Nixon plans triumphal acceptance of GOP bid

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—In a triumphal appearance before the Republican Convention President Nixon will accept his third GOP presidential nomination tonight with an elaborate review of his foreign policy record—but apparently without any major announcement on Vietnam.

While Nixon worked this morning on the final phrases of his speech, an estimated 4,500 demonstrators plotted to ring the perimeters of convention hall. They hoped to so disrupt the entryways that Nixon would deliver his speech to a half-empty auditorium.

But police were ready too. So were 3,300 National Guard and regular Army soldiers who have been on standby, positioned a few minutes from the area, if the demonstrators' final stand strikes violence with the convention's final session.

White House sources cautioned reporters against anticipating any bombshell-type announcement on the war, despite last week's activity when Nixon's foreign policy adviser, Henry A. Kissinger, visited Paris for private peace talks and then went to Saigon to confer with South Vietnamese leaders.

Kissinger himself said there would be no "spectaculars" in Nixon's acceptance speech, which is expected to last about a half hour. Other sources said it would concentrate on "what we've done—and what we plan to do."

As for Vietnam, Kissinger said, "We are making a very deliberate and a very serious effort. We are not going to say anything of substance about these talks."

Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., said Nixon told him his speech would deal "heavily" with foreign policy.

Even without a major development on the war, Nixon is expected to deal extensively with Southeast Asia—particularly the Vietnam troop level of some 40,000 compared to more than a half million when he took office.

Communist spokesmen at Paris talks labeled as "entirely false" a statement by Secretary of State William P. Rogers—subsequently partly disavowed by the White House—that peace was possible by fall.

Beyond Vietnam, Nixon is likely to review his global peacekeeping missions to China and Russia—a theme which has pervaded the three days of the convention.

Nixon apparently planned to view the renomination of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew from the seclusion of his Key Biscayne villa and then take a helicopter to the convention center.

Police and other security forces were already taking precautions to see that his aircraft lands as far removed as possible from protest groups outside on the street.

Agnew remained in seclusion in a home loaned to him by a wealthy Miami businessman, working on his speech and playing tennis.

On the morning after his renomination—unanimous except for a single vote that New Mexico was required to cast for Paul N. McCloskey—Nixon studied and worked alone at his villa 10 miles from the convention scene.

The rest of his family was politicking actively along the beach, however. First Lady Pat Nixon, who has been highly visible since arriving last weekend, visited the Florida delegation this morning and told them:

Protesters gird to disrupt GOP

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Demonstrators rallied their forces today for an attempt to confront President Nixon with a half-empty hall when he delivers his acceptance speech at the Republican National Convention.

Miami Beach Police Chief Rocky Pomerance said he hoped he would not have to call upon 3,000 Florida National Guardsmen and 2,500 federal troops being held in reserve in case the disorders are too much for regular law enforcement officers to control at the final session of the GOP convention tonight.

"We expect some more testing," the police chief said. "I hope we can do it with our civilian police. But I just don't know."

Pomerance admitted it was "very nasty out there" Tuesday night when antiwar protesters laid siege to the GOP convention hall, jeering and otherwise harassing delegates and tying up traffic.

Earlier demonstrators had roamed through the streets of this resort city, smashing windows, cursing pedestrians, pounding on passing cars, and looting a beer truck and a liquor store.

Police made 210 arrests. State troopers, assisted by marine patrol officers, arrested 206 persons near the Convention Hall Tuesday afternoon and police jailed four more Tuesday night.

Policemen and demonstrators alike anticipate many more arrests tonight when a massive campaign of civil disobedience, carefully orchestrated to provoke arrests, will be carried out.

Demonstrators intend to blockade streets and possibly hotel lobbies to prevent delegates from getting to the Convention Hall.

The confrontation Tuesday night when keyed-up demonstrators pounded and damaged cars of convention-goers was the most serious so far.

Pomerance said that "strangely, the hostility was not directed at police. We had police directing traffic on corners and they (demonstrators) were very friendly to them."

"But it sure was directed at the people inside (the delegates)."

The first march Tuesday moved in the morning from the protesters' campground at Flamingo Park to the Fontainebleau, where a brunch was being held for Mrs. Pat Nixon and Republican women.

Mrs. Nixon entered the hotel through a side door, avoiding the protesters. After a round of picketing and speech-making, state troopers forced the protesters down Collins Avenue.

Schools launch support drive

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls schools began Tuesday rounding up support for a proposed $3.3 million of new buildings. Letters were mailed to 80 organizations in the district soliciting members for a large citizens' committee to advise the district on what should be built.

Supt. George Staudaher said Tuesday the organizations were asked to choose their own representatives rather than the district choosing membership in the large committee. He said such a procedure would be most representative.

According to Staudaher, the committee will make recommendations directly to the school trustees. In addition, an executive committee consisting of three trustees will work with the larger citizens' committee and architectural consultants. The letter solicited the "frank opinions" on projected district building needs.

The school trustees earlier had set Dec. 5 as a tentative date for a school bond election for new building. The citizens' committee could meet for the first time Sept. 20.

According to Staudaher, the district's unused bonding capacity is about $3.3 million, which would provide an upward limit on the size of any proposed bond election.

Staudaher had proposed replacement of Washington School and the Happy Day School, and construction of additional classrooms in the district. Land acquisition for a future school site south of the city was also recommended.

Idaho delegation goes with winners

By DWIGHT JENSEN
Special to the Times-News

MIAMI BEACH — Idaho's delegation voted with the winners on every question before the Republican National Convention Tuesday, then spent today relaxing.

Lieut. Gov. Jack Murphy said if the Idahoans could have gone over the national platform plank by plank, "we would probably have rewritten 80 or 90 per cent of it."

The delegation supported it unanimously although some found it too liberal and some considered it too conservative.

The delegation was pleased with the outcome of the floor fight on apportioning delegates to the 1976 convention. The rules committee report was adopted and the amendment was defeated. The result gives extra strength to small states and Idaho, which now has 14 votes in the convention, will have at least that many in 1976. If it goes into the Nixon column this fall as expected Idaho will have at least 19 and could have as many as 23 in 1976.

The delegation supported the only plank that was added to the platform, that one opposes the termination of Indian reservations. That amendment was pushed under the leadership of 22-year-old Anne Coleman, blue eyed blonde Choctaw Indian from Oklahoma.

The delegation voted against another suggested plank which would have demanded a balanced federal budget. It was defeated.

There are 33 Idahoans among 3,000 young voters who are in Miami Beach. Three of them participated in the floor demonstration for Richard Nixon. They carried a large sign plugging Idaho potatoes.

After the Tuesday night session, Idaho delegates celebrated with a small party in their hotel. Today, with no afternoon session scheduled, they spent the day relaxing, swimming and sightseeing. One group took a tour as far away as Key West.

A few of the Idahoans caught a glimpse of Tuesday's street demonstrations but the demonstrators affected them mostly in forcing traffic to be rerouted. This meant that the normal $1.50 taxi ride from the hotel to the convention hall cost $2.50. The taxi drivers did not seem to mind.

In fact, one cab driver complained that the Democratic convention was better because there were more people and because the police looked the other way when drivers charged extra fares.

"Now they are enforcing the law," he said. "I don't like that. I'd rather make $10 dollars on a $5 fare any day," he said.

Russians scan pact

MOSCOW (UPI)—A meeting of the bicameral Soviet legislature convened today to discuss the Strategic Arms Limitation Treaty (SALT) signed in Moscow during President Nixon's May visit, the Tass news agency said today.

Most Soviet treaties, once signed, are ratified as a matter of course. Treaties which the Soviets consider of special importance are often discussed and analyzed publicly to dramatize their significance.

Smuggling denied

PEKING (UPI)—Communist Chinese health officials denied today that China is engaged in smuggling narcotics into Southeast Asia and the United States in an attempt to "subvert the populations" as charged.

The denial was made in a lengthy interview with two top officials of Peking's Public Health Department.

"These charges are absolutely not true," said Ching Ping, one of the officials. "China does not permit illegal narcotics. Those who make such slanders and who try to vilify the daily increasing prestige of the People's Republic of China have ulterior motives."

Ching, and another official, Chang Yin-ting, accused the West of introducing drugs to China.

Charging that the "imperialists" carried out "aggression and oppression" of the Chinese people, they said that "one of the most pernicious forms was to poison the Chinese people with opium for more than a hundred years."

Price cuts legal

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A rollback of prices or refunds to customers could free some companies from restrictions on profit margins, the Price Commission has ruled.

Commission Chairman C. Jackson Grayson Jr. said "everybody gains" under the regulation. "Consumers win because there are reductions in price or direct refunds. And the company comes out ahead because it is allowed flexibility in its profit margins. We hope this ideal spreads."

The profit margin rule was adopted Tuesday to encourage firms to earn higher income by increasing sales.

Security measures impressive

MIAMI BEACH — Tight security at the Republican National Convention has been one of the most impressive aspects of the event to Jay Runk, Twin Falls.

In a telephone interview, Runk — a page for the Idaho delegation — said the security is "so tight you don't go anywhere without a floor pass. Lose that and you don't go anywhere."

He termed the Secret Service "unbelievable," saying there are several Secret Service men on every entrance and at the gate to the convention center. In addition, there are Miami Beach police and troops outside for riot control.

"It has been a real good experience," Runk said. His duties as page include taking messages to convention leaders and key Republican Party figures. He was in the caucus with Idaho and Louisiana delegation members Tuesday morning when a group of demonstrators attempted to enter and tore down a sign over the door before being dispersed.

"It's given me a real feeling of satisfaction," Runk said. "I'm glad I had the chance to get down and help launch President Nixon's re-election campaign. It's been a lot of hard work but it's really great."

When taking messages across the convention floor, pages have been instructed to avoid passing in front of the podium or using an aisle behind it, apparently because of television coverage arrangements. That means, he said, they often have to take the long way around.

Concerning the demonstrators, Runk said the young people at the convention "just laugh at them."

"Some of it is so ridiculous it's kind of funny," he said. "For instance, one guy will come down the street and ask you, 'Do you know North Vietnam is being bombed right now?'"

Wyoming primary to broker

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (UPI) — Bill Kidd, a 28-year-old stockbroker who won Tuesday's Republican primary for Wyoming's lone congressional seat, said he will win in November because of Democratic presidential nominee George McGovern.

"I can tell you that Sen. McGovern is totally unpalatable to the people of Wyoming," Kidd said following his victory over three other candidates.

Church visits in Tel Aviv

TEL AVIV (UPI) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said Tuesday Sen. George S. McGovern plans to strengthen the U. S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean if he is elected president.

Arriving for a five-day visit during which he was scheduled to meet Prime Minister Golda Meir, Church said McGovern "will give understanding help toward peace efforts in the Middle East if he is elected in November.

"At the same time, he would maintain an American naval presence in the Mediterranean," Church said.

"He has committed himself to the maintenance of two aircraft carriers and their escort vessels, which is similar to the deployment under the present administration, and, in fact, foresees a time when he would actually increase the number of attack submarines in the Mediterranean," he said.

The United States maintains two attack submarines among its 36 warships in the Mediterranean and the Soviet Union maintains between six and 10, according to the International Institute for Strategic Studies.

Gem health unit law upheld

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Supreme Court Tuesday upheld the constitutionality of legislation which created seven public health districts in Idaho. Certain officials in Twin Falls County early in 1972 asserted that the act passed during the 1970 session of the legislature was unconstitutional. The county commissioners had refused to pay certain money to the public health district and the district board. This initiated the original action in the Supreme Court to force the payment of the money.

The legislation in question provides for the organization of the districts and provides that the chairman of the county commissioners within the health district compose the budget committee of the health district.

In a divided opinion, the state high court held that the legislation was constitutional. Justice Allan G. Shepard wrote the majority opinion stating that the principle of the "one man one vote" cases did not apply.

Justice Charles R. Donaldson dissented from the majority opinion and Justice Robert E. Bakes concurred in the dissent. It concluded that the public health district legislation gave one county commission the authority to levy taxes in another county in violation of the constitution and in effect creating a super state agency.

TF workshop planned by mental health unit

TWIN FALLS — A mental health workshop will be conducted in Twin Falls Nov. 9-11 with a Lutheran minister as featured speaker.

Plans for the event were formulated Tuesday night at a meeting of the Twin Falls County Mental Health Association at the Episcopal church.

Rev. Albert Allen, of the Ascension Episcopal church, chairman for the three-day event, said all persons interested in mental health problems are invited.

Dr. John Fabian, Seattle, pastor who has had experience in the mental health field, is scheduled as guest leader. Open sessions, interest groups and discussion are planned.

Rev. Allen said the workshop should serve to educate the community to mental health needs and alert them to opportunity for volunteer work when the proposed regional mental health center becomes a reality.

Roger Abernathy, board member, reported on operation of the Hot Line in Twin Falls and said there is continuing need of volunteers willing to attend training sessions. A crisis intervention group is also being developed, he said.

He said a committee of the regional mental health board is screening applicants for the position of program director who will complete writing the grant for the South Central Idaho Mental Health Center.

Roy Slotten and Mrs. Byron Harris, Hansen, treasurer of the county mental health association, reported attending a United Fund session. The county mental health group will meet again Sept. 18.

TF firemen kept busy by 5 calls

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls Fire Department, answered five calls Tuesday and early today, most of which resulted in little or no damage.

At 8:45 a.m. Tuesday, firemen were called to 601 Second Ave. S., where they extinguished a car fire. Engine wiring and the carburetor were damaged.

Fire trucks responded to two calls at 4:45 p.m. Tuesday. One was for a trash fire in the back yard at 149 Tyler where the blaze was confined to weeds and old lumber. No damage resulted.

The other call was to the former College of Southern Idaho library building at the end of Harrison Street where a tree was on fire. There was no damage.

At 7 p.m. Tuesday, police requested assistance in cleaning potato pulp from the highway at the intersection of Locust Street and Kimberly Road. The pulp had spilled from a truck. Fire department personnel washed the road.

At 6 a.m. today, police asked for assistance in removing battery cables from a car disabled in an accident at Fourth Avenue North and Fourth Street West.

Highway use

NEW YORK (UPI) — Streets and roads in the United States occupy less than one per cent of the country's total land area, according to the Highway Users Federation. In urban areas, the average is 25 to 30 per cent, about the same as before the automobile was invented.

Pair top Alaskan returns

JUNEAU, Alaska (UPI) — Republican Senator Ted Stevens and Democratic Rep. Nick Begich rolled up impressive vote totals as early returns trickled in from Tuesday's Alaska primary election.

Returns from four southeastern Alaska districts gave Stevens 5,979 votes while Democrat Eugene Guess, speaker of the Alaska House of Representatives, had 2,700. They'll square off in November.

Stevens was appointed to his present post by former Gov. Walter Hickel when the late Sen. E.L. "Bob" Bartlett died in 1969. Now Stevens is running for the full six-year term.

Democrat Begich had 7,097 votes from the four districts to lock up nomination for another two-year term. He'll face Republican State Sen. Don Young of Fort Yukon, who had 1,657 votes in the primary.

Three Eskimos, all Democrats, are vying for the Alaska House of Representatives seat for District 19, a piece of land bigger than the state of California.

Among the three is Brenda Itta, 28, first Eskimo woman in Alaska history to run for the legislature.

Sawtooth ecology meet set Monday

TWIN FALLS — A public meeting on ecological factors of the proposed Sawtooth National Recreation Area will be at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the College of Southern Idaho.

Sawtooth Forest officials said the meeting will be held in the Shields Academic Building.

The meeting is one of several scheduled in the Sawtooth Recreation Area vicinity this month. It will feature reports on extensive inventories of soil, vegetation, water, scenery, land form, pristine conditions, interpretive features and fish and animal habitats.

The inventory will become the basis for land use plans which will be developed with public participation for the proposed SNRA and the Wood River, Lost River and East Fork Salmon River drainages, said Sawtooth Forest Supervisor, Ed Fournier.

Reports will be given by Kermit Larson, soils scientist; Dr. Edward Schlatterer, ecologist; Bill Platts, fishery biologist; Frank Gunnell, wildlife biologist, and Art Sella, interpretive planner. The public will be given an opportunity to comment and ask questions.

Compact proposed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Orval Hansen, R-Idaho, today explored the possibility of forming a bi-state compact commission to help solve ecological problems at Bear Lake on the Idaho-Utah border.

Hansen met at St. Charles to discuss the future of the lake with Reps. Sherman Lloyd, R-Utah, Gunn, McKay, D-Utah, and James A. McClure, R-Idaho, as well as other federal, state and local officials.

The meeting was a follow-up to a hearing Hansen and Lloyd conducted last year to focus attention on the potentially serious pollution problems facing the area because of poorly planned development.

Republicans Eye McGovern's Problems

WASHINGTON — As the Republicans launch President Nixon on his reelection campaign in untidy Miami Beach, they cannot be blamed for harboring the wishful thought that George McGovern has acquired a couple of new problems named Ramsey Clark and Sargent Shriver.

Despite the convention rhetoric and the polls, Nixon is no shoo-in. He's still got a war on his hands and the economy remains uncertain. But both Clark and Shriver have managed to suggest that on the Vietnam issue the Democrats may be suffering from a credibility gap.

Clark returned from a two-week visit to Hanoi to tell reporters in San Francisco North Vietnamese officials had informed him U.S. prisoners-of-war would be released "when we stop this senseless bombing and get on with the business of peace." Next day, he declared "either I misspoke or I was misquoted," then explained he was convinced the PW's would be freed upon "full settlement of the war."

Well now. That fuller explanation offered by Lyndon Johnson's Attorney General is a different package of goods. In fact, what Hanoi's Foreign Minister Nguyen Duy Trinh told Clark was that his government's conditions are unchanged. That is to say, U.S. prisoners will be freed only after an overall political and military settlement on North Vietnamese terms. Merely stopping the bombing and getting on with the business of peace will not satisfy Hanoi, Clark finally got around to admitting.

Then there is Clark's disclosure that Hanoi's most politically powerful editor told him all American prisoners would be freed within 90 days if McGovern is elected President.

That's a two-edged sword. McGovern can argue that only his election will assure release of the prisoners. But the Nixon forces already have labeled McGovern "Hanoi's Candidate;" and although voters are a much more sophisticated lot these days, a lot of them will do some thinking about whether they are being asked to do the Communists' bidding in the polling booth.

McGovern, of course, is about as Red as the Chase Manhattan Bank, but no matter politics is not a Girl Scout cool aid.

Meanwhile, Sarge Shriver's charge that Nixon "blew" a chance to make peace in Vietnam is in conflict with the calendar. Shriver has said the North Vietnamese made a "peace signal" by withdrawing several regular divisions from South Vietnam in the late summer and early fall of 1968. Thus, said Shriver, Nixon had a golden opportunity "to achieve peace in Vietnam."

Possibly. But in the late summer and early fall of 1968 Lyndon Johnson was still President — the same Lyndon Johnson who appointed Shriver ambassador to Paris. If Shriver is to be believed, Johnson had at least three months to seize that "golden opportunity" and go out in a blaze of glory. The suggestion that Johnson ignored Hanoi's "peace signal" at a time when he was under attack for escalating the war is simply preposterous.

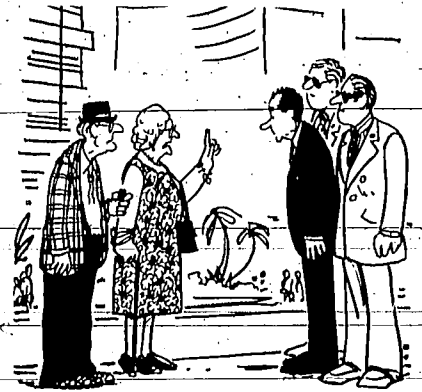

At any rate, there is a temptation to conclude that Shriver didn't know what he was talking about. He was in no position to be in on peace negotiations; he was strictly a Kennedy family ornament plucked by Johnson to adorn his administration.

Besides, as Secretary of State Rogers has noted, there was nothing to stop Shriver from calling either Johnson or Nixon with his good news.

In sum, it's a ruddy mess. Both sides will be using their own version of the Clark-Shriver "revolutions" to advance their own campaigns, and this can only result in added confusion among the electorate about a political issue that is too important to be left to politicians. In such a tawdry situation, what this country needs most is not a five-cent cigar but a nice, infallible lie detecting machine.

BERRY'S WORLD

"You young whippersnappers behave yourselves while you're here, now!"

Balanced Economy

A strictly planned economy is absolutely necessary, according to the socialists and communists, to balance the economic factors of a nation. The free enterprise economy of the United States, they argue, leaves too much of the decision-making power in the "selfish" hands of producers who make the goods and consumers who buy them.

In their view, it is the function of the state to make the decisions so economic growth is achieved and economic development is balanced according to such factors as geography, products and population.

The frequent emergency shifts in Soviet productive and economic activities have shown for nearly half a century that the dreamed-of balance has never been reached.

On the contrary, however, history has shown that the less controlled economy of the United States is in a constant process of balancing. The growth of individual factors is geared to total economic growth and need. And, when an emergency such as war does arise, the sound base which has been built can be adjusted to meet all emergencies.

The economic structure of the country is becoming uniform, with each section equipped to produce virtually all types of goods and services. Concentrations of the past — stockyards in Chicago, steel in Pittsburgh, for example — are disappearing.

The diversification taking place is in itself a balancing factor for future growth and future stability. Just as a diversified company survives change better, and is better able to redistribute its productive people and assets, so will the nation benefit from regional diversification.

One reason for depressed areas is that emphasis on one industry allows no room for adjustment.

In our area if agriculture goes out, there is no place for people or capital to go. As the economic diversity of our region increases, such shifts become possible with a minimum of loss.

This is why local community and civic leaders are at work securing — and attempting to secure — new, and clean, industries for our area. In Magic Valley these plans are now bearing fruit. — OAK.

Priorities

As expected, President Nixon kept his word to veto inflationary appropriations and the House supported his action on the $30.5 billion Health, Education and Welfare bill as reckless spending of $1.8 billion in excess of budget requests.

Also as expected, some Democrats wept campaign crocodile tears. Senator George McGovern said the veto showed Nixon "has a confused set of values." Speaker Carl Albert called the veto "another example of the low priority" the administration places on Health, Education and Welfare.

Some Democrats supported the President. George McMahon, Texas Democrat who heads the House Appropriations Committee, said he supported the veto because "I think the bill is higher than can be justified."

Union teachers and the National Education Association flailed the veto as showing "callous disregard for the needs of the nation's children."

The needs of the nation's parents, alarmed over continued government deficit spending, inflation, and the prospect of higher taxes, merit consideration. Furthermore, a budget in the range of $29 billion is an astronomical distance from "callous disregard of children's needs."

President Nixon said excessive congressional spending "just cannot be done without more taxes or more inflation, both of which I am determined to avoid."

That is plain logic, not "a confused set of values."

MR. SPECTATOR

Thoughts While Sitting

Have you noticed that it is getting colder these mornings?

In the afternoon and evenings prior to these mornings you have the old air conditioner going to cool off the place — then after the nightly snooze you wake up in the morning and the place is cold. Almost cold enough to turn up the heat! So it will not be long, my friends.

You will excuse Mr. Spectator for doing this, but we have something we want to remember. Friday just happens to be our wedding anniversary and we do not want to forget it. So we are putting this little note in today's column so it will serve as a reminder when we read it. Once or twice down through the years we did forget the anniversary — with dire consequences. But not this time. How many years have Mr. and Mrs. Spectator been hitched? You will never guess, so we will be the last to tell you — but we will say that if we had it to do over again we would pick the same gal.

Can Haight-Ashbury survive its past? That the question is asked at all is evidence that it can, and is doing so. The most famous haven for the flower children and hippies of the early 1960's, which became one of the most crime-ridden, drug filled communities in more recent years, is on the rebound.

Reported crime in the rundown section of San Francisco is down 68 per cent in one year, compared to a 20 per cent decline citywide. Where the vacancy rate in the main business district was 40 per cent a year ago, today it is only half that. Nor is Haight-Ashbury so run-down anymore. Throughout the district there is evidence of people moving back, fixing up and cleaning up accumulated debris. As one businessman who lived through the depths of Haight-Ashbury's decline described it, the new spirit of rejuvenation is contagious.

What brought about the change is something of a mystery. The hippy colony still exists, though it is much smaller and less noticeable now. Crime is still present, but it is no longer unsafe to walk the streets. A spark of transformation appeared in the last year and Haight-Ashbury now is busy burying its past.

Mr. Spectator remembers the first time he saw that area — and the more recent time. The difference is there.

Editor, Times-News:

This is an open letter to the resident-citizens of Twin Falls county.

In the editorial section of the Times-News on Aug. 15 there was an editorial titled "No Objections" concerning the present Sen. Bayh bill (S-2507) to make the sale of the so-called "Saturday Night Special" illegal. As written by the Times-News editor it seems to me like he is trying to put the words in the mouths of the residents of Twin Falls county and the entire Magic Valley.

(Editor's Note: The editorial in question stood in favor of the adoption of the gun bill as introduced by Sen. Bayh but against any legislation which would require registration of personal guns or any other regulations which would prohibit private citizens from having guns in their own possession or in their homes. Senator Bayh's bill would eliminate sale of the easily obtained and "cheap" so-called Saturday Night Specials.)

At no time in the past to the best of my knowledge has there ever been a poll, survey or any other means to determine: "What the residents thoughts have been" along the lines of the Bayh anti-gun bill as it is written.

Even though this bill has now passed the U.S. Senate, there is still the chance that it will fail in the House, because of the very way this bill has been wrote up by Senator Bayh, which will not only take the cheap unsafe junker handgun off the market, but, will also take away some of the best made handguns in the same bill. Bayh's bill is a deliberate attempt to get a handgun bill passed without regard to the condition or who manufactured it. This is nothing but a step-by-step scheme for more infringement on the right to keep and bear arms by the anti-gun lobby. Actually, there is no gun, nor ever was a gun designated as such by gun manufacturers. The term "Saturday night special" was coined by the Detroit police in describing a cheaply made small caliber handgun, priced in the $10 to $20 dollar bracket which is supposed to make it easily accessible.

It should be quite obvious that the Bayh bill (S-2507) designation is only a ploy to pass more restrictive gun legislation with the aim being complete eventual confiscation of ALL firearms at a later date. If this legislation, outlawed cheap quality handguns, crime would not be deterred one iota.

We would merely have criminals armed with better-made weapons having more accuracy and less apt to misfire than the cheap junkers. Besides that, in no time at all bootleg markets in illegal guns would spring up all over the country, and these handguns wouldn't be traceable as the one's now sold by legal dealers who keep records of sales.

There is a paradox in this country today; On one hand we have the Federal government bureaucracy taking away the rights of free men to keep and bear arms, for self protection or what ever the reason, and on the other hand the federal courts making free men of criminals.

In no uncertain terms we better warn our congressman and senators that we will not tolerate them surrendering the right of free men. Without these rights we will not remain free. Its as simple as that! Many of these people are working under the guise of politico-religious, and politico-social in the open, but underneath are really Politico-Military, so that no citizen of the U.S. will own a firearm to ever be able to defend himself, against foreign or domestic intervention, which ever the case may be.

The "Hero of Chapquiduck" Ted Kennedy has continuously proposed registration of ALL firearms at every session of the senate.

The Senator Birch Bayh bill (S-2507) to hit at the "Saturday night special" is not a good one by any means. To stop the assembly and importation of this type of handgun can be controlled by other administrative units of the federal government which will not infringe on the people's right to keep and bear arms. Duties high enough on the parts or fully assembled guns could completely stop their sales in a very short time. As a result, the so-called "Saturday Night Special" handgun would completely disappear. But, this would be too simple, besides, this method wouldn't give the anti-gun factions the open door for complete confiscation, which is their ultimate goal, the "Saturday night Special" is only the beginning of that series.

If the people continue to act in an apathetic manner concerning this inferior gun legislation, which in reality is Death, divorce and hard times do not come to all equally. Have you been in any of these "2nd class citizen's" homes and listened to their stories?

Some women have well to do parents, when their time of trouble comes, they can go home for help. Either financially or influentially to get jobs, or they have been provided good educations and are able to help themselves.

Others have no one to whom they can turn when their world suddenly comes apart. Their parents love them just as much, but are barely getting by themselves and simply cannot take on the additional burden.

You said "you could not imagine anyone in our agricultural areas of Idaho starving to death." Have you seen any ads in your Gooding Leader for free agricultural products to be given away to those who need them? I for one, and I'm sure others, would be glad to receive less in welfare and have this fresh produce for my children.

But I would have to accept this charity from those who consider me a "2nd class citizen."

We have our pride and can find fault with our own. We know those that make it hard for the rest of us, but we don't know each of their individual situations, so we don't judge so harshly.

not "gun control" but "People Control", for after all it takes people to control inanimate objects, and that is what a handgun is; We are eventually going to be stuck with one of these bills. With one thing to remember, once passed, they are hard to repeal, sometimes never. Our only action is to write our congressman and senators stating our views, without that, they can only follow their own judgement. Think it over!

Editor, Times-News:

We, the undersigned citizens, endorse Mr. Taggart's views on welfare as expressed in his letter published in the August 13 issue of the Times-News.

We are "fed up" with both Federal and State Welfare Abuse by the recipients and administrators of these programs.

Our state and Federal legislators and congressmen will do well to take note.

(Editor's note: Three communications were received by the Editor of the Times-News. They were mailed from Gooding and were signed by 58 individuals. It was our intent to publish the names of the signers but some of the signatures (as signatures manytimes are) were hard to read. Rather than misspell a name and because it would not be right to print some names without leaving others out, a decision was made to leave them all out. However, the original letters are being kept at the Times-News and a copy of them will be sent to interested people if a request is made to the Editor. The request should state briefly the reason why such a request is made.)

2nd Class Citizen?

Editor, Times-News:

This is an open letter to the Times-News and to Mr. Taggart.

Having just read your letter in the Times-News, I am of mixed emotions.

We are neither right nor wrong all the time, but neither are we God.

Who are you to judge; who sat you on the throne and gave you the right to determine that one person is better than another?

Who gave you the right to call another human a "2nd class citizen"?

I am one of "your" 2nd class citizens and no one has ever called me that to my face.

Death, divorce and hard times do not come to all equally. Have you been in any of these "2nd class citizen's" homes and listened to their stories?

Some women have well to do parents, when their time of trouble comes, they can go home for help. Either financially or influentially to get jobs, or they have been provided good educations and are able to help themselves.

Others have no one to whom they can turn when their world suddenly comes apart. Their parents love them just as much, but are barely getting by themselves and simply cannot take on the additional burden.

system itself. There are those in our society who take advantage of any type of situation.

Whether it be welfare, social security, unemployment, insurance or any of the other agencies in which government deals.

I see many overweight, slovenly dressed, dirty, unkempt, persons in your town who aren't on welfare. They also complain that they haven't anything. They could live differently if they chose to.

Most welfare people have at sometime or another worked, paid taxes, and just maybe 1 out of 10 of these are still working. They are also Ben Mothers, Church members, P. T. A. members. They also babysit the "1st class citizen's" children so that they can go out in the evenings.

In a large city you will find a number of those who breed more for the welfare rolls but you will find very few of those in our rural communities.

You seem to feel that you, alone pay taxes.

What about the parents, brothers, sisters, aunts, uncles, grandparents of these Welfare Mothers, they pay taxes. Maybe this is the only way they are able to help their loved ones.

To you realize that the man who fails to support his wife and children and the father who sends no support, pays taxes. The government sees to that. You say there are divorcees who qualify, but prefer to work. There are Welfare Mothers who want to work, who lack the education and experience and opportunity.

What do you offer them? It might surprise you to know that some of your "1st class citizens" have friends who are "2nd class citizens" and are happy to do their small part to help.

You feel these "2nd class citizens" must work and contribute to the community. How many of the average working force of women in Gooding are women supporting themselves and children? How many are women whose children are at home? How many are wives of Gooding's leading citizens and business men? These women have the time and the ability to contribute to the community in other ways beside working.

In a small town there are only a limited number of jobs available.

Have Mrs. Taggart pretend to go to work. The average job pays $1.60 an hour. Have her locate good, reliable, trustworthy, clean babysitter to care for your children in the way you would prefer. Let her find out how much this is going to cost.

Then deduct from her so called earnings all the expenses. You will find out she ran out of money before she ran out of bills! She will tell you that it is almost impossible situation.

You ask "Why do I have to? Do you ask why, about foreign aid? Do those people spend their aid more wisely? Do they appreciate it? Do you ask why, the government spends your money killing our fathers, brothers, husbands in Viet Nam, and spends $2 million dollars a day doing it?"

How do you expect these mothers to pay for medical care? They aren't qualified for group insurance provided by companies and corporations. Most of the jobs they do get offer no insurance benefits. Have you checked into private medical insurance? It's not cheap!

Doctors and hospitals do not treat patients free of charge. These Welfare families are entitled to some care.

Mr. Taggart, each and every welfare case is different and each person should be judged on his own merit.

Your letter was a regular God-send to all of us who are ignorant and 2nd class citizens. We're sorry we are not as good as you and we will try to remember this and teach our children to bow and scrape to their betters!

"Don't you believe it; that day will never come! I love my children, I'm proud of them and they will hold their heads high! GOODING WELFARE MOTHER

Farmers gain

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. James A. McClure, R-Idaho, says Americans will gain from allowing farmers the freedom to make more of their own management decisions.

"But we must also not neglect to improve farm life itself through rural development and broad changes in existing agricultural programs. Only in these ways can the farmer begin to have a fair return for his labor and investment," McClure said.

The First District congressman said farm incomes must be raised to a level of comparable measure with returns from urban labor and industries.

State agencies seek construction funds

BOISE (UPI) — State agencies have requested $25.7 million worth of construction for fiscal year 1974 to the Permanent Building Fund Advisory Board.

It is more than five times the available money.

At the suggestion of Rep. Emery Hedlund, D-St. Maries, council members took the material home to study and will make no decisions — even tentative — before their next meeting in September.

Glen Cline to prepare recommendations for best use of existing facilities in the Capitol Mall and whether new construction might be wiser than remodeling to meet burgeoning needs of state for office space.

Public Works Commissioner Max Boesiger told the council at least 140,000 square feet of floor space is needed in the capitol city — including 68,000 square feet on which agencies are paying our $242,000 per year in rentals outside the mall.

He said if the needs are evaluated three years in advance he is certain the requirement will be much more than the present 140,000 square feet.

One of the keys to the space problem is utilizing the old St. Alphonsus Hospital bought by the state.

The legislature had appropriated $250,000 for remodeling of the facility and another $350,000 is being sought for fiscal 1974.

Cline asked the council to take a look at possible long-range planning in the mall and was told to present data concerning costs.

Caldwell chief scores formula

BOISE (UPI) — Jerry L. Evans, Caldwell School District superintendent, says the existing state funding formula for public schools is basically a good one. But Evans said it contains inequities that are neither fair to students nor properly tax payers.

Evans, chairman of a committee studying the formula, said, "We're doing our best to see that Idaho children, regardless of where they live, receive the same educational opportunities.

"We simply must provide some method of greater equalization of funding," he said.

Evans was one of 12 persons appointed by the State Board of Education to make recommendations for school district formula funding and reorganization. The group met Tuesday in Boise.

He said the committee has been going through the existing formula and placing emphasis on those factors which tend to equalize.

Gem lumber mills okay wage hike

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho (UPI) — George Dimico, president of the International Woodworkers of America Local 3-10, said Tuesday about 650 members will receive a 32 cent an hour wage increase, under a new agreement with four area lumber mills.

He said the wage increases will be retroactive to June 1, July 1 and Aug. 1, the anniversary dates of the old working agreements with the firms involved.

Workers went on strike July 6 and forced closure of operations at the Atlas Division of Idaho Forests Industries, Inc., and the Northwest Timber Company, both of Coeur d'Alene.

Also affected were Pack River Lumber Company plants near Sandpoint and Diamond International Corporation's Superior, Montana, lumber operations.

The strike officially ended Monday and settlements between the union and the firms also allows for an initial pension plan, health and welfare benefits and increased vacation benefits.

The first commercial motion picture made in Hollywood was "The Count of Monte Cristo" in 1908.

Lack of deadline worries committee

BOISE (UPI) — A youth advisory committee on elections is concerned about the lack of a deadline for registration under Idaho's new election system.

Sharlene Freeman, Boise, a member at large of the advisory committee, said that without any type of deadline in the recent primary it was possible for an out of state resident to drive into Idaho and vote.

She and other members of the unique committee met at the statehouse Monday with Secretary of State Pete T. Cenarrusa and other election officials to discuss their feeling about new election laws.

Youth committee members include student body presidents of Idaho's five colleges and four Idaho high schools, a representative of the Young Democrats, Young Republicans, League of Women Voters, Jaycees and three non-students elected at large.

Idaho is the only state in the union with such a committee.

Other questions raised by the 15-member committee included suggestions that the number of signatures on an initiative petition be lowered below the present 10 per cent needed to put propositions on the ballot.

Weapons found

CALDWELL (UPI) — Operators of land leveling machines at the Edwin Wolf Ranch north of Caldwell have found a cache of pre-historic Indian weapons and tools.

Included in the cache were a hammering rock, skinning knives, flint and obsidian spear points and arrowheads.

Virginia Cox of the Boise State College Anthropology Department called the discovery "an interesting find."

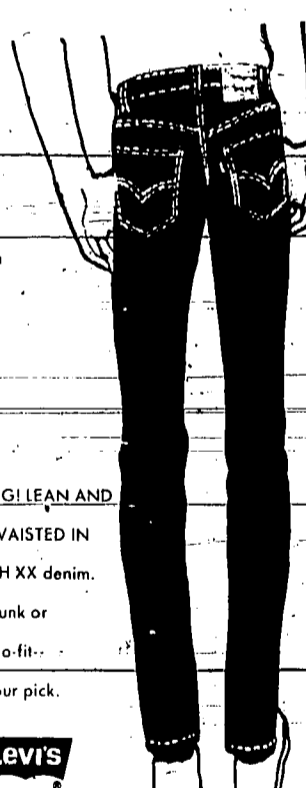

Applications reviewed

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Council for Hospital Construction will meet Thursday to review applications of two hospitals seeking federal Hill-Burton construction grants.

St. Joseph's Hospital in Lewiston is requesting about $3.4 million to construct a new building and remodel part of the present hospital.

Caldwell Memorial Hospital is asking $1.3 million for additions and remodeling.

The meeting has been set for 10 a.m. in the State Office Building.

N. Viets hit DaNang

SAIGON (UPI)—Communist forces threatening South Vietnam's second largest city of Da Nang shelled the city with heavy rockets for the first time in the war and launched attacks on its outer defenses, field reports said.

American jets and B52 bombers flew the largest number of strikes in three months Tuesday. The U.S. command said today. Most of the attacks were aimed at Communist troops threatening South Vietnamese positions in the northern sector.

Military officers at Da Nang said six huge 100mm Soviet-made rockets, the largest conventional rocket in the North Vietnamese inventory, smashed into the city before dawn today, wounding 11 civilians and destroying five homes.

The rockets, with a range of just over six miles (10.5 kilometers) have often been found around Da Nang but never used in an attack on the city itself, military spokesmen said.

North Vietnamese troops attacked a village on key Highway 1 about 15 miles south of Da Nang early today, according to UPI photographer Jeffrey Taylor who passed the village just after dawn.

The attack was beaten off at the cost of "several" government militia troops killed, Taylor said, and the highway was open for traffic.

Further south, at the important district (county) capital of Thanh Binh 21 miles from Da Nang, Communist gunners this afternoon launched an artillery barrage that left parts of the town in flames and a column of thick black smoke rising into the air, Taylor said.

Taylor also saw a North Vietnamese soldier who jumped or was pushed from a low-flying South Vietnamese Air Force helicopter near Thanh Binh.

Taylor said the man dropped from the helicopter as it flew over Highway 1 at an altitude of about 40 feet.

"The chopper was going full speed (about 100 miles an hour) and it suddenly dipped to one side, a body came out, and the helicopter just straightened up and flew away, gaining altitude as it went," Taylor said.

The North Vietnamese soldier, dressed in Communist uniform with cutoff short pants, hit a small roadside shrine and lay lifeless, he said.

South Vietnamese officers at Da Nang, asked about the incident, said they knew nothing about it, according to UPI reporter Edward Bassett.

U.S. officers said 84 B-52s, joined by 375 fighter-bombers, dumped 2,000 tons of explosives on suspected Communist troop positions and supplies. They said the heaviest strikes were in the upper three provinces of South Vietnam.

Arrested

FORMER Chicago Alderman Fred Hubbard, who dropped from sight more than a year ago and was indicted on charges of taking more than $100,000 from federal projects, has been arrested in a Los Angeles suburb, the FBI said Tuesday. (UPI)

Robbery ends in shooting

NEW YORK (UPI)—A bizarre drama which began as a bank robbery ended today when an FBI agent shot and killed one of two gunmen as they and their seven hostages met a waiting plane at Kennedy Airport.

The other gunman, a homosexual who at one point demanded a reunion with his unwilling, male, former lover, surrendered. The hostages were released unharmed.

An FBI agent who drove the bandits and their hostages to Kennedy Airport shot the gunman in the chest.

During the 15-12-hour drama, the homosexual threatened to shoot the hostages because, he said, Supreme Court decisions made him immune from the electric chair; the gunmen fed pizza to their hostages; and two of the original nine hostage bank employees were released.

The gunman was shot just as the plane was taxiing to a stop beside the limousine which brought the bandits and their hostages to a remote airstrip at Kennedy Airport, said Assistant FBI Director John F. Malone.

The gunmen were about to board the plane when the agent received "a silent signal" to shoot, Malone said.

The drama began when the two gunmen, one reportedly carrying a pistol and the other a shotgun, entered a branch of the Chase Manhattan bank in Brooklyn shortly before closing time at 3 p.m. EDT Tuesday.

It started moving toward an end when, at the insistence of the gunmen who negotiated with police for almost 13 hours, an airport limousine pulled up to the bank at about 4 a.m. EDT today. Leaving behind one woman hostage, the gunmen herded six women and one man into the limousine, and it pulled away, bound for a private jet down to Kennedy Airport from Westchester Airport to the north.

Several cars filled with FBI agents followed.

A spokesman for the bank said he assumed the gunmen took with them some of the $20,000 that constituted the bank's entire cash reserve at the time of the robbery, though he did not know how much.

One of the hostages taken to the airport, Joan Saunders, a teller at the bank, said that, when the gunmen first entered, "I thought they'd just take the money and run." Clinging to the arm of her father Clyde Saunders, she said, "I never thought anything like this would ever happen."

Demo talks to Legion

CHICAGO (UPI)—Sen. George McGovern told the American Legion today that his proposed $20 billion cut in the defense budget still would leave the United States strong enough to resist any threat.

In the first major address of his campaign, the Democratic nominee defended his demands for steep cutbacks in defense expenditures and total disengagement from the Vietnam War. He contended the real danger to national security had come from "the men who used our military power for purposes our people have rejected."

Bobby Fischer are playing be checked for "chemical substances and electronic devices."

The Russian protest, which claimed the American's antics were ungentlemanly, came after Fischer's demands for more quiet in the hall resulted in the removal of three rows of seats. Fischer had threatened to quit unless the hall was fixed so he could better concentrate.

At the chess board, the 17th game of the 24-game $250,000 match was adjourned after 40 moves Tuesday. It resumes at 1 p.m. EDT today with Spassky holding both rooks and five pawns to the challenger's rook, knight and six pawns.

Fischer Tuesday decided on the little-known Pirc defense against the world champion's king pawn opening in the 17th game. But in the end, Spassky sealed his 41st move in a brown envelope.

Shortly after the game began, grandmaster Eytim Geller, Spassky's chief second, circulated an open letter. It said Fischer's "whims were deliberately aimed" at throwing the champion off balance, to exercise pressure and make him lose his fighting spirit.

Release barred

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A federal court judge, citing a need to protect the constitutional rights of suspects, has barred the release of all pretrial testimony in the case of the Watergate Five.

The ruling Tuesday by U.S. District Court Judge Charles R. Richey means that sworn statements to be taken from several Nixon administration and re-election campaign officials will be withheld from the public until after the Nov. 7 presidential election.

Two of the officials to be questioned in the Democratic party's $1 million suit are former Attorney General John N. Mitchell and Nixon campaign finance director Maurice Stans.

"I don't intend to keep the seal for one minute longer than necessary to protect someone's constitutional rights," Richey said.

Five men, who had electronic bugging equipment in their possession, were seized inside the Democratic National Committee headquarters at the Watergate Hotel June 17.

Platforms wide apart

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—The Democratic and Republican conventions display wide differences on war policy, welfare and education.

But they also show the parties share a few of the same opinions and that both fear to attack some of the same issues.

The Democrats propose a guaranteed income "substantially above the poverty level," while the Republicans "flatly oppose" any guaranteed income.

The Democrats say busing "must continue to be available" to end segregation, but the Republicans say racial busing must be stopped even if a constitutional amendment should be necessary.

However, both platforms support women's rights and child care, and both parties were afraid even to mention abortion in their platforms.

Here is a comparison of Democrat and Republican views on major issues:

Vietnam—The Democrats call for immediate withdrawal from Indochina subject only to release of prisoners and an accounting of the missing. The Republicans also insist on an accounting of the prisoners and missing, but said they would seek a Vietnam settlement "which will permit the people of Southeast Asia to live in peace under political arrangements of their own choosing."

Labor—The Democrats support repeal of right-to-work laws, raising the minimum wage to $2.50 an hour, and support the right of farm workers to form unions. The Republicans do not mention the minimum wage or farm unions, but in a major concession neither do they mention their long-standing support for right to work laws. The GOP pledges better safety laws and better pension plans, and praises collective bargaining as the "cornerstone" of GOP labor relations policy.

Marijuana—The Republicans oppose the legalization of marijuana, but the Democrats platform contains no specific mention of marijuana.

Defense spending—The Democrats call for unspecified "substantial" reductions in military spending while the Republicans say that such cuts would be "worse than misguided; they would be dangerous."

Child care—Both platforms advocate comprehensive child care programs, but the Republicans emphasize such programs must be locally controlled and voluntary.

Youth—Both platforms advocate lowering the legal age of accountability to 18.

Health—The Democrats advocate federally funded and administered national health insurance while the Republicans "oppose nationalized compulsory health insurance."

The Republicans propose a program financed by employers, employees and the federal government to provide comprehensive health care insurance.

Gun control—Republicans pledge to safeguard the right of responsible citizens to own firearms, but to "intensely efforts to prevent criminal access to all weapons including special emphasis on cheap, readily obtainable handguns."

But the GOP said states should have the primary responsibility for gun control. The Democrats advocate legislation to "control the improper use of handguns," especially cheap handguns called "Saturday night specials."

Privacy—Both platforms call for freedom from invasion of individual privacy, but the Democrats attack the Republicans through a call for an end to "the epidemic of wiretapping."

Sitting free

PARIS (UPI)—Parisians and visitors are sitting pretty in the Tuileries and Luxembourg gardens, the famous parks of Paris. Now sitting is free, and little old ladies no longer charge 40 centimes (9 cents) to rent a metal chair.

What about beets?

SIGN PLEDGING Gem State support is wielded by Republican celebrant after nomination of President Nixon for bid for second term in Miami Beach, Fla., Tuesday evening. Florid demonstration of support for nominee lasted for about quarter of an hour. (UPI)

Buckley, aides roughed by gang

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Sen. James L. Buckley of New York and two of his aides were roughed up by a gang of obscenity-shouting demonstrators Tuesday night as they were walking to the Republican National Convention.

Buckley, who was walking to the convention hall to second the renomination of President Nixon, was recognized by someone in the crowd of antiwar protesters marching on the hall.

Neither Buckley nor his aides—David Jones, his executive assistant, and Len Saffir, his press secretary—were hurt, "but they shoved us around quite a bit," Jones said.

Screaming obscenities and shouting Buckley's name, several dozen demonstrators ran after the three. One of them grabbing Buckley and another threw himself at Jones.

"God, I was scared," Jones said, telling how he hurled the demonstrator back only to be hit by another. "I really let him have it," Jones said.

Buckley pushed the protester off and the three began walking quickly across the convention parking lot to the hall, with the demonstrators on their heels.

Buckley later explained, "I wasn't really afraid. A number of the demonstrators took our side to protect us and then the police closed in and pushed them back with night sticks." "It was really a weird experience," Saffir said. "I locked arms with the senator and we just kept pushing our way toward the hall while they screamed in our ears."

GOP youth cheer

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (UPI)—President Nixon set out in pursuit of the votes of 25 million young people only minutes after cheering Republicans renominated him for a second term.

Nixon made a surprise appearance Tuesday night at a GOP-sponsored rock concert in Miami's Marine Memorial stadium. The youthful crowd of about 5,000 cheered and chanted for five minutes after Nixon strode on stage, moving through the crowd inside a phalanx of Secret Service men. "Four more years! Four more years!" the crowd chanted.

The scene was beamed to three large television screens in the Miami Beach convention hall, where GOP delegates tonight will hear Nixon's acceptance speech. It will be Nixon's only personal appearance at the hall during the convention.

The President was expected to stay at his bayside Key Biscayne villa today, putting the final touches on the address. His foreign affairs adviser, Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, said there would be no

"startling" new announcements concerning Vietnam.

Works on speech

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Hours away from being renominated for a second term as Vice President, Spiro T. Agnew remained secluded today, working on his acceptance speech and his tennis game.

Cloistered within a walled estate loaned to the Agnew family by a wealthy Miami Republican, Agnew kept out of the public view as the GOP National Convention conducted its business and renominated President Nixon Tuesday.

Agnew's hour will come tonight when Interior Secretary Rogers C.B. Morton will place his name in nomination.

The vice president has been spending most of his time on the tennis courts, polishing his address to the convention, and seeing only close friends and associates.

Vic Gold, Agnew's press secretary, said that beyond the Vice President's appearance before the convention tonight with the President, Agnew would have no other public activities today.

Gold said, however, that Agnew would hold a post-convention news conference Thursday morning, presumably to discuss the Republican campaign.

Report disclosed

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—President Nixon in the early months of his administration carried out a "deliberate" plan that precluded any chance for peace in Vietnam, Daniel Ellsberg has charged.

Ellsberg, who is under indictment for revealing the secret Pentagon papers study on the origins of the Vietnam war, also said at a news conference Tuesday that he was told by a military adviser to

Nixon after the 1968 election that unilateral U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam was "not a military option."

Ellsberg disclosed for the first time the contents of a report he prepared in December, 1968, for President-elect Nixon. Ellsberg was working at the time as an analyst for the Rand Corporation, and he said the report listed seven options the President could pursue in his Indochina policy.

Jerome's chief seeking post

JEROME — Jerome Chief of Police Howard DuBois said Tuesday night he will be a Republican write-in candidate for sheriff in the November general election.

DuBois, who announced five days before the Aug. 8 primary that he was seeking the office, came in second on a write-in campaign against eight other candidates also seeking the position.

Chief DuBois will now be running against three other candidates in the November election: Elza Hall, the Republican nominee; Foley Asher, who ran unopposed on the Democratic ticket, and another write-in candidate Paul Whaley, who is running as an independent.

DuBois said in making his announcement, "On Thursday Aug. 3, I announced my decision to run as a Republican candidate for the office of Jerome County sheriff. This was done after careful consideration of the fact I was aware that people might feel that I was not appreciative of the trust placed in me as the chief of police of the city. I was also aware that my announced plan to combine the services of the police department and the sheriff's office might be misunderstood," DuBois said.

He noted that he was "pleased and honored" at the response to his plan and feels that the support shown in the primary indicates approval of it in a wide area of the city and county. "I therefore again ask for the support of Jerome residents as a write-in candidate in the general election," DuBois said.

Range fire arson eyed

SHOSHONE — A range fire believed deliberately set burned 970 acres of land south of Shoshone Tuesday afternoon.

Donald Runberg, Bureau of Land Management official, said evidence of arson found in connection with the blaze will be turned over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation. That agency is also investigating a fire north of Gooding this past Friday which burned about 160 acres. That fire is also believed to have been deliberately set.

Tuesday's fire started about 2:30 p.m. near U.S. Highway 93 six miles south of Shoshone and burned over land east of the highway. Fire fighting crews were hampered by high winds before putting the blaze out about 9 p.m.

Thirty-four men and six tank trucks fought the fire, assisted by two drops of retardant by B-26 planes.

Runorg said the drop in temperatures Tuesday night should cut down on the fire danger in the area.

On Monday, BLM crews put out a 30-acre range fire in the Shoshone dump area, after fighting it for more than an hour.

Runberg said an agent of the FBI was in Shoshone and has received evidence gathered in connection with the fire north of Gooding.

Ten fires were reported Monday on the Sawtooth National Forest. The seven lightning and three man-caused fires were contained Tuesday morning, Richard Stanley, forest dispatcher, said.

The largest was a lightning fire which burned 15 acres in the Dry Gulch area of the Cassia division. It was extinguished by six men and one air-tanker.

Shoshone sets sewer charges

SHOSHONE — Sewer charges or fees will commence for everyone in Shoshone for the month of October.

Billing will be made on the same statements as the charges of water for that month.

Mayor Ellwood R. Werry said no sewer bill will be less than the minimum charge for a full month and shall be due and payable between the 1st and 10th of each month.

On the 20th of the month a penalty charge of 50 cents will be added to unpaid bills. If such delinquent charge, plus penalty, is not paid in full before the 10th day of the following month, services shall be subject to discontinuation for non-payment, and all city services to such premises may be turned off or disconnected without further notice.

There shall be an additional charge of $5 levied for turning on such disconnected services before service can be resumed.

The mayor points out that since unpaid water and sewer charges can become a lien against the property and assessed as taxes, owners of rentals may wish to make arrangements wherein they pay for water and sewer charges, adjusting their rents accordingly.

Property owners, or their agents, desiring to have the water and sewer bills sent to them, instead of the occupants of the rented premises, should notify the city before Sept. 15. Permits for sewer connection should be obtained from the city hall by owners or occupants of the premises to be served.

Sewer line inspection must be made before it is put to use. Several persons have not done this and others that have been inspected have not met specifications and had to be replaced at the property owners expense.

Rupert farmer tour Thursday

RUPERT — The Rupert Chamber of Commerce Farmer of the Year tour will be held Thursday and all five farms of the candidates will be viewed during the day.

The tour will leave the Bowling Alley parking lot by bus at 8:30 a.m. and all interested persons are invited. During the morning, the group will see the farming operations of Van Sorenson, 700 North 430 East; Dick Mickelsen, 600 North 500 East, and Dave Krause, 162 Meridian during the morning.

A noon luncheon will be with the Rupert Chamber of Commerce and all five candidates and their wives will be special guests of the chamber.

In the afternoon the group will view farms of Lester Stapelman at 850 West 210 South and J. Robert Pershing at 1250 West 325 South. Judges include Vern Hacking, Soil Conservation Service; Leo VanEvery, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation, and Thomas Farnworth, Farmers Home Administration.

Demonstrators rally forces

Zippies later protested that they were arrested for actions performed by another group — the marchers on Collins Avenue.

Anger at the arrests built up and was vented against the cars of delegates moving to the Convention Hall Tuesday night.

One car, carrying Judge and Mrs. Martin J. Roess of St. Petersburg, Fla., was stalled for 20 minutes in traffic. The driver, Kenneth A. Anderson, said demonstrators beat on the limousine with fists and sticks, smashed one window and ripped away antennas.

"Thank God for the state troopers," said Anderson. "They came to our rescue and we were able to drive off. I ran two of them down—I don't know if they were hurt."

Police made four arrests and said four persons were injured at the noisy melee around the hall. One of the injured persons

Hansen gets claim for damages

HANSEN — A letter from Golden, Bennett and Associates, attorneys, was read to the Hansen Sewer and Water Improvement Association Monday night regarding sewer backup damages.

The letter informed the association that a claim will be sought for alleged damages caused by sewer backup in the basement of the Kermit Gunter residence.

The association turned the letter over to its insurance company, which will try to collect from the firm which installed the sewer, according to Ralph Simmons, chairman.

All delinquent sewer bills will be turned over to small claims court, the association decided.

At one point two cans of tear gas sent demonstrators scurrying away. Police said they did not use tear gas, and that the canisters must have been thrown by demonstrators.

Idaho, Louisiana delegations caucus with top Nixon aides in Miami

By DWIGHT JENSEN
Special to the Times-News

MIAMI BEACH — Four top officials of the Nixon administration met with the Idaho and Louisiana delegations in caucus Tuesday morning to outline the Nixon election campaign.

One theme of the morning meeting was embodied in a paraphrase of something Thomas Jefferson had said. As rewritten by Frank Shakespeare, director of the U.S. Information Agency, that quote became "He governs best who McGovern least."

But primarily the four talked acanisters must have been Richard Nixon.

Shakespeare told the delegates they should become familiar with the Nixon doctrine and explain it to the voters. He briefly outlined the doctrine in these words, "It is no longer suitable for the United States to be thrust into the role everywhere in every situation of the world policeman. But we are still the citadel of the West."

He said a country should provide its own security force whenever possible. If it needs help it should look first to its immediate neighbors. The United States should be only the third line of protection. He said the U.S. remains "a residual security of the West."

Shakespeare said that the spring invasion by North Vietnam this year was the first major use of the North Vietnamese army in South Vietnam. "They have used only surrogate troops before," he said.

This appeared to contradict the frequent government claims that the U.S. has been opposing a North Vietnamese invasion since 1965. Shakespeare said that was only a technical argument. He said there has been some infiltration and the North Vietnamese have been supplying Communist forces but until this year most of the fighting was done by "South Vietnamese insurgents."

Russell Train, chairman of the Council on Environmental Quality, said the Nixon administration has adopted realistic environmental standards and has consolidated environmental protection,

"We are dealing with the problems of survival," he said. "To be realistic, according to Train, the government must take economic factors into account. The United States does not want to return to a state of nature although looking up and down Miami Beach, I sometimes think that might be a good idea."

"Our proposals place strong emphasis on state responsibility and state control," he said. "Most of the effort is to gear up the states to take an active role. Only when they fail does the federal government step in."

Train said the Nixon administration has "a great record to take to the public in this area."

Deputy Atty. Gen. Ralph Erickson, the man who replaced Richard Klondienst, said the Nixon campaign will continue the law and order theme of 1968 but "in a different perspective. Now we are approaching the causes of crime."

He credited the Nixon administration with increasing the number of convictions for organized crime and with confiscating six times the amount of narcotics that had been captured during the previous four years.

Secretary of Labor James Hodgson said the keynote of the Nixon administration has been realism. "He has tried to bring all our policies and institutions and activities into a realistic grasp," he said.

Hodgson said economic indicators are up. He did not win this election.

He called for renewal of the effort to build the SST. "We must keep ourselves in the forefront of technology," he said.

Responding to a question Shakespeare said the United States has "very correct relations with Greece, based on mutual self interest. Stability in that part of the West depends on U.S. bases in Greece and Spain. We do not approve of all Greek domestic policies."

Train said it is government policy to increase federal research to develop non toxic methods of coyote control and to find substitute "dangerous pesticides such as DDT."

Kimberly man hurt by hay

KIMBERLY — Charles Kilmes, Kimberly, who injured Tuesday evening when several bales of hay fell on him.

Kilmes was admitted to Magic Valley Memorial Hospital for treatment of shoulder and possible serious back injuries.

A daughter-in-law, Mrs. Raymond Kilmes, said he was loading hay bales onto a piece of farm equipment at the rear of a tractor when about 10 bales fell from the top of the stack. Six or eight of the bales struck Kilmes, knocking him to the ground.

The hay was being loaded for feeding cattle. Members of his family freed Kilmes from the hay and took him to the hospital.

GOP aides named

GOODING — Republican party officers are announced for legislative District No. 23. Sevart (Sweden) Swenson, Gooding, is district chairman, with Hap Wilson, Jerome, vice chairman, and Mrs. Thelma Ferguson, Gooding, secretary and publicity chairman.

2nd fire destroys home

SHOSHONE — A second fire at the Evan Guthrie residence north of Shoshone at 12:30 a.m. today destroyed the home.

A fire Sunday morning had burned the kitchen causing smoke and steam damage to the remainder of the house. The entire family was visiting in Shoshone at the time of the second blaze.

It was reported by a neighbor, William Kerner Jr. who noticed the fire from his bedroom window as he was about to retire. He called the Wood River Fire Department truck, located at Palmer's Service northwest of Shoshone.

By the time the fire engine arrived, the house, a small trailer house beside it and furniture which had been moved outside from the previous fire were all burned.

Cause of the second fire is unknown. The family is staying with Mrs. Guthrie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bates, Shoshone.

New closing time at pool

RUPERT — A new time for closing the Rupert Swimming Pool was announced by city recreation officials.

The pool closing time is now at 7 p.m. and will be in effect for the remainder of the season.

Previously the pool has been closing at 8 p.m. according to recreation officials.

Acceptance talk slated tonight

"Dick wanted me to bring my greetings to you and to tell you he looks forward to seeing you tonight."

While the Republican's slick, media-bent convention drew to a close, the Democratic nominee—George McGovern, was on the search for votes in Chicago. He told an American Legion convention "no foreign country will push us around" even if his proposal for a $30 billion cut in defense spending went through.

Nixon will speak at the same convention Thursday on his way to California for a post-convention vacation.

Nixon's acceptance speech, drafted on 12 pads of yellow legal-sized paper, will make carefully considered appeals to blacks, Democrats and the youth—the latter a theme he has orchestrated throughout the convention.

To chants of "four more years, four more years!" Nixon stressed youth's new and untested political muscle when he arrived here Tuesday and again at a Miami stadium rock concert where he delivered what amounted to an unofficial acceptance speech in the embrace of black entertainer Sammy Davis Jr.

"We've got just as good a shot at it (the youth vote) as the other side," he said.

Predicting his own re-election he also pledged to work "in the next four years" toward assuring equal opportunity for blacks and the poor.

Nixon was elected vice president in 1952 and 1956, but lost the presidency to John F. Kennedy by a hair in 1960 and won just as narrowly in 1968. Now, he made it clear, he is out to win with an avalanche of votes, shedding forever the loser's image that dogged his earlier career.

At the convention hall, delegates watched Nixon's appearance before the young on huge television screens.

Minutes before, balloons had showered upon them as the results of their balloting were announced—Nixon's renomination by a vote of 1,347 to 1.

The single vote of dissent was reluctantly cast by New Mexico for anti-Vietnam Rep. Paul N. McCloskey of California on the basis of his showing in that state's primary last spring.

Frustrated in his attempt to be placed in nomination, McCloskey had entered the primaries in hopes of reversing Nixon's Vietnam policies. He failed to break the convention's prime time show of harmony and raise the issue for debate. The convention accepted a Nixonian platform defending his Vietnam policies, denouncing marijuana, racial busing and gun controls and amended only to speak more clearly on behalf of the self-determination rights of American Indians.

The delegates scorned reforms proposed by liberals which could have hampered Agnew in a bid next time for the presidential nomination.

Student load up at Jerome

JEROME — Jerome school enrollment has increased by 127 for the 1972-73 school year, according to Supt. John D. Campbell.

Campbell spoke Tuesday to the Jerome Rotary Club on the present status of Jerome schools, noting they are ready for students who will return to classes Monday.

Campbell said 127 new students registered last week, including 74 high school, 32 junior high, 28 in Jefferson elementary, 27 in Lincoln and 18 new second graders at Washington.

The actual increase will not be noted until the first day of school, Campbell said, because still more students may register.

He said the remodeling of the junior and senior high school shower rooms has been completed and the face-lifting of the junior high school is also finished. The change from coal to gas for heating the schools was completed, and the space previously used by the coal bins will now be used for storage.

Rewiring and relighting of Lincoln School is finished, with safety doors installed and fireproofing of the stairwells also completed, Campbell said.

The superintendent told Rotarians how the district has been using federal title monies. In the last three years, the district has applied for and received a total of $284,254 which has mainly been used to pay salaries and buy equipment and materials that can be considered long-life resources.

Campbell said that Jerome participation in the federal monies amounts to about 8 percent of the average revenue these past three years.

MUNICH (UPI)—The International Olympic Committee, which rebuffed Avery Brundage in the Rhodesian question, today names his successor by way of clearing the way for the start Saturday of the 20th Olympic Games.

Henderson's 7th-inning hit robs Briles of perfect game

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Nelson Briles had his bid for a perfect game shattered only by Ken Henderson's two-out, seventh-inning single off the glove of Willie Stargell Tuesday night as the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the San Francisco Giants 1-0 on an unearned run.

Briles (12-5) retired the first 20 Giants before Henderson, who has hit safely in 18 consecutive games, lined a 6-3 pitch sharply down the first-base line. Stargell jumped to reach for the smash but the ball crashed through his glove and into rightfield.

Only three other pitches were hit sharply by the Giants—Henderson lined to second baseman Dave Cash in the fourth inning and Roberto Clemente made a long running catch of Dave Rader's long drive to right-center in the eighth. Clemente, bothered by pulled heel tendons, made his first start since July 23. With two out in the ninth, Bobby Bonds sent leftfielder Rennie Stennett against the wall to catch his drive.

Stargell drove in the game's only run in the first inning off loser Juan Marichal (5-14). With two out Clemente went to second base on Tito Fuentes' throwing error and Stargell then lined an RBI double to center.

Trailing 7-4 going into the ninth, Ralph Garr doubled and scored the Braves' fifth run on a single by Dusty Baker. Earl Williams walked and Breazeale hit reliever Billy Wilson's first pitch over the rightfield fence for his fourth homer of the season.

Alexander out for six weeks

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—Kermit Alexander has a broken right elbow and will be out of action four to six weeks, the Los Angeles Rams reported Tuesday.

At first the injury was thought to be only a bruise, the Rams said, but when the swelling failed to go down, x-rays were taken and the break was discovered.

Landry pleased with Hayes' effort

DALLAS (UPI)—Bob Hayes, been "in a crowd" the kind probably the most respected wide receiver in pro football, is playing his eighth Dallas Cowboys pre-season like his very life depended on it and Coach Tom Landry couldn't be happier even if he is a bit puzzled by it.

The 29-year-old Hayes, who feels he's even faster now than he was when he won two gold medals in the 1964 Tokyo Olympics as the acknowledged "world's fastest human," has caught 10 passes for 223 yards and three touchdowns in the Cowboys' four victories.

Hayes is having the best preseason he's ever had with us "catching, running patterns, everything," Landry commented at his weekly press conference Tuesday when he announced Hayes would serve as offensive captain in next Saturday night's exhibition against the New York Jets.

Landry just want to honor their performance by naming them captains this week," Landry said. "I don't know whether it's the competition or not. I just know that he is and that's what I measure 'em by."

Dr. Jerry W. Jackson is pleased to announce the opening of his Veterinary Practice in the Jerome area.

FOODS PROVIDE ENERGY! USE THAT ENERGY TO ENJOY LIFE, STAY TRIM!

Foods provide vital nutrients to keep your whole body in good condition. Foods also provide energy, which is measured in calories. To avoid gaining weight, you must use up your daily intake of calories... in your daily work, and enjoying your favorite sport or exercise. For instance, if Dad weighs 160 pounds and enjoys bowling, he can use up about 510 calories of his daily calorie intake by bowling 2 hours.

For special dietary problems and exercise programs, consult your physician.

DO BREADS AND CEREALS OFFER MORE THAN ENERGY!

Foods in the Breads & Cereals Group supply ready energy for your daily activities. Also included in this group are: macaroni and spaghetti, noodles, rice, grits, crackers. They should be whole grain, enriched or fortified for valuable B Vitamins... and are improved in quality of protein when served with a milk product. Four or more daily servings are recommended. Remember to balance energy intake with your daily activity pattern.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a man who has not called me by my first name for the past 20 years. If the phone rings and it's for me, he will look at me and say, "Telephone!" He will ask, "What do you want from the store?" Or, "Who's coming over?" At times he communicates with me thru the children by saying, "Tell your mother, etc." Yes, I have asked him hundreds of times to kindly use my name. His answer, "Why is it so important to you?" Abby, I can't make him understand. This name quirk of his applies only to me. He calls everyone else by their names. Even the dog!

He won't call wife by her first name

Why should a man refuse to call his wife by her first name? During the honeymoon years he called me "Baby," and "Snooky," but that's long gone. Sign me,

NAMELESS

DEAR NAMELESS: YOU may be nameless, but there are several names for a man who deliberately needles his wife for 20 years. He probably derives a sadistic pleasure out of your reaction. Try ignoring it and see what happens.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow with one 16-year-old daughter. She is a good stable girl and never gave me any problems. She started going steady with a very nice young boy of 17. Thru this boy I met his divorced father. We took an instant liking to each other, and are now going together.

At first the children thought it an amusing novelty, mother and daughter dating father and son. Now they are concerned because if the father and I should marry, they will become legally sister and brother and should they want to marry later on, they won't be able to.

Another problem comes to mind. If the father and I marry, how about two young people who are romantically involved sharing the same house?

THINKING AHEAD

DEAR THINKING: If you and the father should marry, your children will be related by marriage, not blood, and they can marry if they so choose. As for the other problem, if your daughter is "stable," you'll not have to worry about her horsing around.

DEAR ABBY: Having had a very strict Christian upbringing, I was taught never to let a man kiss me passionately until after the vows, "I do" were spoken. But I did. Just once.

After being courted for eight months, Brownie said good night to me. Then he turned suddenly, grabbed me and said, "Kiss me good night." I did. And what a kiss that was!

He held me close and whispered, "Little girl, I could never live without you now." That's how Brownie proposed to me.

Perhaps you'd like to know about the first supper I served him?

Being a country girl, our big meal was always at noon, eating a hearty breakfast, but very little in the evening.

It was July, and extremely hot in Rocky Mount, N. C., where we lived, so when Brownie came home, I had a big pitcher of ice-cold lemonade on the table with a platter of peanut butter sandwiches. He looked at it and asked, "Where's supper?"

"That's supper," I said. Said he, "Baby, you call that supper for a working man?" Then he plunked down some money and said, "Go to the corner market and get me a steak." I did, and I prepared it just the way he liked it.

On our 50th wedding anniversary he gave me some lovely gold jewelry, also a beautifully gift-wrapped jar of peanut butter and a lemon!

God took him home just 2½ years later.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

The only real disadvantage of the Stayman two-club convention is that an alert opponent may double the artificial two-club bid for lead directing purposes.

Not that we approve of East's double of two clubs with only four clubs to the king-jack. Should South have elected to pass and North to redouble? North would have made at least two odd and probably managed to collect an overtrick but South did bid two spades and was promptly put in three no-trump by North.

Three no-trump did not fare very well. South finessed dummy's 10 of clubs at trick one. Back came a spade with West's king dropping dummy's singleton queen. Another club finesse saw dummy's queen dropping to East's king. Back came a spade. South's 10-spot finesse was covered by West's jack and a third club was led.

Dummy's ace had to be played.

South went after diamonds by the normal play of leading to his ace and finessing the jack. That lost to the queen and East cashed his last club for two tricks down.

If South had stopped to think at trick one he would have brought home his contract in spite of losing the diamond finesse. He should have gone right up with dummy's ace of clubs and gone after diamonds at trick two.

East would take his queen and lead back a spade but South would clatter with his ace and cash out his red suit winners. Four diamonds plus three hearts plus two black aces would come to the magic number of nine.

What do you do now?

A—Pass. Your partner has either gone crazy or is trying to get to a spade slam. Your spades are too weak for any further bid.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding four spades, your partner has bid four hearts over your four diamonds. What do you do now?

Sherry Babbitt, Mai exchange vows

FILER—Sherry Babbitt and Jerry V. Mai recited wedding vows at an afternoon outdoor wedding Aug. 5 in the Sanders Community Church yard.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kennison, Desmet, and Mai is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Mai, Filer.

Rev. Kenneth Barthall performed the double ring ceremony before an arched trellis with hanging baskets of white daisies and ivy in the foreground and a white picket fence backed by cedar trees.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, wore a gown of organza and lace, fashioned with long sheer sleeves cuffed with lace, and a detachable lace-edged train. Her veil of white illusion was held by a floral headpiece of white daisies. She carried a bouquet of white daisies, yellow rosebuds and Lilies-of-the-Valley.

Mrs. Susan Willard, sister of the bride, was matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Lori Kennison, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Darlene Ohlensehler, Jerome, college roommate. The attendants' dresses were made by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. L. P. Babbitt.

Stacey Larsen, cousin of the bride, was flower girl, and scattered petals from a basket of daisies, pansies and starfire.

Randy Mai, Filer, was best man for his brother. Ushers were Charles Barlnaga, Castleford, and Arlin Berge, Sumner, Wash., college friends of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Judy Helmke, aunt of the bride, was organist, and vocalists were Rev. and Mrs. Gene Clott, Plummer.

Lime green and yellow decorations were carried out at the reception. Mrs. Madeline Morrison was reception hostess. Mrs. Vern Larson, aunt of the bride, served the four-tier wedding cake which was topped with fresh flowers. Mrs. James Welsh, Mrs. Henry Larson and Mrs. Ed Babbitt served coffee and punch.

Judy and Jerrie Walsh, Logan, cousins of the bridegroom, were in charge of the guest book.

Honored guests included the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Evans, Sanders; Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Babbitt, Plummer; Mrs. Mary Kennison, Greenleaf, and Mrs. Norma Larsen, Sanders, great-grandmother of the bride.

After a honeymoon in Canada, the newlyweds will reside in Filer where the bridegroom is engaged in farming.

Relatives and close friends attended a barbecue supper at the church after the wedding rehearsal. A reception for the young couple was held Aug. 13 at the bridegroom's parents' home.

A three-tier chocolate wedding cake centered the table and was topped with sugar bells and decorated in yellow and green. Lighted yellow tapers in crystal holders, silver coffee service and crystal nut and mint dishes completed the table decorations.

Punch was served by Mr. Henry Stark, Rupert. Coffee was served by Mrs. Belinda Sweet, aunt of the bridegroom, and Mrs. R. V. Glick, both Twin Falls. Mrs. Bei Mai, aunt of the bridegroom, cut and served the cake.

Special guests were the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kennison, Desmet.

Love for animals initiates crusade

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (UPI)—Bruce Reid, an 11-year-old entrepreneur with a love of animals, is involved in a one-boy glass recycling crusade here.

Bruce's venture began with a mult named Penny of dubious ancestry.

More than a year ago, Bruce, his sister Nancy and Mrs. William Reid, their mother, made a trip to the humane society shelter. They found a new addition to the family in Penny, and something else too.

"I saw all of the dogs there without homes, and I wanted to volunteer and help out but I wasn't old enough," Bruce said. "We had studied recycling in school, and I knew I could raise money. I decided I would sell all of the bottles I could and donate the money to the shelter."

Every day Bruce collects bottles and sorts them by color. He turns them in to a member company of the Glass Container Manufacturers Institute which recycles the used bottles into new glass containers, and pays Bruce a penny a pound in the process.

On his last haul, Bruce, who weighs 85 pounds, lugged 141 pounds of bottles to the reclamation depot and earned $1.41, which he turned over to the animal shelter.

But Bruce says one day he will be getting out of the glass business.

"When I get older, I'm going to be a veterinarian," he says emphatically.

"BEST DARN elephant I ever ate" was first district Congressman James A. McClure's reaction to the victory cake cooked up by summer intern Marcia Lewis, Boise. The sugary elephant was centerpiece at the "welcome back" victory party given McClure by his Washington, D.C., staff.

Romantic walk

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (UPI)—A couple was taking a romantic pre-dawn stroll Monday and walked off a cliff.

A patrolman stopped to check out an illegally parked auto when he heard their cries for help.

The couple, James Armstrong, 29, and Marilyn Scofield, 32, were rescued and treated for injuries suffered in the 65-foot fall.

Armstrong told police that he and the woman thought they were on a path to the beach, where they planned to watch the sunrise.

Teachers corps for Filer

FILER — Filer is one of 10 cities in Idaho chosen to implement the Teacher's Corp Program for the first time, beginning with the fall term.

Ellen Morrical, Gooding, will be team leader for the program, according to Ray Baker, superintendent of District 413, and will be assisted by four aides in working in the first and second grades with teachers and parents of students in those grades.

The four aides are Mrs. Joyce Harding, Filer; Mrs. Lois Cammack, Buhl; Marjorie Short, Alameda, Calif.; and Mrs. Stellan Lammers, Twin Falls.

Miss Morrical has her master's degree in education from the University of Wyoming.

The Teacher Corp Program is community-oriented and will involve individual and team teaching in the community as well as the two lower grades, said Baker.

Mrs. Winona Watson, Filer, is lay coordinator and will be seeking opportunities and needs in the community. An area steering committee will make a survey in the community in the near future to determine needs and opportunities.

Signup at Wendell

WENDELL — Kindergarten students and those in grades one through six should register at Wendell elementary school Monday morning starting at 8:30 a.m.

New and transfer students should report to the principal's office for assignment. Kindergarten students must have birth certificates and a recent physical examination.

Indian project gets aid

PORTLAND — American Indians and native Alaskans from a four-state area are being recruited to work toward a degree in social work at Portland State University.

The PSU School of Social Work is establishing the Northwest's first Indian Social Work Education Program. It is being financed by a $100,000 grant from the National Institute for Mental Health.

The program will focus on problems facing urban and reservation Indians and native Alaskans. It is being planned and developed by Indians.

Gordon Heaton, dean of the PSU School of Social Work, said there is an extreme shortage of trained Indian social workers to deal with the enormous social and health problems facing Indians in a predominantly white society.

Students in the program will work toward masters of social work degree or an undergraduate certificate in social service.

Participants this year will have an Indian-based field experience in Portland's United Indian Council. Future field units for the proposed five-year program are planned at Chemawa Indian Boarding School and the Warm Springs Indian Reservation.

In addition to the undergraduate and graduate aspects, the program includes training of social work aides. This will be on a cooperative basis with community colleges a year from now.

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, AUGUST 24, 1972

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The early part of the day is your best time for taking any action of a definite nature. In the latter part of the day it is best not to force anything or take any chances. You make out best by carefully observing others and making no commitments.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Fretting over private worries makes matters worse, so do something constructive about them. Try to assist one who is in trouble and you will feel better. Take it easy tonight.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Don't give in to temptation by lashing out at good friends who are now acting peevishly for some reason they can't help. Show kindness and help them out of their predicament.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Show others that you are a good citizen. Do nothing that would jeopardize your good reputation. Be careful a higher-up doesn't blame you for another person's error.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Not the right day to engage in a new interest. Tomorrow could be much better. Make no promises to a fast-talking person or you could regret it later. Be wise.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You have so many responsibilities that it is best to take care of the most important ones now and leave the rest to later. Try to be more harmonious with the one you love.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23) An associate has right to own opinions, so don't take this person to task, but listen carefully. You have a problem that needs careful attention now in order to solve it properly.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) Don't run away from any chores facing you today. Handle them in a most positive and deliberate fashion. Take health treatments and build up your energy. Stop worrying.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) Don't try today to make others do things contrary to their wishes. Try to please family more and add to harmony at home. Avoid one who is trying to take advantage of you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You want to have a fine time but be sure you stick to the proven and the inexpensive or you could regret it later. Put your creative talent to work. Use care in travel.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) More care in motion is necessary now when others could be jittery. Don't lose your temper and write a letter that you may regret. Await a better time to handle the matter.

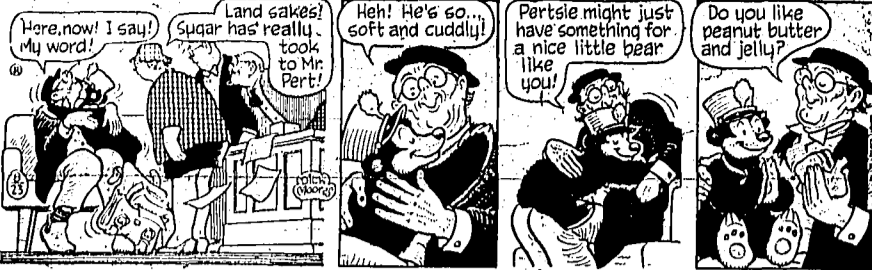

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You think by spending money you are able to get your way with others, but this is not the case. Use wiser tactics and get better results. Not a good day for making investments.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Although you are under some kind of pressure, be careful not to use unkind words with others or you could get into trouble. Take the time to make yourself look more attractive.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be one of those temperamental young people who has to be disciplined early in life. Although the nature is a trouble-shooting one, teach early not to get into altercations with others just for the fun of it, or this could run the fine promise here. Much spiritual training is necessary early in youth. Give some sports.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

What's What

L. M. Boyd

It has been determined that the 17-year-old girl spends more money on shoes than the woman in any other age bracket.

QUICK, what's the license number on your car? Survey of motel clerks indicates two out of every three souls who check into such establishments can't answer that query offhand.

THE CHEWING of food, says one medical expert, is another way of venting rage. Like chopping wood. Or beating a rug. Confronts this sage authority: The overreacher symbolically may just be chewing up his enemies, chomp chomp. Savage notion.

TALL women are more sincerely affectionate than short girls. That's the claim of one university psychologist. The pretty little ladies like to climb up on the laps of their gentlemen friends, he says, because they crave attention and flattery. But when the tall girls do this, it's most usually because they're truly devoted. Our Love and War man is analyzing this contention, too.

QUERY Q. "What's cataplexy?" A. An exceedingly rare ailment, that one. Sufferers of same can't laugh. Even though they want to. The impulse to laugh paralyzes them. They actually collapse. Can't stand up again and go on about their business until the desire to laugh is completely forgotten. A cataplexy patient with a highly developed sense of humor is in real trouble.

NEVER try to teach a puppy a lesson that lasts more than 10 minutes. So advises a dog trainer of lengthy experience. He says two short tricks tries a day are dandy. But one long session can ruin the lesson.

LOOKS Many a husband and wife eventually come to look alike. Or such be the quoted assertion of Professor Ray L. Birdwhistell of the University of Pennsylvania. He also believes many a man winds up resembling his dog. In expression around the mouth and eyes, at any rate. Highly scientific explanation. But his point is looks are influenced by environment as well as heredity. Maybe so. If you own a English bulldog, might give this some thought.

AM ASKED the greatest number of holes-in-one ever scored by any golfer in one calendar year. That would be 11. The record shows Dr. Joseph O. Boydstone of Bakersfield, Calif., did such within 12 months about 10 years ago.

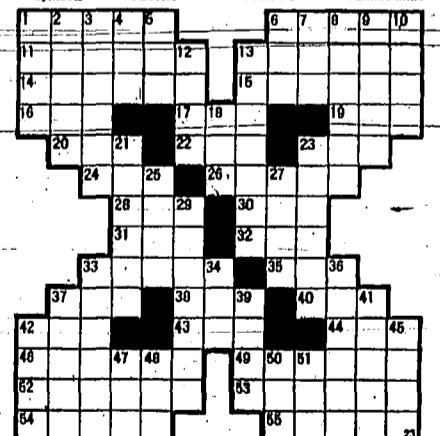

THE MORE sluggish the animal, the slower its heartbeat, right? Not always. The hare is livelier than the rabbit, by far. But the hare's heart beats about 84 times per minute, the rabbit's about 200 per minute. Explain that, please.

Idaho busing to improve schooling

By RICHARD CHARNOCK
BOISE (UPI) — Idaho in the not too distant future may start busing school children out of their home district to improve their educational opportunities. But instead of being prodded to improve racial balance in the schools the Idaho educators will be urged to give youngsters in remote and sparsely settled districts a better chance to learn. It's part of a comprehensive educational program for the state being prepared by the State Departments of Education and Vocational Education. Designed to acquaint students with the "world of work" from kindergarten through high school, it is aimed at preparing tomorrow's workers for a fast-changing highly-skilled world. The students will be made aware of the range of careers possible and those in junior high school will be given opportunities for career exploration. Those in senior high school will be given a chance to learn more about various job opportunities and those in the latter high school and post-high-school years will have opportunity for specialized training. While it will offer youngsters a direct route to their chosen vocations and avocation the program also is being designed to provide flexibility enough for them to expand their horizons. "In this program," public instruction superintendent D. F. Engelking said in an interview, "you can cross lines and go both ways — vocational-technical training or academic professional training. "This gives a student unlimited opportunity for education. Wasted time is the thing we're trying to get away from," he said. At the center of the proposed program will be six regions of the state — that is, the existing six junior college districts. Eventually, Engelking said, the educational designers hope to provide "centers" for each of these districts — centers at which educational, health and welfare services may be provided. He said the centers will be existing junior colleges or vocational-technical training schools. High school juniors and seniors interested in vocational training can be bused to the schools to use equipment and receive instruction not available in their home schools. Engelking said at the local schools the students will have the opportunity for "exploratory" study of different lines of work, while at the centers they will have the chance for "hands-on" learning of trades and skills. Leading into the program, he said, will be "needs" studies by professional personnel at the local and district levels. These will include not only the needs and desires of the youngsters and the schools but business and industry as well. Some of the needs studies already are under way, he said, and more will be conducted in the very near future on a periodic basis, with updating to match changing needs of the state, he said. "We hope to get around to all the schools once every five years," he said. Engelking admitted the program is going to cost more money. But he said he felt the benefits will far offset the increased spending. "It's going to cost a little more for transportation," he said. "It's going to cost a little more for equipment and building at the college level and maybe for some small increase in personnel. "But I don't think it's going to be nearly as expensive as putting all these kids through the university," he said. He said the program will help meet the changing needs of socety. He envisions the day not very far ahead when skilled workers will undergo nearly constant training and re-training as new and improved skills are needed by industry. "We figure these people are going to have to have re-training almost constantly in some areas or at least every three or four years in others," he said, adding this will require a vast number of night and extension classes. Besides preparing workers for new skills to keep them employed, he added, the educational system must be geared to re-training those now dissatisfied with or outmoded in their jobs. He added it cannot be done all by industry or all by the public schools but must be accomplished through cooperation of both. Engelking said the program design is not complete as yet and that the designers hope for more input from the public. But after a year and a half or work, the designers are ready to put it before local administrators, trustees and businessmen in October for an indoctrination session.

TF school buses checked on safety

TWIN FALLS — Safety checks on all Twin Falls school buses were completed Monday by Idaho State Police, according to Dick Kirkman, owner of the district 411 bus fleet. The check included inspection of all parts of body, lamps and signals, brakes, instruments and power system. Inspections are made at the beginning of every year, every 90 days during the school year, and frequently during the 90-day periods to assure maximum performance from all mechanical and safety devices, according to Kirkman. Cpl. Bill Green and Officer Don Hiebert, both Idaho State Police, said the buses maintained a high standard in the tests. The buses are checked five times before school begins. Each bus passing the tests receives a sticker which must be displayed in the window before the vehicle can be used. Twenty-five Twin Falls school buses will begin their first runs Monday when schools open, Kirkman said. One or two extra buses may be added this year to accommodate children living in new housing developments, he said. This is Kirkman's 23rd year supplying buses for district 411. He attributes his high safety rating to Jim Wallis, chief mechanic for the bus company.

Inspection completed
