GOP spy fund charged under Mitchell's hand

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A secret Republican fund used to finance attempts at gathering information about the Democrats was personally controlled by John N. Mitchell while he served as attorney general, the Washington Post reported today.

Quoting "reliable sources involved in the Watergate investigation," the Post reported that Mitchell approved withdrawals from the clandestine fund almost a year before he left the Justice Department to become President Nixon's campaign manager.

According to the sources, the fund's balance fluctuated between $350,000 and $700,000 during that period.

The Post story was denied by a spokesman for the Committee for Re-election of the President. "There's absolutely no truth to the charges in the Post story," the spokesman said. "Neither Mr. Mitchell nor Mr. (Maurice H.) Stans have any knowledge of any disbursement from an alleged fund as described by the Post. And neither of them controlled any committee expenditures while serving as government officials."

The Post sources said that Stans and three other persons were later allowed to approve payments from the fund. Mitchell served as Nixon's campaign manager for three months before resigning July 1.

This looks like it might be one of those ideal autumn weekends coming up.

CAA work plans receive approval

By DAVID ESPINO, Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — The South Central Community Action Agency's executive committee put its stamp of approval on revisions in the agency's work plan Thursday night.

The action transmitting the revisions to federal Office on Economic Opportunity regional officials was linked, however, to a plea for "technical assistance" from the federal authorities to help local officials to implement the plan for the coming year.

What had started out as an emergency board of directors meeting failed to yield quorum, with only eight members of 16 appearing at the hastily summoned meeting. The executive committee, with only three members present, took the action in the place of the full board. The board will meet next week to ratify Thursday night's action.

Royal Sloten, chairman of the full board and a member of the executive committee, attributed the lack of quorum to an annual county commissioners convention being held in Idaho Falls. There are three commissioners on the board.

The executive committee also approved a budget to accompany the work plan revision, incorporating $30,000 in unexpended funds from previous years.

They rejected an "austerity budget" that failed to incorporate the left over funds. The original grant for this year is for $120,000.

which nearly $20,000 has been spent.

The emergency meeting was necessitated earlier in the week when the agency's request for a 30-day extension for the revisions was turned down by federal officials.

The decision not to grant a 30-day extension was influenced, according to Harold Whitehead, chief of Idaho operations for OEO, because the agency had already had 90 days past the July 1 beginning of the current fiscal year to complete the revisions.

The work plan approved by the executive committee contained the following basic goals for the current year:

- Develop an operations manual for the agency;
- Develop program and staff training for the board of directors and staff;
- Design functional job descriptions in "order that agency goals may be accomplished;
- Upgrade and expand the community organization program;
- Provide massive technical assistance at all levels, including for the board, staff and program.

The budget approved granting a $30 per month pay raise to all staffers at the agency, as well as the full budget requests from the Community Improvement Association and the welfare mothers association. A total of over $9,000 is allocated for the use of community groups operating under the CAA umbrella.

Spaceship observes sun blasts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A U.S. spacecraft has reported the first direct evidence that nuclear reactions occasionally occur on the surface of the sun as well as in its deep interior.

This evidence, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) said today, may help scientists in their thus far unsuccessful attempts to harness thermonuclear fusion processes of stars and H-bombs for inexhaustible pollution-free energy supplies on earth.

A 74-pound instrument aboard the Orbiting Solar Observatory No. 7 (OSO-7) recorded telltale signs of nuclear reactions during two gigantic explosions, or flares, on the sun's surface Aug. 4 and Aug. 7.

The story, exciting to physicists seeking to generate fusion reactions in hot, dense, ionized gases called plasma, was told by Prof. Edward L. Chupp of the University of New Hampshire.

Anti-drug monopoly proposed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., today proposed legislation he said could drastically reduce the price of vital prescription drugs by ending the monopoly certain pharmaceutical firms hold on their manufacture.

Nelson's bill would permit competing drug firms to be licensed to make patented drugs—upon payment of a reasonable royalty—if the government determined the patent holder's prices were too high on the product.

"There is considerable evidence that the high price of many drugs is due to a large extent to the existence of patent monopolies," Nelson said in a speech prepared to introduce his bill. "Hearings of the monopoly subcommittee of the Senate Small Business Committee have indicated 20-to-1 and 10-to-1 differentials between prices for the same drugs, with and without patent monopolies. Securing such patent monopolies has been so important to some companies that they have not hesitated to commit fraud on the Patent Office."

Not only have American consumers been forced to pay "high and discriminatory prices" for patented drugs for years, he said, but also the prices have been paid by the federal government—which spends millions of dollars yearly on medicine.

TAIPEI (UPI) — A shocked Nationalist China announced tonight it was breaking diplomatic relations with Japan in retaliation against what it called the "perfidious actions" of the Japanese government in recognizing Peking.

A Foreign Ministry announcement hours after China and Japan announced their new diplomatic relations said the Japanese government should be responsible for the break in ties between Taipei and Tokyo.

The announcement said: "The government of the Republic of China, in view of the perfidious actions of the Japanese government in total disregard of treaty obligations, hereby declares its decision to sever diplomatic relations with the Japanese government, and wishes to point out that the Japanese government shall assume full responsibility for the rupture."

Israeli market blast wounds 2

By United Press International

Arab guerrillas shifted their international terrorism campaign today to Israel itself, where a bomb exploded in a crowded Jerusalem supermarket and wounded an American woman and the wife of a Venezuelan diplomat.

In Beirut, a South Yemen Embassy statement said North Yemen troops entered a number of South Yemen border villages, killed "25 innocent civilians, including women and children," and destroyed houses in a concentrated barrage of artillery fire.

The statement said the attack began Tuesday night and that North Yemen "regular troops and mercenaries" Thursday night were still firing heavily on unarmed border villages and police posts.

In Cairo, the Al Ahran newspaper said the government has ordered the recall of all Egyptian teachers from Sudan after Sudanese President Jaafar Numeiri expelled the director of Cairo University's Khartoum branch from the country. Among the 200 Egyptians being recalled are professors from Cairo, Alexandria, Ain Shams and Aslout universities and other educational personnel, the newspaper said.

Police said they suspected Arab terrorists were behind today's explosion in the liquor section of the Supersol Market in downtown Jerusalem. Police and army troops rounded up more than 100 Arabs in the area for questioning. A spokesman said the time bomb, which contained about half a pound of explosives, contained a wrist-watch timing device.

Injured in the blast were Rina Schwartz, 23, an American whose home town was not immediately known, and Margaret Ochoa Antich, 27, wife of the second secretary at the Venezuelan Embassy. Both were cut by flying glass. It was the first terrorist bombing in Jerusalem in two years.

The embassy statement in Beirut said that "despite the North Yemen attacks, South Yemen troops maintained self-discipline to prevent further bloodshed, and tension between the two countries."

MV shares unchanged

TWIN FALLS — No significant change in Magic Valley's cut of revenue sharing funds is reflected in a conference committee report.

The report from the committee, expected to be speedily passed by both House and Senate, was relayed to the Times-News Thursday by the office of Rep. Orval Hansen, R-Idaho.

In an estimate published in Monday's Times-News, Magic Valley's share of the funds was expected to be about $1.87 million, while the new figures show that share to be about $1.89 million.

President Richard Nixon also is expected to sign the measure after passage by Congress.

In the revised formula, Idaho state government will get $8.7 million and $13.2 million will go to local governments within the state.

"Magic Valley's breakdown, according to the formula in the just released report, follows:

County Government

- Blaine: $65,205
- Camas: $16,844
- Cassia: $135,610
- Gooding: $139,831
- Jerome: $119,500
- Lincoln: $57,862
- Mindoka: $226,412
- Twin Falls: $324,280

Cities over 2,500

- Burley: $82,356
- Gooding: $30,085
- Jerome: $85,009
- Rupert: $41,798
- Twin Falls: $310,209

Fliers sent to hospitals

NEW YORK (UPI) — Three prisoners of war released by North Vietnam returned to the United States Thursday night and were whisked away to military hospitals, angering the antiwar activists who escorted them to freedom.

"What you just witnessed is a recapture scene, replacing one incarceration with another," Mrs. Corn Weiss, one of those who helped arrange the release of the three pilots, told newsmen. The antiwar group accused the Pentagon of jeopardizing future POW releases by assuming immediate control of the men.

Air Force Maj. Edward K. Elias, 34, of Valdosta, Ga., was flown by medical evacuation jet to the U.S. Air Force hospital at Maxwell Air Force Base in Montgomery, Ala.

Navy Lt. (j.g.) Markham L. Gartley, 26, of Dunedin, Fla., was taken to the U.S. Naval hospital at St. Albans in New York City.

Navy Lt. (j.g.) Norris A. Charles, 27, of San Diego, Calif., was taken to a hotel near John F. Kennedy airport for a family reunion, then flown to the Balboa Naval Hospital in San Diego.

The three men, wearing new uniforms they had donned on the flight from Copenhagen, descended from the rear door of the giant Scandinavian Air System (SAS) Boeing 747 looking fit but showing signs of stress.

Waiting relatives rushed to them, hugging and kissing them in an emotional reunion.

Elias, the only one of the three who spoke into a bank of microphones, said: "I would like to say I am happy to be home again and I am thinking about other people not yet home."

Wendell gives OK to sprinkler plan

WENDELL — Construction of a sprinkling system to improve the present sewage treatment setup has been approved by the Wendell City Council.

The cost of the system is estimated at about $100,000. Grants to cover at least part of the cost are being sought from the Environmental Protection Agency. If approved, half of the funds for the project will be from federal sources and half will come from state sources.

Filibuster break try voted down

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate liberals failed today in their effort to force an end to an easy-going filibuster which has been blocking a vote on what they consider the most important consumer bill ever considered by Congress.

An attempt to impose closure—thus limiting debate to no more than 100 more hours—failed to muster the required two-thirds vote. The vote to invoke the Senate's gag rule was 47 to 29—four short of two-thirds.

Proponents of the bill said they would try again next week to silence the opponents.

Break denied

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Treasury turned down today the request of U.S. export firms for a tax break on the sale of American wheat to the Soviet Union.

The refusal was contained in additional proposed regulations that the Treasury announced for the Domestic International Sales Corporation (DISC) program.

"Under Treasury's proposal," the statement said, "Agriculture products exported under the Public Law 480 program and the Commodity Credit Corporation barter and export payment programs will be ineligible for DISC treatment."

Acting under a 1971 law, Continental Grain Co., the largest exporter involved in the 400 million bushel sale to Russia, asked the Treasury to forgive the taxes on half its profits on the transaction.

Engineering, Inc., told the council the proposed system would remove and aerate excess sewage effluent.

Plans call for piping sewage from the present lagoon and sprinkling it on property owned by the city. The sprinkling system would require more maintenance than a previous plan, which called for building additional lagoon.

However, property the city had considered purchasing for the lagoon was found unsuitable.

FBI figures show crime rate slower

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Justice Department has reported the lowest six-month increase in serious crime since the FBI began issuing quarterly statistics 12 years ago.

The department released FBI figures Thursday that showed serious crimes rose 1 per cent in the first half of 1972. Crime actually decreased in 72 cities but was offset by continued increases in suburban and rural areas.

"We are crossing the line into the era of a crime decrease," said Attorney General Richard G. Kleindienst in a Los Angeles speech Thursday.

But Sen. George S. McGovern said that Kleindienst "has only told part of the story." The Democratic presidential candidate said the 1972 figures are comparisons with 1971 in which nearly 6 million crimes were reported or 1.5 million more than in the last year of the Johnson administration.

"No amount of juggling the numbers can make the American people forget that the crime problem has worsened and the drug problem has doubled under the Nixon administration," McGovern said in a statement.

In prepared remarks by Kleindienst accompanying the FBI report, the attorney general stressed that crime fell in the District of Columbia, "the only city which is under federal control and directly responsive to the administration's anti-crime initiative."

The FBI reported 19,104 violent crimes in the capital compared with 25,675 in the first half of 1971 for a drop of 21 per cent.

Kleindienst made no mention of a local controversy that capital police were underreporting crime to appease the administration. The Uniform Crime Index is compiled from reports police voluntarily submit to the FBI.

In addition to Washington, D.C., which reported crime down 25.6 per cent, other cities with the biggest declines listed by the FBI were Allentown, Pa., 19.2 per cent; Cambridge, Mass., 20.5 per cent; Hartford, Conn., 25 per cent; Huntsville, Ala., 20.8 per cent; Knoxville, Tenn., 19.2 per cent; New York, 18.9 per cent; Providence, R.I., 22.3 per cent; and Stamford, Conn., 31.5 per cent.

Violent crimes rose 62.7 per cent in Scranton, Pa., but total crime fell 18.1 per cent. In Savannah, violent crimes were up 45.7 per cent, but overall crime fell 8.8 per cent.

Shriner's sale today

FILER — Want to buy a good German-shorthair-puppy-or-an-antique-harness-set?

Then the Shriners' auction at 6:30 p.m. today in the Filer fairgrounds will have the answer.

All proceeds from the auction will go to the Shriner's Crippled Children's Hospital in Salt Lake City. Here many children from this area receive expert medical care regardless of their ability to pay or their race, religion or background.

Jim Olson, Shriner auction committee, said merchants from throughout the area have donated items such as used and new appliances, furniture, bedding and other household items.

"We have a good offering of antique harness and several other antiques as well as television sets, garden equipment, sewing machines and the like," Olson said.

James Messersmith will donate auctioneer services and the Twin Falls County Fair will donate use of the Tom Parks pavilion for the event.

Persons wishing to donate items to the auction may take them to Filer for sale during the evening.

Girl Scouts take doll project

TWIN FALLS — Wanda Dimmick was hostess for the Goodwill Club Wednesday.

Mrs. Claude Severt, president, conducted the meeting with Mrs. Ed Orndorff as treasurer and Mrs. Charles Matlack as reporter. The Lord's Prayer was led by Ms. Dimmick and the flag salute by Margie Kennon.

Roll Call was "fondest school memory."

The Girl Scouts are taking over the Goodwill project of making dolls for the Twin Falls Fireman to be given to needy children at Christmas time. Margie Kennon reported that she will have the Scouts pick up the dolls from Mrs. Lloyd Kelly.

The thought for the day was given by Dorothy McGinnis and the white elephant gift was won by Evelyn Nelson.

Secret pal gifts were received by Ms. Dimmick, Jeanette Kelly and Zorena Freeman.

Ms. Kennon was in charge of the program.

Tupperware hires 300

SHOSHONE — More than 300 persons are employed at the Tupperware Plant in Jerome and the figure will rise to about 400 in the near future.

Luther Malone, personnel manager, told members of the Northside Communities Thursday night 80 per cent of the workers are women and the base wage for both men and women is about $2 per hour.

The Jerome Tupperware plant is the third for the firm in the United States with another located in Canada. Jerome's site was selected over Logan, Utah, and Los Angeles, Calif., he said, because of the central location to the western United States market, availability for freight, labor market, acquisition of land and the favorable tax base in the area.

Malone said since June of this year he has received 1,500 applications from women and 600 from men all seeking employment. More than 99 per cent of the workers at the plant come from the surrounding area. A few technical workers requiring lengthy training are from out of the area.

There are 40 different molds that can be used in the plant, he said. Those being run are determined by the stock needs of the warehouse. History of the Tupperware industry was given by film and Malone said an open house will be held in November.

Malone was introduced by Dick Waite, Jerome, program chairman for the evening. During the business meeting community reports were given and plans made for future meetings.

Al Hagen and James Muffley, Gooding, said the International Raceway established at the Gooding airport has been successful. Construction should begin this fall on a senior citizen housing unit, he said, and work began Thursday demolishing the old high school, and the Gooding Pellet Co. was burned to the ground on Sunday.

Dr. Charles Parker and Waite reported the Moore Business Forms plant is now under construction. The site is on 30 acres one mile southwest of the Jerome. The plant will be one story high with 90,000 square feet. It will be completed by the end of the year and will operate with 150 to 200 employees.

Kenneth Blackburn and Ray Walker announced Shoshone sewer connections are more than 6 per cent complete. South Rail Street construction is complete and new street lights have been installed.

A development corporation has been formed for Lincoln County and construction is in progress on a $400,000 cheese factory at Richfield, they said.

Mrs. Harrell Thorne, president, announced the next meeting will be 7:30 p.m. Oct. 28 in the Manhattan Cafe.

The November meeting will be Thursday Nov. 30. There will be no meeting in December and the January meeting will be Jan. 11. Thereafter meetings will fall on the fourth Thursday of each month.

Wendell delegates will be in charge of the program for the October meeting.

'Target '72'

TWIN FALLS — "Target '72," an eastern Twin Falls County Republican canvassing effort, will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday.

According to Ornette Sinclair, state national committeewoman and chairwoman of the effort, between 100 and 125 volunteer canvassers will move into Twin Falls, Kimberly and Hanson in an effort to determine who is registered and who hasn't yet done so.

The volunteers will be equipped with information to instruct the voters where they may register to vote in the November election, but will not themselves register people to vote.

The program emphasizes, according to Mrs. Sinclair, will be on "selective" canvassing, with the volunteers visiting "people who are interested in the president."

The volunteers will gather at 9 a.m. at Our Savior Lutheran Church where they will receive instructions and their information packages. From there they will begin their canvassing efforts.

Mrs. Sinclair said no target had been set for the number of persons to be contacted during the day.

Work welfare reform favored

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The "put-em-to-work" school of welfare reform held forth in the Senate Thursday against President Nixon's welfare reform bill.

Its headmaster, Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., assailed Nixon's bill to guarantee an income of $2,400 a year to welfare families without requiring the welfare mothers to actually take jobs.

Addressing his remarks directly to Nixon, Long said: "You're going to make bad people out of good people."

"You're going to make loafers out of workers."

"You're going to make alcoholics out of people who otherwise would be sober."

"You're going to give them a guaranteed annual income, if they never do the first decent thing in their entire lives."

"You're going to encourage fathers to deny the paternity of their own children."

"You're going to encourage people to quit working or to work less."

"You're going to encourage couples not to marry."

Long, adamantly against the guaranteed income bill, has offered his own alternative.

Welfare mothers would be required to take jobs, for the government, paying as little as $48 a week, or for private enterprise, paying below the minimum wage, and with the government subsidizing the payroll.

Opponents contend it would create a pool of cheap labor, depressing wages everywhere, and create an army of unskilled welfare workers without providing real work for them to perform.

The leader of the opponents, Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., also attacked Nixon. He charged the President had abandoned his own bill. He said Nixon would rather have the issue than the solution.

Car damaged by fire

TWIN FALLS — Extensive damage to the wiring of a 1964 model car was done in a fire at 11:30 p.m. Thursday.

The Twin Falls Fire Department reported the car belonged to George Burke and was parked in the 100 block of Second Avenue North when the fire broke out.

No damage was listed in another incident reported Thursday to the fire department.

One truck responded to a call at 320 Ash St., the residence of Hazel Cubit. Firemen said there was an overheated oil stove, but no damage was reported.

Navy commander gives testimony

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Senate committee today called a naval air squadron commander to clear up conflicting testimony from two pilots about whether the Navy bombed North Vietnam in direct violation of President Nixon's orders.

Commander John A. Miller was asked to appear before the Senate Armed Services Committee's closed door hearings to answer charges by one of his former pilots that on at least two missions Navy pilots, apparently out on reconnaissance, made bombing raids even though they encountered no hostile action.

The charge, made Thursday by former Lt. William G. Groeper, was disputed by a second witness, Lt. William C. Moore, who said Navy pilots were under instructions not to release their payloads on such missions unless threatened or fired upon by the enemy.

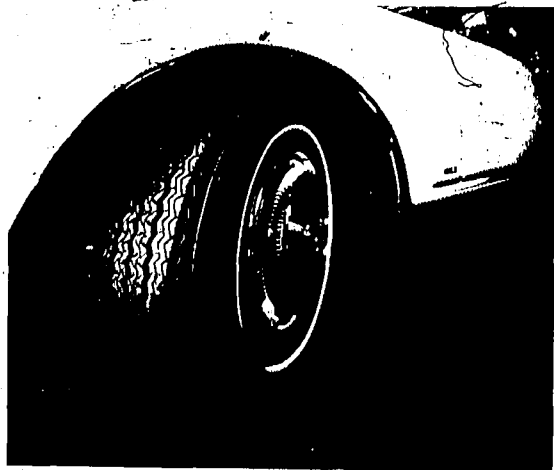

According to committee members, Groeper testified that U.S. warplanes made "pre-planned" raids against North Vietnamese military sites from the aircraft carrier USS Constellation.

He said that the targets were hit between the period from last November and March when President Nixon prohibited any strikes on North Vietnam except in retaliation—so-called "protective reaction."

But, according to Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., committee chairman, Moore said Navy planes were to protect the reconnaissance aircraft only and fired when threatened by SAM missiles and Soviet MIG fighter planes.

Whittom urges support

RUPERT — State Senate candidate W. F. (Bill) Whittom urged voters Thursday to support the governor's state agency consolidation plan.

The district 21 Democrat said "if the citizens of Idaho are really concerned about state government, they will vote yes on Senate Joint Resolution 132 this November."

SJR 132 proposes that the present 168 state agencies be consolidated into no more than 20 departments by Jan. 1, 1975. Whittom added, "the last thing a legislature should be doing is creating new state agencies. Over the last 12 years we have seen the creation of over 100 new state agencies, boards or commissions. This has got to stop. Without any limit there is no end in sight for the continued expansion of state government."

The candidate urged district 21 voters to learn of the provisions of SJR 132 and requested they attend informational meeting scheduled for Rupert on Oct. 20 and Halley on Oct. 17.

Winter Warmth

President Nixon has boosted fuel oil import quotas to make sure that homes in the northeastern quarter of the country have sufficient heat this coming winter.

The step was taken because domestic production has leveled off and is not adequate to meet steadily increasing demands.

"Immediate short-term requirements" must be met by oil imports, said the Office of Emergency Preparedness.

Meantime, the State of Texas, a leader in domestic production, has authorized all oil wells to pump to capacity in an effort to increase supplies quickly to meet the threatened emergency.

We have heard so much about the energy crisis that we have apparently become blasé; but complacency will explode in outrage when householders can't get fuel to heat their homes, or gas for their cars, or suffer brownouts or blackouts of electric power.

The Middle East, which supplies most of Western Europe's oil needs and a big share of America's, is teetering on the brink of war. Militant Arabs are eager for war against Israel, which roused them to new anger by its retaliatory raids against Palestinian Arab terrorists in the wake of the Munich murders. Islam's spiritual leader has called for a holy war against Israel, challenging Arabs to fight to "victory or martyrdom."

America as a friend to Israel, is a target of Arab animosity and cutting off oil exports is one way they could vent their hostility.

Russia is moving apace to achieve independence of oil imports by oil developments in Siberia, including a trans-Siberian pipeline.

Our Alaskan pipeline which would make the huge reserves of our largest state available and relieve the need for imports has been bogged down in red tape and ecological opposition.

The country's need for oil outweighs the doubtful damage the pipeline might cause to the frozen tundra and the time lag is too great to risk a possible major shortage of oil and the attendant suffering, cost and inconvenience that would inevitably follow.

Nixon's timely action may avert the present hazard but the nation must look beyond the coming winter.

National Interests

Idealism in international power politics may be naive, ignorance is dangerous. American diplomacy through the years often has been idealistic and naive and sometimes unknowing.

At this moment in history, the U. S. must look to its interests and Greece is a case in point. We do not approve of communistic or dictatorial governments, yet we must do business with both.

We have reached agreement for establishment of an American naval base south of Athens, important to the American Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean because of difficulties experienced at Turkish ports and the growing might of the Russian navy.

Greece put down a Russian-led revolution in 1947 and remains apprehensive about Russian might. That is why the Greeks want the Sixth Fleet to be able to operate at maximum efficiency and willingly grant shore facilities without payment, provided that Washington does not interfere in Greek internal affairs. This condition President Nixon has shown he respects.

His rival for the presidency, George McGovern, has promised the contrary and has said that if he is elected, he would demand the expulsion of Greece from the Council of Europe. This is a significant betrayal of his blindness to two facts: Greece withdrew from the Council more than two years ago and the United States is not a member and has no voice in its affairs.

It is true that the Greek dictatorship since it seized power in 1968 has set aside civil rights and has savagely repressed freedom in the birthplace of democracy.

It is also true that we need the Greek's naval facilities, even at the cost of criticism that we thereby appear to condone an oppressive regime.

Funny Money

The long green would disappear if Representative Bertram L. Podell, D-New York, has his way. Podell proposes to replace the familiar olive drab folding money with new bills of rainbow hues.

His proposed currency would be bright red, blue and yellow, to aid in distinguishing the denominations. And, to help the blind, Podell would have each denomination in different shapes.

A gradual changeover would crimp the style of counterfeiters and tax dodgers, he says. Counterfeit bills now in circulation, which Podell believes runs into millions of dollars, obviously would disappear. Equally obviously, new counterfeit money could be expected to follow the appearance of bank notes of any hue.

Podell also holds that there is a lot of cash in unreported caches concealed from the tax collectors that would have to be reported or lost forever.

"A blow will be struck for honesty," says Podell.

Even Podell would scarcely claim a knockout blow against dishonesty.

The average man, struggling to get any old kind of money to pay his taxes and his bills, might be skeptical of new colors helping very much. He might prefer to keep the old, since it fits nicely into his old wallet.

Podell could contribute his proposal to George McGovern as part of his "funny money" package of propositions that don't add up.

The Origin Of Letter Bombs

WASHINGTON — Scotland Yard authorities have reached several firm conclusions regarding these deadly letter-bombs spewed out by Black September Palestinian terrorists:

(1) Contrary to initial widely circulated reports, the lethal Arab letters do not contain the minuscule "teabag" or "gravel mine" explosives in the anti-personnel devices the U. S. Air Force uses to boobytrap supply trails and routes of the Vietnamese Communists. The explosives in the letter bombs consist of "plastic strips" detonated by a tiny blasting cap that is hit by a spring-loaded pin when the envelope is opened.

(2) Three countries are suspected as the most likely places where the killer missives are made — Syria, North Korea and North Vietnam.

All have close ties with the Palestinian extremists, and all gloatingly hailed the murder of the 11 Israeli athletes during the Olympic games in Munich. This acclaim was in striking contrast to the official condemnation voiced by Moscow and Peking. Syria, still at war with Israel, never having agreed to the 1967 truce, is a principal operating base of the Al Fatah guerrillas and is known to be a main headquarters of the Black September — desperadoes. Several key figures in this movement are reputedly high-placed Syrians. One of them has dealt extensively with the Soviet — which since its ouster from Egypt is busily building up Syria's armaments.

North Korea, while it is not generally known, has been on close terms with the Palestinian guerrillas for several years. Yasser Arafat, Fatah leader, and other top officials have visited there and claim to have received money and weapons. Substantial information exists that at various times groups of Palestinians underwent guerrilla training in North Korea.

Hanoi's warm ties with the Arab terrorists were spectacularly evidenced shortly after the Munich atrocity — in a broadcast paean of praise for the killers, who were glorified as "valorous comrades in arms in the battle against the imperialists."

In this astounding pronouncement, North Vietnam laid blame for the Munich massacre at the doorstep of the U.S. and Israel, charging them with "cruelty and perfidy" and the dark design to wreck peace under the extremely hypocritical label of humanity and peace.

International Intelligence authorities have substantial evidence that Black September members have been in North Vietnam in the past year; that they received training in the handling of Russian arms, particularly the type used in the Munich and other murders; and that there are Black Septemberites in North Vietnam right now.

One of the three terrorists captured in Munich is said to have been trained in North Vietnam.

Latest Marxist revolutionaries seeking refuge and support in North Vietnam are that pack of Black Panther fugitive criminals held up in Algeria, which lately has been increasingly stringent in its dealings with them.

The group, headed by Eldridge Cleaver, onetime Panther minister of information, has been trying to find another sanctuary but with no luck so far.

Whether North Vietnam will take them remains to be seen. Sen. McGovern's curious silence about Hanoi's effusive acclaim of the Black September Munich killers is doubly strange in view of his strenuous efforts to court Jewish voters.

Under fire in these quarters for covert hostility towards Israel, the South Dakota radical has gone to great lengths to pose himself as a sure friend and supporter. To meetings of rabbis and other Jewish authorities, he has given fervent assurances of friendship and devotion.

But McGovern's continued ignoring of Hanoi's scathing blast at Israel and approval of the terrorists is raising old doubts and suspicions again.

Under discussion in influential Jewish quarters is whether and how McGovern should be bluntly asked to explain his failure to denounce the shocking Hanoi endorsement of the Black September murderers.

Nation Of Wheat

WASHINGTON — Is the purchase of wheat by both the Soviet Union and People's Republic of China a Communist plot to destroy the United States? I have it on highest authority that it is.

The decision to use wheat as the ultimate weapon to wreck the capitalistic system in the United States was made back in the Khrushchev era, but the actual implementation of the plan went into effect this year.

Here are the minutes of the meeting held in the Kremlin that laid the plot all out:

"Comrade Khrushchev has promised to bury the United States. How do you plan to do this, comrade?"

"Is simple," Comrade Khrushchev replied. "We will bury them with wheat."

"With wheat?" a Politburo spokesman asked.

"Over the next 10 years we will buy American wheat, increasing the purchases every year. Pretty soon American farmer will find raising wheat so profitable he will refuse to grow other crops."

"American people will go to supermarkets and find nothing but bread on sale. Housewives will riot and the seeds of revolution will be planted."

"Is fantastic idea, Comrade Khrushchev."

"Is better than fantastic. As our grain orders come in, Americans will be forced to plow over suburbs, dig up four-lane highways, tear down golf courses to supply more wheat."

"Football fields will be taken over by the government to plant wheat, strategic air bases will be closed and crops sown where runways used to be. We will make price of wheat so high everyone will become wheat farmers in America. They'll grow wheat at White House, at Nike missile sites, at Disneyland. From one end of the country to the other will be nothing but wheat fields."

"Go on, comrade," they said excitedly.

"United States will have no place to store wheat. So office buildings and factories will be requisitioned by government for grain elevators. Apartment buildings will be taken over for storage. People will have no place to work or sleep. But our orders will continue coming in."

"Wait a minute, comrade," a Politburo member said. "Where will we get the money to pay for the wheat?"

"Long-term credit," Khrushchev said, "and also we will get the Chinese to buy wheat."

"The Chinese? Can we get Peking to buy wheat?" "What's the matter? You never heard expression '800 million starving Chinamen'?"

"Okay, is good so far. What do we do next?"

"When entire American economy is devoted to growing wheat, we tell United States we have too much wheat and we cancel order; United States is stuck with billions of tons of wheat and capitalistic system is buried under its own grain."

Unfortunately, for the Soviet Union, Khrushchev's plan to bury the United States never got off the ground because he was unceremoniously kicked out of office for banging his shoe at the United Nations.

PAUL HARVEY

Security Fraud

Social Security is mostly what doctors call a "placebo." That's a pill of which the only effects are psychological.

In a court of law, Social Security could be convicted of fraud.

The wage earner is led to believe that he and his employer are salting away a specific sum each payday which will be repaid to him at age 65.

The fact is that there is no money in the Social Security kitty. With federal government spending beyond its income each year, there's nothing in your Social Security account except a bunch of IOUs. If you collect anything after age 65, the money paid to you will have to come from the paychecks of your grandchildren.

If any insurance company ran its business with that degree of misrepresentation and insufficient assets, its records would be locked, its officers imprisoned.

Yet politicians have discovered that it's good vote bait when they promise to buy your "insurance" for you; so now there's an election-year effort to double the so-called "benefits."

I have no expectation that revealing the "toxic effects" of this excess will be any more successful than have been the crusades against pot, booze and tobacco. We continue to accept any immediate stimulus, chemical or economic, unconcerned about the inevitable hangover.

But while Congress is contemplating revisions in the Social Security setup, may I respectfully suggest that folks past 65 be allowed to continue to earn money if they want to — without penalty.

More and more Americans over 65 are healthy, capable and eager to remain productive. But under the law if they earn more than an absurd $32.31 per week, their Social Security check is reduced.

This has led many elderly to loaf when they'd rather not or to work for under-the-table cash — both of which practices demean the citizen and deprive the government of a substantial potential tax source.

Some politicians will admit that the whole idea is to discourage the elderly from taking jobs — from diminishing the available supply of jobs. But the inadvertent impact is of infinitely greater consequence.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Blackouts

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My recent checkup showed I have angina pectoris. I am taking my medication and feel fine, but my friends tell me that with angina I can expect fainting spells or blackouts and should not be driving my car.

I read everything I see on heart conditions but have not seen any mention of blackouts. Am I worrying needlessly? A. A. D.

Another case of the calamity howlers trying to show how much they know — but actually succeeding in showing how much they don't.

Faintness and blackouts can occur with an anginal attack, but they are not common, and your friends are not confining themselves to the facts when they say you can "expect" them.

It is true, that, if you use nitroglycerin pills when you have attacks, you may momentarily feel giddy and flushed, but that is a far cry from fainting or having a blackout.

I would judge that you are indeed worrying needlessly. To set your mind at rest, next time you see your doctor, ask him about driving. If he sees some other reason why you should curtail your driving, or stop, so be it. But if he sees no reason to stop driving, then be guided by what he says instead of what your friends say.

Incidentally nervous tension under certain circumstances while driving (or nervous tension when NOT driving) sometimes can provoke an attack of angina, but again, an attack of angina is hardly synonymous with a "blackout."

Dear Dr. Thosteson! Please discuss the immediate occurrence (with a vein stripping) of abnormal veins in feet, and in arms to elbows and hands. There were none before this operation except faintly on hands. Do you know of such happenings? Also there was skin tissue breakdown — Mrs. J. B.

Veins in the arms and hands are not related to those of the feet or the vein-stripping operation. They are prominent veins but not varicose.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have had hemorrhoids for

4 difficult states set in GOP tour

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Campaign chairman Clark-MacGregor revealed today that tentative plans call for President Nixon to personally campaign in the four states considered most difficult to capture in an effort to sweep the nation and win a "broad mandate" for his second term.

MacGregor said that the blueprint for the final three weeks of the campaign—which is expected to be firming up in the next few days—would include campaign stops by Nixon in Massachusetts, West Virginia, Washington, and Minnesota, "if the polls continue to show a landslide."

MacGregor, head of the Committee to Re-elect the President, said in an interview with UPI that Nixon, in the stretch drive, would also campaign in the eight states with the most electoral votes and in Maryland, Connecticut, Missouri, and Wisconsin.

The so-called big eight—California, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Texas, Michigan, and New Jersey—collectively have 228 of the 270 electoral votes needed for election.

MacGregor also said that GOP polling, cut back this year because of many public polls, showed "no significant deviation" from the findings of the New York Times, Gallup, and Harris polls which show Nixon with a huge margin over George S. McGovern.

He said the gap would narrow when strong Democrats, now undecided, vote for McGovern to prevent a "debacle" for the party but added there would be no "diminution of the strength for Richard Nixon."

MacGregor predicted that polls on the day before the election would give Nixon a three-two edge but declined to make any prediction by what margin the President would win. He said it depended on voter turnout.

"If we turn out 60 per cent and McGovern turns out 90 per cent, that three-two lead for Nixon evaporates," MacGregor said.

Asked if the proposed strategy, specifically the personal visits to the four states historically most difficult for Nixon to win, meant a "go for broke" campaign to sweep the nation, MacGregor replied "each state is a potential Nixon state and we haven't put any state in the bag."

Probe asked

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., has called for a grand jury investigation of a former Agriculture Department official's role in the U.S.-Soviet wheat deal that Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr. D-Va., says could cost U.S. taxpayers $231 million.

Clarence F. Palmby helped negotiate the sale of 400 million bushels of wheat to the Soviet Union when he was an assistant agriculture secretary, then joined the Continental Grain Co., which sold about $231 million worth of wheat to the Russians.

"I do not know whether a specific crime was committed," said Bentsen in a Senate speech Thursday, "but I do know that the appearance is strong enough that Mr. Palmby was involved in a conflict of interest...that the United States Department of Justice should immediately convene a special grand jury and examine this matter thoroughly."

Bentsen said other investigations are "bogged down, going nowhere" and that without a grand jury probe "this matter might well drag on undecided for years."

Nixon request rejected

WASHINGTON (UPI)—House Democratic leaders have turned thumbs down on President Nixon's request for authority to slash government spending. They say Congress and the public are entitled to know first where Nixon proposes to cut.

Although in agreement with Nixon that outlays should be trimmed and the year's prospective deficit held to a minimum, the Democrats are drafting a substitute for the $250 billion spending limit Nixon has asked Congress to pass.

One possibility is a bill to set that ceiling on overall outlays but to condition any needed reductions on prior announcement by Nixon and a chance for review by the Congress.

The struggle could set the stage for a major political test in November. A Nixon aide predicted that any compromise bill of the kind under discussion would be vetoed by Nixon, who then would take the issue to the public.

Speaker Carl Albert, Majority Leader Hale Boggs and other key Democrats derided the Nixon bill Thursday—shortly before it was to have been cleared by the Rules Committee for a House vote next week. It already had been approved by the Ways and Means Committee and had the endorsement of Ways and Means Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark. But Democratic regional whips, at their weekly closed meeting Thursday morning, took a unanimous stand against the measure.

They pointed to testimony by top administration officials that the bill was so drawn as to give Nixon authority to cut wherever he chose—even in such areas as Social Security where specific benefits are detailed in law.

They noted also that the same officials, when pressed for information on where Nixon might apply the economy ax if given the power, would say only that he would not cut old age benefits, allotments to states, cities and counties under Nixon's new revenue sharing program, or interest payments on the national debt.

Speaker Albert said he favored the idea of a spending ceiling.

"But if the President doesn't tell the country where he's going to cut, I won't support it," he told a reporter.

Meantime, the rules meeting was first delayed and finally canceled.

Juan V. Corona trial begins

FAIRFIELD, Calif. (UPI)—With accused mass slayer Juan V. Corona described as "happy" over the jury's makeup, his trial shifts today to the prosecution's opening statement.

Four alternate jurors were sworn in Thursday on the trial's 14th day, clearing the way for the state's opening remarks that will be delivered by Sutter County Assistant District Attorney Bart Williams.

Defense attorney Richard Hawk's rebuttal is scheduled for Monday in the small courtroom.

Corona, a 38-year-old Yuba City, Calif., farm labor contractor, is on trial for the murders of 25 itinerant farm workers found buried last year in orchard graves along the banks of the Feather River.

Superior Court Judge Richard Patton denied a request by Williams that opening arguments be postponed until Monday so the state could submit in advance hundreds of exhibits it hopes to introduce in the trial.

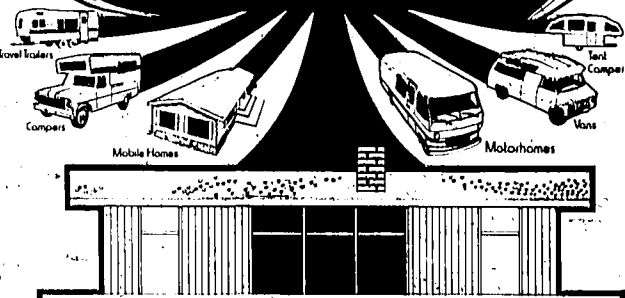

Those exhibits will include a giant mockup of the Jack Sullivan ranch north of Yuba City near where all the bodies were found in the late spring of 1971.

Selection of the alternates to the 10-man, two-woman jury was completed after both sides accepted David Caldwell of Fairfield, a distant relative of an assistant to the prosecutor.

During questioning, Caldwell said that if he "truly believes" Corona is innocent after hearing all the evidence he will "hold to that position until hell froze over."

Loss of tuition causes concern

BOISE (UPI) — The new lower voting age has posed Idaho's state universities and colleges with a potential problem which could cost them $1.3 million dollars in out of state student tuitions.

While nobody can say for certain at this point how serious the threat is to Idaho, educators and attorneys are taking a close look at the possibility that a real problem exists.

They are concerned that giving 18-year-olds adult status, legal residence and voting rights in college towns may exempt out of state students from non-resident tuition.

Clyde Koontz, associate director for higher education for fiscal planning, said a state Board of Education planning committee discussed the problem in general terms about three weeks ago.

It was Koontz who made the estimate Thursday of what non-resident tuition actually means in dollars to the state's institutions of higher education. Nationally, educators are expressing growing concern about the possibility the constitutional amendment which lowered the voting age could lead to eventual loss of non-resident tuition.

Idaho law requires six-month residency before a student can gain tuition-free status for full-time college study in a state institution.

Although a student cannot gain residency simply by going to school in Idaho, James R. Hargis, a deputy attorney general assigned to the Board of Education, said an 18-year-old now can establish residency separate from his parents.

"Our law doesn't say you have to be a voter to be a resident," he said. "It says you have to be of voting age."

"I would not be surprised to see some lawsuits come out of this," Hargis said. "In fact, it's already come in some states."

Public Instruction Supt. D. F. Engelking said he was "pretty sure" the subject will come up at the next meeting of the state board of education.

May met with the inmate council Thursday and added that the institution had returned to normal.

Grant approved

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, announced Thursday that the economic development administration has approved a grant of $153,000 to the community of Lapwai to construct streets, curbs and gutters in a 15-block area.

The project is designed to improve drainage and traffic flow in the community.

The federal funds will finance the total cost of the project, which is expected to begin within 90 days.

The project will result in 32 new jobs for workers in the area.

Land bill proposed

by United Press International
Congressman James A. McClure introduced a bill in the House of Representatives Thursday to establish primitive-type recreation areas in the eastern half of the nation within the National Forest system.

McClure said the Wilderness Act of 1964 cannot provide the quality of lands desired in Eastern portions of the United States.

"Eleven western states each have more public land than do all the states east of the Mississippi collectively," he said in a news release from his Washington, D.C. office. "Where the federal government does own land in the East, the ownership patterns are fragmented."

Meanwhile McClure's Democratic opponent for the U. S. Senate, William E. "Bud" Davis, said if elected he would listen as Idaho's Indians speak for themselves about needed changes in seeking effective education for their children.

Meeting in Pocatello Thursday with several tribal leaders, Davis said, "Uppermost in the minds of any elected officials should be the resolve to search for the answer to Indian problems among the Indians themselves, to ask for their solutions and their advice."

Elsewhere on the Idaho political scene, state Democratic Chairman Joe McCarter of Corral defended Davis' political philosophy as that of being a moderate, despite Republican charges to the contrary.

McCarter said the charge earlier this week by GOP state Chairman Marge Miner of Kellogg that Davis must be a liberal because of a recent fund-raising letter sent to several "liberal" Democrats around the nation is both "hypocritical and unfounded."

"The charge was an obvious attempt at weaken the ultra-conservative label being hung on Republican Senate nominee James A. McClure," McCarter said.

"Next to McClure, Ghengis Khan would look like a liberal," he added.

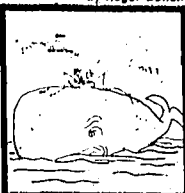

Campaigning in Weiser Thursday, Steve Symms, Republican nominee for Idaho's First Congressional District, asked his Democratic opponent Ed Williams to "repudiate" presidential hopeful George McGovern and his "outlandish schemes."

Inmate support leads to shift

BOISE (UPI) — An incident in a cell block at the Idaho State Prison has resulted in the separation of 11 inmates from the rest of the prison population.

Penitentiary Director Raymond May said Thursday that an inmate "slapped" a guard and other prisoners "rallied in support of the inmate."

"It wasn't anything major," May said.

He said the 11 inmates involved in the Wednesday night incident were sent to the new prison site which has not officially opened yet. The incident happened in the old penitentiary, which houses the main prison population.

May said the officer was not injured.

May met with the inmate council Thursday and added that the institution had returned to normal.

Public Instruction Supt. D. F. Engelking said he was "pretty sure" the subject will come up at the next meeting of the state board of education.

Circuit assembly slated soon in TF

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses will host the circuit assembly at the Twin Falls High School Oct. 7 and 8.

Delegates from 18 congregations in southern and eastern Idaho, northern Utah, West Yellowstone, Mont., and Jackson Wyo., will assemble.

"We expect well over 1,000 delegates to be our guests for this occasion," said Roy Shaw, Church official.

"Anticipation runs high in our local congregation for it is in assembly that we are further instructed in various features of the ministry. We are shown how to more effectively prepare and present sermons in our Kingdom Halls, in our door-to-door ministry and in making return visits on those who manifest interest in studying God's Word, the Bible.

Ex-army official to speak

TWIN FALLS — A former lieutenant of the Imperial Japanese Army will speak in Twin Falls during the week of Oct. 10.

Koichi Yamamoto will speak each evening at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 10 through 15, in the First Church of the Nazarene. The public is invited.

Yamamoto served with the Japanese Imperial Army and later became a member of a radical nationalist group, and the Shintoist Group who tried to drive the Christians out of Japan.

He was disinherited by his family but 10 years later became a Christian and his parents joined him in the Christian faith and burned their idols.

His subjects in the Twin Falls appearances will include Holy Impulses, Baptism with the Holy Spirit, Power of the Holy Spirit and Abundant Grace.

Special music will be featured for all programs. Morning services will be conducted Wednesday, Thursday and Friday from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m.

Anniversary service set in TF

TWIN FALLS — A 10th anniversary service is planned Sunday by the Faith Assembly of God Church.

The service will begin at 11 a.m. with a special speaker, a review of the church history and special music. There will be a "basket dinner" after the service.

Pastor Clay H. Stephens has extended a welcome to all friends and former parishioners and to the public in general.

Lesson topic given

TWIN FALLS — Subject of the lesson-sermon Sunday for the Christian Science Church services will be "unreality."

The services begin at 11 a.m. and will include a Bible verse. The reading room on Second Street West is open to the public from 1 to 4 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

The two-day event will include baptism for the new ministers. Also, visiting residents of Twin Falls and surrounding communities will be invited to attend the sessions of the assembly," he concluded.

The two-day assembly is sponsored by the Watchtower, Bible and Tract Society, Brooklyn, N. Y. Principal speakers will be William Green, district supervisor of Brooklyn Church official.

Rump, rap time slated Sunday

TWIN FALLS — A "Rump and Rap" program is being started in Twin Falls, the first scheduled at 7 p.m. Sunday at the Episcopal Church of the Ascension.

Lutheran women to mark date

HAGERMAN — Mrs. Robert Adolf, Hagerman, president of the Utah-Idaho district of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League, urged residents to observe the 30th anniversary of the League Sunday.

She said this Sunday is designated as LWML Sunday to be observed throughout the United States and Canada. The national organization's 201,000 members, she said, provide more than a million dollars in beneficial projects each biennium, entirely through voluntary contributions.

District projects now underway include scholarships for students in full time church careers, a Navajo Lutheran mission in Arizona and New Mexico, and a survey of southern Utah church membership in the St. George and Cedar City areas. In Meridian a mission program for the worship center is being established and in Homedale members are helping relocate the present church building.

Atheist seeks 'retraction'

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Atheist Madlyn Murray O'Hair said Tuesday evangelist Billy Graham "is going to retract" a statement allegedly made on the Johnny Carson television show that she sent him a letter filled with four-letter words.

Mrs. O'Hair said she has written Carson asking for equal time on his Tonight talk show to refute Graham's alleged accusation.

"We haven't heard from the Carson people yet, but I'm confident we'll be on his show."

The Federal Communications Commission rule is that if someone is attacked on television by name, the producer of the originating program has to give the other person a chance to refute the charge," she said.

She said Graham told a nationwide audience on Carson's program last week that she sent him a letter filled with four-letter words.

"I have every intention of making this man retract his schools, the college and at other places in the community urging young people to participate in the program sponsored by the Episcopal Young Churchmen of the Ascension Parish.

The program will provide an opportunity for young people, regardless of their church affiliation, to come together to "rap" about their problems. The "Rump" in the program title indicates youth should bring a cushion to sit on during the "rap" sessions.

Featured during the Sunday evening session will be members of a team of community leaders who recently attended a Health, Education and Welfare workshop in Minneapolis, Minn. The title of the program will be "Who's An Addict."

The youth group of the church wishes to emphasize that the informal program is open to all young people between the ages of 14 and 24.

Time changed

TWIN FALLS — Rev. M. Wesley Skinner, pastor of the United Brethren in Christ Church, has announced a change in time for the evening service and Wednesday prayer meetings.

The Sunday school will begin at 9:45 a.m. with regular morning worship at 11 a.m. Sunday evening services will be at 7:30 p.m. as will Wednesday prayer meeting. This schedule will be in effect for the coming two weeks.

Touched by fire

WENDELL — High school students of Wendell Presbyterian Church will distribute an American Bible Society publication, "Touched by Fire," to homes in Wendell Sunday.

The booklet is a version of portions of the New Testament from Luke through Acts. It is published by the American Bible Society as part of the Key 73 evangelistic crusade being promoted by a coalition of American churches in 1973.

Brethren name new minister

TWIN FALLS — Rev. Howard J. Larsen has been named as pastor to the First Church of the Brethren, Twin Falls.

Rev. Larsen, a 20-year veteran of the ministry was born at his grandfather's farm in Pleasant Valley in the Kimberly area. He lived in the Rock Creek area during the early part of his life and made his home with his family in towns in eastern Idaho and Oregon.

He graduated from Twin Falls High School and attended the University of Oregon and College of Idaho. His theological training was completed at Northwest Christian College, Eugene, Ore.

He has served in the Kimberly Christian and Lynwood Chapel churches. Other appointments have included Ontario Christian Church, Springfield Christian Church and Mount Vernon Church, all Oregon.

Rev. and Mrs. Larsen have seven children and three grandchildren.

Visitors and area residents are invited by the pastor to attend Sunday school and services at the First Church of the Brethren, 461 Filer Ave. W. at 10 and 11 a.m.

The sermon for Sunday, Oct. 1, is "Number Please."

CHURCHES

TF Presbyterians join world rites

TWIN FALLS — Members of the First Presbyterian Church of Twin Falls will join this Sunday in the World-Wide Communion.

The celebration is being held by Christians of all denominations from around the world.

Methodist women retain officers

TWIN FALLS — New officers of the United Methodist Women of the First United Methodist Church, Twin Falls, were announced today.

Mrs. Eugene Champlin was elected president; Mrs. Nells Haslam, vice president; Edna Smith, secretary, and Mrs. Dale Richardson, treasurer.

Theme of this week's meeting was "John God's Team." Plans were made for a harvest dinner Oct. 13 and a bazaar to be scheduled for Nov. 10.

Theme of the bazaar will be "The American Way" with Aunt Bee's Kitchen setting the scene. Mrs. Jim Rosenbaum is chairman and has set up a schedule of work days to prepare for the event.

The next general meeting of the organization will be Oct. 19 at 6:30 p.m. The dinner-meeting will include a program on the Book of Matthew.

Officers to meet

TWIN FALLS — Capt. and Mrs. Dale O. Vilen, officers of the Salvation Army Corps in Twin Falls, will attend the Salvation Army Officers Councils next week.

Two outstanding Salvation Army officer couples will be guest leaders for the Oregon-Southern Idaho division Officers Councils meeting in Portland Oct. 2-7. Some 70 Salvation Army officers from throughout the two states will attend.

Guest speakers will be Commissioner and Mrs. Paul S. Kaiser, western territorial commander from San Francisco, and Col. and Mrs. Arch Layman, also from San Francisco, recently retired senior executive officers of The Salvation Army.

Purpose of the councils is to inspire and inform the officers so that they perform as effectively as possible in their

Vote urged for Christ

TWIN FALLS — Residents of Twin Falls are being asked to "vote" in a special election starting today.

The citizens are being invited to vote their allegiance for Jesus Christ in a special, non-sectarian election, according to Bill Vietz, lay action leader of the Twin Falls Seventh-day Adventist Church, Addison and Grandview-Drive.

"This election will be for this year's best candidate, the candidate who represents the best cause," Vietz said. It will run until Oct. 28.

The local campaign is part of a nation-wide effort by more than 3,000 local units to focus attention on a national need for moral rearmament.

"People want to make sure they are voting for the best candidate in this election year," Vietz said. "One way to be sure is to vote for Jesus."

Vietz said members of Twin Falls Adventist Church will distribute ballot for the special election throughout the community until Oct. 28. Nationally the campaign is sponsored by the Voice of Prophecy, International Christian radio broadcast organization headquartered in Glendale, Calif.

Vietz said children may vote in this election, too.

Business firms throughout Twin Falls will have a supply of the ballots, and young people and adults of the church will have a supply of the ballot.

They will distribute ballots to doors and persons who may be missed in the distribution can obtain their ballots at the local Adventist Church.

Results of the election in Twin Falls and throughout the United States will be tabulated and announced at about the same time as are results of the national presidential election.

Richfield society holds first meet

RICHFIELD — The Richfield Ward LDS Relief Society held its opening social Tuesday at the church.

President Carolee Bowers conducted the meeting and introduced the officers and teachers for the coming year, who in turn outlined their duties and courses of study to be taught.

They were Mrs. Perry Jones and Mrs. Delbert Tree, counselors; Mrs. Gary Brownlee, secretary; Mrs. Clifford Ward, homemaking leader; Mrs. Ronald Ralls, organist and Mrs. Beth Hlatt, chorister.

Teachers included Mrs. Mark

Jaynes, spiritual living; Mrs. Roth Swainston, mother training; Mrs. Glen Jensen, social relations, and Mrs. Ken Dixon, cultural refinement.

Mrs. Allen Gardner sang two solos, accompanied by Mrs. Kenneth Johnson. Mrs. Hlatt led the group in community singing.

A luncheon was served at noon to members seated at quartet tables decorated with fall flowers floating in crystal goblets and dried autumn leaves.

Regular Relief Society meetings will begin at 10 a.m. Oct. 3 at the church.

Sing Thing set tonight

HAZELTON — A "Sing Thing" will be held tonight in the Assembly of God Church in Hazelton.

The public is invited to the special youth sponsored program at 7:30 p.m. Favorite songs will be sung and refreshments will be served following the program.

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls Hobbycrafters Club will meet at 10 a.m. Wednesday at the Harry Barry Park Recreation building. Those attending are asked to bring a sack lunch.

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls Chapter No. 29 Order of Eastern Star, will hold a special practice at 4 p.m. Oct. 6 at the Masonic Temple.

TWIN FALLS — Primrose Rebekah Lodge No. 76 will have initiation at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Odd Fellows Hall. This is a regularly scheduled meeting. Officers are asked to wear formal.

Hints

Pendants are plentiful and "in" for fall and winter. They come in both long and short lengths.

If you want something that swings in the way of jewelry, try super-length tassels, rattles and adjustable slide necklaces. Or for double-duty, try a lariat that can be worn as necklace or belt.

Registration deadline set

GLENN'S FERRY — Registration forms for the Community Pride Conference are due in the state office by Monday.

According to Mrs. Marilyn Jordan, extension agent for Elmore County, the forms may be obtained from the county agent's office. The conference will be held in McCall on Oct. 6-7.

Mrs. Jordan hopes to have a number of 4-H'ers attend. Eight attended from Elmore County last year.

GF youth selected

GLENN'S FERRY — Lori Hoalst, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wes Lee Hoalst, Meridian and formerly Glenn's Ferry, has been chosen to go to Chicago for the 4-H National Club Congress.

She has worked with 4-H projects in sewing, knitting, cooking, etc. After a talk on "Nutrition" or the "American Way with Foods" which she gave first to the county extension agents, then to the state, she was awarded the trip.

Miss Hoalst is a granddaughter of Mrs. W. E. Hoalst, Glenn's Ferry.

TF youth slated for Boise opera

TWIN FALLS — Fourteen-year-old Timothy Driscoll of Twin Falls has been selected to portray the young Andrew Jackson in the opera "Rachael" in Boise Oct. 6 and 7.

Timothy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Driscoll and is a student at Vera C. O'Leary Junior High School.

"Rachael" will have its world premiere when it plays at the Boise High School auditorium in connection with the Idaho Commission for the Arts and Humanities Convention.

The opera, which deals with the tragic story of the love of Andrew Jackson for a divorcee, was written by C. Griffith Bratt, with libretto by Hazel Weston, both prominent in Boise and Gem State music circles.

Timothy will portray the late president as he appeared as a young man. The opera follows Jackson's struggle to overcome the stigma of marrying a divorced woman to rise to a position in the White House.

The general director, Dr. Richard Krueger from the Seattle Opera Co., predicts "Rachael" will rise within a decade to be one of the major American operas.

Timothy's first stage experience was at the age of 9 with the Antique Festival Theatre, when he traveled for a full summer playing "Rip Van Winkle." He began studying voice at the age of 11 with Mrs. David Mead of Twin Falls.

He later played the part of "Peter" in "Mame," a Dilettante Group of Magic Valley production, and that same year played "Tom o' Warwick" in the College of Southern Idaho's production of "Camelot."

The following year he played the title role in the Dilettante production of "Oliver."

Since then he has sung in the O'Leary choir and has sung with the adult choir of St. Edward's Catholic Church and leads the junior choir in the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine of his church.

Timothy also serves as president of the Vera C. O'Leary Junior High School Music Club, an affiliate of the National Federation of Music Clubs, and has received superior ratings in piano and voice in Junior Music Club festivals. He also serves as president of the choir at O'Leary.

Timothy received a four-week Dilettante scholarship to Sun Valley Music Camp in the summer of 1971 and last summer received a two-week scholarship from the Twin Falls Music Club to the University of Idaho summer music camp.

The Boise Philharmonic Orchestra will play the score and other roles in "Rachael" will be sung by some of Boise Valley's most prominent vocalists.

Pins are back to be worn all over the place—on the shoulder, peeping beneath a lapel, gleaming on a pocket, teamed with a rope necklace. They add the touch of individuality.

Husband
'bored'

Abby, I know I should invite these nice people to my home, but I'm afraid my husband wouldn't hear of it. My problem is, I can't face them every week knowing I should reciprocate. We are quite socially prominent, and they know we entertain a lot, and I'm sure they wonder why I haven't invited them back. Should I beg my husband to please let me have them? It's terribly embarrassing. How should I handle it?

IN A QUANDARY

DEAR IN: Reciprocate by inviting the women over some afternoon, some husbands. DON'T "beg" your husband to be a host to these nice people. His snobbish attitude would probably show, which would be more humiliating to your guests than not being invited at all.

DEAR ABBY: I just attended a bridal shower where one woman brought her seven-year-old daughter. (The only child there.) The mother planted the little girl at the guest of honor's feet while she opened her gifts. There were lots of pictures taken while the shower gifts were opened, so of course this child got in every one of them!

The mother of the child has relatives all over town so there was no excuse for taking her along. What's with these pushy mothers? Or am I the oddball?

ANOTHER MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Pushy mothers have been with us since Eve gave Adam the rib. Just try not to hold it against the kids. They're the victims.

DEAR ABBY: I have a very bright, quick-witted 32-year-old son who is an expert at putting people down with his sarcasm. There are times when we all wish we had that talent, but it grieves me to see him constantly use it on his little four-year-old daughter. How can a child cope with a 200-pound man, eight times her age? She is such a sweet, sensitive little thing who adores her father and longs for his approval.

I am sure he loves her, too, but I feel the cutting edge of his sharp tongue against this helpless child as keenly as I felt it years ago when my own mother often ridiculed and humiliated her children, leaving scars on all six of them.

My own son was never subjected to this type of cruelty, so he doesn't know how it feels. I do. Thanks.

ANONYMOUS

DEAR ANON: Since you are "grieved," and legitimately so, I suggest that you tell your "bright" son how you feel about his cruelty. Unburdening yourself to me will not benefit your grandchild.

DEAR ABBY: Occasionally someone corrects my pronunciation of a word. This makes me very angry. Everyone mispronounces a word occasionally. I think anyone who corrects a person is rude and ignorant. What do you think?

MIAMI

DEAR MIAMI: It depends upon the circumstances. To correct someone publicly is rude and unkind. But a private correction is a courtesy.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 6970, L. A., CALIF. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

'Get away woman' not 100% for 'lib'

NEW YORK (UPI)—One of the offshoots of the women's liberation movement is another breed of female, but not one so militant as her Lib sisters. Elmer L. Winter calls her the

"get away woman." "She's the married woman in her 30s and 40s who wants to get away from the house and out into the world more," said Winter. "She's a phenomenon in today's labor force."

Winter, boss of a worldwide temporary help and business service firm, said Lib has been getting to this particular woman who "hears the Friedmans, the Steinems and other Lib leaders and says, 'Maybe that's me she's talking about.'"

But the "get away woman" isn't buying liberation 100 percent, he continued. She wants equal treatment with men in job and salary, yes. "But she likes to be considered a lady, wants the amenities that go with being one... you know, men to open doors and the like."

Another factor pushing the 30- and 40-year group out of the home is urbanization. "Apartment living, large housing projects, a life with three locks on the door have created loneliness," Winter said. "The women are looking for friends, the work experience can provide them."

Winter's Business, Manpower, Inc., which calls itself the world's largest in its field, naturally is pushing the temporary help lifestyle.

Here is another elimination play made possible because West's bidding has told South where all the cards are.

Not that we really fault West for his bidding. He can't know that East has a blank hand.

West cashes the ace and king of diamonds and shifts to a trump. South stops to figure out West's hand. He probably started with 5-5 in the minor suits, the ace and one heart and a spade.

That doesn't have to be the exact distribution but South can find out more about it right away. He ruffs his last diamond with dummy's ace of trumps. East follows, so West started with just five diamonds.

South returns to this hand with a second trump. West shows out.

Now South leads a low heart toward dummy. West can't afford to rise with his ace. That would set up dummy's fourth heart for a club discard. West ducks and dummy's jack wins the trick. A second heart is led. South's queen falls to West's ace and poor West is stone cold dead.

If he leads a diamond, South gets a ruff and discard. He sees that and does the best he can by leading a club. South lets this come around to his queen and scores game and rubber.

EAT LESS, ENJOY IT MORE

By Mary Sue Miller

Foods that may be included on reducing menus run the gourmet gamut. Still many dieters have the idea that low-calorie fare is dull and repetitious.

Actually it must be neither, or a reducer comes to feel boredom and self-pity. Then she pampers herself with eating Sprees and wrecks her program. An approved diet meal passes this test:

• To serve the needs of health, weight and general appearance, a meal must provide essential nutrients at a low-calorie count.

• It must taste delicious so as to soothe a rebellious appetite.

• It must fill the hungry eye - look a delightful lot.

The last point is often disregarded. As a result, the dieter's plate seems dreary, like a punishment. To remedy the situation, all that's wanted are attractive table settings and attractively garnished food. For instance, a cup of clear bouillon becomes a chef's creation when served in a fine white china cup and topped with parsleyed lemon slice. Try serving poached halibut with a shake of paprika on a blue pottery plate.

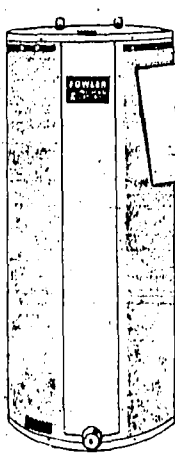

The cost of such flourishes is almost nothing in calories, little in coin. Yet they convey the idea of a feast so that diet seems less restrictive. You diet and like it. In time you master the secret of weight control - eating less and enjoying what you eat more.

CAA plan OK'd

Although the budget approved by the executive committee contained the $30,000 in funds left unexpended from previous years, Whitehead said in Seattle earlier this week it was not "normal practice" for the federal officials to grant the use of excess moneys on top of an original contract grant.

Earlier this week, Slotten had charged the OEO with "not practicing what they preach" by not granting the agency enough time to allow for citizen participation in approving the work program.

Whitehead had responded by saying federal officials had been "more than fair" with the agency in granting the original 90 days to make revisions in the work plan.

Slotten had said, however, that he would ask the board to challenge the decision of the federal office, and hinted he would make an appeal to Idaho's congressional delegation if necessary.

His original plan was met with opposition, however, although the board's action asked the OEO regional office to provide massive assistance to the agency.

Executive Director Bobby Russell said today the revisions and budget would be in the mail by the Saturday night deadline.

Old school goes

OLD GOODING High School, built in 1912 at a cost of $14,000, is being torn down by Stafford Excavation and Demolition Co., Boise. The school was vacated last March when students moved into a new structure. The demolition work is expected to be complete and the land filled by Dec. 1.

Fish, game aide talks in Rupert

RUPERT — Stu Murrell, Jerome, Idaho Fish and Game officer, was guest speaker Thursday during the noon luncheon of the Rupert Chamber of Commerce.

Murrell showed slides which he narrated on pheasant, ducks and geese. He discussed the basic cover, food, space, water and range of the pheasant. He suggested that ditch banks and roadsides be mowed rather than burned for this is good nesting area for the pheasant.

In the winter pheasant move into sagebrush areas or trees and bushes for cover.

Areas in Idaho where new land is being put into farm production, the developers leave no cover for wildlife.

Murrell suggested a plan of soil conservation in these new farming areas. For the soil is being lost in erosion and planting.

By leaving areas of sagebrush, it would cut down on erosion and give cover for wildlife.

Pheasants are raised at the fish and game farm at Jerome with from 16,000 to 18,000 placed in areas prior to the hunting season.

The water fowl refuge in Hagerman Valley has from 75 to 100 hunters per day in the areas open to hunting, according to Murrell. Many times 100,000 mallards are in this area at one time, he reported. Last year 1 million mallards were banded in the international program which includes Mexico, United States and Canada.

The goose production count for this year is good, according to Murrell. Nesting areas were not lost this spring due to water levels being raised in the streams.

Murrell also announced the fish and game department has purchased 940 acres near the Niagara Springs area for $370,000 and the area will be developed for wildlife.

Wayne Ranstrom, program chairman, introduced Murrell and arranged for the program.

Pete Ford, chamber president, announced a no-host luncheon Oct. 3 at the Ponderosa Inn sponsored by FHA.

Dell Hollinger reported the film prepared by BLM officials on the Snake River Desert Complex was shown at Aberdeen Chamber of Commerce and they are working for proper development of the desert area north of Rupert and Paul.

Solon attends meet

BUHL — Sen. John M. Barker, R-Buhl, will attend a Model Legislation for the Civil Commitment of Narcotic Addicts Committee meeting Saturday in Boise.

This legislation comes as a result of investigation by the substance abuse task force, Barker said.

He is a member of the Governor's Advisory Council on Comprehensive Health Planning and on the special subcommittee on substance abuse.

Treatment and rehabilitation of narcotic addicts is a problem in Idaho which needs to be considered in the 1973 Idaho legislative session, Barker said.

Burley candidate will fight for Snake water

BUURLEY — Republican state senate candidate Dr. Charles Terhune said Thursday he would combat the diversion of Snake River water for out-of-state use.

The district 26 hopeful cited the 1977 expiration of a 10-year moratorium that has prevented studies of a plan to divert surplus Snake River water into the Colorado River Basin.

He warned that, although five years are left to prove that the surplus water is needed and should be retained in Idaho, reclamation projects can take decades to materialize and western states with more legislative punch than Idaho could push through measures after 1977 that would convert Snake River water to their needs.

"California alone spends $1 million annually on propaganda to get this (Snake River) water," Terhune said.

He produced a recent article in a California newspaper that explained the possibility of "pumping Snake River water over the mountains into Nevada where it would flow down Humboldt River to the west and be pumped over and through the Sierras to California's Central Valley."

"We had better back our water resources board," Dr. Terhune said, "because it is promoting the use of the surplus water through such reclamation efforts as the Swan Falls-Guffy

Rabbits killed

BUHL — Between $35 and $40 worth of rabbits were killed by dogs this week west of Buhl.

Victor Miller, owner of the rabbits, said the killings occurred several days during this week.

The dogs, he said, tore the rabbit hutches apart.

He said he had disposed of one of the dogs, but there are at least two more which he has seen at the rabbit pens.

Teacher Corps explanation set

FILER — The Filer School Teacher Corps program will be explained during a public meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the Filer Elementary school.

Ray Baker, superintendent of the Filer district, will be moderator for a panel discussion. Panelists will be Bill Heaps, principal of the Filer elementary school; Mrs. William Bunce and Mrs. Joyce Harding.

Assisting will be first and second grade teachers, Mrs. Vera Wylie, Mrs. Helen Hall, Mrs. Genevieve Engle and Mrs. Emily Tverdy, and the corps members including Ellen Morjcal, coordinator; Marjorie Short, Sue Ellen Lammers, Lois Cammack and Mrs. Harding.

Mrs. Roy Watson is lay coordinator.

The program and aims of the corps will be discussed during the meeting which is open to all persons interested in the school and community.

A number of parents have been invited to serve on a steering committee to work with the corps in the planning of program and in the community involvement aspect of the Teachers Corps program.

Serving on this committee will be Mr. and Mrs. Alex Breto, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Hull, Mr. and Mrs. Don Lierman, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sharp and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vincent.

Gooding proposal already state law

By PEGGY CHU
Times-News writer

GOODING — A resolution which would require Gooding County Planning Commission approval of new development in the county is already a state law.

The resolution was turned down following hearings by the Gooding County commissioners.

The resolution requires that any new land use alteration or construction be brought before the planning commission and county commissioners if the cost is over $1,000. The $1,000 limit could have been left out of the resolution, according to Robert Bolte, planning commission.

Bolte read two sections of the Idaho Code at last night's planning commission meeting which indicated that the resolution the commission has been trying to have approved for months by the county commission is already a law.

Section 50-1308 of the Idaho Code for 1967 states "if a subdivision is not within the corporate limits of a city, the plat thereof shall be submitted, accepted and approved by the board of commissioners of the county . . . If the city or county has established a planning commission, then all plats must be submitted to said commission . . ."

Section 50-1106 says "any and all maps, plats and re-plats which require the approval of a city council or county board shall first be submitted to the planning commission of the city or county for its suggestion . . ."

Bolte said at last night's meeting "we've never seen one plat so we had better get a hold of the county commissioners and read them the law."

In other planning commission business last night Bolte announced that the planning commission is now ready to begin formulating a master plan for the county which would include land use, transportation and community facilities.

The commission re-evaluated Thursday night, the work already accomplished for community planning.

Bolte said, "We are not charged with zoning only with making a plan. Zoning cannot begin until after a plan is completed and approved. Then the county commissioners appoint a zoning commission."

Members of the planning commission expressed the need to establish good public relations, to inform citizens what the commission is trying to accomplish.

According to Bolte, if anyone came to a planning commission meeting and read their list of goals and objectives there would probably not be opposition to the group's work.

The commission is presently looking for volunteers to serve on various planning committees.

SV-Ketchum chamber sets visitors bureau merge

SUN VALLEY — Merger of the Ketchum-Sun Valley Chamber of Commerce and the visitors bureau is anticipated in December.

During a chamber meeting Thursday, the group voted to go ahead with merger proceedings. Approval also came from the visitors bureau during an earlier meeting.

When the merger is completed, the visitors bureau will be incorporated as an arm of the chamber.

Chamber President Billie Thompson said "Working as one unit, we can accomplish so much more."

The move will also save costs as the two groups will share the same office and facilities, she said.

Mrs. Thompson appointed chamber budget and finance committee chairmen Maggie Cutter and visitors bureau chairman Bill Brohan as co-chairmen of a six member committee to work out the financial details of the merger.

The visitors bureau maintains a central switchboard for reservations to area accommodations. The group also organized last winter's bus service between Sun Valley and Ketchum.

Mrs. Thompson said the major obstacle was the expense of the bus system. Brohan said within two years the city will take over the bus system. With the recent Fund-A-Bus event and similar events scheduled in February and next August, "there will be no financial problems in maintaining the system within the next two years," he said.

Wendell asks road project

WENDELL — Chamber of commerce members, highway district personnel and citizens met with the Wendell City Council Thursday night to discuss resurfacing of West Avenue H.

John Schiermah, Jerome, state highway department official, told the group he would look into the possibility of improving the road at the state's expense.

According to the city, the work was supposed to have been done by the Idaho Highway Department, but the provision was left out of the original contract.

CSI has repair course

TWIN FALLS — Registration for a small engine repair course will begin at 7 p.m. Monday at the College of Southern Idaho Vocational School.

The night course will cover basic engine repair and will run from 7 to 10 p.m. Monday nights for a total of 30 hours.

Cost of the course is $10 plus $5 registration fee payable on Monday. Anyone interested in further information can call Frank Schell at 733-9554, extension 284.

Jerome construction reaches $1 million

JEROME — City construction topped the million dollar mark for the first eight months of 1972, nearly doubling the corresponding 1971 figure.

According to a report issued by Idaho First Security Bank, total construction in Jerome amounted to $1,029 million, compared to $502,803 for the first eight months last year.

The report also listed 128 building permits issued and 59 new homes built within the city limits through August, 1972. For the same period last year, 95 permits had been issued and 24 new homes had been built.

Yet, bringing it all into focus, one of the most important ingredients is still missing. And that is, they still don't look like houses! Not until now. The minute you pass through the custom entry doors into the spacious living area you know you are not in an ordinary Mobile Home. Your eyes follow the open beam board ceilings featuring double ceiling. Genuine hardwood cabinets throughout for lasting beauty and durability. The extra large master bedroom suite with its own sitting room, a feature not found in homes costing much more. Whether you have a Mobile Home Park site picked out or a half acre in a Mountain Retreat, you can have the best of both worlds, low maintenance, carefree living, and the fun and convenience of an architecturally impressive design. Bank Financing • Modular Approved by City Zoning Codes Twin Falls Mobile Home Sales 1500 Kimberly Road 734-4336

Grand council fire tonight

BURLEY — Special recognition will be given to Mrs. Jerry (Elaine) Anderson and Mrs. Rynold (Marianne) Baumgartner, Camp Fire Girls leaders at Council Fire.

The public invited to the annual Grand Council Fire at 8 p.m. Friday at the Burley Elks Lodge.

Mrs. Anderson will be recognized for serving 10 years as a Camp Fire leader and Mrs. Baumgartner for serving five years. Ten groups of the Cassia branch of the Southwestern Idaho Council of Camp Fire Girls will be hosting the Grand Council Fire. The Camp Fire Girls will receive their ranks and awards earned during the past year.

Services in Filer

FILER — Two ministers are holding gospel services in the JOOF Hall in Filer each Sunday afternoon at 3:30 p.m.

Cora Horton and Selma House conduct the services and stress teachings of the New Testament. These are non-denominational and everyone is welcome.

Water board rapped

BURLEY — Idaho's Water Resource Board has "shortchanged" city dwellers, according to Idaho waterworks official Jack Miller.

Miller, asked to comment on a recent Idaho Statesman article that suggested internal and external criticism of the board was contained in a "secret" state audit, said Wednesday, "there should be more emphasis by the water resource board on the need for domestic and culinary uses of water."

Miller, Soda Springs, is in Burley to attend a three-day joint meeting of the American water works association and the Utah Water Pollution Association. He is the chairman of the intermountain section of the AWWA.

He declined to comment on the administration of IWRB Director Dr. Robert Lee, but said the board as a whole "has no business being involved in public power. In fact, it has no business being involved in power businesses in any respect."

Grange elects at Paul

Elected were Gerald Schneider, master; Kenneth Walker, overseer; Mrs. Jack Robinson, lecturer; Lynn Coon, steward; Roy Twiss, assistant steward; Mrs. Roy Twiss, lady assistant steward; Mrs. Gerald Schneider, chaplain; Mrs. George Twiss, gate keeper; Mrs. Kenneth Walker, Ceres; Imogene McGregor, Pomona and Mrs. Dave Kraus, Flora.

Kenneth Walker was appointed to the executive committee.

The Grange charter was draped in memory of Mrs. Alma Stewart.

Mrs. Kenneth Walker gave a summary of last year's projects.

9 become Webelos

TWIN FALLS — Nine boys Knudson, Mitchell Mead, Brent received Webelos rank at the Presbyterian Cub Scout Pack 66 meeting Wednesday night at the church.

Receiving their Webelos colors and scarves in a special ceremony were: Kermit Leir, Jeff Riedesel, Steve Althart, Eugene Wallace, Harold Joy, Tim Frieson, Ricky Dudley, Robbie Sherman and Matt McKain.

Six boys earned Bobcat awards, including George

Next pack meeting will be held Oct. 18.

Grange honors couple

TWIN FALLS — Mr. and Mrs. I. T. (Pete) Creed of Twin Falls were honored Wednesday night by the Twin Falls Grange in a "This Is Your Life" type program.

The program and accompanying tableaux depicted Creed's life from his birth through the present day.

He was born 75 years ago in Missouri and came to Idaho where he spent three years before returning to Missouri to marry his wife, Flossie.

Following their marriage, the couple returned to Idaho where they have remained.

In the program, Creed was referred to as "Mr. Grange." He has done much to assist the Grange, particularly in the line of produce for county fairs.

Creed, who had his first garden at the age of 5, has exhibited top produce at county fairs for many years. He and his wife have earned enough ribbons to cover a room of their home.

Creed has been instrumental in forming a junior gardener's group. His personal fair booth and the junior gardeners' booth at the fair this year both earned many blue ribbons.

In addition to Grange activities, Creed has served as a member of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce's agricultural committee, the Twin Falls County Historical Society and the society's grounds and buildings committee.

He also has served as a director of the Twin Falls Canning Kitchen which he was instrumental in starting. He also is an area trustee of the Idaho Youth Ranch, and has promoted and developed the Grange's ground hog supper which provides funds for the ranch.

He also was instigator of the landfill and bridge building project on Blue Lakes Boulevard South, Creed's Crossing.

He has been master of the Cedar Draw Grange, Twin Falls Grange and has held other subordinate, Pomona and State Grange offices.

Following the presentation arranged by Clark Kleinkopf, chairman of the Grange's community service program, the Creeds were presented with a money tree.

Richfield luncheon

RICHFIELD — Richfield's Woman's Club opened its fall season Wednesday with a luncheon at the home of Sadie Rider.

Mrs. Dave Kennison, president, welcomed the members and special guests, Mrs. Sterling Gray, Bliss, and Mrs. Roy Young, Mrs. Lynn Hendricks, Mrs. Fred Hubbsmith, and Mrs. Mae DeWitt, all Richfield.

Members revealed Pollyanna names for last year and drew new names.

Mrs. Myrtle Itley was co-hostess. Mrs. Nelson Frederickson is hostess for the Oct. 15 meeting at her home.

California wineries face grape shortage

SONOMA, Calif. (UPI) — The 1972 vintage now in full swing reveals the greatest shortage of varietal (prominent-type) wine grapes in the state's history.

California's 25 wineries and their thousands of grape growers are discovering the true extent of damage by heavy frosts of late spring, plus two days of 110-degree July weather in the Napa and Sonoma valleys.

The grape harvest here is down an estimated 20-40 and 15-20 respectively, against a 40-60 increase in wine demand compared with the same period of last year.

The present boom, unprecedented in the state's agricultural records, finds most wineries forced to ration their better wines.

Growers are unable to supply winery demands despite record prices (many varietals have increased from about $250 per ton to $750).

Vineyard nurseries are booked two and three years in advance to the army of new winegrowers and to present growers who are expanding established vineyards.

The latter programs range from two-acre plots being planted by "Sunday farmers," many of them doctors, lawyers and professional men who live in the San Francisco metropolitan area but are developing hobby vineyards in the country; to multi-million dollar professional enterprises.

The intensity of the boom has attracted a score of promoters to the fine-wine area, almost in the Florida land-boom tradition.

Display ads in metropolitan newspapers invite the public to "invest" in the California wine industry; the investor will receive a nine-per-cent annual cash flow and an 88 per cent write-off on the first year's invested dollars.

The California Farm Bureau has warned the public to invest only in projects backed by established and reputable wineries and by substantial bank financing, and has also added a caution that overproduction of wine grapes may be an eventual result.

Roy Taylor of San Francisco's Wine Institute does not believe the latter danger is acute. "We think the record increase in wine demand will more than absorb the increase in vineyard expansion for the foreseeable future," he said.

"It is unlikely that the grape crush can keep up with the demand for the next four seasons at least," said Dr. Kirby S. Moulton, economist of the University of California.

But the lure and romance of wine growing seems to remain strong and attractive. The vineyards of Sonoma County, where fine wine grapes were first introduced from Europe, has increased over 400 per cent since the boom started, according to Robert Sisson of the state's Agricultural Department.

Statewide, there are over 132,000 acres growing premium wine grapes, with another 50,000 acres already planted and on their way through the three-to-five-year period before a first crop can be expected. The rate of additional plantings continues to increase.

USDA failed small farmers

NEW YORK (UPI) — While major grain exporters were negotiating to sell 400 million bushels of wheat to the Soviet Union, the Agriculture Department deliberately suppressed a report that could have helped small farmers cash in on the deal, CBS Evening News reported Wednesday.

Critics of the Nixon administration have contended for some time that failure to publicize the deal worked to the benefit of the big exporters, and to the detriment of farmers who sold the wheat at low prices.

CBS correspondent Walter Cronkite said the department's Economic Research Service in mid-August prepared a report that "detailed the Russian crop failure." Cronkite quoted Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz as saying the report was not released "because he was not sure it was accurate."

President Nixon announced July 8 that wheat trading would begin with the Soviet Union, Cronkite noted. On July 18, he said, "the July 18th issue of The Southwestern Miller, the grain trade journal, reported that the Russians would buy perhaps as much as 100 million bushels of wheat."

"But in fact by the time of the story, the 'Big Six' grain exporters already had sold 267 million bushels to the Russians, on their way to an estimated total sale of 419 million bushels," Cronkite said.

"Clearly, the Big Six exporters who had been secretly negotiating and concluding deals since the end of June had vital knowledge of how much wheat the Soviets needed," he said.

Local men attend conference

TWIN FALLS — Managers of the Southern Idaho Production Credit Association, R. W. Stuart, L. W. Lickley, Curtis L. Wilkins and Earl R. Stansell, participated in a two-day agricultural credit conference in Spokane, Wash., Thursday and today. They will review new developments in lending procedure as authorized in the Farm Credit Act of 1971.

Agriculture Department touts wheat

WASHINGTON (UPI) — While bakers clamor for permission to raise bread prices and the government slows down wheat exports, the Agriculture Department is launching a domestic promotion campaign featuring wheat as a "plentiful food."

Officials said the campaign, part of a regular series of monthly food promotions, will be carried out Oct. 1-7 through material supplied to food industry firms, newspapers, radio and television.

Plans for the October Plentiful Food program, originally announced in late August, listed apples as the prime food for the month with attention also scheduled for half a dozen other items including turkeys, chicken and wheat products. For the week beginning Oct. 1, officials said they would give "extra emphasis" to promotion of wheat products, tying this to the congressionally authorized observance of Oct. 3 as the annual "Day of Bread."

A separate department report today showed retail bread prices had edged up 1.2 per cent in August, leaving them unchanged from a year earlier. But bakers have told the Cost of Living Council that further hikes are needed because massive wheat sales to Russia have driven flour prices up sharply.

A Department spokesman said special promotional material for the wheat observance was being prepared in regional offices and probably wouldn't say much about prices. But he said, officials feel domestic wheat supplies are still big enough to classify the grain as plentiful, and there was no thought of calling off the promotion campaign.

College studies coyote control

RENO, Nov. — In the wake of recent directives aimed at abolishing means of controlling coyote and other predator populations, what does a livestockman do?

Hopefully, considerable and in depth research entailing numerous facets of the predator-prey relationship may provide some answers to this and other questions.

A western regional research project is now in progress. The college of agriculture, University of Nevada, Reno, will participate in the research along with a number of agricultural experimental stations at other land grant universities in the west.

Dr. Donald A. Klebenow, extension wildlife specialist and professor of wildlife management in UNR's College of Agriculture, will head Nevada aspects of the research. Dr. Klebenow is also secretary of the regional technical committee that is coordinating the study.

Objectives of the study, according to Dr. Klebenow, include the developing of improved and non-lethal methods of preventing predation; assessing damage to the livestock industry from predation as related to present and future levels of predator control; studying predator-prey relationships and their interactions, and studying the behavior of coyotes, dogs and other canids to identify behavioral patterns potentially useful in developing more effective and non-lethal control methods.

"Here in Nevada," said Dr. Klebenow, "we will work on assessing damage to the livestock industry, primarily sheep, from predation, and on predator-prey relationships." He explained that this will involve a survey of the extent of predator losses and control in Nevada, and verify causes of death in sheep or other livestock losses.

The interaction of the predator, the prey and varying range conditions will be studied as a means of providing necessary information to apply to man, predator conflict.

Changing habitat conditions such as those wrought by range rehabilitation, range abuse, or any of a variety of other causes, Dr. Klebenow said, may work to make the prey either more vulnerable or less so.

Horoscope

Carroll Righter

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1972

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until noon use care that you are not sensitive and avoid getting your feelings hurt in which event you could lose objectivity and make a big mistake. However, the afternoon and evening are fine for personal pleasures and for getting the home and other furnishings and articles you need. Show affection to others.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Try not to lose your temper with kin at home in a m., then the p.m. becomes restful and charming there. Come to a far better understanding instead. Don't permit a partner to run roughshod over you.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Tone down those worries over financial or personal matters in a m., and wear a smile and you win others over easily. Then all improves for you. Make the repairs that are needed and have fun at home tonight with friends.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Make sure you do not overspend for whatever you do not really need anyway during the day, and in p.m. you can then make fine plans for the future. Others expect too much from you, so do only what is humanly possible and show you have good sense.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) If you show that you are well controlled during a m., you win easily over others. Later you can be with congenials for the delightful pleasures you desire with them. Spend some, but not too much.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Instead of fretting over that situation in a m. when you can do little about it, await the afternoon and settle it calmly after you have cooled off. Dress nicely and go out socially tonight. Show others you like them.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Morning is a good time to get appearance improved if you are going to go out socially later. Don't wait until the last minute and feel unsure. Good friends are in fine mood for fun.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Do whatever will clear up that confusing condition at home in a m., and then the afternoon and evening are fine for dining out, other activities you like. After lunch is best time for approaching that bigwig for backing. Meet new personalities, too.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Morning is best time to delve into that source of information difficult for you to do before. Then make the right new connections you want. Avoid one who has an eye on your assets but flatters you a great deal.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Getting responsibilities well handled in a m. frees time for more enjoyable activities later in the day and in p.m. That feeling of joviality returns in p.m. that has been missing all day. Have fun.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) If you are patient with a partner in a m., you find that later in the day you get backing or cooperation you want, but could not earlier. That problem is difficult to solve until p.m. Then all is okay.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have boring work to do in the morning, so get it out of the way before you step out for other activities, since it is important nevertheless. Stay clear of arguments. Build up your vitality in some right way.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You want to have a good time, which is all right, provided you get that important work out of the way early most efficiently. You have to clear up flaws in creative outlets, too. The evening can be particularly delightful.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be one of those fearful and overly sensitive young people if you let him or her hang on to the apron strings too long. So give training in self-dependence early, but carefully, and teach early about the pitfalls of life. Then this becomes a most successful chart, particularly in connection with public endeavors. Teach early not to fuss and fiddle so much, especially about the unimportant things of life. Sports are very helpful.

So you think the garb of certain long-haired young men currently seen in the streets is outlandish, do you? Consider the Encyclopedia Britannica's description of the clothing of that renowned signatory, John Hancock: "He wore a scarlet velvet cap and blue damask gown lined with velvet. A white satin embroidered waistcoat, black satin trousers and red morocco slippers completed his costume."

MOST PEOPLE at age 13 start to lose just a little bit more of their hearing every year. Extensive tests prove that. Don't fret, however. Said loss is usually so gradual it goes unnoticed. Significant deafness, it's said, develops in only one man in every 39, in only one woman in every 52.

CAVITIES Q. "Exactly what is it that prevents some people from ever getting tooth decay?" A. Something in the saliva, just what nobody seems to know. But the medical researchers think they can build a pill that will give it to all of us, eventually. About one out of every 100 souls now is so blessed.

TO ALL THE rest of those common accoutrements of civilization invented by the Chinese, add flags. HERE'S to the cardinal, the official bird of all. Seven states call it their formal fowl. ONE OUT OF 10 twins has a grandparent who was likewise a twin.

MATH Jot down your house number. Double it. Add five. Multiply by 50. Add your age. Come on, your true age. Add 365. Subtract 615. So what do you get? Answer should show your house number on the left and your age on the right.

ON HIS 102nd birthday in Kamiah, Idaho, George Motz said, "I got where I am by avoiding blondes."

THE U. S. Government reportedly spends about $2 Million a day on chemical and biological warfare, and 1 cent it.

TV FOLK always portray feminine cut lovers as the itty bitty teeny weeny cuddly wuddly baby talk types. Why?

AND SIR: FIGURE your heating bill will go up 3 percent for each extra degree of heat you set on your thermostat. IF YOU double the diameter of a pipe, you multiply its carrying capacity four times, remember that. IF IT'S inferior concrete, it gets weaker as it ages. If it's superior concrete, it gets stronger as it ages.

Harvest prices could determine election

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—The 1972 harvest—how it gets to market and the prices it yields—could be the determining factor in the 1972 election in Iowa.

If farmers are saddled with large stockpiles, if there is a shortage of boxcars or strikes at the Gulf ports, if something else happens to force down farm prices, then Sen. George S. McGovern could stand a chance.

This has been Nixon country for more than a decade. Iowa farmers backed the President solidly in 1960 and 1968. They figure to repeat this year.

But most Iowa farmers do not tend to be diehard supporters of either party. A lot of them, observers believe, have not yet made up their minds about the election. What happens in the next few weeks could determine their stand.

Iowa farmers also are concerned with issues ranging from Vietnam to unemployment.

But discussions always drift back to their pocketbooks.

Polls have indicated that while most Iowans have confidence in Nixon in the national and international area, McGovern, a Midwesterner, is favored when it comes to handling "rural problems."

"Farmers vote their pocketbooks," one high Republican party official said, "and any adverse condition such as a shortage of boxcars, strikes at Gulf ports, drops in prices or whatever will affect the vote."

"I am confident that Nixon can take Iowa, but my biggest fear right now is apathy if we don't keep interest up. McGovern could sneak in and do a repeat of Truman in 1948."

Nixon's popularity slumped in Iowa last year when farmers were unable to move their grains because of a boxcar shortage and Gulf port strikes. Republicans have been carefully planning to avoid a repeat this year.

Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz has made frequent visits to Iowa to assure farmers that market prices will be up by Election Day.

Gov. Robert D. Ray, leading a GOP ticket that is expected to sweep the statehouse again this year, has implemented a program to make sure grain can be moved to market. Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, seeking his third term, frequently blames the Democratic congress for thwarting Nixon's efforts to stop transportation strikes.

Butz, billed in Iowa as a "fighter for the farmer," has taken a two-front approach to consumer criticism about spiraling meat prices.

He appears to have widespread appeal among farmers and often tells them he will battle Nixon if he believes farmers are being neglected.

"As long as we keep having Butz coming into Iowa, we don't care if the President comes in during the campaign," one GOP official said after Butz' fourth trip to the state in six months.

Farmers are somewhat baffled, however, by recent McGovern-Butz exchanges about possible Agriculture Department "leaks" to big grain conglomerates before the Russian grain deal.

Neither of the state's two major farm organizations—the Farm Bureau and the National Farmers Organization—has taken a stand on the presidential election.

J. Merrill Anderson, president of the Farm Bureau, said he believes the export situation and foreign grain sales are key factors in the rural vote. NFO President Oren Lee Staley said the farmers are "pretty unsettled in their thinking" and are waiting for the issues to be more specifically defined.

Complaint dismissed on drink

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Federal Trade Commission hearing judge has dismissed a complaint that the Coca-Cola Co., and its advertising agency made false claims about the nutritive value of Hi-C fruit drink. It was announced today.

William K. Jackson, an FTC administrative law judge, ruled that the commission counsel failed to prove that Coca-Cola and Marschall Co. "misrepresented the nature, content and nutritive value" of Hi-C.

FTC counsel contended that the claim Hi-C is "high in Vitamin C" is false because it falsely compares Hi-C to orange juice as a source of Vitamin C.

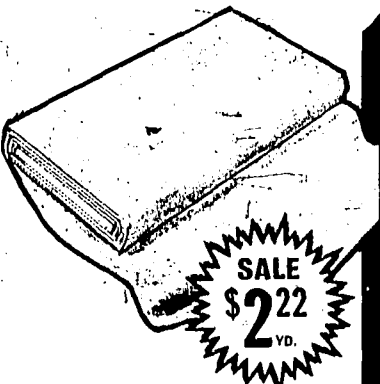

Jackson, in rejecting the contention, found that the claim represents "that, as a source of Vitamin C, Hi-C is high in that nutrient in relation to the normal nutritional needs of human beings."

Miners' children fund grows

WALLACE, Idaho (UPI)—The education fund for the children of the 91 miners killed May 2 in the fire at the Sunshine Mine stood at over $110,000 today after a $5,000 donation from Potlatch Forests Inc., Lewiston.

H. F. Magnuson, a trustee of the fund, said the donation was made Wednesday by John M. Richards, western division wood products vice president for PFI, on behalf of employees of the firm.

Magnuson said the fund was started to help provide an education for the nearly 200 children of the miners killed in the worst disaster in Idaho history.

Old ways remain best, US senate firmly believes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In the Senate, change comes slowly. And never more slowly than when it comes time to allocate federal money to the states. Never mind that the country has changed, that times are no longer the same. As far as the Senate is concerned, the old ways are the good ways.

There are three recent examples — revenue sharing, federal aid to highways, and vocational rehabilitation. In passing the revenue sharing bill, the House devised a formula to give large, urban states an edge when the pot is split. Not so the Senate. The Finance Committee, dominated by senators from small and rural states, came up with a different formula, one which shifted the balance away from the industrialized big states. And, showing once more that in the Senate the small and rural states still reign, the formula was kept in the bill despite fruitless assaults from the beleaguered large states. Similarly, when the federal aid to highways program came to the Senate, the big states met stiff resistance when they tried to allocate highway money for mass transit systems in the cities. With the help of the administration, the Senate adopted an amendment to allow states to use money set aside for urban work for mass transit.

But all attempts to dip into funds for the primary and secondary highways — to say nothing of the seemingly inviolate interstate system — were turned back. Which would leave the states, of course, with lovely highways leading to the cities and transportation chaos within. And when the Senate came to dividing the spoils for vocational rehabilitation, it reverted to the program ever exceeded $700 million a year — large states gives an out-of-line share to the small, rural states. Under this formula: For than it now receives. Instance, 17 states get more than double what California gets in per capita grants in Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., apied fiscal 1973. The Labor Committee had developed a new formula under which — If appropriations for D-W.Va., to strike the formula from his own subcommittee's bill. Randolph weakly explained, "There are so many strengths written into the bill that we do not want to have it flounder on the shoals of a fight over a formula that has been established through the years." The chances are that if Randolph had not offered to strike the new formula, the Senate would have voted to do it for him. It all comes down to the explanation of Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., who said "everybody begins to tote up how many states profit and how many states lose."

Ranch divided in parcels

KETCHUM — Indian Creek Ranch near Sun Valley, has been sold for development as ranchettes. Don McCanlies, vice president of Resort Realty, Inc., announced the ranch sale today. The 25,000-acre property was purchased by John Knoppes and John Urban, Ketchum, and is now being developed into five acre or larger divisions. McCanlies said that more than 25 parcels have been sold in the past few weeks. Resort Realty, representing both buyer and seller of the ranch property, will offer the land at offices in Boise, Ketchum-Sun Valley, Halley, McCall, Lewiston and Kootenai-Three Rivers.

Ludlow discusses grain

KETCHUM — Grain sales to Russia and Red China were called a "very cynical deal" by Congressional candidate Willis Ludlow, Pocatello. The Democrat, campaigning in the Ketchum area, said Nixon "made deals with the Communist dictators at the expense of the American farmers and consumers" in order to "buy Russian and Chinese help to get by in the election." Ludlow said the indication of this fact was the $200 million subsidy paid grain dealers as the difference between world market and domestic prices. The candidate said his opponent incumbent Orval Hansen is "quiet" on the issue. "There is no one from Idaho speaking on behalf of honesty and the people," Ludlow said. Hansen's silence, Ludlow said, "proved absolutely again" that Hansen is "for the rich corporate interests that control our country." — which is reflected, Ludlow said, in Hansen's support of the value added tax. The Pocatello Democrat said that he has challenged the incumbent to debates in Twin Falls, Pocatello, Idaho Falls and Boise. However, Ludlow said after an early response, setting a debate in for Oct. 24 at ISU, that he has not received any reply from Hansen's office. Ludlow said the ISU debate would be more to his advantage because of his involvement in the campus scene. The farmer and ordinary citizen should be given an opportunity to witness the debates, Ludlow said. "After four years Hansen should have some answers," Ludlow said. And he called the ISU date as "not soon enough to affect the election."
