

Fast action in Senate sought on anti-bus bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. James B. Allen, D-Ala., said today he will try to obtain quick Senate consideration of a tough House-passed antibusing bill by resorting to a seldom-used parliamentary stratagem.

Allen said that when the measure formally arrives at the Senate door, he will ask for an immediate first reading. Normally, a bill is sent to the presiding officer's desk, where it is routinely referred to a committee.

The effect of the measure would be to eliminate cross town busing to achieve school desegregation.

The measure, passed on a 282-102 roll call vote after a 13-hour session, went to the Senate where it faces its stiffest test.

"The solution to this whole problem is for the House to instruct the Supreme Court to stop enforcing the 13th Amendment and return us to involuntary slavery," said Rep. William Clay, D-Mo.

"Maybe I am asking—too much that this body be decent, honest and just," said Rep. Parren Mitchell, D-Md.

Gem vote split

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Idaho representatives split in the House vote approving new anti-busing restrictions.

The measure passed, 282-102, with second district Rep. Orval Hansen voting against it and first district Rep. James A. McClure voting for it.

There was sure to be an objection to Allen's play but this would automatically place the bill on the Senate calendar.

The bill would require a court to first try a list of alternative methods of desegregating a school before it could order busing. If busing is ordered, as a last resort, students still could not be sent beyond the second nearest school to their home.

Murder charge filed in slaying

JEROME — Charges of first degree murder and attempted murder have been lodged against a man accused of the Thursday evening shooting death of his ex-wife.

Eugene Frederickson, Jerome County prosecuting attorney, said Guy Dean Standlee, 30, will appear in court before Magistrate Russell Shaud at 4 p.m. today.

The victim, Sharyn Woodall, 26, died at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital in Twin Falls.

Twin Falls County Coroner Clyde Edwards said he pronounced Mrs. Woodall dead at 8:55 p.m., 25 minutes after she and her husband arrived by ambulance at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital in Twin Falls, and about an hour and a half after the shooting.

He said she died of two bullet wounds in the head. The coroner was in the ambulance which brought the shooting victims to the hospital.

Because Mrs. Woodall died in Twin Falls County, Edwards has coroner's jurisdiction in the case, he said.

Mrs. Woodall's husband, Theral Woodall, 41, also was injured in the shooting which apparently occurred as the result of a family altercation. He is reported to be in fair condition at the Twin Falls Hospital today. Frederickson said Woodall received a single wound in the chest from what was alleged to be a .38 caliber revolver.

Frederickson said an autopsy will be performed but details are pending. He said the shooting occurred at the residence of the defendant's parents at Greenwood, about five miles east of Hazelton.

The prosecutor said he was not sure at this time whether the shooting occurred in or outside the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Standlee. Frederickson said others, besides the principals in the case, were at the residence when the shooting occurred.

He said that Sheriff James B. (Pat) Burns and Deputy Elmer Stephenson were immediately summoned to the scene of the crime. He said Standlee was taken into custody at the scene and is presently in the Jerome County jail.

Standlee lives with his parents at Greenwood and reportedly does custom farming.

Frederickson said that Mr. and Mrs. Woodall were reportedly visiting in the Magic Valley area from Silverton, Ore., where they operate a jewelry store. Mrs. Woodall was the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Turska who operate the Shoshone-Ice Caves service north of Shoshone.

Another draw

REYKJAVIK (UPI) — Bobby Fischer, possibly worried by a $1.75 million lawsuit filed against him, offered a draw today in the 15th game of the world chess championship after two moves.

Boris Spassky immediately accepted. Fischer heard about the lawsuit on radio before the start of today's game although aides had hoped to keep the news from him until after the game. The suit was brought by Chester Fox alleging breach of contract because Fischer refused to allow television coverage of the games.

Fischer retained a three-point lead in the $250,000 match, 9 points to 6.

Metric system passes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate today passed historic legislation that would convert the U.S. system of measurements to the metric system over the next 10 years.

Passed by voice vote without opposition or debate, the bill would convert the federal government to the metric system and begin a voluntary conversion within industry, extending the change over a decade to ease the expense.

The system would replace inches, pounds and quarts with meters, kilograms and liters. A meter is equivalent to about 39 inches, a kilogram to 2.2 pounds and a liter to 1.01 quarts.

The reform was recommended in 1971 after the Commerce Department conducted a three-year, $4 million study called "Metric America — A Decision Whose Time Has Come."

The bill, which now goes to the House, would establish an 11-member board representing business, education, labor, consumers, science and technology to encourage industry to convert. No compulsion would be involved.

US inflation slows up during second quarter

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Inflation slowed sharply and real growth in the economy achieved its fastest pace in almost seven years during this year's second quarter, Commerce Department reports showed today. The quarterly reports said corporate profits jumped during the April through June period despite the effects of tropical storm Agnes, which devastated much of the East.

At the same time, the Commerce Department said, the inflation rate fell to 1.8 per cent, compared to 5.1 per cent for the January to March quarter. With the exception of the fourth quarter of last year, when prices were held artificially low by the government's freeze, it was the best inflation report since the fourth quarter of 1965.

A separate report said before-tax book profits of U.S. businesses in the April-June quarter rose $4.9 billion over the first three months of the year to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $93.1 billion.

The quarter-to-quarter profit increase would have reached $6.7 billion at an annual rate without the losses in plant and equipment and inventories resulting from the Atlantic seaboard flooding.

The second quarter also saw a growth in the Gross National Product (GNP) of 11.4 per cent at an annual rate. This was slightly less than the 12 per cent growth rate of the first three months of 1972.

Real growth in the economy, output minus the effects of price increases, was estimated at 9.4 per cent in the second quarter. This was the best quarterly growth record since the fourth quarter of 1965.

Dying need solid control

By IRENE PETERS
Times News Writer

TWIN FALLS — "Dying patients need to be in control of their situation," Dr. Ronald Koons said Thursday at the "Living with Dying" workshop.

About 40 persons questioned R. Koons and his wife Shirley, who represented the staff of the Mountain States Tumor Institute, Boise.

The day-long program was conducted for clergy, nurses and other interested persons at the First United Presbyterian Church. In the morning, participants saw a color movie of interviews with cancer patients or their families.

During the question and answer session which followed, Dr. and Mrs. Koons discussed problems ranging from a doctor's failure to inform his nurse about the terminal patient's feelings to dealing with a cancer patient in your own family.

The freedom of the terminally ill patient to determine the course of his medical treatment or lack of it is important, a member of the audience said.

Dr. Koons said he feels he should inform the patient about what he considers the best form of treatment and why, but he would not go against the patient's own wishes.

"We think a non-judgmental approach is best — let the patient say what he wants and make his own judgment about how he wants to die," he said.

Hijacker demands $2 million ransom

VANCOUVER, B.C. (UPI) — A man who rode up to the plane on a bicycle hijacked a United Air Lines jet today with three crewmembers aboard from Reno, Nev., to Canada, demanding $2 million ransom in U.S. currency.

Passengers on the regularly scheduled Boeing 727 flight to San Francisco were released before the plane took off from Reno.

Vancouver air traffic control said at 12:10 p.m. EDT that the plane was circling about 10 to 12 miles south of Vancouver.

An official for United Airlines said the hijacker had demanded $2 million in 50 and 20-dollar bills in American money.

"We know that he is armed, but we don't know with what,"

Red rocket raid kills US airman

SAIGON (UPI) — Communist gunners hidden in nearby mountains slammed a 43-rocket barrage into the sprawling American air base at Da Nang today, killing an American airman, wounding 21 and destroying or damaging eleven U.S. aircraft.

Ten of the rounds landed on the South Vietnamese portion of the base and a village just outside, killing 27 civilians and wounding one government soldier and 24 civilians.

It was the third and largest attack on Da Nang this month and came one week after the last American ground combat unit in Vietnam — in charge of curbing rocket activity against the base — was deactivated.

Lightning said line charge cause

TWIN FALLS — The line that Christine Atkins touched before her death by electrocution early Thursday morning carried approximately 1,000 volts of electrical power.

J. L. Johnstone, Idaho Power Co. electrical superintendent said today the ground wire, which normally carries no live current, had been charged as the result of a lightning strike nearly two weeks earlier somewhere on the street light circuit.

Johnstone said also the power company had taken the light out of the circuit immediately after the accident.

The electrical supervisor said the voltage in the ground wire was caused when lightning struck at or near the system at two spots, causing high voltage to be induced into the wire.

The lightning — an extremely powerful jolt — jumps the insulation that normally protects the ground wire, permitting the voltage to move along the line.

The ground was also sufficiently dry, he said, to contribute to the voltage, although even if the ground is dry and the electrical insulation functioning there is no danger.

"The line is not hot now," Johnstone said, "and will not be again."

Company workmen restored the grounding to the wire by cutting the light out of the circuit and making repairs.

Johnstone said usually when disruption of the insulation occurs it is easily detected and immediately repaired. But in this case the ground was so dry that there was no flow of electrical current — only voltage, which is in effect pressure. If the current had moved in a high enough amount, he said, company officials could have detected and therefore repaired the damage.

Normally, he said, the insulation on the ground wire is "more than adequate" to protect the ground wires, but when it is struck by lightning failure is "very difficult" to guard against.

"We conducted a very brief investigation" that night, Johnstone said, "to get some idea of what the problem was, and took that light out of the circuit."

He said the work as a result of the accident would cost the company about $5,000 over normal maintenance costs. The company had been scheduled to alter part of the lighting system — changing from a series to a multiple system, with work set to commence Monday, he said.

He also said power company representatives had visited the parents of Miss Atkins to "express regret."

Miss Atkins and some of her friends had been at a high school Big-Little Sister party at Shoshone Falls, Wednesday evening.

After the party some of the "little sisters" ran through the fountain on the downtown mall. "The big sisters like to pull pranks on them," said Pam Nielsen, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Nielsen.

The older girls then told their high school "sisters" that they were too wet to ride in their cars.

'Thanks for the plays, gang, but the coach has a game plan for '76, too'

Protesters flood Miami

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—With knapsacks on their backs and little else to keep them for the next week, Republican Convention "nondescripts" streamed steadily into Flamingo Park today.

Federal troops also will be arriving in the area today.

The 35-acre park, the campsite granted by the city of Miami Beach for protesters who plan mass demonstrations during next week's convention, spouted numerous tents and other makeshift shelters as the numbers of the self-styled nondescripts grew.

Leaders of the planned demonstrations, principally against Nixon administration Vietnam policy, say 10,000 persons will take part in "nonviolent" convention demonstrations. Police believe the total will be only about half that, but the Pentagon placed some 2,500 troops on standby in the area just in case.

At the park, young people sought donations of food from about everyone who passed.

A tractor-trailer loaded with bright yellow portable toilets, furnished by the city, were brought in about noon Thursday and demonstrators helped unload it. City crews sprayed grassless areas not yet recovered from a similar camp-out last month at the Democratic Convention—with chemicals to prevent dust.

As rows of tents materialized, a roadway was marked with lime so emergency vehicles could move without restriction. Protest leaders tried to organize the group—but with little success. A speaker, talking to about 50 persons at a meeting site under a wide-spreading banyan tree, asked for a show of hands of persons who wanted to ban sales of hard drugs—"speed, downers and smack"—in the park.

Marines and soldiers, from Ft. Bragg and Camp Lejeune in North Carolina, were airlifted to the area today.

The Pentagon said the troops would be kept on standby at nearby Homestead Air Force Base, about 20 miles south of Miami.

During the Democratic convention in July, about 2,500 troops also were on hand. They were augmented by about 3,000 Florida National Guard troops, then on training assignments. None were used.

GOPs elect chairman

TWIN FALLS — Douglas Kramer was unanimously elected to a second term as chairman of the Twin Falls Republican-Central Committee Thursday night.

Kramer, 47, a lawyer, was picked at a central committee meeting held in the judicial building in Twin Falls. The meeting to reorganize the party in each county in the state must be held within 10 days of the primary election, according to state law.

In accepting a second two-year term, Kramer told the Republicans at the meeting the party had "nothing to be ashamed of" and predicted 1972 would be a "great year" to campaign for the Republican ticket.

Laird Noh, Kimberly, was re-elected vice-chairman of the group on an unanimous ballot, while Kenneth Colner was given another term as treasurer.

Ruby Wyatt was chosen secretary, replacing T. V. Silvers.

The central committeeman and central committeewoman were both unanimously re-elected, with Charles Lunte and Shirley Colner each receiving another two-year term.

Three of four at large directors were re-elected, with Donald Zuck, Laurence Knigge and David Munroe receiving new terms. Ken Arrington was chosen unanimously for the other spot, replacing Ruth Detweiler.

In an election for a newly created post, a Twin Falls High School graduate, Jay Ronk was elected the county's youth committee person. By virtue of his election, Ronk will sit on the State Central Committee.

David Mead in Legislative District 25 and Ted Ahm in district 24 were re-elected legislative district chairmen. Also at the meeting, Twin Falls, County Commissioner William Chancey unveiled plans for a Republican party, scheduled for Aug. 26 at the county fairgrounds in Filer. The public is invited to the event, which will feature Lt. Gov. Jack Murphy as well as Rep. Orval Hansen and GOP senatorial candidate James A. McClure.

Serve as aides

Young TF GOPs to work at national convention

TWIN FALLS — Three young Twin Falls voters will be working with the Idaho delegation at the Republican National Convention Aug. 21-23 in Miami.

Richard Arrington, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. R. Arrington, and Walt Sinclair, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Sinclair, will serve as delegate aides under Idaho Lt. Gov. Jack Murphy at the convention.

Jay Ronk, 18, son of Dr. and Mrs. Howard W. Ronk, will be a page for the Idaho delegation. They will leave Saturday.

The three are going as "Young Voters for the President."

In addition to running errands for the delegates, they may be able to attend committee meetings and caucuses at the convention. They will also meet with presidential aides and cabinet members.

A former Twin Falls resident, Patricia Harrison, 25, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Harrison, Twin Falls, will attend as a member of the Young Voters for the President from Utah. The Ogden woman will leave for Miami on Saturday.

"We're really looking forward to meeting some of the top political minds in the country," Sinclair said. "But I'm looking forward to the nomination more than anything. It's a once in a lifetime chance and we should be on the floor helping lead the state demonstration."

"This is one chance we as young adults have to work with the system and evaluate it," he added.

Sinclair said he was interested in politics because "I've always been involved in helping my mother with her political affiliations." Mrs. Sinclair is the Idaho Republican national committeewoman.

Ronk and Arrington attended the Idaho Republican convention this year. Ronk is president of the Twin Falls Young Republicans. Arrington was youth coordinator in this area for George Hansen's senate campaign.

Ride slated Sunday

RICHFIELD — Boulder Creek above Kelchum will be the scene of a "Kids horse ride" Sunday for children of the Richfield Riding Club members.

The young people will leave early Sunday morning and ride up the canyon, eat lunch, explore the old mining camps in the area, and return home in the evening.

Although the event will be especially for the kids, their parents will go along to drive the trucks to transport the horses and to be there if they are needed.

The ride is a sequel to an overnight excursion riding club members took the latter part of July when they rode up Cannon Ball Canyon above Fairfield. The groups were guests of Cotton Riley, who served as guide.

Protesters flood Miami

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—With knapsacks on their backs and little else to keep them for the next week, Republican Convention "nondelegates" streamed steadily into Flamingo Park today.

Federal troops also will be arriving in the area today.

The 35-acre park, the campsite granted by the city of Miami Beach for protesters who plan mass demonstrations during next week's convention, spouted numerous tents and other makeshift shelters as the numbers of the self-styled nondelegates grew.

Leaders of the planned demonstrations, principally against Nixon administration Vietnam policy, say 10,000 persons will take part in "nonviolent" convention demonstrations. Police believe the total will be only about half that, but the Pentagon placed some 2,500 troops on standby in the area just in case.

At the park, young people sought donations of food from about everyone who passed.

A tractor-trailer loaded with bright yellow portable toilets, furnished by the city, were brought in about noon Thursday and demonstrators helped unload it. City crews sprayed grassless areas—not yet recovered from a similar camp-out last month at the Democratic Convention—with chemicals to prevent dust.

As rows of tents materialized, a roadway was marked with lime so emergency vehicles could move without restriction. Protest leaders tried to organize the group—but with little success. A speaker, talking to about 50 persons at a meeting site under a wide-spreading banyan tree, asked for a show of hands of persons who wanted to ban sales of hard drugs—"speed, downers and smack"—in the park.

Marines and soldiers, from Ft. Bragg and Camp Lejeune in North Carolina, were airlifted to the area today.

The Pentagon said the troops would be kept on standby at nearby Homestead Air Force Base, about 20 miles south of Miami.

During the Democratic convention in July, about 2,500 troops also were on hand. They were augmented by about 3,000 Florida National Guard troops, then on training assignments. None were used.

"Suicide among cancer patients is very rare," he said. The 45-minute movie featured interviews with six patients, one mother of an 11-year-old boy with cancer, and the young widow of a cancer patient.

Martin Naser of Boise photographed the film, which was edited by him and John J. Dawson, patient counselor at the tumor institute, from over eight hours of interviews.

The movie was made last fall as the institute's contribution to a seminar at Boise State College called "Death — A Confrontation for Every Man."

The first patient interviewed was a 39-year-old mother of two whose own mother had died of cancer a year previously. She said religious faith had given her mother much comfort and strength during her last days and she felt this same comfort in her life now. "I never knew I had so many friends in my life," said the second patient, a man with grown children who had a recurrence of cancer for which he had undergone surgery two years ago.

Two women of different backgrounds, both with ovarian cancer, discussed their feelings about the future with Dr. Koons and Dawson. The older woman, a gynecologist and mother of two, said she intended to spend more time with her children. "I'd really like to have two more years, or as much as I can get," to be with her 10-year-old daughter, she said. "This was my first thought."

The younger woman, mother of a 14-month-old girl, also accepted the reality of her illness. "None of us knows how long we're going to live — you could go out and get hit by a truck or something," she said. "People feel like you need to be left alone, but this isn't true — you need to talk about it," said the mother of an 11-year-old boy who had one arm removed because of cancer.

As for discussing his illness with the boy, she said, "He knows he is very sick, but he thinks he is going to get well. I think telling him he is going to die would take away the optimism he has."

A 36-year-old man with lung cancer said he felt sure that his five children would be well taken care of. "If my wife remarried, it would be with the kids in mind and not herself," he said.

The wife of a 25-year-old man who died of Hodgkin's disease told of her decision to marry the man, to whom she was engaged, when he learned of his illness. "I didn't feel I could walk out on him then," she said.

"They had not pushed the problem out of their minds, she said, but decided to get married in spite of it."

"It was just a little while ago that I finally got up the nerve to go see 'Love Story,'" she said. She felt the portrayal was over-romanticized. "I never saw anybody who looked so good when they died," she said.

An elderly woman who had had cancer for seven years said, "I think the doctor has to know the personality of his patient."

SHIRLEE KOONS
... nurse

whether he wants to know what his problem is or would rather ride along and put off facing it."

"My first doctor had me figured all wrong. He thought I would be upset. I knew I had cancer after the first operation."

She said she thought her relatives suffered more than she did.

Following the film, the first question was, "Are these cases typical, or did you just pick out the ones with the good attitudes?"

Dr. Koons said the movie showed those people who spoke out most easily. "I think most people can, most people do reach this stage," he said.

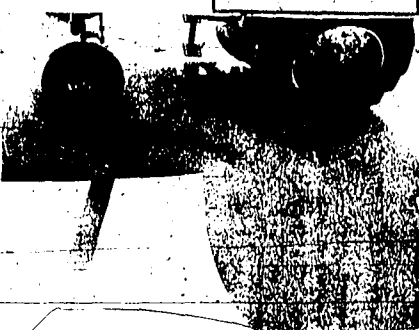

The idea for the Mountain States Tumor Institute began five years ago, when physicians in the Boise area felt that a specialized center was needed for treating cancer patients. The program started with a grant from the Mountain States Regional Medical Program early in 1969.

"Our purpose is to provide the best care to cancer patients through their own physicians," said Dr. Koons. He said he feels the tumor institute is unique because "we are not autonomous. We only take patients referred to us by other doctors, and we only do the things that can't be done where the patient is."

Emotional support is as equally important in the treatment of cancer patients as surgical, radiological, and chemo therapy, Dr. Koons said.

The institute plans to build this fall a low-cost home for patients who live too far away to drive to Boise every day for treatment.

Bear attacks hikers

YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK, Wyo. (UPI)—A female bear with two cubs by her side attacked two hikers in Yellowstone National Park, mauling one on the head, legs and arms and knocking the other one over, park officials said Thursday.

It was the second reported attack by a bear on tourists in the park this year. An Alabama camper was killed earlier by a mauling grizzly.

Park officials said the latest incident occurred Wednesday when Kenneth A. Bill of Sacramento, Calif., was hiking with his sister, Mrs. Stephen Blackwood, in the Fawn Pass area along the Gallatin Range.

The two said they were sitting beside a trail when the bear and two cubs approached. The bear, apparently in an effort to protect the cubs, charged the couple, knocking over Mrs. Blackwood.

Her brother tried to fight off the bear and was scratched and bitten about the face, arms and legs before the bear retreated.

Mrs. Blackwood, a nurse, gave her brother first aid before going for help. Bill was flown by helicopter to a nearby hospital where he received several stitches to close the wounds.

Park spokesmen said he probably would be released from hospital in a few days.

Proposed Gem dam queried

MOOSE, Wyo. (UPI)—A noted environmentalist has said that the planned construction of a $60 million earth fill dam across the Teton River in Idaho would destroy miles of spectacular scenery and a diversity of wildlife in the Teton Canyon.

Frank C. Craighead, Jr., president of the Environmental Research Institute in Moose, Wyo., made the charge in an article in the summer-fall issue of Teton Magazine.

Craig said many aspects of the environment were not considered when Congress authorized construction of the dam in 1964.

He said the recreational and economic aspects of the proposed dam were not equal to the environmental costs of the project.

"The cost-benefit figures of the Bureau of Reclamation which are used to justify the multiple use project for irrigation, hydroelectric power, flood control and recreation have been questioned by a number of authorities," Craighead said.

Jerome man elected

POCATELLO (UPI)—John Van Orman, Jerome, was elected chairman of the Idaho board of Environmental Health and Protection Thursday in Pocatello.

It was the first meeting held by the board since it was expanded from five to seven members by the last session of the legislature.

The new vice chairman of the board is Dr. Lester Peterson, Rexburg. Board member Peter Gertsonson, Lewiston, was named secretary.

Legal counsel authorized

POCATELLO (UPI)—At its first open meeting Thursday afternoon, the recently expanded Idaho Board of Environmental Protection and Health authorized health department Administrator Dr. James Bax to select legal counsel for upcoming public hearings on proposed environmental regulations.

After a "get acquainted" morning session behind closed doors where John Van Orman of Jerome was elected chairman, the group conducted a multi-topical afternoon gathering with subjects ranging from sewer treatment to phosphorus waste.

At Bax's suggestion, the board authorized him to sign the necessary legal documents allowing the department to work with the state attorney general's office in enforcing various environmental regulations, one of which applies to a recently re-opened phosphorus plant near Soda Springs.

According to Bax, the Agricultural Products Corp. committed an infraction by using a calciner for waste disposal.

In other business, assistant department Administrator Al Eiguren urged the board to adopt the recommended regulations for nitrogen supersaturation in Idaho streams and rivers.

Fund sources set for Indians

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House Interior Committee Thursday approved legislation that would give Indians new sources of federal funds to help them establish businesses.

The legislation, introduced by Rep. John P. Saylor, R-Pa., would provide an additional $50 million for direct loans to Indians. It also included a controversial feature authorizing out right grants of up to $50,000 for Indian business enterprises.

The measure would further allow the federal government to guarantee repayment of up to 90 per cent of private loans to Indians, and give them an interest subsidy when borrowing from private banks.

Michigan teen attacked by bear

SWAN VALLEY, Idaho (UPI)—A 19-year-old Michigan teenager was attacked by a bear Thursday morning at the Calamity Camp Ground near Paldades Dam in eastern Idaho.

U. S. Forest Service officials said Douglas Munn, Coldwater, Mich., was asleep in his sleeping bag outside his family's trailer when the bear apparently poked its nose in his face and swiped a paw across his forehead.

Munn suddenly awakened, but managed to stay quiet until the bear began dragging his sleeping bag away from the trailer. At that point, he screamed.

The yell awakened his family and nearby campers. Munn then tried to crawl out of the sleeping bag at which time the bear bit him on the back, and then scampered away into the forest. Munn was taken by Idaho Fish and Game officials to Driggs, 42 miles away, where he was treated for the bite and re-

Mistake bombings kill 19 S. Viets

SAIGON (UPI)—A series of six mistake bombings by American planes has killed 19 South Vietnamese soldiers and wounded 79 in the past 45 days, U.S. command figures showed today.

Two of the incidents, including one Thursday, are still under investigation, a U.S. command spokesman reported. The others were blamed, variously, on failure of ground troops to mark their position, a faulty bomb release mechanism, friendly troops calling in air strikes on their own position, and high winds.

A sharp rise in such incidents this year may be due partially to the stepped up air activity in South Vietnam since March 30 as a result of the North Vietnamese offensive. However, several other explanations are offered by military sources.

A U.S. command source said that many of the incidents occur because South Vietnamese troops fail to use colored smoke or flares to mark their positions during air strikes.

Some pilots say the problem is becoming more serious because of language difficulties. Normally, U.S. air strikes are requested by American advisers to South Vietnamese units, and South Vietnamese ground commanders call in and direct only air strikes by Vietnamese Air Force planes.

However, there are times when a U.S. adviser is unavailable when a ground unit needs air support and the request must be radioed in English by a South Vietnamese officer on the ground. Occasionally, U.S. planes may have their targets marked by Vietnamese forward air controllers (FACs) who may have a language barrier in explaining the positions of nearby friendly ground troops relative to the smoke rockets with which targets are marked.

Intervene

NEW YORK (UPI)—Sen. George McGovern has called on U.N. Secretary General Kurt Waldheim to intervene on behalf of Soviet Jews who seek to emigrate to other countries.

The request was contained in a statement made public today by a New York campaign aide to the Democratic presidential candidate.

In the letter, the South Dakota senator said: "I believe it would be useful if the Secretary General would undertake a personal mission to Moscow, or designate a high-ranking spokesman, to discuss this issue with the responsible authorities of the Soviet Union."

Congressmen want visit

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Two congressmen who support President Nixon's Indochina war policies want to visit North Vietnam.

Reps. William E. Minshall, R-Ohio, and Robert L.F. Sikes, D-Fla., said Thursday they hoped to assess damage allegedly caused by intentional U.S. bombing of cities and civilian areas. They said they had sought permission for the visit by sending telegrams to North Vietnamese officials.

office

BOISE (UPI) — There's something new in the state treasurer's office—it's a man. Jim B. House, 22, Boise, has been hired by State Treasurer Marjorie Ruth Moon to compile a statistical report for her office.

House is the first man to work in the office since Mr. Moon was elected in 1963, the first male employee there since 1956.

Someone mentioned that was Miss Moon's token man. House said jokingly. "But really, everything is going fine."

House is working with other female employees.

But he has worked under similar conditions and is prepared to talk about granddads and talk spray if the nurses, while working as orderly at a community hospital in Colfax, Wash., he was only one on the shift. Later, he was one of three men on shift while working at the C. Well Memorial Hospital.

House, son of Mr. and Mrs. Barney House of Paul, Idaho, started his job in the treasurer's office Monday. He is working for Attorney General Tony Park during his campaign for the Democratic nomination to the U.S. Senate. Park was defeated.

Miss Moon said House was hired because he was qualified to operate a 10-key adding machine.

She said two other positions which would have most likely been filled by men were authorized by the last session of the legislature.

The positions were for investment operations person or an investment planner. But legislature did not liberalize state investment law so the positions were not needed.

House will be responsible for putting together a 31-page statistical report for the department.

Historic church

ONE OF Twin Falls' earliest churches, now occupied by Our Savior Lutheran Church, will be the scene of an "undedication" ceremony on Aug. 27. The building has been sold.

'Undedication' services set by local Lutherans

TWIN FALLS — Because it has been sold, Our Savior Lutheran Church will be the scene of an "undedication" service at 9 a.m. Aug. 27.

The church building, one of the oldest in Twin Falls, has served three denominations since it was erected in 1906.

Rev. Eugene Tjarks, pastor, said "Because many people have worshipped in this building over the years, there may be some emotional ties to it. When a building dedicated to serve the Lord and His Church has done that for so many years, it can be retired in dignity. Therefore, the congregation wanted to recognize the feeling of many people in the community and also 'undedicate' it from the use to which it has been put for almost 70 years." The property has been purchased by Thomas W. Silvers, president of Title Fact, Inc., Twin Falls. He said he intends to build an office building on the site but plans for razing the present church building and construction of the new building are not definite at this time.

Our Savior Lutheran congregation will worship in temporary facilities at the YMCA-YWCA in Twin Falls.

Rev. Tjarks said the congregation has outgrown the building and decided to locate elsewhere because of the need for ground-level construction to make it easier for the elderly to enter the church and parking space requirements. He said plans for a new church location are incomplete. The church was erected in 1906 at the corner of Second Street and Fourth Avenue North to serve the First Presbyterian Church. After that congregation outgrew the property and moved to another site a block north, the First Baptist Church bought the building and ground. The church served that congregation until it outgrew the building.

Our Savior Lutheran congregation purchased the property in 1950 from the First Baptist Church. Prior to that, the congregation worshipped in a combination chapel and parsonage at Third Street and Third Avenue North for several years.

The public is invited to the "undedication" service, Rev. Tjarks said.

'Kings Four' sets church appearance

TWIN FALLS — The "Kings Four," a four member musical group from Kirkland, Wash., will be featured in concert at the Twin Falls First Assembly of God Church at 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

The group is traveling as a part of the annual "Christ in Concert" series sponsored by Northwest College of the Assemblies of God, located in Kirkland.

The series is being presented in nine of the western states. Their musical presentation is varied, according to the Rev. L. LaMance, host pastor, and is designed to appeal to the tastes of both young and old.

The group has been featured in schools, auditoriums and churches throughout the west. The public is invited to attend this presentation. There is no admission charge.

His family will accompany him on his trip.

Movie set

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls Church of the Nazarene will present the movie "Mind-benders" at 7:30 p.m. Aug. 23.

The movie is produced in consultation with youth leaders and high school students and takes a purposeful look inside a large high school where the staff photographer and his girl friend endeavor to make their faith relevant.

"They find themselves taking a sincere second look beyond drugs, sex and disobedience for answers to the what and why of the world in which they live. Concerned about the environment and as politics, reluctant to believe in God, while at the same time afraid not to, these students ferret out values from life styles destined for the hypocrisy of their elders, but spared by the kind of open-faced honesty prevalent among so many modern youth.

Guest pastor

TWIN FALLS — Rev. F. M. Holmes will assist with the communion service and be preacher at the 10 a.m. Sunday service at the Episcopal Church of the Ascension.

He is presently priest-in-charge of St. John's Church, American Falls.

He was educated in Washington and attended business school in Pocatello. He works as an industrial photographer for a government contractor at the National Inlander Training Station. He is a self-supporting priest ordained by Bishop Foote in Dec. 1969.

Ground broken

Construction initiated on TF Southern Baptist Church

TWIN FALLS — Construction on the new Eastside Southern Baptist Church was initiated Wednesday evening during groundbreaking ceremonies at the church's new site on Eastland drive.

Officially participating in the ceremonies was the church pastor, Rev. R. C. Schreckenberg.

Rev. Schreckenberg told the large gathering of church members and friends that the new church was made possible only through the "grace and goodness of God" and through his response to prayers.

Officially participating in the groundbreaking were Rev. Schreckenberg; J. D. (Don) Everton, trustee chairman; Don Overlin, trustee, and Carrie Ruth Spence, church secretary. The new $100,000 structure will be built in three phases, with Roy Wetherbee, a church member, acting in the capacity of building supervisor.

Approximately 20 volunteer workers led by Rev. E. J. Jenkins will be traveling from North Carolina to help in the construction around the first of October.

The first section of the church, which will be worth about $30,000 will be a two-story structure comprising some 5,000 square feet of space.

Final plans call for a horseshoe shaped building, paved parking and a large recreational area. The recreational area will provide space for such outdoor activities as baseball, picnic facilities, etc.

The five-acre site is located immediately north of the intersection of Eastland Drive and Addison, and on the east side of Eastland.

Her matching chapel-length veil of illusion was trimmed in the same Chantilly lace. It was held in place by a seed pearl-covered baby doll headpiece. The gown and veil was fashioned by her mother.

A reception was held in the Fireside Lounge, with the bride and bridegroom cutting the first piece of cake.

The bride's table, covered with lace over blue, was centered with a three-tier cake decorated with blue and white flowers and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom under a brandy snifter. Silver candelabra with blue tapers and pastel nosegays completed the decor.

Mrs. James Tucker, Jerome, and Mrs. Edwin Barker, Twin Falls, cut and served the cake.

Mrs. Clarence Hollifield, and Mrs. Terry Hollifield, Hansen and Mrs. Kenneth Shadel, Sandpoint, poured the coffee and punch.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

We watched a pretty good player go down at four spades. He complained bitterly about losing the trump and club finesse and "pulling" into a 4-2 diamond break.

He also congratulated West on his defense. West had led ace-king and another heart to start with and got out with a trump to wait for his club trick.

We hated to point out to our friend that he really should have made the hand and undoubtedly would have done so if he didn't have the jack of clubs.

The whole point in the play is that West shows up with six hearts, three spades and at least one club since he followed when South led a club to dummy's king at trick four.

If he holds two more clubs including the queen the hand can't be made. Otherwise there is an automatic squeeze against East.

Just look at the actual situation. South must play his next to last trump to get rid of the last one held by West. Then, South simply continues with his last trump.

A club is discarded from dummy to leave dummy with four diamonds and a club. East has to hold onto four diamonds and must come down to one club also. Now South plays three rounds of diamonds and winds up taking the last two tricks with his ace-jack of clubs.

A—Pass. Your partner doesn't have much of a double. If you like to live dangerously, bid either four spades or five diamonds. There is a very slight chance that game will be made.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding four diamonds, your partner has bid three hearts over your three diamonds. What do you do now?

FASHION DRUMS SWEATERS

By Mary Sue Miller

Knitting needles and the skill to use them are as much of a plus this fall as an unlimited clothing allowance. Fashion beats the drum for whatever's a sweater. Sweaters of wool, synthetics and blends . . . Sweaters in sets to wear daytimes with pleated plaid skirts, or in the evening with long sweaters of chiffon or satin . . . Sweaters bearing prestigious couture names or unidentified by labels at all.

The sweater is an old familiar, yet now so suddenly new. Why? Well, it fits lifestyles, whatever one's age, occupation or situation. It totes in a hangbag, packs in a travel case. It is comfortable, carefree and casual — a classic accompaniment to all the fashion rat-tat-tat.

Moreover, you may choose and wear sweaters to suit your own style. No rules! Would you like a pull with a boat, crew, squared, or scooped neck? Would you like it to tuck in or not? Is your sleeve to be a dolman, set-in, cap, or long-sleeved? You name it, it's yours. Sweater jackets take many forms, from wind-breakers, long tied wraps, to open cardigans.

Color and yarns start with traditional, such as camel shades and mohair. The end might lead to silken threads with a glint of gold.

Sweater girls were the pin-ups of the 1940's. Here we go again!

Sweetbriar

ON THE MALL — TWIN FALLS, IDAHO

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: To recap an interesting letter in the Cleveland Plain Dealer: A receptionist in a large business office failed to recognize a valued customer because he wasn't dressed as he usually was, so her boss chastised her, causing her to spend the weekend in bed with a migraine.

Console the poor lady! Nuns who wear Sears dresses or "contemporary pastels" must now produce identification when they request "Discounts to religious" while shopping.

Clergymen who insist on walking about in casual mufti cannot complain when they're herded like hot polli; they also must produce identification for "clergy discounts."

Priest goes to bat for secretaries

The moral is: If the customer is so valued and esteemed, but dresses in a manner not associated with his august presence, he should be prepared to identify himself and not expect hardworking secretaries to discern his invisible "Roman collar."

Gen. Montgomery, and every general since Napoleon, wore a peculiar noggin-plate to avoid being accidentally shot by one of his own men, as was Stonewall Jackson, and more recently an Israeli general.

Accidents, as befell the poor secretary, do happen. Most understanding persons smile thru the discomfort of not being instantly recognized. Bob Hope does. Sincerely,

FATHER LIEDERBACH, CLEVELAND

DEAR FATHER: Bob Hope's most readily identifying feature is as instantly recognized as a general's noggin-plate. Everyone "nose" Hope.

DEAR ABBY: Two weeks ago my 18-year-old daughter moved out of the house, announcing that she was taking a job and renting a room.

At that time her 14-year-old sister moved into her room, after working for three days to clean it up.

Two weeks later the 18-year-old came home and demanded her own room back, so naturally she got it.

Now the 14-year-old is heartbroken. Who was right?

MOTHER OF BOTH

DEAR MOTHER: Not the 18-year-old. Why did she "naturally" get it in the interest of fair play, you should not have permitted the younger girl to be moved out.

DEAR ABBY: This letter is in reply to "Tempted Teacher" who admitted that he found one of his young female students somewhat tempting: Being a 28-year-old male teacher who has taught in the public schools for a few years, may I share with you and your readers the following:

A few weeks after school began (last year) some male teachers were talking about some of the girls in their classes. One of them said, "I can hardly keep my mind on my teaching because of the way some girls are dressed!" (I am sure this is the case in 99 per cent of the schools in America.)

Many girls come to school wearing miniskirts, and the teacher must teach in full view of their underclothing, which is bad enough. But try teaching with girls in your class who have absolutely NOTHING on underneath!

Some teachers say nothing because they enjoy looking. Others are too embarrassed to say anything. Parents say nothing because they don't make parents any more like my Mom and Dad.

So, you tell me. What is a teacher to do when tempted? Keep his eyes off! In my opinion the girls need to put something ON!

CONCERNED ABOUT EDUCATION

JUNCTION CITY, KAS.

DEAR CONCERNED: Right on! And in my opinion, the girls should put it on and keep it on.

Problem? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 999, L. A. CALIF. 90002, and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

Butz asks more money, freedom for farmers

BOISE (UPI) — Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz called today for more freedom and money for farmers.

As he made the statement at a news conference in Boise some 50 Mexican-Americans picketed outside, shouting "Earl Butz tells lies" and "Down with Earl Butz."

Butz told newsmen that during the coming months the administration will be debating plans for a farm program.

He said the agriculture act of 1970 is due to expire, and it will have to be decided whether there will be a new act, no act or the extension of the previous act put before congress.

"I am in favor of extension of the previous act," Butz said, including a philosophy of "less dependence on government and more freedom for farmers."

Asked what he thought of the farm subsidy program, Butz said it "is not evil."

He said subsidies are necessary on the short run and other industries in society such as postal and communications are subsidized to some extent.

"It has been a national policy to have short run subsidies," he said.

Butz said a recent embargo on the export of hides to foreign countries should not have any impact on hide prices.

Cattlemen in Idaho have complained about the embargo. They said it will limit the market of hides.

Butz said the embargo was promoted by eastern shoe manufacturers who said the embargo would lower the prices of hides and in turn the price of shoes. But Butz said he did not agree with the theory and that if the price of shoes were to be lowered then all hides should be sent overseas and then the shoes sent back into the country at a lower cost.

Butz also said: — He was in favor of the $750 million wheat sale to Russia because it is increasing the price of wheat at home.

— No one has mentioned the number of lives saved by wiping out the mosquito through use of DDT. Commenting on the ban he said there is no evidence the chemical has hurt human beings other than through direct consumption.

Odor target

MORELAND (UPI) — Residents of Moreland have met to discuss possible action against the Harding Livestock and Land Co. concerning feedlot odor.

Hops gaining

BOISE (UPI) — The production of hops in Idaho is forecast to be 0.5 million pounds, a 16 per cent increase last year. The Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting service said today the indicated yield per acre should be 1,760 pounds compared to 1,690 pounds in 1971 and 1,540 pounds in 1970.

Gem farm work force unchanged

BOISE (UPI) — Farm workers in Idaho during the week of July 23-29 totaled 64,000, the same as the same week a year ago, the Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting service said today.

Of the total, family workers accounted for 40,000, down 2,000 from last year, and hired workers reached 24,000, up 2,000 from a year ago.

Arguments scheduled in Ketchum street hassle

KETCHUM — Final arguments in the court battle to determine the legality of making Garnet Street the access to the Balsamroot Project will be submitted next week.

Fifth District Judge Charles Scoggin ordered the concluding remarks to be presented at 3:30 p.m. Aug. 24 following the day long session Thursday.

The court battle emerged last month when a group of 21 residents and property owners on Garnet Street filed a petition for a writ of mandate against Ketchum Mayor Kenneth W. Hickey and the four-member City Council.

The council earlier in July approved a plan which would allow the Balsamroot condominium project to use the road as access to the proposed 192-unit development in southeast Ketchum.

During Thursday's hearing, taking a stand in opposition to the use of the street for access, Dr. George B. Saviers, one of the petitioners and property owners, said he opposes the noise, dust and pollution that would be caused by the increased traffic flow past his home.

"The road would serve to bisect a nice little neighborhood, one of the last to be found in the area," he said.

Others testifying in opposition to the use were Agatha Sherritt and J.D. Pace, both landowners on the street.

Pace testified he had measured the street and in several areas structures are built within six inches of the existing roadway. Another difficulty on the roadway, he said, are blind spots when entering and leaving private driveways. "With increased traffic," Pace said, "the problems would be increased and there is no place to go so many of the structures were built before the zoning regulations and are too close to the roadway."

"I am opposed to the access use because of the increased vehicular traffic decreasing safety on the street. I am also opposed to additional dust, fumes and vibrations at all hours of the night," he said.

Kent Elwell, representing Romney Associates, Salt Lake City, consultants for the proposed condominium project, said he recommended the Garnet Street access because it is the most feasible.

"An alternate to the north, behind Swank's Motor Lodge, has been suggested," he said, "but there is not a way to develop it without destroying the main scenic area of the development. Another alternative to the south of Garnet Street across the Reinheimer property is unattainable as the owner is out of the country and unavailable for bargaining," Elwell said.

"I feel if Garnet Street is improved to 22 feet and snow is removed during the winter, it will be adequate to handle the increased flow of traffic," he added.

Also taking a stand for the defense were Fred Apsey, Jr., president of Selag Corp., the developers of the proposed project, and Glen Brannen, Ketchum City councilman. Apsey said it is the intention of the corporation to maintain the road to U.S. Highway 93.

Thursday's petition seeks enforcement of Ketchum City Ordinance 85, which according to the petition, provides that a residential area should "be protected against offensive noise, vibration, smoke, dirt, odors, heat, glare, other objectionable influences," and "the invasion of abnormal vehicular traffic."

It also requested a judgment for the petitioners and legal costs and expenses, as well as "such other further relief as the court may deem equitable."

Wagons, ho!

PARADE Marshal, Al Dawson, rides in the covered wagon drawn by oxen during the parade Thursday in downtown Burley. Parade entries were judged en route with cash prizes presented.

77 entrants in Cassia parade

BURLEY — A total of 77 entries were in the Cassia County Parade Thursday, as parade fans lined the streets from the shopping center to the fairgrounds.

Three cash prizes of $50 each will be awarded to Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority, Burley Exchange Club and Overland Shopping Center as winners in the parade.

This year the parade entries were judged en route to the fairgrounds for the first time, and each entry will receive a color photograph of its entry.

The sorority entry was a train that carried the message "Hire the Handicapped," with children riding in the three train cars pulled by a garden tractor.

The exchange club float used the theme "Cassia County is Changing," depicting periods of time from the Indians, fur-trappers of 1872, dancing flappers of the 1930s and the modern day political campaigning.

A money tree with the theme "Cassia County was Prosperous" was the float entered by the shopping center.

Drill teams were from Oakley, Declo, Burley and the Minico High School. Mounted groups included the Jerome Junior Posse, Oakley Anniens, Minidoka Wranglers, Bronco Busters 4-H Club and Cassia County Mounted Posse.

Al Dawson, parade marshal, rode on a covered wagon which was pulled by oxen driven by Lowell Turner.

All the fair board members rode on horses in the parade in a break with tradition, while the county commissioners rode in automobiles and the Burley mayor and city councilmen rode in a wagon pulled by a team of Clydesdale horses.

There were many floats of all sizes entered by church groups, civic organizations and businesses. A crowd pleaser was Jerald Cole and his pet goose, Charlie. Charlie walked the entire parade route unleashed and would stop on command.

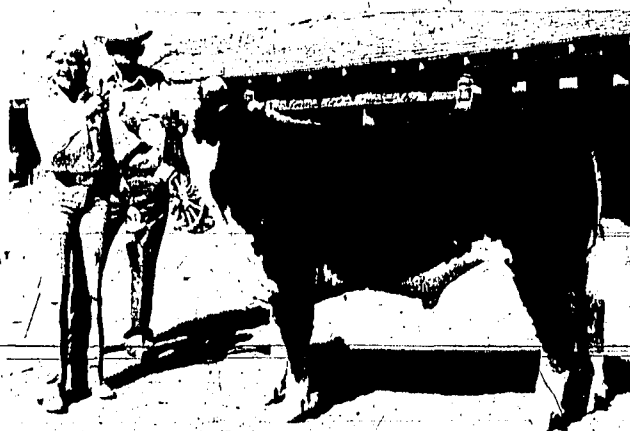

The Burley-Rupert Shriners entered the miniature Union Pacific Train which carried five cars loaded with children.

The Shriners Oriental Band marched behind the train.

Old buggies, wagons and carts were pulled by horses, antique cars and modern transportation was viewed by the parade watchers. The U. S. S. Enterprise was presented on a scale model in the parade and was on display in the afternoon.

The Idaho Rangers staged a shootout in downtown Burley prior to the start of the parade, with all the bad guys being shot and hauled away in a black hearse.

Mel Green was parade chairman and was assisted by Norval Wildman, Derry Hubsmith, Larry Blackmer, Ransom Brown, William Johnstone, John Eberline, William McGill, Robert Hilliard and Mrs. Rene Samples.

SUN VALLEY — Twenty-seven halter, performance and cutting classes are planned Sunday at the Sun Valley Quarter Horse Show.

Sponsored by the Moritz Community Hospital Auxiliary, the show will begin at 8 a.m. at the Sun Valley Horseman's Center. Registered Quarter Horses are required for all events except the cutting classes.

Order of competition will be halter classes in the morning, with successive events for fillies, mares, colts, stallions and geldings. A noon break is planned before performance classes begin in the afternoon. In the performance events, horses will be judged under saddle, in jumping, western pleasure, barrel racing, reining, western riding, working cowhorse and cutting.

The show has been approved by the American and Idaho Quarter Horse associations as well as the Intermountain and National Cutting Horse associations. Leward Mulligan, Aurora, Colo., will judge all 27 events. Stable facilities will be available for contestants, and food and beverage will be served at ringside. A no-host cocktail party for exhibitors and friends has been scheduled for Saturday evening.

Wreck victims said 'improved'

TWIN FALLS — Two of the victims of a two-car accident that killed three Buhl persons Wednesday are listed in good condition and a third in fair condition.

Virginia Norris, 35, and Kenneth Carter, 16, both Filer, are listed in good condition in Magic Valley Memorial Hospital. Betty Coates, Filer, is listed in fair condition.

Robyn Rae Kitzhaber, 3, has been released from the hospital.

Three persons, Frances Virginia Machacek, 48, Wanda Kitzhaber, 27 and Jimmie Joe Kitzhaber, 5, all Buhl, were killed in the accident.

Hot wire blamed on lightning bolt

(Continued from P. 1) "They were going to pick us up at Harmon Park but instead we decided to ditch them," said Zora Morgan, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Morgan.

The six girls were walking to Shelby's Market when they thought they heard their "big sisters" coming in a van. They hid in the bushes by the Clarence Dudley house at the corner of Poplar and Sprague.

After the van passed, the girls ran out from one side of the bushes, except for Sheri Crandall, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lentz Crandall. She ran around the other side of the bushes. Her wet clothing brushed the power pole.

"We were about 20 yards away when we heard Sheri scream. We all ran back and she was lying on the ground stunned," said Miss Morgan.

"Then somehow Chris touched the wire. She just hung there for about two minutes. Jan Casperson tried to pull her off but got shocked."

She said that she and Miss Casperson, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Casperson, dragged Miss Atkins away from the wire. They applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation but "there wasn't any life left in her body."

Police were called from the Dudley residence. "We called three times and they kept saying a man was on the way," Mrs. Dudley said.

"It seemed like a year before the police got here," Miss Morgan said, "and by then there must have been a thousand people standing around watching."

One of her "best friends," Suzanne Guthrie, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Guthrie, commented that "I don't think I can accept death. We just saw her that night. When we told our friends they said we were lying."

"She seemed so much older than us," said Lisa Muldoon, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Muldoon.

"She had respect for everyone," Miss Guthrie said. "No one hated Chris. No one talked bad about her and she didn't talk bad about anyone. She was too nice."

"I'll never say a bad word about anyone as long as I live," she said.

Highway department studies US 93 turnouts

HAILEY — Studies are in progress to determine sites for slow-moving vehicle turnout areas along U. S. Highway 93.

According to Everett Kidner, assistant district engineer for the Idaho Highways Department, sites will be considered from Zimmerman Hill, south of Bellevue, to Stanley.

Kidner said the studies will indicate the number and location of the areas. Construction is expected to start on some areas this fall, with other areas completed within one to two years, he said.

A highway official said the plan had been considered for six to eight months and that action was prompted by a recent letter from the Ketchum-Sun Valley Chamber of Commerce requesting the areas.

Kidner said similar turnouts have been constructed as a safety measure on all roadways throughout the state. Turnouts will be installed where sufficient right of way width exists, and where the terrain is suited for such areas, Kidner said.

Keeping Gem strength Kramer goal at Republican sessions

Kramer, who won re-election to the county party's top job at a reorganization meeting Thursday night, sits on the convention's rules committee, where battles will be fought in the next several days over two major party reform efforts.

Under a proposed revision of representation for future

Republican conventions, a move to give more convention votes to large cities is being headed by the reform group.

Kramer Thursday night said he would vote against the attempt, noting that if it passed, California, for example, would outvote all the other western states combined at the convention.

At present, he said, California has 99 votes, while Idaho has 14. If the proposed revision were adopted, Idaho would remain with 14 seats, but California would increase its delegation to 240, over a two-fold increase.

The Twin Falls lawyer, who sits on the national rules committee as half of Idaho's delegation, said he expected the committee to beat back the attempt, but said the issue would not finally be resolved until it reached the floor of the convention.

Kramer also expressed opposition to the second reform effort of GOP liberals, an attempt to introduce a quota system for minority and women representation. "I am against the quota system," Kramer said, "because I think it's a form of segregation rather than an open party system."

He said he opposed the quota because it "mandates" the election of people from certain groups and doesn't consider all groups.

But the Twin Falls chairman said in spite of his opposition to quotas, he favored a "strong effort" to recruit all people into the party, with an "absolute open door."

Kissinger trip seen differently

By DONALD A. DAVIS
SAIGON (UPI)—The mystery trip carried out this week by Dr. Henry Kissinger, President Nixon's top negotiator, is being interpreted many ways by many people.

But most agree on one thing—the man in the center is not Kissinger but South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu.

Thieu is in one of the more crucial periods of his presidency and is taking extraordinary steps as his country becomes more responsible for fighting the war.

He has rammed through the legislature a bill giving him "special powers" over almost every part of government—and used them recently to try to pump new life into the shattered economy, curb opposition newspapers and in general, show he is in firm control.

He has given Sept. 19 as a deadline for his commanders to win back all territory captured by the North Vietnamese in their offensive that began 4-1-2 months ago. The North Vietnamese still hold Quang Tri, are entrenched in the Mekong Delta and are causing trouble along highways north of the capital. Kissinger arrived in Saigon Thursday, a stormy night, and Thieu's critics speculated that he was carrying orders that would force Thieu to resign as a condition to ending the war.

That was considered highly unlikely by political observers. In Washington, government spokesmen said Kissinger was briefing Thieu on the latest talks he had this week in Paris. President Nixon obviously gave Kissinger orders or plans, but the content is anybody's guess. Some observers claim Nixon wants a blockbuster announcement about the war in time for the Republican convention in Miami Beach next week.

A major responsibility of the Thieu government now is replacing the missing American troops to guarantee security in the countryside. There has been a noticeable increase in major incidents this month as terrorists and Communist com-dos demonstrate a capability to strike at cities and major bases.

Thieu has made a gamble with his elite volunteer troops normally held back in the Saigon area as political insurance for the controlling party. The crack Airborne, Ranger and marine units that formed the reaction force that could quickly break a coup attempt should one arise—are now being slowly chewed up in the northern front, fighting which some American advisers term "a meat-grinder."

But so far, only faint rumblings of discontent—almost a normal murmur in any country—have been heard against Thieu.

He has spent his years in office firmly entrenching support where support is needed.

Asks news ruling

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., wants Congress to set tight restrictions on the government's power to obtain confidential information from newsmen. Mondale introduced a bill Thursday he said went beyond other legislation pending in the Senate to moderate the effects of a Supreme Court decision that the First Amendment does not give journalists the right to refuse to answer grand jury questions.

House passes rule on college loans

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House passed today a measure that would set aside new regulations governing the popular but trouble-plagued guaranteed loan program for college students.

Passed on a 198-64 vote and expected to be taken up by the Senate later today, the measure would restore the old regulations in which students with family incomes above $15,000 a year are automatically disqualified from loans and those below that figure are automatically assumed to have financial need and thus to qualify.

The new regulations require parents of students applying for the loans to file confidential financial statements on their income to prove need, and also give college financial officers new powers in determining need before approving the loan.

ABA pledges to lobby on pot use

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The American Bar Association concluded its 95th convention Thursday with the delegates pledging to lobby throughout the nation for milder penalties against marijuana use.

The ABA criticized "excessive criminal penalties" for the use of pot. The resolution was a watered-down version of one that originally proposed to legalize the drug.

Adopted by the ABA's policy-making House of Delegates, the marijuana proposal was debated 45 minutes before an amended version was approved.

A statement was added by the group saying the ABA "deplores use of marijuana." The resolution then passed with only a scattering of "no" votes. The group backed away from an original proposal calling for repeal of all federal, state and local laws "punishing personal use or simple possession of marijuana" and licensing the distribution of pot.

GM trims $31 off car price

DETROIT (UPI)—General Motors Corp. has bowed to government pressure and cut $31 from the extra $85 it planned to charge for 1973 cars and trucks.

GM Chairman Richard C. Gerstenberg, in a letter to Donald Rumsfeld, director of the President's Cost of Living Council, said Thursday that the $31 concession would have gone for "product improvement" and plant safety and environmental costs.

Gerstenberg told Rumsfeld that "there is a serious question of principle involved in your request that General Motors withdraw its requested price increase."

Guest pastor

SHOSHONE—Rev. and Mrs. Paul Winkler, Arvada, Colo., will be featured speakers at the Sunday worship services at Shoshone's First Baptist Church.

Rev. Winkler, a former Shoshone pastor, is a native of Twin Falls, and while visiting relatives there this week, has appeared as a guest speaker at the Shoshone church throughout the past week.

Morning worship services are at 11 a.m. and the evening service is at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Ford Motor Co., which had remained silent prior to the GM letter, said in a one-line statement that it had asked for and received "time to consider" Rumsfeld's request to back down on a price hike. Ford had asked for a $92 price hike.

The rollback request came after auto executives and Nixon administration officials met earlier in the week in Washington.

Chrysler Chairman Lynn A. Townsend has attacked the government's request for a rollback.

American Motors Corp., smallest of the major automakers, has told Rumsfeld AMC would forego increases "attributed to 'economic costs' of labor and materials, but "we cannot withdraw the request for the federally mandated product changes." That would amount to a $78 increase for AMC cars, rather than the $146 the company had requested.

Horoscope

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, AUGUST 19, 1972

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You have an entirely new and different point of view which, along with the advice and approval of an important executive, can put you at the top of the heap. You are able to express with confidence and ease the ideas and plans of action under which you envision greater success in the future.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Plan some trip that will get you out of that rut you have been in for a long time, and make important changes. Make new contacts who can prove to be fascinating company and help you have greater success in the future.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Your intuition is working accurately now and you can deal with others successfully, making it a program of mutual helpfulness. Out with mate in p.m. to a new place and have fun. Avoid those with whom you have nothing in common.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): You can come to a true meeting of minds with associates if you state your ideas clearly and well. Greater success will then be possible in the future. Go out to some public activity later that can be most enjoyable.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): Ideal day to get busy at tasks that are difficult to do during work week. Take the time for shopping for new clothes you want and need. Resting and relaxing is fine in the evening.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Out to the sites where you can be with people you truly like and have a delightful time. Do your utmost to make closest ties happy. Your mate needs your absolute devotion now, so be sure to give it.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Make those changes and improvements to your home that will increase its charm and efficiency. Entertain in p.m., and get the approval and goodwill of others. Think constructively.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): You can now have those conversations with others that will help them understand your finest ideas and goals, then they will cooperate with you. Attend to errands and travel plans. Handle important correspondence.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Get figures and facts that will help you have more money in the near future, which you feel you deserve. Confer with a business expert and receive right advice. Don't take so much abuse from a close tie.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): You are looking very charming today and can gain the favors you want from others in easily. Goad about socially and have a delightful time, make new friends. Dress in your finest style.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Contact people who can give you the added knowledge you desire which is necessary for your advancement. Confidentially investigate plans that soon will require action on your part so you will be well prepared. Grow.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): You can be your sociable self now, make wonderful new friends and please present friends as well. Accepting some invitation to a group affair is wise. Otherwise, give a party yourself and have fun.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): A fine day to proceed with some civic or career activity that will put you ahead of others. Show your finest talents. Make out those checks that will give your credit a fine boost.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY: He or she will be one of those fascinating young people whose thinking covers just about everything imaginable, but could lose many friends early in life because of the blessed bluntness in his nature. Teach to use diplomacy, and then the life becomes very successful because of the tremendous understanding and intellect. The field of government would be ideal here, or other positions where much responsibility can be assumed.

"The Stars Impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

What's What

L. M. Boyd

Some migraine headaches, contend the science boys, are brought on by the eating of chocolate, cheese and oranges.

CRYSTALLIZE all the salt in the seas. Spread it evenly over the earth. What do you get? A pickled planet in a shell of salt 150 feet thick.

A TWIN rarely makes a good husband. Or so says an embittered woman who married one such. So much attention is showered on those mirror images as youngsters, who claims, they're apt to turn self-centered, conceited and temperamental when grown up.

QUERIES

Q. "What sort of clothing fabric lasts longest?"

A. Don't know about the synthetics. They're too new. But a batch of linen still in good shape was turned up sometime back after 5,000 years in an Egyptian tomb.

Q. "Could a honeybee fly around the world?"

A. Presumably. Over a land route, at any rate. It flies twice that far to collect a pound of honey.

"THE Sagittarius most usually has an affinity for the land," avers our Planet man, "and is apt to acquire great wealth through real estate."

BLONDES

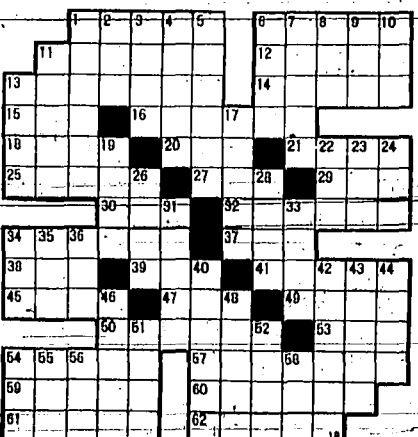

Another little known fact is more than half the girls in this country are born blonde. Just 55 per cent, to be specific. Most grow into brunettes. But later, later. No evidence indicates they then have less fun.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q—I hold 220 shares of Coca-Cola Bottling of New York (NYSE). Should I hold?—A.M.

A—The 4-fold rise in the shares' value over the past 30 months, as well as the rich 35¢ PE, multiple accorded them, increases the stocks' near-term downside risk. Over the long term, however, shares of this soft drink franchiser have excellent growth potential. Two relatively recent acquisitions, Mogen David Wine and Coca-Cola of Puerto Rico, are particularly promising. The former acquired in 1970, increased sales 40 per cent in 1971, versus 17 per cent for the wine industry as a whole. A newly introduced light wine "Cold Bear" has been highly successful, necessitating a $12 million expansion of plant capacity. The Puerto Rican merger, completed late in 1971, should contribute to profits this year. Sales of soft drinks in this Caribbean territory are expected to grow at least 10 per cent annually.

Although capitalization was enlarged by an 800,000 share offering last year prior to the split, total capitalization is conservative with 11 million common shares and $1.1 million in long-term debt outstanding. An institutional favorite, some 19 funds hold 2.8 million or 25 per cent of the common stock. Shares may be held for the long pull with new commitments recommended in periods of weakness.

Q—Do you foresee a comeback in First Surety Corp. (OTC) shares?—V.W.

2 people injured in wreck

TWIN FALLS — Two people were treated and released from Magic Valley Memorial Hospital Wednesday night after a two-car collision on State Highway 74 near Consumer's Market.

Idaho State Police Officer Bill Green said Donna Jean Brown, 26, Twin Falls, was backing her car from a driveway onto the highway when a car driven by Richard Lee Kechter, 24, Rupert, collided broadside with it. Green said the Brown vehicle had stalled in the roadway.

Kechter was issued a citation for driving while under the influence of intoxicants and the driver of the other vehicle was cited for backing without due caution, the officer said.

The nation's first executive mansion was a large house on Cherry Street in New York where President Washington resided during his first term.

A—The company is in the midst of a battle for control with Community Bank of Los Angeles which holds 31 per cent of the common stock. A permanent injunction is being sought to prevent First Surety from selling 1,000,000 convertible preferred shares to Harold Drimmer. Had the sale been completed Mr. Drimmer would have had 40 per cent control and Community's share would have been reduced to 19 per cent. Although earnings soared a strong gain in the first quarter, share action failed to reflect the rise. Until the present uncertainty is resolved, share price will probably remain depressed.
