

10 key agencies lend a hand for TF

United Fund drive starts, goals high

TWIN FALLS — The 1973 United Fund drive began today.

The goal: Tens of Thousands of persons willing to dig deeper into their pockets this year to help out their community.

The goal: Hundreds of hard-working volunteers who take on the often difficult task of asking their neighbors to lend a hand.

The goal: A big increase in total giving to bring in about $114,000 badly needed.

The goal: To put money where it is badly needed to help out countless people served by programs of key charitable agencies.

The goal: A better community for everyone. This year's ambitious campaign received its kickoff today as hundreds of workers and supporters of the United Fund program gathered at the Turf Club.

According to United Fund Vice President James Sinclair, the 1973 drive will not last long. He said the hope is to complete the campaign within two weeks — a far shorter period than required in earlier years.

The 1973 drive provides the major support for a number of community programs that touch the lives of most area residents.

If the goal is met in the campaign, according to Sinclair, the following contributions will be made to agencies:

If the goal is not met, less money than needed will be available and the programs will have to be cut back accordingly.

Recipient agencies planned allocations, with last year's actual allocations in parentheses are:

— Young Women's Christian Association: $11,008 ($4,100).

— Young Men's Christian Association: $8,764 ($8,100).

— Twin Falls Community Mental Health Association: $2,000 ($810).

— Camp Fire Girls: $7,500 ($6,399).

— Arthritis Foundation: $1,320 ($932).

— Salvation Army: $18,156 ($12,028).

— Boy Scouts: $37,056 ($21,060).

— Red Cross: $16,485 ($11,745).

— U. S. O.: $850 ($810).

— Silver Sage Girl Scouts: $500 ($300).

The total going to all agencies would be $103,639, compared to $70,284 last year. United Fund expenses would total $10,000, compared to $8,991 last year.

Contributions going directly to recipient agencies would be 91 per cent of this year's goal collections, compared with 88.7 per cent last year.

Donors will be besieged with slogans this year. The national slogans include "Thanks to you, it's working" and "If you don't do it, it won't get done."

In addition, the Twin Falls campaign has added several of its own, including "25 per cent in 1972" and "Dig In."

YM-YWCA

YOUTH AND ADULTS alike are served by the Twin Falls YMCA and YWCA through programs classes and activities to develop social, mental, physical and spiritual well-being. Among them are volleyball, basketball, Y-Teen clubs, Y Indian Guides, Y Indian Maidens, day camping, and archery. The organizations need $19,772 for their 1973 budget. Membership in both organizations is voluntary.

Over 300 volunteer in TF drive

Two 'page ones'

Today's Times-News has two "front pages." The first page presents the story of the United Fund Drive which opened today. The usual page one is located on page 3.

The United Fund is seeking about $114,000 for 10 community organizations. It merits your support. Please give.

Red Cross-USO

SINCE 1941, the United Service Organization has gone wherever American servicemen have, with entertainment and other "home away from home" services. The American Red Cross provides disaster services, special help for servicemen, home nursing, water safety training, and the blood bank among its various forms of help. The USO is seeking $850 and the Red Cross $16,485. The blood bank also provides over 3,000 pints of blood for local use.

TWIN FALLS — Just five years ago there were about 100 people who solicited funds for the United Fund.

This year there are already more than three times that many signed up, and the drive has just begun. More are expected to volunteer as the drive progresses.

According to United Fund officials, the hard work put in by the volunteers is the key to reaching this year's total of about $114,000.

That figure of 308 workers supplied by United Fund Personnel and Organization Chairman Karen Rosholt does not include the many other workers who are involved in the various committees and board of the fund-raising organization.

According to Jack Muldoon, who is in charge of the reporting meetings that will be held on Fridays beginning next week, "We have a turnout of workers in Twin Falls we think is above average for cities this size across the country."

Muldoon said the workers not only solicit donations from city businesses, but their enthusiasm usually affects their families, friends and neighbors.

According to Muldoon, civic organizations were asked to solicit volunteers to work in the campaign.

A large number of the organizations asked did supply workers, he said.

Organizations that supplied volunteer workers include:

Civitan Club, Exchange Club, Junior Club, Kiwanis Club, Lions Club, 20th Century Club, Newcomers Club, as well as representatives of all agencies who receive United Fund support.

Each of the volunteer workers will be asked to contact five firms to solicit support from employees.

According to Muldoon, "The campaign is not door-to-door, but business-to-business."

"Through the business we get the wage earners," he said.

Muldoon termed the workers a "combined force of people in Twin Falls who see the problems before they arise and go out to do something about them."

'72 drive chairman airs appeal for UF support

To the Citizens of Twin Falls

My Dear Fellow Citizens:

As our 1973 United Fund drive gets under way I think it appropriate, as campaign chairman, to direct your attention to the hundreds of hours of time and talent, which are donated annually by the local businesses, clubs and residents in our community to help ensure the financial needs of the ten public service agencies supported by the Twin Falls United Fund.

We make a living by what we get, but we make a life by what we give; therefore, our community is tested when it becomes involved in a fund drive.

During the four weeks, in which the campaign will run, United Fund officials hope to collect $113,956.00 to be distributed among the ten public service agencies in our community.

This campaign is a way to practice Americanism in a fashion established by our forefathers. It allows us the independence and dignity we all hope and pray for.

Let us all dig in to show our love and support for our community and our fellowman.

Thanks to you it's working.

Salvation Army

HOMELESS MEN, destitute travelers and needy children often find the Salvation Army is the only place they can turn for help. During the past year, 6,432 meals were provided, lodging was given 2,455 persons, and 231 others were aided at Christmas by the Twin Falls corps. To continue its work, the Salvation Army needs $18,156.

Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls

GIRL SCOUTING is dedicated to helping build character and develop ideals of service and citizenship in tomorrow's women. Girl Scouts also assist with many community agencies and projects. Citizenship and participation in character building programs are also principal aims of the Camp Fire Girls units and their leaders. The Silver Sage Council, Girl Scouts, need $500 support and the Camp Fire Girls require $7,500.

Boy Scouts

SERVING more than 2,700 boys and adults in Twin Falls is the Snake River Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, in Twin Falls. The time-proven program of character development, citizenship training, and physical and mental fitness have a major impact on the lives of hundreds of young men. This agency needs $37,056 in support through United Fund contributions.

Mental Health, Arthritis

"ACTION, NOT SPATY" is the slogan of the Arthritis Foundation, which provides arthritis victims with medical and rehabilitative help. The same words also apply to the Mental Health Association, which is planning expanded activities to promote mental health and prevent mental illness. The Arthritis Foundation requires $1,320 and the Mental Health Association needs require $2,000 in supporting funds.

US fighter jets brave heavy fire

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. jets Sunday flew through "more antiaircraft fire than I've ever seen before," one Navy pilot was quoted as saying today, but escaped unscathed in a bombing run on a shipyard in the major North Vietnamese port city of Haiphong.

The fighter-bombers also braved heavy missile fire to carry out the attack, the U.S. 7th Fleet said.

U.S. B52 bombers Sunday and today hit provinces around Saigon to blunt Communist harassment officers believe may be a prelude to an attack on the capital later this month, the U.S. command said. One of the strikes hit a long-time Communist infiltration route only 29 miles from Saigon.

The command said a U.S. Air Force F105 jet was shot down Friday 43 miles west of Hanoi and that both crewmen are missing. The F105 went down in the same general area bombed the previous day by swing-wing F111 jets in their first Indochina mission in four years.

North Vietnam announced it shot down one of the F111's, although the U.S. command as usual had no comment. However, the downing of the F105 the following day raised speculation that it was on a search-and-rescue mission for a downed plane. F105's carry missiles, not bombs, and are used exclusively as escorts.

An explosion Sunday aboard the heavy cruiser Newport News killed 19 sailors and injured at least 10 in one of the worst accidents of the war. The ship was headed for the Philippines today for repairs. The blast, which knocked out a turret holding three of the cruiser's nine eight-inch guns, forced the ship from its battle station in the Tonkin Gulf. It was the worst naval accident since fire swept the aircraft carrier Forrestal in July, 1967, killing 134 crewmen.

The Navy said pilots bombed the Chap Khe Barracks and supply storage area 11 miles northeast of Haiphong. "There was more 85mm (antiaircraft) fire than I've ever seen before," Lt. J. G. Ben Thompson of Joplin, Mo., was quoted as saying. "As I looked back at the target area from my run it was covered with smoke."

Air Force F4 Phantom fighter-bombers based in Thailand also reported destroying two supply trains on the northeast rail line 53 miles northeast of Hanoi and about 30 miles south of the China border.

The guided missile light cruiser U.S.S. Oklahoma City, flagship of the 7th Fleet, returned to the gunline over the weekend just as the Newport News left for Subic Bay in the Philippines, the U.S. command said.

In the ground war in South Vietnam, Communist forces shelled the Ranger base at Ba To, 285 miles north of Saigon, today and a ground battle followed. Sources said 27 North Vietnamese were killed at a cost of two South Vietnamese killed and three wounded.

UPI Reporter Edward Bassett said the district chief repeatedly radioed "You take care of our air support and resupply and we'll hold out as long as you want." The district chief was fatally injured a few minutes later by shellfire.

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. troop strength in South Vietnam dipped to 35,900 last week with the withdrawal of 200 soldiers from the war zone, the U.S. command said today.

Military sources said another 108,000 American servicemen were participating directly in the war from U.S. warships and bases in Thailand and Guam.

The number of Americans based in Vietnam was the lowest since March, 1965, when there were 26,100 servicemen in the war zone, spokesmen said.

As of Sept. 28, the command said today, there were 21,700 soldiers, 10,800 Air Force men, 2,000 Navy personnel, 1,300 Marines and 100 members of the U.S. Coast Guard stationed in South Vietnam.

Another 38,000 sailors and fliers based on warships of the 7th Fleet in the South China Sea and Gulf of Tonkin, 49,000 airmen in Thailand and about 20,000 Air Force men in Guam also are directly involved in the Indochina war.

There are no official limitations on the number of Americans participating in the Vietnam war. However, President Nixon has ordered the number of Americans based in South Vietnam to fall below 27,000 by Dec. 1.

Military spokesmen said that the number of "Free World" forces in South Vietnam last week, most of them South Koreans, was 39,700, a rise of 1,200 from the previous week.

Proposals rejected

SAIGON (UPI) — President Nguyen Van Thieu today rejected Communist proposals for a coalition government in his country and predicted the war will "fade away" after another North Vietnamese offensive that could come this year.

"The Republic of (South) Vietnam has an elected government. It is the sole body which has the right to solve the war," he said in a state-of-the-country message to a Congress he has rendered powerless.

2 die in Gooding

GOODING — Two Magic Valley residents were killed and a Kimberly couple hospitalized following two accidents Sunday in Gooding County. Gooding county sheriff's officers identified the dead as Wanda June Presnell, 33, Kimberly, and Breece Spencer, 97, Gooding.

Mrs. Presnell was killed at 10:30 a.m. Sunday when she was struck by a potato truck while attempting to open a gate on the Joseph Hulst farm in the West Point area of Gooding County.

Officers said Mrs. Presnell was driving the truck for her brother-in-law, Dwight Perkins. Perkins' daughter, Becky, 11, was in the vehicle with Mrs. Presnell. Becky tried to open the gate but was unable to, so Mrs. Presnell went to open the gate herself. The truck was out of gear and began to roll, striking Mrs. Presnell, officers said.

The child went to the Hulst home for help. Mrs. Hulst called the sheriff's office.

Sheriff's officers said the Presnell death would not be added to the Gem State traffic toll since the mishap occurred on private property.

Spencer was killed about 12:30 p.m. four miles south of Gooding on State Highway 48. Spencer was driving towards Wendell when he tried to pass a church school bus driven by Rev. Theron Piper, Gooding.

According to Gooding County officers, the first vehicle coming in the left lane driving toward Gooding was driven by Douglas Mark Miller, 16, Jerome. Miller told officers he could see the accident coming and drove into the borrow pit to avoid being struck by the Spencer vehicle. The car following Miller, driven by Melvin H. Switzer, 61, Kimberly, was struck head-on by the Spencer vehicle.

Switzer and his wife, Margaret, were listed in fair condition today in Magic Valley Memorial Hospital.

Senate ready to pick welfare reform course

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The stage was set today for a critical Senate decision on what direction—if any—welfare reform will head this year.

At stake was more than two years' study, thousands of hours of work, hundreds of pages of legislation and the election-year hopes of the administration to overhaul the nation's confusing quagmire of public assistance programs.

It all could boil down to just one vote—an amendment by Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr., D-Va., to scrap rival multibillion dollar approaches to welfare reform devised in the House and Senate in favor of small two-year pilot projects to test them before Congress makes up its mind which way to turn.

Byrd proposed the stopgap compromise Saturday, apparently in hopes of averting an all-out floor battle over rival approaches and reportedly with the strong backing of the welfare bill's floor manager, Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La.

Consideration of it was postponed until today. It was unclear whether a vote would come quickly or if proponents of full-blown reform, such as Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., would shut compromise and carry the fight to the finish. But Ribicoff, realizing none of the competing proposals could command a Senate majority, was believed leaning to the test idea.

The bill is a complex one containing omnibus Social Security and Medicare revisions in its 989-page text as well as the highly controversial welfare reform section. Yet it is welfare reform that has been the biggest stumbling block to passage.

The three major rival proposals include:

—The so-called Family Assistance Plan, FAP, pushed by the Nixon administration and twice voted by the House that would guarantee $2,400 a year to a family of four whether it now is living on welfare or sub-poverty wages.

Disease war fund bill OK'd

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon today signed a $107 million a year authorization to combat communicable diseases, including $2.5 million annually for new programs to check a national epidemic of venereal disease.

The second part of the act increases from $90 million to $111.5 million the authorization for birth control services.

The act extends for three years the government's program of grants to state and local governments for communicable diseases other than venereal disease and authorizes a new VD program of research, training projects and control projects.

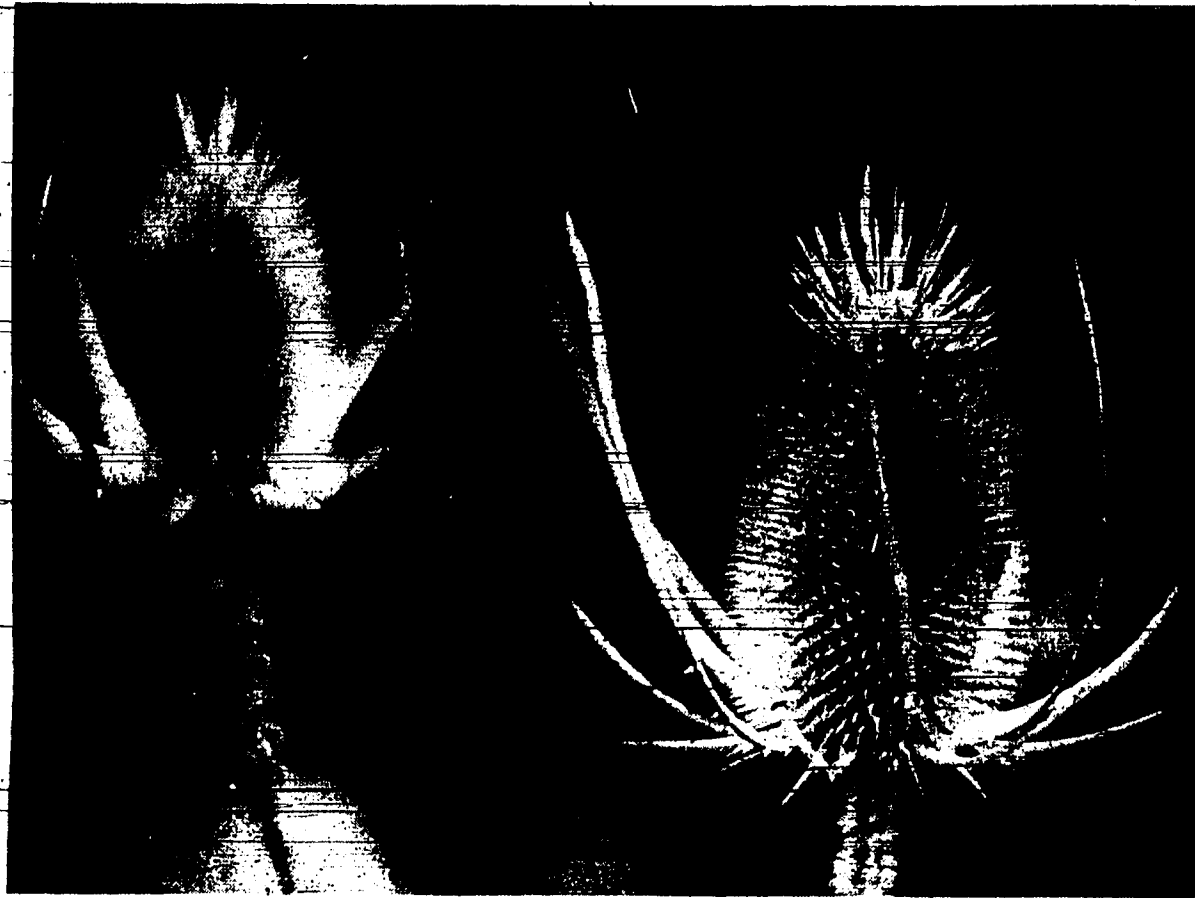

Under the new authority, states will be required to devise their own VD plans to qualify for federal funds.

Long pilot strike ends

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—Northwest Airlines and its 1,619 striking pilots reached agreement today on a new contract, bringing an end to a 95-day-old strike which idled air service in much of the Midwest and Northwest.

The company, seventh largest among the nation's trunk air carriers, said it will be five to seven days before full service is restored.

The Air Line Pilots Association said pilot instructors would return to work later today, with 1,425 pilots called back by Thursday.

Tough questions facing US court

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Facing tough questions involving abortion and freedom of speech, the Supreme Court opened its 1972-73 term today in a four-minute ceremony.

"I have the honor to announce that the October, 1972, term of the Supreme Court is now convened," Chief Justice Warren E. Burger said.

After admission of eight attorneys to practice before the court, the nine justices adjourned to their private conference room where they will consider a backlog of several hundred appeals that have accumulated during the summer. The 1971-72 term ended June 29.

As assistant marshal, Robert R. Wilkins, intoned the traditional "oyez, oyez," the justices entered a refurbished chamber with new lighting and a freshly painting multicolored ceiling. For the first time, the four court pages included a girl, Deborah Gelin, 14, of Rockville, Md.

About four days will be consumed in deciding which of the hundreds of appeals to accept for argument and decision and which to reject.

On Oct. 10, the results will be announced in a thick sheaf of orders. Written opinions are not likely to be forthcoming until November, at the earliest.

Last term, President Nixon's appointees—Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justice Harry A. Blackman, Lewis F. Powell Jr. and William H. Rehnquist succeeded in numerous individual liberties cases in overriding what is left of the "liberal bloc" created in the tenure of former Chief Justice Earl Warren.

If this quartet wins Justice Byron R. White's vote, as it did last term to form a majority, the trend will resume when the flow of opinions begins again.

The "liberals" are Justice William O. Douglas, William J. Brennan Jr. and Thurgood Marshall. Justice Potter Stewart's vote is hard to predict.

Obscenity and abortion cases were heard last term but were carried over for reargument when the justices could not agree on how to handle them.

Although obscenity cases with differing issues arrive almost daily, the court's main problem is whether states should use their own standards or whether the Constitution requires a national yardstick.

Ehrlichman said a federal tax boost would not be required to redeem Nixon's pledge of property tax relief.

Nixon says US ready for troop cut talks

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon met today with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and American sources said the United States was ready to start preliminary negotiations with the Soviet Union on troop reductions in Europe.

Nixon and Gromyko sat side by side on gold colored chairs in the President's oval office. They will get together again tonight, probably for longer discussions, at a working dinner the President is giving for Gromyko at his Camp David retreat. Sitting in on the White House session were Secretary of State William P. Rogers, Nixon's national security adviser Henry A. Kissinger and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin. Newsmen were admitted for only the first minute or so of the session and heard Nixon and Gromyko exchange comments about the effectiveness of the United Nations.

"There is always work to do in the U.N. organization," Gromyko said through an interpreter. "It is not always productive but there is always work to be done."

"I agree with both sentences," Nixon responded. Gromyko spoke at the United Nations last week. So did Rogers. Rogers told Nixon, "He gave a good speech."

Gromyko responded, "We closely followed with interest the speech of the secretary of state. It was an interesting speech."

Nixon observed, "That's diplomatic language." Gromyko replied, "It's saying a great deal."

Nader's latest report ought to make interesting reading—especially before election day.

Demo says US trying to discredit newsmen

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Democratic presidential nominee George S. McGovern charged today the Nixon administration had launched a deliberate and sustained campaign to discredit newspapers and broadcasters and was seeking to replace the press corps "with a cheering section."

He told the opening session of the annual UPI Editors and Publishers Conference that "this administration has tried to bully the press into docile submission."

"It has launched a deliberate, sustained campaign to discredit newspapers and broadcasters," McGovern said. "It has misused federal law enforcement officers to investigate the personal lives of reporters."

"And for the first time in our history, we have seen the government attempt to prevent—and then to punish—the publication of critical facts—not because it harmed the country but because it embarrassed the government."

He referred to the administration's attempt to prevent publication of the Pentagon Papers in legal moves that went all the way to the Supreme Court.

"This administration seeks to replace a press corps with a cheering section—with a propaganda machine that is in league with the government, to be used by the government, to tell the people what the government wants them to hear," McGovern charged in his hard-hitting speech to the editors and publishers.

He said President Nixon has corrupted the political process to turn the national election into a guessing game, where the people are asked to elect a President without knowing what he would do if he won.

"It is the responsibility of the candidates to point the way, each according to his own vision," he said.

"And if a candidate fails this responsibility—if he offers no vision and no plans—and if he runs the most powerful office in America by running away from the issues—then the success or failure of the system depends on the press."

"The work of the press is harder when it is most important."

"When a candidate issues press releases but holds no press conferences," McGovern said, "it is up to the reporters to inform the country that he is hiding. When a candidate tells lies to a handpicked crowd, it is up to reporters to tell the country the truth."

No new taxes due, budget chief says

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon "does not plan to propose any new taxes next year," Budget Director Caspar W. Weinberger said today. Asked if this included a value-added tax, Weinberger nodded in the affirmative and said, "That's my understanding."

The value-added tax is a levy placed on a product at each stage of development. Administration officials previously have said it was under consideration as a possible replacement for some local property taxes.

Opponents of the value-added tax say it is nothing more than a national sales tax, which Democratic presidential nominee George S. McGovern has said Nixon will propose next year. "The President does not plan to propose any new taxes next year," Weinberger said.

Weinberger and John D. Ehrlichman, Nixon's top domestic aide, met with reporters following an hour-long Nixon meeting with nine House Republican leaders. The House is scheduled to vote this week on the administration's request for a $250 billion ceiling on government spending this fiscal year.

Ehrlichman said the spending limit was "insurance against a tax increase," and that the administration would reject the demands of Democrats for advance information on the cuts that would be made.

Congress study ready

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Ralph Nader, who has investigated everything from dirty meat to defective cars, this week unveils the first results of the biggest raid of his career—a report on the U.S. Congress.

Working with a team of 1,000 "Nader raiders" the consumer advocate has put together a massive report on Congress ranging from where individual members get their political contributions to how much time they spend on the job.

"Nader is crazy to do this—every congressman he criticizes becomes an enemy," one lawmaker claimed. Others like Sen. Charles Percy, D-Ill., and Thomas Eagleton, D-Mo., were enthusiastic about the probe.

Known officially as "The Ralph Nader Congress Project," the investigation is costing Nader $200,000 which he raised through the lecture circuit and article writing.

On Tuesday, he will release a 225-page paperback book "Who Runs Congress?" Within two weeks, the book will be followed by "profiles" on every member of the House and Senate. Between then and January, Nader will release:

—Studies on all of the key committees on Congress.

—A series of separate studies on how Congress works and how it could be reformed.

—A 250-page paperback entitled "You and Your Congress."

A Citizens' Handbook.

A 250-page "Handbook for Members" designed to help newly-elected congressmen on how Congress works. Nader says all but about 35 members were interviewed personally. Each was allowed to check the final profile, but only "for factual errors."

Some of the lawmakers are less than happy about the Nader project. One particular target of criticism was a 96-page questionnaire Nader's staff asked each congressman to fill out.

"I can't give that kind of time to Nader," is the way one lawmaker put it. Harry Goldwater, D-Ariz., James Buckley, R-N.Y., and Robert Griffin, R-

Mich., took tougher stands. They refused to cooperate with any of Nader's raiders.

Rep. Jack Edwards, R-Ala., claimed Nader's investigators barred him from an advance look at his profile on the grounds he did not "cooperate." But Edwards claimed he did allow an interview with himself and his staff, but rejected the questionnaire.

Rep. William J. Scherle, R-Iowa, termed the Nader investigation "a red herring." According to Scherle, "it has all the earmarks of a grandiose affair typical of the headline-grabbing mania that afflicts Nader...the public should be aware that this witch hunt will yield only a villainous ax job" on Congress.

More Low Blows

Portland-Oregonian

In accusing President Nixon of sanctioning a flow of heroin from Laos, Thailand and South Vietnam because the Administration "needs air bases in Thailand, Lao mercenaries and Vietnamese soldiers to fight its war," Sen. George McGovern has struck another blow from the gutter in his notably low-road presidential campaign.

Laos and Thailand have been a prime source of supply for the heroin trade for a century. There is no doubt that some American troops in South Vietnam became addicted, as did some of their ages at home. Heroin of high grade is available almost openly in Vietnam. Early reports, however, exaggerated the rate of addiction of U.S. soldiers. With only a comparative handful of volunteer soldiers left in South Vietnam, the problem is not severe.

The Nixon Administration, through the State and Justice departments, has conducted a vigorous campaign to cut off not only the shipment of heroin and other drugs to this country but to limit the world sources of supply. The agreement with Turkey has drastically reduced opium production in that country. Key arrests and seizures in France, which for many years had laxly harbored the heroin manufacturers and dealers, and agreements involving a total of 50 nations have reduced the world trade.

As President Nixon pointed out at a State Department conference on the international drug traffic

Monday, partly in response to McGovern's charges Sunday, higher prices for heroin in the eastern seaboard underground market reflect diminished supply.

From time to time, newspaper reports point the finger at President Nguyen Van Thien and his South Vietnamese official family as dealers and profiteers in heroin. If that is true, no clear evidence has been produced, nor is likely to be found. President Nixon said, however, that he has sent a personal message to U.S. diplomats overseas to make it known that, "Any government whose leaders participate in or protect the activities of those who contribute to our drug problem should know that the President of the United States is required by statute to suspend all American economic and military assistance to such a regime. I shall not hesitate to comply fully and promptly with that statute."

Sen. McGovern cheapens his campaign by making wild charges and planting innuendos without verified facts. He has added politics to the pollution of permissiveness, pot and pornography in this far from elevated era of American life. He also denounces President Nixon's appointment to the U.S. Supreme Court of lawyers and judges less inclined than some in the past to torture the Constitution to end all restraints, no matter how revolting to the great majority of Americans. He cannot have it both ways.

Up And Away

Idaho State Journal

More than 400 former stewardesses, some in their 40s, have returned to the air as mothers. The stewardesses, who had been fired as far back as 1965 for becoming pregnant, are flying again because of a court-approved settlement of a suit brought by their union against Trans World Airlines and American Airlines.

The Air Line Stewards and Stewardesses Association argued the firings were discriminatory, in violation of 1965 Equal Employment Opportunity Commission guidelines.

The gals say being a stewardess is better the second time around. One mother of two says that, at 37, she has matured with responsibilities of being a wife and mother. She feels more level headed and capable of dealing with people.

Not reported is the reaction of passengers, but we suspect that is more favorable than the airlines expected. Stewardesses have always been glamorous (in addition to hard working), and there is something about a beautiful girl ministering to one's wants aboard an airliner that piques the traveling man's imagination. But the older women are indeed likely to be more capable, and may make the best impression with the bulk of passengers.

And think of their morale. It must be great to know you're not washed up at 37. And are able to pull down salaries ranging from $800 to $1,000 a month for 72 hours work.

History Footnote

St. Louis Democrat

A man Harry Truman defeated for the Democratic nomination for United States senator in Missouri in 1940 by a mere 8,000 votes died the other day.

Had he been nominated and elected instead of Truman, the political history of the country since World War II might have been different.

Truman, of course, would not have been elected vice president in 1944 and would not have had a shot at the presidency.

The man he defeated in 1940? Gov. Lloyd C. Stark.

WASHINGTON — There have been no noticeable songs produced by the unpleasantness in Vietnam. This is understandable, since Vietnam seems to be the kind of place it's hard to sing about, even in four-letter words. It is also the nation's most unpopular war, and I expect everybody has been too mad and miserable to put its ugliness to after-hours music.

But in a way it's regrettable, because even a war as mean and squalid as this one should have its own songs so its veterans at least would have something to sing after a few beers in the kitchen of a peacetime evening. In a less soul-searching time, when one part of a war was a Big Adventure, there was a nostalgic poignance in remembering the ditties born of combat, but Vietnam is unlikely to be the subject of many pleasurable reminiscences. Its bitter taste seems quite unalloyed.

Thus, something will be missing in the postwar era. There will be nothing with which to annoy the neighbors comparable to World War II's "Bless Them All." This was a British mixture, half bawdy and half wistful, which the Americans took over for their own, mostly to test their imaginations in the double entendre department.

"Bless Them All" sang about "many a troopship" leaving Bombay with "time-expired men." As music, it was notable chiefly for its robust quality, but there also was a sadness about it that got to you. It got to them so hard in a little club in London

I know that the piano player, a squat Cockney named Arthur, kept score on a blackboard of the patrons who surrendered to tears.

It does 'em good to cry, it does. Arthur used to say, "Brings 'em closer together." It also brought Arthur closer to his audience — the drinks sent up to his piano always flowed more swiftly as the blubbing gained momentum.

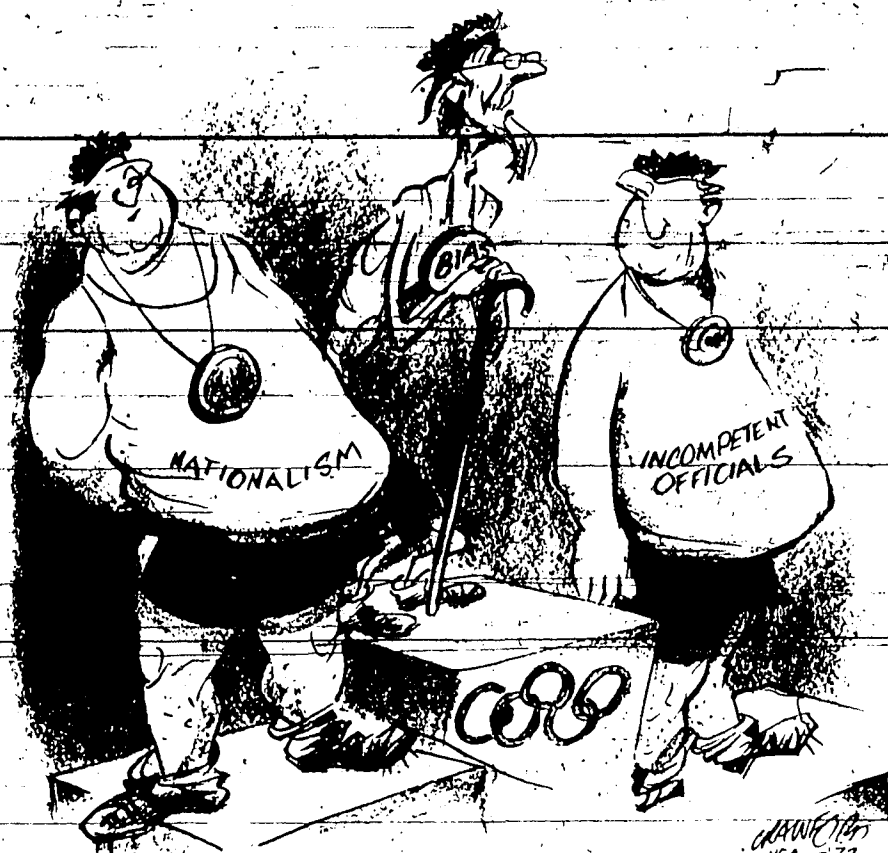

Under duress, Arthur also included the song, "Roll Me Over," in his repertoire. It was a reluctant sop to his audience. Arthur didn't approve of that song. He said it was vulgar. It was.

Mostly, though, both Arthur and his listeners were alternately happy or weepy as he rattled his way through such melodies as "When Flossie Found Her First Gray Hair" (she "murmured in despair"), and Gracie Fields' sad little tale of parting, "Now Is the Hour. Another favorite was "You Only Want It 'Cause You Haven't Got It," a number first-timers at the Stirrup Club heard under false pretensions, as it were. They thought it was dirty. Instead it concerned a conjurer who one evening "sawed a lady quite in half," then scolded her for demanding that she be reunited. The uniformed lechers had to be content with the last line, "Even when you had it, the boys all tried to pinch it, so you're better off without it anyway."

There was also the case of the song that perhaps should have been sung, yet somehow never was: I employed no corps of researchers, but personally I never heard anybody — even a 21-year-old Air Corps colonel — even humming the strains of "Wild Blue Yonder." Too inspirational, I suspect.

Gold! Silver! and Bronze!

ROWLAND EVANS & ROBERT NOVAK

It's The End?

WASHINGTON — Seconds after President Nixon told 28 prominent Jewish leaders in New York that "under no circumstances" would he ever "impose" a Middle East settlement on Israel, one of those present whispered: "That's the end of the Rogers Plan."

Indeed, these leaders of the American Jewish community, one-third of them Democrats or independents now backing Mr. Nixon's reelection, were left ecstatic by the President's 45-minute pledge to defend Israel's interests in the never-ending Middle East crisis.

These politically potent Jews, led by Mr. Nixon's close friend and fund-raiser Max Fisher of Detroit and including national religious, civic and financial leaders, came away from the Waldorf Towers meeting convinced of one thing: the potentially massive switch of Jewish support from Sen. George McGovern to the President was proceeding hand in hand with a new, far more pro-Israeli American policy on the Middle East.

Hence the demise of the Rogers Plan, named for Secretary of State William P. Rogers. The Rogers Plan precisely defined limits set by the U.S. to which Israel was supposed to withdraw from territories conquered in the 1967 six-day war. In Israel, that plan has been consistently damned.

Rogers, architect and principal advocate of the 1969 U.S.-backed withdrawal plan, has evidenced strong withdrawal symptoms himself. Thus, when Israeli foreign minister Abba Eban discussed the Middle East with him here last week, Rogers never once raised the question of Israel's massive post-Munich reprisals against guerrilla camps in Lebanon, even though Lebanon claims that 60 Lebanese civilians were killed in the Sept. 16 raid.

The Jewish leaders who attended the session with the President, moreover, seemed convinced that the pro-Israeli policy change is for keeps as long as Mr. Nixon remains President and that the Rogers Plan will never be revived.

That does not mean Mr. Nixon is turning a completely deaf ear to appeals from Lebanon and other Arab countries which have felt the reprisal lash of Israel's powerful American-supplied air force. He is dealing with these appeals but he is doing so secretly and directly with Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir herself.

Publicly, he has said nothing to indicate American concern at Israel's use of American-built aircraft to strike at guerrilla camps deep in Arab territory. To the contrary, he promised the Jewish leaders a pipeline of "continuing" air and other military aid to maintain Israel's overall position of strength against the Arab states.

He told his applauding audience at the Waldorf that he had asked Mrs. Meir to "trust me." Her reply, he said with a smile, was, "I'll trust you, but I'll watch you, too."

The only serious exchange at the Waldorf talks came when Rabbi Herschel Schacter, a Democrat and chairman of the American Conference on Soviet Jewry, made an emotional and eloquent appeal for Presidential help on the inflammatory issue of large emigration fees for Soviet Jews trying to get out of Russia.

Mr. Nixon replied that any "harsh confrontation" with the Kremlin would hurt, not help, in effect repudiating McGovern's demand that Congress refuse to give Moscow trade concessions until the emigration fees are terminated.

RAY CROMLEY

The Border

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Reports out of South and Central America indicate the extraordinarily blunt use Mao Tse-tung's men are making of the economic carrot in their political-diplomatic efforts south of the border.

The scenario is simple: Mao's men whet the appetite of the businessmen in the country they're wooing with talk of major purchases of minerals, coffee, fish or whatever, count on the hopes of profit to induce these businessmen to work on their governments.

The field is ripe. Latins are weary of their strong dependence on the ups and downs of the U.S. market.

In Peru, China has agreed to buy $100 million worth of minerals over the next three years. Peking is taking copper, lead, zinc — but also fish powder and fish oil.

Peking has shown an interest in Mexican sugar, cotton, coffee, wheat, lead, copper, and cacao. El Salvador has hopes of selling coffee. China has agreed to buy sizable amounts of aluminum ore sugar from Guyana and hinted to the Bolivian, the Venezuelan and Brazilian merchants of sizable purchases, if

Peking has given Peru and Chile sizable interest-free 20-year loans ($42 million in one case and $65 million or so in the other) with no need to make any repayments for roughly a decade. Guyana has been given technical assistance.

An analysis shows that Mao aims at building contacts where he can, and that his efforts are not confined to those governments close to China ideologically.

In fact, where it is to China's interest, Mao apparently has been willing to sacrifice the interests of local Latin Communist parties, even pro-Peking sects, and work with groups antagonistic to Communism.

In this sacrifice of ideology to expediency, the Chinese have adopted the Soviet approach which they profess to despise.

But it is to be noted that they have not been overly successful in developing Chinese-oriented underground Communist groups of influence. Though there are pro-Chinese Communist organizations in Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, the Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Mexico and Peru, they are, in almost all cases, extremely small and unimportant. Except in two countries, they are below the Russian parties in size and importance.

The Peking objectives seem clear as of now — to win votes in the United Nations and backing in this chunk of nations in Peking's struggle with the Soviet Union, in her over-all drive for worldwide influence and in her efforts to undermine U.S. prestige and power.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

About Angina

Dear Dr. Thosteson: There are some things about angina pectoris spasms that I don't understand.

When I am indoors I almost never have these spasms unless I am exerting myself to a very high degree. But when I take a walk on a cold, damp, raw and especially windy day, the first 10 or 15 minutes are all right. But then I feel the pain and have to resort to nitroglycerine tablets. How do you explain it?

Will warm or moderately hot weather minimize the effects? Is a change to a warmer climate advisable? Do allergies to dampness and bronchitis aggravate the problem?

Would vitamin E help stimulate blood circulation, or any other means to dilate the cardiac arteries? — A.J.K.

A good deal of your question can be answered by making clear what these angina pectoris spasms are. They are spasms, or cramps, in the heart muscle.

When the heart muscle is overworked, these spasms can occur — the term itself, angina pectoris, means chest pain of that type. The heart muscle spasms are a good deal similar to the cramps that can occur in some other muscle, say in the leg, if it is subjected to too much continued strain.

Let's start with the basic thought that there has been some damage to your heart. The muscle may have been damaged by a heart attack, or there may have been damage to one or more of the heart valves, so the heart has to work harder to pump the same amount of blood.

In a word, your heart can manage pretty well so long as it is not required to do too much work. But when it is required to work harder, and pump more blood, the angina cramps start.

When you are indoors, you don't experience the pain unless you exert yourself "to a very high degree." Understandable, isn't it?

But when you are walking outdoors on a raw, windy day, 15 minutes can cause the pain. Why? Because on a raw day you walk along steadily. That's exercise. That's "work." With a wind, you may be walking into the wind, which takes added effort. Or you may fight the wind if it is at your back. It still takes more energy.

Finally, the temperature itself has an effect. Just keeping your body warm uses up energy, and that means more work for your heart.

Add these factors together, and you have the reason for those anginal pains.

Need you move to a milder climate? You could. But I wouldn't consider it necessary. There are angina patients who experience pain from far less exertion than you do — even from walking a block or so to a parking lot.

In your case, if you know you are going to be walking for a distance that brings on pain, taking a nitroglycerine tablet in advance will help.

Yes, allergies to cold or dampness, and bronchitis add to the total physical burden, so they can do their unwelcome bit.

Vitamin E? Some claim it helps. You can try it if you wish. At least it won't hurt you.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is there any harm in storing foods such as tomatoes or salad dressing containing vinegar in stainless steel bowls? — Mrs. F.J.

No.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Does fever always accompany pneumonia or pleurisy? — D.F.S.

Usually, along with cough and chest pain

Dr. Thosteson: Does the fact that a young man carries ladies' panties around in his car, and boasts about his "collection," suggest an emotional or a sex problem? — Concerned Relative

Sounds like immaturity. He either ought to give the ladies their pants back, or quit pretending that that's how he got his "collection."

Report made on TF County recreation needs

TWIN FALLS — A preliminary draft of a report on recreation resources and needs in Twin Falls County as part of a county wide planning program has been completed.

Paul Ostyn, chairman of the recreation division of the Twin Falls County Resource Planning and Development organization, said his sub-committee have submitted material and information on six different phases of recreation.

The over-all report has been compiled in preliminary form and will be presented to the county commissioners and broader county planning groups.

Inventory studies included fish and wildlife, municipal recreation, winter outdoor sports, summer motorized sports, fair and rodeo and county parks.

The recreation committee is one of 12 studying various phases of county resources. Other committees include water resources, transportation, communication, information, education, pollution control, land use, legal, industry, health and housing.

Following the study of present and available county park sites the committee headed by Don Zuck listed 56 potential sites or sites already developed to some degree. A brief history of each is provided.

Recommendations included completion as soon as possible of the county park on Rock Creek just west of Magic Valley Memorial Hospital; development of a rest area only on U. S. Highway 93 at the Rabbit Springs Camp Grounds; action to restrict boaters from coming into No-Man's-Land Bay on Murtaugh Lake because of heavy use by fishermen; efforts to obtain land on the west side of Snake River at Murtaugh for parking vehicles for fishermen; purchase and development of the Richard Cameron property, and attempts to improve sanitation facilities in the Salmon Reservoir area.

County fair and rodeo committee, headed by Tom Shouse, listed 21 items the fair board and manager are in the process of obtaining or have planned for the future. These include a complete survey and plotting of all electrical and water system installations and moving of several buildings to eliminate congestion.

Other fair needs include better fire protection and new water lines, a sprinkler system for the arena, new roads and entrances, a new announcer's stand, race track, blacktop for the grandstand area, a roof over the grandstand and new corrals and calf chute. Also planned are a horse judging and show area, a bull fighting fence for the rodeo arena and portable bleachers.

Shouse said some work is done each year to accomplish one or two major needs.

An extensive study by the motorized recreation sub-committee, headed by Larry Drexler, called for development of a drag strip and a hill climb area for four-wheel vehicles.

Recommendations also called for developing areas and facilities where cyclists can enjoy riding without conflicting with other interests. Another need studied was the building and flying of model planes. A proposed model flying field has been designated on BLM land and work will be required to clear brush, plant grass, provide water supply, roads and parking area and sanitation facilities.

Winter sports facilities for skiing, snowmobiling and winter play were inventoried in the county. The committee, headed by Bonnie Jones, listed recommendations including completing of the improved road to the Magic Mountain ski area for the benefit of all winter and summer recreation seekers; building additional restroom facilities and expanding parking at the Diamond Jack Snowmobile area, and development of solid waste disposal plans for winter time use.

The recreation group also recommended first aid facilities under jurisdiction of the U. S.

Forest Service be made available for emergency use in case of serious injury to skiers, snowmobilers or those using the sledding and tubing areas.

Studies of municipal recreation facilities in the county, under the chairmanship of Chad Browning, called for formation of a recreation district formed between all cities to take advantage of facilities each has to offer. Pooling of money and resources, the committee felt, could provide a better over-all program.

The committee also said there is a need for more joint city and school planning of recreation and use of joint facilities.

Future plans in Twin Falls city include a sprinkler system for the golf course, further development of Dierke's Lake and the Britt property, a multi-purpose park in the north area of the city and continued upgrading of existing parks. All of these were endorsed by the committee. Browning's sub-committee also said more facilities and trails for bicycle riders are needed in most areas and cities.

Robert Pettygrove prepared the fish and wildlife study and report which included an extensive land study. The subcommittee suggested support of the BLM reservation of land in the new Salmon Falls project for pheasant habitat. The report also called for reserving access to North Cottonwood, McMullen, Basin, Indian Springs and other areas on the south side of the proposed 47 mile canal included in the Salmon Falls project.

Committee members recommended public hearings before any county land is listed for disposal and urged conservation of wildlife be considered as a possible use for such sites.

Another recommendation called for a map showing public lands including Forest Service, Bureau of Public Lands and state lands.

Several areas were listed for foot paths as access to favorite fishing areas. As game recommendations, the committee called for replacement programs of a winter hardy type of sage grouse; retaining the Cassia deer hunt on a permit rather than open hunt basis, and further action to abate pollution of the Snake River and various tributaries and streams in the county. Planting of fish in Dierkes lake was also suggested.

Better boat launching facilities were recommended upstream on the Snake River above Gourley's orchard, the upstream side of Shoshone Falls and Twin Falls, and improved and expanded boat launching and docking facilities at Salmon Dam.

TF County Republicans complete one-day survey

TWIN FALLS — Republicans in Twin Falls County completed a one day "Target '72" registration survey Saturday.

Mrs. James Sinclair, chairman, said about 130 persons walked through the city of Twin Falls and the Kimberly-Hansen area, calling on Republicans and citizens in general. A total of 2,443 contacts had been made according to reports late Saturday. Of those visited, 1,886 reported they were supporting President Nixon for re-election, 375 said they were not, and 757 said they are still undecided.

Mrs. Sinclair said the purpose of the campaign was to see how many Republican party members are registered and to encourage those who are not to register prior to the deadline.

Twin Falls County is one of about 12 in Idaho taking part in the program. It is being conducted nation-wide in selected counties.

Mrs. Sinclair said some of the workers had not yet reported on their surveys and registration programs. While workers, traveling in teams of two went door to door in most areas, some were selective, concentrating on Republicans.

Area chairmen for the project included Mrs. Paul Carl, Mrs. George Coiner, Mrs. William L. Claiborn and Mrs. Wayne Wyatt.

Mrs. Sinclair said the program is a supplemental effort for the precinct work the party conducts. A follow-up will be made in all of the precincts to make certain those not registered do get to the registrars.

About 31 of the county's precincts in Twin Falls, Kimberly and Hansen were worked Saturday. Plans are being made to cover the west-end areas later.

Kick-off held

TWIN FALLS — The nearly 250 United Fund volunteers attending a kick-off luncheon today were treated to a free luncheon.

Fred Frazier, United Fund drive chairman for 1972, said arrangements have been made to provide funds covering the cost of the luncheon.

The Twin Falls United Fund supports 10 community agencies and the volunteers met at noon today in the Turl Club to launch a $113,000 fund campaign for the necessities these organizations face in general operation.

This year the volunteers and team captains and leaders are asking contributors to try and increase their offerings by 25 per cent to help meet the goal and community obligations at an early date.

Idaho Demos take issue with slogan

BOISE (UPI) — The political director of the Idaho McGovern campaign took issue over the slogan with two leading Republicans concerning the Democratic presidential candidate.

Carl Baumgardner said Sunday the Republican Party should withdraw from circulation their brochure, "The Clearest Choice of the Century."

He reiterated a statement he made that it contained "blatant lies about Sen. McGovern." He charged that Idaho Republican campaign Chairman Jack Murphy "only added one lie to another" when Murphy claimed the brochure only quoted McGovern's previous position, and that both Baumgardner and McGovern changed their positions on amnesty.

Baumgardner emphasized that neither he nor McGovern had ever taken the position the Republican brochure states.

In a registered letter to Republican First District congressional candidate Steve Symms, Baumgardner said if Symms continued to make allegedly untrue statements about McGovern's proposed tax reform, the committee would file an unfair campaign practice complaint.

Idaho commission asks for mobile art train

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Commission on Arts and Humanities has asked for a mobile art museum called "Artrain" that would put paintings masters in railroad stations around the state.

However, it may take more money than local and state funds can allocate. There's another problem — railroad tracks don't connect northern Idaho with the south by rail.

Suzanne Taylor, executive director of the commission, said, "We're enthusiastic about the train and we know the state will be, too. But we can't make any confirmations until a fat check, whenever it's from, is in our clutches."

"Artrain" caught the fancy of arts and humanities council members during a meeting of the Federation of Rocky Mountain States last week in Boise.

Mrs. William G. Milliken, wife of the governor of Michigan, introduced it. "Artrain" originated in that state.

Complete with Gauguin, Renoir and Da Vinci, masterpieces, the train traveled from town to town throughout the state, giving small isolated communities a chance to boast an art museum, even if only for a few days.

After more than a year "whistle stopping," Michigan offered the train for sale, and the federation agreed to buy it if at least four or five member states would chip in $10,000 apiece to help finance it.

Miss Taylor said "Artrain" carries eight or 10 cars, each one displaying a different period in cultural history from Piltown Man to Picasso. The end car's offerings will vary from state to state in the Rocky Mountain region, showing exhibits by local artists.

If accepted, she said, the train will arrive in Idaho next May and stay about a month. A tentative schedule shows it stopping in Coeur d'Alene, Moscow, Boise, Pocatello and Idaho Falls.

"The idea is to find central locations where smaller communities can get in to see it, and where power hook-ups are available," she said.

Another consideration is the question of railroad tracks. There is no north-south line in Idaho.

According to Boise special representative for Union Pacific, Sam Grayson, the fastest route from Moscow or Coeur d'Alene to southern Idaho is west to Hinkle, Ore. (About 150 miles from the state line) and back on UP's main line via Ontario and Payette into the Boise Valley.

"And if the train comes in from Montana, there may be a problem of switching rail lines from Burlington Northern over to U.P.," Grayson said. He added there is "extreme competition" between the two companies.

He suggested soliciting Oregon and Washington interest in "Artrain" to minimize costs.

Gem gun code said more restrictive

SALMON (UPI) — An attorney general's office opinion says the current Idaho Criminal Code is more restrictive on gun owners than the new code which met with repeal.

State Rep. Helen McKinney, R-Salmon, asked for the opinion. Deputy Attorney General J. Dennis Williams said in it both the present statute relating to guns and the repealed one allow sportsmen and anyone else to possess weapons for lawful purposes.

The main difference, Williams said, is that the present law prohibits carrying any type of concealed weapon in certain places, where the repealed code allowed possession of a weapon on a person in his home or business, or if the weapon was a type commonly used in lawful sport.

Timber sale at Salmon contested

SALMON (UPI) — A Nov. 7 hearing in San Francisco is scheduled on an injunction to prevent sale of timber in undeveloped forest areas of Salmon National Forest.

Timber staff officer Don Goodrich said immediate effects of the injunction are that one sale is being held up and a road in another sale area cannot be built.

He advised that the Everson Creek sale of 2.2 million board feet on the Leadore Ranger District is the only sale which was ready for offering when the injunction took effect, and that involved 35 undeveloped areas.

The Anderson-Three Mile sale on the North Fork Ranger District was sold last summer to Robinson Lumber Co., Salmon. The Forest Service indicated it would build 14 miles of access road, but Goodrich said the injunction prevented awarding a contract for it.

He said a work road into a part of the sale area was being used to haul timber out temporarily. Involved in the injunction are six of 12 sales scheduled during the current fiscal year which means half the timber volume is affected by the injunction.

Move to new Gem pen seen in '74

BOISE (UPI) — The director of Idaho corrections says the move from the old penitentiary site to the new facility in Boise should be completed by mid 1974.

Raymond May, appearing on the television network of Idaho's "Viewpoint," also told a panel of newsmen Saturday that the low starting salaries for correctional workers in Idaho was the main reason for a 50 per cent turnover in personnel.

He said there were only 17 per cent of the state's correction employees that had been at the prison for more than five years.

He said the turnover had "an impact" on the morale of the correctional workers.

IF man held on slaying charge

BLACKFOOT (UPI) — A 24-year-old Idaho Falls man was being held today on a charge of first-degree murder following the fatal stabbing of Jose Aquilar, 22, Aberdeen.

Aquilar was dead on arrival at Bingham Memorial Hospital after he was found on a downtown Blackfoot sidewalk early Sunday.

Police said he was stabbed about 1:15 a.m. Freddy Rodriguez was arrested after the incident. Following his court arraignment, he was held in the Bingham County Jail.

Stamps raise

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Fish and Game Department reports waterfowlers who hunt duck and geese starting Oct. 7 will pay $5 instead of $3 for federal duck stamps this year.

The migratory bird hunting stamps have been required for 39 years. The stamp originally cost $1, was raised to $2 in 1949, $3 in 1959 and now $5 this season.

Fish and game officials said the fee reflects the "spiraling cost of land."

Duck stamp revenue is used to acquire wetlands for waterfowl.

Spock calls for income

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr. Benjamin Spock called Saturday for a guaranteed income for all citizens, with a level of $6,500 for a family of four.

"The existing welfare system provides guaranteed annual poverty for its recipients," said Spock, the presidential candidate of the People's Party, in a position paper on welfare reform.

"There are at least 66 million Americans, over 25 per cent of the total population, now living in poverty," Spock said. "The only currently viable solution is guaranteed adequate income for all citizens."

Spock said "people receive welfare because they have no other alternative—they are unable to support themselves." He said federal studies have shown that less than 1 per cent of welfare recipients are able-bodied, unemployed males.

He said he based his $6,500 figure on Bureau of Labor Statistics surveys which incorporate the Agriculture Department's "moderate food plan." These show, he said, that in 1971, "a family of four required an income of $6,500 per year to provide the basic necessities of food, housing, and health care required to live at a minimum level of health and decency."

But in 1971, he said, the average welfare payment to a family of four was $2,488—more than $4,000 less than the minimum adequate income. He said it also was $1,649 less than the federal government's official poverty level for 1971 "which is itself based on a nutritionally inadequate food plan."

Tiny has tilled the sod, too, and plowed ground as a football hero. Tiny knows what's happening, what's happened... and he can sing it like no one else.

Bigfoot stand-in startles tourists

SEATTLE (UPI) — Sasquatch, the man-like, bear-like creature which myth and tradition says inhabits Pacific Northwest forests, has a stand-in who is giving motorists the fits.

When things get dull for Eric Fry, 21, he hauls out his eight-foot high Sasquatch—or as the Indians say, Bigfoot—and tries to sell it to passing drivers. Fry stands 6-3 and weighs 220 pounds. He likes to stand behind his hair-covered plywood monster and put his head through a hole to form the face. He makes brunting, animal noises and shakes the fake beast at passersby.

His model holds a sign which reads: "Sasquatch for sale. Make offer."

"I had one guy who stared for 15 minutes from across the street," Fry said. "He finally came over and asked me, 'Is this thing real?'"

Fry has had no offers to buy, but he doesn't care.

"I could just see myself as a Sasquatch, thrashing through the jungle and growling at everything. That's where I really belong. In a jungle," he said.

McGovern heads for 'big' states

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Still failing badly but edging up in the polls, George S. McGovern, who has neglected them for four years, is trying to use this Social Security increase—which he did everything in his power to prevent—as a political ploy to win votes in the upcoming election.

The statement said that McGovern would cap a week of protests with a major address on the topic Tuesday in Boston's Courthouse Square.

The Democratic presidential candidate, coming off what million recipients of Social Security benefits are rightly disturbed that Richard Nixon, who has neglected them for four years, is trying to use this Social Security increase—which he did everything in his power to prevent—as a political ploy to win votes in the upcoming election.

The statement said that McGovern would cap a week of protests with a major address on the topic Tuesday in Boston's Courthouse Square.

The Democratic presidential candidate, coming off what probably was his last rest period before the election, headed for New Jersey, New York, and Massachusetts.

Between them, New York (41), Massachusetts (14), and New Jersey (17) have 72 electoral votes. In 1968, Hubert H. Humphrey captured New York and Massachusetts and President Nixon barely carried New Jersey.

Prior to leaving, McGovern scheduled a major address to the 13th annual United Press International Editors and Publishers Conference at 9:30 a.m. EDT.

Guns sold for $8,500

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Buffalo Bill Cody's derringer pistols were sold at auction Sunday for $8,500.

A California dealer, who was not identified, bought the matched weapons at a sale held by Sothby Parke-Bernet of 133 lots from the 16,000-gun collection of the late William Renwick of Tucson, Ariz.

Paper endorses Nixon

CLEVELAND (UPI) — The Cleveland Plain Dealer, which endorsed Richard Nixon for President in 1968, did so again Sunday in a front-page editorial that said the evidence was "lopsided" in his favor. The Plain Dealer, Ohio's largest newspaper, said the President had attained "a new look at American involvement in Vietnam" in his previous four years and had managed to "lower the level of growing violence in this country."

The newspaper also praised his "brilliant diplomatic initiative opening new avenues of communication with Russia and China."

The Democratic ticket of Sen. George McGovern and Sargent Shriver, it said, "is one of the weakest we have seen in years."

"The radical reforms suggested... (by McGovern) just do not check out as either practical or to the benefit of the vast majority of the people of the

Spock stresses marijuana goal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr. Benjamin Spock, the presidential candidate of the People's Party, believes legalization of marijuana should be the ultimate goal.

"The question is not whether people should or should not smoke marijuana—a substantial minority already use it," Spock said in a position paper issued Sunday. "The question is what response should society take when people smoke."

Spock said he believed society's response has been far more harmful than the practice it sought to discourage.

"It is time to recognize that many people use marijuana, will continue using it, and that they have a right to do so."

Removing criminal penalties would be "a good first step," Spock said, "but complete legalization should be the ultimate goal."

Spock blamed both the Republican and Democratic parties for "reluctance to set the record straight on marijuana." He said they were intimidated by a "national hysteria" about marijuana.

A thought for the day, French writer Henri Stendhal said, "One can acquire everything in solitude, except character."

Demo to reveal Indochina plans

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Eleanor McGovern has revealed that her husband will make public soon his specific plans—both on the military and diplomatic fronts—for ending the war in Indochina.

Later, Sen. George S. McGovern's campaign headquarters said the speech would be made on nationwide television about Oct. 10.

"It will not be a secret plan but a very public one," Mrs. McGovern told interviewers Sunday on NBC's "Meet the Press."

McGovern, who was in the audience, told reporters the speech would contain "nothing dramatic," but center on his specific actions for ending the war if he was elected president.

Mrs. McGovern also discussed "the whole human drama" that surrounded the dropping of Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton from the Democratic ticket one week after he revealed a history of psychiatric problems.

She said her husband, Eagleton and his wife were in the Black Hills of South Dakota shortly after the Democratic National Convention when Eagleton made his surprise disclosure.

"Someone who was not there could have no comprehension of the whole human drama that went on," she said. "How our hearts, our minds, all of us reached out to this man who was going through the traumatic experience of revealing this to the American people."

"I have never felt so proud of my husband," she added. "He wanted to give great support of Senator Eagleton. This is what was behind his remark of 1,000 per cent support for him," Mrs. McGovern added.

A week later, the two men announced Eagleton would leave the ticket as McGovern's running mate because the controversy was eclipsing other campaign issues.

Kennedy cancels I talk

BOISE (UPI) — A tentative address at the Idaho Statehouse by Sen. Edward Kennedy as part of a fund raising event for Democratic Senate Nominee William E. (Bud) Davis on Oct. 13 has been cancelled, a Davis spokesman said.

Gay Davis, Southwest Idaho coordinator for the Davis organization, said a change in Kennedy's air schedule forced the cancellation.

However, the $35-a-plate luncheon at the Downtowner Oct. 13 remained scheduled for noon, the aide said.

The Massachusetts Democrat and Davis will participate in a news conference before the luncheon. A Kennedy staff member said the senator would leave immediately after the luncheon.

Tickets are on sale at Davis headquarters and the state and Ada County Democratic headquarters in Boise.

Jim Garrison loses election

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—District Attorney Jim Garrison, who tried unsuccessfully to prove in court that a conspiracy was involved in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, has lost his first political election.

Garrison, who faces federal charges of income tax evasion bribery, lost a bid for a judgeship on the Louisiana Supreme Court to District Judge Walter Marcus, 104,430 to 88,406.

Marcus, a former New Orleans city councilman, won in the state's Democratic primary runoff election Saturday.

Bella Abzug chosen

NEW YORK (UPI)—Rep. Bella Abzug was chosen Sunday to replace the late William Fitts Ryan on the Democratic ticket in the November election in the 20th Congressional District.

Mrs. Abzug defeated Ryan's widow, Priscilla by a vote of 576 to 333 in balloting by the New York County Democratic Committee.

The hair styling session will be the second in the charm workshop and will be at 10 a.m. October 14 at the Idaho Power auditorium.

RICHFIELD — Lori Kay Pridmore became the bride of Devon Carlos (Toby) Dayley Sept. 16 in a double ring ceremony at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Pridmore, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Dayley, all Richfield.

Bishop Ken Dixon performed the ceremony before a large floral arrangement of gladioli in shades of light pink and yellow and lighted pink candles. The candelabra were decorated with floral sprays carrying out the bride's pastel color scheme of light pink, yellow and mint green.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a pale pink chiffon floor-length gown over satin, accented by an embroidered bodice, a large satin bow at the waistline and long chiffon sleeves.

A pink daisy pompon garland of flowers graced her hair. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses, pink carnations and white and yellow daisy pompons with mint green streamers, and wore a white gold cross belonging to her mother.

Kelly Pridmore, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaid was Janene Pridmore, sister of the bride. Wade Alfred, Richfield, was best man. Rick Brown, Richfield, was groomsmen.

Joanne Riley, a friend of the bride, was candlelighter.

The couple was honored at a reception after the ceremony given by the parents of the bride at their home.

The bride's table was covered with white lace over pink and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake accented with pink roses and pink tipped wedding bells. It was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Additional table accents were a daisy entwined candelabra with yellow tapers and floral arrangements in pink and white.

Mrs. Rodney Pridmore, sister-in-law of the bride, cut and served the cake. Mrs. Richard Luff, sister of the bride, poured punch. Mrs. Jessie West, sister of the bridegroom, and Joanne Riley assisted in serving.

Special guests attending the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Pridmore, New Plymouth, paternal grandparents of the bride, and Mrs. Fred L. Rutherford, Twin Falls, maternal grandmother of the bride. Other guests attended from Nevada, Boise, Kimberly, Twin Falls, Fairfield and Richfield.

A shower was given for the bride by Mrs. Ralph Riley Jr., Richfield, Mrs. Bruce Sorensen and Mrs. Sidney Edwards, Jr. After a wedding trip to Yellowstone National Park, the couple will reside in Richfield.

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: All our friends know that Willie and I neither drink nor serve any drinks in our home. We aren't "holier than thou" about it. We do go where liquor is served, but we quietly sip a soft drink.

Last week we had a backyard barbecue for 40. We had a lovely fruit punch bowl and everyone had a fine time. The guests drained the punch bowl quickly as it was quite warm. Some of the folks seemed noisier than usual, and I myself felt warm waves, but I thought I was just having hot flashes, which is not unusual for my time of life.

After the party, the hired lady said she had heard one guest tell another that "Mr. X" had emptied a quart of vodka into our punch bowl! [We found the empty bottle in our trash!]

Tattling teetotaler

"Mr. X" is a good friend of ours and we knew he imbibed, but what do you think of a friend who would betray his best and most trusted friend?

I say we should let him know he didn't get away with anything. My husband says to skip it. What do you say?

BETRAYED

DEAR BETRAYED: I'm with your husband. But if you invite "Mr. X" to another party, frisk him before you let him in the house.

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl just starting high school and I just had my eyes examined and found out I have to wear glasses. Abby, I feel terrible about it because I am a pretty girl with a nice figure, and I'm afraid glasses will spoil my looks.

I asked if I couldn't have contact lenses but my parents said, "No, they are too expensive." I am getting my glasses tomorrow. Someone wrote me a note saying: "GUYS DON'T MAKE PASSES AT GALS WHO WEAR GLASSES." This made me feel even worse. Please cheer me up.

FOUR EYES

DEAR FOUR EYES: That little verse is passe. Try this one: "Guys will make passes at girls who wear glasses providing the dames have good looking frames."

DEAR ABBY: I liked your answer to the person from North Carolina. You told [him or her] not to blame the inhibited woman for batting zero in the boudoir. You stated that psychiatrists tell us that a surprising number of men can perform anywhere except at home because of their inhibitions. To them every decent woman is "mother" so they find their pleasure where "mother" isn't.

The big question? What's "mother" supposed to do, if she's not ready for the rocking chair yet?

Find her pleasure where "father" isn't. Sign me, "FORCED TO ROCK"

DEAR ABBY: I read in your column about a woman who was offered elegant clothes in exchange for work, but she wanted a salary. My problem is just the opposite. I love clothes, but I can't afford them. Unfortunately I wear a size 16, and no woman I've worked for in my brief housekeeper-cook career wore that size. I was never so lucky.

If I could find a job for Saturday and Sunday with pay in clothes and accessories instead of money I'd be thrilled. I am a good secretary, can supply excellent references, some of which are cook-housekeeper.

If you have any contacts, let me know. The employment agencies would probably scoff at the idea.

LIKES NICE THINGS

DEAR LIKES: So why not put an ad in this newspaper? There may be some "16s" you can make a deal with.

Problem? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 9799, L. A., CALIF. 90009 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Oswald: Here is a rather simple hand from Eric Jennersten's book. South finds himself in a reasonable five-club contract.

Jim: The setup appears to be such that South will have to lay down his ace of clubs and pick up West's singleton king to make his contract. All else being equal, this represents a 13 per cent chance against a 50 per cent chance if the finesse is taken. But all else isn't equal.

Oswald: No, indeed. East has passed his partner's opening spade bid and isn't going to have many high cards.

Jim: South should look carefully at West's king of spades lead. If West also held the ace and king of hearts he would undoubtedly have preferred that lead to the spade. Hence, East is marked with either the ace or king of hearts.

Oswald: It is most unlikely that East would pass with two kings in his hand. Thus, the second step in reasoning from the bidding is that East just can't have the king of clubs.

Jim: This brings us to the ace of clubs play. West has the king. Our only chance to make the hand is to drop it.

Oswald: South still needs a diamond finesse but that is surely going to work and is just routine.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding three clubs, your partner has bid three diamonds over your two no-trump. What do you do now?

Answer tomorrow

Not long ago a lovely aimed to be "in" fashion. Today she wants to be "with" it; to adapt from the new that which best suits her looks and expresses her personality.

The figure is the most important factor in making a flattering selection. An unbecoming color can be modified with make-up. But if a dress, for instance, causes you to appear heavier than you are or thinner than you could wish — it's for the discard heap. So let's have a look at some of the figure-fashion go-togethers.

• Dolman sleeves — Extravagant dolmans are for the tall and slender. For a petite, a dolman should be cut accordingly — petite.

• V necklines — Modestly low the V is a slimmer. As for plunging Vs, let your mirror and your conscience be your guide.

• Round necklines — From a high round neckline to a low boat or scoop, the line takes the edges off boniness. A round white collar is the youngest thing around.

• Chemise dress — It must not snug a heavy hip. A full figure needs a chemise that widens as it descends.

• Pleated skirts — Wide pleats are for the tall; knife pleats are for the short.

• Tiers and Ruffles — Two tiers and a narrow ruffle or two for a short or heavy figure. Taste is the only limit if you are tall and slender.

HIP-REDUCING ROUTINES

You can diet until you become feather-light and still be hip-heavy. Reduction in the hips is assured only by exercise. Nixon lacks pulling power

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Even if President Nixon should carry California by a landslide, both parties agree his political coattails will not provide much pulling power for Republican congressional candidates.

Democrats are likely to retain their dominance of the House delegation from the President's home state.

In fact, Nixon's coattails are having a reverse effect on one tight congressional race, where maverick Republican Rep. Paul N. McCloskey is fighting for his political life.

McCloskey's refusal to endorse Nixon over Sen. George McGovern has prompted many Republicans to support the antiwar congressman's Democratic opponent, attorney Jim Stewart.

"People are tired of McCloskey taking pot shots at Nixon all the time," says Kent Kaiser, a San Francisco stock broker and son of long-time GOP fund raiser Lee Kaiser.

With five weeks remaining before the election, the political situation in the nation's most populous state—which has both the biggest bloc of electoral votes and the largest congressional delegation—is this:

Nixon is ahead, both sides agree. Republican State Chairman Putnam Livermore places the lead at "a minimum of 10 per cent." Democratic State Chairman Charles T. Manatt at "5 or 6 per cent." But Manatt, recently named McGovern's state campaign chairman, flatly predicts ultimate victory for the senator.

McGovern still has organizational pains but Frank Mankiewicz, his national political director, contends the South Dakotan is "probably better off" in California than anywhere else.

Plans launched to push amendment limiting Gem state agencies to 20

BOISE (UPI)—"268 reasons why 20 is plenty" is the key phrase in a well organized educational campaign now in progress to promote the passage of a constitutional amendment limiting the number of agencies in state government.

The campaign includes football great Jerry Kramer, 150,000 brochures and $25,000. The 268 in the slogan stands for the number of agencies presently in state government. The 20 stands for the number of departments Gov. Cecil D. Andrus and other officials would like to have.

If the educational campaign is successful, voters will approve a constitutional amendment Nov. 7 to limit the number of state agencies to a minimum of 20 by January, 1975.

It is a good bet that more voters go to the polls in November they will have seen football star Kramer explaining reorganization in 10, 30 and 60 second spots on television.

Or they will have seen an advertisement in a newspaper explaining Senate Joint Resolution 132.

Or maybe they will have been handed a slick brochure entitled "The Runaway Growth of Idaho Government. How You Can Help Stop It."

Or maybe they will have heard a presentation by a three-man team of state employees who are traveling around the state and stopping at practically every town with more than 1,000 inhabitants.

Joe Welch, associate director of executive reorganization in the Department of State Planning and Community Affairs, and one of the three men on the team, said some of the costs of the educational campaign have been defrayed because ads in newspapers, and on radio and television can qualify as public service announcements.

He said the team this week began a month-long tour which includes 42 speaking engagements.

Welch said the budget allotted for the reorganization campaign and other relating work is $49,000, including a matching $25,000 planning grant by housing and urban development.

He said basically the $25,000 grant will be spent for the educational campaign and travel and all other expenses will be taken from the remainder of the budget, including his salary.

Another spokesman for reorganization is Andrus himself.

"I never miss a lick to explain reorganization," Andrus said.

He said the educational program is "like any other campaign" including brochures, films and billboards.

Girls plan trips

JEROME — Two field trips are being planned for October by the Jerome Girl Scout Troop 145.

In a Friday night meeting with mothers of the girls as special guests, the troop discussed plans for a trip to the Bliss area to inspect the "ghostown" features Friday.

On Oct. 21, the girls will visit the Snake River Pottery in Hagerman Valley.

Mrs. Dale Hammond, troop leader, said the field trips are a regular part of the Scouting program and help the girls earn their badges.

Other October projects include a door to door collection of used dolls to be restored for Christmas gifts. The dolls will be given to the Senior Citizens organization for restoring and then given to needy children as gifts.

Other events include a rededication and investment program Oct. 27. It was announced the troop won $10 in the Jerome parade for its marching entry and has received special recognition as the first Girl Scout troop to camp at the T. E. Roach Boy Scout camp on the Snake River.

Kitchen closes

JEROME — The Jerome canning kitchen closed Friday, according to Mrs. Harry Brown, supervisor.

She said about 14,000 cans have been processed this season which is a smaller number than normal. Mrs. Brown said she said. She explained the lesser amount was due to the shortage of fruit in the area.

Royalty at Hansen

HANSEN — Bonnie Larson was named Homecoming Queen and Ted Christensen was named "All Around Boy" during Homecoming activities at Hansen High School Friday.

Attendants to the queen were Sue Ethington, Jenny Hill, Susie Coates and Tammy Higgins.

The sophomore float received a first place during the parade.

They used the theme "Let's Keep Our Cool." The junior and senior classes tied for second place, and the freshman class received third place.

The parade also featured the Pep club, drill team and Hansen high school band.

Homecoming activities began Thursday evening with a bonfire in the school parking lot.

It is better to light one candle than to curse the darkness

Light one candle and not much will happen - just a flicker. Yet, that's what we're asking for - a little light, please, or your share for the United Fund. For if everyone lights a candle Twin Falls would be ablaze with light, and if everyone gives their share then there is hope for a richer, fuller life.

A silly metaphor? Not at all. For the United Fund needs each one of you to help effectively carry out its program in the community. And by giving the United Way, you not only help the ill and the needy, you help support the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts and all the other service organizations that make Twin Falls the great city that it is.

So when you contribute, it might be like lighting one candle to you, but to us it's like lighting up the whole city.

Accept your share of this responsibility.

Accidents hurt nine in Valley

Nine persons were injured in a rash of traffic accidents on Magic Valley highways today and over the weekend.

A collision of two trucks and semi-trailers on Interstate 80N about eight miles east of Burley this morning injured the driver of one of the trucks and led to two other accidents involving cattle being hauled in one of the trucks.

Both of the trucks — one hauling freight and the other hauling 108 calves weighing about 400 pounds each — were eastbound. The collision occurred about 6:30 a.m.

The cattle-truck ended up in the south borrow pit on its right side. Workers sawed the top out of the truck to free the trapped stock. The freight truck caught fire after stopping in the left hand eastbound lane. Two fire trucks from Burley were dispatched to put out the fire.

The driver of the freight truck was taken to Cassia Memorial Hospital by ambulance for treatment of his injuries. The two men in the cattle truck were not injured.

State Patrolman Gordon Mills investigated the collision.

No estimate of loss to the cattle was available. Those animals surviving were turned into a nearby field.

Two other wrecks followed when other vehicles — a car and pickup truck — hit calves on the highway. At least one of the calves was killed.

Margaret Reed, 27, Burley, is reported in fair condition this morning at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital, where she is being treated for injuries received in a one car accident this morning.

The accident occurred at 7:46 a.m. about one half mile east of Highway 93 on Interstate 80N. The small foreign model car she was driving left the road on the right side, traveled for about 300 feet and then turned end over end about three times. The accident was investigated by Idaho State police officer Cole Watkins.

Dwight Tucker, 19, Filer, was injured in an accident two miles west of Twin Falls on Highway 30 at 7:45 a.m. today. He is listed in fair condition at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital where he was taken for treatment.

A vehicle driven by Tucker pulled from a stop sign into the path of a vehicle driven by Shirley Graves, 50, Twin Falls, officers said. According to investigating officer William Walker of the Idaho State Police, about $1,000 damage was done to each vehicle.

Two Wendell women were listed in good condition today at Gooding County Memorial Hospital following a one car accident Sunday morning near Buhl.

Barbara Rodd, 19, and Dixie Lee Robinson, both Wendell, were traveling north on the Clear Lakes Road about three miles north of Buhl, when Miss Rodd apparently dozed at the wheel and the car failed to negotiate a curve on the grade. The vehicle traveled approximately 180 feet down the Buhl side of the Clear Lakes grade. The two women were returning home from the night shift at the Green Giant Company in Buhl.

Twin Falls County Deputy Sheriff Curtis Pryor said the accident occurred about 7:30 a.m. The women were taken to the hospital by Miss Rodd's parents.

A Twin Falls man was treated and released from Magic Valley Memorial Hospital, following a one car accident Sunday afternoon near Richfield.

David Nation was traveling west on U. S. Highway 93 alternate three miles west of Richfield about 5:40 p.m.

According to State Patrolman Gene Bolton, the Nation vehicle failed to negotiate a curve, left the right side of the roadway, and rolled over, landing on its wheels. Nation was alone in his vehicle, Bolton said.

The 1967 sedan was demolished.

One Sun Valley and one Ketchum youth were injured Saturday night in a one vehicle accident on Lake Creek Road, north of Ketchum.

The driver of the vehicle, Darrell Asher, 17, Sun Valley, and a passenger, Monte Mullins, Ketchum, were taken to Moritz Community Hospital, Sun Valley. Information on their condition was not available this morning.

A second passenger in the vehicle, Bill Sutcliffe, Ketchum, was not injured.

According to State Patrolman Gene Bolton, the Asher vehicle was traveling west about three quarters of a mile from U. S. Highway 93 at 11 p.m. Bolton said Asher lost control of the vehicle; it went over an eight foot embankment and rolled, throwing all three occupants out. The 1972 pickup was demolished, he said.

Terry Thieme, 23, Twin Falls, was admitted to Magic Valley Memorial Hospital Saturday evening for treatment of injuries sustained when his pickup truck left U. S. Highway 93 and went through a fence and came to rest in a hay field, witnesses reported. The accident occurred six miles north of Shoshone.

Thieme was dismissed from the hospital today.

A Twin Falls man escaped injury but his motor home was demolished when it overturned near Hailey Saturday evening.

James E. Higgins, 52, was driving north on U. S. Highway 93 when the accident occurred about 6:30 p.m. on the airport curve, Police Chief Roy Evans said Higgins' vehicle veered off the right side of the highway, then apparently escaped control when he overcorrected.

The vehicle traveled 226 feet out of control, tipped onto its right side, then slid 120 feet more and came to rest in the southbound traffic lane.

Higgins escaped injury because he had his seat belt fastened, Evans said. He was traveling alone except for a dog.

Damage to the motor home was estimated at $8,500.

Higgins was charged with driving while intoxicated. He was released on $252 bond.

An Idaho State Patrol car was struck from the rear in an accident which occurred at about 8:20 p.m. Sunday.

Idaho State police officer George Blackburn, 40, Twin Falls, had a violator stopped one and one-half miles west of Twin Falls on Highway 30 when Albert Stevens, 86, Twin Falls, failed to observe the flashing lights of the patrol car and drove into its rear. The accident was investigated by Buddy DeWeese, Twin Falls sheriff's officer.

Jerome leader in hospital

JEROME — Former Jerome County commissioner Cleo Ambrose is listed in good condition today at St. Benedict's Hospital, Jerome.

Ambrose, who was defeated in the primary election on the Republican ticket, was admitted to the hospital Sunday for undisclosed medical reasons. The attending physician reported Ambrose was in the intensive care unit Sunday, but was transferred out of the intensive care unit today.

Guerrillas stage attack

BANGKOK (UPI) — Guerrillas staged a mortar and sapper attack Sunday night at Ubon air base, where U. S. Air Force F4 Phantom jet fighters are located, U. S. spokesmen said today. There was little damage and no American casualties.

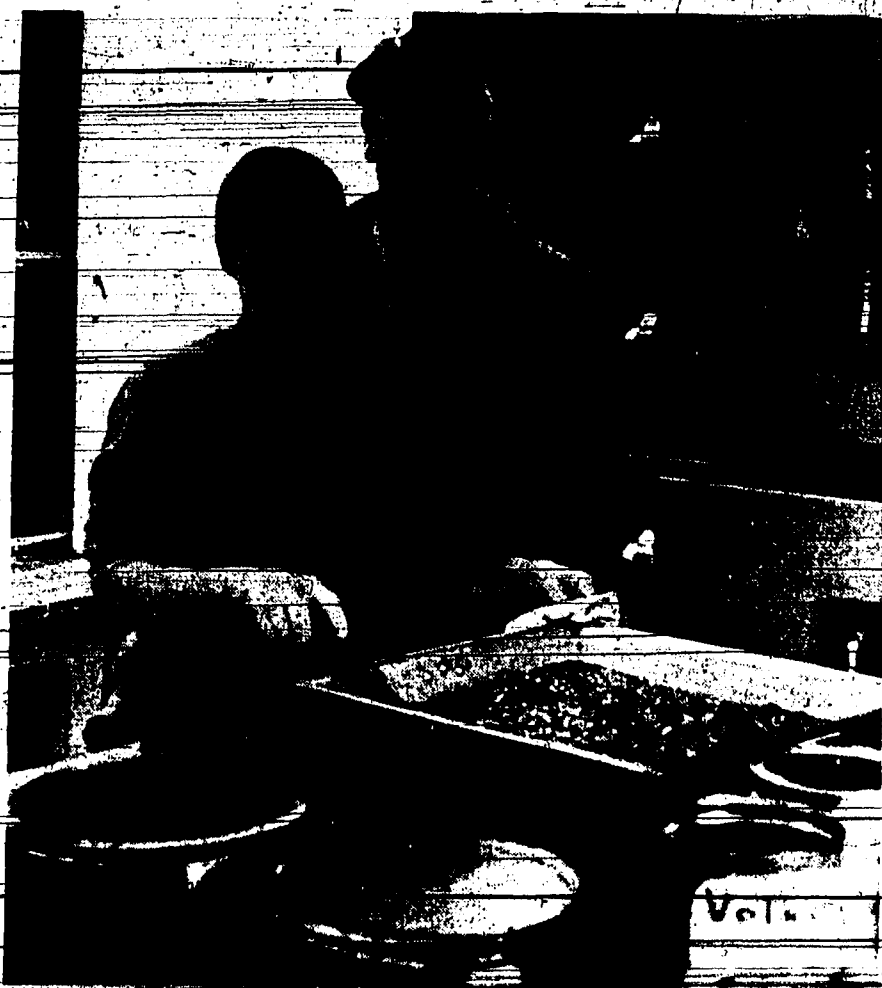

The spokesmen reported 36 rounds of mortar fire fell on the base.

Enactment requested

SALMON (UPI) — A state legislator from Salmon who was defeated in her district primary said she will work to obtain re-enactment of legislation to prevent publication or distribution of unsigned campaign material.

Rep. Helen McKinney, a Republican, said the act provides it shall be unlawful to publish or distribute material concerning any persons declared as candidates for elective office unless the material bears names of persons responsible for said publication and distribution.

She indicated several items were circulated before the election in her district which could have been covered by such legislation and was primarily directed against her.

Work at camp

MV extension personnel have camp work session

KETCHUM — About 15 extension service personnel participated in a two-day work session Thursday and Friday at the Central Idaho 4-H camp north of Ketchum.

According to Blaine Linford, Twin Falls, district supervisor for the Cooperative Extension Service, siding was installed on the remaining unfinished cabins and a lighting system was connected to all 12 cabins.

The 14 acre camp, which was used by about 800 4-H children this summer, serves Magic Valley counties as well as Lemhi, Butte and Custer counties.

About $23,000 in construction was completed this year, using volunteer labor. New facilities include eight cabins, replacing camping tents, a three bedroom cook's cabin and a two bedroom caretaker's cabin, which will also house the commissary.

Construction costs were partially covered by a Farmers Home Administration loan, with the remainder supplied by 4-H organization and private donations.

PARTICIPATING IN a work session at the Central Idaho 4-H Camp north of Ketchum were Gladys Barney, camp cook, and Blaine Linford, Twin Falls, supervisor for the Cooperative Extension Service.

Manhunt fails to find two escaped juveniles

TWIN FALLS — A manhunt southeast of Twin Falls Sunday morning failed to turn up two juvenile escapees from the State Youth Training Center, St. Anthony.

But law enforcement officials arrested John Dunnagan, 18, Twin Falls, for prosecution on a charge of accessory to a felony.

Over a dozen men, from the Twin Falls Police Department, the county sheriff's office and the Idaho State Police participated in the search for the two escapees over a three hour period Sunday morning.

State police Cpl. Cole Watkins first noticed the three persons in a car while on patrol on U.S. Highway 30. Not recognizing the two juveniles as escapees, but suspicious for other reasons he waited while the car was driven into a farm residence, ostensibly to get needed water.

When Watkins left the residence to await the three on the street, the two juveniles apparently fled the scene on foot.

Damaged cruiser to arrive in port

MANILA (UPI)—The heavy cruiser USS Newport News is scheduled to arrive at the U.S. Subic Bay Naval Base Tuesday morning for repairs following a gun turret explosion that killed 19 men and wounded 10, a U.S. Navy spokesman said today.

The Newport News, biggest ship on the U.S. Navy's gun line in Southeast Asia, was supporting South Vietnamese Marines in the Quang Tri area when the explosion occurred inside a 500-ton forward turret.

The ship is expected to arrive at the American base at Subic, 90 miles northwest of Manila, at 10:15 a.m. (8:15 p.m. EDT today).

The spokesman said ordnance experts will board the vessel on arrival to determine whether it is safe for repairs.

The explosion aboard the 17,000-ton vessel wrecked the middle of the cruiser's three forward turrets, each of which contain three eight-inch guns. The explosion killed 19 of the ship's 1,200 company and injured 10.

It was the worst such accident aboard a U.S. Navy ship in Indochina waters since fire ripped through the aircraft carrier USS Forrestal on July 29, 1967, and killed 134 crewmen and injured 18.

Driving back to the Dunnagan automobile, Watkins then questioned Dunnagan, who confessed the two were escapees, Watkins said. The trooper then took Dunnagan to the sheriff's office, he said.

The state policeman radioed for help, and Sheriff Paul Corder and three deputies, several city policemen, and two other state troopers responded to the call and fanned out into surrounding beet fields.

Corder reported Pat Parrott volunteered his assistance and that of his dog for search work in the nearby fields.

But the search, which began shortly after 8 a.m. and continued for about three hours, failed to turn up the two juveniles.

Twin Falls Prosecuting Atty. Leon Smith said today Dunnagan, who is being held on $5,000 bail, would be charged with accessory to a felony — the escape. Smith said his court appearance would come today.

Gem man on plane

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A Utah woman and an Idaho man were among the six passengers rushed to a nearby hospital after a United Airlines 727 veered off the runway Sunday when its landing gear collapsed as the plane touched down at San Francisco International Airport.

The four passengers admitted to Peninsula Hospital in nearby Burlingame included John A. Williamson, 63, Caldwell, Idaho. Williamson injured his right foot in the incident. He has been released.

Elvira Martin, 66, Midvale, Utah, who was shaken up in the mishap, was treated at the hospital and released.

The accident closed the busy airport for nearly two hours and after the debris was cleared, one runway was reopened but by then 40 planes were lined up for takeoff.

Paul voters go to polls Tuesday

PAUL — Paul voters will pass or fail a $125,000 sewer bond issue Tuesday. Balloting will be from noon to 8 p.m. in the city office. Any registered Paul resident 18 years of age or older can vote.

Mayor Robert Larsen and the City Council have stressed the importance of winning a two thirds majority on the issue, which would provide funds to build a secondary sewage treatment facility west of Paul.

A seven-member citizens committee has canvassed the city for a week in a door-to-door effort to bring informed residents to the polls.

All Paul officials have expressed support for the bond issue, saying that the secondary treatment is not only desirable in supplementing the 20-year-old primary treatment facility, but is required by state and federal orders.

Cost of the new facility had been estimated at $256,785, according to Mayor Larsen. Fifty per cent of the amount will come from a federal grant, with another 25 per cent paid by the state and the remaining $84,000 by the city. The $125,000 bond issue will also cover the city's cost in acquiring land and right of way and in paying related expenses.

City Attorney Larry Duff has said the bond costs will be paid through increased monthly sewer charges. The increase is not to exceed a $2.50 raise of the present $1 fee.

Police probing thefts

TWIN FALLS — Police are investigating a series of incidents that took place over the weekend.

Officials at the Holiday Inn reported a television was removed from one of the motel's rooms sometime between 11 a.m. Saturday and the same time Sunday. Nothing else was reported taken from the room, according to inn officials.

A Remington 12 gauge shotgun was also reported removed from a pickup truck parked at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital Saturday night. The truck is owned by Louise Marshall, Jerome.

In the third weekend incident, a purse belonging to Mrs. Jay Sudweeks was reported removed from a car left parked at a movie house. The burglary took place sometime Sunday night.

Twin Falls Detective Captain Tim Qualls said his men were investigating each of the incidents.

TF man in custody

TWIN FALLS — Jay Johnson, 26, Twin Falls, was in Twin Falls County jail today following his weekend arrest on a bench warrant.

Johnson, who was taken into custody by state police troopers early Sunday morning, is charged with failure to appear in court on a traffic citation, according to Twin Falls Sheriff Paul Corder.

Valley students join in studies

VALLEY SCHOOL — Students from Valley School District 262 are participating in a nationwide study designed to describe the educational attainments of groups of young Americans.

Dr. Tom Utterback, district superintendent, said Valley school district is one of approximately 1,000 throughout the United States selected by random sampling procedures to participate in the project called the National Assessment of Educational progress.

Utterback said he was asked by Dr. Theodore Pratt, to discuss the district's cooperation, and to establish a schedule for conducting the assessment in the district schools.

"Samples of students aged 9, 13 and 17 will be chosen, also using scientific random sampling procedures, to respond to assessment exercises in two subject areas, mathematics and science," Dr. Utterback said.

He noted that the 13-year-old assessment will be held during the week of Feb. 12 to Feb. 19 and the 9-year-old assessment during the weeks of Feb. 19 - Feb. 23. During the spring of 1973, the 17-year-old assessment will be conducted.

"Mathematics and science are only two of 10 subjects which national assessment includes. This is the second assessment of science. Six other subjects have already been assessed — writing, citizenship, reading, literature, music, and social studies. Two other subjects will be assessed in coming years, art and career and occupational development," Dr. Utterback said.

The program is sponsored by the Education Commission of the States, a compact of 44 states and territories, whose aim is to improve education through greater cooperation among states.

The goal of national assessment is to collect census-like data about the kinds of information people have acquired, either through formal or informal educational experience. The information corresponds generally to the subjects taught in school.

Rock hits girl

TWIN FALLS — Lisa Yeggy, 9, Twin Falls, was hit by a falling rock while fishing in the Rock Creek area Sunday afternoon.

She had just pulled a friend, Cory Ruch out of the rock's path when she was struck. She was treated and released from Magic Valley Memorial Hospital for multiple bruises and lacerations.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Yeggy, Twin Falls. The Ruch boy is the son of Mrs. Jack Ruch, Twin Falls.

Clean air index 69

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Prices on the New York Stock Exchange remained lower in slow trading after three hours Monday.

The Dow Jones industrial average was down 1.66 to 951.61 shortly after 1 p.m. and declines were ahead of advances, 768 to 538. Standard and Poor's 500 stock index was off 0.45 to 110.10.

The three-hour volume came to 7,790,000 shares compared with more than 10.4 million traded in the same period Friday.

Wall Street experts said the market lacked direction and had reverted to the drifting pattern it had followed since Labor Day. With little in the news background to spark an advance, hopes were slim for any drastic change.

Steels, motors and chemicals were mostly lower. Chrysler and General Motors each lost around a point. Monsanto dipped 1/4. Eastman Kodak was up 1/4.

Superior Oil picked up 1/4 in the mixed oil-belt. Getty lost 1/4. Ralls and aircrafts were mixed and slightly lower.

TWA dropped 1/4 among airlines issues but Northwest, on news of a contract settlement involving its 1,619 pilots, was up 1/4.

Electronic and computer issues were especially weak.

Corning Glass slid 3/4 in the miscellaneous grouping, while Levitz, weak since announcing lower third quarter earnings, fell 2 1/2.

The crime boys now report that metropolis with the highest incidence of rape, be it known, is Los Angeles. Must mention certain outraged ladies thereabouts accept this circumstance not at all. They've teamed up in a vigilante squad. To track down unprosperous culprits. When they locate same, they expect to shave the fiends' heads, then post photos all over town. They're quite serious, understandably.

STANDARD SKI in Scandinavia a few hundred years ago was 2 inches thick, 5 inches wide and 7 1/2 feet long.

CAN YOU document any instance when a healthy wolf ever attacked a human being in North America? Doubt it.

THAT ATHLETE most apt to come from the largest of families is the boxer. From the smallest, the tennis player.

SAY WHAT you will about cartoons in that scientific psychological examination known as the Rorschach test. Tattooed men as a rule rate far higher than untattooed men. Single-tattooed women, though, midnight.

OLD SONGS Q. Somers are you old enough to remember that classic ditty of Yesteryear called "I Love to Rhyme a Rhyme of Sponge Cake?"

COULD YOU don't believe fish is brain food, do you? Neither do I. But surprise show one out of every six grownups herabouts still does so believe. And half the high school students likewise think that, it's said.

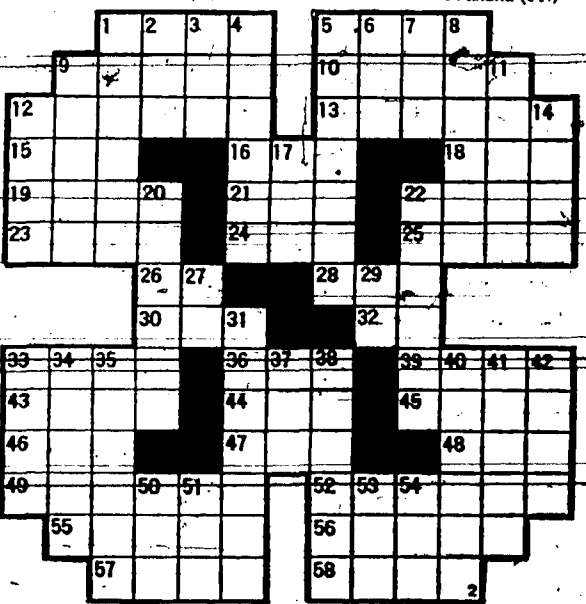

FEDERAL LAWS that govern military pay are so out of sync with federal laws that govern poverty payments, it's reported, that approximately 15,000 enlisted men currently also draw welfare checks.

Q. WHICH end of the hen's egg is laid first, the big end or the little end? A. Big end always. Now if this fact is important to you, let it down. It will not be reported here again.

THE RECORD shows almost but not quite every quarter girl sprinter on championship track teams comes from a broken home.

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1972

Carroll Righter's Horoscope

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Think about new ways by which you can put your most brilliant and expansive thoughts in effect. You can now delve into each and every detail facing you with great success. You can also find the means to attain vibrant health.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): You have many creative ideas during the morning and are able to accomplish much. A favor for one you admire early today is good. See to it that everything is in order around you.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Morning is the best time to get personal affairs handled well with the cooperation of experts. Do whatever will please a close tie. Then off to the pleasures you really enjoy.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Make sure your daily activities are well organized so you can handle them easily and have more time to spend with kin. Don't forget to shop early. Entertainment in the evening is fine.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): Keep professional and other appointments, and show that you are an active go-getter. The ideas you have are fascinating, so divulge them to the right persons. Be wise.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Go over debts and credits and do what will improve your monetary position, but be very painstaking and don't take risks. A successful person in business can give you some fine pointers.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): You know exactly how to make yourself more charming in appearance as well as more healthy. Engage in social life that is delightful. State your secret aims to right persons.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): You have small tasks to perform before you can make a right impression on higher-ups, so attend to them early. Handle activities that will increase personal happiness. Keep cheerful.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Listen to the advice which a most precise friend gives and follow it for best results. The evening is fine for social pleasure in the company of fine people. Be poised.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Study your duties well and then get busy handling them in a methodical way. Take time to rest in the evening. You can benefit by discussing business matters with higher-ups.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): If you look over brochures and become familiar with their contents, you can find new and lucrative outlets for yourself. You are now able to make big strides forward.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Being certain to pay all debts now is wise, but show kindness to those who are having a difficult time paying bills. Show that you are a practical person. Show that you have wisdom.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Engage in long talks with associates and get better results where mutual projects are concerned. Do what you can to make an opponent less irritated. Show you have faith.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be one of those charming people who will handle problems in life in a quiet and controlled fashion and get excellent results. Teach to handle details in a thorough way. Otherwise your progeny could miss out on many of the fine benefits possible in this chart. A college education would be fine here, plus ethical training early in life.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

OUT OUR WAY

New structure

ALL-STEEL CONSTRUCTION is featured in the new Magic Valley International building at 259 Fourth Ave. W. The dealership has expanded its automotive line to include Fiat and plans a grand opening in mid-October.

TF firm adds new auto line

TWIN FALLS—A new line is being added by Magic Valley International which has moved across the street to a new location to 259 Fourth Ave. W. Fiat automobiles are being carried by the company and there are now about 30 of the small Italian cars in stock. The addition of the Fiat line is the first car carried by the company, according to Tom Kalange, owner-manager.

Representatives from the Fiat factory spent a week in Twin Falls training Magic Valley International workmen, Kalange said.

The Fiat joins the International Harvester line at Magic Valley International and marks the first time the Fiat line has been available in Magic Valley.

Kalange plans a grand opening at the new facility in mid-October. The all-steel building contains 18,000 square feet of floor space, Kalange said.

In the parts department there is three times the floor space as contained in the old facility. In the shop there are seven 40-foot complete drive-through stalls.

Jury says TF man guilty

SHOSHONE — Raymond Olsen Maughn, Twin Falls, was found guilty by a magistrate court jury of a traffic violation which occurred in July.

Maughn had pleaded not guilty to a charge of running a stop sign and had requested a court trial.

Maughn represented himself in the trial with his employer as counsel. Prosecutor Howard Adkins handled the state's case.

A six member-jury included Mrs. Marian Stowell, foreman; Russell Scott, Clarence Peterson, Edna Edon, Eldon Braun and Geneva Rapp.

They deliberated less than 30 minutes before returning a verdict of guilty.

Maughn, who had been free on a $75 bond, was sentenced to pay a $50 fine and $7.50 court costs.

Praises bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate passage of an amendment to increase the amount a Social Security recipient can earn before he loses benefits has been praised by Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho.

Church co-sponsored the legislation which was included in a welfare reform bill now being considered by the Senate.

It would allow a Social Security recipient to earn up to $3,000 per year before he begins to lose benefits.

Under the current law, the earnings limitation is $1,500 a year.

A thought for the day: American playwright Louis Kaufman, Aspascher said, "Marriage is that relation between man and woman in which the independence is equal, the dependence mutual, and the obligation reciprocal."

Homecoming

MURTAUGH — Homecoming activities for Murtaugh High School will begin Thursday with a barbecue at 8 p.m.

The parade is scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. Thursday and will feature the Murtaugh drill team, class floats, new queens and reigning queens.

The football game will begin at 8 p.m. pitting Murtaugh against Castleford.

Activities will conclude with the Homecoming dance at 10 p.m. featuring music by the Councilmen. Tickets are available from high school students.

Grangers elect

SHOSHONE — New officers elected for Magic Grange Friday night include William Kerner, Jr., master; Waldo Faught, overseer; and William Kerner, Sr., assistant steward.

Mrs. Louis Couch is the chaplain; Louis Couch, gatekeeper; Mrs. Oscar Kerner, Ceres; Mrs. Lloyd Campbell, Flora; Mrs. William Tews, Pomona; Paul Bancroft, treasurer; Ed Sheer, George Horn and Oscar Kerner, executive committee.

Several officers will be named at the next meeting as well as delegates to the state convention.

The new master will appoint a women's activities chairman. Mrs. George Horn acted as secretary for the meeting.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—E. F. Hutton takes into account a large number of factors acting on the market and comes up with the opinion the technical picture is, actually, a bit brighter, "especially with the market still oversold, and we continue to feel that the next significant move is up even though its precise timing is difficult to predict," the firm says.

The stock market is similarly interchangeable and has alternated between euphoria and gloom all year, notes The Dines Letter. The firm thinks the market is going to make another upward push "and this might be difficult to believe considering all the negative commentary these days, (but) we think October is going to be an extremely bullish month."

Wright Investors' Service says while the current attitudes of various groups of investors are useful aids to investment timing, sound policy should be based primarily on fundamental considerations. "We believe these considerations are now highly favorable, and consequently continue to advise a fully invested position in high-grade American common stocks in the expectation of a substantially higher level of market values before year end," the firm concludes.

Moody's Investors Service, Inc., says all economic indicators point to continued economic expansion through 1973, "but the pace of his advance might slow later on during the year."

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Recent sessions have managed partially to offset the over-sold state the market had reached, according to E. F. Hutton. From a technical standpoint, however, only an interruption of the prevailing near-term downtrend has been achieved, "rather than establishing a meaningful bottom," the firm says.

The challengers have never been more formidable or the opportunities more exciting as the decade of the 70s unfolds, according to Eaton & Howard Inc. The firm points to new industries and products, a changing political and social order, a major shift in the population mix, new spending patterns and ways of living and expanding foreign markets as potentially positive factors in the market. "Assessment of these influences will require all the energies and talents that investment research and management can command" the company says.

The trouble in the market isn't the general environment, but particular and specific issues—but there seems to be an inexhaustible supply of past mistakes to correct, says W. E. Hutton & Co. "While prices may go a little lower near term, perhaps even testing the 900-920 area in the DJI, the next intermediate turn seems likely to be for the better—and it easily could come in a matter of weeks rather than months," the firm adds.

Harris, Upham & Co.'s annual public opinion polls reflected bullish caution in most categories. In an effort to get a professional guess as to the trend of the Dow Jones industrial average, the firm took a poll in which a majority indicated only slight improvement in the market's trend in the coming months. Twenty-one point eight per cent expect the Dow to be in the 900 to 950 area, 40.8 per cent expect it to be between 950 and 1000, and 24.2 per cent anticipate a surge to 1000-1050.
