered a bigger package of goodies than Muskie's and that therefore Muskie had to go. Even privately, McGovern never dropped any cutting personal remarks about the man from Maine.

Thus, in his summer of discontent, McGovern could stand aloof from his staff and most of his followers, who had made Muskie a figure of fun. A man of innate fairness, Muskie could not reasonably hold McGovern accountable for the cruel jokes uttered by the South Dakotan's staffers about his indecisiveness ("Muskie sleeps on it before going to the bathroom") and his tears in the New Hampshire snow over insults to his wife ("The cry-baby candidate").

But the prime significance of the past few weeks is that George McGovern has moved toward taking command of his campaign for the Presidency. When he nominated Shriver, the choice was his and his alone. It was based on his staff's research, and then only partly. When he nominated Shriver, he did so as a last resort, not because of the king-making proclivities of any of his aides. To the charges that he is a captive of his palace guard, McGovern has responded by loosening his chains.

Better For US

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The new Tanaka administration in Japan is coordinating with the United States in its approaches to Peking.

This coordination is unofficial and not published—but effective all the same.

The strategy aims at putting Japan in a stronger position to expand its markets in China without sacrificing the profitable commerce Tokyo's businessmen enjoy with the Chinese government on Taiwan, where Japan has a considerable investment.

The cooperation indicates the degree to which American and Japanese relations have recovered from the low period last year after President Nixon floated the dollar and visited Peking without giving Japan advance notice. These actions, as will be recalled, caused a double shock in Japan, whose foreign and monetary policies were closely allied with the previous U. S. policies of isolating China and holding to the gold standard programs.

For a time it was predicted that Nixon's failure to take Tokyo into his confidence would ease Japan to move away from its tight association with the United States.

It was pointed out that Eisaku Sato, Kakuei Tanaka's predecessor and incumbent prime minister at the time of the Nixon shocks, had staked his prestige on firm ties with this country and that any successor, even Sato's own choice, would inevitably somewhat harden Japan's position toward Washington.

But this has not thus far proved to be the case. Tanaka was not Sato's anointed. But high-Nixon administration officials are finding that he is, in their opinion, likely to do even more than Sato in cementing U. S.-Japanese relations.

Admiration here for Tanaka is high. American officials like the way he makes decisions without shilly-shallying and that he then sticks to them. They like the businesslike way he approaches problems between our two countries.

Although they have had little success thus far, under Tanaka, in opening Japan's doors to sizable increases in imports from the United States to help the adverse American trade balance, the feeling here is that we have a better chance of solving this long-standing problem with businessman Tanaka than we had with old political friend Sato.

As for Japan's China strategy, the solution will likely turn out to be an old but highly successful Japanese gambit: Tokyo will, in the end, recognize Peking diplomatically.

Mao Tse-tung's government will insist that Japanese firms increasing their investment in China on Taiwan not be admitted to trade with the mainland. The major Japanese firms will agree—in principle.

They will then set up dummy subsidiaries to trade with Taiwan. Thus everyone will be partly happy. The Japanese will have their cake and eat it too.

BRUCE BOSSAT

Lot To Learn

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Having picked Sargent Shriver for his new running mate, Sen. George McGovern turns with relief to the direct business of campaigning. Yet, what follows may prove no more comforting to him than did the Eagleton affair and other early sweltering happenings.

First off, a political candidacy is like a political party: nothing that happens to it can be wholly wiped away and forgotten. There is an unbreakable continuity. Everything McGovern does from here on will be seen and judged against the backdrop of the "mess" he waded into after winning nomination in early July.

Secondly, there is another kind of continuity. He has a new vice-presidential nominee, but it's the same McGovern and the same staff. And a key question will be whether, in the three months from now until election day, they behave in the same disjointed way they did in July—and even June.

Admittedly, the dumping of Thomas Eagleton was a traumatic and time-consuming thing for McGovern and his aides. Nevertheless, it may be a confession of serious limitation to any of that trying period, as one aide did, that "everything just came to a halt."

It has a familiar ring. Only a short time ago, the McGovern people were saying about the same thing to explain why they had no time to weigh vice-presidential prospects more carefully in Miami Beach. Then, the plan was that they had been totally distracted by the anti-McGovern challenge to the senator's California delegates.

Before Miami Beach, McGovern's men were saying they got caught short on the California challenge in the June Credentials Committee hearings because they had been concentrating on the June 20 New York primary and other delegate-chasing field endeavors.

The disconcerting continuity suggested by these developments is a confessed inability to handle more than one big problem at a time. Single-mindedness can be useful—and necessary. It can also be crippling.

Election campaigns are inevitably multifaceted affairs. They afford no comfort to any candidate who imagines he can win the presidency by traveling a single great route.

Nobody should have to stress again the common judgment that a fall campaigner needs everybody he can get—not just the dedicated ideologues and the limited support he used to win the nomination.

You become nominee by beating your party rivals. You need to embrace most of them to gain the presidency.

McGovern and some of his top advisers know this. So far, however, they are having difficulty practicing the many-sided politics of accommodation.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

She Has Mono

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am a girl, 14, and think I have a problem but am afraid that if I tell my doctor he will tell my parents and they will be very upset.

I think I have "mono." For the last two weeks my throat has been sore and I haven't any appetite. I've been tired and weak. I didn't think anyone noticed, but my friends have come up and asked me what was the matter. I told them how I felt and a couple of them have had mono and said that's how they felt.

My counselor at school has talked to me about how my grades have fallen from As to Cs. I get in class as though I'm about to fall asleep, and after school no laughing or goofing off or going out for sports.

I stay away from my parents as much as I can, and when they ask why I don't eat any more, I say I had a big lunch at school or stopped for a snack.

I know I'm going to have to tell them sometime before my mother takes me to the doctor anyway, but I want to make sure I have it before I say anything to them.—L. P. G.

You've written a classic description of the way "mono" (infectious mononucleosis) acts. Ordinarily active, alert kids get the droops, are terribly tired all the time, lose appetite, frequently have swollen and sometimes sore glands.

What puzzles me is why your parents should be upset in case you do turn out to have mono. Parents naturally are upset if their children have ANYTHING wrong with them, but the quicker they find it out, the sooner it can be treated.

Mono is extremely common among people your age, or sometimes younger, and sometimes a bit older, and it is characterized as "a disease of young adults." It has also been dubbed "the kissing disease," but if that is what is worrying you, just forget it. Mono is called that only because it customarily occurs at about the age when young people are getting interested in kissing—but there's no evidence that kissing actually has anything to do with it, because it also spreads in girls' schools, boys' schools, barracks, and other places where you can't blame it on osculation.

One more thing, treatment of mono is principally (although not entirely) a matter of T. L. C.: tender loving care. Making sure you get good nourishing food and ample rest. It then becomes a "self-limited disease," and in due time cures itself.

Forcing yourself to go on being active when you're too tired to do so is NOT good for you. Usually you get over mono with no after-effects. But without proper rest, there is a risk of complications, such as liver involvement, which can turn a simple ailment into a more protracted and serious one.

BEARY'S WORLD

"I just checked with the rest of the staff and they say it's O.K. for YOU to tell THEM what to do, once in a while!"

This is where shoplifting stops being "fun."

If you've ever thought about doing a little shoplifting, think again.

Think how easy it is to get caught.

Think how it must feel to get caught.

Think how you'd answer the question that's on every job application: "Have you ever been arrested? If so, explain."

Think how—to the people you know, and the people you love, and yes, even to yourself—you can never be the same person again.

Think about it.

North Viets cross zone

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Pen-said the reinforcements barely tagon officials say thousands of fresh North Vietnamese troops have crossed the demilitarized zone in South Vietnam during the past "week or so."

The new troop movements puzzled Defense Department analysts, who admit they don't know what to make of North Vietnam's strategy. They belong to the 312th Infantry Division, the last non-training division left in North Vietnam, and apparently were sent to reinforce their battle weary comrades fighting in and around Quang Tri City.

They said between one and two regiments of the 312th, or some 3,000 to 6,000 men, had crossed into South Vietnam. In light of this movement, said Defense Department spokesman Jerry W. Friedman, "the enemy is continuing, in effect, its invasion."

There are three other North Vietnamese divisions already in the vicinity of Quang Tri, including one that was dispatched from North Vietnam in mid-summer to replace earlier losses.

Two of those divisions, however, have been badly mauled. And Pentagon analysts say the upper hand in the fighting at Quang Tri belongs to Saigon's forces, backed by massive U.S. bombing and naval gunfire.

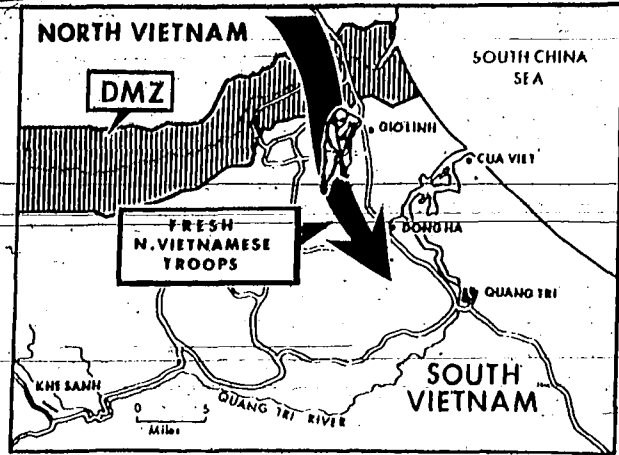

For a month, officials in Washington have predicted a North Vietnamese attack on the former imperial capital of Hue. Yet today Hue is threatened by only one of the six Communist divisions in the northern part of South Vietnam, and one of the new reinforcements appears headed toward Hue. This, to U.S. analysts, is a major puzzle.

It's anybody's guess what they plan to do next, said one official. "They've shown no propensity for giving up. But my God, what it has cost them!"

Officials say Saigon and Hanoi each have between 30,000 and 40,000 troops in the northern provinces of South Vietnam.

For the Communists, this is virtually the same number of men as were there early this summer before there were any replacements. Said one Pentagon expert, "they've lost a couple of divisions worth of men up there, at least 24,000."

Throughout all of South Vietnam, the Defense Department believes, North Vietnam has lost 60,000 men since the Communist invasion was launched on Easter weekend.

B52 bombers hit troop positions near Saigon

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. B52 bombers rattled the windows of Saigon today, hitting Communist troop positions within 21 miles of the city in the closest raids to the capital in four years, a U.S. command spokesman said.

A command spokesman said 33 of the 214 aircraft dropped more than 1.9 million pounds of explosives between Saigon and the Cambodian border, 21 to 34 miles northwest and 35 miles southwest of the capital.

The spokesman said the raids, which shook windows in Saigon, were the closest to the capital since the 1968 Communist T offensive.

The U.S. command in a delayed report said a Navy F8 Crusader fighter-bomber crashed in the Tonkin Gulf Sunday while returning from a mission over North Vietnam. A spokesman said the pilot is missing and cause of the crash is unknown.

A command spokesman said U.S. jet fighter-bombers flew 190 tactical air strikes over North Vietnam Monday, damaging or destroying six supply caches, 14 trucks, nine bridges, four fuel storage areas, an anti-aircraft site and two surface-to-air missile sites.

The command also reported investigation into Saturday's crash of a C-130 transport plane 90 miles southwest of SAIGON disclosed 35 of the 51 passengers and crewmen were killed, including 13 Americans. A spokesman said seven of the eight U.S. crewmen died and six of the 10 American passengers on board also were killed. Twenty-two South Vietnamese passengers on the plane were killed and 11 survived, the spokesman said.

Six of the raids hit northwest of Saigon just west of the town of Ben Cat on Highway 13 between the capital and An Loc, a besieged provincial capital 60 miles north of Saigon that has been under Communist attack for four months.

Five more B52 strikes fell 35 miles southwest of Saigon in support of government troops trying to clear Communist forces from the area and adjoining sections of Cambodia.

Government troops, trying to block Communist soldiers in the Parrot's Beak area of Cambodia from moving across the border into South Vietnam, reported heavy fighting today and Monday about five miles southwest of the Cambodian town of Kompung Rau. The town is 52 miles west of Saigon.

South Vietnamese troops, backed by artillery and government Air Force jets, killed 95 Communists today and 33 Monday in the Parrot's Beak fighting, a government spokesman said. He said the South Vietnamese also captured three SA7 heat seeking missiles. No government casualties were reported in today's fighting but five South Vietnamese soldiers were killed.

Jackson airs US-Soviet pact

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., believes the temporary U.S.-Soviet pact to limit offensive nuclear weapons would make it possible for the Russians to acquire the capability to destroy "virtually the entire U.S. land-based deterrent force."

Jackson, the chief critic of the five-year pact President Nixon signed in Moscow, used the argument Monday to push for an amendment to the treaty.

His amendment would attempt to assure arms equality between the United States and Soviet Union until the interim agreement would be replaced late in the 1970s with a permanent treaty limiting U.S. and Russian strategic offensive weapons. The White House announced Monday that the "second phase" of the talks would be held in Geneva at a starting date still to be determined.

News tips

The Senate is in the process of debating its ratification of the treaty. It was bogged down today in a parliamentary impasse brought about by Jackson's insistence that it set a specific time for voting on amendments to the treaty.

Democratic leader Mike Mansfield has ordered that no bills on other subjects be brought to the Senate floor until the Senate disposes of the arms pact.

Monday, the Montana senator argued against Jackson's amendment. He said that if the United States has the capability to destroy the Soviet Union, any additional American strength would be superfluous.

"If what we have is sufficient, we need no more," Mansfield said. "That we can eliminate an enemy 10 times over with existing force is enough. It is of no concern that another party's force can eliminate us 20 times over."

The United States has a multiple warhead system for its missiles, and Jackson said he believed the Russians soon would develop their own system. He said the United States should be allowed to increase its missile deployment to offset any such Soviet gain.

1,000 arrested, Chieu says

SAIGON (UPI)—An influential South Vietnamese senator claimed Monday that nearly 1,000 innocent people, "mostly women and children," are being held as suspected Communist sympathizers without trial in a notorious island prison.

"The local officials grouped these people and shipped them directly to the island without even letting them take along any personal belongings," said Sen. Nguyen Huy Chieu, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee. "I consider them as innocent people."

Chieu said that shortly after the current Communist offensive began in South Vietnam March 30, the government arrested 1,250 suspected Communist sympathizers, "mostly women and children," and sent them to the Con Son Island prison. He said the suspects, from Quang Tri province and the area around Hue in Northern South Vietnam, are being held without trial under provisions of a current martial law decree.

The six-mile-long island prison, with a maximum capacity of about 9,000, made headlines in 1970 when Reps. Augustus Hawkins, D-Calif., and William Anderson, D-Tenn., visited it and disclosed that more than 500 inmates were living in "tiger cages," or cramped stone compartments, without sufficient water, food, sanitary conditions or medical supplies.

Nixon prepares for meet

THURMONT, Md. (UPI)—President Nixon worked on domestic legislative and administrative matters today in an attempt to finish them before accepting the Republican party's nomination for re-election.

"The President has a lot of material he wants to get out of the way," said Deputy Press Secretary Gerald Warren.

Among the chief matters is the $30.5 billion appropriation bill to run the Departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare for the fiscal year that began July 1. There have been hints of a veto, possibly today.

Nixon flew by helicopter to Camp David Friday. He was accompanied by White House chief of staff H. R. Haldeman, one of his key domestic advisers.

Upon their arrival to the retreat in Maryland's Catoctin mountains, Nixon and Haldeman shunned the waiting limousine to walk the few hundred yards through the woods to their lodgings.

Piano genius dies at home

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI)—Oscar Levant, the piano genius with the sharp tongue who ridiculed his own tortured psyche, died in his sleep Monday at the age of 65.

Levant was known as one of the foremost interpreters of the works of another genius and his close friend, composer George Gershwin, and for the scolding wit he displayed on his Los Angeles discussion-interview-television show. Levant himself once suggested the show be called "What's Maligned?"

"There is a thin line between genius and insanity," he once said. "I have erased that line."

He baited his own sponsors and joked about his own mental condition.

He once told his audience that "I've been in four hospitals in the past six years. I have had insulin shock therapy, electroshock therapy and psychotherapy. One of these days I'm going to do this show in a white tie and tuxedo."

His reputation as a rapier wit and nervous wreck sometimes obscured his talent at the keyboard. He played with the New York Philharmonic, the Philadelphia Orchestra, the Pittsburgh, Los Angeles and Detroit symphony orchestras. He wrote many movie scores and won an Oscar for one of them—"Until Today."

He played Gershwin's Concerto in F at its world premiere, and was the composer's inseparable companion for about 10 years.

After Gershwin's death, Levant played at a memorial concert for him in the Hollywood Bowl, went into hysterics and had to be carried home. Commented Gershwin's brother Ira: "Everybody else was playing for the audience—but Levant was playing for George."

Born in Pittsburgh, Levant quit school at 16 to play the piano, and was reportedly thrown out of a stag party when he played Mozart as accompaniment for the strippers.

He was devoted to baseball, and first became nationally known outside the musical world for his appearances on the radio show "Information Please" as a walking encyclopedia of baseball statistics and odd bits of information.

He appeared in a number of movies, including "Rhapsody in Blue," "An American in Paris," and "Rhythm on the River."

He is survived by his widow, former actress and dancer June Gale, who was wed to him for 33 years in a celebratedly stormy marriage.

Levant lived as a virtual recluse for the past 10 years, and was described as a hypochondriac, in constant fear of illness and death.

Mrs. Levant said he went to his bedroom Monday to take a rest before a scheduled interview with actress-journalist Candice Bergen.

"When Candy arrived about 2:30 this afternoon, I called up to Oscar," she said. "When he didn't answer I went upstairs and he was lying at his desk still on the bed. When I went over to him, I found out that he was dead. He had slipped away in his sleep."

By the year 1980, Los Angeles will have more than 12,500 miles of freeways.

Jerome sets 14th annual horse show

JEROME — The 14th annual Amateur Western Horse Show will be at 8:30 a.m. Aug. at the Jerome County Fairgrounds. The horse show, which is being sponsored by the Jerome Junior Posse will be the first event in conjunction with the Jerome County Fair and Rodeo which will be the week of Aug. 21.

Mrs. Pauline Sigel, superintendent of the event, said that ribbons will be awarded to "six places in all classes." She noted that all classes will be judged by the American Quarter Horse Show Association rules. "The show is open to anyone who wishes to enter," Mrs. Sigel said. Entry blanks may be obtained at Blades Shoe Repair and Saddlery in Jerome, and Vickers Saddlery, Macle's Boots and Petersen's Western Store in Twin Falls.

Seventeen classes will be held which include showmanship at halter for 13 and under and 14 and older; Horsemanship, children 14 through 18; reining, riders through 18, no tie-downs, chains, etc.; horsemanship, children through 9; western pleasure horses, ladies seven barrel race; western pleasure horses, men; pole bending; musical chairs, children through 18.

Horsemanship, children 10 through 13; cloverleaf barrel race for amateurs; matched pairs; novelty costume class; stake race; English pleasure, and bareback equitation.

Hoppers problem

MALAD (UPI) — Oneida County Extension Agent George Gardner said grasshoppers infesting wheat brought to county elevators will severely damage fall crops unless "drastic measures are taken immediately."

He said as grain ripens, the grasshoppers will move onto green areas such as hay and corn fields, and when fall wheat comes up, will feast on it. Yields in the county vary greatly, he said, from under 20 bushels to the acre on wheat to more than 35.

New units on display

JEROME — An open house to display new farm tractors is planned by Gem Equipment Sales and Jerome Implement Co. on Saturday.

Fred Wanzenseld and LeRoy Bentzinger, owners of the firms, said the event will start at 9 a.m. The two dealers were introduced to the new line at a John Deere dealer meeting in Waterloo, Iowa.

Dairy unit admits pair

BRATTLEBORO, Vt. — Two Magic Valley dairymen have been admitted to the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

They are Floyd D. West, Declo, and Rodger Woodward, Paul. The action was taken at a meeting of the board of directors of the dairy breed society.

A thought for the day: British novelist John Galsworthy said, "If you do not think about the future, you cannot have one."

Straight leaves

CORN PLANTS had drooping leaves until breeders developed varieties with upright leaves which would allow more sun to penetrate between rows. Looking at V16 variety on research farm near Marshall, Mo., is Mrs. Donna Leammle, employee of Missouri Farmers Association. (UPI)

Farm payments told

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A total of 197 farm operations in Idaho last year received government payments exceeding $20,000 under a program to hold grain land idle.

Their payments totaled $6 million. The payment list was printed in the Congressional Record during debate in the Senate on an amendment to an agricultural appropriation bill.

Defeated 23-46 was an amendment to limit payments to $20,000 per year.

Total farm program payments last year in Idaho were nearly $45 million.

Packers' prices include wastes

MOSCOW — Why is it that the price consumers pay for beef is so much higher than that paid by packers? John Miller, University of Idaho extension meats specialist at Caldwell, says much of the reason is that the packer buys a lot of pounds he cannot resell. As a realistic example, Miller cites the case of a packer who pays 38 cents a pound for a thousand-pound steer.

Most consumers would probably consider 38 cents per pound a pretty good price for beef. And it would be, too. But there is a lot of difference between beef at the counter and a steer on the hoof.

Miller explains it this way. When the thousand-pound steer is slaughtered, the result will be about a 600-pound carcass. The carcass is the meat-covered skeleton with head, feet, tail and entrails removed.

Miller explains it this way. When the thousand-pound steer is slaughtered, the result will be about a 600-pound carcass. The carcass is the meat-covered skeleton with head, feet, tail and entrails removed.

So, the packer who paid 38 cents a pound for the thousand-pound steer winds up with $380 invested in a 600-pound carcass. Also, it costs him $15 to kill the animal. That adds 2.5 cents a pound to the price he pays. At that point his cost has risen from the original 38 cents a pound to 65.8 cents.

Next the carcass is placed in a cooler to keep the meat in good condition. While in the cooler the carcass loses about two percent of its weight.

This means the 600-pound carcass now weighs 588 pounds. It also means the packer's $380 cost equals a break-even figure of 67.2 cents a pound. No, included is the expense of keeping the carcass in the cooler.

A usual next step is sale of the carcass to a retailer. The new owner cuts up the carcass, separating meat from the excess bone and fat consumers don't want. When that operation is done, only about 441 pounds of the carcass remain for sale.

By this time the cost per pound of meat has climbed to 89.6 cents. This includes everything remaining for sale. Miller reminds that the 89.6 cents a pound does not reflect any wages or salaries paid to workmen. Also, neither the packer nor retailer has taken a profit at the 89.6 cent figure.

So, add a few cents a pound for labor and profit and steak and roasts would still be in sight. No doubt about it, Miller agrees. However, only about half of the meat from a carcass is steak and roasts. The remainder is less desirable cuts, such as ground beef, stew meat, and prepared meat.

Retailer, to move the less desirable cuts, usually sell them for less than cost. To offset the loss, and in order to realize a profit, the price tag on steak and roasts is considerable higher.

So, that's the story of a thousand-pound steer that ended up as 228 pounds of steak and roasts and 220 pounds of other cuts.

And, that big weight difference is the main reason the consumer pays so much more for beef over the counter than the packer pays for meat on the hoof.

Record prices sought

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Vintners are demanding record prices for their wines this year amid predictions of the smallest grape crop in California in 30 years.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture forecasts a California grape crop of 2.3 million tons this year—only 200,000 more tons than the crop of 1942. But during the same period, the adult American has increased his annual wine consumption from 1.3 gallons to 2.4 gallons. In actual sales, 96 million gallons of California wine were sold in 1942. Now the figure is more than 225 million gallons.

California last year produced 3.5 million tons of grapes of the 3.99 tons grown in the nation. Most of the remainder were produced in New York State.

Wines and Vines, a major wine industry journal, reported in its August issue that there were rumors some grapes might sell for more than $1,000 a ton.

But the growers set a top price for red wines at $720 for cabernet sauvignon and $730 for chardonnay in the white wines, the magazine reported.

Guards foil escape plan

BELFAST (UPI)—The British army announced Monday that it had found a 100-foot long tunnel that when completed could have allowed as many as 60 Irish Republican Army (IRA) suspects to escape.

A spokesman estimated the tunnel, which ran from one of the huts to within a few yards of the barbed wire fence surrounding the camp, 12 miles south of Belfast, could have been completed within a few more days.

Roman Catholic political leaders have demanded the release of the internees, most held without trial as suspected IRA members since last August, before the leaders would join talks next month about the province's political future. There are 263 internees at the camp.

In separate incidents in Belfast Monday a civilian was shot to death and two soldiers were killed by a land mine. Their deaths raised the toll in three years of Ulster violence to 510 dead, 112 of them soldiers.

The army spokesman said guards found the tunnel after noticing the ground was subsiding.

"I gather it was a rather well-constructed tunnel with a wooden floor and wooden roof supports," he said. "It reached out from the camp almost to the perimeter fence."

"The soil in Northern Ireland tends to be like clay and I have the greatest admiration for anyone who can dig through 100 feet of it."

There has been only one successful escape from Long Kesh, by a single man who walked through the front gate undetected earlier this year. Guards think he was dressed in a priest's robes when he slipped past them.

On Saturday another escape attempt was foiled when a 15-year-old boy tried to take his older brother's place in the camp and slip the brother out on his visitor's pass. The older boy got as far as a bus which carries visitors into the camp before he was spotted and taken back.

The civilian killed in Belfast, Charles McNeill, a Catholic, was caught in a crossfire when gunmen in the Catholic Ardoyne district ambushed an army patrol searching for a sniper who had earlier wounded a soldier.

The two soldiers killed were with a patrol protecting a working party in the Catholic Andersonstown district.

British dock strike end hinted

LONDON (UPI)—Thirty islanders off the Scottish coast threatened today to smuggle a boatload of beer past the picket lines where longshoremen marched for the 17th day of Britain's nationwide dock strike.

Beer ran out on the remote Shetland Islands last week, and pubs shut their doors. The islanders asked dockers at Aberdeen, who have agreed to handle emergency shipments of food and fuel for the island to declare beer essential supplies and load them on the supply ships.

Dockers were voting today, but in case they refused the islanders were laying plans to smuggle in a shipload of beer.

They said a chartered fishing boat would cross to the mainland and slip into a small port somewhere on the Scottish coast to load 25 tons of beer, about a week's supply.

Although the islanders' dockers are on strike with their mainland colleagues, a spokesman said Monday there would be no problems unloading the fishing boat at the Lerwick end.

"We are Shetlanders first and trade unionists second," the spokesman said. "If the landlards can get some beer for their pubs we will unload it when it arrives at Lerwick."

Pubs on the islands were closed again today and hotel bars had only soft drinks and limited supplies of spirits. Meanwhile hopes rose that a conference of dockers Wednesday will vote to end the strike.

Jack Jones, general secretary of the dockers' Transport and General Workers Union, boosted optimism that the strike might end with a statement that progress had been made in finding jobs for dockers loading and unloading freight containers.

The dockers struck July 28, demanding that only registered dock workers get the container jobs, whether the containers are handled at ports or at inland terminals.

"We do think that major advances have been made," Jones said Monday night. Container firms have promised more than 200 jobs to dockers. Jones said container firms which were reluctant to employ dockers could be persuaded by a surcharge for handling containers loaded by anyone other than dock workers.

This solution had been worked out by the union employers committee of which Jones is chairman, and the union leader said he would explain it to Wednesday's conference of dockers delegates.

Only 10 delegates can vote to end the strike. Union officials said if they voted to go back to work, some of the most urgent supplies could be unloaded by Friday and all dock workers could be back to work next week.

Sheriff faces murder trial

OCALA, Fla. (UPI)—Willis V. McCall, powerful sheriff of Lake County, Fla., for 28 years, goes on trial today accused of murdering Tommy J. Vickers, a black man with a background of mental problems jailed for failing to appear in traffic court.

For 11 days last April, Vickers was in McCall's hands as an inmate of the Lake County Jail.

McCall is charged with second-degree murder after a grand jury accused the sheriff of kicking Vickers in the stomach during a fracas in the inmate's cell. McCall considered Vickers a rowdy and troublesome prisoner.

In an appearance on a television panel show just before he was indicted, McCall admitted he "popped" Vickers on the head with an open hand, but denied responsibility for his death.

The charge of second-degree murder—murder without premeditation—carries a maximum penalty of 30 years in prison.

McCall, suspended from office by Gov. Reubin Askew pending the outcome of the trial, has more on his mind than just today's selection of a jury from 200 veniremen.

Disaster aid bill vote set

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House today scheduled votes on a $1.50 billion bill to provide supplemental disaster relief funds for victims of tropical storm Agnes, which ravaged much of the East in June.

The bill includes $1.3 billion for low interest loans to home owners and businessmen, $200 million for temporary housing, unemployment compensation and free food coupons; and millions more to repair roads and streets and aid in flood control projects.

Sought by President Nixon, the appropriation bill will have to be considered by the Senate once it passes the House.

Monday the House completed action on legislation authorizing low cost disaster relief loans to victims of Agnes and other natural catastrophes, including the California earthquake of 1971, and sent it to the President for his consideration.

Passed on a 356-1 vote, the measure provides for Small Business Administration loans to victims of natural calamities dating back to Jan. 1, 1971.

The legislation also contains provisions to allow small businesses injured by the halt of construction of antiballistic missile sites and equipment to seek low interest recovery loans.

The bill goes beyond President Nixon's proposal to provide low interest loans only to victims of Agnes and the Rapid City, S.D., flood. But the President was expected to sign the bill soon.

Under the measure, retroactive to include victims of the February, 1971, California earthquake, SBA loans made for the year 1971 would be at 3 per cent interest with the first $2,500 of the loan forgiven.

Loans for 1972 would be at 1 per cent interest with the first $5,000 forgiven.

War power bill goes to panel

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House Monday passed a bill concerning the President's war-making powers.

The main effect of the House action on a 344-18 roll call, was to send the war powers question to a House-Senate conference committee to reconcile it with a tougher Senate bill.

The House bill affirms the constitutional right of Congress to declare war. When the President acts without prior authority of Congress, he must submit a report on his action "promptly."

The Senate bill limits to 30 days the commission of troops by the President acting without the consent of Congress.

QUICK COPY CENTER ... One Year Old!!

Lloyd and Ramona Peterson take this opportunity to express their appreciation to the people of Magic Valley for helping make their first year in business such a tremendous success. They are pleased to have been of service to the Businessmen, Churches, Organizations and Students of this area.

Quick Copy Center is located at 117 2nd St. West in Twin Falls and is fully equipped to handle just about any printing requirement. The speed and high quality of reproductions is made possible through a new concept in offset printing. A photographic process eliminates the need for cutting stencils or typing masters, making it possible to make a plate from your original in about a minute. This plate is then placed on an offset press which can print any number of copies within a few minutes.

At a very low cost. Just bring a clean sample of anything you want reproduced. It may be printed, typewritten, drawn, clipped, or any combination. Explain your requirements; relax and watch your copies being made.

The following are examples of just a few of the items that can be quick printed: Brochures for Fair projects, Agendas, Letters, Music, Genealogy Sheets, Records, Programs, Stationery, Charts, Sketches, Bulletins, Histories, Manuals, Newsletters, Cards, Notices, Reminders, Rosters, Posters; and many more.

Cassia eyes 2 proposals for schools

By LEPAGE LAYTON
Times-News writer

BURLEY — Cassia School trustees appear headed for another large school bond election, but haven't decided whether to include a consolidated high school in the plan.

Supt. Harold Blauer presented two construction plans to the trustees Monday night.

Each proposal would cost the district $1.5 million, but only one would include a consolidated high school for Burley, Oakley and Declo.

Both plans included merger at Declo of the Declo and Springfield elementary schools in a new elementary school.

Blauer said he preferred the plan which called for high school merger.

The trustees discussed the proposals at length, but took no action.

The three new trustees, Chairman A. Paul Brown, Dan Crane and Pat Kelly, said they believed that the public could accept a construction proposal if made aware of district needs.

Blauer's two plans included:

Plan A: Replace Burley Junior High School for grades 7-9; $2 million.

Replacement of Declo and Springfield schools by a new school at Declo; $715,000.

Expand vocational building at Burley; $350,000.

— Renovate Oakley High School building; $200,000.

— Construction of a 300-student multi-learning addition to the Raft River school; $120,000.

— Modify and renovate Burley Junior High School facilities for 5-6th grades; $115,000.

Plan B: No changes from Plan A are proposed for Raft River School, addition, replacement of Declo-Springfield schools, renovation of Burley Junior High School facilities for 5-6th grades.

— Renovation of the Oakley High School would cost the same $200,000 as in plan A, but it would be used as a junior high school.

— Oakley, Declo and Burley high schools would be replaced by a new high school at Burley; $2.35 million.

Blauer stressed that the plans could be modified.

Similar proposals had been defeated repeatedly by district patrons.

Most recently, voters rejected a consolidated high school building program.

In other business, trustees authorized transportation Supt. Kirby Wilson to replace bus routes to the thinly settled Naf-stanrod area by placing a district station wagon in the area. Parents or students licensed to drive would carry students to bus pick-up points.

Wilson said the plan would reduce transportation costs to the area.

Jerome trustees OK zone change

JEROME — Following minor changes, Jerome School Trustees unanimously approved the rezoning of the school district Monday night.

A proposal submitted by Supt. John Campbell and prepared by Alan Jefferies, Idaho Department of Education, came under heavy fire at a special meeting July 31, when trustees were first presented with the rezoning proposal.

Under the first proposal, the five zones were arranged in a manner that trustees William Kersey and Leroy Weigle were both in the same zone.

Chairman Gordon Hollifield, asked the board Monday night to approve the changing of three sections of zone 1 into zone 2 and taking two sections from zone 2 and place them in zone 1.

Hollifield said by making the change, the zones would still have the same number of people and the board would not have to decide which of the two trustees would represent zone 1.

The new proposal now places Kersey in zone 1; Weigle in zone 2; Dale Vining, zone 3; Jim Keith, zone 4, and Hollifield, zone 5.

The proposal now goes to the department of education for approval.

The trustees added to its general dress policy for high school students, saying boys must be clean shaven. The change was made following a request by high school Principal

Jerry Diehl, who wanted to know if the board would back him on the change.

Diehl also asked for a change in the administrative rule so married students can participate in extracurricular activities sponsored by the school. The request met with board approval.

A preliminary report from school district auditor Ron Rogers was presented to the board. Rogers said at the present time the district is $10,500 under the budget expenditure of the 1971-72 school year.

Approval was given to requests from biology teacher Warren VanCamp to take his advanced biology class on a field trip to the Oregon Coast May 3-12.

The trustees approved contracts for four new teachers. They include Betty Hyder, Jerome, who will teach fourth grade and Margaret Davis, Gooding, who will teach junior high English.

Dennis Stauffer, Jerome, was approved to teach junior high social studies, and Thomas Coupe, Oakes, N. D., will teach senior high math and science. He replaces Dallas Ward who resigned.

It was approved by the board that Jerry James would take over as Junior high administrative assistant, a position which was also held by Ward. James will retain his position as athletic coordinator.

Deputy clerk named at Camas

FAIRFIELD — George Gill, Fairfield, was appointed deputy county clerk of Camas County Monday.

Gill was recommended by the Republican Central Committee, according to Lon Baldwin, chairman of the board of commissioners of Camas County.

Mrs. Estelle Durrall, present county clerk, is retiring, but does not plan to resign until November. Baldwin said a permanent appointment will be made after her resignation.

Gill is manager of the Bunting Tractor Co. in Fairfield.

Baldwin said "We felt Gill was as well or better qualified for the position" than anyone else the commission had considered. He said the Democratic Central Committee made no recommendation to the commissioners.

Minidoka suspect appears in court

RUPERT — Joseph A. Ybarra, 18, Burley, appeared in Minidoka Magistrate Court Monday morning on charges of forcible rape and assault with a deadly weapon.

Judge LaRoy Blacker set bond at $5,000 on each charge which has not been posted and Ybarra remains in Minidoka County Jail.

In court Monday morning Ybarra requested a preliminary hearing and Judge Blacker set 1 p.m. Aug. 23 for the hearing. Golden Bennett, Twin Falls, is Ybarra's attorney. Bennett was not in court with Ybarra for the arraignment.

Ybarra was arrested on the two charges Aug. 11 in Burley. "The forcible rape and knifing of a Rupert widow occurred in her home early on Aug. 9, according to Don Chisholm, prosecuting attorney.

"The woman is listed in good condition at Minidoka Memorial Hospital.

Gooding control chances 'slight'

By PEGGY CHU
Times-News writer

GOODING — The chances of approval for a measure to control further development in Gooding County appeared slight, following a county commissioners meeting Monday.

Robert Bolte, chairman of the Gooding County Planning Commission, presented to the county commissioners a resolution adopted by the planning commission requesting proposals for any further development, improvement, construction or land use alteration over $1,000 aggregate cost, be presented to the county commissioners and the planning commission for their approval.

Bolte told the commissioners that this resolution was a first step in county zoning, and should be passed so county officials would be made aware of what's going on in the county.

He said the county should try to control "helter-skelter" development. Houses are being built on the bank of the Snake River, Bolte said, and a zoning plan could keep them back from the river, establishing a green belt between the river and developments.

Vivian Burden, county clerk, said that in the last week she has received several calls from acreage owners wanting to subdivide.

Chairman of the county commissioners, Ben Glauner, told Bolte, "We are getting into this too quick. A comprehensive plan and zoning ordinance should be finished first."

He also said that a zoning commission must be established and the Gooding County Planning Commission did not represent a zoning commission. "We were petitioned years ago to zone, but we turned it down. Maybe next year will be a good time to get started on this," Glauner said.

According to statements made at previous planning commission meetings, John LeMoine and Severi Swenson, drafters of the resolution, the resolution originally was designed to be a "stop-gap" measure to prevent undesirable growth until the county had time to properly zone.

However at Monday's county commissioners' meeting, it was unclear whether this was still the intention, or whether the resolution was formulated merely to provide the county planning commission and county commissioners with a source of information.

Rep. Vernon Ravenscroft told the commissioners that he was not sure what the planning commission wants to accomplish by the resolution. He said that if all they are interested in is knowing what's going on, then a periodic survey would be a preferable way of going about it.

Ravenscroft also said that if the resolution was intended to be in fact a "stop-gap" measure, then he opposes it. He said, "There should be no zoning by indirect methods. Zoning should not take place without hearings at which all interests could express their feelings."

Referring to the resolution's proposal for county approval, Alan (Hap) Erwin told the commissioners, "I'm not going to take the time to come in here and ask approval, and I don't think you'll get any cooperation."

He said, "People coming from out of state who are used to zoning nonsense, will come and ask what zoning laws the county has, but if we want to do something, we don't have to run to the county commissioners for approval, we go ahead and do it anyway."

Further opposition to the resolution, and zoning in general, was expressed by Wellington Leabo. "If a man has a farm, he should be able to do what he wants on it. That's what made the country great."

The commission will take the resolution under advisement and meet with other members of the zoning commission on Aug. 24.

Land purchase draws protest

GOODING — An Idaho Fish and Game Department proposal to purchase property in Hagerman Valley for fishery and wildlife development faced opposition in Gooding hearings Monday.

The fish and game department plans to obtain 940 acres called the Niagara Springs Ranch, located along the Snake River downstream from the Niagara Springs Steelhead Hatchery.

Robert Bell, regional fishery management biologist, told the group, which was completely lacking in sportsman representation, that permits have now been granted for all the existing water in Niagara Springs.

If a private party purchases the Niagara Springs Ranch and uses all of the 76 cubic feet per second allocated to the ranch, there could conceivably be no water left to flow over the lower falls, Bell said.

Purchase of the property by the fish and game department would prevent this and a permanent flow could be maintained down the entire stream section, he said.

Chief opponents of the proposal were Alan (Hap) Erwin and W. C. Maude, both Hagerman. Their principal objection to the purchase was that the county would lose the taxes which they are now receiving on the private property.

According to County Assessor Wes Truenson, Gooding County receives between $2 and $5 per acre on private land.

Rep. Vernon Ravenscroft

stated at the hearing that he was not opposed to the purchase, but that state laws should be changed requiring the fish and game department to make proper payment to the county in lieu of taxes equal to what the property was paying in private ownership.

The fish and game department has purchased or plans to purchase three acres in Gooding County which results in the $3,000 annual tax loss to the county, Ravenscroft said.

The department already gives to the county one-half of all county fish and game violation fines.

In a letter read at the hearing, Bell stated the purchase and development of the property would help alleviate some of the heavy fishing pressure received at the Hagerman Refuge.

Counts have shown as many as 4,000 fishermen on opening weekend at the Hagerman Refuge area, and Niagara Springs Hatchery reports about 20,000 visitors a year, he said.

Bell stated that the property has three miles of Snake River frontage in an area which in the past, before public access was lost, furnished good trout fishing, and there is at least one hole in the river section which furnished sturgeon angling.

Erwin also charged that the fish and game department was in competition with free enterprise because it is raising fish cheaper than people can buy. Bell commented that the department was not in the commercial fish business, and what is needed is more fish area, not more fish.

Buhl principal position offered

BUHL — An unnamed educator has been offered the job of Buhl High School principal. Supt. Dan Mabe said he would meet today with the replacement for Frank Charlton, who resigned to become Twin Falls High School principal this week.

Mabe would not release the new principal's name until the contract is signed.

Gooding approves trustee rezoning

GOODING — The Gooding school board approved redistricting of trustee zones at their regular meeting Monday night.

Zone number 1 will be the area of town north of the railroad tracks and it will be a three-year term. Zone 2, a two year term, will be south of the old hospital. Zone 3, 4, and 5 are all in town and will be two year, one year, and three year terms respectively.

The redistricting plan will go to the Idaho Board of Education for approval.

The school board decided to let senior students be required to take only four solid subjects. By doing this seniors can work, attend school at the College of Southern Idaho or do on-the-job training.

However, students will not be allowed to leave school unless for a specific purpose such as the ones mentioned. The board decided to try the policy this year and see how it works out.

Ronald Cline has been hired to teach English II and be assistant football coach at the high school. He is a graduate of Treasure Valley Community College and Eastern Oregon College.

A special education teacher for the junior high, Mary E. Webber, of Eastern Montana College, was also offered a contract pending clearance of her special education certification.

The school board accepted Supt. James Muscat's recommendation that any course that carries a full unit be considered a solid subject. This will include band, chorus, shop and P. E.

Demolition of the old high school will take place after Labor Day by the Stafford Excavation and Demolition Co. of Boise. Bricks from the old school will be sold.

Supt. Muscat announced that 9- and 11-year-olds would take national assessment tests Aug. 14 through 22 to be administered by the National Education Assessment Committee of Washington D. C.

School board chairman Claude Scanlon broke a tie vote by voting to approve tax levies of 30 mills maintenance and operation and 15.5 mills bond interest and redemption. Voting against the levy were David Boring and Arden Stutzman.

Voting yes were Rodney Glauner and Richard Graves. Adult season tickets for school activities will be $12.50. They were originally proposed for the same amount last year but the wage price freeze forced the school to maintain a $10 fee last year.

Directors named by Hailey chamber

HAILEY — Six directors for the Hailey Chamber of Commerce were elected Monday.

The new directors are William O. Shaw, Kent Frandsen, Marty Martindale, Leo Stavros, Wallace Young, and John Szafryk. Jerry Osborn, current chamber president, is automatically a board member.

The board will meet within a week and select a new president and vice president. Their selection will be announced at the next chamber meeting, Aug. 28.

The new directors will serve one-year terms.

In other action, the chamber discussed fraudulent check cashing problems. Blaine County Sheriff Orville Drexler said he would furnish merchants with cards, seeking identification information to be filled out by persons who wish to cash checks. No other action was taken on the matter.

Neglect charged by Ravenscroft

GOODING — Rep. Vernon Ravenscroft charged the Idaho Parks Board has "done nothing to prevent possible accidents at the proposed Malad River Gorge State Park site."

He told the Gooding County commissioners Monday that due to increased highway use at the site, a safety hazard now exists. He requested that the commissioners write to Steve Bly, director of the parks department, and ask that areas be constructed to keep cars from the canyon rim, that warning and directional signs be installed, and that over-look pads with safety fences be provided.

Merle Tebbas, state disaster relief and civil defense representative; James Keen, regional civil defense representative, and David Hanson, University of Idaho Extension Service coordinator for civil defense programs, told the commissioners they are working with city and county civil defense, law enforcement and fire departments to develop an emergency operations plan for Gooding County.

They plan to get information from these local groups to learn how they operate in an emergency, Hanson said. Tebbas, Keen, Hanson and Harry Mills of the Idaho Department of Education civil defense program, may make recommendations and assist in planning, according to Hanson.

They will publish a guide so that local officials will have a complete plan to use in case of county-wide emergencies, Hanson said. Keen told the commissioners that their plan would be a combined federal, state and local effort.

Hanson said that recent natural disasters have put increased emphasis on the plan.

A thought for the day: U.S. historian Henry Brooks Adams said, "What one knows is, in youth, of little moment; they know enough who know how to learn."

Vandalism probed

JEROME — The Jerome Police Department is investigating vandalism which occurred over the weekend at the Jefferson elementary school.

According to Supt. John Campbell, windows on the east side of the building were broken and some equipment in the kitchen was heavily damaged.

Campbell estimated the damages between $200 and $300.

Burley man hurt in one-car wreck

BLACKFOOT — A 74-year-old Burley man is listed in fair condition in Bingham Memorial Hospital as a result of a one-car accident Monday evening.

Roy G. Stoddard apparently was traveling south on Interstate 15 two miles north of Blackfoot about 6:15 p.m. when his car went off the road, across the highway and into a dirt bank.

His wife, Phyllis, 77, was treated at the hospital and released.

Hospital officials said Stoddard will be transferred to Bannock Memorial Hospital, Pocatello, today.

Reeves rejoins Cowboys as backup quarterback

DALLAS (UPI)—Dallas Coach Tom Landry said Monday former Cowboy running back Dan Reeves was being brought out of retirement as the club's backup quarterback and said he thought there was a good chance Roger Staubach might regain his 1971 form before the end of the 1972 season.

"The thing that made Roger try to run over that guy at the goal line Saturday night is going to make Roger get back in as soon as he can," said Landry.

The man Staubach tried to run over was Los Angeles Rams linebacker Marlin McKee and Staubach wound up with a separated shoulder for his troubles. Staubach underwent surgery on his right shoulder Sunday, and team physician Dr. Marvin Knight said last season's No. 1 quarterback in the National Football League would be lost for from eight to twelve weeks.

"Bob Hayes (Cowboy wide receiver) was back in six weeks with that kind of injury," said Landry. "But a quarterback can't come back that quick. He will be up and around in two weeks and will probably be throwing in four weeks."

In the meantime the quarterback chore falls to Craig Morton, who led the Cowboys to Super Bowl V against Baltimore. Morton came off the bench in the second quarter Saturday night to throw three touchdown passes in Dallas' 27-13 win over Los Angeles—the Cowboys 13th straight win dating back to the middle of last season.

But if something happened to Morton the Cowboys would be in deep trouble. That's where Reeves comes in.

"We have decided to activate Reeves and he will start working at the position today," Landry said. "He's not in the greatest shape in the world, but he will come along."

McLain's wife files charge

CHICAGO (UPI)—Sharon McLain, wife of Atlanta Braves pitcher Denny McLain, filed for a separation from her husband Monday on grounds of desertion and mental cruelty.

Mrs. McLain, daughter of baseball Hall of Famer Lou Boudreau, claimed her husband deserted her and their four children Aug. 4 and refused to support the family.

She said her life has been "miserable and unendurable" due to repeated acts of mental cruelty by her husband.

McLain, the major league's last 30 game winner, won 31 games in 1968 to lead the Detroit Tigers to the American League pennant and World Series championship. In 1968 and 1969 he was voted the Cy Young Award as the best pitcher in the American League.

Reeves, short on speed but long on balance and desire, was a mainstay at running back during the late 1960s with the Cowboys. Last season he became offensive backfield coach and acted as the club's No. 3 quarterback behind Staubach and Morton.

Reeves retired as a player at the end of last season.

"Dan Reeves is an excellent thrower (he was probably better known for his ability to throw the halfback pass than his ability to run during his playing days), and he knows our system real well," Landry said.

"He works out in practice all the time. Of course his knees are bad, but they are no worse than Morton's. With Dan's knees he could not be a running back any more, but he can be a quarterback."

"Joe Namath obviously could not be a running back with his knees, but he can be a quarterback."

Braves topple Reds 12-2

ATLANTA (UPI)—Johnny Bench knocked in five runs and Pete Rose drove in three as the Cincinnati Reds demolished Atlanta, 12-2, with a 16-hit attack Monday night.

Bench hit a two-run homer in the first inning, his 26th round-tripper of the season. He drove in another run with a single in the sixth and two more with a double in the seventh.

Bench, playing right field instead of catching, raised his RBI production for the season to 85.

Oakland blanks Baltimore 16-0

OAKLAND (UPI)—The rushing and pass receiving of little-used third-year running back Don Highsmith and a rugged defense lifted the Oakland Raiders to an easy 16-0 win over the Baltimore Colts in a pre-season game Monday night.

The Colts, with only one field goal in two pre-season losses and scoreless for seven straight periods, failed to penetrate deeper than the Raider 22-yard line despite the excellent first-half passing of John Unitas.

Highsmith rushed for 65 yards in the first quarter and set up two of three field goals by ageless George Blanda. The night's performance may have earned the 6-foot, 200-pound back from Michigan State a starting job. Clarence Davis, who won the running back spot late last season, sustained a shoulder injury in the first quarter and may be sidelined for 10 weeks.

Blanda had field goals of 24, 30 and 23 yards and second-string quarterback Ken Stabler threw an 8-yard scoring pass to Fred Biletnikoff midway through the third quarter.

Oakland wide receiver Warren Wells, jailed during the 1971 season for a probation violation, made his '72 debut during a third-quarter drive and dropped the only pass thrown at him.

Unitas completed nine of 16 passes for 126 yards while guiding the Colts in the first half. But the Raider defense held Baltimore to only 18 yards rushing when Unitas was at the helm.

Jim O'Brien missed Col field goal attempts from the 49 and 35, both in the first half.

Mets defeat Red Sox 4-1

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rookie Bob Rauch gave up only two hits over six innings and delivered two key singles Monday as the New York Mets beat the Boston Red Sox, 4-1, before a Washington D.C. exhibition game crowd of 32,432.

Rauch's single initiated a two-run third inning and his second hit of the night with two out in the fourth drove in another run. A fellow rookie, Brent Strom finished up for the Mets, allowing Boston only one hit in the final three innings.

The highest price ever paid for a standard bred yearling horse was $210,000 paid by Ohio cosmetics executive Vernon Goshenour for Good Humor Man in 1974.

Paris-Culligan wins slowpitch

Depot Grill died on Curt Kinghorn's do-or-die smash up the middle in the bottom of the seventh inning Tuesday night to give Paris-Culligan the district slowpitch softball title 13-12.

Paris-Culligan came from three runs off the pace in the last inning to spoil the two-day-long comeback bid of Depot Grill. Earlier in the evening, Depot Grill outlasted The Alley, and homerun-hitter Don McKnight, 23-21 to relegate Alley to third place. McKnight hit seven homers in his last three games. Joining those three in berths in the state tournament in Boise Friday is Coors-First Federal which entered the tournament as the favorite but would up fourth.

Depot Grill appeared to have taken undefeated Paris-Culligan into an extra game, particularly after pushing across eight runs in the third inning. That was highlighted by Tim Soran's three-run homer.

Soran kept his RBI bat going the rest of the game as he drove in two runs with a triple in the sixth after Paris-Culligan had cut to within two. His single gave Depot Grill its three-run advantage going into the seventh.

Solo homers by Mike Slowe and Milt Horton pulled Paris-Culligan to within one but Depot was in excellent shape with two outs and the bases empty. Quick Dick Rees then blooped his third straight single. Mike Erickson singled up the middle and an error loaded the bases. Kinghorn, who earlier had homered, then drilled his shot up the middle, a hard, shortstopper that had to be scored a base hit but could have been caught. The defender had only one chance for a quick scoop. He failed and the winning runs crossed.

Alley's loss was largely attributable to 20 (count 'em) official errors. But Alley just about equalled the rest of the tournament teams combined in homers and Manager Fred Planko was eagerly looking forward to state. "You know," he smiles, "Boise's fences are 10 feet shorter than ours."

Twins top Gems 12-3

LEWISTON (UPI) — The Lewis-Clark Twins won their 12th consecutive Idaho State American Legion baseball championship Monday night defeating the Boise Gems 12-3 in a wild pitching contest.

Both teams, which had one loss apiece for the tournament, will enter region seven competition Aug. 23 in Lewiston. Lewis-Clark had a 4-1 tourney record while Boise was 4-1. Their losses came at the hands of each other.

Winning pitcher Gary Eastlund was able to control the Boise Club, but loser Dave Maffey, who was pulled in the third inning and had two relievers, had pitching problems. He walked seven men.

Lewiston had big third, fourth and seventh innings where they garnered seven of their 12 runs. A homer by Jeff Hill and his fourth inning triple paced the Twins along with the scoring of Gary Munden.

In 1964, Lewiston finished fourth in the national tournament, the best they have done.

Baseball oldtimer is hoping Aaron will break Ruth's mark

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Fred Haney is an oldtimer who doesn't talk like one.

The retired general manager of the California Angels won't buttonhole you and expound the virtues of the players in the good old days.

Furthermore, he's pulling for Henry Aaron to overtake Babe Ruth in the great home run race.

"Sure, I hope he makes it," said the 73-year-old Haney. "I honestly mean it. Henry Aaron is a great fella and records are made to be broken."

The personable Dutch-Irishman was an infielder in the American League during the 1920s while Ruth was bombing homers for the New York Yankees.

In the 1950s, he managed the Milwaukee Braves and Aaron. When the Braves captured the National League pennant and whipped the Yankees in the World Series in 1957, Aaron had his first big home-run season—44.

However, Haney says the thought never crossed his mind that Henry Aaron would be threatening Babe Ruth's career record of 714 homers in the 1970s.

"Henry was really quiet then," his former manager recalled. "He used to say two words all year—hello in the spring and goodbye in the fall."

Haney will not compare Ruth and Aaron. In fact, he won't compare any of the players of his era to today's players.

"I don't think it's fair to make such comparisons," he explained. "I think the present day player is just as good as the oldtime player but thinks are just too different today from the time of, say, Ty Cobb and Babe Ruth."

"The parks and the equipment are so much different. Take a baseball glove, for example—It's much bigger today."

In his fourth year of retirement, Haney reports he feels "fine and dandy" despite an eye operation last year.

"I spend a lot of time with my five grandchildren and I get out to see quite a few games, too," he added. "Naturally, you miss being active, though."

An adviser to the Angels until his 75th birthday, Haney tries to get to all of California's home games and some of the contests at Dodger Stadium.

"I'll be honest, though," he offered. "I don't go out to see the games. I go out to see my old friends and reminisce. That's the big thing with me."

Haney is proud that five men who played under him at Milwaukee—from 1956 through 1959—are managing today:

Chuck Tanner (Chicago White Sox), Red Schoendienst (St. Louis Cardinals), Del Crandall (Milwaukee Brewers), Eddie Mathews (Atlanta Braves) and Del Rice (Angels).

Tanner has the surprising White Sox battling the Oakland A's for the pennant in the American League West.

"Chuck was always a good hustle," Haney said. "You're talking about a man who was in the ball game all the time."

Rookie coach thinks Chicago can be contender this year

CHICAGO (UPI)—To Abe Gibrón, everything comes up roses when he thinks about the Chicago Bears.

Well, almost everything, says the rookie coach, who replaced Jim Dooley this season.

"Definitely," he said, "we have potential. I'm real optimistic—I need some help and I think I can get help in two or three spots, we'll be a contender all the way."

The opinion of Gibrón about his ballclub, and that of most observers varies greatly. Compared to his viewpoint, most of the others figure the Bears will be lucky if they can win as many as four games.

The reasoning is that the Bears had no standout running backs last year, and haven't added any. Quarterbacking was uncertain last year, and the personnel hasn't changed. The offensive line was mediocre, and with the exception of top draft choice Lionel Antoine (who's sidelined with a knee sprain), the same personnel is at hand. The defense, too, is about the same with the addition of rookie back Craig Clemens.

Compounding all this, top receiver Dick Gordon, standout defensive lineman George Seals, and quarterback Jack Concannon played out their options and haven't shown any inclination to return. None will be back probably.

So Gibrón said the Bears would "go back to fundamentals."

"We're playing together," he said; "11 people on every play. We got people hitting downfield, receivers that are blocking and catching. I'm not gullible enough to know that I don't need one or two more people, but I think we've got a good chance."

"We've got morale and spirit because everybody is doing what everybody else has done and nobody is standing around spectating. I think—George Farmer is as good a wide receiver as anybody in the league. I think Earl Thomas is going to be a real pleasant surprise at tight end. When Bob Wallace is ready to go I think our receivers will be the type we need for the type of football we're going to play."

Gibrón believed that competition would make the Bears stronger and said that Kent Nix or Bobby Douglass would be "adequate" at quarterback and Don Shy, Joe Moore, Jim Harrison, Cyril Pinder or Jim Grabowski would do the job of running back.

"I know what our offensive line (Randy Jackson, Glenn Holloway, Jim Cadlie, Bob Newton) can do, because I coached them," Gibrón said. "Competition has helped them and our backs."

Defensively, he said he was unconcerned because "we'll be 11 people physically on defense instead of five, six or seven. Everybody will be hitting. Our defensive backs will be hitters."

"Our players have respect for each other," he added. "In previous years one group would be busting their tail and the other people standing were watching them. Now everybody hits."

"We're going out for execution and blocking and tackling more than we are for fooling people."

Gibrón believed his signal calling would be adequate because "there are only three or four outstanding quarterbacks in the league, and we're as well off as the other 22 teams."

"We'll be a physical team, well drilled in execution. I'd like to play Minnesota or Detroit or Green Bay every week because you don't have to give any pep talks. The players react to the people they're playing and we always have a great contest with them."

So far in the exhibition season, the club is 1-1 as it lost to Kansas City but beat Houston despite the loss of five fumbles.

Gibrón remains confident. "I think we're going to be the kind of team people want to see."

Astros rally past Giants

HOUSTON (UPI) — Roger Metzger's two-run double and a two-run single by Cesar Cedeno enabled the Houston Astros to overcome a five-run deficit and beat the San Francisco Giants 7-5 Monday night.

After the Giants took a 5-0 lead in the first three innings, Metzger's double highlighted a three-run fourth-inning to pull Houston to within 5-3. Cedeno, the longup's leading hitter, tied the game with his single in the midst of a four-run rally in the sixth inning.

Doug Rader started the sixth with a walk. Tommy Holmes' single and a walk to Metzger loaded the bases with two out to set the stage for Cedeno. Jim Wynn put Houston ahead 6-5, with a single up the middle to score Metzger. Cedeno moved to third on Wynn's hit and scored the final run on a wild pitch by Randy Moffitt.

Bob Watson started the Astros' fourth inning with a single. Then, with two out, singles by Holmes and pinch-hitter Norm Miller produced one run and Metzger's double brought in the other two.

Gas gives you a BETTER DEAL

HOW MUCH HOT WATER IS ENOUGH?

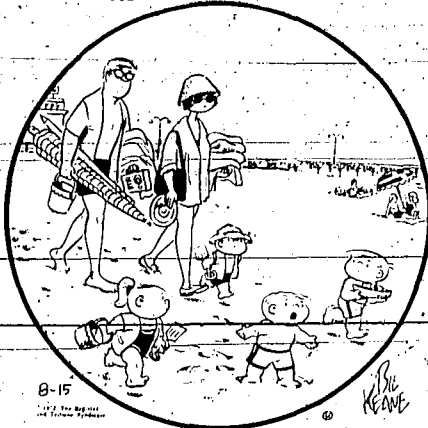

If your hot water supply is unlimited, then you have enough. And that's what you get with gas! It is a proven fact that gas heats water faster for less money than electric models. You get a better deal both ways. Your hot water tap always tells the truth. Wash dishes, bath and do the family laundry at your convenience...not on a restrictive schedule dictated by your water heater. Gas water heating gives you a better deal in every conceivable way. Come in and we'll talk about it.

CARROLL RICHTER'S horoscope

from the Carroll Richter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A fine day and evening to investigate whatever you do not understand and to think out a plan of action for putting on an interesting, well-rounded campaign to gain what is most important to you. Keep plans secret until all details have been worked out.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Showing affection for the one you love can make the future even happier. Make sure you pay all important bills, especially those connected with government. Handle that civic matter well.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Confering with associates will make it possible to have more understanding between you now, provided you control your temper. Get together at some social affair, in p.m. Avoid one who is detrimental to your best interests.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Handle all tasks ahead of you efficiently now and gain the cooperation of fellow workers. Getting out during spare time to find right items of apparel you need is wise. Look better, feel better.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): Make those appointments early that will bring you the added happiness you now desire. Put talents to work that will improve your career; stop hiding them under the proverbial bushel.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Instead of rushing around at home like a bull in a china shop, use a diplomatic approach and get far better results now. You can state your views in a reasonable way and should do so. Attend that social function tonight.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): You find it easy to communicate with others now since the right words flow fluently. Handle that correspondence quickly and well. Make better use of your telephone and come right to the point.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): You can handle financial arrangements very cleverly now with the aid of good advisers. Try to cut corners here and there. Make the investments that are really good and safe and will add to your income.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): You are feeling and looking just aces now and can push your ideas well and get the results you want. Show you are an intelligent person. Make new contacts socially and have fun, too.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Plan just how to make greater progress in the near future and start wheels rolling in such directions. Getting into amusements you like with mate can bring much joy. Happiness is largely up to you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Being social brings excellent results for you today, so make appointments and arrangements early to see the right people. Those personal aims you have can be reached easily. Talk that important matter over with mate.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): You have many tasks to handle at home, so get them as early as possible and take up no topics that could lead to arguments. Show you have self-control. A fascinating pal gives you data you need at this time.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): You are thinking very clearly at this time and your intuition is good, so plan to expand in a clever way. Correspond and plan to travel for good purposes. Keep aboveboard in all that you do and say.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be one of those young people who will confide in nobody, even at home, and for that reason would do well in such fields as investigation, the priesthood, government work and the like, especially since the intuitive faculties here are accurate and can be relied upon, whether male or female. The field of research is also fine. Give good spiritual training early and teach that cleanliness is next to godliness.

What today makes a woman good-looking? Never-mind, want to tell you about the code of beauty in North Italy during the Middle Ages. Connoisseurs of feminine pulchritude then divided up a girl's attributes into sets of three. Most desirable of all, they said, were: Three things small — the nose, the head, the bust. Three things big — the arms, the thighs, the calves. Three things long — the torso, the hair, the hands. Three things short — the teeth, the ears, the feet. Any young lady who fitted this description was regarded as a knockout.

THERE IS so far no "unknown soldier" among the near-46,000 American military men killed in Vietnam. Not one.

WORLD capital now of men who don't like women and women who don't like men is said to be West Berlin. There, at least 42 nightclubs cater to nothing but.

TURNOVER of red cells in your body is even more rapid, air, than turnover of water therein. Half the reds are replaced every week. Half the water, every two weeks. I take some of this stuff off charts on the ends of beds, guess you gather.

QUERY: "What's an alligator hide worth?"

A raw, maybe $8. Tanned, about $80. But it's against the law to kill alligators in lots of places. Florida, for instance. Even so, some poachers who tip-toe through the moonlight are said to make as much as $1,000 a night, hunting in the swamps. Investigators say most of those illicit hides are hauled off to Japan.

BASEBALL players are given to helping inside the house. Football players lean more toward yard work. Such be the whimsical claim of a student of sports personalities. Possibly so, don't know. Do know ballboys insist baseball players on the road are the worst of all tipplers. And waitresses contend football players are more likely than any other athletes to suggest the after-work romantic gettogether.

NON SEQUITUR: True, this country's left-handed men outnumber its never-married women, but not greatly.

WERE you aware the men's average hairpiece weighs approximately as much as three shots of whiskey?

NOTE, too, no savvy patriot should forget the United States steamrollers out about a third of the world's paved roads and college students.

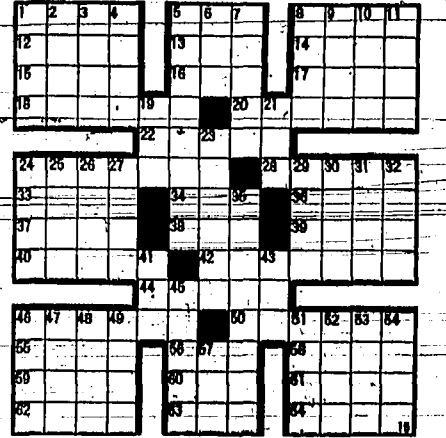

YOU know what tailgating is, but can you define blindgating? It's when you're far enough behind the car to keep from hitting it, if it stops suddenly — but not far enough behind it to keep from hitting what it swerves to miss. Like an oil slick. Or a tire casing. Or an exceedingly rare beef.

Terminal illness workshop planned

TWIN FALLS — The faculty of the Mountain States Tumor Institute, Boise, will present a program on emotional support for terminal patients, Wednesday and Thursday.

Patients cannot respond to medical therapy if they are unable to function due to high anxiety according to Dolores Sims, community coordinator for the Mountain States Regional Medical Program.

Since the emotional trauma of serious or terminal illness is often as threatening as the physiological aspects of the disease, the faculty of the Mountain States Tumor Institute has the goal of enhancing the quality of patients' survival through realistic hope and emotional support.

A program titled "Living with Dying," will be presented by the institute at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Magic Valley Memorial Hospital conference room.

Aimed at physicians, the program will feature Ronald Koons, M.D., chief department of radiotherapy; John J. Dawson, patient counselor; and Shirlee Koons, nursing coordinator, all of the Mountain States Tumor Institute, Boise.

Koons received his B.S. degree from Purdue University and his M.D. from the University of Maryland. His residency was at University Hospital in Baltimore, and he served as an instructor of medicine and radiology at

Bus fare increase proposed

BOISE — The National Bus Traffic Association has applied for a five per cent rate increase on all Idaho intrastate passenger bus rates.

The association represents the Boise-Winnemucca Stages, Clearwater Stage Lines, Empire Lines, Grand Teton Lodge Co., Greyhound Lines, Intermountain Transportation Co., Northwestern Stage Lines and Pacific Trailways.

The proposed rate increase will affect passengers between Rupert and Strevell, as well as other cities in the state.

Should no documented protests be submitted, the rates will become effective without a hearing after 30 days of public notice, the Idaho Public Utilities Commission said.

The application followed a nationwide five per cent increase which was granted by the Interstate Commerce Commission and approved by the Wage and Price Board effective May 15 on interstate traffic.

The IPUC has analyzed the application as cost justified under the Wage and Price Board, Economic Stabilization Act of 1970.

Rodeo will be 8 p.m. Thursday

Cassia selects parade marshal

BURLEY — Al Dawson, Burley, has been named Cassia County parade marshal, announced Mel Green, parade chairman.

By Monday afternoon there were 50 entries signed up for the parade which will start at 10 a.m. Thursday from Overland Shopping Center.

All entries will be judged on route this year and three $50 cash prizes will be awarded. Each entry will receive an 8-by-10 inch color photo, according to Green.

One of the larger groups entered is the Antique Car Club with members from throughout Magic Valley.

The Burley High School band will be marching the parade route. Other entries include the USS Enterprise Aircraft Carrier, a flag of the U.S. Navy; six flag girl carriers all riding black horses; Twin Falls Junior Posse; Jerome Junior Posse and many groups and organizations from the Magic Valley area.

Theme for the parade is "Cassia County Is." The announcer's stand will be on the city hall lawn. The entries will be named, and described as they pass the announcer's stand and the information will also be broadcast over KBAR Radio Station at the same time, reports Green.

The parade will travel north from the Overland shopping Center to Main Street, then travel east to East Park on Main Street.

No limit on second try, Bowman says

BOISE (UPI) — A U. S. Senate primary candidate, defeated in last week's election, says if she runs again for office she will not limit contributions to $25 per person and will accept out-of-state funds.

Rose Bowman, a Boise Democrat, used the $25 contribution limit as one of her strongest campaign planks.

In an interview with United Press International Monday, Mrs. Bowman said, "If the people don't mind, I don't think I should."

She added, "I learned through the campaign that people really don't care where the money comes from to finance campaigns."

The Bowman for Senate Committee collected and spent just under $5,000 during the campaign. All other Senate campaigns spent more.

Unofficial results showed Mrs. Bowman ran last in a four-Democrat field. She received 9,370 votes, while the election winner, William E. Davis, on leave as Idaho State University president, garnered 23,337.

Mrs. Bowman, 35, said she now realizes that to win an election takes money — especially in the final weeks of a campaign when voters need reinforcement by advertisements on television and radio.

She included the limited contributions plank, she said, "to give the voters the opportunity to show that they were fed up with big money being poured into the statewide races."

But there were other forces in the campaign that worked against her, she recalled.

"The press tagged me a women's liberationist, especially in Ada County," she said.

She said it "turned-off" the 40-year-old businessman Main Street who at that point in life is not secure and does not want social change."

People in urban areas of the state seemed more "up-tight" about the tag than those in rural areas.

And county-wide results confirmed her theory. She received only 1,560 votes in Ada County while opponents Byron Johnson and Tony Park tallied around 3,000.

Overall she seemed to run the best in the northern rural areas.

She said she met constant resistance from women in their 40s and 50s — females who were already in the power structure. "They have already made it and they don't want other women to compete with," she said.

Governor switches tax stand

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus has changed his stand on tax increases since last January.

Both he and his staff indicate the man on the street has brought it about.

Andrus, who last January proposed a $140.2 million general fund budget to the legislature and later got a smaller one balanced with an income tax increase, wants no rate increases next year.

He told a news conference last week he will cut back spending instead of asking the legislature in special session for a tax increase.

Andrus said in an interview Monday that the legislature made some changes in the tax laws "which will give us some growth."

Normal growth also is expected to be healthy, he said, so "in 1973 I will not request an increase in the income tax rates or in the sales tax rates."

However, he said this decision does not preclude closing tax loopholes or in diverting part of the inventory tax phase-out money to the state's general fund.

Since the legislative session last winter, Andrus said, he has heard from the public on taxes. The taxpayers do not want any more increases, he said.

While the governor did call for more income and sales taxes, as well as a cigarette tax increase, last January, he did ask for a cut in local property taxes, said John Hough, the governor's press secretary.

Delay of Snake plan requested

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Len Jordan, R-Idaho, said Monday the Federal Power Commission has been asked to hold off a proposed modification of navigational releases on the middle Snake River until regional water supply studies are finished.

Jordan said he was advised of the action by the Corps of Engineers said, he was pleased the corps made the recommendation.

He said, "It is a recognition that major decisions on the middle Snake should await completion of the Idaho state water plan and other studies of water requirements in Idaho and in the Columbia Basin."

The recommendation was an outgrowth of a 1968 proposal by the Lewiston Chamber of Commerce Fish and Game Committee and the Clarkston, Wash., chamber waterways committee. The groups wanted to double navigational releases below Hells Canyon Dam on the middle Snake.

Jordan said proposal sponsors wanted to modify minimum flow requirements in Idaho Power Company's license for its hydro-electric dams on the middle reach of the Snake.

Two climbers die

GRAND TETON PARK, Wyo. (UPI) — The first two mountain climbing fatalities of the year on the icy peaks of Grand Teton National Park have been reported by park authorities.

A park spokesman said Joe Hogsed, 19, of Kingston, N.C., died while trying to descend Symmetry Spire in a rainstorm and darkness Sunday.

Hogsed was accompanied on the climb of the 10,546-foot peak by Miss Betty Lu, 21, of Ann Arbor, Mich.

The couple was about 250 below the summit when Hogsed attempted to descend and fell about 500 feet from the sheer face of the peak, officials said.

Miss Lu spent the rest of the night on the cold, windswept cliff, yelling to other climbers for help. She was brought down from the mountain by helicopter after daylight Monday.

The death of a 20-year-old Fullerton, Calif., man was also reported. James H. Yeates was killed Sunday after falling about 1,500 feet while trying to descend Mount Moran.

Boys get sentences

BLACKFOOT (UPI) — Two 18-year-old Blackfoot boys were given three-year-withheld sentences Monday for first degree burglary then placed on probation by Seventh District Judge Arnold Beebe.

Beebe told Chad Jensen and Rick Barton, who pleaded guilty to breaking into a Shelley auto parts store, that each was to serve 20 days in Bingham County jail over a period of six months, two days at a time.

The judge said they were to make restitution for merchandise sold which could not be returned.

State team probe set

BOISE (UPI) — A special state team will investigate the fatal accident which killed two firefighters on the middle fork of the Clearwater River.

Jack Gillette, assistant state land commissioner, today said he expects to put the team to work at the scene Tuesday morning and to get a report back by Friday.

Gillette said the accident is the first fatal one for state forest firefighters in more than 20 years and officials want to find out exactly what happened.

Preliminary reports, he said, indicate the accident probably was unavoidable but he still wants to "get the facts to see if we can learn anything from it and hopefully prevent this in the future."

"It's a dangerous business,"

Gillette conceded, "but we've just got to have a full report."

A state district forester said today that the two young firefighters were trying to escape the blaze when they were killed by a falling snag.

The snailfish is the world's fastest game fish and has been clocked at nearly 70 miles per hour.
