Schools open today

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — Schools reopened throughout Magic Valley today, with only a few minor problems and misplaced children marring an otherwise "normal" school day.

Most district superintendents said first day enrollment figures would probably show an increase but said the figures would not be available from all schools until later in the day.

A firm figure is not expected until about two weeks after opening day, Supt. George Staudacher, Twin Falls District, said.

At the Immanuel Lutheran School, officials reported 195 children reported for classes

Monday, compared to the total 167 for last year. This year the Lutheran school has a full kindergarten program with one afternoon and two morning half-day sessions, 66 children and two teachers.

New this year in the kindergarten program is Luella Roth. Two other new teachers have been hired to take care of the increase. They are Mrs. Eleanor Thompson and Norma Peacock, teaching first and third grades.

Staudacher said a general enrollment increase from 2 to 3 per cent is anticipated. Final enrollment last year showed 6,401 students in the district's schools. He said only two enrollment figures this morning, both showing some increase.

Several other school principals including those in Filer and Jerome said pre-registration figures were up and first day enrollment would probably show an increase.

Schools in Minidoka County will not open until after Labor Day because of the county fair, but Burley and other Cassia County schools were in operation today. Gooding teachers were in school today for orientation sessions, but students will not attend until Wednesday.

Camas County schools open Tuesday, one day behind others with teachers making last minute preparations for school today.

Ray Baker, Filer, superintendent, said his total first day enrollment is up 68 students this year with 901 first day students compared to 873 last year. He said there are 89 children in the Hollister school; 320 in the Filer elementary and 512 in the Filer high school.

In most schools hot lunch programs were in operation today as were full day classes and bus services.

Schools in Wendell opened today for a half day with enrollment figures expected to be definite on Tuesday. Buhl also operated a half day only with no hot lunch programs until Tuesday.

Dust brings pileups

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (UPI) — Winds whipped up powder-dry dust from freshly-plowed farmlands and blanketed two freeways filled with cars returning home after weekend vacations, causing massive pileups that left more than 100 persons dead and injured.

About 80 vehicles smashed into each other in two pileups that occurred within 10 minutes and less than 16 miles apart in southern San Joaquin Valley Sunday afternoon.

The California Highway Patrol said seven persons were killed, about 96 injured in the accidents. Casualties were treated at three hospitals in this Central California city. Names of the dead and injured were being withheld until their families are notified.

"The whole line of cars" went boom...boom...boom like a chain reaction, said Major Smith, 24, Oakland, Calif., who was involved in one of the accidents.

The scene looked "like a junkyard" with "cars and trucks all lumped together," said Jim Gay, the Kern County deputy coroner.

Paul man killed in wreck

PAUL — Robert LeRoy Drussel, 40, Paul, was killed instantly Saturday in a two-car accident one mile east of Othello, Wash.

The Washington State Police said Drussel was a passenger in a car driven by Ronald Carroll, 27, Kennewick, Wash., who was also killed outright.

Drussel had been working in the Othello area the past month. He is survived by his wife and four children at Mackay, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Drussel, Burley.

US wheat eyed by Red Chinese

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Agriculture Department specialists on foreign farm conditions said today in a carefully phrased analysis that China apparently suffered a drought in its wheat belt and may try to buy American wheat.

The announcement followed recent disclosures that wheat sales to Russia, made to offset a poor harvest in the Soviet Union, have forced domestic prices to rise 33 per cent.

"Although the effects of weather have probably been mitigated to some extent by improved seed varieties, better irrigation and drainage facilities and more fertilizer, an increase in total (Chinese) grain production over the claimed record harvest of 1971 appears doubtful," the analysis said.

Agriculture officials said there is a possibility that China may want to import U.S. wheat sometime during the next two seasons.

In the past month, the Soviet Union has bought 400 million bushels—about one-fourth of the American wheat crop. The Russian purchases created "a potential shortage" in the United States, according to Assistant Agriculture Secretary Carroll G. Brumthaver.

The threat to domestic supplies was disclosed last Thursday when millers and bakers asked the Price Commission for permission to raise bread prices between 1 and 3 cents per loaf.

The millers and bakers said the Russian purchases has created a domestic shortage.

Agnew shuns '76 prattle

BURBANK, Calif. (UPI) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says he wishes attention would swing away from his chances as a presidential contender in 1976 to the elections this year.

He said the debates and prophecies on his future are weakening the Republican effort.

"All this talk about 1976 is debilitating to the party. It's counterproductive. Four years away is an eternity in politics. We shouldn't even discuss it."

Agnew attended a gala political reception for Hollywood celebrities at the Western White House Sunday evening.

British prince killed

WOLVERHAMPTON, England (UPI) — Prince William of Gloucester, ninth in succession to the British throne, was killed today when the plane he was flying in an air race crashed on takeoff, police and airport spokesmen said.

A Piper Cherokee plane carrying the 30-year-old prince and his copilot clipped the top of a large tree at the beginning of the Goodyear Air Race at the Halfpenny Green Airfield near Wolverhampton, witnesses said. It crashed and burned and a witness said, "It ended up just a mangled, burned-out wreck."

William was a first cousin of Queen Elizabeth II and the son of the Duke of Gloucester.

Prince William began flying at Cambridge University in the early 1960s and had entered several international air races this year. He had logged more than 700 hours before he finished fourth earlier this year in the Welsh Air Derby. He also was working on his balloonist license.

A Goodyear spokesman said the prince and his copilot, identified only as a Mr. Mitchell, were the only two persons aboard the four-passenger aircraft.

US hits Hanoi troop complex

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. jet fighter-bombers for the first time in the war Sunday bombed a troop complex near Hanoi where Communist troops are quartered before being sent into South Vietnam, the U.S. command said today.

A command spokesman said Air Force F4 Phantom jets leveled 13 military barracks and eight nearby buildings and damaged 45 other barracks at the Xom Bai Garrison 37 miles northwest of the North Vietnamese capital.

The Phantoms also blew up a nearby rail line in their first strike of the war against the Xom Bai barracks, where Communist troops are stationed while awaiting movement into the South, the command said.

The U.S. command said fighter-bombers struck more than 300 times in the North Sunday, including an attack on the vital railroad line leading northeast from Hanoi to China. Pilots hit the Vu Chau section of the line 44 miles northeast of Hanoi and reported two explosions and three fires.

A Hanoi Radio broadcast monitored in Tokyo today claimed five Phantoms were shot down over the North Sunday and an unspecified number of American pilots were captured. The U.S. command never comments on such reports.

The command said an American adviser and a South Vietnamese officer were killed in a mid-air collision Saturday between a South Vietnamese Air Force A37 jet fighter and a Vietnamese prop-driven observation plane. Field reports said the planes, the jet carrying the U.S. Saigon officer and the observation plane piloted by the American, crashed but no location was specified.

In ground fighting in South Vietnam, Communist troops infiltrated Que Son district capital today but counterattacking government soldiers pushed them part way back.

Postal rate hike scrapped

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Postmaster General E.T. Kasten said Monday that savings made primarily from a 33,000-staff reduction have removed the need to ask for a $450 million postal rate increase.

President Nixon had included the increase, which would have meant raising the cost of the first-class stamp from 8 cents to 9 cents, in his current fiscal year budget.

Kasten told his first news conference since taking over the reorganized U.S. Postal Service last January: "We have to notify the Rate Commission in the month of September that we want a rate increase and I have no intention of doing it."

"Since April 1, through attrition and retirement, more than 33,000 people have left the service."

Kasten explained that 85 per cent of postal service costs stemmed from wages and employee benefits.

Viet war: 'Imagine B-52s bombing US back in 1848'

Editor's note: The following dispatch was filed by former U.S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, who recently returned from a visit to North Vietnam. Clark's reports on North Vietnam sparked instant and heated controversy. Clark's report below is clearly one of opinion.

By RAMSEY CLARK
Written for UPI

We might better understand the meaning of our actions in Vietnam had the United States been bombed in 1847 by the B-25s of some distant land 10 times its size, centuries ahead technologically, peopled by men half again as big as we were.

Imagine Gen. Zachary Taylor poised to strike at Matamoros, Monterrey and Saltillo, Col. Robert E. Lee marching from Vera Cruz to Mexico City with Gen. Winfield Scott, and Capt. Ulysses S. Grant struggling with mule teams up the mountains from the Gulf of Mexico to Chapultepec; all in showers of bombs and Phantom jets and B-25s destroying most habitation and much of the countryside. By 1848, our population exceeded the present population of North Vietnam. Our industrial development then was a century ahead of the present capacity of the country we are bombing.

There are no significant military targets in the North. They have no submarine stalls, no ballbearing factories, no forts or military bases. There are just the cities and villages, the few dirt roads, the several small railroad lines, the dikes built over the centuries that support their civilization, rockets, guns, and the people. If we bomb we will necessarily hit homes, school, churches, hospitals, and kill old men, women and children. We do. So it goes.

In the shells of bombed schools, old maxims can still be seen on the walls. "Kinh Thay" — we must respect our teacher. But what a lesson we teach: technology will be used by man to destroy life.

The effect of all this bombing is very much as it would have been on us. Thomas Jefferson is quoted as saying in 1776 that "human nature is the same on both sides of the Atlantic," not a very popular observation then. Well, human nature is much the same on both sides of the Pacific, too, or the DMZ for that matter. Until we recognize our common humanity we will continue to destroy — our souls, their bodies.

2nd Demo files for legislature

By DAVID ESPO
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — The number of Twin Falls Democratic legislative candidates doubled to two over the weekend, amid speculation the field might double again this week.

A.K. Reed, 66, a Filer farmer, filed his candidacy papers with the office of the Secretary of State to run for representative in District 24.

He will oppose incumbent legislators William Roberts, Buhl, and William Lanting, Hollister.

Long active in party circles, Reed traveled last month to the Democratic National Convention in Miami Beach. This is his first try for elective office, however.

Reed now joins Raymond Strickland, Buhl, on the Democratic ticket for the general election. Strickland filed before the primary election to oppose Republican incumbent John Barker, Buhl, a state senator.

Reed's candidacy still leaves the party with two thirds of its legislative slate empty, however, as one representative seat in District 24 and all three slots in District 24 are without candidates.

But Mel Martin, legislative district chairman for District 25, said today he hoped more candidates would file in the next several days.

Hazel Wilder, legislative chairman for District 25, also indicated Friday that in addition to Reed, there would be one other candidate, who remains unidentified.

Several men have been mentioned in the speculation, including Dr. Ernest Ragland, former Twin Falls School District Superintendent, and Cecil Brim, Twin Falls. Both were identified at a party public meeting last month by County Central Committee Chairman Vincent Smazal, who said they were "possible candidates."

Counter charges call for action

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Democrats are calling for an independent investigation of the alleged bugging of the party's national committee offices. Republicans want Sen. George S. McGovern's campaign financing investigated.

These counter challenges developed following a report last weekend by the General Accounting Office (GAO), congressional investigative agency, that charged the Committee to Re-Elect the President with 11 apparent or possible violations of the 1971 Federal Election Campaign Act in the handling of $350,000 in contributions. The GAO said that $114,000 of the campaign funds was deposited in the bank account of Bernard L. Barker, one of five men arrested with elaborate electronic gear June 17 in the Democratic offices. Barker is a former employee of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

Referring to the Justice Department investigation of circumstances surrounding the break-in, McGovern's political director Frank Mankiewicz said Sunday, "In a well-ordered society you don't ask the fox who got into the chicken coop."

Mankiewicz said that a special prosecutor should be appointed, independent of the Justice Department, "since people in or near the administration are obviously involved" in the case.

He said in a CBS-TV interview that President Nixon "is now sitting on a major scandal...that affects the entire administration."

Maurice H. Stans, former commerce secretary who now directs fund-raising for Nixon's campaign, insists he has no idea how the money got to Barker's account.

Stans called Sunday for a GAO investigation of McGovern's campaign organization, "which we have reason to believe will be very revealing."

In a statement, Stans denied any violations by the Committee to Re-Elect the President. The GAO findings were referred to the Justice Department.

Demo committee rejects ceiling

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Democratic-controlled Congressional Economic Committee says more jobs would be created by breaking President Nixon's proposed $250 billion ceiling on federal spending.

The committee rejected the ceiling as an anti-inflation vehicle, recommending instead that the government bear down on price hikes by "big business" and excessive wage increases for "strong labor unions."

In arguing for spending of some $260 billion this fiscal year, the committee said Sunday that "one of the most effective anti-inflationary actions available is to hasten the return to full employment, thus putting more of our citizens productively to work."

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., the committee chairman, suggested in a dissent that the ceiling should actually be $10 billion lower than Nixon proposed.

Proxmire said a $240 billion limit would be possible by "promptly ending the Vietnam war, cutting an additional 5 percent from military spending, sharply reducing the space program, eliminating all of the foreign military aid programs, and eliminating waste and duplication from all domestic programs."

Labor still split

CHICAGO (UPI)—President George Meany and other top AFL-CIO officials opened their summer Executive Council meeting today still badly split over whether labor should support Democratic presidential nominee George S. McGovern.

Under Meany's prodding, the council voted 2-3 last month to remain neutral between McGovern and President Nixon, but since then at least 10 of the council members and unions representing more than half the 13.6 million members in the AFL-CIO have come out in support of McGovern.

Union sources said the McGovern supporters on the council, led by Communications Workers President Joseph Beltrame, may try to get the council to reverse itself this week and endorse McGovern.

Question...

Do you have available, or do you know where I can get, a book which summarizes the Federal Tax responsibilities I must face in my late husband's estate?

Answer...

We have a supply of the Internal Revenue Service Document "Federal Tax Guide for Survivors, Executors and Administrators." You are welcome to pick up a copy. There is no cost for this booklet.

Ordinarily this publication answers most of the questions involved in the average small estate. Estate matters of greater consequence are better left to the judgement of the trust officer of your bank, your attorney, or your accountant.

At your request we will be glad to order two other booklets published by the Internal Revenue Service which may be helpful.

PAUL HARVEY

Super-Race May Be A Necessity

Not all men are created equal. And though physicians, more than most, recognize the variables, few have dared to suggest controlled breeding.

Now one physician of prominence has dared. Demographers decry the population explosion. They protest "Millions will die of starvation!" while physicians devise more and improved methods for keeping alive the imperfect young and the unproductive old.

In Medical World News an English physician pleads for "no more heart transplants." He sees the percentage increase of old people as a threat to survival of the human race.

Dr. Ernest Breed, past president of the Illinois Medical Society, says we further compound our problem by keeping alive the defective young until they can pass their defects on to the next generation. "In time they will infect the entire population with genetic aberrations."

Recent ecological emphasis has concentrated on the pollution of man's environment; the next concern will deal with man's pollution of man through contaminated germ plasma.

Barry Commoner of Washington University, along with other scientists of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science, believes that science — advancing itself — is retarding the human race. He can see "no future for man past the year 2000."

Dr. Breed believes that doomsday may be averted by a decision by society to sterilize all defective children shortly before puberty. Where mental, physical, historical or chromosomal aberrations are apparent on careful examination, surgical procedures should be employed. Thereafter they could live a normal life except that they could not contaminate future generations.

The scientists expect the suggestion to be met with revulsion and suspicion, but they believe that human survival requires a realistic reappraisal of the right to reproduce.

We selectively breed racehorses to perpetuate the best, while we rescue and reproduce the weakest remnants of the human race.

Dr. Breed, son of a Presbyterian minister, is aware that Hitler's super-race theory was misused to the calculated elimination of many of Germany's most brilliant, most gifted and most productive people.

So, the responsibility is enormous for the mortal who dares decree which human should be rendered sterile. For this reason, he has sought to narrow his definition of inheritable defects.

Already, increased awareness that humanity can self-destruct with indiscriminate multiplication has made smaller families more fashionable. Former HEW Secretary Robert Finch said quality of life is more important than quantity, that parents should limit themselves to two children.

With a member of the President's Cabinet willing to go that far in urging quality over quantity, we are closer — whether we prefer it or not — to an Orwellian society in which the bad seed will be set aside.

"NOW YOU HAVE A GAP OF YOUR VERY OWN"

RAY CROMLEY

Behind Kissinger

Dr. Henry Kissinger did not make his quick trip to Saigon because of a breakthrough at the Paris peace talks on Vietnam.

It can be said with authority this meeting with President Thieu of South Vietnam had been arranged before Kissinger's secret session with Hanoi's Le Duc Tho in Paris. The Kissinger second-day meeting with Thieu, advertised as "unexpected," had also been arranged in advance.

But recently captured documents reveal North Vietnamese commanders in the South have been ordered to make preparations for an early cease-fire. They are to divide their troops into two categories. One group would stay aboveground and available for movement back to what ever cease-fire lines are decided on.

But selected cadre from each unit are to make preparations for going underground, and to stay behind when "all" North Vietnamese troops officially march to the agreed cease-fire areas.

At the same time, men close to the secret Paris talks say the North Vietnamese meeting with Kissinger in Paris have not modified their stiff surrender demands in the slightest. They still insist on a coalition government dominated by Communists, an American-arranged throwout of Thieu, complete U.S. withdrawal from Indochina and an end to U.S. aid for Saigon.

Mr. Nixon is still holding out against any give-in or face-saving compromise with Hanoi which would amount to giving the Communists what they demand. But this Nixon determination may not last for long.

Kissinger did discuss new possibilities with Thieu in Saigon. Time is running short before election day. Despite the public opinion polls showing him the heavy favorite, Mr. Nixon is nervous about November, remembering past upsets.

Therefore Mr. Nixon has a choice to make. He may decide soon that any sort of a peace is better than no peace at all. He may decide to hold firm with his present course. He may attempt to straddle.

representatives abroad have informed associates and Communist leaders in Western Europe, Asia and elsewhere they are convinced Mr. Nixon believes he must have a settlement by October to be absolutely sure of winning the presidential election in November. They have told these contacts in foreign lands they are going to wait Mr. Nixon out — wait for him to surrender to their demands with some face-saving "compromise" formula.

The attitude of the North Vietnamese in the secret Paris sessions with Kissinger tends to confirm these reports. Le Duc Tho and his associates are tougher, more fixed in their attitudes even than in the past, if that is possible.

Ellsberg-Otepka

WASHINGTON — "Ellsberg-Otepka" says the scribbled memo which has been resting on this desk for more than two weeks. The memo was prompted by a one-line news item buried among the deplorable ads reporting Otto Otepka's resignation from the Subversive Activities Control Board.

The reader can be forgiven if Otto Otepka's name rings no bell in his memory. Unlike Daniel Ellsberg, the purveyor of the Pentagon Papers dealing with top-secret information on the Vietnam War, Otepka was cast by life as a victim — a man having no important connections within certain influential segments of the press, the right kind of Georgetown hostesses, or the self-appointed academic elite.

Yet, also, unlike Ellsberg, Otepka was never charged with breaking one of the Republic's laws, but only with offending the State Department bureaucracy to which he belongs.

Back in the Sixties, Otto Otepka was chief of the State Department's security evaluations division. In that position, he was called upon by the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee to testify about State's security procedures. Then as now, Congress was concerned about reports that security in the Executive Branch was not quite up to snuff.

In any event, Otepka asked for and received permission from his superiors to appear before the subcommittee.

Understand now, Federal law and the inflexible rules of Congress require civil servants to provide information to members of Congress. Neither Otepka nor the State Department had any choice but to honor the subcommittee's request that Otepka testify.

about how his division operated. Bureaucrats are expert at the art of saying much but telling nothing, and Otepka had been around.

However, Otepka threw the State Department into a most undiplomatic flap by handing over to the subcommittee a detailed classified memorandum which apparently proved that several employees of State had lied under oath. Otepka figured, rightly, that such information was material to any investigation of State's security setup.

That wasn't the way State's ruling clique saw it. Although the employees later admitted they had indeed fibbed with one hand on the Bible, as it were, Otepka was charged with passing classified information to Congress and forthwith banished to an obscure office and informed that henceforth he would just sit there and twiddle his thumbs.

Richard Nixon made the Otepka case one of his minor campaign issues in 1968, promising to right the wrongs done to the former security expert. The way Nixon talked, you'd have thought Otepka was in line for the job of Secretary of State, or at least Undersecretary. But Nixon didn't do much. He did, in fact, next to nothing by naming Otepka to the somewhat less than respectable and virtually moribund SACB. Meanwhile, the way-out liberals continued to attack Otepka as a fascist traitor, and also as a man lacking style and chic.

It is not surprising that this same clique has now made of Daniel Ellsberg a given-honored celebrity who if much his head will save American from perdition. The difference, you see, is that Ellsberg leaked his top-secret stuff to the newspapers, while Otepka, in a fit of unsophisticated patriotism, gave that classified memo to a duly constituted body of Congress. Out of the way, everybody, I may be sick.

Pregnancy

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I had toxemia when I was pregnant with my first baby, and I was put in the hospital during my ninth month.

My symptoms were high blood pressure and I was overweight due to excess fluids. What I would like to know is will I get toxemia when I become pregnant again? Also, how is toxemia harmful to baby and mother during pregnancy? — J.M.

The exact cause of toxemia is not really known, although it does afflict a good many pregnant women, especially those who have not had early enough prenatal attention — a very good reason for getting in to early contact with a physician.

It is supposed that either an endocrine imbalance or a metabolic disorder is the cause. A warning of the onset of toxemia in pregnant women is a rise in blood pressure. Often women with high blood pressure are more susceptible to toxemia.

Fluid retention, also associated with it, brings sudden weight gains beyond those to be expected naturally during pregnancy. Swelling in joints is especially noticeable, and many women complain of tightened wedding rings and bracelets.

It usually occurs in the last three months of pregnancy, although it can occur as early as the middle three months.

In mild cases, treatment involving diet restrictions (low salt diet), rest and diuretic drugs are sufficient.

In your case, your doctor felt that such treatment was insufficient, and to be on the safe side he had you admitted to a hospital for more intensive care.

Without proper care, toxemia can become a serious matter indeed, leading, in extreme cases, to convulsions.

The practice of examining urine samples throughout pregnancies helps monitor patients for signs of toxemia.

Abnormal amounts of albumin in the urine occurs.

It's said that if you had toxemia during your last pregnancy, you would be a pretty good candidate for it in your next one.

The disorder is more common in areas where inadequate prenatal care is the norm than where good care is available.

It is dangerous both to the mother and the child, often leading to premature delivery.

How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple. Write to Dr. Thosteson in care of this newspaper for a copy of the booklet, "How To Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains," enclosing a long, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all mail from his readers, but because of the great volume received daily he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

BERRY'S WORLD

COMMENT

The Tone Is Tough

Christian Science Monitor
The GOP platform has "Made in the White House" stamped all over it. For this reason, perversely, it has more than the usual value of such platforms.

It represents the considered hopes of the Nixon administration of what it would like to achieve in its next four years. And it most probably sets the tone for the months of campaigning between now and November: tough.

The hard-fisted attacks on the Democratic opponent appear to be an attempt by Mr. Nixon to turn table on George McGovern, who has said "Richard Nixon is the issue" in this campaign. Pungent phrases such as "deceitful tax reform," "radical clique," and calling the Democrat's Vietnam stance "an act of betrayal" all appear to be an effort to make Mr. McGovern the issue of the campaign.

On substantive matters, the platform reflects Mr. Nixon's steady effort to present himself as spokesman for the broad middle-range of the American people. In the areas of economics and taxes, it pledges the candidate to pursue revenue sharing, as a means of allowing property tax relief. It promises to reform the tax structure for a fairer sharing of the tax burden, as well as to simplify the overall tax reporting system. And it promises to eliminate "unnecessary programs," though it is not specific about whether the programs it considers "unnecessary" are military or social.

What it does NOT promise in the area of taxes is a tax increase "expectable," since no candidate for office can hope to win on that unsavory plank. But since the GOP platform does pledge to hold back on inflation and to keep the economy in full swing, it is difficult to know how increased taxes can be avoided.

On Vietnam, expectably, the platform supports Mr. Nixon's present terms for ending the war. And on related controversial questions, it calls for continuing strength in the defense establishment, as against a $32 billion cut promised by Mr. McGovern; and rejects amnesty for war service resisters.

While neither Republican conservatives nor liberals are happy with the platform in many particulars, the general euphoria of delegates at the convention indicates that they will go along with Mr. Nixon's assessment that at this time he must present himself as representing the broadest middle spectrum of the American electorate, pitted against the "radical clique" which, by inference, has placed the Democratic Party in the hands of an irresponsible minority. Thus while there may be some token debate on particulars in the convention, such as abortion, government reform, or abolition of the union shop, no one expects any donnybrooks to disrupt the generally festive air of what looks increasingly to be the mid-way point of the Nixon era.

Nixon's Youth Vote

IDAHO STATE JOURNAL
It was significant the President Tuesday night made his first post-nomination appearance before a youth-for-Nixon rally four miles from the tumult of Convention Hall.

He was led into Marine Stadium, where he gave an extemporaneous talk, not by a tight cluster of party hacks, but by a bare-backed girl who looked barely old enough to vote (that is, 18 or older).

In the course of his remarks he made it plain he was not going to be willing to forfeit a single youth vote to "the other side," despite the popular notion the Democrats had the youth vote all sewed up.

The enthusiasm of some of the young Nixon workers during this Republican convention may help reshape that notion.

True, the protesters are packed deep around Convention Hall, and are losing no opportunity to show their displeasure at the President and his policies.

But one gets the idea these dissidents are not going to be showing up at the polling booths come November.

The President and his supporters, on the other hand, are relying on the politically-minded youth of more conservative persuasion turning out in force, and swelling Mr. Nixon's vote total.

About Ox-Goring

Idaho Free Press
There is an old saying that "it depends on whose ox is gored." This simply means that if it happens to you, it's one thing; if it happens to someone else, well, that's a different matter.

We were reminded of this by an incident at Miami Beach last weekend. The American Nazi Party was on hand at Flamingo Park doing their thing. So were the Vietnam Veterans Against the War.

The Veterans didn't like what the Nazis were doing, so they busted 'em up and threw them bodily out of the park.

We didn't send any get-well cards. But we couldn't help thinking of the cries we will be hearing later this week when the Veterans, the SDS'ers and the Yippies get flung bodily out of the Convention Center area.

And most certainly they shall, if the prelude is any indicator. The other night at a $500-a-plate fund raising dinner in Miami, the SDS people surrounded the hotel and jostled arriving guests. They joined hands and tried to keep the people out. And you can just about imagine the invectives hurled by the protesting Students for a Democratic Society.

None were arrested. But the demonstrators can't count on the same treatment when they step up their plans to keep delegates out of the auditorium itself.

Such behavior deserves arrest. Then listen to the gored owners. The "establishment" will catch hell from the SDS'ers who will be crying about the lousy treatment they got from the Republicans.

Well, they can join on the crying towel with their Nazi friends who got short shrift from the Veterans. Meanwhile, back on the hustings, we the electorate will just sit back and watch the goings-on at Miami.

The earlier exhibition by the Democrats will be a hard act to follow. The demonstrators were so well-behaved it was suspicious.

We doubt they will be so well-behaved this week. Besides, fewer of them are off the demonstration line and in the delegate section.

We doubt they will be so well-behaved this week. Besides, fewer of them are off the demonstration lines and in the delegate section. It does make a difference. Who wants to gore his own ox?

Boris' dream crumbles

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (UPI)—It was the sixth straight draw in the chess match of the century—but this one was different.

World champion Boris Spassky blazed away down the center of the board and made a daring knight sacrifice on his 18th move. Three moves later his dream of victory crumbled when Bobby Fischer came up with a brilliant queen move.

"The only move that could save the game," said Yugoslav grandmaster Svetozar Gligoric. "And Bobby knew it. All of sudden he was very relaxed."

Spassky was annoyed, slipping coffee and wondering what went wrong.

In the end the Russian champion made a gesture with his right hand and offered a draw after the 40th move. The 19th game was split down the middle and Fischer had inched closer to the world title.

The 29-year-old American challenger has a 11 to 8 point lead and needs another win and a draw—or three draws—to capture the title. Spassky must at least win three and draw two of the remaining five games to retain his crown, a nearly impossible task, grandmasters agreed.

The next game is scheduled for Tuesday.

"What a game," said U.S. grandmaster Larry Evans. "How good it was to see the old Boris—again, lining up his artillery. Long analysis will show whether he had a win going up to the 21st move, but according to my book Fischer missed an even greater chance by fluffing his 30th move. It was a game of riddles."

Even chief referee Lothar Schmid chimed in with praise after explaining how he cooled down Fischer early in the game. "Bobby came over to my table and complained about the noise," Schmid said. "So I said to him, 'Bobby, please be kind, and you know, he was! He never came back.'"

"Perhaps it was because he enjoyed the game. I found it very interesting and exciting. In fact the second part of the championship, has produced much better chess than the opening games."

Fischer, dressed in a new purple corduroy suit, made during his visit to Iceland, found himself in positional trouble early in the game. However, as the play continued he worked his way back into a strong position.

If he wins the championship, Fischer becomes the second American to hold the title. Paul Morphy of New Orleans claimed the championship from 1858 to 1882 before any organized world title play was initiated.

Ulster bombs take 9 lives

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—At least nine persons have been blown themselves up accidentally in the past three weeks while attempting to set bombs in Northern Ireland, the British army said today.

A spokesman said three persons perished Saturday when a home-made device exploded prematurely in an attempt on installations at the Downpatrick race track.

At least six other persons died violently Saturday and Sunday, bringing to 529 the province's death toll since Roman Catholic-Protestant strife erupted in 1969.

The dead included a British army sergeant cut down by a sniper bullet in the neck Sunday in the Creggan Heights district of Londonderry. He was the first British soldier killed in a former Catholic "no-go" area since the British army moved in on them a month ago.

An army spokesman said the Downpatrick deaths and others of persons carrying explosive devices that exploded prematurely was a result of tighter control on sources of gelignite in both Northern Ireland and the neighboring Republic of Ireland.

He said would-be bombers were forced to manufacture their own explosives from a highly unstable mixture of nitrobenzene and domestic fertilizer. The slightest slip while the explosive was being primed was enough to set it off, he said, as apparently happened at Downpatrick.

Today was an official holiday in Northern Ireland, but the violence continued as usual.

A spate of minor explosions took place throughout the province around midnight. A British army paratrooper patrolling near the Ardoyne area north of Belfast was struck by a bullet shortly after midnight, but the bullet failed to penetrate his flak jacket.

A 24-year-old Belfast man was reported seriously wounded after a shootout between Royal Marines and a gunman in the Unity Flats district. One soldier was shot and wounded and the marines claimed the civilian was a gunman.

The army admitted it let slip through its fingers two of the province's most wanted men—Provisional IRA leader Frank McGuigan, the only man to escape from Long Kesh internment camp, and his brother, Michael.

Meet holds talks' fate

NEW DELHI (UPI)—A meeting between Prime Minister Indira Gandhi and Pakistani officials today will decide the fate of the Indo-Pakistan talks which started Friday.

The officials of the two sides met for two hours today for the fourth and the crucial round of talks but failed to reach agreement.

A Pakistani official said "not much" has been achieved, and an Indian Foreign Office spokesman brushed aside questions saying, "We have not been authorized to say anything at this stage."

The officials, led by Parmeshwar Narayan Haksar, principal secretary to Mrs. Gandhi, and Aziz Ahmed, Secretary-General of Pakistan's Foreign Office, were grappling with the problems over the Simla summit agreement between the two countries.

Atlantic churned by storm

MIAMI (UPI)—Hurricane Betty, the second tropical storm of the season, swirled in the North Atlantic today far from any land area.

The National Hurricane Center said Sunday night that Betty was situated about 650 miles west of the Azores, or near latitude 41.8 north, longitude 41.5 west. The storm was moving toward the east northeast at 20 to 25 miles an hour, with maximum sustained winds of 100 m.p.h.

The hurricane center said it was planning to issue only one bulletin on Betty since it is moving away from the United States and poses no threat to any land areas.

Betty graduated from a neotropical to a hurricane over the weekend.

A neotropical cyclone distinguished from the hurricane by its very small size—somewhere between a tornado and a hurricane.

LBJ turns 64, stays out of public scene

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Since stepping down from the presidency four years ago, Lyndon B. Johnson has increasingly shunned the public eye by staying on his Texas ranch and talking only with family and a few select friends.

Sunday—his 64th birthday—was no exception.

The only word from the LBJ Ranch, 60 miles from Austin, was the sharp reply:

"Mr. Johnson is not here but I am not allowed to tell you where he is. I am the only one here."

Tom Johnson, no relation but the former president's press secretary, said he had no idea what—if anything—his boss was doing but that Lyndon Johnson's personal secretary, Mary Rather, might help.

"I haven't talked to him so I really don't know what he is doing," Miss Rather said. "Could he be at church?"

"Yea," she said.

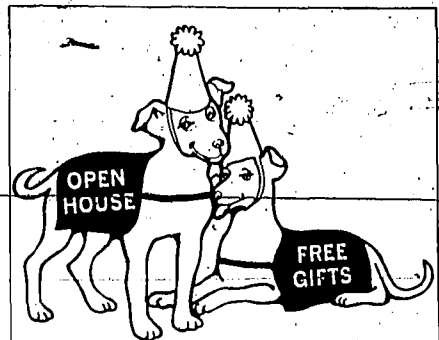

What church?

"Well, I don't know. Sometimes he goes to church twice. He goes to his church and then to Mrs. Johnson's church."

The mystery was in keeping with a growing attitude on Johnson's part to stay on his ranch and out of the public eye.

He manages this so well that when photographs of his recent meeting with Sen. George McGovern were released the big news was that his hair was well below his collar.

Johnson endorsed the Democratic ticket Aug. 15, but was not expected to campaign actively.

Pullout deadline beaten

SAIGON (UPI)—The withdrawal of the last American combat unit and other U.S. troops from Vietnam last week dropped troop strength in the war zone below 39,000 one week before President Nixon's deadline date, military spokesmen said today.

The U.S. command said 1,200 soldiers and 300 members of the Air Force were pulled out, leaving 37,700 Americans based in South Vietnam as of last Thursday.

Included in the 1,500-man withdrawal were members of the 3rd Battalion, 21st Infantry, the last U.S. combat unit in Vietnam.

Nixon, who on June 28 had ordered American strength below 39,000 by Sept. 1, is expected to announce a new pullout this week. Sources in Washington have predicted a new withdrawal of about 14,000 men, and have indicated it will be the last until the end of the war.

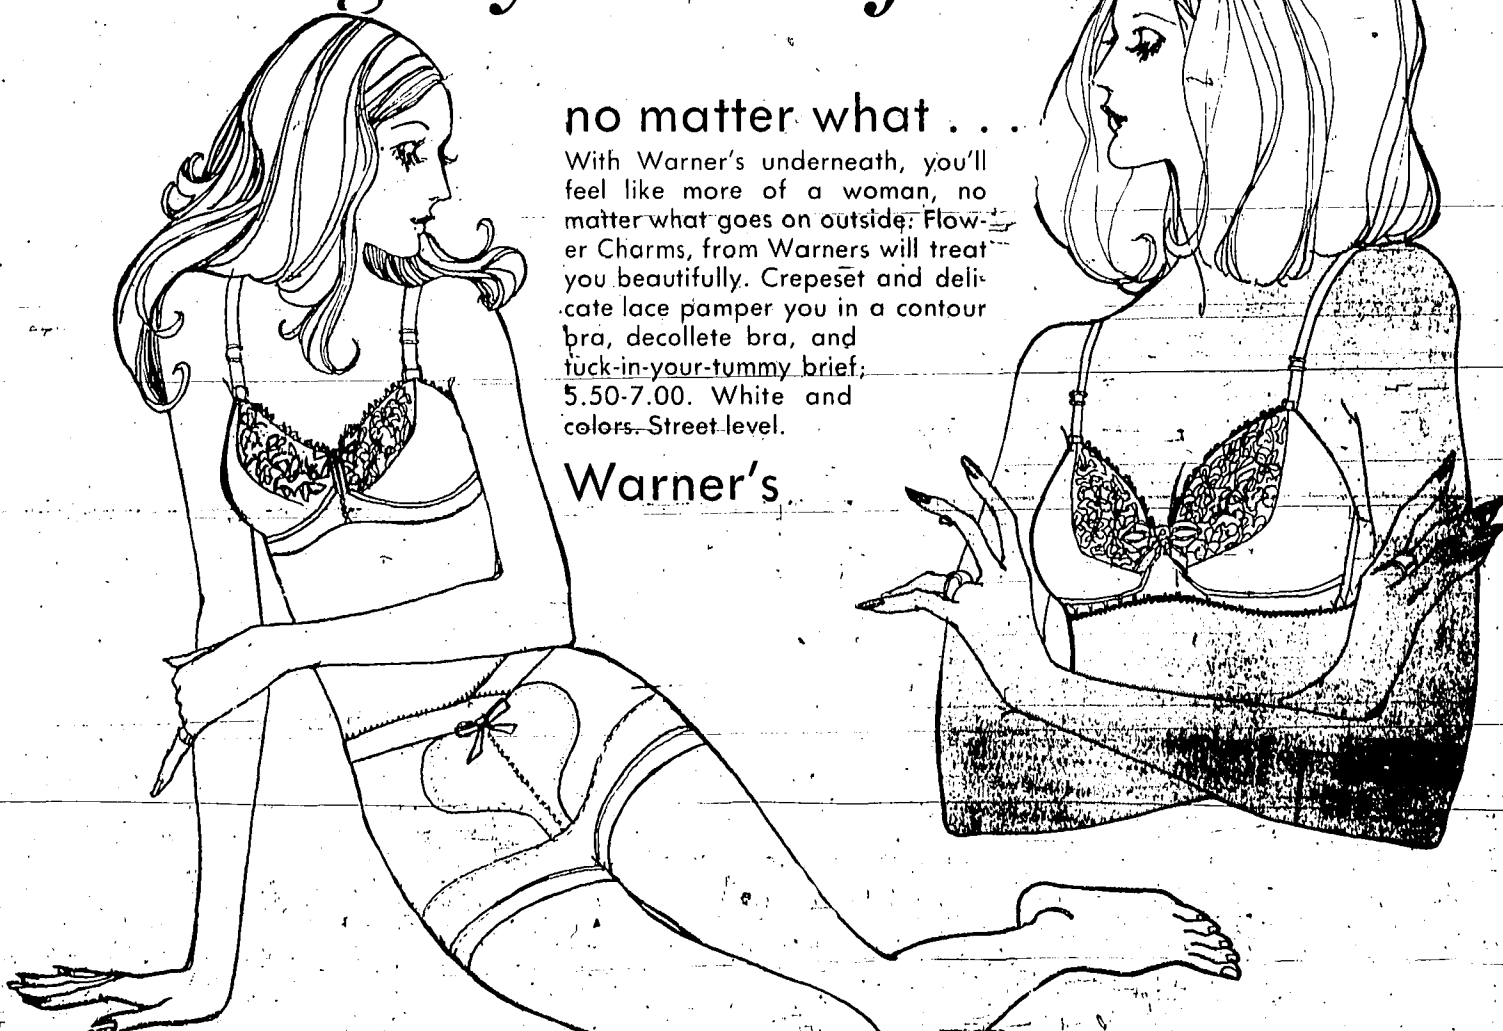

Last week's withdrawals also dropped the number of U.S. troops in South Vietnam below the number of so-called "Free World Forces," which number 39,400. More than 35,000 of these forces are South Korean, but Thailand, the Philippines, Taiwan, Australia, New Zealand and Spain also have token forces.

Hollywood stars party with Nixon

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI-Hollywood Correspondent
SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI)—President Nixon took Hollywood by a landslide Sunday, with more stars turning out for a party at the Western White House than have been seen at any Academy Award ceremony.

"I never knew there were so many closet Republicans," cracked Vince Edwards, television's Dr. Ben Casey, at the turnout of about 400 traditionally Democratic show-business leaders.

The President, mixing and chatting on an overcast, sultry evening at his villa overlooking the Pacific, told his guests he had a projection room installed in the White House "so I can watch more movies. Pat and I both love motion pictures. They're not interrupted by commercials."

He said that no R-rated film has been shown in his private theater. "But we have shown an hour of an R-rated movie, and that's as far as we're going to go."

"I don't want to sound jingoistic but I prefer motion pictures made in Hollywood. This is where they began, this is where they grew up and they are an American phenomenon," Presidential adviser Henry Kissinger, who takes a ribbing for his image as the administration's swinging bachelor, showed up with actress Jill St. John.

"Henry has tried for three years and finally persuaded me to vote for the President," said Miss St. John.

Turning to newsmen, Kissinger quipped, "And you guys thought I was just wasting my time out here."

When reporters asked Kissinger what his other women friends would think of his dating Miss St. John, she interjected, "Let them eat their hearts out."

The guests included a number who in the past have gone out campaigning for Democratic nominees, including Frank Sinatra, now a golfing pal of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, Jimmy Durante and Charlton Heston.

The Republican stalwarts were led by John Wayne, Clint Eastwood, Jimmy Stewart and Glen Campbell.

Mingling with them was a couple with a foot in both camps: political and movie, Gov. and Mrs. Ronald Reagan.

It was a two-Gabor party, with Zsa Zsa and sister Eva both attending — and even speaking to each other, an unusual sight.

Comedians Dan Rowan and Dick Martin of "Laugh In" arrived directly from work at NBC in Burbank, 70 miles to the north, in a helicopter.

Among others attending were Jack Benny, Richard Crenna, Glenn Ford, Merv Griffin, Debbie Reynolds, her former husband, Eddie Fisher, Red Skelton, Mary Tyler Moore and George Burns.

The younger crowd included former football star Jim Brown, Frankie Avalon, Michael Cole, Elizabeth Bauer and Chris Connolly.

Outshining the glamor girls was the President's daughter, Tricia Cox, a blonde charmer who drew more attention than most of the stars present.

Wandering among the guests, nattily dressed, was the Rev. Billy Graham, who has preached at Sunday White House services. Asked if he was going to vote for Nixon, he grinned and replied "I'm leaning."

Jack Benny said he had voted Democratic in the past — "I was for Truman" — but this year he supports Nixon.

The President repaid the compliment.

"A congressman recently told me that 'if I had told my old man that some day I would talk to the President of the United States, he would have told me I was crazy,'" the President said.

"Well, I know this will date me, but if I had told my old man that someday I would shake hands with Jack Benny, he would have told me I was crazy," Nixon said.

Nixon thanked the entertainers who had performed at the White House during his first term. "Which I know was a great deal of trouble for you and not even tax deductible."

He added "The only campaign promise I'll making tonight is that anyone who hasn't been invited to the White House yet, will be in the next four years."

White settlers, known as Boomers, first took over unassigned lands in what is now Oklahoma but were ejected by federal troops.

Refugees meet with Cardinal

BRUSSELS (UPI)—On a back pew a wizened old woman twisted a small handkerchief nervously around her trembling fingers and knelt on the cold stone floor.

Around her, thousands of Hungarian refugees stood on pews, in the extra chairs and even climbed pillars. Tears glistened in men's eyes and women wept openly for joy.

Up the aisle, limping along behind a Hungarian flag and the yellow and white Vatican banner, came the stooped, aging figure of Cardinal Jozsef Mindszenty.

They all waited 15 years for this day, and the more than 3,000 Hungarians from throughout Western Europe broke into cheers at the sight of the 80-year-old primate of Hungary, banished from his homeland but once again among his refugee flock.

It had been 10 months since he accepted a personal appeal from Pope Paul VI and took up the "hottest cross of my life."

He ended his 15 years exile inside the U.S. embassy in Budapest and returned to another exile away from his beloved Hungary and "the people I love."

He came to Brussels to be among his fellow exiles and the message he brought them Sunday was an appeal to Hungarians everywhere to defend the faith which Saint Stephen gave them a millennia ago. His mass in Brussels' Sacred Heart Cathedral commemorated the 1,000th anniversary of the first Hungarian king.

California trial costs exorbitant

FAIRFIELD, Calif. (UPI)—The trial of Juan V. Corona, accused of slaying 25 itinerant farmworkers, may cost California taxpayers as much as $500,000.

Solano County officials estimated Sunday the government will spend about $15,000 a week during the trial, expected to begin Sept. 5 and last between four and six months. Pretrial expenses were about $150,000.

Sheriff Albert M. Cardozo said he will hire eight extra deputies, including one matron, just for the trial. He also plans to use a new $2,200 metal detector to screen all persons entering the courtroom.

Corona, 38, has been incarcerated since May, 1971, when the mutilated farmworkers' bodies were uncovered in peach orchards along the banks of the Feather River near Yuba City.

Nixon's lodging stirs pretests

HONOLULU (UPI)—President Nixon's lodgings for his meeting with Japanese Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka on Thursday and Friday will be at a site called Kuilima, Hawaiian for "hand in hand."

But while the hotel rising from Oahu's quiet and beautiful north coast 30 miles from Honolulu may be conducive to the President's thinking, the choice has stirred protests from a group calling themselves just "little guys" and "ordinary people."

Local members of the Association for Humanistic Psychology have been told to find a new site for the convention they have been planning for six months.

Linda Tillich, president of the association's local chapter, said it was "unfair and imperious" for the President's party to take over their reserved facilities.

"We were signed up for the Kuilima six months ago," she said. "We're the little guys, whisked away for the convenience of the President. Our convention for ordinary people is just as important as the President's."

New law imposed

SAIGON (UPI)—South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu has handed down a new law imposing the death penalty for persons convicted of large-scale corruption.

It was the latest statute to be signed in Thieu's crackdown on crime in Vietnam. He recently signed into law a death penalty punishment for drug smugglers.

The official Vietnam Press said the new law on corruption was passed "with a view to purify the society in the face of the urgent demand for a total and steady reform."

The death penalty will apply

Irving to start jail sentence

LEWISBURG, Pa. (UPI)—Clifford Irving goes to jail today, frightened by the hope of an early parole but shackled to a rockpile of debts following a stormy literary career.

Irving, who admittedly masterminded the phony Howard Hughes autobiography and sold the hoax to McGraw-Hill, for $650,000, begins his 2-1/2 year sentence at the federal penitentiary here.

He will be eligible for parole after 10 months of his sentence passes. Even if his parole is denied, he can cut 10 months from the term for good behavior.

The 41-year-old writer, his wife Edith and researcher Richard Susskind pleaded guilty to conspiracy in the hoax.

Mrs. Irving has already served a two-month sentence in the conspiracy. She pleaded, guilty to forging Hughes' name at Swiss banks to McGraw-Hill checks written to the billionaire reclusive.

Irving estimated that he has a $1 million debt hanging over him as he enters prison. Both he and his wife were fined $10,000 and he was ordered to pay a tax bill in connection with the hoax.

But the writer has also been ordered to repay the $650,000 to McGraw-Hill. The money has been seized by the government.

Last week, Irving faced more financial problems because of another book he had written entitled "Fake."

International art dealer Fernando Legros of Geneva made attachments on Irving's current and future income. Those debts stem from a libel suit Legros filed against the author.

Included in the attachments are money from the hoax deposited in Swiss banks, now being held by the government; the author's life insurance policy; proceeds from Irving's new book, on the hoax; and proceeds from a paperback reissue of Irving's novel, "On A Darkling Plain."

Irving and Susskind had intended that the profits from the book about the hoax, published by Grove Press, be used to meet their debts.

Toyotas probed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Center for Auto Safety, a research group backed by consumer advocate Ralph Nader, has asked the government to investigate a number of reported hazards in late models of the Japanese-built Toyota.

The center said Sunday that 440 Toyota owners had reported trouble ranging from fuel tank leakage to defective brakes.

The owners were "too often the victims of potentially dangerous mechanical defects, unnecessary and exorbitant repair expenses, lost time and anxiety," the center said.

It asked the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration to make an immediate inquiry into these complaints and to take "whatever action, plus imposition of civil penalty, to assure the highest attainable level of safety defect corrections."

But the writer has also been ordered to repay the $650,000 to McGraw-Hill. The money has been seized by the government.

On this day in history:

In 1833, the British Parliament banned slavery throughout the empire.

In 1922, a New York City realty company paid $100 to sponsor the first radio commercial (over WEAF).

In 1963, more than 200,000 demonstrators staged an orderly civil rights march in Washington, D.C.

Denmark youth compares countries

By DICK HUGHES
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — "I want to learn what the United States is really like, not what the Danish writers say it is," said 17-year-old Soren Johansen of Denmark.

The young Dane is this year's American Field Service foreign exchange student for Twin Falls High School. He arrived in Twin Falls Aug. 10. During his year here he will live with the Roy Jessor family, Twin Falls.

Johansen lives near Ringsted, about 40 miles from Copenhagen. His parents are both elementary school teachers.

"The American Field Service did a good job in picking Soren to come here," said his American brother, Rusty Jessor, 17. "He's worked on a farm in Denmark and his family owns three horses."

"I'm a little nervous, but looking forward to school here," Johansen said. When he returns to Denmark he has two years of high school remaining. He plans to attend one of six Danish universities and become a biologist.

The Danish school system is "quite different," he said. It is structured differently and "we have not so many subjects to choose." Students are allowed to choose two of their subjects each term. They are required to study English or German.

"There were about 25 students in my class," he said. "We all stay together during the day but move to a different room and teacher for each subject."

Sports are not stressed and there are "very, very few" clubs, he said.

He added that there are no dress codes in most Danish high schools and "most of the girls wear jeans."

One American custom he finds interesting is dating. "This dating system we don't know. It's very unusual for a boy to ask a girl to go somewhere with him. Usually you just meet at a party. The boys come together and the girls come with their friends," he stated.

Danes are not allowed to drive until they are 18 "and this is something we all follow," he said. "When we are 15 we can ride small motorcycles, not over 50 cc."

The minimum drinking age is also 18, "but no one follows it," he stated.

Johansen said few youths are interested in religion in Denmark. "Very few go to church except at Christmas or Easter," he said, adding that the Protestant denomination was dominant in the country. "That's one thing that has struck me about the United States, all the different religions here," he said.

Television is also different in Denmark. Programs are broadcast about five hours daily and there are no commercials. Because of the limited television, "it's more common to go to movies in Denmark," he said.

"We like to do something outside for our leisure time," he added. "I like to go fishing."

The Danish student said that he was surprised that Idaho was so flat "and big. People go such big distances in a day. Going to Boise and back is like driving all the way across Denmark."

He arrived in the United States Aug. 6 and spent three days on Long Island, N. Y. "I haven't seen New York, the city, at all," he said.

Magic Valley Favorites

ULDEN SHUPE
1203 Idaho St., Gooding

TOMATO PINEAPPLE RELISH

- 2 cups prepared ripe tomatoes
- 1 box fruit pectin
- 1 1/2 cups crushed pineapple
- 5 1/2 cups sugar
- 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
- 2 tablespoons vinegar
- 1/2 teaspoon each cinnamon and allspice
- 1/4 teaspoon cloves

Scald, peel and chop tomatoes. Bring quickly to a boil and simmer 10 minutes. Measure two cups tomatoes in a very large saucepan. Mix pectin, pineapple and seasonings.

Add to the tomatoes and bring to a hard boil. Add sugar and bring to a boil. Boil hard one minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, skim and pour into sterilized glasses and seal with paraffin.

The Times-News will pay $5 each week for Magic Valley Favorites. If you have a favorite recipe, just mail it to the Recipe Department, Women's Page, Editor. The recipe becomes the property of the Times-News and cannot be returned.

Oswald: "All bidding rules are made to be broken at the right time."

Jim: "How about the rule that you should not use Blackwood when void of a suit?"

Oswald: "Here is a simple example of a time when a player does use Blackwood. Not in spite of having a void, but rather because of having a void."

Jim: "When South used Blackwood and then jumped to seven after North denied possession of an ace, there was the usual question: 'What would you have bid if North showed you an ace?'"

Oswald: "South did not reply immediately. He was a great believer in avoiding conversation when he had a hand to play. Then he ruffed the diamond lead and proceeded to run out the grand slam. Actually, he had some slight problems but they all disappeared when both opponents followed to his trump lead, since he could now claim on a cross ruff."

Jim: "South still did not answer the question about what he would have bid if North had shown an ace, but we will answer for him. South would have undoubtedly settled for a small slam. Once North showed that his four-spade bid did not include the ace of diamonds, South was willing to gamble on the grand slam."

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Beautiful! Beautiful! Beautiful! I refer to that lecture given by Judge Sepe. I am having copies made and am sending it to all my nieces and nephews in the teen group. What this country needs is more people like that Judge. May he live to be a hundred! LEXINGTON, KY.

DEAR LEXINGTON: Many readers shared your enthusiasm. But many did not. In the interest of fair play, the other team will have equal time. Please read on:

DEAR ABBY: How could you? Generally your judgment is pretty good, but your column quoting Judge Sepe was a disaster!

Readers speak out

The judge, well-intentioned, but misguided, typifies the cause of youth's alienation when he characterized young people's grievances as "garbage." He reveals himself as narrow-minded, petty, ignorant, and vindictive. The self-righteous sermon perpetrated on a helpless 17-year-old prisoner demonstrates Judge Sepe's power, and also his inhumanity.

H. R. (RETIRED—FROM WORK BUT NOT FROM LIFE)

DEAR ABBY: Re Judge Alfonso Sepe's sentencing of a 17-year-old for one year for possession of drugs: It appears to me that you have made a grievous error in praising the sheer fidelity of such a sentence.

Can you imagine what it would be like for a 17-year-old to be dumped into a jail with a group of hardened criminals? It seems to me that Sepe is the criminal in this case—he obviously has no sense of justice. Also, his verbiage sermon on "your lousy, rotten drugs" sounds like the rant of a man who pours a quart of bad corn whiskey over his ulcer every day, and then lectures his kids that there's no better way to relax. Sonorous Sepe also probably suffers from delusions of grandeur—judges, contrary to popular opinion, do not receive their verdicts from God.

By selecting the Sepe tirade for print, I believe that you have shown an inclination toward pandering the judge's self-righteous authoritarianism. That is a perverse direction, but I suppose most of your readers—those bourgeois back fence voyeurs—enjoy having someone prop up their prejudices in print. I despise your cheap, vulgar toadying to the unjust sentencing of the young man in question. Your "advice" is about as controversial as apple pie, as stereotyped as the flag, and as novel as motherhood.

Adios, TIMOTHY IN TULSA

DEAR ABBY: About that lecture Judge Sepe gave the 17-year-old kid in court: Some of what he said may have been true, but he's only making the kid feel more guilty, and more anti-establishment, and what will that accomplish in the long run?

This reminds me of the girl who tells her mother she is pregnant and the mother retorts, "How could you do that to ME?"

The judge tells the kid "I don't know you from Adam." Well, he doesn't know the kid's parents from Adam, either. What kind of background did the boy have? His early influences must have played some part in his going on drugs.

Talk to most kids who have done drugs, and they will tell you their parents were there, but they really weren't "there" at all. Sure, the parents "loved" them, and they gave them everything money could buy. But what their children wanted and needed most—hey didn't give them. Time and attention, and a willingness to listen and understand.

If that judge had assigned the boy to a year of work in a medical rehabilitation center where he could have seen how drugs destroy mind and body, he would have done a lot more for him than locking him up with hardened criminals and forcing him to stare at four walls to brood over society's injustices to him.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX #776, L. A., CALIF. 90000 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

A Lovelier You

CHEMISE IS NOT A COVERALL

By Mary Sue Miller

Overheard on a bus, as Lovelier speaks to friend: "I just bought a chemise. But, even though the dress hangs straight as a die, my hips look heavy. The style is no coverall."

A properly cut chemise skims the figure. It never snugs or tents your silhouette. Successful wearing requires a well-proportioned body and above average carriage. If the lines of your hips, abdomen and thighs are too generous, one exercise can bring the whole thing into neat measurement. It's done with this routine:

Sit on floor and bend knees up to chest, so that feet leave floor. Swing both knees a bit to right of body and at same time swing both arms to left of body at shoulder level.

Now thrust legs straight out to right, then quickly draw them back to chest position. Next, thrust legs to left and arms to right. Alternating, repeat 10 times without stopping. Work for continuous, rhythmic motions. Be sure to keep back straight, stomach pulled in and held erect.

There's more: For speedy results you must add two counts each day until you reach 30. Sounds hard? It is not easy, but much less taxing than performing three separate routines which are usually required to reach the same goal.

Persist, and you'll look the wonderful dream in a cing of crepe come September.

HIP REDUCING ROUTINES

You can diet until you become feather-light and still be hip-heavy. Reduction in the hips is assured only by exercise. For a set of quick, and effective ones, send for my leaflet, HIP REDUCING ROUTINES. Write Mary Sue Miller in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope, and ten cents in coin.

NY narcotics drive flounders

NEW YORK (UPI)—There used to be an unwritten code among even the most corrupt policemen that the line was drawn at the drug pusher. That kind of graft was "dirty money."

In New York City the line on "dirty money" has broken under the weight of staggering possibilities for police graft.

As a result, the drive against narcotics, New York's number one killer of young adults, is near collapse. "A tragic farce," the state investigation commission called it—"a monumental waste of time, money and manpower."

Allegations of corruption in narcotics enforcement extend to police captains and inspectors.

Charges of lax enforcement of the laws apply to county prosecutors and judges.

The commission investigated thousands of felony narcotics arrests and found one third had been dismissed on raptions by the prosecutor or the defendant.

About 90 per cent of the misdemeanor arrests in drug cases were thrown out of court, the commission said.

More than half the narcotics felony indictments ended with pleas to lesser charges.

Leniency, the commission said, has not only made a lost battle in the war on drugs, it has shot full of holes the narcotics education and prevention programs in the public schools.

Young drug pushers, the commission said, know they will get off with a "mild slap on the wrist" and return to school as "heroes."

In contrast, the commission pointed to the hard-nosed attitude towards narcotics enforcement on the federal level. Pushers, it said, "know the feds mean business, but they mock the local criminal justice charade."

The tough approach has its problems. Jails in this city are overcrowded; rehabilitative facilities are below par. The city's Knapp Commission, a blue-ribbon investigation panel which looked hard at all areas of police corruption, suggested a new look be given to ways other than criminal sanctions for dealing with the addict. There seems to be some cause for hope in other areas of official corruption, such as gambling enforcement and the city's $5-billion construction industry. A major recommendation by the Knapp Commission calls for a crackdown not only on the bribe receiver, but the bribe giver—the lawyer, the nightclub and restaurant owner, the hotel manager, the construction superintendent.

This is a new approach and one that has put to rest some the protest against just another investigation into official misconduct. A number of law enforcement officials believe such a policy would have high impact potential on those who for most part have enjoyed virtual immunity against prosecution.

Las Vegas show biz booming

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—Show business in particular and the economy in general are frequently measured by this desert gambling resort's balance sheets.

If the summer of 1972 is an indication, show biz and the country are booming. The big rooms at the glossy hotels on the strip have tourists standing in line for Elvis Presley, Liberace, Engelbert Humperdinck, Sammy Davis, Perry Como, Andy Williams, Barbra Streisand, Don Rickles, Debbie Reynolds, Johnny Carson, Rowan and Martin and Bobbi Gentry.

Moreover, the high rollers at the crap tables and the little old ladies pumping slot machines have converged on the city in larger numbers than in a half-dozen years. "The gambling take last year was 10 per cent up from 1970. So far this year we're 17.2 per cent over the 1971 figure."

With a population of 300,000 persons and more than 27,000 first class hotel rooms, Las Vegas plays host to some 300 conventions a year.

Merry Pet

Linda Merry, DVM

Question: Our problem is not exactly a pet. It's an eagle which, due to the loss of a part of a wing and one claw, would be unable to live in the wild. We are taking care of him until a zoo or some such place will take him.

Needless to say, there aren't many books available on the care and feeding of eagles. We are rank amateurs and would like to get as much information as possible on how to take care of him.

We have had him for about four months now, and lately he's losing feathers. Is this their normal molting season?

Oh, one more thing — we are just assuming the "he" part — is there any way to tell the difference between male and female eagles?

Answer: The eagle's diet should be all meat and he MUST have roughage in the form of bone, fur, or feathers at least once, and preferably twice, a week. Eagles eat all of their prey and they use the roughage for "casts" which clean out the digestive system.

Give him as little fat as possible and invest in some pediatric vitamins. The dropper will be marked off so that you can use 0.6 cc daily in his food. Egg yolks are good for eagles but unless they're used regularly he may reject their yellow color. Eagles are quite color conscious and they like their meat a nice deep red.

It is molting time and since molt puts a tremendous strain on birds you'll want to give him the best possible diet.

I'm assuming "he" also, because it's difficult to sex eagles. A full-grown male weighs 6-10 pounds; the female weighs in at 9-15 pounds. (Yup, she's heavier than he is!)

While they're adolescents they can weigh the same and even the use of "Ms." won't solve that question. There are no plumage differences but a special blood count can be used to tell the difference if necessary.

There are no books available on the care and feeding of eagles. I wish I could take credit for the information I just gave you. Actually, it comes from Dr. John C. Lee of Meridian.

Three years ago Dr. Lee took care of a wounded bird-of-prey for his daughter, was deeply impressed by the bird's majesty, and took up a new hobby.

That hobby, cost him $3,254 the first two years, has led him to learn facts about diet, medicine, care, and raising of birds completely unknown to veterinarians before, and now has him working on research programs with the Portland Zoological Society and the San Francisco Bird of Prey Zoo.

Dr. Lee is wonderfully generous with his knowledge whenever he is asked for advice. We both wish you success in caring for this eagle. It's an

Mark Twain raps marriage

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — Seventy letters of Mark Twain are to be published by the University of California, including one in which the author of "Huckleberry Finn" disparages the state of matrimony.

"The wedding is never otherwise than a tragic event, and all present should be clothed in black, and upon the wedding-bell should be written 'A day is coming when one of these hearts shall break.'"

The comment was made in 1905 in a letter that Twain, pseudonym for Samuel Clemens, sent to his future sister-in-law, Susan Langdon Crane.

The collection of letters has been owned by four grandchildren of Twain's wife's brother.

STRAIGHTEN UP AND FLY LIGHT WITH BANKAMERICARD

If going back to school means going out of town, First Security BankAmericard makes the going easy. For tickets, accommodations along the way, or even gas and oil if you're going under your own power, BankAmericard can smooth out the long road back to school. The road back starts with a few selected items to fill out last year's wardrobe. Then a cash advance to fill out last year's bank account. And finally a few books and supplies to fill out last year's GPA. BankAmericard takes the whole trip right in stride.

Primary turnout record

BOISE (UPI) — A record 105,570 votes were cast in Idaho's Aug. 8 primary election, an official canvass of the returns showed today.

During a 10-minute meeting, the State Board of Canvassers certified the results of the primary and discussed a cutoff date for filing vacancies on the general election ballot.

Secretary of State Pete T. Cenarrusa told the board that under the old law the deadline for filing such vacancies was 30 days before the general election.

He said county clerks need at least 40 days and suggested a 45-day cutoff — making that date Sept. 23 this year. He said he felt he had the power to set this date as chief elections officer and Alt. Gen. W. Anthony Park concurred — promising an advisory opinion on the subject.

Results of the official canvass were similar to those reported unofficially the day of the election and there were no changes in any of the major races.

Nobody qualified for the general election ballot in any of the smaller political parties and only Republican and Democratic candidates were certified by the State Board.

Cenarrusa told reporters that the record vote was cast in the senatorial primaries. He said it was 22,569 votes more than the number cast for the two seats in Congress.

Final and official results showed that Rep. James A. McClure won the four-man race for the Republican Senatorial nomination with a plurality of 11,110 votes. McClure had 38,522 votes. George V. Hansen had 35,412, Glen Wagner had 24,582 and Robert E. Smylie, 22,497.

They showed that President William F. (Bud) Davis of Idaho State University won the Democratic senatorial nomination with a plurality of 6,317 votes. Davis polled 23,953 votes. Symms polled 17,636, Byron Johnson 15,526, and Rose Bowman 9,327.

In the three-man race for the GOP nomination for Congress from the First District, Steven D. Symms won with a 5,977 vote plurality. Symms polled 28,422, followed by Wayne L. Kidwell with 22,445 and Robert B. Purcell with 11,926.

Girders go up

11 jailed in Blaine at party

BELLEVUE — A beer party Saturday night at Slaughterhouse Gulch, near Bellevue, resulted in 11 arrests. Charged by the Blaine County Sheriff's office with possession by minors and consumption by minors were 10 juveniles.

Parents of five other youths received juvenile warning notices.

The only adult arrested, Jim Brothwell, 18, Bellevue, was charged with minor possession, consumption and drunkenness. He is scheduled to be arraigned in Blaine County Magistrate Court today.

Of those arrested, five were taken into custody as they were leaving the gulch by car. The others were arrested about five miles up the canyon.

Ages of the arrested juveniles ranged from 14 to 17. They included one Hailey, three Bellevue and three Reno, Nev., boys as well as one Hailey and two Bellevue girls.

According to Blaine County sheriff's deputies, juvenile petitions will be filed in magistrate court. All the youths were released Saturday night in the custody of their parents with the exception of the Reno boys. They were held overnight in the county jail.

The sheriff's office was assisted by Idaho State Police Officer Gene Bolton and Bellevue City Marshal Duane Dudley.

Nixon not sure bet, GOP told

FILER — Over 200 Republicans turned out at a party picnic here Saturday and were told President Nixon is not a sure thing for reelection.

I. Gov. Jack Murphy, who served as master of ceremonies, and Rep. James A. McClure, GOP party nominee for the U.S. Senate race, both told the crowd at the county fairgrounds to work for the reelection of the President and Vice President Agnew, as well as local, state and Congressional office seekers.

After dining on fried chicken, corn on the cob and salad, as well as chocolate cake, the Republicans heard short appeals from McClure and Murphy, as well as Ralph Olmstead, a political newcomer who is seeking to take Rep. Jack Claiborn's seat in the Idaho House of Representatives. Claiborn is not seeking reelection this fall.

His brief remarks, Olmstead appealed to the picnicers to allow him time to familiarize himself with the issues. At present, he is unopposed in his race.

Also present at the gathering and receiving introductions from Murphy were State Sens. Richard High, Twin Falls, and John Barker, Buhl, as well as state Reps. William Roberts, Buhl; William Lanting, Hollister, and Ray Lincoln, Twin Falls, in addition to Claiborn.

Also present were Twin Falls county commissioners William Chaney and Merl Leonard, as well as County Prosecutor Leon Smith and his deputy, Robert Galley. Galley is seeking to succeed Smith in November, after the incumbent said he would not seek reelection.

Douglas Kramer, county central committee chairman, was also present at the gathering.

TF police probe entry at car lot

TWIN FALLS — City police reported a break-in Sunday at Willis Motor Co., but all items taken were found in the lot.

Officers said someone broke a window in the office building and opened the door. They removed a key board and ransacked a desk drawer for automobile keys. An adding machine "was also removed from the office but keys and the machine were found near an automobile in the lot."

Officers said there was damage to the door and one of the vehicles, but nothing was missing.

TF youths charged

TWIN FALLS — Joseph Carter, 18, Twin Falls, was in custody Monday awaiting court appearance on a charge of illegal possession of a controlled substance.

Carter was arrested by city police in Shoshone Falls Park Saturday night. Officers said a 17-year-old juvenile was also charged with illegal possession of wine.

City police said the boys were spending the night in the park in sleeping bags and a routine check of the park by officers resulted in the arrests.

Barker appointed

BUHL — Sen. John M. Barker, R-Buhl, has been appointed to serve on the State Educational Professional Development Act B-2 Advisory Committee for the 1972-73 year.

The committee deals in the area of teacher recruitment and training program. Sen. Barker is also a member of the Idaho Consortium Council.

The B-2 Advisory Committee will meet at the same time the consortium council meets in an effort to improve teacher recruitment and the teacher training program.

Sen. Barker attended the first meeting of the Idaho Board of Environmental Protection and Health at Boise Thursday. Sen. Barker, as chairman of the Senate Health Education and Welfare Committee, was invited to participate in the meeting.

Federal funding seen for airport

BURLEY — Pending legislation could add substantial federal funding to a Valley regional airport, airport board Chairman George Forscher said Friday.

Forscher referred to the Air Passenger Safety and Convenience Act. The act includes an amendment to the Airport and Airway Development Act of 1970 to increase the U.S. share of allowable project costs from 50 per cent to 75 per cent.

The resolution also contains another amendment of the 1970 act that will provide 100 per cent U.S. payment for airport security facilities and equipment.

The House bill further provides for an amendment to the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 that will prohibit state taxation of the carriage of persons in air transportation.

Forscher estimated that 90 per cent federal funding of future airport projects is a feasible projection.

Burglary at Berger reported

BERGER — Twin Falls County sheriff's officers are investigating a Saturday night break-in at the Berger Store. Officers said someone broke out a window in the store and entered the building. About 15 cartons of cigarettes were taken, along with 13 six-packs of beer and about $10 in change.

The break-in was reported at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Nicklaus outlasts Beard for pro match play win

PINEHURST, N. C. (UPI)—Jack Nicklaus beat Frank Beard 2 and 1 Sunday to win the $150,000 U. S. Professional Match Play championship for his sixth tournament victory of the year.

Nicklaus posted two birdies and a bogey over the Country Club of North Carolina course to capture the $40,000 first prize and boost his season winnings to more than $280,000.

"Obviously, I'm glad to win it," Nicklaus said. "It's hard to get through four 18-hole matches in two days. It's obvious that someone's going to do it, and you just hope to rise to each occasion."

Nicklaus and Beard were even after 14 holes, but a bad drive by Beard brought on a bogey at the 15th hole. On the 17th hole, Beard bogeyed again, missing a four-foot putt, to give Nicklaus the victory.

The nationally televised match was the second of the day over the plush, lake-studded, 6,973-yard course in the Carolina sandhills.

In the morning round, Nicklaus stopped Don Bies, a five-year veteran from Seattle, 3 and 1 while Beard turned back Texan Babe Hickey 1 up.

The tournament, part of a controversial $250,000 doubleheader, started Saturday morning with a field of 16, half of them chosen in the first two rounds of the accompanying L&M Open.

Nicklaus edged little Deane Beman 1 up in the opening round and trounced rookie Larry Wadkins in the quarterfinals to set the stage for his match with Bies.

Beard opened with a 1 up win over Californian Paul Moran, then triumphed 2 and 1 over Leo Trovino.

Botching back from a season-long slump, Beard started strongly against Nicklaus, making a birdie on the first hole to go 1 up.

He and Nicklaus traded holes at Nos. 6 and 7 before Nicklaus brought the match even with a 30-foot birdie putt on the ninth hole.

On the back nine, the two again swapped holes, with Nicklaus taking the 12th on a birdie and Beard capturing the 14th with a birdie.

Nicklaus went 1 up at No. 15 when Beard, driving badly, landed in a bunker. Two holes later, on the par-four, 300-yard 17th, Beard choked again, missing a four-foot putt to earn runner-up's wages of $22,000.

"I played pretty good today in both rounds," said Nicklaus. "Seventy-two holes in two days is a lot of golf. You're liable to get lax on concentration."

Nicklaus also had mild criticism of the revised and complicated format for the tournament, played this year for only the second time.

"I don't think enough players played," he said. "I think it's good, but any tournament has some drawbacks. I think it may expand."

Nicklaus and seven other players, including Beard, qualified automatically for the tournament.

Broncos defeat 49ers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Each of Denver's three quarterbacks directed scoring drives against the injury-depleted San Francisco 49ers Sunday as the Broncos won their first pre-season game, 27-24.

In the first quarter the 49ers moved to a 14-3 lead on a pair of scoring passes from John Brodie to Ted Kwalick. Then newly-acquired quarterback Charlie Johnson, starting his first game for the Broncos, hit tight end Dwight Harrison with an 11-yard second quarter scoring strike to bring the Broncos within a touchdown, 17-10, at the half.

Don Horn took over the Bronco reins in the third period and scored marches of 66 and 81 yards to give Denver a 24-17 lead. Horn connected with running back Fran Lynch for 19 yards and one score, and took the second in himself on a one-yard plunge.

Third-stringer Steve Ramsey replaced Horn in the fourth quarter, and moved the Broncos into position for a 37-yard Jim Turner field goal, which provided the eventual margin of victory.

Brodie, operating with five reserves because of a rash of injuries, passed four yards to Preston Riley for a score with 1:55 remaining, but Denver was able to keep the ball moving while time ran out.

Bubba Smith out for '72

BALTIMORE (UPI)—All-pro defensive end Bubba Smith came through knee surgery successfully Sunday, but Baltimore officials said he will "probably be out for the entire season."

Smith underwent two hours of surgery at Union Memorial Hospital to repair multiple damages to ligaments near his knee cap, incurred in a freak accident Saturday in the Colts' 16-13 exhibition victory over Pittsburgh.

"He was expected to be in the hospital 10 days to two weeks."

Graham cops playoff battle in L & M open

PINEHURST, N.C. (UPI)—Lou Graham birdied the third hole of a sudden-death playoff with Hale Irwin and two others Sunday to win the $100,000 L&M Open.

Graham fired a three on the deadly 17th hole, while Irwin hit his first shot into a sand trap and his second hit a tree and splashed into a lake.

The two were narrowed down from a four-man playoff when Australian David Graham and Larry Ziegler bogeyed the first hole of the sudden death.

David Graham forced the playoff when he blew a one-stroke lead with a bogey on the 17th, a pitfall throughout a day that saw every golfer with a chance to win the overshadowed tournament make costly mistakes.

The L&M was dwarfed by the battle of titans underway simultaneously on the same 6,973-yard Country Club of North Carolina course.

Jack Nicklaus defeated Frank Beard 2 and 1 in the U.S. professional match play championship, the feature half of golf's first doubleheader.

The first two rounds of the L&M served as a qualifying tournament for the match play.

For Lou Graham, a 34-year-old veteran of eight years on the tour, it was his first victory since 1967 and he pocketed $20,000.

David Graham, who began the day in a tie for the lead at four-under par with Ziegler and Jerry McGee, shot par most of the round to head the field.

But he bogeyed the 17th to fall three-under and missed a 15-foot birdie putt on the 18th to force the playoff.

Lou Graham, who had been in a seven-way tie at one-under-par after the third round, Ziegler and Irwin already were in the clubhouse at three-under.

Lou had fired a 70 Sunday, Irwin 72 and Ziegler 73.

Irwin and Ziegler both missed last-ditch chances to win the L&M.

Irwin had a 15-foot birdie putt on the 18th which would have thrust him into the lead. He missed it by inches.

Ziegler was four-under until he hit the treacherous 17th for a bogey. He missed a three-foot putt for a birdie on the 18th.

McGee, who shared the third round lead and held the second round lead after he missed a chance to qualify for the match play in a playoff Friday, blew up Sunday.

He shot a dismal four-over-par 76 to wind up back in the pack at even par for four days.

Detroit Tigers sweep pair from Minnesota in AL action

By United Press International

The Detroit Tigers made it three consecutive 11-inning victories over the Minnesota Twins Sunday with a doubleheader sweep, winning the first game 5-3 on Willie Horton 11th inning homer and the second game 1-0 on Aurelio Rodriguez' 11th inning homer.

The two victories move the Tigers 1 1/2 games ahead of the Baltimore Orioles in the American League's tight Eastern Division race. The Tigers had also beaten the Twins Saturday in 11-innings on a home by Rodriguez.

Rodriguez' second game home-off reliever Dave LaRoche broke a scoreless tie after Ray Corbin had started for the Twins. Corbin limited the Tigers to only five hits over a 10-innings stint.

Joe Coleman hurled a four-hit shutout in winning his 14th victory as the Twins dropped their sixth straight loss. Minnesota got only two batters as far as second base against Coleman.

Horton's two-run homer following Al Kaline's single in the 11th inning and reliever Fred Scherman's two inning relief stint highlighted the action in the first game.

Bobby Darwin's seventh inning double gave Minnesota a 3-2 edge but Mickey Stanley's ninth inning double scored Bill Freehan with the tying run on a close play at the plate.

In other American League action New York swept a doubleheader from Kansas City 7-6 and 9-8 in 16 innings. Oakland edged Baltimore 4-3; Milwaukee nipped Chicago 4-1; Boston beat Texas 6-3; Cleveland and California.

Lindy McDaniel pitched seven-innings-of-one-hit relief but Horace Clarke hit a bases-loaded sacrifice fly in the 18th inning to give the Yankees the win over the Royals and a doubleheader sweep after John Callison's ninth inning single won the opener.

Yankee relief ace Sparky Lyle, after winning the opener, suffered an eight and ninth inning shellacking as the Royals took an 8-6 lead. But after New York tied it 8-8 in the last of the night, McDaniel came on to start the 10th and blanked the Royals the rest of the way to pick up his first victory of the season and 100th relief win of his career.

In the first game trailing 6-0 after 4 1/2 innings, the Yanks scored two runs each in the fifth, sixth and eighth innings to tie the score and won it in the ninth on Callison's game-winning hit that scored Sanchez from third.

Yankee Reggie Jackson drove in the winning run with an eighth-inning double as the A's defeated the Orioles and Oakland moved to within 1/2 game of Chicago in the AL West.

Jackson's hit scored Bert Campaneris who began the inning with a single off Oriole loser Dave McNally (12-13). Rolfe Fingers, who relieved starter Ken Holtzman in the eight, grabbed his seventh win in 13 decisions.

A bases-loaded single by George Scott with two out in the ninth inning capped a two-run Milwaukee rally that gave the Brewers the victory over the White Sox and spoiled Wilbur Wood's bid for his 23rd win.

Brewer catcher Elton Rodriguez began the rally with a sacrifice, pinch runner Brock Davis moved to second on a sacrifice and scored on John Felske's second straight single to tie the game. Johnny Briggs walked and Dave May scuffed out an infield hit to set up Scott's game-winning single.

Pat Kelly's lead off home run in the first inning and Dick Allen's run-producing single gave Chicago a 2-0 early lead.

Carlton Fisk slammed his 19th homer run and drove in four runs while Rico Petrocelli belted his 13th homer and had three RBI's in leading the Red Sox to victory over the Rangers. The Red Sox started the action with a three run first inning when Tommy Harper and Luis Aparicio walked.

Sandra Haynie wins tourney

DENVER (UPI)—Sandra Haynie overcame the effects of a three-putt on the second hole Sunday to fire a three-under-par 68 and win the $25,000 National Jewish Hospital PGA. Open by two strokes.

Opening day co-leader at 69 along with Marlene Hagge, Miss Haynie fell to third Saturday with a 70 and then charged in with her best round to overtake Jane Blalock with a 27 total.

Miss Blalock finished with a 269, three strokes ahead of third place Kathy Ahern of Denton, Tex. Both Miss Blalock and Miss Ahern had 72 in the final round over the 6,300-yard Green Gables Country Club course.

"I gambled a couple of times on things that could have gone the other way, but didn't," said Miss Haynie after accepting her $1,750 first prize. "I think you have to have a little bit of tiger in you because there are some times you have to charge."

Haynie's second round 69 was a 3-2 edge but Mickey Stanley's ninth inning double scored Bill Freehan with the tying run on a close play at the plate.

Field goal lets Pack nip Bears

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—A 40-yard field goal by rookie Chester Marcol with 13 seconds to play snapped a 7-7 tie Sunday night and gave the Green Bay Packers a 10-7 victory over the Chicago Bears in a National Football League pre-season game.

The kick climaxed a second half rally that saw Green Bay snap back from its own mistake to take its third victory in four pre-season games. Chicago is 1-3.

The Bears only touchdown came after Doug Buffone recovered a fumble to give the Bears the ball on the Green Bay one with just 22 seconds to go in the first half. Quarterback Bobby Douglas needed two plays to put the ball in the end zone.

The Packers tied the game early in the third quarter when Scott Hunter hit John Spill with a five yard touchdown pass to end an 80-yard drive.

The game was a typical one for the NFL's oldest rivalry, with the concentration on defense. Neither team was able to move the ball much and Chicago went through the second half without a first down. The Bears longest drive in that period was nine yards.

Racer wins

OLATHE, Kan. (UPI)—Don "Big Daddy" Garlits set a new American Hot Rod Association record and walked off with top honors Sunday at the Grand Prix of drag racing.

Garlits ran the quarter mile at the Olathe haval air station in 6.23 seconds, reaching 237.46 miles per hour. The previous AHRA top fuel eliminator record was 236.22 miles per hour.

In the top fuel final Garlits roared past Christ Karamesines of Chicago to win top prize money totaling $7,000.

Houston defeats Expos in Sunday's NL action

By United Press International

Jesus Alou drove in two runs with a triple and single Sunday, leading the Houston Astros to their first victory under new manager Leo Durocher, an 8-2 triumph over the Montreal Expos.

The Astros scored three runs in the second on singles by Lee May and Doug Rader and Alou's triple. Tommy Helms drove in Alou with a sacrifice fly.

The Astros added three more runs in the third on a two-run single by Jimmy Wynn and Alou's run-producing single. Rader finished the Astros' scoring in the eighth with a two-run homer, his 19th of the season.

In other National League action, New York defeated Atlanta, 13-6, St. Louis topped San Diego, 9-2, Cincinnati downed Philadelphia, 7-2, Chicago beat San Francisco, 9-3 and Los Angeles turned back Pittsburgh, 7-4.

Don Kessinger snapped a seventh inning tie with a two-run single to boost Chicago past San Francisco.

Billy Williams' solo homer featured a four-run Chicago eighth.

Joe Morgan and Pete Rose pounded out three hits to power the Cincinnati Reds over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Dennis Menke hit a solo homer for the Reds and Morgan rapped his 16th, a career high. Rose's three hits, including two doubles and a triple, boosted his batting average to .301.

Rick Wise highlighted a six-run first inning outburst with a three-run double to lead St. Louis past San Diego.

Lou Brock led off the first with a base hit and went to second on Ed Crosby's single. A walk to Bernie Carbo loaded the bases before Joe Torre walked to force in a run. An infield out scored Crosby and a second gave the Mets a 5-0 lead. Tommie Agee rapped his 11th homer in the third and Ken Boswell hit his sixth homer in the eighth.

Chris Cannizzaro's two-run double in the eighth inning snapped a 4-4 tie and gave the Los Angeles Dodgers a victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Wes Parker opened the Dodger eighth with his second double and after two groundouts, Bill Russell was walked intentionally before Cannizzaro doubled to the rightfield corner to score both runners. The Dodgers added another run in the ninth on Willie Davis' run-scoring single.

Invest in YOURSELF...

If you have good potential, but you feel your potential isn't being recognized... If you want to manage people instead of being managed, then you probably can be a successful owner-manager of a new Firestone Tire Center. Firestone will pave your way with assistance in such vital areas as financing, advertising, sales promotion, business management, etc. while you devote your time to making profits. It's a new concept of being in business for yourself, but not by yourself! A qualified applicant with tire selling experience and a basic minimum investment, could put himself in this exciting operation.

Field goals help Chiefs down Rams

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Jan Stenerud's four field goals, one a 57-yarder, and a one-yard plunge by Wendell Hayes pushed the Kansas City Chiefs to a 19-13 victory over the Los Angeles Rams Sunday night in a National Football League pre-season game.

Stenerud's longest kick of his professional career came with 47 seconds left in the first half, giving the Chiefs a 16-7 lead. The soccer-style kicker also was accurate in the first half from 37 and 40 yards, and from 36 yards in the fourth quarter.

Kansas City's lone touchdown was set up by a pass interference call against Rams cornerback Al Clark, who fouled Elmo Wright in the end zone, giving the Chiefs on the one.

Hayes scored from there with 12:45 left in the second quarter.

Driscolls are repeat champs

Dudley Driscoll and Dave Driscoll repeated as gross champions Sunday in the Blue Lakes Country Club's annual father-son golf tournament.

The two turned the course at 68, one-under par. Ed and Jim Purves were second at 69.

In the gross division, Bill and Bill Koch, Sr., and Jr., ran away with honors at 55 while Jim and John Kinney and Doug and Rich Borlase shared second at 69. Dick and Brad Dey were fourth with a 60.

Sweden, Poland win first gold medals in Olympics

MUNICH (UPI).—Sweden and Poland grabbed the first two gold medals, the United States basketball team rolled to its 50th consecutive victory and two-time Olympic gold medalist wrestler Alexander Medved of Russia beat America's Chris Taylor in a controversial match Sunday to feature the opening program of the 20th Games.

The long day began with Ragnar Skannaker of Sweden winning the free pistol gold medal with a Games record 567 points and ended with Medved besting Taylor in a match that provoked an American protest and led to the dismissal of the Turkish referee.

In between, the United States won its opening water polo match, advanced two boats to the opening semi-finals, played a scoreless tie in its first-ever Olympic soccer match, won its only boxing match of the day and six others in wrestling.

Taylor's loss to Medved, an Olympic gold medal winner in 1964 and 1968 and a seven-time world champion, coming as it did in the evening, almost made everyone forget what had transpired before as the Games started a two-week run in the beautiful Bavarian capital.

"It's the first time I've ever seen a referee thrown out for this type of thing," said American wrestling coach William Farrell. "There is nothing we can do about it. It is just a matter of interpretation and we can't change it at this point or they would have the whole country of Russia to fight about it."

The action against the referee—Umit Demiring—was taken by the International Boxing Association (IBA), which also controls officials of international wrestling matches.

Taylor, a two-time NCAA champion at Iowa State, twice was cautioned by the referee while Medved, who carried the Russian flag in Saturday's opening ceremonies, wasn't cautioned even once.

Taylor, a hulking 400-pounder, took the match to Medved and the crowd was as disappointed as Farrell when the referee handed in his decision. Despite the loss, Taylor is still "alive" in the Olympics because he's also scheduled to compete in Greco-Roman wrestling.

The Yank basketball team, led by Dwight Jones of the University of Houston, routed a tall Czechoslovakian team, 66-35, and remained a solid favorite to win its eighth consecutive Olympic gold medal, while the American eights and pairs-without-coxswain, crews won their heats and advanced to the rowing semi-finals.

The eight, coxed by Paul Hoffman of St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands, won its heat in the good time of 6:06.1, pulling away from the defending champion West German boat in the last 100 meters, while the pairs crew, coxed by Aaron Hermon of Sharon, Mass., won its heat in 7:50.0.

The U.S. soccer team never was able to make a serious move toward a goal but was outstanding on defense and deserved its scoreless tie with the more experienced Moroccan squad. In many ways, it was a moral victory for the Americans.

Featherweight Louis Self of Toledo, Ohio, a two-time National Golden Glove champion, defeated Maurice Apeang of France in the only boxing match involving an American.

While Taylor, a big favorite for a medal loss, American wrestlers fared better than expected.

Featherweight Gene Davis of Oklahoma City, Okla., defeated Zevge Oidov of Mongolia; bantamweight Richard Sanders of Lakeview, Ore., threw Hatzij. Danniis of Greece; lightweight Dan Gable of Waterloo, Iowa, threw Safer Sali of Yugoslavia; light heavyweight Ben Patterson of Cornstock, Wis., defeated Pawel Kurczewski of Poland; Patterson's brother John, a middleweight, defeated Richard Barracough of Great Britain, and welterweight Wayne Wells of Norman, Okla., defeated Ali Demirtas of Turkey.

Paperweight Sergio Gonzalez of Venice, Calif., drew in his match while the losers besides Taylor were flyweight Bob Carr of Erie, Pa., and Henk Schenk of Portland, Ore.

Sigmund Smalczewski of Poland, who earlier in the day saw Burma's Gyi Aung beat his world flyweight weightlifting snatch record by nearly 4 1/2 pounds with a lift of 231 pounds, came back in the evening to win the division gold medal with a total lift of 744 pounds. Hungarians Lajos Szuecs and Sander Holczreiter took the silver and bronze. Aung finished fifth.

The U.S. water polo team, competing in the A division, defeated Romania, 4-3, with Bruce Bradley of Long Beach, Calif., scoring the first two goals and Peter Asch of Berkeley, Calif., the deciding one with only 1:52 left to play.

They held the first seven dives in the women's springboard and pretty Ulrika Knappe of Sweden was the leader with 292.59 points. Agneta Henriksson, also of Sweden, was second with 290.79.

Giants topple Patriots 31-10

FOXBORO, Mass. (UPI).—Veteran quarterback Norm Snead threw touchdown passes of 17 and 67 yards and ran four yards for another score Sunday as the New York Giants hammered the New England Patriots 31-10 in a National Football League pre-season game.

The Giants wrapped the game up in the opening quarter as Snead tossed 17 yards to Don Herrmann for a 7-0 lead with 7:02 gone, and followed a New England punt with the 67-yarder to Rich Houston at the 9:34 mark.

Snead capped a 55-yard drive that took eight plays with a four-yard run around the left side after 12:35 of the second quarter to give the Giants a commanding 21-3 advantage at the end of the first half.

Richmond Flowers intercepted Brian Dowling's pass and returned it 37 yards for a touchdown at 3:34 of the third period, as New York took a 28-3 lead. Willie Williams picked off another Dowling pass and returned it to the New England 23-yard line to set up Pete Gogolak's 13-yard field goal less than three minutes later.

The Patriots got their only touchdown with 4:53 gone in the third period. Dowling directed the club 86 yards in nine plays, with Carl Garrett diving over the right side for the score from the 1.

King and Miss Casals won $300 for finishing second.

In a playoff for third place, Chris Evert, 17, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., swept by Julie Heldman, of Houston, Tex., 6-1, 6-0.

It was the sixth consecutive sellout crowd of the tournament with estimated attendance of 2,500.

Mrs. Court had a relatively easy time against Mrs. King, her long-time rival, primarily because of a big serve and pinpoint placements.

Mrs. Court had only one double fault in the entire match while Mrs. King had five.

For winning the singles championship, Mrs. Court received $3,400, compared to Mrs. King's $2,200 for second place. Despite her defeat, Mrs. King moved into the lead in money earnings for the Virginia Slims tour in 1972 with $37,645.

The primary reason for the Court-Hunt victory in doubles over perhaps the world's best feminine doubles team was Mrs. Court's serve and Miss Hunt's volleying. Mrs. Court and Miss Hunt received $500 for their doubles victory and Mrs.

Pilots return 13 lettermen, depth seen as main problem

GLENN'S FERRY — The Glens Ferry Pilots will return 13 lettermen this year but Coach Cecil Watson sees depth as the biggest problem.

Coach Watson, who has put together three bang-up years in a row now, says a lack of underclassmen in the turnout will hurt the Pilots, especially if injuries become common.

He has four two-year lettermen back, headed by 6-2, 195-pound Ray Hansen, who is listed as a fullback but under Coach Watson's point system has been the No. 1 producer of tackles at tackle and defensive end the past two seasons. Also back is starting quarterback Jody Allen, 5-9, 170. Nate Jones, returned at end for the third time at 5-11, 170, and Jack Lisle, a 150-pound guard, will also be picking up his third monogram.

Two other senior guards with experience are Rex Chafin, 145, and Jack Anderson, 150. Jim Hoyer, 6-0, 170, is back at center and Ed Garcia, 5-8, 155, and Doug Grigg, 5-9, 150, provide senior halfback experience.

Juniors going for their second letters are Jerry Bernt, 6-0, 205, tackle; Buddy Allen, 5-8, 155, halfback; and Dan Tyler, 5-9, 155, end.

Coach Watson also is counting on Chris Thompson, 6-1, 170, and Dean Anderson, 5-10, 155, both junior tackles and sophomores Louis Esquiza, 5-9, 155 halfback; Ed Wicher, 5-9, 150 center Steve Shrum, 5-9, 155, back; and Webb Lisle, 5-9, 155, tackle.

Transfer Mike Freeman, a junior, is 6-0, 170 and will play end.

The Glens Ferry schedule includes Sept. 1, Glens Ferry at Declo; Sept. 7, Mountain Home juniors at Glens Ferry; Sept.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—The market turned lower Monday in sluggish trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones industrial average, ahead at the outset, was off 1.20 at 958.16 shortly before 1:15 p.m. Standard & Poor's 500 index was down 0.21 at 110.46.

Declines outnumbered advances, 682 to 546, among the 1,612 issues crossing the tape. The three-hour turnover totaled 6,150,000 shares, down from the 6,220,000 traded during the same period Friday.

Twentieth Century-Fox was the most active issue, off 1/4 to 10 1/2, on 101,100 shares. Curtis Wright, holder of North American rights to the Wankel rotary engine, was second, up 1/4 at 48 1/2, on 92,000 shares. Gannett Co. was third, down 1/4 at 35 1/2, on 79,900 shares.

In the electronics and computers, Motorola gained 3 1/2, Texas Instruments 1 1/2, and Honeywell 1. Some analysts commented favorably about Motorola in a Wall Street Journal article.

Among the glamors, ARA Services gained 1 1/2. Rite Aid lost 1/2, and Polaroid, Whigley-Levitz Furniture, R.J. Reynolds and Merck around a point each.

Oil moved irregularly. Superior Oil surrendered 3.

Steels, motors, chemicals, rails, airlines and aircrafts were mixed.

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, AUGUST 29, 1972

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A beautiful day to make your work more pleasant and easy by showing others that you value and appreciate what they are doing with you and the special things they do that carry you closer to your personal or joint goals. A day that has much vitality and energy to be used.

ARIES (Mar 21 to Apr 19) If you listen to what experts have to suggest, you can do much to add to present prosperity via right channels. Your intuition is good, also, so use it. Stop being content in that little rut you are in.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) If you do the things that you like and can do, you find you get results quickly, instead of beating your head against the proverbial stone wall. Dress well, go out and meet people, have fun. Advance.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Listen closely and follow what advisers have to suggest to get the results you want at this time. Be guided by intuition which is working accurately for you now. Make more of your life than in the past.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Gain the backing of good pals who have much character and are definite in purpose, successful. Out to the social in p.m. and add to your circle of friends. Meet the one for you if you are unmarried.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) The planets are favorable where your career is concerned, so get together with influential people and make big headway. That civic work you can do so well should be handled now with promptness. Think. Act.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You have fine ideas that need only new personalities to make them workable. Bring out your finest talents. Involve yourself in whatever is of a scientific or educational nature, or both.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Talk over with loved one how to make the future brighter and more prosperous, happy together. Add to present security by studying your books of record more carefully. Avoid that tendency to splurge for recreation.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Work out those questionable problems with associates early and reach a fine understanding. Reconciling any differences of opinion with those who oppose you is also possible. Show you are a reasonable person.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can now pitch into all that work that is facing you and get it done with speed and efficiency. Spend some time taking health treatments you may need. Build up your energy considerably.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Find the right recreation that will add to present vitality and give you freedom from worry, overwork. Show more affection for the one you love. Reach a far better understanding for the future.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have to give your home more time and attention now so that everything there is spic and span and harmonious as well. Handle only business matters that are important. Evening is fine for entertaining.

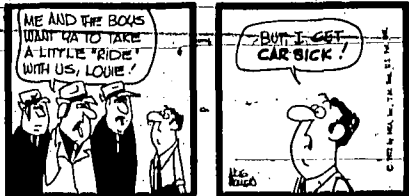

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You are feeling dynamic and can get much accomplished in the business world now. Talk over with a clever person how to handle routine matters more intelligently. Show you are definitely on the ball.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be so full of energy that it is important you give regulated exercise and sports to work it off properly while young, otherwise your offspring could get into trouble because of being bored. Anything of a detailed nature is fine for your most intelligent youngster, and he or she would do well working in laboratories, research and the like. Definitely college, material here, and as parents you should spare no expense on education.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!!

What's What

L. M. Boyd

A matrimonial counselor sometime back contended it's unwise for a man to marry a girl who's an older sister. Our Love and War man dutifully reported that. An irate feminine client in Boise asks why. Trouble with older sisters, it's said, is they come to believe they know how to manage males. In marriage, that's dangerous. A fellow doesn't much mind being managed before the wedding. Or even for a year or so afterwards. But on about the second anniversary, it's known, he's apt to turn sullen, irritable, even dissolute, if he can't take charge completely.

THAT THE average smoker who quits is apt to gain weight is known. But exactly how much weight has not been widely reported. It's not too bad, really. Just 3.7 pounds.

QUERIES

Q. "Who was the first woman ever to drive a car coast to coast?"

A. Mrs. John Ramsey. You say you never heard of her? Tut tut. Did it in 1909. Took her 41 days.

Q. "ISN'T Texas the state that gets the most thunderstorms?"

A. Always heard Florida merited that distinction.

Q. "MOST babies born out of wedlock are the issue of teenage girls."

A. Not most. But nearly 44 per cent are.

A LENGTHY study of striptease dancers reveals: 1. Almost all matured physically at an extraordinarily early age. 2. A great majority came from broken homes. 3. A disproportionate number were first-born children. 4. At least 60 per cent moonlight as unappealing professionals. 5. More than half are known to be romantically inclined toward women.

BIRD

Tough bird, the king bird. About the size of a sparrow. But it can whip a hawk.

IN FLAVORING, two times just about equal one lemon, say the citrus experts.

AM ASKED if a sailor aboard ship can feel an earthquake. Absolutely.

MOST children who stammer get that way because their parents push them along too swiftly in speech habits. Such was long the common belief.

But the medicines now say that's not necessarily so. A theory taking hold is that the affliction starts in the inner ear. Stutterers do not hear themselves, exactly as do nonstutterers. It's believed. In their own ears, echoes or interruptions or short circuits or whatever trip them up somehow. It's thought. Doctors of late are giving some consideration to surgical treatment.

A Volkswagen guarantee doesn't have to guarantee a Volkswagen.

This used car that's tough enough to pass VW's 16-point inspection deserves a VW guarantee. No matter how big it is.

You see, a VW guarantee isn't a 50/50 deal, but our full 100% guarantee to repair or replace all major mechanical working parts* for 30 days or 1000 miles. Whichever comes first.

So before we guarantee a big used car, we make sure it's as tough as our little car.

Here are some big cars who are tough enough:

- *engine, transmission, rear axle, front axle assemblies, brake system, electrical system.

- 1977 VEGA 3 speed transmission, bucket seats, leatherback. $2095
- 1970 VOLKSWAGEN Squareback, sun roof, radial tires 4 speed sharp. $2195
- 1967 MERCURY COUGAR 3 speed transmission, vinyl top, new rubber, come see this. $1395
- 1966 VOLKSWAGEN BUG New engine, good paint, extra sharp, 4 speed, bucket seats. $995
- 1966 RAMBLER 770 Station wagon, new tires, very dependable, excellent transportation. $795
- 1967 PONTIAC GRAND PRIX Loaded with extras, stereo, climate control, automatic transmission, power steering, don't miss this one. $1105
